ONE HUNDRED-THIRTEENTH YEAR—No. 19

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1982

18 Pages This Week

HOMECOMING QUEEN SANDY SUNDLING was crowned during halftime of the homecoming game against Dexter Friday by Marjorie Peterson, last year's queen. Sundling, 17, is a senior at Chelsea High school and a football cheerleader, as one can tell by her outfit. It was her first time on the homecoming court. She is the daughter of Richard and Sharon Sundling of 14055 Red Barn Circle.

is on the student council, and is vice-president of the senior class. She would like to study computers and engineering in college, but is undecided about where she will go. She's holding a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath, that may be a bit damp from excited tears.

Senior Class, Led by Sherry Sundling, Wins Homecoming Honors

The senior class won the inter-class homecoming rivalry last week with different contests such as dress-up days, powderpuff games, and Volkswagen stuffs.

And one of their senior class candidates for homecoming queen, Sandy Sundling, was crowned as the new queen by Marjorie Peterson, the 1981 queen at half-time of a very satisfactory homecoming football game. (Chelsea defeated Dexter, 36-0.)

The sophomore class took second, the freshmen third, and the juniors fourth in the contest which began with powderpuff football games Oct. 4, 1980's dress-up day.

The seniors beat the sophomores, 14-0, and the juniors beat the freshmen, 22-0. The seniors also won the tug-of-war and the tricycle race.

The seniors beat the juniors, 12-6, in the powderpuff finals Oct. 5, which was Western dress-up day. Both the seniors and the freshmen squashed 20 persons into a Volkswagen. The sophomores and juniors only managed 19. The juniors won the water balloon toss.

Steve Fleischmann won girls' hush day, with seven pins. This meant he got seven girls to talk to him on Wednesday, preppy day.

But Tammi Mullaly got 10 boys to talk to her Thursday, boy's hush day and punk dress-up day.

"You've got to catch the guys off guard," said Kim Forner, a senior who got six pins. "I planned a safety pin on one guy's shirt in the morning when he got to school, and asked him, 'How's that?' He looked down and said, 'Fine.' So I had his pin."

A sophomore won the speed dressing contest at Friday's pep rally. Blindfolded boys had to put on a girl's blouse, sweater, skirt and shake pom-poms. The blindfolded girls had to put on a boy's shirt, football shoulder pads, a jersey, and football pants.

The sophomores won the class skit with a game show, and they also won the 10-person speed pyramid building contest.

The seniors won "battle cry," a contest to see which class could cheer most loudly.

Other members of the homecoming court were senior, Venus Roberts; juniors, Shelley Wheaton and Sue Young; sophomores, Tami Schanz and Tonya Yost; and freshmen Cindy Kvarnberg and Chandy Hurd.

Discussion Slated Friday on Water Quality at Lakes

Huron River Watershed Council has scheduled a lecture and discussion session at the Dexter Township Hall on Friday, Oct. 15 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Speaking at the session will be Barry Johnson, Public Health Engineer at the Washtenaw County Health Department; Mike Morehouse, Washtenaw County Health Department Sanitarian; Bob Barnes, Consulting Engineer for the Hamburg Township Health Department; Lisa Crofts, Livingston County Health Department Sanitarian; and Larry Prior, Environmental Health Director for the Livingston County Health Department.

The meeting was called to provide area residents with a better understanding of water quality in the lakes area as well as the overall concerns of preserving that quality.

Lake riparians as a group are typically interested in the quality and aesthetics of the lake they reside on. There is, of course, a lot at stake since frontage on a lake of poor quality does not provide the amenities as the same amount of frontage on a lake of good quality.

The residents of Portage and Baseline Lakes have for some time devoted their time and effort to monitoring their lakes and have taken steps to better water quality.

Their interest has motivated other agencies and organizations to carry out further monitoring and study stimulating efforts towards resolving water quality problems.

Recognition of the problem began in 1974 when a report by the Drain Commissioner on Septic Systems in the Portage-Baseline Lake area found many inadequate systems, malfunctions and health code violations. Since then an Inland Lake Self-Help Program was formed in co-operation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Identification of septic systems and algae populations and introduction of a septic snopper resulted in identifying the problem as well as specifically pointing out 16 homes with failing systems around Portage Lake. A similar study of Baseline Lake is also planned.

The problems which the Health Department sees at Portage and Baseline Lakes are that the lakes have a high population density and the occurrence of a problem on a property will most likely also affect that property's immediate neighbors.

According to Johnson of the County Health Department, there are failing on-site sewage systems at both lakes, there is a high water table and this high water table is causing problems of water quality at the lakes.

PUNKERS INVADE THE HIGH SCHOOL! John Williams, Chelsea High school principal, looks like he's going to have trouble with this batch of students. Actually it was just part of homecoming spirit. Thursday was a day of trash bag mini-skirts, safety pins in ears, glittered, colored hair, leopard belts, and Mohawk crew cuts.

Each student who dressed up was scoring points for his or her class in the week-long inter-class rivalry, which the seniors won. Punkers, left to right, are Thad Bell, Chat Mullaly, Amy Stock, Claudette Bucholz, Tim Dmoch, Carrie Parkins, Thom Schumann, and Doug Otto.

NCA Accreditation Team Assigned To Rate High School

A team of 18 educators, headed by Don Geiger who is principal of Adrian High school, will visit Chelsea High school Nov. 30-Dec. 2 to make an evaluation under the auspices of the North Central Association (NCA).

According to Chelsea Principal John Williams, NCA teams are composed of educators who volunteer their time and talents in the association's region-wide efforts to help member schools appraise the quality of their programs. Chelsea High school is a member of NCA.

"NCA membership requires every school to undergo a complete evaluation once every seven years," Williams explained. "The evaluation includes a comprehensive self-study by the school, then a review by a team of outside educators."

After the visit, the high school staff will consider the team's recommendations and also those furnished from the school's faculty. The staff will then make plans for the areas of the program that need to be strengthened, and devise a schedule of steps towards improving those areas.

The North Central Association, the nation's largest regional accrediting association, is a voluntary league of 4,300 schools and more than 750 colleges and universities within the 19 states served by the NCA.

Chelsea High school has been accredited by the North Central Association since 1899.

Civic Foundation Committees Will Receive Assignments

Founding members of the Civic Foundation of Chelsea will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20, in the main dining room at Chelsea Community Hospital to approve committees and committee assignments.

George Palmer is president of the foundation.

Police Nab Two Prison Escapees

Chelsea Police Chief Robert F. Aeillo and Sgt. Lenard McDougall captured two escapees from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson Friday afternoon near I-94 Pierce Rd. exit about two miles west of Chelsea.

Back in custody are Allen Smith, 45, serving a term for kidnapping, and John Pack, 35, imprisoned for rape.

Sgt. McDougall was driving back to Chelsea on I-94 after attending a training program in Lansing and, aware of the "wanted" bulletin, spotted two men walking along the freeway near the Pierce Rd. exit.

He pulled over in his "semi-marked" car (a former police car now used for other official village business), and the two men ran. One went west, the other climbed a fence into the Chrysler Proving Ground.

Sgt. McDougall radioed for assistance, and Aeillo, three sheriff's cars, a conservation officer and a Sheriff's Department helicopter responded.

While cruising the area and on the lookout, Aeillo spotted the two fugitives hiding under some bushes close to where McDougall had first seen them. They had managed to get back together after running in separate directions.

Half Day Tomorrow for High School

Chelsea High school students will get half a day off from school tomorrow so that members of the high school staff can finish self-study reports, Principal John Williams announced today.

Classes will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. There will be no buses running, so students will be expected to provide their own transportation home if they want to leave at 11:30. At the end of the normal school day at 3:10 p.m., buses will pick up students.

The high school media center will be open for quiet study during the afternoon, Williams said, but equipment will not be available for student use.

Absentee Ballots Available

Absentee ballots are available from township and city (but not village) clerks to voters who expect to be away from home and unable to vote in person during the Nov. 2 general election.

Voters wishing absentee ballots must obtain them in person or by mail in the township or city where they reside. Deadline for applications is 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 30.

Voted ballots must be returned to the clerks by 8 p.m. on election day.

As an option to an absentee ballot, voters who expect to be away on election day may vote in person at clerk's offices until 4 p.m. Nov. 1.

Absentee ballots may be used by persons aged 60 or older and by handicapped persons unable to get to the polls without assistance, as an alternative to in-person voting.

Halloween Observance Set for Oct. 31

Halloween in Chelsea will begin with trick-or-treating 4:30 to 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 31.

Judging for the Kiwanis Halloween parade is tentatively set to begin at 6 in the municipal parking lot and continue until the parade starts, which will be sometime between 6:30 and 7 p.m.

The goblins, ghosts, movie stars, and Smurfs will leave the parking lot towards Middle St., down one block of Main St. to Park St. and back to the parking lot.

There they will have cider and donuts, and costume prizes will be given out.

Planning Comm. Will Review Site Plan, Zoning Request

Chelsea Village Planning Commission will review the revised site plan for the North American Exploration office building and set the date for the public hearing for the re-zoning application for Tregets Tool & Engineering Co. at 20076 Old US-12 W. at their meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

The commission tabled approval of North American's site plan at their last meeting until they had more information about drainage on the lot, across from Pierce Park on Main St.

School Enrollment Total Declines 87

Enrollment in the Chelsea school district as of the fourth Friday, Oct. 1, is 87 students less than last year's fourth Friday count.

Chelsea is an off-formula school, which means it supports itself primarily from property taxes instead of depending heavily on state aid on the basis of the fourth Friday count.

The drop is important to long-range planning. The school district had predicted a very similar enrollment, 2,270. Since 1978 the teaching force is down by 10 teachers; when teachers leave the district or retire, they are not replaced. Three bus routes have been dropped.

The drop is spread evenly through the different schools. Enrollment at Chelsea High school is 814, (837-1981); at Beach Middle school, 598, (814-1981); North school, 376, (831-1981); and South school, 484, (517-1981).

The fourth grade enrollment is down 38 students total in both schools, but the kindergarten class is good-sized, says schools superintendent Raymond Van Meer. At this point it's hard to tell what impact that fourth grade dip will have, and whether it just represents the bottoming out of the declining enrollment trend.

Kindergarten enrollment this year is 140, not a significant drop from last year's 142 in that grade. This year's first grade has 143 students, again an insignificant drop from last year's 145. Enrollment in second grade did increase to 140 from last year's 135.

Drugs Stolen from Hospital Pharmacy

Drugs with an estimated value of $800—which translates to at least three times that amount when sold "on the street"—were stolen from the Chelsea Medical Center pharmacy on Sunday, Oct. 3.

The pharmacy is located in the basement of the Medical Center's main building.

Chelsea Police Chief Robert F. Aeillo said the theft was discovered by a hospital security officer, Hubert Heard, who found the pharmacy door pried open at 9:45 p.m. The break-in had occurred sometime after 6 p.m., when employees left and locked the pharmacy.

The stolen drugs included cocaine, morphine and valium. The hospital priced the lost materials at $800, and Aeillo said they could be resold to drug-users for three times as much.

The burglary is under investigation, and several leads are being checked out, Aeillo said, but no arrests have been made.

Opposition Surfaces on Due-On-Sale Proposal

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and groups representing home sellers, builders and lenders have opened a campaign against a proposal to ban due-on-sale clauses in mortgages.

But the chairperson of the campaign committee said the effort will not be so much directed to the issue of the clauses—which is popular among home buyers able to assume low-interest mortgages—as it will against other features of Proposal C, particularly an extension of the redemption period on mortgage foreclosures.

Sharon Kellogg, a Lansing realtor, said extending the redemption period for all types of loans, to 48 months from 6 months "will put up a credit wall around Michigan."

She said out-of-state lenders will not want to invest money in Michigan under that kind of restriction. The proposal would extend the redemption to 48 months only if a court overturns the ban on due-on-sale and when foreclosure is then based on the due-on-sale clause and the lender has not shown the new buyer is a greater credit risk.

Kellogg said the long-range impact of the proposal would hurt homeowners and buyers because of the likelihood of boarded up homes during the redemption time. Lenders would be hurt because they cannot collect any money during that time, she added.

Besides the chamber, the Committee to Save Michigan Homeowners is backed by the Michigan Association of Realtors, the Michigan Home Builders Association and the Michigan Savings and Loan Association and the Michigan Bankers Association.

