School Seeks 5.8 Mills, Two Board Positions Open in June 9 Election

Chelsea school district voters will have to decide whether the district is justified in asking for 5.8 mills in operating millage for three years at next Monday's annual school district elections.

The district combined a 2.9 mill renewal and a 2.9 mill addition into one proposal totaling 5.8 mills.

The school board, anticipating a deficit of approximately $30,000 without the new millage, has promised that huge cuts across a wide range of programs, including lay-offs at all schools, will be necessary should no new millage be approved.

Voters will also have to fill two school board seats, currently held by board president Dale Schumann, and Ann Feeney. Feeney has served 10 years, and Schumann eight. Eleven candidates are in the running for the spots.

keeper at Palmer Ford-Mercury; Roger Katakowski, 13434 Island Lake Rd., who is employed at General Motors-Hydraulic division;

Robert Kinel, 1506 Dancer Rd., a math and computer teacher at Community High school in Ann Arbor;

Leonard Kitchen, 13450 Jerusalem Rd., a partner in the Dexter law firm of Kitchen & Mollison;

Rochelle Martinez-Mouilliescaux, 3750 Silver Fox Dr., who gives private music lessons;

Robin Raymond, 217 Harrison St., a former Chelsea teacher who's a part owner of Hamburg Screw Products;

Barbara Rose, 13013 McKinley Rd., executive director of Human Corporate Communications Inc., a leadership training organization;

Craig Wales, 58 Chestnut St., a conservation officer for the Department of Natural Resources.

The last two school elections. In 1983, voters, by 75 votes, approved a 2.9 mill lease for three years, putting the total operating millage at 35.62 mills.

The request for new millage is partially the result of a decline in the value of property within the district.

Since Chelsea is an out-of-formula district, meaning the district takes in too much tax money to be eligible for additional state aid, it can be a financial burden when there is no appreciation in the value of land. Farmland has dropped in value, and other types of property have increased little or none.

A newly ratified contract for teachers and staff, calling for a 5.4 percent over-all pay raise for 1986-87, and 5 percent for each of the next two years, also added more than $272,000 to the deficit.

The candidates for the four-year terms include:

Barb F. Cheren, 18255 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., an educational administrator and assistant professor at Spring Arbor College;

Raymond G. Coulter, 15727 Gorton Rd., Grass Lake, a "semi-retired," bus driver for the district;

Tom Flynn, 126 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., a mechanical engineer with American Motors Co.;

Pamela Holloway, 17200 Webster Rd., a former book-

If voters turn down the millage, the soonest a new election could be scheduled would be 50 days, Mills said.

The polls will be set up at Beach Middle school from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. this Monday, June 9. Only Chelsea school district residents can vote.

Absentee ballots are available at the administrative offices at Chelsea High school during normal school hours. They may also be picked up between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. this Saturday.

Strieter's Going Out of Business After 72 Years

Strieter's Men's Wear, one of Chelsea's oldest specialty stores, is going out of business this summer so that friendly owner Dave Strieter, and his wife, Ruby, can begin their retirement.

The store, at 121 S. Main St., next to Schneider's Grocery, has been a Chelsea fixture for 72 years, ever since Dave's father, Julius, initially formed a partnership with Kent Walworth in 1914. They had worked together at Holmes Mercantile Co., a general clothing store in the building that currently houses Vogel's and Foster's.

DAVE AND RUBY STRIETER are closing up the 72-year-old family business on Main St. Dave's father, Julius, was one of the original owners.

"I've been planning this for about a year now," Dave said.

"Originally I thought I'd like to keep the store until it was 75 years old. But I decided if I did that, I'd probably feel 75 years old when I retired," Dave is 65.

The store has been a model of business consistency ever since it opened up as the "One Price Cash Store," specializing in men's and boys clothes. It has remained the same size, in the same building, and, after Walworth sold his share of the business in 1946 to the Strieter family, always been family owned and operated.

Probably the biggest change took place when the boys lines of clothing were dropped before World War II.

"The hardest time I can remember for the business was in the mid 1930's when the postmaster died, and Kent took over for him for a couple of years," Dave said.

"But I was pretty young then and I don't remember too much about it."

Dave first thought about working for his father while he was an accounting student at Cleary College. When Walworth sold out, the elder Strieter asked for his son's help. Dave eventually took over the business in 1962.

Dave has been so much a part of the business since 1946 that he has opened up the store every single morning that he hasn't been on one of his few vacations. He's proud that he's never missed a day due to illness.

He hopes he'll unlock the doors for the last time sometime before July 4. A liquidation sale begins tomorrow which includes not only all the clothes, but the store fixtures as well. There are a few antiques and old photographs.

Once Strieter's Men's Wear is gone, Schneider's Grocery will take over the entire building.

"We've probably had fewer ups and downs than some businesses, but I think that's a reflection of Chelsea," Dave said.

It's difficult to leave the business when it's going so well.

Dave plans to play a lot of golf, and help out his daughter and son-in-law who are building a house. He and Ruby also want to do a little traveling.

He said he'll miss the "buying trips" to Detroit, when he has the fun of spending several thousand dollars at one time, but most of all he'll miss the daily routine of meeting the public, and catching up on the local news with his nearby business friends.

"We're going to stay in the area, and we're definitely going to enjoy our first full Christmas this year," Dave said.

"Christmas is the best time for business, but it's a lousy time to be with your family because you're so busy."

Dave was hesitant about talking about his other affiliations because he didn't want his story to "sound like an obituary." However, for nearly 20 years he was the secretary-treasurer of the Oak Grove Cemetery, an of-

Commencement Slated Sunday For 189 High School Seniors

Mike Goodwin and Christie Favers are the two featured speakers for Chelsea High school's 11th Commencement this Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Chelsea High school gym.

Goodwin and Favers were selected by their classmates to give the talks. Goodwin's entitled, "Retrospection and Invitation." Favers' is entitled, "New Directions."

Also featured will be the high school symphony band which will play "Slavonic Rhapsody" by Friedmann/Lake, as well as "Pomp and Circumstance."

The high school choir will sing the alma mater, and "Born To Be Free."

A crowd of about 2,000 is expected to see the 189 graduates receive their diplomas from members of the school board. All 189 seniors will be carrying the class flower, a long-stem yellow rose.

Deacon Richard Cesarz of St. Mary's Catholic Church will give the benediction.

Four high school faculty members will serve as escorts. They are Marlan Williams, Beverly Martin, Pat Wade and Steve Leith.

Superintendent Ray Van Meer

will certify the graduates, and principal John Williams will read the list of names.

Sponsors of the class of 1986 are Cheryl Vogel and Tom Morrison.

Class officers are Steve Whitesall, president; Dan DeGener, vice-president; Jenifer Swearingen, secretary; and Mike Goodwin, treasurer.

Tax Proposal Could Net State $150 Million, Hurt Auto Sales

The federal income tax proposal now under consideration by the U. S. Senate could increase Michigan's state revenue by up to $150 million, a memo prepared by the Office of Revenue and Tax Analysis in the Department of Management and Budget said.

The same memo, however, said elimination of some current deductions in the federal proposals could hurt the state by cutting automobile sales, reducing capital investments and damaging efforts to reform the property tax system.

The memo says there could be both direct and indirect impacts on the state's revenues and economic climate as a result of the proposal which was passed unanimously last week by the U. S. Senate Finance Committee.

The proposal, drafted by Oregon Republican Robert Packwood and endorsed by President Reagan, is before the full U. S. Senate.

The revenue analysis division said the revenue gains would not be automatic, and could only come upon the Legislature amending the current reference to the federal tax code to take advantage of any Internal Revenue Service changes.

If the reference to the federal tax is not changed, then state taxpayers could continue to figure their Michigan income tax using current provisions for calculating adjusted gross income.

Under the proposal, the current 14 income tax brackets would be reduced to two, 15 percent and 27 percent, the individual exemptions would be increased from the current $1,000 to $1,900; state and local income taxes along with property taxes would be deductible but sales taxes would not; two-earner deductions would not be allowed; capital gains income would be taxed as ordinary income; contributions to individual retirement accounts would not be deductible if an individual is covered by a corporate pension; and business investment tax credits would be repealed.

The proposal to tax capital gains as ordinary income could net the state from $80 million to $85 million, the memo said.

The limitations on IRA deductions "indicates a potential drop of 70 percent in the number of persons eligible for tax deductible IRAs," which could result in another $40-65 million. And changes in tax shelters and depreciation could raise another $20-30 million, the memo said.

"It is critical, however, that we remember that such changes will not be automatic. There will be no magic revenue windfall because we will need to make a statutory change to reference a revised Internal Revenue Code as the basis for the Michigan income tax," the memo said.

Doeg Drake, head of the office of revenue and tax analysis, said the state would likely adopt many of the changes.

While state taxpayers could continue to deduct such things as IRA payments and sales taxes in calculating their adjusted income, if Michigan does not adopt the federal changes, Drake said failure to do so could "get to be a real administrative mess both for the state and the taxpayer. They'd almost be compelled to keep two sets of books."

There would likely be no direct impact on state revenues for the Single Business Tax, the memo said. But there would be some indirect impacts as businesses change their practices to take into account the tax changes.

For example, state revenue loss through the capital acquisition deduction could be cut as businesses reduce their capital investments.

But such reductions would likely mean reduced employment, which could hurt over-all revenue growth, the memo said.

Car sales could also be reduced both because sales deductions would no longer apply and interest on the car loans would no longer be deductible, the memo said. Reduced sales could force auto manufacturers to change their price strategies.

And the loss of sales tax deductions could hurt efforts to reform Michigan's property tax structure.

While Governor James Blanchard did not call for an increase in the sales tax to pay for his tax fairness proposal, made in the spring of 1985, a number of other legislative options have been proposed that would increase the sales tax to offset lost property tax revenues.

"Deductibility (of sales taxes) was one reason supporting those choices, and we will need to rethink our analysis in these areas."

It is popularly believed that roots "nourish" the plant. The fact is most of the plant's food comes from carbon dioxide absorbed by the leaves.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The record shows that Clem Webster kept his powder dry and his mouth shut recent when the agender at the country store ran heavy to lamenting the artificial farm market as the biggest cause of the farm problem. All the fellers that spoke at that session was of a mind that moving agriculture to supply and demand production is a goal to be desired and hard to get.

Saturday night, Clem got the floor early to allow that what's happening on the farm is going on everywhere. He said he done some reading during the past week, and he was full convinced that the economy of the hole country is a house of cards. What got him started, he said, was a item where a permit to operate a taxicab in New York City cost $100,000. That's jest for Government permission to haul folks for hire. From there you got to git in to how much the feller that pays that much for a license has to charge for the ride. The idea here, Clem explained, is to keep down the number of cabs in the city so them that's got em can do enuff business to afford the permit and make a living. If that ain't Government propping up a market what is, Clem wanted to know.

Actual, you find this system wherever you look. Clem went on. Per instant, he had saw where the Federal Government decided to sell off lots it had been leasing on one of its power generating lakes. When the offer went out to sell to them holding the leases, when a few of em decided agin buying, when folks started buying lease so they could buy lots the market jumped off the charts. Pritty quick you had folks paying $20,000 for a $400 a year lease that got them nothing but the chance to buy a $2,000 lot, Clem said, and the green grass grows around and around.

In a unusual move, Ed Doolittle come down foursquare with Clem. Ed said he sees the propped up economy in radio and TV licenses. It's got to be the place the FCC don't issue licenses, Ed allowed, it does out locks on markets, and keys to the locks are selling today for 50 times what they bring 30 year ago. You got the same basic service, but you got 50 times the investment to provide it, Ed said, so it ain't no wonder the advertiser pays $1 million a minute and runs it through the price of his product. And, Ed said, it ain't hard to figure who pays to watch "free" television.

