CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1984

18 Pages This Week

Students, Teachers Receive Recognition At Honors Banquet

Sixteen Chelsea High school seniors and 14 faculty members were singled out for special recognition at the 11th annual Honors Banquet last Thursday night.

The event was co-sponsored by the Modern Mothers Child Study Club and the Chelsea school district.

Students honored were: Christine Arbogast, Connie Bollinger, Allen Cole, Kevin Colombo, Dianne DeSmyther, Kurt Eisenbeiser, Walter Gray, Mary Hellner, Brenda Lewis, Elisabeth Lindstrom, Edward Merkel, Thomas Nemeth, Susan Oesterle, Carrie Parkins, Rebecca Schluppe and Gretchen Vogel.

All will be graduated cum laude (with honors) next month.

Teachers chosen to be recognized by the honored students were:

Tamara Barbret, James Bechtelmeier, Patrick Clarke, Suzanne DeVries, Phillip Jones, Eugene LaFave, Stephen Leith, Margaret Nance, Barbara Preuss, Larry Reed, Paul Terpstra, JoAnn Thornton, Marian Williams and James Winter.

Gen. Dwight E. Beach of Lima Center gave the principal address. Gen. Beach is retired from the U. S. Army following a long and distinguished military career which included service in the Pacific theater during World War II. Beach Middle school is named in his honor.

The Rev. Fr. David Philip Dupuis of St. Mary's Catholic church gave the invocation. Janet Grenier, president of the Child Study Club, and Dale Schumann, president of the board of education, presented certificates of recognition.

Entertainment was provided by the Ann Arbor Comic Opera

Guild. Susan Riemenschneider played dinner music.

Also participating in the program were Chelsea school superintendent Raymond E. Van Meer and high school principal John L. Williams.

Floral centerpieces were donated by Walter and Sandy Zeib of Chelsea Greenhouse.

ADDRESSES HONOREES: Retired U. S. Army Gen. Dwight E. Beach of Lima Center, for whom Beach Middle school is named, addressed the Chelsea school district honors banquet held on May 10.

Sunday Open House To Honor Principals

Retiring Chelsea school district principals Alan Conklin and Sylvester Wojcik will be honored at a public open house from 1-5 p.m. Sunday in the high school cafeteria.

The two men have 52 years of combined service to the school district. Conklin is retiring from Beach Middle school, Wojcik from South Elementary school.

The open house will be sponsored by the board of education and will provide the public an opportunity to extend their appreciation and best wishes to the two principals and their families.

Lamb Club Sets May 26 Date For Weigh-In

Weigh-in for the Chelsea Lamb Club will be May 26 at the fairgrounds from 9-11:30 a.m.

This year, members will be required to pay for ear tag numbers on the day of weigh-in.

Call 475-7930 for further information.

Chamber To Present Development Plan

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce will present the new downtown development and revitalization plan to its members and the public on Wednesday, May 23, from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the Chelsea Community Hospital private dining room.

The firm of Johnson, Johnson & Roy was commissioned to develop a plan for downtown Chelsea revitalization. Included in the recommendations are extensive tree and shrub plantings and increased parking. A member of the firm, as well as the downtown development committee of the chamber, will be present to discuss the plan and answer questions. Twelve conceptual drawings prepared by JJ&R will be on display.

The Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce has undertaken this project out of its concern for the controlled development of the greater Chelsea area.

The public is invited to this special meeting. Wine and cheese will be served.

Orchestras Will Present Free Concert

Chelsea High school orchestra and the Beach string orchestras will present a special end-of-year concert Tuesday, May 22 at 7:30 p.m.

The High school orchestra will accompany senior soloists, and two "unusual" works will be performed; one is a concerto for three "vocal" soloists, and the other is a piece featuring a guest typist!

Again, the orchestras are happy to be assisted by harpist Krissy Steffenson. She will join in the performances of von Suppe's "Poet and Peasant Overture" (which also solos Tom Mull on the cello) and Richard Rogers' "You'll Never Walk Alone." The favorite "Peer Gynt Suite" by Edvard Grieg will also be played.

The Middle school orchestras will add both classical and contemporary selections to the program, and the eighth grade strings will combine with the high school orchestra to perform Tchaikovsky's "Marche Slave."

Concert is open to the public, free of charge, in the high school auditorium.

Gloria Mitchell, president-elect; Gale Johnson, president; Marge German, past president; Marian Pierson, treasurer, and Linda Cole, secretary.

DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT CONCEPTS: These conceptual drawings illustrate some of the ideas for revitalization of the Chelsea's downtown business district prepared by the Ann Arbor firm of Johnson, Johnson & Roy. Emphasized are landscaping, more off-street parking and other features to make the downtown area more attractive to pedestrians. Top to bottom: what the Main St.-Park St. intersection might look like; preservation of the railroad depot; north entrance to village on M-52.

VFW Auxiliary Presents Flag To South School

Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary 4076 has presented an outdoor American flag to South school, replacing one that was torn to shreds during the April 30 windstorm.

The presentation was made by Eulahlee Packard, Americanism chairman for the auxiliary, and Norma Seyfried, legislative chairman.

The 25-year-old casket flag was donated by Mrs. Doriene Couzens, whose husband had served overseas.

Principal Sylvester Wojcik, and teachers and members of fourth grade classes participated in the ceremony.

The historic pipe organ donated to Cassidy Lake Technical School by St. Mary's Catholic church in 1961 has fallen into a state of neglect and disrepair, and has not been played in more than 10 years. State officials decided the "gift" was too expensive to maintain, and instead bought a small Hammond organ to use in worship services at the school.

Special Memorial Day services are scheduled next Monday. War veterans, school bands, village officials and residents will gather for a parade, and Col. Kenneth T. Macek, retired U.S. Army artillery officer, will give an address.

Tickets are available for the seventh annual "Old Fashioned Barn Dance" at the Charles Trinkle farm on Trinkle Rd.

Coach Bill Wescott will hold a clinic for girls who want to learn more about how to play softball. The May 24 session is open to all girls between the ages of 8 and 15.

Ray Dansforth of Ann Arbor demonstrated the ancient and all but lost art of playing the bones at a meeting of the Chelsea Historical Society.

Parents will be held both civilly and criminally responsible for alcoholic beverages served to minors at upcoming graduation parties, police chief Aeillo warned.

Chelsea Jaycees were honored as the best chapter in Michigan at the annual Jaycee state convention. They were first declared best in their population class, and later judged tops regardless of community size. To cap it off, they received the State Community Involvement Award for a variety of successful local projects.

A new weight-lifting machine has been added to the equipment in the Chelsea High school physical education department. Under the direction of Phil Bareis a program has been set up to allow athletes, other students and community residents to take advantage of the device which is guaranteed to strengthen all areas of the body.

Mrs. Arthur (Anne) Steinaway is the new president of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary. Mrs. Walter (Sandy) Brown will serve as state corresponding secretary.

The board of education approved a contract for $12,000 to pave the high school parking lot, driveways and sidewalks.

Chelsea residents are concerned about a leaflet recently printed and distributed by the "White Panthers of Chelsea" which contains a number of obscene words. Just who the White Panthers are isn't certain.

Chelsea school district must have additional operating millage next year in order to avoid a deficit. A balance of more than $56,000 has been used up, and final figures for this school year are expected to be more than $11,000 in the red.

Washtenaw civil defense director Gerald Miller is making a count to see how many "bona fide" family fall-out shelters there are in Chelsea and elsewhere in the county. To provide safety against nuclear attack, a shelter should be protected all-around by at least a foot of concrete or three feet of soil.

Lima township leads all county taxing units with a record of 98 percent of taxes collected by the March 1 due date, according to Washtenaw treasurer William F. Verner.

Klumpp Bros Gravel Co. on Loveland Rd. has purchased a new ready-mix cement system capable of delivering up to 60 cubic yards per hour.

Chelsea's 2-1 baseball loss to Dexter may be reversed. Bulldog officials charged that Dexter hired a non-registered umpire, who reversed a decision and allowed a winning run to score.

Twenty-four loads of trash were collected during Chelsea's annual spring pick-up.

EPA Sanctions Due This Summer

Without Auto Emission Program
A top official of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) said sanctions will be imposed in the Detroit area unless the Legislature imposes an auto emissions testing and inspection program.

Richard Wilson, national director of Mobile Source Pollution control, said the 39 metropolitan areas in 26 states that have programs operating or underway, along with Congress, "are watching the EPA to make sure we enforce the law in an even-handed way."

Wilson spoke at a briefing sponsored by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments on the threat of the region if a program is not developed.

He reported a notice was sent to Chicago, the other notable region without a testing program, saying that highway funds would be stopped and said Detroit will not be far behind.

Wilson said it is a matter of weeks or months before the sanctions are imposed and they would include highway and air quality funds plus a moratorium on industrial permits for new or remodeled projects.

Transportation Director James Pitz said administration officials would hope to soon meet with legislative leaders to find out how to proceed and "we can begin a swift dialogue on how best to move to avert these very onerous sanctions. We've got to get moving."

Pitz said sanctions could not take effect until Aug. 1 at the earliest and whether they occur even then depends on how quickly the Legislature moves and how long federal procedural problems delay action.

Pitz said the administration does not have specific recommendations yet for a program, but one which he said merits serious consideration is a "two-test option" whereby motorists for $10 would get an emissions test for their vehicles with a low emissions tuneup requirement only if the vehicle failed the test. Follow-up test would not be required.

Options for enforcement include a local sticker showing compliance, with police issuing tickets for violations, or annual enforcement as vehicles are registered.

Michigan had won a reprieve with 1981 legislation requiring an inspection and maintenance program, but rules to implement the program were blocked in the Legislature.

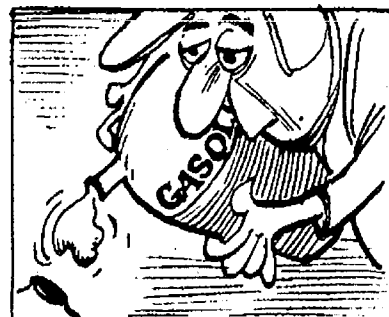

That program provided for testing two gases emitted through tailpipes and had strong penalties for tampering with pollution control equipment. The tampering provisions would not be a part of the new program.

Pitz said the EPA gives a region a standard to meet and as long as it can devise a program, which is based on sample testing, reduces emission of targeted elements, a region can determine which vehicles are tested and how they are tested.

He said officials had predicted they would be at EPA-required standards by 1987 without an emissions program, but said it is clear now that air quality is not improving rapidly enough to meet that goal.

Wilson said the Detroit area exceeds standards for ozone and carbon monoxide and that an emissions program is virtually the only program to significantly reduce carbon monoxide levels (by about 30 percent).

Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson Whitaker

Robin Righter, John Whitaker Wed in Adrian College Chapel

Robin Lynn Righter, daughter of Mrs. Patricia Fuller of Pasadena, Tex., and Mr. Gail Righter of Britton, and John Nelson Whitaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Whitaker of Chelsea, were married May 12 in the Adrian College Herrick Chapel.

Charon Jordan and Larry Woodward, friends of the bride and bridegroom, were honor attendants. The bride's sisters, Suzanne Tiede and Tracey Barrett, were bridesmaids. Groomsmen were Howard Whitaker, the bridegroom's brother, and Bill Shollenberger, friend of the bridegroom.

Square Mall, Battle Creek. The bridegroom, a graduate of Chelsea High school and Adrian College, is employed as community relations director of United Way of the Greater Battle Creek Area.

The newlyweds are at home at 80 Rambling Lane, Battle Creek, after a trip to Florida.

Seniors Planning July 1 Sesqui Quilt Exhibition

Chelsea Senior Citizens are sponsoring a quilt show along with their Sunday Brunch at the Chelsea High School Cafeteria on Sunday, July 1.

Anyone interested in loaning their old-time or newly-made quilts for display at this community function is asked to call the Senior Center, 475-9242, and leave his or her name and phone number.

The quilts will be picked up, protected during the day of the display by the chairman of the event, Eunice White, and will be returned to the owner that evening. Let us see your prized quilts!

Woman's Club Long-Time Members Honored

The Brandywine restaurant in Jackson was the setting for the annual dinner held by the Woman's Club of Chelsea May 8.

Following the social hour and delicious dinner, mistress of ceremonies Jo Spade presided over an informal program recognizing and honoring members of long standing.

Honorary members present were charter member Alma Meserva, 53 years; Lois Palmer, 52 years; Shirley Smith, 23 years; and Leah Smith, 23 years. Jean Eaton, 52 years; Dorothy Soule, 30 years; and charter member Rena Walworth, 53 years, were unable to attend.

Attaining honorary status this year were Edith Hoffman, 22 years; Betty Schenk, 21 years; and Marjorie Travis, 20 years.

Lovely yellow roses were presented by membership chairman Lila Pawlowski who also conducted the installation service for the 1984-85 officers.

President Myra Colvin received a beautiful gold rose pendant. Retiring officers were also presented gifts.

The evening of fun and fellowship was enjoyed by 36 members and guests.

The hostess committee provided silk flower corsages for all attending.

Family Practice Center Offers Seminar on Women's Health

Over the past decade people have taken an ever increasing interest in self care and health improvement. Health care and the money the American public spends to remain healthy or to regain health have become topics of critical importance and interest. More and more people are taking an interest in fitness and nutrition as a means of delaying that inevitable process of aging.

"The medical profession is now beginning to look at some of the information that is being collected on life-style and its relation to illness and disease," states Dr. Mindy Smith, a family physician at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. Much literature has been published and is available to people interested in health promotion. However, specific information for women on aging and disease is not as readily available.

tion available on menstruation, anatomy, conception and pregnancy," continues Smith, "much less information is available on health issues of the maturing women."

Because of the desire for this information Dr. Smith is offering a special seminar titled "Health Issues for Women Over 30." The physiology of aging in the female body will be discussed, along with information on disease along with information on disease and illness common to women. Basic self care and prevention of disease along with screening for disease will be discussed.

The session will be held Thursday, May 24, 7 to 9 p.m. at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. There is a $2 registration fee payable at the door. Pre-registration is requested by calling 764-8010.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Bareis

Teresa Neff, Thomas Bareis United in Marriage April 14

Teresa Lynn Neff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neff of Gregory, and Thomas George Bareis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bareis of Chelsea, were married on April 14 at St. Paul United Church of Christ in an evening ceremony.

