Village, Chelsea Milling Pledge $50,000 for Courthouse Renovation

The campaign to raise local money for the restoration of Chelsea's 14-A District Courthouse is within $5,000 of its $135,000 goal with the pledge of $35,000 from the Village of Chelsea and $15,000 from Chelsea Milling Co.

Village council voted 5-1 last Tuesday to pledge $35,000 to the $135,000 project, to be paid in seven yearly installments of $5,000 each. Trustee Richard Steele cast the only dissenting vote, saying "sorry, can't go that high."

Also, last Thursday the Historic Chelsea District Courthouse group received a letter from Chelsea Milling Co. President Howard Holman, pledging $15,000 to the project, according to local attorney Diane Newman, a member of the preservation group.

"Peter (Flintoff) is confident we'll be able to get the remaining $5,000," Newman said. Flintoff is chairman of the courthouse preservation group.

Washtenaw county promised to renovate the courthouse so that it could be used as a full-service court providing private concerns could raise $135,000 to restore the building to its original condition.

The building was the original office of the Chelsea State Bank. Built in 1901, it has a huge dome and is full of ornate wood and marble, much of which has been covered over by various modernization projects.

Flintoff told the council Tuesday that the county would go ahead with the final architectural drawings for the project once 50 percent of the local share had been collected.

Before Tuesday night, Flintoff's group had raised $80,000, most of it coming from a $15,000 pledge from the Herrick Foundation of Tecumseh, and $30,000 in pledges from the surrounding townships.

Flintoff told the village council before the vote that "a local concern," which turned out to be Chelsea Milling Co., was "willing to close the gap," if the village pledged the $20,000.

Flintoff also told the council that the village would save a minimum of $3,000 annually in police travel costs by having a full-service court here. He said Chelsea police travel to Berlin to an estimated 12 jury trials and 130 non-jury trials per year, at 35 cents per mile for the 40-mile round-trip.

Flintoff said the $2,000 was probably "a conservative estimate," because it did not take into consideration over-time wages paid to officers for their extra time in court.

The village's resolution to pledge the money also included an instruction to Flintoff to try to extend the existing reverter clause, which expires in 1991. The clause, which was included in Chelsea State Bank's agreement with the county when it donated the building in 1968, says that the county will turn the courthouse back to the village should the 14th District Courthouse vacate the building.

The village's payments would not begin until the project has been completed, Flintoff said. That prompted trustee Phil Bohm to suggest that the entire $35,000 be budgeted next year and placed in escrow in an interest-bearing account.

Bohm also asked Flintoff who would be responsible for any inflationary increases in the cost of construction. Flintoff said that while he had no guarantee, he has been told by the county that the local share would not be raised from $135,000.

"It hasn't happened yet," Flintoff said, referring to the fact that the project was originally estimated at $80,000 but has since ballooned to $135,000.

District Court Administrator James Hartman said that no arrangements have been made concerning the court's relocation once the restoration work begins.

Berm for Sewer Plant Forces Village To Buy Additional Three Acres

Village of Chelsea has been forced to buy three additional acres of land for the new $3.3 million sewer treatment plant due to the landowner's demand for a berm between the plant and the village's beach.

The village council voted, with one abstention, at their regular meeting last Tuesday, to enter a sales agreement with Henry and Martin Merkel for a total of 8.3 acres of land adjacent to the current plant off McKinley St. Total sales price was $39,800, village officials reported at the meeting.

The original verbal agreement, arranged by trustee Joe Merkel (Merkel abstained in the voting due to a conflict of interest), called for the sale of slightly less than six acres of land at $35,000. However, when it got down to the actual terms of the sale, the Merkels also wanted a 20-foot berm between the sewer plant and the beach. That would have required an additional six acres of land due to the berm's slope and its required setback from the plant itself, said Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner. It would also have required shipping in hundreds of yards of fill dirt to create the berm, he said. In addition, he said a 12-foot berm would have been difficult to maintain.

However, the village and the Merkels eventually reached a compromise on a 3-to-4-foot berm, with 3-to-6-foot pine trees planted on top, Fahrner told the council. The compromise cut the additional land requirement in half.

The village will have choice in the type of trees planted. Plans for the new plant, which are being reviewed by the Department of Natural Resources, utilize the old plant in the design. At this point it would have been both costly and time consuming to relocate the plant, which would have been the only alternative.

"We took a look at some other sewer plants and no one had a berm 12 feet high," Fahrner said. "This should give us the opportunity to do some nice landscaping and create a good buffer."

The shorter berm can also be built from dirt that will be excavated from the plant site, Fahrner said. The berm will be placed on the south and east sides of the plant and will be approximately 870 feet long, Fahrner said.

The three acres will be composed of a band of land 870 feet long.

The cost of the land will be covered by the 55 percent Environmental Protection Agency grant secured for the $2.9 million plant project, Fahrner said.

School Vocal Depts. To Present Concert

The fall concert of Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school vocal departments titled "We're On Top" will be presented Monday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Frisling Auditorium.

A special feature of this concert is the participation of the Milan High School Choir under the direction of Robert Cudric. The Milan Choir will perform a section of their own music, along with the Chelsea High School Concert Choir, the Contemporary (girls select group), and the Silhouettes (boys select group), for two massed selections "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel" and "Ships."

Each group in the vocal area of the high school and Beach school will be doing a few numbers. The Beach School Choir will perform a special number titled "Love Is A Song" which will feature senior Tucker Lee on the trumpet as an instrumental accompaniment feature, as well as "This Little Light of Mine" and "Good Friend."

Both the Contemporaries and the Silhouettes (last year called Modern-Guys) will sing a separate group of songs as well as a combined presentation of "Rhythm of Life." The Contemporaries will be singing a setting of the Robert Frost poem "The Pasture," as well as other lighter music. The Silhouettes, a quartet this year of Tucker Lee, Dave Toner, Dale Cole, and Norman Weber will do several spirituals, some barbershop selections as well as their theme song "Silhouettes."

The Concert Choir will perform the title song of the concert "We're On Top," as well as the Thelma Kirt "Alleluia," "Moving On," and "A Different Light." All Chelsea groups will sing together the song made popular by Whitney Houston "Greatest Love of All."

Cookies and punch will be served in the cafeteria following the concert.

The Chelsea Community is invited to attend the concert, support the choir program, and help host the appearance of the guest choir from Milan.

Chelsea vocal choirs are under the direction of June Warren.

Nine Flags Stolen Since End of May

Nine American flags and one British flag have been stolen from Chelsea residences and businesses since the end of May, according to Chelsea police records.

So far, police have no solid leads in the series of thefts, said Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall.

"It's probably a group of people," McDougall said.

Kornexl Appointed Chelsea Police Sergeant

Frank Kornexl, Jr. has been appointed sergeant of the Chelsea Police Department, effective Oct. 19.

Final approval was given by the Chelsea Village Council at their regular meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Kornexl, in effect, fills a position that has been open since Lenard McDougall was promoted from sergeant to chief more than two years ago.

Kornexl, who's been a full-time officer with the force for three years, but has worked for the department for five years, beginning as a dispatcher, had to take a test, along with three other applicants, supplied by the Michigan Municipal League. He also was given an oral exam by a board consisting of Lt. Paul Buntin of the Ann Arbor Police Department, Chief Bill Zsenyuk of the Milan Police Department, and Douglas Swix, commander of the Ypsilanti post of the Michigan State Police, according to McDougall.

McDougall said he also recommended Kornexl for the position. Kornexl, who will not be a member of the police union, will be in charge of scheduling, filling in for McDougall, and supervising the other officers, McDougall said.

Halloween Party Scheduled After Trick or Treat Oct. 31

Despite what you may have heard, Chelsea will celebrate Halloween on Friday, Oct. 31 in its traditional way.

