Five Prisoners Flee Cassidy Lake; Four Quickly Recaptured

Five prisoners at the Cassidy Lake Technical School walked away from the institution during the past four days. Four were recaptured, and one is still at large.

Four of the escapes occurred Sunday night. They were reported missing when they failed to show up for a 10:20 p.m. bed check.

The fifth got away early yesterday morning and was apprehended before he had been officially reported loose.

Cassidy Lake superintendent John Staten said Perrie Marshall, 19, of Detroit, serving two years for illegal possession of a weapon; Mark D. Jackson, 16, of Detroit, serving 1-4 years for felonious assault; Lynn Mattison, 19, of Detroit, serving 2-5 years for auto theft, and Earl Woodfort, 20, of Flint, serving 3-5 years for carrying a concealed weapon, all walked away from the unfenced minimum-security prison Sunday night.

Marshall was caught early Monday morning by Detroit police who chased down a car reported stolen from Chelsea and found Marshall in it.

Jackson voluntarily returned to Cassidy Lake and surrendered himself. Mattison was caught by Ypsilanti police Monday afternoon.

As of The Standard's news deadline yesterday, Woodfort was still at large.

At about 8 a.m. yesterday morning the sheriff's department Chelsea sub-station received a call from an alert citizen of a suspicious person who had come out of the woods and started to hitch-hike on M-52 near Waterloo Rd.

Detective Paul Wade went to the scene in plain clothes and an unmarked car, and offered the man a ride. The man got into Wade's car and was promptly put under arrest.

"He offered no resistance," Wade said. "He just said (expletive deleted) and gave himself up."

The captive was identified as Glen D. McLaren, 19, of Barton City, serving 2-5 years for larceny from a vehicle. He had been sent to Cassidy Lake last Thursday.

Wade credited sheriff's deputy Larry Thayer and the Chelsea police department for helping make the arrest. "They backed me up," he said. "You never know when a situation like this might turn out to be dangerous, and you always appreciate help."

The five walk-aways brought to eight the number of prisoners who have escaped from Cassidy Lake so far in 1984. A total of 48 got away last year. Most escapes occur during the warm-weather months.

Security has been tightened at the facility following protests by a committee of Chelsea area residents headed by Ron Olmsted, which has demanded that the prison be either fenced or closed.

Olmsted's Ivey Rd. home was broken into last year by three Cassidy Lake escapees.

"I guess I'm not surprised," Olmsted said when notified of the five latest walk-aways. "I had hoped the new security measures would take care of the problem, but they obviously haven't."

"Some people seem to have the impression that the problem will just 'go away' if nobody mentions it any more. Believe me, our committee doesn't intend to let its concerns die. We will keep pushing the Department of Corrections until something is done. We see some hope in Gov. Blanchard's budget proposals for $1.6 million over the next two years to improve housing and security at Cassidy Lake."

"Meanwhile, the state has an obligation to confine the prisoners who are sent there. Obviously, that isn't being done. I have to wonder what's going to happen when warm weather comes."

Salary Item Tabled

Council tabled an agenda item calling for adoption of a new wage schedule for village employees. A working session on that and related 1984-85 budget items was scheduled for last night.

It Looked Nice, But It Wasn't

It was a beautiful day last Friday—bright sunshine and rising temperatures—but it was nevertheless a closed "snow day" for the Chelsea schools.

The decision to call off classes was made by school officials after rural roads were found to be glazed and slippery as the result of an overnight freeze.

About four inches of heavy, wet snow had fallen Wednesday and Thursday, and it turned into slush which then froze on gravel roads that had not been salted.

"It was very slippery on back roads early Friday morning," school bus supervisor Ralph Brier said. "We checked out the conditions and decided not to take any chances."

"Some people may have thought it strange to cancel classes on what turned out to be a nice day after the sun came up, but I assure you that conditions for buses were not safe at the time they would have had to make their morning runs."

Workshop On Educational Games Set

Chelsea parents will have the opportunity to participate in a workshop on educational games for pre-school and elementary age children from 2:30-5:30 p.m. tomorrow in the North school cafeteria.

There will be make-it-take-it activities, a display from Kids Korner in Ann Arbor, discovery toys, and lots of ideas to enrich children's progress in an enjoyable way at home.

The workshop is being held during conference time to enable both North and South school parents to participate in conjunction with conference visits.

Library Sets Moratorium On Overdues

McKune Memorial Library has declared a two-day moratorium on overdue books belonging to the library. Any overdue books, regardless of the length of time overdue, may be returned to the library with no charge on April 9-10, the beginning of National Library Week.

The library is also starting a new policy of charging for overdue books. Starting April 1, there will be a three-day grace period on overdue books. The first three days that a book is overdue there will be no charge, but starting on the fourth day the charges will be counted back to the original date. The charge is five cents per day for each item, not counting Sundays or holidays.

Committee Studying Plan to Revitalize Downtown Chelsea

A committee of 10 will take a further look at a proposal for "revitalizing" Chelsea's central business district, an area defined as the stretch of Main St. between Dewey and Van Buren Sts. and one block on either side.

The suggested plan was prepared by the Ann Arbor architectural firm of Johnson Johnson & Roy (JJR) at the request of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce's downtown development committee headed by Mark Heydlauff.

The study was paid for with funds donated by local businessmen and other interested persons.

The committee consists of Heydlauff, William Bott, Jerry Ashby, David Kaercher, John Mitchell, Dr. Ronald Biedron, Jack Winans, Robert Merkel, Ronald Walter and Joseph Merkel.

The committee will meet at least once a month to consider the proposals made in a lengthy report submitted by JJR, Heydlauff said.

"We aren't prepared at this point to buy anything, let alone everything that JJR has proposed," Heydlauff said. "We need further study and direction."

"We want this to be a total community effort, and will welcome suggestions from everybody, not just people in the business district."

"We want to see Chelsea grow. We want it to be a dynamic community with a solid business base, and at the same time we want to preserve the characteristics that make the village attractive to people."

General concepts include making Main St. a pedestrian-oriented passage rather than a "freeway." That could include routing through traffic, especially trucks, around the village.

Landscaping, more off-street parking and attractive rear entrances to business places are other ideas put forward.

"We will emphasize doing the 'do-able' things," Heydlauff said. "We're not talking about over-all costs at this stage. I think we're looking at a program that will be carried out over a period of time."

"The committee will let people know what it is thinking. We intend that the program be highly visible, and I emphasize again that we want suggestions. We're not in a big hurry. Our approach will be to take time and do things right."

U. of M. Class Plans To 'Look' at Chelsea

A class of nine landscape architecture students from the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources plans to make a "visual character study" of the village of Chelsea.

The project will be under the direction of Prof. Charles J. Cares.

The class will address two basic questions:

What physical characteristics give Chelsea its special character and charm?

How can such insights be used in making decisions about future form and growth in Chelsea?

The proposal for the study states:

"Chelsea is considered to be an attractive community by almost everyone who visits it. People who pass through it for the first time are aware of its special character; long-time residents continue to appreciate it as a place to live."

"As part of its effort the class must investigate Chelsea's heritage, its traditions and other aspects that allow it to stand as a free-standing and independent Michigan town. It is especially important for the study group to identify characteristics of the community that Chelsea residents cherish."

"The ultimate goal of the study is to influence the community to preserve buildings, spaces, landmarks and attitudes toward the environment that it deems important."

The class will prepare a graphic presentation of its findings. Village officials and the Washtenaw County Planning Commission will assist by furnishing background materials.

Former village president Jack Merkel was instrumental in securing the study, which is a companion piece to the downtown revitalization proposal made by the Ann Arbor firm of Johnson Johnson & Roy (JJR).

JJR is confining its view to the downtown business district. The U. of M. class will look at the entire village.

Empty School Bus Involved in Mishap

A Chelsea school bus, empty except for its driver, went off the road and into a ditch early last Wednesday morning after colliding with an automobile. There were no injuries.

The accident occurred on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. about 20 feet south of Glazier Rd. at 7:20 a.m.

Sheriff's deputies who policed the accident said that the school bus, driven by Elmer J. Lindow, 69, of 600 Freer Rd. was starting to round a sharp curve when a car coming from the opposite direction skidded into it.

The driver of the car was identified as Coralie Parkins, of 4401 Mushbach Rd.

The road was "very slippery" at the time, deputies said, and heavy snow was falling. No citations for driving violations were issued.

The two vehicles collided with their left front fenders. The bus sustained very minor damage. The car had to be towed.

The bus came to rest with its two right wheels down in a deep, mucky ditch next to a swamp, but did not roll over, and was later pulled out with a heavy-duty tow truck.

Ralph Brier, Chelsea school bus supervisor, said the bus was on its way to pick up a group of special education students, who were later transported on a replacement bus.

"I'm very, very happy that no one was injured," Brier said. "We are constantly concerned about the possibility of accidents involving our school buses. Fortunately, there were no children aboard this particular bus, and the driver wasn't injured."

A report of another school bus accident at about the same time turned out to be unfounded. A bus running along Freer Rd. had its motor drowned by water splashing from a series of deep puddles. "The engine conked out because of the water," Brier said, "and we had to send another bus to bring the kids into school. There definitely was no traffic accident."

Cathy Kimball Elected to Post By Girl Scouts

Cathy Kimball of Winters Rd., Sylvan township, has been elected third vice-president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

The council serves Washtenaw, Livingston and parts of Wayne and Monroe counties.

Susan Walters Elected As Library Trustee

In what turned out to be a close score of write-in votes, Susan Walters of 151 E. Summit St. was elected to the McKune Memorial Library board of trustees to fill a vacancy that no one had filed nominating petitions for.

Mrs. Walters received 41 write-in votes to 37 for Ann Merkel, village clerk Evelyn Rosentreter reported. There were scattered ballots for others.

Announcement of the result in the March 12 election was delayed until the write-ins could be separately counted and certified by the board of canvassers.

Voting for nominated candidates was done on punch cards and the ballots tallied by computer.

Mrs. Walters will fill a vacancy created by Mrs. Lyle D. Chriswell's retirement from the library board. No one submitted a nominating petition for the post by the Feb. 6 deadline.

Had there been no write-in votes, a special election would have been required.

Mrs. E. Anne Belser was re-elected to the library board without opposition. She received 332 votes.

NEW TRUSTEES: James K. Finch (left) and Fred Harris assumed their seats on the village board of trustees (council) a week ago Tuesday night after taking their oaths of office. Finch and Harris were winners in the March 12 village election, along with incumbent Joseph M. Merkel. Leaving the council were Loren Kretzer and Jeanene Riemenachneider.

SCHOOL BUS IN ACCIDENT: This Chelsea school bus went off Cavanaugh Lake Rd. and into a ditch after a collision with an automobile early last Wednesday morning. It was snowing and the road was slippery at the time. The bus was uncoupled except for the driver. There were no injuries.

Thursday, April 3, 1980—

Chelsea school district will be forced to slash its budget by more than $470,000 if the proposed 2.2 mill operating tax increase is defeated at the April 23 election, board of education members say. The board spent 5½ hours determining cost cuts which would be spread pretty much across the spectrum of school programs.

Area townships are projecting 18-20 percent budget increases to keep pace with inflation. Lima, Lyndon, Sylvan, Dexter, Freedom and Webster townships held their annual meetings last week and gave the bad tax news to residents.

A committee of Lima township residents plans to clean up the Porter Cemetery at Sager and Fletcher Rds., and is seeking volunteers to help with the work. The cemetery was founded in 1839. It is overgrown with brush and weeds which the group plans to clear and haul away.

