Conrail Agrees To Safety Devices At Fletcher Rd.

Conrail has agreed to install gates and signals at the Fletcher Rd. crossing of its tracks and have them in place by Nov. 16.

The crossing has been closed to through traffic since June 29 following a fatal accident last January and another near-miss on June 25.

Effect was to make north-bound Fletcher a dead-end road on the south side of the railroad tracks. Previously, the road had crossed the tracks and ended at Chelsea-Dexter Rd., where motorists could turn either right or left.

"We took some heat, but I'm convinced we were right in standing by our guns and insisting that the crossing be either closed or guarded," Koenn said. "It was dangerous, and we didn't want to see any more accidents out there."

"The road commission and the Lima township board kept the pressure on, and now we're getting some action that should have been taken years ago to make that crossing safe."

Approaches to the crossing in both directions are steep and blind. It's impossible to see a train coming until a motorist is almost on top of the tracks.

In letters to Karl Kleitsch, county road commission engineer, and Arlene Bareis, Lima township clerk, Joseph Sullivan of Conrail promised that the control devices would be in place and working by Nov. 16.

As soon as that happens, the barricades will come down and Fletcher Rd. re-opened to through traffic, Koenn said.

"I realize that some people who live on N. Fletcher Rd. have been inconvenienced by the closing," Koenn said, "but there was an over-riding concern for safety. 'I'm very happy that the problem has been resolved.'"

Chelsea Ordered To Revise Draft Of Waste Law

The village of Chelsea and the state Department of Natural Resources continue to go back and forth over requirements for village sewage treatment.

Latest development is a letter signed by Byron Lane, DNR environmental engineer, ordering the village to take further steps to correct a problem which both parties agree doesn't exist.

At issue is the so-called Industrial Waste Pre-Treatment Program, under which the village is supposed to take steps to detect discharges of 13 toxic substances from local industries and stop them before they get into the wastewater treatment plant.

Of the 13 only one—chromium—is used in any Chelsea industrial process, and the firm that uses it is already pre-treating its waste water to get the chromium out.

The other substances which the pre-treatment program is supposed to monitor include zinc, copper, nickel, cyanide, lead, cadmium, mercury, arsenic, selenium, silver, phenolic compounds and poly-chlorinated biphenyls (PCBs). None is used in any local manufacturing operation.

To comply with state-mandated requirements, the village last December submitted to the DNR

Railroad Firm, Village Sign Lease Accord

The village of Chelsea and Conrail have signed an agreement under which the village will make a one-time $12,000 payment for six utility easements across the railroad tracks and own them once and for all.

The easements carry sewer, water and electric lines under and over the Conrail right-of-way.

When the lease was negotiated last spring, Conrail offered the village a choice of outright purchase for $12,000 or an annual rental fee of $600, with no guarantee that the rent might not increase in future years.

The village board decided to buy up the leases and be done with it. That decision has now been confirmed in writing by both parties.

Chelsea Fire Department Plans Open House for Fire Prevention Week

Chelsea Fire Department will hold an open house on Sunday, Oct. 14, from 12-4:30 p.m. at the Chelsea Fire Station, 200 W. Middle St., as part of Fire Prevention Week. Fire Prevention Week runs Oct. 8-14.

There will be plenty to see and do at the open house including spraying fire hoses, watching films on fire safety and examining fire-fighting equipment close-up.

The department will also give a program on fire safety and prevention at North and South Elementary schools on Oct. 12.

In addition, the schools will be holding fire drills once or twice during that week, said South school principal Robert Benedict. The schools are required to have 10 fire drills per year.

Teachers will probably say a little about fire safety, answer questions and reinforce what the fire department says to the kids," said Benedict.

Beach Middle school had its first fire drill Oct. 3. The schools try to hold several drills at the beginning of the school year.

"Of course, we didn't have any the whole month of September but teachers were talking to students about their responsibilities if the event were to take place, the importance of closing doors and windows and turning off lights. It's important we communicate what has to be done," said Beach principal Darci Stielstra.

Moonlight Madness Sales Planned Thursday, Oct. 11

Shoppers in search of a bargain may find it during the Moonlight Madness celebration on Thursday, Oct. 11. Chelsea merchants will participate in the celebration by featuring special sales. The stores will close at their regular times then reopen with sales from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

United Way Begins Commercial Solicitation

Chelsea United Way has entered the commercial phase of its campaign. The commercial goal is $15,000 for all businesses.

The United Way campaign officially began on Oct. 1, but had begun in the schools Sept. 17. As of Oct. 5, the campaign had collected 24% of its $65,000 goal.

"The school campaign was started early to get staff to become aware they could give through payroll withholding. People are able to give more to a cause if they can divide it over the pay period than if they write a check for one amount. We felt by presenting it this way to the schools that they would take advantage of giving in this fashion," said Scott Tanner, campaign chairman.

United Way set separate goals for each school. All goals are set by having the campaign and finance chairmen examine the past history of the organization's donations, and comparing it with their potential "to come up with a realistic increase based on how the campaign was handled before," said Tanner.

United Way set a goal of $1,250 for each elementary school. So far, North school reached 48% of that goal. South school made 12%. Beach Middle school arrived at 45% of its goal of $1,750. Chelsea High school and administration pledged 18% of a $2,500 goal.

United Way funds local agencies such as Chelsea Area Transportation Service, Chelsea Recreation Council, and the Parent to Parent Program. The organization is one of the few local United Ways left in the area that has its own members deciding which agencies receive funding.

According to Tanner, 96 cents on each $1 goes to fund agency programs. The remaining 4 cents per $1 pays for postage, printing, and collection loss, or uncollected pledges.

Educator Says Proposal C Would 'Devastate' Schools

Voters will have a chance to decide whether they want to roll taxes back to 1981 levels under state Proposal C in the November election. However, Chelsea educators argue that this proposal would have a devastating effect on the schools.

The proposal reads as follows: "Proposal to amend article 9, section 1 and 2 of the Constitution, relating to taxes, other revenues and voter or legislative approval of same. The proposed amendment would: 1) prohibit changes in the base or rate of any state or local tax which would increase its revenue yield, or adoption of new taxes, unless approved by voters. 2) Make void 90 days after the adoption of amendment: a) new or increased rate or base of state or local taxes since Dec. 31, 1981, unless-until approved by voters; b) new or increased license, user or permit fees since Dec. 31, 1981 unless-until approved by voters or four-fifths vote of legislative body adopting same. 3) Limit non-resident local political subdivision income tax to 1/2 of 1%. 4) Require tax proposals to state purpose, total anticipated amount and expiration date should the amendment be adopted."

According to Washtenaw county deputy clerk Sandi Szufnar, what the proposal would do is require voter approval on any taxes since Dec. 31, 1981. License fees since that date could either be approved by the voters or four-fifths of the state legislature. The proposal would also limit income tax for non-residents to 1/2 of 1%.

According to George Kostishak, equalization director for the county, the Chelsea homeowner would save $2.93 for every $1,000 of assessed property value. The property tax for the 1981 budget year was $47.83 per thousand of equalized valuation for county, school and township and an extra $9.75 per thousand for the village. Total millage that year was $57.58.

For the 1983 budget year, which covers the first half of 1984, the total millage was $60.51. Out of that, $9.63 goes to the village and $50.88 goes to county, school and township.

Salaries for the village clerk and treasurer positions have been doubled by action of the Chelsea board of trustees, but the holders are not going to get rich.

The treasurer's post, which formerly paid $100 per month, has been raised to $200 monthly, or $2,400 per year.

The position is open following the resignation of Mrs. Mary M. Harris. It will be filled by appointment. Whoever is named will be required to run for election next spring in order to continue in the job.

Incumbent clerk Evelyn Rosentreter, who presently receives $200 per year plus $25 for each council meeting attended and recorded—a total of about $1,100 per year—was also granted a 100 percent increase, to make the position pay approximately double that amount.

This savings, however, would cost Chelsea schools nearly one-seventh of their budget. They would lose $897,480 from a $7 million budget. The proposal would cost the state $1 billion and thousands of jobs, said Chelsea schools superintendent Ray Van Meer.

"If proposal C passes, we are subject to that loss within 90 days. There would have to be an election that restored all that," he said.

On Thursday, Oct. 2 at approximately 8:18 p.m., an accident occurred at BookCrafters, 140 Buchanan St. While two employees were attempting to clean the rollers on a printing press, Donald L. Walz, 20, 16494 Seymour, Grass Lake, caught his right arm in the machinery.

He was taken to the Chelsea Medical Center where it was determined that his arm, lodged in the press up to the shoulder, had been broken.

Since that time, the safety committee that investigated the mishap has handed down commendations to a number of persons responsible for his prompt rescue. According to the committee, two fellow workers, Steve Hegadorn and Ken Sanders were the first to respond to the accident. They immediately hit the stop switch on Walz's press which played a crucial role in limiting the extent of his injury.

Chelsea boys cross country team won its sixth consecutive meet Thursday, Oct. 9, edging past Saline, 27-28. "We had a few people out with sickness, but we ran well enough to win," said Coach Pat Clarke. "I just hope we have all of our people back for the Lincoln meet this week."

Last Thursday, the Chelsea girls basketball team continued on their winning streak to get past Ypsilanti Lincoln, 59-51. Though the girls fell behind, 4-0, at the beginning, they pulled to a 18-10 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Merkel Brothers Furniture & Carpet store has an interesting history. The attractive building which stands at 209 S. Main was once four separate stores, each of which has its own peculiar story. Extensive remodeling was done by Merkels in 1959, and then again in 1965.

This summer, in co-operation with the Downtown Improvement program, however, the exterior of the store was repainted, and the back of the store was fixed up. An attractive rear entrance was built, and a parking lot for customers was improved in the rear.

U.S. Aid Sought For New Prisons

Governor James Blanchard is seeking federal assistance for new state prisons, saying Michigan has tried alternatives to ease prison overcrowding but has reached the absolute limit on building new facilities.

The governor made his plea in testimony before the Congressional Crime Caucus, supporting proposals for federal matching funds to increase prison beds.

The governor said the state's emergency act providing for early parole of prisoners when the system becomes overcrowded has made emergency the status quo.

"It has shortened sentences so much it has invited and received a strong reaction from the courts. Unless we build, and build quickly, we are going to be subject to court intervention with results that will cause even more harm. Federal help is needed now," he said.

Blanchard said a typical minimum prison sentence of two years will result in an actual sentence of six months or less in Michigan. He said fewer than one fifth of convicted felons are locked up in any kind of secured facility.

Prisons are certainly not the major solution to a crime problem which has deep-rooted social causes. But, an inadequate prison system certainly fuels this problem. The consequence of prison overcrowding is a major national security issue.

"None of the high-priced missiles or submarines we buy can protect or provide the basic right of all Americans to move safely through their neighborhoods and cities if their movement is threatened by American criminals who should be behind bars," the governor said.

Blanchard added conservative estimates indicate a need of at least 6,000 new prison beds by the year 2000, at a cost of about $330 million.

Currently, 700 new beds are under construction, and 1,300 more are in various stages of planning.

The state has used the emergency powers act nine times to reduce prison population. It cuts the prisoner's minimum terms by 90 days and is in effect for 90 days at a time, or until the number of inmates is again below capacity.

Corrections Department officials say they expect the act will have to be continuously used for the foreseeable future.

Kellogg Awards $10 Million Grant For Biotechnology Institute

A $10 million funding commitment to the Michigan Biotechnology Institute (MBI) has been made by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek.

The grant provides the institute with $10 million over the next three and a half years for operational purposes.

Separate funding for the construction of a new research facility is being sought to complete the physical plant to be located just south of the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing.

Research of the institute is currently being conducted at MSU laboratories until the facility is completed.

During a recent Lansing press conference, the governor said the Kellogg grant will provide long-term support for the institute to enable research to benefit the state's agriculture and forest industries.