Community "Trick or Treat" hours will be from 4-6 p.m.

After children collect their candy and treats, Chelsea Kiwanis Club will host its annual party in the Municipal Parking Lot beginning at 6 p.m. sharp.

The first event will be costume judging in the six age categories.

Following the judging will be the annual parade. The route starts from the Municipal Lot and moves from E. Middle to Main St., Main St. south to Park St., Park St. east to East St. and East St. back into the parking lot.

After the parade, prizes will be awarded and cider and doughnuts will be available free to the participants.

Costume age brackets are 3-and-under, 4-5 years, 6-7 years, 8-9 years, 10-11 years, and 12-and-over. Costumes will be judged for either "best looking," or "most original," with first, second and third prizes awarded in each area.

If there is a home football game that night (that will be decided either this week or next), Will Susan, chairman of the Halloween party, said the festivities should be completed at least half an hour before kick-off.

United Way Campaign in Second Week

In the first two weeks of the campaign, the Chelsea United Way residential division has reached 60% of its goal. "It is very gratifying and pleasing to see people responding so well," stated Dave Prohaska, campaign chair.

The industrial and hospital divisions are also in the midst of conducting their drives but the results will not be known until the end of the month.

According to Lang Ramsay, president of the Chelsea United Way, 97 cents of every dollar donated goes to fund agency programs. The remaining three cents pays for postage, printing and collection costs. Lang explained that this is possible because "unlike other United Ways, the Chelsea organization uses volunteers to conduct the campaign and administer the program." He continued, "This makes us more efficient and we are proud of our results."

The money raised goes to several local member agencies and to state and national organizations such as the Salvation Army, Cystic Fibrosis, Washtenaw Retarded Citizens, Huron Valley Child Guidance and Hospice of Washtenaw, Inc.

Chelsea residents who work outside of the community may designate donations made through employer-sponsored United Way drives go to Chelsea by indicating this on the donor card. They should also include the Chelsea United Way address: P.O. Box 176, Chelsea 48118.

CHS senior class was over-all in the inter-class rivalry contests such as dress-up days, tug-of-war, tricycle races, and Volkswagen stunts.

Senior candidate Sandy Samling was crowned the new homecoming queen by Marjorie Peterson, 1981 queen, at half-time of the Chelsea-Dexter football game (CHS-36, DHS-8). Other members of the homecoming court were Venus Roberts, Shelley Wheaton, Sue Young, Tami Schanz, Tonya Yost, Cindy Kvarnberg and Chandy Elard.

Huron River Watershed Council has scheduled a lecture and discussion session at the Dexter Township Hall. The meeting was called to provide area residents with a better understanding of water quality in the lakes area as well as the over-all concerns of preserving that quality.

A team of 18 educators, headed by Don Geiger who is principal of Adrian High school, will visit Chelsea High school Nov. 30-Dec. 2 to make an evaluation under the auspices of the North Central Association. CHS has been accredited by NCA since 1980.

Drugs (cocaine, morphine and valium) with an estimated value of $800—which translates to at least three times that amount when sold "on the street"—were stolen from the Chelsea Medical Center pharmacy Oct. 3. Chelsea police chief Robert F. Axillo said the theft was discovered by a hospital security officer, Hubert Heard, who found the pharmacy door pried open.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Governor Says Funds Are Insufficient To Aid Farmers
 Governor James Blanchard recently announced he has determined that existing federal and state disaster assistance is insufficient to meet the economic and human tragedy due to heavy rains and flooding.

He noted the damage is so severe and so widespread that existing federal and state programs cannot meet the needs of the hard-hit farming community.

Crop losses continue to rise from a previously established loss figure of $240 million, the governor reported.

A recent Michigan State University study reported that 22 percent of farmers in the flood-stricken counties could be forced out of farming because of the disaster.

Blanchard directed Treasurer Robert Bowman and Agriculture Director Paul Kindinger to work with local officials, the Michigan Farm Bureau, rural banks and others to develop new state disaster help.

He also has asked U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng to examine all available alternatives to help Michigan farmers during this emergency. He has asked the Michigan congressional delegation to press for federal legislation to assist Michigan farmers and has directed all other state department directors to redouble their efforts to make sure all possible emergency assistance is being provided to flood victims.

In a related matter, Senate and House Republican leaders called upon the Michigan Agriculture Commission to establish a two-part plan designed to aid farmers facing critical financial problems.

Senate Majority Leader John Engler, R-Mt. Pleasant, and House Assistant Minority leader Gary Randall, R-Elwell, said they are seeking immediate relief for farmers whose crops have been ravaged by the recent flooding and the development of a long-range program to assist financially troubled farm families.

Engler and Randall noted they are urging the commission to direct Kindinger and his staff to explore the possibility of establishing a farm work force project.

"We want to determine what options may be available to hire farmers to work on state projects as a means of providing them with jobs during the winter months," they said, adding that they would like to have a report presented to the Legislature when it reconvenes in November.

A second part of the Farm Aid for Rural Michigan (FARM) plan would be to establish an agriculture credit task force to make legislative recommendations to assist the agricultural community over the long term.

Randall said there is no "quick fix" for lingering farm financing problems and a goal of the plan is to develop a wide range of options to assist farmers as they approach the 1987 crop season.

Engler said as Senate majority leader, he would be naming members of the credit task force within the next few days.

He suggested recommendations of the group, to be comprised of production farmers and representatives from farm co-operatives, financial institutions and the Federal Production Credit Association, also be ready when the Legislature reconvenes in November.

Water Quality Rules Would Cost

Ches 500-600 Millions

Pending rules setting new standards for surface water quality could cost municipalities an estimated $500-600 million to upgrade their waste treatment facilities, the Department of Natural Resources reported.

Paul Zagger, chief of the DNR's Surface Water Quality Division, said these costs are the improvements required to meet dissolved oxygen limits in addition to the $6.7 billion need for municipal waste systems to meet existing water quality standards over a period of several years.

And, at the first of two hearings by the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, he said most of the estimated costs will not be required until after comprehensive plans are completed establishing total discharges in various river basins.

The rules focus on the impact on water quality of over-all discharges of waste, rather than setting specific limits for each discharge source.

Zagger said the additional expenditures would not be required if other cost effective solutions are found to meet the quality standards.

He noted other Great Lakes states have already imposed similar minimum standards, and said, "It is important to Michigan fishermen that our waters meet these minimum standards."

Baton Corps Members Compete in Temperance

At the Temperance TU (Twirling Unlimited) open baton contest on Saturday, Oct. 11, Chelsea Baton Corps pulled 14 first-place awards and 24 place awards in various baton related events. Thirteen corps members competed.

Drum majorette, Chrissy Dunlap (13), led the trophy list with a first place in every event she entered. She took the best appearing intermediate fancy strut, intermediate solo, and two-baton categories.

Newcomer to competition, Heather Hamilton (12), became the 35th corps member to win the basic (twirl) solo, enabling her to vie for the camp scholarship for two years. Heather also placed second in both basic and military struts.

Another new competitor, Angela White (5), sister of veteran winner, Kori White, took the military strut category and placed second in basic strut, special beginner solo and instate solo. Sister Kori (9), won the advanced solo, took second in advanced instate solo and placed fourth in intermediate fancy strut.

Tiffany Scott (8), took beginner fancy strut and placed second in modelling. She captured third place rosettes in basic and military strut and in beginner instate solo.

Feature twirler, Laurie Honbaum (13), captured the beginner strut trophy and placed third in intermediate solo, while Yvonne Scaggs (11), took beginner military and placed third in instate beginner solo.

