ONE HUNDRED-FIFTEENTH YEAR—No. 43

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1986

20 Pages This Week¹ Plus Supplement

Chelsea String Orchestra Receives Festival Top Award

Members of the Chelsea String Orchestra are looking proud after receiving their Division I rating from the District XII Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Festival.

District XII takes in schools from the Southeastern Michigan area, all with much larger orchestra programs than Chelsea. According to Jed Fritzmeier, director of the orchestra program, the judges were very impressed with the large range of sounds smoothly accomplished by the strings. Two of the judges commented that the technical quality of the group far exceeded what would be expected of a group this size. They felt that the tone quality and the talent spoke well for the Chelsea community.

The 24 string players were joined by 21 wind and percussion players. The group performed three prepared pieces, and one sight reading piece. In sight reading, the orchestra is given a piece of music which they have not seen before, given a few minutes to study it and then have to play the piece for a judge. The sight reading judge also gave them a "1" rating with high compliments on their over-all performance. Fritzmeier was very pleased, especially since the two groups do not play together on a routine basis. He was extremely pleased by the dedication shown by all the performers, who came into school early and spent many extra hours preparing for the festival.

Village Applies for State Grant To Develop Park

The Village of Chelsea has applied for a second grant that would be used in the expansion of the Veteran's and Dana Park complex.

The action was taken at the village council's regular meeting last Tuesday.

The money is available through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources trust fund grant program.

Earlier the village applied for a grant from the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund, which would be administered through the DNR.

"I believe there's more money available through the trust fund than there is through the federal grant," said Lee Fahrner, the village's assistant administrator. "It's possible we could get more money through this grant and reduce the local share."

For the village, it would be a case of accepting one grant or the other. It couldn't accept both.

Either grant would pay for at least 50 percent of the cost of the projected $406,800 project. While the village's share would be $203,400, there would be little additional capital outlay. The 10-12 acres of land, worth $120,000, would be donated by Dana Corp. More than $64,000 in labor would be absorbed by current village personnel.

The village's ultimate share would be $18,600, Fahrner said. Fahrner said it was likely the village would not know about either grant until the end of the year.

Under the federal grant, the village could not take possession of the land until the grant was actually made. Fahrner said he has been unable to get an answer from the DNR whether that would also be true for the trust fund grant.

Easter Egg Hunt Set For Saturday

Chelsea Jaycees are once again holding an Easter Egg Hunt, one of several projects the group has planned for the remainder of the year.

The Easter Egg Hunt will take place Saturday, March 29, at 11 a.m. at the Chelsea High school athletic fields. Children up to the second grade are welcome to participate. Although last year's event was marred by horrible weather, quite a few youngsters got in on the fun, anyway.

Violin Stolen from School Band Room

A $500 violin was stolen from the Beach Middle school band room last Wednesday, Chelsea police reported.

Police said the violin belonged to Shawnty Reed, was one and a half years old, and was in a square black case marked with two stripes.

The incident was reported to police the next day.

Area Churches Plan Special Holy Week Services for Easter

Holy Week services in area churches provide a diversified program throughout the western part of Washtenaw county.

With attendance at area churches at an all-time high, hours of the services scheduled this year during Holy Week give community residents a wide choice from which to choose.

Community Good Friday services will be held in both Dexter and Chelsea during the 1986 Holy Week.

The great majority of services set for the week preceding Easter Sunday begin Thursday, March 27, the day often referred to as Maundy Thursday or Holy Thursday by Christians throughout the world.

Faith Lutheran church has scheduled a Maundy Thursday worship service for Wednesday, March 26, for worshippers there.

For Chelsea area worshippers, Thursday evening services will be held at the Congregational church, St. Barnabas, St. Thomas Lutheran, Zion Lutheran, First United Methodist, St. Mary's Catholic, Chelsea Free Methodist and St. Paul churches.

Dexter area church services are planned on Thursday by Dexter United Methodist, St. James Episcopal, and St. Joseph Catholic churches, as well by St. Andrew's United Church of Christ.

On Good Friday, March 28, both communities will have Community Good Friday services. The Congregational church will host the service in Chelsea, while the Dexter Community Good Friday service will be hosted this year by St. Joseph Catholic church. A 1 p.m. time has been announced for both these services.

The Way of the Cross will follow at 2:30 p.m. at St. Joseph church, with the Good Friday liturgy held at 7:30 p.m.

St. Barnabas in Chelsea will hold Tre Ore services and Stations from 12 noon until 3 p.m.

At St. Mary's in Chelsea, solemn liturgical ceremonies will be held, beginning at 1 p.m.

Services are scheduled at 1:30 p.m. at Zion Lutheran church and at St. Thomas Lutheran church. At the Dexter United Methodist church, the sanctuary will be open for private prayer from 2 until 7 p.m. on Good Friday.

Friday evening, St. James Episcopal church in Dexter will hold a 7:30 p.m. litany.

Evening services will be held at both Chelsea Free Methodist and St. Paul churches.

Faith Lutheran church, serving both communities, will also hold a 7:30 p.m. Good Friday worship service.

Saturday services will be few in number. Easter Vigil services will be held at St. Barnabas and St. Mary's Catholic churches, Chelsea.

Dexter's St. James Episcopal will hold Holy Baptism, Saturday evening, while St. Joseph church will have Blessing of the Easter Food Baskets at 1 p.m. Saturday and hold an Easter Vigil during the early evening.

Easter Sunday sunrise services will be held at St. Thomas Lutheran, Faith Lutheran, Zion Lutheran, Chelsea Free Methodist, First United Methodist and St. Paul churches. North Lake Methodist church and Dexter United Methodist church also will hold Easter sunrise services. Many other area churches will hold Easter morning services and some plan special breakfasts as well for their members.

The Catholic churches in both Dexter and Chelsea will celebrate liturgies at 12 noon on Easter Sunday.

St. Thomas Lutheran church will hold a late service with Holy Communion at 10 p.m., completing the program of church services for Holy Week in the Chelsea and Dexter areas.

Council Studies Request For Taco Bell Logo on Side of New Building

After last Tuesday's regular council meeting, some people in the audience wondered whether the government of the Village of Chelsea was full of retired beans.

The occasion was a scheduled public hearing to consider a request for a variance by the owners of the new Taco Bell restaurant on M-52.

The village and the owners of the restaurant are at odds over a sign the restaurant wants to install on the side of its building that faces its main parking lot.

The sign, a standard Taco Bell logo, serves not only as an identifier, but also holds the lights to illuminate the building's main entrance and handicapped ramp.

The primary owners, Ron Marten and Bill Davis, of Ann Arbor, say that it's not really a sign at all but an integral part of the building.

The problem is, the village regards the logo as a sign. And according to the formula used to figure how much square footage a company can have in signs, Taco Bell's main sign uses up most of the allotted amount, 80 square feet. The logo would put the restaurant 17 square feet over the limit.

The owners applied for a variance to the ordinance, and the village planning commission unanimously recommended "no." The planning commission doesn't see the situation as representing a hardship in Taco Bell's case, which is the only reason a variance would be granted.

That's where the dispute lies. The village is wary of setting a precedent by allowing a variance to be granted.

But others at the meeting, including Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harok, think the failure to grant a variance would send the wrong signals to businesses that might want to set up shop here.

The village council didn't officially agree or disagree last week with the planning commission, but Village Administrator Fritz Weber let it be known he was against the request. The council finally agreed to study the problem a little longer with a review of Taco Bell blueprints and some first-hand testimony from the planning commission.

The most vocal council support for Taco Bell came from trustee Joe Merkel, who essentially said he didn't see why the village shouldn't let the local Taco Bell be like all the others in the country. Marten said all Taco Bell restaurants are built according to corporate specifications.

"It's simple why I'm against the variance," Weber said. "It's because I feel Taco Bell would be granted something other proper."

CHAMPION SPELLERS in the South school spelling bee were Michelle Barksdale, the winner, and Ed Waller, the runner-up. The bee was the first leg of competition sponsored by the Detroit News and the Lawrence Institute of Technology. Michelle went on to finish ninth out of 22 competitors, that included students from the fifth through eighth grades. Michelle is the daughter of Katherine and Kenneth Barksdale, and Ed is the son of Charlie and Joann Waller.

TOOTSIE ROLL DRIVE volunteers were out in force last week-end in the Chelsea business area collecting money to aid retarded children and adults. The Knights of Columbus sponsor the annual drive. Above, Lisa Stephens, left, donates a little to the cause while Peggy and Cindy Hamerschmidt work for the worthy cause.

The Rev. Robert Weikart had the high degree of Doctor of Ministry conferred upon him by Dean Newell Wert. This degree is the highest achievable in the profession of ministry and denotes growth and development. The Rev. Robert Weikart's project and thesis were based on research conducted at the Chelsea Family Practice Center, working with local clergy and members of local parishes.

Methodist Home residents were maple sugaring there and held their annual Spring sale. Bertram Heiser collected sap from the maple trees on the facility's grounds and boiled it into syrup in a large iron kettle.

Chelsea High school presented an outstanding performance of "West Side Story" last week-end. Dave Lange, Jim Herter, Celeste Arbogast, Amy Wolter and Phil Powers were in the leading roles. The Chelsea Civic Committee will be showing the movie classics "African Queen" and "Mary Poppins" this week in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Carl Schoonover was selected as a Farm Manager of the Year by Tel-Farm for his potato farm business in Stockbridge. Three million pounds (300,000 ten-pound bags) was the potato yield for 1970, Schoonover's top year in the business. Schoonover reports machinery has been the key—by packaging and delivering himself, he bypasses the three or four cuts which middlemen would normally take out of potato prices.

Last December's student sit-in at the high school and the support given to it by student council members was remembered as CHS student council plans to meet March 29. Council representatives have since been asked to report to the Board of Education.

There has been no flare-up since the sit-in, reports advisor George Bergman, but issues still exist on communication, student representation, student-faculty-administration-board relations, and the student council.

A "first" in the history of the Future Farmers of America program at Chelsea High school occurred at last week's state FFA convention at MSU in Lansing. Three Chelsea FFA members, Malcolm Reinhardt, Richard Harvey and Richard Haist, received "State Farmer" awards at the same time.

Homes to be shown on the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery annual house tour, April 26, include the 80-year-old home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ferguson, 409 S. Main St.; Dr. A. L. Steger's family home; J. V. Burg home, 315 Wilkison St.; Edward Kelly home at 719 Taylor St.; Dale Bailey home at 148 Dewey St.; and the Julius Blaess home at 1020 N. Fletcher Rd.

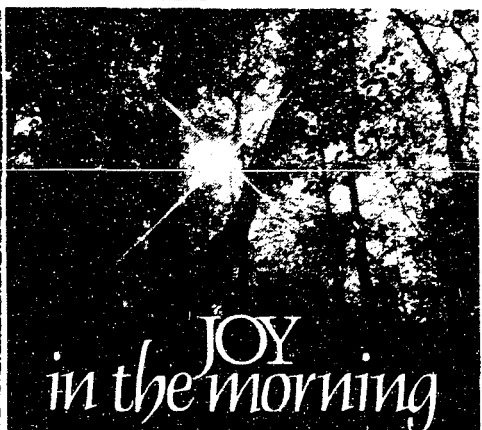

DAR "Good Citizens" awards were presented to Joanne Wojciehowski of CHS, and to Marie Scherdt of DHS at the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award luncheon at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Detroit. Winners are chosen by their fellow students and teachers for their leadership, service, dependability and patriotism.

State Police Reports 2 Percent Crime Rate Increase in 1985
The Department of State Police reported that preliminary statistics show the state's total reported crime increased 2 percent in 1985 compared to a .2 percent increase in 1984.

The Uniform Crime Reporting Section of the department's Central Records Division reported the crime rate for 1985 was 12,929 per 100,000 population, or one reported crime for every eight Michigan residents.

In a report presented to State Police Director Gerald L. Hough, the central records division said that index crime decreased 1.7 percent over the previous year.

That rate was 6,287 per 100,000 population, or one reported crime for every 16 residents. The decrease was the result of robbery decreasing 4 percent, burglary decreasing 6.4 percent, motor vehicle theft decreasing by 3.7 percent and arson decreasing 14 percent over indexed crimes reported in 1984.

Increases were reported in all other index crime classifications which included murder up by 17.8 percent, rape, up 7.8 percent, aggravated assault, up 6.9 percent and larceny, up .6 percent.

The report further noted that total arrests for 1985 showed a decrease of 1.9 percent. Juveniles accounted for 11.9 percent of those arrested.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers know, that Bug Hookum drops off to sleep if he tries any heavy thinking and that he never gets around to worrying, so they were surprised when he come with a report on the subject during the session at the country store Saturday night. Bug reported that worrying is good for you if you do it right, but he allowed he's worried that sychologists working with mental problems is like doctors treating burns. Both change their treatment ever time a new paper is wrote.

