ONE HUNDRED-FIFTEENTH YEAR—No. 42

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1985

20 Pages This Week Plus 2 Supplements

Beach School Teams Dominate Academic Games Tournament

BETTY COX has been the faculty sponsor for Chelsea's Academic Games team for five years. This year at the MLAG State Tournament at EMU March 7-11, she was awarded a special plaque honoring her as one of six outstanding sponsors for the 1984-85 school year. Introducing her for her award, Stuart White (the executive director of MLAG) said, "Betty has taken a small team and turned it into one of the most productive teams in the state."

Beach school's Academic Games Team competed in the Michigan League of Academic Games (MLAG) State Tournament held at EMU's Hoyt Conference Center Thursday, March 7 through Monday, March 11. Twenty-three sixth, seventh, and eighth graders, sponsored by Betty Cox, competed against 940 students from 53 southern Michigan schools.

Names chosen for the four five-member teams were Beverly Hills Cubes, Visual Vibes, Cubular Kids, and The Chelsea Champs.

The Beverly Hills Cubes won a first-place division trophy in "Equations" and an honorable mention trophy in "Mr. Presidents." A second-place trophy was awarded to the Visual Vibes in "On Words" and a third-place trophy was earned by the Cubular Kids in "Equations."

Sixth grade team, The Chelsea Champs, also were awarded a third-place trophy in "On Words" against tough seventh and eighth grade teams.

At a Saturday evening awards ceremony, sponsor Betty Cox was presented with a special plaque of appreciation for outstanding service in working with the local teams.

An Elementary tournament followed the Middle school contest Sunday, March 10 and Monday, March 11. Fourth, fifth, and sixth graders competed with The Chelsea Champs winning a trophy in each game they played, including the State Championship in "Elementary On Words" completing a record three-years-in-a-row for Chelsea teams.

The team was also awarded a second-place trophy in "World Card" and an honorable mention (Continued on page three)

Moonlight Madness Spring Sale Slated Thursday Evening

Chelsea merchants are once again participating in their almost-spring Moonlight Madness celebration Thursday, March 21 from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Shoppers in search of bargains may find it at the traditional event. Most stores will close at their regular times, to set up displays and make other preparations, then re-open at 7 p.m.

School Board Endorses Rod, Gun Club Request For Property Tax Relief

By an unanimous vote, the Chelsea Board of Education at its March 4 meeting gave its approval to efforts of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club to be relieved of property taxation by Lyndon township. The club is seeking tax relief on the grounds that it makes substantial educational and scientific contributions to the community and, as a non-profit organization, should not be taxed.

The current Lyndon township tax of $3,100 absorbs all the dues now paid by the members while leaving them with more than $5,000 in expenses for operation of the building and 61 acres of forested land.

In a letter addressed to the school board and signed by Fred Klunk, Jr., club president and chief conservation officer, the club said that for 20 years DNR-certified instructors have provided free hunter-safety instruction which all Michigan hunters must receive in order to qualify for hunting licenses. The letter also cited Michigan law which mandates that DNR hunter-safety instruction must be provided by the local school district if it is not available elsewhere in the community.

Should the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club go out of existence, the Chelsea School District would be faced with unusual new responsibilities:

—Instruction in the use of firearms which will involve student possession, handling and firing of weapons on school-supervised property.

—The need to acquire or lease a classroom to which the students will bring rifles, shotguns, handguns and ammunition, as well as hunting bows and arrows.

—The need to acquire or lease, and then equip and maintain, a trap shooting facility for shotgun instruction, a target range for rifle instruction, and an archery range for use with armored arrows.

—The need to provide transportation of students to the instruction sites.

—Fulfillment of the requirements of state law for hunting safety instruction might also have to be provided by the school district for adults seeking licenses as hunters.

The letter also said the the use of firearms on school-controlled property and the discharge of ammunition by children, as well as adults, would require special insurance liability coverages.

There would also be the customary administrative costs (Continued on page four)

Advertising Benches Ordered Removed By Zoning Inspector

The Ad-A-Bench of Brighton has been given until April 3 to remove its advertising benches from the village, according to Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook.

Harook says she will also notify the American Bench Co. of Detroit to remove its bench from in front of the Union 76 station on S. Main St. as soon as she can get by the company's answering machine.

In a related action, the Zoning Board of Appeals, at their March 5 meeting, voted not to consider an application for a variance filed by Robert G. Semak of Ad-A-Bench, and to return his $75 application fee.

The bench signs violate village zoning ordinances, according to Harook. She said the benches are considered to be off-site signs, which are not permitted in Chelsea.

In a letter from Carl V. Schmult, Jr., a professional community planner and consultant to the village, to former Zoning Inspector Carl Sanderson, "the signs are by definition off-site signs, since they identify or advertise businesses that are located on properties other than those occupied by the benches. Furthermore, at least some of the benches, and thus the signs, are located in public street rights-of-way, and are therefore not on the same lot as the business that is identified or advertised. These signs would be outdoor advertising signs, and would therefore be subject to the regulations in Section 15.627. These signs do not comply with the regulations of that section."

The letter also states that "any sign that is attached to a bench that is located in a street right-of-way does not meet the setback requirements of Section 15.608."

Schmult's final objection was that "only on-site signs are permitted in commercial, office and industrial districts."

Another reason for turning down Semak's variance application was that the company did not demonstrate sufficient hardship, Harook said. She said the company also placed their signs in the village without consent of the village.

"Any business person should know that he'd have to have consent from someone in the village," Harook said. "That's just common sense."

According to Harook, if the signs are not removed by April 3, the village will either take legal action or simply remove the signs. She said the exact course of action has yet to be determined.

"I think they are being unrealistic," said Sharon Roberts, owner of Roberts Realty, who advertises on one of the benches. "There are benches like those in other towns. It's normal to see them in other towns. I think guidelines should be created for them instead. The advertising has been good for me. I'd continue advertising if the village would let me."

The only other bench with a sign is in front of the Chelsea Pharmacy. It says simply that it is property of the Chelsea Methodist Home, and it will be allowed to stay as a courtesy to the home, Harook said.

Jeff Daniels Comes Home For Premiere of New Movie

Chelsea native and actor Jeff Daniels is the sort of person it would be easy to envy, but, at the same time, difficult to dislike.

At 30, Daniels has had more professional success than most actors see in a lifetime. He's currently starring in Woody Allen's new comedy, "The Purple Rose of Cairo," with Mia Farrow, which opens in Briarwood Mall on Friday. He's the first man, other than Allen himself, to play the lead in a Woody Allen movie. Later this year, you'll be able to see him in the film, "Marie," with Sissy Spacek, a story about corruption in the Tennessee penal system.

Add those to his resume, which includes a small part in the movie "Ragtime," and a larger part in "Terms of Endearment," the 1983 Academy Award winner. He's also played the part of a lawyer in "Invasion of Privacy," a Valerie Harper made-for-television movie and starred in off-Broadway plays.

Personally, he's doing just fine, too. His wife, the former Kathleen Treado, also a Chelsea native, gave birth to their son Ben in November. Kathleen, 25, a former cheerleader and hurdler at Chelsea High school, married Daniels in 1979.

"For the first time," Jeff says, "we can look at each other and say we think it all worked out, we'll be able to relax a little bit."

"It all," was taking the chance on moving to New York City, where they now live, with no (Continued on page five)

The Rev. Erwin R. Koch was installed as pastor of St. Paul United Church of Christ on Sunday, March 29. Koch was the former minister of St. John's UCC, Kenton, O., where he served for 13 years. He had held pastorates in St. Charles and St. Louis, Mo.

For the first time, Chelsea was selected to host the State Solo and Ensemble Festival. Held in the Beach Middle school auditorium, students from approximately 35 schools, including Chelsea, took part, being judged individually and in groups of up to eight members. Participants were judged in five categories: tone, intonation, rhythm, interpretation and technique.

Modern Mothers Child Study Club began support of the Waterloo Nature Center with the donation of two benches placed along the walkway to the Center when it opened. Proceeds from the Chelsea Challenge Run, sponsored by the group and held in May, were to go to the Waterloo Natural History Association for the second year in succession.

After four generations of service to the community, Staffan Funeral Home was sold by Mr. and Mrs. George L. Staffan to John Wesley Mitchell, formerly of Rochester and a newcomer to Chelsea. He graduated from Okemos High school near Lansing, and attended Western Michigan University. He received his degree from the Wisconsin Institute of Mortuary Science in 1965 and was the recipient of the Mu Sigma Alpha Mortuary Award for Restorative Art Excellence.

Chelsea United Methodist church consecrated a new 26 bank, two manual Zimmer Traker Pipe Organ at a service held Sunday, March 29. The community was invited to enjoy an organ recital and Chancel Choir concert in celebration of the new organ.

Washtenaw County Community Mental Health Center opened a Community Health Center in Chelsea. Offices were provided by the Chelsea Medical Clinic, 775 S. Main St. The service was designed to help meet the mental health needs of local individuals. Approximately 300 persons attended the annual Winter Sports Awards Banquet at the high school cafeteria. The family potluck included families and members of the varsity, JV, and freshman basketball teams, the cheerleaders, and the drill team. Ron Sweeny and Howie Treado shared the honor of the varsity team's most valuable player award.

Palmer Ford Drag Club had the largest meeting of the season at its program featuring a discussion with Cpl. Robert Fitzgerald of the Jackson State Police post. He showed a movie concerning auto accidents, their causes and the results. He also discussed safety requirements on all cars, and a new speed-trap system.

Severe weather conditions created unusual, almost insurmountable road conditions, according to the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners. The transition from Ice Cap to snow-covered mud holes, in less than two weeks' time led the Road Commission to apply the annual load limits earlier than usual. The rapid change from deep freeze to quick thaw softened the top layer of the roads, creating many hazards overnight.

A very popular activity offered by Beach Middle school was a Boys Cooking Club. The group met during activity period within the school day and was designed to teach basic dishes and nutritional education. Popularity was attributed to the fact that the boys were allowed to eat everything they prepared, in which case "Boy's Eating Club" may have been a better suited name.

Welfare Error Rates Hit All Time Low

Michigan's mispayment error rate for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program dropped to an all-time low in the first half of fiscal year 1983-84, but the program faces possible federal sanctions of $25 million for the fiscal year because errors are substantially above target levels, Department of Social Services officials reported.

The sanctions would be in addition to $34.8 million in threatened sanctions for the 1981-82 and 1982-83 fiscal years when state error rates generally increased while the target requirements were steadily dropping.

Department Director Agnes Mansour said the state would appeal any sanction imposed, and failing that, would file a lawsuit claiming the targets are unreasonable and arbitrarily too low.

"We consider it to be an unreasonable standard. This simply is not the time to be expecting states to meet continuously decreasing sanction rates," she said.

Ralph Douglas, acting regional family assistance administrator in Chicago for the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, said no decision has yet been made on the threatened sanction. Michigan is one of seven states which has never been sanctioned for AFDC, food stamp or Medicaid programs.

The state AFDC error rate—which includes ineligible and overpayments—in April-September, 1984, was 6.6 percent, while the sanction target had dropped to 3 percent.

In the first half of the fiscal year, the rate was 8.1 percent. The prior low was 7.1 percent for the 1980-81 fiscal year.

Mansour said inadequacies in the quality control system make the targeted rates unrealistic, and said she supports pending legislation to restructure the system and change the targets.

The director said the 3 percent target is particularly unrealistic given federal policy changes and said sanction should take into consideration individual state problems, such as Michigan's with a high urban population and a more error-prone program to aid unemployed families.

Food stamp and Medicaid programs remain above targeted sanctions: the error rate in the food stamp program was 5.9 percent in the last six months of fiscal 1984, down from 6.7 percent in the first six months and compared to a 7 percent target.

Fiscal 1984 figures were unavailable for Medicaid but had increased to 2.3 percent in the first half of the year, from 1.2 percent in the last of fiscal 1983, while the sanction target is 3 percent.

Mansour said target rates were needed to prod states into improving their programs, but said, "We should concentrate not on sanction, but on performance. A system which is punitive and simply shifts costs to the states is not equitable."

School District Deficits Hit Low

The annual list of school districts that finished their 1983-84 fiscal years in deficit was the smallest list since the figures were first kept. According to figures released by the state Department of Education, 23 school districts had deficits totalling $63.7 million at the end of the year.

Since the list was first compiled in 1973, the lowest number of deficit districts had been 26 in 1973-74. The largest number of deficit districts was 59 in 1975-76.

Under the state law, a school district that finishes its fiscal year with a deficit must develop a plan to eliminate the deficit within two years.

The largest school district, Detroit, reported a deficit that was approximately 75 percent of the total from all the districts—$48.8 million.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip Runkel said Detroit should be able to eliminate its deficit by the end of the current fiscal year using a millage proposal that passed last November.

Two Walk Away From Camp Waterloo

Chelsea Police reported two walkaways from camp Waterloo Correction Prison Saturday, March 16 and Sunday, March 17. As of press time, neither man had been captured.

On Saturday, Darrin Smith, 23, a black male from Detroit left the facility. He is serving one to five years for larceny.

Leon Favors left the camp on Sunday. Favors is a 38-year-old black male serving four to six years for armed robbery.