Kate Steele (19), continued her "no drop" routine and captured first in beginner instate. She placed fourth in beginner basic strut.

Boys national and world champ, Winston Howard (6), continued his wins by taking the military strut and instate solo divisions. He also placed second in boys solo, advanced solo, and flag, and in best appearing was third.

Other corps members placing were: Amy Feldkamp (11), special beginner (3) and beginner basic (3); Linda Schaffer (11), model (3), beginner solo and instate solo (2); and Whitney Hampton (9), beginner solo (5). Scoring high but not placing was Melony Owens.

The next competition for the corps will be the NETA State Championships in Grand Rapids on Oct. 25.

Washtenaw Administrator Named Vice-Chair of NACo Committee

David G. Hunscher, administrator for Washtenaw County, has been named vice-chair of the National Association of Counties (NACo) prestigious Taxation and Finance Steering Committee by NACo president John Horsley from Kitsap county, Wash.

Hunscher has served on the Taxation and Finance Committee for 10 years, serving the last five years as vice-chair. The committee has been instrumental in developing the platform and policies of NACo including those concerning General Revenue Sharing and Industrial Revenue Bonds.

NACo's 12 steering committees form the policy making arm of county government. Each committee is composed of approximately 40 county officials who meet during the year to examine issues critical to local government.

In addition to their recommendations on county legislative goals presentation to the nation's county officials at NACo's annual conference, they also testify before Congress to the impact of legislative changes on the financial issues of local governments such as counties.

Founded in 1935, the National Association of Counties works to improve county government, to act as a national spokesman for counties, to serve as a liaison between counties and other levels of government, and to achieve a public understanding of the role of counties in the federal system.

With headquarters in Washington, D.C., the Association has more than 3,000 member counties representing 42,000 elected and appointed county officials.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

It is unlikely that the Soviets would ever risk a direct attack on the United States as long as they can safely gobble up free nations through subversion, revolution or selective military exploits. This will hold true for the U.S. as long as we can match or exceed Soviet power in space age weaponry.

U.S. News & World Report, in its golden anniversary predictions of the next 50 years, pointed to international flash points where conflicts could draw the U.S., the Soviet Union, or both into war.

The Chinese Soviet border, 4,600 miles long, with a history of recurrent violence between the two huge neighbors.

Eastern Europe, now under Soviet rule, could erupt into liberation wars involving Western Europe, the U.S. and other NATO allies.

Southern Africa, suppression of black populations by white governments can lead to intervention of either or both of the super-powers.

The embattled Mid East, filled with hatred, wealth and poverty, is loaded with Communist attractions that clash with U.S. interests.

The Korean Peninsula can erupt into renewed war between Communists in the north and free Korea in the south. At stake is the anti-Communist security system of free Asia, supported by the U.S.

Mexico, a population bomb adjoining our southern border, that could be detonated by a Marxist government.

These six flash points are the ones perceived in the 1980's but the Communist goal of total world rule holds the prospect of endless Soviet conquests until the free world wakes up and stops them.

TOMORROW'S MILITARY WEAPONS

Prospective new weapons are menacing in their sophistication, imagination and savagery. Many will deploy in outer space.

Ballistic missiles, firing multiple warheads intended for targets thousands of miles away, will be phased out because of vulnerability to "star wars" destruction in space. In place of nukes will be gravity-collapse beams that can turn cities or other targets into vast black holes devoid of life. Other targets will be turned to ashes by directed energy weapons with the death rays of science fiction.

Also predicted are electromagnetic shells fired at the speed of light, and homing missiles that can seek and destroy distant targets.

We already have stealth military planes that can evade radar. Next will come mirages for battlefield deception, creating realistic images of non-existent fleets of ships and battalions of tanks.

Military commanders will have the entire planet laid bare by computerized surveillance observing, among other things, the deployment of submarines as though the water were transparent.

High tech wars will impose unbearable strains on the human body and spirit so the genetic scientists will strive to breed warriors immunized to stress who can fight for weeks without sleep.

At this point let us turn from these puzzles of irresistible weapons colliding in mid-space with impenetrable defenses. Again, let's assume that for the next 50 years neither the U.S. nor the Soviets will dare attack the other. We must constantly remind ourselves, however, that the Soviet Union is out to conquer the world. That specifically includes the United States. Krushchev vowed, "We will bury you." He was right. The Soviets, they would someday bury the American Capitol. They meant it when they said it and they mean it now.

Since coming to power in 1919 the Soviets have enslaved a large part of the world through the evil juxtaposition of two wars: the military war with soldiers, sailors and airmen, and the political war with lies, deceit and subversion, plus seduction, betrayal, starvation, torture and wholesale murder.

If this list of political crimes seems to be an over-dramatization, I beg you to read "Famine Aid: Were We Duped?", the lead article in this month's issue of Reader's Digest. It is the documented truth how $100 million worth of food intended to save starving Ethiopians was used by Communist commanders to rob, kidnap and murder the very beneficiaries of the charity.

In almost half the countries of the world, people have per capita incomes of less than $1,000 a year. In Col. Gaddafi's Libya it is $40, in Chad $73 and Lebanon $75.

Such Third World nations are the natural targets of Marxism. Impoverished workers on farms and in factories hear the siren cry of the Communist Manifesto, "Workers of the world, arise! You have nothing to lose but your chains!"

Ignorant, gullible peasants and laborers have joined the revolutions against their governments. They have done this only to discover that their new masters are Communists who strip them of their freedom and every shred of human dignity.

The people of America and other free nations should not turn their backs and pretend they are unaware of the rape of their sister nations. We must apply our own brand of political warfare to the Soviets on their own soil and to victims in every land where Communism has taken the place of liberty.

In their propaganda tactics the Soviets have always relied on lies and deceit. We have a far more powerful weapon and that is the truth. The Communists have profited from land reform, labor reform and the glories of a proletarian government. By now the whole world knows what they have delivered and that is treachery. Knowing this, the Afghans, with an annual per capita income of $168, have fought valiantly for five years against the Red army. Frustrated, the Reds are shipping plane-loads of Afghan children to Russia for brainwashing and Communist education. Years from now they will be repatriated to their homeland as traitors.

Victories over school children will not prevail for the Soviets. Neither will other vile tricks against humanity if we—the most skilled propagandists alive—will only wake up and get going.

The Soviet press is filled and refilled with pictures of drunk winos in Chicago and ghettos of Detroit contrasted with stock brokers arriving at Wall Street in limosines. Let us send Russian citizens and Soviet slaves tens of millions of American mail order catalogs, complete with prices, printed in all Russian languages as well as Polish, Latvian, German, Bulgarian, Ethiopian and the tongues of Asia.

Let us print the bill of Rights in native languages. Let us help these people overcome the Communist blackout of information by smuggling in millions of mimeograph machines, printing presses, ink and paper.

Let us supply them with a steady stream of world news, even more explicit than Radio Free Europe, about crimes being bred in the Kremlin.

A political war against the Communist world would be dirt cheap compared to the penalties we are paying for political negligence.

No nation that has fallen into Communist hands has ever regained its freedom. Starting now, let's reverse these takeovers in the next 50 years and let freedom ring.

THE STUDENT SECTION was loud and rowdy, as it should be, in Dexter last Friday night, as the Bulldogs whalloped the Dreadnaughts, 21-8, to spoil Dexter's homecoming. There were chants of "S-E-C" as the Bulldogs clinched at least a tie for the conference championship.

Nine Flags Stolen in Chelsea

"But we have nothing that could tie them all together like fingerprints. We're still investigating."

From what police can tell, all the thefts have occurred at night.

The rash of thefts began on May 27, when an American flag was taken from the Kenneth Barner residence at 130 Grant St.

There were no thefts in June, but activity picked up in July.

