Village Treasurer Appointment Goes To William Storey

William E. Storey of 216 Jefferson St., a retired Michigan Bell Telephone Co. employee, has been appointed Chelsea village treasurer to succeed Mary M. Harris who resigned Sept. 6.

The appointment was approved unanimously by the village board of trustees at their Oct. 16 meeting. "I haven't received any official notice but I'll take your word for it that I have been appointed," Storey told a Standard reporter. "I agreed to take the job, and will as soon as somebody tells me that I'm supposed to start."

The position pays $200 a month and is elective. Storey will serve as an appointee until the March, 1985, village election. He would have to run in that election to keep the position.

"I honestly can't tell you whether I will be a candidate in March," Storey said. "I'll see how things go during these next months, and then make up my mind whether I want the job for another two years. "I see the treasurer as being responsible for collecting and accounting for money, and that's it. It's something that has to be done, and I have agreed to do it on a trial basis."

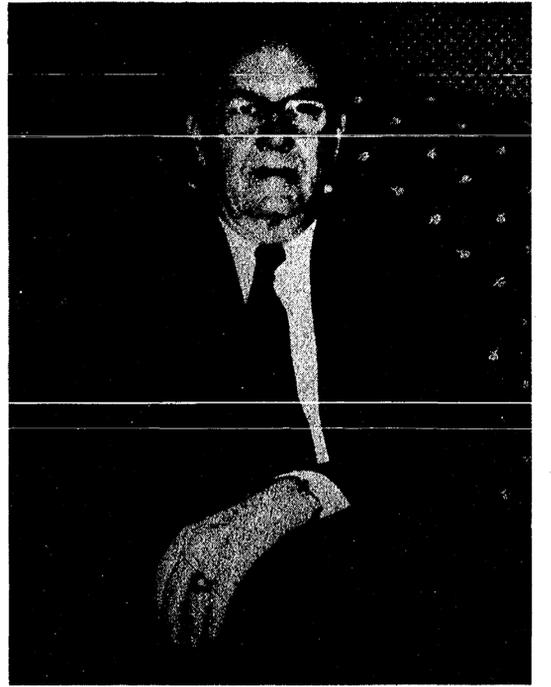

Storey, 61, retired from Michigan Bell two years ago. He is presently a partner in an Ann Arbor consulting firm, Prieskorn and Storey, which specializes in data communication.

He has previously served as Chelsea's civil defense director, a member of the village board of trustees, and a member and president of the board of education.

He was a charter member of the Chelsea Jaycees and has been active in the Chelsea Methodist church for 25 years. He is a graduate of Michigan State University and a retired major in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Storey and his wife Jean have three children—Sarah White of Tecumseh, James Storey, a Marine Corps captain in Quantico, Va., and John Storey of Mesa, Ariz.

"We came to Chelsea in 1950 and have found it a great place to live," Storey said. "I feel I owe the community something, even though I've never worked here. I will respond positively to the appointment as treasurer. I don't have any axes to grind. I believe I'm qualified for the position, and I'll try it out."

Chelsea Choir Dept. Plans Concert Oct. 25

Chelsea Choir Department will hold a combined concert on Thursday, Oct. 25, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The concert will feature the Beach school choir, Chelsea High school choir, and small ensemble groups, Contemporaries and Madri-Guys.

The Beach choir was originally scheduled to hold a concert at Beach on Nov. 1. Since the choir is only meeting first semester, the Oct. 25th concert will be their only performance in an all-choir department concert.

Because of the Beach choir's small size, it will perform a short musical for the elementary schools this year.

On Oct. 25, the Beach choir will perform: "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" with artwork by Trevor Harding and Andy Maynard, "Fifty Nifty United States," and "Voice from a Dream."

Chelsea High school's choir will sing "Sanctus," "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel," "Beautiful World," "Take Time for Love," and "Selections from Oliver."

The combined choirs will perform the Chelsea Alma Mater and "Today." Vocal music director, June Warren, will conduct both choirs in this production.

This year's Contemporaries are Cathy Basso, Marie Bullock, Kelly Burke, Jeanne Castillo, Carrie Collinsworth, Becky Finch, Lori Jedele, Becca Lee, Karen Moore, Dawn Olson, Carol Palmer, Dede Petsch, Lisa Smith, Phoebe Strong and Amy Wolter.

Contemporaries will perform "Rainbow Connection," "Hush-a-Bye," "Fantasy," and "Theme From Mahogany."

The Madri-Guys are Tom Carlson, Dale Cole, Bobby Gimney, Chris Herter, Mark Henson, Tucker Lee, Phil Shures and Norman Weber. They will perform "Dry Bones," "Shenandoah," and "Toot Toot Tootsie."

Sheri Lawton will be accompanist. (Continued on page six)

Zoning Variance Hearing Scheduled

A public hearing has been set for Tuesday, Nov. 6, on an application by Craig and Linda Sayers of 316 McKinley St. for a zoning variance on their property.

The Sayers propose to enlarge an existing garage and, in so doing, would encroach by a foot on property line restrictions.

Contract Awarded To Complete Work At Industrial Park

E. W. Garlick Construction Co. of Ann Arbor has been awarded an additional $170,409 contract to complete development of streets and utilities in Chelsea's industrial park.

Garlick was the low bidder at $465,000 on an initial contract to do about 75 percent of the work required under so-called "Phase I."

"They have done an excellent job out there," village administrator Frederick Weber told the Chelsea village board. "They have worked hard and well, and I think they deserve the opportunity to finish what they started."

Weber said the Phase II contract of $170,000-plus will be "substantially complete" development of the industrial park. Most of the work will be done this fall, but some asphalt street paving will have to wait until spring because of the weather.

Meanwhile, BookCrafter's, which is constructing a fulfillment house as the first business in the industrial park, plans to have the facility operating by the first of the year, a bit behind schedule but not by much.

"I think it's safe to say we'll be in there by Jan. 1, and I hope it will be a month or so earlier than that," said Charles Presley of BookCrafter's.

"Construction of the building is on schedule, and all we will need is a paved road leading to it. We plan to pave the parking lot during the next few weeks. The village has assured that the road will be completed, so it looks like we are all set."

(The paving that will be deferred until spring does not involve the BookCrafter's building.)

The fulfillment house, a 150 by 200 foot structure measuring 30,000 square feet, is being built of prefabricated sheet metal over a steel framework.

About 30 persons will be employed initially in the book storage-fulfillment operation, which is a new venture for BookCrafter's. Long-range plans call for quadrupling the facility to 120,000 square feet, but no timetable for expansion has been set.

One of the organizations, partly funded by Chelsea United Way is the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross. This year, the Red Cross will ask for an allocation of $8,884, said Julie Prohaska. Last year, the Red Cross received $8,200 from United Way.

The Washtenaw county chapter operates on a total budget of $487,016. Their proposed budget for next year is $588,731.

In general, the Red Cross mission is "to improve the quality of human life; to enhance self-reliance and concern for others; and to help people avoid, prepare for, and cope with emergencies."

"We're beginning the coupons so that anyone who has been missed can make a donation. It's to help us meet the rest of the goals," said Tanner.

The latest phase of the campaign are the coupons run in this issue of The Standard.

"We're beginning the coupons so that anyone who has been missed can make a donation. It's to help us meet the rest of the goals," said Tanner.

In Chelsea, the Washtenaw county chapter has provided safety and blood services and service to military families and veterans.

Chelsea Community Hospital used 1,094 units of Red Cross blood and blood components. Volunteer instructors conducted 54 classes in Chelsea in First Aid, CPR, life saving and swimming. 804 Chelsea residents were certified in these courses. In 1983, volunteers only conducted 32 classes, certifying 265 people.

An additional 183 residents were certified in other classes. That figure has increased from last year's 79.

Forty-eight military families were assisted in Chelsea and nine emergency communications made. Last year, 37 families were helped. Two families were helped with food, clothing and lodging because of family house fires. Ten Chelsea families received financial assistance in the Heat Bank program.

Examples of aid to military families are a Chelsea brother and sister in the Navy who were

Orchestras Plan Fall Concert

Chelsea High School Orchestra and the Beach Middle School Orchestras will open their concert season with a performance Tuesday, Oct. 30 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The concert will feature the string sections in works by the Baroque period composers Bach and Corelli. The "Christmas" Concerto No. 8 by Arcangelo Corelli is scored for three soloists with string orchestra accompaniment.

Soloists will be Dena Stevens and Marcie Kyte, violinists, and Kathy Jorgensen, cellist.

Each orchestra will play music from Bach's Brandenburg Concerti; the high school playing the third movement of Brandenburg No. 3, and the middle school playing the first movement of No. 5.

More modern pieces to be performed include Modest Moussorgsky's "Hopak from The Fair at Sorochinsk," and Jacques Offenbach's "Can-Can from Orpheus." The program will end with the combined groups playing "Festival of Fiddlers" and "Walking Basses."

A dessert reception, furnished by the orchestra parents, will follow the concert.

Chief Criticizes Sign Placement

Village police chief Lenard McDougall likes the idea behind the new system of turns on M-52 (Main St.) through Chelsea but is unhappy with the sign placement.

"I don't understand why they didn't put the signs up where drivers can see them," McDougall said, "and that means right underneath the traffic lights at Middle and Park Sts."

"Anybody unfamiliar with the village who is driving through town on M-52 ought to be looking at those signal lights, and not

Kiwanis Club Plans Parade For Halloween

Children of Chelsea will have the opportunity to display their Halloween costumes in a parade during the Chelsea Kiwanis Club's annual children's Halloween party.

The party begins with the judging of costumes from 6 to 6:30 p.m. in the municipal parking lot. First-, second- and third-place prizes will be awarded for the best, scariest, funniest, and most original costumes.

glancing around to try to see turn signs stuck out to the side.

"Actually, if they see those signs, they probably are doing a poor job of driving."

The signs prohibit left turn off Main St. in either direction at both Middle and Parks Sts. between 3 and 6 p.m.

Taken down were previous signs which prohibited right turns on red lights. Such turns are now legal at all times when traffic is clear.

Signing on Main St. is the responsibility of the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation, because it is a state route. Local authorities have no say about where the signs are put.

"I think the idea to try to move traffic faster along Main St. is a good one," McDougall said, "and I'm all for it, but I sure don't like the way they've gone about doing it."

"I guarantee you, five out of every six drivers we (village police) stop for making an illegal left turn will tell us that they didn't see the sign, and they'll almost all be honestly correct. That gives us a very difficult enforcement problem. How can you arrest somebody for failing to see a sign placed in a position where he shouldn't have seen it if he was looking where he was supposed to be?"

"Those signs belong right up there under the lights where drivers will see them if they are paying attention. (Continued on page six)

CHANGING SIGNS: The signs controlling turns at the Middle and Park St. intersections with Main St. are being shuffled by the state Department of Highways and Transportation in an effort to speed up the flow of M-52 traffic through town. Left turns will be prohibited between 3 and 6 p.m. Right turns on red will be allowed at all times provided traffic is clear.

Chelsea United Way Reaches 51% of Campaign Goal

Chelsea United Way has reached 51% of its $65,000 goal.

Commercial establishments have pledged 50% of a $15,000 goal. In the industrial segment of the campaign, Chrysler and BookCrafter's have met or exceeded their goals, said Scott Tanner, campaign chairman. Dana Corp., Chelsea Milling Co., and Federal Screw Works will be contacted this week.

The latest phase of the campaign are the coupons run in this issue of The Standard.

Thursday, Oct. 30, 1980—The Chelsea boys cross country team placed third from a field of 21 teams at the Napoleon Regional last Saturday, Oct. 24, to qualify as a team for the Class B State Meet to be held at Oxford this Saturday.

Following nearly a week of cold, wet blustery days and nights, Mother Nature finally gave us a taste of winter early Monday evening. Beginning as sparse snow flurries dancing toward the leaf-covered ground, within a couple of hours the area was being bombarded with large white flakes. By 11 p.m. or so, the chilling white stuff covered the grounds and made the highways slick.

The October meeting of the Chelsea Athletic Boosters was an overwhelming success as more than 50 parents and friends of the athletic program were in attendance.

Elected to the Board of Directors were Tom Dault, Sherry Drew, Arlene Grau, Lloyd Keezer, Dan Murphy, Kay Poljan, Pat Roberts, Carol Slater, Art Steinaway, Mike Sweet and Ted Wilson.

Thursday, Oct. 29, 1950—On the other hand, Clem went on, this country is helped, not hurt by the different ways we speak the same language. He had seen where some consulting firm is offering instruction in losing accents. The idea is that people doing business today don't want other people paying more attention to how they talk than to what they say. So the plan is for everybody to sound like Walter Clon-dike. This, declared Clem, is an idea whose time ain't come. It's worse than the one that got started in Pittsburgh to teach English slang instead of plain English to foreign students in our colleges so they can talk to our slang-speaking students.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers got talking about art during the session at the country store Saturday night, and they got right fanatic on the subject. That is to say, they jumped in their saddles and rode off in all directions.

