CHELSEA SOCIAL SERVICES distributed presents to Chelsea needy families last Friday at Sylvan Town Hall. The presents were donated by a wide variety of organizations and individuals in the community. Above are just some of the presents brought in on Thursday that were donated by the congregation at St. Mary's church. It was a large job to interview families, make sure the right presents were purchased, make sure they arrived on time, and organize them, but Chelsea Social Services managed to make it all run smoothly. From left are Linda Ormsby, a staff member of social services, Sherrie Vaughan and Mildred Fish, volunteer workers, Jackie Reithmiller, another staff member, and volunteer Carl Carpenter.

Social Services Co-Ordinates Christmas Giving for Needy

Thanks to the generosity and hard work of a variety of organizations in Chelsea, nearly 100 Chelsea residents will have a merrier Christmas than they otherwise would have had.

Chelsea Social Services distributed about 200 presents and numerous boxes of food to area needy families last Friday at Sylvan Town Hall. Some of the families are on public assistance, others have single parents struggling to make ends meet, and still others are in the middle of a family crisis. The holidays can be cruel to people like them.

Chelsea Social Services essentially co-ordinated the efforts of the community to provide for these needy people. A number of organizations and individuals contributed.

On Thursday, St. Mary's church contributed about 170 gifts to the cause, all given by the congregation. On a recent Sunday, strips of computer paper, each with a gift request for a particular family, were tacked to a bulletin board in the church. After mass, members of the congregation took a strip or two, and by the end of the day, all the strips were gone, and some people were requesting more.

That was the largest group donation. Linda Ormsby, a staff member of Chelsea Social Ser-

Hospital Patients May Have Guest for Christmas Dinner

Chelsea Community Hospital will serve a special Christmas meal to its patients during the lunch and dinner hours. The menu will include entrees of Prime Rib and Honey Basted Ham. Baked or duchess potatoes, cauliflower blended with vegetable au gratin, asparagus, a tossed salad and vegetable soup will also be served. Desserts will include cherry pie and an assortment of cakes.

Patients will be invited to bring a guest to either the noon or evening meal as a special treat from the hospital. Community members are welcome Christmas Day!

vices, said she didn't want to try to name all the organizations who contributed simply because she was afraid she would forget someone.

Chelsea Social Services interviews each needy family to find out what each person wants or needs, and that information is entered into a computer. Only Ormsby, and a couple of others, know who the needy families are, and the information is kept as confidential as possible. The

Driver Ruins Speaker Box

The drive-thru speaker box at the Chelsea McDonald's restaurant was the victim of a hit-and-run driver.

According to Chelsea police, someone during the night of Dec. 21 or early morning of Dec. 22 apparently ran over the speaker with a motor vehicle.

Damage was estimated to be $1,500, police said.

families are identified in a number of ways, including referrals by neighbors, friends, the school district, and the Department of Social Services in Ann Arbor. Some families simply ask for "help."

"We actually have a small number of families this year," Ormsby said. "At the height of the recession we had about 60 families. We're finding, too, that people are giving more this year. What's especially nice is that some former clients are now adopting families to give presents to."

Boxes of food, which included everything from a turkey, to Jiffy Mix products, to toilet paper, were also given away, along with surplus honey and cheese.

Council Moves Quickly To Correct Traffic Problem on Flander St.

In an effort to curtail student loitering and speeding on Flander St. and other streets near Chelsea High school, the Chelsea Village Council agreed last Tuesday to have a series of street signs installed in the area.

A three-way stop sign has already been installed at Flander and Wendley Sts. Other signs indicating no parking or standing on school days from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. will be installed on Flander, Wendley, Book and Wood Sts.

The council agreed to the action after Sharon Frost, a Flander St. resident, presented three petitions, containing from 40 to 53 signatures each of residents in the area, and told of the concerns of area residents in the aftermath of the accident involving Geno Coltre several weeks ago.

Coltre, a Flander St. resident, was hit and killed by a car driven by a student who was driving alone on a learner's permit. Coltre was shoveling snow off his driveway near the street at the time of the accident.

"We were all very pleased to see the stop signs go in so quickly," Frost said last Friday. "I just feel bad we didn't do this a year ago, or the accident might have been avoided."

Frost told the council that Flander St. is a gathering point for high school students before and after school hours. She indicated they sit in their cars, smoke cigarettes, carry on conversations with others outside their cars, and frequently double park, creating both a traffic problem and a general nuisance. She said they also frequently exceed the speed limit on the street, which was one factor that contributed to Coltre's death.

"It's too bad these things happen during prime hours when people are trying to get to work," Frost said.

Churches Plan Special Christmas Services

Special Christmas services in many Chelsea area churches will be celebrated on Christmas Day, Dec. 25, and a great number of the congregations will hold candlelight services, many of them featuring lessons and carols, family worship and Communion services on vigil of Christmas, Tuesday evening, Dec. 24.

At St. Barnabas Episcopal church, the Christmas Eve Mass will feature lessons and carols, followed by a family gathering for members of the congregation. In the historic Methodist church building at North Lake, worshippers will hold a 7 p.m. Christmas Eve candlelight service which includes a program of ecitations and carols by the children and youth of the church. The choir will also participate in the service.

At St. Paul United Church of Christ, two Christmas Eve services will be held, one at 7:30 p.m. is a family service, and the second, planned at 11 p.m., will be a Christmas Eve Midnight Communion service.

A 7:30 p.m. candlelight worship service, with Holy Communion, will be held at Chelsea's Congregational church on Christmas Eve.

At the Chelsea Free Methodist church, the Christmas Eve candlelight service is planned at 6 p.m.

Zion Lutheran church will hold a 7:30 p.m. family candlelight service, with Holy Communion, Tuesday, Dec. 24.

The children of Faith Evangelical Lutheran church will lead a "Christmas Without Christ" worship service scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Christmas Eve. The service will feature an M-A-S (missing a savior) theme.

At 7 p.m., a Christmas Eve family worship service will be celebrated at the First United Methodist church, with a Christmas Eve Communion worship service held in the same church at 11 p.m.

St. Mary's Catholic church will hold a Children's Christmas Mass at 4 p.m. on Christmas Eve. Participating will be the youth choir and a guitar group.

The choir begins singing a program of Christmas carols at 5:45 p.m., Dec. 24, with Mass to follow at 6 p.m.

Beginning at 11:45 p.m., the choir will again be singing carols as a prelude to the traditional Midnight Mass at the church.

Many other churches in the Chelsea area have planned special services for either the vigil of Christmas or on the Feast of the Nativity itself. People of the community are invited to check the listing of church notes found in this issue of The Chelsea Standard or to contact the pastors at any of the area churches for further information.

Services on Christmas morning, Dec. 25, will be of various types, but not as numerous as those celebrated on Christmas Eve.

St. Mary's church will hold Masses, Dec. 25, at 8 and 10 a.m., as well as the 12 noon Mass.

The choir will sing at the 10 a.m. Nativity of Our Lord worship service at Faith Evangelical Lutheran church.

A Birthday Worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m. by Zion Lutheran church.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB gave $750 to the University of Michigan Burn Center. The money will be used for distributing brochures, giving demonstrations, and other means of preventing burns in Michigan. From left are Kay Heller, the club's secretary, Luann Heller, the club's treasurer, five-year-old Laura Heller, an interested on-looker, Pat Flinn, the club's president, and Dr. Irving Feller, director of the burn center. The club raised the money in a special project this year.

STOP SIGNS HAVE BEEN PLACED at Flander and Wendley Sts. as a result of petitions signed by residents in the area. Flander St. residents organized after the death of neighbor Geno Coltre, who was hit by a car driven by a teen-ager. Resident Sharon Frost presented their arguments to a receptive Chelsea Village Council, who agreed to have the stop signs installed, and other signs saying "No parking or standing between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on school days."

Owen Says Rollback Not Linked to Property Tax, Busch Says Agreement Near
 An income tax rollback to 4.6 percent can take place without either enhanced property tax relief or the so-called "loophole" closing measure being enacted along with it, House Speaker Gary Owen (D-Ypsilanti) said. Governor James Blanchard, however, has said any rollback measure must be accompanied by measures to replace the revenue.

Owen said new estimates show the rollback could be covered by a tax amnesty program providing one-time revenues of at least $50 million, a one-time assessment on banks to recapture taxes lost by a court ruling, and higher budget surpluses.

Both Owen and Republican Leader Michael Busch of Saginaw also said negotiations between Taxation Chairman Lynn Jondahl (D-East Lansing) and Minority Vice-Chair William Bryant (R-Grosse Pointe Farms) are close to an agreement on a rollback provision.

Both also said the House may yet act on a provision before it adjourns next week, although Owen said he was not optimistic that would happen.

The Senate approved a rollback retroactive to Nov. 11; the House has favored a May 15 date tied to other bills.

Busch said he understood the discussion between Jondahl and Bryant now centered solely on rolling back the income tax rate from the current 5.1 percent rate to 4.6 percent on April 1, 1986.

That rollback date could be scheduled even earlier if the surplus from the 1984-85 fiscal year would justify an earlier date, he said.

Owen, after a 44-53 House vote rejected a motion to discharge the rollback bill from committee, said he would still like to see enhanced property tax and loophole closing bills enacted, but "if we can reach agreement on a rollback, so be it."

He also said House Democrats have always been willing to enact an income tax rollback without increased property tax relief or the loophole closing bills, which would impose the insurance premium tax on domestic insurance companies and increase bank taxes.

But he said Democrats still wanted additional property tax relief and would continue to push for that.

The discharge vote followed a partisan alignment, with only one Democrat, Representative Sal Rocca of Sterling Heights, voting with 43 Republicans. No Republicans voted against the motion, although a number of GOP legislators abstained from voting on the measure, including Bryant.

Kelley Files Notice on Battle Creek Pollution Suits
 Attorney General Frank Kelley has notified current and past owners of landfills that have been identified as sources for toxic chemical pollution of Battle Creek river and groundwater that he will sue for reimbursement of state cleanup costs.

The suit is also to seek damages and civil penalties.

Involved are two Thomas Solvent Co. sites and two Grand Trunk Western Railroad sites. Kelley said the state and federal governments have spent "several million dollars" to block the spread of the groundwater contaminations, and the state has committed $1.8 million to clean up one Thomas Solvent site.

