Summer Theater Workshop Will Present 4 Plays Friday

The kids in the Children's Theater Workshop are continuing to work very hard on their upcoming productions as the date draws near. The "Four Plays," along with songs between each play, will be performed on July 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Featured will be a short play entitled, "Nobody Listens," written and directed by Mike Smith. Prop lists, costumes and sets are coming along well and the cast hopes its play will be a hit.

The second show to be presented is "Cross-town Challenge," written and directed by Patrick Powers. "We have an energetic bunch of kids who really like to act," says Powers.

"005 Old Creek Drive," written and directed by Brian Myers, is about two old ladies who invited guests over and the guests are turned into robots by a mad scientist named Henry. Tickets for this and the three other plays are 50 cents and are being sold by the cast members and at the door performance night. If you want to find out what happens at "005 Old Creek Drive," come and see the play.

Announcing another Phil Powers' masterpiece, "Voices

Announcing "The Mudshark Club." This year's production revolves around a boy named Jerry and his decisions. The setting is Farmington Hills. Matt Riemenschneider portrays the part of Jerry.

ACATS Offers Summer Classes

Are those long lazy days of summer getting too long and too lazy? Are you becoming bored and looking for something to do? ACATS (Association for Creative and Academically Talented Students) will again offer a variety of summer classes during the weeks of July 12-16 and July 19-23.

There are still some openings available and no ACATS or TAG membership is required. Here is a chance to do something different and learn something new. The following classes will be offered:

Let's Find Out About Newspapers, for grades 4 and up, will be held between the hours of 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. Students will have the opportunity to put together a newspaper, complete with ads, editorials and news copy. This may include a visit to a local printing establishment.

Scientific Experimentation is designed for students in kindergarten through third grade and will take place from 9:30-10:30 a.m. Discover the world of science through experimentation.

Typing will provide students (grades 3 and up) with the basic methods including learning basic keyboard operation. Basic speed and learning at one's own pace will provide a class for all skill levels. It will be held from 12:30-1:30 p.m.

Making a TV Show, grades 3 and up, from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Your chance to be a star. Plan and film a production, complete with commercials.

Pottery is offered to all ages and will be held from 12:30-1:30 p.m. Use your imagination and mold your ideas into something you can keep forever.

Computer Programming I (grades 2 and up), 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., will teach the basics of computer programming. It is designed for those who have had minimal programming experience.

Computer Programming II (grades 2 and up), 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., will provide students with advanced level programming information.

Computer Drop-In (all ages), 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., 12:30 p.m.

to 1:30 p.m. Students will be allowed to use the computer for half-hour periods of time at a minimal fee.

Spanish (all ages), 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. This class will provide students with the opportunity to learn to speak basic, conversational Spanish so, on their next trip to Taco Bell, their orders can be placed in Espanol.

In addition to the aforementioned courses, there will be a free supervised game room set up with adult supervision for class participants.

For further information, call the Community Education Office at 475-9830.

New Civic Foundation Membership Hits 123 In First Six Weeks

The new Civic Foundation has 123 founding members to date.

"We on the Temporary Steering Committee are really delighted with the superb response we have received from the people of the Chelsea area," stated Art Dils, chairman of the Temporary Steering Committee. "We thought it would take three months instead of six weeks to reach this point. Obviously the people who live and work here think a great deal of this community."

The Temporary Steering Committee is continuing to approach leading citizens who live and work in the Chelsea area about becoming founding members. Founding members, who contribute $50, will elect the officers and Board of Trustees of the Foundation.

Federal Help Sought for Dam at Hell

Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner James Murray has notified the state that he is applying for $500,000 in federal funds for a new dam on Hell Creek. It is anticipated that what the state is starting the federal government will complete.

The state has agreed to place $76,000 toward the project this year and has committed itself to pay 62 percent of a new dam that could cost upwards of $800,000. The old dam burst in March, draining Hi Land Lake and flooding much of the village of Hell.

Should the grant be approved, construction of the new dam could begin as early as August.

Nevertheless, should the dam be reconstructed, Hi Land Lake residents may face up to one year of viewing dry ground while the lake collects water.

'My Fair Lady' Posters Err in Time for Matinee

An error has been made on the posters advertising the Chelsea Area Players' upcoming production of "My Fair Lady."

The July 18 matinee will be at 2 p.m. rather than 1 p.m. as the poster states. Cast members have been requested to write in the time change on all of the posters they have distributed.

Tickets for "My Fair Lady" are now on sale at Chelsea Cleaners, 113 Park St. Tickets for the July 15, 16 and 17 8 p.m. performances are $5 and the July 18 2 p.m. matinee tickets are $3.50. Tickets may also be ordered from cast members.

The Foundation will raise funds to finance community projects and programs which are not fundable from existing sources. Interested persons may contact Art Dils, chairman of the Temporary Steering Committee, at 994-3904, or Ron Olmsted, treasurer, at 475-1311. They may also send membership contributions to the Civic Foundation of Chelsea, P.O. Box 45, Chelsea.

Nigerian Burn Victims Being Treated Here

Following a freak explosion at a Johnson Wax plant in Lagos, Nigeria last week, 18 severely burned employees were flown to the University of Michigan Burn Center to undergo painful treatment for burns covering between 30 and 70 percent of their bodies.

The victims, those most badly burned in the fire at the floor products and insecticide producing plant in the Nigerian capital, were selected for treatment in Ann Arbor by Dr. Irving Feller, director of the burn center, who traveled to Nigeria last week.

In transit aboard a transatlantic DC-10, equipped with intensive care equipment, two injured Nigerians died and, since their arrival in Ann Arbor, an additional five patients being treated at University Hospital have died.

Of those factory workers who arrived in Michigan, seven remain in critical condition at U-M and are responding to treatment while two have been transported to Chelsea Community Hospital's burn center—a University of Michigan affiliate—and are reported to be in fair, improving condition.

According to Ron Olmsted, four additional patients are scheduled to be transferred to CCH for treatment soon. With a 15-bed burn unit at Chelsea Community Hospital, almost all burn patients from University Hospital are sent to Chelsea for further treatment after their condition is no longer critical.

Youth Forced To Drive Escapees From State Prison

At approximately 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 29 Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department received a call from a cab driver that he had just dropped off three escapees from Jackson Prison and an accomplice at Polly's Market.

According to Chelsea Police Department reports, one of the suspects entered the store and inquired about the bus schedule and then entered the video game room and asked if anyone was going to Ann Arbor; his car had broken down, he explained. A 17-year-old Chelsea youth agreed to take him to Ann Arbor and, once outside, the remaining three individuals were also in need of a ride.

The four suspects and the Chelsea youth proceeded to Ann Arbor and, as they approached the Ann Arbor exit, he was asked to drive the group to Inkster for $10. He declined the offer and was instructed to drive them there. They proceeded to a residential Inkster neighborhood where one of the alleged escapees got out of the car and knocked on the front door of a home. After getting no response, he got back into the car and gave the driver directions to Schaefer and Michigan Ave. In front of the Dearborn City Hall, the woman accompanying the group got out of the vehicle and those remaining in the car proceeded to the corner of Michigan and Wyoming. Turning into a parking lot, two of the three suspects entered a store and, after a few minutes, the remaining suspect got out of the car and went around the side of the building.

Seeing this as a chance to escape, the Chelsea man began to drive away, noticing the three

Trio Charged in Park Property Destruction

On Wednesday evening, June 28, Chelsea Police Department Sgt. McDougall and Officer Graves, while on routine patrol, spotted three persons doing malicious destruction of property to the wooden ship in Vet's Park.

The trio, made up of a 19-year-old woman and two men, ages 21 and 24, respectively, were apprehended at approximately 11:15 p.m. and were taken to Chelsea Police Department.

Two of the suspects were released on personal recognizance while the other was held overnight in Washtenaw County Jail and charged with being drunk and disorderly.

ARCHERY DEMONSTRATION: David Melow, Cub Scout day camp staff, demonstrates the sport of archery to Brian Zangara of Chelsea. Arts and crafts, sporting demonstrations and physical fitness were part of the four days of fun last week at Camp Newark.

FUTURE SOFTBALL FIELD: Village Administrator Fritz Weber points out the location of first base on the first of two softball diamonds being constructed near Vet's Park following the donation of the land by Chelsea Dana. According to Weber, the first diamond has been dug out and filled with sand so as to facilitate an even playing surface. Seeding of the field is anticipated sometime in August. Rosentreter Excavating has begun work on the second diamond and the field, fences and restrooms should be completed by late fall. Chelsea area residents will have the opportunity to enjoy their new softball facilities next spring.

Death Penalty Question May Reach November Ballot
Petitions backing the proposed death penalty amendment, are nearing the minimum signature requirements to make it on the November ballot, reports its chief backer L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County prosecutor and Republican candidate for governor.

He added, however, that it appears unlikely the drive will have as much "cushion" as he once hoped in making allowances for invalid signatures.

