Corn Crop Nearly All Harvested

About 95 percent of last year's corn crop has been harvested.

That's the word from Jerry Heydlauff, manager of Honneger's, Inc.

"Quite a bit came in between Christmas and New Year's, and even more in the early part of January," Heydlauff said.

"There's very little left in the fields now. But they're going to have to wait until the ground freezes up and it's sturdy before they get the rest of it."

As of the middle of December, nearly 40 percent of the corn crop was still in the fields due to extremely soggy conditions caused by the unusual amount of rainfall in November. More than twice the normal amount fell that month.

Heydlauff said that some of the crop was damaged by the weather after being in the fields so long, but that the damage was not extensive.

Cash Taken From Safe At School

An open safe at Beach Middle school yielded $177 in cash to some thief last week.

According to Chelsea police, sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 12:40 p.m. last Thursday, Jan. 23, someone stole the blue pencil box in which the money was kept. The coins were in rolls, clearly identified with school markings.

"It's not unusual for a business to open its safe in the morning and keep it open all day because it's a pain to have to keep opening it," said Chief Leonard McDougall. "The safe was in a storage room, and a lot of people had access to it, including staff and students."

McDougall said there are no suspects in the case. The stolen cash included $30 in 10 dollar bills; $9 in one dollar bills; $1 in half dollars; $130 in quarters; $5 in dimes; and $2 in nickels.

Stolen Radar Detector Returned

A radar detector that was stolen from an automobile in the parking lot of a fast food restaurant was recovered a short time later on the steps of the Manchester Police Department.

According to Chelsea police, Dennis Parisho, 17, parked his car at the Taco Bell on M-52 around noon, on Friday, Jan. 24. As he returned to his car, he noticed a red Pinto, parked next to his vehicle, leaving the scene. About the same time, he noticed his equipment was missing, and he immediately reported the theft to Chelsea police.

Darin Winkle Arrested After Step-Father Stabbed to Death

A former Chelsea resident was arrested by Chelsea police last Tuesday morning just hours after he allegedly stabbed his step-father to death at his home near Manistique.

Darin Lee Winkle, 20, was taken into custody by Chelsea officer David Detling at 11:25 a.m. at Summit and Main Sts. after he was seen walking along Main St. Winkle, who was taken into custody at gunpoint, offered no resistance and was unarmed, police said.

Winkle's step-father, Lyle, 55, who had moved from Chelsea to Indian Lake in 1983 after his retirement from the Chrysler Proving Grounds, was found at approximately 5:30 a.m. by a friend, who had returned to pick up a pair of sunglasses he left earlier.

Police said that at the time of his arrest, Winkle had a laceration on his leg that was approximately nine inches long and an inch deep. He was treated at Chelsea Community Hospital and turned over to Michigan State Police, who transported him to Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson.

FIRE CHIEF BUD HANKERD points out the reasons why the village has opted to buy a new $65,000 rescue truck for the Chelsea Fire Department. Mainly, he says, its old and rusting out, and in the not too distant future, is likely to be unreliable. The village council recently approved two bids for the new truck.

New Rescue Truck Okayed for Fire Dept.

A new $65,000 rescue truck is in the works for the Chelsea Fire Department.

The old one is simply falling apart. It's rusting badly. At least one fireman says he doesn't think it's the safest vehicle on the road for the people riding in it.

The Chelsea village council recently approved two bids for the truck—one from First Response of Michigan, of $44,501.10, for the box, and the second from Lee GMC, Inc., of $15,668.30, for the chassis. An additional $4,000 will be spent on the radio. The old truck was purchased used in the late 1970's. It has 80,000 miles on it.

In addition, several different local individuals and industries have contributed amounts ranging from $20 to $1,500. They are Flo Ann Longworth, Chelsea Industries, Longworth Plating Service, Astro Cap Mfg., Dana Corp., Chelsea Milling, Chelsea Lumber, Chelsea Grinding, Federal Screw Works, Hatch Stamping, Gladys Klump, Ted Balmer Memorial Fund, Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, WIBC and ABC Charity Bowl, and Kathy Hughes.

The new truck will be about two feet longer and 3,000 pounds heavier than the current truck. It will also be laid out a lot differently.

Much of the equipment the old truck carries on the inside, in the same air space with the passengers, will be in outside compartments. The Jaws of Life, a chain saw, a rescue saw, oxygen bottles, and other miscellaneous equipment, will all be in those compartments. They're now tied down on the inside with rubber bungie cords.

The new truck could also be licensed as an ambulance. It will have all the necessary equipment. Fire Chief Bud Hankerd said that the truck is not likely to become an ambulance due to a lack of manpower, and certain legal requirements.

"We have a good ambulance service (HVA) so there's really no need for it to become an ambulance," Hankerd said.

The truck goes on every run the fire department makes, except to grass fires.

Since the truck probably won't be delivered until early summer, the village can use part of this year's fire department truck fund, and next year's, to purchase it. Some of the money for the village's truck fund is charged back to the townships based on the number of runs to each township.

Three New Candidates File Their Petitions for Village Trustee Posts

With less than a week to go before the cut-off date for nominating petitions for the March village elections, it looks as though there will be contests for at least three village positions.

As of Monday, former village president Charles Ritter was the only official candidate for president, although incumbent Jerry Satterthwaite is still expected to run. He has until Tuesday, Feb. 4 to file his petition with village clerk Evelyn Rosenreiter.

There are three new candidates to fill the three village trustee positions (three-year terms) that are up for election this year.

Village Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook has filed a petition. She has held the half-time inspector's position since last year's elections. Should she be elected, she will have to resign her current post due to a conflict of interest. She is paid $6.36 an hour plus an automobile allowance.

Dennis Petsch, an auxiliary policeman with the Chelsea Police Department, and an advisor to Beach Middle school's academic games team, has also filed a petition. Petsch, who is paid $1 a year in his police post for insurance reasons, may be forced to resign due to a conflict of interest should he be elected. The reasoning is that he would be in a position to vote on his own salary.

The final nominee is Gary Bentley, a maintenance employee of Chelsea Milling Co. and 23-year resident of the village.

Harook, Petsch and Bentley have never sought election to any village post in previous years.

The trustee positions up for election are currently held by Joe Merkel, Jim Finch and Mac Fulks. Both Fulks and Finch have decided not to seek reelection. Merkel is expected to file a petition. He also has to meet the Feb. 4 deadline.

Current village treasurer William Storey will be challenged by Kathleen Chapman. Storey, who ran for the post in last year's elections to fill a vacancy, was challenged by Mrs. Chapman in a write-in campaign in which she fell about 10 votes short.

As of Monday, no one had filed a petition for either of the McKune Library Board spots, which are currently held by Gary Zenz and Daphne Hodder, or the assessor position, which is vacant.

The only proposition on the ballot will ask whether the village should buy bonds for up to $2 million to finance the proposed $4.7 million wastewater treatment plant. The remaining $2.7 million will be financed by a grant from the Environmental Protection Agency.

4 Years Ago . . .

Tuesday, Jan. 26, 1982—

Jeff Daniels flew home from New York this past week to do research for his next movie role in a television film scheduled to run on CBS this spring. The working title for the film is "Asking for It."

Jeff will seek some serious tutoring from area attorneys, including Bill Rademacher. He says that he is studying for a part as a small town lawyer. What better place to learn?

For the third consecutive week, area students were given the opportunity to sleep in on Monday, and romp and frolic on the ice and in the snow as slippery roads rendered Chelsea, Manchester, Saline, Stockbridge and Dexter schools closed for the day, and most will be closed again Tuesday, although Dexter schools plan to open on Tuesday.

Dog sleds, bob sleds, sleighs and ice boats appeared to be the most practical means of transportation as spring-like rain showers turned to sleet and sleet to ice, which spread itself evenly over streets, sidewalks, cars, lawns and homes.

Korean-born twin sisters, Kathleen and Christine Morse, aged three and one-half, will become naturalized American citizens tomorrow, Jan. 27, at the Washtenaw County Building in Ann Arbor. Chelsea Lumber Co. is making room for more products with the construction of a 50' x 90' storage shed.

The new building will provide 4,500 square feet of additional space, according to company president Robert Daniels, and will expand its lines of products and stock more goods for its customers.

In addition to increased storage area, the company is also adding more office space to its existing facilities.

Chelsea will be the scene of the Huron Valley Amateur Radio Association of Ann Arbor simulated emergency test, Jan. 30, Terry Babenko, Washtenaw county emergency co-ordinator announced Monday.

The nation-wide drill will test the capacity of various emergency communication groups to establish working communications during an emergency.

Participating in the drill will be the Amateur Radio Emergency Corporation, Chelsea Civil Defense and local citizen band communication groups.

Beach Middle school students may have thought it was an unexpected one-day vacation from school—but for the maintenance staff, it was a lot of problems. Monday, Jan. 17, as a heating system failure plagued the school.

Michigan Out As Nuclear Waste Site;
Governor Opposes Wisconsin Site
Michigan has been eliminated as a site for national nuclear waste facility because of a potential threat to the Great Lakes, but Governor James J. Blanchard said the lakes remain threatened by a site in Wisconsin.

