Schools Plan Drastic Cuts If Millage Fails

Last week Chelsea school board answered the crucial question, "what if the millage doesn't pass," with a list of programs to be cut or reduced if the three-year 2.9 mill increase is turned down at the June 13 election.

The proposed cuts will touch just about every special interest or need a child might have—such as sports, art, music, agriculture, special education and the elementary school gifted/talented program.

The school faces a more than $600,000 deficit for the 1983-84 school year, because property tax income has declined and inflation has increased costs.

If the millage increase is denied, say goodbye to Bulldog athletics as you now know it. Crucial development programs for young athletes would be dropped.

Intramurals would replace middle school sports teams, freshman football, baseball and basketball.

Those sports would obviously no longer need cheerleaders, which would also be dropped for junior varsity sports.

The elementary school swimming program for third through fifth graders would be dropped, which would reduce both staffing and transportation costs. The school district pool at Beach, the only public pool in the village, would also be closed in summer.

About half the third-graders each year are "beginners," said Larry Reed, pool director. That means they do not swim well enough to save themselves if they fell in the water from a diving board, boat or pier.

Three district staff positions in art, music and physical education would be eliminated, as would the summer instructional programs in band and orchestra, again important to the long-range development of a young musician, said Carol Wells Palms, district orchestra director. Performances of middle school musical groups would also be eliminated.

Other extra-curricular activities to be cut include both the middle and high school newspapers, the middle school yearbook, the high school musical and new athletic equipment, uniforms and supplies. Transportation to extra-curricular activities would also be reduced.

Staff and program cuts would come at all three school levels, with the biggest chunk in terms of dollars, more than $100,000, from the high school. Several of these staff cuts would come by not filling positions vacated by recent resignations.

Those cuts at the high school would be a media center aide, a secretary, half-time agriculture teacher and counselor, one additional staff member, the graphic arts teacher, and the building trades program, which the board has already voted to drop because of low enrollment; two teachers and a media aide at the middle school; and a half-time reading teacher and the gifted/talented program in the elementary schools.

Other program-staff cuts and reductions include one special education teacher, two special education aides, reduced services from the Community Education program, one custodian, custodial maintenance and supplies, summer programs in

Memorial Poppy Sale Set Friday

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) will be out on the streets Friday, offering Buddy Poppies for sale to benefit disabled and needy American war veterans and their widows and orphans. Hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The American Legion will not participate in the poppy sale this year, according to spokesman Pat Merkel. "Our auxiliary, which formerly carried on the Legion's part of the sale, has disbanded," Merkel explained, "and we didn't get reorganized in time. We expect to be back next year."

The paper poppies are assembled by disabled veterans. Buyers may pay whatever amount they choose "to honor the dead while helping the living."

Village President Jack Merkel has proclaimed May 20 as "Poppy Day" in Chelsea and encourages "the citizens of this community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support."

"I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens," Merkel said.

Planners OK Plan By BookCrafters

Chelsea village planning commission recommended approval of a setback requirement variance submitted by BookCrafters, Inc., but would make no recommendation on the one submitted by Chelsea Knights of Columbus.

BookCrafters is planning to expand its parking lot, which would put them about five feet from a property line. Normal setback requirements when a more intensive use adjoins a less-intensive zoning district is 20 to 25 feet.

The Knights of Columbus want to renovate a porch on the rear of their building on Old US-12 and need a variance from the side lot setback requirements.

Both variances now go to village council. Frederick Belser, temporary chairman of the commission, said he would not comment on why one variance was approved and no action taken on the other.

The commission also requested the Chelsea Community Fair Board submit a site plan for a proposed new building on the fairgrounds.

They also went on record saying the fairgrounds "is a non-conforming use of agriculture-1" (Continued on page ten)

Methodist Home Given Approval of $8.6 Million Expansion Program

The $8.6 million expansion and modernization program at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home will be carried out, following a Michigan Department of Health change of mind.

The department's division of health facility planning and construction late last week issued a certificate of need for the project, after having denied it two months ago.

The certificate was issued after representatives of the Methodist Home appealed for reconsideration and made personal appearances at a specially called hearing.

"We are very grateful that the department has listened to us and has approved our program after hearing out our case of need," said Elmer J. Benson, executive director of the corporation which operates the Chelsea Methodist Home and also one in Detroit. "I was confident that we had a strong case and could prove it on appeal if given the opportunity."

Dr. Kenneth R. Callis, president of the board of trustees of United Methodist Retirement Homes, Inc., stated, "With full certainty that we can now carry our plans forward, we will continue our advance gifts solicitation and hope to be able to begin the first phase of our construction perhaps yet this year. Actual construction could take as long as two years."

In issuing the certificate of need the state health department made some minor changes in the plan as originally submitted. The net number of nursing home beds to be provided was reduced from 120 to 110, an increase of 48 over the number now available.

"The modifications are acceptable," Benson said. "The certificate as issued will enable us to meet the needs of present residents requiring nursing home care, and to accept some applicants directly into our nursing facility."

"Remodelling of the home for the aged portion of our facility will upgrade the entire complex and greatly increase the attractiveness of the Chelsea United Methodist Home to new retirees, who will be able to make a selection from a choice of accommodations."

The master plan for the building program, prepared by Harley Ellington Pierce Yee Associates of Southfield, calls for constructing a new 110-bed nursing care building on vacant land west of the present main building; conversion of two floors in the main building from nursing care to retirement home use; renovation of some existing retirement home spaces to provide a broader variety of living quarters; construction of a small new building to house boiler and laundry facilities, and remodeling of some existing space for offices, craft and therapy rooms, and staff support.

Money to finance the $8.6 million program will come from two sources — a fund-raising drive, and bonds to be paid off with operating revenues.

"The immediate next step will be for the architects to complete detailed construction plans," Benson said. "At this point all we have are schematic drawings. We couldn't advance to final planning until we obtained state approval, which we now have. I hope we can break ground late this summer."

The United Methodist Home provides facilities for two general categories of persons: (1) retirees who are in good health and able to take care of all or most of their personal care needs, and (2) persons who require hospital-type care provided in a nursing home.

Residents of the home often pass from one category to the other as they get older, and there has been a chronic shortage of nursing-care beds. No new nursing home patients have been admitted since 1976, and some have had to be discharged to other facilities, for lack of space.

The home serves members of more than 500 United Methodist churches in much of eastern Michigan, including part of the Upper Peninsula.

The state health department is empowered to approve or deny proposals to increase hospital facilities anywhere in Michigan, including nursing homes. Its March denial of the Chelsea Methodist Home application was based on a theoretical excess of nursing care beds in Washtenaw county.

The home's appeal was based on the fact that it serves a much broader population area than Washtenaw county and that, as a church-related institution, it has an obligation to serve people who come to Chelsea because of their religious beliefs.

Grade Schools Will Present 'Pied Piper'

Young musicians from both Chelsea elementary schools will present three performances of a contemporary version of the ancient tale of "The Pied Piper" in the high school auditorium.

A group from North school will perform at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 20. Two groups from South school will go on stage at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m., respectively, on Monday, May 23.

The programs are under the direction of Ronald Harris, elementary school music teacher. Pupils from the third, fourth and fifth grades in each school will participate. The cast for each show, including members of the chorus, numbers about 190.

Performances are open to the public. Donations to offset costs for stage settings and costumes will be accepted at the door.

The three principal soloists in each of the three casts are:

North school — Gloria Gallas, piper; Kelly Cross, Heidi; Scharme Petty, mayor.

South school, group one — Tammy Browning, piper; Jane Irwin, Heidi; Kerry McArthur, mayor.

South school, group two — Holly Jorgensen, piper; Christine Dunlap, Heidi; Tiffany Browning, mayor.

Orchestra members will be Laura Koepele, Jodi Rowe, Norman Weber, David Mayer and LaVonne Harris.

Poisonous Smoke Cloud from Saline Fire Floats Overhead

What looked like a thunderstorm passing over Chelsea last Thursday afternoon wasn't. It was the smoke plume from the raging fire at the Ford Motor Co. plastics plant in Saline, about 15 air miles southeast of the village.

Fortunately, atmospheric conditions were such that the smoke carried high over Chelsea. Had the smoke been close to the ground, at least some village residents might have had to evacuate to avoid breathing poisoned air.

The fire which broke out at about 1:45 p.m. sent up clouds of dark gray smoke which contained hydrogen cyanide — a gas once used in capital punishment death chambers — carbon monoxide, and a variety of other toxic substances.

Smoke drifted over Chelsea for about four hours before the blaze in a storage area at the Ford plant was brought under control by six fire departments who dispatched men and equipment to the scene.

Among the departments summoned to assist were Dexter and Manchester. The Chelsea fire department provided back-up stand-by service to both of those villages but was not called upon to go to Saline.

Wallace Smith's barn on his farm at 12845 Dexter-Chelsea Rd. was destroyed by fire May 17. Smith speculates the fire, which trapped 12 pigs and several laying hens inside the barn, started in faulty wiring to a heater for baby chicks. The Smiths were frustrated trying to report the fire, although they doubt it affected the outcome. They called the fire department three times to be told they had a wrong number. They finally drove to town to report it. Michigan Bell and the Chelsea Fire Department are investigating the telephone problem.

Bulldog girls softball team won the Southeastern Conference title with a 7-2 win over Saline Tuesday. They play Saline again tomorrow in a district tournament game. Chelsea's league record is 11-1, and they are 12-4 over-all.

Humidity didn't stop the more than 200 bicyclists riding in the fourth annual American Cancer Society bike-a-thon May 20 at Chrysler Proving Grounds. The group raised $13,000 in pledges.

Five members of the girls track team qualified for the state meet June 2 at the regionals Saturday in Milan, Mary Boylan, who took third in the shot put, and the second-place 880 relay team of Chris Johnson, Kathy Honbaum, Tracy Bohlender and Debbie Hohbaum.

The village's annual spring cleaning rubbish pick-up was a scavenger hunter's delight. Saturday night cars slowly cruised the streets peering at piles at the curbside. Some families put on yard lights to help illuminate their pile of cast-offs. Light furniture and household items were most popular, but someone did pick up two old, bald tires. By Sunday night, "All the best junk was gone," said one scavenger. The village picked up curbside rubbish Monday.

If the recently-defeated millage increase is not approved in another election, the school district will be forced to make cuts such as eliminate kindergarten; go for half-day sessions in the elementary schools; cut 23 elementary teachers; eliminate art, home economics, band, vocal music, 25 teachers and athletics at the high and middle school level, decided the school board at a special meeting Monday.

Flora Dora Belles won last Saturday's pancake-flipping contest on South St. in a flip-off with Hootin' Tootin' Belles. The contest was one of the village's 125th anniversary activities. Their trophy was a huge pancake on a string presented by Donald Alber, village president.

The 125th anniversary headquarters isn't the only building getting attention around here. Members of the Cavanaugh Lake Porcupines removed wall paper and cleaned the walls of McKune Memorial Library Thursday.

That saying, "Don't take a wooden nickel," doesn't apply to Chelsea during the 125th anniversary. Wooden nickels will become legal tender in area businesses throughout the celebration and be redeemable at Chelsea State Bank. There will be three issues of the coin, all in different colors.

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake of Caseyville, Ill., has accepted a call to be pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church. He will replace the retiring Rev. P. H. Grabowski, who has served the church 37 years.

The library at Chelsea High school, approximately 10 feet square, is so inadequate for the number of students it serves, it was cited as a reason why the school did not receive coveted three-year accreditation by University of Michigan, according to the school district publicity committee. To continue its accreditation by the North Central Association, the high school must have a librarian and adequate library facilities by 1955. The present library is basically a storage room not large enough to hold the 2,000 volume collection or have room to sit down and read.

Last week Chelsea Public Works Department repainted the bright yellow stripes on downtown streets which theoretically contribute to more orderly parking.

Sylvan township led the county with a 1948 tax collection rate of 98.32 percent on $26,608.36 general levy.

Economic Proposals Offered By House Republicans

A list of 38 economic development proposals, ranging from repealing Michigan's prevailing wage law to further reforms in both workers' and unemployment compensation, was recently unveiled by House Republicans.

House Republican Leader Michael Busch of Saginaw and Paul Hillemonds of Holland said the measures are aimed both at aiding existing businesses that remain in Michigan and promoting job development.

The Republican proposals came just prior to Governor Blanchard's economic development plan.

A particularly high priority for Republicans would be continued improvements in workers' compensation and unemployment compensation. While costs have been reduced in those areas, Hillemonds said, employers still point to those two areas as being detrimental to economic development.

The 38 proposals are divided into three areas: regulatory reform, reducing business costs and job development.

Items under regulatory reform include repealing the prevailing wage laws, mandating the state to purchase items from producers instead of producing those items itself, reimbursing businesses for the cost of legal defense "against clearly wrongful regulatory actions."

Repealing the prevailing wage law could be particularly important as the governor is expected to initiate a public works program using bonding funds, Hillemonds said.

The current prevailing wage statute could reduce the number of jobs available in a public works program by as much as 40 percent, he added.

