KOREAN-BORN KATHLEEN AND CHRISTINE MORSE, twin sisters aged three and one-half, will become naturalized American citizens tomorrow, Jan. 27, at the County Building in Ann Arbor. The daughters of Becky and Dennis Morse of E. Middle St., have lived in Chelsea since they were six months old and have a baby brother, Adam, age 21 months, who was napping at the time of this photograph.

Korean-Born Twin Sisters Will Become Naturalized American Citizens Wednesday

Kathleen and Christine Morse will become naturalized American citizens Wednesday, Jan. 27, during naturalization proceedings to be held at the County Building in Ann Arbor. The Korean-born, three and one-half-year-old twins, are the adopted daughters of Dennis and Becky (Collins) Morse of E. Middle St.

Kathleen and Christine arrived at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at age six and one-half months after Becky and Dennis discovered that waiting to adopt an American-born baby might take as long as five years. They attended meetings in Ann Arbor where they were given information on adopting children from other countries which they began to seriously consider. The couple inquired further into the idea and were sent an application which was completed, reviewed and accepted. Later, they were sent a photograph of the girls and asked if they would like to adopt them. At that time, Becky and Dennis answered with a definite "yes," and the adoption proceedings, including a thorough Department of Social Services home study, began.

In what seemed to be forever and was actually more like a year, Becky and Dennis Morse attended support group meetings with other couples awaiting their adopted child(ren). "That really helped a lot," explained Becky and, then one day, she and her family headed to Detroit to pick up her daughters.

Now, the Morse family includes three children, daughters Kathleen and Christine and son, Adam, age 21 months, who get along amazingly well, though the girls do suffer from a touch of sibling rivalry stemming from Kathleen's winning of the Gambles-sponsored Christmas coloring contest.

And do the girls know what their naturalization means? "We'll be American," they explain, but "we're from Korea."

Winter Carnival Opens Friday at Cavanaugh Lake

The ninth annual Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 American Legion, will be held this week-end at Cavanaugh Lake. The annual indoor-outdoor event promises to be a huge success.

The Carnival will officially open at 6 p.m. Friday, followed by the annual euchre tournament at 7:30 p.m. John "Card Shark" Popovich will be in charge of the 100 or more participants who will pay a $2 entry fee and vie for prizes awarded at its conclusion. Players need not bring partners. Bright and early Saturday morning, the doors will open to accept entries for the Fishing Derby scheduled to begin at 7 a.m. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded for perch, panfish, pike and specs. A $2 entry fee must be paid before going on the lake. There will also be a youth division with prizes for perch and panfish. This event carries a 25-cent entry fee.

Cross-country skiing will begin at 1 p.m. Persons interested should meet at the Legion Home for the two-hour guided journey through the Waterloo Recreation Area.

Between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m., Jill Flintoft will play piano on the Upper Deck, offering a vast repertoire that will allow for both listening and singing along while enjoying the panoramic view of Cavanaugh Lake.

The annual Winter Carnival Dance is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. on the Upper Deck and will feature the ever-popular Caken Band. Tickets are $10 per couple and include a buffet. They may be purchased in advance at Chelsea Lumber. During the dance, the lower level will be open for snowmobilers and other outdoor enthusiasts.

At 8 a.m. Sunday, the Fishing Derby will continue followed by another two-hour cross-country ski excursion on the agenda at 10 a.m.

As in the past, the grand finale will be the free concert by professional musicians the Simms, Ruby and Kanten Group aided by Johnny Weber, Chris Alber and Tom Murray. The Legion encourages parents to bring their children to this traditionally popular musical performance.

At 5 p.m., the two-day Fishing Derby is officially over and prizes will be awarded at 5:30 p.m. At the stroke of 6, the 1982 (Continued on page six)

Dr. R. Burns Fatally Injured While Jogging

Robert A. Burns, Jr., DDS, was fatally struck by a van early Thursday morning, Jan. 21, while jogging near his home on Clear Lake Rd., Grass Lake. He was 36.

The Chelsea dentist was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital shortly after the 7 a.m. accident where he was pronounced dead at approximately 9 a.m.

The 31-year-old driver of the van, whose name was not released by State Police, was driving on Francisco Rd., north of Michigan Ave., when the accident occurred. The cause of the accident remains under investigation and results will be turned over to the county prosecutor for review.

Dr. Burns was born June 27, 1945 in Detroit, the son of Robert A., Sr., and Harriett Palmer Burns.

He married Lana Scott in Plymouth on Feb. 9, 1974. She survives.

Dr. Burns was a 1971 graduate of the University of Michigan Dental School and was a member of the Washtenaw District Dental Society. He was a member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club as well. He practiced dentistry at the Chelsea Professional Building, 1200 S. Main St.

DR. ROBERT A. BURNS, JR.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Rachel at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Burns, Sr., of Troy; and one sister, Mrs. Chet (Marilyn) Roble of Livonia.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 23 at 11 a.m. at the Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Marvin H. McCallum officiating. Memorial contributions may be made at the funeral home.

Following the funeral service, cremation took place.

Schools Closed Because of Ice

For the third consecutive week, area students were given the opportunity to sleep in on Monday and romp and frolic on the ice and in the snow as slippery roads rendered Chelsea, Manchester, Saline, Stockbridge and Dexter schools closed for the day and most will be closed again Tuesday. Dexter schools plan to open again Tuesday.

But that was nothing, the real fun came during the week-end, before road crews spread salt and sand onto the pavement and sidewalks. It was preceding this precaution, that young and old alike could be seen slipping up and down the road, ice skating on the sidewalks and losing control of their vehicles.

Dog sleds, bob sleds, sleighs and ice boats appeared to be the most practical means of transportation as spring-like rain showers turned to sleet and sleet to ice that spread itself evenly over streets, sidewalks, cars, lawns and homes. By Monday (Continued on page seven)

South School Fun Fair Set Saturday

South Elementary school's Fun Fair will be held Saturday, Jan. 30, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. and will feature assorted activities in hopes of raising funds to finance a project for all of the students at the local school.

Games, Super Saturday registration, the University of Michigan space van, and discussions presented by the Chelsea Fire and Police Departments will highlight the day. Refreshments will be served.

TO ACT LIKE A LAWYER, you have to think like a lawyer and to think like a lawyer, you have to learn from a lawyer and that's exactly what Jeff Daniels was doing last week as the young actor flew in from New York City for some serious tutoring with area attorneys including Bill Rademacher, above. Daniels was studying for a part in which he plays a small town lawyer and what better place to learn. According to Jeff, "By coming home to research and learn, what I pick up and reflect in my work will be part theirs (the lawyers who assisted him).

Jeff Daniels Comes Home To Research for TV Film

Jeff Daniels flew home from New York this past week to do research for his next movie role in a television film scheduled to air on CBS this spring. The working title for the film is "Asking for It."

Valerie Harper, star of the television series "Rhoda" has been cast in the lead role. Daniels will be playing the part of a small town county prosecutor.

The story takes place in New England and I wanted to do research on small town lawyers and prosecutors. The Midwest seemed like a good place," said Daniels.

Daniels, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Daniels of Chelsea, interviewed members of the area's legal community. He also participated in a trial practice class at the University of Michigan Law School. Daniels said that he went over the script with the attorneys he interviewed and in doing so learned that some of the lines were "questionable." He said he will be suggesting appropriate script changes when shooting begins in New York in February.

"The writing of a television movie is a group effort and so it makes changes easier," Daniels explained. He added, however, that in a screen film or stage play changes are not that easily made because the writing is usually done by one person.

Thursday, Feb. 2, 1978—

Area shoppers who managed to battle their way through the snow drifts to the grocery store last week-end were confronted by a shortage of bread, milk, meat and snacks as suppliers were unable to make deliveries.

Mail deliveries in and around Chelsea were halted last week for three days following a howling blizzard that paralyzed the area. This week-end will mark the fifth annual Herbert J. McKune Post 4076 American Legion Winter Carnival and the abundance of snow should make for fine skiing and snowmobiling weather.

Scott Price is this week's featured cager. As a junior, Price marks his first year on the varsity squad.

The SCAT band will present a free concert Sunday at the American Legion Home during the final day of the Winter Carnival.

Milliken Calls for Completion Of Economic Development

Michigan faces its most difficult year ever, Governor William G. Milliken said, but added there is no reason to despair if work can be completed on pending economic development proposals.

During his annual State of the State address before a joint convention of the Legislature, Milliken said lawmakers can provide for the welfare of future generations through measures such as an environmental/economic fund backed by mineral revenues.

Earlier, House Speaker Bobby Crim of Davison, stating that 1982 would probably be his last year in the Legislature, said members of the Legislature must confront the fiscal difficulties of Michigan as a challenge "to make our state greater and stronger than ever before, and like more secure for its citizens."