Michigan was one of 10 states eliminated from consideration by the U. S. Department of Energy (DOE) in its Draft Area Recommendation Report, part of the process in choosing a second site for a waste facility.

"I am glad that the DOE ultimately acknowledged my repeated communications with them that locating this facility in the UP would unnecessarily jeopardize the Great Lakes," Blanchard said.

But he added, "A threat of this magnitude to the lakes, whether it originates in Wisconsin or Minnesota, is totally objectionable, and I oppose any program or activity that could result in the contamination of the lakes."

The DOE identified 12 primary and eight secondary sites in seven states which have the granite formations and meet other criteria to handle the next waste facility.

Wisconsin has one primary and one secondary site while Minnesota has three primary and five secondary sites.

The Menominee, Wis. area, one of the primary sites, is in the Great Lakes drainage system, said J. D. Snyder, an environmental assistant for the Governor.

Blanchard said his High-Level Radioactive Waste Task Force would continue to monitor DOE activities and make recommendations for possible state action to oppose selection of the Wisconsin site.

The Governor last year advised the Secretary of Energy that the Regional Characterization Report failed to acknowledge the Great Lakes as the region's most predominant characteristic.

Following a 90-day comment period on the draft report, the DOE expects to issue a final area recommendations report this summer.

It plans to nominate five sites in 1991, from which a selection would be made for the second waste facility. It previously identified nine sites in six states for the first facility, with a final selection of one of those expected in 1991.

3.9 Million With Jobs in 1985 Was Second Best Year Ever
Preliminary estimates show the number of employed persons averaged over 3.9 million in 1985, the second highest level ever for the state, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported.

MESC Director Richard Simmons, Jr., said the 3,934,000 average employment figure was 65,000 below the record level set in 1979.

Simmons said the improvement in the state's labor force was 63,000 higher than the year before, with men taking 45,000 of those jobs and women the other 18,000.

Most of the new jobs (about 80 percent) were in service areas, while manufacturing businesses accounted for 13 percent of the new jobs. Within the service sector, service industries produced 34 percent of the new jobs and retail trade another 25 percent.

Simmons said the number of women in the work force declined by 3,000 in 1985, to 1,909,000, while the male workforce increased 12,000 to 2,459,000.

Black unemployment increased by .9 percentage points to 27.3 percent, while white unemployment averaged 7.6 percent, down from 9.1 percent, the MESC said. The increase in black unemployment rates occurred even though the number of blacks in the labor force declined by 9,000 to 482,000.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The coming thing for the settled set is someone called environmental videos. If you ain't up to going where the environment is, you bring the environment where you are. It's mood music with pictures, according to the clipping Zeke Grubb brought to the session at the country store Saturday night.

Zeke gave his report after a discussion of Ed Doolittle's VCR. Ed's daughter that works in the city come home for Christmas with one of the recording gadgets that lets you watch TV shows when you want to watch em, not just when the networks tell you to. Ed said his old lady already can tape the daytime soaps to watch after supper, but he ain't figured out many of the buttons and switches outside of on and off. He has read enough in the manual to understand why TV advertisers are worried about the fast-forward button. With a taped show, Ed said, you can speed up the VCR during commercials and they're over before you get a urge for what they're pushing.

Zeke said he hadn't seen a VCR, but he had read where you can buy environmental tapes for all occasions to show on em. For instance, you can set right there in the old Laz-Z-Boy and fish a trout stream. And if you don't want to get up, but you're chilly and ready for indoors you can use your remote control to call up a crackling fire right before your very eyes. Sychologists know certain colors and sounds calm patients, Zeke said, so you know they're going to get into environmental videos to try and stop some of the damage done by music videos.

Actual, Clem Webster said, he has been reading more lately about TV of the past than of the future. Clem has saw where advertisers are going back to black and white commercials to draw viewers away from all the flashy colors. Clem recalled the experiment where TV shows were done on gray blank screens and folks were told to use their imaginations like when they listened to radio, but this was the first he had saw of gitting the viewer to imagine he's watching a 1950's movie.

From the fifties, the fellers moved back into the future. Bug Hookum had a clipping where a feller had got his BMW stole two year ago. He sued the dealer where he got the car, the dealer sued the salesman that sold it, and now the salesman is suing the importer that got the car into this country. Everybody got more money than he paid, Bug said, so you got to know the importer is suing somebody. Eventual the police will be sued fer not catching the thief, the city's insurance company will drop liability coverage and the city will sue the feller whose car was stole fer starting the whole mess.

As silly as that looks, Bug went on, it's the way life goes when everybody plays the angles. No sooner did Texas pass the "no pass, no play" law fer public schools than a Port Worth teacher was caught selling passing grades to football players at $100 a A. You don't have to wonder, Bug said, what the kids are learning from this, and you know where a New York reserch outfit was coming from recent when it said the only true value left in this country is fresh fruit and everything else is a risk or a ripoff or both.

On the plus side, Bug said he saw in early December where the U.S. Senate come to order at 10 a.m. and adjourned at "10 o'clock and 20 seconds a.m.," so there's still hope fer the old republic.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

In reply to the letter of Will Connelly, 1-15-86.

As far as I am concerned the common man is the backbone of America.

Will Connelly is trying to make out that the word "common," is bad, dirty, or dumb.

The common man is one who works, pays his bills, has respect for life and property, who believes in a higher authority and thinks America is worth defending.

My common sense tells me that Herbert Hoover was not the cause of the Great Depression. It was in fact the un-common ones on Wall Street.

In my opinion, Franklin D. Roosevelt was one of our greatest presidents this country has ever had. He worried about the common man.

Let me quote Abraham Lincoln, who like Roosevelt saved this country from going down the tubes. "God must have loved the common people because, he made so many of them."

I am glad to be one of the common.

Ross F. Ewen,
Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Robert Mentley

Jenny L. Clark, Carl Mentley Wed in MSU Alumni Chapel

Jenny Lori Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Clark, Sr., of Novi and formerly of Chelsea, was married to Carl Robert Mentley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mentley of Baltimore Md., on Saturday, Dec. 28, at the MSU Alumni Chapel in East Lansing.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas McDermott of St. John Student Chapel at MSU performed the ceremony.

Elizabeth Beuschlein (Mrs. Brandon), sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a mauve tea-length princess style satin gown and carried a mixed bouquet of silk flowers and baby's breath.

Best man was Joseph Bulko of Battle Creek, a friend of the bridegroom.

Randolph Pearson, M.D., another friend of the bridegroom, was the organist.

The bride wore an ivory brocade and satin princess style tea-length gown. Her headpiece was fingertip-length tulle accented with silk flowers, baby's breath, pearls and a large tulle bow. She carried a mixed bouquet of silk flowers and baby's breath.

The flowers, gowns and Jenny's headpiece were designed and made by the bride's mother.

A reception for 60 guests was held at the Pretzel Bell restaurant in East Lansing.

The wedding cake was designed and made by Jenny's sister, Elizabeth Beuschlein. It was served by Jenny's sister, Donna Stofer (Mrs. Robert). Mrs. Richard Jones (Mary Lynn), another sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Jim and Mary Howard and Margaret Koradoff from Detroit, along with Howard and Vero Berry and Bob and Ann Berry from Jackson, attended the 2 p.m. mass followed by a brunch prepared by their daughters. A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

The other morning on my way to a library in Ann Arbor I stopped at Polly's for a small purchase. Ahead of me at the checkout counter was a gal with an overloaded basket, a thick bunch of coupons to be credited and, after the countdown, a check to be written and verified. This sort of thing also happens to us at the post office and the bank but at Polly's you can serve out your time scanning the news versions of the week on the magazine racks. I'm still wondering about those new miracle feelings at religious shrines. Can the saints possibly keep up with our latest and most unfashionable afflictions?

Or how about the problem of the woman whose husband becomes a lazy lover? The staid Reader's Digest offers five intriguing ways to turn up the heat.

Well, the lady up front finally got her purse closed and her car pushed away. Thirty minutes later I found myself in the hushed ambience of the Bentley Historical Library where I was doing some research that might qualify our Chelsea Depot for immortality in the National Register of Historic Places. I was seated at a table with an 1881 book containing the history of Sylvan township, a volume I had prowled once before. There was a notable passage about the first meeting of the organizers of Sylvan township, April 7, 1934. That, as you will remember, is the basic date for our 150th Year celebration.

Nathan Pierce was our first township supervisor and Daniel Fenn together with Sam Dunham were Overseers of the Poor.

Research of this sort, especially the second time around, is not all that much fun. Also, my belt needed loosening a notch and my mind slipped back to the magazine display at Polly's and I began wondering if there was any truth to that headline about girth control with a garlic, fish and oats diet.

I loosened my belt and tore myself away from persistent speculations about "Donna Reed's Tragic Secret." My assignment was to reconcile a bunch of conflicting dates about Chelsea's earliest freight and passenger stations. If you are going to appeal to your state and federal governments for recognition of a historic building, the archivists, architects, historians and archeologists will nail your hide to the barn door for any deviation from almost five pages of instructions on how to fill out their four-page application form.

