

Proposed New Chelsea Wastewater Treatment Plant

Editor's Note: This article is being published with the intent of clarifying the issues and facts associated with the proposed construction of the new wastewater facility for the Village of Chelsea. It has been written by members of the Village Council and administrators and represents the best and most factual information available to help village residents understand the many facets of a complicated issue.

Additional articles will be published over the next few weeks dealing with the proposed service area of the plant, the facility plan, construction costs, financing alternatives and costs as they break down to household levels.

Additionally, residents are encouraged to call their elected officials or village administrative officers with any questions that they might have regarding the proposed wastewater treatment facility. It is important that any questions you may have are answered so that an intelligent and informed decision can be made by each voter on the millage issue.

FINANCING ALTERNATIVES

As reported during the past two weeks, you have read why Chelsea must have a new sewage treatment facility as required by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). You have also read how the Village has taken a long hard look to ensure that any action taken would be in the best interests of its citizens. Consequently, it has taken Chelsea more than 18 years and literally hundreds of hours in meetings and consultant studies to select a sewage treatment facility that will meet our needs and still fall within the federal clean water standards.

★ General Obligation Bonds Provide Most Economical Method of Financing

In the fall of 1985, the Village of Chelsea was awarded a 55%/45% matching grant to construct the treatment plant. This means that the Federal Government will pay for 55% of the estimated $4,500,000 construction cost ($2,500,000) and the Village will pay for 45% ($2,000,000). The most economical method of paying for the local share of construction costs is through the issuance of tax-free bonds.

The two major bond alternatives available for financing the local share are as follows:

- 1) General Revenue Bonds, whereby the Village would make bond principal and interest payments from money collected through sewer charges.
- 2) General Obligation Bonds, whereby the principal and interest payments would be made based upon a special temporary property tax millage increase.

The General Obligation Bond alternative is the best method of paying for the treatment plant because the interest rates will be lower than would be available through any other financial approach. This would, in turn, translate into a lower over-all cost to the village residents. In addition, the millage for repayment of these General Obligation Bonds may be deducted by many taxpayers from federal and state income taxes, whereas a user charge is just another unrecoverable household bill.

Assuming that the present Federal and State income tax laws do not change, there is no increase in household income, and the current homestead credit remains below $1,200, tax-payors have the possibility of recovering a portion, or in some cases all of the tax increase, depending on the individual tax situation. In most cases, senior citizen property owners, with lower fixed incomes, will recover all of the increased tax when they file their Homestead Property Tax Credit with their State income tax form. This information is summarized below:

	SENIOR CITIZEN	NON-SENIOR CITIZEN
1) STATE	100% of tax increase refunded	60% of tax increase refunded
2) FEDERAL	Additional savings of up to 50% would be realized depending on tax bracket and whether or not deductions are itemized.

The estimated average increase cost per household per quarter would be approximately $60 under the General Obligation Bond alternative. This is based upon a 15-year bond term at a 9% interest rate. The cost may be somewhat higher or lower due to such things as changes in rates of interest, inflation or construction costs.

Next week: A review of other area municipal sewer charges and ramifications of not proceeding with the construction of the treatment plant.

PRICES HAVEN'T BEEN THIS LOW for a gallon of gasoline in several years as dropping prices are giving local motorists a few bucks to spend elsewhere or save. Filling up at some places in Ann Arbor can save a consumer as much as 10 cents a gallon, although the drive probably isn't worth the trouble. The drop is being caused by the fact that the bottom has dropped out of the price of imported oil, which now costs about $15-$16 a barrel, just half of what it cost just a few months ago.

School Curriculum Plan Approved By Board of Education

Every course and subject area in the Chelsea school district will be assured of regular review and modification under a curriculum development plan recently approved by the school board.

Dr. Laurice Bissell, who was hired as curriculum director for the district last September, has been working steadily on the plan since then, with considerable help from the 29-member Central Curriculum Committee.

The development of the plan is considered to be a major step for the district because it gives a specific method of review for all subjects in the four schools. Previously, change was usually only considered when someone pointed out a problem, and each building principal was largely responsible for curriculum review. That didn't always work out for the best because the principals have their hands full with the day-to-day operation of the school.

"The school board is very pleased by the plan the committee put together," Bissell said. "They've approved a policy statement for the handbook."

Under the plan, each subject area, such as social studies, math, or vocational education, is guaranteed a full review every six years. There are four phases to each review—review, development and revision, implementation, and monitoring and adjustment. The review, development and revision phases each last about one year, and the monitoring and adjustment, three years.

The review phase will involve examining state guidelines, recommendations of professional organizations, how other exemplary programs are run, the latest in educational research and how they all relate to the curriculum Chelsea already has in place. Committees will be formed to study each area, and members will attend professional conferences.

The development and revise phase will involve the assimilation of all the information gathered. Specific suggestions will be proposed.

"We won't necessarily be following the trends," Bissell said. "Given the students, community and resources available, there may be good reason for not following the trends."

The implementation phase will incorporate any changes into the curriculum, anything from a change in a text book to a re-vamping of coursework. Sometimes those changes might take the form of a pilot program to see how it all works out.

The three-year monitoring and adjustment phase will be a period of fine tuning the changes.

"This plan does not preclude other changes being made," Bissell said. "If we see a change needs to be made, we won't wait six years to do it. This plan is simply a way to make sure the review takes place on a regular basis."

The plan is designed so that teachers in each building are instrumental in the review process through the review committees.

"Teachers are the experts," Bissell said. "They know what works and what doesn't work."

Social studies, computer education, industrial arts, vocational education, and counseling are undergoing the review phase this semester. Those areas will move on to the development/revision phase next school year.

Three areas are in the development/revision phase this year, study skills, testing, and the curriculum development plan itself. Study skills is a curriculum

Meet Your Candidates

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third in a series of stories concerning candidates for the various offices that will be voted upon at the March 18 village election. The hope is that it will enable you to cast a more informed vote. The Chelsea Standard does not officially endorse any candidate for any office.

Joe Merkel, Phil Boham, and Rosemary Harook, are the final three candidates (six total) for the office of village trustee. Three spots are up for election.

Merkel, 743 Taylor St., is a veteran of Chelsea political wars, and is the only incumbent seeking re-election.

Merkel is running for a fourth term this election, having served on the village council the last six years.

Merkel was born and reared in Chelsea and has lived here for all but eight years of his life. For 18 years he has owned the Wolverine Bar and Grill on Old US-12.

Among his activities on the council, he is the council's representative to the Downtown Development Authority, and is on several commissions and committees. He's also Mayor Pro-Tem.

Merkel says that moving ahead with the proposed $4.7 million wastewater treatment plant is the number one issue facing Chelsea. He says he's solidly behind the project and urges voters to approve the $2 million bond issue that will appear on the March 10 ballot.

"I favor a combination of user fees and property taxes to pay for the bond issue," Merkel said. "The property taxes will help the senior citizens because they'll get most of that money back."

Merkel says he also supports moderate business growth for the village, but not at the expense of the downtown merchants. When first asked if he would support the proposed shopping center for Old US-12, just opposite his establishment, he said no. However, he said he would support a center if it contained businesses that didn't compete with the downtown area.

INCUMBENT JOE MERKEL

He also says he favors aggressive development of the industrial park, ideally to be inhabited by small- to medium-sized businesses. Generally, he says he favors moderate growth for the village, conscious, as many of the candidates have been, of the extremely rapid growth of Saline.

Merkel says he also supports the potential purchase by the village of land behind the 14th district courthouse for additional downtown parking.

"I believe we've been losing business downtown by not having more parking," Merkel said.

"I'm sure there are a lot of people who want to do business downtown, drive around the block, can't find a place to park, and they say 'I'll pick it up when I'm in Ann Arbor tomorrow.' Around 4 or 4:30 it's very difficult to find a parking spot."

Phil Boham, 122 East St., is a life-long Chelsea resident. He attended Chelsea High school, worked in industrial relations at Dana Corp. for 16 years, and for the past three years has been personnel director at Chelsea Community Hospital.

ROSEMARY HAROOK

PHIL BOHAM

"I thought about running for council before," Boham says. "But I was too busy watching my children grow up. My daughter (Shelly) will be graduating from high school this spring, and now I feel I'll have the time to be involved in government in a responsible manner."

Courthouse Renovation Fund Hits 40% of Goal

The renovation project of the 14th district courthouse has received $55,500 in pledges from area townships and other interested parties, according to Peter Flintoft, president of the Historic Chelsea District Courthouse group.

Donors have included Dexter, Lima, Sylvan and Lyndon townships, the Chelsea State Bank, and members of the bar who practice in the courthouse.

The pledges will be paid in three equal annual installments, Flintoft said, to reimburse Washtenaw county for restoration and improvement of the courthouse.

"We are gratified by the support of the county board of commissioners to this project, and hopefully a construction schedule will shortly be determined by the commissioners," Flintoft said.

The courthouse was originally built as a bank, but has served as the home of the 14th district court for the last 17 years. The Hon. Patrick J. Conlin, presently judge of the second circuit, was the first judge to sit in Chelsea beginning Jan. 1, 1969. At that time he was also responsible for courts in Dexter, Manchester, Saline and Whitmore Lake.

Symphony Band Will Present Tuesday Concert

Chelsea High school's symphony band will give a concert next Tuesday with the 7th, 8th, and 9th grade bands at 7:30 p.m. in the George Prinzinger Auditorium at the high school.

Soloist Janet Averetti, a doctoral student at the University of Michigan, is also scheduled to perform.

The bands will play a variety of music, including several marches and festival music.

The concert is free and open to the public.

The plan to renovate and expand the courthouse calls for increasing the building's size and usefulness by adding space for jury deliberation, attorney-client consultation rooms, and clerical space. The courthouse itself will also be enlarged so that a jury can sit comfortably.

Under the county's initial plan, the building would have received extensive modernization, with little regard for the historic ornaments. However, after taking a look at the building, Meri Lou Murray, chairperson of the county board of commissioners, believed that restoration should accompany renovation.

The county lacked sufficient funds to pay for the restoration of the marble columns, plaster relief ceiling and hand-carved woodwork. Therefore, local citizens have organized a non-profit organization to raise the funds. The $55,500 represents 41 percent of the $135,000 goal. The fundraising campaign is being chaired by Conlin.

All funds are being held in escrow until construction begins. Washtenaw county, the Village of Chelsea, and the Chelsea Historical Society, along with the above townships, have adopted resolutions in support of state historic site designation.

Contributions may be sent to Historic Chelsea District Courthouse, c/o Mark Gistingier, treasurer, 122 W. Main St., Manchester 48158.

The group has filed an application for tax-exempt status.

Gun Stolen from Chelsea Home Recovered in Detroit

A gun that was stolen from a Chelsea home in June of 1984 has been recovered by Detroit police.

Chelsea police said that a hand gun belonging to Gary Speer, 128 Orchard St., was stolen June 29, 1984, along with some money.

PULLING THE TYLENOL CAPSULES off the shelf at Chelsea Pharmacy is pharmacist Dan Murphy. Chelsea Pharmacy, Polly's Market, and other Chelsea retailers, have all pulled the product off their shelves, replacing it with Tylenol caplets. McNeil Pharmaceuticals, a division of Johnson & Johnson, who markets Tylenol, also requested that retailers remove all their products in capsule form, including Co-Tylenol, a cold remedy. The action is in response to the cyanide poisoning of a New York woman who took one of the capsules. The company has since said it will no longer market drugs in capsule form. Chelsea retailers have varying policies regarding refunds for unused portions of the product. "It looks as though someone was out to get the company, and they did it," Murphy said. "People seem to be staying away from capsules in general, and many people are reluctant to use the Tylenol brand at all."

 Two area residents are currently fighting tooth and nail to keep Detroit Edison from condemning parts of their land to build a power line.
 Dwight Beach of Lima township and James Poulter of Dexter township, filed suit to block a huge power line Edison plans to build through the area. There were no public hearings prior to Edison's decision to condemn the land, no land use statements prepared, no alternate routes discussed, the two argued. General Beach drew an elaborate map to illustrate his case with heavy lines indicating numerous oil pipe lines and electric power lines criss-crossing Washtenaw county. With so many lines, he saw little justification for construction of a new one.

Debate season has just ended, for Chelsea High school it was the best ever, according to debate coach William Colibus. Finishing second in State tournaments the team won a trophy and gold watches were presented to varsity debaters Dan Gaunt, Chuck Lane, Mike Hergert, and Carol Fairbrother.
 A new building has been added to the landscape at the Chelsea Medical Center. It's a complete eye clinic, designed to house both the offices of an eye doctor and of an optical company.
 The clinic, according to ophthalmologist William Hawkins, is the most modern in Washtenaw county.

