Community Fair Begins Tuesday

New Arena Spotlights Annual Five Days Of Exhibits, Contests

With a spanking new multi-purpose show building as its centerpiece, the Chelsea Community Fair will begin its annual five-day run of agricultural and homemaking exhibits, as well as entertainment, next Tuesday.

This will be the 46th fair, and it will be little different from its recent predecessors in most respects. What is new is the $35,000 multi-purpose arena that has gone up in a race against the calendar during the past month.

The 82 by 100-foot structure, which is roofed but open around the sides, has seating for more than 500 persons. Its principal use will be livestock judging, but it will also house many other events, including the fair queen contest and Ladies Day. Events scheduled outside may be moved in under the roof in case of rain.

Two events held for the first time last year will be repeated by popular demand. They are Ladies Day from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Friday and the B bar J Rodeo beginning at 8:30 p.m. Thursday evening. In almost all respects the rest of the program is the same as in the past.

Gates will open at 8 a.m. each day and will close at 10 p.m. Exhibits will generally be open from noon on, except when judging is taking place.

Crown Amusement Co. will again provide the "midway" attractions featuring a variety of concessions and thrill rides.

A daily menu of homestyle cooking will be posted by the Fair Service Center. Early fair-goers can begin with continental breakfast at 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. Lunch is served between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., dinner between 3 p.m. and 10 p.m.

The children's parade officially kicks off the fair at 6 p.m. Tuesday. Children who wish to be judged on their costume should be in the municipal parking lot before 5 p.m. They will march and be judged by age groups. Joining the parade will be the Beach Middle school band, and cars carrying the 10 queen contestants and their escorts.

Following the procession through town to the fairgrounds, the sand box treasure hunt for buried pennies and other events such as the penny toss, egg toss, obstacle course and sack races will be held. Those who place get both ribbons and ride tickets.

The fair queen contest will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the new arena, with "Fat Bob" Taylor as Master of Ceremonies.

The mood of the fair will change gears at 7:30 p.m. with the Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby.

The judging of exhibits begins Tuesday at 11 a.m. for poultry and will continue Wednesday morning with rabbits and sheep at 9 a.m., in the new arena, and horse judging, horse show, halter and showmanship at 9 a.m. in the horse arena, followed by western performance in the afternoon.

Beef will be judged at 1 p.m. and swine at 7 p.m.

The second night of demolition derby, again at 8 p.m., features a powder puff derby along with three heats and a feature.

English performance horse show will start off Thursday, Sept. 2 at 9 a.m. in the horse arena. The judging of dairy cattle begins at 10 a.m., along with the antique tractor pulling contest. The judging of goats begins at 3 p.m., and the annual livestock auction at 7 p.m.

The evening thriller will be the B bar J Rodeo at 8:30 p.m.

Registration for Ladies Day begins at 8:30 a.m. Friday. At 9 a.m. and continuing until noon are events such as the Kitchen Band of Jackson, announcement of the Homemaker of the Year, a flower arranging demonstration, a talk by Mary Keith Ballantine and other features. Each registrant will be eligible for a complimentary goodie bag and door prizes donated by area businesses.

Lightweight classes in the tractor pull begin at 10 a.m. in the new arena. The horseshoe pitching contest begins at 5 p.m. The tractor pulling contest resumes at 7 p.m. with farm stock-speed pull and weight transfer sled classes.

The open horse show begins at 9 a.m. Saturday in the horse arena. The compact tractor pull begins at 10 a.m. in the new arena.

The big fair parade down Main St., sponsored by the Chelsea Fire Department, begins at 1 p.m. Saturday, featuring float contests, the fair queen contestants on their floats, bands, baton twirlers, horses, antique cars, fire trucks and farm equipment.

At 2:30 p.m. the compact tractor pull (percentage) resumes. The 4-wheel drive speed pulling contest combined with the mini-modified tractor pull begins at 6:30 p.m. in the new arena.

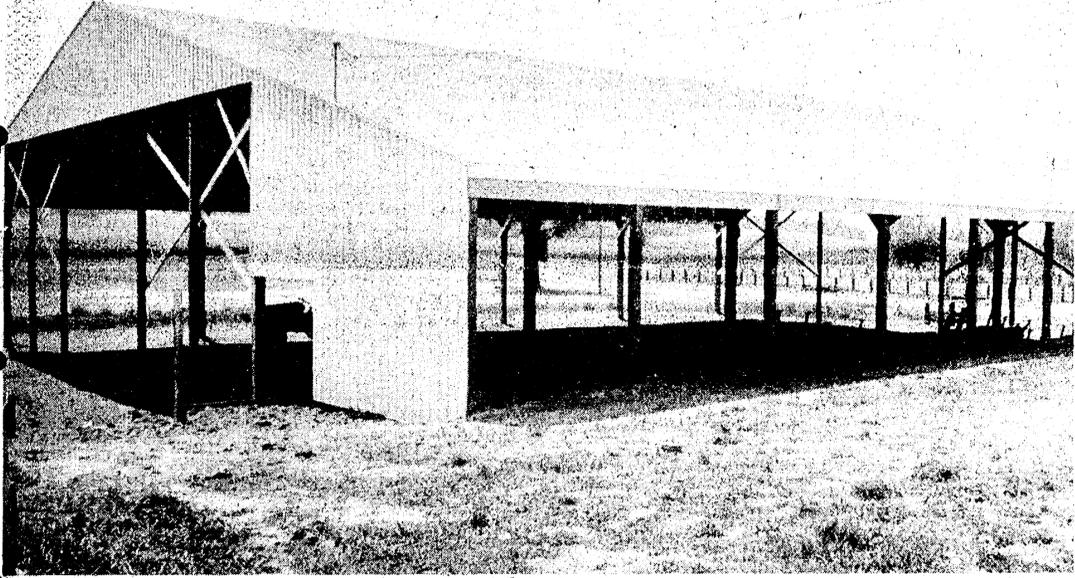

The 1983 fair ends with the drawing for steer quarters at 10 p.m. in the new arena.

Daily admission is $2 for adults and enables the purchaser to attend all activities at the fair for the day. A season pass for adults, allowing them to enter and attend all activities any number of times with parking in the lots only, is $7. Parking in the lots is free. Children 12 years and under are admitted free.

On Thursday only, senior citizens 65 and older will be admitted free. They may also purchase a season pass for $4.

Women will be admitted for $1 on Ladies Day, before noon.

Students with high school ID may buy a season pass for $5.

IT WILL BE READY: The new multi-purpose arena at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds has gone up in a hurry and will be ready for next Tuesday's opening of the fair. Bleachers seating more than 500 persons will be in place under the lean-to roof in the foreground. Many of the fair's principal events, including the queen contest and Ladies Day, will be held in the new $35,000 structure.

'Surfin' Safari,' First Fall Dance, Set at High School

"Surfin' Safari," the first fall dance at Chelsea High school, will be held from 9-12 p.m. Saturday to welcome incoming freshmen and bid farewell to graduated seniors.

The dance has been planned by co-chairpersons Becky Finch and Joann Tobin around a beach theme. The cafeteria of the high school, where the dance will be held, will be decorated as a

Chelsea Hardware Store Will Change Owners on Sept. 1

Chelsea Hardware at 110 S. Main St. has been sold by Mr. and Mrs. M. Thomas Bust to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Walter. The transfer of ownership will take place on Sept. 1.

Tom and Betty Bust, who live at 116 E. Summit St., have operated the business for 26 years and say they "will still be around occasionally."

The new owners, Ron and Memarie Walter, have been Chelsea residents for the past 15 years. They live at 718 McKinley St. Ron is a graduate of Chelsea High School.

Fair Legal On Action By Council

It's finally official. The Chelsea Community Fair is legal.

The village council took care of that at its Aug. 16 meeting as the five trustees present voted unanimously to approve an amendment to the village ordinance establishing the fair as an approved use in an agricultural land zone.

It never was a big problem in the sense of causing controversy, but it was irksome because the fair board had to apply for an exception to the ordinance every time it wanted to do something, including holding the fair. The amendment specifically ing the same quality merchandise and the same friendly people to assist them," Bust said.

In preparation for the exchange of ownership, the store will be closed on Wednesday, Aug. 31, and Thursday, Sept. 1.

The Busts have been active in community affairs and expect to remain so. He has been a teacher, Future Farmers of America adviser, member of the Chelsea Merchants Association, past president of the Community Fair Board, and president of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club. He will turn over the Kiwanis presidency to Ron Walter on Oct. 1.

Mrs. Bust is a past president of the Child Study Club and is an honorary member.

The Busts have been active members of St. Paul United Church of Christ.

They look forward to a leisurely retirement with no immediate plans except for some travel and attendance at Michigan State University football games.

Early Sunday Fire Damage Minimal

A fire early Sunday morning at 19500 Sibley Rd. caused no structural damage, Chelsea fire chief Paul Hanked said. The alarm was caused by insulation burning around a hot water heater. The village siren blew at 7:29 a.m., waking up the town early.

Chelsea Joins Development Organization

Chelsea will join the Washtenaw Development Council, an organization designed to promote county-wide economic growth, effective Sept. 1.

The five trustees present at the Aug. 16 village council meeting (Joe Merkel was absent) voted unanimously in favor of joining after receiving clarification of the village's dues-paying obligations.

An initial flat fee of $5,000 will entitle the village to a full year's membership. Thereafter, the cost will be about $2,000 a year, calculated under a formula based on state equalized tax valuation. The amount could go up or down, but not by much.

Trustee Loren Keezer, who had asked for more information on membership costs, continued to express some skepticism but voted yes on the motion to join. Also voting in favor were Jeanene Riemenschneider, Herman Radloff, Jerry Satterthwaite and Richard Steele.

Chelsea is the first west Washtenaw county entity, public or private, to join the Development Council, which is presently dominated by eastern county interests centered in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. The village will have a seat on the board of directors.

Membership is expected to help Chelsea promote its new industrial park.

HARDWARE STORE SOLD: Tom Bust (above) and his wife Betty have operated Chelsea Hardware for the past 26 years, and are selling the business to Ron and Memarie Walker effective Sept. 1. The store will be closed for two days, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, while the transfer of ownership takes place.

The Chelsea Standard entered the computer age by bringing out its first edition type-set on an electronic keyboard and printed on a photo-offset press, ending 110 years of "hot metal" production. The new format is slightly smaller but much cleaner in appearance. Picture reproduction quality is greatly improved.

Record attendance was counted for the Chelsea Community Fair. Even though rain was forecast for every one of the five days, not a drop fell. The grand champion lamb, exhibited by Julie Nixon, drew a record $11.50 per pound bid from Fred White, who promptly donated it back to the fair. Polly's Market then re-bought the animal for $5 a pound.

Contract talks between Chelsea teachers and the Board of Education went down to the wire, with a last-minute session scheduled on Labor Day in an effort to settle differences on nine articles of a proposed new contract.

Because of a shortage of classrooms Chelsea High school will go on a seven-period schedule this fall, a change from the previous six. School will start at 8:20 a.m. and end at 3:20 p.m.

Representatives of the Chelsea Education Association and the Board of Education bargained all night, finally adjourning at 8 a.m. after starting at 7:30 the previous evening. Some 127 issues, most of them non-economic, were reported to be unresolved. State mediator William Johnson, called in by the school board to try to bring about an agreement, suggested that both sides make an earnest effort to narrow the issues.

The Chelsea Independents baseball team all but clinched the championship of the Tri-County League with a 9-6 victory over the Ann Arbor Laborites with whom they had been tied for the lead. Harold "Lefty" Barth turned in a strong pitching performance.

Ben Lantis, 89, of Trist Rd. was honored at a party as the only surviving member of the first Waterloo Band, which was organized in 1878.

A hearing has been scheduled on a petition to close all or parts of five roads—Deckert, Pritchard, Burtis, Wortley and Heim—in the Sylvan township "mystery" project area. More than 3,000 acres have been purchased by a Detroit realtor, acting as the agent for an unidentified buyer who has refused to disclose the proposed use of the land. Constitutionality of Library Transfers Upheld

Citing a parallel with the Library of Congress, Attorney General Frank Kelley ruled the operation by the Legislature of the State Library does not violate the separation of powers provision of the state constitution.

Kelley, in a recent letter opinion to superintendent of public instruction Phillip Runkel, said the state constitution does not specifically assign the power to operate a state library within a particular branch of government.

The library had been operated by the Department of Education until March 30 when the legislation approved by the governor officially transferred the operations to the Legislature.