Use to, Bug said, we were told to live today the best we could and keep in mind that tomorrow will be the today we ought not to be worried about yesterday. Worrying upsets the digestion, nerves, blood pressure, general outlook and drives away folks that could make living a heap more fun. Now, Bug went on, we find out that worrying is like budget deficits of weakness and strength. Uncontrolled worrying is bad, but controlled worrying is good.

This report Bug had saw explains we need to set aside a time to worry, and then put it aside. We can use our worry time to think through our problems, and then use our worry-free day to work on remedies, was Bug's words. The trick is to give worry your full attention. Don't do it while eating, or exercising or gitting the kids off to school. Worry needs its own time if it is to help and not hurt.

General speaking, the fellers were full agreed. Zeke Grubb said a feller can worry in one hand and wish in the other and git in all kind of trouble watching which one gits full. The trouble with worry is that it keeps piling up. Zeke recalled his neighbor that had handled the troubles of Job. One morning a cow got loose and run through her clothesline. She saw her wash on the ground, went in the house, took all the sleeping pills she could find and died. The wash was just the straw that broke her back, Zeke said, because she'd been carrying around a killing load of worry.

Howsomever, broke in Clem Webster, if a feller was a mind to worry he could come up with more than he could deal with in one worry time. Fer instant, Clem had saw where we are just now being told that the Russians were caught trying to buy three California banks 10 year ago. If our sworn enemy knew then that the way to America's heart is through her banks, we better worry about what they've got going fer em now that we know the insurance companies call the shots for the banks. If the Russians git some big pieces of some of our big rocks, Clem allowed, they can do what they want with our economy. If you don't think so, he went on, consider what our true blue, red, white and blue insurance companies are doing

Michigan Air Travel Soars To New High

Air travel on scheduled airlines serving Michigan airports set a record in 1985, according to a report released by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission.

The 18.6 million passenger total is 32 percent higher than the old mark of 14 million set in 1984.

"This new air travel record clearly reflects Michigan's economic comeback and improved economic conditions nationally," Governor James J. Blanchard said in announcing the numbers.

"In addition, passengers in Detroit and Grand Rapids in particular are being served by more airlines offering a greater number of flights, and discount fares by major airlines also are a factor," he added.

The number of boarding and deplaning passengers served by the 21 airlines operating at Detroit Metro Wayne County Airport hit an all-time high of 15.5 million, up 37 percent over 1984. (The number includes estimates for November and December.)

Traffic at Detroit Metro, which regularly accounts for more than three-fourths of airline passenger volumes in Michigan, surpassed the entire state-wide total of 1984.

Other busy airports reporting gains in 1985 include Tri-City International near Saginaw, up 19.9 percent; Flint's Bishop Airport, up 14.6 percent; and Capital City Airport at Lansing, up 3.1 percent.

Despite the over-all state record, airports at Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Menominee and Pellston, where air service has been reduced, experienced large passenger losses.

M. Leshkevich Named to Nuveen Advisory Council

Michael Leshkevich of Palmestock & Co. in Dearborn has been elected to the Nuveen Advisory Council. It was announced by John Nuveen & Co., Inc., the nation-wide investment banking firm specializing in municipal bonds and tax-exempt unit investment trusts and funds.

The Nuveen Advisory Council is comprised of a select group of investment professionals across the country who are cited "for continuing excellence in financial counselling in the field of tax-exempt securities."

In announcing the selection, Jack Frisbie, midwest regional manager and vice-president of Nuveen said, "This excellence is the result of dedicated effort. We at Nuveen want to personally recognize professionals such as Mike for his effort on his clients' behalf."

Nuveen Advisory Council members are selected annually by Nuveen. They are provided with special information and services designed to increase their effectiveness and professionalism in meeting the needs of their clients.

Retirement Housing Strategies Program Offered at No Cost

Every person will have their own goals for their retirement years, but generally, we all have one goal in common... to maintain independence.

Some housing decisions, made in haste, could actually cause more dependency on others. This program is designed to encourage you to consider carefully what your personal needs will be and develop strategies based on these factors: physical changes, to move or not to move, types and styles of retirement homes, how to "age proof" your home and the availability of community resources.

Happiness during retirement doesn't just happen, it takes a great deal of thought, inspection, planning and continual evaluating. Housing decisions can enhance or detract from the satisfaction which you derive during retirement.

The program, "Strategies for Retirement Housing," will be held March 26 at 1 p.m. in the Cooperative Extension Service building in the County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor. There is no charge for the program.

The Chelsea Charms Dance Twirl team won first in the "Tiny Tot" dance twirl division. The team consists of six charms: Linda Schaffer, Amy Feldkamp, Whitney Hampton, Danielle Clark, Kate Steele and Tiffany Scott.

The Charms' next competition will be Miss Majorette of Michigan to be held in Mt. Clemens on April 12.

Senior Women Fashion Tips Will Be Offered

Fashion and make-up tips for older women will be the subject of "Senior Chic" to be presented from 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, April 15, in the Catherine McAuley Health Center's Education Center Auditorium.

Representatives from The Fashion Connection, with outlets in Ann Arbor, will offer make-up tips and talk about how to select clothing that will flatter your figure. They will discuss how colors can affect your appearance, including how some colors may actually make you look worn out and years older. The color analysis demonstrations will be based on the Seasonal Color Theory.

Hospital Offering Free Program on Breastfeeding

"It's Never Too Early To Think About Breastfeeding," a free program for prospective mothers and their families, will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 2, in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Education Center Auditorium.

Program presenters Sue Klawitter and Barbara Martinez, both registered nurses working with mothers and infants at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, said the program is designed to help pregnant women and women who are thinking about becoming pregnant decide whether breastfeeding is right for them. Klawitter and Martinez will discuss the advantages and considerations of breastfeeding and how breastfeeding can fit into your lifestyle.

Husbands, mothers, sisters and other relatives and friends of the prospective mother are invited to learn more about breastfeeding and how they can be supportive of the nursing mother.

To pre-register, call Catherine McAuley Health Center's Office of Health Promotion at 572-3675.

Breastfeeding Your Baby Class Set at Family Practice

A class entitled "Breastfeeding Your Baby" will be held at the Family Practice Center classroom on Monday, April 7 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. This class was specifically developed for new mothers and pregnant women who have decided to breastfeed their babies. The course was developed by the Family Practice Center staff Dr. Luann Chen, family physician, and Chandra Harris, R.N., M.S.N., parent/child co-ordinator.

Topics to be presented to the class include breastfeeding while working, nutrition, what to do when the baby cries or is ill, how to work effectively with the family and friends so that nursing a baby is part of the normal routine, and other topics of interest.

The class is free to Family Practice Center obstetrical patients. Others may attend for a $2 fee. Pre-registration for the class is requested by calling the Family Practice Center at 475-1321, ext. 430.

Diabetes, Kidney Damage Discussed

In honor of National Kidney Month, the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan's Scientific Advisory Board announces the release of their new publication, "Diabetes and Kidney Disease."

In recent years, Diabetes Mellitus has been the leading cause of kidney disease in the white population and second only to hypertension in the black population.

This pamphlet, written by Francis Dumlér, M.D., covers: causes of kidney damage in diabetes, manifestations of kidney disease, treatments, and preventive steps that diabetes patients can take.

To receive a free copy of this pamphlet, call the Kidney Foundation, a United Way Agency, toll-free at 1-800-482-1455.

Lay-Away Plan

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

It's been a long haul but now we not only have our beloved old railroad station, we are actually in the process of restoring it! Quite possibly by July Fourth the exterior of the station will be virtually identical to its Victorian splendor of the 1880's.

There may be a tall pole on the Jackson St. side to bring electricity and telephone service to the building. There will be an unobtrusive box hugging the end of the station for air conditioning, and there will be a new incline to the brick pavement for the convenience of visitors with handicaps in walking.

Otherwise, it will be the same building, with the original architectural design and the same sturdy timbers that came into being 106 years ago. It will not be a replica. It will be the real thing, rescued by a community that respects its history and proves it.

Under the guidance of our architect, Arthur Lindauer, we have had a lot of valuable help but also a pile of work to do. We have had problems getting bids or even estimates for the outside work. Local contractors have been offered the first opportunities but some have too many commitments. There remain the tasks of obtaining bids and contracts for interior painting, the demolition of unneeded partitions, the establishment of modern restrooms, electricity and lighting, phones, heating, air conditioning and flooring.

An early, but no longer fearsome, concern has been money. There were a few skeptics among us who said Amtrak would never sell the station. Others avowed that if Amtrak did agree to sell the price would be outrageous. With a new and more imaginative approach to Amtrak, and the invaluable support of Congressman Carl Pursell, those doubts are behind us.

Once Amtrak made their offer to sell, the $16,000 needed to buy the station was provided in one week! Where else but Chelsea could there be such a hearty response? Checks were swiftly written by the Historical Society, the Civic Foundation, the Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Milling and Dana.

The Chelsea Depot Association, Inc., representing the entire area community, next began the process of raising money for hiring the architect and contractors.

Once again, skeptics said, "It will cost too much. The public will never support it."

Late in January we sent letters of appeal to the 5,400 families and individuals on the mailing list of the Chelsea School District. Some people threw the envelopes away unopened, as "junk mail." Thousands of others set their envelopes aside while they paid their Christmas bills, fuel costs for two bitterly cold months, and hoarded funds for upcoming tax bills.

But do you know what? More than 300 of these families, individuals and small businesses have contributed over $13,000 for the restoration of the station—an average of $1,300 a week. As this is written, the Depot Association has enough money in the bank to repay a working capital loan of $10,000 and still have another $10,000 on hand for the payment of bills.

It is estimated that more than enough money will be donated between now and July Fourth to fully pay for restoring the exterior of the depot and provide handsome, inclined walkways using the same bricks that were laid 106 years ago.

It may take another $40,000—possibly more—to rehabilitate the inside of the station and provide it with 20th century conveniences, but the trustees of the Depot Association, and many others, feel that this final campaign will be one of the most enthusiastically supported efforts in Chelsea area history.

So some day in 1987 we'll have a gala opening of the pristine renewed depot—paid in full!

We will have a historical museum at the west end operated under the supervision of the Chelsea Area Historical Society. The museum walls will be lined with historic photos and drawings. There will be illuminated showcases of treasured documents and artifacts. The museum will contain a library of Chelsea area history and eventually a vast collection of microfilmed historical information which can be studied and copied within the museum.

The east end of the building will be a large room with a seating capacity for 70 or more persons. Early suggestions propose naming it the Michigan Central Room and lining the walls with photos and drawings of steam locomotives, trains, cabooses, trackmen and other pictorial railroad memorabilia.

Meetings of civic and social groups may be held in the large, accessible hall. There will be ample parking to the east and even more parking to the west during evening hours, Saturday afternoons and Sundays. Coffee and snacks should be available from a counter at the back end of the stationmaster's office.

Keeping the Doors Open

The depot will need insurance, heat, air conditioning, phone service and maintenance, plus other expenses, to keep going. The first step is a legal procedure which is being helped along through the volunteer services of attorneys Peter Flintoft and Diana Newman. The Depot Association needs state and federal recognition as a tax-free, non-profit organization. The applications are in the works and status grants are expected. Also in progress are applications for recognition by the State of Michigan as a historic site and admission to the National Register of Historic Places. Once again, a bit more work but no sweat.

With recognition as a non-profit organization under IRS Code 501(c)(3) the depot will be able to apply to Chelsea United Way as a recognized agency, eligible for annual assistance as a civic, historical and cultural institution.

The final problem is staffing so that the museum can be open for a regular schedule of hours during the week. Initially, this public service will be assured by a roster of volunteers from the membership of the Historical Society. As time goes by—and not too much—it is expected that there will be one or more paid persons who will be present in the depot from 9 to 5 to answer the phone, receive visitors and direct scholars to the museum. They will also pass out literature concerning the past of the community and its availability for new business or industrial activities.

Additional part-time paid employees or volunteers will open the building evenings, as needed.

The person or persons in attendance will have a telephone control panel so that they can answer various numbers by saying:

"Chelsea Rail Depot," or
"Chelsea Chamber of Commerce," or
"Chelsea Downtown Development Association," or
"Chelsea Civic Foundation," or
"Chelsea Historical Museum"

Or other Chelsea area organizations, presently located elsewhere, who will find it more convenient to have their headquarters in a historic building in the heart of downtown Chelsea.