Walberg Preparing Bill For Home Schooling

Parents would have the legal authority to provide home schooling for their children, so long as they complied with certain minimal requirements, under legislation being prepared by Representative Timothy Walberg (R-Onsted).

Walberg, whose three children are taught at home by him and his wife, said his legislation will clarify the rights of home schooling parents, while "establishing some reasonable standards for that education."

In that proposal, he said, requirements for home school teachers other than parents would be established, attendance in home classes would be mandatory, regular student testing would be required as would an annual assessment of a child's progress.

However, a child's records would be required to be recorded with any local school agency, Walberg said, although the bill would permit release of a child's attendance record through court order.

Walberg said there would be no educational requirement for a parent teaching a child, but persons other than a parent or guardian teaching a child would have to have either a college degree or an "equivalent life experience" in a particular subject.

He said there was nothing in the bill that would compel attendance of a child in a local public or private school if a child's progress is not up to that of regular school children.

Committee report on early prisoner release could cost the state $74 million annually, along with the construction of the equivalent of three new prisons, a report issued by the Department of Corrections said.

The report was a formal reply to the House panel report which was issued in November, 1985.

That report, itself a response to a Detroit Free Press series, charged that the department had violated state law by awarding good time sentence reductions to drug offenders and by reducing the sentences of gun offenders.

That report also called on the department to develop new policies for community release and that other policies for extended prisoner furloughs be amended.

In its response the Corrections Department said it was trying to provide the Legislature with information on the costs and consequences of the proposals so it could determine if the changes proposed were actually in the best interest of the state.

While the report agreed with a number of the recommendations made by the House committee, it said the total annual increased cost of all the recommendations would be at least $74 million.

And even then, the report said, the cost of all the recommendations were not calculated. The largest single cost would come from hiring an estimated additional 1,500 corrections officers and supervisors at an annual cost of $68.9 million.

The recommendations would also require a capital outlay cost of $36 million for the addition of more than 1,700 prison beds, the equivalent of three new prisons.

In addition, several changes in state law would be required to meet with a number of recommendations. For example, one recommendation was that all prisoners participate in the halfway house program, which Corrections Director Robert Brown said would require a statutory change to permit sex offenders in halfway houses.

Washtenaw Ag Banquet Set March 20

The 1986 annual Washtenaw Agriculture Banquet sponsored by the Washtenaw Dairy Livestock Council will be held Thursday, March 20, at Chelsea High School.

The night's activities will start off with dinner at 7 p.m. Following dinner the "Contemporaries," a local group from Chelsea High school will provide a number of musical selections. The featured entertainment will be Barbara Jean Crandall, Miss Michigan 1984. Miss Crandall is an accomplished ventriloquist, performer, speaker and mistress of ceremonies. Since giving up her crown, June 15, 1985, she has entertained at 23 county fairs (including Chelsea's), appeared with the Beach Boys and was the featured entertainment at the Governor's Luncheon at the Ionia Free Fair. She is in constant demand as a performer, speaker and spokesperson.

The evening of fun, fellowship and relaxation will end with the popular drawing for deer prizes sponsored by the Agri-Business of Washtenaw county.

Tickets are available from council members: Reuben Lasser, Jr., Lloyd Gray, William Blumensauer, Loren Heller, Dave Gordon, Ron Gill, Harold Haeussler, Bill Nixon, Stan Post, Charles Koehn, Harold Trinkle, Larry Hopkins, Dave Wolfgang, Bob Heller, Nick Heller, Jim Brickle.

Tickets are also available by calling Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service at 475-6610, ask for Bill Armas.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR—
 A encouraging word was as hard to find as a breath of spring at the session at the country store Saturday night. Ed Doolittle come with more worry that we'll never get out of this world alive, and the fellers pucked up the theme. Ed opened with a report where leaking microwave ovens may be the next big health hazard to hit the front pages, and he said it looked like Bug Backum was another case of a blind hog finding a acorn.

Ed recalled that Bug announced three years ago after seeing the new microwave oven in his church kitchen that he weren't drinking no coffee boiled in a paper cup. Bug was of a mind that heat that ain't hot ain't natural, and they is to much unnatural ingredients in food to have it cooked that way. Besides, he said then, if that box is sizzling bacon with rays it must be doing somepun to us. Ed said he and the other fellers had joked about old timey Bug then, but it looks like Bug is getting the last laugh. Ed had saw a report where microwave ovens now have been on the market long enough that some of em are starting to leak radiation because they're wore out or have been repaired wrong.

The study Ed saw explained that the Federal Government sets standards for the ovens, but there's no inspection of em. The worry is that leaking microwave ovens can cause cataracts, he said, and he noted that Russian safety standards are much tougher than ours because they believe bad ovens damage nerves and organs. This risk of radiation rain comes just when the Government is deciding where to put national nuclear dumps that will glow in the dark for the next 10,000 year, was Ed's discouraging word.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

From there, the gloom spread all over. Clem Webster said he is worried that we are spending a heap more to make peace than we would to make war. Clem said he would be the first to agree that peace is worth the price, but that don't mean we got to give the Pentagon a blank check. The military is the untouchable of budget cuts. They get all the land they want, Clem said, and now he saw where the Navy is getting over bigger chunks of air. For instant, it wants to expand restricted air over a bomb range on the coast of North Carolina from 30 square mile to 300 square mile. You got to ask how much defense we're getting if Navy bombers need a target 10 times bigger, was Clem's words.

Actual, broke in Zeke Grubb, all the spendaholics ain't in the military. From all the waste that's been uncovered recent he's wondering if the situation's worst or we're getting better at keeping the books. For instant, Zeke had saw where the General Accounting Office says more than half the Government's 427 accounting systems don't meet its requirements. We got the biggest public company the world has ever known going $200 billion a year in the hole, and it don't know half the holes the money is going down, was Zeke's thinking.

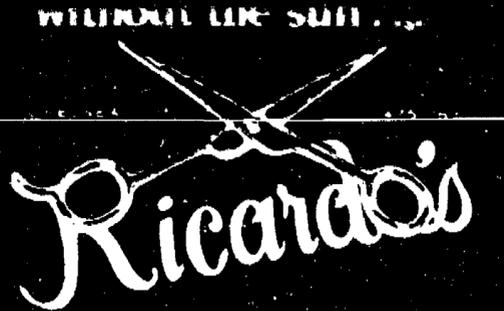

Just recent, Zeke went on, the U. S. Office of Personnel Management found out its deputy director that was fired two months ago was still drawing her $73,600 a year salary fer doing nothing. The U. S. Education Department has recovered $11.8 million and indicted 98 people on all kind of ripoff schemes, including grants that college professors use to buy sailboats and do reserch in massage parlors.

ABWA Seeking Applicants for Scholarships

Chelsea Chapter of the American Business Women's Association is seeking applicants for educational scholarships. The scholarships are available to high school graduates, or women of any age, interested in furthering their education and living in the Chelsea-Dexter area.

Funds for the scholarships are generated by the association's annual fashion show and salad luncheon to be held this year at Chelsea High school on March 22.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about applying for these scholarships should call Robin Meloche at 994-5422 or 426-2886.

Botanical Gardens Offering Variety of Spring Houseplants

Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens will hold their monthly Lobby Sale on Saturday, March 1 and Sunday, March 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Gardens, 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor. The sale will include plants, botanical serving trays, ceramic containers, floral wrapping papers, cards and napkins, china containers filled with potpourri, children's gifts, T-shirts and tote bags.

March 3-30—The March Lobby Exhibit will be entitled "Colorful Houseplants and Bulbs To Decorate Your Home." A selection of attractive foliage and flowering plants which can be grown as houseplants will be displayed. There will also be a selection of forced spring bulbs, including tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, and Dutch iris. Information on growing these houseplants will be available.

March 21-April 13—Easter Display. A spectacular display of spring bulbs to celebrate Easter and the vernal equinox will be exhibited. Dozens of colorful tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, Easter lilies and Dutch iris will be artfully arranged for the public's enjoyment. Admission to the lobby exhibit is free.

Come to the Gardens and tour the Conservatory or walk the outdoor trails. The trails and lobby exhibit are free. For the Conservatory there is a fee of $1; Senior Citizens 75+ and children 30-40. The Gardens grounds are open from 8 a.m. to sunset. The inside exhibits are open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Discounts are available for groups by appointment. For reservations and horticultural information call the Gardens, (313) 763-7000.

The Gardens have a volunteer program in many interesting areas. If you are interested in helping in the greenhouse, library, office, with arts and crafts, and perhaps outdoor work, please call Mary Campbell, (313) 763-7060.

Senior Citizens Offered Trip To Attend Play

A day of travel, fine dining, and entertainment for area seniors is being planned by Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation.

On April 12, WCPARC will sponsor a one-day bus trip to the Doherty Hotel in Clare. The package includes round-trip deluxe motorcoach transportation from the County Recreation Center to Clare; full pot-roast luncheon at the Doherty Hotel; and a matinee presentation of George M. Cohan's classic play, "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

Payment of $35 per person is due in the WCPARC office by March 6. Make checks payable to All Ways Travel and mail to: Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107.

Loreen Thodeson and Joel Aquirre, both residents of Pebble Beach, Calif., repeated their nuptial vows before the Rev. William Holdridge of Calvary Chapel of the Monterey Peninsula in an 11:30 a.m. ceremony at Mayflower church, Pacific Grove, Calif., Saturday, Jan. 4.

The bride's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Thodeson of Grass Lake Rd., Manchester, traveled to California for their daughter's wedding. Her father assisted the Rev. Holdridge as the two clergymen witnessed the marriage ceremony. The Rev. Thodeson is a retired pastor of the Chelsea Christian Fellowship church which he now serves as an elder.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Esauel Aquirre of Pomona, Calif.

David Taylor of Monterey, Calif., was soloist during the church ceremony. He sang, "Canticle of the Bride."

The bride wore a gown first chosen as a wedding gown by her mother 40 years ago. It was fashioned of soft white lace over satin fabric and featured a fitted bodice, tapered full-length lace sleeves and a three-tiered full skirt with Cathedral train.

Her hairpiece was of tiered silk ribbon edged in lace and decorated with tiny flowers, and she carried a cascading arrangement of ivy, stephanotis and ferns accented blue and white silk flowers.

Miss Juanita Bequeath came from Detroit to serve as her friend's maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue-grey silk of mid-calf length. It featured a pleated bodice with softly rounded collar and full-length sleeves. She wore silk flowers of variegated blue shades in her hair and carried a Cascade bouquet of matching blue silk blossoms.

Bridesmaids included the bride's friend, Miss Verna Wicks of Seaside, Calif., and three sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ken Gross of Los Gatos, Calif., Mrs. David Jones of New York City and Miss Lucelena Aguirre of Wrightwood, Calif. Their gowns were of blue silk with three-quarter length sleeves and were designed with diagonal overlays of matching silk material extending from shoulder to waist and from waist to hem.

Matching blue silk hosiery and slippers completed their ensembles. Their bouquets were custom arrangements of blue silk flowers designed with matching flowers to wear in their hair.

For her daughter's marriage,

Mrs. Thodeson wore a floor-length gown of periwinkle blue silk crepe with beaded sleeves and shoulders. Her flowers were designed in a shoulder corsage of pink and pale blue blossoms.

The bridegroom's mother chose a rose silk gown of floor length. Her corsage included rose, pink and blue flowers.

From Seaside, Calif., candle-lighter for the ceremony was Jonathan Wicks, friend of both the bride and her husband.

Nemesio Aguirre of Pomona, Calif., served as his brother's best man.

The guests were seated by the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Ken Gross of Los Gatos, and three of the bridegroom's friends, Brian Gross of Salem, Ore., Don Scott of Carmel Valley, Calif., and Andrew Penland of Upland, Calif.

A reception honoring the newly-married couple was given in the Mayflower Fellowship Hall by the bride's parents with Mr. and Mrs. John Danvers coordinating the arrangements.

Joc Sade and Miss Jocelyn Mervyn served coffee and punch during the reception and Bard Sherman provided piano music.

