A TOUCH OF CLASS is what Loren Winn's auto shop class at Chelsea High school has a chance to experience as they tinker with a prototype 1984 Lincoln Continental. The automobile was recently donated to the school by the Ford Motor Co., with the help of school district resident Jim Evison. The prototype, with a 1984 body, is equipped with 1987 electronics. Although school officials declined to put an exact worth on the car, it's safe to say it's worth far more than the average Chelsea home. The auto is simply one-of-a-kind. Taking a gander at the engine are, from left, Pat LaMay, Dennis Parisho, teacher Loren Winn, Chris Zangara, and Roger Quackenbush.

CHS Auto Shop Receives Gift of Mark VII Prototype

Chelsea school district resident Jim Evison is the godfather of Washtenaw county's high school automotive shop classes. He's made more than a dozen deals the schools have found hard to turn down.

Evison, who orders parts and supplies for experimental automobiles at the Ford Motor Co. plant in Allen Park, has arranged for every high school in Washtenaw, and a few outside, to receive a prototype automobile for their automotive classes. The automobiles are one-of-a-kind.

Evison's plant also builds the cars for televisions and movies, among them the "Mule," in "Romancing the Stone."

Chelsea, last week, received a black, Lincoln Continental Mark VII. Dexter has a new Cougar. Pinckney, Stockbridge and Manchester High schools are also among the schools participating.

The Lincoln originally had an '84 body, but it was updated to '85 specifications. However, the car has electronics that will be standard on '87 models. All the electronic features are too numerous to mention. However, there is a CRT (small monitor for a computer) embedded in the dashboard that is capable of producing read-outs for virtually anything you'd want to know about your car. It's like having an electronic owner's manual. There are also programmable door locks, which will allow entry either via a standard key or an electronic combination lock.

"When Jim asked me what kind of car I'd like, I facetiously told him 'how about a Lincoln,'" said Chelsea High school principal John Williams. "Then he asked me what color I wanted, which really threw me. When he called back later he said, 'gee, I'm sorry I could only get a black one.'"

The car, which, according to the terms of the gift, can only be driven on school grounds, is worth a staggering amount of money, only because it is unique. Evison said it's worth at least $150,000. However, it could only be sold for a fraction of that amount.

Halloween Party Set By Kiwanis

Once again this year, Chelsea will celebrate All Hallow E'en, better known as Halloween, in a traditional way.

The Community "Trick or Treat" hours will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 31. At the end of that time all ghosts and goblins should haunt the municipal parking lot for the Kiwanis sponsored Halloween party.

The party will consist of costume judging, which will begin promptly at 6 p.m.

Judging will be done as follows: age categories 3 yrs. and under, 4-5 yrs., 6-7 yrs., 8-9 yrs., 10-11 yrs., and 12 years and over.

Federal Grant Signed For Share in Cost of New Sewage Treatment Plant

Chelsea village administrator Frederick Weber put his name on the dotted line on behalf of the village last week in acceptance of the $2.4 million grant from the Environmental Protection Agency for the construction of the wastewater treatment plant.

Weber obtained the necessary authorization from the village council at its regular Oct. 15 meeting.

What the village hopes will result is a plant that will serve the village well into the next century.

The grant is for 55 percent of the projected total cost of $4,428,420, or $2,435,631. That leaves the village's share at $1,992,789.

The projected cost was calculated by the village's consulting engineering firm of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, Ltd. of Toledo. The EPA's estimated cost was $4.7 million, calculated in 1983 construction rates.

According to Linda Benham, project engineer for the Toledo firm, the $4.4 million estimate was based on what engineers estimated the costs would be once actual construction gets underway in 1987.

Benham said her company's estimates indicate that Chelsea will need to collect approximately $588,000 annually to cover operating costs, debt retirement for the construction, and some existing debt. She said that approximately $448,000 of that total would come strictly from Chelsea's 1,380 residences, which works out to an average of $90 per household every three months, or $360 per year. That number will come as a shock to some people who are used to paying as little as $50 a year. Those per-household figures vary because sewage rates are determined by water usage.

The final project design is scheduled to be completed by Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout by September of next year, with the initial bids going out in January of 1987, Benham said.

Construction would then begin in the spring of 1987. The project would take, "a little over a year," in terms of the actual construction time, with the completion date ahead of the July 1988 deadline imposed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

According to a breakdown of the EPA's "total approved assistance amount," the largest amount, $3,380,936 would be spent on construction and project improvement. Other costs are: $389,812 for design and engineering; $176,135 for inspection costs; $132,151 for equipment; $338,094 for contingencies; and $31,292 in administration expenses.

In a related issue, councilman Joe Merkel said at the last council meeting that he is still pursuing land owned by Henry and Martin Merkel as a site for the plant. The land is adjacent to the existing plant.

United Way Reaches 18% of Projected Goal

Chelsea United Way has reached 18% of its 1985 goal, according to Dave McAllister, president of the United Way board.

"Excluding the Chelsea Hospital and Industrial divisions, the $12,050 received and pledged to date represents 24.4% of the respective divisions being reported. We won't know the results of the industrial and hospital efforts for another week or two," according to McAllister.

Two of the United Way member agencies serving the community are the Chelsea Area Transportation System (CATS) and American Red Cross.

CATS was founded in February 1976. Marv Schiller was the "charter" bus driver, and he is still at the wheel today. CATS provides about 7,500 rides per year at a cost to each rider of 25 cents. This rate has not changed since CATS started operating. The bus travels more than 17,000 miles per year covering the 64 square mile area that it serves.

According to Dave Scriven, volunteer president of the CATS board, the agency operates on an annual budget of about $22,000. The Chelsea United Way provides $3,000 of this amount. Fares represent less than 10% of the income. State and federal funds amount to nearly $10,000 and are based on the annual number of client rides. $4,000 comes from the Village of Chelsea, $1,500 from Sylvan township, and the balance from the Chelsea Lions Club, Chelsea Kiwanis Club, and Lima township.

The CATS bus is a 1976 Dodge vehicle equipped with a wheelchair lift for handicapped persons. There are approximately 125,000 miles on the bus, and it is hoped that it will be replaced in 1986 or 1987 with a new bus.

"Funds for the replacement unit will come from the federal government and will be the result of paperwork now in progress," according to Scriven. He added, "The present bus is now in the shop for about $2,000 worth of body repair work which is due mainly to age and weathering."

Primary CATS service is designated for senior citizens and handicapped persons within the service area. The bus is available "on call" Monday through Friday and mainly provides transportation to the senior citizens activity and nutrition center at North school and for residents of the Chelsea United Methodist Home and elsewhere in the community to get to doctor appointments, banking facilities, and to the pharmacy.

Although the American Red Cross does not maintain an office in Chelsea, it serves the community in a variety of ways. Food, clothing, and shelter were provided for several victims of the recent Sylvan Hotel fire. In addition, during the past year, the Community Emergency Services department of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross provided assistance to 27 families from the Chelsea area: six families received heating funds from the MichCon Heat Bank which is administered by the Red Cross; nine families were assisted with

New Firm Granted Rubbish Contract

Chelsea residents will be able to put out three bags of garbage twice a week instead of two beginning in November under terms of a new garbage hauling contract.

Mid Michigan Rubbish, Inc. of Stockbridge has won a two-year contract to haul Chelsea's garbage, beginning in November.

The Stockbridge firm submitted the lowest bid of seven companies, including Chelsea's current hauler, Environmental Waste Concepts of Ann Arbor, which works under the name, Mr. Rubbish.

Mid Michigan's low bid was $72,384. In second place was Len's Rubbish, at $74,800. The rest of the bids ranged from $99,000 all the way up to $181,000. The old two-year contract was for $78,000. Environmental Concepts' bid for the new contract was $108,862.

The village accepted bids for both two-bag and three-bag limits. The three-bag package was accepted so that residents would be able to put out grass clippings in the third bag.

For those who need to put out even more garbage, extra bags will be obtained from the village for $.50 each.

The current service schedule will remain in place, according to village administrator Frederick Weber.

The bids were opened and read aloud at the Oct. 1 meeting of the village council.

Mid Michigan will use the Chelsea landfill at a rate of $3.25 per cubic yard.

JIM EVISON, right, was responsible for arranging for Chelsea High school to receive the prototype Lincoln Continental Mark VII for its auto shop class. Evison, a Chelsea school district resident, has also helped every other public high school in the county, and some others outside the county, like Stockbridge and Manchester High schools, to take advantage of the program offered by Ford Motor Co. Evison orders parts and equipment for Ford's experimental automobiles. Also in the photo is his son, Greg, who transported the Lincoln to the high school using his family's trailer.

County Officials Tell Plans To Renovate, Enlarge Courthouse

The Chelsea courthouse may be in for a substantial renovation if Washtenaw county has its way.

It's all part of a move to make the courthouse more useable, according to county administrator Dave Hunscher.

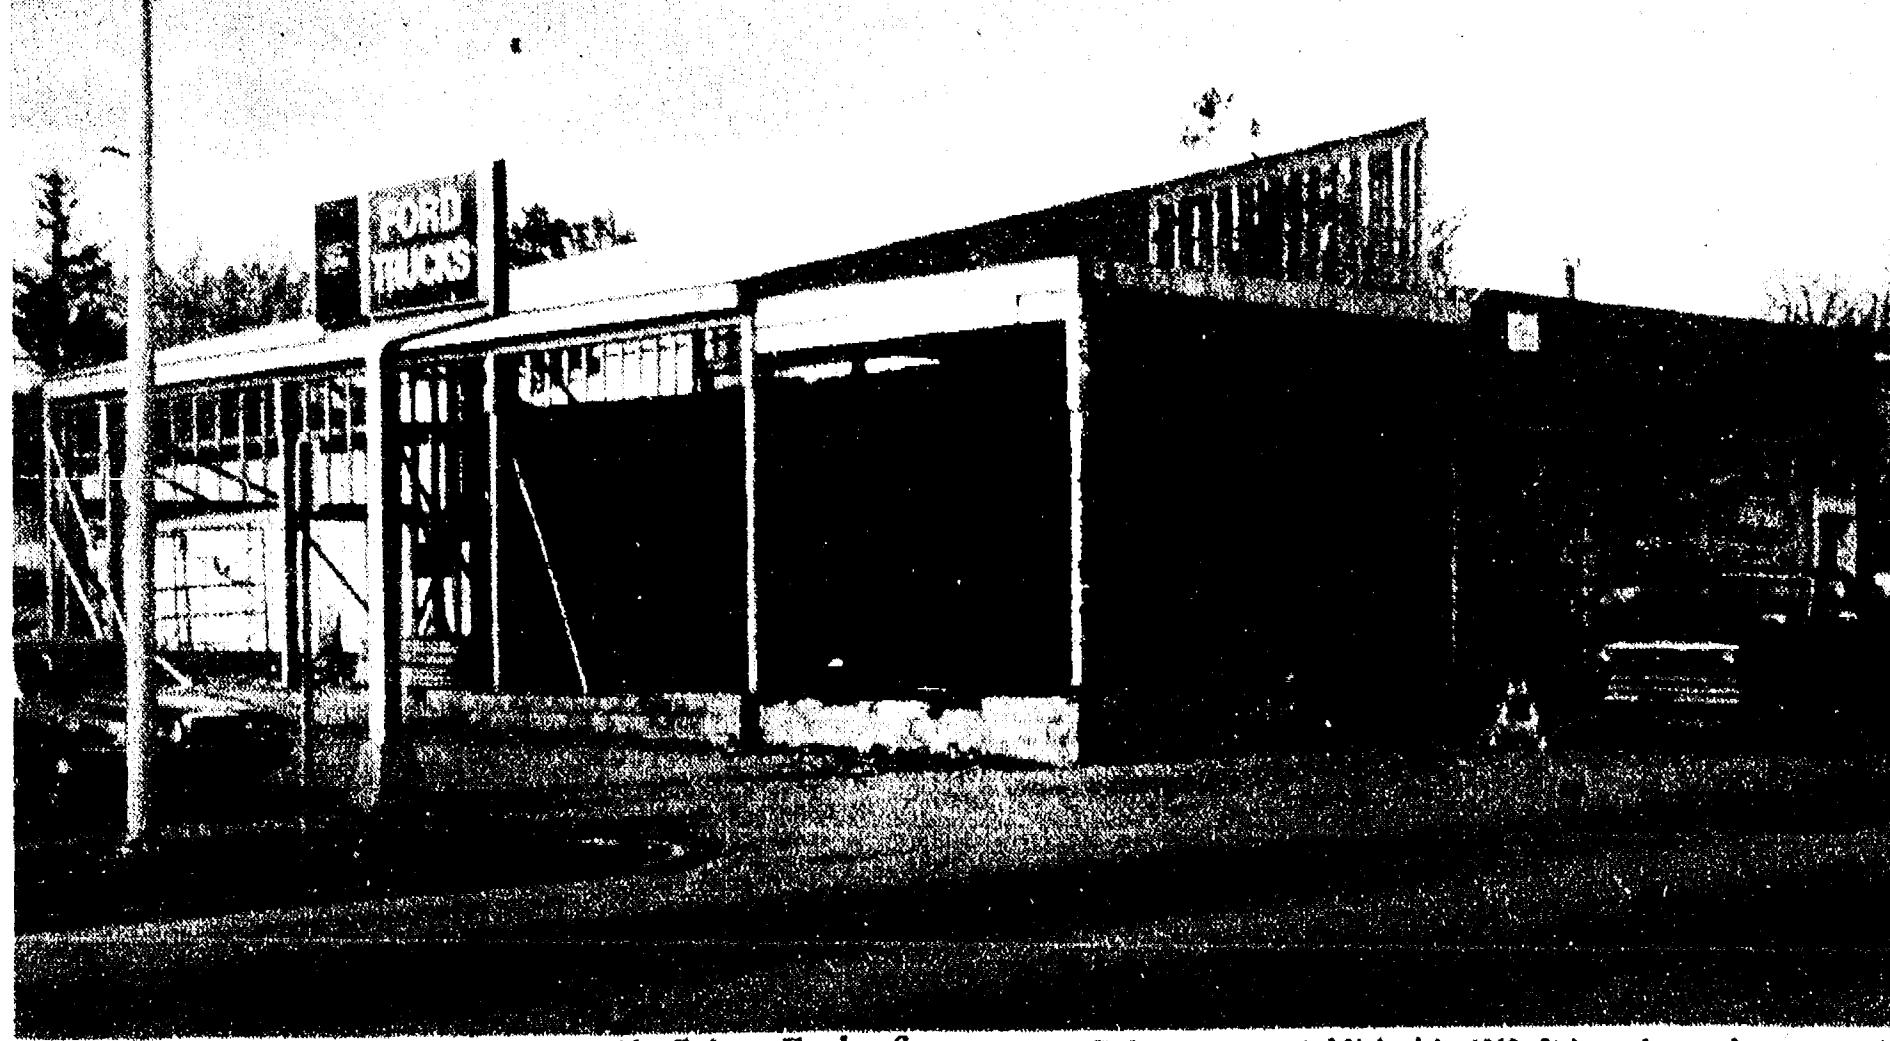

What the county would like to see, Hunscher says, is a $295,000 facelift. About $160,000 would be used for a new addition, and a substantial re-working of the plumbing, heating and electrical systems. Approximately $135,000 would be used simply for restoration—to return the building to its original condition. Inside there is a substantial amount of marble, and some gothic columns, much of which has been covered up for one reason or another.