The Rev. Erwin R. Koch officiated.

The bride wore an ivory satin dress with lace and pearl applique and a three-tier fingertip veil with pearl head wreath.

Dora Quinn of Ann Arbor was matron of honor. She wore an apricot satin dress styled after the bride's. Bridesmaids were Susan Bareis of Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom; Julie Klinge of Ann Arbor, friend of the bride, and Susan Neff of Chelsea, sister of the bride.

Jamie Bollinger of Chelsea was best man. Ushers were Tim Bareis of Chelsea, brother of the bridegroom; Jeff Branham of Chelsea, friend of the bridegroom, and Mark Neff of Chelsea, brother of the bride.

A reception for 250 guests was held at the UAW hall on Chelsea-Manchester Rd. Sheila Branham and Jamie Seyfried of Chelsea served the cake.

The couple honeymooned in Niagara Falls and Windsor, Canada, for a week and are living at 19543 Bush Rd., Chelsea.

Mrs. Bareis is a 1980 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed by the University of Michigan. Her husband, a 1979 Chelsea graduate, is employed by Bollinger Sanitation Service.

Delegates Attend ABWA Regional Meet in Flint

Cindy Bear, president of the Chelsea Charter Chapter of the American Business Women and Katie Chapman, corresponding secretary, attended the regional meeting of ABWA held in Flint, April 27-29.

Workshops were presented by Alyce Klusman, Uniquely You, in "Color Me Successful," by Diane Ballotti, of Waddell & Reed, Inc., and "Making the Most of Your Membership" by Glorine Tuohy, national enrollment director, ABWA, and Sharon Tiley, editor of Women in Business.

Keynote speaker Bruce Witwer's presentation utilized humor to make his point on how to help you learn to better deal with yourself and others. His talk gave suggestions on how to eliminate the possibility of failure in your life and to teach you some techniques for winning. Witwer is president of J.B. Witwer & Associates of Ste. Genevieve, Mo.

Sunday's closing included religious services and session/breakfast at which time recognition was given to chapters meeting the standard requirement and drawing of prizes donated by several merchants who had displays at the convention.

Becky Allen also attended with her former chapter from Ann Arbor.

Extension Service Plans June 5

Farm-to-Table Tour

Dairy products are the focus of the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service's annual "Farm-to-Table" tour Tuesday, June 5.

In the morning, participants will visit the Gordon Dairy Farm near Saline and see for themselves how much feed a dairy cow consumes each day to produce her daily output of milk. They will also see calves, the milking parlor and feeding stations. They will learn how milk is obtained from the cow, how it is pooled, cooled, transported, tested, etc., and what happens to dairy cows when their milk production drops off. The marketing order systems and milk production costs will be discussed.

At noon, the group will adjourn to the Saline Town Hall for a luncheon prepared by the Dairy Diplomats and featuring, of course, dairy products.

After lunch, Eloise the Cow (a puppet), will share some interesting facts about milk and Marion Prince and Helen Fairman, extension home economists, will discuss nutrition and health issues related to milk consumption, handling, storage, processing, fortification, etc. Time will be allowed for questions.

Participants will get the taste of milk and cheese samples and then cast their "vote" for their preference. The afternoon will conclude with a "visual" visit to a bottling plant.

Everyone will go home with a packet of information and "goodies" collected during the day, and may sign up for a teaching packet of lesson plans for re-teaching what they have learned.

Cost for the tour is $5 to pay for the luncheon. Call the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service at 973-9510 for a registration form and program. Early registration is encouraged to avoid disappointment. The number of participants is limited to 40.

Child Study Club Conducts May Meeting

Members of the Chelsea Child Study Club met May 8 at the home of Dottie Bell.

During the business meeting program chairman Anne Comeau announced her committee members. The finance chairman for 1984-85 was also announced. Possible projects were discussed.

Plans for forming a Belles group to celebrate the Sesquicentennial were discussed.

The annual meeting took place after the regular meeting.

Bert Cobb announced that the spring dinner and installation of officers will be held May 22 at 7 p.m. at Forbidden City restaurant.

Following the meetings, members formed three teams and played Trivial Pursuit. Prizes were awarded.

Co-hostesses for the evening were Louise Likavec and Joann Richardson.

Grass Lake Youth Completes Army Basic Training

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is a 1982 graduate of Grass Lake High school.

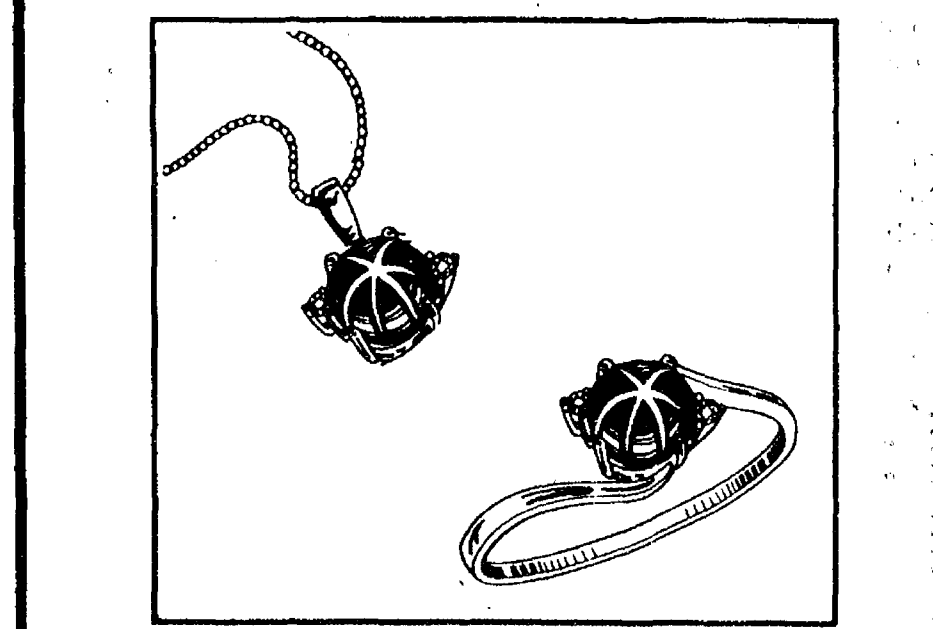

Balloon Launched From South School Lands in New Jersey

A helium-filled rubber balloon launched from Chelsea's South elementary school last Oct. 6 was found in Gillette, N. J., 700 miles away and seven months later.

The balloon, which had a message attached, was found in New Jersey on April 5. The finder notified third-grader Michael Kennedy at South school, who let loose the balloon last fall.

Sandy Hamilton and Marie Crouch were the local teachers involved in the balloon project.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

There is a lot of unrest among village employees, and there are some squirming feelings among administrators and elected officials.

I have heard talk of union organization, which is the last thing village government needs. Really worrisome is the rumor that the Teamsters Union might do the organizing. Setting up the Teamsters as bargaining agent would guarantee a running battle and just might get somebody injured.

I write that from some second-hand experience. My son-in-law's father was a partner in a small trucking business in Indiana. He took on the Teamsters and lost, opting to sell out and retire early. The Teamsters have "enforcers" who don't kid around.

"Dad decided he would rather live awhile longer than go on fighting and be found dead in a ditch," Neil told me, "and it came down to deciding between those two choices." The union representatives made that clear. It's kind of surprising how many truckers who bucked the Teamsters have been "run off the road" and killed.

We don't need that kind of "union" in Chelsea, or anyplace else.

I have also heard talk of a possible recall petition drive to remove certain village officials from office. The recall option exists and always has under our American system of government. It's guaranteed in the Constitution.

It is one of those rights that should be exercised very sparingly, to remove elected officials who are provably crooked, incompetent, or both. Nobody among Chelsea's present board of trustees comes close to meeting those criteria. If they have made mistakes—and I think they have in a couple of instances—they were honest mistakes, the result more of inexperience than incompetence. If any has committed a crime while in office, he has done an outstanding job of concealing it from me and everybody else.

I sympathize to a degree with the complaint of village employees that their wages and salaries have not kept up with the economic times during the past three years. It is a provable fact that they haven't, and the workers are worse off in terms of purchasing power than they were in 1981. Inflation has slowed down, but it hasn't stopped, and pay increments haven't matched the rise in the cost-of-living index.

Receiving essentially nothing at all in the way of a pay hike during this fiscal year, had to be a particularly bitter pill. This is supposed to be a time of economic recovery after a lot of years of recession and decline, and village workers could reasonably have expected to get something out of the advance.

The trouble is that Chelsea has not shared in the gain. The village economy remains stagnant, struggling to get off dead-center. There have been no significant developments to increase the base upon which local taxes are levied. Some positive things are in prospect, but they haven't happened yet, and won't in time to affect this year's tax collections. A very modest increase in assessed valuation, reflecting a slight pick-up in the local real estate market, is the best that can be hoped for.

The same council members who are being criticized for failing to grant a general pay increase to village employees are also under pressure to hold the line on expenditures and the taxes which pay the bills. It's kind of a no-win situation. As it is, with no across-the-board pay raise for employees, the village tax rate almost certainly will go up, and that will cause unhappiness among the citizenry.

I think the council made a mistake by selecting a few individuals to receive increases while denying boosts to most. It may indeed have been a matter of correcting inequities, but it was guaranteed to cause a lot of hard feelings. The implication, wrong as it may be, is that a few people are deserving, and the rest haven't been doing their jobs.

President Jerry Satterthwaite's off-the-cuff comment about firemen being volunteers who don't have to work if they don't want to was unfortunate, to say the least. I'm sure he wishes he hadn't said it, and that he will be more careful about his public utterances in the future. He's new on the job and is still learning that there is a big difference between being a trustee and being president. His visibility and quotability as president are a lot higher.

The fact is that village employees have been kept on the payroll during some pretty tough times, which is more than many workers in both the private and public sectors can say. They may not be making as much, relatively, as they were a few years ago, but they are still getting paychecks.

I suspect the days when government, at all levels, was America's biggest "growth industry" are gone, at least for awhile. I worked for the state during the fat years when we got annual increases of 8-10 percent whether we had earned them or not.

The suggestion here is that everybody calm down, think before talking, accept the situation, and strive to make things better in another year.

Baton Boosters Club Helps Plan Summer Activities

Chelsea Charms Baton Boosters Club held its May 7 meeting at Chelsea High school with 22 members and one guest present.

Baton Director Rita Howard passed out program booklets from AYOP (America's Youth on Parade) World Championship contests being held at Notre Dame University July 24-28, 1984 and announced that there would be a number of Chelsea Charms and dance twirl groups attending.

The Chelsea Charms will be performing at Palmer Ford parking lot following the Sesquicentennial parade on June 30, at 3:30 p.m.

The Charming Bells and Junior Bells will be modeling old-fashioned dresses at the Sesquicentennial fashion show during Sesquicentennial week. They are also selling the Sesquicentennial Book.

For their year-end family get-together the Charms will be having an overnight campout at the home of Gary and Linda White.

Next meeting will be in September.

Charms Take 10 DMA State Titles

In the final contest of the school year, five members of the Chelsea Charms Baton Corps carried the victory banner home in the (DMA) Drum Majorettes of America State Contest held in Pontiac on May 5. Chelsea's "Tiny Tot" dance twirl team, "The Sugar Shakers," added their third state title of the year. They are now the dance twirl champions in DMA, NBTA, and Twirling Unlimited and will be competing for the NBTA National title at Notre Dame in July and are eligible for the DMA National title held in South Carolina in August.

Champion twirlers Kori White, 7, and Amy Weir, 10, won the DMA "Miss Majorette" titles in the tiny tot and Juvenile divisions, respectively. Kori also captured the State Championship in "Military Strut" and "Fancy Strut," while Amy took the championship in Juvenile "Military Strut." Both girls are now eligible to compete for the DMA nationals.

Laurie Honbaum, 11, and Tracey Wales, 9, both won the titles of "Michigan's Most Beautiful Majorettes" in their respective age divisions. Laurie also won the "Intermediate Miss Majorette" title and Tracey won state champion in "Basic Strut."

Four-year-old Winston Howard walked away with the DMA Boy's state champion solo and is eligible to compete in nationals in the boys 0-8 division.

The champion "Sugar Shakers" are: Richelle Jones, Tracey Wales, Kori White, Kate Steele, Nikki Schultz, and Heather Wynn.

In the Open Contest, Winston Howard took a first in "Best Appearing," Nikki Schultz, Kate Steele, Laurie Honbaum, Amy Weir all placed high in twirl and strut events.

Speech, Occupational Therapy Programs Set

Chelsea Community Hospital will once again be offering summer Speech and Occupational Therapy Programs. The programs will be held for seven weeks, beginning June 19 and ending Aug. 2. They will be held at North Elementary school in Chelsea.

The summer Speech and Language Program is for pre-school and school-aged children with all types of speech and language problems. Persons interested should contact Cindy Bear, 475-1311, ext. 354.

The Occupational Therapy Program is designed for the learning and developmentally delayed child of pre-school and school-age. Physical development delays including large and small motor skills, plus all other areas of sensory/motor development are assessed for treatment programming.

Tuition for each program is $250. Some scholarships are available on the basis of need. Scholarship application should be made through the Chelsea Community Hospital Business Office to Cheri Albertson. The deadline for Registration and Scholarship application is June 8.

The Speech and Language Program is provided in small groups for 30 minutes. The Occupational Therapy Program will be provided as the needs of the participants dictates. Both programs will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Children attending both programs will have their schedules co-ordinated.

For information on the Occupational Therapy Program, contact Denise Fisher, 475-1311, ext. 477.

Women's Health Seminars Being Offered By WCC

This May, Women's Resources of Washtenaw Community College will offer three seminars on women's health. Led by health educator Marsha Johnson, the seminars meet on Wednesday evenings on the College's main campus at 4800 E. Huron River Dr. The fee for each session is $15.