The next step follows as true as new loopholes feller tax reform, Zeke reported. The folks that make commercials are making em to good to miss. They say the ads have got to reward the viewer, so they tell em a story and slip in the message. For instant, Zeke went on, Wrangler jeans spent $1 million making ads that look like adventure movies, and they're drawing folks back from the bathroom and the icebox during the breaks. With TV time going for a million a minute like during the Super Bowl, Zeke allowed, the pitch has got to be right and hang the cost. So it looks like fer ever zap there's a unzip, was Zeke's words.

General speaking, the fellers spoke with even less authority on the subject than Zeke. But Bug Hookum come with the reminder that, as in so much in this world, the little children are leading us. When he's around youngsters watching TV, Bug said, he notes that the younger they are the less they watch the show and the more they watch the commercial. It might be that they're figuring the next thing to ask Ma to buy, he went on, but probable they know quality when they see it. Wrangler has got the right idea, Bug declared, make the commercial the show and ferget the stuff that goes between em.

Practical speaking, Clem Webster allowed, the advertiser has got to be listened to. He recalled a newspaper editor saying once that all his readers were his friends, but his advertisers were his special friends. You can slice it as thick or as thin as you for such functions as budgeting, funding, enrollment, record-keeping for student achievement and administrative control, and costs related to the certification process.

In a letter signed by Dale Schumann, president of the school board, and addressed to John D. Hurd, Lyndon township supervisor, Schumann wrote: "The Chelsea Board of Education has reviewed correspondence received from the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, and we wish to go on record as supporting the plea of the club to have tax-exempt status. The Chelsea Board of Education is appreciative of the efforts of the Rod and Gun Club's educational programs for the Chelsea School District residents.

"The Board of Education is aware that the Rockford Sportsman's Club, near Grand Rapids, approached their township and has received either reduced taxes or complete tax abatement. The township sought the opinion of the State Tax Tribunal and was told that if the club was registered as a non-profit organization, the township could, in fact, eliminate or lower the taxes. Similarly the Livingston County Wildlife and Sports Association was granted exemption from property taxes.

"It is the understanding of the Chelsea Board of Education that the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club does operate as a non-profit organization and should be given consideration for tax abatement."

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, March 23, 1961—Marjorie Wheeler, Patrice Murdock and Carol Wheeler of Dexter and Karen Spike of Manchester were candidates in the annual Washtenaw County Dairy Princess contest.

Chelsea's newest industry, a firm specializing in the manufacturing of swimming pools made of ceramic tile embedded in fiberglass, expected to begin production the following week in the former Gudeman plant on Old US-12 adjoining the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds. Name of the new firm awaited a decision at a meeting of company officials.

Kiwanis club members and their wives and other guests attended the Chelsea club's 37th birthday party held at the Methodist church.

Charles Koenn, Chelsea High school senior, received the State Farmer Award from the Michigan Future Farmers of America Association as part of the 33rd annual state convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Koenn's leadership in FFA included serving as president of the Chelsea chapter; service as secretary; delegate to the state convention; member of Chelsea parliamentary procedure team that reached regional contests for two years; and chairman and member of many committees of the local chapter.

At the end of its third week in Russia, the University of Michigan Symphony Band had traveled more than 7,600 miles and played to audiences totaling well over 40,000. Michigan's famed marching song, "The Victors" continued to top the Russian popularity poll. The band's eight-week stay in the Soviet Union was to be the longest sojourn in the country by any of the cultural exchange groups. The group traveled under auspices of the U. S. Department of State, with expenses covered by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations.

The Chelsea School District participated in Title III of the National Defense Education Act which authorized funds on a matching basis for the strengthening of instruction in science, mathematics, and modern foreign languages. More than 250 books had been added through the program to school libraries.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, March 29, 1951—The Junior Play "Glamour Boy" was presented under the supervision of Miss Schell and Mrs. Martin. The story involved typical high school students and their problems which prove to be both exciting and romantic. Pee-wee [Stanley Toney] and Georgia Belle [Jana Weinberg] were to remind all of their own adolescent romances.

A total of 2,000 persons had seen the Passion Play put on in various churches by young people of Waterloo under the direction of George and Muriel Pluck. The play had been given nine times, the latest showing having taken place Easter Sunday in Salem Grove Methodist church.

A 20 percent steel cutback would become effective April 1 forcing the auto industry to produce a greater proportion of lighter weight model cars.

A Norman Rockwell portrait of the Red Cross poised for emergency action was particularly significant in those troubled times. The Red Cross carried a big share in the nation's defense responsibilities.

Emil H. Ahrens died at the Tirth Nursing Home near Clinton at the age of 81. He was the publisher of The Chelsea Standard for about six months in 1922. He purchased the paper from M. W. McClure who had then published it for about two years. Ahrens sold the business back to McClure after six months. During his career as newspaper publisher, he owned papers at various times in Morenci, Tecumseh, and Clinton.

The public rest rooms in the Municipal building were freshly painted and the Village Council decided to offer a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any persons guilty of defacing the walls or in any way contributing to the destruction or marring of this village property. A clamp down was expected from local police.

Instead of the regular dinner meeting, the Kiwanis club enjoyed a box supper at the high school gymnasium. Charles Cameron, with his ready wit, was an entertaining "auctioneer," selling the boxes to the highest bidder.

Dexter auction prices were as follows: eight week feeder pigs, $11.75-$13.00 each; 100-140 lb. feeder pigs, $26.00-$32.00 each.

Jeff Daniels Home Again

guarantee of success. He could have been just like some of his New York friends, older actors who still have problems paying the rent. There was the culture shock of moving from Chelsea to the Big Apple. And there's the fact that he's turned down six figure salaries to star in a television series, simply because he doesn't want to "get stuck in television." He even refused the lead in the enormously successful "Fatal Vision" mini-series. Now, Kathleen can be a full-time mother even though she finished her degree at Fordham University and for a time managed a boutique on the Upper West Side.

By all accounts, though, Daniels is still basically the same guy he was when he caught passes from Wayne Welton, now Chelsea's baseball coach, in the early '70s on Chelsea's state championship team, or dug Welton's tosses from shortstop out of the dirt at first base. He's kept close contact with his best friends and he and Kathleen have spent the past two summers in the Chelsea area. Daniels says he may have reached a point in his career where they can think about moving back to Chelsea. Scripts will start coming to him. He'll have a choice of good projects.

"One of the things I like most about Jeff is that he always makes a point of coming to one of the games I'm coaching," Welton who roomed with Daniels for two years at CMU says. "He'll even tell me when he thinks I've handled a situation well, or the other way around. He's willing to share those kinds of thoughts. He's every bit as interested in my coaching as I am in his business."

Also, Daniels is on the first whirlwind publicity tour of his life, being interviewed by everybody from Gene Shalit of NBC to John Kelly and Marilyn Turner of Detroit's Kelly & Co. and having dinner with the likes of Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young, "a real great guy," in Jeff's words. A lengthy interview with The Chelsea Standard wasn't about to boost his career into the stratosphere, yet he graciously and enthusiastically consented.

Like many accomplished people, Daniels had his sights set on an acting career early, even though he could have been assured of a secure future at Chelsea Lumber, his father Bob's business. He began working in plays and musicals at Chelsea High school and continued in that vein at Central Michigan University, where he attended school for three years. He and Kathleen were in "The Music Man" together at the high school.

"I tried like hell to go into business," Jeff says. "I worked at the yard in the summers, but I'm no good in math or business. Someone said 'Jeff, we need a 2-8 door.' I couldn't get it unless it was clearly marked."

His first break came when he took a part in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" at Eastern Michigan University. The artistic director happened to be from New York City, where he ran the Circle Repertory Company. He was impressed enough with Daniel's performance to ask him to join. He took acting lessons at the company, carefully studying movement and voice.

"In this business, you do have to have luck and breaks and know people," Daniels says. "But when you do get the break, you have to deliver."

He spent some time in an unsuccessful play with Christopher "Superman" Reeve and William Hurt. The last week of the play, Reeve was flown to London for the "Superman" screening.

"Seeing the success of these people has really helped prepare me for all the pressures," Daniels says. "I've seen the good side and bad side to it."

Working off-Broadway, in a play called "Fifth of July" was Daniels' next big chance. The play ran nine months, but it also introduced him to Juliet Taylor, the casting director, who helped set him up in both "Terms" and "Purple Rose." It was during this time that he began dating Kathleen, who was still in Chelsea.

"I thought 'Terms' was good, but I didn't expect it to do as well as it did," Daniels says. "When I saw it, it was like home movies. I could see the crew, what it took to light it, and could even remember who was fighting with whom."

Even with the success of "Terms," he admits he still had doubts about career security, saying, "I still hadn't made a lot of money with any of those parts, and living in New York is expensive." But one day his agent called him, saying that Woody Allen wanted to meet him. He was told to be prepared for a simple two-minute interview, a standard Woody Allen procedure.

"When I met him, I just faded into the wall," Daniels recalls.

Color Guard Competes at Mt. Morris

Chelsea Winter Color Guard Unit composed of 16 Chelsea High school students, competed at Mt. Morris High school on Saturday evening, March 16. They were awarded a score of 44.9, giving them a fourth-place ranking in Class A competition.

The over-all winner for the Guard competition was Studio One from Flint, with a score of 65.3.

The Chelsea Guard moved up from Auxiliary class to Class A competition, and has received considerably higher scores since having their new hot pink uniforms.

Volunteer director Phil Jones and Mrs. Jones, and several parents accompanied the Color Guard unit to Mt. Morris.

"He asked me what I had done, and I told him 'some off-Broadway stuff.' I didn't even mention 'Terms.' So there I was, essentially trying to talk him out of it! Juliet persuaded him to give me a test."

"The Purple Rose of Cairo" has been one of Woody Allen's most publicized movies ever considering it hasn't even been released in most of the country yet. So far, most of the critics love it. It wouldn't be surprising to see it nominated for an Academy Award.

"Woody took a big chance on me," Daniels says. "Working for him was a ball. He would let me just play around and use whatever I came up with. It was a thrill. There's a key speech in the movie and he even wrote that off the top of his head. He's one of our best film makers. You don't have to be a Woody Allen fan to enjoy it."

Daniels plays two parts, a neurotic actor and the screen character he portrays.

Those who know Daniels will say the probable success of his new movie is not likely to change him much, even though he's sure to be much more widely recognized than he is now, and will certainly be making a lot more money. He'll still share the same old football jokes with Welton about his failure to run the perfect pass route. He'll still prefer Michigan summers to steamy New York.

"I guess you have to change a little because it's all on a nationwide level now, and there will be a lot of attention. But the people who are my good friends will always be there. If they get a vicarious thrill about seeing me on the screen, that's fine. But I'd rather go out and have a beer with them. People can get too intense."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARTY: In celebration of St. Patrick's Day, the Senior Citizens Nutrition Program at North school held a lunchtime party. Irish songs were sung to the accompaniment of the piano played by Marianne Rutledge and chances for a pot of gold were handed out. Those who were green were first in line for a traditional meal of corn beef and cabbage, fluffy Irish pudding and green punch.

Fun Fair 'Successful'

Early indications are that the South School Fun Fair for 1985 held on March 2 was a critical and financial success. The fair profits have been used exclusively for supporting educational projects in the school.

Last year's funds purchased a video player used by the staff to present tapes on safety, fire prevention, learning techniques, documenting special class projects and other valuable information in a stimulating way that is portable and easy to use. Uses for

C. of C. Board Studies Community Interpretation Plan

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors met on Tuesday, March 12.

Guests attending the meeting were Gabe Cherum and Jackie Rogers who are involved in the formulation of a Community Interpretation Plan. Ideas for several projects were presented by Cherum, some of which include an eight-page Chelsea coloring book, brochures for walking tours and seasonal "calendar of activities" leaflets.

A quarterly meeting for all Chamber members will be held on Wednesday, March 27 at 7:30 a.m. A letter, outlining details, will be sent to members.

The Civic Foundation has requested Chamber support in identifying community needs for Foundation funds. Two projects discussed were a wellness/fitness center and a substance abuse program.

this year's profit are under consideration at this time.

Winner of the 20-inch bike whose name was drawn from the coloring contest was Christopher Grossman of Chelsea, a first grader at South school. His name was drawn by special guest, Ronald McDonald who presented a show to the fairgoers stressing fun and personal safety among the students. Besides jokes and games Ronald helped the young people to see the importance of knowing how to stay safe as well as working with police to insure protection.

The beautiful weather was at least in part responsible for the fair drawing from not only Chelsea, but Brighton, Dexter and Manchester to the festivities.

A PARTY TO REWARD STUDENTS of North School who had read a set quota of Laura Ingalls Wilder books was designed to be both entertaining and educational. Talented members of the Senior Citizens Kitchen Band are shown displaying their musical abilities for the enthralled group of youngsters.

THE YOUNG AND THE YOUNG-AT-HEART share a musical moment in conjunction with the Laura Ingalls Wilder party held at North School to encourage reading of the "Little House" books.

Besides sampling recipes possibly eaten by the author, herself, at the turn-of-the-century, students were entertained by the Senior Center's Kitchen Band.