It was Ed Doolittle that came with a report where a Lost Angeles artist had made a sculpture of 50 steel I beams set at all angles in three feet of concrete on a five foot base of sand in a park in Lewiston, N. Y. He sculpted the piece by dropping the beams 100 feet into the concrete. When a reporter ask about his $20,000 work of art, the feller said he wanted somepun that was not made "in a planned way," that he wanted "to let chancet into the art."

Ed said he don't know nothing about art and he gits that mixed up, but this was the first time he had heard of letting art fall where it will. Even artists that float colored sheets around islands and bury Cadillac nose first up to their middles along the highway put some planning in their creations, was Ed's words.

Bug Hookum said he had no trouble with beam drop sculpture. Actual, Bug said, it says a lot to him. A heap of what passes for important work in this country is left to chancet, Bug allowed, and maybe that's what the artist was telling us. Farthermore, chancet does as good a job as planning in more cases than we realize.

Per instant, Bug went on, we are gitting a lesson in language from all the names we are giving what we call convenience stores that are popping up everywhere. By chancet, he said, the 7-Eleven folks started a move that can help us communicate better. We got store names like "Quik Shop," "Kash 'n Karry," "Pak 'n Sak," and he had heard of a chain in West Virginia called "Poke 'n Tote," which Bug said he took to mean customers could put stuff they buy in a bag and carry it out of the place.

General speaking, declared Clem Webster, sometimes it's best to let chancet in and sometimes it ain't. Fer instant, he said, Indiana did exactly the right thing last year when it passed a law making English the state's official language. Virginia has done this, Clem said, and ever state ought to. There was a move in Congress to adopt a amendment naming English as the country's official language, but politics being what they are, it has been buried this election year. But we can't leave this crazy bilingual business to chancet, Clem said, because nothing could do more damage quicker.

Meanwhile, the report found insurers were paying higher percentages of their premiums in benefits: to 79 percent in 1983 compared to 55 percent in 1982. Baerwaldt said most insurers could operate at a profit even if loss ratios were as much as 80-90 percent.

"The reforms which the Legislature passed have worked better than they must have imagined," she declared. She added the amount which costs can continue to cut in large part "depends on the consumer. If they don't shop around, they probably won't fall much more. But if they aggressively shop, we will see rates fall."

The report found that there are wide variations in the rates charged by insurers and that some businesses could reduce costs by as much as 40 percent by changing insurers.

Baerwaldt said that indicates the rates of some insurers are still too high and, while some rates may be offset by credits, those can be discriminatory.

She said in 1984, insurers should be studied by individual types of risk.

The report further found that other defects in competition include the concentration of policies written by the largest insurers increased in 1983, too many businesses remain in the Placement Facility which provides coverage for businesses not wanted by insurers (it has been reduced by 30 percent with the businesses in the facility being the tiny ones with two-three employees), many insurers use dividend plans as a marketing device and the legal challenges to the 17 percent rate cut by the Accident Fund indicates some insurers do not want open competition.

More Federal Money Released For Highway Expenditures
Governor James Blanchard has announced the Federal Highway Administration has authorized the expenditure of an additional $9.3 million on state highway construction and improvements this year.

The funds released to Michigan will be spent primarily for I-94 reconstruction in the Kalamazoo area and reconstruction of the interchange of I-94 and M-39 (Southfield) freeway in Allen Park.

The governor said the additional funding raises to $28.6 million the added "obligations authority" given to Michigan by the federal agency since Aug. 1.

The funds were originally allocated to other states that were unable to obligate their share of federal funds for highway work prior to the end of the fiscal year 1983-84.

The money will contribute to a second straight year of contract awards totaling $400 million for improvements to state highways, major county roads and urban thoroughfares.

Workers' Comp Rates Cut By 43 Percent in Three Years
The cost of workers' compensation insurance to business has been cut by 43 percent since the system was reformed three years ago, insurance commissioner Nancy Baerwaldt reported recently.

The reforms, which require more competition in the insurance market, will probably mean costs will come down even more as long as companies aggressively shop for the lowest rates, Baerwaldt said.

She made her comments in releasing the first report on the State of Competition in the Insurance Industry, which determined reasonable competition did exist in 1983—the first full year of open competition—as is required by law.

About 40 percent of the state's business payroll is covered by insurance, with the rest of the businesses covered by self-insurance or group self-insurance plans.

Although final figures will not be available until after March when insurance companies file annual reports, Baerwaldt estimated businesses will pay $493 million in premiums in 1984, compared to $859 million in 1981.

Meanwhile, the report found insurers were paying higher percentages of their premiums in benefits: to 79 percent in 1983 compared to 55 percent in 1982. Baerwaldt said most insurers could operate at a profit even if loss ratios were as much as 80-90 percent.

About 40 percent of the state's business payroll is covered by insurance, with the rest of the businesses covered by self-insurance or group self-insurance plans.

Although final figures will not be available until after March when insurance companies file annual reports, Baerwaldt estimated businesses will pay $493 million in premiums in 1984, compared to $859 million in 1981.

Meanwhile, the report found insurers were paying higher percentages of their premiums in benefits: to 79 percent in 1983 compared to 55 percent in 1982. Baerwaldt said most insurers could operate at a profit even if loss ratios were as much as 80-90 percent.

"The reforms which the Legislature passed have worked better than they must have imagined," she declared. She added the amount which costs can continue to cut in large part "depends on the consumer. If they don't shop around, they probably won't fall much more. But if they aggressively shop, we will see rates fall."

The report found that there are wide variations in the rates charged by insurers and that some businesses could reduce costs by as much as 40 percent by changing insurers.

Baerwaldt said that indicates the rates of some insurers are still too high and, while some rates may be offset by credits, those can be discriminatory.

She said in 1984, insurers should be studied by individual types of risk.

The report further found that other defects in competition include the concentration of policies written by the largest insurers increased in 1983, too many businesses remain in the Placement Facility which provides coverage for businesses not wanted by insurers (it has been reduced by 30 percent with the businesses in the facility being the tiny ones with two-three employees), many insurers use dividend plans as a marketing device and the legal challenges to the 17 percent rate cut by the Accident Fund indicates some insurers do not want open competition.

More Federal Money Released For Highway Expenditures
Governor James Blanchard has announced the Federal Highway Administration has authorized the expenditure of an additional $9.3 million on state highway construction and improvements this year.

The funds released to Michigan will be spent primarily for I-94 reconstruction in the Kalamazoo area and reconstruction of the interchange of I-94 and M-39 (Southfield) freeway in Allen Park.

The governor said the additional funding raises to $28.6 million the added "obligations authority" given to Michigan by the federal agency since Aug. 1.

The funds were originally allocated to other states that were unable to obligate their share of federal funds for highway work prior to the end of the fiscal year 1983-84.

The money will contribute to a second straight year of contract awards totaling $400 million for improvements to state highways, major county roads and urban thoroughfares.

Workers' Comp Rates Cut By 43 Percent in Three Years
The cost of workers' compensation insurance to business has been cut by 43 percent since the system was reformed three years ago, insurance commissioner Nancy Baerwaldt reported recently.

The reforms, which require more competition in the insurance market, will probably mean costs will come down even more as long as companies aggressively shop for the lowest rates, Baerwaldt said.

She made her comments in releasing the first report on the State of Competition in the Insurance Industry, which determined reasonable competition did exist in 1983—the first full year of open competition—as is required by law.

About 40 percent of the state's business payroll is covered by insurance, with the rest of the businesses covered by self-insurance or group self-insurance plans.

Although final figures will not be available until after March when insurance companies file annual reports, Baerwaldt estimated businesses will pay $493 million in premiums in 1984, compared to $859 million in 1981.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lee Landwehr

Annette Houle, Ronald Landwehr Wed at St. Mary's

Two hundred guests witnessed the marriage vows of Annette Mae Houle and Ronald Lee Landwehr at St. Mary's Catholic church on Saturday, Oct. 6.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Houle of 116 McKinley St. Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane H. Landwehr of 18000 Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

The Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis and Deacon Richard Cesarz performed the 2 p.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a tea-length gown of ivory antique lace over a straight silk dress. The lace dress was a 1920's style with drop waist and sash and bow to the side and a matching hat. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of salmon roses and ivory carnations with trailing English ivy.

Renee Houle of Ann Arbor, the bride's sister and maid of honor, wore a royal blue chiffon dress also in the 1920's style. The tea-length dress had a drop waist with long white pearls. In her hair she wore one blue feather and royal silk ribbon on the side. Her bouquet consisted of a large white orchid surrounded by English ivy.

Bridesmaids were Sue Skittenhelm-Callaway of Ann Arbor, and Patrice Knickerbocker-Seymour of San Francisco, Calif. Their dresses and pearls matched the maid of honor's.

The bride's mother chose a straight, knee-length, burgundy silk dress with pleated shoulders. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece, royal blue, knee-length chiffon dress with a pleated neckline draping down the side.

McKenna Houle, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Ryan Koch was ring-bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bulson were gift-bearers during the ceremony.

Kurt Winans of Bath, Me., acted as best man. The bridegroom's brothers, Dennis Landwehr and Mike Landwehr of Grass Lake, were ushers.

Besides her duties as bridesmaid, Seymour acted as vocalist for the ceremony. She sang "Longer Than," "Just You and I," and "Endless Love."

A reception followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter, Marie Houle, cousin of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

The bride graduated from Chelsea High school in 1976. She works for M. David Lowe Employment Agency, in Houston, Tex. The bridegroom graduated from Chelsea High school in 1972 and is a builder in Houston.

The couple is making their home in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick Heimerdinger

Lucy Frances Bott, William Heimerdinger Exchange Vows

Lucy Frances Bott and William Frederick Heimerdinger were married Sept. 8 at the Zion Lutheran church in Ann Arbor.

Pastor Charles Akre of Zion Lutheran and Deacon Richard Cesarz of St. Mary's Catholic church of Chelsea performed the ceremony.

A reception at the Dexter Knights of Columbus Hall was attended by 200 relatives and friends. The wedding and groom's cakes were decorated by Marijo Bott of Brea, Calif., sister of the bride. The cake cut and served by Cheryl Fischer of Whitmore Lake.

The couple traveled to the Canadian Niagara Falls for their wedding trip.

The bride is the daughter of Norman and Therese Bott of Boyce Rd. She graduated from Chelsea High school in 1979 and works at the University of Michigan in the Financial Operations department.

The bridegroom works at William's Sewer Service. He graduated from Pioneer High school in 1970. His parents are Cora Lee and the late Andrew Heimerdinger.

The bride wore a winter white gown trimmed with alencon lace at the throat, hands and hem. Her chapel-length veil was made of winter white illusion trimmed with lace and a ribbon of handmade lace made by the mother of the bride. She carried a bouquet of off-white and coral silk roses with an ivy cascade which she had made.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Steven (Shelley) Robbins, wore a coral blouse with round neckline and long sleeves, and a plain rust-colored floor-length skirt. Attendants carried brass candle holders decorated with a single burnt orange rose and featuring off-white and rust ribbon cascade, also made by the bride.

Bridesmaids wore costumes similar to that of the matron of honor. They were Becky Armstrong of Chesapeake, Va., and the bride's sisters, Marijo Bott, Mrs. David (Beverly) Cox of Jackson, and Mrs. Max (Jennie) Steffen of Pleasant Lake.

Dawn Sinclair of Ann Arbor assisted the bride. Janet Klakulak of Pinckney pinned on the flowers.

The bride's mother wore a steel blue street-length dress. The bridegroom's mother's dress was light blue.

Best man was Steven Robbins of Main St. Ushers were Robert Fischer, Jr., of Whitmore Lake; James Sinclair of Ann Arbor, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, John Klakulak of Pinckney; and the bride's brother, Steven Bott of Boyce Rd.

The Heimerdingers are making their home at 250 Wilkinson St., Apt. 215.