"Sexually Transmitted Diseases" will cover the range of sexually transmitted diseases and their symptoms. Participants will learn about available treatments and protective measures. The seminar meets May 9 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Though an increasingly common health problem, alcoholism among women has only recently begun to receive attention. "Alcohol and Women" will focus on the disease and its impact on family relationships and society. The course is scheduled for May 16 from 7 to 10 p.m.

"Rape and Sexual Abuse" will discuss rape, incest, and other forms of sexual abuse both as health problems and as social phenomena. Participants will discuss myths about rape and learn ways to protect themselves from sexual assault. The workshop will meet May 23 from 7 to 10 p.m.

All three seminars are open to the public. For more information and to register call 973-3493.

Chelsea

Ambassadors To Play At John Gary Benefit

Chelsea Community Hospital's John Gary benefit concert will be an extra special treat for those attending. In addition to having Gary provide audience entertainment rarely matched, the Ambassadors will provide the musical magic to complete the evening.

The benefit performance is being held for the Chelsea Community Hospital Substance Abuse Program. Funds raised will assist those who are otherwise financially unable to receive treatment for chemical dependence.

The benefit is co-sponsored by the Kresge Alumni Association.

For John Gary fans and newcomers alike, this evening promise to be one of unforgettable enjoyment. Gary, an entertainer for more than two decades, is an audience favorite around the country. His clear voice and easy going style appeal to every age and type of music lover.

Tickets for the benefit concert are available at the Michigan Theatre, 668-8480, and the Chelsea Community Hospital ticket office, 475-1311, ext. 390.

Ticket prices are $10, $15, and $18. Benefactor and Patron sponsorships are also available through the hospital.

When Ordinary Standards Simply Are Not Good Enough

DONALD A. COLE
Director

The loss of someone who was loved can never be an easy experience, of course. But bereavement . . . like so many hardships . . . can be made easier by people who understand and who know all the ways to be helpful. These are the people at Cole Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

We firmly believe that in providing funeral service, ordinary standards simply are not good enough.

POSTAL EXAM WORKSHOP

(Clerk-Carrier) — Starting Pay: $10.56/hour

The Detroit SCF Area Post Offices, including Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor as well as others with 481-482 zip codes, have indicated that they will be accepting applications soon after June 1st. NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. Career Postal Clerks and Carriers make $25,000 a year to start, including benefits; men and women, regardless of age or experience, are eligible. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name on the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam (which will probably not be given again for at least three years). To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at least 95%!

4-HOUR WORKSHOP

Score 95-100% or Your Tuition Is Refunded!

It is possible to get a very high score with adequate preparation. From years of experience and discussions with our Advisory Board (consisting of former postmasters, training managers and examiners), we know that it takes exactly four hours to teach you everything you need to know to score 95% or better — which is what you'll need to get a job.

Benefits derived from this course extend far beyond the postal exam. The skills and attitudes will help in every area of future learning and test-taking. We have helped thousands of people successfully prepare for the Clerk-Carrier Exam. But don't take our word for it, take our guarantee! Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that you will achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score is less than 95% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund your tuition in full!

★ You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal exam review.

★ You may attend as many extra sessions of the workshop as you like (on a space available basis) without additional tuition charge.

WORKSHOP TUITION — $35 (includes guaranteed 4-hour Workshop, The Core Guide to Postal Exams, Sample Exam with Answers, Workshop Workbook, and Take-Home Practice Kit containing: Practice Exams with Answers, Flash Cards, and "Simulated Exam" on cassette tape.) Please bring two No. 2 pencils with you to the Workshop.

Seating is limited; pre-registration by phone is advised. Otherwise, you may register by arriving thirty minutes early. Tuition is payable at the door by cash, check, money order, MasterCard, VISA or American Express.

Sesquicentennial Baby Contest Open To Any Youngster

Is your child cuter than a bug's ear, bouncier than a basketball, happier than a hyena or just personality plus?

If so, enter your child in the Baker's Dozen Plus baby photo contest. It's easy, it's fun and there are no entry fees. A photo of your favorite child is all that's required.

Judging will be in three categories: newborn to one year, one year to three years, and three years to five years.

Photos may be a snapshot or professional picture but not to exceed 3½"x5½" and must have been taken since Nov. 1, 1983.

Photos are not returnable as they will be placed in an album and donated to the Historical Society to become a record of events for the Chelsea Sesquicentennial celebration.

Photos must include child's name, date of birth, parents' name, address and phone number.

Categories for age are determined by date of birth, using May 25 as its factor.

Deadlines for photos have been extended to June 1, to be eligible. Mail your entries to V. Boyer, 240 Park St., Chelsea.

Proud parents, grandparents, friends and the public will be able to view entries and vote for their choice during the time they are on display at Dancer's Dept. Store. Votes will be 25¢ each, and you may vote as often as you wish, and in any category you wish, just by picking up your ballots at Dancer's, filling in your choice and depositing it in the ballot box during regular business hours. Ballots will be counted on June 23 and winners will be notified on that day.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners and the child, and their parents will be invited to ride the Baker's Dozen Plus float in the Sesquicentennial parade on June 30. All children will receive a specially designed certificate honoring the children's contest and the Sesquicentennial.

As we salute our past, let us honor our future. This contest involves our entire community whether you're a proud parent, a participant or a voter. Everyone can join into the spirit of this special Sesquicentennial event.

For additional information call Nancy at 475-8770 until 3 p.m., or Jill at 475-9756 from 5-9 p.m., or Virginia at 475-7143 any time.

Productivity, as measured by output per hour of all persons, increased at a 2.9 percent seasonally adjusted annual rate in the first quarter of 1984 in the business sector, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Labor Department.

Display of Old Articles Planned for Sesqui Days

Chelsea Senior Citizens have undertaken the task of finding old articles for display in the store windows during Chelsea's Sesquicentennial. They are asking the co-operation of local citizens for various articles. They will be displayed Tuesday, June 19 to Wednesday, July 4. Suggested items are listed below:

Heydlauff's: Any old small appliance.

Ricardo's: Old beauty shop articles.

Barbara's Needlearts: Old pillows, pillow cases, dresser scarves, old samplers, old table cloths, any home-made item.

Chelsea Drug Store: Old medicine bottles or containers, old medicine advertisements, any items found in stores of yesterday.

Winans Jewelry Store: Antique jewelry.

Chelsea Hardware: Old crocks and jars, old tools, any item found in old hardware stores of the past.

Dancer's: Children's Window. Old dolls, doll furniture, old toys, toy tea sets, old children's books, doll beds and cradles.

Chelsea Cleaners: Old irons, washboards, old soap advertisements, any item connected with doing laundry in past.

Strieter's: Men's and boy's clothes, hats and shoes.

Vogel's: Women's and girl's clothing, hats, shawls, shoes.

Ashby's: Old dishes, pictures, books.

For more information please call Cecile Bernath, 475-2781, or Rita Collins, 475-2798.

Hayride in Country Enjoyed By 350 People

If you missed the hayride, May 5 you sure missed a great time.

Seventeen wagons and a bus load of men, women, and children left the fairgrounds for a destination unknown to most. Over 350 people enjoyed a hayride down country roads southeast of Chelsea ending at the picnic grounds on Jerusalem Rd. at Bill and Dot Van Riper's pond. We country folks had many of the city folks lost. Outhouses and the country side roads were used as bathroom facilities.

Once we reached our destination hot dogs and marshmallows were roasted at a large bonfire. Bob Redding and Dave Scriven had there own special hot dogs, rather chewy, weren't they guys?

The Keystone Kops kept everyone under control. They passed by the wagons, back and forth, many times. Several times those of us on the wagons thought the Keystone Kops were going to lose some of their people.

Everyone had a very good time. Many people commented, "Let's do this again."

During the fourth quarter of 1983, productivity rose 4.2 percent, as output increased 7.6 percent and hours 3.3 percent, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor.

RETREADS: Prior to a meeting of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club, Rolly Spaulding admires the newly reprinted 1959 history of the village. The first edition of the book was published under his direction when he was general chairman of Chelsea's 125th anniversary celebration. Copies of the new edition will soon be on sale.

125th Anniversary Book Reproduced for Sesqui Sale

Twenty-five years ago an 88-page history of Chelsea was published as a part of the town's 125th anniversary celebration. By now, copies of the 1959 book are extremely scarce and yet in great demand. To fill this vacuum, the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Committee has republished the book. All 88 pages are exactly the same as the original issue and three of the four cover pages remain the same. One non-reproducible page of advertising pictures for a bygone company has been replaced with a listing of 1984 Sesqui Committee members.

Copies of the republished book will be on sale during the Sesqui celebration and more may be printed if the demand continues.

The 1959 book was printed on the presses of The Chelsea Standard. Late articles, ads and pictures, plus a stream of last-minute changes, made publication a desperate affair for all concerned. Books with ink that was barely dry were rushed from the bindery to the anxious hands of sale volunteers. They passed quickly into the palms of eager buyers, literally, "hot off the press."

A few original copies of the 1959 book are still to be found in family libraries and attics. Several continue to be available to patrons of the McKune Memorial Library.

The new edition was printed by Malloy Lithography, Inc. of Ann Arbor, with many Chelsea employees participating in the process. The reproduction of pictures from a press copy of the old book is remarkable—a tribute to the printing excellence of yesteryear and today. Each halftone in the original book consisted of more than 120 dots to the square inch. With the help of ultra-precise lenses and modern photographic emulsions, most of today's reproductions appear equal to the original edition.

34 Years Ago . . .

were children. None is believed to have been seriously hurt.

Chelsea lost its shot at the Huron League baseball championship by dropping a 4-2 game to Ypsilanti Roosevelt. As in previous losses, loose defense allowing unearned runs proved the Bulldogs' downfall.

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce has announced a "work bee" at Pierce Park tonight. The hope is to have the park ready for use in time for the scheduled June 20 dedication.

Information given in a pamphlet released by the board of education states that a large majority of Chelsea school electors who responded to a recent opinion survey favor constructing a new elementary school. Many suggested that two schools be built, one north and one south of the railroad tracks.

KIMBERLY FORNER

Kim Forner On National Dean's List

Kimberly Forner, daughter of Neil and Ruth Horning of 1184 Pierce St. and the late Donald Forner, has been honored by having her biography published in the seventh annual edition of the National Dean's List.

Kim, a 1983 summa cum laude graduate of Chelsea High school, is a freshman at Ferris State College majoring in commercial art. A member of Chelsea's 1982 state champion softball team, she is playing for Ferris this year.

Kim is the designer of Chelsea's Sesquicentennial logo.

She was nominated for the National Dean's List by Richard C. Hansen, dean of the school of business at Ferris.

About one-half of one percent of all students enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities make the National Dean's List. They become eligible to compete for scholarship awards and also to use a special referral service for employment opportunities or graduate school admission.

Wild Foods Will Be Program Feature At Nature Center

Waterloo Nature Center will offer a special program on "Dining from the Wild" starting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Tom and Sandra Jameson will first present a slide show, then lead a hike in search of the edible wild foods which are abundant at this time of year. The program will conclude with a meal prepared from the gathered goodies.

Cost is $2 for nature center members, $5 for non-members.

Job Openings Sought For Youths in Area

The South and West Washtenaw Consortium, which serves the Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline school districts, is seeking summer job opportunities for area youths.

The consortium will pay the $3.35 minimum hourly wage from a federal grant. All the employer need do is provide the job opening along with instruction and supervision in the work.

Seven-week jobs are sought for a total of 65 young participants in the program. The jobs can be of any type.

"We call this the 'Give a Kid a Break' program," said Steven Larsen of Dexter High school. "We have job-ready young people who need an employer to help them get started in the world of work. The program is an excellent way for employers to learn about and try out potential future employees."

Interested employers are asked to call Larsen at 426-4623, ext. 254, or Diane Bertram at Saline High school, 662-9898.

Extension Horticulture Agent Named for County

Gordon Dennis, Washtenaw county extension director, announces the appointment of William Casello, of Ann Arbor, as part-time horticulture agent for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Washtenaw county effective May 1.

Casello obtained a bachelor's degree in science education from the University of Michigan in 1958 and a master's degree in guidance and counseling from U. of M. in 1960.

He taught in the Wayne county public school system from 1958 to 1963, when he moved to Ann Arbor school system and taught there until 1980. He became an extension horticulture program associate in Washtenaw county this year.

Casello will be responsible for the continuation and advancement of extension horticulture education programs for commercial vegetable and fruit production and marketing.

Casello will be based at the MSU Co-operative Extension Service Offices at 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor.

This position is being supported by a grant from Washtenaw county.

THE ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES GROUP

Dear Homeowner,

My name is Michael Forman. I am a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources and have founded a company called The Environmental Services Group.

The reason for this letter is to propose a program of professional fertilization and weed management for your lawn. This lawn care program is unique to the Chelsea area because it recognizes the local diversity of soils and turfgrasses. Generally, other companies use large tanker trucks to spray all lawns with identical liquid chemicals.

My program offers individualized treatments and begins with a 43-point analysis of your lawn's own needs. A schedule, using nutrients blended for your lawn's special requirements, is then offered for your consideration. Together we work out the best program for your lawn.

Specially-formulated dry fertilizer products are used exclusively in each lawn care program. Unlike liquid chemicals which may quickly evaporate or leach out of the critical root zone, dry products provide a uniform and gradual release of nutrients. Fewer fertilizer applications are needed with these superior dry products and fewer applications mean a substantial savings to the homeowner.

In addition, The Environmental Services Group is fully licensed by the Michigan Department of Agriculture to provide you with a full range of services to reduce insect and lawn disease problems.

Product superiority, combined with my personal attention, mean that your lawn will receive the best care professionally available. To set up an appointment for a free, no obligation, written analysis of your lawn care needs, call The Environmental Services Group at 996-4370.

Thank you for considering my proposal!

Michael S. Forman

Sesquicentennial clothing will be on sale at the VFW Hall on Saturday, May 19, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Orders may be placed for women's, men's and children's clothing. Please bring your money with you as the orders are prepaid. Sesquicentennial caps, t-shirts, ties, derby hats, glasses and stationery will also be sold. Pick-up for those items will be Saturday, May 26, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Call Judy at 475-8103 for more information.

