ONE HUNDRED-FOURTEENTH YEAR—No. 45

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1984

READY FOR OPENING: Irving Tabaka is Main St. today. The firm sells frames, make opening the new Chelsea Eyeglass Co. at 107½ N. lenses, fits glasses and does repair work.

New Eyeglasses Business Opening Today in Chelsea

A new downtown business, Chelsea Eyeglasses, opened today at 107½ N. Main St. in a second-floor location above Ricardo's hair-cutting shop.

The store will be operated by Irving Tabaka and his wife, Patricia, of 2295 Maute Rd., Grass Lake, and will specialize in fitting, making and selling eyeglasses.

"We will carry a full line of frames, both standard and designer," Tabaka said, "and we will manufacture lenses—both glass and plastic—here in the shop. We will offer fashion tints in lenses."

Tabaka emphasized that he is an optician, not an optometrist or ophthalmologist, and so will neither measure eyesight, prescribe corrective lenses nor treat eye defects and diseases. "We will sell frames, make lenses from prescriptions, match lenses and frames, and do fitting and repair work," he said.

A special feature of his service, he said, will be a one-year warranty on children's glasses.

Tabaka has been employed by J. L. Hudson's optical center for the past 15 years. This is his first venture into a business of his own.

High Hazard Leads to Ban On Burning

Unusually cool, dry weather so far this spring has caused the Department of Natural Resources to issue a ban on outdoor burning, effective yesterday until further notice.

The outdoor fire hazard is extreme, according to the DNR. Grass and brush are dry, and there has as yet been no spring green-up. The weather forecast for the next several days calls for little or no rain.

The Chelsea fire department responded to five grass fires last weekend and another on early Tuesday morning. None caused serious damage.

The blazes occurred on Garvey, Sylvan, Seymour, North Lake, Cassidy Lake and Trist Rds.

Mrs. Tabaka is a nurse in the Out-Patient Clinic at Chelsea Community Hospital. The couple has two children, Joshua, who will be three next month, and Karen, 17 months.

"If things work out the way we hope, we plan to move to Chelsea," Tabaka said. "It's a beautiful town, and that is one important reason why we decided to locate the business here."

The space that Chelsea Eyeglasses will occupy is in a building owned by Jack Merkel. It is being completely renovated and remodelled. A large room fronting on Main St. will be used for customer service and display purposes. Rooms in the rear will house lens-making equipment and utilities.

Tabaka had planned to call his business Chelsea Optical, but, found to his surprise that the name has been trademarked by a firm in Farmington. "I'm not sure why or how they got the name, but they definitely 'own' it," he said.

Board Names Two New Chelsea School Principals

Appointments of two new Chelsea school district principals were approved by the board of education Monday night.

Darcio Stielstra of Perry was named Beach Middle school principal to replace Alan Conklin, who is retiring.

William Wescott, presently a sixth grade teacher at Beach, was named principal at North school.

Robert Benedict, now principal at North, will move to South school and succeed principal Sylvester Wojcicki, who is retiring.

The changes are effective at the end of the current school year.

Wescott currently is a 6th grade block (English and geography) teacher at Beach Middle school. He has served the Chelsea school district as a teacher since 1975. He coached the girls' varsity softball team from 1977 to 1980, when he was runner-up "Coach of the Year." In 1982, Wescott coached the girls' junior varsity softball team; in that year, Chelsea was Class "B" state softball champion.

Born in Ypsilanti, Wescott completed his undergraduate work at Central Michigan University, and advanced-degree work at Eastern Michigan University. He holds a master's degree in educational leadership from EMU. Wescott lives in Chelsea with his wife, Susan, and three children, Tim, Casey and Betty. Susan is employed as a dental hygienist.

Superintendent Van Meer said, "Wescott was selected from many fine candidates. He has had an exemplary teaching career in Chelsea, and has demonstrated a high degree of professionalism. He will approach his first administrative position with a high degree of enthusiasm and good interpersonal skills, and with a strong sense of dedication to the Chelsea school district."

Stielstra comes to Chelsea with a history of involvement in public education. Growing up in a family of educators, his father was a superintendent of schools in southwestern Michigan, and his mother a speech therapist. Stielstra brings middle school teaching and administrative experience to his new position.

He taught middle-school-age students in Carson City and Alma, and worked as a middle school assistant principal, then principal, with the Perry public school district. He served as assistant principal for two years and principal of the Perry Middle school for four years.

Stielstra completed his undergraduate work at Central Michigan University, and advanced-degree work at Central Michigan University and Michigan State University. He holds an educational specialist degree from MSU.

His wife, Ruth, teaches seventh and eighth grade English in Perry. The Stielstras have an eight-year-old daughter Megan.

The new principal served in the U.S. Army as a lieutenant, with tours of duty in central Germany and central Vietnam.

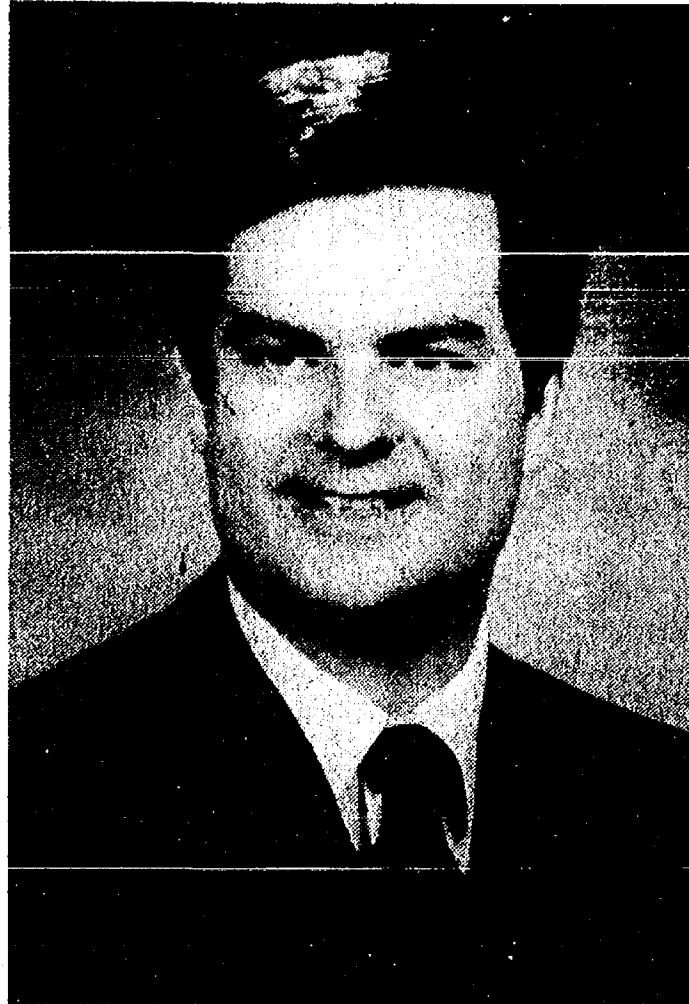

Superintendent Raymond E. Van Meer said, "Stielstra was selected from among many fine candidates. He has exhibited exceptional skills in interpersonal relationships and working with students, teachers and parents. He has a strong grasp of the middle school curriculum and should fit nicely into the plans to continue Beach Middle school as an exemplary school."

In addition to their commitment to education, family and church, the Stielstras are actively involved in a variety of athletic and outdoor recreational activities.

Juveniles Caught After Burglary At Honegger's

At least three and perhaps as many as five local juveniles age 14-16 have been implicated in an April 2 break-in at Honegger's mill on Dexter-Chelsea Rd., deputy sheriff Lee Collier reported.

Most of the stolen property—cash, food and a calculator, with a total value of about $80—has been recovered, Collier said. The

Joe Merkel New Pro-Tem President

Joseph M. Merkel has been elected president pro-tem of the Chelsea village council by unanimous vote of his fellow council members.

Merkel was re-elected to the council for a third two-year term at the March election. He owns and operates the Wolverine Bar on Old US-12, and lives at 743 Taylor St.

Principal duty of the president pro-tem is to act in place of the president whenever the latter is absent or unavailable for any reason.

Merkel polled the highest number of votes among the five candidates for the three council seats which were filled at the March 12 village election.

North School Observing Library Week

National Library Week is being celebrated this week.

North school students are encouraged to get library cards, if they don't have one already, and will be given information on how to do it, media specialist Barbara Locks said.

Kindergartners and first graders will review library terms, such as author, title, illustrator, call number and card catalog. Second graders will start a unit on how to use the card catalog. Third, fourth, and fifth graders will discuss present and future libraries, and learn about library history.

Everyone is urged to visit a library this week. A library is one of the best bargains around.

Vacant Seat On Council To Be Filled

The vacant seat on the village council should be filled shortly, president Jerry Satterthwaite said. Under the charter, the council will make the appointment.

"We have some names, and we are considering them," Satterthwaite said. "We would welcome any more suggestions. We want to look at all possibilities."

He declined to disclose the names of persons under consideration, saying it would be premature at this point and unfair to those who will not be selected.

"I don't mind saying that I personally like the idea of appointing a woman," Satterthwaite said, "provided we can find one who is both qualified and willing to serve. I think it helps to have a woman's view-point on the council."

The only woman member of last year's council, Jeanene Riemschneider, did not seek re-election.

Kindergarten Signup Scheduled May 1 At South School

Kindergarten registration will be held on Tuesday, May 1, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the South school cafeteria. It is important that children be registered at this time so school officials can plan kindergarten classes for the 1984-85 school year.

A child must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1984, to attend kindergarten this fall. The state requires that parents show a birth certificate from the county clerk's office in the county of the child's birth. It should be brought to registration if possible. If not available at that time, it must be brought to the school office by Sept. 28. After that date, parents will be asked to keep children at home until the certificate is provided.

The state also requires that immunizations be up to date when children begin school. Parents will be given a medical form for a physical, immunization records and history of their child. These must be turned in to the school no later than Nov. 16. After that date children will be excluded until the form is turned in. Other information forms are to be filled out and turned in during registration.

Several employees of the school district who have responsibilities for kindergarten children will be on hand to give information and answer questions. Ralph Brier, bus supervisor, will speak on bus transportation. The principals of North and South schools, as well as the kindergarten teachers from both schools will also be present. Mrs. Mary Lou Bower and Mrs. Nancy VanBlaricum will speak on classroom expectations for the kindergarten child.

Persons unable to attend the meeting may call South school after the May 1 registration at 475-9131, ext. 65, to enroll children.

