BURN PATIENT CONTRIBUTION: Chelsea Lioness Club donated $250 to National Institute of Burn Medicine for emergency patient needs such as shirts, hats, pants, games, puzzles and books for the long convalescence many burn patients undergo. Some of NIBM's patients lose everything they own if they are burned in a home fire. Barbara Middlebrook, left, charge nurse of the burn unit at Chelsea Community Hospital, holds a game with Linda Grant, club treasurer. Bethany Vogel, right, social worker for the Chelsea burn unit, holds some sweat pants, which are more comfortable than pants for patients with bulky bandages. Chelsea Lioness raised the funds with its portrait photo project in May.

Civic Foundation Gives $3,000 Grant to Parent To Parent Program

The Civic Foundation of Chelsea has made its second grant to the Parent to Parent Program, which is sponsored by Chelsea Faith in Action. The $3,000 grant will help initiate this program which gives support to parents with problems.

The Parent to Parent Program gives family support, focusing on child development, parenting skills, parent-child relationships, and the use of community resources. Volunteers conduct home visits once a week for up to 12 months. Currently, it is the only program in the Chelsea area providing this service in the home setting.

The program is primarily geared towards parents and their young children experiencing stress, anxiety or isolation in order to prevent problems which often develop in children during their adolescent and teen years.

The program also is developing plans to provide support to parents of adolescents and teens, as well as families of handicapped children.

Commenting on the grant, George Palmer, Civic Foundation president, said, "The Civic Foundation is particularly delighted to be able to make a grant to this vital program.

There is no question as to the need for such a program in our community. Too frequently, we sit back not taking any positive action until it is too late. The Civic Foundation's feeling is that this program will help prevent some of the problems which we all too frequently see. We believe this is what the Civic Foundation is here to do."

Milan Firm Wins Paving Contract

Joseph Chie of Milan has been awarded a $61,089 contract to complete this summer's Chelsea paving program, which involves resurfacing of Wilkinson and Orchard Sts., plus work on the fire station, Main St. and Middle St. parking lots.

The Chie firm submitted the lowest of three bids offered on the paving program. Its proposal is (Continued on page five)

Council Votes Offer To Buy Kolander Tract—Or Did It?

Chelsea's village council has voted to make an offer to buy the Richard Kolander property at 304 S. Main St. for $75,000, under the prodding of president Jack Merkel who admits that he would like to see the purchase made.

There is a question, however, whether the council's July 19 action was legal. The vote to make the offer was 3-2, with trustee Joe Merkel absent, and council rules require a two-thirds favorable majority on any question that calls for spending money. A two-thirds majority means four yes votes from among the six trustees. President Jack Merkel has no vote unless there is a 3-3 tie to be broken.

"My interpretation is that the council didn't commit itself to an actual expenditure, but only voted to make an offer to spend," village administrator Frederick A. Weber said after the meeting. "I think I'm right, but I will ask Pete Flintoft (village attorney) to be sure."

The possibility that the village might buy the Kolander property first surfaced at the council's May 17 meeting, when Jack Merkel announced that Kolander had put it on the market under the agency of Thornton Realty, with an asking price of $149,000.

The property consists of 22,700 square feet of land with 99 feet of frontage on S. Main St. It includes an old, vacant house and a large out-building, also vacant, both in obvious disrepair as viewed from the outside.

Merkel has suggested that the site could be a possible location for a new village office building, and has made no secret of his wish that the village buy it. "I think it would be a good thing for us to do," he has said several times.

At its May 17 meeting the council decided to have the property appraised before going any further. The appraisal, made by R. A. Cooch & Co. of Ann Arbor, came in at $45,000—exactly $104,000 under the asking price—and the matter was dropped right there.

Owner Kolander didn't believe the Cooch evaluation and hired another appraiser—John Swisher of Ann Arbor—to take a second (Continued on page five)

Weather Finally Moderates

It finally cooled off last weekend after two weeks of uninterrupted steamy weather that saw temperatures push into the 90's almost every day, with humidity readings to match.

The break began with a series of thunderstorms—accompanied by heavy rain, high winds and hail in some places—last Thursday evening. The Chelsea-Dexter area escaped the violence and received only a modest amount of rain.

The storms seemed to split as they approached, with the menacing portions passing by to the north and south. Tornado warnings were issued and some funnel clouds reported to the west, but there were no touch-downs. By Saturday day-time temperatures had dropped into the mid-80's, close to seasonal norms, and the humidity was also down as the wind shifted to the northwest and brought in a mass of cooler, dry air.

The more pleasant conditions were forecast to last at least through the middle of this week.

Council Approves Land Buy

The Chelsea Village Council has formally endorsed its earlier decision to buy the 73-acre Stuart Small property on Sibley Rd. for $139,000 as the site for an industrial park.

The action was taken at the council's July 19 meeting with unanimous passage of a resolution which makes the purchase official.

Payment will be made from the village electric fund. The money is to be reimbursed from lot sales in the industrial park, when and if.

In a separate but related action village president Jack Merkel appointed trustees Loren Keezer, Jerry Satterthwaite and Herman Radloff to serve on a special industrial development committee.

The council and Sylvan township officials were to meet jointly last night to listen to a presentation by Michael Ammann, director of the Washtenaw County Economic Development Council, who was expected to urge that both government units join the council now that a start has been made on an industrial park.

Ammann had been scheduled to speak at the July 19 village council meeting.

Sidewalk Festival Set For Friday, Saturday

Along with bargains from area merchants, visitors to Chelsea's Sidewalk Festival Friday and Saturday, July 29-30 may also visit arts and crafts booths and watch an antique-classic car parade.

Crafts to be shown include wooden toys, baskets, soft sculpture, woodworking, pottery, ceramics, stained glass, herb creations and dried flowers.

Last year's parade attracted 80 cars owned by persons in Chelsea, Grass Lake, Whitmore Lake, Ann Arbor, Pinckney, Munith and Stockbridge. They begin assembling at Parts Peddler, 1414 S. Main St. in late morning. The parade down Main St. begins at 1:30 p.m. After the cars pass the clock tower, they turn around and go down Middle to Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. After going around the circular drive, they return to Main St. via Middle.

The parade ends at the cleared lot of Palmer Ford, Inc., 222 S. Main. That would be a good time and place to ogle the cars up close.

Most antique car owners are like new grandparents—they take great pride in their cars and like to talk about them. That makes it fun for others to go to such parades and shows.

Hours of the sidewalk festival are 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Several community groups plan to have booths, and tours will be offered of Real Ale Co., the brewery in the clock tower.

Anyone interested in registering for the car parade may contact Dick Kolander at 475-9106. Anyone interested in crafts booths should contact Marci Stump at 475-3429.

Fire Department Has New Phone Number

The Chelsea fire department will have a new telephone number beginning Monday, Aug. 1.

The number is 475-1338, and fire chief Paul (Bud) Hankerd advises that all persons living in the area covered by the department write the number down in a prominent place where they can find it easily in case of an emergency.

The new number is part of an expanded telephone service which will put two lines into the fire department in place of the present single line. Both lines will be reached by dialing 475-1338.

"If one line is being used, the call will automatically 'roll over' to the other," Hankerd explained. "The phones will ring in both the fire hall and the dispatcher's office in the police station at the village hall. We've had some problems in the past because our one line was busy when people called. The new system will correct that."

Persons who dial the present fire department number—475-1411—will hear a recorded message telling them to call 475-1338, Hankerd said. "I hope that doesn't happen," he added, "because it means a delay in giving us an alarm. The quicker we can get a call and go out on it, the better. Seconds are precious in fires or other emergency situations that we handle."

State Looking for Buyer of Tug Barge

In another effort to get construction of the controversial tug barge system back in operation, the state Department of Transportation has started searching for purchasers for both the tug barge system and the Ontonagon shipyard.

The move is apparently not being challenged by the beleaguered Upper Peninsula Shipbuilding Company (UPSCO), which is now having proposals developed for the reorganization of the corporation.

The department has sent out letters to more than 24 companies interested in the system and asked for proposals back by mid-August.

The state is not taking bids for either the shipyard or the tug barge system, assistant attorney general Jim Stropka said adding that the state is not committed to selling either the vessels or the yard.

"This is a very broad type of procedure," he said, which could result in proposals used in the reorganization of the company or in the actual sale of the boat system or the shipyard.

The state would be willing to consider a proposal to purchase the vessels in either their current uncompleted state or when finished.

The letter, from Department Director James Pitz, says the department, while "primarily interested" in the outright sale of the system, is also "interested in the future."

The state wants construction of the vessels, now judged about 85 percent completed, to recommence both because some 350 Upper Peninsula workers have lost their jobs and because the state has invested more than $41 million in the project.

Last month, UPSCO informed the state it would not challenge the department's petition to the federal bankruptcy court in Marquette asking for an involuntary reorganization of the company.