Party Held at North School for Laura Ingalls Wilder Fans

Children who had read enough books by Laura Ingalls Wilder received an invitation to a party held Thursday, March at the North School Media Center.

Laura Ingalls Wilder wrote the "Little House" books, beginning with "Little House in the Big Woods." They are semi-biographical accounts of growing up in America at the turn of the century. Her various experiences are related with such detail that they can be readily imagined, and the illustrations by Garth Williams complement the books superbly, according to North School Media Specialist, Barbara Locks.

She is also assured that children who take the time to read just one book in the series will be hooked and continue to read them all.

The children brought their lunches to the party and also sampled food such as the popular author may have eaten. Most of them agreed that corn bread tastes much better with the addition of eggs, sugar, and shortening, instead of the cornmeal and water only recipe that was prevalent during that historical time period.

Although many students disliked ginger water, (water, brown sugar, vinegar, and powdered ginger) they admitted that their reception may have been more enthusiastic on a hot, dry day.

Several children also discovered the truth of Almonzo's statement in "Farmer Boy," that popcorn and milk are the only two things that can occupy the same space at the same time. Mixing one cup of milk and one cup of popcorn demonstrated that, in fact, the milk does not overflow just as the character pointed out.

Recipes from "The Little House Cookbook: Frontier Foods from Laura Ingalls Wilder's Classic Stories" by Barbara Walker provided cooking directions for lettuce leaves sprinkled with vinegar and sugar, then rolled up to eat and for Vanity Cakes provided by Chris Gaunt. Both recipes received pleased responses from the young palates.

A second Laura Ingalls Wilder Party is scheduled for Thursday, March 21 from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. for those young readers who qualify.

Entertainment by the talented Senior Citizen's Kitchen Band was also enjoyed by the students in conjunction with the party.

SPRING CLEANING: Leland J. Kalmbach, retired president and chairman of the board of Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., does a

MEA Workshop Set For March 28 in Dexter

State Senator Lana Pollack (D-Ann Arbor) will participate in a Legislative Contact Team Workshop sponsored by the Michigan Education Association on Thursday, March 28. The workshop will be held in the Dexter High School Library from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. with Senator Pollack scheduled to make remarks at 7 p.m.

Senator Pollack will comment on the importance of the MEA's Legislative Contact Teams and on Senate Bill 60 which is pending before the Senate Appropriations and Retirement Committee.

Senator Pollack is a co-sponsor of Senate Bill 60 which would rewrite Michigan's Public School Employees Retirement Act to improve the pension benefits offered to present and future public school retirees.

Approximately 35 to 50 MEA members working with legislators from Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw counties will participate in the workshop which is designed to improve communication between educators and state policy makers.

North Lake Church Sets Date for Annual Egg Supper

North Lake United Methodist church will be holding its 109th annual Egg Supper on Friday, March 22, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

This Easter season custom was started back in 1876 when members of the local church met at one of their homes. They continued to hold the dinners at different members homes for several years after that. In recent years this event has been held at the church and the public has been invited.

The Rev. Dave Collins invites everyone to stop by for a delicious meal and to visit the historic church, which will celebrate its 150th year next year.

Tree Pruning Demonstration Scheduled

Is pruning your apple tree more traumatic for you than the tree? How do you know if you are cutting off too much or too little? Why bother at all—is it worth the fuss?

The answer to the last question is an emphatic yes! Pruning fruit trees produce larger, healthier fruit and makes pest control and harvesting easier. Learn the answers to these other questions by watching the experts prune young and established apple trees.

The Washtenaw county Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring an apple pruning demonstration on Saturday, March 23. It will be held at 1 p.m. at Ward's Orchard and Produce Market at 5565 Merritt Rd., south of Ypsilanti. Specialists will be on hand to demonstrate and discuss pruning young and mature apple trees.

Call the Washtenaw county Cooperative Extension Service (973-9510) by March 21 if you plan to attend or wish for more details.

Area Students On Dean's List At Albion College

Albion College recently named 360 students to its dean's list for the fall semester. Students must maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average (based on a 4.0 system) while carrying a full schedule of classes, to earn a position on the prestigious roster.

Honored from Chelsea are Diane E. Moller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Moller, 14148 Hay Rake Hollow; and Mary Kay Poljan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Poljan, Jr., 13875 McKinley. Also named from Dexter is Andrew G. Urquhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian A. Urquhart, 230 Steinbach Rd.

Albion College, founded in 1835, is located in the south central Michigan town of the same name. During the academic year 1984-85, Albion will be celebrating its Sesquicentennial. A privately supported co-educational liberal arts college, Albion is related to the United Methodist Church and has more than 1,600 students from 30 states and 11 foreign countries.

Joanie Marsh Has Lead Role in Ann Arbor Play

"Many Moons" a comic fairy tale by James Thurber, will be presented March 22-24 in Pioneer High schools' Little Theatre by the Ann Arbor Public Schools Recreation Department's Junior Theatre Co.

The princess, played by Joanie Marsh of Chelsea, is promised the moon by her father in the comedy.

Joanie, is the daughter of Bill and Christine Marsh, McKinley St., Chelsea.

Joanie studied drama and dance at the Interlochen Center for the Arts, the summer of '83. She was the cast as Hester, and orphan, in the Chelsea Area Players' production "Annie" last summer.

Joanie is a student at Beach Middle school. She enjoys singing and studies the violin.

Tickets for "Many Moons" performances are on sale at the Recreation Dept., 2250 S. Seventh St., Ann Arbor.

Seven Chosen For Young Authors Meet

Seven talented young writers from Beach Middle school participated in the fifth annual Washtenaw County Young Authors Conference, which was held at Nellie Ackerson Middle school in Manchester on Saturday, March 16.

The seven students from Chelsea who submitted writings for the Young Authors anthology are Matt Peckham, Amy Everett, Jamey Ketner, Mark Chasteen, Mindy Ryan, Bill Coelius and Heather Keane.

Mrs. St. Louis from Beach Middle school, and Mrs. Crouch from North school have worked on the planning committee along with teachers from other school districts in Washtenaw county.

Mrs. St. Louis and Mrs. Brown, also from Beach Middle school, served as discussion leaders at the conference.

The event featured guest speakers and workshops for many young writers from Washtenaw county.

Edward Bulwer-Lytton's "Pelham" was the first paperback book, published in Germany in 1841.

'TIS SPRING AGAIN: Sharing the "sunny side of the street" with John Williams is neighbor, John Wellnitz, 520 Howard Rd., who cheerfully points out blooming crocuses in his yard, also. The cold, dreary winter days seem to inspire renewed awe and enthusiasm for the first colorful spring flowers.

BLOSSOMING DEFIANTLY in celebration of spring are these magnificent crocuses discovered in John Williams' yard at 522 Howard Rd. The principal at Chelsea High school enjoys one of the first colorful reminders that warmer days are approaching. Crocuses normally precede other flowering plants in displaying encouraging seasonal colors, possibly inspired by the same impatience that grips most northern residents at this time of year.

YOUNG WRITERS: The seven talented young writers from Beach Middle school who participated in the fifth annual Washtenaw County Young Authors Conference held in Manchester are from left, Matt Peckham, Amy Everett, Jamey Ketner, Mark Chasteen, Mindy Ryan, Bill Coelius, and Heather Keane. The conference featured guest speakers and workshops for young writers from Washtenaw county.

SPORTS

Talented Softball Team Preparing To Battle for 7th Consecutive Title

Once again, softball fans can anticipate a fight for the Southeastern Conference Championship between the Chelsea Bulldogs and the Saline Hornets, with a stiff challenge by Pinckney, and perhaps Dexter, according to Chelsea coach Charlie Waller. Chelsea's going for its seventh straight title.

While Saline features one of the best pitchers in the conference, in the Holly Knieper, and was the only conference team to beat the Bulldogs last year, Chelsea is returning all but one starter from last year's 34-4 team that won the conference and was narrowly beaten by Mt. Morris in the state championship game, 2-0. Waller says Pinckney has a good program and that Dexter may be the sleeper in the conference due to Walt Keppler's guidance.

"We were very, very young last year and we played better than our expectations," Waller says. "Although people think we have dominated, it has been by a very small margin. There's also a certain amount of luck involved. Of course, you have to be awfully good to get there in the first place."

Chelsea is also in the enviable position of having "almost too much pitching," according to Waller. However, a key to their effectiveness will be at the other end of the battery. Chelsea has lost all-state catcher Joyce Robards. Junior Michelle Easton and backup Laura Anderson are likely to draw the assignment.

If we're going to be strong, we're going to need good performances from our catchers," Waller says. "I think Michelle feels a lot of pressure, but she very much wants to play. She's a competitor who will probably hit with power."

The pitchers are led by seniors Beth Unterbrink, Kelly Hawker and Joann Tobin. Unterbrink, an all-state performer, was one of the best, if not the best, pitcher in the conference last year. Juniors on the staff are Chris DeFant and Jill Schaffner.

"Our biggest problem with the pitchers is going to be finding the time to give them a chance to throw," Waller says. "Our three top pitchers could start for any school in the state."

The pitchers should hit their stride early. They've been throwing since January.

Offensively, Waller says his teams have never featured power hitters. Instead they have mastered the bunt-and-run, which will also apply to this year's group. That strategy, in part, relies on the opponent to self-destruct on defense by throwing the ball away or not being quick enough to get it.

For followers of last year's team, this year's squad should look like a photo copy.

At first base, when she's not pitching, will be Tobin, who had state honorable-mention honors last year. She's a power hitter, according to Waller, who also bunts well, making her doubly dangerous.

Second base will be occupied by senior co-captain Anne Weber, the team's speedy lead-off hitter.

DeFant and junior Jenny Cattell will probably split time at shortstop. If there is a difference between them, Waller says, it is that Cattell may have slightly better range, while DeFant may have a stronger arm.

Anderson will play third base when she's not in her role as back-up catcher.