The county will foot the bill for the $160,000 update of the facility, Hunscher said.

"We want to see what the Chelsea community interest is in restoring the courthouse to its original beauty," Hunscher said.

Hunscher indicated that the $135,000 would have to be secured by grants or donations from interested individuals.

A NEW SHOWROOM is being constructed by Palmer Ford on S. Main St. The new wing will allow the dealership to put five additional automobiles on display later this fall. The dealership, owned by George Palmer, was established in 1912. It has always been owned by the Palmer family.

CHRYSLER PROVING GROUNDS EMPLOYEES were among the many Chrysler workers nationwide who were on strike last week and early this week. The primary issues are wage parity, outsourcing of parts, and job security. Proving grounds employees were picketing around the clock, taking four-hour shifts. Above are Keith Merrill of Grass Lake and Gerry Wilkerson of Chelsea, both driver mechanics.

4 Years Ago . . .

Tuesday, Oct. 20, 1981—

United Way honorary chairman Ray Van Meer received a local corporate contribution by Jerry Dorer of Federal Screw Works last week. Dorer's contribution was one of several industrial corporate donations presented during the 1981 United Way campaign. Such donations are anticipated to account for 37 percent of the year's total goal, $47,850.

An explosion of unknown cause occurred at the Chelsea Milling Co. as a sugar tank exploded, burning one employee, Dale Horning, and causing minimal damage.

The sprinkler system discharged, however, causing considerable water damage.

Production was interrupted until early this week and clean-up began immediately.

Chelsea Jaycees are planning a scenic fitness run through the beautiful hill-covered area of Bush and McClure Rds. on Sunday, Oct. 25.

Rumored for more than a year, and coming at a time when bad news in the business world is commonplace and far from unexpected, Rockwell International Corporation announced Friday, Oct. 16, it will close its Chelsea plant, Feb. 1, 1982.

Chelsea Lioness Club had the opportunity this month to visit the home that houses Spaulding for Children, and to hear a presentation by Joan Nagy, development director of this unique adoption agency.

With the help of local builder Ron Montagne, Mrs. Plank's North Elementary school's kindergarten class had a new sand box installed last week.

Each child had the opportunity to work with the tools during the construction. Members of the class include Shanda Armbruster, Jennifer Beals, Gretchen Brooks, Jason Brown, Laura Carty, Scott Cronkhite, Garry Curtis, Jeffrey Evison and Matthew Fischer. The class list continues with Steven Gaunt, Michelle Knisely, Aaron Knobloch, Kevin Lane, Joshua McKeown, Matthew Montagne, Scott Peterson, Shannon Push, David Stimpson, Sarah Stolaski, Erica Street, Craig Vesters, Heather Wilson and Jeremy Zeigler.

Jim Centilli was the first Chelsea area pheasant hunter of the season to report a successful trip to the fields.

Approximately two minutes after the 1971 bird season opened, Centilli, hunting with his partner Don Haywood of Chelsea, bagged a ringneck in a cornfield on Lima Center Rd., south of Jackson Rd. Centilli's seven-month-old cocker spaniel, Fluffy, located the bird after it was shot.

Chelsea Village Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to authorize construction of an ice skating rink at the Chelsea Community fairgrounds.

The rink, proposed by representatives of the Recreation Planning Commission, will be 200 feet by 85 feet in size and will cost about $3,000.

Balanced Budget Said Political, Not Constitutional, Problem

Resolving the issue of the national budget deficit is a political problem and not a constitutional one, U. S. Senator Nancy Kassebaum (R-Kansas) said during a recent visit to Lansing.

Responding to a previous call for a constitutional convention to write an amendment to the U. S. Constitution of a balanced federal budget, she said budgeting procedures in Congress could be easily twisted to get around the federal constitutional amendment and a constitutional convention probably could not be limited to just one issue, throwing open the possibility of significant changes in the constitution.

Instead of promoting a constitutional amendment, Congress should do a better job of explaining to the public what would be necessary to balance the budget, she said.

"We have a very important role to play in communicating with the public that there are no easy choices. It's very easy to vote for a constitutional amendment or convene a constitutional convention. It's much more difficult to really make a decision if you're going to raise taxes, cap cost of living adjustments or significantly reduce defense spending," she said.

Kassebaum disputed the idea that Michigan becoming the 33rd state to call for a convention—a convention is required when 34 states demand it—would put pressure on Congress to submit a balanced budget resolution on its own.

In 1983, an amendment resolution passed in the U. S. Senate but failed in the House, and another effort would be attempted this fall, she said.

But people are wrong to think that a constitutional amendment would actually force the federal government to balance its expenditures with its revenues, she added.

For example, the federal government could establish a capital outlay budget and move all spending on new weapons systems, military bases and other capital projects into that budget. The general budget would look balanced but money would still be borrowed to meet the over-all expenditures, she said.

And she disagreed with the concept that a constitutional convention could be limited to simply a balanced amendment.

Even if the U. S. Supreme Court were to rule that a convention could be limited to a single issue, "I can see all kinds of other things coming to the fore" for which there would be single issue conventions, she said.

Support Shown for State Department on Tourism
 Tourism and recreation directors from around the state have offered their support for legislation that would create a centralized State Department of Recreation Tourism and Culture.

The state Senate committee on Economic Development, Trade and Tourism was told in a recent public hearing that the state needs to boost the tourist industry, its second largest after auto manufacturing.

John F. Greenslit, of the Michigan Recreation and Park Association, said the 20th state department was long overdue. "We should put our money where our mouth is and concentrate on promoting our state," he said.

Kathy Lewand, of the Mackinac ac Island State Park Authority said the department could be a major benefit to the state's tourism industry, but expressed concern about how Mackinac Island Park would be affected. Although supporting the proposed department, she said that Mackinac Island Park should be handled uniquely.

The legislature is considering a nine-bill package to create the 20th department and transfer the functions of various individual commissions to the department.

"I had heard that there were 84 cars available for this giveaway program, so I decided to do something about it," Evison said.

Not only did Evison arrange for the car, but his son, Greg, a sophomore at the high school, hauled it to the school using the family trailer.

Loren Winn's shop classes can tinker with the car as they please. They'll examine the brakes and engine, and eventually figure out how all the electronics work. Since it's one-of-a-kind, there really isn't an owner's manual.

Parent to Parent Program Seeks More Volunteers

Parent to Parent Program has started recruitment of home visitors for its fourth year of service to Chelsea, Dexter, and Manchester families.

This is significant in that many such programs are unable to survive past the first three years primarily because funding is difficult to renew after the initial start up.

Parent to Parent Program has been able to avoid this stumbling block for several reasons: a) it is a low-cost program, b) maintains limited participation, and c) some funding is provided by Chelsea United Way and Dexter Area Service Organization on a yearly basis.

As a limited participation program, Parent to Parent does not require full-time administration nor does it have many operational expenses. It can be operated out of the home if necessary; however, for the past three years, it has operated out of the FIA House, made possible by mutually beneficial arrangements. Other than mileage expenses for the home visitors, the only other operational expenses include advertising, brochures and training materials.

Participation is limited to 10 home visitors and 10 families. Due to the involvement required, home visitors usually provide support to one family at a time. This is a choice provided to the home visitor and based on their flexibility. Home visitors meet with their families for one hour weekly, for up to one year.

Parent to Parent Program has been a Chelsea United Way member and received funding for 1984 and 1985. It has also been accepted by and received funding from Dexter Area Service Organization for 1985 (who distributes United Way funds for the Dexter area programs).

One-on-one support is provided families in their own home by the home visitor; and it is usually the moms and children who participate. On occasion the father is also available and interested in participating. Building up of self-esteem is probably the most important factor of the program. If the parent feels good about themselves, they will feel good about their children.

Many parents are so overwhelmed with stress that they find it difficult to provide time for or patience with their children. These stresses usually are caused by unemployment, lack of money, separation or divorce from a spouse, behavior problem children, never being able to get away from the children, or all of the above. Frustration, anger and hopelessness tends to make people short in temper and feeling very much alone. Because we are a transient society, many people are isolated from family or have few friends or the relationships they share are negative. Home visitors provide a positive (if only temporary) relationship and reassure parents that they are worthwhile and that their parenting skills are, or can be good ones. The home visitors also try to identify specific problem areas and either help the parent correct it or refer them to another program specifically geared toward that problem.

Parent to Parent Program has seen changes made in families and has come to recognize the full impact or value as a resource to them. In the course of a year spent with a family, there are little changes, big changes or very little change. However, the fact that the program is there during times of need can make the difference between "maintaining" or "going under" for some families.

A six-week training is now being offered which would involve 3-4 hours per week for women interested in being a home visitor. The training includes sessions of: effective listening and communication skills, problem identification, expectations of home visiting and how to use community resources. Requirements include: appropriate parenting skills and a desire to share them. Enrollment is limited and training will begin as soon as enrollment is completed.

For further information, call 475-3305 afternoons and ask for Jo Ann.

Future Financing of Schools To Be Studied In Manchester Meeting

A meeting for all Manchester area citizens who are interested in the future of financing of public schools in Michigan, will be held on Thursday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 at Manchester High school.

Invited guests (speakers) will include Senator Lana Pollack, Representative Margaret O'Connor, Ken McGregor of Michigan Education Association, Dr. Eugene Thompson, superintendent of Manchester Community schools, Ken Talcott, president of Manchester Board of Education, Phyllis Heinrich, president of Manchester Education Association, and George Kostishak, county tax assessor.

Invitations were also extended to Phillip Runkel, state superintendent for education; Gary Owen, representative, Gov. James Blanchard, and all local township supervisors.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss long-term financing for schools such as Manchester Community Schools, characterized by having virtually no state financial support.

Major topics to be discussed include:

1) An explanation of the financing formula, how it works, how and why is Manchester different from other districts (if it is).

2) A discussion focusing on whether the financing formula is out of date or inappropriate, how it could be changed, and the implication of any change.

3) The potential for increased state control of the schools, the direction it may take, and the dangers or opportunities involved.

4) Alternatives to financing education, including changes to the property tax methods, the Lottery, income tax alternatives, and so forth.

A group of concerned citizens, led by James Meranuck (co-chairman of PACE), and Mrs. Vicki Miller, has organized the community meeting.

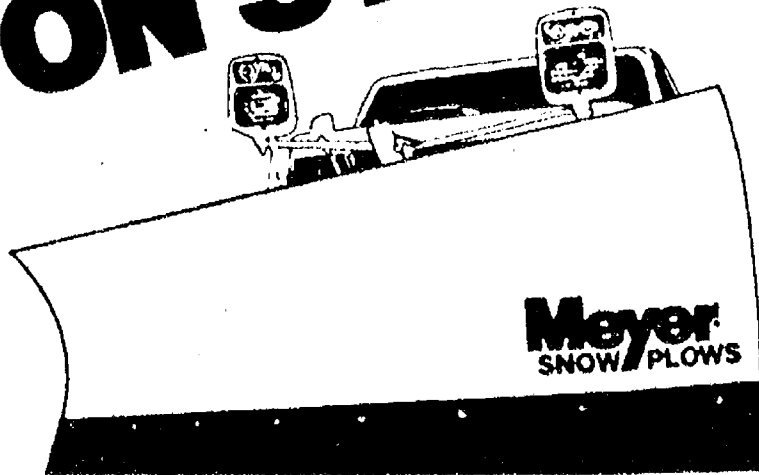

For further information, call Vicki Miller at 668-6921 or Gary Acree, 428-7838.

Area residents are urged to attend.

Christopher J. Gallas Assigned to MP Unit in Belgium

Christopher J. Gallas, son of George and Carole Gallas, recently graduated from U. S. Army basic training and advanced training in the field of law enforcement under the Military Code of Justice at the Military Police School of Ft. McClellan, Ala. Upon graduation, Christopher was promoted to the rank of private first class.

He is a 1984 graduate of Chelsea High school where he excelled in athletics, playing football and baseball and earned the awards of Most Valuable Player in his senior year for both football and baseball. He then furthered his education by completing a year at Ferris State College in the field of criminal justice after which he decided on a career in the U. S. Army.

Christopher, being accepted into the Military Police, follows in the footsteps of his father, who is a detective with the Ann Arbor Police Department and has been in law enforcement for over 21 years.

Christopher, assigned to an MP Unit in Belgium, joins his brother, Joseph, in Europe who is assigned to an Army Mortar Unit stationed in the Republic of Germany.

As of 1984 about 69 percent of the women maintaining families were white, 29 percent were black, and fewer than 10 percent were of Hispanic origin, according to "Women Who Maintain Families," a fact sheet by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Facts on Alcohol Presented For Families at Nov. 5 Program

Brighton Hospital's next Community Education Program takes place on Nov. 5 and features a lecture by the hospital's director of education and research entitled "What a Family Should Know About Alcohol."

The free program begins at 7 p.m. with a presentation by Dr. Russell F. Smith. Dr. Smith was recently named director of education and research at Brighton Hospital after serving as medical director since 1978. In recognition of his outstanding work in educating the public about chemical dependency, in September he was presented with the 1985 Distinguished Service Award by the Michigan Alcohol and Addiction Association.

After the lecture a member of the hospital's counseling staff will be available to answer questions and explain how alcoholism can be treated.

The Community Education Program is held on the first Tuesday evening of each month and concentrates on providing family members with basic information about alcoholism and related chemical dependency.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

The first car I ever owned was an eight-year-old blue Dodge sedan with four on the floor and a wheel at each corner. It also had a self-starter; that is to say, I started the car myself out front with a hand crank.

At that time there was no 8.8 percent APR financing. It was the summer of 1933 and bread was selling for five cents a loaf, ground beef was 25¢ a pound and gas went at eight gallons for a dollar plus premiums like free ketchup. Few women worked. An awful lot of men were unemployed and would gladly perform any labor whatsoever for two bits an hour.

