Graduation Slated Sunday at CHS for Class of 160 Seniors

It's that time of year again, when strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" fill the air and young adults say goodbye to high school and hello to the world. Graduation ceremonies for the Chelsea High school class of 1984 will take place on Sunday, June 10 at 3 p.m. in the school's gymnasium.

According to Chelsea High's assistant principal Sam Vogel, approximately 160 students will be graduating this year.

On Sunday, June 3 a baccalaureate ceremony was held in the high school auditorium. Sponsored by the Chelsea Ministerial Association, it was co-officiated by the Rev. John Morris of the Zion Lutheran church, and Lee Washburn of the Chelsea Free Methodist church.

Senior class night will take place tonight (June 8) at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High gym. Graduating seniors will be presented with any honors, awards or scholarships they've earned during their high school career at this event.

Featured guest speakers at the Sunday, June 10 graduation ceremonies will be Chelsea High seniors Thomas Mull and Tanya Mattoff. They were voted by the senior class to hold this honor.

There is no valedictorian or salutatorian at Chelsea High school. Instead, graduates are designated into cum laude, those with a B+ average, and summa cum laude, those with an A- or higher grade point. Vogel said there will be approximately 16 cum laude graduates and 5 summa cum laude students in this year's graduating class.

Chelsea Property Said To Have Increased 3.4% in Total Value

Chelsea's state equalized valuation (SEV) has risen by nearly $1.7 million during the past year, according to figures provided by the county equalization and property description department.

The increase represents a judgment by assessors that local real estate values have gone up 3.4 percent during the past 12 months.

"That's ridiculous," said a Chelsea realtor who asked not to be identified by name. "The market is worse than it was a year ago, because mortgage interest rates have gone up again. We're not selling much, and the properties we are moving generally are going for prices under their assessed value."

"There are more than 200 parcels listed for sale right now in the Chelsea-Dexter-Manchester area, and there isn't a big rush to buy. A few years ago, when the market was good, 25 listings would have been a lot. Property was turning over that fast."

"I'd have to say that, if you put your house in Chelsea up for sale right now, you couldn't get any more for it than you would have a year ago, and you most likely would get less. And you probably would have to come up with some kind of creative financing besides."

"In that sense the 3.4 percent increase in assessments is ridiculous. It just plain doesn't reflect the current real estate market."

The SEV figure is important because it establishes the base upon which local property taxes are levied. The new number for Chelsea is $46,657,219, up from $44,989,063 last year.

Even with the higher base, the Chelsea board of trustees is proposing an 11 percent hike in the village tax rate to balance its 1984-85 general fund budget.

A public hearing was to have been held last night on a resolution to raise village taxes by .91 mill, from 8.75 to 9.66. If finally approved, that means Chelsea property owners will pay 91 cents more per $1,000 of assessed valuation than they did last year. Average assessments will go up 3.4 percent, although individual amounts may vary.

It adds up and multiplies to about a 12.2 percent boost in property taxes levied to pay the cost of village government.

"All I can tell you is that we need the extra money to balance the budget that the council has adopted for this fiscal year," village administrator Frederick Weber said.

"It's not a 'fat' budget. It calls for no new or expanded programs, and grants no across-the-board pay increase to village employees. Basically, it calls for maintaining present levels of service."

David Miller of the county equalization and property description department said there was a change of just $16,000 in Chelsea's total "net worth" as measured by 1983 property values.

"We show $760,000 in lost values and $776,000 in added values. About $350,000 of the loss resulted from the move-out of Chelsea Lumber Co. and the fact that the property is still vacant. The rest came from various changes in how residential, commercial and industrial property is being used."

"The gain came primarily from an increase in the value of personal property that has been moved into Chelsea during the year. Gains and losses just about evened out."

(For assessment purposes, "personal property" is defined as moveable commercial and industrial items such as machines, office furniture and inventories. Residential household goods are not assessed or taxed as personal property.)

There has been nothing new—residential, commercial or industrial—constructed in Chelsea during the past four years. No building permit has been issued over that span.

Chelsea Milling Co. has announced plans to build a new mixing plant on the former Chelsea Lumber Co. site, and has purchased the property. The project was supposed to have started last fall, but has been delayed.

Hatch Stamping Co. has moved into the old IPSCO plant, and its machinery accounted for much of the increase in personal property assessments.

Much Heat, Little Light Shed During Cassidy Lake Meeting

Three hours of discussion, much of it heated, produced no tangible results at last week's meeting of the Cassidy Lake Community Liaison Council attended by about 30 persons including council members.

Department of Corrections (DOC) officials who administer the prison defended the policies and procedures under which Cassidy Lake Technical School is operated.

Chelsea area residents, spearheaded by Ron Olmsted, chairman of the 1,300-member "Fence It Or Close It" committee, spoke out in loud and at times unquotable language about the escape problem and some others, including the annoyance of noise from the prison's loudspeaker system.

Law enforcement officials, including Washtenaw Sheriff Ronald Schebil and Sgt. Lenard McDougall, acting Chelsea police chief, made it clear that the high escape rate concerns them and is costing their departments considerable money.

Chair person Mary Beth Dettling tried to maintain order and keep everybody talking in proper turns about the items listed on the agenda, but was only partially successful.

"It was not a good meeting in the sense that we didn't have good discussions," Dettling said.

"I was pleased with the turnout, but not with what happened. No real business could be conducted, and none was."

"I think we (the council) are going to have to find some other way to deal with Department of Corrections officials, perhaps through ad hoc committees who will meet with them and report back to the full council."

The announced purpose of the meeting was to hear a presentation by Robert Brown, Jr., deputy DOC director, who was a substitute for director Perry Johnson.

Brown was supposed to talk about "policy exceptions"—convicts who would not have been sent to Cassidy Lake had the DOC's own guidelines been followed. About 45 percent of the prisoners sent there during 1983 failed to meet the criteria, which state that they must be young males 23 or under who have not committed violent crimes, have no record of sexual misbehavior, and have never tried to escape from any other institution.

"We often break those guidelines," Brown admitted, "usually for minor reasons, somebody who didn't quite measure up to all the regulations. We're under pressure. Our state prison system is overcrowded, and we have to make some exceptions."

Brown added that the DOC has tried to develop a screening system to identify potential escapees from so-called "minimum security" institutions such as Cassidy Lake, but was quick to admit that it doesn't always work.

"More than one-third of the 48 escapees from Cassidy Lake during 1983 were 'policy exceptions,'" Brown said. "We look at a lot of factors, but we obviously haven't learned enough yet to pin down the people who are going to walk away."

Cassidy Lake deputy superintendent John Andrews added that he and his staff are following up and interviewing escapees to try to find out why they ran away, a felony crime which is virtually certain to result in capture and conviction, adding several years to original prison sentences.

"We hear all kinds of stories," Andrews said, "and none of them make much sense. In many instances they don't seem to know why they escaped or what they were looking for. They just left because the opportunity was there."

Schebil said it costs the sheriff's department about $70,000 a year in extra money to track down and catch Cassidy Lake walk-aways, and asked support for his proposal that the state reimburse the county for the overtime work.

"Whenever anybody escapes from any prison, I have to assume that he or she is a potentially dangerous person and act accordingly. If they weren't dangerous, they wouldn't have been in prison in the first place, and they wouldn't have escaped," Schebil said.

Sgt. McDougall offered no dollar figures but said it costs the Chelsea police department "a lot" to assist in recapturing Cassidy Lake walk-aways.

"We're the police department closest to the problem, so we get it first," McDougall noted.

As of May 29, there had been 22 escapees from Cassidy Lake, two more than a year ago on the same date. There were 48 in all of 1983.

"We're scared to death," Olmsted said over and over again. "You put criminals here (Cassidy Lake) but you take no responsibility for keeping them here. You don't seem to realize that those of us who live in the vicinity of the prison have a problem. The closer you live to the prison, the worse the problem is."

Olmsted's home on Ivey Rd. was broken into last year by three Cassidy Lake escapees in search of weapons and food.

State Rep. Margaret O'Connor, the only one of three invited legislators who showed up at the meeting, said she has been getting calls from concerned constituents, "and they're not all from Chelsea. I'm hearing from people all over my district, and some from outside."

"I keep being told (by the DOC) that there are 'long range plans' to correct the escape problem. I would like to know what you intend to do right now."

That raised a question of whether two proposed new 80-man dormitories, each to be built at a cost of $800,000, will be additions to Cassidy Lake's capacity of 266 inmates or replacements for existing housing.

Neither Brown nor Cassidy Lake superintendent John Staten could give a definite yes-or-no answer to that question. Both said that plans call for tearing down existing cabin-type housing as the new facilities come on line, but neither would guarantee it will happen for sure.

Chicago Firm Gets Sewer Work Job

A Chicago-based firm, National Power Rodding Corp., has been awarded an $8,638 contract to patch up the village sewer system.

The idea is to remove an average 33,000 gallons a day of surface water that leaks into Chelsea's sanitary sewers. That has to be done before the village can go ahead with development of its industrial park or make any other growth move.

Chelsea is under order from the Department of Natural Resources not to allow any more waste into the overloaded village sewer system without taking out an equal amount. It has to be done on a gallon-for-gallon basis.

Plugging obvious leaks estimated to total 33,000 gallons a day would allow the industrial park to go ahead and leave some breathing space for other proposed developments.

Chelsea's consulting engineers—Finkbeiner, Pettis & Schout of Toledo, O. had estimated that it would cost $12,000 or more to remove the excess water. The bids came in well under that figure.

"I honestly can't tell you why we had to go out of the state to find a contractor," village administrator Frederick Weber said. "Our policy is to accept the lowest bid that meets all the specifications, and it came from Chicago. We had bids from firms in Kalamazoo and Brighton, and they were both about $2,000 higher."

"Maybe that tells you something about why business is slow around here. Local firms just don't seem to be competitive on contracts we put out for bids."

Finkbeiner, Pettis & Schout has been hired to supervise and inspect the work of National Power Rodding Corp. at a cost not to exceed $3,000.

What the village is doing is buying a little time. Chelsea is under state order to build a new sewage treatment plant, at an estimated cost of $4.5 million, and have it in operation by July of 1988.

Dr. Burkel Cited By Medical School

Dr. William Burkel, Waterloo Rd., Chelsea, was recently honored by both his peers and students at the University of Michigan when he received a grant for "outstanding professor-clinical years" at the medical school.

Dr. Burkel, an anatomy professor, received a certificate and check for $1,000 from the Kaiser Permanente Foundation, which chooses two professors from the university's medical school each year and cites them for over-all teaching excellence.

Students are originally asked to nominate two professors, one for the first two years of medical school teaching, and one for the clinical years of medical school training, for this prestigious honor. From this list winners are then selected by a committee consisting of both students and faculty.

School Board Election Is Slated for June 11

Annual Chelsea School District elections are scheduled for Monday, June 11 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and will take place in the large group instruction room of the Dwight E. Beach Middle School. Two members will be elected to the Board of Education for terms of four years, and one member will be selected to the board for an unexpired term of two years.

Three men are vying for the two four-year positions on the board. They are Lloyd A. Grau, Ronald J. Montange and Joseph M. Redding. Both Grau and Redding are incumbent candidates, seeking second terms on the board.

The two-year board seat will be chosen from two nominees, Raymond Gorton Coulter and Ann E. Feeney. Feeney is an incumbent candidate as well.

Anyone who is registered with the city or township clerk of the city or township in which they reside is eligible to vote on June 11. Everyone is encouraged to vote.

Absentee ballots will be available at the Chelsea High school administration building until 2 p.m., Saturday, June 9. Ballots are available during weekdays from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. also.

Tricycle Race Seeking Sponsors

The Bushwacker chapter is seeking sponsors for trophies to be handed out at the "Sesqui 500" trike race. Any retailer interested in sponsoring a trophy may contact Tom Lewis at 475-3107 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 p.m.

Gretchen Vogel Wins National Merit Scholarship

Gretchen Vogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Vogel, 6375 Werkner Rd., Chelsea, is one of 1,800 students to receive a National Merit Scholarship to the college of her choice.

Vogel was selected as a finalist for the award from a field of 13,500 high school seniors. She was active in the science club and National Honor Society at Chelsea High, and has expressed a desire to be an engineer for NASA.

The $1,000 award is renewable during all four years of Vogel's college career should she keep up her outstanding grade point.

Vogel will attend Michigan State University in the fall and will pursue a chemical engineering/chemical physics double major.

WILL I ALWAYS REMEMBER HIM?
Remembering the deceased is a way of keeping a loved one always alive in your mind.

The full-service funeral is the traditional and time-proved way of making sure your memories are psychologically sound. A full service with your mutual friends and relatives present gives you a final memory of lasting value.

While the immediate memory may be a painful one after the death of a loved one, this poem may give you a new view.

As long as memory recalls,
those who die may live.

Until our mind's eye dims,
Immortality we give.

State Action Promised To Ease Fishing Conflicts
State actions set for this summer should help conflicts between Indian fishers and other commercial and sport anglers, Natural Resources Director Ronald Skoog reported recently while agreeing with tribal leaders that major unresolved issues involve Great Lakes trout rehabilitation and allocation of fishing resources.

Skoog said leaders of three bands of Chippewa Indian tribes, concluding a two-day negotiation session, said the sides have made great progress toward agreements on use and management of Great Lakes fishing.

Joseph Lumsden, chairman of the Sault Ste. Marie tribe, said the big step was recognition by the state of tribal treaty to fish without regard to DNR regulations, rights which were reinforced by a 1979 federal court ruling.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
On a scale of one to 12, June probably gets a two or a three from most folks. The land and water are warm and the air ain't as hot as it's going to be. Most of the graduations are behind us, and there's still plenty of time for everybody to back out of the Summer Olympics. All us older heads got to contend with is a few weddings and D-Day.

The weddings I can handle, because the old lady lays out a clean shirt and tells me everything I got to do and everybody I'm supposed to know. Besides, as we get older we are expected at fewer weddings and more funerals. You can see both as beginnings and endings, and both bring on thoughts of how far removed we are from being the guest of honor.

During the session at the country store Saturday night, I mentioned to the fellows that I was getting a bad outlook in my old age. We wouldn't go to the Moscow games four year ago to perstest their foreign policy, and now they will sit out our games to get even more than anything else, and both countries keep saying the important thing is to keep politics out of the Olympics. The truth is, we've come around to their games and our games, and if it draws a clearer line between us it might be just as well.

Practical speaking, Ed Doolittle agreed, we are not giving all this attention to D-Day this year because it happened 40 year ago. We're pumping up the invasion because it takes up back to simpler times, Ed declared, and we know there ain't going to be any more of them. We knew the good guys and the bad guys, and never before or since have so many people from so many countries been so sure of one thing and so determined to do it together.

Clem Webster said the good news is that nobody has come up with official anything for D-Day. He said we got official airlines, fishing resources between Indians and non-Indians that lawsuit would not be necessary.

Skoog said negotiations will continue indefinitely—the next session will be held in about a month—because some issues like rehabilitation of lake trout will take a long time. He said the negotiations are aimed at getting a framework for managing the fishery.

"All issues are still on the table because it all hinges on performance," Skoog said.

On reducing conflicts and tensions, the director said Indians want to see how well the state performs to uphold treaty rights.

Other bands involved in the negotiations are the Bay Mills and Grand Traverse.

Temporary Emissions Program May Not Suffice

The regional director of the Federal Environmental Protection Agency declared that implementing a temporary auto emissions program in the Detroit metro area, through emergency rules, might be rejected by the agency.

Valdus Adamkus said the agency wants a permanent program to monitor emissions. Emergency rules can be imposed by the governor for up to a year.

The EPA has threatened to impose sanctions against the metro area, which would cut off federal air pollution funds and deny air pollution permits for new construction, if an emissions testing program is not implemented.

