ONE HUNDRED-FIFTEENTH YEAR—No. 28

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1985

22 Pages This Week

THE FALL CORN HARVEST is way behind schedule, say area corn farmers, who are normally through by Thanksgiving. More than twice the normal amount of rain fell in November, leaving the ground too soggy for heavy farm equipment to maneuver. Harold Trinkle, whose son Doug is in the picker above, says he still has about 300 acres to go. He says it will take two or three days of 20 degree weather, in order for the ground to harden enough, before he'll be able to do any more picking. He also says he's talked to at least one farmer who's only harvested about 20 percent of his crop.

Shopping Center Proposed for Site Along Old US-12

Work could begin early next year on a 40-60,000 square foot shopping center in Chelsea.

That's the hope of developer Rene Papo, 26, of Ann Arbor, who last week received approval from the Chelsea Economic Development Corp. to issue the bonds for the project.

Bonds issued through the EDC, but financed through a standard financial institution, are tax-exempt, making an eight percent bond a 16 percent investment for someone in the 50 percent tax bracket.

Papo said he moved quickly to receive the approval because there is a possibility the tax laws may change next year.

"I hope to push this through pretty quickly because the longer you wait the less economical the project becomes," Papo said.

"Chelsea needs a shopping center like this to grow, but I don't want it to compete with the downtown businesses," Papo said.

Papo made his pitch to the EDC without any specific plans. He hopes to locate the center on land between the Chelsea State Bank branch office and the fairgrounds on Old US-12, which is now primarily used for parking for the fair. However, he said he has to purchase the land, and he has to lure a major business. He has yet to work with an architect, and he has no clients lined up.

"I'm talking to a general merchandising business, a company like a K-Mart, only smaller," Papo said. "Right now it looks good."

Papo said in addition to the major client, he sees having six or eight other smaller "service and retail," clients, such as an optometrist, a laundromat, a shoe store, and a family-style restaurant.

"The water flow and the sewer system out there will be a big question," Papo said.

"That's all up to the village."

Papo said he consulted with a California market research firm about the area's economic potential before deciding to go ahead with the project.

"They told me that within a 10 mile radius of Chelsea there are 26,000 people who spend up to $140 million on retail products every year," Papo said.

"About $6 million is spent on drugs and related items, and $20 million on merchandise, and $13 million on restaurants. A lot of that business is going to Ann Arbor."

Papo said the typical arrangement is for clients to sign five year leases for space in a center. He said he needs to lease a minimum of 60 percent of the space "to make the banks feel comfortable," about the investment.

By financing through the EDC, Papo should be able to get financing for about two percent under the prime rate, according to EDC Chairman Dan Murphy. The requirement for EDC financing is the ability to show that the project will either save jobs or create jobs in Chelsea.

Murphy said the EDC vote was 6-0 in favor of the project, with two abstentions and one voter not present.

Papo is a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High School. He is the son of Dr. Michael Papo of New York, who was instrumental in the development of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Papo manages several other retail-office complexes in southern Michigan, including two buildings in Ann Arbor's Research Park, the Federal Center in Ann Arbor, and Tecumseh Plaza Shopping Center.

"If I hadn't gotten EDC approval, it would have been a difficult job to complete," Papo said. "The next big thing is to line up that one major client."

Much Corn Still Standing In Fields Because of Rains

Nearly 40 percent of this year's corn crop is still in the fields as a result of the unusually wet weather during November.

That's the estimate of Jerry

Heydlauff, manager of Honegger's & Co., Inc., the company that buys and dries much of the area's corn.

"The farmers are way behind this year because they can't get their combines into the fields due to the muck," Heydlauff said. "It's impossible to get into the fields. The machines are too heavy. There were only a few days last month when it didn't rain. We're usually almost done by Thanksgiving."

According to the U.S. Weather Service, southeastern Michigan received more than twice the normal amount of rain last month. The service also predicts a 50 percent chance that the weather will be both warmer and wetter than normal this winter.

Heydlauff says it's been many years since he's seen the corn crop in such a state. A few seasons ago the last of the corn was picked in January. He says he fears it could be well into the spring, when the grounds dry out, before the crop will be completely picked.

"If it keeps snowing, the ground will never freeze hard enough where they can get the combines in," Heydlauff said.

"What we need now is some real dry, real cold weather so the ground will harden enough." The corn will be in good shape in the spring provided "it stays up," Heydlauff says. Once it falls to the ground "the deer will hit it pretty hard."

Heydlauff says he knows of at least two farmers, who he declined to name, who still have at least 300 acres of corn each to pick, which translates to about 30,000 bushels or $70,000.

"That's quite a bit of change still out there in the fields," Heydlauff said.

"A lot of the farmers in the area can handle this sort of thing better than farmers somewhere else because they are more diversified. Many have hogs and cattle and don't depend completely on grain."

If the corn isn't picked until late in the spring, there could be a delay in getting next year's crops in the ground. Farmers normally begin working on the new crop at the end of April or the first part of May.

Teamsters Contract Ok'd for Police Officers

The first contract ever for Chelsea police officers and dispatchers was unanimously approved last week by the Chelsea Village Council, putting an official end to 13 months of negotiations.

The three-year contract takes effect immediately, and is retroactive to March 1. It expires Feb. 29, 1988.

The contract was negotiated by Teamsters Local 129. It covers all full-time patrol officers and dispatchers. Chief Lenard McDougall is working under his own contract. The department's 10 part-time employees are not covered.

The contract gives patrol officers what amounts to a 5.4 percent group raise for the first year. The amount per individual officer varies widely depending on seniority. For example, an officer with one-year experience is receiving a 16 percent raise, but an officer with two years seniority will receive only a four percent raise. There are six different pay grades (down from seven prior to the contract), and each is receiving a different first-year raise. In both 1986 and 1987, all officers will receive 3.5 percent raises.

Clerk/dispatcher position receives a collective 6.4 percent raise the first year and a four percent raise in each 1986 and 1987.

Dispatcher position receives a 9.2 percent collective raise in 1986, 5.5 percent in 1986 and 4.6 percent in 1987.

The union also negotiated dental insurance, increased life insurance protection, a half day added vacation, and a longevity bonus. The bonus entitles all covered employees $300 a year after eight years service and $600 a year after 15 years.

Patrolmen also received certain assurances about maintenance schedules for patrol vehicles, "since they have to spend all day driving in them," according to union representative Jerry Caster.

Benefits lost in the negotiations were a three percent cost of living adjustment, Christmas bonuses and the automatic conversion of overtime worked into compensatory time.

According to Village Manager Fritz Weber, the retroactive pay should appear in employees' Dec. 20 paychecks.

Chelsea police first contacted the union in the summer of 1984, Caster said. The contract took so long to negotiate, in part, because negotiators were starting "with a clean sheet of paper. Every little number, every little semicolon had to be negotiated," he said.

The negotiations became bogged down several months ago over non-economic issues, such as management rights, grievance procedures and no-strike clauses. Charles Jameson, a mediator from Michigan Employment Relations Commission, was brought in to get the talks going again. From then on, Caster said, the talks went more smoothly.

Caster said pay for Chelsea police is now "well above average," for communities of equal size.

"That was always their history," Caster said. "They've always been higher than surrounding communities. But they felt they were starting to fall behind their historical position and that their pay was starting to erode. They had no contract prior to this and the level of their pay and (Continued on page two)

Athletic Boosters Plan Dinner-Dance

Chelsea Athletic Boosters were proud to have helped purchase the new scoreboard for the football field. The new football facility is now totally complete and it's something Chelsea can be proud of. The Boosters have been instrumental in purchasing many needed athletic items that the athletic budget cannot afford.

The Boosters are now asking for the support of the community by attending their dinner-dance.

Chelsea Athletic Boosters annual Spirit Dinner-Dance will be held Saturday, Jan. 25, from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Chrysler UAW Hall. The doors will open at 7 with dinner being served at 7:30 and dancing by Eclipse band music starting at 9.

Tickets are available at all home basketball games, from the Athletic Department, or from the following boosters: Ginny Wheaton, 475-7412, Betty Mull, 475-1797, or Sue Bellus, 475-7917.

Menu for the dinner includes roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy, vegetable, salad, and rolls. Beer and set-ups will be available. BYOB.

Academic Games Team Coming Along Strong

Beach Middle school's academic games team, the "Chelsea Challengers," is in second place for their region, according to coach Dennis Petsch. The team is just five points behind South Lyon.

Petsch said the team has been doing extremely well in recent tournaments.

"The region is the toughest in the state," Petsch says. "We have to compete against school teams who meet daily. We only meet twice a week after school."

Petsch said if the team scores a perfect 100 this Saturday, the Challengers may find themselves in first place in the region on Monday.

The team is planning a fundraiser on Saturday, Dec. 21, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Longworth Plating building. Included will be a bake sale and Christmas present wrapping. There will also be specially-made Christmas stockings to purchase. Advance orders may be made by calling 475-7977. Proceeds will go to help defray costs for the state tournament in March.

Choir Singer Has Car Stolen at Cassidy Lake

A woman who was singing in a choir at Cassidy Lake Technical School last Saturday night had her automobile stolen by two of the inmates, who later abandoned the vehicle in Chelsea, police reported.

Police said Duce L. Clark, 19, and Jonathan Clark, 20, stole a 1985 Buick belonging to Genette Fowler of Ypsilanti, who was visiting the institution with a choir. Police said the automobile may have run out of gasoline since it was reported to have been less than a quarter full when it was stolen.

Neither man had been apprehended as of press time.

Chelsea police found the automobile at 8:15 the next morning in front of a residence at 509 Maywood St. while writing a routine parking ticket. The automobile had a damaged left fender, a broken left vent window, a smashed steering column and damage to the front spoiler.

Police also found two blue winter prison jackets about 100 feet away, one which contained a piece of paper with Jonathan Clark's prison schedule on it.

Duce Clark is described as a black man, 5-9, 140 pounds. He was serving 18 months to five years for breaking and entering, and 18 months to 10 years for larceny.

Jonathan Clark is described as a black man, 6-1, 165 pounds. He was serving two to 10 years for breaking and entering and one to two and a half years for attempted larceny.

The men are not related, prison officials said.

Cub Scouts Are Selling Xmas Trees

The traditional Cub Scout Christmas tree sale is more than a means to fund the year's events. Cub Packs 435 and 455, boys of North and South schools, are learning valuable lessons by working on preparations, set up, display posters, and selling of trees.

Christmas trees are located south of town on M-52 right next to McDonald's restaurant. Hours of operation are 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday; Sunday, noon to 6 p.m., through Dec. 24.

This is the primary fund-raiser for both Cub Packs for the year. Pack leaders David Baker and Ron Montange, Committee members Robert Havens, Robert Frost, Rusty LaFerge, Jim Hallett and all the Cub Scouts and parents are working on the project.