Mortgage holders began trying to enforce due-on-sale clauses as interest rates skyrocketed and they were left holding old low-interest contracts assumed by new buyers.

But Sandy Eichenhorn of the Consumers Committee to Protect Mortgage Rates, who led the petition drive to place the initiative on the ballot, denied the proposal would cause credit markets to dry up, saying lenders would be protected by the provision against transfers of property when the lender's security interest would be impaired.

She said homes are not selling well, in part, because of lender abuse of due-on-sale clauses.

Rail Subsidies Approved By Transportation Commission

The Transportation Commission has approved one-year subsidies for Michigan's two major rail freight lines.

The commission's contract for the state's primary rail line, the Ann Arbor, went to the Cadillac-based Michigan Northern Rail Company and the Tuscola Saginaw Bay Railway, as recommended by the State Department of Transportation.

The $270,000 contract for at least twice weekly service from Ann Arbor to Frankfort was favored over a proposal by Michigan Interstate and the Kent, Barry and Eaton Railway.

Michigan Interstate has operated the line for several years, but is engaged in a dispute with the state over the amount of subsidy and had signed an agreement with KBE for operation of the line north of Ann Arbor.

The approved subsidy for the line compares to $3.4 million contract to operate the 251-mile Comstock Potoskey line (including a Traverse City Branch).

Last year's subsidy was $1.4 million.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

A few weeks back the papers ran a picture of a couple of U.S. Senators having lunch on food found in garbage cans around Washington. They were talked into the stunt, I recall, by a group wanting to show how wasteful folks are that have more than they can eat, but they just as easy could be setting an example for them that's out of work, out of luck and trying to keep somepon on the table. Whatever the reason, I would of thought a Government that won't let a feller feed his own slop to his own folks has got laws agin feeding everybody's garbage to people.

In any event, Mister Editor, it seems since then we have had a run on scavenger stories. One I recollect was on this feller that has furnished his house with stuff from the dump. Another told how wimmen scrounge overripe fruit and discolored vegetables for their families from them Dumpsters behind big chain grocery stores. I saw a item just the other day about folks gitting firewood from a landfill where the telephone company had hauled it after clearing right of way. It all goes to show, I reckon, that one man's trash really is another man's treasure, and the tighter the times the truer this is.

I mentioned at the country store Saturday night that it looked to me like they ought to have health laws fer after food is thrown away as well as while it's being growed and processed. But Bug Hookum pointed out that we needn't feel to sure about rules that deal with such as the percent of rat droppings allowed in sawsage. Besides, Bug said, the Reagan Administration has showed us with its changes in environment laws that rules can be relaxed to fit any situation.

Practical speaking, Bug went on, food is where you find it. He recalled his sister's son that served in Korea telling about his outfit feeding leftovers to dogs that hung around their mess tent. After a couple of weeks the muts would git plump and disappear sudden. When he was in a nearby village he ask one of the elders about the stray dogs. The old man smiled and said "bow wow No. 1 chop chop." One story out of Vietnam was that folks couldn't figger why Americans wanted to help them git rid of rats they found delicious.

Clem Webster was full agreed with Bug. He said his old lady says he is on a seafood diet, any food he sees he eats. Clem said that reminded him he ain't heard anything lately from the man-eating fish in that Arizona lake. Somebody dumped five full-grown South American piranhas in the lake back in May, Clem said, and fish and game people are worried about who is going to eat who. There was talk of draining the lake, Clem said, and he's fer it. We got killer bees, fruit flies, beetles, kudzu, fire ants, not to mention flu, measles and worst ailments, all courtesy of other countries, Clem went on, and we don't need fish that eat folks instead of vice verser. If we want to solve our disposal problems by recycling everything, including food, that's one thing, he said, but inviting everybody else's troubles is another.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Talking it Out With JOHN W. MITCHELL Owner-Director Staffan-Mitchell FUNERAL HOME

WITH A WILL — THERE'S A WAY
If you own anything—a car, house, savings account, anything with monetary value—you should have a will.
With a will, you save your loved ones considerable time and money in the handling of your estate. Further, you are assured that your estate will not be executed by strangers, but by people you know and trust.
How do you make a will? First, see your lawyer. It's not all that expensive for most estate planning. He has the forms, knows the requirements of the state, and probably enough of your personal affairs to help in preparing for future management of your estate.
You may change your will whenever and however you wish. The important thing is to get started and to do it right way.
You may also include provision for funeral arrangements as part of the will. We can provide counseling without obligation on this aspect of your will, but only this particular way.
We welcome your questions and comments—privately or publicly, through this column.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lloyd Grau

Kathy Ann Trinkle, Daniel Grau Speak Vows in Dexter Church

Kathy Ann Trinkle and Daniel Lloyd Grau were married 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 25 at St. Andrew's United Church of Christ, Dexter.

The Rev. John Sunburn officiated at the ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trinkle of Dexter and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grau of Chelsea.

The bride wore a white lace gown, which featured a Queen Anne neckline trimmed in delicate lace and pearls. The gown had a pleated skirt and a chapel-length train. The hat was accented with delicate lace and pearls.

The matron of honor was the bride's cousin, Beverly Fiegel of Ann Arbor. She wore a peach floor-length gown with a matching jacket.

Bridesmaids were Kim Wolf of Dexter, Betsy Ball of Chelsea, Tammie Trinkle of Dexter, and Rita Trinkle of Dexter.

Flowergirl was the bride's niece, Julie Trinkle of Dexter. Daniel Koengeter of Chelsea, a cousin of the bridegroom, served as ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore a rose floor-length dress with chiffon sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise floor-length dress with matching lace jacket.

Best man was Mark Lesser of Chelsea. Ushers included Dan Trinkle of Chelsea; the bridegroom's brothers, Steve and Matt Grau of Chelsea; and David Diuble of Ann Arbor.

The reception was held at the Dexter Knights of Columbus Hall.

A honeymoon to Florida is being planned in the winter.

The couple is residing at 12990 Old US-12, Chelsea.

N. Lake Co-Op Nursery School Off to Good Start

School officially opened for North Lake Co-op Nursery Sept. 13 and 14 with much excitement and anticipation. Thanks to advance planning and work by many great co-op parents and teacher, a smooth beginning to the school year has taken place. Children are already quite comfortable and eager learners.

Planning committees have begun planning for fund raisers for fall and spring. Party planners are busy working on Halloween and even Christmas events already. Field trips, as well, are on the calendar for the children.

The 1982-83 school year is off to a terrific start.

Stress Control Workshop Series Starts Oct. 21

Chelsea Church Women United and the Family Practice Center are again offering a Stress Control Workshop to the Chelsea community at a reasonable fee. The Rev. Robert Weikart, pastoral counselor at the Family Practice Center, will lead a five-week workshop on Thursdays from Oct. 21 to Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. The group will meet in the upstairs educational wing of the United Methodist church, Park St. Church Women United will be offering scholarships to people who can't afford the cost and would like to attend.

Checks may be made out to Chelsea Church Women United. Registration and payment will be at the beginning of the first session.

Call 475-1321 and ask for Diane if you have any questions about the workshop.

This workshop is offered to help people learn how to handle stress and avert stress-related illnesses.

Altar Society Hears Talk on Herbs in Cooking

St. Mary's Altar Society learned about herbs from Jane LaRue, a guest speaker, at their October meeting.

She talked about herbs in cooking, passed out recipe sheets, and goodies she had made herself so all could taste.

Following the regular business meeting, refreshments were served by Beth Forner, Janet Salyer, and Barb Robinson.

The next meeting will be held 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 8 in the parish rectory basement. All ladies of the parish are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel James Rosentreter

Karen Popovich, D. Rosentreter Married In Outdoor Ceremony

Karen Marie Popovich and Daniel James Rosentreter were married at 5 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 21 at Park Lyndon South, North Territorial Rd.

The Rev. Marvin H. McCullum of First United Methodist church of Chelsea officiated at the outdoor ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. Charles Popovich and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, and the son of Mrs. Irla Rosentreter and the late John Rosentreter.

Doug Beaumont and Paula Haist sang "Color My World," "Endless Love," and "You Decorated My Life" for the ceremony and were accompanied by Harold Allen on guitar and Lisa Hurd on flute.

The bride wore a white silk gown, designed and made by her mother. It featured a French illusion yoke and cuffs, a high-standing collar accented with picot lace trim, a fitted bodice with bishop sleeves, and a flared skirt.

The bride's headpiece was a circle of silk lilies of the valley and ivy. She carried an arrangement of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was Joanne Walz, the bride's sister, of Pinckney. She wore a rainbow-striped dress of handkerchief linen, with a square neckline, bell sleeves, a full skirt and a white underskirt and sash. She wore white daisies in her hair and carried white daisies with rainbow colored ribbon.

Bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Donna Popovich of Chelsea; the bride's sister-in-law, Dovie Popovich of Saline; and the bride's niece, Brandy Stanley of Pinckney. Their dresses were similar to the matron of honor's dress but with underskirts and sashes of blue, green and pink. They carried daisies colored to match their gowns.

Flower girl was Jennifer Popovich, the bride's niece, of Saline. She wore a rainbow dress with a yellow underskirt and carried a basket of yellow daisies.

The bride's mother also made the honor attendants' dresses.

Best man was John Rosentreter, the bridegroom's brother, of Chelsea. Groomsmen included the bridegroom's brother, Bob Rosentreter of Chelsea, and David Smith and Matt Smith of Chelsea, both brothers of the bride. The ring-bearer was the bride's nephew, Blake Stanley, of Pinckney.

A reception followed the ceremony at the American Legion Hall in Stockbridge. Denise Rosentreter, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served the cake.

The first wristwatch of which there is any record dates from 1790, and is itemized in the accounts of the Swiss watchmakers Jaquet-Droz and Leschot of Geneva as "a watch to be fixed on a bracelet."

Two from Area Attend General Assembly of NCCW

The leadership of the National Council of Catholic Women (NCCW) met in General Assembly at Hyannis, Mass., Oct. 4-7. Mrs. Ralph Meemer of Metamora, Ill., presided.

The theme of this assembly, "Called and Gifted," challenged the 200 participants to an increased involvement in the programs sponsored by the Commissions of this Federation. These include focusing on Family Life, Spiritual Development, Community and International involvement through specific programs of nuclear disarmament, care of refugees by assisting in resettlement programs, the seeking of public office, expanding involvement of multi-cultural groups in our membership, and developing Christian leaders.

The Assembly was hosted by the Fall River Diocesan Council of Catholic Women and the Most Reverend Daniel A. Cronin of Fall River, Mass. Keynote speaker was the Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Lynch, of the United States Catholic Conference, Department of Education.

Major workshops were presented by Richard McCord, director, Division of Family Ministry, Archdiocese of Baltimore, on "The Steps of Growth in Leadership," and Sister Pat Kowalski, O.S.M., executive director of Communication Secretariat of the Diocese of Patterson, N.J., on "Image and Reality Through Communications and Public Relations."

Position Papers on Aging and Human Rights, previously endorsed by the NCCW Executive Committee, were ratified by the Assembly at the closing session.

Mass on Monday evening was celebrated in St. Francis Xavier church, where Mrs. Rose Kennedy worships.

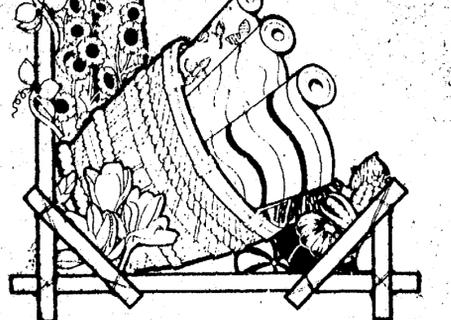

Mrs. Marvin Kirk of Manchester, vice-president of Lansing Diocesan Council of Catholic Women (LDCCW) and Mrs. Leon Chapman of Chelsea, immediate past-president (LDCCW) accompanied other Michigan delegates from Gaylord, Kalamazoo and Lansing Diocese.

A bit of sightseeing was included to Sandy Point, Hyannis Port and a stop at the National Shrine of the North American Martyrs, Auriesville, N.Y.

Denver, Colo., will be the site of the National Convention in 1983.

Board of Health To Meet Oct. 15 at Dexter Twp. Hall

During the coming year, the Washtenaw County Board of Health will hold several of its regular meetings at sites outside of Ann Arbor. The Board, seeking input from community members regarding health issues, is attempting to make the meetings more accessible to all county residents in the out-county area.

