

Drug Abuse Survey Results Reported to School Board

One out of four Chelsea High school seniors has probably had five drinks in a row sometime in the last two weeks.

Ten percent of CHS seniors have tried cocaine.

Forty-eight percent of Chelsea seniors have tried marijuana.

Those are just three of the results of a survey conducted in December of all Chelsea High school students concerning their frequency of alcohol and drug use.

The multiple-choice answer survey, containing 26 questions, was conducted on a confidential basis. Students did not sign their answer sheets, which were analyzed by computers at the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

High school counselor Chris Dimanin, who initiated the project, said he borrowed a survey that was previously used in the Birmingham Public School System, and added a few questions to it.

Survey results were broken down into results by grade. School-wide totals were also given, which were broken down by sex.

In virtually all categories, the percentages climb from grade to grade.

The results for seniors were also compared to national statistics for seniors compiled by the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research last spring. The institute conducts an annual survey, "Monitoring the Future," which asks high school seniors at 130 high schools across the country questions about a wide variety of topics.

In every category, the use of drugs and alcohol by Chelsea seniors was lower than the national average. However, Dr. Pat O'Malley, one of three authors of the annual survey, said the differences in the statistics may or may not be significant due to the wide variety of factors involved, including how the questions were asked. He had not seen the Chelsea survey.

Statistics for Birmingham schools were also available, and in virtually every instance Chelsea seniors used drugs and alcohol less frequently than seniors in that affluent part of Detroit.

Below are the national figures (expressed in percentages) compared with Chelsea and Birmingham seniors.

Alcohol (tried at least once): national, 92.2; Chelsea, 79; Birmingham, 90.1.

Alcohol (used in the past 30 days): national, 65.9; Chelsea, 66; Birmingham, 70.

Alcohol (five drinks in a row in the past two weeks): national, 37.7; Chelsea, 24; Birmingham, 39.4.

Cigarettes (tried at least once): national, 68.8; Chelsea, 65; Birmingham, 65.

Cigarettes (daily use): national, 12.5; Chelsea, 8; Birmingham, 13.3.

Marijuana (tried at least once): national, 54.2; Chelsea, 48; Birmingham, 59.2.

Marijuana (daily use): national, 4.9; Chelsea, 2; Birmingham, 3.2.

Cocaine (tried at least once): national, 17.3; Chelsea, 10; Birmingham, 21.9.

There were no national comparative statistics available for any other grades.

Chelsea seniors also indicated that they think a lot about the problems of drug and alcohol abuse. One question asked, "Have you ever worried about the drug and alcohol problems of others?" Fifty-two percent said they worried about a friend, while no one chose the answer, "myself."

"That's real interesting, it's a classic case of denial," Dimanin said.

"They're saying, me, no way do I have a problem."

School-wide, less than one percent said they worried about their own problems, while 43 percent said they worried about a friend.

The survey had a total of 81 answers to 26 questions. You could analyze them for a week and not finish. What follows are a few key statistics in the different areas the survey covered.

Concerning the use of alcohol: 11 percent of all students, and 18 percent of seniors, say they drink every week-end.

20 percent of all students say that when they drink, they usually have at least four drinks.

13 percent of all students say they've had five drinks on at least one occasion in the last two weeks, including three percent of ninth graders, eight percent of 10th graders, and 13 percent of 11th graders.

Concerning the use of marijuana:

32 percent of all Chelsea high students have tried marijuana, including 10 percent of ninth graders, 28 percent of 10th graders, and 40 percent of 11th graders.

10 percent of all students first tried marijuana in the seventh or eighth grade, and six percent said they first tried it between the fourth and sixth grades.

Three percent of all students use marijuana every week-end, while another two percent use it every day.

In other substance categories, eight percent of all students have tried cocaine. Ninth graders report three percent, while the percentages remain fairly constant between the sophomore and senior years, ranging from nine to 11 percent, with 10th grade the highest at 11 percent.

Twenty percent of all students say they've tried drugs other than cigarettes, marijuana, alcohol and cocaine, with amphetamines the most commonly used drug.

Ten percent of all students use diet pills or laxatives to control their weight.

Seven percent of all students smoke cigarettes every day, while another three percent smoke several times a week.

It's encouraging to know that 76 percent of all students know where to go for help for themselves or a friend.

"While some of the statistics for the seniors might be low compared to the national average, most of them still seem pretty high to me," Dimanin said.

"The results of this survey support the fact that Chelsea students have problems. They make it clear that it's the responsibility of everybody that works with children to get more involved and not be part of the 'enabling' process, when they unconsciously cut the kid a break, don't call the counselor, social worker, and generally look the other way."

The results of the survey were presented to the Chelsea school board at its regular meeting Monday night.

FIRING ANOTHER TOOTH is local dental technician Mark Burnett, who recently set up his new office over the Secretary of State's office on Main St. Burnett makes porcelain and gold crowns, and other specialty items for three area dentists.

Mark Burnett Opens New Dental Technician Office

Mark Burnett took a gamble a few years ago, and he's beginning to see it pay off.

Burnett, a dental technician who makes gold and porcelain crowns and bridgework for three area dentists, moved back to Chelsea from the Carmel, Calif. area to start his own business, Centennial Dental Lab, in 1983. At that time, he only knew how to do gold work, which he says makes up about 20 percent of his business. He had never worked with porcelain, which makes up the bulk of his orders.

Slowly, in the basement of his parents' Grant St. home, he taught himself to work with porcelain, which made his business far more marketable. Now he has a five-room office space over the Secretary of State's office on Main St., and, he admits, almost more work than he can handle. He moved into the office in October, ironically, formerly inhabited by Chelsea dentist Ron Biedron.

"A friend from Chelsea who's a dental assistant came out to visit and said, 'hey, there's a lot of dentists in this area and you ought to think about coming back and doing it for yourself,'" Burnett recalled.

"Well, that put the bug in my mind, and I thought about it for a while, came out and talked to a few dentists to get their opinions as to whether there was a market. I came back only knowing how to do 20 percent of the work, and struggled with that for a while. Then I bought my porcelain equipment for about $900, sat down in the lab and started practicing. It was all hit and miss for a while, then finally it all started to come together. I told the dentists I was doing gold work for that I was doing porcelain. That was good for them because they could start sending all their orders to one place."

Burnett said the business grew so rapidly that he had to turn down work, partly because his old one-room quarters were so cramped. At one time he was working for five dentists, but had to cut back.

"Being in this new office I'm more organized and I can get more work done at one time," Burnett said, referring to the fact that each of the several steps of crown work can be contained in its own room.

"I can probably pick up those other two dentists and still do all the work myself. Fairly soon I want to get someone to do the pick-up and delivery. Ideally I'd like to have three people, one person to do the pick-up and delivery and stone work, another person to do the waxing and the metal work, and then me to do the porcelain."

His new office space is also ideal because its several picture windows provide a large amount of natural light, which helps with the detail work. He's furnished it, in large part, with old cabinetry and furniture left over from the Methodist Home renovation work.

Burnett says the business has the potential to be very lucrative for him eventually, although he says he's making a decent living just working for three dentists. He's never gone to school to learn his trade, never had a formal course. He simply caught on as a delivery person for a lab in California and eventually learned more about the tooth-making business. There's no licensing procedure for his skill. The only

Bonding Issue for Wastewater Treatment Will Be Put on Ballot

Chelsea Village Council voted to put the issue of the proposed $4.7 million wastewater treatment plant before the voters in the March 10 village elections.

The action was taken last Thursday night in a special council meeting.

The meeting, which was originally expected to be short, ended up nearly two hours long. It resembled a public hearing on the wastewater treatment plant project more than a council meeting.

The meeting, which was sparsely-attended, showed, two things—that there are a lot of questions, mostly financial, to be answered before the March elections, and that a lot of residents probably don't understand much about the project and its implications.

Although no official resolution

C. of C. Now Has New Part-time Project Director was made, village president Jerry Satterthwaite and administrator Fritz Weber agreed that the village had to do more to get the facts to the Chelsea citizenry. They agreed, at some as yet unspecified time, to have a representative of the village's bond counsel, Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone and/or a representative of the village's consulting engineering firm, Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, available for public questioning.

Although the council agreed to ask the voters for permission to sell bonds for the project, of which the village's share is estimated to be about $2 million (the Environmental Protection Agency has approved a grant to pay for the remainder), the project won't necessarily be stopped, if the voters say no. Voter approval will lower the interest rate on the bonds slightly, as Satterthwaite acknowledged at the meeting. But he, and Weber, also made it clear that the village has other options open to it should the voters turn down the proposition.

Satterthwaite took a non-committal stance on the issue. He did not confirm or deny that the village would go ahead with the project even if it were turned down.

Chelsea resident Marvin Carlson, a former Ann Arbor city planner, who said he had experience in his former job in dealing with EPA grants, questioned whether the village actually had to build an entire plant to meet the EPA order to deal with the wastewater problems or whether some other less costly solution could be implemented. He questioned many other aspects of the project—among them he asked whether the ballot language of Thursday, Jan. 20, 1972—Two Chelsea High school musicians were chosen Saturday to participate in the Lansing All-Star Band, CHS band director Warren Mayer has announced.

Doug VanGorder and Tom Hubert were named to the band during the first rehearsal and try-out at Hill-McLoy High school in Montrose.

VanGorder plays second-chair oboe, and Hubert is the band's first-chair trombone.

Owen Loasby accepted a $250 donation to the Chelsea District Hockey Association from Dr. William Hawks, representative for the Chelsea Medical Clinic. The clinic also sponsors a CDHA team, the Red Wings. The donation will be used to cover expenses for equipment not included in the regular sponsorship, according to Loasby.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Miles of Scio Church Rd. consider the number "13" their lucky number. The Miles' two sons, John and Gary, were both born on the 13th.

Each of the boys married and had a son born on the 13th.

Last Thursday, Jan. 13, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Miles of Manchester did it again—a son, Shayne.

Shayne is the fifth boy in the Miles family born on the 13th. None of these young men were born on Friday the 13th, however.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller became the first woman in the history of the Chelsea Jaycees to receive the Distinguished Citizen Award Tuesday night at the annual Bosses Night dinner.

Mrs. Miller was chosen from among the eight citizens nominated for the honor. She organized the Chelsea Hospital Volunteers in March, 1970, and is now co-ordinator for the group.

The volunteers organize all recreational activities for patients in the Chelsea Community Hospital.

In addition, the group publishes a semi-monthly hospital newspaper, "The Stethoscope," featuring articles of interest to the patients and staff.

Mrs. Miller also helped organize a teen hospital volunteer group, The Candy Strippers. She works about four days each week as a volunteer and also is vice-chairman of the hospital board of directors.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Divestiture Cost Put At $4.6 Million

Some members of a special commission examining preferred methods to divest state pension funds of South African-related investments expressed skepticism that costs will be kept to the $4.6 million a year estimate established in a preliminary report by two consultants.

The loss represents a small fraction of the $5.15 billion that would be involved in 1986.

The losses reflect lost opportunities, administration, additional transactions to keep investments free of South Africa-related entities, and initial transaction costs required in divestiture.

The state would have to sell stocks it now holds in 34 companies which do business in South Africa.