The institute was established in 1981 as a non-profit center for biotechnology. MBI will use new biotechnologies to establish new international markets for Michigan relating to food processing, forest products and agriculture.

The institute expects to employ 150 researchers, including 28 senior scientists during the next few years.

Dr. Russell G. Mawby, chief executive officer and board chairman of the foundation in awarding the grant, said addi-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher dropped by the general store during the session Saturday night, and he must of come with leftovers from the sermon he had cooked up for the next morning. The fellers was discussing the flap about religion in Government, and he jumped in with both feet.

What we need in this country, the preacher allowed, is more, not less religion in our public affairs. Fer to long, he went on, when the church has took a stand at all it has been behind the four walls. If religion is going to have anything to do with the way folks live, he declared, it's got to go out where folks live. And that means everywhere folks live. The fact is, the preacher said, the Constitution don't want to keep religion out of Government, it just aims to keep Government out of religion.

The fellers kicked this notion around until Ed Doolittle reminded them what he had said before the preacher come in. Ed was full agreed with the politicians that insist religion is a non issue. In our loose-bound democracy, Ed said, law and Government do, soon or late, what most of the folks they serve want them to do. As his first witness, Ed went on, he would call blue laws, and then he would rest his case.

While Ed rested the preacher got in a public service announcement. He said he has waited as long as he can, and he now is convinced that his little church is not in Howard Hughes' will. He has searched ever nook and cranny, he said, and there just ain't a copy of the will on the church property. Obvious, the preacher said, most of his members are waiting for the Hughes money or they think they already got it from the way they've been giving lately. He said he's going to have to break the bad news, and tell his people they're just going to have to go back to the old plan of all fer all instead of one fer all.

After his preacher left, Zeke said he would like to demand equal time, but the truth was the man was right. We got to git over our nitpicking and git on with the serious business of making all we can of our lives together, and if that sounded like a sermon, he said, so be it. Nowhere are we making as big a mess as in our courts, Zeke said. We got children claiming their old man is violating the Constitution by not letting them have the car five nights a week, and we got judges that'll hear their cases. Zeke had saw recent where three members of a New Orleans family were suing a small seafood restaurant where one of em found a fly in a stuffed crab three year ago. They want $2,500 each and lawyer's fees, and Zeke said he hopes the judge tells lawyer and family to buzz off.

General speaking, Clem Webster said, how silly a lawsuit is depends on the size of the suee and the suer, and everybody knows you go with what the traffic will bear. That family would make a heap better case agin McDonald's that would ruther pay than go to court. You don't sue the shadetre mechanic that worked on your car, Clem said, you sue the profit-mad company that made it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.Waste Law Ordinance Ordered

a proposed ordinance. Earlier this month the DNR came back and said the proposal isn't good enough and must be strengthened.

Additional funding by the foundation will be decided after an evaluation of the program's accomplishments at the end of the current grant period.

The DNR set a Nov. 2 deadline for submittal of a revised draft ordinance. The village will comply at some extra cost for consulting engineer services. If it didn't, the state could cancel Chelsea's wastewater discharge permit.

L. D. and Loretta Guinan

L. D. Guinans Honored on 50th Wedding Anniversary

On Oct. 6, 1934 L. D. Guinan and Loretta Sullivan were married at Blessed Sacrament Cathedral in Detroit. Monsignor John Connolly performed the ceremony, and at the Solemn High Mass the Rev. Fr. Frank Juras was the celebrant with Monsignor Vincent Hankard and the Rev. Fr. Frank William Shafer assisting.

Last Saturday, Oct. 6, the Guinan family celebrated their parents' 50th anniversary with a reception and dinner at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club.

Family members are Don Guinan of East Detroit, Richard and Lori Guinan Enos of South Lyon, Dr. James Guinan and his wife, Marcia, of Maumee, O., and Dennis and Cathy Guinan Wagenschutz of Huntington Woods.

Also hosting with the Guinan children were their close friends, Tom and Eileen Green of Ann Arbor, and John and Barb Phelps of Sugar Loaf Lake, who are considered as members of the family. There are 10 living grandchildren.

L. D. attended the Howe rural school which was near the Guinan homestead on Waterloo Rd. He then went on to St. Mary's High school, many days riding or walking horseback to Chelsea from his home six miles away.

L. D. graduated in June of 1923, and on Sept. 18 started working at the Cadillac Motor Car Co. in Detroit. From there he retired in June 1965 in the capacity of General Supervisor in the Material Control Division.

During his retirement L. D. has served as trustee on the board of Chelsea Community Hospital and is now trustee emeritus. He also served on Chelsea United Way as rural chairman, and as a chairman of Lyndon Township's Planning and Zoning Commissions. He is a member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, and a third and fourth degree Knight of Columbus. His hobby now is gardening and watching the Tigers win games!

Loretta attended Blessed Sacrament grade and high schools and graduated from Detroit Teacher's College. She taught for several years in the Detroit Public School System and at St. Francis de Sales Parochial school, from where she retired in June 1965. Her hobbies are doing things for her family, her church, and her home.

Since their retirement the Guinans have lived on their Sugar Loaf Lake farm on Waterloo Rd.

When L. D. was asked to what he attributed a long and happy marriage he answered, "Probably a sense of humor. Loretta and I have always practiced equality of the sexes. When she says, 'Jump!' I say, 'How high?'"

"To all of you young readers working toward your 50th let us tell you it is a happy time of life. You have by then reached a certain security, have passed the pressures of a business or career life, and are free to use your God-given talents in doing the things you like best to do. Good Luck!"

"Proposal C is a dangerous proposal. It's dangerous in terms of funding to education. It's dangerous at a period of time when we're just recovering from the 1981 recession. People are going back to work, our bond rating is better. This is not a time to throw Michigan into a potential state of bankruptcy again," he said.

In Chelsea, the loss of revenue would cause severe cutbacks in jobs and programs. The district has not yet been able to project where these cuts will be. According to Van Meer, however, about 85% of the school budget is "fixed" and pays for utilities and employees, and "people are programs," he said.

"The remaining 15% is budgeted for equipment and supplies such as papers, typewriters and workbooks."

"When you go to cut a budget, you're only talking 15% that would not immediately affect programs for students or people."

If you were going to cut 10%, our posture has always been, make the cuts where they would not disrupt students. We won't buy a typewriter or have as many paper products," said Van Meer.

According to Van Meer, taxpayers would lose under Proposal C in the long-run.

"Property owners wouldn't save anything, because you'd have a school system that isn't very good and everything around it would go down," Van Meer said.

One Chelsea realtor said he would probably vote for proposal C.

"The way I see it, the government, state and county are probably over-staffed. About 88% of our taxes in this area goes to Chelsea schools, Washtenaw Community college and Washtenaw Intermediate School District, which seems like a big slug of it if the county and township can operate on 12%," he said.

However, property values would probably decrease if the quality of the schools went down, he said.

"I suspect they would to a degree. Obviously people don't want to move into an area where the schools aren't adequate. I don't think anybody wants to decrease quality but that's only one part of the equation. Efficiency in operation is the other part," he said.

Some High School Yearbooks Waiting

The following former students and graduates of Chelsea High school have not picked up their 1984 yearbooks. They are urged to do so as soon as possible.

Dancer's Observing Centennial

Dancer's Department Stores, located in Michigan and Ohio, are celebrating a century of business under four generations of the same family.

A hundred years ago William James Dancer became the partner of his employer, H. S. Holmes. In Stockbridge, they opened a general store with quality merchandise, including everything except drugs and hardware, under the name of Holmes and Dancer.

In 1984 Mark Hurst and Tom Ford bought Dancer's Department Stores from their fathers, Charles Hurst and Duane Ford. There are now seven stores in Michigan and Ohio.

The climax of Dancer's Centennial Celebration will be a store-wide anniversary sale Oct. 8 through Oct. 20.

Apples Worth $6,000 Stolen From Orchard

Apples were stripped from about 120 trees in Webb's North Lake Orchard at 13620 North Territorial Rd. on Monday night, with a loss that could be $6,000 or more.

"You can figure on five bushels of apples per tree, and a value of $10 per bushel," a spokesperson for the orchard said.

Also stolen were crates used to hold the apples.

Sheriff's department officers investigating the theft have labelled the incident a combination of larceny, trespassing and malicious destruction of property.

CHS Drama Class Stages 'Our Town'

Chelsea High school drama class is well on their way to a new production. This year, the class will present "Our Town" a three-act play by Thornton Wilder.

"Our Town" tells the story of Grover's Corners, a small town in New Hampshire. Through a series of time changes, the people of the town find the real value of living. This dramatic story is entertainment for the entire family.

William Coelius, who has recently been inducted into the Speech Teachers Hall of Fame, will be directing and producing the play. In past years, a student director was chosen to direct the play, but this year, Coelius returns to lead his class to a successful performance.

The production staff consists of stage manager, Christopher Herter; technical director, Heather Grenier; and business manager, Mark Stebelton.

The drama class has 49 members this semester.

The production of "Our Town" is set for December.

Educational Conservation Provided By Rod & Gun Club

"TRAILS," an educational magazine published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, will be part of the curriculum at Beach Middle school during the 1984-1985 year.

Thirty subscriptions have been sponsored by the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club so that students may learn more about wildlife and the conservation of our natural resources.

Each month during the school year a copy of "TRAILS" will be supplied to students in science classes while faculty members in the program will receive teacher's guides.

Students gain an intimate insight into the lives and habitat of Michigan animals, birds and other creatures with whom we share the environment. The protection of air, water, soil and trees is also inherent in the "TRAILS" program.

Back issues were reviewed by the school librarian. The October, 1983 issue featured the life of the Canada goose, including the serious business of preening and reasons why flocks of geese form a V in flight. A page was devoted to the migration of birds, fish and butterflies, and how these creatures navigate. The issue contained a feature on U.S. President Teddy Roosevelt, who was a naturalist from boyhood to the end of his life. There was also an article on national wildlife refuges and a quiz on the contents of the issue.

All MUCC clubs are affiliated with the National Wildlife Federation.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

Will somebody please send us a bill? That is not an ordinary kind of request in this instance it sums up the result of a 22 year experience which illustrates bureaucratic government operating at its best.

I have written about such instances involving other people in the past, but this is the first time I have ever been personally caught in one. Let me tell you, it is no fun, and I don't wonder any more why there are a lot of angry people who don't trust the officials who supposedly serve them.

The background:

We bought a home in Chelsea last year and moved into it on July 1, 1983. For reasons that I won't go into here, Vivian and I decided to sell it, did, and will move out in early November, provided we can clear up a delinquent tax problem before the closing date.

Delinquent taxes? At no time during the 15 months that we have lived in the house have we ever received a bill for taxes, from the village, Lima township, the county, the school district, or anybody else.

The absence of tax bills perhaps should have alerted me, but it didn't. My life-long habit has been to pay bills when they come due, but I don't run around soliciting bills. I figure that if I owe somebody money, that person or business or government unit is responsible to let me know how much I owe, the due date, and to whom payment should be made. I have invariably held up my end of the bargain, and written a check. None has ever bounced. I'm a responsible citizen who pays what he legitimately owes.

When my wife and I tried to get to the bottom of this problem, we encountered nothing but frustration.

An inquiry at the village office confirmed that our taxes were indeed delinquent. A further inquiry at the township office told us the same thing, along with an advisory that the account had been sent to the county government offices in Ann Arbor for collection.

A trip to Ann Arbor produced the information that we do owe a rather large amount of unpaid back taxes plus penalties. It also provided positive proof, in the form of a photo-stated copy, that our deed to the property is on file with our names and address correct.

Anybody who wanted to send us a bill for taxes would have had no trouble finding who lives at 130 Clardale Ct., Chelsea. Beyond that, we are in the telephone directory. We don't hide behind an unlisted phone number.