He said the civil lawsuit would be filed in federal district court within 60 days if the parties do not agree to a settlement.

Straw for Christmas Crib Custom Started in France

The custom of straw for the crib, which seems to have originated in France, helps children see their efforts as they prepare for the coming of the Christ Child with many acts of kindness.

First, an empty crib is given a place of honor somewhere in the home, preferably a place that people must pass often each day.

Each child in the family (parents may also join in the custom) may place a piece of straw or yellow yarn in the crib each night for every kind act he or she did during the day.

The figure of the Christ Child is not placed in the crib until Christmas Eve. By that time, the crib should be filled with soft straw or yellow yarn as a bed for the Holy Child.

facility for adults and adolescents which was funded entirely through community philanthropy. The first anniversary of the facility was celebrated recently.

H. Holmes Named To Head CMHC Development Council

Chelsea Milling Co. president Howard S. Holmes has been elected chairman of the Catherine McAuley Health Center (CMHC) Development Council. Harry A. Towsley, M.D., professor emeritus, Postgraduate Medicine at the University of Michigan, was elected vice-chairman.

The Development Council was organized in 1975 to assist Catherine McAuley Health Center in undertaking fund-raising efforts to support St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mercywood Hospital and other units of CMHC.

During the past 10 years, the council has provided leadership in raising approximately one-fifth of the funds for the new St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; $2 million for the Thurston Thime Education Center; $3.2 million for Huron Oaks, a treatment facility for chemically dependent adults and adolescents; $500,000 for the Emergency Department Enhancement Project; and additional thousands of dollars for the new mental health facility, medical and surgical equipment, numerous waiting rooms and patient/family lounges throughout the health center.

"Members of the Development Council," Robert E. Lavery, CMHC president, said, "are an integral part of the Health Center family. We are fortunate to have so many civic leaders committed to helping us achieve our fund-raising goals. As the community's health care needs intensify, we will turn increasingly to the Development Council for assistance."

New members elected to the council include: Ted April, president of A and L Parts; Lawrence B. Brilliant, M.D., chief executive officer and chairman of Network Technologies International, Inc.; Howard J. Cooper, president of Howard J. Cooper Volkswagen, Inc.; Benjamin F. ## Rep. O'Connor Critical of Divestiture Legislation

Legislation that would require various state pension plans to withdraw their assets from firms owned or operated in South Africa was approved today by the Michigan House and an area lawmaker said the vote was "a premature decision that could be costly."

State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Saline) said that while she is strongly opposed to apartheid and all forms of racial oppression, the legislation may not be the proper avenue to address the issue.

"The divestiture legislature is well intentioned, but I worry about the effect it will have on retirees in this state. The economic consequences of today's action could eventually cost state taxpayers," O'Connor said.

"I also think much more research should have been done on the issue before we made this move. Lawmakers should have waited until the administration's special commission on divestiture released more information."

On a 67-39 vote, lawmakers approved what calls for a phased withdrawal of assets of the State Employees and Public School Employees Retirement Funds from all investments held in firms owned by the South African government or from American firms which operate there. The legislation would require that total divestiture be achieved within five years.

O'Connor said that it is difficult to predict how this phased divestiture will ultimately affect the investment performance of the retirement funds. But some officials predict that there will be loss of investment income to retirement funds and however nominal the losses are, the state will have to make up the revenue.

"The general fund money used to make up the difference comes from the taxpayers of Michigan, who will have to foot the bill for this decision," O'Connor said.

"I also have problems with state legislators making a foreign policy decision. This should be a matter for our federal lawmakers to consider and I think we're out of our jurisdiction," she said.

CHELSEA PHARMACY

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

If you are overweight and have resolved to get rid of that excess poundage in 1986, the starting gun is only a week away.

How much weight is too much? If you are 15 percent heavier than you were in your mid-twenties, the extra weight is a serious health hazard and can reduce your life expectancy. If you can't remember what you weighed between the ages of 25 and 29 look up the "Ideal" or "Desirable" weight tables in a recent copy of the World Almanac. Another good reference point is your bathroom mirror.

The way you put on those extra pounds was accomplished by upsetting the energy balance of your body. Your energy balance is the amount of food energy, measured in calories, needed each day to keep you going. If, since your mid-twenties, you have continued at the same level of activity but have begun to eat 100 more calories a day than you need, you will consume and keep 36,500 calories a year. Since those 36,500 unused calories will be stored in your body in the form of fat, the extra 100 calories per day translate into more than 10 pounds a year. You added that weight at the sneaky rate of only three ounces per week!

A standard combination for many adults is more food and less activity so that a common occurrence between ages 30 and 40 is the addition of six ounces of fat per week . . . and still climbing.

By age 40 many of the guys in summer shorts seem to appear well into the second trimester of pregnancy.

Somewhere along the line for members of both sexes, the Weight Panic arrives. They are tempted to begin a program of massive food denial combined, perhaps, with non-prescription chemicals and unaccustomed exercise.

Nutritionists with whom I have worked tell me that the way to get rid of fat is to take it off as you put it on: slowly. Never mind getting back into that size 14 dress or those size 32 jockey shorts by March first. Tell yourself, right from the beginning, that the loss of 10, 12, or 15 pounds by Dec. 31st will be great. Do this, and at the end of 1986 you will have visible evidence of success instead of sheepish memories of how you flunked in March or April.

Yes, indeed. If you take the fat off as leisurely as you put it on, you will possess one of the greatest health secrets of life.

Returning again to the nutritionists, your initial approach to the problem of obesity is not immediate weight loss but to stop getting fatter. Never mind the thin and slim daydreams until you have arrested the process of getting fatter. Depending on your height, ideal weight and sex, you begin by giving up 100 or 200 calories of food and beverages a day. After being cleared by your physician, you also begin a faithful program of light exercise where you burn up an additional 100 or 200 calories of energy per day.

Follow both of these programs and by Dec. 31, 1986 you will be 10 to 20 pounds lighter and healthier—with years added to your life expectancy. If you're still overweight on Dec. 31, 1986, hang in there during 1987 until your body resembles age 29 again.

For weight control you'll want an accurate bathroom scale. You'll discover that you should not only check your weight, but go through the extremely important discipline of recording it. This weighing and recording should be done on the same day of each week in the morning before you have eaten or had anything to drink. A weekly change of one pound doesn't mean much because of variables in elimination, but a monthly change of a full pound, one way or the other, is significant.

The ideal system of weight control means daily counting and recording of calories, but only a few of us are willing to buy dinner table scales for meal-by-meal weighing and bookkeeping.

If overweight is your situation as you celebrate the arrival of 1986, perhaps you would be willing to seek sure but slow victory by giving up a daily serving or two of certain items of food or drink. Here's a list of calories and consequences in rounded numbers.

Give up one serving a day	With these calories	And lose these pounds per year
2 large eggs . . . . .	160	17
8 oz. whole milk . . . . .	160	17
1 oz. hard cheeses . . . . .	112	12
1 Tbs. butter or margarine . . . . .	100	10.5
1 oz. butter or margarine . . . . .	203	21
1 slice white bread . . . . .	70	7.5
2 oz. sweet roll . . . . .	180	19
1 Tbs. oil or lard . . . . .	100	10.5
1 Tbs. mayonnaise . . . . .	100	10.5
1 oz. wheat flakes . . . . .	100	10.5
1 oz. corn flakes . . . . .	110	11.5
12 oz. cola . . . . .	132	14
12 oz. light beer . . . . .	100	10.5
12 oz. regular beer . . . . .	150	16
4 oz. dry wine . . . . .	96	10
1.5 oz. 80 proof liquor . . . . .	100	10.5
1 oz. cooked bacon . . . . .	175	18
2 oz. lean hamburger . . . . .	130	14
2 oz. lean beef, lamb or pork . . . . .	100	10.5
2 oz. peanuts . . . . .	330	35
1 oz. chewing gum . . . . .	90	9.5
1 oz. popcorn with oil . . . . .	130	14
1 oz. potato chips . . . . .	160	17
1 oz. pretzels . . . . .	110	11.5

The above figures suggest how much weight you can lose by eliminating single portions of certain foods, snacks or beverages. The figures also suggest what you can lose by eating two ounces less of meat per serving, or setting for one egg instead of two.

The McKune Library, as always, contains helpful books on weight reduction. Look for copies of "Lose Weight Naturally" or "Goodbye Forever to Personal Fat." For a virtual encyclopedia of food and liquor caloric values, look for "Composition of Foods," a government publication which is on the way.

Now, how about additional benefits to your physical fitness through a program of physical exercise? Such a program should be started lightly, preceded by a checkup with your doctor. It should then be increased gradually until you are able to go through 30 minutes of steady walking, swimming, biking or running four or five times a week. (Any book written by Dr. Kenneth Cooper of aerobic fame will help you.) The extra energy you consume in exercising will help you lose an additional three to ten pounds per year but the main benefits will be a stronger heart, a wonderfully improved circulatory system, healthier lungs and more responsive muscles.

The nutritionists say that the way to reduce gradually and sensibly is to eat more vegetables and fruits while cutting down on fats and starches. The books in the library will help you but your best reference points are the caloric tables. Why eat lima beans at 38

Arlene Howe Receives U-M Distinguished Service Award

Arlene B. Howe of Chelsea was recently the recipient of the distinguished service award from the Medical Center Alumni Society of the University of Michigan Hospital.

Howe, who retired from the hospital in 1984, where she served as staff associate to Jephtha W. Dalston, executive director of Michigan hospitals, was considered a pioneer in new management methods for the patient care unit. She gained an international reputation for her work. She presented or published more than 50 papers on management of patient care units and materials and at one point was assistant director and acting director of Nursing Service of University Hospital.

She was also credited with playing a major role in obtaining the certificate of need for the new, replacement hospital and the Survival Flight Ambulance Service.

She also served as an administrative consultant to the Pan American Health Organization, was project director for the design phase of the U-M Mott Children's Hospital, and was regional director of the U-M United Way Campaign, in addition to a wide variety of other nursing and administrative positions.

"The university and the hospitals are richer for having had your fine service and years of loyalty," said Dr. Janet Lundberg, assistant dean and associate professor of nursing, during her presentation of the award.

Lovely homemade ornaments add personal touch to well-filled tree

In the early 1800s every branch of a Christmas tree was covered with decorations — sometimes gingerbread cut into various shapes and brightly decorated with colored icing . . . sometimes little crocheted decorations or yarn stiffened with starch into stars and rounds.