Emergency rules as a temporary solution to the situation have been suggested by several legislators. A number of other legislators have suggested suing the EPA to block the sanctions, but Adamkus said in such a situation the target would have to be the federal government and not the agency which is implementing that law.

Should sanctions be imposed in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, Adamkus said they probably could be in place by July or August, once public hearings have been held.

Jaycees Elect Chapter Officers

The Chelsea and Dexter Jaycees have been busy electing officers for their chapters. According to Jaycee district director John Love, the following Chelsea officers are: Harold Allen, president, Tim Merkel, Gerald Millikin and John Rosenreter, vice-presidents, and Mike Foreman, director.

The new Dexter Jaycee officials are, John Simonds, president, Bob Steptoe, Mark Koernke and Mike Szabo, vice-presidents, and Roy Bemis, secretary-treasurer.

WHY CAPITATION MAY BE A STEP BACKWARD IN DENTAL CARE

A new type of dental insurance being offered by some employers could seriously affect the level of dental care for you and your family. It could also cost you the freedom to choose your own dentist.

This new concept is referred to as a "capitation" plan. Participating dentists would receive a minimal fixed monthly fee for each patient subscriber, paid on a per capita basis. Capitation plans are being offered by some employers as a way to cut health care costs. While this is a commendable goal, this particular scheme has the potential to compromise the quality of your dental care.

NO FREEDOM OF CHOICE
Only certain dentists will participate in this type of plan. If you elect such coverage from your employer—and your personal and preferred dentist is not associated with a capitation plan—you will have to drop your present dentist and you will be assigned to a new location for dental services.

INCONVENIENT TREATMENT LOCATIONS
There is no guarantee that your newly assigned dentist will be convenient to your home or place of employment—meaning wasted time getting to and from treatment centers.

LOSS OF PERSONAL SERVICE
Subscribers under this new plan will place an added burden on participating dentists—who must also continue treating their long established patients. Capitation patients will be competing for limited appointment time. If you were the dentist, who would get priority?

REDUCED DENTAL CARE QUALITY
Under this capitation plan, participating dentists receive a minimal monthly fixed fee to meet your dental needs, regardless of how extensive they may be. The cost of your dental service beyond the most basic level will likely come out of your dentist's own pocket. After all, he could be using the time to treat a regular patient paying regular rates. While most dentists are truly conscientious professionals, the potential exists for delaying treatment and employing quicker, temporary, less expensive techniques for capitation patients—and probably with no opportunity to discuss the treatment approach, as you would with a dentist of your own choice.

For more information about how capitation plans may affect the quality of your dental care, ask your personal dentist's opinion. Or write the Michigan Dental Association.

Jane Walkowe, Christian Long Are Wed at St. Mary's Church

Jayne Elise Walkowe, daughter of Harold and Geneva Walkowe of Manchester, and Christian Michael Long, son of George and Ra Jeah Long were married on April 28 at St. Mary's Catholic church, Chelsea. The Rev. Fr. DuPuis officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of knit chiffon trimmed in silk venise chum and brussels lace. The gown featured an illusion neckline, bishop sleeves, a natural waist and a cathedral train. She also wore a two tier finger tip veil with miniature silk roses.

Kelley Anne Walkowe of Manchester, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a lavender taffeta jacketed dress with a baby breath headpiece.

Bridesmaids were sisters of the bride Natalie, Heather and Carol Walkowe of Manchester, and Kaye Pratt of Manchester, friend of the bride. They all wore dresses like the maid of honor's with a wreath of silk flowers around their heads.

Dave Rowe Attends Insurance Seminar

Dave D. Rowe, CPCU, CIC of the Farm Bureau Insurance Agency in Chelsea, has completed the annual continuing education requirement of the Society of Certified Insurance Counselors of Austin, Tex., with the successful completion of the James K. Ruble CIC Seminar at Grand Rapids, May 17-18-19.

Rowe has been a Certified Insurance Counselor (CIC) since 1982 and supports the concept of continuing professional education through his participation in the CIC program. He believes that the standards of the Society are essential to ensure that all CIC agents keep pace with the rapidly changing world of insurance knowledge and that insurance consumers are better served by those who meet these standards.

Seiko midnight black.
For day, for dress.
For a very special man.

There is nothing more sophisticated, or more modern, than the dramatic impact of black. Seiko doubles the effect. With a black dial outlined and marked with gold. Note, too, the gold ladderwork in the bracelet. So elegant, nothing to be desired. The hand design, date and the incomparable performance of the Seiko Quartz.

Sp/4 and Mrs. Duane Robbins

Warner-Robbins Exchange Vows at Ft. Leonard Wood

Christina Warner and Sp/4 Duane B. Robbins were married on April 5 in the Piney Hills Chapel at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Chaplain Craig Lantz performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Jerry R. Warner of Waynesville, Mo. Her mother is Wanda Warren of Camden, Mo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robbins of 1225 Gene Dr., Chelsea.

The bride chose a white gown of organza and chantilly lace, with a high neckline and sheer yoke accented with lace. Tiers of lace ruffles formed the chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a large cascade of red and white silk roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and long matching ribbon.

Melody Saltz, friend of the bride from Richland, Mo., was maid of honor, and Lydia Ann Warner, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. Their holly red organza dresses had cap sleeves with the front of the dresses draped in double vee layers. They carried flowers similar to the bride's.

The bridegroom was attired in full Army military uniform. Jim Herter of Plymouth, friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Steve Johnson, of Fort Leonard Wood, friend of the bridegroom, served as groomsman. Ushers were Jeff Hager and Charles Boonius, of Chelsea, also friends of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the Ramada Inn, St. Robert, Mo., following the ceremony. The couple were also guests at a buffet reception in the Chelsea Community Fair Building hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Duane Robbins will be leaving for Germany on June 14 for three years, and Christina will follow at a later date.

VFW Post and Auxiliary Conduct Officer Installation

The newly elected officers of the VFW Post and Auxiliary No. 4076 held a joint installation service at the post home on May 3.

Re-elected president Mary Erskine asked for Eulahlee Packard as her installing officer, and all officers of the Auxiliary.

Commander Gary Erskine requested Fremont Boyer to be his installing officer and all offices of the post.

Gary Speer was the officer of the day.

President Erskine was given $25 toward a new banner.

Another $25 was sent to the National Home for children in Eaton Rapids.

Two certificates of appreciation were awarded. One went to Dorothy Lentz for serving the auxiliary as secretary and historian for 23 years. The other went to Fran Zetovsk for helping compose the monthly newsletter.

A light lunch was served after the meeting. The VFW Department of Michigan convention will be held June 21-24 in Flint. Several local members will attend.

It was announced that the post will be used by the Sesqui-centennial committee as a "Hospitality Home" for visitors and townspeople during the last week of the celebration.

MICKI AND ED HURST, chair-couple of the Large Group Committee for RENEW, presented the Rev. Fr. Dupuis with a wooden wall-hanging which he sculpted for St. Mary's church, symbolizing the RENEW Program. Hurst said he "fashioned the tree very old, gnarled and weather-beaten."

like the church. It has grown in many different directions at different times in history. However, the tree has survived and periodically renews itself, sprouting forth green leaves. It is able to do this because of its deep rootedness in the Lord."

St. Mary's Starts Planning On Church Renewal Program

St. Mary's church in Chelsea is in the final planning stages of a program of church renewal. Known as "RENEW" the program will be established in the fall as a three-year effort to guide "the spiritual growth of the people as a vibrant faith community."

The Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis, pastor of St. Mary's, explained that RENEW is "aimed at renewed Christian living through teaching and witnessing to the word of God, developing vibrant faith communities, and establishing justice formation and action."

Dee and Bill Burkel, RENEW co-ordinating couple, will be assisted by a team of 10 leaders of the various committees who will implement the program.

Focus has been placed on four areas of parish activity. They are the Sunday Mass celebration and prayer network, large group events, take-home activities for families, shut-ins, etc., and small faith sharing groups.

Marjorie Rawson Wins Scholarship to WMU

Marjorie Sue Rawson, daughter of Robert and Alice Rawson of Chelsea was awarded a $4,000 scholarship to Western Michigan University for violin performance.

Ms. Rawson has been involved in orchestra in Chelsea schools for seven years. She has been a member of the honor orchestras at the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University. She was also a member of the all-state orchestra at Interlochen.

During high school Rawson has been active in sports, being an all-state swimmer for three years and a left-handed pitcher for girls varsity softball.

Rawson has been a member of the district forensics team at Chelsea High for two years, and has been in the school's musicals for three years. She played the role of Bertha in "Pippin" this year. During the summer Rawson shows horses and sheep in the 4-H and Chelsea fairs.

Two Seniors Receive Hope Scholarships

Two area students have been awarded scholarships by Hope College in Holland, for academic achievement.

Timothy Darr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darr, 9500 Island Lake Rd., Dexter, received the Presidential Scholar Award. This scholarship is a four-year $6,000 tuition award. Darr was recognized for his superior academic records and marked intellectual interests, and also for his demonstrated leadership abilities.

Julie Kelsea, daughter of Mrs. Betty Kelsea, 4745 Bridgeway, Ann Arbor, and Mr. Douglas Kelsea of Dexter, was honored with the Distinguished Scholar Award for natural sciences. Her scholarship is a four-year $4,000 tuition award. Kelsea was cited for her superior academic abilities based on her grade point average, course selection and aptitude test scores.

Safety Town Has Room For 12 More

Safety Town, the safety awareness program for those children entering kindergarten in the fall, still has about 12 openings left in the afternoon session.

The program runs the last two weeks of June and is held at South school.

Use of a mock city teaches pedestrian awareness. Also covered is playing safety and what to do when confronted by strangers. Chelsea Police Officer Chris Kruger, works directly with the children, as do certified teachers. The Safety Town program is now run in many cities nationwide and has received national recognition for its effectiveness in teaching safety awareness to children. Locally, more than 100 children have been involved in the program the last two years.

If you have not yet enrolled your child in this program, you may do so at the Community Education Office (475-9830) or by calling Kathy Thompson (475-9383).

Dean's List Cites

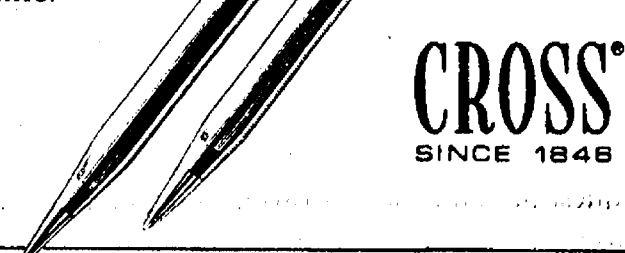

Linda Sue Dotson, daughter of Judith C. Dotson of Chelsea and Finley J. Dotson of Saudi Arabia, has been named to the dean's list at Meridith College in Raleigh, N.C.

Dotson had to maintain a 3.2 grade point average out of a possible 4.0 and carry a full 12 hour course load to qualify for this honor.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

After sitting through most of last Tuesday night's meeting of the Cassidy Lake Community Liaison Council, I left with one outstanding impression:

The chances for any genuine meeting of minds are zero so long as the prevailing attitudes remain glued in place.

Many different viewpoints were expressed, often forcefully. There was some bad language and personal insults which have no place in a public meeting but were perhaps inevitable considering the depth of feelings held by those present.

Trying to sort it all out afterward, I came to the conclusion that there will be no solution until there is some flexibility in thinking.

The problems at Cassidy Lake are going to go on and on and on.

A few thoughts emerged from all the rhetoric:

The Cassidy Lake Technical School is there, and is going to stay there, even though its near neighbors would much prefer that it go away.

The prison is probably not going to be fenced or closed, despite the petitions signed by more than 1,300 local residents demanding that it be.

Escapes will continue. The 1984 walk-away rate is running ahead of last year's, and there is no reason to think it will slow down.

Under the concepts of "minimum security" and the "honor" system, escapes are accepted as part of the normal day-to-day operation of the prison. Department of Corrections (DOC) officials are going to fight the idea of erecting a fence, installing armed guards and putting up concertina wire to keep the convicts inside the institution.

DOC policies are directed toward trying to screen inmates so that those who do walk away won't commit violent crimes after they get out.

Local people aren't happy with that approach, and never will be. Ron Olmsted's repeated assertion that "One escape is one too many" reflects a genuine concern. If you live close to the prison, you have to be worried. The closer you live, the more worried you are.

Local law enforcement officials aren't comfortable with the situation. Sheriff Ron Schebil put it very well when he said, "Anybody who is in here (Cassidy Lake) has committed a serious crime, or he wouldn't be here. Anybody who escapes has committed another serious crime. As a law enforcement officer I have to assume that such a person is capable of still another serious crime, and I have to act accordingly. I see these so-called walk-aways as potentially dangerous criminals who have done something wrong at least twice."

It may have been simply a case of bureaucratic blundering, but the failure of DOC officials to answer one direct question with a direct "yes or no" answer was a colossal failure of public relations.

The question was, simply, whether the two new dormitory buildings proposed to be constructed at Cassidy Lake will or will not mean an increase in the carrying capacity of the institution. In other words, are you going to tear down 160 existing housing spaces as you build 160 new ones, or are the new dorms an add-on?

DOC officials waffled all over the place, but never did answer the question, and their evasiveness served to deepen suspicions and mistrust all around. I suspect it was a case of subordinates not being authorized to speak, and therefore being afraid to do so for fear of offending a boss who might have different ideas. Any official who comes to a public meeting without having consulted his superiors and decided on definite answers to questions certain to be asked should have stayed home.

I have some philosophical differences with Rep. Margaret O'Connor, who is a bit too conservative for my taste, but I like her better all the time. She at least took the trouble to attend the meeting, which is more than can be said for the other invited legislators who couldn't be bothered and sent staff persons to represent them.

Finally, I have to conclude once again that Cassidy Lake Technical School is not being used for what it was originally established to do, and that therefore its purpose and operation need some re-thinking.

Figures cited at the meeting showed that 1,066 individual criminals were confined at Cassidy Lake during some part of 1983. The prison has a capacity of 266, and usually is not full. (As of last Tuesday, there were 231 inmates.) Simple arithmetic shows that the average stay in 1983 was less than 90 days. Some were there longer, some not as long.

There is absolutely no way that any meaningful kind of educational or vocational instruction can be accomplished in under three months. Cassidy Lake has indeed become a "revolving door" institution, where young men are held for a short time and then turned loose if they don't escape first.

I have to go along with the idea of building a wall around the place, posting guards, and at least keeping the inmates confined to the premises during the short time they are there.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As a former resident of Chelsea, with the inclination to move back some day if I can afford it, I am concerned and am wondering about the judgment of the village fathers on some issues that require nothing more than common sense.

The village president, when he makes the statements about the Fire Dept., that he did, has to be rowing around with one oar.

While a resident of Chelsea I called the fire department on two occasions. Once for a fire and once for a medical emergency. On both occasions they were there in a few minutes time. They saved a home once and a life the other time. If any Chelsea residents have any qualms about their fire department I would suggest that they call their insurance agent and find out why they are getting a lower rate than most areas.

Thorns to the apathetic, which have been a tradition for years in Chelsea, for not getting out to vote. Now you have things to crab about. You will do it most anywhere other than a council meeting.

I wonder who really is for Industrial Park and why? $158,000 out of the electric fund to get going where? The council made a few bucks on a house deal and now I gather that they think they are land brokers.

DNR says don't put even one potty on your sewer line unless you can get same amount of water out of the system.

Toledo engineers state that $12,000 will plug surface water leaks so Industrial Park can have potties. I wonder about the Methodist Home addition. How do you get potties for there? What about the new area east of Wilkinson St. that has been approved for housing. How about the guy that wants to put a potty in his basement?

There appears to be a faction that wants Industrial Park no matter what the cost, whether it's needed, or even if it will never be an asset to the village.

Now, besides raping the electric fund there has to be a sewer rate increase. I wonder if it will be enough to cover the possible law suits that might arise after a heavy rain when Chelsea basements are full of sewage.

