Officials Ponder Lack of Zoning On Four Parcels

Four parcels of land annexed by Chelsea between 1977 and 1984 have not been zoned, assistant administrator Charles Winans has informed the village board of trustees.

They are:
Village wastewater plant property—4.33 acres east of McKinley St. Adjacent property zoned residential. Annexed Sept. 21, 1977.

School district property—37.85 acres fronting on Freer Rd. south of the high school. Adjacent property zoned residential. Annexed Aug. 2, 1978.

Ann Arbor Trust Co. (Citizens Trust) property—1.81 acres west of Old Manchester Rd. Adjacent property zoned commercial. Annexed Feb. 21, 1979.

Duane Downer property—8.3 acres at the north end of Freer Rd. east of Chelsea-Dexter Rd. Adjacent property zoned agricultural. Annexed July 11, 1984.

The lands are literally in limbo so far as zoning is concerned.

Former township zoning no longer applies in three instances.

Annexed properties retain their former township zoning for two years or until the village does something. The Downer property thus retains its agricultural zoning. The other three parcels carry no zoning at all.

There is a question whether village and school lands have to be zoned, so long as they are used in compliance with their intended public purposes. On private lands an absence of zoning gives the owner free rein to do whatever he wants in the way of development.

Village officials are studying the problem, with an indication that an appropriate amendment to the zoning ordinance will be prepared to make the four parcels "legal" under the law.

Antique Doll Collection To Be Displayed

Privately-owned displays will be showcased during the open house festivities of The Dollhouse House in Grass Lake, Oct. 12-14.

Among the displays is a collection of 13 antique dolls owned by Rita Cook of Grass Lake. The collection will be shown accompanied by some history of the dolls. The collection includes a doll which came to Grass Lake on a wagon train, and a three-generation set of dolls. The dolls will be displayed in an antique general store case.

On Saturday and Sunday, Rita Hasbuck will be on hand to appraise antique dolls. She will also bring reproductions of antique dolls which won her national awards.

Madame Alexander dolls will also be on display.

Miniature displays include a cabin, kitchen, locker room, stores and other room houses. On Saturday, from 10 to 5 p.m., Louise Trolz will demonstrate fimo, a clay used to make fruits, vegetables, candy and other items for dolls.

Besides the displays, there will be several drawings including give-aways of Cabbage Patch Kids, a miniature greenhouse, and door prizes.

The open house commemorates the second anniversary since Linda Watters bought the store. Watters added dolls and teddy bears to the store's line-up of miniatures and doll houses.

The prime rib dinner for 70 workers and spouses was donated by the hospital. Thanks were given to the hospital and its culinary staff as well as to the banquet committee which consisted of Cindy Harrison, Scott Tanner, Lang Ramsey, Gloria Mitchell and Jill Taylor.

A United Way film, "The Winners," featuring Coach John Madden, was enjoyed by all in attendance with the exception of a select group of workers who have been chosen to call upon commercial donors during the campaign. While the film was running, they met in a nearby conference room with commercial leader William Bott to receive their campaign kits and instructions.

Sibley Rd. Residents Told Annexation Needed

Residents along Sibley Rd. who are interested in tapping in to a new water main being extended to Chelsea's industrial park have been advised that they must petition to have their properties annexed into the village.

Four owners—Richard Cesarz, Robert J. Schuelke, David Aronson, and Ralph Oesterle—have inquired about the availability of village water.

There are several other owners along the north side of Sibley Rd. between M-52 (N. Main St.) and Werkner Rd. During discussion, members of the village council suggested that they should all be annexed as a bloc, rather than piece-meal.

That would mean getting all the owners to join in a petition for annexation, which would eventually have to be approved by county officials.

The lands are presently in Sylvan township. Coming into the village would mean paying for both water and sewer service, and also village taxes.

The station is owned and operated by Lenawee Fuels Co. of Tecumseh. James Lawson and Dan Purkey are the co-owners of the firm. Dave Purkey manages the Chelsea station.

The gas station-grocery store will be open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"We realize we are coming into a tough local market, where there are already several convenience stores," Dave Purkey said. "We are going to try it and see how we do."

Conversion of the former service bays required several months and an undisclosed sum of money.

After a heated meeting of the Sylvan Township Planning Commission, Monday night, Sept. 28, it was the decision of the commission to adjourn the meeting until Oct. 5 in order to study the issue more clearly. The permit was taken under advisement.

The meeting concerned granting to the Michigan Livestock Exchange a Conditional Use Permit to construct a facility for the auction and private sale of livestock. MICHIGAN MIRROR
By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press AssociationState Completes $450 Million Note Sale

State officials and investors have completed the sale of $40 million in short-term notes and State Treasurer Robert Bowman said the presence on the November ballot of the Voter's Choice tax amendment increased borrowing costs by as much as $2.8 million.

The state is paying 7 percent interest on the notes plus $1.8 million for a line of credit arranged through New York's Citibank, an additional security which enabled the notes to carry the highest rating of the two major rating services.

Bowman said the state's financial position has improved so much it could have considered trying to once again borrow funds without backup credit support of banks, but the presence of Proposal C precluded that.

"Next year, I can assure you that if we defeat Proposal C, we will not need a credit facility," Bowman said.

Bowman acknowledged that opinion is mixed on Wall Street on whether the state needed the line of credit this year.

Bowman said the notes, being sold to cover the state's cash flow problems at the beginning of the fiscal year, bear a higher interest rate due to the presence of Proposal C, at an additional cost of as much as $1 million.

Although the state will, in effect, pay 7 percent interest on $450 million, it technically is paying 7 3/8 percent interest while receiving about $453 million from investors.

The higher face interest rate serves as a buffer for investors to keep the notes more marketable for resale if their value would otherwise drop due to such things as passage of Proposal C or a downturn in the auto industry, Bowman said.

Citibank's Richard Kezer concurred with Bowman's assessment. He said the concern of the financial community about Proposal C, "is what it raises in the minds of investors of the mood in the state of Michigan and the ability of Michigan to meet its needs. Our principal concern is the inability to react to problems in the future."

The proposal would roll tax and fee rates to 1981 levels and require increases to be approved by voters or a four-fifths majority of the state Legislature to local government legislative bodies. The rollbacks would mean about a $1 billion loss in state revenues.

Steward Fuchs of the Goldman, Sachs investment house said the proposal is "more radical" than either the famed California tax cut or a Massachusetts tax cut, both of which affected local, not state, authority.

The total interest/line of credit cost on the $450 million is $33.3 million compared to $36.5 million last year on a $500 million note sale at an interest rate of 6.15 percent and line of credit costs of $3.4 million.

The money, to be delivered Oct. 1, is to meet state cash needs for payments to schools, colleges and local governments.

A $380 million payment to schools is due Oct. 1 and $50 million to colleges and universities will be sent in the 10 days after, and the rest to local governments.

Flu Shots Scheduled For Seniors

Two flu shot clinics for senior citizens will be conducted on Thursday, Oct. 4 and 11 at 12:45 p.m. at the Chelsea Senior Citizens Center in North school. All persons over the age of 50 are eligible to receive these injections.

The clinic is sponsored by the University of Michigan Family Practice Center. Nurses from the Family Practice Center will assist at this clinic.

Anyone who is allergic to chicken eggs should not participate in the program. Those who do qualify for the program should check with their physician to determine the advisability of receiving the immunizations.

A special reduced fee of $4 has been established. This reduced rate applies only to the flu shots given in these two special clinics at the Senior Citizens Center at North school.

Pre-registration is requested by calling the Chelsea Community Education Center at 475-9830.

Until 1796 there was a state in the U.S. called Franklin. Today it is known as Tennessee.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:*DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The mother had two sons. One went to sea, the other became vice president and neither one was ever heard from again. One of the fellers recalled that old saying early in the session at the country store Saturday night, and Bug Hookum was quick to say that won't be the case this year.

The Democrats are coming with the first woman ever to run for the job, Bug said, and the Republicans have the first man ever to run again a woman for the job. For both sides, he declared, it's a different kind of race. For one difference, he said, Ferraro is getting more attention than her running mate, and Bush is having to run harder and a heap more carefully. He's got to draw attention from the women, Bug explained, but he can't play the old game of building himself up by tearing the other guy down cause there's too many wimmen that would take that as the reason they're looking fer to vote Democrat.

Clem Webster said the way Bush is going they ain't much chance of him being fergot. Clem had saw where Bush said the other day that the Reagan Administration will have no trouble winning the farm vote "once farmers understand what we're doing for em." Democrat Clem said that kind of talk will git attention fer sure.

To understand what the Reagan-Bush team is doing fer em, Clem said, farmers need to know that farm debt now is $215 billion, double what it was six year ago. There are more farm foreclosures sales now than in the Great Depression, Clem went on, and farmers need to understand that these usual return them 10 cent on the dollar's worth of equipment and land. Farmers ought to understand that 40 percent of em that have loans from the Farmers Home Administration are behind in their payments, and that the farmer's share of the food dollar has dropped from 59 cent to 27 cent over the past 27 year. With friends like they got in the White House, Clem said, farmers understand they don't need enemies.

Republican Ed Doolittle natural took up fer his side. He reminded Clem that the number of small farms in this country is growing, which means small farmers are gitting help where they didn't have it. Ed said U.S. Commerce Department figures show that farmers under 50 acres increased 17 percent from 1978 to 1983, and the drop in the number of all farms, has slowed to one percent a year, the smallest in more than 30 year.

Gitting back to the vice-presidents, Zeke Grubb had saw a report recent might give Bush a strong toehold with minority voters. Zeke said the white male now is outnumbered in the labor force, so Bush can stand up and count himself the champion of this minority. In fact, Zeke went on, there are two minorities on the Republican ticket, and the Democrats can't say that.

Furthermore, Zeke said, that same Government study that made white males a minority said they have more than their share of ulcers, heart attacks and migraine headaches. You can see, Zeke declared, what this can mean fer a smart candidate appealing to the gut issues of the voters.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.Matthew Schnaidt Officially Accepted As West Point Cadet

Matthew C. Schnaidt, son of Daniel J. and Joan M. Schnaidt of 20938 Waterloo Rd., Chelsea, has been officially accepted into the U. S. Military Academy's Corps of Cadets as a new member of the class of 1988 during the annual acceptance parade.