Pine cones come in all sizes and can be converted into colorful ornaments easily. Apply Elmer's Glue All on tips and sprinkle with glitter — all silver or various colors. Mix glue with food coloring and paint the cones and, while wet, press in beads, jewels, buttons.

Cover small inexpensive baskets with the little cones, glue one next to the other with Elmer's Tacky Adhesive. Add a bright bow and you have delightful candy holders to use on the holiday table or tree.

New Quit-Smoking Home Video Available

For those friends and relatives on your holiday shopping list who want to quit smoking, there is now a new home video program from the American Lung Association—the "In Control: A Freedom From Smoking" Program. Based on the most recent smoking and nicotine research available, the package contains a two-hour video cassette, an 124-page book that reinforces the video and gives supplementary information on diet and exercise, and an audio cassette that has been developed to enhance motivation and relaxation.

The videotape is hosted by Nina Schneider, Ph.D., the program director for Smoking Cessation at the UCLA Center for Health Enhancement and a research psychologist at the Veteran's Administration Medical Center in Los Angeles. The videotape also features San Diego baseball star Steve Garvey, who gives additional motivation and demonstrates some helpful exercises.

By watching one nine-minute segment a day for 13 days, viewers can learn the facts and techniques to quit smoking for good. Smokers quit at Segment 6 and then practice techniques to ensure that they maintain their new nonsmoking status. Each segment gives the viewers motivation, encouragement and specific techniques on how to become a permanent ex-smoker—including how to cope with withdrawal symptoms, and breathing and relaxation exercises. There is also a wide variety of suggestions for pleasurable alternatives to smoking. Information on the use of nicotine gum and weight management is also covered.

The "In Control" program was made possible through partial funding from MONY Financial Services and can be purchased at selected local bookstores and catalogues, or through your local American Lung Association.

Snuff is dark air or fire-cured tobacco which has been powdered and flavored. The user places a small pinch between the lower lip and gum, where it mixes with saliva and is absorbed; inhales a pinch into each nostril; or dips a small moistened brush into the snuff and places the brush between the cheek and gum.

Fifty-year-old blue whales have been known to reach a length of 100 feet.

SAY "MERRY CHRISTMAS" with two delectable holiday treats, Cranberry Bread Wreath and Cranberry Cheese Tree, which are as decorative as they are delicious.

Christmas decorations that please both eye and palate

Trees are as important a part of the Christmas theme as they have been for more than 200 years. Few of us can still go out to cut down our own trees. Many people now use artificial trees made to look like the real thing.

Others go in for modern versions—plastic cones completely covered with glitter beads or pom-poms, or one made of lengths of dowels—and now come a wonderful tree and wreath made of yeast dough and decorated with cranberries.

CRANBERRY BREAD WREATH

- 1 package (¼ ounce) active dry yeast
- ½ cup warm water (105°-110°F)
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup milk
- ¼ cup soft butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2 large eggs
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 4 cups all-purpose flour (about)
- 1 egg white

In large bowl, dissolve yeast in water and sprinkle in sugar. Let stand a few minutes.

Meanwhile, in a small saucepan, heat milk and butter just until lukewarm. Stir milk mixture, salt, nutmeg, eggs and lemon rind into dissolved yeast.

With mixer, beat in 1 cup of flour. With spoon, stir in enough of the remaining flour to form stiff dough.

Turn out and knead 5 to 10 minutes or until smooth and elastic, adding flour as needed. Place dough in greased bowl; cover; let rise 1½ hours or until doubled. Meanwhile, prepare and chill Cranberry Filling.

Cut dough in half. Roll half to 18 x 9-inch rectangle. Brush with some egg white. Sprinkle with half of Cranberry Filling to within 1 inch of edges. Roll up from long edge. Seal ends and seam securely. Repeat with other half of dough and filling.

Grease a large baking sheet; dust with flour. Place rolls, seam side down, on sheet and cut ½ inch off ends of each to use for making leaves. Shape bread into a wreath, crossing the ends together over one another and tucking the ends under. Brush top with egg white. Roll out pieces and cut into leaves and shape some dough into holly berries.

Let wreath rise in warm place, uncovered, until puffy looking, about 30 minutes.

Bake in a preheated 375°F oven 50 minutes or until nicely browned, covering leaves midway through baking with pieces of foil to prevent overbrowning.

Cool wreath on wire rack. Tie with ribbon and decorate with ornaments, if you wish.

Makes one large wreath.

Cranberry Filling

- Combine ¼ cup soft butter, ¼ cup flour, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup chopped walnuts, 1 cup chopped Ocean Spray fresh cranberries and ¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel.

Chill until butter is firm.

CRANBERRY CHEESE TREE

- 1 cup Ocean Spray fresh cranberries
- ½ cup water
- ½ cup sugar
- 4 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
- ½ cup minced crystallized ginger
- ½ cup finely chopped toasted slivered almonds
- Fresh cranberries, whole natural almonds, mint sprigs
- Crystallized ginger slice
- Bread or crackers

Cook 1 cup berries for 15 minutes in water and sugar. Drain and chill pulp until cold.

In large bowl with mixer, beat cream cheese until fluffy. Stir in minced ginger and almonds. Barely fold in chilled cranberry pulp.

On foil-lined small plate, mound mixture in the shape of a tree. Refrigerate until firm.

When firm, reshape tree until it is about 7 inches high. Place on serving plate. Decorate with whole cranberries, almonds and mint. Cut ginger slice into a star for the top of the tree.

Refrigerate tree until serving time. Spread cheese on sliced raisin bread or crackers.

Makes a 7-inch high tree or about 32 appetizer servings.

project at the skating area adjacent to Veterans Memorial Park and behind the residences on the west side of North Main St., known as Maewood Skating Pond.

Literally tons of earth have been dug up to deepen and enlarge the pond area. A member of the committee told the story, listed here in part:

The arrival of Christmas vacation triggered the stampede of children from all over town toward the Maewood skating area adjacent to Veterans Memorial Park, only to see them dejectedly turn around and return, some with their unused skates still slung over their shoulders.

The cleaning and deepening of Letts Creek had left their skating pond, where merriment and laughter of the young people had echoed for the past four winters, high and dry—the men decided something had to be done and they have set about remedying the situation.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Dec. 27, 1951—

Sleet and freezing rain, predicted for late afternoon Christmas Day, did not strike Chelsea, but another heavy snowfall which began about 11 p.m. Christmas Eve and continued until 11 a.m. Christmas morning added about seven inches more to the amount that has been accumulating the past two weeks.

County road crews worked constantly in an effort to keep roads open and main road traffic was kept moving. There were numerous reports of cars going into ditches.

In the village proper, cars were stuck in streets and in driveways. Temperatures ranged from 17 to 22 degrees during the day.

John L. Fletcher has tendered his resignation as director, vice-president and cashier of the Chelsea State Bank, because of poor health, according to an announcement made this week by P. G. Schaible, president.

It is with regret that the Board of Directors accepts his resignation, a spokesman for the board stated.

Mr. Fletcher has been associated with the banking fraternity in Chelsea since May 1, 1906, and during that time has been keenly interested in banking and in the banks he served.

Effective Jan. 1, 1952, postal cards issued by the United States Post Office department, and private mailing of post cards, will require two cents postage.

Signs . . .

ance, confirmed everything Frost told the council. He also said Flander St. is a convenient drop-off point for people who don't want to get into the daily congestion in the circle in front of the high school. He expressed some concern that students would simply find somewhere else to go.

There was some question as to the precise definition of "standing," as it pertains to an automobile, but the general feeling of the council seemed to be that it was better to take some action now to prevent future accidents, and deal with any problems later, should they occur.

Three dozen signs have been specially ordered from a company in Charlotte, according to village administrator Fritz Weber. He said they will cost about $14 per sign, once the posts are included.

No one could say specifically when the signs would arrive, but a guess of anywhere from four to eight weeks was considered reasonable.

7th Graders Have Chinese Dinner

The seventh grade bloc classes are having a Chinese dinner. Mrs. Barbara Brown and James Hoelt, seventh grade bloc teachers, shared the many hours of planning with 18 students.

The students include Carrie Flintoft, Jane Pacheco, Kerry Plank, Jeremy Stephens, Vince Dunn, Patty Delmonte, Chrissy Dunlap and Lucy Eisenbeiser.

The list of students continues with Amy Koenegeter, Sarah Geghenheimer, Kate Dilworth, Julie Warren, Judy Quilter, Joey Wolf, Dana Durst, Krista Johnston, Matt Francis and Kim Friday.

The great event took place in the LGI of Beach Middle school, Wednesday, Dec. 18.

The circumstances of the dinner were related to the Chinese customs as well as they could have been. In order to come into the LGI, students had to remove their shoes as the people of China would.

The food was cooked in Chinese woks. It was a mixture of vegetables and rice.

Darcy Steilstra, principal at Beach school, came in and showed the students how to use chopsticks.

Seventh graders had this dinner because they are studying the people and customs of China in their history class. Both place-mats and decorations were made by the students.

Cub Scouts Keep Busy

Den 3 of Cub Scout pack No. 455 has been keeping busy this month making Christmas presents, following the theme of "Follows, Helps, Gives." The boys also made Santa Claus suits, using anything they could find, and five dressed up like Santa for the skit for the December pack meeting.

Dan Baker was the first in the den to achieve the rank of "Bear," and has earned several arrow points.

Toby Corkern is the den's photographer for the month. He had a large part in the skit in the role of a news reporter.

Steve Picklesimer is the den captain for the month.

Barry Anttila worked the hardest selling Christmas trees, putting in nine hours setting up and selling trees to raise money for the pack.

John Hoffenbecker has been busy building his pinewood derby car for the races in January.

Boone Gegenheimer signed off the most achievements for the month and will be getting his "Bear" badge at the next pack meeting.

Den 6 is new this year, under the leadership of Debbie Kennedy. The den had a chance to see an ambulance first-hand and learn about the live-saving equipment inside it. Another den project included "secret projects," for the parents for Christmas.

Matthew DeLong completed five achievements in one week and earned two beads toward his "Wolf" badge.

"Good job, Matthew," Debbie said.

Services . . .

At St. Barnabas Episcopal church, a Mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. the morning of Dec. 25.

