Tax Increase Seen Required By New Budget for Village

Village property taxes will increase by up to one mill following the Chelsea council's adoption of a $998,300 general fund budget for 1984-85, administrator Frederick Weber predicted.

"I won't be sure exactly how much of an increase will be needed until we receive the final assessment roll in early May," Weber said, "but my best guess is that it will be at least half a mill and no more than one mill."

The village presently collects 8.75 mills—$8.75 per $1,000 of assessed valuation—to help pay the costs of local government. Property taxes finance about 40 percent of the village budget.

Most of the rest comes from state-shared taxes, charges for services such as fire protection and trash collection, and payments from various revolving funds.

By law, the village can levy a maximum of 12.25 mills in property taxes. A one-mill increase, to 9.75, would keep the rate well below that limit.

The tax rate can be increased without a public referendum, Weber said. "The council would have to approve a couple of resolutions to raise the rate," he added.

Based on the village's present assessed valuation, each mill of taxes brings in about $45,000 in revenue. Weber expects assessments will rise slightly this year, but won't know for sure until the county equalization department gives him the numbers.

"I think the general pick-up in the economy will be reflected in higher assessed valuations," he said, "but I am not going to try to predict the percent of increase. I doubt that it will be enough to cover our needs for additional revenue, and that's why I'm projecting a tax raise."

The general fund budget adopted by the village council on Tuesday, April 17, is actually about $10,000 lower than the 1983-84 figure of $1,008,000. The need for higher taxes to finance a lower budget is complicated but explainable.

There are three principal factors:

1. Village government began the last fiscal year with a balance of $55,000. It ended the year with a balance of $12,400, which means expenditures exceeded revenues by more than $42,000.

"Last year's operation was too close for comfort," Weber commented. "I believe we should project an end-of-the-year balance of at least $50,000, and that's what we plan to do. Some of that might be used during the year as a contingency fund to cover emergencies, and there always are some. When you are talking about a million-dollar budget, a cushion of $50,000 is just plain sound management."

2. The village sanitary landfill operation has been transferred out of the general fund budget and put on its own under a self-financing revolving fund. Revenues generated from fees collected at the gate are supposed to pay costs.

Last year the landfill contributed a total of $122,000 to the general fund. General fund income this year is projected at $50,000, a difference of $72,000. The $50,000 represents the $3 monthly charge billed to village residents for twice-a-week refuse pick-up. Whatever additional income the landfill earns will go into the landfill fund, not the general fund.

3. A new vehicle and equipment fund has been established. All village government departments except the fire department will, in effect, pay "rent" on the motorized vehicles they use, based on per-mile or per-hour charges. Payments into the fund are projected at $167,000, nearly 17 percent of the general fund budget, with $68,000 to be reserved for capital outlay.

"Basically, what we want to do is pay costs of maintenance and repair and build a reserve so we will have money available to replace something when we need to," Weber explained. "In the past we haven't budgeted for those needs, and so usually have had to borrow the money from somewhere, in most cases the electric fund. The electric fund is in very solid financial condition and therefore a good source of money to meet special requirements, but it shouldn't be used for things like buying cars and pickup trucks."

When all the additions and subtractions are made, the 1984-85 budget is about $70,000 higher than last year's $1,008,000, regardless of what the $998,300 figure says. And that's why a tax increase is in prospect. Increased assessments are expected to provide some of the extra revenue, but not all of it.

The higher budget reflects increased costs caused by inflation. Except for a few individuals, village employees did not receive a pay increase.

Biggest single chunk of the budget—$248,600—is earmarked for the police department. Public works is slated to receive $217,000, and the fire department $154,700. Other government functions are targeted for various smaller amounts ranging down to $400 for civil defense.

No major capital outlay expenditures are proposed except for $70,000 in the sewer fund, to be used for reducing ground-water infiltration into the sanitary sewer system. No money was budgeted for the street repair work.

Fire Dept. Receives Gift Of $1,200 Videotape System

The Chelsea Fireman's Association has given a $1,200 videotape system to the village fire department for use in making and showing training films.

The association has 21 members including past and present Chelsea firefighters. Past firemen donated their dues toward the purchase, and present members kicked in one hour's pay a month until the money was raised.

The system consists of a camera, a recorder and a device which plays the recorded tapes back on a television screen. It was purchased from Heydlauff's appliance store in Chelsea.

Chelsea fire chief Paul Hanked said the department will use the system to train new volunteers in how to use the various trucks and other equipment that the department operates.

Other training films will be secured from outside sources such as the Southern Michigan Fire Chiefs Association and the Ann Arbor and Dexter fire departments.

"It's a very valuable gift, not only in dollars but more importantly in usefulness," Hanked said, "and we really appreciate it."

Paintings and sculptures will be exhibited by students from Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln, Milan, Saline and Tecumseh high schools. The works will be judged and ribbons awarded.

All the events are open to the public without charge. The festival represents an opportunity to see and hear the talents of high school musicians and artists.

The class is specifically designed to discuss the kinds of injuries young children commonly incur.

Items to be included will be discussion on head injuries, broken bones, sprains and twists. Other more common everyday injuries such as bloody noses, (Continued on page four)

Council Nixes Request For Zoning Variance

The village council has turned down a request for a zoning law variance which, if granted, would have allowed construction of a three-unit multiple dwelling on a vacant lot at 825 W. Middle St.

Robert Penskar of 4380 Musbach Rd. asked to be allowed to construct a three-department building on a lot which is a bit less than 10,000 square feet in size and about 75 feet of frontage.

The zoning ordinance requires a minimum of 15,000 square feet and 150 front feet for a multiple dwelling.

Several residents in the neighborhood appeared before the council to speak against the request for a variance, citing possible traffic problems, lack of landscaping around the edges, and inadequate play space for children.

The council, acting as the zoning board of appeals, voted unanimously to deny the variance.

DNR Tells Village To Hold the Line On Sewage Volume

The village of Chelsea has been placed under a strict order by the state Department of Natural Resources to "hold the line" on the volume of wastes that goes into its sewage treatment plant.

"What it comes down to is that, for every new sewer hook-up we allow, we must remove an equal amount of waste from the present sewer system," village administrator Frederick Weber explained. "We can't have any increase in total gallons. The DNR will examine every new permit we propose to issue and decide whether or not we have complied with the rule by cutting down somewhere else so the total volume stays the same."

The village is under a DNR order to expand and upgrade its waste treatment plant by 1988, increasing its capacity and providing so-called tertiary treatment to remove various pollutants that now go into Letts Creek and eventually into the Huron River.

The plant, built in 1937, has a capacity to handle about 600,000 gallons of sewage per day, and is frequently called upon to take in excess loads. Volumes on some days top a million gallons, depending on the weather. The overloads are discharged into Letts Creek essentially untreated.

Most of the excess comes from stormwater run-off—rain and melted snow—which seeps into the sewer system because the lines are old and leaky.

The Toledo, O., consulting engineering firm, of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout has been given a $2,800 contract to prepare specifications on how the "infiltration" (leakage) can be reduced.

"It's a pretty important study," Weber said. "Among other things, we can't go ahead and extend sewer service to the Sibley Rd. industrial park until we can prove to the DNR that we will take as much out of the system as the new industries out there will put in."

"As a matter of fact, we can't hook up a new private residence unless we can show we have eliminated the same amount of sewage from someplace else. The total volume can't increase. Those are the rules we are playing under. If we can't cut the infiltration down, the village just plain can't grow."

"Past studies have shown that there is a lot of infiltration, and so (Continued on page seven)

Concerned with the fate of music, sports and all extra-curricular activities in local schools, Chelsea school district voters approved a millage increase by a 1,375-1,165 margin. The 2,556 votes exceeded the total votes cast in last year's two unsuccessful millage elections combined. The election came in the wake of a school board decision to cut some $470,000 from the upcoming budget should the bid for the 3.2 additional mills fail. School sports, band and orchestra, and all extra-curricular activities, as well as a number of staff members, would have been casualties of a severely reduced budget.

Sometime between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Tuesday afternoon, supervisors of Washtenaw County, following receipt of Conrad warnings, will converge on Chelsea and take over the Village Council room in the Municipal Building as part of a nation-wide Civil Defense "Operation Alert." It was emphasized by the Civil Defense office at Ann Arbor that Tuesday's alert does not call for any participation by the general public. In communities where the three- to five-minute continuous siren signals are sounded, residents should note the time they heard them and from what distance, but there will be no general "take cover" exercise.

State Forms Recommended For Elimination

Elimination of 288 forms from the state Departments of Commerce, Labor and Natural Resources was recommended to Governor James Blanchard by a special business paperwork reduction consultant team.

Blanchard said elimination of the forms is already underway, with the Commerce Department expected to complete elimination of its recommended forms by the end of April with the other two departments expected to complete elimination of their targeted forms by 1985.

Neither Blanchard nor members of the consulting team could estimate how much the move would save the state financially, though one member said savings should be "considerable" as printing, storage and handling of the forms will no longer be necessary.

In addition, Blanchard said elimination of these forms will do away with the necessity of businesses completing and submitting some 98,500 pages of forms annually and estimated that would save 16,000 hours of paperwork chores.