Much of the legislative activity in the remainder of the 81st session will be overshadowed by Michigan's economic difficulties, Crim said, but lawmakers must work on some type of property tax reform, make major changes in utilities regulations and complete action on legislation regulating interest rates.

Senate Majority Leader William Faust of Westland listed economic and job development and working to increase federal aid as top priorities for the new session.

He called for the continued development of a healthy, diversified economy as a means to meet the priority of finding jobs for the 627,000 unemployed workers in Michigan.

Faust urged legislative action to provide financial incentives to businesses, to reduce or eliminate bureaucratic red tape and to develop plans for future economic growth.

"The message before you recognizes the limitations placed upon us not only by fiscal restraints but also by the need to avoid excessive government," the governor said during his state of the State address.

"The choices we make will help determine how quickly and completely we rebound from two successive national recessions and how well we cushion our economy against future national economic downturns. I do not mean to say we can solve all of Michigan's problems this year. But I believe we can make a difference this year, a substantial difference," Milliken said.

Aides to the governor said his optimism for the future reflects his belief in the state's potential as a major center for the robotics industry and for high technology development, based on a core of well-established institutions and abundant natural resources.

Although the faltering automobile industry will probably not regain the dominance it once had, Milliken said it will remain Michigan's key industry in the next century, while agriculture and tourism will continue to thrive.

While economic development is the highest priority, Milliken's proposals primarily embody last year's uncompleted agenda.

Those items include an economic development authority, use of pension funds for job creation, reinstating the unemployment waiting week and stiffening eligibility requirements, a competitive rate-making system for workers' compensation insurance, a state-wide branch banking and allowing foreign bank operations, business tax credits for high technology investments and for small businesses and urban enterprise zones.

Ask the Governor

Question: In your State of the State message, you announced the establishment of a toll-free hotline number which will allow Michigan residents to make suggestions to state government. Will these suggestions really be taken into consideration or is this just a gimmick?

Governor: The Michigan Citizens' Hotline is an attempt to give Michigan residents a voice in improving services and reducing expenses in this state.

I already am pleased by the response to this program. During the first 24 hours after installation, the hotline received calls from all areas of the state—from as far as Sault Ste. Marie to Monroe county.

Each suggestion received by the hotline is routed to the appropriate state agency for review, and follow-up procedures provide the caller with a timely response.

The toll-free hotline number for calls originating anywhere in the state is 1-800-292-4300. Callers will be granted anonymity upon request.

Question: I work in a state building where we have been doing everything possible to cut energy use. Last year, there were awards for the state buildings in which energy use had been reduced the most. Who got the awards this year?

Governor: Western Michigan University and the new State Office Building in Grand Rapids won the awards. Energy conservation practices are estimated to be saving about $10 million a year in the state's 6,400 buildings and institutions, including prisons and universities.

Western Michigan University won the Energy Management Award this year for its conversion of outdoor lighting from incandescent to energy-efficient high-pressure sodium. The conversion, which cost $30,000, saved nearly $22,000 in costs during 1980 alone.

The State Office Building in Grand Rapids won its prize by paring energy consumption more than 26 percent, saving more than $46,000. The reduction was accomplished by turning down thermostats, reducing lighting levels and enforcing other conservation methods.

If you have a question for the Governor, please send it to: Ask the Governor, Executive Office, Press Section, State Capitol, Lansing, 48909.

Young People Enjoy YFU Exchange Visits Last Summer

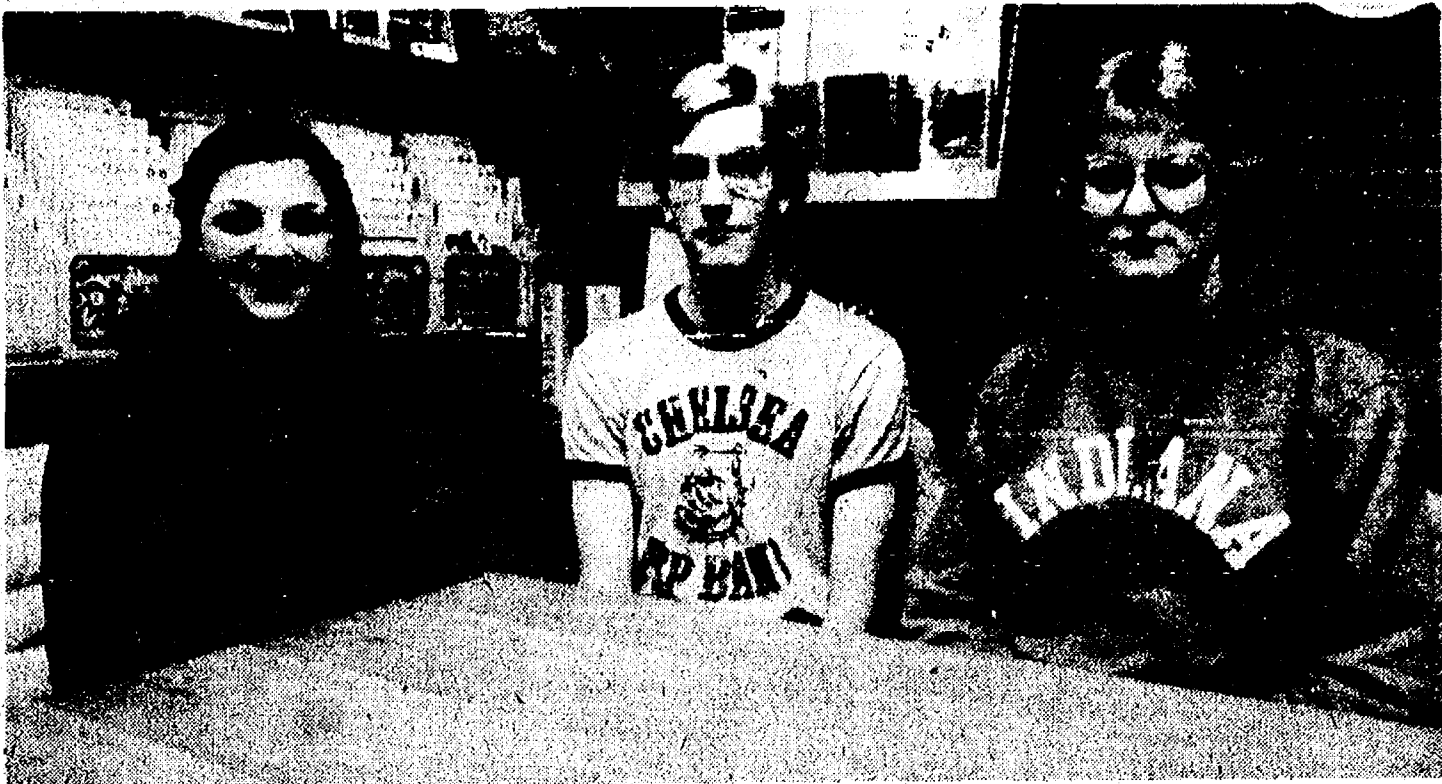

Three Chelsea High school students took part in a Youth For Understanding two-month international exchange program last summer traveling to the Philippines, Germany and Denmark.

Participating in the program were seniors Barb Pitzen and Cinda Thornton and junior Pat Killelea who decided to take part in the June through August foreign adventure.

Barb selected the Philippines as her foreign locale, based on the idea that "no one ever goes there." While there, she found that the culture was totally different and that children have immense respect for their parents. The food was all fresh, purchased in the morning and eaten that day. According to Barb, no one buys canned foods and if they are purchased they are regarded as a real treat. She enjoyed more than her share of fresh seafood and found her experiences there fascinating.

Pat Killelea selected West Germany as his foreign country. After having studied German in high school, he thought that putting his language studies to work would be interesting. But, once there, he found that English was spoken nearly everywhere he went.

While in Germany, Pat and his host family traveled throughout the country, visiting Hamburg, Cologne, Bonn and Berlin, which was "very interesting." In East Berlin, Pat commented that all of the cars on the streets looked the same and that there was an aura of blandness in the atmosphere. Armed guards patrolled the streets and airports and bullet marks from World War II scarred buildings. Still, the two halves of the city were quite similar in appearance.

WORLD TRAVELERS: A summer in another country is highly recommended by this trio of Chelsea High school students including, from left, Barb Pitzen, Pat Killelea and Cinda Thornton, who spent June through August scattered across the world map. Pitzen enjoyed the Philippines while classmates Killelea and Thornton visited West Germany and Denmark, respectively. They were a part of a Youth For Understanding international exchange program.

Cinda Thornton headed to Denmark, one of the five choices offered to the Chelsea students. Having already been to England and Mexico, she sought a change of location and found it on a peninsula where she stayed in a small village.