The Supreme Council of the Brother of the Brush and Belles have set up many activities in the upcoming weeks. Saturday, May 19, there will be a caravan to Manchester, leaving at 3 p.m. and returning at approximately 10 p.m. Rumor has it that Manchester will be welcoming us with some kind of a street activity, maybe a dance.

Memorial Day week-end there will be softball games between all the Brothers and Belles. The main event for the week-end will be a picnic and softball games on Sunday, May 27 for all chapters and their families at the field north of Old US-12 between St. Paul's and St. Mary's church. The Treated Studs will be organizing this event.

On Sunday, June 24, there will be another trip to a Tiger ballgame. This trip will cost $16 per person, which will include the game ticket. Buses will be leaving at 11:30 a.m. from the fairgrounds and should return at approximately 5:30 p.m. Reservations may be made at Accent on Travel (Ruth Leach), the Wolverine, Chelsea Hardware, or any area leader. Tickets will be ordered by June 4 (must have your money in by then to attend), for all of those who have paid reservations only.

The North Lake Snowbrushes are selling Chelsea Sesquicentennial license plates for the front of vehicles. The plates have the logo on them with the years 1834-1984. They are complete with plastic face, metal frame and mounting bolts. Price is $10 each. Chapters may order 10 or more and get $1 off each plate ($9) each. Place all orders through John Tandy 475-7537 or Dale Bailey, 475-7675.

Chelsea Fire Department is sponsoring a 50-50 sale, with the profits to go toward the cost of the parade. Tickets are $1 each and are available from any fireman. Please help in supporting the Fire Department—they are doing a wonderful job in assisting the committee with all the projects in the works.

There are still tickets available for the Sesquicentennial Quilt sale. First prize is, of course, the hand-made quilt which is on display at Barbara's Needlearts. Second prize is a week-end trip to Toronto (sponsored by Conlin Travel); and third prize is a $100 gift certificate to any store in Chelsea. Contact Marcy Stump, 475-3429, for details.

WIN LOG CUTTING CONTEST: The winning team of Farmer Foxes in a log-cutting contest held April 29 as part of the Sesquicentennial fun included Sue McCalla, Kathy Bauer, Sylvia Barth and Kathy Dickinson.

THEY GAVE IT THE AXE: Members of the Treated Studs who took part in a log splitting contest on April 29 included, left to right: Dennis Bauer, Howard McCalla, Bill Altenberndt, Paul Steele, Todd Salyer, Frank Renton and John Porter.

Nominations Sought For Persons To Be Mr. & Mrs. Chelsea

The Sesquicentennial Committee, with the co-operation of the Chelsea Fire Association, are now accepting applications for nominations for the Mr. and Mrs. Chelsea contest.

This contest is open to any Chelsea School District area resident who is presently or has been in the past active in community affairs. One male and one female, will be honored each day during the Sesquicentennial Celebration and will receive dinner passes to be used at their leisure. A total of 10 persons will be selected.

Please give the person's name, phone number, and reasons you feel this person should be nominated. Please enclose your name and phone number so that you may be contacted also.

This contest will close on May 20. Your nominations may be mailed to Chelsea Sesquicentennial, c/o Box 1984, Chelsea 48118.

Card Tournament Challenge Issued

The Tower Belles and the Other Half hereby challenge any other chapter of Belles or Brushes to a card tournament at North school on June 8, 7:30 p.m.

Please call 475-9242 with response.

Card game to be announced. Winners will get prizes and refreshments provided.

Sesqui Brunch Sponsored By Senior Citizens

A Sesquicentennial Brunch will be held Sunday, July 1 in conjunction with Senior Citizen and Interfaith Day.

The event will be held at the Chelsea High school cafeteria from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

The Seniors, Belles and Brothers, in addition to numerous other Senior Citizens, will be serving a breakfast made by Fran Ferry and the school kitchen staff.

Tickets are now available at the Senior Center and from the chairperson, Katie Chapman, at a price of $2.

Tower Belles Visit Kelly & Co. Television Show

Wednesday, May 10, nine members of the Tower Belles visited channel 7's Kelly & Co. They were the first to be introduced by both Marlyn Turner and John Kelly.

Members joined in the audience participation and the hosts gave the group special attention. After the program we enjoyed a very nice lunch and trip home.

We're all enjoying hearing people say, "I saw you on TV." We're happy to have the opportunity to do our bit of advertising for "good old Chelsea."

Strange Happenings Reported During Recent Tray Race

Did you know that strange happenings occurred on May 6. Yes, during the brave the tray race between the Woodshed Squatters and Standers and Wild Woolly Town Tamers and Wolverine Wildcats it was noticed that the Wolverine's bucket (supposedly of water) had a nice head of foam on it. Strange! Then when the Woodshed Squatter with the winning tray was rounding a corner an earthquake happened to quake and dump the Woodshed's bucket. Strange! What's even more strange is the Wolverine's bucket just dumped itself over. Tisk, tisk, tisk. It sure was strange, but then everybody had a good time and we were serenaded beautifully by the Party Time Belles and Beaus and after all the Woodshed Squatters and Standers did win so...

Belles Chapters Battle It Out in Softball Game

Dana Field was the hot spot for the ladies softball game that took place on Sunday, May 6. The Brewery Belles and the Stud Finders won by a narrow margin against the Salmagundy Girls and the Waterloo Lilies.

The Salmagundy Girls and the Waterloo Lilies put out an effort that showed they all had true grit. The losing ladies presented the Brewery Belles and the Stud Finders with a beautiful one-of-a-kind trophy.

All the players on both teams showed tremendous athletic ability. It was a game that will not soon be forgotten. The final score of the game: 24-23.

P.S. Does anyone know when the next truckload of Ben-Gay comes in?

Geranium Sale Slated Saturday

A geranium flower sale will be held Saturday, May 19, 9 to 3, downtown in the village of Chelsea. Members of the chapter, "The Petal Pushers," from the great society known as the Chelsea Belles will offer a variety of colors of geraniums to the public in time for spring planting and decorating. Other flowering annuals will be available at the sale.

The Petal Pushers chapter is dedicated to the beautification of the village, in celebration of the Sesquicentennial.

Profits from the flower sale will be donated to the Chelsea Civic Foundation.

Early orders for flowers may be made at 475-1898.

Bushwackers Challenge Any Group to Sesqui 500 Tricycle Race

The "Bushwackers" are hereby issuing a challenge to all chapters for a "Sesqui 500" tricycle race. This race will be held on Saturday, June 23. Rules and further details will be mailed to the chapter leaders.

★ Budget Reductions in Lieu of Millage Request

The Chelsea Board of Education and the administration have given direction for the 1984-85 Chelsea School District budget. The budget projections indicate an increase in expenditures and a minimal increase in revenue. However, the board has made a commitment to reduce the budget categories to balance the 1984-85 budget. There will not be a request for additional millage.

In approaching the 1984-85 budget reductions, three priorities were established: (1) no request for additional millage; (2) no reduction or elimination of programs for students; (3) lay-off of district personnel only because of declining enrollment or program selection by students. The Budget Committee, with these parameters set, made budget reductions in staff replacement, capital outlay, supplies, textual materials, and budget constraints in fixed-cost areas; i.e., utilities, transportation, travel.

The State Equalized Valuation (SEV) indicators are such that the administration is predicting zero growth. Last year the eight townships' SEV declined by 5.33%. The expenditure side of the budget shows possible increases of approximately 6% in salaries, 10% in medical fringe costs, 10% in heat and electricity, and approximately 7% in purchased goods costs.

The initial budget, as presented for 1984-85, estimated income of $7,251,294 (+1.9%) ($7,117,837 for 1983-84) and expenditures of $7,820,837 ($7,237,266 for 1983-84). This initial budget indicated an excess of expenditures over revenue of $569,417. The Board of Education and administration have reduced this potential deficit to $164,707 (total expenditures of $7,416,001 = +2.5%) and will make further adjustments as SEV, staffing, and other costs become more firm. The budget will then be balanced by using part of the cash balance anticipated for June 30, 1984.

The Chelsea School District currently levies 38.62 mills. This includes 3.0 for building and site and 1 mill to be used for maintenance, renovation and repair of the district's facilities. The millage available for the operational budget is 34.62 mills.