Along with the workers' and unemployment comp improvements, other proposals to reduce business costs include supporting limits on medical malpractice claims, increases in the small claims court limit to $1,200 and energy cost proposals which are now "a barrier to business locating in Michigan."

In their jobs development section, the Republicans call for improvements in job training at local schools and community colleges, expanding instructional posts in engineering and sciences and joint efforts with other Great Lakes states to prevent expropriation of fresh water from the lakes.

The Republicans also urged continuing some programs already in effect, such as the target industries and small business development programs in the Department of Commerce.

Nuclear Waste

Transport Restriction

Michigan and other states that ban or limit the transport of nuclear wastes must defend their regulations in an effort to force tougher federal regulations regarding nuclear safety, a New York researcher told legislative subcommittees.

A backlog of nuclear waste is building up and will have to be shipped at some point, Marvin Resnikoff, project director at the Council on Economic Priorities, said.

The state's current regulations forbidding shipment through Michigan are being challenged by nuclear waste shippers before the federal Department of Transportation.

But if Michigan and those other states that limit transport fight those efforts and fight for tougher rules regarding nuclear waste safety, then new rules may be drafted, Resnikoff said.

Michigan bans transport because federal rules on casks that would hold the waste are not stringent enough. A Canadian laboratory has been attempting to ship nuclear wastes through Michigan to a disposal site in South Carolina, but has been blocked by the state law.

ON YOUR FEET

NEW SHAPE IN ARCH SUPPORTS

If you need one of the new orthotic foot devices to help you walk and move comfortably again, about 23 steps will be needed before the new device is ready to use.

Much better than the arch supports of old, the new orthotic devices are precisely made to conform to the contours of your feet. They will vary in length and width just as your feet do. When you first see it, it may appear shorter than it should be. But it's designed to end just behind the weight bearing surfaces. This means it won't be taking up any additional room in the average shoe.

The new devices appear narrower than your foot. In the case of a woman's shoe, it may be as much as 3/4" wider on both sides. To fit correctly, the orthotic device should fit easily into your foot without binding or spreading the heel. And it won't bulge on the sides, either.

It will take a short period of adjustment to the new device. You'll wear it for short periods at first until you get used to wearing it all day long. All preparation time is worth the comfort and stability it will bring to your feet.

HOW DO I MAKE A CONDOLENCE CALL?

1. If you're not really sure whether you should make the call or not, then do it. The family is bound to appreciate it.
2. Remember, the purpose of the call is to express sympathy and offer assistance. Don't make it a long "social" event.
3. Make the visit short—unless the bereaved asks you to stay.
4. Dress neatly, tastefully; not necessarily in mourners' black.
5. If the bereaved wish to talk, fine. Be a good listener!
6. A simple "I'm sorry about (the deceased)" is appropriate along with a firm handshake or brief embrace.
7. Leave after offering to help or doing what you've been asked to do.
8. Call back in a few days; the family will appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Chelsea Co-Op Nursery Elects Board Members

The membership of Chelsea Co-Op Nursery has elected new board members for the 1983-84 school year. Janet Phipps will be serving as chairman. Vice-chairman will be Cindy Gentner. Membership duties will be handled by Daren Dixon. Treasurer will be Lou Ann Eldred. Outdoor maintenance will be covered by Linda Szczygiel. Indoor maintenance will be overseen by Roberta Broughton. Publicity chores fall to Sandy Peace. Judy Faltel will be in charge of the newsletter. Secretary will be Marilyn Van Gurst.

Board members begin their new duties by inviting parents of children who will be 3 and/or 4 years old by this fall, as well as their little ones, to come visit the nursery. A week of Drop-In Observation will be held May 16-20. Children and their parents are encouraged to come observe and participate in a classroom session with this year's students. Our little "one-room schoolhouse" is quaint but our curriculum addresses the full range of perceptual and social skills deemed desirable in the pre-school setting.

Chelsea Co-Op Nursery is located at 11000 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., midway between Dexter and Chelsea. For class times and further details, please call Pat at 475-3282 or Debbie at 475-2825.

Players Organizing For Summer Musical

DOUGLAS FOREMAN

The term pekee, in reference to tea, refers only to the size of tea leaf—not to a variety or type.

Douglas Foreman, a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school who is now involved with the Dramatists Guild and other productions in New York City, will direct "Kiss Me Kate," the Chelsea Area Players' summer production, July 21-24.

Foreman has studied playwriting, music composition, acting and directing at the University of Michigan and the University of Denver. While at U. of M., he directed two major productions, "Pippin" in 1978 and "Grease" in 1981.

"Kiss Me Kate," a musical, takes a backstage look at some stage stars with love and ego problems, some gangsters with money problems and surprise characters with problems all their own.

The musical is a light, fast-paced comedy with some of the best songs of Cole Porter's long career.

A general information meeting for persons interested in being in the show will be held June 1 at 7:30 in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Anyone interested in previewing the scripts may call Jerri Trotter Cole at 475-9987.

Search Starts For County's Biggest Tree

Wanted—Big and Alive! Be on the lookout for a large stationary object with a brown trunk and limbs, and thousands of small green appendages, which rustle in the wind. The object is reported to be over 20 feet 6 inches in circumference at 4 1/2 feet above the ground, and will be found almost anywhere in Washtenaw county; in fence rows, "back 40" woodlots, in backyards or along roadsides.

The object is beautiful, a wonder of nature, and a reward is being offered to the finder and owner of this object. The object of the search of course, is a tree! Not just any tree, but the biggest tree in Washtenaw county. This champion tree is still at large and all Washtenaw county residents are urged to search for this tree so it may be recognized.

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District is sponsoring its sixth annual Big Tree Contest, in conjunction with the Tri-County Logging Co. of Clinton. Object of the contest is to find the biggest tree in Washtenaw county, and promote the benefits of forestry and soil conservation.

To enter the contest a tree must be alive and be in Washtenaw county. Anyone may enter a tree (even if not the owner) but the winning owner will receive a plaque to mark the big tree, a tree identification handbook, and a $25 cash prize presented by Tri-County Logging. The person who enters the winning tree will receive a certificate for 100 tree seedlings from the Soil Conservation District.

The present champion tree which measures 20 feet 6 inches in circumference at 4 1/2 feet above the ground, has reigned since 1980, and competition has been slim since then. So, why not get out and enjoy the outdoors and have some fun searching for that big tree.

To obtain an entry form for the Big Tree Contest, which closes Nov. 15, contact the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103; telephone: (313) 761-6721.

Farmers Fall Behind In Planting Schedules

Western Washtenaw county farmers are in at least a little bit of trouble because of this spring's wet weather which has delayed planting of corn, oats and other crops, county extension agent Bill Ames says.

"Our farmers are way behind schedule," Ames said. "The fields have just been too wet to work. Last week's good weather helped, but it didn't make up for all the earlier delays. A farmer can do only so much in a day."

Any crop that goes into the ground after May 10 is probably going to come up short at harvest time, Ames explained. "No matter how good the rest of the growing season is, the chances are that some bushels per acre will be lost because of late planting," he said.

As of May 10, about 5 percent of Washtenaw's 50,000 acres scheduled to be planted to corn had been seeded. About half the oats acreage had been planted.

"It's hard to get a clear picture this spring because of the federal PIK (Payment In Kind) program," Ames said. "Only the best lands will be planted and, with the wet weather, farmers are working in higher ground that dries first, setting aside the wet lowlands that they can't get onto with machinery."

"That could cause problems later on if we have a dry summer because the high ground is more susceptible to drought. The outlook is kind of mixed right now. Things could come out all right or we could be in tough shape. It all depends on the weather from here on."

Lori Hunker, Washtenaw County executive director of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), said about one-third of the county's 75,000 acres of corn land will be kept out of production this year under the PIK program. Wheat acreage will be reduced by about one-eighth. Oats do not come under PIK.

The program provides that farmers who voluntarily retire land from production will receive "free" grain equal to 90 percent of what the land would have produced if planted and harvested. They will be able to use the grain for whatever purpose they choose. The may market it or feed it to livestock.

The grain will come from surpluses accumulated in government storage during recent bumper-crop years. The idea is to reduce surpluses and thus firm up prices that farmers get for grain.

Family Fitness Walk Planned By Hospital

The entire family will have the opportunity to get together and enjoy a healthy walk in the great outdoors!

As part of Chelsea Community Hospital's celebration of National Hospital Week, a "Family Fitness Walk" has been planned for Saturday, May 21 on the Hospital's Fitness Trail.

Families are encouraged to participate in this free event to promote health in their family.

The Chelsea Fitness Trail is an outdoor exercise course designed to help people of all ages develop and maintain physical fitness. It consists of a 1 1/4 mile foot path which begins at Pierce Park and continues through the woods encircling the hospital with 15 exercise stations at intervals along the trail. A sign at each station tells the person what exercise to do, how to do it, and how many times to do it. The course is non-competitive and each person uses the exercise according to his/her own fitness level. The user may jog or hike from station to station at his/her own pace and may choose to do any or all of the exercises.

The walk is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. for those who wish to walk with a group, a guide will be leading the walks every half hour beginning at 10:30 a.m. with the last one leaving at 12 p.m. The "Walk" begins at Pierce Park on M-52 (Main Street) approximately one block north of Old US-12 in Chelsea. Maps of the trail will be provided to those persons who choose to walk the trail on their own without a guide.

One free raffle ticket will be given to each walker at the beginning of the trail. The raffle will be held in Pierce Park following the walk at approximately 1 p.m. First prize will be a gift certificate for a jogging suit. There will be two second prizes given away; a gift certificate for a pair of tennis shoes. Ten third prizes

Blood Donors Needed To Assure Red Cross Help

Community members willing to donate blood are needed for the Chelsea High school blood drive from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Friday, May 20 in room 23 of the science building.

Thirty students and staff have signed up for the drive sponsored by health careers students, and 60 are needed for the Red Cross to run the drive.

Age restrictions on donations make it difficult to find eligible donors in the school population.

Call the school at 475-9131 to sign up. Donation and the obligatory rest period following, during which time one gets juice and refreshments, takes about 45 to 60 minutes total.

Plan Comm. OKs Addition To Big Boy

Chelsea Big Boy's proposed addition and new meal feature may mean new jobs for the area.

Village planning commission approved the site plan for an atrium addition to the northeast corner of the building (to the right of the entrance) at its meeting May 10.

The addition, similar to the ones at the Elias Brothers restaurants on Washtenaw Ave. in Ann Arbor and Tecumseh, will increase seating capacity and probably create new jobs for cooks, service personnel and waitresses.

Bill Nilan, owner, says he expects construction to begin before the end of May and last about six weeks. During that time the interior of the restaurant will also be remodeled, with new wallpaper and booths. Remodeling will be done by sections, so neither it nor construction will interfere with the business' regular schedule.

By the end of the month Nilan plans to include a breakfast bar, an all-you-can-eat breakfast plan which has been very popular in other Elias restaurants. Nilan says he has gotten calls from customers who plan their trips along I-94 on the basis of this meal.

Nilan is attending an Elias convention this week in Pontiac and will have a better idea on the number of new jobs created by the addition and breakfast bar after the convention.

Brighton Hospital Starts Course On Alcoholism

Brighton Hospital has announced the third in a series of a new educational outreach program on the subject of alcoholism. The hospital will sponsor an informational series at 6 p.m. the first Tuesday of each month. Some of the topics covered will include: Who is the Alcoholic, The Disease Concept of Alcoholism, Where is the Alcoholic Going, The Enablers, Intervention, etc. Trained alcoholism counselors will be on hand at each meeting to facilitate the information process and to answer questions.

If you are concerned about a loved one or an associate who believe to have a problem with alcohol, this is a good opportunity to come and learn more about the disease of alcoholism and what can be done about it. This program is free and open to the public.

The next meeting will be at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, June 7, and is entitled "Disease Concept of Alcoholism." Each meeting will last approximately 1½ hours and will be held in the Brighton Hospital Chapel.

Brighton Hospital is located at 12851 E. Grand River, Brighton, at the corner of Kensington Rd. and Grand River, just off the I-96 expressway.

County 4-H Club Horse Judging Members Place in State Contest

The competing teams won awards in the horse judging oral reasons Senior Regular and Junior Regular divisions of the contest. Members evaluated eight halter and performance classes and defended their placings orally before an official contest judge.

Andrea Wood of South Lyon also placed first in the horse judging oral reasons Junior Regular division as an individual contestant.

In addition to the horse judging contest, a variety of other horse-related contests were held during the jamboree, including public speaking, method demonstrations, slide presentation and Horse Bowl competitions.

More than 400 Michigan 4-H members participated in the 11th annual state-wide event.

The Washtenaw county team members were honored for their accomplishment at a special 4-H Horse JamboREE awards breakfast April 17 at the MSU International Center.

Saline Ford Plant Fire

"For awhile we were spread pretty thin," Chelsea fire chief Paul Hanker said. "We were covering for most of the west part of the county. We were lucky that nothing happened out this way while the Saline fire was burning."