Council Votes To Buy Six Conrail Easements

The village council has voted to make a one-time payment of $12,000 to Conrail and buy up six utility easements across the company's railroad track property rather than continue to pay annual rent on them.

The issue came to a head when Conrail served notice that the total yearly rent would be increased to $600 as compared to the $88 that the village now pays. As an alternative, Conrail suggested that the easements could be secured permanently with a one-time payment of $2,000 each, $12,000 altogether.

There was no assurance that the $600 annual fee would not be increased in the future. In fact, Conrail strongly suggested there would be an annual upward adjustment based on the cost-of-living index.

After studying the issue, the council decided that the $12,000 buy-out was the better way to go. The payment will insure permanent control over the easements which carry vital sewer, water and electrical lines under and over the Conrail tracks.

Council Delays Action On Budget, Salaries

The Chelsea council on April 3 voted to postpone action for two weeks on the proposed village budget and a new salary and wage scale for village employees, the two key items on the agenda.

All of the six elected members—president Jerry Satterthwaite, Joe Merkel, Richard Steele, Herman Radloff, James Finch and Fred Harris—were present and concurred in the delay. There is a vacancy on the council which is yet to be filled. (See separate story elsewhere in this edition.)

A large group of citizens, led by former president Charles Ritter, asked questions about the budget and the pay schedule during a sometimes heated session.

One issue raised was the fact that copies of the proposals were not available for public scrutiny prior to the meeting. Another problem was that village administrator Frederick Weber was absent on vacation and so could not answer questions about documents he was instrumental in preparing.

Council Sets Special Meeting Tomorrow

A special meeting of the Chelsea village council has been called for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, April 12, in the village hall. No agenda was announced.

It has been reported unofficially that important developments in connection with Chelsea's new industrial park will be announced.

These could include a state grant for preliminary work on roads and utilities on the 73-acre Sibley Rd. site, and also agreements with prospective buyers of property in the park.

Kim Collins Nominated To Attend Special Summer Institutes Program

KIM COLLINS, Chelsea High school sophomore, has been nominated to attend the Summer Institutes program for highly gifted and talented students.

Kim Collins, daughter of James and Carol Collins of 40 Chestnut Dr., has been selected as Chelsea High school's nominee for participation in the annual Summer Institutes for highly gifted and talented students.

Washtenaw county's share of the 470 sophomore and junior students from all Michigan high schools who will attend special two-week seminars this summer on five state university campuses is 14. Chelsea was permitted to nominate only one, and there is no assurance she will be selected to participate.

"The fact that we have chosen Kim from among the 42 Chelsea High students who were recommended by faculty members is an honor," guidance counselor Chris Dimanin said.

"The competition is very intense. We were allowed to submit the name of only one student to the Washtenaw Intermediate School district, which will pick the final 14 winners from all the high schools in the county. Kim is a most worthy candidate, and she certainly deserves to be chosen to participate in the program."

Collins, a 10th grader, carries a near-perfect grade-point average. Her areas of special skill and ability according to Dimanin, are mathematics and art, an unusual combination. She is also a talented athlete who runs on the girls cross country and track teams.

Kim has indicated Northern Michigan University at Marquette as her first choice for attendance if she is selected for the special program, because it offers the best combination of the study areas in which she is interested.

The Summer Institutes program is sponsored by the state board of education. The 470 students selected state-wide will have all expenses paid for their two weeks on campus.

"We had many students who deserved to be considered," Dimanin said, "and the screen-

A mixture of bad weather—cold, snow and rain—delayed the start of all Chelsea High school spring sports because fields and tracks were not usable. Athletic director Philip Bareis said he hopes to get on a regular schedule next week.

Chelsea school district voters will decide next week whether or not to approve a 3.2-millage increase for operating purposes. Nanette Pusch's pitching is the key to Chelsea's success in the upcoming girls softball season, coach Bill Westcott says. Pusch has recorded more strikeouts than any other pitcher in Chelsea history.

Sandy Eldswick, former executive director of the Washtenaw County Cancer Society and a professional figure skater, has been named Spaulding for Children's development director, replacing Kathleen Cavanaugh. Chelsea's Fred Holdsworth, traded from the Detroit Tigers to the Milwaukee Brewers last winter, is pitching for the Brewers' Triple-A farm club in Vancouver, B. C., and has had a good spring.

Vandalism at Chelsea High school has hit a new high, according to business manager Fred Mills. Damage during the first 3½ months of this year cost more than twice the repair bills for all of 1969. Broken windows are the biggest single item of expense, Mills said. There have been 31 windows broken so far in 1970. Pitchers Wayne Welton and Ron Sweeny combined for a three-hitter as the Bulldogs defeated Adrian, 6-2, in the opening game of the high school baseball season.

Arthur H. Farley received the second annual scholar-athlete award. A member of the National Honor Society, he has participated in football, basketball, baseball and golf.

FUNERAL HOMEWHY HAVE A WAKE?

The word, wake, literally means to "watch a corpse," according to Elaine Landau in her book, "Death: Everyone's Heritage."

The actual watching occurred, in olden times, from the moment of death until burial. It was traditional and probably practical. In those early times without benefit of our modern medicine, could it not also have been to reassure the family that their loved one was, in fact, dead and not merely in a comatose state?

The practice of conducting a wake is not uncommon and takes many forms. The Irish wake is famous in that it is an occasion for family and friends of the deceased to gather together, eat, drink, and have a "joyful" time. In this way, the deceased is honored and viewed in a peaceful atmosphere of friendship, love, and camaraderie—as "he would have wanted." The practice is also an acknowledged form of grief therapy for survivors.

We respect the customs of whatever religion or ethnic group is being served for wake or visitation. If you have any questions on these customs, please phone or stop by.

Consumer's Denounces Plan to Halt Construction at Midland

A proposal calling on Consumers Power Co. to abandon construction of the controversial Midland nuclear electric generating facility was criticized by the utility as a "blueprint" for electric shortage in the future.

The proposal, drafted by staff members of the Public Service Commission, Attorney General Frank Kelley, the Michigan Citizens Lobby and members of ABATE—an association of 33 of the state's largest business advocating equal electric rates was recently presented to the company.

The plan, called by some a "survival plan" for the state's largest utility, would provide for customers to pay an additional $81.6 million a year for 25 years, allows for a 7.1 percent electric rate increase, worth $100 million (not the $212 million requested) and requires Consumers to institute an offsetting rate reduction of $66 million, phased out over five years, with the PSC approving resumption.

Kelley said the plan, if adopted, would prevent Consumers electric customers from paying rate increases of 40 percent higher—if one unit of the nuclear facility is completed—to 97 percent higher—if both units of the plant are completed.

Kelley added the plan also offers Consumers Power a way of abandoning the plant, but restoring itself to fiscal health by retaining $967 million of its common equity, as well as all its preferred stock and preference stock equity.

Holding those assets, Kelley said, would prevent possible reorganization of the company.

The Midland plant has been the subject of intense controversy for more than a decade.

In 1972, the utility estimated it would cost some $339 million to build the plant.

The price tag, the Dow Chemical Co. of Midland—which is one of the members of ABATE—announced it would not buy steam from the facility if completed.

The total plan prepared by four different organizations would require customers to pay a large share of the loss of the Midland plant.

In addition to the provisions relative to the stock dividends and rate increases, the plan provides for Consumers to write off approximately $1,360 million worth, to reflect its share of the Midland loss and no new rate increase until 1986, with increases for 10 years after that being held to the annual increase in the consumer price index.

In response, Consumers issued a release which said the utility has never failed "in nearly 100 years" to meet customer needs for electric service.

But the plan proposed is a "blueprint for shortage," because the Midland plant is a "key" to the utility's future ability to provide service.

"The rate restrictions and write-offs in the proposed settlement would make it impossible for Consumers Power Co. to raise sufficient funds to continue to render reliable electric service in our service area."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Right about now, Clem Webster declared at the country store Saturday night, a heap of folks in this country are reading Peter Grace's words between the line of their 1040s. Them lines are confusing enough, he told the fellers, and if the Internal Revenue comes out with any more simplified forms the average ignorant taxpayer won't even be about to figure out where to sign his name. Clem said the only simple income tax form he's seen was being passed around the hospital last week when he took his old lady by for some kind of test on her blood. This one had two lines with blanks to fill in. "Line A," ask for "money earned last year," and "Line B" says "send A."

In case anybody fergits to say Grace while he's filling out his return this year, Clem reminded that he was chairman of the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control that give part of its report early this year. Grace said he found that the Federal Government is losing more than $100 billion a year in income tax because foks owe it and won't pay it or don't report the income in the first place. Grace said off the books business is about as big as on the books, Clem went on, and he told the American people at a news conference that "if you're still paying taxes, hi, sucker."

The Grace commission went on to list 2,478 ways the Government could tax here and cut spending there and save $424 billion over the next three year, and Clem took note that if ever recommendation is followed we'll still spend more than we take in fer this period, based on expected Federal deficits. But what Grace said is bound to make ever honest taxpayer that don't cheat and look fer legal loopholes wonder if he's being made a fool of, Clem said, but the Lord and Uncle Sam don't agree on givers. Uncle Sam loves 'em cheerful or grumpy.

Bug Hookum allowed tobacco farmers have got to be among the grumblers. Bug had saw where taxes on cigarets last year, not counting sales tax, come to $7.8 billion on tobacco farmers sold fer $1.4 billion. Somepun is crossways, Bug declared, when a product is taxed five times more than it's worth, but the tobacco tax tells us why the Federal Government's right hand warns about the evils of smoking while the left hand supports tobacco prices and otherwise helps the farmer git his crop to market.

Actual, broke in Ed Doolittle, you can take any raw material and foller it ever step to finish product and market and come up with multiplied tax, that's what all the value added tax talk last year was about.

General speaking, the fellers sided with Grace. Zeke Grubb wondered if the commission said anything about the $27 million we paid last year to keep up our three living ex-presidents and the libraries of seven ex-presidents. Zeke had saw where Sen. Chiles of Florida is the latest lawmaker to perpose we cut back on ex-president benefits that started with $25,000 a year in 1958 and, like everthing else in Government, has been growing ever since.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.Kim Collins

Short Form Tax Filers Can Get Filing Extension

For the first time, taxpayers who file Form 1040A may request an automatic four-month extension of time to file their tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service said.

In the past, extensions were only granted to filers of Form 1040, the agency explained.

Taxpayers filing Form 1040EZ, or those requesting the IRS to compute their tax, are not eligible for an automatic extension.

To obtain the four-month extension beyond April 15, a taxpayer must complete Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return."

and forward it to the service center processing tax returns for his or her state. Form 4868 must be filed on or before April 15, the IRS said.