Completes Army Leadership Course

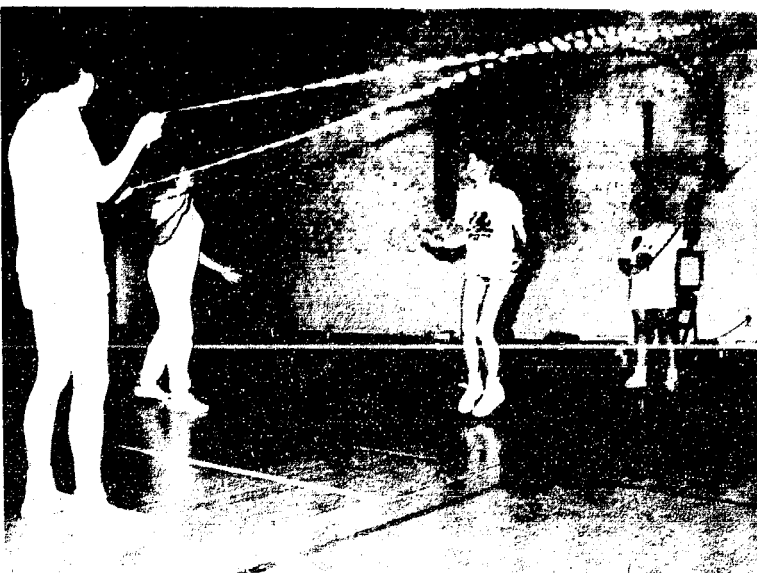

Sgt. Duane B. Robbins, son of Robert B. and Marjorie I. Robbins of 1225 Gene Dr., Chelsea, has completed a U.S. Army primary leadership course in West Germany.

Students received training in supervisory skills, leadership principles and small unit training techniques essential to a first-line supervisor in a technical or administrative environment.

Robbins is a team leader with the 82nd Engineer Battalion.

He is a 1982 graduate of Chelsea High school.

Trying their hands at double dutch are, from left, the sixth grade team of Brandi Kenney, Liz Taylor, Jean DeLong and Amy Mitchell. Each child solicited sponsors to pledge money for each minute he or she jumped.

Chelsea Hospital Offering Easter Sunday Brunch

Chelsea Community Hospital will celebrate Easter Sunday Brunch in a special way with patients in the hospital that day and with the entire community.

Patients will be invited to bring a guest to enjoy Easter Sunday Brunch compliments of the Hospital. A spouse, friend or "special someone" may come and enjoy a delicious brunch at the hospital.

The Easter Sunday Brunch is also open to the public from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Brunch selections will include full breakfast menu, broiled beef tenderloin, carved to order and covered with Marchand De Vinne sauce, baked chicken with wild rice, asparagus spears with lemon butter, salad and dessert bars, plus fruit juices and other beverages. No advance reservations are required.

This enjoyable Easter Sunday Brunch is served in hospital's beautiful main dining room walled by full-length windows looking into the wooded landscape.

For more information about Easter Sunday Brunch call the Hospital at 475-1311, extension 361.

Masons Planning Spaghetti Dinner

Thursday Evening

A spaghetti dinner will be served at the Dexter Masonic Temple, Thursday, March 27 (tomorrow night). Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until 7:30 p.m., according to Jack Wilson and Mike Szabo, who have volunteered to do the cooking for the event.

The menu will feature three different type sauces to accompany the spaghetti, vegetarian sauce, meat sauce and a special zesty sauce.

Tickets will be sold at the door, and take-outs will be available.

All proceeds will be shared between Dexter Family Service and Dexter Senior Citizens, explained the group.

This is the third annual spaghetti dinner planned by the Masons of the Washtenaw Lodge to support community organizations. Most of the food has been donated for the dinner and members of the lodge will be assisting with the tasks in the dining room and on clean-up details, in addition to the two chefs.

EVEN WITH JUST ONE SHOE, Connie Lonsky continues to jump for money for the Michigan Heart Association last week at Beach Middle school. The occasion was the Jump Rope for Heart event at the school, in which more than 100 students participated.

THIS WEEK'S THOUGHT

By Donald Cole

Easter is a time of vivid contrasts. Dramatic changes are seen. Spring brings on a warmer sun. Trees show signs of renewed life. Dormancy ends. New growth bursts forth. A rebirth of nature is seen after the barrenness of winter.

Easter also brings on other changes; more important changes. Days of doubt and despair disappear. It brings on a hope of spiritual immortality. Most important of all, it commemorates Christ's resurrection: His victory over death. It all seems to fit together beautifully.

Easter is THE time for spiritual renewal. A time to pause in our paths and examine the hectic pace of life. Remarkable changes CAN occur. It has happened before. Cheats become honest. Cynics change attitudes. The careworn become infused with new life. . . . Easter is a natural time to renew mind, body and spirit. Actually, are not these things at least implied in the universal saying of "Happy Easter"? COLE-BURGHARDT FUNERAL CHAPEL, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

CUB SCOUTS

At their monthly Pack meeting last Thursday, the Cub Scout dens of North school performed a medley of skits and skills for friends and family. The theme for the evening was "Presidents."

Webelo Den 1 did an original skit based upon President Teddy Roosevelt and the creation of our much beloved "teddy bear." Apparently the toy was named for Roosevelt because although he was a noted hunter, he refused to shoot a cub bear.

Webelo Den 2's skit was much closer to home with a satire on a Reagan press conference. Scott Leeman portrayed President Reagan complete with facial mannerisms. We have a budding mimic!

Wolf Den 10 gave the audience a taste of magic! Each scout performed a trick. We even had a rabbit pulled from a hat, or at least his foot was. The rest of the rabbit is still missing, so watch for this magical bunny this week.

Wolf Den 11 demonstrated some valuable first aid skills that we all should know. The scouts were taught these skills during a visit to their den by paramedics.

Bear Den 12 involved the audience in a Presidential Trivia Game. Each scout prepared a list of clues to a president whose identity we had to guess. Some of them were really hard! Those scouts must be smart!

Finally, Bear Den 13 treated us all to a play entitled "Washington Visits His Soldiers." This group under the leadership of Patsy Cabaniss and Jerry Cole had worked for several weeks memorizing their lines and preparing their costumes. The costumes included colonial wigs that the scouts had made. Clever boys and lots of hard work. Chelsea Players beware!

Pack meetings are held once a month in the evening as a family program to share the fun as well as the skills the boys are learning.

PART OF THE TRIAD PROGRAM for gifted and talented students at North and South elementary schools is the Write-On program. The program publishes works by student authors and teachers pick the works to be published using their own criteria. The idea is to encourage children to write, and write well. Some of the children who have had their works published at their school include, clockwise, from left, first grader Adam Daniel, third grader Martha Merkel, fifth graders Becky Kern and Lisa Koenigster, third grader Jessica Flintoft, and first grader Lori Mangelsen.

PARENT PUBLISHERS for the Write-On programs at North and South schools include Linda Dufek (South school), left, and Clara Smith (North school). Not pictured is Nancy LaCroix. These women use the word processor to put students' writing into a readable form for everyone to use. One of the several copies they make of each piece are displayed in the schools. Teachers choose the writings that will be published in this form.

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T GET SOMETHING FOR NOTHING?

Not only is Walker's new How to Buy a Phone Book free, it's $3.95 value! It could save you a fortune in the bargain.

In bright, entertaining, non-technical language it gives you everything you need to select the exactly right business telephone system for you.

What are the all-too-common phone problems that are almost certainly costing you money every day?

What are the direct costs and consequences of installing the wrong phone system?

What are the indirect costs? How can you see your company's telephone 'personality' the way your customers do? And what valuable information can that give you?

And most important, how much more productive and profitable can the right phone system make your company—every hour of every day?

The answers are waiting: just call us or write for your free, no-obligation copy today. Right now.

After all, it's free. And it could save you a fortune.

THE MONTH BEFORE DECEMBER

By: Kasia Ruhlig, First Grade—Mrs. Schiller
One day Santa's elf came to see me. He asked me to help make toys. I said, "Okay, I'll give it a try." So I went back to the North Pole with the elf. I liked it but then I got scolded because I painted a trike blue when it was supposed to be red. I was going home but just as I was going, Santa came. He scolded the elf for scolding me. I stayed there for another month. Then I got to go home.

The End.

TRICERATOPS, THE DINOSAUR

By: Michelle Lucas, First Grade—Mrs. Peckard
One day, I was playing outside on my swing set. A dinosaur walked up to me and said "Hi!" I was so scared, that I fell off my swing. "Hi, my name is Michelle. What is your name, Mr. Dinosaur?" she said. "My name is Triceratops." "What Triceratops?" "No silly, Triceratops." "I'm sorry," Michelle said. "Do you want to play with me?" "Yes!" said Triceratops. So Michelle sat on a swing, started to swing. Then Triceratops tried but he was so heavy that he broke the swing set. So they went for a walk.

TYRANNOSAURUS REX

By: Heather Bohn, First Grade—Miss Peebles
A Tyrannosaurus Rex walked into my yard. I ran into my house yelled to my mom, "There's a Tyrannosaurus Rex in the yard!" My mom said, "Don't fool me like that." I went to the garage and started to look for something to scare the dinosaur away with. I found a baseball bat and tried to hit him with it. It did not work. I decided to throw things on him like bricks, wood, dirt, cement, and water. I dried the cement and water on him to make concrete around him. I gave him to the Chelsea Museum of Arts and Bones.

The End.

THE BABY KATIE

By: Katie Marsa, Second Grade—Mrs. VanBlaricum
Once there was a family. One day the mama had a baby and the father had to take her to the hospital. The doctor told the father that she had to stay for a day or two. So the next day the father went to visit his wife. The doctor told the father that she was going to have a baby that afternoon and it would be born today, the ninth of September. "Is it going to be a boy or a girl?" she asked. The doctor said, "It's going to be a girl." They were so happy. The father met the doctor and the father said, "Can she come home now?" The doctor said, "She can come home tomorrow." She had the baby and she got to go home.

TAILHEAD

By: Jeremy Bowers, Second Grade—Mrs. Lopez
Once upon a time there was a dinosaur. This dinosaur was never discovered. He would have been called Tailhead. He lived in the sea. He ate plants. He acted mean. One is still alive. It is in Loch Ness. It hides in the sand. He has 7 heads and 4 tails. He is yellow. In the water he looks like a fish with 7 heads, 4 tails and 4 legs. I call the one alive, "Heads" for short.

The End.

THE TURKEY

By: Chris Grossman, Second Grade—Mrs. Peltier
Hi! My name is Sam. Do you like me? I like you. My father is going to cut my hair off, so he can eat me for supper. I hate him to. Do you know that in a minute I will have my head cut off? I am a fat turkey. I am going to have the farmer's hatcher. Do you think I should? Well, I am anyway. Good! Bye! By the way, here he comes. Bye now. Duchi! Mother dear, we sadly fear we can't find our turkey. Where is our turkey? It is in your stomach.

The End.

THE LONELY COMET

By: Joannise Mouillisseaux, Second Grade—Mrs. Prohaska
There once was a comet that lived in the sky. He was a lonely comet. The only friend in the sky was the fog and mist. Then one day it heard a voice. It said, "Hello Comet, I will be your friend if you don't hurt me." Then a little star came out of the fog and mist. "Hello," he said again. "My name is Star, what is your name?" "I have no name, but Com." "Oh!" said Star, "Want to go over there and have a race?" "OK," said Com. So they ran away from the fog and mist and lived happily ever after.

FLY WITH SNOOPY

By: Kent Young, Second Grade—Mrs. Stuermer
I was napping at school and I have a Snoopy lunch box. I opened it and Snoopy came out. He had an airplane and he gave me a ride. He showed me some dare devil stuff. I got into the airplane again and we went upside down. We did lots of things. He said, "Can you come with me?" I said, "I'll come, but you have to promise that you will bring me back in fifteen minutes."

"O.K. I will, let's go," he said. "Where are we going first?" I asked. "I don't know, Snoopy answered. 'Well, it's been fifteen minutes. I have to get back.' I said. Then he went back into the lunchbox. Well, I don't know if I should tell my mom about this. I opened my lunchbox again and Snoopy popped out. He asked if I could play. I said, "No, I cannot, but I had fun!" I closed the lunchbox.

The End.

THE CURIOUS ALIENS

By: David Mote, Second Grade—Mr. Brinklow
One day I was out walking and then a spaceship landed right in the park. "Yub ub buh th," they asked. I didn't understand them. Then I created a machine so I could understand them. They really said, "Where are we?" "You are on Earth, I am David. Who are you?" I said. "Our names are Lickie, Lickie, Kikkie, and Zickie," they said. Then the machine stopped and they said "Giz." When it started again it said, "Nickie." I showed them around and then they left just like that.

The End.

THE TURKEY

By: Melissa Williams, Second Grade—Mrs. Schluppe
One day I saw a turkey. I took him home. I said, "Mom if you let me have him, I will make sure he won't make a mess." Mom said, "OK. I like turkeys." "Do you want to live with me?" "Gobble, gobble," he said. "I think I will name you Harold," I said. "Gobble, gobble," Harold said. Then I took him back home. In the morning, we went to the town. We went to the store. We went home and went to bed in the morning, we went walking down the road. We went home. We had a lot of fun. Me and Harold were happy together. Everyday we would go to town. We had a lot of fun. The next morning we did not go to town. We went to Harold's home. His Mom and Dad were sad. I said too. I said to Harold's Mom and Dad, "You can live with me and Harold." They did, too.