Appeals Court Makes Ruling on Apartment Security Deposits

A rental security deposit paid to cover the cost of repairing damages to an apartment, cannot be used to pay the costs of cleaning the apartment, a unanimous Court of Appeals has ruled.

The court held that using security deposits for cleaning fees violated both the landlord-tenant relationship act and the consumer protection act.

Damages have to include injury or loss to property, the court held.

"Given this meaning of the work, a rental unit requiring cleaning has not been damaged. While a grimy kitchen wall, a soiled carpet and a stained couch are all unattractive, the wall, carpet and couch themselves have not been damaged," the court said.

"An item which is cleaned has not been repaired. Nor has that item been damaged," the three-judge panel continued.

The consumer protection act also protects tenants from their security deposits for cleaning purposes, the court held. The act requires that consumers are en-itled to receiving any deposits back "promptly, thus, we hold that a landlord who retains part of the tenant's security deposit for cleaning violates the consumer protection act," the court held.

The court also ruled that landlords could not try to get around the holding by including costs on a damage list they are required to furnish a former tenant and hope the tenant misses the notice requirements to reply to the list.

Under the landlord-tenant law, within 30 days after vacating a residence, the landlord must provide a list of damage claims, and the tenant has seven days to respond to that list.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Ever now and agin the fellers pool their ignorance and update their worries. During the Saturday night session at the country store, Bug Hookum, that can find a fly in any ointment, said he was pushing El Salvador into his top 10 worries and making room for coffee at the bottom. Bug had saw where doctors in Boston have come up with a new way to scare everybody that can't git going mornings without three or four cups.

Actual, Bug said, he'll keep on drinking regular and worrying about it off and on because he thinks the coffee jury 'is still' out. He recalled 10 year ago the same Boston researchers said caffeine in coffee caused heart attacks. Two year later they said they weren't sure. Now they say they have "guarded belief" that coffee causes cholesterol to clog up the arteries. Bug was of a mind these folks are just coming up with reasons to keep gitting their research grants, because the last he read doctors can't even make up their minds about how much cholesterol is bad. One recent report claimed people natural have different levels of the stuff in their blood no matter what they do or don't do.

Clem Webster said coffee and all South America don't worry him like the defense buildup. We want to see and raise the Russians on ever bid, Clem said, and the only worst worry is to know the Russians upped the ante and we passed. Both sides need to stockpile wooden missiles instead of nuclear ones, and we could give loggers a bigger boost than the jump in housing starts, was Clem's words.

General speaking, the fellers was agreed with Clem about nuclear war's spot on the worry list, but Ed Doolittle reported he had saw where a column writer in a Tulsa newspaper has a even better idee on handling the defense budget. This feller wants to do away with the USDA and put agriculture in the Department of Defense, and Ed said the more you think of it the more you think of it. Fer sure, Ed said, we ain't got no defense without food, and we ain't got no food without farming and ranching. And the best part is, the $13 billion USDA spends could be called petty cash in Defense's $239 billion budget and Congress never would be the wiser, Ed declared.

Farther more, we wouldn't have the worry of all the PIKS and price supports and surpluses. We could work out a defense contract with ever farmer and pay him cost plus 20 percent, which is a bargain compared with what most defense contractors git. Farmers could pay on their debts, put folks back to work by buying made-in-America equipment, and the grass could grow greener all around in the name of national defense, Ed explained.

Personal, Mister Editor, I figger Ed's defense farming could ease a lot of our worries. I got to thinking so strong on it until I cut back sharp on worrying about acid rain, AIDS and how trees warn one another about dangers like bugs and diseases and fellers with chainsaws.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

ON YOUR FEET

Dr. Howard Reznick

TWO FLAT FEET

Two flat feet can do a lot more than keep you out of the Army. Left untreated, they can wreak havoc on your spine.

To demonstrate what happens when your feet flatten, make a fist with your right hand and then rotate it counter-clockwise as you move it forward. Feel the pressure on your wrist, arm, shoulder, and back?

When your feet flatten, the muscles running from the lower part of the spine to the upper part of the thigh become over-stretched. This causes the pelvis and lower back to tilt forward. But nobody wants to walk a tilt if they can help it. So you try to "straighten up". But you can only do this by bending your lower spine into an abnormal curve. This affects your spine all the way up to your neck. In time, the stress and strain will cause wearing in the spinal bones and joints.

Don't let this happen to you. If you're feeling any discomfort that may be caused by flattened feet, call your podiatrist for an examination. When you have foot problems—it can lead to a lot more discomfort elsewhere in your body.

HCMA Reveals Major Development Plan for Hudson Mills Park

A proposal by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority for recreational facilities at the Hudson Mills Park on North Territorial Rd., has caused some opposition from neighboring residents.

A group opposing the project appeared at the Tuesday, July 19 Dexter Township Board meeting. Dan Duncan, project developer of the HCMA, submitted the site plan to the Zoning Board. The Board approved the plan by a three-to-one vote with the following stipulations:

"1. The HCMA significantly contributes to the grading and dust control of Huron River Dr., north of North Territorial Rd. to the entrance of HCMA facility as long as those entrances exist.

"2. The HCMA contributes to cost of rebuilding the North Territorial Rd. bridge when done by the Washtenaw County Road Commission, to the extent required so ingress and egress to that portion of HCMA lands north of North Territorial is accessed only from the main entrance of this regional park.

"3. The HCMA significantly contributes to improvements of North Territorial Rd., between Dexter-Pinckney Rd. and Huron River Dr., so that two lanes of traffic and acceleration and deceleration lanes are provided no later than two years after completion of the activities building.

"4. Should any of the above conditions not be fully met, or North Territorial Rd. is not improved between Old US-23 and Huron River Dr. to a level as now represented by Dexter-Pinckney Rd. by the end of 1985, the structure permitted as a part of this site plan approval shall not be utilized on weekends or holidays during the period between and including Memorial Day and Labor Day."

The over-all proposed planned project includes a 1,700-acre recreational facility. The HCMA presently owns 1,400 acres.

According to Duncan, Hudson Mills is one of the metro parks in the five-county area under the jurisdiction of the HCMA. They feel it has been "laying dormant and it is now time to begin development."

To make full use of the park throughout all seasons, the HCMA developed a site to include a 6,000 square foot building that would house a food service concession. The building is planned for the south side of the park that is not the group camp area. That area will be relocated to the north side of North Territorial Rd.

The plan, in addition, provides areas for tennis, volleyball, shuffleboard, and basketball, equipment rental for skating and cross country skiing, a bike-hiking trail and a golf course.

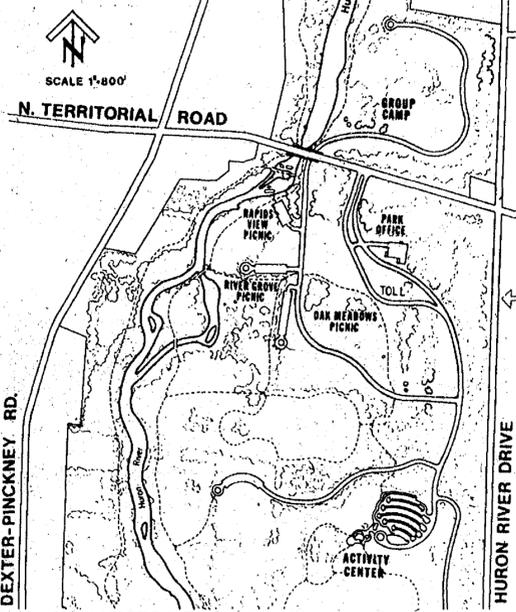

A citizens group under the name Huron River Area Association provided a standing room only crowd at the Dexter Township Hall at last Tuesday's meeting. They were informed that the crucial issues had already been settled a week earlier at the Zoning Board meeting.

The Huron River Area Association met for the first time on July 26 to set plans and objectives. Those offering advice and support included professional people, representatives from the Dexter Township Board of Trustees, Zoning Board, Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners, the state legislature and other area citizens.

The preliminary objectives compiled by the Association included:

1. Keep the river in its natural state, preserve wetlands.
2. Prevent commercialization of the park and adjacent areas.

Hudson Mills Metropark

HUDSON MILLS: Dexter Township Zoning Board has approved a site plan by the HCMA for additional facilities to Hudson Mills Park on North Territorial Rd. The long-range plan includes a 1,700-acre facility with a golf course, tennis courts, shuffleboard, etc., and an all-season activities building. Among the stipulations accepted by the HCMA is the development of a park road under the bridge joining Authority owned lands on the south with lands held north of North Territorial Rd.