Patterson reported an initial count of petition signatures that have been returned to his office showed about 285,000, just under the 286,722 required.

He said he initially wanted a 10-15 percent cushion, or somewhere around 320,000 signatures, but noted he did not think he would reach that figure now.

Since the shooting death of a Michigan State Police trooper and the multiple murders earlier this year of three families, he said interest has picked up, and 50,000 petitions have been sent out in the last few weeks.

He wants all petitions back by the end of the month so backers can weed out as many invalid signatures as possible prior to the July 6 filing deadline.

The proposed amendment would seek to impose for the first time in Michigan a death penalty removing the constitutional ban against the punishment. It would apply to first degree murder, at the discretion of a jury, and leaves the method of execution unspecified.

At least 11 other constitutional amendment proposals had been shooting for the July deadline, but one of those has already conceded failure.

It was backed by another GOP gubernatorial candidate, Lieutenant Governor James Brickley, and would have provided for the appointment, rather than election, of members of the state Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and the State Board of Education and the boards of the three largest state universities.

The proposal collected fewer than 150,000 signatures, and backers said voter interest was distracted by other issues.

The other petition drives include several tax cut proposals, on requiring a part-time Legislature and one providing for an elected Public Service Commission.

The Michigan State Police Troopers Association has already successfully filed signatures on a proposal setting minimum staffing requirements.

A proposal to drop the legal drinking age to 19, from 21, may also make it on the ballot, using as a base 290,000 signatures collected two years ago. Backers will decide soon whether to get a few more signatures and file the proposal for the November ballot.

Students Give Schools, Teachers Good Grades

An extensive poll of Michigan students, conducted by the State Board of Education, indicates that students are generally happy with their school, think teachers and principals are doing a good or excellent job, school finances and getting millage issues passed pose the biggest problems for school districts.

Schools, however, said the local school systems do not place enough emphasis on programs for gifted and talented, counseling for career preparation and attention to individual student needs.

They also said more emphasis should be placed in the area of training students in computers and other electronic technologies.

Areas of particular concern expressed include curriculum deficiencies, a lack of career and educational guidance, school finance programs and reduced extracurricular programs and activities.

Capt. Ronald Falcone Enrolled in Air Force Technology Institute

Capt. Ronald L. Falcone, son of Tranquillo E. and Dorothy A. Falcone of 301 S. Fourth St., Steelton, Pa., is enrolled in the Air Force Institute of Technology education-with-industry program at General Electric Space Division, Philadelphia, Pa.

Falcone will receive 10 months specialized training as a contracting management officer.

The program helps prepare career officers for management assignments and positions in scientific and development engineering fields.

His wife, Elaine, is the daughter of Leroy E. and Ruth L. Bristle of 19020 Old U.S. 12 W., Chelsea.

The captain is a 1971 graduate of Pennsylvania State University, Middletown.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows still had laws on their minds when they come to the session at the country store Saturday night. Ed Doolittle took up the agender from the week before by allowing the United Nations might as well get out of the resolution business and start being a booking agent. Ed said he had took note that the UN ain't having no luck at all preventing wars, so it ought to at least schedule them one at a time. There just ain't enough prime time to foller three wars at opposite ends of the world at the same time.

Last month, Ed went on, the papers couldn't decide which war was the big story of the day, the Falklands or the Mideast, so most of em took time about. They would headline first one and then the other, and the television had the same problem. The UN was doing good with the war between Iran and Iraq, as long as there was no flareup in Northern Ireland and no border disputes in Africa or South America. Everybody could read the papers and watch the television and sort it all out, and maybe have time to check out the Federal budget battle and what to do about tomorrow's weather. But Isreal and Britain went on the attack at the same time and nobody could keep up. What if Alabama had picked that time to annex the Florida Panhandle, was what Ed wanted to know.

Zeke Grubb was full agreed with Ed. Zeke said three wars was confusing enough for us, but what about folks in Washington trying to figger out what side to be on in all of em. What we got to do, Zeke said, is draw up a schedule like the pro football teams. Countries that are mad at one another can set their war in time fer the super powers to find their cheering sections and fer all the correspondents and cameras to git from the last one to the next one. The UN could be like the league commissioner, Zeke said, and make rules like conventional weapons only so the season might last more than one weekend. Division champions could be chose fer land, sea and air.

As it was, Zeke went on, most folks missed the news about Congress waking up just in time to kill that $75 a day deduction before hitting the campaign trail. It turned out, Zeke reminded, that everone that voted fer that $19,000 a year tax break was fast asleep when it slipped through in the dead of night hid in a bill helping sick coal miners. The honorables was stuck with a choice of telling the folks back home they was awful greedy or powerful careless, and they went with careless to a man, was Zeke's words. They started stirring in their sleep when folks back home let em know that wasn't good enough.

As fer laws, Bug Hookum said he had saw where North Carolina is thinking of follering Montana in setting up what they call spouse abuse centers. Montana already puts $14 of ever $30 marriage license into this service, and North Carolina is considering a law that would finance these centers with $8 extra from ever court case dealing with divorce, alimony, anulment and child custody. Bug said he reckons that's fighting fire with fire.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Kathryn Rybka, D. Hoemann Exchange Vows at St. Mary's

On Saturday afternoon, June 26, Kathryn M. Rybka and Darrell H. Hoemann exchanged their wedding vows before assembled family and friends.

The Rev. Fr. Phillip Dupuis performed the ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic church, Chelsea, for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rybka of Chelsea and Mr. and Mrs. Ivo Hoemann of St. Louis, Mo.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore her mother's dress, an ivory lace gown over polished cotton. It featured a round scoop neckline bound by lace, flared bell sleeves and a cascading scalloped front over tiers of ruffles with a wide sash and back bow. Tucked in her waist was a handmade lace trimmed handkerchief made by her late grandmother. The dress was accented by a fingertip veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and trailing ivy surrounded by lace.

Margaret Possellus of Caro, a close friend of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a rose and blue border print gown, featuring a round neckline and blouson bodice. She carried a floral arrangement of mixed flowers matching her dress.

During the Nuptial Mass, Gail Zatrka served as soloist accompanied by her husband Michael Zatrka on guitar, cousins of the bride. Selections included "Song of Thanksgiving," "Wedding Song," "Follow Me," "St. Francis Prayer," "Beatitudes," and "Beginning Today." The organ prelude and recessional was played by LaVonne Harris.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Henry Rybka chose a floor-length, seafoam green dress of lace and quiana, accented by a corsage of yellow tea roses.

Mrs. Ivo Hoemann, the bridegroom's mother wore a crystal-pleated, floor-length gown in deep rose. Her gown was accented with a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Best man at the ceremony was Keith Hoemann of Maplewood, Mo., brother of the bridegroom. Michael Rybka of Boulder, Colo., brother of the bride, served as usher.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a buffet supper and dance at the Holiday Inn, West Bank, in Ann Arbor.

Host and hostess for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beaufait, uncle and aunt of the bride. The guest book was attended by Deborah Orlovski, a friend of the bride. Jean Beaufait, an aunt of the bride, and Eleanor Gargala, a friend of the family, assisted with the wedding cake.

Thereafter, the couple departed on a honeymoon trip along the Eastern seaboard. Upon returning, they will make their home in Greenville, S. C.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school, Michigan State University and the University of South Carolina. This past year, she was an assistant professor in the journalism department at the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks. The bridegroom is a graduate of Maplewood High school in Maplewood, Mo., and the University of Missouri. He is a staff photographer for The Greenville News, Greenville, S. C.

June S. Liesman Attends National Sorority Convention

June Sawyer Liesman, Delta Lambda, past president of the Detroit Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Kappa Sorority, attended the National Sigma Kappa Convention at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Lexington, Ky., June 24 through June 28.

The convention was attended by 500 collegiate and alumnae delegates and national officers. In addition to discussing sorority business matters, the conventioners participated in workshops that promote personal and leadership development, sisterhood and membership responsibility.

Awards were given to the outstanding collegiate and alumnae chapters in the country.

The theme of the 1982 National Convention was "It Begins With Me." Delegates were encouraged to give of themselves to the chapter, campus and community.

Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Kalmbach

E. Hoover, W. Kalmbach Wed at Zion Lutheran Church

Elizabeth Laureen Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Hoover, and William Earl Kalmbach, son of Mr. Richard E. Kalmbach, were married in a double ring ceremony on May 15. The wedding was held at Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. John Morris and the Rev. Fr. David Harvey of St. John's, Fenton, officiating at the ceremony.

The bride chose a floor-length gown featuring chantilly lace throughout the bodice and the bottom of the chiffon skirt. The gown was accented by a Victorian neckline, bishop sleeves and Queen Anne cuffs, and terminated with a chapel-length train. She wore a hat to match the gown and carried a bouquet of double white lilies and ivy.

Lynette Terns of Grass Lake was matron of honor. She wore a sheer lavender floral print dress over white, gathered at the waist with a lavender satin ribbon. She carried a basket of purple lilies.

