FIRST IN LINE TO VOTE in Chelsea High school's mock election Monday morning in senior Tutor Lee, Junior and senior government classes learned how to vote in a general election by running through the entire process. Sylvan township board voting stands and computer card punch boards. Simulating the duties of township voting officials are Angie Alvarez, left, and Trisha Mattell.

LEARNING ABOUT THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM first hand, Chelsea High school junior and senior government classes had a chance to participate in a mock state election on Monday morning in their classrooms. They ran through everything from the voting application process to voting for their preferred candidates on computer punch-out cards. Ella Aldrich, deputy Sylvan township clerk, collected the ballots in Jim Bechtelmeier's class.

Lengthy Ballot Faces Voters Tuesday, Nov. 4 In General Election

Once again the time of year is here during which registered voters in Washtenaw county and their counterparts scattered through the 50 states make a trip to the polls to cast a ballot listing their choices to fill a host of political offices, most of them for a two-year period.

As a citizen of one of the few countries in the world whose leaders are still elected to office by the people, secret ballot remains a procedure available to all caring citizens—do pay attention to this great and rare privilege!

Many voters will express their choices by casting an absentee ballot, a privilege extended senior citizens and those who will be at locations other than their regular polling places during regular hours of the election date.

Before beginning the balloting process, voters are urged to ask for instruction, given freely and with good nature by election officials at any of the polling places, to avoid confusion.

The ballot is lengthy, and voters should use all the assistance available.

In Michigan, voters will be choosing a partnership team, governor-lieutenant governor, to guide the complex ship of state during the next two years.

Republican challengers William Lucas and Calvin Engler oppose incumbent Democratic candidates James J. Blanchard and Martin W. Griffin, vying for the top state offices.

On the Washtenaw County level, Martin McLoughlin and Abigail Christen seek the office of governor and lieutenant-governor.

Candidates for the office of Michigan secretary of state include Democratic incumbent Richard H. Austin, who is challenged by Republican William O. Wenger and Brian Wright, Independent candidate.

Frank J. Kelley seeks to extend his service as Michigan attorney general. Republican Robert H. Cleland and Max Dean, Independent candidate also seek the office.

Carl D. Pursell, Republican candidate, Democrat Robert Carr, incumbent, seeks another term in the 8th congressional district. He is opposed by Republican James Dunn.

Republican candidates for state senator in Michigan's 18th district Dale J. Apley, Jr., is making a strong bid to unseat incumbent state senator Lena Pollack.

One of the hottest races in western Washtenaw county is the one in the 52nd legislative district.

Margaret O'Connor, incumbent Republican candidate, and Democratic candidate Donald E. Shelton, who has served as mayor of Saline, both seek the office of state representative in the 52nd district.

Both O'Connor and Shelton are well-known in the district and have considerable political supporters.

Two openings exist on the state board of education. Seeking to serve on the board are Annette Miller and Gumecindo, Democrats; Barbara Dumouchelle and Patricia A. Hartnagle, Republican candidates; Robert E. Tisch, the candidate backed by Tisch Independent Citizens; four independent candidates, John A. Green, Denise Kline, Robert C. MacDonald and David A. Weidner.

Two members will be selected by voters for the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Seeking the regent positions are Democrats Paul Brown and James L. Waters, as well as Republicans Gary Frank and Cynthia Haldostian Hudgins.

Michigan State University Board of Trustees will garner two successful candidates to serve terms from the field of candidates which includes: Joel I. Ferguson and Barbara J. Sawyer, Democrats, and Dolores M. Cook and Cyril Gregorick, Republican candidates.

Four candidates seek positions on the Wayne State University (Continued on page six)

Health Insurance Brings Deficit in School Budget

Due largely to an unanticipated 12 percent rise in the cost of health insurance, the Chelsea School District now anticipates a $94,312 deficit for the 1987-88 school year, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

The original budget assumed the cost of health insurance at $1.18 per pupil, but the actual cost is $1.32.

The original budget adopted in June called for revenues of $2,188,888 and expenditures of $2,188,888.

The amended budget calls for anticipated revenues of $2,133,519 and expenditures of $2,227,731.

Mills said the deficit would be made up by the district's fund equity, which has a $685,742 balance.

together, we thought Blue Cross would rise about eight percent but when we talked to Blue Cross officials, they didn't think it would rise that much," Mills said.

"So we plugged in five percent. But later we got the checker that it would go up 12 percent."

The increase will cost $65,865, Mills said. He said most of the rest of the increase will come from the purchase of two school buses at approximately $54,000.

Mills said the increase in revenues came from reimbursement programs from the state for handicapped students and incoming transfers.

"We're in good financial shape," Mills said. "My guess is that we'll come out about even for the year."

THE HAUNTING NIGHT IS NEAR for these ghoulish souls who will be part of the Lionses Club's Haunted House in the basement of the First United Methodist church on Park St. The haunted house, along with a fun house, will be open from 7-9 p.m. on Thursday and 7-10 p.m. on Friday.

Lionses Club Haunts Chelsea With Halloween Projects

Plan to add the Chelsea Lionses Club's Haunted House to your Halloween activities this year. Lionsesses have been preparing for the upcoming event for weeks in hopes that this will become an annual project.

There are actually two events planned so that children of all ages as well as adults will be entertained. There will be a Fun House for children under the age of six. The Fun House will be an enchanting assortment of Halloween characters and fantasy land figures. Children will slide, climb and swing their way through a "Jungle Book" setting. "The Haunted Night" for older children and adults will provide a new twist to the concept of a "haunted house." Traditional Halloween characters combine with theatricals to create a unique experience.

Both the Fun House and the Haunted House will be set up at Chelsea Methodist church on Park St. They will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 30 and from 7 to 10 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 31. The children's parade on Halloween night will begin and end at the Municipal Parking Lot directly across from the Haunted House. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

The price of Fun House tickets will be 50¢ and Haunted House tickets will cost $1. As always, the Lionses Club will contribute all proceeds to local and state charitable activities.

Council Approves Plan For Engineering Work On First DDA Project

Chelsea Village Council said yes to a recommendation by the Downtown Development Authority to spend approximately $9,100 on engineering plans for the group's first downtown beautification project.

The council approved the measure, 4-1, at group's regular meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 21. Trustee Richard Steele voted against it, and trustee Stephanie Kanten was not present.