3. Prevent overuse of fragile area lands.

4. Exclude activities which could be built elsewhere from occupying the river front.

5. Give the area residents a voice in park use, expansion or change.

6. Prevent new costs to the townships for police, fire, roads, etc.

7. Preserve the essentially rural quality of life in the area.

The group's objections to the stipulations set by the zoning board were that "they were vague and did not quantify contributions by HCMA, that they did not safeguard interests of local residents, they were unenforceable as written and that the road, bridge and access improvements could not be finished in time to support expanded use of the park." The concern was voiced that if necessary improvements were left to be finished later, they would never happen and the townships would be left holding the bag.

There was agreement on all sides that the North Territorial Rd. bridge must be replaced to support the expanded park traffic. The replacement bridge will be higher, longer and double the width. North Territorial Rd. is to be widened to four lanes between Huron River Dr. and Dexter-Pinckney Rd. to provide deceleration lanes to the park gates. A roadway is to be built underneath the bridge to link areas on the north and south sides of the highway. All access is to be on the south side.

The Huron River Area Association feels that the incremental bridge cost brought about by park usage should be born by the HCMA. They stated that no agreement in writing to implement this exists other than the site-approval document where time frame stipulations are vague.

The Dexter Township Board hopes to schedule an information meeting within the next few weeks for all parties concerned to include representatives of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, the Washtenaw County Road Commission and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Eight is enough.

If you're paying more than $8 a month for your business checking account, your bank is giving you the business.

Average Available Business Checking Balance	Monthly Service Charge
$2000 or more	$0
$1000 to $1999	$5
$1 to $999	$8

How much are you paying for a business checking account at your bank? As much as $20 some months? Thirty? Fifty?

If you open an account at Ann Arbor Trust, you'll pay no more than $8 a month. Any month. And you could, with ease, maintain your account for free.

You see, we charge you only if your available balance falls below $2000. If you keep an average available monthly balance of between $1 and $999 in your account, you pay just an $8 monthly service fee. Between $1000 and $1999, just a $5 monthly fee. And a balance of $2000 or more in your account means you pay no service charges at all.

That's a welcome change from the policies of some area banks who charge you for each deposit you make, every check you write, and a monthly service fee to boot.

Next month, when your monthly statement arrives, sit down and figure out how much your account is costing you. Then move your money to Ann Arbor Trust. Because we feel eight dollars is enough.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

Chelsea—and every other community for that matter—needs more people like John and Phyllis Muncer. They believe in the town and have put their money on the line.

I met Phyllis Muncer for the first time on the morning of Friday, Jan. 14, while firemen were still working inside the Village Bakery to scuff out embers of an early morning blaze which had destroyed the interior of the building.

Mrs. Muncer was sitting at a table in Seitz's Tavern across the street. She wasn't drowning her sorrows or crying in her beer. She had simply gone to find a place to sit down and think after a dream had gone up in smoke.

She and her husband had bought the bakery just a few weeks before. It was to be "her thing," a business she could manage while John did "his thing" of piloting commercial jets for Republic Airlines.

It was not an easy interview for her, but Mrs. Muncer responded graciously to my questions. Her first concern, she said, was for the tenants in the apartments upstairs over the bakery. She praised the fire department for its quick response and effective action which kept the flames from spreading and perhaps burning out the whole south side of the 100 block of W. Middle St.

"Thank God nobody was hurt," she said. "You can repair damage to a building. You can't always repair people. We'll have the apartments ventilated and cleaned to get rid of the smoke smell, so the tenants can move back in."

Then came the key question: "Are you going to reopen the bakery?"

"We will," she promised, "just as soon as possible. I don't know how long it will take or what it will cost, but we are here to stay. We believe in Chelsea, and we intend to invest in its future."

It took six months and a lot of time, trouble and money for the Muncers to reopen the Village Bakery. There was a long hassle over the insurance settlement for the fire damage, and an even longer period of reconstruction.

The latter was deliberate. The Muncers decided to "do the job right," no matter how long it took or what it cost.

"We could have gone in and slapped up some plywood walls, put in some cheap fixtures and furniture, and been back in business in a hurry," Mrs. Muncer explained, "but we didn't want to do it that way. We wanted a place that we could be proud of and that Chelsea could be proud of. We decided the new Village Bakery should be something special."

As it was presented to the public on July 15, six months to the day after the fire, the new bakery is indeed "something special." It's a beautiful place, both inside and out. It establishes a standard of appearance and quality which others in the downtown business community should be challenged to match.

Much credit goes to the contractor, Frederick Belsler, and his employees, for their craftsmanship. The Muncers insisted from the start that the work should be done by a local firm, and their decision was rewarded. The little extra touches that make the difference between ordinary and excellent are evident throughout.

The only question that Mrs. Muncer has declined to answer for publication is how much the new bakery cost, over and above the insurance settlement. I know the amount, and can say without violating any confidences that you could build a pretty nice new house, and buy the lot to put it on, for the price.

The hurriedly called cocktail party on the eve of the Village Bakery's reopening was a happy occasion. The Muncers were all smiles and handshakes as they greeted visitors who came to partake of their hospitality.

Even more joyous was the next morning, when a crowd showed up and packed the place. Business has been brisk since.

"We are grateful to everybody who has helped us," Mrs. Muncer said. "We can't thank people enough."

The question in this observer's mind is, who should be thanking whom? My judgment is that the community owes the Muncers a big debt of gratitude for having kept the faith. The easy way would have been to collect the insurance from the fire, put the money in the bank, and walk away from the burned-out mess.

The Muncers didn't do that. They are back to stay.

Huron River Canoe Map Available

The Huron River Canoe Map-1983, which has an orange cover and Metroparks triangle-shaped logo in the upper right corner, is now available "free" at the Detroit Office of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority or at three Metropark offices.

These offices are Kensington Metropark near Milford, Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter and Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville.

To obtain a copy by mail, send your name, address and 20¢ in postage or coin to: Huron River Canoe Map, Dept. W-40, in care of Metroparks, 3050 Penobscot Building, Detroit 48226.

The map, covering the 101-mile stretch of the Huron River from Proud Lake in Oakland county to its mouth at Lake Erie in Wayne county, is divided into four sections: (1) Proud Lake State Recreation Area to Kensington Metropark, (2) Kensington Metropark to the village of Dexter, (3) Dexter to the city of Belleville, and (4) Belleville to Lake Erie.

Designed by graphic artist Michael S. Broad, the Huron River Canoe Map shows public canoe campsites, launching and parking areas, portages, canoe liveries, road crossings and other orientation points. A chart denotes mileage and travel time between major points of interest, with a complete trip estimated at 42 hours.

BEFORE THE RAINS CAME the 30th Manchester Chicken Broll was broiling indeed. At noon the eight tons of chickens started going on the grills. They came off the trucks in boxes on a conveyor belt to the rack assembly line. Some men dumped out the ice; others unwrapped them and piled them on the table. Keith Reed, left, and Vince Lysaght, two of the more than 600-person work force, loaded the racks with chickens. As soon as they were finished, two men took the barbecue sauce is a secret recipe. Rains and tornado threats ended the broll for good about 9 p.m. The uncooked chickens were given away.

Village May Offer On Kolander Property

look. Swisher came up with a value of $80,000.

Thornton Realty then proposed to sell the property to the village for the appraised price plus 7 percent sales commission, $85,600 in all.

The council mulled that proposal at its July 19 meeting, and didn't like it. Trustee Herman Radloff offered a motion to put in an $80,000 offer, and Jerry Satterthwaite supported him. Theirs were the only yes votes, as Loren Keezer, Richard Steele and Jeanene Riemenschneider turned thumbs down.

Keezer then moved to lower the ante to $75,000, and that motion eventually was adopted, 3-2, with Keezer switching to vote in favor.

Mrs. Riemenschneider, who is a realtor, said she thinks $75,000 is too high a price for the property. "It's not worth that much," she declared in explaining her negative vote.

Merkel said after the meeting that he believes the $80,000 appraisal made by Swisher is "more in the ballpark" than the Cooch figure of $45,000. "I own commercial property on Main St., and I think I have a pretty good idea what it is worth. It's certainly worth more than $450 a front foot."

Whether the $75,000 offer will be made or not will depend on what Weber finds out from Flincoff about the validity of the less than two-thirds majority vote.

Paving Bid Awarded

more than $4,000 under the $65,179 estimate which the village had prepared in consultation with Washtenaw Engineering Co.

Lee M. Fahrner of Washtenaw Engineering reviewed the bids and recommended the award to Chie.

Preliminary work on Wilkinson and Orchard Sts. has begun. An effort will be made to keep one lane open for local traffic on both streets while the construction is going on.

An idea to "recycle" the existing asphalt pavement on Orchard St. by grinding it up, mixing it with a binder, and laying it back down as a "new" surface has been abandoned. It will be cheaper in the long run to dispose of the old pavement and start over. Recycling would have added about $11,000 to the cost of the project.