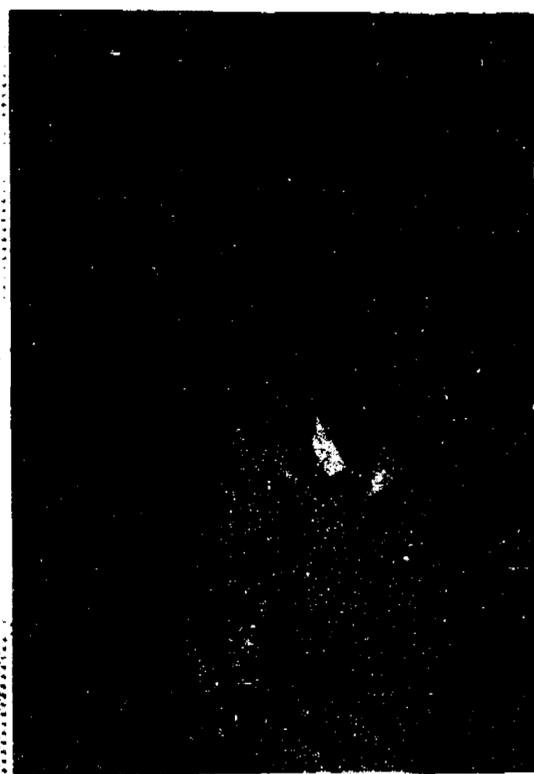

The couple took a week's wedding trip through Yosemite National Park in California, after which they settled in their Bronco 200 house at Pebble Beach.

The bride was graduated from Grass Lake High school and from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. She is employed as a landscape maintenance gardener on California's Monterey peninsula.

Her husband, a graduate of Pomona High school, attends Monterey Peninsula Community College and is engaged in carpentry work.

SCHWARZE-HARRIS: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schwarze of Ann Arbor, formerly of Chelsea, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sara Jane, to Douglas Edward Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Spring Arbor. Sara is a 1984 graduate of Spring Arbor College and is employed by McKinley Properties. Mr. Harris graduated from Spring Arbor College in 1983 and is employed by the University of Michigan. The couple plan an April wedding.

FRIDAY-HAYNES: The engagement of Debra Gayle Friday of Dexter to Michael Kevin Haynes of Milan has been announced by Debra's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Friday of Montgomery, Ala. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Haynes of Milan. Debra is a 1980 graduate of Dexter High school and is presently employed at Alpha Metal Finishing Dexter. Michael graduated from Milan High school in 1980 and is employed at Downs Corp. of Ypsilanti. A summer wedding is being planned by the couple.

Child Study Club Hears Banker Talk On Investments

Members of the Chelsea Child Study Club were informed of various options available for investing their money in today's marketplace by Scott Tanner of the Chelsea State Bank. The group learned that it is necessary to evaluate the risk versus the reward in determining the investment which is suitable for their needs.

The Feb. 11 meeting was held at the home of June Flanagan. Co-sponsors for the evening were Ann Mills and Ruth Dila.

The next club meeting will be held at the home of Kay Redding on Tuesday, Feb. 25. The topic for the evening was "From Employee to Our Own Backyard."

Hearing Workshop Offered on Wednesdays

A Communications Workshop for people with hearing problems will be offered by Catherine McAuley Health Center from 10:30 a.m. to noon on three consecutive Wednesdays starting Feb. 26.

Sessions will be held at the Reichert Health Building on the CMHC campus in Ann Arbor.

Jody Spalding, director of Audiology Services at CMHC, said the workshop is intended for people of all ages who are hearing impaired, including those who use hearing aids. Family members are welcome.

Through the workshop, participants will learn listening strategies and ways to maximize the hearing they have. Spalding said, "They'll also learn to cope with hearing that isn't as good as it once was."

Other discussion topics will include effective use of hearing aids and the importance of speechreading (formerly called lipreading).

To register, or for more information, call Audiology Services at 572-5112. There is a $15 materials fee.

ORDINANCE NO. 79MM

AMENDMENT TO CHELSEA VILLAGE ORDINANCE NO. 79

SECTION 5.11 STANDARDS FOR SINGLE-FAMILY DWELLINGS.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CHELSEA VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE AND REGULATE THE STANDARDS FOR SINGLE-FAMILY DWELLINGS.

THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA ORDAINS:
Ordinance No. 79 adopted May 27, 1974, as amended, the Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance, be and the same, is hereby amended by the following provisions:

SECTION 1. Section 5.11, MOBILE HOMES, is hereby deleted and the following provision is substituted in its place and stead:

"SECTION 5.11 STANDARDS FOR SINGLE-FAMILY DWELLINGS

A single-family dwelling including mobile homes shall comply with the following standards:

A. The dwelling shall have a minimum dimension across any front, side, or rear of 30 feet and shall comply in all respects with the Washtenaw County Building Code. Where a dwelling is required by law to comply with any Federal or State standards or regulations for construction, the Federal or State standards shall apply, in addition to the County Building Code.

B. The dwelling shall be firmly attached to a permanent foundation constructed on the site in accordance with the Washtenaw County Building Code. If the dwelling is a mobile home, it shall, in addition to the above foundation requirement, be installed in compliance with the rules and regulations of the Michigan Mobile Home Commission.

C. If the dwelling is a mobile home, the dwelling shall be installed with the wheels and towing apparatus removed. The undercarriage and chassis shall not be exposed.

D. The dwelling shall be connected to a water line and a sanitary sewer system of the Village of Chelsea, in accordance with Chelsea Village Ordinances.

E. The dwelling shall have either a roof overhang of not less than six (6) inches, or alternatively, window sills and roof drainage at collection points along the sides of the dwelling. It shall have not less than two (2) exterior entrances to the living areas, which shall be at ground level or with permanently attached steps connected to the exterior door areas or to porches connected to door areas, where a difference in elevation requires the same.

F. If the dwelling is a mobile home dwelling, the design and appearance shall be compatible with the character, design and appearance of one or more single-family dwellings not in a mobile home park, within 1,000 feet of the subject dwelling where such area is developed with single-family dwellings to an extent of not less than 20 percent of the lots situated in such area; or, where said area is not so developed, by the character, design, and appearance of one or more single-family dwellings, not located in mobile home parks, throughout the village.

G. If the dwelling is a mobile home, any building addition thereto that is not certified as meeting the standards of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for mobile homes shall comply with the Washtenaw County Building Code.

H. If the dwelling is a mobile home, all construction and all plumbing, electrical apparatus, and insulation within and connected to the mobile home shall be of a type and quality conforming to the "Mobile Home Construction and Safety Standards" as promulgated by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, being 24 CFR 6000, as amended. All dwellings shall meet or exceed applicable roof snow load and strength requirements as established by the Washtenaw County Building Code.

I. Mobile homes located in a licensed mobile home park shall meet the standards required by Federal or State law specifically pertaining to mobile home parks and not this Ordinance.

J. A building permit shall be required for construction of a foundation, construction or placement of a dwelling on a lot, and any addition thereto. A building permit shall not be issued until a zoning compliance permit has been issued. The dwelling shall not be occupied until a certificate of occupancy has been issued.

K. Not more than one dwelling shall be located on a lot, except in a planned unit development. A mobile home shall not be used as an accessory building in any residential district. A mobile home shall not be used for any purpose other than a principal residence in any residential district.

L. A dwelling shall not be removed from a foundation until a building permit therefor has been issued."

SECTION 2: Section 2.2.21, Definition of DWELLING-SINGLE-FAMILY, is hereby deleted and the following provision is substituted in its place and stead:

"SECTION 2.2.21 DWELLING-SINGLE-FAMILY

A detached building including a mobile home, designed for or occupied as one dwelling unit with common cooking and utilities."

SECTION 3: Section 2.2.22, Definition of DWELLING-TWO-FAMILY, is hereby deleted and the following provision is substituted in its place and stead:

"SECTION 2.2.22 DWELLING-TWO-FAMILY

A detached building not including a mobile home, designed for or occupied as two (2) dwelling units, with separate cooking and utilities for each unit."

SECTION 4: Section 2.2.23, Definition of DWELLING-MULTIPLE-FAMILY, is hereby deleted and the following provision is substituted in its place and stead:

"Section 2.2.23 DWELLING-MULTIPLE-FAMILY

A building, not including a mobile home, designed for or occupied as three or more dwelling units with separate cooking and utility facilities for each."

Section 5: Section 2.2.39, MOBILE HOMES, is hereby deleted and the following provision is substituted in its place and stead:

"Section 2.2.39 MOBILE HOMES

A structure, manufactured in one or more sections, which is built on a vehicle chassis to be used as a dwelling and constructed to be transported over the public highways. Mobile home does not include a recreational vehicle.

SECTION 6. All other provisions of this Ordinance not inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

SECTION 7: This amendment shall be effective thirty (30) days from adoption and publication.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Most of us are too busy with day-to-day events to realize that we are living in the most astonishing period of invention, discovery and exploration in human history.

- We have seen American men walking on the moon.
- We have increased the life span of people in developed nations by more than 20 years.
- We have developed high yield grains that are beginning to end famines in backward nations.
- We have conquered polio and learned to transplant the human heart.
- We have perfected a world-wide telephone system, and a wonderland of electric servants.

Even the briefest sampling of discoveries and inventions since 1886 is awesome:

1886 is awesome:	1912 Vitamin C
1887 Automobile	1916 Stainless steel
1888 Kodak camera	1922 Pushbutton elevator
1888 Pneumatic tire	1924 Loudspeaker
1889 Atom-smashing theory	1928 Teletype
1889 Aspirin	1929 FM radio
1890 Pneumatic hammer	1929 Penicillin
1891 Steel alloy	1930 Cyclotron
1891 Zipper	1930 Jet engine
1892 AC motor	1931 Electron microscope
1893 Halftone engraving	1931 Electric razor
1894 Time clock	1934 Sulfa drugs
1894 Motion pictures	1934 Television
1895 Diesel engine	1935 Parking meter
1895 Radio	1937 Nylon
1895 X-ray	1938 Xerography
1895 Safety razor	1939 Helicopter
1896 Disc piow	1942 Uranium fission
1897 Electron	1947 Transistor
1898 Radium	1948 Polaroid camera
1900 Caterpillar tractor	1934 M-rabies vaccine
1903 Engine powered airplane	1958 Laser beam
1903 Electrocardiogram	1962 Holography
1907 Electric washer	1962 Orbiting the earth
1909 Typhus vaccine	1966 Walking in space
1911 Air conditioning	1968 Orbiting the moon
1911 Cellophane	1969 Human being walks on the moon

There simply isn't room here to extend this list from 1970 to 1986 but we are aware of lifestyle explosions brought on by the proliferation of uses for the electronic microchip and the application of computers for practically everything but the changing of diapers.

Here in Chelsea life could hardly go on without Scotch tape, videorecorders, Band-aids, cassette music, Valium, frozen foods, plastic hair curlers and Xerox machines.

We are awed by ventures into outer space with intimate views of Uranus and amazed by science's discovery of the invisible, immutable DNA genetic helixes which blueprint the differences among individual human beings even more definitively than fingerprints.

Those of us who keep general track of progress in the sciences are more likely to be concerned where the physicists, chemists, et al are taking us. With the intercontinental hydrogen bomb, they have definitively proved that they can "hold 'em 'til 'em boots."

"Star Wars" is not a political play, though it is clearly used as such by both the U. S. and the U. S. S. R. The fact that a U. S. nuclear shield is in development is a disastrous frustration to the anti-terrorists of Moscow. The Soviet Union has vowed since 1919 that it will conquer the earth with Communism. Smooth talking Gorbachev has never once renounced the intention of the Soviet Union to gain dominion over the world and raise the Red Flag over our capitol in Washington.

Science, which has led us to the nuclear bomb, is now faced with the social responsibility of accurately intercepting the destroying nuclear missiles in atmospheric or celestial space.

Once the Star Wars shield is in place, science will then have to counteract alternative threats such as windblown clouds of poisons and lethal microorganisms released from Soviet sources into our waters.

Other nations, both friends and enemies, make a practice of stealing the products of our military science. During World War II, the Japanese shot down and duplicated an American fighter plane. Unsure of themselves in this act of imitation, they even made a precise copy of the white and black bars printed on U. S. Burgess batteries, used simply as decoration to distinguish these products in the marketplace.

Soviet battle tanks captured in recent years are technical replicas of tanks designed and built in America.

Historically, the United States has always shared its peaceful scientific and medical triumphs with the rest of the world. By the time other nations manage to steal our military technology, they are usually one generation behind our state of the art.

One thing to bear in mind about the relentless threat of Communism is that they are persistently fighting on a second front. It is the world-wide program of Communist subversion. The American Communist Party with offices in New York and a nation-wide network of party cells has succeeded in turning tens of thousands of American citizens into ideological traitors. How they do it deserves another look from the Clock Tower.

Health Month Enjoyed By Pre-School

Health Month at North Lake Pre-School, located on old US-12 in Chelsea, concluded with an ambulance tour. Huron Valley Ambulance attendants Mike Watson and Jim Forgie gave the children a first-hand look at their emergency vehicle. During the month the children also visited the local dental offices of Dr. Ronald Biedron and were able to examine a human skeleton and x-rays provided by Dr. George Kaufman.