On March 3, the state Supreme Court declined a governor's request to rule on the constitutionality of the transfer, saying it would be an inappropriate exercise.

Kelley observed that the Library of Congress has been part of the Legislative branch since 1800 and has not been found to violate separation of powers principles.

Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland), sponsor of the Library transfer legislation, often cited the Library of Congress as his model.

"While the functions and administration of the Library of Congress are not identical to those of the Library of Michigan, there is still a clear similarity between the types of functions to be performed and the purpose of the libraries," Kelley said.

Both the state Departments of Education and Management and Budget opposed the transfer, saying it was unconstitutional for the Legislature to administer a program it created.

The state library is administered by the Legislative Council in consultation with a nine-member library board which has not yet been appointed by the governor.

The council is responsible for naming a director and has begun advertising for the position, which has been vacant since an April retirement of the previous director.

The Library of Congress is run by a librarian appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the U.S. Senate.

A Department of Education spokesman said the Kelley opinion puts the dispute over the transfer to rest.

Kelley Intervenes in Detroit Edison Rate Case

Kelley also recently announced he had intervened in the Detroit Edison Co. request for a $68 million electric rate increase.

The attorney general called the rate request "unreasonable and excessive" charging that cause a 48 percent increase in rates over the average rates of 1982 when coupled with the fact that the company wants to put both the Fermi II Nuclear Generating Plant and the Belle River Generating Plants in the rate case.

Kelley, in a statement filed with the Public Service Commission, predicted approximately $90 million of the company's total rate increase is predicated upon additional costs arising from the commercial operation of the nuclear plants.

He labeled the plants as being "unneeded, uneconomic and excessively costly" while customers would receive no significant benefit as a result of the commercial operation of such plants.

Kelley added any such rate increase would hurt the state's chances of any economic recovery.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster was so deep in the mullgrubs the week before it was hard to git the fellers walking on the sunny side of the street during the session at the country store Saturday night. But it was Bug Hookum that come up with a item that got everbody's attention. He told how to tell what's on a dog's mind.

Bug said he enjoys letters in the papers almost as much as the funnies and fer many of the same reasons. He was thumbing through one of the big Sunday issues recent and come across a letter from a vet that give advise on how to avoid dog bites. The trick, the doc said, is not to let the dog git close enough to git his mouth on you. You do this, Bug went on, by first trying to see the world as the dog sees it. Is this feller a threat to me? Is he invading my turf? Tell him right up front you're a friend just passing by, the vet says. If the dog don't git the message tell him to sit. If that don't work, and you can't figer from his perked up ears and straight out tail if he thinks it's play time or lunch time, your best bet is to try to git to the end of his chain before he does. The vet didn't take up what to do if the dog ain't tied, Bug said, but his plan "would be to kick 'now and negotiate later."

When newspapers can give space to information like that, Bug declared, you got to understand somepon of the variety of American life. It tells you, fer one thing, that we don't take ourselves near as serious as we think we do. Bug had saw where the New York Times published a serious poll recent. Questions were asked on the street about the Reagan Administration's Central American policy, and the Times learned that most people in New York City think Central America is in Kansas.

Meanwhile, broke in Zeke Grubb, other serious people are trying America's taste in salad sandwiches. The battle of the big burger chains turned first to breakfast, and now it has gone to salad bars. Last week in Miami, Burger King come up with a experimental weapon, a handful of raw greens between two slices of bread.

While the burger battle rages, the auto industry is trying ever rinkle to git folks to go in debt fer new cars. Clem Webster reported where industries studies show that the longer you keep a car the more dangerous it gets. The idea is to trade in your wore out chariot ever three year on a shiny new one. You'll keep your family safe on the road and you'll keep America strong.

While this line of reason might work fer Chrysler that has come back from the dead, Clem declared, one foreign make brag that the average road life of its car is 16 years, and another claims that driving one of theirs 300,000 miles in no big deal. The fact is, 10 year ago the life of cars in this country averaged 5.7 years, Clem explained, and now the average stays on the road 7.2 years.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'm passing on the salad sandwich, and my rule on cars is holding. When monthly repairs is more than monthly payment it's time to make your move.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Storey

Elizabeth Schwarze Married To John Storey in Arizona

Elizabeth Ann Schwarze of Mesa, Ariz., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Schwarze of 92 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., was married to John William Storey of Mesa on July 29 in Phoenix, Ariz.

The evening ceremony was performed at the home of friends, Joanne and Tony Slnhauser of Phoenix. The Rev. Dwaine Cerbin of the East Mesa Christian church officiated.

Susan J. Mann of Mesa was maid of honor. Matthew Heydlauff of 151 Orchard St., Chelsea, Ariz., served as best man.

Kenneth Weigend played guitar and sang.

The bride wore a white linen blouse and skirt, and carried a round bouquet of summer flowers. Her hair was french-braided with baby's breath.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple is living at 930 S. Dobson St., Apt. 64, in Mesa, Ariz.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school and received a cum laude degree in elementary education from Arizona State University in 1981. She is employed as a teacher in Mesa and is pursuing a master's degree at ASU.

The bridegroom graduated from Chelsea High school in 1976 and from Michigan State University in 1981. He is a marketing representative for Air-Draulics Co. of Phoenix.

'Customer' Walks Out With $240 Chainsaw

Chelsea police are looking for a "customer" who walked into Gambles late Tuesday afternoon last week and walked out with a $240 chainsaw enclosed in a black carrying case.

The problem is, the young white male customer didn't pay for it.

An employee saw the stocky young man leaving the store with the package and went to another employee working at the cash register to ask if the item had been paid for. By the time it was determined that payment had not been made, the thief had gotten into an olive green pick-up truck parked behind the Chelsea Laundry.

The truck was seen headed west on Middle St. and then south on Grant, but the trail ended there.

"We've checked out a bunch of suspects and trucks whose descriptions fit, but we haven't come up with anything yet," Chelsea police chief Robert Aeillo said. "We have some leads, and we're looking."

Laura Skidgel Completes Air Force Basic Training

Airman Laura L. Skidgel, daughter of Roberta D. Skidgel of 6444 Lombardy Lane, Chelsea, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

Greenleaf Family Leaves Chelsea For Mesa, Ariz.

Friends and relatives of Basil and Gloria Greenleaf are wishing them well in their new home. They moved to Arizona last week.

Mr. Greenleaf's job was terminated, after 24 years with the Massey-Ferguson Farm Implement Co. and has been transferred to Mesa, Ariz.

The Greenleafs were honored at a neighborhood party in July. Several other smaller groups of gatherings were held by relatives and friends.

A farewell supper was held at the home of Gary and Bernice Packard.

The Greenleafs were active in the Methodist church where a coffee hour was held in their honor. Mrs. Greenleaf has lived in Chelsea nearly all her life.

Daughter Tylene stayed a few days extra to visit friends here, then flew out to meet her parents. She had attended summer volleyball and basketball camps here to help prepare her for competition in a larger school.

Son, Timothy will remain in Chelsea and will attend Eastern Michigan University this fall.

21 Jolly 1917ers Meet at Grass Lake

Twenty-one members of the Jolly 1917ers, a nation-wide club open to all persons born in 1917, met at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Drouare, 17235 Washburne Rd., Grass Lake, on the weekend of Aug. 13-14.

The club is for women, but husbands are invited to come along for the fun of the annual gatherings. It was started 15 years ago by an Iowa woman and has since grown from four to 400 members.

Club activities include pot-luck dinners, silent auctions, exchange of letters and a monthly newsletter.

Historic Fashion Show Planned at Cobblestone Farm

Cobblestone Farm will be the setting for an Oct. 30 showing of fashions from the collection of the Washtenaw County Historical Society. The Society's collection is noteworthy, spanning over 100 years. Many of Ann Arbor's founding families will be represented among the outfits displayed. Clothing of this age is fragile and care is being taken in the restoration process.

Vicky Rigney, farm volunteer, has been busy preparing the clothes for viewing.

Many of the dresses are covered with beadwork, lace and ribbons. Ordinary repair methods are inadequate.

Cobblestone Farm is looking for additional pieces of clothing to be borrowed for the showing. Anyone willing to loan clothing should contact the farm office at 994-2928.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Houle

Carol Hafner, Thomas Houle Married Sept. 23 in Dexter

Carol Lynn Hafner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hafner, and Thomas Matthew Houle, son of Mrs. Raymond Houle and the late Mr. Houle, were united in marriage July 23 in an evening ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic church in Dexter.

The Rev. Fr. John Bosco and deacon Richard Cesarz officiated.

The bride wore a white pearl-strewn gown embroidered with chantilly lace, with a multi-tiered chapel train and a matching chantilly lace veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and daisies.

The maid of honor, Mary Ann Hughes of Coral Springs, Fla., cousin of the bride, was costumed in a light blue floral print floor-length gown with an off-the-shoulder neckline and hoop skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and blue carnations.

Bridesmaids, all friends of the bride, were Jeanne Bury of Lansing, Margie Peterson of Chelsea, Missi Arnett of Chelsea and Karen Kiel of Chelsea. All wore gowns styled like that of the maid of honor, with matching bouquets.

Other attendants were flower girl Kristy Houle of Chelsea cousin of the bridegroom and ringbearer. Kevin Hafner, of Chelsea, nephew of the bride.

Kevin Houle of Chelsea, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Rodney Schneider of Chelsea, Scott Robertson of Chelsea, Mike Minick of Grass Lake and Jim Fitzsimmons of Chelsea, friends of the bridegroom.

Paula Haist of Chelsea, friend of the bride, was the vocalist. The bride's mother wore a floor-length lavender gown with a corsage of white sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor-length gray floral print gown with a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter with 325 persons attending. Margaret Hafner of Chelsea, sister-in-law of the bride, cut the cake. Marie Montange of Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple is living at 6580 Lombardy Dr., Chelsea.

The new Mrs. Houle is a second-year nursing student at Jackson Community College. Her husband is employed by Industrial Tectonics in Dexter and is also attending Washtenaw Community College.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

Chelsea and Detroit have some things in common. Before you decide that I have gone out of my mind by making such an outrageous statement, please read on and then draw your conclusion.

I was born and grew up in Detroit. My parents still live there, and have for nearly 60 years. My experience of Detroit stretches over bad times and good, starting with the Great Depression years of the 1930's, continuing through the boom era of World War II and beyond, and progressing to the present state of decay, demoralization and despair. You have to be a starry-eyed optimist to see any future for Detroit as you drive down its once-great streets and view the dying neighborhoods that you formerly lived in.

Let it be said right here that Chelsea is in no way in any such bad shape, and there is absolutely no reason to think it ever will be. Still, there are some parallels.

Detroit used to be a great city—proud, dynamic, vibrant. It earned its titles of Motor City and Arsenal of Democracy. It was the automobile capital of the world, home of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and many smaller car manufacturers. It created the revolution that put our nation on engine-powered wheels, forever changing our way of life.

Looking at Detroit as recently as 20 years ago, you could not possibly have predicted that what did happen would happen, but it did. The city just plain died. Today it is a ghost of its former self, a city struggling to survive on any terms.

My dad, who worked in the Detroit business world for more than 40 years and is a perceptive observer of events, has an explanation for what happened, and I think he's right.

"A lot of people made a lot of money in Detroit," he says, "and they took it out of the city to spend it. Most of them never put anything back in. When it came time to make new investments, expand, build new plants, they went someplace else to do it. They walked away from what they had here and left it to rot, and it has. For the most part they never put a dime back into the city."

Some of that same thing—on a much smaller scale, of course—has happened in Chelsea. You see the evidence in the old, obsolete manufacturing plants and buildings that are sitting vacant and idle, waiting in vain for new occupants who are unlikely to materialize. Their former owners got what they could out of the town, then took their money and went elsewhere. It's a shame.

The statistic of 1,200 manufacturing jobs lost in the Chelsea area during the past 10 years tells the stark story better than any number of words could do.

Some business people have kept the faith and re-invested in the town. Chelsea Milling, Chelsea Lumber, the Methodist Home, the Village Bakery, Merkel's, the Woodshed, Chelsea Big Boy and some others are bright examples.

Like Detroit, Chelsea is trying to revitalize and strengthen its economic base. Unlike Detroit, Chelsea has an excellent chance to succeed.

When you look at Detroit today, you get the feeling that the best thing that could be done would be to move everybody out, bomb the place, and start all over from scratch. No such impression of desperate pessimism is found here. There is a lot here to build on.