The village, after the Toledo engineering study, has it as a matter of record, that the system is faulty. They will have a heck of a time pleading act of God. I would think that if Chelsea is to grow, the sewer system should be number one priority. Get the cart behind the horse.

Depending on the electric fund to bail the village out of everything may not be the smartest thing either. Consumers Power is about to be Kelly'ed to death and it may be a moot point as to whether the village is going to be in a money making position regarding electricity. Maybe Detroit Edison—take it or leave it.

Sis Kanton was appointed to fill council seat. I know "Sis" and would never sell her short. While I think she has a more liberal attitude than I have, I don't think she's a dummy.

I think that her appointment for village council by Satterthwaite, because he wanted a lady, is a shade short of a common sense decision.

Keith Boyland would have been a far better choice. Boyland, while not being the baby kissing type, is an intelligent person who has a stake in the community. He is retired and could devote much time to some of the issues that require more than a casual thought. Also, he is not the type to be intimidated. I would guess that a lot of Chelsea residents are aware of this but couldn't tear themselves away from the boob tube on election day.

Finale—The downtown business district has a charm of its own. Why plant trees and take away some parking to achieve the campus look? Rather, make an effort to re-route M-52 as is in the master plan of years ago and get rid of the no turn on red signs.

It appears that Chelsea may not only be too expensive to live in but, if the village fathers don't get it together, may be a place not even to visit.

If half the people who are gung ho about the Sesquicentennial would get involved in their village politics it would be to their advantage I'm sure.

John L. Stepp,
Jackson.

To the Editor,

It is that time of year when nothing else seems to matter except planning for that long awaited for day. Yes, it has at last arrived. For those mothers and fathers making the preparations for open house, etc., I would hope that you would take a few moments to consider the following:

Furnishing alcoholic beverages to any person under the age of 21 is extremely dangerous and illegal. A teen-ager has just left your home after having a few drinks at your open-house celebration. He crashes head-on into another vehicle, causing not only his own death but the deaths of others in the other vehicle. The adult who furnished the alcohol is the proximate cause for the deaths and could be sued, resulting in individual liability far and above that covered by insurance.

Michigan statute 27A.2913 makes custodial parents civilly responsible for up to $2,500 for malicious destruction of property or bodily injury caused by the acts of their minor children.

So, maybe you should think twice before allowing teen-agers to consume alcohol in your home. You could end up losing all of your worldly goods and, more important, the life of your or someone else's son or daughter. Could you live with that?

Let's as a community promote and support a safe and happy graduation by not serving liquor to teen-agers at or during open-house celebrations. Let's help them to live and enjoy the rest of their lives. They have worked hard to get this far, let's not see all of that hard work snuffed out in an avoidable automobile accident.

Dear Editor,

I find Mr. Bott's comments on getting truck traffic off M-52 truly appalling. I'm sure Dana, Jiffy Mixes and BookCrafters would be tickled pink to have deliveries re-routed from Main St. through the residential areas of Chelsea. Perhaps Mr. Bott would lead the drive to have these streets upgraded to Class A routes capable of supporting the legal weights these trucks carry. I'm sure the families along these streets will love to see and hear these "intimidating" trucks as they "barrel" by.

If Mr. Bott wants to make the downtown more attractive to

As part of the Sesquicentennial Celebration, there are a lot of events planned for Youth Day,
July 2. In an effort to attract Chelsea youth of all ages, several different types of events have been planned. Below is a brief description of several of them.

Children's Marathon—As the summer holidays begin, our youth runners emerge to show their running skills also. All boys and girls (ages 7-8, 9-10, 11-12)
will begin their run on the east side of Beach school (bus stop area). They will circle Beach school and proceed west on Mayer Dr., turn right on Madison, then left on Middle St. to finish in front of the village of ices. Ribbons will be given to first, second and third place finishers as well as all participants.

Cracker-whistling Contest—Needed, all whistling wonders! Can you eat a mouthful of crackers, then whistle before anyone else? The contest will take place in the downtown area around Main and Middle. Come try and win yourself a cracker whistling ribbon.

Big Wheel Derby—Little ladies and gentlemen, pedal your big wheels at the Big Wheel Derby on Monday, July 2 at 12:30 in the high school parking lot. Ages 3-7 bring your Big Wheels and your fastest pedaling shoes. See you there!

Bed Race—A bed race is open to all high school (including incoming freshmen) students. The race will take place on July 2 at 10 a.m. Teams will race at the high school. Entrance fee is 25¢ per person. For bed construction details and rules for the race,
please call John or Claudette
Baker at 475-7061 after June 4.

Show Off Your Pet—The Chelsea Education Association will sponsor the Pet Parade to be held during the Sesquicentennial.
The Pet Parade will be held Monday, July 2. All children between the ages of 5 and 11 are invited to bring their pet and show it off at the parade. However, if your pet is larger than a large dog, then there must be parental supervision provided.

All pets must be on a six-foot leash or it may be caged. They may be pulled in a wagon or something similar. The pets and/
or wagon may be decorated.
Each child may have only one animal in the parade. Children who are going to show their

Information Needed for Sesqui Calendar of Events

We are all curious as to what other chapters are planning to do next but sometimes it's hard to keep the information straight while reading the various articles in the newspapers.

The publicity committee for the Supreme Council of the Belles and Brushes would like to start publicizing a calendar of events-type article each week to help keep the Belles and Brushes activities up to date. This weekly calendar of events chart will also be publicized by way of posters in various stores and businesses.

Any chapter wishing to have their event listed may call either
Mary Beth Milliken at 475-9437 or Marcy Stump at 475-3429. This calendar will be listed each Wednesday. The Standard
deadline for calling is the Thursday morning prior to the following Wednesday's paper. The poster deadline will be Monday morning of the same week (Two days before the new weekly posters are hung.)

Any event that is affirmative and is an accepted challenge may be posted. An example of the calendar is as follows:

Wednesday, June 6—Tiddly
Wink Tournament between the Prairie Belles, Wolverine Wildcats, Salmagundy Girls, and the Royal Rural Rooters at Wolverine Lounge, 8 p.m.

Thursday, June 7—No events listed.

Friday, June 8—Volleyball
Tournament between Prairie
Belles and Salmagundy Girls at Beach School Gym, 7 p.m.

As many events as we can possibly gather up will be listed each week.

With the co-operation of the chapters, this weekly calendar of events can help build participation and spread enthusiasm, and make this Sesquicentennial year a fun time that we can all enjoy and remember for years to come.

Saline Police Chief Seeks Sheriff Bid

Saline Police Chief James Douglas has announced his candidacy for Washtenaw County Sheriff. A 14-year veteran of the Saline Police Department, Douglas will seek the Democratic nomination for the four-year county post.

Police Chief in Saline for the past six years, Douglas, 38, is a graduate of the FBI National Academy and has an extensive and varied law enforcement background. He earned his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Siena Heights College, Adrian, and has been an active force in a host of professional and community-betterment organizations during his Saline tenure.

"I believe that the effectiveness of the law enforcement agency depends on its relationship with the community it serves," Douglas stated. "At the heart of that relationship is the utilization of citizens who are willing to get involved in aiding and promoting the welfare of the community."

Within the past few years, Douglas has co-ordinated the implementation of the "911" emergency telephone system in Saline, as well as "Safety Town U.S.A.", "Stranger Danger" puppet shows for children and a community-wide youth fingerprinting program. Douglas, who credits key volunteers for the success of the various programs, also currently is serving on the Advisory Board of the Washtenaw Co-ordinating Council for Children at Risk. The board, with the aid of Douglas, is in the process of developing an innovative program relating to youth diversion.

In addition to his responsibilities as Saline Police Chief, Douglas was instrumental in the organization of the Washtenaw County Criminal Justice Association three years ago and served as its first chairman. Prior to that Douglas organized and served as chairman of the Washtenaw Central Communications Committee.

Saline Mayor Donald Shelton, chairman of the seven-county Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), is chairing the Douglas campaign committee for sheriff. Veteran Ann Arbor Democrat Neil Staebler also is assisting in the election effort.

"I am seeking the office of Washtenaw County Sheriff as a professional law enforcement administrator, not as a professional politician," Douglas emphasized. "Politics has no place in effective law enforcement."

A resident of Lodi township, Douglas has been a member of the Saline Area Kiwanis, the Saline Area United Fund, the American Red Cross and currently is Scouting Co-ordinator for the local Law Enforcement Explorer Post. Douglas and his wife Patricia, director of accounting at Wayne State University, have a five-year-old son, Jav.

Donald Kenney Seeking Probate Judge Position

Veteran Ann Arbor Lawyer, Donald H. Kenney, today announced his candidacy for Washtenaw County Probate Judge. The vacancy will occur when Judge Loren Campbell steps down at the end of this year. It is commonly referred to as the Juvenile Judgeship.

"It is my intention to carry on the fine tradition of judicial excellence that has made this juvenile court one of the finest courts anywhere," Kenney said. "It is an extremely sensitive position requiring experience, skill, concern and leadership. I will bring to this office my many years of experience practicing law in this community and the skills I have developed in years of dedicated community service."

Kenney has been in the practice of law in Ann Arbor for 24 years, specializing in family, probate and criminal law. He is a member of the Mediation Committee of the Family Law Section of the State Bar, and a fellow of the American Arbitration Association. "Resolving problems and disputes by negotiation, mediation and arbitration are important skills in dealing with children and families in distress," Kenney said.

"There is no substitute for the experience of being a parent when dealing with juveniles," Kenney said. Married to Mary Craig Kenney, they have five children, ages 12 through 24, including children in elementary, junior high, high school and college. They are members of the First Presbyterian church of Ann Arbor where he has served in various capacities, including being an ordained deacon.

Long active in community affairs, Kenney was president last year of the Washtenaw County Council on Alcoholism and has been a member of their Board of Trustees for six years. "I consider my expertise in the field of substance abuse to be an important asset to this position. One in five kids under 17 has problems with alcohol—one in five has more than 12 drinks a week," he said. "We have a generation in peril, with the misuse and abuse of alcohol and other drugs occurring at even younger ages."

"There is virtually no segment of our community—young or old—rich or poor—who isn't touched by substance abuse," Kenney said. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, the youth services branch of the department of mental health. Kenney has also been appointed to the Washtenaw County Co-ordinating Council for Children at Risk, an important agency set up to co-ordinate services for abused, neglected and delinquent children.

Kenney has also been active in the City and County Board of Canvassers. He was appointed Washtenaw County Public Administrator by Governor George Romney. He has been active in the United Way, the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Directors of the Ann Arbor Symphony, charter president of the Kiwanis Club of Ann Arbor Southeastern, and many other organizations.

For the past eight years, he has coached youth hockey in the AAAHA program. "I've had three boys in the hockey program," Kenney said, "and it's been worth the many early morning sessions and sacrifices. I really learned what parental dedication is all about in that program."

Kenney is a graduate of the University of Michigan undergrad and law school. He is a veteran, having served four years as a captain and legal officer in the European theater. A member of the State Bar of Michigan, Committees on Family Law, Probate and Trust law and others, he is also a member of the Washtenaw County Bar Association, the Washtenaw and Michigan Trial Lawyers Association and is listed in Who's Who in American Law. He has resided in Ann Arbor for 33 years. "I look forward to the opportunity to give back to this community the benefit of my experience, training and concern for children that is so much a part of my life. This is a wonderful place to live and raise a family. I intend to see that remains true."

Kenney also announced the appointment of Maureen M. Conlin, accountant with the firm of Wright, Griffin Davis and Co. as treasurer of his campaign committee.

A Salute to the Miracle Workers

A lot of us may not realize that we have witnessed a miracle in our time. It's a miracle performed by the men and women who grow our food.

The abundant supply of food the farmer produces today is the basis upon which we have been able to build the world's highest standard of living. How?

Farmers have freed manpower. During the time of the American Revolution, ours was a nation of farmers. Even as recent as 50 years ago, more than 1/4 of all Americans were farmers. Today, less than 3% feed our nation. This productivity frees the remaining millions of Americans to produce other important goods and provide other vital services.

Farmers have freed income. A generation ago, the average American was spending almost 80% of his income on life's basic necessities—food, clothing and shelter. That percentage today has dipped to 60%.

Farmers have freed time. The average work week 50 years ago was between 50-60 hours, compared to today's 35-40 hours. Certainly, many things have contributed to this reduction, but if food, fiber and shelter were still costing 80% of consumer spending, workers would not have been able to reduce their respective work weeks.

Farmers have freed space. Back when we were a nation of 107 million, it took 350 million acres to grow our food and fiber. In more recent years, we have harvested less than 300 million acres as our population has more than doubled.

These benefits—income, time, space, better use of manpower—have been vital to improving the over-all quality of life for every member in every sector of society.

A salute to the miracle workers!

Manchester Police Chief Seeking Sheriff Nomination

William Zsenyuk of Manchester has announced that he is a candidate in the Democratic primary for the office of sheriff of Washtenaw county. Zsenyuk is the police chief and village administrator in Manchester.

"Following publication of my name as a possible appointee to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Sheriff Tom Minick, I received many calls from Washtenaw county citizens encouraging me to enter the primary election race," Zsenyuk said. "This is my first attempt to run for election to public office, and I am pleased that so many people have offered me their support."

Zsenyuk has established a reputation throughout the county for his progressive and practical approach to community problems. Interested in the problems of young people, especially as related to substance abuse, Zsenyuk was recently cited for his work in organizing the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee in co-operation with local school officials. He has also worked with Manchester area senior citizens in problems

Schebil Is Candidate For Sheriff's Position

Ronald J. Schebil of Ypsilanti has officially announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff. He will seek nomination on the Republican ticket in the August primary election.

Schebil is currently serving as acting sheriff following the resignation last month of Tom Minick.

His candidacy announcement states, in part:

"In making my announcement to seek the office of sheriff, I have given careful consideration to the duties and responsibilities I will assume if elected. Such a decision cannot be taken lightly.

"Over the past 15 years the office of sheriff has become increasingly complex as the department has expanded. For example in 1971 the department employed 106 personnel and had a budget of $1,632,369. Today the department has 240 personnel and was budgeted $10,175,353 for 1984. Similarly, the social, political and legal environment has become increasingly diverse as the county has grown.

"I believe that the citizens of Washtenaw county demand and deserve a sheriff who is an able administrator, knowledgeable in the criminal justice field and prepared to serve with accountability, efficiency and high ethical standards. I believe the community demands a sheriff who will enforce the law equitably and fairly, and will operate the jail in a manner which both provides for the security of the community and satisfies the constitutional mandate for a safe and humane jail environment.

"I feel I am well qualified to accept these responsibilities and satisfy the expectations of the community. I have served with the sheriff's Department since 1973 and have progressed steadily through assignments of increasing responsibility. During the past 11 years, I have served as a deputy, shift sergeant, law enforcement lieutenant, commander of the law enforcement division, including the patrol, traffic, detective functions, and undersheriff. Presently I hold the position of sheriff and, as such, am responsible for the operation of the entire department.

"Prior to joining the department in 1973, I was employed by the University of Michigan as an accounting supervisor from 1970-1973. This experience provided a firm foundation in the principles of public sector financial operations and helped to orient me toward a cost-accountable management philosophy. From 1966-1970, I attended the University of Michigan and graduated with a degree in business administration. I have since taken graduate courses at Eastern Michigan University.

"Among the many on-going operational programs in which the Department engages are those of the corrections division. The operation of the jail is a statutory responsibility of the sheriff and a duty which I feel is extremely important. I believe the community has a right to feel that individuals thought to be dangerous can be securely isolated from the general population. I believe further that this can be done in a manner which does not diminish those rights mandated by the constitution for all citizens, including jail inmates.

"In terms of law enforcement service, I intend to provide the community with disciplined and efficient service. Emphasis will be placed both on prevention and enforcement.