The extension to file the tax return is not an extension of time to pay any tax due, the IRS stressed.

On Form 4868, the taxpayer should make a tentative estimate of the year's taxes and submit any balance due with the form. If the unpaid tax is more than 10 percent, there is a penalty for late payment unless the taxpayer can show reasonable cause for not paying the tax when due. The penalty is one-half of one percent per month on the unpaid balance, up to a maximum of 25 percent. Interest is also assessed on any unpaid balance, the IRS said.

Form 1040A filers who obtain extensions should write the amount of any payment that accompanied Form 4868 on line 25, separate from tax withheld, when they file their Forms 1040A.

The first states to have equal pay legislation for women were Michigan and Montana, in 1919, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

ST. JOHN

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

This column is guaranteed to make me no friends anywhere, and my inclination is not to write it. My only reason for going ahead is that there are things that need to be said concerning the role of the press in reporting some of the activities of government.

Taking on this very sticky subject was prompted by three stories which have been in the news recently:

The Ann Arbor News has sued to enjoin the city's board of education against holding private meetings in its search for a new school superintendent, citing the Michigan Open Meetings Act.

The Dexter board of education held a legally prohibited closed meeting to discuss evaluation reports on school superintendent Michael Williamson.

Chelsea police chief Robert Aeillo was dismissed from his job under a procedure which was questionable and may have been illegal under the laws as they are written.

It's difficult to discuss the merits of the three cases without getting into specifics, and several thousand words could be written about each one. It's not easy to sum up each in a short paragraph, but I'll try.

The Ann Arbor school board has been floundering around for nearly a year while failing to select a superintendent. Nothing happens easily in Ann Arbor, where diversity and disagreement are ways of life. The hiring process has been bungled so badly that it's a wonder there are still candidates willing to apply for the job. Given all that has happened, the eventual winner is almost certain to be a loser.

The situation in Dexter is complex, and that's about all I intend to say about it, for fear of getting tripped up in some of the legal entanglements. Williamson is controversial, and so is the suggestion to ask for a school millage increase this spring. Williamson's performance is being evaluated by the board of education after five years. One problem is that no performance goals were set for him when he was hired.

I wrote two weeks ago that I wasn't going to comment any more about the Aeillo case until it is decided in court, and it might be wise to stand by that decision. Let me just add that the actions taken by village officials—first to lay Aeillo off with pay and later to fire him—could be challenged in court, and might be.

As a newsman who has a pretty good knowledge of the laws on open meetings and freedom of information, I can say with some confidence that those laws were broken, or at least badly bent, in all three instances.

Now let me put on my hat as a citizen and ask the question: What should be the rights of the press in the hiring and firing of government employees?

I've never been fired, but have been hired several times during my working life. The process impresses me as being very private—a full and frank discussion between employer and prospective employee. By its nature, it doesn't lend itself to having news reporters, or anybody else, looking over shoulders and listening in.

We elect officials to find competent people to work in government, and to get rid of those who prove to be unsatisfactory. I suggest our interests as citizens would be best served if we let the people we vote into office carry out their hiring and firing responsibilities. If we don't have that much confidence in them, we shouldn't have elected them in the first place, and we have a way to show our opinions when their names next come up on the ballot.

That is going to make me seem a traitor to my profession, and I expect to hear from some of my colleagues. So be it.

However, I honestly don't believe that requiring interviews to be held in public is going to make selecting an Ann Arbor school superintendent any easier or the choice (if one ever is made) any better. I think the Dexter school board ought to be able to meet privately to decide whether or not it wants to keep its present superintendent or find a new one. And I think Chelsea's village president and council have the right to decide who is going to be police chief, without my personal presence.

As a newsman, I reserve my right to try to find out what is going on, and the chances are I will if I work at it. There aren't many long-kept secrets, in public or private life.

There is an inevitable clash between the public right to know and the individual right to privacy. That conflict surfaces in government employment situations. I've been on both sides of the fence, as a newsman and also as a government worker.

I don't know the total answer, and perhaps there isn't one that fits all instances, but we need to keep looking.

Village Council Briefs

Paul (Bud) Hankerd was reappointed as chief of the Chelsea fire department by the village council at its April 3 meeting. Larry Koch was renamed assistant chief. Both were sworn in during the meeting.

The council voted to pay Adam Hartman of 417 Railroad St. $300 as the village's share of damage caused by a March 3 sewer back-up into the basement of his home. Hartman agreed to install a check-valve at his own expense to help prevent further problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McAuley have signed a lease on the house on Sibley Rd. which is part of the 73-acre industrial park site. Terms of the lease call for $300 a month rent plus a $300 damage deposit.

Council approved requests by the Chelsea Lions Club to conduct their annual White Cane fund drive and to place an advertising banner across downtown Main St. Proceeds of the drive support the club's work for the blind.

Acting police chief Sgt. Lenard McDougall was authorized to dispose of obsolete radios, screens and typewriters belonging to the police department.

Chelsea has been paired with Gaylord for the annual Mayor Exchange Day, a Michigan Week event, which will be held on May 21 this year.

The council authorized payment of $2,800 to consulting engineers Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout of Toledo, O., to prepare specifications for removal of "infiltration" from some village sewer lines. Past studies have suggested there is considerable leakage into the sewers.

A proposed draft of an "Ordinance to Establish Procedures and Standards for Review of Applications, Renewal and Revocation of Licenses to Sell Beer and Wine or Spirits for Consumption on the Premises, and to Provide Required Inspections" was tabled for further study.

Council Vacancy

The vacancy came about when Satterthwaite ran for and was elected president while he was a member of the council with another year remaining in his term. Whoever is appointed will serve out that year. The post will be filled for two years in the March 1985 election.

Jobless veterans in five southwestern Illinois counties will receive job training and placement help under a U.S. Department of Labor grant. The grant will be used to administer an outreach program serving an estimated 300 veterans and a job placement program, the U.S. Department of Labor announced.

James Spickard First To Qualify In Sheriff Race

Although at least half a dozen persons have said they intend to run for Washtenaw county sheriff following Tom Minick's announcement that he will resign later this month, only one has so far put his name on the line by formally filing for post.

He is James F. Spickard of 2160 Milkey Rd., York township, who paid a $100 filing fee to the county clerk last Thursday and announced he is seeking the Democratic nomination for sheriff.

Candidates must either pay the filing fee or submit nominating petitions by June 5 to qualify for the Aug. 7 primary ballot.

Sheriff Minick said last month that he is resigning to accept a position as administrative security officer for Domino's Pizza, the fast-food empire built by Thomas Monaghan who recently bought the Detroit Tigers baseball team for $32 million.

Minick, a Republican, has indicated he prefers his undersheriff, Ron Schebil as his successor. Schebil will serve as acting sheriff after Minick leaves, and is expected to seek the Republican nomination in the primary.

Until his surprise resignation, Minick had been expected to be re-elected with little or no opposition. A Democrat spokesman had said the party might even endorse him rather than put up a candidate of its own.

With Minick's resignation, the post has gone up for grabs, and Spickard is the first to get his name on the official list of candidates. It is expected to be a large group by the filing deadline.

A native of Detroit, Spickard, 52, is presently director of plant operations and security at Washtenaw Community College, and has worked in that position since 1977.

From 1973-77 he was Washtenaw county undersheriff, second in command of the department. He had previously worked in the Melvindale police department for 20 years beginning in 1953 as a patrolman, sergeant and lieutenant.

Spickard served in the U.S. Navy in 1948-1952. He holds a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University awarded in 1969.

His statement announcing his candidacy follows:

"Careful deliberation and discussions with my family and close friends have helped me in reaching my decision to seek the office of sheriff of Washtenaw county. I am announcing my candidacy and will enter the Democratic primary.

"My background unquestionably prepares me to head the Sheriff's department, not only in its daily operations, but in shaping its important role in the future of our county. The leader of the Sheriff's department must be someone whose administrative and strategic planning skills are of the highest level. I strongly believe I am the best prepared candidate available.

"We are moving into a period of rapid changes. It is a future that will demand more accountability—not only of the amount of tax dollars spent, but also in the quality of services the department provides; a future that will demand answers—not excuses; a future that will demand humanistic approaches to the countless problems of crime—not merely the use of gadgetry and electronics; a future that will demand that the Sheriff's department respond equally to all citizens; a future that will need more than a day-to-day caretaker.

"The Sheriff's department must plan for this future and not reach it unprepared. With my extensive background in law enforcement, security and administration, I intend to provide forward thinking and forceful leadership based on well developed planning to create pathways to our future. I intend to lead, always keeping the department's mission in mind: to provide a safe community in which to live, where there is equal treatment for all citizens and where there is maintained a secure and humane jail. The preparation of well-conceived long and short range goals will help provide the pathways which will guide the department through this decade and into the next.

"I welcome an examination of my credentials, philosophy and values as I seek this office, believing that I am the candidate best prepared to provide the leadership for the future of this county's Sheriff's department."

young thieves broke into the mill through a window, collected their loot and hid most of it on the grounds outside. They were apprehended when they returned to pick up the stolen items.

The Standard initially withheld news of the incident at Collier's request so that the suspects would not be alerted against returning to the scene.

Collier said he has not yet decided whether to cite the young persons to juvenile court.

Why Do You Say "Hello" to People?

DONALD A. COLE
Director

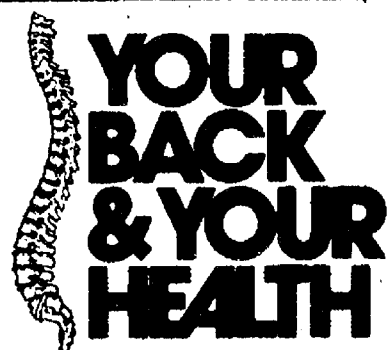

Most of us say "hello" to others because it's a way to acknowledge their presence and their worth to us. It's just one of many simple, common courtesies which mean so much.

During bereavement, the importance of courtesy, combined with genuine concern, is uppermost. That's one reason why so many area families rely on Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel in their hour of need.

Maintaining health naturally

What on earth is a column that deals with chiropractic and related subjects doing talking about exercise and diet? It's not at all farfetched when you stop to think about it. Chiropractic is based on a natural way of health, of giving the body a chance to regain and maintain health naturally. A sensible exercise program plus a balanced and moderate diet can do wonders for your well being, now and in the future.

One of the best kinds of exercise is the so-called circulo-respiratory type. Excellent examples of these are jogging, swimming, jumping rope and bicycling, all of which help the heart, lungs and skeletal muscles of the body.

