CHELSEA FIREMEN fought a fire Tuesday, March 19, that destroyed a "good sized" barn at 12755 Seio Church Rd., at the corner of Fletcher Rd., owned by Peter Enderle. Firemen said the cause of the fire had not been determined. Chelsea firemen had help from both Dexter and Manchester.

Schools Face Lean Year, No New Millage Request

Chelsea school district residents can expect no request for an increase in millage for the 1985-86 school year despite a tentative deficit of more than $683,000 in the early stages of budget planning.

According to Superintendent Ray Van Meer, the school board is committed to balancing the budget through cost-cutting measures rather than raising revenue. The school district is in the third year of a three-year millage issue.

"I can say with reasonable assurance that we'll be able to bring the budget into balance, although it may be a lean year in some areas of purchase," Van Meer said.

Van Meer said the two primary goals in preparing the budget are saving student programs and "saving people," in other words, no layoffs. In order to achieve those goals, he said there will have to be cuts in other areas, such as supplies, texts, and oil and gas use.

The "highly tentative" figure for expected expenditures for the coming year was $8,220,897, as opposed to last year's approved expenditures of $7,588,326. The projected revenues for 1985-86 of $7,537,752 is based on a "guesstimate" of a one-percent increase in the State Equalized Value of property, which translates to an additional $65,000. The precise SEV will not be known until mid-May.

Van Meer said that even if the SEV doesn't rise a millage increase would not be considered.

Approximately $6.5 million of revenue comes directly from property taxes. The rest comes from state and federal sources, and Washtenaw intermediate school district, which helps fund special education programs.

The major expense in the budget is for staff salaries, and benefits, which, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills, constitutes nearly 70 percent, or $5,335,598. The 1985-86 year will be the third year of a three-year contract, which stipulates a five percent increase in salaries. When benefits are added, (insurance, retirement, workers compensation, unemployment compensation) the total expense for personnel comes to $6,123,860, or 80 percent of the total budget. Another major expense is for energy costs.

Anticipated expenditures are nearly $400,000.

Administratively, Mills said, more than $500,000 has been pared from the deficit, but none of the cuts has been officially approved by the board.

Substation Property To Be Sold

The property known as the Van Buren St. substation will be sold to the highest bidder on Friday, May 17 at 10 a.m. in the village offices.

The village council voted to sell the property, 35 by 62 feet, at its March 19 meeting.

According to village clerk Evelyn Rosentreter, the property is worth $6,000. A $5,000 bid is the lowest that will be accepted.

According to village administrator Frederick Weber, the village site is zoned for commercial use. He said he has had an inquiry from a private citizen about using the site, where a small brick building now stands, for a commercial venture.

Due to zoning requirements about lot size and yard dimensions, most uses of the property would require a number of zoning variances.

Radar Detector Reported Stolen

A radar detector worth approximately $200 was reported stolen from a residence in the 100 block of Madison St. on Tuesday, March 19, Chelsea police said.

As of press time, the detector had not been recovered, and no one had been charged with the crime.

Curriculum Director Position Approved For School District

For the first time, the Chelsea school district will have a person in charge of fine tuning the curriculum for all schools.

The position of Curriculum Director was created by the school board at its March 18 meeting. The position will be funded beginning Aug. 1 and will be an appointment lasting initially no more than two years.

The school board can choose to renew the position at the end of that time, if necessary. However, according to Superintendent Ray Van Meer, the position will not be a permanent one.

The creation of the position was the culmination of a process that began in 1977 with a survey of Chelsea residents, Van Meer said. One of the suggestions from that survey was that someone should be co-ordinating the curriculum. Since then, the board has worked internally to get to the point where they felt it was feasible to hire a director, he said.

Van Meer said the director is not being appointed to correct any glaring deficiencies in the system. Rather, it is to find the best way to handle the curriculum.

"There's no question we could accomplish our goals with our present staff," Van Meer said. "But it lengthens the time to accomplish them because it spreads everybody a little thin. For example, principals should be able to spend more time monitoring the classrooms rather than sitting in meetings about the curriculum. We thought that we could bring someone in and have that person take what we have done to date and devote his or her energies to accomplishing our goals."

Trying to state the educational goals of the school board in a few sentences is difficult to do, according to trustee Anne Comeau, who has been heavily involved in working with the curriculum. She said that in the last several years there have been extensive local studies conducted covering kindergarten through high school. The studies have covered language arts, social studies, science and math.

"What we are trying to do is establish what we feel a senior should know by the time he leaves Chelsea High school," Comeau said. "Then we back up through the curriculum, all the way down to kindergarten, and find the best way to do it."

According to Comeau, the director will, for example, make sure eighth graders are exposed to everything they need to be successful in ninth grade English. Or, he also might see something that is being done in 11th grade that should be done earlier. The director might make specific recommendations concerning course work or textbooks.

The position was officially posted Wednesday, March 20, and the deadline for applying is May 15. Van Meer said he has contacted officials at the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University. He's looking for a person with a masters degree, preferably in curriculum, with at least three years in teaching experience. The salary has been left open for negotiation.

Eager Fifth Grader Seeks Assistance from President

When announcement was made to local elementary school students of the MS Read-A-Thon, nine-year-old Michael Kennedy enthusiastically contacted the usual list of neighbors and relatives for sponsorship.

The twist in the story began, however, when he noticed President Reagan's picture in a discarded newspaper at home. As his mother, Debbie said, "that did it." Michael composed a letter to the president asking him for sponsorship even though his parents warned him that he probably wouldn't hear from the busy public figure.

Michael carefully explained the situation in his letter and the necessity of receiving a response by March 5 due to the deadline set for the return of the Read-A-Thon kit. That date came and went and no word was received from the president.

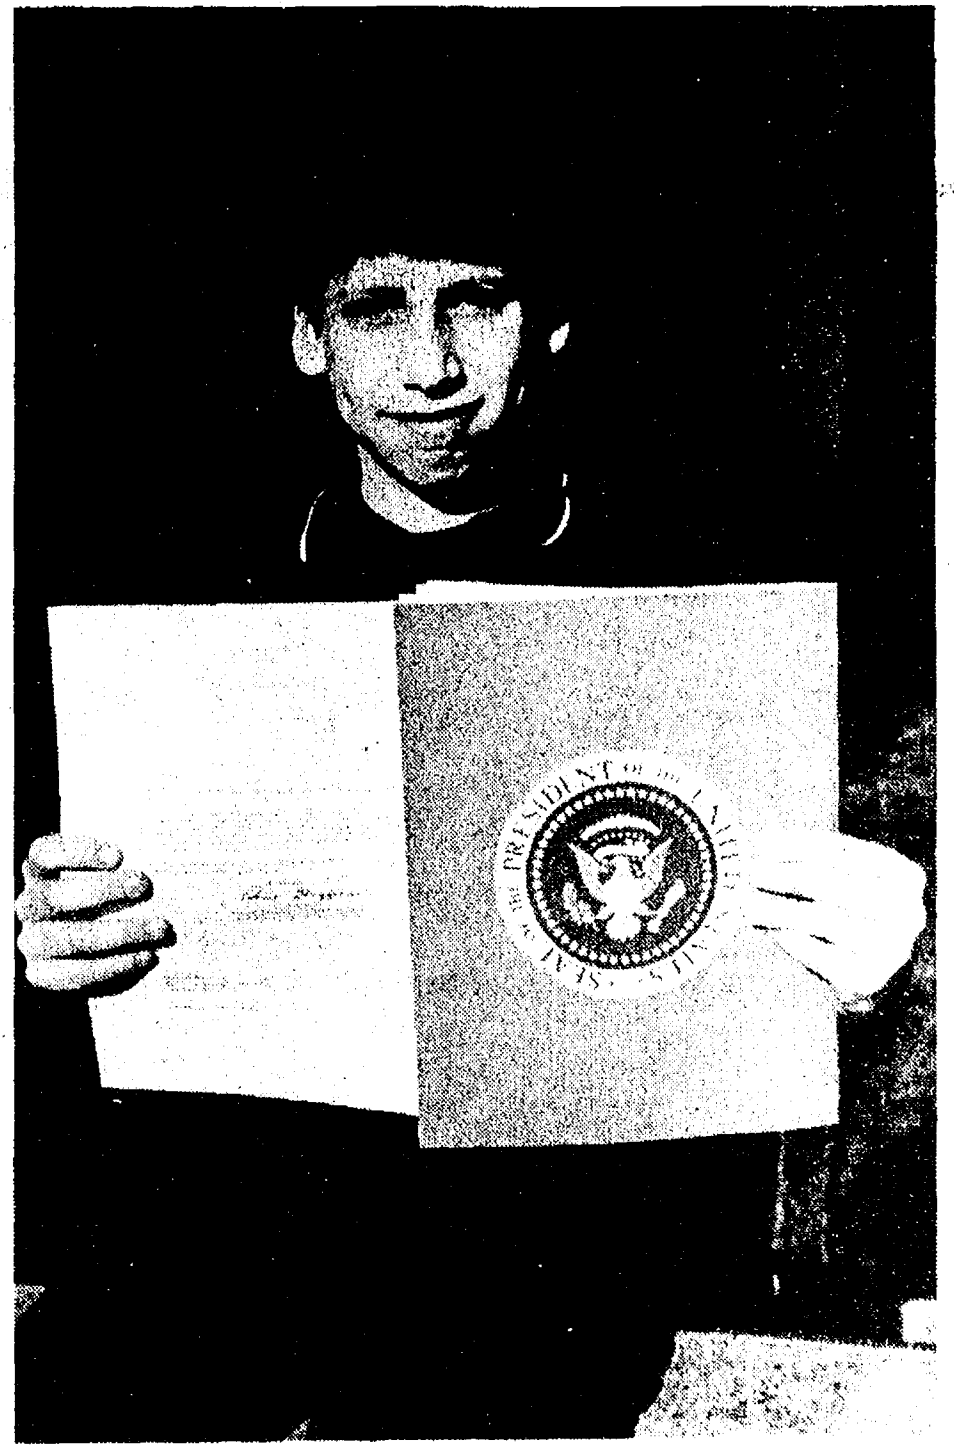

Little did Michael know, however, that Tuesday, March 19 was fast approaching, a day that he would proclaim as "the best day of my life." It was the day when, among other things, an answer was received from President Reagan's secretary conveying messages from the Commander-in-Chief himself. The letter explained that even though the requested sponsorship was impossible, that the president was proud of Michael's participation and believes strongly in community support. He also wished Michael the best of luck.

His mother said that upon seeing the large envelope with the White House return address on it that Michael became "positively hysterical, he was so thrilled."

But it was the addition of a 91 percent piano testing score which he received that day from his music teacher at Eastern Michigan University, topped by a Cub Scout meeting which motivated Michael to proclaim at the end of the day that it had been the best day of his life.

Also besides herself, upon reading the White House correspondence, was Michael's 82-year-old great-grandmother, Hallie Walker, who has always

A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT was received by nine-year-old South school student, Michael Kennedy in response to his request that the country's leader sponsor him in the MS Read-A-Thon held recently in Chelsea. Actually signed by Anne Higgins, special assistant to the President and director of correspondence, she relayed a message from the President stating that it pleases him when he hears of the volunteer efforts of young Americans who undertake projects to benefit their communities, and explained that it would be impossible to sponsor Michael due to the large numbers of similar requests.

Health-O-Rama Slated at Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital will once again be a site for Project Health-O-Rama. To be held at the Hospital on Saturday, March 30, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., free health screenings are available to anyone 18 years and older. No advanced registration is required.

Project Health-O-Rama is a seven-county-wide program of free health tests and health information sponsored in South-eastern Michigan by United Health Organizations, WXYZ TV Channel 7, and Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan.

Participants in Health-O-Rama receive free health screenings including hearing, blood pressure, height/weight, glaucoma screening, and vision testing. A blood panel chemistry is also available for a $7 charge. Individuals interested in the blood panel chemistry should fast four hours before the blood test.

Also available at Health-O-Rama are medication counseling, nutrition counseling and a health screening summary with a health professional.

Displays and exhibits will be set up offering health information on topics including substance abuse, nutrition, medication, and mental health services.