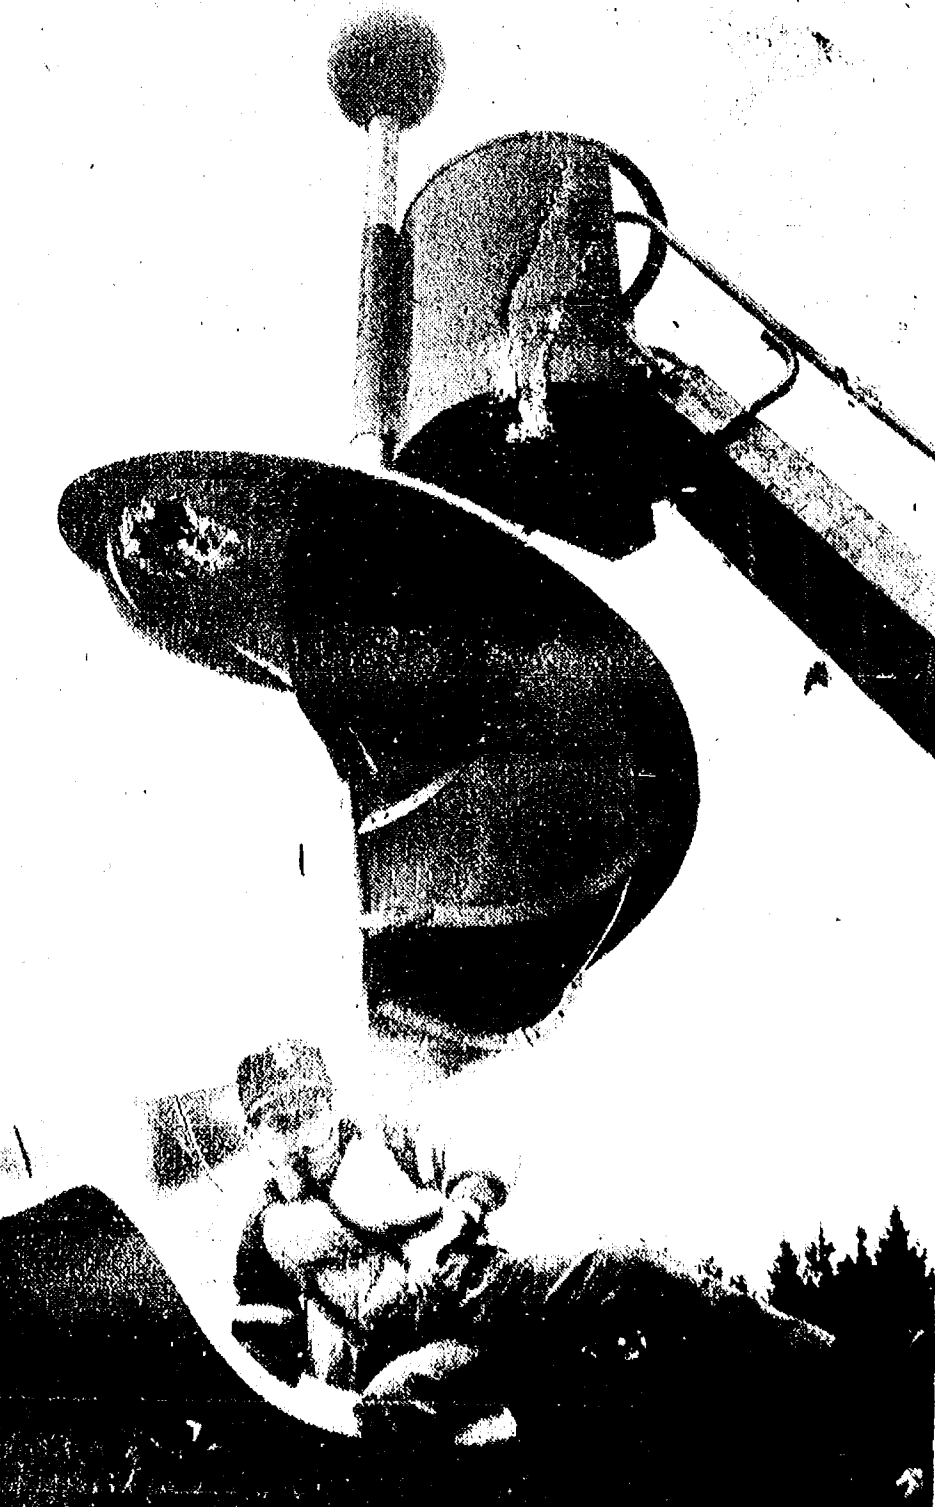

"From an enforcement perspective, Department resources will be focused on programs of crime analysis, directed patrol and detective case management. In this way, the agencies' resources can be directed toward those areas of criminal activity which pose the most substantial threat to the community."

relating to transportation grants and housing.

In addition to his 10 years experience administering the Manchester Police Department and the Village, Zsenyuk's background includes 20 years with the Detroit Police Department, where he served in a number of sensitive positions. These included the Internal Affairs Department and the Racket Conspiracy Section.

Philip Hoffman Seeks Re-Election

State Representative Philip Hoffman (R-Horton) has announced that he is seeking re-election to the 23rd District, Michigan House of Representatives.

Hoffman, a former Jackson county sheriff's department deputy and vice-chairman of the House Public Safety Committee, serves as assistant Republican whip in the House.

During his first term he was most successful at having legislation passed into law—more than any of his Republican colleagues in the House since 1982.

The 23rd District lawmaker said that during his first term in the House he accomplished his main goal of maintaining direct contact with his constituents by holding regular weekly meetings throughout all of the townships he serves. "The meetings have been a great help by enabling me to better represent the people of the 23rd District," Hoffman concluded.

Richard Conlin Seeks Probate Court Nomination

Richard E. Conlin, an Ann Arbor attorney, has announced his candidacy for Judge of the Juvenile Court division of the Washtenaw County Probate Court. Conlin, 39, is a partner in the Ann Arbor law firm of Conlin, Conlin, McKenney & Philbrick. Conlin is the son of long-time Probate, Juvenile and Circuit Court Judge, John W. Conlin, who died in 1972.

A lifelong resident of Washtenaw county, he and his wife Jean, are the parents of five children, four sons and one daughter, between the ages of 16 and 2. Conlin, a 1967 graduate of the University of Notre Dame, served in the Marine Corps before returning to earn his law degree at the Detroit College of Law. Prior to entering law school, he served as chief clerk with the 14th District Court in Chelsea. He presently serves as an elected member of the Representative Assembly of the State Bar of Michigan.

Conlin is also a member of the Washtenaw County Bar Association, the Probate and Family Law Sections of the State Bar Association, and the Florida Bar. He has been actively associated with various service groups, including church groups, senior citizen volunteer groups, and little league coaching.

"Alcohol, drugs, child abuse, teen-age rebellion and apathy are all problems facing many families today. The presence of these conditions in our society oftentimes undermines parents' ability to implement effective and wise decisions in their own homes. I know from my many years in practice in the field of domestic relations that the juvenile judgeship is an extremely sensitive position—one calling for leadership, common sense, good judgment, and the courage to make difficult decisions. I feel I have the proper combination of experience, compassion, insight, and the ability to be firm but fair to qualify me for this position."

Chelsea Community Hospital Founders Honored

Dr. Bruce Stubbs

Chelsea Community Hospital honored its founders at a celebration last Sunday. The hospital was established on Sept. 21, 1970. The founders were Dr. Michael Papo, Dr. James H. Botsford, Harold A. Jones, Paul E. Mann, Ferdinand E. Merkel, Dr. James D. Shadoan, Dr. Bruce T. Stubbs and Dr. Jerry L. Waldyke.

Arthur E. Dills, chairman of the board of trustees, opened the ceremony, after which past chairman James K. Daniels presented recognition plaques to the founders.

Special recognition was awarded to Dr. Papo by Paul E. Mann, also a past chairman of the board of trustees.

Robert E. Thornton, Jr., another past chairman, presided over the dedication of the intensive care unit, emergency room and library.

A reception followed for the approximately 200 persons present. Members of the board of trustees, besides Dills, include Cindy L. Bradbury, Vincent E. Dorer, Paul J. Feldstein, Robert M. German, Patricia B. Harris, Arlene B. Howe, Willard H. Johnson, the Rev. Robert B. Macfarlane, Mann, Thomas R. Niswonger, William G. Nuffer, Dr. James F. Peggs, Dr. F. S. van Reesema and Dr. Leonard H. Wolin.

Walter F. Hamilton, Jr., was chairman of the Founders Day committee.

WHAT ARE WE DOING?

Once when Margaret Mitchell was asked what she was doing, she said that being the author of "Gone With the Wind" was all she was able to do.

It is that way too, with us old folks. Being old is all we are able to do most of the time. Everything takes longer. It is a full-time job. When we get up in the morning we are told to get up slowly so we will not fall over. When we stand up even if we have just been sitting in a chair we are told to stand still a minute so we will not fall down.

It is necessary to check from time to time to see if all moving parts are working. There are collectibles to account for: eye glasses, hearing aids, dentures, even rings and a wad of Kleenex just in case. Women should give up earrings, early on, as being one thing too many to remember.

Keeping track of time is another burden. We have to allow extra time for getting dressed, for going to the bathroom, and we have to concentrate on being on time for meals and appointments. Any deviation from routine should be avoided and certainly not expected, because after all, what we are doing best is being old, alas.

Boyer & Fitzsimmons Magic Show Slated As Sesqui Event

Boyer & Fitzsimmons Magic Co. will be performing for Chelsea's Sesquicentennial celebration.

Jeff Boyer and Jim Fitzsimmons are taking time out between tours to perform for their home town of Chelsea at the high school auditorium on Monday, July 2. The hour-long entertaining magic show begins at 5 p.m. and will include new and exciting routines and ideas which Jeff and Jim learned while touring through the United States. Among all the fast-paced illusions will be doves, pigeons, rabbits, flowers, and several other assistants. There will be a small admission price of 50 cents.

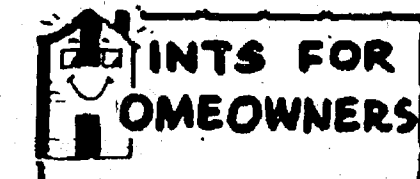

Boyer & Fitzsimmons have won many awards for their excellence in magical entertainment, including "Best Comedy Act" and "Best Overall Act" from an Ohio magician's convention. The magic team goes beyond performing magic. They also teach this art of conjuring to elementary children through the Super Saturday Program.

Jeff Boyer and Jim Fitzsimmons have lived in Chelsea for over 20 years and have been professional magicians for over nine years.

The team of Boyer & Fitzsimmons has performed for companies such as Xerox, BookCrafters, Gelman Sciences, MacDee, Inc., Michigan Bell, Environmental Research Institute of Michigan, Independent Order of Foresters and for various schools, colleges, churches and birthday parties. They have traveled all over Michigan to perform their magical talents in cities such as Sandusky, Traverse City and Charlotte.

Boyer and Fitzsimmons are both 1980 graduates of Chelsea High school. Jeff has attended Washtenaw Community College for three years with a major in accounting and is currently employed by Ulrich's Books, Inc., in the accounting department. Cassidy Lake Meeting . . .

Mary Schroer, who came in place of State Sen. Lana Pollack, said a bill to appropriate money for the first of the two new dormitories is on Gov. Blanchard's desk and is expected to be signed.

"I can't guarantee it, but I think it will happen," she said. She added that Sen. Pollack is drafting a bill to reimburse police agencies for costs of catching Cassidy Lake escapees but suggested that the possibility of its being considered during the current session of the Legislature is slight. The "full-time" legislators are scheduled to go home for the summer on June 15.

Staten and Andrews say the new dormitories, if built, will tighten security at Cassidy Lake.

"We'll have more people confined to in one place and will be able to exercise closer surveillance," Andrews explained. "Right now we're trying to supervise 230-some men scattered over 88 acres, and that isn't easy. We definitely have improved security during the past year, even though the escape figures may not show it."

As for the noise nuisance, Staten promised that he and his staff will check it out. A person who lives three-quarters of a mile from Cassidy Lake said she could hear all the conversation over the prison's loudspeaker system.

"We put in some new equipment recently," Staten said, "and it could be that we don't have it adjusted quite right. We're also getting complaints that people here on the grounds can't hear it. We need to do some fine-tuning."

Tuition Rates Being Hiked By WCC

Tuition rates have been increased $2 per credit hour for in-district students at Washtenaw Community College by action of the college's Board of Trustees at their monthly meeting April 24. This raises tuition from $27 to $29 effective Fall 1984 term.

"The board is faced with the problem of meeting increasing demands for services and programs and at the same time a minimal increase in property tax revenue," Ann Kettles, chair of the board explains. "It remains our goal to keep tuition rates at the lowest possible level and still maintain the present level of college programming," she adds, noting that even with the increase, tuition levels at the college remain substantially below those of many of Michigan's other community colleges, most of whom are now also voting on increased tuition. The proposed tuition rate keeps WCC tuition close to the state average for community colleges.

The $2 per credit rate increase will also affect out-district and out-of-state tuition. Out-district now will be $46 per credit hour; out-of-state will be raised to $60 per credit hour.

Kettles notes that over the last ten years, in-district tuition rates have increased by about the same percentage as the Consumer Price Index. During this same period, the percentage of total revenue derived from tuition increased from 17.2 to 24.9 percent and was necessitated by an equivalent decline in WCC revenues from state appropriations.

Among the most important factors affecting the tuition, she notes, is that there is no indication that the sale price of property in this area has increased appreciably over the past year. This affects the college budget severely, she notes, as property taxes have accounted for 43% of the 1983-84 revenues.

Kettles notes that continued efforts at the college include program review, no net increases in total authorized permanent staff positions and a policy that new or expanded programs and services must be supported through reallocation of current resources. Even with these efforts to control and reduce costs, however, a tuition increase is required to deal with shortfalls in property tax revenues and inflationary pressures, Kettles said.

Older workers account for 40% of the state's total labor force of approximately 4.3 million people.

Special Olympians Score Well at Annual Games

Eighteen Chelsea students went to Mt. Pleasant for the state Special Olympic games last week. They stayed in the dorms of Central Michigan University. The athletes took part in swimming, gymnastics, track, bowling and frisbee events.

The five Chelsea athletes in gymnastics did especially well. One athlete, Theresa Carlson, was so exceptional in floor exercise and balance beam that she was placed in her own division and given gold medals in both events. After the competition judges complimented her on her high degree of grace and expression. Theresa used "Green-sleeves" as her accompanying music in floor exercise.

Dawn Stancato was also a double gold medal winner in gymnastics, balance beam and floor exercise. Her music was "Für Elise" by Beethoven. Denise DeVoe received a silver medal in floor exercise, John Wilson received both a gold medal in tumbling and a silver in balance beam, and Julian Early earned a silver in tumbling.

Our county also sent two 400-meter relay teams to compete. The top division team took a third-place medal behind Detroit and Muskegon. Competing from Chelsea on this relay was Ken Smith. The other runners were from Dexter and High Point. The second 400-meter relay team took a silver medal. Competing from Chelsea on this team were Marcus Miller and Jay Curry. Other runners were from Dexter.

The swimming team took a gold medal in the top division. Swimmers were Theresa Carlson, Stacie Crews, Mark Turnblom and Lorraine Martel. Other swimmers who won medals were Jay Curry, silver in the 25-yard freestyle, Mike Goebel, two bronze medals in the 25- and 50-yard freestyle, Jason Koch, gold and silver medals in the 25- and 50-yard freestyles, and Shawn Finley, who took a silver medal in the 25-yard freestyle.

Chelsea sent four divers to the state meet as well and two of them came back medal winners. They are Jay Curry, who got a gold medal with all perfect 10 scores, and Mike Goebel, who received a bronze medal for his efforts. Others who did well were Linda Alber and Dave Cercone.