Marcia Lynne Beal of Grass Lake and Dennis Walz of Munith were married on Sept. 8 in Plainfield Methodist church before 150 guests. The Rev. William R. Donahue, Jr., of that church, administered the service. Daren Tippin sang "You Light Up My Life," and "Lord's Prayer."

About 400 guests attended the reception at the American Legion Hall in Stockbridge. Robin Guenther of Saline handled the guest book. Kathy Rider of Stockbridge and Deloris Fouty of Chelsea cut the cakes. Nancy Guenther of Saline poured the punch during dinner.

The bride is the daughter of Paul and Loretta Beal of Stockbridge. The bridegroom is the son of Duane and Maryann Walz of Munith.

The bride wore a full-length white organza gown with a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of miniature white orchids and ivy.

Dawn Smith of Munith was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters-in-law, Melissa Beal, and Theresa Beal and sister Denise Beal, all of Stockbridge. They wore light blue colonial style gowns and carried lanterns with variegated blue flowers.

The bride's mother wore an aqua-colored floor-length gown with a removable pleated jacket. The bridegroom's mother wore a long white dress with a cape of blue, pink and other colors over the top of the dress.

The bridegroom's brother, Rusty Walz of Munith, acted as best man. Ushers were the bride's brother Mark Beal, Mike Miller and Roger Proctor of Stockbridge.

The couple spent their wedding trip at Mackinac Island from Sunday until Tuesday. They stopped at Frankenmuth on their way home to Grass Lake.

The bride graduated from Stockbridge High school in 1981. The bridegroom has lived in Munith all his life and graduated from Stockbridge High in 1979. He is currently employed with Jule Eder and Sons of Chelsea.

Single Women Offered Help in Managing Life

Marion Prince of the Co-operative Extension Service will address a common concern of many women on Oct. 10 when she speaks on "Feeling Whole As A Single Person." This educational event will be at the County Service Center 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor, at 10 a.m. and is free to the public.

"Many challenges face single women and they need to take charge of their lives," says Ms. Prince. They must learn how to manage their finances, build a social network and get involved in productive activity. It is not easy to feel like a whole person living alone in our coupled society.

Despite this common image, the facts show a different story; the number of single women living alone is increasing. 85% of long-time married women survive their spouse and spend at least another eight years of their lives alone. Many women never marry and many become divorced and remain single. "We must change our mind-set about being single," says Ms. Prince, "if we want to strengthen women's self-concept."

Safe Food Book Offers Tips to Avoid Poisoning

When you lift the lid on left-overs long abandoned in the dark recesses of the fridge and get a whiff of something truly morbid, you know it's time to dump the whole thing out. You're not likely to eat anything that has obviously spoiled.

Food poisoning bacteria are another matter, however. They usually cannot be smelled or tasted, and that's what makes them so dangerous. You may not know anything is amiss until symptoms of poisoning begin to set in, two hours or two days later.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has prepared a 32-page food safety booklet that tells how to recognize and avoid unpleasant and dangerous encounters with these unseen gremlins. The Safe Food Book: Your Kitchen Guide is available free from the Consumer Information Center, Department 597M, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Salmonella bacteria cause one common type of food poisoning. Symptoms such as nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea can be very severe and require hospitalization, especially for younger children, the ill, and the elderly. Salmonella bacteria is often found in raw or undercooked foods, particularly meats. A watchful eye and a reliable meat thermometer can ensure sufficient "doneness" to ward off this particular offender. The Safe

Food Book includes a listing of minimum interior meat temperatures for safe eating.

Improper canning, especially home canning, can lead to the most deadly of all food poisoning, botulism. The poison attacks the nervous system, causing double vision, trouble swallowing and difficulty in breathing. If left untreated, it may lead to death. Danger signs are milky liquids surrounding vegetables, cracked jars, and swollen cans or lids. Suspected goods should be thrown away, carefully and immediately. Wrap the cans or jars in plastic, then in heavy paper bags, and deposit them in a secure trash can.

The Safe Food Book also contains a wealth of safety and economy tips for food preparation and storage, including what to do when the freezer fails, how to use your microwave oven most efficiently, and why you should never ever try to freeze mayonnaise (it makes an awful mess). It also advises what to do in case of actual food poisoning.

When you send for a copy of The Safe Food Book (free), you will also receive a free copy of Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the U.S. General Services Administration, the Catalog lists more than 200 other free and moderately priced federal booklets.

The club's next meeting will be a quilting bee at the home of Nancy Grau, Oct. 9. Guests are welcome.

Modern Mothers See Demonstration On Picture Framing

Twelve members and a guest, Anita McDonald, attended.

The next club meeting will be a craft workshop at the home of June Wilson on Oct. 9.

Color Tour Guide Ready For Tourists

This autumn, the Michigan Travel Bureau is guiding visitors not only to Michigan's brightest colors but also to some of its most delightful tastes.

A guide to Michigan's 14 wineries and 22 tasting rooms has joined the Autumn Color Tour Guide on the Bureau's autumn publications list. Each is available free from the Travel Bureau.

"The same Great Lakes breezes that temper Michigan's climate and produce a long, lingering autumn spectacle also provide an ideal climate for Michigan's small but select and growing wine industry," said John Savich, acting director of the bureau.

"As the cultivation of French Hybrid and Vitisfera grapes increases in Michigan, we can add another activity to the traditional list of leisure activities in Michigan—particularly during the autumn color tour season," he said.

With 17.5 million acres of forest, with more native varieties of trees than any other state, with its great north-to-south length, Michigan can put on a color show that is unmatched anywhere, he said.

Color usually starts in the tip of the Upper Peninsula between the middle of September and the first of October, working its way slowly down the state, reaching the southern border about the end of the month.

The autumn color tour guide consists of a dozen glovebox-sized cards mapping out 24 colorful tours—from the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula to the shores of Lake Erie—and listing activities and attractions along each route.

Copies of the Autumn Color Tour Guide and the wineries guide—as well as "Country Carousels," a Michigan Department of Agriculture guide to "pick-your-own" orchards and farms, roadside stands and farm markets, may be obtained by calling the Michigan Travel Bureau toll-free at: 1-800/292-2520 (in state), 1-800/248-5700 (out-of-state), or by writing to: Michigan Travel Bureau, P. O. Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

FIRST PRIZE PAINTING: This depiction of pheasants in winter won first place in the judging for the Michigan Wildlife Artist of the Year award. It was painted by Dietmar Krumrey of Manistique.

Cathy McClung Second In Wildlife Art Contest

Wildlife artist Cathy McClung of Dexter finished a very close second in the annual competition to determine Michigan's Wildlife Artist of the Year, sponsored by Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

Winner for the second year in succession was Dietmar Krumrey of Manistique with a painting of a pair of pheasants in winter.

McClung's second-place entry depicted a gray squirrel scrambling head-first down a tree with trilliums growing around the base of the trunk. Unfortunately, a photo-copy of the painting is not yet available.

"I'm disappointed, of course, but I'm also thrilled to have been judged second in a very close competition with 80 works entered. The judges at first called it a tie and then were told they had to make a decision and pick a winner. Dietmar's painting is beautiful, and I can't argue with the situation. I think mine was good, too. I worked awfully hard on it. I'll just have to work harder next time."

Cathy has placed high in several state and national wildlife art competitions, but has never won one. "Talk about always being a bridesmaid but never a bride, and I guess that describes me," she said, "but I'm going to keep trying."

Her choice of a squirrel as a subject was a departure for McClung, who has specialized in painting birds. "I got interested in gray squirrels last winter when they appeared in my yard (6172 Webster Church Rd.) and decided to try painting one in a spring setting. It was something different for me, and I enjoyed doing it."

The panel of judges was headed by internationally famous wildlife artist Guy Coheleach of Florida.

"Schaffer packs a lot of entertainment into this play, and we're all having a great time with it," Powers said. The play will run Oct. 25-29 in Mt. Pleasant.

Patrick is the son of Robert and Mary Powers of 1100 Clear Lake Rd., Grass Lake. He has taken courses at CMU in interpretation, acting, technical theater and directing. He also studies English and mathematics in a secondary education curriculum.

Fire Department Makes 32 Runs During August

Chelsea fire department runs continue to be well ahead of last year's pace, but there have been remarkably few building fires. Most of the alarms answered have been responses to medical emergencies and auto accidents.

The department made 32 runs in August, bringing the total for the year to 275, 72 more than during the first eight months of 1983. Eight of the calls originated in Chelsea, seven in Lyndon township, six in Sylvan and five in Lima.

MARK FREITAS Mark Freitas Selected as Commended Merit Finalist

Mark Freitas has been selected as a Commended National Merit Finalist. To qualify, Freitas had to score in the top 5% of more than 1,000,000 participants nationwide on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. As a commended finalist, Freitas has a greater possibility of receiving scholarships from colleges. He will also receive more literature from colleges soliciting him to attend. "It sort of puts a flag by his name," said Sue Carter, counselor at Chelsea High school. A senior at Chelsea High school, Freitas plays first chair trombone for the Chelsea High school band. He also plays piano in the school jazz band. Freitas will appear in the high school stage and drama production of "Our Town." He is also in the sound crew. To earn money, Freitas shelves books at McKune Memorial Library. He used the money he earned babysitting during the summer to buy a Sinclair computer. Freitas plans to attend the University of Michigan and study either computer programming or literature. "I would like to do research in artificial intelligence," he said. Freitas became interested in the field through programming his Sinclair and the family Atari computers as well as computers at the school. Besides music and drama, Freitas also likes to oil paint. He enjoys reading. Freitas is the son of Charles and Mary Jo Freitas. They have resided in Chelsea for six years. The family formerly lived in Saline, Ann Arbor and Milwaukee, Wis.