The action eliminating the forms was praised by several business representatives, including Roger Haynes of the National Federation of Independent Business, who said the action would improve Michigan's image as a state to do business in.

The forms selected for elimination were chosen from approximately 1,000 forms reviewed—nearly one-third of all business related state forms—by the team which consisted of representatives from various state departments.

The team looked for forms that were duplicative, non-essential, required by outdated statutes or not required by statutes or rules.

Of the forms slated for elimination, 231 were in the Commerce Department and include such items as notices of intent to establish condominium projects, certificates of corporate dissolution, applications for mobile home park licenses, applications for permission to organize banks or branch banks and applications for different hours for bowling lane liquor service.

Another 47 forms will be eliminated in the Department of Natural Resources, such as license applications for game fish breeders, shooting preserves, game breeders and wholesale fish dealers which could be consolidated into one form.

In the Labor Department, eight forms would be eliminated or combined such as the employer's basic report of injury and a supplemental report on fatal injury.

Janet Norris Cox, forms design co-ordinator for the Department of Treasury, said the team met with some resistance from state bureaucrats when they first approached the departments and divisions on forms reductions, but were eventually able to win co-operation.

In addition, Blanchard said the team has developed and issued a computerized catalog of state forms, believed to be the first such catalog in the nation.

The catalog, developed with the help of the Independent Business Research Office of Michigan, will help trace duplication of forms across state departments.

Red Cross Banner Bid Is Too Late-But Wait

The Red Cross was technically too late in asking permission to fly a banner across S. Main St. to advertise its May 5 blood drive, but expect to see it anyway.

"I can't imagine that we would turn them down," village administrator Frederick Weber said. "I'm sure we'll find some way to get around the rules."

Those rules require that a request to place a banner across Main St. (or any other street) must be formally submitted to the village council, which must schedule and advertise a public hearing two weeks later. Another two weeks must intervene before the council approves or denies the request. The whole procedure takes about a month.

The council received the Red Cross' request at its April 17 meeting, and duly set a public hearing for May 1. If it were to follow the letter of its own rules, the council couldn't allow the banner to go up until after May 15, long past the blood drive.

"We'll think of something," Weber promised. "It may be a matter of just going ahead and doing it."

The Red Cross banner will be stretched across S. Main St. south of Old US-12, near Polly's. A Lions Club banner proclaiming White Cane Week will stretch across Main in the downtown business district at the same time.

Allowance Raised for Cleaning Uniforms

Chelsea policemen will be allowed to spend up to $400 a year to have their uniforms dry-cleaned, the village council decided. The old allowance was $300.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

If the fellers around the stove in the back of the country store have a long suit it ain't clothes. They don't know nothing about fashion and they git that mixed up, so it was unusual to hear them discuss such matters Saturday night. Zeke Grubb said he allus had known about Sunday go to meeting clothes and going to the doctor clothes, but going to court clothes is new to him.

Zeke had saw where the fashion model wife of this feller John DeLoren that's up on dope charges in California had a New York designer make outfits special fer her to wear to his trial. Since a woman makes a statement with what she wears more so than a man, Zeke said, he figured Mrs. DeLoren didn't want to say anything that could be used against her husband. Whatever she is saying fer him, Zeke said, it probable is costing her more than the $20,000 Priscilla Davis spent on court clothes on the advice of her lawyers when she was a persecution witness in the murder trial of her millionaire ex-husband in Texas a few years back. We've come a long way from white hats and black hats to court uniforms fer defense and offense.

There ain't no doubt that people form opinions based on what they see, and that includes the clothes they see on other people, Zeke allowed. When folks use to put on their oldest rags to go to the doctor they were saying they were dirt poor and the doc ought to find it in his heart to charge accordingly. Nowadays they have to put on their best so the doc's outer receptionist will think they're well covered with insurance and let em in the place.

Times change, Clem Webster agreed, and folks have to change with em. He had saw recent where banks now are putting automatic money machines at all-night service stations. The thinking here must be to let folks float a loan so they can fill the tank, Clem said, or just to let them do their banking in a well-lit place at all hours. Usual, it's hard to figger reasons, Clem said, noting that he had saw where a outfit that makes fuzzbusters brags in ads about how it promotes highway safety. The gadget warns speeders of police radar, and the idee is they make the road safer because when the fuzzi-buster buzzes the speeder slows down. The ads don't consider the angle that folks buy the radar detectors so they can drive faster without getting caught.

Some changes ain't fer the better, declared Bug Hookum. He had took note of the failure of the

Local Women Attend Meeting Of Church Women United

More than 250 women attended the annual state meeting of Church Women United at Second Baptist church in Ann Arbor. The afternoon consciousness-raising session on racism gave preparation for the fervent speech in the evening by former Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm. "The welfare check is a ticket to subsistence living... black people need to walk with dignity—be productive citizens, able to provide for their families." Mrs. Chisholm stated that the greatest enemy to our country is not outside its borders, but within—it is racism.

Friday workshops touched on the many concerns of Church Women United—a national ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women together into one "community of caring."

Workshops included Native American Advocacy, Central America, Ecology, Children, Alcohol and Drugs, the Caribbean, Jewish-Christian Dialog, Women's Issues, Epilepsy, Discovering our Oneness: US/USSR, Breaking the Chain of Violence and Crisis at the United Nations.

Sarah Goddard Power, who served at the United Nations from 1974-81, stressed the changes at the UN due to the emergence of new nations from colonialism, bringing the number of members to 157 with enormous diversity. Basic alignments have changed (US and USSR for example), national sovereignty can no longer be a basis for power in the world due to our interdependence. Other dramatic changes are the nuclear age and the violation of fundamental human rights—armed terrorism and the "disappeared"—for which 22 nations have been given citations.

Touching on the U. S. criticism of UNESCO, the UN organization that deals with education, scientific and cultural aspects of humankind, Mrs. Goddard said it is highly complex because it covers so many issues. Withdrawal would be a great hindrance to the U. S. in keeping up with international scientific expertise such as neurobiology and the mapping of ocean currents which influence climate.

In dealing with "Human Rights," the theme of the Assembly, Native American Advocates urged church women to support legislation which would allow Native Americans to maintain their cultural identity, and to object to stereotyping in educational materials. Advocates for the migrant farmworkers asked that local women support the Campbell Soup Co. boycott, which has been approved by the national board of CWU, until Campbell agrees to negotiate with the tomato farm-workers in setting prices which affect what they earn in the fields.

The Assembly closed Saturday with election of officers. Helen Hokenson of Adrian is continuing as president. Local women attending were Arlene Schroen, Joy Stacey, Louise David and Kathleen Chapman, Chelsea unit president.

Catholic Women Gather for Biennial State Convention

The biennial convention of the Lansing Diocese Council of Catholic Women was held at the Sheraton Inn, Flint, April 10-11.
 Keynote speaker, Anita Oleck, gave a very informative and inspiring address, "Sharing My Story—Survival and Beyond." Speaking from experience she gave the women an insight into what the separated and divorced Catholic faces in her community. (Her own marriage of 25 years and a family ended in separation and divorce.) She told those present that it is a deep emotional and traumatic experience, but somehow life goes on. During this time it is your faith and the support from others that helps sustain you.
 In conclusion she asked that compassion and love be shown to those in the community who are experiencing this trauma.

 Workshops were offered in International Affairs, Family Affairs, Parliamentary Procedure, Church Communities, and Organizational Services.
 The Rev. Raymond Schlinker, St. Mary's, Manchester, was the speaker in the Organizational Services workshop. He challenged the women to be alert to the kinds of programs offered on TV. He talked about the good and bad aspects of television and told his audience that viewers can influence what kind of program they would like shown on TV.
 Bishop Kenneth Povish and attending priests concelebrated Mass each day.
 Music for Tuesday's Mass was provided by Our Lady of Guadalupe Choir under the direction of Jesus Gomez. St. Robert's Youth Choir of Flushing, accompanied by Mrs. Wanda Yancho at the piano and directed by Mrs. Faith Yassuch, provided the music at Wednesday's Mass.
 Province Director, Zita Brady of Bay City addressed the women at the Tuesday luncheon.
 Election of officers for 1984-86 took place Wednesday with Jeanette Kirk, Manchester, president; Norma Lake, Flushing, vice-president; Mary Vhaeage, Flint, secretary; and Carolyn Levandowski, Holt, treasurer.
 The newly elected officers were installed at the closing Mass on Wednesday.
 Attending the meeting from Chelsea were Sister Helen Laier as voting delegate from St. Mary's and Kathleen Chapman, Washtenaw-Brighton Region president.
 The next biennial convention will be held in Lansing, in 1986. The national convention will be held in October 1985 in Orlando, Fla.

The Producer Price Indexes measure average changes in prices received in primary markets of the United States by producers of commodities in all stages of processing. These data were previously presented as the Wholesale Price Index, according to a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

First Aid Class

scrapes, bumps and bruises will also be discussed. A question and answer period will follow at the end.