The End.

PENGUINS

By: Stephanie Wesolowski, Second Grade—Mrs. Emmorey
One day I found a penguin. I was in a room. So that night, I asked my mom if they were real? She said they were real. So when I went to bed, I had a dream. It was about penguins. And this is what my dream was about: Two penguins had babies. Some were having fights, but the morning I told my mother. She said "Good." That night when I went to sleep I had the same dream. At school I did a story about penguins. They were black and white. They have orange beaks. They live in the North Pole. Some live in the South Pole. The next day was Saturday, we went to the zoo. I saw penguins. One was the Emperor. There were five penguins. There were all sorts of penguins. They were nice. I love penguins!

The End.

SIMON THE SEAL

By: Benjamin O'Connor, Third Grade—Mr. Hinkle
Once in the north pole Santa and his elves were rushing to get things done. At that moment one of the elves heard a wuf wuf weak sleeping sound. The door opened and in came a small, thin little seal. The elf took the hungry little creature to Santa. Santa said, "It looks like it has lost its family." The elf took the seal to Mrs. Claus. Then she said, "First of all he needs a name." "Let's name him Simon!" Mrs. Claus said. "Simon it is," the elf said. "Go tell Santa that the seal, oops, I mean Simon," she said holding her hand over her mouth. "Now run along, and take Simon with you." So the elf ran and told Santa the good news, Santa chuckled and said, "Ha, ha, ha, well Simon, you can pose for our new stuffed Simon-the-seal." Santa laughed and Simon and the rest of the bunch were happy forever.

THE MAGIC SKATES

By: Ryan Ludwig, Third Grade—Mrs. Hamilton
Once upon a time there was a boy who was sick. It was three days before Christmas. He really wanted some skates. Finally it was Christmas. He got up and ran to his Christmas tree and there they were! The magic skates. He did not know they were magic. He tried them on and they fit like a glove. He got better as soon as he put them on. "Mom, Dad," he yelled. "I feel better, can I go ice skating?" "Are you sure you feel alright?" "Yes, oh yes, please!" "Guess so," said Dad. "Yippe, yippe!" He and his Mother and Father got in their car, and went to the skating rink. He was going very fast for his first time on skates. The skates were doing it. Years went past. He made it to the olympics. He was very nervous, but he was confident. He got on the ice and skated 50 miles per hour! He won the gold medal. He thanks the skates. He was world champ!

The End.

THE LOST CAT

By: Jon Clark, Third Grade—Mr. Beard.
Once long ago there was a family with a cat. Their cat was quiet and nice. One day when they went to get a hair cut and they came back. Their cat was gone. They put ads in the paper and looked everywhere for their cat. But they could not find it. One day they were walking on the sidewalk and they heard a cat meow. They saw a cat across the street, the cat looked just like their cat. So they walked across the street but right before they got there a little boy said, "That's my cat." Then the little boy's dad said "I'm sorry that's not our cat." So it was the families' cat. They got it back and were very happy.

JOURNEY THROUGH THE GALAXY

By: Carrie Martha Smith, Third Grade—Mrs. Stein
Kevin was always getting into trouble. One Monday after school he was passing the warehouse and he looked inside. Well, there was a gray thing inside and it was silly. She looked behind the tree. ROAR! There was a gray thing over to it and get inside. He had never seen so many balloons and lights and levers. He just had to pull one lever. So he pulled one lever and there was a rumbling sound and the space ship went up in the sky and the people never saw him again.

The End.

DRAGON STORY

By: Eric Frelto, Third Grade—Mrs. Quilter
Chapter 1—The Mysterious Glow
Once I was walking in the woods and I saw a purple glow behind a tree as if it was blinking light. I never thought I would see such a mysterious glow. Then it flashed in all directions so strong I couldn't take a chance to look. Then every thing was silent. I couldn't hear anything.

Chapter 2—The Horrible Dragon
Then I heard my mom call. I called back "Mom come here quick!" CRASH! "What's going on?" I peeked behind the tree. I heard a roar. A DRAGON! She said, "Nonsense! There's no such thing!" "Oh! See for yourself!" She looked behind the tree. ROAR! Champ. She was gone! "Guards! Knights came from all directions." "Get that dragon!" He just sat there. Two knights charged at him. He took a step aside. The knights ran into each other and stabbed each other. "Stop the channings, you dida braves!" "We can't! He's tricking us!" they exclaimed! "Well just get him!" I said.

Chapter 3—Eric Kills the Dragon
I picked up the knight's armor and sword. "What are you doing?" "What does it look like? I'm going to kill the dragon!" "No, Eric!" cried the knights. But I did it anyway. I stabbed him and I was the hero of the castle.

THE LOST BABY

By: Kari Kantala, Third Grade—Mrs. Moore
Once upon a time there was a family of turtles. They lived on the banks of the Silvery Blue River, in a little hollow willow log right by the river. One day little Henry (the baby of the bunch) somehow got out of the house and got in the water! Sometime that day his mother went to get him and found him. "Oh, no!" she screamed. "My little Henry was turtlenapped!" She raced out of the house and looked everywhere and couldn't find him. In the meantime Henry was floating down the river merrily, having a keen time. All of a sudden a little girl named Peggy picked him up and looked at him. She liked him. She decided to take him home. She put him in a pool with mud in it and went home. When she got home she asked her dad to hollow out a little acorn. Sure, he said. Go find one and I'll hollow it out. When her dad was done she asked her mom to knit a small alphon for her new pet. When everything was done she asked the alphon to knit. She turned off the light and they both went asleep. During the night Mrs. Willowtree went to Peggy's house and got Henry back. In the morning Peggy was sad, but her mom said they would go to the pet shop and get a new pet. Peggy got there and saw so many animals she couldn't choose. She decided to pick a little hamster. She took it home and put it in the little bed that Henry had slept in.

The End.

AUTUMN

By: Andy Sanderson, Fourth Grade—Mrs. Nance
When the days get shorter
And the nights get longer,
The fierce wind grows stronger and stronger.
The raindrops fall, fall for the very last time.
Double rainbows fill the sky.
The leaves turn yellow, brown and red.
Winter's coldness straight ahead.

The End.

SUPERPIG

By: Nathan Mackinder, Fourth Grade—Mr. Laco
There was a pig named Henry. He lived in an old abandoned farm house. There never was a person there in twenty-seven years. One day Henry thought and said "I want to get out of this old farm house." So he started on his journey away from the old farm house. On the way, he met a turkey, he said "Hello! Hello!" "What's wrong?" asked Henry. "A farmer wants me for Thanksgiving," said the turkey. "Well, not if I can help it," said Henry. Then Henry spun around three times, and then, suddenly there was a pig with a mask and a red suit with a blue cape. Then he said, "I am SuperPig, the most powerful pig in the universe." When the farmer caught up with the turkey, he shot at the turkey. Then SuperPig jumped and grabbed the bullet out of the air. Then he ran and picked up the farmer and threw him in a lake nearby. Then SuperPig said, "I must leave now. Up and away. Good-bye!" "Good-bye," said the turkey. SuperPig flew in the distance. "Who knows," said the turkey. "He might save me next Thanksgiving!"

The End.

FOREIGN LANDS

By: Boone Gegenheimer, Fourth Grade—Miss DeVries
One day I was skiing and I wrecked on a snowdrift. I saw a hole. I looked in it and there were people in the hole. I went in the hole. The people were nice. One said, "Do you want to rule this world?" "OK," I said. "Well, I will be right back." I went to get my mom. I would let the people be free and have any kind of animal or reptile or amphibians. No one could hunt or kill animals. You should come to my world sometime.

The End.

THE LAST UNICORN

By: Katie Harr, Fourth Grade—Mrs. Walton
One day I was playing out in the woods. I was up in a tree, when I saw a unicorn on top of a hill. I climbed down out of the tree and ran to the hill. At first she didn't see me. I picked a hand full of grass. The unicorn came and ate out of my hand. I gave her the hand full of grass, I left. She followed me home. I decided to call her Casey. She has a gold horn and she is white, her eyes are blue. She likes to be rubbed on her golden horn. If you rub her horn three times you get three wishes, and they come true. Casey is white as snow, her horn is as gold as a golden nugget, her eyes are like the sky. I went back to the tree. I climbed it. I watched the hill where I found Casey. I watched for five hours and there was not a unicorn. I went back home. I said to Casey, "You are the last unicorn on earth." The next day Casey left. I went back to the tree. I looked at the hill I remembered Casey the unicorn.

The End.

MY JOURNEY TO WOODLAND

By: Cory Brown, Fourth Grade—Mr. Smith
One day I was carving a monkey out of wood, when, "Cory," my mother called. "What," I said. "Come and have lunch." "Not very happy about it," I said. "Come on," was the answer. So I went to have lunch (even though I was not hungry at all, and even though the lunch was very sick, I ate it). When I went back up to my room the carving was gone! I looked all around but my searches were in vain. Finally I saw it, the monkey! It was alive! My eyes practically popped out of my head!

Then, I saw a portal behind him! The monkey said, "Come on." So in I went. We flew through 20 galaxies till we got to Woodland. Suddenly thud we landed. I looked all around, all that was there were little wooden animals! An elephant came up to me and said, "Please help us turn into real animals." "OKay," I said. So they told me to get a special cube of life from the horrible ogre Gordang! So they gave me a sword named Gutting and a cloak of Shadows. So off I went to the dingy, dark, damp cave of Gordang! When I finally got there I jumped 3 feet in the air! The cave was made out of bones! But I put on my cloak of shadows and crept in! A long way off I saw the cube of life, but the evil ogre Gordang was guarding it! I threw a rock in the far corner of the cave when suddenly, "What who goes there?" "Lucky," he didn't see me. I crept into the cave and struck the ogre with my sword and killed him! I stole the cube of life and ran! When I got to the wooden animals they each took a bite out of it and turned real! They all thanked me and I was suddenly thrown through a portal and was whisked through time to my home! "Cory," my mother called. "Huh," I said sleepily. "Mom's on the phone, he wants to play." "Tell him I'm asleep." "OKay," I was about to go to sleep when, "Cory," looking back all the now real animals were waving good-bye! "Good-bye!" I said weakly, then fell fast asleep.

The End.

THE MONKEY WHO LOVED TO COUNT

By: Kevin Lane, Fourth Grade—Mrs. Mefnar
There once was a monkey who loved to count. He counted so much that he hardly had any friends.

One day he decided to count all the animals in the jungle. First he counted the tigers, ostriches, hippos, and finally he came to the lion. Now the lion, being very short tempered, got very angry and started chasing the little monkey. They ran all over the jungle. Finally the monkey climbed up a tree where the furious lion couldn't get him. Word got around about the incident with the lion and the monkey, and soon the whole forest knew. The giraffe replied to the tiger, "What a king he is." The tiger replied, "He shouldn't be our king." Now this made the lion even more angry and he went off searching for the monkey. He found him and started chasing him again. He caught and ate him. But little did he know that he had eaten the wrong monkey. And as for the monkey who loved to count he went on counting and counting!

MY CHRISTMAS STORY

By: Jill Helm, Fifth Grade—Mrs. Moore
Once upon a time there was a little Christmas tree nobody wanted—a Christmas tree that was small and didn't have very many branches or bristles on it. One cold day a little boy and his dad came to buy a Christmas tree. They walked past the little tree and the boy said, "Can we buy this little tree for grandma because her house is not that big?" So they bought the little tree and a big round tree for their house. That cold day they brought the tree to their grandma. She loved the tree. She was too old to go out into the cold to get a Christmas tree. She put lots of ornaments on the little tree. She put the tree in front of the window so all the cars that went by could see the cute little tree she loved.

The End.

THANKFUL

By: Becky Harris, Fifth Grade—Mr. Bullock
I am thankful for my family and for living in the U.S.A. I am thankful for having a very good school and for my friends. All children should have the right to an education, but they don't. I am thankful for my family's health and that we will all be together for Thanksgiving because it is a time families should stop and realize how many things they have to be thankful for. I am thankful for my horse I got for my birthday and my newborn kittens. I know that a lot of kids would like to have a horse, but they don't have a place to put it so I am also thankful for living in the country. I am most thankful for being able to go off the school bus in the afternoon and going home to a mother and father and a sister and brother who love me and knowing that we love each other. I guess that's what being a family is all about.