Bridesmaids were Terri Knickerbocker of Long Beach, Calif., Lori Kalmbach of Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom and Terry Hoover of Chelsea, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore dresses similar to that worn by the matron of honor, tied at the waist with white satin ribbon. They each carried a white basket of lavender and white lilies.

brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Larry Doll of Chelsea and Brian Arnett of Manchester, friends of the couple, and Dan Hoover of Chelsea, brother of the bride.

Mother of the bride wore a light blue floor-length gown with small pleats in the skirt, sheer sleeves and a bow at the neckline. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

Paula Haist of Chelsea, was the soloist during the ceremony.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the UAW Local 1284 Hall in Chelsea. Carissa Wentz of Bountiful, U., niece of the bride, attended the guest book. Kyt Hoover of Chelsea, sister-in-law of the bride, and Jackie Wentz of Bountiful, U., sister of the bride, cut the cake.

The couple honeymooned at the World's Fair, Knoxville, Tenn. They are residing in Ann Arbor.

ED BEISSEL displays four of his doll cradles. The center cradle at the bottom is a rocker. The other three sway on pivots.

Ed Beissel Starting New Hobby Career

Since his retirement from Dana Corp. last year, Ed Beissel of 2250 McKinley Rd. has embarked on a new career. He is now designing and building doll cradles.

All are fashioned from wood in various sizes, designs and finishes. Some are suspended on pivots and rock from the top. Others are on elliptical rockers similar to those of rocking chairs.

Beissel's shop is in his home and he maintains a stock of display models. Nevertheless, he custom-builds each cradle to order. Prices range from $15 to $30 and orders received as late as Dec. 1 will be ready before Christmas.

Shortly after completing his World War II service with the U. S. Navy, Beissel went to work for Chelsea Products Co., which was subsequently taken over by Dana. He completed 35 1/2 years with the organization before choosing early retirement.

He is a native son of Chelsea and he and his wife, Beulah, were classmates at Chelsea High school.

College Week for Women Attracts 1,200 Participants

More than 1,200 people from across the state attended College Week June 21-24 at Michigan State University. The event is sponsored annually by the Family Living Education Program of the MSU Co-operative Extension Service.

"This informal four-day learning vacation featured a selection of more than 60 classes, workshops, tours, films and seminars," said Wilma Miller, College Week co-ordinator. "Most of the classes are designed especially for reteaching by College Week participants to their local clubs or community groups."

Among the topics structured for reteaching are weight control, operating a small home business, communication in the family, development of self-esteem, investments and managing money in the '80s, stress during inflationary times, microwave cooking, buying meats and other foods wisely, and grandparenting.

Participants in the campus program lived in residence halls while attending classes designed by MSU faculty members, business and community leaders, and Extension specialists.

Anyone wishing to learn more about College Week or other Family Living Education programs may contact the local county Co-operative Extension Service.

BEULAH BEISSEL admires a large cradle with a life-size doll. She notes that, although doll cradles preferred by make-believe mothers have slatted sides, most cradles for real babies have solid sides.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Father's Day Banquet

Seventy-five senior citizens gathered in the Chelsea High school cafeteria for the monthly special events meeting on June 18 at 6 p.m. A delicious pork chop dinner was served under the direction of Fran Ferry, school dietitian. Red and white checkered tablecloths with geranium centerpieces made it a very special festive occasion.

Following the dinner, a program was presented with Jackie Rogers and Treva Winans serving as emcees.

June being the month of Father's Day recognition, "This Is Your Life D. A. Riker," complete with photographs of his life, was narrated by Jackie and Treva, to the delight of the group. Geraniums were awarded to Martin Steinbach, Glen Wiseman, William Collins, Carroll Ordway, Harold Schauer and M. Mollenkoff.

Classic Renditions, from Sweet Adelines Ann Arbor Chapter, entertained the group with some favorite old songs, asking the seniors to join in a sing-along.

The July special event will be a picnic.

Chelsea Twirlers Win Trophies in VFW Championship

The annual VFW State Baton Twirling Championships, held this year in Grand Rapids, brought honor to three twirlers from the Chelsea Charms Baton Twirling Corps on Saturday, June 26. Susan Schmunk, Michelle Graflund and Richelle Jones captured three trophies each, bringing home a total of nine trophies.

Susan, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmunk, took the first place trophy in both military strut and basic strut. In the novice division of twirling, and with a new routine, she captured the third place trophy in the 11- to 12-year-old division. Susan is drum major for the Chelsea Charms.

Ten-year-old Michelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Graflund, placed first in both military strut and novice twirling in the 9- to 10-year-old division. In basic strut, she took the third place trophy and in the modeling division, she placed fourth.

Richelle, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Jones, took the first place trophy in novice twirling in the 0- to 6-year-old division. With a protective clause, where no first place award was given, Richelle took the second place trophy in both basic strut and military strut.

Observing the contest was Charms' teacher Rita Wilson-Howard and mothers Sherry Jones and Norma Graflund.

Four members of the Charms attended baton twirling camp at Adrian College last week. They were Amy Weir, Kristen Clark, Michelle Graflund and Susan Schmunk, along with Rita Wilson-Howard.

The entire Chelsea Charms Baton Twirling Corps will participate in the July 5th parade at Ypsilanti.

Big 'Garage Sale' Added to Saline Bargain Days

A giant sale held in downtown Saline will be a major addition this year to the Saline Summer Bargain Days, July 15-17.

The garage sale, a two-day extravaganza scheduled for July 16 and 17, is open to all for a $15 participant fee.

Bargain Days also will feature an art fair, and sidewalk sales offered by local merchants. Other activities will include a beer tent and street dance on Friday and Saturday nights behind Citizens Bank; a salad luncheon on Friday from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the United Methodist church; an ice cream social Friday evening from 5-9 at St. Paul United Church of Christ; and a hog roast behind Citizens Bank on Saturday evening.

Persons wishing to participate in either the art fair or garage sale may phone 429-1105 for more information. Registration deadline for both events is Saturday, July 10.

Bargain Days are sponsored by the Saline Area Chamber of Commerce.

Afterglow Party Slated At Rosenberg Home

AFTERGLOW SCENARIO: The spacious, history-ridden William G. Rosenberg residence, located at 14215 Riker Rd., is the location for this year's Afterglow following the opening night performance of "My Fair Lady." Tickets for the Afterglow and opening night presentation are available at Chelsea Cleaners and from any Chelsea Area Players' cast members.

Plans are now complete for the July 15 Afterglow party following the opening night performance of the Chelsea Area Players "My Fair Lady." The Afterglow will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rosenberg, 14215 Riker Rd.

Following the elegant "My Fair Lady" theme for the Afterglow, Gloria Mitchell and her committee are hard at work with preparations for a truly memorable evening. Theatregoers will be greeted in the driveway with valet parking while a butler welcomes the guests at the door. As maids in appropriate attire serve elegant hors d'oeuvres and light canapés on silver trays and punch from crystal bowls, LaVonne Harris, "My Fair Lady" rehearsal pianist, will play show tunes on Rosenberg's grand piano.

Other members of the Afterglow committee include: Denise Long, Pattie Schumann, Jeanene Riemenschneider, Gail Johnson and June Wilson.

Certainly one of the focal points of this year's Afterglow will be the Rosenberg home. This historic 16-room copy of an English home was built in 1870 by William E. Stevenson. He named it "Grandview Farm" and farmed its original 280 acres. There are many points of architectural interest: the cupola, affording the "grand view," the many bays, some of which were added after 1874; woodwork of black walnut, butternut, oak, yellow and white pine; transoms in the center rooms.

William Eisenbeiser purchased the property in 1914 and owned it for many years. Later his son Warren added the stone fireplaces. Recent generations of Chelseaites have known it as the "Eisenbeiser farm." The farm was later purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thornton, who did most of the restoration. The Rosenbergs have owned it since 1978.

Until this summer the house has always been painted white, but according to Mary Beth Rosenberg, "The landmark of the 'white house on the hill' will now be the 'gray house on the hill.'" Being most concerned about the historic importance of her home, Mary Beth did some careful research before choosing its new color. She has in her possession a fourth edition book by A.J. Downing, a well known architect of the late 1800's. In his book Downing advocated warm colors to blend with the foliage of the surrounding countryside and had a hand-painted color chart of shades that he preferred. Thus, the gray and brown shades were chosen from Downing's book. All in all, this home certainly seems to be a perfect setting for "My Fair Lady's" Afterglow.

There are 156 Afterglow tickets available. These tickets are $10 each and include the reserved seat for the July 15 performance as well as the party afterward. These Afterglow tickets are available to the public and will not be sold after Monday, July 12. Tickets are on sale at Chelsea Cleaners, 113 Park St.

Further ticket information may be obtained by calling Chelsea Cleaners at 475-1133 or from ticket chairman Bob Merkel at 475-8621 or 475-8787.