I am sure that the local officials with whom I deal regularly in the business of gathering news know who I am and where and how to find me. It isn't all that difficult, and I'm sure not dodging or ducking.

What has been happening is that the bills have been wrongly addressed to the former owners of the property, and have been returned to the post office as "undeliverable." There apparently is some kind of a rule against forwarding mail of that sort; it has to be returned to the sender.

County officials offered to hand my wife the accumulated collection of tax bills but warned that, if she accepted them, she would be assuming liability for late-payment penalties. Wisely, she refused to take the documents.

One official, who ought to know better, insisted, "It's your responsibility to pay taxes. It's not our responsibility to notify you that they are due."

That has to be one of the most preposterous declarations that I've ever heard. It implies that I am supposed to be clairvoyant, anticipate receiving a tax bill, and go pay it even though I never got it. How ridiculous can you get?

What we are trying to do now is persuade someone to send us a bill, with the actual tax amounts owed and the alleged "delinquent" penalties shown and itemized separately. The taxes will be paid, promptly. The penalties will be protested and disputed in court if necessary.

Will somebody please send me a bill? Address it to William J. Vivian M. Mullendore, 130 Clardale Ct., Chelsea, MI 48118. We are the owners of record and have a registered deed to prove it.

We will pay what we owe, but not one penny more. And in no way will we hold still for the idea that we should be penalized for the errors and inattention of officials whose salaries are paid from tax funds.

There is a principle involved, and it's important.

The only reason I'm putting the problem in print is that I strongly suspect we are by no means the only victims of bureaucratic ineptitude, obfuscation and frustration. I'm using our case as an example to make a point which is, very simply, that government doesn't work nearly as well as it should.

Julie Vorus and Angi Alvarez next door neighbors at North Lake, have been cast as mother and daughter in the Saline Area Players' upcoming production of William Gibson's "The Miracle Worker."

This play is of the timeless, uplifting story of the struggles of Helen Keller to overcome the barriers of blindness and deafness.

Angi Alvarez will be seen in the role of Helen Keller in this her first community theater production. She studied speech and drama under Bev Velsik at Beach Middle school when she had the role of Sheila Etiwanda in "I Must Be Someone. It Says So In My Horoscope."

A 10th grade honor student at Chelsea High school, Angi is the only sophomore selected for the school's debate team coached by Bill Coelius.

Angi is the daughter of Jose and Henry Alvarez. They live at North Lake where Angi enjoys her hobbies: swimming, boating and water skiing.

Other cast members include Donna Alter, Dan Reed, Brian Cox, Teddy Groed, John Cox, Barbara Patterson. The play will be seen Oct. 25-27, 8 p.m., Saline High school auditorium, Maple Rd., Saline. Ph. 663-7817 or 1-429-5133 for further information.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 1 were Schumann, Heller, Dils, Grau, Feeney, Comeau, Redding, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, community education director Jackie Rogers, athletic director Nemeth, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dale Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the Sept. 17 meeting.

Board approved the appointment of David Reed and Mary Gaken to the Chelsea Recreation Council. They will be filling vacancies left by Paul Bunten and Gail Finch.

Bill Coelius, high school instructor, was recognized by the Board of Education for his induction into the Michigan Speech Coaches Association Hall of Fame. Bill was the only member to be added to the Hall of Fame this year. He coaches the forensics and debate teams, both of which have consistently placed students in the state finals. Bill was presented a certificate of achievement.

Assistant superintendent Mills informed the board of the dangers of Proposal "C," which will be on the November ballot. The proposal is devastating not only to education in Chelsea, but to education in general and to the State of Michigan in particular.

Community education director Rogers presented her pre-school teaching staff and briefly reviewed the nature of the pre-school classes.

Football coach Gene LaFave presented an overview of the football program, speaking specifically on the philosophy of the program, its numbers, and camp participation.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed with the board the state-wide educational summit for which Governor Blanchard is now implementing his call. He described the conference as an attempt to help "step up the state's role as a partner, investor, and catalyst in providing quality education."

The Board of Education had an opportunity for input on the educational audit, and expressed appreciation to administrators and teachers for their efforts in the review of the audit.

The Board Finance Committee reported that it will meet on Oct. 9 to review the amended budget.

Meeting adjourned at 10:05 p.m.

French Students Take Field Trip To See Bilingual Play Near Flint

French students at Chelsea High school are in for a special field trip Friday, Oct. 12. They will travel to Clio High school to see a bilingual play. The school is located in Clio near Flint.

About 100 students or nearly all the French classes of teachers Mary Golle and Jane Wilson will attend "The Little Prince" put on by the National Theater for Performing Arts. The company will perform a scene in French and then repeat it in English.

According to principal John Williams, the play is "kind of like 'Gulliver's Travels' in that it's on different levels. A lot of people use it as a children's book but it has a deeper meaning. The prince travels to other planets and encounters interesting and funny situations that have a deeper meaning. What he comes up with is what's important to him, which is developing an inner peace rather than materialistic things."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
I wish to support your position on gun control issues. There are entirely too many guns floating around, especially handguns. For starters it would be good to not allow handguns for hunting as legislation is pending.

CHS Students Compete on Math Test

Students at Chelsea High school will participate in taking the Michigan Math Competition test on Wednesday, Oct. 10. The test is sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of Mathematical Associations of America.

Students take the test on a voluntary basis. The top 5% state-wide qualify as finalists and may then take a second test in December to become eligible for scholarships. A total of $15,000-$16,000 in scholarships is distributed to the top 100 students state-wide.

Chelsea students have competed for the last six years. Last year, 97 Chelsea students participated. Darrin Fowler and Gretchen Vogel, both seniors, placed in the top 5%.

This year, principal John Williams, estimates about 95 students will again participate. "It's a good way to see how they stack up against other math students around the state," said Williams.

Costumes Are Part Of Show

There's an old saying that "clothes make the man," and it's true to some extent in horse showmanship as these pictures taken at the Chelsea Community Fair suggest. Costumes of the exhibitors figured in the judging.

WHEN IT'S ALL OVER, there's some clean-up work to do, as Ellen Fisher of Dexter demonstrates while washing down her horse.

Catalog Published About Michigan Solar Heating

Solar heating can substantially reduce costs for operating conventional heating systems in Michigan, provided that careful planning is coupled with sensible design and construction.

That is the core message of "The First Catalog for Solar Energy in Michigan" libraries and in Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service county offices.

Funded by a grant from the U. S. Department of Energy, the catalog was written by Cynthia Fridgen, extension energy specialist; Tim Morzowski, assistant professor of agricultural engineering at MSU; and Jim Zarka, an MSU landscape architecture graduate now practicing in Colorado.

A number of organizations and agencies co-operated with the trio in providing data for the catalog. These included: the Solar Industries Association, Brighton; the Michigan Energy Administration; the Department of Agricultural Engineering, the Co-operative Extension Service, the Department of Human Environment and Design, and Joseph Fridgen, Department of Park and Recreation Resources at MSU; Fred Nurenberger, state climatologist for the Michigan Department of Agriculture; and Urban Options, East Lansing.

The catalog provides information about the amount of solar heat available in Michigan during a year, examples of solar energy-equipped homes, solar energy performance calculations, financing and economics, and other related topics.

"The use of solar energy has proven to be cost effective for some homeowners in Michigan, but some systems have been proven to be poor investments," Fridgen says.

"The catalog is intended to illustrate the merits and benefits that can accrue from a well designed, properly managed solar heating system," she says. "Solar energy has the potential for being a significant heat source in all homes, but our research shows that not all solar applications are sensible investments. We think the catalog helps point the way to those that are."

For more information about the catalog, write to Cynthia Fridgen, 4935 Chipping Camden Lane, Okemos 48864.

Estleman Has New Book

The Mysterious Press has announced the publication of Dexter area writer Loren D. Estleman's 16th novel, "Kill Zone."

The book introduces Peter Macklin, a professional killer working out of Detroit. "Kill Zone" features eight terrorists armed with automatic weapons and gelatin explosives who board one of the Boblo excursion boats intending to blow it up along with 800 passengers if 10 prisoners aren't released from the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson within 72 hours.

Through a curious set of circumstances, it becomes Macklin's job to foil the plot, which he sets out to do with the reluctant help of the FBI, the Secret Service, and organized crime.

The book is the first in a series that will feature Macklin as its unlikely hero.

"Kill Zone" is now available at area bookstores, including the Little Professor Book Center in Ann Arbor's Maple Village and Border's Books on State St. in Ann Arbor.

WHEN IN DOUBT, PRAY: Chelsea's varsity football team had its hands full against a very good Hartland team last Friday night, and at this point head cheerleader Kelly Harness folded her hands in prayer for success of the Bulldogs.

IT'S NOT FOR SALE: Chelsea's Veterans Park really isn't up for sale, although the sign at lower left might make you think so. The park welcome sign, featuring Chelsea's historic clock tower, is new and very nice.

YOUNG MANAGERS: A couple of Jasons—Johnson and Adams—are serving as managers for the Chelsea varsity football team. They aren't very old or very big, but they take their assignment seriously and work hard to carry it out. The uniforms don't quite fit, but the boys will grow into them. Expect to see them out there on the field playing a few years from now.

Zion Lutheran Commemorates 10th Year of New Church

Zion Lutheran church will commemorate the 10th anniversary of the new church's dedication with a pot-luck at 12 p.m. on Oct. 21. The public is invited.

The pot-luck will follow the congregational meeting where church members will vote on a proposed constitution. Details on the pot-luck are being worked out by Marge Prinzing, Sharman Pfau, Barb Pruess and Jane McLaughlin.

The church was founded when members separated from St. Thomas' Evangelical Lutheran church to form a western half of the congregation in 1965. The old church was dedicated in 1967 and stands on the opposite corner from the new church's location on 3050 S. Fletcher at Waters Rd.

In 1971, a cyclone partially destroyed the church and parsonage. Reconstruction was completed in September of that year.

The current Parish Hall was dedicated in 1949, and a new parsonage in 1955. When the new church was built in 1974, the Parish Hall was remodeled.

In 1972, Zion members voted 118 for and 59 against building a new church. The congregation had outgrown the 107-year-old church. The old church also had no running water or sewage facilities.

The congregation also voted to remain on the Parish Hall site and to limit construction costs to $300,000. In June, 1974, the cornerstone of the present church was laid. On Oct. 20, 1974, the new church was dedicated. Stained glass windows were installed in 1975. The bell in the old church was made electronic and placed in the new church in 1981.

Zion Lutheran shared a minister with St. Thomas until 1973. Since then the church has had eight ministers, beginning with the Rev. Baumann from 1873-1885. The Rev. Merz took his place for three years. The Rev. Lemster followed in 1888, serving for more than 21 years until 1910.

He was followed by the Rev. Thieme who served 16 years.

The Rev. Brueckner stayed at the church longer than any other minister—26 years. He began his term in June, 1926 and remained until August 1954. He had marked his 50th year as a minister in 1949. His son, Theodore Brueckner, was ordained in 1945.

Pastor Robert Kalser served from 1955 to 1957. The Rev. C. J. Renner replaced him in November 1958. He resigned in 1967, when the Rev. John R. Morris, present pastor, took his place.

The current congregation has grown to 400 persons in 160 families.

Revival Services Scheduled At Chelsea Fellowship

Chelsea Christian Fellowship, at 337 Wilkinson St., will be holding revival services Oct. 14-17 nightly at 7 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 14 in the 11 a.m. service.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Curtis McClain. The Rev. McClain is married and has five adult children.

He has pastored churches in Hale for four years and Grand Haven for 20 years.

The Rev. McClain also organized the McClain family singers and traveled with them throughout Michigan.

He and his wife, Marilyn, are presently working together at the Western Michigan Teen Challenge facility in Muskegon.