The Chie company's winning bid breaks down as follows:

Wilkinson St.—$29,278.50.
Orchard St.—$18,120.50
Fire station parking area—$6,568.40.
Main St. parking lot—$4,156.
Middle St. parking lot—$2,965.60.
Total—$61,089.

Sir Pizza Slow Pitch Team Wins District, Seeks State Crown

Chelsea's Sir Pizza slow pitch softball team won its way into the state finals by winning the district tournament in Ann Arbor last weekend with six straight victories, four of them on Sunday. The state tournament will be played at Stanton on Labor Day weekend.

Sir Pizza had two close calls in games won by single runs. They defeated the Chelsea Jaycee Smoke team, 9-8, in the opening tourney game and later eked out a 3-2 decision over Wendy's, an unusually low score for slow pitch softball.

Chuck Minix was the winning pitcher in all six contests.

Hitting stars were numerous. They included Bill Rickman, Frank Sawyer, Kerry VanDyke, Bill Hall, Danny Wilson, Paul Titus, Terry Parker, Mike Bassett, Bob Adams and Minix. As a team, Sir Pizza batted better than .500 for the six games.

There was outstanding defense turned in also, especially in the 3-2 games against Wendy's in which both teams played errorless ball. Two double-plays helped Sir Pizza beat Wendy's in the second meeting between the two teams, this one for the championship. The score was 15-10.

The scores were: Sir Pizza 9, Smoke 8; Sir Pizza 14, Shultz Botle 2; Sir Pizza 10, Aviation Fuel, Inc. 5; Sir Pizza 3, Wendy's 2; Sir Pizza 18, Thompson-Shore 3; Sir Pizza 15, Wendy's 10.

The final game 15-10 victory was in no way as easy as the 15-10 score makes it look. Sir Pizza spotted Wendy's a 10-2 lead in the second inning, and then came back to win.

Sir Pizza team won the Stockbridge Summerfest tournament July 8-10 with five straight victories, setting a tourney record.

In winning, Sir Pizza defeated last year's state Class C champions, Stein's Bar, twice, 11-7 and 15-5.

During the five games the hard-hitting local team piled up 62 runs to their opponents' 28.

Pitcher Chuck Minix had a 1.26 earned run average for the tournament.

The hitting star was Terry Parker, who belted two home runs, had 13 runs driven in, and compiled a .647 batting average for the five games. Sir Pizza batted an awesome .522 as a team, and played good defense besides.

In other action last week Sir Pizza stayed on top of the Chelsea Men's Slow Pitch League with a perfect 9-0 record, defeating Mark IV Lounge, 17-2. Minix was the winning pitcher, giving up only six hits, while Bill Rickman, Parker and Kerry Vandyke were doing some heavy hitting. Vandyke had a three-run homer.

Chelsea Nine Loses To Gabriel Richard, 10-9

In their only action of the week, Chelsea went down to defeat in a close and exciting game, 10-9, against Gabriel Richard.

Chelsea opened with a four-run first inning highlighted by Mike Neibauer's two-run homer. The lead didn't last as Gabriel Richard came back and scored six in their half of the first.

At the end of five, Chelsea was behind, 9-5, but did not give up and scored two in the sixth and two more in the seventh to tie the game at 9-9.

Gabriel Richard plated a run in the bottom of the seventh, sending Chelsea home with a 10-9 loss.

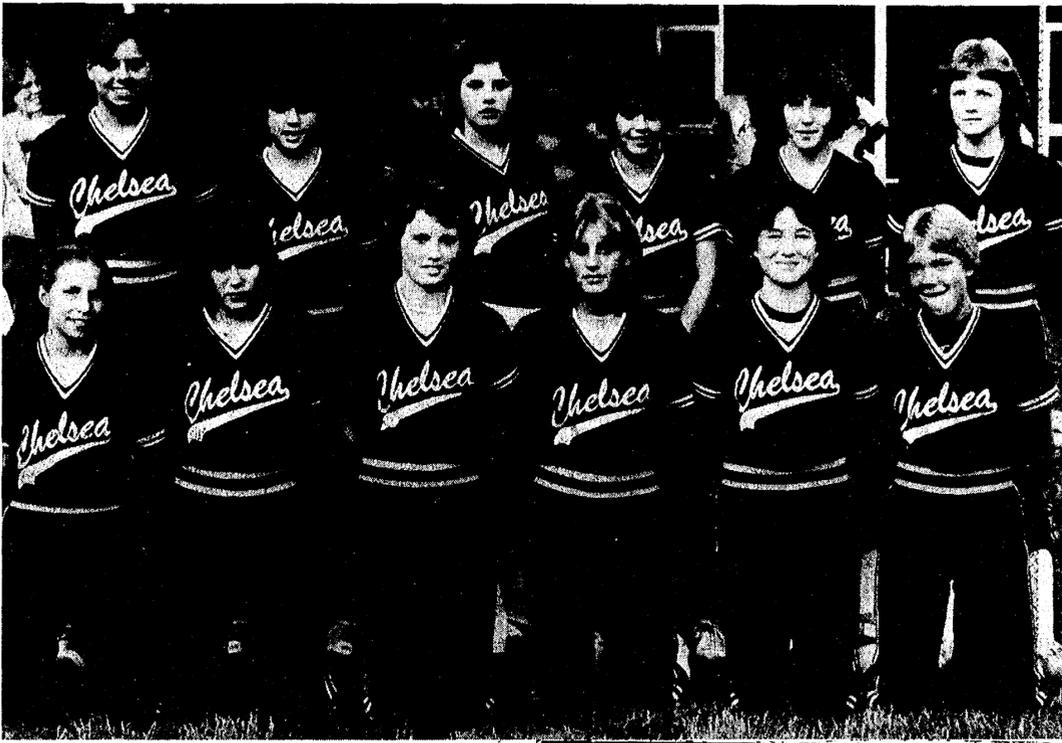

The defeat drops Chelsea to 6-4 on the season and a fourth-place position in the eight-team standings.

Ron Dunn started on the mound for Chelsea. He was relieved by Chris Gallas in the fifth. Gallas took the loss.

Girls Softball Teams Have New Uniforms

Chelsea women's fastpitch softball teams for girls 13-15 and 16-18 will be at Chelsea Sidewalk Festival this week-end with their most recent fund raising project. Donations will be used for new equipment and entry fees for next summer season.

Both teams are crucial to the development of players who have been and/or will be members of the phenomenally successful Bulldog varsity and junior varsity softball teams.

This season they have new uniforms which were purchased from donations from local businesses and community members.

The season will end with a potluck family picnic July 30 at Veterans Memorial Park.

James H. Moore Completes Truck Driver Training

A Chelsea man was among the recent graduates of the Truck Driver Training Program at Lansing Community College. Completing the complex, four-week course of instruction, was James H. Moore, 1488 Ridge Rd., who passed an extensive road trip in excess of 1,000 miles in addition to 40 hours of classroom instruction.

A certificate of completion was awarded in addition to the D.O.T. certification at ceremonies on July 15 at the Fort Custer facility near Battle Creek.

Variety of Articles Stolen in Thefts at State Campground

Two cases of larceny were reported from the Crooked Lake state campground off Silver Hill Rd. in Dexter township last weekend. (There is another Crooked Lake in Sylvan township.)

A cooler and its contents, left outside a tent, were stolen while the owner, Tom Garvin of Toledo, was away from his campsite. Garvin valued the missing goods at $120.

A car belonging to Jeffrey R. Van Doren of Ann Arbor was broken into by prying open a side vent window. Taken were a bamboo flyrod, pellet gun, air pump and purse containing $20 in cash, credit cards and personal papers. The combined loss was estimated at $380.

Former Chelsea High Star Pitchers Going to Nationals

They were a bit slow getting started, and their season record is only 15-8, but the Stein & Goetz Pacers of Ann Arbor have put it all together in recent weeks and will go to the national women's fast-pitch softball tournament in Salt Lake City Aug. 3-10.

The team includes former Chelsea High school star pitchers

Nanette Push and Amy Unterbrink, and is made up of college-age players from the Ann Arbor area.

The Pacers got into the nationals by winning the Women's Major Fast-Pitch State Tournament at Flint on July 10 with three straight victories.

Unterbrink, who starred as a freshman pitcher at Indiana University last spring, hurled a two-hitter in the first game, and Push, a senior at Eastern Michigan, came on with a one-hit effort in the second contest.

The two then combined on a three-hitter in the final game victory over host W. K., Inc., to send the team on to Salt Lake City. Unterbrink got credit for the pitching victory.

"We didn't do very well as a team early in the season," Unterbrink said, "but we have our act together now and are playing good ball. I'm excited about our chances in the nationals."

The only other Michigan team in the Utah tournament will be the Wyoming (Mich.) Royals, who were invited automatically after having taken fourth place last year.