The used car salesman had heard that I had a job so, instead of inviting me to his place by phone, he drove the Dodge over to my house. He talked to me in earnest tones about the advantages of driving instead of walking. He told me that the car had just been marked down to $35 and it was a steal compared to heaps costing as much as $45 or $50. I didn't know whether this was the truth or a sales pitch. I still don't.

Anyhow I paid the $35, and my next question was logical, "How do I drive the thing?" He drove me around the block demonstrating how to use the clutch, shift gears and especially how to use the brake for stopping the rear wheels. This done, we wobbled around the block with me at the wheel. Upon returning he jumped out and said, "Great. Will." This was my driver education graduation. I generously offered to drive the salesman back to his garage three blocks away. He took a thoughtful look at me and the Dodge, and said, "Thanks. The walk will do me good."

Since that time I have owned many cars including a beloved 1941 Olds Hydramatic which faithfully saw our family through the years of WW-II.

I have always loved to drive on the open road, just as I have loved for decades to fly my own plane in the open sky. But now the fun is gone. The new emphasis is on defensive driving and electronically restricted flying.

There was a time in the early 1950's that the route from Detroit to Ann Arbor to Chicago was US-12, a two-lane highway that detoured Ann Arbor way out in the country south of town with corn fields and scattered buildings. The same roadway now is jammed with restaurants, motels, shopping centers and car dealers nestled in a forest of neon signs.

The advent of the interstate system of limited access, divided four-lane super highways came as a godsend to long distance motorists and truckers. The vehicles in the right lane were paced far apart. The left lane, with occasional exceptions, was used only for passing. You could cruise at 70 and illicitly sneak up to higher speeds because you were protected from blowouts by steel belted tires and the corrective might of power steering if a tire failed.

Today the expressways are mobbed with two-lane wolf packs spaced about a half mile apart averaging about 62 mph. The situation is complicated by a few virtuous drivers determined to stick to 55 and a lot of individualists who prefer 65 and up.

The streets of our villages, suburbs and cities are now so crowded with cars that a driver must automatically assume that another vehicle is on his or her tailpipe. People who brake for animals, children and pedestrians with white canes are in constant peril of rear end collisions that may break their necks.

Obviously, our motorized civilization is in trouble. It is now almost mandatory for each member of any family in a rural area, village or suburban community to have a car upon reaching age 16.

The most recent historical data in my bookcase are contained in the 1985 Statistical Abstract of the United States. If we search this 991-page volume together we get a revealing picture of the years 1970 to 1983.

In that span of time the population of the U. S. increased by percent. Drivers licenses went up by 36 percent while motor vehicle registrations increased by 49 percent.

Two thirds of all the human beings in the United States are licensed to drive motor vehicles including 30 million drivers age 25 and under.

The matter of night parking alone has become critical. Take a Chelsea village family with two teen-agers. Where do you park four cars when it's against the law to make use of your front lawn, not to mention 2 a.m. to 5 a.m. out on the street? Position priorities for home parking at night are now determined by who goes to work or school first.

An alternative could be investing, say, $10,000 in double driveways and a four-car garage? Before you even think of trying for a building permit or applying for 12.8 financing, you might consider moving into the country or encouraging the kids to join the armed forces the day after graduation from high school!

The average vehicle in the U. S. is 7.4 years old, according to the Statistical Abstract, and one third of all cars are between 9 and 12 years old. In the model year of 1985 we poured 15.6 million new U. S. and foreign cars onto our streets and highways. The worst sales record in recent years was the "recession" of 1982 when only 10 million new cars and trucks hit the road.

As we keep producing endless millions of new cars, trucks and teen-agers, we must urgently seek solutions. How about raising gas and income taxes to pay for five trillion dollars worth of eight-lane highways on the Interstate and widening all paved rural roads to four? Also, how about double deck residential driveways or two-story garages?

Finally, what about the newly introduced Chinese solution: Only one child per family?

TALES FROM THE FAR EAST was presented to children at North Elementary school last week by students from Eastern Michigan University. Performed in a round-theater format, "Tales" is written in different languages as a celebration of the alikeness and differentness of the Japanese and Korean cultures to and from each other and our own. It is performed in song and dance. "Tales," is a community service of the Drama/Theater for the Young program of the Department of Communication and Theater Arts at EMU. It is part of Project DO, dramatic outreach. A short study guide was also presented afterward for teachers to do follow-up activities.

Chelsea Talent in Ann Arbor Civic Ballet Production

Ann Arbor Civic Ballet is producing a play at the Power Center in Ann Arbor called "Haunted Castle." Featured in this play is a handful of Chelsea talent.

There will be a special guest performance by Jeff Boyer of Boyer & Fitzsimmons magical entertainment, and his two assistants, Jennifer and Sue.

Jeff Boyer has been a resident of Chelsea for 23 years and is now a student at Eastern Michigan University, enrolled in the Elementary Education program. He has traveled over a large part of the United States, performing magic and clowning with his partner, Jim Fitzsimmons.

Also in "The Haunted Castle" will be Chelsea student, Mike Lavinge. Lavinge will be performing his juggling skills which precede the magician. Lavinge's sister, Michelle, is one of the 20 dancers performing in this program.

Tickets are available at Village Motor Sales in Chelsea and at the door on the dates of performance, Oct. 29 and 30. Call the Civic Ballet for further information.

Orchestra Plans Halloween Concert

The first annual Halloween Concert of the Chelsea Community school orchestra will be held Monday, Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Members of the orchestra are from the 7th and 8th grades in Beach Middle school and all grades in the high school. The sixth grades will also participate in this concert program.

Jed Fritzeimer, Chelsea orchestra director, and Robert Phillips, Saline orchestra director, will conduct the Chelsea and Saline orchestras combined and separately. Costumes will be worn by all those at the concert, which includes all the orchestra players and the audience.

A prize will be given to the person or persons wearing the best costume.

JUST REMINISCING

Items taken from the files of The Chelsea Standard

The Chelsea Board of Education, upon recommendations by both the business, administration and finance committee and the planning committee, voted unanimously at Monday night's regular meeting to sell the property once occupied by the old Junior High school.

Chelsea Blood Bank will hold its fall drive, Nov. 5, according to Mrs. William Rademacher, coordinator of the drive this year.

The American Red Cross unit will be at the Congregational church from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Last year, 131 pints were collected, of which 125 were disbursed to Chelsea residents and workers.

Mrs. Rademacher, who is serving in the absence of Mrs. Dudley Holmes, said, "We're anxious for a big success again this year—we do hope all those who can give blood, will!"

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Oct. 26, 1961—The Rev. J. Douglas Parker of Rochester, chairman of the Methodist Home board of trustees, officiated at the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $1,150,000 addition to the Home.

The new unit will increase care facilities for aged persons by more than 60 percent.

Joining the Rev. Parker in his official capacity on the occasion were the Rev. E. J. Weiss, superintendent of the Methodist Home, Mrs. Charlotte Tamlyn, who will be 100 years old in June and a resident of the Home (also believed to be one of the oldest living twins in the United States), Harold Glazier of Cavanaugh Lake, grandson of the late Frank P. Glazier, who donated the 14-acre site on which the first of the present six units was built in 1906.

Experts on Food History To Speak In Stockbridge

The Waterloo Area Historical Society has announced that Jan and Dan Longone, experts on the history of food, will be speaking at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 6, in Stockbridge at the Presbyterian Education Building, corner of Main and Water Sts. The public is invited and a nominal admission will be charged.

Jan Longone is the well-known proprietor of the Wine and Food Library, an antiquarian bookshop devoted to matters gastronomic, and founder of the Ann Arbor Culinary Historians. Her collection includes histories of wine and foods, famous restaurants, chefs, culinary customs of the ancients, herbs, and gardening.

Dan Longone is professor of chemistry at the University of Michigan. He is the founder of the Ann Arbor Wine and Food Society and a writer and lecturer on wine history.

Jan's 10-year-old Ann Arbor business has customers all over the world. James Beard, Julia Child, the Library of Congress, and the Smithsonian all order from her catalog of books for sale.

YOU MAY DO A DOUBLE-TAKE if you drive down McKinley St. and see this old man reading the newspaper. The old man is the creation of the Gundersons, of 507 McKinley St. He's made of papier-mache and is one of the first signs of Halloween in the area.

MR. BONES, of Ann Arbor, made his debut at North Elementary school last week as he piled his trade for classes all day long. Mr. Bones, whose real name is Percy Danforth, puts the bones between his fingers and plays intricate rhythms along with taped music. He has a set of two of real bones, but has many sets of wooden ones, made by Ray Schairer of Chelsea. He passed out the wooden ones to the children, who had an opportunity to see just how difficult it is to play them.

Kiwanis Clubs Pledge Help for Needy Children

Men from more than 8,200 Kiwanis clubs are pledging their personal involvement and financial support to help disadvantaged children. In October, Kiwanis International's Major Emphasis Program "Walk with a Child" will be implemented world-wide.

"Locally, our goal is 100 percent membership commitment for personal involvement and financial support of community programs to aid materially-underprivileged children," states John Mitchell, president of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. Underprivileged children are those with social, emotional, financial, intellectual, physical, and other needs that keep them from enjoying a 'normal' childhood and have been a concern of Kiwanis clubs throughout the world for many years.

According to Kiwanis International President Donald E. Williams, the service organization targets the efforts of its 315,000 members with major emphasis programs. Children have been of primary concern for the past several years. School-age drug abuse, alcohol abuse, learning disabilities, mental disorders, and physical handicaps have received concentrated attention from the membership in recent years.

"Last year our clubs spent $40.7 million on community service projects," says Williams. "But more importantly, we invested more than 22 million volunteer hours of personal involvement helping to meet the needs of our respective communities. These are business and professional men working together, giving their time, sharing their capabilities, accomplishing things in their communities that otherwise would not have been attempted."

"Drug abuse, child abuse, the evolution of the 'latch-key' kid, broken homes—all these things that are coming against our children—are causing severe 'growing pains'. Responsible adults have to do something. Somebody has to take some stands."

POLY HOCKEY players on the floor at Ypsilanti High, Friday, Oct. 18, had a full and exciting day of activity in the tournament sponsored by 14 area Kiwanis clubs. The Chelsea-Dexter team took top honors in the tourney.

Special Olympians Compete In Poly Hockey Tournament

Chelsea-Dexter High school special olympians took first place in the senior division of the Washtenaw County Poly Hockey tournament at Ypsilanti High school.

Twelve teams took part from Chelsea, Dexter, Pioneer, and Lincoln High schools, St. Louis school, Community Mental Health, Pleasant Lake Day

Treatment, and Whitmore Lake.

The Chelsea-Dexter team got started with a 7-3 win over St. Louis. The winning goalie was Tom Carlson, and playing offense were Dave Cercone and Bryan Santure. Ken Smith played center and Dave Mytyk, Mark Turnblom and John Wilson all played defense.

The C-D team beat Community

Mental Health in the second game, 4-1, and Pioneer in the championship match, 2-0.

C-D team two came in fourth in the senior division. Shawn Finley was the goalie, the center, Jeff Stein, offensive players Ed Krieger and Jim Daniels, and defensemen Donald Ellery and Keith Vaillencourt. They defeated Pleasant Lake, 5-3, then lost to Pioneer, 5-2.

The C-D women's team came in fifth in the senior division, with Denise DeVoe at goalie, Alison Carey at center, Marcy Walsh and Theresa Carlson on offense, and Becky Haynes and Deanna Knieper on defense.

Beach Middle school also sent a team which placed third in the junior division. Playing for Beach were Kevin and Steven Viery, James Eldridge, Matt Stantz and Eugene Hawkins.

Nancy Gilbert was the junior division coach, while Nancy Cooper and Neta Sage coached the senior teams.

The special olympians are training for a county volleyball tournament to be held at Dexter High school Nov. 15.

Volunteers are also needed to keep score at two bowling tournaments on Nov. 8 at Bel-Mark Lanes in Ann Arbor. Anyone interested in helping out should call Nancy Cooper at 475-1371.

Farmers Get 27 Cents of Food Dollar

A dollar spent on food at the supermarket or restaurant in 1984 provided only 27 cents to the American farmer. The remaining 73 cents covered other marketing costs—from packaging to profit. The information appears in a newly released Farm Bureau brochure titled "Who Gets Your Food Dollar?"

For the past several years, labor costs associated with the preparation, shipping and marketing of food have exceeded the actual cost of the food itself. Currently, labor costs represent 33 percent of the store price of food. Other major costs include: packaging at 8%; transportation, 5%; before-tax profits, 5%; rent and depreciation, 4%; energy costs, 4%; and advertising 2 1/2%.