Practical speaking, Bug Hookum said, if you think nothing's stronger than a idee whose time has come, you need to look at the power of ideas whose time should never come. Bug said he knowed of the Department of Justice rule that don't allow lawyers to charge veterans their going rate, and he knowed this hurts vets more than lawyers, but he was thinking of a 30 cent word behind a even worse injustice. The word, Bug said, is demstitutionalization, and it does jest about everthing wrong. It was supposed to help mentally ill back into homes and society, but what it has done is change the part of that society that onct was respectable bums into what is pitiful street people. Use to, Bug said, a bum was like a regular feller on vacation all the time. Now we got people turned out of hospitals and living over steam grates in city streets fer no better reason than they don't know how to come in out of the cold. And that, Bug said, is a world class bad idee.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew

WHAT GOOD IS LIFE ANYWAY?

 If your teenager asked you this question, would you recognize it as a symptom of depression, a suicide warning signal? It may or may not be, but how do you know?
 Teenage suicide is more common than you might think. It's the second-most-common cause of teenage death. One positive aspect about suicide is that it can be prevented. And we'd like to help more people in our community understand how.
 Invite us to the next meeting of your youth group, church organization, or service club. We'll bring a film illustrating how to recognize suicidal tendencies and what steps to take in preventing a suicide attempt. It can help all of us be more sensitive to the warning signs of suicide.
 We feel as you do, that life is very good. And perhaps by our getting together, we can save a teenager's life. Please call us to arrange for a presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dann

Lawrence Dadds Mark 60th Wedding Anniversary on June 1

On June 1, Lawrence and Marguerite Dann of Saline celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. A gathering of friends and relatives hosted by their son, Marvin, his wife Marian and their grandchildren, Gerry and Lila Dann, and Karen and Terry Wood, will be held on June 8 at Knight's Restaurant in Ann Arbor.

Lawrence married Marguerite Mide in Hockwood, on June 1, 1926. They have two children, Marvin and Terry, and four grandchildren. Lawrence has seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Lawrence retired from the Michigan State Police in 1961. He then took a position at the Chrysler Proving Grounds in Chelsea until he retired in 1986.

Lawrence then worked as a bailiff in Ann Arbor for seven years. Since his final retirement in 1976, Lawrence stays active picking berries in the summer.

Marguerite is very talented in crocheting, knitting, sewing, doll making and various types of crafts.

Lawrence and Marguerite have been residents of Saline since 1965. They are members of St. Andrew's Catholic church. Lawrence and Marguerite's hobbies include crafts and they are very active in senior citizens programs including playing bingo twice weekly and euchre club.

★ Hemophilus Influenza and Hib Vaccine

Perhaps you've read about it or your doctor has suggested that your child should have the new Hib vaccine. Here are a few facts that might help you understand why and for which children the vaccine is important.

Hib, hemophilus influenzae Type B, is the most common cause of bacterial meningitis and a leading cause of serious bacterial diseases in young children that result from complications of meningitis. This flu germ is usually spread through the respiratory system by coughing and sneezing. It is estimated the Hib disease affects one in every 200 children in the United States, before their fifth birthday and Hib disease is uncommon beyond age five.

The Hib vaccine was developed in April 1985 and is among the safest of all vaccines for children. Less than 1% of those tested showed reactions, fever or swelling at the injection site within the 24 hours immediately following the injection. In a study done in Finland in 1974, the vaccine was not effective in children younger than 18 months of age. It should also be noted that this vaccine will not protect children against other types of flu.

Attending a day care center increases the risk of exposure to Hib, and a special effort should be made to immunize children attending such facilities. The importance of providing this protection to this group of children cannot be overstated. Children who attend day care centers probably account for a majority of the cases of Hib disease among children 18 to 24 months of age.

Cpl. Bradley Myers Returns from Service In Western Pacific

Marine Cpl. Bradley C. Myers, son of Ralph C. and Ruth E. Myers of Chelsea, recently returned from a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific.

During the deployment he participated in company, platoon and squad tactics and patrolling exercises on the training grounds of both Okinawa and mainland Japan. Extensive live firing and a Battalion Landing Team exercise including all supporting arms, were the highlights while Myers was deployed to Camp Fuji, Japan.

He is currently serving with the First Battalion, 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

A 1977 graduate of Saline Area High School, Saline, he joined the Marine Corps in January 1984.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Our family of two will drive to Beach school next Monday morning and vote unhesitatingly for the 2.9 mill increase for the Chelsea School District. It is a necessary for our schools, and for voters, the best bargain for miles around.

Bob Hope once declared: "Money isn't everything." After all the guy with $10 million isn't much happier than the guy with $0 million.

And the school board won't be much happier with $4.17 million than with its present $7.8 million. Why? Because the increase is simply playing catch-up with similar cost hikes in all school districts. No new courses are being introduced in butterfly catching, turndancing or cake decorating. The 2.9 mills simply represent rises in the cost of educational meat and potatoes.

Marion and I moved to Chelsea in 1970, purchasing our home and 20 acres from Carmie Weir. We have never attended any of the schools in the Chelsea School District, nor have our children or grandchildren. Yet we feel handsomely repaid for the thousands of dollars for education included in our property taxes, and we are glad to pay 2.9 mills more.

To begin with, in 1970 we moved into a community peopled by many families who had been well educated by the Chelsea schools. They were not only literate but—thanks to their parents, their churches and their schools—they were friendly, respectable, civilized neighbors. Graduates of the class of 1970 are now 34 years old with children of their own, many of whom go to the Chelsea schools and routinely achieve the academic honor rolls.

From this perspective, I see the proposed 2.9 mill increase as nothing more alarming than raising the price of $10 worth of food to a bit more than $10.40. If we notice the difference at all, we shrug off the increase. Also at the checkout counter or gas pump we have no choice. We pay the price or face the problem of empty stomachs and gas tanks.

At the school millage election, we have a slightly different situation. We can vote no. And we can vote no again in a re-election. All we can achieve by this ballot box parsimony is to lower the quality of our education, producing graduates who are less qualified for competition in years ahead. We send our graduates to work or to college where brains, skills and discipline reward them with bread, while poorly educated people get the breadline.

In a future Clock Tower column I will suggest how federal and state governments could eliminate at least two million employees who are on the payrolls engaged in useless work due to bureaucratic empire building.

Here in Chelsea, things are as they should be. Superintendent Kay Van Meer with the able assistance of Fred Mills run a very tight ship. Every employee is needed. No one is doing useless paperwork. Every staff member is contributing to educational excellence and the quality of community life.

What the Board of Education needs through its 2.9 millage is another $25,000 for increased costs of school supplies, heating, electricity and other necessities including a whopping 90 percent boost in the cost of insurance.

Maintaining high quality education in Chelsea means at a minimum, graduating functionally literate students.

Functionally literate means that the graduate can fill out a job application form without misspelling any words, or avoid other mistakes such as entering an expressway where the sign says WRONG WAY, DO NOT ENTER. It is good to know the word POISON is a warning even if the picture of a skull and crossbones is not included. For a person who can't read, any product with POISON on the container may seem perfectly safe to eat or drink.

Half of all the felons in prison are illiterate. They shouldn't get jobs so they go Saturday Night Specials.

There are Michigan high schools which award diplomas to students who are so deficient in the three R's that some freshmen entering state colleges must take courses in remedial reading, writing or arithmetic before being admitted to collegiate classwork.

Why would a high school anywhere award a diploma to a person who is functionally illiterate? The school administrators have to keep advancing these pupils from grade to grade to get them out of school. If elementary school administrators had to spend, say, 12 years making numerous kids literate, or provide six years of high school education for herds of students to merit a diploma, such school systems would need millions of dollars worth of extra classrooms and teachers, plus soaring millages.

The U.S. Bureau of the Census publishes lists of lifetime earnings of people with various amounts of education. There are 12 tables based on projected combinations of interest rates, inflation and productivity. Table 5, however, seems to be illustrative of the times we are living in. So here is what it foretells for a 25-year-old man of today who works to a retirement age of 64. He will probably earn these amounts during his lifetime, based on the extent of his schooling:

Education	Lifetime Earnings
Less than 12 years	$1,038,000
High School, 4 years	$1,478,000
College, 1 to 3 years	$1,725,000
College, 4 years	$2,226,000

So the high school dropout will pay a penalty of more than $400,000 during his lifetime compared to the four-year graduate, and the four-year college graduate will earn $748,000 more than those who kiss the 100,000 goodbye after high school.

Statistics for women in lifetime earnings are different from men for various reasons, none of which suggest inferiority. Women are overcoming centuries of discrimination including denial of education. But how things have changed! College enrollments for American women have equalled the number of male enrollments since 1979.

The cost of going to college has zoomed beyond the financial resources of many families, which makes the value of a quality K-12 education such as we are delivering in Chelsea all the more important.

Responsible parents with limited resources may still be able to manage tuition and other costs at Washenaw Community College while a son or daughter lives at home and earns part-time pay in environmentally wholesome places like McDonald's. With a two-year Associate Degree from a fine community college, career entry skills accompany the diplomas. These, plus experience, plus higher education credits earned in off-work hours can lead to career advancement.

The essence of all achievement is quality education, hard work and the determination, not merely to succeed financially, but to give others the strength to stand on our shoulders.

These are the reasons why we should support our excellent educators in the Chelsea School District in next Monday's millage election. The need is for an increase of about 4 percent. In the past five years tuition alone at public universities has gone up by 40 percent.

So Monday is V Day when you vote yes for our small but necessary new millage. If you are a registered voter and require getting help to Beach school to cast your vote, call any of these numbers and you'll get a ride both ways: 475-9131, 475-9194 (CATS) or 475-2700.

If you have a baby-sitting problem bring your little ones with you to Beach school. They will be cared for by student members of the National Honor Society while you are casting your vote.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
As Father's Day approaches please share with your readers the following tribute to him.

God's Reflection—A Father
A Father is God's gift to children
To be his eyes,
His ears,
His hands,
His feet,
To be gentle, yet firm,
Always with love,
God gave Fathers
A speck of courage,
A measure of His patience,
A dash of His wisdom,
An ounce of His knowledge,
Adding a few human faults,
And weaknesses for humility,
God gave Fathers
Warmth of smile to show
Pride,
Love,
Happiness,
Gratitude.

God even placed tears
In Father's eyes
To be used when needed,
For the tough times of
"Growing pains" He gave Fathers
An endless sense of humor,
God taught Fathers
How to pray,
Not just with words,
But, with the way
They live their lives,
"Father," to God Himself
We cannot give a better name,
One of life's greatest blessings is Having a Father like you!
Dedicated to all Fathers... living and deceased.

Dear Editor:
Come on, Chelsea—go to jail!
On June 17, 18, 19, the American Cancer Society is again sponsoring the Great American Lock-up.
Community business leaders and residents are urged to volunteer one hour of their time to go behind bars and raise money to fight this disease.

"Prisoners" who volunteer for this worthwhile event will be "arrested" at their workplace by an off-duty police officer and transported to the jailite located at Arborland Consumer Mall.

This year, area businesses are "challenging" one another to participate in the jail-a-thon. The company/organization that raises the most money per category will receive a traveling trophy for 1986-1987. Companies that have issued challenges include: Mutual of Omaha insurance agencies, Main Street Association (retail organizations), Johnson Control Hooper Universal manufacturing plants).

Court cases will be adjudicated
by prominent community leaders including, Peter R. Fletcher, Don Shelton, Doris Preston, Keith Molin, Judith Wood, Collene Conrad, Cynthia Hudgins, and Michael Stumpson. The judges have indicated they will levy
"fines" in accordance with the
"crimes" committed.

After "sentencing," prisoners will be escorted to a jail cell where they may use telephones to call friends, coworkers, and anyone else who will bail them out! McDonald's will supply the prisoners food and drink as bread and water are no longer being served.

Return transportation will also be provided compliments of Prestige Limousine Service,
Domino's Pizza, Inc. and Don Massey Cadillac.

Do you know someone you would like to see behind bars?
Would one of your company managers look good in black and white stripes? Individuals wishing to participate as prisoners or project volunteers are urged to call the American Cancer Society office at 971-4300.