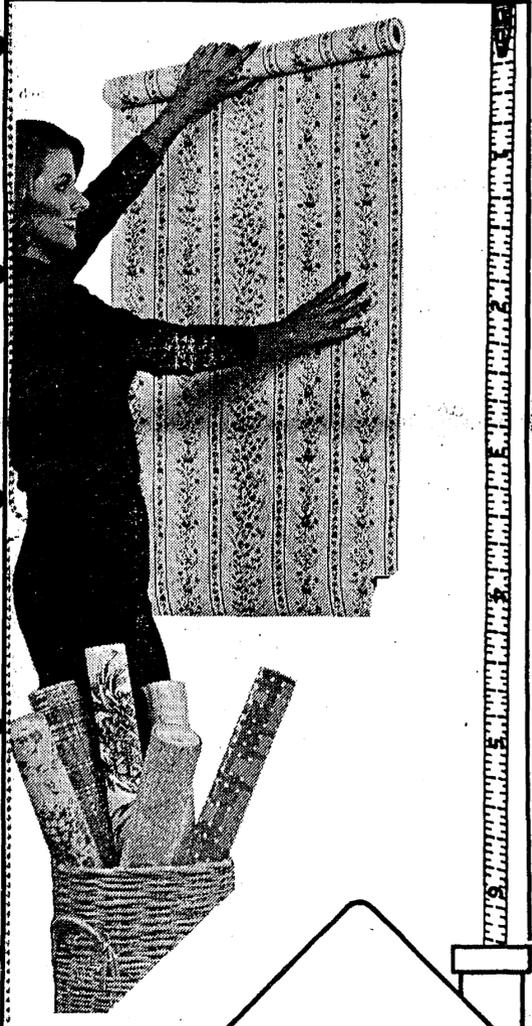

DONALD AND BEULAH HARRIS will celebrate their 25th anniversary. They were married Oct. 24, 1959, in the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Grace Leach of Sugar Loaf Lake. They have resided at Sugar Loaf Lake for the past 19 years. The couple have four children and one granddaughter who will help them celebrate their anniversary with a small party.

THE RED SCHOOLHOUSE looked like this when it was on the corner of Manchester-Chelsea and Pritchard Rds., before it was moved to the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds in 1953.

Many Red School Alumni Attend Sunday Reunion

The school they had attended gave its last classes in 1948. The building was demolished around 1968. But Red school students still turned out to celebrate a reunion on Oct. 21 at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor.

Red school, District No. 7, in Sylvan township was organized June 14, 1834 by Jonas Twitchell, Amos Davis, Ira M. Spaulding, John M. Cummings and William BeGole who comprised the first school board.

The first school was a log cabin built for $31.00. Harriett Wines became the first teacher. She was paid $10.00 for the summer term. A man, Amos Bell, was hired to teach the winter term at $35 because most of the older boys attended school in winter when there wasn't so much to occupy their time. Bell got a raise his second year to $37.50.

"It seems some of the older boys did not appreciate the opportunity education had to offer so they tore the school down. They were required to make restitution for their misconduct and the second school was erected for $112.50 in 1843," said Monica Merkel Gauthier, an alumna.

School trustees decided at this time to paint the school house red with white trim. This color was to remain for the next 130 years, giving the school its name.

The school had to be rebuilt one other time as it burned down. The building was replaced by the school which the students from the reunion attended on Manchester-Chelsea Rd. at the Chrysler Proving Grounds entrance.

The last classes were held in the spring of 1948 after which time the school was purchased from Chrysler for $1.00 and moved to the Chelsea Fairgrounds. It was used another 25 years before being demolished to make way for progress in July, 1973.

Attending the reunion were 35 students and three former teachers. Mrs. Arthur (Leone

Egan) Weber of Ann Arbor taught 1928-30. Mrs. George (Ruth) Atkinson of Chelsea stayed from 1932-37 and Mrs. Walter (Ruth) Zeeb, Sr., of Chelsea taught 1947-48.

Students came from as far as Washington state and Florida to join the reunion.

Other Michigan residents are Roslyn Reule Freed of Plymouth,

Lelia Heselschwerdt Ehnis of Clinton, Veronica Jurecki Kastl of Manchester, Ray McHenry of Parma, Tom Merkel and Joe Merkel, Jr., of Owosso, Marie Heselschwerdt McVay of Tipton, Josephine McHenry Reinholdt and Melvin Sweatland of Jackson; Armilla Wolff Reule, Herbert Sager, Arthur Weber, Herman Weber, and Doris Weber Calcut, all of Ann Arbor; Dale Sweatland of Grass Lake, Dorothy Haselswerdt Stimpson of Saline, and Theodore Weber of Ypsilanti.

Former students who came from out of state are Reinholt Weber of Ritzville, Wash., Monica Merkel Gautier of Seattle, Wash., and Waldemar Grossman of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Monica Merkel Gautier and Helen Harrison were the committee for the reunion.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Bill Mullendore

I have to come down against Proposal C, the so-called Voters Choice amendment to the Michigan Constitution, and I do it with decidedly mixed feelings.

I sympathize with those who want to put a brake on taxes and the profligate way that our elected officials spend our money—yours and mine. You have to wonder if the people put in office ever had to work for a dollar. The fact is that most of them never did, and that may be the root of the problem.

Those who voted for Ronald Reagan for president back in 1980 certainly didn't anticipate—or even dream—that he would become the biggest spender in American history. He's piling up the national debt at the rate of half a billion dollars a day, and that takes me doing.

Compared to Reagan, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Lyndon Johnson were frugal misers.

Nor was it thinkable that William G. Milliken would leave office as Michigan's governor with the state somewhere between $600 million and a billion dollars in the red, despite a constitutional mandate for a balanced budget every year.

The sense I get is one of frustration, that somehow people who pay taxes should have a handle on what happens to their money. Most of us have been taught over the years that you have to live within your income, whatever it is, or suffer the consequences of bankruptcy or worse. Unfortunately, our public officials haven't learned that lesson.

Proposal C is the latest in a series of attempts to bring the big government spenders under some kind of taxpayer control at the state level. Unfortunately, people seem to have given up on the idea that the federal government can be reined in and called to account. Federal spending is wildly out of hand, as the national debt of more than a trillion dollars—that's $1,000,000,000,000 testifies.

The state's problem should have been taken care of when the Headlee amendment passed a few years back, but it wasn't. Public officials and the courts managed to gut its meaning and render it ineffective.

Next came the Tisch proposal, which was extreme and voted down. Proposal C is more extreme yet. It should be voted down because it just plain isn't workable, no matter how laudable its intent.

Proposal C would roll back all Michigan taxes—state and local—to rates levied at the end of 1981. That is a direct attack on Gov. Blanchard's move to increase the state income tax, subsequently approved by the Legislature, when he took office in 1982. The plain truth is that Blanchard had little choice. He inherited an unconstitutional deficit, and had to do something about it or face prosecution for dereliction of duty.

What makes Proposal C impossible to vote for, in my mind anyway, are its provisions to void any local tax increases enacted since 1981, and its prescription for a referendum or a four-fifths majority vote by the appropriate governing body for any "new or increased rate or base of local taxes" or "any new or increased license, user or permit fee."

That is a long and involved sentence, and it requires some explanation.

Rolling back taxes to 1981 would punish local governments, including school districts, which have generally been pretty thrifty. In particular, schools have had to get new millages approved by voters, and they shouldn't have to go out and do it all over again.

The four-fifths majority "rule" is unrealistic. Having been around legislative bodies for a lot of years, I can testify that it's not easy to get an 80 percent vote on a motion to approve the minutes of an adjournment, much less anything substantive.

The idea of trooping to the polls every time there is a need to raise the price of a dog tag, a hunting or fishing license, or any of the other hundreds of permits that government issues boggles the mind. The cost of holding elections would balloon out of sight.

Representative government just plain can't operate that way, with elected officials doing little more than acting as rubber-stamps to approve questions to be put on the ballot.

Still, there has to be a way to control the impulses of officials to spend money as if there were no tomorrow and to blithely ignore the fact that, someday, the piper has to be paid. Proposal C isn't it. Maybe somebody will come up with something sensible and workable another year. And, maybe while they are at it, a way may be found to get the federal government to start operating within its means.

SURPLUS FOODS: Walt Schrader, social service volunteer, Don Dancer, president of Chelsea Social Service, and Jackie Riethmiller, agency secretary, pause at tailgate of cheese and butter van.

SURPLUS CHEESE, BUTTER: Dozens of recipients formed a line to receive gifts of government surplus cheese and butter from Chelsea Social Service van.

Surplus Foods Distributed

With the assistance of Chelsea Social Services, a local United Way agency, more than 70 needy families in the Chelsea area are being supplied on a month-to-month basis with butter, cheese and other foods from the Federal Surplus Food Program.

The monthly distribution for October was made last Monday to recipients who came by appointment to a food van situated for their convenience in the municipal parking lot just east of Main St. Linda Ormsby, director, and Jackie Riethmiller, agency secretary, were in charge of the distribution and were assisted by other officials of CBS, including president Don Dancer.

Each family accredited by CSS receives a five-pound box of high quality American process cheese per month, plus one pound of butter per person per month. Other foods, all in top quality condition, are distributed as they become available. It is hoped, for example, that there will be a distribution of honey in November.

The supply chain for surplus food in this region of the state is centered at the Michigan Surplus Food Bank in Marshall. From there the food goes to the Huron Harvest Food Bank and thence to Chelsea.

School Buses Use Lights To Fight Fog

To avoid safety problems during a thick fog, Chelsea school buses are equipped with strobe lights. The lights, which cost about $100 per bus, were implemented three years ago.

"The reason we did it is to alert other motorists our buses are in the area," said superintendent Ray Van Meer.

The strobe lights are also used during snowstorms.

Manchester school buses are also equipped with strobe lights, but the schools delayed sending out their buses during the thick fog on Oct. 16.

"We delayed sending them out by a couple hours because of the fog. We had everybody in here by 10 a.m. This is the first time this year, we've delayed them," said Gene Thompson, Manchester schools superintendent.

While Manchester will delay sending out buses whenever the fog is too thick, Chelsea schools prefer not to start late or close early because of problems created for parents who make arrangements based on when children leave and come home. This is especially true during extremely cold weather.

"I would hate to have a child return home an hour and a half before the parents expected him in sub-zero weather and not be able to get in anywhere," said Van Meer.

According to Van Meer, Chelsea has delayed school opening once in his seven-year tenure. A combination of fog and ice caused a one-hour delay.

Given a choice between delaying school and losing a day, Van Meer said he'd prefer to delay school only if weather conditions showed a likelihood of improving.

Don Galloway Admitted to EMU Honors Program

Don Galloway, son of John and Joanne Galloway, of Chelsea, has been admitted to the Eastern Michigan University Honors Program.

Galloway graduated from Stockbridge High school. He is pursuing a degree in Pre-Engineering.

Membership in the EMU Honors Program is restricted to students of high academic ability. The program provides low-enrollment classes taught by outstanding classroom teachers. Other benefits include special housing in the Community of Scholars; advance registration; library privileges; maximum computing access; and a full schedule of social and cultural activities.

THEY'RE BARGAIN PRICED!

During the John Deere Factory Authorized Clearance

We're getting special factory allowances and financing offers on tractors, combines, hay tools, and forage equipment. And we're passing the savings on to you. On top of that, there are interest-free financing periods on the same equipment, both new and used. Now's the time to upgrade your machinery!

NEW AND USED TRACTORS. Big allowances and special offers on every new tractor, 40 hp or larger, on the lot. Save many $1000's on new 50 Series tractors (4050, 4250, 4450, 4650, 4850). Special new allowances on John Deere 4WD tractors equipped for basic pulling power. Finance your tractor, new or used, with John Deere and pay no interest until March 1, 1985. Or take a cash rebate in lieu of interest waiver on new tractors.

Community Education Dept. Gives Classes For Two-Year-Olds

Chelsea Community Education Department will offer classes for two-year-olds and their parents on Fridays beginning Nov. 2 from 9 to 10 a.m. in the prep room at North school.

The five-week session is called "Too Good To Be Two." The theme for the session is opposites such as big and little. Each week will feature a different opposite through songs, activities and crafts. Last session's theme was colors.

Craft activities will involve fine motor skills and include painting, pasting, finger-painting, and coloring. Special activities include making edible play-doh and finger-painting with shaving creme.

Objectives for the classes are: having fun; sharing time with parents without the distractions of the home; exploring a variety of art mediums; social interaction; exploring basic rhythms with songs and finger play; and providing ideas for home activities.

"Basically it's a time for socialization among two-year-olds and for two-year-olds to be with other two-year-olds. It's a time for parents to share with children and other mothers. It's real nice for people new to the community with their first child. They can exchange information and make friendships. We see it

The "right turn on red" allowance should not be a major problem, McDougall said, because it is a permissive rule. Nothing forces a driver to make such a turn if he or she decides not to. A violation can occur only if the turn is made in the face of intruding traffic.

THE TIM STUBBS Trio, complete with tuxedos and bow-ties, entertained guests at Jack Dunn's 50th birthday party. The party and the jazz trio were among surprises planned by his wife Nancy Dunn and his friends. Pianist, Tim Stubbs, performs at Escoffier's in Ann Arbor. Bob Sweet is the drummer and Ted Harley performs on bass.

Jack Dunn Surprised For 50th Birthday

Jack Dunn's 50th birthday would have been just another birthday, except his friend's decided that couldn't be the case. Dunn is the president of Chelsea Industries.