"We would have gone to Saline if called, but I'm glad we didn't have to. That kind of a fire is really tough to fight, and there definitely are some risks for the firemen. Toxic smoke is bad news."

Arson is suspected in the fire, which destroyed a large quantity of plastic parts stored in sheds behind the Ford manufacturing plant at Saline. Many of the parts were plated with chrome, nickel and copper, which added to the mix of poisonous gases in the smoke cloud.

Ironically, the parts that burned were rejects stored temporarily for recycling.

The wind was coming out of the southeast during the fire, an uncommon occurrence in this region of prevailing winds from the west. That unusual southeast wind caused the smoke to blow directly toward and over Chelsea.

IDENTICAL TWINS Bate Engelhart, left, and Mate Luick will celebrate their 90th birthday May 30. They were born and married in the family farmhouse behind them on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. They now live in a home next door.

ALWAYS TOGETHER...

Identical Twins, Mate, Bate, Prepare for 90th Birthday

By PEGGY PAGE

In these days when a premium is placed on individuality—finding one's self and all that—the relationship between identical twins Mate Luick and Bate Engelhart of Dexter-Chelsea Rd. is unusual both because of its closeness and its length.

The women will turn 90 May 30. Festivities begin this week-end with a pot-luck dinner in their honor at noon Sunday, May 22 at Covenant church.

They have been together most of their lives. Although marriage often separates twins, Mrs. Luick was widowed shortly after her marriage. But she wasn't alone—she had Bate.

The twins were born May 30, 1893 to Christ and Anne Klein in the farmhouse next door to where they now live. Their father was a twin himself. He and his twin, Fred, married a set of sisters.

Their family photo album chronicles their resemblance as babies, toddlers, and girls. Their mother told them who was who in the photographs, but they cannot remember now.

They actually looked more alike then. In 1940 Mrs. Luick broke her jaw and nose in a severe automobile accident which altered her facial bone structure slightly, but which was not disfiguring.

Mrs. Luick and Mrs. Engelhart have dressed alike as long as they can remember. A store in Jackson would always save two identical or same style-different colored dresses for them. Family and friends knew their preference was to dress alike, and only once did they get outfits which were different.

Similar hats were a little tougher to find, but the twins were lucky. There was a local millineress who made them identical hats until hats went out of fashion.

They married a set of cousins they had known growing up, Henry Engelhart and John Luick, Sept. 28, 1918 in a double home wedding. John's sister made them identical wedding gowns.

On their honeymoons to Chicago, they visited John's sister, who had twin babies herself. Flu and pneumonia were going around Chicago and they met several persons with it at post-nuptial festivities held for them.

John Luick was sick by the time they returned to Chelsea, and died 20 days after his wedding. (Henry Engelhart died in 1974.)

In those days wedding pictures were often taken after the wedding. Bate has a beautiful tinted photograph of herself and Henry in their wedding finery. Mate also has a beautiful portrait—but it's just of herself.

But Mrs. Luick wasn't alone. Within a few years she and the Engelharts moved back to the family farm, which Henry worked.

Their longest separation was when Mate was in the hospital for eight weeks after the automobile accident, but Bate visited daily.

They said they were too busy with household and farm chores to ever develop hobbies, but they did travel frequently.

Barn Dance Tickets Now Available

Tickets are now on sale for the 10th and last Old Fashioned Barn Dance, which supports local special olympians, at 9 p.m. Saturday, June 18 at the Trinkle farm, 9631 Trinkle Rd., Dexter.

Luke Schaible will provide round and square dance music. Refreshments and set-ups will be available.

Prizes will be given to those best-dressed in 1890's style. Suggested attire for women is long skirts, and for men, bow ties, top hats and vests. There will also be door prizes donated by Chelsea and Dexter area merchants.

Tickets are available at Vogel's and Foster's, Heydlaff's and McCalla's Feeds in Chelsea, and at McLeod's Drugs, Bouillon Sales and Service and the Captains Table in Dexter.

An organizational meeting was held May 9 at Bonnie Basso's home. The committee will meet June 12 to prepare the barn.

Twins Usually Enjoy Special Relationship

By PEGGY PAGE

Non-twins seem fascinated with twin relationships. As a twin myself, I know.

Ever since I've been able to talk, I've answered these stock questions, "What's it like? ... Is it strange? ... How does one tell you two apart?"

Well, I think all you single babies out there are weird. I can't imagine growing up alone. Although I haven't had children yet, I hope I get twins, because it would seem so odd to have a single baby.

Although my twin and I are close instead of rivals, we have a different relationship than Mate Luick and Bate Engelhart of Dexter-Chelsea Rd., identical twins who will celebrate their 90th birthday May 30.

They have lived most of their lives together, enjoying their resemblance and emphasizing it, whereas Susie and I have fought the modern battle of individuality.

We began wearing different clothes when we entered kindergarten. Our schools were usually large enough so we could be in different classrooms. My most miserable year of school was fourth grade when we had the same teacher and were constantly compared. One year we couldn't agree on whether to have chocolate or yellow icing on our birthday cake, so it was iced half of each.

We applied to different colleges, with only our "sure bet" in common, so we ended up more than 800 miles apart. Graduate school, however, was only 650 miles apart.

Now she lives in our home state of North Carolina and I live in Ann Arbor. She married an Australian graduate student and will be moving there in a few years. (It's an appalling airfare to Sydney.)

Yet for all our purposeful separation, we are still close. She was the most important person in my life until we both married, (the same week-end for the convenience of our many relatives). It was a big but natural change in our relationship.

And we do have many coincidences in our life which convinces others of a special psychic connection. I don't believe, but ...

My then-boyfriend and I sent a letter to my parents in which he requested my hand in marriage on a Thursday. Sunday night my folks had a visit from Susie and John announcing their marital intent, and got the letter from Michigan the next day.

We chose almost matching engagement rings 650 miles away from each other. Both our husbands are in academia and come from families of three, two boys and one girl.

For our first anniversaries, we both sent each other negligees guaranteed to make each other aunts, with again no collusion.

So whether one strives to be different, like we did, or emphasizes similarity like Mrs. Engelhart and Mrs. Luick, a good case can be made for the special relationship between twins.

When I met them last winter when they renewed their Chelsea Standard subscription, my first thought was to hope Susie and I celebrate our 90th birthday together.

Mrs. Leona Beeman Retiring After 42 Years As Teacher

Mrs. Leona Beeman is retiring this spring after 42 years as a teacher and administrator, the last 35 of them at the Katz elementary school in Munith, which is in the Stockbridge school system. She has been principal at Katz since 1966.

Born in Waterloo, the daughter of Victor and Ione Moeckel, she attended the Waterloo school for eight years and was graduated from Chelsea High school in 1935. She went on to Eastern Michigan University (then Michigan State Normal College) to earn her teaching certificate.

Mrs. Beeman first taught at the old Riemenschneider country school on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. west of Chelsea and spent seven years there, between times returning to college for additional education. She took a job at Munith in 1948 and has been there ever since as a teacher and principal.

Mrs. Beeman's husband, Wilbur, is president of the Munith State Bank. The Beemans have a son, Gordon, and a grandson, Eric.

With her "school days" coming to an end, Mrs. Beeman looks forward to keeping busy with her hobbies which include bowling, golf, swimming and music (piano and organ). She also plans to work part-time in a country store and keep on teaching Sunday school.

"She has dedicated her life to the children in the Munith area," Stockbridge interim school superintendent Robert Boyd said. "Replacing her and her dedication will not be easy."

An open house for Mrs. Beeman will be held next Sunday, May 22, at the Katz school beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Chelsea Post Office Now Offers Next-Day Delivery

The U. S. Postal Service has announced the availability of next-day express mail service from Chelsea to more than 500 major metropolitan destination cities across the United States.

Express mail service has been designed to meet the increasing demand for fast, reliable delivery of letters, documents, merchandise and other mailable items. It is the Postal Service's top-of-the-line service, with a 95% on-time delivery record, Chelsea post office's officer-in-charge Tim Cooper said.

"This is another effort on the part of the Postal Service aimed at better serving the delivery needs of urgent mail, especially business mail with a need for expedited service," Cooper added.

Customers may deposit any mailable item at the Chelsea post office before 3:45 p.m. Express mail can also be accepted between 3:45 and 5 p.m. However, during that time the number of destination cities which can be reached is limited.

Two types of service are available. Post office to post office express mail service offers availability at the destination post office as early as 10 a.m. of the next retail business day. Post office to addressee express mail service offers delivery to the addressee's home or place of business as early as 9 a.m. but no later than 3 p.m. the next day.

Pickup of next-day service express mail is available on a scheduled basis. Any item weighing up to 70 pounds and up to 108 inches in length and girth combined may be mailed by express mail. This service offers a full postage refund to the mailer if delivery is late, unless delayed by a strike or work stoppage. Document reconstruction insurance of up to $50,000 per piece and merchandise insurance up to a value of $500 are provided at no extra charge.

The Chelsea post office is one of 35 recently added offices to the express mail program. For further details customers should call the Chelsea post office.

Stockbridge Sewer Grant Finally OK'd

Take heart, Chelsea. It is indeed possible to obtain a grant for a wastewater treatment construction project. Neighboring Stockbridge has proved it by doing it. What is required, apparently, is patience and persistence—lots of it.

Back in 1964 Stockbridge began work to upgrade its handling of sanitary wastes. A new treatment facility was built and 21,000 feet of sewers lines installed before the $360,000 raised from two local bond issues ran out. The system was about 60 percent complete.

The unfinished project lay dormant until 1973, when the village applied for federal help to do the rest of the job. Almost exactly 10 years later the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approved a $1,381,700 grant so Stockbridge can get on with it.

Meanwhile, needs have grown to the point where a second treatment facility is required and the old one built in 1964 has to be repaired and modernized. That, plus other improvements to the system, will cost an estimated $1,714,000.

The village will borrow $390,000 from the Farmer's Home Administration to make up the difference between the EPA grant and the expected total cost.

"It's been discouraging," said Stockbridge village president

Official State Map Ready for Distribution

An unusual aerial view of the Mackinac Bridge is the cover photo for the 1983 Official Transportation Map of Michigan. It is the first official new map published by the state in three years.

A celebration marking the first quarter century of the five-mile-long span connecting the two peninsulas of Michigan began on the 25th anniversary of its opening last Nov. 1 and is continuing this year.

Michigan, like the other 49 states, uses its map as a tool for its multi-billion-dollar tourist industry. Copies are distributed, on request, to Michigan residents and will be available throughout the state by mid-May.

Some three million copies will be distributed free over the next two years, guiding travelers along the state highway system, on primary county roads and the major thoroughfares of the state's metropolitan areas.

Users also can locate airports having lighted runways at least 3,000 feet in length; rail passenger lines and stations; ferry routes, intercity bus terminals and hospitals offering 24-hour emergency service, freeway rest areas and roadside parks.

For the first time, the map shows the location of public recreational harbors on the Great Lakes in addition to commercial harbors. Another new feature is an explanation of highway symbol signs for food, lodging and other motorist services.

The front cover is emblazoned with the now familiar slogan "Say Yes to Michigan!" The back cover features a photo of Gov. James J. Blanchard and a "Welcome to Michigan" message to out-of-state visitors.

Inside is a stunning photo display of some of the state's outstanding scenery and tourist attractions, all of them from the files of the Michigan Travel Bureau. They represent all areas of Michigan, from the summertime ethnic festivals in downtown Detroit to the rugged, unspoiled Porcupine Mountains of the Upper Peninsula.

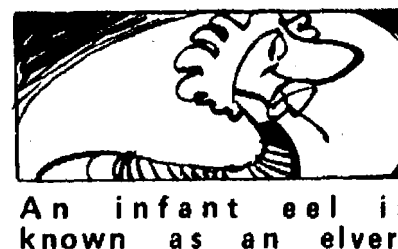

The map contains information panels on Michigan speed limits, the freeway exit numbering system, Michigan historical markers, highway distances from city to city, location and phone numbers for State Police posts and district offices of MDOT and fares charged on such facilities as the Mackinac Bridge.

The map also identifies all state parks and lists their types of accommodations and provides an index to Michigan cities and villages. Various state symbols such as the state bird (robin) and stone (Potosky) also are shown.

The new map may be obtained, at no cost, at numerous locations, including all MDOT district offices and the 10 travel information centers operated by MDOT. Other distribution points include state police posts, district offices of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, local chambers of commerce, municipal government offices and regional tourist associations.

The Department of Transportation also will mail maps to individuals upon request. Requests should be made on a post card (not in a sealed envelope) providing name, address and zip code of the requester. Post cards should be mailed to:

Seven Seniors Cited In Accounting Studies

Seven Chelsea High school seniors have been honored by the United States Achievement Academy for excellence in the study of accounting. Students chosen are recommended by their teachers and are selected for academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and co-operative spirit, and dependability.

The Chelsea High winners and their future education plans are: Kathy Degener, daughter of Lynn and Mary Degener, 528 Lane St., will study accounting at Michigan State University.