On July 5, an American and British flag were taken from the Al Schauer residence, 634 Taylor St.

On July 7 or 8, an American flag was taken from the James Sterling residence, 512 Lane St.

On July 15, an American flag was reported missing from the Charles Matloff residence, 634 Flanders St.

Between July 18-21 an American flag was taken from the Jerold Beaumont residence, 335 Washington St.

On July 21 another flag was taken from Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel, 214 W. Middle St.

On Aug. 23, a flag donated by the VFW Auxiliary to Veteran's Park was reported stolen.

On Sept. 8, a Palace Ford's huge flag in the used car lot on the south end of town was stolen.

That flag had a value of nearly $1,000.

In the latest theft, a flag was stolen from Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home sometime in the two weeks before Sept. 25.

McDougall said his department is offering a reward for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves.

McDougall said that three teenagers from Hillsdale who were recently caught stealing flags in the Jackson area, have not been tied to the Chelsea crimes.

This Week's Thought

from

Donald A. Cole

Your Chelsea Funeral Home with the "HOME" like atmosphere

Inspirational writing is plentiful pertaining to "yesterday, today and tomorrow" . . . Read this classic example—

"LISTEN TO THE EXHORTATION OF THE DAWN! . . . LOOK TO THIS DAY, FOR IT IS LIFE — THE VERY LIFE OF LIFE! . . . IN ITS BRIEF COURSE LIE ALL THE VERITIES AND REALITIES OF YOUR EXISTENCE: THE BLISS OF GROWTH, THE GLORY OF ACTION, THE SPLENDOR OF BEAUTY, FOR YESTERDAY IS BUT A DREAM, AND TOMORROW IS ONLY A VISION; BUT TODAY WELL LIVED MAKES EVERY YESTERDAY A DREAM OF HAPPINESS, AND EVERY TOMORROW A VISION OF HOPE . . . LOOK WELL, THEREFORE, TO THIS DAY! SUCH IS THE SALUTATION OF THE DAWN."

An unknown author wrote those words. Don't you agree his words rank high in the flow of all the beautiful words written about "yesterday, today and tomorrow"? . . .

They're out for blood.

At first, it was only once a week. Then three times. Now they're out for blood every night. And they're not alone. They're just two of the thousands of people all over the country who are finally coming to do something about the disease that kills almost 30,000 Americans every year—and afflicts another 38 million. It's high blood pressure. And once you know you've got it, you can usually control it. By following your doctor's advice: an exercise, weight control, salt intake, and medication. ## Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Regarding the latest article on the Domino's Pizza franchise coming into this community I think we have an adequate supply of pizza in this community and we don't need someone like Mr. Belknap's business here.

When the first article came out on this story, there were many untrue statements in it, like Ralph Fletcher was getting out of his mechanic business, which was the first thing he knew of it. Then because of some pressure Mr. Belknap backed off a little and said he was no longer interested in the property. Now he has purchased it, which he had intended all along. He has offered Fletcher a one-year lease and raised his rent to help him out and the same to the resident in the house adjoining the property, in which she had a life-time lease supposedly. I wonder how much pizza dough our city officials got for helping Mr. Belknap have the zoning changed on the property so Mr. Belknap could put his Domino's franchise in.

I hope the community has more respect for one of the oldest businesses in this community and for the residents than they do for someone like Mr. Belknap and his business. I think he should take his Domino's Pizza and stick it where the sun don't shine and go back to Ann Arbor where he belongs!

Last Innocent Space Mission To Be Subject

"Space Shuttle 61-C: The Last Innocent Mission" will be the subject of the 16th AstroFest presentation at the University of Michigan. Shakes and a film narrated by the astronauts will tell the story of the last Shuttle flight before the Challenger disaster.

The free public program is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 17, in Auditorium 3, Modern Languages Building.

Jim London, AstroFest director and staff astronomer at the U-M Exhibit Museum, points out that the launch of mission 61-C was delayed seven times, twice for problems that could have been fatal, but were detected in time.

NASA's willingness to delay the launch of the earlier shuttle mission demonstrates that "The Challenger disaster was not simply a matter of their insistence on flying on schedule no matter what," according to London. "The full story is more complicated than that."

AstroFest is sponsored by the U-M's Exhibit Museum of Natural History and Department of Aerospace Engineering.

There may be a giant octopus, 100 feet or more across, lurking in the deep waters off Bermuda, reports International Wildlife magazine. Scientists believe that a Bermuda fisherman attracted a huge predator when he began using special traps to catch foot-long shrimp and two-foot crabs. Damage inflicted upon these traps have led scientists to believe that it may be the work of a giant octopus. Jaws beware!

To the good people of Chelsea

Last week while on a business trip I had car trouble while going through Chelsea. Lucky for me I pulled into Faist Morrow Buick-Olds-Chevy. I explained I was already on a tight schedule for a 2:00 meeting in Saline and could they please help me.

Bill Morrow and his people went beyond the normal call of duty to get me back on the road and to my meeting on time.

What an opportunity to make a buck... a guy from out of town... car problems... and what the heck, we'll never see him again.

I found out that's not the way Bill Morrow does business. If you read this, and live in the Chelsea area and are going to buy a new car or truck sometime, please give the people at Faist Morrow Buick a try. They'll take care of you. And when I travel through Chelsea in the future I'll have good thoughts, because I know good folks live there... like Bill Morrow.

CUB SCOUTS PACK 455

DEN 1—

Cub Scouts in Den 1 have been very busy this fall. First we spruced up our den for the season. We participated in the five-mile hike on the Putawatim trail. Our Scouts recognized trees and shrubs from their leaves since they all have made leaf collections.

In mid-September we began our study of weather observation. We made weather vanes and wind meters. To finish our study we toured the Reynold's Municipal Airport and control tower in Jackson.

For our fun day off, we went to play miniature golf. Greg Rickard, Ryan Ludwig and Ben O'Connor have served as denners. The position of denner serves to teach the Cub responsibility and leadership in his peer group.

DEN 4—

September was a very busy month for Den 4. The Cubs learned about electricity and the weather. We built magnets, wired up a working doorbell and even made a working crystal radio.

After the September Pack Meeting we had three new boys in our Den. Arvon Riley and Brian Brooks are working on the Bear Rank and Clifford Gerber has made Bobcat.

We are now studying the moon's effects on us. We have been monitoring the temperature, made wind gauges and rain gauges. An experiment with different types of soil (clay, gravel and sand) helped the boys to understand soil erosion and how flooding occurs.

We will be performing a skit for the October Pack meeting entitled "Don't Blink!"

SO THIS IS WHAT YOU DO ALL DAY LONG. Marlene Lester takes a look at artwork by students in daughter JM's kindergarten class at North school. The occasion was the usual open house for parents and friends last Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Chelsea Faces Potential Mess Over Disposal of Transformer

Village of Chelsea could be forced to pay for a costly chemical leak or could find itself in an expensive law suit over the matter all because it disposed of a contaminated electrical transformer according to strict Environmental Protection Agency guidelines nearly a year ago.

Village manager Fritz Weber advised the village council of the matter at the council's regular meeting last Tuesday, Oct. 7.

According to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner, the village sent a transformer contaminated with polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB) to Martha C. Rose Chemicals in Kansas City, Mo., a company approved by the EPA to handle toxic wastes. Fahrner said that Public Works Supervisor Bud Hafner called for references, "and basically did everything he could," before shipping the transformer.

However, Weber said he was informed that contaminated oil from hundreds of thousands of transformers shipped to Martha C. Rose from all over the country has leaked out of a holding tank, causing a mess, "that has to be cleaned up."