Dear Editor,
This Memorial Day was one to remember for my family and me

A few years ago, I decided to display a large flag (5'x9') that had been laid over my brother's casket. The flag had been kept in a trunk for several years. I decided to display it on special days, such as Memorial Day, Flag Day, etc., not only in his honor, but also to remind everyone who sees it, that we live in a country that deserves our work and loyalty.
My wife and I have traveled overseas, and believe me, in spite of our problems, this is still the only country we would want to live in.
My happiness has turned to dismay, because this Memorial Day, the flag was taken from our porch. My only desire is to have the flag returned. This flag is too large to miss. If anyone has any information about its location, please call 475-8875 or drop it off
at 138 Grant.

Thank you for helping return
the flag, so that all can enjoy it this 4th of July.
Sincerely,
Ken Barner.

Dear Editor:
The Michigan Supreme Court has appointed a blue-ribbon citizens' commission to recommend ways to improve
Michigan's court system.

As part of this study, a public opinion survey is being conducted to determine how Michigan citizens feel about their courts.
About 750 Michigan adults are being interviewed by telephone by the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research to measure what they know and think about their courts.

Readers of this newspaper who would like to express their opinion on Michigan courts out are not interviewed as part of the poll are invited to put their views in writing and send them to the commission. The address is Court, P.O. Box 30852-N, Lansing,
MI 48908.

The Commission is particularly interested in hearing from persons who have had personal experiences in court—crime victims, jurors, witnesses and persons who have been involved in a lawsuit.

Free Dog Care Clinic Is Offered

Summertime—it's just around the corner. What a perfect season to shower some attention on your dog. Maybe Spot needs a special haircut during these warm months? Or have you just acquired a new puppy that needs to be housebroken? Have you heard the latest updates on health care?

These questions and more will be addressed at the Dog Training and Care Clinic sponsored by the Hammare Society of Haron Valley.
Experienced instructors from the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club will be on hand to give valuable tips on topics such as feeding, health care, grooming, housebreaking, obedience training, and dog breed characteristics. There will also be demonstrations by the instructors followed by a question and answer period.

The clinic will be held on Tuesday, June 10 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the HSHV Community Education
Building, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd.,
Ann Arbor. It is free to the public but please, leave your pets at home.
Pet care literature will also be available at no cost.

Expo Offers Guidelines For Power Equipment

Selecting the right equipment for various farm jobs can help farmers increase production efficiency and keep costs down.

Farmers can make the equipment selection process more efficient, too, by attending Ag Expo '86, the largest farm equipment show of its kind in Michigan.

The event, July 22-24 at Michigan State University, features more than 35 acres of farm equipment and displays worth millions of dollars. Visitors will be able to see just about every type of machinery and supply needed for efficient farm production.

William Bickert, Ag. Expo chairperson, says that the machinery displays will represent almost every mechanized area in a typical farm operation. Examples include irrigation systems, field machinery, grain handling and storage systems, sprayers; buildings and seed and fertilizer supplies and services.

"This complete machinery exhibition will allow farmers to see the latest equipment available on the market and enable them to compare systems," Bickert says.

The Ag Expo '86 site is near the intersection of Farm Lane and Mt. Hope Rd., close to the central campus. Free bus shuttles will operate between the main exhibit site and field demonstrations, which will run from midmorning to mid-afternoon each day.

Ag. Expo is free and open to the public. Visitors will find plenty of free parking near the main Expo site. Free shuttles will operate about every five minutes between the parking lot and the center of the exhibition site.

Ag. Expo is sponsored by the MSU Department of Agricultural Engineering, the Agricultural Experiment Station, the Cooperative Extension Service and exhibitors from 16 states and Canada.

A 1982 graduate of Chelsea High school has claimed Eastern Michigan University's top award for news photography with a picture she took on her first photo assignment for the college newspaper.

Greta Picklesumer, 21, shot the picture during an anti-apartheid demonstration in downtown Ypsilanti last fall semester. It was also her first outing with a new camera she had bought from a friend. Previously, she had been a reporter for the Eastern Echo, which is published three times a week, and had concentrated on writing feature stories.

"I was so excited that I jumped into the car and went right over there to pick it up," she said of the plaque she received.

The award was one of 15 presented by the Student Media Board during its "Salute to Excellence" banquet April 28. Greta was unable to attend the banquet, held in the McKinney Union main ballroom, but it awaited her at the newspaper's office.

Greta is the daughter of Mitchell and Wilma Picklesumer, 419 S. Main. She is a junior, majoring in written communications. She said she anticipates working on the newspaper's staff again in the fall, although she wants to devote her energies exclusively to photography.

As a student at Chelsea High School, she played girls basketball one year and served as student manager another. She was in two school plays. She also did volunteer work at Chelsea Community Hospital, where she now has summer employment in the dietary department.

Paul Anderson Honored By U-M EECS Faculty

Paul Anderson, a 1981 graduate of Chelsea High school, received a bachelor's degree in computer engineering from the University of Michigan at the May 3 commencement.

He was honored by the Electrical Engineering and Computer Science (EECS) faculty at an honors luncheon on April 17, receiving a stipend and citation for distinguished service as an undergraduate student. His accomplishments in the field of VLSI design facilitated graduate instruction and research at Michigan and other major universities and laboratories.

Paul will continue his studies at Michigan in the fall as a master's degree candidate in computer engineering.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson and the grandson of Mrs. Luella Houston, all of Sharon township. An open house for his classmates and professors was held at the family home on Sunday, May 4.

Pinckney Youth on Duty in Texas

Army Spec 4 Edward J. Holcomb, son of Judith E. Wright and stepson of Dallas Wright of 1480 E. M-46, Pinckney, has arrived for duty with the 7th Cavalry Division, Fort Hood, Tex.

Holcomb, a motor transport operator, is a 1982 graduate of Pinckney High school.

JESS HOLTON of Cavanaugh Lake, Holton Erectors, a Farmington Hills construction firm, which has been judged to be one of the top 10 fastest growing firms in Michigan.

Holton Erectors Among Fastest Growing Firms

A six-year-old general contracting firm owned by a Cavanaugh Lake man is listed as one of Michigan's 10 fastest-growing companies in the May issue of Michigan Business Magazine.

Jess Holton's firm of Holton Erectors, located in the Detroit suburb of Farmington Hills, is the lone construction firm among the top 10, which were listed in the article "Michigan Private 100."

Founded in 1980, Holton Erectors specializes in the setup of pre-engineered metal buildings. The company—now with 40 employees compared to 10 its first year—rents cranes as a sideline.

Holton Erectors' growth rate was seventh-greatest in the state during 1985, the magazine reported. Total revenues of $2.1 million represented an increase from $639,000 in 1984. The company's first-year revenues were $111,000.

Of the other top-10 companies, five are computer-related businesses. Two are manufacturers and two are consulting firms. Topping the list—which was compiled by following a formula that considered performance over five years—was Spearhead Automated Systems of Novi.

Just two other construction companies made the elite 100.

Holton Erectors is a dealer of Strand metal buildings, which serve as warehouses, offices and industrial structures. The company's activities are currently limited to southeastern Michigan, but within that area it is now looking for property to develop.

Holton and his wife Mary are the parents of three children: Jessica, 10, a fifth-grader, and Deacon, 6, a first-grader, attend North Elementary school. Jason is 15 months old.

The Holtons moved to the Chelsea area six and a half years ago.

Jayne Weinberg on Dean's Honor List At Bowling Green U.

Jayne Kyle Weinberg, 6100 Stofer Rd., has been named to the Dean's List at Bowling Green State University for the spring semester.

Weinberg had a 4.0 average. She is a junior education major

Area Students On CMU Dean's Honor List

Five Chelsea-area students made the winter-semester honors list at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, a university official has announced.

William L. Smith, a senior from Grass Lake, was one of just 136 students to earn straight A's.

Joining Smith on the honors list were another Grass Lake senior, Melissa J. Lygo; Leonard J. McCalla, a Chelsea senior; and Nicholas Krzyzaniak, a senior, and Pat C. Ridenour, a sophomore, both of Manchester.

In all, 1,812 CMU students made the honors list. Winter enrollment at the school totaled 15,114.

Honors students are chosen from the top 10 percent of each academic class. To qualify, freshmen had to earn a grade-point average of 3.52, sophomores a 3.6, juniors a 3.64 and seniors a 3.73. A GPA of 4.0 is perfect. A student also had to complete at least 12 letter-graded hours of on-campus credits during the semester.

By class, 258 freshmen made the list, 253 sophomores, 242 juniors and 259 seniors.

Five from Chelsea Earn Advanced Degrees at EMU

Five Chelsea area students received advanced degrees from Eastern Michigan University at spring commencement April 19.

Barbara L. Hensinger, 221 Railroad St., earned a master of science degree.

Roderick D. Janich, 402 Washington St., earned a master of arts degree.

Meinda S. Kinner, 210 Washington St., earned a master of arts degree.

Marcia A. Quiter, 420 Wilkinson St., received a specialist in arts degree.

Anne E. Williams, 14105 McKinley, received a master of science degree.

Area Grads Chosen For Prestigious U-M Scholarships

Five area high school seniors were chosen to receive Regents-Alumni Scholar Merit Awards from the University of Michigan.

The students will receive a $1,000 scholarship when they enroll at the University of Michigan this fall.

The students are Susan Overdorf, 12629 Riker Rd., Chelsea; Laura M. Colone, 3179 Sheban Rd., Pinckney; Monica M. Simpson, 10407 Clinton-Manchester Rd., Manchester; Julie M. Siebert, 4515 Dexter-Pinckney Rd., Dexter; and Renee M. Yeutter, 16779 Walker Rd., Grass Lake.

A total of 1,432 students were nominated for the 375 awards given. The awards are based on grades, class ranking, and test scores. Financial need is not a factor.

Wine Cooler Issue Not Settled Yet Says Farm Bureau

A "temporary setback" is how Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson views rejection by the Legislature's joint rules committee to proposed rules that would have included wine cooler bottles under the state's bottle deposit law.

"I think it's totally inappropriate that the industry that developed a product does not want to take responsibility for the litter that is caused by the individuals who consume the product and dispose of the containers on someone else's land," Nelson said. "I recognize that it is a cost to the industry, but it is an industry problem. It causes landowners to take time away from the business of farming to pick up someone else's litter. For farmers, it's an economic problem."

"The issue is not over yet. Separate legislation could be introduced or a petition drive could be started to call for the placement of wine cooler bottles under the bottle deposit law," he said.

PLANTS OF ALL VARIETIES were part of Jessica Flinn's display at South school last Thursday during the evening celebration by children in the Enrichment Triad Program. Jessica created a book on how to grow many plants and vegetables, and was good at fielding questions about her project.

LESLIE REED of North school, tells a little of what she knows about horseback riding during North school's "Chelsea's Children Celebrate Live," program, for children in the Enrichment Triad Program. The celebration took place last Tuesday.

PUPPETRY was their hobby, as Ryan Ludwig, left, and Eric LeFarge, show off their elaborate display, which included a humorous stage, at South school's year-end celebration for children in the Enrichment Triad Program. The children who created displays like Ryan's and Eric's, also delivered short commercial-like talks aimed at getting the audience excited about their subjects. Children at North school had a similar program on Tuesday night.

RYAN LUDWIG didn't catch this shark while scuba diving, but, nevertheless, knew a lot about the subject at last Thursday's Enrichment Triad Program celebration at South school. The shark was loaned for Ryan's project by local photographer Ralph Goenther.

Ryan was named South school's resident expert on sharks. He was one of many children who picked special topics of interest to study, and prepare an interest center about. The children even created short commercials about their subjects.

Triad Children Celebrate End to A Successful Year

Children at North and South Elementary schools became "resident experts" in a variety of subjects last week, and they had a chance to show off their knowledge to family and friends in separate programs at the schools.

It was the climax of the year for the Enrichment Triad Programs at the schools, run by Ruth Stielstra. Those programs, now completing their first year, are for gifted, talented and dedicated students.