The October meeting of the Board will be held in the Dexter area on Friday, Oct. 15 at 9 a.m. at the Dexter Township Hall. A presentation on the Portage Lake Study will be made by Health Department staff and time will be set aside for public discussion. The business portion of the meeting will follow. All interested area residents are invited to attend.

School Board Briefs

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 4 were Feeney, Schumann, Snyder, Dils, Grau, Comeau, Heller, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Wojcicki, Benedict, Community Education Director Rogers, Athletic Director Nemeth, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Ann Feeney. Board approved the minutes of the Sept. 20, meeting.

Melanie Lee, high school student, addressed the Board about student opposition to the current attendance policy. Specifically, Melanie indicated that students, although agreeing that class attendance is important and that the policy encourages attendance, oppose that portion of the policy which allows a loss of points regardless of the reason for absence (except in the case of school-related functions). Principal John Williams will report on this matter at the next Board meeting.

High School Counselor Chris Dimanin reviewed the high school's job shadowing program. Job shadowing is on-site job experience to help students make career choices. Principal Williams apprised the Board that Chelsea's program, which is one of four exemplary high school programs, will be featured at the state principals' convention in Detroit in December.

Assistant Superintendent Mills presented the Board with the administration's five-year maintenance millage plan. Maintenance millage is a specific levy that can be used only for the repair and renovation of school district facilities. The plan was presented as an information item and, in detail, sketched the expenditure appropriations at each of the building sites. The expenditure appropriations are for such items as painting, floor repairs and covering, sidewalks, parking lot resurfacing, updating outdoor facilities, energy conservation measures, and roof repairs.

The Board approved the following action items:

—Regulations pertaining to the operation of the bus garage.

—1981-82 financial audit as prepared by Curtis, Bailey, Exelby, and Sposito.

—Acceptance, with appreciation, an offer from the Athletic Boosters to provide weight-training equipment valued at $5,000.

—Acceptance, with appreciation, of equipment donated by South School PTS.

—Insurance quote from State Farm Mutual to insure the district's bus fleet and all district vehicles at an annual cost of $10,518.78.

—Superintendent Van Meer announced the official Fourth Friday student enrollment as 2,272. This is a loss of 87 students from the 1981 Fourth Friday. This year's enrollment is: High School, 814; Beach, 598; North, 376; South, 484.

Superintendent Van Meer, in reviewing recent legislation, indicated that the recent Executive Order is now being referred to as a roll-over reduction. The $106,000 which our district will lose is promised to us in June, 1983. Van Meer feels that the district will get the money in June, but that the $106,000 will be deducted from the August and subsequent state-aid payments. The state is never required to appropriate the additional funds, since what they restore in June is deducted in August of every year. The realization of the situation is that school districts are being forced into a budget gimmick of rolling over the payment reduction. The administration will present an amended budget to the Board at the Oct. 18 meeting.

Meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Senior Citizen Center Needs Volunteer Help

Chelsea Senior Citizens needs community volunteers, because sometimes they just do not have enough hands to go around, say nutrition and activities coordinators Arlene Larson and Treva Winans.

Their needs vary from making decorations for bulletin boards, cutting out name tags for parties, telephoning for meal reservations, doing dishes after the large noon-time meal, helping the Sunshine committee make birthday and sympathy cards for seniors, being a companion to a specific person on a trip, or leading a morning fitness or craft class.

Individuals or groups, such as a church group can volunteer, said Mrs. Winans. A group may like to take on a project such as making the monthly birthday cake for the group birthday party, furnishing decks of cards, since the cards wear out so quickly with avid euchre and pinocle players, or to furnish seasonal decorations such as Valentines, spring flowers, or autumn leaves.

The exact number of seniors involved in the many activities is hard to say, said Mrs. Winans, but their monthly newsletter is mailed to more than 1,000 homes. Some in other states use the newsletter to keep up with Chelsea seniors; others are potential users of the program.

Anyone interested in lending a hand may call the center at 475-9242 and ask for either Treva or Arlene.

Escapes Nabbed

McDougall credited the Sheriff's Department helicopter with playing an important role in the arrests. "The chopper flushed them out of the woods to where we could spot them," he said.

The escapees apparently had walked east from Jackson as far as Pierce Rd. during their 12 hours of temporary freedom.

Legal Aid Rep. Will Discuss Use of Small Claims Court

Susan Hartman from Legal Aid will speak on how to use small claims court 11 a.m. Monday, Oct. 18 at the North school senior nutrition site.

One of the essential benefits of arranging a funeral service prior to need is that all of the pertinent decisions may be made logically and intelligently, when you want and how you want. In this way, individual preferences, from the selection of the casket and the burial vault to the choice of flowers, music and other details, may be assured.

We believe it is our professional responsibility to offer families complete information on pre-arranged funerals and pre-paid plans. We do so without cost or obligation to you. To arrange a visit, call or write us at your convenience.

Athletic Boosters Give Gift of Weight Training Equipment

The Chelsea Athletic Boosters' proposed donation of $5,000 weight training equipment, approved at the school board's Oct. 4 meeting, is the first large donation by a group to come under the board's new policy on donations passed in June.

Any donation or fund raiser by a community or school group for something worth more than $1,000 must have prior school board approval, said Ron Nemeth, the athletic director who chaired the 10-month fund raising review committee. Donations under $1,000 must have prior approval from that school's principal.

Prior approval means the school board can tell a community group "Yes, what you want to give us has a use, and the district would like to have this gift," said Nemeth, instead of getting a gift which may be more of a burden because of expensive repairs.

Prior school board approval does not obligate a group to give that gift, he said. The boosters can change their mind at their Oct. 20 meeting.

Nemeth got approval for the equipment, which had been discussed by the boosters, before they made their final decision, to save time between the board's and the boosters' meeting schedule lags.

Mothers Against Drunk Drivers will hold a session on court monitoring Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the County Sheriff's Dept. on Hogback Rd. Anyone interested in court monitoring or M.A.D.D. is welcome. Call 428-3216 for more information.

Police Report Reflects Economic Downturn

Crimes reflecting the current bleak economic situation are continuing to increase, Chelsea Police Chief Robert F. Aello said in commenting on the statistics in his monthly report for September to the Village Council.

"We are receiving more complaints of insufficient-funds checks, more instances of persons driving away from self-serve gasoline pumps without paying, more larcenies (thefts)," Aello told The Standard. "I am sure these trends are a sign of the times."

In general, Aello's report for September reflected about the same level of activity as for the previous month. For example, there were 263 police radio runs in September as compared to 267 in August. Patrol car miles driven were down slightly.

The department made 10 arrests (other than for traffic and parking violations) during September. Only one involved a felony—an escape from the Cassidy Lake Technical School. The others were misdemeanors, and four involved juveniles.

There were 11 reported traffic accidents, 72 traffic violations issued, and 90 parking tickets written.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Where have all the pheasants gone?

That's a good question to ask in advance of the Oct. 20 opening date of what Department of Natural Resources biologists are predicting will be the poorest pheasant hunting season in Michigan in 50 years.

If you are as old as I am and have hunted all your life, you can remember the glory days of the 1940's and 50's when Michigan hunters regularly harvested more than a million cock pheasants a year. If you didn't get your limit in most of those years, it was because you couldn't shoot straight. The birds were there.

True, there were occasional bad seasons back then. Always, those off-years related to cold, wet springs when pheasant nests were flooded out and broods were chilled and drowned. Ninety percent of the fall pheasant crop is made up of young birds hatched the previous spring. There is little winter carry-over, just enough to provide breeding stock for the next year. That is true of almost all wildlife species. Very few wild creatures die of old age.

Back during those good old days, pheasants invariably bounced back if given a decent spring nesting weather chance. But, along about 1960, a trend of decline set in and has continued to the point where even seeing a ringneck is a rare experience today.

So, what has happened?

Professional wildlife managers have put the blame mostly on modern agricultural practices—so-called clean farming. The best land for pheasants is also the best land for crops. Given today's mixed bag of agricultural values—high land costs, low crop prices, high interest rates, low profits per acre—farmers cannot afford to let any land stand idle. They must farm intensively in order to stay in business.

That means the little bits of cover—fence rows, ditch banks, swales, swamps, dry marshes, woodlots—have had to go. Every inch of land that can be cultivated and cropped has had to be converted to that purpose because of economic pressures. Moreover, a modern farmer cannot afford the luxury of a weedy cornfield, a paradise for pheasants. Weeds compete with plants that bring in cash, so the weeds have to go, and herbicides are applied to kill them.

Pheasants must have cover, especially in winter. They are tough, hardy birds, capable of surviving as long as 30 days without food so long as they have shelter against cold and wind, snow and sleet. Without cover, pheasants can't make it. They die after a few hours of open exposure to harsh winter weather.

The best of Washtenaw county's pheasant range used to be in the southeastern quadrant, down toward Saline and Milan. That is where I did most of my hunting back in the good old years. A couple of winters ago I drove the back roads in the Saline-Milan area following a heavy snowfall. The experience was eye-opening. There simply was not enough cover sticking up above the snow to hide a field mouse, let alone a pheasant.

No wonder the birds are gone, and that there is little prospect they will ever come back unless there is an unexpected shift back to old-time agriculture.

Since returning to Washtenaw county two months ago from the Lansing area where I had lived for the past 18 years, I have looked at a lot of country hereabouts that used to be good hunting. Much of it is now subdivisions, shopping centers and parking lots. Briarwood Mall sits square in the middle of what once was excellent pheasant territory. So does a subdivision ironically named Pheasant Run. A pheasant would have to run awfully fast through it to keep from being hit by a car or blistering its feet on the pavement.

Thus it is easy to accept the biologists' explanation that a lot of formerly good pheasant habitat has been lost to economic development.

But I have also driven around and looked over much of western Washtenaw, which never was "great" for pheasants but did harbor birds in moderate numbers, enough so that hunting them was worthwhile. I can't count exactly the number of cocks that I bagged in the Dexter-Chelsea area over the years, but it was considerable. The area was especially good late in the season because it hadn't been hunted hard and the birds weren't as spooky as in the more popular places.

Maybe my older eyes are deceiving me, but western Washtenaw's pheasant country looks about the same to me as it did 20 years ago. Perhaps because the land is not as productive for agriculture as that to the east, it has not been so intensively farmed. There is still a lot of cover for wildlife intermixed with crop fields.

Yet, there are few pheasants today where there used to be quite a few, and I have to wonder why. Is there some other element besides clean farming and habitat loss responsible for Michigan's drastic pheasant decline?

I suspect there is, and have a hunch the cause may eventually be traced to some chemical being applied on the land to kill insects or weeds, such as DDT was identified as the culprit in the near-total loss a few years ago of eagles, ospreys, pelicans and robins. (All, fortunately, have come back since DDT was taken off the market.) I further suspect the problem is an interference with reproduction, as DDT was.

Michigan has experienced some severe winters in late years, but they haven't been bad enough to kill pheasants in places where cover is available. And recent past springs have not been all that bad for pheasant nesting, hatching and rearing.

There is something else going on.

4-H Youth To Receive Don Johnson Scholarship

Kim Bristle, daughter of Karen and Steve Bristle of Manchester and Leonard McCalla, Jr., son of Jan and Leonard McCalla of Chelsea, will be the recipients of the 1982 4-H Don Johnson Memorial Scholarship. Both 4-H members were selected on the basis of their involvement and leadership in the 4-H program.

Kim is presently a sophomore at Michigan State University and studying food systems management. Kim was a 4-H member for nine years. Her project areas were clothing, dairy, modeling, dance, demonstrations, foods, crafts, home design, softball, dairy cattle judging and involvement in the Teen Leader's Association.

Leonard is presently a freshman attending Central Michigan University and majoring in Agricultural Engineering. Leonard's involvement with 4-H included woodworking, softball, swine, poultry, and vegetable gardening. Leonard was also involved with teen activities.

Historical Society Honors O. Titus' Work

Chelsea Area Historical Society honored one of its former members, the late Otis Titus, with the following resolution recorded in the society's minutes for its Sept. 13 meeting.