The session will be taught by Dr. Mike Klinkman, a family physician at the Family Practice Center. Dr. Klinkman stated that, "Often the person giving first aid in these situations is worried about doing something 'wrong'; this makes it harder to remember some basic 'right' things to do." Dr. Klinkman will talk about the basic things to do, and explain some things that might mean more serious problems and should be referred to a doctor. All the information is aimed at taking some of the "worry" out of first aid.
 Dr. Klinkman has designed this session to be especially useful for playground supervisors, teachers, daycare workers, babysitters and parents. This session will be held in the classroom at the Family Practice Center, 775 S. Main Street, in Chelsea from 7 to 9 p.m.
 Pre-registration is requested and space will be limited. There is a $2 fee payable at the door. Call 764-8010 to register for the class.

God's Prison Gang Film Showing at Chelsea Church

God's Prison Gang, a recent film featuring some of the most notorious criminals who have experienced a spiritual rebirth, is being shown at the Chelsea Christian Fellowship church, 337 Wilkinson St., Friday, April 27 at 7 p.m.

The story was filmed in New York's Attica Prison and is hosted by Art Linkletter. The story tells how the work of the International Prison Ministry is accomplishing what the nation's prison systems with its great financial expenditures, have failed to do—keep inmates from returning to crime.

This 44-minute film graphically portrays the stories of George Meyer, Al Capone's favorite driver; Floyd Hamilton, the last of the Bonnie and Clyde Gang; Jerry Graham, the "robber king" of California; and Ted Jefferson, convicted of crimes from drugs and robbery to murder.

Also featured is "Chaplain Ray" whose Dallas-based International Prison Ministries has changed the lives of thousands of inmates over the past 18 years.

The Rev. Thode Thodeson, interim pastor of Chelsea Christian Fellowship and volunteer chaplain at the Cassidy Lake Technical School, urges all who are interested in the rising crime rate to see the film. There will be a free-will offering received for the International Prison Ministry.

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH

When do you see a chiropractor?

A common practice is to visit a chiropractor when there are back problems. This is good, of course, but it's really too limiting. The advantages of maintenance chiropractic care are largely overlooked.

An all too frequent pattern is that people will ignore a back problem "until it goes away." Then at a later date (it can take years), still another health problem, seemingly unrelated to the first problem, occurs. Actually, the first problem has led to the second.

When a vertebra is moved out of alignment, the nerves it surrounds can be affected, often hindering them in their work of serving, directly or indirectly, the body organs. Unless the "offending" vertebra is restored to its proper position, an increase in stress and a change in the body balance can result, and the musculo-skeleton (most directly involved are the spine, pelvis, shoulders and rib cage) can become distorted. So the original "little" problem can grow into something much bigger.

 This is the reason so many doctors of chiropractic recommend to patients the preventative visit, to maintain back health. Keeping the back in its normal state, the way nature intended, can easily eliminate many of the larger problems that can develop in the future.

When do you see a chiropractor? Certainly when you have health problems — but also before unseen problems grow to major proportions.

The amazing true story of Public Enemies who became God's Prison Gang.

A VIEW From the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

There's an old song which includes the line, "This could be the start of something big." I was reminded of it while writing the story for last week's paper about the signing of a sales agreement between the village and BookCrafters for a site in Chelsea's new industrial park.

I had some doubts when the idea for an industrial park was first put forward last year, and the 73-acre farm on Sibley Rd. was bought. Just about every community, large or small, has an industrial park these days. There are lots of them in Washtenaw county including a bunch around Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

I had a nagging pessimistic feeling that Chelsea was a Johnny-come-lately and could not possibly compete successfully for new or expanded industry. The economic history of the village over the past 20 years did not inspire confidence. It had been a litany of loss and decline in a town that had once boasted an exceptionally strong and stable industrial base.

I remember what my dad told me about the years during the 1940's and 50's when he travelled a triangular territory—Lansing, Jackson, Ann Arbor—selling industrial lubricants for Standard Oil Co.

"Chelsea was one of my best stops," he recalled. "I had four good accounts there. Those plants were all busy, and they bought something almost every time I called. It was a remarkable little town, and I had it pretty much to myself. My competitors all drove right through in a big rush to get to Jackson or Ann Arbor where the business was supposed to be. I did all right in those cities, too, but Chelsea was my ace in the hole."

A salesman hustling lubricants, or anything else that industry uses, would have a tough time making a buck in Chelsea these days.

BookCrafters' expansion into the industrial park is the latest bright spot in a picture that had been pretty dark until quite recently. The firm has succeeded in an extremely competitive national industry, and its decision to set up a fulfillment house here is an expression of confidence in both the business outlook in general and Chelsea in particular.

The fulfillment operation could have been located almost anywhere in the continental United States. More than 90 percent of BookCrafters' orders come from outside Michigan.

From what I know about the history of industrial parks, signing up the first client is the most difficult task of development. Once the park has something in it and can then show itself as a place that somebody has found attractive, others come in. It's a kind of follow-the-leader game, and I suspect it will be played here in Chelsea.

There have been some other hopeful signs. The first was the move of Hatch Stamping Co. into the former IPSCO plant earlier this year. The United Methodist Home will break ground soon on a $7.6 million expansion of its facilities. Chelsea Milling is scheduled to begin construction of a new mixing plant later this year.

All of those represent important capital investments in Chelsea, and all have or will bring new jobs into town, as will the BookCrafters' fulfillment house.

Even the "bad" news has been good in a way. I have spent considerable time as a news reporter chasing down rumors that both Dana Corp. and Federal Screw were planning to close up shop here and move out of town. Both are still open and operating and, unless I have been badly misled, will continue to be for at least awhile.

If forced to venture a prediction—nothing more than an educated guess—it would be that both Dana and Federal Screw will overcome their problems and stay here. Let me quickly add that I could be wrong.

A new retail enterprise, Chelsea Eyeglass Co., opened downtown a couple of weeks ago. The Grove Store has been bought by a strong retail chain which promises to make a vigorous promotional effort that could lead to remodeling the store.

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce is studying a proposal to revitalize the downtown business area. It's too early to predict what may come of that, but my hunch is that something will. The people backing the idea are energetic and imaginative.

Trying to add everything up and sort it out, I come up with a positive attitude about Chelsea's economic future. It just could be that, a couple of years down the road, an oil salesman would find the village a good place to stop and make some calls.

Why Do
You Say
"Hello"
to People?

DONALD A. COLE
Director

Most of us say "hello" to others because it's a way to acknowledge their presence and their worth to us. It's just one of many simple, common courtesies which mean so much.

During bereavement, the importance of courtesy, combined with genuine concern, is uppermost. That's one reason why so many area families rely on Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel in their hour of need.

PRINCIPAL HONORED: Bob Benedict, who has been principal at North school for 17 years, is moving to South school, but his present pupils, their parents and the school staff won't soon forget him. A special day was held in his honor last Wednesday. He's pictured here with Jeremy Montage, son of Gary and Marie Montage.

North School Holds Day for Bob Benedict

Bob Benedict, principal of North school for 17 years, was honored by North school students, teachers and parents last Wednesday. He will leave North school to become principal of South school this fall.

Parents decorated North school with banners, posters and balloons for "Bob Benedict Day." Students began the day by delivering a bouquet of helium-filled balloons to their principal.

The PTN prepared a luncheon for Benedict. The luncheon was attended by his family, the entire school staff, past superintendent Cameron and his wife, assistant superintendent Fred Mills, North school's next principal Bill Westcott, and PTN board members.

An assembly program followed the luncheon. Students sang a song for Benedict and gave him portraits which each child at North school had drawn of him. These will be bound by BookCrafters.

Mrs. Klink's third grade class performed a skit, and Sally Proctor, school secretary, read a poem which she had written for the occasion.

Roland Klink Enlists in Army

Michael Foster Named To Police Department

Michael R. Foster of 140 1/2 W. Middle St. was sworn in last Friday as a full-time patrolman in the Chelsea police department.

He replaces Pete Graves, who resigned to accept a park ranger position with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Foster, 25, is a native of Chelsea and a graduate of Chelsea High school. He has an associate degree in criminal justice from Jackson Community College and is working on his bachelor's degree in criminal justice at Michigan State University, where he is a senior.

"I'm going to be pretty busy for awhile working full-time in the police department and finishing up my education at MSU, but I'll find a way to do it," Foster said.

"I'm enthused about both. Having grown up here in Chelsea, getting a job in the police department here means a lot to me. The MSU education program is excellent, and I want to complete it to advance my career in police work."

Concerns Raised About Crossing At M-52 and Old Manchester Rd.

Questions have been raised by Chelsea Community Hospital and the Faist-Morrow automobile sales agency about the intersection at M-52 and Old Manchester Rd. on the village's south side. The hospital's concern is indirect in the sense that the crossing has nothing to do with traffic into or out of the hospital. Faist-

Morrow, which is located near the corner, has a direct interest. The two roads, coming together from the north, intersect at an acute angle which is very close to a hairpin turn. To turn right off M-52 onto Old Manchester, a motorist has to make what amounts to a U-turn. A similar turn is required for drivers headed south on Old Manchester who want to make a left onto M-52. "We realize it's a bad intersection," village administrator Frederick Weber said. "Something should be done about it, but getting it done won't be easy because there are three jurisdictions involved."

"M-52 is a state highway, and is also a village street. Part of Old Manchester Rd. is in the village, and another part is in Sylvan township. There would have to be some kind of a joint approach."