The project would involve the intersection of Middle and Main Sts. and would be tied into a major street project the village was already considering, according to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner.

The DDA proposal, presented to the council by Mark Heydlauff, DDA chairman, called for using approximately 100 hours of Fahrner's time on the project, worth approximately $1,800. It also called for paying Johnson, Johnson & Roy of Ann Arbor $4,800 for additional engineering and landscaping services, and $2,500 for lighting design by Cummins & Barnard of Ann Arbor. The estimates were drawn up by Fahrner.

"We are very satisfied with this plan," Heydlauff told the council during the council's regular meeting.

The beautification project would likely include the widening of the corners at the intersection, along with some landscaping and the addition of down-style lighting, Fahrner said. The details will be left up to Johnson, Johnson & Roy, the company whose work figured heavily into the Chelsea Revitalization Strategy document.

Fahrner said that it's likely beautification work would be undertaken at the same time as street work already planned by the village, as that would cut out a lot

United Way Hits 53% Going To Final Week

The 1986 Chelsea United Way campaign has reached $37,217, or 53% of its goal with one week left, according to Lang Ramsay, United Way president. "We still have several divisions representing large dollar amounts that have not completed their canvassing," Ramsay said.

Dave Prohaska, campaign chairman, reported the following division results: residential mail, $5,357 for 94% of goal; professional, $8,486, or 70% of goal; commercial, $2,127, representing 85%.

Anticipated pledges of Chelsea area residents through Washtenaw and other United Ways, plus contributions from of duplication of work. The street work would extend a block east and west of Main St.

Fahrner said the engineering plans will be a winter project for him, but it was not known when actual construction work could begin.

community organizations, bring the total of non-industrial division receipts and pledges to $26,873 or 63.2% of their collective goal. Chelsea Community Hospital employees are hoping to raise $6,000 which represents an increase of approximately 5% over last year's target.

The industry division has donated or pledged $10,244 to date which accounts for 38% of its campaign objective. However, three of the major industries have yet to report their results, and Prohaska indicated that this would add another $17,750 to the drive if each company achieved 100% of its goal.

Halloween Party Set For Friday

Plans are in high gear for Chelsea's annual Halloween celebration this Friday night, featuring the traditional party hosted by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

The evening kicks off with the annual community "Trick or Treat," from 4-6 p.m. Children, many of them with their parents, will go door-to-door and hold out their bags for treats.

Immediately afterward, the Kiwanis Club will have its annual party in the Municipal Parking Lot, beginning with the judging of costumes. Three prizes will be awarded in each age group, for both "best looking," or "most original." First prize is $3, second prize is $2, and third prize is $1.

Age brackets are 3-and-under, 4-5 years, 6-7 years, 8-9 years, 10-11 years and 12-and-over.

Chelsea Lumber Co. plans to donate the use of a flat bed truck for master of ceremonies Bill Rademacher to introduce each of the winners.

Following the judging will be the annual parade, featuring any child who wants to participate, along with the Beach Middle school marching band, under the direction of Warren Mayer, and Jim Gaken and his antique fire truck.

After the parade, prizes will be awarded and winners introduced. There will also be free cider and doughnuts.

Parents won't have to worry about leaving the party in time for a Chelsea High school football game because the Bulldogs will be playing on Saturday night this week.

Police will begin clearing the Municipal Parking Lot at 4 p.m.

Tipping over outhouses was one Halloween trick 50 years ago recalled by senior citizens at the North school senior center last week. One local man was determined to keep his outhouse standing, so he waited inside for the teen-agers. They sneaked up and turned it over—door side down.

Other pranks remembered, mostly harmless and not destructive—a goat in the belfry of the Chelsea clock tower or Sylvan township hall, cars on porches, haywagons moved into different fields and soaping windows.

Harvest season is under way in west Washtenaw county. Farmers and their equipment are in the fields gathering soybeans and corn. Earlier forecasts of bumper crops have been scaled down because of dry weather during late summer and fall.

Chelsea Athletic Boosters approved purchase of the $5,000 Universal multi-station weight machine. The present weight training equipment will be repaired, said new boosters co-president Darla Bohlender, and given to Beach Middle school.

She not only received the first-place trophy in the JV division, but she earned the highest number of points, shutting out the 120 contestants in all areas. Other winners were Brian Smith, Steve Bennett, Michelle McClear and Jennifer Lane.

Blanchard Announces Flood Loan Program for Farmers
A $200 million program to assist farmers who lost their crops in the September flooding with interest-free loans was announced by Governor James Blanchard, who said the program would allow thousands of farmers a chance to both recover their losses from this year, and plant crops next spring.

The program should get chief legislative priority when the Legislature returns in November following the election, Blanchard said at a recent Lansing press conference.

Flanked by State Treasurer Robert Bowman, Agriculture Director Paul Kindinger, Financial Institutions Commissioner Eugene Kuthy and Michigan

Farm Bureau Head Elton Smith, Blanchard said the program would cost the state about $50 million that it would otherwise earn in interest over the next 10 years.

The program is an "unprecedented grant of time" to farmers trying to recover after the state's worst natural disaster," Blanchard, who earlier said loans would not be enough to help many farmers, said.

He admitted it would not itself be enough to help some farmers, but added if a farmer cannot make payments in four years "the chances are the farmer can't make it anyway."

Losses from the flooding are estimated to approach $300 million.

Bowman said the proposal would put $200 million of the state's cash reserve into the loan fund, instead of other planned investments.

The $50 million cost represents the foregone interest earnings the state would otherwise have made on other investments, Bowman said.

Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on agriculture, called for grants from the budget stabilization fund, and said the Blanchard program "may be better than nothing but it is next to nothing for a lot of farmers. Most of the farmers are up to their eyeballs in debt because they've had some tough years."

He said a grant program costing under $100 million would go a long way to help the stricken farmers, with individual amounts based on the amount of loss and the threshold of harvest revenue required to make a profit on a particular crop.

Maximum loans under the program would be $200,000, Blanchard said, with the anticipated average loan being less than $100,000.

The program will allow farmers to co-ordinate outstanding loans while getting financing for new plantings in spring. Loans would be repaid in four years. Local banks and credit institutions will administer the program, much as they did with the state's 1980 emergency loan program.

