Sylvan Twp. Supervisor Contest Set

Donald Schoenberg of 20330 Jerusalem Rd. has challenged incumbent George Sweeny of 720 N. Main St. for the position of Sylvan township supervisor.

Both are Republicans, and they will square off in the Aug. 17 primary.

Otherwise, all Republican incumbents are unopposed in the primary. They include clerk Mary Harris, treasurer Fred Pearsall, and trustees James Carruthers and Reuben Lesser.

Morrell Wins Top Spot in Dana Unit Elections

Elections held on June 8 at the Union Hall, Chelsea, for the Dana Unit of the UAW Amalgamated Local No. 437 had a few surprising results.

Earl Willis, Jr., chairman of the Dana Unit for the past three years, was upset by Harvey Morrell, another former chairman, for the chairman's post, by a wide margin of 109-27.

Earliest Push beat his two opponents, Charles Borst and Ray Turner to take the vice-chairman position. The vote tally here was Push, 58; Borst, 54; and Turner, 23.

Three bargaining committee members were also chosen at the June 8 elections. Jeral Whitaker, Dennis R. Carpenter and H. Carter were selected out of an eight-man ballot to head the committee.

Carpenter took in 76 votes, H. Craft 69, and Whitaker 60, respectively. Other contenders for the committee were Ted Fortner, Junior Williams, Hershell Poe, Barry W. Meyer and Frank Clowes.

D. MacDonald ran unopposed and was elected to the recording secretary post by a vote of 121, while Wes Stinehelfer also ran unopposed for the guide position. He won by a vote of 113.

Calvin Poe beat Dan Wilson by a vote of 86-49 to take the first shift housing and grinding steward position.

First shift gear and shaft steward post ran unopposed by Duane "Buck" Gullett. He won by a vote count of 116.

Tom Parsons took the first shift skilled trades steward position from opponent Paul Sawyer, 80-54.

Jim (Possum) Salyer won the second shift housing and grinding steward position from Albert Cole by a 10-vote margin. The tally was 71-61.

Ron Lewis ran against Larry Artz and Ray Berry for the second shift gear and shaft steward position and won by a vote of 65, to 36 (Artz) and 34 (Berry).

The final position up for grabs in the recent election was the second shift skilled trades steward. A. R. Kruse ran unopposed on the ballot and was elected to the post by 105 votes.

PICTURE WORTH A THOUSAND WORDS: Farmers Supply owner Anton Nielsen gave us a hearty smile during his recent interview with The Standard about his incredibly full life. Nielsen will turn 80 years old on June 25, and will be married to his wife Dorothy for 56 years on June 21. This feisty man still works a full day at Farmers Supply, although he admits to taking a longer lunch hour than he used to. He says he'll think about retirement when he's 90... maybe.

Nearing 80, Married 56 Years, Anton Nielsen Remains Active in Village

By Debra McIntyre

If you've ever been to Farmers Supply store on Railroad St. in Chelsea, you undoubtedly know Anton Nielsen. If you haven't ever been to Farmers Supply, you should make a point to visit it soon, because owner Anton Nielsen is a man every person should have the opportunity to meet.

When Mrs. Leonard, co-owner of The Standard, asked me to go interview Anton Nielsen she said one thing to me, "Do a good job." I was a little worried about doing that until I met Mr. Nielsen. From about minute one of our meeting I knew my job would be easy because I found myself drawn to this very interesting, very likeable man.

Anton Nielsen was born in a small town about the size of Grass Lake in Denmark on June 25, 1904, making this incredibly active man 80 years old next week. Nielsen was part of a family of four, two brothers and two sisters, and spent half of his time in Denmark on a farm, and half in a hotel in town because his father changed occupations from farmer to hotel owner in mid-life.

Nielsen graduated from business school in Denmark and decided to come to the United States when he was 18.

He came to Canada first, Halifax to be exact. Nielsen said he arrived in the city by boat in mid-April, and it was still very cold and wintery at the time. He immediately boarded a milk train bound for Toronto. It was so-called because it made frequent stops in "the middle of nowhere," Anton said, "to pick up farmers' milk to sell in town."

The trip to Toronto took three long days. Familiar sights along the way were occasional farmers on sleighs, making their way back home after depositing their milk supply near the tracks.

Anton worked on a farm near Toronto for two years. He said it was a general farm, and had just about everything his family's farm in Denmark had: cows, pigs, horses, but no sheep. The only crop that wasn't grown in Toronto that was in Denmark was corn, and that, said Nielsen, was because the climate was too cold in Toronto. "They grew a lot of potatoes though," he commented, "fed a lot of them to the pigs."

After two years as a Canadian, Nielsen immigrated just over the border to Detroit. Here he worked first in an automobile factory and then a paint factory. It was in Detroit that he first met his future wife, Dorothy Leonard, a city native.

"I met her at the Palais Dance Hall near Belle Isle," Anton recalled. The future Mrs. Nielsen usually went to another dance hall, but came to the Palais with a girlfriend who had a date with a new young man who coincidentally lived in the same boarding house as Anton. "I had a few dances with her and..." he said, his clipped accent lowering while he rubbed his chin and stared off into the distance as if remembering the night once again.

After about a two-year courtship the Niensens were married. The same girlfriend who convinced Dorothy to go to the Palais the night Anton and Dorothy met was maid of honor at the small wedding ceremony. "We didn't have a big church wedding or anything," Nielsen said. Incidentally, things between Dorothy's girlfriend and the man she brought to the Palais that night didn't work out.

When I asked Anton the secret to being happily married for 56 years, he asked me if I were married. When I said no, but I was engaged, he said to me in an authoritative voice, "Well, just make sure you set the rules before you get hooked up." When I asked for clarification, he said, "When we got married we set rules. Any small decisions, like anything about running the

Now's the Time To Go Fishing

Now is the time to drop everything and go fishing, the Department of Natural Resources' Jackson district office advises.

Bluegills and sunfish are bedding, and largemouth bass won't be far behind. The spawning seasons are late this year because of the cold and wet spring, but the recent hot-weather spell has finally triggered action.

Reports of good fishing success are prevalent throughout the area.

Aeillo Acquitted Of Embezzling Parking Receipts

Former Chelsea police chief Robert Aeillo was acquitted Monday night on a charge of embezzling more than $50 from the village parking fund.

A jury of 10 men and two women in Circuit Judge Patrick J. Conlin's Ann Arbor court deliberated 3½ hours before delivering the not guilty verdict.

"I have been vindicated," Aeillo told The Standard on the morning after the judgment. "I have said from the beginning that I am not a thief. I would never steal anything from anybody."

Uncertain at this point is Aeillo's status as police chief and a village employee. He was ordered suspended and relieved of all duties as a police officer in a letter dated March 14, 1984, and signed by former village president Jack Merkel. Earlier, he had been on paid leave of absence beginning Jan. 6 when the investigation into shortages in the parking fund began.

The village council was scheduled to meet last night, but president Jerry Satterthwaite indicated no action on Aeillo's situation, including the possibility of his re-instatement as police chief, would be taken hastily.

"This is a sticky situation," Satterthwaite said, "and I'm sure we will want to seek legal advice before we do anything. I don't expect a decision to be made tonight. In fact, I'm not sure we will have a quorum present for the meeting."

Aeillo said he planned to attend last night's meeting "unless my attorney advises me not to. I want to keep track of what happens from here on."

"It's been a long five months, and I'm going to take things one day at a time for awhile. I want to rest and relax for a few days now that the ordeal is finally over, and then decide what to do."

Asked if he wanted his police chief job back, Aeillo said that would depend, in large part, on whether the village wants him back. "I have had some other offers," he said. "I won't have any trouble getting a job, now that this is over and I've been cleared of any wrong-doing."

"I have had a lot of support from people in the community, and I can't thank them enough. Their faith has upheld me."

Aeillo, 47, served as Chelsea police chief from 1979 until his March 18 suspension. He had previously worked 12 years in the Washtenaw sheriff's department, rising to the rank of sergeant.

More than 20 hours of testimony from prosecution and defense witnesses during the trial confirmed that there indeed has been parking fine money "lost" and unaccounted for. The key question was who was responsible.

Jeffrey Stommen, an accountant for the firm of Iccerman, Johnson & Hoffman, which was hired to make a special audit of village 1983 parking tickets and fines, testified there was $464 missing and 66 tickets that he could not account for.

He and other witnesses described a sloppy system of money-handling under which cash and checks were kept in unsecured drawers and boxes and were not always accounted for at the time of receipt.

"It was a system that I inherited when I became police chief," Aeillo said. "I tried to make it work, but there were continual shortages. I did my best to make the books balance, but I'm not an accountant. There definitely should be a new, better system, whoever is the police chief."

He suggested that fines should be processed "across the hall" in the village office that takes care of electric and water billing and receipts. "The police department shouldn't be handling money," Aeillo said. "Its assignment should be law enforcement, and that's all."

Trial testimony brought out that just about everybody in the police department—officers, dispatchers, reserves, clerks—had access to the fine receipts, which were not kept under close security.

"There is no way of telling how much money was received by various persons in the department or what might have happened to it," Stommen acknowledged under cross-examination.

Testimony also brought out that there was a poor working relationship between Aeillo and Judy Tobias, police department clerk and day-time dispatcher.

Last December Tobias told Merkel that she suspected a shortage in the parking fine account. Merkel asked her for documentation, which she provided.

That led Merkel, in collaboration with the village council, to seek an investigation which was conducted by the state police at the suggestion of the county prosecutor's office. The embezzlement charge against Aeillo came out of that investigation.

Despite having been accused by one of his employees, Aeillo insisted, "I have no animosity toward anyone and could work with anybody who is willing to work with me."

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Conducted at Methodist Home

The United Methodist Retirement Home in Chelsea was filled with many honored guests at ground-breaking ceremonies for its new nursing facility on Tuesday, June 12.

Numerous honored guests, trustees and other invited guests broke ground on the new project, which is part of a $7.6 million expansion program being undertaken on the home.

The Rev. Dr. Kenneth R. Callis, board of trustees president of the United Methodist Retirement Homes, Inc. was the first person to put a shovel into dirt at the ceremonies. He was then followed by the Rev. Marvin McCallum, first vice-president of the United Methodist Retirement Homes, Inc.

Ralph Klump, trustee of the division of health and welfare ministries, represented the section of the Methodist church that plans health and welfare ministries.

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite represented the entire village of Chelsea at the ceremonies, and Howard Holmes, Chelsea Milling Co. president, represented all present and future donors who helped make the project possible.

Mrs. Stanley Kresge, honorary chairperson for the "Renewing Old Chelsea" campaign also attended the event, as did Dr. Dwight Havens, general chairman of the above campaign.