CHRISTMAS

By: Bryan Schleff, Fifth Grade—Mr. Ticknor
I want to tell you about the time my friends and I went to the movies. Well, we wanted to, but something very unusual happened. Okay, let's get back to the story. We were going to watch a movie called Christmas. My mom and I picked Brett, Tobin, Chris and Steve up at their houses in our car. I hope this movie will be good," Brett said. "Keith said it was great," I said. My mom dropped us off at the movies and she went to McDonald's. We went inside and got popcorn. Brett had it all gone by the time the movie started. Of course, half of it spilled on some lady's head. We got front row seats and we all had to go to the bathroom. So we tried a door to see if it led to the bathroom. It surely was! It was the projector room and our shadows came on the screen. The manager started toward us and we took off like a flash. We went into a door with stairs on the other side of it. We decided to go down the stairs and the door slammed behind us. We ran up the stairs and tried to open the door. It was jammed shut. The stairs disappeared and we found ourselves falling into midair. We fell for three minutes until we hit the ground. We were in a beautiful place. "Wow!" Tobin said. Steve and Brett had fainted. "Where are we?" Chris said. An old man in a Santa Claus suit and pilgrim's hat came up to us. "You're in the Flipside of Christmas," he said. "That's the name of the movie we were going to watch," I said. "What is Christmas?" Tobin said. "In your world it is two holidays," he said. "How did you know we came from a different world?" Chris said. "I see what goes on at the movie theatre by looking through my crystal ball," he said. "By the way, my name is Santa-Pilgrim. Well, as I was saying, in your world, it is two holidays, Christmas and Thanksgiving. I am a famous person you call Santa Claus and another famous person, a pilgrim. So they call me Santa-Pilgrim." "I get it. Your world is a duplicate of ours with different holidays," I said. "Where are we?" Brett and Steve said waking up. "We are in the land of Christmas," I said. "Hop in my sleigh. I have a surprise for you," Santa-Pilgrim said. I hadn't noticed it before, but turkeys were pulling the sleigh. We sure got a surprise because when we got to the clouds, the sleigh disappeared and we started falling. UPI! We landed on the stars in the movie theatre. "How did we get here so quick?" Chris said. "We fell," I said. "That was cool," Steve said. We tried the door at the top of the steps and it easily opened. The movie was over and to our surprise, our names came on the screen as main actors. All that time we were in the land of Christmas, we were being watched at the movie theatre. As we walked past a movie picture of the Santa-Pilgrim it magically talked. It said, "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Valentine."

The End.

A TRIP BACK IN TIME WITH A CAR FROM THE FUTURE

By: Stephanie Bonds, Fifth Grade—Mrs. Mortensen
One day I was walking home from the store. I found a funny looking little stone. It looked like glass but it was purple like stained glass. It was as fuzzy as could be too. I got it home but I did not show it to my mom. She probably would have made me get rid of it! I hid it just inside the house and told my mom that the store did not have any marshmallows. "Oh," she said. "I guess I should have taken you. That way you would not have had to walk so far for nothing." "It's OK. I needed the exercise." I lied. I took the stone upstairs and examined it. It had a car inside! It had a tiny car inside of it! You had to see good to see the car through the blue and purplish hair. I put it in my favorite jewelry box, the one with a little ballerina in it. Later that night, I awoke hearing a shrill noise. I looked all around my room. The noise had stopped but my jewelry box was glowing!

I got out of bed and turned on the light. Purple and blue hair was all over my room! Then a bright light flashed and the ball was gone. But there in the ball's place was the most fabulous car I had ever seen! It had long blue and purple hair. I just stood in my room looking at that car in utter amazement. Finally I came to my senses. I got dressed and got in the car. It was a real dream machine. But it didn't have any doors. I pushed a button that said "go" on it. I noticed some numbered buttons. I pushed 1776 (I thought it was a speed). The car started spinning in circles. I thought it was about to blow up. But it didn't. The car went through the wall and the next thing I knew I was standing next to GEORGE WASHINGTON!

I saw the car on a dirt mound. I jumped into the car and scanned for a 1985 button. It wasn't there! I pushed 1673. I don't know why. I found myself sitting in a barn. I didn't want to stick around. So I pushed 1949. I was watching my grandma give birth to my mom! I jumped in the car and pushed 1899. Then before the car stopped I pushed 1784 and saw a boy corner and watched myself play jacks by myself. Then I went back in time again.

I wanted to see something. I wanted to see it so bad it made my itch. I got in the car and pushed 1843 button. I found myself in a crowd of people listening to ABRAHAM LINCOLN give a speech about freedom. That's exactly what I wanted to see! I got a tape recorder in 1984, I came back and recorded his every word. All of a sudden I got homesick. I went into the car and I wished so hard that there would be an 1985 button it gave me a headache. I opened my eyes and out of the corner of my eye I saw a 1985.

Warm Weather Seminar Teaches Tornado Safety

Tornadoes are the most violent and most destructive of all weather-related facts presented at the eighth annual Sky Warm Weather Seminar conducted at the UAW Local 1284 Hall, 2795 South M-52, just outside Chelsea, Tuesday, March 25. A good representation of citizens attended from western Washtenaw county.

The meeting began promptly at 7 p.m., as scheduled, and featured Dan Harsh, director of the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management, and Robert Snider, meteorologist from the National Weather Service.

The educational seminar included information about tornadoes and other severe weather phenomena, as well as weather forecasting.

John M. Harok, financial secretary of Local 1284, explained members of the Chelsea Communications Club and UAW Local 1284 considered it a privilege to host the educational meeting and to have both Harsh and Snider present the information at the gathering.

A film displaying in graphic detail the appearance of a tornado as it swept suddenly into a community was shown during the seminar.

Preparedness in advance for an emergency of this nature is one of the surest ways to contain the effects of such a disaster.

Although no amount of advance preparation will alter the course of an approaching tornado, knowing what to do during the storm and having ready a place with required supplies in which to wait out the storm can help ease the trauma with which the storm is associated.

In case, citizens are unsure about tornadoes, a tornado is a funnel-cloud until it touches the ground or creates damage. At the point of touching the ground or creating damage, it becomes a tornado.

In contrast to hurricanes, tornadoes occur only over land areas, the group at the seminar was told. In some instances, tornado-like storms develop over water, but these disturbances are called water-spouts. Tornadoes appear mainly an American phenomenon, rarely occurring in other countries. Tornadoes frequently form in the central Mississippi Valley, particularly in spring, early summer and fall. They are caused by cold air from Canada meeting warm air from the Gulf of Mexico. Whether a tornado develops depends on the shape of the cold front at the time. After forming, tornadoes usually travel about 25 to 40 miles per hour and normally move from the southwest to the northeast. Although tornadoes can travel as far as 300 miles, the average track is four to five miles long and 100-200 miles wide.

An approaching tornado, the group attending the seminar was told, is characterized by heavy rain, thunder and ominous dark masses of clouds from which hangs the funnel-shaped tornado cloud. As the storm moves along, the end of this funnel or vortex may touch, and then touch again a mile or so farther on. In addition to the thunder, there may be a roar when the vortex touches the earth's surface. The winds of tornadoes blow spirally upward and counterclockwise around the axis of the tornado cloud. The speeds of tornado winds have never been measured directly. Based on effects produced, however, the velocity of these winds has been estimated to be as high as 500 mph. The updraft within the funnel cloud may have a velocity of 85 to 200 mph. This updraft frequently sucks up large objects and deposits them considerable distances away. It is from this twisting spiral updraft that tornadoes have been dubbed "twisters."

Informants told those attending the seminar at the UAW Hall, Tuesday, although tornado conditions can be predicted with great accuracy and predictions are broadcast, they are for specified areas and times. Because tornado paths and times cannot be pinpointed, however, some people may ignore warnings and thereby a few lives and some property are needlessly lost.

The center of the tornado, called the eye, is one of the most destructive parts of the storm. The eye is an area of low barometric pressure. Although this pressure has never been measured, it is estimated to be as low as seven pounds per square inch. This low pressure causes buildings in the path of the eye to lift upward and to explode outward. Opening windows or doors on buildings will help equalize the pressure and may stop the building from exploding. Because the path or eye of the tornado is very narrow, however, at times buildings on one side of the street are demolished while those on the other side of the street escaped unscathed.

Representatives of the many groups and organizations, in addition to those attending the weather seminar as individuals, received a host of printed materials to take with them, Tuesday evening. Look for some of the information from those hand-outs in next week's issue of the paper.

Westhoven, Craig Miller, Dan Degener and Scott Pryor. Not pictured is Jeff Nemeth. Miller, Doan, Pryor and Nemeth earned all-state honors for their performance in the 200-yard medley relay, finishing fourth.

Decline in Property Values Makes Millage Rise Likely

Chelsea school district voters are likely to be asked to approve an increase in the district's operating millage for at least the 1986-87 school year.

That's because school officials, based on their conversations with township officials, are anticipating a $1.5 million drop in the State Equalized Valuation of property within the district, mostly due to a decrease in the value of farmland.

A $1.5 million drop would bring the district approximately $53,000 less in tax money than what was collected for the 1985-86 school year.

The district has also begun negotiations with teachers and staff on a new contract.

The inevitable increase in salaries, along with a decrease in revenue, will put the district far into the red. And that still does not count inflation. The district essentially on its own. It does not receive the additional state money an in-formula district would.

The school board's finance committee is working on the budget problem, and probably will not pass a formal millage resolution until the second meeting in April, Van Meer said. The election is June 10.

Although Van Meer would not officially confirm that an increase in millage would be needed, he said the board "has a lot of decisions to make."

final year of that increase, and property values have not yet returned to the 1982 level, Van Meer said.

"We've done very well with that 2.9 mills," Van Meer said.

Taco Bell's Logo Plans Hits a Snag As Village Objects to Sign

ty users in the area were denied. McDonald's wanted a bigger sign and Chelsea Big Boy wanted one of their big rotating signs, but both of them co-operated with the ordinance. I don't believe Taco Bell has a land-use hardship, which is the only reason to grant a variance." Marten claimed at the meeting, and Harook backed him up, that photographs of a similar building, complete with the sign, were submitted to the planning commission with the final site plans. The commission approved those plans. It was later that the owners were required to apply for a variance. However, based on comments by Weber at the meeting, there was some question as to whether the sign was considered to be a part of those site plans. Marten said that when those site plans were approved, he thought the signs had also been approved. "The building was designed with those signs in mind,"

Marten said during the public hearing. "It meets requirements for handicapped ramp entrances, lighting requirements, and we've scaled it down to the smallest possible logo that is even designed or built for it. We're not cluttering our windows with tons of signs that would make it a tacky entrance to the village. It's the latest design, it's in very good taste, and we've kept our signage to a minimum. We've met every requirement the village put on us."

The issue will likely be resolved at the regular April 1 council meeting.

Warm Weather Seminar Teaches Tornado Safety

Tornadoes are the most violent and most destructive of all windstorms! This was only one of the weather-related facts presented at the eighth annual Sky Warm Weather Seminar conducted at the UAW Local 1284 Hall, 2795 South M-52, just outside Chelsea, Tuesday, March 25. A good representation of citizens attended from western Washtenaw county.

The meeting began promptly at 7 p.m., as scheduled, and featured Dan Harsh, director of the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management, and Robert Snider, meteorologist from the National Weather Service.

The educational seminar included information about tornadoes and other severe weather phenomena, as well as weather forecasting.

John M. Harrook, financial secretary of Local 1284, explained members of the Chelsea Communications Club and UAW Local 1284 considered it a privilege to host the educational meeting and to have both Harsh and Snider present the information at the gathering.

A film displaying in graphic detail the appearance of a tornado as it swept suddenly into a community was shown during the seminar.

Preparedness in advance for an emergency of this nature is one of the surest ways to contain the effects of such a disaster.

Although no amount of advance preparation will alter the course of an approaching tornado, knowing what to do during the storm and having ready a place with required supplies in which to wait out the storm can help ease the trauma with which the storm is associated.

In case, citizens are unsure about tornadoes, a tornado is a funnel-cloud until it touches the ground or creates damage. At the point of touching the ground or creating damage, it becomes a tornado.

In contrast to hurricanes, tornadoes occur only over land areas, the group at the seminar was told. In some instances, tornado-like storms develop over water, but there disturbances are called water-spouts. Tornadoes appear mainly an American phenomenon, rarely occurring in other countries. Tornadoes frequently form in the central Mississippi Valley, particularly in spring, early summer and fall. They are caused by cold air from Canada meeting warm air from the Gulf of Mexico. Whether a tornado develops depends on the shape of the cold front at the time. After forming, tornadoes usually travel about 25 to 40 miles per hour and normally move from the southwest to the northeast. Although tornadoes can travel as far as 300 miles, the average track is four to five miles long and 100-200 miles wide.

An approaching tornado, the group attending the seminar was told, is characterized by heavy rain, thunder and ominous dark masses of clouds from which hangs the funnel-shaped tornado cloud. As the storm moves along, the end of this funnel or vortex may touch, and then touch again a mile or so farther on. In addition to the thunder, there may be a roar when the vortex touches the earth's surface. The winds of tornadoes blow spirally upward and counterclockwise around the axis of the tornado cloud. The speeds of tornado winds have never been measured directly. Based on effects produced, however, the velocity of these winds has been estimated to be as high as 500 mph. The updraft within the funnel cloud may have a velocity of 85 to 200 mph. This updraft frequently sucks up large objects and deposits them considerable distances away. It is from this twisting spiral updraft that tornadoes have been dubbed "twisters."