Teen Challenge began in the ghettos of Brooklyn, N.Y.

What began in the 50's as a small counseling center on the street of Brooklyn, N.Y., has grown into an international ministry, giving many individuals a new life.

Pastor Erik Hansen and the congregation invite the public to attend services. A nursery will be provided for children.

BookCrafters Seeking Two More Tax Breaks

Public hearings have been set for Tuesday, Nov. 2, on requests by BookCrafters, Inc., for two more tax abatements under the state law which establishes Industrial Development Districts (IDD's).

Exemptions if granted, would relieve BookCrafters of 50 percent of its property tax liability over a period of 12 years.

The firm has already been qualified as an IDD for its plant at 140 Buchanan St. It is now asking for similar consideration for its new fulfillment house in the Sibley Rd. industrial park and for new equipment to be installed in the Buchanan St. plant.

In its application for the fulfillment house, BookCrafters estimated a total cost of $934,000 for construction and equipment.

The statement, signed by president William Nuffer, declared:

"Within two years of project completion, the new facility will result in the creation of approximately 50 to 60 new jobs as well as retaining 230 existing employees within the village of Chelsea."

The application for tax relief on equipment to be installed in the existing plant carries a total figure of $2,288,700, mostly for new printing and binding machinery.

"Within two years of project completion, the installation of this new equipment will result in the creation of 86 new jobs and the retention of 246 employees," the application stated.

There is considerable overlap between the two applications on total numbers of jobs involved. BookCrafters presently employs about 245 persons and expects to add about 30 when the fulfillment house goes into operation later this year.

BookCrafters plans to expand the fulfillment facility in later years.

Fire Department Called To Tuesday Accidents

Chelsea firemen responded to two personal injury automobile accidents early yesterday morning.

The first alarm was sounded at 6:12 a.m. to a call at Hadley and Goodband Rds. The second, at 7:32 a.m., was on M-52 near Green Lake.

Details of the accidents were not available from the sheriff's department, because reports had not been made out and filed by investigating deputies. Both mishaps occurred in heavy fog.

A Chelsea fireman who went out on both calls said he believed the Hadley Rd. accident was minor in terms of injuries but that "someone was pretty badly banged up" in the M-52 mishap.

In both cases the victims were taken to Chelsea Community Hospital for treatment.

All the noise, which woke up a lot of Chelsea residents, resulted from soundings of the village fire siren, dispatch of the fire department's rescue truck and a fire wagon to each scene, and runs by the Huron Valley Ambulance Co.

"We make a lot of noise," a fireman said. "We have to. We've got to get there in a hurry, and that means using the sirens. When you may be dealing with a matter of life and death, you don't worry about disturbing somebody's sleep. You lean on the siren and get there as fast as you safely can."

Posted on the wall of the village fire station is a letter of commendation from University of Michigan Hospital for the department's quick response to a recent traffic accident and its effective paramedical action upon arrival.

Chelsea Schools To Join State Summit on Education

Chelsea schools will participate in a summit conference called by Governor Blanchard to focus on improving education. The dates and who will attend the meetings from Chelsea have not yet been decided.

The summit will act as a task-force in response to recent state and national reports such as the "Nation at Risk."

"What they're going to do is hold regional summit meetings that will lead to a state-wide summit in early December. I would suspect their plans will be made public after the first of the year," said superintendent Ray Van Meer.

According to Van Meer, the summit will focus on 15 areas in five major categories: 1) improvement in delivery of basic education services; 2) improvement in excellence of administrators; 3) development of high tech programming for students by building a closer link to business and industry; 4) effective job training programs; and 5) evaluating student performance and reporting performance to the public.

"We will watch the summit to see what areas the task force brings to life that we should do a better job at," said Van Meer.

The Chelsea schools have already begun work on some of those categories. To strengthen ties with business and industry, Chelsea High school principal John Williams and teacher Ann O'Hagen have been assigned to the Michigan Technological Council. Computer labs have been installed in all four schools.

The school board has already attempted to assess the school system through the educational audit. A board goal this year is to co-ordinate the results of the audit with other committees examining Chelsea education.

The schools are also trying to co-ordinate and improve curriculum for grades kindergarten through 12th. A series of teacher in-services on writing have been a step in this direction.

All 7 Members Of Village Board Come to Meeting

For the first time since the March 6 election, the Chelsea village board had a full complement of members on hand at its Oct. 2 meeting.

President Jerry Satterthwaite and trustees A. E. (Mac) Fulk, Richard Steele, Joe Merkel, Stephanie (Sis) Kanten, Herman Radloff and Jim Finch were all on hand.

The meeting didn't last long, thanks to the fact that a Detroit Tigers-Kansas City Royals American League pennant playoff game was scheduled to be played that night.

The board rushed through its agenda and adjourned so everybody could go watch the ball game on TV.

14th District Courts To Receive New Magistrate

By the first of the year, the 14th District Courts will have a magistrate. The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners approved funding for the position at their meeting last week.

The magistrate will service all four divisions of the court including Chelsea. His or her primary function will be to deal with civil infractions and all but the more serious traffic infractions. The magistrate can perform marriages and conduct informal hearings on tickets.

Users of the Chelsea court may still request a formal hearing before Judge Karl Fink. They may also go before the judge if they do not agree with the magistrate's decision.

The magistrate will be appointed by the four 14th district court judges and approved by the Board of Commissioners. The only legal requirement for holding the position is that the magistrate be a registered voter of Washtenaw county. Training for the position is also available.

"We will limit the authority of the person. They may only do certain things and eventually we will increase their responsibility," said Judge Fink.

The courts had a magistrate in 1981, but the Board of Commissioners no longer wished to fund the position. The law provides that the court is entitled to a magistrate if the judges request it.

"Our primary reason for requesting a magistrate is to enable us to increase services for the public. It will enable us to have more flexibility. It gives people a greater choice of times when things can be heard. It frees judges to do more things and be able to spend more time on cases and keep current with the docket as we're doing," said Judge Fink.

Fourteenth district judges will also have more time when the district loses the Ypsilanti Township court. That court will soon have its own district. The move will lighten caseloads by about 25%, said Judge Fink.

The move will also change the territorial boundaries of the 14th district courts. The village of Chelsea and some surrounding areas will continue to be serviced by the Chelsea court. However, other areas formerly serviced in Chelsea will be shifted to another court. The new boundaries have not yet been determined.

While the present work-load will be eased, 14th district judges

Nielsen, Leonard Receive Highest Kiwanis Honor

Anton Nielsen and Walter P. Leonard have received awards as George F. Hixson Fellows of Kiwanis International, men who have been members of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club for 35 years or more and have been active in the affairs of the organization.

The award is named after the first president of Kiwanis International and recognizes outstanding service, a local club spokesman explained. "It's not a longevity award, it's a credit for accomplishments and service over a long period of time," John Mitchell said.

Leonard is the editor and publisher of The Chelsea

Standard. Nielsen is the owner of Farmers' Supply Co.

Both also received Legion of Honor awards for having been members of Chelsea Kiwanis for more than 35 years. Also receiving that award was William J. Rademacher, who has been a member for 30 years. Eligibility begins at 25 years of membership.

Richard Semak of Ann Arbor, Michigan District 10 Kiwanis lieutenant governor, presented the awards. Rademacher was the master of ceremonies.

ST. JOSEPH HALL, a new adult foster care facility, will be dedicated by the most Rev. Kenneth Povish on Sunday, Oct. 21. The facility is an outgrowth of the St. Louis Center. The Hall will house men between the ages of 18 and 26 in order to help them make the transition to community living.

Adult Foster Care Facility To Be Dedicated at St. Louis

The Most Rev. Kenneth Povish will preside at the dedication of St. Joseph Hall, a newly built adult foster care facility located west of Chelsea, on Sunday, Oct. 21.

St. Joseph Hall, a division of St. Louis Center, is operated by the Servants of Charity, an order of priests and brothers dedicated to the development of "special children."

The new facility was a natural outgrowth of St. Louis school, according to Father Joseph Rinaldo, director of St. Louis Center. As students of St. Louis school attained 18 years of age, it became apparent that an adult care facility was needed to assist them in the development of independent living skills.

St. Joseph Hall provides the first transitional step from a Special Education Program for young adult males between 18 to 26 years of age. Emphasis is placed on the development of independent living skills that will allow the young men to make the next transitional step to a supervised group home or other community living arrangement.

At St. Joseph Hall, each person's needs will be assessed by a highly trained, dedicated staff comprised of: Director Cristine Harris of Pinckney, Beverly Boyd of Manchester, Gina Stover of Grass Lake, plus four part-time employees from Chelsea.

THE COMBINED BANDS of the Chelsea school district performed half-time of last Friday's football game against Hartland. There were more than 200 young musicians on the field. The Beach

Programs have been established to provide responsibilities and freedoms consistent with individual capabilities. Stress is placed on individual achievement and individual decision-making, both essential characteristics in a young man's development.

The architectural firm of E. C. Svinicki & Associates designed

St. Joseph Hall and the general contractor was the J. E. Lucas Construction Co. Both firms are from Jackson.

St. Joseph Hall, as well as St. Louis Center, depends largely on personal and corporate contributions. The new facility houses 20 residents. Routine tasks, such as cooking, cleaning, laundry, etc.,

Middle school band is in front, with the high school band backing them up.

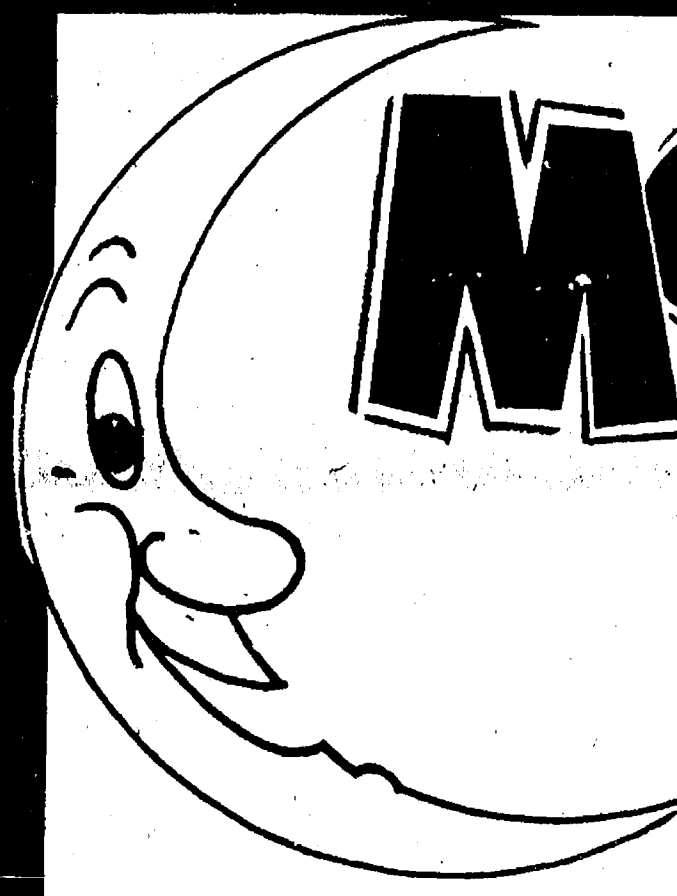

are handled by the residents. St. Louis school has a staff of 52, including part-time employees, operating 24 hours per day, seven days a week, caring for the needs of 55 live-in students.

In conjunction with the dedication of St. Joseph Hall, a champagne brunch will be held at St. Louis Center, followed by an Open House at St. Joseph Hall. The public is invited to attend.

Information regarding tickets may be obtained by contacting St. Louis Center, phone (313) 475-0430, during working hours, or in the evenings, (313) 475-8285.