As on Christmas Eve, many of the churches will hold special services, Christmas Day, and people are invited to inquire through the church office or the pastor if information is desired about the services.

Clock Tower

calories per ounce when a dozen other green vegetables at 5 to 10 await you?

Now to end this column with a solution to a mystery. Are you actually starving when you reduce your intake of calories as a means of losing weight? Let's say you need 2,200 calories to see you through a program of daily existence which includes work and exercise. If you are only eating and drinking 2,000 calories a day you are not starving. You get 2,000 calories from the refrigerator, kitchen shelves and beverage bar. The other 200 calories are withdrawn from the worst bank account you'll ever possess: the stores of excess fat throughout your body. These steady withdrawals from your body fat make up for all the deposits you made before you knew better.

The origin of the Christmas carol

As it has been the birthplace of so many other important aspects of Christmas celebration, so Italy also seems to have been the land which first heard the melodious strains of the Christmas carol.

The words and tune of that first song honoring Christ's birth — and meant to be sung by the common people — are long forgotten. However, the occasion is remembered.

St. Francis, the originator of the manger scene in the early 13th century, devised a way to bring the circumstances of Christ's birth home to even the most humble peasant.

The manger scene he created was peopled by life-size statues of the Holy Family, whose realism was enhanced by the presence of living animals, such as a donkey and a ox.

The meaning of the tableau was reinforced by songs retelling Christ's message, with newly written religious words set to the tune of long-popular secular carols — songs which were meant to inspire dancing (the word "carol" is probably derived from the Greek choros, "dance").

Snowmobile Trails Best Ever

Snowmobiles should find the best conditions ever this winter since grooming is planned at least weekly on the state's 175 public trails by the Department of Natural Resources in a stepped-up maintenance program, according to AAA Michigan.

In previous years, most heavily used trails were groomed weekly but others were groomed only as needed following a snowfall.

The Michigan Legislature has allocated $500,000 from the general fund to ensure weekly grooming this season and to help boost tourism. An additional $900,000 will come from the state's snowmobile registration fees. Registration costs $15 per vehicle for a three-year period. Grooming will be done by state workers and 50 local government and private groups.

Michigan has 190,000 registered snowmobiles, the same as last year but down from the record 400,000 in the early 1970's.

Approximately 4,500 miles of trails—the same as last year—are on AAA Michigan's 1985-86 guide to public snowmobile sites. They are in 63 state parks, one southern game area, 107 state forests and four national forests. A $2 daily or $10 annual motor vehicle permit is required to operate a snowmobile in a state park.

Trail lengths range from one mile in Petoskey State Park to 200 miles through the Upper Peninsula's Ottawa and Huron national forests.

Michigan law prohibits snowmobiling on trails with less than four inches of snow. Depths usually are adequate by Dec. 1 in the U.P. and before the end of the month in much of Lower Michigan. Snowmobiling will be permitted Jan. 2 through March 31 in West Michigan's state game area in Allegan county, following the bow-and-arrow deer hunting season.

Off-trail snowmobiling is allowed on state forest land but is prohibited or restricted in national forests. Snowmobilers should contact rangers' offices for specific rules.

Regardless of the site selected, snowmobilers are advised to check conditions at local DNR offices before planning a trip.

Youths aged 12 to 16 who have passed an eight-hour, state-approved snowmobile safety course may drive unsupervised by an adult while driving or riding on public property.

While no figures are available for last winter, 16 persons died in snowmobile accidents during the 1983-84 season. They include two persons who drowned after falling through the ice and one driver who fell from the vehicle after hitting a chain strung across a trail.

"SNOW"

By PHIL EASSA

I like snow,
Even though it's cold.
I like it when it blows.
As long as, I have something on my toes!

"CHRISTMAS TREE"

By JASON KOCH

I like my Christmas Tree
It's as green as a pea.
I like the lights
On Christmas night!

"CHRISTMAS TIME"

By JEFF MOORE

I like the presents at Christmas time.
As long as they are not slime.
I like to eat Christmas dinner.
I don't care about getting thinner!

"SNOWMAN"

By JEFF MOORE

A snowman is nice to look at.
A snowman is fat.
It is fun to make.
But, it is fake!

"SNOWMEN"

By PHIL EASSA

I like to build snowmen,
But, only in the wintertime.
I build them big and call them mine.
And, that's what old people consider a good time!

"CHRISTMAS TREE"

By JENNIFER BURNETT

Oh, Christmas tree, you look so pretty,
With all those decorations and lights.
I wish I didn't have to take you down so soon.
While I sing a Christmas tune.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS FROM AROUND THE WORLD, a play, was presented to parents and visitors last week at South school by fourth graders in Miss DeVries' class and third graders in Mrs. Hamilton's class. The play, featuring Philip Steele and Beth Bell, above, was about two children who were granted their wish to go to the North Pole and meet children from other countries to learn their ways of celebrating Christmas.

CHRISTMAS FROM SOUTH OF THE BORDER is explained by Bryan Dufek, right, as he models a poncho from Mexico, during last week's play, "Christmas Customs From Around The World." The play was presented by third and fourth graders at South school to family, friends and visitors.

Products on Parade

This series of stories spotlights the manifest products of Michigan's farms, forests and factories—the products proudly stamped "Made in Michigan." Watch for them when you shop, and "Buy Michigan-made!" This week's story: "Ready in a Jiffy."

By Paula Blanchard
Mabel Holmes and her husband Howard, the president of Chelsea Milling Co., were driving back to their home in Michigan after a vacation when it came to her. "Howard," she said, "I've thought of it—a name for our new prepared baking mix!"

The name she suggested on the wintry day in 1930 has since become a household word: "Jiffy."

The company's "Jiffy" baking mix—one of the first prepared mixes on the market—was something of a revolutionary development when it was introduced to those many years ago. Before that (many of you may recall) home-baked goods were prepared from "scratch" and took more than just a jiffy to prepare.

"Jiffy" quickly caught on with America's homemakers and homebakers. It was not only quick, but it invariably yielded baked goods judged equal in taste and texture to those Mom used to make—the hard way. No more running next door to borrow an egg or dollop of shortening when it was biscuit time. All you needed with "Jiffy" was some water and a mixing bowl . . . and a few minutes.

The first "Jiffy" was an all-purpose mix that could be used to prepare just about anything that was bakable. Today's menu of "Jiffy" mixes allows the home-baker to fine-tune recipes for such goodies as pie and pizza crusts, buttermilk biscuits, single-layer cakes, fudge brownies, corn muffins and four kinds of fruity muffins—honey date, bran with dates, apple cinnamon and everybody's favorite, blueberry. "Jiffy" instant-mix frostings for its celebrated cake mixes are also available.

The Chelsea Milling Co. factory, a landmark in rural Washtenaw county since 1901, mills more than two million bushels of wheat (from Michigan farms I am happy to report) a year and workers at the factory turn out more than a million packages of mixes a day. Or, as Mabel Holmes might say, in a jiffy.

In any case, let's keep making it—and baking it—in Michigan!

RATHER THAN EXCHANGING PRESENTS, Mrs. Mortensen's fifth grade class at North school all chipped in the money they would have spent and donated money and pet food to the Huron Valley Humane Society. It was a generous gesture by the youngsters. Members of the class include Henry Alvarez, Michelle Beeman, Stephanie Bonds, Danny Bufford, Emily Carty, Joseph

Salvation Army Helps Needy Senior Citizens

For Sam Jones, Christmas is filled with bittersweet memories of happier times. Sam is one of America's often forgotten people who, after leading full and productive lives, find themselves alone and trying to make ends meet on a limited income. He is one of America's elderly.

The Salvation Army is aware that in each city and town across this country there are thousands of people like Sam. People who need to know that somebody cares. To meet the needs of our increasing elderly population, the Salvation Army offers numerous programs aimed at improving the quality of life for our senior citizens. These activities give seniors the opportunity to make friends with people of similar interests and experience and to participate in a variety of projects that will give them a sense of self-worth.

Due to rising food prices, those on fixed incomes have a difficult time meeting their expenses. Often, these people live on only one meal per day. The Salvation Army offers assistance to those seniors faced with financial problems. Whether it is a food voucher or assistance in filling out forms to obtain government assistance, the Salvation Army is always ready to lend a helping hand.

Christmas is a very special time of the year, a time of family, friends and sharing. For Sam Jones this Christmas will be filled with joy and the knowledge that he has a friend in the Salvation Army.

Three chocolate kisses, one medium-sized apple, and one small banana all contain about 80 calories. Problem is, you CAN eat just one banana, but how can you eat just three kisses?

Happy holidays, friends and neighbors.

Thanks for letting us serve you.

A GINGERBREAD HOUSE was constructed recently by pre-school children at the North Lake Co-op Nursery. The youngsters used graham crackers, frosting and lots of candy treats to design the sweet structure. Parents were on hand to make sure most of the candy went into the construction of the house. The co-operative, directed by Loretta Stafford, is in St. Barnabas church on Old US-12. Above, from left, are Brian Fisher, Mallia Montange and Casey Brooks.

A FANCIFUL CHELSEA is depicted in a display case at South school, designed and arranged by fourth graders in Miss DeVries', Mrs. Nance's, and Mr. Lazo's classes. The display depicts three Chelsea streets and includes the bell tower, homes, businesses, a Christmas tree, banks and Santa and sleigh. The display is made largely of cookies, candy, and paper, and will be up through January. Mrs. Rogers, art education instructor, organized and coordinated the project. Above, from left, are Nathan MacKinder, Dale Hansen, Michelle Mast, Tracy Hass, Tracy Patrick, and Jessica Burby.

The Standard Printed Early

The Chelsea Standard was printed early this week because of the Christmas holiday. The paper went to press late Monday night, Dec. 23, and was put on news stands and placed in the mail early Tuesday morning. The paper carries a Wednesday, Dec. 25 dateline.

A similar schedule will be followed for the next edition, which will go to press on Monday, Dec. 30, but will be dated Wednesday, Jan. 1.

Because of the earlier printing and mailing dates all deadlines for news and advertising must be one day earlier than normal.

Display advertising must be in early Thursday. Classifieds will be accepted until Saturday noon.

News copy will be accepted until Sunday noon.

The normal schedule for production of the paper will resume with the Jan. 8 edition.