Her impressions of Denmark included a fascination in the slowness of pace and the plainness of the landscape and people. She traveled throughout the country and went camping for a week. Everything she experienced was new and interesting including some of the foods eaten. She also became acquainted with various customs including tea three times a day.

Cinda also explained that the younger people spoke a great deal of English and there was no language problem. In addition, the family with whom she stayed is moving to Canada where her Danish "father" can maintain his own business, something he found difficult in socialist Denmark.

All three Chelsea travelers were very impressed with the cultures they encountered during their summer experience and found that prices for many everyday commodities were above what they are accustomed to spending here.

Each expressed a real appreciation for having had the opportunity to participate in the program and highly recommended the YFU program. Despite the enjoyment while abroad, Barb, Pat and Cinda explained that they were still happy to be home.

VFW Auxiliary Notes

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 4076 held its January meeting on Monday, Jan. 18, postponed for one week because of the severe cold weather. Ten members were present.

A report of the Dec. 29 hospital party was given by Lucy Platt. Also, a report of the workshop held at the VA Hospital and attended by Mrs. Platt was given. Acknowledgments for various contributions were read, having been sent from the Ann Arbor VA Hospital and Battle Creek Veterans Hospital. Those attending the hospital functions were Gertrude O'Dell, Mary Erskine, Virginia Schirrmacher and Eulahlee Packard.

Under the hospital program, the local Auxiliary voted to adopt a veteran at the Ypsilanti State Hospital.

National Home chairman, Mary Erskine, reported that the Auxiliary received a certificate for having paid the Health and Happiness quota to the National Home at Eaton Rapids.

The group discussed helping and assisting recently burned out families, also local senior citizens who live on limited incomes. Anyone wishing to provide assistance may contact Fran Zatorski or Gertrude O'Dell.

The amount of $450.45 was voted out to maintain the cancer insurance on all Auxiliary members for one year.

The charter was draped in memory of Past Department

President Irene Bassett.

A total of $25 was allowed to be used toward the scholarship fund at Chelsea High school.

The youth activities chairman requested red and white yarn to be given to Brownie Troop No. 301, which the local Auxiliary is sponsoring. They are badly in need of the yarn for a project they are constructing. Anyone who has yarn to contribute is encouraged to contact Lucy Platt at 475-2236.

The next regular business meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

Fair Board Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair was held Thursday, Jan. 21 at the Fair Service Center.

Officers present were president Jerry Heydlauff, vice-president Art Steinaway and Maryann Guenther, Fair Board secretary. Directors present were Archie Bradbury, Harold Gross, Robert Heller, Gary Houle, John Klink, Jeff Layher, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Mark Stapish, Bill Stoffer and Earl Heller. Others present were Bill Coltre and John Wellnitz.

The minutes of the December meeting were read and accepted. During the meeting, the fair convention was discussed by those who attended.

Discussion clarified the 1982 rentals. A correction in the December notes: the liability insurance for those who need it is $500.00 not $500.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall

If you want to stretch your food dollar this month, try some delicious egg main dishes such as quiche, omelets or crepes.

Crepes are paper-thin pancakes prepared from an egg batter, filled with meats, poultry, vegetables or fruits and topped with gravy, a cheese or cream sauce.

Fill an egg omelet with cheese, bacon, onions and green pepper and top with a spicy tomato sauce. Or, crumble bacon into greased custard cups, top with grated Swiss cheese, pour an egg mixture over this and bake elegant individual quiches.

Fresh Michigan eggs, an excellent food buy, are among the good things growing in Michigan.

Last year in our state approximately 6.4 million hens produced 1.46 billion eggs, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. And that's a lot of scrambled eggs.

Egg color varies from white to dark brown depending on breed, but color is not an indication of quality.

Michigan eggs are quality graded in accordance with federal-state law. Grade AA, extra fancy, and Grade A have thick whites and firm yolks which are excellent for frying and poaching, where appearance is important.

Eggs are delicate. They should always be cooked over low to moderate heat. To hard boil, simmer eggs for 15-20 minutes, then plunge into cold water immediately to arrest further cooking and prevent yolk discoloration. To peel, crack shell and roll between your palms to free the thin shell membrane.

To preserve quality, eggs should be stored cold with broad end up. You'll find Michigan eggs are automatically packed this way. And remember, a day at room temperature will age an egg more quickly than a week's refrigerator storage.

Two Area Residents Post All-A Records At Michigan State

A total of 480 students at Michigan State University achieved a 4.0 or straight A grade point average during the fall term. Of the honor students, 398 were from Michigan.

Two local residents were among the nearly 400 Michigan students to receive all A grades. Janet A. Walz of 603 McKinley St., Chelsea, a junior studying engineering sciences, and Jennifer Davenport of 7400 Wall Ct., Dexter, a senior concentrating in elementary and special education, were among the honor students.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

I feel I must respond to the letter in the Jan. 19th edition of The Chelsea Standard signed by "A Mother of Seven, Mrs. Millie Warner." While I most certainly do agree that numbers make up a significant part of our lives, there is quite a bit that Mrs. Warner has either overlooked, or simply chosen to ignore.

For example, I notice that the number on my paycheck grows ever smaller, while the number of people on welfare, primarily those on ADC, grows even larger. I see the number of years left of our natural resources shrink, while the number of people dependent on these same resources grow alarmingly larger. I see the number of abused, abandoned children grow larger every day, and the facilities and the money required to care for these children fade away.

A child born to be loved and cherished is a beautiful thing while, at the same time, a child born who is not wanted is perhaps one of the saddest and most pathetic happenings in our daily lives.

Mrs. Warner, of those 11,600,000 pregnancies that were aborted since 1973, how many of those children, had they been carried to full term, would have died from neglect, or abuse? How many would have ended up in prison, or some mental institution? How many would have ended up in the ever growing welfare lines? How many people do you think we can support?

And what about the women behind these abortions? Many have no means of support for themselves, let alone for an unwanted child. Many of these women are mere children themselves, not at all equipped mentally or physically, for the birth of a child. Besides that, have they no rights? It is a woman's body and therefore her choice whether to carry to full term or to abort. No one has the right to interfere with that decision. No one.

Chances are, Mrs. Warner, of those 11,600,000 pregnancies that ended in abortion, very few would have known what it means to love or be loved. Pray not for the child born wanted and loved, Mrs. Warner, pray instead for the child who is born unwanted, unwanted, unloved and resented. They number in millions.

Ms. Denise Fortner.

Dear Editor:

In all the uproar about Chelsea's recent sexual molestation cases the main theme seems to be on innocence or guilt which is not necessarily the main concern here. Sure, we need a strong judicial system with stiff penalties but prevention is the key. We need to let these sorts of people know that they are not welcome in our town.

We need to educate the parents of this town about when and how to tell their children about molesters, rapists, etc., and teach them "creative strategies" to enable them to protect themselves, from harm. They need to know this sort of behavior is not okay, that they can do something about it and should, even if the attacker is a close friend, relative or threatens them if they tell. They need to know that "good people" can do bad things.

Putting our heads in the sand and not talking about it will not make it go away! Saying it can never happen to my family is naive as well. I'm sure that's what the victims' families thought too.

You're doing your children a disservice by not preparing them. Come on parents—I challenge you to speak up and be counted for what you believe in and do something about it.

Mrs. Nancy Montagne.

Dear Editor,

The child molesting case Dec. 6 was awful enough. What really grinds me is that the case that was in the paper Jan. 12 was worse. The man that did the molesting, his wife babysits! It had a smaller article in the paper and the judge let him out on a lower bond.

Everyone should know what is going on in this town, especially the people with children. What is this world coming to? If there are more child molesting cases, will the judge keep lowering the bond and the articles in the paper keep getting smaller and smaller?

This is a big deal! These children that are being abused are our future adults. Are they going to think that it's a normal thing? Think about it. If you just sit back and watch things like that happen, you're just as guilty as he is.

If you have any information or know anything, please call the authorities. If you keep your mouth shut more and more children can be harmed, when you could have stopped it.

Concerned Parent.

Dear Editor,

I too am a parent in this town, only I have had to go through nights of crying and screaming from my little girl as well as bouts with child psychologists to erase the memory of my child's assault.

I have always believed a man was innocent until proven guilty, but if a man confesses his crime, why should he be allowed to roam the streets on bond while he awaits sentencing? Keep him in jail away from temptation. These people have a sickness that can not be cured at home. Are we becoming a society where anyone can go home as long as they have money enough to buy their way out?

Any parent who has had to go through what we did would know the fear in our hearts while we awaited sentencing. Fear that while this man was out on bond, he would somehow find my daughter alone and assault her again or, if not her, another child.