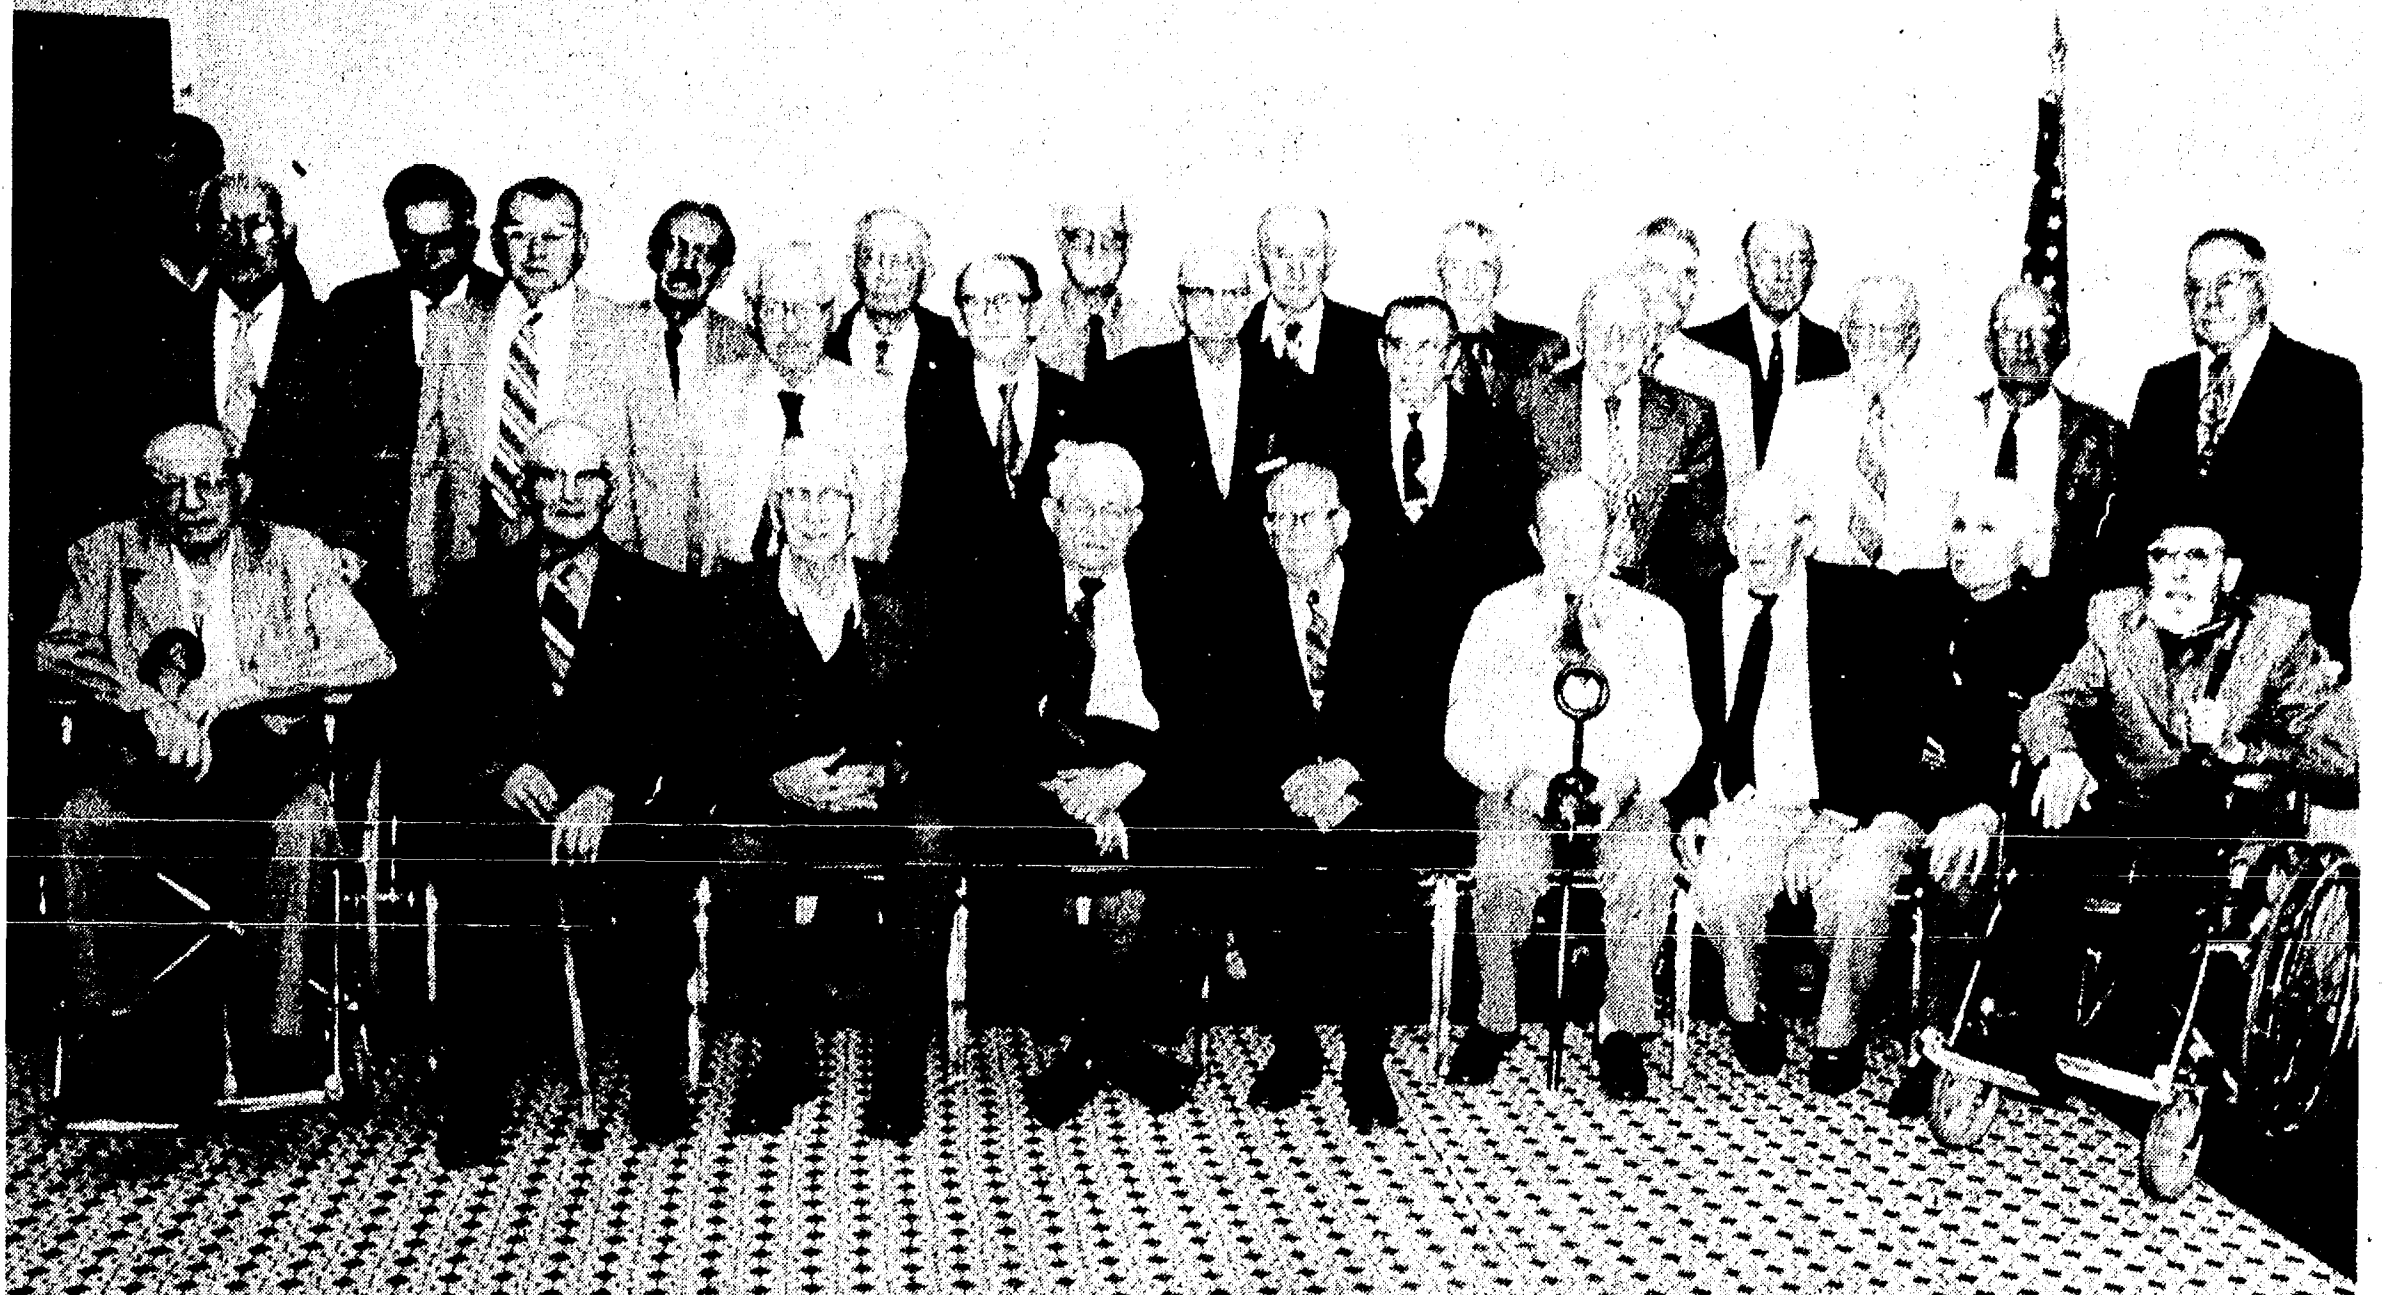

Turbans are made from between ten and twenty yards of the finest muslin.

Chelsea School Bands Will Present Concert

Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school bands will present a concert on Thursday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

The four bands will play music ranging from concert works to pop tunes and medleys.

"A Bit of Broadway" and "Sweet Georgia Brown" are among the seventh grade band's highlights.

The eighth grade band will perform a medley of TV show themes in "Rhapsody of Reruns," Michael Jackson's "Billie Jean," John Philip Sousa's "Thunderer" and "Overture for Winds."

The concert band will perform a medley of polkas in an arrangement of "Big Band Polka," and Scott Joplin's "Combination March."

The symphony band will perform "American Overture for Band" and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

H. Dennis Smith, professor of trombone at the University of Michigan, will be guest artist with the symphony band. He is former principal trombonist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, Detroit Symphony, and Utah Symphony.

Prof. Smith will perform "Bozza's Ballade," "Blue Bells of Scotland," and "Danny Boy" for trombone and wind ensemble.

Prof. Smith performs exclusively on the Bach Stradivarius trombone, and his performance is made possible by a grant from the Selmer Music Co.

This will be the final concert of the school year for the four bands. The public is encouraged to attend the musical evening.

Productivity, as measured by output per hour of all persons, increased at a 2.9 percent seasonally adjusted annual rate in the first quarter of 1984 in the business sector, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Labor Department.

Safety Town Program Offered to Youngsters

Safety Town is being offered this summer to all children who will be attending kindergarten in the fall of 1984.

This program is designed specifically for four- and five-year-old children to teach them basic concepts of safety. Topics covered include pedestrian safety, school bus safety, police and fire safety, home safety and personal safety. Safety Town also emphasizes each child learning his name, address and phone number.

The classes consist of eight half-day classes, the last of which is graduation day. Safety Town is run in conjunction with the Chelsea Police Department, and the classes are taught by certified teachers. Learning is reinforced by the use of a mock city.

The program has received national recognition for its effectiveness, and has been implemented in Ann Arbor and Plymouth, among others.

Parents may register children for the program at the Community Education Office at Chelsea High school. There is an $8 charge to help offset costs. The schedule is as follows:

Session 1—June 18, 19, 20, 21, June 25, 26, 27, 28, 9-11:30—Four classes of 15 each.

Session 2—Same dates as Session 1, 12:30-3—Two classes of 15 each.

If there are questions about this program, contact Kathy Thompson at 475-9383 or Community Education at 475-9830. Registration ends June 8.

Softball Team Wins Sixth Consecutive SEC Championship

They are Southeastern Conference champions again for the sixth year in succession, a record unmatched by any other team in the modern history of Chelsea High school sports.

The Bulldog girls varsity softball team thumped Tecumseh on Monday, 11-3, to lock up the league title. They are 8-1 with one game to play, this afternoon at Milan. The outcome will make no difference in the league standings because everybody else has lost at least three times.

Sophomore JoAnn Tobin was the winning pitcher against Tecumseh and was in command all the way as she ran her season record to 3-0. She struck out nine and walked three.

Sarah Comeau had the key hit, a two-run blow that broke the game open. Laura Anderson contributed two hits to the attack.

"We ran the bases very well, and that was the big difference in the game," Chelsea coach Charlie Waller said. "Actually, Tecumseh played pretty well against us, and we needed our speed on the bases. Otherwise, the score could have been a lot closer."

The Bulldogs played errorless ball in the field to back up Tobin.

One challenge leads to another, and the Bulldogs faced a tough one yesterday afternoon in a game at Willow Run, a "must" win if they are to qualify for district tournament play.

"There are so many teams in the district that it was necessary to schedule this game in advance of the normal pre-district game," Waller explained. "We have to win it to go any further in state competition."

Softball Team Whips Dexter and Lincoln

Chelsea's varsity softball team stayed on top of the Southeastern Conference last week with a pair of league victories over Dexter and Lincoln.

The Bulldogs ended the week with a 7-1 SEC record. Dexter and Milan are tied for second at 5-3, two games behind, and Chelsea needs only one more victory to sew up the championship.

Beth Unterbrink took personal charge of the Dexter game, pitching a one-hitter while striking out 16 and helping herself to the only run she needed with a solo homer.

Not an overpowering pitcher, Unterbrink continued to show excellent control by spotting the ball well and walking nobody. Her rise ball was working to perfection.

Unterbrink got support at the plate from Lori Folcik who drove in two runs with a third-inning single to trigger a four-run rally. Joyce Robards also had two hits, as the Bulldogs scored single runs in each of their three final turns at bat to run the score up to 7-0.

Lincoln gave Chelsea an unexpectedly tough game before bowing in the late innings, 8-4. Had the Railsplitters not committed five errors, they might have

Varsity Softball Team Wins Three At Dondero, Then Loses in the Rain

"We lost, but I think all the game proved was that you can be forced to play under impossible conditions if the officials make you do it."

That was how mild-mannered Chelsea varsity softball coach Charlie Waller described Sunday's 4-2 defeat at the hands of Flint Kearsley in the Royal Oak Dondero tournament.

The game was played in a steady downpour and, according to Waller, "wasn't a test of anything except how wet you can get without drowning."

"Let's be honest and say the weather was equally bad for both teams, which it was," Waller said. "The game should not have been played. It was just too wet for good softball by anybody."

Under ideal playing conditions on Saturday the Bulldogs won three games, although they had to go into extra innings in two of them.

The opening was a marathon 12-inning affair against host Dondero, which Chelsea finally won, 4-1, with three runs in the top of the 12th on a bases-loaded hit by Beth Unterbrink, who pitched all the way.

The Bulldogs broke a scoreless deadlock in the top of the seventh as Joyce Robards singled, went around to third on Anne Weber's bunt, and scored when the throw to third got away.

Dondero got the tying run in its half of the seventh, and the teams battled through five extra innings until the 12th when singles by Robards, Weber and Lori Folcik loaded the bases, and Unterbrink proceeded to unload them.

Unterbrink struck out 10, walked none and had 10 put-outs from her pitcher's position. Karen Wilson, Weber and Robards contributed outstanding defensive plays. Robards had three hits, and Unterbrink and Folcik two apiece.

The next game, against Belleville, went nine innings. Down 6-2 at the end of six, Chelsea rallied to tie at the end of regulation, then won out with four more runs in the ninth.

Kelly Hawker, Margie Rawson and Unterbrink all pitched, with Unterbrink getting credit for the win in relief.

Once again it was Unterbrink to the rescue with the bat as she hit a three-run double in the ninth inning. Weber's two-run single in the seventh had sent the game into extra innings.

Saturday's third contest was a laugher as Chelsea defeated Fenton, 12-1, in a game which ended after six innings under the mercy rule. Rawson pitched all the way, surrendering just two hits while striking out seven.

Robards, who was 8-14 for the three games, stroked three hits including a triple, and Unterbrink had a triple and a double. Chandy Hurd and Tina Paddock each hit safely twice.

Hawker was the starter and loser in Sunday's rain-drenched travesty, and was relieved by Rawson in the fifth. Behind 4-0 at the end of six, the Bulldogs rallied for two runs with the help of a double by Laura Anderson in the top of the seventh but couldn't score any more.

Unterbrink and Folcik had two hits each. "We played very well considering the weather," Waller said. "I can't be ashamed of losing a game under those conditions. Softball just isn't meant to be played in a downpour."

THEY'RE OFF! Girl sprinters spring out of the starting blocks in a race on the new Chelsea High school track. A fast start is all-important in the sprint events, which are usually decided in fractions of seconds.

scored the upset of the season.

Bulldog coach Charlie Waller worked pitchers Kelly Hawker, Margie Rawson and JoAnn Tobin in rotation, and they combined to hold the visitors to three hits but got in frequent trouble with walks and wild pitches.

It was anybody's ball game until the bottom of the sixth, when Chelsea scored three times to put it away finally.

"We didn't play real well," Waller said, "but we were good enough to win. Over a long season you are bound to have games like that, I guess."

Unterbrink and Robards each hit homers, and Chandy Hurd had two hits. Hawker got credit for the mound victory.

Canoeing Instructional Clinics Offered

Instruction is offered for families and individuals at the Argo Park Canoe Livery, located at 1055 Longshore Dr., Ann Arbor, on Saturdays beginning May 12 through June 23, (excluding Memorial Day week-end). Clinics are two hours long and are from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The first hour includes basic canoeing techniques, safety and proper handling and the second hour provides practice in Argo Pond.

All equipment and canoes are provided, and instructors are Red Cross certified.

The cost is $7.50 per person. For further information call 688-7411.

Albion Confers Degrees on Four From Local Area

Albion College conferred degrees on 334 students at its May 5 spring commencement. Area recipients included:

Chelsea—Tracy Lynn Cattell, daughter of Ms. Lynda Cattell, 358 Washington St., cum laude in Spanish.

John Francis Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dunn, 555 Washington St., economics and management.

Scott Prohaska, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Prohaska, 14580 Stoffer Ct., biology.

Pinckney—David Lee Haak, son of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Haak, 10050 McGregor Rd., cum laude in economics and management and computational mathematics.

Surveys indicate that peak working performance is reached between the ages of 51 and 60.

700 Contestants Expected For Regional Track Meet

More than 700 contestants are expected to compete in the regional track meet scheduled to be held here on Saturday, May 19, the first big meet on the new Chelsea High school track.

Thirty-two teams are entered, Chelsea athletic director Ron Nemeth said, "and it looks like they will all enter full teams in both boys and girls events. It should turn out to be quite a day."

Chelsea's new track won't be entirely finished, but it will be plenty good enough to run on with an excellent surface and accurate meter-lane markings. A finish coat of polyurethane plastic, which will make the track red, won't be applied until after school is out in June.

"We're ready to host the meet, and we will be able to handle it," Nemeth said. "Maybe we will have only the second or third best track in the state, instead of the best, but those kids in the regionals will be running on a real good surface and should turn in some excellent times."

The top coat of plastic will make Chelsea's track the best in Michigan, including those at the U. of M. and MSU.

A good running surface can make a difference in split-seconds when it comes down to timing, especially in the shorter distances and hurdles. The new Chelsea track has a lot of "bounce" and is pleasant to run on. It doesn't give you ankle shocks or shin splints, regardless of the distance.

Until this spring, all Chelsea track meets during the past three years have been held away from home because the local surface wasn't fit to run on. It was broken, pitted and just plain unsafe. A competitive run around the quarter-mile oval was just about guaranteed to produce a twisted ankle or worse.

