WHAT'S MY BLOOD PRESSURE? Was a question nearly 400 people had a chance to ask, and receive a reply to their query at Chelsea Community Hospital, Saturday, March 30. In the photo above, Gleslie Warrens checks blood pressure for Debbie O'Callaghan of Chelsea. Blood pressure was the topic most discussed with participants by physicians John O'Brien and Steve Yarows, who manned the final station where people could ask any questions they chose. "More people asked about blood pressure than anything else," confirmed the two doctors.

WATCHING MAMA have her blood checked, Timmy Keppler and his sister, Stacy, felt just as much a part of the Health-O-Rama action as their mother, Terri Keppler, when they accompanied her to Chelsea Community Hospital, Saturday, March 30. Timmy is a member of Mrs. Walsh's first-grade class at Copeland school, and Stacy attends the Tuesday-Thursday morning sessions of Dexter Co-op Nursery School during the week. Shown drawing Terri's blood is Kris Adler of Chelsea.

Health-O-Rama Draws 400 For Tests at Chelsea Hospital

Nearly 400 people took advantage of the opportunity to participate in the Health-O-Rama held at the Chelsea Community Hospital, Saturday, March 30, beginning in the morning hours and continuing through the early afternoon.

Making up the bulk of the group who arrived to have their blood sampled and tested, their sight and hearing checked, and to receive a bit of nutrition counseling, as well as to inquire about their medication or anything else which concerned them, were residents from Chelsea and Dexter.

Although people from other towns were evidenced in the groups traveling through the various stations set up for the Health-O-Rama, most of the information seekers were from Chelsea and Dexter.

Arriving at the dining room of the hospital, people were registered by volunteers Fred Harris and Merle Davis, and given a printed form which was taken with the person seeking information about his or her health state as they continued through the various stations.

After the weighing in and measuring up station, participants talked with nutrition counselors who, in many cases, suggested tactfully that stripping off an extra few pounds would contribute a lot to improving the health of a special person—yes, "you"—no preaching, just some well-meant logical talk, person-to-person.

Next station was the place where blood pressure was measured, and it was a very busy station. Doctors at the terminating station explained that concerns about blood pressure rated as the prime conversation item after the participants had completed the battery of tests. Some people just wondered about the blood pressure "numbers," said physi-clans John O'Brien and Steve Yarows, who manned the Counseling Referral section. Others took the chance to inquire about what medications they had been taking for long periods of time were doing, or not doing, for their general health state.

Participants were asked to "read the charts" at the vision station and were, in some cases, (Continued on page five)

Good Friday Service Set At St. Paul's

The community is cordially invited to this traditional Good Friday Service.

Grass Fires On the Rise

Many of the calls the Chelsea Fire Department responds to this time of year are for grass fires because things are starting to dry out.

Grass fires are often the result of carelessness when someone burns junk or leaves.

Area Churches Plan Special Services For Easter Week

Area churches will observe Holy Week with special services, communions, and baptisms Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, Holy Saturday and Easter Sunday, from April 4-7. Local Lutherans, Catholics, Protestants, and Episcopalians will join Christians throughout the world in recognizing the oldest and most important Christian holidays.

Christians in many parts of the world celebrate the pre-Easter season with carnivals, masquerades, and feasts. These gay festivities reach their peak on Shrove Tuesday, more than six weeks before Easter. On Ash Wednesday, the day after Shrove Tuesday, many Christians begin a solemn 40-day period of fast and prayer called "Lent." It recalls Jesus' 40-day fast in the wilderness.

The last week of Lent is known as Holy Week and honors the events of the last week of Jesus Christ's life on earth. It begins on Palm Sunday, named for the palm branches strewn before Jesus as he entered Jerusalem in triumph.

On the Thursday of Holy Week, referred to as Maundy Thursday, followers recall the Last Supper and the washing of the disciples' feet by Jesus.

The observance of Good Friday, is the sombre reminder of the day of Christ's crucifixion and Holy Saturday is spent in vigil of the resurrection.

On Easter Sunday, millions of Christians in all parts of the world unite in joyous celebration of Jesus' conquest over death in the resurrection three days after his crucifixion.

In most countries, Easter comes in early spring, its name coming from "Estre," a Teutonic goddess of spring, or from the Teutonic festival of spring called "Eostur." Most Christians worldwide celebrate Easter on a Sunday between March 22 and April 25.

Maundy Thursday will be observed by some area Lutheran churches with a "service of shadows" or Tenebrae. A choral meditation depicting the flight of the disciples and the approaching crucifixion through the extinguishing of candles and dimming of sanctuary lights, the service concludes with a moment of total darkness signifying the hours in the tomb. The return of light represents the coming resurrection.

Following the Thursday Mass, local Episcopalians will observe the Anglican tradition of baring the altar. Decorations, such as linens, flowers and silver will be removed while Biblical selections are read and when the sanctuary is eventually stripped of frills, the service closes with the scriptural words, "It is finished." The tradition is designed to ready the congregation for the solemn observance of the anniversary of death by crucifixion of Jesus Christ on Good Friday.

Some believe the name is derived from "God's Friday" or to commemorate the good works of Jesus while on earth. It is intended to be a day of fasting and repentance in remembrance of the Messiah's suffering. Services are traditionally scheduled between noon and 3 p.m. in accordance with scriptural accounts mentioning a "darkness at noon" which lasted until Jesus died.

A Union Good Friday Service, sponsored by the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship, will be held at St. Paul Church of Christ, Friday, April 5 from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Liturgists will include pastors from nine area churches and all community members are welcome.

In the early days of the church, all new Christians were baptized at the Saturday night Easter vigil. St. Mary's will join other Catholic churches in the tradition of adult baptism beginning at 8 p.m.

MAKIN' MAPLE: Charlene DeWitt and her sons Paul, left, and Philip, empty their maple sap into a bucket. The DeWitts processed more than 500 gallons of sap into 53 quarts of pure maple syrup this year, a good year by their standards. Not pictured are son Travis, and husband Marvin.

Chelsea Family Taps Trees For Sweet Annual Project

What began as a way to save money for a Chelsea family has turned out to be an annual event that Marvin and Charlene DeWitt and their sons anticipate as eagerly as any holiday.

The DeWitts and their sons, Travis, 10, Paul, 7, and Philip, 5, processed more than 500 gallons of maple sap into 53 quarts of maple syrup this year.

The DeWitts began their maple tradition five years ago after they discovered their sons were allergic to corn sweeteners, which are incorporated into just about everything sweet available in the stores. They were buying the syrup at prices ranging from $17 to $32 per gallon, and decided it would be cheaper to make it themselves.

"It's a lot of work," Charlene says. "Everybody gets involved. This was a very good year. Sometimes we could collect three times a day from the 14 trees we tap. That could give us almost 60 gallons a day."

The DeWitts do not tap their own trees, and out of deference to their generous friend, The Standard declines to publish his name.

Charlene notes that it depends entirely on the weather as to how much sap they collect, both on a daily and seasonal basis. Prime weather starts when the temperature is above 32 degrees during the day and below 32 at night. She says sometimes the season will last a week, and sometimes it will last six weeks.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Putting away people that have passed away has come a long way during the long lives of the fellers that gather around the stove in the back of the county store reglar to discuss the human condition past, present and future. During the session Saturday night, Clem Webster started off by announcing that a outfit called Space Systems Incorporated has come up with a sure fire way to git to heaven.

According to the piece Clem had saw, fer $3,900 SSI will book your ashes on a space flight into eternal orbit or on into deep endless space. This sounds like a real sendoff, Clem allowed, but it comes with the same old catch. You still got to die to git there, Clem said, even if "Fly Me To the Moon" takes the place of "You Got To Walk That Lonesome Valley," even if "orbit to orbit" replaces "dust to dust" and even if "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There" means you actual will.

Bug Hookum said he had saw somepoun about this program, and fer his $3,900 it beats being froze now and thawed later when science figgers out how to cure what ailed you. And fer high living after living it beats being buried in your Cadillac. Farthermore, Bug said, he'd take eternal orbit over the new line of designer coffins he sees are coming on the market. It just ain't that important to be put away in a one-of-a-kind autographed model, was Bug's words.

Practical speaking, broke-in Ed Doolittle, the $3,900 ain't a bad price fer any way of removing remains these days. Until we final relized the Lord ain't making no more land, not on this earth anyhow, Ed said, we laid the dearly departed out under a shade tree while we built a box, and we spotted graveyards on ever family farm and in back of ever church at very little cost to anybody. Ed said he was in a funeral home recent and he saw the price list that now is required by law. They got a heap of choices in coffins and valts, he said, but the bottom line is just about the same. Interesting enough, he said, a basic funeral home funeral today runs right at that $3,900 tigger, no matter which line of goods you pick.

Farthermore, Ed said, since we're running out of room down here, and we ain't turning to the plan in some countries of burying folks five or six deep in the same hole, we're doing what comes natural to us. We're turning to technology, in this case space technology, to solve our problem fer us.

Zeke Grubb was full agreed with Ed that we got to let progress keep on keeping on. From what he'd heard about SSI's offer, the space urns will reflect light and they will be in such a orbit that on a clear night you can see grandpa. The other option of being sent on a one-way streak to deep space is that you eventual will git in the atmosfere of some distant planet and burn up all what ailed you. And fer high living after living it beats being buried in your Cadillac. Farthermore, Bug said, he'd take eternal orbit over the new line of designer coffins he sees are coming on the market. It just ain't that important to be put away in a one-of-a-kind autographed model, was Bug's words.

Final, Clem got the floor back, and he said he had come with another star fer the fellers to hook their wagons to. He wanted to know more about Teleplanet Services, a Massachusetts outfit that fer $9.98 will send up to 25 to who-it-may-concern words over radio to any of the other eight planets in the solar system. Classifieds still is a bargain, Clem said, and words in orbit are a heap cheaper than ashes.

Governor Considering Tax Rollback Proposal of His Own
Governor James Blanchard has joined the income tax rally and is dramatically expanding his property tax relief plan, but only if all revenues lost by early cuts are offset by other taxing measures or budget cuts, officials reported.

The Governor is in the process of discussing the plan with Democratic legislators to determine what they believe to be feasible.

The Governor is not revising his surplus estimates ($68 million in the proposed budget for fiscal year 1985-86), said Tom Scott, deputy press secretary.

The Governor had proposed using most of that for a one-time 10 percent bonus of the property tax credit program, but is now considering a permanent increase in the program of $200-300 million a year.

Under discussion is an early rollback to 4.6 percent on the personal income tax rate. An April 1, 1986 date would mean a revenue loss of $220 million, compared to the $325 million under a Senate-passed plan, which has a Jan. 1, 1986 rollback date.

Scott, who said it would be optimistic to expect the plan to be ready for presentation to the House Taxation Committee in the near future, noted it is unclear whether the Governor would make the proposal, or whether legislators would propose it or if it would be a joint plan.