Blanchard said he still hopes the federal government would also help Michigan farmers by providing grants to pay for up to 50 percent of their losses.

Blanchard was in Washington, D.C., last week lobbying for the aid, which awaits final approval by Congress. And he said the state would continue to find other ways to help farmers.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

So far, Bug Hookum reported at the country store Saturday night, nobody has offered to pay him interest to trade his 15-year-old pickup and go in debt for a new one, so he's still looking. Bug said he has broke his own rule a few times, but his policy allus has been to pay everthing down and nothing the rest of his life. With the way car dealers are wheeling and dealing, he said, it'll be a wonder if he don't take on some payments.

On the other hand, Bug went on, at his age and condition he worries if his old lady brings home green bananas. So it might be as big a wonder, Bug said, if there's a dealer around that thinks he's a 36 month credit risk. Ever September for the past 10, Bug said, his truck has fell apart before his eyes that were looking at the new models. And just as regular when he looked at the winder stickers his truck perks up and looks good for another year. This year the prices ain't as strong as the invite to borrow, so he's looking at the new ones and his clunker in a new light. If he sees a offer than beats zero interest he might not be able to resist another year, was Bug's words.

Other than the financing, Bug went on, the cars are pritty much on the same old road. Ever last one is new and improved from the ground up, and without fail all are bigger on the inside and better on the outside. For all the attention to safety, Bug said, them cars have got to be getting mighty thin. Actual, the ads say safety ain't so much in the box on wheels as it is in the gadgets in the box. They got sensors and monitors fer everthing but the nut behind the wheel, was Bug's words.

Practical speaking, Zeke Grubb allowed, you wonder why folks get so upset at deficit spending by their Government and so excited about deficit spending by themselves. Zeke said he's seen the stickers on the back of motor homes that says "we're spending the kids' inheritance," but that's a heap better than spending your own income three year before its time. Zeke had saw by the papers where a priest holds a car blessing service about this time ever year in North Carolina. He thought that was odd til he figured out he ain't blessing the machine so much as he is folks that ride in it and got to pay fer it.

Clem Webster was agreed on this point. He said he had allus heard that a debt free church was a lazy church, and that blessing cars is a way of saying that happiness can be found in making payments. Clem said installment buying is what keeps America getting up mornings and going to work. He said he has knowed families that had more in payments than income ever month, but they were happy because everybody they owed was nice to 'em so they'd keep em on top of their list.

Actual, Clem said, cars is like people. Ever year more come than go, and the difference between the number sold and the number junked is what keeps the country going in more ways than riding. What we need to do, he said, is tie cars to our Russian wheat sales. If we could get ever Russian behind the wheel of a new car with a payment book in his pocket, we wouldn't have to worry about them folks making trouble fer at least 36 months at a clip.

And think, Clem went on, what it would mean to our electronic expert when all the monitoring and sensing gadgets on all them cars start breaking down.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

In 1965, about 11.2 million children under the age of 18 were living in a family maintained by a woman. More than two-fifths were living with a divorced mother and more than one-fifth were living with a never-married mother, according to a fact sheet on working women published by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

PAUL AND BEVERLY BULLINGER got a surprise buggy ride for their 50th wedding anniversary last Friday, Oct. 24. The buggy, which used to belong to Paul, was bought by Kathy Kuntz, left, and sent to an Amish craftsman to be completely restored. "They just told us to be at a certain place at a certain time," Beverly said adding that she and Paul had no idea what was in store for them.

The part of the title page of books with the date, place, printer and edition is called the "colophon." Early books had it at the end of the volume. The word comes from the German colophon meaning the top or summit.

A VIEW From the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Aerobic (oxygen consuming) exercise is based on exerting rhythmic effort involving large muscle groups for a long enough period of time to achieve a training effect. The effect can be attained in 45 minutes of brisk walking or 20 to 30 minutes of swimming, depending on the swim stroke.

During these sustained exercise periods you breathe more deeply and more often. Your heart works harder, beating more times per minute so that it grows stronger and pumps more blood. Your lungs increase in efficiency so they can process more air with less effort. The number and size of blood vessels in your body is increased, adding miles of new capillaries.

With proper nutrition, your arteries are less likely to harden with accumulations of calcium and cholesterol, and your improved circulatory system becomes capable of delivering more oxygen and nutrients to your organs, muscles and bones. It also becomes more efficient in carrying carbon dioxide and other waste products away.

The mention of "aerobic" is strongly associated with jogging. This form of exercise is excellent for younger people but jogging is not recommended for men or women over 60 who are beginning fitness programs. Neither are stationary running, rope skipping or competitive sports.

Walking is select aerobic exercise because it places much less strain on the feet, legs and spine than running. And, with shock absorbent shoes, it can be done on hard surfaces. Walking three miles in 45 minutes may not seem quite as "athletic" as running but the aerobic benefits are there.

All exercise programs for persons over 40 should be preceded by a physical exam and approval of a physician. All fitness regimens call for a modest beginning and a gradual build-up over a period of weeks. The process takes time because you are developing not one heart, but three. Your legs contain the greatest muscle mass in your body and the rehabilitation of these two "auxiliary hearts" is one of the major goals of physical fitness.

Now, how about a swim? Among the many kinds of aerobic exercises, this is perhaps the most nearly perfect for men and women of all ages. Indeed, for people with leg or foot troubles, swimming may be the only way to maintain a fitness program.

Aquatic exercise conditions every part of the body, providing more action for your arms and shoulders than walking, jogging or cycling. At the same time, the body suffers far less strain on the joints because you are almost weightless in the water. Your body is cushioned in a fluid that yields to every motion, giving you a generous choice of swimming strokes and positions.

If, for instance, you have chronic lower back pain you may be quite comfortable doing the breast stroke or side stroke. Other back pain victims, who would be hurting if they ran a city block, may enjoy the benefits of aerobic exercise by swimming on their backs.

The investment in equipment is modest too—usually no more than a swim suit and cap. Possible drawbacks to swimming might include eye, ear and nose problems which can usually be managed with devices such as goggles, ear plugs or nose clips.

If you already know how to swim, getting back into it is the same as any other fitness activity. After receiving the go-ahead from your doctor, you start out slow and easy, one or two laps at a time, interspersed with resting periods. Each time you return to the pool you swim a little further. Within a few weeks you will be in good enough condition to swim 20 to 30 minutes non-stop without even breathing hard.