Many health volunteers will be on hand to assist with the Chelsea Community Hospital Health-O-Rama. Dr. Salley A. Stormen, DDS, Grass Lake, Dr. Steven Yarows, internal medicine, and the Chelsea Family Practice residents will be available to provide counseling and answer questions.

Because of the success of Health-O-Rama, individuals should be prepared to wait 30 to 40 minutes for health screenings.

For further information call Chelsea Community Hospital at 475-1311, ext. 262.

Village Budget For '86 Shows No Increase

There is no planned increase in money to be spent by the village in the 1986 fiscal year.

The village council unanimously approved the village budget at its March 19 meeting after a short public hearing on the subject. The budget for the general fund was $965,000, the exact amount in the amended budget for fiscal year 1985.

In fiscal year 1985, actual unaudited revenues were $972,399, while actual unaudited expenditures were $928,193.

Chelsea Musicians Impress Judges

Members of the Chelsea High school band and orchestra participated in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's Solo and Ensemble Festival, Saturday, March 23 at Eastern Michigan University.

The students qualified at the district festivals in February.

There were three difficulty levels, proficiency one through three, with proficiency three being the most demanding. In addition to performing a solo, each musician had to prepare scales and was given a sight-reading test.

Receiving first division ratings were sophomore Denise Pratt, proficiency one, clarinet solo; junior Shawn Quilter, and seniors Willem Van Reesema and Amy Wolter, proficiency three, trumpet trio; Laura Koepke, proficiency three, flute solo; Kathy Jorgensen, proficiency one, cello solo.

Latrishia Richardson, was second division, proficiency two, piano solo.

Koepke and senior Joe Simon also earned first division ratings in flute-timpani duet, and Wolter was rated first division, proficiency three, in trumpet solo.

The flute-timpani duet was an original composition by Simon and Koepke.

Also, Jorgensen was asked to audition to be a soloist in the Michigan Youth Arts Festival in Kalamazoo this May, because of her high rating in the proficiency exam.

The Rev. Erwin R. Koch was installed as pastor of St. Paul United Church of Christ on Sunday, March 29. Koch was the former minister of St. John's UCC, Kenton, O., where he served for 13 years. He had held pastorates in St. Charles and St. Louis, Mo.

For the first time, Chelsea was selected to host the State Solo and Ensemble Festival. Held in the Beach Middle school auditorium, students from approximately 35 schools, including Chelsea, took part, being judged individually and in groups of up to eight members. Participants were judged in five categories: tone, intonation, rhythm, interpretation and technique.

Modern Mothers Child Study Club began support of the Waterloo Nature Center with the donation of two benches placed along the walkway to the Center when it opened. Proceeds from the Chelsea Challenge Run, sponsored by the group and held in May, were to go to the Waterloo Natural History Association for the second year in a row.

After four generations of service to the community, Staffan Funeral Home was sold by Mr. and Mrs. George L. Staffan to John Wesley Mitchell, formerly of Rochester and a newcomer to Chelsea. He graduated from Okemos High school near Lansing and attended Western Michigan University. He received his degree from the Wisconsin Institute of Mortuary Science in 1985 and was the recipient of the Mu Sigma Alpha Mortuary Award for Restorative Art Excellence.

Chelsea United Methodist Church consecrated a new 26-pipe, two manual Zimmer Traker Pipe Organ at a service held Sunday, March 29. The community was invited to enjoy an organ recital and Chancel Choir concert in celebration of the new organ.

Washtenaw County Community Mental Health Center opened a Community Health Center in Chelsea. Offices were provided by the Chelsea Medical Clinic, 775 S. Main St. The service was designed to help meet the mental health needs of local individuals. Approximately 300 persons attended the annual Winter Sports Awards Banquet at the high school cafeteria. The family potluck included families and members of the varsity, JV, and freshman basketball teams, the varsity and JV wrestling team, the cheerleaders, and the drill team. Ron Sweeney and Howie Treado shared the honor of the varsity team's most valuable player award.

Palmer Ford Drag Club had the largest meeting of the season at its program featuring a discussion with Cpl. Robert Fitzgerald of the Jackson State Police post. He showed a movie concerning auto accidents, their causes and the results. He also discussed safety requirements on all cars, and a new speed-trap system.

Severe weather conditions created unusual, almost insurmountable road conditions, according to the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners. The transition from Ice Cap to snow covered mud holes, in less than two weeks' time led the Road Commission to apply the annual load limits earlier than usual. The rapid change from deep freeze to quick thaw softened the top layer of the roads, creating many hazards overnight.

A very popular activity offered by Beach Middle school was a Boys Cooking Club. The group met during activity period within the school day and was designed to teach basic dishes and nutritional education. Popularity was attributed to the fact that the boys were allowed to eat everything they prepared, in which case "Boy's Eating Club" may have been a better suited name.

Budget Problems Could Erase Projected Surplus

Budget officials have urged legislators to move cautiously on tax rollbacks, telling them high spending needs could more than eat up an increased revenue forecast to apparently erase a $68 million surplus in fiscal year 1985-86.

Governor James Blanchard's own $65 million property tax relief plan is still "on the table" despite the revised outlook, according to Management and Budget Deputy Director Thomas Clay.

Since the Governor's budget was proposed in December, Clay said the situation has worsened so that instead of a surplus at the end of fiscal 1985-86, there will be a zero balance or a deficit.

If a Senate-approved tax rollback plan is enacted, the state could have a deficit of some $300 million by the end of that fiscal year, he said.

Clay added the budget department will revise its forecasts and budget estimates based on newer revenue figures and factors such as federal budget cuts and the impact of removing Japanese trade restraints on automobiles.

He said the Legislature should not move rapidly on either property or income tax rollbacks, and said the Governor wants budget decisions made prior to or at least at the same time as tax decisions.

If there is money left over after adoption of an "appropriate" budget, Clay said the Governor favors property tax relief and if there is more or if tax exemptions are closed, an income tax rollback could be supported.

Even though he said the items he outlined for the members of the Appropriations and Taxation Committees of the House of Representatives would eliminate the 1985-86 surplus, he said it is premature for the Governor to withdraw his property tax relief proposal.

"The property tax credit is still on the table, if complicating factors do not come to pass. But the revenues would not support (an early income tax) rollback if you assume higher spending for federal cuts and other budget increases," he said.

Treasurer Robert Bowman was less pessimistic saying, "I don't think the $68 million surplus is eliminated. We're reviewing it."

Clay said general fund revenues in the current year are already $40 million higher than estimated, which he said will increase the current year surplus carried into the next year, but said several factors—some definite, some only possible—will offset that.

The most important of these, he said, is a $70-80 million revenue loss in 1985-86 by removal of Japanese trade restraints.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

"At last, good news for convicted crooks about to enter the slammer. Hard time ain't got to be hard. Apply now to pay your debt to society in Happy Dale Rehabilitation Development. Our new facility is fully licensed for up to 320 guests, all with varied, interesting backgrounds. We have a trained and courteous staff of resident supervisors, and we offer a proved maximum security system that allows even the most hardened criminals to qualify. Talk it over with your lawyer. Ask to tour our facilities. See if you don't agree Happy Dale is the place for you."

You ain't seen that ad yet, but from what Ed Doolittle was telling at the country store Saturday night, you might. It looks like prisons are going private, and you know promotion is the first rule in the business book. Them federal country clubs where Uncle Sam sends the tax cheats and corrupt politicians won't have nothing on the town lockup if the local Governments are willing to beef up the contracts.

Ed told the fellers he had saw where some 30 prisons all over the country are being run by private outfits, and that this system is working so good the number is expected to double in the next two years. They use to say the only way to make sure crime don't pay was to let the Government run it. Then it turned out the best way was to let private business pay private citizens to turn in the crooks. If private Crime Stoppers works so good, it ought not be a surprise that private punishment does to, was Ed's words.

Actual, Clem Webster said, the hole idee of private run prisons gives new meaning to inmates running the asylum. Clem said he could see farming out the food and maybe a few other services, but guarding the convicts looked like a job for people with the force of Government behind em.

Ed said that's the beauty of this new twist. The prison staff works for the private company that has the contract, but the contract gives em the authority they need. Besides, Ed said, from what he could read the real relief is paperwork. One private outfit in Nashville, Corrections Corporation of America, has got jail down to a science, Ed reported. They can keep track of everything and everybody with a computer. Like the colonel and his chicken, Ed went on, this company does one thing, and they do it right.

Ed's private prison clipping played to mixed reviews. Zeke Grubb said the next ad you see might go somepun like this. "Don't take our word for it. Talk to our satisfied parolees. We know you'll be convinced, as they are, that once you've served time with us you wouldn't think of pulling your next job anywhere but in our service area."

For sure, went on Zeke, our legal system takes some strange twists and turns. He had saw recent where the court has upheld a bank's policy declaring that money a customer was forced to take from an automatic teller was a "authorized withdrawal." Zeke told how a robber stuck a gun in Mark Carter's face, took his teller card and secret access code and used em to take out $500. If that was a authorized withdrawal, Zeke wanted to know, what would a unauthorized one. Maybe if the robber went inside during banking hours and poked the gun at a real teller, the court would dismiss the case on grounds that the robber was just trying to get free room and board at the new private prison in the suburbs.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.Governor Declares Tornado Safety Week

March 24-30 has been declared Michigan Tornado Safety Week by Governor James Blanchard in an effort to alert residents to the need to know how to prepare for possible tornado danger. The Emergency Management Division of the Michigan State Police has some suggestions that may help.

Capt. Peter Basolo, Deputy State Director of Emergency Services, explained that an average of 17 tornadoes occur in Michigan each year. Since 1950, 229 people have been killed by tornadoes in the state with property estimated in the millions of dollars.

"Tornadoes usually develop in conjunction with severe thunderstorms. Community storm systems and the broadcast media alert the public when a possible tornado is approaching, but often a tornado will touch down before any warnings can be issued. When severe weather conditions exist, residents should be aware of the possibility of a tornado and be prepared to seek shelter," Basolo explained.

Course Offered To Help in Caring For Aging Parents

Are you struggling to understand your aging parents? Do you wonder if others have similar problems with their parents and how they manage?

Frequently, adult children are called upon to assist their parents in various ways. Delicate questions are posed: When do I help? How much do I help? What if I think my parent(s) need help but he/she doesn't think so?

Many people are faced with these questions and other concerns as their parents and relatives grow older.

To help people deal with these concerns, Chelsea Community Hospital is sponsoring a six-session course entitled "As Parents Grow Older." Weekly sessions will be held beginning Tuesday evenings, April 9 and continuing through May 14.

This will be an educational support group which will help increase participants' knowledge of the aging process as well as work toward sharing solutions to common problems. The group will be led by Peg Woerle, ACSW and Chris Hays, ACSW.

A registration fee of $35 will be charged. To register, phone Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-1311, Ext. 262. Group size is limited so early registration is advised.

Volunteer Reception Set At Cobblestone Farm

Cobblestone Farm will be the setting of a candlelight reception for prospective volunteers. The reception, scheduled from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Monday, April 8 will feature a 19th Century Tea. Representatives from the many committees will be on hand to answer questions.

The restoration of the Cobblestone Farm and the continuing programs and special events are made possible through the assistance of many dedicated people.

Kindergarten Registration To Be By Appointment Only

Changes are being made in the way kindergarten registration is handled for the 1985-86 school year, according to South School principal Bob Benedict.

Registration will be by appointment from Monday, April 15 through Thursday, April 18 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the educational building of the First United Methodist church on Park St. There will also be an evening registration session on Thursday. There will be no general evening meeting as in past years, Benedict said.

Registration, which should take approximately 15-20 minutes per child, will include several activities. Each child will be tested for language skills, motor skills, and conceptual skills, in addition to standard sight and hearing tests. Benedict said the tests are performed for information about a child's maturity and readiness for kindergarten.

Parents with children who will be five years old on or before Dec. 1 who want their children in kindergarten next year and have not received a packet information from the school district should call 475-9830. The same number should be called to set up a registration appointment.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Guest Column
By Will Connelly

This is an effort to pinch hit for my admired friend, Bill Mullendore, until he returns to his typewriter.

As the dollar flies, it is about 420 miles from the Clock Tower to Capitol Hill. If we who faithfully vote in elections will insist on a reorganization of Congress so that the term of office is 12 years and no member is ever again eligible for re-election, the United States government can be debt free and deficit free, perhaps in as little as 10 years.

