CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1984

TREE TOPPLES: A big tree blew down on E. Middle St. during Monday's windstorm, temporarily blocking one lane of traffic while village crews cut it up and hauled it away. The public works department was very busy all day.

WIRE DOWN: If you look closely, you will see an electric wire running through the top of this tree limb that was broken off by Monday's high wind. About 30 such damage calls were received by Chelsea's public works department during the 24-hour gale.

TRASH ALL OVER: Village householders had done a thorough job of collecting their junk and putting it out at the curb for the annual spring pick-up, when Monday's windstorm hit. A lot of the trash wound up in the streets and on neighboring lawns as the wind picked it up.

RETIRING: Last week was "Be Nice to George Week" at Chelsea High school as teachers and staff members honored George Prinzing, who will retire next month after more than 29 years as a teacher of social studies.

'Be Kind to George' Week Honors Retiring Teacher

Last week was "Be Nice to George Week" at Chelsea High school, sponsored by the staff development and school improvement committee.

George Prinzing will retire at the end of this year after teaching social studies in Chelsea for 29 years.

He received small gifts in his mailbox all week, and on Wednesday was picked up in a wheelchair in the parking lot and pushed into the office. A pot-luck lunch was given in his honor on Friday.

Prinzing has lived in Chelsea most of his life. He is currently residing in the house that belonged to his parents, where he has lived since he was five years old.

He graduated from Chelsea High school in 1937.

Prinzing served in the U.S. Army during World War II from 1941-45, and has used that experience to entertain his social studies students with many real life stories.

He first taught in Three Oaks from 1947 to 1952, then taught in the Benton Harbor area from 1952 to 1955. During that time he was the junior high basketball coach, and tutored Chet Walker, who went on to become an all-star professional player.

Prinzing returned to Chelsea in 1955. He and his wife have lived here since that time. They have raised six children, all of whom have gone to Chelsea schools. His son, Glenn, will graduate this June. Two of his children have followed in his footsteps. His son, Paul, is a teacher, and his daughter, Laurel, is the media specialist at south school in Chelsea.

Prinzing's impact on both the school system and the community stem from his personal commitment to service. On several occasions the Kiwanis Club benefited from his ability to get an ornery film projector to work. Teachers throughout the school system relied on him to replace burned-out projector bulbs, send in film requests, and to repair broken pulleys. He was always willing to put another person's schedule ahead of his own.

New courses in the social studies department were introduced after Prinzing invited students to come in before or after school to study new topics. He willingly taught new classes when student requests added them to the curriculum. Despite his seniority in the department, he set his teaching assignment after others had first selection of teaching schedules.

His teaching effectiveness allowed him success with people of different ability, background, and circumstances, including inmates at Cassidy Lake Technical School.

Monday Windstorm Called Worst Here Since 1938 Blow

What a veteran Chelsea village employee and resident called "the worst windstorm we've had here since 1938" caused a lot of trouble but surprisingly little serious damage Monday.

Charles Hafner, superintendent of public works, said the storm was unusual because it lasted so long.

"Normally, when we get high winds around here, they blow for maybe five minutes out of a thunderstorm, and then they are all over," Hafner said. "This storm was different. It just blew and blew for about 24 hours."

Gusts in excess of 60 miles per hour were reported in west Washtenaw county during the storm, which began shortly after midnight Monday and continued through the day until subsiding late in the evening.

There were scattered electrical power outages ranging from a few minutes to more than an hour. The most serious occurred in the southeast quadrant of the village. A fallen tree knocked down a primary line and cut off electricity to several dozen homes for about 90 minutes.

"Most of our problems were in that southeast section," Hafner said. "We had about 30 calls on power failures, and most of them came from there. Except for the one primary line, they were generally individual households where tree limbs had fallen and knocked down wires coming off the main lines into homes."

A transformer on Jefferson St. shorted out during the storm, adding to the electrical problem, but Hafner said he did not believe that incident was storm-related. "It was one of those things that was going to happen, and it did. It could have picked a better time to do it."

Hafner credited a crew from Kent Power Co. of Muskegon, which has been contracted by Chelsea to provide electricity to the Sibley Rd. industrial park, with giving valuable assistance to village crews struggling to cope with the wind damage.

"They had men and equipment here, and they pitched in and helped. We would have had a lot more delays in restoring service if they hadn't worked with us. Believe me, we'll help them finish their job on Sibley Rd."

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reported scattered residences temporarily cut out of service because of downed lines, but no major breakdowns. Service was generally restored within minutes.

The most serious dollar damage was done to three motor vehicles.

A second-floor window blew out of the Sylvan township hall, 112 W. Middle St., and fell on a car owned by Ina P. Howard of 449 Railroad St., breaking the auto's rear window.

A large tree limb came down on two cars near the intersection of South and Congdon Sts., causing extensive damage to both. The cars are owned by Deborah A. Diedrich of 6825 Hashley Rd., Manchester, and Sandra K. Cole of 16840 Kilmer Rd., Chelsea.

The Chelsea fire department responded to five calls to take care of downed electrical wires and threatened fires. Four of the alarms were sounded during a little more than an hour between 2:59 and 4:04 p.m., and kept firemen continuously on the run. None resulted in severe loss.

Adding to the storm-caused confusion was the fact that village residents had piled large amounts of trash on curbs in anticipation of the annual spring pick-up which started yesterday.

A lot of the junk wound up in new places as the high winds scattered it all over.

"It was kind of like driving through a snowstorm with all that trash blowing around," Hafner said. "There were times when it was dangerous because you couldn't be sure what might come at you next."

Hafner added that residents were co-operative about going out and retrieving the lost junk and piling it back in front of their homes. "We'll collect it just as quickly as we can," he promised. "There's a lot of it out there, maybe a couple of hundred truck-loads."

Victims of the storm included half a dozen large, old trees that snapped under the pressure of the wind. "Most of them looked to be sound," Hafner said, "but they had weak spots and gave way."

"We're lucky. If this storm had happened after the trees were leafed out, we would have had them down all over the place."

Large trees that blew over were reported on South, E. Middle, Park, Washington, E. Summit and W. Summit Sts.

Otherwise, there were problems with shingles blown off roofs, siding ripped off houses, and various other nuisances. All things considered, it could have been worse.

The wind finally calmed early Tuesday morning as utility crews and private citizens went about the business of cleaning up the debris.

WILL CONNELLY of the Chelsea Sesquicentennial committee exhibits two historical books now on the printing press. On the left is the 125th anniversary book published in 1959 and now in process of republication. On the right is a paste-up of the forthcoming Sesqui book, authored by Connelly.

Sesquicentennial Book Being Printed

"Chelsea's First 150 Years," a commemorative book of the community's sesquicentennial celebration, has gone to press and copies should be available by June 1. Written by Will Connelly, the book is based on historical information, advice and suggestions from more than 100 area persons and sources.

"The 1959 book," Connelly said, "is regarded as a community treasure. Copies of the 25-year-old book are so scarce that the Sesquicentennial Committee is having 2,000 reprints published. The 1984 book makes no effort to repeat all the historical information printed in the 1959 edition. Instead, 'Chelsea's First 150 Years' offers brief summaries of the earlier years and then takes appreciative glances at what has transpired in the past 25."

There are chapters on the origins of Chelsea and its pioneer years, followed by other segments on such topics as our churches, education, the community hospital, government services, organizations, industry, sports, agriculture, local centennial farms and the community fair.

The centerfold is a panoramic map of Chelsea in 1881, reproduced under the sponsorship of Chelsea Milling Co.

The book will publish, for the first time ever, a list of all known Chelsea war veterans who have died during or after American wars since 1812. The veterans list consists of more than 500 names. It is considered far from complete by the author and its researchers, Linda Montgomery (Continued on page five)

Chelsea Bands Continue Tradition

"Your performance of this piece of great band literature was outstanding! I have heard only a very few high school bands come close to your facility, maturity of expression and style. Congratulations on having the privilege to participate in this fine musical organization." These are the comments of Prof. Joseph D. Parker of Kentucky's Asbury College as he judged the Chelsea High school symphony band.

Prof. Parker adjudicated at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's State Band and Orchestra Festival held in Chelsea this past Saturday. Pass

Reed, director of orchestra at Eastern Michigan University, Prof. Elizabeth Green, of the University of Michigan and Henry Nelson retired from director of bands at Haslett High school also served on the panel.

The symphony and freshman concert band received First Division-Superior Ratings as they participated with 25 bands and orchestras from southeast Michigan.

The freshman band was the only Class D Band to receive a First Division of the five in that classification. "A remarkable (Continued on page six)

Chelsea High school's symphony band received a royal welcome, including standing ovations, during its trip to Mexico City last weekend. Performing in the International Band Festival, the band got top marks from the judges, one of whom wrote: "It's not hard to tell that the kids value their band very much and have an extreme amount of pride in accomplishment. Your community should be very, very proud of you."

A workshop program has been scheduled for June 9 during which staff members of the Washtenaw County Planning Commission will tell local businessmen how they can revitalize the village's downtown district, using available federal funds.

Legalizing Slot Machines Proposed for Michigan

Representative Thomas Scott (D-Flint) recently announced plans for a petition drive on a proposed constitutional amendment to legalize electronic slot machines and earmark half of the profits to property tax relief.

Scott said he expects at least $1.5 billion to be produced by 160,000 to 170,000 slot machines placed in licensed liquor establishments.

He announced the group backing the proposal will pay petition circulators 20 cents per signature in a crash drive to collect about 400,000 signatures by July 9 to qualify for the fall ballot. Some 304,001 valid signatures are required to get a constitutional question on the November ballot.

The electronic machines would be placed only in establishments serving alcoholic beverages by the glass and would be regulated by the Liquor Control Commission.

Scott, a year ago, proposed legislation for the Lottery Bureau to authorize electronic slot machine gambling, but that legislation has not been given serious consideration by the House leadership.

Scott said it was because "recalls and slot machines don't mix," referring to successful recalls against two state senators and petitions being circulated on several other legislators as a result of last year's income tax vote.

As a result of the recalls, members of the Legislature are somewhat gun shy in voting for anything considered controversial.

"The attraction of this proposal is that it does not involve new taxes, yet does produce revenue which will be used to lower property taxes. The plan would ease the property tax burden, be healthy for tourism in Michigan, create jobs and guarantee a fair payback for those who want to play the games," he said.

The proposal would provide that 80 percent of the gambled money be paid in jackpots.

Of the profit, 50 percent would go for property tax relief, 45 percent to machine owners and establishments where they are placed, 3 percent to the liquor commission and 2 percent for local revenue sharing.

Additionally, local governments could level an annual fee of $300 per machine with half earmarked for law enforcement.

The property tax relief would be in the form of a maximum credit equal to 3.5 percent of a household income, with the Legislature authorized to set a maximum income limit.

If the gambling produced revenue beyond that needed for the formula, it would be devoted to education.

Scott reported Nevada gets $2.4 billion a year from its slot machines (both mechanized and electronic) and expects Michigan to do better than that eventually.

The Flint legislator said he expects the strongest opposition to come from the Michigan Council on Alcohol Problems. He noted he has gained the support, but no financial support yet, from the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association and said he expects most of the state's 9,000-plus taverns to help.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

When is news old? The fellers kicked this around at the country Saturday night and come to the notion that the question is old because it has been on the agenda before. Bug Hookum said he brung it back up after seeing where there was a good bit of to do last month about one of the television networks deciding the space shot was old.

Bug said CBS didn't show the launch because after 10 of em the next one looks like all the rest. The network said it would show the shot if somepun unusual happened, which Bug said he took to mean somepun bad. This goes to prove, Bug went on, that no news is good news and vicer vercer. To rest his case, Bug noted how last November all the networks and all the papers showed fer the 1,000th time all the shots on the 20th year of the worst news ever in Dallas.

Clem Webster was strong disagreed with Bug. Clem allowed he is of the school that holds life is one darn thing after another, not the same darn thing over and over. Clem said he'd go along with variety being the spice of life, but you got to understand that we make the spice. A man needs to know he's helping build a bridge that folks will use and admire fer generations, not just busting the same rocks or bolting the same steel he done on the last job, was the parable Clem spoke.