"The main thing is to get something that is feasible. Closing loopholes is a difficult thing and he's not sure there is support among Democrats or Republicans to do so," he said.

Among loopholes under consideration is one-time $58 million recovery from financial institutions who won a refund after a U.

S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing a state tax on federal securities; revising the tax on financial institutions from the business tax to a profits or intangibles tax; a premium tax on domestic insurance companies producing $50 million a year; including military personnel in the income tax, producing $20 million a year; and a $100 million tax amnesty program by dropping efforts to impose interest on unpaid or late taxes.

The plan would be an evaluation of the Governor's intended, but yet unannounced plan to improve the "fairness and equity" of the state taxes by closing several tax loopholes and making other adjustments.

That plan was not originally to have addressed the income tax rate issue nor finance a more generous property tax plan and was to have remained revenue neutral in its impact on the tax system, neither raising nor cutting state revenues.

Gary Wolfram, taxation aide to the Senate Republican Caucus, said the Governor is trying to "one-manship, by saying, 'I'll do all that (rollback taxes early) plus give you all this property tax.'"

Wolfram said the flaw is that it would be expanding a system that in essence pays taxpayers to raise local property taxes and gives marginal help to renters.

House Taxation Chairman Representative Lynn Jondahl (D-East Lansing) said no final decisions have been made on an income tax rollback or which tax loopholes to close to pay for any rollback.

Blanchard has not yet decided that the "political reality" dictates an earlier rollback, Jondahl said, although the Governor has said it may be necessary to support an earlier rollback if that support is needed to move forward on other issues.

The Jan. 1, 1986 rollback was supported by 16 Republicans and 14 Democrats in the Senate.

But Jondahl said he has not been told the administration had decided on any method of financing a rollback.

Senator Norman Shinkle (R-Lambertville), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said the Governor's proposal was a "whole different issue" from what the Senate has approved. He said the Senate acted to return a projected revenue surplus while the Governor is talking about raising new revenues and then giving them back through a different mechanism.

"What the Senate passed was not contingent upon raising other revenues," Shinkle said, adding that "raising additional revenues by taxing other institutions is a whole separate question."

Spring's the Time for Deer-Car Collisions

April and May are the peak months for deer-car accidents, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

Deer are particularly attracted to new green growth, which typically appears first at roadsides and wetlands. Night time, when deer are active, is the most hazardous period. The department says that where there is a deer, there are usually others, driver's immediate reaction upon seeing a deer should be to slow down.

In 1983, there were more than 12,000 collisions resulting in more than $1 million in damage. Most of the accidents are in this region.

Under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), many responsibilities formerly carried out by the federal government have been transferred to state and local governments, according to a U. S. Department of Labor fact sheet.

Slowdown on I-94 For Patching Will Last 6 Weeks

Intermittent lane closures on approximately 22 miles of Interstate 94 freeway in Washtenaw county began Monday, April 1 for concrete pavement patching, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) said today.

The work is beginning at the west Washtenaw county line and moving east to Carpenter Rd. The closures will be in effect approximately six weeks.

The event will be hosted by Jennie Smith, matron of honor at the wedding which took place on April 13, 1935 at the Methodist parsonage in LaGrange, Ind., and James Reed, the couple's only son.

The couple, who have lived in Chelsea throughout their married life, have the one son, James, who lives at Sand Lake, Onsted, and two grandsons.

In March 1984, the median number of school years completed by women in the labor force was 12.7, compared with 12.8 years for men workers, according to "20 Facts on Women Workers," issued by the U. S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau.

Woman's Club Plans Coming Spring Programs

Woman's Club of Chelsea held the March 26 meeting at 8 p.m. in the McKune Library club room. Fourteen members attended, and the business meeting dealt mainly with plans for the coming spring programs. Several affairs are anticipated, including the annual dinner in May, at which time a new slate of officers will be installed.

A program of entertainment was provided with a one-act skit presented by some of the members. The social hour followed with a baby shower for one member, Linda Newhouse, which added a sparkle to a fun evening.

Hostesses for the evening were Linda Cole and Myra Colvin. Visitors are invited to attend the meetings and anyone interested is asked to call 475-2857 for more information.

North Lake Co-Op Preschool Plans Free Workshop

North Lake Co-Op Preschool will hold its third in a series of four workshops for 2- and 3-year-olds on Saturday, April 13, 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Maple Syrup

This year they began in late February.

They need 40 gallons of sap to produce one gallon of syrup. Before boiling the sap down, it has to be cleaned. Initially they put raw egg in the sap and boil it, which collects ants, dirt and any other debris. Then a series of filters are used. On a "good day" Charlene can boil down about 40 gallons on their woodstove. The boys help "a lot" with the wood, she says.

Their money-saving idea has paid off in other ways, too.

"We make candies for gifts, and we give maple syrup as gifts, too," Charlene says. "Usually we do not need to sell any. It's usually gone by the end of the year."

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Andrew Hoffman

Mindykowski-Hoffman Vows Spoken at St. Mary's Church

Trina Marie Mindykowski and Phillip Andrew Hoffman were married on Feb. 15 at St. Mary's Catholic church, Chelsea. The Rev. Fr. Philip Dupius performed the ceremony.

The bride wore ivory silk with lace trimmings and a medium train. Lace and pearls adorned a southern belle style hat and she carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath, and a trace of violets.

Lorrie Crawford served as maid of honor and wore a floor-length aubergine silk dress with ruffled sleeves and carried a special bouquet designed by Ernie Toth made of violets of dark and light purples, baby's breath, white sweetheart roses, lace intertwined with ribbons trailing. Bridesmaids wore similar dresses and carried matching bouquets. They are sisters of the

Bear Named Woman of Year By Chelsea ABWA Members

Twenty-two members and four guests gathered at the Chelsea Community Hospital, Tuesday, March 26 for a meeting of the Chelsea Charter Chapter of American Business Women. Dessert and coffee and tea were served prior to the meeting.

March was Enrollment Event month, when prospective members were invited to attend and learn first-hand the benefits of belonging to ABWA. The theme of this year's Enrollment Event was "Call It Spirit, Call It Heart." Cindy Bear was in charge of the enrollment program, assisted by Carol Spike, Karen Street, Georgia Beeman and Lenah Behnke. As each woman read a short paragraph depicting the advantages of belonging to ABWA, a heart was placed in a container.

Maxine Kushmaul, 1984 Woman of the Year chairman shared a tape from the Woman of the Year Breakfast at the national convention, 1984. At the conclusion of the tape Maxine announced that members (voting by secret ballot) had chosen Cindy Bear as Chelsea Charter Chapter Woman of the Year.

Avocation speaker, Judy Moisan spoke of her work with CoAmerica Bank. She said it was through her affiliation with ABWA that she has been motivated to greater self-management, decision making and setting goals to achieve what she has set out to do. It is through this growth and achievement that she is making a career change.

Final plans for the luncheon and fashion show were discussed. Shirley Schneider is general chairman. Geraldine Sullivan and Martha Powers will share the responsibility for the luncheon. Tickets for the event may be purchased from any ABWA member. The event will be held in the Chelsea High school cafeteria, May 18 at 1 p.m. Members were asked to design posters (which will be placed in local business windows). Fran Zatorski submitted the winning poster; it will be displayed at the luncheon and fashion show. An emerald and diamond necklace, as well as other prizes, will be given away. All proceeds will be used for scholarships.

Cynthia Mikelonis of Southfield and Bonnie Howard of Chelsea, independent businesswomen, presented a program "Expression in Colour." Using Maxine Kushmaul as a model, they cleverly used color squares to show the members the effect of different colors on an individual's skin tones.

Esther Kujawa won the 50-50 drawing.

President Favers who had undergone heart surgery recently, asked vice-president Martha Powers to conduct the meeting. The invocation and benediction was given by Vicki Favers.

Bernice Augustine and Joy Thorne were guests at the meeting.

The next meeting will be the regular dinner meeting at Chelsea Community Hospital April 23 at 6:30 p.m.

CHS Class of '75 Reschedules Date For Reunion Plans

A meeting to finalize family picnic plans for members of the Chelsea High school graduating class of 1975 is scheduled for Thursday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Wolverine Inn.

Business at the reunion meeting will include compiling a directory of information on class members based on returned questionnaires. Thirty classmates are presently unaccounted for, and those who have not received an invitation may send a written request to P. O. Box 353.

The date of the reunion picnic is set for Sunday, July 7; however, final location plans are pending. The April 1 deadline for payment of $35 per couple or half for singles has been extended for those still interested in attending.

The May 11 meeting is a rescheduled date due to confusion surrounding a prior time. All 1975 Chelsea High graduates are encouraged to attend the meeting and offer much needed help.

steel tubing, used at the Gaunt gladiolus farm north of Chelsea as an experimental project last year, were being put to practical use that spring to get bulbs started so that plants would be ready for market two weeks ahead of conventionally cultivated bulbs. James Gaunt, owner of the gladiolus business, was shown in the photo in front of the opened end of one of the "portable greenhouses."

Additional funds were made available to help meet the needs of eligible farmers who needed operating money to carry out their farming operations, Carl L. Robinson, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, announced. He explained that a $35,000,000 contingency fund provided by the 1961 Agricultural Appropriations Act had just been released to meet the growing demand for credit.

Michigan's first and second five-year highway construction programs were to have a "profound impact" on Michigan's economic growth for the next 25 years according to the State Highway Commission John C. Mackie. Michigan was the first state in the country to publish details of its road building program five years in advance.

Thursday, April 5, 1951—

The new tank truck purchased jointly by Sylvan and Lima townships and manned by Chelsea Fire department personnel, made its maiden run at 5:20 p.m. March 26 to a Cavanaugh Lake grass fire which threatened the Robert Rudd property and other cottages on the northwest side of the lake. The tanker truck was not used in the emergency but stood faithfully by in case it was needed. Six minutes were required to fill the 1,000-gallon tank with water and about eight minutes to unload the water into the regular pumper trucks.

Forty-four regular players of the Zion Lutheran church ladies' shuffleboard teams and eight guests enjoyed a smorgasbord provided by the losing team in the winter contest. The women enjoyed meeting and playing shuffleboard every two weeks.

Peak defense production in Michigan wasn't expected to be reached until the following year. Aside from a relatively small volume of passenger cars, trucks, and transport vehicles and other items requiring no retooling, the armament orders still were largely in the paper stage. From 1941 through 1945 the automobile industry built $29,000,000,000 worth of arms.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

Guest Column
By Will Connelly

During all seasons of the year, the streets and roads of the Chelsea area are enlivened by men and women who are walking or running in the interest of physical fitness. Out of the public view are numerous gals and guys swimming laps in the Charles S. Cameron pool. Those who stick with these and other vigorous exercises will not only live more years; they will experience much happier, healthier years with fewer blahs, illnesses and accidents.