Symphony Band Joining Symposium Concert at CMU

Chelsea Symphony Band will take part in the third annual Band Symposium concert at Central Michigan University this Friday.

Chelsea will perform with Midland and Grand Lodge High schools. Bands are selected geographically, and the symposium is used partially as a recruiting tool for CMU.

The Chelsea band will play "Mazurka Bazaar," by Samuel Applebaum, "Original Suite," by Gordon Jacob, and "Pineapple Pol," by Arthur Sullivan.

CMU faculty conductor John Williamson will rehearse with the bands, and CMU faculty members will conduct instrumental clinics for the groups.

"The symposium is an opportunity to get really fine players and directors on campus, and it gives students and directors a chance to see our program in operation," Williamson said. "It's the best way to sell our program and show the quality of the people."

The symposium begins at 1:30.

Curriculum Development

program which will be integrated into existing subject areas.

"The committee determined that it would be best for only one of the major subject areas, such as social studies or math, to begin the review phase each year," Bissell said. "Otherwise, everybody would be a committee."

Bissell said the plan should also help the district's budgeting process, since it will be known well ahead of time what textbooks will be changed or other major changes are in store.

Stolen Gun Recovered

Detroit police recovered the gun Jan. 20. Police said someone "saw a man in a van playing with a gun," and called police. The gun turned out to be Speer's. According to Chelsea police, the man claimed to have bought the gun, "in the south."

No further details were available.

DEN 5-

The five boys in Bear Den 5 have been busy making craft projects. Last month each boy built a small race car to use in the Pinewood Derby. The cars were judged on best design, best color, most original and the fastest car in an actual downhill race.

First place in the den competition from our den was won by Randy Hurst with Adam Bragg taking a close second. Randy went on to compete against the six other fastest cars in the Pack, winning third place over-all. Placing in the top four positions won him a chance to compete in the all-council competition to be held at the Scout-O-Rama later this spring.

At the annual Blue and Gold banquet held at Beach Middle school on Feb. 2, Robbie Frost of 754 Flanders St., was awarded his bear badge, 1 gold arrowhead, and one silver arrowhead. This represents over 30 individual projects completed in a one-month period. Randy Hurst and Adam Bragg both were awarded a silver arrowhead for 10 activities completed. Some boys have dropped out of Den 5 in the past couple months leaving openings for any second or third grade boy interested in becoming a Cub Scout. If you have a first (Tiger cub), second or third grader who would like to join South school's Cub Scout pack call Ken Hurst at 475-8127 for information.

The cold of winter has not hampered the fun of Den 4 during the month of January. Each boy built his own Pinewood Derby car and raced it in pack competition. The winner for our den was Eric LoPurge. After the race for the pack winners, Eric raced against his father who brought the car that he had made when he was in Cub Scouts. Eric won! This month our young scouts are planting young sprouts. We are growing bachelor buttons, sweet peas and hollyhocks from seeds and they are doing quite well. With all of this green in my living room can spring be far behind?

Jack Long, leader of Den 4.

Sensitive? Considerate? Progressive?

RONALD A. COLE
Director

All are answered "yes." At Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel, we find that people who prearrange their funerals are, indeed, all of the above.

They are sensitive and considerate of their survivors, sparing them the stress of making discomforting decisions of a time when clear thinking is more difficult.

Prearrangement is an idea in its time - a progressive concept that benefits everyone involved.

Call or visit us for further discussion. No obligation to you, of course.

Thursday, Feb. 22, 1962—The Independent Party again selected Robert Daniels as their candidate for village president. Voters will probably go to the polls March 12 to vote on an uncontested slate of officers all from the Independent Party: Clerk, George Winans; treasurer, Wallace Wood; trustees, Stephen Clark, V. Burg, II, and Howard Haselachwardt; assessor, Thomas Smith; library board trustees, Mrs. Frederick Wagner and Dr. Parker Sherrard.

The Peoples' Party did not select candidates but instead named a three-man party committee consisting of Robert Devine, Victor Kohman and Ismael Pichalstimer.

Musical Youth Group Preparing for Tour

Musical Youth International has begun rehearsals for its 22nd season. The 1986 season tour will include Japan, Korea and Hawaii, sponsored by People-to-People International, Sister-City committees and national educational organizations. Homestays and shared concerts with local youth musicians will highlight the entire tour.

Musical Youth International was founded by the late Dr. Lester McCoy. The non-profit organization grew from his belief that musically talented students could provide international understanding through the universal language of music. Mrs. Lester McCoy is currently the executive director.

Musical Youth International, Michigan's first chartered People-to-People Youth Chapter, received in 1961 the Eisenhower Chapter award, as one of the five outstanding chapters in the world. 1986 marks the 30th, People-to-People anniversary. On Friday, May 23 the Ann Arbor chapter of People-to-People is holding a gala festivity to celebrate this prestigious occasion. MYI will join in this project.

Terrance L. Stoffel Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Terrance L. Stoffel, son of Christine D. Shelters of 8579 Hankerd Rd., Gregory, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Stoffel's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Stoffel's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1985 graduate of Chelsea High school, he joined the Navy in November 1985.

To the Editor:

If you believe that the Citizens and Taxpayers, of the Village of Chelsea, can afford to pay $73,000 per year for two administrators, which will raise to approximately $78,000 in three years. (Note, if it raises as fast in the next two years as it has in the last two), we will be looking at $108,000 for administrators.

It is said that I do not believe in the growth of Chelsea. Fact: The Economic Development Commission was organized while I was president in 1980-82. The present administration would have you believe, that enlarging the sewer disposal plant would have the effect of instant growth of Chelsea.

Fact: The expansion would only be for the present limits of Chelsea. Cost: Unknown. The claim is that it will cost each household and business $800 per year, in either tax increases or additional sewer charge, collected on the amount of water used by the consumer. This may not be a fact, as it is an area that the present administration does not give an answer to.

There have been no bids taken for the building of the plant, no cost to service the bonds, if issued. What will be the real cost to each household in the Village of Chelsea. The present administration would have us believe that the DNR is forcing the building of this new plant. The papers that have been made available to the citizens of Chelsea do not state this.

It has been brought to my attention, that if elected, I would dismantle the police department. I believe that the record will show, that in 1980-82 nothing was done to downgrade Chelsea's finest. I am a retired 1st Lt. Corps of Military Police, with a Military Occupation of Provost Marshal. There are people I believe I understand. I have been told that the police department formed a union because they could not communicate with the present administration.

If you believe that a change is necessary, as I do, I would appreciate your support in the March 10 election. I support the candidacy of Dennis Potach, Rosemary Harrold, Gary Bentley and Katy Chapman. They are needed to carry out this program, to eliminate the excessive cost of administration, and to put the rules back in the hands of the elected representatives of the people. I have the time to devote to the village, as I did before.

Let it be known that I support a "no" vote on all bond issues.

Mayor of record: I have lived in the Village of Chelsea for 46 years plus, the exception of military service. Have lived at 309 Maywood for 20 years and on Maywood for 46 years. My phone number is 475-2889, as when I was in office before. My number was published and you are welcome to call any time with your problems, and I assure you will get service, this record speaks for itself.

Remember to get back to responsive Government, you must vote in the March 10 election. Charles S. Ritter.

To The Editor, On behalf of the Planning Committee of CPR Days 1986, I would like to extend appreciation to the many individuals and organizations who have done so much to ensure our citizens are trained in this valuable life-saving technique. In fact, over 5,000 Washtenaw area residents have been trained in CPR in our seven-year history.

This year, over 500 people took advantage of CPR Days, and 100 volunteers and volunteer instructors provided the training. The University of Michigan Medical Center and Catherine McAuley Health Center co-sponsor these annual days with the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Because of these volunteers and organizations, our community is indeed fortunate to be a national leader in percentage of population trained in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. We are glad to work together to make this happen.

For the CPR Days Planning Committee: John B. Boshoven, M.A., M.S.W. Office of Health Promotion Catherine McAuley Health Center.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Don't you think it's about time we start writing letters to the editor about positive things, instead of so many negative items lately?

I for one, think it's time to recognize the many nice caring people in our town, letting them know we care.

I believe each of us must have one "Good Neighbor" somewhere. Our neighbor has been just that—ever since the Spring Plant closed, and he took an early retirement. With his little trusty gas eating hand snow blower, he starts from his home, to the cemetery gates and back, cleaning off all the sidewalks and driveways along the way.

The neighbors who benefit from this are a lone widow lady, a nearly blind lady, a heart patient and a retired couple, just to name a few.

His winter and summer fishing trips have been enjoyed by some of them, with his catch of fish, also.

In the summer months he will use his lawn mower, to help out his neighbors with their large back yards. He's made many trips to the doctor, to take those who needed transportation. We thank you, Nate, for all of these nice neighborly things you do.

His Neighbors from North-End of Madison St.

Dear Editor,

This is regarding the article written about cheerleaders in your sports section. The gentleman who wrote it, obviously has not seen our Milan cheerleaders. We have seven guys on our squad and perform much like a college squad. Lincoln also has guy cheerleaders.

It seems in poor taste to write such a stinging article, when one does not have all necessary information.

We invite this sports writer in the Milan-Chelsea basketball game, this next Thursday, Feb. 26 to view an excellent co-ed cheerleading squad.

Meet Your Candidates

Boham says his affiliation with the hospital has no bearing on his decision to run for office.

"I'm not running to represent my employer any more than any other candidate is running on behalf of his business," Boham said.

Like many of the other candidates, Boham says he favors moving ahead with the wastewater treatment plant.

"Chelsea desperately needs this plant regardless of the way it is financed," Boham said.

"Growth means prosperous survival for small towns like Chelsea and we need this plant to grow."

Boham said he favors a millage increase to pay for the plant rather than increasing user fees.

"If you tie this to user fees, it would have a serious impact on some of the high users, and big employers in Chelsea."

Boham said he favors growth "if it is approached in a responsible manner." Like Merkel, he is not in favor of a strip shopping center for Chelsea unless it provides goods and services that are otherwise unavailable.

"Many malls are built purely for the profit rather than for a long term commitment to service and to the community. The downtown business owners have invested a lot of money and have demonstrated their commitment. We have to be careful we don't hurt those businesses."

A continued commitment by the village to the development of the industrial park should be a high priority, Boham said. He favors businesses with 50-100 employees rather than larger companies, saying "Book-Crafters is an excellent example. I'd like to see similar businesses in town."

Rosemary Harook, Chelsea's outspoken zoning inspector, has been a Chelsea resident 36 years, 28 at her 228 E. North St. residence.

Harook was appointed zoning inspector in December of 1984. She is a regular attendee of village council meetings, and isn't afraid to speak her mind at those meetings.

She says she's running for council because, "I'm concerned about Chelsea. I think there's some waste going on in government, and I wonder if some of the things the village spends money on are top priority. I'm worried about where the village might be if we continue spending the way we have for two or three more years. The village could tighten its belt, just like the average taxpayer."

Harook says it also bothers her that some issues don't receive enough consideration before being acted upon by the council.

"Some things just go through without being considered at all," Harook said. "If I'm elected, I'll stand on my own two feet, do my own research and make my own decisions. I'm not running for council to put a feather in my hat."

Harook was non-committal when asked about the wastewater treatment plant.

"I still have a lot of questions about the project myself, and I don't want to try to tell any taxpayer how to vote on the issue," she said. "I do think it will be interesting because the voters will have a chance to tell council exactly what they think of the plant. Then council will have to decide what to do."

Harook said she would favor the building of a shopping center for Chelsea.

"Let's face it, Chelsea is growing and we can't deny that growth," Harook said. "The village has a lot to offer. We just can't say no if they meet all the zoning and planning commission requirements. It would be like saying no to Taco Bell, or some of the other businesses that have moved here."

Harook said she opposes the village buying land behind the courthouse for a village parking lot because of the expense involved.

"Who's going to absorb that expense?" she asked.

Harook said that a top village priority should be the development of the industrial park "because of all the money invested there." She said the village should be more aggressive in promoting the park.

Prior to becoming Chelsea's zoning inspector, Harook worked for three and one half years at Chelsea Lumber Co., worked at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, but mostly stayed home and raised her daughter. She has worked with the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary for five years, and has recently become a member of the Cassity Lake Linnex Committee.

The first state legislation prohibiting discrimination in employment on the basis of race, creed or color was the Ives-Quinn Act in 1865, according to "Labor Facts in America," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

HURON VALLEY AMBULANCE driver Mike Watson on Feb. 19 is seen discussing the work done by the ambulance staff. Debbie Osborne (left), Lorraine Hurst and North Lake Pro-Schoolers are listening attentively.