Christopher Tobin Graduates at Ferris

Christopher M. Tobin of Chelsea recently graduated from Ferris State College in Big Rapids with a bachelor of science degree in accounting.

He is the son of Martin and Janette Tobin, 176 E. Summit St.

SITTING ON SANTA'S KNEE was a real treat for Shannon, left, and Erin Longe of Chelsea last Saturday at South school. Santa said the six-year-old twins are hoping for a...well Santa's secret is safe until Dec. 25. Shannon and Erin are the daughters of Linda and David Longe of Lincoln St.

Tuesday, Dec. 8, 1981—

Just prior to Thanksgiving, four Ann Arbor hikers completed their six-month, 3,000-mile trek for blindness. They stepped on Mexican soil, Nov. 24, in time to arrive in Santa Fe, N. M., on the 25th, where one of the trekkers, Pat Ball, married Ann Arborite Don Bauer.

Purpose of the Sight Trek from Canada to Mexico was to raise funds for the Nepal Blindness Project, a program of the locally based SEVA Foundation.

Chelsea Christmas Festival will get underway Saturday, Dec. 12, with a vast assortment of special holiday activities.

The Chelsea Merchants Association is sponsoring the week-long Christmas extravaganza, during which Santa Claus will be making a stop during one afternoon and Fat Bob Taylor will lead the annual Christmas Sing, with most stores remaining open that night for the convenience of local shoppers.

Bob Benedict and Rick Eder were part of the diligent stage and drama crew working long hours to prepare for next week's production, "The Teahouse of the August Moon," at the Chelsea High auditorium.

Package Aims at Cutting Time Children Spend in Foster Care

A joint House/Senate legislative package will attack "one of Michigan's worst problems" by reducing the amount of time a child spends in foster care before either returning home or being adopted, legislators and a former Supreme Court chief justice said recently.

Some 25 percent of the 11,400 children now in the foster care system have been in for more than two years, former Supreme Court Chief Justice Mary Coleman, Senator Connie Binsfeld (R-Maple City) and Representative Debbie Stabenow (D-Lansing) reported.

A package of two bills, based on the recommendations of a commission appointed by Coleman shortly before she left the Supreme Court in 1982, will attempt to end that kind of delay by creating a legislative oversight committee to monitor the status of children in foster care, prohibit placing children in unlicensed foster homes and requiring more frequent foster care reviews by the probate court.

The package would attempt to assure that children are "at home as much as possible. They should only be removed for safety reasons," Stabenow, sponsor of HB 5171 which would enact much of the package, said.

Once a child is removed, however, "We should move as quickly as possible to get them to a permanent situation, either to go home or to another home," she said.

Foster care is supposed to be a temporary form of care, Binsfeld said, but it is becoming more permanent for some children. She will introduce the Senate portion of the package.

Coleman also said keeping a child in foster care for two years or more is "cruel. Children have to put down roots, they have to depend on someone."

The three said the state currently spends some $75 million on foster care children. Approximately 11,400 children are in the system, 9,600 through the Department of Social Services and 1,800 through the probate courts.

Ingham County Probate Court Judge Donald Owen said the full magnitude of the problem is not known publicly largely because foster care proceedings are closed to the public.

The package would create a six member legislative oversight committee to review the status of children in foster care homes; require more frequent foster care reviews by the probate court, including an annual hearing on the permanent status of a child; permit probate court judges to terminate parental rights in desertion, abuse, violation of court orders, mental deficiency, felony convictions or chronic abuse of other family members, increase a child's age of jurisdiction for abuse and neglect matters from 17 to 18; prohibit housing a child in unlicensed facilities or in homes where the license is suspended or under review; and encourage visitation by the natural parents unless it is shown to be clearly harmful.

Corrections Considering Expanding Muskegon Facility
A 500-bed expansion of the Muskegon prison facility is under consideration, Corrections Director Robert Brown reported.

The state is looking at building a new regional prison directly adjacent of the current 645-bed medium security unit because the area can support a second prison and because the public response to the current facility has been excellent, Brown said.

The department is looking at a 120-acre site southeast of the current prison for purchase.

If the Legislature approves a new facility in that location, a temporary 480-bed prison will be built immediately for $4 million, Brown said, that could be open by mid-1986.

The state is currently 1,400 prisoners over its rated capacity. The department is currently building or planning facilities in Detroit and Macomb, Oakland, Lapeer, Jackson, Ionia and Wayne counties.

Modern Mothers Members Enjoy Christmas Dinner

Modern Mothers Study Club began an exciting holiday season with their annual hand-made items auction which was held on Nov. 12 at the Fair Service Center. This year's auction had the additional treat of an ivory candle-wicked quilt created by all members of the club which was won in a raffle drawing by Barbara Branch. Proceeds from the sale of raffle tickets amounting to over $500 will be donated to the Chelsea High School Scholarship Fund. Mrs. Janet Alford, club finance committee chairman, organized a delightful evening for all.

On Dec. 3 Modern Mothers met for their annual Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Judi Wahl. A wonderful meal with the theme of "A Country Christmas" was enjoyed, followed by a gift exchange among members. Liseli Bowers, Christmas committee chairman, and her crew of Jerri Cole, Debbie Peck, Colleen Weddon and Carole Zenz spent many hours in the preparation of food and favors to ensure a great holiday mood for the evening.

The club's next meeting, Great Get-aways, will be held Jan. 14, at the home of Mrs. Jeanene Riemenschneider. The meeting begins at 8 p.m.

Fall Farm Accident Rates Soar This Year

This fall may go down in the record books as one of the worst years for accidents on Michigan farms, according to Ron Gaskill, farm safety specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Gaskill cites the recent rash of farm accidents, which have resulted in many severe injuries and several deaths, on farmers under pressure to get their crops in quickly after harvest delays caused by inclement weather. He urges farms to always follow key safety rules no matter how busy they may be.

"Farmers should take 15 to 20 minute rest periods every six to eight hours. They should make sure that if they're working in a remote location that someone checks on them periodically. If they're injured there, being found quickly could be the difference between life and death," he said.

tell his impressions as a member of the Bonner subcommittee of the House Committee on Expenditures in Executive Depts. The subcommittee members returned to Washington last week from a six-week trip around the world, visiting Germany, Japan and other countries.

Meader told Kiwanians here of the vast military and economic aid programs of the United States and of the need for everyone to be well-informed on the subject. He believes the aid program can be carried out efficiently with much less than the present cost.

Main purpose of the congressional visit was to observe firsthand certain changes in the military supply system which the lawmakers feel will improve the operation and make it more efficient.

Members of the WSCS of the Methodist church held their Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Warren Daniels, Dec. 5. Mrs. A. A. Palmer conducted the opening devotional service.

Christmas poetry, carols by a WSCS choir and letters from young people working in the Japanese, Korean and Indian mission fields of the Methodist church were included in the evening's program.

Gifts were brought to the meeting for a Methodist Orphans Home in Texas, and Mrs. John Fischer reported Christmas boxes were sent out to all servicemen of the local church.

Sally Leeth has been selected by her classmates and the faculty at the high school for the DAR Good Citizenship Award.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Farrell of South St. Before coming to Chelsea in 1950, she attended Albion High. She is president of the Class of 1952 and a member of the Journalism club. She has also participated in the junior and senior plays.

After graduation, Sally plans to take up secretarial work.

The Congregational church will have its annual Christmas program Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16.

During the program, a new picture, "Christ and the Children," for the primary department will be dedicated. The picture is a gift from Mrs. R. A. McLaughlin and her sister, Mrs. C. L. Trafford, in memory of their mother, Mrs. Ernest Dancer.

Recitations and songs will be presented by the nursery and primary departments, and a Christmas play presented by the juniors, directed by Virginia Christwell.

Connie Steinbach will be the piano accompanist for the children's singing and Mrs. Lawrence Wacker will play the organ for the rest of the service.

Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Proctor of South Lyon.

The eighth grade science class is planning a debate. The topic will be: Resolved, that the sea would make a better home than dry land.

The affirmative side will be represented by Mary Patrick and George Collyer, while the negative side members will be Beth Irwin and Marilyn Hoffbaum.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

With the new year only three weeks away many of us are challenged by brave thoughts about personal health reform.

God bless the smokers who quit cold turkey and never take another drag of cancer smoke into their lungs again. Smoking one less cigarette a day for 20 days rarely works. Living through a single 24-hour day without one cigarette is 90 percent of the battle. Day No. 2 gets you to 95 percent.

God bless the alcoholics who pour the last half of the bottle down the sink and never touch a drop again. For this addiction gradual reduction often does work. Having one less ounce a day every day down to zero frequently succeeds in breaking the alcohol habit where all other efforts fail.

And God help the dieters for this the most widespread and fragile of all New Year's resolutions. Unlike the heroism of giving up poisonous substances such as alcohol or tobacco, no one can live for long without nourishment. The central issue in the Battle of the Bulge, of course, is overeating.

This brings us to a sad statistic, supported by decades of medical observation: Nineteen out of 20 persons who attempt programs of fast weight reduction will fail. Many will lose some of that fat but they will soon gain it back again—and more.

Why? Because people become overweight in unfelt fractions of an ounce at a time. The daily grams become weekly ounces and the weekly ounces become a pound. Adding a pound in three months doesn't seem like much but the sinister gain becomes four pounds in a year and twenty pounds in five years.

Weight gain takes place so sneakily. Then comes the dismaying reflection in the bathroom mirror followed by a heroic New Year Resolution to get rid of those 20 pounds by February first!

If this happens to be your situation you are now a perfect victim for the allure of those weight loss ads where paid claimants say, "I lost 20 pounds in 20 days!" Or, wonder of wonders, "Lose weight while you sleep!"

Anyone who goes on a fad or crash diet has only one chance in 20 of getting back to Desirable Weight and staying there. This is true whether or not the victim has studied miracle diet books written by M.D.s who have betrayed the principles of their profession. It also includes aspirants who have joined a diet group, jogged or biked, invested in exercise machines, purchased special diet foods, taken diet "medicines," induced sweat losses, eaten exotic diets, starved or exercised to exhaustion.

The safe, sensible way to lose weight is the way you put it on—a little bit at a time. If your weight gain has been the product of many years, you don't have to do it that slowly. But if you will be content to lose a pound a month, for instance, you can lose 24 pounds in two years while training yourself not to regain them.

What is your Desirable Weight? Many doctors say, if you had normal weight as a child, you should try to maintain your weight as of age 25-29 for life. Based on your present age and other considerations, you may select a different number as your ideal weight, but if you are burdened with 15 percent more poundage than you had at age 25 you have a health problem named obesity.

If you can't remember your weight at or around 25, you may find it in insurance or employment records, physicians' files or where. Failing these, look up the Metropolitan Life "Ideal Weight" statistics in the current World Almanac under Weights.