Dairy Council Rep. Will Entertain Senior Citizens

Local senior citizens will have the opportunity to meet with Laurie Couvery, representing the Dairy Council of Michigan, who will present a program at the North school Senior Nutrition Site entitled "Food for Older Folks," Tuesday, July 20 at 10:30 a.m. There is no charge for this program and Ms. Couvery will also offer bingo with prizes.

To the Editor:

As I recall being in Germany 35 years ago and in the last days of the war we had to back up and stall for time. Letting the Russian troops take over their assigned position of Germany. They are still there and they are still up to the same old games, while the American people sleep.

It is not the United States but the USSR that is menacing the world.

Freeze advocates and their literature imply that the world is threatened by both of the super-powers.

It is high time we remember that it is Communism, not the U.S. which relentlessly seeks to conquer the world. Soviet declarations of this intention are far from idle boasts. In the past decade, Communist power has conquered Laos, Cambodia, and South Vietnam. It has forcibly invaded Afghanistan, it has used Cuban troops to solidify Communist control of Angola and Ethiopia, and it has crushed the aspirations of the Polish people for even a fraction of freedom in their occupied country.

The last several times the United States has gone to war, it has been in response to Communist aggression. Does it make sense for America to scrap or reduce its military capabilities in the face of such a record?

Russell Wolff.

Your Health Options

By Beverly Chethik
Director of Health Education, Washtenaw County Health Dept.

Last year there were a number of cases of Eastern Equine Encephalitis in this part of the state. What can I do to protect myself and my family from getting sick?

Last year there were 17 confirmed cases of Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) in the horse population in Washtenaw county. The horses had been bitten by disease-carrying mosquitoes. There were no human cases.

There is no way to predict whether there will be another outbreak this year, but the potential does exist. EEE is just one of a number of diseases that are carried by mosquitoes, but presently only EEE and dog heartworm cause concern in this area.

EEE is spread by mosquitoes that feed on infected birds. The mosquito becomes infected and may infect an animal. Human cases have not been identified in Washtenaw county.

You can reduce the annoyance and fear caused by mosquitoes if you eliminate mosquito breeding sites. All mosquitoes must have water for their development, and stagnant water is a prime breeding site.

Whether you live on a large farm or in an apartment, you may be interested in the following recommendations:

- If you have horses, vaccinate them as soon as possible.
- Eliminate stagnant bodies of water.
- Keep rain barrels, cisterns, etc., tightly covered.
- Get rid of old tires, bottles and other containers that collect water. (Mosquitoes have been found to breed in something as small as a bottle cap if it can hold water.)
- Provide clean shorelines with little or no vegetation in the water.
- Make sure your home is tightly screened, especially the sleeping area.
- Empty and wash plastic wading pools each week.
- Repair leaky pipes and outside faucets.
- Empty water pens of pets and chickens each day.
- Change water and scrub flower vases each week.
- Use a good insect repellent.
- Wear long sleeves and long pants where mosquitoes are prevalent.
- If mosquitoes become a real problem, stay indoors whenever possible.

The Washtenaw County Health Department will be sampling the bird and mosquito populations routinely this summer. For more information, contact Kristy Whedon at the Environmental Health Office, 994-2492.

Good Things Growing in Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall

As this is written, Michigan cherry growers are looking forward to an excellent crop of both sweet and red tart cherries. Thanks to a late spring, which held back the buds until after the danger of frost was pretty much past, all Michigan fruit crops are expected to be abundant this year.

That's good news for Michigan, the cherry capitol of the world, which produces about two-thirds of the nation's red tart cherries and ranks fourth in sweet cherries. Last year's crop (smaller because of unfavorable weather) was estimated at 134 million pounds, including 88 million pounds of tart cherries, 46 million pounds of sweets. Value of the crop, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, was almost $50 million.

Sweet cherries, which ripen before the red tarts, are an ideal treat to wash and eat out of hand. A big bowl of sweet cherries with the stems on makes a simple, delicious dessert.

However, if you want something different, try this recipe for turkey (or chicken) and sweet cherries. It's good to prepare for a crowd, and is a pleasant change of pace for a summer picnic. But I generally use whole turkey breasts, halved, for a crowd, since it's convenient and reasonably priced especially this season of the year.

In large heavy skillet or roaster, saute turkey breast in 3 tablespoons butter and one chopped onion. Season with salt and pepper. Add 1/4 cup Michigan sherry, 1/2 cup Michigan apple juice, and about 1/2 teaspoon powdered ginger. Simmer, covered, until tender. Thicken sauce with 3 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 1/4 cup cold water. Remove turkey, take meat off bones, and cut in generous-sized chunks. Add 2 cups black sweet pitted Michigan cherries and the turkey. Keep hot until ready to serve.

You can vary the proportions, use chicken breasts, thighs or whatever you prefer.

Girl Scouts Enjoy All-Day Program

More than 100 Brownie, Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts and their leaders met at the home of David and Lynda Longe for a fun-filled day of Girl Scout activities Thursday, June 24.

The day began with an outdoor flag ceremony at Island Lake followed by an introduction by Gabe Cherum to the ecology badge. Cherum sent the girls out to find different types of plant, insect and animal life on this 100-plus acre farm. The girls came back together for discussion and, at the end of the day, the Junior Scouts were awarded the ecology badge while the Brownies were awarded the nature lover badge for their efforts.

After lunch, the group gathered in two separate areas for wide games (Junior and Cadette levels) and Brownie crafts. Mrs. Jan Manning led the Cadettes and Juniors in a variety of Girl Scout skills including knot-tying, fire-building, first aid, use of the jack knife, hatchet and saw and putting up tents.

Lynda Longe taught the Brownies how to make sit-upons with woven newspapers. The Brownies also made creative stationery from their thumbprints, leaves, grass, flowers and other assorted natural items.

Connie Dault, a recent Chelsea High school graduate, came out and told the Brownies a story she used in state forensics competition.

Following a dinner of campfire stew, under the able supervision of Mrs. Darlene Eisenbeiser, the Scouts gathered for a campfire and songs led by Mrs. Sue Williams. Each troop had the opportunity to present a skit and its favorite song to the rest of the group. Mrs. Williams sang many entertaining songs and taught the girls many of them.

The evening ended with the lowering of the flag and a flag burning ceremony. Girls who participated in the ceremony were Jimae Ritter, Kim Easton, Cory Tremper, Stephanie Harms, Elizabeth Williams, Michelle Smith and Jane Irwin.

ECOLOGICAL ENCOUNTER: Gabe Cherum introduces local Girl Scouts to the appreciation of plant and wildlife in the woods and meadows located on the Longe property near Island Lake.

At the end of the day, Junior Scouts were awarded their ecology badges while the Brownies earned nature lover badges for their efforts.

A Photo Story

By Steve Worley

PREPARING A CAMPFIRE: Jimae Ritter and Gina Smiley stack their wood properly in hopes of creating a fine fire on which to cook their dinner during a day-long outing on the property of Dave and Lynda Longe.

WHITTLE WHILE YOU WORK: Junior Girl Scouts rest in the woods, trimming the bark from twigs found in the area. Jan Manning led this group in a series of Girl Scout skills following a hearty luncheon.

OFF THEY GO . . . enroute to Island Lake. More than 100 area Girl Scouts, of all ages, took part in a day-long adventure last week, cooking, eating, learning and enjoying, hiking and resting on the property of David and Lynda Longe.

LEE TREMPER AND DARLENE EISENBEISER give the younger girls a little talking to before heading out on the trail to locate wildlife, plantlife and whatever else they might encounter during the warm, sunny afternoon.

SEE HOW SIMPLE? asks Sandy Patterson while receiving little help in tent pitching during a Brownie, Junior and Cadette Girl Scout outing last week. But, once the tent is up . . .

WELL-FED AND FILLED WITH FOND MEMORIES the group decides that it's time to get in some R and R following a long, hard but oh-so-fun morning, noon and night last week at the home of David and Lynda Longe.

SINGING AND LEARNING: Summertime fun for preschoolers is the name of the game this July at North school. Above, teachers D'Ann Gietzen and Laura Holdsworth lead the youthful group in a rousing rendition of "Count to 10" and get amazing response. Among the participants are Kindra Weid, Stephanie Broughton, Alicia Broughton, Sara Flintoft, Melissa Bycraft, Courtney Quartermaine, Eric McCalla, Jeffrey Brand, Shanna and Shelly Milbocker and Beth Holdsworth. The group is participating in the program sponsored by Chelsea Community Education.

'ROUND WE GO: Sara Flintoft gives her friend, Alicia Broughton, a swift and determined push on the merry-go-round located on the playground at North school during Chelsea Community Education's summertime fun for preschoolers program.

Harold Moon Enters State House Contest

Harold L. Moon, well known "law and order" citizen of Washtenaw county, has entered the race in the 52nd District as a Republican candidate for Michigan's House of Representatives. The 52nd District covers most of Washtenaw county outside the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti urban area.