The award of this year's regional meet to Chelsea is a tribute to the job that has been done in rebuilding the track and making it a fine facility.

Field event finals on May 19 will begin at 10 a.m. Preliminary heats in the sprints and hurdles will begin at the same time. Finals in the running events will begin at 1 p.m. Admission for the all-day show is $1.50.

Baseball Clinic Slated May 19 at Beach School

A baseball clinic for youngsters age 7-16 will be held Saturday, May 19, at the Beach Middle school under the sponsorship of the Chelsea Recreation Department.

Instruction will be provided by the Bulldog varsity baseball team, the coaching staff and several former players.

Fees are $4 for residents of Dexter and Lyndon township; $6 for Sylvan township, and $9 for Lima and all others. Registration must be made in advance.

The 7-11 age group will be schooled from 9-10:30 a.m., the 12-16 group from 11 a.m.-1 p.m.

Register at the Community Education Office at Chelsea High school from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday; Fridays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Chelsea Baseballers Hang in for Title With Lincoln Win

Chelsea's varsity baseball team managed only one victory in four tries last week, but can still win the Southeastern Conference championship by beating either Tecumseh or Milan in this week's play.

The Bulldogs lost to Dexter, 9-7 on Monday, defeated Lincoln, 10-2, on Wednesday, then dropped a pair in last Saturday's county tournament. The win over Lincoln was crucial to keeping Chelsea in the league title chase.

Dexter's Brad Kokmeyer proved too much for Bulldog pitchers to handle, as he went 4-4 at the plate and drove in five runs to lead his team to victory. His hits included two doubles and a home run.

"There was nothing cheap about any of his hits," Chelsea coach Wayne Welton said. "They were all solid shots. He's an outstanding athlete, excellent at the plate. We had hoped to pitch around him, but he kept coming up with runners on base, and he delivered."

The Bulldogs led, 5-2, at the end of four innings, but Dexter scored four in the bottom of the fifth to lead, 6-5. Chelsea tied it in the sixth, but Kokmeyer crashed a two-run double to put the game away in the seventh.

"We didn't give our pitchers (Dan Bellus and Chuck Downer) very good defensive support," Welton said. "We dropped three pop flies that should have been easy outs, and set up runners in scoring position. Our defense has been erratic. In some games we play well, in others poorly. As I've said all season, when we play good defense we win. When we don't, we lose."

David Bushway collected three hits for Chelsea and Chris Gallas two. Evan Roberts banged a triple.

Coming back two days later, the Bulldogs played good ball all the way around to defeat Lincoln, 10-2. Jay Marshall pitched all the way while giving up four hits, striking out six and walking three.

Jay is a very strong boy whose upper body may be a little bit over-developed for pitching, Welton said. "He's perhaps done too much weight-lifting. He has trouble getting loose and settling into a rhythm. He has improved throughout the season, and this may have been his best showing. His record is 4-0, and it's hard to argue with that. He's a very tough competitor."

The hard-hitting Bulldogs had 14 hits including a couple of key blows by Marty Steinhauer who drove in four runs. Steinhauer also lined a perfect throw to the plate from left field to nail a runner trying to score.

Roberts had three hits and three RBI's, and Chuck Hager, who hasn't been hitting the ball well, came up with two and two to break out of his slump.

The Bulldogs sunk to their season low point in a 10-9 loss to Novi in the county tournament last Saturday, committing an horrendous total of nine errors. "I think the less said about that game the better," Welton said. "We played very, very poorly."

Still, Chelsea continued to swing the bat well, collecting 11 hits which are usually enough to win. Gallas, Roberts and Bellus all smacked home runs.

The Bulldogs did no better in their second game of the day, losing to Ann Arbor Huron, 10-8, despite a nine-hit attack. Rob Beckwith and Gallas had three hits each, and Beckwith drove in four runs.

"We hit the ball real well in both games," said Welton, who was not despondent over the losses except for the errors.

Sensing an excellent shot at the SEC championship, Welton has been saving his pitching staff for league contests and not worrying too much about weekend tournaments and non-loop games.

"Defense is the key," he repeated. "Our hitting is good, our pitching adequate. If we play well in the field, we'll be winners."

JV Baseballers Win Over Tecumseh, Lincoln

The junior varsity baseball team ran its Southeastern Conference record to 5-3 with victories over Dexter and Lincoln last week and was tied for second place going into this week's showdown contests against Tecumseh and Milan.

The Bulldog JV's defeated Dexter, 5-3, behind the one-hit pitching of Kevin Walz. The only officially recorded hit was a misjudged fly ball which dropped safely and opened the door to all three Dexter runs.

Walz struck out nine and walked only two in a fine performance on the mound. Todd Starkey was the hitting hero with a triple that drove in the two winning runs in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Kevin Maynard had a triple and a single and drove in two runs, and Dave Boote also had two hits.

The Lincoln game was a wild one which Chelsea finally won, 12-11, with Maynard getting the pitching victory in relief. Three Bulldog hurlers surrendered only five hits but walked 14 batters.

Chelsea, meanwhile, was banging out 17 hits, the most important being Ty Anderson's single which brought home the winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

Rob Murrell had four Bulldog hits, Maynard three, and Boote, Ray Spencer and Steve Wingrove two each. Boote and Wingrove each socked home runs.

HE'S CATCHING NOW: Chelsea High baseball fans are used to seeing Chris Gallas playing at third base, where he does an excellent job. He has been pressed into service as catcher following an injury to Rick Boham, and has done very well there, too.

Girls Track Team Loses Two Meets

The Chelsea high girls track team ran against league leader Tecumseh on May 8 and came out on the short end of an 83-45 score.

Forced to make several lineup changes because of injuries, the Bulldogs managed only three firsts: the 3,200 relay of Amy Wolfgang, Laura Damm, Sallie Wilson and Stephanie Roberts in 10:31.5; Amy Wolfgang in the 300 hurdles in 48.3; and Susan Jaques in the 200 in 29.3.

In the field events, the shot putters turned in good performances as Josie Krzeczowski was second with 28-5, Cris Zerkel third with 28-0, and Amy Richardson threw her season best 27-1 in a non-scoring effort. Zerkel and Kay Bauer added a second and third in the discus.

Other seconds came from Debby Tefft in the 100 hurdles, Elizabeth Lindstrom in the 100, Melanie Flanigan in the 3,200 and Sallie Wilson in the 1,600. In the best race of the meet, Laura Damm, despite an outstanding stretch run, finished second to the Indian's Brenda Root in a near dead-heat in the 800. Chelsea's Chris Neuman was third.

Also getting third places were Mary Ann Richardson in the 1,600, Laura Heeter in the 400, Debby Tefft in the 300 hurdles, Elizabeth Lindstrom in the 200, Susan Jaques in the high jump and Eddie Harook in the long jump.

Last Thursday the girls lost a close meet to Saline, 66-62. Saline got an early lead, but the Bulldogs inched back, but couldn't quite overtake the Hornets despite some good performances.

The throwers again had a good day as Cris Zerkel was second in the shot put with a 30-3/4 throw, a freshman record with the four-kilogram shot. Josie Krzeczowski was third in 28-3. Zerkel also had a fine discus throw of 86-2 for second in that event, with Kay Bauer third in 81-5. Eddie Harook was second in the long jump, and Anne Becker was third in the high jump.

Laura Damm, Stephanie Roberts, Sallie Wilson and Wendy Wolfgang put together a 10:24.8 to win the 3,200 relay. Wilson and Robin Mock ran 1-2 in the 1,600 in 5:50.3 and 5:55.3, respectively. Damm won the 800 in 2:38.7 with Wendy Wolfgang third. Debby Tefft turned in her season's best :53.3 in the 300 hurdles for third; and Carol Warren was third in the 100.

One of the day's highlights was the fine performance in the 3,200. All three Bulldog runners had season bests as they swept the event. Sallie Wilson led in 12:54.8, Melanie Flanigan was second in 13:01.8 and Mary Ann Richardson third in 13:05.9.

The top performance of the day came from Amy Wolfgang who contributed four wins to the cause. Amy won the 100 hurdles in :17.7, the 400 in a good 1:02, then one event later, the 300 hurdles in :49.7. Wolfgang came back to anchor the 1,600 relay of Christie Favers, Carol Warren and Laura Damm as they won in 4:27.8.

Three other runners had good but non-scoring performances. Kim Collins, coming off an injury and after being knocked down in a false start in the 1,600, ran her best time, a 6:25.

Tennis Team Ties, Loses in Meets

The Chelsea boys tennis team lost one and tied one last week. The netters lost to Novi, 2-5, and had to settle for a 3-3 tie with Brooklyn Columbia Central.

The tie, a rarity in tennis, occurred because the Columbia Central meet was played indoors at the Jackson Racquet Club. With the score knotted at 3-3, the two teams had to give up the court because of a time factor, with the final and potentially deciding match tied at 1-1.

"We wanted this win for our third this year and were very disappointed at not being able to finish," CHS coach Terry Schreiner said.

Up to the time the meet was called, Mark Henson had scored for Chelsea in a long three-set singles match, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. The doubles duos of Thom Schumann-Kurt Eisenbeiser, 6-0, 6-1, and Jeff Waldyke-Olav Meyer, 6-2, 6-0, had likewise won.

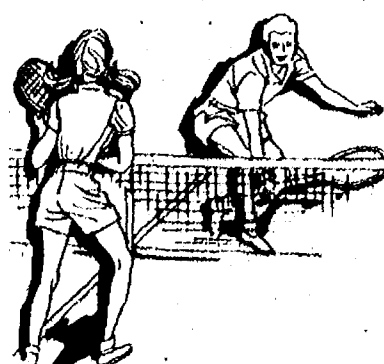

The two points Chelsea won from Novi were both gained in doubles. Schumann and Eisenbeiser won, 6-2, 6-3, and Rick Proctor and Mike Merkel stroked to a 6-4, 6-0 victory.

The tennis team has four matches this week, beginning with Riverview here Monday. Howell here yesterday, Hartland there today and the regional meet at Monroe on Friday.

Chelsea's best shot in the regionals appears to be the No. 1 doubles team of Schumann-Eisenbeiser, which is 7-3 in matches played this season.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

My boss Walt Leonard is a former ball player and therefore kind of a superstitious guy. All athletes are superstitious, including me. "Don't write anything about the Detroit Tigers," Walt kept telling me. "You'll jinx them."

I can't recall ever sending a team into a tailspin by writing something good about it, but the belief that it can happen lingers, and I share it to a degree. We writers focus attention on winners, and therefore make losers more determined to rise to the occasion and beat the front-runners. That's an inevitable fact of athletic life.

However, I can't imagine that anything printed in our weekly papers will influence happenings in Detroit. Besides, it's time to say something about the Tigers, who have gotten off to an amazing season start and just could run away from the rest of the very tough American League East division.

As I wrote this, the Tigers had won 24 of 28 games, tying the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers for the best start ever in the major leagues. They had won 13 games in a row on the road, just shy of a record. They had opened up a six-game lead over Toronto whose 18-10 mark ordinarily would be good enough to be out front.

The statistics border on the unbelievable. The Tigers are playing extremely good baseball, the kind that wins. They are doing the right things at the right times, coming up with clutch hits and key defensive plays that separate winners from losers. They are getting excellent pitching from starters and relievers.

They have been lucky in some winning games but, as Chelsea baseball coach Wayne Welton remarked to me, "Good teams make their own luck. They keep the pressure on, force the action and eventually break something open. Don't forget that the Tigers have a bunch of fine ball players, the kind who can make things happen in their favor. I like their chances to go all the way."

So do I. As anybody who has ever played in sports, especially team sports, will testify, winning can get to be a habit. So can losing. The winning habit is much the more fun. Winning sets you up mentally to go out and win again. Repeated losing leaves you with a kind of "Why bother?" feeling which makes you a push-over for your next opponent.

Over the 162-game schedule that Major League baseball teams play, winning a lot of games early can be decisive. Any team that hopes to go somewhere has to look at the long term and figure out what it will take to be champions at the end of the grind.

Baltimore won the American League East last year with 96 victories, four more than Detroit's 92. It's a good bet that 96 wins will be enough this season, and the Tigers already have 24, which means they have advanced 25 percent of the way during the first five weeks of a 30-week season.

Games won early mean exactly as much as games won late. A win is a win, no matter when it's recorded. I find it surprising that some so-called "experts" are putting down the Tigers' early burst, suggesting that these spring victories somehow don't mean much and that the race will be decided down the August-September stretch when wins will really count.

Unless the rules are changed in mid-season, late-summer triumphs won't count a bit more in the standings than those the Tigers have already racked up.

I'm not great at arithmetic, but my pencil-figuring tells me that the Tigers need to win 72 of their remaining 134 games to get to 96. That means they must play at a victory rate of about .550, winning 11 games out of every 20. I like their chances to do at least that well, and I suspect they can and will do better. A hundred wins is a realistic goal, and that many would certainly lock up the division leadership.

What Detroit has done is construct a cushion. The Tigers are in the happy position of being able to afford to lose some games, which they undoubtedly will. They can survive a mild losing streak without dropping out of the race, and they likely will have one somewhere along the line.

The other side of the coin is that, by putting themselves far out in front, the Tigers have made themselves targets. Everybody will be trying extra-hard to beat them. Opposing managers will juggle pitching rotations to make sure that their best hurlers will be rested and ready to face Detroit. Baltimore, New York and Toronto will come at the Tigers prepared to do or die in the battle to win the American League East.

If the Bengals can't stand up to that kind of pressure, they don't deserve to finish in front.

Loss to Tecumseh Delays Title Bid

The home-town scenario called for Chelsea's varsity baseball team to lock up at least a share of the Southeastern Conference championship with a victory over Tecumseh here Monday afternoon, but the visiting Indians hadn't read the script.

Tecumseh erupted for six runs in the second inning to wipe out a 1-0 Bulldog lead and coast to an 8-4 victory.

The Indians didn't hit the ball particularly hard but put it in the right places and got a couple of breaks on bad-hop grounders that ordinarily would have been routine outs.

"Tecumseh is a good, well coached team, and you can't spot them a five-run lead and have much hope of coming back," said a disappointed Chelsea coach Wayne Welton. "It just wasn't our day."