Also included in the ceremonies was the Rev. Dr. David Truran, First United Methodist church, Chelsea, and the Rev. Edwin Weiss, former administrator of recent ground-breaking ceremonies for the complex's newest addition, a 110-bed nursing-care facility. The project will hopefully correct the severe shortage of nursing-care beds the Methodist Home presently has.

Design Details Delay Start of New Plant For Chelsea Milling

Start of construction on the new Chelsea Milling Co. mixing plant has been postponed at least until fall and most likely until next spring, president Howard Holmes said.

"The delay is embarrassing in the sense that we meant it at the time when we announced that work would begin last spring, and people keep asking why nothing is happening."

"We're designing a plant with some new concepts, and have run into delays on some of the details. We're going to build it right, and we want to be sure all the potential problems are solved before we start. We'll be working and living with it for a long time."

"There have been rumors floating around that we have put off the project because our business has dropped off. I assure you, nothing of the sort has happened. Our business is good, and is getting better. We badly need this new plant, and I am awfully anxious to get going on it."

Holmes said he still has some hope for a September start, but added that the architects prefer to wait until spring and probably are going to have the last word.

"It will be a poured concrete building, and there are difficulties with that kind of construction during the winter months. It's better to pour concrete during warm weather."

The new plant will be built on the former Chelsea Lumber Co. site which fronts on N. Main St. east of the existing Chelsea Milling complex. The site has been cleared except for the foundations of some of the old lumber firm buildings.

The facility will feature a "gravity flow" system for the preparation of the Jiffy Mixes that Chelsea Milling markets nationally. Raw ingredients will be elevated to various levels in the building and then mixed as they come down. Packaging and labeling will be done on the bottom level.

Thursday, June 26, 1980—
Chelsea High school senior Nanette Push was named to the Associated Press All-State Class B softball team last week. A remarkably strong fireballer whose development as a pitcher closely parallels the rise of Chelsea softball, Push ended the season with a 16-2 record, striking out 1.22 per inning and recording a 0.75 ERA.

The Timberland Game Reserve, located on North Territorial Rd., just 15 miles from downtown Chelsea, officially opened. After 15 years of building up herds of exotic foreign and domestic animals on what used to be a garbage dump, owner "Big Louie" Ruggirello decided to open his treasure to the public. The preserve is the home for such wild animals as bison, wild black bears, and several varieties of deer.

Thursday, June 25, 1970—
A tragic plane crash at Youngs Field on Jackson Rd., not far from Dexter took the lives of two men Tuesday evening, shortly after 7 p.m. Herman Harold Rowe, Jr., 30, of Ann Arbor and Bruce Warren Barnett, 46, of Wayne, were co-owners of the plane which was apparently based at Young Field. Witnesses estimated the plane to be about 200 feet above a runway at the airfield, just prior to the plane's sudden plunge groundward.

Chelsea High school's class of 1920 met for their 50th reunion Saturday, June 20, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lucht, Four Mile Lake. The former classmates met together in the afternoon to reminisce, then all 16 class members and their spouses dined at Schumm's. Reunited former students hailed from Rochester, Detroit, Jackson, Eaton Rapids, Grand Ledge and of course, Chelsea.

First Annual Drunk Driving Audit Released
Michigan's first drunk driving audit, authorized under the 1982 drunk driving statutes showed a total of 561 persons killed in 509 alcohol-related accidents during the 1983 reporting period.

The audit, compiled and released recently by the State Police, covered the March 30 - Dec. 31 period.

The total number of fatal accidents in the period, 949, involved the deaths of 1,041 people, and more than half those killed died in alcohol-related accidents.

On a county basis, the number of alcohol-related deaths were 16 for 10,000 people.

According to the audit, out of 72,155 personal injury accidents in the state, with 107,930 persons injured during that time, 13,875 accidents involved the use of alcohol, with 21,900 people injured. For the 83 counties, the total alcohol-related accidents averaged 15 for every 10,000 people.

The audit also showed that 6,407 persons had their driver's license suspended for refusing to take alcohol blood level tests, 51,165 persons were arrested under the law and 6,914 persons were convicted to operating while under the influence of liquor and 10,533 were convicted of driving while impaired.

Of those convicted of operating under the influence, 1,921 were sentenced to jail, 3,704 had their licenses revoked or suspended, while 3,280 were given restricted licenses.

Of those convicted of driving while impaired, 3,467 had suspended or revoked licenses.

In a related matter, a state house committee considered a measure that would outlaw sobriety traffic checklanes and agreed to hold off consideration of HB 5353 until autumn, under an agreement that the proposed checklane program will be presented to the panel for review and that checklanes will not be established by the state police before then.

Judiciary Committee chairman Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) said the committee will not act on the bill until after having a chance to review a proposed checklanes program.

Several committee members, while hesitant about checklanes, said they might support a test program with checklanes.

Use of checklanes, which are designed to cut down on the incidence of drunk driving by stopping cars and observing the driver for signs of intoxication, was recommended by the state's Task Force on Drunk Driving.

State Police Director Gerald Hough has said the state police have the authority to implement checklanes, but would not until conferring with Governor James Blanchard.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Ed Doolittle is bad to read everything. If some of the stuff he brings to sessions at the country store can be took as a guide, Ed goes in for quantity and hang the quality. But usual, by the time he has gone through his week's supply of clippings the fellers has found plenty of grist for their mill.

Saturday night, for instant, Ed opened with comment on a letter to the editor he had saw somewhere. It was from a college girl, Ed said, and she wanted to know why she felt scared "with 10,000 nuclear weapons perfecting me."

She went on to lambast the editor for not coming down foursquare agin the arms buildup. According to the girl, the Russians have missiles aimed at some American towns with as few as 10,000 people, and she claimed that news is about as local as you can get.

Actual, Ed said, the sad scary truth is that America and Russia multiplying the times they can blow up the world ain't news, it's olds, no matter how local. The letter writer said papers in small towns ought to view this with alarm, and this is a point well took, Ed went on, but it don't take any of the "yes, but's" in account. Just recent Ed had saw a reprint from a paper in London, England, that was happy with America's arms buildup, allowing that military stranth "makes the remote possibility of nuclear war slitley more remote."

Zeke Grubb said all that was high level stuff to a one-horse editorial staff that has trouble coming to hard and fast opinions on such angle-vs.-parel parking fer two blocks of downtown. Zeke recalled a pro and con piece onct on new street lights that put out a sickly, yellorish glow but cost a heap less to run, and he said he never could figger which side the editor come down on. Zeke wanted to know how we can expect one feller that's got 10 other jobs waiting on him to sort out the "yes, but's" of defense and offense that was puzzling folks long before Samson turned a peaceful jawbone into a weapon of mass destruction.

Actual, declared Clem Webster, the college girl is better pertected than she thinks. He said he had saw where the U. S. has got 26,000 nuclear weapons, 5,800 just in Europe. You got to be a little nervous, Clem said, thinking what an honest mistake could do with somepun like that, not to mention the suicidal terrorists all over the world. Clem said he had thought this situation up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind that we keep stirring up little wars to take our mind off the big war. That's why we offer to pertect the Arabs oil tankers, and mine harbors in Nickerago, Clem declared, it's so we can do somepun we can control the size of.

It's nice little wars like Grenada, Clem went on, that boosts morale of our fighting men. This controled operation let the Army hand out 8,612 medals fer bravery in a battle on a little island where we didn't have but 7,000 troops. After a big war there, just wouldn't be medals fer everybody, or anybody fer the medals.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Prairie Belles Win Volleyball Match
Prairie Belles met with the Salmagundy Girls for a volleyball rematch on Friday, June 8. The Prairie Belles felt confident about winning again, but the Salmagundy Girls decided it was about time they won something, so they put their heart and soul into the game. The match was close all the way through with the Prairie Belles finally winning four games to three. The Prairie Belles presented the Salmagundy Girls with a beautiful Golden Glo Trophy to acknowledge the fun they had that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Briston

Bristons Will Celebrate 50 Years of Marriage June 23

Yet another Chelsea couple is celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this month. William and Vera (White) Briston of Jackson St. will celebrate their golden anniversary on June 23.

Vera was living in her native village of Chelsea (she has lived here for a total of 64 years) when she met Bill, who was from Dexter. The couple were married, and lived in Dexter for a time before moving to Chelsea for good.

According to Vera, she finds it hard to believe that she and Bill will have been married 50 years. "Time has gone so fast," she said, a sure signal that their marriage is, and will continue to be, a solid and happy one.

Mr. Briston is a retired University of Michigan chemist, while

Mrs. Briston is a retiree of King Seeley, or the Chrysler Corp. In-trol Division. She now volunteers at the Chelsea Community Hospital.

The couple has one son, David, of Hartland, and one granddaughter, Heather.

The Bristons will be honored at an open house on Sunday, June 24 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Rod and Gun Club. All friends are invited to attend the event.

VFW Auxiliary Delegates Named For Convention

Representing the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the 57th annual convention in Flint, June 21-24, will be Mrs. Rosemary Mazer. She was elected national chaplain at the New Orleans, La. convention in August 1984. Mrs. Mazer is expected to be elected national president to the Auxiliary in 1986.

Presiding over the Department of Michigan Ladies Auxiliary Convention in Flint will be Mrs. Ruth Anderson, president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Michigan.

Delegates and alternates from some 300 auxiliaries across Michigan will attend as representatives of the 32,000 plus members of Michigan.

Meetings, memorial services with the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a banquet and hospital luncheon, along with a parade to be held on Saturday will be some of the highlights of the convention.

Awards will be presented to auxiliaries, and chairmen for outstanding work during the past year.

Local representatives of the Chelsea Auxiliary No. 4076 attending the Department of Michigan Convention will be Lucy Platt, Virginia Boyer, Eulahlee Packard and Mary Erskine.

Five Receive Masters Degrees from EMU

Five area residents recently received their advanced degrees at Eastern Michigan University's spring commencement ceremonies.

Mary V. Colle, 1828 N. Lima Center Rd., and Mary A. Cornils, 2220 Scio Rd., both received their master of arts degrees at the April 28 ceremonies.

Ronald J. Adams, of 208 McGaugh Ct., Gregory received his master of arts degree as well.

Two Pinckney area residents, Claudia A. Tomlin, 11567 Pleasant View Dr., and Mary C. Wisniewski, 3420 Cordley Lake Rd. received their advanced degrees from EMU. Tomlin obtained her master of arts degree, while Wisniewski received her master of science diploma.

A total of 240 graduate students received their master's or specialist's degrees at the award ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Loveland

Harley Lovelands Will Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Loveland, 148 N. Union St., Grass Lake, will be honored Saturday, June 30, with an Open House from 2 until 5 p.m. at St. John's United Church of Christ, 270 Bohne, Rd., Francisco, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

A cordial invitation is extended to relatives and friends.

The event is being planned by their children, Gale and Marilyn Loveland of Grass Lake and Janette and Harold Spink of Horton.