DR. W. ATKINSON
DIRECTOR

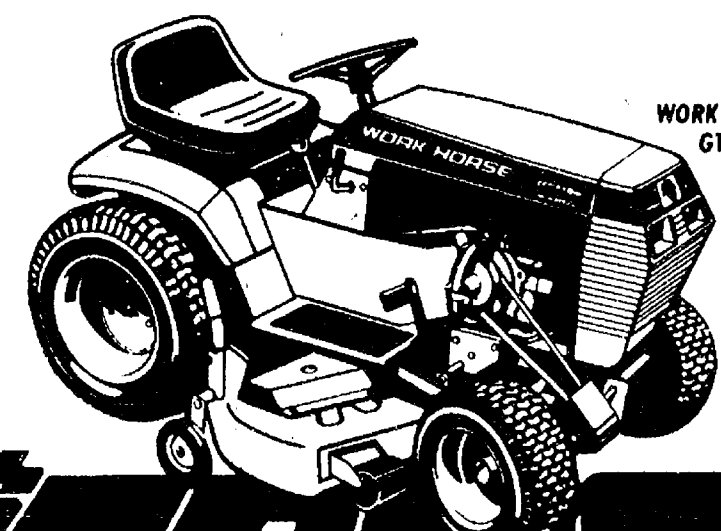

The important thing is to start slowly. If you are really out of shape, you can cause far more harm than good if you over-do at the beginning. It's far better to walk one block and then build up gradually, if you're out of condition, than to strain for running a mile and risk real troubles.

One of the secrets of good health is working with a balanced program. Nutrition, proper rest and a good mental attitude can be just as important as exercise. You should also have a spinal examination by your chiropractor, because all natural good health starts with a healthy spine.

Registration Tax on New Autos Deductible

Any Michigan taxpayer who purchased a 1984 model year automobile after Sept. 30 of last year may be entitled to a deduction for the Michigan motor vehicle registration tax (license fee) on his or her 1983 tax return, according to Charles A. Parks, district director for the Internal Revenue Service. Parks said that the Michigan registration tax for 1984 and later models is considered a personal property tax and thus, is deductible for taxpayers who itemize deductions.

To qualify as a deductible personal property tax, the tax must meet three tests according to Parks. It must be an ad valorem tax, imposed on an annual basis, and imposed on personal property. The Michigan registration tax meets all three tests, he said.

The "one-room schoolhouse" at 11000 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., has begun pre-school registration for the 1984-85 school year. Parents of 3, 4 and 5-year-olds are welcome to observe class sessions any weekday morning. For details, call Janet at 475-9370. advx41tf

Prior to the change in the Michigan law, the registration fee was based on weight and not deductible under federal law as a non-business itemized deduction, Parks said.

While the registration tax deduction applies only to 1984 and later models, all auto purchasers can deduct the Michigan sales tax regardless of the model year or whether it was new or used when purchased, Parks said.

He said taxpayers must itemize deductions to claim the auto sales tax, but may claim it in addition to the figure allowed in the IRS' Optional Sales Tax Tables for other sales tax expenditures.

Discussion on Immunization Programs Set

Smallpox and polio were once dreaded diseases. These and many others have been all but vanquished by vaccines. Vaccines against infectious disease have played a major role in reducing deaths and illnesses at an early age.

"Recently many questions have been coming into the Center about immunizations," remarked Dr. Tom Hupy, a family practice physician at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center. "Many of the questions," continues Hupy, "have to do with the measles outbreak and changes in intervals between various immunizations."

Hupy said that in discussing these things with people it has become evident that many do not know which immunizations are recommended when. One of the reasons for this is because, Hupy notes, "many of the intervals between immunizations have been changed and people are not aware of these changes."

Because of this need, the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea will sponsor an informational session on immunizations. Dr. Hupy and Gail Finch, R.N., will present information on immunizations to help people understand the recommended vaccines and establish an immunization schedule. They will also talk about the importance of keeping family records.

This session will be offered on Thursday, April 12, 7:30-8:30 p.m. in the classroom at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. The Center is located at 775 S. Main St. The session is free and open to the public. Preregistration is requested by calling 764-8010.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
Landfill fees are a really bad idea!

Parking fees and loose cash have already created an unfortunate situation. Landfill fees and loose cash again creates the same potential for problems.

Any Tuesday, Thursday, or Friday take a trip to the landfill and see the endless bales of Jiffy Mix boxes and other Chelsea business debris. Who's to pay for the landfill improvements? The men and women of the Chelsea area with their leaf bags, branches and occasional old appliances. People dedicated to keeping their community looking good. Place reasonable fees on those who have created the yards of waste, the businesses.

Be smart Chelsea! By opening the dump to all and charging local citizens, you are discouraging use of the dumping area. It now becomes cheaper, and therefore easier, to use the local backroads and the nature areas to dump unwanted debris. We will be destroying one of the assets of our area of which we are most proud. As bad, will be the number of people stockpiling garbage and debris around their homes waiting for yearly pickups. Or worse... just waiting!

By opening the landfill for all, we are asking for big trouble. Employees at the landfill have no knowledge of the potential health hazards of dumped debris. We are fortunate that none of our local businesses deal in really bad stuff! Keep our dump private and have the large volume users finance the improvements.

Virginia R. Meyer.

Portage, Base Lake Levels To Be Raised

Homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area were cautioned today to prepare for the coming spring and summer.

The lake level at Portage Lake will be raised approximately one foot starting April 5 and completed by April 12," stated James E. Murray, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner. The raising of the lake level coincides with the opening of the boat launch facilities.

Each winter, the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake.

For information, please contact Chester J. Pankowski, senior drain inspector, at 994-2525.

Dear Editor,
I've recently moved to the Chelsea area to live with my daughter.

It is a beautiful area and most of the people are friendly.

But there is one woman who works in the post office who is so snappy she gives a bad feeling for the whole town.

Also, why are the roads so terrible in the township? Where does the taxpayer's money go?

Helen Jones.

P.S.-I hope you print this in your paper.

Breuninger Farms Given Award

Three generations of the Breuninger family, which operates a dairy farm on Marshall Rd. in Scio township south of Dexter, received a collective "Farm Manager of the Year" award at Michigan State University on March 22. Ten such awards are given annually.

The farm is presently owned by Robert and Carol who are the actual recipients of the award. All three families live on the farm and assist in the operation.

Breuninger Farms includes 550 acres of cropland and 115 dairy cows. The dairy herd yields an average of 17,735 pounds of milk and 636 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Involved in the operation are Walter, Robert and Bruce Breuninger—who are father, son and grandson—and their wives, Evelyn, Carol and Louise.

The Farm Manager of the Year award winners are selected each year by the MSU department of agricultural economics. Each of the candidates is enrolled in the MSU Telfair record-keeping system, and is judged on the basis of efficient organization and operation of the farm during the past three years.

Softball Challenge

To the Salmagundy Girls: We accept the invitation for your complete obliteration On the ball field as in the park, our bite is worse than our dreaded bark. As that fateful Sunday in May draws near, the Village folks will sense your fear. Just a reminder to the Girls of Salmagundy a legal women's softball team consists of more than three. So bring your mits, your ball, your bat, the Brewery Belles are where it's at.

Hummingbirds are being electrocuted in increasing numbers by mistaking red insulators on electric fences for flowers. So the manufacturer of the insulators has taken action, reports National Wildlife magazine. The company has advised farmers and landowners to stop using its red insulators or to paint them a color, such as black or white, that will not attract hummingbirds.

THEY DID IT FAST: Back in 1959, when Chelsea celebrated its 125th birthday, the headquarters building along-side the railroad tracks was painted in a then world-record time of three minutes and nine seconds by an enthusiastic group of volunteers. The building is long gone, but it's possible that this year's sesquicentennial will produce some similar worthwhile civic improvement in addition to all the fun.

Tug-Of-War Scheduled for Belles Groups

There will be two classes, 1) unlimited weight (10 men) and 2) limited weight (2000 lbs.—one ton).

The Wild Woolly Towntamers challenge: Royal Rural Roosters, The Treated Studs, The Outhouse Gang, Mill Creek Moonshiners, Ketter's Belle Dingers, Brewery Boys, The Bush Wackers, Musketeers, Foxy Farmers, Fair Hares, The B-Team, North Lake Snowbrushes, Chelsea Jaycees, Inverness Inn County Outlaws, Jiffy Brothers (all chapters), Party Time Beaus, ASOCO, 250-lb. If your chapters have any spirit, you'll show up—if not, we know we're the BEST!

EGG-TOSSING CONTEST: One of the events at the March 31 warm-up for Chelsea's sesquicentennial celebration was an egg-tossing contest. The idea was for somebody to throw an egg and somebody else to catch it without breaking it.

BROKEN EGG: Jill Seitz's expression reflects that she didn't cleanly catch the egg tossed to her. She wasn't alone. Most of the eggs broke in the hands of the catchers.

Sgt. McDougall Named As 'Acting' Police Chief

Sgt. Lenard McDougall has been appointed "temporary acting police chief" of Chelsea by formal action of the village council, and was sworn into the post on April 3.

McDougall has been informally serving in that capacity since Jan. 6 when police chief Robert Aeillo was placed on paid leave. Aeillo was relieved of duty without pay on March 16. He is scheduled to be tried in court in June on a charge of embezzling more than $50 in public funds.

Village president Jerry Satter-thwaite said McDougall's formal appointment as acting chief was necessary so he can carry out certain legal duties such as signing documents.

"Nothing more than that should be read into the action at this point," he said.

Granite conducts sound ten times faster than air.

Grads of 1983 Survey Being Conducted

Area high schools are asking last year's graduates for their opinions and other information through a phone and/or mail survey to be conducted during April.

The annual survey conducted in co-operation with the Michigan Department of Education, asks the former students what they are doing and how well the school's programs served their needs.

Industrial Park Electrical Service Contract Awarded

Kent Power Co. of Ravenna, near Muskegon, has been awarded a $20,280 contract to extend electrical service to Chelsea's industrial park on Sibley Rd. The village council accepted the Kent Power bid at its April 3 meeting.

The only other bidder was Michigan Electric Co., also of Ravenna, for $24,581.

The job involves putting up three new utility poles west from the N. Main St.-Sibley Rd. intersection and stringing high-voltage electrical wires out to the industrial park west of Werkner Rd.

The extra poles are needed to carry the heavier weight of the high-voltage industrial lines, which are about five times the diameter of the residential service lines now along the route, Chelsea public works superintendent Charles Hafner said.