In a free society you can't commit business people to stay around forever. In some ways it would be nice if you could, but that is an impossible dream. The hope has to be that new businesses attracted into Chelsea's industrial park and other locations will like their surroundings so well that they will want to stay, and will not only invest but re-invest. Nobody needs businesses that take their money and run.

No Time for Expansion, Cattlemen Warned

At a recent "Beef Cattle Cycle Forum," sponsored by the American Farm Bureau Federation, livestock economists concluded that this is not the time for cattlemen to consider expansion of their herds. "Faced with a faltering consumer demand for beef, producers are advised to give more thought to production efficiencies rather than to expansion," reported Mike Kovacic, Michigan Farm Bureau commodity specialist.

Producers were also warned that there is a possibility that Congress will make changes in the dairy support program that could result in a flood of dairy cattle hitting the market as dairy herds are reduced. The economists participating in the forum said there is a good chance that unusual weather patterns, coupled with various crop reduction programs, will lead to $4 per bushel feeding costs.

Teachers To Vote Tonight on New School Contract

Members of the Chelsea Education Association (CEA) will meet tonight to vote on the tentative contract agreement negotiated between the union and the Board of Education. The CEA has approximately 135 members. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the UAW hall at 218 S. Main St.

Details of the pact remain undisclosed pending ratification by both parties. It is understood to be a three-year contract that includes improvements in the areas of salaries, fringe benefits and working conditions.

If tonight's ratification vote by the CEA is favorable, the school board will act on the contract at its next regular meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 6, assistant superintendent Fred Mills said. The meeting will be held after the scheduled first day of school.

"I am confident of the board's approval if the teachers ratify the contract," Mills said. "We (the school administration) have kept in close touch with board members during the negotiating process."

The agreement was reached through "expedited bargaining," under which early talks narrowed the issues and differences were thrashed out during 40 hours of negotiations over the weekend of Aug. 12-13.

The CEA's former contract with the school district expired June 30.

Immunization Clinics Set for School Children

The first day of school is close at hand. It is time to update student immunizations for protection against seven childhood diseases: measles, mumps, rubella, polio, diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus.

According to Michigan law, new students, including transfer students in grades 1-12 as well as kindergartners, must present records with dates of all necessary vaccinations. In addition, all children attending child care centers and pre-schools must submit immunization records.

Special attention should be given to students entering grades 5-12. Students in this age group (10-18) may need a measles, mumps and/or rubella shot to qualify for school entrance and to assure their protection against these diseases.

Recent outbreaks of measles in neighboring states affected college students; therefore, many teens and young adults remain susceptible. Serious complications can result from both measles and mumps. Rubella immunity, although important for both young men and young women, is crucial for young women approaching childbearing years, as the disease, if contracted by a pregnant woman, may damage the unborn baby.

All required immunizations may be obtained from your private physician, clinic of your choice or through the Washtenaw County Health Department clinics.

In late August and early September the Health Department will hold a number of special clinics at various sites around the county. A number of these are in co-operation with Catherine McAuley Health Center, as the clinic will travel to several sites on Catherine McAuley's Health Promotion Van. These special clinics are open to all infants to 18-year-olds and TB testing is available for adults and children except on Thursdays.

In Chelsea a special clinic will be held at Beach Middle school on Thursday, Sept. 8 from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

In Dexter a special clinic is scheduled at Dexter High school on Wednesday, Sept. 7 from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

A special clinic is scheduled in Manchester at Klager school on Thursday, Sept. 8 from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

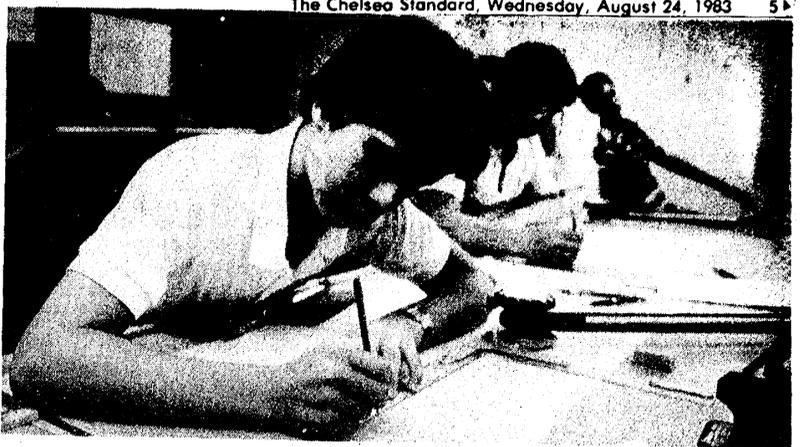

Children's Center Offers Program For Pre-Schoolers

The pre-kindergarten program offered by the Children's Center of Chelsea Community Hospital will begin the week of Sept. 12.

The program offers pre-academic, social and play activities recommended as preparation for kindergarten.

Registration on or before Sept. 5 is desired to assist staff in planning parent conferences prior to the beginning of the program. The program hours are 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Children may attend the center for other hours of the day and be included in the program. For more information, contact Anne Daniels, 475-1311, Ext. 477.

Young Woman Drowns at North Lake

A young West Virginia woman visiting at a North Lake home drowned last Friday night, the sheriff's department reported. She was listed as missing at 7:30 p.m., and her body was found at 9 a.m. the following day.

The victim was identified as Julie A. Paxton of St. Alban's, W. Va.

"As nearly as we can determine, Miss Paxton was wading in a rocky shallow area off Noah's Landing, slipped and fell, and struck her head on a rock," sheriff's department Sgt. Donald Wenk said. "She had a large bruise on her forehead. The rocks there are slime-covered and slippery. It is not a good place to wade."

The body was recovered from water about a foot deep.

Three out of five women maintaining families were in the labor force in 1982; these women had, on average, completed fewer years of school than had wives and were concentrated in lower-skilled, lower-paying jobs, according to "Women at Work: A Chartbook."

This man made his funeral arrangements this morning . . .

. . . and he's coaching kid's baseball this afternoon. Making funeral arrangements in advance is not an unusual thing to do. In fact, it's one of the nicest things you can do for your family, for it removes the burden of decision-making from their shoulders at a difficult time.

Fair Board Has Busy Time at August Meeting

The regular August meeting of the Community Fair Board was called to order by Jerry Herrick, vice-president, in the absence of Art Steinaway.

Officers present were Mary Ann Guenther, Debbie Stapish, and Floyd Grau. All the directors were present except three. Others present were Irv Young, Ed Keezer, Howard McCalla, Cindy Bradbury and John Wellnitz.

Representing Ladies Day were Veretta Whitaker, Donna Dault, Sue VanEtter, Eise Heller and Kay Heller.

The men unloaded the 540-seat bleachers which Kiwanis Club members will set up in the new building.

A scraper was used to smooth the dirt around the building, the backfill was completed at the north wall, and grading for drainage was worked at. The cement slab for the scales was finished and the scales will be put in place. The new lights were turned on for the first time.

After the work bee, the meeting began with reports and correspondence.

New Sociology Courses Offered This Fall at WGC

This fall Washtenaw Community College will offer several new sociology courses, including a television course to take at home.

Principles of Sociology (Sociology 100A) will air several times a week (beginning Sept. 5) over Channels 56 and 23 and area cable network stations. The course will explore the widespread change in American society, and will study how present conditions developed from past attitudes. Registration for television courses is the same as for all credit classes. For more information call the Telecourse Hotline: 973-3871.

Two new on-campus courses are also scheduled. Social Problems (Sociology 207) will examine how social forces both cause and prevent problems. Unemployment, poverty, sexism, ageism, drug addiction, child abuse, crime, and pollution are among the issues discussed. The course is offered Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30-11 a.m. Application of sociological principles to the study of health, health care and health services is the focus of Medical Sociology (Sociology 201). The course will show how social and environmental factors affect an individual's health and access to health care. The course will meet Tuesday evenings from 6-9 p.m.

General registration for all three classes began Aug. 22.

Four Road Jobs To Be Completed Yet This Year

Four road repaving projects in west Washtenaw county definitely will be done yet this year with funds provided to the County Road Commission from the special $134 million state road construction bond issue.

They are:

- Old US-12 from I-94 (Pierce Rd. interchange) west to the Jackson county line—3.87 miles, $334,500.
- Jackson Rd. from Wagner Rd. west to Baker Rd.—4.05 miles, $243,500.
- Scio Church Rd. from Parker Rd. west to M-52—7.1 miles, $428,000.
- Waterloo Rd. from M-52 west to the Jackson county line—4.76 miles, $268,000.

The Cunningham-Gooding Co. of Ypsilanti is the contractor on all four jobs.

Repaving of Pleasant Lake Rd. from M-52 west to the River Raisin will be postponed until next spring. Cunningham-

Gooding also holds that $202,500 contract.

Bids will be opened Aug. 26 on repaving the 2.36 miles of Old US-12 from the Chelsea village limits west to I-94. It is doubtful that project will be done this year. The normal road construction season ends in mid-November.

The road bond issue is part of Gov. Banchard's emergency program to create jobs in Michigan. Washtenaw county's $3 million share is a loan, not a gift. It must be repaid with interest within 15 years.

Earlier, county road commission officials had said it might not be possible to undertake any of the projects this year because of the short time remaining in the construction season. After meeting with the contractor, however, it was decided to go ahead now with those jobs that can be finished by Nov. 15.

Parade Will Climax Annual Chelsea Fair

Climaxing the Chelsea Community Fair every year is the annual fair parade sponsored by the Chelsea fire department. It will be held on Saturday, Sept. 3.

The parade will step off at 1 p.m. sharp from downtown Chelsea and proceed to the fairgrounds. All floats entered for judging are to be in position by 11:30 a.m. and other units by 12:30 p.m.

Floata are to line up on the north side of Park St. between East and Madison St. facing west. All cars pulling floats are limited to two persons. The floats are to be left on display at the fairgrounds for a period of time after the parade for viewing by the public. Prize-winners will be posted immediately after the parade.

Each queen candidate must have a float on which to ride in order to participate in the parade.

Marching units are to form on East St. between Harrison and E. Middle Sts.

All horses and horse-drawn vehicles are to line up on Park St. between Main and East Sts., facing east. All riders are to keep the horses in the roadway, not on lawns and sidewalks.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Aug. 15 were: Schumann, Heller, Grau, Comeau, Redding.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dale Schumann.

The Board of Education approved the levy of authorized millage of 35.62 mills for operation. Last year's millage was 32.72 plus the 2.9 which was approved by the taxpayers in June for a total of 35.62.

The Board also approved the various debt retirement levies for bond issues.

purchases during the past four years.

Community Education director Jackie Rogers gave the Board information on a Building Enrichment Team concept that was being established in each building to address the needs of gifted and academically talented students.

Principal, Allan Conklin, reported on the Underachievers committee report which was one of last year's Board goals. Recommendations will be forthcoming at a later period of time.

The Board of Education held further discussion on the possibility of a 1984 summer tax collection. The Board set Monday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. for a public forum and hope that district residents would attend that meeting and give their feelings on the possibility of summer tax collections. The Board will also send communications to each township supervisor indicating that this public meeting will be held.

The Board president, Dale Schumann, made the following committee appointments: Personnel, Ann Feeney, Art Dils; Finance, Earl Heller, Lloyd Grau, Dale Schumann; Public Relations Communications, Ann Feeney, Dale Schumann; Curriculum, Anne Comeau, Joe Redding.

The Board recessed to executive session to review the tentative negotiated agreement with the Chelsea Educational Association. A tentative agreement has been reached. Details will be forthcoming upon ratification by the union and the Board of Education sometime in September.

Meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

The Board approved a catastrophe insurance $5 million policy to cover all extra-curricular participants.

The Board approved an unpaid leave of absence for one semester for Janeen Messimer, high school Learning Disabilities teacher.

The Board approved the high school student handbook for 1983-84 with minor revisions.

The principal, John Williams, reviewed the North Central report on departmental textbook

H & R Block To Offer Tax School in Ann Arbor

Thousands of people are earning money in their spare time as income tax preparers.

H & R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 8th with evening classes available.

During the 14 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block personnel will teach current laws, theory and application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom lecture on each subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions or qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers or persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H & R Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. The course is licensed by the Michigan Board of Education.

Registration forms and brochures for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the H & R Block office at 105 1/2 South Main, Chelsea, MI., telephone 475-2752.

Hospital Will Present Health Topics at Fair

Chelsea Community Hospital will present "Topics on Health" at the Chelsea Community Fair, Aug. 30-Sept. 3. Each evening, one special health topic will be presented by experts from the hospital's staff and friends.