"Four prominent citizens said to me, we definitely had to have a party. We couldn't let Jack's 50th birthday go by," said his wife Nancy.

So, Dunn's wife and friends planned a surprise birthday complete with entertainment on Friday, Oct. 19.

Tim Stubbs of Chelsea brought a jazz trio in white tie and tuxedos. Stubbs performs at Escoffier's in Ann Arbor.

Six members of Sirab, a Middle Eastern dance troupe, performed group and solo folk dances. The troupe is led by Karen Mirochna, who teaches the Middle Eastern dance class to adults at Beach Middle school.

Performing at the party in Sirab were Sue Nagel, Elaine Stahl, Barbara Stahl, Kathy Bourget, Shirley Brown and Mirochna. The troupe's name means mirage.

To top off the party, a nurse attended who removed more than her stethoscope. The bogus nurse was actually a stripper.

Dunn was kept at a business meeting by one of the party's planners until the guests were in place.

Mild Weather Experienced

West Washtenaw county residents this past week enjoyed what is probably the closest thing to Indian summer that they are likely to get this year.

Day-time temperatures ranged into the mid-60's, dipping into the 40's at night. Yesterday's early-morning low was 35 and put a heavy frost on the ground. Cars parked outdoors required some windshield scraping.

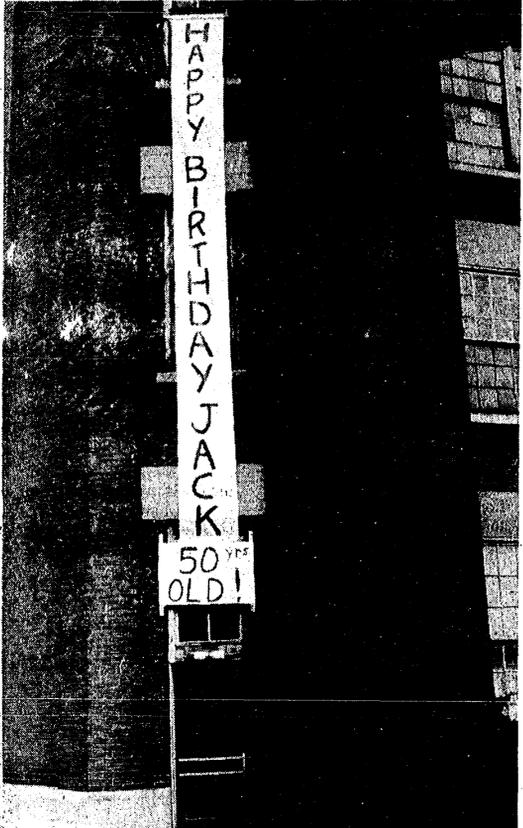

There were intermittent periods of light rain during the week, but most of it fell during the night. Rainfall for the month so far is above normal, but there is still a precipitation deficit for the year thanks to the summer drought.

Leaves are coming down early, and fall color is far below its usual brilliance. That resulted from the long dry spell during the summer months which caused leaves to shrivel, turn brown and fall before they had a chance to change to usual autumn hues.

A hummingbird nest is the size of a walnut.

JACK DUNN, president of Chelsea Industries, was expecting to have just another humdrum birthday. This streamer, mounted on the Chelsea Industry's clock tower, wishing him a happy 50th, was just the beginning of his surprises.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 15 were Schumann, Dils, Grau, Feeney, Comeau, Redding, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, athletic director Nemeth, special education director DeYoung, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the Oct. 1 meeting.

Entered as official communications were: Letter from Bob and Billie Schneider, expressing appreciation for the showing of Christian Ministries films; letter from Lynn Degener, expressing appreciation for the board's listening to concerns about Community Education's "Do Something Different" program.

Phil Jones, Flag Corps advisor, reviewed with the board the activities of the Winter Flag Guard and upcoming competition, some of which will take place on Sunday and would need board approval.

Bill Gourley, high school band director, reviewed with the board the plans of the symphony band for a spring concert tour.

Board trustee Ann Feeney dated the board on the "Take Pride in Your Schools—You Own Them" report. A poster campaign will be conducted in October.

Superintendent Van Meer dated the board on current legislation affecting our schools. The Legislature is not in session. Most of the concern centers around Proposal "C".

Board members had an opportunity for input on the educational audit report.

Superintendent Van Meer reported to the board on the recently released results of the Feelin' Good program conducted in the Chelsea schools.

Board approved the amended budget for 1984-85, with expenditures of $7,588,328.

The board officially went on record in opposition to Proposal "C" because of its harmful consequences for school districts.

Board accepted, with appreciation, a gift of a video cassette recorder, valued at $1,850, from the PTS (parent/teacher group, South School). The recorder was purchased with proceeds from South School's Fun Fair which was held last February.

Meeting adjourned at 10:04 p.m.

GAY DALTON (center) receives an award of recognition for her 10 years of volunteer work in the Chelsea Music Boosters club and the schools. The award was presented by William Gourley (left), music chairman and band director at Chelsea High school, and superintendent Ray Van Meer (right). The presentation was made during half-time at the Chelsea-Tecumseh football game, Friday, Oct. 19.

RESIDENTS OF the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home paint ceramics to sell at their 21st annual fall bazaar, from 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 27. Residents will sell home-made handicrafts, ceramics, quilts and white elephants to raise money for the Resident's Council, which sponsors parties, trips, and activities for the home. In the front row, left to right are Florence Hubbard, Dorothy Hadley and Annie Morlock. In the back row are Jay Waggoner, Elmer Smeckert, Florence Ives, and Helena Schweitzer.

Gay Dalton Earns Praise For Music Boosters Work

Gay Dalton was recognized for her outstanding contributions to the Chelsea schools music program during half-time festivities

Friday, Oct. 19 at the Tecumseh-Chelsea football game. Dalton was presented with a certificate of appreciation by superintendent Raymond Van Meer on behalf of the school board and music chairman and band director William Gourley.

Dalton has served the Chelsea schools as a volunteer for 10 years. She was Chelsea Music Boosters president for three years, chaired many fund-raising events and worked on several committees to support the directors of music at Beach Middle and Chelsea High schools.

"Known affectionately as 'Mom Dalton,' the bands took this opportunity to show their gratitude to Gay for her unending devotion to Chelsea's music students and the schools," said Gourley.

Besides her music boosters activities, Dalton works a full-time job as an accountant for the Washtenaw County Health Department.

Methodist Retirement Home Plans Annual Fall Bazaar

The 21st annual fall bazaar, planned by the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home's Resident Council, will feature resident's handicrafts, ceramics, quilts, and white elephants.

The bazaar will take place on Saturday, Oct. 27, from 1 to 4 p.m., in the Methodist Home's Game Room.

The Resident's Council is composed of representatives from each of the 19 halls in the Methodist Home. The Council plans speakers, parties, trips, spiritual functions, projects, food and a newspaper. The bazaar is the Council's biggest fund-raiser.

tee to plan the bazaar are Winifred Cooley and Ethel Fleenor. Millie Smith is in charge of publicity. All three are Methodist Home residents.

According to Bill Champion, Methodist Home activities director, the location of the bazaar was moved because of construction of the new building. The bazaar was formerly held outside the ceramic shop in the M-Ground area. The ceramics and sewing rooms were moved to other parts of the building because the area is being used to prepare for utilities to the new building.

New School Calendar Adopted for Next Year

The 1985-86 Chelsea school calendar was to be determined by educational implications and community reaction to the 1984-85 opening of the school prior to Labor Day.

Representatives of the CEA negotiators and the administration met on Wednesday, Oct. 17, to discuss the 1985-86 calendar.

The CEA indicated that the early start did not seem to impair (in some cases it enhanced) the educational benefits.

The administration concurred that, based on attendance and the smooth start of school, the educational benefits did not suffer.

However, the community's reaction to the early start of school, as presented by the administration, was very negative.

Residents complained about limited participation, as participants and/or spectators, in the Chelsea Community Fair and the vacation interruptions (some people schedule their vacations for the latter part of August, through and including the Labor Day week-end).

It was agreed to adopt a 1985-86 calendar with the first day of school for students to be Sept. 3, 1985 and a last day for students to be June 10, 1986.

Village Hall Roof Said In Bad Shape

The roof on the Chelsea Office building at 104 E. Middle St. is leaking badly and "could fall in almost any time," trustee Richard Steele has informed the village board.

"I've been up there, and the roof is in sad shape," Steele said. "It leaks in at least a dozen places. Something is going to have to be done pretty soon."

The roof was installed in 1971 by Energy Roofing Systems.

Steele also said that guy wires anchoring radio antennas to the roof are rusted and about to break, and should be replaced. That was confirmed by civil defense director Robert Schartz.

The board instructed administrator Frederick Weber to look at the problem.

Chelsea Golf Team Finishes Seventh In State Tourney

Chelsea's golf team finished seventh in the 25-team state Class B championship tournament held at the Saskatoon Country Club near Grand Rapids last Saturday.

Jackson Lumen Christi won again, its ninth victory in the past 10 years, with a four-man team score of 303 for the 18-hole tourney. Jackson Western was second at 310. Battle Creek Lake view came in third.

There was a three-way tie for fourth place at 324, with Chelsea three strokes farther back at 327.

"It wasn't a disaster," Bulldog coach Ken Larson said. "We shot respectable golf. The boys felt they should have finished fourth, and they might have but for a few bad shots."

"I'm proud of what this group of kids has accomplished. They have won a share of the Southeastern Conference twice and gone to the state tournament twice, finishing second and seventh. No other Chelsea golf team ever made it to the state."

"I talked to coaches last Saturday who have taken teams to the state year after year and never finished in the top 10."

Seniors Doug Otto, Eric Schaffner, Mike Carignan, Brian Ackley and John Harris all played their last rounds of competitive golf for the Bulldogs last Saturday.

Otto shot a 79 and was in the hunt for medalist honors until he ran into trouble on the back nine, bogeying the last five holes.

"The greens were very slick, and Doug, who is an excellent putter, had several putts just slide by the hole," Larson said. "With a little better luck he could have been four or five strokes better."

Schaffner rallied after a bad start to come in at 81. He bogeyed the first five holes and could have folded, but came back to play close to par the rest of the way.

Carignan shot a steady 78, one of his best efforts ever. Ackley's 89 reflected a couple of bad holes but otherwise good golf.

Harris carded 90. His score did not count under the rule which limits the tally to the four top shooters on each team.

ALL-LEAGUE GOLFERS: Three Chelsea Bulldog golfers made the all-Southeastern Conference team among the eight picked. Selections were based on stroke-average during the season. Kneeling in front is Mike Carignan. Flanking coach Ken Larson (center) are Doug Otto and Eric Schaffner. Larson has announced that he is resigning as coach because of his new duties as Chelsea High's assistant principal.

Larson Resigning Coach Positions

Last Saturday's state golf tournament was Ken Larson's swan song as a Chelsea athletic coach.

He is resigning after seven years as golf coach and six years as assistant baseball coach.

Larson was appointed assistant principal of the high school this fall, and his full-time administrative duties preclude his continuing as a coach. He formerly was a math teacher.

"There is a policy in the school system against an administrator serving as an athletic coach, and I can understand it," Larson said. "Administration is a full-time job."

"I would have liked to try to continue because I love coaching, and I'm proud of what has been accomplished in the golf and baseball programs. They are both in very good shape."

Larson built up the golf program to the point where the Bulldogs shared two Southeastern Conference championships in each of the last two years and went to the state tournament twice, finishing second and seventh.

"We're graduating five fine seniors this year, but we have some good young players coming along," Larson said. "Whoever takes over—and I have no idea

Work Slated On School Ball Fields

Softball diamonds at three Chelsea schools will be rebuilt under a joint agreement reached by the recreational council, school district and village board.

The project will cost about $7,500 and will result in renovation of two diamonds at South Elementary school, one at Beach Middle school and one at the High school.

The Recreation Council will contribute $3,000 toward the project and the school district about $4,500. The village will use its manpower and equipment to load and haul materials.

As Ron Nemeth, school district athletic director explained the project, the work will provide virtually weather-proof surfaces on all the fields by bringing them up to the standards of the Dana diamonds at Veterans Park.

Aquatic Club Divers Beat Competition

Chelsea Aquatic Club divers demolished their competition last week with a resounding win against three other teams. The final team scores were Chelsea, 156; Ypsilanti, 38; Brighton, 12; and Milan, 0.

Winners for Chelsea were: Colby Skelton, ages eight-and-under boys; Matt Montagne, nine-and-10 boys; Kelly Cross, nine-and-10 girls; Adam Hodge, 11 and 12 boys; Deanna Zangara, 13 and 14 girls; and Tyler Lewis, 13 and 14 boys.