The intersection could be "squared" for normal right-angle turns in all directions by constructing an east-west connecting street somewhere north of the point where the two roads now meet.

"That's the obvious solution when you look at the map," Weber commented, "but it isn't that simple. It would require securing a right-of-way through private property now being used for business purposes. Somebody would have to pay that cost, as well as the cost for constructing the connecting street. The project wouldn't be cheap."

The best interim solution appears to be that motorists coming from the north to patronize Chelsea Lumber Co., Citizens-Trust and other businesses located along Old Manchester Rd. turn left at the traffic light at M-52 and Old US-12, and turn left again at Old Manchester Rd., instead of continuing south on M-52 and making the sharp right turn back north on Old Manchester. They should go back into town the same way.

"I think people are gradually learning that route," Weber said, "and are using it more, but that won't eliminate the problem. We'll still have a dangerous intersection out there, and I'm sure we eventually will have to do something about it, because there is going to be more commercial development, and more traffic, out that way."

Manchester Youth Completes Marine Recruit Training

Marine Pvt. Michael E. Kester, son of John E. and Fern P. Kester of 12639 Schleweis Rd., Manchester, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I would like to thank Helen Jones for her puckish letter (April 4, 1984). We might as well revel in the idiosyncrasy, it is all around us.

Correction

In a story on the Chelsea alumni band on page 6 of last week's edition of The Standard, the telephone number of Mrs. Judy Granger was listed incorrectly. The correct number is 475-9520. Mrs. Granger is asking former Chelsea High school bandpersons to contact her if they are interested in joining the alumni band for the village's sesquicentennial celebration.

Sewage Problems . . .

I think we have a good chance to comply with the new DNR rules by reducing it. If it turns out that we can't meet the requirements, we're at a standstill. I'm convinced the DNR isn't going to allow any exceptions."

The village has a $4.5 million blueprint in place to expand the sewage plant and bring it up to modern standards, and is hoping for a federal or state grant, or both, to help finance the project, which has to be completed by 1988 in any case. Otherwise, the village might literally have its water turned off.

The Party Tymers Belles and Beaus meet Friday, April 13, at the Party Tyme Barn. The meeting was called to order by Head Brush, Duane Landwehr. ty Jane Mary Bauer subdued a holster set in the scuffle. After the arrest of the Head Brush, Head Bustle Winona Landwehr called the meeting back to order. Head Bustle read a challenge from the Outhouse Gang and the Ladies of Flush, for a blood battle May 5, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., losers are to provide the vital nourishments. The challenge was accepted. Royal Rural Rooster Rooter Kidnapped Veretta Whitaker, member of Royal Rural Rooster Rooters, was kidnapped Sunday by Waterloo Sodbuster Lilles from her nest while in a deep sleep.

According to Whitaker, she first thought it was a dream—being thrown into the Sodbuster Paddywagon and hauled to the desolate wasteland of Waterloo. She realized that the experience was a nightmare-come-true when the kidnapers forced her to drink Waterloo Brew.

Shortly afterward, Whitaker's rooster and baby chicks clucked with rejoicing when their mother hen was returned to the nest, unharmed, few feathers ruffled. The incident is being investigated by the Keystone Kops.

Few Seats Available for Tiger Baseball Game

There are still seats available on the two buses going to the Tiger baseball game on Sunday, April 29. The buses will be leaving the Fairgrounds at 11:30 a.m., and the Tigers will be playing Cleveland. The tickets are $18 per person, which includes the game ticket. O & W Distributing will be providing refreshments for the trip. The game will be televised on WDIV-Channel 4, and there is a chance that those attending will be on TV sometime during the afternoon. There are not many seats left, so if you want to attend, please contact Ruth Leach at 475-7329 by Saturday, April 28, at the latest.

Chelsea Hardware will be carrying the latest in Sesquicentennial items. They will be selling derby hats, baseball caps, ties, shirts and plastic ice tea glasses.

Last Wednesday night, Jamie Bollinger was arrested by the Keystone Kops at the Wolverine, while attending a banquet. The warrant for his arrest was read by Rueben Lesser, who authorized Jamie's arrest for: 1) Failure to have a permit to date, 2) Being out of uniform, and 3) Collaborating with the enemy. The arrest was unusual, as Jamie is a head sheriff with the Kops. They are after everyone, so make sure to wear your badges at all times! Jamie was taken out of the Wolverine and put into the paddy wagon, along with his date for the evening, and was not seen again that night!

Lumberjack Contest Challenge Issued

Any groups interested may challenge other groups to events after the original contest has been completed. Come on out and cheer for your favorite group!

To: The Wolverine Wildcats and the Wild Woolly Town Tamers.

Sunday May 6, 5:30 p.m. in the Veteran's Park parking lot is when our challenge is to take place.

The object of our brave tray race, is to carry glasses at a fast pace, without spilling or leaving a trace.

We need 10 of your Brothers of the Brush and 10 of your Belles. Who'll win no one can tell.

—The Woodshed Squatters and Standers.

Although the day was a little chilly and the clouds were sometimes dark, the Tug-of-War over Letts Creek was a big success, and lots of fun, both for those who participated and those who watched. The Treated Studs and their sister group, the Stud Finders, had challenged all Brothers and Belles groups to the Tug-of-War.

Judge of this event was Fred Mills, who brought his trusty pistol with him to begin each tug.

The women started off, and after elimination, the Woodshed Squatters were the winners. The men's unlimited weight event was won by the Keystone Kops, and the men's limited weight tug was won by the B-Team, although the Keystone Kops question how many men were really on the B-Team's end of the rope!

Groups that participated in the Tug-of-War were:

Women—PYTs, Stud Finders, Farmers Foxes, Waterloo Lillies, Salmagundy Girls, Woodshed Squatters, Carriage Belles, Brewery Belles, Prairie Belles Belles of the Knight.

Men—Treated Studs, Keystone Kops, Jaycees, Woodshed Standers, Snow Brushes, Moonshiners, The B-Team, Waterloo Sodbusters, Basement Savers, Foxy Farmers, Brewery Boys, Seltz's Farms Exchange.

The Treated Studs would like to thank Fred Mills for officiating, all the chapters who participated, and all of the spectators, who came to see someone get wet, and who weren't disappointed!

Most Village Employees Receive No Increases In New Pay Schedule

Except for adjustments in the cases of a few individuals, Chelsea village employees will receive no significant pay increases this year, the board of trustees decided at their April 17 meeting.

By unanimous vote of the five members present the council decided, in effect, to freeze the present wage and salary schedule during the 1984-85 fiscal year.

It required a fairly complicated series of steps to arrive at that rather simple result.

Village employees' salaries were last raised in 1981-82. During the next two fiscal years, workers were granted cost-of-living "bonuses" of five percent and three percent.

For this fiscal year of 1984-85, the five percent granted in 1982-83 has been added to base pay, raising wages accordingly. The other three percent will continue to be paid as a quarterly bonus.

It all adds up to a very slight increase which can literally be measured in pennies. When the three percent cost-of-living addition is applied to the higher base rate, everybody will get a little bit more, but not much. Three percent of five percent is .0015, and that's a small number.

Administrator Frederick Weber, public utilities superintendent Charles (Bud) Hafner, two members of the police department and four other employees all had their pay adjusted upward.

Hafner, who was given his new title late last year, went from $10.55 per hour to a $26,000 salary. The difference, based on a straight-time work-year of 2,080 hours, is more than $4,000.

Weber was given a $600 raise. The salary for the vacant police chief's position was put at $24,150. Fire chief Paul (Bud) Hankerd will receive $125 a month plus $7.88 per hour actually worked as a volunteer.

Hankerd questioned the hourly rate for firemen, noting it is lower than that for many other village employees and includes no fringe benefits. Fringes add an extra 42.5 percent to the pay of full-time village workers.

"You are volunteers," village president Jerry Satterthwaite told Hankerd. "Nobody is forcing you to work."

"We're having a hard time getting volunteers at the present pay rates," Hankerd said back. "I think you're going to have to do something for the firemen. You're getting good fire protection in Chelsea, and you're getting it awfully cheap."

"We did the best we could within the limits of the budget we had to work with," trustee Joe Merkel said. "We tried to recognize people who had earned raises, but we decided we just didn't have the money available to give everybody something. As it is, we are looking at a tax increase."

Suggestions from the large crowd which filled the second-floor council room were that various other individuals be considered for raises. The council listened, but then adopted the wage and salary schedule as presented.

4-H Exploration Days Registration Deadline Near

Time is running out for 4-H members to register for Exploration Days, the annual state-wide event held June 20-22 at Michigan State University.

The event attracts more than 4,000 4-H members and leaders from across the state, who participate in learning activities on topics ranging from rocketry and computer programming to fine arts and animal science.

"4-H Exploration Days is a fantastic opportunity for young people ages 12 and over to participate in action learning by gaining hands-on experience in one or two areas of interest," says Judy Ratkos, co-ordinator of state-wide 4-H events.

The event also provides 4-H'ers an opportunity to live and eat in campus residence halls for three days and get a taste of college life.

Interested 4-H members and leaders should contact their county Co-operative Extension Service office to register or for more information.