Hartland Shows Why It's Listed Near Top In Win Over Bulldogs

"They are maybe the best team we will play this season," Chelsea football coach Gene LaFave said last week before the Bulldogs played Hartland here. "They are ranked among the top five Class B teams in the state."

LaFave's assessment proved to be right as the visiting Eagles won a convincing 35-14 decision despite a valiant effort by the Bulldogs to keep the score close and respectable.

"We didn't play poorly," LaFave said. "We got some penalties at the wrong times, and we suffered a couple of pass interceptions off tipped balls that Hartland converted into touchdowns."

"It was a very tough, hard-hitting football game, and I'm not at all ashamed of our effort. Hartland is an excellent football team, strong at every position. We gave them a good ball game, and with a couple of breaks might have made it closer."

"Don't get down on this team. We're 1-4 on the season, but we are better than that. We're close to being good. We've come a long way, but we aren't quite there. Believe me, we are going to win some games from here on out."

Hartland piled up a 21-0 half-time lead, thanks to a crushing ground game that the Bulldogs just plain couldn't stop. The Eagles gained more than 250 yards rushing, mostly with straight-ahead power plays led by excellent up-front blocking.

Stuffed on the ground, the Bulldogs went to the air as quarterback Dan Bellus threw the ball 25 times, with Todd Starkey and Matt Bohlender as his main targets.

Chelsea got back into the contest midway through the third quarter when Dave Steinhauer bucked over from two yards out, and Biff Bunten booted the extra point.

Hartland came back with two touchdowns to put the game away, before Steinhauer scored again late in the fourth period. Bunten again added the PAT.

LaFave praised the play of defensive tackle Mark E. Bentley, who was in on 15 drops. "He had an excellent game, just outstanding," the coach said.

Dave Steinhauer, Dan Brosnan, Dave Boote and Starkey also shown on defense. Boote and Bohlender each had interceptions.

On offense, LaFave was happy about the play of Curtis Heard at halfback. Heard is just getting into top running form after having sat out the first half of the season with a bad case of shin splints.

(A "shin splint" is a non-damaging but very painful injury to the lower legs, basically by too much running on hard surfaces.)

The Bulldogs get a shot at winning their second game of the season when they play at Dexter on Friday night. Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m.

Like Chelsea, Dexter has been struggling this season and has lost five straight, primarily because of inability to move the ball and score. The Dreadnaughts have put across just 12 points in their five losses.

Both teams play well on defense. Chelsea's offense hasn't exactly set the world on fire, but has shown more punch than Dexter's, with 51 points in five outings.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Pinckney, Tecumseh Deadlocked for Lead

It's a race again in the Southeastern Conference after front-running Pinckney was trounced, 22-0, by Tecumseh last Friday night, dropping the Pirates into a first-place tie with Saline.

Each is now 3-1 in the SEC, with two more conference games on their schedules.

Saline kept pace by beating Milan, 20-0 and Lincoln, 14-0 in the title chase with a 7-0 win over Dexter. Chelsea lost a non-league contest to Hartland, 35-14.

Pinckney, Saline, Tecumseh and Lincoln all remain in the run for the league championship, each with one loss. A several-way tie is a possibility.

Chelsea, Dexter and Milan appear to be out of it. Milan has lost twice, and the other two three times each.

Tecumseh, which is beginning to emerge as perhaps the strongest team in the conference, had a surprisingly easy time against Pinckney, taking control of the game early and shutting down the Pirate offense with tough defensive play. Pinckney never came close to scoring.

DIVES FOR YARDAGE: Chelsea quarterback dives and stretches out for a couple of extra yards during the Bulldogs' 35-14 loss to Hartland here last Friday night.

Beaten by Pinckney a week earlier in one of the upsets of the year, Saline came back to defeat Milan with a strong defensive effort that kept the Big Reds off the board. Milan had the ball three times inside Saline's 10, but couldn't score.

Lincoln just plain crushed Dexter, allowing the Dreadnaughts only two first downs. Quarterback Jeff Sloan, possibly the best player in the SEC, passed for three touchdowns.

Chelsea couldn't handle a talented Hartland team despite giving it a valiant try. The Eagles are ranked among the top five Class B teams in the state and showed why as they beat the Bulldogs.

Frosh Grid Team Loses To Hartland

Chelsea's freshman gridgers scored first in their game against Hartland there last Thursday, but nothing much went right after that as they dropped a 28-6 decision.

A pass from Jordan Gray to Tim Anderson produced the touchdown.

"We had some other promising drives, but we just couldn't sustain them," coach Jim Tallman said. "We lost momentum and stopped ourselves."

"What we badly need is a victory," Tallman said of his young squad which is 0-4 on the season. "We're capable of winning, but the boys are doubting themselves. It's a psychological thing that a win could turn around."

Mistakes, including one that was really strange, hurt the Bulldogs. Running for what appeared to be a sure touchdown, a Chelsea back simply let go of the ball. It went up in the air and was caught by a Hartland defender.

Tallman praised the two-way play of Anderson, Dan Fletcher, Cory Johnson and Shawn Brown, all of whom "played very good ball."

The freshmen met Leslie here last night on their home field.

Early in 1984, there were over 27 million working wives, of whom nearly 15 million were performing the dual roles of mother and wage earner. Mothers of over 9 million children under age 6 were in the labor force, as were the mothers of nearly 15 million children 6 to 13 years old, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor.

JV Gridders Defeated In High-Scoring Game

In a game that Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor called "kind of a track meet," the Bulldog junior varsity football team lost to Hartland there last Thursday, 37-24.

"We couldn't stop them, and they couldn't stop us," Ticknor said. "If you like to see a lot of scoring, it was exciting. If you like to see good defense, it was pretty bad."

The difference was turn-overs. Chelsea had five of them inside their own 30-yard line, and Hartland converted three into touchdowns. Bobbled snaps between center and quarterback produced a rash of fumbles.

"Hartland has a good JV team, and you can't expect to beat them if you keep giving them the ball in good field position," Ticknor commented. "That's what we did. Our defense didn't play well as a group, and we have a lot of work to do on that. Hartland ran mostly counter plays at us, and we couldn't stop them."

(A counter play, sometimes called a misdirection play, starts out one way, then turns against the flow of pursuit and goes the other. A defender who initially over-runs is left standing there wondering what happened.)

Scott Frisinger scored two of Chelsea's touchdowns with an eight-yard run from scrimmage and a 70-yard return of a kick-off. Lee Underhile got the other on a six-yard scamper.

Frisinger, Marcus Fletcher and Underhile each contributed two-point conversions.

The game was tied 8-8 midway through the first quarter, but Hartland then pulled away to make it 22-8 at the half and extended its lead to 30-8 in the third quarter before Chelsea got on the board again.

"We're close to being a good team, but we aren't there yet," Ticknor summarized. "Our offensive line play was very good. We opened some big holes. We've gotten some boys back who were injured earlier, and that has helped. Greg Brown had a real fine game."

"We have to cut down on offensive mistakes and improve on defense. If we can do those two things, we'll be all right."

JV Girls Cagers Beat Lincoln, 45-26

Chelsea girls junior varsity basketball team defeated Lincoln, 45-26, on Oct. 2, thereby winning their second league game. Chelsea stands 7-1 over-all and 2-0 in the league.

"The key in this game is we did well in the first quarter, 12-2. We shot well from the floor at 32% or 18 for 56. That was good for us. We also rebounded well, 39 to 32," said coach Paul Terpstra.

Chelsea also led in the remaining three quarters, 8-6, 12-10, and 13-8.

"The drawbacks were we didn't play consistently. We would go scoreless for a few minutes then score a bunch. We will work on being more consistent. Our free throws were 9 out of 29 or 31% which isn't good and we had 30 turnovers which isn't good either," said Terpstra.

Assistant Swim Coach Joins Chelsea Faculty

A new addition to the swim coaching and teaching staff of the Chelsea school system is Dave Brinklow who joined the faculty at the beginning of the fall semester as assistant coach of the boys and girls varsity swim teams.

In addition he coaches a team of elementary grade swimmers in the Chelsea Aquatic Club. Brinklow is also a substitute teacher in the academic program. A native of Milan, he swam on the Milan High school team specializing in long distance free style events. In this year's spring graduating class at Michigan State University he received his bachelor's degree in elementary education.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDRE

When you hunt for more than 45 years, you learn a few things if you are at all intelligent and perceptive. They are basic things about wildlife which may seem so obvious as to be superfluous to write about.

Yet, I see those principles of knowledge continually violated or ignored by long-time hunters who ought to know better. Those are the hunters who come in empty-handed and complain that "there is nothing out there" to shoot at. They generally blame the Department of Natural Resources, when they should blame themselves for not "hunting smart."

A little bit of understanding about wildlife goes a long way toward hunting success in the field. In this and the next couple of columns I will pass along some elements of what I learned during more than 45 years as a hunter.

All species of wildlife—game and non-game—have basic requirements for cover (shelter), food and water. Cover and food needs vary widely according to species. The common denominator is water. All birds and animals must have water to survive.

A human being can go for a surprisingly long time without food, living off stored-up reserves of body fat (which most of us have too much of). The survival time without water is very short, a matter of a few days at most.

Even a camel has to drink once in a while (and there aren't many camels to hunt around here).

The lesson in all this is, simply, don't waste time hunting in places where there isn't any water. No matter how good the country may look otherwise, if there isn't water around, there isn't going to be any game in it.

It took me several years of trudging over landscapes that looked as if they should harbor game, but didn't, before I finally put two and two together. Those barren areas didn't have a close-by body of water, and so nothing lived in them.

I finally learned that, in sizing up a piece of territory in terms of its hunting possibilities, look first for water. If I found water, I went ahead and hunted. If I didn't, I went someplace else.

The source of water need not be large, but it has to be there. It can be a small brook, a woodland pond. It does have to be big enough so that it doesn't go dry during the late summer and fall.

The distances that individual species of wildlife will travel to find water varies, but they normally aren't very far, especially among land animals. Some birds can and do fly a long way to drink, but four-footed creatures don't hoof it very far. A deer will normally go no more than a quarter-mile, and smaller animals a lot less than that.

A few small mammals, including squirrels and cottontail rabbits, get part of their water supply by licking up early-morning dew, but that is an unreliable source. Given the right (or wrong) weather conditions, days or even weeks can pass without dew formation.

Game birds, such as pheasants and ruffed grouse depend primarily on their feet. They can fly fast, but not very far. They walk to water, and they prefer that the hike be short. A bird or animal on the move on the ground is vulnerable to predators, and instinctively knows it. A sneak of a few yards to quench thirst is the desired way to go.

It follows that you are likely to find the most game close to water, and that there will be less the farther you get away from it. I have found that to be pretty generally true.

Looking back, I can conclude that my best hunting has been at or close to the edges of water bodies—streams, ponds, lakes, drainage ditches. If those edges offer cover and food, the living situation is ideal for wildlife, and also the hunter. Game will be concentrated in such choice habitat locations.

The best grouse covers I have ever located were along the brushy edges of streams. Some of the best pheasant hunting I ever experienced was provided by weedy ditches. Canoeing a river is one of the more productive ways to hunt squirrels. Rabbits like to hang out in the weeds next to wet marshes. And so on.

Look for water and hunt its edges, and you will raise your score on game of all sorts. That is where the abundance of wildlife is, most of the time.

Chelsea Archer Buys First Bow, Downs Big Buck With It

Tod Borton of 506 Washington St. bought his first hunting bow on Sept. 28. Exactly a week later he brought down an eight-point buck deer, shooting from a tree stand located somewhere between Chelsea and Manchester.

"I can't quite believe it," the 20-year-old Borton said. "This is my first year of bow hunting. I saw deer every day, missed a long shot at one, and then got another chance."

"Believe me, I practiced with that bow (a Bear model) during the week after I bought it, and got so I could hit targets. What really surprised me was that I saw so many deer and got a couple of good shots in just four days of hunting."