For persons who are interested in learning how to swim, arrangements can be worked out. Pool personnel welcome the opportunity to either provide or find help for adult learners. Look up Coach Mike Keeler between 8 and 8:30 school mornings, or Pool Supervisor Sarah Borders during public rec and lap swims. In addition to the main pool, the Beach School natatorium has a training pool which is ideal for instruction.

Much of the emphasis in today's column has been centered on the needs of sedentary people because they are the sitting ducks. They are at risk because they sit at desks or rest on cushioned chairs for 40 hours a week. There they operate keyboards, assemble small parts, drive vehicles, press buttons—or whatever—so that machines do all the work.

Almost one half of all deaths in America result from heart attacks, strokes and other failures of the cardiovascular system. Regular exercise is the great preventive—so much so that it is part of the rehabilitation process for recovering heart patients. The benefits of exercise are not limited to the heart and arteries. Harvard researchers found, for example, that exercise reduced death rates by 30 percent among those alumni who smoked more than a pack of cigarettes a day.

A common excuse for avoiding exercising is "I haven't the time." The real reason is sometimes nothing more than a reluctance to exchange an old, easy habit for something unfamiliar.

The amount and kind of exercise that will add years to life is not buckets of sweat, panting like a dog or hitting the finish line exhausted.

It's fun and it's never too late to start

UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN of Chelsea was given $4,100 as a corporate gift from BookCrafters, Inc., last week. Presenting the gift to United Way board member James Egan is Phil Knight, vice-president for marketing at BookCrafters. The campaign reached 53 percent of its goal going into the last week. There were still several large donations anticipated.

Lengthy Ballot . . .

Board of Governors, but only the two highest vote-getters will serve on the board. Candidates listed on the ballot include Leon H. Atchison and Max J. Pincus, Democratic candidates, as well as Mary Dale and Elizabeth Hardy, Republicans.

Republican Martin L. Straub seeks to extend his term as 2nd district county commissioner.

He is opposed by Democratic candidate Jan Bender.

In non-partisan balloting, no less than 24 candidates are seeking the two positions as justice of the Michigan Supreme Court for the regular term ending Jan. 1, 1986.

With so many candidates, voters will need to exercise care in order to determine their two choices, then carefully indicate the choices on the ballot.

Among the judicial contests, only one requires a choice by voters, since all other judicial candidates run unopposed.

Seeking the office of probate court judge, candidates Edward L. Vandenberg, Jr., and John N. Kitchin, who was appointed to the office last year under election to remain as probate judge have conducted widespread campaigns during the past few weeks.

Incumbent judges Joseph B. Sullivan and Myron H. Wahl seek re-election to their posts on the Michigan Court of Appeals, 1st district, but there are two openings so no contest exists.

Ross W. Campbell is unopposed as a candidate to continue as judge in the 22nd Circuit Court.

The single candidate seeking the judgeship of District Court 14A is incumbent Kenneth Bronson.

Two candidates will be selected from among three listed on the ballot as seeking the office of Washtenaw Community College trustee.

Candidates include Vanzetti M. Hamilton, Mark P. Race and Anthony J. Procassini.

Two WCC tax proposals require voter consideration on this fall's ballot as well.

Proposition one asks authorization to increase operating millage by seven-tenths of a mill, and the second proposition seeks voter approval to borrow up to 13 1/2 million dollars and issue general obligation bonds. Funds will be earmarked for additional building projects on the WCC campus.

Funeral Preplanning

A Thoughtful and Loving Alternative

Help us to make the best plans we can for the major events of life. We plan carefully for marriage, children, education, career, and someday retirement.

But we also plan ahead for funeral services. We leave it to loved ones when they're least prepared, instead of doing it ourselves in advance.

By planning ahead and even pre-arranging our wishes and desires, we can specify arrangements that might otherwise cause confusion, difficult decisions and differences of opinion for our family.

By preplanning and pre-arranging, you have choices and can even determine cost.

Pre-planning is an informative program

For further information on pre-planning, please call or write us today. We will be happy to talk to you and there is no obligation on your part and no representation of any kind.

DDA Engineering Plan Approved

The biggest unanswered question for the DDA is exactly how both the engineering work and the project construction would be financed.

"I presume (the $9,100) would be considered a loan to the DDA," said Village President Jerry Satterthwaite.

"But there are still a lot of questions as to how the DDA will finance their project. I think they've probably given up on increment financing, but there are other alternatives."

Other DDAs have used tax increment financing to their benefit, Satterthwaite said, but that money-raising method is currently the subject of litigation and is likely to be disallowed, he said. Increment financing would allow the DDA to use additional tax monies gained from the increase in value of property within the downtown development district.

New Bankruptcy Law Passed To Help Farmers

Legislation providing a new bankruptcy chapter for family farmers is awaiting President Reagan's signature. According to Robert Craig, Michigan Farm Bureau agricultural economist, the objective of the new "Chapter 12" is to help family farmers keep their farms and to pay creditors out of future earnings.

"Farm Bureau believes that the current bankruptcy laws have been unable to address the unique problems facing family farmers and have actually worked to their detriment," Craig said.

"This new law is designed to aid these farmers with a potential to reorganize and will allow them to financially restructure where existing law cannot," he said.

The law would limit the use of Chapter 12 to family farmers by requiring that the farmer receive at least 35% of his income from farming and that at least 80% of the debt be from the farm. It also limits the amount of allowable debt to $1.5 million.

A Kiwanis sponsored Halloween party will include the traditional parade, followed by cider and doughnuts served around a large bonfire on the school grounds. A dance is planned afterwards in the gymnasium with an orchestra and refreshments.

Chelsea will have five lettermen returning for the coming basketball season—Robert Bertke, Bob White, Joe Greenwood, Alfred Knickerbocker, and Richard Barais.

Pfc. David J. Slane, former CHS football player, is now playing with a U. S. Army team in Germany, known as the Nuernberg Thiers.

Next Tuesday's election, generally conceded to be of the utmost national importance, is also of special interest on state and county levels. Washtenaw county voters will decide whether the county will have a new courthouse to replace the present outmoded building and will also state their choice on proposals for amendments to the state constitution which call for reapportionment of the legislature.

Chelsea Players Elect New Officers Board Members

At the September general business meeting of the Chelsea Area Players, new officers and board members were elected to terms by the attending membership.