WHEREAS OTIS TITUS, who resided at 710 Taylor St. in the Village of Chelsea, had been a member of the Chelsea Historical Society since its foundation, and

WHEREAS, he was an active historian of the Chelsea area for many years prior to his membership in the Society, devoting untold hours researching the history of homes and buildings in the area, and

WHEREAS his extensive research into the history of the Welfare Building resulted in it being placed on the State Register of Historical Sites, and

WHEREAS his work will have lasting results and is a permanent addition to the history of the area,

NOW THEREFORE, the Chelsea Area Historical Society, at its meeting on Sept. 13, 1982, does hereby memorialize him and honor his contributions, and further hereby records its loss on this Oct. 8, 1982, the first anniversary of his passing.

In Fiscal 1981, small businesses realized a before-tax profit of 4.6 cents per sales dollar and an after-tax profit of 2.6 cents per sales dollar. The comparable figures for Fiscal 1980 were 4.2 cents and 4 cents.

THERE'S A KNACK TO GETTING A HICKORY NUT HALF. Ward Ernst first makes sure the nut is dry, by setting them in flat trays like on the table for days to weeks. Then he taps the dry nut with a light hammer against the flat iron he is holding in his lap. And with one tap in the right place, he has two perfect halves, shown in the inset to the upper right. He uses those tweezers on the table to pick out shells from the pan of cracked nuts and uses a turkey skewer instead of a nut picker to get meats out of stubborn nuts. He will donate those sealed pint and quart jars of nuts to North Lake church, which sells them as a fundraiser.

Retiree Ward Ernst Just 'Goes Nuts' With Hobby in Fall

If you get more hickory nut shells than hickory nuts in your Christmas cookies and cakes, here are some hints from Ward Ernst, who donates 40 quarts of shelled nuts a year to North Lake church.

Dry nuts shell better, says Ernst, a 70-year-old retired gear-cutter from Iron Bee Tool Co. in Saline, who now lives at North Lake. The time needed depends on the weather. If it has been rainy, expect about two weeks to dry them after they have been hulled. The shell of a wet nut will just mush, he says. Sometimes he can shell them the day after he picks them.

He has an accurate, but hard-to-imitate way of seeing if the nuts are dry. If they make a melodic clunking against each other in his hand when he rattles a few, they are ready.

He covers his lap with a towel, and puts an old flat iron, flat-side up between his knees. Then he hits the nut with a light-weight hammer against the iron, and voila! He has two halves.

"That's it in a nutshell," he puns.

He makes it all look easy, but then he has had a lot of practice. He has been gathering nuts since his children, who have married children, were small. He moved into high gear nut shelling three years ago when he began donating them to the church and his wife Pauline joined when they moved to North Lake.

He gathers the nuts by the roadside all around the county. Although others say this is a bad nut year, Ernst has his usual 10 gallons of shagbark hickory nuts. He agrees it's a bad year for "pig nuts" or smooth barked hickory nuts. Because it was a dry year, he says, the nuts fell off the trees even before the first hard frost.

He hulls the nuts with his fingers and sets them out to dry.

"My wife is pretty patient with my hobby," he says, while looking around the house. Nuts cover the top of a cloth put over the spare bedroom double bed. Trays of nuts are under the television set, under the coffee table, by the fireplace and piano, and under all the chairs.

"But then she gets all the nuts she wants for baking," he says, with a contagious grin. He gives each of his three daughters-in-law a gallon of shelled nuts each for their cooking.

When he has cracked them, he puts them into mason jars and seals them, by putting them into a 250 degree oven for 45 minutes and then gradually cools them. They last for two years after that processing, he says.

When he and his wife make their annual trip to the Florida Keys, he takes the nuts he hasn't finished along with him.

"The car is packed solid with all my hobbies."

He picks up pecans in Georgia on his way down. He also cans salmon, loves to fish, and has a collection of 50-100 jigsaw puzzles.

The church sells the nuts for $5 a pint. Coffee hour last week did a brisk business with his first batch of 12 pints.

Discussion Slated Friday on Water Quality at Lakes

The density of sewage systems also threatens well water supplies. Generally where lots are 10,000 square feet or smaller, there is insufficient area to adequately separate wells from on-site sewage systems. There are many ways a well can be contaminated. The more sewage systems there are close to wells, the greater the chance of contamination.

Concern for water quality on Portage Lake is not new. It has been studied by a variety of agencies over the past 15 years.

The most complete assessment has been conducted by Dr. Eugene Stoermer from the University of Michigan. Dr. Stoermer has regularly assessed algal populations from Portage Lake over the past 10-20 years. His assessment was that water quality has been exceptional, however, water quality has decreased noticeably in the past few years. "Algal populations found in Portage Lake last winter indicated that water quality problems may become critical in the near future. This algae is an indicator of degraded water quality."

High concentrations of this algae cause a variety of problems including reducing the fish populations of a lake. Certain strains of this algae are also able to produce a toxin that causes diarrhea and intestinal disorders in humans.

The Huron River Watershed Council is an organization of local governments interested in promoting the wise and orderly use of the Huron River as a natural resource. In addition to the various other agencies in both Washtenaw and Livingston counties, as well as local lake groups, the Watershed Council hopes to inform lake property owners of possible water quality concerns and problems and assist them in possible solutions and ultimately preserving and enhancing the quality and beauty of the lakes.

Fire Destroys Whitaker Farms Barn

Fire destroyed a barn and its contents at the Whitaker Farms, 18771 Old US-12, on Saturday, Oct. 2.

Lost besides the barn were two self-unloading wagons, two plows, a field sprayer and 20 tons of straw, Grass Lake Fire Chief Walter Thelen reported.

"By the time we got to the scene at 7 p.m. the fire was beyond control," Thelen said, "and all we could do was protect other buildings on the property."

Fire departments from Chelsea, Napoleon and Leoni assisted. Chelsea Fire Chief Paul E. Hankerd said his crew carried water to the scene, adding, "When we arrived the flames were through the roof of the barn and there was no hope of saving it."

Archbishop Trifa Ordered Deported

Romanian Orthodox Church Archbishop Valerian Trifa, whose 35,000-member episcopate is headquartered at Grass Lake, has been ordered to leave the United States on grounds that he was a war criminal during World War II.

Fr. Trifa, 68, received the deportation sentence from Federal Judge Bellino D'Ambrosio of Detroit following a three-day trial of a case that has been in progress for five years.

Fr. Trifa admitted to the court that he had sympathized with Nazi Germany and had been a fascist activist. He further acknowledged that he had misrepresented his past when he came to the United States 32 years ago.

Judge D'Ambrosio ordered Fr. Trifa to get out of the country within 60 days. News reports indicate he may try to go to Switzerland, but faces problems obtaining entry to that nation.

When Fr. Trifa immigrated in the United States in 1950, he claimed he had been confined to Nazi concentration camps. During last week's trial, however, he admitted to having been a member of the German "Iron Guard" and that he had misrepresented other facts about his alleged collaboration with the Nazis.

Fr. Trifa lost his U.S. citizenship in 1960 after a five-year legal battle to keep it. The deportation order is the first in 30 years issued against an alleged Nazi war criminal. More than 200 similar cases are pending against other alleged fascists now residing in this country.

Charges against Fr. Trifa were brought by Jewish spokesmen who claimed his activities during World War II were anti-Semitic and resulted in persecution of Jews.

Building Industry Hits New Low

Michigan's generally poor economic health and the depression in the construction industry are reflected in a report on residential building for the first six months of 1982, issued by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

The report shows that home construction during the January-June period in the seven-county SEMCOG area, which includes Washtenaw county, was at a record low rate, down 68.5 percent from 1981 which was the previous worst year since statistics began to be kept in 1968. Only Monroe county showed a

ONE OF CATS' BIGGEST DAILY STOPS is the senior citizen center at North school. Rides are scheduled so that seniors can come to the center for morning programs, the nutrition lunch program, or for afternoon activities. Viola Knoll, left; Bessie Briegan, Ruth Petsch, Olla Voelm and Alice Mosely, front, ride CATS to the lunch program. CATS is available to seniors, the handicapped, and the temporarily handicapped, such as someone with a broken leg. The bus can accommodate wheelchairs.

CATS Bus Depends on United Way Funding

The mail contributions coming into the United Way campaign in hand this first week of the October campaign startled Bob Porter, campaign chairman.

"The average mail contribution is up 35 percent from last year," he said. He attributes the increase to adding a suggested giving guide to the campaign letter, the first time the Chelsea campaign has tried such a "fair share" approach.

The suggested fair share is one hour of pay contributed per month. If someone made $5 an hour, that would be a annual gift of $60.

The Chelsea United Way campaign supports four Chelsea United Way Agencies.

One of those, the Chelsea Area Transportation System, Inc. (CATS) makes handicapped and senior citizens feel more independent by providing low cost bus transportation.

But it's more than just a good feeling. Arlene Larson, the director of the senior nutrition site at North school, a big daily stop for CATS, says those good feelings also contribute to the seniors' good health.

She has seen CATS customers "blossom," because they can get around, especially to the senior center and be with their peers.

"We had a man who said he didn't know how he would have dealt with his wife's death, if he hadn't been able to come here and talk to people his own age, who could understand his sense of loss."

Ridership on CATS has steadily increased since it began in 1976 with community contributions and federal funding. Ridership has increased from 5,993 riders that first year to a projected figure of more than 8,000 riders for 1983. The total number of miles covered yearly has more than doubled from 8,848 to a projected 1983 figure of 18,600.

Medical appointments get priority for transportation, said David Scriven, the Lions Club's representative to CATS and president of the CATS board. But riders can also use it to go grocery shopping, to the bank, the hairdressers, and for social events such as senior citizens music and art classes and birthday parties at North school.

A CATS ride costs 25 cents one way. The bus is equipped to handle two wheel-chair customers, and six others, or eight non-wheel chair customers. One schedules a ride by calling the CATS number, 475-9494, which is manned by Methodist Home volunteers between 9 to 11 a.m. or between 1 to 3 p.m.

The hours for rides are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays, except Thursday, when it is 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Marvin Schiller, who has driven the bus since CATS began, suggests calling a day in advance for a time reservation.

Customers may occasionally have to get somewhere early or wait after they finish their errand, but his customers understand there is only one driver and one bus.

Schiller will ask a customer who looks unsteady if they want help, he says. But he also wants to respect their independence. "Feel free to ask for help, because sometimes I can't tell if someone needs it."

He tries to park the bus close to the destination for easy access.

The stop at the senior citizens center is about three feet from the doorway.

Mrs. Bessie Briegan, 72, says her eyes are no longer good enough for her to drive, so she uses CATS everyday to go to the senior nutrition site. "I wouldn't come to lunch here without CATS."

Mrs. Ruth Petsch, 78, of Old US-12, also uses CATS to go to the luncheon program. She lives with relatives, and says its a real help for them that she can go places by herself.

Others like Mrs. Olla Voelm, 78, of 4887 Grass Lake Rd., and Mrs. Mildred Collyer, 69, of 1284 Ridge Rd., still drive, but they find CATS a real help when it's snowy and icy.

Mrs. Collyer says she was surprised when she found CATS came out as far as it does. She lives near Cavanaugh Lake.

The 54-square-miles of territory CATS covers, doesn't cover the entire 115-square-mile Chelsea school district, said Scriven. (The boundaries are difficult to describe, so call in to find out if a stop is in the territory.)

"Although we would like to, we don't have the funds or the buses to cover it all," he said. The CATS board is looking at having a regularly scheduled route around the village, but the single bus limits their options.

CATS is slated for state funding this year, maybe even federal funding, but in this economy, said Scriven, the board never plans on it.

That is what makes the United Way contribution so important, he said. It is one of the largest financial supporters of CATS along with the village of Chelsea to CATS $18,450 1983 budget.

"Without the United Way contributions," said Scriven, "we'd have to cut down services that serve so many."

Bulldog Gridders Subdue Stubborn Dexter Team, 36-0

A lopsided final score usually indicates what in sports jargon is called a "laugher"—an easy victory for the winner. But it was no laugher that the Chelsea and Dexter varsity football teams played last Friday night at Chelsea, even though the scoreboard read 36-0 in the Bulldogs' favor at the end.

It was a tough, hard-hitting, but clean football game. The two teams slugged it out on near-even terms through the first half, and Dexter was still in the game until early in the fourth quarter when things fell apart for the Dreadnaughts.

The contest, a Homecoming affair for Chelsea, was played on a perfect evening for football, clear and crisp, before a crowd of about 3,000 which overflowed the stands and spilled onto the sidelines.

As it has done in every game since its season-opening loss to Novi, Chelsea came out strong at the start and scored on its first possession, after Jay Marshall returned the opening kickoff 39 yards to the Bulldog 49.