Jeffrey Haist, son of Kenneth and Barbara Haist, 1022 Haist Rd., will attend Central Michigan University and major in business.

Roadside Parks, Rest Areas Ready For Summer Use

Uncovered drinking fountains and northbound warblers may be sure indications of spring, but another, more subtle sign of the season is occurring along Michigan's 9,500 miles of highways.

Right now, maintenance crews throughout the state are reopening 102 of the 103 roadside parks which were closed for the winter.

They are bringing out the picnic tables, sprucing up the grounds, sowing new grass and testing well water.

The Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT), which maintains 103 roadside parks and 76 freeway rest areas, said all parks will be open by mid-May.

Some 40 million motorists stop at the parks and rest areas every year.

The department closed all but one roadside park last December to reduce maintenance costs.

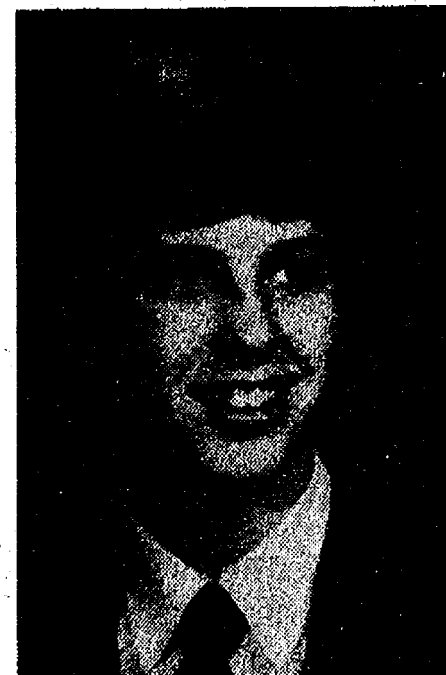

Jana Lynn Knickerbocker, daughter of George Knickerbocker, 455 Washington St., will attend the University of Michigan residential college.

Randalyn Larson, daughter of Arlene Larson, 45 Butternut St., and the late Darrell Larson, will study accounting and business law at the University of Michigan.

Celeste Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell of 1030 N. Fletcher Rd., will major in business at either Grand Valley State or Ferris State College.

Anita Roderick, daughter of Barbara and Gary Roderick, 9508 Beeman Rd., will study accounting and word processing at Washtenaw Community College.

Michael Smith, son of Denham and Judith Smith, 133 Orchard St., will attend Albion College in pre-law and business.

Metroparks Are Ready for Memorial Day

Hudson Mills, Dexter-Huron and Delhi Metroparks, each located near Dexter along the Huron River, are ready for the three day holiday weekend.

Hudson Mills (1,524 acres) has heavily-wooded areas, two shelters, lagoon, rustic bridges, a nature trail, picnic tables, stoves, playground equipment, roads and parking lots and bike-hike trail. The rapids are colorful, shorefishing is popular and there are two canoe campsites.

The Acorn Nature Trail is ¾ miles in length and takes hikers near the Huron River, through densely wooded areas and handsome flowering dogwood trees. Self-guided hikes are popular.

Dexter-Huron (125 acres) and Delhi (46 acres) Metroparks, also primarily picnic-playground parks, are favorite picnic spots with family groups. Groups of 50 or more persons should contact the park office to arrange outings. Picnic areas and tables are on a first-come, first-serve basis. Water and sanitary facilities are available.

Camping by organized youth groups is available with permits ($5 per group per visit) issued at the Hudson Mills Office. No family camping is permitted in any HCMA Metropark.

Canoe rentals are available at Delhi Metropark, with information available by contacting Hudson Mills Metropark (426-8211). There are two trips: from Hudson Mills to Delhi, $14, or from Dexter-Huron to Delhi, $8. For group information contact Skip's Huron River Canoe Livery, phone: 769-8686 (Ann Arbor).

Park hours are 8 a.m. to sunset daily, unless otherwise posted. For additional information contact Hudson Mills Metropark (426-8211).

Required year-around are the 1983 Metropark Vehicle Entry Permits (Annual - regular-$7, senior citizen-$2 or daily-$2).

SQUISH, SQUISH, SQUISH: Cheryl Blough was one of the sixth graders camping at Mill Lake in the second session last week. The ground near the shoreline where the canoes were beached oozed mud. Cheryl hopped on one foot while she made a tough decision between muddy feet, muddy socks or muddy shoes.

MUDDY DEPARTURE: Canoeing was one of the activities at the annual sixth grade camping trip to Mill Lake last week. The shoreline hadn't dried from recent rains and oozed mud between one's toes, but the canoes had heated up in the sunshine to be hot to the touch. Students took a two-hour trip around the lake with instruction from parents and teachers on paddling and steering.

Schools Plan Drastic Cuts If Millage Fails

work-study and auto mechanics/shop, and field trips, such as to the space museum in Jackson, sixth grade camp, to Chelsea Community Hospital and the village sewage treatment plant.

Conference and travel would be reduced for all district personnel. In the administrative budget, reductions would come in areas such as legal fees, postage, supplies and printing.

Local property assessments decreased by more than $10 million, which translates into $328,940 less in property tax income for the schools.

The schools have no special immunity to inflation either. The school district's tentative budget estimates a 15 percent inflation rate for school supplies, a 20 percent increase for employee benefits and a 10 percent increase in insurance costs.

Chelsea is an out-of-formula school district, which means more than 95 percent of its funding comes from property taxes. That recent increase in state income tax won't help the Chelsea school district.

The millage increase may or may not raise the school district portion of one's property tax bill, depending on whether one's state equalized valuation, which is multiplied by the millage rate, went up or down.

The June 13 ballot also includes renewal of the one-half mill specifically designated for maintenance. That one-half mill would be used for building repairs and much-needed improvements to the high schools tennis courts, football field or track. Incumbent Arthur E. Dils is the only candidate for the one school board trustee vacancy.

Since March of 1976, school district voters' record on millage proposals has been eight approvals and six denials. Although the voters have approved millage renewals in that time, they have a 6-3 record for denying millage increases.

district and the Village Council should address the problem."

The site plan for an addition to Chelsea Big Big to increase seating capacity was approved. The site plan for an addition to Broderick Tower Shell was approved contingent on approval of the village engineer. Both businesses on S. Main.

The addition to the service station would almost double the size of the present building. Chuck Broderick said they had no definite plans on what they would do with the addition, perhaps use it for storage.

Two zoning ordinance amendments were also approved and will now go to the village council.

One amendment was to rezone a lot on Madison St., bounded by the railroad tracks and Cemetery Dr. from agricultural to two-family residential. Donald Cole plans to move an old house to the lot. The other amendment added sign setback and area requirements to light and restricted industrial districts.

New County Map Now Available

Washtenaw County Road Commission has produced a new county map in co-operation with the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors and, generally speaking, it's a dandy, by far the best county map ever published. Printed in six colors plus black on white paper, the map is 52" by 27" in size, and that may be its only drawback. It is so large as to be a bit clumsy to handle, especially in a motor vehicle. You need to spread it out on a desk or table to get a good look. One side of the map depicts all of Washtenaw county—the 20 townships, all cities and villages, roads and streets, lakes and streams, railroads, town and range surveying grids, house numbers by blocks, boundary lines, and other features. An accompanying index locates by co-ordinates all roads and streets everywhere except Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. If there is a criticism of that side of the map it is that city and village street names are printed in type so small as to be hard to read unless your eyes are exceptionally sharp. That problem is taken care of on the reverse side of the map, which features a large blow-up of the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti urban area plus smaller section maps of Manchester, Saline, Pinckney (which is in Livingston county), Chelsea and the Whitmore Lake area. Another feature is a section map of what is labelled as the "Waterland Area"—Dexter, Webster and Northfield townships in Washtenaw county, Putnam, Hamburg and Green Oak townships in Livingston. Street names are easy to read, and there is a co-ordinate index to them. The map is available at the County Road Commission offices, 555 N. Zeeb Rd., between the hours of 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on weekdays. One copy will be given free to county residents who come in and sign for it. Additional copies are priced at $1. The map cannot be obtained by mail. Members of the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors also have copies for distribution at their discretion.

Eight is enough.

If you're paying more than $8 a month for your business checking account, your bank is giving you the business.

Average Available Business Checking Balance	Monthly Service Charge
$2000 or more	$0
$1000 to $1999	$5
$1 to $999	$8

How much are you paying for a business checking account at your bank? As much as $20 some months? Thirty? Fifty?

If you open an account at Ann Arbor Trust, you'll pay no more than $8 a month. Any month. And you could, with ease, maintain your account for free.

You see, we charge you only if your available balance falls below $2000. If you keep an average available monthly balance of between $1 and $999 in your account, you pay just an $8 monthly service fee. Between $1000 and $1999, just a $5 monthly fee. And a balance of $2000 or more in your account means you pay no service charges at all.

That's a welcome change from the policies of some area banks who charge you for each deposit you make, every check you write, and a monthly service fee to boot.

Next month, when your monthly statement arrives, sit down and figure out how much your account is costing you. Then move your money to Ann Arbor Trust. Because we feel eight dollars is enough.

Fire Dept. Activity Behind '82 Pace

Chelsea's fire department is running well behind its year-ago-at-this-time activity, according to a monthly report for April submitted to the village council. Fire runs for the first four months of 1983 totalled 96, compared to 117 in the comparable period of 1982, a decrease of 21. For the month of April, the figures were 25 and 41 a drop of 16. The difference probably reflects this year's cold, wet spring which has kept grass fires below normal numbers. During this past April the department answered eight calls in Lyndon township, six in the village of Chelsea, five each in Sylvan and Lima townships, and one in Dexter township. There were seven grass fires, five rescue runs, four calls to traffic accidents, and a miscellany of other alarms. Department members donated a total of 80 man-hours to helping stranded motorists and campers in the wake of the April 17 storm which dumped a surprise 10 inches of snow on the Chelsea area. Twenty-one persons were brought to the fire hall and provided with food and shelter. Also donated were 20 hours to repair the department's hose dryer and eight hours to install lights on the fire truck.

Bulldogs Run Out of Pitchers in Final Game Of County Tournament

Chelsea's varsity baseball team made it to the final game of the Washtenaw County Baseball Tournament but just plain ran out of pitchers and finally lost to Ann Arbor Huron.

The Bulldogs thumped Pinckney, 18-10, in a loosely played morning contest, then went on to play what coach Wayne Welton called "our best game of the season in some ways" to defeat Ann Arbor Pioneer, 6-3, in a match that started at noon.

The victory over Pioneer left Chelsea as the only undefeated team in the tourney, with a 4-0 record. The Bulldogs then had to wait three hours to find out who they would play for the championship.

"The delay hurt us," coach Wayne Welton said. "We were already in difficulty because of our thin pitching staff, and that three-hour wait allowed muscles to cool down and tighten up. Our pitchers did their best, but they were tired."

Result was a 10-1 victory for the River Rats.

"I think it was quite an accomplishment for our young team to get into the final game," Welton said. "The competition in the 14-school tournament was very tough. We certainly have nothing to be ashamed of. And I honestly believe we could have won the last game if we hadn't had that long wait."

Chelsea scored 18 runs on only 11 hits in its win over Pinckney. The Bulldogs benefited from 12 bases on balls and five Pirate errors.

Jay Marshall went the first five innings and got credit for the pitching victory. Freshman Mark Mull, brought up from the junior varsity to add some hurling depth for the tournament, came on in the sixth to earn a save after Pinckney had narrowed the score to four runs.

Rod Robeson, Doug Pagliarini, Marshall and Rick Boham had two hits apiece for Chelsea. One of Pagliarini's blows was a bases-loaded triple.

Outstanding pitching by Pagliarini featured the Bulldogs' impressive victory over Class A Pioneer. He scattered six hits and might have had a shutout but for some Bulldog defensive lapses in the sixth inning when Pioneer scored three unearned runs.

Matt Villemure was the hitting hero with a two-run single in the second inning and another clutch RBI hit in the top of the seventh when Chelsea needed runs to maintain its lead.

Pagliarini started the final game against Huron and kept it close for three innings before he had to leave the game because of a tournament rule which limits a pitcher to no more than 10 innings of work in one day.

"It's a good rule," Welton said. "No game is worth risking an injury to a young pitcher's arm."

Ken Nadeau took over with the Bulldogs down only 2-1. He held Huron scoreless in the fourth but tired in the fifth after having pitched a full game against Tecumseh the previous day. The River Rats broke loose for five runs, and that pretty much ended things.

Chuck Downer, another fill-in pitcher from the JV team, and Mull divided the last two innings.

PAGLIARINI AT WORK: The strain of pitching shows on the face of Doug Pagliarini as he delivers the ball with his whole body behind it. "Pag" has had an excellent season so far. When he isn't pitching, he plays shortstop, and he also swings a potent bat.

JV Baseball Team Wins 3 Last Week

Chelsea High school's junior varsity baseball team had a busy and good week last week, winning three of four games.

The Bulldogs beat Jackson County Western, Milan and Tecumseh, and dropped a close one to Saline.