The new president of the Chelsea Area Players for the next two years is Pat Paulsell who has been a board member for several years and produced this past summer's play "Camelet."

Re-elected to the board for three year terms are Beverly Slater who will also remain as treasurer; Jerri Cole, Sue Williams, and Julie Verus who will remain as vice-president.

Also elected to the board is Jerry Martell.

Mary Jane Tidgan and Wyn Schumann left the board after many years of much appreciated service and dedication. Two vacancies remain to be filled. The past president of CAP, Miller Long, will serve one additional year as a voting board member.

In additional business, it was decided to hold this winter's courtroom murder mystery, "The Night of January 13th," at Beach Middle school in Chelsea. Dates and times will be decided later, although plans call for a February week-end of performances. A search is under way for a director. Tryouts for the winter play will take place in December.

A decision will be made at the November board meeting on next summer's musical presentation. "The Music Man" and "Oliver" are among the choices being considered.

Chelsea Area Players sent the past president, Mike Long, and his wife to the semi-annual convention of the Community Theatre Association of Michigan which was held at Boyne Highlands near Petoskey on the last week-end of September. The three-day convention consisted of workshops, seminars, dinner and dancing besides the opportunity to meet with other members of community theatres from around Michigan. More than 200 people representing almost 30 organizations were in attendance.

Novice Debaters Win Grand Rapids Tourney

Chelsea High school novice debaters took first place in their first-ever competition at a tournament in Grand Rapids last Saturday, Oct. 25.

Tami Harris and Sam Eisenbeiser, taking the affirmative position, and Kristina Steffenson and Patrick Gustine, who took the negative, won a first-place trophy and a dictionary for finishing ahead of 33 other schools in the tournament.

This year's national topic is "Resolved: The federal government should implement a comprehensive, long-term agricultural policy."

Harris and Eisenbeiser finished with an over-all 3-1 record and Steffenson and Gustine finished 4-0.

Chelsea and Portage Northern High school, the top two teams in the tournament, squared off in a stage debate at the end of the afternoon. After a flip of the coin, Portage Northern chose to pit their affirmative squad against Chelsea's negative team. Steffenson and Gustine prevailed.

Last year, Portage Northern won a similar square-off against Chelsea.

Other novice debaters who took part in the tournament were first affirmatives Michelle Horn and Jeff Waidyha; second affirmatives David Freitas and Jordan Gray; first negative Kevin Finnigan; and second negatives Matt Doan and Ward Benavente.

Brighton Hospital Drug Abuse Program Recognized By State

Brighton Hospital, which has specialized in treating alcohol and drug abuse since its founding in 1950, has been awarded a Gold Seal Standard License by the State of Michigan.

This special license is granted by the Office of Substance Abuse Services in recognition of the hospital's long history of compliance with licensing rules and for meeting additional OSAS quality assurance standards and applicable national accreditation standards.

CHELSEA FIRE DEPARTMENT has a new rescue truck, and many local donations helped purchase the vehicle. The truck is much larger than the old truck, according to Chief Hanker, partly because all equipment is carried in outside compartments rather than on the inside.

New Rescue Truck Arrives for Duty

Chelsea Fire Department has its new $64,000 rescue truck in service, replacing an old truck that was both dangerous and worn out, according to chief Hanker.

The new truck has several features that were missing in the old truck, which will likely be put for bids, Hanker said.

The new truck is four-wheel drive, which Hanker said should be a big difference in the way it can be used to transport accident victims, although Hanker didn't see that happening too often.

All equipment is stored in outside compartments. The old truck carried all equipment inside.

There were times when we'd go around a corner and these boards would come down on us," Hanker said of the boards that are used to move victims with spinal injuries. They used to be stored overhead inside the truck.

The new truck also "handles 100 percent better," Hanker said. It has power steering, brakes and an automatic transmission.

It has seatbelts for all passengers.

All sirens are out of the windshield, improving visibility.

It has a gasoline generator to supply electricity for lights to flood an accident scene. The old truck relied on two batteries that ran down quickly.

"This will be a whole lot safer for everyone," Hanker said.

A committee of firemen including Dan Ellenwood, Steve Jaskot, Bill Paul and Keith

O'Neil worked on developing specifications on the truck.

The truck was also purchased with money donated by individuals and businesses including Flo-Ann Longworth, Chelsea Industries, Langworth Plating Service, Astro Cap Manufacturing, Dana Corp., Chelsea Milling, Chelsea Lumber, Chelsea Grinding, Federal Screw Works, Hatch Stamping Co., Gladys Klumpp, Ted Balmer, Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, and Women's International Bowling Congress and American Bowling Congress charity bowl.

Total purchase price was $64,462.40, Hanker said.

The old truck, which has 86,219 miles, was purchased used in 1976 for $11,000, according to Hanker.

Novice Debaters Win Grand Rapids Tourney

Chelsea High school novice debaters took first place in their first-ever competition at a tournament in Grand Rapids last Saturday, Oct. 25.

Tami Harris and Sam Eisenbeiser, taking the affirmative position, and Kristina Steffenson and Patrick Gustine, who took the negative, won a first-place trophy and a dictionary for finishing ahead of 33 other schools in the tournament.

This year's national topic is "Resolved: The federal government should implement a comprehensive, long-term agricultural policy."

Harris and Eisenbeiser finished with an over-all 3-1 record and Steffenson and Gustine finished 4-4.

Chelsea and Portage Northern High school, the top two teams in the tournament, squared off in a stage debate at the end of the afternoon. After a flip of the coin, Portage Northern chose to put their affirmative squad against Chelsea's negative team. Steffenson and Gustine prevailed.

Last year, Portage Northern won a similar square-off against Chelsea.

Other novice debaters who took part in the tournament were first affirmatives Michelle Horn and Jeff Waldyka; second affirmatives David Frutkin and Jordan Gray; first negative Kevin Flanagan; and second negatives Matt Doan and Ward Beachamp.

CHELSEA FIRE DEPARTMENT has a new rescue truck, and many local donations had purchase the vehicle. The truck is much safer than the old truck, according to Chief Bud Hanked, partly because all equipment is carried in outside compartments rather than on the inside.

New Rescue Truck Arrives for Duty

Chelsea Fire Department has its new $64,000 rescue truck in service, replacing an old one that was both dangerous and worn out, according to chief Bud Hanked.