Quarterback Dave Wojcicki, Chelsea's "Mr. Everything," apparently had the touchdown on a dazzling 35-yard run three plays later, but the effort was nullified by a clipping penalty.

That setback only delayed matters a bit. Hard-running halfback Russell Harris took personal charge, and in four plays punched the ball over the goal line. A fumble wiped out the two-point conversion attempt.

That made it 6-0 with 7:29 left in the first quarter, and Chelsea appeared to be off and running to a romp.

The Dexter defense came alive at that point, and the offense began to move the ball a bit. The rest of the half was a see-saw affair dominated by the two defensive units.

Chelsea did manage to make it as far as the Dexter six-yard line on one drive, but the Dreadnaughts dug in and blocked Wojcicki's fourth-down field goal try.

What both coaches agreed was the game's key play occurred early in the second half. Dexter, which has had trouble with its kicking game all fall, was forced into a punting situation deep in its own territory. The center snap to punter Bill Ploof was low, and Ploof had no chance to get the ball away in the face of a fierce Chelsea rush. He tried to run but was smothered, and the Bulldogs took over on the Dreadnaught 20. Harris rammed to the eight in two plays, Wojcicki got seven on an option run, and Harris plunged for the final yard. A Wojcicki-to-Marshall conversion pass upped the score to 14-0.

Chelsea struck again in the third quarter on a 68-yard drive featured by Wojcicki's passing and running. After scampering 29 yards on a quarterback draw to put the ball on the Dreadnaught 28, Wojcicki fired a strike to Marshall in the end zone for the score.

Halfback Mike Hintzen, seeing his first action since being injured in practice following the Jackson County Western game three weeks ago, got two more points for Chelsea to make it 22-0, an apparently commanding lead.

But Dexter didn't give up. With halfbacks Todd Aeschliman and Brad Kokmeyer and fullback Wilfred Nonnenmacher picking up good gains on the ground and quarterback Ryan Doletzky beginning to hit on passes, the Dreadnaughts advanced to a first down on the Chelsea seven.

Three plays later they had a fourth-and-goal at the one. A touchdown would have put Dexter back in the game with at least a fighting chance to come from behind and win.

Given the opportunity, the Dreadnaughts failed to capitalize. An illegal procedure penalty set them back to the six, a pass fell incomplete, and Chelsea had both the ball and the game in hand.

Wojcicki proceeded to make sure of the victory. On the first play he completed a 59-yard pass to Marty Steinhauer on the Dexter 39, and then ran for a first down at the 27. A pass to Hintzen took it to the 15, and another completion to Thom Headrick put it on the five. Again it was Harris charging over for the touchdown, and Hintzen ran for two more.

Less than a minute later Chelsea put its final six points on the board after Marshall recovered a Dexter fumble at the Dreadnaught 10. Wojcicki threw to Steinhauer for the TD. A conversion pass attempt failed.

Dexter turned the ball over one more time late in the game, coughing up a fumble, but Chelsea kept the ball on the ground and let time expire without trying to run up the score.

Wojcicki was easily the star of the show, compiling 270 yards in total offense and coming back from what was for him a sub-par performance against Milan the previous week. Chelsea Coach Gene LaFave revealed that Wojcicki had played in the Milan Game with tendonitis in his throwing arm. Obviously, he made a quick recovery.

LaFave was pleased with his defense, which had performed inconsistently in earlier games. He especially liked the work of Steinhauer, Marshall and Chris Gallas, but praised the entire unit for playing effectively together.

"On offense we moved the ball well against a very good Dexter defense," LaFave added. "Don't take anything away from Dexter. They played us tough. We got out in front, and Dexter has the kind of offense that makes it hard for them to come from behind."

Dexter Coach Widge Proctor bemoaned his team's failure to take advantage of opportunities. "We blew too many chances to score when we were down deep, just as we have all season. We make mistakes at the wrong times, and beat ourselves."

But, despite the loss, Proctor saw some hopeful signs. Doletzky, he noted, had his best game of the season, completing several passes in the second half. Lack of a passing attack to complement its hard-nosed ground game has been a problem for Dexter.

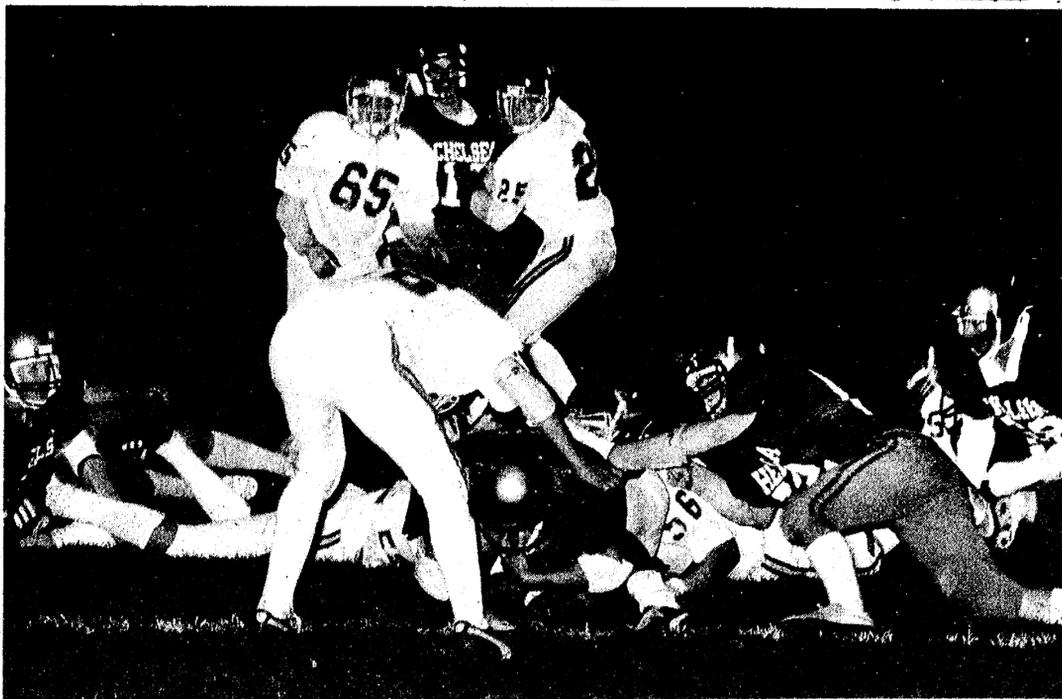

Most of all, Proctor liked the way his Dreadnaughts kept their spirits up. "We showed up to play tonight, and in some earlier games we just showed up. We played very well in the first half after the early Chelsea score, but mistakes killed us in the second half."

LaFave called the victory "a big one" for his Bulldogs, who travel to Saline Friday for what could turn out to be a showdown clash for the Southeastern Conference championship. "If we beat Saline and then Lincoln the next week, we can win it all," he noted.

Dexter's Friday night assignment is a home game against Milan, which upset Chelsea two weeks ago. "If we can avoid errors, we can beat Milan," Proctor promised.

Dexter apparently will be without the services of defensive halfback Paul Otto, who reinjured the right shoulder he broke last year. The new injury was tentatively diagnosed as a separation.

Although there were numerous other injury timeouts required during the bruising contest, none of the hurts appeared to be serious.

TOUCHDOWN: Football, like baseball, is sometimes a game of inches. Chelsea's halfback Russell Harris just barely made it across the goal line on this play, but his effort was good enough to put six points on the board for the Bulldogs. All he had to do was get the ball across the stripe, and he did.

J V Gridders Win Varsity Golfers Over Dexter, 12-0 Win 2 of 3 Matches

In a hard-fought game featured by tough defensive play on both sides, Chelsea's junior varsity football team defeated neighboring Dexter, 12-0, last Thursday night on Dexter's home field. The Dexter Jayvees were previously undefeated.

The Bullpups scored in the second quarter on an eight-yard run by Dan Fenton to cap a 59-yard drive, and again in the fourth period on a 32-yard pass from Evan Roberts to Keith Niebauer.

Both placekick tries for the extra point failed.

Chelsea Coach Ken Sullins said the game may actually have been decided in the first quarter when Dexter got the ball on the Bullpup eight-yard line after intercepting a pass. Four plays gained just six yards, and Chelsea took over on downs.

"That goal line stand charged up our defense," Sullins said, "and they played extremely well the rest of the game. Dexter played good defense, too. It wasn't easy for either team to move the ball."

Ed Brosnan and Dean Boote led the Bullpup defensive charge. Noseguard Boote had 15 tackles, and cornerback Boote contributed six, a high number from that position.

Besides his touchdown grab, Niebauer had two other catches, giving him 78 yards in receptions for the game. Steve Dotson led Chelsea rushers with 58 yards on 13 carries.

The strong defensive nature of the contest is shown in statistics which credit Chelsea with just 171 yards in total offense and Dexter with only 131. Dexter gained a meager five yards through the air.

"It was a big win for us," said Sullins, whose team evened its season record at 2-2-1. "I hope the momentum carries forward when we play Saline here next week."

Sullins is concerned that the Bullpups have not been able to make "big plays" on offense all season long, and hopes to see that change against Saline. "We've come close on several long passes, but just haven't been able to connect," he said.

The Chelsea High school golf team ice-berged their scorching pace of two weeks ago, losing a one-stroker to Dexter in the team's worst round of the year, but still beating Lincoln in the same meet, Oct. 5 at the Ann Arbor Country Club.

They redeemed themselves with two wins the next day with a good Inverness round, 159, against Milan, who had beaten them by a stroke in an earlier season match, and surprise show-up Tecumseh. The Tecumseh school board approved competition in golf and girls basketball in mid-season after the voters nixed a millage Aug. 30.

Everyone on the Bulldogs team shot their worst round of the season against Dexter, said coach Ken Larson, a team Chelsea had beaten decisively five days previously.

Dexter shot 180; Chelsea 181, and Lincoln, 203 on the par 36 course.

The next day the Bulldogs bounced back, beating Milan, 163, by four strokes, and Tecumseh, 165, by six. Tecumseh was expected to do well in the league, said Larson, but this was their first match after several weeks lay-off.

Eric Schaffner shot 37; Doug Otto, 39; Jim Ritter, 41; Mike Carignan and Kurt Eisenbeiser, 42; and Doug Pagliarini, 45—scores the Bulldogs are more accustomed to shooting.

The team's final home match of the season is 4 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 13 against Gabriel Richard. The regionals will be played Oct. 16 at Burr Oak in Parma. If the team is among the top three teams there, they would qualify for the state meet.

Eighth Grade Grid Teams Down Lincoln

Chelsea's two eighth grade football teams got on the winning track last Tuesday with a double victory over Lincoln on the Railsplitters' home field.

The A squad won, 34-28, in what Coach Bert Kruse called "kind of a wild game." Todd Starkey completed 11 of 14 passes for 222 yards and three touchdowns. Starkey also had 83 yards rushing, including a scoring dash of 44 yards. Dwayne Pate caught nine passes for three touchdowns and two two-point conversions.

Although Chelsea's defense was porous early in the game, it tightened up in the fourth quarter when the outcome was on the line. Pate, Matt Steinhauer and Chris Vangara led the defensive charge.

The B squad earned a 22-0 shut-out as Jordan Gray threw two touchdown passes, a 74-yard completion to Clay Hurd and a shorter one to Lee Underhille, who also caught four other passes.

On defense Gregg Brown intercepted two passes and Doug Harden played a strong game in the line.

"We were vastly improved over the previous week when we dropped two games to Milan," Kruse said. "We're coming around."

The two eighth-grade teams were to travel to Saline today for games there.

THINGS DON'T STAND STILL!

The auto parts business is just as dynamic and ever-changing as other fields. New things are happening all the time to help the consumer.

Kevin O'Mara, Manager of Counter Sales at A&L Parts, Inc., says that manufacturers try to keep ahead of the demands. "We're helping Monroe introduce the new Gas-Matic™ shock absorbers, designed to cushion the small-car ride. It has a special sealed-in, low-pressure gas charge that actually improves the ride over bumps, tarstrips, and other road hazards. Then, too, Champion will be marketing a new copper-tip spark plug for small cars; and there's this new anti-freeze for aluminum engines.

"Here at A&L we still carry OEM [original equipment manufacturer] parts, and a lot of others, too. Just recently we also added the Standard/Blue Streak line of replacement parts — one of the best respected in the business.