What can you do about excess weight acquired in adulthood? Make these promises to yourself:

1. I am going to reduce my food energy consumption to the point where I am no longer gaining weight.
2. Having done this, I will then cut my consumption so that each day I am losing a little weight.
3. When I reach Desirable Weight I will maintain this discipline so that I am never fat again.

Implicit in your promise are two characteristics that set it apart from all other weight control programs:

1. You have no deadline for reaching Desirable Weight.
2. The attainment of Desirable Weight is inevitable as long as you live up to your promises.

Questions immediately arise:
How do I know how much to eat?
What foods are okay to eat?
What foods am I to avoid?
Do I have to count calories?
How do I measure and weigh foods?
What if I eat out a lot?

There's no way to answer all these questions here and now. Later I'll try to suggest publications in libraries or bookstores that can help you. But let me hasten to say that calories do count just as dollars and cents are at the heart of all you earn, all you spend, all you owe and all you own.

Calories are the dollars and cents of nutrition and weight control, and your basic denominator is 3,500 calories to one pound of flesh. A 160-pound lumberjack's body will burn up about 3,500 calories a day and he must eat that much food energy daily to keep going and maintain his present weight.

A 120-pound schoolteacher who is lightly active needs about 2,800 calories a day to maintain a stable weight. So what we are saying is that the heavily active lumberjack has an energy balance of 3,500 per day. The lightly active schoolteacher has an energy balance of 1,800. If either of these people eats or drinks 100 calories above his or her energy balance each day, he or she will have an excess of 36,500 calories per year.

Got your hand calculator ready? An excess of 36,500 calories over energy balance equals 10.4 pounds a year! Now our lumberjack weighs 170+ pounds. Now our teacher looks at her scale and sees 130+ pounds. To maintain his new 170-pound weight the lumberjack must eat no more than 3,700 calories a day. To get back down to his former 160 pounds he must reduce his intake to 3,400 calories a day.

Now, about you (or someone close to you) suffering from obesity. Losing weight is only your second goal. Achievement Number 1 is fulfilling your promise to stop gaining weight. If you have been gaining a half pound a month, prove to yourself that you can bring it to a halt. Then go ahead and begin to lose a half pound a month. Pace yourself so that you are comfortable and confident in the knowledge that you are a winner.

Do these things, and somewhere down the line—glory be!—the bathroom scale will proclaim your weight as age 25.

Now you are confidently prepared for Step 3, the easiest of all: maintaining that weight. In the process you have also learned to defend your body from foods that are dangerous to your health.

Let's go on with the rest of this in the Christmas edition of The Standard—a week before the calendar votes your New Year Resolution into law.

L. Estleman Autographing Session Set

Area writer Loren D. Estleman will autograph copies of his books in person at the Little Professor Book Center in Ann Arbor's Westgate mall Sunday, Dec. 18, from 6 to 8 p.m.

The event is planned in conjunction with the back-to-back publication of Estleman's latest two novels, "Roses Are Dead" and "Gun Man." Readers will have the opportunity to meet the author and to obtain his autograph on these and other titles available at that time.

"Gun Man," a Doubleday publication, is Estleman's 21st novel. It recounts the life and adventures of an authentic-type fictional western gunfighter from the time he kills his first man at age 12 until his death. "Roses Are Dead," published last September, is the second in Estleman's trilogy about a modern-day professional killer who works out of Detroit.

The event will mark Estleman's first public autographing session in more than a year.

SANTA GOT AN EARFUL from Jodi, left, and Erin Keiper as the daughters of Kathy Keiper of Summit St. had a chance to tell all their secret wishes to the old man. Jodi, a third grader, and Erin, a pre-schooler at South school, were among the large gathering of children who turned out for Santa's first Chelsea visit.

U-M's AstroFest Offers Space Shuttle Update

Slides and films from August's two Space Shuttle missions will be featured in the 154th AstroFest presentation at the University of Michigan.

The free public program, "How to Hot-Wire a Satellite and the Great Tail Tale: An All-New Space Shuttle Update," is set for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 13 in Auditorium 3, Modern Languages Building.

"Mission 51-F" was the Shuttle flight most people in southeastern Michigan could actually see in our skies," according to Jim Loudon, AstroFest director and staff astronomer at the U-M Exhibit Museum. "It was worth the wait. Challenger outshone the brightest stars and one night showed a tail like a comet's."

The next mission, 51-I, "featured the dangerous, spectacular repair by humans of a satellite whose unmanned equipment had failed," Loudon notes.

He promises that the three-hour AstroFest program, which includes slide-illustrated explanations of the missions and films narrated by the astronauts who flew them, will be "understandable even if you have no science background."

AstroFest, celebrating its 15th anniversary this year, is sponsored by the U-M's Exhibit Museum and Department of Aerospace Engineering.

Outdoor Christmas Decorations Reported Stolen Saturday

Somebody seems to be in desperate need of outdoor Christmas decorations.

Twice during the night of Saturday, Dec. 7 thefts occurred, Chelsea police reported.

Two 14-inch wooden reindeer and a 16-inch plastic Santa Claus were stolen from 1218 Meadow Lane. In another part of the village, at 551 Howard St., 100 feet of Christmas lights and an extension cord valued at approximately $125 were taken.

Police have no suspects in the case, and did not say whether or not the cases were related.

Cedar Lake Cabins Open For Renters

Waterloo Recreation Area will be renting the cabins at Cedar Lake Outdoor Center this winter to families and small groups for overnight use. These cabins are nestled in a picturesque setting on Cedar Lake.

Although rustic, the cabins are equipped with electricity and gas heaters. Water is available on the site, but toilet facilities are primitive. Each cabin will sleep up to 10 people and will rent for $32 per night.

Although use is expected to be primarily by cross-country skiers, you don't have to be a skier to use the cabins. With appropriate weather conditions, the facilities are suitable for ice fishing, hiking, bird and animal watching, sledding, ice skating or almost any other outdoor activity the imagination might conjure up. The area around the cabins is closed to hunting and the use of off-road vehicles.

For further information or to make reservations please call the Waterloo Recreation Area at 475-8307. Office hours are 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER will be performed tomorrow night for the general public at 7:30 in the Chelsea High school auditorium. It's a presentation of the school's stage and drama class. The comedy features Sheridan Whiteside, played by Chris Herter, in the wheelchair, as a famous drama critic who visits the home of a not-

Great Lakes Water Study Commission Begins Project

The Great Lake Water Resources Planning Commission, appointed by the governor and legislative leaders, met recently to begin a two-year study of state water issues, and Farm Bureau is concerned that the water needs of agriculture may be overlooked. There is no agricultural representation on the planning commission, according to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"Water is an absolute necessary ingredient in the production of food, so if this commission recognizes agriculture as a factor in water use, it will be a tremendous step forward. However, whether or not the commission will consider agriculture is an open question at this point," said Nelson.

The commission is expected to review Great Lakes water diversion proposals and state agency responsibilities for water policies; evaluate the state's water law and assemble data into a single water plan document; and develop plans to promote the state's water to attract economic development, tourists and sports enthusiasts.

Pinckney Area Youth Completes Marine Personnel Clerk Course

Marine Lance Cpl. Fredrick M. Aten, son of Wendell and Jeannie Aten of 8565 Silver Hill, Pinckney, has completed the Personnel Clerk Course.

During the eight-week course at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C., Aten received instruction on the preparation and maintenance of officer and enlisted service records. He also studied preparation of all personnel documents including identification cards, promotion certificates, individual evaluation reports and leave authorizations.

A 1979 graduate of Dexter High School, Dexter, and a 1984 graduate of Michigan Technological University, Houghton, with a Bachelor of Science degree, he joined the Marine Corps in February 1985.

Pinckney Man's Son Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Dale R. Nickell, son of Clarence P. Nickell of 4296 Burgess, Pinckney, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Nickell's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Nickell's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit.

Health Insurance Deduction Sought By Farm Bureau

Michigan Farm Bureau's director of public affairs, Al Almy, expressed disappointment that the U.S. House Ways and Means Committee, when it reported out a tax reform bill recently, did not include legislation that would permit self-employed individuals to deduct one-half of their health insurance costs on their federal tax returns. He still has hopes, however, that the Farm Bureau sponsored legislation will be approved by Congress.

"We will make a concerted effort, when the Senate takes up its tax reform legislation, to have an amendment added that would give self-employed people this deduction. We still believe the deduction has a good chance of being approved by Congress, despite the emphasis in Washington on finding revenue to cut the deficit," he said. "The deduction would provide a reasonable and responsible remedy to the inequity in the federal income tax system that now exists."

Almy said that many employers furnish health insurance coverage for their employees, the cost of which is deductible to the employer and tax free to the employee. This tax advantage is not available to self-employed people who must buy their health insurance with after-tax dollars, he said.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

* A Water Plan

The urgency for some states to develop state-wide water plans is becoming more and more prevalent. The problem is that it takes many hands to hammer out such a massive piece of legislation that will address the many, often conflicting, priority needs of water users.

It is extremely important for all states to develop some sort of plan that will carry into the 21st century. Michigan is luckier than most states in that it has abundant water resources. However, the demands for water and the rights to it from the three largest sectors of Michigan's economy—agriculture, industry, and tourism—are an increasing area of conflict.

While those involved in the production of food—for which water is an absolute necessity—realize they are not the only ones with long-range water concerns, they are determined that, in the development of a state water plan, they won't be treated like a neglected stepchild. While industry and tourism are vitally important to the state's economy, agriculture has been, and will remain, Michigan's most stable industry and its water needs must be recognized.

Just how important is the issue, not just in Michigan but in other states as well? One of the Texas legislative officials introduced the subject to his colleagues this way: "I've got some good news and I've got bad news. We're all going to be drinking recycled sewage water by the year 2000. That's the good news. The bad news is—there's not going to be enough of it to go around."

Aren't you glad you live in Michigan?

Fire Safety Precautions Noted for Holiday Season

In the interest of holiday fire safety, the State Police Fire Marshal Division and local fire departments join in cautioning Michigan residents about the use of natural and artificial decorative materials.

Officials say every year tragic fires involving loss of life, property, and personal injury occur due to the unsafe or improperly maintained holiday decorations. For a safer holiday, the following precautions are suggested:

1. Before natural trees are set up, the trunk of the tree should be freshly cut at least one inch above the original cut and maintained in a container of clear water. Tree stands must be able to provide adequate support and should have a large reservoir for water.
2. A tree showing signs of unusual dryness should be removed from the residence immediately.
3. Trees should not be located in residence exit areas.
4. Artificial trees should bear testing labels indicating they are "flame-resistant."
5. Electrically operated or lighted tree stands and electric light sets should bear testing laboratory labels and should be examined for defects prior to use.
6. Use of electric lights on trees should be supervised by responsible persons.
7. If metallic trees are used, no electrical lights or wiring should be placed on or in contact with the tree.
8. Use of candles or any open flame near decorations is strongly discouraged. Dispose of Christmas wrappings safely and promptly. Do not burn them in the fireplace.
9. A portable fire extinguisher should be readily accessible in the event of fire. All family members should become familiar with its operating procedures.

where concrete has been removed to insure the health, safety and welfare of persons and vehicles using the crossings, in Lima Township.