They also have eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Loveland, the former Laurene Walz, were married June 30, 1934 at the farm home of her parents at 13021 Kalmbach Rd., Grass Lake. After living in Eaton Rapids for five years they returned to this address in 1939 because of the ill health of her father (J. Fred Walz,) and remained there until 1981 when they moved to their current address.

They are active members of St. John's United Church of Christ of Francisco, Grass Lake Chapter No. 159 OES of which she is past matron and he a past patron. Mr.

Loveland is also an active member of Grass Lake Excelsior Lodge No. 118 of which he is past master and honored as Mason of the Year for 1983, and member of Chelsea Olive Chapter No. 140 RAM.

VFW Auxiliary Names Delegates to National Convention

Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 4076 met June 11 at 7:30 p.m., 11 members attending. Draping of the charter took place in memory of past national president Doris Holm who died May 3.

Election of delegates and alternate delegates to the national VFW convention which will be held in Chicago in August took place. Delegates are Eulahlee Packard and Lucy Platt; alternate delegates are Norma Seyfried and Gertrude O'Dell.

Twenty-five dollars was allowed for the cancer booth fund at the department convention in Flint which will be held June 21-24. This fund is for cancer aid and research. The following auxiliary members plan to attend the convention sessions: Lucy Platt, Eulahlee Packard, Virginia Boyer and Mary Erskine. Michigan day at the National home will be Sunday, July 8 and a caravan of past and auxiliary members and their families are planning to attend.

Plans for the sesquicentennial celebration were finalized and funds were allowed to purchase a welcome banner. Reports of the Buddy Poppy sales and the weekly VA Hospital volunteers service were given by Lucy Platt and Mary Erskine.

Next meeting will be held on July 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall at which time, reports of the department convention will be given by the delegates attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Byford J. Speer

Byford Speers Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Byford Jason Speer of 128 Orchard St. in Chelsea were honored for 50 years of marriage at an open house hosted by their children June 16 at the Chelsea Christian Fellowship church.

The Speers were married in 1934 in Ann Arbor and have lived in Chelsea all of their married life.

Lois Speer says the secret to being happily married for 50 years and raising eight children is, "learning that we all make mistakes, but we can sit down and talk them out. One thing we didn't do is go to bed angry." Mrs. Speer also said that many young married couples feel they can't cope and work things out, but she feels they can if they are willing to talk things out.

Mr. Speer is a retiree from Chrysler Corp., while Mrs. Speer is retired from nursing at Chelsea Community Hospital. She is employed on a part-time basis at the Chelsea Methodist Home. Lois is also a hospice volunteer, a member of the VFW Auxiliary, and the Faith, Hope and Charity Circle.

Byford's hobbies include home repairs, yard work and small repairs.

Eight children comprise the Speer family. They are, Barbara,

Gary and Bill, all of Chelsea, Dorothy, Huntsville, Ala., Jim, Battle Creek, Judy, Rohnert Park, Calif., and Dianne and Jack of Murray, Ky.

The couple also has 10 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

SMITH-BORREGARD: Mrs. Betty M. Kimberly of Ann Arbor has announced the impending marriage of her daughter, Darlene Kay Kimberly-Smith of 516 Lane St., Chelsea, to Kim Ross Borregard of Farmington Hills. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross James Borregard of Farmington Hills, and is a chemical engineer at Multiple Dynamics Corporation in Southfield. Ms. Smith is a counselor at St. Joseph's Hall in Chelsea. A July 28 wedding is planned.

Patriotic Citizens Awards Presented For Flag Display
Utilizing June 14, Flag Day, to complete a chairman's project on Americanism, the VFW Auxiliary president Mary Erskine, and Americanism chairman Eulabee Packard hand-delivered 10 Patriotic Citizens Award Citations to 10 business places.

Those recognized, fly their flag daily. Receiving the awards were McDonald's, Faist-Morrow Buick-Olds-Chevrolet, Great Lakes Federal, Honegger's Mill, Methodist Home, Chelsea Greenhouse, Cole-Burghardt Funeral Home, Palmer Ford Triangle, Citizens Trust Bank, and Village of Chelsea.

The Auxiliary will be presenting more citations around Labor Day to some they did not give on this date.

Mrs. Packard would like to hear if you have a neighbor or friend in the Chelsea area who flies their flag daily. Every day is Flag Day, even though it was set aside by Congress way back in June of 1777 to pay tribute to our banner.

In 1970, Hawaii became the first state to allow its state and local governments to strike, permissible only if efforts to reach an agreement failed and public health was not endangered.

INTERFAITH DAY: The entire community of Chelsea is invited to a July 1 celebration of "Religious Heritage" at the Chelsea High school football field. A representative from each of the approximately 20 congregations in our area will be present on the field, and will be identified by banners, flags, and signs representing their church. Collages will also be shown, depicting each church's endeavors. The celebration is being staged in conjunction with Chelsea's Sesquicentennial celebration, so we can see the role our churches have played in our community through the years. Shown in this picture is Richard Cesar, deacon of St. Mary's Catholic church, and the Rev. Irwin Koch of St. Paul United Church of Christ as they display a recent photo of St. Paul's United Church of Christ church which will be added to the church's collage.

Interfaith Day Features Our Religious Heritage

On Sunday, July 1, Chelsea is invited to a celebration of "Religious Heritage," beginning at 1 p.m. at the Senior High school football field.

The program will begin with comments on Chelsea's religious history by John Keusch. A representative group from each of the approximately 20 congregations will be present in the center of the field and will be identified by banners, flags, and signs representing their church. A short history will be told about each.

A religious heritage collage is also being created. Each congregation has been asked to create a collage, 21" by 24", depicting their church's history.

The sections will be joined with others and mounted permanently, for later display. The congregations participating will keep the collage for a period of time during 1984 as a reminder of our sesquicentennial celebration and the role our churches have played in the community.

Many of our churches are planning special worship services for their own congregations on Sunday morning, July 1.

All of Sunday, July 1 activities will be held outside on the football field, weather permitting or in the high school gym in case of rain.

For more information on the day's activities, call John or Gloria Mitchell at 475-1444.

Ordination Service Set For St. John's Pastor

On Sunday, June 17, Phyllis J. Pawson was ordained to the Christian Gospel ministry of the United Church of Christ. The ordination took place at West Adrian United Church of Christ, 4545 Wolf Creek Highway, Adrian, where Mrs. Pawson is a member.

Mrs. Pawson is a graduate of Onsted Community Schools. She began her studies at Bernard Community College, Melbourne Fla. She has also attended Jackson Community College, Jackson, and Siena Heights College in Adrian and has recently graduated from Chicago Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Pawson has been serving as pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ, Roger Corners, since February 1983.

The ordination celebration service began at 3 p.m. Mrs. David Chartrand and Clinton Fisk, members of St. John's, took part in the service along with several area ministers, family members and friends of Pastor Pawson. A reception followed.

Gourley Re-Elected By Music Group

William W. Gourley, Chelsea High school band director, has been re-elected treasurer of the Michigan High School Band and Orchestra Association.

K-C Auxiliary Makes Plans For Sesqui Week

K. of C. Auxiliary meeting on Thursday, June 14 opened up with the 8 p.m. drawing. It would have been won by Liz Hollo, but she arrived too late.

Rosie announced there will be a need for workers at the hall during the week of the Sesquicentennial as the Knights will be selling food and beverages. It was also noted that Heydauff's will be donating video equipment and tapes so children may watch movies while their parents are enjoying themselves during that week.

The rummage sale was reported to be very successful. Vice-president Lorraine Harrat will now be acting president until new elections are held.

Theresa Doll will be chairing the July 4 ice cream social with 25 percent of the profit made to be donated to the American Legion to help pay for the fireworks. Please contact Theresa to donate your baked goods and time.

Please try to attend the July meeting as we will be voting on purchasing fans for the new parish hall.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

Ever since I came to work here in September of 1982, I've been hearing promises of new developments to come on Chelsea's business and residential construction scene. It was great to see something finally happen for sure as ground was broken last Tuesday afternoon for the 110-bed addition to the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home.

It was a nice ceremony, maybe the best of its kind that I have ever attended—short, sweet, simple and moving. Even though I belong to another church, I found myself singing and praying along with the rest of the participants, and applauding each person who came up and turned over a shovel of dirt.

I had no reason to be there, really, except that I wanted to be. Photographer Randy Gladstone took the pictures, and I had a copy of the program from which to write the story which appears elsewhere in the paper.

It takes courage to go ahead with a construction project when you have in hand less than half the money you need to complete it. That is exactly what the United Methodists did.

The advanced gifts campaign passed the $3 million mark on the day of breaking ground for a $7.6 million building program. It takes courage, optimism and commitment to proceed in the face of a need to come up with another $4.6 million to pay the bills.

I applaud the people behind the project for daring to say, in effect, "Let's go ahead and do it, and the Good Lord will take care of us."

I suspect he will. The Lord helps those who help themselves.

The actions of the Chelsea village council in first adopting a budget and then declining to approve the tax rate necessary to finance it reinforce a belief expressed in this column a few weeks ago that there should be a wider separation of time between the village election date and the beginning of the fiscal year.

What has happened is confusing to everybody, including this watcher from the Clock Tower.

Following publication in last week's Standard of a story reporting that the council had failed to adopt the tax hike needed to balance the budget, I received three phone calls from citizens asking what was going on. My honest answer was that I really didn't know for sure and was going to have to wait to find out.

The problem will no doubt be resolved in some way.

Taxes and the government budgets they support are extremely important to people. The process of adopting both—and they ought to be done together—should be as simple and understandable as possible. It should not be hurried.

One complication which could and should be eliminated is that village, township, county and school taxes are levied against differing assessment bases. For somebody trying to figure out what his total property tax bill for the year is going to be, and plan ahead to pay it, the juggling of assessed value, ad valorem, state equalized value and the rest of the gobble-de-gook prescribed by law in the system becomes bewildering.

There should be one single value set on every piece of property for all tax purposes. Tax rates should be expressed in dollars per thousand of taxable value, not in mills. A mill is a meaningless word to most people. It is one-tenth of a cent. We are not accustomed to handling financial transactions in tenths of pennies. We deal in dollars and cents, and the smallest unit of change we carry in our pockets is a penny. I've never had a "mill" in my hand in my life. A mill is an abstraction, a theoretical term for something that doesn't exist in the real world.

Back to the problem of this year's village budget. The fiscal year began on March 1. The election was held March 12, and it resulted in three new persons coming onto the board of trustees. Adoption of the budget was delayed so the newcomers could participate in the process, which makes sense because the budget charts the council's course for the entire year.

And so a budget was adopted, hastily and late, but apparently without a full understanding that it would require a tax increase. When the time came to set the tax rate, the council backed off.