In track Ken Smith was a standout, winning a gold medal in the mile run. James Schoffner took a silver medal in the 50-meter dash and Linda Alber took a bronze in the mile race. Dan Polens and Donald Ellery also participated.

After this exhausting but fun-filled time, the Special Olympians are now gearing up for their week long camping trip.

SLICE OF OLD AMERICA: The 1st Michigan Colonial Fife and Drum Corps recreates an America we know only through history books as they march through their paces in a recent performance.

The band has been in existence since 1974 and its members range in age from 12 to 21. Its program is unique in that it presents a narrated concert explaining the background to all music played.

Colonial Fife & Drum Corps Will Entertain Sesqui Crowds

Organized in 1974 in Sterling Heights, The 1st Michigan Colonial Fife & Drum Corps has become one of the finest examples of recreated Revolutionary War field music in the United States today. This group of young musicians has been highly praised for the quality and authenticity of their performances.

The 1st Michigan Colonial Fife & Drum Corps in concert and on parade becomes for its audience a vibrant, exciting living history lesson. Recognitions of the quality and authenticity of their musical achievements have come from people such as Dr. Michael Udow, University of Michigan School of Music, and John Moon, director of Colonial Performers, Williamsburg, Va. Members range in age from 12 to 21.

Their instruments, hand crafted in Connecticut, are exact duplicates of those used over 200 years ago. The music played is researched and documented so that those hearing the 1st Michigan are assured of hearing historically accurate music, played on historically accurate instruments.

Country Store Opening June 8 at Sesqui Headquarters

The Country Store at the Headquarters in Sylvan Town Hall will be open as follows: June 8-9, 12-5; June 15-16, 12-5; June 22-23, 12-5.

The store will open again June 25 and will be open all week through July 6, from 12-7. All people who are participating in the store and who have booth space should be ready to set up on Thursday, June 7, from 4-10. The store will be selling all Sesquicentennial items, and many other items will be sold by people and organizations while the store is open.

If anyone has further questions, contact Sis Kantan at 475-7427.

The uniforms worn by the Corps are copies of those worn by Colonel Dan Morgan's Rifle Co., one of the more elite units in the Continental Army. All accessories, uniform coats and hats, have all been researched and reproduced by hand out of the same type of materials as were used to make the original items. Mark Logsdon sums up this attention to detail by saying, "It's our way of keeping a slice of America alive."

The members of this unit have acquired quite a reputation for presenting an interesting as well as informative concert wherever they perform. This assemblage of fifers and drummers is one of only two groups in the country who present a narrated concert explaining the background behind the music. They are the only group to have ever played in the Sanctuary at the Old North Church in Boston since the beginning of the Revolutionary War, 208 years ago.

We are very pleased to have the first of Michigan group with us to celebrate our sesquicentennial on Sunday, July 1. Performances will be at 2:15 p.m. and 4 p.m. at the High school. They will also be playing in small groups at the Senior Citizens Brunch.

Sunday's performances are all free of charge thanks to some Chelsea area merchants.

Tina Paddock's Clutch Hit Lifts Chelsea To District Crown

Tina Paddock's two-out, bases-loaded hit up the middle drove in the tying and winning runs in an extra-inning thriller at Milan last Saturday afternoon as Chelsea's softball team beat Saline, 4-3, to win the district tournament and advance to the regional.

It couldn't have been any closer.

The game matched up the two ace pitchers in the Southeastern Conference—Chelsea's Beth Unterbrink and Saline's Holly Knepper—and each had good supporting casts.

Saline scored first, plating two unearned runs in the top of third on a combination of two Chelsea errors, a base hit and a sacrifice fly.

The Bulldogs got those back in the bottom of the fourth as Anne Weber drew a walk and Lori Folcik followed with a home run down the left field line.

Chelsea worked runners into scoring position in both the sixth and seventh innings, but couldn't get them home as Knepper bore down to retire the side and escape trouble.

The Hornets put across a run in the top of the eighth on two hits sandwiched around a throwing error on a sacrifice bunt, and until the very last minute that tainted run looked to be the winner.

Chelsea needed one to tie and two to win in its half the eighth, and got the two. A Folcik hit, an error and a walk loaded the bases with one out. A force play at the plate made the second out, and left it all up to Paddock.

She got her pitch and drove a sharp ground ball up the middle past Knepper, over second base and into centerfield as two Bulldog runners came racing home to make Chelsea district champs once again.

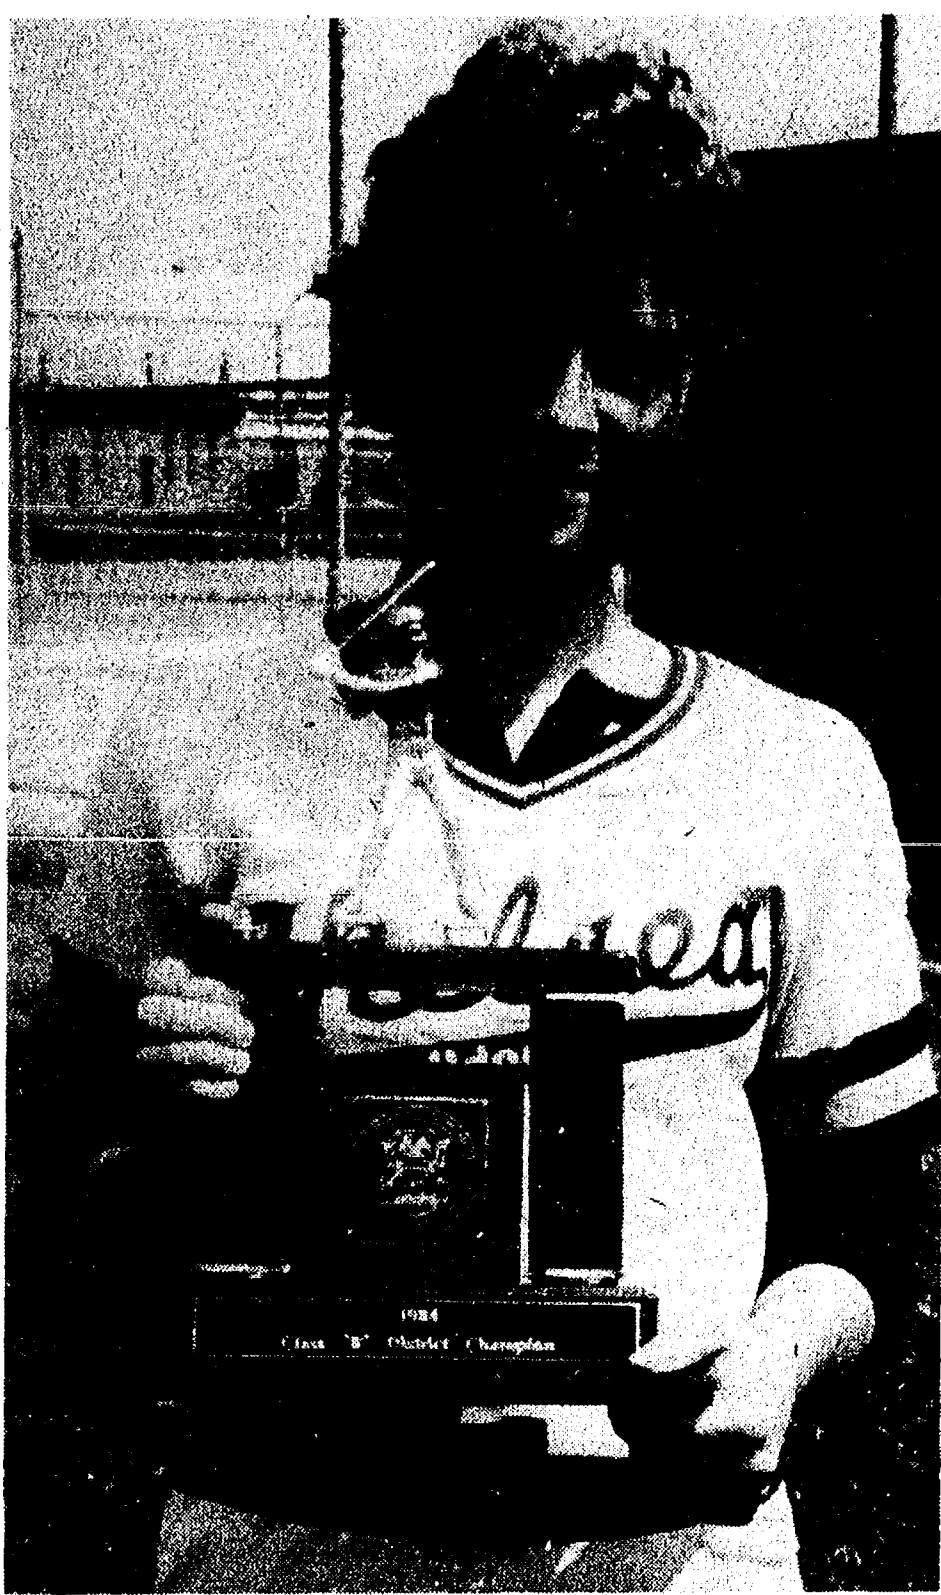

"Tina hasn't hit for a high average this season, but she has almost always managed to get her bat on the ball and hit it somewhere," coach Charlie Waller said. "I thought for maybe two seconds about a pinch-hitter but decided not to, figuring Tina would put the ball in play."

Put in play she did. She hit it hard and in exactly the right place. There was no way anybody could have fielded the ball and made a throw anywhere. The winning run scored standing up.

The usually unflappable Waller, who is perhaps the most relaxed coach this reporter has ever observed, was limp after the game.

"Was I worried? You bet I was. When you're behind and you have one out left, you have to be worried. It all came down to Tina, and she delivered."

"I figured we would play Saline in the final game of the tournament, and that it would be a

SHE GOT THE BIG HIT: Tina Paddock proudly holds the district championship trophy that she did a whole lot to help win with a super-clutch hit that brought home the tying and winning runs in a come-from-behind extra-inning effort as Chelsea beat Saline, 4-3, to advance to the regional.

close, tough game. Saline is good. Their softball program has come a long way, and Knepper has developed into a fine pitcher. She seems to get better with every game.

"We can't assume any longer that we are going to be 'automatic' SEC champions." (The Bulldogs have won the league title six years in a row.)

Knepper and Unterbrink are both juniors, and Waller predicted some tight pitching duels between the two in their senior years next season.

The Bulldogs got into the district final game by defeating Lincoln, 9-2, in a preliminary contest behind the outstanding pitching of Kelly Hawker, who gave up just one hit while striking out 16.

Unterbrink, playing in the outfield, had a two-run homer, and Chandy Hurd and Joyce Robards rapped two hits apiece.

Saline disposed of Monroe St. Mary's to set up the showdown with arch-rival Chelsea. The two schools play each other tough in every sport, and the tournament finale was a classic.

Last Saturday's two wins boosted the Chelsea girls to a lofty 31-3 mark going into Saturday's regional. Besides Saline, the Bulldogs have been defeated by Flint Kearsley and St. Joseph.

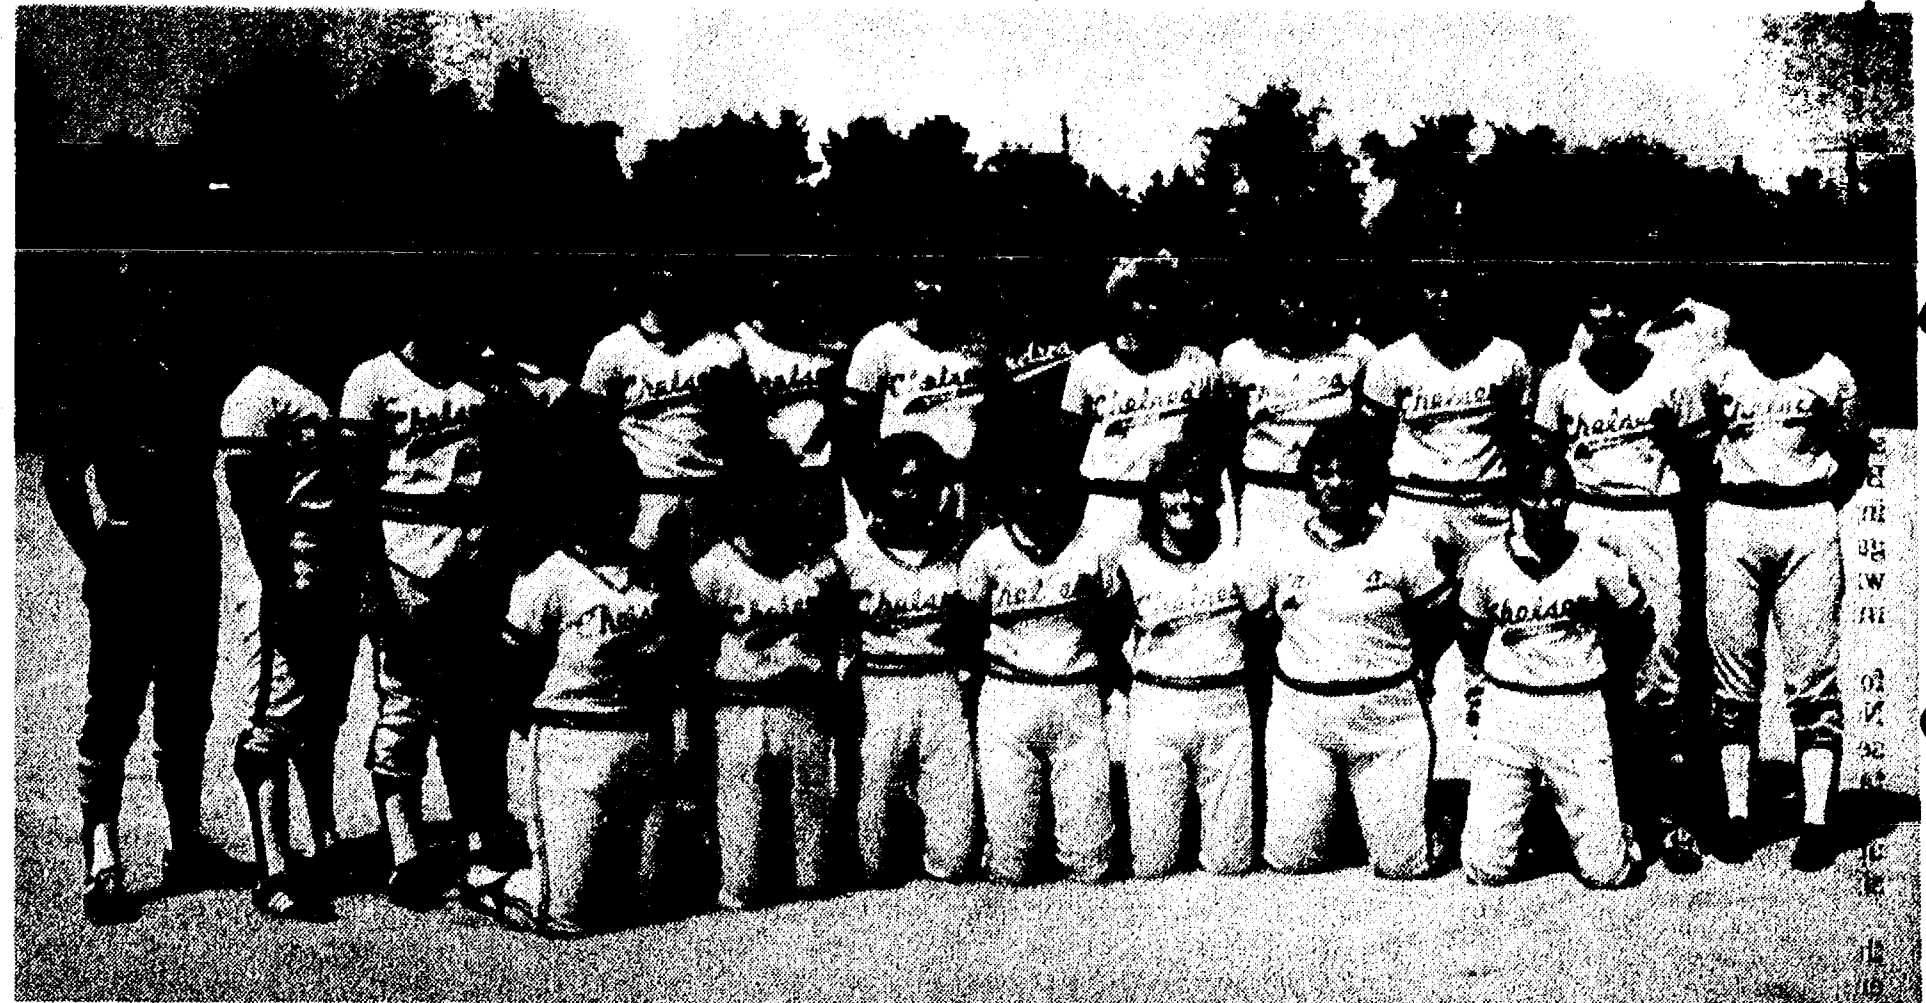

"All I can say about the regional is that we'll give it our best shot," Waller promised.