Approved motion to accept the contract with Campbell, Kusterer and Walraven for the 1985-86 audit.

Approved motion to write to the Washtenaw County Planning Commission opposing the part of the new land use plan which still includes the proposed Mill Creek Park.

Munith Area Man Completes Air Force Basic Training

Airman Kenneth D. Kitley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kitley of 11443 Waterloo-Munith Rd., Munith, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

His wife, Tammy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moffat of 18745 Williamsville, Gregory.

He is a 1985 graduate of Stockbridge High school.

Wild Turkeys Likely Elude Holiday Dinner

One breed of turkey will likely beat getting basted this holiday season: wild turkeys, the speedsters of the species.

Wild gobblers have been clocked in flight at top speeds of 42 miles per hour; and, even on the ground, they can dash faster than all but the fastest human runners. They are among the most elusive game animals around, according to the current issue of International Wildlife magazine.

The birds seem to prefer walking to flying, but when they do fly, they can zoom through the air with surprising agility. Their powerful legs and wings, specially adapted for rapid acceleration, help boost the bulky bird from the ground.

The wild birds, indeed, are a breed apart from their domesticated kin—farm turkeys—which have lost their swiftness and ability to fly.

The wild turkey's fast maneuvers, however, are short-lived. After a quick burst of speed, the bird becomes exhausted. The gobbler rarely attempts flights longer than a quarter-mile; and, even on the ground, it doesn't get very far. It lacks a red pigment that, in far-flying birds, combines with oxygen to burn energy over long distances. (The absence of the red pigment also explains why most wild turkey meat is white.)

Despite the bird's flagging endurance, catching the animal is no easy matter. "I've chased a wild turkey down on foot myself, with the help of another fellow," says Lovett Williams, a Florida biologist. "Doing it, though, darned near killed us."

Legislator Asks for Farm Assessment Study

Concerned about the financial crisis facing farmers, an area lawmaker strongly supports a resolution in the Michigan House that asks the State Tax Commission to study how agricultural land values are assessed in Michigan.

State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Lodi township) said that United States Department of Agriculture statistics show Michigan having the third highest per acre agricultural property tax in the nation (behind Rhode Island and New Jersey) and the highest per acre tax in the 12-state Midwest region.

"The state needs to take a closer look at how farm land is assessed," O'Connor said. "Michigan's total tax levied per acre of farmland is five times the national average and the amount levied per $100 market value is nearly four times the national average and we need to know why."

The resolution asks the commission to study the issue in cooperation with county equalization boards and local assessors. The group is asked to make a final report to the Legislature no later than Jan. 1.

Mrs. O'Connor said the commission has been asked to determine trends in assessed value of agricultural property by county for the last decade and to investigate alternative methods of determining the true cash value of agricultural land.

The assessed value of real property on Michigan farms rose 8.1 percent from 1980 to 1984 while the U.S. Department of Agriculture says it should have declined 10 percent, O'Connor added.

"Assessing agricultural land is one of the many issues facing farmers today. The farm crisis grows deeper every day. Low farm prices, wet weather and low yields continue to plague farmers. The commission study could shed some light on the assessment issue and make necessary recommendations," O'Connor concluded.

Although the female-male earnings ratio varies considerably among occupational groups, women's earnings rarely approach men's, even in the same occupational group, except in jobs with narrowly defined skill levels in the same establishment, according to "Earnings Difference Between Women and Men Workers," a fact sheet issued by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

In occupations that are traditionally female, such as most clerical jobs, men's earnings have been consistently higher than women's, according to "Earnings Difference Between Women and Men Workers," a fact sheet issued by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Ask MESC

PUBLIC INFORMATION SERVICES DIVISION

7310 WOODWARD AVE. - DETROIT, MICH. 48202 - (313) 876-5488

Question: I recently received a notice from MESC saying that they were paying unemployment benefits to an individual and charging my account. Well, this individual never worked for me. How can I get this corrected?

Answer: Occasionally, the wrong employer's experience account will be mistakenly charged. This occurs when the claimant's former employer is incorrectly identified or a transposition is made in recording the employer's account number.

To correct the problem, immediately contact the MESC office that made the unemployment benefit payment. The notice you received about the payment identifies the MESC office that made the payment and lists the office address on the reverse side. That office staff will make the correction and you will be informed of the credit on a future notice.

With over 160,000 active covered employers in the state, many employers are bound to have similar names. To avoid potential confusion and assure proper charging, you should give your laid off employees a copy of our "Notice to Employees" (MESC form number 1711). This

Washtenaw Is No. 1 In Seat Belt Use

Washtenaw county is Number One!

Washtenaw county ranked number one state-wide in seatbelt use, based on observations conducted by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning in July, 1985. 76% of all front seat occupants were buckled up, in contrast with the state-wide average of 58%.

Observations were conducted at four sites in the county: East and Westbound I-94 at State St., Huron and Ashley, and South University and Washtenaw, all in Ann Arbor. Throughout Michigan, observations were conducted in 32 counties and at 240 sites.

Although Washtenaw county residents are buckling up in record numbers, the Health Department is reminding those who haven't caught the habit, "now's the time to start."

The Department is also concerned that the "honeymoon" may soon be over for those who began to buckle up in response to the 1985 seatbelt law. According to Beverly Chethik, co-ordinator of Health Education, "observations conducted in New Jersey and New York State document that seatbelt use often declines by as much as 20-25% six months after a seatbelt law goes into effect."

Research suggests, "the only way to prevent this kind of 'recidivism' is to publicize the buckle up message and enforce the law."

The Michigan Law, PA 1 of 1985, requires all drivers and front seat passengers to wear seatbelts. However, tickets are only issued to drivers who are stopped for another violation.

The Sheriff's Department has issued 300 tickets and 500 warnings since July 1. According to Commander Carl Rhina, the department will continue its enforcement efforts as well as its educational awareness programs.

The Health Department and other groups in the community have kept the seat belt message before the public. A Community Seatbelt Steering Committee, with members coming from business, hospitals, universities as well as the Sheriff's Department, has sponsored observation and incentive programs throughout the county.

In co-operation with the merchants from Depot Town (Ypsilanti), and Kerrytown, Plymouth Mall and the Platt-Packard Mall in Ann Arbor, observations were conducted as people drove into the parking lots. Prizes, including three pounds of fresh shrimp, free hair cuts and a tricycle, were given in support of the buckle up habit.

Another reminder to buckle up comes from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, the sponsor of the first National All American Buckle Up Week, Nov. 24-30. The event coincided with the Thanksgiving holiday when people took to the roads as they headed for family celebrations. The theme for this year's Buckle Up Week is "Start a Habit for Life."

For buckle up stickers, or more information, please call the Health Department at 973-1488.

PCV VALVE

With the average age of cars on the road at 7.5 years, here's a tip for those owners of older cars—take care of your PCV (Positive Crankcase Ventilation) valve. Remove it—hose and all—from the engine cover. Shake it. If it rattles, its working. If not, replace it. The Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association says a new one will cost around $3 and can improve carburetor performance as well as prevent back-firing.

Humane Society Earns Two National Awards

Humane Society of Huron Valley has been named recipient of two 1984 Shelter Awards by the Pets Are Wonderful (PAW) Council, a national non-profit public service organization. The PAW Shelter Awards program was developed to recognize and salute those humane organizations that are creating and developing outstanding and successful community relation programs nationwide, explained Katie O'Reilly, spokesperson for the Council.

This year, HSHV received awards for its free monthly dog training and care clinic and its educational fund-raising efforts. Last year the society won two awards for its adoption and education programs. "One of this year's winning programs, the dog training and care clinic, grew out of our adoption program where we stress an educational approach," remarked Leslie Coates, community education director at the society. "Instead of screening prospective adopters through an interview, we counsel adopters about responsible pet ownership, pet behavior, care and training. This

Dr. Raymond Howe Presents Clinic at Orthodontist Meet

Dr. Raymond P. Howe presented a clinic at the recent 57th annual meeting of the Great Lakes Society of Orthodontists in Columbus, O. Dr. Howe led his clinic on the Herbst appliance (type of brace) and received the award for having the best mini-clinic presentation during the meeting.

Dr. Howe received his dental degree in 1976 and his orthodontic degree in 1978 from the University of Michigan. He is in private practice in Chelsea and Dexter.

The Great Lakes Society has more than 975 active members in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania west of the Alleghenies and the province of Ontario in Canada. It is a constituent society of the American Association of Orthodontists.

More than 9,000 orthodontists from the United States, Canada and abroad are members of the AAO.

approach is so successful that the dog training and care clinic was created to provide the same information and instruction in more detail for current or potential dog owners because more informed pet owners tend to be more caring and responsible owners."

The clinics are taught by instructors from the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club who volunteer their time. Future dog care clinics will be held Jan. 14 and March 11 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

"One of the nicest aspects of the PAW Shelter Awards program is that all winning entries are compiled into a resource manual and sent to nearly 3,000 shelters and societies nationwide so that they might help more people and animals by implementing these tried and true programs," said Ms. Coates.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley is open to the public seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

RENOVATION OF THE COURTHOUSE depends on the village acquiring land behind the courthouse and the Main St. businesses. Plans to expand the courthouse include an addition to the back of the building, which will block off the alley, center of the photo, that runs behind the businesses. The land, which includes the home to the left, and an adjacent lot, would be used for a parking lot, and access to those businesses. Chelsea Village President Jerry Satterthwaite appointed a committee to look into the village's options.

CHS Class of '61 Plans 25th-Year Reunion in August

Chelsea High school class of 1961 held their first reunion planning meeting at the home of Larry and Nadine Koch, Friday, Dec. 6.

Saturday, Aug. 16, has been chosen for their 25-year reunion. Next planning meeting is Friday, Jan. 10, at Koch's home, 601 S. Main, Chelsea. Classmates in Chelsea, or nearby, are encouraged to attend. Call 475-7319 for more information.

District Courthouse Renovation Hinges on Acquiring More Land

The planned $295,000 renovation and expansion of Chelsea's 14th district courthouse hinges on the village's acquisition of land behind the courthouse.

That was the message village attorney Peter Flintoft delivered to the village council Tuesday, Dec. 3 at the council's regular meeting. Flintoft has been active in the push to have the courthouse renovated.

The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners recently offered a challenge to Chelsea and surrounding townships by saying that the county will ante up $160,000 to expand the court if civic organizations and other interested parties will pledge $135,000 to restore the courthouse to its original condition. The idea is to show off the elaborate architecture of the building.