Moon graduated from Woodward High school in Toledo and holds a B.A. degree. He served in the military for 18 years and participated in six major battles in Korea from 1950 through 1952.

Moon moved to Michigan in 1964 and founded the Moon Ball Bonding Co., serving Washtenaw, Monroe, and Livingston counties. A company he just recently closed down to give him more time to devote to politics. He is a retired publisher of the Washtenaw and Monroe County Courier.

Moon is also a past president of the National Volunteers Hall of Fame.

Moon is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Ann Arbor, Zal Graz Grotto, Moslem Shrine Club, Detroit; 32nd Degree Mason from Valley of Toledo; member Washtenaw County Shrine Club and Hi 12 Club. ## Cong. Dunn Honored By Seniors

Congressman Jim Dunn (Mich.-6) has been recognized by the National Alliance of Senior Citizens for his outstanding record on issues of critical interest to our nation's elderly.

Congressman Dunn received an 80 percent rating in the eighth annual "Golden Age Index" compiled by NASC, which has a membership of a half million people nation-wide, making it the country's second largest senior organization.

Curt Clinkscales, national director of NASC, said: "We're proud of Jim and his excellent service to the senior community of the Sixth Congressional District in Michigan."

Congressman Dunn has been presented with a certificate which reads: "This high honor is reserved for those who by their actions have demonstrated concern, compassion, and understanding of the unique problems of America's senior community."

During his introduction into the "Golden Age Hall of Fame," Congressman Dunn said that he was proud of the honor and pleased that his work on behalf of senior citizens has been recognized.

"America owes a great deal to its elderly community for the contributions it has made throughout the years," he said. "We must commit ourselves to providing the best possible care and attention to seniors everywhere."

men running down an alley on foot.

Upon his return, the Chelsea youth was contacted by Chelsea Police and gave a full statement. Chelsea Police, in turn, notified the Detroit Police Department of the escape of the three men, two of whom were from Detroit. The remaining suspect was an Inkster resident. They were serving prison terms for armed robbery, larceny by false pretenses and larceny, respectively, and were housed in the Trustee Division of Jackson Prison.

Their escape apparently occurred in broad daylight; according to reports the three walked out the gate in the trustee area and climbed into the waiting cab.

Fire Dept. Reports 28 Runs for May

Chelsea Fire Department made a total of 28 runs during May as compared to the preceding May, when 27 calls were answered. As of June 1, Chelsea firemen have made a total of 145 runs for this year.

By township during May, Chelsea was the location of six runs as was Lima township, while Sylvan township was the scene of seven runs. Five calls were answered in Lyndon township while three were answered in Waterloo township and one run was made to Dexter township.

By man hours, a total of 70 were spent in Chelsea, 135.5 in Sylvan township, 103.5 in Lima, 28.5 in Dexter, 70 in Lyndon, and 27 in Waterloo townships. Eighty-nine hours were spent through Mutual Aide for a total of 523.5 man hours spent by Chelsea firemen during the month of May.

Types of fire calls received included 10 grass and one each of chimney, truck, washer and building fires. Four rescue runs were made and Chelsea Fire Department assisted during eight personal injury accidents, one auto alarm and one Mutual Aide request.

Other activities by fire personnel included four members ding the Washtenaw County Mutual Aide meeting in Augusta township for a total of 20 hours. The SMAFC and FF was attended by four members for a total of 16 hours and the meeting was held at Henrietta.

One man spent three hours building shelves in the fire barn while five members spent a total of seven and one-half hours conducting fire drills at the schools.

Two members spent 132 hours completing their 66-hour fire course and six members spent a total of 24 hours at a seminar at Pleasant Lake put on by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Five members donated 60 hours on the house number project and two members spent six hours at the Dexter Memorial Parade.

Twenty-five members spent a total of 42½ hours on five tours, conducting 150 children, 11 EMTs and 34 adults through the fire hall and eight members spent 16 hours at the squad meeting.

Of a total of 850.5 man hours spent during the month of May, 327 were donated by the local firefighting force. A total of 523.5 man hours were paid.

Sylvan School District First Organized in 1834

The first meeting of the Sylvan School District took place June 14, 1834, at which a Board was elected. It was also voted that $31 be raised by taxes for building a schoolhouse, and other purposes, although no proposed dimensions for the schoolhouse were mentioned. The sum mentioned is so small that no doubt some of the labor and materials were donated.

Harriet Wines was the first teacher in Sylvan No. 7 school and the following officers were elected: Thomas H. Godfrey, Samuel Dunham and Edward E. Conkling as Commissioners of Common Schools and Nathan Pierce, John R. Jewett, Freeman Lawrence, John C. Winans and Edmund E. Conkling as Inspectors of Common Schools.

Sylvan voted on Nov. 11, 1896 to have a "school on the scholar," each one to pay what he sends—Each person sending scholars shall by holding for the schooling and the wood." The Oct. 20, 1836 meeting had voted "to get one and one-half cords of wood to a scholar, to be delivered by Dec. 1. If not got by that time E. Potter authorized to get it at 15 shillings per cord." Later the required amount became fixed at one-half cord per scholar.

Sylvan voted in 1837 to build a new schoolhouse for its 41 pupils, 22x44 feet, the cost of which was to be in excess of $100, though the full amount was not stated. Early in 1838 it was voted to assess a tax of $25 for the purpose of buying a stove. In November of 1844, Sylvan voted to build a schoolhouse, 22x22 feet, to be built on the corner east of the old one, said schoolhouse shall be painted with two good coats of red paint trimmed with white." Hence, the little Red School House was born.

In March of 1843, the old school house was destroyed, whether as a prank or an act of vandalism is unknown but the assessor was authorized "to settle with the Mobocrats that tore down the schoolhouse on condition of penitence and paying the sum of seven dollars" with an "extra settlement for the stove and its pipe."

For teaching school during the summer of 1834 in Sylvan, Harriet Wines was paid $10; Arnold Bell received $36 for teaching the following winter. Next year he was paid $37.50. In 1867 Sylvan hired O. S. Clark as a teacher at a salary of $25 per month.

The general practice was to hire a woman teacher during the summer, and a man during the winter when the bigger boys had little to do on the farm, and thus were in school. It was felt that a woman teacher could not manage these bigger boys.

The little Red School House had played a long and important role in the community. The last classes were held at the school in May, 1948 with Mrs. Walter Zeeb as teacher. After that time, pupils in the district were sent to Jewett-Stone School and Everett School, thereafter, to Manchester. The Red School House had been a landmark at the corner of Manchester and Pritchard Rds. for more than 65 years.

In an agreement announced by the Chelsea Agricultural Schools, the Red School House on Manchester Rd. was acquired by the Chelsea Community Fair Association for use as an office building on the fairgrounds in 1953. Hundreds of local residents were pleased to learn that the

Barn Dance Raises $800 To Benefit Special Olympics

The Trinkle Barn Dance once again proved to be an enjoyable evening Saturday, June 19 with good music provided by the Luke Schable Band and plenty to eat and drink for some 350 persons attending the event.

For those of you who missed the chance to experience a good old-fashioned barn dance—you'll have one last chance—at the 10th and final Trinkle Barn Dance to be held next year.

The proceeds from each

Trinkle Barn Dance go to Chelsea, Dexter and High Point Special Olympics programs. This year's dance proceeds found Chelsea and Dexter each receiving $300 and High Point receiving $200. Many area neighbors and businesses traditionally work together to ensure the success of each dance.

Taking active parts in the 9th annual Trinkle Barn Dance were Heydlauff's, Wendy's, Chelsea

VFW Auxiliary, Chelsea Knights of Columbus, Paul Gunderson, Thetford, Jenkins, John Bouillon, Nicholson's, Dexter Schools, Discount Bakery, K & E Screw, Chelsea Fairgrounds, High Point Center, Dexter A & W, Chelsea State Bank, Dunbar's, IGA, McLeod's Pharmacy, Royal Hair, Captains Table, Vogel's, Gambles, Fran Coy and Bollinger Sanitation Service.

Police Dept. Notes Increased Activity

Chelsea Police Department reports that patrol and complaint activity for the month of May was up sharply as the department made a total of 284 radio runs as compared to 180 in April. Types of runs included 22 incidents of larceny, 33 suspicious vehicles, 16 non-sufficient funds checks, two breaking and entering and 14 suspicious incidents.

A total of 16 arrests were made, including two felony, one misdemeanor, four warrant and nine juvenile. This may be compared to six arrests during the month of April. Types of arrests included one breaking and entering, two warrants, one escaped convict, three larcenies from a train, and two breaking and enterings.

A total of 52 case reports were written during May while just 17 were written in April. Of these reports, 21 involved larcenies, 17 regarded non-sufficient funds checks, two occasions of breaking and entering and one indecent exposure.

Twelve accident reports were written during May while 14 were completed in April. A total of 132 parking violations were issued as compared to 89 in April.