Dexter Area Youth Receives Marine Meritorious Award

Marine Lance Cpl. Randall R. Smith, son of Robert W. and Mardelle E. Smith of 7731 Scully Rd., Dexter, has been awarded a Meritorious Mast while serving with 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. A Meritorious Mast is official recognition from a Marine's commanding officer for superior individual performance. It is issued in the form of a bulletin published throughout the command, and a copy is entered in the Marine's permanent service records. American Farm Bureau President Robert Delano called President Reagan's decision not to impose quotas and higher tariffs on steel imports "an appropriate response to unfair steel trade practices." Rather than imposing quotas and higher tariffs, President Reagan directed U. S. Trade Representative William Brock to consult with countries diverting steel imports to the U. S. because of other nations' import quotas and work toward reducing steel imports to a level of about 18% of all steel consumed here. Delano said the president's action also "defuses protectionist steel bills now before Congress." Farmers were concerned about retaliation from importers of U. S. agricultural commodities if the quotas and higher tariffs had been imposed.

Catherine Durkin Wins Service Award Honor

Catherine Durkin, administrator of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, was honored recently as the recipient of the 1984 Distinguished Service Award from the Michigan Non-profit Homes Association (MNPHA). The award was given at MNPHA's 16th annual convention, held in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Durkin was honored for her advocacy and leadership in founding the special treatment center for Alzheimer's and related dementias at the Chelsea facility. The center, known as Wesley Hall, provides special treatment for 11 residents who are afflicted with Alzheimer's or related dementias. Wesley Hall has gained national and state-wide attention as a humane, progressive treatment modality. Working in a small group setting, residents are involved in their treatment, assisting with housekeeping, baking, performing volunteer work and hosting social events. Instances of insomnia, incontinence and other symptoms of stress have been reduced. The unit has also earned the respect and appreciation of involved families, who frequently comment on changes in their relatives: less anxiety; higher motivation, and improved morale. In announcing the award, MNPHA President Nicholas Meima, administrator of Glacier Hills in Ann Arbor, stated that Mrs. Durkin's "persistence and devotion to the needs of these special residents exemplifies the highest level of administrative excellence, and brings credit to non-profit facilities across the state. The unit also instills courage and hope in all of us that miracles can be accomplished." Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association represents more than 95 religious, fraternal and community-based agencies which provide nursing home, residential, independent living housing and related services to more than 16,000 older persons across the state.

CHILD SAFETY PROGRAM: Chelsea police chief Lenard McDougall and Sandy Benes, co-ordinator for the Michigan Child Safety Council, display a plaque showing that Chelsea is participating in the program again this year.

Child Safety Program Will Focus on Sexual Abuse

The Michigan Child Safety Council of Jackson and the Chelsea Police Department are co-operating again this year in a program to promote child safety and drug education.

Contributions of $1,476 will be sought from local business and industry to finance the program. It works out to about 98 cents per child.

Topics included are smoking, alcohol, drug abuse and sexual molestation, along with fingerprinting for identifications and techniques to use in medical emergencies.

"We're going to come down hard this year on sexual abuse," said Sandy Benes, co-ordinator for the Child Safety Council. "It's a problem that has been around for a long time but is just now beginning to come out into the open. We're hearing more and more stories from young adults who were sexually abused as children."

"It's a nasty thing to talk about, but the problem is there, and everybody might as well face up to it. You have it in Chelsea. Every community has it."

The education program will zero in both on ways to avoid sexual abuse and reporting it when it does occur.

The Child Safety Council will provide more than 4,000 pieces of literature and other materials to supplement programs presented by the Chelsea Police Department.

Traffic safety will continue to be emphasized, as will the hazards of alcohol and drugs.

Purpose of the program is to try to curb juvenile accidents, crime and victimizations.

Mrs. Dudley Holmes, Chelsea Blood Bank chairman is reminding people of the community that a blood donor clinic will be held here Friday of next week.

In announcing the blood donor clinic, Mrs. Holmes pointed out that this is the first time in the history of the Chelsea Community Blood Bank that it has used up all blood contributed. In addition, it is 15 pints in arrears. The 15 pints must be paid back to the Detroit Regional Center after the Oct. 14 clinic.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Oct. 12, 1950—

S. R. Booker, vice-president and secretary of the Federal Screw Works and general manager of the Chelsea plant, announced Monday that construction is to begin next week on an addition to the local plant which will add 17,000 square feet of floor space. The new building will face S. Main St. and will be located directly south of the Consumers Power Co. sub-station. The building site included a small piece of land recently purchased from Consumers Power Co., located at the south edge of the Consumers' property; also, the Screw company's property presently used as a driveway and all of the former Faber property south of the shop driveway bought by the company last spring.

The new addition will differ from the present building in that it will be 30 feet high. General type of construction will be substantially the same, however, utilizing structured steel framework. Face brick will be used on the Main St. frontage of approximately 103 feet and concrete blocks are to form the remaining walls. Windows similar to those in the rest of the plant will face east and south.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, superintendent-manager for the Washtenaw County Road Commission, said yesterday that he had just been advised by the road commission's lawyers that the Ingham County Circuit court had reversed the order directing the road commission to install a flasher signal at the Notten Rd. railroad crossing.

Oct. 1, 1948, the Michigan Public Service commission ordered the flasher signal installed "within nine months" following action on a request for the flasher made by the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education. School buses must cross the New York Central tracks at the Notten Rd. crossing and school officials contended the flasher was a necessary safety measure. The view from the west is obscured, especially for south-bound traffic, and several fatal accidents have occurred there in the past.

Manchester Schools Start Repair Work

Manchester Community Schools have given special attention to the condition of the masonry and concrete through the school district.

Recently completed projects include a new sidewalk at the high school, a brick extension on the chimney at Klager and replacement of the west entrance at the Ackerson building.

Superintendent Gene Thompson commented, "Several areas had deteriorated into a pretty awful condition. As part of our continued maintenance program using the 1.5 special millage we are trying to give attention to these areas. The sidewalk at the high school was replaced during the summer. It was badly needed. A few years ago we had a problem with the chimney at Klager being too low. We had put a metal extension in place but a storm last spring blew it down. We decided to use the special millage money to make a permanent and more attractive repair. Another bad area was the west entrance at Ackerson. We are replacing the sidewalk steps along with the brick columns on either side. Again, we are attempting to use the money as the voters intended to improve the condition of the building."

Whenever possible the Manchester schools award these contracts to local firms. The John Schable Co. of Manchester received the contract for all three of these projects.

Deer Herd Overpopulation Measure Studied

Legislation that would increase the number of deer that may be taken by individuals with camp permits in a season from two to three is being supported by the Michigan Farm Bureau. According to legislative counsel Ron Nelson, the organization supports Senate Bills 724-725 because "it's a step toward addressing the problem of overpopulation of deer and the resulting problem of crop damage."

"It's recognition of the significant economic impact that wildlife can have on a farmer's pocketbook because of crop damage. The damage to plants and trees each year represents a significant loss of revenue to the farmer," Nelson said.

"I don't think farmers in this state are opposed to deer; I think they probably enjoy them as much or maybe more than the general public. But when the deer herd becomes overpopulated in an area and significant crop loss

JOHN WELLNITZ admits to being "a little old and tired" at age 80, and so is retiring as manager of the Chelsea Community Fair service center at the end of this year. He has managed the center since it was opened in 1971.

John Wellnitz Leaving Fair Service Center

John Wellnitz, who has managed the Chelsea Community Fair service center building since it was constructed in 1971, is leaving the position.

Wellnitz submitted his resignation, effective Jan. 1, 1985, at the Sept. 20 meeting of the fair board. "I'm 80 years old and I'm tired," Wellnitz said when asked why he is giving up the job. "I've agreed to help find a successor and to work with him until he or she is broken in."

The position is unsalaried, but its holder does receive a percentage of fees paid by persons who rent the service center.

"It just about pays you for your time at the minimum wage rate," Wellnitz said. "It's definitely not a full-time job that provides a living. The fair does not have any salaried employees."

Anyone interested in the position should contact Wellnitz at 475-1518.

Wellnitz has been associated with the Chelsea fair since 1968, and was fair board treasurer from that year until 1976. He took on the duty of managing the service center in 1971, when it was built and opened, and has done it since.

In other business conducted at the Sept. 20 fair board meeting, with 18 persons including all officers present:

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted, and bills ordered paid.

The annual fair meeting for member, and life members was set for 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, at the service center. The next regular board meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 18.

Student Council Sponsors Dance

Chelsea High school's student council is sponsoring a dance after the Hartland football game, Friday, Oct. 5. A disc jockey will provide the music.

"Kids like the disc jockeys because they play the latest records. The cost of live bands is fairly prohibitive," explained principal John Williams.

Admittance costs $2 per person or $3 per couple. Jeans are permitted although dress-up is preferred.

Student council uses the money raised to fund projects during the school year, such as the homecoming activities, student leadership seminars, campus beautification and the new message board.

that can add to the holiday spirit. The money raised from the project will go to support scholarships and speech therapy. Working with the angels, from left to right, are Gloria Mitchell, Ann Lee, Marsy Doan, Jeanene Reimenschneider, Lucy VanRiper, and Nettie Severn.

Craig Leach Recovering at Mott's Hospital

Craig Leach is a patient at Mott's Childrens Hospital, Ann Arbor and not at Chelsea Community Hospital as reported last week.

Craig is making a miraculous recovery from an accident on Aug. 30, according to latest reports from his parents, Merle and Ruth Leach.

Nature Unit Will Re-Open, Local Club Promised

"The Waterloo Nature Center will be back in operation perhaps as soon as 1985 and certainly by 1986. This is not an official statement, but a matter of personal conviction," George Rob, park manager of the Waterloo Recreation Area, stated.

He expressed this feeling at a special meeting of officers of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club which was convened to offer the club's assistance in continuing the activities of the center.

Lack of state funds and private support closed the center at the end of September. A special concern was to provide heat for the nature center building, not only to protect the structure itself but to safeguard valuable exhibits of flora and fauna.

Fred Klink, president and chief conservation officer of the Rod and Gun Club, expressed the club's willingness to shelter some of the exhibits during a no-heat emergency. Rob replied that he had just succeeded in obtaining funds for fuel to maintain a temperature of 55 degrees through the forthcoming winter.

He confirmed the fact that interpretive programs for school groups and members of the Waterloo Natural History Association will continue. Meetings will be held in other actively maintained buildings in the state recreation area.

Rob praised Carol Strahler and her associates in the WNHA for their determined devotion to the Waterloo Nature Center and its programs.