While Treasurer Robert Bowman said the report, by U. S. Trust of Boston and SEI of Chicago, "pokes a few holes" in the theories of critics who suggest divestiture will cause large investment losses for the pension funds, others on the commission were not so accepting.

Michigan Manufacturers President John Thodis noted the $4.6 million figure is preliminary and could change and characterized it as "much too low. It appears to seem unrealistically low when you're dealing with several billion dollars. I would tend to believe doubling the figure, to $9.2-$10 million would be more realistic."

He said that would mean a $50 million loss over the first five years during which the funds would be divested under House-passed legislation. The House bills require divestiture of $2.75 billion in pension fund investments.

And Gene Booker, chairman of the state's Investment Advisory Committee, said it "defies common sense" that the losses could be kept so low because so much money is involved.

Whatever the level of losses are, Thodis said the House-passed legislation presents a "major policy question" for both the Legislature and the governor of whether general taxpayers should cover any pension fund losses suffered because of the divestiture policy.

State and teacher retirees now get a bonus check reflecting high earnings from pension fund investments, and Thodis said it is unfair to ask general taxpayers to make additional contributions to continue those payments if the fund earnings drop.

The consultants said the $4.6 million figure was the probable loss in 1986, but could drop to zero or double depending on the success of playing the stock market. The consultants said the loss could increase to $7.4 million by 1991 on $9.2 billion involved in the transactions.

CUB SCOUTS

PACK 455—
Den 1 - Sandy Barkman is the leader of eight Cub Scouts. She reports the boys have worked hard this past month. All eight boys have completed their requirements for their Wolf badges. The December pack meeting bestowed Ben O'Connor, Greg Rickerd, Nick Kramer, and Ryan Ludwig with their Wolf badges. Not attending, but also having earned his Wolf badge was Josh Inwood.

The January pack meeting will prove to be fruitful for Tom Hubbell, Tom Barkman, and Karsten Lajpce. There are 12 achievements which the boys complete which emphasize personal growth and family involvement.

We have been studying the Knights of the Roundtable this month with special attention to those traits which knights have in common with Cub Scouts. Den 1 will present information about those traits at the Jan. 23 Pack meeting.

Den 2 - Debbie Kennedy is filling in as the leader for this den of 12 Webelos. If there is someone in the community who would like to work with the Webelos please contact Mrs. Kennedy at 475-9456. Ten of the boys have completed the requirements for their Webelos badge. Jason Johnson has completed nine requirements towards his Arrow of Light. In keeping with this month's theme, Knights of the Roundtable, we have been making helmets and shields. The boys have also been working hard on their cars for the Pinewood Derby.

We would like to make a correction to last month's article on Cub Scouts. The article did not list the correct leader's names. Dave Good is the leader of Den 3 and Mary Schrottenboer is the leader for Den 6.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

There's one part of Ed Doolittle you never have to wonder about. If he don't like someone, and there's a heap that gits his goat, he's going to let you know. He brings up a dislike at the country store Saturday night that not only got a nod of agreement from the fellers it even drew applause from the feller that runs the store.

Ed said all he knowed is what he reads in the papers, and knowing lately has got downright aggravating. It's got to where you can't see the news in the dailies fer the abbreviations. Ed said he is full aware that the world is gitting harder to explain, but that's no excuse fer the big papers and the wire services to insult the intelligence of fourth graders that have to read the papers fer current events tests. Ed was lamenting the growing habit of putting the initials of names right after names. It used to be said that to be understood reporters had to write fer folks that move their lips when they read. That weren't true then, and it's less true now. was Ed's words.

The fact is, newspaper readers have sense enough to take a active role in the news, Ed said, while folks that depend on the TV set there and wait fer some slicked down feller to tell them what they ought to know. Television has not dumbed down readers, it has weeded out the deadwood, Ed insisted, and now there's a sharper class of folks out there in newspaper land. So readers don't need to see (VA) right after Veterans Administration. They are bright enough and their attention span is long enough to realize when they see VA a paragraph later that the writer is abbreviating the Veterans Administration.

Furthermore, Ed went on, the papers are like them little animals that follow one another into the sea. If one does somepun good or bad they all do it. Until the Federal Bureau of Investigation starts calling itself ICU or some combination of letters other than the first letter in each word of its name, Ed said he votes fer the papers to go back to the old way of letting the reader worry about second reference. If writers want to give us a nudge with OPEC, AFL-CIO, SEATO and more of them big initials they

Rebekahs Hold Joint Installation With Dexter Lodge

Chelsea Rebekah Lodge No. 130 was invited to hold a joint installation of officers with Dexter Rebekah Lodge No. 460 on Saturday, Jan. 11. More than 100 people assembled there to witness the District No. 7 Odd Fellows of Rebekah's Drill Team perform the installation.

Dexter's sponsored Brownie troop assisted with the table decorations and meal serving after the Degree Team completed the floor work.

Mrs. Sally Beckstein, of South Lyon, and Mrs. Velta Knickerbocker, of Grass Lake, were installed as Noble Grands for their respective lodges.

Other elected officers for the Chelsea lodge are Mary Ann Burgess, vice-grand; Nina Lehmann, secretary; Evelyn Hale, financial secretary; Mariam Pickell, treasurer; and Mary Ann Coltre, lodge deputy.

The local lodge furnished the dessert for the sit-down dinner that followed the meeting.

The Chelsea lodge is on its winter vacation until March 18. Business at the last lodge meeting was the appointment of all other officers. There was also a report on delivering platters of Christmas cookies to six members who were ill. Mrs. Lucille Olson was accepted by a reinstatement. Voted in as new members were Mrs. Lois Speer and Mrs. Peggy Keezer.

Members were reminded to let the incoming noble grand know of any sickness.

Mrs. Shirley Dehn was the outgoing noble grand, a position she held for two years.

Pre-Natal Class Offered at Family Practice Center

"When will my newborn be able to see?" is a frequently asked question by new parents, according to Chandice Harris, RN, MSN, parent/child co-ordinator at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. "Not only can the newborn see at birth," states Harris, "but even as a fetus inside the mother the baby can hear, detect shades of light and darkness, taste, suck his or her thumb and respond to the parent's touch."

Often times pregnant families are surprised to hear and realize that the fetus has this ability. Information of this nature will be covered in a pre-natal class scheduled to be held at the Family Practice Center on Tuesday, Feb. 18, in the classroom. This session will be held from 7 to 9 p.m.

This class is for pregnant families, especially those in early pregnancy. The film, "The Sensational Baby," will be shown. This is an excellent illustration of the growing fetus, what he/she sees and hears, the movements and activities, and how parents can experience their unborn baby's unique personality during the course of pregnancy. It ends with a sequence of labor and birth as experienced by the baby.

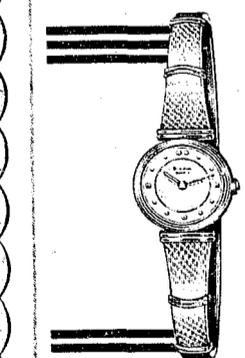

The class will also cover information of healthy mother/healthy baby topics, good pregnancy nutrition, preparation for breastfeeding, sexuality during pregnancy, safe exercise, and family emotions during pregnancy.

The class is free to Family Practice Center patients and a $2 charge for non-Family Practice Center patients. Pre-registration for the class is requested by calling the Family Practice Center at 475-1321, ext. 430.

Microwave Cooking Demonstration Set At Extension Office

When Percy Spencer found a melted chocolate bar in his pocket he was mystified. He wondered if his laboratory work with radar could be connected. Later, others explored the radiation he worked with and designed the microwave oven to cook food.

A repeat program to teach how to use microwaves for more than just heating coffee or melting chocolate will be presented by the Co-operative Extension Service at the County Service Center, Hogback and Washtenaw, on Monday, Jan. 27 at 7:30 p.m. Marion Prince, extension home economist, will explain the basic principles of successful cooking in a microwave oven, demonstrate a variety of dishes and explain how to adapt your favorite recipes. She will discuss the appropriate utensils to use in the oven and will show how to prepare meats, vegetables and sauces.

The program, "Microwave and Beyond," is a part of the monthly series "Corner on the Kitchen" which is open to all regardless of race, color, creed, sex, national origin or handicap. Reservations are required and may be made by calling the Co-operative Extension Service office at 973-9510. A $3 fee will be collected at the door to cover food for tasting.

Marriage Penalty Deduction Allowed
Question: Because my wife and I both work, we pay more tax on our combined income than two single individuals. Is there any relief from this "marriage penalty tax"?
Answer: For 1985, a couple may deduct 10% of the lower of their separate earned incomes reduced by any employment-related expenses (e.g. an IRA contribution and employee business expenses). The "marriage penalty" deduction is limited to $3,000. The best part is you don't have to itemize to take advantage of this deduction.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

As a youngster on a family motor trip in the South in 1925, I was surprised to see that there were separate drinking water fountains and toilets for white and colored persons. I took a bus ride in Atlanta and discovered that the best seats in the front of the bus were designated as "White Only." If a bus was crowded, however, a Negro person was legally obliged to give up his or her seat to a standing white person.

In 1955, after a Negro woman was arrested for refusing to give up her seat in a Montgomery, Ala., bus to a white person, a young minister by the name of Martin Luther King established the civil rights movement by leading a successful 382 day boycott of the Montgomery bus system. This marked the beginning of his short but brilliant career as leader of the civil rights movement in the U. S. Inspired by Mohandas Ghandi of India, he was a devout believer in non-violence.

In Washington, D. C., on Aug. 28, 1963 before a congregation of 200,000 persons, Dr. King preached his dream that this nation would rise and seriously live up to the creed that all men are created equal. Five years later at age 39 this passionate young advocate of civil rights was murdered by James Earl Lee, an escaped convict.

In establishing the civil rights movement, King helped to wipe out the shameful racially segregated accommodations in private and public institutions. He also helped to wipe out poll taxes and literacy tests that disenfranchised colored people from their right to participate in elections. Certainly Martin Luther King deserves the honor of a national holiday but shutting down the banking and postal systems of the nation is a stupid and wasteful form of tribute to him (as it is to other national heroes.) So is the closing of federal, state and municipal offices.

The fact is: Martin Luther King's job is only half done. Negroes constitute but 10 percent of our national population but they occupy more than 40 percent of the jail and prison cells in the United States. Colored people have a desperately high rate of unemployment which not only leads to crime but countless other tragedies from demeaning hours, days, weeks and months of idleness.

Instead of wasting tens of millions of dollars by closing the doors of our institutions on Martin Luther King Day, let us find a way of utilizing these same funds for social services which will encourage—and enable—our young blacks to finish high school and achieve degrees in college. With our tax dollars we will be way ahead by paying to keep young blacks in college for four years than to pay for four-year terms in state or federal prisons.

Nowadays illiterate people are unemployable in even the humblest situations. A truck driver who does not know what the sign means when it says, "Do not enter," or "Wrong way," is no one to put behind the wheel of a vehicle. The same thing applies to "No smoking. Oxygen in use." Or warnings against high voltages, poisonous chemicals or dangerous mechanisms.