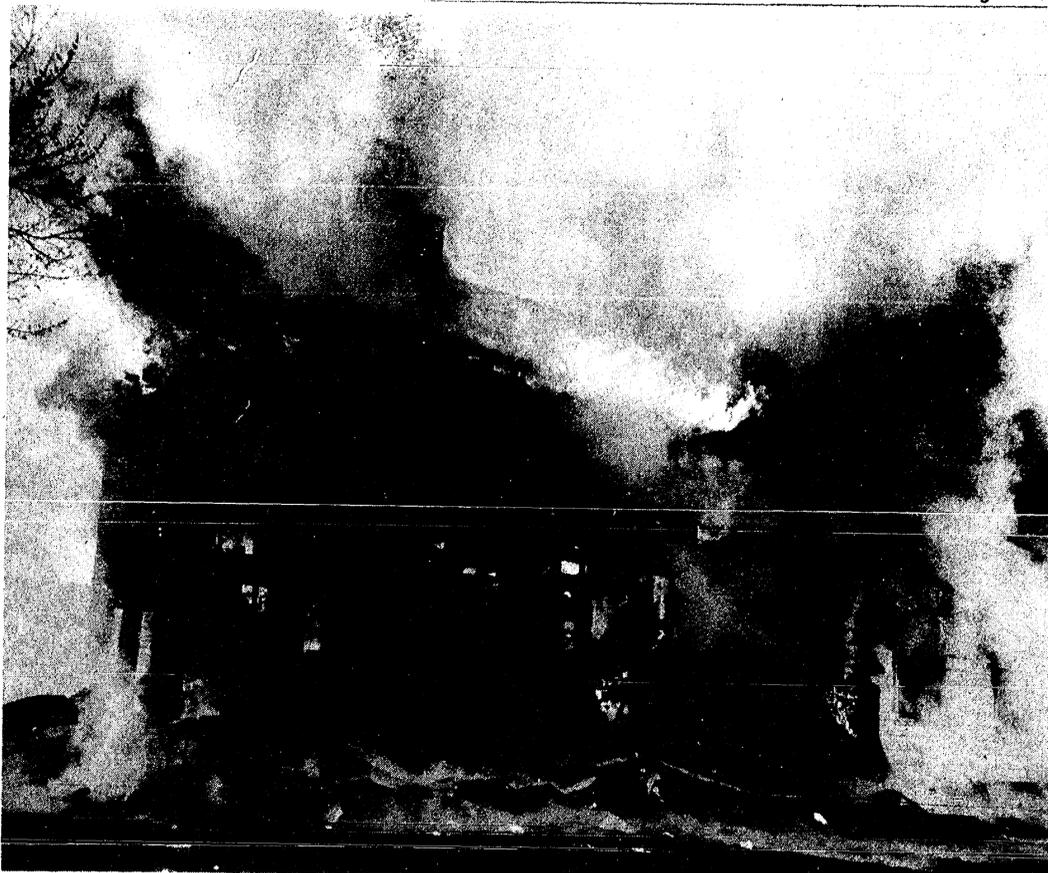

The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Labor Department is the only federal agency devoted exclusively to the concerns of women in the labor force, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

ABOUT TO GO DOWN: This picture was taken shortly before the walls of the farmhouse at 11272 Joslin Lake Rd. caved in following a fire last Friday afternoon. An exploding kerosene heater is believed to have started the blaze.

Historic Old Farmhouse Destroyed By Raging Fire

An historic farmhouse at 11272 Joslin Lake Rd. in Lyndon township burned to the ground last Friday in a fire thought to have been caused by an exploding kerosene heater.

The two-story frame building, believed to have been more than 100 years old, went up in flames despite efforts by the Chelsea, Dexter and Stockbridge fire departments.

There was no estimate of the dollar loss, which included the large house, all its contents, and a small shed behind the dwelling. Two large barns and other out-buildings were saved.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jaskot of Chelsea, whose son, Steve, is a member of the Chelsea fire department. Mrs. Jaskot, who was at the scene, said the farm had been in the family for three generations.

The rental occupants of the home, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Reilly, fled to safety after first trying to put out the fire with hand extinguishers. There were no injuries.

Chelsea firemen received the alarm at 11:53 last Friday morning and made the eight-mile run in 10 minutes over a treacherous route of twisting roads. The last two miles northwest on Joslin Lake Rd. off N. Territorial Rd. are especially difficult to travel at high speed.

When the first fire truck arrived, the interior of the house was ablaze, flames were beginning to come through the roof, and a cloud of dark gray smoke, visible from Chelsea, was rising high into the sky.

With the help of their cohorts from Dexter and Stockbridge who arrived minutes later, the Chelsea firefighters attacked and tried to knock down the fire, spraying more than 11,000 gallons of water in 15 minutes. Their work was unavailing.

When it became clear that no part of the house could be saved, Chelsea fire chief Bud Hankerd ordered that effort be concentrated on wetting down the out-buildings to keep them from igniting because of the intense heat.

That proved successful, as tankers went to nearby sources to refill with water and return to the scene.

A small shed located just a few feet behind the house did burn, but other buildings were preserved. Two tanks of propane and two large, raised gasoline storage tanks were close to the fire but did not blow up.

"Those old frame farmhouses are just like chimneys," one fireman said. "Once a fire gets going good, there is no way you can put it out. The wood is old and dry, so you have an excellent source of fuel. There aren't any fire stops or anything else to hold it back."

Firemen remained on the scene until late Friday afternoon, putting out hot-spots and keeping an eye out against a possible flare-up.

Softball Team Wins Two from Fowlerville, Runs Record to 6-0

Chelsea's varsity softball team ran its season record to 6-0 with a pair of victories over Fowlerville, 3-0 and 13-1, on the Beach school diamond.

Beth Unterbrink gave up just one hit while striking out seven and walking none in the opening game.

The Bulldogs scored all their runs in the second inning. JoAnne Tobin delivered the key hit with a single that drove in two runs. Chelsea managed only three hits during the game but made them count.

Hawker threw a two-hitter in the second contest, which ended at the end of six innings under the mercy rule. Hawker fanned eight while walking five.

Lori Polcik's three-run homer in the bottom of the six put the Bulldogs ahead by 10 runs and ended the game. Unterbrink, Folcik, Tobin and Hawker each had two hits for the Bulldogs.

During the six games played to date, the four-girl Chelsea pitching staff has given up a total of only two earned runs on 14 hits, while striking out 49 and walking 20.

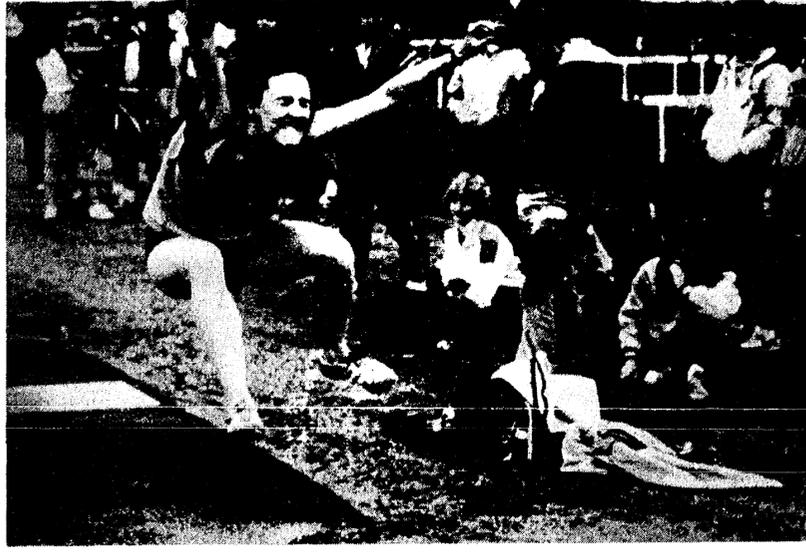

Unterbrink leads the team with a .555 batting average on 10 hits in 18 at-bats, followed by catcher Joyce Robards who is nine for 17 and .529. Tobin is hitting .466 with seven for 15.

Bulldog coach Charlie Waller is especially happy with his pitching staff of Unterbrink, Hawker, Tobin and Margie Rawson, all of whom have turned in strong performances.

"Right now, they all look to be about equal," Waller said. "One of them may emerge as our top pitcher, but I wouldn't want to predict which one. It's nice to have that kind of pitching depth."

The scheduled double-header between the two schools' junior varsity teams was postponed because of bad weather at Fowlerville.

Chelsea Net Squad Loses Saline Match

Chelsea boys tennis team managed to complete its first regular-season match last week, losing 7-0 to Saline. Two meets scheduled earlier, against Pinkney and Howell, were rained out.

Start of the Saline match was delayed an hour because of the weather, and the courts were wet when it was played, but that probably didn't make much difference, Bulldog coach Theresa Schreiner said.

"Saline has a very strong team, we are inexperienced," Schreiner commented. "We are just going to have to play and learn. The weather isn't helping any."

Not helping either was the fact that Chelsea's No. 1 singles player, Greg Markle, was out with illness, which meant that all four other singles entrants had to move up a notch.

The No. 1 doubles team of Thom Schumann and Kurt Eisenbeiler made the best showing for the Bulldogs but lost, 6-3, 6-3.