General speaking, the fellers sided with Clem. It was Zeke Grubb that said if Bug's idea takes holt television will shut down from now til October. We're coming up on the season fer the same thing over and over, Zeke declared, when the next show won't just look like the last one, it will be the last one. Now that we got year round football, folks that foller it might be able to tell the next game from the last, Zeke said, but everything else this summer is going to look warmed over even if it ain't.

Fer instant, went on Zeke, them that take Bug's view say when you've heard one political promise you've heard em all, and after you see one embassy blowed up all the rubble looks alike. In Bug's world there wouldn't be no TV commercials, Zeke said, cause nobody runs one only onct. Without commercials that work like Chinese water torture, Zeke went on, "where's the beef?" never would of come to be the way to ask fer everything you want to know about anything.

Actual, Ed Doolittle pointed out, news runs in cycles, so it ain't easy to keep it new. Ed said he had heard man ain't never had but seven original ideas, and the rest is just different potholes in the same road. If a feller was to come in late and start watching the evening news for the first week of May 1980, Ed said, he'd be hard put to know it was news and not olds. There's just so many ways to skin a cat, Ed declared, and in one campaign or another some politician has come up with all of em. As fer the weather, he went on, we're still talking about it, but we still ain't done nothing about it.

Personal, I figger everthing I don't know til I find it out is news, and there's still a heap I ain't sure of.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stapish

Charles Stapishes Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stapish, formerly of Chelsea, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner given in their honor last Saturday. They were married on April 28, 1934, in St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Mr. Stapish retired from Federal Screw Works in 1975, and was also a life-long farmer. The couple moved to Lewiston following retirement. Their interests include travelling, glass painting, and arts and crafts.

Mr. and Mrs. Stapish have two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth (Mary Kay) Cheetham of Parma and Mrs. Arden (Ruth Ann) Musbach of Chelsea; two sons, Charles Stapish, Jr. of Chelsea and Ben Stapish of Middleville, 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Church Women United Will Honor Caralee Hoffmeyer

Church Women United of Chelsea will honor the late Caralee Hoffmeyer Friday with a posthumous Valiant Woman Award. The award will be accepted by her husband, Jim Hoffmeyer of 146 Orchard St.

Mrs. Hoffmeyer, 49, died Jan. 5. She had been active in local church and community activities. She was a founding member of the Chelsea Home Meal Service, and played in the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra.

The presentation will be made as part of the program for May Fellowship Day, observed by Church Women United across the country on the first Friday in May.

This year's event will recognize Hispanics and the heritage from which they came, and will focus on the family as central to Hispanic culture.

As a minority in the United States, Hispanics number 20 million. By the end of the 1980's, they expect to be the largest ethnic minority in the United States. As a group, they are experiencing a loss of identity through assimilation and want this May Fellowship Day to celebrate their Hispanic heritage.

Church Women United is a

Christian movement that brings together more than half a million Protestant, Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women into one "community of caring." Working through a national organization, 51 state units and more than 2,000 local groups, these committed church women work for and fund a variety of local, national and global programs supporting the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

May Fellowship Day will be celebrated by the Chelsea unit at the First United Methodist church, Park St., with a pot-luck lunch at noon on Friday. All women in the community are invited to attend.

A program will be presented under the direction of Dorothy Antis of North Lake Methodist church.

It is hoped that Hispanic women in the community will join in the observance. Babysitting will be available.

A comparison of company records showed that production workers aged about 65 had better attendance, health and injury records than younger workers.

Community service chairman Joyce Vogel reported special project gifts distributed this month include $150 to McKune Memorial Library, $150 to the Chelsea High school scholarship fund and $100 to the Methodist Home to purchase new equipment to be used by volunteer nurses in the monthly blood pressure clinic. This brings the club's contributions to local organizations to an annual total of $1,000.

The club observed the passing of member Ruth Schenk with a moment of silence and a gift in her memory will be placed in the McKune Library.

At the annual business meeting, convened at the close of the regular meeting, officers elected to serve a second term were: president, Myra Colvin; treasurer, Pat Chriswell; parliamentarian, Betty Oesterle. CHS Forensics Team Gives Program for Modern Mothers

The Chelsea High school forensics team entertained modern mothers with interpretive readings at the final regular meeting of the club year last Tuesday. Their selections included drama, serious, humorous, dual and multiple reading.

A business meeting was held with reports from all standing committees. The Easter egg hunt held April 21 at Arend Tree Farm saw 50 children scrambling for eggs or treasures.

Election of officers was conducted. They include president, Debbie Peck; vice-president, Judi Wahl; corresponding secretary, Leslie Bowers; recording secretary, Nancy Benjamin; treasurer, Judy Steger; program, Mitzi Lewis; and finance, Sue Williams.

Modern Mothers will host the annual honors banquet on May 10 at Chelsea High school.

The final social event of this program year will be held on May 22 at the Brandywine restaurant in Jackson. Secret pals will be revealed at that time.

The land wasn't even surveyed until 1909, Flintoft noted.

"In those simple days the legal lot boundaries were written as 'north by the lake, south by the swamp, east by your eastern neighbor, west by your western neighbor.' Believe it or not, those descriptions stood up when they were later tested in court."

No celebration is planned on May 12. The club has held a Fourth of July picnic every year during its 100 years of existence, and will observe its centennial on July 4 this year.

"I have a feeling it may turn out to be quite a party," Flintoft said. "There's a lot of tradition and history out there. We will commemorate the occasion appropriately."

Never overlook the value of snake venom, say wildlife specialists. One ounce of freeze-dried king cobra venom, used by doctors and medical researchers, goes for about $3,000—more than nine times the per ounce price of gold.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

If you don't believe that the state of Michigan holds the village of Chelsea by the throat, I suggest you go back and read—carefully—the front-page story in last week's edition of The Standard headlined "DNR Tells Village to Hold the Line on Sewage Volume."

What that means, in simple terms, is that Chelsea can't grow significantly until something is done about the sewage treatment plant that was built in 1937 and is pitifully inadequate to meet the needs of today, let alone tomorrow.

It's time for village government to get off the dime and do something, rather than just sit back and wait for extensions and ultimate bail-out. All the brave talk about an industrial park, new business, a revitalized downtown won't mean much until the sewage plant problem is solved.

The DNR did give the village a bit of breathing room by specifying that the treatment plant could handle up to 700,000 gallons of waste a day, which is 100,000 gallons over its rated capacity. Right now, daily discharges sometimes exceed a million gallons a day.

The difference is "infiltration," leakage of surface water into Chelsea's old sanitary sewer lines. By stopping at least some of that, the village can buy a little time, but there is a limit to how far that fix-it-up process can go.

Sooner or later—probably sooner—the village is going to be backed against the wall. The DNR has reserved the right to examine every new construction permit that village officials propose to issue, and to deny any that would add to the sewage load. The escape clause is that an equivalent amount of waste water can be removed from some other source.

Having worked in the DNR for 17 years and knowing the people who studied the problem and issued the conditional permit for Chelsea's waste treatment plant to continue operating, I can say with some confidence that the DNR means business. Requests for exceptions aren't going to be granted, period.

The DNR has the authority to order Chelsea's sewage plant shut down. I doubt that will happen, because it would serve the interests of nobody, but I have no doubt the department can get mighty tough, and will if necessary.

The village is under an order to expand the sewage plant and add tertiary treatment no later than 1988. Four years may seem like a long time, but it isn't so far as such projects go. The job needs to be started in 1986 to be completed on schedule.

Village officials are lying in the weeds, waiting and hoping for a federal grant to help accomplish a piece of work estimated to cost $4.5 million, which is a bundle of money. The grant may or may not be forthcoming. My guess is that it won't be. The Reagan administration is not sympathetic to environmental protection, and is drying up funds. At the same time, the administration has taken no steps to ease the laws requiring that the environment be protected. What it adds up to is that local jurisdictions are going to have to take on the burden themselves.

Chelsea, I suspect, will have to build and pay for its new sewage treatment plant without help, and the village might as well get started. If a grant should come along sometime in the future, it would be a nice piece of luck, frosting on the cake, something like hitting big in the state lottery.

Whenever and however the facility is built, why not finance it right this time?

Governments operate as if there were no tomorrow. The idea of setting money aside to provide for future needs seems never to occur. Well-run private enterprises build something, set up an amortization schedule, and put dollars away to replace it at the end of its anticipated useful life.

Had such common-sense business management been applied when Chelsea's sewage plant was constructed in 1937, and a few thousand dollars a year paid into a replacement fund, the accumulated principal and compounded interest would have provided the needed $4.5 million and then some. If you don't believe that, ask your banker. Money makes money at a remarkably rapid rate.

Be all that as it may, I suggest that Chelsea get going right now on the sewage treatment facility it will have to build someday, and break the DNR's strangle-hold on the village's throat.

Hospital Receives Lions Club Gift To Aid Hearing Impaired

Chelsea Community Hospital Emergency Services has been equipped with a Voice/TDD Telephone System through a $600 donation from the Lions Club. Phillip Radant, president of the Chelsea Area Lions Club, presented the donation along with David Prohaska to Susan Roark, R.N., of the Emergency Services staff. Roark pursued the acquisition of the device for the Hospital after taking a class on sign language for the deaf.

The TDD is a telephone with a visual print-out for use by the deaf population. It is located in the Hospital's Emergency Service for 24-hour availability. A deaf caller with a similar device at home can communicate the need for emergency assistance where before this was not possible.

The Lions Club has sponsored other health care needs for individuals and organizations. Hearing impairments are one of the areas they support.

"The Hospital hopes to use the TDD to its fullest by Networking assistance services to aide the deaf," said Susan. "One call will alert a number of agencies to the individual's needs."

White Cane Week Tells Reasons for White Cane Law

White Cane Week, April 27 through May 5, not only develops funds for impaired sight and hearing projects for the Chelsea Lions Club, but also re-emphasizes the existence and purpose of the White Cane Laws to Michigan drivers. The passage of the right-turn-on-red law permits a convenience to the driver but to the sight impaired person it is a serious problem.

Michigan's White Cane Law has two acts dealing with the unsighted:

- 1) requiring all motorists to stop at least 10 feet from blind persons carrying White Canes or being led by a Leader Dog in harness;
- 2) requires all public facilities to permit a blind person with a Leader Dog in harness to enter or use those facilities.

Help the Chelsea Lions Club through your generous donation and remember the White Cane Law!

Members of the Chelsea Lions Club will be out in force this week-end, Friday and Saturday, to conduct their annual White Cane fund raising drive. Donations received from the sales of the miniature white canes are used to provide help to local citizens with impaired sight and hearing as well as to provide funds for community and school activities.

The drive is the main source of funds that the Lions Club has to finance their aid to the blind program. Without the generous support of the Chelsea citizens this assistance could not be carried out. Last year over $1,300 was raised during the two-day drive. These funds were used to provide assistance for:

- eye exams and glasses for four Chelsea residents
- Chelsea and Washtenaw County Special Olympics
- two Chelsea High school girls to Girls State
- Faith in Action program
- camps for handicapped
- CATS (Chelsea Area Transportation Authority)
- maintain free sight screening clinics
- Leader Dog, Michigan Eye Bank, and Welcome Home for the Blind
- Chelsea High school scholarship fund.

Your generous donation for a White Cane from a local Lions Club member will help these programs to continue.

In addition to writing the book, the author served as advertising manager, making sales calls on scores of stores and industries. He obtained 48 ad contracts, producing enough revenue to cover the entire cost of publishing 7,000 copies of the book along with an equal number of mailing envelopes.

The books will be sold by the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Committee with the assistance of Boy

Personal Service Is the Benefit of Personal Commitment

DONALD A. COLE
Director

In the funeral profession, there's absolutely no substitute for dedicated, personal attention.

That means efficiently attending to all the details of funeral service, of course. But to the people at Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel, it goes beyond that. It means showing genuine interest in the families they're privileged to serve.

It is this kind of help which prompts so many Chelsea area families to depend upon Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel when death occurs.