Work is scheduled to be completed by May 15.

Asked why the only two bidders on the job were from the west side of the state, Hafner said he really didn't know but speculated that it may be because of a differential in wage rates.

"We solicited bids from firms in the local area," Hafner said, "but we didn't receive any. That has been happening on other jobs that we bid out. When we do get local bids, they are almost always higher than those from outside the area.

"Maybe the size of the work projects we offer is too small to interest contractors in this area. They may be looking for bigger jobs."

"There is no question that wage rates are higher in southeastern Michigan than in other parts of the state. That is probably why a contractor from near Muskegon can afford to move people and equipment over here to do a job for us."

"We would like to contract locally, but the village policy is to accept the low bid if it meets specifications. We haven't had any performance problems. The companies we have contracted with have done good work, and the village has saved money."

Amy Unterbrink Shows Her Stuff By Winning Three of Four Games

Her name is Amy Unterbrink, but you could call her Miss Strong-Arm.

The former Chelsea High school softball pitching star hurled 25 innings during four games last Saturday and Sunday. She earned credit for three victories and might have had a fourth with a little better defensive support.

The Indiana University team that Unterbrink pitches for took three of four games from a good University of Michigan team, and Unterbrink was pretty much the whole show.

It was her first "back home" appearance in an Indiana uniform since she earned an athletic scholarship to IU after leading Chelsea High school to a state Class B championship in 1982.

Unterbrink got off to a shaky start in the opening game of Saturday's double-header in Ann Arbor, surrendering four early runs in a game that the Hoosiers eventually lost, 4-1.

Those runs weren't all her fault. A hard-hit but catchable ball that was misjudged and went for a triple led to one Michigan tally. A series of poorly handled bunts allowed the Wolverines to score their other three.

Michigan, meanwhile, played excellent defense to keep Indiana from getting back into the game.

Much to the surprise of the sizeable crowd, including several dozen people from Chelsea, Unterbrink came on to pitch the second game, and this time she was in control all the way.

Her teammates staked her to an early lead, and she scattered five hits in a 6-0 shutout. Only one Wolverine runner got as far as third base.

That made 14 innings of pitching on a cold, windy day when it was tough for a pitcher to limber up and stay loose.

For most pitchers, that would have been enough for a four-game weekend series, but Unterbrink had something left—a lot, in fact.

Deanna Hacker started Sunday's first game for Indiana and was staked to a five-run lead. When Michigan rallied in the fourth, Unterbrink was called on to put out the fire and finish the game to preserve a 5-2 win.

No way it seemed could she pitch in the second game, but she did, coming on in the first inning after the first two Michigan hitters got on base. She pitched out of that jam and went the rest of the way as the Hoosiers won, 3-0. The Wolverines threatened in every inning but never scored.

Over the 25 innings Unterbrink struck out 30 and had an earned-run average of 0.84. She wasn't overpowering—surrendering a total of 17 hits—but she was awfully tough in the clutch.

The three wins in four outings brought her record so far this season to 15-4.

Besides durability, Unterbrink displayed excellent control. Almost all her pitches were in or close to the edges of the strike zone, and she kept the ball down.

READY FOR USE: Nobody was using the picnic tables at Veterans Park when this picture was taken, but they are there and ready, as is the playground equipment. The tables show a few signs of wear and tear from the rigors of winter, but a little paint will take care of most of the damage.

Right Weather Awaited For Completion of Track

Chelsea's first scheduled home track meet, scheduled to be run tomorrow against Jackson Lumen Christi, definitely will be run away from home, athletic director Ron Nemeth said. It will be shifted to Lumen Christi.

It is unlikely that the Saline meet, slated for next Tuesday, will be held here either, Nemeth said. It probably will be run at Saline.

The two meets will involve both the boys and the girls track squads.

The problem is that Chelsea's new track isn't quite finished, and a five-day "hole" in the weather is needed to get it done.

"The contractors were all set to come up from Ohio a week ago Tuesday and go to work," Nemeth said, "but then we got a downpour of rain. The track has to be dried out for the work to start, and there has to be a forecast of five days of no rain for it to be completed.

"That kind of weather isn't easy to find at this time of year, but we're hoping to have the track ready on April 19 for the Chelsea Relays girls meet."

The base for the new track is in place, but it remains to be coated and sealed with a polyurethane plastic finish. Until that is done, lane lines can't be painted. The track can be and is being used for practice, but won't be ready for competition until the lanes are marked.

"As soon as we get the right weather forecast, the contractors will come up and work around the clock to finish the job," Nemeth said. "They're ready to go, and so are we."

Boys Tennis Coach Optimistic Because of Better Schedule

A coach who lost six of 10 letter-winners from a 2-9 team a year ago could hardly be expected to exude optimism, but Chelsea High school's boys tennis mentor looks forward to better things this spring.

"We won't set the world on fire," coach Terry Schreiner said, "but we'll be respectable. We have a schedule that better fits our abilities. We'll be playing schools in our own class, for the most part. We won't be taking on the Class A teams in Ann Arbor as we have in past years."

From a starting group of 20, the Bulldog tennis squad has shaken down to 11 because of drop-outs, Schreiner said. That is just about enough to make up a tennis team.

"Everybody will play, I assure you," the coach said. "I just hope nobody gets hurt or sick, or we'll be in trouble. We have barely enough players to compete in a team match."

The four returning lettermen are seniors Greg Markle, Kurt Eisenbeiser and Thom Schumann, and junior Mark Hanson. Several underclassmen, including foreign exchange student Olav Meyer from West Germany, round out the squad.

Schreiner said he believes the No. 1 doubles team of Eisenbeiser and Schumann will be strong. Markle and Hanson will play singles.

Chelsea is one of only two Southeastern Conference schools (Saline is the other) which sponsors tennis as a varsity sport, so there is no league competition.

"That makes it difficult for us," Schreiner commented. "We have had to pick up matches wherever we could find them, and have played a lot of Class A teams that were out of our reach. This year's schedule is much better from that standpoint. Almost all of our opponents will be Class B schools, and that's why I'm hoping for improvement over last season's 2-9 record."

'WalkAmerica' Hike To Start From Dexter on April 28

Dexter is one of four, Washtenaw county starting points for the annual March of Dimes "WalkAmerica," a national fund-raising event to combat birth defects.

The local 20-kilometer (13-mile) hike will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, April 28, at Dexter High school following a ribbon-cutting ceremony. Registration will open at 8:30 a.m.

Would-be participants are asked to pick up sponsor sheets at co-operating merchants in the Dexter-Chelsea area or at the high schools and middle schools in the villages. The idea is to get sponsors—friends, relatives, neighbors and others—to pledge an amount of money for each kilometer walked. (A kilometer is approximately six-tenths of a mile.) A minimum of $10 in pledges is suggested.

Walkers under 18 must have written permission from parents. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

Refreshments and food will be provided at checkpoints along the route. First aid, toilet facilities and other services will be provided, along with constant patrol.

Prizes ranging from tee-shirts to video recorders will be awarded to walkers according to the dollar amount of pledges collected. It will take $50 to win the minimum prize—a WalkAmerica tee-shirt—and $5,000 to earn a video recorder.

The Dexter route will begin at the high school on Baker Rd., go south on Baker to Shield Rd., west on Shield to Parker Rd., south on Parker to Gross Rd., west on Gross to Steinbach Rd., north on Steinbach to Easton Rd., west on Easton to Dancer Rd., north on Dancer to Trinkle Rd., west on Trinkle a short distance, then back east on Trinkle to Parker, Shield, Baker and the high school.

Checkpoints will be located at 947 N. Steinbach Rd., 11835 Trinkle Rd., 9970 Trinkle, and the high school. Walkers must have their entry cards stamped at

Robert N. Ostrander Participates in Giant NATO Exercise

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Robert N. Ostrander, son of Barbara Ostrander of 13150 Trist Rd., Grass Lake, recently participated in "Teamwork '84."

He is a crewmember aboard the USS Yellowstone, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

"Teamwork '84" was a NATO exercise to test the ability of NATO forces to reinforce and resupply Northern Europe under winter conditions. It took place in the North Sea, Norwegian Sea and North Atlantic areas. A combined amphibious assault was conducted by U.S. Marines, British Royal Marines and Dutch Royal Marines in support of Norwegian Forces operating in the arctic climate of northern Norway.

More than 150 ships and 300 aircraft from NATO countries, including more than 30 U.S. Navy ships were involved in the exercise. Other participating countries included Great Britain, The Netherlands, West Germany, Belgium, Canada, Denmark and Norway. Although not a military member of NATO, France also participated in the exercise.

MSU Preparing For Open House

Prospective Michigan State University students and their families will have a unique opportunity to sample campus life April 11-14 at a university-wide open house.

More than 20,000 invitations have gone out to admitted and prospective students, high school juniors and community college students—more than twice the number invited to last year's event, which drew 5,000-7,000 visitors, reports open house coordinator Karen VanderJagt.

This year the College of Engineering's and the College of Osteopathic Medicine's open house and the College of Veterinary Medicine's VetaVisit have also been scheduled to fall during open house week.

"We really believe that first-hand contact is the very best way to become familiar with the university," says William Turner, director of admissions. "Michigan State is one of America's great universities. It is situated in what many have described as one of the most beautiful campuses in the country. But it's a big place, rich with many resources. Unless students visit here, walk around, talk with people, they won't really get a feel for the many opportunities we offer here."

Buses will shuttle guests from the Munn Arena parking lot to the Union Building, where they will be able to meet with representatives of the colleges and residence halls, and with financial aids and admissions advisers. Displays will offer information on academic programs, student groups and service organizations.

Campus bus tours will depart from the Union every 20 minutes with passengers encouraged to stop at any of the 16 tour sites, including Abrams Planetarium, the MSU Book Store, the Museum, the Library, the Wharton Center, Computer Center, International Center, Intramural Sports Buildings, Learning Resources Center, and WKAR Radio.

Colleges and departments will also be open to visitors, with many special events planned—film festivals, animal barn tours; ceramics, photography and painting demonstrations; a tuba recruiting clinic; an open rehearsal of "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope"; demonstrations of video display terminals; observation of pre-school classrooms; food lab tours; and rappelling demonstrations.

Participants are also encouraged to tour a residence hall and join its students for lunch or dinner.

VetaVisit '84, the College of Veterinary Medicine's annual open house, is scheduled for Friday, April 13, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, April 14, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The event includes exhibits and live demonstrations of health care and management of a variety of animals, and a week-long film festival on the human/animal bond. (For showtimes and locations, call 353-7267.)