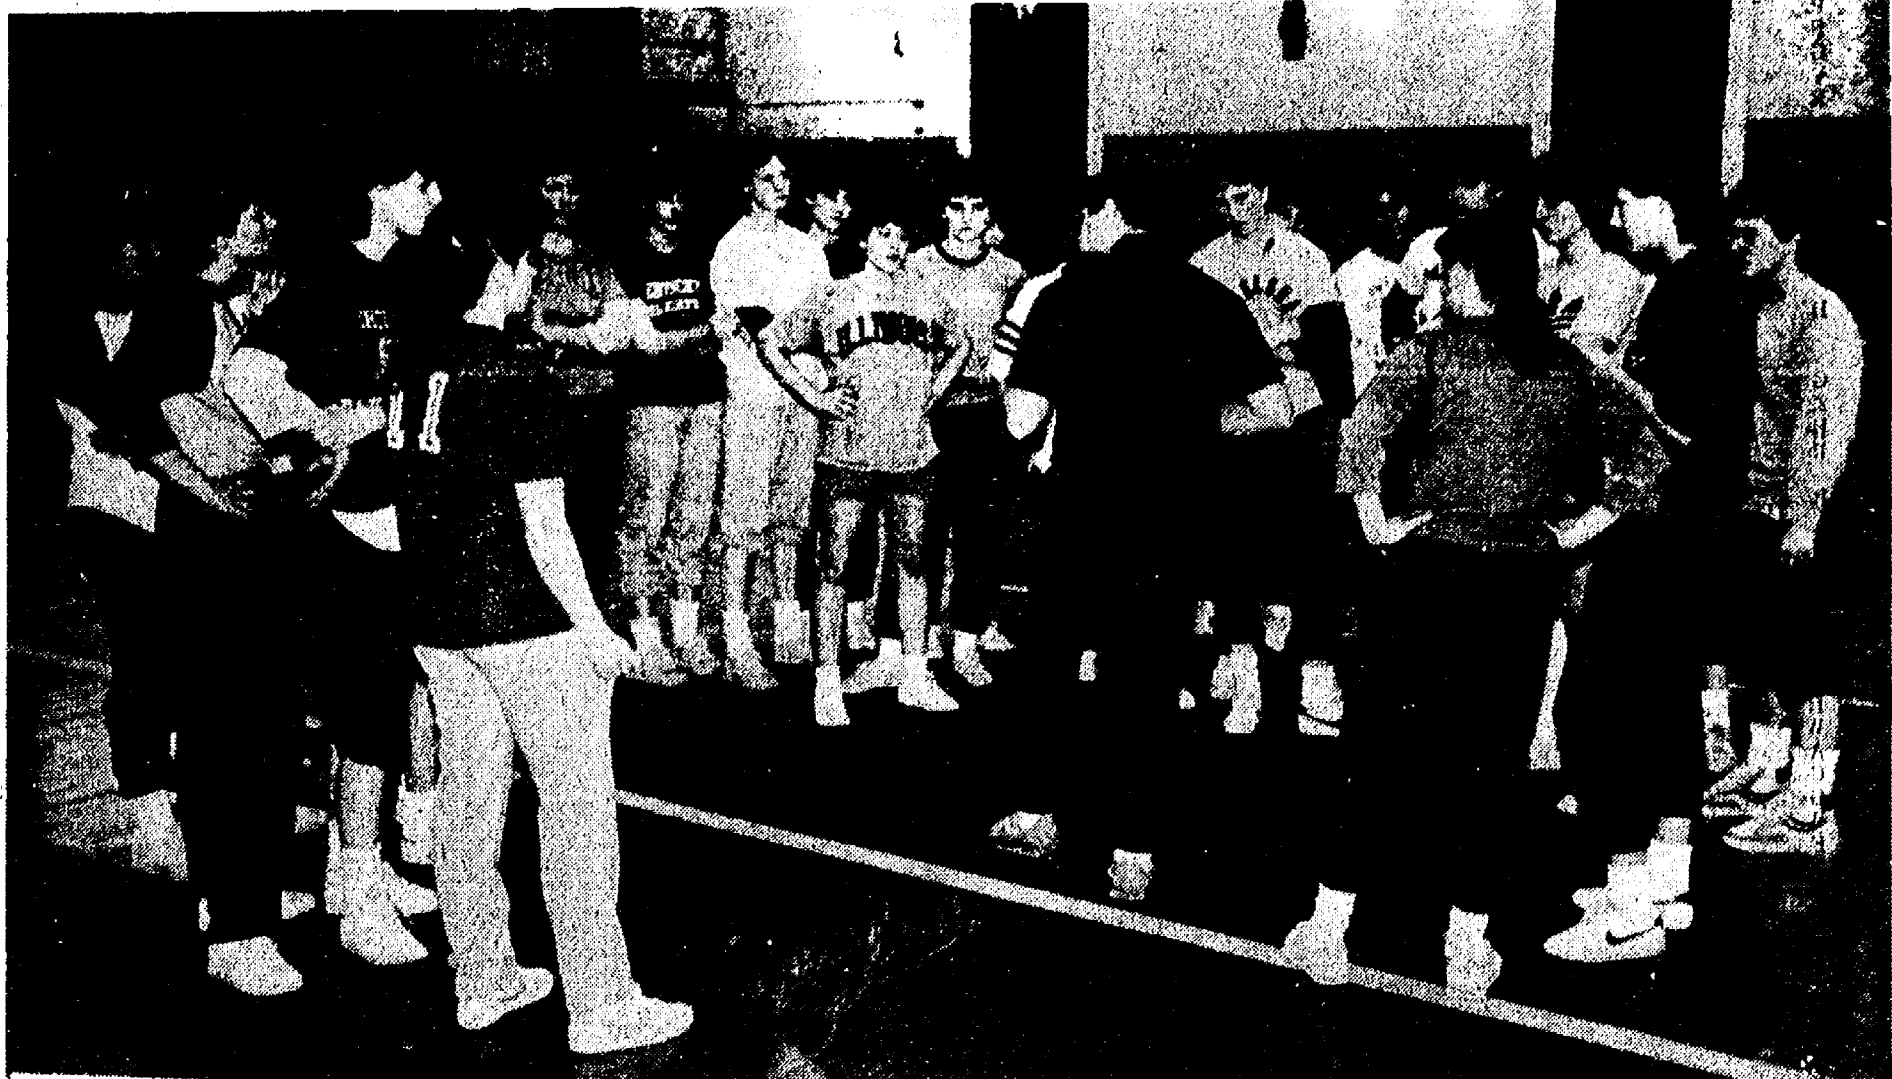

If there is a question spot on the team it is left field. Again, the problem is too much talent. Senior Lori Follick, last year's designated hitter, is competing with Hawker, who was all-league and all-region last year.

Junior Chandy Hurd and Kris Mattoff are likely to share time in center field. Although Hurd probably played a little more than Mattoff last year, Waller says it may come down to "who's hot" at the time.

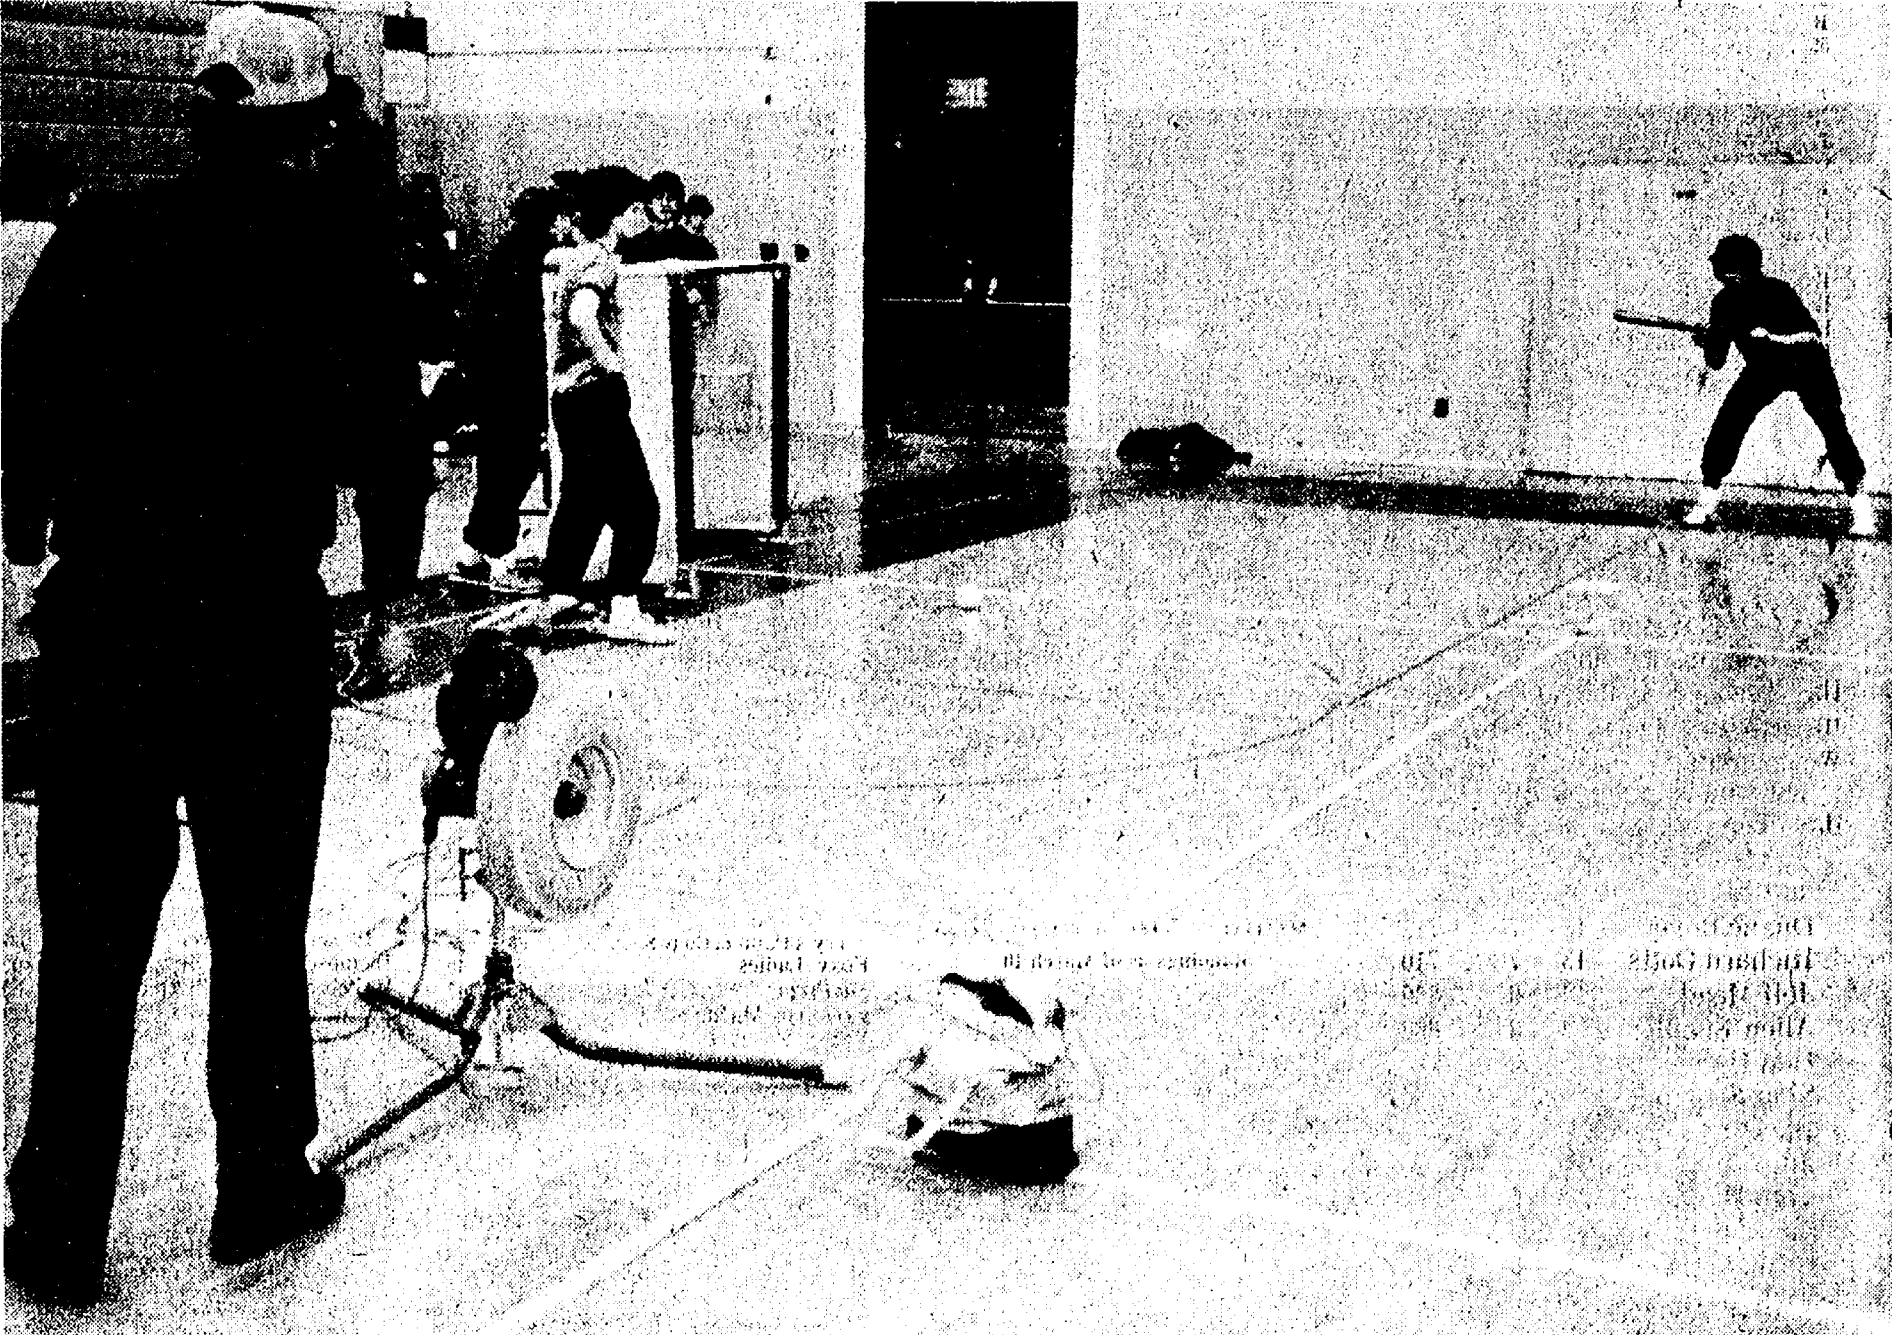

In right field is senior Tina Paddock, who played the position at the end of last year, and who Waller says is having a good spring.

Perhaps the girl in the most difficult position is Cathy Burkel, up from the junior varsity where she played center field. Although she's a good, quick base runner and could start on many other teams, "It's going to be tough for her to break into the line-up with all the talent we have," Waller says.

Problems, problems, problems!

NOW, HERE'S THE WAY WE DO IT: Assistant coach Pat Clarke instructs the junior varsity and varsity softball teams on some of the fine points. The varsity girls will be trying to improve on a 34-4 record.

BUNT AND RUN: Beth Unterbrink practices one of the key elements in the Bulldog's softball attack. Unterbrink is the queen of the foreground.

Strong Pitching Corps Will Help Bulldogs in Defending SEC Crown

Featuring a team deep in pitching and solid on defense, Coach Wayne Welton's Chelsea Bulldog baseball team will be defending its Southeastern Conference co-championship beginning in April.

To prepare for the scheduled 16-game, two-tournament season, like Sparky Anderson's better-known Tigers the Bulldogs will once again head south to Venice, Fla., on the Gulf Coast for a dose of sun and spring training. The 15- or 16-players squad will leave Friday, March 29 and return Sunday, April 7. They've made the trip over the last several years. The boys pay their own ways.

The morning practices promise to be tough, a combination of drills and scrimmaging, with an "extra emphasis" on hitting skills. In stark contrast, the team is currently practicing from 6-8 a.m. in the Chelsea gym.