Chelsea Police made a total of 27 motorist assists during May while making 21 during the preceding month.

Chelsea Police assisted Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department on a total of four occasions, including three personal injury accidents and one incident of shots fired.

Chelsea Auxiliary Police spent a total of 109.25 hours on duty during May.

Dunn Disappointed In Reagan Housing Veto

Congressman Jim Dunn (Mich-6) today explained his vote to overturn President Reagan's veto of an appropriations bill which would have provided $3 billion to help the nation's depressed housing market, saying Congress has a responsibility to make its decisions independent of the Administration.

"I supported the bill when it came to the House floor the first time, and I continue to support it," Congressman Dunn said of the so-called urgent supplemental appropriations bill. President Reagan's veto of the bill was sustained when the House fell 17 votes short of the required two-thirds margin to override his decision.

"President Reagan did what he thinks is best and I had an obligation to do what I think is best," Congressman Dunn said.

Stockbridge Resident Named To Head MUCC

Owen C. Burns, 58, of Stockbridge, an engineer who has long been active in volunteer conservation work, is the new president of the state's largest conservation organization of which Chelsea Rod & Gun Club is a part.

He was chosen to succeed Dwight L. Ulman of Saginaw as head of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) during the organization's 45th annual convention in Comstock Park.

Burns has been a director of MUCC for many years and has held numerous offices in the organization, including district chairman, treasurer, and member and chairman of several committees.

He is employed by the Michigan Department of Corrections in Jackson as a Bureau of Prison Industries superintendent.

A member of the group for 20 years, Burns has held positions as treasurer and member of the Board of Representatives. He is also a member of the National Wildlife Federation.

Moving to Stockbridge three years ago from Big Pine Island Lake, near Grand Rapids, Burns is the superintendent of the stamp plant at Jackson State Prison. He and his wife, Gloria, have 10 children.

Other officers elected included:

State-wide vice-presidents—Wendell Briggs of Grand Rapids, John Elchinger of Marion, and Robert Latch of Westland.

Regional vice-presidents—Gerald Goodman of Iron River, Emil DeGeorge of Harrison, Orin Havens of Remus, and William Sommerville of Utica.

Treasurer—Glenn Geerlings of Zeeland.

Directors-at-large—Dorothy Dishno of Gladstone, I. B. Holly of Detroit, Donald Langley of Brighton, Wayne Lambright of Jackson, Joseph Lareau of Ferrisdale, MaryAnn McCormack of Edwardsburg, William Pruiett of Lansing, and John Sherk of Jackson.

National Wildlife Federation representative—Glen Corbett of Harper Woods. National Wildlife Federation alternate representative—Dwight Ulman of Saginaw.

Michigan United Conservation Club played a part in the adoption of the bottle bill and the Indian treaty on fishing rights.

Burns appeared on the Michigan Outdoors program Thursday evening.

'Best Fishing Lakes' Book Published by Sportsman's Group

Which of Michigan's more than 11,000 lakes make up the state's 50 best inland fishing waters?

To find the answer to that question, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) polled leading fishing authorities in the state. Fishermen of wide experience, outdoor writers, and fisheries biologists were asked to name the five inland lakes they considered the best in Michigan for fishing. Their choices were weighted and tabulated, and the lakes receiving the largest number of points were selected for inclusion in a new guide for sport fishing.

Entitled "Michigan's 50 Best Fishing Lakes," the book contains a map, profile, and description of each lake. Anglers are given date on public access to the lakes, water depths and temperatures, game fish species found in the lakes, and much other information to help them improve their fishing success.

Copies of "Michigan's 50 Best Fishing Lakes" may be obtained for $6.95 each, postage and sales tax included, from MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing 48909. Proceeds from sales will be used by MUCC, a non-profit organization, for its conservation and education programs.

WCC Trustees Adopt Tight Budget for '83

Washtenaw Community College Trustees approved a "hold the line" budget for 1982-83 of $16,945,200, an 8.8 percent increase.

"The budget increase is expected to cover the inflationary increases next year, but will provide minimal growth in programs," Gunder A. Myran, president, said.

Revenue from state aid is expected to decrease by $256,000, a decline of 6.5 percent. Tuition for next year was increased in March and should produce $904,900 more in revenue. Tuition was increased by $5.50 per credit hour to $24. An increase of 8 percent in property tax revenue is expected; there is no change in the College tax levy of 2.25 mills for operations. The College will use $635,300 from fund balance to complete the revenue side of the budget.

Expenses have been reduced during the current year through a concentrated program of close review of costs, Dr. Myran said. This will continue next year and is reflected in budgeted increases of 5 percent for utilities and non-personnel expenses. Personnel expense will increase by 9.9 percent principally reflecting bargaining agreement costs and no increase in staff positions.

Pony League Results

Cardinals 7, Royals 6

Chan Lane keeps rolling along as he went on to defeat Don Thibodeau's Royals this week during Pony League action.

It started out to be all Lane's game as the team scored four runs in the first inning.

The Royals opened up with Eric Bell's single in the second along with Shane Hutting's triple to allow Bell to score. Along with Hutting, Jeff Stacy and Gary Johnson hit doubles and Greg Boughton hit a two-run homer to tie the score at 6-all.

Hitting singles for the Cards were B. Close (2), T. Lewis (2), S. Darrow, Jon Lane (2) and S. Frisinger (2).

B. Close did a good job pitching and in relief, was Todd Starkey as he continued to do fine pitching. The best defensive play of the ball game was a great throw by T. Anderson to Matt Doan to cut down a runner at the plate.

Cardinals 3, Astros 0

Chan and Dave Lane's Cardinals remain on top all alone now as they defeated Tom Kemp's Astros, 3-0. For the Astros, R. Ferry and D. Girard hit singles while B. Coy hit a double. M. Bohlender did a great job catching and the outfield was tough, holding many hits to just singles.

For the Cards, fine pitching by T. Starkey and J. Harvey halted the Astros with 12 strikeouts. S.

Cardinals 3, Astros 0

Darrow, as catcher, and J. Lane, as short stop, did outstanding jobs. Hitting singles were T. Starkey (2), S. Frisinger (2) and S. Darrow. J. Harvey hit a double. Both teams played well and each did a good job hitting the ball.

When a teen-ager opens the refrigerator door to look for a quick snack, a wise mom wants to be sure he or she will find something nutritious as well as satisfying. A loosely-wrapped platter of deviled eggs marked, "Help yourself!", will handle the situation easily and inexpensively.

Farm Museum Offers Potpourri Workshop

Waterloo Farm Museum will present a class entitled, "Potpourri for Many Uses" Saturday, July 24, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Instruction will be provided by Beverly Anderson and class size is limited to 20. There is a $10 fee.

Potpourri—a blend of herbs, flowers and spices brings fragrances into the home. Persons taking part in the workshop will learn and create their own personal potpourri with favorite herbs.

Ideas of pot pourri uses, including sachets, linen sweet bags, bath sachets, moth preventives and dream pillows, will be explored.

The instructor is a long time student of herbs and teaches college classes in herb lore, herb crafts and herb propagation. Supplies will be available at extra cost for additional pot pourri. There is no material fee.

Waterloo Farm Museum is located three miles west of the Village of Waterloo. The Farm Museum is the only one of its kind in Michigan and is on the National Register of Historical Places. Started and maintained by volunteers, it has been an ongoing project for 17 years. The farm house, barn, log house and outbuildings, plus the Dewey Country School have been restored and furnished to demonstrate how people lived from the period of 1855-1895.

This potpourri course is just one in a series of workshops discovering Early American arts and crafts.

The majority of classes and workshops are available to adults ages 16 and older. Children, ages 11-15, may enroll in the adult classes if they are accompanied by an adult. Registration, refunds, cancellations of classes, and the like is made through the Community Education office, 475-9830.

Some say that a garment worn inside out will bring good luck.

Misfits II Win 2 Bowling Tourneys

Misfits II, a Chelsea women's bowling team, scored two tournament victories this year. The team, comprised of captain Virginia Wheaton, co-captain Betty Kies, Barbara Robinson, Kathy Haywood and Bonnie Basso, won the Chelsea Tournament of Champions.

With Jeannie Hafner as their fifth bowler, they then outscored 227 other teams to capture the 45th annual Ann Arbor Women's Bowling Association City Tournament held this year at Maplewood Lanes, Saline. The team bowled in the Leisure Time League at Chelsea Lanes, where they finished the regular season in third place.

The non-sponsored team entered the City Tournament with a 741 team average. They bowled 223 pins over average during the first week of the tournament in May and held on for 18 days to capture first place by three pins. Teammates contributed three 500 series and a 200 game to their 3,058 handicapped total.

Two Chelsea Students Attending Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp

Attending Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp for the first summer session are two Chelsea students, Randal Hafner, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hafner of 19681 Old US-12, and Jeffrey Mason, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mason of 2000 South Lake.

The pair, studying band and theater, respectively, are taking part in the June 29 to July 11 session.