The Engineering Open House is set for 9 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturday, April 14. The one-day program includes tours and demonstrations and an opportunity to speak with faculty and current students.

Motorcycle Safety Class Series Slated at WCC

This spring Washtenaw Community College and the Michigan Office of Highway Safety are co-sponsoring Motorcycle Safety Courses. The four-week evening courses, open to the public, meet on the College's main campus at 4800 E. Huron River Dr. The fee is $25 per person. Motorcycles will be provided.

"The courses are designed for people who've never been on bikes before," explains Sue Meyer, instructor. She and her three fellow instructors are all certified as motorcycle safety teachers through the Motorcycle Safety Foundation and Michigan State University. They will share safety pointers and instruct students individually on bikes loaned by Nicholson Enterprises of Ann Arbor.

Progressing from basic skills to advanced maneuvering, students finish the courses with certificates from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation. These certificates entitle holders to special benefits including insurance discounts from some companies.

Four sections, all meeting from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. twice weekly, will be offered. Two May sections and two June sections are available. Participants must have valid Michigan driver's licenses. They should bring gloves, helmets, ankle-high boots or shoes, and long-sleeved shirts or jackets to class.

Motorcycle Safety courses are funded by the State Department of Education, Office of School Management Services. This is the fourth year the College has been involved with the program.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Every year about this time I begin to get letters and phone calls about the spring morel (mushroom) hunting season. That happens because, more than 15 years ago while working for the Department of Natural Resources, I wrote the text for a modest four-page folder on morels which turned out to be an all-time "best-seller." Millions of copies of the piece have been distributed by the DNR and the Michigan Travel Bureau, and they all have my name on them.

Let it be said for the record that I am not an authority on morels or any other group of wild mushrooms. What I know has been learned from experts, principally Dr. Alexander H. Smith of the University of Michigan, who literally "wrote the book" on the subject. Anybody who wants to get into the hobby of collecting wild mushrooms, especially for table use, should buy a copy of the latest edition of "A Mushroom Hunter's Field Guide," authored by Dr. Smith and his daughter, Nancy Smith Weber. It's available in most shops that deal in hard-cover quality books. It is not cheap, but is well worth the price. It could save your life.

Most of the inquiries that come to me at this time of year group into two categories. The first is, when does the morel season start?

The answer to that one is simple: May.

In an occasional warm, wet spring, the earliest morels show up in late April. This doesn't appear to be one of those springs. Based on the weather to date, my hunch is that morels are going to be a little late this year. Start looking during the second week in May, and expect to have your best luck toward the end of the month. The season goes on into mid-June.

The next group of questions can also be answered in one word: Don't.

That requires some explanation. The questions refer to the edibility of the so-called "beefsteak morel" (gyromitra esculenta, also identified as helvella esculenta in some older guidebooks).

In the first place, the species is not a morel, although it fruits at about the same time and in many of the same places as the real morels.

In the second place, and much more important, g. esculenta is dangerous and has a history of being occasionally deadly. Back in the late 1970's several residents of the Thumb area died after eating this species. It causes at least a few cases of serious illness every spring.

For reasons not yet clearly understood, g. esculenta sometimes (not always) builds up a content of hydrazine, a lethal poison in small doses. Sometimes hydrazine is either driven off or rendered harmless by cooking. Sometimes it isn't.

The big problem with the species is that anybody who goes looking for morels in the spring is almost sure to find it, often in abundant amounts. There have been times when I could have collected a bushel. Two of the largest crops I've ever observed were within 10 miles of Chelsea.

G. esculenta doesn't look at all like a morel, and there is no excuse for making a mistake once you have studied the pictures in the guidebooks. The true morels have pitted caps, as if someone poked holes in them with large needles. The "beefsteak" mushroom may be wrinkled, wavy or quite smooth, but it doesn't have pits. Its chocolate-brown color is also distinctive.

There are cases on record of persons who gathered and ate g. esculenta without harm for years, even decades, then partook of a batch that turned out to be poisonous, with results ranging from serious to disastrous.

Two of Dr. Smith's comments are worth repeating.

"No mess of mushrooms is worth the cost of doctor bills or worse."

"If somebody assures you that he knows how to prepare this mushroom so that it is perfectly safe to eat, don't argue with him because you won't convince him, but don't eat any."

To those I would add the first sentence of a letter I sent a few days ago to a man in New York state who wrote me for the third consecutive year, taking me to task for labelling g. esculenta as poisonous, and informing me that he had picked and eaten large amounts the previous spring:

"I am happy to hear from you again, and sincerely hope it won't be the last time."

Estimated Tax Payments Required of Some

Anyone who receives income that is not subject to withholding tax or income from which not enough tax is withheld may be required to make estimated tax payments, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Such income includes but is not limited to self-employment earnings, alimony, interest, dividends, rent and capital gains.

Estimated tax is the total of expected income tax and self-employment tax (as well as certain other taxes) less any tax withheld and tax credits.

Generally, individuals required to make estimated tax payments may pay all their estimated tax at one time or they may make quarterly installments. These installments are due on April 15, June 15, Sept. 17 and Jan. 15. A payment-voucher from the Form 1040-ES package should accompany each payment and both should be mailed to the Internal Revenue Service Center for your state as shown in your 1040-ES package.

Anyone paying estimated tax, however, may not use a Form 1040A or 1040EZ at tax time because there are no lines on these forms to show estimated tax payments.

For further information write to the Internal Revenue Service for free Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax."

'Private Property Rights In Danger'-Thornton

"The right to ownership of private property, a basic American freedom, has never been in greater jeopardy," said Robert H. Thornton, Jr., president of the Michigan Association of Realtors.

"This erosion of private property rights has always been through actions of our legislatures or through actions taken by our courts or the citizenry of this country. Today, we are finding a complete inaction of our state legislature to control the excessive taxes on real property and a complete inaction of the United States Congress to keep revenues and expenses in balance in order that money will be available for housing at reasonable interest rates," Thornton said.

"Every property owner in America must take the responsibility to protect his or her private property rights," Thornton pointed out. When asked what people can do to help protect their property rights, he suggested first becoming familiar with property issues and concerns in their community. "Attending city or town hall meetings to keep up with what's happening locally on such property issues as taxation, zoning actions and preservation laws is one way to do this," he explained. Thornton also suggested active participation in local government.

"This is a particularly good year to redouble our efforts to protect private property rights and encourage home ownership because it is an election year. Who and what we vote for determines how well we will be served," he said. Thornton urged citizens to register to vote and to go to the polls on election day.

"Every individual must exercise his or her right to vote in order to elect leaders who support the rights of property ownership," Thornton said.

"Today, owners of private property are being confronted with increasingly more challenges to their right of ownership," Thornton said. He cited skyrocketing local property taxes, zoning ordinances and building codes, all of which are making it difficult for some citizens to maintain their homes. "At the same time we have a government with a deficit so large that the high cost of interest makes it virtually impossible for Americans, especially the younger citizens, to afford to purchase a home," he added.

Thornton said, "The many laws relating to property were originally enacted to protect and serve the public interest. However, many of those laws and regulations are now infringing upon the rights of individual property owners." Thornton explained that these restrictions, at the local, state and federal levels of government, are not only eroding private property rights, but are also hindering the growth of home ownership.

Thornton made his comments in conjunction with the celebration of Private Property Week, April 8-14, an annual nationwide observance of American's right to own property. This year's theme is a quotation from President Abraham Lincoln: "The Strength of a Nation Lies in the Homes of its People."

The Michigan Association of Realtors is the largest trade association in the state, representing approximately 19,000 members who work in various phases of the real estate industry.

Chelsea Players Choose 'Annie' for Summer

The musical "Annie" has been selected as the summer production at the March meeting of the Chelsea Area Players.

The evening performance dates are July 19-20-21, with a matinee performance on July 21.

Tryouts for the musical will take place May 25-26-27.

Chelsea Players are currently conducting a search for a director and a producer for the musical.

The Players also established two permanent committees, play reading and publicity.

In addition, the Players discussed the successful production of their winter play, "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers." The ticket of Bob and Marci Doan was selected as door prize winner which was dinner for two.

The next meeting of the Players is scheduled for April 12. More information is available by calling president Dave Tiedgen at 475-7414.

RESURRECTED: Mr. Ray Zor was buried in front of McKune Memorial Library a week ago Saturday as part of Chelsea's sesquicentennial ceremonies, but was "resurrected" within 24 hours, as this sign planted by the grave-robbers asserts. The "remains" have been recovered.

29 Burglaries Traced To Battle Creek Ring

At least 29 southern Michigan burglaries, including three in Washtenaw county, have been cleared up with the arrests of two Battle Creek residents, sheriff's detective Paul Wade of Chelsea announced yesterday. Warrants have been issued for three other persons, also from the Battle Creek area, Wade said.

In custody and charged with breaking and entering are Steven Coty, 21, and William Miller, 32. "This group worked all the way across the state from Battle Creek east," Wade said. "In all, eight police agencies have been involved in the investigation. We have together traced 29 burglaries, and there could be more."

The key to the solution proved to be some items of gold stolen recently from a home on Sager Rd., Wade said. The gold turned up in a Battle Creek shop and was traced back to one of the suspects, who confessed and implicated the others.

Other county burglaries solved by the arrests included one on North Territorial Rd. near Madden Rd. and another at N. Maple and Joy Rds.

Much of the stolen property has been recovered, Wade said.

Cassidy Lake Prison Logs Two More Escapes

Two prisoners who walked away from the Cassidy Lake Technical School last Wednesday are still at large. They apparently escaped between the 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. security checks.

Cassidy Lake superintendent John Staten said it is believed the two men were picked up by someone outside the grounds of the unfenced minimum security prison.

Missing are Craig DeRosia, 20, serving four concurrent sentences of up to 15 years for breaking and entering, and Douglas Root, 19, also serving up to 15 years for burglary. Both were from the Flint area.

DeRosia had been at Cassidy less than a month, while Root had been there since November. Their escapes brought to 10 the

Your Health Options

By Beverly Chethick
Director of Health Education, Washtenaw County Health Dept.

My neighbor has had a problem with her well water. Does that mean trouble for me?

This may or may not mean trouble for you. It all depends on what's causing your neighbor's problems. If it's inadequate well construction or if the sewage system is too close to her well, there may not be an impact on your water. However, to be sure, ask your neighbor what the problem is, particularly if you are also using well water. Neighbors typically share the same "aquifer" (water supply)—and if the water itself, not just your neighbor's well construction is at the root of her problem—it could be a problem for you too.