Chelsea Jaycees will sponsor their annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday on the high school athletic field.

Five Chelsea teachers are enrolled in a special sign language course designed to help them communicate better with students who are deaf or non-verbal.

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, April 2, 1970—

A spot on Chelsea-Dexter Rd., just east of Freer Rd., apparently is a favorite crossing for deer this spring. Three car-deer collisions were recorded in two days, all within a few feet of each other.

Chelsea Jaycees have embarked on a survey to determine what village residents like and don't like about their town. Cub Scouts are distributing questionnaires to all homes in the village, and Jaycee members plan to interview 25-30 percent of the population personally. Results will be used to develop community service and improvement projects by the Jaycees and other organizations.

Chelsea Civitan Club will sponsor an amateur talent show May 23 in the high school auditorium. The show is open to all persons who feel they have some sort of talent worth displaying in public. Chelsea Scholarship Committee is seeking funds for more scholarships so local high school graduates may be helped to further their education. High school alumni will be special targets of the campaign.

Ron Herrst and Rod Powers from Chelsea were among 24 winners of "Outstanding State Farmer" awards announced at the Future Farmers of America state convention in East Lansing last week.

Members of three local Boy Scout troops will participate in a clean-up of trash along area roads Saturday. The littering problem is worse than ever, officials say.

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, March 31, 1960—

Old-time bathing suits were a surprise feature of the Chelsea Child Study Club's annual fashion show. The event was attended by 350 persons.

Next Monday will be "family night" in the Chelsea elementary schools. Children at both North and South schools will be sent home at noon so teachers and room mothers will have time to prepare for the evening event, to which all parents and their children are invited.

Approximately $400 was stolen from the self-serve laundry on W. Middle St. by thieves who broke into two coin machines. The laundry is open 24 hours a day and brightly lit at all times, investigating police officers said. Tickets are reported sold out for Chelsea's upcoming minstrel show April 21-23.

Recreation Fund May Be Protected By Constitution

A Republican senator and Democratic representative said they are optimistic the Legislature will approve by the summer recess a proposed constitutional amendment restructuring the Krammer Recreation Trust Fund and protecting it from raids by the general fund.

The amendment, supported by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Michigan Environmental Council, Michigan Parks and Recreation Association and the Department of Natural Resources, would go on the November ballot.

Representative Jerry Bartnik (D-Temperance), sponsor of the proposal, said unless the Legislature does something this year, the trust fund will be depleted.

The fund was established as a repository for state oil and gas royalties which were to be used to buy recreational and public use land, but it was tapped by a strained general fund during the recession and now contains about $4 million.

Senator Paul Henry (R-Grand Rapids), who had a proposal of his own and helped write a substitute that will be under consideration, said the Legislature and governor have in the past shown themselves to be unwilling and unable to adhere to the principle of the word "trust" the fund represents.

The proposal would continue to place royalties into the fund, up to a total of $150 million, and permits expenditures of the interest and one third of the prior year's deposited principal to be used to acquire land or develop recreation facilities.

The current fund is only for land acquisition, not for development of facilities and under the new proposal, not more than 75 percent of each year's expenditures could be used on just one of those options.

Expenditures could be made directly by the state or through grants to local governments.

The maximum $150 million cap would be adjusted to reflect inflation. Bartnik said he expects the cap to be reached in a little over 20 years.

Bonding for Solid Waste Disposal
 Rep. Michael Griffin (D-Jackson) has proposed a $300 million bond issue for solid waste disposal facilities.

Griffin said the bond issue, which would be placed on the November ballot, would enable the state to take positive action to deal with the growing problem of solid waste disposal, he said.

Under the legislation proposing the bonding, the issue would be used to finance resource recovery alternatives to landfills, including the promotion of solid waste reduction, the establishing of recycling and composting programs and transfer stations and the development of solid waste incineration or energy recovery facilities.

"We can no longer rely on the landfill approach. The day of the landfill is running out. There is simply too much solid waste. It has come down to a basic matter of protecting our environment," Griffin said.

Federal Funds Earmarked For Recreation

Chelsea's 1984-85 federal revenue sharing grant of $27,287 will be spent on parks and recreation, the village council decided last week.

A public hearing brought out no testimony for or against the proposal put forward by administrator Frederick Weber.

The $27,287 grant will be augmented by anticipated earned interest of $1,000 and a left-over balance of $1,700, bringing the total available to $29,987.

Weber suggested that $22,300 be allocated to the parks and recreation department for repairs and maintenance, and $6,500 be allotted to the Recreation Council. Another $350 would be spent for an audit, leaving a projected end-of-the-year balance of $817.

The six council members present unanimously approved the proposed expenditures.

Resident Seeks Village Payment For Sewer Mess

Adam Hartman of 417 Railroad St. is seeking payment from the village for damage caused to his dwelling by a sewer back-up which occurred March 3.

Hartman told the village council that the overflow from a blocked sewer line ruined $1,400 worth of carpeting in the basement of his home, where he maintains an office.

Council president Jerry Satterthwaite appointed trustees Herman Radloff and James Finch as a special committee to investigate the matter and make a recommendation to the full council.

Charles Hafner, village superintendent of public works, confirmed that the sewer did indeed become plugged and caused an overflow into the Hartman home.

Staffan-Mitchell FUNERAL HOME

A GOOD REASON TO PRE-PLAN.

We have on occasion, suggested some of the most important reasons for pre-planning a funeral:

1. To alleviate the burden which falls on your family.
2. To insure that your wishes will be followed exactly.
3. To avoid the risk of wasteful, unnecessary over-spending.

But there is another, very important reason for pre-planning a funeral—one which affects a great many persons.

Not everyone has "family" in town. We are a nation of travelers. And, although long-distance, out-of-town funeral arrangements are not uncommon, they tend to be more costly.

If you do not have "kin" close by, it may be a good idea to consider a pre-planned or pre-paid funeral now.

Many states have strict laws concerning pre-paid funeral services and burial expenses. We know what all is involved and can handle the details for you. We'd be glad to discuss them with you.

Taxpayers Taking Earned Income Credit Must File Income Tax Return, IRS Says

Taxpayers eligible for the Earned Income Credit (EIC) must file a federal income tax return to claim it, the Internal Revenue Service says.

To be eligible for the EIC, taxpayers must have earned income of less than $10,000 and they must have one or more children living with them for the entire year.

The credit can be as much as $600 annually and is based on a percentage of the taxpayer's earned income. Taxpayers who qualify must file a Form 1040A or Form 1040 even if they're not otherwise required to file an income tax return. Those who file as single or married filing separately are not eligible for the credit.

More information on the EIC can be found in free IRS Publication 596, "Earned Income Credit," available from local IRS offices.

Olivet Nazarene Chorus To Sing at Free Methodist

The Viking Male Chorus
Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill. will be appearing in concert at Chelsea Free Methodist church on Sunday, April 1, at 11 a.m. according to the Rev. Mearl
Bradley, pastor.
He said that the Vikings are a favorite of audiences wherever they appear with their varied program of choral music designed to appeal to every taste. They combine the traditionally popular sound of men's voices with the highest standards of musicianship, creating a listening experience which is truly unique, he commented.

The 27-member ensemble is carefully selected by audition from the students of Olivet Nazarene College, and represents the full range of academic majors and interests.

Mark Smith, son of Ruth and Wally Smith of 12845 Dexter
Chelsea Rd., a student at Olivet Nazareth Choir, is a member of the chorus.

The Vikings are in regular demand for concerts, church services, service clubs, conventions, and television appearances.
They participated in the Inaugural Activities during the inauguration of President Jimmy Carter. The 1977-78 concert season included appearances in Nassau in the Bahamas, and at Walt Disney World, Fla.

Conductor of the group is Joe
M. Noble, who holds a bachelor's degree from Luther College, Decorah, Ia., and holds a master's degree from the University of Iowa. He has completed all work and prelims for a doctoral degree from the University of Iowa.

Joni Eareckson Featured in Film at Free Methodist

"Blessings Out of Brokenness," a four-part film series featuring Joni Eareckson Tada will be presented on four separate occasions at Chelsea
Free Methodist church, 7665 Werkner Rd. The series will begin on Wednesday, April 4, and run every Wednesday, beginning at 7 p.m. The last film in the series will be presented on Wednesday, April 25. The films are open to the public, and there is no admission charge.
Joni Eareckson Tada is well-known to the public as a best-selling author, a recording artist, an accomplished illustrator, as well as an actress.
At the age of 17 Joni was the victim of a tragic diving accident which left her paralyzed from the neck down. Her struggles with quadriplegia and depression were chronicled in the book, JONI, which sold more than four million copies.

Pastor Mearl Bradley stressed that the public is invited to attend the entire series.

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH

Back-saving exercises from your chiropractor

Nobody deals as much with back problems as a chiropractor. So it's quite logical that nobody can recommend better exercises to prevent back problems. Here are a few.
A warning: don't over-do,
don't try to do too much;
just feel the stretch and quit when there's discomfort.

1. Lie face down on floor, arms above head. Raise from the waist up and hold it a moment. Go back to original position and repeat.
2. Get down on hands and knees. Arch back upwards, lower head. Now raise head and push back downward, like a sway back horse. Repeat.
3. Lie face down on the floor with a pillow under your chest. Raise head straight up with chin tucked under. Hold, then lower. Repeat.

DR. W. ATKINSON

4. Sit in chair. Slump forward, with the action taking place in the spinal column. Then slowly straighten up, starting with the lower back and gradually moving upward. Repeat.

These are just a few of the chiropractor-recommended exercises that will do a lot to eliminate back problems later on. They are especially good for those whose daily routine does not include sufficient movement of the spine. Practice them daily. Your back will really appreciate it.

CATHERINE McAULEY HEALTH CENTER

presents another SMOKE STOPPERS CLASS at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital

STOP SMOKING IN 5 DAYS.
No ifs, ands or butts!

No matter how many times you have tried to stop smoking before, this will be your last. Because our 5-day group program neutralizes your desire for tobacco...easily and painlessly. That's why The American Medical Association, Blue Cross/Blue Shield and other leading health care organizations have selected the Smoke Stoppers program for their employees. We don't use scare tactics or filters and devices to get you to stop smoking. Nor do you have to worry about weight gain or tension.

Five Days to Freedom

At the completion of the Smoke Stoppers program, you will find that you are once again your own person. You will be completely free from the need to smoke. And all it takes is five days...seven informative hours...and the first session is free.

Free Explanatory Session

Monday, April 2, 7-8 p.m. or Tuesday, April 3, 7-8 p.m.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Education Center

Come to this session and bring your cigarettes. In 5 days, you won't need them any more - no ifs, ands or butts! St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is sponsoring this highly successful program for the general public and hospital staff. If additional information is needed please call: 1-572-3675.

Smoke Stoppers

THE PROVEN WAY TO STOP SMOKING

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

A new village president and two new trustees were sworn in and took their seats at last week's village council meeting. A third trustee will shortly be appointed to fill a vacancy left when Jerry Satterthwaite moved up to the presidency.

I don't envy either the newcomers or the hold-overs. They face some tough decisions during the next couple of years. They are not going to win any popularity contests.

Last week in this column I wrote about the apparent lack of citizen interest in local government, as measured by the turnout at the polls. You can't ignore figures. Fewer than one in five eligible voters cast ballots, and I suggest that is sad and shameful. You can argue from the statistic that village residents will have no right to complain or criticize, no matter what their elected officials do during the next 24 months. A mass display of disinterest can be interpreted as a mandate to go ahead and do what you please.