Informants told those attending the seminar at the UAW Hall, Tuesday, although tornado conditions can be predicted with great accuracy and predictions are broadcast, they are for specified areas and times. Because tornado paths and times cannot be pinpointed, however, some people may ignore warnings and thereby a few lives and some property are needlessly lost.

The center of the tornado, called the eye, is one of the most destructive parts of the storm. The eye is an area of low barometric pressure. Although this pressure has never been measured, it is estimated to be as low as seven pounds per square inch. This low pressure causes buildings in the path of the eye to lift upward and to explode outward. Opening windows or doors on buildings will help equalize the pressure and may stop the building from exploding. Because the path or eye of the tornado is very narrow, however, at times buildings on one side of the street are demolished while those on the other side of the street escaped unscathed.

Representatives of the many groups and organizations, in addition to those attending the weather seminar as individuals, received a host of printed materials to take with them, Tuesday evening. Look for some of the information from those hand-outs in next week's issue of the paper.

Decline in Property Values Makes Millage Rise Likely

Chelsea school district voters are likely to be asked to approve an increase in the district's operating millage for at least the 1986-87 school year.

That's because school officials, based on their conversations with township officials, are anticipating a $1.5 million drop in the State Equalized Valuation of property within the district, mostly due to a decrease in the value of farmland.

A $1.5 million drop would bring the district approximately $53,000 less in tax money than what was collected for the 1985-86 school year.

The district has also begun negotiations with teachers and staff on a new contract.

The inevitable increase in salaries, along with a decrease in revenue, will put the district far into the red. And that still does not count inflation. The district already had to tighten its belt for this school year, according to Superintendent Ray Van Meer.

"Because we're an out-of-formula district, it's devastating to us not to have growth," Van Meer said. "When I look at our probable expenses against revenues, it's sickening."

An out-of-formula district is essentially on its own. It does not receive the additional state money an in-formula district would.

The school board's finance committee is working on the budget problem, and probably will not pass a formal millage resolution until the second meeting in April, Van Meer said. The election is June 10.

Although Van Meer would not officially confirm that an increase in millage would be needed, he said the board "has a lot of decisions to make."

The district's operating millage (one mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed value) stands at 35.62 and has been at that level since the 1983-84 school year. Property values plummeted from more than $183 million in 1982 to $173 million in 1983. That year voters approved an additional 2.9 mills for three years. This is the final year of that increase, and property values have not yet returned to the 1982 level, Van Meer said.

"We've done very well with that 2.9 mills," Van Meer said.

Bulldog Baseball Team Preparing To Pursue '86 SEC Championship

Although Chelsea has grown accustomed to championship softball in recent years, this could be the year for Chelsea High school baseball.

Coch Wayne Welton has almost his entire team back, a team that lost 9-8 to Fenton in the district tournament last year. Fenton went on to the state championship game.

Welton has a team blessed with depth, and a schedule that plays right into his hands. It's almost a perfect set-up.

Pitching depth is remarkable. Of the 16 boys Welton will keep on the roster, nine of them are capable of respectable performances on the mound.

And this year, the Southeastern Conference has changed its format to an all double-header schedule. As far as Welton is concerned, the change couldn't have come at a more opportune time.

"I'm gonna love it," Welton said of the format change. "With all the pitching we have, we shouldn't have any problem with back-to-back games. We could use four guys the first game, and still have plenty of pitching for the second game."

While the Bulldogs appear to have an endless supply of hurlers, Welton says he's not sure he has the kid he can count on to "pitch the big game and hold the opponent to two runs or less," the way the Dodgers used to depend on Sandy Koufax, or the Mets now look to Dwight Gooden.

"We're working real hard to find that pitcher," Welton said. "We have enough talent that I'm confident we'll find someone."

Seniors Dan Bellus and Chuck Downer (both right handers), and junior lefty Todd Starkey, will probably make up the starting rotation, Welton said. Bellus was an all-league pitcher last year, Downer was first-team all-state and Starkey also had a fine season.

Senior Mark Mull will likely be the reliever Welton sends in when he needs the sure out.

"Mark's not overpowering, but he throws the ball over the plate, which is what you need in that situation," Welton said.

On the receiving end of most of that pitching will be senior Ray Spencer, who, through weight training has beefed up a little.

"He'll need that extra strength for all the extra games we have," Welton said.

Off-season work on the field should make the task of the Bulldogs infield a little easier. Kevin Maynard is the probable first baseman, and will likely spend some time on the mound. Bellus will play second base or shortstop when he isn't pitching. Mull will play short most of the time, and Downer will play third base.

Rob Murrell should get the nod in left field, Starkey will play center, and Kevin Walz is the projected right fielder. Walz is also a left-handed pitcher.

Other seniors include Matt Koenn, who Welton calls a utility player. He has speed and is capable of playing both the infield and outfield. Brian Robeson, who was cut last year, "has shown a lot of promise and a lot of effort this season." He'll be in the outfield.

Other juniors on the team are Jeff Harvey (third base, pitch), Matt Bohlender (second base, catch), Mark Bareis (infield), Greg Haist (outfield, left-handed pitcher), and Jon Lane and Jeff Stacey (outfielders).

Welton likes an aggressive style of play and promises, "we'll do some running, we like to put the heat on." Hit-and-run, straight steals, double steals, delayed steals are all distinct possibilities.

He says the team can't be characterized as loaded with power, although a couple of the boys are capable of the long ball.

"We're more of an alley-hitting team," Welton said.

By the end of the season, the Bulldogs could find themselves in a race with last year's champions, the Saline Hornets, who have the bulk of their team back.

But forever the diplomat, Welton says, "Saline has to be considered but there's a lot of depth in the league and anyone could spring up to win the league. I wouldn't want to count anybody out."

The team will once again travel to Venice, Fla., over spring break to get a little outdoors time in.

The Bulldogs had a 16-12 overall record, and 8-4 league mark last season.

LAYING DOWN A BUNT is Bulldog Kevin Walz during one of the varsity team's early morning practices at the high school. Walz is one of the many talented athletes on this year's squad ready to make a run for the Southeastern Conference title.

BATTING PRACTICE AT 7 A.M. is not at all unusual for the Chelsea Bulldogs as they prepare for their first game in April. The team will travel to Venice, Fla., for their annual spring workout during next week's spring vacation. The Dogs figure to be one of the top teams in the Southeastern Conference.

Aquatic Club Finishes 4th In League

Chelsea Aquatic Club finished up its 1986 winter session with a fourth place finish in the Southern Michigan Swim League Championships last week-end.

Six other teams competed including Ann Arbor Y, Plymouth-Canton, Ypsilanti, Milan, Brighton and Pinckney.

Matt McVittie set league and club records in the 8-and-under boys category including the 100 individual medley, 50 butterfly, and 50 freestyle.

Melissa Thiel, competing in the 9-10 group, set a record in the 100 individual medley.

Chris Birtles took first place in the 50 and 100 freestyle races.

Age group finishes were as follows: 13-14 boys, first place; 12-14 girls, sixth place; 11-12 boys, third place; 11-12 girls, third place; 9-10 boys, second place; 9-10 girls, fourth place; 8-and-under boys, fourth place; 8-and-under girls, fifth place.

Tom Haight Takes Over Lead Spot in Cribbage Tourney

At the conclusion of the second night of play, now totaling 20 games, the Chelsea Cribbage Tournament saw many changes in player standings.

Tom Haight of Ann Arbor overcame David Kruse's lead and moved up from third to first place, dropping Kruse to second. Skip Schluppe of Chelsea moved up from 10th to third followed by Craig Sinclair of Ann Arbor at fourth.

Tuesday, March 25 may see another complete change of standings as they finish up the last 10 qualifying games to determine the players heading into the finals on April 1.

Standings as of March 18 are as follows.

Two Aquatic Club Records Broken In State Meet

Two Chelsea Aquatic Club records were broken last week-end at the 1986 Boys Short Course State Championships at Wayne State University.

The 200-yard individual medley relay team of Joe Cesarz, Dana Schmunk, Jason McVittie and Colby Skelton finished in eighth place with a new club record of 2:28.07.

Skelton went on to break his own club record in the 50-yard breaststroke with a time of :37.73, good for fourth place.

Schmunk, McVittie, Cesarz and Skelton were 10th in the 200-yard freestyle relay in 2:12.89.

Skelton was eighth in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:26.52, and 13th in the 50-yard freestyle in :30.89.

Dana Schmunk was eighth in the 50-yard breaststroke in :40.84, 10th in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:27.33, and 13th in the 50-yard backstroke in :37.96.

CHAMPIONS OF THE MEN'S 30-4 BASKETBALL LEAGUE were Woodshed II, finishing with a 9-1 record. The league, which played its games on Sundays, was sponsored by the Chelsea Recreation Department. In the front row, from

MATH TEST WINNERS in the 6th grade at Beach Middle school were recognized with certificates of achievement. The test, the first step in a competition sponsored by the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics, was for all students at the school. The top three scorers in each class will advance to the regional competition April 12 in Lansing. If they pass the regional level, they'll

TOP SEVENTH GRADE STUDENTS in the math competition sponsored by the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics had to solve problems ranging from numerical sequences to advanced algebra and geometry. The top 10 children in each grade at Beach Middle school were given certificates, and the top three will move on to compete in the regional contest. State finals will be held at Central Michigan University

TOP EIGHTH GRADE STUDENTS in the math competition at Beach Middle school, sponsored by the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics, were given certificates for their performance. The top three will advance to the regional competition at Lansing Community College April 12, and possibly, after that, the state competition in May at Central Michigan University. This year's test, which included advanced

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, March 17, were Schumann, Grau, Dils, Comeau, Satterthwaite, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, curriculum director Bissell, and guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dale Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the March 3 meeting.

Entered as official communications were letters from Dexter township, pertaining to interest earned on tax collections; Lyndon township, relative to an assessment appeal; and the Washenaw Intermediate School District inviting board input in their search for a new superintendent.

The board presented a certificate of appreciation to Maryellen Miller, Health Careers instructor, for her organization of the Wealth of Health Day activities on March 12.

John Groesser, high school English teacher and director of the Learning Center, briefed the board on the activities of the center. The center is an educational resource center giving attention to reading and math learning skills and continuing education.

Superintendent Van Meer presented a three-year student enrollment projection through 1989. Student enrollment declines will continue to occur at the high school, but there appears to be slight growth in the number of entering kindergartners.

Products on Parade

This series of stories spotlights the products of Michigan's farms, forests and factories—the products stamped “Made in Michigan.” Watch for them when you shop, and “Buy Michigan-made!” This week's story: “Mr. Turkey, a man for all seasons.”

By Paula Blanchard
For years turkeys were regarded as the Rodney Dangerfield of the food chain: they didn't get no respect. In fact, the only time Benjamin Franklin ever got a laugh was when he suggested that the turkey replace the bald eagle as our national bird.

But now comes a Michigan company, Bil Mar Foods of Zeeland, and its product champion, a turkey with a title, to change all that. Meet Mr. Turkey, a man for all seasons.

Bil Mar, one of the nation's largest processors of Meleagris gallopava (turkey's upscale, Latin moniker), is coming on strong in the traditional meat market with a line of products that would make a Pilgrim (not to mention Ben Franklin) gasp in disbelief—high-technology turkey that looks (thanks to processing) and tastes (thanks to seasoning) a lot like our old red-meat favorites.

The 48-year-old company (the brothers Bill and Marvin DeWitt started it with 17 breeder birds) still markets the traditional turkey—the big, plump beauty you serve at Thanksgiving, as well as all of the parts thereof. But now, about half of the six million Bil Mar birds sent to market each year are... well, their own mothers wouldn't recognize them in their new guises—turkey hot dogs, turkey salami, turkey ham, to name a tasteful few.

Mr. Turkey's uncanny ability to mimic other meats goes a long way to explain why Americans are turning to turkey as never before. Says Warren Waters, Bil Mar's director of retail marketing: “Consumers are saying, ‘yes, this is turkey smoked sausage, but it doesn't taste like turkey—it tastes like sausage.’”

What is more, he adds, health-conscious consumers (which should be all of us) are making poultry their meat-of-choice for its good taste, fewer calories and lower fat content—not to mention that it costs less than red meats. In addition to everything else, Mr. Turkey is the comeback bird of the comeback state. A flash-fire all but destroyed Bil Mar's production facilities in 1984, but it didn't stop the company. Workers now are completing a new, twice-as-large processing complex that will enable the company to triple production in 1986.

Mr. Turkey, like the legendary Phoenix, is rising fast from the ashes.

As a result, they keep making it—and we keep buying it—in Michigan!

The Board Finance Committee reported that latest information from the township treasurers indicates we will have a loss of $1,500,000 in state equalized valuation. With the budget projections still showing a deficit, the budget committee will meet to review further projections at 7:30 p.m. on March 24.