You could call it a classic case of trying to have your cake and eat it, too, but I don't think that is a fair statement. Rather, I believe it was a matter of trying to do too much too soon.

As I understand, the village election date is prescribed by state law and can't be changed. The fiscal year dates can be, and I suggest they should be to avoid future embarrassments.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday, June 11 were Schumann, Heller, Grau, Comeau, Redding, Feeney, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals, Williams, Conklin, Wojcicki, Assistant Principal Vogel, Athletic Director Nemeth, Community Education Director Rogers, guests.

At 7 p.m. a public budget hearing was held to discuss the 1984-85 School District budget.

Regularly scheduled board meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dale Schumann.

Board President Schumann presented to retiree Mary K. Weber a "Golden Lifetime Activities Pass" in recognition of her many years of service to the Chelsea schools. Ms. Weber had been a teacher at South Elementary school.

Entered as official communications were: a letter from Dr. Max Plank complimenting the 6th grade camp, a letter from the Superintendent of the Memphis Schools complimenting Gene LaFave's banquet speech, and a communication honoring Kay Bauer for her runner-up status in the exceptional achievement competition.

Drs. Dolores Dawson and Richard Stock were present at the meeting to review the results of the educational audit of the district's K-12 curriculum. The audit was one of the 1983-84 Board of Education goals. Dawson and Stock prefaced their remarks by indicating that the Chelsea curriculum was a good curriculum, but upon examination they have made proposals that should be reviewed and analyzed to see if they warrant consideration for implementation in the K-12 curriculum. Essentially they are "ideas" to be looked at to reject, modify, or to recognize an area and address specific issues. President Dale Schumann indicated that the teaching staff, administration and Board of Education will review these and take the proposals under advisement.

Board approved the resolution adopting the 1984-85 budget, with revenue of $7,427,683, and expenditures of $7,486,355.

Board approved an unpaid leave of absence for Patti Rogers, elementary art teacher, from Aug. 28, 1984 to Jan. 21, 1985.

Board approved awarding of a high school diploma to Carla Sears. Carla attended Chelsea High school for 3½ years and does not meet the one-year residency requirement to graduate from Ann Arbor Pioneer. Carla did not participate in graduation ceremonies.

Board approved a one-semester unpaid leave of absence for Jonathan Andrews, high school English teacher, effective Aug. 23, 1984 through Jan. 21, 1985. Andrews will be interning at the University of Michigan Psychiatric Hospital's Adolescent Unit.

Board approved continuing membership in the Michigan High School Athletic Association, effective Aug. 1, 1984, through July 31, 1985, and to authorize the board secretary to complete the board-adopted resolution.

Board certified the election results for school board membership, as follows: for the 2-year term: Raymond Gorton Coulter, 69; Ann E. Feeney, 464; for the 4-year term: Ronald Montange, 177; Lloyd A. Grau, 398; Joseph Redding, 398.

The board approved a change order for the four tennis courts. When the contractor removed the concrete base, there was a problem with soil stabilization due to excessive water in the sub-grade and remnants buried when the high school's main building was erected. To offset a future problem, an additional expenditure was authorized to put in a membrane for the purpose of stabilizing the sub-grade area, and add two additional inches to the base. This will allow the construction of the courts as intended.

Board members who viewed the building trades house indicated it was an outstanding project, and that the house had been sold on the Wednesday following the Sunday open house.

Board members were appreciative of the general decor of the high school graduation ceremony, and complimented Tanya Mattoff and Tom Mull on their excellent speeches.

The board acknowledged that the girls softball team will be playing Grand Rapids Northview at Emerson Park, Midland, at 5:30 p.m. on Friday.

Board members were advised that adult education graduation will be held on Thursday, June 14th, at 8 p.m.

At the request of the superintendent, the board convened in executive session to discuss a personnel item (9:43 p.m.) and subsequently reconvened in public session.

Meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Chelsea Charms Awards Presented at Annual Recital

The fourth annual recital of the Chelsea Charms Batons was held June 8 at Chelsea High school auditorium. Thirty-two girls and boys twirled and strutted to numbers reaching from "The Grand Ole Flag" to Michael Jackson. Awards were presented by director Rita Wilson Howard to the top students during the 1983-84 school year.

Ten-year-old Amy Weir, current "Miss Majorette of Michigan" was presented the Baton Boosters travelling trophy as the "Outstanding Student of the Year," by Arlene Honbaum, president of the Baton Boosters Club. Amy also took the "Most Merits" trophy with over 10,000 merits earned. She was runner-up to the "Teacher's Award" and received excellence ribbons in both twirl and strut.

Christine Dunlap, 11, won the "Miss Majorette of Chelsea" esteemed award, while taking the runner-up medal for "Most Merits." She also was third for the "Teacher's Award." She was named "Feature Twirler" for the 1984-85 season.

Winning the "Teacher's Award" this year was 7-year-old, Kori White, with a score of 96.00. Kori was awarded the fourth-place ribbon for "Most Merits" and tied for the "Fancy Strut" trophy.

"Most Merits" for beginner students was won by 4-year-old Winston Howard, while Tracey Wales, 9, and Laurie Honbaum, 11, won the same award for the second- and third-year students, respectively. Tracey also took fourth place in the "Teacher's Award" and received an "excellence" ribbon for modelling and strut.

The oldest of the Chelsea Charms, 16-year-old Josie Krzeczowski, was named drum majorette for the 1984-85 season with Susan Schmunk as assistant. Vicky Niethammer was selected as assistant feature twirler by the other members of the Charms.

Other trophy winners were: Nikki Schultz and Elizabeth Taylor, tie for most improved; Vicky Niethammer, Linda Schaffer, and Don Schaffer, big-little sister-brother award; Kate Steele, best attitude; Brandi Kenney, best potential; Vicky Niethammer, best showmanship; Danielle Clark, good sportsmanship; Jose Krzeczowski, modelling; beginner Katie Neal, basic strut; Christine Burg, military strut; Minda Van Reesema, drill; Michelle Graflund, fancy strut; Kristen Clark, specialty twirl-two baton; Susan Schmunk and Richelle Jones, tied for twirl.

Ribbons of "excellence" in different areas were awarded to: Don Schaffer, Vicky Niethammer, Elizabeth Taylor, Linda Shaffer, Lindsay McHolme, Heather McConnelly, Christine Burg, Winston Howard, Nikki Schultz, Heather Wynn, Kristen Clark, Richelle Jones, Jackie Crawford, Rachel, and Rebecca Fischer, "Kate" Neal, Elizabeth Maurer, Josie Krzeczowski, Julie Miller, Laurie Honbaum, Brandi Kenney, and Deana Hagerty.

Graduation certificates were given to all of the students as well as honor and advance certificates to Charms who have earned them during the year. A special salute and certificates were awarded to the Color Guard Boys and to the Baton Boosters board members and officers. Certificates of Appreciation were announced for both Jackie Rogers of Community Education and for Mr. and Mrs. Leonard of The Chelsea Standard.

Nearing 80, Married 56 Years, Anton Nielsen Remains Active in Village

(Continued from page one) house, were my wife's to make. I didn't give her any arguments. But any major decisions were mine, with no arguments from her. We've never had any problems with our marriage because of these rules." He also added that no really major decisions have come up for him to make, yet.

In June of 1946 Nielsen purchased the Farmers Supply feed store. He's been hard at work there ever since. He still works a full day, although he admits to taking a longer lunch hour than he used to. "I leave for lunch at 11 a.m. and come back here around 12:30 p.m. I go home for lunch, and check things out then too," he stated. Anton is an avid gardener and is busy with his vegetables and flowers this time of year. He says his corn is already past the "knee high at 4th of July" stage.

Anton also has some help in the form of Allen Broesamle around Farmers Supply so he doesn't have to carry 100 pound bags of feed around much anymore. "It's hard for me to hold on to things with my arthritis," he noted, showing me a pair of timeworn hands as proof. When I asked Nielsen about retiring, he said he'd think about it... when he turns 90 he added laughing.

Besides owning and operating Farmers Supply, Anton was honored with the title of village president from 1952-54 and again in 1956. He said he liked the position, but no way would he want to have it today. "Things are too complicated today. When I was mayor we had three policemen on the whole police force," he said smiling.

Nielsen was also Kiwanis Club president about the same time he was village president. He remains an active member of this organization.

Youth Day Tennis Offered During Sesquicentennial

Sign up for junior doubles (ages 13-18) if you are interested in participating in the Youth Day activities held on July 2. This tournament will be held all day Monday, July 2, starting at 9 a.m. and continuing until 5 p.m. or completion. The number of participants will determine the finish. Register by calling 475-2536.

A registration form will be available at the Sylvan Town Hall (in the Sesquicentennial Country Store) June 25 through July 2. Pay the 50-cent entry fee at that time.

First- and second-place winners will receive trophies. "Get involved if you play any level of tennis," says chairperson Terry Schreiner. All matches will be played at North School courts because of construction at the high school. Remember to register by calling 475-2536.

Men Come Through With Tiddly Wink Win

The Millcreek Moonshiners and the Prairie Belles met on June 11 for a meeting and get-together. After all business was taken care of the ladies presented the men with a couple of challenges. The first was a tray race with each participating person carrying a glass of water on a tray. When the water was all used up, the glasses were filled with beer, and then the game became more serious because nobody wanted to spill their brew. The results of the tray race found the ladies winning and the men becoming very wet.

The second challenge was a game of tiddly winks. The ladies felt confident that they could win this event because some had been practicing, but the men beat the ladies by a score that was more than double what they had.

The evening was fun for all; well except for those who ended up being tossed in the water, which was not one of the challenges the ladies had planned for the evening, but the men thought it would be fun anyhow.

All Chapters Challenged To Paint Depot

The Sesquicentennial Supreme Council is issuing a challenge to all Belles and Brothers of the Brush Chapters to help paint the train depot on Saturday, June 23 at 11 a.m., with a tug of war to follow at Lett's Creek.

This will not only be a gesture to help restore one of Chelsea's historical sites but also promises to be an afternoon of fun.

To participate in the project you will need to bring your own paintbrush, a container to hold paint and lots of energy!

Antique Michigan License Plates Displayed at Palmer Ford

Michigan license plates from the collection of Dick Wiley, of Ann Arbor, are on display in the showroom of the Palmer Ford dealership, 222 S. Main St., Chelsea, until Wednesday, July 4th.

Plates on display include a complete set of all the types of plates Michigan issued in the bicentennial year. A total of 32 vehicle plates and five motorcycle plates were issued.

Also on display are passenger plates from 1910 through 1964, farm plates from 1939 through 1983, pick-up plates from the six years they were issued (1958-1963), commercial plates from 1918-1984, and trailer plates from 1920-1983.