Children in the program picked any topic that was of special interest to them and studied it thoroughly. Topics ranged from sharks, plants, computers, baseball, cats, Brazil, and just about anything else you can imagine. Some children elicited the help of experts in the community, others did the leg work entirely on their own.

Children showed off the final products of their work last Tuesday night at North school, and last Thursday at South school.

Each child gave a short talk about his or her subject designed to show his enthusiasm and generate interest in the audience. Some talks were straight forward and business like, and some had the audiences in belly laughs. Each talk was as original as the child giving it.

Following the talks, and a presentation of awards by Stielstra, parents had a chance to talk to each student about his subject at a special "interest center" designed by the student.

The interest centers were like miniature trade show displays where a company tries to show off its products. Children produced posters, had literature to read, had computer displays, or any other prop to help them explain their subjects.

While most children learned far more about the subjects than they probably would have on their own without the triad program, that wasn't necessarily the goal. A major emphasis was to have each child start a relatively complex project and complete it. Having the children pick the topics had them far more personally involved than if the topics had been assigned.

Program. They also collected a wealth of information about the furry animals for their interest booth. The celebration took place last Thursday at South school. North school had a similar celebration on Tuesday.

Developing initiative and dedication toward reaching a goal, two characteristics that will be important to each child's lifelong education, were the real objectives.

Stielstra also pointed out that many of the children had never spoken to a large audience before. Having them speak about a topic in which they were proclaimed, "resident experts," was designed to bolster their confidence.

The Enrichment Triad Program has been targeted for elimination by the Chelsea School Board if the millage proposal fails in next week's school election.

ERIK BROWN, below, and Ed Waller, above gave an amusing talk about baseball during South school's Enrichment Triad celebration last Thursday. Brown, who's special topic of interest was baseball, was one of many children who studied a particular topic, created an "interest center," and educated many of the parents and students on hand.

Softball Season Ends For Girls With 1-0 Loss In District Tournament

Under a blazing sun, and before a substantial Chelsea crowd in Tecumseh, the Bulldog softball team saw its hopes for another state class B title stolen from them by an inspired Pinckney Pirate team, 1-0, in 14 innings, in the semi-finals of the district tournament last Saturday.

In the end, it was a battle of all-Southeastern Conference players. Pinckney catcher Dawn Christian hit a ground single up the middle off Pain Brown with a runner at third in the bottom of the 14th. It was an unearned run, as the Pinckney runner had reached second on a throwing error on a routine grounder. The next batter sacrificed the runner to third.

It didn't look like the same Pinckney team the Bulldogs had beaten handily in their three previous meetings. The Pirates played outstanding defense throughout the contest, stifling numerous Chelsea scoring opportunities.

Chelsea, the visiting team, looked as though they might take the lead on numerous occasions. In the top of the 14th, Pinckney's second pitcher Karen Gavin walked two consecutive Bulldogs to load the bases with two out. She went 3-0 on all-conference outfielder Chandy Hurd before throwing three straight strikes, the last resulting in an easy pop-up.

In the 11th inning, with runners at first and third and one out, Chelsea catcher Michelle Easton hit a shot up the middle that was stabbed by Gavin, who threw to first. On the throw, Jenny Cattell broke from third but was blocked from the plate by Christian, who put the tag on after the relay.

It was that kind of frustration all day long for the Bulldogs. Chelsea had base runners in every inning but the first two. They had a runner at third base in each of the last four innings, and five of the last six, but couldn't get the key hit.

"It was disappointing," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller. "We had the chances and all we needed was a bas. hit. But they made some excellent defensive plays."

The Pirates didn't hit Chris Defant or Brown all that well, but as it turned out, they didn't have to. Defant and Brown combined for 15 strikeouts, gave up seven hits, and didn't walk a batter.

Chelsea had 11 hits, including two each by Cattell, Leah Enderle and Hurd.

Pinckney lost in the district finals to Monroe St. Mary's Academy, 2-1.

In other action last week, Chelsea nipped Gabriel Richard, 3-1, and Huron, 11-6, in scrimmages as home last Wednesday. Chelsea finished the season with a 33-7 over-all record. To their credit, they won the Southeastern Conference outright, and won the prestigious Dondero Tournament.

CATHY BURKEL drops down a base against the Pinckney Pirates during last Saturday's district tournament action in Tecumseh. The ball was perfect, but Chelsea wasn't, as the Pirates won in 14 innings, 1-0.

A KEY PLAY OF THE GAME was when Pinckney catcher Dawn Christian put the tag on Chelsea's Jenny Cattell late in the game, cutting down what would have been the go-ahead run. The Pirates won, 1-0.

CURIS DEFANT hurled a whale of a game in her final game as a Bulldog.

Girls Track Team 8th in State Meet

Chelsea girls track team finished in an eighth place tie at the class B state track meet in Jackson last Saturday. Pre-meet favorite Flint Beecher won the meet with 42 points. Chelsea had 19.

Chelsea's 3,200 and 1,600 relay teams qualified for all-state status with their performance.

In the 3,200, the Bulldogs broke the state record by more than two seconds, but finished second to Grand Rapids Christian in 9:42.0. Grand Rapids turned in a 9:39. Amy Wolfgang, Laura Damm, Sallie Wilson and Kasey Anderson ran for Chelsea.

In the 1,600 relay, Susan Jaques, Chris Neuman, Wolfgang and Damm took third place in 4:08, behind Beecher at 4:03 and Grand Rapids Christian.

"Grand Rapids Christian was a thorn in our side all day," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

Neuman ran her leg in 1:02.3, "the best leg of the year, which kept us in it," Bainton said.

The 800 relay team of Jaques, Damm, Danica Disbro and Tami Harris finished fourth in 1:47.1, as Harris ran an anchor leg of :25.9, "one of Chelsea's best ever," Bainton said. Beecher won the event in 1:43.9.

Anderson, Wolfgang and Rossi, who all ran in individual events, did not place. Anderson ran close to her best time in the 800 at 2:23.7. Wolfgang's time of :47.7 in the hurdles was just short of the :47.3 necessary to place.

"We had just a great year," Bainton said. "The kids were real pleased with our performance. We have a lot of seniors we're going to miss next year, as much for their leadership as their skills. But we should have a pretty good team."

The Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) supports part-time jobs in community service for jobless, low-income persons who are at least 55 and have poor employment prospects. SCSEP projects are in all states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and U.S. territories, according to a U.S. Department of Labor fact sheet.

Here are softball scores from the Chelsea Recreation Department's slow pitch league for men. Scores are from games through June 2.

The Chelsea Standard asks that when results are turned in to please put the date of the game(s) on the summary sheet. Also, always be sure to list the name of both teams.

Sportsman's Bar, 3, Cavanaugh Lake Clams, 0. Mark Wiseley was the winning pitcher.

Dexter Merchants, 3, Cavanaugh Lake Clams, 0. Wiseley won the game for the merchants.

Broderick Shell, 7, Cavanaugh Lake Clams, 6, in extra innings. Shell came back from a 4-0 deficit.

Chelsea Woodshed, 14, Jiffy Mix, 1. Mark Boote and Marty Boote each hit home runs and had three hits for Woodshed. Steve Hawker was the winning pitcher.

Chelsea Woodshed, 12, Chelsea Industries II, 2. Mark Boote hit two home runs for Woodshed. Dick Miller was the winning pitcher.

Klink/Dault, 5, Vogel's Party Store, 3. Ray Arneel of Klink went 3-4 with the game-winning triple in the top of the eighth inning. Rich Parks made a key catch behind third in the bottom of the eighth.

Broderick Shell, 9, NAPA, 1. Howard Bush led Shell with three hits. Ron Schuyler was the winning pitcher. Outstanding defense for Shell was a key.

Tri County Merchants, 16, Cavanaugh Lake Clams, 8. Joe Keiser was the winning pitcher.

BC, 7, Big Boy, 6. John Evans of BC was 3-4, and the winning pitcher. BC defense turned two double plays. Rick Furman made a diving catch in left field.

Vogel's 5, Jiffy Mix, 0. Jeff Vogel was 3-3 with two RBI, and John Donajkowski was 3-3. Kevin Vandergriff had a triple. Vogel's turned three double plays.

Sportsman's Bar, 21, Stockbridge Merchants, 3. Dave Webber and Chris Rutkowski were each 4-4 with a double.

Todd Sprague Wins Hammer Throw Event

Former Chelsea student Todd Sprague won the hammer throw for Western Michigan University, Saturday, May 31 at the Central Collegiate Conference championships in Evanston, Ill. Sprague had an effort of 187' 11", a personal best performance.

Every six months the Occupational Safety and Health Administration publishes in the Federal Register a semiannual agenda of the health and safety standards it is actively working on, including target dates for regulatory action, according to a U.S. Department of Labor fact sheet.

I GOT IT! Chelsea third baseman Karen Weber, left, and short-stop Leah Enderle have their eyes on the ball and not on each other during last week's scrimmage with Gabriel Richard. Weber made the catch cleanly, and Chelsea won the game, 3-1, over a tough Irish team.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

From a purely pragmatic viewpoint, I hated to see the Chelsea softball season end as abruptly as it did last Saturday in Tecumseh. I was hoping for another couple of weeks of good softball stories. The 1-0 loss to Pinckney in 14 innings marked the end of the entire high school sports season. And I'm sorry to see it go.

As a reporter, I try not to become too attached to anything I'm covering, although in a small community like Chelsea, where I also happen to live, that is a lot more difficult than it sounds.

I knew just how difficult last Saturday. Oh, how my heart sank when that final Pinckney base hit went up the middle. Chandy Hurd fielded the ball, although she might just as well have let it roll. The Pinckney girls ran onto the field as though they had won the state championship, and, maybe for them beating Chelsea was just as good. The hush on the Chelsea side of the field was louder than all the Pirate squeals of delight.

Chelsea fans merely poked up the lawn chairs and coolers and baby brothers and went home. I had the feeling everyone wanted to huddle together for a good, collective cry. It's tough to see a group of kids who have worked so hard and had so much success lose it all on one hit. I've thought all along they were good enough to make the state tournament. I was so confident that they'd at least get to the final game that I told Waller earlier in the week that I wanted to take a picture of his all SEC players between games.

And, if they were like me, it didn't really sink in until the next day what had happened.

The Bulldogs should have been in the regional tourney this week-end. In coach Charlie Waller's words, "we were close, but no banana."

Pinckney lost the final game, 2-1. After a 14 inning game, the Pirates still held St. Mary's Academy to just two runs. And their pitchers don't approach the quality of Chelsea's Pam Brown and Chris Defant.

If the Bulldogs could have capitalized on just one of their early scoring opportunities, it's likely they could have gone on to beat St. Mary's. Of course, the way they were hitting it may have taken 23 innings.

It's tempting to say that Chelsea lost the game on the throwing error that put the Pinckney runner in scoring position. That's simply not true. Had Chelsea had any sort of run production throughout the game, the Bulldogs would never have been in that spot. Although I won't mention the fielder's name, Waller said of her, "she's given us the best play at her position that we've had in years. Without her, there was no game to begin with."

I guess we could speculate forever about the loss.

All I know is I was more depressed after that game than when Michigan beats Ohio State for the Big 10 championship. That's major league sports depression. I'm sure it was worse for parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters and boyfriends of the players who all seemed to be at the game.

One thing's for certain. It was far and away the most exciting scoreless softball game I've ever seen. I heard at least two or three people say, "I don't think I can take this anymore," as they ripped their fingernails to shreds.

Both teams made so many spectacular plays. Brown struck out three straight batters with a runner at second. Karen Weber fielded a shot to third and calmly threw out the runner by less than a step at first, as what would have been the winning run crossed the plate. Kim Ferry made numerous fine catches in the outfield. Carrell speared a line drive and doubled off a runner at first base. I kept forgetting to take the photographs, I was so caught up in the game.

Anyway, we should all applaud the softball team for another thrilling season. I had a great time covering it.