There are many crimes that do go unreported. Most of these are probably assault cases where victims or their parents are afraid to tell the police what happened. The police are very understanding and try very hard to make things easy for you.

Parents, if you notice any behavior changes in your child, question them about any possible sexual misconduct. You don't need a doctor's statement saying sperm was present somewhere on the child. If your child tells you of any misconduct, please go to the police. If you have a case, they will tell you. Don't walk away from it and hope someone else will have the courage to do something. Don't turn your back and say mine was the only one he's done it to. Doctors and social workers will tell you that this person has an addiction. If he's done it to one child, he's likely to have done it to more.

Don't turn your back and say someone else has already turned him in, they don't need me. These parents need you! They need to know this person will not be allowed to be on the streets to harm another child and the way to do that is to come forth and tell the police. Find the courage to strengthen the original case and keep the assailant off the streets.

It's a nightmare to go through, but if it saves at least one family the heartache and expense we've had to go through, it's worth it. Courts are becoming more feeling for the victims in these cases and take into consideration the child's age and the subject.

Don't ignore the problem for your child's sake too. That child needs counseling to overcome her feelings of guilt and hostility. She needs her confidence in men rebuilt. She needs to like herself again. These things need to be overcome or there will be problems when she dates or becomes married. The after effects of child molesting are too long lasting to be ignored. Take the first step—call the police, then get counseling.

Please withhold my name as . . .

We, too, are victims.

Dear Editor:

This is in response to the letter to the editor that appeared in The Standard.

From that letter, I am told not to judge anyone who is charged with a crime until the trial or whatever is over and they are either convicted or acquitted. That's really a fine thought. Unfortunately, the person who wrote the letter even thought of the psychological effects this has on a small child? Has this person who is so fair and square thought about this "person" running around free, free to do whatever they want?

I also have young children and believe me, if I ever see anyone who is charged, convicted or acquitted anywhere near them, he or she will know exactly how I feel.

I also took from the letter that the writer feels there is nothing to be afraid of. Do you realize that a man who poached a deer got a $200 fine? Does that mean, according to our society, that a child's mental and physical health are only worth as much as a poached deer? I am sorry but my children's well being are worth a lot more. And I cannot feel sorry for someone who is "charged" with a crime of this sort. I really don't think the police department would arrest anyone unless there was pretty good evidence pointing at them.

In our world today, there's a lot to be afraid of. But how can you place a child in the position of deciding right and wrong at such a young age? How can you feel sorry for or not judge someone who uses little children in the worst possible way?

Who's to say this "person" won't do it again?

I totally agree with the mother who wrote in on Jan. 12. The small amount of money to set this "man" free is and was ridiculously low. I just read that another man (charged with rape of a teenager) was put on $100,000 bond. Is his bond so much because the girl was older? It just doesn't make any sense.

And I commend the mothers and fathers of these children for forcing the issue and pressing charges. I just wish the system of justice would take into consideration the small child and the possible consequences to him or her.

Don't ask me not to judge, don't ask me to feel sorry for, and don't ask me to wait until the trial is over. Anyone who even thinks the mothers of this community will sit around and not do or say anything are wrong. We may be a silent group, but when our children are involved, we become very outspoken and very opinionated.

I'm not going to run or move away, and I really don't think we can stop this from happening, but I'm glad it came to light. Too many times situations of this sort are kept "quiet" and no one hears about it. With this information, mothers and fathers are more apt to keep an even closer eye on their children, making sure who they're with and where they are.

No one has to "influence" me one way or the other, whether it be a newspaper article or someone talking, I make my own decisions and judgments.

Since names aren't important, I'll sign my letter anonymously. But the real reason is the one the other mother gave, I don't want anyone coming back at my children, family or friends.

Another Concerned Mother.

Dear Editor,

I am concerned about the safety of the young and innocent in our community. Three individuals have recently been charged with criminal sexual assault; two charges involved children and the third involved a retarded adult.

Victims and their families must know they will receive support in the judicial system and in the community. Guilty persons must know their crimes are heinous in the eyes of the community and will be punished. The courts must assure the community that persons who commit these types of crimes will no longer be a danger to the community.

Boosters Presenting Oberlin Brass Guild

Chelsea Band and Orchestra Boosters will present a special performance of the Brass Guild of Oberlin, Wednesday, Feb. 3, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium. The group will perform for Chelsea School District music students throughout the day and will assist and provide advice during class sessions.

The Brass Guild of Oberlin is an organization of student brass performers that was reinstated by its present conductor, Chelseate, Byron Pearson, in 1979. The Brass Guild rehearses on a regular basis each semester and performs four concerts each year for the Oberlin community. In October 1981, the group performed a new work for Brass Choir and computer tape on the prestigious Cleveland Museum of Art concert series. They are undertaking their first tour.

Byron Pearson, conductor, has performed as principal trumpet with the Baltimore Symphony and has been a member of the trumpet sections of the New Orleans Philharmonic and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. He was a featured soloist with the United States Marine Band in Washington, D. C. At the present time he is professor of trumpet at the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music and is recitalizing throughout the U. S.

A former Chelsea resident, he earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan. He has studied with Clifford P. Lillya at the University of Michigan and with Gilbert Johnson, former principal trumpet with the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Attending a concert by the Oberlin College Brass Guild exposes one to a greater variety than might be expected. The music performed can span time from the Renaissance to the present. The aggregation can vary from two to 20 or more players, occasionally bolstered by percussion, organ or voices. The Brass Choir has the capability of being one of the most dynamic of musical organizations. It can express a full range of emotion

School Board Briefs

Present at the regular school board meeting Monday, Jan. 18 were members Feeney, Schumann, Dils, Heller, Snyder, Grau, Comeau, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcik, Assistant Principal Vogel, Community Education Director Rogers, Athletic Director Nemeth, Special Education Director DeYoung, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Ann Feeney. Board approved the minutes of the Dec. 21 meeting.

The Board approved a milk price increase from 10¢ to 15¢ effective Feb. 1. This action was necessary because of the withdrawal of the milk subsidy by the federal government.

The Board designated April 13 of each year as an exclusion date for any students new to the Chelsea School District who have not conformed to the required immunizations.

The Board heard an update report from Principal Conklin, chairman of the K-12 Science Curriculum Committee. This committee is currently reviewing grade level expectations in science.

High School Principal Williams reviewed proposed changes in physical education, and the possibility of the addition of Electronics II, the elimination of Electricity I and II, and the creation of a Basic Geometry class.

Superintendent Van Meer reported on the resource sharing within the Southwest Consortium, which includes Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Saline and Milan.

The first strike in which the participants were assisted by a strike fund took place in 1786 in Philadelphia during a journeymen printers' strike for a dollar-a-day pay. After their demand was adopted, the fund was abandoned, according to a Labor Department publication.

Jan Koengeter Returns As Director for 'Plaza Suite'

It has been said that "a play is only as good as its director" and, in the case of Neil Simon's 1967 comedy "Plaza Suite," this certainly proved to be true. After a steady succession of hits on stage and screen, director Mike Nichols received the coveted Tony Award that year for best direction.

That being no small goal to live up to, all of the Chelsea Players who are involved in the Feb. 27-28 production of "Plaza Suite" will agree that director Jan Koengeter is giving it her all.

Jan, who now resides in Hamburg, is a former Chelseaite and a 1967 graduate of Chelsea High school. She was very active theatrically during her high school years here and has amassed an impressive background in the theater since leaving Chelsea. She received her BS degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1970 and her MA from the University of Michigan in 1971.

She has been employed by the Ann Arbor Recreation Department as their Performing Arts Supervisor since 1976 and has also been a member of the Washtenaw Council for the Arts since that year. As Performing Arts Supervisor, Jan interviews, supervises and directs with the Junior Theater Directing Staff in four Junior Theater productions each year. She has produced and directed such Junior theater shows as "A Wrinkle in Time," "Alice in Wonderland," and most recently, "The Brothers Grimm," in November 1981.

Jan also created the Goodtime Players, an adult acting repertory company that has been touring the Ann Arbor area schools, etc., with Theater for Children since 1979. She is still the producer for the troupe, as well as one of the performers. She has directed and had roles in such Goodtime productions as "The Little Prince," "Diary of Adam and Eve," "A Stone in the Road," and "Song and Dance Team I, II and III."

Jan has been very active with and has served on the Board of Directors for the Saline Area Players. She has been involved in acting or producer/director capacities in many of Saline's productions such as "The Taming of the Shrew," "Pajama Game," and "Fiddler on the Roof."

Her involvement with the Chelsea Players has included roles in seven of their productions: "Fiddler on the Roof," in which she was also assistant director; "The Fantasticks," "Music Man," "Oklahoma!," "Hello Dolly," "Annie Get Your Gun," and "Pajama Game." Chelsea Players have been most pleased to welcome Jan back to Chelsea, as well as to benefit from her many and varied directing abilities.