Other award winners for Chelsea were: Christy Lonskey, Bryndon Skelton, Tim Wescott, Jim Bergman, Jeff Montagne, Bubba Hodge, Colten White, Connie Lonskey, Stacey Bergman, Jamie Basso, T. J. Hackworth, Joe Hafner, Justin White, Cindy Noble, Mark Luick, Wade Triffe, Jennifer Schweiger, Sarah Schaeffer, and Robyn Hafner.

"These young divers dove great. We had a few missing but we still had the greatest participation we have had in years in a diving meet. The interest is there now and we are trying to provide these young people an atmosphere that will help their diving. Mark Westhoven who has been helping these divers should also be commended," said Larry Reed, school aquatics director.

who it might be—will have a solid base to build on.

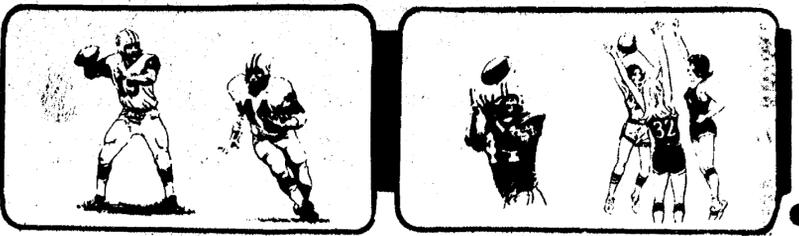

"It's been a privilege to work with (head coach) Wayne Welton in baseball, and that program is also in good shape. Chelsea won the league title last year, there are some good players coming back and some more good ones coming up. Look for us to be strong the next couple of years."

Larson said he had decided to quit coaching when he accepted his new position but didn't want to announce it until after the golf season.

Bulldogs Earn 13-12 Win Over Tecumseh In Excellent Game

You won't see many better high school football games than the one put on by Chelsea and Tecumseh on Jerry Niehaus field last Friday night.

Two good, evenly matched and well coached teams went at each other hammer-and-tongs, and Chelsea's 13-12 victory was deserved. The Bulldogs were a little bit better, and the final score reflects the small margin of difference. It was a great football game to watch.

Both teams came out with defensive game plans designed to hold down individual players who had previously proven their ability to gain ground.

Chelsea had to rein in Tecumseh halfback Eric Hoffman, a 6-2, 205-pound bruiser who is quick and fast. Tecumseh had to try to keep flanker Todd Starkey from catching passes.

In the end, Chelsea did the better job. Hoffman gained 145 yards in 39 carries, and scored twice, once on an intercepted pass while playing on defense, but he never got loose to break the game open.

Starkey caught 10 tosses from quarterback Dan Bellus, despite double and triple coverage. He didn't score, but his receptions for 135 total yards made it possible for halfback Dave Steinhauer to take the ball in twice.

Biff Bunten, who missed a field goal attempt early in the game, more than redeemed himself with an extra-point kick that turned out to be the difference.

The first half was a battle of defenses and ended in a 0-0 tie. Each team had a good chance to score, but neither did. Chelsea drove to the Tecumseh six-yard line in the first quarter, but Bunten's fourth-down field goal try went wide to the left.

Tecumseh had an excellent shot after recovering a fumble on the Chelsea 20, but the Bulldog defenders stopped Hoffman cold on a fourth-and-three play.

Tecumseh broke the scoring ice late in the third quarter with the help of a very questionable roughing-the-punter penalty that gave the Indians a key first down. Hoffman eventually scored on a one-yard dive. A two-point conversion attempt failed.

Chelsea came right back on a sustained drive after receiving the kickoff. The Bulldogs have had trouble executing the quarterback pitchout play all season, but they did it perfectly when they got down to the Tecumseh 12. Bellus tossed to Steinhauer, who went the distance, breaking three tackles along the way.

Bunten then kicked the extra point that decided the game, putting Chelsea up 7-6.

Tecumseh went back in front, 12-7, when Hoffman intercepted a pass that caromed off Steinhauer's fingers and ran it back 27 yards into the end zone. Hoffman was stopped in an effort to add two more points.

With less than seven minutes to play and the game on the line, the Bulldogs started a drive at their own 23 and went all the way. Two Bellus-to-Starkey pass completions kept the movement alive.

Steinhauer had to take the ball over the goal line twice before the officials, who made some strange calls throughout, finally awarded him the go-ahead touchdown. He was clearly across on a third-and-two effort, but the referee set the ball a foot short. He scored with a yard to spare on his next carry.

A pass for two points was stopped by Tecumseh, and it was still anybody's game with the score 13-12 and nearly four minutes to play.

The fired-up Chelsea defense did the job, taking the ball over on downs and giving the offense time to run out the clock.

"It was an outstanding team effort, one of the best I've ever seen," an elated Bulldog coach Gene LaFave said. "Our defense was super."

"We knew we had to hold Hoffman down, and we did. He's an excellent running back and you're not going to stop him, but you can contain him and we did."

"We figured that if we could hold him to under four yards per carry, we could win the ball game, and we did." (Hoffman averaged 3.7 yards per try.)

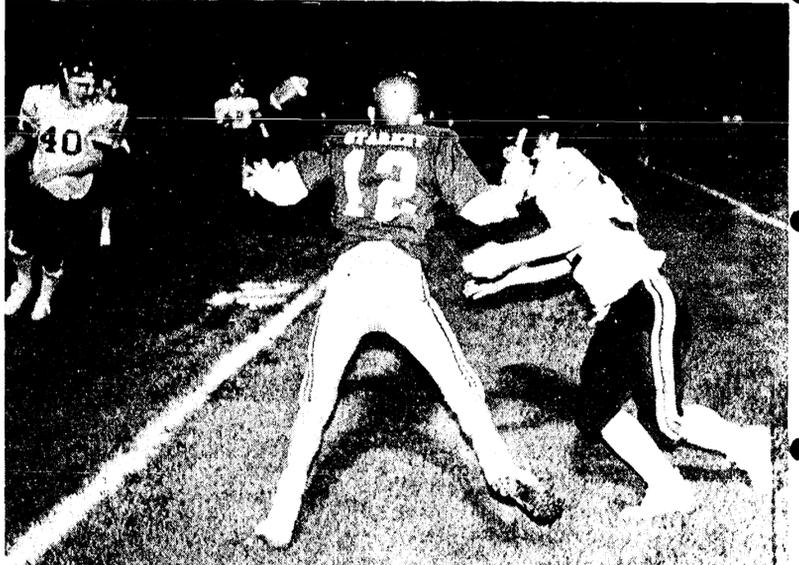

The swarming Bulldog defense was led by Mark E. Bentley and Ed Brosnan with 21 tackles each. Dave Steinhauer was in on 14 stops, Shane Brown 12 and Dean Boote 10.

Workhorse Dave Steinhauer gained 89 yards in 15 carries, out-averaging Hoffman.

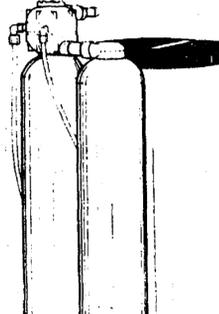

"We had good balance on offense," LaFave commented. "The line was opening up some holes for our backs. Mark P. Bentley did an especially good job at offensive tackle."

"Starkey had an excellent game. He's caught 38 passes so far this year, and that may be a school record for a sophomore receiver. His game-to-game improvement has been remarkable. He's very good and very tough. He's small, but he takes the hard hit and bounces up."

The Bulldogs, now 3-4 on the season and 2-3 in the Southeastern Conference, have a chance to even their record in a contest against Pinckney there Friday night.

BULLDOG FLANKER Todd Starkey waits to catch a pass thrown a little bit short. This one was broken up by the Tecumseh defender at right, but Starkey did grab 10 tosses during the game despite being closely covered.

BECCA LEE (left) and Tami Harris (right) were among four young women named Swimmer of the Week from the Chelsea High school girls swim team. Anne Albrecht and Kenyan Vosters were not available when this photo was taken. Swimmers of the Week are named for outstanding performances.

Four More Chosen Swimmers of Week

Honored swimmers this week are senior co-captain Becca Lee, junior Anne Albrecht, and frosh Tami Harris and Kenyan Vosters.

Lee is one of two captains and three seniors on this year's swimming team.

"Becca is blessed with some of the most technically correct strokes on the team. Her ability to be flexible and swim equally well in almost any event on the high school meet schedule has been a significant contributor to the success this season's team has enjoyed," said coach Larry Reed.

"Becca is a very mature and responsible young lady who has really been able to evaluate scholastic athletics and put them in their proper perspective. These qualities have made Becca a real leader on the team," said Reed.

Albrecht does not usually race for first place but she garners important points in meets that eventually lead to a victory or can lead to a loss. This past week, Albrecht has improved her times in the 200 and 500 freestyle events. If she can continue to improve her value to the team will be even greater.

"Anne is one of those important swimmers that every team must have," said Reed. Harris is competing at the varsity level for the first time. She competed in the middle distance and spring freestyle races as well as the breaststroke and butterfly events.

Harris has made her greatest improvements in her ability to swim a variety of strokes well on the team's medley relay. Earlier in the year, she swam the breaststroke leg on a near record-breaking freshman medley relay.

"Tami has a great attitude and should continue to improve and earn her varsity letter as a freshman," said Reed. Vosters has many abilities and a great attitude, said Reed. She swam three of the four legs of the medley relay and swam in the freestyle relay, the 50, 100 and 200 freestyle, 100 backstroke, and 50 and 100 breaststrokes.

"Kenyan is always willing to swim whatever the team needs. She never complains but always gives her best effort. Coaches could never ask more of an athlete than Kenyan gives. Some day she will be an outstanding high school swimmer," said Reed.

Three more parking spaces for handicapped persons will be designated in front of the First Methodist church, 128 Park St. from 7 a.m. to noon on Sunday.

The village board approved the additional handicap parking after trustee Herman Radloff, a member of the church, said the congregation includes at least five persons who need special parking privileges.

Presently, three spaces are reserved for the handicapped on Sunday mornings. There will now be six.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

There is little more to be written about the Detroit Tigers' super season that hasn't already been printed elsewhere, but here are a few late thoughts.

The Tigers did it all. They locked up the American League East division at the end of May, coasted home, then went on to win seven of eight games in post-season play. You can't do much better than that. They won 111 of the 170 games they played, a remarkable record, a winning percentage of .653.

Some strange things can happen in a short series of baseball games. The better team doesn't always win. I don't like the format which dictates that you have to play 162 games to qualify for a 3-of-5 play-off that decides whether you advance to the World Series.

One pitcher can dominate a short series, and that's exactly what Jack Morris did in both the American League play-offs and the World Series. He was superb, reminding me of Mickey Lolich who started and won three times during the 1968 Series. How Morris was denied the Most Valuable Player Award for his post-season pitching somehow escapes me. He threw three complete games and kept the pressure off the bullpen. Give Morris three runs, and he's going to win just about every time out. He is one of the few pitchers around who can go nine innings and finish stronger than he started.

One mark of excellence in sports is the ability to play below par and still win. The Tigers did not play particularly well in the post-season. They slumped at the plate, and they got very little from their number two starting pitcher. They made mistakes in the field and on the basepaths. Despite all that, they had a remarkably easy time in blowing out Kansas City and San Diego.

The Tigers, in fact, were so good this season that they barely escaped being boring. They won so easily in most of their starts that you came to expect it and were disappointed when they once in awhile lost a game. They are far and away the best team in baseball, and they proved it.

It may be a long time before Detroit or any other team matches the mark that the Tigers compiled this year. They set a whole bunch of records enroute to their championship. About the only one that escaped them was most total victories during regular season play, and I suspect they could have achieved that had they been pressed at any point. They were so far out in front from beginning to end that they never found themselves in a "must win" situation.

Girls Varsity Cagers Undefeated in League

Chelsea girls varsity basketball team came out the victor in an extremely close game which went into over-time against Pinckney on Oct. 18. Chelsea defeated Pinckney, 48-46.

"We lost the battle but we won the war. It was a real physical game because people were beating on each other. There was a lot of physical contact. They knocked us down more than we knocked them down. We're pretty sore today," said coach Jim Winter.

Chelsea fell behind Pinckney in the first three quarters, 11-6, 11-9 and 16-12. The team rallied back in the last quarter, 16-5, to tie the game, 43-43.

"Defense really came through in the last quarter and over-time. Pinckney only scored one field goal in the last 11 minutes," said Winter.

The teams played three minutes of overtime where Chelsea scored five points against Pinckney's three to win the game.

Chelsea out-shot Pinckney from the floor. They made 41%, or 19 of 46 throws, while Pinckney only shot 33%, or 14 of 43 attempts. However, Pinckney out-performed Chelsea in free throws with 64% against Chelsea's 43%.

"We have not shot free throws well all year and it's going to catch up with us. That almost happened last night," said Winter.

