SIMULATING EXTRICATION OF AN INJURED VICTIM from the rear seat of an automobile, Chelsea firemen demonstrated use of the famed Hurst jaws on a crashed vehicle supplied to the fire department by Smith's Mobil Station. Andy Box, cadet explorer scout, served as a stand-in for the trapped and injured victim in the demonstration. Narrating the 3:45 p.m. demonstration was Chelsea fireman Steve Jaskot, and participating in the extrication exercise were firemen Jim Leach (23), Keith O'Neill (18), Bob Gray (10), Doug Eder (15), and Dan Ellenwood (16), as well as Terry Draper.

United Way Begins Industrial Phase Of Campaign Goals

Chelsea United Way began the heavy industrial phase of their campaign this week. Volunteers will contact industries within the next 10 days.

United Way has set a goal of $25,000 split between Chelsea's five major industries: Dana Corporation, Chelsea Milling Company, Federal Screw Works, Chrysler, and BookCrafters.

"Most heavy industries have the employee payroll deduction plan. Each industry is handled a little differently according to the personality they have," said Scott Tanner, campaign chairman.

The payroll deduction plan enables the employee to divide the pledge among several pay periods.

The campaign began the second week of its commercial phase. Over 100 Chelsea-area businesses are being contacted. Each of 15 volunteers is handling about eight businesses. So far, United Way has reached 26% of its $15,000 goal for this phase.

"Most businesses are donating on a one-shot deal. A few of the larger businesses are soliciting employees," said Scott Tanner, campaign chairman.

Fire Dept. Hosts Open House Event

Chelsea Fire Department held their open house on Sunday, Oct. 14, one day after the end of Fire Prevention Week, which ran Oct. 7-13. Chairman of this year's Fire Prevention Week demonstrations was Lt. Larry Gaken.

The department held the open house on Sunday to enable more people to come. And come they did. About 300 people attended demonstrations and films presented by the department.

Edward Lauhon Stricken Following Long-Distance Run

Edward Lauhon, formerly of Chelsea remains in critical condition in an Iowa hospital after he collapsed following a running event.

Lauhon, 41, is the son-in-law of Charles Cameron, former Chelsea school superintendent, and the son of Barbara Lauhon of Glazier Rd.

A graduate of Chelsea High school, he taught in the middle school for several years before becoming a professor at Aquinas College in Rock Island, Ill. His home is in Bettendorf, Ia.

According to reports received here by friends and relatives, Lauhon ran in a long distance race, collapsed after he finished, and went into a coma apparently caused by fibrillation (irregular heartbeat).

The open house began with a hands-on display which included helmets, boots, coats, and breathing apparatus. Children could pick up these objects to see how heavy they are.

The display was followed by a film "Home Safe Home," produced by McDonald's. The film showed what to do if you're in a house that catches on fire. Donuts and cider were available after the film.

The department then demonstrated techniques in fighting combustible fires. A fire extinguisher was used to douse a grease fire and combustible papers. The crowd was allowed to shoot the extinguishers at cardboard boxes which were set afire for the occasion.

Other equipment included the Jaws of Life, a hydraulic tool used for removing car doors or a car roof to rescue trapped victims. Andy Box, a cadet explorer scout, was extricated from a crashed car provided by Smith's Mobil Station. The Jaws of Life provides six tons of pressure at its tip.

Burglars Get Loot Valued at $2,760

A burglary on Portage Lake Rd. in Dexter township last Sunday resulted in the theft of goods with an estimated value of $2,760. Stolen were video and record-playing equipment, a handgun, and more than $200 in coins kept in an antique spittoon.

Sesqui Celebration Profits Allocated to 7 Community Agencies

Everyone in Chelsea knows that the sesquicentennial celebration in 1984 was a fine observance of the community's 150-year history. Everyone remembers that it was a heck of a lot of fun. Now, it turns out, the Sesqui was a financial success as well.

At the Oct. 10 meeting of the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Committee, chaired by president Joe Merkel, a near-final accounting shows that the committee's income exceeded expenses by $10,536.29.

"We started out as a not-for-profit corporation," a member of the committee said, "and we were equally determined to have a no-loss celebration. Hundreds of people in the community contributed their talents and energies to make the affair a recreational, historic and financial success."

At the Oct. 10 meeting the board members agreed unanimously to plow every penny of the $10,536.29 back into the community, dividing it between the present and the future.

Nine thousand dollars will be given during 1985 in equal shares of about $1,285 to:

1. Scholarships
2. McKune Memorial Library
3. Chelsea Community Fair Board
4. Chelsea Senior Citizens
5. Firemen's Association
6. Police Auxiliary
7. Chelsea Area Historical Society.

The remaining $1,536, plus revenue from future book sales, will be placed in a trust fund to provide start-up capital for Chelsea's 175th anniversary celebration in 2009. If the interest on $1,536 should compound over 25 years at an average of 9 percent, "The Committee for Year 175" will start out with more than $13,000.

Chelsea's 1984 committee, beginning with no assets at all, got under way with a courageous $4,000 loan from Citizens Trust. It was repaid right on time with interest.

The process of deciding how the $10,536 should be distributed, and to whom, was simplified by Dave Prohaska and Gloria Mitchell. With the approval of President Merkel, they presented the committee with a series of cards offering multiple choices. Card No. 1, for instance, offered these choices: A. Give all the money to one beneficiary. B. Divide it among a number of beneficiaries. The B selection won overwhelmingly. The final vote to divide the $9,000 among several designated organizations was carried by a narrow margin.

Many members had expressed an interest in providing funds for the train depot. After some discussion at the Oct. 10 meeting it was concluded that the train station negotiations were too tenuous at this time to justify an earmarked share of the Sesqui funds. There was strong support for aid to the historical society.

Voting at the meeting was done by secret ballot. Gloria Mitchell passed out colored ballot slips. After the slips had been marked she had the members drop their slips into a ballot bag. Sis Kanten and Lynda Longe served as ballot tellers.

Income for the Sesqui celebration was derived from a number of sources, including gifts from private and organizational donors, event admissions, raffles, publication sales and activities of the Brothers of the Brush and Sesqui Belles.

As part of the celebration, two historical books were published. One was "Chelsea's First 150 Years," written by Will Connelly and printed by BookCrafters from type set by Typographic Insight. The other was a new edition of the 125th year book, reproduced in faithful detail by Malloy Litho of Ann Arbor. With an eye to the future, 7,000 copies of the 1984 book were printed plus 2,000 reprints of the 1959 book. Substantial numbers of each book thus remain on hand even after excellent sales during the weeks of the celebration. Quantities of both books will be presented to the Chelsea school district, the village, McKune Library, the historical society and the chamber of commerce.

Remaining copies will be sold during the forthcoming quarter century but supplies are not expected to last until 2009.

Lima Township Will Consider Area Fire Dept. Proposal

Lima township supervisor Leila Bauer told The Chelsea Standard early this week she will present the area-wide fire department proposal to the Lima township board at their regular November meeting, the first Monday in November.

Supervisor Bauer says Lima township will hold a public hearing for citizens to have the opportunity to present input on their ideas about the matter, and the public hearing will be held sometime after the township board meeting, with full notice to the residents of the township, in advance of that hearing.

"This is an important decision for Lima," she indicated, adding that she felt the fire protection needs of all the residents of Lima needed to be considered before any proposal is accepted or rejected. She further stated that she felt proper time and deliberation were necessary before a decision was reached.

Lima township board meets on Monday evening, Nov. 5, at the Lima Township Hall.

BILLY RAY CAMERON

National Commander Will Visit VFW Post

Chelsea VFW Post and Auxiliary 4076 will be treated to its first visit by a national commander-in-chief, Billy Ray Cameron, will stop at the Chelsea post on Tuesday, Oct. 23 during a round of visits throughout the state.

Members of the post, Chelsea Fire and Police Departments and Village dignitaries will escort Cameron from the I-94 exit, where he will arrive by car. An Aisle of Colors will be set up at the post in his honor.

An open house to meet Cameron will be held at the VFW Hall, 105 N. Main St., between 5:15 p.m. and 6 p.m. The public may attend.

Cameron, of Sanford, N.C., was elected commander-in-chief at the 85th annual national VFW convention in Chicago in August. He is the first Vietnam veteran to be selected for the top national leadership office.

Cameron was born Feb. 6, 1944. At 21, he was the oldest of 12 marines serving on Hill 42 in the Da Nang area of Vietnam from August, 1967 to March, 1968. They nicknamed him "Pop."

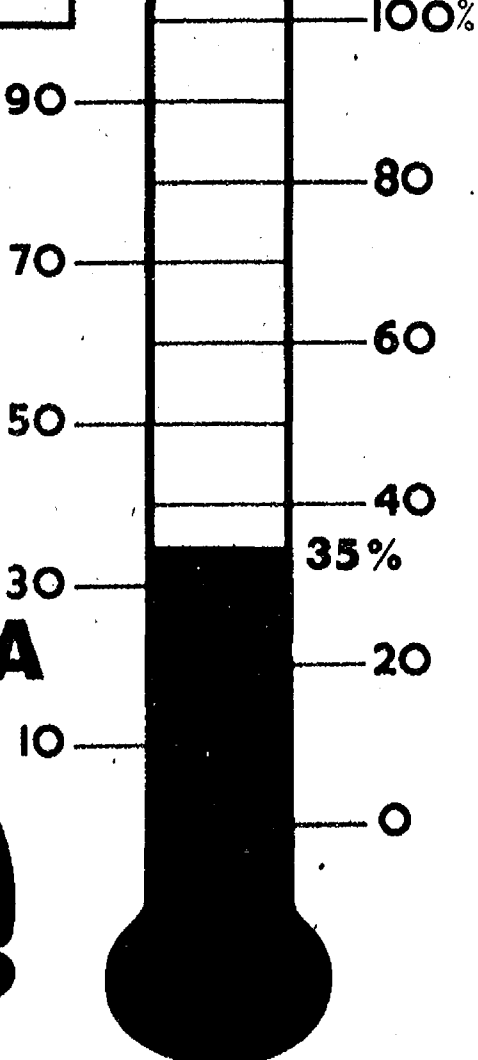

Hill 42 received letters of praise and packages from the VFW during a period when public opinion was against the Vietnam fighters. The squad vowed to join the VFW if they survived.

During his time in Vietnam, Cameron saw all but one member of his squad killed in one battle. Once, a mine blew up under his vehicle and sent him flying 20 feet Rick's Market, located on M-52 and Werker Rd. has voluntarily closed its doors following an incident on Sunday evening, Oct. 12. The store locked its doors Thursday, Oct. 16 after customers complained of foul tasting and odorous foodstuffs.

The reason for all of this mess, is apparently the result of the misapplication or overapplication of an Orkin patented pesticide that was utilized to fumigate the store's interior. According to owner Terry Rickerman's attorney from Dexter, "We've had a contract with Orkin out of Jackson for about 10 years. They come in monthly to spray for pests, thereby keeping the market free of any insects that could come in with the stock."

This time, the owners believe, they seem to have over-done it, spraying cracks and crevices first and then fogging the building.

Chelsea Village Administrator Frederick A. Weber has been elected President of the Michigan Municipal Electric Association, a group that represents 36 municipally owned electric utilities.

Weber's election came at the annual fall meeting of the Association held in Traverse City, Oct. 14-16.

Ghosts and goblins will take to the village streets of Friday, Oct. 31 to enjoy the Kiwanis Club sponsored Halloween Night festivities.

The first trophy ever won by a

Chelsea debate team was taken home Saturday afternoon, Oct. 10, following an invitational meet at John F. Kennedy High school, in Taylor, at which 33 schools competed.

Twelve debaters from Chelsea composing three teams attended the event, according to the team's coach, William Coelius. This is the fourth season for Chelsea debaters, the first in which there are seniors on the team. Coelius commented. He predicts that this is the strongest team ever at Chelsea. Ironically, it was the novice debaters, who had never competed before, who won the trophy, third place in their division.

Victory was made sweeter by the fact that the meet, an invitational, featured primarily Class A schools, a class that is composed of schools that are larger than Chelsea, which is Class B, and therefore, have a larger base from which to attract people, and have consequently more powerful teams.