With a Congress that can no longer be corrupted by ambitions for re-election:

- The national debt will be reduced year after year until it is paid in full.
- Government borrowing will go down and come to an end.
- Double digit interest rates for bonds, mortgages and major family purchases will become a thing of the past.
- Every peacetime federal budget will be balanced or show a surplus.
- Government spending will be less than 15 percent of our gross national product compared to 24 percent today.
- Income tax reporting will be a simple task that an average person can complete in a few minutes—and the new tax will be fair to all.

- Federal public works projects and other federal handouts will be carried out only by demonstrated necessity, at reasonable cost, and never to fulfill political ambitions.
- Bureaucracies dedicated to paper work and non-productive regulations will be dismantled.
- The growth of federal agencies will be replaced by a system of incentives and rewards for those federal employees who reduce the size and cost of government operations.

To create a National Legislature that can do such things we will need a constitutional amendment approved by two-thirds of the members of Congress plus the legislatures of 38 states. Under the Constitution we have the power to bring this about. Nothing stands in the way except lack of determination to do it.

As things stand now we have a shocking national debt of $1 trillion. It took us 193 years to reach this point in 1981, but we now have a galloping infection. By the summer of 1986 our national debt is expected to pass $2 trillion. Your personal share of this debt will be $7,000 plus another $7,000 for every member of your family. And you are going to pay for it with soaring rates of interest, returning inflation, and financial chaos.

With a $2 trillion debt, interest payments will require the government to borrow all of the money that all the savers and investors in the United States are capable of assembling. Industries, public utilities, farmers—everyone who needs capital to keep going and keep growing—will be desperate for money and the rates of interest will skyrocket.

With the Constitution in one hand and the handle to our Treasury in the other, the financial destruction of America by Congress is not only legal, but inevitable.

In recent times practically no one has ever sought a seat in Congress for the pay. Anyone with the ambition and the intelligence to win election to Congress has the ability to earn two or three times as much in private employment. Seatholders on Capitol Hill award themselves $69,800 but, for example, Michigan's two U. S. senators spent $843,000 of our tax dollars for postage in the interests of re-election.

Let's face it: Virtually no one engages in a costly political battle for election to Congress to occupy the seat for just one term. Achieving election to the House or Senate is a career commitment by an intensely ambitious person who anticipates repeated re-elections. These, in turn, will translate into job entrenchment, steadily growing power in the committees . . . and for some, the dream of that big white mansion on Pennsylvania Ave.

We cannot blame today's mess on Ronald Reagan, Jimmy Carter, Jerry Ford, Richard Nixon, or recent predecessors in the oval office. Presidents can prepare budgets but CONGRESS ALONE CAN TURN THE APPROPRIATIONS INTO LAW.

The only way to solve the problem is with a systematic, ongoing cost-cutting program based on the realization that our central government simply can't do everything for everybody. Neither can state or local governments. Finally, cost-cutting can never be done by legislators facing re-election because they can't stand the sight of blood.

Our problem at this hour is to protect our world leadership from destruction by politicians and bureaucrats. We must cling to our freedoms and see that we do not become a dreary communist state such as Russia, a welfare state such as Britain, a socialist state such as France or a political madhouse like Italy.

Our two-party system can continue to aid us in the selection of leaders for foreign and domestic affairs. Democrats and Republicans can appropriately compete to become president, governor or mayor; but when it comes to control of the purse strings, let us remove them forever from hands that greedily use our national treasure for personal re-election.

Chelsea's newest industry, a firm specializing in the manufacturing of swimming pools made of ceramic tile embedded in fiberglass, expected to begin production the following week in the former Gudeman plant on Old US-12 adjoining the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds. Name of the new firm awaited a decision at a meeting of company officials.

Charles Koenn, Chelsea High school senior, received the State Farmer Award from the Michigan Future Farmers of America Association as part of the 33rd annual state convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Koenn's leadership in FFA included serving as president of the Chelsea chapter; service as secretary; delegate to the state convention; member of Chelsea parliamentary procedure team that reached regional contests for two years; and chairman and member of many committees of the local chapter.

At the end of its third week in Russia, the University of Michigan Symphony Band had traveled more than 7,600 miles and played to audiences totaling well over 40,000. Michigan's famed marching song, "The Victors" continued to top the Russian popularity poll. The band's eight-week stay in the Soviet Union was to be the longest sojourn in the country by any of the cultural exchange groups. The group traveled under auspices of the U. S. Department of State, with expenses covered by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations.

The Chelsea School District participated in Title III of the National Defense Education Act which authorized funds on a matching basis for the strengthening of instruction in science, mathematics, and modern foreign languages. More than 250 books had been added through the program to school libraries.

The Junior Play "Glamour Boy" was presented under the supervision of Miss Schell and Mrs. Martin. The story involved typical high school students and their problems which prove to be both exciting and romantic. Peewee [Stanley Toney] and Georgia Belle [Jana Weinberg] were to remind all of their own adolescent romances.

A total of 2,000 persons had seen the Passion Play put on in various churches by young people of Waterloo under the direction of Georg and Muriel Pluck. The play had been given nine times, the latest showing having taken place Easter Sunday in Salem Grove Methodist church.

A 20 percent steel cutback would become effective April 1 forcing the auto industry to pro-

A Norman Rockwell portrait of the Red Cross poised for emergency action was particularly significant in those troubled times. The Red Cross carried a big share in the nation's defense responsibilities.

Emil H. Ahrens died at the Tirb Nursing Home near Clinton at the age of 81. He was the publisher of the Chelsea Standard for about six months in 1922. He purchased the paper from M. W. McClure who had then published it for about two years. Ahrens sold the business back to McClure after six months. During his career as newspaper publisher, he owned papers at various times in Morenci, Tecumseh, and Clinton.

The public rest rooms in the Municipal building were freshly painted and the Village Council decided to offer a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any persons guilty of defacing the walls or in any way contributing to the destruction or marring of this village property. A clamp down was expected from local police.

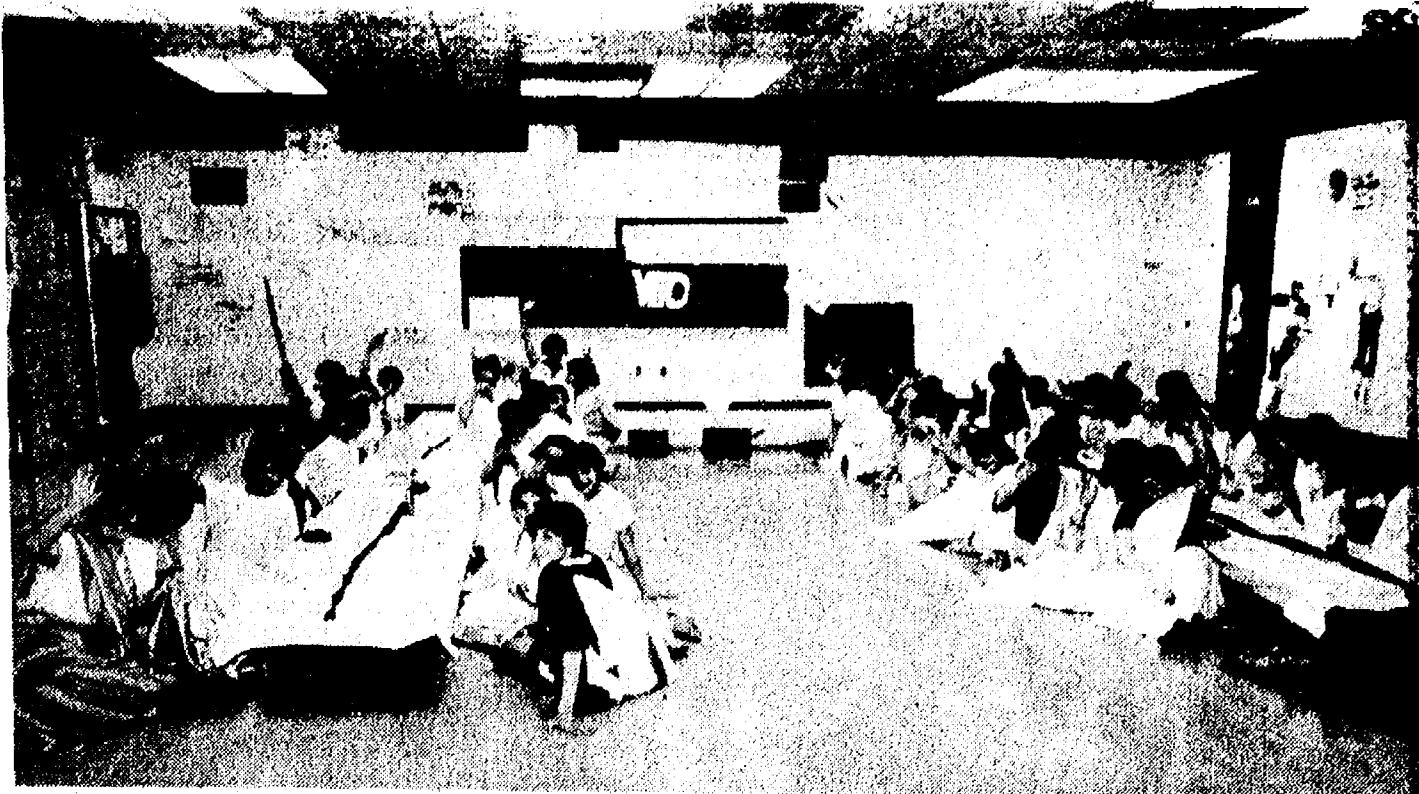

Instead of the regular dinner meeting, the Kiwanis Club enjoyed a box supper at the high school gymnasium. Charles Cameron, with his ready wit, was an entertaining "auctioneer," selling the boxes to the highest bidder.

Dexter auction prices were as follows: eight week feeder pigs, $11.75-$13.00 each; 100-140 lb. feeder pigs, $26.00-$32.00 each.

Computers Help Students In Writing

Washtenaw Community College's writing lab now has 12 Apple IIe computers with text processing software to help students revise their writing more easily, announces Lorene Erickson, English and writing instructor at the College.

The computers, Erickson says, fundamentally change standard methods of writing instruction. They are available to any student using the writing lab, which offers individual help from college instructors and peer tutors to any registered WCC student.

The Apple IIe text processor streamlines writing and revision for students, Erickson notes. "It's easier to make improvements," says Kelly Jo Bradish, student, "because you can shift sentences and paragraphs around until the order makes sense and you don't have to rewrite everything by hand or retype." A trained assistant advises students on how to operate the computers.

Students in 050, 100, and 111 courses, for which a one-credit writing lab is required, are the lab's most frequent users, Erickson notes. Any registered student may use the writing lab and get help on writing projects for any class. At least one instructor and two student tutors staff the lab 50 hours each week.

Lab tutors are closely screened for writing skills and the ability to advise students on ways to improve writing, Erickson reports. Some tutors are published writers, like Helen Grenier, a journalism transfer student who wrote for a dual-language Polish newspaper and radio station in the 1950s. Grenier feels the lab is an important aid to foreign students. "They don't realize they really can write until they come here," she says.

Merger Could Affect Chelsea Cable System

The Village of Chelsea could wind up owning its own cable television system if the right set of circumstances occurs.

It was noted at the March 19 village council meeting that Clear Cablevision, the cable television system serving Chelsea, is one of the many holdings of Capital Cities Communications, which has recently been in the news due to its acquisition of the American Broadcasting Co.

Although no one knows yet how the merger will affect Clear Cablevision, should Capital Cities be forced to divest itself of the company to comply with Federal Communications Commission rules, the village had the first option to buy the Chelsea part of the company written into its contract. Clear Cablevision also serves Manchester, Dexter, Saline, Clinton, Dundee, and Milan, according to a company spokesman.

"I suspect that the village would be very interested in purchasing it," said village administrator Frederick Weber. "We own most of the poles and wires, and we have the equipment for maintenance and the means for bill collection."

The chances for the needed set of conditions being met is considered unlikely by village officials.