I'm not kidding myself, however, and I'm sure the president and council members aren't either. They are going to get flak, and much—maybe most—of it will come from people who couldn't be bothered to take the time and trouble to vote two weeks ago. That is a statistical certainty, given the 17 percent showing at the ballot box.

The "new" village council had been in session only a few minutes a week ago Tuesday night when someone in the audience asked about the status of police chief Robert Acillo and what did the council intend to do about it.

For the record, I have no idea whether or not the person who raised the question had voted on March 13. I didn't ask her, and it really doesn't matter. What does matter is that the question was asked and that village officials are going to have to come up with some answers, which they didn't have at the time. Right now the police department is in a state of limbo. Whatever is done eventually, I guarantee it won't satisfy everybody.

That, incidentally, is all I intend to say editorially on that subject until Acillo's court case is decided.

As this was written, publisher Walt Leonard had in hand an angry letter to the editor protesting new rates to be charged at Chelsea's sanitary landfill beginning April 1. My guess is that it is the first of many. Most people will not be prompted to protest until they drive up to the landfill gate and are asked to dig into their pocketbooks and pay for a formerly "free" service. It never was "free," of course, but the charges used to be hidden in general property tax bills. Nothing government does is free, a lesson some people never seem to learn.

I don't intend to get into the merits of direct versus indirect charges for government services, except to say that it's not a bad idea to let taxpayers know exactly how much they are paying for what. If the true costs were generally known, cheaper ways of doing things might be found.

That is not to say the new landfill rates are unjustified. I suspect they closely reflect projected actual operating costs. I also suspect people are going to be shocked out of their shoes by the new fees. That shock could hasten the advent of recycling technology which has the potential to make solid waste handling a profitable enterprise rather than a burdensome nuisance.

The village is under the gun to do something about expanding and upgrading its sewage treatment plant no later than 1988. As long village officials put it last week, "We've been wrestling with this problem for more than 10 years, and it seems like 40." Whatever is finally done will cost money—big money—and it will have to be started well before 1988 to meet the state-imposed deadline for completion.

Chelsea may or may not get a state or federal grant to help finance the project, but the local cost will be considerable in any case. That means higher water and sewer rates are inevitable somewhere down the road, and this council may well have to put them in place. It's not a "fun" prospect for elected officials.

Tied into the sewage plant project is a bundle of other needs. Much of the antiquated underground village sewer system urgently requires replacement. So does much of the water main system. There is an horrendous amount of leakage in both, according to engineering studies.

Development of the Sibley Rd. industrial park hinges in large part on whether adequate water and sewer services can be furnished. Don't be at all surprised if the state denies permits on grounds that existing systems can't handle the extra load. There definitely can't be any significant growth in the commercial district south of Old US-12 until steps are taken to boost water flow and pressure, and to carry away the wastewater.

That is an off-the-top-of-the-head summary of urgent problems which the village president and the council will have to confront fairly soon. I'm sure there are others that I haven't thought of, and still more that will arise which nobody else has thought of yet.

All have one common denominator: they will cost money to solve. That money will be paid from general taxes and/or direct service charges because there are no other sources barring some radical changes in the way government conducts its business. Maybe you should have voted on March 13.

Pharmacists Will Fight Drug Abuse

Recognizing the seriousness of the drug abuse problem, the Michigan Pharmacists Association, with the co-operation of McNeil Pharmaceutical, has developed the "Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse (PADA)" campaign. Pharmacists across the state are preparing to alert children and adults on the dangers of drug abuse and increase their awareness of the hazards of casual drug use.

Recent studies show that the average age of children getting into drugs and alcohol has now dropped to 11.6 years, which represents sixth and seventh graders. Never before have so many young people used marijuana, alcohol and other psychoactive substances on such a mass scale. With more than one-third of all our young people in America using legal and illegal drugs, we have a severe epidemic on our hands.

The problem of drug abuse extends farther than we might realize. There can be no doubt that drug dependence has a profound effect on the high crime rate in this country. Some reports cite that drug crimes may account for nearly 80 percent of the total crime rate in this country.

The Michigan Pharmacists Association is preparing pharmacists to provide educational programs on the dangers of drug abuse to school and community groups. A free informational brochure, "The Kinds of Drugs Kids Are Getting Into," will be available from community pharmacies throughout the state.

Pharmacists are natural vehicles to promote drug abuse awareness. They are easily accessible and familiar figures in the community. Pharmacists, by academic training and professional expertise, are experts on drugs and their effects on people. Most importantly, pharmacists are among the most trusted professionals in our society. According to a 1983 Gallup Poll of the professions, pharmacists were ranked second only to the clergy for having the highest standards of honesty and ethics.

The PADA program, however, is more than just pharmacists against drug abuse. Gov. James J. Blanchard is supporting the PADA campaign by serving as the honorary chairman of the state-wide committee. Several other state officials and state-wide educational and substance abuse organizations have also endorsed the PADA campaign. It is pharmacists, parents, teachers and community leaders working together to fight the problem.

In addition to the pharmacy components, a comprehensive television, radio and print public service campaign will be directing the public to their local pharmacy for drug abuse information.

The Michigan PADA cochairpersons are Jane Marttila, manager, State Vitamin Prescriptions, Inc., East Lansing, and Robert Milewski, director of pharmacy, Children's Hospital of Detroit. The state-wide launch date is May 1.