Quilt To Be Awarded By Historical Belles

Several Historical Belles met last Thursday at Glen and Olive Wiseman's farm to tie off a quilt to be awarded some lucky person during next week's sesquicentennial celebration. It is queen sized with a nine-patch design. The quilt was stretched on a frame which filled the entire porch. With some guidance and a needle threader specialist, the tying was completed that evening.

The ladies all thought of the old-time quilting bees done years ago, but figured they must have had chairs to sit in as all went home with sore backs!

Trial of Keystone Kops Ends in Quick Sentence

Friday, May 11, 30 Party Tymers attended the dance given by the Wild Woolly Town Tamers, at the Chelsea Fair Building. A fantastic time was enjoyed by all, dancing to the excellent music provided by the Eclipse Band.

During an intermission, the Honorable Judge Roy Beam, AKA "Fair Trial Frisinger" heaving a 10-lb. gavel, called to order the jury trial of the Keystone Kops, charged with the following criminal offenses:
breaking and entering, malicious destruction of private property, false arrest, kidnapping and alienation of affection and attention.

Before the calling of the witnesses Judge Beam asked all spectators that felt the Keystone Kops would not receive a fair trial, to please approach the bench, upon doing so, he ordered Sheriff Hatley (Porky) to remove them from the court room and have them hung before sunrise.

The Honorable Judge Beam
then called the unbiased jury (all Party Tyme Belles and Beaus) picked on May 6, to be seated:
Jury foreman Bob Bauer, owner of the Party Tyme Barn, Tom McNamara, Donna Baker, Ice Man Frank Sweeney, Ron Sweeney, son of ice man, Stan Montagne, Lella Bauer the Town Crier, Ruth Leach, Jan Sweeney, daughter of Calamity Jane, Helen Smith,
Tom Starkey and Merel Leach.

After the seating of the jury,

the Honorable Judge Beam
proceeded to call the witnesses: Head Bustle Winona Landwehr, wife of Head Brush, Calamity Jane
Mary Bauer, wife of Main Stay
Bob Bauer, Ms. Nancy Sweeney wife of ice man. One by one each told of their loss of attention and distress encountered during the kidnapping of their mates. All questionable testimony was referred to Don Bauer, attorney for the Party Tymers, to assure full compliance with the law.

Upon summation by Judge Beam to the jury he stated the jury should consider all the dastardly deeds done by those dudes, while and after breaking into the peaceful meeting of the Party Tyme Belles and Beaus held at the Party Tyme Barn on Friday, April 13 (apparently an unlucky night for those Demon Desparados).

After only 60 seconds of deliberating the jury found the accused guilty as charged!
Punishable by life in prison, death by hanging, a fine of $100,000, or all three. The Honorable Judge Beam set sentencing for a later date, at which time a terrible disturbance started between the accused, the jury and the witnesses, ending in the kidnapping of the witnesses by the Keystone Kops, to the destination of the Wolverine Still.

The above is a true and accurate accounting, as reported by the Town Crier.

Industry Tours Arranged for July 3

Have you ever asked yourself, how do they do what they do at the Chelsea Milling Co.? How does it feel to test drive a vehicle at the Chrysler Proving Grounds?

You can find the answers to those questions and more during the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Celebration.

Industry Day, scheduled for Tuesday, July 3, along with Agriculture Day, will provide the public the opportunity to tour the Chelsea Milling Co. and Chrysler Proving Grounds in addition to BookCrafters and Dana Corp.

Chelsea Milling, established in 1878 and the home of Jiffy Mix, will be open for three hours with three tours scheduled to begin promptly on the hour from 9 a.m.
to 11 a.m. First shown is a slide presentation explaining the company's history, extensive milling and packaging operations, ingredients used (the majority of which are from Michigan) including the testing process, variety of mixes produced and sales and shipping which encompasses all 50 states and various foreign countries.

Every tourist is allowed to sample one of the 18 mixes manufactured before beginning the walk-through tour. There is one flight of stairs to climb initially so be prepared. At the end, each person is given a box of mix and a cookbook of Jiffy Mix recipes.

Chelsea Milling has the capacity of manufacturing one million boxes per day, making it the largest prepared mix operation in the world. Shirley and Lynne Roskowski, the mother and daughter tour guide team, explained that "Chelsea Milling, owned by the Holmes family and based entirely in Michigan, provides a family atmosphere all its own which is reflected in the tours." A special touch is provided which really makes you feel welcome.

From 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Chrysler will provide two air-conditioned, restroom equipped buses for touring the Proving Grounds.
One bus will be located in the downtown Chelsea area and the other at the fairgrounds. Both will have tour guides utilizing an on-board public address system.

During the tour, which lasts approximately 45 minutes, you will be chauffeured around the endurance roads, tortuous roads, various grades and curves; you will view the skid-traction facility and end up on the six-lane, five-mile, high speed oval test track.

Bill Mitchell, personnel manager at the proving grounds said "These tours will show the public the extensive testing capability of Chrysler which provides us the opportunity to engineer and produce 'Best in Class' quality vehicles."

At BookCrafters, you will see, step by step, from beginning to end, just how books are produced. Forty-minute tours, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. will show you computer programming, program and systems tracking, composition, photographic layout, plating, production, binding and fulfillment operation right down to quality control.

President of BookCrafters Bill Nuffer noted "Most people who tour our facility find it very interesting and a great opportunity to see exactly how various types of books are made."

Reserved parking, souvenirs, and refreshments will be provided at Dana Corp., the largest power takeoff unit manufacturer in the world.

Don Blair, Dana plant manager, stated "our tour shows the public the entire manufacturing procedure from raw material to finished product."

Beginning at 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., a 30-minute tour will take you from the research and engineering laboratory through the tool and die area; gear and shaft machining, grinding and housing production finish showing the final assembly relationship.

Where else can you learn and enjoy so much and satisfy your curiosity in one day for free.

Sesqui Dance Party Slated For July 22

The sesquicentennial celebration week is drawing near, but for those who cannot wait until that happens, you can get a head start on the celebration.

The Supreme Council of the Sesquicentennial is sponsoring a celebration dance for all Brothers of the Brush and Chelsea Belles on Friday, June 22.

The dance, which will be held in the Red Barn Building at the Fairgrounds will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Entertainment will be furnished by the Eclipse Band which plays a versatile selection of music. Snacks will be furnished by the committee.

There will be no charge for coming to the dance. This is a dance for the Brothers of the Brush and the Chelsea Belles.
The only stipulation is that everyone must wear their Belles or Brush pin to get in the door. If you don't have one, these pins will be sold at the door.

PAUL BOLLINGER, chairman of Agriculture
Day, Tuesday, July 3 for the Sesquicentennial Celebration is urging everyone to plan now for the many activities planned. He is shown here aboard a 1918 Waterloo Boy kerosene burning tractor which he owns and will be showing for the Sesqui observance. This photo, with a younger Paul aboard, was taken in 1959 when he showed the renovated and restored tractor.

ABOARD HIS restored buckboard pulled by two donkeys, Paul and Beverly Bollinger were a pleasant sight in the 1959 125th Anniversary Celebration. Riding in the back seat is son
Richard, now an active member of the Keystone Kops. This is reproduced to remind area residents of the coming Agriculture Day, Tuesday, July 3, when many pieces of old-time farm equipment and machinery will be exhibited and demonstrated. Of course, this team of donkeys has long since gone to their reward but there will be other surprises.

Euchre Tourney

Friday, June 8 proved to be a less than perfect day for the Tower Belles and the Other Half's as the Lacy Lady Lakers and Lovers defeated them in a euchre tournament.

The hosts were very gracious in the losing effort by providing beverages, snacks, and contributing to the Lacy Lady Lakers and Lovers float fund.
Better luck next time.

Bathtub Race

The date for the bathtub race has been set for June 24. The Musketeers and the DLB's invite all comers to accept this challenge for a fun-filled day. We especially challenge the Prairie
Belles, Mill Creek Moonshiners,
Lacy Lady Lakers and Lovers,
Party Tyme Belles and Bows, Treated Studs and Stud Finders.
Call Debbie or Eltia Borders, Jr., at 475-9528 for details.

Road Rally

Slated June 23

The Musketeers and DLB's invite all chapters to participate in a road rally on June 23. All the stops will be Chelsea historical sites. Call Debbie or Eltia Borders, Jr. at 475-9528 to enter by June 16. We will meet at the boat that doesn't float in the Village of Chelsea.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

According to the calendar "Father's Day" has passed, but we all know Father's Day just like Mother's Day is 365 days a year. So if your kindness will allow it, do you suppose we could still honor all Fathers with the following writing.

God's Reflection—a Father
A father is God's Gift to Children,
To be His eyes,
His ears,
His hands,
His feet,
To be gentle, yet firm;
Always with love.
God gave Fathers
A speck of His courage
A measure of His patience,
A dash of His wisdom,
An ounce of His knowledge,
Adding a few human faults,
And weaknesses for humility.

God gave fathers
Warmth of smile to show
Pride, Love, Happiness, Gratitude,
God even placed tears in a father's eyes,
To be used when needed.
For the tough time of "Growing Pains" He gave gather an endless sense of humor,
God taught fathers
How to pray
Not just with words, but,
With the way
They live their lives,
"Father" to God Himself
We cannot give a Holier Name.
One of Life's Greatest Blessings is Having a Father like you!

—by Millie Warner
Dedicated to all fathers, living and deceased.

Dear Editor,
My sons recently received Fire
Safety booklets in their school.
These booklets were well written and illustrated, and gave us a perfect opportunity to discuss prevention, and possible escape procedures with the boys.

I would personally like to thank all of the people who contributed in the presentation of these booklets. Thank You.

To The Editor,

After every election we hear some people lament over the small turnout at the polls. There are only two reasons voting is important.

1. When those who receive the vote will, by perverting the law, favor the voter at the expense of the rest of the citizens.

2. When a citizen's life, liberty and property are being taken by the perverted law, and he aspires desperately to invoke constitutional law for his own protection.

School board members and voters under which category are you listed.

Raymond Gorton Coulter.

German Pretzels Offered on July 3

How do you do belles and

On July 3, Industrial-Agricultural-Ladies Day we hope to see you.

Lima Center Group Finalizes Sesqui. Festival Plans

The Lima Center Extension
Group met at Lima Hall on June 13. Virginia Owens, master gardener, showed a slide display on landscaping at the meeting.

Plans were finalized at this time for the July 3 Chelsea Ses-quicentennial quilt display and for the strawberry sundae festival at the Chelsea Methodist church.

TAKE A NUMBER: Area youngsters waited patiently in line at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea to get their yearly sports physicals so they would be able to participate in school athletics. Over 411 boys and girls in grades seven through twelve received physicals for a minimum charge of $3 at the half-day June 13 event.