During that morning, I extracted all I could and drove back with one dazzling recollection of material I had studied in Bentley. The author of the history of Michigan townships, in reference to Chelsea, said, "Never was there a place of its size which contained a better class of citizens so its social status is of the highest character." I believe that statement is still true 105 years later.

These gratifying thoughts were lost in the distractions of being trapped between a VW Bug and a 16-wheeler on I-94, but as traffic straightened out, my mind drifted back to Polly's and the problem of the brother and sister who were wed by mistake and discovered their relationship when it was way, way too late.

I got home and put a sheet of paper in the typewriter. As usual, it looked an acre wide and dared me to put even one word on its pristine surface. What was required was a news release about the historic registration of the Chelsea Depot.

Instead, I went mentally back to Polly's at the moment the lady ahead was writing her check, and I marveled about the lot who was dropped in a trash container and adopted by a multimillionaire. I pondered, too, about the article revealing the sexiest man alive, knowing his first name wasn't Will. And, still staring at that defiant acre of paper in the typewriter, I wondered why any editor would publish a story telling "The Terrible Truth About Steve McQueen."

Steve was a good guy . . . No. Back to the typewriter and the lead sentence of my release. Using both index fingers, I wrote, "The Chelsea Depot Association has decided to apply to the U.S. Government for admission to the National Register of Historic Places. A similar application will be made for recognition in the Michigan Register of Historic Sites."

Great. I'm under way. How about a little music?

I turn on the radio but unfortunately it is tuned to a news broadcast—something about rumors of another marriage for Elizabeth Taylor. I switch to a piano concerto on WUOM but I can't help remembering that of all her husbands, Richard Burton was the one who gave Liz a million dollar diamond and served two enlistments.

With this newest distraction, I turned from the typewriter to my file of instruction on how to fill out the application that would go from Chelsea to Lansing to Washington.

You are advised in the instructions that the description of the property "should be a concise, factual, detailed, and well organized prose statement." Prose? Just try it in poetry and see what happens.

After writing 3,000 words of mostly futile material, I turned to my copy of "The Joy of Trivia" for a little relief. I was amazed to learn that a quarter of a raw potato placed in each shoe at night will keep the leather soft and shoes smelling fresh and clean.

I slammed the book shut and stared at the ceiling. Suddenly, in a flash of inspiration I decided to ask the Chelsea Historical Society to finish the application! They're history buffs, aren't they?

Then came the sobering thought. I am a member of the society. My fellows would simply turn to me and say, "You are the guy with the words. You write it, Will."

Sometimes I wish I had taken up some kind of work as a way of earning a living.

Stolen Radar Detector Returned to Police

At 8:50 p.m. the same day, Chelsea police received a call from Manchester saying the detector was found on the front steps. Officer John Dettling, who splits time between the departments, reported the find. The red Pinto, unoccupied, was parked a block from the Manchester department.

"The guys in the Pinto probably thought Parisho had seen them when they were leaving, and they decided to get rid of the detector before they got caught," said Chief Lenard McDougall.

Editor, Chelsea Standard:

It is with deep regret that I write this letter. Eighteen months ago my family moved to Chelsea from Southern California. We chose this community because it seemed to epitomize all that was good about small town America. The wholesomeness and respect for a way of life, threatened in much of the rest of the country, were especially appealing.

My view of this town, obviously was visionary. On Jan. 20, 1986 our country celebrated a most special day. The commemoration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s life became a national holiday. In different parts of the country, including the Deep South, it was remembered in respectful and meaningful ways by both Blacks and Whites. Not so in Chelsea. Except for the Post Office and banks, it was business as usual.

Our school children, the hope of the future and our future leaders, were taught little if nothing about this great man. Dr. King taught a violent era that non-violence was a viable alternative to injustice and hatred. He taught a generation of Americans, of which I am proud to be one, that hatred and violence need not rule a world, that power can be had in perseverance and commitment not just in money and weapons and fists.

I want my children to know of this man, I want them taught his contributions in an educational forum and compared to other methods and movements in history. I want them to know that freedom requires work and vigilance, for the price to maintain it is high. I want them to know that great men can come from humble beginnings and power can come from commitment.

I want my tax money spent to educate the young with ALL ideas, not just the opinions of some narrow-minded school board. The Chelsea school district made a powerful statement this Jan. 20. It stated that it was snobbishly above the rest of the country, and stated that as a pre-dominantly white community that bigotry and prejudice still live. My children know of Dr. King and now regretfully, they know what kind of community they live in.

The school board's excuse that they did not know of the holiday in time to include it in this year's calendar is ludicrous, unless of course, they cannot read a newspaper or have not viewed a newscast for the last three years. They made it plain where their priorities were by not declaring the holiday and then by not including major segments about Dr. King and the non-violent movement in the curriculum of this day or in the week preceding it.

Our children have been cheated, and when children are denied full education the community suffers. Chelsea, I hope the suffering can be ended quickly and join with the rest of the world for a brighter future.

Joy Franklin.

ACADEMIC PARTICIPATION AWARD for Chelsea's United Way Campaign, was accepted by Janet Rossi on behalf of North Elementary school, who out-pledged all other schools in Chelsea. Campaign Co-Chairman Lang Ramsay made the presentation.

SHARING THE COMMERCIAL PARTICIPATION AWARD of the Chelsea United Way Campaign were Larry Diette, left, representing MacDee, Inc., and Dan Murphy, representing Chelsea Pharmacy. Pledges from the two businesses to this year's campaign were equal, so they shared the award.

DAVE McALLISTER, right, accepted the Labor Participation Award on behalf of UAW Local 1284 last week as Chelsea United Way Campaign Co-chairman Lang Ramsay made the presentation. The group pledged more money than any other similar group.

A valve controlling the automatic fire sprinkler system froze, breaking a three-inch water line and releasing almost three feet of water into the boiler room.

The flood submerged nine motors, all controlling the heating mechanism (plus the sump pumps which normally would have drained an influx of water).

Chelsea police discovered the malfunction during routine check of the building about 3:30 a.m. Monday.

They contacted business manager Fred Mills, who called the Chelsea village administration department for help.

Thursday, Jan. 25, 1962—

Chelsea has been selected as regional headquarters formerly located in Indianapolis, Ind. to serve an area including Michigan, Indiana, Western Ohio, Illinois, and Kentucky for the feed division of General Mills. The Chelsea office will be located at 121 S. Main St., above Schneider's grocery, headed by Stan Watson and assistant Freeman Tate, both from Minneapolis, Minn.

General Mills works closely with Michigan Feed Milling Co., in association with Biass Elevator Co.

Edward H. Chandler, 97, died Jan. 18 at Cedar Knoll Rest Home, Grass Lake. He moved to Chelsea in 1885. He and his wife, Hattie (Graves) lived at 216 Park St. He was a member of Chelsea's volunteer fire department for 60 years and for about 65 years, Mr. Chandler was in the draying (hauling goods by cart) business here, a number of years with a horse and wagon and later with a truck.

Today marks an important occasion for church women of the Chelsea area who are holding a meeting in the social center of the Methodist church to complete organization of a chapter of United Church Women, a branch of the National Council of Churches.

Mrs. S. D. Kinde, wife of the Methodist church pastor, opened the meeting with prayer. Boy Scout Troop 76, assisted by scoutmaster Alvin Reinhardt and assistant Harold Baker, and Troop 25 began preparing for a "Peanuts-for-Polio" peanut sale to be held this week-end. Scouts pictured in The Standard were Richard Kiel, Alvin Merkel, Raymond Worden, Ken Reinhardt and Vincent Stahl.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Jan. 31, 1952—

Mrs. Herbert Sanborn, committee chairman of the Chelsea March of Dimes, reported 13 percent of the "polio" dime cards have been turned in. The cards are so arranged that contributions of coins and bills may be slipped into place and the whole sealed and dropped into any mail box. They require no postage. The slow return is thought to be because members of the community are filling the cards on a day-to-day basis, and plan on mailing them by the end of the week.

Last Friday the local fox hunters group was called by Mrs. Elmer Bristle of Freer Rd. when she spotted a fox in the neighborhood. The eight hunters on call, Reuben Lesser, Emerson Lesser, Fred Barth, Edward Schmidt, and Arthur, Harold, Bob and Junior Barth, had it cornered near Pierce's Lake on US-12 in a short time.

There is currently a $5 bounty on foxes as predatory animals, but this winter only four foxes have been taken by the huntsmen who last year bagged 13 and the previous year got 32.

Wilbert Breitenwischer of the Washtenaw County Road Commission said his stock pile of 500 yards of sand and chloride is almost entirely consumed. His men have contended with continuous icy conditions this month, which Breitenwischer said are the worst since the winter of 1942-43 which was plagued with heavy snow but not so much ice.

PROTECTING HIMSELF from a potential swarm of bees at South school is principal Bob Benedict, whose hobby is beekeeping. He gave a talk about the art last week at the elementary school. Some of Margaret Nance's fourth graders are holding the insides of the hive. In the front row are Josh Sullman and Melinda Burchett. In the back row with student teacher Kathy Pursell are Howard DuRussel and Erin Olberg.