Chelsea Day In Florida Slated Feb. 22

Chelsea Day for the "snowbirds" in Florida will be happy to know it will be held on Feb. 22. A 1 o'clock pot-luck dinner will be held. Officers will be elected and lots of reminiscing will be done.

Laurance Boyer of No. 4 Park Ave., Port Richey, Fla., has made all the arrangements.

Last year's gathering found nearly 100 Chelsea area people in attendance. The Hudson Community Building will be where to go, the same place as last year.

Chelsea Day was started near Altoona, Fla., by the late Lula Sweeney in the late 60's, and everyone looked forward to meeting with friends who had moved permanently there.

THE OLD FIRESTONE BUILDING on Old US-12 next to the fairgrounds is now the home of Davidson Sales & Maintenance Co. Owner Jack Davidson moved the company from the Dexter area in November, and reports he has plenty of work, and just as importantly, plenty of space. Until Davidson, a long-time Dexter resident, moved his company, the building was becoming a local eyesore. As you can see from the photo, that isn't the case anymore. The company's primary business is remodeling and renovating gasoline stations. It carries and repairs everything a gas station might need, from the pumps to the piping.

Davidson Firm Happy With Recent Move to Chelsea Plant

Jack Davidson says he's "real satisfied," with his business' new location in what was the old Firestone building on Old US-12.

Davidson, owner of Davidson Sales & Maintenance Co., moved his company to Chelsea in November. The company specializes in providing equipment and maintenance to gasoline stations, although he serves a large number of farmers who also maintain gas pumping equipment. The business was previously located in the Dexter area.

"I've been real pleased by the way we've been received Chelsea, especially by the business community," Davidson said. "We've been extended credit without too much problem. The police have provided good security, and I know they patrol the building because they questioned one of our employees who came back late at night. That's a good feeling. Nothing but good has come out of this move."

The new building, new at least for Davidson, has about 19,000 square feet, and another 8-10,000 square feet outside for storage. Having adequate storage space is important to his business because he often has to order bulk shipments of equipment well ahead of renovation jobs. If he has a job to renovate five or six gas stations for a major oil company, the amount of equipment to be stored can be large.

"Having this kind of space is a major concern to the major oil companies," Davidson said. "Several of them have been in here to see our place, and they've been fairly impressed. We didn't have this kind of space at the old building. I would never be able to store equipment outside in Detroit, even with a big fence around the place because people always find a way to get around it. Even though much of our business is in Detroit, I never really considered moving there." Davidson, who has hired two people since his move here, says he wants to expand the business more into the "farming area."

"Farmers around Dexter know me because I've lived there all my life and they know what I can do, but I'd like to expand the business more into this area," Davidson said.

Davidson has done extensive remodeling to the inside of the building and plenty of landscaping on the outside. He's added insulation and paneled the offices, among other tasks.

The business employs 31 full and part-time people. He says he'll probably hire more as the business grows.

"We see continuing growth for at least the next five years," Davidson said. "They way things are going, it looks real good for us."

Chocolate is still made the same way since the turn of the century. It starts with bean pods of the Theobroma cocoa tree, which grows in Africa, the Far East, and Latin America. There are 20 to 40 beans in a pod, and some 400 beans are required to make a pound of chocolate. The beans are harvested, fermented naturally, and sun-dried for five or six days. Then they are shipped in burlap bags to the U. S. and other chocolate manufacturing countries.

Varsity Cagers Lose to Hot-Shooting Lincoln, Give Away Milan Game

When the Lincoln Railsplitters get rolling, there's no better team in the Southeastern Conference. They have the speed and the bulk. The Chelsea Bulldogs caught the Railsplitters at one of those peaks last Friday night and came out on the short end of an 89-68 score.

In other action last week, Milan topped the Bulldogs on Tuesday, 48-31.

Lincoln could not have played more inspired ball in the first half. They shot nearly 80 percent from the floor, all but four of their 38 points coming on jump shots. They ended the half making 19-24 shots.

"We were even chuckling about it at half-time," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter. "There comes a time as a coach when you really can't do anymore. Any team that shoots 80 percent deserves to beat anybody they play. Our scouting report said they shouldn't be able to shoot that well, but they did."

The Bulldogs were shocked early, trailing by 10 before they scored their first point. However, they came roaring back and actually took a 15-14 lead at the beginning of the second quarter. After that brief lead, however, the Railsplitters picked up the pace of the game and out-scored the Bulldogs, 24-6, for a 38-25 half-time lead.

"I was kidding with (assistant coach Hendricks) Ted after we took that lead that maybe we should sit on the ball," Rosentreter said. "That would have been impossible, though."

Chelsea whittled away at the lead early in the second half on two field goals by Mark Bareis, but Lincoln answered with 10 straight unanswered points and finished the third quarter with a 60-44 lead.

The fourth quarter featured almost no defense by either team as Lincoln scored 29 points and Chelsea 24.

For the night, Lincoln shot 64 percent (39-61) while Chelsea shot 36 percent (23-63).

Dan Bellus led Chelsea scorers with 14 points and Bareis followed with 12. Todd Starkey scored 10, Jeff Harvey and Ken Martin had eight each, Ray Spencer had six, Matt Steinhauer had five, Matt Bohlender and Greg Haist had two each, and John Jedele had one.

"We decided at the outset that we wanted to see what kind of team unit we could be," Rosentreter said. "Everybody contributed and everyone had a good time, even though we lost. There's no point in getting down about a game like that when your opponent plays as well as Lincoln did."

In the Milan contest on Tuesday, Chelsea was, in large part, its own worst enemy. The Bulldogs shot only 22 percent from the floor, 11-51.

Even so, Chelsea was down by 30-24 at the end of the third quarter and had a chance to cut the lead to two points at the beginning of the quarter. But a poor shot ended in a four-point swing for the Big Reds. Milan went on to out-score the Bulldogs 18-7 in the fourth period.

The Bulldogs were forced to switch defenses in the fourth quarter and do some fouling to get the ball back, which Milan used to their advantage, hitting eight free throws in the final minutes.

"Even if we had shot 30 percent, which still would have been horrible, the game might have been completely different," Rosentreter said. "We were out-rebounded badly, but you have to expect that when you miss so many shots. We basically felt pretty good about our defense since the last three times we played them at home they scored 56, 78 and 84 points. On offense, we tried to work the ball inside, but we just didn't hit the open men. That's one of the things we're going to stress over the break. We have to work the ball inside to be competitive."

The Bulldogs, once again, didn't help themselves from the line, making just nine of 17 tries.

Bellus was the only Bulldog in double figures, hitting 11 points. Starkey was next in line with eight points, Harvey contributed five, Bareis had three, and Martin and Jedele had two each.

"We believe we've played the three best teams in the conference now (Saline, Lincoln and Milan) and that we can concentrate on the others now," Rosentreter said.

Chelsea has a 2-3 over-all record and 1-2 mark in the SEC.

Cager of the Week

CAGER OF THE WEEK is senior co-captain John Jedele, the Bulldogs' hard-working center, and last season's most improved player. Jedele usually gives up a couple of inches or more to opposing centers, but that doesn't stop him from playing aggressive defense. He's also averaging about six points per game so far on offense. John stays busy in the winter with basketball and ice fishing, one of his other favorite sports. You can also find him at the bowling alley on week-ends. The Jedele family, which includes parents John and Judy, and sister Lori, in the 11th grade, moved back to Chelsea two years ago after spending a few years in California. John would like to continue his education in business or accounting after graduation.

JV Cagers Lose To Lincoln in OT

Junior Morseau made both ends of a one-and-one with six seconds to go to send the JV game with Lincoln into overtime last Friday, but the Bulldogs were out-scored in the final minutes and lost the contest, 55-52.

In other action last week, the JV's were humbled by Milan on Tuesday at home, 55-40.

In Friday's game with the Lincoln Railsplitters, the game was tied at 49 at the end of regulation. The Railsplitters had come back from a 27-18 deficit at half-time, out-pointing the Bulldogs 20-10 in the third quarter.

However, Chelsea had a good chance to win the game in the overtime. With 18 seconds left the game was tied and the Bulldogs had the ball. However, they threw the ball away and Lincoln quickly scored.

The Railsplitters played man-to-man defense in the first half but had little success as guards John Cattell and Matt Monroe were able to break loose and drive on the basket, accounting for a large part of Chelsea's 11-19 shooting in the first half. However, Lincoln tightened the score in the third quarter as a result of using a press, forcing the Bulldogs into numerous turnovers.

"They never really got into the flow of the game," said varsity coach Rahn Rosentreter on behalf of coach Ted Hendricks.

Monroe and Cattell led the Chelsea scoring with 18 and 14 points, respectively. Greg Boughton and Morseau had six points each, Clay Hurd had five, and Tim Anderson, three.

In Tuesday's Milan contest, Chelsea was victimized by too much Big Red height. The Big Reds were able to get inside for the easy baskets, hitting six of 12 in the second quarter and seven of 11 in the third.

Chelsea was also decisively out-rebounded, 30-20.

Sounding the death-knell, though, were 25 Bulldog turnovers, 10 in the second quarter and seven in the third.

Despite all that, Chelsea was only down 23-16 at half-time. A 19-point third quarter for Milan just about put the game out of reach.

Monroe had the scoring honors with 14 points. No one else was in double figures. Hurd and Morseau finished with seven points each, Anderson had six, and Phil Thomson, Cattell and Jeff Doering each had two points.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

If I were Santa Claus, here are a few sports gifts I would give.

Ralph Sampson to the Pistons. Bill Laimbeer is good, but Sampson should bring a better return on the dollar over the next decade or so. After all, that's what big time sports is all about, isn't it? The Pistons should give up anybody but Isiah Thomas to get him.

Kirk Gibson to the Lions. Maybe Gibson isn't worth the long term contract he's demanding from the Tigers, but the Lions can certainly use another good linebacker, can't they? That way he can stay at home (what new bride wants her man on the road for half a year?) and he'll have a lot more time off to go fishing with brother-in-law Dave Rozema. (That relationship, and all that could bubble up in the future, sounds like the ideal material for a country song.)

A new city for the Red Wings. Detroit is only big enough for one pizza tycoon, anyway. How about Windsor? Then they can be some other country's embarrassment.