Chelsea Halted Just Short of Victory In Loss to Lincoln

The difference between victory and defeat in sports can be agonizingly small, and in the case of Chelsea's 14-13 varsity football loss at Lincoln last Friday night it was about 12 inches.

The Bulldogs scored on a dramatic 80-yard drive begun with less than three minutes on the clock, then went for a two-point conversion that would have given them a win.

Captain Dave Steinhauer, making his first start at left halfback, took a hand-off from quarterback Dan Bellus and powered up the middle. He was stopped a foot short of the goal line, and that was the ball game.

"We could have gone for a tie and, overtime," coach Gene LaFave said afterward, "and maybe would have if our regular place-kicker had been available."

Kicker Jim Toon was on crutches on the sidelines with a knee injury suffered two games ago. Substitute Biff Bunten had booted the extra point after Chelsea's first score—the first he had ever attempted in a game—and later had a field goal try blocked.

"It would have been putting an awful lot of pressure on Bunten to ask him to kick in that last-second situation," LaFave said, "so I decided to go for two. I thought we could make it, but we didn't. It was awfully close, but we were clearly stopped short."

That play was a fitting climax to a dandy high school football game which was close, tense and hard-hitting throughout. The two teams were about as evenly matched as the final score suggests. Both were ready to go all-out and did.

Lincoln took the opening kickoff and put together a pretty 10-play, 67-yard touchdown drive climaxed by a 13-yard scoring pass from Jeff Sloan to Kevin Hayes on a fourth-and-goal play. The extra-point kick try went wide.

Chelsea came back with an excellent drive midway through the second quarter, capped by Bellus' eight-yard dash into the end zone on another fourth-down play. Bunten's PAT kick barely cleared the cross-bar, but it was good enough to give the Bulldogs a 7-6 lead at the half.

The third quarter was scoreless, as were the first eight minutes of the fourth. Both teams made promising threats only to be stopped by determined defenses.

Lincoln got the go-ahead touchdown with 4:14 left following a pass interception that gave the Railsplitters good field position. Sloan went over from the two after keeping the drive alive with a 13-yard scramble on what was supposed to be a fourth-down pass play.

Sloan then tossed to Ron Parks for what turned out to be the decisive two points.

The Bulldogs lost the ball on a fumble of the ensuing kickoff but got it back on their own 20 with 2:27 to go. Bellus, who played an outstanding game as did Sloan, completed a series of passes to take the ball down to the Railsplitter three, from where Scott Miller banged it over with a fine individual effort.

Then came the just-short conversion attempt and the final 14-13 score.

Chelsea tried an onside kick, which Lincoln recovered, and the clock ran out.

"We played well and they played well," LaFave commented. "It was a good ball game."

"The difference was that they made more big plays than we did. We eliminated most of the mistakes that we have been making in earlier games, and that is encouraging. It was by far our best game of the season, and it's disappointing that we couldn't win it."

"But I'll tell you, the boys tried and gave it everything they had. I couldn't ask for better effort. Our defense was outstanding. Lincoln is big and has a lot of speed. Holding them to 14 points is an accomplishment."

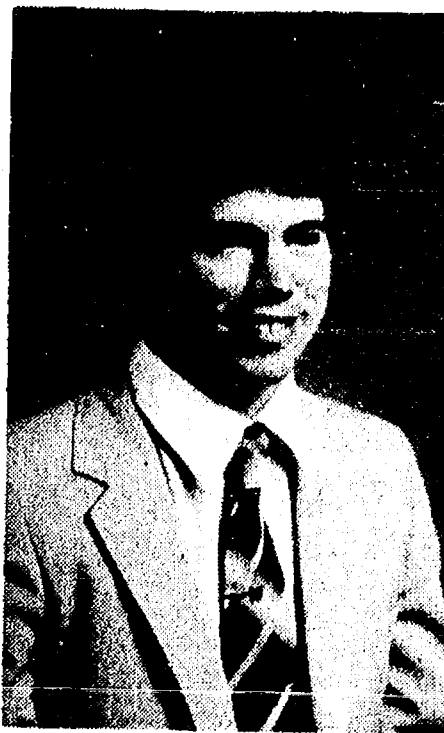

Actually, Chelsea had a big edge in the statistics, gaining more than 300 yards in total offense to Lincoln's 200. Time after time, however, the Bulldogs couldn't come up with the necessary yardage in clutch situations. Credit Lincoln's defense for some of that. The Railsplitters were quick, and they hit with authority.

LaFave said the shift of Dave Steinhauer from tight end to left half on offense is permanent. Brother Matt Steinhauer, a sophomore, took over at tight end and performed well.

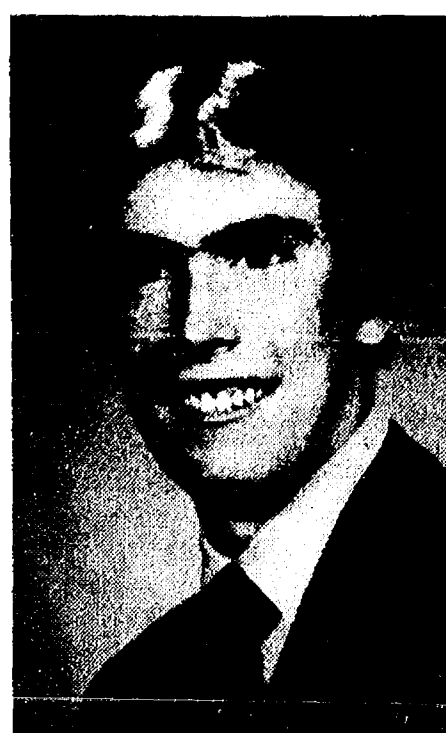

The loss left the Bulldogs with a 1-3 season record—0-3 in the Southeastern Conference—and no realistic chance to achieve anything except perhaps a winning season.

If they continue to improve as they did over the previous week's dismal showing against Milan, a winning record isn't beyond the realm of possibility.

Six 1984 Graduates To Be Placed in Hall of Fame

Six 1984 graduates will be inducted into the Chelsea High School Football Hall of Fame during a half-time ceremony at the Hartland game here on Friday, Oct. 5.

They are Chris Gallas, David Kiel, Jay Marshall, Dan Pennington, Glenn Prinzing and Marty Steinhauer.

Their inductions will bring to 57 the number of young men enshrined in the Hall of Fame for having made outstanding contributions to the Chelsea football program.

Selections are made by the coaching staff on the basis of character, leadership, athletic ability and over-all contributions. Simply playing well and receiving all-league or all-region honors is not enough.

The hall was established five years ago, and 36 players on teams from 1970-79 were inducted as the initial group of entrants. Fifteen more were added during ensuing years, and now another six are scheduled to join the ranks.

Part of the Hall of Fame is an "honor roll" of all players who were awarded football letters during their senior year. The roll is located in the varsity locker room.

Thumbnail sketches of this year's inductees:

Chris Gallas—Two-year starter and all-league player at offensive guard and defensive linebacker. Member of 1982 conference championship team. Attending Ferris State College.

David Kiel—Two-year starter at tackle on offense and defense. Member of 1982 conference championship team. President of national Honor Society at CHS. Attending Michigan State University.

Jay Marshall—Three-year varsity starter. Played on two conference championship teams, all-league two years. Set school record for career tackles as defensive safety. Running back in senior year. Attending Saginaw Valley College.

Dan Pennington—Two-year starter at defensive tackle. All-league senior year. Member of 1982 conference championship team. Attending Western Michigan University.

Glenn Prinzing—Three-year varsity starter at center and defensive end. Captain in senior year. Played on two conference championship teams. All-league two years. Attending Hope College.

Marty Steinhauer—Two-year varsity starter, quarterback in senior year. Member of 1982 conference championship team. Attending Olivet College.

Girl Harrier Team Ranked Third in State

The Chelsea girls cross country team is ranked third among Michigan Class B schools, behind Jackson Lumen Christi and Gladwin.

The ratings are made by coaches. Lumen Christi, always strong, emerged with a rating of 60. Gladwin got 54 and Chelsea 52. Grand Rapids Catholic was fourth at 44.

Other area schools earning places in the "top ten" were Hartland, seventh, and Saline, 10th.

Chelsea Golf Team Wins Over Howell

What was supposed to be a four-way golf meet involving Chelsea, Howell, Fenton and Fowlerville at Inverness Country Club last Wednesday turned into an aborted two-team affair.

Fowlerville cancelled out, and Fenton just plain didn't show up. Howell brought only six golfers, which meant that no junior varsity match could be played.

The Chelsea varsity won, 158-167. Eric Schaffner led the Bulldogs with a 37, followed by Doug Otto at 39, Mike Carignan 40, and Brian Ackley and John Harris at 42. Tom Roth, playing his first varsity match of the year, had a 44.

"We played well but not exceptionally well," coach Ken Larson said. "Howell has a good team and was a good test for us. They were 6-1 coming into the match and are the favorites in the Kensington Valley League."

"Playing on our home course definitely helped us. Inverness can be tough if you haven't seen it before. For example, Howell's best golfer shot a 50, and I'm sure a big part of his problem was that he just didn't know the course and how to play it. He's better than that."

The "secret" at Inverness is to hit the ball off the tees into spots which offer good approaches to the greens. Spray the ball, and you can be in a lot of trouble. Accuracy means more than distance.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Pinckney Upsets Saline, Has Lead

Newcomer Pinckney showed that it came to play in the Southeastern Conference with a 7-6 overtime victory over heavily favored Saline last Friday night.

The win left the Pirates in sole possession of first place in the SEC with a 3-0 league record. Pinckney pulled off the upset on the Hornets' home field.

Pinckney is in its first season as a member of the SEC after having switched from the Kensington Valley Conference.

Lincoln won over Chelsea, 14-13, in a down-to-the-wire game that was as close as the score. The Bulldogs had a chance to pull out a last-minute victory but were stopped short on a two-point conversion try with 28 seconds left on the clock.

Milan, which didn't win a league game during the 1983 season, recorded its second this fall by defeating struggling Dexter, 20-6. The Dreadnaughts' lack of offensive punch (12 points in four games) was the difference. The score was tied at 6-6 at the half, but Milan dominated the rest of the way.

In a non-league game, Tecumseh shut out Jackson Northwest, 27-0. The Indians can't be counted out of the SEC title hunt, now that Saline has lost.