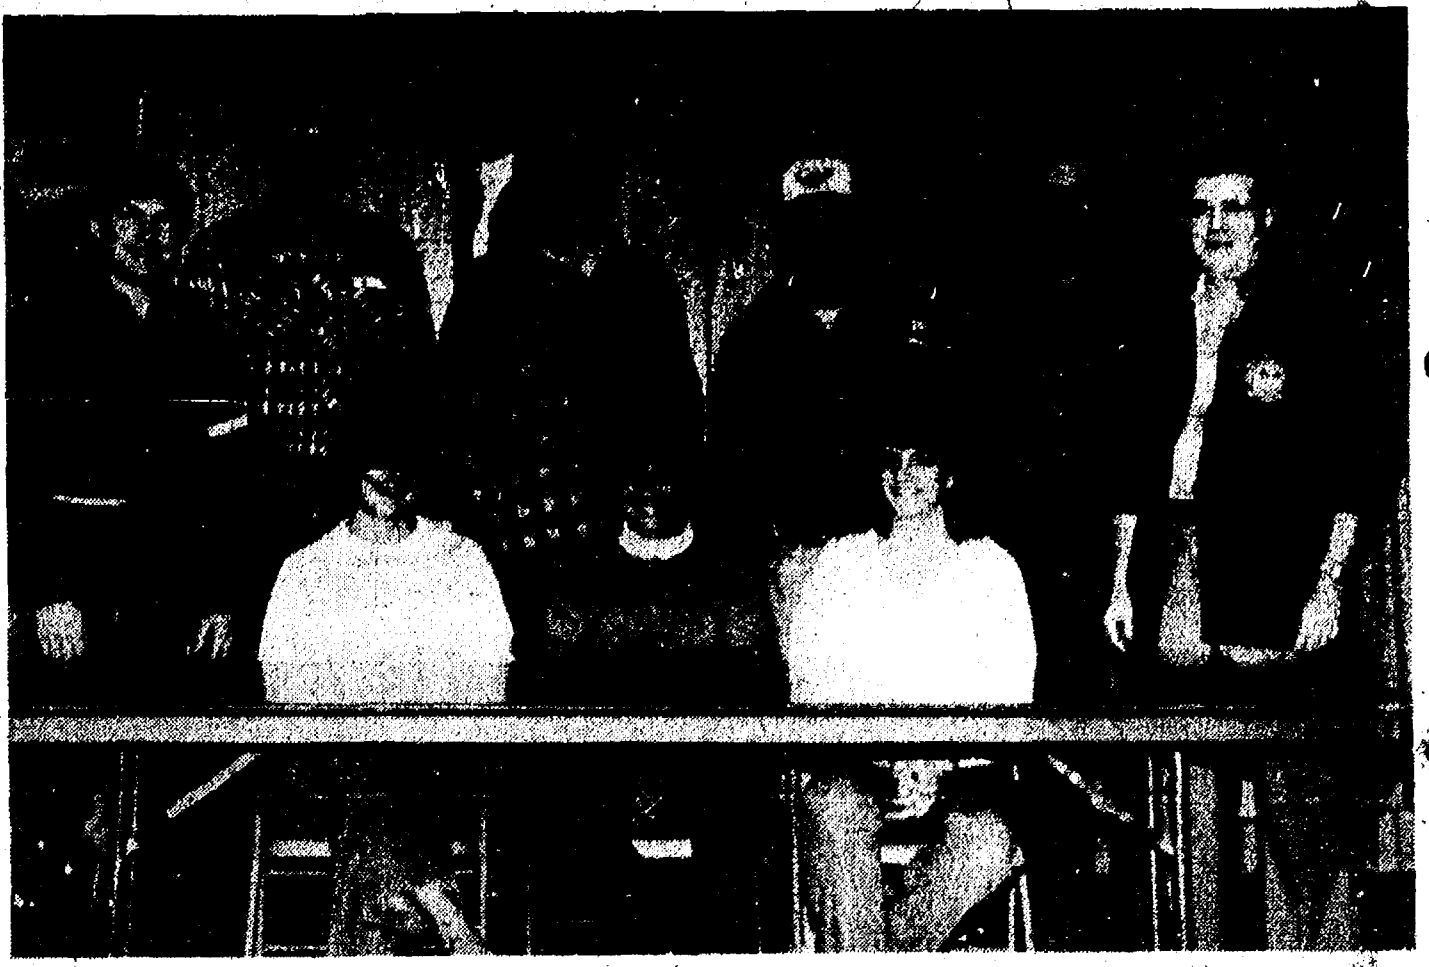

The Farm Bureau figures also show U. S. consumers pay some of the lowest prices for food found anywhere in the world. A sirloin steak which costs $2.93 per pound in Washington, D. C., sells for $14.12 at food stores in Japan and $5.35 in London.

Wheat flour costs American consumers 21 cents a pound, but shoppers in France must spend 62 cents, while the cost in Sweden is 30 cents a pound.

Japanese shoppers pay 81 cents for a quart of milk which costs 71 cents in Canada but only 44 cents in the United States.

The U. S. farm share of the consumer food dollar varies a great deal from one product to another. Dairy farmers receive 52% of the price paid for milk, while wheat farmers earn 9 1/2% of the value of a loaf of bread, tomato growers receive 9% of the sale price of a can of tomatoes and orange growers receive 33% of the cost of an orange.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) applies to most of the workers in the U. S. It covers all workers who are engaged in or producing goods for interstate commerce or who are employed in certain enterprises, according to a U. S. Department of Labor fact sheet.

Ladies Auxiliary to Rod & Gun Club Being Organized

Plans are under way to establish a ladies auxiliary to the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club. Wives of members and widows of former members are invited to attend and participate in an organization meeting which will be held in the clubhouse on Lingane Rd. at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 7.

The concept of such an auxiliary was unanimously approved by members of the conservation club at the club's August meeting.

Once organized, the auxiliary will elect officers, define the purpose of the organization and write bylaws. The club will be an independent affiliate of the men's organization with its own dues, treasury and program of activities. Membership will be open to all women in the Chelsea area.

It is expected that the purposes of organization will center around conservation, environmental quality and outdoor sports as well as clubhouse centered social activities. It also anticipated that there will be numerous joint projects by the pair of organizations.

The Chelsea Rod & Gun Club was established in 1936 and became a non-profit conservation corporation in the following year. Its red brick meeting hall at 7103 Lingane Rd. in Lyndon township overlooks 61 acres of land containing a forest of 30,000 coniferous trees. The club is affili-ed with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and the National Wildlife Federation.

President and Chief Conservation Officer is Fred Klink, Jr.

SAFETYPUP has joined the ranks of the Chelsea Police Department as part of the National Child Safety Council's effort to present safety information to school children. Chelsea officers will take SafetyPup into the schools, along with safety song cassettes, to help them spread information about a wide array of topics including how to say no to strangers, sexual abuse, and drugs and alcohol, how to report emergencies and safety information for latch-key children. SafetyPup has been appearing on the sides of half-pint milk containers across the country with safety messages. Presenting SafetyPup to chief Lenard McDougall is Sandy Benes, safety co-ordinator for the National Child Safety Council.

Collection Slated Oct. 27 To Aid UNICEF Fund

National UNICEF Day chair, Cicely Tyson, the internationally acclaimed actress, has announced that children from First Congregational UCC and St. Paul UCC will join her and thousands of groups across America in helping children around the world by collecting donations on UNICEF Sunday, Oct. 27, between 1 and 3:30 p.m.

"This is a time when we can all help UNICEF give the world's children something to smile about," says the 1985 UNICEF Day chair. Since 1950, Americans have shown their support for UNICEF by participating in National UNICEF Day activities. Funds raised by the U. S. Committee have helped UNICEF assist millions of the world's neediest children.

You can help UNICEF give a child a chance and a smile by sharing our abundance with others in need around the world. Proceeds from the event will help UNICEF continue its assistance programs in more than 100 countries and provide vital emergency aid to areas where disasters strike. The Chelsea collection will be held on Oct. 27 between the hours of 1 and 3:30 p.m. and will be conducted by the children of the two Chelsea UCC churches accompanied by adults.

For more details about the event or UNICEF, call John Gibbon at 475-1844.

Deer Hunters, Slayers Swap Tales At Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of TLOOCDH & DSOAA (The Loyal Order of Deer Hunters and Deer Slayers of America Amalgamated) will be held at Chelsea Rod & Gun Club on Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 8 p.m.

All ardent deer hunters in the area are urged to attend and bring along their favorite hunting camp stories to share with others in this evening of fun and fellowship.

Most of the programs under the federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) are administered by the states but there are federally administered programs for native Americans, migrant and seasonal farmworkers, and veterans, according to a U. S. Labor Department fact sheet.

Two Fires Reported At Same Time Monday

Chelsea fireman had to scramble to cover two separate fires that were reported almost simultaneously Monday morning.

The first alarm, at approximately 6:09, concerned a garage fire at 16821 Heim Rd. As fire fighters were leaving the station, the second alarm sounded, for a fire at a summer cottage at Crooked Lake.

The garage, owned by Herbert Craft, according to Chelsea fire officials, sustained about $6,000 worth of damage. The cause of the fire was unknown, and officials said it is not being investigated.

The summer home, at 211 Shoreview Dr., owned by Scott Morgan, apparently caught fire due to heat from a toaster, fire officials said. The damage was estimated at $1,000. Holes had to be cut in a wall in order for fire fighters to reach the blaze.

According to Chelsea Fire Chief Bud Harker, the Dexter Fire Department covered the Chelsea department while virtually all available volunteers were at the two blazes. Harker said approximately 19 of Chelsea's 25 volunteers were called to the two fires. Three trucks were sent to Heim Rd. and one truck to Shoreview.

"If this had happened during the daytime, we would have been screaming for help from Manchester, Grass Lake, or somewhere because we would have been down to about six or eight guys," Harker said. "This kind of thing gets to be hair-raising, I'll tell you."

Harker said both fires were extinguished in approximately two and a half hours.

Nature Walk in Park Lyndon Slated Sunday

When the autumn leaves have fallen, they reveal a wealth of seeds and berries. Fruits of the Harvest will be the subject of Washtenaw County Parks Naturalist Matt Heumann's nature walk Sunday, Oct. 27, 10 a.m. to noon.

Heumann will explain different types of fruit structures, how seeds are transported from one place to another, seeds that are homes to certain animals, and the importance of fruits, nuts, and seeds to wildlife.

Participants are welcome to bring a paper bag and collect a few seeds and fruits, said Heumann.

"We'll be talking about which fruits are poisonous, which are edible, and which are protected by state law," he said.

The walk will take place at Park Lyndon South, located on North Territorial Rd., one mile east of M-52. Meet in the east parking lot. The approximate length of the walk is one-half mile.

Participants are welcome to bring any fruits, nuts, berries, or pine cones that they would like Heumann to identify after the walk.

Fair Board Notes

The regular meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board was held Oct. 17. Officers present were Bill Stoffer, president; Jerry Herrick, vice-president; Lloyd Grau, executive vice-president; and Maryann Guenther, secretary. Other board members present were Archie Bradbury, Richard Bollinger, Tom Dault, Earl Heller, Jerry Heydlauff, John Klink, Charles Koenn, Jeff Layher, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Ralph McCalla, Mark Stapish, Edson Whitaker and John Wellnitz, reporter. Harold Eiseman was also present.

A contract with Red Morgan, representative for the Crown Amusement Co., was drawn up for the 1986 fair in Aug. 28-30.

Bulldogs Survive Wild Comeback By Tecumseh On Rain-Soaked Field

Chelsea Bulldogs survived a furious comeback attempt by the Tecumseh Indians last Friday in Tecumseh and won their second straight conference football game, 24-22. The victory spoiled the Indians' damp homecoming and ended their three-game winning streak.

Chelsea dominated the contest throughout the first half, with the Bulldog defense putting forth one of its best efforts of the season, yielding a total of 228 yards for the game. The half-time score was 18-7. If not for a disputed pass interference call late in the second quarter, it's likely the Bulldogs would have carried a shut-out into the intermission. The penalty put the Indians at the Chelsea 22. Seven plays later they scored.

"The defense played reasonably well, and we came very close to achieving most of our goals," said Bulldog coach Gene LaFave.

"There were several kids who had solid games. Offensively, we knew we would be able to throw the ball, but we weren't sure how our running game would go. The key to the game was that we could run it. They took away Mark Mull, but gave us Curtis Heard."

Heard had the best game of his Chelsea career, gaining 160 yards on 13 carries and scoring two touchdowns. His second score, the fourth Chelsea touchdown, was on an 87-yard run on the first play of the second half.

His first touchdown was on an eight-yard jaunt up the middle late in the first half, giving the Bulldogs an 18-7 lead.

"Mull, who was keyed on all night, didn't produce his usual numbers, but was the second leading rusher with 37 yards."

Quarterback Dan Bellus continued his tear of recent weeks, completing 14 of 19 for 254 yards. Those 14 completions were the first 14 times he threw the ball.

End Todd Starkey put on another agile display of pass catching. He caught 10 Bellus strikes for 190 yards and two touchdowns. The touchdowns weren't cheapies, either. One was a 66-yarder, the other a 10-yarder.

Tight end Marty Poljan hauled in three passes for 36 yards, and Mull had one reception for 28 yards.

Defensively, Matt Bohlender and Matt Harshberger led the team with 16 tackles and an interception each. Harshberger's pick-off stopped a drive early, while Bohlender's stopped a late Indian surge. Linemen Leo Durham and Alan Fromm were also in double figures in tackles.

After Heard's long scamper, the Chelsea offense was sluggish. The defense did what it had to for the Bulldogs to stay in the lead.

"We closed down the offense a little in the second half because of the wet weather," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"We wanted to take a little time off the clock. Although they came back, I never felt we were in serious danger."

If not for a Chelsea fumble at the Bulldog 15-yard line early in the third quarter, Tecumseh would have had a difficult time coming as close as they did to a complete rally. The Indians scored at the 7:32 mark on a fourth down play from the three-yard line.

The score remained 24-13 until late in the fourth quarter, when the Indians put the heat on. After what was perhaps the Bulldogs' finest punt of the year (Starkey made his punting debut this game, and booted a 36-yarder), the Indians began a drive at their 21. They moved it to the Chelsea 34-yard line before lineman Jeff Larson had a key sack, moving the ball back to the 40. On the next play, a pass was intercepted at the goal line by Bohlender.

However, the Bulldogs weren't out of the fire yet. After failing to move the ball, Chelsea settled for an intentional safety, pushing the score to 24-15 with 3:03 remaining.

"At that point, we knew they'd need two scores to win, which was extremely unlikely with so little time left," LaFave said.

What LaFave probably hadn't counted on, though, was just how quickly Tecumseh would score.

After the first free kick wriggled out of bounds, the second one was short and taken by an up man, who returned it to the Chelsea 22-yard line. On the next play, the Chelsea pass defense broke down and allowed a touchdown. It was only the sixth pass the Indians completed all night (23 attempts).

With the extra point, the score was 24-22 with 2:18 remaining.

Tecumseh might well have stopped its own comeback when the ensuing on-sides kick was squibbed out of bounds, giving Chelsea the ball with decent field position at their own 32-yard line.

When Bellus took an option play for eight yards, and converted a quarterback sneak for a first down, the game was history.

Chelsea plays a winless Pinckney Pirate team in this week's homecoming game.

LaFave said he never knows what to expect from the Pirates.

Pinckney, however, may have played its finest game of the season last week against Lincoln, staying within striking distance of the Railsplitters until late in the game.

JV Gridders Bungle Game With Tecumseh

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity football team couldn't get its offense going and lost a 28-8 decision to the Tecumseh Indians last Thursday at Niehaus field.

Bulldog coach Jim Ticknor said the Bulldogs were the victims of their own "silly mistakes," which often left the offense with a first down and 15 situation.

"It seems like we'd always come up just a few yards short," Ticknor said.

"Our problem is that we don't have a breakaway type of player who can make the big play. We don't have a big lineman who we can run behind and always pick up a couple of yards."

The score was only 8-0 at half-time, although Ticknor said the Bulldog defense didn't play particularly well. The Indians scored their first touchdown after a six-yard punt by the Bulldogs put the Indians at the Chelsea 34-yard line. Seven plays later they scored on a two-yard run.

Tecumseh scored on three consecutive possessions to take a 28-0 lead before Chelsea could get on the board. Twelve of their 20 points were scored in the third quarter.

The Indians had drives of 55, 47 and 28 yards, the last set up by a Chelsea fumble. The 47-yarder was a one play drive immediately following a Chelsea punt.

"What made this even more frustrating is that Tecumseh really wasn't all that good," Ticknor said.