Brian Meyer brings first-hand experience to his role of technical director, as he was also the technical director for Manchester High school's 1980 production of "Plaza Suite." Brian, who is now a Chelsea resident, is originally from Saline and graduated from Saline High school in 1979. Brian has had experience in every aspect of the theater. He began his theatrical activities in 1972 and was involved in many Saline school productions during his school years. A few of these shows that he worked on were: "Annie," "Once Upon a Mattress," "Carousel," and "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Brian has been a member of the Saline Area Players since 1977 and has been involved with several of their productions including: "The Diary of Anne Frank," "Oliver," "Mame," "The Music Man," and "Fiddler on the Roof."

The Friends of the Chelsea Players, of which Brian is a new board member, have been fortunate to have had his directing expertise in three of their previous productions. He was technical director and stage manager for "The King and I"; was assistant director, had a role in, and worked in several other capacities for last summer's "South Pacific"; and was technical director for last winter's dinner-theater production of "Vanities." He also worked in the Players' 1981 Children's Theater Workshop.

Brian studied acting at Washtenaw Community College in 1980 and is presently enrolled, with a technical theater major, in Michigan School of the Arts as Jackson Community College. He is also a member of the "Ethi Company" at this special school and has worked on their productions of "A Shot in the Dark," and "When Are You Coming Back Red Ryder."

The Chelsea Players have initiated a new Assistant Director program with "Plaza Suite," and it is viewed as an excellent learning experience for director hopefuls. Assisting Jan with Act I is Pearl Phillips; Act II, Joan Wolf; and Act III, Linda Klein.

Tickets for the Feb. 27 dinner show will not be sold at the door and can only be purchased at Heydlauff's, Ricardo's and Chelsea State Bank for $12.50 each. Tickets for the Feb. 28 matinee will be sold for $3.50 at the door, as well as at the above locations.

Tickets for both performances are also available from all Chelsea Players board members, including Mary Beth Rosenberg, 475-9736; Julie Vorus, 475-8715; and Judy Smith, 475-9768.

Approximately 3,000 individual research projects are underway at Michigan State University at any one time.

WCSCD Annual Meeting Set Feb. 10 at Chelsea Fairgrounds

William Fishbeck, chairman of the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District, announces the 33rd Annual Meeting, and Pancake and Sausage Supper, to be held Wednesday, Feb. 10, at the Chelsea Community Fair Service Center, Chelsea Fairgrounds, on Old US-12, near the corner of Old US-12 and M-52, Chelsea. The public is invited to attend both the Pancake and Sausage Supper, served from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., and the Annual Meeting to begin at 8 p.m.

Price of the supper will be $2 per person—all you can eat; payable at the door, no reservations required. According to Fishbeck, the Annual Meeting program will include entertainment, elections, a feature program, awards and door prizes donated by area businesses.

Of special interest will be the feature program on the "Washtenaw County Rural Land Policies," presented by Donald Pennington of the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission. These recently developed policies will be illustrated via a multi-media presentation. Comments and reactions to the policies will be encouraged as a part of the presentation. Pennington will be the featured speaker for the evening.

An important event of the meeting will be the election of one district director to fill the expired term of Robert Heller. Candidates for the director position are Thomas Alexander of Ann Arbor, Loren Heller and Gary White, both of Chelsea. The one candidate with the highest number of votes will be elected to a three-year term.

Any questions related to the Annual Meeting and Pancake and Sausage Supper should be directed to the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor. Telephone: 761-6721.

afternoon, the icy deep-freeze seemed to be subsiding though temperatures remained on the unpleasantly cool side and Mother Nature dusted the area with a touch of additional snow.

Creatures of habit that we are, inhabitants of the area are becoming accustomed to wearing three pairs of long underwear, two pairs of socks, snowmobile suits, face masks and furry mittens when the "work week" comes to a close at 5 p.m. each Friday. This unfashionable attire is practically becoming chic, or is it that we have forgotten what it's like to dress in clothing that exposes assorted body parts without the threat of a bout with hypothermia?

ANN ARBOR TRUST'S DESIRABLE RETIREMENT PLAN

Everyone should be able to enter retirement with sufficient financial resources to enjoy this very special part of their life. Recent legislation now makes it possible for everyone who works to acquire a meaningful retirement fund through an Individual Retirement Account (IRA).

Our DESIRABLE Retirement Plan allows you to contribute up to $2,000 each year to your IRA and deduct the entire contribution from your current taxable income.

If you've been wanting to save for retirement, but just can't seem to get started, you'll like our Floating Rate Account that allows you to make regular contributions of $25 or more after an opening deposit of just $100. You'll earn an attractively higher rate than the current 6-month Treasury Bill auction rate*, and the rate will be adjusted quarterly.

If you find it more convenient to make a deposit of $1,000 or more, you may prefer our Fixed Rate Account where the rate in effect when you make your opening deposit remains constant during the term of the deposit. Both of these plans offer terms of deposit ranging from 18 to 60 months. Interest is compounded quarterly, and each account is insured to $100,000. How's that for safety, convenience, and flexibility?

Need more information? Just call or stop by any of our offices today.

*6 month Treasury Bill auction rate plus 25 basis points. Withdrawals from an IRA prior to age 59½ are subject to substantial tax penalties. If certificates of deposit are used, added penalties may also apply. Withdrawals must begin and no contributions may be made past age 70½.

Jeff Daniels Comes Home To Research for TV Film

Daniels also described other differences between television and screen productions: "In most cases the television movie is done more quickly, not as much money is used and writing is not that good. There are usually only two or three takes (for one scene) and it's more of a 'bang, bang' effort. But when you make a movie it takes hours sometimes to set up a shot. You sit around, stand around and the director takes as many shots as he thinks necessary, maybe as many as 10 shots... one short scene in a movie can take as long as two and a half days to shoot."

Daniels can be seen in the movie "Ragtime" in which he plays a New Rochelle, New York police officer. The story takes place when the United States was on the brink of World War I, when immigrants arrived by the thousands to Ellis Island, N. Y., and Harry Houdini was the showman of the day. Daniels character appears midway through the film and in a pivotal scene.

When the film was finished Daniels said that he went to see the movie and his reaction was: "What's the deal?" He explained that it's difficult for many actors to watch themselves on screen, that they are very self-critical; "I could tell when I did something really stupid, I could tell when I was nervous. That's why acting on the stage is great, you don't see you."

It was during a stage performance that Daniels was spotted by a top New York agent. Daniels signed with the agent and eventually was asked to read for the part in "Ragtime." The reading took place in Director Milos Forman's apartment and Daniels said that he believes it was perhaps due to the fact that he was a quick study that he got the part. "There are a million ways to say a line," explained Daniels. He added that when one reads for a part and the director suggests a change be made in the way a line is said, "... you better make it the first time."

The stage production that Daniels was spotted in by the agent was an off-Broadway show produced by Director Marshall Mason. Mason heads the Circle Repertory Theater, of which Daniels is now a member. According to Daniels, he became a member of the theater group in 1976 after Mason, who was a guest director, saw Daniels read for auditions at Eastern Michigan University. Mason invited Daniels to New York and it was this invitation that got Daniels to Manhattan where he now lives with his wife Kathleen, (formerly Treado) who is also from Chelsea.

After arriving in New York Daniels said that he began acting in stage productions as well as doing television commercials and participating in acting workshops. He added that the going was difficult at times and that he "... ran sound equipment for stage productions, lived on the 10th floor in a one-room apartment and even cleaned toilets."

Daniels said that he doesn't consider that he received one "big break." Instead, he claimed, "I've had a bunch of little ones." Some of them might include his other acting credits: A spot on "Hawaii Five-O," filmed on location, and a role in the critically acclaimed stage production, "The Fifth of July" acting with the likes of Christopher Reeve and Richard Thomas. And, according to Daniels, the next "little break" might be a New York stage production of Tennessee Williams' play "A Streetcar Named Desire." It's up in the air," he admitted and said if it were to be produced he would be cast in the Stanley Kowalski role.

All of this may seem to be far removed from the Jeff Daniels who appeared in Chelsea community theater productions. Reflecting on the course and distance his acting has taken him, Daniels laughed, "I'm just a small town boy in a big time city."

Congress first moved to conserve the bald eagle in 1940, with the passage of the Bald Eagle Protection Act. But eagle populations continued to decline in the 50s and 60s, due mostly to the widespread use of pesticides, like DDT, that interfered with the eagle's reproductive process. Loss of habitat and illegal shootings also threatened the eagle.