A new time for the Cherry Bowl. This bowl game would be a great idea if it could be played some other time of year. Who in his right mind wants to go to Pontiac in the middle of winter to see a game involving two teams most people could care less about? The place isn't exactly Fun City even when the weather's good. And, anybody who wanted to see Maryland play had his chance during the regular season when the Terps visited Michigan Stadium. Why not be trendsetters and have the game before the season officially starts? Officials could invite the two best teams they can find, maybe based on pre-season polls. It could be promoted as the official start of the college football season. It might even become a prestigious game to play in. Promoters could sell camping-football game packages, and, goodness, there might actually be some real Michigan cherries available instead of cherry Jell-O Pops and Cherry Coke.

Then again, maybe it would be easier to move the whole mess to Florida and call it the Fish Bowl.

A shorter season to the NBA. Who really cares about pro basketball in the middle of June?

A clone of Dan Bellus to Gene LaFave. That would let Todd Starkey remain a receiver, where he should probably stay. Bellus will probably be missed more than anyone realizes.

An upset of Dexter for wrestling coach Kerry Kargel. His boys could lose every match the rest of the way, but a win over the Dreadnaughts would make the season.

75 percent free throw shooting for coach Rahn Rosentreter, because his boys can't afford to give away eight points a game.

A good curve ball for Wayne Welton's pitching staff. It will take the team further each game than a three-run homer.

A state championship for wrestler Pete Hanno. He has the talent and desire. And no one would be prouder than his daddy, Bill, who never misses a meet.

Another state championship for the varsity softball team. Because that team has done more to promote girls sports in this town than all other efforts combined. And anything to promote girls sports, I'm all for.

Tolerance and patience to all parents of Chelsea athletes at any level. So they can let their kids be kids, and the coaches do their jobs.

Wrestler of the Week

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK is junior Bryan Kidd, who wrestles in the 98-pound class. Bryan sports a 7-2 over-all record going into the holiday break. He has wrestled for four years, going back to his days at Beach Middle school. Bryan is also an outdoorsman, who shot his first deer this fall, a doe, in Saline. He's a member of the National Honor Society, has an interest in science and math, and would eventually like to have a career in sports medicine, a subject he has pursued for three or four years. Wrestling runs in the family, as his brother, Grant competes in the 89-pound class at Beach Middle school. Bryan is the son of Carl and Janice Kidd on Sycamore St.

Varsity Wrestlers Lose to Milan, 40-24

Chelsea varsity wrestlers lost their final meet before the holidays, 40-24, to Milan. The Bulldogs won six of the 13 matches. "I think we could have won eight matches and still lost the meet," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel. "They had so many pins, that it was hard to make up the difference in points." The Bulldogs had a couple of new faces in the line-up, including Curtis Heard, who had a wrist injury from football season that finally healed. "Milan is a good team," Kargel said. "I don't think anyone in the league will beat Dexter, but Milan and Saline should have an interesting battle." The results of the meet follow. Chelsea wrestlers are listed first. 98 pounds: Bryan Kidd pinned Sean Suisse in 2:46. 105 pounds: Raully Dale was pinned by Dan Brancheau in 1:16. 112 pounds: Reno Nye was pinned by Matt Trail in 1:01. 119 pounds: Robert Kornexl lost by technical fall to Brian Williams. 126 pounds: Pete Hanna pinned Mark Byrd in 2:53. 132 pounds: Ron Bogdanski won a 6-3 decision over Keith Bowerman. 138 pounds: Jim Boritsky was pinned by Rod Udell in 2:50. 145 pounds: Mark Edick lost a 13-5 decision to Aaron Taylor. 155 pounds: Steve Wingrove won a 7-2 decision over Dan Wicker. 167 pounds: Heard won a 15-3 decision over Jason Gee. 185 pounds: Leo Durham won a 6-3 decision over Curt Crampton. 198 pounds: Mike Taylor was pinned in 1:21 by Brad Eaton. Heavyweight: Todd Thurkow was pinned in :34 by Chris Brancheau.

8th Grade Cagers Win Over Dexter

Beach Middle school's eighth grade basketball team lost a 41-30 decision to Lincoln before rebounding on Thursday for an upset of previously unbeaten Dexter, 27-24. In the Lincoln game, Chelsea was behind by 14 points at half-time, 29-15, before narrowing the gap slightly in the second half. "We weren't playing very good defense, especially in the first half," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman. Chelsea scorers were led by Kyle Plank with seven points, Chad Raymond and Mark Chasteen with five points each, and Bret Wales and Chad Starkey with four points each. The Dexter game was highlighted by "real strong defense," according to Tallman. "We played a great game, especially considering how tall they were." Dexter has one 6-4 boy, and a couple others around 6-0. "The boys felt real good about this one since Dexter came into the game undefeated, and they may not have lost a game in two years." Starkey and Sinisa Janicevic shared the scoring honors with eight points each, Raymond had five and Wales, four. Chelsea finished the 1985 part of the season with a 2-4 record. The Bullpups have four games remaining.

Legislator Asks for Farm Assessment Study

Concerned about the financial crisis facing farmers, an area lawmaker strongly supports a resolution in the Michigan House that asks the State Tax Commission to study how agricultural land values are assessed in Michigan.

State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Lodi township) said that United States Department of Agriculture statistics show Michigan having the third highest per acre agricultural property tax in the nation (behind Rhode Island and New Jersey) and the highest per acre tax in the 12-state Midwest region.

"The state needs to take a closer look at how farm land is assessed," O'Connor said. "Michigan's total tax levied per acre of farmland is five times the national average and the amount levied per $100 market value is nearly four times the national average and we need to know why."

The resolution asks the commission to study the issue in cooperation with county equalization boards and local assessors. The group is asked to make a final report to the Legislature no later than Jan. 1.

Mrs. O'Connor said the commission has been asked to determine trends in assessed value of agricultural property by county for the last decade and to investigate alternative methods of determining the true cash value of agricultural land.

The assessed value of real property on Michigan farms rose 8.1 percent from 1980 to 1984 while the U.S. Department of Agriculture says it should have declined 10 percent, O'Connor added.

"Assessing agricultural land is one of the many issues facing farmers today. The farm crisis grows deeper every day. Low farm prices, wet weather and low yields continue to plague farmers. The commission study could shed some light on the assessment issue and make necessary recommendations," O'Connor concluded.

Goose Season Opens Jan. 1

Waterfowl hunters will be able to take advantage of Michigan's unique late Canada goose season in southern Michigan which begins Jan. 1 and runs through Feb. 16, 1986. Both the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service hope the late season and large hunting area will help control locally-reared giant Canada geese.

The local goose population in the special hunting zone was estimated to be 36,000 birds just before this past fall's regular hunting season started. It appears the population has more than doubled in the last five years.

The hunt area will be the same as last year and includes parts of 24 counties. They are: Barry, Eaton, Ingham, Livingston, Oakland, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Jackson, Washtenaw, Wayne, St. Joseph, Branch, Cass, Van Buren, Allegan, Kent, Ionia, Shiawassee, Genesee, Lapeer, Macomb, Monroe, Lenawee, and Hillsdale.

The boundaries of the Southern Michigan Goose Management Area, the hunt area, are shown in the State's 1985-86 waterfowl hunting guide, available at license outlets; most DNR offices; and DNR Information Services, 7th floor, Mason Building, Box 30028, Lansing 48909. Hunters are reminded that the daily bag limit is two Canadas.

"Many winter geese are found on private land," says Jerry Martz, Waterfowl Specialist with the DNR Wildlife Division. He cautions hunters to obtain permission from landowners before setting up their hunt. Hunters should check with local conservation officers and wildlife biologists at the DNR District Offices at Pontiac Lake (313-666-1500), Jackson (517-784-3188), and Plainwell (616-685-6851) if they have questions about public access, hunting closures, or local hunting conditions.

The Department is also seeking hunter co-operation in collecting biological samples needed to identify the proportion of locally-reared giant Canadas harvested.

7th Grade Cagers Split Two Games

Beach Middle school's seventh grade basketball team split its final two games before the holiday break, losing to Lincoln on Tuesday, 40-37, and upending Dexter, 32-26, on Thursday.

In the Lincoln game, Chelsea took a commanding 16-4 lead. But Lincoln came out in a full-court press, which caused the Bullpups fits. Chelsea also had trouble connecting on free throws, making just eight of 24 attempts.

Kerry Plank had 17 points to lead Chelsea scorers, Jude Quilter had eight points, Tucker Steele, seven points, Vince Dunn, three points, and Jeremy Stephens, two points.

In the Dexter game, the Bullpups again stormed out to an early 11-2 lead, but led by only four points at half-time.

Dexter took the lead briefly during the fourth quarter, but the Bullpups' full court press allowed Chelsea to out-score their opponents, 8-2, in the closing minutes.

Plank again led Chelsea scorers with 14 points. Other scorers were Quilter, with seven, Steele, with five, and Chris Haugen, Garrett Kern and Jeremy Stephens each with two points.

The Bullpups host Tecumseh on Jan. 14.

COACH TOM STEELE discusses strategy with his seventh grade Bullpups during last Thursday's 32-26 win over Dexter. Listening in are Vince Dunn (40), Tom Steele (14), and Jeremy Stephens (20).

Ski equipment may be rented at the park. Rates are $4 for two hours Monday through Friday and $5 for two hours on week-ends.

For those who prefer more speed, how about a 50-mile-an-hour toboggan ride? The Rolling Hills double-chute toboggan run is over 750 feet long and has a 50-foot vertical drop. Toboggans are available at the park for $1.50 per hour Monday through Friday and $2 per hour on week-ends. The run is operated by the Rolling Hills staff to ensure the safety of park visitors.

For skaters there is a half-acre ice rink. The park also has a winter warming room with fireplace, hot drinks, and restrooms.

Rolling Hills Park is on Stony Creek Rd., in Ypsilanti township. From US-23, go to the Willis Rd. exit and head east, turn north on Stony Creek. From I-94, go to the Huron-Whittaker Rd. exit, head south on Whittaker Rd. Turn west on Stony Creek.

Factory sales of motor vehicles in 1984 were 10.7 million units—7.6 million passenger cars and 3.1 million trucks and buses. The 1984 output was 17 percent above 1983's factory sales of 9.2 million vehicles.

Deer Hunters Take Near Record Number During Firearm Season

Michigan firearm deer hunters took an estimated 163,000 deer this year during the Nov. 15-30 firearm season, according to Department of Natural Resources (DNR) wildlife biologists. Only in 1981 were more deer taken during this season, with a total of 173,000 animals.