Home Landscaping Workshop Offered

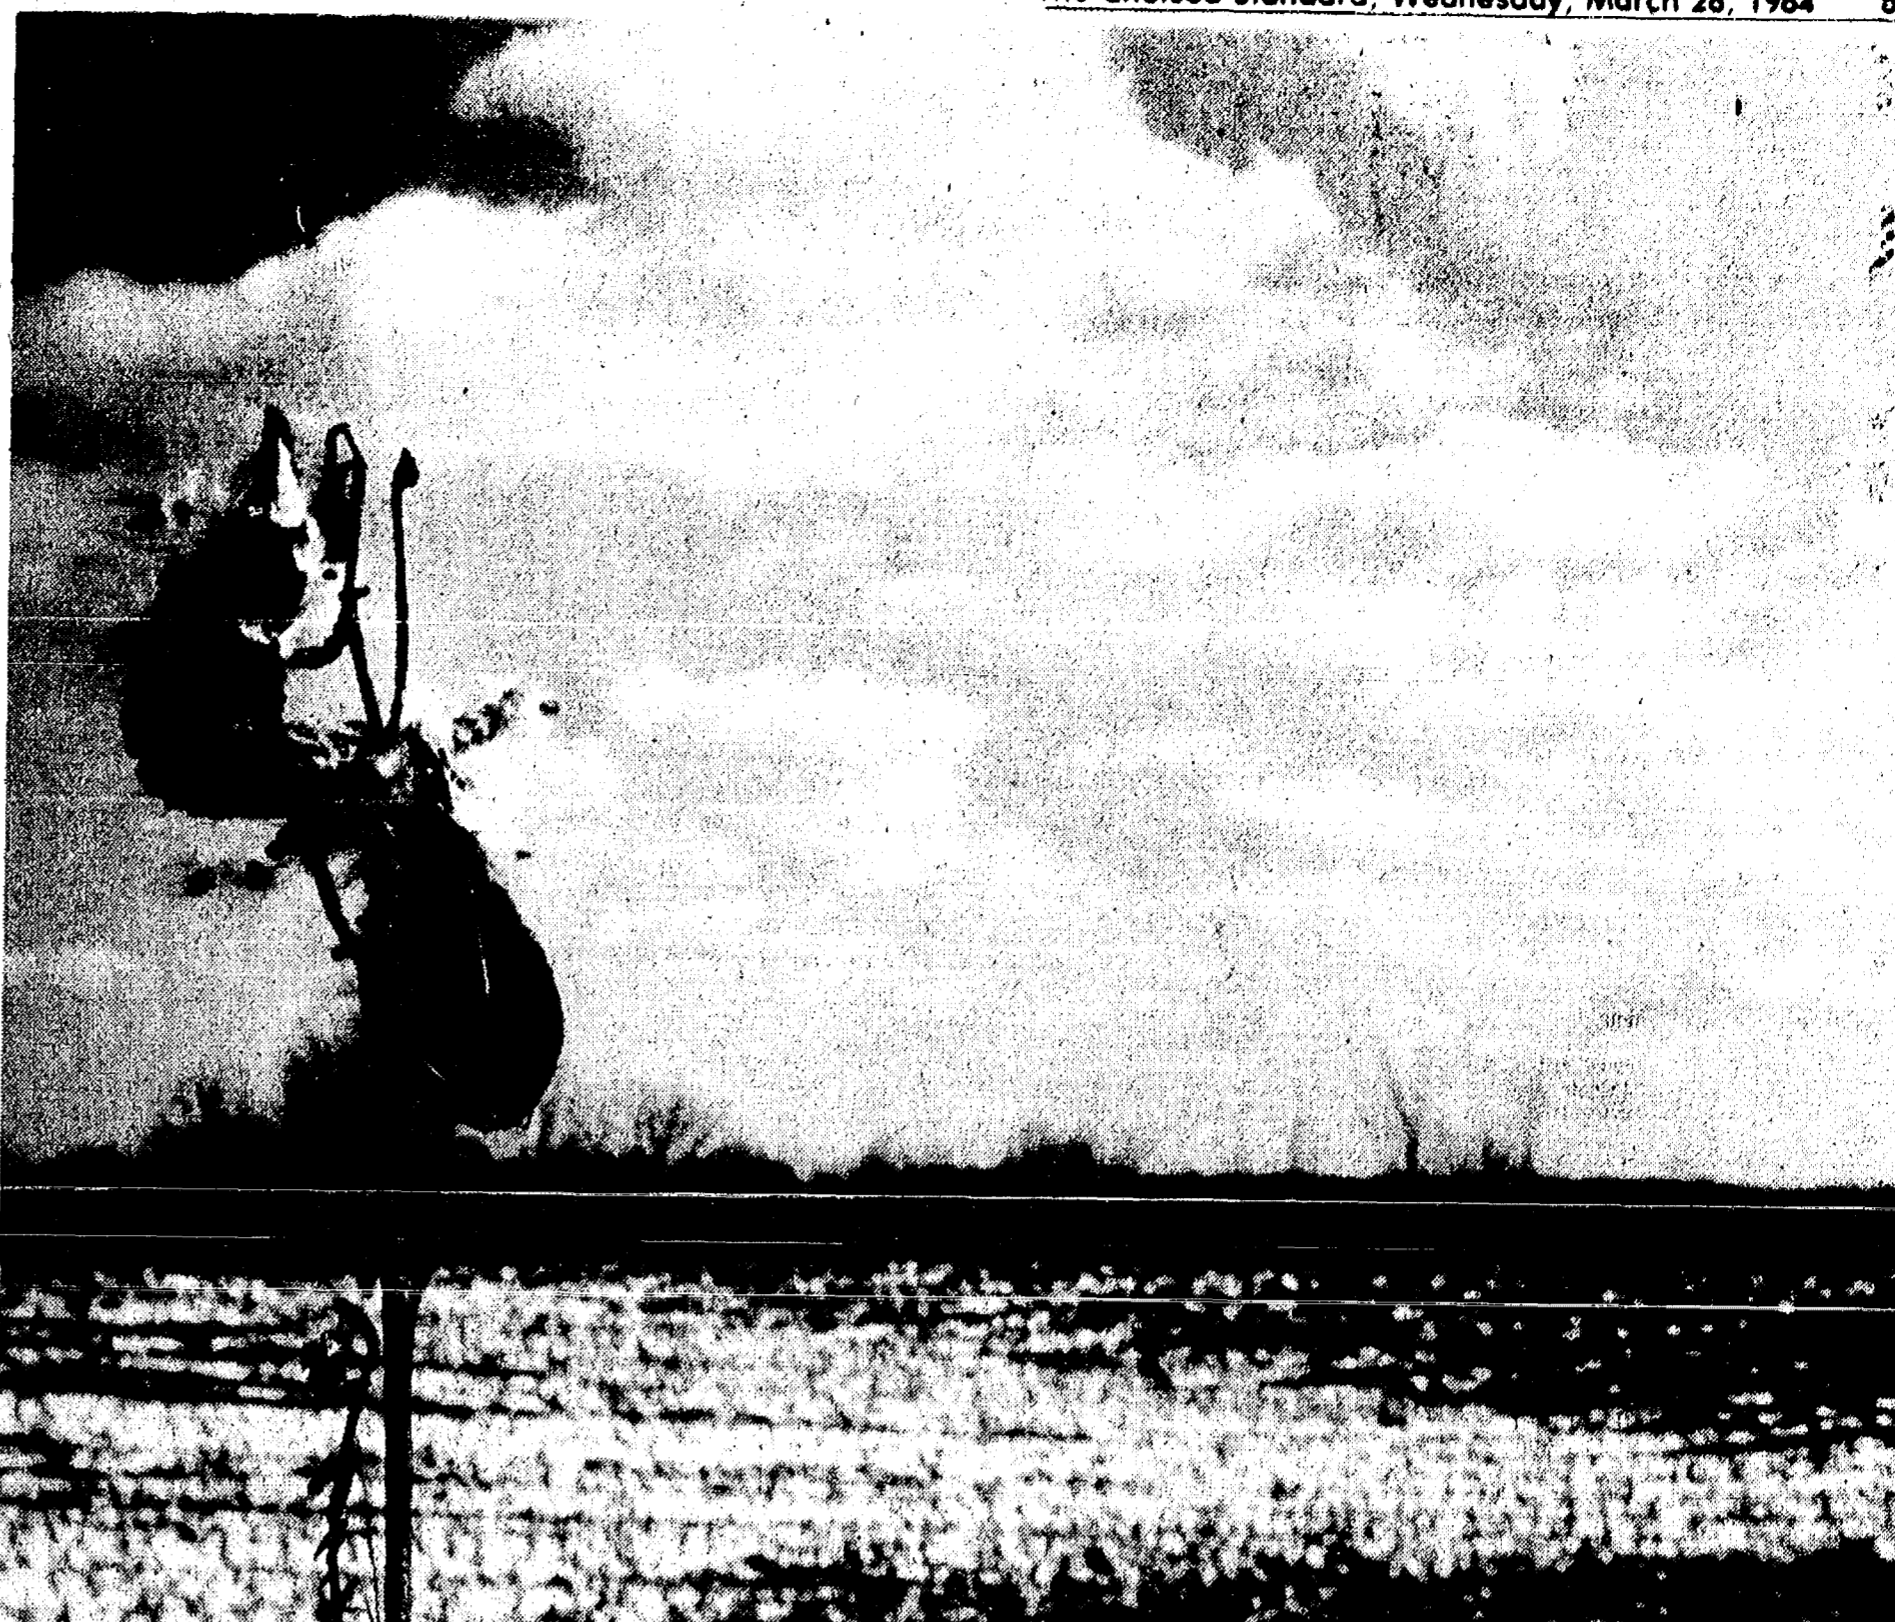

Did the record cold weather and winds this winter cause your heat bills to set record highs too? And even as you sat shivering in your house did the landscaping around your home depress you with its unimaginative appearance?

"Landscaping Your Home," co-sponsored by the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service and the Friends of Matthaei will help you find solutions to both of these problems as well as many others.

Betty Frenkel, garden columnist for the Detroit Free Press and a landscape architect will conduct the one-day program on residential landscaping. She will discuss using plants to modify the environment and solar heat control. Frenkel will present helpful hints on how to use plants to enhance the appearance of your home. She will also discuss commonly available plants, detailing their assets and drawbacks.

"Landscaping Your Home" will meet on Saturday, April 14, at Matthaei Botanical Gardens on Dixboro Rd. It will run from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be an hour break for lunch and you are encouraged to bring a sack lunch. The fee is $5 per person, payable at the door. Please pre-register at 973-9510.

In the fourth quarter of 1983, the median earnings of white men were $402 a week, compared with $314 for blacks, and $277 for Hispanics. Differences were much smaller among women, with the medians for whites, blacks, and Hispanics at $284, $239, and $222, respectively, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor.

OH SPRING WHERE IS THY THING? Spring officially arrived a week ago Tuesday, but you never would have known it by the looks of things outside during the next several days. It rained, snowed, blew and turned cold by turns during the first few days of the supposedly balmy vernal season. This left-over milkweed from last fall was casting seeds onto a snow-covered field when photographer Steve Worley snapped this picture one morning last week.

Council Rules Against Stretching Zoning Law

If you want to house two families on a property zoned RS-3 residential, you must have both residences under the same roof, the village council ruled last week.

Cynthia Snyder on MSU Honors List

Cynthia Snyder, daughter of Thomas and Claudette Snyder, Waterloo Rd., Chelsea, was cited for a 3.5 grade point average and is on the Dean's List at Michigan State University school of landscape architecture for the fall term. She is a junior at MSU this year and graduated from Chelsea High School in 1981.

James Judson of 17830 Garvey Rd. asked for the decision in connection with a property at 313 E. Middle St. which he indicated he might buy if he could put an apartment in a barn located behind the house on the site.

The RS-3 zoning language permits two-family occupancy but does not state specifically whether the two dwellings must be in the same building. Judson asked the council for a ruling on that point before he went ahead and bought the property.

Council asked the Planning Commission for advice, and the commission recommended that the zoning law be interpreted to mean that a second residential unit cannot be located in a separate building even though it is on the same lot. After some discussion, the six council members present decided unanimously to accept the planning commission's interpretation. Judson listened to the verdict and left without indicating whether or not he would buy the property.

J. Gary To Present Benefit for Hospital

Singer John Gary, known for over two decades as an entertainer par excellence, is coming to the Michigan Theater in Ann Arbor, Saturday, May 26, 8 p.m. to give a benefit performance for the Chelsea Community Hospital Substance Abuse Program.

Gary has played engagements across the country from the New Orleans Summer Pop Series, to the St. Louis Symphony, the Milwaukee Symphony, in fact he has performed with virtually every symphony orchestra today.

His career began in 1962 with a contract with RCA records. From there his career has grown along with his following. Gary recorded a performance at Carnegie Hall and is famous for his recordings of Irish songs. He has appeal which is as varied as his talents. A singer-actor-entertainer, Gary is also a poet, sculptor and sportsman in archery and tennis.

Chelsea Community Hospital and the Kresge Alumni Association will co-sponsor the benefit performance by noted baritone, Gary. Proceeds from the event will be used to start a fund to help individuals with limited financial resources receive treatment for chemical dependence.

Chelsea Community Hospital, a private, non-profit health care institution, has been treating individuals with chemical dependence in its Substance Abuse Program since 1974.

The John Gary concert for the Benefit of Chelsea Community Hospital and the Kresge Alumni Association will add greatly to the Hospital's ability to serve the chemically dependent population of Washtenaw and neighboring counties.

For further information or tickets call, Chelsea Community Hospital at 475-1311, Ext. 215 or the Michigan Theater.

Area Dance Marathon To Benefit Heart Assoc.

Dancers from Stockbridge and surrounding areas will participate in "Dance for Heart," a three-hour exercise dance marathon, on Saturday, April 14, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Stockbridge High school gym. The event, which is sponsored by Stockbridge Community Education, will benefit the American Heart Association.

Dance students throughout the area will be soliciting sponsors to pledge whatever they can for every minute of exercise dancing they are able to finish during the "Dance for Heart" event. Proceeds from the event will be donated to the American Heart Association to be used to fund AHA cardiovascular research, professional education and community programs.

Local "Dance for Heart" coordinator, Karen Keiser, said that the "Dance for Heart" marathon is part of a nation-wide effort by exercise dancers and students who participate in any form of exercise dancing to raise money to fight heart disease and stroke, the nation's number one killer.

"One of every two deaths in America is caused by heart disease or stroke," said Keiser, and we want to fight cardiovascular disease not only by raising money for research and education, but to show the people by example that exercise dance is fun and helps promote cardiovascular fitness."

This is the first year of "Dance for Heart" marathon. Thousands of dancers are participating nation-wide. Anyone interested in supporting "Dance for Heart" may call Karen Keiser, days, Chelsea Pharmacy (313) 475-9103; or Janice Watkins, Stockbridge High school evenings (517) 851-7965.

CREW PERSON of the Month

Suzanne Wheeler, We're Proud You're One of Us!

Our March honorary crew person is Suzanne Wheeler, an 18 year old Grass Lake resident. Suzanne has worked for McDonald's for 2 years and has recently been promoted to crew chief. She has shown excellence in all areas of service and customer handling.

As a high school senior, she is the vice-president for her class as well as student council secretary. Suzanne is involved in cross country and volleyball, and was also this year's homecoming queen. In the fall she plans to attend Jackson Community College, part-time, and continue working also.

We're happy to reward her accomplishments with a $50 U. S. Savings Bond. Thank you for your service, Suzanne, we're glad you're part of the crew.

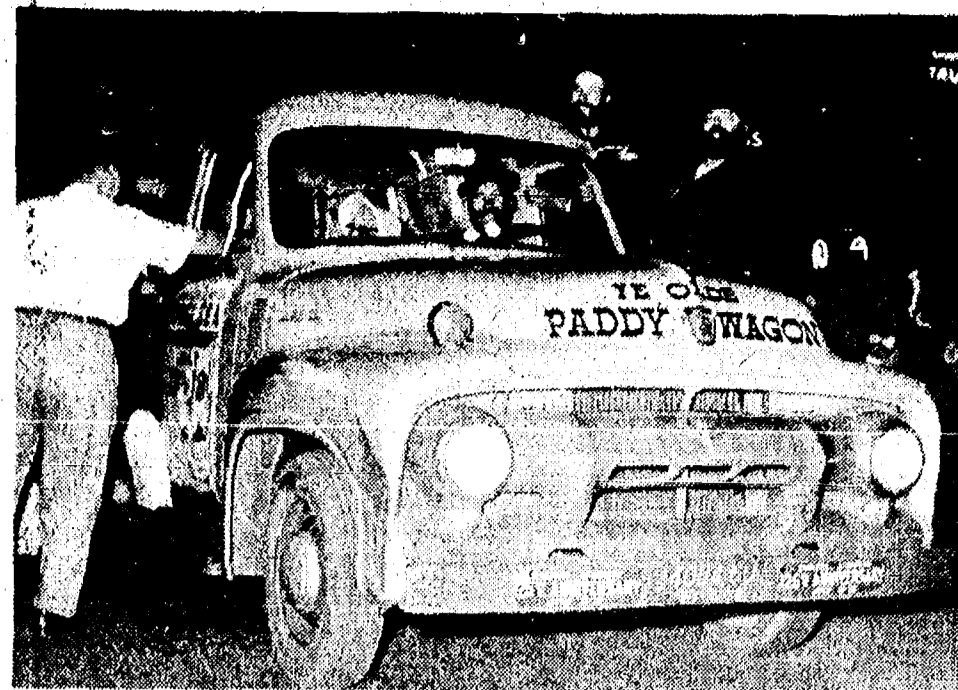

You deserve a break today®

Chelsea SESQUICENTENNIAL

KEYSTONE KOPS of 1959 will be operating again this year in much the same manner as they did during Chelsea's 125th celebration.