In every person on earth is one of the most magnificent mechanisms that God ever created. It is the human heart. This is the pump that runs a fantastic delivery system of oxygen and nourishment to each of the billions of cells in our bodies. It is the same vital mechanism involved in carrying away our waste materials. At 70 thumps per minute, your heart beats 100,800 times per day or nearly 37 million times a year—non stop. Far from needing rest, it needs sustained periods of extra work to strengthen its muscles, clear its plumbing, vitalize miles of veins and arteries and supply more oxygen to your lungs.

The benefits of devoting 30 to 60 minutes a day to sustained physical exercise enormously outweigh all the excuses for avoiding it.

Anyone who has passed 40, and positively anyone who has faced the heat of 50 birthday candles, needs aerobic, oxygen consuming exercise. This is now part of the standard therapy for people who are recovering from heart attacks, but the big deal is that it is also the precious regimen for prevention.

As you read this, you must realize that I am not an M. D. but simply a physical fitness fan who has done quite a bit of homework.

Aerobic exercise is founded on a scientific principle as basic as this: If you will exert a sufficient amount of rhythmic physical effort involving large muscle groups for a long enough period of time, you will achieve a "training effect." During these sustained exercise periods you breathe more deeply and more often. Your heart works harder, beating more times per minute, so that it grows stronger and pumps more blood. Your lungs increase in capacity and efficiency so they can process more air with less effort. The number and size of blood vessels in your body are increased, adding miles of new capillaries. Your arteries are less likely to harden with dangerous accumulations of calcium and cholesterol, and your improved circulatory system becomes capable of delivering more oxygen and nutrients to your organs, muscles and bones. The same system also becomes more efficient in carrying carbon dioxide and other wastes products away.

How much exercise do you need to remain healthy? How often should you do it? For how long? And what kinds of exercise are available on the physical fitness menu?

The godfather of aerobic exercise is a physician, scientist, athlete by the name of Kenneth H. Cooper. Copies of his book are available in our McKune Library, but your best bet is to go to a book store and buy one so that you may own it. Dr. Cooper has devised a point system and his basic requirement for men and women of all ages is 30 points per week. Young people achieve the points in brief sessions of high energy output. Older persons win their points with time and endurance. The points are based on how much oxygen you consume in a selected amount of time—and in your own choice of exercise.

Here in Chelsea you can often see two Washington St. neighbors, Ann Feeney and Dale Schumann, both members of the board of education, running aerobic miles on our streets and roads. Bob Daniels of the lumber company is another runner. We have a great many faithful walkers, enjoying the same aerobic benefits whom I do not know by name. Don Dancer is an inveterate bike rider. In our Cameron pool, doing miles per week, we have lap swimmers including Carol Rob, wife of Waterloo Recreation Area manager, George Rob; school principal Bill Westcott and his wife, Sue; Lenard McDougall, chief of police; Marie Colombo, mother of great varsity swimmers; Pat Stoll of Cavanaugh Lake, and so on.

I swim half a mile a day in pool or pond because my 206 bones are no longer up to running and my balance has become so poor I can't trust myself on a real bike.

At the present time, the best hope for a long, healthy and really enjoyable older life is to prevent heart disease and cancer. Faithful, sustained exercise is the best known preventive of cardiac failure. Non-smoking is the best known preventive of cancer.

While faithful adherence to a program of aerobic exercise adds quantity to your life, the greatest reward of all is its quality.

fered those who attended Health-O-Rama, Saturday, March 30, at Chelsea Community Hospital. If your vision is as fuzzy as above photo, you need help.

Health-O-Rama Draws 400

 advised to make an appointment with their ophthalmologist for further checking. A free glaucoma test was available for each person passing through the Health-O-Rama, Saturday. In fact, there was no monetary charge unless a panel of blood tests was requested, and for this, a fee of $7 was collected.

Hospital officials said most people taking advantage of the Health-O-Rama walking tour enjoyed a benefit estimated at $150.

Project Health-O-Rama was sponsored by WXYZ-TV, ABC's Detroit station, Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan, United Health Organization and United Way.

Health-O-Rama was conducted at a total of 93 different sites throughout a several-county area during the past few weeks. Arborland Mall was the center of Health-O-Rama activities March 21-22, and Ypsilanti's Beyer Memorial Hospital was the scene of Health-O-Rama tests and services, Saturday, March 30, along with the Chelsea Community Hospital site on that same date.

Saline Community Hospital Wellness Center will be holding another of the Health-O-Rama programs, from noon to 7 p.m. Thursday, April 4. Area residents who missed the Health-O-Rama at Chelsea last week-end might want to take the chance to have the testing done at the Saline site tomorrow, Thursday, April 4. That test site is located at the corner of Saline-Ann Arbor Rd. and E. McKay St. in Saline. For special test information, call 428-1583. Washtenaw County United Way, at 971-8200, will also be able to provide more information about the Health-O-Rama event.

Those attending the multifaceted event were interviewed and had their hearing tested as one of the opportunities available Saturday.

An optional blood panel chemistry testing was the only test for which a charge was asked at the Health-O-Rama event, with a total of $7 requested for a series of blood tests.

Screenings were available to anyone 18 years or older at Saturday's health event.

As previously mentioned, Drs. Steven Yarows and John O'Brien were on hand to offer reassurance and health information to those who had completed the tests, and who wished to make any inquiries.

The two physicians explained the conversations were a two-way communication link, making them aware that patients often are not fully aware of why certain medications are prescribed by their physician, or what a person can do to improve the state of his or her own health.

From one of the printed brochures, this message emerges:

"Now more than ever before, you hold the key to your good health!"

"A healthy lifestyle, good nutrition and exercise habits, and periodic health checks are within your grasp."

"You can help reduce your risk of serious illness—attend a Project Health-O-Rama site and learn more about your present health status.

"Talk with a counselor about your test results. Remember, no one has more influence on your health than you!"

To do that, simply call the police-fire dispatcher at 475-9122. If conditions are poor, for instance if there is too much wind, the request will be denied. It is required that all fires be attended at all times.

Easter Week . . .

Catholics also bare the altar, and no candles are lit between Good Friday services and the redecoration of the altar prior to vigil ceremonies. The Saturday service is considered the first Mass of Easter.

Although the Episcopal vigil traditionally goes through the night, most local churches will end services about midnight. Many local Christians will welcome the dawn of Easter morning in joyful hymn singing prayerful worship at sunrise services scheduled at many area churches. White lilies, symbolizing purity, will beautify altars, and spring clothes will adorn many believers. For a schedule of Holy Week services, consult the church directory included in this paper. All schedules submitted by the Thursday deadline are included.

Townships Hold Annual Meetings

Area townships held their annual meetings recently to set budgets for the new fiscal year beginning April 1.

ment by supervisor, Donald Zeeb that more people take an active part in township meetings.

Lyndon . . .

A narrow budget increase was proposed for Lyndon township at $103,020 for 1985-86 over last year's $93,631 total.

Money was allocated for routine projects only, although a significant increase is being discussed for fire protection, an expected cost due to the state of the economy.

An increase of $160 in federal revenue sharing would bring the total to $9,191, to be discussed at a future meeting.

Salaries of both the clerk and treasurer will increase 10 percent, upping the total annual wages from $5,500 to $6,050.

Area Students Receive EMU Scholarships

Eastern Michigan University's Office of Financial Aid has announced that 106 additional students have been selected to receive the University's 1985 Recognition of Excellence Scholarship Awards.

Winners of the $1,000 scholarships must have earned a 3.5 grade point average in high school or community college and demonstrated outstanding leadership ability. Preference is given to students who score at least 20 on the American College Test or 900 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

One award has been designated for each community college and high school in Michigan. Additional awards are given to Michigan schools and out-of-state schools as funds permit.

Additional winners will be announced at a later date.

Local honorees are Edana Hodara, 5700 N. Territorial Rd., Dexter; Coleen Mendel, 12700 Sharon Hollow Rd., and Karla A. Raab, 11655 Bemis Rd., Manchester; Joanne M. Schlichte, 139 Main St., Pinckney.

Catholic Social Services Offers Help To Senior Citizens

Dexter . . .

Total annual budget figure proposed at the hearing for Dexter township, and approved by residents at the annual meeting was $259,000, up only slightly from the previous year's $258,000. Revenue sharing funds, totaling $16,200 will be used for road improvements in the township under supervision of the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Salaries of the supervisor and clerk were increased to $10,500 and $8,000, respectively, and trustee salaries were set at $600 annually in addition to $50 per meeting.

An additional $61,000 is budgeted by the township, as compared to $40,000 last year, to upgrade township secondary roads and to put new bridge decking and some stringers on the historic Bell Rd. bridge.

Residents also approved $3,000-$4,000 to complete landscaping at the township hall site.

Sylvan . . .

Sylvan township federal revenue sharing funds of $23,439, an increase of several thousand over last year, will be used for Chelsea Recreation Council, Chelsea Area Transportation Service, McKune Memorial Library and highway maintenance as it has been used in years past.

The 1985-86 budget is $265,806.18, a slight decrease over last year mainly due to the carry over difference.

Salaries of supervisor, treasurer, and clerk were increased $1,000 each, and trustees will receive an additional $10.00 per meeting.

No allocation was made to special projects at the meeting.

Lima . . .

Last year's Lima township budget was set at $212,372, which positioned it above this year's proposed budget of $204,537.

Salaries will increase $700 for supervisor, $800 for clerk, and payment to the treasurer was increased to bring it in line with the clerk's annual $7,000 wages.

A smaller than average attendance discussed a road maintenance and dust control budget of $35,000 and residents expressed concern over the road commission's unsatisfactory and overzealous trimming of area trees.

Federal revenue sharing for Lima township will be used for local road maintenance.

The township, operating millage of 1.04 is contingent on the Headlee roll-back.

Freedom . . .

Official approval of the proposed $111,950 annual budget is scheduled business for the Tuesday, April 9 meeting. The figure is a $5,000 increase over last year.

Electors at the March 30 meeting totaled 39, a higher than average attendance for the annual budget hearing for Freedom township.

Federal revenue sharing figures are expected to remain consistent with last year's $5,557 although a definite decision has not been made as yet.

The salaries of the township officials will remain at those set last year.

Webster . . .

Webster township's proposed budget for 1985-86 is $170,913, an increase over last year's $168,520.

Trustees are to receive an additional $35 to $50 per meeting.

The bulk of federal funding has been allotted to road repair and maintenance in the township.

Ten residents attended the March 30 meeting, and average turn-out, in spite of encourage-

Richardsons Open Auto Parts Store

"Four o'clock or 30 years was all I had to look forward to," is the motivation Dale Richardson says led him and his wife, Lola, to opening NAPA Auto Parts Store at 405 N. Main St. The store officially opened Monday, March 25, the day after Dale's 42nd birthday.