Chelsea made 10 of its 23 free throws, whereas, Pinckney made 18 out of 28.

Beth Unterbrink and Kristi Headrick dominated game scoring. Unterbrink contributed 20 of the 48 points. Headrick chipped in 16 points and eight rebounds. Joann Tobin captured five rebounds. Jennifer Cattell made four assists.

Chelsea now has first place in the league by itself, having won all five league games, so far. Both Pinckney and Chelsea entered the Oct. 16 game with a 4-0 standing in the league. Pinckney is now 4-1, and Chelsea is 5-0. Chelsea is 8-3 overall.

Chelsea will host Milan on Thursday, Oct. 25. They will play away at Lincoln on Tuesday.

Chelsea Aquatic Club Defeats Milan, 420-388

Chelsea Aquatic Club opened its Southern Michigan Swim League season with a 420-388 win over long term rival Milan on Monday, Oct. 15.

"The meet was an outstanding success for the new coaching staff and their hard working charges," said school aquatics director Larry Reed. "Milan is traditionally one of the powers in the state in swimming and to beat them is always a major goal."

Jon Oesterle and Dave Brinklow also coach the club.

Highlights of the meet included the smashing of a four-year-old 25-yard freestyle record for boys under age 8. The former record was set by Mat Weis with a time of :16.2. Colby Skelton broke the record with an amazingly fast time of :15.20.

Other Chelsea boys to win in the eight-year-old and under category were: Chris Gibson, Matt McVittie, Chad Brown and Ryan Balcom. The top finisher in eight-and-under girls was Betsy Schmunk with three second-place swims.

Nine-and-10 boy winners were: Greg Garen, Jason Balcom, Jason McVittie and Dana Schmunk. Girl winners for that group were Kelly Cross, Michelle Hollo, Sara Nicola, Erika Boughton and Melissa Thiel.

Boy winners, for ages 11 and 12, were Brett Paddock, Jim Alford, Garth Girard, Joey Huettman, Scott Marsh and Brian Brock. Top finishers for girls, 11 and 12, were third-place efforts by Cari Thurkow, Kelly Bellus, Theresa Lewis and Anne Steffenson.

Boys top finishers, ages 13 and 14, were Lloyd Brown, Ted Lewis, Darren Girard, Tyler Lewis, Matt Doan and Jeff Mason. Girl winners were Karen Grau, Kelly Kuzon, Cathy Hoffman and Susan Schmunk.

Fifteen-and-up boy winners were: Craig Miller, Mike Coffman, Brent Bauer and Jeff Nemeth.

The club will host the next meet against Ypsilanti on Saturday, Oct. 27.

Girls JV Cagers Lose To Pinckney

Chelsea girls junior varsity basketball team lost a game against Pinckney, 35-23, marring a perfect league record on Oct. 16.

Chelsea now stands 4-1 in the league and 9-2 over-all.

The game was tied in the first quarter, 6-6. Chelsea lost the last three quarters, 8-5, 12-6, and 9-6.

A high turnover-rate caused Chelsea problems. Chelsea had 35 turnovers. The team tries to limit turnovers to between 15 and 20. Pinckney also out-rebounded Chelsea.

Chelsea only shot 23% from the floor, or 10 out of 43. They shot 30% from the foul line, 3 out of 10.

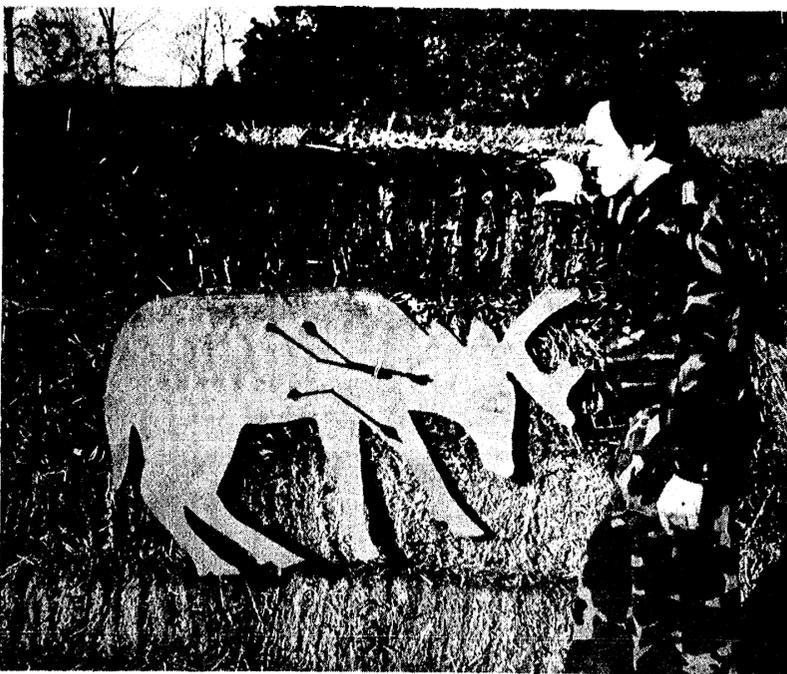

"Put those four things together and that will add up to a loss," said coach Paul Terpstra.

Cris Zerkel was leading rebounder with 16. Kim Ferry had 10 rebounds.

Chelsea will host Milan Thursday, Oct. 25 and play at Lincoln, Tuesday, Oct. 30.

Bog Walks Slated At Waterloo Center

Two bog walks are scheduled Sunday afternoon at the Waterloo Nature Center, guided by Linda Careon. Groups will leave the center parking lot on Bush Rd. at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

ARCHERY PRACTICE RANGE: Rick Monier eyes three satisfactory shots at a deer-shaped target on the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club's new archery range. A backstop of tightly baled hay is three feet thick. Visiting archers are invited to try their skills at open house day, Sunday, Oct. 28.

Chelsea Rod & Gun Club Plans Archery Open House

Hunters and marksmen in the Chelsea-Dexter areas are invited to sharpen their skills at an open house of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club Sunday, Oct. 28, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Three separate ranges will be open for trap shooting. Admission is free to visitors as well as members, but all sportsmen with guns must bring their own ammunition. Chairman for the event is Ron Satterthwaite of Chelsea.

The Rod & Gun Club has recently made major improvements in its rifle and archery ranges. The rifle range has been re-levelled with bulldozers and carefully graded. A new bullet backstop has been constructed. Marksmen on the rifle range, working in pairs, have options for target distances up to 100 yards.

A convenient walk-down trail has recently been established for the archery range at the bottom of the clubhouse hill. The backstop has been constructed of 20 bales of straw and the range options will be 15, 25 and 35 yards. The Chelsea Rod & Gun Club is situated at 7103 Lingard Rd. This road may be entered from the south via Bush Rd., and from the north via Waterloo Rd.

There will be free cider and doughnuts, and visitors will be offered a tour of the large red brick clubhouse.

Close liaison is maintained between the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources as well as the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. Conservation of wildlife and true sportsmanship are practiced by the Chelsea membership. No game animal is taken unfairly. Every fish not intended for eating or mounting is carefully returned to the water.

RICK MONIER, archery leader of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club, takes aim at target on the club's new range. "If the Indians had possessed archery equipment like we have now," he says, "we'd probably be speaking a different language."

All wildlife is territorial, and that is a mighty useful piece of knowledge for hunters who want to be successful.

Every animal or bird establishes a "home base" early in life and stays inside it. The territories, in most instances, aren't nearly as large as you might think.

A deer, for example, will live out its years within a square mile (640 acres). A pheasant rarely ventures outside a quarter-section (160 miles). A cottontail rabbit probably will die on the five-acre plot where it was born. A squirrel will stay in the same woodlot throughout its life, maybe crossing a fence now and then to get into an adjacent cornfield.

When you spook a deer or flush a pheasant, and don't shoot it, you may think the critter headed into the next county. They get away quickly and run or fly mighty fast, leaving you standing there and marvelling at their speed in putting distance between themselves and danger.

Chances are, that deer or pheasant didn't go more than a couple of hundred yards before settling down somewhere in its home territory. It's difficult indeed to push a bird or animal outside its boundary limits. It will almost always turn back toward you rather than leave familiar ground.

That is a helpful fact to know in hunting, and can be used to put game in the bag. Follow up anything you flush but don't get, and you stand a good chance of a second opportunity. Be careful and cautious in the approach, but also be persistent. The tactic will work at least half the time.

I suspect wild things establish territories for the same reasons that we humans build or buy homes, and sometimes put fences around our property. We want to live in a place that we "know," and are uncomfortable if we intrude on a neighbor because we realize that we are trespassing.

As said in the first column in this series, wildlife homes are based on availability of food, water and cover. All three of those elements must be there, or nothing will live in it. A creature that finds a territory to its liking is mighty reluctant to move, and won't unless severely harried.

From that it follows that there are good and bad places for wild things to live, and that the good ones will be occupied year after year. By all means go back to any spot where you found game last year. The odds are that you will find something there again.

At the same time, be aware that wildlife habitat changes and that, after awhile, what used to be good hunting ground won't be any longer. A good rule of thumb is that 10 years represent the maximum period of productivity. There are exceptions, but you can normally look for some basic changes during a decade.

Trees grow up and, as they grow they shade out the under-story of thick stuff—shrubs and plants—that supplies food and cover. The change occurs gradually as to be almost imperceptible from year to year, until you suddenly realize that your favorite spot not only is not producing any game but also doesn't look like it once did.

If the walking has gotten easier, it's a good bet that the wildlife has gone elsewhere. Any cover you can hike through at a brisk pace without having to break steps, dodge obstacles or bust brush is probably barren of game. I like to walk in an open forest—if I'm simply out for a walk. Lugging a gun along on such an excursion is both burdensome and futile.

Keep an eye out for new hunting spots. Especially keep a close watch on land that has been newly cut-over. That sprouting young growth is likely to develop into prime wildlife habitat within a few years. There is a stage which is hard to describe, but I think of it as occurring when at least some of the new stuff is head-high and I have to push my way through it.

To sum up, hunt smart. Don't waste time in places where your knowledge and instincts tell you that there probably isn't any game. Learn the food and cover preferences of the quarry you are seeking, and how to identify them. Look for water.

Do those things, and you can save yourself a lot of effort and energy while increasing your score in the field.

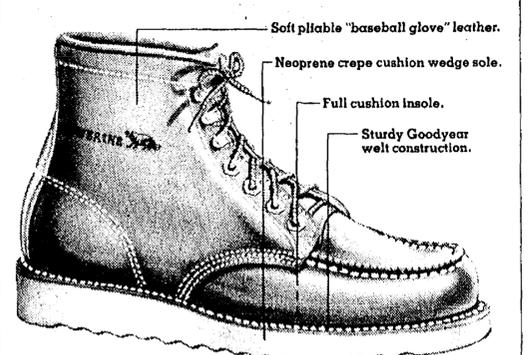

To be a successful hunter, you must be able to shoot and hit when the opportunity offers. You might be one of those lucky persons who is a good instinctive shot with rifle, shotgun or bow. I've known a few of those. For most of us, however, good shooting is something that has to be practiced and learned. More about that next week.

Girl Harriers Finish First in SEC Dual Meets, Aim at Title

The Chelsea girls cross country team defeated Tecumseh, 15-50, last Tuesday at Inverness County Club to finish their dual meet season at 5-1 over-all and 4-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

They are pointing now toward the league and regional meets this week. I hope they will run well," said coach Pat Clarke of his team.

Harriers Win Dual Meet

The Chelsea boys cross country team closed out its dual meet season with a 6-2 over-all record, 5-1 in the Southeastern Conference, by virtue of two wins last week.

Chelsea placers besides Wolfgang and Richardson were: third, Kasey Anderson (21:14); fourth, Kim Collins (21:20); fifth, Melanie Flanigan (21:25); sixth, Robin Mock (21:32); seventh, Kim Allen (21:36); eighth, Cathy

Junior Varsity Gridders Defeat Tecumseh, 27-18

Two touchdowns each by Scott Frisinger and Lee Underhille powered the Chelsea junior varsity football team to a 27-18 victory over the Tecumseh JV's there last Thursday.

Stacey and linebacker Jason Smith played well on defense, Ticknor said.

The Bulldogs used a crunching ball-control ground game, which piled up more than 400 yards, to gain and hold the advantage after falling behind early.

The victory gave Chelsea a 4-3 record for the season with one game left on the schedule, against Pinckney here tomorrow.

Frisinger amassed 219 yards including touchdown carries of 66 and four. Underhille had 97 yards with TD carries of six and four.

It was the second victory in a row after four straight losses for the Bulldog frosh, and was mighty pleasing to coach Jim Tallman.

Underhille's second touchdown midway through the third quarter, plus an extra point by Dennis Parisho, put Chelsea up 27-12. Tecumseh scored one more time, but the Bulldogs held them off after that.