Police Chief Attends Radar Instruction Course

Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall is now qualified to certify police officers in the operation of radar equipment after attending last week's Radar Instruction Course at the Michigan State Police Academy in Lansing.

According to McDougall, the State of Michigan requires that any officer who operates radar equipment be certified. Currently, Chelsea police officers have to take courses at Washtenaw Community College or go to some other police department to obtain their certification.

McDougall will also be able to give refresher courses as technology or state law changes.

"Like any instrument, radar equipment is only as accurate as the person reading it," McDougall said.

In addition to instructing Chelsea officers, McDougall will also be able to teach officers from other outlying departments. He said this can be valuable in arranging reciprocal agreements whereby McDougall might teach his specialty in exchange for instruction in another area such as firearms.

The daily operation of radar equipment involves a variety of tasks. For example, certified tuning forks are used as one test of the accuracy of the equipment. The tuning forks give off a precise pitch, which should result in a certain reading by the equipment. In addition, the equipment is checked against a certified speedometer at the beginning and end of each shift. Other tests are routinely performed to check the internal calibration and lights.

"If the officer is properly instructed, he or she should be able to eliminate the 'ghost reading' or shadowing effect that is the cause of those occasional stories about a tree or building being clocked at 80 miles per hour," McDougall said.

The school is funded by a grant from the Michigan Criminal Justice Commission, with no cost to the village other than daily travel expenses.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
What a way to end St. Patrick's day. Many Chelseaites topped their day by seeing Jeff Daniels in his latest triumph as the star in Woody Allen's latest movie.

Jeff's performance is something to see. He sings, not badly; he dances, not badly; he acts, superbly. Jeff has gone from Chelsea amateur actor to movie star. He actually gets paid for kissing the likes of Debra Winger and Mia Farrow.

The only diminution of the sneak preview of "The Purple Rose of Cairo" was that it was held in the catacombs of Briarwood. Too bad the Sylvan Theatre wasn't available for this show. What a triumph that would have been for the hometown boy to have had the sneak preview on Main St. in Chelsea. Alas, the Sylvan and the Princess before her are now only fleeting memories of the old and those like me who are fast getting old.

The Princess predates me, but not the Sylvan. For those who have been around Chelsea all their life, like me, and for those who are movie aficionados, like me (I saw "Gone with the Wind" as a first run movie at the Sylvan, circa 1940); seeing "The Purple Rose of Cairo" on March 17, 1985 was a real happening.

Jeff Daniels, the movie star, was in the audience along with his parents, other relatives, friends and acquaintances. It isn't often that one can go to the movie with the star. As I watched the movie, I realized how much I knew about Jeff and his family. I've heard about his great-grandparents, Ed and Susie Daniels, all my life. I know his grandfather, Lee Ferguson, and knew his other grandparents. I knew his great-aunt and know his great-uncle, Charles McDaniels. I know his three uncles and aunt.

I know his parents and Jeff seems to be the perfect example of the melding of his parents' genes. He is a combination of father Bob's Lincoln-esque handsomeness and mother Marge's prettiness. The result is a wholesome very good looking young man.

During the movie, some of Jeff's relatives came to mind: Lee Ferguson, Jim Daniels, Jay Ferguson and Charlie McDaniels. They too, could have been actors. I also thought that it was very good that grandfather Warren didn't change his name back to McDaniels when the rest of the family did. Of course Charlie didn't know that someone else would make the name Charlie Daniels famous.

—Lynwood E. Noah.

To the Editor,
On March 19 when the swallows returned officially to Capistrano in California the doves nesting each year on a ledge of the buildings at the Methodist Home had been back several days. First they came to assure themselves that the nest was still there then one of them settled in and is on the nest all day long. An usual the nest seems a trifle too small for her as she bulges over all around.

Now all of us will be watching along with the father bird for the arrival of the eggs, then the little nestlings.

This is a wonderfully well protected spot for a nest. When there was snow all over everything else the overhang of the roof protected this ledge so that there was never any snow around the nest.

My other observation concerning wildlife around the building the same day I discovered the doves had returned, included one squirrel scampering up a tree trunk, two flirting robins chasing each other about on the ground and I noted the absence of chipmunks. The chipmunks are in disgrace because they have been digging up tulip bulbs and unfortunately got caught.

The long winter months have been spent mostly by indoor weather watching, as we were cautioned not to go out into the bitter cold, especially on windy days, of which there have been many. Therefore, the days the sun came up into a clear sky we watched some spectacular sun rises, and occasionally a sunset, except that the new building shuts the western sky off, except at the edges. All in all it has seemed like a rather sunny winter. So if winter comes, and it did, spring was not far behind.

In Response to A Mother Who Will Always Find Time:

I was not one of the "non-working" mothers too busy to help at the South School Fun Fair you spoke to, however.

My husband and I have worked at the past six Fun Fairs at South school, and we also had to curtail some important Saturday projects to help.

We have four children and have participated in a number of school functions over the past 23 years, and still have seven more years until our youngest graduates from high school.

We have done school fairs, Girl Scout projects, Indian Guides, band projects, swim meets, one week away as chaperon at a band camp, school caller, school parties, class trips, refreshments, library helper and other important school functions.

Don't lump all of us "non-working" people in one group, there are those parents who participate who don't "work away" from home.

We have found these involvements with the youth a great stimulant and have greatly enjoyed our experiences.

Those who want to participate find the time.

Sally Nicola.

Mr. Editor,

Having a fairly large role in the Charles S. Cameron chapter of the National Honor Society at Chelsea High school, I feel that it is my duty to respond to Mrs. Lella C. Bauer's recent criticism of our rocking chair marathon. I don't believe that Mrs. Bauer had the complete story before she wrote her letter, and I would like to set the record straight.

To start with, I believe that it is important for everyone to know what the National Honor Society stands for and who its members are. Chances are that a National Honor Society member has asked you for your support of our organization sometime within the last few years, and you may have wondered just who these people are.

Members of the National Honor Society are among the brightest students of our junior and senior classes. They must carry at least an 8.5 grade point average (a high "B" or a low "B+") on our 11 point scale to be even considered for membership.

However, having this high degree of scholarship does not automatically qualify a person for membership. To become a member a student must also exhibit a high degree of leadership, character, and service in school or community related activities. As you can see, we are a selective organization, and we pride ourselves on this fact.

Now, let's move on to our "Rock-A-Thon." No one was required to rock at all, much less the full 28 hours. Any NHS member who did not wish to rock could either get someone to rock for them or serve as a worker at the marathon. However, the main reason that we hold something such as the "Rock-A-Thon" is to present a fund-raising activity which also holds interest for the students. We have found that the "Rock-A-Thon" serves these ends very well.

We made over $1,000 through our "Rock-A-Thon" this year. Much of the credit for our success goes directly to you, the community.

Without the help of local merchants such as The Chelsea Standard, Heydlauff's, McDonald's, Polly's, Thompson's, The Tower Mart, and Vogel's Party Store, without the many parents and teachers who served as chaperones and made baked good for us, without our chairperson of this event, Laura Koepele, and the many students who participated, and without you, the community, who pledged us to rock, our "Rock-A-Thon" could have never gotten off its feet, so to speak.

We don't believe, however, that we should be paid to serve the community. This is our duty as a community service organization, and we do this through Christmas caroling at the United Methodist Home and the Chelsea Community Hospital, serving as guides at the High School's recent "Wealth of Health Day," tutoring any student who requests it, and through various other activities.

I hope that this letter has helped to make clearer who the National Honor Society is and what it does. I feel that it is important for a community service organization, such as ourselves, to have a good relationship with the community that it serves. I also hope that I have dispelled some of the negative image that we may have with some members of the community.

Dear Mr. Editor,

To some this might register as a "trivia" matter, but for sometime now I have harbored a sort of gripe that puzzles me and would like to share same with you and your readers.

This "gripe" renews itself, arises from the storehouse of my mind and is stimulated thought-matter once more each time the following experience is the motivator.

Have you ever gone into a store which has a bakery, or any place who deals with the handling of bulk foods, ordered a bulk item and have the person who services your request carefully use a sheet of waxed paper to keep their hands from touching your requested item? That is a very commendable health protection gesture of which I highly approve. The things that "bugs" me is, that after taking pains to see the item is not touched by human hands they then drop the wax paper, used to protect one's health, into the very same bag your purchase is housed. Why? Should you see another irresistible morsel and select it as well, then your second choice is placed in the same bag right on top of the first waxed paper and still another sheet of waxed paper is laid on top as well. Eliminating any chance of "untouched by human hands" effect.

On the other hand, Farmer Jack employees use protective papers for handling each item purchased; however, they are strictly ordered by their Borman main office, which demands each waxed paper used be dropped into boxes behind counter for such a purpose, because of health ruling. If such a law is upheld why then not local stores handling bulk baked products do same?

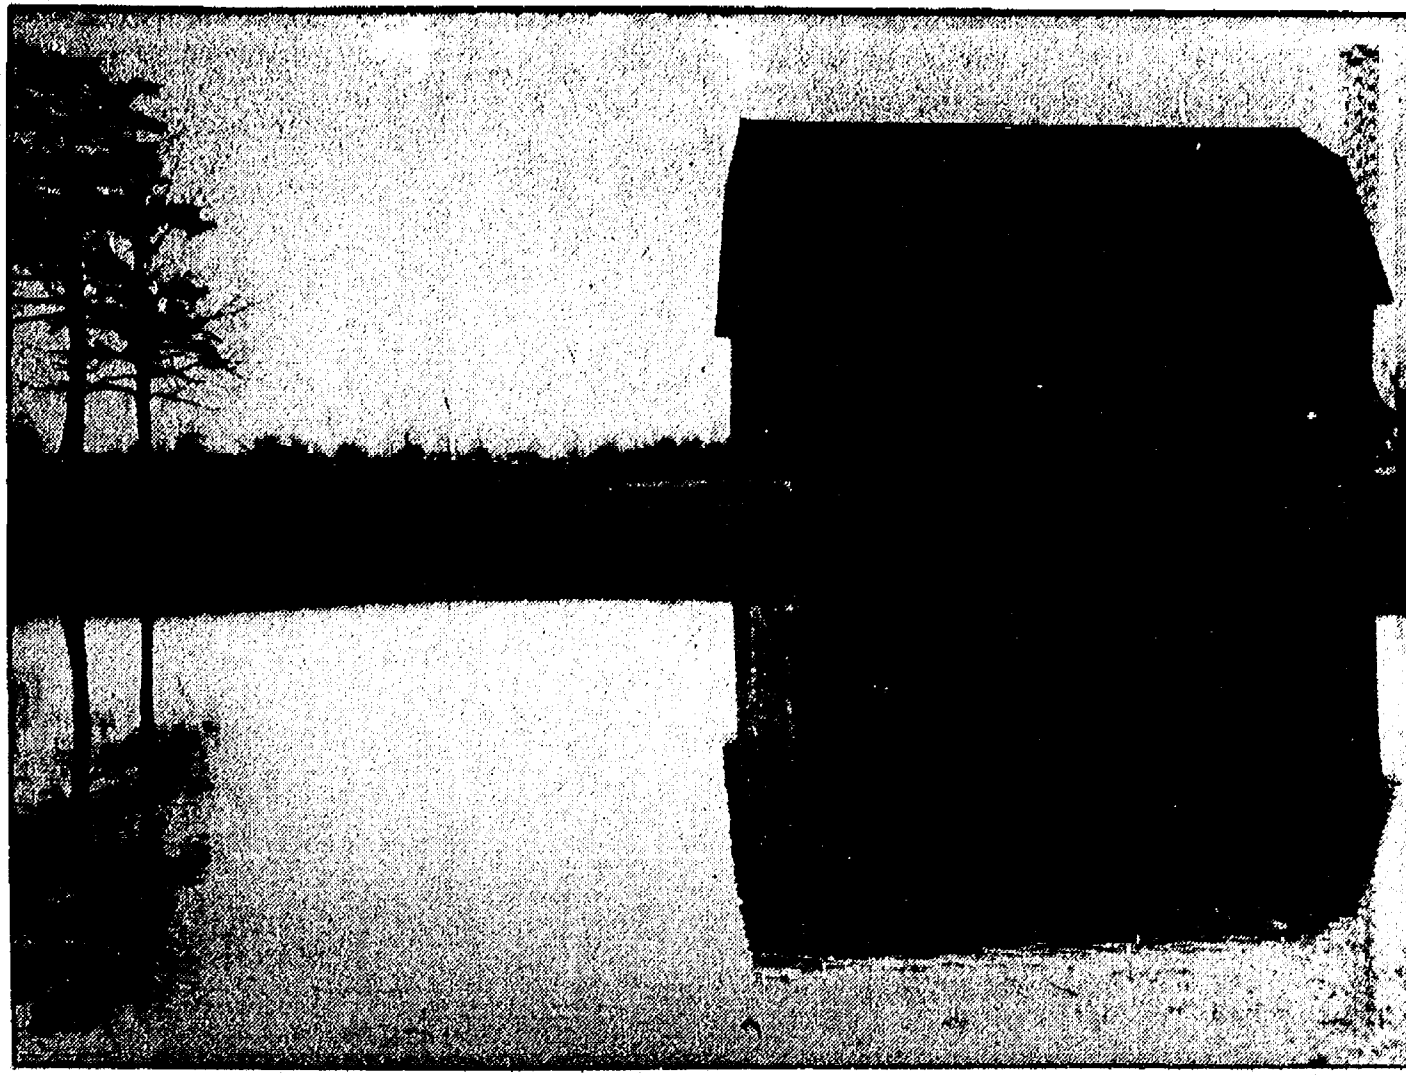

Health food establishments insist on their employees using plastic gloves which remain behind and not in purchaser's bag. That makes sense.