Saturday Parade Starts Celebration

Chelsea will begin the 150th Birthday Celebration this Saturday, March 31, with a kick-off parade. The end results will be the Burial of Mr. "Ray Zor" at the McKune Memorial Library.

Parade line-up will begin at 1:30 on Harrison and East Sts., under the direction of the Chelsea Fire Department.

Brothers of the Brush and the Chelsea Belles are asked to dress for the occasion and show proper respect at the solemn (?) event. All of Chelsea is encouraged to participate. More than 70 Brothers and Belles Chapters have been formed thus far and more are being added daily. If you haven't joined a chapter, there is still plenty of time. Contact an area chairman (list in last week's Standard) or Merritt Honbaum at 475-2862.

Keystone Kops will be showing up on the streets of Chelsea to check those men who do not have some type of facial hair, be it mustache, sideburns, goatee or "full beard." You must have a "Clean Shavers" badge in order to escape the wrath of this crazy crew of Kops if you are unwilling (or, heaven forbid, unable) to show any growth. "Clean Shavers" badges are available at Sheridan Springer's office on Park St.

OBITUARY

Mr. Ray Zor

Chelsea's Oldest Son Was Born in Kedron
Mr. "Ray Zor," 150 years, passed away at the Chelsea Lumber Co., Chelsea. He was born in Kedron, Mich. on April 7, 1834, son of Steel and Faithful. He was married on Sept. 7, 1864 to Prudence Lather in Pierceville, Mich.

Mr. "Ray Zor" attended the first country school in Sylvan township, "The Red School," which was established on June 14, 1834. On Aug. 6, 1953 the "Red School" was purchased by the Chelsea Community Fair and was relocated at the Fairgrounds and used as a restaurant. Mr. "Ray Zor" then attended the Chelsea School District, later known as the Chelsea Agricultural Rural School District. It is presently known as the Chelsea School District. With his high aptitude and razor sharp mind, he attended the School of Hairtology at the University of Michigan. (Even in his early childhood, he liked to hide in the bushes.)

Mr. "Ray Zor" is survived by his widow, Prudence Lather. His sons, Schick, Gillette, Norelco, and Remington; his daughters, Daisy and Flicker; and a cousin, Mr. Ray Zor Blade.

Services will be held March 31, at 2 p.m. Interment will be at the McKune Memorial Library with John Mitchell and Charles Cameron presiding.

Military honors will be provided by the American Legion Herbert McKune Post and VFW Post 4076. Pallbearers will be the Treated Studs from the Chelsea Lumber Co.

Expressions of sympathy may be offered to the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Committee in Mr. "Ray Zor's" name.

Brewery Belles Issue Challenge

We, the ladies of the renowned Brewery Belles Chapter, are announcing our premier Challenge. We have chosen the Salmagundy Girls and the Waterloo Lillies as our first victims.

The Challenge will commence March 31 at Pierce Park, directly following the Sesquicentennial raffle drawing at McKune Library. The festivities will include an egg toss, a three-legged race and a sack race.

We hope the Waterloo Lillies and the Salmagundy Girls will come out and show their Sesquicentennial spirit. The Challenge will be held with the weather permitting.

—The Brewery Belles.

Tree Seedling Sale Order Deadline Near

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District reminds county residents that April 9 is the last day orders for tree and shrub seedlings will be accepted for the District's annual spring tree sale.

Limited quantities of the following tree and shrub seedlings and ground cover are still available: Austrian Pine, Red Pine, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, Colorado Blue Spruce, Douglas Fir, Black Walnut tree seedlings; Tartarian Honeysuckle and Silky Dogwood shrub seedlings; and Emerald Crownvetch seed. Also available are Wildlife Packets suitable for wildlife food and cover. These packets have an assortment of 30 evergreens and 20 shrub seedlings, which may include: White Pine, Red Pine, White Spruce, Mountain Ash, Autumn Olive and Honeysuckle.

All seedlings offered are available on a first-come, first-serve basis, while quantities last. For further information and to obtain an order form, contact the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Telephone: (313) 761-6721.

Between the fourth quarters of 1982 and the same period in 1983, families with earnings exclusively from wages and salaries rose by nearly 300,000 to about 41 million (two-thirds of all families in the nation), and the number with two or more earners increased by over a million to 21.9 million, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Sesqui Ticket Sale Reported as Going 'Extremely Well'

The Jaycee sponsored ticket sale to promote the Sesquicentennial has been going extremely well. The drawing will take place March 31, at the McKune Memorial Library after the Burial of Mr. "Ray Zor."

Tickets and monies are to be turned in to Gloria Mitchell, 124 Park St., Joe Merkel at the Wolverine Lounge or Nadine Koch at Citizens Trust.

At this time, the Sesquicentennial Committee would like to extend a big thank-you to all the businesses, organizations and individuals who have participated in this fund raiser. We couldn't have done it without you! It's your party, Chelsea and it will be a great success.

The Salmagundy Girl

A Salmagundy Girl, With her hair done in Curl. Said to a Brewery Belle, Dear Lady—Do tell.

Let's put aside the chatter, And get down to a serious matter. Please don't look so bleak, When we talk of Lett's Creek.

The Belle answered with a cry, For she knew she would rather die Than to move along the creek in float, While the Salmagundy Girls would gloat.

A challenge has been made, The Belles are afraid. The Girl said—You can bet, The Belles will get all wet.

The Salmagundy Girl Said—Let's give it a whirl. Replied the Brewery Belle, Oh dear; what the h---!

NOTE: The Salmagundy Girls will challenge the Brewery Belles to an innertube race down Lett's Creek as soon as weather permits.

Philip Bareis reported to the Washington Senators baseball team for spring training in Fernandina Beach, Fla. He was recently graduated from Western Michigan University.

A total of 73,831 motor vehicles has been registered in Washtenaw county, an increase of 11 percent over a year ago, according to secretary of state James M. Hare, who credited the rise to improved automobile sales during 1983.

Fifty-five local girls have completed a training course in babysitting sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycee Auxillary.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, March 30, 1950—Washtenaw county voters will go to the polls next Monday to decide whether a new courthouse should be built on the present site in downtown Ann Arbor. The proposed building would cost $2,600,000, to be paid from a 20-year, 1.25-mill special property tax levy.

Conservation Officer Donley W. Boyer reminded local residents they must secure permits for any kind of outdoor fire, except for domestic purposes, once the ground is snow-free. Even with a permit, burners are responsible to keep fires under close control.

County gravel roads were reported generally impassable following what Road Commission engineer-manager Ken Hallenbeck called an unusually fast thaw of deep frost. The roads are "seas of mud," Hallenbeck said, and nothing can be done until they dry out.

Motorists are once again warned they must stay at least 500 feet behind fire trucks which are responding to an alarm. Following fire equipment is a popular pastime among some local residents.

The women's restroom in the Chelsea Municipal Building has been badly defaced with scribbled names and drawings, officials said, adding that the damage is much worse than in the men's facility.

A large quantity of merchandise was stolen from the North Lake Store last Friday night by thieves who broke in through a basement window and systematically looted the building.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, March 19, were Schumann, Heller, Dils, Grau, Feeney, Comeau, Redding, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcicki, assistant principal Vogel, community education director Rogers, guests.

Meeting called to order at 7:30 p.m. by president Dale Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the March 5 meeting.

President Schumann presented certificates of recognition to Ted Wilson and Pete Hanna. Wilson, a member of the Athletic Boosters, has rendered many years of service to the Athletic Department, including announcing at the football and basketball games. Pete Hanna, a high school student, was recently named 98-pound Class "B" state wrestling champion. It has been nine years since Chelsea had an individual state wrestling champion.

The board received several communication items. Two district residents spoke of their appreciation for the recent "See for Yourself" tour, and extended praise to staff and students. Amy Wolter forwarded a letter of appreciation for her attendance at a Career Day in Detroit, especially the seminar on Strategies for Women. President Schumann received a letter from Chelsea Citizens Against Drugs (C.C.A.D.), informing the board of their goals, a speaker's bureau, and seeking encouragement from the board. The board has been notified that the arbitration hearing with the CEA has been scheduled for May 7, at 10 a.m. in Chelsea.

Superintendent Van Meer introduced the two external candidates for the Beach Middle school principalship—Don Bradley of the Carleton Airport Community schools, and Darco Stielstra, of the Perry schools. Both candidates made a brief presentation to the board.

Superintendent Van Meer updated the board on the progress of the Committee for Educational Excellence. At its last meeting, the committee reviewed the second phase of the elementary curriculum. The next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, March 27, will be a review of the middle school curriculum.

Community education director Rogers reported to the board on the concerns of the local pre-school nursery cooperatives, and the result of a recent meeting of the persons involved. The result of the recent meeting with the co-op nursery leadership was deemed a success. The Community Education brochure will acknowledge the Chelsea Co-op, North Lake Co-op, Hospital Day Care Center, in addition to the Chelsea School District pre-school programs. There are many options for parents with pre-school children.

Superintendent Van Meer presented a legislative update. He discussed the impact that the recent recalls have had on the legislators. He also apprised the board about the potential of an accelerated rollback of the income tax. The Legislature is also close to passing a bill which will insure that all students in all school districts will attend school for a minimum of 180 days. In the event schools are closed because of inclement weather or for other days of released time, a longer school year calendar will have to be effected or the days will have to be made up to insure the 180-day minimum.

Board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Principal Alan Conklin, effective June 30. Conklin has served the Chelsea School District as teacher, coach and principal for 32 years.

Board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Principal Sylvester Wojcicki, effective June 30. Sylvester has served the district in a principalship capacity for 20 years.

The board adopted the official resolution designating the annual school election to be held June 11. Two four-year terms (Ann Feeney and Lloyd Grau) will expire June 30. One two-year term—the unexpired term of former board member Dr. Daniel Snyder, who was replaced by the appointment of Joseph Redding—will expire June 30. Board of Education candidates must file petitions by 4 p.m., April 9.

The board approved an eighth-semester variance for a high school senior who moved out of state, so that he can receive his diploma from Chelsea High school. The student would be unable to meet graduation requirements in his present state of residence.

The board, on the basis of the annual evaluation of the superintendent, renewed the contract of Superintendent Van Meer for three years. The contract will run from July 1, 1984, through June 30, 1987.

Meeting adjourned at approximately 10:35 p.m.

ARTIST DALE FISHER is shown here with Limited Edition print titled "Mirage." The mysterious mangrove swamps of the Florida Keys revealed this dramatic moment as the almost extinct "keys" deer dashes in front of the probing lens of Fisher's skyborne camera. This and many other pieces of fine photography will be revealed for the first time in the New York International Art Expo, April 5-9, and again at the Dale Fisher Gallery Open House April 14, and 15 from noon until 5 p.m. at the Gallery.