For those who are already thinking about next season, Waller loses most of the jolt from his line-up, but he should have the usual good pitching and fielding. Brown will be the class of the league. Jenny Pichlik and Peggy Hammerschmidt will be battling it out for the second pitching spot.

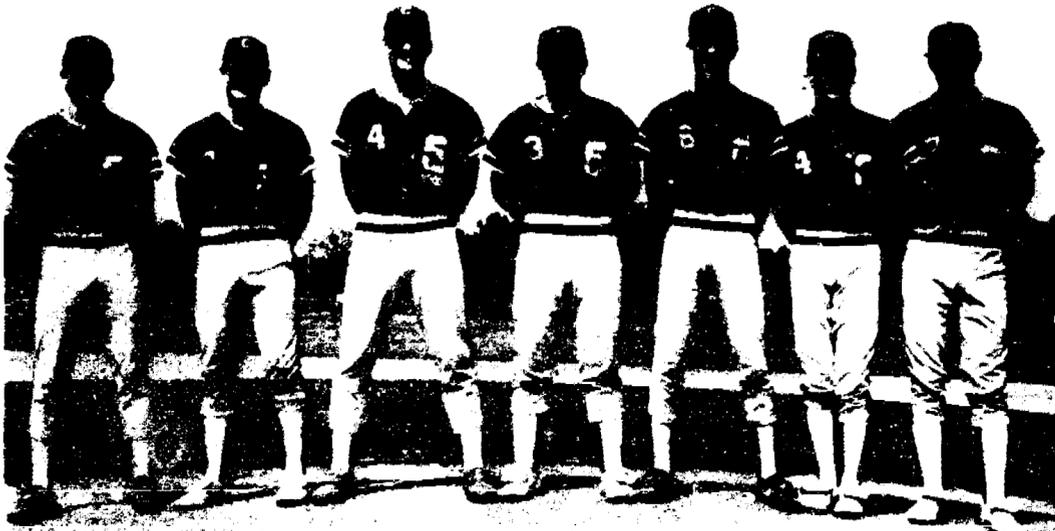

I was rather surprised that Lincoln knocked off Saline, 7-6, in the semi-finals of the baseball district tournament this week-end in Adrian, on the strength of four runs in the top of the seventh inning. It just goes to show that in a one-game-and-you're-out format, just about anything can happen. Saw, though, that Hornet ace Kevin Grossman didn't pitch the game.

The Railsplitters didn't last long, though, as they were bombed by Willow Run, 17-3, in the finals.

It's too bad that these year-end tournaments couldn't be run on a double-elimination basis. The way it's set up now, it seems that luck is almost as important a factor as skill.

I've heard a lot of grumbling lately about the way softball games are scheduled at Dona Park. A lot of people apparently don't know who is supposed to be in charge of what.

As I write this, I'm looking at a copy of a resolution that was passed by the Chelsea Village Council in March of 1983. That resolution gives the Chelsea Recreation Council sole authority to manage those fields, including the scheduling of games and teams. The rec council also has the right to establish charges and fees, operate a concession stand, and maintain the grounds. So, any complaints should be directed to the rec council.

POST SEASON HONORS went to these seven Chelsea baseball players recently as they were named to various all-Southeastern Conference teams. From left are outfielder Todd Starkey, second team; Ray Spencer, first team catcher; Mark Mull, first team infielder; Chuck Downer, first team pitcher; Dan Bellus, honorable mention pitcher; Rob Murrell, first team outfielder; and Kevin Maynard, first team designated hitter.

Chelsea Has 5 Named to SEC Team

Five Chelsea baseball players were named to the All-Southeastern Conference First Team in a vote of the league's coaches.

Pitcher Chuck Downer, infielder Mark Mull, and designated hitter Kevin Maynard were all unanimous selections to the team. Also included were catcher Ray Spencer and outfielder Rob Murrell.

Others named to the first team were Saline pitcher Kevin Grossman, Hornet infielder Grant Fanning, Tecumseh infielder Chad Ansheutz, Lincoln infielder Jeff Morcom, Milan outfielder Bruce Gray, and Saline outfielder Mike Englehardt.

Chelsea centerfielder Todd Starkey was named to the second team, and pitcher Dan Bellus, who was hurt for much of the season, made honorable mention.

Akel Marshall, Right-Hand Man For Coach Welton

When the Chelsea High school baseball team holds its annual banquet tomorrow night at Inverness Country Club, a man named Akel Marshall should get a standing ovation from parents and players.

You may not know who Akel Marshall is if you casually follow the exploits of Wayne Welton's Bulldogs. But parents, and above all, the players know him well. He's Welton's right hand man.

"I really don't know where I'd be without him," Welton said recently.

"He puts in over 20 hours a week during the season, and doesn't get paid a thing. He relates so well with the players. I'll tell you, if I had a teen-age son, I wouldn't mind him spending a lot of time with a guy like Akel."

Akel, who's 32 and single and works at Federal Screw Works, has been far more than an assistant coach to many of the Bulldogs. He's been a good friend, confidant, and has provided an after-hours getaway for many of the players. Hardly a day goes by during the season when one of the boys doesn't stop by his Dale St. home after practice or after a game.

"I love their company," he says. "I've gotten quite close to four or five of them."

Akel, a former left fielder at Manchester High school, who still recalls he batted .558 his senior year in 43 plate appearances, coaches the Bulldog outfielders.

"I try to pitch a little batting practice, too, but I can't throw too hard." He also runs the drills.

On game day, he coaches first base, for the most part. Every third and fourth inning he waves home runners at third base so that Welton can spend a little time in the dugout with his players after gauging the flow of the game.

The last four years, Akel has accompanied the Bulldogs on their pre-season trip to Florida.

In addition, he coaches a lot of the future varsity players in a summer baseball league in Ann Arbor.

It all adds up to a lot of time. This season was Akel's second on the varsity level. Ken Larson, the high school's assistant principal, got Akel started at the JV level six years ago when he was the coach. The two had coached Little League in the summer, and Larson knew a good coach when he saw one.

"I had no idea I'd like it as much as I did," Akel recalls.

"But I love being around the kids, and I love being around the game. I don't know if I did much to help Wayne out last year, but I thank him for letting me do it, and I hope I don't get in the way too much. I'll coach as long as he wants me."

It's likely Akel and Welton played against each other in high school, although neither can recall for sure. Welton was a junior at Chelsea high when Akel was a senior at Manchester.

"I know my junior year we did beat Chelsea," Akel says.

"I still like to see Manchester do well, except when they're playing Chelsea. I'm a Bulldog fan now."

The predecessor to the U.S. Department of Labor on the federal level was the Bureau of Labor, in the Department of Interior, created in 1884, according to "The Origin of the U.S. Department of Labor," an historical sketch available from the department.

AKEL MARSHALL has been an important varsity baseball coach for the last two years. He puts in about 20 unpaid hours a week, all for the love of the game and the chance to work with the boys.

Triathlon Championship Set at Half Moon Lake

A trio of top triathletes headline a varied field of competitors for the Great Lakes Triathlon Championship (GLTC), Saturday, June 14, 8 a.m., at Half Moon Lake Beach in northwestern Washtenaw county.

The triathlon championship, which features individual and relay-team competition in consecutive events of swimming, bicycling and running, is co-sponsored by the Ann Arbor "Y" and the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross. The championship is TRI-FED sanctioned.

David Evans, a 25-year-old University of Michigan graduate student, who placed seventh in the 1984 world Ironman Triathlon Championship, has entered the Great Lakes meet as well as world-class competitors, 33-year-old Karen McKeachie, a winner of over 100 Michigan road races, and over-40 Masters Champion Lizzie Burt, also both of Ann Arbor.

A grand prize of a trip for two to the United States Triathlon Series Championship at Hilton Head, S. C., will be awarded in a drawing among the top five overall finishers (male and female) and the top three in each age division.

GLTC co-ordinators Lew Kidder and Bill Zolkowski stress there remains an open field of competition with 20 age divisions and 10 relay-team categories for the triathlon which features 1.5 km swimming, 10 km biking and 10 km running. Trophies will be awarded to the top five male and female finishers and the top three in each age-division and team category.

Registration fees are $35 for each individual and $23 per member for each team that registers before June 13. The fees increase by $5 each day before the event; there will be no registrations June 14. A limit of 500 individuals and 100 relay teams (300 people) has been announced by officials.

Registration forms are available at most southeastern Michigan sports shops or by calling the Ann Arbor "Y" at (313) 663-0536. To travel to the race site take N. Territorial Rd. west from US-23 to Hanked Rd. north and follow signs.

Memorial Day Address

By John W. Mitchell
Monday, May 26, 1986

Today is dedicated to the people of this community who made the supreme sacrifice for his or her country.

Today is the 120th Anniversary of this national holiday. Remembering those who had fallen in the Civil War, a war where brother fought brother and families were scared for many years. And to this day some have never forgiven Abe Lincoln.

We remember places like Bull Run, Vicksburg, Gettysburg. Have you ever stepped on the battlefield at Gettysburg and listened to land speak. Listen hard for it will speak and remember and relate those charges, and battle lines, and yes, ultimately that sacrifice of human life. Gone are those persons who could relate first-hand what happened. We can only read about those experiences or have family histories to rekindle the memories.

Surrender is finally accomplished at Appomattox court house and again peace is once again upon our land. The reconstruction begins and a nation returns to normalcy. But those who gave their life in defense of the principles of freedom for all men lie here in this and other cemeteries of our community. We honor their memory today. For these men and women were fighting not only for principles, but for allegiance to Old Glory, that red, white and blue banner to which I would like to give this interpretation.

I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag...
What do those words mean to you? To me they say thank you America for your strength, your courage and for our freedom... which has been a beacon to the world for over 200 years.

Of the United States of America...
Whose bright stars are 50 states... each bearing its own stamp of individuality. People... 200 million strong... people who have come from every corner of the earth.

And to the Republic For Which It Stands...

A land of laws... with an ingenious system of checks and balances that allows no man to become a tyrant... and lets no group prevail... If their power is not tempered with a real concern for the governed... A land where the right of dissent and of free speech is jealously guarded... Where the ballot-box is the sword... and its people its wielder.

One Nation... Under God...
A land where freedom of worship is a cornerstone of her being. A land graced with temples and churches, synagogues and altars that rise in profusion to embrace all the religions of the world.

Indivisible...
A land forged by the hot steel of raw courage... and formed forever... by awful crucible... of civil war.

With Liberty...

Where man in pursuit of an honest life will not be denied his chance... where her citizens move freely within her vast borders without hindrance or fear... A land brimming with opportunity... where freedom of choice is the guideline for all.

And Justice...
The courts of our land are open to all. Its wheels of justice grind for all causes... all people. They look to every avenue for justice... every concern of the law and they temper their reasoning with mercy.

For All...
It's April 6, 1917 and people are singing "We Won't Come Back 'Til It's Over Over There." Henry Ford is building a Tin Lizzie and again the United States of America is at war. Over one million soldiers are over there by the end of the war on Nov. 11, 1918. Agan names like Flanders Field, and Verdun and Chateau-Thierry were household words. Our doughboys were again defending our country. Finally on Nov. 11, 1918, Kaiser Wilhelm surrendered and accepted the terms of Woodrow Wilson. The war to end all wars was over. In its duration over 100,000 were killed and over 200,000 had been wounded. Again our great country survived as did its ideals, but not without suffering and loss.

1920 came and so did prohibition and the country roared. A world was at peace and everything was "hunky dore." Prosperity continued and all was well again.

"America America, God shed His grace on thee." You ask me why I love her? Well, I'll explain. Have you seen a Kansas sunset or an Arizona rain? Have you drifted on a Bayou down Louisiana way? Have you watched the cold fog drifting over San Francisco Bay? Have you heard a bobwhite calling in a Carolina pine or heard the bellow of a diesel at the Appalachia mines? Does the call of Niagara thrill you when you hear her waters roar? Do you look with awe and wonder at the Massachusetts shore. Have you seen the sun come blazing down from a bright Nevada sky? Did you hail to the Columbia as it attempted to pierce the sky. Or bow your head at Gettysburg... at our struggle to be free? Have you seen the mighty Tetons? Have you watched an eagle soar. Have you seen the Mississippi roll along Missouri shore? Have you felt a chill at Michigan when on a winter's day, her waters race along the shore in thunderous display? Does the word "Aloha" make you warm? Do you stare in disbelief when you see the surf come roaring in a Waimea reef? From Alaska's cold to the Everglades... from the Rio Grande to Maine... my heart cries out... My pulse runs fast at the might of her domain.