President Schumann indicated that the board had completed the annual review of Superintendent Van Meer. All board members filled out an evaluation form from which a composite rating was prepared; the Superintendent was rated between “quite strong” and “very strong” in all categories. Van Meer's contract was extended, effective July 1, 1986, through June 30, 1989.

Secretary Ann Comeau reported that on Wednesday, March 19, board members will be in attendance at a County School Officers program to discuss board policies.

The building principals reviewed the recent happenings at their schools: the forensics team won the recent tournament; high school band, orchestra and choir, and the 7th and 8th grade bands all received Division I ratings at Festivals; the 7th and 8th grade Academic Games team became state champion in “World Card,” which featured the space program from 1920 through 1988.

The board convened in executive session at 10:24 p.m. to discuss the upcoming negotiations with the CEA, and subsequently convened in public session at 11:45.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:46 p.m.

Scientists estimate that more than 5,200 animal species are being discovered each year, reports Ranger Rick magazine. More than one-and-a-half-million species have been found and named over the last 200 years... most of them insects.

Fair Board Hit By Cost Of Liability Insurance

The cost of liability insurance for the Fourth of July fireworks presentation was a topic of discussion at the regular Chelsea Community Fair Board meeting Tuesday, March 18.

The meeting was called to order by President Bill Stofer. Officers present included: Jerry Herrick, vice-president; Lloyd Grau, executive vice-president; Maryann Guenther, secretary; and Mark Stapish, treasurer.

Directors present included Archie Bradbury, Richard Bollinger, Jim Dault, Tom Dault, Harold Gross, Earl Heller, Jerry Heydlaiff, Charles Koenn, Jeff Layher, Reuben Lesser, Jeff Layher, Reuben Lesser, and Don Koenigter.

Reports were read and accepted. Harold Allen, of the Chelsea Jaycees, led the discussion about high liability insurance premiums.

The schedule of events were finalized, with only a few changes.

Chelsea Athletic Boosters will manage the gates as they have in the past.

John Wellnitz is trying to get names and dates of past presidents of the fair as well as former directors. He may be reached at 475-1518.

How high can a grasshopper leap? Nearly 10 feet, thanks to a rubber band-like protein called resilin stored in a grasshopper's knees, reports International Wildlife magazine. Resilin has a returning stored energy value of 97 percent, which means a ball made of the substance would bounce nearly as high as you threw it.

Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Michele L. Solty, daughter of Bonnie J. Solty of 11688 Lombardy Court, Pinckney, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

During Solty's eight-week training cycle, she studied general military subjects designed to prepare her for further academic and on-the-job training in one the the Navy's 85 basic fields.

A 1985 graduate of Pinckney High school, she joined the Navy in November 1985.

Twenty-eight percent of the passenger cars in operation in the United States in 1984 were 10 years old or older, according to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

Legal Notice 19

MORTGAGE SALE - Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by DONALD O. O'DUNTAN and DEBORAH J. O'DUNTAN, his wife, Mortgagor, to Standard Federal Savings and Loan Association, now known as Standard Federal Bank, a savings bank, of Troy, Oakland County, Michigan, Mortgagee, dated July 8, 1979, and recorded in the office of the Registrar of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on July 12, 1979, in Liber 1718, on Page 419, of Washtenaw County Records, and recorded January 4, 1980, in Liber 1744, Page 55, Washtenaw County Records, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Forty-Two Thousand Five Hundred Nine and 04/100 Dollars ($42,509.40).

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, Now, Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Thursday, April 17, 1986, at ten o'clock A.M., local time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the West entrance to the Washtenaw County Building, in the City of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due,

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
On Feb. 18, our daughter Rechele, 15 years old, and her two friends, Kellie and Arnie, were killed in a tragic car accident on the way to school. The fog was so dense and the ice so slick yet school officials here decided no delay was necessary, nor was school to be cancelled.

The decision was made, the results fatal. It is not the first time, nor will it be the last. We know nothing can ever change, nor will our girls ever be here, but we feel deeply to do anything we can to prevent any other senseless injuries or deaths from happening.

The legislature in Michigan has forced a new law upon us. Are you aware that there is a mandatory 180 school day in session law that says any day missed because of weather will have to be made up? Some school districts are forced to comply this year. All schools will be forced to next year.

We feel this puts undue pressure upon school officials to make decisions that might not be focused primarily on the safety of the children, but rather complications of extending the school calendar.

We live in Michigan where nature and the weather play a big part in our everyday lives. Laws cannot change nature, therefore, the laws should conform and work with nature. This law defies nature and says our children must be in buses loaded to the hilt with students not in seat belts, and some even without proper seats, and then hope for the best. Let's not play politics with our children's lives. Let's encourage them to learn in a safe, comfortable and relaxed atmosphere. They are our most precious and most valuable assets; they are our future. Let's let them have one. Our daughter, her two friends, and other students in Michigan have lost theirs this winter.

We need this law repealed now before more are injured and killed. Let's allow local school districts the liberty to make a reasonable and safe decision in weather-related school closings.

You can help by writing to your legislators or us on your concerns. We will forward them to the appropriate committees.

Dear Editor:

Thank you, Chelsea Standard! If a person were to rely strictly on other leading newspapers in this area (the Ypsilanti Press, Detroit Free Press, etc.), he or she might get the idea that nothing good ever happens in this world, so filled with depressing news are they. But I can always count on the Chelsea Standard and its staff of reporters to uncover the positive events (citizenship awards, bake-off results, bowling league action, etc.) that can bring sunshine to a person's life. I especially look to your paper when my husband goes to his week-long gun collectors convention in the summer. With their humorous anecdotes and thoughtful observations, your columnists Brian Hamilton and Will Connelly always help take my mind off the horrible fates that might befall me should intruders break in. Keep up the good work!

Dear Editor,

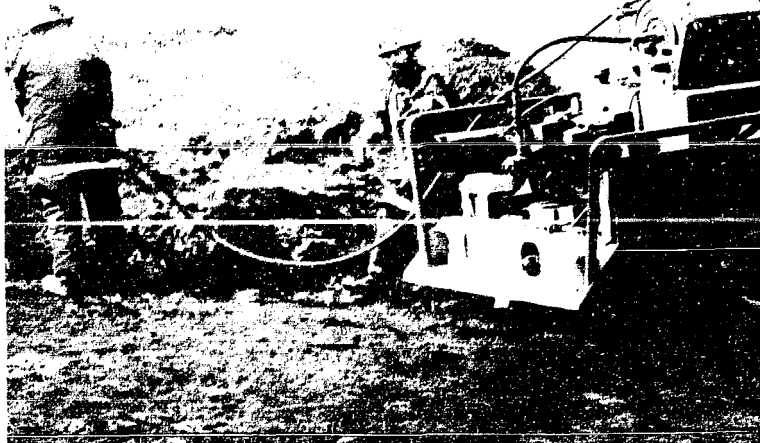

The 18th Armored Division Association is a non-profit organization of World War II Army Veterans, who served with General Patton's Third Army in Europe. We have 1,100 members, who now reside in all 50 states except Montana and Alaska. Our Armored Division consisted of approximately 15,000 men during combat.

Since I was the First Sergeant of Company "B", 64th Armored Infantry Battalion of the 18th Armored Division, I can recall that there were men in my outfit who originally lived in Michigan and either enlisted or were drafted from your state.

I am trying to locate these men and ask them to join our association. It would be greatly appreciated if you would print this letter, requesting that these former members of the 18th Armored Division contact me.

We hold an annual reunion in a different city and state in the United States. In 1985, our 34th annual reunion was held in Cleveland, O. In 1986, we plan to be at Lake Tahoe, and in 1987 in Orlando, Fla.

A SIGN OF SPRING: Chelsea firefighters battled eight grass fires last week-end as dry conditions and high winds made conditions ideal for the blazes. This particular fire occurred on M-52 near Werkner Rd.

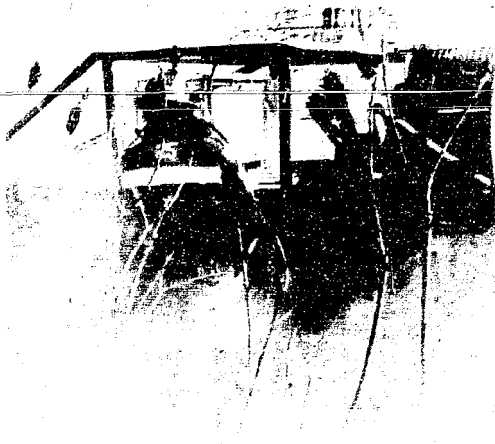

Chelsea Schools Superintendent's Contract Extended

Chelsea School District Superintendent Ray Van Meer had his contract extended through the 1988-89 school year in action taken last week by the school board.

The contract, calling for an increase in salary to $54,000, makes him the seventh highest paid superintendent in Washtenaw county, according to statistics from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. His salary ranks just behind Lincoln schools at $54,500, and just ahead of Milan schools at $53,452. However, the Milan district provides an automobile, which Van Meer does not receive.

Van Meer works on a three-year contract that is renewed annually.

He came to the district in 1978 and was initially hired on a two-year contract.

REGULATING THE WATER SUPPLY ON THE TRUCK, fireman Ron Lentz was busy at one of the several brush fires to which Chelsea firefighters were summoned over the past weekend. Warmer temperatures and gusty winds provided ideal conditions for brush fires as residents were out sprucing up their properties.

Maundy Thursday Service Slated at St. John's Church

St. John's United Church of Christ, 12376 Waters Rd., Chelsea, will observe Maundy Thursday in special services on March 27 at 8 p.m. Theme for the evening will be, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." Marsha Chartrand will sing a solo with that title.
The pastor, the Rev. T. C. Wimmer, will show colored slides he took of the Holy Land when he visited there. The scenes will include Jerusalem, the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, and the Via Dolorosa, the street leading from Pontius Pilate's courtyard to Calvary, the scene of Christ's crucifixion, burial and resurrection.
The service will conclude with the Sacrament of Holy Communion instituted by Christ in the Upper Room in Jerusalem over 1,900 years ago. The public is invited.

Prayer Vigil Set at St. Paul's

A 12-hour prayer vigil will be held on March 28-29 at St. Paul United Church of Christ. The prayer vigil will begin at 7 p.m. on Good Friday and last until 7 a.m.
Anyone in the community is invited to take part. The church is located on Old US-12.

'Last Supper' Drama Set at Methodist Church

A living dramatization of "The Last Supper," a painting by Leonardo Da Vinci, will be performed at the First United Methodist church tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

It will be performed by men from the Dansville-Vantown communities.

The painting was commissioned in 1494, when Leonardo was 42, by the Duke of Milan, Ludovico Sforza, to decorate the dining room of the convent Church of Santa Maria delle Grazie in Milan, Italy.

The painting was not intended as a faithful reproduction of the original scene in first century Palestine, but as it might have taken place in 15th century Italy.

He chose what he considered the most dramatic moment, the moment after Jesus said, "one of you will betray me." The news stunned the 12 apostles, and in the excitement, Judas overturned the container of salt and Peter drew his knife. Others stared at Jesus in amazement.

Members of the Dansville Youth Choir will receive any offerings at the outside door. Monies received above the cost of production will go to the "Community Care Program."

Anyone is welcome to attend. The church is at 128 Park St.

Prayer Vigil Set at St. Paul's

A 12-hour prayer vigil will be held on March 28-29 at St. Paul United Church of Christ. The prayer vigil will begin at 7 p.m. on Good Friday and last until 7 a.m.
Anyone in the community is invited to take part. The church is located on Old US-12.

I asked Jesus, "Lord, how much do you love me?"

Jesus replied: "This much." Then He spread His arms on the cross, and died for me.

Brenton W. Schultz, Sr.

11911 Island Lake Rd.
Dexter

Funeral services for Brenton W. Schultz, Sr., former parks supervisor for the Huron-Clinton Metroparks in Washtenaw county, will be held Wednesday, March 26 at 1 p.m. at Faith Evangelical Lutheran church, 9575 North Territorial Rd., Dexter.

Schultz died at his home in Dexter township on Saturday, March 22, following a long illness with cancer. Schultz, age 77, was born Jan. 6, 1909 in Detroit.

Visitation will be held at the Hosmer Funeral Home, 3410 Broad St., Dexter, starting at 7 p.m. on Monday, March 24; 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, March 25, and 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Wednesday, March 26, prior to the funeral. Interment will be held at Washtenaw Memorial Park Cemetery, Ann Arbor.

The family suggests memorials in the name of Mr. Schultz be made to the Faith Evangelical Lutheran church or the Hospice of Washtenaw.

He was married Oct. 26, 1929 in Taylor, to Bertha (Betty) Colvin. The Schultz family first moved to Washtenaw county in 1946, after Mr. Schultz completed military service in World War II. He was originally a resident of Detroit. He started at Dexter-Huron Park in 1948, when it was under the jurisdiction of the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Schultz had been parks supervisor at Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metroparks, each located along the Huron River northwest of Ann Arbor, since Jan. 1, 1952, when they were acquired by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. He retired at age 62 on Dec. 31, 1971.