Blue Lake, which will host approximately 3,850 elementary through high school students this summer, offers instruction in a wide variety of fine arts.

Located 15 miles north of Muskegon in the Manistee National Forest, the 16-year-old summer school of the arts has grown to be one of the largest facilities of its type in the United States.

Students attending Blue Lake's first two-week session have the option of majoring in art, band, dance, jazz ensemble, orchestra, organ, piano and theater. The second session is primarily for junior high students.

Little League Results

Angels 22, A's 6

Larry Nix didn't have any trouble taming Fred Zuelke's A's as they went on to defeat them by a score of 22-6. The A's jumped out in front as C. Zuelke led off with a single. Dave Kvarnberg homered with a single. M. Schweiger hit two runs as did T. Thurkow.

Nix then got control of the game as he pounded out 11 runs in the second inning. Hitting singles for the Angels were J. Boyer, T. Draper, S. Marentay and J. Prentice. Eric Weber and Scott Brugh did excellent work while fielding.

Scott Marentay hit back to back home runs.

Indians 6, Royals 2

Stan Morseau's Indians kept rolling along in Little League action, defeating Stan Starkey's Royals, 6-2 last week.

Hitting singles for the Indians were Jr. Morseau (2) and Eric Hammer with two. Then, in the fourth inning, Rick Finch hit a double and also a triple.

Steve Evert made a great play to stop a rally by the Indians in the second inning. Jeff Marshall cut a runner down at the plate, unassisted.

Rob Finch threw out two men at second to end a Royal rally. Over-all the Indians completely tamed the Royals by the end of the sixth inning. The Indians lead the league with 5 wins and no losses.

A's 14, Yankees 11

The bats were booming and the runs were scoring as Fred Zuehke's A's went on to defeat Phil Weis' Yankees. The Yanks could never get ahead even though their defense was played aggressively by C. Ferry, D. Adams, B. Coelius, M. Weis and T. Messnard.

G. Girard hit a single and Tm Messnard and T. Ferry each hit a double.

For the A's, M Schweiger hit two singles while C. Zuehke, S. Emmert and R. Dale each hit one. K. Bell and J. Kosegi each hits doubles. D. Kvarnberg did a fine job pitching, only allowing one run in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. The Yankees made a big mistake in the ball game when they allowed a home run on a bunt.

Royals 10, Angels 7

Stan Starkey's Royals came alive as they defeated Larry Nix's Angels, 10-7. M. Herter, J. Richardson, B. Talbot, J. Collins, J. Marshall and P. Spencer each hit singles for the Royals. Spencer laid down a perfect bunt to first base, scoring a man from third while getting on base himself.

For the Angels, D. Wingrove hit a grand slam homer in the first inning and did an outstanding job in the outfield. S. Salamin also hit a home run in the fifth inning. The Angels tried to rally but the game was called because of curfew.

James Murray Files For State Senate Bid

James Murray, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner and director of the County Building Inspection Department, has announced he will seek the Democratic party nomination for the 18th District State Senate Seat. The seat is currently held by Ed Pierce who is campaigning for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The 18th State Senate District is comprised of all of Washtenaw county except the Township of Saline.

Murray, a self described "pragmatist and problem solver," has served as Drain Commissioner since 1960 when he won election to the post in his first bid for public office.

He states his experience with County affairs and program implementation give him an edge over other Democratic candidates in the Senate race.

Murray also states his work for the county in various capacities over the past five years have made him "aware of the wide variety of interests and concerns" that county residents and local elected officials have regarding state programs, regulations and taxing policies.

He said the concerns range from property taxes, preserva-

Dixboro Festival July 17 Features Varied Activities

The village of Dixboro will burst at the seams as hundreds of people converge on the village green for the sixth annual Dixboro Festival, Saturday, July 17. The day-long slate of activities is sponsored by the Dixboro United Methodist church, adjacent to the festival grounds on Plymouth Rd., three miles east of Ann Arbor.

Theme of the event is "People Helping People" as the proceeds go to the church's missions and other Christian humanitarian work outside the local church.

A 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) "Rural Run" and 2-mile fun run through the surrounding countryside begins the day's events at 8:15 a.m. Both races start near the village green and are open to men and women of all ages. Entrants may obtain a registration form by calling (313) 761-2791 after 5 p.m. or by reporting to the check in desk the day of the races between 6:30 and 8 a.m.

At 1 p.m., an ice cream social and arts and crafts fair begin and assorted carnival game booths open for business.

Pieces of pies and cakes baked by church members will be served along with ice cream and various beverages. The arts and crafts fair includes over 25 displays of hand-made items ranging from woven articles to decorative pieces fashioned from metal.

Between 3-8 p.m., barbecued chicken dinners cooked by parishioners will be served. Each dinner includes half a chicken (quarter size for children), cole slaw, an ear of sweet corn (grown locally) roll and butter plus beverage.

For further information, call Dale Leslie at (313) 663-9551.

Good Things Growing in Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall Sharpen your knives, polish the copper pots, clear your kitchen counters for action. The glory of good things growing in Michigan is about to burst forth in all its magnificent colorful array.

Asparagus from Michigan fields is the advance agent. Then comes a continuing procession of fresh fruits and vegetables—more than 50—count 'em—which will provide fresh eating enjoyment until after the frosts of autumn.

Plan now to visit your local farmer's market at least weekly, or schedule trips to roadside markets and pick-your-own farms. We have just the guide you need. It's the 1982 Country Carousel, a booklet which fits neatly into the glove compartment of your auto, and lists more than 1,000 farms and roadside markets ready to offer you the harvest of Michigan fields and orchards.

Country Carousel has been updated annually and published each of the last 10 years. Each year more farms are listed, each year the consumer demand for this helpful booklet increases. This year we've also made certain all Michigan wineries are listed.

You can save money if you pick your own fresh produce, since you're cutting the farmer's harvesting costs. And you can insure you have the freshest produce available—you'll know when it was picked if you pick it yourself. Consult your cookbooks for ways to preserve all this bountiful harvest, and your family will be patting you on the back next winter when you bring out the home-made jams and jellies, canned and frozen products.

There's an added bonus to all this if you have youngsters. Take them with you to the fields and let them learn how crops are grown, the work our farmers do to feed the nation, the importance of being in tune with nature.

Our Country Carousel listings are alphabetical, by county, so wherever you travel in Michigan you'll know what's available. Information included for each listing are directions for getting there, products available, dates and hours of operation. Also included is the farm telephone number, and that's important. If you want to pick a case or two of produce, call before your trip to be sure the crop is ready for harvest. Sometimes all the ripe produce has been picked, and it may be a few days before more of the crop has ripened. You can save yourself disappointment if you call ahead.

Michigan's great agricultural bounty is being spread out for your enjoyment and your nourishment. Enjoy it this summer, preserve it for winter, and give thanks to the farmers who make it possible for all of us in America to feed our families economically.

You can get your copy of Country Carousel by writing the Communications office, Michigan Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 30017, Lansing 48909, or pick up a copy at the nearest highway travel information center, a branch AAA office, a Travel bureau office, or your local cooperative extension office.

Chelsea Community Hospital Wants You To Know About...

Vitamins Needed For Good Health

By Julie N. Say, R.D. Community Nutritionist Chelsea Community Hospital Spring is blossoming and we are preparing the soil for planting. This is the time of year when we think about adding nutrients to the soil for garden vegetables and flowers. I'm often asked about the amounts and types of nutrients humans need for optimal health.

Just as vegetables and flowers require certain nutrients, we too need specific amounts of various nutrients to function properly. Carbohydrates and fat provide calories, and protein is the substance required to build and repair body tissues. Protein can also provide calories to the body. Most of the questions I'm asked about nutrients are directed toward the amounts of vitamins and minerals needed for optimal health. I will be focusing on our vitamin needs, functions, and sources.

Some History... It is important to remember that vitamins (and minerals) have always been in our food. It is their discovery and our knowledge about them that's new. The first steps in the discovery of vitamins began in 1900. Scientists are continuing to develop information about them. Nutritionists and health professionals are now able to provide a great deal of information about vitamins and minerals.

Recommended dietary allowances of most vitamins and minerals have been set in the United States. These RDA's provide for the needs of practically all healthy people in the United States. The recommended dietary allowances are likely to be greater than our personal requirements than below it.

Vitamins... Vitamins are complex chemical compounds which are essential for life and good health.

Vitamin A... Vitamin A is needed for good vision. It forms visual purple, thus promoting healthy eye tissue and adaption to dim light. Vitamin A is also needed for keeping skin and hair healthy. Good sources of Vitamin A include liver, dark green and deep yellow vegetables such as spinach, carrots, milk, butter, and fortified margarine. The R. D. A. for Vitamin A is 4,000 International Units for women, and 5,000 International Units for men. Children require 2,000-3,000 International Units, depending on their age.