SPORTS PHYSICALS: It was a busy day for doctors, personnel and youngsters as the Family Practice Center in Chelsea made its services available for sports physicals. The physicals are a requirement for anyone in grade seven through twelve if they want to undertake any kind of sports activities through Chelsea schools. The line you see here didn't last very long, as it took only three hours and four doctors to see over 411 youngsters last week. Cost for the sports physicals was a mere $3, just enough to cover medical supplies.

Sports Physicals Done at Family Practice Center

Sports physicals for the Chelsea school system were held at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea on Wednesday, June 13.
These physicals were made available to all students in the school system for grades seven through twelve for a special rate of $3.

In total, 411 students were examined by physicians at the Center on Wednesday afternoon.
All the personnel at the Center helped in giving assistance to assure that all the exams were completed. Regular appointments at the Center were not scheduled for that afternoon.

This fall, physicians from the Family Practice Center will again be supporting the Athletic Department at the high school as the team physicians. Although the primary activity in the fall will be serving as medical support to the football team, the doctors will be working with other athletic activities as well.

The physicians will be in attendance at all the home football games and as many away games as possible. They will be meeting with the teams every Monday before practice to examine any injuries the athletes may have suffered in competition in the previous week. They will also meet with the teams every Thursday to examine any injuries which may have occurred during practice.

Husband Calling Challenge Issued

The Stud Finders are making an open challenge to all the Belle Chapters for a Husband-Calling Contest. It will take place at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, on Ladies
Day, July 3, after the box social.
So ladies, come on out and we'll show you how we call our studs!

Family Picnic, Games

The Prairie Belles and the Millcreek Moonshiners will have a softball game and family picnic on Sunday, June 24, at the pond.
The event will start at 1 p.m.
Members of these groups are urged to bring their entire families, because there will be activities planned for the children, as well as the adults.

Each family is to bring their own meat, drinks, place settings,
and a large dish to pass.

Out-of-Towners Invited to Join Fun

To help bring friends and families into Chelsea during our Sesquicentennial Week, a challenge has been made to all chapters.

This challenge starts immediately and will end at 1 p.m. on July 4. The winning chapter will be honored at the July 4 fireworks. The challenge will be handled by way of letters sent to out-of-town people inviting them to join us during our celebration.

A letter of explanation has already been sent to all chapter chairpersons, so contact him or her for further information.

Softball Team Loses Championship Game To Mt. Morris, 2-0

Chelsea's bid for a second Class B state softball championship in three years fell one game short as the Bulldog girls lost a tight 2-0 verdict to Mt. Morris in the final last Saturday at Midland.

Chelsea had beaten No. 1-ranked Grand Rapids Northview, 6-3, on Friday in a semi-final game and was the odds-on favorite to take the title. The Bulldogs played well the next day, but Mr. Morris played a little bit better.

Against Northview, Chelsea used a devastating bunting attack, forcing their foes into eight errors in the early innings to score four runs on just one hit, and that one a bunt single.

Bulldog pitcher Beth Unterbrink wasn't at her best but was not about to lose a four-run lead. She gave up four hits while walking three and striking out eight. She was in frequent trouble but worked her way out of jams.

Chelsea scored single runs in the fifth and seventh inning to pad its lead and snuff out any Northview hopes of a comeback.

The loss snapped an 18-game Northview winning streak.

"We had a scouting report which indicated that Northview was weak on the corners (first and third) defensively and that we could bunt and run against them, and that's what we did," coach Charlie Waller said.

"We haven't been able to play that kind of ball much that year, because our opponents have taken it away from us by playing in tight on the corners and doing it well. We have had to rely on the long ball."

Unfortunately, Mt. Morris took everything away from the Bulldogs in the final game, playing flawlessly on defense and getting the kind of pitching that has given Chelsea fits at some other times this season.

Mt. Morris' Connie Rollson was not overpowering as she registered only two strikeouts, but she threw few pitches that weren't strikes and spotted the ball beautifully. She got tougher as the game went on, retiring 14 of the last 15 batters she faced.

The Bulldogs were able to get their bats on the ball but couldn't hit it anywhere safely. They managed just three hits—two by Lori Folcik—had only three base-runners as Rollson issued no walks, and got only one runner past first base.

Unterbrink gave up an uncharacteristic eight hits but was again tough in the clutch as she fanned 10 and stranded a bunch of runners.

Ironically, Mt. Morris used a bunt to open the gates for the game's only two runs in the third inning.

The bunter reached first on an error, took second on a single up the middle and one out later scored on a hard double to right center which would have been a home run but for a great play by centerfielder Chandy Hurd. The second tally scored on a sacrifice fly.

Both runs were unearned, but they were enough to win the game and the state championship.

"I can't complain," Waller said after the game. "We played very well, but they played just about perfectly. Mt. Morris did everything well—pitching, defense, hitting. They deserved to win."

Tournament Set for Men's Slow Pitch

A 16-team double-elimination men's slow-pitch softball tournament for teams in class C-C-B will be played June 29-July 1 at Dana field under sponsorship of the Chelsea Recreation Department.

Entry fee is $100 per team, and should be sent to Ron Schuyler, 158 Park St. A list of the team roster should accompany the payment. Rosters are limited to 18 players can include two pickups in addition to regular season members.

Individual and sponsor trophies will be awarded to the first and second place teams.

Kiwanis Club Grant Made to Waterloo Nature Center

The Kiwanis Club of Chelsea recently made a cash donation to the Waterloo Natural History Association. The donation was used to cover the cost of printing the cut-out map of Chelsea designating the Nature Center located at 1703 Bush Rd.

Chelsea had a shot in the top of the seventh as Folcik stroked a double to bring the tying run to the plate, but the threat died.

The Bulldogs had hit well until the late part of the season, when they tailed off at the plate, and the batting slump caught up with them in the end. They registered just 19 hits in their last four games, and one player (Unterbrink) had six of those.

Chelsea finished the season with a 34-4 record, actually a bit better than Mt. Morris' 34-8.

With eight of nine starters returning next year, the Bulldogs can look forward to another crack at the state championship. Only senior catcher Joyce Robards is graduating. Mt. Morris is likewise made up mostly of sophomores and juniors who will be back again. The two teams could meet at about this time in 1985.

Week-end Baseball Team Drops Two

On Sunday, June 17 Chelsea opened their baseball week-end league action facing a very tough team from Ypsilanti. Even though Chelsea played hard and fought the "extreme heat" of the day, they came up short on both ends of the double-header—11 to 0 and 10 to 0. They were mercied both games.

"Even though we did get mercied, I felt good about the games," said coach Akel Marshall. "Our pitchers did a good job on the mound and everybody got some playing time in. Our bats were silenced quite a bit but we got our swings in."

Todd Starkey started the first game on the mound and did a good job. Ypsi was held scoreless in the first inning but in the second scored five runs, thanks to two Chelsea errors!

Brian Farley relieved Starkey on the mound and he was followed by Jeff Larson, but in the fifth, Ypsi scored two runs to end the game by the mercy rule, 11 to 0.

Ypsi pitched a player who graduated from Lincoln High this year and Chelsea could only manage three singles, one each by Dave Boote, Todd Starkey, and Matt Bohlender. He was a fine pitcher as 10 Chelsea batters struck out while only three walked.

The second game was basically like the first game. Chelsea's pitchers did alright but they received no support from the hitters.

Mike Ball started on the mound and gave up six runs in four innings. Once again it wasn't all his fault as Chelsea committed four errors.

OFF TO MIDLAND: The Chelsea girls softball team was photographed just before leaving for Midland and the state tournament finals last Friday morning. The team finished the season as state Class B runner-up.

ment finals last Friday morning. The team finished the season as state Class B runner-up.

MADE STATE FINALS: Chelsea's 3,200-meter relay team of Laura Damm, Stephanie Roberts, Sallie Wilson and Wendy Wolfgang ran well in the state Class B girls track meet but didn't place high enough to score points. They finished 14th among 30 teams entered.

Chelsea Has 2 Wins in Ann Arbor Summer Baseball League Play

Chelsea began summer league action in Ann Arbor baseball last week with two hard-fought victories, 5-2 over Saline and 7-5 over Lincoln.

In the Saline win, June 12, Chelsea scored a run in the first inning on a double by Jim Toon and a single by Evan Roberts. The lead was stretched to 2-0 in the third as Jim Toon cleared the right field fence at Vet's No. 5 for a homer, his second hit. Saline tied the score in the fourth but Chelsea had a good sixth inning, scoring three runs featuring a solo homer by Dan Bellus, a double by Kevin Walz, and a single by Brian Farley which drove in the fourth and fifth runs. The game ended with a 5-2 score.

Dan Bellus pitched a very fine game for Chelsea. He gave up only six hits, all singles, while walking only three. He also struck out seven Saline batters. Besides his homer, he also doubled. Dave Boote also singled for Chelsea.

"It was a very satisfying win for us," said coach Akel Marshall "as Saline has four graduated seniors playing for them from their varsity squad. But yet we never trailed in the contest. It was a great way to start the season."

Chelsea got off to a fast start in the Lincoln game also on June 14. Toon hit the first pitch out of the park (Vet's No. 5). Later that inning, Roberts crossed the plate giving Chelsea a 2-0 lead. For three innings Chelsea played poorly allowing Lincoln to take a 4-2 lead after four innings. But in the fifth Chelsea tied the game with two runs, even though they had no base hits. They used three walks and two Lincoln errors to get the job done. Then, in the sixth, singles by Roberts, Bellus, and Tony Hammerschmidt (two RBIs) helped to give Chelsea a 7 to 4 lead. Lincoln scored a run in the seventh to make the final score 7-5.

Brian Farley pitched three innings and was relieved by Kevin Walz. After a lead-off walk in the seventh, Mike Ball came in to pitch. Even though he gave up an unearned run, he still saved the win for Walz.

Once again pacing Chelsea was Toon with a homer and single. Dan Bellus collected two singles. Also getting singles were Farley, Roberts, Neilbauer, and Hammerschmidt. The win gives Chelsea a 2-0 record going into game action last night.

Chelsea has a team in the Ann Arbor Summer Recreation League—High School Major Division. Players through 18 years of age can play. This year there are 12 teams in the league and Chelsea will be playing some very tough teams. They play on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Also, they have an entry on weekends in the Washtenaw Amateur Baseball Assoc.—Connie Mack League. There are eight teams in this league. Once again players through 18 years of age can play. Chelsea will play a doubleheader on Saturday or Sunday for seven week-ends.

To compete in this program, Chelsea's team is made up of players who will be competing for a spot on the varsity squad next spring. Playing this summer will give them all some much needed experience in game action and will help them next season.

Players who are on both teams (week-day and week-end) include Evan Roberts, Keith Neilbauer, Jim Toon, Brian Farley, Brian Robeson, Ray Spencer, Jeff Larson, Rob Murrell, Dan Bellus, Dave Boote, Biff Bunten, and Mike Ball.