The public is urged to stop by the hospital's booth in the merchants' building on the Fairgrounds any time. Ask questions of the experts, watch the demonstrations and pick up free health information on a variety of topics.

The special events are:

- Tuesday, Aug. 30—5-7 p.m., "Chelsea Community Hospital... A Very Special Place;" 7-9 p.m., Dental Care for the Family.
- Wednesday, Aug. 31—5-9 p.m., "Ask Your Pharmacists,"

Chelsea Hospital Pharmacy Department.

- Thursday, Sept. 1—5-9 p.m., "Sports Nutrition: A Runner's Diet;" Chelsea Hospital Nutrition Department.
- Friday, Sept. 2—5-9 p.m., "Exercise and Fitness—Testing Your Fitness Level;" demonstration by exercise physiologists; "Answers on Running, how to choose proper equipment, forming your running schedule, improve your running style," ask questions of the experts from the Tortoise and Hare Running Shop in Ann Arbor.
- Saturday, Sept. 3—3-7 p.m., The Chelsea Children's Health, Dr. Mary Westhoff, Chelsea pediatrician.

Ypsilanti Offering Historic Home Tour

Ypsilanti's 1983 Heritage Festival will culminate on Sunday, Aug. 28, noon to 5 p.m., with an Historic Home Tour sponsored by the Ypsilanti Heritage Foundation.

Dedicated to promoting historic preservation in the community, the foundation this year will offer a variety of impressive examples of how old buildings can effectively serve as comfortable and charming living and working spaces in our time.

The five structures will tempt the visitor with images and ideas—from a fold-style cottage with a delightful historic garden of elephant ears and old-fashioned perennials, to a majestic mansion saved from almost total decay and restored as the offices of a social agency.

YPSILANTI HERITAGE FESTIVAL

AUG. 26, 27 & 28

Take a magical journey into days gone by—thrill to the sound of a cannon's roar, marvel at the revelry of a tent show, and delight in the art exhibits and demonstrations of early-American crafts. This weekend adventure awaits you at the 5th Annual Ypsilanti Heritage Festival.

The festival will feature exciting new events this year: a Festival Marble Tournament, a Riverboat Casino, a Softball Tournament, and a Living History Encampment where life in 17th and 18th Century America will be re-created. Visitors are invited to dress in period clothing.

Experience the uniqueness of a family-owned Franzen Brothers Circus, the last of the old-fashioned tent shows.

Other events and activities include three days of free Stage Entertainment ranging from Classical Ballet to Folk Music, an Arts and Crafts Fair, a Jazz Competition, the Heritage Parade, a Quilt Show, an Antique Show, a Historic Home Tour, a Pioneer Village, and Historical Museum Exhibits.

Take I-94 to Exit 183 and follow the signs, or ride in comfort to the heart of the Festival on Amtrak. Sponsored by the Visitors and Convention Bureau. For more information call 313/482-4920.

PUTTING ON A NEW FACE: Brick on the front of Heydlauff's appliance store at 113 N. Main St. is being cleaned preparatory to resurfacing. It looks kind of blotchy and bad now, but end result will be a new look added to the spruced-up appearance of the downtown business district.

School Board Seeks Public Views on Summer Taxes

A public forum meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. in the high school board room to give Chelsea School District residents the opportunity to express their views on the issue of summer tax collections.

"We hope for a large turnout and will move the meeting into a bigger room if we need to," said assistant superintendent Fred Mills. "We would like to hear from a lot of people. The board and the administration are wide open to suggestions."

"Nobody likes to pay or collect taxes, but they are a fact of life. We want to set up a system that will be the most satisfactory for the most taxpayers, and we need to get the views of the public in order to make a decision."

The State Legislature passed a law last December permitting school districts to collect either 50 percent or 100 percent of school taxes in the summer, rather than in December. The decision on what to do is up to local boards of education.

School districts, including

Chelsea, typically borrow money to operate during the fall months in anticipation of tax revenues collected in the winter. The money has to be paid back, with interest. Chelsea will spend $152,000 in interest payments this year.

"It comes down to a decision by individual property owners whether they are better off by paying all or part of their school taxes in July or waiting until December," Mills explained.

"By holding their (tax) money until December, they can earn interest on it, but their taxes will eventually be higher because of the interest that the school district has to pay while operating on borrowed funds. By collecting taxes in the summer we could eliminate the need to borrow and pay interest. Instead, we could invest the money from summer collections and receive interest on it, which would add to our revenue."

The Chelsea board has indicated that it favors a 50 percent summer tax collection. That would allow the district to operate through the fall without borrowing money.

However, there is a cost involved. Townships charge fees for the work they do in making the special summer collection. The state-wide fees range all the way from 76 cents to $11 per property parcel. It is expected that local fees would be at the lower end of the scale. They would have to be worked out through negotiation.

"It's a complex issue," Mills concluded, "and that is why we would like to hear from the public before deciding what course of action to take."

Clear Cablevision Offers To Renew Lease, Pay More

Clear Cablevision has offered to renew for $800 its lease on the Chelsea water tower, which it uses for signal reception, an increase over the $500 annual fee it now pays.

Clear provides cable TV service to Chelsea residents.

Village council members, especially Herman Radloff, had some reservations about the lease renewal. "I wonder if they are offering us more money so they can use the higher payment as justification for raising their rates to local subscribers," Radloff said. "If that's their idea, I'm against it."

The council decided to defer action and ask the company for clarification of its intentions.

Waterloo Nature Center Offers Two Short Films

Waterloo Nature Center will present two films Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 27-28.

The first film is "High Arctic." In this harsh environment wildflowers are short lived but amazingly the land provides nesting habitat for multitudes of migratory birds. This is also where the shaggy musk ox lives. 11 minutes.

"Edge of the Barrens," 14 minutes, is the second film. In the tundra trees are absent and the ground is frozen year-round. Learn about the life that the barrens supports.

The films are free to members of the association, 50 cents to non-members.

Village Hires Planning Consultant

The village council has voted to retain Carl Schmult of Ann Arbor, a community planner, as a consultant on zoning and planning matters. He will be paid $35 an hour for the time he works, administrator Frederick A. Weber said.

Schmult will work primarily with the Chelsea Planning Commission at their call.

Although the village has not had a professional planning consultant in recent years, the position is not a new one, Weber said. "We have hired such persons before when we felt we needed them. Planning and zoning issues seem to be coming to the front these days, and we need some help with them."

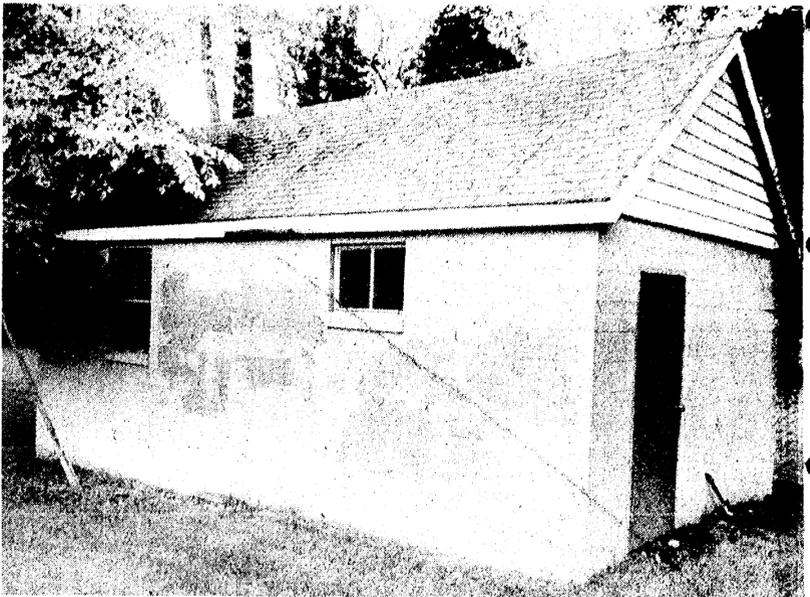

Garden City Man Drowns in Accident At Half Moon Lake

Thomas J. Sloan, 39, of Garden City drowned in Half Moon Lake Aug. 13 while trying to save the life of a 12-year-old boy who was with him in a canoe that they accidentally capsized.

The boy, a non-swimmer, was rescued by other boaters on the lake.

The two occupants of the motor-driven canoe had taken off their lifejackets to make it easier to clear weeds from the propeller of the outboard motor, sheriff's department marine deputies said.

Sloan was reported to have made several dives to bring his young companion's head above water. Just as rescuers arrived, Sloan sank and drowned, the sheriff's report said. His body was recovered by divers shortly afterward.

MAY BE CLOSED: The restroom building at Pierce Park looked to be in good condition when this picture was taken following the Aug. 16 village council meeting at which trustee Herman Radloff suggested that it be permanently closed. The building has been repeatedly vandalized. The dark spots on the wall are paint applied to blot out graffiti written on the concrete blocks.

Closing of Restrooms Proposed

Village trustee Herman Radloff is unhappy about conditions in the public restrooms at Pierce Park and proposes that they be closed permanently.

"I know that village employees do their best to maintain the restrooms, but every time I go into the building it's a mess," Radloff told the village council at its Aug. 16 meeting. "You would never know there has been any maintenance."

Radloff suggested that portable toilets be placed close to the parking lot off the S. Main St. entrance to the park "if it's really necessary for us to provide toilet facilities there."

"The way people treat them, I wonder if the restrooms are wanted or needed," he added. Village administrator Frederick A. Weber acknowledged that the Pierce Park restrooms indeed do present a problem.

"We've tried just about everything to maintain them in decent condition," he said, "but there is a long history of repeated vandalism and other misuse. I honestly don't know what the answer is, or if there is one other than to close them."

Part of the problem, Weber said, is that the restroom building is located far back from the street and the parking lot, which makes police surveillance difficult. "It's kind of a good place to hide," he noted.

Weber added that the new restrooms at Veterans Park on the north end of Main St. have so far not caused any serious problems. "We seem to get different types of people at the two parks, especially at night," he commented.

Village president Jack Merkel referred the matter to the council's parks and recreation committee, composed of Jeaneene Riemenschneider and Jerry Satterthwaite, and asked that they make a study and report back to the full council.

Beach Band To Rehearse For Parades

The Beach Middle school band will have a rehearsal starting at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 29, for its scheduled performances in the two Chelsea Community Fair parades, according to director Warren Mayer.

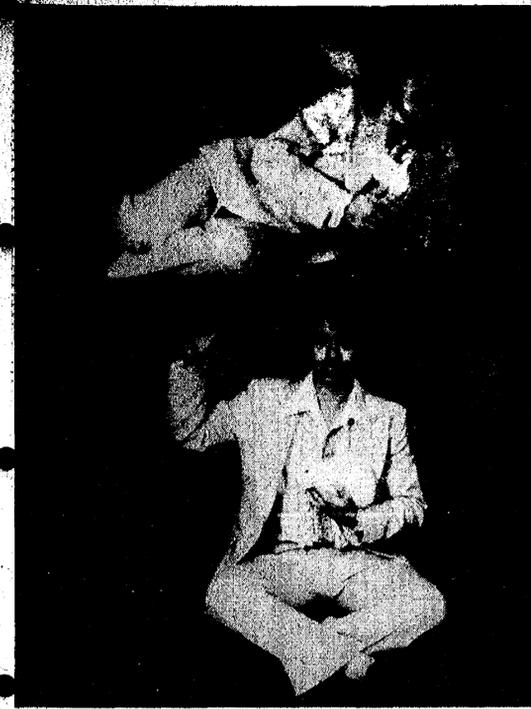

The rehearsal will be held at the school, and will be followed by a swimming party at the Beach pool. Band members are asked to bring bathing suits and towels.

The 100-plus seventh and eighth grade band members will perform in the children's parade on the evening of Tuesday, Aug. 30, and also in the main fair parade on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 3.

Mayer said he will be at Beach school between 5 and 5:15 p.m. on Tuesday so that players may pick up their instruments in time to form up for the children's parade, which starts at 6 p.m. Instructions for the Saturday parade will be given later, he said.

SESCUICENTENNIAL QUILT: Members of the group working on Chelsea's Sescuicentennial celebration which will be held next summer are shown working on a hand-made quilt to be awarded at next week's Chelsea Community Fair. The quilt will be on display at a fair booth. Left to right: Marcy Stump, Norma Grafund and Janet Phipps.