Matthew Schnaidt Wins West Point Appointment

Matthew Clifford Schnaidt, son of Daniel and Joan Schnaidt of 20938 Waterloo Rd., had won an appointment to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

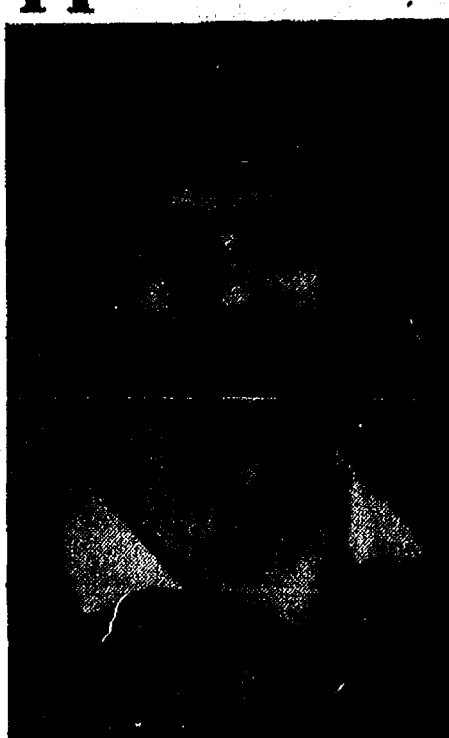

He will graduate in June from Michigan Center school and will report to West Point later in the month. The family lived in Michigan Center until moving back to Chelsea recently, and Matthew is finishing out his senior year there.

The Schnaidts formerly lived on Railroad St. in Chelsea, and Matthew attended Beach Middle school. He carries a 4.0 high school grade-point average while competing in track and wrestling and working part-time at a Michigan Center supermarket.

He was nominated for West Point by Congressman Carl Pursell.

"We are, of course, very pleased," Mrs. Schnaidt said, "and so is Matthew. He is anxious to go and start. He has always been a busy young man who takes things seriously. He looks forward to the challenge at the academy."

The Schnaidts have eight

children, several of whom are enrolled in the Chelsea school system. One is studying at Eastern Michigan University.

At today's prices for a four-year education at a first-class private school, the appointment is worth at least $50,000.

accomplishment considering the other Class D bands were composed of upper-classmen with 50-80 members and our 35-piece ensemble without a tuba or french horns still managed a First Division," said William Gourley, director of Chelsea bands.

The symphony band received all 1's and all A's and A pluses from the adjudicating panel.

This continues a nine-year tradition of all 1's for the symphony band at district and state festivals. This heritage includes such accolades as "I've never heard any band play that piece ('Holst's Second Suite') better," said Prof. Parker. "You young people are lucky to have this fine conductor as your leader," from Prof. Green.

The Chelsea bands will present a concert on Thursday, May 17. Prof. Dennis Smith, trombonist from the University of Michigan will be a guest soloist. The Beach Middle school and high school bands will feature pop music and concert works. Plan to attend and be a part of the continuing and growing tradition of the Chelsea bands.

Few people realize that bats are gentle, intelligent, meticulously clean and frequently beneficial animals to man, say wildlife experts. They eat pest insects, are nature's most important seed dispersing mammal, and pollinate many valuable crops of fruit and nuts.

SLIDE GOES UP: A spiral slide purchased through joint efforts of teachers and parents was installed on the North school playground last

Chelsea Music Student Amy Weir Qualifies for Selected for Blue Lake National Twirler Meet

Willem Van Reesema, son of Frederik and Carole Van Reesema of Chelsea, has been selected as one of nearly 1,000 talented young musicians who will participate in the 15th annual Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp International Exchange program.

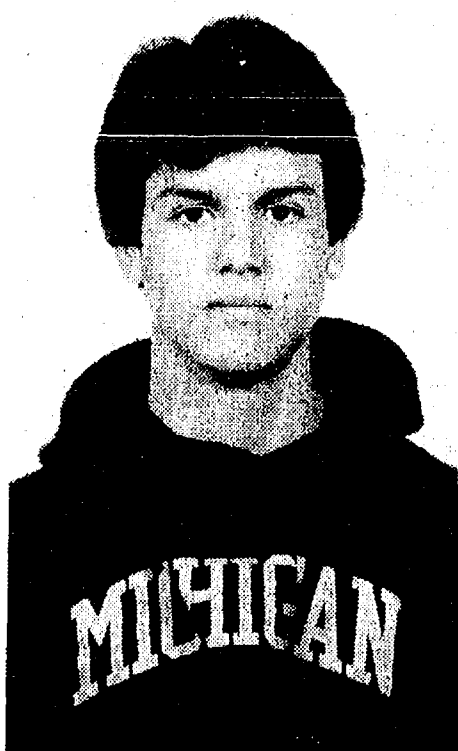

Willem is a junior at Chelsea high school and plays trumpet. He will perform in the 1984 Blue Lake International Symphony Orchestra.

Blue Lake will send four musical groups to Europe this summer, and nine European groups will visit Michigan.

The four Blue Lake groups will travel independently while in Europe and stay in private homes in each community they visit.

Members of the European groups do the same while in Michigan.

Blue Lake's International Exchange Program began in 1970 when a 90-voice choir toured England, Belgium, and Germany. Since then, 3,000 young American musicians—mostly from Michigan—have visited nearly 200 communities in England, France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Belgium, Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and Finland.

WILLEM VAN REESEMA

In return, nearly 5,500 members of 80 European and Japanese bands, orchestras, choirs and dance groups have come to Michigan and performed in communities throughout the state.

New research shows that forested land returns 10 times the moisture to the atmosphere than deforested land, says the National Wildlife Federation. Forested land is also said to produce 50 percent of the rain that falls on it.

Chelsea's state champion twirler and strutter, Amy Weir, 9, added yet another title to her long list of baton awards when she was crowned "Miss Majorette of Michigan—Juvenile Intermediate Pageant" at the NETA state championship in Chelsea on April 14. Amy will represent the state of Michigan in the National championships at Notre Dame in July.

Other "Miss Majorette" winners from Chelsea placing in the top three for the over-all title were: Kori White, advanced juvenile, runner-up; Tracey Wales, beginner juvenile, third; and Christine Dunlap, beginner pre-teen, runner-up.

Nine Chelsea Charms placed in the top five for the "Miss Majorette" modelling division. They were: Kori White, 2; Amy Weir, 3; Michelle Graflund, 4; Josie Krzeczowski, 4; Minta Van Reesema, 5; Kim Cundiff, 2; Chrissy Dunlap, 3; Richelle Jones, 4; and Tracey Wales, 2.

In the "Fancy Strut" division winners were: Kori White, 2; Amy Weir, 1; Michelle Graflund, 3; Laurie Honbaum, 5; Josie Krzeczowski, 4; and Chrissy Dunlap, 5.

Eight Charms took top five honors in the solo "twirl" division: Kori White, 2; Amy Weir, 1; Michelle Graflund, 4; Laurie Honbaum, 2; Minta Van Reesema, 4; Susan Schmunk, 2; Chrissy Dunlap, 3; and Tracey Wales, 2.

In the open contest the Chelsea Charms captured 10 first-place trophies and 29 "place" awards. In solo twirl Amy Weir took the intermediate trophy which places her now in the advanced twirl division. Tracey Wales defeated 20 contestants for the juvenile beginner's solo trophy while Vicky Niethammer took the "Special Beginner" first place. In the boys solo, three-year old Winston Howard placed first. Both Katie Neal and Rachel Fischer became the 25th and 26th Chelsea Charms to place first in "Basic Twirl" solo and both girls will now be eligible to compete for the camp scholarship. Placing high in solos were: Julie Miller, Rebecca Fischer, Linda Schaffer, Christine Burg, Kristen Clark, Laurie Honbaum, Michelle Graflund, and Vicky Niethammer who placed third out of 33 contestants in the Novice division.

Amy Weir took the first place "Fancy Strut" beginner trophy which places her now in the "Intermediate Fancy strut" division. Placing high were Tracey Wales and Michelle Graflund.

No firsts were won in the open contest by Chelsea girls; however, Laurie Honbaum, Amy Weir, and Danielle Clark placed in the top three.

In basic strut Vicky Niethammer captured her third trophy of the day by defeating numerous contestants for the award. Placing high were Dani Clark, Heather McConeghy, Katie Neal, Nikki Schultz, and Minta Van Reesema.

Heather Wynn took the "Military Strut" first while Dani Clark, Elizabeth Taylor, Katie Neal, Linda Schaffer, Christine Burg, Kristen Clark, and Liz Maurer all placed in the finals.

Twins Rachel and Rebecca Fischer took a second-place award for duets in their first competition.

Four Chelsea dance twirl teams captured awards. They were: Kaleidoscope, first place; Gold Rushers, 2nd; Sugar Shakers, 3; and Shazaam, 4th.

More than 90 contestants competed in Chelsea for the "Miss Majorette" titles and well over 300 open contestants performed for seven out-of-state judges.

If an unusually large number of insects gather together, scientists from the U. S. Department of Agriculture will know it. According to National Wildlife magazine, scientists are using radar to detect mass insect migrations. This could help improve pest control nationwide.

Brewery Belles Challenged to Softball Game

Arrangements have been made for the softball game we discussed while having tea and other beverages that quiet afternoon after rallying in the park. Details are as follows:

What: Slow-pitch softball game.
When: Sunday, May 6, 2 p.m. Rain or shine.
Where: Dana Field Diamond No. 1.

Who: The Salmagundy Girls and The Waterloo Lilies vs. The Brewery Belles and whatever other Belles Chapter they so may choose to have play with them.

Why: Because we, the ladies of the Waterloo Lilies and the Salmagundy Girls will not let a small defeat such as what occurred on March 21 dampen our spirits. We plan to make a smashing come-back!

We do hope these plans are acceptable with your group.

Cordially yours,
The Salmagundy Girls and
The Waterloo Lilies.

Tower Belles, Other Half Brush Brothers Invade Stockbridge

Twenty-six members and guests of the Tower Belles and Other Half invaded Stockbridge Saturday night, April 28 at their annual roast beef dinner. We all enjoyed the dinner with all the trimmings at the American Legion Post Home.

The Chelsea Senior Citizen's Kitchen Band performed to the delight of everyone.

As we loaded the bus for home everyone was full and happy to have left a memory of Chelsea to our neighbors.

Paddy Wagon Minutes

The Wild Woolly Town Tamers, alias "The Keystone Kops," acting on a hot tip, raided the Party Timers, or Old Timers or whatever they call themselves, Friday, April 13. The reason for the raid was the holding of a party without a Party Time permit. Nearly 30 people were at the party held in Bob Bauer's Party Time barn. The three ring leaders of the group, Frank Sweeney, Duane Landwehr, and Bob Bauer, were arrested. The law breakers were transported by paddy wagon to Court Stivers and tried by Judge U. R. Gully. Refreshments were supplied by Guy Stivers and very much appreciated. After collecting the fines, the Wild Woolly Town Tamers returned their prisoners to the Party Time barn. There they encountered a surly acting lynch mob. Before the WWTT's could do anything, three Keystone Kops, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Tim Colvia, and Craig Coltre, had been strung up with ropes from the Party Time barn rafters. It took several minutes before the crowd could be calmed and the Kops cut down.

Keystone Kops Report Arrest Of Ivan Cole

The Keystone Kops, acting on information supplied by very reliable sources, served Ivan Cole with a warrant for his arrest, at his home last Thursday evening.

The warrant was issued to Mr. Cole for failure to uphold the laws of the brothers of the brush by not wearing his Brother of the Brush button at all times. All other individuals in his house were wearing their buttons and not fined.

The Kops gave Mr. Cole five seconds to produce his button or be arrested. Needless to say he was arrested, then transported to the Wolverine Jailhouse. He was jailed until his fine could be consumed by the arresting officers.

Mr. Cole's only publishable statements were, "I was set up!" and "If anybody knew of a good insurance agent, he was in the market for a new one."

Sesqui Items

On Sale Downtown

Chelsea Hardware will be carrying the latest in Sesquicentennial items. They will be selling derby hats, baseball caps, ties, shirts and plastic ice tea glasses. Shirts and caps are also available at Gambles, Dancer's, Foster's & Vogel's and Strieter's.

Lightning you see between a cloud and earth may be eight miles long, says the National Wildlife Federation's Ranger Rick magazine. But Lightning flashes within a cloud may be as short as few yards in length.

Let this be fair warning to all belles and brushes: That you get a permit for your party and meetings or face the consequences of the Wild Woolly Town Tamers. The fines are stiff and the drinks stiffer!