SARA SHELTERS points to the bulletin board as she talks about the life and times of the American honey bee. Margaret Nance's fourth graders recently studied the honey bee as a science unit, and principal Bob Benedict, an

LEARNING ABOUT BEES were Margaret Nance's fourth graders at South school as apianian, and head man, principal Bob Benedict explained the art last week. Benedict is showing the students the ins and outs of a honey bee hive.

WINNERS OF $20 PRIZES in Chelsea's band lottery were, from left, Bill Harvey, JeAnn Richardson, Barb Parker and John Capper. They were the winners in the third week of the lottery.

European Tours Being Arranged

After having a wonderful time last year on a 23-day tour of Europe, Terry Schreiner is again announcing "We are going to do it again." This time two tours are planned and will include adults as well as students. Custom tours are also available or persons may plan their own from several other options.

Two tours will be presented. They are a 23-day tour similar to last year's. This tour will be from June 16 through July 9. It will begin in London, go to Paris, the Black Forest, Lucerne, Florence, the Adriatic beaches, Venice, Vienna, with homestays in Austria, on to Salzburg, the Bavarian Alps, Munich and conclude in Frankfurt.

The Grand European Tour (28 days) will leave at the same time, June 16 and end July 13. It begins in London, goes to Paris and the Black Forest, Lucerne, Venice, Florence, Rome, cruise to Greece, Patras, Olympia, Nauplion, Athens, Delphi, Volos, Skopje, Belgrad, Budapest, Vienna, the Bavarian Alps, Munich, the Frankfurt area and finally home.

These are small group tours of seven. If more than seven, parallel tours will be run at the same time. These small groups get individualized attention. All accommodations are arranged ahead of time and are well planned. "The places we stayed at were wonderful and our every need was met," Schreiner said. The schedule is such that adjustments can be made. They are not tied to a minute-by-minute schedule as with a large tour.

Those who think they might be interested should contact Terry Schreiner at 475-2536 after 3:30 p.m. for more information. A special meeting for interested parties will be held Feb. 2, at 2 p.m. at the home of Anne Schifile, 17720, North Territorial Rd. Park in the town hall parking lot which is across the street from Anne's home. Questions will be answered at this time and the tour director will be present.

Humane Society Offers Valentine Candy-Gram

Make those special hearts go flip-flop this Valentine's Day with a unique "Valentine Candy-Gram" offered by the Humane Society of Huron Valley. The candy-gram, a delightful valentine card, cleverly disguises a delicious sucker in its design.

"This is the first year we have offered the candy-gram and we are extremely excited," states Jan Wahl, staff artist at HSHV. "The community will have a new way to send a special message and at the same time know they are helping the shelter help thousands of unwanted animals."

For a donation of $10 or more the Valentine Candy-Gram will be sent in the purchaser's name and mailed first class to ensure delivery by Feb. 14. Order forms are available at Ann Arbor Pet Supply, Beth's Boutique, Carroll's Corner, Hertler Brothers, Padare Lane, Peaceable Kingdom, Scamp Pets, and University aquarium all in Ann Arbor. For additional information contact the Humane Society at 662-5545.

PHYLLIS BENNETT won the big weekly $50 prize in the Chelsea band's weekly lottery. For the first time, the band is using the lottery as its chief fundraising mechanism.

Special Olympics Offers Gymnastics Coaches Training

Michigan Special Olympics, a sports program for the mentally impaired, will hold a training school for gymnastics coaches Saturday, Feb. 22 at Brighton High school in Brighton. The training school will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and is open to anyone interested in coaching Special Olympics gymnasts.

Laureen Luther, a Special Olympics gymnastics coach whose experience included coaching athletes at the 1983

International Special Olympics Summer Games, will lead the training school. High school gymnasts will assist with demonstrations.

A $5 registration fee must be paid by Feb. 10. For more information on registering, contact Sharon Sweeney, Michigan Special Olympics Training Co-ordinator, at 192 Rowe Hall, Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, 48859, phone (517) 774-3911.

Michigan Special Olympics provides year-round sports training and competition program for 27,000 mentally impaired children and adults. World-wide, Special Olympics reaches more than one million mentally impaired persons.

Sweeney said the current emphasis on training the volunteers who coach Special Olympians is a result of "wanting to provide the best possible athletic opportunities for our athletes."

IMPACT OF DRUG ABUSE on the family was the subject of a talk by Dr. Ron Demkowski, director of the substance abuse clinic at Chelsea Community Hospital. Demkowski was part of the half-day inservice for faculty and staff of Chelsea schools, organized by the district's Chemical Dependency Committee.

Car-Deer Crashes Often Very Costly

"Deer left the scene under its own power after refusing treatment," reported Sgt. Harley B. Rider with just a touch of a smile—you have to have a little humor once in a while in the enforcement business. The sergeant was commenting on another of the many car-deer collisions reported this year in western Washtenaw county.

The mishap occurred Sunday, Jan. 19, about 9 a.m. on Waterloo Rd. near McKinley Rd. Robert James Clouse of 20000 Waterloo Rd. was eastbound on Waterloo in a 1981 Dodge when two deer scrambled onto the road. One of the pair bolted to the other side of the road but Clouse was unable to avoid striking the second animal.

Sgt. Rider explained there was damage totaling several hundred dollars to the front end of the automobile.

Clouse was wearing his seat belt and was not injured in the collision.

Driving a 1984 Oldsmobile northbound along Mast Rd. about three-fourths of a mile north of the intersection at North Territorial Rd. the morning of Thursday, Jan. 26, Pamela Lynne Boyd of 9175 Chilson Rd., Pinckney, was unable to avoid hitting a deer which pranced from the west side without warning on the road in front of her. Her seat belt was in place and she suffered no injuries. The accident occurred about 9:30 a.m. Deputy Richard Priewski took the report. As in the accident reported above, the

Camp Waterloo Walkaway Back In Half An Hour

A walkaway from Camp Waterloo last Sunday was caught half an hour later by a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Detective who happened to be in the area.

According to police, John Ray Seymour, 22, serving three to 10 years for larceny, left the minimum security institution at approximately 4:12 p.m. Detective Paul Wade took Seymour into custody at 4:42 p.m.

Escape Rate Drops at Area Prison Camps

Although it's a little too early to tell if it's a trend, the escape rate from area minimum security institutions is down substantially from last year at this time.

According to Chelsea police, there were seven reported walkaways through Jan. 27 of last year. So far this year there have been two. One of those was not strictly a walkaway as he failed to return from furlough.

Academic Games Team Preparing For State Tourney

Chelsea Academic Games Club is continuing in the monthly tournaments sponsored by the Michigan League of Academic Games. The team just went to South Lyon where they competed and received a total of 75 points. This was good for a sixth place finish. The team has one more monthly tournament on Feb. 8 to be held in Ann Arbor.

The state tournament starts March 6 and will continue for five days. The team is practicing hard and hopes to do well once again this year. "We have 22 kids who regularly show up to practice," says coach Dennis Petch. "There is so much more to learn and so little time to prepare. But these kids will do well."

School Teachers, Staff Join in Half-Day Study Of Drug Dependency

Teachers and staff in the Chelsea school district should have a better idea of how to identify and help students with chemical dependency problems thanks to a half-day inservice session at Chelsea Community Hospital Monday afternoon.

The inservice, which had been in the planning stages since fall, was organized by the school district's Chemical Dependency Committee as part of its over-all effort to deal with the problem in the schools. The high school drug abuse survey, the results of which were reported in last week's edition, was also part of that effort.

The inservice featured several key speakers. Jeanne DeRoche, of the Knopf Co. of Plymouth, discussed signs and symptoms of drug abuse in elementary age students. She also discussed the impact of substance abuse on families. DeRoche has worked in the field of substance abuse for 15 years and is a former teacher. She conducts similar inservice programs for families and school groups.

Al Dicken, who co-ordinates the service center at the 1,700 student West Bloomfield High school, discussed signs and symptoms of drug abuse in junior high and high school age children. Dicken also discussed an alternative to suspension program, in which students are given special courses and programs, rather than being expelled from school.

Dr. Ron Demkowski, director of the substance abuse clinic at Chelsea Community Hospital, also spoke about the impact of substance abuse on the entire family.

Student Scott Richardson, and Chelsea resident Monica Spaulding, gave first-hand accounts of their experiences with substance abuse, and how they managed to recover.

"I think the program was very, very well received," said assistant high school principal Ken Larson, who is a member of the chemical dependency committee. "Originally we were hoping to have a day-long seminar but that didn't work out. But the staff has had nothing but good things to say about the program. All the speakers were superb, especially Scott Richardson, who I think made a big impact on the staff."

Teachers and staff were divided into two groups—kindergarten through sixth grade met in the Woodlands Room, and everyone else met at Kresge House.

JEANNE DEROCHE, who has worked in the field of substance abuse for 15 years and conducts inservice sessions for families and educators, was part last Monday's inservice for Chelsea school district teachers and staff. She talked about the signs and symptoms of drug abuse in elementary school children, and the impact of drug abuse on the family. DeRoche, who works for Knopf Co. of Plymouth, conducts the sessions on a federal grant.