Chelsea 9, JC Western 6
Chelsea JV baseball team rallied for five runs in the sixth inning to come from behind and defeat Western last Monday, May 9. Brian Farley was the hitting hero, with four runs batted in on a pair of bases-loaded singles. His second clutch hit brought across the tying and go-ahead runs.

Eric Schaffner was the winning pitcher, going the route and also helping his own cause with two doubles and two RBIs. Evan Roberts had two hits, and Charlie Koehn and Tony Hamerschmidt one each.

Mark Mull turned in an unassisted double-play at second base, grabbing a line drive and stepping on the bag to double-up a runner who had strayed too far.

Chelsea 10, Milan 6
The sixth inning proved to be the big one for Chelsea again last Tuesday as the Bulldog JV's plated five runs to lock up a 10-6 victory, after Milan had battled back from a 5-0 deficit to narrow the margin to 5-4.

Chuck Downer was the winning pitcher, with relief help from Brian Farley who earned a save despite giving up two runs in the two innings he worked.

Farley delivered a key single to drive in two runs, and Eric Schaffner unloaded the bases with a clutch double that put three tallies on the scoreboard in the big sixth inning. Keith Neibauer had two hits including a triple and Jim Toon and Dave Gibson one each. Toon also walked twice and stole three bases.

Saline 7, Chelsea 5
Down 7-0 going into the last inning, Chelsea's JV baseball team rallied for five runs, got the tying runs on base, and had the potential winning run at the plate. A solid line drive that was speared in the infield ended the game with Saline a 7-5 winner in a game played there last Wednesday.

Three unearned runs in the sixth inning gave Saline the victory. An error on a ground ball which should have been the third out opened the door, and the next hitter smacked a triple which cleared the loaded bases.

"Saline is very good, and you can't afford to give them any opportunities," Bulldog coach Ken Larson said. "I'm proud of the way our kids battled back. They are scrappers."

Chuck Downer was four-for-four at the plate for Chelsea and had two runs batted in. Keith Neibauer had a two-run triple. Mark Mull cracked two hits, and Dean Boote and Brian Farley one each. Evan Roberts sparked defensively, handling seven chances at second base.

Mull pitched all the way for the Bulldogs, giving up eight hits.

Slow-Pitch Softball Tourney Set

The third annual slow pitch softball tournament, sponsored by the Chelsea Big Boy restaurant, will be held here May 20-22.

Games will be played Friday, Saturday and Sunday on both the high school and Beach middle school diamonds.

Sixteen teams will compete in the double elimination tournament. Entry fee is $100. Trophies will be awarded to top performing teams, individuals and sponsors. Proceeds will go to support the high school baseball program.

Wayne Welton, Chelsea high school varsity baseball coach, is tournament director. Welton, a former baseball pitcher, also plays softball as an infielder. "I never figured out how to throw the underhand softball pitch," he said.

In slow pitch softball, the ball must be delivered so that it rises above the batter's shoulders before descending into the strike zone. It makes for a free-hitting game with few strikeouts and emphasis on defense, exciting both to play and watch.

Donna Popovich Hurls No-Hitter Against Western

Donna Popovich had her first no-hitter of the season in the Bulldog softball team's 15-0 mercy win over Jackson County Western May 9 at home.

Popovich had seven strikeouts and one walk in the five inning game.

Chelsea scored one run each in the first and second innings, five in the third, and eight in the bottom of the fourth.

Lisa Beeman had two hits, one a three RBI double in the fourth inning, the other a one RBI hit. Margie Rawson had a two RBI single, and Debbie Morris had two hits.

control as he pitched a strong seven-hitter while striking out six and walking two, as the Chelsea JV baseball team defeated visiting Tecumseh, 6-1, last Friday.

Schaffner got fine support from his teammates both at bat and in the field. The Bulldogs pounded out 11 hits, including a home run by Dave Gibson, the first hit by anybody on the Chelsea diamond this season. "It was a line drive to left center that just kept on rolling and rolling," coach Ken Larson said.

Gipson also had a single. Evan Roberts, Chuck Downer and Mark Mull likewise turned in two hits apiece.

The Bulldogs played what Larson called "our best defensive game of the season." Center-fielder Charlie Koehn threw out two runners at third base with perfect throws. "He nailed each of them by a good 10 feet," Larson said.

The victory advanced the JV season record to a sparkling 9-3, 5-3 in Southeastern Conference. The Bulldogs are in second place in the SEC, trailing undefeated Saline.

Bulldogs Win One, Lose Two in Week Of SEC Baseball

Needing to win every game to stay in contention for the Southeastern Conference baseball crown, Chelsea dropped two of three league contests last week and left themselves with only a mathematical chance.

The two losses were both close and tough. The Bulldogs bowed to Jackson County Western, 4-2, in a game they didn't figure on paper to lose, and dropped a tight 3-1 contest to Saline, which looks to be the SEC's most solid ball club and is tied with Milan for the league lead.

The Bulldogs came back with a 10-2 victory over Tecumseh to salvage something from the week of conference play.

Western Wins, 4-2, In Pitching Duel

Chelsea's hopes for a Southeastern Conference baseball championship took a tumble last Monday, May 9, as the Bulldogs lost to Jackson County Western, 4-2.

After pounding out 31 hits and scoring 27 runs in two county tournament games the previous Saturday, the Bulldogs' bats fell silent against Western. They managed just five safeties good for two runs, and that wasn't enough.

"Western has a left-handed pitcher who throws 'junk'—a lot of knuckleballs and slow curves—and gets it over the plate," Chelsea coach Wayne Welton said. "Our boys hadn't seen anything like that before, and weren't able to adjust. Again, our inexperience showed."

"We're pretty good fastball hitters, but the slow stuff gives us problems. It takes experience to learn how to handle it."

Ken Nadeau pitched for Chelsea and threw a steady six-hitter which ordinarily would have been good enough to win had the Bulldog batters given him some support.

Doug Pagliarini, who plays shortstop when he isn't pitching, had two hits for Chelsea and drove in a run. Rod Robeson scored the other Bulldog run on a steal of home. The Bulldogs had seven stolen bases for the game.

The contest, played at Western, was tied 2-2 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, Western, playing in its last season as a member of the SEC, put across two runs which Chelsea couldn't match, and that was the story of the game.

Saline Tops Fine Defensive Contest

"We're probably out of it (the Southeastern Conference baseball race)," said a disappointed but not discouraged Chelsea baseball coach Wayne Welton after his team lost a 3-1 decision to Saline last Wednesday in a game here.

The loss dropped the Bulldogs to 3-4 in the SEC with five league games left to play.

"We can still be spoilers,"

GOT IT! Chelsea shortstop Matt Villemure made a fine backhand grab of a hard-hit grounder "into the hole" on this play. The ball is visible in the webbing of his glove.

Welton said. "We're a good ball team, and nobody can take us for granted."

The Saline game featured some hard hitting which doesn't show in the box score, thanks to excellent defensive play by both teams. A lot of shots were hit and caught.

Chelsea's Jay Marshall turned in the outfield gem of the season with a back-handed grab of a long drive up the alley into left-center that had "home run" written all over it. He converted it into a double-play with a throw to second to nab a runner who had raced home thinking the ball would surely drop in for extra bases.

Another unusual double-play got the Bulldogs out of trouble in the opening inning following a lead-off Saline triple. Rich Boham bobbled a grounder to second base but recovered in time to make a perfect throw home, where catcher Rod Robeson tagged the runner trying to score from third, then rifled the ball to second to catch the hitter trying to take an extra base.

Both teams put runners on base in each of the first four innings, but nobody managed to score until Chelsea got on the board with a run on a double by Doug Pagliarini, who went to third on a throwing error. Pinch runner Eric Stoflet scored on Marshall's sacrifice fly. (High school rules allow a player to return to the game after giving way to a pinch-runner.)

Saline promptly tied it up in the top of the fifth on a single, a walk and two scratch infield hits.

It stayed tied 1-1 until the top of the seventh, when Saline put across the winning runs on a walk, a misplayed bunt, and two base hits.

Pagliarini pitched all the way for Chelsea and took the loss, his first of the season against four victories. He gave up seven hits while striking out eight.

The Bulldogs, facing their second "junk-ball" pitching opponent in as many games, collected only four hits while being kept off-stride at the plate by a variety of slow stuff.

Seven-Run Rally Earns Chelsea Win

Chelsea erupted for seven fifth-inning runs last Friday afternoon and coasted to an easy 10-2 victory over the Tecumseh Indians behind the steady six-hit pitching of Ken Nadeau.

Jay Marshall drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double during the big uprising that put the game away.

It had been close through the early innings. Chelsea jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first, but Tecumseh came back with a run in the second to make the score 2-1.

The Bulldogs got one in the fourth, and then tied the contest with their seven-run splurge the next time at bat.

Nadeau gave up a harmless run in the fifth and closed out the game in fine fashion by striking out the last Tecumseh hitter.

After swinging at and missing a variety of off-speed pitches in their losses to Jackson County Western and Saline earlier in the week, the Bulldogs got their batting eyes adjusted to the fast balls served up by three Tecumseh pitchers. They banged out 13 hits, four more than they had collected in the previous two games.

"It was a good win for us, one that we needed badly to restore our confidence," Chelsea coach Wayne Welton said.

"The boys were getting a little bit down on themselves. We were shaky during the first couple of innings, but we played good ball after that. We hit the ball well and made some good plays in the field, and Ken pitched a fine game."

Controversial Call Snaps Chelsea's SEC Win String

A controversial call in the bottom of the eighth inning gave the Bulldog softball team its first conference loss in three years. Tecumseh won, 1-0, with its only run coming in the top of the eighth.

Bulldog runners were on first and second with two outs. An infield fly was dropped by the second baseman. The umpire called interference with the shortstop on the runner going to third.

No one saw the two collide. The shortstop complained after the play, when the bases were loaded. It reminded one of how the Russians "won" the Olympic basketball championship in 1972 on a last second controversial call.

But no one can really take the win away from Tecumseh. They put themselves in the position to win, which is how North Carolina State won the NCAA basketball championship.

Chelsea's big problem was offense. Tracy Walter of Tecumseh was pitching low, slow ones, and Chelsea had more than 12 fly balls. Tecumseh caught all but the last two.

Those fielding errors in the eighth and some freak bounces while Chelsea was in the field made it anyone's game until the last play.

The score was tied, 0-0, after seven innings with Tecumseh up. A runner got on base when the ball hit a rock and bounced over the second baseman's head. The next batter was out at first, then Tecumseh had a single near the right field baseline. Runners were on first and third.

Then came the bunt and the run. The Bulldogs got the batter out at first and made a gallant effort for a double play at home, but Tecumseh scored. The next batter hit a fly ball, and Chelsea came to the plate.

Two quick outs and the Bulldogs were in big trouble. Jane Verway had a grounder single. Cathy Doll's fly hit was dropped to advance Verway to second. Then Donna Popovich, the Bulldog pitcher for the game, hit an infield fly, which the second baseman dropped.

All three runners were on and Amy Hume was walking to the plate for what should have been a pressure-cooker at-bat.

Then the game was suddenly over on the interference call. Bewildered fans couldn't figure it out. What had happened?

It's painful to lose on a bad call, but as coach Charlie Waller said, the winning streak had to end sometime.

Chelsea had merited Tecumseh in their first game of the season, and he said the team wasn't taking the Indians seriously, although Chelsea had gone into extra innings last year to beat them.

The Bulldogs defense was quite respectable, but hits were few and far between.

"We didn't respect their pitching," said Waller, "so we asked for it."

The Bulldogs will try to finish the darkness and rain postponed championship game of the Chelsea Invitational at 4 p.m. today at home with Howell.

After a home game with Milan at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Chelsea begins its defense of its county tournament championship Friday. They have games at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Friday at Mitchell Field, off Fuller Rd. in Ann Arbor, near the swimming pool. Saturday morning they finish preliminary play.

The top eight teams then play a single elimination format series for the rest of Saturday.

Softball Team Clobbers Saline, 11-1

Chelsea girls softball team merited Saline, 11-1, in six innings May 11 away.

Bulldog pitcher Donna Popovich faced 24 batters, had two strike-outs, one walk, one hit batter, and gave up two hits. Saline didn't get the ball past the infield often.

Chelsea got three big runs in the first inning. Saline had its run in the third. Chelsea came back with two in the fifth, and six in the sixth.

The key hit of the game, said coach Charlie Waller, was Celeste Powell's two RBI hit with two outs in the fifth. Her hit put the game away.

Amy Hume had a two RBI hit in the first inning and a one RBI hit in the sixth. Popovich had one first inning hit.

No Chelsea batters struck out.

Softball Hurler Beth Unterbrink One-Hits Milan

Bulldog girls softball team defeated Milan, 4-1, in a make-up game May 10.