The new truck has several features that were missing in the old truck, which will likely be put out for bids, Hanked said.

The new truck is four-wheel drive, which Hanked said should make a big difference in the winter.

It can be used to transport accident victims, although Hanked said he can't see that happening too often.

All equipment is stored in outside compartments. The old truck carried all equipment inside.

"There were times when we'd go around a corner and these boards would come down on us," Hanked said of the boards that are used to move victims with spinal injuries. They used to be stored overhead inside the truck.

The new truck also "handles 100 percent better," Hanked said. It has power steering, brakes and an automatic transmission.

It has seatbelts for all passengers.

All sirens are out of the windshield, improving visibility.

It has a gasoline generator to supply electricity for lights to flood an accident scene. The old truck relied on two batteries that ran down quickly.

"This will be a whole lot safer for everyone," Hanked said.

A committee of firemen including Dan Ellenwood, Steve Jaskot, Bill Paul and Keith

O'Neil worked on developing specifications on the truck.

The truck was also purchased with money donated by individuals and businesses including Flo-Ann Longworth, Chelsea Industries, Longworth Stamping Co., Gladys Klurpp, Ted Balmer, Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, and Women's International Bowling Congress and American Bowling Congress charity bowl.

Total purchase price was $64,462.40, Hanked said.

The old truck, which has 86,219 miles, was purchased used in 1976 for $11,000, according to Hanked.

Chelsea Players Elect New Officers Board Members

At the September general business meeting of the Chelsea Area Players, new officers and board members were elected to terms by the attending membership.

The new president of the Chelsea Area Players for the next two years is Pat Paulsell who has been a board member for several years and produced this past summer's play "Camelot."

Re-elected to the board for three year terms are Beverly Slater who will also remain as treasurer; Jerri Cole, Sue Williams, and Julie Voris who will remain as vice-president.

Also elected to the board is Jerry Martell.

Mary Jane Tiedgen and Wyn Schumann left the board after many years of much appreciated service and dedication. Two vacancies remain to be filled. The past president of CAP, Mike Long, will serve one additional year as a voting board member.

In additional business, it was decided to hold this winter's courtroom murder mystery, "The Night of January 16th," at Beach Middle school in Chelsea. Dates and times will be decided later, although plans call for a February week-end of performances. A search is under way for a director. Tryouts for the winter play will take place in December.

A decision will be made at the November board meeting on next summer's musical presentation. "The Music Man" and "Oliver" are among the choices being considered.

Chelsea Area Players sent the past president, Mike Long, and his wife to the semi-annual convention of the Community Theatre Association of Michigan which was held at Boyne Highlands near Petoskey on the last week-end of September. The three-day convention consisted of workshops, seminars, dinner and dancing besides the opportunity to meet with other members of community theatres from around Michigan. More than 200 people representing almost 50 organizations were in attendance.

Bulldogs Win Thrilling Final SEC Contest With Last Second TD

It was an improbable ending to an improbable Southeastern Conference football season.

Chelsea drove 37 yards in 37 seconds and Curtis Heard scored a touchdown with four seconds remaining to give Chelsea a thrilling come-from-behind 16-12 victory over the Pinckney Pirates in Pinckney last Friday night.

As assistant coach Wayne Welton said, "there were only about two of us (coaches) who thought we could score, but I won't say which two."

The drive was made even more remarkable by the fact that it began at the Bulldogs' 25-yard line with 3:37 to play with sophomore Larry Nix at quarterback. Up to then Nix had seen little action, but was pressed into service after starter Todd Starkey was hit hard and suffered a mild concussion.

The second drive Nix guided happened to be the most important drive of the night and the most important of his young career. The youngster responded well to the pressure-packed situation and hit Junior Marone and Ron Hanley with key passes, taking the ball past midfield.

But that was after he was sacked on the first play of the drive, a drive that essentially began with second and 22 from the 13-yard line.

After entering Pinckney territory, Nix hit Marone with a pass at the 30. Three plays later, Chelsea had moved two yards and was faced with fourth down and two.

Heard got the call, broke a weak tackle at the line of scrimmage, and ran virtually untouched to the three-yard line.

It was the only game of the season that Chelsea has managed to win with more than one turnover. Their success has, in large part, been due to the fact that they have held on to the football.

However, the Pirates fumbled the ball away three times and Jeff Stacey picked off a pass.

The Bulldogs looked primed for a blow-out in the first quarter, taking a 9-0 lead early in the second quarter.

A 35-yard field goal by Junior Marone, his first of the year, was set up by a high snap on a Pinckney punt. It gave Chelsea a 9-0 lead at the 3:34 mark of the first quarter.

After stopping the Pirates on their next drive, Starkey on the first play hit Hanley on a 44-yard pass play down the right sideline.

Three plays later Heard scored his first touchdown from five yards with 11:39 left in the half.

The Pirates scored on their next possession. The drive featured a 38-yard pass play in which the ball was fumbled out of bounds. Three plays later, quarterback Ken Wicher hit tight end Rob Nemeth with a 21-yard touchdown pass.

The kick was blocked and

RECAPING THE CHAMP OF Pinckney's Junior Nix is Chelsea quarterback Todd Starkey, who completed this pass to Kevin Flanagan. Starkey suffered a concussion later in the game, but is expected to play this week against Riverview.

SCORING THE WINNING TOUCHDOWN against Pinckney was Chelsea running back Curtis Heard (on the ground) with four seconds to go. As substitute quarterback Larry Nix, who directed the drive, leaps with joy (background), Heard set up the TD with a 38-yard run prior to this play.

Fresh Drop Football Finale

Chelsea's freshman football team took one on the chin last Tuesday night, Oct. 21 in losing to Monroe Catholic Central, 34-0, in the Bulldogs' final game of the season.

Despite the score, Chelsea coach Jim Tallman said the defense played well again but were on the field way too long because the Chelsea offense couldn't generate any consistency.

"Our first quarterback Kyle Plank was hurt early in the year, and we just didn't have enough time to develop anyone," Tallman said.

Chelsea fell behind 14-0 at half-time and the game went downhill from there.

"A couple of times they were knocking on the door, but we were able to stop them," Tallman said.

"The kids deserve a lot of credit for hanging in there."