NORTH LAKE PRE-SCHOOL members had an opportunity to see the inside of the Huron Valley Ambulance. Jim Fergie is showing Darlene Wiley some of the equipment inside the emergency vehicle.

Historical Society Offers Program on Rural Architecture

A slide show, "Rural Architecture in Washtenaw County," will be presented by Professor Marshall S. McLennan and Robin Haynes of Eastern Michigan University at the Washtenaw County Historical Society meeting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, March 9, at the Ann Arbor American Legion Home.

McLennan, of the EMU geography department, has directed the master's program in historic preservation since 1979. Ms. Haynes, an EMU lecturer, is a 1984 graduate of that program.

The show will focus on houses and some barns around the county as representatives of architectural styles and folk construction.

Professor McLennan recently completed six years on the Washtenaw County Historic District Commission, the last two as president. He is preparing a thematic nomination of the county's Greek Revival architecture for the National Register, the first such nomination in the United States.

The meeting is open to the public free of charge. Refreshments will be served. The American Legion Home is at 1635 S. Main. Parking is in the rear of the home.

Senate Committee On Safe Streets Schedules Hearing

The Senate Select Committee on Safe Streets will hold a public hearing in Scio township, State Rep. Margaret O'Connor (R-Lodi Township) has announced.

The hearing will be held on Friday, March 7 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Scio Township Hall located at 827 N. Zeeb Rd. O'Connor said the committee will take testimony from subpoenaed persons, including correction officers, guards, and concerned citizens regarding guard safety, corrections policies, conditions at different facilities. If time permits, other interested persons who wish to testify may do so.

The hearing is open to the public, and Mrs. O'Connor suggests that all interested citizens attend, particularly those with concerns about walk-aways or other corrections problems.

New Sewage Treatment Plant Will Expand Present Facility

Chelsea village president Jerry Satterthwaite, as president of the Chelsea village council, is concerned about the success of the bond issue for an extended and modernized sewage treatment plant.

"Most of the people I encounter are in favor of the proposition because sewage is a public health issue of the first magnitude," Satterthwaite said. "Nevertheless, concerned voters come to me and ask, 'what are we going to do with the present wastewater treatment plant? Abandon it?'"

"I have never thought so," Satterthwaite continued. "I have thought in terms of needed expansion. Lee Fahrner and other engineers have expressed similar opinions but I decided to go visit the old plant off McKinley St. I wanted particularly to talk to Mel Leach who has managed the plant for 25 years. It was a below freezing morning following an overnight snowfall but Mel and I toured the facility while he explained the advantages, as well as the shortfalls, of the 45-year-old treatment plant."

Satterthwaite summarized the results of his visit with Leach, saying, "The present facility, built in 1937 and upgraded around 1969, is capable of treating 700,000 gallons of wastewater a day but there are many days in the year when the daily demand runs as high as 900,000 gallons and sometimes tops a million. We are frequently in violation of state and federal sanitation laws and are at risk from both jurisdictions unless we improve the quality and quantity of our performance."

During his tour with the council president, Leach made a major point, "The proposed new wastewater treatment plant will be a most valuable reserve facility. At times, when even the new treatment plant is overwhelmed with excess gallonage, the old plant will serve as a holding reservoir until there is a chance to catch up with the demand."

Both Satterthwaite and Leach, as well as Lee Fahrner, assistant village administrator, agree that the proposed plan of expanding Chelsea's sewage system with new construction is good and necessary. While the village continues to benefit from its investment in the old system, the combined plan of building the new and saving the old is a good way of obeying the law and doing it at the least possible cost.

Wildlife Art Show Scheduled

Twenty of Michigan's most noted wildlife artists and carvers will have their work on display at the 5th annual Michigan Wildlife Art Exhibition March 1-3 at the Briarwood-Sheraton University Inn in Ann Arbor.

The show is sponsored by The Loft, and is free and open to the public.

The show is the largest and oldest gallery sponsored show in the state.

Some of the guest artists include Rod Lawrence, Cathy McClung, Russell Cobane, Distmar Krumery, and taxidermist Frank Newmyer.

In addition, a complete set of remastered Michigan duck stamp prints will be on display. There are only five complete sets in existence.

There will be more than 300 originals and prints on display and for sale.

Saturday's show runs from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday's show goes from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Chelsea Students Above State, National Average on Tests

Chelsea students are continuing to perform well above the national average on achievement tests and better than the state average on the Michigan Educational Assessment Program tests.

That's the word from Sue Carter, a counselor at Chelsea High school and testing coordinator for the district. She recently presented a summary of results on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT), the California Achievement Test (CAT), and the MEAP tests to the Chelsea school board.

Eighth and 11th graders take the CAT in the fall. The test has two sections. The first determines at what grade level a child is performing. The second determines what grade level the child appears to be capable of performing. By comparing the two scores, it can be determined if a child is over or underachieving.

Mean scores (mid-way point between the highest and lowest scores) for eighth graders show that in four of six areas, children are overachievers. Those areas include reading, math, total battery, and reference skills. In spelling, the two scores were identical. In total language skills, they were underachieving slightly.

However, in all those categories, eighth graders are performing at least at mid-year ninth grade level. In reading, math, total battery, and reference skills they are performing at 10th grade level.

Mean scores for 11th graders showed students performing at an advanced 12th grade level in all categories.

In every category, eighth grade mean scores are significantly better than the national scores, ranging from a low of 26 in spelling to a high of 77 in math. National mean scores are 56 in all categories.

For 11th graders, spelling again was the low score at 54, while language and math tied at the highest score of 78.

"The scores indicate our students have above-average skills when compared nationally," Carter said. "It does, however, point out that there is still room for improvement and that we need to keep striving. We need to look at our areas of strength and weakness as we continue to develop our curricular plans."

MEAP tests are given to fourth, seventh and 10 graders. Fourth graders average math scores were slightly higher than the state average (87.3 compared to 87.3). However, reading scores were significantly higher (92.8 to 84.4).

"At the fourth grade level in math, Chelsea's students surpassed the state averages in numeration, fractions, metric and non-metric measurement, and geometry, and less well in whole numbers," Carter said.

"In the reading section, their scores were higher than the state averages in all areas tested, including vocabulary meaning, literal and inferential comprehension, critical reading skills, and related study skills."

For seventh graders, average scores were higher in both categories. Scores were 84.5 compared to a state average of 79.7 in math, and 89.0 compared to a state average of 84.96 in reading.

For 10th graders, both average scores again were higher than the state averages—in math, 85.8 compared to 80.5 for the state, and in reading 88.4 compared to 83.5 for the state.

"At the seventh and 10th grade levels, Chelsea's students did better than the state in all areas of math, and in all areas of English," Carter said.

"At all grade levels we had more students performing in the top category than the state as a whole and had many fewer students performing in the lowest achievement category."

"The state as a whole, however, had the highest scores on the six tests. Fourth graders received the highest math scores and tenth graders had the highest reading scores state-wide. In Chelsea, our fourth graders had the highest math and reading scores district-wide."

Fourth, seventh and 10 grade students who received perfect scores will receive special recognition.

Carter said that over the years the gap between Chelsea and state scores has narrowed because the state scores have improved dramatically due to state-wide remediation programs.

Carter also reported the results of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) taken by juniors. She reported that scores ranged from 20 to 80 (the lowest and highest possible). Mean verbal scores for boys was 40.6, and for girls, 42.6. In math, the mean score for boys was 45.5 and for girls, 44.0.

The PSAT is essentially a practice college entrance exam. If you multiply the scores by 10, and add 20 points, the number is roughly equivalent to a score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), Carter said. Therefore, a score of 40.6 would translate roughly to 426 on the SAT.

No comparative national scores were available.

New Vision Test Can Determine Intoxication

If you're ever arrested for drunk driving in Chelsea, it might be your eyes that finally give you away.

Chelsea police are being trained to determine the level of intoxication in a driver using a new method called the Nystagmus test. It's designed to be a supplemental tool to a breath test.

Michigan State Police are educating officers state-wide in the new method, which is widely used in California.

The Nystagmus test measures at what point in a field of vision a person's eyes begin an involuntary jerking action. The jerking action may be the sign of intoxication by the suspect.

Police have discovered, through the medical profession, that the jerking action will begin at different points in the field of vision depending on how drunk the suspect is. The officer judges at what degree of angle the jerking begins when the suspect looks to the side. That angle, subtracted from fifty, gives the level of intoxication. For example, if the jerking begins at an angle of 30 degrees (zero degrees is looking straight ahead), that is subtracted from 50 to give 20, or an alcohol blood level of .20, twice the legal limit of intoxication.

"That number is right on the money," said Chelsea officer Dick Foster, who has been trained in the method. "It will come up the same as a breath test every time if it's done right."

Chelsea officers who have been trained in the method are already using it, according to chief Lenard McDougall.

McDougall said the Michigan State Police was to make the Nystagmus test standard operating procedure by police state-wide. He said it is not designed to take the place of any other test.

Officers are being trained in the method in Lansing. A grant covers all training expenses, McDougall said. The village only has to cover police wages.

Cagers Lose 3 SEC Games in Past Week, Now 2-9 for Season

The week of Feb. 17 will not be remembered as one of the finest in Chelsea basketball history.

The Bulldogs, looking at a possible (though somewhat improbable) fourth place finish in the Southeastern Conference, suffered a collapse worthy of the Zilwaukee bridge in losing three straight conference games, 58-51 to Dexter on Tuesday, 75-56 to Milan on Thursday, and 61-48 to Tecumseh on Friday.

"We were capable of beating at least two of those teams," said an understandably frustrated Chelsea coach Rob Rosenreter. "It's discouraging because as the season goes on we're losing to teams that we feel have less talent than us because we're shooting around a little over 30 percent. Now, when we have the chance to get back at them, we start shooting better, but we're making mistakes somewhere else."

The contest with the Dreadnaughts looked at the beginning as though it would be as close as the first time the teams met, when Dexter took a two-point victory at Dexter, 65-63.

That was before clutch foul shooting in the fourth quarter put the game away for Dexter.

Chelsea took a 15-16 lead early, before the Dreadnaughts began their climb back.

The first half ended with Dexter clinging to a 26-24 lead. However, at the 5:35 mark of the third quarter, Chelsea tied the game at 30 on a field goal by guard Ken Martin.

It was the Kyle Menard show the rest of the quarter, as the junior hit a field goal to give the Dreadnaughts a lead they would never relinquish. He scored six of the next eight points for Dexter in the quarter, a total of 10 for the period. Menard finished the game with 18 points, his best effort of the season.

Despite Menard's heroics, Chelsea was still well within reach going into the fourth quarter, down only 46-36. But Dexter scored quickly at the beginning of the quarter on field goals by Eric Meistrup and Jeff Bishop.

With an eight-point lead, Dexter spread the offense out. The Bulldogs were forced to foul down the stretch, a strategy which backfired when the Dreadnaughts made their foul shots, seven of eight at one stretch in the last two minutes of the game.

The foul shots, coupled with two critical three-point plays, took the steam out of any comeback the Bulldogs might have put together.

"Dexter played well," Rosenreter said. "As far as I'm concerned we got beat. On that night they played much better than we did and they deserved to win. They did everything that they had to do. They played a tough defense against us, and they seemed to score well in the second half, especially in the third quarter. I didn't expect Menard to have that type of game. As far as we were concerned, though, we didn't play defense in the third and fourth quarters."

Dexter finished the game hitting 14 of 18 free throws, eight in the last two minutes of the game, and 10 in the quarter.

The Bulldogs shot the ball well considering their season-long history. They were 21-52 from the floor, for 40 percent, and 9-14 from the free throw line, for 64 percent.

Rosenreter said junior Jeff Harvey had one of his best efforts of the season with 11 points.

"He was quite the competitor all night long," Rosenreter said. Harvey shared the scoring honors with Mark Barts. Martin followed with 10, Todd Starkey had seven, John Jedele and Dan Bellus had four each, and Ray Spencer and Greg Haist each had two points.

Milan, displaying an aggressive run-and-gun transition offense, scored 40 points in the first half, including the first nine points of the game, and ran away with the game by half-time. The Bulldogs found themselves down at the intermission, 40-26.

"At the beginning of the third quarter, we put in our best five shooters, based on their first-half performance, and missed our first nine shots," Rosenreter said.

Chelsea added to its own misery in the quarter by scoring just seven points to Milan's 16. By the end of three quarters, the Bulldogs were down by 23 points.

To their credit, Chelsea came back to score 25 points in the fourth quarter, to avoid what might have been their biggest embarrassment of the season.