Borton declined to reveal the exact location of his stand, except to say that "I was sitting in poplars in the middle of a swamp."

His 2½-year-old buck, which weighed about 175 pounds, came into view just before dark on Friday, Oct. 5. Borton made his successful shot at a distance of 30 yards.

"I had a 50-yard shot a couple of days earlier, and missed it," Borton said, "and figured that might be my only chance for the season. Then two days later this buck came along. I guess I was in the right place. I saw a lot of deer."

Borton shot his buck just before the closing hour. It took him until 10:30 to find, dress and drag out the animal.

"It was an experience I'll never forget," he said. "I figured I might have to hunt with a bow for years before I ever got a shot, let alone hit something. To get a nice buck on the fourth day of bow hunting in my life is kind of a miracle."

"I'll be out there next fall, in the same place. The deer seem to like it, and so do I."

BEGINNER'S LUCK: Tod Borton shows off the eight-point buck he downed while hunting south of Chelsea during his first year of hunting with a bow. He had purchased the bow—his first—just a week before the archery deer season opened.

Girl Harriers 'Super' in Win

"We ran just super," said coach Pat Clarke after his girls cross country team captured eight of the top nine places to down Saline, 20-43.

"Saline is one of the top 10 teams in the state, but the girls ran very well to defeat them," Clarke said.

Chelsea is 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference and 3-1 over-all. All of their dual meets have been against state ranked teams so far.

Saline's Dawn Toth finished first in an excellent 20:33, but Chelsea swept the next eight places to lock up the win. Amy Wolfgang, who improves every week, ran a strong 20:47 to finish second.

Other Chelsea placers and times:

Mary Ann Richardson, third, 21:03; Robin Mock, fourth, 21:16; Melanie Flanigan, fifth, 21:19; Kasey Anderson, sixth, 21:25; Kim Allen, seventh, 21:28; Kim

Girls Varsity Cagers Defeat Lincoln, 63-41

Chelsea girls varsity basketball team won a victory against Lincoln, 63-41, on Oct. 2. The victory places Chelsea 2-0 in the league and 5-3 over-all.

The game started slowly in the first two minutes with a tied score of 8-8. "We outscored them 10-2 in the last four minutes of the first quarter. We were never behind after that," said coach Jim Winter.

Chelsea took the first quarter, 18-10. The team led the remaining three quarters, 17-10, 15-12, and 13-9.

The team shot 22 for 56 or 39%.

a season best. From the free-throw line, they made 16 for 37 or 51%. Chelsea out-rebounded Lincoln, 30-29.

A bright spot of the game was "our offensive execution. We had a lot of patient offense. Lincoln plays real aggressive defense. They just jump in your face and we handled it well. You have to keep your composure and get the ball to whoever's open and we did that. That's why our shooting percentage is up," said Winter.

Every team member contributed in this game.

Chelsea Golfers Divide Matches Against Pinckney

Chelsea's varsity golf team has split its back to the wall after splitting a pair of matches against Pinckney last week.

Result was that the Bulldogs dropped into a second-place tie with Tecumseh in the Southeastern Conference, behind league-leading Saline.

"We're in a position where we have to win everything the rest of the way out if we are going to get into the state tournament," coach Ken Larson said.

The Chelsea linksters shot their worst and best scores of the season just three days apart in the two Pinckney matches.

Playing at Lakeland Country Club on Oct. 2, the Bulldogs lost, 14-169. "We just shot very poorly," Larson said. "The boys had all played that course before. They had a bad day."

Brian Ackley led the Bulldogs with 39. Doug Otto had a 41, Eric Schaffner 44 and Mike Carignan 47.

The junior varsity team also lost, but individual scores were not available.

Playing in a double-dual match against Lincoln two days later, the golfers fired a team score of 147 over their home Inverness Country Club course, equalling a school record.

Pinckney came in at 164 and Lincoln at 168.

"I think the boys were embarrassed by their poor showing earlier in the week and went out to show what they can really do. That is a fantastic team score at Inverness, which is not an easy golf course."

Otto, who plays Inverness as if he owned it, led the way with a 34. Carignan and John Harris matched par at 36, and Schaffner and Ackley each shot 41.

The JV team split, losing 160-187 to Pinckney while beating Lincoln, 187-205. Counting scores for Chelsea were Mike Mitchell 39, Matt Koenn, 47, Matt Kemp 50 and Greg Boughton 51.

"What impressed me, besides our excellent varsity score, was that the Pinckney JV's outshot their varsity team by four strokes," Larson commented. "That tells you something about the kind of golf program Pinckney has coming along. They're playing two freshmen and two sophomores on the junior varsity. They are going to be very tough during the next couple of years."

Chelsea Netters Defeat Riverview

Chelsea High school girl's tennis team turned the tables on Riverview and defeated them by the same score Chelsea had lost by in a prior match. The team played a total of four matches last week.

Chelsea played its best match of the season for a 5-2 win against Riverview, Oct. 3. Three out of four singles, and two out of three doubles gained a point.

In singles, Melanie Dils went to three sets against Jill Powell winning in a tiebreaker with no more light left to play. She won 7-5, 2-6, 7-6. Playing her best match of the season, Chris DeFant defeated Sara Cervosky in another tiebreaker, 6-1, 7-6.

Angie Miller won her sixth game of the season by defeating Tami Trolley, 6-3, 6-2. She has the best singles record for the Chelsea team, 6-4. Jackie Boosey suffered the only loss at third singles but it was a close match. She lost to Heather Holbrook 6-1, 7-5.

In doubles, the team of Dawn Olson and Carol Nix defeated their opponents after splitting sets. They came back to win the third set and the match, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5. Anne Acree and Karen Killelea went down in two sets, 6-0, 6-4.

Third doubles Laura Nix and Deanna Slusher defeated their opponents 6-1, 6-4. To this point they have the best doubles record of 7-3.

Chelsea lost both matches at home on Oct. 1 and away Oct. 4 to Saline, 7-0, 7-0. The Oct. 1 match had been rescheduled from last week when the original game was rained out.

"We did have a good match both times even though the scores don't reflect it. We did take 41 games from them in the first match but only 26 in the second," said coach Theresa Schreiner.

In the Oct. 1 game, Dils lost, 6-4, 6-1; Boosey, 6-3, 6-0 and Miller, 6-3, 6-3.

Olson-Carol Nix went down, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1 in a long three set in which Nix was decked in the second set by the Saline player.

"We did come back to win that set but couldn't come back for the third. This is the best we have ever done against Saline," said Schreiner.

Laura Nix and Slusher played second doubles losing 6-3, 6-1. Kelly Stump and Arlene Tai played varsity for the first time. They made a valiant effort against Saline but lost in a second set tiebreaker, 6-3, 7-6.

Chelsea managed only 18 games total against a very tough Lumen Christi team. Lumen Christi was 9-0 in their conference at that time. Chelsea lost, 7-0.

Dils was able to get only four games from Stacey Bear, losing 6-1, 6-3. DeFant lost, 6-2, 6-0. Boosey was defeated, 6-1, 6-0 and Miller lost, 6-3, 6-0.

Olson-Carol Nix were defeated 6-2, 6-1; Acree-Killelea lost 6-2, 6-0 and Laura Nix-Slusher went down 6-2, 6-1.

Lumen Christi and Saline were the toughest teams we played this year and the only ones we lost 7-0, 7-0. They certainly give us something to work toward

Girls Swimmers Lose To Two State Powers

Chelsea High school girls swim team had the misfortune to swim against two perennial state powers in three days. The results were a 110-62 loss to Okemos and a 93-79 loss to Sturgis at home.

The girls continued to post improved times with 21 lifetime bests in the Tuesday meet at Okemos and 16 in Thursday's meet.

"These meets are reflecting the developing character of our team and our swimmers. We have had to swim a number of teams that we could not win in the total points column, but we have had great individual performances regardless," coach Larry Reed said.

"When teams are winning consistently, it is easy to be motivated to practice hard and perform well. When teams are realistically facing losses but they continue to excel and improve that shows great character and in our case a bright future," said Reed.

Winners against Okemos included the undefeated 200-yard medley relay: Paula Colombo, Kelly Kuzon, Amanda Holmes and Susan Schmunk. Their time of 2:02.4 is currently the fifth ranked time in the state.

The only other Chelsea winner against Okemos was Paula Colombo in the 100-yard butterfly whose time of 1:04.55 is currently sixth in the state and was a state-qualifying swim. Schmunk also qualified for state in the 100 freestyle with a time of :58.42.

Other great swims were turned in by Sharon Colombo in the 200 freestyle; Cathy Hoffman in the 200 individual medley and 100 freestyle; Becca Lee in the 200 individual medley; Missy Young in the 100 butterfly and 100 freestyle; Tami Harris, 100 freestyle; Anne Albrecht, 200 freestyle; Rebecca Dent and Dawn Thorne in the 100 backstroke; Kenyan Vosters and Michelle Cigan in the 100 breaststroke; and Robyn Hafner, Jennifer Schweiger and Deanna Zangara in diving.

Chelsea showed over-all improvement against Sturgis this year, losing by only 14 points. Last year, Chelsea lost to a weaker Sturgis team by 56 points. The team won seven out of 11 events but lost many of the close races for second, third and fourth places.

Winners were Paula Colombo in the 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke; Schmunk in the 50 and 100 freestyle; Holmes in the 500 freestyle; Kuzon in the 100 breaststroke.

The next meet will be Oct. 13 at St. Joseph.

Four Girls Named Swimmers of Week

Four members of the Chelsea High girls swim team were selected swimmers of the week. They were junior Paula Colombo; and freshmen Kelly Kuzon, Rebecca Dent and Cathy Hoffman.

Colombo is now swimming in her third year of varsity competition and her ninth year of competitive swimming. She has qualified for state in the medley relay, 200 individual medley, 100 butterfly and 500 freestyle.

"She has always been an extremely hard worker who puts great pressure on herself to succeed at very high levels. Paula has been a great example of determination on this year's team. The other swimmers look up to her and she has not let them down," said coach Larry Reed.

Kuzon is in her first year of varsity competition. She has qualified for state three times on the team's specialty, the 100-yard breaststroke. She has added greatly to the team in her second event, the 200 individual medley. Kuzon came within .01 of a second of the freshman record in the 100 breaststroke against Sturgis. The record is held by her older sister Paula.

"Kelly did not start swimming until after school was out but of late she has started to work harder than ever and her times are dropping rapidly," said Reed.

Dent has also started to put more time and effort into her practices. Practices held at 6:30 a.m. are optional for the girl swimmers but Dent has started coming to many of these. Her practice efforts are reflected in her improved times. Against Sturgis, she dropped her time in the 50 freestyle by .2, in the 100 freestyle by more than a second and in the 100 backstroke by almost 3 seconds.

"Rebecca's improvements have made her a far more valuable member of the CHS team. In the future, she must continue to improve for the team to improve," said Reed.

Hoffman's specialty includes the backstroke, butterfly and short freestyle races. She also performed exceptionally this week in the individual medley.

"Cathy's times are starting to drop significantly and she is also finding out that she can swim events that she previously lacked confidence in," said Reed.

Examples are the 200 individual medley and the 100-yard butterfly.

"These are mentally tough races that you must slowly become comfortable with. Cathy has already showed me she can succeed in these events and now she is beginning to believe in herself," said Reed.

8th Grade Bullpups Defeat Saline, Milan

The eighth grade girls basketball team lost their first game of the season but won the next two. The team did not score against Tecumseh on Sept. 26, losing 26-0. But they defeated Saline 19-15 on Oct. 1 and Milan 26-6 on Oct. 3.

In the Tecumseh game, "Chelsea was 0 for 35 from the field with good shots but none would fall in the basket," said coach Jon Schaffner.