"We should be able to score more."

Chelsea's only touchdown came on a 14-yard pass from Jordan Gray to Clay Hurd. Hurd also scored the two-point conversion.

The Chelsea offense totaled 197 yards rushing, enough to win many games. The Bulldogs also had 78 yards passing, completing five of 18 attempts. Hurd caught three for 36 yards. Gray had six carries for 83 yards and Rob Finch 61 yards on 16 rushes.

Chelsea drops to 2-5 on the year. They face the Pinckney Pirates at Pinckney tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Girls Cross Country Team Finishes Perfect 6-0 Dual Meet Year

Chelsea girls cross country squad finished with a perfect 6-0 mark in SEC dual meets as they shut out both Tecumseh and Pinckney last week.

The Bulldogs took the top eight places against Tecumseh and the top 12 against Pinckney.

"This undefeated season is the first for our girls cross country program, and the girls are currently ranked third in the state in class B," said coach Pat Clarke. "In the Pinckney meet, 12 girls had personal best times. Jennifer Harms and Alisha Dorow have worked especially hard this season and deserve special (Continued on page 12)

MARK MULL cuts around the right end during last week's game at Tecumseh. The senior, who has been in the limelight a lot this year, gave way to Curtis Heard, who had the best game of his career with 160 yards. Mull gained 37 yards on the night and caught one pass for 28 yards.

LINEMAN JEFF LARSON put a hit on the Tecumseh quarterback a second after the ball was pitched during last week's game in Tecumseh, which the Bulldogs won, 24-22. The Chelsea defense dominated the first half, and generally played its best game of the year, according to coach Gene LaFave.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Saline Upends Dexter, 43-6, For Third Consecutive Title

Using an unbending defense and a powerful offense, the Saline Hornets upended the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 43-6, for their third consecutive SEC football championship.

Saline finished the SEC season at 6-0. The Hornets have two non-conference games remaining against Brooklyn Columbia Central and Riverview.

The Hornets scored 30 points in the first half alone. The Dreadnaughts didn't score until late in the game when Tom Ash returned a kick-off 75 yards for the score.

Saline quarterback Grant Fanning once again dominated the game with his running and passing. The Hornet defense, which has allowed very few points this season, completely shut down the Dexter offense, which has struggled all season long.

The Dreadnaughts fell into a four-way tie for third place in the SEC with a 2-3 record.

Dexter hosts Tecumseh in its final SEC game this Friday.

The Saline victory ruined any hope the Lincoln Railsplitters may have had for an SEC tie, although the Splitters won their game with the lowly Pinckney Pirates, 27-12.

Lincoln's only SEC loss was the week before to Saline, 22-21 in overtime.

Pinckney jumped out on top early on a 92-yard touchdown run. It was only the second time all season the Pirates led in a game.

Lincoln came back with 14 points in the first quarter, and never trailed from there, although the score was 14-12 until late in the fourth quarter. The teams traded turnovers throughout most of the game due to a heavy mist and generally slippery conditions.

The Railsplitters will finish in second place in the SEC all by themselves. Lincoln hosts Milan this Friday.

Pinckney dropped to 0-5 in SEC action. Only an upset of Chelsea this Friday in Chelsea will keep the Pirates from finishing winless in the SEC.

Chelsea survived a late charge

Masquerade Mud Bog Set For Sunday

The Berm Buster 4-Wheel Drive Club of Ann Arbor is hosting a "Masquerade Mud Bog" on Sunday, Oct. 27, starting at 12 noon at the Chelsea Fairgrounds in Chelsea. Part of the proceeds will go to Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

There will be over 100 competitors in seven classes competing for more than $2,000 in prizes. Halloween Costume Contest is for both competitors and spectators. Admission is $4 per person. Refreshments will be available.

Aquatic Club Loses to Milan In First Meet

Chelsea Aquatic Club had its first meet on Saturday, Oct. 19 in Milan. Final score of the meet was Milan 477, Chelsea 260.

Jon Oesterle, the coach, attributes the loss to a lack of participation in that particular meet. The club as a whole is up in numbers this fall.

8th Grade Cagers Win Two Over Tecumseh, Saline

Beach Middle school eighth grade girls basketball team upped its record to 7-1 last week with wins over Tecumseh and Saline.

Chelsea nipped Tecumseh, 29-24, after trailing 12-8 at half-time. Allison Brown and Tiffany Moore led the Chelsea scoring attack with eight points each. Brown also led the team with 10 rebounds and seven blocked shots. Moore chipped in with seven rebounds.

Other scorers were Stacey Scott with five points and Lisa McGlinnen with three. McGlinnen also had five rebounds and four steals.

Chelsea topped Saline by a wider margin, 25-16. Once again the Chelsea girls were behind at half-time, 11-8. However, they outscored Saline 10-0 in the third quarter to ice the game.

Brown was the team leader with 10 points and 13 rebounds. Scharme Petty had six points and four steals; Jill Nowatzke had two points and six rebounds; Amy Thomson had two points and eight rebounds; Scott had two points and four steals; and Lisa Park had six steals.

The first bicycle, invented in 1839, weighed 99 pounds.

Gridders of the Week

GRIDDERS OF THE WEEK are seniors Jim Eisenbeiser, left, and Steve Whitesall. Both Jim and Steve are athletes who have distinguished themselves off the field. Jim is president of the National Honor Society at Chelsea High school and someday hopes to pursue automotive design as a career. The CHS offensive center also works for his father installing athletic fields. He is the son of John and Bonnie Eisenbeiser. Steve is president of the senior class and, like Jim, a member of the National Honor Society. He is interested in veterinary medicine as a career, and in that regard has worked for the Dexter Animal Hospital. Steve is also active in the Senior High Youth Fellowship group at St. Paul's church in Chelsea. His parents are Tim and Patricia Whitesall.

Aquatic Club Team Makes Strong Showing At Oakland University

Chelsea Aquatic Club's U.S. swimming team traveled to Oakland University to open its 1985-86 short course season, which they did with great success. "I could not have been more pleased with the kids' performances. We didn't have one swimmer without a personal best time and most of them had all best times," said coach Dave Brinklow.

In the 8-and-under age group Matt Fischer was first in the 25-yd. backstroke, second in 25-yd. fly, fifth in 50-yd. free, fifth in 100-yd. IM, fourth in 25-yd. free, third in 50-yd. backstroke, second in 50-yd. fly, and sixth 100-yd. free.

Bryndon Skelton was seventh in the 50-yd. backstroke, 14th in 25-yd. fly, 12th in 50-yd. free, sixth in 100-yd. IM, 11th in 25-yd. free, 11th in 50-back, seventh in 25-yd. backstroke, seventh in 100-yd. free.

Betsy Schunk was first in the 50-yd. backstroke, second in 25-yd. back, third in 100-yd. IM.

Carey Schiller was second in the 25-yd. butterfly, sixth in 25-yd. back.

These four swimmers combined for fourth place in the 100-yd. medley relay.

In the 9-and-10 age group, Dana Schunk was first in the 100-yd. back, first in 50-yd. backstroke, first in 50-yd. free, 1st in 200-yd. IM.

Steven Brock was seventh in the 100-yd. back, fourth in 50-yd. backstroke, 17th in 50-yd. free. Jason McVittie was ninth in the 100-yd. back, 11th in 50-yd. backstroke, 14th in 50-yd. free, 14th in 100-yd. IM, 14th in 50-yd. fly.

Colby Skelton was sixth in the 100-yd. back, fourth in 50-yd. fly, third in 50-yd. free, fifth in 50-yd. back, second in 100-yd. IM, 13th in 50-yd. fly, fourth in 100-yd. free.

Schunk, Brock, McVittie, and Skelton were second in the 200-yd. free relay.

Matt Montagne was second in the 50-yd. backstroke, 15th in 50-yd. free, seventh in 200-yd. IM, third in 100-yd. backstroke, 20th in 50-yd. back, 10th in 100-yd. IM, 10th in 100-yd. free.

Casey Schiller was eighth in the 50-yd. backstroke, 23rd in 50-yd. free.

In the girls 9-and-10 age group

Monica Hansen was 17th in the 100-yd. back, 18th in 50-yd. free, ninth in 200-yd. IM.

Sandy Schmid was 22nd in the 100-yd. back, 31st in 50-yd. backstroke, 22nd in 50-yd. free, seventh in 200-yd. IM.

Katie Neal was 13th in 100-yd. back, 14th in 100-yd. free.

Swim Team Loses To Adrian, 94-87

Chelsea girls swimming team lost a close battle to Adrian, 94-87, last week, although Susan Schunk set a varsity record in the 200 freestyle.

Schunk's record time was 2:05.46. She also won the 100 freestyle in :57.9.

Swimming to personal best times were Cathy Hoffman, Rebecca Dent, Karen Grau, Chris Young, Tammi Harris, Maria Kattula, Dawn Thorne, Sharon Colombo, Nancy Stierle, Jennifer Schweiger, Suzanne and Helen Cooper, Chris Young, Lisa Taylor, Missy Check, Tricia Colbry, and Karen Paulsell.

200 Medley Relay: 2. Paula Colombo, Kelly Kuzon, Hoffman, and Dent, 2:07.01; 3. Grau, Young, Taylor and Harris, 2:13.39; 5. Kattula, Thorne, Colbry and Meredith Johnson, 2:24.52.

200 Freestyle: 1. Schunk, 2:05.46; 3. S. Colombo, 2:17.23; 6. S. Cooper, 2:29.33.

100 Breaststroke: 1. Kuzon; 4. Young, 1:23.25; 5. Vosters, 1:27.15.

400 Freestyle Relay: 2. S. Cooper, H. Cooper, S. Colombo, Schunk, 4:18.77; 5. Taylor, Johnson, Colbry, Albrecht, 4:52.31; 6. Check, Shiela Tillman, Paulsell, Kattula, 5:27.48.

Diving: 3. Deanna Zangara, 1:66.30; 5. Stierle, 1:39.30; 6. Schweiger, 1:26.45.

"I was impressed by the number of personal best times that were recorded," said Chelsea coach Mike Keeler.

"They really rose to the occasion."

Schunk was elected swimmer of the meet by her teammates, while Keeler also named her swimmer of the week.

In other swimming action last week, the Bulldogs competed in the Michigan Swim Coach's Association state-wide swim invitational.

The highlight of the meet was the 200 medley relay team which swam a state-qualifying time of 2:02.89. On that team were P. Colombo, Kuzon, Hoffman and Schunk.

P. Colombo also had a 12th place finish in the 100 butterfly.

Boys Cross Country Team Hopes for State Qualifying Performance

Chelsea boys varsity cross country team won its last two dual meets of the season last week, out-running Tecumseh, 19-44, and Pinckney, 22-38.

"We ran our best team race of the season against Tecumseh," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Our third through seventh place boys were only 21 seconds apart, and that is excellent. Tim Bowdish and John Cattell continued their excellent running."

The Bulldogs won eight of the top 10 places against the Indians, with Bowdish the top runner at 16:58. Chelsea finishers behind Bowdish were: Cattell, 3rd, 17:23; Paul Hedding, 4th, 18:08; Lee Riemenschneider, 5th, 18:16; Greg Brown, 6th, 18:18; Jeff Wheaton, 7th, 18:23; Tucker Lee, 8th, 18:30; Jason Creffield, 10th, 19:00; Larry Moore, 13th, 19:16; Brian Coy, 15th, 19:34.

In the Pinckney meet, Bowdish and Cattell again finished first and third, respectively, and Chelsea runners took seven of the top 10 places. Bowdish's time was 16:52, while Cattell ran a 17:26, less than a second away from second place.

"Our first five runners ran their season best times in the meet against Pinckney at Inverness Golf Course," Clarke said.

"Bowdish, Cattell, and Greg Brown all made considerable time drops. Cattell almost beat an all-state senior, which was quite an effort. I hope we can give Saline a run at the league meet and then qualify for the state meet next Saturday."

Behind Cattell were: Brown, 5th, 18:11; Hedding, 6th, 18:19; Wheaton, 7th, 18:34; Creffield, 8th, 18:40; Lee, 10th, 18:49; Moore, 12th, 19:21; Lee Riemenschneider, 13th, 19:32; Brian Coy, 15th, 19:41; Eric Bell, 16th, 19:41; Mike Lavigne, 17th, 19:51.

Frosh Girls Defeat Seniors in Soccer

Freshmen girls defeated the senior girls in a soccer game as part of homecoming festivities on Monday.

The score was tied at one after regulation play. The freshmen won the subsequent shoot-off. Michelle Easton scored for the seniors, and Danica Disbro for the freshmen.

More than 300 primary and specialty care physicians participate in McAuley Health Plan right here in Washtenaw and Western Wayne counties. These are physicians with established practices in their own local communities. McAuley Health Plan members can choose a primary care physician close to where they live or work.

We think that's important. And there's more.

If you should need it, McAuley Health Plan provides unlimited hospitalization at area hospitals, including St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Saline and Chelsea Community Hospitals, and Merewood Hospital.