Dale and Lola are beginning new careers in their midlives. Dale spent the last 20 years working for the Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn in the steel plant. As Dale says, all he had to look forward to was the end of the day or his retirement after 30 years. Lola was a homemaker. Now, they've "hocked everything we have," and have opened their own business.

Most of their friends were supportive of their decision. Some thought they were nuts, especially Dale for leaving the security of a big company after so many years. Their children (Scott 18, Amy 15, and Jason, 14), Dale jokes, wonder if they'll ever have enough money.

Dale and Lola, who live on Freer Rd. near the high school, have been in the Chelsea area for 15 years. Chelsea was the only place they say they considered for the business, and NAPA thought Chelsea was a prime location for a store. A while back they almost bought Brown's Welding when it was for sale but found the price too high.

"Business has been real brisk so far," Dale says. "We've been probably twice as busy as I thought we'd be."

The store is located on the west side of Main St., just south of Sir Pizza. The over-all building, which once housed the Spaulding Chevrolet dealership, and was most recently a storage facility for Chelsea Lumber, is 7,000 square feet. The main store uses up 4,000 feet, and the rest is being used for storage. It still smells like fresh paint.

"We've had people come in here and tell us that they bought their car here," Lola says.

The Richardsons plan to have a grand opening sometime in May.

Three Talented CHS Musicians Chosen for State Youth Honors

When a selective group of approximately 10,000 out of 120,000 Michigan music students congregated recently to participate in State Solo and Ensemble Festival, a slim 100 were chosen as youth arts soloist candidates. Two of those were Laura Koepele and Kathy Jorgensen of Chelsea.

Both Chelsea High school students will perform with the Youth Arts Honor Orchestra on Saturday, May 11 at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, and will compete with other state nominees to become the evening's concerto soloist.

Another Chelsea concert performer that evening will be Amy Wolter who was invited to be a member of the Youth Arts Honor Band.

The three local musicians qualified for the honor ensembles by receiving scores of 95 and above from judges for solo performances at State Solo and Ensemble Festival. Upon special recommendation by judges, an elite group of students were later invited to try-out for the concert solo position.

Prior to this year's orchestra membership and solo option, Chelsea High school senior, Laura Koepele was chosen last year for membership in the Youth Arts Honor Band. An exceptionally proficient flutist, Laura will waive solo try-outs to tour Washington, D.C. with the hometown band April 9-13 instead. The top 10 scholastic student, committed debater and forensic team member, she plans to attend Michigan State University as a telecommunications major and music minor following high school graduation.

Laura is the daughter of Fran and John Koepele, 14020 Waters Rd.

Cellist, Kathy Jorgensen, is both unusually gifted and young. As a sophomore solo candidate and Youth Arts Honor Orchestra performer she is one of the youngest nominees chosen. She began private Suzuki cello lessons at eight and exhibits exceptional self discipline in home practice and academic achievement. Kathy is also a current piano student and is looking forward to playing with a musical group of equally dedicated high school musicians in Kalamazoo.

Kathy is the daughter of Judy and David Jorgensen, 4501 Kalmbach Rd.

Multi-talented, Amy Wolter

was chosen for the Youth Arts Honor Band, as an outstanding trumpeter. The active senior has held lead parts in high school musicals (besides dancing and singing roles), is a committed songster with the Contemporaries, and gives private trumpet lessons. She is a member of the National Honor Society and was a featured vocalist with the Saline Big Band during its Wales tour last year.

Amy has also attended numerous music camp programs including All-State camp at Interlochen which resulted in her election as Outstanding Camper and a full-ride scholarship to the International camp program there. She plans to attend college as a music education major but is still in the process of choosing which of four college scholarship offers to accept.

Amy is the daughter of Jean and David Wolter, 18185 N. Territorial Rd.

The especially skilled ensembles are scheduled for a surprisingly small number of rehearsals prior to the concert date. Transportation to WMU has been willingly provided by the girls' proud parents. A final last minute rehearsal is planned for the Saturday before the performance and members will enjoy a first glimpse of dorm life during an overnight stay.

Area Students Honored At EMU Symposium

Eastern Michigan University's College of Arts and Sciences sponsored its fifth annual undergraduate symposium Friday, March 29 in EMU's McKenny Union.

Titled "Symposium V: The Recognition of Excellence in Undergraduate Creativity and Research," the program honored the outstanding work of students from 16 academic departments at EMU who have completed research projects.

This year's undergraduate symposium was the largest in its five-year history and featured over 43 presentations. It represented the best of those works submitted by students to individual departments. Each student was sponsored by an EMU faculty member, who has had some degree of input into the project's completion.

Student presentations were divided into the following categories: Art and Communication and Theatre Arts; English Language and Literature; Biology and Psychology; Chemistry, Physics, and Astronomy; History and Afro-American Studies; Geography/Geology and Mathematics/Computer Science; Women's Studies; Economics and Political Science; and Foreign Languages and Music.

A luncheon followed the presentations, in honor of the student participants and their faculty sponsors. Dr. Donald F. Drummond, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, presided and Dr. Ira M. Wheatley, professor and head of the Department of History and Philosophy, was the featured speaker.

All symposium activities were open to the public free of charge, although advance luncheon reservations were required.

Local participants and their project titles were Diane Zeeb, "The Screen Surface," Chelsea; and Martha Moore, "The U.S. Automobile Industry and Its Imports," Manchester.

Dexter Township OKs Plan To Rebuild Bridge

Dexter township approved plans to rebuild the historic Bell Rd. bridge, raised salaries of some township officials and earmarked funds for secondary road improvements at their annual meeting.

Supervisor James Drolett reported an attendance of 19 at the federal revenue sharing and township budget public hearings and the annual township meeting which followed the hearings, Saturday, March 30.

Revenue sharing funds totaling $16,200 will be used for road improvements in the township under supervision of the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

An additional $61,000 is budgeted by the township, as compared to $40,000 last year, to upgrade township secondary roads and to put new bridge decking and some stringers on the historic Bell Rd. bridge. Road commission officials had explained to the Dexter township board that 75 percent of the bridge repair cost would come from state funds with the township providing the remaining 25 percent.

Total annual budget figures proposed at the hearing, and approved by residents at the annual meeting was $259,000, up slightly from the previous year's $258,000.

Salaries of the township supervisor and clerk were increased to $10,500 and $8,000, respectively, and trustee salaries were set at $600 annually in addition to $50 per meeting. Salary of the treasurer remains at $11,000 as set a year ago.

In other action, Clerk William Eisenbeiser explained the township hoped to start putting voter registrations on computer, and residents approved $3,000-$4,000 to compete landscaping at the township hall site.

Township board meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 7:30 p.m.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

★ Stockman Could Surpass Foreman

Today farmers' blood pressures rise at the mere mention of Budget Director David Stockman. A few years ago, there was somebody else in Washington, D.C. who was quite capable of achieving that same result—Carol Tucker Foreman.

Foreman was Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Food and Consumer Services for the USDA and didn't gain many points with farmers during her reign.

She burst onto the agricultural front pages during the era of consumer boycotts over food prices. She was viewed as a supporter of cheap food policies and was perhaps best known for proposing that farm production be tailored to government determined nutritional needs of the populous. Whether she would have turned the U.S. into a nation of lettuce farmers, we'll never know, because her assault on traditional agriculture was swept away with the Carter administration.

Now along comes David Stockman who looks like a young accountant and has the same propensity for saying controversial things that Foreman did.

One of those statements came when he questioned why taxpayers should refinance what he called, "bad debts willingly incurred by consenting adults who went out and bought farm land when the price was going up because they could get rich."

Stockman does indeed seem destined to surpass Carol Foreman as far as raising the ire of farmers is concerned.

Local Private Industry Councils (PICs) under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) include representatives from business, educational agencies, organized labor, rehabilitation agencies, community-based organizations, economic development agencies, and the public employment service, according to a U.S. Labor Department fact sheet.

Dog Corners Suspects in B&E at Beach

A 28-year-old man and two juvenile boys aged 14 and 15 were arrested for breaking and entering at Beach Middle School early Sunday morning after they fled the scene and were tracked down by a police dog.

According to Chelsea Police, the three suspects were seen in a hallway at the back of the building during a routine drive-through the school grounds by Chelsea police officer David Detling at about 1:30 Sunday morning. He immediately called for help from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. However, the three ran and were lost in the darkness and light rain.

At that point, the K-9 unit of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. was called in. The German Shepherd dog "Champ" quickly found the subjects lying face down in a muddy field just east of the school.

Police said that approximately $6 and some minor athletic equipment was taken, making the crime a felony. They said that apparently a key was used to gain access to the school.

April Fool's Day May Be Eliminated

Truthfully now, how many times did you fall for the old untied shoelace routine on April 1? The first day of April has been an obnoxious delight to practical jesters for centuries.

The original observance of April Fool's Day (a term probably more fitting the prankster than the victim to which it is traditionally applied) was originally observed in France after the adoption of the Gregorian calendar. France was the first nation to adopt the new calendar, adopted in 1564. Up to that time, the New Year celebration began March 21 and ended April 1. When New Year's Day was changed to Jan. 1, some still persisted in celebrating April 1, these people became known as April fools.