Playing only week-days are Charlie Koenn, Matt Koenn,

NEW TENNIS COURTS: Construction is underway on four new tennis courts in the Chelsea High school athletic complex. The two existing courts, which were badly cracked, are being eliminated.

The tennis facility, which will be one of the best around, is being built immediately south of the high school and east of Book St.

New Tennis Courts Under Construction at High School

A lot is going on out at the Chelsea High School athletic complex these days. Four new tennis courts are being built, the new track is finally being completed, and 1,200 yards of replacement sod are being laid on the football field.

By the time this gets into print, the sod on the baseball diamond may have been torn up and new grass planted.

The various projects will, when finished, represent completion of a major renovation originally estimated to cost $250,000. The final figure will probably be higher.

The four new tennis courts will replace two cracked and crumbling old ones, and will provide the high school with its first decent playing facility in a lot of years.

Eight inches of dirt have been scooped out in preparation for putting in the new courts. "When we started digging, we found out that a lot of blue clay and rubble had been dumped as a 'foundation' for the old courts, and that's why we had continual problems with them," athletic director Ron Nemeth said. "They didn't drain right, and the surfaces broke up."

"We've taken the junk out and gotten down to the original soil. We'll lay a synthetic membrane over that, put in eight inches of crushed stone, and lay the asphalt surfaces on top. They will be good courts."

Nemeth is a former tennis player and coach, and has a special interest in seeing that the job is done right.

The red polyurethane finishing coat was laid down on the Niehaus Field track last week, finishing up a project begun last year. Permanent lane markings remain to be made. The track was used this spring and served well even though not completed.

"It's pretty," boys track coach Bill Wehrwein said as he watched the work being done. "It's going to be the best track in the state, bar none."

Meanwhile, the center of the football field has been plowed up in preparation for new sod. The original sod, laid last year, was ruined by an impromptu game of touch football played by persons who sneaked onto the field before it was ready for use.

"We looked at the possibility of trying to patch up the damage and decided we would be better off in the long run to re-do the center of the field," Nemeth said. "The vandalism destroyed the crown, and we would have had continuing drainage problems."

The baseball infield was sodded a couple of years ago, mostly through the individual efforts of Nemeth and diamond coach Wayne Welton.

"We put in muck-grown sod, and it hasn't worked out," Nemeth said. "Muck sod doesn't root deep, and it tears up easily. We had a bumpy, squishy diamond this spring. The ball took some strange bounces."

The plan is to take off the sod and some underlying dirt, bring in topsoil, and then sow grass seed of a type that will develop deep roots.

Of some concern is maintaining the facilities once they are completed.

"We need some new equipment, especially mowing machinery, and some more assigned manpower," Nemeth said. "Otherwise, we could lose a lot of this major investment in our athletic plant."

"We've been running behind on maintenance all spring, and we're still behind. We've got hay growing in some places. It looks bad, but that isn't the worst of it. Grass has to be regularly mowed at the right times to maintain healthy turf, and you can't let grass and weeds grow up around the edges of any synthetic surface. If you so, those edges will begin to break up."

"It's not an emergency yet, but it could get to be one."

Little, Pony Leagues Begin Summer Season

The Chelsea Little and Pony league baseball teams got off to a fast start last week as they battled to win the first place spot.

Little League

The Little League Phillies glided into first place with a whopping win over the Astros, 25-7. Big hitters for the game were Brett Salamin and T. J. Hackworth. Star defenders for the game were Sean Laraway and Paul Nouhan. The Phillies now sport a 2-0 record on the season.

The Tigers beat the Orioles by a sizeable margin, racking up a 20-8 final tally. Leading run scorers for the Tigers were Jim Hassett, Mike McCauley, Justin White and Aaron Tanner. Good defensive plays were recorded by Brian Bell, Mike McCauley and Aaron Tanner, while the pitching staff of Brian Bell and Jude Quilter did very well on the mound.

The end of the week found the Indians in first place in the Pony League. They outscored the Angels by a score of 6-5. J. R. Morseau had three hits and a home run to help urge the team on to victory, while C. Acree and B. Finch each scored two hits and B. Hulterman had one hit in the closely fought game.

Second place team on the league, the A's, beat the Orioles by a score of 9-7 at South school last week. Mike Taylor belted out two home runs, while Randy Dale hit one.

Pony League

The Tigers won over the Padres 2-0 in the Pony League. Five singles were hit by players in the game. McCalla and Kvarnberg each had a single, while Chasteen and Patterson hammered out two singles each. David Kvarnberg also scored a home run in the game. Outstanding defensive plays were noted by David Kvarnberg, and great catches were made by Kyle Plank, P. Hassett, M. Hollo, C. McCalla and David Kvarnberg. Matt Lucky went on record as the winning pitcher.

Even though they turned up on the short end of the game, the Padres limited the Tigers to three hits and two runs. John Collins and Craig Perry reportedly pitched well for the Padres, Garth Givard collected two hits, and Chad Starkey and Mark Luick had one each in the hard-fought game.

Stan Morseau's Indians won 7-6 over Fred Zuelke's team. J. R. Morseau was the winning pitcher and had a home run with help by Rob Finch and Jeff Marshall, who each hit a triple, and Mark Mottisinger who chipped in with a double.

The Padres got home runs from Reno Nye, John Collins and Chad Starkey and a double from Jim Alford, but committed four consecutive errors in the bottom of the sixth to lose to the Angles 8-7.

Leagues Begin Play

Chelsea Recreation began summer league play June 12 with Amy Unterbrink's "Rats" defeating the Moody Blues headed by Bob Bullock, 16-15. Kim Ritter hit a triple to score the winning run for the Rats. Lisa McGilmen and Michelle Graf-lund went three for three for the Blues. Kim Easton hit a double and a triple.

The Yellow Stingers defeated the Speed Demons 27-12 in their opener. Leading hitters for the Stingers was Vanessa May with two home runs. Nikki Partido contributed with one home run. Winning pitcher was Jenni Smith. Bob Liebeck's Demons' lead hitters were Debi Urbanek, Michelle Stimpson and Erin Haywood.

The Purple Hearts came from behind in the last inning to end their game with Jim Ghent's Bandits in a tie, 17-17. Lead hitters for the Hearts were Julie Tobias, Chris Young, Sheri Myers and Chris Tallman with triples. Mary Kemp hit a triple and Dianne Monroe had a double for the Bandits.

The Rats edged by the Speed Demons 21-20 on June 14 at Dana Field. Winning pitcher was Kim Ritter. Contributing to the win with good hits were Jeanne Rossi, Stacy Norris, Jennifer Rossi, Kim Ritter and Barb Scriven. The Demons had excellent fielding by Beth Kenney and Jennifer McKern. Lead hitter was Debi Urbanek.

The Yellow Stingers and the Bandits ended their second game of play in a 14-14 tie at Dana Field on June 14 as well.

The Moody Blues defeated the Purple Hearts 14-12 at Dana field. The win went to pitcher Meredith Hall. Kim Easton went three for three with a triple and two singles. Sarah Schaefer and Lisa McGilmen contributed to the win with a home run, and Heather Niebauer led the team with hits. Despite a strong performance by the Hearts, the sluggers on the Moody Blues took the game.

In Midget League play on June 12 the Pink Panthers edged by Peppermint Patties 7-2. Winning pitchers were Erika Boughton and Beth Bell. Lead hitters for the Patties were Christin Burg, Brandi Kenney and Jennifer Cacciali. Good fielding for the Patties by Martina Street, Richelle Jones and Tina Hassett were reported.

The Pink Panthers defeated the Unicorns 12-1 on league opening day. Lead hitters for the Panthers were Charity Allen with a home run, and Jenny Petty and Jenny Tear with doubles. Amy Mitchell was the lead hitter for the Unicorns.

On June 14 the Pink Panthers, coached by Lynn Fowler and JoEllen Bell defeated Judy Jede's Unicorns 6-0.

The Purple Panthers defeated Joe and Marge Ceccacci's Peppermint Patties 16-5. Winning pitchers were Carrie Flintoff and Kelly Cross. Five home runs were hit by Kelly Cross, Jenny Teare, Carrie Flintoff, Rebecca Shures and Kelly Bellus. Lead hitters for the Patties were Melissa Hubert, Melissa Thiel, Lindsay Johnson and Charity Sutherland.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

It was getting dark and I had spent a long day sitting in the press tent at the University of Michigan golf course covering the final round of the Big Ten tournament. There is no more boring or frustrating assignment for a sports writer. You can't see what's happening because the action is spread out over 80 acres. You sit there and wait for the players to finish and report their scores, and tell you about how well or poorly they played.

Somebody poked his head into the tent and announced, "Hey, there's a kid from Ohio State out there burning up the course. If he pars the 18th, he's got a new course record."

I wandered out to the edge of the 18th green, a tough finishing hole. Looking down the fairway, I could barely make out in the gloom the figure of a heavy-set young man getting ready to swing. Plunk. The ball came in dead on the pin, carried a bit long, bit and spun backward and came to rest about 10 feet from the flag.

A minute or so later a blond and somewhat overweight golfer strode onto the green, studied the putt, and smacked it. Plunk again as the ball dropped into the cup. He had shot a 65 on a very tough par 72 golf course.

I walked up and introduced myself, and asked him who he was. "I'm Jack Nicklaus," he answered. "I had a pretty good round, but I hit a couple of bad shots. I've got to work on some things."

That was the only time in my life that I ever talked to Nicklaus, but I have since watched him a lot as he went on to become the greatest golfer in the history of the game.

He has won more tournaments, more major tournaments, more money, more everything than anybody else in the history of golf. Most impressive to me is that he has a life-time strokes-per-round average of down close to 70 after more than 20 years on the pro tour. At 44, Nicklaus is an "old" professional athlete. He's still playing and still competing. He's not quite as good as he used to be, and one has to hope that he will have the grace and sense to quit while he's ahead. One of the sadder sights in the sports world is that of a player past his prime trying to prove that he still has the abilities that he obviously has lost from getting old. Sam Snead and Arnold Palmer, a couple of other great golfers, carried on their careers too long, and made hollow jokes out of themselves.

Nicklaus doesn't play in many tournaments these days, and that's good. He should show up at the majors, play as a celebrity, and reap the rewards of acclaim that he has earned. So long as he can shoot respectably—he won a tournament a few weeks ago—and finish up toward the top, he will delight those of us who have followed his all-time-great career.

Nicklaus certainly doesn't need the money. He has made himself a multi-millionaire from his tournament winnings, product endorsements and success as a golf course designer and builder. Any prize money he earns by playing just complicates his income tax return. (At last look, he had about $200,000 worth of those complications this year, and was still averaging under 71 strokes per round.)