Beyond the netherworld of illiteracy is a new universe where a high school diploma including advanced computer skills may be needed for entry level employment in hundreds of everyday occupations. Every colored parent should be encouraged and assisted in motivating their children to complete four or more years of college. The kids with verbal skills should become masters in communications: the whizzes at math and science should become part of the high technology of the 21st century.

Among colored Americans George Washington Carver is my choice for the Black Horatio Alger Award. (Late in his career he won its equivalent from the NAACP.) He was born in 1864 of slave parents in Diamond Grove, Mo. The family moved to Kansas and there he managed to work his way through high school. Somehow, by age 30, he succeeded in earning his diploma from a college that has since become Iowa State University. Good fortune brought him to Tuskegee Institute in Alabama where he gained fame as a research genius in the field of bacterial botany. In an amazing series of experiments he discovered hundreds of industrial uses for peanuts, sweet potatoes and soybeans. He also developed a new type of cotton known as Carver's hybrid.

Diamond Grove, Mo., was designated in 1951 as the George Washington Carver National Monument.

We are all familiar with the names of great black jazz musicians and colored heroes in every field of sports. I am an admirer of Andrew Young, mayor of Atlanta, of Coleman Young, mayor of Detroit, of George Goodman, former mayor of Ypsilanti, and of Richard Austin, Michigan's Secretary of State.

Most of all, I admire Bill Cosby, a talented comedian who holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. In his popular TV show he is Dr. Huxtable, an affluent obstetrician with a lovely wife and four children of mixed ages. His show is a showcase of what education can mean to any family, black or white.

For the past two decades I have been a contributor to the United Negro College Fund. It has been in existence for 42 years and the local chapter is headed by John W. Barfield whose college fund address is P. O. Box 6040, Ann Arbor 48106. Looking down the list of the Washtenaw committee for the United Negro College Fund I notice such names as George H. Cress, Robbin Fleming, Howard Holmes, Tom Monaghan, Edward Pierce, Eugene Power, Neil Staebler, Dr. Harry Towsley and Albert Wheeler.

You know the slogan of the United Negro College Fund: "A mind is a terrible thing to waste."

Southeast Michigan Offers Activities for All

Southeast Michigan is a region of four-season activity, according to the Travel and Tourist Association's president, Sid Baker. "There are so many activities going on this winter," he said, "that it is impossible to be unable to find something interesting to do."

Baker points out that millions of people each winter attend events that are not "winter" sports or even winter related. For example, there are 35 entertainment listings in the Association's free winter activity book. "And," Baker adds, "we have more than 100 listings in our Calendar of Events for January alone!"

Dramatic presentations and concerts head the list of indoor activities with museums and travel lectures also very popular. Internationally-known stars are continuously performing in southeast Michigan during the winter months. During January and February, audiences can see (or have seen) Marvin Hamlisch, Henny Youngman, The Lettermen, Robert Klein, Richard Belzer, David Brenner, Nancy Wilson, George Howard, Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers, Woody Herman and Lionel Hampton. Two major productions, Sesame Street Live and Alvin and the Chipmunks are appearing in the region for the younger audience.

The Detroit Institute of Arts, the Jackson Space Center, The Detroit Science Center and the Cranbrook Institute of Science are all exciting places to spend the afternoon. Southeast Michigan restaurants are among the finest to be found anywhere.

"We at the Travel and Tourist Association," said Baker, "are proclaiming to the world what a great region we have in southeast Michigan. We also encourage our residents to find out what many of their neighbors already know—you can really enjoy yourself all year long in our exciting part of the state."

The booklets mentioned in the above story, "Winter in Southeast Michigan" and the "Winter Calendar of Events" are available free at the Travel and Tourist Association office at 64 Park St., Troy, or may be obtained by mail by sending self-addressed stamped business sized envelopes with 39 cents postage for each book to P. O. Box 1590, Troy, 48069.

ANDREW BALENT, a nationally known conductor, composer and arranger, was on hand at Beach Middle school last Monday to work with some of Warren Mayer's kids. Balent, who teaches middle school and elementary band in the Fitzgerald Public Schools in Warren, has published more than 300 compositions and arrangements for bands at all levels, but specializes in music for young bands. Balent and the Beach band practiced together last week before the band played the part of a demonstration band for Balent's clinic at the Midwestern Music Conference in Power Center on Thursday. The band was chosen due to its, "many years of success at district band festivals."

Ask MESC

PUBLIC INFORMATION SERVICES DIVISION

7310 WOODWARD AVE. - DETROIT, MICH. 48202 - (313) 876-5488

QUESTION: I was laid off by my employer. When I filed a claim for unemployment benefits, MESC told me I couldn't receive any benefits because my employer did not have an employer number. I don't understand. Why can't I receive my benefits?

ANSWER: MESC can only issue unemployment benefits to eligible jobless workers if their employers are covered by the state's unemployment insurance law. In other words, the employer has to be liable for paying state unemployment insurance taxes. An employer number indicates that the employer has an account with MESC and pays unemployment taxes.

If an employer does not have a MESC number, then an agency field auditor will meet with the employer to determine if the employer is liable. Once the auditor completes an investigation, a recommendation will be made to MESC's Employer Determination Unit. This unit will then issue a liability determination and an employer number if the employer is found to be liable. Once the employer number has been issued, the MESC can issue unemployment benefits to eligible jobless workers.

Without an employer number, the MESC will not know if your employer is liable or to which employer the agency should charge the cost of your unemployment benefits.

In the meantime, however, you should continue reporting to your MESC office as directed. Once the agency issues an employer number to your former employer, it can pay you unemployment benefits for every week in which you were unemployed and reported.

If you have a question for MESC, send it to "Ask MESC," 7310 Woodward, Room 505, Detroit 48202. Unfortunately, it is not possible to answer or acknowledge each letter. We do, however read them all and print those of most general interest.

Capital Gains Are Taxable

Question: I own shares in a mutual fund. I have received notices of capital gains that are being reinvested to me. I have also been notified that the fund is paying the tax on these gains. How will this affect my income tax?

Answer: You will receive a Form 2439. The undistributed capital gains are includable in your income and the capital gains tax paid on your behalf is claimed as a credit on your tax return. If this credit exceeds your tax liability, the difference will be refunded.

State May Have To Boost Outlays For Conservation

Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau, said the Michigan Legislature this year may have to consider increased appropriations for soil and water conservation in light of expected federal funding cutbacks.
"I think it's important for the Legislature to clearly understand the benefits of good soil and water conservation practices, techniques and programs," Nelson said. "The benefits include improved water quality, reduction of soil loss and minimizing drain maintenance. There are benefits to the landowner, to farmers in general and to the total public."
Nelson said some people are suggesting that the legislature appropriate over $8.5 million more this year for soil and water conservation, but he thinks the final figure will be substantially less than that.
Sylvan township's share of the $40,000 "match money" allotted by the Board of Supervisors for 1951 road work in the county, together with the amount matched by the township, amounted to $4,178, according to figures quoted yesterday by Washtenaw County Road Commission manager Howard G. Minier.
Sylvan township was one of the last townships in the county to make a decision as to where the township's share should be spent. Minier said $1,506 was spent to fill in a bad sink hole on Helm Rd. west of Sylvan Rd. The remaining $2,672 is tentatively planned for improvement of Wilkinson

No matter what anyone says, nothing is "just as good as a John Deere."

"And ours is just as good as a John Deere." How many times have you heard that? When the manufacturer is clearly the leader, but all claims aside, there's nothing like a John Deere tractor with Caterpillar's "Max Power" diesel engine and 15 speed Power Shift transmission. No combine can match the productive efficiency of a Titan II. And the superior seed and environment treated by Max Power planters is literally legendary. But it's the dealer support that is provided with everything in "The Long Green Line." Don't take our word for it. Ask anyone. We're happy to be judged by what we know for.

Health Care Update For Folks Age 60 To 79!

NEW PLAN PAYS UP TO $182,700 FOR NURSING HOME BENEFITS — INCLUDING CUSTODIAL CARE

Getting well could spell financial ruin for today's senior citizen. According to a recent study on the plight of the elderly, 2 out of 3 Americans aged 66 and living alone, will be "impoverished" after spending just 13 weeks in a nursing home. Married persons aren't much better off.

But now there is a solution from Bankers Life and Casualty. It's a new kind of nursing home policy that pays benefits for...

- custodial, intermediate and skilled nursing care
- before, during and after Medicare payments and in addition to HMO benefits
- for up to five years depending on the length of time you select for any one sickness or injury.

There is more. With this new policy, you also select the daily benefit you want up to $100. And this amount will not change with the level of care you get.

To help you save money, the policy lets you decide when benefits start — from 0 days to 100 days. Other consumer features include...

- special "no preliums" rule during nursing home stay
- home convalescent care benefits
- full new benefits restored after get well period

There is no obligation for getting all the facts. The coupon below will bring you complete FREE information including the outline of coverage for you to review.

Food Cost Likely To Rise in '86

Consumers can expect to pay a little more for food in 1986, with the over-all increase falling between 3 percent and 5 percent, according to a First National Bank of Chicago economist, but most of that will be from food consumers eat away from home.

Economist Richard Chamberlin said grocery store prices would only increase from 1 percent to 3 percent for the year. Beef and pork will head the list of commodities increasing in price, while farm prices in general will remain under pressure because of big crops of grain and soybeans in recent years and huge supplies available world-wide.

Even if the new farm bills' dairy provision for whole-herd buy-out results in larger than normal number of dairy cows being slaughtered, economists say that will increase supplies of lower priced cuts of meat and hamburger while the output of higher valued cuts would still decline.

Marketing costs are also expected to gain modestly in 1986 as they did in 1985, leaving the farmers' share of the consumer food dollar at less than one-third, according to Chamberlin. A Farm Bureau study of food-cost distribution in 1984 placed the farmers' share of the consumer dollar at only 27 cents.

MARK CHADWICK performs one of his many acrobatic and juggling feats for True Grist Dinner Theatre's production of "Vaudeville or Bust," an original compilation of authentic vaudeville era material. The show takes place in front of the Old Homer Opera House curtain dating back to 1928, a perfect backdrop for the period show. Performances of "Vaudeville or Bust" will run Wednesday through Sunday until March 1. Reservations may be made by calling (517) 568-4151.

'Vaudeville or Bust' Opens at True Grist

By Russ Ogden
Free Lance Drama Critic and Professor at EMU
A musical pastiche compiled by Charles S. Burr and Bobb James—"Vaudeville or Bust!"—currently graces the stage of the True Grist Dinner Theatre in Homer. Director Charles Burr serves as "ringmaster" for the Vaudevillian presentation while Bobb James pianos and percussion accompanies the musical numbers.

According to Director Charles S. Burr, the vaudeville era preceded ragtime with "Alexander's Ragtime Band" coming the closest to the Ragtime era of music. Apparently James (and Burr) poured through volumes of songs and "terude vaudevillian acts and jokes" to sift the two hours of enjoyment live on-stage at the True Grist currently.

Starting with well known Irving Berlin (and others) as composers of "Let's All Be Americans Now," the score musically soars through such stalwart composers as George M. Cohan, Jerome Kern, Victor Herbert, Gus Edwards, Rodgers and Hart, plus many lesser known composers of that particular period.