Top Choices Withdraw Bids To Be Cage Coach

It's back to the beginning in the search for a new Chelsea High school head basketball coach, as both of the two leading candidates withdrew their applications.

"I doubt very much that we will be able to present a recommendation to the Board of Education at its June 11 meeting as we had planned," superintendent Ray Van Meer said.

"We're looking at some possibilities, but my thinking at

Tennis Awards Presented

Tennis awards for the 1984 season were presented at the home of William and Sharlene Eisenbeiser Friday evening, June 1.

Seniors receiving awards were Kurt Eisenbeiser, Thom Schumann, Greg Markle, Dan Waldyke and Olav Meyer. Dan Waldyke received his first-year varsity letter; Greg Markle a third-year trophy and Thom Schumann and Kurt Eisenbeiser fourth-year small plaques. All seniors receive a large senior plaque as a senior award. Pins and certificates were also given.

Juniors receiving varsity letters and pins were David Bareis, Biff Bunten and Rick Proctor. Mark Henson received his second-year bulldog pin; Mike Merkel, the only sophomore, received his first-year varsity letter and pin. All received certificates.

Junior varsity awards (JV letter and numerals) were given to Casey Ketner and John Stevens. Most valuable player awards were given to Kurt Eisenbeiser and Thom Schumann. They ended the season with a record of 11-4.

Greg Markle received the most improved award.

JV Softball Team Posts 18-4 Mark, Develops Several Talented Players

The Chelsea junior varsity softball team finished a successful season by beating a highly talented Jackson Northwest team.

The Chelsea JV's had a record of 18-4 and developed seven talented sophomores for next year's varsity team, according to coach Bill Wescott.

They are Cathy Burkel, Jennifer Cattell, Chris DeFant, Michelle Easton, Jill Schaffner, Karen Kilelea and Missy Connell.

Kilelea had a key double, driving in two runs in the top of the fifth, and Chelsea went on to score four more times to beat Northwest, 10-6. DeFant was outstanding in relief of starting pitcher, Schaffner.

In the first game Jackson Northwest downed a determined Chelsea team, 5-2. Pam Brown was the starting pitcher and was relieved by Schaffner in the sixth inning.

"Pam has made great progress this season," Wescott said. "Pam should become a really tough pitcher," he added.

Chelsea also beat Adrian, 10-1. DeFant was the starting pitcher and went the distance. Chelsea played errorless ball. Cattell had a perfect 3-for-3 day at the plate, collecting a double and two singles. Chelsea's bunting attack, was outstanding and Adrian could not defense it.

The team finished tied for first place in the Southeastern Conference with Saline, posting a 9-1 record.

Freshmen on the team were Karen Weber, Trisha Mattoff, Pam Brown, Jodi Keezer, Kelly Ghent, Mary Lazarz, Kim Ferry, Angie DeFant and Cindy Sterling. Sophomores were Cathy Burkel, Jennifer Cattell, Michelle Easton, Jill Schaffner, Karen Kilelea and Missy Connell.

The team voted Chris DeFant most valuable player and awarded Kim Ferry most improved for the 1984 season.

Chelsea Will Play at Noon On Saturday

Chelsea will play Dearborn Divine Child at noon Saturday on the Dexter diamond in a preliminary game of the regional girls softball tournament.

The winner will square off in the championship game against the victor of a contest between Jackson Northwest and Allen Park, which will begin at 10 a.m.

The title game will begin at 2 p.m.

The school board has directed that the new coach be a full-time faculty member, and that narrows the potential field. There is a teacher opening in the social studies department with the retirement of George Prinzing, and there may be one in mathematics if Robin Raymond receives a teaching position in the Ann Arbor school system. Raymond, former Chelsea basketball mentor, is now coaching at Ann Arbor Pioneer but is holding onto his job as a math teacher here until there is a vacancy in Ann Arbor that he can move into.

That means Chelsea's new basketball coach must also be a certified teacher in social studies or possibly mathematics.

"We have the summer to work this out," Van Meer said. "My best guess is that we are looking at August instead of June as the time for making an announcement."

Baseball Team Drops Error-Filled Game In District Tourney

Chelsea's varsity baseball season wound up on a sad note in the district tournament at Dexter last Saturday as the Bulldogs dropped a preliminary game to Novi, 6-5, and didn't make it to the finals.

A last-ditch seventh-inning rally staged after Chelsea had dug itself into a 6-1 hole made the score close, but it just wasn't the Bulldogs' day. The potential tying run that could have sent the game into extra innings was wiped out on a base-running mistake.

Chelsea opened the gates with four infield errors that allowed Novi to put across two runs in the second and three in the third and take a 5-0 lead. The Bulldogs scored one in the fourth, but gave up another tainted run in the sixth.

Their four runs in the bottom of the seventh just weren't quite enough.

Novi went on to lose to Fenton, 13-5, in the final game.

"Novi only had one pitcher," Chelsea coach Wayne Welton said, "and he was the boy who beat us. They had nobody left to pitch against Fenton. Novi got down, 11-0, and that was the story of the final game."

"I've been saying all season that we had to play good defense and run the bases well to be winners," Welton commented, "and we did both very poorly against Novi. We gave them their six runs, and we cost ourselves the one we had to have."

Jay Marshall surrendered just five hits in losing pitching cause.

He wasn't at his sharpest, but he certainly threw well enough to win," Welton said. "It wasn't his fault. He didn't get a lot of help out there. The early-inning errors and unearned runs made it awfully tough for him."

The base-running mistake in our last inning was one of those unfortunate things that you have to expect from an inexperienced team, I guess. The boy was trying to be aggressive and ran into a tag when he over-ran second base."

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER: Chris Gallas was selected by his teammates as Chelsea's most valuable baseball player this spring. Chris played regularly at third base, filled in at catcher and also pitched a few innings during the season.

Catcher Rick Boham played an exceptional game as he rapped three hits, threw out three runners at second base, scored two runs, and caught a couple of high foul flies behind the plate.

"I'm disappointed because I think we could have won that tournament," Welton added. "There wasn't an overwhelming team among the four, and we were as good as any. We just didn't play very well, and that's what hurts. It was one of our worst games of the season."

The Bulldogs ended their year as co-champions of the Southeastern Conference and a 13-13 overall record. A district championship would have climaxed an unexpectedly fine campaign.

Most of the players will go on to play summer ball, with the underclassmen honing their skills for next year.

SEVEN CO-CAPTAINS: Not many teams have seven co-captains, but Chelsea's varsity baseball team did this spring. "We didn't have one outstanding leader, so we made all seven of our seniors captains," coach Wayne Welton said. It worked pretty well as the Bulldogs shared the Southeastern Conference co-championship. Left to right: Ron Dunn, Rick Boham, Chris Gallas, Jay Marshall, Chuck Hager, Marty Steinhauer, Dave Bushway.

Chris Gallas Chosen Baseball Team's MVP

Chris Gallas has been selected as the most valuable player on Chelsea's varsity baseball team which surprised everybody by winning a share of the Southeastern Conference championship.

Gallas' regular position is third base, which he handles very well, but he also filled in as catcher when Rick Boham was hurt, and did a little bit of pitching besides. He batted over .300 and delivered several clutch hits.

"He just plain did a great job for us all season long," coach Wayne Welton said. "He did everything I asked of him on the field and contributed more in some intangible ways. He played to the limit of his ability, which is considerable, and sometimes made plays I didn't believe he could make. He has been outstanding."

Catcher Boham and second baseman David Bushway were picked as the team's "most improved" players of the year.

Boham had a tough act to follow, coming in to replace Rod Robeson who was an excellent catcher. Boham quickly showed that he could catch the ball, handle pitchers and throw out runners who wanted to test his arm on attempted steals.

He came back a couple of weeks after suffering a separated shoulder (fortunately not on his throwing arm) and demonstrated that he could "play hurt" and do well.

Bushway is one of those boys who doesn't get a lot of recognition because he isn't spectacular. He just goes out and plays a steady second base, and gets his share of hits at the plate.

Rightfielder Ron Dunn was chosen as offensive player of the year, "the best lead-off hitter I've ever had," according to coach Wayne Welton, and a steady outfielder besides.

The remarkable thing about Dunn is that he is blind in his left eye. It's difficult to hit or catch a baseball with the depth perception that two eyes provide. To do it with one working eye has to border on the impossible, yet Dunn did it very well.

Outfielder Marty Steinhauer was named defensive player of the year. He caught everything hit in his direction and made a couple of great throws to nail base-runners who figured to be "in there."

Jay Marshall was picked as pitcher of the year. He was 6-0 for the season going into last Saturday's district tournament and had established himself as the top man on the Bulldog pitching staff, a fine hurler and competitor who could win the big games. He developed an excellent breaking ball to go along with his speed, and learned to spot his pitches.

Chuck Hager won the "Dugout Award" given to the player who does the most to pick up the spirit of the team. An excellent defensive first baseman who has made some dandy plays with his glove, Hager has also hit the ball well in recent games.

Evan Roberts and Mark Mull were selected as captains for next year. Roberts, who plays in the outfield but can also fill in at third base, will be a senior. Mull, a shortstop and pitcher, will be a junior.

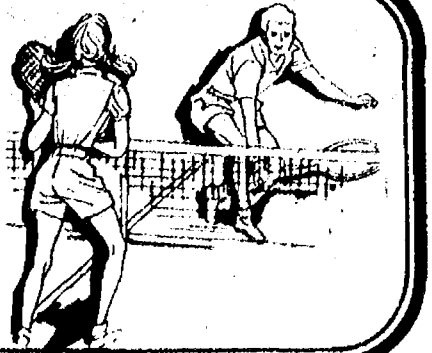

Gallas, Marshall and Steinhauer were selected to the all-Southeastern Conference first team. Boham, Bushway and Dunn were second-team picks.

"As far as I'm concerned, they all should have been first choices," Welton said, "but you can't have everything. All of these boys have played very well for us. This team has performed beyond my expectations, and the seven seniors—Marshall, Gallas, Steinhauer, Boham, Bushway, Dunn and Hager—have led us."

The Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act became law on Sept. 14, 1959. The act provided protections for the rights of labor union members and prohibited certain improper activities by labor and management.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

A sports writer keeps getting asked some obvious yet difficult questions, one of which is: Who is the greatest athlete you ever saw? This and the next several columns will try to give an answer, several answers in fact, because there is no one person I can name as having been the "greatest."

I've been following sports as a spectator since my dad took me to my first Detroit Tigers baseball game back in 1934 when I was eight years old. As I wrote at about this time last year, my boyhood hero was Charlie Gehringer, and I still think he was as good at his position (second base) as anybody who ever played there.

Over the last 50 years I've been privileged to watch hundreds of truly great athletes, outstanding individuals, gifted human beings who could perform remarkable physical feats that are almost beyond the comprehension of us ordinary mortals.

Just one example: Back during the 1950's and 60's when I was going to a lot of Tiger ball games, Al Kaline was rewriting the book on how to play right field in the Major Leagues. Nobody had ever done it as well before, or has since. His unanimous election to baseball's Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility was no accident. The votes came from people who knew the game and recognized superiority when they saw it.

I always made it a point to get to the ballpark early, to see a little show that Kaline put on as the Tigers finished their practice period. He would back up against the wall in right field, 330 feet from home plate, take three baseballs and line them in to the catcher. He invariably threw strikes. Until he smashed his shoulder one day while making a game-saving catch to beat the New York Yankees, he had the finest throwing arm of any baseball player I've ever seen.

There are dozens of memories like those of athletes who could do extraordinary things that are almost beyond ability to believe, much less duplicate.

Just exactly what is greatness in sports? How do you define it? What are the measuring sticks?

And how do you sort out the skills of athletes in different sports and make comparisons without getting into the "apples and oranges" game? How can you possibly say that this baseball player was better at his game than that football player or some other basketball player?

I've thought about that a lot, and finally decided there is one criterion that I can justify, and it is dominance. The greatest of athletes are those who dominate their games over a long period, overshadowing everybody else who played the same game at the same time.

On that basis my choice of the finest athletes I've ever seen narrows and comes down to two—Bill Russell and Jack Nicklaus. I can't make a pick of which was the better.

Russell led the Boston Celtics professional basketball team to 11 championships in 13 seasons, a record that nobody else has ever come close to matching. He was absolutely awesome. Until Russell came along, the Celtics were just another basketball team. Once he became their man in the middle, they were darned near unbeatable.

I suspect tournament golf is the most intensely competitive individual sport there is, with the most players capable of winning during any given week. I also believe golf is the most difficult game there is to play consistently well.

Nicklaus led the pack for more than 20 years, winning more pro golf tournaments and more major titles than anybody else ever has. At age 44, when most athletes are sitting back reliving their memories, Nicklaus went out and won a tournament a couple of weeks ago, just to show that he can still do it.

Nobody in the history of competitive sports that I know of has been "on top" longer than Nicklaus.

There is one other criterion that should be applied in assessing athletic greatness, and that is all-around skill—the ability to perform at or near the peak in a variety of sports and games.

It's a different kind of measuring rod because it does not necessarily mean that the performer had to be "the best" in anything but, rather, was close to the best in a lot of things.

Applying that judgment, I come up with an easy winner. He was Elroy Hirsch, the best all-around athlete I ever saw. (My dad insists that Bennie Oosterbaan was better, but I never saw Oosterbaan in any athletic role other than coach.)

The next three Sports Notes columns will discuss these three stand-outs—Russell, Nicklaus, Hirsch—in more detail.

Frosh Baseballers Have Last Four Games Rained Out

Chelsea's freshman baseball team closed out its season on a wet note as scheduled double-headers against Adrian and Howell were rained out.

"We couldn't play on the scheduled days, and we couldn't postpone the games because there just wasn't enough time left in the school year," coach Phil Bareis said. "We had to call them off."

The frosh ended their season with a 4-11 record.

Amy Wolfgang Wins Fifth Place In State Meet

Sophomore Amy Wolfgang became the second girl ever to place for Chelsea in the state track meet as she finished fifth in the 300-meter low hurdles at Caro last Saturday.

It was a photo finish, and the judges had to look at a picture to decide whether she had come in fourth or fifth.

The only other Chelsea girl trackster ever to earn a place in the state meet was Shelley Warren, who was eighth in the half-mile in 1975.

"It is quite an accomplishment for Amy," coach Bill Bainton said. "It caps a fine season for her and, as a sophomore, she can be expected to improve.

The 3,200-meter relay of Laura Damm, Stephanie Roberts, Sallie Wilson and Wendy Wolfgang finished near where they were seeded—14th out of 30—with a 10:15.5, only eight seconds from the eighth-place time.