"I think the league (Southeastern Conference) is wide open this year," Welton said when asked about his team's chances for a repeat performance. "You really can't tell what will happen. Last year others didn't think we'd be in the race, but we won it."

Chelsea finished 13-13 over-all and 9-3 in the conference, tied with Dexter.

Unlike last year, Welton will have at least seven new regulars in the line-up, having lost the bulk of his team to graduation. Quite a few boys will be moving up from the junior varsity.

"Pitching depth is probably our strength this year, and not a lot of teams can say that," Welton said. "We have probably eight kids who can pitch, not just throw it up there. Our kids know how to pitch, they're coached well, and they've been throwing in the gym since January."

The Chelsea coach also characterized his team as "strong on defense," with several capable infielders. He said his team has "average" speed, (he's quick to say "we're not slow, though") and he doesn't know who his leadoff hitter will be.

The pitching staff has a nucleus of three juniors—co-captain

Mark Mull, Dan Bellus and Chuck Downer. All three are also infielders when they aren't pitching—Mull and Bellus are shortstops and Downer plays third base. They are all right handed.

Another Bulldog who will see a lot of mound duty will be senior co-captain Evan Roberts, who also doubles as an outfielder. Last year he was a designated hitter.

Rounding out the pitching staff is senior switch-hitter Eric Schaffner, also a second baseman, who concentrated on golf rather than baseball last year; junior Kevin Maynard, who Welton said "may have the best arm but is lacking in experience," and will play first base or designated hitter; junior lefthander Kevin Walz, also an outfielder; and sophomore Todd Starkey, also likely an outfielder.

Junior Ray Spencer has the inside line on the catcher's job, although he will have competition, Welton said. According to Welton, the catcher's "toughest job is going to be filling in the shoes of his predecessors," Rick Boham last year and second-team all-stater Rodney Robeson the year before. "I'll be happy if he just handles our pitchers well."

Volleyball Teams Win 2 at Milan

Beach volleyball teams were told by their coach, Ms. Beverly Martin-Read that they would have to work to win at Milan, and work they did in excellent displays of volleyball skills that paid off last Tuesday, March 19.

After losing the first game despite the three serving points earned by Barbara Scriven (22) and Stacie Guenther (12), the seventh grade team played an exciting second game that was tied three times. Stacey Scott (10), Stacie Guenther (12), and Debbie Evison (14), who had a good night, earned one point each. Guenther (12), and Evison (14) pumped serve-savers and brought Tiffany Moore (21) to the line to earn seven points, including an ace. Scharme Petty (30) earned one, followed by Guenther (12) who served the three game winning points.

After the excellent serving of Scott (10), Kim Roberts (33), Lori Johnson (20), Chris Tallman (34), and Carol Hanke (25) who earned three, one, three, three, and one points, respectively, and the team's defensive volleys that tied the game twice couldn't save the third game the serving of Petty (30), Evison (14), Johnson (20), and Guenther (12), who served the winning point, took the fourth game.

The fifth game was equally difficult, but with excellent serving and balanced defense the team took the longest seventh grade match of the season.

Women's Golf League Forming For Tuesday Play

Women interested in playing organized golf on Tuesday mornings may sign up for the Sparrow Hawk Chippers League at Sparrow Hawk Golf course in Jackson.

Sparrow Hawk is a nine-hole course.

Tee-off time is 9 a.m. beginning Tuesday, May 14. The costs are $10 to join the league and $4 for green fees.

The Chippers League has traditionally been composed of mostly Chelsea residents. New golfers are especially welcome. Last year there were 20 competitors.

To sign up contact Katrina Thiel at 475-8854.

The final scores for the seventh grade were 3-11, 15-13, 11-13, 11-2, and 11-8.

Knowing it would not be easy, the eighth grade played excellent ball. Jenni Smith's two points opened the match. After a flurry of volleys returned by Mindy Ryan (23), and a good off-speed punch by Sarah Schaeffer (42) regained the service, Kay Miller (30) put on an excellent serving display by making six consecutive points, including two aces, along with one made later in the game. Kellie Kanten (20) and Schaeffer (42) nailed the tied first game with two and one points, respectively.

Serving was the name of the second game as Jenni Ghent (21) opened the game with four straight points followed by Kim Easton's two. Defensive back-up by Danica Disbro (15) brought Jennifer Lewis to the line to earn five consecutive points, including three straight aces and the winning point.

Even though the close third game slipped away from the Bullpups with Susie Neff (13), Lewis (14), Heather Neibauer (32), and Ryan (23) earning one, one, four, and two points, respectively, they battled on as Hall (34), opened with one point followed by Ghent's (21) four points. Calisa Tucker (31) consistently served six points that included two aces and the match point with Neibauer (32) and Hall's (34) defense support to win the fourth game in the longest match of the eighth grade's season which exhibited excellent defense playing in counterpoint with fine serving.

Final scores for the eighth grade team were 12-10, 11-0, 8-11, and 11-4.

Recreation Wrestling Club Participates in First Two Tournaments

Chelsea Recreation Wrestling Club began its 1985 tournament competition on Saturday, March 9 with seven wrestlers traveling to Lansing Sexton High school. Of these seven there were four medal winners.

Jordan Dyer, competing in the 8-and-under class, and Colby Skelton in the 9-and-10 year group, each took first-place medals. The Skelton boy pinned four of his five opponents all in the first period.

Craig McCalla in the 13-14 age bracket earned a second-place finish with a fine wrestling performance.

In his first year of wrestling John Bobo took a third-place medal.

Others competing were Michael Pidd, Ian Dyer, Scott Koscielniak-Herrst.

On Saturday, March 16 the club continued their tournament schedule against some stiff competition at Parma Western High school in Jackson with 11 boys competing. They brought home three medals. Earning his second first-place medal was Jordan Dyer who has pinned all of his opponents so far this year.

Jeremy Feldkamp, also in the 8-and-under group, took a first-place medal in his first tournament action.

John Bobo turned in a very fine performance in capturing a second-place medal.

Others attending the Parma tournament were Bobby Coon, Matt Powell, Vince Stahl, Ian Dyer, Doug Steele, Bryndon Skelton, Kevin McCalla and Craig McCalla.

Next week the wrestling club will travel to Napoleon High school.

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Dudderar

The theme of National Wildlife Week, March 16-23, is the importance of soil and soil conservation. So this seems like a good time to talk about all the creatures spending the winter under the soil in people's yards.

When the surface of the soil freezes, moles spend the winter tunneling 4 to 5 feet deep in the ground. If they stayed down there, they would probably be considered beneficial, because the tunnels they excavate aerate the soil and provide drainage holes for melting snow. But when they tunnel near the surface after the snow thaws, they're considered somewhat less than beneficial.

Striped ground squirrels that managed to put their winter burrows just below the frostline and in areas that didn't flood during last month's thaw are still fast asleep. Look for them to begin emerging in April.

Chipmunks don't hibernate as ground squirrels do. They're active all winter, weather permitting. Now you may be seeing them more frequently, because February and March make up the chipmunk mating season. Both males and females may be seen out sunning themselves, and males are moving about in search of mates and trying to drive other males away. Fresh piles of soil may also indicate where chipmunks have been busy enlarging or refurbishing their burrows.

Groundhogs, or woodchucks, are starting to come out of their winter sleep now. They have been asleep under the soil all winter and come out ravenous. There's not much for them to eat in early March except for the rosettes of weeds, such as dandelions that germinated last fall, so for a while, they'll be doing the homeowner a favor.

Gardeners who want to prevent problems with groundhogs later should act now, while burrows

Track Team Scores Well in Invitational

Members of the Chelsea High school track team competed in the Siena Heights Shamrock Invitational meet, an indoor meet, in Adrian, Saturday, March 16 against predominately class A competition and left coach Bill Wehrwein amazed with their performance.

"I was really proud of them," Wehrwein said. "I didn't expect us to do anything at all."

The sprint medley team placed third with a time of 3:51, only a second behind the winners. Jorge Castillo ran the first leg of 400 meters in 58 seconds, Dean Boote ran the first of two 200 meter legs in 26 seconds, Curtis Heard matched him in the second 200 meter leg at 26 seconds, and Tim Bowdish ran the final leg of 800 meters in 2:01.

Senior captain Jerod Bradley placed fourth in the mile in 4:36.

The two-mile relay team of Bradley, Bowdish, Lee Riemenschneider and Allen Kuhl placed fifth in 8:58.

Baseball . . .

At first base, there's a logjam and the position is "up for grabs." Senior Keith Niebauer and Maynard are two of the chief contenders.

In a scramble for second base are Schaffner and senior David Boote, who was on the junior varsity last year.

Mull and Bellus will be alternating at shortstop and will also see some time at third base, along with Downer.

Finally, vying for spots in the outfield are seniors Tony Hamerschmidt, Jim Toon, and Charlie Koehn, along with Walz and Starkey.

"The meat of our batting order is likely to have Downer, Roberts, and Bellus, and I suspect Maynard and Mull will be in there as well," Welton said.

are obvious, food is scarce and groundhogs are hungry. The animals are easily lured into box traps baited with whole kernel corn.

Meadow mice and shrews have had a great winter. Hidden from predators by a thick layer of snow and ice, they have been able to move around freely on or just below the surface of the soil. The mice have been feeding on grass and seeds, while the shrews have been preying on the mice. As the snow melts, life becomes a bit more precarious for these tiny animals. The loss of cover will expose both to predation by larger animals. It will also reveal the mouse trails and piles of debris left by mice in lawns and other grassy areas. As soon as the lawn begins to grow, it will recover from any minor damage the mice caused.

Mole salamanders have been tunneling deep in the soil all winter. They often tunnel at the base of a building foundation. Look for them to emerge from the soil in April or May.

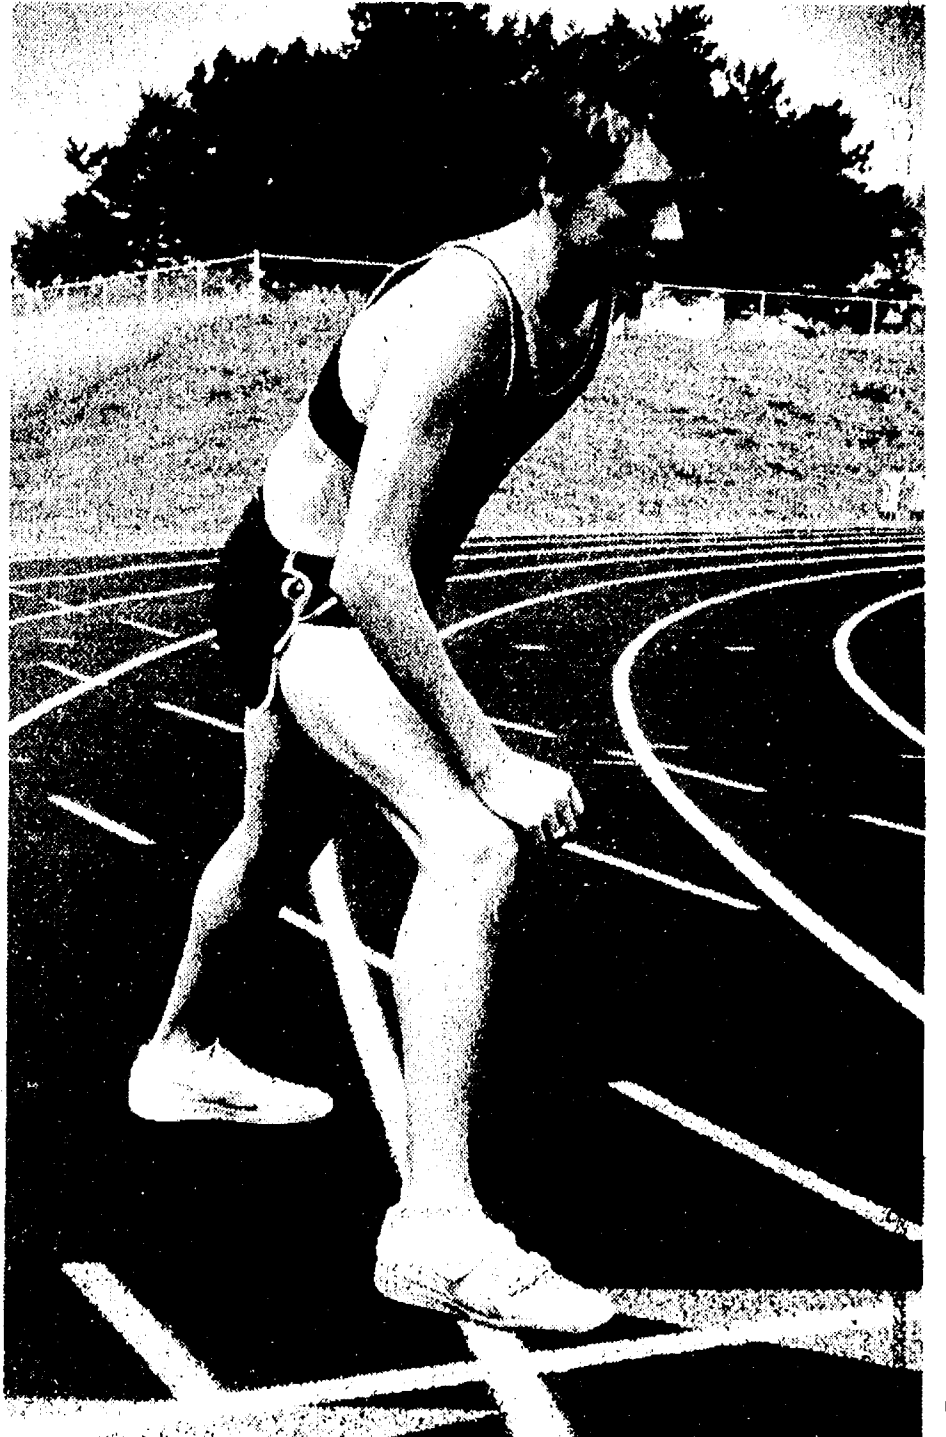

Snakes, too, often spend the winter near building foundations, especially if foundation walls are made of rough stone and there are spaces between the walls and the surrounding soil. The crevices in limestone under soil also provide spaces in which snakes may hibernate in large numbers. When they come out in April, they may give the impression of a snake invasion, when in fact they are actually leaving and dispersing.