Golf is a devilishly difficult game to play consistently well, and Nicklaus has mastered it better than anybody else before or since. He does it all—drives, fairway shots, approaches, pitches, chips, putts. For us hackers who take pride in stringing together two or three good shots, Nicklaus' ability to hit the ball right on just about every stroke with every club around 18 holes borders on the unbelievable.

During more than 20 years Nicklaus has been the world's top golfer, the favorite to win every tournament he enters. He hasn't won them all, of course, but he has come home in front more times than anybody else ever has.

Applying the criterion of dominance as the measure of greatness in sports, Nicklaus has been one of the two best athletes of my time. Nobody else has done better at his game than he has. He has been at the top longer than any other player in any other game.

An added measure of distinction is that Nicklaus has molded himself into a fine person. He was kind of abrasive when I interviewed him more than 20 years ago, defensive and abrupt. He seemed to resent my talking to him. He was overweight and kind of shabby looking.

That negative image carried over into his early years on the pro tour. People were rooting against him and resenting his winning. Nicklaus changed that. Today he is recognized as golf's premiere player and spokesman, and he gets stand-up ovations when he comes walking down the fairways, smiling and waving to the gallery. He is much slimmer, impeccably dressed and hair-styled. He is gracious in interviews, and what he says makes a lot of sense. He is a model of the all-time great athlete that he is.

4-H CLUBS

ROGERS CORNERS HERDSMAN
The meeting of Rogers Corners Herdsman 4-H Club was called to order Tuesday, June 5. Melinda McCalla demonstrated what is done to new-born piglets. The club decided to sponsor the first place Sweepstakes Showmanship Trophy at the Chelsea Fair. We are also selling Chelsea Sesquicentennial books. The club voted on king and queen candidates for the 4-H show. The queen candidates are seniors Karen Mc-Calla and Lucinda McCalla. The king candidates are seniors Jeff Morgan and Tim Osentoski.
There will be a parent-leader get together June 18 at 8 p.m. in the Lima Township Hall. Coffee and rolls will be served. Come and have fun!
Marty Heller, reporter.

BURGER WAR
Miami-Burger King is spending $40 million trying to revive the sizzle in the "burger wars" advertising battle with a new set of television commercials aimed at promoting its flame-broiled hamburgers over those "fried"
by its two chief rivals.

CHS Class of '34 Gathers For 50th-Year Reunion

It was an evening filled with old friends sharing old times and making new memories as the Chelsea High school class of 1934 celebrated their 50th-year class reunion.

The class met for dinner in the Chelsea Community Hospital banquet facilities last Saturday, June 16. They dined on a succulent meal of prime rib or stuffed chicken breasts.

Eleven classmates were able to attend the reunion out of the original graduating class of 32. Eight were unable to make the event, and 13 have since died. One former CHS class of '34 student, Roger Hinderer, came all the way from Arkansas to see old friends at the gathering.

According to reunion co-ordinator and class of '34 member Annabelle Gochanour, lots of long overdue visiting took place at the reunion, since there was 50 years worth of catching up to do. "Most of the people who came (to the reunion) I hadn't seen in 50 years," said Gochanour.

Members of the class of 1934 who were able to attend the event were, Mildred Beeman Carty of Jackson, Ruth Faist Clarke of Horton, Annabelle Vicary Gochanour of Chelsea, Helen Hofferik of Milan, Roger Hinderer of Arkansas, Walter Hinderer of Manchester, Jean Irwin Johnsen of Stanwood, Donald Rank of Plymouth, Dora Scripser Roderick of Ypsilanti, Milo Taber of Michigan Center and Johanna Brueckner Warren who now lives in Jackson.

Those members of the class of '34 who still survive but were unable to attend the reunion are: Barbara Bleeker Crossman now of Florida, Margaret Merkel Douglas of Washington state, Leona Weinberg Foster of Chelsea, Pearl Hartman Hafley of Ann Arbor, Arlene Satterthwaite Klager of Florida, Matthew McGaffigan also of Florida, Paul Nicolai of Chelsea, and Tom Walworth of Oregon.

Class officers for the graduating class of 1934 were Milo Taber, president; Donald Rank, vice-president; Barbara Bleeker Crossman, secretary; Roger Hinderer, treasurer; and superintendent Blecher, head of Chelsea schools at the time, was the class sponsor.

Exchange Students Will Leave Chelsea With Good Memories

It has been a good year for the foreign exchange students who attended Chelsea High school during the past 10 months and are getting ready to go home in July. All three youngsters received their senior diplomas at CHS graduation exercises. They are: Olav Meyer of Bremen, West Germany; Elizabeth Lindstrom of Andeholmen, Sweden, and Sabine Kuhr of Papenburg, West Germany. All three are 17 years old, and all will take back fond memories of their stay in Chelsea.

Temporary parents for the trio were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Vogel of Werkner Rd., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee of Hay Rake Hollow, and Mr. and Mrs. William Rosenberg of Riker Rd.

The students were unanimously enthusiastic in praising the people in whose homes they have lived. "We were accepted and treated as members of the family, and that was very nice," one said, and the other two quickly echoed that sentiment.

They all added that they had found easy acceptance within the high school student body and little trouble making friends. "The other students were interested in us, and we were interested in them," one said. "We had no trouble making contacts and getting along."

The fact that all three speak excellent English undoubtedly helped a lot. They had studied the language in their European schools for as long as six years before coming here and were fluent upon arrival.

"I have learned a lot of slang and some bad words that I didn't know before," one commented.

All got into extra-curricular activities while keeping up in their class work. Olav was on the tennis and swimming teams, and played trumpet in the marching band. Sabine played volleyball. Elizabeth competed on the cross country and track teams, and worked on the yearbook.

Two said they socialized by dating, and one said proudly that "I was invited to the prom, and I went."

Olav plans to pursue a career in computer science when he returns home. Sabine is considering dentistry, and Elizabeth says she doesn't know yet what she wants to do in the future and is still making up her mind.

An irony of their stay in Chelsea is that they will be penalized for it when they re-enter school in their native countries. They will receive no credit for the work they did here.

West German schools operate on a 13-year track, which means that Olav and Sabine will have three more years of high school to complete. Elizabeth will have two under the Swedish system.

All three agreed that they weren't impressed much by a tour of downtown Detroit. They weren't at all critical of Chris Dimanen and Gene LaFave, the guidance counsellors who conducted them on the trip, but had nothing nice to say about the city itself.

"It's too big, too crowded, too dirty and has too much traffic," one summed up. "I just didn't like it. Chelsea is nice. Detroit isn't."

Olav, Elizabeth and Sabine are looking forward to going home and resuming relationships with their families and friends in their native lands.

All made it plain, however, that they would do it over again if offered the opportunity to spend a year in Chelsea. "It has been an experience that most persons our age don't have a chance to get," one said, "and we're grateful for it."

Council Approves Giving Information To News Reporters

The village council has agreed that news reporters should be offered the same packets of background information provided to council members prior to meetings.

The packets are to be available to the press at the village hall on Friday afternoons before council meetings, which are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

'Annie' Story Will Be Told By Players

It is December of 1933 and America is deep in the midst of the Great Depression. The play opens in the drab orphanage where we first meet Annie and her 10 orphan friends. We also meet the evil, wicked, slimy Miss Hannigan. The girls are up at 4 a.m. fighting and awaken Miss Hannigan, who puts them to work. The next morning, Annie takes a chance and escapes. She feels her parents are still alive and wants to find them.

After her escape, she meets up with a sad-faced mutt she names Sandy. The two of them come across a depression-era "Hooverville" filled with down-and-outers. After having dinner with the bums, Annie is caught in the middle of a police raid and returned to the orphanage. Just as Miss Hannigan is going to clobber her, Grace Farrell enters.

Grace Farrell is the private secretary to billionaire Oliver Warbucks. Mr. Warbucks has decided to invite an orphan to stay with him in his mansion for the Christmas Holiday. Naturally, Annie is chosen to go. Back at the mansion, Warbucks doesn't like Annie at first. "Orphans are boys!" he snarls. But as time goes by, he develops a real fondness for her. It goes to such a degree, that he decides to adopt her. Annie, becoming hysterical, tells him she wants to find her real parents. Warbucks, for once at a loss for words, agrees to help.

Act two begins with Warbucks offering a $50,000 reward for anyone who can prove they are Annie's parents. A locket, left with Annie at the orphanage 11 years ago is the crucial piece of evidence. Hundreds of couples claim to be her parents, but nobody knows anything about the locket.

Then, Miss Hannigan's even more evil, slimy and wicked brother, Rooster, along with his schlep girl friend, Lily, come to Hannigan with a plan to cheat Warbucks out of the $50,000 and get rid of Annie once and for all. "When I want something to disappear, it disappears," Rooster leers, waving about a switch-blade. Just as Warbucks is going to sign the adoption papers, all callers proving to be fakes, Rooster and Lily appear at his house and know about the locket. They must be the real parents. Grace Farrell encountered Rooster once, however, but can't remember where. She tells Warbucks there's something phony about the couple. Then Warbucks goes to work, with the help of President Roosevelt and the Secret Service to find out what really happened.

For the end of the story, the Chelsea Area Players wish to invite all to come and see their upcoming production of "Annie," which will be presented July 19-20-21 at Chelsea High School Auditorium.

Summer Tennis Leagues Forming

Anyone interested in playing summer tennis should sign up for a specific tennis league at the Recreation office by June 30. Leagues are starting a little late this year because of construction of new courts at the high school. With luck the players will be able to use them part of the summer. Leagues will be formed by the number of entrants registered.

Please register at the Recreation office and pay the $2 entry fee at that time. An entry fee is necessary to pay for the first and second place trophies in each division. If a league does not get at least eight entrants it will not be started. Leagues possible are women's, men's, mixed, and junior boys and girls, both singles and doubles.

The first organization of black workers was the American League of Colored Laborers, founded in 1850 in New York City.

PITCHING IN: The Rev. Edwin Weiss, former administrator of the Chelsea Methodist Home and present resident of the complex, pitches in with a shovel at the recent ground-breaking ceremonies in honor of the Methodist Home's new nursing-care facility project. The project is one of two phases to be undertaken at the complex, and will cost an estimated $5.5 million. The project is scheduled for completion next year.

Women's Softball League Results

Results of last week's competition in the Chelsea Women's Recreational Softball League were:

BookCrafters 7, Tower Mart-Chelsea Pharmacy 3.
Jiffy Mix 17, Big Boy 7.
Chelsea State Bank 14, Palmer Ford 3.

In the Jiffy Mix-Big Boy contest, Mary Rickman and Cheri Clark each drove in three runs for Jiffy. Charlene Wren had three hits and scored three runs while batting in two.

Carolyn Park smacked a three-run homer for Tower Mart-Chelsea Pharmacy to account for all of her team's three runs.