The Bulldogs were in the larger of the two heats and lost some time when lead-off runner Laura Damm had to work her way out of the pack of 17 runners on the first lap. Roberts and Wilson held the Bulldogs close, but Wendy Wolfgang was unable to overtake the leaders as the Bulldogs finished fourth in their heat.

Boys Track Team Wins No Points in State Meet

None of Chelsea's entrants in last Saturday's state boys track meet at Caro placed among the point winners.

"I guess about all you can say is that we went up and came back," coach Bill Wehrwein said. "Our performances weren't good, far below earlier season efforts."

Asked why favored Lincoln didn't win the meet as expected—the Railsplitters were second to Detroit Benedictine—Wehrwein minced no words.

"The officiating was just plain shocking. I've never seen anything quite so bad in an important meet. Benedictine was awarded points in three events in which they should have been disqualified, and that made the difference.

"When we ran the regional meet here in Chelsea, we had six judges posted on each curve. At Caro there were only three judges around the whole track. They had school kids handling the field events."

Wehrwein speaks from the experience of having been rated as one of Michigan's top track officials before he took over the Chelsea coaching job this year.

Track Meet Scheduled For Younger Students

Elementary and middle school students will compete in a special track meet tomorrow, sponsored by the Hershey Foundation, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Boys and girls will compete separately and will be divided into 9-10, 11-12 and 13-14 age groups. Winners will advance to a state meet in July at Michigan State University. First-placers in the state competition will be eligible for a national meet to be held at Hershey, Pa., in August.

"I think we may have a few kids capable of making it to Hershey," boys track coach Bill Wehrwein said. "Unfortunately, some of them will be competing against each other in the same events tomorrow, so some will be eliminated."

Wehrwein sees the meet as important to his goal of building up Chelsea's track program, which has not experienced a lot of success in recent years.

elementary and middle school levels, and then bring them along through coaching and training," he said. "This meet will give us a chance to look at a lot of kids and evaluate their abilities."

Scheduled events include the softball throw and the standing broad jump for all age groups.

The 9-10-year-olds will race at 50, 100, 200 and 400 meters, the 11-12 group at 100, 200, 400 and 800 meters, and the 13-14 class at 100, 200, 800 and 1,600.

The year 1888 marked the enactment of the first arbitration law. The law applied only to railroad workers and provided for voluntary arbitration by a presidentially-appointed three-member board to arbitrate labor disputes.

TROPHY BEAR: Dave Wetzel (center) of Pinckney displays the skin of the 275-pound black bear he shot in northern Ontario in late May. Flanking him are his hunting partners, Dave Carter and Dave Stahl.

Pinckney Man Bags Big Bear in Ontario

Dave Wetzel of 2125 Malvern, Pinckney, bagged a 275-pound black bear May 27 "somewhere in northern Ontario."

"That's all I'm going to tell you about where I got it," Wetzel said. "It's kind of a secret place to me because I plan to go back there next year and I don't want to find a lot of other people ahead of me."

Wetzel downed his trophy, which had a hide that squared at 79 inches, with a single shot from a .50 caliber Sharps rifle, not a muzzle-loader but definitely an antique gun.

"I shot from a tree stand at about 35 yards as the bear was running through the bush and hit him in the heart. He ran about 40 yards and dropped dead."

Wetzel credited his hunting buddies, Dave Stahl and Dave Carter, with helping him collect his trophy.

"The three of us put out a bait pile—scraps of fish, sardines, beaver gland scent, vanilla extract—and the bear came up to it just three hours later," he said. "I happened to be the one on stand, and got the shot."

"We shared the camp work, putting out the bait, and the skinning, dragging and hauling. We didn't have a guide or an outfitter. We did it all by ourselves."

The trio also experienced fine fishing for trout, pike and walleyes, Wetzel added.

Bowdish, Spayd Take Thirds in Jackson Meet

Tim Bowdish and Mark Spayd both won third places in last week's Jackson County track meet, which matched up the top eight winners in each event during the spring season.

No team scores were kept. Bowdish was third in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 4:39. Spayd's time of :40.11 was good for third in the 300 low hurdles.

"We had problems with our relay teams because some of our boys were sick and couldn't run," coach Bill Wehrwein said. "We had to do some substituting, and a couple of kids ran distances they had never run in competition before."

A 3,200-meter relay quartet of Bowdish, Scott Cooper, Eric Green and Spayd finished seventh. Spayd and Cooper filled in for Kyle Kernmish and Greg Buckberry, who were ill.

Spayd had to drop out of the 100-meter high hurdles, the next event after the 3,200 relay, because he was just plain tired, Wehrwein said.

Seven from Chelsea Run In Jackson

Seven girls from Chelsea ran in the Jackson Honor Roll meet last week.

The 3,200 relay team of Carol Warren, Stephanie Roberts, Sallie Wilson and Laura Damm finished third with a 10:21.3. Warren, running instead of Wendy Wolfgang who was nursing a sore foot, ran a strong leg, and Roberts and Wilson each ran 2:32.1, their best splits of the season.

Speaking of Roberts, coach Bill Bainton said, "Stephanie has been running consistently well the last few meets. She has caught people and given us good position to work from after her leg."

Wilson also ran the 1,600 in 5:49.8, and teammate Mary Ann Richardson ran a 6:05.1. "Mary Ann was the alternate and got in the race when several other runners dropped out due to injury. We found out on the morning of the meet that she was running, so her performance was pretty good for such short preparation time."

Amy Wolfgang, running in the 400, ran a 1:01.7, good for third place. Wolfgang ran the 400 rather than the hurdles so she would be mentally fresher for her hurdle race in the state meet.

The 1,600 relay team of Wendy Wolfgang, Carol Warren, Laura Damm and Amy Wolfgang, despite a fine lead-off split from Wendy Wolfgang, ran off their normal race and finished sixth in the eight-team race with a 4:20.6.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

I may have to eat these words before they are printed, but I will write them anyway: There is no "wild black panther" running around loose in the Manchester area, despite the highly imaginative news reports which say there is.

I am convinced there is some kind of an animal out there. Too many credible witnesses have reported sightings to brush them all off as people who have spent too much time in bars feeding their fantasies.

My best guess is that the creature, when and if caught or killed, will turn out to be a big black dog with a long tail, maybe an oversized Labrador retriever. My next-best guess is that it is indeed a big cat, perhaps an escaped exotic animal, somebody's pet that got away.

One thing I am absolutely sure of is that there are no wild black panthers in this part of Michigan or anywhere else outside of Central and South America.

The Ann Arbor News, in a burst of misinformation that must have set some kind of a record, managed to call the animal a lion, a leopard, a panther, a cougar, a wildcat and a puma in two paragraphs.

Just to set things straight, lions and leopards are native to Africa and Asia, panthers to Latin America, cougars to western north America, wildcats (bobcats) to the northern states (including Michigan) and Canada. There are also lynxes, a separate wild feline species found in Canada. Puma is another name for cougar, as are mountain lion, painter and catamount.

Whatever the name or the species, none of the animals is normally black. Black individuals do occasionally occur, especially among leopards and panthers. It's a biological phenomenon called melanism (black), which is opposed to albinism (white), and it has to do with the presence or absence of coloring pigment in the skin.

Around here, the most common example of melanism is the black squirrel, which is not a separate species but a color phase of the gray squirrel. Black and gray offspring are commonly born in the same litter of young, and they do not breed true. Female gray squirrels may produce black young, and vice versa.

For a whole lot of years black squirrels were protected in Michigan under the mistaken notion that they were a distinct species. Finally, a biologist climbed a bunch of trees, looked into a lot of dens, and discovered that mother squirrels of either color often produce a mixed bag—mostly gray but some black and very seldom a white one. (Albinos usually don't live long. Their high visibility marks them as early victims for predation.)

About 35 years ago there were

"authentic" sightings of a bobcat roaming around in the Grass Lake area. There seemed to be just enough truth in the reports that I arranged for a northern Michigan friend who owned a pack of hounds trained to hunt bobcats to bring his dogs down.

It was winter, and we quickly found a fresh track in the snow. The chase lasted about 100 yards. The hounds treed what turned out to be a scrawny, gone-wild domestic cat that weighed maybe 10 pounds. We probably should have shot it, but didn't. I suspect it eventually starved.

For many years there were occasional reports of a "sea monster" in Whitmore Lake, Washtenaw county's local version of the Loch Ness monster. Nobody ever managed to take a picture of it, much less catch it. It's possible that somebody had turned a sturgeon loose in the lake. More likely is that people saw a school of fish jumping at the surface, and let their imaginations run riot.

Way back during the 1950's there began to be reports of a cougar running around in the Sault Ste. Marie area of the eastern Upper Peninsula. It was remotely conceivable. Michigan once had a population of cougars, and there was a chance that a few had somehow managed to survive even though they were officially extinct in the state before 1850.

That "animal" is still being "seen." It would have to be more than 30 years old now, which would make it by far the longest-lived member of the big cat family in zoological history. (Ten years is a long life for any wild cat of any species, from lions on down.)

Finally, if there is going to be an authentic instance of any large wild animal found in these parts, my guess is that it will be a black bear. Bears have been known to wander more than 200 miles, for reasons that aren't understood but apparently have something to do with an instinct to find new territory. There are free-roaming bears in Michigan as far south as Clare.

However, if you see something that looks like a bear, I will bet off-hand that it's a big dog, a calf, a colt or some other domestic animal.

Varsity Nine Scrimmages Willow Run

Chelsea's varsity baseball team scrimmaged against Willow Run last Thursday in preparation for the district tournament at Dexter two days later.

"We tried to schedule a game but couldn't find any nearby school with an available open date," coach Wayne Welton said. "We had a date open because of an earlier rain-out, but nobody else did."

The number of official games that a high school team can play is limited by Michigan High School Athletic Association rules. A "scrimmage" isn't considered a game, as long as no score is kept.

"Willow Run accommodated us," Welton said. "We wanted a chance to work out against somebody else, and give each of our pitchers an inning or two of throwing, and we got it."

OPERATION IDENTIFICATION: Patrolman Dick Foster fingerprints a South Elementary school student as part of the village of Chelsea's recent "Operation Identification" fingerprinting program. As most people know, fingerprints are unique among each person and will never change, regardless of age or wear. Fingerprinting youngsters has become a "nationwide operation" said Foster. The fingerprint records could become vital to the location of children should they disappear. Approximately 30 students were fingerprinted last week with parental permission. Also shown is a finished fingerprint record, clearly showing all 10 fingerprints.

Washtenaw Reading Council Elects Officers

At a recent meeting of the Washtenaw Reading Council, (an affiliate of the Michigan Reading Association and the International Reading Association), Doris Green, retired Ann Arbor teacher, was awarded the "Celebrate Literacy Award for 1984." This award is presented jointly by the International Reading Association and the local reading council to identify and recognize local individuals for significant contributions to literacy. Mrs. Green is a former classroom teacher, reading teacher and reading consultant with the Ann Arbor schools. She is presently tutoring children in reading. Dr. Eastwood, retired chairman of the Language Arts Department of Ann Arbor, presented the award at the meeting held May 2 at Highpoint Center.

At the same meeting officers for the 1984-85 year were elected to head the local council: Dolores Kulsea, Ann Arbor Lawton teacher, president; Peggy Martin, Ann Arbor Chapter 1 teacher at Mack, president-elect; Judy Munro, Ann Arbor Thurston teacher, secretary; Sally Schlupe, Chelsea North Elementary teacher, treasurer; David Knisely, Chelsea Beach Middle school teacher, is retiring president. Installation of new officers will be Monday, June 4 at the Washtenaw Intermediate School District Offices (WISD).

Washtenaw Reading Council is composed of teachers, parents, para-professionals and those interested in promoting reading in the Washtenaw county area. Members are from Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Milan, Saline, Belleville, Stockbridge, Manchester, Whitmore Lake, Ypsilanti, Willow Run and Lincoln public schools, non-public schools in the county, as well as students and faculty from Eastern Michigan and the University of Michigan.

POSTAL EXAM WORKSHOP

(Clerk-Carrier) Starting Pay: $10.62/hour

Special announcement for all candidates planning to sign up for the Chelsea Area Postal Exams when they are soon announced for the 481 zip code areas. (Last offered in July 1981 — and since they won't be given again for at least 3 years, don't miss out!)

NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name onto the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam. To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at least 95%!

4-HOUR WORKSHOP

Score 95-100% or Your Tuition is Refunded!

It is possible to get a very high score with adequate preparation. From years of experience and discussions with our Advisory Board (consisting of former postmasters, training managers and examiners), we know that it takes exactly four hours to teach you everything you need to know to score 95% or better — which is what you'll need to get a job. Achievement Center workshops are conducted by instructional teams of two or more (depending upon the size of the workshop); not by one person alone as in other workshops. This enables us to reach out and give help where needed.

Benefits derived from this course extend far beyond the postal exam. The skills and attitudes will help in every area of future learning and test-taking. We have helped thousands of people successfully prepare for the Postal Exams. But don't take our word for it, take our guarantee! Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that it will help you achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score is less than 95% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund your tuition in full!

★ You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal exam review.
★ You may attend as many extra sessions of the workshop as you like (on a space available basis) without additional tuition charge
WORKSHOP TUITION — $35 (Includes guaranteed 4-hour Workshop, The Core Guide to Postal Exams, Sample Exam with Answers, Workshop Workbook, POSTAL EXAM ALERT WITH SIGN-UP DATES MAILED TO YOUR HOME, and Take-Home Practice Kit containing: Practice Exams with Answers, Flash Cards, and "Simulated Exam" on cassette tape.) Please bring two No. 2 pencils with you to the Workshop.
Seating is limited; pre-registration by phone is advised. Otherwise, you may register by arriving thirty minutes early. Tuition is payable at the door by cash, check, money order, MasterCard, VISA or American Express.

Card of Thanks 17

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all my friends and relatives for all the flowers, cards, gifts, visits and phone calls. Also for all the food that was brought in to my family during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. Everything was very much appreciated. Thank you. Peggy Salyer.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Emilia Crownover wish to extend our heartfelt thanks for acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind relatives, friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved mother and grandmother. Lloyd and Patricia Stoker and family. John and Lois Crownover and family.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Anna Sanderson would like to thank the many friends, relatives and neighbors for their support in our recent loss. We would like to send special thanks to the Rev. Dale Ward and the women of the church for the luncheon. Thanks too, to the Chelsea Community Hospital and to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cole for making our family so comfortable.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank everyone for their prayers, visits, cards, and flowers sent my way during my hospital stay and upon returning home. I know these acts of kindness helped me to a speedy recovery. Jeannette Schleede.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I wanted to invest in stock back in 1980. I went into a broker's office and told him I was not a real conservative person, yet I was not a wild speculator either. I told him I wanted to make my first investment in a stock that was reasonably steady, and yet would have a pretty good chance of doubling in a few years. He suggested that I buy shares in W. R. Grace & Co. He said it was a well managed and diversified company, and would do well for me. I paid $59 a share for the stock and bought 200 shares.

I have been disappointed because the price of the stock has come down below 40. The company has been good to me with dividends. Dividends have gone up every year, and are now 40 cents a year higher than when I bought. Do you see any prospect that this stock will return to the price that I paid for it?

A. It looks to me like your broker did a pretty good job suggesting a stock for you to fit the description you gave him. I think I might have suggested that with a $12,000 first time investment, you would have been better off in three different stocks, especially since you were making your purchase after a sharp rise in stock prices.

But I would suggest you read the excellent annual report that Grace puts out, and also read the quarterly information. Grace does a first class job of explaining the various businesses it is in, in those publications, and this should help you understand the company better and feel more comfortable with it.

Almost half of Grace's business is in chemicals, but their chemical business ranges from catalysts for petroleum refiners to fertilizers. A large part of the chemicals enjoy a steady and growing demand, but the fertilizer part of the business swings in broad cycles. It is generally felt that the fertilizer business is very profitable and can add substantially to Grace's earnings. Part of Grace's chemical business is affected by activity in oil drilling and refining, and that business has been slow. Grace also has a substantial operation in coal.