However, Pinckney has emerged surprisingly as the team to beat, and everybody else is chasing them.

Although out-gained by better than two-to-one during the 48 minutes of regulation play, the Pirates managed to keep Saline off the scoreboard and achieve an 0-0 deadlock.

In overtime, Saline scored a touchdown but missed on a two-point conversion try. Given their shot with the ball, Pinckney likewise scored and then booted the deciding extra point.

Golfers Win 'Must' Matches, Tie for First in Conference

It was a "do or die" situation for the Chelsea golf team last Friday afternoon at Inverness Country Club, and the boys did it handily with victories over Tecumseh and Milan.

"We had to win those two matches to stay alive in the running in the Southeastern Conference," coach Ken Larson said, "and the kids went out and won them. I'm very proud of them."

The double dual meet had been rained out earlier in the week and was played on a cold evening that didn't favor good golf.

Despite the conditions, Chelsea shot a team score of 153—an average of 38.25 strokes per round. Eric Schaffner carded 36, Doug Otto 38, Jon Lane 39 (his season best) and Mike Carignan 40 for the four scores that counted. Brian Ackley and Jon Harris were a stroke behind at 41.

Tecumseh, which had defeated the Bulldogs earlier in the season, had a team score of 163 and Milan 172.

"The boys knew they had to win, and they were fired up and ready to meet the challenge," Larson commented. "They played very well. They were on their home course, and that's a big advantage in golf. We've been playing away most of the season."

The two victories put the Bulldogs into a three-way tie with Saline and Tecumseh for the SEC lead, and Larson expects the race to go down to the wire.

"It wouldn't surprise me at all to see four teams tied for the lead when we go into the conference meet at Lenawee Country Club on Oct. 14. The league is that well balanced. There are a lot of fine young golfers playing this year."

Chelsea Golfers Sixth In Invitational Meet

Chelsea's golfers finished a respectable sixth in last Saturday's 12-team Lakeshore Invitational meet on the Hampshire Country Club course near Dowagiac.

"Considering that we were competing against five Class A schools and some of the best in Class B, I'm not disappointed by our showing," coach Ken Larson said. "It was a privilege for us to be invited to play there."

"It may be the toughest course we will play on all season. It's a

We have several, and so do the other schools. I like good competition, and you can't ask for much better than what we have. I'll tell you, if we win it, we will have earned it."

The Chelsea JV's likewise won last Friday with a team score of 182 to Tecumseh's 185 and Milan's 216.

Rob Murrell and Greg Boughton each shot 44, Tom Roth 45 and Matt Doan 47.

long par 72, more than 7,000 yards, and they had it set up to make it play hard. Only five kids broke 80, and that tells you something."

Chelsea's Doug Otto shot an 80, the seventh-best score of the meet. Mike Carignan and Eric Schaffner each carded an 84 and Jon Harris 86 for a team total of 334.

East Lansing, defending Class A state champs, won with a 311. "They are awfully good," Larson said, "maybe the best high school golf team I've ever seen. I would bet they will repeat as champions."

Boys Cross Country Team Defeats Lincoln, 24-34

The Chelsea boys cross country team traveled to Lincoln Sept. 27 and defeated the Railsplitters, 24-34.

Tim Bowdish and Jared Bradley both broke the Lincoln course record to finish 1-2 at 16:22 and 16:33, respectively.

"The boys ran very well against a pretty good Lincoln team," said coach Pat Clarke. "I hope they can continue this type of effort into our showdown meet with Saline."

Clarke praised the efforts of junior Bob Torres, sophomore Jason Creffield, and freshman John Cattell, who all ran fine races.

The Bulldogs are now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the Southeastern

Chelsea Netters Defeat Ann Arbor's Greenhills

On Sept. 24, Chelsea girls varsity tennis team won its match over Greenhills junior varsity team, 5-2. This is the only junior varsity team Chelsea's varsity team plays. The team played and lost two other matches against Columbia Central and Williamston last week.

"We have always played the varsity until this year but find with Greenhills we are much better matched this way. Three of the members on their squad are varsity players," said coach Theresa Schreiner.

Four of seven matches went to three sets. Melanie Dils won over Wendy Morgan, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. Jackie Boosey lost her match, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5. First doubles, Dawn Olson and Carol Nix, got off to a good start but lost momentum, losing 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. However, Laura Nix and Deanna Slusher won 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Chris DeFant defeated Heather McGonon, 6-1, 6-4. Angie Miller won over Laure Castillon, 6-0, 6-2. Doubles Anne Acree and Karen Killelea won 6-2, 7-5.

"This was a good match and we needed a win," said Schreiner.

A Tuesday, Sept. 25 match against Saline was rained out but had been rescheduled for Oct. 1 at home.

On Wednesday, Sept. 26, Chelsea lost to Columbia Central, 2-5. Chelsea's 2 points were won by first and third doubles. Olson and Carol Nix defeated their opponents, 7-6, 6-0. Slusher and Laura Nix won the other point, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4. Second doubles, Acree and Killelea lost 6-3, 6-3.

Single losses were Dils, 6-0, 6-0; DeFant 6-0, 6-1; Boosey, 6-1, 6-0; and Miller 7-6, 6-4. Miller lost the tie-breaker in the first set.

Chelsea lost to a strong senior team from Williamston on Thursday, Sept. 27, 3-4. All but three players on the Williamston team were seniors. Chelsea has only two seniors this year.

DeFant lost to Anne Moon, 6-0, 6-2; Dils to Tracy Donahue, 6-2, 6-4; and Boosey to Mary Moon, 6-0, 6-0. Pichlick won by a default from Williamston, 6-0, 6-0.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Based on personal observations—which I am the first to admit can be misleading—here are some guess-timates of prospects for this fall's hunting seasons.

Deer—West Washtenaw and east Jackson county again have a big, healthy deer herd. Last winter's unusually severe cold weather was fortunately accompanied by below-normal snowfall. I'm sure that deer got mighty cold on those below-zero nights, but they can stand that. What they can't stand is a combination of cold and snow which restricts them from ranging freely for food.

Does were able to carry their fawns through the winter and deliver them alive and vigorous. I've seen several sets of twin fawns and one group of triplets. I've also seen some good-sized bucks which will be wearing trophy-size racks of antlers.

Both archers and firearm hunters who work at it should find deer at least as abundant as they were last year, which was a good year. Individual success will depend, as usual, on a combination of skill and luck.

The key to success again will be finding a place to hunt. Public lands will be heavily pressured, and the deer will move onto private property where there is less human disturbance. The hunter who "knows somebody" and can obtain access to private land will have an excellent chance to score.

Squirrels—They are abundant but will be tough to hunt until after the leaves have fallen. Fox squirrels are at least as numerous as they were a year ago, and my impression is that there are more gray squirrels. I've seen a few blacks (a color phase of the gray squirrel) which aren't common around here.

Ruffed grouse—Scarce. This is marginal grouse country. The birds hang on but don't seem to increase from year to year. There are a few good "pockets" of grouse, but they are hard to find. They are even harder to shoot until the leaves drop.

Woodcock—A bit of bad news. These small long-billed birds are down in numbers across the country, and that includes Michigan. It just could be that this species is being hunted too hard and that more restrictive regulations may be required in another year.

Cottontail rabbits—I see them everywhere I go and can guarantee to kick up three or four from my backyard most any time. (My backyard is inside the village limits of Chelsea and is therefore not open to hunting, so don't try unless you want to get arrested.) Driving around the countryside, I have had to dodge rabbits almost daily. I observed much the same apparent bumper crop a year ago and was startled to learn later that the population was actually down a bit. That could be true again. Maybe I just have a knack for seeing rabbits.

Pheasants—A bit of good news. If one person's sightings mean anything, pheasants have made a modest comeback. I have seen more birds—adults and young—this past summer than in the previous three years put

That doesn't mean that I have seen a lot of them, but have at least observed some. Most encouraging have been sightings of good-sized broods of nearly grown chicks, which suggest a modestly successful nesting and rearing season.

My best guess is that there will be more birds out there come Oct. 20 than there were a year ago. That is not a prediction of abundance as in the good old pheasant days of the 1940's and 50's, but rather a cautious expression of hope that the bottom may have been reached and an upturn begun. My fingers are crossed.

Raccoons—We have raccoons coming out of our ears, to the point where they are nuisances to a lot of people. There definitely is a large harvestable surplus available. Hunting coons requires trained hounds and a willingness to stay up all night, which is probably why they are under-hunted.

Geese and ducks—The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service sets the waterfowl hunting regulations, and made some unexpected cutbacks in the seasons and bag limits for Michigan hunters. It's hard to figure out why. The resident goose flock appears to be at least as big as it has been in recent years. Ducks may be down a bit because of last summer's dry weather in many breeding areas including some to the north and west of Michigan. Diving (deep water) ducks have been relatively scarce in the state in recent years, apparently because of a change in migration flight patterns, so it's anybody's guess what will happen this fall.

That's the forecast for what it's worth. Happy hunting, have fun, and be a safe shooter.

Girl Harriers Win Meet At Manchester

Chelsea girls cross country team last Saturday won the 16-team Manchester Invitational meet based on total time.

The race was run in two divisions. In the sophomore-freshman run Chelsea's girls were first with 25 points. In the senior-junior division the girls finished second just one point behind Saline.

"We ran very well," said coach Pat Clarke. "I hope we continue to improve."

Chelsea placers were: In the senior-junior division, second, Amy Wolfgang (20:42); sixth, Kim Collins (21:30); seventh, Mary Ann Richardson (21:43); 19th, Laura Damm (22:44); 24th, Debbie Tiff (22:47); and 26th, Stephanie Grant (22:51).

In the sophomore-freshman division:

Second, Kasey Anderson (21:21); third, Melanie Flanigan (21:26); fifth, Cathy Barham (21:37); seventh, Robin Mock (21:46); eighth, Kim Allen (21:55); 11th, Jennifer Rossi (22:03); 18th, Wendy Huhn (22:31); 18th, Ann Brosnan (22:33); 19th, Alisha Dorow (22:10); 22nd, Charisse Bufford (23:23); and 27th, Chris Neuman (23:51).