No one is germ free, and let's face it, the flu season, common colds and measles are on the uprise in schools and colleges, and this community as well, so every little help we can get to keep from spreading germs would be for the good of all, and that is good common sense.

Know what, Mr. Editor, the bottom line for me too is, that it just irritates me to no end to pitch out those little waxed papers tucked into my purchase bag, because, I am doing someone else's job for them and not getting paid for it which leaves "irresistible morsel" laying like a lump in the pit of my stomach.

SEC TOP 10 SPELLERS in middle or junior high schools survived the heated competition in the conference 1985 Spelling Bee to emerge victorious, Saturday, March 23, at Wylie school in Dexter. Teams from Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln, Milan, Saline and Tecumseh participated, with 10 students on each of the competing teams. Tecumseh Junior High won the trophy this year, as the school with the most points earned. Each of the 10 students shown in the photo above took home an engraved plaque recognizing their excellent spelling ability. The group includes, front row, from right, Geoffrey Cisko (1) and Carolyn Karr (2), both of Milan, Shelby Croft (3) Tecumseh, Jill Stephenson (4) Dexter, Dani Jones (5) Milan, Eldora David (6) Lincoln, Kristy Petty (7) Chelsea, Karen Kalis (8) Saline, Julie Shuster (9) Tecumseh and Jason Stidham (10) Dexter. The winning word this year for Geoffrey Cisko was "chamois."

Four Buildings Defaced by Minors

Two minor girls vandalized four downtown buildings with red spray paint on Saturday, March 16, but no charges were filed, according to Chelsea police.

Police said no charges were filed after the girls cleaned the paint off Vogel's Department Store, the Pump 'N' Pantry, and McKune Memorial Library, on Main St. and Rademacher and Musbach Attorneys building on W. Middle St.

Landfill Rates Rise For Commercial Users

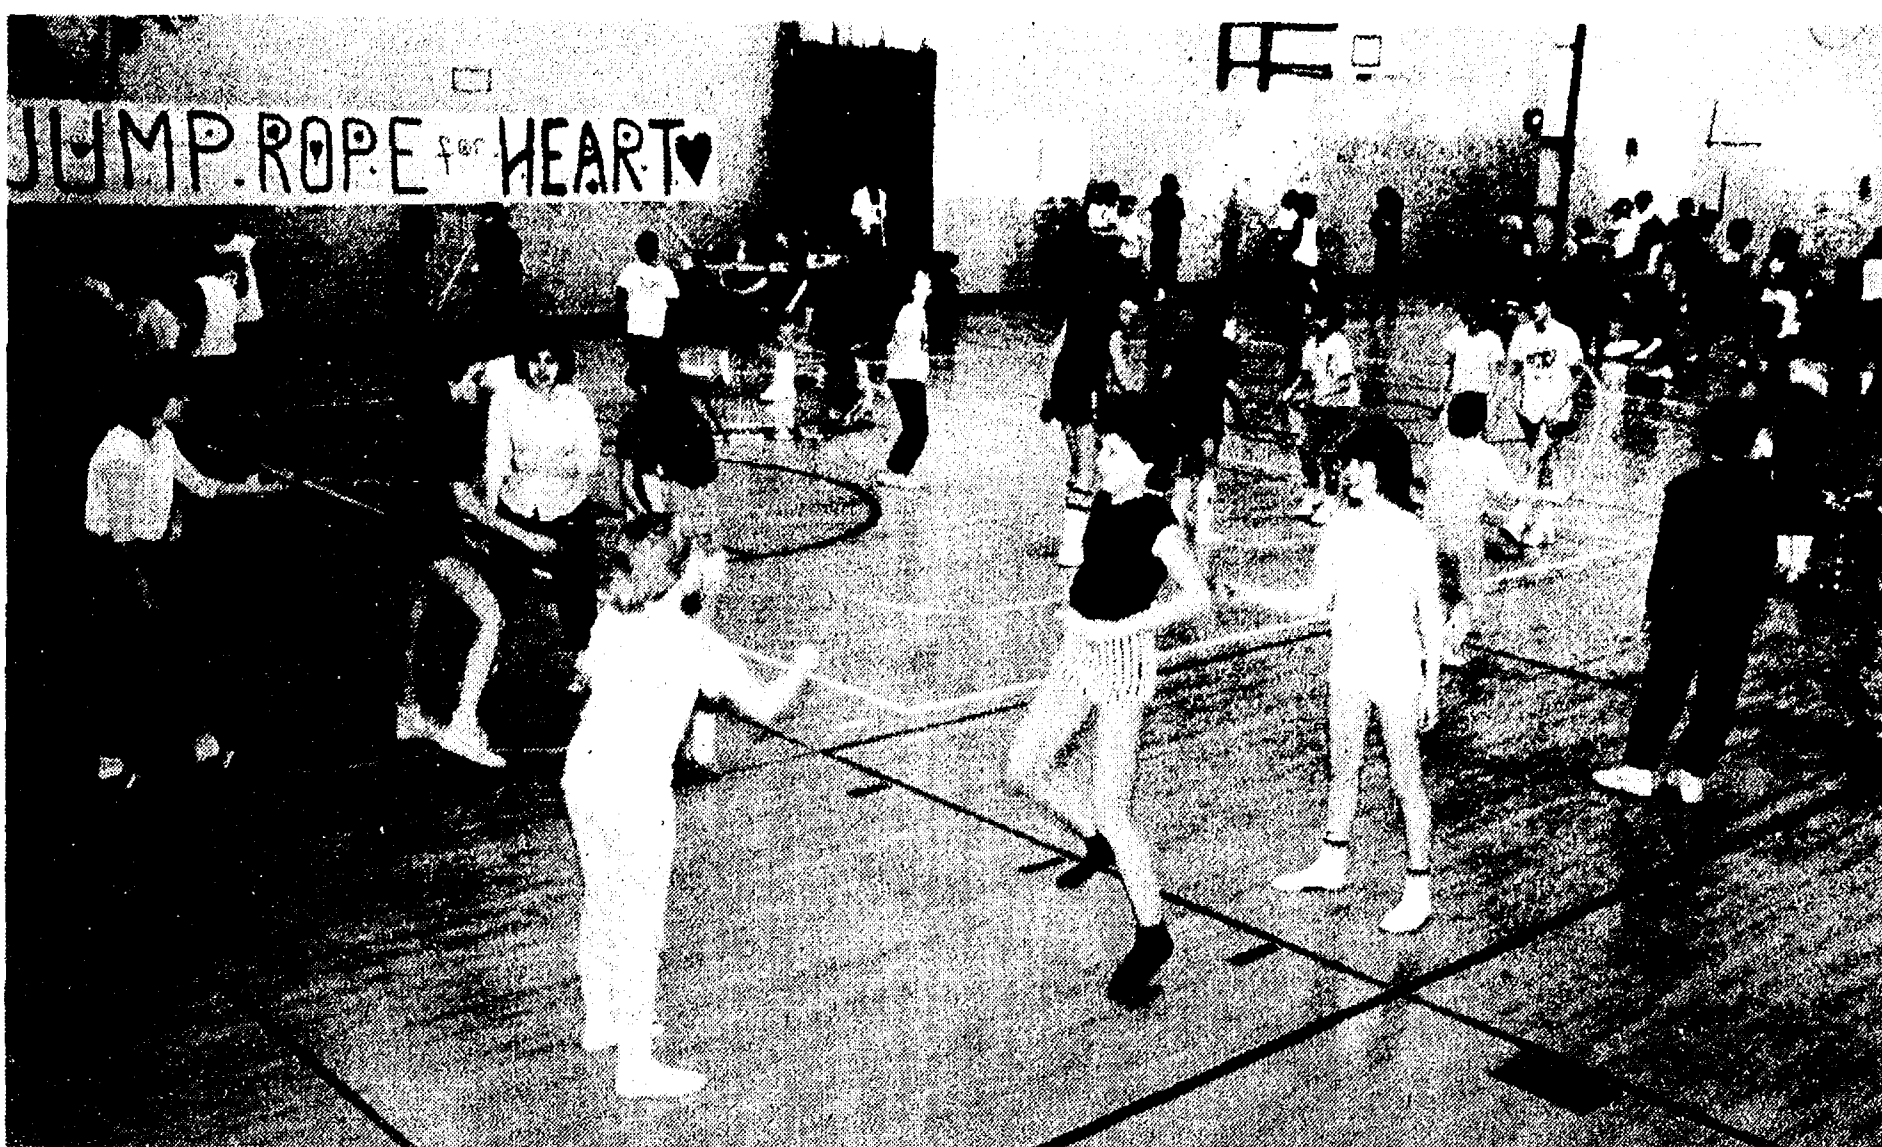

Chelsea Village Council, at its March 19 meeting, voted an increase in landfill fees for commercial customers.

The increase is to $2.85 per yard, up 35 cents from its current charge of $2.50. The increase raises Chelsea's charge to equal that of Jackson's and 10 cents more than Ann Arbor's.

According to village administrator Frederick Weber, the increase is expected to generate an additional $10-12,000 in revenues per year.

The increase is effective immediately. However, it will not affect residential garbage pickup rates until the contract with Diamond D Rubbish expires in December.

MORE THAN 80 jumpers took part in three continuous hours of rope-skipping to benefit the American Heart Association on Tuesday, March 19 at Beach school. Music and heavy competition between six-member teams helped drifting minds and aching muscles through the last agonizing hour. Physical education teacher, Ann Schaffner, co-ordinated the event, held for the first time in Chelsea.

Jump Rope Marathon at Beach Earns Funds for Heart Assoc.

The aerobic benefits of jumping rope have resulted in a revival of the popularity of the sport. However, convincing the 80 students and teachers who participated in three hours of rope jumping to earn pledge money for the Michigan Heart Association's Jump-Rope for Heart program, of that may be a little difficult until sore muscles heal.

Six-member teams were required to have one person jumping at all times during the 180-minute event held Tuesday, March 19 from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Beach Middle school. Funds raised from the first-time event for Chelsea students will be donated to the Michigan Heart Assoc.

Ann Schaffner, physical education teacher at Beach, and co-ordinator of the program locally, explained the creative ways in which participants kept their minds off aching muscles. Many school records were broken as teams provoked each other into daring jumping sequences. At one point jump ropes were tied together to enable 10 children to jump at once, which they did successfully around 60 times. Music and the heat of competition produced tired and sore jumpers into completing the third and last hour of exercise.

Prizes were provided by the Michigan Heart Assoc., and, because of the large number of successful participants, will be awarded to those who rake-in the largest amount in pledges. Even with "lots of sore calf muscles" participants felt the event was both fun and worthwhile, Schaffner said.

Nine is enough.

If you're paying more than $9 a month for your business checking account, your bank is giving you the business.