NOW YOU SEE IT, NOW YOU DON'T: Jeff Boyer (on top) and Jim Fitzsimmons will take their magic act on the road nationally next month. They were judged fourth in recent national competition held at Colon, near Coldwater, and received a bid to travel with the Amazing Conklins show.

Boyer, Fitzsimmons Taking Act on Road

Jeff Boyer and Jim Fitzsimmons will hit the road with their magic act in September, quitting their jobs for a shot at the big time in the entertainment world.

Boyer of 515 Chandler St. and Fitzsimmons of 13950 North Lake Rd., finished fourth in recent national competition held at Colon, near Coldwater, a small town dubbed "the magic capital of the world."

There were 30 entrants demonstrating their magic with illusion and sleight-of-hand, and the Chelsea pair's performance won them, among other things, an invitation to travel nationally with the Amazing Conklins show.

"We're going to do it," Boyer said. "This is our big chance. We've been working on our act for 15 years, and now we have it refined to the point where we can get on the national circuit."

The act involves what Boyer calls "Houdini's metamorphosis." One person is locked up in a packing crate with a clear-view plexiglass screen on the front, the other stands on top of the crate, a curtain is dropped and, when it is raised an instant later, the two have not only switched places, but a person from the back of the room is also inside the box.

"It's an illusion, of course," Boyer said. "I'm not about to tell you or anybody else how we do it. That's our secret."

Boyer is employed at Ulrich's Books in Ann Arbor, Fitzsimmons at the Marriott Inn east of the city, but they won't be much longer. "We're going into this full time and see what happens," Boyer said. "We'll be back here in December and let everybody know how we did."

Public Hearing Set Sept. 20 on Rezoning Of Industrial Park

A public hearing has been set by the village council for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 20, on rezoning of land south of Sibley Rd. so that it may be developed into an industrial park.

The proposal covers 70.1 acres recently purchased by the village. Now zoned agricultural, it would be changed to light industrial in keeping with the industrial park concept.

Council Pondering New Police Car

Chelsea's two police department patrol cars are piling up a lot of miles, and chief Robert Aeillo has suggested to the village council that steps be taken to replace at least one of them.

The odometer on one car is approaching 100,000 miles, and the other is creeping close to 50,000.

President Jack Merkel asked Aeillo to meet with Loren Keezer and Herman Radloff, who make up the council's ways and means committee, and develop recommendations.

Village Council Sharing Costs of Promotion Book

Chelsea Village Council has agreed to pay half of the approximately $2,000 cost to prepare and print the new booklet produced by the Chamber of Commerce titled "Chelsea Is the Place For You . . . And Your Business."

Copies of the booklet were shown to council members, who expressed pleasure over its format and contents, and then voted unanimously to share the cost.

"It's an excellent job," village president Jack Merkel told the C. of C. representatives who were there to present and explain the booklet. "No other community in the county has anything like it. We thank you for all your time and effort."

Design and production work was co-ordinated by Tom Vandegrift. Dudley Holmes, Jr., Sam Johnson, and Fred Barkley and William Bott were members of the Chamber committee. Ron Olmsted of Chelsea Community Hospital assisted. Administrator Fred Weber represented the village.

The publication has been produced in loose-leaf form, so that a single page or pages can be sent in answer to inquiries for specific information. The format will make it possible to update the book by re-printing individual pages rather than the entire thing.

The initial press run of the 30-page booklet was 250 copies. Those will be offered for sale at $5 each. Reprints will cost less to produce, now that the type and artwork have been prepared.

President Merkel appointed trustee Jeanene Riemenschneider to work with the Chamber on marketing the booklet, which is expected to be valuable in promoting Chelsea's new industrial park and will also be a useful real estate sales tool.

Rep. O'Connor Emphasizes Her Conservative Views in Talk Here

State Rep. Margaret O'Connor, whose 52nd district includes west Washtenaw county, appeared at last week's Chelsea Village Council meeting, spoke briefly, and stayed on to take notes and meet with interested persons after the session.

"Am I voting right?" was the rhetorical question Mrs. O'Connor asked during her short remarks, citing her ultra-conservative record so far during this year's session of the Legislature.

She predicted that state government will incur a $500 million deficit this fiscal year and said she has a "40-page list" of items she would like to eliminate from the budget to bring it into balance.

Mrs. O'Connor sharply criticized Gov. Blanchard and the Democrat-controlled Legislature for first enacting a 38 percent increase in the state income tax, and then passing a budget 14 percent higher than last year's.

"I consider that totally irresponsible," she said.

She repeated her opposition to such programs as state-paid Medicaid abortions, family planning counseling, subsidies for the arts, salary increases for legislators and state government employees, and a long list of others.

She urged support for a right-to-work law, which would bar union membership as a condition of employment, and said she favored making laid-off workers wait longer for unemployment compensation benefits "so they will have some incentive to go out and try to find another job."

The latter suggestion brought a challenge from Paul E. Hanked, village fire chief who was in the audience. Hanked works at Dana Corp. "You shouldn't have to wait if you are laid off through no fault of your own," Hanked insisted.

Mrs. O'Connor urged support for an ongoing petition drive to make the State Legislature a part-time body, as it used to be. "Legislators do a lot of 'busy work' to try to justify their existence as full-time employees," she charged.

Mrs. O'Connor acknowledged that she has little chance right now to win on the issues she champions. "I'm in a real minority in the Legislature," she explained. "There are too few of us conservatives to make a difference. If you support what I believe in, get busy and help elect more conservatives."

Meanwhile, she said, she will continue to pursue the conservative path she has followed "unless I hear differently from the people that I represent."

Football Field Will Be Ready for Saline Tilt Sept. 23, Nemeth Says

The jokes around Chelsea High school athletic offices about where the Bulldogs will play their home football games this fall are getting less funny by the day as work continues on rebuilding Niehaus Field.

However, athletic director Ron Nemeth remains confident that Chelsea will play on its home turf Sept. 23 against Saline. The problem is getting the home turf to play on.

The all-important sod is supposed to be laid some time this week, Nemeth said, and if that happens the Sept. 23 deadline can be met.

"The kind of mineral-grown sod we are buying will root firmly in four weeks," Nemeth said. "It's different from the muck-grown sod that most people put on their lawns. Muck sod requires a couple of months to take hold."

"I know of instances where mineral sod was played on a week after being put down, without being damaged. We don't intend to push things that fast, but four weeks will give us enough time provided the weather holds."

Contractor John Eisenbeiser and his crew worked over the weekend to catch up on installing the drainage and irrigation systems which must be in place before the grass is brought in.

Chelsea's opening game against Novi, scheduled to be played here on Friday, Sept. 9, has been moved to Dexter on Saturday, Sept. 10.

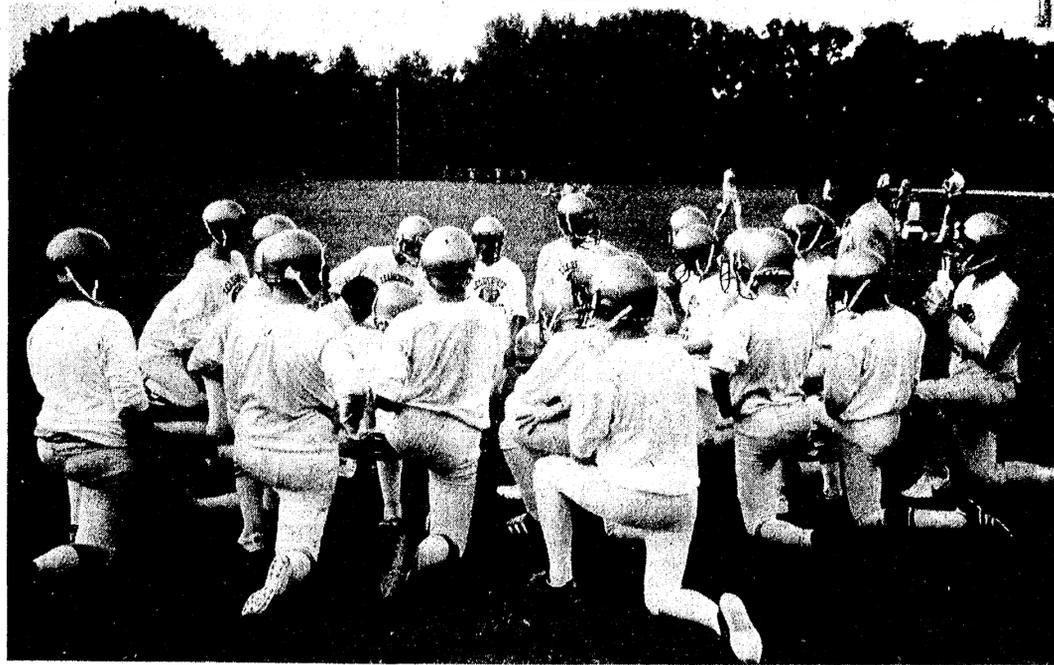

That shift led to some one-liners tabbing the Bulldogs as the "Chelsea Dreadnaughts" and the "Saturday night specials." The laughs grew fainter as the days went by with heavy machinery grinding over Niehaus Field and no sod in sight.

Meanwhile, head coach Gene LaFave continued to talk optimistically about the upcoming season. "Our practices so far have been good," he said. "We're making progress. We're going to be ready to play wherever we have to play."

He was looking over his shoulder at the earth-movers churning up dust on the football field as he talked.

FOOTBALL FIELD TAKING SHAPE: Work continues at a feverish pace to get Chelsea High's Niehaus Field ready for play by the Sept. 23 home date against Saline. Drainage and irrigation structures have to be completed before new sod can be laid. The sod is supposed to be put in place later this week so the tight timetable can be met.

TAKING A BREAK: Members of the Chelsea varsity football team take a break during morning practice, but stay at attention as assistant coaches outline the upcoming drills and what has to be worked on. The Bulldogs will open their season on Saturday, Sept. 10, in a "home" game to be played at Dexter against Novi. It's been mighty hot on the practice field, but preparations have gone well.

INJURIES ARE PART OF THE GAME of football. Student trainer Joyce Robards applies tape to an ankle sprained in practice, while a concerned teammate of the injured player watches. Fortunately, the injury wasn't serious, but it did hurt as anybody who has ever sprained an ankle knows.

Mopeds Must Be Licensed for Use On Public Highways

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin today expressed concern over apparent confusion of some moped operators who are operating on public highways without a license.

According to Austin, all moped operators on public highways must have a driver license or a special moped license, be at least 15 years of age and register their moped with the Department of State.

Austin said that a new law defines a moped as any two or three-wheeled vehicle that does not exceed 30 miles an hour, has no more than two brake horsepower and no transmission.

Under the Michigan Vehicle Code, mopeds are prohibited from operating on freeways, must share a traffic lane with other vehicles and are prohibited from operating on sidewalks.

Austin encouraged all moped dealers to inform buyers of the requirements and furnish them with a copy of "What Every Motorcycle and Moped Operator Must Know."

DNR Seeks Public Views On Increasing License Fees

Representatives from the Jackson district office of the Department of Natural Resources will hold a public meeting beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow night at Ann Arbor Pioneer High school to explain and answer questions about proposals to increase state hunting and fishing license fees.

Needing more revenue to pump up the sagging Game and Fish Protection Fund—which largely finances the DNR's wildlife, fisheries and law enforcement programs—the Department has put together a package of possibilities and taken the show on the road.

"We're trying to find out what would be most acceptable to the public and, therefore, to the Legislature," a DNR spokesman said. "This is a new approach to an old problem."

The old problem is that the Game and Fish Protection Fund periodically runs short of cash on a cycle of about every five years. During the first two or three years after license fees are increased, revenues are adequate. Then rising costs catch up, the fund begins to run in the red, and further hikes have to be sought.

The new approach is going to the public to solicit ideas as to which fees should be increased by how much this time around.

What the DNR would really like is for the Legislature to enact a law tying hunting and fishing license fees to an "escalator" such as the cost-of-living, the Civil Service salary scale, the annual state budget or some other reliable index of the annual increase in the cost of doing business.

Historical records show that hunting and fishing license fees have increased only about half as fast as inflation over the years, but resistance to paying them has nevertheless grown.

Result is that the Department has fewer conservation officers than it did 30 years ago and has also reduced wildlife and fish management programs. Further cutbacks will be made unless another round of hikes is approved by the Legislature to take effect when the new license year begins next spring.

Veterans Park Ponds Still Cause of Concern for Council

Responding to publicity over the condition of the three small, stagnant, weed-choked ponds on the south side of Veterans Park, Argersinger-Morse Construction Co. of Ann Arbor has offered to do something about them—for a price.