Baby Picture Judging Contest Rules Amplified

Sponsors of the Baker's Dozen Plus baby picture judging contest have provided some additional information on the rules for the event being held in connection with Chelsea's sesquicentennial celebration.

Photos entered must be no more than seven months old, not one month as stated last week. Pictures should be sent to Virginia Boyer at 240 Park St. The photographs will be put into an album and cannot be returned. For additional information call Nancy at 475-8770 until 3 p.m. or Jill at 475-8756 from 5-9 p.m.

Ray Zor Grave Robbers Sought

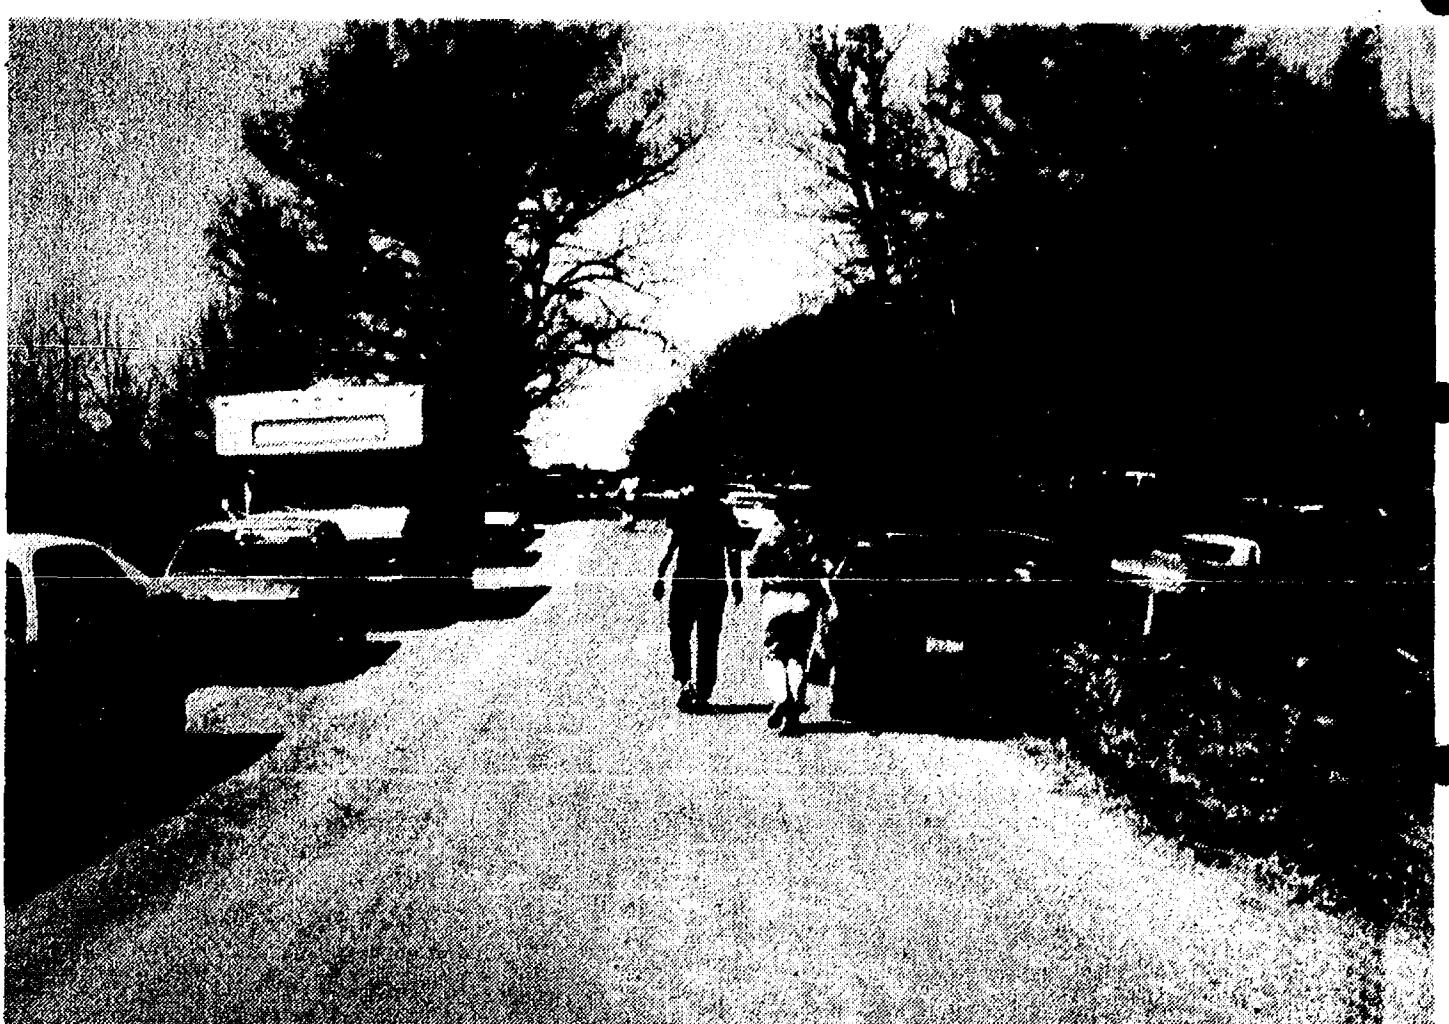

The Wild Woolly Town Tamers have had several brushes and belles groups under surveillance, for the resurrection of Ray Zor. The individuals previously accused of the crime have acquitted themselves. The No. 1 suspects at the time are the Waterloo Sod-busters, though no other chapter is excluded from the investigation.

The Keystone Kops would like to apprehend the guilty party as soon as possible, since Ray Zor's unburied remains are causing much grief to the family.

Owners Found for Unlicensed Goats

Earlier this week three unlicensed goats were found roaming the streets of Chelsea. But with some keen police work the Wild Woolly Town Tamers tracked down the deserving owners. All the owners were overjoyed after receiving "the goat." The names of the owners and their beloved goats are as follows: John Klink, "Little Dink," Archie Bradbury, "Reuben," Dave Scriven, "Full of Bull."

The Wild Woolly Town Tamers

AUCTION DRAWS A CROWD: An auction at the David E. Wood residence, 2082 Island Lake Rd., drew a large crowd last Saturday, causing a traffic jam at Island Lake and Stofer Rds.

Vehicles were backed up for half a mile at times during the sale as potential buyers came to look, bid and buy. An unusual amount and variety of goods was offered for sale.

are still waiting for the above owners to pay their fines for having goats without a license.

Patterns for Period Dress Available on Loan from Library

Patterns of period dress are on loan at the McKune Memorial Library. You may check out the patterns as you do books. There has been a limit of three days set, to allow as many persons as possible to use them.

Included in the selection are girl's and women's dresses and bonnet patterns and a man's vest.

The Committee is also looking into the availability of pre-made dresses which would be ordered through one of the downtown merchants. This should be resolved within the next week and will be published in the next week's Standard.

Belles of the Knight Challenge Ladies of Flush to Decathlon

The Belles of the Knight are challenging the Ladies of the Flush to a non-athletic decathlon to be held at Vet's Park, Saturday, June 2, at 11 a.m. If the weather is bad it will be held at the K. of C. Hall.

Tornado Season Is Here, Civil Defense Reminds

Michigan's tornado season is here, Chelsea civil defense director Robert Schantz reminds. Although tornadoes can and occasionally do occur at other times, May and June are the major danger months in Michigan. Tornadoes are the most violent and destructive of all types of windstorms. Typically, they appear as funnel clouds reaching toward the ground from a thunderstorm. Wind velocities can reach as high as 500 miles per hour, several times faster than hurricane winds which are usually clocked at 100 mph or so. Only a very few thunderstorms spawn tornadoes, and the reasons why aren't clearly understood. They apparently result from a collision of sharply contrasting temperatures, masses of warm and cold air, plus some specific local conditions. Tornadoes normally come from the southwest and travel in a northeasterly direction at a ground speed of 25-40 miles per hour. The average "track" is 4-5 miles long and 100-200 feet wide, although there are all kinds of exceptions. Where the small but extremely violent storms touch down, property damage usually is heavy, and there may be personal injuries and loss of life as well. Schantz repeated the safety precautions that people should take when weather conditions indicate that tornadoes may occur.

A "tornado watch" means that factors are favorable for tornadoes to develop. A "tornado warning" means that one has been sighted and may be headed in your direction. Sirens are sounded, and should be heeded by taking cover in the safest possible place. In homes or office buildings the best shelter is in a basement or a lower floor with stout walls. Getting under heavy furniture provides additional protection against building collapse or flying debris. If caught out in the open away from the shelter of a building, lie flat in a ditch or ravine. By all means get out of your car if you are in it. Automobiles are frequently sucked up and carried long distances by tornadoes.

"Whenever you observe what looks like a heavy thunderstorm approaching, turn on your radio or TV and listen for a possible tornado watch," Schantz suggested. "If the watch turns into a warning, take cover immediately. 'We don't get a lot of tornadoes around here, but we do get some. They are hazards that everybody should be aware of and respect.

Cassidy Lake Walk-Aways Recaptured

Two young men who escaped from Cassidy Lake Technical School on April 23 have been recaptured. Thomas B. Fish, 22, and Richard A. McKinley 18, were caught by sheriff's deputies on Waterloo Rd. near Beeman Rd. in Lyndon township. Neither offered resistance. Of the 14 prisoners who have walked away from the facility so far this year, 12 have been caught and two are still at large. Persons who escape from Cassidy Lake and are caught do not return to the minimum security prison. They are sent to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for assignment to a higher-security institution.

Baseball Team Takes Lead in SEC Play on Three Straight Wins

One mark of a successful team in any sport is the ability to play over mistakes and still win, and Chelsea High's baseball team did exactly that last Friday to beat Lincoln, 6-5, and so ran its season record to a surprising 4-0.

The Bulldogs are 3-0 in the Southeastern Conference and sit alone on top of the league standings.

"I honestly didn't think we would be where we are at this point," coach Wayne Welton said. "We're a young, inexperienced team. We have some good ball players, but they have a lot to learn. They have done quite well so far."

"We played good ball in our first three games (victories over Fowerville, Dexter, and Saline). We played poor ball against Lincoln, but we won. It wasn't a very pretty game, but it was a win and we'll take it."

"We're on top in the league, and we are going to try to stay there."

The Bulldogs made all kinds of mistakes, both physical and mental errors, before pulling out the victory over visiting Lincoln. Four of the Railsplitters' five runs were unearned as pitcher Dan Bellus had to struggle for a win that should have come easily.

Bellus scattered five hits and threw with authority throughout the game.

Lincoln scored its only earned run in the first inning, and Chelsea matched it in the bottom of the same frame, thanks to David Bushway's triple. An error-caused run allowed Lincoln to take a 2-1 lead in the third, but the Bulldogs again came back and went ahead 3-2 in the fifth.

The roof seemingly fell in for Chelsea in the top of the sixth, when the Railsplitters loaded the bases and a two-out fly ball was muffed in the outfield, allowing all three to score.

Chelsea rallied again in its half of the sixth, thanks to a tremendous blast into left-centerfield by Chris Gallas with a runner aboard. Gallas got credit for a triple on a ball that would have been out of any fenced park, including Tiger Stadium, and he came home when the relay from the outfield was bobbled. That tied the score at 5-5.

Bellus set Lincoln down in the top of the seventh. Chelsea loaded the bases with one out in the last half of the inning on two walks and a bunt single. Jay Marshall then drove a ball deep into the outfield that should have brought in the winning tally but didn't because the Bulldog runner on third failed to tag up and trot home.

That left it up to Chuck Downer, who took charge and ended the game with a shot to left-center that drove home the winning run. Downer's hit was officially scored as a single. It would have been at least a double and brought in three runs had they been required.

Earlier in the week, the Bulldogs defeated Dexter, 8-2, and Saline, 7-0.

Downer earned the pitching victory over Dexter. He threw five good innings before being relieved by Bellus who retired six straight batters in the final two frames, striking out the side in the seventh.

"Chuck threw a lot of pitches, and I decided to take him out even though we were well ahead," Welton said. "Dan did an excellent job in relief. The way our five-man pitching staff is lined up, the boys are going to have to support each other. I'm not going to let anybody hurt his arm by throwing too much."