"Neither team played defense in the fourth quarter," Rosenreter said.

For the second straight game, Chelsea put up some decent offensive statistics, making 19-36 from the field, and 23-39 from the line. However, Milan took 61 shots for the game, making 22. Barts again led the Bulldogs in scoring with 18 points, and Dan Bellus had 11, the only two Dogs in double figures. Haist followed with seven points, all in the fourth quarter. Starkey and Martin had six points each, Harvey had four, Jon Lane, three, Spencer, two, and Bohlender, one.

Blistering free throw shooting on the part of the Tecumseh Indians made the difference in last Friday night's loss.

Tecumseh made 15-20 shots, compared to 8-14 for the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs were down by only one at half-time, 39-38, but were out-scored in each of the last two quarters.

"I think we were a little tired after having played the night

TODD STARKEY drives for two points against a host of Chelsea defenders during last week's 58-61 loss to the Dreadnaughts. The Dexter defense held the scrappy point guard to seven points on the evening, as the Dreadnaughts pulled away in the second half.

MATT MCCORMACK GOES UP over Chelsea's Mark Barts for what ends up being a critical three-point play in the fourth quarter. McCormack scored five points in the 58-51 Dreadnaught victory.

JV Cagers Win 1 of 3 in Past Week

Chelsea JV basketball team edged Tecumseh last Friday night, 58-46, but lost two other Southeastern Conference games, 48-62, to Milan, and 58-62 to Dexter.

"Tecumseh is always a tough place for us to play," said Chelsea coach Ted Hendricks. "They are also a very improved team." Chelsea beat the Indians the first time around by 30 points.

The Bulldogs got a big boost by their free throw shooting, hitting 19-26 shots.

"It shot like that every game, and have a much better record," Hendricks said.

The Bulldogs were led by Matt Menard's 13 points. Matt Steinhauser had 11 points, and John Castell, 10.

In the Dexter contest, free throw shooting made the difference as the Bulldogs made only 13 of 27 tries on the night.

"We need to shoot at least 60 percent to be in contention with anybody," said Hendricks.

Steinhauser led the team with 15 points, and Clay Hard had 10. The Bulldogs, ahead all night long against the Milan Big Reds, lost the game in the final seconds on a short jump shot.

"We completely fell apart," Hendricks said. "We were ahead at one time, 14-4. We couldn't seem to put them away, which has happened too many times with this team."

Chelsea had the ball with a one-point lead with 16 seconds remaining. They used their final time out on an in-bounds play that failed to materialize. After the time out, Milan fouled the first Bulldog to touch the ball, and the subsequent foul shot was missed. Milan took the ball down the court for an uncontested jump shot with five seconds left.

Steinhauser had 13 points, John Castell had nine, and Junior Merrens had eight.

The Bulldogs take a 6-13 overall record, and 3-6 SEC mark, into the final week of the season.

"Since we don't have a tournament to prepare for, I told the team that we're going to concentrate on having fun," Hendricks said. "If we can learn a few things along the way, so much the better. But I plan on playing a few kids who haven't seen much action this season."

Rob Benedict Helps Hilldale in Indoor Nationals

Former Chelsea trackman Rob Benedict, a student at Hilldale College, placed sixth on the distance medley relay team in the NAIA Indoor Nationals at Kansas City last Saturday.

The team turned in a time of 19:23. Benedict ran the half-mile leg of the race.

Benedict's two-mile relay team also placed seventh in the meet.

Pete Hanna Qualifies for State Tourney

Bulldog Pete Hanna qualified for this week-end's state wrestling tournament with a second-place finish in the regionals at Jackson County Western.

Hanna, competing at 119 pounds, lost to Dave Beck, of Hilldale, in the finals, 3-0.

Ron Boudanski, at 128 pounds, and Steve Wingrove, at 167 pounds, were both eliminated before they could qualify.

"Pete has an excellent chance to place," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"It's a whole different ball game at the state meet because you have the top 16 wrestlers in each class."

Hanna beat Deron Crow, of Gull Lake, and Ted Eagle, of Dalton, before losing to Scott-Dexter's David Fulkerson, who also qualified for the state by finishing third.

Boudanski was just one match short of qualifying. He beat Andy Bishop, of Allegan, in his second match before losing to Jason Dewland, of Jackson County Western.

Wingrove, in a tough division, lost to Jeff Stonebreaker, of Sturgis, and Rich Dillingham, of South Haven.

JV Volleyballers Defeat Richard, Loses to Dexter

Chelsea's JV volleyball team came back to win a close match with Gabriel Richard after losing the first game, 14-16.

The JV's won the final two games, 15-6 and 15-13.

In the first game, Kim Easton and Kelly Scott had excellent sets, setting up good spikes for Laura Walton, Mandy Ryan and Tonya Grammatico.

In the second game, Leah Enderle ran off 10 points before her serve was broken. The third game consisted of many long volleys. Lynda Laier, Chris Basso, Jennifer Lewis, Holly Baltzell, and Wendy Hunn had great games.

On Thursday the team lost to Dexter, 9-15, 16-9, and 7-15. The Bulldogs had trouble adjusting to the Dreadnaughts' fine blocking, something JV's don't see often. Hunn, Shannon Dunn, Scott and Walton had particularly good games for Chelsea.

Bulldog Tankers Dominate Chelsea Invitational Meet

Chelsea swim team completed their regular season last Thursday with the Chelsea "A" Invitational meet, and dominated the event.

"Our swimmers finished their season in high style as there were many life-time best swims," said Chelsea coach Mike Keeler.

"Across the board, our swimmers dropped their times in all of their events."

The only record to fall was the 400-yard freestyle relay freshman record. This relay consisted of freshmen Scott Sheffield, David Walker, Terry Draper, and Chris Birtles.

"I was very pleased to see that new record as those guys had to swim their life-time bests just to get close and they ended up breaking the record by over one and a half seconds," Keeler said.

The results of the rest of the meet are as follows. An asterisk indicates life-time best times.

200 medley relay: 1. Chelsea A, 1:45.55 (Craig Miller, Dan Degener, Scott Pryor, Jeff Nemeth); 4. Chelsea B, 1:54.88

(Terry Draper, Matt Doan, Kevin Brock, Dan Dent); 8. Chelsea C, 2:01.91 (Scott Sheffield, Howard Merkel, Lloyd Brown, Tyler Lewis)

200 freestyle: 7. Hosner, 2:05.89; 9. David Walker, 2:14.81; 11. Michael Hollo, 2:27.56.

200 individual medley: 3. Degener, 2:10.98; 5. Darren Girard, 2:16.96; 8. Brock, 2:19.71; 12. Merkel, 2:28.82.

50 freestyle: 2. Miller, 24.10; 5. Chris Birtles, 25.46; 10. Dent, 25.90; 12. Lewis, 26.11.

Diving (11 dives): 1. Westhoven, 346.50; 2. Lewis, 328.75; 6. Luck, 204.85.

100 butterfly: 1. Pryor, :55.12; 4. Brock, 1:01.61; 6. Brown, 1:02.86.

100 freestyle: 4. Chris Birtles, :54.86; 9. Terry Draper, :56.59; 12. Scott Sheffield, :59.60; 11. Dan Dent, :58.20.

500 freestyle: 1. Girard, 5:36.53; 5. Hosner, 5:45.32; 8. Walker, 6:13.13.

200 backstroke: 1. Miller,

:54.51; 2. Nemeth, :59.12; 3. Doan, 1:05.34; 7. Draper, 1:07.86.

100 breaststroke: 5. Brown, 1:12.89; 8. Merkel, 1:14.02; 11. Hollo, 1:20.15.

400 freestyle relay: 2. Chelsea A, 3:29.92 (Nemeth, Degener, Doan, Pryor*); 5. Chelsea B, 3:49.48 (Birtles, Sheffield*, Westhoven*, Girard); 7. Chelsea C, 4:20.51 (Hosner*, Walker, Hollo*, Luck*).

On March 7-8 the Bulldogs compete in the state meet in Grand Rapids. The preliminaries are Friday beginning at 2 p.m., and the finals are Saturday at 2 p.m.

Beach Swimmers Top Undeclared Season By Winning Erie Tourney

Beach Middle school swim team finished its undefeated season by winning the largest junior high swimming invitational in the state recently. Nine teams competed in the Erie-Mason Invitational Feb. 13, and Chelsea took the top spot by 16 points over second-place Erie-Mason.

Chelsea last won the invitational in 1981.

Brett Paddock, David Oesterle, Garth Girard and Brian Brock placed second in the medley relay, and Holden Harris, Jim Alford, Melissa Johnson and Scott Marsh were sixth.

In the 200 freestyle, Girard was third, Von Acker, fifth Greg Garen, eighth and Joe Huettnerman, ninth.

In the individual medley, Paddock was third and Oesterle, 11th. Wally Schmid won the 50 freestyle.

In diving, Debbie Webb was fourth, and Michelle Hollo, 12th. In the 50 butterfly, Girard was fourth, and Acker, sixth.

Schmid was third in the 100 freestyle and Brian Brock finished ninth.

Paddock was third in the 100 backstroke, followed by Holden Harris, in fifth, and Melissa Johnson, in 11th.

In the 100 breaststroke, Alford was second and Oesterle, third.

The 400 freestyle relay team of Acker, Schmid, Harrison and Brock placed fourth, while the team of Jill Nowatzke, Garen, Charity Strong and Huettnerman was seventh.

Volleyball Team Comes to Life in Ann Arbor Tourney

Chelsea varsity volleyball team has had a busy second half of the month.

Feb. 13 the Bulldogs took on Lincoln and lost 8-15, 15-6, and 12-15.

"Lincoln is an improved team and they really played well against us," said Chelsea coach Karen Tobin.

"Chelsea was a little tight that night and didn't play with confidence. We had trouble receiving the serve of Heather Price and she scored 13 points."

Scorers included Mary Lazart, nine points; Beth Paddock, eight points; Sladjana Janicevic, three points; Lisa Swearingen, three points; Jennifer Swearingen, six points; Heidi Hosner, two points; Kristie Centilli, two points; and Wendy Harden, two points.

The next evening, Chelsea lost a close match to the Finckley Pirates, 13-15, 9-15.

"Chelsea played well the first game and it went back and forth," Tobin said. "But we couldn't quite pull it out. After losing the first game, we lost some of our aggressiveness and didn't play as hard as we should have."

Chelsea scorers included Swearingen, six points; Janicevic, four points; Lazart, and Paddock, three points; Trish Matloff and Hosner, two points.

Feb. 17 the Bulldogs took on Gabriel Richard and lost two games by the score of 3-15.

"We were just plain intimidated by their reputation and the height of Annie Schwartz," Tobin said. "After the game was over we realized we could probably play better against them."

On Feb. 20, the Bulldogs lost to Dexter, 7-15, 6-15.

"We wanted to beat Dexter and I think we played too tight,"

Tobin said. "We never really got going in this game because we never relaxed enough to play our game. Again, we had trouble receiving the serve. It seems that in each match we play one server who goes on a run and puts us in a hole."

Chelsea scorers included Janicevic, four points and one ace; Swearingen and Paddock, three points; Matloff, two points; and Hosner, one point.

In the Ann Arbor Area Tournament Feb. 22, the Bulldogs finished third in their pool behind the eventual finalists Gabriel Richard and Birmingham Seaholm. Seaholm won the tournament.

"Chelsea had a very good day with our best performance of the season," Tobin said. "We played consistently and aggressively all day. We received strong setting."

U.P. Moose Herd In Good Condition

The brainworm parasite has claimed its fourth moose victim. This brings to eight the number of moose lost among Michigan's transferred herd of 29 adult moose (18 bulls, 19 cows) brought over from Canada in January, 1985, report Department of Natural Resources (DNR) wildlife biologists. The cause of death of the other four moose remains undetermined.

"It's important to stress," said DNR Wildlife Division Chief Ed Mikula, "these deaths by no means sway our optimism for the herd's survival and growth, particularly with the birth of 21 calves this past spring to this transferred herd."

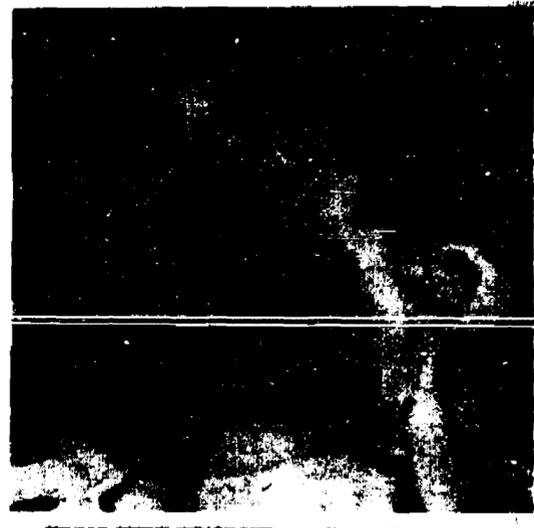

Added Mikula, "Past research and moose transfer projects carried out in other states show if we can hold our population through this winter to what was initially brought over (29 moose) we're doing very well." The herd size now numbers 42, of which seven are adult bulls, 15 adult cows and 20 are calves.