But trustee Herman Radloff, who raised the issue of the ponds several weeks ago, believes the job could be done cheaper by village employees using village equipment.

"I think we have the machines and the know-how to make the ponds smaller, deepen them, slope the banks and increase flow-through of water to provide better drainage," Radloff said.

He added that this type of work is best done in the late fall, after the water has cooled and the weeds died back.

Administrator Frederick A. Weber repeated his earlier statement that the ponds could be made into an asset to the park and the village if they were reconstructed. Summer fishing and winter ice skating are two possible uses.

Prairie Trail Hike Set at Independence

A guided hike over the Prairie Meadows Nature Trail is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. Sunday at Independence Lake County Park. Work began on renovating the prairie three years ago. There is an entrance fee to the park.

Cavanaugh Lake Yields Large Bass

Floyd Pratt of Chelsea had some phenomenal luck last week fishing for bass in Cavanaugh Lake.

On successive days he caught 17 bass, releasing all but a couple. The two he kept weighed five and six pounds, respectively. He got the six-pounder by standing on a dock and casting a live frog into a hole about 10 feet deep. The five-pound trophy took a purple plastic worm cast from a boat offshore.

Pratt does a lot of bass fishing, and is convinced that Cavanaugh is one of the best lakes around for big bass, even though it doesn't have the reputation that some others enjoy. He thinks enough of the fishing possibilities that he has arranged to camp on private property for the summer while he explores them.

"It isn't fished much for bass," he said. "There is no public access, and the people who live out here don't seem to be very interested in catching bass. They are mostly bluegill and perch fishermen."

"There are a lot of bass in the lake, and some really big ones," he continued. "I've hooked a couple that I just plain couldn't hold. I'm guessing they would go 8-9 pounds, but I can't say for sure. They just took off, straightened the hook, and got away. Either one would have made my six-pounder look like a baby."

The Cavanaugh Lake bass are obviously hungry. Both of Pratt's big ones came up and took the bait an instant after it hit the water. Both had large heads and relatively small bodies, indicating they have been hard-pressed to find enough to eat. Both had recently swallowed sizeable perch but had nothing else in their stomachs.

"I'm going to keep on fishing here until fall," Pratt said, "and one of these days I'm going to get a really big bass. I've bought some stronger hooks, so I can hang onto the next one."

BIG BASS FROM CAVANAUGH LAKE: Ralph Pratt found the bass fishing in Cavanaugh Lake mighty good last week. Here he displays a six-pounder that he landed while fishing off the dock that he is standing on. Pratt says there are bigger bass in the lake waiting to be caught.

Village Must Decide Soon On Paying Landfill Costs

The village must decide soon how it intends to finance improvements at the Chelsea sanitary landfill in order to keep the facility operating, administrator Frederick W. Weber told the village council at its Aug. 16 meeting.

The state Department of Natural Resources has demanded that present practices at the Werkner Rd. site be modified to prevent groundwater contamination. The alternative is to shut the operation down on Sept. 1, 1984.

Council has tentatively decided to comply with the state's order by lining future rubbish burial cells with a plastic film intended to keep waste liquids from leaking into the water table.

Washtenaw Engineering Co. of Ann Arbor has estimated that it will cost $250,000 to cap the present disposal area with two feet of clay, as now required by state law. The firm further estimated a cost of $879,290 to carry out the plastic film lining process in two phases that would allow the landfill to continue operating for another 10 years.

"I think those estimates may be a little high," Weber told the council, "but we're still looking at a substantial amount of money."

Weber suggested two possible ways for the village to foot the bill:

1. Issue revenue bonds, which would be paid off from fees charged for use of the landfill. "A bond would require an approving vote on a public referendum," he reminded the council.

2. Borrow the money from the village electric fund, which has a substantial surplus, with the money to be repaid from user fees at current interest rates.

The council took no formal action, but discussion indicated a preference for borrowing from the electric fund, and Weber was instructed to prepare a resolution for the council to consider next month.

Whatever is done, users can expect to pay higher fees beginning no later than April of next year. The present fee schedule will not cover the added costs. There has been some confusion over when higher fees will go into effect. A Nov. 1 date was suggested initially, but was not officially adopted.

Fencing Tournery Set at Renaissance Festival

The excitement of medieval sword battles will be highlighted during the second weekend of the Michigan Renaissance Festival Aug. 27-28 in Clarkston when the festival hosts a fencing tournament sanctioned by the U. S. Fencing Association, Michigan Division.

Approximately 14 fencers representing seven local clubs will compete for prizes, demonstrate fencing techniques, and give a brief history of the sport each day. Groups featured include the Fencing Academy of Michigan from Southfield; the Condotierre Fencing Club from the Macomb area; the Lion and Sword Club from Trenton; the Oakland University Fencing Club from Rochester; the Grosse Pointe Fencing Club; the Troy Fencing Club; and the Ann Arbor Sword

Club.

Other special events scheduled for the weekend include a hot-air balloon lift-off by a visitor from a faraway land at the close of each day, and demonstrations of hand-pressed paper printing as it was invented by Gutenberg.

The festival will continue each weekend from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Colomiere Center on Big Lake Rd., just south of the Dixie Highway, Waterford exit on I-75.

Additional information is available Monday-Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the festival office in Birmingham.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

I can't remember the last time I saw or heard a bobwhite quail, but it certainly wasn't this year and probably not last year either. Quail aren't extinct in Michigan, but they are close, too close for comfort.

A series of four harsh winters before this past unusually mild one all but wiped out the bobwhites, which can't withstand prolonged periods of severe cold and deep snow. A remnant population undoubtedly exists and, given some good weather luck over several years, will multiply and re-establish the species.

Southern Michigan is on the northern edge of the bobwhite quail's habitat range. Some bird books draw a line at approximately the Michigan-Indiana border and assert that quail don't exist above it. That, of course, is untrue, but it illustrates the birds' touch-and-go situation in this state.

Beginning during the 1940's, quail gradually built up their numbers in southern Michigan to the point where they had become quite abundant during the 60's. The Department of Natural Resources tried for years to get legislation to allow a limited quail hunting season, and eventually succeeded.

Quail were hunted during several falls under a management program which prescribed open seasons only in those counties where spring "whistling" surveys indicated a high population of the birds. Male quail sound off with their "bob-white" call while establishing breeding territories, and the number of calls heard by counters driving along prescribed road routes provides a reliable index of numbers. It is presumed that for every singing male there is a female somewhere about, and that the result will be a nesting effort.

Washtenaw county had a few quail hunting seasons under that program.

"It was never a big sport. Quail were not really plentiful as measured by standards of southern states where the bobwhite is the number one game bird. Michigan-style quail hunting required a lot of walking, good dog work and considerable luck to locate a covey. Many land-owners had come to regard the birds as pets, and flat-out refused permission to allow 'their' quail to be hunted.

To say that shooting—or, more accurately, shooting at—quail is a sporting proposition is to understate the case. Next to mourning doves, quail are as tricky targets as America's outdoor uplands offer to the shotgunner. In this shooter's experience, ruffed grouse are easy by comparison, and I never found grouse very easy. (My average on pats was about one bird for every seven shells fired.)

Quail generally hold well for a pointing dog that knows its business and "locks up" without crowding the birds too closely. Even though you know they are out there somewhere ahead of the dog's nose, you never fail to be startled by the explosive flush of a quail covey. It's almost as if someone had set off a charge of dynamite under your feet.

The birds look about the size of bumblebees as they zoom off in all directions with a great whirring of wings that discombobulates you as you try to pick out a target and swing on it. The tendency is to shoot somewhere into the flock, a futile gesture that simply accelerates the departure.

You can try to track down the scattered "singles," but in my experience flushed quail in Michigan generally head for some impenetrable thicket where it would take a bulldozer to force them to fly again. They are also adept at running if approached in an open field.

Hunting didn't hurt Michigan's quail. The kill was modest and took only surplus birds that otherwise would have succumbed to weather, predators or disease. Properly regulated hunting doesn't hurt any species provided that wildlife managers have done their job and determined that a harvestable surplus exists and can be taken under conservative rules which insure preservation of ample breeding stock.

What all but did in Michigan quail was Old Man Winter. The hope here is that the weather will relent for a few years and allow quail to come back. Meanwhile, don't look for re-opening of quail hunting any time soon. At best, the comeback is going to take awhile.

'SAFE BOATING TIPS'

From Ann Arbor Flotilla 17-03, U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary

★ Keep Boat Wake Down . . .

Ann Arbor's Flotilla 17-03 of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary reminds you that when you are boating, you should watch your boat's wake. A boat owner is legally responsible for personal injury or property damage caused by waves from his boat.

Slow down to "no-wake" speeds near swimming areas and boat landing. Even small waves can cause problems to swimmers, and make launching a boat extremely dangerous.

Beware of making sizeable waves near fishing boats, which are often loaded to capacity and therefore easily swamped or capsized.

Reckless or negligent operation of a power boat can subject the owner to a citation from law enforcement officers, which can result in a sizeable fine.

In the early 1960s, about half the women in the U. S. were keeping house full-time while 37 percent were in the labor force; by 1982, these proportions were reversed—53 percent of women were working or looking for work, while 35 percent were keeping house.

Card of Thanks 16

We wish to thank everyone who helped us with the care of our great-grandmother, Eunice Alexander, at the close of her life. We are deeply grateful to Dr. Peggs and his staff at the Chelsea Family Practice Center and Hospice of Jackson.

Mr. & Mrs. Craig Greenwood and Sarah. -13-2

Working women occupy the same relative earnings position compared to men as in years past, averaging about $6 for every $10 earned by men, according to "Women at Work: A Chartbook," published by the U. S. Department of Labor.

In some occupations, women's wages are closer to men's than in others. For example, in elementary school teaching, women earn roughly 85 percent as much as men; but in other areas, such as sales, women average only a little more than half of men's earnings, a U. S. Department of Labor publication reports.

MORTGAGE SALE — Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by AYESHA NADIRAH RASHED, formerly known as FRANKIE J. SHOWS of Ann Arbor, Michigan, Mortgagee, to Michigan National Bank-Ann Arbor, a National Banking Association, Mortgagee, dated the 8th day of February, 1981, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on the 6th day of March, 1981, in Liber 1793 of Washtenaw County Records, on page 364, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Nine Thousand One Hundred Twenty Two and 99/100 Dollars ($9,122.99);

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Thursday, the 28th day of September, 1983, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., Local Time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the westerly entrance to the County Building in Ann Arbor, Michigan (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with interest thereon at Seven percent (7%) per annum and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises. Which said premises are described as follows:

Parcel I
Lot 18, Colonial Village, as recorded in Liber 17, Pages 16 and 17, Washtenaw County Records.

Parcel II
A part of Lot 17, Colonial Village, as recorded in Liber 17 of Plats, Pages 16 and 17, Washtenaw County Records, said part more particularly described as: Beginning at the NW corner of said Lot 17, thence Ely along the N line of said Lot 17, a distance 70 feet; thence S to the S line of said Lot 17 to a point 70 feet from the SW corner of said Lot 17; thence W to the SW corner of said Lot 17; thence N to the place of beginning.

During the six months immediately following the sale, the property may be redeemed. Dated at Clawson, Michigan, August 24, 1983.

Putnam Fire Contract Signed for Lake Area

The contract between the Putnam Township Fire Department and the Dexter Township Board was signed at the Tuesday, Aug. 16 meeting, finalizing the agreement for fire protection in sections one and two of Dexter township.

Putnam Township Fire Department was accepted for membership by the Washtenaw County Mutual Aid Society which was the last step for the contract acceptance. The debate over that area's fire protection service has lasted nearly a year with both Putnam Fire Department and Dexter village Fire Department vying for the contract.

The contract will take effect on Oct. 1. The township plans to send homeowners letters and stickers notifying them which Fire Department to call in an emergency.

She was born April 15, 1915, in Haifa, Palestine, and was married to Joseph Eassa, who preceded her in death 37 years ago. She was also preceded in death by a son, H. J. (Bill) Eassa of Chelsea, last Jan. 4.

Mrs. Eassa had been employed as a seamstress by Sears, Roebuck & Co., and had lived in Las Vegas for the past four years.

Surviving are a son, Fred J. Eassa of Las Vegas; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. J. (Judy) Eassa of Chelsea; and three grandchildren, Joseph C., Philip J. and M. Elizabeth Eassa, all of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. Daniel Daly of St. George Orthodox church of Detroit officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Manchester Schools Borrowing $1.1 Million Against Fall Taxes

In action taken at the regular Board of Education Meeting on Aug. 15, the Manchester Community Schools will borrow $1,100,000 from the Monroe Bank & Trust.