Vitamin A is a fat soluble vitamin. This means that it can be stored in your body. If Vitamin A is taken in high doses, toxic levels can occur. Toxicity from excessive amounts of Vitamin A has been reported in children and adults because of the mistaken belief of many people that large amounts of Vitamin A are beneficial. Vitamin A should be taken in high doses only under medical supervision.

Vitamin B Complex... The B Complex group is composed of several vitamins needed for normal functioning of the body. I'll discuss two of these, Thiamine or Vitamin B1, is needed for proper functioning of the nervous system and digestive system. A deficiency of Vitamin B will cause the disease beriberi. Good sources of thiamine include enriched and whole grain breads and cereals, lean beef and pork, liver, and nuts.

Riboflavin or Vitamin B2, promotes healthy skin, eyes, and clear vision and is needed in producing energy within body cells. Good sources of riboflavin include milk, liver, eggs, lean meat, broccoli, and asparagus.

Riboflavin is a water soluble vitamin and can be destroyed by light. Keeping foods containing riboflavin in covered containers and cooking riboflavin rich foods with limited water will assist in retaining riboflavin in the food.

Since the B Complex vitamins are water soluble, they are not stored in the body in large amounts. These vitamins are not, however, totally harmless when self-supplemented in large amounts. High doses of folic acid (one of the B vitamins) can cause seizures in some persons prone to epilepsy.

Vitamin C... Vitamin C is needed to form cementing substances such as collagen, that hold body cells together. Vitamin C is also important for healthy teeth and gums, and it aids in the utilization of iron. Good sources include oranges, grapefruit, tomatoes, cabbage, potatoes, strawberries, melons, broccoli, chard, turnip greens, green pepper, and asparagus.

Vitamin C is also a water soluble vitamin. It becomes weakened by exposure to air, and can be destroyed by heat. When cooking foods high in Vitamin C, use a small amount of water and cook the food quickly.

Presently research does not show that Vitamin C can prevent or cure the common cold. Very high doses of Vitamin C can cause urinary tract stones, nausea, abdominal cramps, and diarrhea. A deficiency of Vitamin C can cause scurvy.

Adults require 45 milligrams of Vitamin C daily which can be received by eating a fresh orange or by drinking 4 ounces of orange juice daily.

Vitamin D... Vitamin D is essential for the development and health of teeth and bones. Your body is able to produce the vitamin from the sun's rays. Getting Vitamin D from the sun is not easy because clothing and air pollution reduces the number of rays that reach your skin. Good sources of Vitamin D include liver, eggs, and milk fortified with Vitamin D.

Infants, children, adolescents, and pregnant and lactating women need 400 International Units of Vitamin D daily. No dietary recommendation is made for normal, healthy adults because their needs seem to be satisfied by the action of sunlight.

A deficiency of Vitamin D will cause the disease known as rickets. Vitamin D is fat soluble (Continued on page 16) as in Vitamin A, and if taken in large amounts, toxic levels of the vitamin can occur in the body. Vitamin D toxicity will cause calcification of muscle and organ tissues.

Vitamin E... Vitamin E is needed to keep unsaturated oils in their proper form for digestion. Vitamin E also seems to maintain the health of our body tissues. Good food sources of Vitamin E include vegetable oils, wheat germ, milk, eggs, muscle meats, fish cereals, and leafy vegetables. The recommended dietary allowance of 15 International Units for Vitamin E is received by most people because Vitamin E is widely distributed in foods.

There has been a great deal of interest in Vitamin E in recent years. Presently, research has indicated that there is no demonstrated health value in self-supplementation of Vitamin E in amounts in excess of the recommended dietary allowances. Because Vitamin E is a fat soluble vitamin and can be retained in the body, high dosages should not be consumed without medical supervision.

Vitamin K... Vitamin K is necessary for normal blood clotting. Bacteria in our intestines makes approximately 50 percent of the Vitamin K we need. Food sources of Vitamin K include green leafy vegetables such as cabbage, spinach, and kale, and cauliflower. The amount of Vitamin K needed by our bodies is extremely small.

Vitamin K is a fat soluble vitamin and can reach toxic levels in the body if taken in high doses. Any supplementation should occur only under medical supervision.

Meeting Vitamin Needs... How does one receive adequate amounts of vitamins in the diet? First, try to eat a variety of foods; second, follow these guidelines: Include in your daily food choices four or more servings of enriched or whole grain

Larry Steeb Seeking State Rep. Nomination

Larry Steeb of 2962 Birch Hollow, Ann Arbor, has announced that he is a candidate for the 52nd District State House seat that is being vacated by veteran Representative Roy Smith.

The 52nd District includes Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester, Saline, the portion of the city of Milan that is in Washtenaw county, Pittsfield township and a small portion of Ann Arbor.

Steeb, formerly a teacher-coach in Manchester, currently teaches high school government and coaches track and basketball in the Whitmore Lake School District.

Steeb said that he felt that now was the time to run for office because of the need to keep the pressure on in Lansing for property tax reform. He also stated, "In tightening the state budget we must set priorities, it is irresponsible to let our schools decay while we maintain our present welfare system that costs more and delivers less than other Midwest states." Steeb also stated, "Farming is Michigan's second largest business, and has acted as a stabilizer in poor economic times like today. More family farms are closing and more farm land is being lost to ill-planned development. We must work in Lansing to help farmers produce and prosper."

Long active in local politics, Steeb is a former member of the Young Republicans and is active in youth and civic organizations, and was co-founder of the Dexter-Ann Arbor Run and founder of the County Kiwanis Track Meet of Champions.

Steeb is 35, married, and a life-long resident of the Ann Arbor area.

"Because I offer life, health, home and car insurance, I get to know my policyholders and their needs."

Special Awards Made to Graduates at Class Night

At Chelsea High school's Senior Class Night, held during graduation week, more than 60 members of the 1982 graduating class were presented awards and recognition from various universities, honor societies, the military, the Chelsea community and Chelsea High school.

Introduction of the Most Representative Boy and Girl of the senior class was the first presentation made. This year, there were three winners. Ross Murphy was chosen the Most Representative Boy and Cathy Boomus and Amy Unterbrink were chosen the Most Representative Girls.

For the 29th year, two juniors received the American Legion Award. Chosen by their classmates for this honor were Sandy Sundling and David Wojcik.

High school counselors Sue Carter, Gene LaFave and Chris Dimanin introduced more than 30 students who had received scholarships and honors from various institutions of higher learning. It should be noted that many of the awards given by colleges are not monetary awards.

James Sprague, representing the Chelsea Scholarship Committee, announced the recipients of awards from the local scholarship fund. Receiving local awards were Amy Eisenbeiser (Kiwanis), Jean Bury (Modern Mothers), Kristen Burg (Schirmacher Fund), Craig

McLaughlin, Carrie Bruck, Diane Barel, Charles Dalton, James Herter, Laura Hines, Margie Peterson, Phil Powers, Jeff Rowe and Margaret Sweet. Receiving awards for academic excellence were Katharine Ullman, Diane Moller and Kathryn Waldyke.

Mrs. Art Steinaway presented the Steinaway Automotive Scholarship to Don Buckenberger. Mrs. Kutschinski and Mrs. Holmes presented the National Honor Society Scholarships and the Kim Boyd Memorial Scholarships. Recipients were Amy Eisenbeiser (NHS), Cathy Boomus (NHS), Katharine Ullman (NHS), Shelly Weber (NHS), Jeff Hager (Kim Boyd Memorial), and Tracy Bohlander (Kim Boyd Memorial). The Central Treasurer Scholarship was presented to Carol Boyce by Mrs. Visel. Tamara Barbret presented the Senior Choir Award to Connie Dault and she introduced the senior choir members.

The Michigan Honor Trophy was presented by Bob Benedict and the Kiwanis Senior Scholar Athlete Awards were presented to Ross Murphy and Amy Unterbrink. The awards are based upon academic excellence, leadership, and athletic ability.

Amy Unterbrink also received recognition from the Army Reserve Scholar-Athlete Program and from the Carnation All-American Softball Team.

The John Phillip Sousa Award for band was presented to Zack Smith and the Orchestra Award was presented to Katharine Ullman.

Newspaper awards were presented by Mr. Jones to Charles Dalton and Dina Olson. Yearbook awards were presented to Karen Miller and editor Margie Peterson.

Each high school department presented a certificate, a pin and a U.S. Savings Bond to the top student in that academic area. Winners for 1982 were Diane Barels in art, Carol Boyce in business, Katharine Ullman in English, Charity Clemons in home economics, Ken Roskowski in industrial arts, Kathy Waldyke in languages, Diane Moller in math, Cathy Boomus in science, and Carrie Bruck in social studies. Speech awards were presented by Bill Coelius to Phil Powers and William Rosentreter.

The 19 cum laude graduates (over-all A-grade point average) were introduced by Sam Vogel and the program ended with the introduction of the 1982 class officers including Tim Whitesall, president, Karen Kiel, vice-president, Beth Heller, secretary, and Lisa Vandegriff, treasurer.