You ask why I love and defend her I've a million reasons why. You ask Johnnie, who came marching home. He'll tell you why.

And Johnnie did come marching home again and the good old U.S.A. settled down to some pretty good years. Of course we had our problems, President Harding called for normalcy and following a trip to Alaska became ill and died. Herbert Hoover succeeded and led us into and during the great crash and depression of the 1930's.

In the election of 1932 Hoover was defeated by Franklin D. Roosevelt. And it was he who delivered that now famous speech of the four freedoms, Freedom of Speech, of Worship, from Want and from Fear. And declared war on Japan following the attack on Pearl Harbor that Sunday morning, Dec. 7, 1941. Once again the United States was at war. Names like Buchenwald, Leyte, Casino, Tokyo, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Le Mans all have special meaning for our "G.I.'s."

Over 400,000 were killed or died in this, the last great war, WW-II. We remember Rosie the Riveter, and Tokyo Rose and songs like "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree With Any One Else But Me." And how about rationing stamps and how about muddy fox holes and K-rations, for this war affected everyone, we were all committed to win the war.

In the final days a beloved president racked with the stress of war died. We mourned not only our personal loss but the loss of a great man. He was succeeded by Harry S. Truman. It was he who authorized the first use of the atomic bomb at Hiroshima and Nagasaki and peace did come again on Sept. 6, 1945. We remember these men and women who again sacrificed and gave their last full measure of devotion for the cause of peace and freedom which we all hold so dear.

Four years later in that far-off land Korea, we were at it again, a peacekeeping mission between North and South Korea. Fighting in places like Seoul, and the 38th parallel, 53,000 gave their lives to keep peace in the far-off land of Korea. Again our involvement ended on July 27, 1953. We remember these brave souls who gave of themselves so that some would be free. John Wayne wrote, "My prayer and hope is that everyone know and love our country for what she really is and what she stands for. May we nurture her strengths and strengthen her weakness so that she will always be: 'land of the free and home of the brave.'"

I suppose for me our Vietnam conflict is more real than any of our country's wars. For I was a part of that era, I have friends and family who fought and lost their lives there. It was controversial, political, and wasteful as are all wars and fights. For we have given so much to keep what we have in America. I wonder if we can give again? Of course we can if we must. What feelings do you have when a bomb kills an innocent mother and her children, or a threat is made on our president? We will defend again if we must. God forbid that we must. You should go to Washington, D. C., to see the Vietnam Memorial and look upon the bronzed faces of that GI statue. You touch the engraved names of guys who lie in this cemetery to bring the reality of war home. Home to a place that not since the Civil War has seen the actuality of battle, and we thank God for that.

Today we honor all who have given their lives in defense of freedom be it in the Civil War,

RETIRING SOCIAL STUDIES TEACHER PAUL WADE was named one of two exemplary employees of the Chelsea School District for 1985-86. Wade, right, is congratulated by school board president Dale Schumann.

MIRIAM KLEMMER accepts the exemplary employee award from Chelsea School Board President Dale Schumann. Klemmer, who's the secretary to both Superintendent Ray Van Meer, and Curriculum Director Laurie Bissell, has worked in the district for eight years.

Exemplary Employees Honored By Schools

Retiring Chelsea High school social studies teacher Pat Wade, and Miriam Klemmer, secretary to superintendent Ray Van Meer, were honored as the 1985-86 exemplary employees of the Chelsea school district at a luncheon Monday, June 2.

Wade has taught U.S. history and government for 20 years at Chelsea High school.

Klemmer has been secretary to the superintendent for eight years, and recently also became the secretary to curriculum director Laurie Bissell.

The exemplary employees were chosen by a committee headed by North school principal Bill Westcott.

Also honored were those who will retire from the school district this year, including Mary Lou Bower, William Chandler, Sylvia Gilbert, Margaret Koch, Ida Morley, Maryanna Robertson, Paul Simon and Virginia Visel.

in the river of wounded that wound through the green hills.

Now a new sound drifted in the soft evening sky. For Colonel Dan Butterfield, a courageous and able soldier was also a man of music. To honor his fallen comrades he had composed a simple and heart rending melody. On July 2nd in the year of 1862 its strains floated over the graves that scarred the dark Virginia earth.

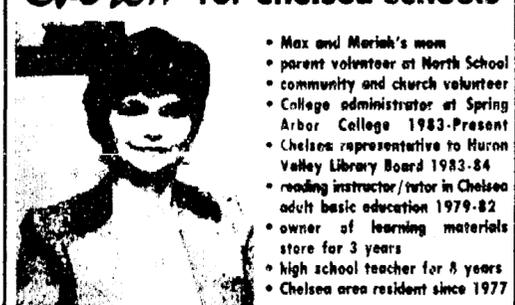

It has been more than 120 years since that sound was born... But those notes have never died away. Every night of the year, throughout the world, fighting men and women of America from the north and south, the east and west close their eyes in sleep to its call. And in each of their hearts... there glows a fierce surge of pride.

"Fading light... Falling Night... Trumpet calls as the sun sinks in flight.

Sleep in peace comrades dear, God is near... Thank You.

Now all was silent. The sledgehammer blows of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson had muted the army of the Potomac and yet that army was not destroyed. Seven thousand men had fallen in that dreadful week and the savagery of the conflict was grimly evident

Cherem for Chelsea Schools

I look forward to helping make our good schools even better. I would appreciate your votes for School Board on June 9.

Give Your Family All It Deserves

THE DIFFICULT TO FIND. Three bedroom ranch with bath and one-half, on 2+ acres in the country, with Chelsea Schools, at an affordable price. We have it! Call today for an appointment to see.

EASY WALK TO ELEMENTARY SCHOOL. No matter what the weather you are only a block from the school. 1,200 square foot ranch has full basement and single car garage. City facilities. Consider this one for your family.

TAX SHELTER. Did you know you can live in half of your duplex and rent the other for a shelter? Ask your accountant about this idea so you don't pay so much at tax time next year. It's a year price range.

WALK TO YOUR OWN LAKE ACCESS. Hot weather is ahead. Will you be able to use your boat this year? We have a terrific starter or retirement home only a stone's throw off the main drag with access to the Half Moon Chain-of-Lakes. Don't wait. (We can sell yours!)

AN OLDER HOME THAT HASN'T BEEN MODIFIED. We have it and in tip-top condition. This is how you get the dining room you have been wanting. Lots of room to build on if desired. Curious? Call us. We would be happy to show you.

AFFORDABLE TERMS. $45,000 lake front cottage, $4,000 down, $400 per month, 11% interest, 5 year balloon. Tired of hearing the current story on bank loans? We'll move you in two weeks after you sign the sales agreement. Better check this out.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank all my friends, relatives, and neighbors for the food, flowers, cards, calls, and help while at the hospital and since my coming home. The rescue squad, the Huron Valley Ambulance Service, the doctors and nurses at the hospital and clinic, the Rev. Koch for his calls and prayers, my family for the love and support. It is greatly appreciated. Thanks one and all.
Lillian Keizer.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank each and every one for the love, prayers, flowers and food that was given during the loss of my husband, James McFarland. Thanks to the Stockbridge Ambulance, to Casey Funeral Home, to "The Glory Land Singers," to Pastor Castle and to Pastor Erickson for the wonderful message. Thanks to the Stockbridge Ambulance for transporting me to the funeral and Mr. Sheleberger and Mrs. Hafner for being by my side. Thanks to the American Legion for their participation and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for their kindness, to the Jeruel Baptist church and the ladies who prepared the dinner and my family for all the love and support that was shown to me at this time. May God add his blessing to each of you.

Cub Scout Sign-up Night Scheduled Wednesday At North School

Cub Scout Pack No. 435 has scheduled its annual Cub Scout sign-up night for Wednesday, June 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the North school cafeteria. Parents of upcoming first through fifth grade boys at North school are encouraged to attend and learn about the values of the Cub Scout program. The purpose of Scouting is to provide for boys an effective educational program designed to build desirable qualities of moral strength and character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop physical, mental, and emotional fitness. Since 1930, younger boys have had the opportunity to be Cub Scouts in a year-round, home-centered program that not only helps the boys but also helps to strengthen the family. If you are interested but cannot attend, please call Ron Montange at 475-1080 or John Cabanis at 475-9653 for more information.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Frances.

He is survived by two sons, Charles, Jr., of Chelsea, and Gerald G. of Wichita Falls, Tex.; two daughters, Marian Livingston of Gibsonton, Fla., and Betty Stoffer of Dexter; 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services were held at Hamilton Funeral Home in Riverview, Fla., on Friday, May 30. Interment followed at Garden of Memories Cemetery in Tampa, Fla.

Beverly K. Scully

1621 East M-26
 Pinckney
 Beverly K. Scully, age 41, died June 2 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, following a month illness.

She was born Feb. 7, 1945 in Ann Arbor, the daughter of Raymond and Golda (Pepper) Winer. She was married to Charles D. Scully Oct. 3, 1962.

Mrs. Scully was a member of Our Savior Lutheran church, and had been employed by the First of America Bank in the credit card department for the past five years.

Surviving are her husband, Charles; two sons, Ronald and Jeffrey Thornville; a daughter, Tara G. Scully; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winer of Chelsea; three brothers, Raymond, Randolph, and Russell; her sister, Barbara Wilber, her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Homer Pepper; and several other relatives.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, June 5 at 3 p.m. at the Muehlig Funeral Chapel, Ann Arbor, with the Rev. Franklin Griebel and the Rev. Robert Weikart officiating. Burial will follow in Washington Memorial Park.

Memorial contributions may be made to a fund for the daughter, Tara G. Scully.

The family will receive friends Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

American Flag Stolen from Home

An American flag was stolen from a home at 130 Grant St., sometime after 8:30 p.m. Monday, May 26, Memorial day, according to Chelsea police.

The flag was 9' by 4', police said.

IT WAS FIRST CLASS TREATMENT for these Beach Middle school retirees last Friday as Beach teachers and staff rented a limo and paid for an elaborate lunch at Dexter's Cousins

Heritage Inn. Those retiring, from the right, include Maryanna Robertson, Paul Simon, Sylvia Gilbert and Margaret Koch. The chauffeur was provided by Fifth Avenue Limousine Service.

IT WASN'T A PRESIDENTIAL motorcade, but the spirit was there nevertheless, as retiring Beach teachers and staff were given a ride in a limousine around the school, while cheering students wished them the best. It was all a gift from the Beach faculty and staff.

Four Retirees at Beach Given Send-Off Fitting Royalty

Beach Middle school teachers and staff gave four of their retiring colleagues a party they'll never forget last Friday.

Sylvia Gilbert and Maryanna Robertson, front office secretaries, and Margaret Koch and Paul Simon, long-time Beach teachers, are all retiring this year. And, boy, what a surprise awaited them last Friday, as teachers and staff dug deep into their wallets for the send-off.

At precisely 10:45, Beach principal Darcy Stielstra threw the fire alarm and escorted the ladies and gentleman outside.

Waiting for them at the top of the sidewalk was the Beach band, who serenaded them with a selection of appropriate, patriotic retirement music.

At the bottom of the walk awaited a black limousine and chauffeur, ready to circle Beach school twice and whisk them away to Cousins Heritage Inn in Dexter for an elegant lunch.

As they circled the building, Beach students showed off their congratulatory art work.

"Until Darcy gave us the courage, and we heard the band playing, I had absolutely no idea anything had been planned," Robertson said.