SEC ROUND-UP: Saline Clinches Win In Conference Race

Pletcher, cornerback Jeff

Saline locked up the Southeastern Conference championship by defeating Dexter, 25-8, last Friday night while Tecumseh and Pinckney both were losing.

Phil's Service

Saline completed its six-game league schedule with a 5-1 record.

Basketball Five Beats Pioneer

For the first time in four years, Chelsea girls varsity basketball team defeated Pioneer High school in Ann Arbor, 59-54, on Saturday, Oct. 20.

"This is the first time we ever beat them, the first time we even came close in four years. We usually lose by 20 or 30 points," said coach Jim Winter.

NOT ALL THE learning of a sport takes place on the court. Coach Jim Winter instructs the girls varsity basketball team in the classroom as well. The team has had an outstanding performance this year, standing 5-0 in the league. They also defeated Pioneer in a non-league game for the first time in at least four years.

Chelsea placers against Pinckney were: second, Tim Bowdish (16:59); third, Jared Bradley (17:45); fourth, Allen Kuhl (18:20); sixth, Jason Creffield (18:32); seventh, Kyle Kemmish (18:45); eighth, Jeff Wheaton (18:48); 10th, John Cattell (18:51); 11th, Bob Torres (18:55); 12th Lee Riemenschneider (19:04); 13th, Tucker Lee (19:11); 14th, Steve Hunn (19:21); 15th, Brian Coy (19:49); and 17th, Larry Moore (19:55).

Girls JV Cagers Defeat Ann Arbor's Pioneer, 43-36

Chelsea girls junior varsity basketball team defeated the Class A Pioneer High school from Ann Arbor, Saturday, Oct. 20, 43-36.

Joyce Grames Purchases Jackson Foster Care Home

Joyce Grames (owner of Webb's Apple Orchard) recently purchased an adult foster care home located in Jackson, on 13 1/2 acres. Mrs. Grames formed a corporation and is the president of the Meridian Foster Care Home, Inc.

Chelsea shot 52% or 15 out of 26, a season best and possibly a team record.

Frosh Gridders Rally To Defeat Tecumseh

Winning can get to be a habit, and Chelsea's freshman football team showed that they are learning how to win by coming from behind three times to defeat Tecumseh, 36-26, there, on Oct. 16.

Chelsea scored first to take a 6-0 lead, but Frisinger's 66-yard dash on the first play following the kick-off created a 6-6 tie.

Gerber Co. Donates to Arbor House

The Gerber Co. is donating 8 cents for each UPC label from any Gerber product to the new Ronald McDonald House in Ann Arbor. The labels, including those from foods, juices and clothing, are being collected from now through Dec. 31.

The Arbor House is being built near the University of Michigan Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. It is one of many Ronald McDonald houses built near children's hospitals around the country.

These houses are available to families of children who are seriously ill and who have prolonged hospitalizations. It allows the families to stay near their children in pleasant surroundings. Families from the Chelsea area would be eligible to use the Arbor House.

The houses are financed by donations from many sources. Parents are asked to make a small donation to the house when they stay but this is waived if they are unable to pay.

In Chelsea, labels may be dropped off at the office of Mary Westhoff, M.D., 447 A. D. Mayer Dr.; or the Family Practice Center. Dexter residents may leave their labels at Dr. Michael Szymanski's office, 800 S. Main or the Dexter Library. Drs. Kathleen Anzick and Mark Leventer, 375 Lakeside, are accepting labels in Grass Lake, and Dr. Warren Garr, 1245 Main St., is accepting labels in Putnam Township, Pinckney.

Labels may also be mailed directly to Pediatric Cardiology Arbor House Fund, F1123, Box 66, C. S. Mott Children's Hospital, Ann Arbor 48109.

Truck Endorsement Law Clarified By Secretary of State

Members of a farmer's family will no longer have to take a driver's test in order to get a truck endorsement on their driver's license, thanks to a new interpretation of the law obtained by Michigan Farm Bureau from the Secretary of State's office.

According to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, the Secretary of State's office was giving drivers test waivers for employees of a farmer, but not for the farmer's spouse or children.

"They have agreed that a farmer should be treated as any other individual, that a farmer can sign a waiver on the driver's test, on the road test, for a family member," Nelson said. He also noted that the farmer who signs the waiver still assumes the liability for the driver of the truck.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set At Beach School

Beach Middle school fall parent-teacher conferences will be held Wednesday, Nov. 7, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Conferences are being pre-scheduled in 15-minute time blocks, according to the following time-line:

Oct. 30—Pre-school letter to parents sent home with students.

Oct. 30—Report cards sent home with students.

Oct. 31—Parents return pre-schedule forms to the middle school counseling office, indicating time blocks most convenient for conferences.

Nov. 5—Confirming letters sent home to parents via middle school students.

Nov. 7—Parent-teacher conferences.

Parents unable to attend the Nov. 7 conferences are invited to contact their child's teacher(s) to arrange a mutually convenient conference time, according to school principal Darcio Stielstra.

Let not the happenings of the world sadden you. I swear by God! The sea of joy yearneth to attain your presence, for every good thing hath been created for you, and will according to the needs of the times, be revealed unto you.

★ Proposal 'C' A Major Catastrophe for Education

The Voter's Choice, or Proposal "C", if adopted, will amount to a major catastrophe for public education in Michigan. According to the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, the proposal will cause a loss of at least $1 billion in state revenues from current levels. If unemployment compensation "contributions" made by Michigan employers are considered "taxes" under this proposal, the cost to the state would be another $130 million. In terms of state funds alone for education, the projected loss would be $205 million. That loss alone could mean the elimination of 8,500 teaching positions and a proportionate number of educational support positions.

Presented in the form of a Constitutional amendment, this proposal will roll back taxes to Dec. 31, 1981 levels and virtually eliminate the Legislature's authority to determine whether future taxes will be increased. Taxes passed since 1981 would remain in effect for 90 days following the adoption of the amendment and could be continued only with voter approval. Any new tax or any new legislative change in the base or rate of a state or local tax that would bring in more dollars, such as higher property taxes, producing more money, would also require a popular vote before it could become effective.

The proposal is dangerous in that it suggests that a rollback in taxes to 1981 levels is its only feature. That is not true. It eliminates any future state and local increases without a vote of the people. The proposal would also require a popular vote or 4/5 approval by a legislative body for the adoption of any new fee, license, user fee or permit. A legislative body covers just about every official group in the state... a school district, township, city, village, county, state legislature, or any governmental unit that has authority to raise or levy a tax or fee. The passage of the proposal would actually guarantee the end of responsible representative government in this state.

The Chelsea School District, by the passage of Proposal "C", would suffer an immediate financial loss. The Chelsea School District would lose $897,480 in lost revenue. This proposal is devastating, not only to education in Chelsea, but to education in general and to the State of Michigan in particular. All school districts and community college districts would have to plan for annual millage elections if millage amounts are not increased. Since all millages would be rolled back to 1981 levels, it would not matter that the voters in the district have approved the millage in the past two or three years.

At a period of time when we see Michigan's economy on the road to recovery, a proposal of this magnitude could lead to state bankruptcy. We need to put people back to work. In the past two years 200,000 people have come off the unemployment rolls following a severe depression, but there still is a long way to go. Currently there are 500,000 unemployed workers in Michigan. This legislation is detrimental to the welfare of the State of Michigan. I would urge you to examine thoroughly the ramifications of this proposal prior to voting on Nov. 6.

Resident Agrees To Replace Tree

The village council has agreed to give Marvin Schiller of 311 Madison St. 60 days to replace a tree he cut down illegally on the lawn extension in front of his home. Schiller admitted that he removed the 17-inch-diameter sycamore, located on village property. He said it was "full of ants" and dying. Neighbors complained about the action. Schiller has informally agreed to take out the stump and plant a replacement tree. If he does not do so within 60 days, the matter will be dropped, the council decided.

The herring is the most widely eaten fish in the world.

Seventh Grade Girls Bullpups Win Two

The seventh grade girls basketball team had a very satisfying week, defeating Tecumseh, 22-20, and Saline, 17-11. Saline had previously defeated Chelsea in the team's only loss. Chelsea now has a 7-1 record.

The Tecumseh game was very close and hard-fought. Tecumseh led, 14-13, at half-time. The game was tied after the third quarter. Chelsea went up eight points early in the fourth quarter but Tecumseh came back to win, 17-6. Nicholle Gilles led with seven points, eight rebounds and 10 steals. Jill Nowatzke had 10 rebounds. Stacey Scott and Scharme Petty all contributed several steals.

"A pressing defense was a definite factor in the victory," said coach Ann Schaffner.

In the Saline game, the aggressive defense of both teams resulted in a, 2-0, half-time and 7-4, third quarter lead for Chelsea. We scored 10 points in the fourth quarter to win, 17-6. Kim Roberts and Scott led the scoring with four points. Tiffany Moore had 11 rebounds and five

Village Board Okays Fund Transfers

The Chelsea village board has approved three fund transfers to balance its accounts, on recommendation of administrator Frederick Weber.

A loan of $138,968.76 from the Electric Fund to the Industrial Development Fund will be repaid with proceeds of future sales of land in the Sibley Rd. industrial park.

A similar loan of $84,687.94 from the Electric Fund to the Landfill Fund will be repaid with interest, from collection fees at the landfill.

An amount of $17,512.69 was transferred from the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund to the General Fund. It reflects money spent on parks and recreation work, Weber explained.

Variance Approved To Enlarge Garage

Luther Kusterer of 223 Harrison St. has been granted a variance from village zoning laws to construct a two-car garage on his property. The lot is too small to accommodate the building under the setback rules. Kusterer plans to expand an existing one-car garage.

Card of Thanks 17

THANK YOU Thank you to everyone who sent me cards and flowers and visited me while I was in the hospital. Also for the telephone calls. Everything was appreciated very much. Cecel Miller.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank our relatives and many friends for their support and kindness shown to us during the hospitalization and loss of our loved one. The doctors and nurses for their fine care, Pastor Morris for his visits and prayers and John and Gloria Mitchell for their help and comfort.

The Family of Effie M. Barth Art, Sr., Art, Jr. Shirley and Art Vandervoort.

THANK YOU

How do you properly say "Thank you" to my marvelous wife and family and so many wonderful friends for such a fantastic surprise 50th celebration. From the trip, the six beautiful belly dancers, and the "Nurse" as well as the limericks, cards and gifts, the evening was truly unforgettable. It may take me some time to adequately figure a way to say thank you, but given enough time and the right opportunities, I think I can get even with each one of you. Thanks again! Jack.

Public Hearing Set Nov. 20 On Professional Building

A public hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, on the plan for a development of a professional office building in the 500 block of S. Main St. just north of an entrance drive to Chelsea Community Hospital.

The 35,000 square-foot parcel is presently occupied by two residence with addresses of 513 and 521 S. Main St. The buildings would be removed to make way for the proposed 7,100 square-foot, one-story office building.

The hearing is required because developers, Drs. Charles F. Krause and Steven A. Yarows, are planning to finance the project with bonds to be issued by the Chelsea Economic Development Corp. Development costs are estimated at a total of $700,000, with a maximum of $600,000 to be paid from EDC bonds. The EDC will hold a mortgage on the center until the bonds are repaid with interest. Citizens Trust bank has agreed in principle to underwrite the bond issue. Five suites of medical and dental offices are designed into the building. A rear lot will provide 42 parking spaces. Construction is expected to take about seven months once all the legal formalities have been completed.

SOUTH SCHOOL kindergarten classes signed this thank you note to the Chelsea Fire Department for their visit during Fire Prevention Week. The classes are those of Marylou Bower on the left and Gena Klink on the right.

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES of South school display one very long thank you note in the shape of a fire-truck. The note, signed by every South student, thanks Chelsea fireman for their visit and books during Fire Prevention Week. Starting at left are fourth graders Todd Watson and Jason Johnson; first graders Andrew Rendell, and Sara Walters; Ryan Ludwig and Audrey Bredé of second grade; third grade students Daniel Baker and Shannon Push, and fifth grade Becky Erskine and Sara Nichola.

Livingston A's Make Trip Through Chelsea

About once a month from May to October, the Livingston A's decide to take a drive. The A's are an antique car club that drive Model A Fords.

The A's visited Chelsea on Oct. 21 during their annual color tour. The group left the Pinckney police station and traveled to Dexter, stopping at the Early Time Shop, an antique store. They also visited Unadilla, Gregory, Stockbridge and ended with dinner at a Methodist church in Plainfield.

About 15 cars took the trip. Members of the Jackson club, Spårton Horn Region, joined the tour.

The Livingston A's are composed of 26 families.

"We just enjoy driving our Model A's," said Lucille Duke, club historian. Duke's husband is director of the color tour.