The Bulldogs tried to retaliate and make a game of it after falling behind, 8-1, and put runners on base in every inning but couldn't get the key hits they needed. They hit several shots, but most of them went right at somebody.

Sophomores Chuck Downer and Dan Bellus shared Chelsea's pitching duties, with Downer taking the loss. Neither threw as poorly as the score suggests. The ball seemed to have eyes for the openings whenever an Indian put a bat on it.

Looking for the silver lining in the cloud, Welton said he was pleased with his team's heads-up play over the last four innings.

"I think we were a little too tense at the start," he commented. "We made some mental mistakes on the bases and in the field in the early innings, and I hope we got them out of our system."

The loss to Tecumseh means that this afternoon's game here against Milan will decide whether the Bulldogs win at least a piece of the SEC title. Chelsea must win or be an also-ran.

Welton described Milan as "an in and out team which has shown it can play very well at times" and expressed concern over the fact that the Big Reds have a good left-handed pitcher.

"If he starts against us, we could have a problem," Welton said. "We've seen exactly one and one-third innings of left-handed pitching all season long, and we have five left-handed hitters in our starting lineup."

Welton added that the injury to catcher Rick Boham, who suffered a separated shoulder in the May 7 against Milan, has hampered the Bulldogs in their championship drive.

"I don't like to make excuses, but the fact is that we badly miss Rick, both behind the plate and at bat. Chris Gallas is doing a fine job substituting as catcher, and Evan Roberts has filled in well for Gallas at third base, but the switches definitely have taken some things away from us."

Switchgrass Promoted As Aid to Pheasants

Plant switchgrass instead of or in addition to alfalfa.

That is what the Department of Natural Resources is urging southern Michigan farmers to do as an assist to restoring pheasants.

According to a news release from Jeff Greene, wildlife habitat biologist at the DNR's Jackson district office, switchgrass offers an alternative to alfalfa for conventional grazing and feed-lot operations. Experimental seedlings will be made this spring in state game and recreation areas to demonstrate its potential.

Switchgrass is a tall (3-5 feet) native prairie grass which, the DNR says, provides excellent cattle forage during the hot summer months when cool-season grasses are dormant.

"Presently, most of Michigan's prime pheasant nesting cover consists of alfalfa fields," Greene said. "These fields are cut or chopped in late May or early June. Any ground-nesting birds or animals (including pheasants) are subject to destruction along with their nests."

"Because switchgrass is not pastured or cut for hay until July, pheasants using these fields would not be disturbed during the nesting season."

"Switchgrass can be valuable to cattlemen as warm-season forage," Greene continued. "A pasture rotation system that incorporates both cool-season forage and switchgrass is more efficient because cattle can be removed from exhausted cool-season pastures in late June, placed on switchgrass during July and August, then returned to cool-season pastures during the fall. This allows continuous grazing through the growing season."

Such a system would eliminate much of the need to plant and cut alfalfa and other hay during the spring months to carry livestock through the summer in feed-lots.

Planting dates for switchgrass include all of May and early June. Thorough seed-bed preparation including double-discing and culti-packing both before and after seeding are recommended. Seeding at a rate of 6-8 pounds per acre, at one-quarter to half an inch deep, can be done with a standard or no-till grain drill. Application of atrazine at the rate of two pounds per acre immediately after planting is required to control competition from other grasses.

Tests in other states have shown that switchgrass produces a higher yield than most other hay plants. It also produces good-quality nesting and rearing habitat for pheasants, quail, cottontail rabbits, wild ducks and songbirds.

Three-quarters of workers over 55 want to continue some type of paid work after retirement.

Howdy Holmes in Front Row for Indy 500

Howdy Holmes of Ann Arbor, son of Howard Holmes who is co-owner of Chelsea Milling Co., will be in the front row when 33 cars start chasing automobile racing's most coveted prize—the Indianapolis 500—on Sunday, May 27.

Holmes qualified with a speed of 207.997 miles per hour, which would have been a record had not teammate Tom Sneva blistered the track with an amazing 210.029.

Sneva's time over the 10-mile qualifying course earned him the pole position, with Holmes right beside him in the middle of the three-car front row. Rick Mears earned the last spot in the top three with a speed of 207.847.

Holmes finished sixth in last year's Indy 500 after running briefly in third place. His car just didn't have the speed to keep up with the leaders.

Holmes resigned from the Domino Pizza racing team shortly after last year's Indy, following a dispute over the mechanical preparation of the racing car he was driving.

He signed on with Mayer Motor Racing of Farmington, which provided him a brand-new machine built by March Engineering of England. It is considered to be one of the three or four fastest cars entered in this year's 500. How well it will hold up under the grind remains to be seen.

Past history shows that about a dozen of the 33 starting racers manage to finish. Accidents and breakdowns take out the others.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Last week I wrote about a man named Ralph Stivers, who was either the best fisherman or the most outrageous liar I have ever known. I honestly think he was the former. I've known quite a few lying fishermen, but never one who could back up his stories with fish to prove them. Somehow or other, the fish invariably "got away." Stivers produced fish from somewhere, and I believe he caught them.

He told me that he had been a fishing guide in northern Wisconsin during his early years, working his way through school and keeping his large-family dinner table supplied with fresh fish. He learned the butcher's trade and moved to Michigan, where opportunities for earning a living as a meat-cutter looked to be a little better, and settled in what was then East Ann Arbor. He didn't quit fishing.

After looking at the succession of unbelievable walleye catches which Stivers said he had taken from the Huron River somewhere between Barton Pond and the Kent Lake dam, I challenged him:

"There are supposed to be a lot of smallmouth bass in the Huron. Go out and catch a nice bunch, and bring them in. I need a picture and a story."

At the time I was trying to promote a stream improvement project on the river, with the idea of creating a better bass fishery. My experience had been that smallmouths were plentiful enough in the Huron if you were satisfied to catch and release under-sized fish. The minimum legal length for bass was then 10 inches, and I could and did catch dozens that ran from 7 to 9½. A keeper was a rarity, and I couldn't figure out why (and still can't, as a matter of fact).

"Give me a couple of days," Stivers answered me. "I'll get back in touch."

Two days later the phone rang. "This is Stivers. Come on out to the house and bring your camera. I've got something to show you."

Laid out on a piece of plywood were 10 beautiful smallmouths—the biggest 20 inches, the smallest 12. It was the prettiest catch of smallmouth bass that I have ever seen.

"Had to work hard, but I finally found them," Stivers told me. "The bass are in there, and there are some bigger ones than any of these. I broke off a couple that would have gone five pounds or better. They hit deep on night-crawlers with an Indiana spinner in front as an attractor. It's a good combination. Try it."

(For the record I did, many times, and never caught a darned thing. The few decent-size smallmouths that I have taken from the Huron River were hooked on hellgrammites, the ugly-looking larvae of the dobson fly. It is somewhat harder to catch hellgrammites than the fish you'd half them with.)

Anyway, I took a picture of Stivers' 10 smallmouths and published it in the Ann Arbor News. A couple of days later Conservation Officer Don Boyer phoned me.

"Bill, I've got a problem. That picture you printed in the paper shows an illegal catch. I'm going to have to arrest Stivers."

During the next couple minutes of fast talking I learned for the first time that there is a law in Michigan against having in possession more than one day's legal catch of any species of fish. It's a law that I had unintentionally violated many times before, and have deliberately broken many times since. It has to be just about the silliest law on the books, but it's still there. What it says is that should you be lucky enough to catch a daily limit of fish—which does happen every now and then—you must eat them, give them away or throw them in the garbage before you go fishing again. That's a story in itself, and I'll get to it some week soon.

Don Boyer was a tough CO. He had the reputation of being ready, willing and even eager to arrest his own wife should he catch her breaking a conservation law. In this instance he relented, maybe for the first and only time in his career. After I explained that I had encouraged Stivers to go out and catch the fish, that two days had elapsed, that I honestly believed the 10 fish represented two daily legal limits of five each, and that if anybody was going to be arrested it probably should be me for inspiring someone else to commit a crime, Don agreed to let the matter drop.

Ralph Stivers' string of 10 smallmouths remains the best catch of the species that I have ever looked at. I don't ever want to see another like it, simply because I now know that 10 are twice too many under the law. Anybody brings in a bunch of smallmouths to be photographed, please limit the number to five so we can all stay out of trouble.

Turkeys Are Nesting In Waterloo Area

The wild turkey nesting season has begun in the Waterloo Recreation Area, and the birds released during the past two years are reported to have gotten off to a good start. Mating and breeding activity has been observed.

A total of 30 turkeys imported from Iowa has been released in various locations in the Waterloo area.

Department of Natural Resources biologists hope that, with a successful nesting season, the flock could increase to 50-75 by fall and become permanently established.

Competitive Swim, Diving Programs

Registrations are currently being accepted for the Department of Park and Recreation Competitive Swimming and Diving Programs held at Fuller Pool, Ann Arbor. The program is designed for swimmers with a strong swimming background.

established.

The incubating period for turkey eggs is 28 days, and it is critical that the brooding hens not be disturbed during that time. The hens are spooky and easily frightened off their nests, which are located on the ground, usually in stands of oak trees.

Anyone who flushes or even sees a hen turkey at this time of year should back out of the area as quietly as possible, and hope the bird will return to its nest.

Chili Cook-Off Raises More Than $25,000 For Kidney Foundation

The Great Chili Cook-Off Hot Air Balloon Festival, a benefit for the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan, sponsored by Health Care Network, a subsidiary of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, was a huge success!

Held May 5-6 at the Farm Council Grounds near Saline, an estimated 15,000 people attended the two-day event, with the bulk of the attendance on Saturday during the fifth annual Great Chili Cook-Off.

Eighty cooks competed in the largest regional cook-off in the country with the winning spot going to Howard Sheltraw of Saginaw.

Other winners were: 2nd, Robt. Vargo of Milford; 3rd, Jim Adamski of Redford; 4th, Dave Rzepa of Jackson; 5th, Peggy Whiteley of Detroit; 6th, Norb Bischoff of Kentucky; 7th, David Richey of Troy; 8th, Dennis Blucharz of Flat Rock; 9th, Steve Uptegraft of Lansing; 10th, Richard Spillard of Canton.

Among the cooks on the finalist table, (top 15 chilis) were Ken Calvert of WRIF-FM and Phil Lamka of WWW-FM.

Howard Sheltraw will represent the Kidney Foundation at the International Chili Society Cook-Off in California this fall, flight courtesy of Republic Airlines.

Spokesperson for the Kidney Foundation estimate they raised over $25,000, the largest amount in the five-year history of the event.

Hot air balloons added greatly to the attraction with 20 pilots, many national and international winners of ballooning competition, participating in the only sanctioned balloon race in Michigan, the Dr. Bill Grabb Memorial Hot Air Balloon Race.

Saturday morning was the only sanctioned task with all 13 competing pilots tallying 500 points. Saturday evening's ascension was just for show, since low winds prevented actual sanctioned competition.

Sunday morning's flight was cancelled because of dense fog, limiting visibility. The visibility requirement for flying is three miles.

"We hope to make the balloon festival an annual event," states David St. Clair, executive director of the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan. "They were beautiful to watch."

Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor was the host hotel of the weekend of events housing more than 20 balloon pilots.

One of the biggest money makers on Saturday was WJQB's Great Midwestern Egg Drop Contest co-sponsored by Huron Advertising Signs who provided the crane and staff. This contest challenges participants to catch raw eggs dropped up to 100 feet over the grounds.

Ernie Winn, general manager of the station says more than 114 dozen eggs were dropped.

The National Kidney Foundation of Michigan is a United Way agency serving kidney patients and their families in Michigan.

May Is National High Blood Pressure Month

What do uncontrolled high blood pressure, overweight, smoking and a high cholesterol diet have in common? They—as well as a family history of high blood pressure—all increase your chances of getting heart disease.

How much depends on your family history and on how many of these "health risks" you take.

Doctors, nurses and pharmacists can diagnose high blood pressure. They—as well as health educators, nutritionists and other health professionals—also can tell you how big a chance you may be taking with your health if you don't control those risks which may be modified or eliminated.

They may provide information and programs to help people cut back on salt, quit smoking, or increase their exercise level.

And people who change their lifestyles often find their high blood pressure medication works better and they reach their blood pressure goal faster.

The theme for this year's National High Blood Pressure Month is "Share the Success," acknowledging the team effort which is responsible for the encouraging trends in the area of high blood pressure awareness and control.

Screening, education, high tech diagnostic equipment and treatment, and the increasing number of people who are taking more responsibility for their own health have all played a role in the "success."

In a 1976-80 survey, data showed that the number of individuals whose high blood pressure was adequately controlled had more than doubled compared to all figures in a 1971-72 survey. Further, in the decade since 1976, stroke mortality has declined by over 40% and heart attack is down by almost 30%.

Local groups are observing National High Blood Pressure Month throughout the county.

The Washtenaw County Health Department and Pharmaceutical Society are training several local pharmacists to initiate their own high blood pressure screening programs. Pharmacists who participate in this pilot program will check blood pressures, provide information and, if necessary, make referrals to physicians. After the pilot program is completed, the training will be offered to other pharmacists in the county.

All pharmacies have received information about hypertension and many will provide pamphlets to patients. Check with your pharmacist or call the Health Department at 973-1488 for more information.

Catherine McAuley Health Center is conducting blood pressure screenings at local banks once again this year. Chelsea Hospital and Saline Hospital also are providing staff for the screenings. For information about the schedule call Community Relations Department, at Catherine McAuley, 572-4000.

A series of lectures—Control your Blood Pressure: Here's How, is being offered by Catherine McAuley staff. Topics include: Don't Sweat It—Nutrition and Exercise Habits (Monday, May 14), Listen to Your Heart—Lowering Your Blood Pressure Without Drugs (Monday, May 21), and Live With Less Stress (Thursday, May 24). All programs are scheduled for 7-9 p.m.

LIFELINE PROGRAM: Chelsea's Lifeline program, an emergency response system for the elderly or handicapped to obtain fast medical aid, has expanded significantly during the past year. Above, a participant is shown with the telephone base system at her side and the "help" button worn on her wrist. Below, Kathy Correll answers a Lifeline call in the Chelsea Community Hospital's emergency room.