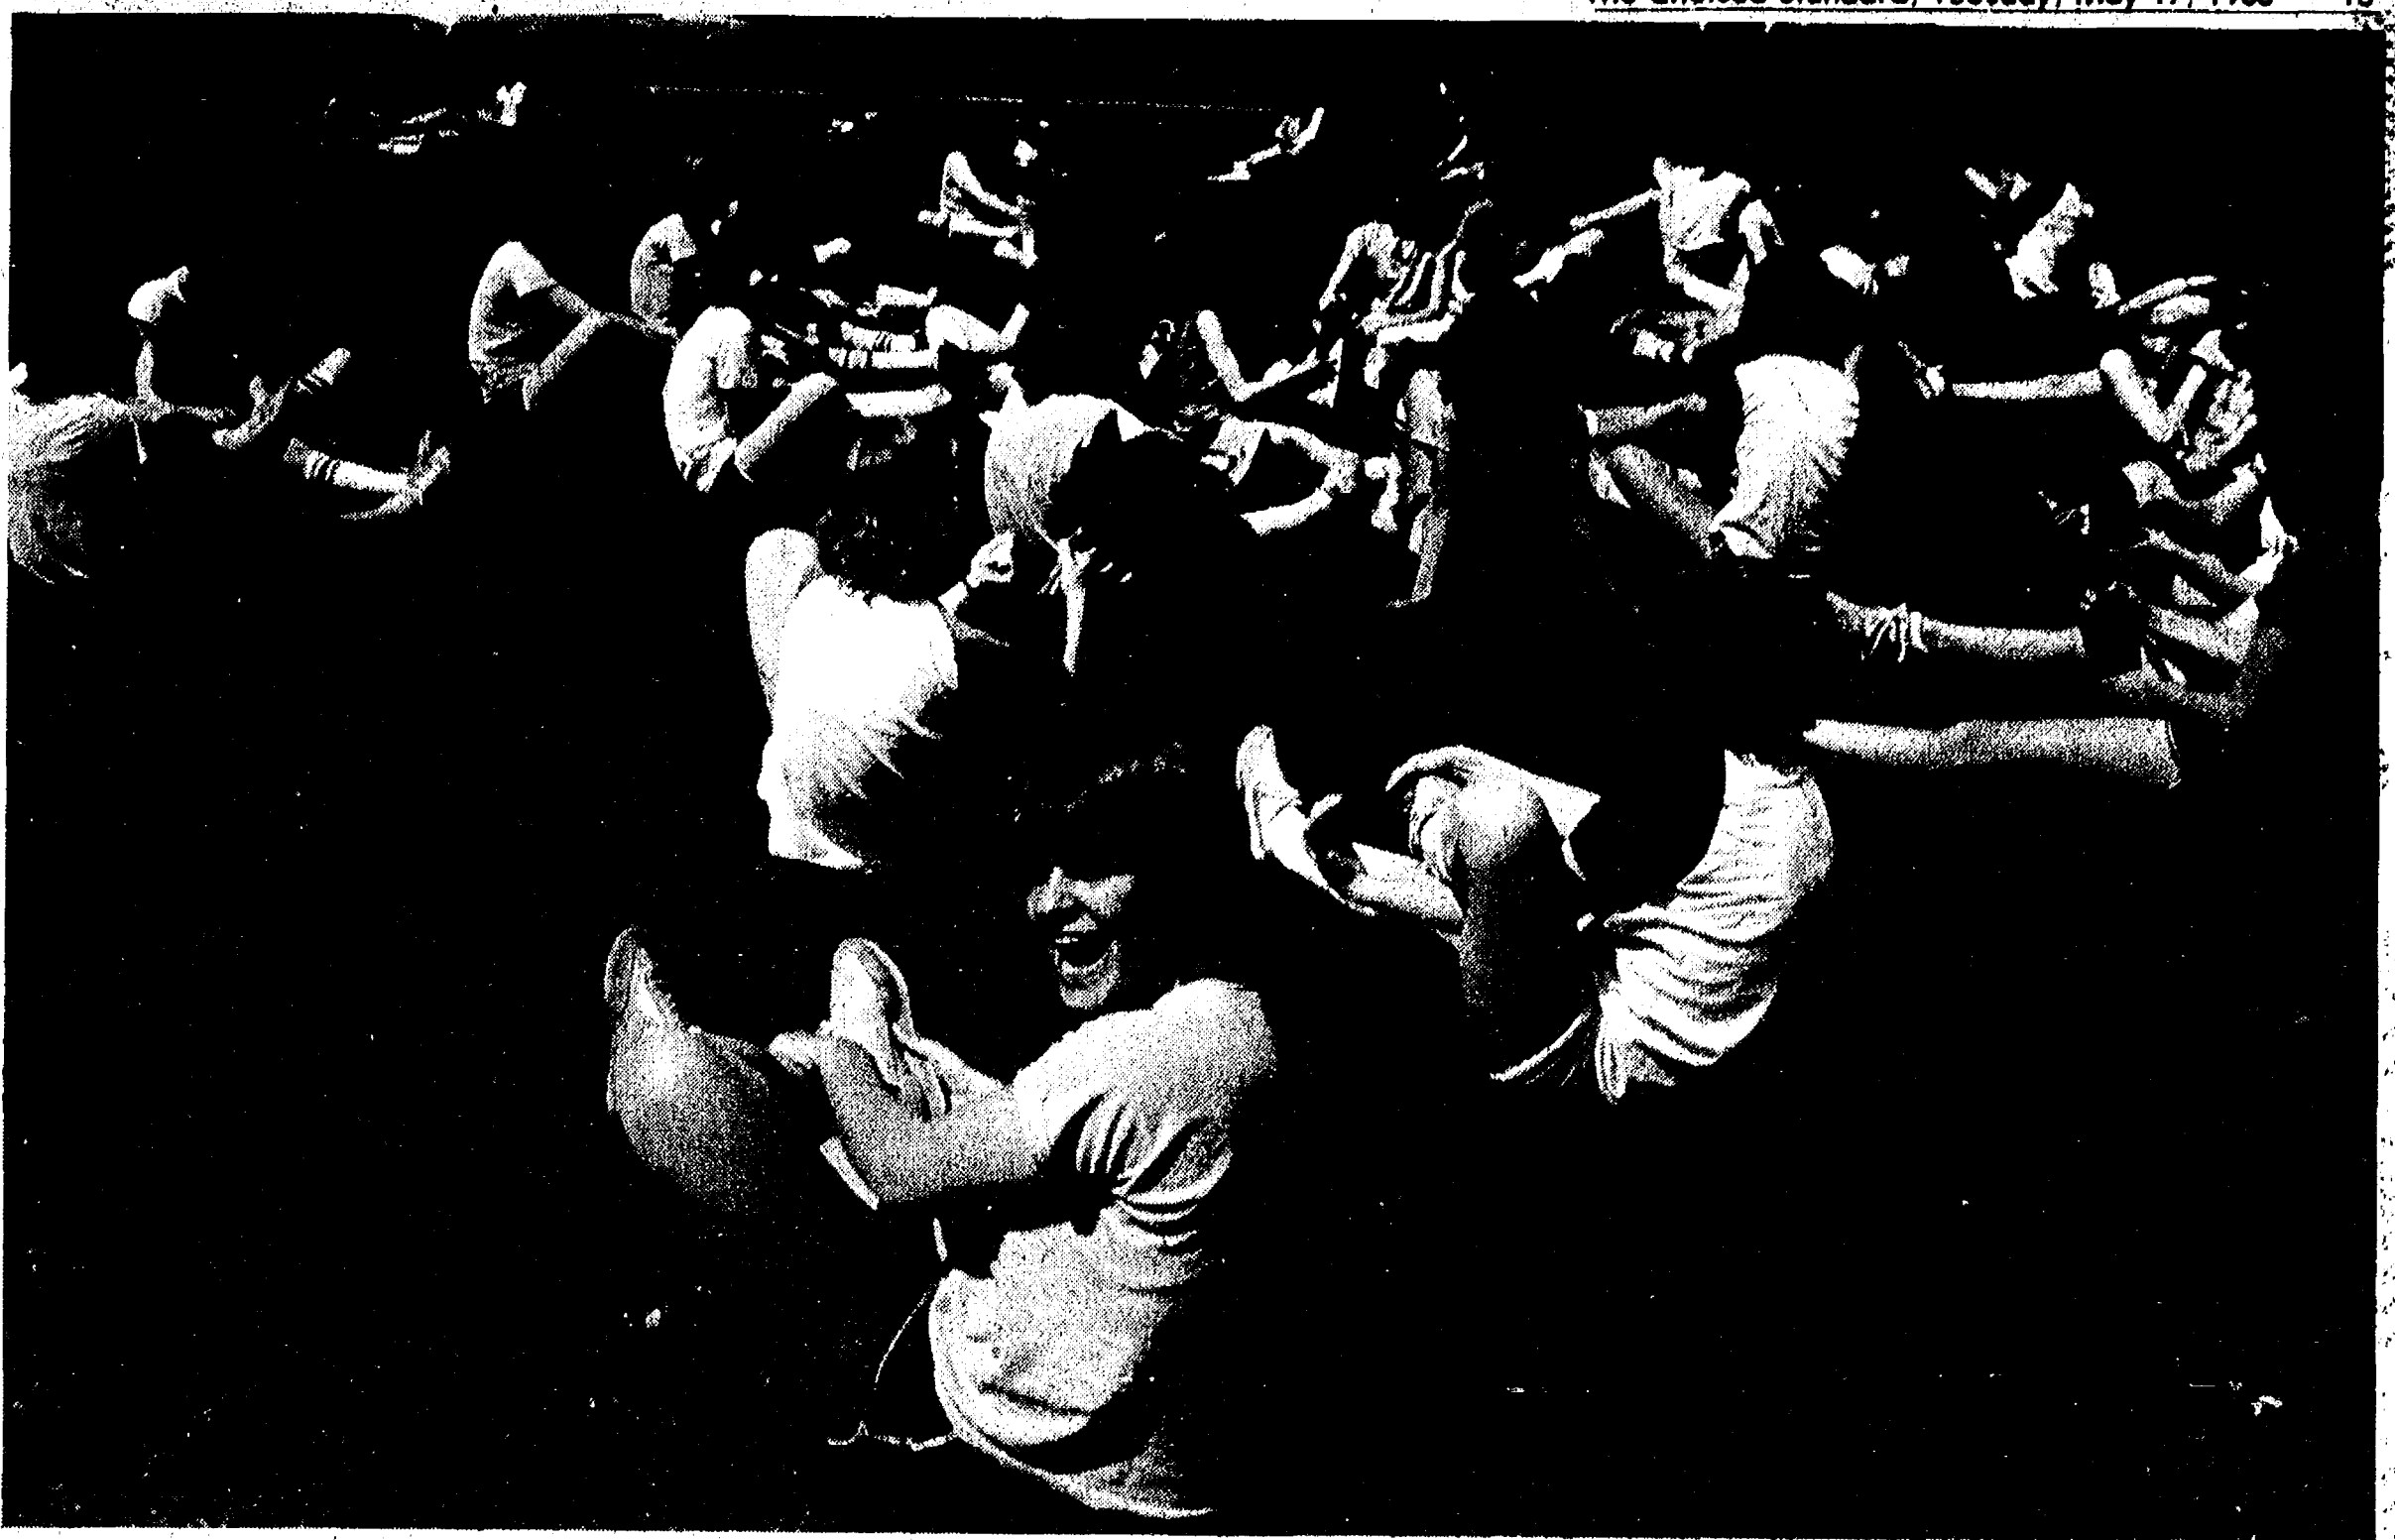

Beth Unterbrink pitched a one-hitter, with one unearned run, one walk and two strike-outs.

Amy Hume had the key defensive play in the fourth inning with runners on second and third and two outs. She caught a line drive with a shoulder roll to the ground.

Celeste Powell had the key three RBI hit in the third inning. Hume had two hits.

Both Unterbrink and the Milan pitcher, Beth Armstrong, pitched well, said Bulldog coach Charlie Waller, so not many batters got on base.

JV Softball Squad Wins Three in Week

Chelsea junior varsity softball team extended its record to 10-2 with three wins, over Saline, Tecumseh and Jackson County Western, last week.

Chelsea led the entire game against Saline May 11 at home. The bottom of the fourth inning featured two exciting plays—a triple by Carol Nix and jog-steal by Tina Paddock.

Nix had to slide to third, but the ball was then overthrown. She didn't have enough time to get up to make it a homer. Then Paddock was walked. She jogged to first and kept going to second, keeping her eye on the pitcher. The Hornets seemed stunned by her amble and didn't respond.

The Bulldogs, leading 3-2, put the game away in the bottom of the fifth with four runs that inning. Saline's pitcher was having problems, walking three, one with the bases loaded.

JoAnn Tobin was the winning pitcher and had 11 strike-outs. Kelly Hawker relieved her in the sixth.

Chelsea merited Jackson County Western, 17-4, in five innings May 9 away.

Western led, 1-0, after the first inning, but Chelsea had seven runs in the second to make it, 7-3.

Eight runs in the fourth brought on the mercy rule.

Chris DeFant, the winning pitcher, had eight strike-outs and one walk. Tobin relieved her in the fourth and had four strike-outs.