"Retail sales? Sure, we sell retail. Our counter people are all very expert at helping all our customers figure out what they need — then getting it. The Saturday morning shopping hours seem to help, too."

BACK IN ACTION after three weeks on the sidelines because of an injury sustained in practice following the Jackson County Western game in which he starred, Chelsea halfback Mike Hintzen picked up a two-point conversion on this play.

SWIMMERS OF THE WEEK are two sophomores, Missy Young, left, and Becca Lee, both warming up with some flutterkick. Young is closing in on her career-best 100-yard butterfly time, said coach Von Acker. She also swims breaststroke, and on the B or A relays, depending on the lineup. She plays in the marching band, exercising her legs at morning band practice for homecoming festivities and then exercising her arms at afternoon swim. Lee also plays in the band. She swims distance freestyle, the 500, and swam her best time at that distance in the meet against Novi, taking second place in a "very smart" race, said Acker. She's involved in a lot of school and community activities, he said, and works hard at all of them, as she does with her swimming.

Swim Team Nearly Upsets State Power Battle Creek

Class B swimming powerhouse Battle Creek Lakeview had to scramble their lineup to stack the last event, the 400 freestyle relay, to beat a surprising Chelsea team, 70-56, Oct. 5 at Cameron Pool.

"We scared them," said coach Von Acker. Chelsea was only four points behind, 54 to Lakeview's 58 going into that relay.

Although Chelsea lost, Kristin Thomas qualified for the state meet in both the 200 individual medley and the 100 butterfly and Marji Rawson qualified for the 200 IM. The medley relay lowered their qualifying time for the state meet to 2:04.63, and Paula Colombo re-broke her varsity record for the 500 free with a time of 5:37.30. She had previously qualified for the state meet in that event.

Liesel Culver was also the first girl on the team this season to break the psychological barrier for girl freestylers—one minute for 100-yard freestyle. She and several other girls on the team have broken the minute barrier, the equivalent of running's four-minute mile, in the past.

200 medley relay—Dawn Borders, Rawson, Thomas and Culver won, 2:04.6. The team of Tammi Mullaly, Paula Kuzon, Missy Young, and Vicki Harrel took fourth.

200 free—Colombo, second, 2:07.61; Becca Lee, fourth,

2:25.47; Heather Grenier, sixth, 2:50.56.

200 IM—Thomas, first, 2:25.98; Rawson, second, 2:26.67; Amanda Holmes, sixth, 3:01.86.

Diving—Harrel, first, 142.30 points.

100 fly—Thomas, first, 1:04.88; Young, fourth, 1:19.98; Holmes, sixth, 1:23.64.

100 free—Culver, first, 57.22; Grenier, fourth, 1:17.45.

500 free—Colombo, first, 5:37.30; Lee, fourth, 6:31.47.

100 back—Borders, second, 1:10.08; Mullaly, fourth, 1:44.3.

100 breast—Rawson, second, 1:17.96; Kuzon, fourth, 1:21.66.

400 free relay—Holmes, Lee, Colombo, and Young, third, 4:24.77.

The team's next meet is 7 p.m. today against Dundee at home.

IT'S A TWO-WAY STREET: Chelsea Football Coach Gene LaFave gives instructions to Marty Steinhauer, one of his key two-way players, before sending him out on the field. Steinhauer is a split end on offense and a cornerback on defense. He is one of half a dozen Bulldogs who play most of the time in every game.

School Records Set By Runners Brosnan, Frame In Mason Invitational

Mark Brosnan set a new Chelsea High school record and finished first in the Mason Invitational cross country meet last Saturday, but his outstanding individual effort wasn't enough to give his team a victory. Brosnan's time was 15:38.

The Chelsea boys came in seventh among 18 competing teams. Mason was the team winner.

The Chelsea girls team wound up fifth out of 18 teams. Sandra Frame turned in a school record time of 19:06 to earn fifth place among individuals. The Brighton girls won the meet.

Other Chelsea boys placers were: Dave Kies, 10th; Allen Cole, 28th; Craig Maciag, 50th; Eric Green, 59th; Kevin Richardson, 79th, and Jared Bradley, 90th.

For the girls, Wendy Wolfgang was 30th, Mary Ann Richard 33rd, Laura Damm 36th, Stephanie Grant 42nd, Kathy Degener 64th, and Jill Schnaffner 69th.

"We ran fairly well," Chelsea Coach Pat Clarke said, "but the competition was outstanding. Mark Brosnan and Sandra Frame ran fantastic races in establishing new school records by more than 20 seconds each."

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

Versatility is a hallmark of this year's Chelsea varsity football team. It has to be. The Bulldog roster includes just 28 players, and that isn't very many considering that modern football has become a game of specialists, with separate units for offense and defense plus extra-specialists who do nothing but punt or placekick or maybe just make long center-snaps in kicking situations.

The late Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, whom I was privileged to know quite well years ago when he was coaching football at the University of Michigan and I was writing sports in Ann Arbor, introduced the two-platoon concept into the game. Before his time football at all levels of play was a game of "iron men"—11 players who started and went the distance unless hurt.

And so it is a little surprising to find 15 miles up the road from Ann Arbor a Chelsea squad many of whose members play on both offense and defense. Thirteen of the 28 varsity gridgers are designated as two-way performers, and half a dozen of them routinely play close to 48 minutes of every game.

Even star quarterback Dave Wojcicki, the key man in the Chelsea offense, sees spot defensive duty as a deep safety despite the injury risk.

Frankly, I am new to football as it is played at the smaller high school level, and Bulldog Coach Gene LaFave has taught me some things. "Only the large Class A high schools can afford the luxury of a full two-platoon system," LaFave told me. "At schools of our size our kids have to be versatile, because we just don't have enough athletes to allow full specialization."

This year's Chelsea squad is a little lower in numbers than usual, LaFave said, because of a small junior class of players. "In most years we will have 35-36 players on the varsity, and I think we will get back to that level."

The varsity squad is made up almost entirely of upperclassmen—juniors and seniors. An occasional sophomore (one this year, guard David Steinhauer) makes it. While it's not unheard-of for a freshman to play on the varsity, it happens so rarely that LaFave can't recall the last time it did.

"You have to understand that boys of freshman and sophomore age are still growing and developing, maturing physically. They have to be exceptional athletes indeed to compete with older boys."

"My belief is that, if an underclassman can't start for the varsity," he should get experience and playing time on the junior varsity or freshman team rather than sit on the varsity bench as a possible substitute."

To help make up for lack of numbers, LaFave stresses conditioning. "Our players are physically prepared to play every minute of a game and stay fresh," he stressed. "I don't think there is a better conditioned squad anywhere in Michigan."

One thing that LaFave does not particularly like to do, but has had to, is coach players to be ready to go at more than one position on either offense or defense. "That can cause confusion," he notes, "but we have had to do it in a few cases this year because we don't have much depth. If you are unlucky enough to have a player put out with an injury, you need someone else who can go in and play in his place."

It's quite a change for this reporter who has grown accustomed to watching Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler suit up what looks like half the University's male student body for home games. When Class A Pontiac Northern, with an enrollment of 2,400 compared to Chelsea's 800 came to town a few weeks ago, its squad outnumbered the Bulldogs by better than 3 to 1.

On thinking about it, however, I recalled that most of the uniform-wearing Wolverines never play. They stand and watch while about 30 of their more talented teammates run on and off the field. And not all that many Pontiac Northern players got into the game, either.

I like LaFave's approach better.

During fiscal year 1981, much of the work in the Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration was in the area of regulatory reform. As part of their efforts to implement the Economic Recovery program, ESA took several actions designed to reduce the cost of compliance with federal law while retaining needed protection for workers, according to the department's 69th Annual Report.

Tecumseh May Fund Some Sports

Tecumseh High school has taken a couple of small steps toward restoring its athletic program which was suspended this fall after a series of millage election defeats forced cutbacks throughout the school system, including all sports.

The Board of Education voted to accept funds raised by local citizens which will allow the girls basketball and boys golf teams to compete in what remains of the two fall seasons. The girls will get to play about eight basketball games and the boys perhaps four or five golf matches.

The future of the winter and spring sports programs remains uncertain.

Tecumseh's withdrawal has temporarily reduced the Southeastern Conference to six participating schools. Scheduled opponents, including Chelsea and Dexter, have had to scramble to find other teams to play but have generally been successful.

Gridgers of the Week

GRIDGERS OF THE WEEK are seniors Steve Cattell, 24, and Matt McCallum, 85. Cattell, a starting defensive halfback, is a success story, said coach Gene LaFave. He didn't play football as a junior, but rejoined the team as a senior, 30 to 40 pounds heavier from growing and weight work.

He was player of the week against Novi. McCallum, a defensive end, is a second year starter. He is one of the team's two finest pass rushers, said LaFave, because he is so quick. (He is a hurdler in track season.) He already has several quarterback sacks to his credit this season.

Cross Country Teams Split With Dexter

Chelsea and Dexter split in their cross country dual meets last week. The Dexter girls, who are defending state champions, won 24-31. The Chelsea boys evened the score for the day with a 17-4 victory.

Both races were run over the Inverness Country Club course.

Kelly McKillen of Dexter placed first in the girls meet with a sparkling course-record time of 19:29. Not far behind was Sandra Frame of Chelsea at 20:09, a course record for her school.

Dexter's Cheri Sly and Kris McKillen (sister of Kelly) finished third and fourth, and Chelsea's Wendy Wolfgang came in fifth.

Other placers were: For Dexter—Lisa Toth, 6th; Allison Pudduck, 10th; Becky Dashka, 11th; Jenny O'Haver, 12th; Tracy Dalton, 18th, and Jesslyn Miller, 19th.

For Chelsea—Mary Ann Richardson, 7th; Laura Damm, 8th; Stephanie Grant, 9th; Kathy Degener, 13th; Jill Schaffner, 14th; Sue Young, 15th; Kim Fenton, 16th; Debbie Tiff, 17th; Julie Thompson, 20th, and Susan Grant, 21st.

In the boys competition Chelsea swept the first three places, with Mark Brosnan coming in first at 16:12. Dave Kies was second at 17:25 and Allen Cole third at 17:32.

Other Chelsea placers were Eric Green, 5th; Craig Maciag, 6th; Jared Bradley, 8th; Steve Hunn, 9th; Kevin Richardson, 10th; Kyle Kemmish, 11th; Randy Krichbaum, 13th; Damion Creffield, 15th; Ernie Bristle, 17th; Tom Nemeth, 18th; Mark

J V Girl Cagers Win Over Clinton, Milan

It was another winning week for the Chelsea junior varsity girls basketball team! They beat Clinton 43-29 Oct. 5 at home and beat Milan 30-25 Oct. 7 away, extending their record to 2-0 in the league and 9-1 overall.

Chelsea broke away from Clinton's early lead in the second quarter, outscoring them 14-4 to lead 20-15 at the half. Chelsea got ahead by 12 in the second half, and coasted with that lead throughout the game.

The Bulldogs shot better from the floor than in their last game, but 16 for 66, 24 percent isn't a percentage to relax with, said coach Paul Terpstra.

Chelsea did make more moves to the basket, he said, which drew fouls from the Clinton players. Chelsea shot 11 of 31 free throws. Points were spread among the players, a balanced offense which Terpstra says he likes to see.

Spayd, 20th; Mike Herrst, 21st, and Kevin Vandegrift, 22nd.

For Dexter, Matt Parks came in fourth and Mark Gibb seventh. Others were Mark Aufdenberg, 12th; Ron Rousseau, 14th; Matt Rave, 16th, and David Kramer, 19th.

Anne Weber and Samantha Collinsworth scored 10 points each; Kelly Hawker, 9; Tina Paddock and Jenny Cattell, 5 each; Kristi Headrick, 2; and Kris Mattoff and Amy Wolfgang, 1 each.

The team stole the ball 19 times, and 9 of those belonged to Cattell. Hawker had 13 rebounds; Collinsworth, 7; and Paddock had 6.

The team had real trouble with their foul shooting against Milan, 4 of 22 for 18 percent, said Terpstra. The shots weren't air balls; they got close but not in the hoop, although the team has practiced them a great deal.

The foul shooting and a slow fourth quarter made a game that could have been a blow-away a close one.

Milan got off to a 6-0 lead in the first 1½ minutes, but Chelsea held them scoreless for 10 minutes, to lead 12-9 at the half.