Certain specialty pediatric and maternity services may be provided through referral arrangements with C.S. Mott Children's Hospital, Holden Perinatal Hospital, and Women's Hospital at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

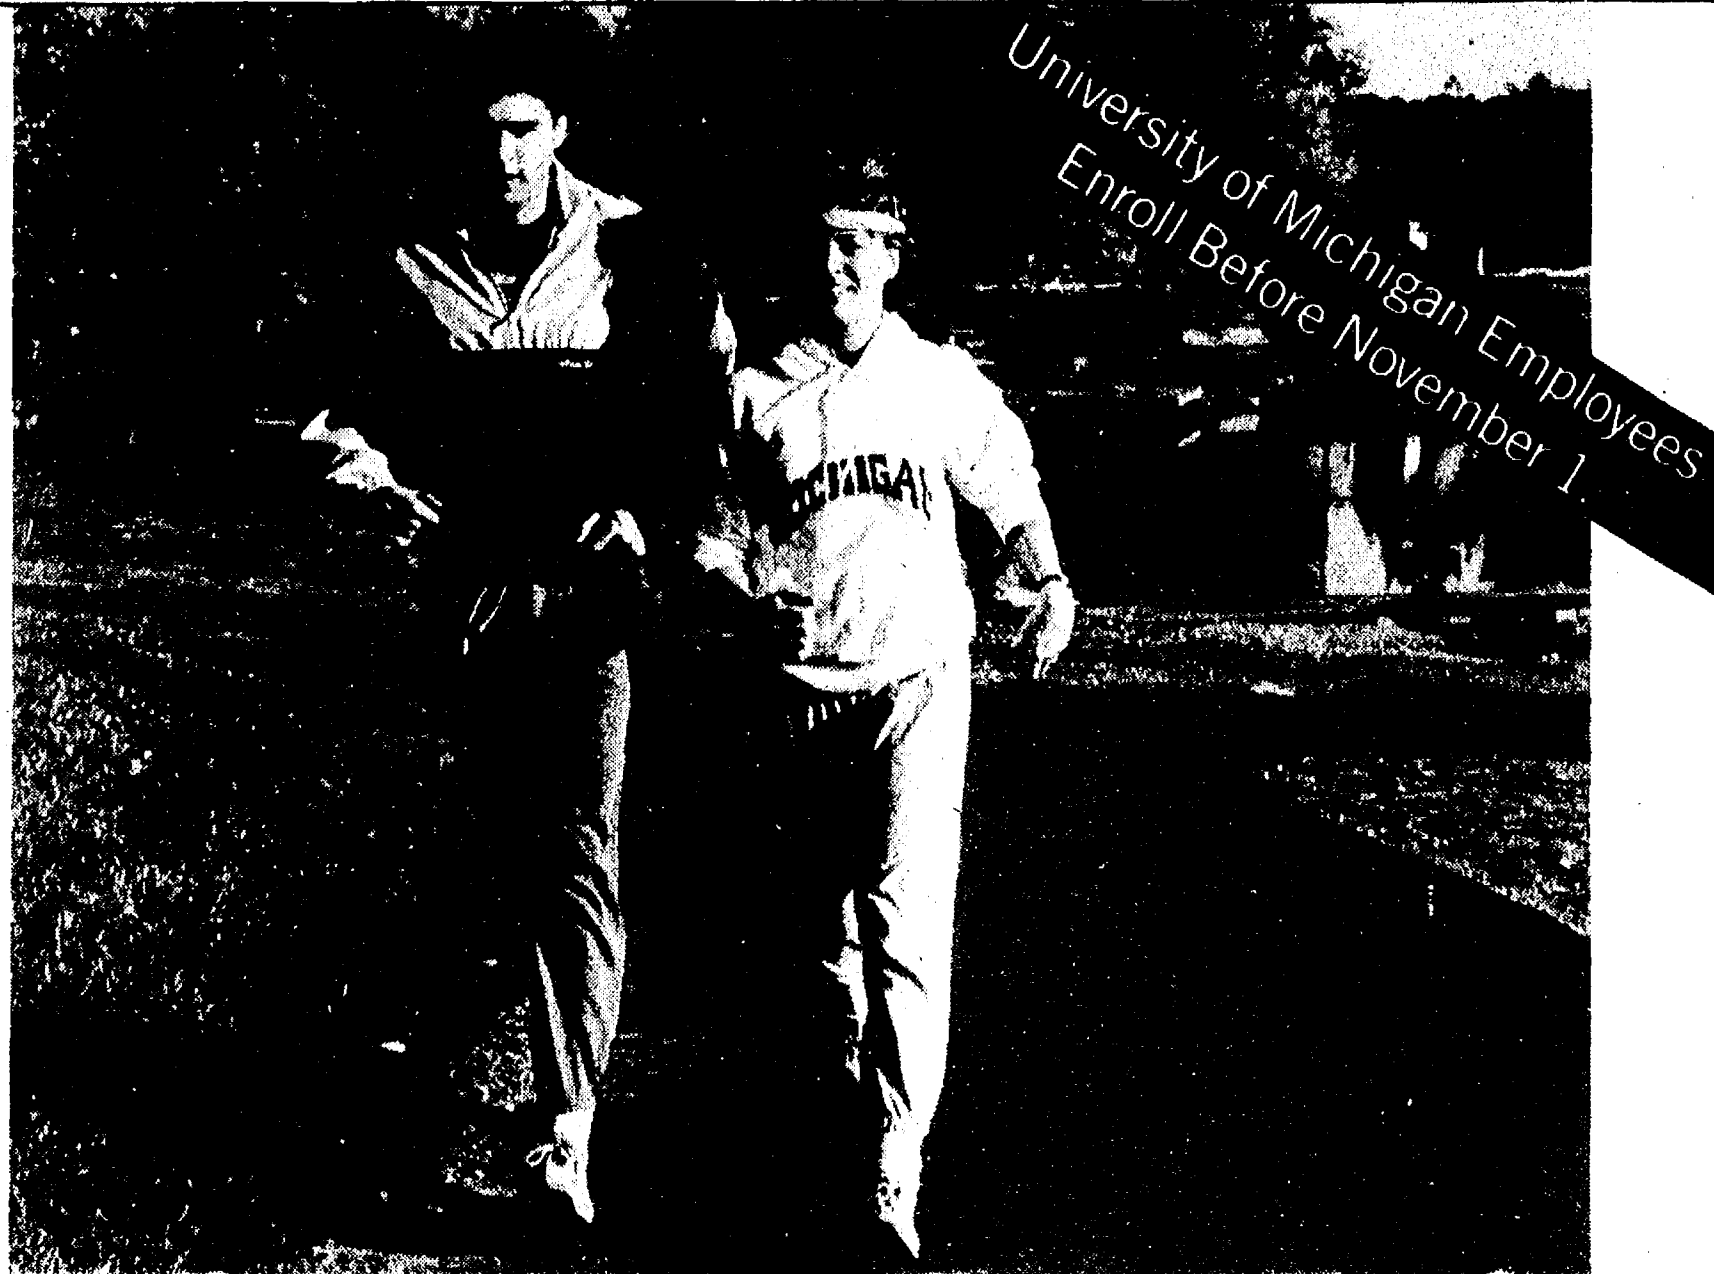

We think that's important too, and there's still more.

McAuley Health Plan coverage pays for the kinds of medical care costs not covered by many health care plans, including physical exams, lab tests, immunizations and x-rays. You are covered for emergency care, anywhere. There are no deductibles to satisfy and no claim forms to fill out.

Compare all this to the health care coverage you're getting now. If you aren't getting coverage where you want it, when you want it, ask the Office of Staff Benefits for an application to join McAuley Health Plan.

But hurry! Open enrollment ends November 1st.

World Community Day Set at St. Mary's School

World Community Day is Friday, Nov. 1. This national event is being observed by Church Women United of Chelsea.

"Harvest of Blessings," this year's service was written by farm women from the Midwest. It expresses values born by closeness to and reverence for the earth that produces food for the hungry of the world. This service also reflects the challenge felt by these rural women as they recount their blessings, their feelings about family, home, land and their own responsibilities in light of a broad world consciousness.

Diane Horning of Zion Lutheran church will be program chairperson. The speakers will be Nancy Burgett of St. Paul United Church of Christ. She is the 1986 National Beef Cook-off chairperson. Nancy and husband Bob have a cattle farm near Grass Lake.

Church Women United of Chelsea invite women from Chelsea and Manchester area to this celebration. It will be held at St. Mary's school, 400 Congdon St., Friday, Nov. 1. 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. A light lunch will be served.

Gospel Revival Services Slated at Chelsea Fellowship

Evangelist Curtis McClain will be holding an old fashion gospel revival beginning Sunday, Oct. 27 at Chelsea Christian Fellowship, 337 Wilkinson St.

Sunday services will be at 10:50 a.m. and 6 p.m., with a time of prayer before the services. Monday through Wednesday evening the revival services will begin at 7 p.m.

There will also be Bible studies and prayer each day. Please call 475-1147 for the correct time.

The Rev. McClain has ministered in the Chelsea community on many occasions. There will be special prayer for the sick and for other needs.

by women of St. Mary's Catholic church and baby-sitting will be available.

Movie on Gospel Of Luke Coming To Chelsea Nov. 3

The motion picture that has been translated into more languages than any other film in history is not, "Gone With the Wind," "Star Wars" or "E. T." but a movie called, "Jesus."

This two-hour major motion picture based on the gospel of Luke is coming to Chelsea on Nov. 3.

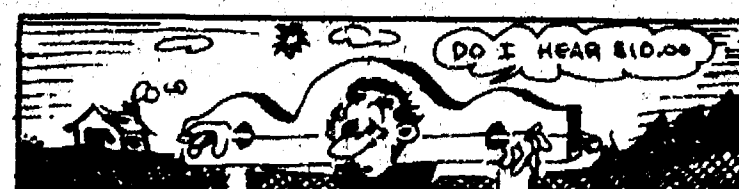

Don't miss "Jesus," the powerful, life-changing motion picture, at Chelsea High School Auditorium Nov. 3, at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Church Women United of Chelsea invite women from Chelsea and Manchester area to this celebration. It will be held at St. Mary's school, 400 Congdon St., Friday, Nov. 1. 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. A light lunch will be served.

"I went to the doctor after I had a minor accident. Luckily I didn't have a problem, but it was important to me to be able to check it out. Because of M-CARE's free office visits, I was able to ease my mind."

John Hannay
U-M Assistant Professor of English

Three free office visits to participating M-CARE physicians per year. A nominal $4 per visit after that. These are some of the benefits of M-CARE that attract U-M employees like Professor Hannay and his wife, Roberta. "We looked into all the options available to U-M employees," Prof. Hannay said, "and we decided M-CARE was our best bet."

M-CARE...the U-M's own family health plan for its employees

Over 6,000 U-M employees—a third of the Ann Arbor campus workforce—have signed up for M-CARE since it was first offered in February, 1985. A recent random survey of members shows that 89% reported short or medium waiting times, 88% were able to get appointments on short notice and 95% thought the service sites were convenient.

It's medical care...and "wellness" care

M-CARE provides medical care when you need it—through 500 medical specialists and 110 specialty clinics at the U-M Medical Center...through convenient service sites at the Brighton Health Service, the Family Practice Center in Chelsea, the University

Health Service...and through 33 community pediatricians.

And M-CARE provides "wellness" care—through free age-specific health maintenance exams for adults...through free well-child pediatric exams and immunizations for children up to age 14...and through ongoing wellness programs.

You have the chance to join M-CARE, Oct. 21-Nov. 1

Once again, U-M employees will have the opportunity to sign up for M-CARE. Find out more about M-CARE by calling 763-7000.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Al Kleis appreciates the kindness shown during his illness and our loss.

The Rev. Dr. Truran his many visits, prayers and spiritual guidance. The dedicated Dr. Van Reesema, angelic nurses in I.C.U. and the devoted, "respiratory therapists" Bob Pawlowicz, Dave Glover and Brenda Sarna at the Chelsea Hospital. The Chelsea Lions, ladies of the church, and friends who helped with the "Memorial Service" and prepared and served food at the buffet luncheon. The many cards, calls, plants and flowers, visits and transportation. God bless you all.

George, Dr. Gerry, Phil, and Beulah Kleis.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone in the community for their donation of blood for our daughter, Amy. Amy is six years old and in January she will be having her surgery. The day of surgery the Red Cross has assured us there will be plenty of blood available for Amy. Thanks again, Herb and Sandy Klein.

THANK YOU

In deep appreciation for helping to make our free fingerprinting clinic such a success, we would like to thank the following people for their time, talent and products. Chief Lenard McDougall, officers Robin Wright, Christopher Minick, Timothy Bareis, dispatcher Pam Lisznyai, McDonald's, The Village Bakery, our Auxiliary staff and Brian Hamilton of The Chelsea Standard. Heydlauff's for the video equipment and tape, "Too Smart for Strangers." It's nice to know "you care" and a lot of parents will feel more secure in the fact that their children are identifiable if the need should ever arise. Thank you all.

Village President
Evelyn Rosentreter,
Village Clerk.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

While participating in the dedication of the expansion of the Kresge House at Chelsea Community Hospital, my remarks to the audience included the statement that Chelsea is an incredible community from the point of view of its volunteer spirit. I commented that experiences working for the Chelsea Public Schools on projects, St. Paul United Church of Christ assignments, hospital governing board duties, and more recently my role as president of the Civic Foundation of Chelsea, have been the basis for this impression. The fact is that I have had to ask literally hundreds of people to volunteer their time, and sometimes their funds, to make Chelsea a better place to live.

In 12 years of asking, I doubt that I have been turned down three times. I could count on one hand the number of times that someone agreed to take an assignment and did not do a good job. Outside my personal experiences, I have observed the same thing happening throughout the community in service clubs, churches, and numerous other areas of endeavor. I am sure many people who have been given leadership assignments would state that they have had the same experience that I have had with the citizens of the community.

Those who live in the community and have not been active in these endeavors, but have enjoyed the community, should be aware of the tens of thousands of hours of volunteer time that are spent each year for the welfare of all. I would hope that new people in the community feel welcome to contact the various serving organizations, and offer their services if they wish to contribute to our future.

Those who, like me, have live in several locations can attest that there is no better place to live and work than Chelsea, Michigan. When it comes to volunteerism, Chelsea is world headquarters.

Cub Scout Pack Sails Into October

For untold years boys have dreamed of going down to the sea in tall ships. The lure of exotic places and adventure drew some of them. Others remained behind with their dreams.

Understanding a boy's needs for adventure is what the Traveler Badge in Webelos Scouting is all about. As Pack 455 has followed the theme of "Pirate Waters," Webelos Den 2 has explored our own country and Canada by planning trips for their families. They computed how many miles would be traveled and what the cost per mile would be.

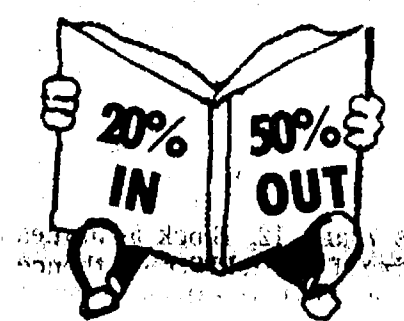

Accent on Travel came to one of our den meetings and explained how they planned trips and arranged transportation for people. Their presentation inspired some of the boys to make some really outstanding displays of their family trip.

Den 1 has splashed into our October theme of "Pirate Waters." The eight boys from our den have sewn their vests, made flags and pirate hats and put the finishing touches on the fleet of pirate ships. Each ship moors in at the den marina at 6 inches. On Thursday, Oct. 17 this den will be competing with the other dens of Pack 455 in the Raingutter Regatta. The Cub Scouts have worked hard on their individual boats for an all-out race down the raingutter.