Chelsea scored five runs in the first inning and two more in the second to take a commanding lead that stood up. Ron Dunn, Downer, Marty Steinhauer, Rick Boham, Mark Mull, Bushway and Rob Beckwith contributed key hits.

"We didn't really hit the ball hard, but we hit it into the right places," Welton said. "We got a lot of singles through the infield when we needed them."

The 7-0 victory over Saline was a personal triumph for Jay Marshall who, according to Welton, "is learning how to be a pitcher instead of a thrower."

Marshall, who has had control problems in the past, gave up just two hits while striking out one and walking two.

"He was spotting the ball real well," Welton said, "and he had excellent control. He threw 70 pitches during the game, and that's about minimum. He's no longer trying to blow the ball by the hitter on every pitch. He's gotten smart and realized that he has a defense playing behind him."

The Bulldogs did indeed play excellent defense, turning two double-plays and making no errors to back up Marshall's fine pitching.

There was a lot of help at the plate, too, as Chelsea put together six hits and three walks plus a Saline error to record six runs in the second inning. Gallas led the attack by going 3-for-3 at bat. Mull had two hits and Steinhauer two RBI's.

"It was a big win for us," Welton said. "Any time we can beat Saline in any sport, it's a big win. We played about as well as we can, and I'm proud of the victory. It got us off on the right foot in league play" and gave our team a lot of confidence.

The Bulldogs were to play a doubleheader against Ann Arbor Pioneer there last Saturday, making up games that were rained out on April 18, and Welton made it plain we weren't too concerned about the outcomes.

"We'll try to win," he said. "I've never sent a team out on the field with the idea that they are supposed to lose. Realistically, though, I'm going to preserve my pitching staff for league games because I think we have a good shot at winning the SEC with our 3-0 start."

"Pioneer is a Class A school and has a good team. We'll go out and throw the ball and swing the bat, but we'll be relaxed about it."

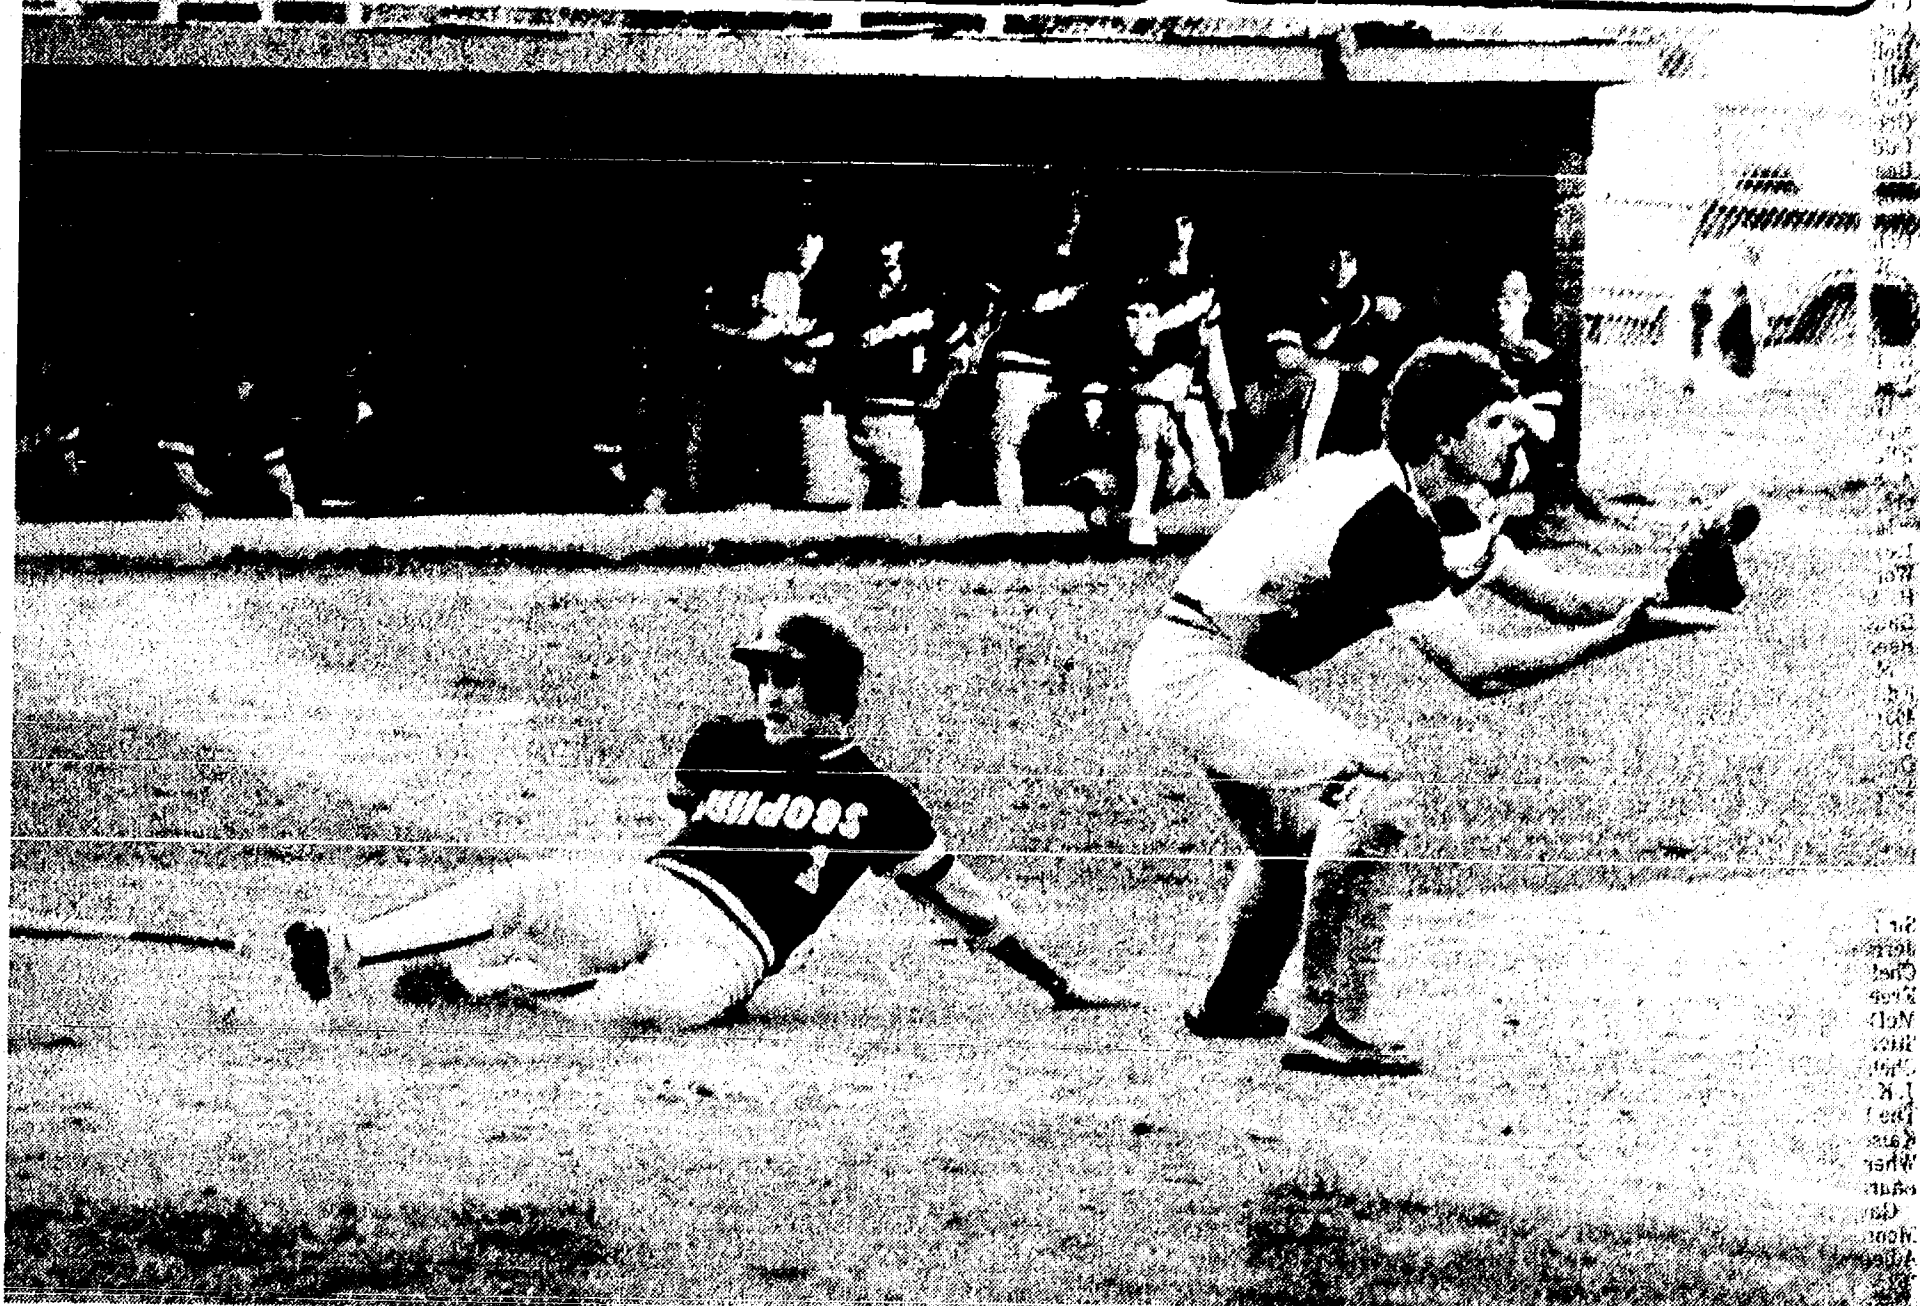

High Winds Cancel Baseball, Softball

Four scheduled baseball and softball games between Chelsea and Tecumseh were "winded out" last Monday and will be played later.

The boys varsity and JV baseball teams and the girls varsity and JV softball teams from both schools were supposed to play each other, but the contests were called off because of the high winds.

"It's rare to postpone a ball game because of wind," Chelsea athletic director Ron Nemeth said. "In fact, I can't remember ever doing it before, but I'm sure the decision was justified."

"Any ball hit in the air would have been darned near impossible to catch. If we had tried to play, the games would have been a travesty, with the scores dic-

SAFE BY PLENTY: Chelsea's David Bushway slides home with a run while the catcher waits for the throw. The Bulldogs defeated Lincoln, 6-5, in a tight game last Friday which helped the Bulldogs push their season record to a surprising 4-0 mark.

JV Baseball Team Wins Two League Tilts, Drops Pair to Pioneer

Chelsea's junior varsity baseball team defeated Southeastern Conference foes Dexter and Lincoln last week, had a game against Saline rained out, and lost two to Ann Arbor Pioneer.

"All in all, it wasn't a bad week," coach Ken Larson said. "The two league wins were great, and we'll make up the game with Saline this Friday. I can't feel too badly about losing to Pioneer. They are the best-hitting team I've seen in my five years of JV coaching."

The Bulldogs beat Dexter, 7-3, behind the outstanding pitching of Kevin Maynard who struck out 15 while yielding just two hits. Maynard had quite a day for himself as he also had three hits and drove in two runs.

"He's a fine young pitcher,"

Larson said. "He has good speed and an excellent curve ball."

There was one sour note. Mike Ball knocked two hits but pulled a leg muscle and is out for the rest of the season.

Ray Spencer and Dave Boote each had two hits and two stolen bases.

The win over Lincoln came hard as the Bulldogs had to go into an extra inning to pull it out, 7-6. Kevin Walz was the winning pitcher. He gave up just four hits and fanned 10, but he also issued 10 walks. He managed to survive a wild fourth inning during which Lincoln got all of its runs on five walks, a single and a home run.

"Except for that one inning, Kevin pitched very well," Larson said. "Everything seemed to come apart for him, but he got it back together and finished strong."

Walz also had a fine game at bat with a double, triple and homer, and three RBI's. Maynard contributed three hits and Spencer two.

Chelsea scored the winning run in rather weird fashion on a walk, a sacrifice bunt and a ground-out that moved the runner to third. The next hitter popped up high behind the pitcher's mound, and the infielders gathered around and watched it fall in safely, each looking to the others to catch the ball.