Farm Bureau To Train Agents in Crop Insurance

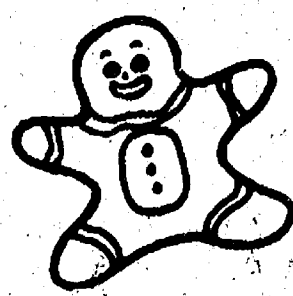

An intensive two-day training course was conducted by the FCIC personnel on Dec. 16 and 17, in Lansing, and attended by Home Office and Sales Management personnel of Farm Bureau. These people will in turn train and supervise the marketing program, according to William A. Badgley, director, Field Operations Office, of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.

Farm Bureau agents in Michigan, will receive their training in coverages and rates of "All Risk Crop Insurance" in the next few weeks. They will begin selling this coverage during the last part of January.

The decision by Farm Bureau of Michigan, to market "All Risk" crop insurance was made with the view that they would be able to meet the needs for the farmer for crop protection.

With the 1982 crop year, the intent of the Dept. of Agriculture is to eliminate the ASICS disaster payment program. The loss of this program will cause the farmer to be much more reliant on the crop insurance program.

Since its founding in 1855, Michigan State University had granted 250,070 degrees by the spring of 1981.

June Graduates Faces 'Pockets Of Prosperity'

There are pockets of prosperity in the job outlook for June graduates, according to a nationwide recruiting trends survey done by Michigan State University's Placement Services.

Jack Shingleton, director of Placement Services, says graduates in certain fields, particularly engineering and computer science, will be in high demand, while the demand has leveled off, or in some cases fallen off, in some non-technical fields.

"What we're finding are pockets of high demand," says Shingleton. "In some areas of engineering and computer science, for instance, there will be more jobs to fill than there will be graduates to fill them."

Bridge Over Letts Creek To Be Fixed

Replacement of 34 bridges on Michigan county roads and city streets, costing an estimated $8.4 million, has been approved by State Transportation Director John P. Woodford.

The bridges were recommended for replacement by a nine-member committee under the Michigan Critical Bridge Program. The committee, representing the Michigan Department of Transportation, county road commissions and municipal street agencies, established the priority for bridge replacements based on the condition of the bridge, its importance to the street or road network and the local agency's ability to finance its share of construction.

Federal and state funds pay 90 percent of the construction costs, with the local governmental agency paying the remainder.

Work on most of the bridges is expected to begin late this year or in 1983 and includes one Washtenaw county bridge, located on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. over Letts Creek. Estimated cost for the bridge replacement has been set at $89,000.

Varsity Cagers Swarm Over JC Western in Good Offensive Game

Playing a very well executed game Friday night, Chelsea Bulldogs managed to trounce the Jackson County Western Panthers, 72-41, at Western.

According to Coach Robin Raymond, this was his team's best offensively played game of the year as they managed to thoroughly control the tempo while maintaining a constant point advantage.

At the half, Chelsea was ahead, 30-18; and by the third quarter, the Bulldogs had pulled away to a 47-29 lead.

From the floor, Chelsea was 25 for 50 for 50 percent while their counterparts were 13 for 39 for 33 percent.

At the free throw line, Chelsea made good on 22 of 28 attempts for 79 percent. Western hit 68 percent on 15 of 22 attempts.

Chelsea committed just 10 turnovers while Western committed 24.

Pacing Chelsea's 23 rebounds, Marty Steinhauer and Mike Barels each pulled down four. Barels also had four points, four steals and five assists. David Wojcik had three assists.

Of Chelsea's 25 baskets, a total of 15 assists were made in the patience-laced game.

Individually, John Welton led the Bulldogs with 16 points, followed by Wojcik with 13 and Steinhauer with 11. Others scoring (11 of the 12 varsity Bulldogs contributed to the score) were Matt Villemure with eight, David Mann with six, David Kiel with five, Carl Pate with four, Randy Krichbaum and Toby Boyd with two each, and Daren Pierson with one.

Chelsea is now 5-5 over-all and 4-3 in the Southeastern Conference. They will take on Jackson Northwest Tuesday and travel to Tecumseh on Friday in a crucial league contest.

Bulldog Swimming Team Posts 29th Consecutive Win

Chelsea's Bulldog swimming team has extended its undefeated streak to 29 consecutive victories following last week's 117-55 win over Milan.

Chelsea won nine of 13 events, losing just the medley relay and the 100 freestyle event.

Winners for Chelsea were John Drew, 200 and 500 freestyle; Kirk Hawks, 200 IM; Sean Oxner, 50 free; Wayne Smith, 100 fly; Dave Mason, 100 back; John Robbins, 100 breaststroke; Kent Noll, Don Skiff, Ted Merkel and Wayne Smith, freestyle relay.

The team of Mike Carrigan, Mike Coffman, Todd Brown and Don Skiff combined for a 2:01.8 in the medley relay which just missed winning by 1.1 seconds, breaking the freshman record in the event.

"They will get more chances to break the record and should do it by a considerable amount before the season is over," explained Coach Larry Reed.

Other members of the team turning in lifetime bests were Darrin Fowler, 200 free; Kevin

Jim Munch Earns Gamefish Release Award in Florida

Jim Munch, 4465 Plinckney Rd., Dexter, earned a Gamefish Release award in the 47th annual Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament, when he caught and released a sailfin.

It was caught from the Dee Cee with Capt. Ralph Ratliff, out of the Holiday Isle Marina, Islamorada, in the Florida Keys. The Met emphasizes the release of gamefish with special awards.

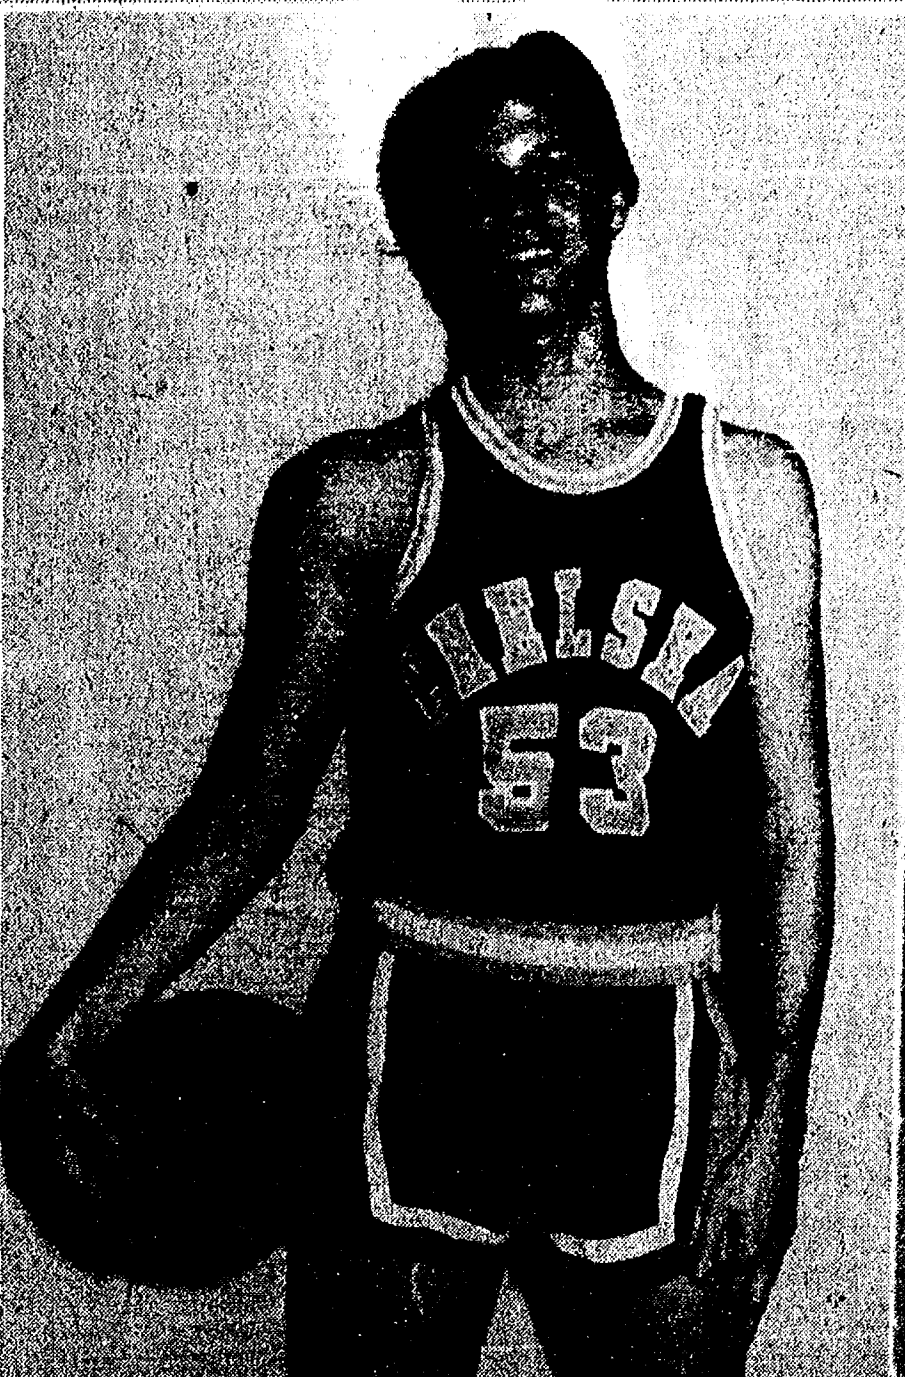

Tavernier Creek Marina sponsors a handsome plaque for the most sailfin released in the 20-Pound Division.