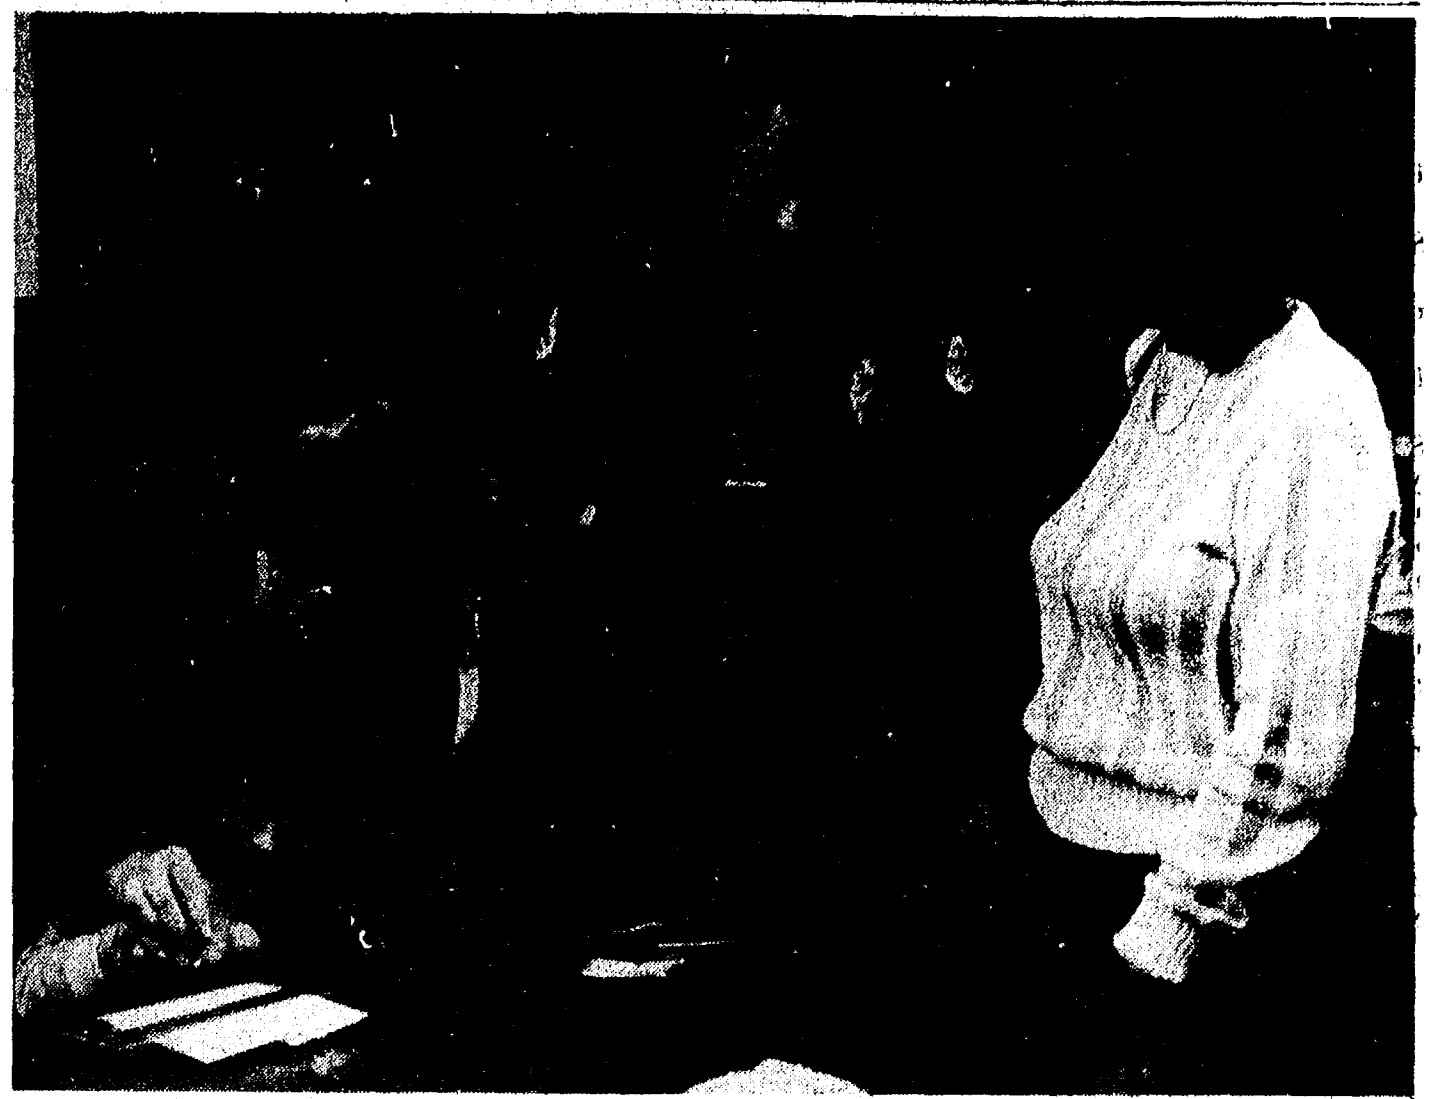

Den 1 did take a week off their pirate expeditions and went to Karsten Lipiec's home for a movie, "The Continuing Adventures of Chip and Dale." Cider and popcorn were enjoyed and much laughter as the chipmunks raced through their antics.

Cub Scouting is a unique way for boys in 3rd through 5th grades to learn about the world in which we live. Tiger Cubs, for boys in 2nd grade, helps prepare boys for Cub Scouting. If you would like to learn more about the Cub Scouting program please join the pack meeting on the third Thursday of each month at South school at 7 p.m.

SERENDIPITY

SOON!

A SECOND FINGERPRINTING SESSION was held by the Chelsea VFW last Saturday at the VFW Hall on N. Main St. Nearly 100 children had their fingerprints taken so their parents could have a permanent means of identifying them. The first session, held two weeks before, proved so successful that the second session was set up. Above, Amella Botsford has her fingerprints taken with the help of Pam Lisznyai, a dispatcher at the Chelsea Police Department. Looking on are reserve officer Christopher Minich and Amelia's mother, Jan.

FILLING A JUG with freshly pressed cider from the small cider press set up on the grounds of the Waterloo Farm Museum during Pioneer Day activities, Sunday, Oct. 23, David and Ruby Braun had as much fun as their customers. This jug was filled for Sue and Herschel Lee of Jackson. Herschel's brother, Edwin Lee, used to own the Chelsea Glass Works, they told the reporter from The Chelsea Standard.

THREE PIONEER LADIES met at the Waterloo Farm Museum during Pioneer Day, Sunday, Oct. 13, when the public had a chance to stop out to observe the many interesting activities from the world of past days. Shown as they folded a mini-quilt are Agnes Dikeman of Ann Arbor, Elaine Bush of Unadilla and Peg Stoffer of Gregory. Their gowns were colorful as well as practical, and many of the ladies wore bonnets or petite dust caps.

Court House

In that regard, the Chelsea Village Council voted last week to apply for a $100,000 grant from Michigan's Outstate Equity Program. According to village administrator Frederick Weber, the program is designed to finance such projects.

"The courthouse is a magnificent building and I think we will get the community support for renovating it," Hunscher said. "The question we raised with our architects is 'was it worth doing?' The answer was a resounding, yes."

The initial idea behind the work was to make it "a more workable court," Hunscher said. Planned work includes an addition to the back of the building, and a substantial amount of work to the clerical area and main entrance.

The Chelsea court houses the State of Michigan 14-A-3 District Court. It is located on the corner of S. Main St. and South St.

Halloween

Each age group will be judged for either "Best Looking" or "Most Original," with 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes awarded in each area.

After the judging, approximately 6:30 p.m., the Halloween parade will leave the parking lot led by Jim Gaken and his classic fire truck. Upon returning the winners will be introduced and the prizes will be awarded.

Cider and doughnuts will be given away to all participants in what should be a fun-filled evening for the entire family.

MAX COOL DID THE VEGETABLES for Pioneer Day at the Waterloo Farm Museum, Sunday, Oct. 13. In fact, Max agrees, he always does the vegetables. A Stockbridge resident, Max worked in Hackney Hardware several years ago and still remembers many of the Dexter people. Shown with him is Vivian May of Gregory. Vivian plays in the Chelsea Senior Citizens kitchen band and is one of the ladies of the Waterloo Historical Society. Its members undertook preparing and serving the food on Pioneer Day for the first time this year. Previously, the food has been under the charge of ladies from the Methodist church. The two had been chatting with retired Munith banker Fred Ford just before the photo was taken. Max explained it was he who had headed the old Waterloo ice-house restoration project during the first two years and built the present icehouse, a scale model of the original structure and located just behind its early site.

The right bank ISN'T A MATTER OF CHOICE ... IT'S A MATTER OF FACT.

Banks are like most businesses. They have competition. Not only are there thousands of bank banks but there are untold thousands of financial institutions that claim they are just like banks. They're not really like a bank bank . . . but they like to think they are.

It is difficult for some, to chose the right bank. You want everything from your bank. You want understanding, at times compassion. You want interest. Not just dollars and cents interest but people that are interested, too.

You want a bank to be located where it is convenient for you. You want a bank that is friendly, has expertise in all financial matters. You want a bank that is cast in your mold.

We, here at Chelsea State Bank, believe we fit all the criteria necessary to be the right bank in your mind.

CAPTAIN LESGATE (Bud Mountcastle) attempts to strangle Margot Wendice (Sharon L. Horsch) in "Dial M' For Murder," a murder mystery filled with plot twists and turns. It makes for an evening sure to keep the armchair whodunnit fans guessing how things will end up. True Grist Dinner Theatre in Homer, will stage their production of the thriller Wednesday through Sunday until Nov. 17. For reservations or further information call (517) 568-4151 or Michigan Toll Free (800) 828-6161.

Highly Enjoyable 'Dial M' Staged at True Grist Theatre

By Russ Ogden
Free Lance Drama Critic
and EMU Professor

Homer, what could be a better offering on an approaching Halloween, autumnal season than the murder mystery "Dial M for Murder." Director Charles Burr serves up a scary theatrical brew with his professional staff and staging with the play improving as it unfolds into an audience-pleasing conclusion.

"Dial M for Murder" presents us with a greedy husband who has "swept his wife off her feet" with amorous ploys, but secretly plans to eliminate her for the wealth that she controls. To get the money and do with it as he wants, the goal; to achieve this, murder is the only answer.

Margot Wendice (Sharon Horsch) is chatting amiably with Max Halliday (Randy Clinker) in the living room of the Wendices. Apparently Margot loved Max and in their mutual fervor exchanged letters in which their love was rather explicitly defined. In the interval between their ardor and her marriage to Tony, Margot has succumbed to blackmail by mailing money to the "finder of her lost letter." And, as they talk, one is convinced of their continued love, although unspoken.

Later, with Margot and Max at the theater, the calculating husband played by Paul Kerr, starts planning Margot's death with a former classmate of years past, Captain Lesgate (Bud Mountcastle). Apparently Lesgate is a near-do-well also and falls into the greedy plan of eradicating Mrs. Wendice. And so the two schemers commit themselves to a calculated series of events leading to Margot's extinction.

The excitement offered the audience, then, is not "Who is going to murder whom?" but rather "Will the scoundrel be caught?" We are indeed a part of the murderous planning. As the play progresses, you will be quietly attempting to help the police, who move oh so-o-o slowly, with the solution to the criminal act.

Second act: murder solution with clues accidentally found or intentionally left for the police—Inspector Hubbard (Ken Renner)—to untie the pieces of the mystery that confronts him. Hubbard and associate detective Thompson (Bob Wiescholek) continue to solve in a business-like fashion the demise of the murdered party.

True Grist's cast does a much, much better job in their second act portrayals than the first. The first act has trouble taking off. Whether caused by Playwright Frederick Knott's overly wordy treatise with limited action, or just the necessary anticipatory statements to properly seal the plot, you must decide.

Undoubtedly the on-stage star for the evening has to be Ken Renner as the somewhat stuffy, but determined, Inspector Hubbard. Paul Kerr's Tony seems to fall short! Kerr overplays the role which should be one depicting a cunning, somewhat meditative individual, in quiet contemplation. Kerr is capable of much, much better interpretation than we witness.

Sharon L. Horsch's second act performance as Margot is pure delight! Her first act is stacy, mouthy of London accent lines. Wiescholek's Thompson, although only briefly on stage, was good.

True Grist Dinner Theatre is a total package of enjoyment: a colorful, flamboyant autumnal scene driving to the theatre; the warm hospitality of David Rhinard of the True Grist; the Chef Giovanni Tani's delectable buffet and salad bars; fitting piano and vocal music provided by Bud Mountcastle; and, in this instance, pleasant entertainment on stage by a competent cast.

True Grist's 10th season is off to a dramatically exciting beginning. Reservations for "Dial M for Murder" may be made by calling 1-800-828-6161 or locally 517-468-4151. Performances are Wednesday (no frills popcorn theatre) at 7:30 p.m. Thursday through Saturday evenings, 8; Sunday, 3. Matinees Wednesday, 2; Saturdays, 1. Cocktails and dinner start approximately one hour before curtain time.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

★ Less Time Over
A Hot Stove . . .

A recent survey commissioned by the National Live Stock and Meat Board shows that consumer attitudes are changing and that convenience has become an important consideration when food supplies are purchased.

When asked about meal preparation time, 36% of those responding to the survey said they rarely have time to fix meals that will take more than a half-hour. Just two years ago, that figure was 23%. Speed and ease of preparation are among the most important considerations in purchasing food for 25% of the respondents, and that's up from 20% just two years ago.

These changes in our lifestyles are causing ramifications down on the farm. In meat, for example, chicken is finding a new place on the home menu. Once upon a time, some of you may remember, we had chicken only for Sunday dinner because it was expensive and very unhandy to prepare. (Remember the wringing of necks, the scalding water to loosen the feathers, etc.?) Now, chicken comes boneless, ready to cook, and it's served many times a week. You can even buy it in "heat and serve" packages.

The red meat industry is taking note of this and research is going on to find better ways to please the consumer by making the preparation of beef, pork and lamb easier. Consumers are also wanting less fat on their red meat and those changes have been going on for some time. The better-trimmed, leaner cuts of fresh meat are what's selling in the meat counters.

We may yearn for the "good old days" of hot biscuits, fresh fried chicken on Sunday, cooked on an old wood stove, but those days are gone forever for the vast majority of us. Those who miss those good old days the most are surely those who simply enjoyed and not those who spent hours over that hot stove. For the latter, the response of the industry and the continued research to meet the changing needs of consumers are welcome.

MASHED POTATOES CAN BE A DIETER'S DELIGHT

Boil or steam potatoes. Mash, gradually adding skim milk, salt and pepper to taste; beat until potatoes are smooth and fluffy. (Texture of the potatoes depends on the amount of milk used. The more milk, the creamier and thinner the potatoes will be.)

Today's Investor

Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I have bought eight different stocks. The first two I bought have given me excellent profits, but the last six have been a terrible experience. Can you help me see where I have gone wrong?