DNR veterinarian, Dr. Stephen Schmitt, confirmed brainworm was the cause of death following an autopsy performed on the cow last month after it was found in Baraga county, near Shance, Wednesday afternoon. He reported the cow had been dead only a short time.

DNR wildlife biologists, while conducting a ground check of the herd, were led to the cow by a mortality sensing radio collar worn by the cow. The collar (affixed to each of the 29 moose) transmits a mortality signal to DNR plane or ground crews when a moose remains stationary for more than two hours.

Police Officers Testing New Radio Equipment
Chelsea police will soon have five new portable radios. Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall has ordered two Midland brand radios. McDougall said he wanted to test them out before he committed to buying the remaining three. Chelsea Village Council recently authorized McDougall to spend $6,500 on the radios. The radios are the kind officers carry with them. "Each full-time officer will have responsibility for one of the radios," McDougall said. "It will be a personal piece of equipment."

World Day of Prayer Set Saturday, March 8
Saturday, March 8, Chelsea area women are invited to First United Methodist church, 128 Park St., for the World Day of Prayer celebration. World Day of Prayer is a worldwide call to prayer observed by Christian women of many traditions in the United States and more than 170 countries and regions of the world. "Choose Life," theme of the 1986 service, articulates the hard choices women are called upon to make if peace is to be achieved in today's world. This service is a challenge to women of the world from Christian women of Australia who wrote this year's World Day of Prayer worship materials. It calls women to make decisions and take actions that will begin to change the injustices and inequities that cause suffering to countless numbers of the world's people. World Day of Prayer, celebrated this year for the 99th consecutive year, began in the United States in 1887 as a day of prayer for mission by laywomen in the Presbyterian church. It now has spread world-wide and acts as a catalyst for women to come together in continuing relationships of prayer and action for peace. Church Women United, sponsors of World Day of Prayer in the United States, is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service. Church Women United (CWU) represents a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background and works through a national unit, 52 state units (including ones in Greater Washington, D.C. and Puerto Rico) and 1,800 local units. World Day of Prayer offerings make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United, including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international projects in support of empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace. Chelsea World Day of Prayer observance at First United Methodist church, welcomes all women in the area to a "white

Family Film Series Set at Free Methodist Church

Over 50 million parents were inspired by "Focus on the Family." Now, Dr. James and Shirley Dobson have taken the next dramatic step, introducing a powerful six-part film series that will move you to action. "Turn Your Heart Toward Home." Following are the film titles and dates, all Sundays, at 6 p.m. Nursery will be available and everyone is welcome to join the Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7885 Werliker Rd. For more information, please call 475-1301.

March 2—"A Father Looks Back" emphasizes how swiftly time passes and appeals to all parents to "turn their hearts toward home" during the all-important child-rearing years. March 9—"Power in Parenting: The Young Child" offers many practical ideas for facing the battlegrounds in child-rearing—bedtime, mealtime and other confrontations so familiar to parents. March 16—"Power in Parenting: The Adolescent" discusses father/daughter and mother/son relationships, and the importance of allowing children to grow and develop as individuals. March 23—"The Family Under Fire" views the family in the context of today's society, where a "civil war of values" is being waged. Dr. Dobson urges parents to look at the effects of governmental interference, abortion and pornography, and to get involved. To preserve what they care about most—their own families. (Not recommended for young audiences.) March 30—"Overcoming A Painful Childhood" includes Shirley Dobson's intimate memories of a difficult childhood with her alcoholic father, and the influences which brought her to a loving God. April 6—"The Heritage" presents Dr. Dobson's powerful closing remarks. Here he speaks clearly of four traditional values which can help assure happy, healthy, strengthened homes and family relationships in the years to come.

Weights & Measures Week Being Observed

March 1-7 has been declared National Weights and Measures week says Charleen Berels, director of Washtenaw County Consumer Services Department and Sealer of Weights and Measures. This week is intended to celebrate the efforts of government employees who provide a service of protecting the interests of buyers and sellers of commodities nation-wide. Locally, the Washtenaw County Weights and Measures inspector checks all weighing and volume measuring devices used in sales made to the public. In 1985 alone more than 600 gasoline pumps and 500 scales were inspected in the spirit of protecting both buyer and seller. Errors in equipment can affect merchant and consumer which eventually causes someone to lose money, Berel states. National Weights and Measures week is intended to make this often "Silent Service" well known to the community. It is intended to celebrate "Good Business Practices."

Juvenile Charged With Vandalizing Cemetery Gate Lights

Charges are pending against two juvenile boys who were arrested Feb. 8 after they climbed the stone gate at Oak Grove Cemetery and vandalized one of the glass globes. According to Chelsea police, the 15-year-old boys were seen by an area resident at approximately 9 p.m. that Saturday night. Police said the damage to the globe was $40.

I asked Jesus, "Lord, how much do you love me?"
Jesus replied: "This much." Then He spread His arms on the cross, and died for me.

THANK YOU

The Kresge Alzumi, Chelsea Substance Abuse Task Force and Chelsea Hospital would like to thank all those businesses and volunteers who helped in the "I am the Driver" campaign over the holidays. Because of this effort and the work of other groups and organizations we had the safest New Year's Eve in living memory—three traffic fatalities state-wide.

We would like to thank: The Wolverine, The Woodshed, Scham's, Hamburg Pub, Stivers, Irvensens Tavern, Bowl 'N' Bar (Dexter), Sportman's Lounge (Dexter), Savory's (Ann Arbor), Mountain Jacks (Ann Arbor), Renaissance Center (Detroit).

All of these establishments offered free non-alcoholic drinks to patrons who wore a button or sticker that said "I am the Driver." We commend their concern for their customers. We also wish to extend our appreciation to radio station WPAG in Ann Arbor. They donated a good deal of air time letting the public know of the program. Also, to all the volunteers who made signs, contacted businesses or passed our buttons or stickers, you have our thanks. And to all who wore buttons or stickers or who thought about it—thank yourself!

Plans are underway to expand this effort. If you wish to participate or help you can contact the Substance Abuse Department at Chelsea Hospital, 475-1311, ext. 215.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all my relatives, neighbors and friends for their visits, gifts and cards while I was in the hospital and since my return home; also, Dr. Krausse and the nurses for their time and attention, my son, Robert, for getting me to the hospital so fast and his family for all the time spent transporting me back and forth for tests. Everything is greatly appreciated. Leroy Heller.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank my family, friends for the cards, flowers and visits I received while I was sick and in the hospital; also Drs. Weber and Reinhardt and the nurses for the wonderful care given me. God bless each and everyone of you. Mrs. Iva Keezer.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all those special people who sent cards or flowers or took time to call while I was in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and since returning home. A special thank you to the Rev. Koch and my very special family. Barb Krichbaum.

Soil Erosion Threatens Washtenaw Farmland

A large part of the true wealth of Washtenaw county is its soil and water. If the value of these resources is not fully appreciated, it is because there has always been enough soil and water to produce adequate supplies of food and fiber. Washtenaw county's soil and water resources, however, are finite and vulnerable. Some of the information revealed by the 1982 National Resources Inventory is not reassuring.

Wind and water erosion are occurring on all cropland in Washtenaw county. 102,700 acres of this land are eroding faster than the land can tolerate and remain productive. Over a million tons of soil are being eroded from Washtenaw county farms each year.

Highly erodible soils complicate erosion problems in the southern part of the county, where continuous rowcrop rotations are commonly used. Sheet and rill erosion in the area often exceed 7 tons per acre per year.

Large fields, the absence of windbreaks and clean tillage make most of the area around Manchester vulnerable to severe wind erosion. Wind erosion on coarse textured soils is often three times as severe as sheet and rill erosion.

Soil washed or blown from the land adversely affects all people, who must absorb the cost of removing sediment from road ditches, drainage channels, lakes and streams.

According to the National Resources Inventory (NRI) conservation practices are needed on 129,000 acres of the county's cropland to reduce soil erosion and improve crop production. Conservation tillage, crop residue management and cover crops may be all that is needed to control erosion on relatively level cropland in the county.

Grassed waterways, contour farming, diversions and erosion control structures may be needed on land with a severe erosion problem to support conservation tillage, crop rotations and other management practices.

Conservation practices are also needed on 33,360 acres of forest

The carpenter who built the first stocks in Boston in 1634, a man named Palmer, was the first to occupy them—far charging what the town elders thought was an excessive sum for the stocks' construction.

Michigan Tourism Hits $12.6 Billion

Michigan's tourism revenues increased 7 percent to a record $12.6 billion in 1985 due to the state economy's continued upswing, stronger travel promotion and more out-of-state visitors, according to AAA Michigan.

"This is the third straight year tourism revenues rose in the state," stated AAA Travel Services Director Peter R. Erickson. "There was an 11 percent rise in tourism revenues over the 1984 total of $11.4 billion, but when inflation is factored in, the actual growth was 7 percent."

Total state tax revenues resulting from tourism last year also hit a record $582 million, surpassing the $525 million collected in 1984 and $488 million in 1983.

"Last year's revenue increase occurred despite greatly reduced air fares, especially to other U.S. cities, bargains in charter trips and the strength of the U.S. dollar overseas," Erickson said. "While many Michiganians took advantage of long-distance vacation bargains, they also traveled more within the state."

The Michigan Department of Transportation reports a record 68.4 billion miles were traveled in the state in 1985 compared to the previous high of 67.4 billion in 1978.

Erickson said a major reason for the increased tourism was the Michigan Travel Bureau's strengthened advertising budget, which increased from $2.6 million in 1982 to $3.6 million last year. The additional promotion helped encourage more travelers to vacation in Michigan, especially those from other states, he pointed out.

Requests by AAA Michigan members for routings to Michigan destinations rose 4 percent. AAA officers state-wide serviced 9 percent more out-of-state residents than in 1984.

Three of the state's four regional tourist offices reported business was up over 1984 and the other indicated business was about even.

A spring-summer survey by the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association showed nearly 83 percent of those polled had improved business activity compared to 1984. Officials from the West Michigan tourist Association said business was about 8 percent ahead of 1984.

The Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreation Association noted tourism revenues were up about 2 percent over-all. The bureau cited increased tour promotions with motor coach operators which brought in more visitors for fall color tours.

The East Michigan Tourist Association reported revenues were about even with 1984. Despite some rainy week-end weather, improved fishing due to larger walleye plantings in Tawas Bay and Saginaw Bay brought more fishermen into the area.

The average trip in Michigan lasted 4 1/2 days, according to the National Travel Data Center. The average expenditure was $151 per person, per trip, up 4.5 percent over 1984.

Taxpayers May Round Off Figures To Nearest Dollar

Taxpayers are encouraged to round off cents to the nearest dollar when figuring their federal income taxes, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

However, if a taxpayer rounds off one dollar item, all amounts must be rounded off. Amounts under 50 cents should be dropped, and amounts from 50 cents to 99 cents should be increased to the next highest dollar.

One advantage to taxpayers when rounding off is the likelihood of fewer errors in math because there will be rounded figures to compute.

Purdue Forestry Professor May Be on '87 Space Shuttle

West Lafayette, Ind.—In the office of Purdue University forestry professor Roger M. Hoffer, there are five pictures of space shuttles at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and a poster of a hillside forest. The poster says "You have only to open your eyes to see the hand of God."

Hoffer may get the chance to view the Earth from a different angle if he is chosen as payload specialist for a remote sensing project scheduled aboard a space shuttle mission in 1987. The professor, who came to Purdue in 1964, is one of six finalists who applied for the position last November. He is married to the former Connie Steinbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steinbach of Chelsea.

Forty-four scientists from around the world, members of the Shuttle Imaging Radar-B (SIR-B) project, were given the opportunity to apply for the job, a repeat of a 1984 shuttle mission. If selected for the mission, Hoffer said, "I would represent the entire SIR-B team to get good quality information for everyone."

Hoffer traveled to Florida in October 1984 to watch the liftoff of that flight. During that mission an attempt was made to obtain radar data on more than 100 test sites throughout the world. Some problems developed, one being a wayward antenna that relayed less than hoped for results. Nevertheless, some information was gathered which proved helpful to researchers. NASA decided the project had many merits and has agreed to try it again on a mission next year.