Chelsea did not come close to scoring, Tallman said.

Tallman singled out the play of many of the boys on the defense, including Matt Harter and Chuck Kovick at linebacker, Todd Ferry and Keith Roth at defensive back, and Tim Vanschaick and Lucky Beaman at tackles.

Chelsea finished with a 2-5 over-all record.

Girl Harriers Earn Berth in State B Meet

Chelsea girls cross country team qualified for this Saturday's class B state meet by finishing second in a tough regional meet at Bath last Saturday, Oct. 25.

The Bulldogs were just seven points behind Jackson Luzzon Christi, the state's top-ranked team, 71-78. Luzzon Christi had its top five runners finish between 10th and 20th places.

The top three teams in each regional qualify for the state meet. Chelsea was way ahead of Colchester, the third team in the regional with 118 points.

Four other state-ranked teams that competed in the regional at Bath did not qualify for the state meet, including Alma, Mason, Portland and Hillsdale.

Chelsea's Kasey Anderson finished in second place over-all with a time of 19:22.

"We were just seven points behind the top team, and we hope to make that up for Saturday's state meet," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"The girls have their goal set and I hope they run well this week-end."

Two other Chelsea runners, Jennifer Rossi and Sallie Wilson, were named to the all-region team for their performances. Rossi finished ninth over-all in 20:13, and Wilson, 14th, in 20:36. Other Chelsea finishers included: Vicki Bullock, 22nd, 21:21; Robin Mock, 31st, 21:47; Debi Koenn, 38th, 21:54; and Alisha Dorow, 43rd, 22:07.

In other action last week, Anderson took the top spot in the Southeastern Conference meet on Tuesday, Oct. 21, in leading Chelsea to a second-place finish, just two points behind the Milan Big Red, the state's second-ranked team.

"Kasey Anderson ran an outstanding race," Clarke said.

"Jennifer Rossi and Sallie Wilson also ran well. I was very happy with the girls' efforts, even though we fell just a little short of Milan."

Anderson's winning time was 19:32. Other Chelsea finishers included: Rossi, fourth, 20:20; Wilson, ninth, 21:12; Koenn, 13th, 21:34; Bullock, 15th, 21:42; Mock, 18th, 21:53; and Wendy Hunn, 20th, 22:50.

Junior varsity finishers included: Dorow, first, 22:02; Anna Muncer, ninth, 23:52; Anne Stephenson, 12th, 24:15; Charity Strong, 13th, 24:24; Becca Burkel, 14th, 24:29; and Stephanie Wagner, 24th, 26:30.

DEBI KOENN will try to help her Chelsea cross country teammates to a state title this week-end at Huron Meadows Golf Course.

Chelsea JV Football Squad Matches Varsity, Takes SEC

Taking a lesson from their big brothers, Chelsea's junior varsity football team came out strong against one of the league's leading teams and won the "mythical JV championship," with an 18-7 pounding of the Pinckney Pirates.

Pinckney had an unblemished 5-0 mark in conference play and had not allowed more than a single touchdown in any game before bumping helmets with the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs' only previous league loss was to Saline.

"Our whole defense played exceptionally well," said coach Jim Ticknor.

The defense includes Chris Birtles, Jeff Prentice and Chris Keck at tackles, Chris Mackander and David Zerkel at ends, outside linebackers Jerry Reinhardt and Shannon Vredette, inside linebackers David White and Eric Frisinger, cornerbacks David Andress and Loren Keezer, and strong safety Jason Overdorf.

"Fredette was probably the key to the whole defense," Ticknor said.

"He was able to stop their outside game and make some great plays."

Fredette had 11 tackles.

Chelsea won the game despite less-than-championship play at the beginning of the game.

The Bulldogs had three turnovers in their first three possessions, helping to give the Pirates an early 7-0 lead.

Pinckney scored on its first possession and third play of the game, on a 48-yard run. Shortly thereafter, they had another touchdown called back on a penalty.

However, from the second quarter on, Chelsea dominated the game.

Early in the second period, the Bulldogs forced the Pirates to punt from deep in their own territory, and wound up with the ball at the Pinckney 35. Six plays later, Bryant Beard hit Zerkel with a touchdown pass. However, the two-point conversion failed, giving Pinckney a slim 7-6 lead.

Pinckney was chased backward on their next drive and the Bulldog defense recorded a safety, sacking the quarterback in the end zone. This gave Chelsea the lead for good at 8-7, and that's how the first half ended.

Fredette set up Chelsea's next scoring opportunity by tipping a Pirate pitchout and recovering the ball in Pinckney territory. A few plays later, Prentice kicked a 33-yard field goal that barely cleared the cross bar, giving the Bulldogs an 11-7 lead.

Another Pinckney turnover set up Chelsea's final score. Prentice intercepted a short screen pass at the Pirate 39.

After a 23-yard run by Luanan Strong, Beard ran the ball 11 yards for the touchdown. Prentice's kick pushed the score to 18-7.

"We were able to hold onto the ball the rest of the way and run out the clock," Ticknor said.

Chelsea finished the game with 264 total yards in offense, including 77 yards in the air on a 5-8 performance by Beard. Strong had 83 yards on 18 runs and Over-dorf gained 80 more on 14 carries.

Frisinger led the team in tackles with 15.

The Bulldogs' record moves to 7-1 with the final game of the year at Riverview tomorrow in a cross-over contest with the Huron League.

game on Saturday at Niehaus field beginning at 7:30 p.m. The opponent is Riverview, the champion of the Huron League.

Should Chelsea win the game, the Bulldogs will have an outside shot at a post-season playoff berth. With a win, the Bulldogs will pick up a minimum of 120 rating points. Points are based on the number of wins a team has, and the number of wins their opponents accumulated (see Sports Notes).

Although the Chelsea boys didn't qualify a team, they did qualify one runner, John Cattell, who has been the Bulldogs' top and most consistent runner this season. He'll run in the individual race.

There are two team races and two individual races in the meet. The girls team race is the first event, beginning at 12:30 p.m. sharp. The day ends with the boys' individual race.

Also, for the first time in quite a while, Chelsea will play a football

Bulldogs End Even Season

Buch Middle school's eighth grade basketball team finished the season with a 5-5 record with a split of two games last week.

The Bulldogs whipped Milan, 31-21, but were narrowly edged by Lincoln, 21-12.