The Chelsea High school band performed last Friday night, Oct. 9, at the half-time show for the Chelsea-Milan game. Their act was entitled "Another Chapter in the Life of Control's Number One Agent, Everybody's Favorite Spy, Maxwell Smash."

Steve Smith was Maxwell Smash. Connie Wireman played Eleanor Rigby, and Heather Brooks was 99. Dwight Bolanowski was the announcer.

Music featured in the show was the theme song from the popular movie "Goldfinger," and a variety of Beatles tunes which included "Eleanor Rigby," "Come Together," "When I'm 64," as well as the popular song "Ob-la-de, Ob-la-da."

State Gains Authority To Regulate Waters

Michigan has become the first state in the nation to receive federal delegation of regulatory authority of waters previously regulated by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Governor James Blanchard, in making the announcement, said the assumption of sole authority to regulate wetlands, lakes and streams projects in certain waters under the Federal Clean Water Act will streamline the process of granting permits while maintaining needed environmental protection.

Blanchard said the delegation of authority to the state will prevent a repetition of the Corp's attempt in 1982 to assert authority over some 5,000 miles of the state's inland waters, which was viewed as a possible prelude to federal intervention in proposed Great Lakes Basin diversion.

Diversion of fresh water from the Great Lakes to the more arid sun-belt states has been considered by those fresh water starved states and the federal government.

States, such as Michigan, rich with fresh water, are taking steps to preserve this natural resource.

The governor said the state has been working to establish environmental protection requirements for wetland projects that are equivalent to requirements contained in the Clean Water Act.

He noted the 1979 enactment of a state wetlands statute was the key element necessary for the state to demonstrate to the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency its ability to protect wetland areas.

Both federal and state agencies are moving to transfer water regulation duties to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

All permit applications filed after Aug. 1 of this year will now be handled by the state department.

"This will substantially reduce duplication of effort between the state and federal agencies for dredge and well permits and will save an applicant's time in receiving a response to a project proposal," the governor said.

On another environmental front, a quarterly report issued by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency's Region V office in Chicago gave the state's Department of Natural Resources' Hazardous Waste Division high marks and particularly praised the department's "aggressive enforcement posture."

The report listed the over-all compliance percentage of 80 percent with 131 of the facilities, initially found to be in violation, had been brought back into compliance with hazardous waste regulations.

According to the report, DNR inspectors had visited 713 hazardous waste generators, treatment, storage and disposal facilities in the first three quarters of the current fiscal year.

Of that total, 268 were found to be in violation with the violations ranging from technical or paperwork errors in contingency plans, training records, and manifest forms to significant environmental problems.

The EPA report noted that every one of the 268 violators received some form of enforcement action from the DNR, ranging from a warning letter on small violations to compliance orders in more significant cases.

John Bohunsky, chief of the Compliance Section of the DNR's Hazardous Waste Division, said he expects the 80 percent compliance figure to climb to around 90 percent as a result of follow-up inspections.

Bohunsky said since the EPA study represents only the progress made through the third quarter, many violations are still to be resolved and the final compliance rate will be "more like 90 percent."

Fire Safety Shown To North, South School Students

Chelsea fire department presented an informative program for Fire Prevention Week at North and South schools on Friday, Oct. 12.

Fire safety manuals were distributed to students prior to the program. Dan Ellenwood explained to students the differences between a volunteer and full-time fire department. Ellenwood discussed what to do during a fire drill at home or school and if your clothing catches on fire.

Ellenwood brought his fire-fighting uniform, explaining what it was made of and how it protects him during a fire. He allowed children to try on the uniform. He also answered several questions fielded by students.

Doug Eder, another fire department volunteer, also visited with kindergarten through third grade classes.

The dumbwaiter was invented by Thomas Jefferson.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I've allus wondered why ordinary folks are uneasy about really smart people. I first thought it was the same reason we bad mouth really rich people. We tell ourselves they come by their money crooked and they feel bad about it. Besides, we say, who could be happy having all they've got to worry about? I figured it was the same way with brains, and that it was 99 percent envy in both cases.

But recent I come around to different thinking. With few exceptions, the very rich pick their parents careful or they cut some corners. And now I believe we're right to worry about smart people. They can be just as wrong as the rest of us, only bigger.

Per instant, I saw this magazine piece the other day about Oxford Professor Michael Howard that was said to be "Britain's foremost military historian and an international recognized scholar." I figger you don't git to be that by being dumb. But here was Professor Howard saying we ought not to do away with nuclear weapons because they are so terrible no nation would use em so they keep us safe from war.

Smart people have been saying that between wars ever since we learned to sling rocks instead of throw em. They said it about the bow and arrow and gunpowder and the Gatling gun and the submarine and about every other advance in killing. Use the professor's reasoning in chemical and germ weapons and see how "proliferation" eases tension and chances of war accidental or on purpose.

I mentioned the professor's idee during the session at the country store Saturday night, and the fellers general sided with me. It was Ed Doolittle that said he had some of my thoughts when he saw recent that a outfit called the Popular Reference Bureau had done some deep study and found out that the longer folks live the more they cost. Fergit curing cancer and heart disease, Ed went on, cause this research says the cure is worse than the disease. The Bureau used economists, population experts and doctors to find out we got to work on problems caused by people staying alive to use up everything that's running out in this world. They said Americans that die short of their three score and 10 plus save the economy $15 billion a year, but too many ain't going along with this economy move.

Practical speaking, Bug Hookum allowed, he still holds to the notion that growing old beats the only other option that's open. Bug said everybody he knows feels about dying the way they do about taxes. Don't take me, Lord, and don't take thee. Take the poor devil behind that tree. Let him help balance the budget.

Actual, Bug went on, he wondered if doctors are in on the Bureau's game. He had saw where a doctor told a Senate committee the other day that doctors in this country spend $15 billion a year on "defensive medicine," which he said was preventing malpractice suits by providing health care folks don't need. He told the committee that all doctors do it, but few of em admit doing it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.Camp Waterloo Escapee Caught

Still another walk-away from Camp Waterloo was reported last Sunday afternoon. Russell Bailey, 22, serving two concurrent terms for larceny totalling 3-5 years, escaped sometime after 3:25 p.m. He was reported recaptured later the same day a short distance from the camp.

Chelsea High Begins Academic Letter Program

Athletes won't be the only students boasting a varsity letter anymore. Students with outstanding academic achievement will now have the chance to sew a letter on their jackets.

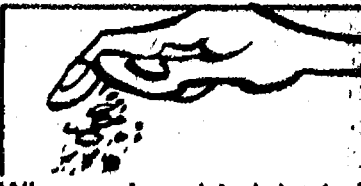

The eight-inch varsity "C" may be earned by any student from ninth to 12th grade who gets a B+ grade or better in every class for every marking period during the school year. This means a total of 24 grades per school year.

"We will have national merit finalists or cum laudes who won't earn a letter," said principal John Williams.

Students may earn a letter for more than one year. But instead of receiving another letter, students will get a stripe to sew on their letter.

The difference between athletic letters and academic letters is the academic letters will feature the lamp of knowledge.

The program grew out of a school board goal to increase recognition of staff and students. Academic letters are a joint project between the high school administration and student council. "Our purpose is not to pressure kids into achieving but to say, 'You did this, we're proud of you,'" said Williams.

When using dried herbs, make sure to crumble them to release the flavor.

FUNERAL HOMEWHAT ABOUT OTHER FUNERAL DIRECTORS?

We wish to take this opportunity to compliment the other fine funeral directors in the community for their service to the community over the years. We've met a lot of other funeral directors and we feel our competitors certainly compare most favorably. We think our community is fortunate in having such a high and professional level of funeral service from them.

Their being here, as we are, provides members of the community with choices—in service, in economy, in the many intangibles that are inherent in our competitive free enterprise system.

We hope you will consider us (as well as our professional colleagues) capable, and worthy of your trust—should the need for funeral services arise.

You will find us quick to respond to your needs and sympathetic to your wishes. We'd like to think our fine facilities and meticulous attention to the smallest details set us apart from other professionals in the community. Our main concern is your peace of mind. You may be certain that every detail will be attended to that needs being done. We know you would have it no other way.

Health Fair Scheduled For Seniors

A Health Fair for Seniors will be presented from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Oct. 20 at the University of Michigan's Turner Geriatric Clinic, 1010 Wall St., Ann Arbor.

"The Health Fair will introduce Turner's expanded program for older adults to the seniors, their families and friends by offering free medical screenings for blood pressure, anemia and diabetes, and eye and ear exams," according to Ruth Campbell, a social worker at the Clinic. "In addition, influenza vaccinations will be available for $2.50."

Campbell said representatives from more than 25 community agencies that provide service to older people will be at the fair. In addition, nutritional counseling will be available, a pharmacist will be on hand to answer questions about medications, and U-M specialists in geriatric medicine will discuss arthritis at 11 a.m. and osteoporosis (brittle bones) at 1 p.m. Health education films, such as one on the U-M Continence Program, will be shown throughout the day.

Those in need of transportation or other information may call Campbell or Florence Tillman, R.N., at 764-2556.

Aerobics, Dance Center To Open

If you've missed the latest fitness trend, you now have a chance to catch up. Heartbeat Technique Center will begin aerobics, dance, yoga and calisthenics classes on Oct. 22.

The new business is opening at 122 1/2 E. Middle St. Pam Kampf and Denise Bendrey are co-owners.

"We'd like it to be a club where people go not just to sweat and exercise but to feel good in doing something nice for themselves, to meet new friends, to enjoy a variety of music and to learn basic dance routines," said Kampf.

Kampf will choreograph and instruct at the center. She studied dance and physical education at Eastern Michigan University. She received a certificate from the Chataqua center for performing arts in New York in 1972.

Since then, Kampf has been a dance supervisor for a health club chain. She is also a member of the National Dance Association of America.

Bendrey has been a Chelsea resident for 18 months. She will handle the business end of the center.

The center will feature classes for the entire family, including a dance troupe for girls, ages 10-16.

"We're real excited about starting a girl's dance troupe. We think girls that age would like to have a constructive outlet for their energies," said Bendrey.

The troupe will eventually perform.

All classes meet twice a week for eight weeks. The women's classes meet for one hour and an extra half hour of nutritional discussion.

Men and girls classes meet for one hour only.

"We don't feel men should be excluded from a healthy attitude through movement or what movement gives you. It helps to stimulate mental energy," said Kampf.

Registration will be held Oct. 17-22. To register or for further information, call 475-7076.

Workshops for Women Slated

"Focus on Women," offered by Soundings: A Center for Women, is a series of eight workshops which will present information and suggest options for women who are experiencing life changes, considering new directions or seeking enrichment and adventure. Interested women should save the last Thursday evening of the coming months for these workshops to be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Ann Arbor "Y".

"Building Self-Esteem," led by Doris Parker Roberts, MSW, will be presented on Thursday, Oct. 25. Recognizing that feeling good about oneself is essential to emotional health and growth, Ms. Roberts will present ideas and involve participants in exercises which promote positive self-change and greater self-confidence.

Also scheduled in this series at the Ann Arbor "Y" is "Geritol Won't Do It" with Mindy Smith, M.D., as leader. This workshop, to be held on Thursday, Nov. 29 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., will be structured for women who have concerns about aging and menopause, importance of self-care and prevention. There is a $5 fee for each workshop, registration at the door.

The "Focus on Women" series will continue in the new year with "Considering Change," information and techniques for planning new career directions, Jan. 31; "Landing the Job You Want," Feb. 28; "Rhythm and Blues: Women, Roles and Depression," March 28; "Time for Yourself," April 25; and "Let the Good Times Roll," building and using networks for more fun in your life, May 23.