SCOTT RICHARDSON, left, a Chelsea High school student, and Al Dicken, right, who works with substance abuse problems at West Bloomfield High school, were two of the featured speakers at the half-day inservice for Chelsea teachers and staff at Chelsea Community Hospital. Richardson detailed his own experience with drug abuse and how he overcame the problem. Dicken talked about the signs and symptoms of drug abuse in junior high and high school children. The inservice was organized by the district's Chemical Dependency Committee.

Bulldog Varsity Cagers Fall to Pinckney in Worst Game of the Year

Playing one of their poorest halves of basketball in perhaps their worst game of the year, the Chelsea Bulldogs fell behind the Pinckney Pirates in the first half of last Friday night's game and never recovered. The Pirates won their first Southeastern Conference game of the season, 58-53, while Chelsea took their fourth conference loss.

"The truth of the matter is, we couldn't do what we were supposed to do," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter. "We couldn't get the job done. I've said before that the longer you leave a weak team in the game, the better they get. Maybe at this particular time, we're the weaker team."

Chelsea lost the game in three key areas. They had 14 turnovers in the first half alone, although they were only down by three points at the intermission, 21-18. Again, the Bulldogs shot horribly, both from the field and the free throw line, with 33 percent and 31 percent, respectively.

Chelsea completely dominated the boards, with a commanding 37-23 rebound edge, including 20 offensive rebounds. They simply couldn't put the offensive rebound back in the hoop.

"After the first quarter, we should have had about an eight to 10 point lead," Rosentreter said.

"We had our shots inside, we missed six shots in the lane, and only made two of 11 shots in the quarter. That was the quarter we should have established how we were going to play the game, but instead we allowed it to be close. In the end, that was the quarter that hurt us. I commend them (Pinckney). They played well in the fourth quarter and did everything they had to do to win."

The Pinckney press hurt Chelsea at the outset. It wasn't the intensity of the press itself, but Chelsea's inability to complete the right passes or make the plays. The Bulldogs knew what to do, they just didn't do it. They had seven shots in the lane in the first quarter, five right underneath the basket, and didn't make one of them.

For the game, 29 of Chelsea's 52 shots were from the lane.

After trailing by two at the end of the first quarter, the Pirates out-scored the Bulldogs 15-10 in the second period.

The tempo picked up in the second half as Chelsea scored 35 points and Pinckney 37. Chelsea forward Mark Bareis scored 18 of his game-leading 22 points. Twice in the half the Bulldogs rallied to tie, but the Pirates hit key shots on their subsequent possessions. In the closing minutes, Pinckney made their free throws (16-25 on the night). Chelsea didn't.

Guard Ken Martin was the only other Bulldog in double figures, with 10 points. Forwards Jeff

8th Grade Finish With 2 More Wins

Chelsea's eighth grade basketball team won its final two games of the season last week, 32-30, over Milan, and 39-33, over Lincoln.

In Tuesday's game with Milan, the teams were never more than a few points apart, but aggressive Bullpup defense down the stretch was responsible for the win.

Phil Eassa and Brian Zangara shared the scoring honors with seven points each. Following them were Brett Wales, six points, Kerry Plank and Chad Starkey, four points, and Brian Burg and Rob Stofer, with two points.

"We played a real aggressive game," said coach Jim Tallman. "Phil Eassa had an excellent game and especially did a good job on the boards."

In Thursday's contest with Lincoln, Chris Wilson made two technical foul shots late in the game to give Chelsea a six-point lead and the ball, which "sealed the win for us," said Tallman. The Lincoln coach was flagged for the foul after he violated the new rule for coaches that does not allow them to leave the benches under most circumstances.

"This was our best effort of the year, and it's nice to end the season that way," Tallman said.

"I'd say that by the end of the year we became a pretty good defensive team."

Wales, and Mark Chasteen, each had nine points to lead Chelsea scorers. Plank followed with seven points.

The eighth graders ended the season with a 4-6 record.

JOHN JEDELE, broken finger and all, goes up for one of Chelsea's 20 offensive rebounds against the Pinckney Pirates last Friday night. It was unfortunate for the Bulldogs that they couldn't capitalize on their dominance on the boards, as they fell, 58-53, at Pinckney.

Beach Students Complete Six-Week Basketball Program

About 75 sixth grade girls and boys recently completed a six-week program which met after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Emphasis was placed on shooting, passing, dribbling, rebounding and defensive skills during the first three weeks and then teams were formed to provide competition for the remaining three weeks.

Because of the excellent response this year, six girls teams and six boys teams competed.

Members of the winning girls team were Christine Burg, Carrie Vargo, Chris Taylor, Brandi Boyer, Kristi McNabb and Tina Coleman.

Members of the first-place boys team were Jake Rindle, Mike Eder, Ryan Stapula, Jeff Gletzen, Shawn Schlaff, Lee Skyles, and Joe Hafner.

Leading scorers were Christine Burg, Jennifer Petty, Erika Boughton, Brandi Kenney, Kelly Cross, Heather Hamilton, Jenny Bob, and Jean DeLong.

The program is directed by Ann Schaffner and assistants Cindy Bradbury and Jon Schaffner.

GREG HAIST takes aim during first half action against the Pinckney Pirates last Friday night. Haist failed to score, and the Bulldogs failed to win, as they played one of their worst games of the year and fell to 5-6 over-all, 2-4 in the SEC.

Tankers Swamped by Milan, Win Easily Over Riverview

Chelsea boys swim team completed the busiest portion of their dual meet schedule last week with a 115-57 loss to second-ranked Milan on Tuesday and a 52-26 win over Riverview on Thursday.

"The team performed very well this week as we swam well under pressure Tuesday and then came back on Thursday, traveled to Riverview, and swam well on the road, which is tough. I was especially pleased with how our underclassman are developing as they will be relied on more in the coming years to contribute points to the team," said Chelsea coach Mike Keeler.

Results of the Milan meet follow.

200-yard medley relay: 1. Chelsea, 1:50.11 (Craig Miller, Matt Doan, Lloyd Brown, Chris Birtles) 4. Chelsea 1:59.30 (Terry Draper, Howard Merkel, Kevin Brock, Dan Dent) 6. Chelsea 2:08.36 (Charlie Hosner, Mike Hollo, Tyler Lewis, Scott Sheffield).

200-yard freestyle: 3. Jeff Nemeth, 1:52.50; 4. Scott Pryor, 1:52.76; 6. Darren Girard 2:07.33.

200-yard individual medley relay: 2. Dan Degener, 2:11.5; 5. Doan 2:18.17; 6. Merkel 2:35.01.

50-yard freestyle: 3. Craig Miller, 24.59; 5. Birtles; 6. Mark Westhoven, 26.34.

Diving: 1. Westhoven, 187.40; 3. 117.80.

100-yard butterfly: 1. Pryor, 55.17; 4. Brown, 1:05.05; 6. Brock, 1:07.35.

500-yard freestyle: 4. 5:35.09; 5. Birtles, 5:57.80; 6. Hosner, 6:13.62.

100-yard backstroke: 1. Miller, 57.61; 5. Girard, 1:08.24; 6. Draper, 1:13.07.

100-yard breaststroke: 4. Brock, 1:14.42; 5. Brown, 1:15.63; 6. Merkel, 1:15.72.

400-yard relay: 2. Chelsea, 3:27.83 (Pryor, Nemeth, Degener, Doan) 4. Chelsea, 3:55.08 (Dent, Westhoven, Lewis, Girard) 6. Chelsea, 4:36.04 (Sheffield, Hollo, Luick, Hosner).

"We accomplished the major team goal of qualifying our 400-yard freestyle relay for the state meet," Keeler said.

I was also impressed by the performances of Craig Miller, as he had three career bests and is now swimming faster than he was last year at the state meet, and the swim by Scott Pryor in the 100-yard butterfly as that time was his career best by over one second. That puts him in the top six in the 100-yard butterfly state-wide in class B competition.

On Thursday the Bulldogs swam Riverview at Riverview.

"Some of the highlights of this meet were the performances of freshman Terry Draper, Scott Sheffield, Mike Hollo, and Howard Merkel," Keeler said.

Also swimming to career-best times were sophomores Tyler Lewis, Charlie Hosner, Lloyd Brown, Kevin Brock, and Matt Doan. The other high-light was Scott Pryor swimming to a new pool record in the 500-yard freestyle with a career best time by five seconds of 5:09.39. That pool record was nine years old.

The results of the meet were as follows:

200-yard medley relay: 1. Chelsea, 2:00.03; (Draper, Brock, Brown, Birtles); 2. Chelsea, 2:01.89 (Sheffield, Merkel, Degener, Pryor).

200-yard freestyle: 2. Doan, 2:00.23; 3. Hosner, 2:16.43.
200-yard individual medley: 1. Nemeth, 2:13.84; 2. Girard, 2:14.84.

coach Mike Keeler's team, specializes in the 100-backstroke and 100-freestyle. Merkel competes in the 200-individual medley and 100-breaststroke. Westhoven is the team's top diver and has won six of seven meets and has qualified for the diving regionals.