As part of those expansion plans, an addition would be built at the back of the existing building, which would force the closing of the alley behind the Main St. businesses. That would, in effect, deny access to those businesses by delivery trucks.

Most of the land behind the courthouse would be used for parking and access to the Main St. businesses. Flintoft said the village needs to take possession of both parcels, one owned by the Moisan family, 114 South St., and an adjacent lot owned by Sumner Oesterle, now the site of a used car lot.

Flintoft described a number of alternatives the village might consider in terms of purchasing the land, including outright acquisition of the South St. home and land, and moving the home to another lot within the village.

Flintoft also suggested that the project might be perfect for the newly-established Downtown Development Authority. He said the DDA has the power to establish a "sinking fund," whereby any additional tax money raised as a result of increased valuation of land within the downtown development district could be used for the purchase of the land.

It was also suggested that parking meters could be put in the parking lots to help defray the cost.

Chelsea would benefit economically from the renovation in a number of ways, Flintoft said. Because of the small size of the courthouse, no jury trials are held there. That makes it necessary for Chelsea police to go to Saline for many trials, thereby costing the taxpayers. Also, he said, if jury trials are re-instituted in Chelsea, area merchants would benefit by the regular influx of hundreds of prospective jurors.

As a result of Flintoft's report, Village President Jerry Satterthwaite appointed a committee to study the village's options. The committee consists of Joe Merkel, Richard Steele, Fritz Weber and Herman Radloff.

Varsity Cagers Lose Season Opening Game At Brooklyn C-C, 59-57

A three-minute scoring drought at the beginning of the second half was a key culprit in Chelsea's 59-57 loss to Brooklyn Columbia Central in the opening game of the boys varsity basketball season last Friday night.

Bulldog coach Rahn Rosentreter said that although Chelsea was down twice during the game by 10 points, the team was in a good position to win the game at the end. It was a game that later in the season the Bulldogs would probably have won.

"I have to give the kids a lot of credit for coming back," Rosentreter said.

"All you can ask is to be in position at the end to win and we were. We just didn't take advantage of it. I look at this as more of a case of us losing the game rather than them winning it."

In addition to the third quarter scoring slump, two key players got into foul trouble early. Center John Jedele fouled out late in the third quarter, and forward Jeff Harvey was disqualified shortly thereafter in the fourth quarter. After that, most of the rebounding strength was gone.

"For the last part of the game, we played with almost all guards," Rosentreter said.

"We can't afford to lose those big men inside. They had 12 points between them for the night and we need them to score like 20 or more. We can't count on Mark Bareis to score 20 points every night."

Bareis had an outstanding opening game at forward with 23 points on nine field goals and five for eight shooting at the free throw line. Most of those shots came from the inside. No one else was in double figures.

Rosentreter also said the Bulldogs' timing was a little off, accounting for 11 bad passes on the night (a total of 21 turnovers). Otherwise, he said, the team played "pretty good offense." Chelsea shot 42 percent from the floor (24-53) but just 56 percent from the line (9-16). The coach said the Bulldogs were a little tentative for the first few minutes, partly because their first shot of the game was blocked.

Junior Pro-Bass Fishing Club To Meet Friday

Pro-Bass Team, a Dexter fishing club, will hold a junior bass meeting Friday, Dec. 13 for any children and their parents interested in sharpening their fishing skills. Also, any children 15 or younger may join Junior Bass Club.

The meeting will take place at 7 p.m. at Forsythe Junior High school in Ann Arbor.

The meeting is free and open to the public. The club charges a yearly membership fee and each child is required to have an adult sponsor.

For more information call 426-4905.

to a zone in the second quarter, which they played much of the rest of the game. In the first quarter BCC made 6-12 field goal attempts. The adjustment caused BCC to make only 3-11 the second quarter. The game was tied at half-time at 26.

"At half-time we thought we would take control of the game," Rosentreter said. "But then we didn't score for three minutes in the second half."

The Bulldogs were down 42-36 at the end of three quarters, but fought back in the fourth quarter to tie the game. But BCC got hot toward the end of the game, hitting jumpers outside the Chelsea zone. BCC's Dave Rose and Ray Clark did most of the scoring, with 17 points each.

Rounding out the scoring for Chelsea were Harvey with eight points, Dan Bellus and Ken Martin with seven each, Todd Starkey with six, Jedele with four, and Ray Spencer with two.

CHELSEA'S PETE HANNA looks for a way to put his opponent on his back during the Chelsea Invitational tournament last weekend. Hanna won the wrestler of the meet award for beating last year's state champion and two other state qualifiers on his way to the finals. Pete wrestles at 119 lbs.

Wrestlers Start With Dual Meet Win

Chelsea's varsity wrestling team got off to a quick start in the new season last week with a dual meet win over Flat Rock, 54-24, and Brooklyn Columbia Central, 39-36. The Bulldogs have traditionally had a tough time with BCC, so it was a gratifying win for coach Kerry Kargel.

"Our performance was a real surprise to me," Kargel said. "We had a couple of boys really pick us up."

Only one match in 26 ended in a decision. The rest were pins. Even those matches didn't last long as only two falls were recorded in the third period.

The results of the meets are as follows.

98 pounds: Bryan Kidd, Chelsea, pinned Bob Gonyeau, Flat Rock, 1:34; pinned Dan Dubuis, BCC, 2:46.

105 pounds: Randy Dale, Chelsea, was pinned by Mark Drouillard, FR, 1:08; was pinned by Dale Holt, BCC, 3:00.

112 pounds: Brady Murphy,

Chelsea, was pinned by Jim Vajan, FR, 3:20; was pinned by Don Bernstein, BCC, :34.

119 pounds: Pete Hanna, Chelsea, pinned Jerry Sarkody, FR, 1:00; pinned Ken Forchey, BCC, 2:21.

126 pounds: Ron Bogdanski, Chelsea, pinned Stan Dyl, FR, 3:53; pinned Gary Coventor, BCC, 2:58.

132 pounds: Bob Torres, Chelsea, pinned Bill Ewing, FR, 3:04; pinned Rob Gilbert, BCC, 2:26.2.

138 pounds: Brant Snyder, Chelsea, was pinned by Kevin Murphy, FR, 2:00; was pinned by Tom Petito, BCC, 1:26.

145 pounds: Mark Edick, Chelsea, pinned Glenn Hoffman, FR, 1:40; won a 6-4 decision over Kevin Chesney, BCC.

155 pounds: Steve Wingrove, Chelsea, pinned Jeff Bird, FR, 1:25; was pinned by Charles Willoughby, BCC, 5:09.

167 pounds: Jim Johnson, Chelsea, was pinned by Mike Chapman, FR, 4:41; Chris Zangara, Chelsea, pinned Brian Miller, BCC, 1:04.

185 pounds: Mike Taylor, Chelsea, pinned Kurt Blanchette, FR, :30; was pinned by Jason McDaniels, BCC, 1:48.

198 pounds: Leo Durham, Chelsea, pinned Wade Hatfield, FR, :40.1; pinned Ryan Huff, BCC, 1:22.

Heavyweight: Todd Thukow, Chelsea, was pinned by Dave Carrell, FR, 1:50; was pinned by Bill Colton, BCC, :16.

BULLDOG RON BOGDANSKI works for an early-round pin against Todd Kinney of Lake Fenton. Bogdanski lost a 3-2 decision in his second match. Otherwise, he would have joined teammates Pete Hanna and Steve Wingrove in the finals. Bogdanski finished third over-all in the 126 pound class.

Bulldog Wrestlers 5th In Invitational Meet

Chelsea wrestlers finished fifth of 11 teams in the annual Chelsea Invitational Meet held last Saturday.

Southeastern Conference rival Dexter proved to be the best team, with a total 198 points. The nearest contender was Rochester Adams, with 172 points. Chelsea, with 100 points, was behind Jackson Northwest with 143 points, and Lake Fenton with 121 points. Other teams in the meet were Napoleon, 97 points, South Lyon, 74 points, Fowlerville, 71 points, Vandercook Lake, 48 points, Albion, 31 points, and Linden, 19 points.

Chelsea's Pete Hanna was named the Wrestler of the Meet for his performance in the 119 pound class. To win his division, Hanna had to beat last year's state champion, Vance Corcoran of Lake Fenton, and two of last year's state qualifiers in David Feldkamp of Dexter and Jim Barbaretta of Linden. He earned a 4-3 decision over Feldkamp in the finals to win the division. It was the third time in four years that Hanna has won his weight class.

Chelsea senior Steve Wingrove (155) also won his division with a 6-3 decision over Brian Eichenberg of Jackson Northwest. To reach the finals he won a 7-2 decision over Robbie Barrie of Lake Fenton, and pinned Aaron Pishalski of South Lyon.

Bulldog Ron Bogdanski (126) made the consolation round and pinned Rich Cook of Jackson Northwest.

Other Chelsea wrestlers who had an outstanding day in the estimation of coach Kerry Kargel were Robert Kornexl (112) and Bob Torres (132), who both finished fourth.

"We finished right about where I thought we'd finish," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"There were a couple of other boys who I thought might make the finals, but over-all we had a good day."

Chelsea's Leo Durham (198) suffered the first injury of the season and will be out for an undetermined amount of time.

BOB TORRES of Chelsea prepares to finish off Dennis Nuttle of Dexter in early round action of the Chelsea Invitational wrestling meet. Torres pinned Nuttle, and advanced all the way to the consolation round, finishing fourth in the 132-pound class.

Kirk Hawkes on Albion Swim Team

Kirk Hawkes of Chelsea, a junior at Albion College, is swimming the 400-yard medley relay for the school.

According to the school, the medley relay team won its first competition of the year against Wayne State University, with a time of 3:58.10. Albion won the meet, 60-50.

8th Grade Cagers Split First Two

Beach Middle school's eighth grade boys basketball team began the season with an even 1-1 record last week with a 39-31 win over Tecumseh and a 33-21 loss to Dexter.

In the win over Tecumseh last Thursday, the Chelsea boys made 13 or 20 free throws, which made the difference in the game. Chelsea also relied on an aggressive press, forcing many Tecumseh turnovers and poor shots.

"We don't have a lot of height, so we rely on an aggressive defense," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"We'll normally have a couple of boys foul out."

Chad Starkey and Chad Raymond led Chelsea scorers with 10 points each. Kyle Plank followed with five points, and Rob Stoffer and Sinisa Janicevic each had four points.

Tuesday's opening game loss to Dexter was due to poor shooting. Tallman said. Dexter also managed to stay out of foul trouble, sending Chelsea to the free throw line four times the entire game, of which Chelsea made one.

Dexter also had a significant height advantage, with two boys well over six feet tall.

Starkey, Plank and Bret Wales shared the scoring honors with six points each, Mark Chasteen had two, and Raymond one.

Girls Swim Team 11th in State Meet

Chelsea girls swim team finished 11th in the state meet last Saturday in Grand Rapids.