Regardless of whether you do or do not suspect a problem, the health department recommends that people using private wells test their water for bacteria at least once each year. If you have a shallow well—less than 50 feet deep—you should have your water tested for both nitrates and bacteria each year. This is especially true in the Chelsea area where generally sandy conditions exist without a layer of clay to protect the water formation. The fecal coliform bacteria and nitrates present in the water are the main indicators of contamination as measured by the health department water sample tests.

The bacteria test may be done simply for a fee of $5. Testing bottles may be picked up at the Health Department, 2355 W. Stadium in Ann Arbor. The department will only test water if it is submitted in the bottles they provide.

For a $6 fee for each additional parameter, the department will test for the following: iron, chloride, fluoride, nitrates, hardness, pH, specific conductance, detergents, oil and grease, sodium and hydrogen sulfide.

Some people may want or need additional water tests. They will be directed to a private laboratory.

If your water sample is being tested only for bacteria, and if you bring your sample in by 2 p.m., the results will be available by 3:30 p.m. of the following day. Other test results may not be available for a period of two days to two weeks.

The department attempts to immediately phone those with bad sample results. However, all results are mailed to the person who requests the test.

If you have your water tested and discover a problem or have questions, the health department sanitarian for your area is a good initial contact. He can help you resolve your water problem or refer you to someone who can.

YOUR HEALTH OPTIONS appears monthly in this paper. If you have a health related question, please write to this paper, Attn: YOUR HEALTH OPTIONS or directly to the Washtenaw County Health Department, Health Education Office, Ann Arbor 48107.

Every year, Louisiana loses 40 square miles of land into the Gulf of Mexico, says the National Wildlife Federation. This quickly-vanishing area of lush swamps and marshes of the Mississippi Delta provides a nutrient-rich underwater shelf that, in turn, provides more than a third of the nation's annual fisheries harvest.

* Critic Rating

Riles Bean Boosters

The menu in the U.S. Senate dining room states that "Whatever uncertainties may exist in the Senate of the United States, one thing is sure: Bean soup is on the menu everyday."

Michigan citizens have always been proud that the bean soup served daily in both the Senate and House dining rooms is made of Michigan navy beans. They're proud, too, that Michigan is the only state that has a product printed on the Senate menu. That pride took a blow recently when a French food critic described their Michigan bean soup as "friendly, but bland." Not a bad rating, perhaps; French food critics are tough to please. But not good enough for two of the state's boosters—the Michigan Bean Commission and the AAA Michigan Living magazine.

They are conducting a contest to select the state's best bean soup recipe, with the winner of the contest going to Washington, D.C. to prepare the soup for Michigan's congressional delegation and members of the U.S. Senate. They're certain the ratings of that prestigious group for the prize-winning recipe will be higher than that given by the French food critic.

The distinguished panel of judges who will decide which of five finalists will take his or her bean soup recipe to Washington includes: Michigan's First Lady, Paula Blanchard; U.S. Senator Carl Levin; Hans Schuler, president and chairman, Win Schuler's, Inc.; Jack McCarthy, WXYZ-TV; Molly Abraham, Detroit Free Press; Nancy Kennedy, Ford Times; Evelyn Cairns, Mellus Newspapers; Andree Wojack and Sandy Silfven, Detroit News.

According to Jim Byrum, executive secretary of the Michigan Bean Commission, the contest rules are: The recipe must have Michigan navy beans and other readily available ingredients and serve four to eight persons (no alcohol can be used). Entrants must be Michigan residents. The ingredients and cooking instructions (no abbreviations, please) must be typed or neatly printed and mailed to: Michigan Bean Commission, P.O. Box 22037 AAA, Lansing 48909. The recipes must be received by May 1.

Two representatives serve the Metro park-district-at-large and are appointed by the Governor of Michigan. They are Kurt R. Keydel and Mrs. Jeanette S. Weiss, both of Detroit, and are in addition to other members of the Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority who represent the counties of Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Health-O-Rama Slated Saturday

Chelsea Community Hospital will be the site for the Chelsea Health-O-Rama, a program of free health screening and health counseling for all area residents.

The screening will be held on Saturday, April 14, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Health screenings will include height, weight, blood pressure, vision, hearing and glaucoma.

An optional blood chemistry test will be offered for a fee of $7. This test includes blood analysis for kidney disease, liver disease, bone disease, cholesterol, anemia, gout and more. Also available are test kits for colorectal screenings.

Health professionals from Chelsea Community Hospital, the University of Michigan Family Practice Center and the Internal Medicine Clinic in Chelsea will be present and include physicians, nurses, pharmacists, dieticians and social workers. Health counseling will be provided along with displays and health information.

In previous years, the earlier hours of the screening have been the busiest. Screenings last up to one and one-half-hour. No reservations or appointments are required. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

For more information contact Ann Davis, R.N., at 475-1311, extension 262.

Celeste Holm Will Speak At EMU Commencement

Actress Celeste Holm will deliver the commencement address and receive an honorary Doctor of Arts degree at Eastern Michigan University's spring commencement Saturday, April 28, at 9:45 a.m. in Bowen Field House.

Holm is one of two honorary degree recipients who will be honored at the commencement ceremonies. The other is Dr. Rose Lee Hayden, executive director of the National Council on Foreign Language and International Studies. She will receive an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from EMU.

University President John W. Porter announced the degree recipients, who were approved by the Board of Regents at its regular March meeting.

Holm, 64, made her stage debut in the Pulitzer Prize-winning Theater Guild production of William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life" in 1939. Her career was launched into stardom when she was cast in "Away We Go," the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical version of "Green Grow the Lilacs." The play, whose title was changed to "Oklahoma!" in the Holm interpretation of Ado Annie in the spotlight and her career began to blossom. Holm has appeared in numerous films including "Come to the Stable" and "All About Eve," for which she received Oscar nominations. In 1948, she won an Oscar for her performance in "Gentleman's Agreement."

In addition to her past Broadway credits of "The King and I," "Affairs of the State," Eleanor Perry's "Third Best Sport" and Arthur Laurents' "Invitation to a March," her recent credits include the Broadway productions of "Habeas Corpus" and "The Utter Glory of Morrissey Hall."

Holm has appeared on television as a continuing character in several episodes of "Archie Bunker's Place," and has appeared on "Trapper John, M.D.," "Love Boat," "Columbo," "The Streets of San Francisco" and many other programs. She received an Emmy nomination for her performance as Mrs. Warren G. Harding in "Backstairs at the White House" as well.

Currently, Holm is vice president of the New York Arts and Business Council and president of the governing board of the Creative Arts Rehabilitation Center. In 1982, President Reagan named her to a six-year term as one of 26 members of the prestigious National Arts Council and in September 1983, Governor Kean appointed her chairman of the New Jersey Motion Picture and Television Commission.

Hayden, 40, has served as executive director of the National Council on Foreign Language and International Studies since 1981. She earned her bachelor's degree from Cornell University, her master's degree from Columbia University and her doctorate from Michigan State University.

Judge Karl Fink Gets Tough On Young Drinking Drivers

District Judge Karl V. Fink has announced a crackdown on persons under the age of 21 who are arrested and convicted on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol.

"I am seeing many more cases involving teen-age drivers who have been drinking, and I'm concerned about the trend," Judge Fink said.

"There may be a perception among these young people that, if they are caught driving after drinking, nothing serious will happen to them. Perhaps our sentences have been too lenient in the past."

"I want the public to know that such cases will not be treated lightly in this court in the future. The punishment upon conviction will be severe. One of the functions of our judicial system is to deter violations by making it plain that something serious will happen to those who are caught."

Judge Fink presides over the 14th District Court in Chelsea and handles cases from northern and western Washtenaw county.

At the least, Judge Fink said, minors convicted of driving charges involving alcohol can expect to have their operator's licenses suspended for a year, be placed on probation for a year, be required to attend Alcohol Safety Education Classes, spend five days in the jail work program, and pay $310 in fine and costs.

"That will be the minimum sentence," he said. "More serious penalties may be imposed, depending on circumstances."

"If this new sentencing policy will prevent even one serious traffic accident, it will be worthwhile. I'm concerned enough by the problem that I am taking this step to try to do something about it."

Judge Fink is sending notices of his new sentencing policy to all principals of high schools within his jurisdiction, and asking that they give students appropriate notice.

Asked where the minors who are appearing in his court obtained alcoholic beverages in violation of the law, Judge Fink said, "I honestly don't know. I suspect it's a combination of things—furnishing by adults legally old enough to buy intoxicants, falsified identification, carelessness by sellers in checking on ages of customers, and theft including stealing from supplies kept in their homes by their parents."

"This is a problem. During the last year and a half I've had only one case brought before me involving illegal furnishing of alcohol to minors. That could suggest a need for stronger effort by law enforcement officers. I don't consider my functions as a judge to include going out and catching people who break the law. But, obviously, the minors are getting the alcohol from somewhere."

The full text of Judge Fink's new sentencing policy follows:

"Any person under 21 years of age, convicted of Operating Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor (OUIL), Operating With an Unlawful Blood-Alcohol Level (UBAL) or Operating While Impaired (OWI) can expect as a MINIMUM the following sentence:

"1. Suspension of operator's license for one year."

"Although the court would consider issuance of a restricted license as allowed by law, it should not be expected. If a restricted license is issued, there may be a curfew after which no driving would be allowed for any purpose."

"2. Probation for one year with monthly reporting."

"3. Attendance at Alcohol Highway Safety Education Classes and such other counseling as may be necessary."

"4. Five days on the jail work program."

"5. $310 dollars fine and costs."

"6. Thirty days jail time which would be suspended if the other sentence conditions are carried out satisfactorily."

"The above is to be expected as a minimum sentence. The court will consider more serious sentencing including the imposition of immediate straight jail time following a guilty plea or verdict."

Judge Fink's letter to high school principals said:

"I am concerned about the drinking and driving convictions occurring in my court involving persons under 21 years of age."

"This is the time of year when such offenses increase dramatically, resulting in great danger to the drivers, their passengers and other persons on the highway. To help combat and minimize such offenses, the enclosed sentencing policy has been instituted in my court which handles cases from northern and western Washtenaw county."

"Please make distribution of this policy to your students that you believe is appropriate. Hopefully, this information will help reduce drinking and driving offenses by those under 21."

"It should be fully understood that the above policy only applies to those persons who have been properly convicted. All persons appearing before the court are presumed to be innocent."

"Please contact me if you need further information. Thank you for your co-operation."