The experiments use the shuttle imaging radar data to make reliable measurements for surveying, mapping, identifying, and investigating water or ground surfaces. Much of the radar imagery would be taken to aid researchers world-wide. SIR-B members have submitted projects to study ocean surfaces, soil moisture, geography, and many other topics.

The radar data would be used to investigate such things as deforestation in South America, world crop production, and water currents and icebergs in shipping lanes. The data might also find crop or forest areas that are being damaged by chemicals or pests. Other projects involve looking for mineral deposits or other geological features. And some projects are concerns with the health and welfare of the local populace. For example, by locating standing water in Southeast Asia, pesticides could be applied to rid the area of malaria-carrying mosquitoes.

One experiment that is scheduled for the July 1987 shuttle mission is Hoffer's "Microwave and Optical Remote Sensing of Forest Vegetation." This research seeks to learn more about forest stands in northern Florida, Maine and northern Michigan.

A Michigan native, Hoffer was notified of his selection as a finalist in late January. He submitted his application to the SIR-B project co-ordinator at the Jet Propulsion Laboratories in California. Finalists were selected based on their experience in remote sensing and SIR-B, familiarity with the photogrammetry system, and knowledge of space flight and aircraft.

The July 1987 shuttle mission is scheduled to liftoff from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. However, setbacks due to the Jan. 28 explosion of the space shuttle Challenger may delay the flight.

Hoffer's skills won him the Alan Gordon Memorial Award in 1979 for his outstanding accomplishments in advancing the state-of-the-art of remote sensing and interpretations as related to forestry and photogrammetry. The presenters also cited Hoffer's achievements in the development of computer-aided data analysis techniques and his work with the American Society of Photogrammetry in the technical field and the classroom.

The professor is a founding member of Purdue's Laboratory for Applications of Remote Sensing, which began 20 years ago.

PROF. ROGER M. HOFFER

How To Appeal Your Property Tax Assessments

Prepared By The Michigan Tax Information Council

Assessment is the process of determining the true cash value of property for the purposes of calculating property taxes. Under Michigan law, 50% of the true cash value of property is the taxable value. It is up to each of Michigan's 1,531 different units of local government to fairly assess the value of taxable properties within their jurisdiction.

True cash value is the "usual selling price" of property. However, assessments are done annually and few homes are actually sold every year. Assessments are based on sales that actually occur in the marketplace, and other factors including age, lot and house size, quality and type of construction, number of rooms, and the neighborhood. Thus, the process involves some judgment and uncertainty not found in other taxes.

more information; it is crucial that you observe relevant deadlines for filing your appeal or you'll lose your chance this year. Non-residents may file a written protest, but appeals generally must be made in person or by a designated representative.

How To Prepare Yourself

Before presenting your own appeal, you may want to sit in on a hearing to get an idea what it is like. Checking the board's reaction to other people's appeals may prove helpful, and you may learn about technical points you didn't understand clearly. Take notes, and don't be afraid to ask clarifying questions before going before the board yourself.

Make an effort to document your case with examples of comparable housing sold at lower prices than your appraisal, or of sales patterns in your neighborhood. Sometimes an external factor, such as a school closing, will affect your property's value. Your appeal must be limited to questioning the validity of the tax assessment, such as noting that similar housing in your neighborhood has sold at lower prices than your appraisal. Your appeal should NOT include any arguments regarding the tax rate or the purpose for which tax dollars are used. The Board of Review of the Tax Tribunal have no control over these issues. Limit your remarks to your assessment and you'll improve your chances for a favorable judgment.

The Michigan Tax Tribunal

If the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the decision, the next remedy is to write to the Michigan Tax Tribunal (Treasury Department, P.O. Box 30230, Lansing 48909; phone 517/373-8856). Appeals to the Tax Tribunal MUST be preceded by appeal through the Board of Review process AND received no later than June 30 each year. The letter should include the name and address of the property owner, the legal description of the property, the county and township or city where the property is located, the date of protest to the local board of review, and a brief statement of the reason for the appeal. There is no fee, and the tribunal holds hearings at various locations throughout the state.

Three states—Iowa, South Carolina and Utah—have more female drivers than male drivers, according to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

Moose . . .

An airplane check earlier of the transferred moose on Monday, Feb. 10, showed no sign of trouble in the cow. Twice-a-week airplane checks of the herd will continue by Department personnel.

This last cow found was one of 17 transferred cows to give birth to a calf last spring in the U.P. The cow's calf was located by DNR biologists near the site of its mother and found to be in good condition.

As in past moose research, DNR wildlife biologists expected some losses to brainworm in this new herd, and feel the number of Michigan moose lost to the parasite is not unusual. Brainworm, a disease of the nervous system, is transmitted from its normal host, the white-tailed deer, to snails and slugs that are in turn ingested by the moose as they graze.

The Local Board of Review

When errors are pointed out, most assessors are willing to adjust your appraisal without requiring any formal appeal process. However, if you remain unsatisfied, there is a method for appealing property tax assessments. Each jurisdiction has its own citizen Board of Review which is empowered to hear assessment appeals and render a decision. By law, your assessor's office must furnish you with the forms necessary to present the appeal. It is generally a good idea to ask any questions you have about the form and be sure you understand it before you leave the assessor's office.

Some city charters specify a different date, but most Boards of Review begin meeting on the second Monday of March, with meeting time and place advertised locally. Call your local assessor for

GASOLINE PRICES are dropping in Chelsea, but not as fast as some locations east of the village. At some spots in Ann Arbor, the price for no-lead gas has dipped below the $1.00 mark, and regular can be purchased for about 90 cents a gallon. The price has dropped due to the unprecedented fall in the price of OPEC oil in the last few months. At press time, $7.3 cents was the lowest price for a gallon of regular gasoline within the village limits. Station operators were uncertain whether the price would continue to fall as they are at the mercy of their suppliers.

You may not know it, but flying squirrels could be visiting your backyard bird feeder. According to National Wildlife magazine, if you have mature leaf-bearing trees on your property, chances are good that squirrels which look like they're flying have been by at night. How can you tell? At dusk, turn on an outdoor light that's just bright enough for you to see the feeder... and check the feeder for visitors about once an hour.

March of Dimes Fashion Show Slated March 8

Saturday, March 8 marks the annual March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation Fashion Show. This year's gala event, to be held at the Michigan League, is titled "Spectacular Spring."

Jacobson's of Ann Arbor will furnish an exciting array of fashions previewing what we may expect to see in Ann Arbor, Paris and New York. A special segment of the show features an upcoming University of Michigan Alumni Association trip to Hawaii and Tahiti!

The festivities begin with a cocktail hour at 11:30 a.m., followed by lunch at 12:30, with modeling to begin promptly at 1:30.

Ann Arbor's well-known actress and singer, Judith Dow Alexander, will provide commentary for the show.

There will be entertainment during the luncheon, followed by the Steve Edwards Trio playing upbeat jazz during the modeling.

Chairperson for the show is Jackie Wright. Margaret Miles, of Jacobson's staff, is handling co-ordination. Pat Christie's decorations will accent this year's exciting new colors. Judy Seing has produced the programs and invitations.

This year's cast of models includes Chief of Police Wm. Corbett, Tom Conlin, of Conlin Travel Bureau, City Councilman Gerald Jeruigan, architects Richard Black and Dave Peters, State Senator Lana Pollack, the Rev. Carolyn Irish, Maya Savarino, Carla Mandel, Patti Perzan and Rosalie Edwards. Also modeling are Sharon and Nick Sayder, and Jordie, Pat Yohey, Nick Noel, Susan and Barbara Olesnick, Lois Thilman, Billie Goedert, Sarah Corey, Elizabeth Adams and Vera Embree. Gary Thornton, Tom Green, Fulton Eaglin, Brian Wright and Dick Chrysler complete the cast.

Last year's show raised over $4,000 for the March of Dimes. In addition to grants for research and medical institutions, the Foundation presents community and school programs and seminars throughout the community.

Matthew C. Hoffmann has generously donated a very special piece of jewelry to be raffled after the luncheon.

Reservations for the show may be made by calling the March of Dimes office at 781-6331.

Farm Council Elects Slate Of Officers

Ron Diabie of Ann Arbor and representative of Lodi and Pittsfield townships, was elected president of the Washtenaw County Farm Council at the annual meeting on Jan. 21. Karl Ehnis of Whitmore Lake, representing Salem and Northfield townships, was elected vice-president.

The officers and board members administer the affairs of the Farm Council Grounds, site of such events as the Saline Community Fair, the County 4-H Fair, the Ann Arbor Antiques Market, horse and dog shows and the Saline Rodos.

Board members for 1986 are Donald F. Buchanan of Whitmore Lake, representing Webster and Scio townships; Ron Cundiff of Saline, representing Saline and York townships; Earl Heller of Chelsea, representing Sylvan and Lima townships; Earl Horning of Manchester, representing Freedom and Sharon townships; Carl Lesser of Dexter, representing Lyndon and Dexter townships; Russell Lutton of Manchester, representing Bridgewater and Manchester townships; and Byron Staebler of Ann Arbor, representing Ann Arbor and Superior townships.

Beverly Post of Manchester was re-named the secretary. Stan Post of Manchester was re-named manager and will handle all rentals of the Farm Council Grounds.

NOTRE DAME CATHEDRAL was the subject of an exhibit in the Chelsea High school media center last week. The exhibit, made available from the Detroit Institute of Arts, was also the centerpiece of a contest for the students. The first 15 students to answer a series of questions, based on information available in the exhibit itself, won bookmarks. The exhibit was on display from last Thursday through yesterday. Media center specialist Sherrill Fryer made all arrangements.

SENIOR JIMAE RITTER was one of many Chelsea High school students to take in the Notre Dame Cathedral Exhibit while it was on display in the high school media center last week. Media specialist Sherrill Fryer arranged for the exhibit through the Detroit Institute of Arts. Most of the display was composed of photographs by various renowned photographers. There was also a scale model on display. Students competed for book marks by testing their knowledge of the cathedral after viewing the exhibit.

from Mary Lazarz, Trish Mattoff and Kristie Centilli to get our offense moving. Our passing was much better.

"We received strong defensive play from Pam Brown, Missy Connell and Jennifer Colvin in the back row on the spikes and the serves. Our hitting also came along with Kathryn Morgan having an especially good day."

Gabriel Richard beat the Bulldogs 6-15, 4-15 in the tournament.

"We played them much tougher this time and they had to work harder than the score indicates," Tobin said.

The Bulldogs split with Milan in the tournament, 14-16, 15-5.

"Milan might have had a little more incentive since we had defeated them twice earlier in the season," Tobin said. "Everything came together in the second game and we won our first game of the day thanks to some strong serving."

In the Milan contest, Janicevic scored eight points, with four aces; Paddock had seven points, with one ace, Lazarz, six points, Hosner, three points; Mattoff, five points with two aces.

The highlight of the tournament for Chelsea was beating Ann Arbor Huron in both games, 15-13, 15-10. "We set a goal for the day of winning three games," Tobin said. "Everything came together for us—our serving, passing, setting and hitting."

Chelsea scorers included Lazarz, 10 points, one ace; Janicevic, 10 points, two aces, including six points in a row to close out the second game; Keiser, four points, one ace;

Hosner and Mattoff, three points each.

Chelsea lost to Birmingham Seaholm in their final match of the day, 5-15, 6-15.

"This was a tough team to play at the end of the day, but the team showed how far they have come and played strong right up to the end," Tobin said.

Chelsea scorers were Lazarz, six points; Keiser, three points; and Mattoff and Hosner, one point.

"We have had wonderful fan support all year and we hope it continues on Thursday with our match against Pinckney," Tobin said.

"Even if you are on the right track, you will get run over if you just sit there." Will Rogers

Chelsea Area Players Report Successful Play

Anita McDonald's ticket was chosen as the winning entry in the Chelsea Area Players drawing of those who attended the winter production of "You Know I Can't Hear You When The Water's Running." She wins the prize of dinner for two at the Chelsea Woodshed Restaurant.

The Chelsea Area Players held a working board meeting Thursday, Feb. 13 at St. Louis school. After a short meeting, all the board members pitched in to do last-minute work prior to opening night. The effort was worthwhile as the production was termed a success. More than 400 people were in attendance at the three presentations.

Board members began coordinating plans for this summer's musical which will be "Camelot." In addition the players will be offering a summer workshop for children through Community Education. More details will be announced at a later date.

For more information call or write the Chelsea Area Players at Box 575, Chelsea or phone 475-2829.