Average Available Business Checking Balance	Monthly Service Charge
$2000 or more	$0.
$1000 to $1999	$7
$1 to $999	$9

How much are you paying for a business checking account at your bank? As much as $20 some months? Thirty? Fifty?

If you open an account at Citizens Trust, you'll pay no more than $9 a month. Any month. And you could, with ease, maintain your account for free.

You see, we charge you only if your available balance falls below $2000. If you keep an average available monthly balance of between $1 and $999 in your account, you pay just a $9 monthly service fee. Between $1000 and $1999, just a $7 monthly fee. And a balance of $2000 or more in your account means you pay no service charges at all.

That's a welcome change from the policies of some area banks who charge you for each deposit you make, every check you write, and a monthly service fee to boot.

Next month, when your monthly statement arrives, sit down and figure out how much your account is costing you. Then move your money to Citizens Trust. Because we feel nine dollars is enough.

COACH BILL BAINTON talks over practice with his girls on a recent cool day at the track. Forty girls are out for the team this year and Bainton says he's never had a group as motivated. The team is expecting to improve on its fifth-place conference finish last year.

Girls Track Team Prepared To Challenge Wide Open Conference

Buoyed by an abundance of distance runners and a sprint corps that appears to be making dramatic progress, Chelsea High school girls track coach Bill Bainton is preparing his team for league competition that could "be wide open this year."

Forty girls have been practicing with the team for nearly a month. Bainton has returning starters in nearly every event, which should help improve on his team's fifth-place finish in the Southeastern Conference last year. They finished with a 1-4 mark in dual meets and 2-5 overall.

"One of our strengths is going to be our attitude," Bainton says. "I've never had a group that seems to be this motivated. That could make a big difference because this is the first time in a long time that I can't really pick a favorite in the conference. Milan won it last year so they may have an edge. Saline has good depth."

In the two hurdle events, the 300-meter and 100-meter, the Bulldogs have "four good competitors," Bainton says. The group is led by junior Amy Wolfgang, who finished fifth in the state meet last year with a time of :47.2, although her best time was in league competition at :46.4. Other girls to watch are junior Amy Tiff, who Bainton says would be the "best hurdler on many teams," junior Kerry Henderson, and freshman Shannon Dunn.

The sprinters are a young group this year, with no seniors on the squad. Bainton initially plans to shift them around in the 100-meter, 200-meter, perhaps the 400-meter, and relay events.

Wrestling Club Members Return With 6 Medals

Thirteen wrestlers from the Chelsea Recreation Wrestling Club traveled to Napoleon High school on Saturday, March 23 for tournament competition. Six of the boys came away with medals.

In the 8-and-under age group, David Paton, in his first tournament ever, did an outstanding job in capturing a first-place medal. He defeated all four of his opponents by pins with his longest match being only 26 seconds.

Jordan Dyer and Damon McLaughlin wrestled very well to gain second- and third-place finishes, respectively, in the same age group.

Colby Skelton, in the 9-10 age-class, captured another first place medal by pinning all four of his opponents and running his season record to 9-0.

Bryndon Skelton, after a first round loss, came back to defeat his next four opponents and capture a second place.

Kevin McCalla wrestled very well to gain a third-place finish.

Others competing at Napoleon were Bobby Coon, John Bobo, Michael Pidd, Scott Koscielnak-Herrst, Jeremy Feldkamp, Jamie Basso and Kevin McCalla.

Next week the club travels to Leslie High school.

"Sprinting has been a weakness for us in past years," Bainton says. "This year we should finally start to see an upswing."

The junior sprinters are Susan Jaques and Christie Favers, the sophomores have two representatives in Edie Harook and Carel Tassinari. Two freshmen "who have looked good in practice," are Stephanie Harms and Tami Harris.

Eleven girls will be running the various distance races—the 800-meter, or metric half mile, the 1,600-meter, or metric mile, and the 3,200-meter, or metric two-mile.

Two senior co-captains lead the distance group. Mary Ann Richardson is a four-year team member, and Rachel Schmell is in her third year.

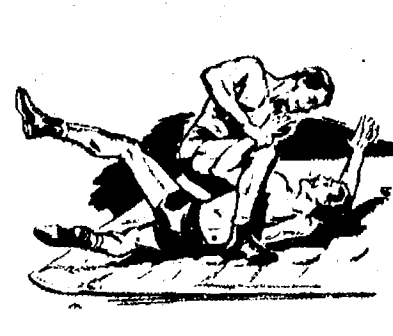

Juniors running the distance events are Laura Damm and Kim Collins, who was injured most of last season.

Melanie Flanigan and Sallie Wilson are "the two best sophomores in the league," according to Bainton. Wilson set a freshman record in the 3,200 meter last year with a time of 12:18.1, and also ran a 5:44 1,600 meter. Flanigan turned in a time of 12:47.7 in the 3,200.

Another top sophomore is Robin Mock, who ran a 5:50 1,600-meter last year.

Other distance performers include sophomore Chris Neumann, and freshmen Kasey Anderson, Ann Brosnan, and Jennifer Rossi.

Bulldog Track Team Expects Battle for No. 2 Ranking in SEC Race

Chelsea boys track coach Bill Wehrwein figures the big battle in the Southeastern Conference will be for second place. He figures Lincoln, second in the state in class B last year, is probably a shoo-in to win the first place title.

Then there's Saline, Dexter, and, he hopes, Chelsea grappling for second.

That's a tall order for a team with 43 assorted runners and field event specialists, only 12 of whom have ever been on a track team before.

There's another way to look at the Chelsea track team, though. There were only 23 boys on the team a year ago. With almost double that number this year, the future looks bright.

Wehrwein has also managed to snag two additional assistants who bring extensive experience to the team—Mark Cwiek, a former decathlon runner at Wayne State University, and Kyle Cooley, a former decathlon runner at Eastern Michigan University.

"I don't know what I'd do without those two guys coming out for kicks," Wehrwein said. "I've probably got the best assistants that I could ever hope for."

Without those two, it would be up to Wehrwein and long-time coach Bert Kruse to do the leg work.

Probably the most exciting part of the team will be the 3,200-meter relay team. Wehrwein has high hopes for the team in the state meet, but just how high he doesn't want to say publicly. There are seven boys competing for four spots—sophomores Lee Riemenschneider and Greg Brown, junior Tim Bowdish, and seniors Allen Kuhl, Jerod Bradley, Jorge Castillo, and Kyle Kemmish.

In the field events, Cwiek, who works with the shot putters, has seven boys under his tutelage. Senior Rob Long was the best in the league last year at 46 feet 9 inches. Behind him are senior Matt Smith, juniors Jim Eisenbeiser and Rob Polens, and sophomores Dennis Parisho, Rob Vitor and Andy Box.

"Quite a few of them (shot putters) have looked pretty good so far, and it's possible we could place three in the league," Wehrwein said.

Wehrwein also has high expectations for senior pole vault specialist Ed Brosnan. He cleared 12 feet 9 inches last year despite an injury, and Wehrwein thinks he could break 13 feet 6 inches this year and place in the state meet.

Others working out in the pole vault include sophomore Casey Murphy and seniors Mike Kerrigan and Mike Hurst.

In the discus is sophomore Doug Webb, plus all the boys mentioned as shot put contenders.

Senior Curtis Heard is the only long jumper with any experience, and he'll be shooting for 19 feet this year.

Senior Matt Grau is a newcomer in the high jump. He and Webb are both learning the "flop" technique and could jump 5 feet 10 or better this season.

Running the hurdles, both the 300- and 100-meter events, is Scott Miller, who Wehrwein said could break the school 300-meter record of 38.9 seconds.

Other hurdlers are sophomore

Chelsea track team begins its season this week at the Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan University.

Tree Sale Order Deadline Near

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District reminds county residents that April 8 is the last day orders for tree and shrub seedlings will be accepted for the District's annual Spring Tree Sale.

So far, White Ash and White Oak seedlings and Hybrid Poplar cuttings have been sold out and are no longer available.

However, limited quantities of the following items are still available: Austrian Pine, Red Pine, White Pine, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, Colorado Blue Spruce, Douglas Fir, Black Walnut, Tulip Poplar and Red Oak tree seedlings; Silky Dogwood shrub seedlings;

Emerald Crownvetch seed, and tree planting bars.

Also still available are wildlife packets suitable for wildlife food and cover. Packets have an assortment of 50 trees and shrubs, including: Autumn Olive, Honeysuckle, White Flowering Dogwood, Austrian Pine, Blue Spruce, European Larch and Tulip Poplar.

All seedlings are offered on a first-come, first-serve basis, while quantities last. All planting stock will be available for pick-up on Saturday, April 27 at the Washtenaw County Road Commission Garage, on Zeeb Rd., Ann Arbor. This is a change from the tentative pick-up date listed on the tree order forms which have been sent out.

For further information about the tree sale and to obtain an order form, contact the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Telephone: (313) 761-6721.

Where you place birdseed for wild birds can be just as important as what you place in the feeder. Cardinals, for instance, seem to prefer a tabletop on which to eat sunflower seeds in the shell, while mourning doves fancy eating sunflower seeds off the ground.

Jeff Address, Parisho, Jim Eisenbeiser, Grau, and freshman Tom Bennett.

In the sprint events, the 100-, 200- and 400-meter runs, Wehrwein has Heard, Dean Book, Castillo, Brosnan and Miller as his prime runners. Other "good young sprinters" include freshmen Sam Eisenbeiser, Chris Gieski, Pat Cheng, Brad Doan, and David Freitas.

In the distance events, those 400 meters and longer, Wehrwein is blessed with depth. Bowdish and Bradley are the two premier metric milers, and both are looking to break 4:25. Bowdish could go under 1:50 in the 800 meter and Bradley could break 9:50 in the 3,200.

Aquatic Club Swimmers Win in Junior Olympics

Three members of the Chelsea Aquatic Club traveled to Oakland Community College Saturday for the U. S. Swimming Junior Olympics.

Leading the way was Kelly Cross who took first place in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:23.77, and second place in the 50-yard backstroke which she did in 37.62 seconds. Both times moved her from an "A" ranking to and "AA" ranking.

Melissa Thiel's time of 42.55 seconds in the 50-yard breaststroke was also good enough for an "AA" ranking. The third swimmer in the meet was Colby Skelton who had several best times and many "A" cut-offs.

Other best times for these swimmers included: Kelly Cross in the 50-yard breaststroke, 200-yard I.M. and 100-yard I.M.

Melissa Thiel in the 50-yard backstroke, 200-yard I.M., 100-yard breaststroke, 100-yard freestyle, and 50-yard freestyle.

Colby Skelton in the 50-yard backstroke, 200-yard I.M., 100-yard breaststroke, and 100-yard freestyle.

ATV Operators Urged To 'Throttle Down'

Secretary of State Richard Austin today asked all individuals who plan to operate All Terrain vehicles this year to "throttle down."

Citing statistics from the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission in Washington, Austin said nationwide ATV-related injuries treated in hospital emergency rooms, jumped from 8,600 in 1982 to 27,600 in 1983. Statistics for the first nine months of 1984 show an estimated 53,000 injuries. Since January, 1982, 80 deaths involving All Terrain vehicles have been reported.

The majority of injuries and deaths resulted from operating at too high speeds over unfamiliar terrain and colliding with rocks, trees, limbs, holes, ditches and bumps or with motor vehicles on roads where the ATV is not permitted.

All Terrain vehicles are relatively new, small motorized recreational cycles with three or four large, soft tires, designed for off-road use on all types of terrain.

Austin, chairman of the State Safety Commission, advised all ATV owners to obtain proper operating instructions, wear helmets, familiarize themselves with special handling characteristics of the vehicles, don't drink when operating, and slow down.

All off-road vehicles must obtain off-road permits from the Department of State unless they are operated on land owned by the operator. All law enforcement agencies are responsible for enforcement of laws affecting All Terrain vehicles.

Property Tax Refunds Help Depressed Farmers

Financially depressed farmers who are enrolled in P.A. 116, Michigan's Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act, have an advantage over those who are not, according to Ron Nelson, Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel. Farmers enrolled in the program pay no more than 7% of their household incomes in property tax.