Joining them for lunch were Stielstra, assistant superintendent Fred Mills, superintendent Ray Van Meer, former principal Al Conklin, and former superintendent Charles Cameron.

After lunch they had the day off, but later attended another party at the home of colleague Judy Parker

Gilbert, who has been the principal's secretary for 32 years, lives at North Lake. She plans to take some classes this summer in Boston, and later plans to travel and do some volunteer work.

Robertson started 18 years ago in the Beach library and gradually ended up as a full-time office employee. She says she plans to "throw away the alarm clock," and take a lot of little trips with her husband, Billie, including an extensive fall color tour.

Koch, who lives in Dexter, has taught for more than 18 years in the sixth grade bloc program (English, Geography, reading and spelling). She plans to move to Ames, Ia., with her husband Harold, to be closer to their grandchildren. She says they'll be leaving at the end of June.

Simon, a Gene Dr. resident, spent the last 18 years of his career at Beach, a career spanning 34 years. He previously taught in Shepherd and Bay City. His subjects have included agriculture, farm shop, biology, junior high math and science, and junior high industrial arts. Most recently he has taught industrial arts and science

Dr. K. Brown Honored By U-M Medical Center

Dr. Kimberly A. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown of Chelsea, recently received the Laura Edmonds award from the Department of Internal Medicine of the University of Michigan Medical Center.

The award is given to the outstanding first-year resident in internal medicine. It is named after a first-year resident who died in a bicycle accident.

It was one of five awards given by the department at their annual awards banquet at Barton Hills Country Club, Saturday, May 24.

A rattlesnake can strike about two-thirds the length of its body.

Obituary Addition

In last week's edition of The Chelsee Standard, the name of Colleen Palmer Moore should have been included in the obituary of John B. Moore, Jr. as his three-month-old daughter who died July 23, 1980.

July 4 Fireworks Show May Become A Thing of the Past

The traditional Fourth of July Fireworks show at the Chelsea Fairgrounds may have been dealt the knock-out punch. And even if the show lasts another round, it may well be its last.

The culprit is partly the unavailability of adequate liability insurance.

Chelsea Jaycees have taken over the project this year, and have received financial and other support from a number of sources.

However, the Chelsea Community Fair Board has demurred that the Jaycees have a liability insurance policy worth $1 million.

Jaycees chairman of the board Harold Allen, who is overseeing the fireworks project, says the largest policy he has been able to find, through Mundus & Mundus of Ann Arbor, is for $500,000.

"I've checked with more than 20 companies," Allen said.

"The only other policy I could even find was for $300,000, from a company in Florida.

Allen took his case to the Chelsea Village Council at its regular meeting May 20. He asked if village property could be used, but the answer was "no" because village insurance through the Michigan Municipal League doesn't cover fireworks shows.

Village Manager Fritz Weber said at the meeting that the village can have no involvement other than the routine use of police and fire department personnel. However, late last week, Weber strongly hinted that he would suggest that Chelsea's fireworks ordinance not allow fireworks displays in the village. The ordinance is being re-written due to another matter.

"It's the deep pocket syndrome," Weber said.

"I attended a seminar yesterday at the Michigan Municipal League, and they recommended that small towns not allow fireworks because when a person sues, he'll sue everybody he can find. If we even allow fireworks to go on in the village, we could end up in somebody's law suit."

Weber said that even if Chelsea's ordinance is re-written, it is probably too late for it to go into effect this year.

Assuming the ordinance is re-written to exclude the fireworks show, organizers would have to find some place outside the village. That means someone else would have to be willing to take the chance of a law suit. It would also probably create major transportation and parking problems.

Allen suggested that the village purchase land and donate it to a group like the Jaycees, land that would be used exclusively for the fireworks show. Weber said last week he didn't think that pro-positional had much chance of being accepted by the council. He also said he thought the officers of the Jaycees might be opening themselves up to a law suit in that case.

The cost of the liability insurance isn't a major issue, Allen said. The $500,000 policy would cost $1,000 and would require an employee of the fireworks company, Colonial Fireworks, of Ypsilanti, to be on hand. The fireworks themselves only cost $3,000, Allen said.

"It would be the best show Chelsea's ever had because of the size of fireworks we're planning to use," Allen said.

"We've made a lot of changes in the way the fireworks would be shot off to eliminate some of the risks. The fireworks look and sound nice, but it's their symbolic gesture we shouldn't forget."

Allen plans to ask the fair board if it would consider lowering its insurance requirements. If the answer is no, the show will likely not go on.

Americans have long been eating plant roots (carrots) and seeds (peas), so why not add flowers like roses and violets to the average diet? Many kinds of flowers are served around the world in salads, soups and as garnishes for their high content of vitamins and minerals, reports International Wildlife magazine.

Fire Does Extensive Damage to Residence

A mid-afternoon fire at 608 North Territorial Rd. caused extensive damage last Wednesday to a two-story residence, but two Dexter firefighters sustained only minor injuries and the residence's sole occupant was not home for any of the excitement.

The cause of the fire, which was reported at 4:10 p.m. by a neighbor, remains under investigation by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Dexter Fire Chief Ray Sabo said his 14-man crew found flames in the kitchen and utility room of the enormous structure. To supplement their water supply, they tried to stretch a line to the nearby Huron River but found their path blocked by a tree.

A call went out for assistance, but by the time crews from Chelsea, and from Putnam and Northfield townships, arrived, the fire had been extinguished with water from the Dexter trucks' tanks.

Since the building had undergone extensive remodeling, "hot spots" remained behind paneled walls and above the suspended ceiling.

Mark Kormark, the lone occupant, reportedly told investigators he had left his house over an hour before the blaze was reported.

Sabo estimated damage from flames and smoke at $20,000-$40,000.

Two Dexter firefighters received puncture wounds from nails and were treated and released at Chelsea Hospital.

County Hikes Price on Village Tax Billings

Washtenaw county will charge the Village of Chelsea 36 percent more to process tax bills for the coming year.

The village council voted at their last regular meeting to accept an increase of 15 cents per billed parcel of land or personal property. Each bill will now cost the village 37 cents, up from 42 cents.

That translates to approximately $270 more per tax billing, as there are approximately 1,800 parcels within the village, according to Village Manager Fritz Weber.

July 4 Fireworks Show May Become A Thing of the Past

The traditional Fourth of July fireworks show at the Chelsea Fairgrounds may have been dealt the knock-out punch. And even if the show lasts another round, it may well be the last.

The culprit is partly the unavailability of adequate liability insurance.

Chelsea Jaycees have taken over the project this year, and have received financial and other support from a number of sources.

However, the Chelsea Community Fair Board has demanded that the Jaycees have a liability insurance policy worth $1 million.

Jaycees chairman of the board Harold Allen, who is overseeing the fireworks project, says the largest policy he has been able to find, through Mundus & Mundus of Ann Arbor, is for $500,000.

"I've checked with more than 10 companies," Allen said.

"The only other policy I could even find was for $300,000, from a company in Florida."

Allen took his case to the Chelsea Village Council at its regular meeting May 20. He asked if village property could be used, but the answer was "no" because village insurance through the Michigan Municipal League doesn't cover fireworks shows.

Village Manager Fritz Weber said at the meeting that the village can have no involvement other than the routine use of police and fire department personnel. However, late last week, Weber strongly hinted that he would suggest that Chelsea's fireworks ordinance not allow fireworks displays in the village. The ordinance is being re-written due to another matter.

"It's the deep pocket syndrome," Weber said.

"I attended a seminar yesterday at the Michigan Municipal League, and they recommended that small towns not allow fireworks because when a person sues, he'll sue everybody he can find. If we ever allow fireworks to go on in the village, we could end up in somebody's law suit."

Weber said that even if Chelsea's ordinance is re-written, it is probably too late for it to go into effect this year.

"Assuming the ordinance is re-written to exclude the fireworks show, organizers would have to find some place outside the village. That means someone else would have to be willing to take the chance of a law suit. It would also probably create major transportation and parking problems."

Allen suggested that the village purchase land and donate it to a group like the Jaycees, land that would be used exclusively for the fireworks show. Weber said last week he didn't think that proposal had much chance of being accepted by the council. He also said he thought the officers of the Jaycees might be opening themselves up to a law suit in that case.

The cost of the liability insurance isn't a major issue, Allen said. The $500,000 policy would cost $1,045, and would require an employee of the fireworks company, Colonial Fireworks, of Ypsilanti, to be on hand. The fireworks themselves only cost $3,000, Allen said.

"It would be the best show Chelsea's ever had because of the size of fireworks we're planning to use," Allen said.

"We've made a lot of changes in the way the fireworks would be shot off to eliminate some of the risks. The fireworks look and sound nice, but it's their symbolic gesture we shouldn't forget."

Allen plans to ask the fair board if it would consider lowering its insurance requirements. If the answer is no, the show will likely not go on.

Americans have long been eating plant foods—carrots and seeds, peas—so why not add flowers like roses and violets to the average diet? Many kinds of flowers are served around the world in salads, soups and as garnishes for their high content of vitamins and minerals, reports International Wildlife magazine.

Fire Does Extensive Damage to Residence

A mid-afternoon fire at 9068 North Territorial Rd. caused extensive damage last Wednesday to a barn-turned-residence, but two Dexter firefighters sustained only minor injuries and the residence's sole occupant was not home for any of the excitement.

The cause of the fire—which was reported at 4:10 p.m. by a neighbor—remains under investigation by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Dexter Fire Chief Ray Sabo said his 14-man crew found flames in the kitchen and utility room of the enormous structure. To supplement their water supply, they tried to stretch a line to the nearby Huron River but found their path blocked by a tree.

A call went out for assistance, but by the time crews from Chelsea, and from Putnam and Northfield townships, arrived, the fire had been extinguished with water from the Dexter trucks' tanks.

Since the building had undergone extensive remodeling, "hot spots" remained behind paneled walls and above the suspended ceiling.

Mark Kormanek, the lone occupant, reportedly told investigators he had left his house over an hour before the blaze was reported.

Sabo estimated damage from flames and smoke at $30,000-$40,000.

Two Dexter firefighters received puncture wounds from nails and were treated and released at Chelsea Hospital.

KIMBERLY A. HARVEY will graduate from Michigan State University on June 7, with a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing. Kim is a member of the National Honor Society of Nursing, Sigma Theta Tau. She has also been an active participant in events at Chelsea Community Hospital. Kim is the daughter of Richard and Virginia Harvey of Grass Lake.

County Hikes Price on Village Tax Billings

Washtenaw county will charge the Village of Chelsea 35 percent more to process tax bills for the coming year.

The village council voted at their last regular meeting to accept an increase of 15 cents per billed parcel of land or personal property. Each bill will now cost the village 57 cents, up from 42 cents.

That translates to approximately $270 more per tax billing, as there are approximately 1,800 parcels within the village, according to Village Manager Fritz Weber.

Drinking, Driving Responsibilities To Be Discussed

Did you know that you can be held legally liable if a guest leaves your home intoxicated and gets into an accident. Did you know that if a person leaves a party and is arrested for drunk driving he can sue the host? And collect?

Deputy John Hittler of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will do a public presentation on drinking and driving for the Chelsea Substance Abuse Task Force. The date is June 9 at 6:45 p.m. It will be held in the main dining room at Chelsea Community Hospital. Deputy Hittler talks with groups throughout Washtenaw county about alcohol and the law.

If you run an establishment where alcohol is served or if you host parties and intend to offer alcohol you may benefit from this presentation.

It is free of charge and open to anyone who is interested. For more information you may call Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-1311, ext. 215.

A small Asian deer named the Reeves' muntjac is threatening to replace the dog as the British man's best friend, reports International Wildlife magazine. Cyclist Dies In Waterloo Rd. Accident

An Ann Arbor man was killed last Thursday night in Lyndon township when he lost control of his motorcycle and was struck by a car traveling in the opposite direction on Waterloo Rd.