Beach School Wrestlers 2nd At Hillsdale

Beach school varsity wrestlers narrowly missed taking first place at the nine-team Hillsdale Invitational last Saturday.

Chelsea finished second with 191.5 points, just behind first-place Adrian with 195. Chelsea had to forfeit five weight classes because they had no wrestlers in those categories.

Although Chelsea only entered 10 of the 15 weight classes, six of the boys finished as champions.

"This was an outstanding effort," said coach Pat Clarke. "We had more champions than any two other schools combined. I'm extremely proud."

Chelsea forfeited at 88, 75, 131, 138, and 169.

Champions included Eric Hanna, at 82 pounds; Grant Kidd, at 89 pounds; Doug Wingrove, at 110 pounds; Matt Herter, at 147 pounds; Todd Hamel, at 157 pounds; and Tim Vanschoick, at heavyweight.

Chuck Kovick finished second, at 117 pounds; Pat Taylor and Rex Nye took third places at 103 and 96 pounds, respectively; and Jonathan McDonald was fourth, at 124 pounds.

198 pounds: Tom Bennett was pinned by John Hunter of Jackson in 2:16.

Heavyweight: Thurkow was pinned by Kim Orsini of South Lyon in :37; was pinned by Rob Stotter of Jackson in :35.

"We were down to South Lyon, 34-33, going into Leo Durham's match and he had to win in order for the team to win," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel. "And the Bull came through."

ONE OF THE BEST MATCHES of the night involved Chelsea's Pete Hanna, left, and Dexter's Dave Feldkamp, at 119 pounds. Pete won the match, 9-4, partially on the strength of this near fall late in the match. Pete holds a 2-1 edge in their rivalry, and the two should wrestle each other several more times before the season's complete.

Wrestler of the Week JV Cagers Doomed After Bad First Quarter

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK is senior Steve Wingrove, who has wrestled at both 155 and 167 pounds this season. Steve, who has a 24-7 record so far this season, is one of coach Kerry Kargel's most dependable wrestlers. Five of his seven losses have been by only one point. Steve, who was also on Gene LaRave's football team last fall, would like to earn a bachelor of fine arts degree at either Central Michigan University or Grand Valley College over the next four years. He also plans to keep on wrestling. Kargel, who's also an art teacher at the high school, also has Steve involved in an intensive independent study course in which he'll do oil paintings, drawings of the body, and several other major projects. Steve, whose brother, Doug, is also a top wrestler at Beach Middle school, is the son of Thomas Wingrove, 1814 Mushbach Rd., Grass Lake. "I try to help Doug out (with wrestling) but he's been wrestling as long as I have and he does pretty well on his own," Steve says.

Chelsea JV basketball team fell behind by 19 points at the end of the first quarter against the Pinckney Pirates last Friday night, and the deficit proved to be too great to overcome as they lost, 62-49.

The Pirates took advantage of 11 Chelsea turnovers in the first quarter, partly a result of their full-court press, to take a 27-8 lead. The Bulldog offense, which is also geared to the inside game, had problems getting the ball underneath.

After the first quarter, Chelsea was able to pass the ball inside, and the Bulldogs turned the tables and out-scored the Pirates 24-12 in the second period to pull to within seven at half-time, 39-32.

"I was real proud of the kids for fighting back after being down by 19 points," said Chelsea coach Ted Hendricks.

"They could have just gone out there and put their time in. They showed a lot of character," Hendricks said the poor first quarter was due, in part, to simply being flat. The team had no scheduled game Tuesday.

"I told the kids during practice that they'd probably come out flat and that they'd have to put more pressure on themselves," Hendricks said. "It didn't work out."

In the second half, the Bulldogs were their own worst enemy, as they made only six of 23 field goal attempts, and scored only 17 points.

Chelsea had a fairly balanced scoring attack. Matt Monroe scored 10 points and was the only Bulldog in double figures. Matt Steinhauer and John Cattell each had eight points, Greg Boughton had seven, Junior Morseau, six, Tim Anderson, five, Kevan Flanigan, four, and Clay Hurd, one.

The Bulldogs are 3-8 on the year. Friday they face the Saline Hornets in Saline, one of the teams they've beaten.

Beach Wrestlers Edge Saline, 38-33

Beach school wrestlers edged Saline last Tuesday at home, 38-33, after rallying from a 19-point deficit.

"We were down 22-3 after five matches, but the guys did not give up," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Todd Hamel and Tim Vanschoick had key pins at 169 and heavyweight to seal the victory."

82 pounds: Eric Hanna lost a 13-2 decision.

89 pounds: Grant Kidd won a 7-0 decision.

96 pounds: Rex Nye was pinned in 2:28.

103 pounds: Pat Taylor was pinned in 2:54.

110 pounds: Doug Wingrove pinned his opponent in 1:01.

117 pounds: Chuck Kovick wrestled to a 6-6 tie.

124 pounds: Chris Underhille won a 5-0 decision.

131 pounds: Jonathan McDonald pinned his opponent in 2:07.

138 pounds: Bobby Mac pinned his opponent in 1:20.

147 pounds: Matt Herter lost a 4-0 decision.

157 pounds: Lance Satterthwaite was pinned in :52.

169 pounds: Hamel pinned his opponent in 3:22.

Heavyweight: Vanschoick pinned his opponent in :48.

In exhibition matches, Alan Hanna pinned his opponent in :53, and Pat Hassett won a 10-0 decision.

"The team is improving, but we still don't execute our moves very well," Clarke said.

The next home meet is tomorrow against Tecumseh.

Faith Lutheran Church To Host Aging Seminar
On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2, Faith Lutheran church is hosting a seminar entitled "Caring for Your Aged Relatives," featuring Pastor Karl Otto of the Martin Luther Memorial Home in South Lyon. This will deal not only with issues such as, "What do we do with our aged parents?" but also, "How do we personally feel about getting old?"

Questions may be addressed to Pastor Mark Porinsky at 426-8442.

Education Program Slated To Help Families of Alcoholics

At Brighton Hospital's next Community Education Program on Feb. 4, family members will learn how to confront a loved one who is abusing alcohol.

"Can We Help Our Loved One To Stop Drinking?" is the topic for this evening's free program. The session begins at 7 p.m. in the hospital's chapel with the showing of "Intervention," a film depicting how an alcoholic's family and friends, under professional guidance, can successfully force the drinker to obtain treatment.

After the film a member of the Counseling Services Department will answer questions from the audience and explain how an intervention takes place and why the confrontation must be carefully planned with the help of an experienced and specially trained substance abuse counselor.

For additional information and a copy of other Community Education Programs scheduled for 1986, contact Brighton Hospital at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276. The hospital is located just off Exit 151 of the I-96 freeway.

Houck Named Manchester Postmaster

Jacob E. Houck, postmaster at the Gregory Post Office since 1980, has been appointed postmaster at Manchester, effective Feb. 1.

The appointment by Central Region Postmaster General Fletcher Acor, was announced by Gene Cole, MSC manager/postmaster of the Detroit Management Sectional Center, to whom Houck will report.

"We welcome Houck to the Detroit Management Sectional Center as postmaster at Manchester, and are delighted that he has been selected to head up postal operations in Manchester," Cole said, adding that he would administer the oath of office in the post office at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Jan. 28.

Houck succeeds Marvin J. Kirk who retired last November. In the interim, Donna Hoevenmyer has been officer-in-charge. She will return to her regular position as postmaster at Whitaker.

Before his appointment as postmaster at Gregory, Houck was a clerk and acting supervisor for four years at the Detroit Bulk Mail Center. He joined the Postal Service as a Postal Assistant in 1966 and has worked at the Rives, Junction and Jackson Post Offices.

At Manchester, Houck will be responsible for 10 employees serving a population of over 6,500. Total revenue for the Manchester Post Office exceeded $35,000 during fiscal year 1985 and mail volume totalled 12,428 pieces and 26,477 parcels. There are four rural routes.

Houck is married to Joyce Anne, and has two daughters, Joanna Ruth and Jill Rebecca. Houck holds an Associates Degree in General Studies for Jackson Community College and a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from Eastern University.

Sir Gregory Gander, born 1745, re-named the 12 months: "Snowy, Flowy, Bicy, Showery, Flowery, Bowery, Hoppy, Croppy, Drappy, Breezy, Sneezy, Freezy."

Products on Parade

This series of stories spotlights the finest products of Michigan's farms, forest and factories—the products proudly stamped "Made in Michigan." Watch for them when you shop, and buy Michigan-made. This week's story: "Make mine Pewabic."

By Paula Blanchard

Michigan has an official bird (robin), an official tree (white pine), and official flower (apple blossom), an official stone (Potosky) and even an official gemstone, a shiny, blackish bauble called chlorastrolite.

So why not make Michigan's own Pewabic Pottery our official gift?

Let me explain. If often becomes necessary for the State of Michigan to give a gift—a memento of Michigan—to distinguished visitors. An example that comes to mind was a recent visit of Shinji Yazaki, whose multinational company now has its American headquarters in Canton township. At the Michigan groundbreaking, Mr. Yazaki presented his country's gift, a delicately-wrought vase of translucent blue glass. What did he receive in return? You guessed it—our own Pewabic Pottery, this time in a subtly-glazed pale green plate embossed with the seal of the State of Michigan. Mr. Yazaki loved it and prominently displays it in his Tokyo office.