Leading rebounders were Shannon Losey with 7 and Jeanne Hiem with 4. Kim Easton and Anna Harden each had 4 steals.

"The team went from not scoring a point to beating an excellent Saline team that was 3-0. Nobody can remember the last time a Chelsea girls junior high basketball team was able to defeat Saline. It's been many years," said Schaffner.

Leading scorers against Saline were Heather Neibauer with 6, Kelly Scott with 5, Easton and Losey with 3 each. Losey also had 7 rebounds. Hiem had 4. Easton and Harden again stole four times each.

Against Milan, Jennie Smith, Jennie Ghent and Scott each scored 4 points. Heather Schauer and Smith had 5 rebounds. Scott stole 7 and Candi Collin stole 4.

"The girls started the season making one out of 72 shots in the first game and a half. In the last game and a half they shot 13 for 71 or 18% so hopefully we can continue to improve," said Schaffner.

Boy Cross Country Team 2nd at Brandon

Chelsea's boys cross country team continued its improvement by placing second in the eight-team Brandon Invitational meet with 57 points. Saline won with 36.

"We are improving and hopefully will continue right into the regional meet," said coach Pat Clarke.

Biathlon Winners Named by WCPRC

Winners in the second annual biathlon, sponsored by the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission, Saturday, Aug. 18 at Independence Lake Park were named early this week by WCPRC officials.

In the men's division, Neil Bond, 21, of Ann Arbor, was the first-place winner, with a 45:42 time. David Linden, 21, of Ypsilanti, took second place, but his time was unofficial. Mount Pleasant resident, David Alsager, 31, was the third-place winner, with a time of 45:56.

Women's division winners included, in the top spot, Sara Arteburn, 22, of Ann Arbor, with a 47:07 time. Second-place winner, Marilyn Early, 26-year-old resident of Lansing, posted a time of 52:49, and the third-place honors went to Susan Schaper, 29, of Ann Arbor. Her time was 57:05.

Among the 124 entrants, the youngest was eight years old, and the oldest, 59, reported Jackie Perry of the Parks and Rec staff. The event began near the beach swimming area at Independence Lake Park, concluding roughly one hour later at the starting point. It consisted of a one-mile swim in the lake, followed by a 5K (3.1 mile) cross country run.

1985 Wheat Program Signup Starts Oct. 15

Starting Oct. 15 farmers can sign up for the 1985 wheat acreage reduction program.

Lori Ruhlig, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said farmers who participate in the program will be eligible for target price protection at $4.38 per bushel, price support loans at $3.30 per bushel and land diversion payments at $2.70 per bushel.

U.S. wheat production is forecast at 2.53 billion bushels for this year, 100 million bushels above last year. In an effort to reduce planted acreage, production and total supplies to a level more in line with demand, Ruhlig said the 1985 program contains a combined 20 percent acreage reduction requirement and a 10 percent paid land diversion, with 50 percent of the payment available at signup.

The program requires farmers to limit their 1985 wheat planted acreage to no more than 70 percent of their wheat base. Participants must also devote to an acreage conservation reserve (ACR) cropland equal to the sum of 28.57 percent of the farm's 1985 planted wheat acreage and 10 percent of the farm's wheat base. "As in previous programs, land designated for the ACR must have been devoted to a row crop or small grains in two of the last three years, except for a summer fallow farm," the ASCS official said. Under summer fallow rules, the land must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in one of the last two crop years.

Haying will not be permitted on ACR land. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the designated five principal growing months. In the event of a natural disaster, the program contains a standby measure authorizing implementation of emergency haying and grazing privileges. Offsetting and cross compliance will not apply to the 1985 wheat program.

For additional program details, farmers may contact the Washtenaw-Wayne County ASCS Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103, phone 662-3900, between 7:55 a.m. and 4:25 p.m., Monday through Friday.

7th Grade Girls Bullpups Win Two Games, Lose One

The seventh grade girls basketball team began their season Sept. 26 with an exciting overtime victory against Tecumseh.

A bad case of first game jitters had the Bullpups trailing 11-0 at the end of the first quarter, 13-2 at half-time and 14-4 at the end of the third quarter.

More aggressive defense held down Tecumseh's scoring and let Chelsea tie the game 14-14 in the fourth quarter with five baskets. Chelsea broke the tie in overtime and won, 19-16.

Tiffany Moore was the game's high scorer with eight points. Alison Brown made 10 rebounds along with Lisa Park, Lisa McGlennen and Nicole Gillespie.

Chelsea lost its first game away against Saline, 29-22 on Oct. 1.

"The team was guilty of numerous bad passes and defensive errors which they couldn't overcome," said coach Ann Schaffner.

Chelsea's high scorer was Scharme Petty with six points. Moore had eight rebounds. Stacey Scott had 10 steals.

On Oct. 3, many girls contributed to a 27-9 win against Milan with good rebounding and aggressive defense.

"We took a great number of shots without scoring or the margin would have been greater. I was pleased with our 33% foul shooting good for eight points," said Schaffner.

Leading scorers were Gillespie with eight points and Moore with six points and 15 rebounds. Jill Nowatzke had 11 rebounds. Kim Roberts, Gillespie and Scott hustled five steals each.

The team's next games are in Dexter on Oct. 10 and in Tecumseh on Oct. 15. They will host Saline Oct. 17.

Rod and Gun Club Donates Tree to Beach School

Chelsea Rod and Gun Club donated a Colorado blue spruce to Beach Middle school. The tree was planted in an empty planter in front of the school, Tuesday, Oct. 2.

The tree was planted in time for Beach's open house, Oct. 6. It comes from 61 acres of land owned by the club in Lyndon township. The club has owned the land for 47 years and developed a forest of 30,000 trees to further conservation.

Other trees have been donated to the St. Louis Center, highways, parks and churches. Each year Christmas trees are cut and sold with all proceeds devoted to reforestation.

Prior to 1970, self-employment had been on the decline, largely due to the reduction in the agricultural sector. However, self-employment on farms has now stabilized at about 1.6 million since 1976, and nonfarm self-employment has increased each year since 1970, reaching 7.6 million, according to a publication issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Elmer Benson Named To Non-Profit Homes Board Post

Elmer Benson, executive director of United Methodist Retirement Homes, has been elected to a one-year term as a member of the board of directors of the Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association (MNPFA). The elections were held as part of the annual membership meeting and convention of the Association Sept. 19-21 in Ann Arbor.

Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association represents more than 95 religious, fraternal, and community-based agencies which provide nursing home, residential, independent living housing and related services to more than 16,000 older persons across the state.

United Methodist Retirement Homes of the Detroit Annual Conference is the operating sponsor of Boulevard Temple United Methodist Retirement Home, in Detroit and Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. Both facilities offer nursing and residential care as well as independent living housing services.

Hospital Offers Program on Pioneer Day Set Dealing With Older Parents At Farm Museum

As advances in medical technology have lengthened life expectancy, middle-aged children have assumed increased responsibility in caring for aging parents. Some of the "adult children" are still in the process of rearing their own families. Others find their retirement plans changed because of the needs of their elderly parents. For all, the demands of providing more attention and assistance to parents can create a great deal of stress.

To assist adult children in coping with their aging parents,

Chelsea Community Hospital Social Services Department is sponsoring a six-session course entitled "As Parents Grow Older." Discussion topics will include: Understanding Psychological Aspects of Aging, Coping with Chronic Illness, Communication with Parents, Making Decisions About Living Arrangements, Using Community Resources and Dealing with Feelings About Aging and Aging Relations. Group participants will be encouraged to discuss experiences and share solutions to common problems.

The group will meet on Tuesday evenings beginning Oct. 16, through Nov. 27, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital. There will not be a session on Nov. 20 because of the Thanksgiving Holiday. There will be a $45 registration fee. Enrollment will be limited.

For registration or more information call 475-1311, ext. 262.

Waterloo Farm Museum and Dewey School's Pioneer Day will be held Sunday, Oct. 14, from 1 to 5 p.m., with pioneer crafts demonstrated in the farm yard, house tours available, horse drawn wagon rides for those who would like to enjoy the colorful country roads, and a chance to observe samples of "pioneer life as it was in years past."

The day's festivities are sponsored by the Waterloo Area Historical Society. A reminder of the days when neighbors gathered to celebrate the harvest season, the festival of pioneer crafts will include weaving, spinning, rug hooking, and carving demonstrations. There will also be soap-making over the open fires, and candles will be hand-dipped during the day's events. Over those open fires, there will be demonstrated natural dying of wool, and visitors will have a chance to experience herbs and autumn weeds hanging in the old barn on the museum property, promises Shirley M. Lamkin, public relations director for the society.

The old Really farm house will come alive with the flavors of molasses cookies and fresh baked bread from its brick bake ovens. Other buildings on the grounds are open, and will contain activities reminiscent of the pioneer days. In the milk cellar, visitors may taste cool churned butter.

Fresh vegetables, apples, home-made jellies and jams, baked goods, and craft items may be purchased, along with lots of other good things to eat during the day.

Admission to the farm house will be $2, with a special $1.50 rate for senior citizens and for children, aged 5 to 11 admission is 50¢.

Military Expert Speaks On Nuclear Arms Race

Major General William T. Fairbourn, U. S. Marine Corps (retired) will speak at a public lecture entitled "A Military Expert Looks at the Nuclear Arms Race" on Monday, Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist church in Jackson.

Sponsoring this program is the Jackson Peace Network, a coalition of 12 church and community organizations including: the League of Women Voters, the NAACP, and the American Association of University Women.

The First United Methodist church is located at 275 W. Michigan in Jackson. Free parking is available at the rear Cortland St. entrance. A donation will be asked at the door.

Foster Homes Needed For Abused Children

Reported cases of child abuse and neglect have increased dramatically in Washtenaw county over the past two years. This has resulted in a corresponding increase in the number of children who must be placed in out-of-home care. The Department of Social Services is in need of more family foster care homes to provide care for these children and to work with the agency regarding their return home.

Children who come into care are all ages and come from all racial and ethnic groups. We especially need families who are willing to care for children ages 10-17, groups of brothers and sisters, emotionally impaired children, pregnant teens, sexually abused children, and black children of all ages.

Foster parents work with the Department as members of a team. They need to be able to provide love, security, and patient understanding for children who are suffering the traumatic effects of being separated from their families. Foster parents arrange for the child's medical and dental care, work with schools, and plan recreational activities. They also provide transportation for visits with biological families and, when appropriate, work directly with the child's family in the interest of reuniting the child with his or her family.

Three orientation classes are offered to help prepare families for the foster care experience. The next series starts on Sept. 18, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Department of Social Services, 2350 W. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor. If you would like to attend or know more about the program, please call Pat Ruby at 994-1694.

Fall Mushroom Hunt Scheduled At Nature Center

A hunt for fall mushrooms, which are abundant this year, will start at 1 p.m. Sunday from the Waterloo Nature Center on Bush Rd.

Nancy Smith Weber will lead the search. She is the daughter of Dr. Alexander H. Smith, who "wrote the book" on Michigan's wild mushrooms, and is an expert in her own right.

Participants are asked to bring a basket or pail capable of holding at least two quarts of mushrooms, waxed paper, a knife and a trowel, and a whistle. The whistle is for signalling purposes in case group members get separated during the hunt.

Appropriate dress for the weather, including stout footwear, is recommended.

Nature Walks Slated Through Lyndon Parks

Join Washtenaw County Parks Naturalist Matt Heumann for a color-filled walk through the Embury Swamp preserve of Park Lyndon North. Meet Oct. 14 at 10 a.m. in the north parking lot.

The viburnums, dogwoods, and sumac will seem ablaze in yellows, reds and brilliant oranges. Remember to bring your camera! (The group will be sticking to the trails and keeping dry.)

For more information call the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission at (313) 973-2575.