The Bulldogs were ninth in the 200-yard medley relay with the team of Paula Colombo, Kelly Kuzon, Cathy Hoffman and Susan Schunk. Their time was 2:00.17.

Colombo was eighth in the 200 individual medley and sixth in the 100 butterfly.

Schunk was seventh in the 100 freestyle.

Diver Deanna Zangara finished 21st in the state, to round out the Chelsea performance.

"I was very pleased with our over-all performance," said coach Mike Keeler.

"All our athletes performed well, especially on Saturday as we moved up in places."

7th Grade Cagers Lose Games With Dexter, Tecumseh

Chelsea's 7th grade boys basketball team opened their season at Dexter on Thursday, Dec. 3. Dexter defeated the Bulldogs by a score of 42 to 32. Jude Quilter led the Chelsea team with 14 points. Following Jude with six points each were Kerry Plank and Tucker Steele. Brain Bell contributed four points and Chris Haugen scored two.

On Dec. 5 the Bulldogs traveled to Tecumseh to be defeated by a score of 38 to 17. Scoring for Chelsea were Kerry Plank with six points, Jeremy Stephens, five, and Jude Quilter, Tucker Steele, and Vince Dunn with two points each.

The 7th grade cagers were to play their first home game on Tuesday, Dec. 10 against Saline.

IT IS A FOX? IS IT A DOG? Neither. It's a dead coyote. Twice this fall Ishmael Picklesimer Sr. and Jr. have found coyotes in their leg hold traps southwest of Chelsea. Sightings of coyotes this far south in Michigan have been rare, but the Department of Natural Resources reports other sightings as well. Picklesimers report that the coyote above appeared to be feeding on rabbit and pheasant and there was no sign it had recently eaten any sheep. They also report to have seen coyote droppings just outside of Dexter.

Frosh Cagers Lost Season Opening Game

Chelsea's freshman basketball team lost its opening game of the season last week to Adrian, 43-27. The Bulldogs were cold from the floor, hitting 22 percent. They also had their troubles at the foul line, shooting only 35 percent. Despite the loss, coach Dave Quilter said he saw much to be positive about. "We rebounded well against a taller team with Jeff Marshall and Mark Larson both pulling down nine boards each," Quilter said. "Both our man-to-man and full court press were effective. The team fought back and actually outscored Adrian 11-6 in the third quarter." John Collins was the Bulldogs' leading scorer with 12 points. Loren Keezer came off the bench to score five points.

New Ticket Policy Taking Effect for Athletic Events

Chelsea High school athletic department has made a few changes to its ticket policy.

Sales of five-ticket, reduced-rate packages for all sports events will only take place at the athletic office during normal business hours, or at the community education office, from 9 a.m. to noon, not at the door. Athletic Director Larry Reed said the change has been instituted to eliminate confusion at the gates. "Only single-ticket prices will be available at the gate."

Discounted tickets are available at $5/$7 for adults, $5/$4 for middle and high school students, and $5/$2 for children through the fifth grade. The new policy will go into effect the first of the year.

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Dudderar

Often when I write about wildlife in urban or suburban neighborhoods, I hear comments such as, "Oh, there couldn't be foxes (or rats or deer or whatever animal I had mentioned) in my neighborhood."

Then along comes the first lasting snowfall of the year to reaffirm what I've said in this column.

The first snow can reveal wildlife that you never suspected was present in your neighborhood. Sometimes the revelation is a pleasant one—a track in the snow tips you off to the presence of an animal you never dreamed was nearby so that you start watching for it and eventually spot it as it goes about its business. At other times, tracks may reveal something less pleasant, such as the presence of a rat problem in a suburban neighborhood. Or squirrel tracks that end at the side of a brick house may lead to the discovery of a squirrel residing in the attic that might have gone unnoticed for months.

Sometimes tracks in the snow can help you determine the cause of a problem or prevent a potential disaster. For instance, someone called me to find out what kind of animal might be sitting under the hood of the family car chewing on the wiring. I suggested it might be rats, mice or chipmunks, which will all get up on a still-warm engine block to warm themselves.

Being rodents, they will also gnaw on whatever they can reach. If chipmunks crack nuts there, the accumulated shells and other debris may catch fire somewhere down the road. In this case, however, tracks in the snow revealed the visitor to be a muskrat that came up out of a nearby ditch. When it crawled up on the engine to warm itself, it gnawed on the car's ignition wires. Seeing the tracks coming up to the garage from the ditch enabled the people to determine what kind of animal was doing the damage and when to watch for it. They soon spotted it. Then they caught it in a box trap and transported it to a distant marsh.

In my backyard, the first snow revealed the presence of a fox. (Fox tracks look like small dog tracks except that they occur in a straight line and the toenail prints are absent or indistinct.) From the tracks I could see that the fox had checked out the bird feeders, come up onto the patio and sniffed around the tarps over the lawnmowers, nosed around the carport, gone back into the yard and eaten some crabapples, and then moved off into the neighbor's yard.

When I mentioned this to someone in my office, she responded with a story of a fox that came into her suburban backyard and sat outside a summer porch barking back at the family dog inside the porch.

If you live in the Upper Peninsula, a fox in the backyard is hardly remarkable. There tracks in the snow might reveal that a bobcat or even a bear has paid a surprise visit.

Residents of large cities in southern Michigan aren't likely to see bear tracks in their yards, but if they live on the edge of a large area of natural habitat—near a river flood plain or railroad right-of-way or near a large park or in the wooded grounds of some institution—they needn't rule out the possibility of seeing foxes, raccoons, opossums, weasels, possibly deer, and, if there's water nearby, muskrats or mink.

A light, early snowfall in a wooded residential area may reveal common but little seen nocturnal animals, such as flying squirrels. Once you know they're there, you may see them at night against the snow, especially on a moonlit night that's not too cold and windy to discourage their activity.

I'm reiterating an old theme of these columns here, but it's because nature has reiterated to me how a new snow can reveal the hidden wildlife in a neighborhood. If you keep your eyes open, you can spot clues in the snow that can indicate a problem that needs correcting or an opportunity to enjoy wildlife that you might not have been aware of, an opportunity to get to know a little more about nature from your backdoor.

Questions Answered On Safety Belt Laws

The ten most frequently asked questions about Michigan's safety belt laws and answers are provided as a service by the Office of Highway Safety Planning Department of State Police, Lansing.

Q. What if I have physical problems that make it difficult to wear a safety belt?

Exemptions may be granted only by a physician for physical or medical reasons. The exemption must be a written statement. Keep the statement with you when traveling. The Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning believes that everyone is safer if buckled up. We do not recommend that anyone obtain a medical exemption.

Q. The safety belt rubs against my neck. May I wear the shoulder harness under my arm or behind my back?

The belt must be used properly. Wearing it under your arm or behind your back is unsafe because it reduces the belt's ability to perform properly in a crash. Wearing it under your arm or behind your back is a violation of the law.

Q. What if the belt is too short to go around me?

Manufacturers now make safety belt extenders. Go to the Parts Department of your car dealership and ask for a safety belt extender for your model. They may have to order one for you.

Q. Who gets the ticket?

The driver is responsible for the actions of front seat passengers if they are under age 16. For example, if a 15-year-old passenger were not buckled up in the front seat, the driver would be ticketed. If a passenger 16 years old or more refuses to buckle up, the police officer would issue the passenger the ticket.

Q. Do non-residents have to buckle up?

The safety belt law applies to all drivers and front seat passengers. Out-of-state residents are not exempt from this law.

Q. Are delivery people exempt?

'SAFE BOATING TIPS'

From Ann Arbor Flotilla 17-03,
U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary

★ Prepare Your Boat Engine for Winter Lay-Up

A few hours spent now can save a lot of time and money next year. When preparing your boat engine for winter lay-up, it is wise to follow the manufacturer's instructions contained in the owner's manual. Cold weather brings freezing temperatures which can destroy an engine by bursting lines, engine heads and water manifolds which are not drained or protected with antifreeze in the proper amount.

Most boat builders recommend draining fuel tanks, carburetors, and settling bowls, to prevent formation of "varnish" and rust. It is also a good idea to fasten a plastic bag over the gas tank filler cap of your built-in gas tank, the tank vent, and the engine exhaust outlet, to prevent the entry of moisture and dirt which can cause trouble later.

There are several rust inhibitors on the market to put into empty gasoline tanks—if you elect to drain your tanks. Others are merely added to any gasoline remaining in the tank. Water which accumulates in gasoline settling bowls or gas line filters is almost sure to freeze and cause damage. Check these items carefully, and empty out any water found there.

Many manufacturers recommend that you remove the spark plugs from the engine, then add about a teaspoon of SAE 20 or SAE 30 weight oil to each cylinder, after which the engine should be cranked through 2-3 revolutions to distribute the oil over cylinder walls and piston rings. This helps to prevent rust and engine "seizure." The spark plugs should then be cleaned and gapped—or replaced with new ones before spring start-up.

The battery should be removed from the boat, brought to full charge, and stored in a warm place—preferably in its own plastic battery box, free of dirt and acid.

If inside storage is not available, cover the boat with a waterproof cover or tarpaulin. Removal of safety equipment and other gear for inside storage will prevent rust and mildew, in case moisture gets through the cover. Allow space for air to circulate under the cover to prevent "sweating."

For additional information, call Kirk Patterson, Operations Officer of Ann Arbor's Flotilla 17-03 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, 482-1419.

DNR's Environmental Youth Awards Deadline Extended

Michigan teachers interested in involving their students in the state-wide Governor's Environmental Youth Awards competition still have a few more weeks to submit enrollment cards to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

DNR Public Affairs Offices, which administers the program, has extended its original Dec. 2 deadline to Dec. 20 for all project enrollment cards. Other program deadlines will remain as previously stated.

The Governor's Environmental Youth Awards, initiated by Governor James J. Blanchard, is geared toward promoting environmental education among Michigan's youth. The Department sent program applications to public and private schools throughout the State in November.

"Water" is the 1985-86 program theme. Competing groups are to develop and implement projects dealing with water conservation or management in their communities. Projects can range from cleaning area lakes and streams to seeking solutions to environmental problems through the local political system.

Students enrolled in Michigan schools, grades K-12, are eligible to compete in the Environmental Youth Awards. Program co-ordinators say the deadline extension will serve as an incentive for more teachers to consider involving their students in the first annual competition.

All program entries will receive specially designed DNR arm patches, and Regional Finalists will receive commemorative award ribbons. The three top groups will be presented first-place awards by the Governor during the "World Conference on Large Lakes," May 18-21 at Mackinac Island.

More information about the Governor's Environmental Youth Awards competition may be obtained from DNR Public Affairs Offices, P. O. Box 30028, Lansing 48909, 517-373-1214.

Kiddies

Saturday, Dec. 14 - 1 p.m.

at SYLVAN TOWNSHIP HALL - W. Middle St.