The Pioneer twin-bill was played in a high wind blowing out from behind home plate. It favored long balls.

The scores of 16-6 and 21-17 were more appropriate to football.

"Actually, our pitchers didn't throw all that badly," Larson said. "Ann Arbor hits very well, and the ball just carried and car-

Chelsea Students Receive U. of M. Pharmacy Honors

Two Chelsea students were honored at the University of Michigan College of Pharmacy annual banquet held recently. Julie Botsford of 19500 Sibley Rd. received an alumni award and a Rho Chi recognition certificate. Jeff Kiel of 6000 Stoffer Rd. won a Rho Chi certificate. Rho Chi is a national pharmacy honor society.

Recent studies indicate that older people usually don't lose their memories, but remember different things than younger people, such as subtle information, a story's point and possible consequences.

Baseball Team Loses Two Games to Pioneer

As coach Wayne Welton had more or less expected, the varsity baseball team dropped a double-header to Ann Arbor Pioneer there last Saturday.

The first game was close and went into an extra inning before Pioneer pushed across a run in the bottom of the eighth to win, 6-5. The Bulldogs scored four runs in the fifth inning to take a 5-3 lead but couldn't hold on.

Mark Mull pitched the distance for the Bulldogs. David Bushway collected two of Chelsea's seven hits.

Pioneer ran away with the second game, scoring six runs in the first inning enroute to a 14-2 victory.

Marty Steinhauer, Ron Dunn and Chris Gallas took turns pitching for the Bulldogs. Dunn and Gallas hadn't pitched since their junior varsity days, and Steinhauer had seen very limited action.

Welton gave them all a shot in order to save his main starters for this week's league games.

Chuck Downer batted two hits for Chelsea.

HE HIT BIG: Don Bell of 15800 Cavanaugh Lake Rd. displays his limit catch of rainbow trout taken from Spring Mill Pond in the Island Lake Recreation Area last Saturday morning. The largest fish measured 18 inches.

Chelsea Angler Enjoys Excellent Opening Day

Last Saturday's opening day of the trout season turned out to be a good one for Don Bell of 15800 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., who took a limit of husky rainbow trout from Spring Mill Pond in the Island Lake Recreation Area.

Bell's five trout ranged in length from 13 to 18 inches. He caught them spin-casting with small garden worms. His two companions in the boat, using nightcrawlers and hardware caught nothing.

"We started at 6 o'clock in the morning and fished until noon," Bell said. "I caught all five fish between 8 and 10 a.m. They came from five different spots in the eight-acre pond. Nobody else was catching anything. I've never caught trout that big that fast before. It was quite an experience."

Spring Mill Pond is stocked by the Department of Natural Resources with surplus brood fish from state hatcheries. The pond is under special "catch and release" rules from April 1 until opening day of the regular trout season, when normal rules begin to apply.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

One of the more interesting persons whom I have met in my life died a couple of weeks ago. He was Wally Weber—football coach, physical education instructor, banquet speaker, personality, public relations man—a remarkable individual who is worth remembering.

In the summer of 1943 I arrived on the University of Michigan campus fresh out of high school. World War II was raging, and those of us who were either under the draft age of 18 or had been deferred for some physical reason were cramming in as much college education as we could.

It was required that all male students take PEM (Physical Education for Men). I signed up for a late-afternoon class three days a week, and so met Weber who was in charge of the program.

He was an impressive man physically—short, stocky, with a big-barrel chest and tree-trunk thighs. His leather-lunged voice echoed across old Ferry Field. When Wally called you to attention, you stood up and listened because you couldn't help it.

Weber was in marvelous shape, as I quickly found out from his first session of calisthenic drills. Twenty minutes of sit-ups, knee bends, running in place and other assorted exercises were guaranteed to leave you gasping.

During the second week of the class, the 50 or so members were ordered to run a mile against the clock. Having recently graduated as a distance runner on a high school track team, I had an advantage. None of my classmates had ever run a mile, and I suspect quite a few had never walked one.

I cruised the distance in something under six minutes—not at all great or even very good time, but outstanding by comparison. When I finished a lap ahead of everybody else in the "race," Weber hollered at me, "Hey, Speedy, come over here. I want to talk to you."

He asked my name and where I was from, and said he was assigning me to be a squad leader in the class. Weber always nicknamed people, by their hometown, high school or some characteristic that caught his fancy. I suspect he remembered my name, but he never used it during all the following years whenever we met each other, which we did frequently. Her invariably addressed me as "Speedy" (a misnomer if ever there was one; I could run a long way, but not very fast.)

Besides coaching freshman football as an assistant to Fritz Crisler and running the war-time physical education program, Weber was the front man for U. of M. athletic department public relations. He sparked as a speaker.

Weber loved to use big words, which he would have called "polysyllabic vocabularies" or something of the sort. It was an act, of course, but he brought it off very well. There was a touch of the absurd in this great big man, the epitome of a jock, spouting language that was more appropriate to a high-domed professor of English. His audiences loved it, even if they didn't always understand what he was talking about.

Wally never called a football play a play; it was a "maneuver." A pass was a "projectile." Backs didn't run; they "caromed" or "careened." Linemen didn't block; they "presented impediments to the opposition." Defenders didn't tackle; they "interposed." And so on.

I suspect Weber sat up nights studying the dictionary to find some new and unexpected words to say ordinary things in extraordinary ways.

He was an intelligent, well educated man, holder of a master's degree. He used those big words right. I'm sure he was aware that, in addressing an alumni group, he had better not trip over his tongue or somebody would catch him at it. He was likewise scrupulous to keep his vocabulary, grammar and syntax impeccable when orally inter-relating with a journalist. (That sentence is an example of where long words can lead you. I could just as well have written, "He spoke good English when he talked with news reporters," and normally I would have.)

Football players who began their U. of M. careers as freshman under Weber's coaching remember him with fondness. He was tough, but his off-beat sense of humor saved him from being disliked. The fact that he had a hard time keeping a smile off his face helped, too.

The last time I encountered Wally Weber, a couple of years ago, he reached out his hand and greeted me, "Hello there, Speedy." He didn't make many mistakes with words, but labelling me as "Speedy" was one he did.

I'll miss the man.

Softball Team Wins Four To Maintain Its Unbeaten Record

Chelsea's high-flying varsity softball team ran its record to 11-0 last week with four more victories recorded through last Saturday.

The Bulldogs whipped Dexter and Lincoln in Southeastern Conference action, and capped it off by winning the Brighton Tournament against some excellent competition.

For some strange reason, Chelsea wasn't ranked among the state's top Class B softball teams when the season began, but that should change soon.

In chalking up their four wins last week, coach Charlie Waller's Bulldogs again relied on their strong pitching staff backed up by timely hitting, smart base running and good defense.

Kelly Hawker hurled Chelsea to a 14-2, five-inning "mercy" win over Dexter, with relief help from Margie Rawson. The pair combined for a two-hitter.

Beth Unterbrink drove in four Bulldog runs. Laura Anderson had two of Chelsea's seven hits, and Anne Weber and Joyce Robards each stole three bases. Dexter helped by committing six errors.

The Bulldogs next mercied Lincoln, 17-3, with Joann Tobin starting on the mound and Rawson again coming on in relief. Tobin was the winning pitcher, but probably felt even better about her day at the plate. She was four-for-four, with three home runs and eight runs batted in.

Robards and Lori Folcik also slugged homers, and Karen Wilson and Unterbrink both contributed triples.

It was Unterbrink's turn to pitch in the first game of the Brighton Tournament, and she went the distance while yielding just one hit in a 2-0 shutout of the host team.

The game was scoreless through five innings. The Bulldogs got their two runs in the sixth as Michelle Easton and Weber both walked with the bases loaded.

Hawker, Rawson and Chris D'Fant (the latter brought up from the junior varsity for the day) combined for a no-hitter in the championship game against Okemos which Chelsea won, 13-6. Sloppy Bulldog defense led to all the Okemos runs.

Robards, Unterbrink and Tina Paddock each had two hits, and Folcik brought home two runs with a double.

Tennis Team Gets Season's First Win

The Chelsea boys tennis team broke into the win column with a 6-1 victory over Brooklyn Columbia Central. Earlier, the Bulldogs had dropped a 5-2 meet to Williamston.

Against Columbia Central, Chelsea singles netters Mark Henson, Biff Bunten and David Bareis all won their matches. No. 1 singles player Greg Markie lost a tough match against one of the top players in the Jackson area.

All three Bulldog doubles duos—Thom Schumann and Kurt Eisenbeiser, Jeff Waldyke and Olive Meyer, and Rick Proctor and Mike Merkel—were winners.

The only Chelsea winners in the Williamston meet were the doubles teams of Schumann and Eisenbeiser and Proctor and Merkel.

"The victory over Columbia Central was a very good one for us," coach Terry Schreiner said, "because we were playing against a team of similar ability. We have very little experience, and needed a solid win to spur us on."

However, the Bulldogs did not fare well in last Saturday's Saline Invitational meet. Only the doubles team of Waldyke and Meyer made it to the second round of play. All other Chelsea entrants lost their opening matches.

Junior High Girls Win First Meet on New Track

The honor of running the first meet on Chelsea High school's new track fell to the Beach girls team, and they inaugurated the facility in good style last Friday by defeating Milan, 97-23.

The track isn't quite finished yet but has lanes painted and will

members of the Chelsea boys track team. Hurdler Spayd took both the highs and lows in last week's Dexter meet.

DeYoe, Spayd Each Win Two Events

Gar DeYoe and Mark Spayd were both double-winners, but their efforts weren't enough as the Chelsea boys track team fell to Dexter, 79-55, in a dual meet there last week.

"We have some outstanding individuals, but we have to face the fact that, as of right now, we don't have enough across-the-board strength to be a strong challenger in a dual meet against a good team," coach Bill Wehrwein said.

"We're going to work hard on developing individuals and relay teams for the conference and regional meets, and hope to place some people in the state finals. And we'll keep on working at the events where we are weak. I'm hoping we'll have something to show for it all by the end of the season."

DeYoe won both the shot put and the discus against Dexter, and Spayd came home first in both the high and low hurdles.

Scott Cooper won the long jump and also ran an excellent 2:03 first leg in the 3,200-meter relay, which Dexter won in school-record time. "Cooper's run was outstanding," Wehrwein said.

Ed Brosnan was Chelsea's only other individual first-place winner as he captured the pole vault with a leap of 11 feet.

The Bulldogs' 1,600-meter relay team of Greg Buckberry, Cooper, Spayd and Kyle Kemmish was also a winner.

Chelsea placed fourth in the eight-team field at the Mason Invitational meet last Saturday.

Spayd took the Bulldog's only first places, sweeping the hurdles events.

DeYoe was second in the discus and Rob Long fourth in the shot put. The mile and two-mile relay teams each came in fourth, and the 880 quartet was sixth.

JV Softball Team Defeats Lincoln, Dexter

A 13-run fifth inning broke a 3-3 deadlock last Friday afternoon against Lincoln, and Chelsea's junior varsity girls softball team won its fourth straight game.

"I was very proud of our players," commented coach Bill Wescott. "Although we were really struggling offensively, we didn't give up."

Jill Schaffner was the starting pitcher and pitched the first three innings. She struck out five and gave up one hit.

"Jill was sharp, and in the first two innings especially looked good," Wescott said. "In the third inning, though, home plate started to move around on her."

Chris D'Fant came on in the fourth and closed the door, striking out one and not giving up a hit.

Chelsea players with two hits were: Karen Weber, Jennifer Cattell and Michelle Easton. Kim Ferry, a freshman added key extra base hits, lacing both a double and a triple. "Kim has been making great contact," Wescott said. "It is very impressive to watch her hit the ball."

Last Wednesday the Chelsea Junior Varsity team beat Dexter, 36-1. Pam Brown was the winning pitcher and went the distance, striking out 10 Dexter batters. Sophomore Cathy Burkel had two base hits for Chelsea.

The junior varsity record is now 5-2.

DNR Stocks Area Waters With Trout

The Department of Natural Resources has stocked trout in several area lakes and two streams, Paint Creek south of Ypsilanti and Trist Creek in eastern Jackson county.