Its consumer businesses cover restaurants, retail stores of several varieties and home improvement stores. Generally, these various businesses have grown at a good rate and been profitable. In good years, Grace has earned 17-18% on invested capital. Since you bought the stock, the company has seen a sizeable recession in the energy and agricultural industries, yet has managed to stay profitable and increase its dividend. As the business recovery spreads to those parts of its business that were hurt the most, profits should resume their previous upward trend, and should give you the price movement you are looking for.

The company has started a new policy of selling an interest to the public of some of its consumer units. The first step was the sale of three million shares of its El Torito Restaurants. This is an interesting way of raising more capital and possibly getting a higher value placed on some of its assets, and of course, on its stock.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments, but will answer them only through this column. CHS Class Of '59 Plans Reunion

Chelsea High school's very first graduating class from the new building on Washington St., the class of 1959, will hold its 25th year reunion on July 14 at Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor.

Reunion committee member Pat Merkel and other committee members have sent out 100 invitations to the big event. So far they have received 44 definite responses, which came from as far away as Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Orleans, La. All teachers from the era have been invited as well.

According to committee worker Sandie Mayer, the first graduating class landed right on the same year as Chelsea's 125th anniversary celebration. "All the senior guys grew beards for the event, or tried to," Mayer said with a chuckle.

Only two classmates from the class 1959 have not been located for the big event. Mayer requested that anyone who knows the whereabouts of Neil Sanders or LeRoy Fisher please contact Pat Merkel or herself in Chelsea.

Members of the reunion committee include Pat Merkel, president, Earl Heller, vice-president, Sandie and George Mayer, Veretta Whitaker, Tim Frederick, Sue and Don Wood, Anita and Don Ferguson and Jerry Satterwaite.

Noah Webster spent thirty-six years writing his dictionary.

Methodist Home Seeks Volunteers

The Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home is inviting students to volunteer to assist residents in their summer program which begins Monday, June 18.

According to program director Bill Champion, student volunteers are a welcome sight for the home's residents. Students participate in many interesting programs with the older generation while offering them companionship. Students generally find the work fun, interesting and, "A lot of love is given and received," Champion noted.

Champion asks that prospective volunteers be old enough to enter seventh grade this fall. If you'd like to volunteer, or need additional information about this program, contact Bill Champion at 475-8633.

Two Suspects Arrested In Cavanaugh Burglary

Two young men, both on parole for previous burglaries, were arrested by sheriff's deputies last Saturday in connection with a break-in at a Cavanaugh Lake home.

Jeffrey L. Pernie, 20, of Clinton, and Steve A. Conard, 23, of Jackson, are scheduled to appear in district court on June 15. Judge Karl V. Fink set $10,000 cash bond for each.

According to the investigative report made by detective Paul Wade, the two men saw the two owners of the home working in the front yard, and decided to break in from the rear.

That involved walking through a swamp, wading around a fence projecting into the lake, and taking out a rear-window screen to gain entry to the house.

A shotgun and shells, a radio scanner, a pocket watch and a coin-filled piggy bank were taken, according to the report.

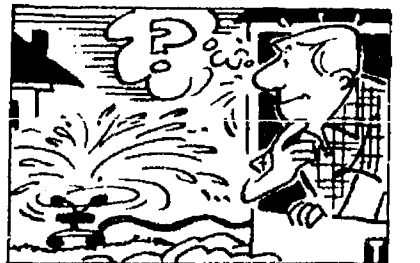

A neighbor witnessed the burglary and called the sheriff's department, and the two suspects were later arrested after they came out of the swamp. Both had been waist-deep in mud.

All the stolen items were recovered except the watch, which apparently was dropped in the swamp, Wade said.

A single slow drip can waste 15 or 20 gallons of water a day. Experts at the American Water Works Association suggest you check every faucet for leaks at least twice a year.

A single lawn sprinkler spraying only five gallons per minute uses 50 percent more in just one hour than a combination of ten toilet flushes, two five-minute showers, two dishwasher loads and a full load of clothes!

She was born Feb. 23, 1890, in Standstone, Jackson county, the daughter of Charles and Minnie (Perrine) Dearing, and was married to Herman DeKarske who preceded her in death.

She was also preceded in death by a daughter, Mary Gilbert, and a brother.

Surviving are a son, John D. Gilbert of North Lake; two daughters, Mrs. Catherine Paul of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Eleanor Reynolds of North Lake; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Graveside services were held on Tuesday, June 5, at North Lake Cemetery with the Rev. David Collins of North Lake United Methodist church officiating. Arrangements were made by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to the North Lake United Methodist church.

Winifred L. Doyle

619 W. Middle St.
Chelsea

Winifred Lee Doyle, 67, of 619 W. Middle St., Chelsea, died Sunday, June 3, at the Saline Evangelical Home after a long illness.

She was born Nov. 3, 1916, in Johnson, Ill., and was married to Frederick J. Doyle in Detroit on April 11, 1940. He preceded her in death on Dec. 21, 1983.

Mrs. Doyle moved to Chelsea in 1975 after having formerly lived in Kentucky, Plymouth and North Sharon Cemetery.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Joe (Margaret Jane) Smith of Chelsea and Mrs. Charles (Katherine Anne) Mida of Belleville; two sons, the Rev. Fr. Patrick J. Doyle of Kentucky and Timothy J. Doyle of Livonia; a brother, Everett Thornton; four sisters, Mrs. Ann McCarver, Mrs. Ethel Gray, Mrs. Mae Smith and Mrs. Jenny Pritchett; seven grandchildren and one great-granddaughter, and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by two brothers and a sister.

Mass of the Resurrection was held this morning at St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Frs. Philip Dupuis and Patrick Doyle officiating. Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Arrangements were made by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Arrangements were made by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Clarice W. Keezer

159 Clardale Ct.
Chelsea

Mrs. Clarice W. Keezer, 84, of 159 Clardale Ct., Chelsea, died Sunday, June 3, at the Geriatric Center of Stockbridge.

She was born Nov. 25, 1899, in Chelsea, the daughter of Will and Mary (Hudson) Wright, and was married to Dale E. Keezer, who survives.

She was a member of the First Congregational church of Chelsea.

Surviving besides her husband are five children, Doris Heller of Manchester, Nancy Merkel of Chelsea, Richard Keezer of Chelsea, Robert Keezer of Ann Arbor and James Keezer of Saline; 11 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by a son, Donald Clark, on Aug. 18, 1941, and a sister, Ethel Glenn.

Funeral service is to be held today, Wednesday, June 6, at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. Kenyon Edwards of the First Congregational church officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to the First Congregational church of Chelsea.

Arlene I. Weir

Grass Lake

Mrs. Arlene I. Weir, 67, died at Chelsea Community Hospital last Friday, June 1.

Mrs. Weir was a former member of AARP, National Association of Federal Employees, a lifetime member of the Alpha Iota Sorority, and a member of Our Savior Lutheran church of Chelsea.

Surviving are several cousins and one sister-in-law. She was preceded in death by her husband, Reuben, her parents, Frank and Marie George, and a brother, Arnold George.

Services were held Tuesday, June 5 at the Woodland Cemetery Chapel, Jackson, with the Rev. Franklin Giebel officiating.

Arrangements were made by Burden and Son Funeral Home, Jackson.

Friends who wish may make contributions to Our Savior Lutheran church, Chelsea, or a church of their choice.

A male emperor moth can detect and find a female of his species a mile away.

John D. Gilbert

7095 Glencoe
North Lake

John D. (Jack) Gilbert died on June 5 at his home.

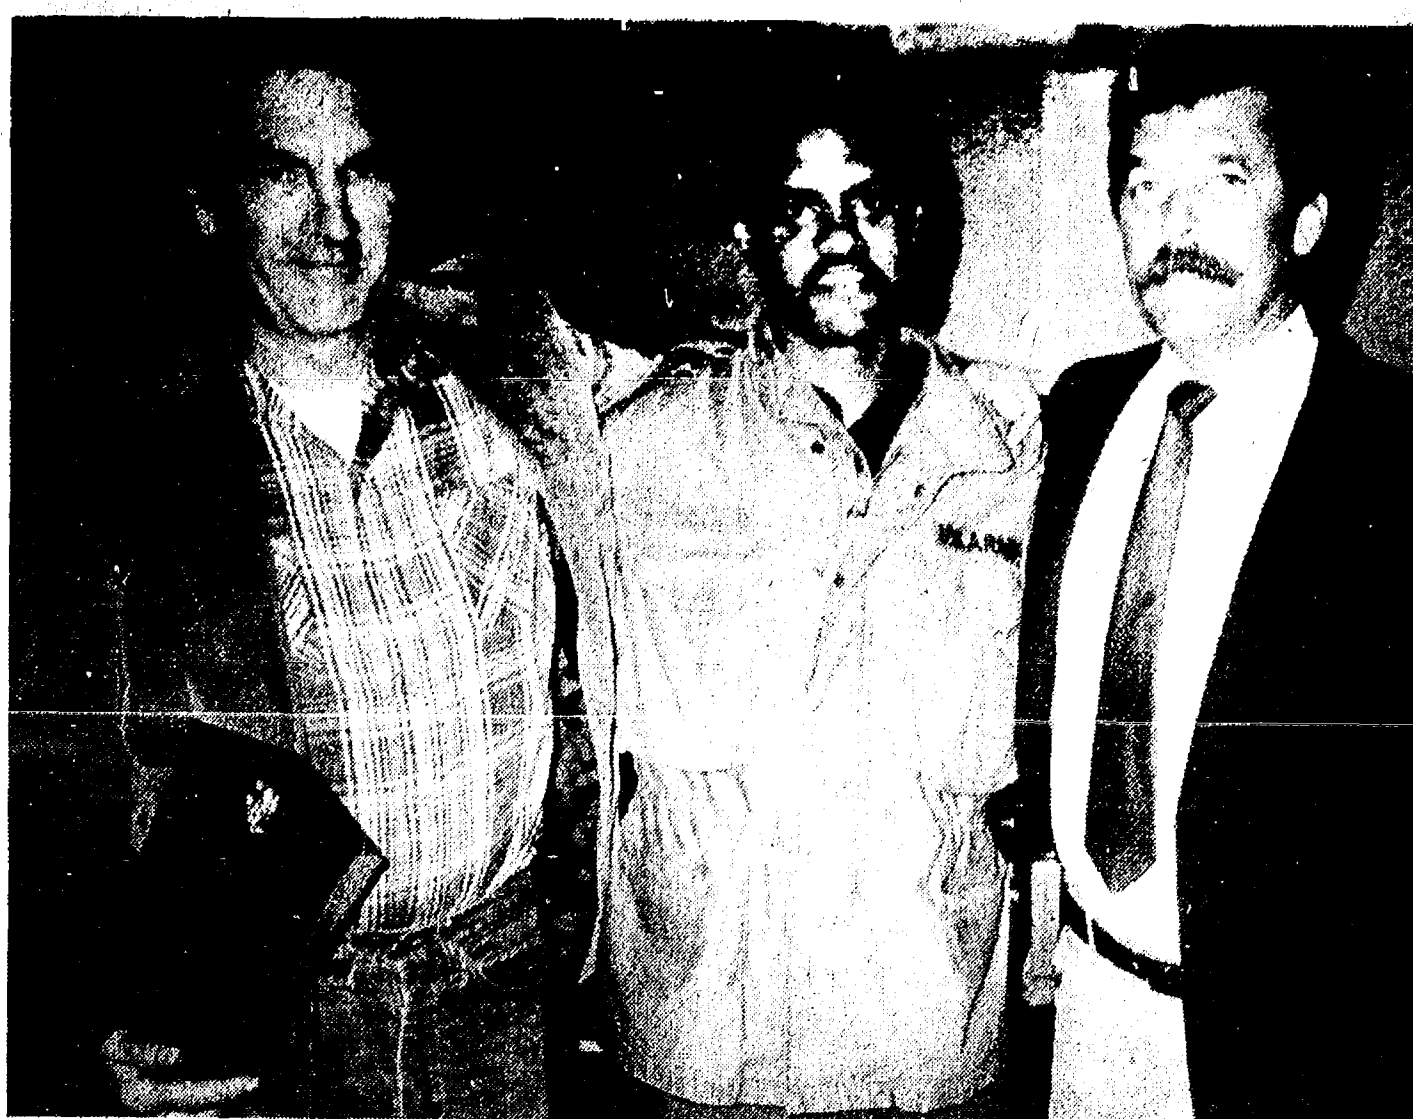

He was born in Detroit, the son of Alexander and Mary Dearing Gilbert DeKarske.

Jack was a floor finisher and contractor in the county, and founded Gilbert and Son Floors.

He was a member of the North Lake United Methodist church, the Antique Telephone Collectors Association, and was sexton of the North Lake Cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Silvia J., four children, Judith Preville, Livonia, Wendy Gronbeck, Iowa City, Ia., Patricia Jacobs, Lansing, John Gilbert, Dexter township, two sisters, Catherine Paul, Ann Arbor, Eleanor Reynolds, North Lake, and six grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a sister, Mary Gilbert.

Services will be announced by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

WALTER R. ZEEB (left) of 7010 Lingane Rd., a member of the Cassidy Lake Liaison Council, received a special award of appreciation last week for his service on the council and to the technical school. At right is John Andrews, deputy superintendent of the school. The man in the middle is deliberately unidentified.

Dep. Supervisor Named For Dexter Township

At the Dexter township board meeting of May 15, Raymond Dhue was appointed as the deputy supervisor of Dexter township by Arlene B. Howe, supervisor.

The provision for this appointment was made when the revised statute became effective which provided that the supervisor could appoint a deputy just as the clerk and treasurer had been required to appoint a deputy. None of these appointments are subject to the approval of the board. In the revision of the statute the vote on township matters in case of absence of the officer was removed from the deputy clerk and the deputy treasurer and was not given to the deputy supervisor.

According to Howe, "The appointment of the deputy supervisor was announced at the board meeting because I feel the board and the township residents should know who the deputies are."

Howe said, "It is important to the residents of Dexter township that a deputy be appointed for all offices where deputies are permitted. In a township of this size it is not possible or necessary to have full-time officers. Thus officers are either employed elsewhere, perhaps are homemakers, or are retired. The retiree may be more readily available than the person employed full-time elsewhere, but even then it is not possible or feasible for that officer to be readily available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, or is it possible to carry the work load at peak times of activity. This has long been recognized in the position of the treasurer and the clerk and was recognized for the supervisor by the enactment of Public Act 230, effective late 1982."

"Mr. Dhue was the first person who was eminently qualified who agreed to accept this position, and who was available. I only wished I had had such a person in this position for the past years. Mr. Dhue's decision to run for election for supervisor was independent of his appointment as deputy supervisor, but actually I could not be more pleased with his intentions.

"I am sure that whoever is elected as supervisor in November will want to also appoint a deputy supervisor and I as a citizen and resident of Dexter township will certainly urge the new supervisor to appoint a deputy as soon as possible."

A son, Justin David, May 22 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Kim and David Bulson of Chelsea. Maternal grandparents are Carol and Dale Fischer of Ann Arbor. Paternal grandparents are Charles Bulson of Chelsea and the late Inez Bulson. Other family members include a brother, Andrew, two and one-half years old.

To Carole and Gary Zenz of Chelsea, on May 10 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, a son, Paul Clifford. Maternal grandparents are Larry and Virginia Dietle of Chelsea. Paternal grandmother is Bettie Zenz, also of Chelsea.

Diane Moller Named to Albion Dean's List

Diane E. Moller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Moller, 14148 Hay Rake Hollow, Chelsea, was one of 180 students recently named to the dean's list at Albion College.

Moller maintained a 3.5 grade point average and carried a full course schedule to earn a spot on the list.