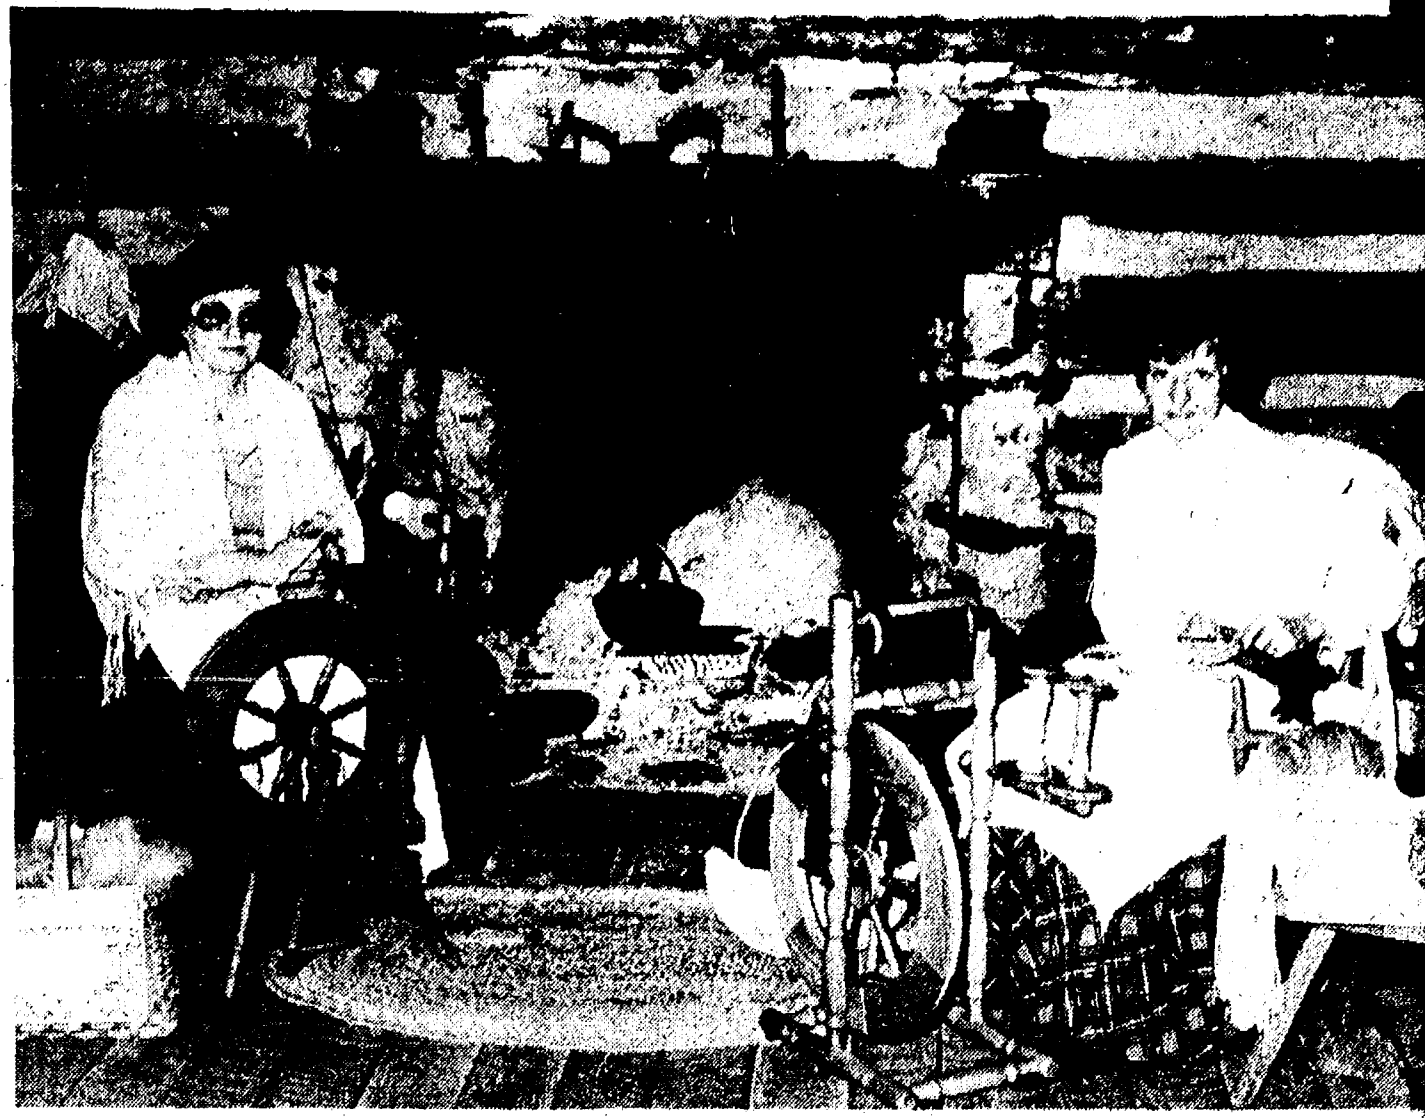

In addition, Soundings continues to offer two evening support groups. Beginning in late October, "Woman to Woman," with Lynne Carbeck, MSW as leader, will meet for eight weeks from 7:30 to 9:30 on Monday evenings. This group will provide an opportunity for women to explore mutual concerns and to receive support for changes they wish to make in their lives.

"Lifelines," a support group for recently separated or divorced women, led by Suzanne Mosher, ACSW, will meet for eight sessions from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays. Both groups will be held in the Soundings meeting room in Bach school, W. Jefferson at Fifth St., Ann Arbor. Pre-registration for these groups is required.

Call 665-2606 for further information about all Soundings programs.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

Last week's column on problems in trying to pay what we legitimately owe in local property taxes evoked the biggest response from readers that I have received in two years of viewing from the Clock Tower.

I got calls at work and at home from persons who had been forced to ride the same merry-go-round. Obviously, I touched a sensitive nerve.

In one way, it's nice to know that I was right in putting my protest in print. Far more important, and very worrisome, is that the practice of not sending out tax bills and then assessing penalties for failure to pay the non-bills apparently is common. It happens to a lot of people.

Everybody who called reported they had received the same answer that we did when we tried to get the problem cleared up by paying what we legitimately owe:

"It's your responsibility to pay taxes. It's not our responsibility to send you a bill."

Repeating from last week, that is one of the most preposterous declarations that I have ever heard. Why do we elect or appoint and pay public officials and so-called "servants" who can't be bothered to send out tax bills? What are they there for?

The taxing officials hide behind a law which says that a published legal notice is sufficient warning to property owners that taxes are due and payable.

Here I get into some sticky ground, because legal notices are important revenue sources to small newspapers such as The Standard. The fact is, however, that most people don't read the fine print on those notices, if they see them at all. I'll admit that I don't always read the notices, even though I work for the paper and probably should.

Lurking in the background is the suspicion that some of the failure to send out tax bills may be deliberate. The collection fees for late payments go to the collector. If ever a system was wide open for abuse, that one is.

All of the outraged people who called to express agreement and sympathy said that, after protesting and fighting the late-payment penalties, they were eventually forced to cough up in full. The law apparently leaves no recourse.

Maybe so, but I intend to fight the matter out and see for myself.

Why can't government carry on its operations the way private enterprise does? If you buy a piece of merchandise or a service from a business firm or a public utility and, in effect, charge it, you wait until you get a bill and then you pay it. If you ignore the bill or pay it late, then you are in trouble and can expect to be charged something extra.

The point is that the burden is on the seller to tell you what you owe, and do it in a timely way. After that, it's up to you how you respond. Having been given proper notice that you owe something, the obligation is yours. If you don't meet it, you can expect to pay an extra price for your failure.

I honestly see no difference when it comes to property taxes. When you buy a house or a piece of land, you are also buying government services on that property, and you expect to pay for them. You also expect to be notified what the charges are and when they are supposed to be paid.

One property owner who called me said that it took four years to receive a tax bill. Meanwhile, a couple of years of taxes had been declared delinquent. Even after the back-due payments were made, with penalties, two more years went by before a bill finally came in the mail.

"We learned our lesson after the first two years, and voluntarily went in and paid our taxes even though we never got a bill. I'm not sure we ever would have gotten one if a neighbor of ours hadn't been elected township treasurer. She finally straightened it out."

Another caller was in tears as she described a similar tale of woe which resulted in the loss of considerable money and a threat of losing their house at a tax sale. "I can't believe what we had to go through," she said. "We were humiliated."

I've heard and experienced enough to be convinced that there is a real and serious problem which requires attention and correction. If a property owner has done his part by seeing to it that the ownership documents are properly recorded and on file, then the least he can expect is to be notified when he owes something. The burden of proof should be on the seller of government services, not the buyer. It's that simple.

Maybe we need to get some laws changed. That, in an indirect way, is what Proposal C (Voters Choice) is all about, a reflection of public distrust of the way government carries on its business. More about that next week.

Junior Women's Club Officer Attends National Conference

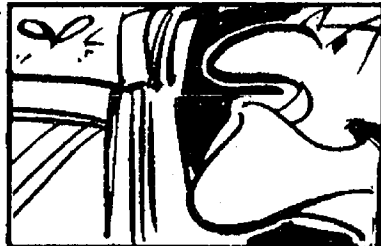

Lorraine Perkins of Dexter, recently attended the 1984 National FREE Conference in Washington, D. C., sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Cities Service Oil and Gas Corp. and Proctor & Gamble Co.

The conference prepared local and state club leaders for participation in the GFWC FREE Enterprise Program which promotes a free market environment for American business.

Perkins is junior public affairs chairman of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs. As such, she will be promoting local and state FREE Enterprise projects. Mrs. Perkins is also vice-president of the GFWC-Chelsea-Dexter Area Junior Women's Club.

Speakers at the conference included Sen. J. Bennett Johnston, D-LA, Rep. Pat Roberts, R-KS, and Rep. John Dingell, D-MI. They spoke on legislative issues which have an impact on the free enterprise system. Several other noted speakers, including Capitol Hill aides, briefed conference participants on effective communication with legislators and the importance of economic education in the schools.

Perkins also visited the offices of Congressman Carl Pursell and Senator Carl Levin during the conference.

Monday of each month at 7:30 in the private dining rooms of the Chelsea Community Hospital. Anyone interested is welcome to attend or call 475-3615 for more information.

Blue Ear Tag Means Quality Feeder Calves

When the beef sales begin this fall, feedlot managers would do well to buy feeder calves that have blue tags stuck in their ears.

That's the preference of Ben Bartlett, Michigan State University Extension livestock specialist in the Upper Peninsula, who, in 1980, was one of the originators of the Michigan Pre-Sale Vaccination (MPSV) program.

The blue ear tag means that a calf has been vaccinated with IBR, BVD, P13 and Haemophilus vaccines 21 days before the sale, dehorned and castrated, all certified by a licensed veterinarian.

"It means the feedlot manager is buying a quality product," Bartlett says. "Tagged calves will have a much better chance of getting off to a good start in the feedlot than those that are not part of the MPSV program."

The pilot MPSV program conducted in the U.P. during 1980-82 reduced illness among 6,150 calves going into feedlots by 50 percent.

But that doesn't mean feedlot managers can put the calves in the pen and forget them.

"They still have to be processed—vaccinated, implanted, wormed, etc.—because this is just one step in what should be a carefully managed feedlot program," Bartlett says. "But this step does substantially reduce the risk of loss among new calves coming into the feedlot."

Bartlett says that the program is gaining wide support among Michigan cow-calf producers.

"If MPSV becomes uniformly accepted among Michigan producers, it could mean more than $500,000 additional profit for the industry and a higher quality product for the customer," Bartlett says. "We intend that the MPSV program will mean that a 'brand name' animal is being sold."

Participation in the program requires that all animals sold be vaccinated no less than 21 days and no more than 50 days prior to being sold. Calves must be at least 150 days old when they are vaccinated.

When the calves are sold, the seller must provide two copies of an MPSV certificate.

The program has been endorsed by the Michigan Livestock Exchange, the Michigan Cattlemen's Association and the Howell Livestock Auction.

Details of the MPSV program may be obtained from any county MPSV Co-operative Extension Service office.

Public Invited to Oct. 16 Dialogue with Superintendent

Dialogue with the Superintendent was held Oct. 16, 9:30-11:30 a.m., in Beach Middle school's large group instruction room.