Chelsea came out of the locker room blazing, outscoring Milan 10-0, to lead 22-9 at the end of the third quarter.

"But then we just didn't put it away," said Terpstra, "and they got closer and closer."

Chelsea shot 13 of 51 field goals, for 25 percent, and committed 10 fouls to Milan's 20.

Hawker was leading scorer with 12; Collinsworth, 10; Weber, 6; Paddock and Cattell, 1 each.

Paddock had 7 rebounds; Hawker and Collinsworth had 5 each.

Girls Win, Boys Edged In Cross Country Meet

The Chelsea girls won but the boys lost in cross country meets with Ypsilanti High school last Tuesday. The races were run over Ypsilanti's course at Rynearson Field.

The girls posted a decisive 19-40 victory with Sandra Frame coming in first at 19:26, her best time of the season and also a school record for the 5,000-meter distance. In second and third were Mary Ann Richardson (21:83) and Wendy Wolfgang (21:34), also best personal times.

Laura Damm was sixth at 22:49, Stephanie Grant seventh at 23:02, Shanda Friday ninth at 23:13, Sue Young 10th at 24:28, Kathy Degener 11th at 24:42, Debby Tiff 12th at 24:54 and Kim Fenton 13th at 25:07. Friday, Young and Tiff ran their best season times.

The boys team lost a close 26-29 decision despite having four of the first seven finishers. Mark Brosnan of Chelsea was the individual winner with a time of 15:56. Dave Kies was fifth at 16:59, Allen Cole sixth at 17:20 and Eric Green seventh at 17:25.

Other Chelsea placers and times included Jerod Bradley, 10th, 18:21; Craig Maciag, 11th, 18:27, and Kevin Richardson, 14th, 18:58.

TYPICAL OF RUSSELL HARRIS' hard running is this second effort for extra yardage on one of his many carries against Dexter. Harris, who is the Bulldogs' leading scorer, had three touchdowns last Friday. He has been especially effective in short-yardage situations and has been very hard to stop in touchdown territory.

Girls Tennis Team Wins First Match

They won; they won; they won! The girls tennis team had their first win of the season with a 5-2 win over Lumen Christi Oct. 6 at home.

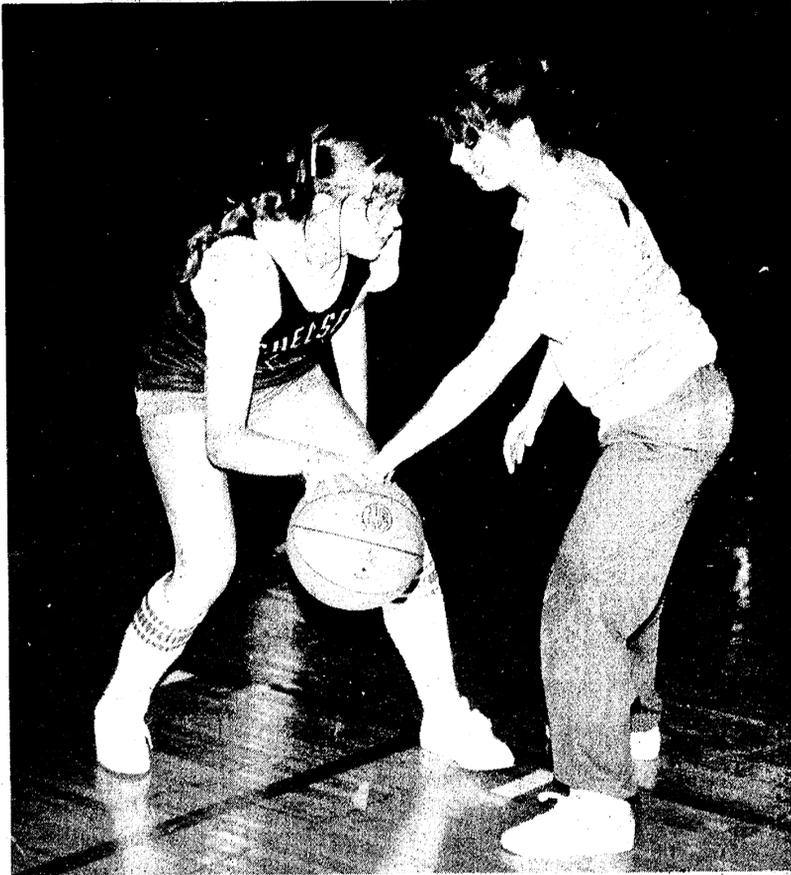

Coach Terry Schreiner only wishes the team could have been all together when they realized it. The doubles teams play at North school and singles matches are played at the high school. Since many of the girls don't drive yet, they just went home after their match and learned about the win the next day.

"So they all had their individual moments of glee," said Schreiner, "instead of a group moment."

In other matches last week, the team lost a close match, 4-3 to Brighton Oct. 4 and a hard-fought 7-0 match to Gabriel Richard, Oct. 7.

Mika Kidoaki handily defeated her Lumen Christi opponent, 6-1, 6-1. Margaret Merkel had her fifth individual victory of the season at number three singles, 6-3, 6-1. All three doubles teams won, their first victories of the season. Nancy Weir and Marie Sullivan beat Patten and Thudel, 6-4, 8-6; Jane Wood and Carrie Parkins over Rodgers and Devetry, 6-1, 6-3; and Dawn Olsen and Lisa Smith over Lundemer and McCormick, 6-1, 6-2.

Against Brighton Carolyn Chandler beat her opponent, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1. Mika Kidoaki won, 6-1, 6-0. Margaret Merkel also won, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3. The doubles teams did not fare as well.

HOOPSTERS OF THE WEEK are Sharon Glassford with the ball and Colleen Clark, who's trying to steal it from her. Glassford, a forward and center in her second year on the varsity team, is the quickest person on the team, said coach Jim Winter, and the best jumper too. She starts for the team and really works hard at her defense. She is a very intelligent player, he said, which helps her anticipate and plan ahead during a game. But sometimes she needs to react instead of think first! Clark, who was new to the district last year, has really improved, he said, and surprising everyone with her scoring. She helps keep the game in perspective for the team, he said, by reminding everyone it is just a game. That helps them bounce back, when they are in the dumps. She also always has something good to say to all the team members.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Three-Way Tie Develops In Conference Title Race

Lincoln dropped back into a three-way tie with Chelsea and Saline for leadership of the Southeastern Conference following last week's football action. Previously undefeated Lincoln dropped a 14-0 decision to Saline.

The three front-runners have identical 2-1 records in SEC play. Milan comes next at 1-1. The Big Reds won an impressive 23-12 victory over non-league foe Dundee last Friday.

Dexter stands at 1-2 after losing 36-0 to Chelsea. Jackson County Western, still winless, lost to Onsted, 19-6, in a non-conference contest.

SOUTHEAST CONFERENCE STANDINGS

| | W | L |
|---------|---|---|
| Chelsea | 2 | 1 |
| Lincoln | 2 | 1 |
| Saline | 2 | 1 |
| Milan | 1 | 1 |

Saline 14, Lincoln 0

Lincoln came into its game against Saline with a defensive record of three straight shut-outs and 16 consecutive quarters during which opponents had not penetrated beyond the Railsplitter 25-yard line. Saline snapped that string in a hurry last Friday night, scoring in the first quarter on a nine-yard run by Scott Theisen after teammate Chris Evans had recovered a fumble deep in Lincoln territory.

Theisen got the other Hornet touchdown in the third quarter, this time on a four-yard burst.

Saline, meanwhile, was playing very tough defense of its own, holding Lincoln to just five first downs for the game. The Railsplitters were without their three-year first-string quarterback, Darrell Federer, who is finished for the season with a knee injury.

Saline's defense now has three shut-outs for the season but faces a tough test this week in taking on the explosive Chelsea Bulldogs in a game that will have a lot to do with deciding the conference champion.

Milan 23, Dundee 12

Milan continued its impressive comeback after a disappointing early season by trouncing Dundee, 23-12, in a non-league game and is still definitely a factor in the SEC title chase.

Bob Harvath caught a 27-yard pass for one touchdown and returned an interception 32 yards for another. Jeff Sabo, who had 161 yards rushing, got the other Milan TD on a two-yard plunge.

Bernie Saja, whose extra-point kick was the difference in Milan's 13-12 upset of Chelsea two weeks ago, booted the Big Red's first field goal since 1978 and also had an extra point to round out his team's scoring.

Milan and Dexter clash this week.

JV Golfers Continue Winning Ways

The junior varsity golf team continued their winning ways last week. They shot 180 to Dexter's 205 and Lincoln's 236 Oct. 5 at Ann Arbor Country Club.

Since the Tecumseh team had only eight players, the bottom two varsity scores were counted toward the JV's best score of the year, 174, against Milan's 185 and Tecumseh's 187 Oct. 6 at Inverness.

Chelsea's record now stands at 12-3-1.

The JV's 180 against Dexter and Lincoln was actually one-stroke better than the varsity shot that day, said golf coach Ken Larson, but the two squads were playing different nine holes of the 18-hole course.

Rick Boham had scoring honors Oct. 5, 43; Doug Pagliarini and John Mitchell, 45; and Brian Ackley, 47.

Chris Tarasow had his best round of the year, 42, against Milan and Tecumseh to take scoring honors. Bill Merkel shot 45 and Mitchell and Boham shot 47. The team's last home match is 4 p.m. Oct. 13 against Gabriel Richard at Inverness.

Ice Skating Instruction At Ann Arbor Arena

Veterans Park Indoor Ice Arena is currently accepting registrations for the 1982-83 Instructional Ice Skating Program. Classes for ages 3½ through adult are offered, with Session I beginning Oct. 11.

In-person registration is available at Veterans Arena, 2150 Jackson Rd., Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., or at the Department of Parks and Recreation between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m.

For information on mail-in registration call Veterans Park Indoor Ice Arena, 994-7240, or the Department of Parks and Recreation, 994-2780.

Girl Cagers Blow Out Clinton, 51-32

The Bulldogs girls varsity basketball team is coming into its own. They have consistently improved their offense in their last three games, said coach Jim Winter, and they are starting to believe they can do great things.

They did great things against Clinton, winning their most decisive victory yet, 51-32, Oct. 5 at home. Although they lost to unbeaten Milan, 46-38, Oct. 7 away, they got that ball to the inside, rebounded ferociously, playing well against a good team.

"Dexter's going to have a problem at our game today," warned Winter, "if we play the way we have lately!"

The girls team was already fired up for the game Friday, he said. (The junior varsity match starts at 5:30 p.m. at the high school, and the varsity follows.)

Chelsea was "a little bit better" than Clinton in everything, said Winter, and those little bits added up. Chelsea beat Clinton in all the statistics he keeps.

Chelsea led, 12-10, at the end of the first quarter and 27-14 at the half. The Bulldogs kept that lead throughout the third quarter, increasing it a few points in the final quarter.

The game was a good chance for the team to work on moving the ball around offensively, working it in to the inside, said Winter. "It was a good learning experience. We would have to work harder against a better team and be more patient, but the girls saw that an offensive plan works."

The team was 18 of 61 from the floor, 30 percent, and 15 of 27 for 56 percent from the free throw line. Chelsea committed 13 fouls to Clinton's 18, but Clinton had more fouls in the act of shooting, sending Chelsea to the foul line instead of just getting the ball out of bounds.

Beth Unterbrink scored the most points in a game of her varsity career, 20, which is also the most of anyone this season. Missi Lazarz scored 14 and Amy Poljan scored 7.

Unterbrink had 7 rebounds; Lazarz, Poljan, and Mary Klink had 6 each.

The entire game against Milan was close. Milan led, 13-10, at the end of the first quarter, 25-22 at halftime, and 37-31 at the end of the third quarter. Chelsea did lead at different times during the game, and led in the third quarter.

Four of Chelsea's 12 fouls came in the last minute, said Winter, when the Bulldogs were strategically fouling to try and get the ball. Milan had 15 fouls.

Chelsea shot 16 of 50 field goals, 32 percent, one of their highest field goal percentages of the season. They didn't shoot their usual foul shooting percentage though, 6 of 15 for 40 percent.

Chelsea was moving the ball so well to the inside, said Winter, Milan had to change defenses three or four times to stop the easy basket threat.

But boy did they out-rebound Milan, 38-20.

Milan was big and strong, said Winter, but "we got good position around the basket and didn't back away. The girls were a bit surprised at how well they did."