Softball Team Whips Saline, 11-2, in Drizzle

Chelsea's softball team opened its defense of the Southeastern Conference championship with a bang last Monday, thumping arch-rival Saline, 11-2.

The victory put the undefeated Bulldogs at 7-0 for the season and 1-0 in the SEC. The game was played at a wet Dana field during a steady drizzle, and was remarkably well done under the conditions.

Saline jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first inning as Bulldog starting pitcher Margie Rawson just plain couldn't get up to speed. With the bases loaded and two out, Chelsea coach Charlie Waller brought in Beth Unterbrink, who got the needed strike-out.

Unterbrink pitched the rest of the way, fanning a total of 12 while walking two, giving up just one hit and allowing no runs. She was in total command and got stronger as the game went on.

"Beth did a great job out there," Waller said. "She had excellent control and good speed. She was throwing a rise ball, which isn't easy when the ball is wet and heavy."

Chelsea scored three runs in the bottom half of the first to take a 3-2 lead, added one in the fourth, and then broke the game wide open with three tallies in the fifth and four in the sixth.

The Bulldogs garnered 10 hits off Saline pitcher Holly Knepper and also took advantage of her wildness. Knepper issued a bunch of walks and threw several wild pitches.

Joyce Robards, Laura Anderson and Lori Polcik had two hits apiece for Chelsea.

Waller credited catcher Robards for handling Unterbrink well behind the plate. "Joyce has developed into an excellent catcher," he said. "She calls all the pitching signals. Last year I sent some signs in to her. This year she's doing it all. She's learned how to call for the right pitch at the right time."

JV Softball Team Whips Saline, 19-6

Chelsea's junior varsity softball team walloped Saline, 19-6, at Dana field Monday afternoon in a game that ended after five innings under the mercy rule.

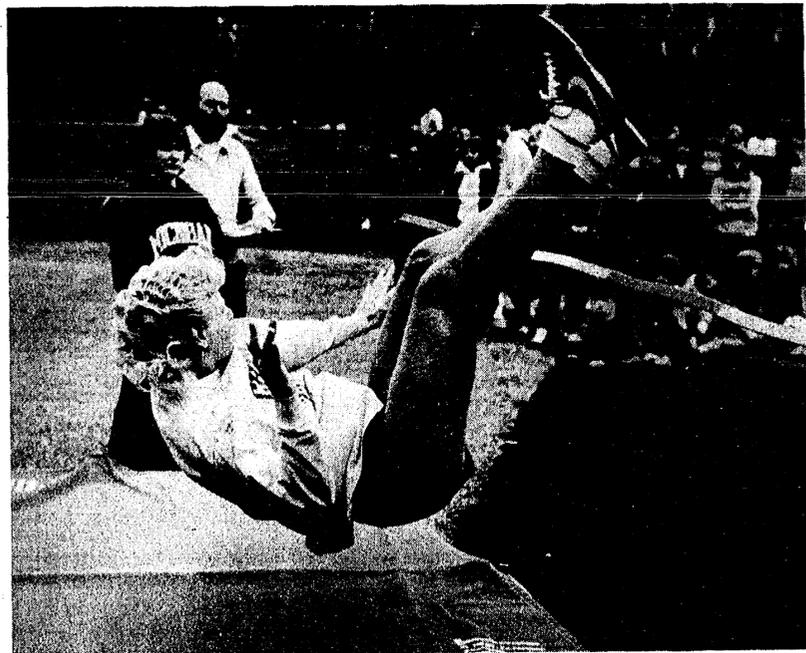

Chris D-Fant pitched all the way for the Bulldog JV's. Michelle Easton and Jennifer Cattell contributed key hits, and shortstop Cattell turned in some excellent play in the field.

"We're improving," coach Bill Wescott said. "We have good talent, but it's been a little slow coming together into a team. You can blame the weather for some of that. We haven't been able to get outside and practice fundamentals as much as I would like, and it shows in our play. We'll be all right with some more practice and game experience."

Stockbridge Youth Completes Army Basic Training

Army Pvt. Richard D. Conley, son of James R. and Irene Conley of 4806 Hinkley Rd., Stockbridge, has completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

COMPETE IN CHELSEA RELAYS: Long jumper Sue Young (top photo) shuts her eyes and grits her teeth as she makes an all-out effort in the long jump at last week's Chelsea Relays, which once again had to be held at Dexter because

Bulldogs Sixth in Chelsea Relays With Best Finish Since 1981

Hillsdale used a second place in the meet's final event to come from behind and edge Tecumseh, 46-44, to win the Chelsea Relays last Thursday. Southeastern Conference rivals Saline and Milan tied for third with 36 points. Chelsea was sixth out of 13 teams with 21, the Bulldogs' best finish in the meet since 1981.

The meet was close all the way. Tecumseh placed in all four field events to take an early lead. Hillsdale went ahead with wins in two of the first three running events, but Tecumseh came back with a first, a second and a fourth to hold a five-point lead going into the final event, the 400 relay.

Saline, scoring in eight of the first 10 events, and Hartland were tied with 31 and still had a chance to take second place. Milan was in fifth, five points behind. With Milan winning the 400 relay, Hillsdale second, Saline third, and Tecumseh not scoring, Hillsdale had the championship and Milan had moved into a tie with Saline for third.

Chelsea didn't score in the field events but had strong performances in four running events to earn sixth. The 3,200 relay of Laura Damm, Rachel Schmell, Stephanie Roberts and Sallie Wilson led much of the race, but was edged out by Hartland to finish second in 10:30.9 to Hartland's 10:26.2.

The sprint medley of Carol Warren, Paula Kuzon, Edie Harook, and Amy Wolfgang lowered the school record in that event by two seconds with a 1:56.7 and finished third.

Wolfgang anchored with an excellent :59.8 400 split.

Marla Feldman, Laura Heeter, Mary Ann Richardson and Robin Mock combined to run a 14:15.2 distance medley and finished fifth.

The 1,600 relay team of Wendy Wolfgang, Carol Warren, Laura Damm and Amy Wolfgang finished second in 4:13.7, pushing Livonia Ladywood to a meet record 4:12.2.

One other meet record fell as Erie-Mason's shot put relay of Yvonne Laderach and Deanna Campbell not only defended their championship, but pushed their meet record out almost two feet to 66-11 1/4. Laderach's throw was an excellent 38-7 1/4.

Softball Team At Brighton On Saturday

A change has been announced in the Chelsea High school softball schedule by athletic director Ron Nemeth.

The Bulldog girls were scheduled to play at Birmingham Groves on Saturday, but the double-header was cancelled because Birmingham will be on spring vacation.

Instead, Chelsea will participate in the Lee Shelander Softball Classic at Brighton, sponsored by the Livingston County Press.

The Bulldogs will play their first game in the single-elimination six-team tournament at 11 a.m. Saturday against the winner of an earlier contest between Brighton and Williamston.

Other schools entered are Fowlerville, Hartland and Okemos. The championship game is set for 2:30 p.m.

Table Tennis Tourney Set For Saturday

The Chelsea Table Tennis Club will hold a tournament in the Beach school gym Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. and continuing through the day. Entry fee is $5.

Gerald Scharphorn, director of the club, said there will be a total of 20 different events with players classified according to age, level of ability and gender.

Cash prizes will be awarded and paid out of entry fees. Thirty percent of the total paid in for each event will go to the winner, and 20 percent to the second-place finisher. The club will retain the other 50 percent to cover expenses.

Nasty Weather Disrupts Spring Sports Schedule

A two-week spell of almost continuous wet weather has made a mess out of Chelsea High school's spring sports schedule to date.

"We expect some problems in April, but this is ridiculous," athletic director Ron Nemeth said. "We're piling up so many postponements that it's going to be hard to find holes in the schedules to play them later in the season. You can't ask kids to play every day. They have to go to school, too."

As just one example, the varsity baseball team was supposed to have played seven games through last Monday. It actually played one. The JV baseballers have yet to take the field in competition.

Two tennis meets have been rained out, and so has a track meet in which both boys and girls teams were slated to run against Saline. The weather has to be really bad for a track meet to be called off, and it was.

Thanks to the availability of Dana field, the varsity softball team has been able to play its schedule to date. The JV softballers missed two games.

The nasty weather has also delayed completion of Chelsea's new track, and there is no telling at this point when it will be ready for even temporary use.

"We fully expected to be able to hold the Chelsea Relays here last week," Nemeth said, "but we had to go to Dexter instead. Right now I can't tell you when we might have the track ready. We need about four days of sunshine, and the weather forecasts don't show anything like that coming along soon."

"At this point I'm praying."

Chuck Downer Has 6 Innings Of No-Hit Ball

Sometimes the "mercy" rule works the wrong way, and it did last Thursday afternoon as Chelsea sophomore baseball pitcher Chuck Downer, making his first varsity start, was deprived of a chance to record a regulation seven-inning no-hitter.

The game ended after six innings with the Bulldogs ahead of Fowlerville, 10-0. Under high school baseball rules, a game is called whenever one team leads by 10 or more runs once five innings or more full frames have been played.

"It's too bad that Chuck didn't get a chance to complete the game," coach Wayne Welton said. "He wanted it badly, and I believe he could have done it. He was pitching very well."