The public expressed their concerns with the superintendent Ray Van Meer. Beach principal Darcio Stielstra also spoke on the middle school.

"Dialogue is intended to be a place where you can get your questions asked and answered. It keeps me in touch with the concerns and issues people are thinking about," said Van Meer.

The Oct. 16 dialogue is the second one for this school year. The monthly series was started by Van Meer about seven years ago.

About 23 concerned individuals attended the first, Sept. 18 dialogue.

"We brought them up to date on the educational audit. The big issue was the start of school prior to Labor Day. This is the first year it started before Labor Day. There's quite a feeling in the community about not having school start so early," said Van Meer.

The three new administrative staff members were introduced at the Sept. 18 meeting. They are William Wescott, principal of North School, Ken Larson, assistant principal of Chelsea High school and Stielstra.

About 15 persons attended the Oct. 16 meeting. Discussion included Proposal C, the gifted and talented program, potential college night, pre-school, early start of school, and how transportation is managed during the fog.

The next Dialogue will be held Nov. 15, 9:30 a.m. at North school.

Pink Paint Put On Walks, Building At Niehaus Field

Some splashes of pink paint were put on the approach walks to the Niehaus Field home bleachers last Thursday night. There were also some splashes on the pressbox-concession building.

The walk-ways are presently unpainted, and the minor damage done to them can be covered up with a coat of paint. The smeared on the pressbox-concession stand can be covered over with half a pint of blue paint.

Chelsea High school principal John Williams said he was investigating the vandalism incident.

Niehaus Field is completely fenced, but the gates are not locked at night. Anybody can walk in at any time.

HCMA Considers Using Local Realtor Agent To Acquire More Land

The use of a local real estate agent to help the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority acquire more land for the Hudson Mills park in Dexter and Webster townships was discussed at the regular meeting of the HCMA Board of Commissioners Oct. 11.

At the meeting, held at the partially completed recreation center at Hudson Mills, the board discussed retaining Ed Coy, of Ed Coy Realty, to assist them in negotiations for purchases in the area.

HCMA currently owns approximately 1,500 acres in the townships (6 percent in Dexter and about 1 percent in Webster) and wants another 328 acres to expand the Hudson Mills Metropark.

HCMA staff member Don Beam suggested to the board the use of a local realtor to help the HCMA "mop up very difficult parcels." The land, most of which is river-front property, is privately held and owners and other area residents have voiced their opposition to further land acquisitions by the Authority. Beam said that a local realtor was used successfully in purchasing property for another park, Huron Meadows, and that similar assistance would be helpful since acquisitions here would be "difficult and time-consuming."

In the discussion about the use of a local realtor, Commissioner John Hertel raised the issue of whether or not such use was prudent since he felt the HCMA staff was qualified to do such work and that the HCMA's good reputation with the public and media might be jeopardized because use of an agent might be interpreted as "influence peddling."

Hertel proposed that the board consider having only HCMA staff involved in acquisitions until most of the desired property had been purchased and when a certain percentage, say 20% had not yet been acquired then a local realtor would be used.

Commissioner Heller questioned the board, "are we in danger of pressing these people too hard?" and Commissioner James Cosgrove, chairman of the board and Washtenaw county representative, answered that the use of a local agent was to help open doors with the local people "when we meet a brick wall in getting things done." Cosgrove suggested that a local agent would know the land values and be familiar with the people disabled. Cost per meal, $2.25 for those able to pay. Interested parties call Ann Feeney, 475-1493, or Joyce Manley, 475-2795.

Bumper Black Walnut Crop Here for Harvest

There is a bumper crop of black walnuts out there for the picking up. There may also be a big bunch of hickory nuts hanging on the trees but the leaves aren't yet off the hickories to reveal the fruits, which don't drop until after a hard freeze.

Walnuts came down early this fall, and they are all over the place. Just about every tree has produced in plenty.

A reporter who has been gathering walnuts for more than 40 years picked up 10 bushels from beneath just two trees and said he had never before seen so many.

"I could have used a shovel if I had one along," he said. "They were piled up on the ground. It took less than two hours to fill 10 bushel bags, and I was just skimming the cream, taking the best-looking ones."

"Good" walnuts are big, about twice the size of a golf-ball, smooth, and green all over with no black spots which could indicate disease or worms. They feel "heavy."

Walnuts have to be hulled, which means taking off the outer covering to reveal the nuts. One way to do that is to spread the nuts on a gravel road and drive back and forth over them in a car or truck, grinding off the hulls under the tires.

Finishing work has to be done by hand. Wear rubber gloves. Walnut hulls leave a lasting dark brown stain which takes weeks to wear away. Before synthetic dyes were invented, walnuts were the principal source of brown dye. The uniforms worn by the Confederate army during the Civil War—which were brown, not gray as folklore has it—were colored with walnut hull dye.

Once hulled, the nuts should be dried in a warm place for several weeks. They can then be cracked and the kernels picked out. A heavy hammer helps in the cracking. The nut meats should be refrigerated and will keep for a year or more.

Black walnuts have a distinctive flavor which is excellent in cookies, cakes, frostings and other desserts. They may be substituted in any recipe which calls for English walnuts, at a rate of about half the amount prescribed. The flavor is strong, and can be overwhelming.

North's pledges are up 1% from last week for 49% of their $1,250 goal.

Chelsea High school and administration have a goal of $2,500. They remain pledged at 18%.

National Commander Will Visit VFW Post

Although he could have accepted an assignment in a headquarters office after the mine incident, he chose to return to Hill 42. While leading a patrol of new squad members, Cameron stepped on another mine. The wounds nearly cost him his leg and the use of his right hand. He received a Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster.

He had over 275 sutures and was a patient in nine hospitals. Cameron joined the VFW from his hospital bed at Camp Lejeune, N.C. in 1968. He spent a short time as an automobile salesman but could not continue because standing on concrete with have crippled him.

Working hard for the VFW, Cameron won honors as an All American Post Commander in 1973. He became All American Department of North Carolina Commander in 1975 and was elected to the National Council of Administration in August 1977.

In 1972, Cameron won the title of North Carolina Disabled Veteran of the Year. Gov. James E. Holshouser, Jr., appointed him to the North Carolina Veterans Commission for a four-year term in 1976. He was reappointed by succeeding Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr.

In 1976-77, he served as the chairman of the North Carolina Veterans Council.

Besides a membership in the VFW, Cameron belongs to the Masons, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, and the Optimist, Elks and Moose Clubs.

Cameron married Jeanette Gilliam in 1969. The couple have a son, Edward, and daughter, Leah.

CHS Marching Band Featured At EMU Game

Chelsea High school Marching Band was the feature band among 17 bands from across the state during Eastern Michigan University's Band Day on Oct. 6.

As feature band, the Bulldogs performed for the EMU crowd and other bands after the game. The band was highly praised for its level of proficiency in performance and outstanding discipline.

The Bulldog's flag corps, under the supervision of Phil Jones, won first place in a competition with other bands. Jones teaches English and journalism at Chelsea High school.

The flags performed a drill routine choreographed by senior flag captain Phoebe Strong. They were featured at half-time with the massed bands as they performed to "Say, Say, Say," by Michael Jackson.

Schools from as far away as Charlevoix participated in a massed band performance at half-time. A broad selection of music was performed from a "Motown Medley" to Respighi's "Pines of Rome."

The band's day began with a two-hour rehearsal at 3 p.m. Dinner was served to each band, compliments of the university. A drawing for EMU sweatshirts was also held.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie today said a 14-mile section of M-92 between Stockbridge and Chelsea has become a Class A route beginning Monday.

In July of this year, this section of highway in Ingham, Jackson and Washtenaw counties was reclassified as a Class A route for a 60-day trial period.

Representatives of the Greyhound bus service contacted Village President Donald Alber prior to Tuesday evening's Village Council meeting stating that unless a bus agency is obtained in Chelsea within a month the company will be obliged to discontinue bus service to Chelsea.

Probate Judge John W. Conlin in submitting a review of the Juvenile Court program for the past year, said it was the first time in several years that the court had been able to prepare such a report.

Judge Conlin believes the report will be of interest and will help people of the county to "a better understanding of juvenile problems and the Washtenaw County Juvenile Court program."

Chelsea C. of C. Grant Will Underwrite Tourism Plan

The Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce has awarded a grant to Eastern Michigan University to produce a document entitled "Chelsea's Stories: An Action Plan for Local Tourism."

Based on a new concept termed "Community Interpretation and Tourism," Dr. Gabe Cherem, a Chelsea area resident, and the students of two EMU courses will detail how some of the Chelsea area's stories (historic, natural and contemporary) might best be told to residents and visitors.

A goal of the project is to plan ways to increase area residents' awareness and pride in their heritage, and to share this heritage with visitors from southeastern Michigan. Self-guided auto and walking tours, day-tours of the area, an annual event, and other forms of programming will be among the recommendations when the plan is completed in May of 1985.

Chelsea will be only the second community in the country to have such a plan. In December of 1983, a similar plan was completed for the city of Rochester, N. Y. A number of groups in Hawaii have also expressed enthusiasm and interest in the possibility of applying the concept on the islands. Cherem, a lecturer in the geography department at EMU, delivered two seminars on the topic in Hawaii in September.

CHS Students To Vote In Mock Elections

On Oct. 29, Chelsea High school students will have the chance to express their opinions on candidates and issues at the voting booth. On that date, the school will hold mock elections using real equipment.

Students in 11th and 12th grade who are taking either social studies or U. S. history will be able to vote. The state Department of Education runs the mock elections. Chelsea High school will phone in their results as will other high schools throughout the state.

"This will say how school kids thought on the election as opposed to other adults," said principal John Williams.

For more information about the Chelsea project, contact the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, or Dr. Gabe Cherem, Department of Geography, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti 48197.

Post Cereal Box Seals Are Sought By Local Schools

Seals from boxes of cereal marketed by the Post Co. of Battle Creek can be traded in for athletic equipment, and Chelsea physical education teacher Bill Wehrwein hopes local residents will save and turn them in.

"We're not trying to sell Post cereals," said Wehrwein, who teaches at both North and South elementary schools. "What we are asking is that people who buy the cereals take the seals of the boxes and bring them in to either the South school office or the North school media center. Don't throw them away."

"During the past six years we have obtained hockey sticks, hockey goals, basketballs, stop-watches and a playground parachute as premiums, and they have been valuable additions to our equipment."

"Post is ending the program on Dec. 31, and we want to get as many seals as we can before then. We'll see how many we collect, then look through the catalogue and find out what we can get for them."

Sylvan Township Hall Receives Renovations

Renovating old buildings has its share of dangers and difficulties.

When Jim Carruthers of Chelsea Construction and Earl Heller began work on the Sylvan Township Hall they had to beware of the wiring. In the treasurer's office, hot wires dangled by the curtains. Heller rewired the entire building.

Replacing the outside wood trim was something less than convenient.

"You basically don't buy that stuff anymore. You have to have it milled or have to create it, which we're doing," said Carruthers.

Other renovations in store for the Sylvan Hall include a new bell tower.

"We're going to rebuild it to have it where it works again. We have to repair the tower, yoke and wheel which were originally wood," said Carruthers.

According to Sylvan township treasurer, Fred Pearsall, the tower was on the verge of becoming unsafe and could be blown over by heavy winds.

The tower will hopefully be done this fall, weather permitting. It will be redone in wood.

"It's a matter of getting everything repainted. We have to move the bell and get it rebuilt," said Carruthers.

Carruthers has also been at work repointing the building. Repointing is the process of knocking out old mortar and replacing it.

The downstairs windows, including the sills which were cracked and crumbling, have been replaced. The upstairs windows are next. The hall is slated for new front steps as the bottom steps are crumbling.

An overhang over the front door will also be replaced by a copper canopy built close to the building. The overhang shows where a balcony used to be which was later removed. A stage and old staircases have also either been blocked off or cut off the building, said Carruthers.

Tom Dunlap of Chelsea replaced the ceiling with fiberglass panels to provide insulation.

"The building has been reworked several times. Most of it has been to get the building functional without a lot of money (Continued on page 15)

Chelsea High School Plans Open House

Chelsea High school will hold its open house on Oct. 22 at 7 p.m.