When the family first moved to Washtenaw county, they lived at North Lake in 1946. Then they lived in the little stone cottage, built in the depression days, at Dexter-Huron Park, and in 1952 moved into a little pine cottage along the Huron River at Delhi Metropark, near the scenic rapids, and in 1961 moved to the old Gallagher Farmhouse, a 125-year-old structure on North Territorial Rd., across from the entrance to Hudson Mills Metropark. Schultz presided at the unveiling of a historical marker at Hudson Mills Park on Oct. 7, 1971, marking the site of a historic grist and sawmill and dam settled in 1827.

Survivors include his widow, Bertha (Betty); twin sons, Brenton W., Jr., of Flint, and Robert, of Dexter and Florida; daughter, Marielayne Tenpenny, of Dexter; brothers, George, of Troy, and Charles, of Allen Park; three sisters: Mrs. Paul (Margaret) Feys, of Dearborn, Mabel Coliau, of Hamburg; and Florence DuBoise, of Plano, Tex.; and nine grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by four brothers, Theodore, Henry, John, Edward, and a son-in-law, Jerry Tenpenny.

The Brenton W. Schultz, Sr. residence is at 11911 Island Lake Rd., Dexter.

Restoration Work Starts On Chelsea Rail Depot

Work on the restoration of the Chelsea rail depot is now under way. The first step is the removal of 17 windows, containing 136 panes of glass, and nine transoms.

The old panes, as well as those which are broken or missing, will be replaced with new panels of double-pane insulating glass.

The station will be warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer but unchanged from its architectural style of the 1880's.

The successful bidder for the glazing contract was Mick Pelletier of Pinckney Glass.

On June 2 craftsmen from Shiver Restoration of Chelsea will begin the laborious and sensitive job of removing 19 layers of paint which have been applied to the structure in the past 106 years.

The paint stripping, headed by Charles Shiver, will be done by a combination of techniques including high pressure water spray, heat plate and open flame torching.

A delicate part of the operation will be to identify the two colors of original paint which historians expect to be a light gray with forest green trim.

Shiver's skills in restoration are on display along Main St. at the Woodshed Eatery, Chelsea Pharmacy, Vogel's and Foster's, Winans Jewelry and Seitz's Tavern.

Closely following the paint removal will be another Chelsea craftsman, Bob Bauer and his crew of carpenters. The original wood, exposed by Shiver, will be examined for signs of damage or Spring Fun Run Set By County Recreation Comm.

A Fun Run with a choice of two courses is being sponsored by Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission on Saturday, April 12.

The annual Spring Fun Run offers a 5K (3.1 mile) course and a 10K (7.6 mile) course. Both races begin at the County Recreation Center and cover hilly terrain and meandering country roadways.

The first, second and third male and female finishers of each race will receive awards. The remaining 44 finishers of each race will receive medallions. All participants will receive t-shirts and refreshments.

The registration fee is $6 if postmarked on or before April 4, $7 if after. Check-in and late registration is 8-8:45 a.m. on race day. Races start at approximately 8:50 a.m.

The Washtenaw County Recreation Center is located at 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, at the corner of Washtenaw and Hogback in the County Service Center. Enter off Hogback.

deterioration. Bad wood will be replaced with good. Broken or damaged items of architectural gingerbread will be repaired or faithfully duplicated.

After these repairs, the restored exterior will be given one coat of oil base primer followed by two finish coats of oil base exterior paint. The result will be a depot virtually identical with its appearance in 1880.

Thomas Edison invented the electric lamp in 1879 so that the surviving interior lamps in our station, consisting of bare bulbs at the end of long ceiling wires, were probably considered quite modern when they were installed a few years after Edison's historic invention.

The process of restoring the outside of the station will be on public view from now through the end of June. An additional activity will be some repaving along the south wall of the station and a sidewalk suitable for wheelchairs to a convenient entrance at the front of the station.

The Chelsea depot was purchased outright from Amtrak by the community via the Chelsea Depot Association, a non-profit Michigan corporation. The cost of restoring the exterior is estimated at $16,000 to $19,000, depending on the cost of restorative carpentry as the condition of the original wood is revealed during paint removal.

"The recent mail solicitation for restoration funds has resulted in donations of about $13,000 in 10 weeks," stated Will Connelly, president of the CDA. "We know that a lot of families have had to set their depot donation envelopes aside while they pay Christmas costs, winter heat bills, property taxes and income taxes. Soon the financial skies will clear and many more families will be able to share in the restoration of the depot."

"The interior renewal involves a whole new electrical system, decorative lighting, woodwork, painting, plumbing, heating and air conditioning. It looks like we will probably need another $40,000—not immediately but over the next year or so. When everyone sees how well the restoration has been done on the outside, they will enjoy sharing in the perfection of the inside,

DEPOT RESTORATION BEGAN SATURDAY with the removal of the first group of windows and transoms for replacement with insulating glass. Mick Pelletier, standing outside the north wall, receives the first window pane from Ray Jordan inside the station. Multi-colored paint emphasized in this picture will begin to undergo removal on Monday, June 2.

CHECKING TO MAKE SURE all the sparks are well watered down before they return to Chelsea Fire Department headquarters from which they made runs to at least one other major brush fire later in the day, firefighters Bob Draper and Ron Lentz used both broom and fire hose to fight flames begun when a cardboard box flew from a trash fire and spread the blaze to nearby wooded area, just off M-52, Sunday, March 23.

DOUSING THE BURNING BRUSH in a wooded area adjoining a residence near M-52, north of Chelsea, Ron Lentz sprays the flames to stop their spread. Brisk winds added to the problem but Chelsea firefighters brought an abrupt halt to the fire, then finished the day, Sunday, by responding to several other similar fires as warm weather arrived suddenly.

Teen-Agers Escape With Minor Injury

Two carloads of Chelsea teen-agers escaped serious injury last Friday evening when one automobile was hit broadside as it pulled out onto M-52 from the Chelsea Lanes parking lot.

According to Chelsea police, one car, a 1985 Pontiac, driven by John A. Stevens, 16, attempted to turn north onto M-52 but was hit by another car, a 1981 Subaru, driven by Mark D. O'Toole, 19, as it was headed south.

The accident occurred at 8:49, police said.

Stevens, Shannon Dunn, 15, a passenger in Stevens' car, and Jack Amerman, 18, a passenger in O'Toole's car, were all taken to Chelsea Community Hospital where they were treated and released.

Other passengers in Stevens' car included sisters Arlene and Ada Tai, both 14, Wendy Sharum, 16, and Alison Thornton, 16. They were not hurt.

Other passengers in O'Toole's vehicle were Matt Underhill, 17, and Donna Bruck, 17. They were also not hurt.

Police said conditions were clear and dry.

Display Lawnmower Stolen From Front of Chelsea Hardware

A display lawnmower was stolen from in front of a Chelsea business sometime during business hours last Wednesday.

According to Chelsea police, a push lawnmower worth approximately $350 was taken from Chelsea Hardware. Police speculated that someone probably just wheeled it away.

Faith-in-Action Benefit Banquet Slated April 11

The 1986 Faith-in-Action benefit banquet will be Friday, April 11 at 7 p.m. This annual fund-raising event will be held at the Chelsea Community Hospital main dining room. Roast beef and other delectable items will be served for dinner while a stringed instrument group provides the background music. Door prizes will be awarded, including a week-end at Weber's Inn.

FIA is a non-profit, non-denominational community service providing resources to those in need. Services provided to recipients include emotional support, referrals to other agencies and provision of food, clothing and financial support. FIA not only services recipients within the Chelsea community but also those from Dexter, Manchester and many other areas of the western side of Washtenaw county.

FIA's slim budget almost exclusively relies on donations and fund-raisers, and thus needs your support. FIA is non-profit and thus contributions are tax deductible.

A "WORD" FROM OUR MANY SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

RICHARD KADLEC

11261 Bishop Road
St. Charles, Michigan
I have increased my service life with TUPES HARDFACED sweeps more than 4 times. Plain sweeps get dull fast and remain dull. When TUPES HARDFACED sweeps start to wear, they wear with a cutting edge which remains sharp.

BERNARD GROLL

6619 Tittabawassee Rd.
Saginaw, Michigan
TUPES HARDFACED sweeps last twice as long. We don't have to stop and change sweeps when we are busy. When a sweep is sharp, it does a better job. I also use TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and I get twice or more out of them.

LEROY L. KEINATH

5719 Hart Road
Vassar, Michigan
I really liked TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. They last longer and stay sharp, thus perform more efficiently. I'll be using more TUPES HARDFACED products in the future.

FRED BOWDEN

6445 Shattuck Road
Saginaw, Michigan
I get 3 times the service life with TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. This means less downtime.

MIKE HIRSCHMAN

Hirschman Bros.
Ithaca, Michigan
I get 3 times the life over plain sweeps.

KENNETH COPPENS, SR.

Route 1
Merrill, Michigan
I have increased my service life 2 to 3 times with TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and twice with hardfaced sweeps. I have not used TUPES HARDFACED bean knives yet but I intend to use them in Fall of 1980.

WAYNE ZEITLER

4175 S. 6 Mile Road
Merrill, Michigan
I have increased my service life 2 times with TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. It saves changing teeth so often.

DONALD GRAFF

Graff Bros.
Route 1
Fowler, Michigan
I increased my service life with TUPES HARDFACED bean knives 3 times over plain knives. I was very pleased.

JOE LOZIER

17230 Washburne
Grass Lake, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and heartily recommend them. I have increased my service life 4 times over plain plowshares.

RON ZIMMERMAN

St. Louis, Michigan
TUPES HARDFACED bean knives have lasted twice as long as plain so far. No great amount of wear noticed on them after 140 acres.

HENRY GRUBER

Gruber Farms
8836 VanGiesen Road
Reese, Michigan
I heartily recommend TUPES HARDENED plowshares. I have increased my service life twice and intend to use them again in Fall of 1980.

MAX FRICKE

Middleton, Michigan
I got 3 times the life on TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. We will use any hardfaced tools to save labor changing.

KEN BRADLEY

Route 2
Ashley, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. They last 3 times longer than any other sweep I have purchased. I saved a lot of downtime by not having to change them so often.

RICHARD HUGHES

9345 Frost Road
Saginaw, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED sweeps one summer. They show very little wear and I believe they will last a long time.

GERHARD ZEILINGER

2210 Freeland Road
Saginaw, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED bean knives and recommend them. We farm 280 acres in Turner, Michigan and the ground is pretty rough. We need a lot of plowshares and bean knives and the bean knives really held up good and I am going to get plowshares too.

GLEN MEYERS

Route 4
Hemlock, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED bean knives and I don't know the full service life yet because I am still using them ever since you folks hardfaced them. (6 bean puller knives).

MAXWELL SEED FARMS

1414 Bombay Road
Hope, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and increased my service life 3 to 4 times.

FRED RUGGLES

Kingston, Michigan
I increased my service life with TUPES HARDFACED plowshares 3 times. Sometimes the bolts will wear and pull through before the point is worn out.

TIM HOUGHTLING

2920 Bordean Road
Standish, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED plowshares. They last 3 times longer than plain ones. I intend to use TUPES HARDFACED sweeps and bean knives in 1980.

FRANCIS NAESSENS

4280 N. Fenmore
Merrill, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and they last 3 times as long as plain ones.

PETER ESMER

14185 Nelson Road
St. Charles, Michigan
I have increased my service life 2 times with TUPES HARDFACED sweeps.

WAYNE WELLER

Middleton, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. They increased my service life 3 times. I also have used TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and bean knives and they last twice as long.

PHILIP HYDE

Middleton, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED sweeps and recommend them. I have increased my service life over plain sweeps twice.

EUGENE BURK

Carson City, Michigan
TUPES HARDFACED sweeps lasted very good. Approximately 300 acres on one set on a 6 row cultivator.

JAMES BAILEY

6149 Roy Road
Gladwin, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED plowshares and sweeps. They lasted twice as long.

GERARD McGUIRE

5780 N. Michigan
Saginaw, Michigan
I have increased my service life 2 or 3 times with TUPES HARDFACED sweeps and plowshares. Very good.

LOWELL LITWILLER

Route 1
Carson City, Michigan
My first set of TUPES HARDFACED sweeps are about 1/2 worn out. A regular set would be totally worn out by now.

ALBERT EDLER

Edler Farms
359 Youngs Ditch Road
Bay City, Michigan
I have increased my service life twice with TUPES HARDFACED sweeps. They are the best investment I ever made.

DALE BURDEN

2259 Dowington Road
Snover, Michigan
I have used TUPES HARDFACED sweeps and have increased my service life 3 times. I am very happy with them.