And so it has been on many another similar gift-giving occasion. Pewabic—an "objet d'art" that is uniquely Michigan—has proved to be the perfect gift for dignitaries the world over.

The Michigan artisans who make Pewabic have been at it for nearly 80 years in a quaint but functional studio/gallery on Detroit's east side. It was there that the pottery's founder, the redoubtable Mary Chase Perry, developed the special glazing and firing processes that make Pewabic so special. So special, in fact, that the pottery, an architectural gem, was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1971 and given an official historic designation by the State of Michigan.

The hand-made, highly individualized works of Pewabic—particularly its tiles—are important architectural features in hundreds of homes and institutions throughout Detroit, where Pewabic was first introduced, and across the nation. Among them are the Detroit Public Library, Detroit Institute of Arts, Fisher Building, Guardian Building, Meadow Brook, Cranbrook, Stroh Brewery, Rice University in Houston, Stan Hewitt Hall in Akron and the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C. One recently commissioned work—a Pewabic column and wall panel in the new WDIV-TV studios in Detroit—is worth a special visit in and of itself.

Pewabic is more than tile, of course; it can be whatever form the customer desires—custom dinnerware, vases, mugs, plaques, promotional or incentive gifts and (if you're in the market for something that is unofficially appropriate for a visitor) a beautiful plate embossed with the state seal.

In any case, let's keep making it—and buying it—in Michigan!

Bullpups . . .

The Bullpups were behind at half-time, 18-15, and with only two minutes left in the game they were trailing by five points. The Bullpups went in to a man-to-man, full court press and forced three turnovers, capitalizing on each one to take the lead, 33-32. Lincoln was able to get off one last shot but the Bullpups came down with the rebound.

According to Coach Tom Steele, it was one of the best performances by the team as they maintained their cool and came back to win.

Leading the Bullpups in scoring, and turning in his best performance of the year, was Plank with 22 points. He was followed by Quilter with eight points and Steele with three.

Other members of the team were Vince Dunn, Jeremy Stephens, Alex Hammerschmidt, Brian Bell, Pete DeFaut, Garrett Kern, Chris Haugen, Jason Scripser, Justin White, Matt Steinway and Kyle Erickson. Managers for the team were Jeremy Mackinder, Craig Ferry and Patrick Steele.

The seventh grade eagles ended their season with a 6-4 record.

The 1986 Chelsea High school musical, "Annie Get Your Gun," is in its fourth week of rehearsal. The play will be presented Thursday, Feb. 20, Friday, Feb. 21 and Saturday, Feb. 22.

Papagena Opera Will Perform For Lung Patients

Chelsea Community Hospital and the American Lung Association of Michigan are offering a free opera for adults with chronic lung disease.

Papagena Opera Co., an Ann Arbor performing arts group, will present the Mozart opera, "The Impresario," in Chelsea hospital's Woodlands Room on Saturday, Feb. 8 at 1 p.m.

"The Impresario" tells the plight of an opera manager as he struggles to keep his company on a sound financial footing. The one act opera is performed in full costume with an English translation.

A grant from Michigan Council for the Arts allows the Papagena Co. to take performances to people who are normally unable to attend operas. Additional funds for the performance were provided by the Foster Medical Corp.

For more information, or to receive a free pass, call the American Lung Association of Michigan at (313) 995-1030.

The cast of "Annie Get Your Gun" includes: Maryann Brankamp, Annie Oakley; Tucker Lee, Frank; Shawn Quilter, Charlie; Cindy Kvarnberg, Dolly; Don Gerstler, Buffalo Bill; Dale Cole, Pawnee Bill; Bill Coelius, Sitting Bull; Alison Chasteen, Mrs. Wilson; Susan Schunk, Mrs. Potter Porter; Sharon Colombo, Minnie; Debi Koenn, Jessie; Tana Hermosillo, Nellie; and Nancy Nye, as Little Ellie.

Also taking part in the musical are David Freitas, Kristina Steffenson, David Mayer, Kevin Bell, Tony Moisan, John Franklin, David Teare, Chris Walter, Alisha Darrow, Robin Hafner, Karen Haugen, Michelle Kuhl, Jimmie Ritter, Michelle Cigan, Mintia Van Reesema, Angie Welch, Kim Degener, Judy Baries, Heather Schauer, Angie Myers, Jennifer Bell, Joan Schnaidt, Amy Franklin, Anne Becker, Mary Rigg, Mary Kemp, Stacy Thams, Amy Darwin, Tami Harris, Jennifer Bennett, Kristi Jachalke, and Meredith Johnson.

AUTHOR KAREN SOMMERS spoke to children in the gifted and talented programs at North and South schools last week. Sommers, an author of children's books, and an elementary school teacher, talked about her craft, how she comes up with ideas, and how to approach creative writing. It was kind of an unofficial kick-off to the Young Authors Program at both schools. Above, she is speaking to Mrs. Stein's class at North school. Children in the photo include Nathan Young, Matt Rickerman, Kevin Hafner, Aaron Babyzz, Michelle Diamond and Jesse Petty.

Players Announce Cast Members for Winter Production

Chelsea Area Players have announced the cast of its winter production, "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," four one-act plays by Robert Anderson, under the direction of David Drummond.

The first play, "The Shock of Recognition," takes place in a producer's office, where a veteran playwright, Jack Barnstable, (Jerry Cline), tries to convince his producer, (Paul Morrison), to publish the play as written, although producer Herb Miller hardly thinks it's appropriate.

With the help of an insecure, aging actor, Richard Pawling (Dan Reed), and Miller's secretary Dorothy (Clara Smith), Barnstable hilariously teaches his producer a thing or two about "The Modern Theatre."

The second one-act, "The Footsteps of Doves" takes place in a furniture store, in the bedroom section. The scene opens on George and Harriet Porter, out shopping for two single beds after 25 years of double bed existence.

Harriet (Julie Vorus) has a back problem and her doctor has suggested a change which George (Dan Reed) is none too happy about. The patient salesman (Marvin Carlson), takes Harriet aside to discuss some other models while George indiscriminately makes the acquaintance of Jill Hammond (Margaret Lewis) who in a less than conventional way convinces George that single beds for him and his wife are not such a bad idea.

The next play is "I'll Be Home for Christmas." In this home scene the communication breakdown in a family causes bitter-sweet realizations between Chuck (Paul Morrison), his wife Edith (Sue Williams), and their daughter (Jerri Cole). This story depicts every parent who thought he could talk to his children, and brings home the message that perhaps he couldn't, at least not about the most important things in life.

The final play in this series is the incredibly hilarious "I'm Herbert" in which two VERY old people discuss their lives together and their previous marriages, which keep creeping into a rather confusing yet delightful dialogue. Herbert (Bill Coelius), and Muriel (Rosemary Angel) are a lovely end to an evening of witty, charming, and entertaining theater.

Performances for "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running" are at St. Louis school on Feb. 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. and on Feb. 16 at 2 p.m. The evening performances will follow a Champagne Dessert in the foyer of St. Louis school, beginning at 7 p.m. Paintings from the Chelsea Painters will be displayed in the lobby.

For more information, call Julie Vorus at 475-8716. Tickets are on sale at the Chelsea Pharmacy beginning this week.

Automotive History Highlight: The word "macadam" describes a modern highway surface. It originated with John Loudon MacAdam, a Scottish engineer who fathered the good roads movement in England in 1815. MacAdam invested his own money and was instrumental in building 920 miles of good roads in the British Isles, according to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

JV Volleyball Team Splits With Saline, Dexter

Chelsea's JV volleyball team started a busy week of volleyball by losing a match to Saline in three games, 6-15, 15-3, 11-15. The Hornets played an aggressive game, doing a good job on hitting the Bulldogs' weak spots. Chelsea was forced out of their game plan and displayed much inconsistency in their serving.

On Thursday the team traveled to Dexter where both teams put on a superb demonstration of excellent JV volleyball. The match consisted of three close games with Chelsea coming out on top, 15-12, 11-15, 15-12. "The best JV volleyball I've seen," stated the referee at the end of the match.

The Bulldogs served consistently, set the ball up well and had really good hits over-all. The girls moved well to cover most hits on defense and played aggressively on offense.

Wendy Hunn, Kelly Scott, Leah Enderle and Jennifer Lewis led the serving. Vanessa May, Enderle and Lewis had excellent games, combining nice sets with excellent hits. The bench support was consistent and really did their job whenever called upon. The match was truly exciting, demonstrating great team effort on both sides.

On Saturday, the team competed in a JV tournament played at Ypsilanti High school. There was a 10-team field divided into two pools. Chelsea, Greenhills, Airport, Belleville and Milan were in Pool B. Pool A consisted of Ypsilanti, Garden City, Willow Run, Pinckney and River Rouge.

Chelsea had an excellent day, winning six of the eight games played in their pool to qualify for the semi-finals where they lost, 5-15, 13-15 to Garden City who was the over-all tournament winner and undefeated for the day.