The open house will begin in the auditorium with entertainment by the high school orchestra. The orchestra and symphony band alternate yearly in providing music for parents.

Principal John Williams and assistant principal Ken Larson will welcome parents and talk about the student activities program. Parents will also be invited to a general meeting on a new academic letter program.

The open house will not use the capsule format. Parents will be provided with maps and students' schedules but may visit with teachers when they wish.

Students will demonstrate school projects such as free blood pressure checks in the health careers classroom and printing demonstrations in the graphics department. Classes such as English and social studies will have displays of books and materials with teacher hand-outs explaining items such as the grading system.

"We encourage parents even if they don't have a child in health careers or auto shop to go take a look and see what it's all about. That's why we have the totally open format so parents do have time to see areas they're curious about," said Williams.

The open format also enables parents to visit the counseling office, media center and computer labs.

The open house will conclude at 9 p.m. with coffee and cookies in the cafeteria.

Chelsea Pass Attack Leads to 41-0 Win Over Dexter Team

Chelsea's passing game triggered by quarterback Dan Bellus made the big difference as the Bulldogs trounced Dexter, 41-0, on the Dreadnaughts' home field last Friday night.

The outcome was never in doubt after Chelsea scored on its first possession and dominated the rest of the way. The only question was the margin of the final score.

Dexter has had trouble generating any offense all season long and came up empty again, making only five first downs. Chelsea, meanwhile, piled up 375 yards in combined passing and rushing, cruising up and down the field almost at will.

The tone was set early as Bellus completed a 64-yard pass to Todd Starkey on the game's third play to put the ball on the Dexter five. Two plays later Dave Steinhauer bucked over from the three. Biff Bunten booted his first of five consecutive extra points, before he finally missed one late in the game, and Chelsea was ahead to stay.

Early in the second quarter, Chelsea got the ball on Dexter's 14 following a bad center snap in a punting situation. Bellus passed to Mark Mull, playing again after missing 4½ games with an ankle injury, to put the ball on the three, and Steinhauer went over from the one two plays later.

Dexter made a mild threat after receiving the kickoff but Steinhauer, who was all over the field making big plays on both offense and defense, killed it with an interception which he returned to the Dexter 30. Bellus completed two passes, one to Mull which took the ball to the five, and the second to Starkey in the end zone. That made it 21-0 at the half.

Midway through the third period Bellus hit Starkey on a 39-yard TD pass.

Dexter then mounted its most serious scoring effort, driving to a first down on the Bulldog 12 with the help of two pass completions by quarterback Mike Arbour and a 15-yard roughing penalty. The Dreadnaughts gave up the ball on downs at the five after gaining just seven yards on four running plays.

Looking for short yardage to get the Bulldogs out of trouble deep in their own territory, Steinhauer took the ball on an off-tackle dive play, broke cleanly, and out-ran everybody including his own blockers in a 95-yard dash to the goal line.

It was one of the longer runs from scrimmage in the history of Chelsea football, and may be a record. Steinhauer has surprising speed. He was a good 10 yards ahead and pulling away when he reached the end zone.

Curtis Heard got Chelsea's final touchdown late in the game on a two-yard burst climaxing a drive which started after a short Dexter punt.

Bellus completed 10 of 24 passes for 195 yards. Starkey caught four of them, Mull two, and Steinhauer the other four. Bellus missed some, but he hit the big ones.

The Bulldogs added 180 yards on the ground, more than their combined rushing total in the season's first five games. That statistic is a bit misleading, in that more than half of it reflects Steinhauer's 95-yard sprint. Steinhauer accounted for 155 yards rushing altogether.

Otherwise, the scrappy Dreadnaught defenders did a reasonably good job of containing Chelsea's ground game. What Dexter couldn't cope with was the Bulldog passing attack.

A swarming Chelsea defense was led by middle linebacker Mark E. Bentley with 15 tackles and end Ed Brosnan with 12.

"Bentley, Brosnan and Steinhauer all played outstanding games," Bulldog coach Gene LaFave said. "So did Bellus and Starkey."

"I feel good going into our game against Tecumseh this week. I think this team is coming together and that we are now ready to play with anybody. We scored six touchdowns against a good Dexter defense, and that makes me happy. Dexter played us tough all the way, and nothing came easy. They have problems on offense, but their defense is pretty solid."

There weren't many highlights from the standpoint of the Dreadnaught fans who turned out on a chilly, damp evening for the school's homecoming game.

Arbour was the only effective player on offense, completing three passes for 42 yards and rushing for another 30 on quarterback draws and keepers. He accounted for about three-fourths of Dexter's 102 total yardage.

Cameron Otto stood out on defense for the Dreadnaughts and was ably assisted by Fred Walton and Harold Armbruster, among others.

Dexter goes from the frying pan into the fire on Friday, taking on league-leading Saline in a home clash. The Dreadnaughts are 0-6 on the season and figure to have trouble winning a game unless they can get their offense untracked.

Chelsea, 2-4, plays Tecumseh at home. The Bulldogs still have a shot at a winning season, but must take their remaining three games to do it.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Saline Stays on Top In Conference Race

Saline maintained a half-game lead in the Southeastern Conference football race following last Friday night's action, but both Tecumseh and Pinckney remain in the title chase.

All three have lost a game in league play. Saline's lead reflects the fact that the Hornets have played one more SEC game than the other two. That will even out at the end of the season.

With an odd number (seven) of teams in the conference, one plays outside the league each Friday. When the season is all done, each school will have played six SEC contests.

Last week, Saline beat Lincoln, 15-12; Tecumseh defeated Milan, 22-13, and Chelsea trounced Dexter, 41-0. Pinckney went outside the league and lost 26-0 to Saginaw Nouvel, ranked among the top three Class B teams in the state.

Saline had to fight to beat Lincoln, falling behind twice but coming back each time. The difference turned out to be extra-point conversions. The Hornets made three of a possible four points, while Lincoln didn't make any. Each team scored two touchdowns, and the Railsplitters had a big edge in total offense.

Tecumseh fought off a stubborn Milan team, thanks to a strong running game which allowed the Indians to control the ball during the second half.

Chelsea swamped Dexter with an outstanding pass attack and a strong defense which kept the Dreadnaughts from going anywhere.

JV Gridders Defeat Dexter To Even Record

With Greg Brown playing at quarterback for the first time, the Chelsea junior varsity football team defeated Dexter, 14-6, here last Thursday. Brown completed screen passes to Scott Frisinger for both Bulldog touchdowns.

"He did an excellent job considering that it was his first game at quarterback," coach Jim Ticknor said. "He didn't make any mistakes that hurt. We had only one turnover, lost a fumble, and that wasn't his fault."

Brown got the starting call because both Jeff Stacey and Matt Bohlender suffered injuries in practice during the week and were unavailable, and he rose to the occasion.

Dexter scored near the end of the first quarter to take a 6-0 lead, but Chelsea promptly tied it up on a 29-yard screen pass-and-run play from Brown to Frisinger.

"Scott made a great effort to get into the end zone," Ticknor said. "He was hit three times inside the five, but he was not going to be stopped. He did it on his own with sheer determination."

Frisinger then ran for a two-point conversion to put the Bulldogs ahead, 8-6, at the half.

Chelsea scored again early in the third period on another Brown to Frisinger screen pass, this one starting from eight yards out.

The rest of the game was a defensive struggle, with Chelsea taking advantage of good field position to bottle up the Dreadnaughts deep in their own territory. Neither team made a serious threat to score.

Defensively, end Andy Box and cornerback Casey Murphy played especially well, Ticknor said. Frisinger and Joe Eassa provided an effective ground game with 72 and 82 yards, respectively, from their halfback positions.

The JV's next game is against tough Tecumseh there tomorrow. The win over Dexter evened their season record at 3-3.

Frosh Gridders Gain First Win of Season

Chelsea's freshman football team finally won a game, defeating Leslie 28-20, by coming from behind twice to take an exciting contest here a week ago Tuesday.

It was the first victory for the

JV Netters End Season Undefeated

Chelsea girls junior varsity tennis team finished the year undefeated. They won over all the teams that brought a junior varsity with their varsity team.

Only seven teams had enough players to provide Chelsea with some experience but Chelsea defeated six of the seven and tied Pinckney the second time they played.

"Even though we did not have a full schedule, we still gained some valuable experience for next year and this will also add depth to our varsity team," said Schreiner.

Eighth Grade Bullpups Win One, Lose One

Chelsea eighth grade girls basketball team defeated Dexter but lost to Lincoln last week.

Chelsea trailed, 11-22, at half time in the Lincoln game but made a come-back to lead, 31-30, with three minutes left to go. Lincoln then hit a clutch of free throws to pull away again for a final score of 38-31.

Leading scorers were Heather Neibauer with eight points, and Lisa Taylor with seven. Shannon Losey, Kelly Scott and Kim Easton each had four. Jeannie Heim and Losey were leading rebounders. Scott and Anna Harden had the most steals.

In the Dexter game, Chelsea trailed, 14-25, going into the fourth quarter.

Leading scorers were Neibauer with nine, Easton with eight, and Heim with five.

EXTRA POINT TRY: Biff Bunten, who had never done any place-kicking until three weeks ago, is getting to be good at it. He booted five of six points after touchdown last Friday night, and narrowly missed the other. Bunten is behind that mass of struggling players, watching the ball on its way.

INTERCEPTION: Team captain Dave Steinhauer was a busy young man on both offense and defense as Chelsea defeated Dexter, 41-0. Here he intercepts a pass intended for Dreadnaught Paul Becker.

Four Girls Named Swimmers of Week

Chelsea girl swimmers of the week, this week, are co-captain Missy Young; sophomore swimmer, Susan Schmunk; and fresh divers Deanna Zangara and Jennifer Schweiger.

Young is completing her fourth year of varsity competition for the Bulldogs.

"She has been a valuable asset to the team not only because she has provided many points in the meets but also because she is extremely mature for her age and provides considerable senior leadership," said coach Larry Reed.

"The benefits that Missy provides for our team can not be measured in wins and losses. She is willing to help and offer constructive advice to our many ninth graders on the team. She leads by example and a coach has to feel very lucky to have a senior co-captain with those qualities," said Reed.

Schmunk has become an all-around swimmer as demonstrated in the meet against Ypsilanti. She won the 200 individual medley and 100 breaststroke in her only appearances in those events all year. Both those performances moved her high up in the state-wide standings for those events.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

The home field advantage. It means a lot in sports.

A couple of recent examples:

The Chelsea golf team played Pinckney twice in three days. In the first match, at Lakeland Country Club, the Bulldogs shot a four-man score of 169. In the second, at Inverness Country Club, they came in at 147, a reduction of 22 strokes.

The two courses aren't all that different in difficulty. I have played them both. If anything, Inverness is the tougher of the two, because it demands better placement of the ball off the tee to get a good lie for a second shot.

Bulldog Golfers Tie For First Place In League Race

Chelsea's varsity golf team wound up in a tie with Tecumseh for the Southeastern Conference championship following Monday's league meet at the Lenawee Country Club.

"Naturally I'm disappointed that we didn't win the title outright, but I'm happy with what we got," coach Ken Larson said. "Just as I thought at the beginning, the league has been a shoot-out all season long."

Under the complicated scoring system which determines the SEC titlist, Chelsea and Tecumseh finished with 29 points each. Saline was a very close third with 28.

Pinckney (18), Dexter (10), Milan (10) and Lincoln (2) followed.

Chelsea and Tecumseh tied at 329 strokes apiece in the league meet over what Larson called "a very, very tough golf course."

"It plays tight, and if you stray off the fairways you are in a lot of trouble. Most of the greens are elevated. The tournament was played under summer rules, and that made it even more difficult."

(Under summer rules, you can't move the ball even if it's lying under a leaf or in a divot. Under winter rules, you can generally place the ball a clubhead's length to the side or back to get a better lie for the next shot.)

Doug Otto paced the Bulldogs with a 76, good for second place among individuals. Eric Schaffner, turned in an 80, Mike Garignan 85 and Brian Ackley 88.