In addition, Weber told the council that Martha C. Rose is bankrupt and cannot pay for the clean-up. And that puts the village in a precarious spot, he said.

Weber said that under federal law, whoever generates a toxic waste is responsible for it, "from the cradle to the grave." In other words, even though the village followed EPA guidelines for the disposal of the contaminated transformer, the village is responsible for its share of the polluted oil forever, no matter who handles it.

Also, Weber told the council that liability law could force the village to clean up the entire mess if everyone else who shipped a contaminated transformer to Martha C. Rose is bankrupt. "It absolutely amazes me that the system works this way," Fahrner said.

"We could be forced to pay because the EPA didn't inspect Martha C. Rose Chemicals sufficiently to make sure they were doing their job."

The village has been contacted by Varnum, Riddering, Schmidt & Howlett, a Grand Rapids law firm that is representing another Michigan municipality in the matter, Weber said. The council voted to allow Weber to use the firm at his discretion to handle the potential problem.

"We don't intend to do anything unless we're forced to," Weber said.

Weber said he wanted to work with the law firm on the basis that "they won't do anything unless we tell them to."

The transformer was taken from the Chelsea United

Stockbridge Youth Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Anthony F. Pratto, son of Jean E. Foley of 4633 Parmen, Stockbridge, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Pratto's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 86 basic fields.

Pratto's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene. He is a 1986 graduate of Stockbridge High School.

Methodist Retirement Home during re-modeling last year, Hafner said.

"There were transformers at Martha C. Rose from companies all over the country, apparently thousands of them," Hafner said.

"They have no proof that ours was one of them that leaked. They haven't even produced a manifest to show it even got there."

In the event that any more contaminated transformers turn up, Fahrner said, "we'll all take a real close look at the situation."

In a related issue, the village has contracted with T & R Electric Co. of Colman, S. D., to remove contaminated oil from 15 other transformers in Chelsea and re-fill them with PCB-free oil, Hafner said. Those transformers, contaminated with between 50 and 500 parts per million, are significantly less contaminated than the one that was sent to Missouri, which had 56,000 parts per million, Hafner said.

How many of these active, busy people have recovered from mental illness?

Most of the time, You just can't tell!

We are usually surprised to learn that one in four American families is affected by mental illness, because so many have recovered.

Mental illnesses are often temporary. An individual may have an episode of illness lasting weeks or months and then may function as well as anyone else in the neighborhood or workplace.

When someone you know is having an episode of mental illness, help them, encourage them, support them. You can make a difference.

To understand someone who has been mentally ill, do the same things you would do with anyone else. Spend time with them, talk to them, and get to know them as they are. Sometimes when it is necessary, family or friends can help. But most people with mental illness can live a normal, productive life.

Teen-Ager Diet Can Affect Dental Health

This is the second in a series of articles on health care tips for the entire family developed in co-operation with the Washtenaw District Dental Hygienists Society in observance of National Dental Hygiene Week Oct. 5-11.

The Teen-Ager's Diet and Dental Health

Teeth need special attention during the teen years. Good nutrition and preventive care are particularly important to maintaining oral health and preserving teeth.

Most teen-agers frequently indulge in snacks and fast foods, eating habits that are harmful to their dental health.

When evaluating a teen-ager's diet, three factors are important to dental health: the amount of sugars and starches in the foods eaten regularly; the frequency with which such foods are eaten; and the physical form of the food. For example, some foods are nutritious but are bad for the teeth because they are sticky and prolong the time the teeth come in contact with potentially decay causing substances.

Tooth decay is caused by plaque, a sticky, colorless bacterial film that constantly forms on teeth. When you eat sugar or sugary foods, the bacteria in the plaque produce acid that attacks the tooth enamel (the protective outer surface of teeth) and causes cavities. Teen-agers who snack frequently are exposing their teeth to decay-causing acids during most of their waking hours.

If teen-agers learn to properly care for their teeth, tooth decay can be prevented. The Washtenaw District Dental Hygienists Society offers these dental health car tips for teen-agers:

—Brush and floss thoroughly at least once a day; or, more often if your dental hygienist recommends it.

—Eat well-balanced meals, cut down on sugary junk foods and limit snacks.

—Use fluoride toothpaste and mouthrinse.

—Visit your dental hygienist and dentist on a regular basis.

Chelsea Faces Potential Mess Over Disposal of Transformer

Village of Chelsea could be forced to pay for a costly chemical leak or could find itself in an expensive law suit over the matter all because it disposed of a contaminated electrical transformer according to strict Environmental Protection Agency guidelines nearly a year ago.

Village manager Fritz Weber advised the village council of the matter at the council's regular meeting last Tuesday, Oct. 7.

According to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner, the village sent a transformer contaminated with polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB) to Martha C. Rose Chemicals in Kansas City, Mo., a company approved by the EPA to handle toxic wastes. Fahrner said that Public Works Supervisor Bud Hafner called for references, "and basically did everything he could," before shipping the transformer.

However, Weber said he was informed that contaminated oil from hundreds or thousands of transformers shipped to Martha C. Rose from all over the country has leaked out of a leaking tank, causing a mess, "that has to be cleaned up."

In addition, Weber told the council that Martha C. Rose is bankrupt and cannot pay for the clean-up. And that puts the village in a precarious spot, he said.

Weber said that under federal law, whoever generates a toxic waste is responsible for it, "from the cradle to the grave." In other words, even though the village followed EPA guidelines for the disposal of the contaminated transformer, the village is responsible for its share of the polluted oil forever, no matter who handles it.

Also, Weber told the council that liability law could force the village to clean up the entire mess if everyone else who shipped a contaminated transformer to Martha C. Rose is bankrupt.

"It absolutely amazes me that the system works this way," Fahrner said.

"We could be forced to pay because the EPA didn't inspect (Martha C. Rose Chemicals) sufficiently to make sure they were doing their job."

The village has been contacted by Varnum, Riddering, Schmidt & Howlett, a Grand Rapids law firm that is:

Teen-Ager Diet Affect Dental Health

This is the second in a series of articles on youth care tips for the entire family, developed in co-operation with the Washburn District Dental Hygiene Society in observance of National Dental Hygiene Week, Oct. 3-11.

The Teen-Ager's Diet and Dental Health

Teeth need special attention during the teen years. Good nutrition and preventive care are particularly important to maintaining oral health and preserving teeth.

Most teen-agers frequently indulge in snacks and fast foods, eating habits that are harmful to their dental health.

When evaluating a teen-ager's diet, three factors are important to dental health: the amount of sugars and starches in the foods eaten regularly; the frequency

Chelsea Faces Potential Mess Over Disposal of Transformer

Village of Chelsea could be forced to pay for a costly chemical leak or could find itself in an expensive law suit over the matter all because it disposed of a contaminated electrical transformer according to strict Environmental Protection Agency guidelines nearly a year ago.

Village manager Fritz Weber advised the village council of the matter at the council's regular meeting last Tuesday, Oct. 7.

According to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fabner, the village sent a transformer contaminated with polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB) to Martha C. Rose Chemicals in Kansas City, Mo., a company approved by the EPA to handle toxic wastes. Fabner said that Public Works Supervisor Bud Hafner called for references, "and basically did everything he could," before shipping the transformer.

However, Weber said he was informed that contaminated oil from hundreds of thousands of transformers shipped to Martha C. Rose from all over the country has leaked out of a holding tank, causing a mess, "that has to be cleaned up."

In addition, Weber told the council that Martha C. Rose is bankrupt and cannot pay for the clean-up. And that puts the village in a precarious spot, he said.

Weber said that under federal law, whoever generates a toxic waste is responsible for it, "from the cradle to the grave." In other words, even though the village followed EPA guidelines for the disposal of the contaminated transformer, the village is responsible for its share of the polluted oil forever, no matter who handles it.