The Met Tournament ends May 9.

Colombo, 200 free; Carrigan, 200 IM; Richard Merkel, 50 free; Todd Brown and Kraig Leach, diving; John Hoffman, 100 fly; Wayne Smith, 100 free; Steve Ramsey and Joe Merkel, 100 back; Bob Murray and Ken Nicholas, 100 breaststroke; Mike Coffman, Todd Brown and Kevin Richardson, 100 freestyle.

Chelsea's next meet will be at Riverview on Thursday.

Cager of the Week

DAVID MANN is this week's featured cager. A 6'4" junior center, Mann plays a good all-around game and is a fundamentally strong player. According to Coach Robin Raymond, "He plays well off the bench and adds needed height inside." With continued hard work, he will be a big factor in the success of the 1982-83 Bulldog squad. David averages five points and four rebounds per game.

Merchants Hockey Team Posts Win

After four weeks without a game, the Chelsea Merchants hockey team got back into action Sunday, Jan. 17, defeating C. Thorrez, Inc., 4-3.

It was a close, exciting game with just one goal scored in the first period. Down by one, the Merchants came back in the second period to tie the game on a goal by Jeff Keister. Getting assists on the goal were Greg Hastings and Ken Shaw. Five minutes later, Jeff Keister and Ken Shaw assisted a teammate to put the team ahead by one goal. By the end of the second period, Thorrez scored twice more to go up by one at the end of two periods.

In the third stanza, it was all Merchants as Greg Hastings scored an unassisted goal just 15 seconds into the period. The game remained tied until the last minute of play when Jeff Keister scored, with the help of Greg Hastings, to give the Merchants the lead permanently.

Goalie Steve Schanz came up with a number of good saves to keep the game close, including the deflection of the puck with just five seconds remaining in the contest.

The Merchants' next two games will be played on Sunday, Jan. 31 and Sunday, Feb. 7, at 10 p.m. and 11 p.m., respectively, at the Jackson Sports Arena.

JV Cagers Pull Out Win Over Western

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity cagers managed to pull away with a 49-43 victory over Jackson County Western Friday, despite a poorly played, sloppy game.

At the half, Chelsea was up, 26-22, against a team that was defeated earlier in the season by a total of 31 points.

The game saw-sawed back and forth with the Bulldogs increasing their lead and the Panthers cutting it down. Nevertheless, the JV Bulldogs chalked up their seventh league victory and upped their over-all slate to 8-2.

Pacing the team was Eric Schaffner with a fine season high of 17 points while Frank Waller came off the bench to sink 12 points and pull down eight rebounds. Jeff Martin added nine points and seven rebounds for the winning effort.

Stressful Times May Cause Ulcers

If you think all your worries about paying holiday bills and taxes can give you ulcers, you're right.

"Ulcers seasons," says a Michigan State University gastroenterologist, traditionally includes income tax time as well as Christmas and New Year's. Howard A. Dean, Jr., D.O., and assistant professor of internal medicine in MSU's College of Osteopathic Medicine, says emotional stress is the key cause of ulcers. Eliminating the causes of stress is crucial to treating the ulcer.

Ulcers, which have been described as "the body digesting a bit of itself," are open sores in the stomach, or more frequently, the duodenum, Dean said. They usually appear as a gnaw or burning pain one-half to four hours after eating.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Dexter Remains Atop League With Big Win Over Lincoln

Lincoln 70, Lincoln Park 58

In a battle of Rallsplitters, the Lincoln team soundly defeated their Great Lakes Eight namesakes Tuesday, 70-58.

Despite the obvious resemblances, Class A Lincoln Park could muster just a three point lead, 16-13, at the end of one and held on by one point at the end of the first half, 27-26. Then, the visiting Rallsplitters took over the lead and held the hosts at bay for the remainder of the contest.

Dan Johnson paced Lincoln with 25 points followed by Dave Stasak with 18.

Milan 67, Airport 56

In a home-based non-league encounter Tuesday night, the Milan Big Reds won a sound victory over Carleton Airport, 67-56. The win lifted Milan's record to 4-4.

The Big Reds raced out to a 38-27 half-time lead though Airport attempted to cut the advantage on several advantages. Still, the Big Reds staved off any real threat and won with the assistance of Bernie Saja with 27 points and 14 rebounds and Scotty Harrison with 24 points, seven rebounds and nine assists.

Monroe CC 61, Saline 48

Despite an evenly played first half, the Hornets, hosting Monroe

Catholic Central Tuesday night, were unable to catch the Huron League team during the third stanza and lost the contest 48-61.

In a close game all the way, the Hornets were forced into too many turnovers and the Falcons capitalized and put three players in double figures to win the contest.

The loss dropped Saline to 5-4 on the season.

Dexter 69, Lincoln 65

Dexter and Lincoln took to the court Saturday night, following Friday's cancellation of their SEC contest, in a battle of two conference rivals and, despite Lincoln's Mark Kedroske, who successfully scored 27 points and pulled down 26 rebounds, the Dreadnaughts were capable of winning the important contest, 69-65.

At the half, Lincoln led 57-53 but Dexter came away with the taste of victory as four players hit double figures. They included Ralph Finley with 22, Rob Ianni with 20, Eric Sing with 13 and Jim Haggerty with 10.

Dexter now sports a 6-1 record.

Chelsea 72, JC Western 41

Despite Western's knack of stalling the game, the Bulldog visitors could be all but stopped Friday night as they rolled over the lowly Panthers, 72-41.

The Bulldogs, down by one at the end of the first quarter, were able to take a 30-23 half-time lead and maintain a strong advantage throughout.

Pacing the Bulldog victory were John Welton and David Wojcik with 16 and 13, respectively. The Bulldogs are now 5-5 on the season.

Milan 44, Tecumseh 42

In an important league contest Friday, Milan managed to defeat a powerful Tecumseh team in over-time, winning the contest, 44-42, and lifting their season slate to 5-4.

Both Chelsea and Milan are tied for third place in the tight Southeastern Conference race.

Pacing the Big Reds were Brad Collar and Scotty Harrison with 19 and 17 points, respectively.

Book By MSU Team Dispels Myths of Aging

Col. Harland Sanders sold his first bucket of chicken nearly three decades ago at age 66 and advised his peers not to retire prematurely.

The late Colonel Sanders and 11 other noted seniors, including actress Helen Hayes and "baby doctor" Benjamin Spock, share their perspectives on aging, retirement, family and goals in a book by two Michigan State University professors.

Co-authors of "What Really Matters" are professor of family and child ecology E. Jane Oyer and her husband, Herbert Oyer, professor of audiology and speech sciences and a former dean at MSU. Both are near retirement.

A specialist in the area of aging, Mrs. Oyer denounces "the widespread stereo-type that 'as soon as you're 65, you're not productive anymore.'"

Future Woman Seminars Offered By Consultant

Fear of failure, guilt, lack of confidence as well as procrastination and making excuses keep many women from reaching out to tap their potential.

Louise Hubal, consultant, seminar leader and homemaker, who is currently teaching a course entitled "Career Search for Women" at Jackson Community College will be offering a seminar in Chelsea in cooperation with Chelsea Community Ed. that addresses these contemporary issues.

She completed her Master's Degree at Eastern Michigan University while maintaining her home for her husband and two young sons. The experiences she gained during that time along with various seminars she has attended since have provided a basis from which to offer additional programs for men and women.

The "Future Woman Seminar" emphasizes "balance" as a key to success. By balancing relationships in the home and reaching out to their potential whatever it might be, women can find success and fulfillment. Family ties are strengthened when responsibilities are shared and there is understanding and room for personal growth. "I do not believe in going through life without an identity nor do I believe in some of the radical ideas preached by some women's organizations. Neither of these extremes solve problems."

In addition to presenting Future Woman Seminars, Mrs. Hubal is also certified to present programs from Personal Dynamics Institute and Performax Systems International. She also has co-ordinated workshops for Jackson Community College.