In the state tournament the Pacers batted .307 as a team, while pitchers Push and Unterbrink held the opposition to a combined average of .094.

Going to the national meet is an honor that must be earned in more ways than one. Each player on the Pacer team must raise between $500 and $800 on her own to help finance the trip.

"I understand that Nanette has her money raised, but I'm still working on mine," Unterbrink said. "I'll get it. This is something you dream about doing."

It won't be Unterbrink's first venture into national competition, however. She led her Indiana team into the women's collegiate softball finals last spring, pitching in her first year of college ball. The Hoosiers lost but "will be better next year," she promised.

Recent extremely hot weather has raised water temperatures and slowed fishing to a near stand-still in area lakes and rivers.
 Warm water reduces the metabolic rate of fish and cuts down their appetites to the point where they may not feed at all for days.
 Anglers are best advised to get up very early in the morning and be on the water at the crack of dawn, or even before, to take advantage of overnight cooling which may stimulate fish to feed for an hour or two before the sun chases them into the depths to sulk.
 In rivers and streams fishermen should concentrate their efforts in deep holes,

Turkey Hatches Brood

One radio-monitored hen wild turkey among the nine released in the Waterloo Recreation Area has hatched a brood of at least nine poults and raised them to the size where their survival chances are good, the Department of Natural Resources reports.

Another nesting hen with 12 eggs was the victim of a predator. Feathers and the radio telemetry device were found near the nest.
 A third hen abandoned her first clutch of eggs, possibly because of human disturbance, but has re-nested and laid nine more eggs which should hatch any day now if all goes well.

It is possible that others of the nine hens known to have survived from the original stocking of five males and 10 females imported from Iowa may have nested successfully. Those birds were not equipped with radio-senders, however, and their whereabouts and welfare are unknown. One hen was killed by a predator shortly after release.

The DNR is anxious to receive reports of sightings of either adult birds or young ones, especially the latter. Reports should be made to the department's Jackson district office or to the Waterloo Recreation Area headquarters.

The stocking program is an experiment to see if wild turkeys can be re-established in this part of the state, where they once were native but have been gone for nearly a century. The birds have been re-introduced in many areas of Michigan farther north and provide excellent trophy hunting during a special spring season.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

The Ann Arbor Board of Education and State Sen. Lana Pollack appear determined to try to cripple the Michigan High School Athletic Association, if not put it out of business entirely, over the issues of transfer policy and alleged sex bias in sports.

Both the Ann Arbor board and Ms. Pollack are way off base, in this reporter's opinion. To the extent they are successful in achieving their aims, they will further damage a state high school athletic program that is already struggling to stay alive.

Big and rich districts like Ann Arbor could probably keep their athletic programs going. Smaller districts—Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Pinckney, Stockbridge, and all others down through Class D—would have their feet pushed deeper into the glue.

The Ann Arbor board is pondering whether to renew its membership in the MHSAA, which has administered state high school athletics for the past 59 years under an agreement with the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. Membership in the association is voluntary. Nobody has to join. All public and parochial schools are eligible to belong.

Where the rub comes is that the MHSAA sponsors post-season games and tournaments which showcase top individuals and teams. Non-member schools cannot compete in those events.

Ann Arbor, which makes a point of being "different," as apparently does Sen. Pollack, has challenged the system, which has worked pretty well for nearly six decades. The interesting thing is that they seem to be the only ones who are complaining. Perhaps it would be best if Ann Arbor withdrew from the MSHAA and ran its own private show, and Ms. Pollack turned her attention to more important issues which confront the Legislature.

The Ann Arbor board objects to the association rule which states that a student who transfers from one school to another between his or her ninth and tenth grade years, without actually moving, loses a semester of athletic eligibility. The regulation was put in to stop the practice of "recruiting" which had become widespread, especially among parochial schools.

To understand the need for some kind of control you have only to look at the results of state high school tournaments over the past several years. Parochial schools—mostly Catholic but also others—have come out winners in far more than their proportionate share of those events, to the point where public school athletic directors and coaches finally cried "foul."

Religion (and let it be made known right here that I am a Catholic) has many personal rewards, but there is nothing in the Scriptures that says going to church automatically makes you a better athlete. There has to be another explanation for the dominance of parochial schools in Michigan high school athletics, and there is one: They (or at least some of them) recruit from all over.

Unlike public schools, which are restricted within prescribed enrollment boundary lines, parochial schools can get their students from anywhere, so long as tuition is paid.

I know a little bit about how that system works. My wife's cousin formerly lived in Birmingham and was an enthusiastic booster of Birmingham Brother Rice sports. He and his wife regularly gave free room and board to at least a couple of Brother Rice students from northern Michigan, who just happened to be good athletes. Other Catholics in the community did the same, and still do, and it's not surprising that Brother Rice has been and continues to be a dominant power in state high school sports.

Nor is recruiting limited to parochial schools. I lived in Lansing while Earvin (Magic) Johnson was growing up and going to school. The Johnson family lived in the Lansing Eastern district. When it came time for Johnson to enter high school, his family had moved across the line into the Lansing Everett district.

Maybe the Johnson family just wanted a change of scene, but the fact was that Everett had a much better supporting cast of basketball players coming along to support Earvin's talents than did Eastern. There were rumors around town that the move had been encouraged and helped by Everett boosters, although nothing was ever proven publicly.

Under the transfer rule now in effect, Johnson would not have lost any athletic eligibility, because his family did move physically into a new school district.

Whether the MHSAA transfer rule is the right way to attack what undoubtedly is an abuse—and therefore a problem—is open to argument. A better approach might be to draw some boundary lines around parochial schools, establish districts, and require that all student-athletes and their families live inside them.

There is no practical way that I can suggest to stop transfers from one public school district to another. People do, after all, have the right to change their place of residence, and trying to tamper with that right would be a classic case of throwing out the baby with the bath water.

What is bothersome is that emphasis on athletic superiority has reached down to the high school level. Professional sports are a joke from an ethical standpoint, and college athletics aren't much better. High schools are about the last places where the spirit of amateur athletics—playing for the sheer fun of competition—remains, and it is being eroded. That is a shame.

I will get into the sex bias issue next week.

Hot Weather Slows Fishing Pace in Area

especially if they are spring-fed. Fish concentrate in such cool-water covers during hot weather. The patient, persistent angler can be successful under the conditions that have prevailed in recent weeks, but it takes skill and experience to connect consistently. "Take it slow and easy" is a good general rule to follow. Fish don't move much in the heat, and neither should fishermen.

HAND-DIPPED ICE CREAM CONES

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Let's say that you have decided to try tent camping, you have your outfit together, it all fits into your vehicle, and you are getting ready to go. Now what?

First, make a list of EVERYTHING you need to take with you, and be sure it is complete, right down to such seemingly sure items as your toothbrush. Go over it again and again until you are certain it is right.

Then, assemble everything and go camping in your backyard. You will find that you have left many much-needed items off your list. It's a whole lot easier to go into your house and get them than try to buy them when you are hundreds of miles away from home.

Revise the list, and spend another night in the backyard. With two nights of experience under your belt, you should have a pretty good idea of what you need and what you can get along without. The final list will be considerably different from the first one.

Make a master copy of the shaken-down list, find a duplicating machine, and print several more copies. From then on, check every item off the list every time you load up to go camping, and be sure you have everything. There are few things worse than arriving at a campground and discovering, for example, that you don't have a hammer to drive tent stakes or forgot the fuel for your stove and lantern, that all the local stores are closed for the day, and that the campground supply shop is fresh out of what you urgently require.

Fortunately, campers are a friendly and charitable lot, and you can almost always borrow what you need in a pinch. It's better and less embarrassing not to have to go begging, unless you get a kick out of seeming to be stupid.

Include in your kit an assortment of campground directories for the area in which you plan to travel and camp. They are available from many sources—travel clubs, service stations, private associations, public agencies. None is complete so far as I have been able to discover, so get several.

Make your first away-from-home camping trip short, no more than 100 miles. Use your directories and select your destination in advance so that you will arrive no later than mid-afternoon. Leave yourself enough leeway so that if you get there and don't like what you see, you will have time to go on to an alternate, or even go back home.

By all means, at least until you are veteran campers, set your schedule so that you arrive in plenty of time to set up camp and do your cooking and clean-up in daylight. I try to be off the road and putting up the tent no later than 4 p.m. Early to bed and early to rise is a good rule to follow in tent-camping. You can be up and on your way an hour after dawn if you want to.

In most campgrounds, public or private, you probably will be assigned a specific numbered campsite when you check in. Accept it provisionally, reserving the right to change your mind after looking it over.

Inspect the site carefully and ask yourself at least three questions: (1) Is it on high ground, so that water will drain away on all sides in case of rain? (2) Is there a level spot big enough for your tent? (3) Is the ground soft enough that you can drive stakes (try one)?