"The Livingston county and Jackson clubs are part of a national organization called the Model A Restorers Club. The Livingston county group was formed in June, 1980 by Jerry and Carolyn Smith of Howell. Members come from Pinckney, Gregory, Ann Arbor, Allen Park, Milford, Stockbridge, Fenton, Farmington Hills and Fowlerville.

"Anyone can join. They don't even have to have a Model A. Many are looking to buy and restore Model A's. You just have to be interested in old cars," said Duke.

The club meets 8 p.m., every third Tuesday of the month, at the Livingston Care Center in Howell.

Authorpormorphism

If you're a pet owner, you are more than likely guilty of indulging in authorpormorphism.

Webster's big book defines it as an interpretation of what is not human or personal in terms of human or personal characteristics. How many of us think our dogs or cats have a sense of humor or other human characteristics? Most of us would swear to it.

The animal rights movement is raising our consciousness about the treatment of wild and domesticated animals, involving the morality of the relations between humans and other animals. The recent appearance of books with titles like "The Moral Status of Animals" and "Animal Rights and Human Obligations" is a good indication of what's going on. There is an increasing tendency to extend moral questions beyond our own species.

If carried too far, this trend could present a threat to commercial agriculture. Already, the animal rights movement is pushing for federal legislation to regulate the care of livestock on farms. Carried to its ultimate, the movement would lead to a vegetarian society, in which the butchering of animals for human nutrition would be outlawed.

CHS Stage, Drama Class Casts Play

Chelsea High school stage and drama class has taken another step towards opening night of this year's play, "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder. Director-producer William Coelius has selected the cast.

This year's class has been unusually large and the play had only a small number of speaking parts, making casting a tough job.

"I could have completely cast the play twice," said Coelius. Try-outs lasted six days. For the leading roles, Coelius chose senior Mark Henson as stage manager and narrator. Senior Mark Neff will play George Gibbs and junior Sue Overdort will play Emily Webb. Mark Stebelton has the role of Dr. Gibbs.

The remaining Gibb family members are Sue Nye as Mrs. Gibbs and Devon Thomas as Rebecca Gibbs. Mr. and Mrs. Webb are Mike Carignan and Laurel Inglis. Mark Frietas will play Wally Webb.

Steve Dotson was cast as Howie Newsom; Dave Bareis as Professor Willard; Kim Howard as Mrs. Soames; Chris Herter as Simon Stimson; Jeff Staebler as Jim Crowell; Rob Abdon as SI Crowell; Phil Shures as constable Warren; John Mitchell as Sam Craig; and Phil Sweet as Joe Stoddard.

Baseball players Nos. 1, 2 and 3 will be played by Alan Fromm, Scott Miller and Doug Otto. Dead Men Nos. 1 and 2 are Scott Miller and Chris Miller. Dead Women Nos. 1 and 2 are Sue Grant and Ann Stock.

Karol Gerstler will be the woman in the balcony; Heather Greiner, the lady in the box; and Alicia Dalton, the woman in the auditorium.

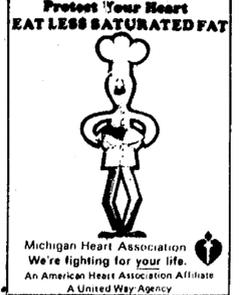

Assistant stage managers are Chris Defant and Cathy Burkel.

Townspiece will be played by Ann Acree, Jennifer Bell, Donna Bruck, Jenny Cattell, Missy Connell, Carol Cordell, Sally Crawford, Melinda Fletcher, Karen Hawks, Katie Heaton, Cyndi Issel, Sue Jacques, Marty Koernke, Cindy Kvarnberg, Kris Mattoff, Kelly Murphy, Jill Schaffner, Sonya Steele, Julie Thompson, and Amy Wolfgang.

A third of all organisms living in coastal Hawaiian waters are found nowhere else on earth, say wildlife experts.

The age recorded on whiskey bottles refers to the number of years it is aged prior to being bottled. Once, in the bottle, whiskey does not improve.

22 Senior Band Members Saluted

Twenty-two senior band members were saluted during half-time at the Chelsea-Tecumseh football game, Friday, Oct. 19.

Seniors performed music they had enjoyed from their past four years in marching band. Each student was then introduced with their parents and performed a solo. Parents presented their children with a corsage. Each presentation was photographed.

Senior band members are: Alicia Dalton, Mark Freitas, Deborah Garman, Forest Geesey, Aisoi Hepburn, Cynthia Issel, Laura Koepele, Rebecca Lee, Joseph Merkel, Richard Mindykowski, William Moller, Karen Moore, Dawn Olson, Richard Proctor, Rachel Schmell, Joseph Simon, Joshua Smith, Phoebe Strong, Willem VanReesema, Wendy Westphal, Amy Wolter and Michelle Young.

Chelsea Music Boosters congratulated the seniors for their hard work, dedication, and outstanding performance.

CHELSEA FIREMEN burned down the remains of the Walter Jarvis home at 2690 McKinley Rd. last Sunday morning. The house had been destroyed in a July 22 blaze. Top photo shows the shell burning to the ground. Below, fireman Dan Ellenwood shovels fuel into the basement to make sure of a total burn.

Chelsea Firemen Burn Down Building As Training Exercise

Chelsea firemen burned down a house last Sunday morning, but it was done in the interest of learning how to do their work better.

The Walter Jarvis home at 2690 McKinley Rd. caught fire early in the morning of Sunday, July 22, with an estimated total loss of $70,000. Only a shell remained.

Last Sunday, the fire department burned up the shell to complete the demolition job.

"We were asked to do it, and we agreed because it was a good training exercise," fire chief Paul (Bud) Hankerd explained.

coming out at 8 o'clock on a Sunday morning and working until after noon.

"We were fortunate that it was an excellent morning for a controlled burn. The weather was damp, and there was no way the fire could have gotten away from us and spread to adjoining property.

"It would have cost Mr. Jarvis a considerable amount to have somebody come in with a bulldozer and knock down what was left after the original fire. Now all he has to do is cover the hole in the basement.

"We tried out our smoke masks and our heat-resistant uniforms, and gave our men experience in working close to a real hot fire. It was good training."

The remains of the house were still smoldering in the basement on Monday morning but everything, including the chimney, was down in the hole and safe.

The cloud of smoke drew a continuing crowd of onlookers drawn to the scene by what looked from a distance like a "real" fire.

The first photograph of a President in office was made of President James Polk in 1849.

St. Louis Center Elects Officers

At its annual meeting the St. Louis advisory board elected new officers for 1984-85 year. Nels DeFord, past president, conducted the election.

Dr. Walter Niemann, an Ann Arbor dentist was elected new president; Walter Lewis of Ann Arbor, vice-president; Mrs. Eileen Gondek of Chelsea, secretary; and Mrs. Ann Merkel of Chelsea, assumed the office of treasurer.

St. Louis center is located in Chelsea and administrated by the Servants of Charity. This order of priests was founded in Italy and is dedicated to the care and education of disabled young boys and adults.

The center is composed of a school and living facilities which meets the education and basic skill needs for boys to the age of 18. The present enrollment is 50 boys of all ages.

A recent addition is St. Joseph Hall, a group living facility for boys 18 to 26.

This hall is a transitional stage from the school. Here the young men through a dedicated staff can develop those independent living skills that will allow the young adult to make the next transition to a supervised group home of other community living arrangements.

The St. Joseph Hall was dedicated Oct. 21. The Most Reverend Kenneth Pavish Bishop of Lansing concelebrated a Mass at 11 a.m., followed by a brunch and open house.

Fair Board Schedules Special Meeting To Pick Carnival Replacement

The Chelsea Community Fair Board of Directors has scheduled a special meeting at 8:30 tomorrow night to consider selection of a carnival for the 1985 fair.

Crown Amusements has put on the carnival during the past several years, but has a scheduling conflict for the proposed dates of the 1985 fair—the third week of August.

"We want to move the fair dates up to get away from clashes with the State Fair and the opening of school," spokesman John Wellnitz explained. "Crown Amusements is committed for that week, and so we will have to find another carnival. A couple of firms have expressed interest.

"Crown has done a good job for us, and the change in no way reflects on them," Wellnitz said.

It's purely a matter of scheduling."

Attending the Oct. 18 meeting of the fair board were vice-president Jerry Herrick, secretary Mary Ann Guenther, and directors Archie Bradbury, Earl Heller, Charles Koenn, Jeff Laylor, Ralph McCalla, Tom Dault, Edson Whitaker and Jerry Heydlauff.

The first English dictionary was published in 1604. Called The Table Alphabetical of Hard Words, it included about 3,000 words.

ACT Tests Scheduled For Oct. 27

ACT testing will be held at Chelsea High school on Saturday, Oct. 27, 7 a.m. to 12 p.m. The deadline to register for testing passed on Oct. 16.

This is the last time seniors can take the tests to qualify for scholarships, said Sue Carter, high school counselor.

Juniors may take the tests on April 20, 1985, if they register by March 22, and June 8 with a May 10 registration deadline.

Seniors, who missed the Oct. 16 deadline, may still take the test in time for college entrance. Tests are being offered in Ann Arbor on Dec. 8 and Feb. 9, 1985. Registration deadline for Dec. 8 is Nov. 9, and for Feb. 9 is Jan. 11.

Most Chelsea High school students take the tests as juniors.

As an official test site, the high school hosts students from the surrounding areas including Ann Arbor, Stockbridge, and Manchester. About 100 students are expected Saturday. If Chelsea High school were not an official test site, Chelsea students would have to go to Ann Arbor.

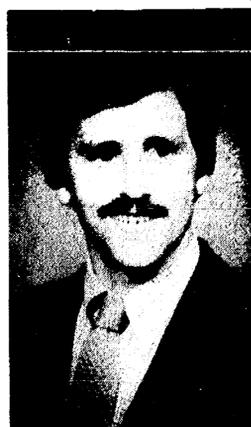

The ACT tests four areas: English, math, social studies, and science. The four scores are averaged to get a composite score.

Every Michigan college accepts the ACT for admission. College-bound students must take the test.

"For some children, there's a lot riding on the line. They really want to do well, they're hoping it will make a difference," said John Williams, high school principal.

Special Education Classes Compete in Special Olympics

Special education classes of Chelsea High and Beach Middle schools competed in the Special Olympics in a 12-team poly-hockey tournament sponsored by the Western Kiwanis Club of Washtenaw county. The tournament was held at Whitmore Lake High school.

The high school class placed third behind the first-place Mack Community program and second-place Milan. Beach took fifth place.

According to Chelsea special education teacher, Nancy Cooper, the high school defeated Dexter High in the first game, 2-1. Ken Smith and Terence Verge scored goals. Chelsea's Most Valuable Player, Jay Curry, showed excellent goal-keeping. Playing excellent defense were Marcus Miller, Dave Mytyk, Dave Cercone, Denise Devoe, Dawn Stancato, and Donald Ellery. Offense players were Theresa Carlson, John Wilson and Glenn Passow.

Chelsea won a second game against St. Louis Center, 3-1, in a very close match. Smith, Passow and Carlson scored goals.

A final game against Milan ended in Chelsea's defeat, 2-1. Passow scored that goal.

Beach defeated High Point Center's young adults, 3-1. Shawn Finley captured two of those goals and Keith Valliencourt earned the third. Steven Veiry played goal keeper for Beach. Kevin Veiry, Matt Stautz, and Dan Polens played center and Eddie Krieger played excellent offense, said Cooper.

Beach lost the second game against Milan, 6-1. Steven Veiry scored the only goal.

The next big event for the Special Olympics will be a three-day bowling tournament at Chelsea Lanes sponsored by Ann Arbor Civitan Club. Junior high athletes will bowl Nov. 15. Elementary ages will bowl in the morning Nov. 16 and over 26 will bowl that afternoon. High school athletes will bowl Nov. 19.

Anyone interested in volunteering should contact Nancy Cooper at Chelsea High school, 475-9131.

Amy Check Has Role in Olivet College Musical

Amy Check, daughter of John and Betty Check of 1311 Freer Rd., Chelsea, will perform in Olivet College's upcoming production of the Stephen Sondheim musical "Company."

Amy is a 1982 graduate of Leelanau High school where she participated in softball, tennis, and performed in productions such as "The Apple Tree," "Roar of the Greasepaint: The Smell of the Crowd."

Amy is a junior at Olivet College majoring in communications. She is a member of Olivet's business club, Students in Free Enterprises, and she performed in the musical "Cabaret" last year.

Amy will play the role of April in "Company." She describes her character as being "off a limb, flighty and impulsive."

The musical will be presented Nov. 15-17 at the Oaks Theatre in downtown Olivet.

The globefish staves off predators by gulping a large quantity of water, till it becomes simply too large to be swallowed by its enemies.