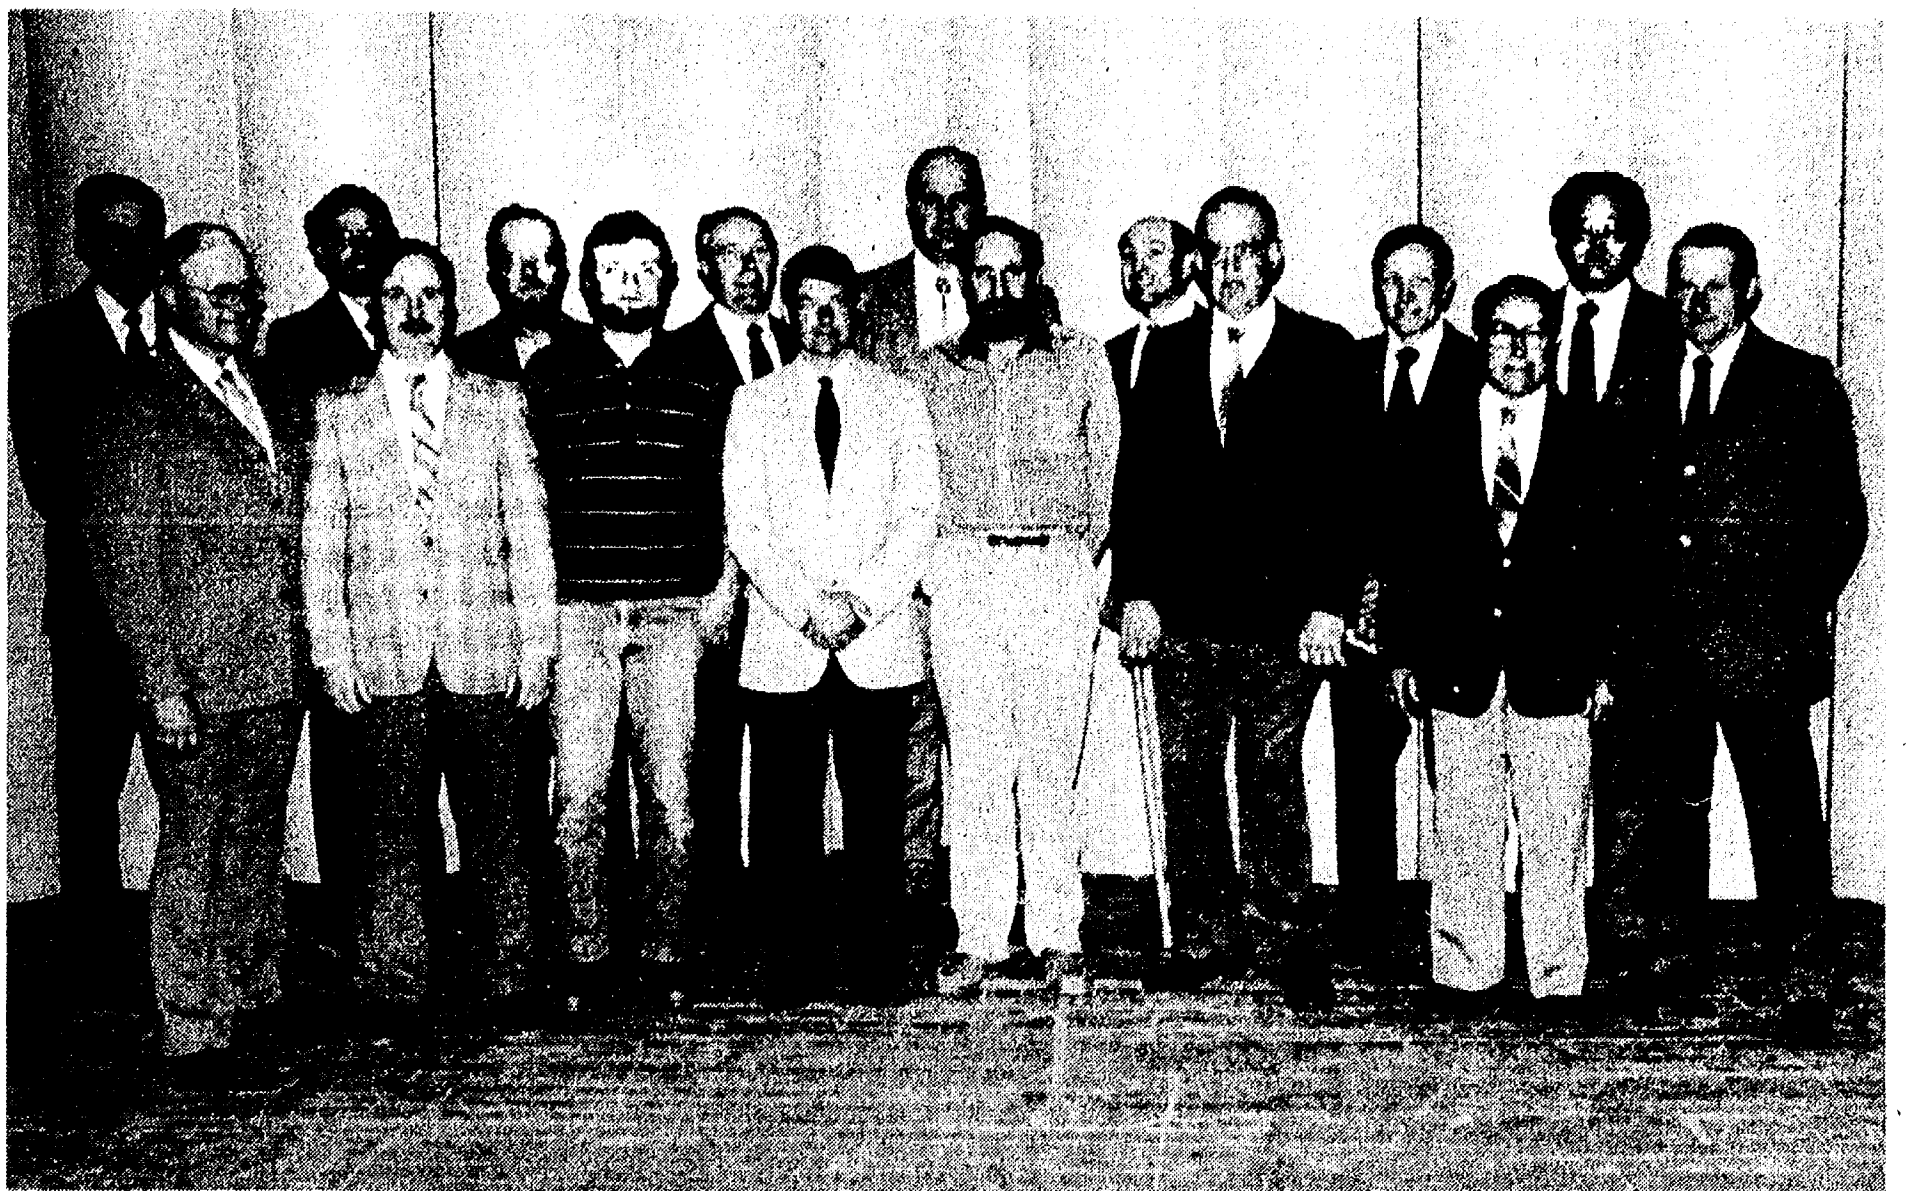

The custom of fooling friends and other unassuming innocents first became popular in France, where victims were called April fish. The tradition quickly spread to other countries.

In Portugal, Mexico, and India the people observe All Fool's Day on the Sunday and Monday before Lent.

There is also a popular rumor circulating that observance of April Fool's Day will be abolished by the Reagan administration.

Transparent, isn't it? Yes, yes, April Fool... darn.

agent Bill Ames, Harold Haeussler, Lloyd Grau, president Stan Poet, Charles Koenn, new trustee, Dave Wolfgang, and Bill Nixon. The group was entertained by The Collector's Choice, a barbershop quartet, and door prizes, donated by local businesses, were given away.

Balloon With Note Found

Fred and Lucille Lewis of Kalmbach Rd. plan to send a birthday card to an 80-year-old woman in Iowa whom they've never met and probably never will.

Fred was out walking in the woods on his property last weekend and found a pink balloon with a blue tie and neatly typed message inside it.

The note tells the whole story. "This balloon was released on Dec. 1, 1984 during the 80th birthday celebration of Clara Larson. If you would like to send her a card and let her know you found it, send it to Hubbard, Ia."

A check of the atlas shows that Hubbard, with a population of 854, is approximately 750 miles from Chelsea, smack in the middle of Iowa, about 50 miles north of Des Moines.

JEFFERY R. RAHN Pinckney Area Youth Completes Air Force Basic Training

Airman Jeffery R. Rahn, son of Bill R. and Amelia M. Rahn of 10772 Franfort, Pinckney, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airman who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

He is a 1984 graduate of Pinckney High School.

Task Force Tackles Drug, Alcohol Issues

A cross section of Chelsea community organizations is in the early stages of organizing a task force to deal with the issues of drug and alcohol abuse on all levels.

The Substance Abuse Task Force, initially spearheaded by the Rev. Erwin Koch of St. Paul United Church of Christ, had its second meeting in March and the organization is beginning to take shape. The task force represents the first time a community-wide effort has been launched to deal with the wide variety of problems alcohol and drug abuse causes.

"The primary purpose of the group is to assist in developing and implementing alcohol and drug awareness, prevention and intervention programs for the Chelsea community," Koch said.

"The whole business here is to make sure all of us are sympathetically concerned with the problems and we don't just shake our heads and say: isn't it awful!"

Koch stressed that while the school programs would be a major concern of the group, the primary focus is on how the entire community is affected by drug and alcohol abuse. The group will not merely produce a bunch of pamphlets. There will be support groups, educational programs, and other activities aimed at children and adults alike.

"The whole society has the problem," Koch said. "But unfortunately the child often bears the brunt of the problem."

Ron Demkowski, clinical director of substance abuse at Chelsea Community Hospital, is the chairman of the task force. The treasurer is Ken Larson, assistant principal at Chelsea High school. The secretary is Susan Carter, a counselor at Chelsea High school.

In all more than 20 people, representing 18 groups are involved. Included are the Knights of Columbus, Chelsea Hospital, Chelsea Hospital Advisory Board, Chelsea Hospital Substance Abuse program, Kresge House, Kresge House alumni, Chelsea Family Practice center, the Lions Club, the Fair Board, Chelsea Police Department, Chelsea School Board, Chelsea Hospital Psychiatric and Substance Abuse clinic, Chelsea High school guidance department and administration, Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship, Kiwanis Club, St. Louis school, and the American Legion.

The group is working to obtain non-profit status. Talks are underway with a local organization to try to see if the task force can be put under the organization's umbrella. That way the group can receive tax-deductible contributions.

Currently, Koch said, all task force members are volunteering their time, and there are no plans to have paid positions in the group.

The task force is meeting every other week at St. Paul's church on Old US-12, and the public is invited to attend. The next meeting is Monday, April 15.

Merchants Happy With Moonlight Madness

A brief telephone survey of downtown businesses revealed that over-all most merchants rated this year's Moonlight Madness Sale about the same or better than last year's at this time.

All the businesses contacted said their stores were full and that people were taking advantage of the sale items. Perhaps the best example of that was at Merkel's, where "more than 20 people were lined up before the store opened," to take advantage of a sale on slightly damaged mattresses, according to Bob Merkel. He said the store was forced to pass out numbers.

"It was better for us," Merkel said. "But we put more effort into this year. Last year we didn't have the close-out items available that we had this year."

Dancer's reported a brisk business in winter clothes, while Heydlauff's said that video cassette recorders were selling well. Sam Johnson at Gambles said that most of his sale items also sold well.

All merchants agreed that, for the most part, people who come into their stores for Moonlight Madness are buyers, not browsers.

AN EXHIBIT of the artwork of Mary F. Boylan of Chelsea opened at the Little Gallery of Studio Angelico at Siena Heights College in Adrian, March 28. The display of diverse artistic expressions was in partial fulfillment of graduation requirements for the student of fine arts and business administration. Boylan will graduate from Siena Heights in May, following an active student career at the college.

Mary Boylan Featured In College Art Exhibit

An art exhibit of cast paper creations, photography and clay sculpture by Siena Heights senior Mary F. Boylan of Chelsea opened Thursday, March 28, in the college's Little Gallery of Studio Angelico.