Concrete-Over-Concrete Highway Project Done

Work is virtually completed on the first of two experimental highway projects involving the laying of concrete on top of concrete, with an inch of asphalt in between.

The 8.3-mile stretch of Interstate 96 Freeway west of Portland is fully opened to traffic after undergoing reconstruction most of the summer.

In the first phase of the project, a layer of asphalt was placed over the old concrete surface to prevent cracks from the old pavement affecting the new overlay.

Then seven inches of new concrete was laid on top of that.

A similar reconstruction is under way along a stretch of US-23 in Monroe county.

Project costs will be compared with other work that involves the complete recycling of the existing roadway. In that process, the existing pavement is broken up, then mixed with a quantity of new asphalt or concrete and laid down again to form a new roadway.

Hospital Completes Summer Speech Therapy Program

The Speech Pathology and Occupational Therapy Departments at Chelsea Community Hospital recently completed a seven-week program for children.

This annual summer program was designed to improve children's skills in both speech and motor development. It grew out of needs identified by public school professionals and parents who felt that many children needed continued speech and occupational therapy during the summer which was not provided in the school.

Chelsea Community Hospital staffs the program with certified speech language pathologists and occupational therapists who are experienced in working with children with development delays. The Chelsea Public School District provides space for the program at North Elementary school. Children come from many nearby communities such as Dexter, Manchester, Ann Arbor, and Whitmore Lake, in addition to Chelsea.

Children are seen individually or in small groups three times a week. Parents are encouraged to observe sessions and involve their child in carryover at home. Tuition is charged for the program and scholarships are available on the basis of need through a fund established by the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary.

The children demonstrate a

Enrollment In Schools Set at 2,274

The official fourth Friday count for the Chelsea schools sets enrollment at 2,274 students on Sept. 28. This is 24 students above what school administration projected.

"The number of students year-in and year-out is about the same. This year, we had a few more move in at the high school level, about 37 students," said superintendent Ray Van Meer.

Enrollment at Chelsea High school is 835, at Beach Middle school is 520, at South school is 487 and at North school is 432.

Enrollment had been on a decline since 1979. In that year, 2,556 students attended the schools. In 1983, that figure decreased to 2,231.

"Our kindergarten sections are getting larger which means the decline of students in the elementary schools is over or has stabilized. What we're projecting is a lower number at Beach. Part of the reason for that is the large eighth grade class which left Beach and went to the high school," said Van Meer.

wide range of speech, language, hearing, and physical-motor handicaps. Some children talk readily but cannot be understood by others. Many children have short attention spans and difficulty following directions or answering questions. Others have difficulty initiating speech, planning motor movements, and expressing themselves through words or written work. Many demonstrate frustration in their attempts to communicate and perform tasks. Many children have poor coordination and balance.

Speech therapists Linda Collins and Laurel Solon, and occupational therapist Sherry Sayle-Folks design programs that help these children experience success. They use activities based on young children's interests and abilities. Therapists reinforce each child's improvement in small steps toward the goal of age level communication and physical motor development.

This summer, each child made significant gains in speech and language skills. One little boy, who spoke mainly with vowels, learned to use four new sounds in his conversational speech. He began to talk more when he realized he could be understood. Another child co-operated with his parents on speech stimulation activities at home for the first time. A little girl with a hearing loss from frequent ear infections improved her listening skills and began using longer, more complete sentences. Another child learned to tell about her recent experiences.

In occupational therapy, changes were seen in attention span, sitting and standing balance, planning gross motor tasks, eye-hand co-ordination, and integration of protective responses.

For more information about the speech, language, hearing, and occupational therapy services at Chelsea Community Hospital, contact Kathleen Anderson, director of Speech Pathology, at 475-1331, ext. 351, or Denise Fisher, occupational therapist, ext. 477.

MICHAEL JON WALLACE Michael Wallace Awarded Medal for Missing in Action

Michael Jon Wallace, sergeant first class, has been missing in action since April 19, 1968. On Sept. 29, the Michigan State Legislature awarded him a specially designed bronze medal for missing in actions in Vietnam at Hart Plaza in Detroit.

Congressman Carl Pursell presented the medal to the serviceman's mother, Muriel Chance of Ann Arbor. Wallace is also the son of the late Herbert Wallace. The family is formerly of Chelsea.

He is the nephew of Lucille Martin and Arlene Larson; great-nephew of Norma Schiller and Margaret Warren; first cousin to Ken Larson, Judith Irwin, Randalyn Larson and Douglas Warren, all of Chelsea.

Parker Mill Dedication Set As New County Park

An ancient millstone turns once again, and a new age begins for Parker Mill. On Oct. 14 at 2 p.m. it will turn in honor of the dedication of the newest Washtenaw county park—Parker Mill. The park is located on Geddes Rd., just east of Dixboro Rd., near Ann Arbor.

Join the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission and the Friends of Parker Mill to see this historic mill running once again. Visitors to the mill will have an opportunity to observe how settlers in Washtenaw county combined their talent and ingenuity with the forces of nature.

Parker Mill is a special place. It was Washtenaw county's first sawmill in 1824 and was later rebuilt by William Parker as a gristmill. Another building housed a manually operated cider press. The original buildings and the equipment in them have been restored to working order. Parker Mill is the only intact mill remaining of the more than 50 mills which once existed on the waterways of the county.

The park itself is unique. An unusual group of plants (black maple, hack-berry, black ash, and hornbeams) grow on the banks of Fleming Creek, on which Parker Mill stands. Such a composition occurs only in isolated pockets in a few areas of the county.

To bring Parker Mill to life much restorative work had to be done. Amos Schwartz of Limerlost Construction, Geneva, Ind., has restored the mill's equipment at a cost of $37,450. The two buildings have been renovated by Bryce J. Kelley Construction of Ann Arbor for $90,875. Other work has brought the total cost of the restoration to $147,146.

Future plans for Parker Mill are: adding a visitor center, building a millpond and again using water power for the mill's operation (it is now being run electrically); constructing stone pathways, building two small bridges across Fleming Creek and a pedestrian/bike bridge over the Huron River; and planting trees and shrubs.

Funding for these projects will come from a $250,000 donation from Friends of Parker Mill and about $300,000 from the County's .25 mil parks and recreation levy.

The renewal of the millage for the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation system will be on the Nov. 6 ballot as Proposal No. 1.

Deficiency Payments Set for Wheat Farmers

Washtenaw-Wayne county farmers who accurately reported their 1984 crop acreages to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will likely receive wheat deficiency payments.

The 1984 farm program participants become eligible for deficiency payments if national average market prices for wheat during the first five months of the marketing year fall below the government-established target price of $4.38 per bushel. Nationally, farm prices received by farmers during the first three months of the marketing year have averaged near the $3.30 per bushel loan rate.

"Farmers who have filed applications for payment will likely receive a deficiency payment of between $0.95 and $1.03 per bushel on their 1984 wheat crop," Lori Ruhl said. The agency will begin issuing wheat payments to local farmers after Dec. 1.

Deficiency payments are computed by multiplying the program yield for the farm by the acreage planted for harvest times the payment rate. The per-bushel payment rate is the difference between the target price and the higher of either the loan rate for the commodity or the average price received by farmers.

Burglary Wave Seems To Be Ended

A wave of burglaries in the Manchester area south of Chelsea has apparently ended, and sheriff's detective Paul Wade thinks he knows why.

"I can't say for sure, because our investigations haven't led to any positive suspects, but my best guess is that the crimes were committed by migrant workers who come into the area for the harvest season," Wade said.

"The migrants are gone, and the burglaries have stopped. We were getting about one a night for a couple of weeks, and for the past week we haven't had any. That tells me something."

The rash of break-ins resulted in thefts of appliances, jewelry, cash and other items, in some instances totalling several thousands of dollars.

Dexter Township OKs Funds for Parking Lot

Dexter Township Hall will soon have a new, improved parking lot. The township board has budgeted $33,962 to pave and improve the parking lot, landscape and put in sidewalks. The board accepted a bid to perform the job from L & K Construction of Ann Arbor at its Oct. 2 meeting.

In other business, the board passed a resolution regarding the former Anchor Inn property in Putnam Township. The property is slated for industrial use but borders Dexter township residences.

According to Eisenbeiser, the resolution says, "The Dexter township board opposes the Putnam township authorization of the manufacturing operation adjacent to residential areas in Dexter township."

Putnam township granted a zoning variance to permit a business which builds prefabricated seawalls used to protect the lake shore from water erosion. Dexter township had sent a letter to Putnam requesting a delay in granting the zoning variance until township residents had been given a chance for input.

At their Sept. 18 meeting, the township extended approval of plans on two subdivisions. The board reinstated tentative approval of a preliminary plat of the Huron Creek Farms Subdivision for two years. The property is owned by Renaissance Development Limited. It is located on Dexter-Pinckney Rd., south of North Territorial Rd., and is comprised of 83 lots. One lot is a minimum of one acre.

"This is an extension of the tentative approval of the preliminary plat which indicates that the developer may want to continue development in the future," said Eisenbeiser.

So far the developer has completed phase I which was the development of 12 lots. At least one house has been built on the residential property.

The board extended final approval of the 10-lot Rambling Oaks Subdivision. The property is owned by Warren Eisenbeiser.

"There is an intent to develop the property within one year," said the clerk.

UNIDENTIFIED CITIZEN looks with dismay at the 104-year-old rail station with its botched paint and deteriorating structure. Like so many other area residents, she wonders about the station's future.

Botched Paint Job Adds Urgency to Depot's Future

For the past several years there has been mounting interest in the future of Chelsea's rail station which was built in 1880 on land donated to the Michigan Central Railroad by the Congdon brothers in 1848.

The appearance of the historic depot was grievously altered on June 23 by a surprise painting bee in which large parts of the traditional green-on-green decor were covered with tan.

Restoring the original green colors, and having the job done by professionals, will be a costly undertaking. Funds might be forthcoming from the Chelsea Civic Foundation, the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Committee, United Way or through a special fund drive.

The problem, however, is overshadowed by the need for the community to acquire the building from Amtrak. The Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with other civic organizations, is working on several strategies to purchase or lease the station on acceptable terms. Persons involved in this planning are mindful of certain key facts: (1) The railroad is not using the station and has indicated no plans to do so in the future; (2) Amtrak received over $700 million in Federal funds and is answerable to Congress as well as the Department of Transportation.

Congressman Carl Pursell has been asked to intervene on behalf of Chelsea, and Michigan's two U. S. senators will also be asked to help.

It looks very much like the station's summer tan is going to last through the winter.

Advertising Benches Ordered Eliminated

The Chelsea board of trustees has ordered the Ad-a-Bench Co. of Brighton to remove the advertising benches it has scattered around town in apparent violation of the village sign ordinance.

The heavy concrete and wood benches themselves may or may not violate the law, depending on whether they were placed with permission of the property owner and meet setback requirements.

The "billboards" printed on the front and rear of the bench backs are definitely illegal, according to consultant Carl V. Schmult, who advises zoning inspector Carl Sanderson.

In general, Chelsea's sign ordinance prohibits off-premises signs—those located off the property of the business advertised. Only on-site signs are allowed, with an exception for billboards in certain locations (vacant lots) under tight restrictions.

Schmult suggested that the village board might want to amend the ordinance to permit bench signs.

Instead, the board decided unanimously to have the benches removed, citing the fact that they apparently get little or no use and therefore serve no public purpose.

Minor Hunting Accident Reported

A minor hunting accident was reported to sheriff's officers last Thursday. A 39-year-old man suffered minor injuries when accidentally shot by his cousin who was hunting with him in Lyndon township near Goodband and Hadley Rds.

The victim was treated at Chelsea Community Hospital and released. No charges were filed, and names were not revealed.

The first railroad in America had wooden tracks.