Local Photographic Artist Gaining International Fame

By Cynthia Gonzales
Miami Free-Lance Writer

The genius of Dale Fisher, long recognized by friends, neighbors and regional patrons of the arts, is rapidly taking hold of the astute collectors on a nation-wide scale. Response coming in from as far away as Miami, Fla. (where Dale has been invited to lecture to the graduating students at the School of Photography, Miami-Dade Community College) to Washington D.C., where America's best known talk host (Mutual Network's Larry King) has invited Dale to join the ranks of some of the most important people in the world to be an honored guest on his nationally-broadcast, live radio show.

Dale will be a guest on the Larry King talk show from Washington, D.C., Monday, April 2 at midnight. The broadcast may be heard locally over radio station WAAM, Ann Arbor. "It looks as if my first attempt at showing in New York City, at the 1984 Art Expo is commanding a lot more attention than I thought," says the otherwise quietly reflective artist. And attention it is, as WNBC-TV in New York, WOR Radio and all of the major New York area publications are considering their coverage of the city's first introduction to the awakening interest in the complexities, perspectives and simple emotions evoked by the photographic artworks introduced from Fisher's skyborne camera.

"I will be having more time, now, to become more active any way since having sold my gallery to Shannon Culver last September. My presence will not be so frequently needed as previously was the case. Shannon will be the ever-present business end." Although under new ownership, Fisher revealed that his work will still be exclusively exhibited.

Village Council Briefs

The council voted to pay the Toledo, O., engineering firm of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout $1,864 for work done on the village wastewater treatment program from September, 1983, through January, 1984. Seventy-five percent of the cost was reimbursed by the federal government.

Retiring village president Jack Merkel was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Economic Development Corp. for a term expiring in 1988.

Council voted to defer until April 3 a decision on what to do about six utility easement leases for which Consolidated Rail Corp. (conrail) is demanding steeply increased payments. Conrail is asking $600 a year for leases that the village presently "rents" for $88. An alternative is to buy up the leases for $2,000 each, a total of $12,000.

A public hearing was scheduled April 3 on a request that a three-unit multiple dwelling be permitted on a lot in the 600 block of W. Middle St., in front of the Bushnell Apartments. The lot is a little less than 10,000 square feet in size, well short of the 15,000-foot minimum specified in the village zoning ordinance for three-family occupancy.

Wildlife Art Exhibit Slated This Weekend

The Loft Frame and Art Gallery, 107½ S. Main St., will put on its third annual Michigan wildlife art exhibit Saturday and Sunday at the Briarwood Sheraton University Hotel in Ann Arbor.

The show is billed as the largest of its kind in Michigan and will feature the works of 26 artists and wood carvers. All the exhibitors will be present to meet and talk with visitors and potential buyers.

More than 200 originals and limited edition prints will be offered for sale.

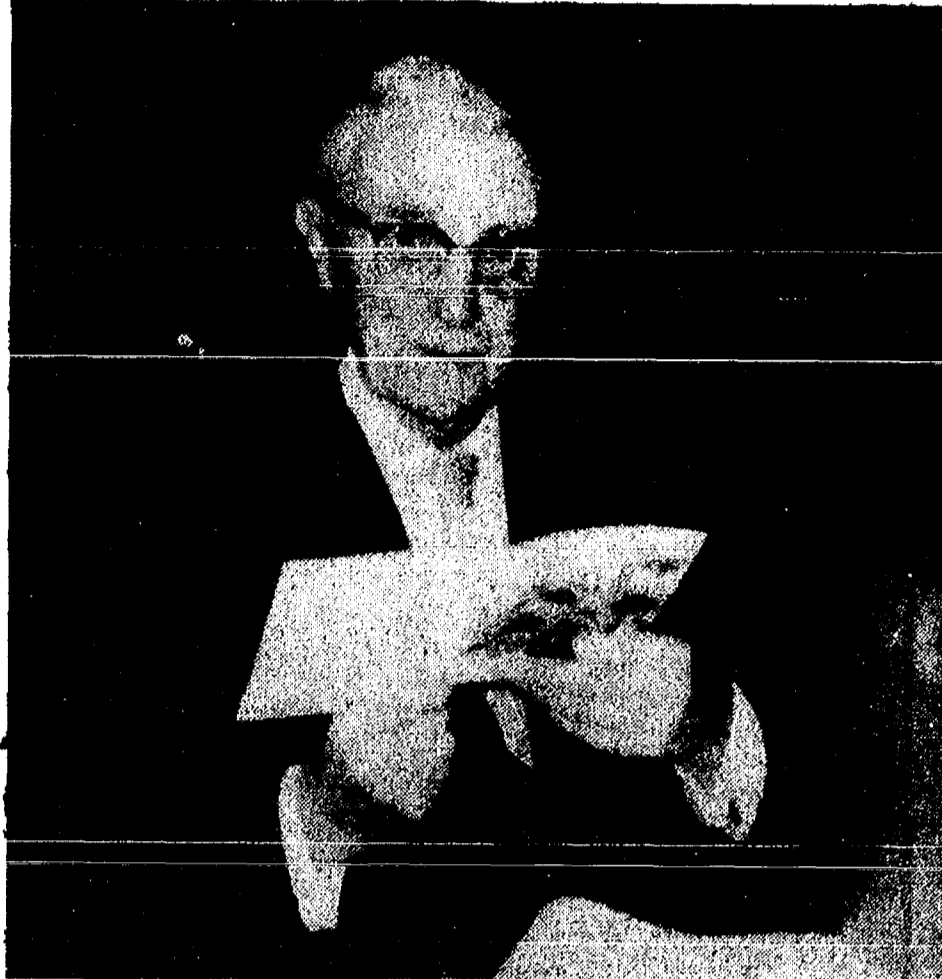

A special feature will be a display of a complete set of framed Michigan waterfowl stamps, along with several winning stamps from other states and the federal government.

A 20 percent discount will be offered on the 1984 Michigan waterfowl stamp, which will be judged in June.

The exhibit will be open to the public without charge. A framed limited edition print will be awarded as a door prize. Hours are 11 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Sunday.

Among the 25 artists and carvers whose works will be on display are Cathy McClung of Dexter and Harry Antis of Ann Arbor. Other well-known names in wildlife art circles include Dave Mohrhardt, Heiner Hertling, Rod Lawrence, Gilsbert van Frankenhuyzen and David Conklin.

NORRIS REITHMILLER

Norris Reithmiller Is Guest of Honor at 94th Birthday Party

Norris Reithmiller of 350 Clark St., Grass Lake, celebrated his 94th birthday at a gathering with relatives at Gilbert's in Jackson, Sunday, March 25.

This marked the 10th consecutive celebration at Gilbert's planned by his four children and their families, Lois and Calvin Clark, of Chelsea; Kenneth and Pat Reithmiller, Grass Lake; Clifford and Barbara Reithmiller, Napoleon; Phyllis and Randy Barnard, Grand Rapids. Phyllis and Randy Barnard, Grand Rapids.

Fourteen grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren were able to attend. A letter was read to all from a niece, Barbara Smith.

Reithmiller retired from Ford Motor Co., Manchester, in 1958. He is known by some friends as "Doc," because years ago he sold Watkins products locally.

At the age of 16, as the eldest of five children, he ran the Michael and Martha Reithmiller farm at 12328 Reithmiller Rd., when his father died.

Hunting and fishing are sports he enjoys. He has not bagged a deer or caught any fish to brag about in recent years, but hopes for better luck this year.

When asked what special plans he may have for the next 10 years he replied, "Take care of my home, and continue on as I am, if I live that long!" His family are already planning that 100th birthday reunion.

Natural Food Store Opening In Stockbridge

Many area residents, like millions of other Americans, are enjoying a new sense of vitality and well-being through simply taking better care of their own health. What's more, they're finding it is not all difficult or mysterious. Common-sense steps include moderate exercise, adequate rest, and a varied, balanced diet based on the delightful tastes and textures of fresh and minimally processed foods. Many of these health conscious individuals are also choosing to include dietary supplements in the form of vitamins, minerals, herbs and other important nutritional factors.

Information on these and many other aspects of preventive health care and good nutrition as well as quality foods, food supplements, and bulk foods will soon be available at a new nutrition center, Countryside Farm & Greenhouse, opening April 4, at 4905 E. Main St., Stockbridge.

Trustworthy products, accurate nutritional information and friendly, personal service are the goals of the store's owners, the Clark family.

There will be a large variety of bulk foods, dried herbs, fresh produce, nuts, vitamins and dairy products.

Grand opening festivities on April 4, will include special sale prices on many of the store's products, as well as free taste samples of the many food items to be featured at the store. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be looking forward to meeting their new neighbors, and to having the opportunity to introduce you to natural foods and supplements.

NOBODY HURT: Driver Winona L. Devine of 8465 Dexter-Chelsea Rd. was uninjured in this Friday afternoon accident just inside the eastern village limits. Village police officers said she swerved to avoid debris in the road and spun into the ditch, knocking down a speed-limit sign. The road was wet at the time. No citations were issued.

Middle School Bands Free Screening Test Offered to Local Score High in Festival Persons for Colon-Rectal Cancer

The Beach Middle School's seventh and eighth grade bands travelled to Ida March 17 to participate in the district 12 junior high band festival.

The seventh grade band received a Division II rating in Class C and earned many compliments on their performance.

Strong points indicated by the judges included "good basic tones," "good techniques," "a lot of talent in this group," "some very unusual things being done."

The eighth grade band received a Division I rating in Class B from all judges, the only band to earn top marks across the board at the festival. The group was complimented on its "musicality," and for its performance of a piece from the high school band list.

"The progress of both bands is a source of pride to the music department, schools and community," director Warren Mayer said. "These young people deserve congratulations for a job well done."

Mayer expressed appreciation for chaperones Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. Buckberry, Mr. Weatherwax, Mr. McClintock and Mrs. Mayer for their assistance on the trip to Ida.

Athletic Boosters To Hold Fund-Raiser on April 14

Chelsea Athletic Boosters will hold their fifth annual Millionaires Party on Saturday, April 14, at the fairgrounds. Tickets are available at Chelsea Pharmacy and from athletic director Ron Nemeth at the high school.

Ticket buyers will receive a million dollars in "play money" which they can use to bid on items to be sold at auction during the party. Hours for the event are 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Door prizes, for which all persons who purchase tickets are eligible, will include a season pass to all Chelsea High school athletic events and a dinner for two at a local restaurant.

Last year the Boosters raised $3,500 for purchase of new hurdles that will be used on the new high school track.

Local pharmacists are co-operating with Dr. Steven A. Yarows of Chelsea in a free program to detect early signs of colon-rectal cancer in persons age 40 and over.

Testing kits will be available April 2-9 at Chelsea Pharmacy, Dexter Pharmacy, Stockbridge Pharmacy, Krauss Pharmacy at Manchester and Braun's Pharmacy at Grass Lake.

Interested persons over age 40 may pick up the kits at any of these drug stores. Directions for their use will be provided. Ames Laboratories is collaborating in the program.

In describing the program Dr. Yarows said:

"Each year approximately 60,000 Americans die of colon-rectal cancer. The American Cancer Society is actively concentrating on decreasing this number. It is believed that early detection of colon-rectal cancer will prevent death. Most people fear colostomies. Very few people require permanent colostomies if the disease is detected early."