A. The first stock you bought has indeed been a goldmine. The $13,500 you put into Food Lion now has a value of $64,000. That kind of result was fairly predictable. The company had an excellent rate of growth in sales and earnings per share. It had some temporary trouble which depressed its price for a short period and you made your purchase when the PE, the price earnings ratio, was only 10. Simply put, you bought good growth at a reasonable price. You have benefited both from the growth in the company and the higher PE that usually comes following a long period of growth. The $4,800 you put in First Security is now worth $14,000. Here again you bought good quality and growth at a bargain price.

From there on you seem to have favored stocks that were selling on a "story" rather than on their record. And where they had earnings you paid a ridiculously high price earnings ratio for them.

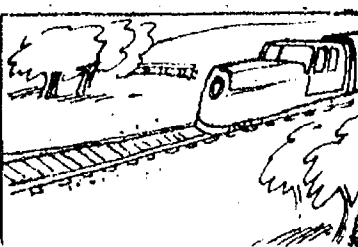

Scientific-Atlanta had had an excellent record of growth, but paying 39 times earnings was stretching your luck, and the reduction in your investment from $14,000 to $7,400 is not surprising. Putting $13,000 into Genex was very brave. That company has never had any earnings. It has been the subject of some very speculative stories, but those stories are only good for attracting people who don't require them to be substantiated by figures.

Your purchases of Verbatim Corp. and Xebec again were made at price earnings ratios of 35 and 42. It doesn't pay to find a company with a fine growth record and then be very careless in paying an excessive price for it, especially when, as in the case of these two companies, the growth is interrupted. Damon just hasn't so far been able to develop a record of predictability.

In your last purchase you seem to have gotten back to the format of your two successful purchases. Southern Hospitality is a fast food chain that is developing a good record of growth and you bought it at a good price. The growth record is not yet long enough to give it a degree of reliability, but if it continues you should do well here.

You are not the only investor who pursued the high tech, high growth companies that cost you so much money. But if you have learned the lesson that paying an excessive PE is very risky, you should do better in the future.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments, but will answer them only through this column. SENIOR AMY SANDERSON, third from left, transferred into the area from Milan this fall and found the new "big sister" program helpful in terms of becoming oriented to Chelsea. The program was instituted by the CHS counseling office this year. Amy's helpful friends include, from left, Jill Schaffner, Crystal Porath and Cindy Kvarnberg. Amy lives with her aunt and uncle, Ralph and Ruth Myers.

High School Students New To Area Helped By 'Buddies'

Chelsea High school students who are new the community this year have found the transition easier than they might have imagined thanks to a new program instituted by the counseling office.

The program might be called a "big brother," or "big sister," project. Interested new students were given the opportunity to be adopted by another student who was familiar with the ins and outs of Chelsea. In some cases they have developed friendships from the relationships. In other cases, the new students were just helped over some of the rough spots. In any case, they knew who to ask if they had problems.

"We began the program because it can be very difficult on a student to transfer to another area during high school," said Chris Dimanin, one of the counselors who helped implement the program, along with Susan Carter and Gene LaFave. "We wanted them to be warmly received. It's very easy for a new student to fall in with the wrong crowd. Many teen-age substance abusers are new to their community. Students who abuse drugs are always excited to have new people join them because there is comfort in numbers, whereas students in wholesome activities might not have the time to go out of their way to help the new student. Many new kids simply don't want to be here—it can be tough to be jerked around by Mom and Dad."

The big brother and big sisters are "all the best kids," Dimanin said. Many of them come from the student council or the honor society. They introduce new students to the various clubs, athletics and things to do around town. Many end up socializing together outside of school, such as going to dinner or a movie.

The students were introduced to each other during an informal party at the school. The rest was up to them. About half of the new students are taking part this year.

The word "hussy" in the sixteenth century was perfectly respectable; it simply meant a housewife.

Bulldog Frosh Gridders Topple Tecumseh, 28-14

The Chelsea Bulldog freshman football team won its fourth game of the year last Tuesday with a 28-14 victory over the Tecumseh Indians.

"We were able to exploit their biggest weakness," said Bulldog coach Jim Tallman.

"They couldn't cover the quick-out (pass pattern) and we were able to get the ball to Dave Zerkel."

Zerkel scored two touchdowns and a couple of two-point conversions.

The Chelsea defense was able to handle the Indian offense all night. With the exception of a trick play on the first play of the game that went for a touchdown, the Indians didn't have much luck. Their other touchdown was set up by a 90-yard interception return late in the first half.

Tecumseh's game-opening trick play was a halfback option, and the Indian running back elected to throw the ball. Although Chelsea defenders tipped the ball, it managed to land in a receiver's hands.

Chelsea promptly scored on their first drive on a 30-yard pass play from Larry Nix to Zerkel, capping a 60-yard drive. The score was 6-6.

The Bulldogs soon took the lead on a 15-yard pass to Zerkel, with Shannon Fredette taking a pass for the extra point.

Tecumseh tied the game at 14 later in the half after the interception, but the Bulldogs scored again before the intermission.

Nix hit Jeff Marshall with a 25-yard pass for touchdown. Zerkel scored the extra points on an option pass from Nix.

Chelsea controlled the game the rest of the way, picking up one more touchdown along the way, this time on a 35-yard pass play to Zerkel.

Tallman praised the play of several defensive players, including linebackers Mike Taylor, Eric Frisinger and Jerry Reinhardt, tackle Bill Coelius, and end Chris Birtles.

He also cited the play of running back Lumen Strong, who until last week had been out with an injury. Tallman said Strong and Rex Marsh led a strong Bulldog running attack.

Girls JV Cagers Split With Pinckney, Fowlerville

Chelsea junior varsity girls basketball team lost to the Pinckney Pirates, 47-32, last Tuesday, before rebounding with a win against Fowlerville at home on Thursday, 31-28.

Turnovers decided the Pinckney contest, as the Bulldogs lost the ball 34 times, but could only manage seven steals.

"Pinckney was extremely quick, which caused us all kinds of problems," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

The bulk of those turnovers came in the second quarter, which put Chelsea at a 22-11 half-time deficit.

Free throw shooting was also a weak spot for the Bulldogs, as they hit only 4 of 18 tries.

Heather Niebauer was the leading Bulldog scorer with nine points, while Leah Enderle had seven. Vanessa May led the team with six rebounds.

In the Fowlerville game, the Bulldogs held off their hard-charging opponents after leading 29-21 late in the game.

The turnover ratio was far better this time around, as Chelsea committed 20 turnovers, but collected 10 steals.

Enderle scored 10 points and Shannon Dunn followed with nine to lead Chelsea. Dunn also grabbed a team-high 13 rebounds.

THOMAS HALFACER is a new math teacher at Chelsea High school. He's taking the place of Robin Raymond, who left to pursue another interest. Halfacer, who taught the second half of last year at Dexter High school, is a resident of Tecumseh. Before teaching last year, he was director of research at Unicolor in Dexter. Halfacer is teaching algebra II, geometry and accelerated geometry and algebra.

Debate Teams Open Season at Harper Creek

Chelsea Bulldogs debating team opened the season by taking to the road Saturday, Oct. 19. They joined 20 other schools at Harper Creek, near Battle Creek. Coach Brian Kruger pitted a four-member varsity team plus two novice teams against schools from across the state.

Michael Goodwin, Susan Overdorf, Sean Quilter and Angi Alvarez made up the varsity team. They won four of the eight debates. Michael and Susan took the pro or affirmative side of the issue and Sean and Angi took the negative or the cons of the issue.

Representing the pros of the first novice team were Jeff Stacey and Dale Cole. Kathy Jorgensen and Cathy Breckemin argued the cons of the issue. They won four of the eight debates they took part in.

The second novice team was Chasna Street and Alison Chas- teen for the pros with Sharon Colombo and Sara Noah representing the cons. Alison won an eighth-place speaker award for the entire tournament. Her team won five of the eight debates they competed in.

The debating team tours all over the state on virtually every week-end of the two-month season. They prepare for only one topic each year. This year the issue is "Should the Federal Government Establish a Comprehensive National Policy To Protect Water Quality in the United States?"

The two member affirmative side will come up with a defense for the proposal and challenge a team who can argue that the status quo is just fine with them. The negative side of the team will likewise take on an affirmative team.

It is not a collision sport like football or very aerobic but debating calls for stamina and mental agility. Each side of a team must compete in four rounds on tournament day. Each round is one hour and fifteen minutes.

On a typical Saturday the Bulldogs may hop into a van, travel as far north as Gaylord, debate five hours and return the same day. "We certainly make the rounds and it can be a long tiring trip," said Coach Kruger.

Each year one issue is drawn up for debating teams nationwide. Chelsea debaters have almost two months in which to prepare for the season. They do what Kruger describes as an incredible amount of research. Many hours are spent in the U. of M. libraries. They pour through reams of periodicals and books, and may even consult with a state representative or two.

On competition day judges listen to the debates. They tally up points well taken on a ballot and a consensus is reached on the winners of the round.

Saturday's debate was slow as is usually the case when novices compete for the first time, said Kruger. He has been Chelsea's debating coach for four years now and his teams have competed and won against class A and class C schools alike.

Three Walkaways From Cassidy Lake Captured By Police

Three men who walked away from Cassidy Lake Technical School on Sunday were captured by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department on Monday.

According to police, the three were taken into custody at the intersection of Mast and North Territorial Rds. at 11:30 Monday morning. A fourth man, who left at the same time as the other three, returned to the institution of his own volition on Sunday.

The three who were captured were Edgar L. Grimes, 22, serving four to 15 years for breaking and entering; Rodney Willis, 20, serving three to 15 years for unarmed robbery; and Gerald T. Austin, serving three to 15 years for unarmed robbery, three to five years for larceny from an automobile, and two to four years for larceny from a building.

The fourth man, who returned on his own, was Ventura J. Ramirez, 21, serving four to 10 years and three to 15 years for two counts off breaking and entering.

THE PERFECT POTATO

A medium potato (three per pound) will bake in 45 minutes at 400 degrees. However, oven temperatures can range from 325 to 450 degrees so you can bake them along with whatever you have in the oven. Adjust the time according to the temperature. Pierce the skin of each potato in several places with the times of a fork before baking to allow steam to escape and prevent bursting. Do not wrap potatoes in foil; this steams rather than bakes the potatoes. Place potatoes directly on oven rack or on cookie sheet. Potatoes are done when they feel soft when pinched with mitts hands or tested with a slim skewer or fork.

Hospital Benefit To Raise Funds for Lift-Equipped Van

Chelsea Community Hospital will hold a benefit on Saturday, Nov. 2 entitled "Autumn Celebration." The benefit will be held to raise funds for the purchase of a handicap lift-equipped van for the Hospital's Rehabilitation Program.

The event promises to be exciting and fun-filled. Entertainment for the evening will include music by the Al Nalli Combo, Pat Bob Taylor in concert and an auction conducted by Braun & Helmer.

Many interesting gifts, art items and antiques will be auctioned that evening. Individuals interested in acquiring pieces from local artists such as Ben Bower or Nancy Feldkamp will enjoy this opportunity. Signed glassworks by Peter J. Severn or a hand-carved mallard decoy by Richard Cooke will be auctioned.

Antiques of all types such as a Canadian grain scale and a child's rocking chair, plus memorabilia of all types including photographs, a telephone book and a dime bank from local areas are available.

Practical items will be auctioned as well, such as a leaf blower, weed trimmer, coffee maker and cassette player.

Sports fans can find Michigan-Ohio State tickets and tailgate party, or Tiger baseball bats used by Kirk Gibson or Alan Trammel at the auction. One lucky individual will successfully bid on a season ticket to U. of M. basketball games for seating in the blue section located mid-court. Still others may prefer to bid on bottles of fine wine, a champagne hot air balloon ride for two, a sleigh ride or a gift certificate for dinner at Escoffier in Ann Arbor.

For ticket information, call 475-1311, ext. 390. Programs for the event will be mailed to ticket holders in advance.

Community Awareness Night Slated

Anyone who has ever wondered about how to deal with an aging relative, how to cope with family alcoholism, how to handle child abuse, what to do about a child who abuses drugs or is a criminal, or where to find support during a period of grief should attend a Community Awareness Night at Chelsea High school on Tuesday, Oct. 29 from 7-9 p.m.

Representatives from a variety of area support groups will be on hand to make short presentations about their services and answer questions.

The organizations represented will include Tough Love, Families Anonymous, Alateen and Alanon, New Beginnings, Turner Geriatric Clinic, and Parents Anonymous.

The meeting was organized by Chris Dimanin, a counselor at Chelsea High school, and Pam Gray, a concerned parent in the community. It will take place in the high school's media center.

For more information contact Dimanin at 475-9131 or Gray at 475-3166.

JOSEPH McDOUGALL Completes Marine Basic Training

Marine Joseph McDougall, son of Chelsea police chief Lenard and Mary McDougall, is home on leave before taking the next step in his training. Joseph entered bootcamp in July and graduated Oct. 18. He distinguished himself as the best marksman in his platoon, scoring 229 out of a possible 250 points.

Joseph will soon be leaving for Camp Pendleton, Calif. There he will enter infantry training school. He plans to study toward a law enforcement degree during his six-year tour of duty.

"I wanted to be the best" was his reason for joining the toughest branch of the United States armed forces. Joseph enjoys what he describes as perhaps the most rigorous military training in the world today.

The finance, insurance and real estate industry led all private sector industries with an increase of 5.9 percent in average annual pay between 1983 and 1984. Government workers also had an increase in pay level of 5.9 percent. Construction had the smallest increase at 1.2 percent, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Baseball's "walk" record is held by Babe Ruth: 2066 walks.

SEC Round-Up

The Bulldogs were able to control the ball in the last two minutes as the Indians were short on time outs.

Chelsea once again unveiled a potent passing attack, with Todd Starkey the recipient of two touchdown passes. Running back Curtis Heard had his best game of the season, rushing for 160 yards and two touchdowns.

It was Chelsea's second victory in five SEC games. The Bulldogs have their homecoming against Pinckney this Friday.

Tecumseh had won three games in a row until last Friday, mainly on the strength of their defense, shutting out two opponents during that stretch. The Indians, who fell to 2-3 in SEC action, play Dexter this Friday in Dexter.

The Milan Big Reds were shut out for the fourth straight week, this time falling to non-conference opponent Milford, a class A school, 34-0.

In the last four weeks, Milan has been outscored, 104-0.

The Big Reds managed only 21 yards in total offense, 27 passing and minus six rushing.

Milan falls into the four-way tie for third place in the SEC at 2-3. They play at Lincoln this Friday.