Girls Varsity Cagers Defeat Milan in First League Game

Milan has lost only two home games in the last three years in girls basketball and one of those was to Chelsea last Thursday, Sept. 27. Chelsea varsity girls basketball team won its first league game of the season against Milan, 35-26. However, Chelsea lost an earlier game at home against Jackson's Northwest on Sept. 25, 37-33.

The game against Northwest began with a tied first quarter, 8-8. Northwest took the lead in the second and third quarter, 12-5 and 7-5.

"We didn't shoot the ball well. That was our biggest problem. We had 12 for 64 which was 19%. Our defense was good. We only gave up 37 points, which isn't bad," said coach Jim Winter.

Chelsea won the fourth quarter, 15-10, but could not win the game.

"They were ahead by 10 in the third quarter. Finally in the fourth, we came back. With 2:09 left, we cut it to 35-33. We didn't score again after that. We had a couple free throws but we missed them," said Winter.

Chelsea made 53% of its free throws or 9 for 17. They out-rebounded Northwest 34 to 28.

Beth Unterbrink dominated scoring with 23 points and 10 rebounds.

In the Sept. 27 game, Milan took the lead in the first quarter, 11-7, but Chelsea led in the remaining three quarters, 13-6, 8-6, and 7-3.

"Once we caught them, we were never behind again. It wasn't pretty but it's a win. We didn't play that well but we played well enough to win," said Winter.

Leading scorers were Kristi Headrick with 10 points, and 8 rebounds; Samantha Collinsworth with 8 points, 6 rebounds; Unterbrink with 7 points, 4 assists, 4 steals; and Anne Weber, with 6 points, 5 steals.

"We had good balance not like Tuesday where Beth did all the work. We had a lot of people doing a lot of things. We didn't dominate them the whole game but when we needed something done, somebody came up with a play. It was different kids at different times," said Winter.

The team shot 28% or 14 for 50. They shot 7 for 14 of their free throws, or 50%. Milan out-rebounded Chelsea 37 to 27.

The team's league record so far is 1-0 and over-all record is 4-3. They will host Dexter on Oct. 9.

Girls JV Cagers Win Northwest, Milan Games

Girls junior varsity basketball team continued on a winning streak against Northwest in Jackson and Milan. Chelsea defeated Northwest, 43-39, on Sept. 25. They won their first league game in Milan, 33-24, on Sept. 27. This puts the season record at 6-1 over-all and 1-0 in the league.

In Milan, "it was a good ball game. Both teams played well. The game was close all the way," said coach Paul Terpstra.

Chelsea won the first two quarters, 12-10, and 8-5. Northwest took the third quarter by one point, 14-13. The final quarter was tied 10-10.

Chelsea shot 10 for 44 or 23%. They made 23 for 34 free throws, a season high of 68%. The team was slightly out-rebounded by Northwest, 27-25. Chelsea stole the ball 15 times.

Cris Zerkel led scoring with 14 points, 10 rebounds and 6 steals. Trish Mattoff followed with 8 points. Kim Ferry won 7 points, and 5 rebounds. Sallie Wilson earned 7 points and 7 rebounds. Leah Enderle contributed 5 points.

The Milan game began slowly, said Terpstra. Chelsea maintained the lead in the first quarter, 7-6, and second quarter, 8-6.

"In the third quarter, we did a much better job and out-scored them 12 to 4," said Terpstra.

Milan took over the last quarter, however, 8-6.

Chelsea shot 27% from the floor and 28% from the foul line. They shot 14 for 52, and 5 for 19 freethrows. Chelsea out-rebounded Milan 27-22. Chelsea made 16 steals.

Leading scorers were Ferry with 11 points, 7 rebounds; Enderle with 5 points, 5 steals; Wilson with 4 points, 4 steals; and Zerkel with 4 points, 10 rebounds.

Chelsea will host Dexter on Tuesday, Oct. 9.

Four Chelsea High Girls Chosen Swimmers of Week

Four girl swimmers were chosen swimmers of the week. They are junior Amanda Holmes, sophomore Dawn Thorne and freshmen Sharon Colombo and Karen Grau.

Amanda has consistently been Chelsea's fastest butterflyer in meets for both 50 and 100 yards so far this season. She also has the team's second fastest 100 freestyle and 50 freestyle times. In this year's first meet, Amanda placed an important second in the 500 freestyle when the meet was on the line, said coach Larry Reed.

Dawn is out for varsity swimming for the first time this year and has consistently scored points swimming the 50 yard butterfly on the team's second relay, and in the 50 yard freestyle, and 100 yard breaststroke. Dawn's times have consistently improved in all her events.

According to Reed, Sharon has shown the most dramatic improvement on the team this year. Her times have improved in every event she swam. She is third on the team in total yardage swam in work-outs. She has swam every freestyle race from 100 to 500 yards as well as swimming the 200 individual medley (and 100 yard butterfly races.

Karen is swimming competitively for the first time in three years. Her times are already getting very fast. Her improvements have been much faster than expected, said Reed.

"Karen has been a very pleasant and needed surprise in her newest event, the 200 individual medley. Karen appears to be a certain part of a freshman medley relay that by the end of the year will slaughter the old record in that event," said Reed. "The improvement of these young ladies is exemplary of what is happening to the entire girls team and explains the dramatic early season success of this team," said Reed.

Senate Committee Refers Pseudorabies Bill to the Floor

The state Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee has referred S.B. 821, legislation to replace the pseudorabies law which expired last October, to the full Senate floor for consideration. Following a public hearing on the issue last week in Jackson, the committee added several amendments to the bill. One amendment states that all feeder swine imported into Michigan shall be accompanied by an interstate health certificate. Another would allow untested hogs into the state, but they would have to be fed under quarantine and could only move to slaughter after feeding.

Pseudorabies is a highly contagious disease, primarily found in hogs, but can be transferred to other agricultural animals.

According to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, it will probably be late this year before the bill moves through the legislative process.

Girls Swim Team Competes Against Class A Schools

This past week, Chelsea girls swimmers swam two large class A schools. They won the first meet but lost the second. On Tuesday, Sept. 25, the team travelled to Lincoln Park and won their most lopsided victory in years, 117-49.

"The team swam many of its members in different events in an effort to keep the score less one-sided and to allow different swimmers to win in different events," said coach Larry Reed.

Twenty-five seasonal bests were recorded in the first meet by the following swimmers: Paula Colombo, Kelly Kuzon, Amanda Holmes, Susan Schmunk, Rebecca Dent, Annie Flint-Andersen, Dawn Thorne, Becca Lee, Missy Young, Anne Albrecht, Karen Grau, Sharon Colombo, Cathy Hoffman, Kenyan Vosters, Robyn Hafner and Jennifer Schweiger.

Lee swam to first-place in the 200-yard freestyle, 2:28.7, followed by Young in second, 2:33.7. Kuzon, 2:50.8, was first and Grau, 3:03.1, second in 200-yard individual medley. Schmunk won a first in the 50-yard freestyle, :26.9 and 500-yard freestyle, 5:58.1.

Deanna Zangara won first in diving followed by Hafner in second.

Lee, 1:16, and Young, 1:18.5, were again first and second in 100-yard butterfly. Holmes took second in 100-yard freestyle, 1:03.7. Paula Colombo won first in 100-yard backstroke, 1:09.2. Tami Harris had first, 1:35.2, in 100-yard breaststroke followed by Thorne in second, 1:36.8.

The team of Paula Colombo, Kuzon, Holmes and Schmunk came in first in medley relay. Hoffman, Sharon Colombo, Vosters and Young had first in 400-yard freestyle relay.

Thursday, Sept. 27, the team opened its home season against an undefeated John Glenn in Westland. Chelsea lost 102-70.

The team started the meet with a state qualifying performance in the medley relay.

Leading the way against John Glenn was Paula Colombo who won all three events of her races: 500 freestyle, 5:47.9; 200 individual medley, 2:26.57; and 200 medley relay, along with a team of Kuzon, Holmes and Schmunk.

Kuzon also had a first in the 100 breaststroke with 1:17.53. Schmunk had seconds in the 50-yard freestyle, :26.92 and 100 freestyle, :59.21. Hoffman took second in 100 backstroke, 1:18.29.

Other outstanding swims were turned in by Grau, Harris, Vosters, Albrecht, Zangara, Hafner, Schweiger, Lee, Sharon Colombo, and Thorne.

Grid Schedule Has Old Look, and Here's Why

If you have noticed something very familiar about this year's Chelsea High school varsity football schedule, you are right. With a couple of exceptions, the Bulldogs are playing their games exactly where they did last year.

It took a Standard reporter three weeks into the season to figure that out. The tip-off finally came when he realized that he was supposed to go to Lincoln twice in two years to cover a ball game. Lincoln is not exactly a delightful place to visit. The facilities are in sad shape.

In 1983, Chelsea played Saline, Milan and Tecumseh at home, and Lincoln, Tecumseh and Pinckney away. Ditto this fall.

"What happened was that, with Pinckney coming into the Southeastern Conference, we drew all over again to set up a schedule for this fall," Bulldog athletic director Ron Nemeth explained.

"As the draw turned out, we are playing exactly the same SEC teams at home and away that we did last year. Even Pinckney, which was a non-league game for us last year, came up in the draw as an 'away' game again this season.

"Figure the odds on those six games coming out scheduled at home and away exactly as they were a year ago. I don't know what they are. It had to be a long shot, but it happened. We kept drawing the same opponents on the same field as last year."

Somebody probably can calculate those odds, but it isn't this reporter whose mental weakness is mathematics. The Bulldogs opened their season at tight end on offense but has been moved to left halfback. He is a linebacker on defense.

Frosh Gridders Lose To Western

Playing on their home field for the first time didn't help as the Chelsea freshman football team got thumped, 40-6, by Jackson County Western a week ago Tuesday night.

"It was a pretty miserable evening," coach Jim Tallman said. "It rained throughout the game, and the field was wet, but we can't use that as an excuse. Western had to play under the same conditions."

"Actually, we played a pretty good first half, and were down only 14-6, but the second half turned into a rout. Both teams fumbled a lot, but the difference was that Western recovered both theirs and ours."

Western scored first and converted for two to take an 8-0 lead. Chelsea came back on a screen pass from Jordan Gray to Tim Anderson to close the gap to 8-6.