Jenny Cattell had a double and a single; Nix, two singles; Laura Anderson, a double; and Sarah Comeau, a sacrifice and a single.

The Bulldogs defeated Tecumseh, 9-4, May 13 away. DeFant was again the winning pitcher and had 10 strike-outs, seven walks and gave up three hits. Hawker relieved her in the fifth. Cattell had two doubles, one single; Kelly Fletcher, one single, one double; Hawker, two singles; and Tobin, one double.

Chelsea has two away games this week. Their last home game is at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 25 against Western.

Five local students were honored recently for having a 3.50 or better grade point average for the winter quarter at Michigan Technical Institute, Ann Arbor.

Chelsea students were Diane Killelea and Ruth Leach. Dexter students were Michelle Anderson, Carol Button and Lisa Wiseley.

Beach Track Team Defeats Ann Arbor

The overwhelming depth of the Beach Middle school track team has beaten their dual meet opponents by an average of 60 points and has had some very promising individual performances, one would assume the future is bright for Chelsea High school's girls track program.

Both Ann Arbor schools had small teams, so they combined entries.

They had a couple of good sprinters, said Bullpup coach, Ann Schaffner, but couldn't compete with Beach's over-all depth.

Placing for Chelsea were:

Shot put—Chris Zerkel, first. High jump—Sarah Weiss, second; Heidi Knickerbocker, third. Long jump—Edie Harook, first; Alison Chasteen, second; Kim Clutter, third.

Two-mile—Cathy Barham, first; Ann Brosnan, second; Kim Degener, third.

60-yard hurdles—Cherie Alexander, first; Shannon Dunn, second; Kelly Stump, third.

880 relay—Chasteen, Leah Enderle, Tami Harris and Carol Palmer, first.

880—Chris Neuman, first; Sallie Wilson, second.

One-mile—Weiss, first; Kim Allen, second; Jennifer Rossi, third.

100—Knickerbocker, second; Chasteen, third.

440—Alisha Dorow, first; Marla Feldman, second.

100 hurdles—Alexander, first; Dunn, second; Robin Mock, third.

75—Harook, second; Michaela Scripser, third.

220—Harris, first; Dorow, third.

Mile relay—Neuman, Feldman, Wilson, Enderle, first.

Practicing breast self-examination is one of the best ways for women to protect themselves against breast cancer.

Future Cloudy for Beach Track Team

Considering the Beach Middle school girls track team has beaten their dual meet opponents by an average of 60 points and has had some very promising individual performances, one would assume the future is bright for Chelsea High school's girls track program.

But the school's gloomy financial picture is darkening the horizon.

If the 2.9 mill increase isn't approved at the June 13 election, middle school sports programs will be replaced by intramurals. The strong seventh grade class on this year's team would not compete as eighth graders.

If the half mill for maintenance isn't renewed, then the future of the high school track improvements is also clouded.

This year's high school team had more than 30 freshmen come out for the team, but they have to practice on the grass, a disadvantage when they must face other teams who have daily track workouts.

The track is cracked and has huge chunks of asphalt sticking up, making it unsafe to use. All high school track meets have been away.

Seventh graders comprise more than half of the Bullpup team. Although it is unusual for seventh graders to score in middle school meets because of a lack of experience and physical maturity, said coach Ann Schaffner, this class is doing very well.

Two meet and one school record were set by seventh graders at the Jackson County Western Invitational for middle schools last Friday. Other seventh graders also scored points at the invitational, the biggest meet of the season.

The Bullpup team finishes their season with a home meet against a strong Saline team tomorrow. It may be their last home meet for a long time, depending on the election.

Track Coach Quits Post

Veteran Chelsea track coach Pat Clarke is resigning at the end of this season, as is his assistant Bert Kruse.

Clarke is also giving up his duties as junior high wrestling coach, but will continue to coach the boys and girls cross country teams.

Kruse plans to go on co-ordinating the junior high football program.

Clarke teaches mathematics at Beach Middle School, and Kruse teaches history and physical education there.

"It just has gotten to be too much to handle," Clarke said of his three-season coaching schedule. "I consider myself a teacher first, and the demands of coaching have been taking too much of my time. I like the extra money that I get paid for coaching, but that isn't everything. I guess you could say that, after 14 years, I'm getting a little tired."

The popular and personable Clarke has brought Chelsea's track and field program back to respectability after many lean years, to the point where the Bulldogs are competitive in the Southeastern Conference and with other area schools of Chelsea's size.

"I really enjoy working with the kids and helping them develop," Clarke said. "The joy of coaching lies in watching athletes improve to make the most of whatever natural abilities they have. I want to keep my hand in by coaching the cross country teams in the fall, and then devote full time to teaching the rest of the year."

Clarke did not hide his frustration over the fact that Chelsea lacks a usable track for both practice and competition, and

Tennis Team Wins 1 of 3 Last Week

Chelsea boys tennis team won its match over Greenhills, 6-1, May 13 but lost to Williamston, 2-5, May 10 and to Adrian, 1-6, May 9.

The first doubles team of Rod Worthing and Damon Mark again led the way with three wins, bringing their overall record to 9-1. They defeated the Greenhills team, 6-0, 8-0; Williamston, 6-2, 6-2; and Adrian, 7-5, 7-5.

The third doubles team of Craig Hinz and Greg Markle made its record 7-2 with wins over Greenhills, 6-0, 6-1, and Williamston, 6-1, 6-1, and a loss to Adrian, 7-5, 7-5.

The third doubles team of Thom Schumann and Kurt Eisenbeiser played an excellent match against Adrian, said coach Terry Schreiner, but lost a tough three-setter, 6-4, 1-6, 4-6. They lost to Williamston, 6-2, 3-6, 3-6, but defeated Greenhills, 6-0, 6-1. They have a 4-4 over-all record.

Singles players did better this week, said Miss Schreiner. They won three out of four matches with Greenhills. Mike Reid won, 6-2, 6-3; Bill Merkel, 6-7, 6-1, 6-0; Mark Henson, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Rob Moore lost, 6-4, 6-1.

Chelsea plays Howell in back-to-back matches this week. They made up a rain-out here yesterday, and Chelsea plays them away today. The Bulldogs play Gabriel Richard tomorrow away. The regionals are Friday, May 20 at Monroe Catholic Central.

Freshman Baseballers Win 1 of 4

Chelsea's freshman baseball team was mauled by Milan in a doubleheader last Tuesday, and then came back on Friday to split a pair with Brighton.

Milan trounced the Bullpups 15-3 and 17-3 in games cut short by the mercy rule.

"I guess you can blame me for those lopsided defeats," Chelsea coach Phil Bareis said. "I experimented with some new pitchers and some changed positions for several players. It didn't work out very well. Besides, Milan has a good team."

Highlights for the Bullpups included: strong hitting performances by Rob Beckwith and Kevin Walz.

At Brighton, Chelsea lost the first game of the twin-bill, 8-7, after taking a 7-6 lead into the last inning. "It was a pretty well played game," Bareis commented. "Dan Bellus and Beckwith both pitched well. Brighton just plain came back and beat us." Bellus had two hits, and Jeff Larson a key single that drove in two runs.

The Bullpups salvaged one victory for the week with a 17-2 win in the nightcap, which was "merciful" after five innings. Chelsea plated 11 runs in the first inning, and it was strictly no contest after that.

Bellus and David Dresselhouse each hit what Bareis called "legitimate home runs," long drives that cleared the fence in left-centerfield. Beckwith had a couple of key hits. All 19 Chelsea players got into the game.

The frosh have a 3-7 mark on the year and are improving, Bareis emphasized.

Boys Track Team Drops JC Western

Even though without two of its top performers, Chelsea's boys track team won a decisive 80-52 dual meet victory over Jackson County Western last Tuesday in its only outing of the week.

The win pushed the Bulldogs to a 6-1 season record, 4-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

Randy Krichbaum missed the meet because of illness, and Matt McCallum, the Bulldogs' top hurdler, suffered a leg injury while placing second in the long jump. Krichbaum will be back, but McCallum's status is uncertain.

"There is no fracture," coach Pat Clarke said, "but there is a tendon pull. I hope Matt can come back, but it all depends on how the injury responds. He won't be doing any more long-jumping this season, but he may be able to run the hurdles."

Mike Hintzen paced the Bulldog win, taking first places in the shot put with a life-time best heave of 45'10" and in both hurdle events, in which he likewise posted career-best marks. His time in the 110-meter high was 15.7. He cleared the 300-meter lows in 39.7.

Also a triple winner was Kevin Richardson, who won the 100- and 200-meter dashes and ran on the winning 400-meter relay team.

Mark Brosnan made his first attempt of the season to slam the distance events, but didn't quite make it. He won the 800- and 1,600-meter runs but came in second in the 3,200 meters, finishing 2.2 seconds behind the winner.

The distance slam is probably the most difficult achievement in track, and is seldom accomplished. Brosnan gave it a good try, and his second-place time in the 3,200 was good enough to win most races.

"We had a good over-all team effort, but will have to do better to beat Saline," Clarke said in predicting that the Saline meet (there tonight) will be "very close, probably decided by a couple of points either way."

Chelsea place-winners and winning times and distances were:

110-meter high hurdles—Hintzen first, 15.7; Mark Spayd second.

100-meter dash—Richard first, 11.8; David Wojcik second.

300-meter low hurdles—Hintzen first, 39.7; Spayd second, Scott Miller third (a sweep).

200-meter dash—Richardson first, 23.5; Russell Harris third.

400-meter dash—Scott Cooper third.

800-meter run—Brosnan first, 2:02.3; Frank Waller third.

1,600 meter run—Brosnan first, 4:33.2; Allen Cole third.

3,200-meter run—Brosnan second, Cole third.

400-meter relay—Chelsea (Dan Fenton, Wojcik, Richardson, Eric Buckberry): 46.2.

Long jump—Cooper first, 18'7"; McCallum second.

Shot put—Hintzen first, 45'10"; Gar DeYoe third.

Discus—DeYoe second.

High jump—Waller first, 5'4".

Pole Vault—Buckberry first, 13'; Fenton third.

Dexter-Ann Arbor Run Set for May 28

More than 3,000 entrants are expected for the 10th running of the Dexter-Ann Arbor Run, this area's more popular road race, on Saturday, May 28, hosted by the Ann Arbor Track Club.

Runners will be participating in either the half-marathon (13.1 miles) or the 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) event.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

Odds and ends:

I hate to mention it for fear of pricking the balloon, but it looks like Detroit just might have a winning professional sports team. At this writing the Michigan Panthers had won five in a row after an anemic start, were 6-4 on the season, and lagged just a game behind the Central Division leaders in the fledgling United States Football League (USFL). The Panthers have a good shot at making the playoffs if they don't stumble.

The last time a Michigan-based pro football team won as many as five straight was in 1957, when the Detroit Lions eventually won the National Football League championship (the equivalent of the Super Bowl in those days).

The bad news is that the Panthers are next to last in attendance among the 14 USFL teams, drawing an average of 14,605 spectators per home game. That few people can get lost from one another in the vastness of the Pontiac Silverdome.

I still don't think football in the spring and summer is a viable gate attraction, especially in this state, but could be proven wrong if the Panthers continue to win and the Detroit Tigers baseball team goes on stumbling and fumbling around. The Tigers, as usual, have just about managed to play themselves out of contention with the season barely begun.

Detroit and Michigan badly want and need a professional sports winner, and people just might latch onto the Panthers as better than nothing to cheer about.

It's a good thing the Panther backers are well heeled financially. Gate receipts to date won't pay the rent on the Silverdome, not to mention Anthony Carter's million-dollar salary.

Good athletic programs perpetuate themselves. While football gets most of the attention and ink at the University of Michigan, U. of M. baseball teams year after year finish in the top rank. That was true when I attended the university, and has been ever since—a long span going on 40 years.

Last week the Wolverine baseballers wrapped up the championship of the Big Ten's eastern division by whipping arch-rival Michigan State in four straight games. Something like that happens just about every year.

It all goes back to a tradition established by the late Ray Fisher, Michigan's baseball coach for more than 30 years. Ray was one of the two best college athletic coaches I ever knew personally (Fritz Crisler was the other one) and I would have to give the edge to Fisher if forced to make a choice. The old Vermont schoolteacher year after year took, on a daily talent and molded it into excellence. His successors, first Moby Benedict and now Bud Middaugh, have carried on in the Fisher fashion.

Baseball is not supposed to be an injury-prone sport, but don't try to tell Kirk Gibson and Rick Leach that. Both played four years of major college football—Gibson at Michigan State and Leach at Michigan—without missing a minute because of injuries. Both were All-Americans in football and baseball.

Both had the option to play either football or baseball as pros. Both chose baseball, and both said frankly at the time they made the choice that injury risk was a key factor in their decisions. They figured they would have longer careers in baseball.