If the answer to any of those questions is no, request another site. If you identify the one you want before you ask, you probably will get it provided that it isn't already occupied or reserved. If you can't get a suitable site in the campground of your first choice, go on to another.

Campgrounds fall into two broad categories—private and public. Private campgrounds generally cost more, but offer more amenities. The better ones provide clean toilet-lavatory-shower buildings with assured hot water, coin laundries, swimming pools, game rooms, stores with basic groceries and supplies, including ice, confirmed advance reservations, enforcement of quiet hours, all-night lighting, and other services. Our experience is that they are well worth the money.

Public campgrounds are a mixed bag. Some are satisfactory, some aren't. Unfortunately, there is no good way of knowing until you try them out. As a general rule, don't expect hot water, and be prepared to put up with a certain amount of uncleanness.

If your directory describes a campground as "primitive," be prepared for pit toilets (which invariably smell bad), a well pump, and not much else.

The redeeming feature of public campgrounds is that they are usually located in scenic spots away from major highways. They can be enjoyable if you are prepared to put up with their limitations. They are also relatively cheap.

Tent camping is a fun, inexpensive way to go that will stretch your travel dollars. The money you save on shelter and food can be spent on entertainment that you otherwise might not be able to afford. If you have a little bit of adventure in your soul, try it.

38-Year-Old State Bluegill Mark Broken

One of the two oldest big-fish records on Michigan's books has been broken after having stood for 38 years.

Gary Saylor of Battle Creek caught a whopper bluegill from Vaughn Lake in Alcona county on June 29. It measured 13 3/4 inches and weighed 3 pounds 12 ounces, two ounces more than the previous state record bluegill which was registered in 1945.

Fisheries biologist Gary Towns of the DNR's Jackson district office verified Saylor's record bluegill.

The only longer existing record is that for largemouth bass—11 pounds 5 ounces set in 1941. Nobody has even come close to that one since.

Also broken recently was the state record for pumpkinseed sunfish. A Jackson angler, Troy Hamlin, caught a 10 1/2-inch "sunnie" that weighed an even pound from Clark's Lake in Jackson county on June 26.

Chelsea Aquatic Club Loses To Racquet Club

Chelsea Aquatic Club lost to the Racquet Club, 475-288, July 16.

The team still had swimmers missing in some events, according to the coaching staff (family vacations and camps make a dent in any team in the summer). But that means the faces are different each week, and the children get to try more events.

Paula Colombo, a member of the girl's high school swim team, had returned from a two-week swim camp at Yale and got a first and second against the Racquet Club.

The league championship meet, the high point of the season, was held last week-end. The coaching staff expected most of its key swimmers to be there since all qualified.

Individual results as submitted by the coaching staff follow.

Chelsea Milling Given Approval For Expanded Tax-Break Zone

What does it cost to create a job in Chelsea? Howard Holmes, president of Chelsea Milling Co., was asked that question at the July 19 village council meeting, and confessed that he didn't know the answer.

"It's a very sizeable number of dollars," Holmes said, "but I honestly don't know what the exact amount is. I don't want to guess, because I could be way off the mark. We have never computed costs that way."

The question came up during discussion of a request from Chelsea Milling to expand its Industrial Development District to include the former Chelsea Lumber Co. property that the milling firm has bought.

The expansion was granted unanimously by the trustees present. Joe Merkel was absent. Loren Keezer, who is employed by Chelsea Milling, abstained.

In an Industrial Development District, owners are entitled to a 50 percent tax write-off on improvements made to the property.

Holmes has said that Chelsea Milling may hire up to 20 new employees following construction of a new mixing and packaging plant on the former lumber company site. Work on building the new facility was supposed to have begun by June 1, but has been delayed. Estimated cost of the new plant has not publicly been disclosed, but it will be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Chelsea Milling makes and markets the popular line of Jiffy Mixes.

Holmes told the council that, in return for the tax abatement, the company will do "a better job of building." The present plant, he said, will be converted to manufacture of packaged mixes for institutions such as hospitals and restaurants.

Three Area Roads Undergo 'Wedging'

Three heavily travelled area roads are being "wedged" as part of a summer maintenance program to delay the day when they will have to be repaved, Washtenaw County Road Commission engineer Fletcher DesAutels has confirmed.

The roads involved are:

1. Chelsea-Dexter Rd., full length.
2. Cavanaugh Lake Rd. from the Chelsea village limits west to the Jackson county line.
3. North Territorial Rd. from M-52 east to Whitmore Lake Rd.

"Wedging" is a process by which the road receives a thin layer of hot asphalt, is then graded (actually shaved) to remove excess crowning and fill in low spots, and is finally seal-coated with liquid asphalt.

"All it really does is buy us some time before we absolutely have to replace the pavement," DesAutels said. "It's a cheap way to postpone repaving for 5-10 years. With the limited money we have, it's the best we can do right now. Actually, all of those roads are ready for resurfacing, but we can't afford it."

Although it may appear as if the roads are being widened, they really aren't, DesAutels said. "What we are doing is filling out to the old, frayed edges, and no farther," he explained. "When the side stripes are repainted, the driving lanes will be exactly as wide as before."

The work is being carried on with no traffic detours, although drivers may encounter warning signs and flagmen directing vehicles through construction zones.

County Parks Comm. Plans Anniversary

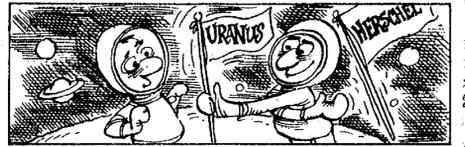

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission will be having its 10th Anniversary Celebration on Monday, Aug. 1. Plan to picnic, watch a Biathlon race and enjoy a free concert. Ongoing activities include volleyball, picnicking, children's play area, swimming and fishing.

The schedule is as follows:
5:00 p.m.—Park entrance fee lowered to 1/2 rate.
5:15-6:15 p.m.—Biathlon Registration.
6:30-8 p.m.—Biathlon (one mile swim and 5 kilometer run).

In case of rain all activities except the Biathlon will take place on Tuesday, Aug. 2.

JEFF SMITH, an Eagle Scout candidate of Boy Scout Troop No. 425 of Chelsea, recently completed his Eagle Project, landscaping of St. Andrew's United Church of Christ, Dexter. He took out dead shrubs and replaced them with new ones, put down many yards of wood chips, and planted grass seed, marigolds and salvias around the church. Purpose of the three-month project was to beautify the church grounds for its 100th anniversary, which is being celebrated this year. The church's centennial committee financed his improvements. Jeff, 12, a rising eighth grader at the church, is the son of St. Andrew's members, Robert and Carol Smith of 19890 Old US-12, Chelsea. He expects to attain Eagle this fall.

GOLDEN GRAIN: The local wheat harvest has begun, and the grain is being unloaded at local storage elevators. Here a truck is emptied through a floor grate at Honegger's. The wheat is weighed and tested for moisture before being hoisted into the elevator towers. The crop is expected to be on the short side this year.

Local Wheat Crop Harvest Under Way

The local wheat harvest has begun and will continue for about two more weeks, depending on the weather.

As predicted earlier, yields are far below "bumper crop" levels, Washtenaw county extension agent Bill Ames said.

"A good crop is 60-70 bushels per acre. I haven't seen or heard of anything like that from any grower so far, and I don't expect to," Ames said. "What we are seeing is a broad mixture of fairly good to pretty poor, and it's impossible to come up with any kind of an average figure that would mean anything. The range is just too great."

The wheat crop was hurt by last spring's cold, wet weather and by recent wind storms which flattened some of it so that it can't be cut. Then came a heavy attack of "barley yellow dwarf virus" (BYDV) which has also reduced yields.

Some wheat growers have been lucky and escaped some of the problems, Ames said, and some haven't. "There is a big variation from field to field on the same farm, and even more from farm to farm."

Winnewana Pond To Be Recycled

WINNEWANA CREEK: A dam and dike across this slow-flowing swamp creek provides the water for the Winnewana Floodwaters. It flows out of the impoundment, across Waterloo Rd. and into Sugar Loaf Lake. There will be a lot more water in the creek later this summer when the Department of Natural Resources begins draining the floodwaters to kill out the weeds and restore the flooding to at least some of its former glory as a prime fish and wildlife habitat.

The long-troubled Winnewana Floodwaters in Lyndon township will be drained later this summer to accomplish a number of purposes, including better fishing and waterfowl hunting.

Ken Dodge, Department of Natural Resources district fisheries biologist at Jackson, said a public information meeting on the project will be held tomorrow night beginning at 7 p.m. in the Waterloo Township Hall, Waterloo village.

"We invite anyone interested to come and find out what we are going to do and why," Dodge said. "We will explain the project and answer questions. We want the public to be fully informed."