Such borrowing is action carried out annually in order to maintain even cash flow through the school district until tax revenues are received during the winter. The borrowing this year will cost the school district approximately $43,000. Six bids were received from various financial institutions for the school district notes. Monroe Bank & Trust submitted the low bid of 6.67 percent.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson commented, "We were pleased to receive six bids for our notes this year. Three or four years ago we were receiving two or three bids. This is a general indication of the financial credibility of the school district as well as improving economy."

Erwin W. Hinderer

422 Congdon St. Chelsea

Erwin W. Hinderer of 422 Congdon, Chelsea, age 70, died Aug. 23 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

He was born July 21, 1913 in Freedom township, the son of John George and Charlotte E. (Jedele) Hinderer. On Nov. 3, 1951 in Chelsea he married Margaret Gwyneth (Gwyn) Jones. She survives.

He was a life-long resident of the Chelsea area and was employed by the Village of Chelsea, retiring in 1975.

He was a member of St. John's United Church of Christ of Rogers Corners, a veteran of WW-II serving in the U. S. Army. He was a member of American Legion Herbert J. McKune Post 31 of Chelsea, and a member of Ann Arbor Loyal Order of Moose No. 1253.

Surviving, in addition to his widow, are his brother and sister-in-law, Walter A. and Lucille Hinderer of Manchester; a sister, Elsie J. Hinderer of Manchester; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Clarence (Magdalena) Hinderer of Jackson and Mrs. Norman (Lorena) Stierle of Ann Arbor; several nieces and nephews and several grand-nieces and grand-nephews. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Clarence on Feb. 7, 1968, and Herbert on July 7, 1971.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 23 at 3 p.m. from St. John's United Church of Christ with Pastor Phyllis Pawson officiating. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Chelsea.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to St. John's United Church of Christ or Michigan Cancer Foundation. Arrangements were made by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

Tornado Alert Given Early Monday Morning

A tornado alert was touched off at 2 o'clock last Monday morning, but nothing happened other than a small amount of rain. A funnel cloud was reported to have been sighted near Manchester.

Registration Scheduled for WCC Classes

Registration at Washtenaw Community College for fall classes began Monday, Aug. 15 and continues through Friday, Sept. 2. Permits are required to register through Aug. 23. Daily hours are from 8:30 to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:30 to 11:30 on Friday. Night registration will again be offered from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Sept. 1.

Fall classes begin Wednesday, Sept. 7 and continue through Dec. 22.

Registration in area centers including the Ann Arbor 'Y', Briarwood Mall, Ann Arbor Pioneer and Huron High schools, the high schools in Brighton, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake and Willow Run, and the Ypsilanti Community Center Building will take place Aug. 31 from 7-9 p.m. in the various locations.

Tuition for all classes should be paid in full at registration. Master Card or Visa will be accepted. Fees for in-district students are $27 per hour. A financial aid program is available for students carrying at least six credit hours and meeting other eligibility requirements.

Questions regarding financial aid may be directed to 973-3523 or 973-3524.

The college provides a day care facility for children aged 1½ to five whose parents are attending classes or related activities at WCC. Hours are 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Fees are determined on a sliding scale starting at $1.20 an hour.

Bulletins describing WCC programs and classes are available at the Counseling and Registration offices in the Student Center Building on the WCC campus.

For further information, call the WCC Information Center at 973-3622.

Railroad St. Lease Extended For Five Years

Railroad St. from McKinley St. east to Freer Rd. is on the railroad right-of-way, and so the village of Chelsea does not own it.

That legal technicality was cleared up for another five years by the village council at its Aug. 16 meeting. The council agreed to lease the street from Conrail, which offered the renewal at no cost.

Participates in SAC Training Exercise

Airman 1st Class Mark E. Neugebauer, son of Charles Neugebauer of 19621 Bethel Church Rd., Manchester, has participated in Global Shield 83, an exercise involving U. S. Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps units, and elements of the Canadian forces.

The exercise, co-ordinated by the Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC), was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of SAC to carry out orders should deterrence fail.

Neugebauer is assigned with the 410th Bombardment Wing at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich.

The airman is a 1981 graduate of Manchester High school.

Curb Cut Question Unanswered

Dr. Jerald L. Flinn, who practices as a chiropractor in an office at 138 Orchard St., wanted a curb cut for a personal-use driveway while Orchard St. is being repaved this summer.

He told the village council that he called the village hall to ask about the matter and was informed that, because administrator Frederick A. Weber was on vacation, his request could not be considered.

The curb was poured without the cut, he said. "I don't understand why I couldn't get some kind of an answer, one way or the other," Dr. Flinn protested.

Village president Jack Merkel couldn't understand it either, and said so.

"I believe in village employees taking vacation, but somebody should be left in charge with authority to receive questions from citizens and give answers."

Merkel asked trustees Jerry Satterthwaite and Richard, the council's planning and zoning committee, to meet with Dr. Flinn and try to resolve the issue.

School Booths Win Prizes at Manchester Fair

Exhibit booths maintained at the Manchester Community Fair by the Board of Education and the Community Education Program were awarded exhibitor display prizes.

The community education program designed and prepared by Ms. Anne Eckert won first prize for the organizational display category. The Board of Education Booth earned a second place finish for its efforts.

Ms. Eckert, who is now supervising the Manchester Community Education Program under a co-operative agreement with the Chelsea schools, was present each night of the fair and discussed with many persons the opportunities available in Community Education including the classes being offered for high school completion. Persons interested in this program should contact Ms. Eckert at 475-9830 in Chelsea or 428-7804 in Manchester.

The Board of Education Booth was staffed by members of the board, administration, community, and teaching staff.

TEL-MED Offers New Tape on AIDS

Tape No. 571, "Aids," is a new addition to the TEL-MED tape collection available for public use. TEL-MED is a free, phone-in health information service sponsored in part by Chelsea Community Hospital.

AIDS stands for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, a new and frightening disease showing up across the United States. The new TEL-MED tape, written in Ann Arbor and reviewed by Ann Arbor immunologists, has now been made available for use nationally by TEL-MED. In simple, clear language the tape discusses what is presently known about the risk of getting AIDS, what AIDS is, and what is being done about it.

The TEL-MED service provides 262 medically accurate

tapes covering many health topics, such as alcoholism and drug use, mental health, sexuality and cancer. All TEL-MED tapes are written and reviewed by physicians or other health care specialists.

To listen to a tape, call TEL-MED and ask the TEL-MED operator to play the tape over the phone. TEL-MED phone lines are open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday. Phone numbers are 668-1551 (Ann Arbor), 434-6120 (Ypsilanti) and 548-2832 (Howell). Call TEL-MED also to ask for a brochure listing all available tapes.

TEL-MED is funded by the Washtenaw United Way, The Washtenaw Medical Society and the hospitals of Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Saline Voters Approve All Millage Requests

On Monday, Aug. 8 the voters of the Saline School District approved three operating millage proposals which were designed to provide a full educational program for the Saline schools.

The renewal of 18.61 mills was approved by a 2 to 1 margin. An additional operating millage of 0.97 passed by more than 200 votes.

Twenty-five percent of the school district voters cast ballots in the election. This was an increase from 18 percent in the June election.

The total millage now paid by Saline residents is almost 34 mills.

Dexter voters were deciding the future of the Dexter Community Schools on Monday, Aug. 22. Similarly Manchester residents will be asked to cast ballots at a special election scheduled for Aug. 31.

Manchester School Board Studies Possible Program Cuts

The Manchester Board of Education at its regular meeting on Aug. 15 reviewed once again the status of the finance committee work regarding potential program reductions.

At the present time no decisions have been made regarding reductions in the event that sufficient revenues are not available. The Board of Education has scheduled a full review for the September regular meeting.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson has delivered to the board a list of possible program reductions for discussion. This list includes the following: textbooks, athletics, computer literacy, gifted and talented, transportation, special education, elementary classroom, supplies and equipment, maintenance and custodial personnel, and reserve cash equity.

Voters in the Manchester

School District will be offered an opportunity on Aug. 31 to cast ballots on the question of whether or not the school district should continue to offer its current program. In the event that additional revenues are not forthcoming it will be necessary for the board to reach consensus on a combination of budget modifications in order to maintain a balanced budget.

While the board has directed the superintendent to begin the school year with current programs in place it has also taken the solid position that no program is guaranteed for the full school year. Consistent statements from the board have indicated that all programs not legally required are eligible for review and modification.

Notice is hereby given that the Chelsea Village Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing as the statute in such case provides for the amendment of the Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance (Ordinance No. 79); that is, the zoning map which will provide that the area hereinafter described will be zoned "C-2, General Commercial District". The area to be affected is described as:

The North 295.5 feet of the following described premises: Commencing at the North 1/4 Corner of Section 13, Town 2 South, Range 3 East, Sylvan Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan; thence south on the North and South 1/4 Line 276.54 feet for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; thence south 528 feet to the Centerline of Old U.S. 12; thence easterly along the Centerline of Old U.S. 12 285 feet; thence northerly parallel with the North and South 1/4 Line of said Section to a point which is 310 feet easterly from the Place of Beginning on a line which is parallel to the North Line of said Section; thence westerly to the Place of Beginning 310 feet. Excepting and reserving from the above description the westerly 66 feet thereof in width. Being a part of the Northeast 1/4 of Section 13, Town 2 South, Range 3 East, Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

(This property is located north of Old U.S. 12, east of the St. Barnabas' Episcopal Church site, and north of the Archie W. Wilkinson estate.)

The aforesaid hearing will be held in the Council Room in the Chelsea Municipal Building on Tuesday, September 13, 1983, at 7:30 o'clock P.M. The application for rezoning as filed by the Village of Chelsea, is on file in the office of the Village Administrator and may be examined prior to the date of the hearing.

Mary Eassa

Las Vegas, Nev. 8
(Formerly of Detroit)
Mary Eassa, 68, of 250 Westchester, Las Vegas, Nev., died Aug. 17 at the Sunrise Hospital in Las Vegas.

She was born April 15, 1915, in Haifa, Palestine, and was married to Joseph Eassa, who preceded her in death 37 years ago. She was also preceded in death by a son, H. J. (Bill) Eassa of Chelsea, last Jan. 4.

Mrs. Eassa had been employed as a seamstress by Sears, Roebuck & Co., and had lived in Las Vegas for the past four years.

Surviving are a son, Fred J. Eassa of Las Vegas; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. J. (Judy) Eassa of Chelsea; and three grandchildren, Joseph C., Philip J. and M. Elizabeth Eassa, all of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. Daniel Daly of St. George Orthodox church of Detroit officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Manchester Schools Borrowing $1.1 Million Against Fall Taxes

In action taken at the regular Board of Education Meeting on Aug. 15, the Manchester Community Schools will borrow $1,100,000 from the Monroe Bank & Trust.

Such borrowing is action carried out annually in order to maintain even cash flow through the school district until tax revenues are received during the winter. The borrowing this year will cost the school district approximately $43,000. Six bids were received from various financial institutions for the school district notes. Monroe Bank & Trust submitted the low bid of 6.67 percent.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson commented, "We were pleased to receive six bids for our notes this year. Three or four years ago we were receiving two or three bids. This is a general indication of the financial credibility of the school district as well as improving economy."

Erwin W. Hinderer

422 Congdon St.
Chelsea
Erwin W. Hinderer of 422 Congdon, Chelsea, age 70, died Aug. 23 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

He was born July 21, 1913 in Freedom township, the son of John George and Charlotte E. (Jedele) Hinderer. On Nov. 3, 1951 in Chelsea he married Margaret Gwyneth (Gwyn) Jones. She survives.

He was a life-long resident of the Chelsea area and was employed by the Village of Chelsea, retiring in 1975.

He was a member of St. John's United Church of Christ of Rogers Corners, a veteran of WW-II serving in the U. S. Army. He was a member of American Legion Herbert J. McKune Post 31 of Chelsea, and a member of Ann Arbor Loyal Order of Moose No. 1253.