Also, Weber told the council that liability law could force the village to clean up the entire mess if everyone else who shipped a contaminated transformer to Martha C. Rose is bankrupt. "It absolutely amazes me that the system works this way," Fabner said.

"We could be forced to pay because the EPA didn't inspect (Martha C. Rose Chemicals) sufficiently to make sure they were doing their job."

The village has been contacted by Varnum, Rodering, Schmidt & Howlett, a Grand Rapids law firm that is

Methodist Retirement Home during re-modeling last year, Hafner said.

"There were transformers at Martha C. Rose from companies all over the country, apparently thousands of them," Hafner said.

"They have no proof that ours was one of them that leaked. They haven't even produced a manifest to show it even got there."

Teen-Ager Die Affect Dental

This is the second in a series of articles on youth care tips for the entire family developed in co-operation with the Washtenaw District Dental Hygiene Society in observance of National Dental Hygiene Week, Oct. 8-11.

The Teen-Ager's Diet and Dental Health

Teeth need special attention during the teen years. Good nutrition and preventive care are particularly important to maintaining oral health and preserving teeth.

Most teenagers frequently indulge in snacks and fast foods, eating habits that are harmful to their dental health.

When evaluating a teen-ager's diet, three factors are important to dental health: the amount of sugars and starches in the foods eaten regularly; the frequency with which teeth are brushed; and the type of brushing. For example, brushing with a toothbrush that has a single bristle head, a stick-like handle, and a single bristle head can cause a stick-like head to get caught in the teeth. A single bristle head can also cause a stick-like head to get caught in the teeth.

If teen-ager care for the can be prevented. Distri. Society offers car tips for: —Brush at least once a your dental mends it. —Eat well down on sug limit snacks. —Use flux mouthrinse. —Visit yr and dentist.

DAR Presents American Flag To Waterloo Historical Society

The 24th annual Pioneer Day at Waterloo Farm Museum was officially launched on Sunday, Oct. 12 in a moving flag presentation ceremony on the Museum grounds.

A 3x5' American flag was presented to president of Waterloo Area Historical Society Meridith Hanna, by Joan Kaywood, regent of the Sarah Treat Prudden chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution of Jackson.

Agnes Dikeman, board of directors member of Waterloo usually presents two or three flags annually.

The chapter has recently begun work on a Braille flag, which will be entirely embroidered. The needlework will be shared by each member of the chapter.

The DAR, organized in 1890, is a patriotic society open to women whose ancestors aided or served the patriots' cause in the American Revolution. Primary goals are to promote patriotism, and conservation programs. The Sarah Treat Prudden chapter has also been active in aid to Indian education, as well as providing scholarships for member's children majoring in history studies at the University of Michigan.

SEC FOOTBALL SCHEDULE
Friday, Oct. 17Tennessee at Chelsea
Vanderbilt at Dexter
Pinebluff at Lincoln
Milledgeville at Milan

Defense Comes to Life As Dogs Whip Dexter For Piece of SEC Title

If you were a Dreadnaught fan, you might have called it the Friday Night Fright.

The Chelsea Bulldogs, displaying a first-up, wicked defense, dominated virtually every aspect of the game as shutting out the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 21-0, before a rather sizeable Dexter homecoming crowd.

With the victory, Chelsea is assured of at least a tie for the Southeastern Conference Championship with either, or both, Tecumseh Indians and Lincoln Railroaders.

Chelsea has no conference games, Lincoln and Tecumseh have two each.

"We played very well defensively," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"We overwhelmed them on defense. And when they got behind early, we made it that much more difficult for them. They have a hard time playing catch-up football."

Chelsea's defensive domination was so complete that the Bulldogs gave up more penalty yardage than they did legitimate yardage. Dexter managed a meager 30 total yards of offense, seven rushing and 23 passing.

The Dreadnaughts didn't get past their own 15-yard line in the second half.

Dexter had four first downs, three of them on penalties.

Kevan Flanagan and Todd Starkey each had an interception.

LaFave cited the play of tackle Les Darnham, linebacker Mike

Taylor and strong safety Matt Beldinger as being the keys to Chelsea's defensive effort.

The offense didn't play too badly either, although much of their 125 yards of penalties were due to illegal procedure, illegal blocks, or an illegal receiver down field. They outgained several drives.

"Offensively, we got the job done," was the way LaFave described it.

The Bulldogs gained 226 total yards, 172 on the ground.

Chelsea played much of the game without Curtis Heard, the SEC's leading rusher, due to illness. However, he did end up leading the team with 69 yards on 12 carries.

Sophomore running back Junior Morrison was Chelsea's big play guy. He scored the first two touchdowns, the first on a screen pass from Starkey down the left side from 25 yards out, and the second on a 28-yard run. He finished the night with 32 yards on 13 carries, the best overall night of his young career.

Starkey, who also rushed for 34 yards on four carries, and tossed another touchdown pass to tight end Marty Poljan in the second half, played "his best game," at quarterback, LaFave said.

"Total made great decisions," LaFave said.

"He seems to be a lot more comfortable at quarterback and he sees how much difference all the little things a quarterback does can make in a game."

The Bulldogs scored in their first possession of the game. A 55-yard drive was capped by the fourth down and five first down run by Starkey and the 23-yard screen-pass play to Morrison.

Larry Nix's kick was perfect. Chelsea didn't score again until their first possession of the second quarter.

The drive began at the Chelsea 42 and moved to the Dexter 30 on a pass to Ron Hickey. Three plays later Morrison scored with 7:44 left in the half.

Chelsea took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 42 yards for the final touchdown. On fourth down and five, Starkey hit Poljan for the score. Again, Nix was perfect with the extra point.

For the first time since the opening game, Nix took a few snaps from center during the game. He completed one pass for 22 yards.

This week's game with the Tecumseh Indians is essentially a championship game for both teams.

If Chelsea wins the game, the Bulldogs win the title outright. If the Indians win, they still have a shot at a tie.

LaFave said the Indians "have more talent than any team in the league," and will be the fastest team the Dogs have seen this year.

And, Tecumseh's defense has been nearly as strong as Chelsea's, LaFave said.

"You can't score three touchdowns on them," LaFave said.

"Our defense will have to play well again."

CUTTING HIS WAY to a good game in night against Dexter, Morrison carried the ball 13 times for 125 yards and scored twice for 52 yards. One of Chelsea's three touchdowns last Friday.

SCOTT FRIESINGER bulls his way for an extra yard during the Bulldogs' 21-0 whitewash of the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday night. Scott had three carries for 12 yards on the night.

Harriers Run Like Champs At Tough Sturgis Invitational

Chelsea girls cross country team finished second in the prestigious Sturgis Invitational last weekend after whipping the Dexter Dreadnaughts in Southeastern Conference action earlier in the week.

In the Sturgis meet, Chelsea finished just four points behind Jackson Lumen Christi, the state's top-ranked class B team.

Chelsea's Kasey Anderson finished third overall in 19:20 as Chelsea had five girls finish in the top 20.

The girls ran one of their best meets of the season, said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Debi Koehn was ailing with a cold and dropped back a bit, but the other four girls ran exceptionally well. Kasey broke her junior record by 26 seconds, and freshman Vicki Bullock looked real good in running a personal best time. Samie Wilson also ran a career best time, as did Alana Dorow. We are in the ball game with top-ranked Lumen Christi, but we must continue to improve."

Behind Anderson for Chelsea were Jennifer Rossi, eighth, 20:06; Wilson, 10th, 20:15; Koehn, 25th, 21:00; Bullock, 29th, 21:10; Dorow, 36th, 21:39; and Laura Torres, 44th, 22:04.