The Bulldogs then tried an on-side kick and lost the ball after apparently having covered it. Western went in for another touchdown before half-time.

The visitors scored again early in the third quarter, and from there on it was no contest.

"We badly need to win a game," Tallman said, repeating a comment he made a week ago. "I think the boys have lost confidence in themselves, and a victory is the only thing that will cure that."

Tallman singled out tight end Anderson and Dan Pletcher, who plays guard on offense and linebacker on defense, as having had good games in an otherwise rather dreary performance.

The frosh, who are now 0-3 on the season, will get their next chance to break into the win column when they travel to Hartland tomorrow.

season at non-league Novi, under a home-and-home arrangement. They will take on Hartland here on Friday and wind up their season at Lansing Everett Nov. 2. Hartland and Everett replace Jackson County Western and Mason on the schedule.

New Beginnings Helps People Deal With Grief

"In a society as mobile as ours," says the Rev. Robert Weikart, pastoral counselor and ethicist at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea, "we don't get as involved anymore with our neighbors, their stories, histories or memories. When a tragedy happens and we grieve our loss, there's no one to tell. New Beginnings has been established so we will have a place to tell our stories."

New Beginnings is the name of grief support groups the Rev. Weikart and James Peggs, M.D., director of the center, have established across the state for people who are grieving a loss through death.

"Grief is the reaction—emotional, physical, spiritual, mental and social—to any significant loss," the Rev. Weikart explains. Other major events that can trigger grief, he says, include losing a job, selling a house, having a pet die or losing limbs or other body part.

"There's a lot of unresolved grief in this country," he says. "Our society doesn't recognize some losses as being significant enough to grieve. But you can and will grieve any significant loss that you experience."

The Rev. Weikart and Dr. Peggs lecture on various aspects of bereavement and grief during the six weeks of introductory sessions for New Beginnings. Following the six introductory sessions, the groups continue indefinitely under the direction of trained leaders from the local community.

"Many of our attitudes about death are established when we are still children," the Rev. Weikart says. "In the Saturday morning cartoons, characters get flattened and then, seemingly by magic, become alive again. In some cowboy movies, dozens are killed in minutes but are in another movie on another channel the same day."

"Often we see dead animals on the road but ignore them as if they hadn't died. We grow up feeling that death is either unclean, untouchable or unreal. We frequently believe that death can be ignored or even changed; consequently, when we're faced with death, we have difficulty dealing with it and many of us have difficulty grieving."

The Rev. Weikart, who is also an instructor in human values in medicine at the U-M Medical School, experienced his own greatest grief 17 years ago when his wife died. It was partly that experience that led him to study grief and establish New Beginnings.

In his grief-support program, the Rev. Weikart uses a 10-step grief model he has developed over the years. The grief model offers a conceptual "handle" for individuals, a way to grasp the stages of grief—and provides a piece of paper they can refer to for guidance.

Grief Model

1. Shock and Denial, Disbelief—"This phase can last from three days up to six weeks after the loss," the Rev. Weikart says. "Although intellectually we know the loss has taken place, the emotional impact doesn't usually hit until after that. We don't usually expect to see anyone in the New Beginnings before this."

2. Touch-Support—"At this time people begin to miss being physically touched," the Rev. Weikart says. "For example, if a spouse dies, there's no one to kiss you in the morning or to hold your hand while you're strolling through a shopping mall. Frequently, if your spouse died, the husbands in other couples that you were friends with won't give you a friendly hug any longer for fear of what their wives might think. Also, because of superstitions such as 'death always comes in threes' or 'cancer is catching,' people will avoid you and not touch you. You begin to feel unlovable."

For those who are trying to comfort a grieving person, the Rev. Weikart says, the two most important things are "to listen and to maintain contact, whether it's phone calls, cups of coffee or whatever. Above all, keep in touch with the person and let him or her talk."

IN MEMORIAM

Slane-Martin—In loving memory of my husband, our Many a lonely heartache. Often a beautiful memory of the one we loved so dear.

touch with the person and let him or her talk."

3. Physical Symptoms—"People may develop a physical pain similar to what their spouse died of," the Rev. Weikart says. "In other cases, you'll see the survivor wearing the clothes of the deceased such as a flannel shirt when out in the yard. Or some people will go back to school to take up the deceased's occupation. This can be very healthy if the survivor is aware of what he or she is doing and also maintains their own interests."

4. Alienation—Loneliness sets in. "This can be little things like going to a restaurant and telling the hostess you're 'just one' for dinner," the Rev. Weikart explains. "To getting mail still addressed to 'Mr. and Mrs.' Sometimes special days like Mother's Day trigger the loneliness when there's no one to send you a card or no one for you to send one to. This is a dangerous point, where people are prone to turn to alcohol or suicide because they feel the pain is unbearable. This is where I hope to get people into New Beginnings, where we can help to grieve in a healthy manner."

5. Guilt—"There are three kinds of guilt," the Rev. Weikart says. "Realistic guilt, for example, would be if you were driving and drinking and killed someone. Unrealistic guilt might be when you hear people say, 'I should have stayed at her bedside, then she wouldn't have died' or guilt about things having not been said or apologies not made."

For a religious person, he adds, there can also be "a guilt towards God and a struggle to find meaning in relation to God." the Rev. Weikart says he tries "to help people feel that they're still lovable and acceptable despite their guilt—and despite what those around them may be saying."

6. Hostility—"People will have accidents or injure themselves," the Rev. Weikart says, "because they're angry at the death and don't know to whom to show it or how to show it."

7. Perfection—"This is when you'll hear things like, 'He was the best golfer I ever saw,' or 'the worst cook.' This is healthy because it means you're beginning to take stock of your loss and seeing what you miss because of the loss."

8. Redemption—"This is the time when the surviving person is able to see the dead person as both good and not so good. You begin to accept the lost person for what he or she was."

9. New Life—"This is when you keep some things from the past and bring in some new things. The combination of the two is your future," the Rev. Weikart says. "Some people will hold onto the past indefinitely by, for example, continuing to set a place at the table for the dead person five years or more after the death. Others will sell their possessions and house and move away very quickly to avoid being reminded of their loved one who died."

"If people are working on their grief—that is, talking to someone about their feelings—they may exhibit some of these characteristics, but they'll be sorting out their emotional feelings at the same time. But those who try to deny their grief—or remain stuck in the past hoping the dead one will return—will probably experience a delayed grief reaction months or even years later."

10. Resurrection—"Using the biblical reference as an example," the Rev. Weikart says, "after Jesus rose from the dead, he looked and sounded the same, but he was different—he was fuller and richer for the experience. He had scars from his wound, but they were healed. It's the same way for us—you'll always have part of that loss with you, but you're alive and whole and have your own life."

Individuals may or may not experience all 10 phases and not necessarily in this order, the Rev. Weikart concludes "but it's important for people who are grieving not to feel that they are 'crazy' or let people tell them, 'It's all in your head.' Be bold and say you're hurting. Grief is very real."

* Anthorpomorphism

If you're a pet owner, you are more than likely guilty of indulging in anthropomorphism.

Webster's big book defines it as "an interpretation of what is not human or personal in terms of human or personal characteristics." How many of us think our dogs or cats have a sense of humor or other human characteristics? Most of us would swear to it.

The animal rights movement is raising our consciousness about the treatment of wild and domesticated animals, involving the morality of the relations between humans and other animals. The recent appearance of books with titles like "The Moral Status of Animals" and "Animal Rights and Human Obligations" is a good indication of what's going on. There is an increasing tendency to extend moral questions beyond our own species.

If carried too far, this trend could present a threat to commercial agriculture. Already, the animal rights movement is pushing for federal legislation to regulate the care of livestock on farms. Carried to its ultimate, the movement would lead to a vegetarian society, in which the butchering of animals for human nutrition would be outlawed.

Everyone agrees that animals should receive humane treatment, but let's not get carried away. A large majority of us wouldn't want a diet without bacon, pork chops, steaks and hamburgers.

Seventy and eight-tenths percent of the Earth is covered by water.

Farm Safety Programs Can Cut Injuries

Farm accidents in Michigan kill 100 farm people each year and result in serious or disabling injuries for 1,000 more.
 Those statistics can be lowered if farmers will make accident prevention a management goal, according to Ron Converse, vice-president of the Michigan Rural Safety Council.
 "Management for Better Safety Health" is the theme for this year's National Farm Safety Week, Sept. 18-22, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture and promoted in Michigan by organizations like Michigan Farm Bureau, Farm Bureau Insurance Group and the Michigan Rural Safety Council.
 Converse, who is also risk and loss control manager for Farm Bureau Insurance Group, says that although the death rate from farm accidents has declined slightly over the past 10 years, agriculture remains among the high accident rate industries.
 "One reason is that farmers lag behind industrial workers in the use of personal protective equipment. If the correct protective equipment was worn when the work called for it, the number and severity of farm work injuries and illnesses would decline," Converse said.
 "Farming is a high stress occupation and often requires almost superhuman effort and endless hours, especially during planting and harvesting. People are in a hurry and pressured, and more apt to throw caution to the wind in an effort to get the job done. The final solution rests in making safety part of the daily farm routine and every farmer's management goal," he said.
 Converse offers these suggestions to help farmers manage for better safety and health: Develop a safety and health plan tailored to your operation and those who live and work on your farm; carry out regular safety inspections of equipment and facilities; keep children off and away from machinery; use the right tools, see that shielding is in place and wear the correct personal protective equipment.

Bible Translators To Present Film at Fellowship Church

The Sepik Iwam people are just one of 700 different language groups in Papua New Guinea. They live 500 miles up the Sepik River, 10 hours by motor canoe from the nearest airstrip. Until a few years ago, these people had almost no contact with the outside world. They had never heard the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Wycliffe Bible translator Marilyn Laszlo has lived with the Sepik Iwam people since 1969. She has studied their language and culture, established an alphabet, and reduced the language to written form. Now begins the process of translating the New Testament into the Sepik Iwam language.

On Oct. 7 at 11 a.m. Wycliffe Bible Translators presents the film "Mountain of Light" at the Chelsea Christian Fellowship church, 337 Wilkinson St. This 42-minute, full-color documentary tells the story of the Sepik Iwam people and their response to the New Testament as Marilyn Laszlo translates it into their own language. The film has been heralded by many as the best missionary film they have ever seen.