"In a year like this, there will be farmers whose household income may be zero. In those cases, the farmer would receive all of his property tax back. That could be a substantial amount. It's not unusual to see several thousands dollars in property tax," Nelson said. "Property taxes are a considerable part of a farmer's business expense. P.A. 116 puts that property tax into relation with income."

Tons of hazardous pesticides, paints, cleaners and solvents stored in basements and garages may be the country's biggest hidden pollution problem, says the National Wildlife Federation. A regional government agency in Seattle estimates there are more than 100,000 pounds of the banned pesticide DDT stored in the Seattle suburbs alone. Some 25 states are setting up toxic waste collection points to help combat the problem.

In the high jump are junior Ann Becker and freshman Andrea Worthing, who are clearing 4 feet 8 inches in practice and should improve on that.

In addition, Bainton has a number of newcomers to the sport who have yet to find their best event. They are seniors Jennifer Messman and Kelly Murphy, sophomores Heidi Apostol and Shelly Williams, and freshmen Carmen Albertson, Kim Allen, Shannon DuRussell, Kristi Jachalke, Katie Kelle, Heidi Knickerbocker, Anna Muncer, Stacey Murphy, Jennifer Schweiger, Dena Stevens, and Kenyan Vosters.

Strong Steelhead Season Awaits Michigan Anglers

Good natural reproduction and increased plantings should make the spring steelhead season a repeat of 1984, when catches were the best in a decade, reports the Michigan AAA.

Most state fishery biologists contacted by AAA expect results to equal last year. However, a significant number—at Clare, Inlay City, Roscommon, Plainwell and Escanaba—predict generally better results for 1985 in their areas.

Peak runs are expected in April to mid-May in the Upper Peninsula.

More than 1.7 million steelhead were planted by the Department of Natural Resources in 1983, a 13 percent increase over 1982. Lake early to mid-April in West Michigan, early April to mid-May in East Michigan, early April in Southeast Michigan and late Michigan received 485,000 yearlings and 850,000 fall fingerlings two years ago. About 210,000 yearlings and 150,000 fall fingerlings were planted in Lake Huron. Lake Superior received 85,000 yearlings in 1983 and 90,000 more yearlings were planted in the Huron River at Flat Rock and in St. Clair county rivers in Southeast Michigan.

Steelhead planted in 1983 now should weigh between 2½ to 5 pounds. DNR officials said the 1982 plants would range from 6 to 9 pounds. Four-year-old steelhead generally should vary from 9 to 12 pounds.

A major factor in a steelhead's size is the length of time it has spent in one of the Great Lakes or a stream. The more time spent in a great lake, the larger the fish will be because food is more readily available.

The 1985 AAA Steelhead Guide lists 43 Michigan rivers and streams where the best steelhead fishing can be expected.

In West Michigan, the Muskegon, St. Joseph and Big and Little Manistee rivers are ranked as the best for steelhead fishing.

The East Branch of the Au Gres River and the Au Sable River should be the top spots for East Michigan fishermen. Most thumb area steelheading is done from banks and piers.

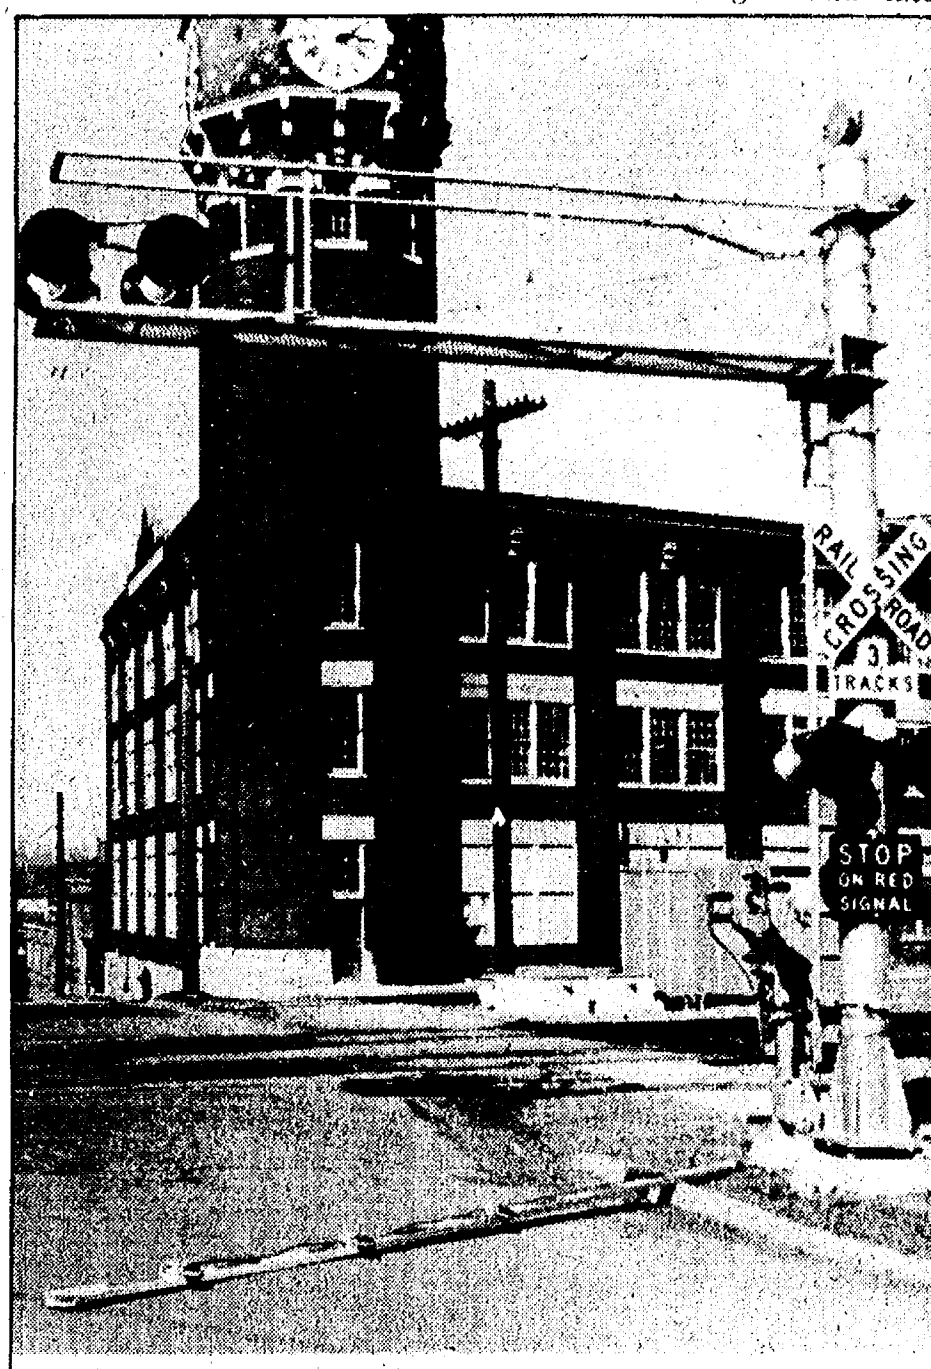

Best steelhead results for fishermen in Southeast Michigan should be trolling on the St. Clair River while the Huron River should provide best results for those wading or along the shore.

Steelhead action in the U. P. will be strong on the Big Cedar and Manistee rivers along Lake Michigan; the Huron, Rock and Sucker rivers off Lake Superior, and the Carp River along Lake Huron.

In spring, stream fishermen who prefer using bait should find good results from salmon eggs or roe from a captured steelhead. Tuck the eggs into a piece of cheesecloth or old nylon stocking to make a sack one-half inch in diameter. Place the little bag, called a spawn bag, on a hook and allow it to bump along the bottom, either by casting upstream or by letting it drift down into the upper end of likely looking holes.

Like their cousins, the brook trout, steelhead like deep holes, dark pockets under stream banks and secret little places behind logs or under stumps or rock ledges. Good catches also can be found on spawning beds with spawn bags, spinners or flies.

Sportsmen should check specific rules for individual rivers in the 1985-86 Michigan Fishing Guide because some upstream limits and other specifics may have changed since last season. Some rivers are open all year while others open April 1 or April 27, the start of the general trout season. The guide is free when purchasing a new fishing license.

PBS Broadcast To Study Tax Laws for Older Persons

The new law regarding taxation of some social security benefits is but one of the topics featured on "Your '84 Tax Return: 55 and Older" to be aired on Sunday, March 31, from 4 to 5 p.m. on five Public Broadcasting Stations in Michigan. They are WTVS, Detroit; WFUM, Flint; WKAR, East Lansing; WNMU, Marquette; and WCMU, Mt. Pleasant.

Moderators for the special will be David Birney, most recently seen on the TV series "Glitter," and JoAnn Pflug, currently seen on "Candid Camera."

During the program, representatives form the National Society of Public Accountants, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and the National Association of Enrolled Agents will join Internal Revenue Service tax assistants to discuss tax laws affecting those age 55 and over. The IRS will provide toll-free assistance throughout the show to answer viewer questions. The toll-free tax information number for Michigan is 1-800-424-1040.

Among the tax laws to be discussed are changes to the credit for the elderly, as well as the extra $1,000 exemption for taxpayers age 65 and older, and the special exclusion of up to $125,000 of gain on the sale of a residence by taxpayers age 55 and older.

The one-hour special, which will be closed-captioned for the hearing-impaired, is being produced by WQED/Pittsburgh in co-operation with the Internal Revenue Service.

Civic Foundation Distribution Committee Hears 4 Requests

Some of the most helpful charitable and civic organizations in the community have one-time needs for money that simply can't be provided from their operating funds. When such needs occur, they can now seek help from the Civic Foundation of Chelsea.

The foundation parallels, but does not duplicate, Chelsea United Way which assists many organizations with ongoing grants for their yearly working budgets.

The goal of the foundation is to provide funds urgently needed to begin new projects or reinforce old ones that promote health, safe lives, overcome the tragedies of addiction, reunite families and fulfill other societal needs.

The Civic Foundation of Chelsea raises funds each year through annual membership drives plus special gifts from donors. It then provides money for selected projects or programs through its distribution committee. This committee held its March meeting in the BookCrafters conference room under the chairmanship of Bill Nuffer. Other committee members in attendance were Carol Kvarnberg, Jackie Rogers, Dave McAllister, Dr. Fred van Reesema and Will Connelly.

Proposals for financial assistance were presented by Richard Cesarz and JoAnn Carruthers on behalf of Faith in Action; by Phil Boham for Chelsea Community Hospital and by the Rev. Erwin Koch of the Chelsea Substance Abuse Task Force.

Also present was Linda Ormsby, director of Chelsea Social Service, who spoke of the need for cold storage facilities for dairy products intended for distribution to the needy.

The Rev. Koch outlined plans for the Chelsea Substance Abuse Task Force, a newly formed group with representation from the schools, the hospital, churches, police and civic organizations. Programming for the task force will concentrate on community education and information on problems arising from substance abuse. Also contemplated is direct assistance to involved families and individuals.

The establishment of a fitness/wellness center was presented for discussion by Phil Boham. He reported that a preliminary questionnaire, tested with a group of Chelsea industries, resulted in a positive response. He offered the committee a digest on the Fitness Center of Bon Secours Hospital in Detroit. He then asked for funds to carry out a feasibility and financial study for wellness/fitness facilities in Chelsea.

Faith in Action, an energetic and diversified social service agency, is faced with the need for fresh funding for facilities as well as some paid staffing.

Since its establishment, the Civic Foundation of Chelsea has made four grants. The first was awarded to Senior Citizens for the development of the Lifeline program which is an emergency response system for the elderly or handicapped. The second grant was to the Parent to Parent program which provides long term in-home support to troubled parents and their children. Grant number three went to Parents Anonymous, a Faith in Action effort which provides toys for children who are in rehabilitation for child abuse. The fourth Civic Foundation grant was made early this year to Chelsea Methodist Retirement Home to provide support treatment for persons suffering from Alzheimer's disease.

Gifts are welcome at any time and may be sent to Walter Hamilton, president, Civic Foundation of Chelsea, P.O. Box 45, Chelsea.

Students Compete in Trouble Shooting Contest

Several students from Chelsea High school took a written exam at Washtenaw Community College in Ann Arbor beginning at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, March 26, in the first phase of the Plymouth-AAA Trouble Shooting Contest.