During her sophomore year, Boylan travelled with a Siena art group to Italy and her experience is evident in the extensive show which continues through April 11. Gallery hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The show is in partial fulfillment of the academic requirements of the bachelor of fine arts degree.

Boylan has been an active student leader at Siena Heights, serving on the Student Senate and as co-captain of the women's varsity basketball team. For her high grade point average, Boylan was named to the National Catholic Academic All American Women's Basketball Team.

At graduation ceremonies in May, Boylan, the daughter of Agnes and Keith Boylan, will receive degrees in both Fine Arts and Business Administration.

Many of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's standards are not new; business has operated under them for years as national consensus standards—those agreed upon by members or groups such as the American National Standards Institute and the National Fire Protection Association, or federal standards established under other laws, such as the Public Contracts Act, according to a U.S. Labor Department fact sheet.

It takes 50 bushels of corn, 2.25 tons of silage, 300 pounds of hay and 360 pounds of feed supplements to raise a 450-pound calf to the average market weight of 1,050 pounds.

District Court Will Continue In Chelsea

It has been previously stated that the Chelsea 14th District Court might be closed and all court business would have been handled at the Service Center in Ann Arbor.

It has now been announced that the court will be kept open, according to Ellis Pratt, county commissioner for this area.

Commissioners are trying to get funds allotted to remodel and enlarge the present facilities. As plans are presented to Pratt he says he will relay them. If anyone has any suggestions or comments, Pratt urges them to contact him.

Fifteen Are in the Running For 10 Tennis Team Positions

Six boys are vying for four positions as singles players on the Chelsea High school tennis team as co-coaches Rahn Rosentreter, in his rookie coaching season, and Terry Schreiner prepare the Bulldogs for their opener against tough Saline, at home, April 11.

The three doubles teams are up for grabs, too. The Chelsea team is not blessed with a lot of experience this year, and the coaches have elected to keep 15 boys on the squad, more than their usual number, Schreiner says. Those who don't play varsity will pick up some junior varsity experience, although there is no JV team as such.

"I expect that we'll do well against schools of our ability," Schreiner says. "The problem we have is that our boys only play a few months out of the year. There aren't any club players or year-around players on the team as there are at some of the other schools. Only half the team has any experience, even though it might appear that we have a senior team."

Competing for the singles positions are seniors Mark Henson and Biff Buntin, two of the singles players from last year's team. Also in the running are senior Rick Proctor, junior Chris Herter, sophomore John Stevens and freshman Kirk Lawton.

Schreiner says junior Steve Worthing and sophomore John Popovich are likely to make up one doubles team. Seniors Brett Knickerbocker and David Barels could combine to make up another doubles team. The final team could be composed of Proctor and Mike Merkel or Willem Van Reesema.

Others out for the team are senior Joe Merkel and freshmen Bob Pratt and Larry Moore. The team, Schreiner says, won't fully take shape until after this week's spring holiday.

Unlike the other spring sports teams, the tennis team does not play in a conference simply because the other Southeastern Conference schools with the exception of Saline and Pinckney, do not have teams.

"We play whoever we can get," is the way Schreiner describes the situation.

Saline, Howell and Jackson Lumen Christi loom as the toughest squads the Bulldogs are likely to face, Schreiner says.

FRED KLICK, JR., newly re-elected president of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club (left) inspects a new, ultra light spinning rod capable of landing any game fish in the county. With him is Charlie Fredette, 1985 treasurer of the club. Bass season begins May 25.

Rod & Gun Club Elects Officers

At the March meeting of the board of directors of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club four officers, were elected to manage its affairs during the ensuing year. Fred Klink, Jr., was re-elected for a second consecutive term as president. Will Connelly, a director, was designated vice-president and Charlie Fredette was elected treasurer. George Padgham who has been secretary for 10 continuous years again retained his portfolio.

All officers of the club are directors. Other directors are Walt Schrader and Tony Wisniewski, co-chairmen of the program committee, along with Rick Monet and Tom Franklin.

The club, which is essentially a conservation organization, has a brick meeting hall on Lingane Rd. in Lyndon township, overlooking 61 acres of forested land. The club was established in 1936 and became a non-profit Michigan corporation the following year. Chelsea Rod & Gun Club is affiliated with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and the National Wildlife Federation.

Portage, Baseline Lake Level To Be Raised By April 13

Homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area were cautioned today to prepare for the coming spring and summer. "The lake level at Portage Lake will be raised by approximately one foot starting April 8 and completed by April 13," stated James E. Murray, Washtenaw county drain commissioner. The raising of the lake level coincides with the opening of the boat launch facilities.

Each winter, the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake.

For additional information, please contact Chester J. Pankowski, senior drain inspector, at 994-2525.

Lahery Wins Cribbage Title

Jim Lahery of Ann Arbor took first place in the Chelsea Cribbage Tournament, Tuesday, March 26.

Lahery defeated Skip Schluppe 3-0, Barbara Corser, 3-1 and Hod Hull, 3-1.

Hull took second place with wins over Jeff Mead and Craig Sinclair. Corser was third, beating Duane Boyer and Sinclair, and Sinclair finished in fourth place by beating Jeff Williams.

Wrestling Club Wins Medals at Leslie Tourney

Chelsea Recreation Wrestling Club continued its tournament schedule on Saturday, March 30 at Leslie High school. Eleven youngsters made the trip and faced the highest quality and quantity of competition of the year. Four boys came home with medals.

Damon McLaughlin, Michael Pidd, Jeremy Feldkamp, and David Paton all competed in the 8-and-under age group and turned in fine performances.

Jeremy gained a second-place finish in a hard fought match. David did an exceptional job in defeating all five of his opponents by pins to gain a first-place medal and run his season record to 9-0.

In the 9-10 age bracket, John Bobo and Steve Grau each took third-place honors. Others competing in this bracket were Vince Stahl, Scott Koscielnik-Herst and Mark Eder. All of these youngsters wrestled well and made it into the third round before being ousted from the tournament.

Mike Eder and Craig McCalla competed in the 11-12 and 13-14 age groups, respectively. Each turned in a fine performance with Craig losing a close second-round match after an opening round win.

The club's next action will be the district tournament in Dexter on April 13 where only four boys in each weight class are able to advance into the regionals the following week.

MARK HENSON, senior tennis singles player, works out in preparation for the Bulldogs' home opener against Saline on Thursday, April 11.

Dexter McWhips Chelsea In Hamburger Challenge

Four of Chelsea's best high school gluttons squared off against some of Dexter's finest eaters in a belly-stuffing contest at McDonald's restaurant on Zeeb Rd. Wednesday, March 19.

The contest tested which team could down the most hamburgers in three minutes. Dexter waddled away with the trophy, although the teams split the $100 prize that was to go to the school with the top over-all hamburger eater. A McDonald's spokeswoman said that 13 was the top number any person could bolt down.

According to the letter announcing the contest to The Standard, there was supposed to be one representative from each class from each school. However, The Standard has learned that the Chelsea team substituted a ringer. Eric Eals came back from graduation to represent the senior class. Other members of the Chelsea team included junior Greg Jalynski, sophomore Mike Popovich, and freshman Jerrod Fletcher.

The final total of hamburgers eaten was not known by the McDonald's spokeswoman, although she said Dexter was the clear winner.

PROUD OLYMPIAN: Jay Curry, a 12th grader at Chelsea High school, won the first-place ribbon in the 50 yard freestyle at a Special Olympics swim meet held Friday, March 29 at the Cameron pool at Beach Middle school. Presenting the award is Nita Sage of the Dexter High school special education program.

Hobbled Track Team Competes in Relays

Chelsea track coach Bill Wehrwein took a makeshift team to compete in the Huron Relays, at Eastern Michigan University, March 29, and came away pleased with the team's over-all performance.

"About half our team went to Florida," Wehrwein said. "We were missing some links, especially in the relay teams. In this meet what we try to do is just get everybody in. Any scoring is amazing."

The Huron Relays featured about 60 class B teams from all over the state. Teams could only enter one person or team in each event.

The only team to score points for the Bulldogs was the distance medley relay team, which placed fourth. Allen Kuhl, ran the 800-meter leg in 2:11, Scott Miller ran the 400-meter leg in :58, Tim Bowdish ran the 1200-meter leg in 3:20, and Jerod Bradley ran the 1600-meter leg in 4:42.

Bradley later ran the 1600-meter run in 4:37.4, good for sixth place.

In the 1600-meter relay, Dennis Parisho led off with :60.2, Pat Cheng followed at :59.3, Kuhl ran the fastest leg in the third position at :58.4, and Matt Smith finished in :66.2.

In the shuttle hurdle, where four runners each run the 55-meter high hurdles, Miller, Doug Webb, Marcus Pletcher, and Parisho combined to run :34.6, good for 14th place.

The sprint medley team finished 10th over-all. Jorge Castillo ran the 400-meter segment in :58.2, Cheng ran a 200-meter leg in :26.6, Curtis Heard ran the second 200-meter leg in :26.7, and Bowdish anchored the team in the 800-meter leg with a 1:03.7.

In the 800-meter relay, Jim Eisenbeiser led off with a :28.3, Jeff Andress followed at :30.7, Chris Gieske ran a :26.9, and Sam Eisenbeiser anchored with a :29.5.

In the two mile relay, Lee Riemenschneider finished in 2:18, Greg Brown ran 2:20, John Cattell ran a 2:23, two seconds faster than his previous best time, and Mark Bentley ran a 2:14, four seconds better than his previous best.

John Cattell ran "a pretty good time for a freshman" in the 3200-meter run at 11:08, Wehrwein said.

Perhaps this year's Red Badge of Courage award should go to freshman Tom Bennett. In this highly competitive meet, he ran his first 55-meter high hurdles ever and finished in 11.3.

Trout, Panfish Fishing Improves

Several streams in the area are open for brown trout fishing although they are not designated trout streams.

Some of the best waters, according to the Department of Natural Resources, are Rice Creek and the Nottawa River in Calhoun county and the Prairie River in Branch county. Both are two counties west of Washtenaw.

The department says that trout fishing will likely improve as water temperatures increase and stream flows decrease.

Spring weather also increases panfish angling. The warmer water, which first shows up in shallow lakes and channels and bays of larger lakes, attracts bluegills and other panfish.

Pike fishermen should note that spawning runs are now over in most area lakes. Pike often spawn when there is still ice on the lake.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Two years ago, the National Association of Civilian Conservation Corps Alumni (NACCCA) celebrated the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC).

The NACCCA is trying to locate about two million or more members and persons who were connected or affiliated with the CCC during the 1930's and 1940's.

It is a known fact that many of these persons reside in Michigan and areas serviced by your newspaper.

The NACCCA is a young and growing organization with 114 chapters throughout the nation, and more are in the planning and development stages. One of its major objectives is to have the CCC reactivated.