The most urgent reason for draining the impoundment is that the dam and dike must be repaired. They were inspected recently and flunked the safety tests imposed by federal and state standards.

Beyond that, however, is a need to revitalize the flooding to improve conditions for both fish and wildlife, especially ducks, Dodge said.

"It's in pretty sad shape right now," he added. "There isn't much in there except weeds, and they are so thick that fishing is virtually impossible. There aren't many fish left anyway, and the weeds are the wrong kind for waterfowl."

The impoundment was created during the early 1960's by damming tiny Winnewana Creek, which flows between Winnewana Lake and Sugarloaf Lake. There was considerable argument at the time whether the basin would ever fill with water, and some experts with good credentials said it wouldn't.

To everyone's pleasant surprise and relief it did fill up over a period of two years of lower than normal precipitation. However, the basin is shallow, and water depth averaged 2-6 feet with only a few deeper holes.

As commonly happens with new impoundments, the population of stocked fish exploded fantastically. First bluegills and sunfish, later bass, and still later pike showed up in fabulous numbers and sizes.

The fishing was so good during those early years that Winnewana made several national lists of "best" angling hot-spots across the country.

As also commonly happens

CHOKED WITH WEEDS: Much of the Winnewana Floodwaters, which was ranked as one of the nation's best fishing spots during the 1960's, looks like this today as weeds have taken over. There aren't with new impoundments, especially shallow ones, Winnewana began to sprout a luxurious crop of under-water weeds. Those contributed to an oxygen depletion problem, which in turn led to severe winter-kills of fish. The impoundment has suffered some degree of kill almost every winter over the past 10 years.

At this point, Dodge said, the fish population apparently consists of a rather small number of stunted pike, and not much else. "There just aren't many fish left," he commented, "even if you could get a hook down through the weeds to catch them."

During its early life Winnewana attracted large numbers of ducks and some Canada geese, and provided good nesting habitat and some fine hunting. That, too, has changed.

Some kinds of weeds furnish good cover and food for waterfowl, and some don't, and most of these in the impoundment are the kinds that don't.

The DNR hopes to turn the situation around and restore Winnewana to at least some of its former glory by draining it and leaving it dry this winter and all of next year, re-flooding it in the spring of 1985.

"In effect, we will be recycling the impoundment," Dodge explained. "We will kill the weeds, convert them to natural fertilizer, and start all over. Meanwhile we will make the legally required repairs on the dam and dike, probably next spring."

For a shallow impoundment like Winnewana, such treatment probably is necessary every 5-6 years, Dodge said, if good fish and waterfowl habitat is to be maintained.

"We won't eliminate the problems entirely," he added. "We will continue to have fish kills in severe winters, and the weeds will grow back. But we should have something better out there than what we have now, which is not much."

Dodge said it will take 3-4 months to drain the impoundment slowly through Winnewana Creek, to avoid overflow problems that might affect property owners on Sugarloaf Lake. The drawdown will start soon.

Winnewana will be restocked with fish after it is reflooded, he promised, and waterfowl should return to it naturally. For the next two years, however, there will be little if anything to attract sportsmen, he acknowledged. That could be a bone of contention at tomorrow's public meeting.

Village Accepts Free Mosquito Control Offer

The Environmental Services Group of Ann Arbor has offered to do something for nothing for the village of Chelsea, and the village council has taken them up on it.

Michael Foreman of Environmental Services said his firm would provide mosquito control for free in the three small ponds on the south side of Veterans Park, beginning now and extending until Oct. 1.

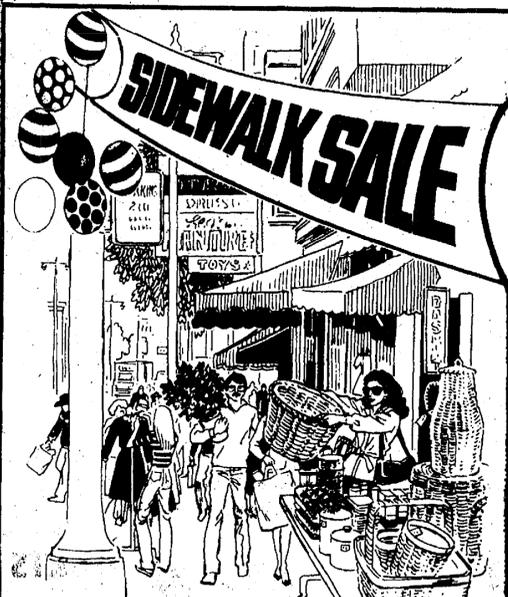

Asked why the offer was being made, Foreman said it was a "public relations" move. "We might bid on future contracts involving rehabilitation of the ponds if the village decides to do something about them, and we would like to show you what we can do. We'll take care of the mosquito problem at no cost."

After making sure there were no gimmicks in the offer, the council voted unanimously to accept it.

The stagnant, weed-choked smelly, unsightly ponds are presently good for breeding mosquitos and not much else. It has been suggested that they could be dredged and deepened, and water flow established. They might then be put to use for fishing, ice skating and other purposes.

Rates for Landfill Reported in Error

The Standard erred in a July 13 story on Chelsea's sanitary landfill in which it was stated that rates for dumping at the site are presently $2 per car, $6 for a truck or trailer and $2 per cubic yard for commercial haulers.

No such rate schedule is presently in effect. The charges quoted are those made at the city of Jackson landfill, which was used for comparison purposes in a report prepared by Washtenaw Engineering Co. for the village of Chelsea.

The report proposes that a fee schedule of $2.50 per car, $7 for truck or trailer, and $2.50 per yard for commercial haulers be imposed at the Chelsea landfill beginning Nov. 1.

Kubiak of Webberville, sun catchers and dried flowers; Ruth Mosher-Wood of Ann Arbor, wood sculpture and flower arrangements; George Nichols of Ann Arbor, woodcrafted clocks; Gale Phillips of Jackson, sewing projects; Shirley Radloff of Howell, country crafts; Pat Rutz of Ann Arbor, stuffed toys; Sue Still of Clinton, kites and baby items; Linda Talik of Ann Arbor, dried and silk flowers; Edith Warner of Ann Arbor, stained glass; and Bruce Wilson of Howell, woodworking.

Truth in Taxation Hearing Set

The truth in taxation hearing to be held by the school board at 8 p.m. Monday, Aug. 1 won't be a big deal—usually no one comes. The voters already approved the millage rates in the June election.

The necessity of hearings is determined by a complicated tax formula. The county calculates a base tax rate fraction which is multiplied by the 1982 millage rate. If the millage authorized for 1983 is more than that, then the district must hold a public hearing on the difference.

The 1982 millage rate multiplied by the BTRF was 34.5392 mills. But voters approved a millage addition and renewal to make the total 35.62. The school district must hold a hearing on the difference, 1.0808, even though the voters approved it.

In some large districts the truth in taxation hearings are expensive, said Fred Mills, school district assistant superintendent, because a special board meeting must be held, and legal ads in metropolitan dailies are expensive. State law which requires the hearings also sets a minimum size for the ad, and a minimum type size for the headline in the ad.

State-wide average for attendance at the 1982 hearings was 3.1 persons.

Chelsea school board will hold its hearing at the beginning of a regular meeting in the board room of the administration building, Chelsea High school.

Council Hears Proposal For Nursery Operation

A tentative proposal to establish a tree nursery on 20 acres of land located at 13215 Chelsea-Dexter Rd. was presented to the Chelsea village council July 19. The property is now owned by Duane Downer.

R. M. Haugen, Jr., appeared before the council and said he is interested in buying the parcel provided certain conditions are met. He asked specifically whether all of the tract could be brought inside the village limits, and if a 1½-acre piece could be rezoned residential so it could be sold off separately.

Twelve acres of the Downer property are in the village, and the other eight acres are in Lima township. The boundary line goes through a barn on the site. Both the village and the township zoning is agricultural. The farm is located across the railroad tracks from the north end of Freer Rd.

Haugen said he would keep the land in agriculture except for 1½ acres, including the house and 200 feet of road frontage, which he would sell as residential property. That would require spot rezoning.

The other 18½ acres would be planted to nursery stock, he said, but he would like for all of it to be inside the village. That would mean annexing the eight township acres.

The council listened, expressed interest, but made no commitments, indicating to Haugen that he should come up with a specific proposal in writing before any action can be taken.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on August 1, 1983, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. at the Board of Education Room, the Board of Education of the Chelsea School District will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1983 of an additional proposed millage rate of 1.0808 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Education has the complete authority to establish that 35.62 mils be levied in 1983 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1983 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by 3.0507 percent (3.0507%).