"Those scores weren't at all bad under the conditions," Larson commented. "They may seem high, but they really aren't."

As it was, Chelsea had to sweat out the finish. A Tecumseh player still out on the course needed only to break 50 on the back nine to give the Indians the SEC title outright. He didn't do it.

"I feel sorry for that boy, and I'm not going to name him," Larson said. "I'm sure he was out there trying his best, just like our boys were."

Next for the Bulldogs is the state Class B championship meet at the Saskatoon Country Club, Grand Rapids, on Saturday. It is the same course on which Chelsea finished as state runner-up last year, losing in a narrow finish to Jackson Lumen Christi.

"We played well there a year ago, and I hope we can do it again," Larson said. "We'll go over and practice on Friday. If all of our kids are at the top of their game, we can win it."

Saskatoon is a lot like the Bulldogs' home Inverness course—fairly short but very tight, requiring good ball placement off the tee for decent second shots. The fairways are lined with pine trees. A ball hit into the pines costs a stroke or two.

BRIAN ACKLEY

Bulldog linksters remained in the running for the Southeastern Conference championship by defeating Dexter, 153-167, over the Ann Arbor Country Club course. The victory left Chelsea tied for second place with Tecumseh for the league lead, behind Saline, going into last Monday's SEC tournament at the Adrian Country Club. (See separate story.)

"We have to win at Adrian to win the SEC championship," Larson said. "It's that simple. It's a real tough course, and Saline and Tecumseh may have an advantage because they have played it more than we have."

Against Dexter, the Bulldogs fired their best team round ever at Ann Arbor Country Club. Otto carded 37, Schaffner 37, and Ackley and Carignan 40. "We played over a back nine, which is very difficult," Larson said, "and we shot well."

The victory gave Chelsea a record of 12-3 in dual matches for the season, 9-3 in league play.

The Bulldog JV's whipped Dexter, 176-208. Mike Mitchell led the way with a 42, followed by Steve Kropf 43, Tom Roth 45 and Greg Boughton 46.

Girls Varsity Cagers Defeat Dexter, Tecumseh

Chelsea girls varsity basketball team defeated Dexter and Tecumseh last week.

Chelsea won the Oct. 9 Dexter game, 45-33. They started the first quarter with 10-6. Chelsea won the second quarter, 14-7, for a half-time of 24-13. Dexter barely took the third quarter, 9-10. Chelsea regained the fourth quarter, 12-10.

Chelsea shot their highest percentage to that date from the floor, 20 for 49, or 41%. The free-throw statistic was not quite as high as other games, 5 for 11, or 45%. Dexter out-rebounded Chelsea, 26-22.

"It was a real good game for us. One of the best games, we've played in a long time," said coach Jim Winter.

Beth Unterbrink was lead scorer with 16 points, six rebounds and five assists. Joann Tobin earned 11 points. Anne Weber had six points, three assists and four steals. Kristi Headrick contributed six points. Jennifer Cattell stole for Chelsea three times.

On Oct. 11, Chelsea defeated Tecumseh, 54-27. Chelsea again lost the third quarter by a small margin but took the other three quarters.

"They scored the first basket and then we scored the next 13 points. We were 13-2 and got a little worse after that. We came out a little flat in the third quarter but picked up again in the fourth," said Winter.

Chelsea scored, 15-4, in the first and 16-7, in the second. Tecumseh led the third, 10-8. Chelsea came back in the fourth, 15-6.

Chelsea continued to shoot well from the floor, beating their previous season record from the last game with 44% or 23 for 52. Chelsea made 8 for 18 free throws or 44%. Chelsea out-rebounded Tecumseh 36-19.

Unterbrink was again lead scorer and has led in several games previously. She made 20 out of 54 points, had nine rebounds, four assists and four steals.

She shot 8 for 9 from the floor. "That's almost perfect," said Winter.

Other scorers were Cattell with eight points, four assists; Tobin with six points, seven rebounds; Kris Matloff with six points, nine rebounds, four assists; Kelly Hawker with five points and Weber with four steals.

Chelsea stands, 4-0, in the league and 7-3, over-all. They have won the last four consecutive games.

Girl Harriers Keep First Place Grip

Chelsea girls cross country team defeated Dexter, 15-50, last Thursday to take a firm hold on first place in the Southeastern Conference at 3-0 (5-1 over-all).

"We ran in a very tight pack with only 20 seconds separating our top seven runners," said coach Pat Clarke.

Amy Wolfgang continued her fine season with a first place time of 20:59.

Other Bulldog placers were: 2, Kasey Anderson (21:01); 3, Cathy Barham (21:11); 5, Melanie Flanagan (21:15); 6, Kim Allen (21:17); and 7, Kim Collins (21:19).

In JV girls action Chelsea defeated Dexter, 15-50. Freshman Jennifer Rossi took first for the JV's with a winning time of 21:46.

Other JV placers were: 2, Wendy Hunn (21:58); 3, Anna Muncer (22:01); 4, Laura Damm (22:27); 5, Alisha Dorow (22:28); 6, Ann Brosnan (22:42); 8, Susan Jaques (23:26); 9, Shanda Friday (23:49); and 10, Cathy Burkel (24:20).

Saturday Opening Day On Pheasants, Rabbits

It's not like it used to be in the good old days when hunters harvested more than a million pheasants a year, but Oct. 20 remains an important date on the fall sporting calendar.

As many as half a million sportsmen are expected to turn out Saturday for opening day of the pheasant and cottontail rabbit season in southern Michigan.

The pheasant outlook is bleak, according to the Department of Natural Resources. Counts made by rural mail carriers during the spring and summer throughout the ringneck range were the lowest ever recorded.

In west Washtenaw county, however, the birds seem to be up in numbers a bit over last fall's all-time low. They are not plentiful, but there are some out there. Hard hunting with good dogs, and some luck, may put the game in the bag.

Rabbits are abundant, but are not easy to see and shoot until later in the season when the ground cover breaks down.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORF

The successful hunter learns a lot about the birds and animals that he hunts. He finds out the type of cover they prefer and what they eat, and picks up enough practical knowledge of field botany to identify good hunting territory.

General rules always have exceptions, and so will those put down here. For example, you won't find much game in mature hardwood forests with no under-story of growth on the ground. It's pleasant to stroll through an open woods with nothing underfoot except last year's leaves, but don't expect to find anything to shoot at, unless you are a squirrel hunter.

Squirrels climb trees to find food, and a forest which includes nut-bearing trees—oak, hickory, walnut, butternut, beech—will have a population of squirrels. If the woods are primarily maple, which many are, go someplace else fast.

Except for squirrels, the species open to hunting in Michigan prefer young growth—small trees, brush and plants—habitat which provides cover and food close to the ground where they live. A deer, for instance, can't eat anything that is growing more than five feet high, for the simple reason that it is out of reach.

A good rule of thumb is, hunt the thick stuff. It may be hard going, but it's where the game is most likely to be. "Busting the brush" got me hundreds of shots over the years. You flush a lot of game that you hear and never see, and more that you see but can't get into your sights, but the law of averages eventually works out. It's better to get one decent shot out of five flushes than to find nothing and get no shots at all.

If you are blessed with a good hunting dog that works well in heavy cover, you have the best of all possible worlds. The dog will go into the thickets and root out the game while you walk or stand on the edge, and a certain amount of it will fly or run by within shooting range.

Having used the word "edge," let me emphasize it. Edges are the preferred places to hunt.

An edge, very simply, is a place where there is a definite difference between two cover types. A break between a thicket and a swamp is an edge. So is a change between farmland and a woods, and so on. By all means hunt the edges, because game tends to concentrate in them close to one side or the other. Don't ask me why, but I guarantee that it's true. Maybe it's just a matter that wild creatures, like people, enjoy some variety in their living conditions and prefer it to the monotony of being in the same kind of place all the time.

By all means, learn the foods that game birds and animals eat. They are surprisingly specific. Deer, for example, consume only a few of the hundreds of plants that grow in the wild, and there is no sense hunting deer in territory where those plants don't occur.

Ruffed grouse, on the other hand, will eat almost any bud, leaf, seed or fruit of anything that grows. The key to finding good grouse hunting is to locate the cover that the birds prefer. There will be some kind of grouse food in it. Dressing out a grouse and opening its crop is an adventure. You are invariably surprised by the mixture of contents.

A belief as common as it is wrong is that pheasants feed on nothing but corn. They do eat corn, but they also eat a whole lot of other things, including a variety of wild plant seeds.

Very few species that I know of exist on a 'straight diet' of one food. An exception is woodcock, which feed almost exclusively on earthworms. It's not profitable to hunt woodcock anywhere very far away from low, rich, moist ground where there is an abundant supply of worms.

Simply learning the food preferences of game birds and animals isn't enough. You also must learn how to identify those foods, which are mostly vegetables.

It doesn't help a whole lot to know that squirrels live in woods where nut trees grow if you can't tell an oak from a maple. The most useful hunting tool, aside from a gun, is the ability to look at trees, shrubs, weeds and grasses, and know what you are looking at.

When you can match knowledge of wildlife foods with the ability to identify them, you have taken a mighty long step toward being a successful hunter.

Chelsea's Girls Second at Sturgis

Led by Kasey Anderson's freshman record time of 20:13, the Chelsea girls cross country team finished second in the Sturgis Invitational meet last Saturday.

Top-ranked-Jackson Lumen Christi won the meet with 35 points, to Chelsea's 93. Anderson placed 13th over-all.

"We ran a very good team race. The girls put in a fine week of hard work. I was very pleased with their performance," said coach Pat Clarke.

I want to single out Kim Collins who has spent the last 6-8 months coming back from a disabling injury and is finally getting back into prime running form. She is a very dedicated young lady."

Collins ran the course in 20:26 to finish 17th.

Other Chelsea placers and times: Amy Wolfgang, 18th, 20:28; Mary Ann Richardson, 19th, 20:31; Melanie Flanagan, 26th, 20:46; Cathy Barham, 28th, 20:51; and Kim Allen, 31st, 21:01.

In junior varsity action the Chelsea girls took seventh of the top 11 places, but still finished second to Lumen Christi, 27-30.

Placing for Chelsea were: Robin Mock second, 20:41; Jennifer Rossi, fifth, 20:50; Wendy Hunn, sixth, 21:19; Laura Damm, eighth, 21:52; Anna Muncer, ninth, 21:59; Ann Brosnan, 22:03; and Stephanie Grant, 11th, 22:08.

Boy Harriers Win At Dexter, 20-38

Chelsea boys cross country team traveled to Hudson Mills Park at Dexter last Thursday and came away with a 20-38 victory.

"We ran very well," said coach Pat Clarke of his charges.

Junior Tim Bowdish and senior co-captain Jared Bradley led a 4-2 Bulldog sweep with times of 16:49 and 17:03, respectively.

The boys team is now 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference and 4-2 over-all on the season.

Other Bulldog placers were: 4, Allen Kuhl (17:55); 5, Bob Torres (18:06); 8, Jason Creffield (18:18); 9, Jeff Wheaton (18:21); 11, Kyle Kemmish (18:38).

In JV action Chelsea defeated Dexter, 17-46.

Leading the Bulldogs was freshman John Cattell in first place with a time of 18:41.

Other JV placers were: 2, Tucker Lee (18:44); 3, Lee Riemenschneider (18:59); 5, Steve Hunn (19:16); 7, Brian Coy (19:22); 8, Larry Moore (19:22); 9, Charlie Koehn (19:43); 10, Pete Hanna (20:04); 11, Bobby Pratt (20:19); and 12, Dave Zuehlke (20:29).

Chelsea Varsity Netters Defeat Pinckney, Novi

Chelsea varsity girls tennis team turned the tables on both Pinckney and Novi this week. They defeated both teams by 4-3, reversing previous first match scores.

In the Oct. 9 Pinckney match, Melanie Dils defeated Gail Evans, 6-0, 6-2. Chris DeFant played three long sets and won over Julie Tobin, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. Jenny Pichlik defeated Alanna Rebecca, 6-1, 6-0. Jackie Boosey lost to Janey Huhman, 7-6, 6-4.