Anyone interested in the organization may write to NACCCA, Loethmann's Plaza, 7245 Arlington Blvd., Suite 318, Falls Church, Va. 22042 for more information and literature.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Happy Easter to you and your readers. What a blessed time of the year indeed. Somehow, as if with willed determination, God arranged, through man, to have his only son's death and resurrection coincide with the beauties of spring. All of nature sings its chorus, in approval. "Life, New Beginning."

Recently in Florida the following writing was a gift to me. It spells out "New Beginning" like those all about us now. May I share the wisdom with you and your readers?

SANIBEL DREAMS

If I Had My Life
To Live Over I Would
Relax, take things less seriously,
Climb more mountains
Eat more ice cream and fudge
Have fewer imaginary problems
Take care of real problems
Have great moments, instead of hopes of great years
Have a success be a journey, not a goal
Walk barefoot on the beach
Love more . . . Hate less
Do a good deed for the joy of it
Be less critical
Live to die . . . not die to live
Laugh more heartily
Admire youth, even with envy.
Chance more mistakes
Ride more merry-go-rounds
Rather give, then get
Be born old . . . to get young.
To know sooner, these are truths
Wish I could say I live the above,
but alas,
I have human frailties . . .
A blessed Easter to all, and be all that you can be.

Millie Warner.

Canadian Hog Imports Closely Monitored

Legislation has been introduced in Congress that would shift the authority to decide whether foreign governments are subsidizing exports from the Commerce Department and International Trade Commission to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The proposed legislation would also give USDA authority to determine the amount of countervailing duty that could be applied if it finds that foreign exports are subsidized.

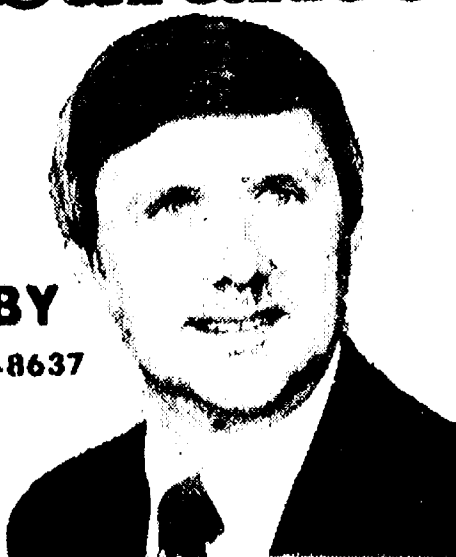

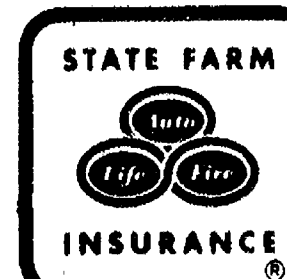

According to Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau, something must be done to correct the current U. S.-Canada pork trade imbalance, but cautions that it should be done in a way that doesn't provoke a trade war.

"Currently, we export about $2 billion worth of farm products from this country to Canada and Canada exports about $1½ billion worth of their products to the U. S. This delicate trade balance must be considered in any actions that are taken if we are to avoid a trade war," he said.

MCRC Members Mark 20th Year

On Tuesday evening, March 26 the Mill Creek Research Council met at Lima Town Hall for its 20th annual meeting. Current chairman, Wallace Fusilier, presided.

This was a special occasion and a time for reviewing briefly the successes and defeats of this volunteer group.

The sentiment was expressed that although the major activity over these 20 years has been fighting proposals by others, outsiders, which the group felt would have had a negative impact on the area, that the activities generated by this effort have been decidedly positive in their effect on the lives of those involved and on Lima and its neighboring townships.

This was due in part to a virtual 100% support of local residents, plus many others, and the actual involvement of many who contributed their time and special talents in all aspects of the action.

As far as has been determined today, 49 served a turn or more—two have served 20—on the board of directors. These people include the following: Charles Arnold, Dave Bacon, Duane Bollinger, Lloyd Boyce, Clifford Bradbury, Nancy Burkhalter, William Chandler, Virginia Denham, Irene Egan, Barbara Eby. Also Robert Fiegel, Harvy Fischer, George Frisinger who was first chairman, Wally Fusilier, David Ingersoll, Bob Heller, Bob Holliday, Betty Koch, Linda Koch, Art Kuhl, Donald Laier, Art Lindauer, Betty Messman, Spike McCalla, Carroll Orday, Stanley Parker, Donald Plumb, Harold Powers.

Others were Donald Raney, Alfred Renz, Ron Satterthwaite, Alton Schneider, Brett Seabury, Lee Schaberg, Margaret Sias, Del Sparks, Roger Storm, Arwin Strieter, Janet Tarolli, Bill Van Riper, Dorothy Van Riper, Sylvester Weber, Linda White, Robert Wirtz, Arlys (Wiseman) Spink, Olive Wiseman, and David Wolfgang.

In 1966 Jay Bradbury, Janet McCalla, and James Tryand were listed as ex-officio board members.

The entire 1984-85 board was re-elected to serve in 1985-86.

The current concern will be monitoring and possible input into Washtenaw county's revision of the land use plan, as the HCMA's proposed Mill Creek Park site is on present county land use maps.

Tim Benjamin Appearing in EMU 'Romeo & Juliet'

Tim Benjamin, son of Lorraine Benjamin of Chelsea, and the late Carl Benjamin is currently appearing as the "watchman/guest" in the Eastern Michigan University production of Shakespeare's "Romeo & Juliet."

Tim was active in forensics for three years at Chelsea High school—ranking ninth in the state in 1983. He has served as a director for stage and drama, tutor for speech and drama, and enacted the role of Colonel Purdy in "Teahouse of the August Moon" and was the cowardly lion in "Wizard of Oz."

Tim continued his role in "Romeo & Juliet" this last weekend—March 28, 29, and 30. Information may be obtained from the Quirk Theatre Box Office on the EMU campus by calling 487-1220.

It's Happening

America's economy could be getting a big boost—from the way other countries are recovering from recession. Mexico is increasing its trade surplus. That makes it easier for that country to pay its debts to American banks. That could be good for all Americans.

New Staff Member Joins Family Practice Center

The Family Practice Center at Chelsea is pleased to announce the addition of a new staff member, Chandice C. Harris. Ms. Harris is clinical nurse specialist and will be serving in the role of parent-child coordinator for the Family Practice Center.

Ms. Harris is a doctoral candidate at the University of Michigan School of Nursing. She has done extensive study in areas of concern to new parents, including colic, newborn circumcision, grieving from the loss of a baby, and breastfeeding. In March she presented a paper concerning the effect of infant colic on the family at the Society for Applied Anthropology in Washington, D. C.

In 1984 she was one of three nurses nationally to receive the Purdue Frederick Fellowship from the Nurses Association of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists. She is a member of many professional organizations, including the American Nurses' Association, National League for Nursing, and Sigma Theta Tau, the Honor Society for Nursing.

Ms. Harris and her husband and three children recently moved to this area from Shreveport, La.

Ms. Harris will be offering classes in childbirth and parenting counseling as well as other educational programs at the Family Practice Center. The first session of classes to be presented by Ms. Harris will begin April 15. It will be a series which focuses on women's health during early pregnancy. The session will cover exercise, nutrition, fetal development, and the fetal bonding experience of pregnancy. Interested persons should contact Ms. Harris at 475-1321, ext. 430.

Except for the less than four percent of Americans that live on farms, most people tend to think of soil only when it becomes dirt, smudged on our clothes or carried into the house on our shoes, says National Wildlife magazine.

Grass Lake Youth Completes Army Basic Training

Pfc. Mark K. Jones, son of Lovetta J. Gadbury and step-son of Robert E. Gadbury of 10700 Cady Rd., Grass Lake, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is a 1982 graduate of Napoleon High school.

One key to successful gardening is knowing the makeup of your soil, says National Wildlife magazine. For starters, National Wildlife recommends the texture test. Take a small amount of soil, wet it and rub between your fingers. A gritty feeling indicates your soil is rather sandy. A sticky feeling means your soil has a high clay content, while silt-laden soil feels smooth like flour. To make your garden grow best, your soil should have an equal makeup of these three sizes of particles.

Menu Americanized For Roman Banquet

Five weeks of study culminated in the fifth annual Roman banquet for Beach school seventh graders. In keeping with Roman tradition, authentic recipes, prepared by teachers, were served to costume-clad students reclining at traditional low tables where eating with spoons and fingers, necessitated the hand washing ceremony at the close of the meal.

Original poetry, plays, speakers and music served as entertainment. Three weeks of preparation were given to projects for this portion of the event.

A campaign, complete with Roman-style bribes of candy and gum, resulted in the election with vote casting by dropping pebbles in cups, of an emperor, tribunes and councils who were seated in honor at the head table, accompanied by a personal slave.

Seventh grade teacher, Barbara Brown, explained that the first year recipes were so strictly authentic that most of the food was left untouched, thus the later Americanization of the menu. The Columella salad served at the banquet is a recipe which actually comes from a Greek poem translation, and Lucullus Delight, which is listed in the program as wild water buffalo meat, seasoned with red hummingbird tongues was doubtfully that, but the baklava at least was familiar.

A Grand March was held prior to the banquet to parade Roman costumes for office and library personnel serving as judges in the best costume competition. Sacks of silver coins, actually quarters, were awarded to the three winners.

The seventh grade bloc classes of Barbara Brown, Jim Hoeft, and Charlie Waller participated in the event.

Chelsea Color Guard Places 4th in State Final

The Michigan Color Guard Circuit competitors for 1985 culminated in the State Championships Finals held at West Bloomfield High school on Sunday, March 24.

Plenty of color and motion performed before a full-house. In addition to the host team of "Coronation," the other color guards included the auxiliary class groups of Kingsville-Essex, Ont. and Lamphere High school; the class A groups from Oxford, Windsor, L'Anse Creuse North, Chelsea, and Mt. Morris; the open class groups from Flint, Bridgeport, and St. Clair.

Each guard, composed of from eight to 24 members, performs within a measured area for a minimum time of four minutes and not exceed seven and a half minutes.

Visual effects, costumes, flags, rifles, sabres and banners provide color and motion as the result of a combination of guard-style marches and movements, including dance and acrobatics, synchronized to music of any chosen style.

Michigan Color Guard circuit was formed in October 1975, and was originally called the International Color Guard Association. It was organized by John Robertson of Mt. Morris, with the intention of uniting Michigan and Canadian guards, as well as those throughout the United States.

Several guards will be traveling to Dayton, O., for the Winter Guard International Olympics on Friday, April 12.

Chelsea's Color Guard placed third at the Saturday night competition at Lamphere High school in Madison Heights with a score of 40.5 in the class A division. For the State Championship, that score was increased to 45.5 to finish Chelsea in fourth place. Studio One of Flint was awarded the State Championship with a score of 69.9.