Downer gave up only one hard-hit ball, a line drive that first baseman Chuck Hager speared. He struck out seven and walked two while throwing mostly fastballs.

"He moved the ball around real well," Welton said, "and he never got in trouble. He was in command all the way."

The game was the first end of what was supposed to be a double-header, but the second game was called after three innings because of darkness with Fowlerville leading, 4-2.

The game that counted was scoreless for three innings. Chris Gallas led off the Bulldog fourth with a triple, and Downer drove in the only run he needed with a single. Chelsea added another tally in the fifth and sixth to end the game.

David Bushway had two hits and three runs batted in, and Jay Marshall two and two. Ron Dunn also contributed two hits.

Welton praised Rick Boham as having done an outstanding job of catching. "He called the entire game and handled Downer very well," Welton said. "I didn't send in a single sign from the bench."

The victory gave the Bulldogs a 1-0 mark on a season that had seen four games rained out.

TAKE NOTICE that the Sylvan Township Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing on Monday, April 30, 1984, at 7:30 in the evening at the Sylvan Township Hall, 112 West Middle Street, Chelsea, Michigan 48118 for the purpose of hearing public comment on the following amendment to the Sylvan Township Zoning Ordinance.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SYLVAN TOWNSHIP ZONING ORDINANCE SYLVAN TOWNSHIP PRIVATE SITES DEDICATED TO COMMON USE (P-5 DISTRICT)

SECTION 1. INTENT.
The P-5 District is established for all private riparian sites which are dedicated to common use. Private riparian sites are: lands held in common by a subdivision, association or any similar agency; or held in common by virtue of the terms of a plat of record; or provided for common use under deed restrictions of record for riparian access or riparian use of a body of water.

The intent of this section is, in support of the general intent of this Ordinance, to provide for necessary lands and uses required by the needs of Township residents and visitors.

B. PERMITTED PRINCIPAL USES AND STRUCTURES.

All lands in a P-5 zone shall be maintained and used for common purposes, such as:

1. Recreational sites, including bathing beaches, playgrounds, boat launching sites, and other recreational areas, adjoining a body of water.
 2. Trails, bicycle paths, walk ways, and access routes, which adjoin a body of water.
- C. PERMITTED ACCESSORY USES AND STRUCTURES.
1. All structures, facilities, and uses customarily incidental to the permitted Principal Uses.
- D. AREA AND BULK REQUIREMENTS.
P-5 Sites Dedicated to Common Use shall conform in all respects to the area and bulk requirements of the adjacent Districts which they are intended to serve.
- E. GENERAL REQUIREMENTS.

1. Limitation of Uses.

The specific uses assigned for common utilization under the terms of sub-section B are to be limited to areas zoned P-5. PRIVATE SITES DEDICATED TO COMMON USE. No residential agricultural or commercial zoned lot can be used for these common purposes.

2. Riparian Access for Non-riparian Lots.

If a riparian lot or parcel is zoned P-5, giving access for common uses by non-riparian lots or parcels, the following conditions shall apply:

- a. The deed to such lot or parcel shall specify the non-riparian lots or parcels which shall have rights to its use.
- b. Such riparian lot or parcel shall have a minimum frontage of one hundred and fifty (150) feet, a minimum area of thirty thousand (30,000) square feet, and its design shall be subject to Site Plan Review. Frontage shall be measured by a straight line which intersects each side lot line at the water's edge.
- c. Not less than thirty (30) feet of riparian frontage shall be provided for each non-riparian lot or parcel so served.
- d. A non-riparian lot or parcel which is occupied by more than one dwelling unit (duplex or Multiple Residence) shall require the provision of thirty (30) feet of riparian frontage for each dwelling unit occupying said lot or parcels.
- e. Not more than one boat mooring for each dwelling unit served may be placed upon the riparian lot.
- f. The non-riparian lot which is served by the riparian lot, shall conform to the regulations of its zoning district.
- g. If five (5) or more households or dwelling units have the beneficial use of a riparian lot or parcel shall be improved with a bath and lavatory facility and served by a central water and sewer system or a well and septic system in accordance with the Ordinances and Regulations of the Washtenaw County Health Department.

All interested parties will be heard at said meeting. The Petition and supporting papers are on file in the office of the Sylvan Township Clerk, Mary Harris, 415 South Main Street, Chelsea, Michigan 48118 during regular business hours by appointment.

Chelsea took four first places: Gar DeYoe, discus, 129-8 1/2; Scott Cooper, 440-yard dash, :53.7; Kyle Kemmish, 880-yard run, 2:08.7; Eric Green, two-mile run, 10:36.5.

The Bulldogs' two-mile relay team of Scott Cooper, Green, Kemmish and Allen Cole won a second, as did the 440-yard relay quartet of Dan Fenton, Ed Brosnan, Scott Miller and Dean Boote. Green placed second in the mile, and Mark Spayd was second in the 330-yard low hurdles. Third places for Chelsea went to Spayd in the 120-yard high hurdles, DeYoe in the shot put and Ed Brosnan in the pole vault. Cooper was fourth in the long jump.

"We were running a little bit hurt," Bulldog coach Bill Wehrwein said. "Tim Bowdish was out with a sprained ankle. If he had been able to run, I think we could have won both the mile and two-mile relays. Dan Fenton is an excellent pole vaulter, but he has a sore heel. He can run pretty well, but the injury cramps his vaulting style."

"We're improving, but we have to get better yet to be competitive in our Southeastern Conference dual meets."

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

A long-ago friend, now dead, who lived on Portage Lake had a "spearing barge" which he used every year in the Huron River and its chains of lakes during the early spring. I had a lot of good times aboard it.

The so-called barge was a home-made affair, a rectangular box with low sides. A rear bracket held a small outboard motor. Up front was a Rube Goldberg contraption of welded pipe from which a couple of gasoline lanterns were suspended. The lanterns were the key to the operation.

The barge was big enough to accommodate six people more or less comfortably provided you didn't mind standing up, and my friend regularly invited several of us to share in his sport. We would gather after dark, light the lanterns, and cruise slowly, spears held at the ready to impale any legal target that might present itself.

The targets were mostly carp, of which the Huron River system then had, and still does have, an over-abundance. We speared carp up to 20 pounds. There were occasional gars and bowfins to add some variety, but carp were the mainstay of the sport. There were lots of them, and they were concentrated in the quiet, shallow back-waters where carp come to spawn.

Even when loaded with six people the barge could navigate in water less than a foot deep. It was a marvel of practical design and construction.

The spears, also home-made, were about 10 feet long and were intended to be jabbed rather than thrown. Letting go of the spear was a no-no. A "lost" spear floated, thanks to its wood handle, but it had to be retrieved, and that was a chore. Maneuverability was not one of the barge's strong points. It could hold a straight course and navigate curves, but wasn't very good about backing up and turning around.

When you agreed to go along on one of those spearing trips, you committed yourself to an all-night venture. You brought along a sack full of sandwiches and a cooler filled with beverages of your choice so long as they were non-alcoholic. (Looking for an overboard drunk in the middle of the night in that unwieldy barge most likely would have been a futile exercise.)

You could figure on getting home just about in time to shower, shave, dress and go to work. You could also figure on coming into town with an impressive load of carp to give away to local citizens who had been alerted that some "free fish" might be coming.

I can recall a couple of times when we speared so many carp that we darned near sank the barge under their weight. We had to plant our feet and keep them there while the fish piled up around our ankles and up toward our knees. If you tried to move, you would likely step on a fish, slip and fall.

As dawn neared, we docked, put the haul in washtubs, lifted them into station wagons, drove into Ann Arbor and dumped the load on the sidewalks of the neighborhood where we had been told people would be waiting for them. They were, even at the unlikely hour of 6 o'clock in the morning. The walls were clean within minutes.

There is a trick to spearing carp or any other fish, a matter of learning that they aren't where your eyes tell you they are. The scientific principle of refraction makes any under-water object look to be higher and closer than it really is. I made a good many futile spear thrusts before learning to correct my aim and picture the target as being deeper and farther away.

Three or four other spearing barges also ran regularly through the Huron River system during the spring weeks. We often passed another during our forays in the night. The "traffic" didn't seem to matter much. The carp might spook if approached too closely, but soon returned to the places they had chosen to spawn.

Another vivid memory is of the monster walleyes we sometimes saw, fish that would easily have weighed 10 pounds or more. It was illegal to spear them, of course, and we held off, but the temptation was strong. Walleyes of that size were almost never caught by legal hook-and-line tactics, although I and a good many other anglers tried. We also saw some hefty bass and pike, far larger than any we ever took from the river.

It was, literally, an illuminating experience. The glaring light from those gasoline lanterns revealed an underwater world that day-time boaters never see.

Red Cross Honors Volunteer Instructors

Several area residents were honored at the fifth annual instructor recognition banquet held by the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross on April 6 in Ann Arbor.

Purpose of the event was to recognize outstanding service provided by volunteer instructors and community organizations in Red Cross safety programs.

A national certificate of merit signed by President Reagan, the highest award given by the Red Cross, was presented to Manchester residents Sue Brunk and Donald Steele, who used two-rescuer cardio-pulmonary resuscitation to save the life of a co-worker last year.