The electors of the school district approved an increase of 2.9 mills for operating and the renewal of 0.5 mill for maintenance on June 13, 1983. The percentage increase in the above paragraph is consistent with the pre-millage election published information which indicated a tentative SEV decrease of 5.366%. In accordance with Act 5, the Base Tax Rate Fraction (BTRF), as calculated by the County Equalization Office for 1983 is 1.0556. This BTRF would allow the Board of Education to levy up to 34.5392 mills (32.72 x 1.0556) of the authorized 35.62 mills without holding a hearing. The levy of the 1.0808 mills difference (35.62 - 34.5392) is the purpose of this hearing. The 1.0808 mills increase represents a 3.0507% increase in income for operating purposes for the 1983 levy.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Education may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

ARTHUR E. DILS, Secretary.

Council and Fair Board Near Accord on Building

The Chelsea Village Council and the Community Fair Board are slowly but surely getting together on the legal technicalities which would allow a new exhibition building to be constructed in time for this year's fair.

The fair board wants to have the building ready for the fair's opening on Aug. 30, the council wants its rules obeyed, and for several weeks it appeared as if the twain would never meet.

They finally did at the July 19 council meeting. After both parties talked to each other, a way out of the impasse apparently was arrived at.

The problem arose several weeks ago when the fair board announced a plan to put up a new building as a show arena for horses and livestock. On taking a close look at village zoning ordinances, the council discovered that not only the proposed building but the fair itself was an illegal use of land zoned for agriculture. The fair has been operating in violation of village laws.

Procedural steps were set in motion to legitimize the fair by amending the zoning law to make the fairgrounds a special A-1 agricultural district. The amendment has worked its way through the village planning commission and will come before the council for approval on Aug. 12.

The council has said all along that it has no intention of closing down the fair, but wants to legalize it and will do so as fast as its procedures allow.

Earl Heller, chairman of the fair board building committee, came to the July 19 council meeting and asked, in effect, what could be done to get the building project off the ground. "It looks like our only chance is to appeal to you," he said.

"We need 3-4 weeks to put up the building, and we're running out of time," Heller pointed out.

Complicating the situation is that the building will require a variance from the zoning ordinance amendment which is in the process of being adopted, because it will be located closer to Old US-12 than the ordinance prescribes.

Village president Jack Merkel scratched his head over all this, and summed it up by saying, "I don't see how we can grant a variance from an ordinance that we haven't approved yet. We would be violating our own rules."

"I guess we can't do it (the new building) then," Heller said.

Merkel thought some more. "We (the council) have a very positive feeling about the fair and the need for the new building," he told Heller. "We want to help, and let's try to find a way."

After more discussion, it was decided that two items will be placed on the agenda for the Aug. 2 council meeting: (1) adoption of the ordinance amendment legalizing the fair, and (2) the fair board's request for a variance.

"Put your request for a variance in writing and get it to us before Aug. 2, and we will act on it," Merkel promised Heller. "That's the fastest we can legally move, and I hope it gives you enough time to put the building up."

Heller said that the Aug. 2 deadline for starting construction on the building is close to the limit but that it can be met. The 100' by 80' pole-type structure, with a roof, can be erected quickly once the go-ahead is given. "We can do it in three weeks if we have to," he said.

If all goes according to the timetable, the ordinance amendment will be adopted and permission given for the building at the Aug. 2 meeting, and the structure will be in place when the fair opens Aug. 30.

Dexter Township OKs Contract with Putnam Fire Dept.

By a three to two vote, the Dexter township board approved a motion to contract with the Putnam Township Fire Department for fire protection in sections one and two of Dexter township.

The vote, at their Tuesday, July 19 meeting, climaxes a long-standing controversy among the residents of the Portage Lake area. The area, although closer in mileage to the Putnam Fire Department, had been serviced by the Dexter Village Fire Department.

The motion was made by treasurer Julie Knight with "yes" votes from Doug Smith and Jim Drolett, trustees, and Julie Knight, Arlene Howe, supervisor, and Bill Eisenbeiser, clerk, voted "no" on the issue.

The approval of the contract was made contingent upon the inclusion of a mutual aid clause in the township. There had previously been no mutual aid agreement between the two fire departments. The Board requested this clause to insure the best possible protection to the lakes area.

Residents will be notified of the change once the contract is signed. At that time those within sections one and two will be asked to phone the Putnam Township Fire Department rather than the Dexter Fire Department.

NEW OFFICERS: Phil Boham and Mary Beth Dettling, newly elected vice-chairman and chairman of Cassidy Lake Technical School Community Liaison Council, review the minutes of the last meeting.

Cassidy Lake Council Elects New Officers

The first officers of the Cassidy Lake Technical School Community Liaison Council have been elected. They are Mary Beth Dettling, chairman; Phil Boham, vice-chairman, and Dee Burkel, secretary.
Cassidy Lake Technical School is located off Waterloo Rd. in the Waterloo Recreation Area. It is a minimum security state prison. Its inmates are, for the most part, young male first offenders age 17-22. Its purpose is to prepare young men for release back into society with the education, skills and attitudes that will insure against their coming back into the state prison system as repeat offenders.
The Community Liaison Council is composed of representatives from the community at large. The council meets quarterly. Its members give counsel to the superintendent at Cassidy Lake on matters relating to community affairs.

Letters to the Editor

On Wednesday, July 13, the Dexter Township Zoning Board held its regular meeting and approved the site plan for the activities building at Hudson Mills Metro Park. Board member Tom Ehman came up with some stipulations which the Park Authority would have to meet in order to build. (You can get copies of this from any zoning board member.) Three board members voted for the approval and one, Al Ruhlig, voted against it. Al's reasons for voting against the approval were: too much commercialization, not enough police protection, added costs to the township, roads in poor condition. (The new facility would significantly increase the traffic on North Territorial Rd., which is already in a horrible state.)
The proposed expansion at Hudson Mills will affect all of us here in Dexter and the surrounding areas. Huron Clinton Metro Authority has a Master Plan for Huron Mills, which shows their intent of making a bike-hiking trail on both sides of the Huron River from Mast Rd. to Portage Lake, and 18-hole golf course with potential expansion to 36 holes, additional picnic areas, group and canoe camp facilities, plus the outdoor, year around facility for tennis, basketball, shuffleboard, complete with equipment rental, and winter sports including ice skating and cross country skiing. There will be food service, restrooms, and equipment rental. This intent is stated in a letter to the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission, addressed to Thomas J. Fegen, dated May 26, 1983. A copy may be obtained from any Dexter or Webster township board member.
If you feel that the quality of life in this area will be affected by this expansion, please make yourselves heard at the board meetings, at the Washtenaw County Planning Commission meetings and at the HCMA meetings.
There is also a citizens group being organized to give people in this area some clout.
Personally, I feel the HCMA should develop parks in the areas where the population needs them and wants them.

Chelsea's Bright Lights Protested by Resident

Jim Hoffmeyer doesn't like the bright lights of Chelsea.
He appeared at the July 19 meeting of the village council to protest the brilliance of a new street lamp which has been installed near his home at 148 Orchard St.
"It's too bright," he declared. "It invades my privacy. It keeps my wife and me awake at night. We would have to put up black-out curtains on our bedroom windows to shut it out."
Charles (Bud) Hafner, superintendent of the village electric and water department, said 33 such lights are being installed in Chelsea, adding that their output conforms to current lighting codes.
"I understand what you are trying to do by providing better street lighting, but I don't appreciate it," Hoffmeyer said. "It's a nuisance to us."
Village president Jack Merkel appointed trustees Herman Radloff and Loren Keezer as a committee to meet with Hoffmeyer, along with Hafner, and try to resolve the problem. The indication was that a lower-wattage bulb might turn out to be the answer.

Wheat Crop Harvest Starts In Washtenaw

individual farmers from getting into their wheat fields with combines for a couple of days, Ames said, adding that "nobody is crying" because the moisture was badly needed to help corn, soybeans and other crops.
"We haven't had enough rain to bog machinery down in the fields or cause any other major problems," Ames said. "Actually, we could use more rain for the fall crops, which are behind schedule. It hasn't been a real good growing season so far."
At Honeggers & Co. on Chelsea-Dexter Rd., wheat was being unloaded at a slow pace last Friday afternoon. There were no trucks standing in line.
One farmer, who asked that his name not be used, said, "I honestly don't know what I've got, and won't until it's weighed and the moisture content tested. I know my crop is short, and that it's wet. I just decided to get it out of the field before something else happened to it. This has not been a good year."

MYSTERY WHEAT FIELD EXPLAINED: Wheat doesn't normally grow in patterns of even-width, different-colored stripes, but this Lima township field did. After operators and customers at McCalla Feeds looked at the picture, they concluded the striping was caused by a malfunction of a fertilizer spreading machine earlier in the growing season. "It looks like the spreader only covered half the width it was supposed to," explained a local wheat farmer, "so half got a double-dose and the other half maybe none at all on each pass up and down the field. I've seen it happen before."