If your home grounds are on the edge of a pond, stream or marsh, the wet, organic soil there is probably providing a winter home for turtles, frogs, toads and crayfish, either along the bank or under the water.

The list of creatures under the soil is already long, and we haven't even mentioned the worms, insects and other invertebrates. Like the larger animals, many of these creatures have been inactive over the winter but will get into gear and start moving about again in the next month or two. Even now, the landscape is not as desolate as it looks as the snow comes and goes.

Soon animal life will spring from the soil like flowers coming up in the spring. The life under the soil is an unseen but vital part of nature from your backdoor.

STATE MILER: Chelsea's Tim Bowdish took eighth place in the mile run at the state indoor track meet Thursday, March 14 with a time of 4:34. His previous best mile time of 4:32 was run outside, where the turns are fewer and not so tight.

Beverly Sue Hept

Pompano Beach, Fla. (Formerly of Chelsea)
Beverly Sue Hept, 61, of 662 N. E. 47 Place, Pompano Beach, Fla., died Wednesday, March 13 at Imperial Point Hospital, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

She was born Nov. 23, 1923 in Warren, O., the daughter of Harry and Stella (Jones) Harpster. She is survived by John Hept, who she married one year ago in Florida.

Prior to moving to Florida in 1964, she resided in Chelsea and was employed by Rockwell Standard.

Also surviving are a sister, Jean Harpster Hann of Tom's River, N. J.; one nephew, Philip Harpster of Carlsbad, N. M.; two step-daughters, Jeanne Sellon and Shirley Fess, both of Rochester, N. Y.; and four step-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents, and a sister, Faye Harpster Stenduff.

William Hoppe, a 1955 graduate of Chelsea High school, received his master's degree of forestry from Michigan State University during the winter commencement on Saturday, March 9.

A 21-year veteran with the Forest Management Division, Hoppe received his bachelor of forestry from the University of Michigan in 1963.

Hoppe is employed by the State of Michigan with headquarters in Jackson, and provides forest management assistance to private landowners in the 12 southeastern counties of the Southern Lower Michigan.

Hoppe is residing in Jackson, with his wife, the former Shirley Messner, of Chelsea. They have a son, Joe, and daughter, Elizabeth.

Chelsea Native Dies In Indianapolis

Walter H. Huehl, president of Indianapolis Life Insurance Co. from 1949 to 1972, and subsequently chairman of the company's board of directors and chief executive officer, died Saturday, March 9 in Indianapolis at the age of 82. Services were held Wednesday, March 13 in Indianapolis.

Mr. Huehl graduated from the University of Michigan in 1923. He served as a major in the United States Army Air Corps in England from 1942 to 1945. Born in Chelsea, he lived in Indianapolis 60 years.

Mr. Huehl joined Indianapolis Life in 1927 as actuary and was elected to the company's board of directors in 1929. He retired in 1978 as an active member of the board, and was made honorary chairman of the board. Prior to being named president, he served as executive vice-president. His 22 years as president set the record for the company's longest presidential term.

An associate of the Society of Actuaries, Mr. Huehl was a past president of the Association of Indiana Legal Reserve Life Insurance Companies. He served as a director of the Institute of Life Insurance, the Indianapolis Hospital Development Association, the Indianapolis Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, the United Fund of Greater Indianapolis, the Indiana Traffic Safety Council, Crossroads Rehabilitation Center, Junior Achievement, and the Senior Citizens Center.

Active in the YMCA for more than 50 years, he served on the YMCA Foundation board of directors, and was a past president of the Indianapolis YMCA.

He was an honorary vice-president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, a past president of the board of trustees of the Franklin United Methodist Home in Franklin, Ind., a founder and charter member of the Society of Retired Executives, and a past president of the Senior Citizens Center board of directors. He was also a member and trustee of the Meridian Street United Methodist church in Indianapolis.

Mr. Huehl is survived by his wife, Kathryn Huehl, two daughters, Judith Scholtz of Columbus, Ind., and Janet Ravneberg of Columbus, O.; a sister-in-law, Mildred Huehl of Chelsea; cousins, Lucille Finkbeiner, Mrs. Ralph Stoffer, Mrs. Harold (Lodema) Buss, Mrs. Gustav (Verna) Larson, two nephews, Dennis Huehl and Gerald Huehl of Chelsea; and four grandchildren.

He was a member of the Indianapolis Athletic Club, Meridian Hills Country Club, University of Michigan Club, Broad Ripple Post of the American Legion, Scottish Rite, Murat Shrine, Mystic Tie Masonic Lodge, Kiwanis Club and the Contemporary Club.

Memorial contributions may be made to the YMCA Foundation or to the Meridian Street United Methodist church of Indianapolis.

Faith in Action Benefit Banquet Slated March 29

Faith in Action, Inc., will hold its annual Benefit Banquet on Friday, March 29, 7 p.m., at the Chelsea Community Hospital's Main Dining Room. Tickets are available at Faith in Action or any of the various churches in and around the Chelsea community. Donations are $20, and reservations must be made on or before March 25. Phone reservations may be made by calling 475-2545 or 475-3305.

Faith in Action, Inc., is providing assistance to meet the emergency needs of residents living within the Chelsea school district. It is supported by various churches and other community groups and individuals in the area, and by a group of volunteers who staff and maintain the program five days a week. It has served the needs of hundreds of individuals and families, for food, clothing, furniture, medicine, transportation, and referral assistance, over a four-year period. It also serves as the sponsoring agency of Parents Anonymous and Parent to Parent programs. Its major source of funding comes from the benefit banquet held each year.

The program will feature the Madrigals, Chelsea Senior High school, directed by Mrs. June Warren. The speaker will be visiting professor Nancy Amidei, School of Social Work, U. of M., on the topic: "Beyond the Soup Kitchens." She is a radio commentator on "All Things Considered," and served as Departmental Assistant Secretary, HEW, and Director (1980-84) of the Food Research Action Center, U. S. government.

Man Stranded on Railroad Wants to 'Wait 'Til Morning'

A 23-year-old Chelsea man, who drove his friend's car onto the railroad tracks at LeForge and Huron Sts. in Ypsilanti, argued with police after they called for a tow truck, Ypsilanti police said.

Police encountered the stranded motorist at about 5:15 a.m. Saturday, March 16. The man said he couldn't move the 1977 Plymouth Arrow and asked whether he could just leave it "until morning," police said.

The Chelsea man was transported to a friend's home and no charges were filed.

Zoning Inspector Says 'Clean Up Your Yards'

Three residents of W. Middle St. and one of North St. have been advised by village Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook that they have two weeks to clean up their yards or face legal action by the village.

The action was taken by Harook on Friday, March 15, giving the inhabitants until Friday, March 29 to clean their property. In most cases, Harook said, she became aware of the problem while driving around the village. Most of the problems involve unused materials and inoperative cars," Harook said. While it's legal to have an inoperative car, it must be in an "enclosed structure," she said.

"Most of the problem areas I'm running into involve tenants rather than the owners themselves," Harook said. "I can't really explain why. They should have pride in the way the property looks, too."

The zoning inspector said she plans to continue "cracking down" on blatant violators of the zoning ordinances and will not hesitate to take legal action.

Knights of Columbus Set Tootsie Roll Drive

The Chelsea Knights of Columbus Council 3092 will join K. of C. groups throughout Michigan in an annual Tootsie Roll sale March 29-30-31 to benefit mentally retarded children and adults.

Larry Kranick and Walter Berjeski are co-chairmen of the local drive. Solicitors selling Tootsie Rolls for whatever the buyer wishes to donate will be stationed at local business places during the three-day event.

Money raised is given to various non-profit agencies and organizations which provide care to mentally retarded persons.

Agriculture Banquet Set For March 28

Washtenaw Agriculture Banquet sponsored by the Washtenaw Dairy-Livestock Council will be held Thursday, March 28, at Chelsea High School.

The night's activities will start off with a roast beef dinner being served at 7 p.m. The featured program this year will be a barbershop quartet, The Collector's Choice. The quartet is appearing in this area as goodwill ambassadors for the dealers of Vigortone agriculture products, the nation's largest exclusive manufacturer of livestock pre-mixes.

The evening of fun, fellowship and relaxation will end with the popular drawing for door prizes sponsored by the Agri-Business of Washtenaw county.

Tickets are available through any Dairy-Livestock Council member: Leonard Burmeister, Ken Hieber, Harold Trinkle, Willard Blumenauer, Reuben Lesser, Jr. Harold Haeussler, Lloyd Grau, Stan Poet, Dave Gordon, Jim Bristle, Roy Gill, Albert Ruhlig, Bill Nixon, Loren Heller, Charles Koenn, Nick Heller, or by calling the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service. Phone 313-973-9510. Ask for Bill Ames.

Van Meer's Contract Goes Three Years

The contract of Superintendent Ray Van Meer was extended for three years, effective July 1 through June 30, 1988. The approval by the board followed an executive session where the members discussed the annual evaluation of Van Meer.

As part of the evaluation, process, each board member completes an evaluation of the superintendent, then the various points of the evaluation are discussed by the superintendent and school board president Dale Schumann. Finally, a vote is taken by board members.

"The evaluation was very positive," said board president Dale Schumann. "Ray has done a super job."

School Bus Bids Accepted

Chelsea School Board of Education has accepted bids for new school busses for the 1985-86 school year, which begins July 1.

The board received bids on chassis from two local dealers, Palmer Ford, Inc. at 222 S. Main St. and Faist-Morrow Chevrolet at 1500 S. Main St.

Bids were also accepted on the bodies from three out-of-town suppliers: C. R. Equipment Sales in Lansing; Neil's Automotive Service in Kalamazoo; and Hoekstra Truck Equipment Co. of Grand Rapids.

"We'd like to purchase four new busses, but that's ideally," said assistant superintendent Fred Mills. "We'll know how many we can fit in when we put the total budget together for '85-'86. The budget will be adopted at our first meeting in June."

Women workers with four or more years of college had an average income only slightly above that of men with one to three years of high school in 1983, according to "20 Facts on Women Workers," issued by the U. S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau.

CPR INSTRUCTION: The first aid mannequin was a valuable tool during certain sessions at Wealth of Health Day held at Chelsea High school on Friday. Those lending expert assistance to the dummy are Brian Davis from Dexter High school

Wealth of Health Day

Presentations by Chelsea Family Practice, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor Police Department, the Washtenaw Sheriff's Department, and several area organizations were among the 35 different sessions offered to Chelsea High school students in Wealth of Health Day sponsored by the Chelsea Community Hospital Friday, March 15.

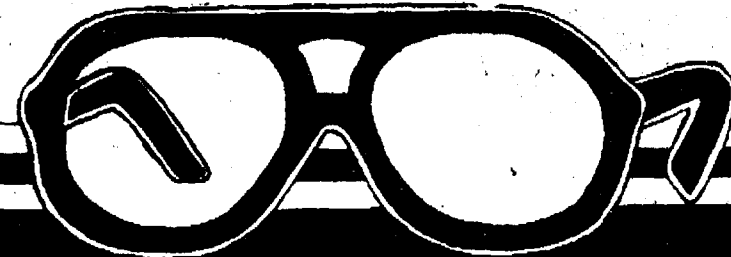

In place of the first three regularly scheduled classes, students registered for sessions in workshops such as living with alcoholism in your family, nuclear war, living with parents, drinking and driving, anorexia nervosa/bolemia, smoking and chewing, first aid, teenage suicide, and pregnancy.

Nine Dexter High school student volunteers also attended various sessions to evaluate the program as a possible future project for that area school.

Mary-Ellen Miller, coordinator of the event, felt the student participation and enthusiasm proclaimed the project both popular and successful.

Chelsea-Dexter Compete in Hamburger Eating Contest

Even more fun than the pie-eating contest at the fair was the hamburger-eating contest at McDonald's, Tuesday, March 19, and Dexter and Chelsea high school students enjoyed all the fun. A few of the students from each school had the joy of the actual munching, while the rest of the group stood by cheering for their chosen "hungry hounds."