Chelsea won their games against Greenhills, two games against Airport and split games with Milan and Belleville. The team played some excellent volleyball, showing excellent team work with great bench support showing the real depth to the team.

Having an excellent day hitting were Jennifer Lewis, Vanessa May and Heather Niebauer; setting, Leah Enderle and Chris Basso with good solid support help from Ceia Murphy, Lynda Laier, Kelly Scott and Laura Walton. "I am very pleased with the development of the team at this point and I don't have a person on the team that I wouldn't feel confident using in a given situation of play. The improvement shown by all 18 girls is truly exciting," stated coach Vogel.

The team plays a home game on Thursday with Tecumseh.

WASHTENAW COUNTY SERVICES BULLETIN

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

It is the responsibility of the County Administrator, with the assistance of six central administration departments of county government, to implement the policies and directives of the County Board of Commissioners and to direct the daily operations of county government. As a collaborative entity, the departments of Finance, Personnel, Corporation Counsel, Facilities Management, Data Processing and the Administrator's Office provide daily operating support to all county departments. They advise the Board of Commissioners on how county government can effectively and efficiently provide services to county residents and ways for county government to be a positive force in the Washtenaw County community.

COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR'S OFFICE

The County Administrator is the chief fiscal and administrative officer for county government and is responsible for overall county departmental management and financial strategies. The Administrator's Office advises the Board of Commissioners on policy development and provides staff support for the board and its committees.

INFORMATION SERVICES

The Administrator's Office directly oversees three important services units of county government that are closely associated with rapidly changing voice and data technologies: Data Processing, Word Processing, and Telecommunications.

FINANCE

The Finance Office provides direction and coordination for all county financial systems. A major responsibility is the preparation and monitoring of the annual county budget (over $73 million in 1986).

CORPORATION COUNSEL

Corporation Counsel is the attorney and chief labor negotiator for the County Board of Commissioners. Corporation Counsel's function is to provide legal advice to the Board of Commissioners and all county departments.

FACILITIES MANAGEMENT

The Facilities Management Department is responsible for the effective development and utilization of county space. The department will be responsible for implementing a newly adopted county space plan to meet county needs over the next 20 years.

PERSONNEL

The Personnel Department provides coordinated administration of benefits, training, compensation, recruitment, labor relations and promotion of affirmative action policies for the county's approximately 1,200 employees.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

The Board of Commissioners is the governing legislature body for Washtenaw County government. The board is comprised of nine commissioners representing nine distinct districts of approximately equal population (about 29,500). Each commissioner is elected to the board by County residents for a two-year term during the November general election.

The board is responsible for the oversight of all County operations in accordance with state laws and its shared authority with other elected officials. Its primary responsibilities include: adoption of the annual County budget ($73,645,140 in 1986 including $37,324,934 general fund); establishment and appointment of property taxes; appointments to approximately 40 County boards, committees and commissions established by State and Federal Statute and Board of Commissioners policy; and establishment of all County policies for the efficient, effective operation of the 35 departments and agencies of County government.

Through a workshop in January of each year, the Board of Commissioners sets goals and priorities for itself and County departments. In 1985 the Board of Commissioners took important initiatives in the development of a long-term space and building program for County government, the creation of an interdepartmental county program for the management of hazardous substances, and continued support for economic development and job creation in the County.

In 1986, these areas will remain priorities as will increased coordination among County human service programs, expanded court-diversion programs for youth, and exploration of common computer needs with local governments in the County.

Cmr. Don Duquette, Chair of Ways & Means Committee, leading a budget discussion.

- WEIGHTS AND MEASURES PROGRAM — responsible for inspecting all devices in the county used to sell commodities by weight or measure.
- CONSUMER COMPLAINT SERVICE — consumers having a complaint about service or merchandise valued at $25 or greater may file a written complaint at the Consumer Services Office or at either Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti Chamber of Commerce. COUNTY LIBRARY

Washtenaw County library's major functions are to provide support services to the public libraries in the County. The services offered to libraries, such as the centralized purchasing of periodicals, books and supplies, enable libraries to receive larger discounts which stretches the local tax dollar.

County residents are not limited to the books that their library is able to buy. Through a process called interlibrary loan, any book or information on any subject can be requested. Such requests are filled either from the County's specialized collections or the location of books can be checked through a computer network that identifies the location of over 10 million books owned by 32,000 libraries.

The library does offer two popular specialized services directly to the public.

- A varied collection of approximately 1,000 video cassettes is available for loan at $1.00 a title. Rental fees are used to continually purchase new materials and expand the range of the collection 16mm films are available free of charge.
- The Library offers the full range of library services to anyone who cannot read or hold a book because of a visual or physical disability. Working with the Library of Congress and the Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped in Lansing, the Library offers many free services for eligible patrons. Eligible patrons are sent books through the mail in special containers with a return label. All mail is postage free.

The Consumer Services Department is responsible for checking accuracy at local gas pumps.

THE OFFICE OF EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

The Emergency Management Office is the vanguard of emergency readiness in the County. Housed in a building shared with the Sheriff's Department, the Emergency Management Office is constantly alert to any potentially life threatening circumstance. With information from the Sheriff's Department, as well as other local, state and federal sources, the Emergency Management Office acts as a clearinghouse for vital information, including unusual weather conditions, threatening fires, flooding, hazardous material spills, and serious accidents.

The department works in close cooperation with many agencies and services during an emergency, and is an advisory source to the Emergency Broadcast System on WAAM Radio at 1600 AM. In case of an emergency, County residents should turn to this station for further information; or, when reporting an emergency, call this office at 971-1152 for a twenty-four hour response.

COUNTY TREASURER

The two main roles of the Treasurer are custodian of all County funds and the collector of taxes. Additionally, the Treasurer fills many other duties.

- The County Treasurer is in a sense, the County's banker. The County receives money in terms of ad valorem property taxes, State and Federal grants, interest income, inheritance taxes, service and license fees and money collected from county departments. Besides revenue items, the Treasurer is responsible for large amounts of money in various trusts and agency funds. These include such classes as Circuit Court Trusts, Veterans Trust, special drainage districts and county road improvement projects.
- The Office is responsible for accounting of all revenue, investments, securities and monies in financial institutions; sale and distribution of dog licenses to local units of governments; collection of inheritance taxes for the State of Michigan; reconveyance of property; certification of deeds and plat maps and other documents pertaining to tax histories and ligations; and also conducts the annual tax sale on behalf of the State Treasurer.

COUNTY CLERK/REGISTER OF DEEDS

The County Clerk/Register of Deeds is located in the Courthouse and is composed of five divisions as follows:

- ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES
The County Clerk records and indexes the minutes of a number of county boards and committees and maintains the official records of the actions of the Board of Commissioners.
- COURT SERVICES
The County Clerk serves as the Clerk of the Circuit Court, and is responsible for filing and recording all court related documents.
- ELECTION SERVICES
Directs all county, state and federal elections.
- PUBLIC SERVICES
Processes, files and maintains birth, death and marriage records; passport applications; notary public records; business names; professional licensing of optometrists, morticians, funeral directors and hearing aid dealers; concealed weapons meetings and permits; emancipation of minors and services discharges.
- REGISTER OF DEEDS
Records and maintains a permanent record and index of real property and documents and files personal property documents for Washtenaw County in accordance with Michigan statutes.

The County Clerk's office delivers a wide range of public services.

OFFICE OF EQUALIZATION

The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners is mandated, as per the General Property Tax Law, to establish and maintain a department to survey and assist in equalizations and assessments. This department is the Equalization and Property Description Department.

Each year this department must examine the assessment role of the local taxing units and determine whether or not the resident's property has been equally and uniformly assessed. The department then submits annual recommendations of equalized values to the Board of Commissioners. Tax collection provides the revenue cornerstone of the County budget.

To assist in transfer of property ownership, this office can provide a legal description of the property, the property code number, the school district, as well as the name and address of the taxpayer, if needed.

Another direct service to the resident is the maintenance of property ownership maps and aerial photographs of the county (excepting Ann Arbor City), which can be purchased from the office for a small charge.

HUMAN SERVICES

The Community Services Agency provides a wide variety of special services to low income families and individuals. Established as a County department in 1974, CSA originally received its basic funding from the former Office of Economic Opportunity as part of the war on poverty.

Home weatherization is one of the services of the Community Services Agency.

The center's purpose is to offer youth the opportunity to develop coping skills that would enable them to better function as productive responsible adults and to reduce chances of further involvement in the Juvenile Justice System. The center's primary client population has been status offender, delinquent and abused/neglected youth.

The Department of Public Works assists many county agencies, departments and local units of government in planning the future utility needs of Washtenaw County. Additionally the Public Works Department coordinates two programs as a response to the needs of county residents. They are:

Revenue generated for the operation of Public Works comes from several sources, primarily construction projects. Historically this has represented approximately 70% of its total operating budget.

The department administers various construction activities which include coordinating work with engineers and other consultants, working with the contractors, as well as performing the bookkeeping necessary to audit revenues and expenditures.