Although Vaudeville needs a little faster pace—a little tightening, as it were—Burr and James have used their available talent wisely in their selection of numbers for the various presentations: 40 songs in all. For the older members of the audience, the memorization of 40 familiar songs seems like nothing. But for most of the members of this young troupe, all of these songs were new and memorization stood a holy test.

Outstanding numbers for one reason or another included Mark Chadwick who presented ball juggling, hat balancing, three bricks (blocks), chin chair balancing act, and the one-hand cane stand for which Chadwick has become quite famous. The surprising and pleasant happening for Chadwick was the tuneful voice and his graceful movements on stage. So Ypsilantian Chadwick is appearing in his first semi-professional stage production since high school in Ypsilanti and is taring quite well under the James/Burr tutelage.

Paul Kerr, whether singing or performing, is a true vaudevillian at heart and zestfully as a jealous husband in a tried and true vaudeville skit or as a purveyor of the song "There's Just a Little Bit of Monkey..." steals the audience with each appearance.

A few memorable tunes included "When You're Wearing the Ball and Chain" with dancing and singing Chadwick, Bud Mountcastle and Paul Kerr; "Jack O'Lantern Moon" with Chadwick and Gail Betts-Trader; "I Want to Hear a Yankee Doodle Tune" by Betts-Trader and company; "Jeanette and Her Wooden Shoes" with Sharon Horsch and Heidi Anderson.

The stage is a memorable one for this True Grist production. To the left and right are special enclosed seats in loge containers. These seats were given by the old "movie" house to the TG theatre. The backdrop is a real one used back in "the good old days."

The backdrop is interesting for several reasons. Young people today are accused "by businessmen in particular" that they cannot read or spell. The word "Investments" was spelled "Investments" on a bank advertisement on the backdrop. The telephone number seemed strange because it was simply: 52! Why did furniture stores and funeral parlors seem to team up in the old days? Another sign with a bank: 4% interest rate. Wow! Top notch food and exquisite service as usual at the True Grist before and after dinner with Bud Mountcastle still providing pre- and post-dinner piano entertainment.

"Vaudeville or Bust!" continues at the True Grist Dinner Theatre in Homer through March 2. Telephone for reservations at 1-(517) 568-4151.

Chelsea Glass Co. Expands

When Marty and Cathy Kimball bought Chelsea Glass Co. in 1980, neither of them knew much about the glass business. Marty had been the manager of an automobile dealership in Jackson, and Cathy was a bookkeeper.

For novices, though, they've done all right. Since 1980 their business has doubled, and to accommodate the growth they had to build a new 2,600-square-foot addition to the front of their old building on W. Middle St., giving them a total 6,200 square feet.

The new building houses their office space, design room, a two-stall area to work on automobiles, a showroom and a store front they rent out to Chelsea Eyeglass Co. The addition still smells new.

The old, 60' by 60' cinder block building is used for storage and prep work.

"About two years ago we began to consider options for expanding," Cathy says. "We considered looking at other property, building a new building. But we decided our current location was ideal. It's especially convenient for our auto glass customers who often walk downtown to do shopping while they are waiting."

The $100,000-plus expansion has caused a few frayed nerves, Cathy says.

"About 80 percent of our business is commercial storefront, which is tied heavily to the construction industry," Cathy says. "There were a couple of years in the early 80's that were real slow in the construction industry. The construction industry is good now, but when you take on an expansion of this magnitude, you wonder if the industry will stay good."

In addition to store front work, the company installs automobile glass, sun roof, and repairs windows and screens.

The bulk of the company's business is in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area. They do little work in Detroit because the area is covered by a different union.

One of the company's current major projects is the glass work for the Holiday Inn West in Ann Arbor. But the company has been so busy lately, in what is normally an off-season, that there hasn't been much time to bid on new, big jobs.

"We're at a point now, where we have enough work backed up to keep us busy for two or three months," Cathy says.

"We've got to decide where we want the business to go, whether we want to diversify and bring in some other lines or other services. We could look into selling some specialized types of glass, such as bullet-proof glass, that we don't handle that would open up some other job possibilities. We could take on a full-time estimator, to relieve Marty from doing the estimating. The staff we have can't possibly do any more than they're doing. We'll have to hire more people if the business is going to expand."

In addition to Marty and Cathy, the business has four full-time glazers, an automobile specialist, a full-time secretary, and their very own part-time teenager to do odd jobs.

No matter how much the business grows, the Kimballs say they're committed to staying in Chelsea. They like the atmosphere of a small town.

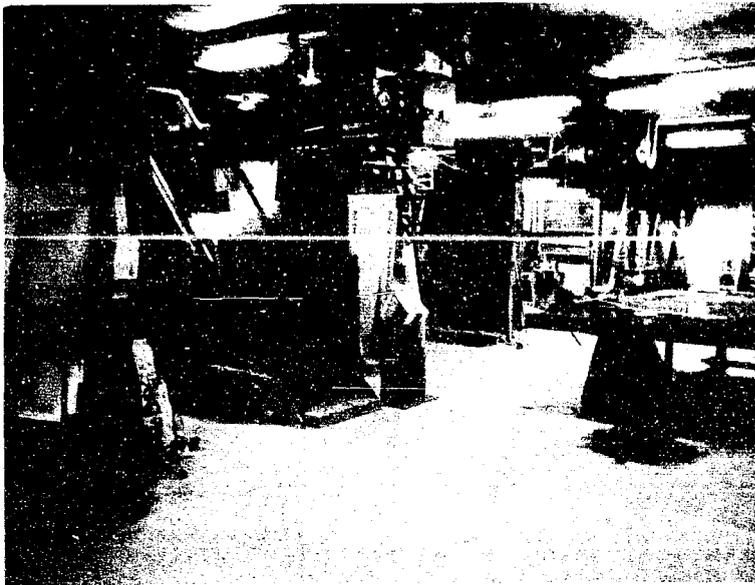

★ Settling in For the Winter

As a thick layer of snow and cold blankets farm country today, there is a quiet resolve among farmers to stay in business. They are burrowing under a stack of farm records and searching for a way to move their product. As one farmer said, "even selling it at a loss is better than not selling it at all."

Establishing a cash flow by marketing grain or livestock through the operation is the key to staying in business today.

Ideas of expanding their farm operation have been put on hold as farmers concentrate on maintaining the current business. Many realize that $5 wheat, $9 soybeans and $70 cattle are not "just around the economic corner." They're going to have to survive on slightly lower, but perhaps more stable, commodity prices . . . and with this stark reality comes the understanding for the need to improve marketing skills.

Combine these improved skills with a workable government farm program and perhaps farmers can do more "pencil pushing" and less "vocalizing" this winter.

THE ORIGINAL CHELSEA GLASS BUILDING is now a storage and work area. The addition houses all the office and design space, as well as a show room.

TWO NEW AUTOMOTIVE STALLS are located in the new 2,600-square-foot wing of Chelsea Glass Co. on W. Middle St. Above: Ed Reames works on installing sliding glass windows in the back of a pick-up truck.

ED REAMES works on the final touches of a piece of automotive glass. The expansion of Chelsea Glass Co. has given Ed far more room than he had to do his work.

CATHY KIMBALL, and her husband, Marty, bought the Chelsea Glass Co. in 1980 with no experience in the industry. Since then the business has doubled in size, and they've added a 2,600-square-foot wing.

Property Tax Assessments Must Be Reviewed Annually

The Michigan State Constitution MCL 211, requires that all assessments be reviewed annually. Therefore, the local supervisor/assessors are presently working on the 1986 assessments. Real property is actually appraised and an appraisal record established. Personal property assessments are established from personal property statements filed with your local assessor.

Lima Township Supervisor/ Assessor Leila C. Bauer, offers the following suggestions for reviewing your appraisal record and assessment. Request to see or get a copy of your appraisal card. Lima township will give all property owners a copy of their own appraisal card free, by request at the March Board of Review. All appraisal records are public records and may be seen by anyone.

If you do not understand your appraisal card, ask questions and discuss your concerns with the assessor. Going over your assessment record with your supervisor/assessor can alleviate many misunderstandings and many times needed adjustments can be made immediately, saving the taxpayer time and concern.

Mrs. Bauer states that some property owners are reluctant to talk with the assessor, fearful that if they question their assessment, it will go up, or that they will upset the assessor—not true in her case—and she is sure she can speak for other assessors.

For 1986, in Lima township she is happy to report that assessments for most agriculturally classed properties will decrease. (Note, do not confuse agriculturally zoned properties with agriculturally classed properties.)

Some suggestions for checking your assessment or appraisal card are: Building dimensions, parcel sizes, type of construction, basements finished or unfinished, number of bathrooms. In addition it is useful to compare your assessment with like properties to assure they are assessed uniformly. An increase in your assessment may be due to: new construction or remodeling, changing market values, or purchase price of similar properties.

Likewise a decrease in your assessment may be because of: buildings being removed, decreased market values, or purchase price.

All property owners must be notified of any assessment increase. Notices are mailed approximately 10 days prior to the local board of review and to the address on the latest tax roll, so keep your address current. Do not assume that if you do not receive a notice your assessment did not change, check during the period of time your local board of review is being held to be sure.

After reviewing your appraisal record, should you feel you are over-assessed, you may appeal to your local board of review, who are all property owners within your local unit of government. If you are still not satisfied with your assessment, you may appeal to the Michigan State Tax Tribunal. However, she reminds property owners that before you can appeal to the Michigan Tax Tribunal, you must first have made an appeal to your local board of review, and have your taxes paid, for the year you are appealing.

There is no charge for an appeal to the small claims court for homestead properties. All other small claims appeals are $35.

To receive an appeal form write to the Michigan Tax Tribunal, 322 S. Logan, Logan Shopping Center, Lansing 48922.

A helpful publication to assist taxpayers is "How To Review and Appeal Your Property Tax Assessment" which may be requested from the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan St., Lansing 48933.

Mrs. Bauer reminds Lima township taxpayers that the Lima Township Board of Review will meet with the public on Monday, March 10, from 9 to 12 noon and 1 to 3 p.m.; also Tuesday, March 11, from 9 to 12 noon, 1 to 3 and 5 to 8 p.m.

Shore Erosion Solutions
Offered in U-M Book

Homeowners along the Great Lakes spend approximately $700 million a year to protect their land from shore erosion, but the property damage caused by flooding exceeds that amount, according to University of Michigan researchers.

They say it is often less costly to move a home than to install expensive barriers around it.

"The best way to eliminate damage due to erosion is to move existing buildings as far away from the shoreline as your property boundary will allow, and not to build on erosion-prone coasts," they say in a new guidebook, "Shoreline Erosion," published by the Michigan Sea Grant Program, a co-operative program of the U-M and Michigan State University.

Alfred M. Beeton, director of the Great Lakes and Marine Waters Center of the U-M Institute of Science and Technology and director of the Michigan Sea Grant Program, says one-third of Michigan's 3,200 miles of shoreline is vulnerable to severe erosion, with some areas eroding at the rate of two feet per year. Southeastern and eastern regions have been particularly susceptible to erosion over the years.