The junior varsity team won the first-place trophy in the JV meet with 30 points, ahead of second-place Lumen Christi with 47 points.

JV finishers were: Wendy Hahn, third, 21:52; Kim Roberts, fifth, 22:08; Anna Muncer, seventh, 22:38; Anne Stephenson, eighth, 22:43; Charity Strong, 10th, 22:56; and Kim Allen, 11th, 23:37.

In the Dexter meet, Chelsea, again led by Anderson, took four of the top five places, and seven of the top 10, for a 20-41 win.

Anderson finished the Hudson Mills course in 28:06, well ahead of Dexter's Mary Burke, who finished second in 30:43.

Chelsea finishers behind Anderson were: Koehn, third, 21:02; Rossi, fourth, 21:14;

Wilson, fifth, 21:39; Bullock, seventh, 22:08; Torres, eighth, 22:08; Mock, ninth, 22:19; Dorow, 11th, 22:51; Hahn, 12th, 22:50; Roberts, 13th, 23:15; Strong, 15th, 23:36; Muncer, 16th, 23:43; Stephenson, 20th, 24:06; Sheila Haab, 21st, 24:07; Allen, 22nd, 24:16; Becca Burkett, 25th, 25:29; and Jennifer Harris, 27th, 26:06.

"We ran a good race but we must find a fifth and sixth runner before regionals," Clarke said. "Chelsea is 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference."

Boy Harriers Look Strong At Competitive Sturgis Meet

Chelsea boys cross country team finished 13th in the Sturgis Invitational last weekend after dropping a meet to Dexter at Tuesday, Oct. 7, 24-21.

In the Sturgis meet, John Catlett and Paul Hedding ran to career-best times in a meet that was more like a state meet, according to Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Catlett finished in 16:41, good for 27th place, and Hedding ran a 16:59 for 28th place.

Chelsea runners behind Hedding were: Greg Bryan, 34th, 17:50; Tucker Lee, 36th, 18:00; Holden Harris, 36th, 18:16; Mike Lavigne, 100th, 18:18; and Lee Riemenschneider, 106th, 18:20.

In the junior varsity portion of the meet, Chelsea finished seventh overall.

Fresh Gridders Bow to Pirates

Chelsea Bulldog freshman football team fell below the .500 mark for the season with an 18-16 loss to the Pinebluff Pirates at Neshalem Field on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Chelsea had a good defensive effort, according to Bulldog coach Jim Tallman, but couldn't take advantage of two scoring opportunities late in the game that could have given them the win.

Chelsea moved out to an 8-0 lead early in the first quarter on a 40-yard run by Matt Herter and a two-point conversion pass from Kyle Plank to Brett Wales.

However, by half-time the Bulldogs were down, 12-8, and the Pirates utilized the big play for a couple of quick scores. The first touchdown came on a reverse and the second on a 60-yard pass play. Neither extra-point conversion attempt worked.

Halfway through the third quarter, Pinebluff scored again, this time on a long, sustained drive. Again the conversion failed, but the Pirates held an 18-8 lead.

In the fourth quarter, Chelsea had its best drive of the night as the Bulldogs marched 60 yards on 12 plays, capped by a 10-yard touchdown run by Tom Messard. Herter ran for the two extra points.

Tallman praised the play of his defense, in particular Mark Chastain at outside linebacker, Herter at inside linebacker, tackles Lucky Beeman and Tim VanSchoeck and defensive backs Todd Perry and Casey Rutherford.

On offense, guard Rob Stoler and tackle Armando Lee also earned high marks from Tallman.

Chelsea held a 3-3 mark after last week's action. Their final game of the season is next week against Monroe Catholic Central at home.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Chelsea Trounces Dexter For Share of SEC Title

Chelsea Bulldogs blew the Dexter Dreadnaughts right out of the water last Friday night to maintain their hold on first place in the Southeastern Conference.

Chelsea's win, combined with the Tennessee Indians loss to Milan, means the Bulldogs need just one more league win to be the undisputed champions. Chelsea hosts Tecumseh for the Bulldogs' Homecoming this Friday, and closes out the league season by playing at Princeton the following Friday. No matter what happens, the Bulldogs have earned at least a tie for the conference title.

Chelsea 21, Dexter 9

The Bulldogs played a nearly flawless defensive game. Dexter got no farther than the Chelsea 25-yard line in the first half, and didn't even make it close to midfield in the second half.

Chelsea sophomore Junior Morrison scored the first two touchdowns in the game, the first on a 23-yard screen pass and run from Todd Starkey, and the second on a 28-yard run.

The Bulldogs held a 14-0 lead at half-time, but scored shortly after the second half kickoff on a 16-yard pass from Starkey to tight end Marty Putjan.

Putjan had another touchdown reception taken away later in the game on a penalty for an illegal receiver downfield.

Chelsea running back Curtis Heard didn't start the game due to illness and played a minor role in the offense.

Milan 3, Tecumseh 0

The Buc Kicks defense keyed the win over Tecumseh. Before the game the Indians were by themselves in second place and still had a realistic chance for a league title. That hope all but expired Friday.

Tom LeMarr booted a 37-yard field goal with 25 seconds left in the first half, a score set up by a 31-yard run by Big Red quarterback Pat Heath.

In the third quarter, a punt by Heath put the ball at the Indian 1. Tecumseh elected to take the safety rather than punt from the back of the end zone.

Tecumseh, which has probably the best playmaker in the league in Dwy Darg, was never close enough to use him. The Milan punting game left the Indians with poor field position much of the game.

Lincoln 22, Saline 12

Saline lost to the Railsplitters for the first time in 11 years, spoiling the Hornet Homecoming. Lincoln dominated the first half by outgaining Saline 148-26, and took a 14-6 lead into the break.

Saline, however, scored first in the game after a Lincoln fumble on the opening kick-off gave the Hornets the ball at the Railsplitter 34. On fourth-and-seven, Grant Fanning passed 19 yards to Tom Helmer for the touchdown.

Late in the first quarter Lincoln quarterback Noah Nagy capped a 41-yard drive with a 17-yard touchdown pass to Bill Eyer. A two-point conversion gave Lincoln an 8-6 lead.

Lincoln took advantage of a Saline fumble at the Hornet 15. Two plays later Nagy drove one

Card of Thanks 18*THANK YOU

We would like to take the time out to thank some very special people who made our wedding a beautiful one.

To start out we would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Lytle Russell of Royal Oak, Mich. for doing such a beautiful job on our invitations.

And as the wedding time got nearer, all of the people who helped prepare our food for the reception.

To all of the people that came to help set up the tent and the brass arches. Also to the Paxtons for loaning their tent.

A special thank-you to Lloyd Bridges for setting us up with a motor-home for the wedding and reception.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson of Gables who helped parade us in their "topless" convertible. Also to Kent who also supplied a convertible for the bridesmaids.

And to our Road-Captains—Rodney Munsel and Jim & Joyce Shepherd for making our journey a safe and scenic one to the reception.

And to all of the other cycle riders and motor vehicles that paraded with us.

We would also like to thank our camera people, Ted Ewald, Bob Heydlauff, Curt Farley, Jr., Greta Piekelsimer and Vernon Otto for doing such a fantastic job on our pictures.

And an extra special thank-you to Jim and Wendy Hava who set us up and displayed our wedding on a video screen.

The bands also deserve a thank-you for helping to relax and unwind everyone. So... thank-you "Sea Cruisers" and to "The Hafners" and also to our special friends "Hunt, Barnham and Seltz."

The reception also couldn't have happened without our kitchen help, our decorating party, and to Laura Roskowski who picked the wild flowers for the vases.

Thanks again to Loretta, Jackie and Brenda.