Chelsea Lifeline Program Reports Significant Progress During Year

The past year has seen significant developments in Chelsea's Lifeline program. Lifeline is an emergency response system for the elderly or handicapped, based in Chelsea Community Hospital's emergency room.

The system is designed to provide fast responses in emergency situations by relying on neighbors and friends designated by the subscriber. Through services volunteered by the Chelsea ment the program is operated at minimal cost of $10 per month. The initial cost of equipment was made possible by a grant from the Civic Foundation of Chelsea.

Completed during the past year were negotiations with Lifeline, Inc., which allowed upgrading the system at minimal cost. The new equipment is smaller and lighter, making it easier to use and more versatile. The program now has the capability to expand into areas such as home blood pressure monitoring if that type of service becomes necessary.

Lifeline is providing service to a total of 19 individuals in the Chelsea area. There are currently 14 subscribers, with two more applications being processed. The system has been utilized on numerous occasions.

In one situation a subscriber fell, fracturing her arm. She was in pain and unable to get up from the floor. She pressed her help button and within three minutes a neighbor was there. Within 15 minutes, she was in the emergency room having her arm treated.

In a second case the subscriber was found by her family very weak and confused. They triggered the help button. When the emergency room called in response, the family member explained the situation and an ambulance was dispatched. The emergency room staff remained on the phone to provide information and support to the family until the ambulance arrived.

Continued growth of Lifeline services is anticipated. Further information about Lifeline services is available by calling the Chelsea Senior Citizens, at 475-9242 or Chelsea Community Hospital social services department, 475-1311, ext. 262.

HCMA Parks To Open Memorial Day Weekend

Hudson Mills, Dexter-Huron and Delhi metroparks, located along the Huron River, are ready for the Memorial Day holiday weekend and the 1984 summer season.

Hudson Mills (1,527 acres) has heavily wooded areas, two shelters, lagoon, rustic bridges, a nature trail, picnic tables, stoves, playground equipment, roads and parking lots, and a bike-hike trail. The rapids are colorful, shorefishing is popular, and there are two canoe campsites.

The acorn nature trail is ¾ miles in length and takes hikers near the Huron River, through densely wooded areas and handsome flowering dogwood trees. Self-guided hikes are popular.

Dexter-Huron (122 acres) and Delhi (47 acres), also primarily picnic-playground parks, are favorite picnic spots for family groups. Groups of 50 or more persons should contact the park office to arrange outings. Picnic areas and tables are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Water and sanitary facilities are also provided.

Camping by organized youth groups is available with permits ($5 per group per visit) issued at the Hudson Mills park office. No family camping is permitted in any HCMA metropark.

Canoe rentals are available at Delhi metropark, with information available by contacting Hudson Mills metropark (426-8211) or Skip's Huron River Canoe Livery (769-8686). There are two canoe trips: from Hudson Mills to Delhi, $14, or Dexter-Huron to Delhi, $8.

Park hours are 8 a.m. to sunset daily, unless otherwise posted.

For additional information contact Hudson Mills metropark, 426-8211 or 1-800-552-6772 (toll-free).

Required is a 1984 Metropark Vehicle Entry Permit (Annual: regular $7, senior citizen $2, or daily $2).

Opportunities Offered To Host Foreign Students

Educational Foundation for Foreign Study, a non-profit high school exchange program, has announced an opportunity for three Chelsea area families to host European students during the 1984-85 school year.

The program is being coordinated by Linda Lakshminarayanan of Ann Arbor, Educational Foundation area representative.

Representing the Scandinavian countries, the Netherlands, Austria, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Spain and Mexico, the students have been selected through an intensive screening process in their homelands. They are between the ages of 15 and 18, speak English, and have demonstrated above-average academic performance, maturity, and the ability to adapt to a new environment.

The Educational Foundation program is part of the President's Foundation Youth Exchange Initiative which is currently focusing national attention on intercultural student exchange as an important step toward world peace. Ms. Lakshminarayanan will participate in this program by making arrangements with local high schools, securing volunteer host families and supervising the ten-month program in the Chelsea area.

Families interested in hosting a student should contact Ms. Lakshminarayanan to arrange for an interview and an opportunity to review student applications in order to select a boy or girl who would best match their family. By inviting a student this spring, a family is able to correspond in the months before August arrival and begin to build a relationship with their new "son" or "daughter."

Families should call Ms. Lakshminarayanan at 996-9176, or the Educational Foundation office at (800) 243-5400.

Cheryl Nadeau Receives Degree

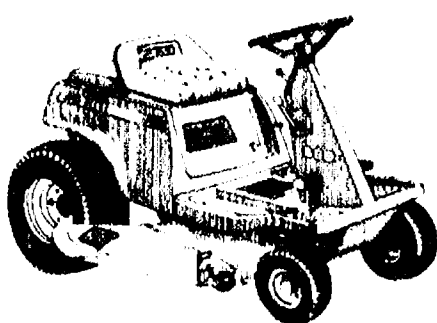

Cheryl Lynn Nadeau of Chelsea received a bachelor's degree in English from Saint Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind., on April 29. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Nadeau of 19850 Old US-12.

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU

We wish to thank the Chelsea, Dexter and Stockbridge Fire Departments for their efforts in trying to save our house on Joslin Lake Rd. on "Good Friday." We know you did your best, "Bless your hearts." We will always feel grateful for your efforts.

Pete and Ruth Jaskot.

Jim and Shirley Reilly.

CONGRATULATIONS JUNIOR CLASS

You are to be commended for the fantastic "Royal Ball." It was fantastic, and you have every right to be proud. We know it was an enormous amount of work.

Thank you also for opening the doors early for public view. Mrs. Walter, thanks for the time and patience you gave to the class.

Thanks and Congratulations, Larry and Nadine Koch.

THANK YOU

We sincerely wish to thank all the Brothers of the Brush, their Belles, the Sesquicentennial Committee, the 16 members of the VFW Post and Auxiliary 4076, and all who helped in making our 7th annual blood drive such a huge success. We have set aside the first Saturday of May each year for this community project.

VFW Chairman Ken Platt

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Re: No Increases for Most Village Employees - The Chelsea Standard 4/25/84.

We hope if our business were ever in need of the services of the "volunteers" at the Chelsea Fire Department, they will feel like working!

It seems to us that the village president, residents, and surrounding townships would realize the importance of the fire department and its life-saving services.

We can understand that there is not always enough money for everyone to get raises, as trustee Joe Merkel sensibly points out; however, it is ridiculous for us to believe that the brave firefighters are ONLY "volunteers" with nobody "forcing them to work!"

Perhaps Chief Bud Hankerd and his men need to rename themselves. How about the Chelsea AREA Fire Department?

- Bless the Volunteers.

P.S. If we do need emergency service, we hope Red Light Lentz will hurry to help us!

Lima Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting May 7, 1984

The regular meeting of the Lima Township Board was called to order by Supervisor Bauer on May 7 and opened with the Pledge to the Flag.

Present were Supervisor Bauer, Clerk Bareis, Treasurer Messman, Trustees Trinkle and Heller, also present Lefty Schantz and Ken Burkhalter.

Approved minutes of the April 2 meeting.

The treasurer's report was received.

Lefty Schantz a volunteer for Washtenaw County Emergency Management spoke regarding threatening weather alerts. A meeting for all interested residents and others, will be June 4 at 7:00 p.m. at the townhall.

Approved the new zoning ordinance in accordance with the recommendation of the Lima Township Planning Commission, Washtenaw County Planning Commission and the study committee.

Approved the 1984 contract with the Road Commission in the amount of $65,994.13.

Approved concurring with the request of longtime residents named Seitz, to correct the spelling on all Seitz Drive signs to read Seitz.

THE LUCKY SEAT: This bar stool at the Inverness Inn on N. Territorial Rd. is the most popular in the house, now that two patrons who sat in it while buying state lottery tickets have won a total of $30,000. Proprietor Matt Hintzen keeps it dusted off and ready for someone else to try his or her luck.

Lucky Seat Wins Big Twice in State Lottery

There's a lucky bar stool at the Inverness Inn on North Territorial Rd. Two men who sat in it while buying state lottery tickets won a total of $30,000.

Last October Richard Higgs of Pinckney bought three lottery tickets for a dollar apiece. One of them turned out to be a $20,000 winner.

A couple of weeks ago, Carl Johnson of Pinckney also purchased three $1 tickets. One of them was a $10,000 instant winner.

"It's kind of strange, really," said Matt Hintzen of Inverness Inn. "Both men sat in the same seat, both bought three tickets, and both won big."

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, April 23 were Schumann, Heller, Dils, Grau, Feeney, Comeau, Redding, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcik, Assistant Principal Vogel, Special Education Director DeYoung, Athletic Director Nemeth, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dale Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the April 9 meeting.

President Schumann presented certificates of recognition/achievement to the following persons: Dr. Jerry Waldyke, for his many years of service in the 5th grade maturation program and for his chairmanship of the Sex Education Advisory Committee; Walt and Helen Leonard, for their positive support of the Chelsea schools in The Chelsea Standard; Steve Radant and Jeff Waldyke, 7th and 8th graders, for placing second in the MCTM Math Regional Competition on April 14. Steve placed second out of 208 seventh graders; Jeff placed second out of 210 eighth graders. They will attend the state competition at Central Michigan University on May 19.

Entered as official communication was a letter from General Dwight E. Beach, for whom the Beach Middle school was named. General Beach has agreed to formally donate to Beach School the portrait of himself which was presented to the Board of Education by Will Connelly. In the near future a dedication ceremony will take place at Beach school. Also entered as official communication was a letter from a district resident expressing cheerleading concerns.

Superintendent Van Meer indicated that building principals are discussing with their staff the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance in the schools. Principals will also be discussing the ramifications of the corporal punishment policy now referenced in the student handbooks.

Principal John Williams reported to the board on the activities of the SSSI (Staff Development for School Improvement) Program Committee. The main purpose of SSSI is to improve communication. Currently the high school staff is working on a program to improve communication among staff members.

Principal Williams reported to the board on a recent meeting with members of CCAD (Concerned Citizens Against Drugs). The outgrowth of the meeting was a willingness on the part of the schools and the parent group to work together in facing the problems of drug abuse in the Chelsea community. The administration is currently reviewing the K-12 drug abuse awareness in the instructional program, to see if there is continuity in drug abuse awareness instruction.

The board accepted, with regret, the resignations of Tamara Barbret, Lillian Conklin and George Prinzing, effective June 13, 1984. Ms. Barbret, on leave during the current school year, was with the Chelsea schools since 1977; Mrs. Conklin has taught in the Chelsea schools for 21.6 years; Prinzing has served in the Chelsea schools for 29 years.

The board approved the superintendent's recommendation to continue administrative contracts for Fred Mills, Henry DeYoung, Jackie Rogers, John Williams, Sam Vogel, Robert Benedict, Ron Nemeth and Larry Reed.

The board adopted the annual election resolution for the June 11 election to appoint election inspectors. At that election there will be elected two members to the board of Education for four-year terms, and one member for an unexpired term of two years. The four-year term candidates are Lloyd Grau, Ronald J. Montange and Joseph M. Redding; the two-year term candidates are Raymond Gorton Coulter and Ann E. Feeney.

The board extended congratulations to the high school forensics team and to the Beach Middle school's academic games team.

Meeting adjourned at 9:58 p.m.

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, May 7 were Schumann, Dils, Grau, Feeney, Redding, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Benedict, Wojcik, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Bob Bullock, Betty Cox, Ron Montange.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by president Dale Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the April 23, 1984 meeting.

President Schumann presented certificates of appreciation to Mrs. Marilyn Lewis and Mrs. Karen Koch. Mrs. Lewis was recognized for her many years of service as teacher aide and tutor at North school. Mrs. Koch was recognized for her leadership of PTN at North school.

Board members were assigned to participate in graduation ceremonies as follows: High School: Dale Schumann, Lloyd Grau, Anne Comeau, Earl Heller, Arthur Dils; Adult Education: Joseph Redding, Ann Feeney, Anne Comeau.

Betty Cox, Beach school teacher, reviewed with the board the mathematics textbook selection process.

A major project underway at Hudson Mills Metropark, near Dexter and Ann Arbor, is the construction of an Outdoor Activity Center Building. The masonry and wood building will have multi-purpose and year-around use when completed sometime in 1984.

CONSTRUCTION NEARS: Ground is scheduled to be broken later this month for a 110-bed nursing home addition to the Chelsea Methodist Retirement Home. The new facility, part of a $7.6 million expansion and remodeling project at the home, is being staked out west of the present main building.

Ronald McDonald Draws Crowd at Nature Center

When Ronald McDonald comes to town there's excitement! Sunday, May 6, Chelsea McDonald's invited Ronald to take a vacation from McDonaldland to visit the Waterloo Nature Center. It was a beautiful sunny afternoon for all the outdoor activities and Chelsea folks came out in numbers!

Theme for the event was an awareness day for the Nature Center and its facilities. Ronald spent two hours with the children and parents showing them around the Center's main building and leading hikes down the dirt trails of the woods. Inside, the youngsters were fascinated with the assorted animal pelts, the bee hive exhibit and the live turtles that Ronald insisted on startling the children with. Then, after the hikes were over, Ronald sat with the kids on the grass and told them some good nature-safety tips.

Thanks to the generosity of Ron Walter of the Chelsea Hardware and Sam Johnson of Gambles, two prizes were raffled off to two lucky winners. Nancy Gooding, Waterloo's co-ordinator, was very pleased to announce a profit of $100 for the event, a truly successful awareness day.

4-H CLUBS

ROGERS CORNERS HERDSMAN Rogers Corners Herdsman 4-H Club meeting was called to order by Matt Grau, treasurer, on May 1. Heritage cards were collected and returned to Mrs. Aldridge. We discussed painting boards with the club name. The club also talked about projects for the block building such as photography, arts and crafts for this year's fair.

The seeds that have been sold were passed out to members to distribute. The club split into individual groups with group leaders to discuss projects.

Our next meeting will be June 5th at Lima Town Hall. Washtenaw county fair will be held July 31 through Aug. 3.