Come help us officially welcome Santa on his repeat visit in Chelsea. Santa will arrive in Chelsea at 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 14 by old-fashioned horsepower. He will meet and talk with the boys and girls inside the Sylvan Town Hall from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 14.

SPONSORED BY THE
CHELSEA MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION & THE LIONS CLUB

TERESA MAC has the privilege of receiving one of Santa Claus' first hugs in Chelsea as the 11-year-old was in the right place at the right time last Saturday. Santa was escorted into town on the wagon of Howard McCalla, pulled by horses Ben and Sparkle. The first stop was at the Sylvan Town Hall on W. Middle St., where Santa met Teresa. It was Santa's first visit of the holiday season.

Americans consume some two billion pounds of chocolate a year, enough to slather a nine-pound layer on every man, woman, and child.

When tea was first introduced in the American colonies, many housewives served the tea leaves with sugar or syrup after throwing away the water in which they had been boiled.

Hummingbirds, the smallest birds in the world, are native only to the Western hemisphere.

ASSISTANCE PLAN

Offer made possible by America's
No. 1 log home company.

Selected local families will be invited to participate in a program which can provide the owner not only a nationally recognized log home, but also an opportunity to earn substantial income while enjoying a quality home. The income should easily cover mortgage payments. Many of our customers have paid off their homes in less than five (5) years.

If you have ever considered living in a high quality log home offered by one of the nation's leading log home manufacturers, you owe it to yourself to investigate Lincoln
Log Homes' mortgage assistance plan. Requirement: Ability to purchase a minimum $15,000.00 log home.

Card of Thanks 17

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to all our relations, neighbors and friends who remembered us in the sudden loss of our husband, father and brother. We would like to thank the Chelsea Fire Department

Rescue Squad, the ambulance,

Chelsea Police, Chelsea

Hospital Emergency and attending doctors, Father Dupuis,

Deacon Cesarz, Sister Pat, the K.

of C. Altar Society, Chrysler

Proving Grounds employees and all who brought food, arranged the meal and helped in any way, especially at my home. The kindness and sympathy of neighbors and friends in our recent sorrow will always remain with us as a precious memory. Our sincere thanks and gratitude for all those comforting acts.

Family of Jim Hatner:

Dorothy his wife,

Robyn and Joseph his children, Conrad his brother,

Rosalie his sister-in-law,

Jennifer, Craig, Eric, his niece and nephews.

Card of Thanks 17

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our family, relatives, friends and neighbors for the many cards, flowers and other gifts and acts of friendship given to us at our 50th wedding anniversary celebration. Such expressions of love and thoughtfulness will always be beautiful memories for both of us.

Walter and Rubena Loeffler.

County Courthouse in the City of Ann Arbor,

Washtenaw County, Michigan, (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in the mortgage, as amended, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforeaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon

(13.00%) per cent per annum and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises.

Said premises are situated in the Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan and described as:

YOU MEAN I CAN HAVE IT! Andria Gordenier of Hamburg had a chance to tell Santa what she really wants for Christmas as everyone's favorite old man paid a visit to South school last Saturday. Chelsea merchants sponsored his trip from the North Pole and a capacity crowd turned out. Andria is the daughter of Joan and Jerry Gordenier of Hamburg, and the granddaughter of Berniece Augustine of Jerusalem Rd.

Between 1882 and 1887, Hugh L. Daly was a pitcher for several major league baseball teams. He won seventy four games, including a no-hitter. He had only one arm.

Q. My broker sold me on the idea that Borg-Warner would be a good stock to invest in. I bought it at 19% in 1982 and three years later it is still just $21. That's not my idea of a good stock to invest in. What did my broker do wrong?

A. Let's not blame your broker. Whenever you buy anything, a stock or anything else, you are the one who makes the decision to buy. Even if you have someone applying pressure, it's still your responsibility to know enough about what you are buying to make an intelligent decision and to know why you bought.

That being said, let's look at Borg-Warner. Borg-Warner has had a good record when you look at it over the last 10 years. But a sizeable part of its business is cyclical in nature and this means its bottom line is going to be affected by the business cycle. Borg-Warner is also a very high exporter and both its sales and earnings have been hurt by the strong U. S. dollar, which has made the sales of U. S. products overseas more difficult and less profitable.

The company has seen its chemical business a little less than robust and it is not getting any return from the 19% of Hughes Tool that it owns.

While the figures may look a little weak for B-W, management foresaw the problems in overseas markets several years ago and started to build up the services end of the business. That move has been helpful but the company still has a lot of manufacturing business. I don't think the company's problems will last forever and my guess is you will have a greater profit in the next two or three years.

One thing that you should have been aware of when you bought the stock was that it was selling at the high end of its price-earnings ratio and above what similar stocks were selling for at the time. It was selling at 10 times its earnings of $1.95 when most similar quality stocks at that time were selling at 5 to 7 times earnings. This suggests you would have been better off waiting until you could have bought the stock at $9 to $11, which you could have done six months later.

It is interesting to see that Better Investing featured Borg-Warner as a stock to study in July of 1980. At that time the stock was selling for $8.63. Investors who bought it at that time now have a value of their $8.63 investment of $2,500. Their stock at $21 is worth $2,100 and they have had about $400 in dividends.

There are two lessons to be learned from your purchase. The first is when you buy stock, look in the paper for how high and how low it has sold in the past year. If it is selling near the high, I would hesitate buying it unless it was enjoying rapidly increasing sales and earnings, or there was some other development suggesting its value was going to continue to increase.

Secondly, when you buy a stock near a high, you must recognize that a higher price will only come in two ways. That is, there will have to be speculation in the stock which will take it further above reasonable values. That is a development which does not occur very often. Or you will have to wait until the company grows, produces higher earnings, and justifies a higher price. That is what you are doing with Borg-Warner. The growth that has been taking place is obscured by the export problems, but I think it's likely these problems will be overcome and the stock will move ahead in time.

Festival of Lessons & Carols Offered Sunday

The traditional Festival of Lessons & Carols, now in its 26th year at St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Ann Arbor, will be presented by the church's Adult and Junior Chorus on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 10 a.m.

Dr. Thomas Strode, director of music at St. Andrew's, will conduct; Simon Darsely, a Power Scholar at the University of Michigan and a student of Marilyn Mason, will accompany at the church's 33-rank Reuter pipe organ.

The service will include nine lessons from Scripture, telling the story of Man's Fall and the redemptive acts of God culminating in His gift of His only Son to us. Each lesson is followed by an appropriate carol or hymn; some sung by the choir, some sung by the congregation.

Music will include settings of traditional carols by Peter Warlock, Derek Holman, John Joubert, Harold Duke, and Kenneth Leighton; "What Sweeter Music" by Richard Rodney Bennett; the traditional carols "The Linden Tree Carol" and "The Seven Joys of Mary," and congregational singing of "Once in Royal David's City," "O Come, O Come Emmanuel," "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," "Of the Father's Love Begotten," and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Dec. 2, were Schumann, Grau, Comeau, Feeney, Redding, Satterthwaite, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, special education director DeYoung, athletic/pool director Reed, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by president Schumann. Board approved the minutes of the Nov. 18 meeting.

The board presented certificates of appreciation to Jon and Ann Schaffer in recognition of their coaching and general positive work with the girls' basketball program at Beach school.

The board approved a revised emergency and evacuation procedure dealing with fire and tornado safety.

The board approved a daily pay rate for substitute teachers of $38 to become effective Jan. 6.

The board approved second-year probationary status for Pauline Koski, special education teacher at Beach school.

The board approved the Outdoor Club's spelunking trip to Kentucky, May 8-9-10.

The board approved a new method of selling sports admission tickets. Special package tickets will be available at all times in the offices of the athletic director and community education director. At the gate, special package tickets will be sold only at the first game of each sport. After that initial first-game sale, all tickets will be $2 at the gate.

The following informational reports were presented to the board:

—Assistant principal Ken Larson showed video excerpts from the recent high school assembly where the speaker was dealing with positive attitudes and students and staff were giving personal testimonials of why they were feeling good about themselves.

—Sue Carter, Gene LaFave and Chris Dimanin presented information on the counseling curriculum. They discussed the Junior-Senior Handbook, job shadowing, freshman orientation, campus visits, and career and college days.

—Dr. Henry DeYoung presented a survey analysis pertaining to the opinions on athletics. There was no significant difference between opinions of parents of elementary, middle or high school-age children toward emphasis on athletics. Approximately two-thirds of the parents, regardless of the level at which their children attend school, felt that emphasis on athletics was about right. Approximately less than 10% of the respondents felt more emphasis should be given to athletics. Approximately 25% of the respondents felt that athletics should be emphasized less. DeYoung also presented opinions of respondents without school-age children toward mathematics.

Results of the analysis show that in the math area, respondents without children in school felt that more emphasis should be given to math than did respondents with children in school.

Superintendent Van Meer indicated the State Board of Education had unanimously approved major changes in teacher certification rules. Under the proposed rules, all teachers who are issued continuing certificates on or after Sept. 1, 1989, would be required to renew their certificates every five years. The new rules would still require teachers to take 18 hours of study during the first six years and teach successfully for three years to earn a continuing certificate. Teachers will have to complete at least six semester hours of academic credit or the equivalent in continuing education units in order to qualify for renewal every five years thereafter. Future teachers of middle grades (6-8) will be allowed to teach only subjects in which they have a major or minor. After Sept. 1, 1989, a teacher issued an elementary certificate would be able to teach all subjects in grades K-5 and in major or minor subject areas in grades 6 through 8. A secondary teaching certificate would be valid for teaching subject areas in grades 7-12 in which the teacher has earned a major or minor.

Elementary program preparations will focus on the developmental needs of pre-adolescence and early adolescence, and secondary preparations will focus on early adolescence and adolescent development. The proposed rules require that all study include the needs of exceptional children, including those with handicaps, the gifted and talented, and those with cultural differences. These requirements would apply to all State Board-approved teacher education institutions after July 1, 1987.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed with the board the draft of the Board of Education Employee Assistance Program. The board was satisfied with the policy statement, and directed the superintendent to discuss this with all employees. The Employee Assistance Program will be an additional fringe benefit given to all employees. The board recognized that many human problems can be successfully dealt with when they are identified in the early stages and referrals are made to appropriate helping sources. This applies to a broad range of problems including physical illness, mental or emotional problems, financial difficulties, marital or family problems, and many other concerns. The Board of Education believes it is in the best interest of the employee, the employee's family members and the Chelsea School District that, in their capacity as employer, they provide an Employee Assistance Program (EAP) that will assist all employees and their family members in dealing with problems of a personal nature.

Superintendent Van Meer apprised the board that the Title II funds, plus $1,000 donation from Dana Corp., were used to purchase nine Apple computers which will be assigned to the media centers.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills discussed with the board a self-insured property/casualty insurance pool being set up to counter problems that school districts and other public entities are facing in securing adequate and reasonable insurance coverage.