Fred Cook Honored April 1 on 70th Birthday

On Sunday, April Fool's Day, wondering how to get Fred Cook out of their grocery store at Sugar Loaf Lake was a real question for Mary-Rose Cook until the Sesquicentennial Paddy Wagon "The Lily Lookers" came roaring up to the store (already loaded with a motley crew of Clouses and Klinks), captured Mr. Cook, his two sons, Donald and Gerald, who were visiting here from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. With sirens blaring, they took off to the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club where many neighborly friends and relatives were waiting to help celebrate Mr. Cook's 70th birthday.

Three sets of twins, Erin and Shannon Longe, Tammy and Tiffany Browning, all of Chelsea, Matt and Tom McClure of Chillicothe, O., helped with the serving of refreshments.

Other local guests were Pat and Dale McGinnis, daughters Wendy and Lisa; Al and Margaret Schauers, daughters

Pam and Heather; Don and Barb Beeman, John, Pat, Michelle and John Edward Beeman; Darlene Vargo and son, Michael; Paul and Rose Gustafson; Walter and Janet Weid; Jim and Kay Titus; Bob and Pat Sinn; Robert and Chris Browning; Jim, Mary, Christopher and Amy Klink; Lynda Longe, daughter Danielle; Mr. Longe and Mrs. Cahin; Kimberly Easton.

Out-of-town guests were the Tom McClures and Millie Becks of Chillicothe, O., Paul and Arlene Faapen of Grand Rapids; John and Betty Wyss of Southgate; Audrey and L. Proposed Antitrust Law Promises Consumer Savings

By State Rep. Perry Bullard
Chair, House Judiciary Committee

Michigan consumers will reap big benefits if a new antitrust law, passed in November by the State House of Representatives, is approved by the Senate.

Presently, citizens are being short-changed because they often can't buy brand-name goods at discount stores such as K-Mart and the Burlington Coat Factory.

Certain manufacturers deliberately refuse to sell their goods to discount stores even though the stores are willing to pay the same wholesale prices. The reason: they don't want their products to be re-sold to you at discount prices. The result: higher prices for you.

Why can these manufacturers get away with this price fixing? Aren't people protected against such unfair conduct by the federal antitrust laws?

The answer is "yes and no." The federal Sherman Act, and the court decisions interpreting it, say clearly that for manufacturers to refuse to sell to certain retailers is illegal. However, having a good law on the books is one thing. Getting it properly enforced is another. The federal Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission have declined to pursue such cases.

When the enforcement mechanism is paralyzed, the citizen loses rights. Both the Michigan House and Senate are expected to pass resolutions soon urging the President and the Congress to take steps to correct this. I am introducing the House resolution to that effect. Many other states are expected to take similar actions soon.

However, just asking the federal government to enforce its own laws is not enough. The proposed "Michigan Antitrust Reform Act," which I sponsored, will create a Michigan antitrust law which will also forbid retail price fixing. And enforcement will be in the hands of our own attorney general and the various county prosecutors. These elected officials are responsible to you and will work actively to enforce this new law.

Legislation to reform Michigan's present antitrust laws has been badly needed for many years. The federal government's decision to promote price fixing was a major reason for my introduction of the new law, but it was not the only one.

Last year, the Michigan Court of Appeals threw out indictments against nearly 200 firms allegedly engaged in an auto repair price fixing scheme. The court said that the present laws are so badly written that they can't be used to prosecute people who provide services (as opposed to goods). But services account for 60% of Michigan's economy. The new antitrust law would cure that defect and a host of others which have accumulated over the years.

A large coalition of interest groups is pushing for the new law, which passed the House by a vote of 97 to 4. The Antitrust Law Section of the State Bar helped draft the law, which is based on the Uniform State Antitrust Act proposed by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws. The Small Business Association of Michigan and other business groups helped insure that the law will work effectively to help small businesses fight monopolies and other anti-competitive practices.

We all realize how desperate Michigan's economic situation is. Everyone should know that anti-competitive conduct hurts our economy and costs our people jobs. Forward-looking businesses want to compete fairly. A few businesses in every sector of the economy seek unfair advantage and try to limit competition to the detriment of their fair competitors, workers, and consumers.

This new antitrust bill, now awaiting action in the State Senate, will help bring lower prices and fair competition to Michigan's citizens.

DEATHS

Helen M. Vogel

805 W. Middle St.

(Formerly of Ann Arbor)

Helen M. Vogel, 82, of 805 W. Middle St. died on Saturday, April 7. She had been a resident of the Chelsea United Methodist Home since 1981.

She was born April 22, 1901, in Manchester, the daughter of Henry and Mary (Hinderer) Lutz, and was married to Raymond B. Vogel on June 27, 1932. He preceded her in death in 1969.

Mrs. Vogel was a member of Zion Lutheran church of Ann Arbor.

Surviving are a son, Milo Vogel of Chelsea; a daughter, Mary Lou Olsen of Holland; a sister, Esther Schanz of Ann Arbor; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Chelsea United Methodist Home chapel with the Rev. Ira Wood, chaplain, officiating. Burial was in Bethlehem Cemetery, Ann Arbor. Arrangements were made by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to the United Methodist Home.

The white shark is known to spit out human victims after an attack, but it apparently has nothing to do with the shark's distaste for flesh, reports National Wildlife magazine. It's simply a clever protection technique. By first retreating, giving the victim time to go into shock, the shark can then die in leisure without risk of attack.

Emergency Van Given to Explorers

The Emergency Medical Explorer Post No. 395, which is sponsored by Huron Valley Ambulance, has received a generous donation of a 1973 Chevrolet Series 30 Step Van. The unit, which was donated by Nicholson Enterprises, Inc., will be remodeled by the HVA Explorers as a post project.

The unit will be equipped to serve as a base of ambulance operations at large events such as the University of Michigan football games, community festivals and as a communications post in disaster situations.

Exploring, the young adult division of the Boy Scouts of America, is a program for young men and women to learn more about career choices available to them. The Explorers in Emergency Medical Post No. 395 have a common interest in the field of emergency medicine and rescue. They spend many hours studying and training, and are ready to respond to assist the community when needed. Post No. 395 has a current membership of 35 young people.

"The donation of this step van will enable our Explorers to work on an interesting and vital community project," said Kathy Cameron, the Explorer's adult advisor. "Our membership is extremely pleased with Mr. Nicholson's donation, and we are looking forward to converting the van into an important community resource."

Chelsea Hospital To Benefit From John Gary Concert

John Gary, singer-actor-entertainer will delight newcomers and fans alike at a benefit concert Saturday, May 26 at the Michigan Theater. The benefit is for the Chelsea Community Hospital Substance Abuse Program and is co-sponsored by the Kresge Alumni Association.

John Gary is a most appealing performer. In an evening of entertainment long to be remembered, Gary takes the audience in and woos them through a medley of old favorites and current hits. His smooth baritone voice is as clear today as it was in the beginning of his two-decade career. Songs from Camelot, which he starred in more than 500 times, often dot his performances. Standing ovations frequently close his appearances.

In addition to providing an evening of entertainment, fans are invited to "meet the artist" after the performance in the lobby of Michigan Theater. Refreshments and a relaxing atmosphere will provide those attending ample opportunity to meet this amiable man and share an enjoyable moment.

Tickets for the performance are available at the Michigan Theater or the Chelsea Community Hospital Ticket Office at 475-1311 Ext. 390. Ticket prices are $10, $15, and $18. Benefactor and Patron sponsorships are also available through the Hospital Ticket Office.

A RARE TREE GROWS IN CHELSEA: This Camperdown elm growing on the lawn at 340 Washington St. is a rarity in this part of the world.

Also called "witch tree," the species is native to Scotland.

Rare, Unusual Camperdown Elm Tree Grows on Washington Street

You can call it Camperdown elm, wych elm, witch tree or ulmus glabra camperdownii, and you will be correct in any case.

This tree of many names and most unusual appearance grows on the front lawn at the residence of Mrs. Leah Smith and her daughter, Shirley, at 340 Washington St. It definitely is a rarity in this part of the world.

The name Camperdown elm comes from the fact that the tree's normal habitat is in and near the town of Camperdown in the region of Dundee, Scotland. "Wych" is the old Scottish word for "witch." Ulmus, etc., is a scientific label.

"Witch" is descriptive in the sense that the tree looks something like child-book drawings of witches, with skinny, gnarled, almost snake-like limbs and drooping twigs which suggest long, stringy hair.

One who knows—or thinks he knows—something about trees would never guess that it is a member of the elm family. It looks a little like a dwarfed weeping willow or maybe an exotic tropical fruit tree, or perhaps an unlikely cross between the two.

The fact is that it's an elm, although it in no way resembles the once-familiar American elm, which has been all but wiped out by Dutch elm disease but formerly was among the most common tree species in this region.

Mrs. Smith, who would not reveal her age but admitted to being elderly, said she and her late husband, Tom, built the house on the Washington St. lot, and the tree was already there.

It is, she said, a grafted tree, grown from a slip of Camperdown elm grafted onto American elm root stock. The obviously old tree has received good care, as evidenced by a shallow, rock-lined "well" dug around its base to control moisture, and many signs of trimming to remove old or diseased branches.

Unfortunately, the tree is not in the best of health. There are signs of rot in the base of the trunk. However, the Camperdown is full of buds and definitely alive.

The spring blossoms are pretty, like those of a fruit tree, Mrs. Smith said, a character not normally associated with elms. The tree should bloom in May, and then leaf out.

Sweet Adelines Chorus Wins Regional Competition

Ann Arbor Sweet Adelines barbershop harmony chorus won their second regional chorus competition on March 31 after competing with 22 other groups.

The ninth annual Region 17 contest was held in Cleveland, O., where the Ann Arbor chapter was the hostess chapter for the convention.

Directed by Jack Herr of Warren, the chorus won its first medals in 1982 at Lansing, which then entitled them to compete in the International Sweet Adelines Chorus and Quartet contest last October in Detroit. They placed 15th among 27 choruses.

The chorus will now prepare to compete again on the international stage in Kansas City in the fall of 1985. Its ultimate goal is to become an international champion chorus.

Two members of the Ann Arbor chapter sing in the 1983 Region 17 championship quartet, "Top Priority," which also won the fifth place international medal in Detroit. Sue Snow sings baritone, and Sharon Hoover bass.

Singers from the Chelsea area are Carol Flintoft, Lois Garman, Dolly Matthews, Elaine Long and Stella Wolfe.

Visitors are welcome at chorus rehearsals at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday, at the Glacier Way church on Green Rd.

For membership information call 453-8538 in the evening.

A quarter has 119 grooves on its circumference.