Doubles Dawn Olson and Carol Nix conquered their opponents, 6-2, 6-2. Karen Killelea and Anne Acree lost, 6-4, 6-3. Deana Slusher and Laura Nix went down, 6-7, 6-1, 6-4.

"The singles came through for Chelsea in this match, particularly Chris DeFant who really went to the wire and pulled out the winning points for Chelsea. She was told we needed the point for the win and went out and got it. She played over two and half hours," said coach Theresa Schreiner.

In the Oct. 10 Novi match, the last of the season, Chelsea and Novi mixed their varsity and junior varsity teams. The doubles team played singles and vice versa.

"We did this to let the players see how different it is playing the other role," said Schreiner.

The doubles team of Dils and Pichlik, playing first singles, won, 6-3, 6-1. Boosey and DeFant defeated their opponents, 4-6, 6-0, 6-0. Carol Nix and Acree lost, 6-4, 4-6, 2-6.

Miller played first singles and soundly defeated Jill Bekish, 6-1, 6-0. Laura Nix also defeated her opponent, 6-2, 6-0. Olson played second singles losing a tough tiebreaker to Beth Cote, 6-2, 7-6. Slusher, playing third singles, lost, 6-0, 6-2.

Miller ended the season with the best singles record, 7-4. Laura Nix and Slusher had the best record for doubles, 8-7. The team ended with a 5-11 record for the season.

"We did do better than last year when we ended up 2-9 as some were rained out," said Schreiner.

BIG SALMON: Chelsea Rod & Gun Club program chairman Tony Wisniewski marvels at the size of an Atlantic salmon hooked in Canada by Steve Johnson of Dexter using a flyrod.

Dexter Fisherman Describes Canadian Fishing Expedition

Steve Johnson, expert fisherman from Dexter, was the guest speaker at the October meeting of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club. Aided by color slides, he described a fishing expedition for Atlantic salmon in northern Quebec. The fish camp on the George River was located several hundred miles south of the Arctic Circle and was reachable only by seaplane in VFR weather.

Using a flyrod, he caught his limit of salmon on many days. His largest trophy was a fighter that tipped the scale at 12 pounds. "We were fishing from the shore of strong rapids," Johnson told the members, "placing our flies on calm spots before or behind large boulders. When a salmon sights your fly he starts after it with his jaws open but does not actually hit until he has chased the lure for four or five seconds. It took me several days learning to resist the instant setting of the hook as you do with bass or bluegills. Once you have an Atlantic salmon on a 10-pound flyline you're in for a 45- to 60-minute battle to land him."

Some of Johnson's slides showed other large species of fish which he and his companions caught. Among them were red bellied trout known as char. Johnson also caught speckled trout averaging 15 to 16 inches which natives of the region throw back as trash fish.

Following his slide presentation, Johnson exhibited his flyrod and assortment of lures while answering the questions of club members.

Upon learning that Atlantic salmon fishing trips of a week to 10 days in northern Canada cost about $2,500, member Henri Vanderwaard declared, "I can catch salmon at Muskegon a lot cheaper than that!" Nevertheless, he examined Johnson's tackle eagerly.

At each of its monthly meetings the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club features films, lectures and demonstrations on conservation, wildlife and the protection of natural resources.

Home Toxics Collection Day Scheduled

A free Home Toxics Collection Day will be held in the parking lot of Meijer's Thrifty Acres on Carpenter Rd. Oct. 20, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., sponsored by the Washtenaw County Health Department, the Michigan Environmental Health Association and in conjunction with Ecology Week activities of the Ecology Center of Ann Arbor.

This is an opportunity for Washtenaw county residents to get rid of toxic chemicals that have collected in garages, basements and under the kitchen sink. Such things as home and garden insect and weed killers, waste oils, old paint, paint thinner, used batteries and anything else you might think is hazardous will be accepted, just as long as the item can be identified. Such chemicals as Chlorodane, DDT, Lindane, Aldrin, Dieldrin, 2, 4, 5-T/Silvex, Endrin, DBCP, Strobane, Thallium Sulfate, Heptachlor, Kepone, Mirex, Saffrole, Tozaphene, Sodium Cyanide and Strychnine are all extremely toxic and should not be used at home, even if you follow the directions carefully.

No fee will be charged for the first five gallons or pounds of a chemical to be disposed. Thereafter, a nominal fee will be charged. Those bringing chemicals to Meijer's parking lot for the collection should make sure that the items are accurately labeled, secure in the container and situated so they will not spill in transport.

Not only will a free space in your home be nice, but you will no longer be taking the risk of a child, pet or even yourself becoming poisoned or otherwise hurt by having unnecessary dangerous chemicals around. Also by taking your chemicals to the collection site, you will not be discarding the toxics with the garbage, down the storm drain or onto the lawn, all of which contribute to the contamination of ground water which most of us rely on for drinking and other household needs.

This Home Toxics Collection Day is a pilot project to determine the feasibility of doing other such collections elsewhere in the state.

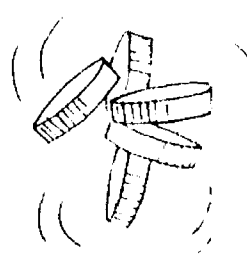

For further information you may call the Washtenaw County Health Department at 994-2492.

Program Seeks To Improve Patient Cardiac Conditioning

Several months ago, Ann Arbor attorney Jack Garris was flat on his back in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital as the result of a heart attack.

Today, he breathes easily as he pedals mile after mile on a stationary bicycle. He is a member of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Cardiac Rehabilitation Program, which recently moved to Maple Health Building (MHB), at the corner of Maple and Dexter on the west side of Ann Arbor.

Garris, and others like him are members of a three-phase program designed by the health center to strengthen patients' cardiac and physical endurance. To enter the program, patients must be referred by a physician. It begins for most in the hospital after they have been stabilized following a heart attack or other cardiac condition.

Program co-ordinator Mary Beth Wright said, "We like to begin the program as soon as our patients' conditions are stable. An occupational therapist and nurse work with them to accomplish basic physical activities such as sitting up in bed, eating, dressing and walking."

Phases II and III are more strenuous exercise programs that include everyday activities and a supervised exercise program.

"Phase II begins following discharge from the hospital and usually lasts three to eight weeks. Patients exercise twice a week in small group classes and follow individualized home programs the other days, focusing on resuming normal daily activities," Wright said.

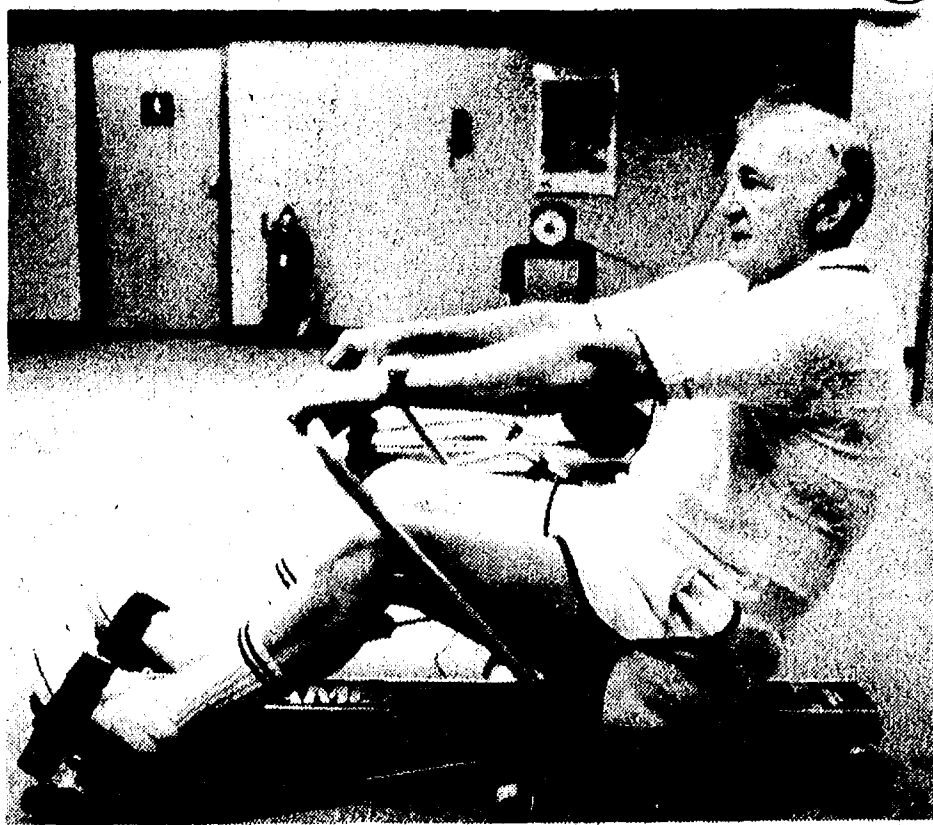

Patients in Phase III exercise in a spacious remodeled area in MHB, or in the Physical Therapy gymnasium at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Wright said the MHB site was chosen because it offered easier access for many patients. She also added, "Because the program is growing so rapidly, we needed more space than was available at the hospital."

During the sessions, exercise leaders work out with and aid the patients. A physician is required to be on site. "We have never had a serious cardiac incident with any of our patients. The program is very structured, and we are extremely cautious," Wright said. "Pulse rates are monitored before, during and after exercise. Patients also perform five to 10 minutes of stretching before and after each class."

Wright said she has noted amazing progress with some of the patients. "We test them when they join the program, to determine their physical capabilities. When we retest them later, many find that their cardiac and physical endurance has greatly increased."

Garris said he has benefited from the program and will continue to exercise. "The program eliminates the fear of trying to exercise. It encourages you to do it without worry."

Richard T. Frank of Dexter said, "I feel better and am getting exercise I wouldn't normally get."

Clinton resident Ethel LaRoe has had bypass surgery and a successful angioplasty. "I have lost some weight, discovered I have more energy and feel less depression," she credited the Cardiac Rehabilitation staff with doing an excellent job.

Wright indicated the primary goal of the program is to reduce the factors that lead to coronary disease. "We see people get involved who have been out of shape for years. After a short period of time, they begin to change their lifestyles because of this program."

The patients seem to derive psychological as well as physical benefits from the program. "There is a real camaraderie in the group. They share fears and similar experiences, and know they are working to improve their cardiac health. They really seem to enjoy the time they spend together," she said.

"It's rewarding to see them regain confidence about their physical abilities, along with the strength and endurance needed to live normal lives," Wright said.

In addition to the exercise, beginning in October a weekly evening lecture series will be offered for program participants. Subjects to be discussed will include: cardiac anatomy and physiology; risk factor modification; exercise physiology; nutrition and weight control; stress identification and management; and practical aspects of exercise. A question and answer session with a cardiac rehabilitation program physician will also be a regular feature.

Wright added that people interested in changing to healthier lifestyles have several choices. "We offer workshops on a variety of subjects including: stress reduction, nutrition and weight control, Smoke Stoppers and Be Trim," she said.

Physicians or cardiac patients who are interested in the program should contact Mary Beth Wright at 572-3094.

Playground First Aid Class Slated Tuesday

A first aid class focusing on injuries incurred by school children will be held at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea on Tuesday, Oct. 23.

This session is specifically designed to discuss the various types of injuries young children commonly incur.

The presentation will cover head injuries, broken bones, sprains and twists. Other more common everyday injuries such as bloody noses, scrapes, bumps and bruises will also be discussed. A question and answer period will follow at the end.