"Ninety-eight percent of colon-rectal cancer occurs in people 40 and older. In fact, 93.7% occur over the age of 50. The most common symptoms of colon-rectal cancer are: blood in the stool, change in bowl habits, and/or cramping or gnawing abdominal pain. Most early cancer is without symptoms. It is believed that people who have colonic polyps (growth in the large intestine) are at a higher risk for developing cancer. These polyps can usually be removed without hospitalization or interruption of more than one day's usual activities.

"The American Cancer Society recommends yearly screening for stool blood. There are easy and cheap tests available capable of detecting a small amount of blood in the stool which cannot be seen by the naked eye. In fact, one teaspoon of blood traveling the entire bowl length (approximately 20 feet) can be detected by these techniques. Remember, blood in the stool may be an early warning sign of colon-rectal cancer or polyps."

"My office and pharmacist David K. Perkins of Chelsea in association with Ames Laboratories, Chelsea Pharmacy, Stockbridge Pharmacy, Dexter Pharmacy, Krauss Rexall Pharmacy, and Braun's Pharmacy are pleased to offer free stool tests for blood. The envelopes necessary for this simple test are available from April 2-9 at the above pharmacies. The instructions are included with the envelope."

"My office will contact all people by mail who have sent in stool samples before April 30. The kit will be passed out to all people over the age of 40 who do not have an active peptic ulcer, Crohn's disease, ulcerative colitis or active hemorrhoids."

"All participants must avoid red beef, horseradish and turnips for two days prior to collecting the stool samples. All aspirin, vitamin C and arthritis medications must be avoided prior to the stool collections. The participants do not have to be my patients and in fact do not have to be under a doctor's care."

"This is the first such screening project in Washtenaw county. The program had different sponsors in the Detroit area and was very successful. If a single person's death is prevented by this screening project, then the expense and donated time was worthwhile."

"Please participate in this free screening project so that we can help prevent needless tragedy from this deadly killer."

SPORTS

Freshmen, Sophomores Bolster Girls Track Team

Building around a nucleus of six seniors and two juniors, the performances of a large group of freshmen and sophomores will be crucial to the success of the girls track team this year.

Heading a group of 11 sophomore letter winners are hurdler Amy Wolfgang and 400 runner Laura Damm, both state qualifiers last year. Besides their individual events, both are key runners on the relay teams.

Joining Wolfgang to give the Bulldogs their best pair of hurdlers in several years is Debby Tiff, another sophomore letter winner who has been working hard through the winter and is much improved.

Distance runner Kim Collins and middle distance runner Stephanie Roberts ran well at the end of last season and have looked good in early workouts. They will be joined by freshmen Maria Feldman, Melanie Flanagan, Robin Mock, Katherine Morgan, Chris Newman and Sallie Wilson to give Chelsea a good young group of distance runners. This depth will be very important with the addition of a new event this year, the two-mile relay. Adding to that depth will be sophomores Kim Fenton, Amanda Holmes and Shanda Friday.

Senior Wendy Wolfgang, juniors Mary Ann Richardson and Rachel Schmeil provide stability and leadership. Wolfgang was the team's best in the 800 last year and went to the state meet. Richardson has been a solid, dependable distance runner for two years, while running behind Sandra Frame, and could be one of the league's top performers this year.

Running in the sprints this year are sophomores Christie Favers, Paula Kuzon, and Susan Jaques. Laura Heeter, who also lettered as a sprinter last year, hopes to concentrate on the 400 this spring. Freshmen Edie Harook and Chris Guard are new faces who could help. Strong seasons from several of these people will be important to the team's success. Sue Young and Carol Warren are senior veterans, Warren in the 400 and relays and Young in the 100, 200 and relays.

Joining seniors Kay Bauer and Shannon Morseau in the throwing events are sophomore Josie Krzeczowski, a newcomer, and freshmen Chris Zerke and Amy Richardson. This could be one of Chelsea's strengths by the end of the season.

Other returning sophomores are hurdlers Donna Bruck and Melinda Fletcher and sprinter Sonya Steele. New sophomores are high jumpers Ann Becker and Jackie Boosey, and runners Kim Clouse, Heather Grenier, Rose Grifka, Kathy Monaghan and Kristen Muncer. Other freshmen hoping to make their mark are Cherie Alexander, Heidi Apostol, Jennifer Folsom, Lori Jedele and Sara Noah.

Although short on experience, the 1984 girls track team makes up for it with enthusiasm and hard work typical of older and more experienced runners.

Steinhauer, Dittmer Selected All-Region

Chelsea's Marty Steinhauer and Dexter's Daryl Dittmer made the second five on the all-region boys basketball team selected by the Ann Arbor News, the closest thing to an "official" recognition of the best cagers in the area.

For some reason the News' selectors decided not to pick a center on its first five, naming three forwards and two guards. That strange decision kept Dittmer off the first team. He was the best middle-man in the region and deserved to be named to the first team.

The forwards picked for the first string may have had more pure talent than Steinhauer, but none had more competitive fire or played with more consistent intensity.

The fact that both Steinhauer and Dittmer played on teams which posted losing seasons and dropped out early in the state tournament may have had something to do with their being relegated to the second team.

Selected to the first team were Mark Redinger of Howell, Quinn Chambers and Rod Turrentine of Lincoln, Ron Dingman of Milan and Pat Ridenour of Manchester.

Besides Steinhauer and Dittmer, John Mindling of South Lyon, Kurt Ford of Howell and Jim Goff of Saline were named to the second team.

Chelsea's David Kiel and Dexter's Dan Schlaff were given honorable mentions. How the selectors managed to overlook Dexter's fine sophomore, Eric Mielstrup, is hard to explain, but they did.

Steinhauer, a senior co-captain, averaged better than 15 points a game for the Bulldogs with 45 percent shooting from the field. He picked off an average of eight rebounds a game and played consistent defense. Perhaps his best attribute was his intensity. He never let up while on the floor and was a constant ball of competitive fire.

Dittmer emerged as the region's best big man against some tough competition. His game averages of 13 points and 13 rebounds were tops, and his defensive play was superb. Nobody scored much in the middle against the Dreadnaughts, who held their foes to an average of less than 48 points per game.

Kiel had some excellent games but was handicapped by the fact that opposing teams could shut him off with collapsing zone defenses which kept him from getting the ball. Chelsea simply didn't have enough outside shooting strength to stop the crunch on Kiel.

Schlaff played a consistently good game at point guard, handling the ball well and scoring when he got openings. He had a lot of help from Mielstrup, and the two figure to be the best pair of guards in the Southeastern Conference next season.

Three Cagers Given Awards For Fine Play

Marty Steinhauer was elected by his teammates as the most valuable player on the Chelsea boys basketball team.

Jerry Hammerschmidt was honored as the "most improved" player on the varsity squad, and Glenn Prinzing was voted winner of the "Oil Can" award for his over-all contributions to team spirit in practices and games.

Selection of a captain or captains for next year's team was deferred until the coaching situation is decided.

Varsity coach Paul Ash, JV Please don't look so bleak, freshman tutor Ted Hendricks are all non-faculty members.

Other things equal, the school district prefers to hire athletic coaches who are also teachers in the system. Several scheduled retirements could make it possible to bring in new teachers who are also qualified as basketball coaches.

State Bank Team Finishes First in Recreation League

Chelsea State Bank finished in first place in the Chelsea Recreation men's under-30 basketball league with a record of 6-2. Team coach was Todd Orthing, and high scorers were Craig Williams, Len Lillard and Darryl Manning.

Tied for second at 5-3 were the Rocking M Ranch, coached by Jim Clark, and Coverex, coached by Pete Feeney. High scorers on the two teams included Ernie Thornsberry, Tim Burke, Marc Feeney, John Dunn and Gary Blough.

Hoover Universal, coached by Randy Bennett, finished 0-8. Bob Smith, Mark Lawson and Mike Smith were top scorers.

A single-elimination tournament was held last Sunday, league director Bob Jaques said. Jaques expressed thanks to sponsors, team members and his staff for helping to make it a successful season.

RUNNING IN THE COLD: The weather warmed up toward the end of last week, but it was mighty cold on the Chelsea High school track when this picture was taken. Shown working out are freshmen

Lee Riemenschneider, Jason Creffield, Greg Brown and Lee Kemmish.

Registration Underway For Adult Softball

Chelsea Recreation Department is looking for men and women interested in playing slow-pitch softball. The plan this year is to have 16 mens teams. At least eight womens teams and six co-ed teams are also expected. Current plan is to have the men playing on Mondays and Wednesdays. Womens league will play on Tuesday nights with the possibility of some Thursdays. Co-ed league will play Thursday nights. The mens and womens league will start in mid-May with the co-ed league starting in June.

A fall league starting in mid-August is already being planned for men. If enough interest is shown, a womens and co-ed league will be formed for the fall also.

ASA licensed umpires will be used for all leagues with two umpires at each game. This year the leagues will be using regular flight softballs for the first time in over five years. Rosters for mens league will be held to 18 players with one non-playing coach. Registration forms may be picked up at the Community Education Office (next to High School Cafeteria) from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (except between 5-6 p.m. for lunch) or at Palmer Ford Service Department (see Ron Schuyler) between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

If you are currently on a team, check with your team manager for registration forms. Every player is required to fill out a registration form. If you are looking for a team to join, contact Ron or stop in at the Community Education Department. All registration forms must be turned in two weeks before the dates of the organizational meetings below:

Women—April 10, 7:00 p.m.,

High School Cafeteria.

Men—April 25, 7:30 p.m., High School Cafeteria.

The final entry date for the ASA District Tournament is April 27. Teams interested in participating should contact Ron Schuyler.

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU
I would like to thank my family and friends for the cards, gifts, and flowers I received in the hospital and since my return home. A special thanks to those who have brought meals in to my family and the many calls and visits I received. I would also like to thank the doctors and nurses for the excellent care I was given at Chelsea Community Hospital. Mary Picklesimer.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to everyone who helped our family in any way at the time of our husband and father's illness and death. From the ambulance crew, the rescue team, everyone in the emergency and ICU unit at Chelsea Hospital. Mr. Staffan, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of the funeral home. All of our relatives, friends and neighbors for whatever act of kindness they did for us. A special thanks to the ladies of Zion church for serving the lunch. Most of all, a very special thank you to Pastor John Morris for the comfort, prayers and service he had. God bless you all. The Family of Lee Bollinger.

THANK YOU
On Friday, March 23 a Special Olympic Bowling Tournament was held at Chelsea Lanes for 108 impaired youngsters from Chelsea, Dexter, St. Louis school and High Point Center. This event was made possible by the Chelsea Lions Club. They sent volunteers and paid for the entire event, trophies and all. We thank them very, very much for providing this experience for our students.

I also have to thank Chelsea teacher Kathy Gilbert and the parents who went to all the trouble to get the Chelsea students there after the snow day caused us to lose all bus transportation.

One more thank-you, to George and Rob Winans for tirelessly engraving all the trophies. You have helped us so many times before, we really appreciate it.

Thanks again to all mentioned and to the Dexter High students who helped on the lanes. Hugs to the Lions Club for their long term support and encouragement of our Special Olympic program.

THANK YOU
I would like to say thank you to Charles Kraus, M.D., and Elaine Boyce, R.N., for helping me so much during my husband's long illness. Many thanks to the staff at the ICU at Chelsea Community Hospital and my expressions of gratitude to Dr. Steve Yarows, M.D., for his approach concerning the failing condition of my husband. The support of our many friends, and a special thanks to the Rev. Dr. Ralph Ratcliff. Many thanks to Atkinson Clinic of Chiropractic.