Paint Creek received 7,200 yearling brown trout as part of a continuing effort to rehabilitate it as a trout stream. Trist Creek got 1,600 browns.

Maintenance stockings of rainbow trout yearlings were made as follows: Livingston county—Appleton Lake 2,700, Murray Lake 1,200; Washtenaw county—Blind Lake 3,900, Pickering Lake 950, South Lake 9,700.

What more could you ask of a John Deere lawn tractor?

The John Deere 111H and 116H are a homeowner's dream. They're reliable, quick cutting and easy to operate.

The 111H is powered by an 11-hp engine that's synchro-balanced for smooth operation. It has a 38-inch mower deck and can cut an acre of lawn in just over an hour.*

The 116H features a 2-cylinder, 16-hp engine. It has an aluminum block and cast-iron cylinder liners for lightweight strength. A dual-element air cleaner and electric fuel pump are also standard.

The 116H is available with a 38-inch mower or a 46-inch mower. The 38-inch version will mow an acre in about one hour. The 46-inch version will mow an acre in about 45 minutes.*

The 111H and 116H are easy to operate, thanks to hydrostatic drive. A single lever mounted on the right fender deck lets you control travel speed and direction without clutching or shifting. Color-coded controls provide easy identification. An equipment lift lever gives you fingertip control of attachments.

Available attachments include: front blade, snow thrower, and a 6½-bushel rear bagger for all tractors except the 46-inch 116H.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

The trout season opened last Saturday, and I wasn't out there. The decision to stay home and not participate was made based on a variety of experience, most of it bad.

I remember a few—a very few—delightful trout openers. The weather was warm, the water low and clear, and the fish in a mood to make my fly-rod offerings. I remember a lot more others when the weather was wretched, the streams high and muddy, and no trout in its right mind would have risen to take a fly.

You can't trust late-April weather in Michigan. It can deliver just about anything you can conjure up, from very good to just plain awful. Over the 40-some years that I have noted in my personal records, "just plain awful" comes out well ahead.

Let's go back to 1952. The last Saturday in April turned out to be a perfect day. It was warm and sunny, the river was low and clear, and the trout were rising all over the place. I waded in at daylight, tied on a No. 16 Iron Blue Dun dry fly, and during the next six hours had one of the great fun-times of my life.

My very first cast brought up a 15-inch brook trout that I managed to hook and land, and things got better from there. When I quit six hours later, I had brought 47 fish to net, missed about that many more, and kept 10 that measured between 12 and 17 inches. It was and remains the best catch of brook trout that I ever made.

I went back on opening day of 1953, to find nearly a foot of snow on the ground and the river raging out of its banks. I tried a few "shallow" spots but couldn't handle them with chest-high waders. I darned near got swept off my feet while creeping toward one favored hole, and decided to quit while ahead and alive.

Three of us spent the weekend trying to keep warm in a tarpaper-walled cabin heated by a wood stove with nothing but aspen logs to burn. We got along all right as long as somebody woke up every two hours to refill the stove. Aspen burns about like paper, and gives off about as much heat, which is very little.

I remember a couple of other red-letter opening days. On one I took three good-sized brown trout on successive casts into the Au Sable river mainstream, while a large group of spectators stood on the bank and watched. They actually applauded, the one and only time that my fishing efforts have been rewarded by hand-clapping. Any fool could have caught trout in that place on that day. The most tackle-shy trout can be awfully dumb when conditions are right.

Another time I caught and released fish from the lower Sylvan trout pond in the Waterloo Recreation Area until I finally got tired of the exercise. Nobody else was catching any. It just happened that I had the right fly, a No. 18 Red Ant. Why those fish were gulping down small red ants, and nothing else, on that Saturday in April is something I didn't understand then, and still don't. Actually, I tried the fly out of sheer desperation after testing about two dozen patterns that didn't work.

I had a similar experience on the Portage Creek trout pond with a minnow-tied streamer fly that the trout took like candy while ignoring anything else tossed their way. Those "breathing" wings were what the fish wanted, and they weren't about to accept anything else.

Those were the highlights of a few past opening days and, believe me, there are many more that are memorable only because they were thoroughly miserable. I got rained on, snowed on, wet, cold, stuck in the back-road mud. I chewed ice out of rod guides, went ashore to build a fire and thaw out. I ate frozen sandwiches and drank cold coffee.

As I grew older and smarter, I finally figured out that the right time to open the trout season is on some date after June 1. By then, the weather has settled down, the spring run-off disappeared, the fish have developed some fairly predictable feeding habits. You can go out with some confidence of knowing what you are doing.

Dedicated trout fishermen, to whom opening day remains a religious rite akin to Christmas and Easter, will argue with me and tell me that I have sacrificed the faith. Maybe so. All I know is that I've learned to wait for decent weather before going out to try and catch trout.

Girl Tracksters Strong At Mason

The Chelsea girl's track team scored 55 points to finish fourth in last Friday's eight-team Mason Invitational. Mason won with 161 points, followed by St. Johns with 111 and Holt with 67. Jackson Northwest was fifth with 29. It was the best finish the Chelsea girls have had at Mason.

The Bulldogs made a strong showing in the field events led by Kris Zerke's second in the shot put with a 29-1 1/2. Josie Krzeczowski was fifth with 28-1 3/4. In the discus, Kay Bauer was fourth with 80-1. All three throws were individual season's bests.

Both of Chelsea's long jumpers, Edie Harok and Sue Young, made it to the finals but only Young scored, placing fifth with a 14-9 3/4. Despite the strong wind which made running difficult, Chelsea had some good performances. The two-mile relay of Laura Damm, Sallie Wilson, Stephanie Roberts and Wendy Wolfgang had an off-day but still finished a strong fourth in 10:37.2. The 800-relay of Paula Kuzon, Christie Favers, Sue Young and Susan Jaques finished sixth as did the 400 relay of Favers, Young, Jaques, and Edie Harok. Carol Warren ran well in the 440 to finish fourth in 1:05.6, Stephanie Roberts edged teammate Sallie Wilson for sixth in the 880.

The outstanding performer for the Bulldogs, perhaps the outstanding individual performer in the meet, was Amy Wolfgang. She was second in the 440 in 1:02.0, came back two events later to win the 330 hurdles in :50.3, then less than 30 minutes later ran a 1:02.0 split as the mile relay of Wendy Wolfgang, Amy Wolfgang, Carol Warren and Laura Damm finished first in 4:21.6.

"Amy's feat is quite an accomplishment," said coach Bill Bainton. "Those are all-out sprint events and the wind made them very difficult. It took a maximum effort on her part to get through them."

Bainton also had praise for the Man Arrested for Assault and Battery On Sheriff's Deputies

Richard D. King, Jr., 24 has been arrested in connection with an alleged assault on two sheriff's deputies who responded to a call about a family disturbance at 1935 Ivey Rd. last Sunday.

King is charged with assault and battery on deputies George McAllister and Joseph Marshall. He is reported to have scuffled with the officers and attempted to pull a folding knife concealed inside his belt.

"Fortunately, nobody got hurt," sheriff's detective Paul Wade said. "McAllister and Marshall subdued King without injury to anybody."

Wildflower Walk Set at Hudson Mills

Mother's Day Wildflower Walk, featuring many wildflowers in bloom, will be held at Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter on Sunday, May 13 at 2:30 p.m.

A naturalist will conduct the two-hour walk. Persons should bring binoculars and meet at the Park Office.

This program is "free" and advance registration is required. For information/registration, contact the Nature Center at Kensington Metropark, phone 1-800-552-6772 (toll-free).

A vehicle entry permit is required.

other performances. "We figured we could get about 50 points if we performed well, so naturally we are happy with the results. We also hoped for maybe two places in the field so the 16 points we got there were a pleasant surprise. As a team, this was probably our strongest performance of the season."

Renter Admits Theft Of Tools from House

A theft from a Sugarloaf Lake residence has been solved with the admission of a former renter of the dwelling that he stole a quantity of tools and other items. No arrest was made because the owner of the stolen property was satisfied to get it back and decided not to press charges, sheriff's detective Paul Wade said.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

"You are volunteers; Nobody is forcing you to work; We tried to recognize people who had earned raises." These are quotes from The Chelsea Standard on April 25, from two of the village officials.

A few of the members would like at this time to give the people of Chelsea and the surrounding areas something to think about!

To start with we have one of the nation's most dangerous jobs, whether we are paid or not. The pictures in the same issue that the quotes were taken from are a good example of what great hazards we encounter.

Should not the men who risk their lives be recognized!

And just stop and think about the quote "Nobody is forcing you to work." What if your house catches fire or if someone in your family needs emergency medical care and no one showed up. We may not be forced to work but we feel somebody would want a lot of questions answered.

We would also like to hear from you, the public, about how you feel toward this matter.

We want the people to know we are proud to serve the community but, the sarcastic and unfair comments made by some village council members cannot go without response!

In closing we would like you to think about this one line: WHAT IF YOU HAD A FIRE AND NOBODY SHOWED UP!

Thank you.

Dear Editor:

I recently saw the April 4, issue of your paper. I was impressed with the coverage you give to educational events such as the picture of the Academic Games contestants on your front page. As the publicity director of the Michigan League of Academic Games, I, of course, have a vested interest in this activity. However, you also gave recognition to the Beach school spelling team, the Miss Majorette contenders as well as a variety of sports achievements. For this I applaud you!

James Coleman, in his book, "The Adolescent Society" (published in 1961), wrote:

Modern adolescents are not content with a passive role. They exhibit this discontent by their involvement in positive activities, activities which they can call their own: athletics, school newspapers, drama clubs, social affairs and dates. But classroom activities are hardly of this sort... they do not allow the opportunity for passionate devotion...

Coleman goes on to advocate interscholastic (and intramural) competition in scholastic matters. The 2000-plus students, parents, and teachers of the Michigan League of Academic Games have done just that. We have systematically organized tournaments in different subject areas ranging from mathematics and social studies to logic and language arts. But unless these activities are promoted (like sports contests and games), they would not be successful.

Therefore, thank you again for the publicity you have given to the academic games participants in your community. The public interest and, therefore, the student interest in your community in this activity will undoubtedly increase. Your support is much appreciated.

Yours in Education,

John W. Dalida,
Publicity Director Michigan
League of Academic Games

To the Editor,

I've always wanted to write this letter. I hope you can find space to publish it. I've lived in your community for three years, not many people know me, but I know a lot of them.

I'm sorry that lady had a bad experience at the post office. I did too once, but a phone call to the assistant postmistress settled it all. I took in cookies at Christmas and received a thank-you note! My mail carrier is Mary Lou. I'd like to thank her publicly for the best mail service I've enjoyed in 30 years.

On a low day, any employee of Chelsea Drugs, Vogel's, Schneider's Market or Winans or Strieter's, can smile and chat and make my day.

And everyone at Chelsea State Bank is so pleasant and helpful. Sandy and Becky can't be beat. Another credit to our community is the Chelsea Methodist Home where love and understanding is dispensed to each resident in maximum doses.

To Don and Linda Cole, John and Gloria Mitchell, my deepest gratitude.

St. Mary's Choir—you're the greatest!

Thank you.

Catherine Parker.

Dear Mr. Editor:

The miracles of Easter! They are all about us as we see "new beginnings" surrounding us as well as those we find within us, too.

I would like to share a delightful experience of love with you and your readers mixed with a most humble thanksgiving.

There is a lady I am about to introduce you to, but who is known to a number of your readers for she has lived in her Chelsea home for over 60 years, and is 87 years young, with a symptom of the "golden years" called loneliness. The one cure for this condition of heart and mind is "put a little love in your life." One phone call to North school was all it took.

On Holy Thursday morning, 54 kindergarten youngsters, accompanied by teachers, Mrs. Plank, Dorothy Beach, subbing for ill Mrs. Carlson, made an inspirational reality.

These youngsters filled the front room and dining room of Mrs. Lila List's home, to bring themselves with smile and song. They entertained us with, "Now I Know My ABC's," "The Bus," "If You're Happy and You Know It," and about the "Pussy-Willow." They delighted the heart and lifted the spirits. An Easter basket adorned in bright colors was placed in Lila's hands by one of the little girls, while a boy nearby held a plastic rabbit that was as tall as he was.

The generous giving of these children and their teachers is to be forever locked in our hearts. The teachers and children are to be commended for the orderly fashion they proceeded from school to Lila's home.