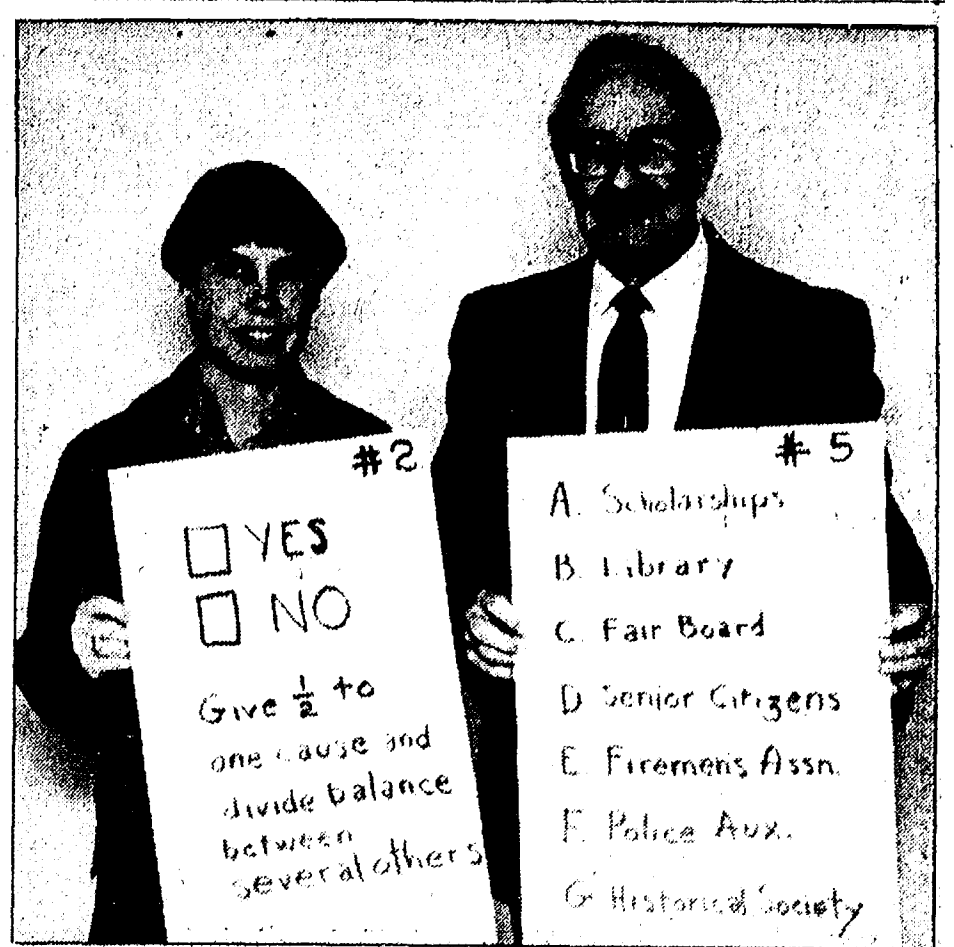

This session will be taught by Dr. Mike Klinkman, a family physician at the Family Practice Center. Dr. Klinkman stated that, "Often the person giving first aid in these situations is worried about doing something "wrong;" this makes it harder to remember some basic "right" things to do." Dr. Klinkman will talk about the basic things to do, and explain some things that might mean more serious problems and should be referred to a doctor. All the information is aimed at taking some of the "worry" out of first aid.

Dr. Klinkman has designed this session to be especially useful for playground supervisors, teachers, daycare workers, babysitters and parents. This session will be held in the classroom at the Family Practice Center, 775 S. Main St., in Chelsea from 7 to 9 p.m.

Pre-registration is requested. There is a $2 fee payable at the door. Call 784-8010 to register for the class.

Your Health Options

By Beverly Chethik

Director of Health Education, Washtenaw County Health Dept.

I have two questions about smoking. Is a pipe a safe substitute for cigarettes? And what about low-tar cigarettes?

The only way to protect yourself from cigarette or pipe smoke is to inhale less of it. That means smoking as few cigarettes as possible, smoking the lowest yield cigarettes you find acceptable, taking fewer puffs, leaving longer butts, and not holding the cigarette in your mouth between puffs.

Specifically, research suggests that low-tar cigarettes don't offer any health advantages. While low-tar cigarettes are designed to deliver less smoke per puff—and therefore should be less dangerous than standard or filter cigarettes—it seems that smokers who switch tend to make up for the low smoke delivery by smoking more cigarettes, taking more puffs from each one and inhaling more deeply. And some smokers may unknowingly block the perforations in the filter that are supposed to reduce the tar.

Pipe smoking may be safer in terms of lung disease if you don't inhale. For pipe smokers who do inhale, however, the message is not so good. Pipe tobacco smoke is even more irritating to the lungs than cigarette smoke. In addition, pipe smokers and others who use tobacco that isn't inhaled (such as snuff) are at higher risk for mouth and throat problems—and that includes cancer—than are cigarette smokers.

YOUR HEALTH OPTIONS appears monthly in this paper. If you have a health related question, please write to the Washtenaw County Health Department, Health Education Office, P.O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor, 48107.

50 Millionth Vehicle Crosses 'Big Mac'

Mike McKillop of Gaylord is now in the record books at the Mackinac Bridge.

McKillop was the driver of the 50 millionth vehicle to cross the five-mile-long bridge since it opened to traffic on Nov. 1, 1957. He arrived at a fare booth on the north side of the bridge at 10:12 p.m. on Sept. 25.

Waiting to greet him was Walter North, executive secretary and comptroller of the Mackinac Bridge Authority. McKillop was given a night's lodging and a dinner for two in St. Ignace, courtesy of the St. Ignace Tourist Association, and the same in Mackinaw City, courtesy of the Mackinaw Area Tourist Bureau.

McKillop, who is employed on Mackinac Island, said he was among the many hundreds of drivers who crossed the bridge on its opening day nearly 27 years ago.

Sylvan Hall

(Continued from page nine) needed to operate it. The wind used to blow through it and I mean through it," said Carruthers.

The hall features a fresh indoor paint job in two light shades of brown. Alice Bergman, a painter and decorator from Chelsea, painted the interior. Beatrice Pearsall, the wife of the township treasurer, chose the new colors.

"It was a terrible, terrible deep brown and kind of yellow," said Pearsall.

Card of Thanks 17

TO OUR FRIENDS

Thank you for your thoughts and prayers in our sorrow, the loss of our grandson. Andrew was very special and we were proud to be his grandparents. He gave us 17 years of joyful memories. Megan, our granddaughter, is doubly precious to us now. Your cards, your flowers, your friendship and sympathy and your memorial gifts to Andrew's camp fund softens our grief. Thank you. Lewis and Cecile Bernath.

Memoriam 18

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our father, Donald R. Walz who passed away 10 years ago, October 15. A beautiful star shines over the ashes of the one we loved, but could not save. Without farewell he fell asleep and left only memories for us to keep. Tylen and Diane.

Final Planting Date Near for Insured Crop

Oct. 31 is the final planting date for insured wheat in Michigan, according to Barbara Cranson, district representative for the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC).

Insured acreage planted by Oct. 31 must be reported by Nov. 15 in order to receive full crop insurance coverage. The acreage report reflects the actual acreage planted and reported by the farmer.

In order to provide some flexibility on planting dates, a late planting option may be exercised by the farmers who find themselves unable to plant their crops on time because of adverse weather. The late planting option provides insurance coverage for the late planted crop, but at a lower guarantee.

For insured farmers, "entering into the late planting option is not automatic," Cranson said. "Farmers wishing to use the late planting option must sign an agreement prior to the final planting date in order to have coverage under the late planting option."

Farmers wishing to discuss subsidized, tax deductible crop insurance should contact their local crop insurance agent.

THESE TWO PATIENTS look pleasantly relaxed as fellow students measure their blood pressure and heart beats. The health careers class will take blood pressure readings and demonstrate health equipment at the Chelsea High school open house on Oct. 22. Working on pa-

1985 Wheat Program Signup Starts Oct. 15

Starting Oct. 15 farmers can sign up for the 1985 wheat acreage reduction program.

Lori Ruhlig, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said farmers who participate in the program will be eligible for target price protection at $4.38 per bushel, price support loans at $3.30 per bushel and land diversion payments at $2.70 per bushel.

U. S. wheat production is forecast at 2.53 billion bushels for this year, 100 million bushels above last year. In an effort to reduce planted acreage, production and total supplies to a level more in line with demand, Ruhlig said the 1985 program contains a combined 20 percent acreage reduction requirement and a 10 percent paid land diversion, with 50 percent of the payment available at signup.

The program requires farmers to limit their 1985 wheat planted acreage to no more than 70 percent of their wheat base. Participants must also devote to an acreage conservation reserve

(ACR) cropland equal to the sum of 28.57 percent of the farm's 1985 planted wheat acreage and 10 percent of the farm's wheat base. "As in previous programs, land designated for the ACR must have been devoted to a row crop or small grains in two of the last three years, except for a summer fallow farm," the ASCS official said. Under summer fallow rules, the land must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in one of the last two crop years.

Haying will not be permitted on ACR land. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the designated five principal growing months. In the event of a natural disaster, the program contains a standby measure authorizing implementation of emergency haying and grazing privileges. Offsetting and cross compliance will not apply to the 1985 wheat program.

For additional program details, farmers may contact the Washtenaw-Wayne County ASCS Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103, phone 662-3900, between 7:55 a.m. and 4:25 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Chelsea High's varsity debate finished fourth among 14 teams entered in a tournament at Dearborn Edsel Ford High school last Saturday.

Debating from the negative side were Laura Goderis and Susan Overdorf. The latter was also judged third best speaker in the meet.

"It was a very good showing for us," debate coach Brian Kruger said, "our best finish at Edsel Ford in three years. The two teams that beat us came from Class A schools."

Also participating in the tournament were novice debaters Angie Alvarez, Angela Brand, Michael Goodwin, Heather Grenier, Tracy Guard, Steve Whitesall and Shawn Quilter.

Beach Eighth Grade Tours Hospital

Beach Middle school's entire eighth grade will tour Chelsea Community Hospital on Oct. 15, Oct. 18 and Nov. 5.

Volunteers from the hospital will guide the science classes of Nola Borders and Alice Steinbach through hospital departments. Students will see a slide presentation on the history and philosophy of the hospital.

"The focus is to learn more about career education in a medical facility. Another objective is to learn about services available in the community and to learn a little more on the new technologies in medicine and the reasons for rising costs of medical care," said Steinbach.

Tours vary depending on what departments are available. Sometimes, hospital personnel will perform an EKG on a student or take students into a patient's room and demonstrate equipment and procedures.

"The schools really appreciate the great co-operation of the hospital in arranging the trips and the volunteer time put in the trips through Jan Tupper who heads volunteer services," said Steinbach.

Lost or Stolen Wallets Often Returned in Mail

If your wallet or purse has been lost or stolen, there's a chance it will be recovered and returned through the U. S. Mail.

Postmaster Gene Gole said post offices frequently find billfolds and handbags in street collection boxes.

Most of the wallets and purses that wind up at centralized "dead letter" offices, where post offices send them, have been stolen and arrive without cash, but many do contain driver's licenses and other items.

"A few apparently were lost by the owners," Postmaster Cole said, "and the finders dropped them in the nearest collection box, complete with money, credit cards, and other contents."

Postal dead letter offices check all wallets and purses received, and mail those that can be identified to the owners, postage due.

"If they contain more than $10 in cash, the wallet or purse is returned by registered mail," Postmaster Cole said.

Those that cannot be identified are held for 30 days in the event they are claimed by their owners. There is no charge if the owner picks up the purse or wallet at the dead letter office.

CHS Symphony Band Plans Concert Tour

Chelsea High school's symphony band is planning a spring concert tour that will include performances for high schools and colleges in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Washington, D.C.

If approved by the Chelsea Board of Education, the tour would begin after-school, Tuesday, April 16, 1985 and return Sunday, April 21. The dates were chosen based on the band's expected performance level and opportunities available for educational tours.

The tour would enable students to share their performance abilities with other audiences.

"This enhances their self-esteem and motivates students to search deep within themselves to be the best they can be. The experiences derived through preparation and administering the tour will also benefit the students," said band leader William Gourley.

The tour will also include sight-seeing and taking in a possible concert or play in Washington, D.C.

The tour can be financed in two ways. Chelsea Music Boosters would sponsor a fund-raising benefit to defray transportation costs. Students would pay remaining costs, which could be defrayed through cheese and sausage sales. Work scholarships are also available. Expected cost per student after transportation is $125-$150, according to Gourley. Students would travel on chartered buses and stay in gymnasiums, and possibly homes or hotels.