There is no single "best" protection, according to the book, since each shore is unique and requires different measures.

But for property owners who choose not to move their homes, the book offers a variety of solutions, including beach replacement, installation of vegetation and rocks, and construction of wooden and steel braces to brace the shore against winter storms.

For example, the book recommends groins, fingerlike structures often made of steel or timber that extend at intervals from the shoreline, to trap sediment and maintain a beach. It also suggests revetments, a two-layer rock facing that protects embankments against wave action.

Seawalls, because they absorb little wave energy and often are not properly installed, usually offer insufficient protection, says the guidebook. Vegetation is effective during low to moderate waves, but strong waves can wash it away.

The book warns property owners to avoid vertical walls, since they accelerate erosion, create deep water and often crumble because of back pressure from bluff material.

It also warns potential buyers of shoreline property to be on the lookout for indicators of severe bluff erosion, including damaged land structures, presence of erosion control structures, slumped material at the foot of bluffs, steep angle of bluffs, deep water near shore, vegetation sliding downhill and narrow beaches.

Bluffs, sandy beaches and areas where the topsoil rests on a layer of clay are most susceptible to erosion, Beeton says, and rocky beaches are least susceptible.

He explains that seiches, oscillations of lake water caused by strong winds, are responsible for most of the erosion in the Great Lakes. Similar to the waves created in a jolted cup of coffee, a seiche may take several hours or days to dissipate.

Increased rainfall and shifting lake beds have complicated the erosion problem. The eastern side of Lake Erie's floor is rising, flooding the western shores. The fickleness of Great Lakes' weather adds to the lakeside homeowner's dilemma, Beeton adds.

Yet in spite of the erosion problems, many people still prefer waterfront living, he says. "There is a natural inclination of humans to be near water. Look at all the people who build along polluted rivers and along treacherous beaches. They have beautiful scenery. Many people aren't aware of the inherent problems. And some lakeshore properties, of course, don't have these problems."

Because each shoreline property is unique, he suggests seeking advice from professionals to deal with erosion.

Five district extension Sea Grant agents are located throughout the state. For information on how to contact them and to order the "Shoreline Erosion" guidebook, write the Michigan Sea Grant Publications Office, The University of Michigan, 2200 Bonsteel Blvd., Ann Arbor 48109, or call (313) 764-1138.

IRA's Mean
Retirement, Tax Savings

Any working taxpayer can design his own savings plan for retirement and get a tax deduction for the entire amount he deposits in his retirement account, up to a maximum of $2,000 per year, until he reaches age 70½.

According to tax specialists, the deduction is permitted whether or not the taxpayer itemizes because it is a direct deduction from gross income.

The retirement plan, commonly known as an IRA (Individual Retirement Account), will earn tax-deferred income. Amounts withdrawn are taxable. Withdrawals may begin at the age of 59½ or earlier if the owner is disabled or dies.

A taxpayer eligible to establish an IRA who has a spouse with no earned income may contribute to a spousal IRA on behalf of himself and his spouse. The maximum deduction for contributions to spousal IRA's is $2,250, which may be divided between the spouses according to their wishes, as long as neither receives more than $2,000. An individual who contributes to a spousal IRA may not contribute to a regular IRA for the same year.

TRINKLE RD. was open to through traffic between Fletcher and Freer Rds. early this week after road commission workers put down the final layer of a light-weight, blast-furnace slag. While commission officials think they have the flooding problem solved, they said there are no guarantees.

Trinkle Rd. Opens to Traffic

Trinkle Rd. is finally open for through traffic between Fletcher and Freer Rds.

As of last week, all that remained on the project was to put down several hundred yards of a light-weight slag, a product of a blast furnace in Detroit, over the 100-yard section of the road. That area has flooded repeatedly since August, when the road first sank into the muck. Since then, engineers had tried on several occasions to solve the problem, but ran into one problem after another.

"We finished most of the work last Friday (Jan. 10), but we ran short of the surfacing material," said assistant engineer Tom Vaillencourt of the Washtenaw County Road Commission for the delay in finishing the project.

"I don't think what we have done will trigger more settlement. But nobody can guarantee that. We'll probably have to wait until spring to find out."

The recent snowy weather had been a major obstacle to completing the project. That's because workers were tied up clearing roads and there was no one available to work on Trinkle Rd.

The solution has involved putting down woodchips, gravel, a long, wide strip of a geotextile fabric, and, now, a layer of slag.

Original efforts were thwarted when too much weight from the gravel shoved the fabric and wood chips too far into the muck. Engineers then extended the width of the fabric, and put extra weight on top of the extensions to try to counterbalance the weight in the middle. The idea behind the slag is to have a cover like gravel, but not nearly as heavy. Vaillencourt said the project has cost approximately $65,000 so far.

Paula Blanchard

By Paula Blanchard
A friend who has traveled in England was telling me how fond she had become of the famous London Taxi, the world's only vehicle designed and built to be, well . . . a taxi.

"I rode in one that was only six years old—actually quite new for a London Taxi—and the driver boasted that it was 'ardly broken-in with more than 300,000 miles on the engine,'" my friend said. "I gave him a generous tip and suggested that he put it aside against the day it might need its first overhaul!"

Well, I may never get to London, but I promise you that I will get a ride in a London Taxi—an Americanized version is now being manufactured in Michigan and is already on the streets of Detroit.

The American version, called LondonCoach, is being produced by LondonCoach Co. Inc. of Mt. Clemens. The company says the vehicles have a "life expectancy" of from seven to 10 years—up to three times as long as the average sedan used as a taxi. In England, London Taxis have logged as much as 750,000 miles before being retired—and that after 25 years.

LondonCoach gets the body, chassis, axle and wheels from Carbodies Ltd. of Coventry, England (which builds the London Taxi) and adds the rest—a 2.3 liter Ford gasoline engine, automatic transmission, drive-train, exhaust system, wiring and interior. The interior, I am happy to report, includes a steering wheel on the left. Having the driver on the wrong side of the car, as they do in England, where the car is also on the wrong side of the road, would drive me bonkers. When the LondonCoach is all together, it weighs a hefty 3,400 pounds and sells (base-price) for $18,400.

A somewhat pricier version of the basic taxi, a limousine called the London Sterling, also is available from LondonCoach. It offers such upscale niceties as leather upholstery, walnut console with color television, AM-FM stereo radio/cassette, leaded-crystal decanter and glasses, refrigerator, cellular telephone, a more powerful engine, moon-roof, darkened windows in the rear, a rear privacy curtain and, oh yes, a "personal tool kit." The London Sterling—we recommend basic black, although you can get it in British Racing Green, Ermine White and other hues, including two-tone—carries a price tag that starts at $25,900.

The basic taxi also comes with a mix of options, but they are somewhat more prosaic. They include a bullet-proof partition to separate the driver and the driver!

In any case, let's keep making it—and buying it—in Michigan!

Tax Tip Regarding Crop Sales, Loans

Question: As a farmer I have always reported my commodity (wheat) credit loans as income in the year I receive them. This year my wheat crop was unusually good and the loan was double what it usually is. Also, I had a big hail loss on my beans and received $20,000 insurance proceeds. I usually hold my harvested beans for a year before I sell and I do not get a loan. Is there any way I can spread this income over two years?

Answer: Yes. Since you normally sell your beans in the year following harvest, you can report the insurance proceeds in that year. A signed declaration of this election and an explanation must be attached to this year's tax return. Since you have always reported your wheat loans as income when received, that income must be reported this year. Be sure to ask your tax preparer about the possibility of income averaging!

Cagers Post Two Big Wins in Week Over Tecumseh, Northwest

Chelsea forward Dan Bellus hit a 15-foot jumper from the left wing with 18 seconds left for what turned out to be the winning basket as the Bulldogs upended the Tecumseh Indians at home last Friday night, 44-40.

The win gave the Bulldogs their second Southeastern Conference victory of the season.

In other action last week, Chelsea out-ran a much taller Jackson Northwest team for a 58-47 victory on the road last Tuesday.

In Friday's contest, Chelsea held the Indians to just two points in the fourth quarter, a field goal by guard Tom Clark with nearly five minutes to go that gave the Indians a 40-39 lead. Tecumseh was only 1-12 from the field in the quarter.

Chelsea, which scored only seven points in the final period, tied the game at the 2:09 mark, when Mark Bareis made the front end of a one-and-one situation. He later sealed the win by making two free throws with nine seconds remaining to give Chelsea a four-point lead. A Tecumseh player went over his back for a rebound after a desperation Indian shot, all just after Bellus' jumper.

"I don't think either team played very well in the final quarter," Rosentreter said. "But I have to give our players a lot of credit. They listened, stayed within themselves and worked hard. I think the kids are convinced that if they play solid defense, they'll be in every game until the end."

Bellus, who took the cross-court pass from guard Ken Martin and was wide open, didn't hesitate on the shot, and hit nothing but net. It was only the second time since early in the second quarter that Chelsea had the lead.

"We've worked on that pass, it's what we call a skip pass," Rosentreter said. "We think that if we can get the ball over the defense we'll have a high percentage shot most of the time."

The play to Bellus was set up after Chelsea took a time out with 33 seconds left.

The contest started out close as the teams traded field goals to a 12-12 tie after the first quarter. The Indians held a 24-20 half-time lead, as the Bulldogs managed only one field goal in the second quarter, combined with two successive turnovers at the end of the half for easy Tecumseh lay-ups. Mark Bareis, who led all Chelsea scorers with 14 points, kept the Bulldogs close by making five of six from the foul line.

Tecumseh's big 6-7 reserve center Ed Wilson scored all four of his points in the second quarter. It was the only quarter his height seemed to make a difference.

Indian guard Brad Anschultz hit a jumper at the start of the third quarter to give the Indians a six-point lead. But a field goal by Martin, and two straight two-pointers by Chelsea forward Jeff Harvey, one off a steal resulting in a three-point play, gave the Bulldogs the lead. The Indians regrouped and went on to out-score the Bulldogs in the middle of the quarter, 8-2.

Two field goals each by Todd Starkey and Martin near the end of the quarter pulled Chelsea to within one point going into the fourth period.

Chelsea, which for the most part has not had a good year at the foul line, made 12-16 (75 percent), "which won it for us," Rosentreter said. The Indians went to the line only six times, making only two. From the field, Chelsea was 16-43, for 37 percent, which is about their average for the season. Tecumseh had an even worse night with 18-52 shooting, for 34 percent.

"I felt we had to stop (guard, John) Hartley since he shoots well," Rosentreter said. Hartley had 12 points.

"Starkey had the responsibility to stop him and he did an excellent job. Todd also ran the offense well and scored 10 points and had seven rebounds. He had a good, all-around game."

"I kind of thought they'd try to dump the ball inside to their big guys, but that didn't seem to work out."

Despite a fairly significant height advantage for Tecumseh, the teams were dead even in rebounds at 28.

Rounding out the Bulldogs scoring were Bellus, with seven points, Martin, with six points, Harvey, with five points, and John Jedele, with two points.

In Tuesday's contest with Jackson Northwest, the Jackson team simply couldn't keep up with the much faster Bulldogs, and Chelsea scored 14 points on lay-ups in the fourth quarter off a devastating fast break.