For more information and registration concerning the next Future Woman Seminar to be held Saturday, Feb. 6 at Chelsea High school, contact Louise at 475-8280.

Heart Attack Victims Sought In Medical Study

Volunteers are urgently needed to help combat America's number one killer, atherosclerosis. This disease is primarily responsible for heart attacks, strokes, and related fatal diseases that account annually for almost one million deaths or 51% of all deaths in the United States.

The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute is conducting a program at four participating medical institutions, including the University of Minnesota, to determine whether lowering blood cholesterol levels will reduce the risk of heart attacks.

The University is seeking persons 29 through 64 years of age, who have had only one heart attack in the past five years with no history of heart surgery, diabetes or stroke.

All such persons are urged to call the University of Minnesota Hyperlipidemia Study collect at 612-378-4494 for more information.

Animal 'Talk' Studied in MSU Language Course

They're not chatting with chimps or harmonizing with birds, but Michigan State University students are learning more about these two species and others in a unique course titled "animal communication and language."

Now in its second year, MSU's Department of Linguistics and Oriental and African Languages, the course is especially popular with veterinary medicine students.

However, Carol Scotton, who teaches the class, says it attracts students from a variety of disciplines. They learn about human language as a system and how it compares with animal forms of communication.

"Since the ape language studies began in the 1960s, our interest about comparisons between animals and humans grew so that today there is a lot of new research on how animals communicate and what they communicate about," Scotton says.

Arrangements were made by the Staffan Funeral Home.

The female sea turtle, which lay its eggs on land, will cross hundreds of miles of ocean in order to deposit from 60 to 100 eggs in the sand of the same beach where it was born, reports the National Wildlife Federation. Scientists can't explain how the sea-dwelling reptile, an endangered species, is able to navigate its way back to its birthplace.

Cong. J. Dunn Fights Proposed Japanese Deal

Congressman Jim Dunn (Mich-6) has contacted U.S. Defense Department officials and vowed to "fight to the end" to block a planned agreement with Japan which could cost two Lansing firms several million dollars over the next five years.

The U.S. government has been negotiating with Japan for the proposed sale of a technical data package designed to allow that country to co-produce the M110A2 self-propelled howitzer.

Motor Wheel Corp. and the Demmer Corp. both based in Lansing, each contribute to the over-all assembly of the weapons system. Some 28 companies in 17 states now play a part in the howitzer assembly process, Congressman Dunn said, adding that Lansing is the only city with two companies that could stand to lose money if the technical data package is provided to the Japanese.

A spokesman for the Demmer Corp. has said the company could lose about $1.5 million per year during the next five years, if the agreement is finalized. Motor Wheel Corp. would lose a minimum of $370,000 per year during the same period, a spokesman for that company said.

"During this time of high unemployment and economic uncertainty, I believe it is important that we do all we can to protect American jobs, and particularly those in Michigan," Congressman Dunn said.

The mid-Michigan Congressman has contacted officials at the U.S. Department of Defense to express his opposition to the proposed agreement with Japan, and pointed out final agreement would be unlawful.

"A provision contained in the Defense Appropriations bill which was signed by the President last month prohibits the use of Defense Department funds to transfer plans, specifications and technical instruction regarding a 'large caliber cannon' to 'any foreign government,'" Congressman Dunn explained.

"The Japanese and American governments were ready to sign the agreement until the provision was added," he added. "Now it looks like we will be able to save the jobs." Congressmen from all affected states have also been pressuring the Defense Department, Dunn said.

The howitzer is an important component of the over-all package of technical plans so it is possible the Japanese will attempt to re-negotiate the agreement with the United States to side-step the provision. But Congressman Dunn is optimistic the agreement will be canceled or delayed.

"I will fight to the end to stop any attempts to finalize an agreement with Japan on this matter," he said.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Underway

It's that time of year again, time for the annual Girl Scout cookie sale. Though the sale happens but once a year, the benefits of the sale support the Girl Scout program all year. Advance order taking began Friday, Jan. 22 and will end Feb. 12.

The cookie sale is the Girl Scout troops' major fund raiser, making it crucially important to the financial stability of scouting. The troops in Chelsea use their portion of the profit, 25 cents, to go on trips, camp outs, museums and otherwise finance troop programs. The Council portion of the profits, 55 cents, help to maintain three camps, an office in Ypsilanti and deliver services to 10,000 girls. Forty-seven percent of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's operational budget will be derived from the cookie sale. Other revenues come from the United Way, Friends of Scouting, camping fees and memorial funds.

The variety of cookies being sold this year are: Thin Mints, a vanilla cookie covered with mint chocolate icing; Peanut Butter Patties, a vanilla cookie topped with peanut butter and covered with chocolate; Shortbreads, a vanilla shortbread cookie; Peanut Butter Sandwich, an oatmeal cookie filled with peanut butter frosting; Sandwich Cremes, an assortment of vanilla and chocolate sandwich cookies with creme frosting center; Caramel DeLites (alias Sumores), a mixture of coconut, caramel and chocolate; and Old Fashioned Oatmeal.

Embargo Talk Hurts Farmers

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng Jan. 11 said that although the Reagan Administration has no intention of imposing a selective embargo of agricultural exports, talk of a potential embargo is now hurting farm prices.

Lyng, the number two official at the department, told farmers attending the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting in San Diego, Calif., that the administration would not impose a limited embargo like former President Carter did in January, 1980.

However, he added, "to say there will never be another embargo is impossible." If another embargo is imposed, it would apply to all U.S. exports, he said.

The administration, he said, had no alternative but to impose the economic sanctions against Poland and the Soviet Union. These sanctions included suspension of grain talks with the Soviets scheduled for February.

Many states have a registration fee system for taxing trucks to raise revenue for repairing roads. These fees don't really work because the same flat fee is paid by an 80,000 pound truck traveling 35,000 miles per year in a state as the same weight truck traveling 7,000 miles, even though the damage done to the roads by the first truck exceeds that done by the second by 500 percent.

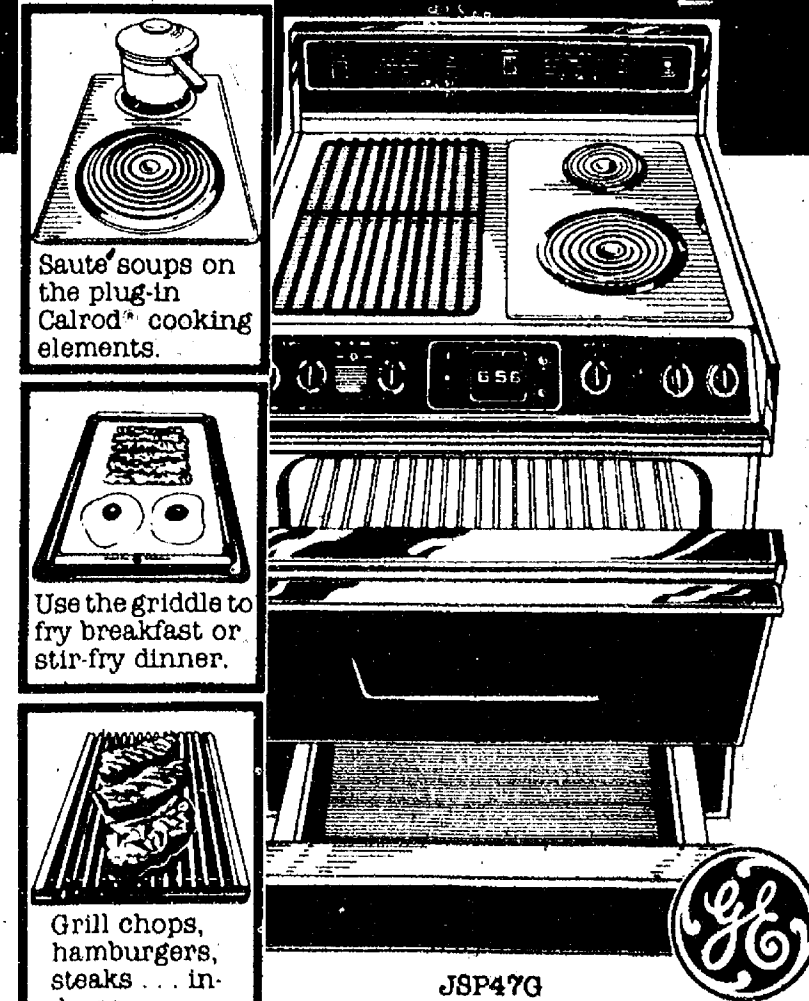

ESCAPING FROM THE SCENE OF A CRIME: This pudgy squirrel was caught escaping from this bird feeder last week, stuffed with a belly full of sunflower seeds and wearing a sly grin as he (or she) prepared for the frigid cold weather that was scheduled to sweep through the state by Friday night.