Surviving, in addition to his widow, are his brother and sister-in-law, Walter A. and Lucille Hinderer of Manchester; a sister, Elsie J. Hinderer of Manchester; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Clarence (Magdalena) Hinderer of Jackson and Mrs. Norman (Lorena) Stierle of Ann Arbor; several nieces and nephews and several grand-nieces and grand-nephews. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Clarence on Feb. 7, 1968, and Herbert on July 7, 1971.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 23 at 3 p.m. from St. John's United Church of Christ with Pastor Phyllis Pawson officiating. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Chelsea.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to St. John's United Church of Christ or Michigan Cancer Foundation. Arrangements were made by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

Tornado Alert Given Early Monday Morning

A tornado alert was touched off at 2 o'clock last Monday morning, but nothing happened other than a small amount of rain. A funnel cloud was reported to have been sighted near Manchester.

Registration Scheduled for WCC Classes

Registration at Washtenaw Community College for fall classes began Monday, Aug. 15 and continues through Friday, Sept. 2. Permits are required to register through Aug. 23. Daily hours are from 8:30 to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:30 to 11:30 on Friday. Night registration will again be offered from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Sept. 1.

Fall classes begin Wednesday, Sept. 7 and continue through Dec. 22.

Registration in area centers including the Ann Arbor 'Y', Briarwood Mall, Ann Arbor Pioneer and Huron High schools, the high schools in Brighton, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake and Willow Run, and the Ypsilanti Community Center Building will take place Aug. 31 from 7-9 p.m. in the various locations.

Tuition for all classes should be paid in full at registration. Master Card or Visa will be accepted. Fees for in-district students are $27 per hour. A financial aid program is available for students carrying at least six credit hours and meeting other eligibility requirements.

Questions regarding financial aid may be directed to 973-3523 or 973-3524.

The college provides a day care facility for children aged 1 1/2 to five whose parents are attending classes or related activities at WCC. Hours are 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Fees are determined on a sliding scale starting at $1.20 an hour.

Bulletins describing WCC programs and classes are available at the Counseling and Registration offices in the Student Center Building on the WCC campus.

For further information, call the WCC Information Center at 973-3622.

Railroad St. Lease Extended For Five Years

Railroad St. from McKinley St. east to Freer Rd. is on the railroad right-of-way, and so the village of Chelsea does not own it.

That legal technicality was cleared up for another five years by the village council at its Aug. 16 meeting. The council agreed to lease the street from Conrail, which offered the renewal at no cost.

Births

A son, Jeffrey Thomas, Aug. 12 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Mark and Amy Heydlauff. Maternal grandparents are Peter Enderle and the late Lynn Enderle. Jeffrey has an older brother, Peter, 2.

A son, Andrew Hone, to Ronald and Julie Gauss of Grand Rapids, Aug. 2. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hone of Plymouth. Paternal grandparents are Ernest Gauss of Chelsea and Betty Gauss of Jackson. Andrew has a three-year-old brother, Jared.

A son, Chad Emerson, Aug. 17 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Ted and Denise Fortner of 8051 Washington, Grass Lake. Maternal Grandmother is Carol Slusser of Grass Lake. Paternal Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Fortner of Oak Hill, O.

A son, Christopher Brian, Aug. 8 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Ken and Mary Craig of 6103 Joy Rd., Dexter. Maternal grandparents are Margaret Ehnis and the late Edward Ehnis. Paternal grandparents are Helen Craig and the late Norman Craig. Christopher has a brother, Jeffrey, and a sister, Kathleen.

Participates in SAC Training Exercise

Airman 1st Class Mark E. Neigebauer, son of Charles Neigebauer of 19621 Bethel Church Rd., Manchester, has participated in Global Shield 83, an exercise involving U. S. Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps units, and elements of the Canadian forces.

The exercise, co-ordinated by the Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC), was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of SAC to carry out orders should deterrence fail.

Neigebauer is assigned with the 410th Bombardment Wing at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich.

The airman is a 1981 graduate of Manchester High school.

Curb Cut Question Unanswered

Dr. Jerald L. Flinn, who practices as a chiropractor in an office at 138 Orchard St., wanted a curb cut for a personal-use driveway while Orchard St. is being repaved this summer.

He told the village council that he called the village hall to ask about the matter and was informed that, because administrator Frederick A. Weber was on vacation, his request could not be considered.

The curb was poured without the cut, he said. "I don't understand why I couldn't get some kind of an answer, one way or the other," Dr. Flinn protested.

Village president Jack Merkel couldn't understand it either, and said so.

"I believe in village employees taking vacation, but somebody should be left in charge with authority to receive questions from citizens and give answers."

Merkel asked trustees Jerry Satterthwaite and Richard, the council's planning and zoning committee, to meet with Dr. Flinn and try to resolve the issue.

School Booths Win Prizes at Manchester Fair

Exhibit booths maintained at the Manchester Community Fair by the Board of Education and the Community Education Program were awarded exhibitor display prizes.

The community education program designed and prepared by Ms. Anne Eckert won first prize for the organizational display category. The Board of Education Booth earned a second place finish for its efforts.

Ms. Eckert, who is now supervising the Manchester Community Education Program under a co-operative agreement with the Chelsea schools, was present each night of the fair and discussed with many persons the opportunities available in Community Education including the classes being offered for high school completion. Persons interested in this program should contact Ms. Eckert at 475-9830 in Chelsea or 428-7804 in Manchester.

The Board of Education Booth was staffed by members of the board, administration, community, and teaching staff.

TEL-MED Offers New Tape on AIDS

Tape No. 671, "Aids," is a new addition to the TEL-MED tape collection available for public use. TEL-MED is a free, phone-in health information service sponsored in part by Chelsea Community Hospital.

AIDS stands for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, a new and frightening disease showing up across the United States. The new TEL-MED tape, written in Ann Arbor and reviewed by Ann Arbor immunologists, has now been made available for use nationally by TEL-MED. In simple, clear language the tape discusses what is presently known about the risk of getting AIDS, what AIDS is, and what is being done about it.

The TEL-MED service provides 262 medically accurate

tapes covering many health topics, such as alcoholism and drug use, mental health, sexuality and cancer. All TEL-MED tapes are written and reviewed by physicians or other health care specialists.

To listen to a tape, call TEL-MED and ask the TEL-MED operator to play the tape over the phone. TEL-MED phone lines are open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday. Phone numbers are 668-1551 (Ann Arbor), 434-6120 (Ypsilanti) and 548-2832 (Howell). Call TEL-MED also to ask for a brochure listing all available tapes.

TEL-MED is funded by the Washtenaw United Way, The Washtenaw Medical Society and the hospitals of Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Saline Voters Approve All Millage Requests

On Monday, Aug. 8 the voters of the Saline School District approved three operating millage proposals which were designed to provide a full educational program for the Saline schools.

The renewal of 18.61 mills was approved by a 2 to 1 margin. An additional operating millage of 0.97 passed by more than 200 votes.

Twenty-five percent of the school district voters cast ballots in the election. This was an increase from 18 percent in the June election.

The total millage now paid by Saline residents is almost 34 mills.

Dexter voters were deciding the future of the Dexter Community Schools on Monday, Aug. 22. Similarly Manchester residents will be asked to cast ballots at a special election scheduled for Aug. 31.

Manchester School Board Studies Possible Program Cuts

The Manchester Board of Education at its regular meeting on Aug. 15 reviewed once again the status of the finance committee work regarding potential program reductions.

At the present time no decisions have been made regarding reductions in the event that sufficient revenues are not available. The Board of Education has scheduled a full review for the September regular meeting.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson has delivered to the board a list of possible program reductions for discussion. This list includes the following: textbooks, athletics, computer literacy, gifted and talented, transportation, special education, elementary classroom, supplies and equipment, maintenance and custodial personnel, and reserve cash equity.

School District will be offered an opportunity on Aug. 31 to cast ballots on the question of whether or not the school district should continue to offer its current program. In the event that additional revenues are not forthcoming it will be necessary for the board to reach consensus on a combination of budget modifications in order to maintain a balanced budget.

While the board has directed the superintendent to begin the school year with current programs in place it has also taken the solid position that no program is guaranteed for the full school year. Consistent statements from the board have indicated that all programs not legally required are eligible for review and modification.

Chelsea Fairgrounds

Old US-12 at Old Manchester Rd., Chelsea

New Pavillion Ready

With all the legal underbrush finally cleared away, the new exhibit building for Chelsea Community Fair is going up fast and will be ready for the fair's Aug. 30 opening.

The village council gave the green light at its Aug. 2 meeting by unanimously approving a variance to Chelsea's zoning ordinance so that the building may be located closer to Old Manchester Rd. than the ordinance specifies.

As a gesture of good will in view of the many delays imposed, the council voted to waive the fee for the building permit.

The new building is going up immediately south of the large yellow barn on the fairgrounds. Its over-all dimensions are 82 by 100 feet, including a 60 by 100-foot arena and a 22' by 100' bleacher section that will seat more than 500 persons.

Total cost is estimated at $35,000.

The pole-barn-type structure will have a roof but will not be enclosed on the sides except for end gables. The wood has been treated with a preservative and will not be painted. Metal Trim will be white, and the roof gray shingles. The floor will be dirt.

The fair board is acting as its own prime contractor on the project. Sub-contractors include architect Donald D. MacMullan of Ann Arbor, Klink Excavating Co. of Grass Lake and builders James Dault and Robert Bauer of Chelsea. Chelsea Lumber Co. is supplying the materials.

Prime use of the building will be livestock judging, but it will serve a number of other purposes as well, including the fair queen contest, ladies day and other festivities. It will also be a back-up facility in case of rain that might otherwise wash out such outdoor events as the horseshoe pitching contest.

Demolition Derby To Include Special Figure 8 Heat

Chelsea Community Fair will provide a new attraction this year.

The ever popular Demolition Derby will include a Figure 8 heat in addition to the Powder Puff heat. The Figure 8 event will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 30, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Powder Puff event will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 31, also beginning at 7:30 p.m. Entry forms are available at the Parts Peddler on Main St. and the Wolverine Bar on Old US-12.

Livestock Auction Scheduled Sept. 1

The Chelsea Community Fair livestock auction will be held Thursday, Sept. 1, at 7 p.m.

Price Brothers will sell fat lambs, hogs and steers to the highest bidders. Trucking and other arrangements may be made through the sheep, swine and steer superintendents.

Popular Ladies Day Feature Returns

Friday, Sept. 2, will be Ladies Day at the Chelsea Community Fair, a repeat of an occasion staged last year for the first time with outstanding success. Events will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the new arena and continue until noon. Entertainment, refreshments and prizes are included on the program, along with a special $1 admission fee for women who come through the gate before noon. (Regular admission is $2.) Special Ladies Day features will include:

A speech by former State Rep. Mary Keith Ballantine of Jackson on the subject of "Change."

A flower arrangement demonstration by Sandy Zeeb of Chelsea Greenhouse.

A presentation by Tom Arnold, a butcher from Polly's Market, on "Family Tips on Meat."

A performance by the Sirab Dance Troupe, directed by Karen Mirochna.

An appearance by Inza Bristle of Dexter (and her husband, Clarence) who was last year's champion in the Michigan State Fair husband-calling contest.

A performance by the Kitchen Band from Jackson, representing Chapter 405 of the American Association of Retired Persons. A special Homemaker of the Year award will be announced and presented.

Chelsea and Dexter area merchants have donated 150 door prizes which will be given during the morning. In addition, the first 500 women who register will receive a "goodie bag" containing a variety of useful items. If all that isn't enough, there will be free coffee and doughnuts.

Ladies Day at the fair was launched last year by a group of women who visited other local fairs and found it to be a popular event. It worked well here, and this year's version is expected to be bigger and better than ever.

Cut, bag or mulch with a John Deere 21-inch mower

CRASHES-LAUGHS-THRILLS!

Feel like busting up some Detroit pig iron? Get a jalopy and join the action at the Chelsea Community Fair. All you need is a valid driver's license and, if under 21, parental consent.

The whole idea, of course, is to drive onto the track arena, with a number of other contestants, and proceed to wreck as many other cars as possible, while keeping your own car running. No holds barred, except deliberate head-on collisions and driver's door crashes are prohibited. The survivors will share in cash prizes and trophies. There will be heats at each Derby scheduled plus a feature event for the finalists.

Drivers interested in competing should contact the Fair Secretary at 475-1270.

Children's Parade Will Open Fair

The Chelsea Community Fair is annually opened by a parade of the community's children. Those wishing to march in the "Kiddies Parade" should be in the Municipal Parking Lot before 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 30. Participants are judged for their originality in decorating themselves, their tricycles, bikes, wagons, carts, etc., and then placed into the parade order along with the bands. The parade marches from the Municipal Parking Lot to the Fairgrounds. No horses or motorized vehicles will be allowed.