And to end this we would like to give the biggest thanks to Art's and my parents without whom none of this could have happened.

And to all of you who shared part in our special day.

Lynne & Arthur Farley.

Memoriam 19*DONALD R. WALZ—

We often sit and think of him when we are all alone. For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own. Like ivy on the withered oak when all things decay, our love for him will still keep green and never fade away. This is in loving memory of our father, Donald R. Walz, who passed away on Oct. 15, 12 years ago. Love,

Diane and Tyleno.

ARLESTA ALEXANDER—

In loving memory of our wife, mother, grandmother and daughter who passed away one year ago, Oct. 8. We miss her very much. God bless her.

The Families of:
Don Alexander
Randy Fife and
Floyd Roderick.

★ It's Fall... Time To Plant Spring Bulbs...

There is no more welcome sight towards the end of a cold winter than to see the very first crocus peeking its head above the ground, signaling that spring is almost here. Of course, to enjoy those beautiful spring flowers such as crocus, tulips, daffodils and hyacinth, now is the time to plant the bulbs.

Gardeners have been planting bulbs for years, but experimentation with different landscape designs using bulbs has increased and become more commonplace in the last few years. Instead of planting bulbs singly or in a straight row, they are often planted in drifts. This creates an illusion of spaciousness and of naturalization. Groups of bulbs may be staggered back and forth so that their colors flow into each other. For example, the soft rose color of a Darwin tulip like "Pink Supreme" could be woven into the intense maroon black of Darwin "Queen of the Night."

For another kind of effect, masses of small, daisy-like Anemone blanda as ground cover make early tulips such as Kaufmanniana appear to be floating. To achieve these effects, make sure the bulbs you plant together bloom at the same time.

Evergreens, flowering bushes, trees and ground covers are lovely neutral backdrops that make colorful bulb flowers stand out. These areas between shrubs, trees and ground covers provide excellent places for naturalizing bulbs. The hardiest bulbs for naturalizing are daffodils, crocuses, muscari, scilla and certain types of tulips such as Greigii, Kaufmanniana and Postelsiana.

You may abandon all rules for spacing and simply scatter a bunch of one variety of bulb. Then scatter several bulbs of another variety beside them. Plant them where they will happen to fall. Next spring, they will appear to have sprouted purely by chance, just like wildflowers. For continuous color, bulbs that flower at different times can be interplanted. One group of flowers will be in full bloom just as the others are beginning to bud. Therefore, you have flowering bulbs blooming successively in one bed throughout the spring season. Interplanting is possible because bulbs need only a small growing space and have a short growth cycle.

Annuals, perennials and wildflowers planted among bulbs add a lushness to your spring garden. As your bulb flowers fade, marigolds, petunias and zinnias can take over and camouflage unsightly exhausted bulb foliage.

To plant your bulbs, condition the soil by loosening it to a depth of 10-12 inches and mix in bone meal. Dig a trench wide enough for your mass bulb planting. For smaller bulbs, you may even poke the ground with a stick to make a small hole. Place a pinch of bone meal in each small hole, and plant in broad sweeps. This makes it look as if nature had arranged them all.

Most bulbs should be planted at a depth four times their diameter. Large bulbs should be set eight inches deep and six inches apart. Bulbs smaller than one-quarter of an inch, such as crocuses, scilla and muscari, should be planted four inches deep and six inches apart. For warm climate zones, plant bulbs at a shallower depth—six inches for large bulbs, three inches for small bulbs.

It has been recommended that bulbs should be fertilized with 12-12-12 fertilizer when shoots appear in the spring. However, Dr. Paul V. Nelson of North Carolina University has done research demonstrating that there is a greater chance of success in growing tulips and daffodils as perennials if one follows a fertilization program using nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium in the fall or after planting time, followed by nitrogen six to eight weeks prior to bloom (late winter). A slow-release fertilizer may also be used once a year in the fall or just after planting.

Whatever your pleasure in landscape design, plant bulbs in the fall and reap the pleasures of a beautiful spring garden.

According to many experts, plastic trash thrown into oceans may be as big a problem, if not bigger, than oil spills. International Wildlife magazine reports that non-biodegradable plastic waste is killing up to one million seabirds, 100,000 sea mammals, and countless fish each year. Part of the problem is that seals, turtles, fish, and birds become entangled, and then die, in discarded fishing nets and strapping bands.

* Blood Pressure Equipment Helps Keep Target Rate

By Linda Warren, R.N.
High blood pressure—hypertension—is one of the most serious diseases in the United States. As many as 60 million Americans have high blood pressure. Of these, only one-third are well-controlled. Hypertension is not "nervous tension" as some people believe from the name, but stress is a predisposing factor.

High blood pressure is a chronic elevation of pressure of the blood within arteries which increases a person's risk of stroke, heart attack or kidney disease. In addition to stress, some of the factors which contribute to elevated blood pressure levels are: heredity, increased use of salt and high alcohol use.

High blood pressure is sometimes called the "silent killer" because it gives no warning signals. For this reason you should have your blood pressure checked regularly. Should you be diagnosed as having high blood pressure, then frequent monitoring is desirable.

The goal for most hypertensives should be to keep blood pressures below 160/95. The purchase of home blood pressure equipment can inform a person when they are not within target range so they can take appropriate action to get back within their target range. Frequent reading helps prevent this disease from being silent.

For an investment of $29 to $89 a person can purchase equipment and be taught to monitor blood pressure readings at home. A log with the dates and readings can be made and then brought to the periodic follow-up medical visits.

All new equipment should be brought to the physicians' office to test its accuracy against a mercury sphygmomanometer (blood pressure cuff). The person could then be taught how to take and record blood pressure correctly.

Some people sense that their

blood pressure is elevated when they have a headache, experience warmth or dizziness or are upset. The validity of their perceptions can be tested with blood pressure readings. A relationship between elevated blood pressure and periods of stress or heavy salt usage can also be monitored.

After training in home blood pressure monitoring, the person should obtain serial blood pressure measurements. A determination can then be made of when an office call is needed. One isolated reading that is elevated is not a cause for concern.

Siblings and the children of hypertensive persons can also be easily screened at home since the blood pressure equipment is readily available. Remember, heredity is a factor.

As you can tell, home blood pressure monitoring can have several advantages for the person with hypertension.

Child's Dental Care Should Start Early

This is the first in a series of articles on health care tips for the entire family, developed in cooperation with the Washtenaw District Dental Hygienists Society in observance of National Dental Hygiene Week, Oct. 2-8.

The first six years of a child's life are important in the development of strong permanent teeth and healthy gums. A child's teeth begin forming in early pregnancy, and good dental health care begins then.

An expectant mother can help her baby have healthy teeth by following proper dental hygiene care for her own teeth: Brushing and flossing daily, eating a balanced diet, having regular dental examinations.

From the moment the first teeth appear in a child's mouth, they are susceptible to decay, so dental hygiene habits must be established early.

Washtenaw District Dental Hygienists Society offers these tips for helping your children develop good dental care habits:

When your child begins to teethe, clean the gums and teeth with a washcloth or gauze pad to remove any plaque (a sticky, colorless film of bacteria that forms on everyone's teeth).

When your baby's first teeth have erupted, try cleaning them with a small, soft toothbrush. If your child resists the brush, continue with the cloth. Go back to the brush when molars appear.

You can begin showing your child how to brush at an early age. You will still need to do most of the brushing job yourself to ensure the teeth are cleaned properly. Your dental hygienist can demonstrate the proper brushing technique for you.

At age four or five, your child may be able to brush alone, under your supervision.

Check and replace your child's brushes often. Bent bristles don't remove plaque and can injure gums.

Begin taking your child to the dental office at an early age (before age four).