THANK YOU
We wish to thank the Chelsea Police Dept., Chelsea Fire Rescue Squad, Huron Valley Ambulance, Chelsea Community Hospital Emergency staff, Dr. Charles Kraus, the Re-hab Dept. and all other hospital staff for their quick and efficient response during my illness; also to the nurses aides while at home. Thanks to Pastor Erwin Koch and chaplain Rev. Batell for their comforting messages; to our relatives, friends and neighbors for all the floral remembrances, cards, visits, food, and memorials. Also, thanks to Cole-Burghardt and the Rev. Roger Meiller for their support and comforting words during the loss of my sister, Charlotte Losey. Rose and Alfred Lindauer and Family

Ozone House Offers Help For Troubled

"Hi. I've got some things going on, and I'd like to come in and talk to a counselor."

"Sure. Come in right now if you want, or tomorrow, whenever you can—we're open seven days a week."

This is the kind of service that most counseling centers can only dream about, but in Ann Arbor, 60 trained counselors work together to provide telephone and in person counseling for young people and families, and they do it seven days a week. The center is called Ozone House.

All services are free, and all are offered to residents in the (Chelsea/Dexter) area.

Ozone House services include runaway and family counseling, temporary youth foster care, and a 24-hour crisis telephone line (call 662-2222).

Ozone House also sponsors youth and parent support groups and community outreach workshops for school classrooms and other community groups. Workshop topics include youth rights, teen-age depression, suicide, and family communication.

The house is at 608 N. Main St. in Ann Arbor (walk in 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.). Call 662-2222.

Michigan Monitoring Poultry Flocks Closely

More than 11 million layers, broilers, breeders, turkeys, guinea fowl and other birds have been destroyed since the avian influenza was detected in flocks in Pennsylvania and then spread to flocks in Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey. The Michigan Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with Michigan State University, is currently monitoring the interstate movement of poultry to prevent an outbreak in this state. Michigan poultry producers are being urged to watch their flocks for symptoms of the disease and, if found, to contact the MDA's Animal Health Division, 517-373-1077; MSU's Animal Science Department poultry extension, 517-355-8408, or diagnostic lab, 517-353-1683; their county Extension office, or local veterinarian.

Peak Period Approaching

For Collisions With Deer

Deer are a year-around traffic hazard in these parts, but an especially dangerous time is coming on with the approach of spring green-up. Restricted to dry foods all winter long, deer eagerly seek the first green shoots of spring, which commonly appear along the edges of roads. Deer feed mostly at night, and are difficult for drivers to see because their coloration blends into the background. Their eyes glow bright red when reflected in headlights, and that is the most visible warning signal. Drivers who spot a deer along the edge of the road should not only slow down but stop if possible. Where there is one deer, there may be another, or several. They tend to travel in small herds in the spring. They are unwary of vehicles and do not hesitate to run in front of one. The average deer-car collision causes more than $500 damage to the car, and usually kills the deer. Dozens of injuries to drivers and passengers, and a few deaths, are recorded in Michigan every year. Police speculate that some "ran off the road" accidents in which a motorist hits a tree or utility pole and is killed are caused by trying to avoid hitting a deer.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Plans apparently have been formed up by the Department of Natural Resources to import 15 Canadian moose and release them somewhere in the Upper Peninsula. The animals will be trapped next winter, flown to Michigan, held in captivity for awhile, and then turned loose. The idea is that they will form the nucleus of a self-sustaining herd which will reproduce and eventually expand into a "hunting" population. Cost of carrying out the introduction is estimated at $60,000, or $4,000 per moose. That assumes the U.S. Air Force will pick up the tab for flying the beasts from Ontario to Michigan, and there apparently is some assurance that the Air Force will go along, on the basis that it will be a "training exercise." Moving moose is not all that different from moving soldiers or cargo.

The game plan calls for bringing in three bulls and 12 cows, and putting them into a large enclosure where, it is hoped, natural instincts will assert themselves and the cows will become pregnant. All 15 moose will be released in the spring, the cows will bear calves, and the bulls will do whatever bull moose do when they aren't in the mating mood. If all should go exactly right, the initial herd of 15 would quickly increase to 27 (or more, because cow moose occasionally have twins), and a breeding population established. The principal people involved—Charlie Guenther, chief of the DNR's Wildlife Division, biologists Ralph Bailey and Joe Vogt—are old and good friends, and for their sakes I hope the experiment works. The sum of $60,000 may not seem like a lot in these days when anything under a billion dollars is "small change" in government circles, but it's a bunch of money in the DNR wildlife budget, where nickels and dimes are carefully counted. The wild-herd get almost all their funding from state hunting license fees and federal exercise taxes on guns and ammunition. The seemingly open-ended flow of dollars from general tax receipts is not available to them.

Still, I have some questions which boil down to one: Why try to re-establish moose in Michigan? The word "re-establish" is used deliberately because the fact is that we had them in the state up until rather recently, and still do if you count the thriving herd of 700 or so in Isle Royale National Park out in the middle of Lake Superior. Isle Royale is part of Michigan. A remnant population of moose existed and hung on in the mainland Upper Peninsula at least through the 1950's and very possibly into the 1970's. Sightings of animals were reported regularly. Some of those observations may actually have been of horses, which look a lot like moose except that male horses don't sprout antlers.

Most of those sightings were followed up by reports of illegal kills. A moose is a big piece of meat, a tempting target for poachers. Not only does a moose look something like a horse, it is approximately the same size. A mature bull moose may weigh more than half a ton. Poaching, unfortunately, is a way of life for a lot of people in the Upper Peninsula (and in the Lower, too, for that matter). My guess is that, if you put some moose-sized targets out there anywhere, they are going to be quickly done in by persons looking to fill a freezer with a winter's supply of meat. Moose aren't very smart, and are rather easily hunted down.

Guenther has said publicly that, in selecting an area for the initial release of imported Ontario moose, the first consideration will be to try to convince local people against going out and poaching them. Had that educational task been accomplished 20 or 30 years ago, there would be a viable moose herd in the UP today. The animals were there in sufficient numbers if people had just left them alone to do their thing of making more moose.

Suppose the experiment works, and a small herd of moose is established? Then what?

My guess is that a Michigan moose herd would get to be like the Michigan elk herd—a pain in the neck for all involved. Those several hundred elk that roam the Pigeon River Country State Forest northeast of Gaylord have caused far more trouble than they are worth from a wildlife management standpoint.

There have been a couple of elk hunting seasons which gave the DNR nothing but grief, and loud outcries are already being raised against a proposed controlled hunt this fall to remove 50 elk from the herd. I anticipate something similar if a "hunting" moose population is established. Why not leave well enough alone, and manage the existing thriving deer and bear for harvest by big-game hunters? Why mess with moose?

I'm sure what the Wildlife Division is hoping for is another "lightning strike" like the re-introduction of wild turkeys into Michigan, which has succeeded beyond anybody's wildest dreams. Somehow, I can't equate turkeys and moose. If the Wildlife Division is looking to do something, how about concentrating on bringing pheasants back or putting something in their place?

An amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act in 1949 directly prohibited child labor for the first time.

+ AREA DEATHS +

Florence A. Ritzler

805 W. Middle St.
Chelsea

Florence A. Ritzler, 91, of 805 W. Middle St. died March 20 at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home.

She was born Feb. 27, 1893, in Chicago, Ill., the daughter of Cornelius and Anna (Baumgartner) Mellema, and was married to Edward Ritzler on June 9, 1914. He preceded her in death in 1976.

Mrs. Ritzler had been a resident of the United Methodist Home since 1978 and was a member of the Lambertville United Methodist church.

Surviving are a son, Russell Ritzler of Rolling Prairie, Ind.; two daughters, Ethel Hoffman of Livonia and Elaine Simpson of Flat Rock; a brother, Cornelius Mellema of New Port Richey, Fla.; a sister, Grace Bloese of New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; 11 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandson. She was preceded in death by a son, the Rev. Leonard Ritzler, in June, 1977.

Funeral services were held Thursday, March 22, at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home chapel with the Rev. Ira Wood officiating. Burial was in the Lambertville cemetery.

Arrangements were made by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

Tax Roll Changes Made

A total of $1,525.07 was washed off the Chelsea tax roll last week, at the request of treasurer Mary Harris. The four individual amounts ranged from $1.61 to $1,134.40.

In all four instances the taxes were assessed in error, Mrs. Harris informed the village council, which adopted her recommendations unanimously.

The largest single sum—$1,134.40—had been charged to Chelsea Medical Laboratory for rented equipment that has been removed, and thus is not subject to taxation.

The Chelsea Baptist church had been billed $384.24 for a minister's residence which is tax-exempt.

An amount of $4.82 charged to an unidentified person was voided because it had been included in another tax bill, and the Arbor Coffee Service was relieved of $1.61 liability for equipment that had been rented and removed.

The corrections were necessary to make the 1983 tax roll balance.

Annabelle St. Louis

811 McKinley St.
Chelsea

Mrs. Annabelle St. Louis, 85, of 811 McKinley St., Chelsea died March 16 at the Cedar Knoll Rest Home after a short illness.

She was born Sept. 22, 1898, in St. Ignace and was married to Harry St. Louis, who preceded her in death. She had resided at the Girard Adult Foster Care Home since September of 1979.

Surviving are a daughter, Muriel St. Louis of Fairfield, Calif., and a granddaughter, Patricia St. Louis, also of Fairfield. A son, Bobby St. Louis, preceded her in death in 1980.

Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Chelsea. Arrangements were made by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Shopping Spree Winner Named By Area Junior Women's Club

Please Notify Us In Advance of Any Change in Address

The GFWC Chelsea-Dexter Junior Women's Club met March 19 and a winner in the $100 Shopping Spree raffle was selected by guest speaker Nancy Cooper, who showed a film and gave an informative presentation about the Special Olympics.

The club is using proceeds from the raffle to enable two local students to attend the state-wide Special Olympics this summer. Also, a portion of the funds raised will be used to help send delegates from the Dexter and Chelsea communities to the internationally recognized Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Seminar. It is hoped that other service clubs in the area will also help sponsor these outstanding local high school students.

The winner of the $100 shopping spree was Sally Horst of Chelsea. When contacted Sally was not yet certain which of the 20 sponsoring merchants she would choose for her shopping trip. The merchant chosen will be announced in next week's edition.

Other highlights of the March meeting included discussion of the upcoming state convention, ideas for participation in Chelsea's Sesquicentennial this July, selection of a nominating committee for the election of next year's executive board at the April meeting, and an announcement that the speaker for the April meeting will be a member of the Red Cross with a presentation on CPR.

MichCon Announces 'Eyes And Ears' Effort

Michigan Consolidated Gas today announced it is expanding its "Eyes and Ears" emergency assistance program to the Chelsea and Dexter areas. The Eyes and Ears program was begun in February in the Detroit area as a response to a series of sexual assaults on school-age children.

"We are pleased that we are in a position to offer Chelsea and Dexter a concrete program which has already proved to be a significant deterrent to crime in the Detroit area," said Alfred R. Glancy, III, chairman and chief executive officer of MichCon.

MichCon's service vehicles are marked with identifying decals.

In addition, utility employees operating the vehicles have a radio link with the police department and are trained to look for signs of crime.

Children or others who are in a threatening situation can approach MichCon employees directly and ask for assistance. The utility workers will either take the individual away from the location of the problem, radio for police assistance, or both.

Detroit Edison and Michigan Bell Telephone Co. are also participating in the "Eyes and Ears" program.