Delegated members of the various classes at each of the two area high schools were the official hamburger consumers, with the winning class receiving $100 from the sponsoring McDonald's.

Site of the delicious but quick-eating contest was the Zeeb Rd. McDonald's, where one person from every class at Dexter High school competed with their counterparts from the classes at Chelsea High school.

Who ate the most hamburgers? Readers will have to wait until next week's issue of the paper to learn the results, since this week's issue was going to press just as the hamburgers were being served to the hungry students.

The hamburger-eating activity was hosted by McDonald's through special arrangements with the student councils of both high schools.

During Autumn, in order to attract his "bride-to-be," a male moose creates a "wallow" by pawing up a patch of ground, urinating in it, then pawing it up some more.

Bald Eagle Sighted Circling TV Tower At Green Lake

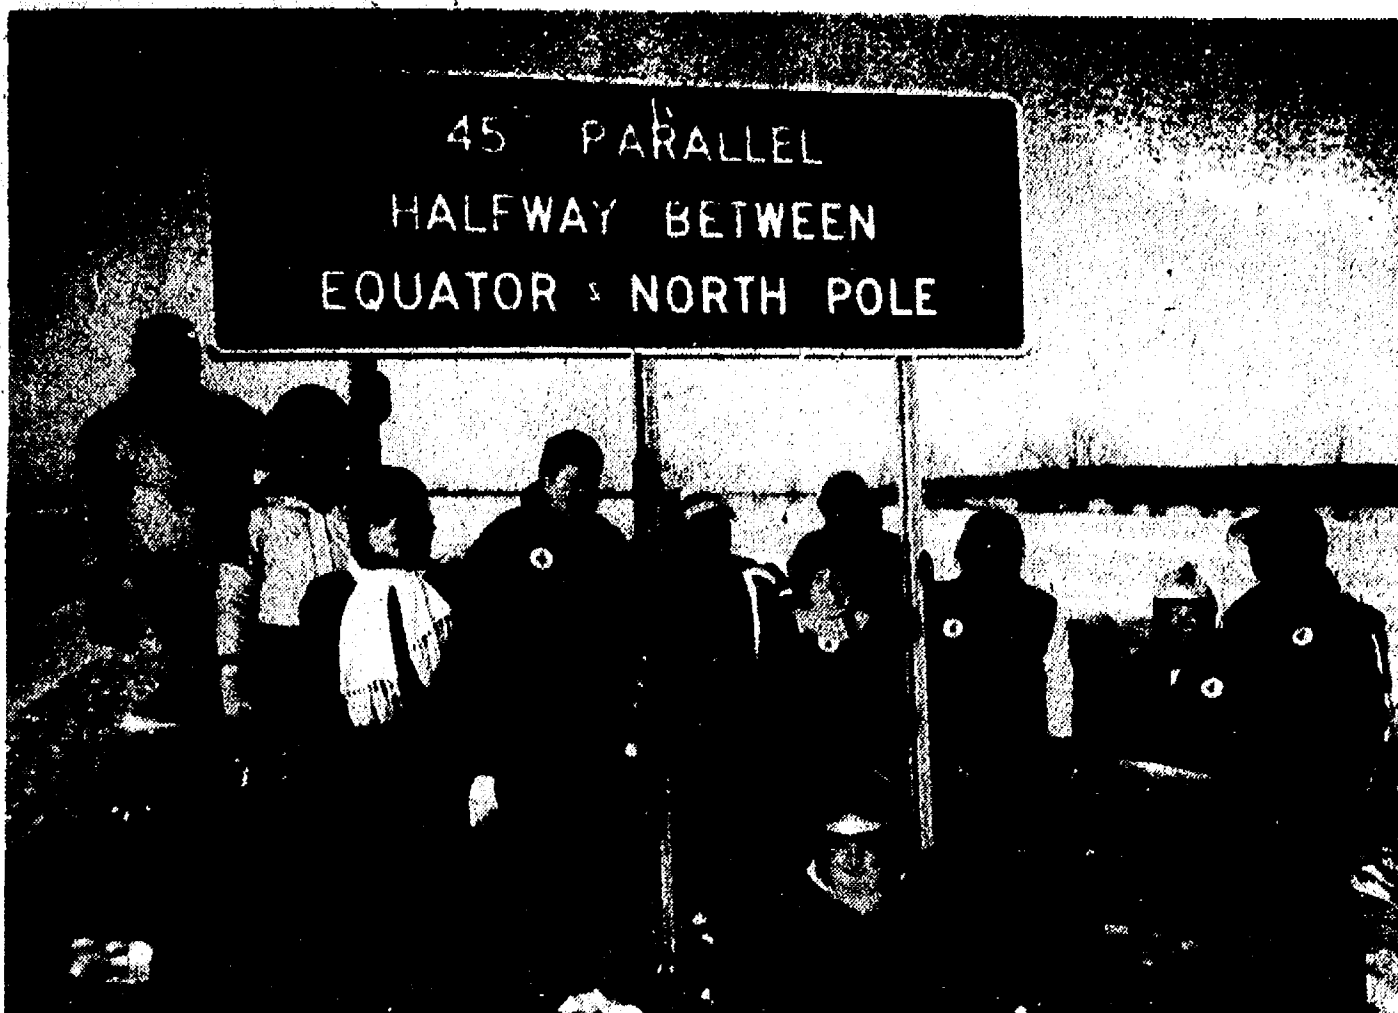

Charles Fuhrmann of South Lake Rd. in Chelsea said he saw a bald eagle Saturday morning, March 16 at Green Lake. The bird was sighted circling a new tower at the lake. "At first I thought it was a buzzard, but when it wheeled around in the sun I could see it real plain," Fuhrmann said. "The only other bird I've seen that size out there is an osprey, but that's not usually this time of year. I thought it might be eyeing the tower for a nest."

Sightings of bald eagles in Southeastern Michigan are rare.

Career Change Workshop Offered

For those thinking of starting college and individuals contemplating a career change, Washtenaw Community College will host "Three To Get Ready" April 18 and 25 in the Artists' Gallery Dining Room of the Student Center Building. Scheduled for 6 to 8 p.m. on April 18 and 1 to 3 p.m. April 25, the free workshop will cover the job outlook for the 80's and 90's, career planning steps, and study skills and time management.

Because of the workshop's popularity last year, organizers recommend making reservations early. To do so, or for more information, call 973-3596.

SNO-DEVILS EXCURSION: 1985 marked the 15th excursion of the Dexter Sno-Devils snowmobile club to the north country. An annual event begun in 1971 with a group of 24 people, mostly couples from the Greater Metropolitan Dexter Area, the trips have included stops at such interesting places as the 45th Parallel latitude, the mid-way point between the North Pole and the

FORENSICS WINNERS: Chelsea High school placed second out of 26 schools in the Portage Northern Forensics Invitational Tournament. Schools from classes A-D were represented. From left are: Mike Goodwin and Chris Hertz who placed third in duo interpretation; Mark Henson, who placed third in drama; Rob England who placed third in radio newscasting; Ward Beauchamp, a freshman, who placed third in 9/10 serious reading; and coach William Coelius. Monday, March 25 the Forensics District Championships will be held at Chelsea High school from 4-10 p.m. Participating in the tournament will be Chelsea, Jackson High school, Napoleon High school, and Jackson County Western High school. The tournament is free and open to the public.

Beach Bands Earn Top Ratings

Beach Middle school seventh and eighth grade concert bands, directed by Warren Mayer, earned over-all I ratings at the District 12 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Junior High School Band Festival held Saturday, March 16 at Ida High school. The three musical pieces required for each band competing in the festival were one march of their choice, one piece selected from an appropriate list of pieces for each school classification, and a third piece of their choosing. All bands were also required to play two pieces which they had never seen in sight-reading competition.

Both the seventh grade band, which entered the Class C school band division, and the eighth grade band which competed in the Class B division put on performances which judges said the entire community could be proud of, Warren Mayer said.

During the long months of preparation, Dr. Max Plank, band director at Eastern Michigan University, and Bill Gourley, Chelsea High school band director volunteered highly appreciated rehearsal assistance.

Mayer also extended special thanks to parent chaperones who willingly took on the responsibility of the 114 students who traveled to the festival in Ida. They were Mrs. Robert Strong, Mrs. Richard Lee, Mrs. Samuel McClintock, Mrs. William Koerke, Mrs. Michael Stimpson, and Mrs. James Wilson.

Tourist Calendar of Events Is Available

A new and more comprehensive calendar of things to see and do in the 11-county Southeast Michigan region has been published by the Travel and Tourist Association and is now available free to the public.

The Calendar of Events covers April through September, 1985 and is available at the Travel and Tourist Association office at 64 Park St. in Troy or by sending a self-addressed stamped business-sized envelope to Calendar of Events, P.O. Box 1590, Troy 48069.

Wild Turkey Licenses Will Be Distributed

Those individuals who applied for a turkey license were notified by postcard this past week-end whether or not they were successful.

Any left-over licenses will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis only to applicants who were unsuccessful in the drawing for oversubscribed areas/periods.

These applicants will be notified by March 15 as to the hunt areas and periods that remain available.

The postcard notice will give the telephone number, date, and time to call for these licenses.

LOOKS LIKE SPRING: Fair weather enthusiasts, Ray Altenberndt (right) and Tom Salts install a tennis net on the courts at Chelsea High school. The practice preparations will be appreciated by the boys tennis team scheduled to begin the season Thursday, April 11 against Saline, on the home courts.

Seminar To Discuss Farm Emergencies

If a family member or friend got caught in a corn picker, would you know how to handle the situation?

That's the kind of question that will be addressed at an agricultural farm rescue seminar Saturday, April 13 at the Chelsea Fairgrounds.

The seminar, sponsored by Chelsea's Grass Roots Gang, is designed to acquaint Washtenaw county emergency personnel and farmers with the best ways to handle farm emergencies.

There will be demonstrations, and the workings of various kinds of machinery will be explained.

The seminar will run from 10-2:30 p.m. and is open to farmers with a reservation. There will be a charge depending on how high the attendance is.

For more information contact Jim Bristle at 475-1995.

In 1776 Betsy Flanagan, a barmaid at the Halls Corners Inn, Elmsford, N. Y. was credited with inventing the first cocktail. She did so by garnishing a mixed drink with a feather plucked from the inn's decor.

Eighth Grade Registration Underway

High school orientation for eighth graders began Thursday, March 14 with a program held by the high school counseling staff and department heads at Beach Middle school.

During the normal school day, students were addressed by both counselors and department heads regarding registration materials, class descriptions, and graduation and vocational or college requirements. Students filled out course request lists which will serve as a guide for classes decidedly offered to freshmen in the fall. The request lists also serve as pre-registration of the nearly 200 eighth grade students entering the high school next year.

The long work day continued for participating high school staff members into an evening session with parents where the same basic information was explained again.

The program is designed to ensure proper preparation for students regarding graduation and post-graduation plans. The students met the three members of the high school counseling staff, Chris Dimanin, Gene Lafave, and Susan Carter who will continue to be instrumental in student class scheduling throughout each student's high school career.

Cheese Workshop Offered By Home Extension Office

Cheese is one of the world's oldest convenience foods. It is fluid milk made chewable, and has much to recommend it: good taste, high in nutrients, inexpensive and a long shelf life. You can eat it hot or cold, melted or not, spicy or mild. There are more than 400 varieties of cheese available, but most people use just two or three types.

Expand your horizons on cheese by attending a lecture-demonstration, "Cheese Goes Everywhere" presented by Pat Yohey, program director of the Dairy Council of Michigan. The event, part of the monthly series, "Corner on the Kitchen" is sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service. It will be held in their building at the County Service Center, Hogback and Washtenaw on March 21, at 7:30 p.m.

There is a $2 fee to cover food for tasting.

CELESTE ARBOGAST
Celeste Arbogast Will Be Reporter in Cocoa Beach, Fla.

Celeste Arbogast, a junior in the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., arrived at her parents' home in Grass Lake on Friday for a few days of her spring break before leaving for Cocoa Beach, Fla., where she will spend the next 10-week semester working as reporter for Cocoa Today, the local daily newspaper.

Gaining impetus from the space age, Cocoa Beach lies between Cape Canaveral and Patrick Air Force base, with a population of 10,900.

Medill asks their students to choose three newspapers, from a possible 15 around the country, which work with the school in teaching journalism experientially. Because Celeste was evaluated third highest in her class, she was given her first choice, Cocoa Today in Cocoa Beach.

Celeste recently was placed on the Dean's List because of high scholarship, carrying a grade point average of between 3.5 and 4.0.

From March 25 through the middle of June, her address will be 219 Indian River Dr., Cocoa Beach, Fla. 32922.