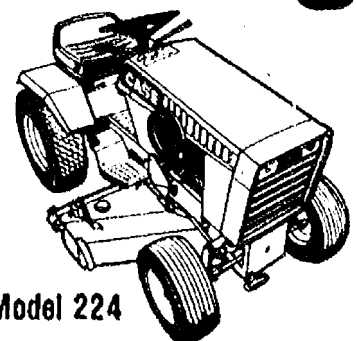

Gibson and Leach have been plagued by assorted hurts and wounds ever since they entered the Detroit Tiger organization, to the point where their baseball futures are in doubt. Neither has come close to living up to his potential, which is hard to do when you are sitting on the bench nursing injuries.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

This is the best of the bluegilling season.

Bluegills and their various cousins—pumpkin-seeds, red-finned and green sunfish, warmouth bass, rock bass, and black and white crappies—are moving into the shallows and getting ready to spawn. They are especially pugnacious during the spawning season, and therefore easy to catch.

Go back to a time when fishing during the spawning period was a legal no-no, not quite as evil as shooting doe deer, but almost. Research over the years proved conclusively that taking panfish off the beds "not only doesn't hurt but actually is good fish management."

Left to themselves without some kind of control, panfish tend to reproduce too well, building up over-populations of small, stunted specimens that are little fun to catch, and no joy at all to try to clean and eat. They are mostly head and bones.

No matter how much angling pressure is put upon them, some spawning pairs will manage to bring off a brood of young fish, and it takes only a few such successes to replenish the stock and keep it in balance with the food supply. Female fish of all species produce a lot of eggs—numbering in the hundreds and thousands.

In the family life of panfish, the male of the species does the housekeeping. He makes a nest (bed) by clearing a small circle of sand or gravel bottom, induces a female to deposit her eggs in it, fertilizes them, then stands guard while the eggs incubate and hatch. The female goes on about her business after laying the eggs, and will eat her own young if she gets the opportunity.

Males protecting beds will attack anything that comes near them, and that is what makes fishing during the spawning season so easy and productive. Their assaults on boats and lures are provoked by irritation rather than hunger—they actually don't eat during this period—and it is remarkable how such small fish can pack so much wallop into a strike. I've experienced surface lure hits from eight-inch bluegills that would challenge a three-pound bass to match.

Taking advantage of the spring bluegill bonanza requires locating spawning beds, which are most often clustered in small areas of suitable bottom. They may be in water as shallow as six inches, or in depths up to six feet or more. Sand and/or gravel determine the locations. Eggs smother and die if deposited in muck or silt, and the fish instinctively know that.

One way to find beds is simply to fish blindly in the shallows until your patience is rewarded by a bite. A better way is to go exploring before you start to fish. In calm and reasonably clear water the beds are usually visible from a boat or while wading. Polarized glasses help mightily in spotting them.

As a fly fisherman my favorite method for catching fish, once having found the beds, is to cast a rubber spider or small popping bug over the spot, beginning at the outer edges. If there are males on the nests, action will be quick to come. It's not unusual to have three or four fish charge the lure in a race to see which can destroy the intruding object first.

Anglers who prefer spinning tackle can score with a variety of small lures and live baits. Cane polers can get in on the action by flipping baited hooks into the bedding area.

Whatever the method employed, hook sizes should be small. Bluegills and their kin have small mouths and can't inhale a big hook. My preference in hooks is size 12, and I recommend nothing larger than a No. 6. (Remember that hook sizes run in reverse; the smaller the number, the bigger the hook.)

Light lines and leaders aren't necessary. The fish are so belligerent that heavy tackle doesn't spook them. For maximum fun, however, go light. My favorite bluegill rod is a 6 1/2-foot stick that weighs 2 1/2 ounces. A husky 'gill can put a good bend in it.

What will scare spawners is trying to get too close to the beds. Stay at least 30 feet away from the outer edge, probe the rim first, then cast in toward the center and back. If you do make a mistake and approach too closely, back off and wait awhile. The nest-guarding males that fled will soon return.

Results can sometimes be sensational. I once took 15 bluegills, all eight inches or better, on 15 casts. The fishing isn't always that fast, of course, if only because you probably will fail to connect on some strikes. But if you have done things right in finding a bedding area, the reward in terms of a good catch is all but guaranteed. There is no sure thing in fishing, but spring bluegilling comes close.

GUARDING THEIR BROOD: Canada geese are among the most vigilant of all wildlife parents, and this brood of four young ones was being closely guarded as they grazed on the shore of Mill Lake. The male has them under close control while his mate holds station in the rear. Geese will attack anything, including people, that gets too close to their young, and can inflict punishing blows with beaks and wings.

Girls Track Team Ties JC Western

The girls track meet against Jackson County Western May 10 was a meet of "what ifs." The two teams tied, 61 1/2-61 1/2.

The crucial half point came from a third-place tie in the high jump.

Chelsea won all the events longer than 400 meters, sweeping the mile and two-mile. Western took the sprints, and tied the meet with a sweep of the 200.

With the meet so close, Western made an unusual concession in the 1600 relay, said Bill Bainton, Bulldog coach. Wendy Wolfgang, Chelsea's first runner, led the first Western runner. When Chelsea's number two runner, Carol Warren, pulled away to about a 30-yard lead, the Western runner slowed down to a jog, giving Chelsea the race.

On paper Chelsea would have won the race, said Bainton, but he was surprised Western gave it to them that way.

"I tell my runners to try and stay close," he said, in case the other team drops the baton, gets a leg cramp or trips.

Dropped batons have also taken bad bounces, and once one was inadvertently kicked halfway into the infield.

Chelsea's relay had a fine time anyway, said Bainton, and the school record is within reach.

Both teams had good time drops in the areas where they were strongest. If either team had a stunning performance in one of its weak events, there may have been a meet winner.

Sue Oesterle had a new career best in the shot put by more than 18 inches. Kim Collins, running "nose to nose" for second with Mary Ann Richardson in the two-mile, just nudged her teammate for second.

Sandra Frame was the only Bulldog double-winner in the mile and two-mile.

The team's last dual meet of the season is today against Saline away. The week-long break from the Western meet was used to prepare the team for the regionals May 21. The league meet May 24 at Dexter features a three-way battle for first, and a

Folder Explains Low Calorie Regulations

If you're counting calories, chances are you'll find your grocery cart drawn to the dietetic food section at your supermarket.

And when this happens, you can now be sure that these foods measure up (or down) to their claims. The Food and Drug Administration requires products claiming to be low or reduced in calories to meet specific limits on calorie content. To explain what the different limits are, FDA has a free reprint from its magazine, FDA Consumer. For your free copy of That Lite Stuff, write to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 532 L, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Under FDA regulations, a food can be labeled "low calorie" only if a serving supplies no more than 40 calories and contains no more than 0.4 calories per gram. Limiting the numbers of calories per gram keeps rich foods ordinarily served in small quantities, such as salad dressings, out of the low calorie category.

If a food is labeled "reduced calorie" that means it has to be at least one-third lower in calories than a similar food in which the calories aren't reduced. Neither low calorie or reduced calorie foods can be nutritionally inferior to the higher calorie version.

The Planning Commission would like to have input on this issue from Township residents.

Future of Area's Turkeys Unknown

Waterloo Recreation Area personnel and game biologists at the Department of Natural Resources' Jackson district office are looking and waiting hopefully for some wign that wild turkeys planted in Waterloo last winter have "done their thing" and reproduced.

So far, there is no indication either way. "We have had no reports of turkey broods," said George Rob, Waterloo Area park manager. "If there are any, they should be showing up. It's hatching time."

Hen turkeys nest on the ground and the young ones begin to run around with their mothers as soon as their feathers dry off after hatching. A normal brood consists of about eight poults.

"We certainly would like to hear about any brood sightings," Rob said. "Please call us at 475-8307 if you observe one."

Meanwhile, reports indicate that the 15 birds — five toms and 10 hens — released at two locations in the Waterloo Area have continued to scatter.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I have only lived in Chelsea a short time, but I feel compelled to write and tell you I've never seen a village with so much civic pride. I have lived in other villages, but none of them measure up to this community.

The first time I read "The Standard," I saw articles concerning the schools, churches, and numerous civic groups, all working for the betterment of the community.

They're like a giant hand, reaching out to those who need them. This is very heartwarming to see during a time when our economy is at its lowest and problems seem to be multiplying. It's times like these that put the most pressure on families, schools, and businesses. Knowing you're backed by your community helps.

You have a community to be proud of. I'm glad to be a part of it, and I'd like to shake the giant hand for a job well done!

Carolyn Dixon.

To the Editor,

In Washtenaw county during the past month there have been several serious accidents in which teen-agers have suffered severe physical damage or loss of life. Many of these accidents would not have happened had the driver been able to stay behind the wheel and control the car. Because of sliding of the car, the driver was hanging on rather than steering. Others would have been less seriously injured and some would not have been killed had they been wearing a safety belt.

Students are too often influenced by example rather than common sense. If the adult world does not think safety belts are of value and demonstrate this belief by wearing one, very few young people will. A safety belt law will leave a message that the adult world is aware of the value of safety belts.

Wearing a safety belt is everyone's business. Thousands of dollars are spent on rehabilitation of people injured in auto accidents that would not have happened if the people were just wearing safety belts. As taxpayers, I think we have the obligation to watch where our money is spent and to cut down whenever possible. Beyond question, a safety belt law will save money and lives. I think legislators should be very concerned about both.

In my work at the University of Michigan Hospital helping the physically handicapped drive with special controls, many of the clients have said "If I had only worn by safety belts." It is too late for them but can we help someone else?

Dear Editor,

On Friday, May 13, 125 mentally impaired athletes competed in a Special Olympic Track and Field Meet at the high school track. This would not have been possible without the help of some really super people. I want to thank Phil Bareis, Ron Joseph, and Dan White for going way beyond the call of duty in helping us set up and carry out this event. Phil Bareis is a special person and has always made an extra effort with all the special education students in the high school. His sensitivity is truly appreciated.

This event would also not have been possible without the help of the Chelsea Lions Club. A great big thank-you to them for providing all the kids with bag lunches and especially to Pat Cabanni for making them.

The timers, ribbon pinners, huggers, finish line coordinators, starters, measurers, and high jump volunteers were all provided by the Dexter High School Student Council and Boysville in Clinton. Thank-you also to Tina Pennington for coming in early and helping me set up the field.

A thanks to all of you for sharing in the joy and love that is Special Olympics.

BRIDGE WORK BEGINS—Chelsea-Dexter Rd. between Freer and Lima Center Rds. was closed to through traffic beginning yesterday as work started on replacing the bridge over the north fork of Mill Creek.

Bridge Construction Work Gets Underway

Chelsea-Dexter Rd. between Freer and Lima Center Rds. was closed yesterday as work began on replacing the bridge over the north fork of Mill Creek (also known as the Luick Drain) just west of Fletcher Rd.

Traffic is being detoured south along a route which includes Freer Rd., Old US-12, Seitz Dr. and Lima Center Rd. The detour will add about four miles to the driving distance between Chelsea and Dexter.

"We are advising the public that the project will take two months to complete and that the road will be reopened July 15," said Mike O'Neil, project engineer for the Washtenaw County Road Commission. "We hope to be finished sooner than that, possibly by July 1."

In selecting the detour route, the Road Commission decided, not to use Trinkle Rd. which is not designed or maintained to carry heavy traffic. "It's a rather poor gravel road," O'Neil said. "Local people will probably use it as a short-cut, but we hope most drivers will follow the posted detour signs."

All of the detour route is paved except for about 1.7 miles of Lima Center Rd. south off Chelsea-Dexter Rd. "That (Lima Center) isn't a good road either," O'Neil said, "but it's the best available. If you look at the map, you can see that we don't have many choices."

First order of business in the bridge project is to move a Michigan consolidated Gas Co. transmission pipe which runs above-ground parallel to the present bridge about three feet south of the bridge railing. The gas company plans to bury the line under the creek bed, where it will no longer be a safety hazard, and has hired a private contractor to do the work.

"It's a miracle that nobody has run off the road and ruptured the gas line," O'Neil said. "It's been sitting there exposed all these years, just waiting for an accident to happen."

Argersinger-Morse Construction Co. of Ann Arbor has the $151,324 contract to replace the bridge, and had men and machines on the job yesterday.

Grass Fires Reported

Last week's drying weather provoked a small rash of grass fire runs for the Chelsea fire department. Firemen answered calls at Dexter-Chelsea and Freer Rds., on Cassidy Rd. north of Waterloo Rd., and at Dexter-Chelsea nad Fletcher Rds. No major damage occurred at any of the three sites.

Forensics Team 8th in State Meet

Chelsea High school forensics team took eighth in Class B at the state championship tournament May 7 at University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Chelsea was the 1982 state champion.

Team competition was done by classes and school size, but individual competition was not separated by school size. There were 334 entries from 100 schools.

Tom Mull, who took fifth in storytelling with "51st Dragon," was Chelsea's highest placer and received a trophy.

Tom Nemeth took eighth in sales, paper towels. Tim Benjamin and Eric Kruger, the only seniors among the eight state qualifiers from Chelsea, took eighth in duo with "Tiny Alice."

Chelsea had a young team this year, which makes coach Bill Coelius optimistic about next year's team.

Fair Lamb Weigh-in Slated Saturday