The 1985 firearm deer harvest was composed of 116,600 bucks and 46,500 antlerless deer, an increase of 26 percent above that of 1984's firearm deer harvest of 129,000.

The Upper Peninsula take was composed of 19,000 bucks and 4,500 antlerless deer. This total of 23,500 is an increase of 12 percent over last year's take of 20,900 in the U. P.

The northern Lower Peninsula harvest was composed of 67,000 bucks and 21,800 antlerless deer for a total of 88,800 deer, 38 percent higher than 1984's 64,500 harvest.

In the southern Lower Peninsula, 30,500 bucks and 20,200 antlerless deer made up the 50,700 total, a 16 percent increase over last year's take of 43,600 in this area.

DNR's Law Enforcement Division reports preliminary figures of six fatalities and 25 injuries resulting from firearm deer hunting accidents this year, compared to seven fatalities and 29 injuries during the 1984 season.

Conditions were ideal opening day; however, high winds and heavy precipitation during the season resulted in fewer hunting hours. An estimated herd of over a million deer still allowed many hunters to be successful despite the reduction in hunting hours.

Some deer hunting continued for hunters licensed in a designated hunter's choice area of Menominee county where the hunting season extended through Dec. 15. The archery deer season, which resumed Dec. 1, will run till Jan. 1, and the muzzleloader deer season, which started Dec. 6, ran until Dec. 15.

'Chili' Open Golf Tourney Slated

Registrations are currently being accepted for the third annual "Chili" Open Golf Tournament. The tournament will be held Saturday, Jan. 11, at Leslie Park Golf Course located on 2120 Traver Rd., Ann Arbor.

The tournament, sponsored by the City of Ann Arbor, Department of Parks and Recreation, consists of six holes of golf, played in snow or cold, and delicious "hot" chili for all participants upon completion of the round.

Prizes will be awarded for first and second places, closest to pin, and highest score.

Pre-registration of $5 is required.

For further information regarding registration, tee times, etc., please call the Huron Hills Ski Center at 971-9841, or the Department of Parks and Recreation at 994-2780.

Warning Against Clove Cigarettes

Smoking clove cigarettes, a current fad among young people, is also a hazardous one, according to the American Lung Association—the Christmas Seal people.

Though many users believe clove cigarettes, which are imported from Indonesia, are tobacco-free and harmless, studies show they are composed of 60-70 percent tobacco and 30-40 percent ground cloves, clove oil, and other additives. When burned, clove cigarettes produce higher levels of tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide than conventional domestic cigarettes.

In addition to the well-known health risks of smoking tobacco, there is a possible link between smoking clove cigarettes and shortness of breath, coughing up blood and lung illness. As the guardian of this country's lung health, the American Lung Association issued a warning that inhaling clove cigarette smoke may be dangerous.

What's in a name? Noël, Yule, Xmas explained

There are many names which signify the Christmas season. Noël is the French word for Christmas, with Father Christmas called, in France, Père Noël, and the traditional Yule log-shaped cake, a French creation, known as the Bûche de Noël. Noël is related to the Italian name for Christmas, Natale, and is derived from the Latin natus, or birthday.

The abbreviation Xmas is a shortening of Christmas. The "X" is actually the Greek letter "Chi," which is the first letter of Christ's name as it is written in Greek, the language of the New Testament. The use of Xmas is by no means a recent phenomenon, as it has been common since the 1100s.

Yule is of Scandinavian origin. The long northern winters were traditionally punctuated by the festivities of Yule, a word which was metamorphosed into Yule when it passed into the English language.

Yule was probably the name of a season—approximately winter—which ran from mid-November through mid-January. One of the major parts of the Yule celebration was the bonfire—an image of light and warmth in a season of darkness and cold—which eventually became the Yule log, a symbol of continuity.

Lighted with a piece left over from the previous year's log, it was required to burn continuously throughout the 12 days of Christmas, and had to be gathered by the family in whose fireplace it would burn.

May this happy holiday be filled to overflowing with premium fun!

Health Care Update For Folks Age 60 To 79!

NEW PLAN PAYS UP TO $182,700 FOR NURSING HOME BENEFITS — INCLUDING CUSTODIAL CARE

Getting well could spell financial ruin for today's senior citizen. According to a recent study on the plight of the elderly, 2 out of 3 Americans aged 66 and living alone, will be "impoverished" after spending just 13 weeks in a nursing home. Married persons aren't much better off.

But now there is a solution from Bankers Life and Casualty. It's a new kind of nursing home policy that pays benefits for...

- custodial, intermediate and skilled nursing care before, during and after Medicare payments and in addition to HMO benefits
- for up to five years depending on the length of time you select for any one sickness or injury.

There is more. With this new policy, you also select the daily benefit you want up to $100. And this amount will not change with the level of care you get.

To help you save money, the policy lets you decide when benefits start — from 0 days to 100 days. Other consumer benefits include...

- special "no premiums" rule during nursing home stay
- home convalescent care benefits
- full new benefits restored after get well period

There is no obligation for getting all the facts. The coupon below will bring you complete FREE information including the outline of coverage for you to review.

4th Grade Class Completes Chelsea Timeline Project

Members of Miss DeVries fourth grade class at South school put finishing touches on the Chelsea Timeline project done by the class. Several facts particularly interested the students as they studied Chelsea area history, beginning with:

- 10,000 B.C.—Mastodons and muskox may have roamed the area.
- 1,500 A.D.—Pottawatomi Indians lived here.
- 1830—Cyrus Beckwith became one of the first settlers.
- 1861—McKune House was built as a travelers inn and became the library in 1951.

1903—Clock tower was built.
1909—Middle St. fire destroyed many businesses.
1910—The boat "Maid of the Mist" took people to the island in Cavanaugh Lake to the dance hall there.
1952—South school was built.

Christmas Seals: A 78-Year Tradition

Christmas Seals* from the American Lung Association have become a 78-year tradition. The first Christmas Seal, depicting a holly wreath circling the words "Merry Christmas," appeared in 1907 through the efforts of Miss Emily Bissell, a Delaware social worker. Miss Bissell designed and distributed the first "Christmas Seals" to help raise funds to combat tuberculosis, then known as "the White Plague."

Today Christmas Seals* reach approximately 60 million U.S. households and support programs for the control and prevention of all lung disease in every state in the nation.

Christmas Bird Count Slated Sunday, Jan. 5

This will be the 86th year there have been Christmas Bird Counts by the Audubon Society.

Referred to as CBC's by Audubon members, the counts are carried on by members of the various chapters of the National Audubon Society. Purpose of the CBC's is to find out names and numbers of birds wintering here and all other areas of North America.

In 1984, there were nearly 1,450 CBC's conducted in the United States and Canada.

In addition, there were 21 counts in the West Indies, Mexico, Central and South America.

Through the efforts of the many people who have taken part in these counts, we have learned much about the winter movement and distribution of many bird species.

For example, in Michigan it was found that there are years the Northern Finches (Cross Bills, Evening Grosbeaks, Siskins and Red Polls) are quite common, but some years they are relatively scarce.

It appears there are cycles of years that are related to food crops in the far northern country, such as cone crop in evergreens and seeds of Mountain Ash, Maples and Ash.

It has been possible to determine the invasion and spread of the House Finch in Michigan by using the CBC's. This bird is similar in size to the English Sparrow, with majestic purple hues in his plumage. The bird was first reported on the Washtenaw Audubon CBC in 1982, and is now a year-round resident of Washtenaw county.

United States Fish and Wildlife Service uses the CBC's to assist them in establishing the hunting season and bag limits for all migratory game birds, such as ducks, geese, woodcock, snipe, coot, rails and mourning doves.

The CBC's in the 1970's established the scarcity of the Black and Canvas Back ducks and a major change in bag limits resulted.

There is, however, another function and benefit of the Christmas Bird Count. It is a time of year when Auduboners all get out, enjoy the fresh air, meet new friends, renew old acquaintances and swap "birding" stories in the same way hunters exchange "hunting" tales.

This year, the Christmas Bird Count Day for Washtenaw county will be Sunday, Jan. 5, to count species and numbers. Also, species only seen from Dec. 29 through Jan. 4 will be counted—that is, if you see a robin on Jan. 1, but you do not see one on the actual Count Day, add the species to the list.

The Christmas Bird Count is sponsored by the Washtenaw Audubon Society.

Anyone who would like to participate either in the field, or at bird feeders, should contact Bill Dobbins at 996-0008, unless you reside in Webster, Scio, Dexter or Lima townships.

Webster township residents should call David Baker at 665-4578, and people residing in Scio, Dexter or Lima townships may contact Charles Steinbach at 428-4363.

Nancy Burgett Named to Beef Industry Comm.

Governor James J. Blanchard today reappointed Gordon R. Andrews of Sault Ste. Marie and appointed Nancy Burgett of Grass Lake and Jack Tirrell of Charlotte to the Michigan Beef Industry Commission for terms expiring May 31, 1988.

Andrews, a cow-calf farmer, will continue to represent cattle growers. He is a member of the Chippewa County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Services and a former member of the Chippewa County Farm Bureau and Chippewa County Farmers Home Administration Board.

Burgett, a partner in a livestock and grain farm operation, will represent cattle feeders. She is the national chairperson of the 1986 National Beef Cook-Off, which will be held Sept. 14-16 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn. Burgett is also a member of the Michigan Cattlewomen's Association and the American National Cowbelles, Inc. She succeeds Jan Vosberg of Climax, whose term has expired.

Tirrell, a dairy farmer, is president of the Lansing chapter of the Michigan Milk Producers Association and former vice-president of the Eaton County Farm Bureau. Tirrell, who will serve as a dairy industry representative, will succeed Elwood Kirkpatrick of Kinde, who did not seek reappointment.

The reappointment and appointments are subject to Senate confirmations.

The first Christmas tree to be lit with electric light bulbs was installed at the home of Edward H. Johnson of New York in December 1882.

Dennis Petsch Counsels Young People in Drug Abuse Dangers

Dennis Petsch admits he's never been high, and never wanted to be. Nevertheless, he's quickly becoming one of Chelsea's resident experts on the subject.