Unterbrink was leading scorer with 12; Lazarz, 11; and Sharon Glassford, who had a good game, said Winter, scored 5 points and pulled down 7 rebounds. Lazarz had 8 rebounds, and Poljan had 7.

The Bulldogs play Saline Thursday away.

8th Grade Girls Basketball Team Splits 2 Games

The Bullpups eighth grade girls basketball team split their games last week, losing to Lincoln, 24-19, Oct. 4 away, but decisively winning in their Oct. 6 home game against Dexter, 33-16.

"Lincoln out-muscled us," said coach Cheryl Vogel. "They were very aggressive on the boards. Chelsea got out to a quick lead, but shot poorly in the second half, she said.

Mary Lazarz was leading scorer with 7 points; Pam Brown, 4; Karen Weber and Cris Zerkel, 3 each; and Trisha Mattoff, 2. Zerkel had 11 rebounds, and the team had 28 total.

Chelsea led the whole game against Dexter, moving the ball better and shooting more than against Lincoln.

Lazarz had 12 points; Mattoff, 8; Zerkel, 4; Brown, 3; and Tylene Greenleaf, Weber, and Cris Hiltz had two each. Zerkel was again leading rebounder with 8, and the team snared 25 rebounds total.

The team shot 3 for 7 from the foul line.

The team played Milan yesterday; will play Saline at home tomorrow at 4 p.m.; and will play Leslie 4:30 p.m. Oct. 18 at home.

Card of Thanks 16

CARD OF THANKS The family of Mrs. Ethel Embury would like to express their appreciation to all the dear friends and relatives who stood by us and demonstrated their care and compassion during our time of bereavement. How greatly we appreciated your gifts of cards, flowers, time and reassuring words. A special thanks goes out to the Rev. Charles Harrick who officiated at the service and the North Lake United Women who so generously donated their time and to all for your prayers and comforting words. We thank you. Ruth and Pete Jaskot Judy and John Reilly Shirley and Jim Reilly Steve Jaskot.

I would like to thank all my friends, neighbors, and relatives for their kind thoughts, lovely flowers and get-well wishes while I was in the Chelsea Community Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Krausse, the nurses and the staff for their excellent care. Mrs. Anna Schairer

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank the Chelsea, Grass Lake, Leoni, and Napoleon Fire Departments for helping control our barn fire. Also many thanks to all who were concerned. Dorr and Edson Whitaker

THANK YOU To all our relatives and friends for the flowers, gifts, cards, visits and phone calls while Michelle was so ill. Much thanks to all our family at St. Mary's Parish whose prayers and support helped so much at this time. Many thanks to all the children who made cards by hand, they were beautiful and meant more than words can say. God bless and love you all. Darryl Bolanowski and Family.

This is a special word of thanks to the Rev. McCallum for his visits and comforting words, doctors, relatives, friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness shown while Lee was in the hospital and since his return home. The many prayers, flowers, telephone calls and cards help to bring this about. All thoughtfulness was deeply appreciated and will always be remembered. Lee Weiss Helen Weiss Robert & Beverly Weiss

We wish to thank everyone for their prayers, visits, calls, cards and food during our recent sorrow. A special thanks to the Rev. Hart and Ron Jenter. The Family of Inez Haselschwerdt.

In Memoriam 17

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of "Our Dad" Donald R. Walz who passed away on Oct. 15, 8 years ago. What would we give, if we could say Hello Dad, in the same old way, to hear your voice and see your smile, to sit and chat with you a while. So many times you seem so near, your loving voice we seem to hear. Some may forget that you are gone but we will remember, no matter how long. Love, Diane and Tylene.

In Memoriam 17

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband and father, Martin Slane, who passed away one year ago, Oct. 9, 1981. The rolling stream of life rolls on. But still the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice, the smile of the one who once sat there. Sadly missed by wife Edith Slane and family.

Organ Recital Slated At Methodist Church

Mary Anne Skinner, organist at First United Methodist church, will present a recital 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 17 at the church, 128 Park St.

Her hour-long program will include works by Langlais, Daquin, Bach, Hovhanness, and Widor, composers from the 18th to 20th centuries. There is no charge for the recital.

She will be playing the church's Zimmer tracker organ, which was installed in March 1981 and is the only one of its kind in the area. This pipe organ is mechanical-action, which allows her to more subtly interpret the music, she said, than an electric pipe organ.

"I can control how the pipe speaks," she said, "by the speed and weight of my touch."

"Mechanical action is like talking to someone face-to-face," she said, "instead of having a phone conversation."

She received her Bachelor of Arts degree, 1977, and her Bachelor of Music degree, 1978, from Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware. She has also studied at Interlochen International Music Camp, Choate Organ Institute in Hartford, Conn., Oberlin Summer Organ Institute, and the University of Michigan.

Miss Skinner, 27, also accompanies the Chelsea Community Choir and the Chelsea Players.

Dexter Methodists Plan Annual Bazaar, Smorgasbord, Nov. 6

Dexter United Methodist church will have its annual bazaar and smorgasbord Nov. 6 at Wylie Middle school, Dexter.

The entire church participates in the extravaganza; the bazaar items are made by hand, and the food is good home cooking.

Tickets may be purchased from church members or from Dancer's in Dexter.

Frosh Gridders Romp Over Dexter

Chelsea's freshman football team continues not only to win games but also to set records: The newest mark is a 99-yard pass-run play, believed the longest in school history. It scored Chelsea's final touchdown in a 28-0 victory over Dexter there last Tuesday.

Teams don't ordinarily pass when putting the ball in play on their own one-yard line, but Chelsea took the gamble late in the game while holding a 22-0 lead. Quarterback Dan Bellus threw to Mark Mull who had gotten into the clear at the 20, and Mull went the rest of the way with determined running.

Three weeks ago halfback Rob Beckwith ran 99 yards for a touchdown against Milford. That, too, is believed to be a school record.

Ninety-nine yards is about as far as you can go on a scrimmage play on a 100-yard field. Anything longer in the way of a run just about has to come on a punt, kickoff or pass interception caught in the end zone.

Beckwith had another fine game as the freshman gridders raised their season record to a perfect 4-0. He scored twice on six-yard runs to cap long drives, and several times gave Chelsea good field position on punt returns.

Chris Herter got the other Chelsea touchdown, the first of the game to break open a scoreless tie early in the second quarter, on a 20-yard run to wrap up an eight-play, 50-yard march. Beckwith and Bellus each ran for two-point conversions to round out the scoring.

Equally pleasing to Chelsea Coach Jim Tallman was his team's defensive effort in shutting out an opponent for the second straight week. "We're beginning to see a lot of pride on our defensive unit," Tallman said, "and that's important. The kids believe in themselves and their ability to keep the other team from scoring."

Tallman had praise for Andy Fenton, a substitute halfback who doesn't get to play too much. Fenton had an apparent 25-yard touchdown run called back because of a penalty late in the game. Tallman also liked the play of split end Tim Bowdish.

Defensive standouts included Steve Wingrove, Gary Johnson, Bob Torres, Jeff Larson and Alan Fromm.

Although optimistic that he has a good team with players who promise well for varsity success in years to come, Tallman wants to see how the freshmen do in their next two outings, against Saline and Adrian, both at home.

"Those are the two toughest teams we will play this year," Tallman said. "The schedule has definitely been in our favor so far. We have been able to learn and build while winning. Now we'll find out how far we've come along."

Judge Upholds Physical Exam Rule for Athletics

Federal District Court Judge Charles W. Joiner has issued an important ruling in a case involving a Dexter schools eighth-grader whose mother refused to allow her to have a physical examination preliminary to participating in athletics.

Judge Charles W. Joiner denied a restraining order against the Dexter Public Schools and the Michigan High School Athletic Association. If granted, the order would have required the school to allow Patricia Myhoff, 12, daughter of Christine Myhoff of Hamburg township, to try out for the Wylie Middle school girls basketball team without taking a physical.

MHSA rules demand an annual physical exam for those trying out for school sports.

Patricia's mother has claimed in a suit that the physical examination would violate her daughter's privacy and religious freedom.

In his order Judge Joiner said the examinations are necessary not only for the welfare of the individual but also for the protection of other students who might suffer "psychological trauma" from an accident or injury which could have been prevented by a medical exam.

NATIONAL CHILD SAFETY COUNCIL representatives Sandy Bens (left) and Joy Robinson (right) of Jackson confer with Chelsea Police Chief Robert F. Aello about materials to be used in a safety program which will be conducted in the Chelsea schools this winter provided supporting funds can be raised locally.

Police Plan Child Safety, Anti-Drug Abuse Program

The Chelsea Police Department and the National Child Safety Council, headquartered in Jackson, plan to co-operate in a new child safety, drug and crime prevention program in the Chelsea schools, Police Chief Robert F. Aello announces.

Whether the program is actually conducted will depend on co-operation of Chelsea business and industrial leaders who will be asked to contribute funds, amounting to more than $1,000, to support it.
Sandy Bens and Joy Robinson, both of Jackson, will be in Chelsea in about three weeks to solicit financial support.
The program will focus on the 1,450 pupils in the Chelsea elementary and middle schools and will cost about 95 cents per pupil to provide educational materials consisting of study manuals, pamphlets, posters, films and sturdy charts.

Chief Aello expressed strong support for the program, which the Child Safety Council already carries out in several other Michigan localities, as well as in other states.
"I think it is important that we bring the safety message to youngsters during their early years in school," he said, "before they have developed bad habits which are difficult to break."

Besides the traditional themes of traffic and burn safety, the program stresses protection against child molesters and warnings against drug and alcohol abuse.
Aello and members of his police force will present the programs in the schools, using materials supplied by the Child Safety Council and paid for with local donations.
He stressed that this will be the only safety program of its kind conducted in Chelsea this year under Police Department auspices. Solicitors will have a letter of identification and endorsement from Aello.

"Should anyone not carrying such a letter solicit support for a school safety program, the solicitation should be reported to the Police Department," he said.
The Child Safety Council is a national non-profit, non-commercial, tax-exempt organization, and all contributions are deductible.

Selective Service Registration Creating No Problems Locally

A report by the U. S. Selective Service System, issued from Washington, shows that Michigan ranks 17th among the 50 states in the compliance rate among young men required to register for a possible later military draft.
Eligibles must register at post offices, and the postmasters of both Chelsea and Dexter say that, as far as they can tell, the process is going smoothly and normally in their communities.
"We have had no problems of any kind," said Postmaster Richard Schaudles of Chelsea. "No one has come in and made any kind of complaint or suggested that he might refuse to register. I know the community quite well and think I would be aware of any resistance to the program."

them in, like they are supposed to."
According to Selective Service, 8.4 million young men have registered to date in compliance with the law requiring that they sign up within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Nationally, that means 93 percent of those eligible have complied.

Michigan's compliance rate of 92.9 percent is just a hair below the national average. Wyoming leads the states with a 98.1 percent compliance rate, and Rhode Island is last at 84.3 percent.

7th Grade Girls Win First Two

The baby Bullpups, the seventh grade girls basketball team, started their season off with a smash! They won their first two games, 31-23 against Lincoln Oct. 4 and 20-15 against Dexter Oct. 6 at home.

Chelsea led Lincoln 13-0 at the end of the first quarter and 17-6 at the half. Lincoln began playing more aggressively in the third quarter, said Bullpups coach Art Schaffner, but Chelsea held onto their lead.

It was a good first-game team effort, she said. They hit 30 percent of their field goals, a good percentage for this age group.

Chelsea only got to shoot one foul shot, which was missed. Foul shooting percentages tend to be low, she said, because the girls haven't yet developed the strength to shoot that far. Most made field goals are short-range. The players do tend to foul more, because of lack of experience, she said, but most junior high games are officiated a bit looser, too.

Dawn Weatherwax scored 5 points; Alisha Dorow, Deanna Zangara, and Beth Kenney scored 4 each.

Amy Dmoch, who played "very alert" defense, said Schaffner had 6 rebounds.

Chelsea did not play well offensively against Dexter in the first half, she said, but they were saved because Dexter didn't shoot all that well either, leading 7-2.

The Bullpups played both better defense and offense in the second half, but still trailed going in to the fourth quarter.

Guard Beth Kenney handled the ball really well, said Schaffner, especially during the press at the end of the game.

Weatherwax and Kenney scored 6 points each, and Dmoch and Hammerschmidt scored 4 each. Weis had 6 rebounds and Weatherwax had 5.