The public is invited to attend.

results—that's when we're reaching into that farmer's pocket.

"Granted, the number of deer that will be taken under the new legislation will be very minimal, but it's a step in the right direction," he said.

The bills have just been reported out of the Senate Natural Resources Committee and Nelson predicted that it will probably be next deer hunting season before it goes into effect.

Chelsea Teachers Attend In-Service

Throughout the school year, Chelsea teachers will be attending in-services on instructional management techniques. Dr. Dennis Sparks will train teachers methods of managing their classrooms.

Some areas Sparks will focus on include eliminating dead-time in classrooms, managing student's behavior, and grouping a class to get the greatest learning experience.

For instance, the first several minutes of class-time is taken up by teachers performing administrative tasks such as taking attendance. To eliminate this dead-time, a student might drill the class on vocabulary or students might answer three questions written on the board while the teacher is busy.

To minimize intercom interruptions, a student-aid might deliver messages to particular students.

The in-service attempts to train teachers to manage student behavior using the least amount of confrontation with a student.

"Instead of saying 'Johnny, you're not paying attention,' a teacher might walk in that student's direction. She doesn't have to be punitive or disciplinary. If the child misses that cue, she could rest her hand on his shoulder," explained Beach Middle school principal Darco Stielstra.

Beach teachers attending the in-service include Pat Tchiblakian, Barb Fisher, Cheryl Vogel, Betty Cox, Nola Borders and Joe Beard. The workshops are open to the entire district. They are held in five separate sessions.

See for Yourself Program Begins with Tour of CHS

Tuesday, Oct. 2, began the school year's "See for Yourself" program. The program was started by superintendent Ray Van Meer about four years ago to enable the community to see and ask questions about Chelsea schools in operation.

Members of the community such as parents and businessmen are invited to tour a school. Last Tuesday, the group was brought to Chelsea High school after meeting at the bus garage.

Student guides showed the school. Guides this year are class president Mark Henson, vice-president Rebecca Finch; treasurer Rick Proctor, and secretary Dean Boote. Principal John Williams also asked Jennifer Colvin, president of student council, and senior Kelly Harness to give the tours.

"I look for students who present themselves well and who don't have a hard time speaking to adults and know their way around school. I don't coach them in their answers to questions but I ask them to please don't discuss personalities," said Williams.

The tour ended with a salad lunch in the board room.

Interested members of the community may also ask the superintendent's office for an invitation. The program takes place on a monthly basis.

"Ray really got hold of a good program. I'm not aware of any school district that makes an organized effort to get people into the schools to see what kids are like. If you just read the papers, you get the impression they just rip things up, but on a daily basis, kids are really well behaved," said Williams.

Volunteer Training Program Set For Parent to Parent Visitors

Do you have an interest and ability in working with people? Then you may be interested in becoming a home visitor for the Parent To Parent Program (PTP).

What is the PTP Program? It is an in-home support to families with children focusing on child development, parenting skills, parent/child relationships and use of community resources. The families who participate in the program are those who experience a wide range of difficulties: some are isolated or estranged from a family support system and may only need a friendly visitor, other families may have a multitude of problems involving lack of parenting skills, financial indebtedness, domestic violence and/or abuse issues.

Home visitors go weekly, for about an hour per week, to meet with their families. Pre-planned home visits provide for activities the mom and children do together as a way to discuss the child's development and behavior patterns. Time is also set aside for the mom and home visitor to talk about personal concerns and/or family problems. The home visitor listens and will help the parent work toward possible solutions or refer them to community resources which offer professional services.

This is a long-term program; families are visited for up to one year. Usually it takes almost half of that time to establish a trusting relationship and determine family needs.

Participation in this program is voluntary. A family chooses whether they will participate and may terminate visits at any time. Home visitor volunteers need to meet the following criteria: 1) preferable that they are, or were parents themselves, 2) make a one-year commitment to the program, 3) have a sincere desire to work with other people, and 4) are mature and responsible adults.

Time required of a home visitor varies with their flexibility. After the training, a minimum of 2-3 hours per week is required plus a two-hour monthly inservice as on-going training and education. Home visitors plan their own home visits based on the program goals and needs of their family. They are encouraged to be flexible in their home visits and activities.

The purpose of the PTP Program is to provide intervention, education and general support to families and their children who are experiencing difficulties or loneliness. The goal is to help families to help themselves toward making change, working toward appropriate goals either for themselves and/or children and to help them learn how to use community resources for future situations.

The PTP training has been changed to begin on Monday, Oct. 8 at 6:30 p.m. There will be 10 sessions, every Monday and Wednesday evening from Oct. 8 to Nov. 7, 1984. Training topics are as follows: 1) Program

C. Hafner Dies After Auto Accident

Charles C. Hafner, 57, of 15728 Waterloo Rd., Grass Lake, died Sept. 18 of injuries suffered in an automobile accident the night before.

Sheriff's deputies said that Hafner's car ran off Waterloo Rd. near Cassidy Rd. in Lyndon township and hit a tree. The accident occurred at about 9:40 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 17.

Hafner was trapped in the car for about an hour before he could be freed and flown by helicopter to University Hospital in Ann Arbor, where he died the next day of massive multiple injuries.

Hafner was alone in the car. His death brought to 36 the number of persons killed in Washtenaw county traffic accidents this year, as compared to 21 at the same date in 1983.

Area Students Speak at U-M Symposium

Kelly Credille of Dexter High school and Laura Koepele of Chelsea High school described their experiences as science interns in a student symposium on Saturday, Sept. 29. The two seniors were among 10 chosen from 45 applicants for the internships.

University of Michigan Women in Science Program sponsored the summer internships. Credille interned with Dr. Rebecca Anderson of Warner-Lambert/Parke Davis Co. She worked with the initial screening of new drugs that fight epilepsy.

Koepele worked under Dr. Elissa Benedek, Center for Forensic Psychiatry and Dr. Maria Paluszny, U-M Medical School. She observed psychiatrists in action.

The internships took place during July and August and were intended to provide hands-on experience under women scientists at the university. The internships are funded by a grant from the Women's Educational Equity Act Program (WEEAP) of the U. S. Department of Education.

The interns participated in all aspects of the research process from the collection and analysis of raw data to the presentation of results to the scientific community. As interns, the students acquired observation, laboratory and computer skills as well as a better understanding of how scientific research is carried out on a day-to-day basis.

Manchester Youth Officially Accepted As West Point Cadet

Scott A. Hunt, son of Bruce M. and Sharon K. Hunt of 327 Schaffer Court, Manchester, has been officially accepted into the U. S. Military Academy's Corps of Cadets as a new member of the class of 1988 during the annual acceptance parade.

The parade followed six weeks of rigorous basic cadet training at the West Point, N.Y., academy. Training in military customs and courtesies, drill and physical conditioning, tactical exercises and the firing of weapons introduced the basic cadets to military life with special emphasis on leadership, duty, honor and country.

The academy is a four-year educational institution graduating men and women to serve as career Army officers. In addition to military training, the academy offers athletics and an academic curriculum which includes basic and engineering sciences and social sciences and the humanities.

THE FOURTH GRADE CLASS at North school are smart shoppers. They examined wares before purchasing them at a Book Fair at the North school media center. Shannon Mannor (seated front) is stamping books paid. Jean Schmidt, teacher of this class, is seated behind her.

Developer Notified Of Expiration Date

The village board has voted to send a letter to Marvin Salyer notifying him that the special zoning designation of his 7.7 acres of land east of Wilkinson St. will expire next June 6 unless some development work is begun before then.

The tract was designated as a Planned Unit District (PUD) effective Dec. 6, 1983, for a period of 18 months. Nothing has happened since.

At the time, realtor Robert Thornton, representing Salyer, said it was planned to construct 28 "cluster" homes on the site, which is on low ground and presents some drainage problems.

Under the PUD approach, the developer and village officials are supposed to negotiate a final site plan agreeable to both.

"We haven't received anything, and I think it's time we reminded Mr. Salyer of the deadline," village administrator Frederick Weber said.

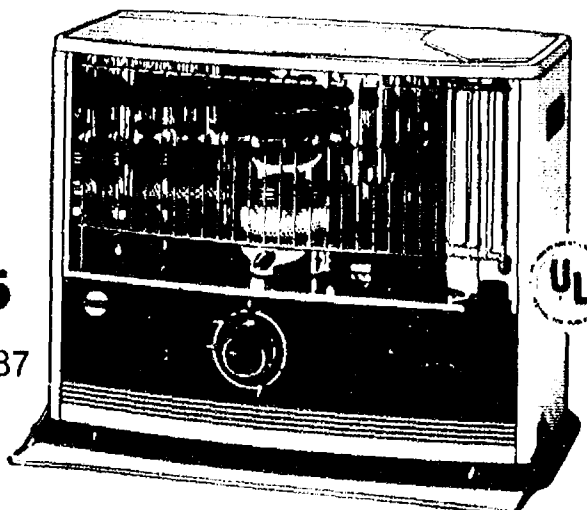

The council agreed and voted to send a letter.

Archers Begin Deer Hunt Under Perfect Conditions

It was a perfect day to open the archery deer season on Monday—crisp and clear with frost on the ground—and some deer apparently were taken by bowmen who got out early in the morning.

A reporter heard five "success stories" but was unable to track any of them down to the source and take a picture as positive proof.

In most years there is an unofficial race to get to the local newspaper office with proof in the form of a dead deer. That didn't happen this time.

Successful hunters are urged to bring in their trophies for picture purposes. Big bucks are especially welcome.

Hunter Safety Training Course Slated Oct. 9-12

A hunter safety training course will be conducted from 8-9 p.m. Oct. 9, 11 and 12 in the administrative conference room at the Washtenaw sheriff's department's headquarters on Hogback Rd. east of Ann Arbor.

Deputy Mike Bailey will conduct the course, which will stress safe gun handling, hunter ethics, sportsmanship, first aid and survival.

Completion of such a course is a requirement for obtaining a first-time hunting license.

Pre-registration is required. Further information may be obtained by calling 971-8400, extension 591.