Petsch knows from experience just what drugs and alcohol can do to a person. As a part-time officer with the Chelsea Police Department he's seen the legal and lethal problems a person can fall into when he's high or is an habitual abuser. He's also had family problems.

Chelsea school children have been benefitting from Petsch's first-hand experiences for nearly three years. On behalf of the police department, he talks to children as young as six-years-old on the dangers of alcohol and drug use. He never charges a fee, since he only wants to help.

"I guess it might be easier to do this if I was an ex-addict," Petsch says. "Then kids would know that I've been through it. But I've been fortunate in that I've been able to hold their interest. One of the things that I tell the kids is that part of the reason I got into this is that twice I stopped my sister from jumping out a second-story window when she was high on hallucinogens."

Petsch likes to talk to the young kids, and the younger the better because, "they still respect what you say and they really need to be informed. With the older kids it's usually too late for me to make any difference." He says that even the youngest ones ask surprisingly observant questions such as, "Have you ever seen anybody high and what are they like?" "What happens when you mix alcohol and drugs?" "What kind of (legal) trouble can you get into when you use drugs?"

In some ways, he admits, it's a sort of thankless work because it'll be years before he even has an idea if his talks have made any difference.

"Peer pressure is the number one reason kids try drugs," Petsch says. "I try to tell them that drugs and alcohol are out there, and sooner or later they're going to have to make a choice, to take drugs or go against them. I try to make them see that it's their choice and that they'll be so much better off if they don't use them. I don't really tell them horror stories, I just try to inform them about the hazards. Not only have I been a policeman, but I've done a lot of reading, and Chief (Lenard) McDougall has sent me to seminars."

Petsch says he's seen a decline in the use of hard drugs, like cocaine and heroin, in Chelsea over the last several years, although the use of alcohol and marijuana is probably greater than ever.

"When I was at Chelsea High school in 1977, I used to see kids sell drugs openly in the locker-rooms. I don't think that's happening now, but I think people would still be surprised at the amount of drug use."

Petsch's talks run for two days, about 90 minutes each day. As part of his talk, he uses a display of drug paraphernalia collected by Chelsea police over the years. It consists mostly of pipes and other marijuana hardware, but there is also a kit for preparing cocaine for sniffing.

"If there is one thing I hope the kids get from my talk it is that drug use not only affects you but everybody around you."

DENNIS PETSCH uses this display of drug paraphernalia as a visual aid for talks he gives to youngsters about the hazards of drug and alcohol abuse. For Petsch, the philosophy of, "the younger the better," applies to his audiences, as he believes he has a better chance of influencing the attitudes of youngsters rather than older children. Petsch has been giving the talks on behalf of the Chelsea Police Department for three years. The paraphernalia above is a fraction of the hardware confiscated over the years by Chelsea police.

SOME OF SANTA'S FRIENDS cheer him on as the old man draws the winning entry for the "World's Largest Christmas Stocking," given away last Sunday by the Woodshed Eatery. On the left and right are Nick and Shauna Woods, the children of Mike and Julie Woods, 321 Grant St. The little girl in the middle is Jessica Begres, daughter of Woody and Marilyn Begres of Island Lake Rd.

As we treasure the childhood memories of Christmases past, we'd like to extend our sincere wishes to you and yours for a holiday filled with happiness.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor,

The calendar tells us we are entering a brand New Year! 1986. All-out celebration takes place on New Year's Eve. There is still confusion of this partying. Is it behind us and for all it was... Let us rejoice, or is celebrating for the New Year filled with hope, expectations, dreams, new goals. Another opportunity to do things better. A building on last year's mistakes? and grow?

Food for thought might begin 1986 with recalling how God was shouting out to all of us through the phenomena happenings. The earthquake in Mexico, tornadoes erasing total cities. Famine in Africa. Then there was the extraordinary plane crashes such as the one just prior to Christmas claiming 259 service personnel who perished. The 1985 menace of AIDS, the total loss of respect for person and property. We heard, saw, listened and were touched. When God wants our attention sometimes He reaches us through tragedy, sad to say, many are "too busy" in these days to stop and count blessings be they spiritual or material. How often we take the "Gift of Life" for granted without reflecting on Life as a fragile commodity which God gives and God takes away.

1986—Hope of beginning all we can be. Caring for each other, doing what we can to make those who touch our lives glad.

Faith—in God and each other goes a long way. "My days were listed and determined even before the first of them occurred." Ps. 139:16. We were loved before one day of our existence came into being. With what love and care He brought us forth and determined the length

Dexter Senior Citizens Make Caps for December Babies

Holiday babies at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor are being sent home dressed like miniature Santas this month thanks to the efforts of 20 Dexter senior citizens.

Originally, senior citizens at the Dexter Senior Center were asked if they could make a dozen red, white and green stocking hats for babies born in December at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"It just mushroomed from there," said Mary Boullion, site supervisor there. "As soon as I told someone the hats were for newborn babies, they wanted to help."

Boullion promised two dozen stocking hats to St. Joe's and the volunteers set to their knitting needles Nov. 1.

"Everybody started making hats," Boullion said. "People who had never shown an interest in craft projects were making hats. There were hats, hats everywhere."

Suddenly, there were 100 hats ready and waiting for newborn babies. They were delivered Dec. 1 to a delighted Maureen Zepeda, newborn nursery head nurse.

In past years, the newborn nursery nurses themselves had donated their spare time to knitting the holiday bonnets. This year the nurses asked for help.

"I think it's wonderful that the Dexter senior citizens helped us out," said Zepeda. "It's a wonderful Christmas present from the community and it's great to have them involved in this project."

"Our senior citizens were so excited they're already talking about doing it next year," said Boullion.

Dexter senior citizens who helped make the stocking hats are: K. C. Berke, Isabelle Robinson, Agnes White, Antoinette Carey, Maxine Austin, Theresa Ward, Helen Reamer, Lucille Lightstone, Gertrude Miller, Rosie Smith, Alice Guerin, Ruth Ulrich, Lois Steeb, Grace Augustine, Arlene Schaeffer, Clara Hayes, Cecelia Lipinski, Ruth Draper, Caroline Biggs.

A BUCKEYE IS SOME KIND OF NUT: To the "victor go the spoils" or in the case of State Senator Lana Pollack, a basket of buckeyes! The Ann Arbor lawmaker was on the receiving end following a friendly wager with Ohio State Senator Eugene Watts of Columbus on the Nov. 23 football game between the University of Michigan Wolverines and the Ohio State Buckeyes. Along with the basket of buckeyes came a photograph of Watts, keeping his other half of the wager, singing a chorus of "Hail to the Victors" on the 50-yard line of Ohio Stadium. "The actual wager was a bushel of buckeyes for a bushel of Washtenaw County apples," Pollack said after receiving her nearly empty basket of buckeyes. "I suppose the Ohio Senator has learned what we have known for a long time. A few buckeyes go a long way," Senator Pollack joked.

Frank Kornexl Named Escapee Buster of '85

Officer Frank Kornexl was the winner of the "Escapee Buster of the Year," given by the Chelsea Police Department.

The award was presented by Chief Lenard McDougall on Friday, Dec. 13 at the Chelsea Apprehension Team's (CAT) annual dinner party.

Kornexl was credited for capturing nine escapees from area minimum security institutions in 1985, topping second place David Detling with six.

Officers are given one point for making a capture without help. If two officers are involved, they split the point.

After Detling in the point totals were John Detling with three and one-half, Rick Walter with three, Kris Kruger with two, McDougall with one and one-half, and Mike Foster with one-half.

"Most of the time and effort of capturing the escapees are on the officers' own time," said CAT spokesman Foster.

"This department or officers do not get any funding from the State of Michigan or Washtenaw county (for the time spent on capturing escapees)."

According to Foster, most of the officers, "take it personally," when an escapee tries to enter the village. He said a recent example occurred when an escapee was last seen just outside of town. After getting off duty, two officers waited three hours in a woods near the sighting before finally capturing the man.

TB Threatens Elderly In Nursing Homes, Says Lung Association

Many of our parents and grandparents can recall the days when donations to Christmas Seals* helped fund the crusade against tuberculosis. They lived through the early decades of this century when TB, "the White Plague," carried off millions of Americans, frequently including some of their friends and relatives.

Though no longer the leading cause of death in this country, tuberculosis still threatens many Americans, particularly the elderly, says the American Lung Association—the Christmas Seal people*. According to the Lung Association, a new study has yielded the surprising fact that TB is a common and previously unrecognized problem among elderly nursing home residents.

Despite the conventional belief that it is unlikely for a person to develop TB after the age of 30, a newly published study by William W. Stead, M.D., and colleagues at the Arkansas Department of Health has shown that elderly residents of nursing homes are at "important risk" of developing the disease. The research, conducted among 31,421 patients in 223 nursing homes, found TB to be "rather frequent" and more common than the investigators had expected. The case rate of tuberculosis among nursing home patients was seen to be four times higher than among the elderly residing at home.

Public health officials believe that the high case rate of TB found in nursing homes is due in part to aging's deterioration of the immune system, resulting in reactivation of dormant infection acquired by the elderly in their childhood. Crowded living conditions also can contribute to the spread of the disease.

The researchers point out that careful screening and testing for TB of both new arrivals and longtime residents of nursing homes, as well as early and proper treatment, are needed to break the cycle of infection and reinfection.

Donations to Christmas Seals* from the American Lung Association support research and health education on the control and prevention of tuberculosis and other lung diseases. For more information on TB, contact your local American Lung Association—the Christmas Seal people*.

"All the officers, by donating their time and effort, feel they are helping the community," said McDougall.

"Giving this party is a way of saying thank you for a job well done."

Smoking Takes Its Toll

Smoking kills an estimated 350,000 Americans prematurely each year, says the American Lung Association—the Christmas Seal people*—which also reports that 85 percent of all lung cancer deaths in the U.S. can be traced to smoking.

In fact, lung cancer is expected to surpass breast cancer as the leading cancer killer of American women and has already done so in five states. Over the past 32 years, there has been a 315 percent increase in the lung cancer death rate among women.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST CHRISTMAS STOCKING, right, was more than Timmy Day could see at one time, so Santa gave him a little boost. Mr. Claus drew Timmy's name out of a box full of entries at the Woodshed Eatery last Sunday afternoon, and the stocking was the prize. Tim Day, his father, had more than a little trouble hauling home the huge prize, stuffed full of toys and games.