The Board Personnel Committee reviewed a nepotism clause and presented it to the board as an information item.

The board convened in executive session at 10:07 p.m. to discuss personnel concerns. At 11:40 p.m. the board reconvened in public session and adjourned the meeting at 11:41 p.m.

Teen-Age Chemical Dependency Help To Be Examined

"How Can I Get Some Help?" the third and final lecture in a free series examining chemical dependency and adolescents, will be presented from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 16, in Room 2807 at Huron High School, 2727 Fuller, Ann Arbor.

The discussion will focus on the treatment process, from assessment to referral, treatment and follow-up. There will be suggestions on how to select a program that is appropriate for the particular situation and teen-ager.

The lecture series is co-sponsored by Catherine McAuley Health Center's Chemical Dependency Program, the Substance Abuse Program of the Ann Arbor School District and Huron High School.

Horses Need Extra Winter Care Too

Horses can withstand a lot of cold, but they are not invincible. Making sure your horse gets the winter care he deserves can ensure a healthy, happy horse all year round.

First, make sure your horse gets annual vaccinations for rhinopneumonitis, Eastern and Western encephalomyelitis and tetanus.

Next, be sure to have his teeth checked before winter so he can chew his food properly. This is a time when he will need to burn more energy to stay warm, therefore, increase his ration of hay and/or grain. And don't forget to break the ice in his water bucket or trough.

Also, one of the most important things to check is that your horse has a clean, dry, but well ventilated place to stay. A damp or drafty environment can lead to colds, coughs and viral infections. Poor ventilation can cause respiratory diseases while your horse can develop pneumonia if the stable is too hot or too tight. If you don't have a barn, your horse should at least have a sheltered shelter, open on the downwind side. Moist bedding can cause foot infection, so keep it dry.

Besides this, snow might be deep. Shoes should be pulled, because snow could ball up badly in shod hooves. This makes it difficult for the horse to walk. Trim the hooves enough so they won't crack or break, but not too short, because as your horse paws through the snow, he will wear them down, causing sore hooves.

Remember, if you are exercising your horse in cold weather, give him more time to warm up his muscles so he will be limber.

Pitfalls Lie Ahead for Farm Supply Retailers

The current farm economy places retailers of farm supplies, from fertilizers to tillage equipment, in substantial risk of holding uncollectable accounts that could destroy their businesses.

That will be the focus of a segment of the Seed, Weed and Fertilizer School Dec. 11-12 at Long's Convention Center in Lansing.

Jack McEwen, Michigan State University agribusiness economist, will outline potential problems that farm supply retailers will have if they extend too much credit to their customers, especially in light of the current farm economy.

"Generally speaking, about 80 percent of the farmers in Michigan are financially sound," McEwen says. "Those who are not sound have one common problem: they have a high debt load. And it is the economists' view that they will not regain profitability without a significant write-off of those debts."

McEwen says this places the supplier in the often difficult spot of being an unsecured lender and the first to have to take a write-off without any recourse.

During his presentation, on the first day of the school, McEwen will elaborate on business problems ahead and provide suggestions to school participants on how they can minimize chances of cash flow difficulties caused by uncollectable debts.

McEwen is one of several MSU economists and agronomists who will discuss probable crop production levels and business conditions that retailers of farm supplies can expect during 1986.

Several of the school's other sessions will provide details on such things as the prevention of non-point source pollution, irrigation practices and seed conditioning. The latter is a special program being sponsored by the Michigan Crop Improvement Association.

The school, sponsored by MSU and a variety of Michigan agricultural organizations, is primarily intended for grain elevator and farm supply distribution managers and executives.

Details of the program and the registration costs may be obtained by writing to Maurice Vitosh, Department of Crop and Soil Sciences, MSU, East Lansing 48824.

Toledo War Story Told In 'Michigan History'

Did you know that time proved Michigan a winner in a war that was never fought, in which Michigan was declared the loser?

It was the infamous Toledo War with Ohio that took place in 1835 when Michigan, still a territory, sent troops to prevent the governor of Ohio from holding court and establishing jurisdiction over the "Toledo Strip," claimed by Michigan.

Spoiling for a fight, Michigan volunteers stormed into the Toledo area of Ohio only to find militia had fled. Local residents told the Michigan troops they could occupy the city as long as there was no "disturbance."

After four days occupation, Michigan troops were ordered back by Michigan's boy Governor, Stevens T. Mason, who had been removed from office by the President of the United States, Andrew Jackson, four days after he ordered the volunteers to Ohio. Mason continued to lead Michigan in the absence of an appointed successor.

Michigan was declared the loser because Ohio got the Port of Toledo and the war delayed Michigan's entrance into the Union until 1837. Michigan however, was given 9,000 square miles of mineral rich and scenic Upper Peninsula, an area that in time proved many times more valuable than what the winner, Ohio, received.

The story of the Toledo war from a soldier's point of view is recounted in the September/October issue of Michigan History, the state's official publication.

Published by the Bureau of History of the Department of State, Michigan History is available in single copies for $2 each or subscriptions for $9.95 a year and is available on newsstands. Checks should be made payable to the State of Michigan, and mailed to the Bureau of History, Michigan Department of State, 208 North Capitol, Lansing 48918.

seat. If your child is at least one year old, the child must be in a child car seat if riding in the front seat. As a back seat passenger, use of the vehicle's safety belt alone is permitted. The Office of Highway Safety Planning strongly recommends that all children under age four use a safe child car seat, and that they ride in the back seat whenever possible.

Q. Which model child car seat is safest?

All child car seats made after January 1981 meet federal safety standards. Check the sticker on the back of the seat for the date of manufacture. You may find that some seats are easier to use than others. Whenever possible, try the car seat out in your own vehicle before making a purchase. Use the seat with which you are most comfortable. It is important for the safety of your child that the car seat be used correctly on every ride.

Health Care Update For Folks Age 60 To 79!

NEW PLAN PAYS UP TO $182,700 FOR NURSING HOME BENEFITS — INCLUDING CUSTODIAL CARE

Getting well could spell financial ruin for today's senior citizen. According to a recent study on the plight of the elderly, 2 out of 3 Americans aged 66 and living alone, will be "impoverished" after spending just 13 weeks in a nursing home. Married persons aren't much better off.

But now there is a solution from Bankers Life and Casualty. It's a new kind of nursing home policy that pays benefits for...

- custodial, intermediate and skilled nursing care
- before, during and after Medicare payments and in addition to HMO benefits
- for up to five years depending on the length of time you select for any one sickness or injury.

There is more. With this new policy, you also select the daily benefit you want up to $100. And this amount will not change with the level of care you get.

To help you save money, the policy lets you decide when benefits start — from 0 days to 100 days. Other consumer features include...

- special "no premiums" rule during nursing home stay
- home convalescent care benefits
- full new benefits restored after get well period

There is no obligation for getting all the facts. The coupon below will bring you complete FREE information including the outline of coverage for you to review.

Give toys that build a world

Instead of giving "toy entertainment," let your child step into the world of John Deere toys. Authentic replicas of the real thing, these toys work magic with everyone. They plant, sow, cultivate and harvest. They build cities, shape and reshape the land. They dash across snow, fell trees, and build treehouses. They put to use that often-neglected part of the mind known as the imagination. John Deere toys are scale-model reproductions with moving parts, authentic details and design. ## By Paula Blanchard

America's biggest little trains—powered by locomotives the size of a shoebox—are now boarding at the home station in Bangor. All aboard!

The trains—actually models of the real thing—are putting tiny Bangor (pop. 2,001) on the map as the toy train capital of the United States.

The not-so-tiny trains (they are twice the size of the standard HO gauge models) are modeled on the wood-burning, smoke-belching "Iron Horses" of 19th Century America—the kind Jesse James and his gang often chased in the old cowboy movies.

The trains are manufactured (actually, they are handcrafted) in a trackside factory, the Kalamazoo Toy Train Works, that used to be the town's railway depot. The Works' assemblers now work at wooden benches in what used to be the depot's waiting room and Duane Miller, the Works manager, has a desk in the station master's quarters upstairs.

The Train Works' "Iron Horses" may be made of plastic, but they are otherwise authentic replicas, complete in every detail. For instance, the locomotive is lavishly trimmed in brass, 116 pieces in all, including the bell and whistle. It even sounds like a real locomotive, with the chug, chug, chug and choo-choo-choo and all the rest, thanks to a recording device concealed in the wood-loaded tender.

(The device also will play your favorite tune or, if you prefer, the train's theme song, "Kalamazoo to Timbuktou on Track 2." I'm not kidding, even President Reagan has a Works train set. It plays "Hail to the Chief!")

The trains are wired for speed as well as sound: an onboard electric engine (12 volts) will, at your direction, propel a fully-loaded, 14-car train to speeds up to 2.5 m.p.h. And that, I imagine, is fast enough to keep up with, and maybe even out-distance, the Jameses.

In any case, let's keep making it—and buying it—in Michigan!

THE FIRST REAL SNOWFALL of the season, combined with no wind, left Chelsea looking like a winter postcard last week. Snow stayed on the trees for most of the day and cross country skiers were tempted to haul down the equipment. The scene above is on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Blaze Destroys Heim Rd. Home

Chelsea fire officials are still trying to determine the cause of a fire that destroyed the home of the Douglas Craft family last Wednesday night.

The one-story home, at 16821 Heim Rd., was completely destroyed in the fire, according to Chelsea fire investigator Steve Jaskot. Jaskot was one of 20 Chelsea firefighters on the scene at 7:52 p.m. The department was assisted on the scene by the Manchester Fire Department. Dexter Fire Department covered the station.

Jaskot said the fire appeared to have started in the kitchen. He said arson has not been ruled out, although there is no evidence to suggest it.

Jaskot said Mary Craft smelled smoke and thought there was trouble with the furnace. She took her daughter, Jessica, with her next door to call for a furnace repair person. Meanwhile, Douglas Craft returned home and found the house filled with smoke.

The family reportedly lost virtually all their possessions in the fire. Although the house itself is still standing, the fire penetrated both the roof and the floor.

Jaskot said the home was insured for $50,000.

Student Council, Key Club Plan 'Toy Dance'

After the varsity basketball game Friday, Dec. 13 there will be a jointly sponsored Key Club-Student Council dance.

Admission for the "Toy Dance" is $1 plus a toy worth at least $1. Key Club will collect the toys during the JV and varsity games. All toys will be given to C. S. Mott Children's Hospital.

Chelsea Key Club has been working hard to help the kids at Motts. They have had a "day at Motts" visitation to become familiar with the hospital, and a Christmas party where patients and Key Clubbers caroled through the halls for patients who couldn't attend the party. Students attending the dance are asked to be generous in giving to this worthy cause.