Card of Thanks 17

CARD OF THANKS
I want to thank everyone for the cards and flowers, food and all the other acts of kindness while I was in the hospital and everyone for their prayers. I know they were answered because I'm still here, hale but not so hearty, yet. I especially want to thank my sister and brother-in-law, Lois and Byford Speer, who took such good care of me after my stay in the hospital. Thanks everyone.
Imogene Slocum.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our thanks for the many acts of kindness during the illness and recent death of our mother and grandmother. The calls, visits, cards, prayers, masses, flowers, and food were all greatly appreciated.
We would especially like to thank Doctors Szymanski and Martini, Father McDonald, Sister Paracleti, Mary and Dave Hosner, and the ladies of St. Joseph church who organized and prepared the funeral dinner.
We were fortunate to have her with us for so many years and will miss her very much.
The Family of Elsie Walsh

THANK YOU
The South School Fun Fair Committee would like to thank the following businesses for their help with this year's fair: Kusterer's, McDonald's, Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea Office Supply, Cole-Burghardt Funeral Home, Jerry Ashby Insurance, Springer Insurance, Thornton Realty, Chelsea State Bank, Palmer Ford, Stiffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Pierson and Riemenschneider, Inc., Barbara's Needle Arts, Touch of Class, Chelsea Glass, Heydlauff's Appl., Movieland of Chelsea, Chelsea Cleaners, Chelsea Pharmacy, Keusch and Flintoft, P.C., Guenther's Studio, Dayspring Gifts, Chelsea Greenhouse, Heller Electric, Wolverine Bar, Richard's, Niehaus Foods, Inc., The Chelsea Standard.

CARD OF THANKS
Our heartfelt thanks to all our many friends and relatives who extended comforting sympathy and help during our recent sorrow over the death of husband and father Carl Baker. We wish to express our appreciation to Dr. Peggs and the staff at Chelsea Community Hospital, Dr. Waldyke and staff at Cedar Knoll Nursing home, the Rev. Dennis Krumlauf, the Rev. Erik Hansen and the Rev. Steve Bringardner, Don Cole of Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel. These expressions of kindnesses and your prayers have been deeply appreciated and will always be remembered by us.
Rhuey Baker.
Beatrice Fraker.

THANK YOU
We wish to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for all the memorials, flowers, food and cards sent at the time of our bereavement. A special thanks to the Rev. Ira Wood for his comforting words, the congregation of Covenant church for all their support, the luncheon by the church and to John and Gloria Mitchell for all their help. Your many acts of kindness will never be forgotten.
The Duane L. Hall Family.
The Richard J. Kern Family.

Weiner. The team was one of four from Chelsea which competed against 940 students from 53 southern Michigan schools in the Michigan League of Academic Games State Tournament.

THE CHELSEA CHAMPS, comprised of sixth graders, won a trophy in each game they played in the elementary tournament held Sunday, March 10 and Monday, March 11 as part of the Academic Games held at EMU. The team brought the State Championship home to Chelsea for the third year

THE CUBULAR KIDS proudly display the third place trophy earned in "Equations" by the Beach Middle school team. The team travelled with other Chelsea students to Ypsilanti to take place in the state-wide Academic Games tourna-

BEVERLY HILLS CUBES, a Beach Middle school Academic Games team, were awarded a first-place division trophy in "Equations" at the Michigan League of Academic Games State Tournament held at Eastern Michigan University. The

St. Patrick's Day Dance Held at Beach School

Seventh and eighth grade students at Beach Middle school were treated to a St. Patrick's Day Dance on Thursday, March 14 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

A request box was placed, prior to the event, in the school cafeteria to enable students to submit record requests to be played by disc jockeys at the dance.

"Logistical wizardry" was worked by counselors and student advisors in planning the social event, according to school principal, Darcio Stielstra.

School counselors, Pete Warburton and Jean Mann were praised for their special efforts.

"They are very good with children, and fittingly placed in counseling positions. They were very efficient at planning this event," Stielstra commented.

Draft Horse Workshop Scheduled

Co-operative Extension Services of Genesee, Washtenaw and Lenawee counties are sponsoring a Southeastern Michigan Draft Horse Workshop for all interested persons.

The workshop will be held at the Manchester Livestock Exchange, 9610 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., Manchester, on Saturday, April 20, beginning at 9 a.m. and running until 4 p.m. The registration fee of $20 includes roll, coffee, lunch and handout materials.

Featured on the program is Berry Farrell, manager of the Budweiser Breeding Farm in St. Louis, Mo. Farrell has had 50 years experience working with draft horses. He will speak on Draft Horse Selection.

In addition to Farrell, Elmer Smith, El-Jo Farms, Laingsburg, and John Leech, Southeast Michigan equine agent for Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service will speak on Feed Selection and Feeding Draft Horses.

Pasture Management Tips to cut down feed costs will be given by Dr. Gordon Wuethrich, extension agricultural agent from Lenawee county; Stable Management and General Health Care information will be presented by Dr. Howard Pennington, DVM from Adrian; and Hay Selection, speaker Joseph Ames, Extension Agricultural Agent, Washtenaw county.

From 1:45 to 4 p.m. the session will provide hands-on training in Fitting and Harnessing the Draft Horse.

Registration for this informative workshop may be made through the Lenawee County Co-operative Extension Office at 199 N. Broad St., Adrian 49221, ph. (517) 263-8831, ext. 250.

LEADERS of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club gather for a planning meeting in connection with the club's appeal for tax exemption in Lyndon township. Left to right are board members Tony Wisniewski, George Padgham, secretary, Fred Klink, Jr., president, Mel Leach, treasurer, and Charlie Fredette, committee chairman.

Rod & Gun Club Offers Police Dept. Use of Gun Practice Range

Chelsea Rod and Gun Club has offered the free use of its newly established gun range to the Chelsea Police Department for pistol practice.

"We made our first offer in a letter about a year ago," Fred Klink club president and chief conservation officer, said. "At that time, our old gun range was at the bottom of a steep, winding path. There was also a locked barrier-chain, so there would have been problems in obtaining a key. The new range is much more accessible and we are inviting Chief Lenard McDougall to come and take a look at it."

Rick Monier, who supervised construction of the new range, said that if the police would like some alterations in the range, they will have the club's permission to make them using village-owned earth movers.

"It's hard to understand all this hullabaloo about the Chelsea police doing their target practice near the village dump," Monier said. "That headline in the Ann Arbor News about 'flying bullets' was pure baloney. Chelsea police are excellent, responsible marksmen who can place five shots in an area the size of a saucer."

When asked about the possibility of moving the police practice from the dump area to the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, Lyndon township supervisor John Hurd said, "I haven't checked this with other township officials or property owners, but the change in location sounds all right to me."

The new gun club firing-range is situated in a hollow and backed by a steep, forested hill. The range is also situated at a considerable distance from dwellings or farms and positioned against the hill.

Joyce Grames Is Speaker at Ann Arbor Methodist Guild

Mrs. Joyce A. Grames, R.N., was invited to guest speak at the Lydia Guild of the First United Methodist church, Ann Arbor, on March 11. The invitation came from University of Michigan Professor Emeritus Hazel Avery. Miss Avery, an obstetrical and gynecology U. of M. professor for over 40 years, co-authored the gyn and obstetrical textbook, and has a University of Michigan scholarship named after her.

Mrs. Grames, a 1955 U. of M. graduate with a five-year degree in nursing, spoke about the "Different Pathways" her nursing career had taken during the past 30 years. She stated that she pursued seven pathways and her success in each was a result of her U. of M. training.

Her first, and foremost, career choice was as a Detroit police woman. Grames joined the force following graduation in 1955. She was promoted to sergeant in 1975 and spent the last seven of her 26 years service as a detective sergeant at the 15th precinct. She retired from the force in 1981 with full pension and life-time medical insurance benefits.

Since retirement, Grames' nursing career has taken six more turns. She worked part-time as nursing supervisor on the medical-surgical floor at Deaconess Hospital, Detroit; as afternoon shift nursing supervisor at St. Clair Convalescent Home; heads the Health Clinic as company registered nurse for the Amerisure Companies, Detroit; works as a contingent R.N. at Samaritan Health Center Hospital in the Psychiatric Ward, Detroit; owns and administers the Meridian Foster Care Home, Inc., Jackson; and owns and operates Webb's North Lake Apple Orchard, Chelsea, with her husband, Lester.

Grames presented many pictures to the group, which included Mrs. Linda Strodman, president of the U. of M. Nursing Historical Society, Mrs. Jan Triola, president of the U. of M. Nurses Alumni Association, Mrs. Nancy Nelson, executive secretary of the Nurses Alumni Association, and Joyce's aunt, Mrs. Lucy Engle, retired school teacher of 38 years service from Dexter, which highlighted her adventures as a police woman. Many exciting moments in her choice of careers which were spent with presidents and movie stars, such as John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson, Frank Sinatra, Ann Miller, Mickey Rooney, Rock Hudson, Ginger Rogers, Elvis Presley, the Beatles, Mayor Young, and many others.

She presented to each member of the guild a brochure describing her new Meridian Foster Care Home and a little gold police medalion as a remembrance of her and her 26 years with the Detroit Police Department.

Musical Youth International was founded in 1964 by the late Dr. Lester McCoy, then conductor of the University of Michigan Musical Society, based on Dr. McCoy's belief that young, musically talented students could promote international understanding through the universal language of music. MYI has over the past 20 years presented concerts in each of the inhabited continents.

This year's MYI symphonic wind ensemble is conducted by Paul Barber, music co-ordinator of the Farmington Public Schools. Kevin Cushman, choral director at Detroit Catholic Central High school, will conduct the MYI Choir. Mrs. Lester McCoy is executive director of the non-profit organization.

The first sidewalk in the U.S. was laid in 1657 on a New York thoroughfare called Stone Street.

Musical Service To Be Offered at Assembly Of God

Musical evangelist Bill Powell will be the featured soloist and musician at Chelsea first Assembly of God, this Sunday, March 24, at the 11 a.m. service. Bill Powell has a unique style of ministry, as he ministers almost totally in song.

Bill Powell has traveled extensively through Michigan, Ohio and as far south as Florida in his ministry. The most exciting part of his ministry is the majority of his music is self written and contains a great deal of scripture.

An invitation is extended to all to join in this special celebration of worship through song. For more information, please call Pastor Farnsworth, (313) 475-9234 or Pastor Lang, (517) 851-7107. The church is located at 14900 Old US-12, immediately across from Polly's.

Until the nineteenth century, solid blocks of tea were used as money in Siberia.

A New Program—'Young Fives'

The Chelsea Board of Education has approved the implementation of a two-year pilot program called "Young Fives" to begin in September, 1985. The approval was for one section of approximately 20 students.

The "Young Fives" concept was developed by a committee of teachers and administrators. That committee appointment grew out of concern that kindergartners are coming to the Chelsea schools with markedly different experiences. Some students come with very little educational experience, and some are coming with a wealth of experience. The diversity of the experience levels of children entering kindergarten tends to inhibit the educational programming for the kindergarten class. "Young Fives" is an attempt to address this issue.

To be eligible for the "Young Fives" program, a child must be of legal age of 5 by Dec. 1. A thorough screening process has been developed and will begin in April for those students who currently reside in the district. A second screening of students will take place in August for those children who are new to the district and were unable to attend the April screening. Evaluation by that screening process will determine the placement of the child.

A child will be designated as a "Young Five" on the basis of the assessment of his/her developmental skills. The "Young Fives" program philosophy is such that a youngster can go from "Young Fives" directly to kindergarten the following year and stay in kindergarten the whole year, or go from the "Young Fives" program to kindergarten and then be moved sometime during that year to first grade based on an update of the assessment of his/her skills. It is also possible that a youngster in the "Young Fives" program can make enough progress that he/she could be scheduled into first grade.

Members of the committee who developed the program were Bob Benedict, Bill Wescott, Jackie Rogers, Gena Klink, Sherri Plank, Mary Lou Bower, and Jill Carlson. Members received input from pre-school and PREP teachers, and from special education diagnostic personnel. The two-year pilot program will be evaluated to assess the impact on children. The Chelsea School District will continue to operate the usual kindergarten programs

PAST AND PRESENT PRESIDENTS of the Chelsea Historical Society were among those present at a March meeting in the Crippen House of Chelsea Methodist Home. A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed by some 40 guests at this 10th annual gathering in recognition of the society's presidents. The event also marks the beginning of the 1985 membership campaign. In the front row, left to right, are: Jean Storey, president in 1982, for children who do not fit the "Young Fives" criteria. The basic philosophy of the kindergarten program is skill building.

The first photograph of a President in office was made of President James Polk in 1849.

Half Day of School Scheduled March 28

A half-day of school is scheduled for all Chelsea students Thursday, March 28. Elementary schools will be dismissed at 11 a.m., Beach Middle school at 11:10 a.m., and the high school at 11:15 a.m. Early release is due to an in-service afternoon scheduled for teachers and parent-teacher conferences.

Spring break for Chelsea students begins at the completion of the full school day Friday, March 29 and continues through the following week until school resumes at the regular time Monday, April 8.

In 1953 Frances Willis became the first female career diplomat to receive an ambassadorship. She served as the U.S. Ambassador to Switzerland.

JANE IRWIN, left, fifth grade spelling bee champion, and runner-up, Regina Lucas, search a dictionary for challenging words that may win them the county-wide spell-down scheduled for Tuesday, March 26 in Saline. The Metropolitan Spelling Bee is co-sponsored by Lawrence Institute in Detroit and the Detroit News. Winning placement in all levels of competition may result in state representation for one of the Chelsea South school students at the national contest in Washington, D.C.