It could have been a far more one-sided game had Chelsea made its free throws, as they shot only 12-27 from the line. At one point, the Bulldogs had a 17-point lead.

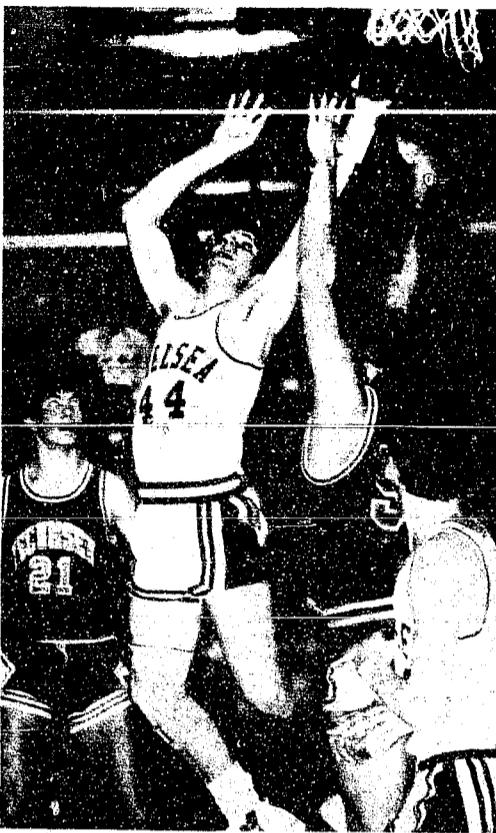

Bareis had one of his finest games of the season with 24 points, many of them coming down low, and a season-high 16 rebounds, many of the offensive variety.

Starkey had 12 points, "on the run," and Martin added 11, hitting most of his points from the perimeter.

Rosentreter gave a bunch of the credit for the team's fast break to Jedele, who was quick with the outlet pass. He also had seven points.

Again, a sizeable height advantage to Jackson didn't keep the Bulldogs off the boards as Chelsea had a 37-25 rebounding edge.

With exactly half the regular season completed, Chelsea has an even 5-5 record, 2-3 in the Southeastern Conference. Friday night the Bulldogs play at Pinckney.

GUNNING IN TRAFFIC is Chelsea forward Jeff Harvey, who triggered a key scoring spurt in the second half to help the Bulldogs come from behind to beat the Tecumseh Indians last Friday night, 44-40. Harvey finished the night with five points and seven rebounds.

Varsity Wrestlers Pin Lumen Christi

Chelsea varsity wrestlers turned back Jackson Lumen Christi last Tuesday in their only dual meet of the week, 48-21.

"Our power kids matched up with their power kids, and our weaker boys matched up with their weaker boys," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"It turned out that our best wrestlers were just a little bit better than their best, and some of our weaker boys were a little bit better than their weaker boys. I felt pretty good about the win."

98 pounds: Bryan Kidd pinned Tony Laporte in 2:47.

105 pounds: Randy Dale pinned Bruce Wikle in :23.

112 pounds: Reno Nye was pinned by Joe Cox in 1:43.

119 pounds: Pete Hanna pinned Mark Kazppi in 3:15.

126 pounds: Ron Bogdanski pinned Frank Laporte in 3:11.

132 pounds: Bob Torres pinned Kent Melville in :46.

138 pounds: Jerry Rinehardt was pinned by J.C. Wood in 3:48.

145 pounds: Brant Snyder won a 9-8 decision over Todd Rumberger.

155 pounds: Mark Edick lost a decision to Chris Sosinsky, 4-1.

167 pounds: Steve Wingrove pinned Tim Summerfelt in 1:07.

185 pounds: Mike Taylor lost a technical fall to Dan Sholer, 23-7.

196 pounds: Leo Durham won a decision over Dennis Dillon, 5-0.

Heavyweight: Todd Thurkow pinned Gordie Peckham in :39.

"We have a few minor injuries now, but mentally and physically we're basically all right now," Kargel said.

"We have three meets this week which is going to be tough because the kids also have exams."

Chelsea hosts the powerful Dexter Dreadnaughts, perhaps the state's best wrestling team, tomorrow evening.

JV Cagers Win Two Last Week

For the first time this season, Chelsea's junior varsity basketball team has won two games in a row. On Tuesday, last week, they edged Jackson Northwest, 43-40, and on Friday they thrashed the Tecumseh Indians, 67-27.

"I think I found my lucky tie tack," said Chelsea coach Ted Hendricks.

The JV's benefitted immensely from the return of Matt Steinhauer to the team. Hendricks installed a new offense to take advantage of Steinhauer's size, and it paid off.

"The other kids seemed to loosen up with Matt in the line-up," Hendricks said.

The Bulldogs were behind much of the time in the Northwest game, but two key free throws with 28 seconds left gave Chelsea the lead for good.

"We played good defense, especially in the fourth quarter," Hendricks said.

The Bulldogs ended with a 44-34 rebounding edge, although many of them were offensive rebounds as they shot only 32 percent on the night (18-50). They were an even 50 percent at the line (11-22).

Chelsea had a balanced scoring attack, as John Cattell led the charge with 10 points, Matt Monroe had eight, Steinhauer, Greg Boughton and Clay Hurd had six each, Kevan Flanigan had five, and Junior Morseau, two.

Last Friday's Tecumseh game was the first time in recent memory that a Chelsea basketball team has been on the winning side of a blow-out.

Chelsea was behind after the first quarter, 11-10, but dominated the final three quarters. The second quarter was the key as the Bulldogs outpointed the visitors, 25-4, to take a 35-15 half-time lead.

"We finally put it all together," said Hendricks, whose team shot a season-high 64 percent in the first half, 18-28.

"We took the ball inside, and Steinhauer had 16 of his 21 points in the second quarter. I was real pleased with the play of our guards. We hadn't worked a lot on that kind of offense, but they showed a good passing game."

The Bulldogs also had a season-best performance at the foul line, 13-19 for 68 percent.

"On paper, the teams should have been about even," Hendricks said. "We had about the same records, and lost to many of the same opponents. But Friday we had a lot of consistency."

Behind Steinhauer in the scoring parade were Morseau, with 10 points, Cattell, with nine, Hurd, with six, Boughton, Phil Thomson and Monroe with five points each, and Hurd, Flanigan and Bob Clouse with two each.

The JV's head into Friday's action at Pinckney with a 3-7 overall record.

SCRAMBLING FOR THE LOOSE BALL is forward Dan Bellus, with a little assistance from behind by Jeff Harvey. Bellus swished a 15-footer in the final seconds to put Chelsea ahead for good in the contest.

DOING THE CHELSEA TWO-STEP are center John Jedele, left, and forward Jeff Harvey. It was Friday Night Fever at the Chelsea gym last week as the Bulldogs came from behind to edge the Tecumseh Indians, 44-40.

JV Volleyball Team Wins Two of Three

The JV volleyball team opened their season with a win over Parma Western, 15-5 and 17-15. The win featured excellent serving and playing by Jennifer Lewis, Stacey Norris, Meredith Hall and Kelly Scott.

The team took it on the chin in their second contest with Lincoln, but it took three games for the Railsplitters to prevail.

Chelsea lost the first game, 9-15, but came back to win the second, 15-8, with a good, over-all team effort and excellent court coverage. There was fine serving by Hall and Laura Walton. Hall, Walton, Sarah Schaffner, Kelly Scott, Vanessa May and Leah Enderle all contributed fine play.

Chelsea lost the final game, and the match, 12-15.

Last Thursday the JV's had their finest showing of the year in beating Stockbridge in three games, 15-6, 10-15, and 15-12. Coach Cheryl Vogel said the contest featured many long volleys, and that each player should be pleased with her effort.

The other team members are Holly Baltzell, Chris Basso, Shannon Dunn, Kim Easton, Tonya Grammatico, Wendy Hunn, Lynda Laler, Celia Murphy, Heather Niebauer, and Mindy Ryan.

Cager of the Week

PLAYER OF THE WEEK is senior guard Ray Spencer, who's in his second year on the varsity squad. Ray, coming off the bench, gives coach Rahn Rosentretter good, aggressive defense, a key ingredient in the Bulldogs' 5-5 record. Ray is also the likely starting catcher for Wayne Welton's baseball team this spring, and he carried a respectable .296 average last season. He likes to go fishing in his spare time, and weight lifting is one of his hobbies. Next year Ray would like to study either physical therapy or business in college. He's the son of Charles and Joyce Spencer, 268 Ellsworth Lake, Gregory. His brother, Chuck, graduated from CHS three years ago.

Wrestler of the Week

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK is junior Leo Durham, who competes in the 165-pound weight class. This is Leo's second year of wrestling, and first at competing at the varsity level, where he's finding the competition a little rougher this year. Leo had one of his finest meets last Saturday at Hillsdale. He went into the tournament unseeded, and finished in fourth place. He's 9-11 thus far. Last fall Leo was a defensive tackle for coach Gene LaFave, his third year of football. Leo, who moved here from Hartland just before school started last fall, has found Chelsea to be a friendly place. "It was nice to move here. There are good people in Chelsea," Leo has a twin brother, Larry, at Chelsea, a sister Tammy, who's a senior, and another sister, Alice, who's in the seventh grade. His folks are Colleen and Joe Mull, 792 S. Main St. Leo said he'd like to attend Bell & Howell Technical School in Ohio after graduation next year.

SPORTS NOTES

Boy, what a hornet's nest I stirred up with last week's commentary about the behavior of Dexter student basketball fans. It's good to know that people read this column and take it seriously. After all, sports is serious business.

There are a couple of things I neglected to mention last week. First, I admit to a certain ignorance about the Chelsea/Dexter, or Dexter/Chelsea rivalry over the years. This is the first basketball season I've covered in the area, and I hope it won't be the last.

That doesn't mean that I've never had experience with this sort of thing before. The Jonesboro/Forest Park rivalry, in southeast Atlanta, where I worked before, makes the stuff that goes on between Chelsea and Dexter look like nursery school pranks. The Jonesboro-Forest Park football game drew nearly 10,000 people every year. There were rarely any tickets available at the door for basketball games. I saw cheerleaders get into fights, as well as parents in the stands. Cars occasionally were spray-painted and vandalized in other ways. Unspeakable things were done to opposing coaches' homes.

Some folks who are otherwise fine people seem to have their brains turn to go when their team's honor is on the line.

I'm not so naive as to think that Chelsea fans always behave as though Miss Manners is their savior. They've added their share to the fray.