It was the hugs from teachers and some of the children that will be cherished memories. What a priceless Easter gift. The personal touch of children reaching out. The parents can be so proud. This is a lesson in love we all benefited from.

On the same track, I would like to endorse the selfless outstanding efforts of the Home Meals program. Since becoming Mrs. List's part-time companion, I have seen what the daily stop by volunteers for home meals has meant in just this one instance.

These folks set their clocks by the volunteer's visit. They are Chelsea's finest. I think, that unless you're a recipient of this service, one does not understand the importance of this wonderful organization. Reading about it in the papers is not the same as eye-witness to the good people who give of themselves and their time to make someone know they're not forgotten.

Some volunteers have a word of wisdom. A thought for the day. They aid the recipient when that extra touch of opening lunch containers is needed. One man came in on Good Friday and gave Mrs. List a gentle hug. Best medicine in the world. Keep up the good work. These seniors need every one of you.

Yes, Easter is a season of miracles that can make every day we live very special, if we but make it happen.

Millie Warner.

Hospital Week To Be Observed

National Hospital Week is a time set aside to let communities know that their hospitals are there to serve them.

At Chelsea Community Hospital, this is true all year long, but especially during National Hospital Week.

From May 6-12 a number of community events and activities are sponsored by the hospital. New community groups are contacted and activities planned to help get acquainted. Over-all, the public is invited to visit the hospital, dine in the cafeteria, and walk on the grounds.

Chelsea Community Hospital has extensive services which provide full medical coverage, including 24-hour emergency services, 125 beds for adults and children, ambulatory day surgery, and an outpatient clinic for physician specialists. The hospital also provides critical care services through its intensive and coronary care unit. Long-term care is available in rehabilitation, psychiatric, substance abuse, and burn care. For patients in the surrounding area, home health care treatment is provided by the hospital. There is also a children's day care center to serve the community.

Chili Cooking, Ballooning May Have a Connection

The heat generated by the chili might be enough to get the balloons off the ground in an unusual combined event to be held next Saturday and Sunday at the Saline Farm Council grounds.

Those are the dates for the annual Michigan Great Chili Cook-off, which has an added attraction this year—a series of hot-air balloon races.

Past experiences suggests that the chili prepared by the contestants will be hot. Chili considered good by connoisseurs of the dish generally is. It's not quite supposed to set fire to your mouth, but almost.

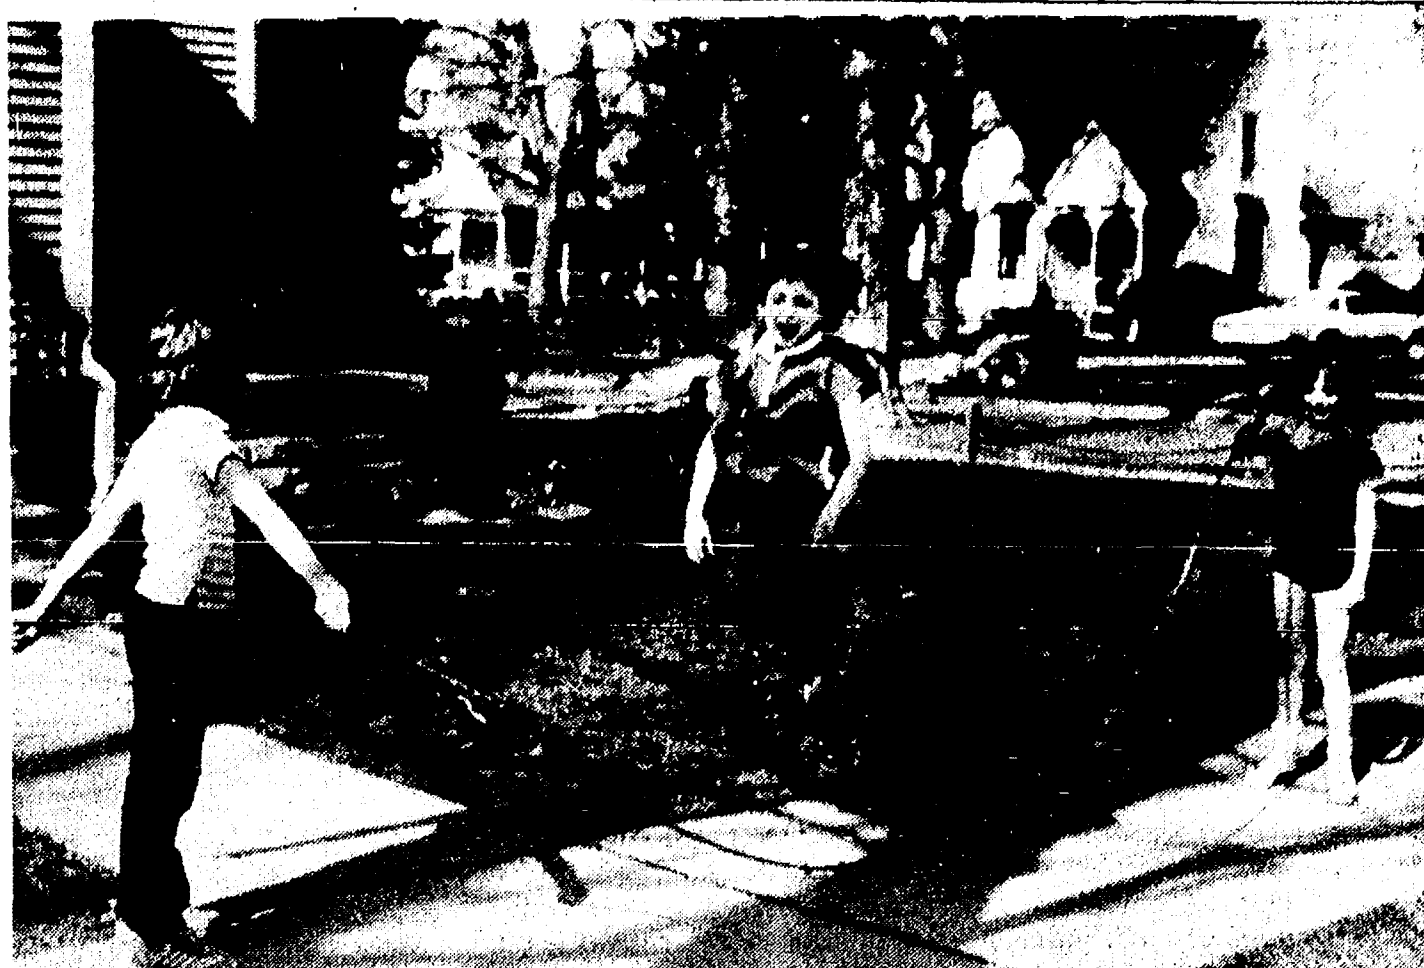

The judges who will sample the stuff just might be able to breathe into the balloons and send them aloft.

No residents of the Chelsea or Dexter areas are entered in the Chili Cook-off, but two will participate in the balloon race. They are David Schaffer of 20938 Garvey Rd. and Jeanne P. Thompson of 14230 North Lake Rd.

Schaffer, a development engineer at Ford Motor Co., has been ballooning for 16 years. He was world champion in 1975 and national champ in 1981.

Mrs. Thompson is an insurance broker who flies balloons for the fun of it rather than competition. She took up the sport about 10 years ago.

Proceeds from the two-day event, sponsored by the Health Care Network, a subsidiary of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, will benefit the National Kidney Foundation.

OH, SKIP IT: A nice day in the sunshine induced Michelle Mast, Sarah McKeighan and Dena Walker to bring out a jump rope and do some skipping, an old but still fun form of play that you don't see too much any more.

Chelsea Hospital Opens Breast Cancer Screening Clinic

Chelsea Community Hospital will begin offering a Breast Cancer Screening Clinic through its Radiology Department as part of National Hospital Week, May 6-12. The Clinic seeks to answer a community need for this service.

According to current predictions one of 11 females (9%) born in the United States will eventually develop breast cancer. Breast cancer is the most common form of cancer in American women today. In 1984, 115,000 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed, and 37,000 women will die of this disease. One woman will die every 15 minutes. Breast cancer is a curable lesion if found early enough and now can be treated with little or no deformity of the breast in a fair number of cases.

There is now available a test that will allow diagnosis of breast cancer while it is in an early and usually curable stage. Mammography, an x-ray examination of the breasts, is a safe and accurate examination. It can diagnose early breast cancers, before they can be felt, that are not much larger than the size of a pencil eraser. Routine or screening mammography, especially when it is combined with monthly breast self-examination, will reveal about 90% of breast cancers before they cause symptoms or spread through the body. The exam takes about 1/2 hour and is only slightly uncomfortable.

Appropriately performed mammography is very safe with a low radiation exposure. With the lower radiation doses now used in mammography, risk of inducing or causing a breast cancer to develop is minimal. Best estimates by experts given at a recent national breast cancer conference discussing the incidence of breast cancer caused by performing routine screening mammography would be one new breast cancer per two million women screened. Presumably this one cancer would also be discovered early in a curable state. This risk has been equated to the risk of smoking 1/8th of a cigarette, traveling 70 miles by air or 15 miles by car, or by being a male aged 60 for three minutes.

Because mammography is such a safe and effective way of diagnosing a common and potentially fatal disease while it is still curable, the American Cancer Society and several large medical groups have recently established guidelines regarding the performance of routine screening mammography and breast self-examination.

Mammography can be performed as a screening procedure as described above or because there is a suspected disease.

The Chelsea Community Hospital Breast Cancer Screening Clinic has opened as part of its program of health care screening. Women may schedule screening mammograms directly without a physician referral by calling the Radiology Department at 475-7020. The examination will include obtaining a pertinent history, a brief physical exam, instruction on how to perform breast self-examination, and a set of mammograms at appropriate intervals consistent with the patient's age and history. A report will then be sent to the patient's doctor and to the patient. If the patient does not have a physician, assistance in securing one will be provided. Included in the report will be notice of the time to schedule follow-up examinations. There will be a $75 charge for this procedure which will be collected at the time of examination.

For further information regarding the Breast Cancer Screening Clinic at Chelsea Community Hospital, please call (313) 475-7020 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Examinations will be performed during the above hours and on selected evenings until 7:30.

SPRING PLOWING: Farmer John Weber used last week's fine weather to start getting his fields ready for spring planting. He has been farming the same tract of land on Werkner Rd. north of Chelsea for nearly 30 years.

Free Health Clinic Offered at Hospital

Beginning May 9, the Chelsea Free Health Clinic will be available for adults and children who cannot afford to go to a doctor. This is a Faith in Action program endorsed and supported by Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea Family Practice Center and Dr. Westhoff.

The clinic will be available on Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 5 p.m. by appointment only. It will be located in the Chelsea Community Hospital and will be staffed by one physician and nurse; Dr. Kleantous being the primary physician. Dr. Westhoff, pediatrician, has also volunteered to see children; however, has not limited her services to one-half day a week for children who need medical attention right away.

All appointments are made by calling Faith in Action, 475-3305. Faith in Action volunteers will evaluate, register and make appointments for clinic clients.

The Chelsea Free Health Clinic is designed to provide outpatient, non-emergency medical treatment to people who meet the following criteria:

1. unemployed with no insurance
2. low-income unemployed (Social Security) who does not have outpatient medical coverage
3. low-income employed with no insurance
4. low-income employed with insurance which does not cover outpatient medical treatment
5. residents of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Grass Lake, Stockbridge.

General Assistance Medical and Medicaid do not qualify for this service.

Non-emergency medical treatment would include such situations that are not life threatening or needing immediate hospitalization. Clinic services would be for routine medical treatment of illnesses such as flu, bronchitis, infections, etc., or minor accidents which may be treated at a later date. Routine lab work will also be provided by Chelsea Medical Laboratories, Inc., and prescriptions will be provided by Lederle or paid for by Faith in Action.

People who have a family physician who prefers to provide medical treatment to that family, are encouraged to continue with their physician.

It is hoped for future expansion of the Chelsea Free Health Clinic to provide increased services such as: more than one-half day availability; gynecology services, hearing and dental services.

The clinic currently needs additional volunteer physicians and nursing staff as well as pharmaceutical supplies. Interested persons should call Faith in Action and ask for Jo Ann.