Michigan students from 65 high schools will compete in the written test given at the same time at nine sites across the state. The two highest scorers from each school will become a team, with the top 10 schools competing in a final hands-on competition on May 16 in Dearborn.

The contest is being held by Chrysler/Plymouth and the AAA of Michigan. Similar contests are being held in all 50 states with prizes and scholarships totalling $125,000.

Last year top honors went to Center Line High school seniors, John D. LeLamelleure and Steven J. Horetski, who each won $1,000 scholarships and a trip to the national contest. The team placed ninth in the national competition held at Arlington, Tex.

In the state finals, each team works against the clock to correct problems on similarly "bugged" 1985 Plymouth K-cars. The winning team will advance to the national championship on June 17 in Kansas City, Mo.

"There is always a need for qualified auto service technicians," said Robert Cullen, contest co-ordinator for AAA of Michigan. "This contest serves as a springboard for many mechanically talented students to become professionals in a specialized field."

To date, more than two-thirds of all past participants, some

National Agriculture Day Observed March 20

March 20 was National Agriculture Day. It was first celebrated in 1973 and the day has been officially recognized by congress, the president and many governors as a time to honor the nearly 24 million people involved in agriculture. This 20% of the nation's workforce plays a role in producing, processing and delivering food and fiber to consumers here in the United States and abroad.

"Ag Day" was celebrated across the country in various ways. Farm Bureau women will sponsor mall displays, slide tape presentations, visits to farm and take farm facts into the classrooms, as well as sponsoring meals with county, state and national officials as guests, to make them aware of our nation's largest industry basic to all mankind.

Washtenaw county would like to present to its people some facts about agriculture.

Did you know that —Using disposable income (amount left after tax) as a measurement, consumers spent 15.9 percent of food in 1983.

—American farmers produce 76% more food than did farmers of one generation ago using the same amount of farmland.

—In 1910, that average American farmers produced enough to feed about seven people. Today the average farmer feeds about 76 others. Twenty-two are employed in farming, transporting, processing, manufacturing and retailing food and fiber.

—One of every five jobs in private enterprise depends on agriculture.

—Asian countries have become the best markets for our agricultural products. Japan is the best purchaser. More acres are planted in the U. S. for Japan than are planted in all that country. Second ranking markets are the Western European countries.

'In Remembrance' Film To Be Shown At Free Methodist

Long ago, in a small dusty upstairs room, a group of friends met to share a last meal together. Most of them thought it was the end. One of them knew it was the beginning.

Today, almost 2,000 years later, that simple and distant event is celebrated by people around the world.

E.C.R.F.'s newest film, "In Remembrance," captures an unforgettable story of the men who chose to follow a young teacher from Nazareth and of the night that would change their world forever!

This is a film about real people, fiercely Jewish, who felt as we feel with doubts, loves, fears, and loneliness that are the common bonds of all humanity.

"In Remembrance" is a stunning re-creation of the men and events which surrounded the Last Supper, a film for all time and all people.

"In Remembrance" will be shown at Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7665 Warkner Rd., on Good Friday, April 5, at 7 p.m. For further information, telephone 475-1391.

'Last Supper' Will Be Presented At Free Methodist

One hour of worship with drama and music, a living dramatization of Leonardo Da Vinci's "The Last Supper," written by Earnest K. Emurian, will be performed by a cast and choir of men from the Dansville/Dan-town communities.

The public is invited and welcome to attend this presentation at the Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7665 Warkner Rd., on Wednesday, April 3, at 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided. For further information, please call 475-1391.

Kiwanis Travel Film Saturday Visits Hungary

On Saturday evening, March 30, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea will present its final program for the year of the Travel and Adventure film series at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Stanley Paulauskas will present a personally narrated travel film entitled "Hungarian Rhapsody."

Stan Paulauskas grew up in the Cleveland, O. area. His first love was baseball since his home was next door to the League Park and the "Cleveland Indians."

While traveling for a construction company in a supervisory capacity, Stan developed his love of photography. During this time he visited South America, Puerto Rico and every state of the Union. Gradually, travel and photography became his primary interest.

Stan is particularly motivated to know and understand different cultures in depth. When traveling and getting acquainted with a country, he tries to allow enough time for more than a cursory knowledge. While traveling in the U.S.S.R., Stan spent three months in Lithuania alone visiting relatives and absorbing the culture first hand.

Equipped with the desire to know, Stan also possesses the natural ability to communicate through film and narration the secrets he has uncovered. His films are lively, informative and pulse with the life of the people of different countries.

When not traveling, Stan makes his home in Indiantown, Fla. As usual the film starts at 8 p.m. and tickets will be available at the door as soon as it is determined that all season ticket holders are accommodated.

Hungary is the most prosperous of the Eastern European countries. With the highest living standard of the Soviet bloc, Hungary has an economy with a distinctly Western flavor. Living well is an important part of Hungarian life.

Explore the fascinating city of Budapest. Divided into two cities by the Danube River, the older city of Buda rests on the hills and slopes of the West bank. Garnished by castles, churches, and gardens, Buda is a step back into the past. Pest, lies wide and flat with large avenues and tall government buildings.

Discover the immensity of Lake Balaton. Called the "Hungarian Sea" because of its 230 square mile area, Lake Balaton is the destination for throngs of summer vacationers who come to the resort facilities which line the beaches. Vineyards also cloak the shores of Balaton and produce one of the country's noted exports.

Visit the town of Eger, a haven of folklore and quaint, small town

Rod & Gun Club Denied Tax Relief

The appeal of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club for property tax relief was turned down by the Lyndon Township Board of Review in their meeting on March 20. Ten members of the club appeared at the hearing to testify and plead their case. The board's decision was based on its opinion that the efforts of the club were not sufficiently educational despite testimony that more than 500 youngsters have received DNR training from the club in the past five years.

According to Fred Klink, Jr., president and chief conservation officer, the club's appeal was flawed by misinformation supplied to it by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, of which the Chelsea organization is a member. In a letter from the MUCC dated June 7, 1982 there was the statement, "A hunter safety training certificate is required by law before a youngster can receive a hunting license. No state funded program is set up to teach this statutorily mandated course, and if the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club did not teach it, the Chelsea School District would have to."

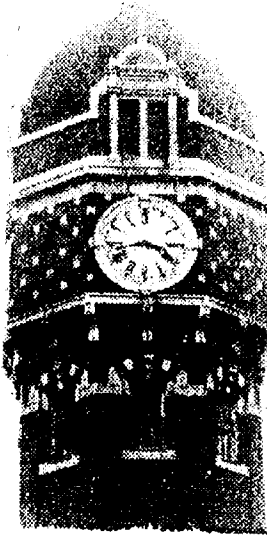

On the basis of this statement from the MUCC, the club sought and received support from the Chelsea Board of Education in a letter signed by President Dale Schumann. The board's letter also took note of the fact that two other Michigan conservation clubs have been granted property tax exemption by local boards.

The Chelsea Rod and Gun Club is situated on 61 acres bounded on the west by Lingane Rd. It has a spacious red brick clubhouse, trapshooting, rifle and archery ranges, and a forest of more than 30,000 coniferous trees.

Revenue from membership dues is completely absorbed by the Lyndon township property tax, and the annual $5,000 cost of maintaining the property, and conducting educational programs, has had to be earned through clubhouse rentals and the sponsorship of money-making social events.

"Our club will definitely not go out of existence," Klink said, "but it may have to go out of Lyndon township."

Escaped Trio Captured By Local Police

Three men who had escaped from Cassidy Lake Technical School on Friday, March 8 were captured the next morning in a joint effort by the Chelsea Police Department and Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The men, George R. Wagasy, serving time for breaking and entering, Mitchell Lee Merrill, serving time for attempting to receive stolen property, and Roy A. Vogras, serving time for armed robbery, were taken into custody in a woods on Dancer Rd. just north of I-94, police said.

Police reported that the men were seen as they were walking through a field by a Jackson Rd. woman, who alerted the Sheriff's department that she saw men "wearing blues." Deputy John Rushing saw them a few minutes later as they were walking along I-94. Chelsea police and Sheriff's deputies responded to a call for help.

Chelsea police officer Michael Foster, with help from Chief Leonard McDougall, who was off duty at the time and driving into Ann Arbor, eventually made the arrest.

Police said the men were unarmed and offered no resistance. It was unknown where the three spent the night.

Osteoporosis Program Set For Thursday

Osteoporosis has become one of the prominent topics of the '80's, particularly for women. Osteoporosis is the condition in which bone mass decreases, causing bones to be more susceptible to fracture. With the "graying of America," the scope of the problem is growing, affecting as many as 20 million individuals in the U. S.

One of the mainstays in prevention and management of osteoporosis is calcium. In celebration of National Nutrition Month, a special program about calcium and its relationship to osteoporosis will be presented. Topics will include information on foods that are high in calcium as well as the amount of calcium that should be consumed daily.

The program will be presented by Julie Say, RD, community nutritionist. It will be offered jointly by the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea and Chelsea Community Hospital. The program will be presented Thursday, March 28, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the classroom in the Chelsea Medical Center Complex.

There is a $2 registration fee payable at the door.

Pre-registration is requested by calling 764-8010.

Math Competition Winners at Beach Qualifies 9 for Regional

Each year the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics (MCTM) offers a mathematics competition to all middle school students in the state. The competition consists of three tests given at the local schools, regional areas and a final state test. Tests consist of all types of mathematical problems from addition of whole numbers to advanced algebra and geometry.

The local test was given to Beach school students on Wednesday, March 6. Top 10 scorers from each grade level were recognized with certificates, and the top three students in each grade were invited to participate in the regional competition held at Lansing Community College in April.

Any students who score in the top 25 places in the regional competition will compete in May in the state test held at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

The 10 top winners in the sixth grade were Kate Dilworth, Jeremy Mackinder, Brett Salamin, Tom White, Vincent Dunn, Jane Pacheco, Jeremy Stephens, Lucy Eisenberger, Jude Quilter, and Duane Penhallegon.

Seventh grade winners were Charly Strong, Jim Alford, Holden Harris, Tiffany Browning, Sheila Haab, Trevor Harding, Chris Isberg, Mark Chasteen, Grant Kidd, and Bryan Talbot.

Winners from the eighth grade were Mindy Ryan, Steve Radant, Calisa Tucker, Mike Hollo, Marty Heller, Jason Overdorf, Chris Walter, Luman Strong, Chris Mackinder, Anna Flintoft, Craig Maynard, and Stacy McDaniels.

Physical Fitness Tests Given Beach Students

This spring, as in past years, the physical education department at Beach school will be administering the President's Council on Physical Fitness tests to all sixth, seventh, and eighth graders. The purpose of the test is to determine the level of fitness each individual student has achieved compared to other students of the same age throughout the country.

Each child is given six tests, sit-ups for one minute, bent arm hang, pull-ups, standing long jump, 50-yd. dash, 600-yd. run and shuttle run. Scores are compared with national averages and students are given a percentile ranking.

This rating determines how performances compare to other girls and boys of the same age in the United States. Extra work is recommended for those children who fall below the 50th percentile.

Those who achieve an 85 or better in each area of the test, placing them among the top 15 percent of their age category, will receive an award which consists of a certificate signed by the President of the United States, and an embroidered patch.

The test is administered as an indicator to parents of how physically fit their children are. Each child is given a profile sheet to return home upon test completion.

Cleanup Begins April 1, Several Changes Made

The annual village spring cleanup is being conducted in two phases this year, one of several changes in the annual event.

The first phase runs from Monday, April 1 through Friday, April 5 when all of Main St. and the west side of Chelsea will be cleaned up. The area east of Main St. will be picked up from Monday, April 8 through Friday, April 12.

Residents are also being asked to make some changes in the way trash is stacked on the curb. The Public Works Department requests that separate piles be made for: all metals, including appliances; wood and lumber; and shrub and tree trimmings. Anything else should be put in garbage bags and put in a fourth pile.

Village crews will not pick up any materials from demolition projects, including any parts of buildings or any chunks of asphalt or concrete, which has been a big problem in past pickups, according to administrator Frederick Weber. Residents have to make separate arrangements for removal of those materials.