A pin honoring five years of service was awarded to Daniel Ellenwood of Chelsea.

Certificates of appreciation for hours of service were presented to:

1,000 hours—Larry Reed of Chelsea, Paul Lemon of Manchester and Betty Lambarth of Pinckney.

500 hours—Thomas Kemp of Chelsea and Wilma Burrows and Peggy Foss of Pinckney.

300 hours—Ernest Cameron, Kathleen Cameron and Donald Henson of Chelsea, and Dennis Beta and Frederick Bonine of Dexter.

John Deere

When John Deere builds an economy rider, only the price is stripped down.

5-speed shift-on-the-go gear transmission for smooth operation and durability.

Optional 6 1/2-bushel bagging system for efficient collection of grass and leaves.

Sector-and-pinion steering for easy turning and positive control. Tight 27-inch turning radius.

Band-on-axle brake for quick, reliable stops and secure parking.

8-hp Briggs and Stratton engine with solid-state ignition for plenty of reliable power.

Deep-contoured 30-inch mower with adjustable cutting heights of 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 inches and a 12-inch opening for clean bagging or uniform discharge.

Two-position foot-rests for comfortable operation.

Until now, if you wanted to buy an economy rider, you had to settle for economy features. But this year, John Deere introduces the R-70 and the electric-start R-72, two solid economy riders that are built to uphold the John Deere tradition for quality.

Each comes with several features you won't find on competitive riders. And each is built with an attention to detail that'll keep them running for years.

So if you want to save on a riding mower, but you don't want to sacrifice comfort, convenience, performance or reliability, take a look at the new R-Series riders at your nearby John Deere dealer.

Memoriam 18

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Waldo B. Steinaway, Sr. (Pappy). What I would give to clasp his hand, his happy face to see, to hear his voice and see his smile, that meant so much to see.
 His Wife and Children

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Katherine Cavender, our beloved wife, mother, and grandmother who passed away one year ago, April 28. You were always there loving us and taking care of us. Until one day you were taken from us. Even though we have loving memories of you as the days pass by, our hearts still ache as tears are wept for you. We try to visit your resting place each and every day. But it's not the same as having you here and wishing it didn't have to be this way. Ma, we are taking each day as it comes. Because life does go on. But your smiling face and loving ways are still as fresh as yesterday to us. The love that's in our hearts and the memories of you will be forever. But you are still very sadly missed by your loving family who loved you very very much.
 Husband, Owen F. Cavender.
 Daughters, Barb & Alice Cavender.
 Son & Daughter-in-law, Spark & Nina Cavender.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Chairman, Board of Trustees National Assoc. of Investment Clubs & Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I'm writing to ask if you can help me with a tax matter. Some family members and myself would like to invest in mutual funds on a "club" basis. This is all well and good, except that one person has to supply his social security number to a fund in order to report gains, losses, dividends, etc., to the IRS by the fund. This has the result that only one person is liable for all gains and losses, even though all persons supply an equal amount for investment and should share equally, with the IRS, all gains and losses.

Can we form an investment club that distributes income and losses to members without accruing tax liability to itself?

A. An investment club partnership should meet your needs very nicely. It is organized much like a mutual fund and the record keeping is much the same.

As an investment club partnership, you obtain a tax number for the partnership from the IRS, and all transactions are reported under that number. The club itself will not be a taxable entity, but a conduit through which all income and expenses is allocated to the members. Each participant will be required to report as part of his taxable income each year, his share of the club's income and expenses. The club itself can request an exemption from filing a tax return.

It is not necessary that you each have equal investments. A good record system permits individuals to put in different amounts and draw out a part of their investment, yet maintain perfect equity between all the accounts.

Actually you are not correct in assuming that if one person handled all the transactions in his name, that he would be liable for all the taxes. The Treasury has a form 1087 which an individual can file to advise that certain transactions made in his name represent the property of others, and are taxable to them and not to him. However, I believe the investment club partnership form would be the cleanest and easiest way to handle this problem.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments, but will answer only through this column. Readers who send in questions on an investment subject or on a corporation with broad investors' interest, whose questions are used, will receive a complimentary one year's subscription to the investment magazine Better Investing. We would be pleased to send a copy of Better Investing Magazine or information about Investment Clubs to any reader requesting it. Please send your request to Today's Investor, P.O. POWER FOR INDUSTRIAL PARK: Heavy-duty electrical lines are being extended west along Sibley Rd. to provide power for Chelsea's new industrial park where BookCrafters, Inc., is scheduled to locate a storage and delivery fulfillment house this summer. Up in the bucket is Danny Moore.

Council OK's Actions On Industrial Park

The village council took several actions April 17 in connection with development of the Sibley Rd. industrial park.

A zoning ordinance amendment was initiated to "square up" the property that BookCrafters, Inc., has agreed to buy as the site for its new storage and distribution center.

The land involved is a strip 400 feet long and 26.7 feet wide along the north edge of the property. As the preliminary layout for the industrial park was drawn, there was a "jog" in the boundary line.

The rezoning recommendation was forwarded to the planning commission.

The council voted to spend $13,644 to move the Consumers

Power Co. electric lines which cross the industrial park north to Sibley Rd., where they will not interfere with development.

In a related matter, the council decided that electrical power to the park, to be provided by the village, will be distributed from overhead rather than underground lines. Underground conduits are several times more expensive.

A public hearing was set May 15 on Chelsea's application for a $220,000 grant under the Michigan Small Cities Economic Development program.

Asked the purpose of the hearing and what it might accomplish, village administrator Frederick Weber said, "I honestly don't know, but the rules say we have to hold one, and so we will."

Finally, the council authorized Weber to sign all documents necessary for the grant application.

Two More Escape From Cassidy Lake

Two prisoners escaped from the Cassidy Lake Technical School early Monday morning, bringing the walk-away total to 14 for the year so far.

"The 14 is a correct figure. Prison officials acknowledged that they had miscounted earlier, and that there had been one more escape than previously reported."

Thomas B. Fish, 22, and Richard McKinley, 18, both of Muskegon, left the institution some time after 2 a.m. Monday.

Fish was serving 3-10 years for felonious assault, and McKinley 3-10 years for larceny from a person. Both are assaultive crimes.

A proposal to build a new 80-resident dormitory at a cost of $800,000 is being considered by the State Senate in Lansing. If approved, the facility would help provide tighter security at Cassidy Lake. Prisoners presently are housed in cabins which were originally constructed for other purposes. They are difficult to guard. Each cabin accommodates 8-9 inmates.

The new two-story building would place 80 prisoners under one roof. A second such dormitory is proposed to be built later.

Baby Judging Contest Set By Baker's Dozen

In days to come, when someone tells a Chelsea native that he or she "must have been a beautiful baby," that resident may have a prize to prove it.

Area children will have a chance to compete in the Baker's Dozen Plus, a baby judging contest installed as part of this year's Sesquicentennial celebration.

Judging categories in the contest are broken down by age group, with newborns to one-year-olds holding down the anchor slot. A contest for one- to three-year-olds is next in line, followed by competition for the "bigger kids," ages three to five.

Any number of children in the family may be entered, but only one photo per child may be submitted. The entry deadline is May 25. There is no entrance fee, and no late entries will be accepted.

Photos must be less than one month old, and cannot be returned. They must be no larger than 3 1/2 inches by 5 1/2 inches, and should include (on the back of the photo) the child's name and birthdate, as well as the parents' name, address, and phone number.

All photos will be on display at Dancer's Department Store. Votes cost 25 cents, with no limit on the number of times a person may cast a ballot.

Winners will be announced June 23, and prizes include a ride for the winning folks and kids on the Baker's Dozen Plus float in the Sesquicentennial Parade on June 30.

All children entered will receive a certificate of participation.

Scott Prohaska Helps Albion Group In Appalachia

Scott Prohaska, a senior biology major at Albion College and son of Mr. and Mrs. David Prohaska, 14580 Stofer Ct., was one of 26 students who recently surrendered their spring break to work in the ice and snow of the Appalachian Mountains.

Organized as the Appalachian Service Project, the students braved snowed-in roads, rain, and freezing temperatures to get to Cherry Grove, W. Va., where they spent their vacation clearing pastures, chopping wood, and repairing a home, to aid the two mountain communities of Cherry Grove and Phillippi.

The students camped out during the project, sharing cooking, cleaning, and fire duties while staying in a wooden yurt - a copy of a Mongolian tent.

Tuesday Is Problem Day For Home Meal Service

Tuesday seems no different from any other week-day, but don't try to tell that to the women who arrange deliveries for the Chelsea Home Meal Service.

"We're still looking for volunteer drivers on Tuesdays," Joyce Manley said, "and we have been for two years. We don't have any trouble with other days of the week; including Saturday and Sunday. Tuesdays have been a problem, and they still are. I really don't know why."

Volunteer drivers for Tuesdays are urgently needed, Mrs.

Manley said. Interested persons may call her at 475-2795 or Ann Feeney at 475-1443.

Drivers pick up packaged meals from the United Methodist Home at 11 a.m. and deliver them to home-bound persons in the village.

The meals are packed in insulated containers and weigh less than a pound each. No heavy lifting is required.

The service, which is supported by the Chelsea United Way, can use substitute drivers for any day.