According to Chelsea police, who assisted the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Calvin A. Vanlunen, 29, 3566 Greenbriar Blvd., was dead at the scene at 11:43 p.m. Police said he apparently lost control of his motorcycle for reasons unknown, was thrown into the westbound lane and hit by a car driven by Tammy Kay Ferry, 19, 13509 Harr Rd., Grass Lake. The motorcycle was not hit by the car and skidded off the road.

Police said there were no passengers on the motorcycle or in the car. Ferry was not charged in the accident, and was not hurt.

Chelsea Fire Department responded to the call.

GRADUATING SENIORS and their parents of St. Mary's church were honored Sunday, June 1 with a 9 a.m. mass, followed by a breakfast sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, and the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary. The featured speaker for the breakfast was Fr. Roger Prokop, a chaplain at the University of Michigan Hospital.

KIM COLLINS, left, was one of four Chelsea High school seniors to receive a scholarship from the Knights of Columbus and the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary at a special breakfast Sunday, June 1, at St. Mary's church. Alice Goertz presents the award. Others who received scholarships included Jennifer Bull, Michael Merkzi and Ross Griffin.

BEACH MIDDLE SCHOOL VIOLANISTS concentrate on their music during last Thursday's combined concert of the middle school and high school orchestras, and the Saline Big Band, at Beach Middle school. From left are Todd Redding, Stephanie Wagner, and Kerry McArthur.

CHELSEA HIGH ORCHESTRA MUSICIANS joined the middle school orchestra and Saline Big Band for a combined performance at Beach Middle school Thursday, May 29. High school violanists, from left, include Kate Giebol, Dena Stevens, Leslie Manning, Maryam Bramkamp and Jeff Vctor.

School Orchestras Join in Concert

Beach school cafeteria was the gaily decorated scene on Thursday evening for the combined spring music concert of the middle school and high school orchestras under the direction of Chelsea's orchestra director, Jed Fritzeimer.

The seventh grade orchestra started out the program, followed by the eighth grade orchestra, who did a beautiful job on several selections. The two groups then joined together for another nice presentation.

During the brief intermission, the audience who sat in the gaily decorated cafeteria was treated to the music of the Saline Big Band.

The Saline Big Band is a group of highly dedicated musicians who love their instruments and really enjoy playing together. Jed Fritzeimer plays the bass for this group, and the group agreed to come and be a part of the Chelsea concert. Familiar faces in the band to many Chelsea area residents, were that of Amy and Dave Wolter who also perform with the band.

The Chelsea High School Orchestra performed several selections ending with a very stirring rendition of Battle Hymn of the Republic. This was the last concert for several seniors in the brass and wind sections, who did an exceptionally beautiful job on this last piece.

After the concert everyone enjoyed punch and cake.

are Clarence Holmberg of Princes, commander of the council, who also represents DAV chapter 13, Erwin Mast representing Dexter American Legion Post 357, Don McAllister from both Post 357 and DAV chapter 13, Bob Lucas of Ann Arbor, treasurer of the council and also a member of VFW Post 413, Dallas Turley, commander of Post 557, Phil Heinsminger of Manchester and Kermit Sharp of Ann Arbor.

Washtenaw Council of Veterans Co-Ordinates Available Services

Following World War II, each community had at least one counseling center directing its efforts to assist returning veterans. Larger communities boasted as many as four or five such offices.

For the most part, these centers acted as referral agencies, and many times, following two or three referrals from one place to another, a veteran would give up in disgust and forget the whole matter.

In the early part of 1948, a group of far-sighted men interested in the welfare of veterans and their dependents, recognized the need for a one-stop center where a veteran or his dependents or survivors might be assisted with all problems.

Many of the men active in this effort were drawing on their own experiences following World War I.

To them, it was obvious the real problems would develop many years after the veterans returned. However, they also realized a Veterans Affairs Office without the support and guidance of the veterans organizations of Washtenaw county would be doomed to failure.

Following months of conferences and surveys, a meeting was called for the purpose of long-range planning. Representatives from each post of every Veterans organization in Washtenaw county were invited. Interest ran unusually high from the beginning, and a new organization soon emerged. The Washtenaw County Council of Veterans.

The new organization was managed by elected delegates of every post of the following organizations: American Legion, AmVets, United Spanish War Veterans, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Veterans of World War I of USA, and the Marine Corps League.

The Council adopted as its first objective, the establishment of a one-stop Veterans Affairs Office for Washtenaw county.

Following much effort, a center was opened Jan. 1, 1950, with an appropriation from the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors.

Funds were held up for a time pending a determination of the legality of the application. Again, the various organizations rallied with funds to meet the payroll for the director and secretary. Soon, this matter was cleared up and the job of bringing together the various veterans services began in earnest.

From the beginning, the Veterans Affairs Office assisted veterans and their dependents and survivors in obtaining benefits due them from the federal, state and local governments. However, there remained two important agencies dealing with Washtenaw County veterans that were to remain outside the Veterans Affairs Office for some time. These were the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund and Washtenaw County Soldier's Relief Commission.

Both these agencies dealt with direct emergent relief to veterans and their dependents; hence, the desirability of having their service available at the Veterans Affairs Office.

In 1951, the Trust Fund moved its operations to the Veterans Affairs Office, and named the center director its agent. One year later, the Washtenaw County Soldier's Relief Commission carried out a similar plan. At long last, all veterans services were in one office.

Since 1951, all services to veterans have been available through the Veterans Affairs Office. The office is located at 4133 Washtenaw Rd., Box 8645, Ann Arbor. The telephone is 971-8840.

While the primary activity of the Washtenaw County Council of Veterans has been the organization and supervision of the County Veterans Affairs Office, the Council, through its tremendous force, is unifying the efforts of all organized veterans within the county.

The Washtenaw County Council of Veterans is an outstanding local example of successful operation through unified action and dedication to purpose.

The Council meets monthly and rotates its meeting place among communities throughout the county. Within its ranks are found members of the American Legion, the Disabled American Vets, the Marine Corps League, Michigan Paralyzed Veterans of America, Military Order of the Purple Heart, Veterans of World War I and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

COYOTE HUNT: Hunters from as far away as Danville, took part in a coyote hunt in early March. Hunt organizer Junior Colby of Donner Rd., Dexter, said a party of 15 pursued the animals at the close of fox season and killed three coyotes over a one-week period. This one ran seven miles after being shot. Colby said he knows of 12 coyotes killed within a five-mile radius of Chelsea since October. Building Trades Class Shows Off Completed Home

The increased demand for new homes has been good news to several Chelsea and Dexter building trades students, and to the five Washtenaw County school districts that combine efforts on a yearly building project, according to Chelsea High School principal John Williams.

Six students from Chelsea and three from Dexter joined with 17 others from Milan, Saline and Manchester in building a 1,500-square-foot house that was shown to 100-150 guests at an open house Sunday.

Williams said that, for a change, two or three offers were made on the house while it was still under construction. Sluggish demand, combined with declining student interest, is what originally forced the school districts to pool their building trades instruction efforts, which usually put a different house from each program on the market.

Participating in the project, which began last September, were Chelsea students Chuck Downer, Kirk Gallagher, Ron Griffin, Mitchell Robson, Joel Sanderson and Mike VanRiper. Harold Armbruster, David Feldkamp and Chad Romane, of Dexter, joined the effort.

The students worked through the winter to ready the house by the end of the school year.

"It's the dream of the building trades program teacher to get the roof on before the snow flies," said Williams. Thomas Golding is the instructor, and Mary Nichols is his assistant.

The crew's over-all size meant that work had to go on in two shifts. The Chelsea students used three morning class periods to take a bus ride to the site at 1374 North Silo Ridge, Ann Arbor, and to get involved in all tasks—from plumbing to roofing. They then returned to school for their after-noon classes.

Students earned credit for two hours of academic work.

The house is a contemporary ranch-style structure with three bedrooms and two baths. It has a full basement and a two-car garage. It features a rough-cedar exterior, clerestory windows, a fireplace and a root cellar. Asking price is $110,000.

Williams explained that materials for the project were purchased by a non-profit corporation, the South and West Washtenaw Consortium Building Trades Program, Inc., which also gets proceeds from the sale. An eight-member board of directors oversees the corporation's activities. Jacob Haas, a member of the Dexter Board of Education, is president of the board of directors.

The result of the program, according to Williams, is a good house at a good price, with the corporation profiting just enough to buy a lot and materials for next year's project.

And Haas had this assessment of the workmanship: "The kids did a really nice job, as they always have in the past."

Volunteer Group Being Formed at Humane Society

Humane Society of Huron Valley is searching for new volunteers interested in becoming a member of their CORE Volunteer Group. CORE, which stands for Caring, Organized, Reliable, and Energetic, is a group being formed to help the Humane Society establish new community and fund-raising programs.

According to Janet Griffin, director of development at the shelter, there are many programs that HSHV would like to have operating but they need interested volunteers to help run them. "We would like to establish a mobile display unit that would be placed in areas where it could be viewed by the public and moved periodically, a gift shop featuring unique items with animal related themes, and a county-wide donation canister program."

If you would like to help the Humane Society of Huron Valley by joining CORE, please call 662-5685 or write Janet Griffin, HSHV, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48105.

CHILDREN GATHERING to help with the preparations for last year's Biblical Marketplace vacation church school are Susan Henry, Katie Henry, Grace Hardin, Carl Calambas and Matthew Calambas. Deb Manville, also pictured, is preparing costumes for the children who will be reliving the activities which might have taken place at the time that Jesus was walking the earth. The church school runs for three days, June 17, 18, 19 on the grounds of St. Paul United Church of Christ on Old US-12. It is sponsored by the First United Methodist church of Chelsea, St. Paul U.C.C. and the First Congregational church. Registrations must be in to one of these churches by June 8, since there are limited spaces left. Further information is available by calling Debbie Noye at 675-1886 or one of the churches involved.

CCC Accomplishments Told in Michigan History

A decade of accomplishment by the Civilian Conservation Corps is highlighted in the May/June issue of Michigan History magazine.

Created in 1933 by President Franklin Roosevelt to put unemployed men to work and to restore and improve the nation's natural resources, the CCC's popularity in Michigan peaked in 1935 when nearly 17,000 men worked in 103 camps across the state.

Members of the corps have been credited with planting 494 million trees; planting 156 million fish; constructing 304 bridges, 222 buildings and 7,800 miles of track trails; and spending 140,000 workdays fighting Michigan forest fires. They also built campgrounds, created marshland for waterfowl, helped control tree and shrub diseases, built dams, established fish hatcheries and conducted numerous animal and wildlife studies.

Today's Michigan travelers would experience a much different "water wonderland" had it not been for the efforts of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The Michigan Departments of State and Natural Resources will honor the efforts of these men by dedicating Michigan's new CCC Museum at North Higgins Lake State Park on June 7.

Kiwanis Club Sponsors Area Prayer Breakfast

Unless pollution is curbed, 25 percent of the world's usable water will be unusable by the year 2000, says International Wildlife magazine.

The Kiwanis club of Chelsea will join clubs in the United States, Canada, and the Philippines in recognizing World-wide Kiwanis Prayer Week.

The non-denominational observance is designed to promote religious activities throughout the community, strengthening the moral and spiritual fiber of the area.

In making the announcement of World-wide Kiwanis Prayer Week, John Mitchell, president of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, said that it is Kiwanis' own answer to man's eternal quest for peace: international acknowledgment of the presence of a Being superior to man as a long step toward accomplishing that peace which the world needs and wants.

Locally, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea will recognize the world-wide observance by a prayer breakfast at the Chelsea Community Hospital, at 8 a.m., Saturday, June 14.

Concerned about your Community and your schools?

ROGER KATAKOWSKI
for School Board
June 9th

A weakened school system hurts the total community from the kindergarten to the senior citizen. A continued strong school system would be a positive message to new industries seeking to locate in Chelsea. Let's keep our schools competitive and progressive. Today we need to find new ways to finance our schools.

This problem must be addressed in the Legislature. We cannot allow our community to weaken its standards. The millage request is our only alternative at this time.

Please consider my candidacy. Thank you, Roger Katakowski