The 16-member group worked diligently throughout the season under director Phil Jones and captain Phoebe Strong.

Firefighters Attend Training Session

Chelsea firefighter Daniel Ellenwood is conducting a series of training sessions for firemen from several departments throughout Washtenaw county, as well as a few from adjoining counties.

The first of these training meetings was held Tuesday, April 2, at the Chelsea fire hall.

Ellenwood reviewed the state laws covering what is expected of a firefighter as the driver of an emergency vehicle. Most of Tuesday's session was book or conversation-oriented, with the "on the road and in the vehicle" training reserved for future dates.

Saturday, April 13, Ellenwood will be meeting at the Chrysler Proving Grounds with firefighters enrolled in the course. Individual firemen will be given basic "behind the wheel" instruction on how to best maneuver a fire truck down a narrow alley, how to back the vehicle into a designated location with the least difficulty, and how to drive in the safest manner on the highway as well as on back roads.

Firemen from the Dexter Area Fire Dept. which became operational Monday, April 1, following the signing of the contract, Tuesday, March 26, by representatives of Dexter village and the townships of Dexter, Lima, Scio and Webster, as well as firefighters from the Northfield, Manchester, Saline, Belleville, Superior and Ann Arbor Township fire departments, and from the hosting Chelsea Fire Dept., are enrolled in the class, Driver Training for Emergency Vehicles.

State law dictates that any person who drives a vehicle exceeding 24,000-lb. G.V.W. (gross vehicle weight) must have a chauffeur's class 2 license, with the single exception provided "firefighters."

Firemen take advantage of the training classes set up through the Michigan Firefighters Training Council to learn the needed skills for operating the fire trucks

Ellenwood recently completed a 66-hour instruction series for Level A, the first level of the 240-hour training for firefighters set up under the auspices of the MFTC. The January meeting for this training was held in Northfield, and the February session took place in Superior township.

VFW Planning 40th Anniversary

A joint celebration by the VFW Post and Auxiliary of Chelsea is being planned to mark the 40th anniversary of the charter Saturday, April 13. All members and guests are urged to help with the happy event.

Early in January of 1945, a group of returning WW I veterans and several from WW II, organized the local group. Following completion of the necessary requirements to institute a post, chartership was received on April 20.

Charles Ritter was selected as the first commander and only seven of the original charter members still belong to the local group. The post met at various locations prior to the purchase of the present building at 105 N. Main St. in 1976. Membership grew with the return of Korean and Vietnam veterans to its present 110.

Late in April of 1945, a group of mothers, wives, daughters, and sisters of returning veterans gathered at St. Mary's school gym to form an auxiliary of the post. By July 10 the auxiliary was instituted and charter received. The late Magdalen Weber was the first president of the group which presently has nine charter members remaining with a total membership of 83. They also met at numerous locations before moving in with the post on N. Main St.

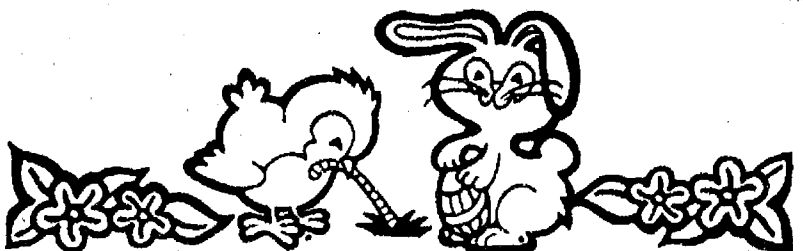

Consistent with the national VFW slogan, "to honor our dead by helping the living," the post and auxiliary undertake many community service projects. Americanism is the main promotional goal.

Flags have been donated to local school classrooms, all local scouting groups, village offices and light poles, and many other groups. Additional yearly projects include fund raising to help equip the police and fire departments and picnic tables are placed at Veteran's Park in honor of all-deceased veterans.

The Federal Depository Library Program was established in the early 1800's when copies of Congressional debates were offered to selected libraries, in exchange for providing free public access to the materials. As the number of publications issued from the Congress and Federal agencies expanded, the number of Depository Libraries also grew, up to the present number of more than 1,390. The program continues to grow by three or four libraries each year.

Severe Weather Training Session Attended By 100

Training for the procedures which should be used in case of severe weather was held at the UAW Local No. 1284 Hall, Tuesday evening, March 26, with very good attendance.

A crowd of 80-100 people turned out for the training session, with Dan Harsh, director of the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Preparedness estimating the number at closer to the 100 figure. Harsh said following the session that he was thrilled so many people from the Chelsea and Dexter areas took time out from their busy schedules to come, Tuesday evening, and participate in a program which could be of vital significance to their lives, or those of their loved ones.

"This is such an important type of training," Harsh pointed out, "when a tornado occurs, people need to know what to do, and what to avoid."

"Late March signifies the beginning of the tornado season in Michigan," Harsh reminded,

"and this year brought us the first tornado watch of the season just a day after our first training in the area."

Wednesday, March 27, the weather service issued a tornado watch bulletin, and spotters were dispatched to keep a "weather eye on the sky" until what was originally thought to be a safe hour, 9 p.m. However, as the 9 p.m. hour arrived, the watch was extended until later in the night, Harsh reported.

Chelsea Communications Club co-operated with Harsh's office and UAW Local No. 1284 membership to sponsor the Severe Weather Training, with the union providing the hall and assisting with other details for the evening.

Harsh explained he was particularly pleased with the number of Chelsea Fire Department members who attended the training session. "With all they do in an ordinary day, it really is gratifying they recognized the importance of this training session and put forth such an effort to attend," Harsh noted.

Larry Koch, secretary-treasurer of the Chelsea Firemen's Association and one of the firefighters to attend the training session, characterized the material presented as "very informative."

Robert "Lefty" Schantz explained early this week that the pamphlets distributed at the Severe Weather Training are no longer provided free from the federal government, and that people who received these printed materials consider sharing the information with neighbors and friends.

Harsh reported he has already conducted six Severe Weather Training sessions this year, with requests continuing for information on Severe Weather tips from community groups. "People want to know what to do," Harsh explained, "and that's good!"

"Preparedness is what it's all about—especially when the tornado season arrives," Harsh continued, "and with more people well informed, the community is just that much better protected."

"Chelsea Communications Club does an excellent job of assisting with the work needed in the event of severe weather, both the Dexter and Chelsea areas benefit from the work of the club members," Harsh noted, "and the membership of UAW Local No. 1284 has been great in providing the hall for the training each year and helping with refreshments, as well as other details."

Fire Department Makes Six Runs

The Chelsea Fire Department made six runs from Thursday, March 28 through Monday, April 1.

Two runs were the result of personal injuries and three were medical emergencies. One run was made to a residence on Dewey St. where sparks were forming as a result of wet branches rubbing against wires.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

Chelsea Jaycees will hold their 23rd annual Easter egg hunt at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 6 at the Chelsea High school athletic field.

Children will be divided into four categories: pre-school, kindergarten, first grade and second grade. A specially marked egg for each category will be hidden. The child who finds the most eggs for his age group will receive a prize.

Toward the end of the hunt, the Easter Bunny will visit the children.

This year the Jaycees will have more eggs than last year. They will boil and dye the eggs Friday night, April 5.

Mark Daane is the chairman of this year's egg hunt.

April 15 Deadline Set To Apply for Crop Insurance

April 15 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for barley, corn, dry beans, grain sorghum, oats, potatoes, soybeans, and sugar beets grown in Michigan and insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC), or by a private company reinsured by FCIC, according to Barbara Cranson, a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.

Crop insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

A new crop insurance plan, called Actual Production History (APH), is available this year to producers of corn, grain sorghum, peanuts, cotton, and rice. Producers of these crops may now qualify for higher yield guarantees by proving their yield history. Rates have been developed to offer reduced premium for producers with above-average yields. "This change could sharply reduce the cost of carrying crop insurance," says Cranson.

To find out more about the APH plan, producers should contact a local, authorized agent. To select an agent, producers may check the list of agents at their local ASCS office.

MANNING THE FINAL PHASE of Health-O-Rama at Chelsea Community Hospital, Saturday, March 30, at the station marked "Counseling and Referral" were physicians, Dr. John O'Brien, shown on the left in the photo, and Dr. Steven Yarows. The two answered questions for those completing the series of free tests and evaluations offered at Health-O-Rama. Most questions centered around blood pressure, the doctors confirmed, although many people took the opportunity to inquire about their medications.

Auto Stolen For Joy Ride

A black, 1966 two-door Plymouth was stolen from the home of Anthony Hafner March 26, according to Chelsea police.

Police said the automobile was reported stolen at 11 p.m. Tuesday but was recovered at 6:51 a.m. Wednesday, just a block away from Hafner's 163 E. Summit address.

Police suspect that someone took the car for a "joy ride." No arrest has been made.

Camp Waterloo Escapee Sought

Mark D. McGinnis, a 25-year-old white man serving three to 15 years for breaking and entering, was reported missing from Camp Waterloo early yesterday morning, according to Chelsea police.

Police said that McGinnis was last seen at approximately 6 a.m. He is described as having blonde hair, blue eyes, five feet eight inches tall and 130 pounds. He has a tattoo on his upper left arm, the name "Terrie."

McGinnis is reportedly from the Port Huron area.

Pump 'N' Pantry Store Chain Sold

The Pump 'N' Pantry stores in Chelsea and Dexter will have a new look to them this spring. The familiar blue and orange signs will be replaced by the rabbit logo of the Hop-In chain of convenience stores. That's because the stores have been sold to FarrView, Ltd. of Toronto by their previous owner Gallup-Silkworth of Ann Arbor. There are already more than 60 Hop-In stores in Michigan, and 135 others in Virginia, Tennessee, and North Carolina.

The stores were two of 21 that Gallup-Silkworth sold to the Canadian company. However, the sale does not include the store next to Stivers on Fletcher Rd. That is one of eight stores Gallup-Silkworth chose to keep.

The sale is effective immediately.

According to Gallup-Silkworth president Douglas Ziesemer, customers should see few changes in the stores, and gasoline prices should not be affected. However, he said the Hop-

In chain concentrates its efforts more in hot food to go than the present Pump 'N' Pantry stores do. Gallup-Silkworth will continue to supply gasoline to the stores.

"In order to be really profitable in this industry, we would have needed to expand to at least 100 stores," Ziesemer said. "We would have had to position ourselves to grow quickly. Last summer we made the decision that we were spending too much time in this area and we could see no long-term benefits."

Ziesemer said he expects that FarrView will spend some money to make the exterior of the Chelsea store more attractive.

Gallup-Silkworth will continue to operate the Fletcher Rd. location because it is a distribution point for its fuel oil business, a major part of the $75 million company.