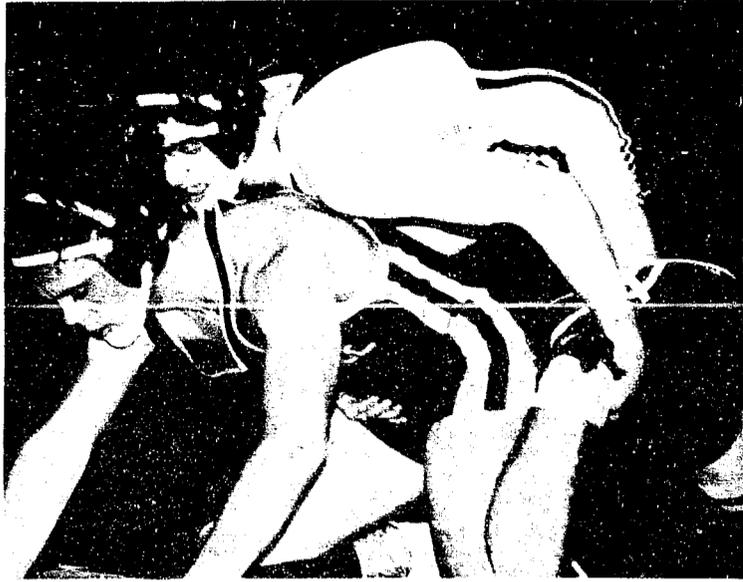

But that still doesn't excuse the actions of Dexter's student fans during their recent game. And, if Chelsea students behave the same way when the Dreadnaughts visit in February, I'll have something to say about that, too. I only hope they have better sense.

Nevertheless, both communities have it pretty good when it comes to putting up with the antics of their rivals.

A side note to last week's ruckus. When people get stirred up about something they see in the newspaper, they tend to write critical letters. That's just fine, and we hope you keep writing. But, please, sign your letters. The only way we can print your venom is if you have the courage to sign it. If you ask, and have a decent reason, we may consider withholding your name.

Oh, and occasionally someone will be so moved by what he (or she) reads that he (or she) just has to pick up the telephone, call the Standard/Leader office, and yell a few choice words at whoever picks up the telephone. That's not fair. Plus, we don't run a "Telephone Calls to the Editor," column, either, although that might be a lot more fun. If you want to yell at me, that's fine, just ask for me. It's happened before, and it's sure to happen again.

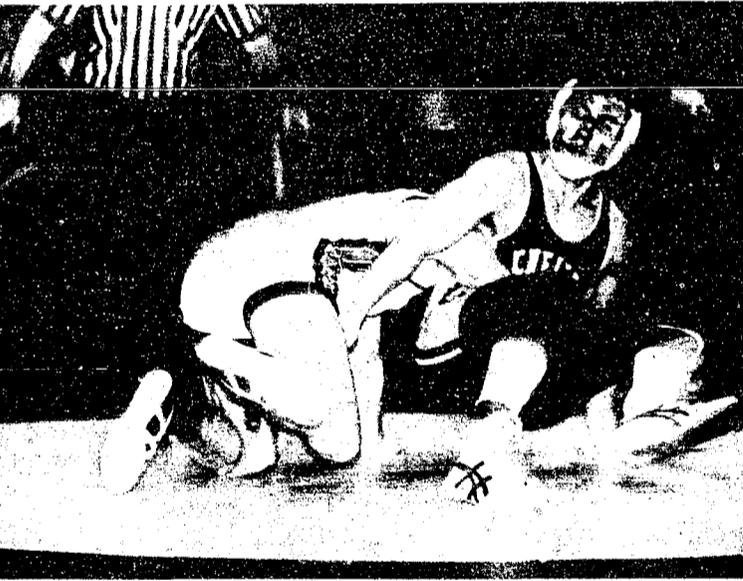

Last week a lady who identified herself as a subscriber and an advertiser, said she was so upset that she was going to cancel the whole shebang. She forgot to tell us who she was,

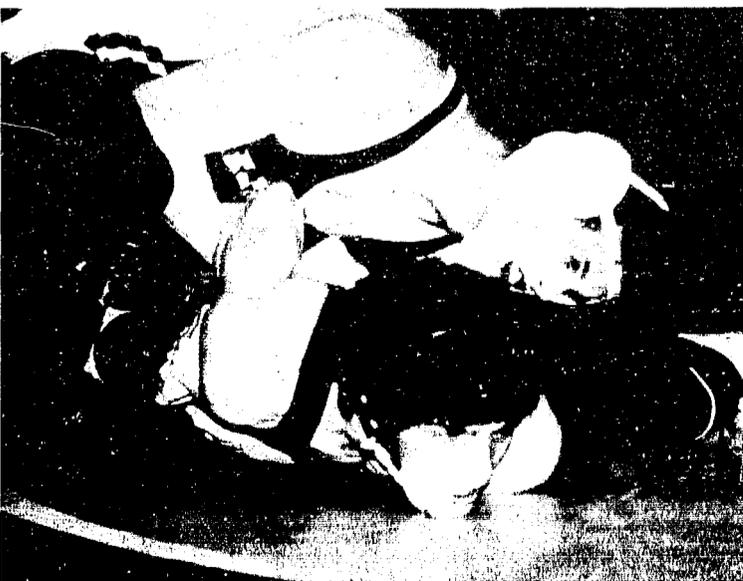

LEO DURHAM of Chelsea, top, works on Craig Shannon of Hillsdale during last week-end's Hillsdale Invitational Wrestling Tournament. Durham, who was unseeded in the 185-pound class, won the match and eventually fourth place in the meet.

BRYAN KIDD SPLITS THE LEGS of Matt Malarny of Hudson during last Saturday's Hillsdale Invitational in the 98-pound class. Kidd pinned Malarny and eventually took third place in the meet.

RON BOGDANSKI spins out of a hold by John Donaldson of Hudson during last the Hillsdale Invitational last Saturday. Bogdanski won the match, 5-3, and was the tournament champion at 126. Chelsea's only champion of the meet.

PETE HANNA of Chelsea, top, has Mike Stockel of Marshall in a heck of a mess during last Saturday's match at the Hillsdale Invitational. Hanna eventually lost in the finals to Dave Beck of Hillsdale. However, he pinned Stockel.

Bogdanski Wins Division In Hillsdale Tournament

Chelsea's Ron Bogdanski had one of his finest performances of the season as he took first place in the 126-pound division of the Hillsdale Invitational Wrestling Tournament last Saturday.

Bogdanski, who was seeded fourth, beat Hudson's Joe McDonald, who had lost only one match all season, 18-1, and Hillsdale's Mark Mayhew, 8-2, in the finals.

As a team, the Bulldogs finished fifth with 83 points, while host Hillsdale won their tournament with 130 points. Finishing ahead of Chelsea were Jonesville, Jackson County Western, and Marshall, while Hudson, Fowlerville, Quincy and Homer took the last four spots.

Pete Hanna, at 119 pounds, who had lost only one match all season, was beaten in the finals by Dave Beck, of JCW, 5-2. Hanna had beaten Beck earlier in the season at the JCW Invitational.

Bryan Kidd, at 98 pounds, took third place from a fourth-place seed, as he had to go to over-time to beat his final opponent in the consolation round.

"That was quite an accomplishment for him," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel. "I was proud of him."

Steve Wingrove, wrestling at 155, and seeded third, lost in the finals to Barry Trudell, of JCW, 6-2. That gave him a second place finish.

Finally, Leo Durham, competing at 185, and un-seeded, finished in fourth place.

"Our kids came to wrestle that day, and I saw a lot of team unity," Kargel said.

"They seemed to be in superb condition, and looked good in the third period of their matches. We also only took seven boys to the tournament, so placing five of our seven wrestlers was a good showing."

Fresh Cagers Split 2 Games Last Week

The freshman basketball team split two games last week, defeating Tecumseh, 37 to 33, at Tecumseh, and losing, 47 to 33, to Jackson Lumen Christi at Beach school.

In a very exciting game last Monday the freshmen came back from a nine-point deficit at half-time to win. The Bulldogs used a full court trapping defense and a tight 2-1-2 half-court defense to hold Tecumseh to a total of 11 points for the entire second half while scoring 24 points themselves. "We played what may have been our worst half of basketball all year in the first half," noted coach Dave Quilter. "We did absolutely nothing offensively or defensively."

The first half was followed by an excellent second half. "That was as good as we've played all year," noted Quilter.

Leading Chelsea in scoring was point guard Larry Nix with a season high 13 points, followed by Jeff Marshall with 8 and John Collins with 7. Rebounding leaders were Jeff Marshall with a season high 16 and Loren Keezer with 8 and Dave White with 7.

In a game that was not nearly as one sided as the score might indicate, Chelsea lost to Lumen Christi last Thursday in a game played at Beach school. Down only by a point at half, 21-20 and by five entering the fourth quarter, 31-26, Chelsea was outscored by nine in the final quarter.

"We played without our center, Jeff Marshall, and the reason I mention that is not to use it as an excuse but to give credit to the remaining eight players we have," coach Quilter said. "We out rebounded a much taller Titan squad, 32 to 29, despite being out-sized at every position." Leading rebounders were John Collins with eight, Mark Larson and Dave White with seven and Loren Keezer with six. Scoring leaders were Loren Keezer with a season high 10, Larry Nix with nine and John Collins with eight.

"We're getting better efforts from everyone instead of one or two players a game and this is what we must have," noted Quilter.

Chelsea hosts Saline Monday at 7 p.m. and plays at Jackson County Western at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Five JV Wrestlers Place in Tourney

Five Chelsea junior varsity wrestlers placed in last Saturday's seven-team invitational tournament at South Lyon.

The previous Saturday, 15 Bulldog wrestlers placed in a two-division tournament at Jackson Northwest in which the Bulldogs as a team placed fifth in 12 teams.

In last Saturday's meet at South Lyon, Craig McCalla, 98 pounds, Randy Dale, 105 pounds, Brady Murphy, 112 pounds, and Mike Taylor, 185 pounds, all took first place in their respective weight classes.

In addition, Paul Hedding was second at 132 pounds and Jerry Rinehardt and Bill Dixon took fourth places at 138 and 155 pounds, respectively.

In the previous week's action,

Dale took first place in the A tournament at 105 pounds, for Chelsea's only champion.

Other A division placers were McCalla, third, at 98 pounds; Dixon, fourth, at 155 pounds; Taylor, second, at 185 pounds; and Todd Thurkow, third, at heavyweight.

In the B tournament, Brant Snyder, at 138 pounds, and Alan Burns, at heavyweight, had the only first place finishes.

Other B placers were Brady Murphy, fourth, at 112 pounds; Reno Nye, third, also at 112 pounds; Matt Schweiger, fourth, at 126 pounds; Dean Sutherland, fourth, at 132 pounds; Hedding, third, at 132 pounds; Rinehardt, second, at 138 pounds; Gary Dosey, fourth, at 145 pounds; and Tom Bennett, third, at 185 pounds.

8th Grade Cagers Lose To Tecumseh, Saline

Beach Middle school eighth grade basketball team lost two games last week, one to Tecumseh, 34-33, and the other to Saline, 37-27.

In the Tecumseh contest, the Bullpups started off slowly, falling behind 7-0, which proved to be their downfall. They had a chance to win the game with four seconds to go, but couldn't score.

"We played pretty good defense from the first quarter on," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman. "When you get behind by seven points in junior high basketball, it's hard to come back."

Chad Starkey led Chelsea scorers with 11 points. Other Chelsea scorers included Chad Raymond with eight points, Kyle Plank with six, Brett Wales with four, and Sinisa Janicevic with two.

In the game with Saline, Tallman said he tried to give everyone an equal amount of playing time.

"When you try to shuffle in 17 kids into a basketball game, it's hard to get much continuity," Tallman said.

Starkey again led Chelsea scorers, this time with seven points. Following him were Wales, with six, John Rigg, with five, Brian Zangara, with four, and Mark Chasteen, with three. The team headed into its final week of the season with a 2-8 record.

KIRK HAWKS, a 1983 graduate of Chelsea High school, is a top swimmer for Albion College this winter. Hawks had season-best times for the Britons last year in the 100-yard backstroke, :59.21, and the 100-yard butterfly, :57.45. He finished sixth in the 1984-85 MIAA championship meet in the backstroke. Albion is under new coach Keith Havens and the Britons hope to finish in the top three in the league.

Beach Wrestlers Win Over Dexter

Beach Middle school wrestlers won their first match of the season last week with a 65-12 whipping of Dexter.

With the exception of one match, Chelsea either won or lost by pin or forfeit at every weight class.

"We wrestled fairly well for our first meet, but we still have a very long way to go," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We must work hard at learning our moves and not at out-muscling people."

82 pounds: Eric Hanna won a 16-2 decision.

89 pounds: Grant Kidd won by forfeit and later won an exhibition match, 13-2.

96 pounds: Rex Nye won by forfeit.

103 pounds: Pat Taylor pinned his opponent in :31.

110 pounds: Doug Wingrove pinned his opponent in :26.

117 pounds: Chris Underhill pinned his opponent in 1:29.

124 pounds: Chuck Kovick pinning his opponent in 1:10.

131 pounds: Chris Isberg was pinned in 2:50.

138 pounds: Bobby Mac pinned his opponent in 3:06.

147 pounds: Matt Herter pinned his opponent in 3:49.

157 pounds: Todd Hamel won by forfeit. He later wrestled two exhibition matches, pinning his opponent in the first in 1:06 and taking a 9-8 decision in the second.

169 pounds: Keith Leisinger was pinned in 1:21.

Heavyweight: Tim Vonschoick won by forfeit. He also wrestled an exhibition match and pinned his opponent in :33.

In other exhibition matches, Shawn Castleberry won via pin in 1:19; Stan Yates pinned his opponent in 4:08; Jonathan McDonald pinned his man in 1:10; Lance Satterthwaite won via pin in 3:54; Grant Kidd took a 13-2 decision; and Brett Salamin won a 16-6 decision.

"Matt Herter, Doug Wingrove, Pat Taylor and Chuck Kovick all wrestled especially well in this first win," Clarke said.

NEW PASTOR of the Immanuel Bible church on E. Summit St. is Ron Clark. Clark and his family arrived recently from Strongsville, O., where he was assistant pastor of the First Baptist church. Pastor Clark is a graduate of Cedarville College in southwestern Ohio, where he majored in Bible. He earned his master's degree in religious education at Grand Rapids Baptist Seminary. He and his family, which includes wife, Diane, and children Nathan, 5, and Joshua, four months, moved in the parsonage next to the church in December. Pastor Clark's first service was Jan. 5.

Faith Lutheran Worship Hour Time Changed

Faith Lutheran church, 9575 North Territorial Rd., will hold its Sunday worship services at 9 a.m., followed by Sunday school at 10 a.m.

This is a temporary arrangement made necessary because Faith's pastor, the Rev. Mark Porinsky, is also serving Prince of Peace Lutheran church at Howell until a new pastor arrives there.

The members of Faith Lutheran church hope this temporary time change does not discourage visitors from attending worship services.

Itemizing Tax Deductions

Question: My wife and I had joint income of $17,000 last year. Our deductions, including contributions, interest, taxes, and medical expenses, total $3,300. Would it benefit us to itemize?

Answer: Since your zero bracket amount is $3,540, it would be to your advantage to itemize your deductions only if they exceed that amount. Since you already have $3,300 in deductions, it may benefit you to have your expenses reviewed by a competent tax preparer to see if you might have any additional items such as education expenses, union dues, a tax return preparation fee, or income production expenses. Then if your total deductions exceed $3,540, it is to your advantage to itemize.

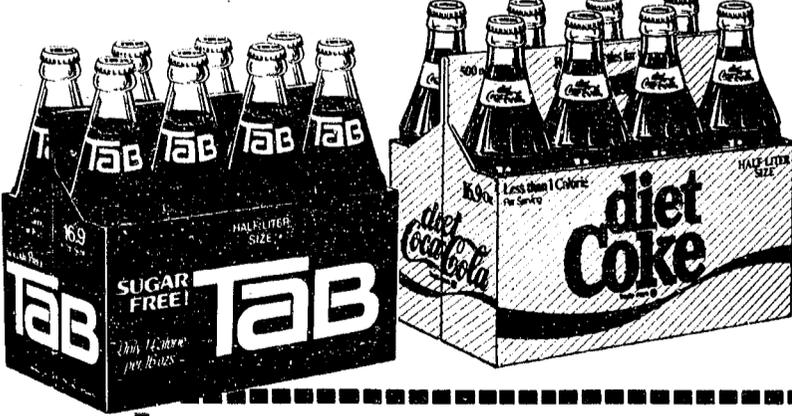

Gruyere is a variation of Swiss cheese with a slightly sweeter flavor due to natural flavoring enzymes. No coloring or bleached milk is used, as may be the case with some Swiss cheeses.

There's a lot about gasoline that you might not want to know, says National Wildlife magazine. Gasoline is composed of nearly 300 different chemicals, some of which can cause anemia, kidney disease or cancer, and it is quietly seeping into our drinking water supplies. The contaminating sources: thousands of leaking, underground gasoline storage tanks at gas stations, factories, schools, farms and private homes all across the country.

Overtime Win for 7th Grade Cagers

In their first game after the holiday break, Chelsea's 7th grade cagers were defeated by first-place Tecumseh by a score of 29 to 16.

The Bullpups played well the first half of the game, ending for the half-time with a 13-13 tie. In the second half of the game the Bullpups ran out of gas, scoring only three points. Leading scorer for Chelsea was Jude Quilter with 9 points, followed by Kerry Plank with 4 and Tucker Steele 3 points.

The 7th grade Chelsea Bullpups traveled to Saline Thursday, Jan. 16 to end up in their first overtime contest, coming out on top, 24 to 23.

The game was close all the way with the half-time score being tied at 8-8. The Bullpups built up a five-point lead in the fourth quarter only to see Saline come back to tie the game with only seconds to go. Chelsea had chances at the foul line but was unable to cash in and thus sent the game into overtime with a 23-23 score.

With the pressure building neither team was able to score. With only one second to go, Tucker Steele went to the foul line shooting 1-and-1. He sank the first one to end the contest with a Chelsea victory!

In his best performance of the season Tucker Steele led the team with 12 points, followed by Kerry Plank and Jude Quilter with six points each.

The Bullpups will be host to Milan Tuesday and Lincoln on Thursday, ending their season at that time.

Conservation Officer C. Wales Returns to Washtenaw County

Conservation Officer Craig Wales returned to Washtenaw county after seven months in the north woods as an undercover investigator of criminal killers of fur bearing wildlife.

In a report to the January meeting of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club Wales revealed some of his experiences in a sting operation which centered around a fur buying establishment near Duluth, Minn. It was operated by undercover agents from Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and federal game officers.

Wales exchanged his neatly pressed uniform for rough civilian clothes of the north country. Whiskers spread across his face and turned his neatly trimmed moustache into underbrush. His undistinguished appearance enabled him to mingle with poachers, renegade trappers and illegal moonlight harvesters of protected game fish.

Part of the dragnet operation is still going on so that Wales was unable to describe it all to fascinated conservation club members. He did reveal that a killed black bear had a retail value of $20,000 and that felonious fur traders would often take furs of U.S. animals into Canada and then legally "import" them into the United States.

Up to the time of Wales' return to public duty with the Michigan Conservation Department, the sting operation had resulted in more than 120 arrests for the killing of timber wolves, bears and other protected species. Fines for such crimes amounted to as much as $4,000 with equal amounts of money paid in attorney's fees.

Similar penalties and legal expenses were imposed on gill net fishermen who operated high powered boats at night without lights as they captured tons of whitefish and lake trout in the darkness.

It is estimated that the illegal take of wildlife in the north woods area of investigation is a $4,000,000 business. The greatest loss of all, according to conservationists, is the slaughter of seriously endangered species.

Wales is a highly respected and well liked conservation officer and educator in Washtenaw county. According to President Fred Klink of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, "When he went away we thought we had lost his presence in Washtenaw game lands and waters forever. We're mighty glad to have him and his family back."

CRAIG WALES, conservation officer and hunter of illegal hunters, has returned to his former position in Washtenaw county.

A newly recruited conservation officer, Ron Pinson, accompanied Wales to the meeting and was introduced to the club

Rare Bird Sighted At Cavanaugh Lake

A male Towhee has been seen frequently beginning Christmas day and last seen Monday, Jan. 20, at the home of Donna Harris at Cavanaugh Lake.

He is eating scratch food and sunflower seeds off the ground, and Donna has noticed how courteous and friendly he is around the other birds.

This Towhee, or Chewink, is the size of a Cardinal, and has a black head, black back and tail (white tip), white belly, chestnut side patches, and red eyes.

Towhees are ground birds who usually winter in southern U. S. and are birds of swamps, brushy pastures and open woodlands.

Mrs. Harris has been feeding birds for many winters and this is the first Towhee to visit her yard. Their spring song is described in a bird book as a loud and clear, "toe-hee-ee, or "see-toe-hee-ee," with the last notes tremulous; call, a sharp "cherink". However, Meroe Stanley, an avid bird watcher from Dexter, told Mrs. Harris she has seen them in the west, but never in Dexter where many varieties of birds use her feeding stations each winter. Their spring song sounded to her like, "drink-your-tea, drink-your-tea," and often just, "your-tea, your-tea."

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Begins Jan. 24

The 27th annual Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Cookie Sale kicks off Jan. 24, when more than 8,000 girls between the ages of 6 and 18 begin taking orders for seven varieties of cookies.

Council Cookie Chairman Jeanne Wood of Canton says that, "profits from the sale will be used to benefit individual Girl Scout troops and provide services and program to the 12,000 girls served annually. In addition, the cookie sale proceeds are used to maintain and improve the three camps owned by the Council and used by the girls on a year-round basis."

Heading the sale locally in Chelsea are Linda Dyer and Kathy Thompson.

There are a total of 47 area cookie chairmen for the 1986 sale. Area cookie chairmen train and co-ordinate the work of the troop cookie chairmen who in turn train and work with the girls. When all the cookie areas combine their orders after Feb. 14, the council goal of 743,000 boxes sold will be achieved. Deliveries will take place from March 4 through March 15.

The seven varieties of cookies offered at $1.75 per box include the new chunky Chocolate Chip and the popular Lemon Pastry Cremes which debuted last year. The traditional favorites will also be offered: Thin Mints, Peanut Butter Patties, Shortbreads, Peanut Butter Sandwiches and Caramel deLites. The cookies are baked by ABC, a division of FFV Interbake, and are made in Battle Creek, and Richmond, Va.

They are made with 100% vegetable shortening and contain no artificial preservatives.

The purchase of Girl Scout cookies is more than buying delicious treats. It is helping each and every Girl Scout in your community.