In the Milan game, Brenda Brode, Sara Musolf, Krista Johnson, Stacey Gallagher, Carrie Flintoff, Colleen Scharphorn, Kate Dilworth, Kristin Buhlender, Jane Pacheco, Jennifer Bond and Mercedes Hammer all scored.

Hammer, Flintoff, Deanna Richardson and Pacheco were the leading rebounders with nine, seven, five and four, respectively.

Chelsea hit 13-54 shots from the floor and 5-13 from the foul line.

"It was a well-played game," said Bulldog coach Jon Schaffner.

Lincoln made a three-point play with three seconds left to take the win. Chelsea had outscored their opponents 15-11 in the second half and led throughout most of the fourth quarter.

Chelsea scorers included Hammer, Pacheco, Colleen Scharphorn, Flintoff, Dilworth, and Shawn Losey.

Flintoff, Hammer, and Dilworth led the team in rebounding.

"The girls showed a lot of improvement over the season," Schaffner said.

"A two-point and a one-point loss kept them from winning their last four games."

Other girls who finished the season on the team included Dana Durst, Lisa Hamrick, Angie Nagel, Kelly Bellus, Tonia Davis, Cari Thirkow, and Nicole Fletcher.

LINEBACKER MARCUS PLETCHER made a nice open field tackle on Pinckney running back Tim Skover last Friday night. Skover hurt the Dogs, catching a touchdown pass, but the game belonged to the Bulldogs.

Swim Team Wins Over Dexter, 104-62

Chelsea girls swim team came away with a victory over the Dexter Drednoughts on Tuesday, Oct. 21.

Although the Dexter team was low in numbers they did have some very good athletes and showed a lot of talent and desire," said coach Mike Keeler.

The highlight of the evening was the 100-yard backstroke race between Dexter's Denise Ward and Chelsea's Sharon Colombo as Ward qualified for state in winning the event and Colombo, in her first time swimming the event, was two tenths of a second off the state qualifying time.

Sharon showed a lot in that backstroke swim, but Denise just had a little more experience in the race and was swimming extremely well as she also made the state cut in the 50-yard freestyle.

Other Bulldogs who swam well were Helen Cooper, who swam two personal best times in the 200-yard individual medley and the 500-yard freestyle races and had an outstanding anchor leg on the medley relay. Suzanne Cooper who earned her varsity letter at the 100-yard butterfly, and Robyn Hafner, who also swam two personal bests.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln Win Final SEC Contests

Chelsea Bulldogs completed a perfect league season with a win over Pincney, and Dexter won its second game of the year in a close contest with Tecumseh, two highlights of the final week of SEC football action.

Chelsea 14, Pincney 13—

Chelsea running back Curtis Heard scored a three-yard touchdown with four seconds to go to give Chelsea its sixth straight league win.

Chelsea began their final drive at their own 25 with 3:37 left, but quickly found themselves at their own 13 after a sack. They moved the ball downfield on passes from Larry Nix to Junior Morrison. With 37 seconds to go, and a fourth down and two from the Pincney 37, Heard broke a tackle at the line and ran to the three.

Pincney had fallen behind 9-0 in the second quarter before rallying to a 12-9 lead at half-time on passes from Ken Wicker to Rob Nemeth and Tim Stover.

The game was marred by turnovers by both teams.

Dexter 3, Tecumseh 0—

Tecumseh turned the ball over six times and got as far as the Dexter 25 only once as Dexter held on for their second win of the season.

Drednought Andy Walsh kicked a 31-yard field goal in the third quarter, the only score of the game. The Dexter drive covered 38 yards on 12 plays.

The ladies defense held the Drednoughts on three goal-line stands.

Lincoln 14, Milan 0—

The game was scoreless through the first half as Lincoln double-teamed Milan ace receiver Ernest Walker and took away the Big Reds' big play of offense.

Lincoln drew first blood after Scott Pinner picked off a pass at the Milan 32. Raispitter quarterback Noah Nagy then hit Shawn Martin with a touchdown pass. The two-point conversion was good.

The Raispitters took a 16-0 lead after Thomas caught a 30-yard touchdown pass early in the fourth quarter, capping a 63-yard drive.

Walker scored the only Milan touchdown on a 33-yard pass from Pat Heath.

Saline 22

Breeds: a Columbus Central 0—

Saline's defense forced four turnovers and held BCC to 137 total yards.

Grant Fauring hit David Haft on a 18-yard pass play, capping a 61-yard scoring drive in the first quarter.

Brian Bozo scored Saline's second touchdown in the third quarter on a 25-yard run, set up by his own kick return to the BCC 36.

Saline nailed the door shut in the fourth quarter on a one-yard touchdown run by Greg Van Kirk.

Bulldog Gridders Face Tough Riverview Saturday

 Chelsea held a 5-6 lead.
 After a Chelsea fumble at the Pincney 37, the Pirates sustained a drive to the Chelsea two before Wicker passed to running back Tim Skriver for a touchdown on the left side of the end zone.

Chelsea nearly scored one more time in the half on a drive that began at the Building 24 with 1:43 remaining. After reaching the 50, Starkey completed three consecutive sideline passes but after the last catch the Bulldog receiver landed in bounds at the eight and Chelsea had no time out.

Throughout the third and most of the fourth quarters both teams had scoring opportunities stall. Chelsea one time got as far as the Pincney 19 before a sack on fourth down and seven stopped the drive.

Nix took over at quarterback with just under seven minutes to go in the game. The Bulldogs gained exactly one yard in their next drive.

"You're really got to give Larry a lot of credit," Welton said.

"He got the job done when we needed it."

Chelsea had its biggest passing night since last season, completing 11-14 for 168 yards. Hadley led all receivers with four catches for 66 yards and Morris had four for 46 yards.

Heard broke the 1,000 yard mark for the season with a 128-yard performance on 25 carries. Morris added 23 yards on five tries.

Defensively, Matt Behlender led the team with 11 tackles and a fumble recovery. Joe Eason, who had a fumble recovery, and Leo Durham, each had seven tackles. Randy Ferry had six.

Chelsea's opponent, Riverview, comes into Saturday's 7:30 p.m. contest with a 7-1 record and will be the best team the Bulldogs have seen this year. Riverview is coming off a 30-12 loss to Monroe-Jefferson, which gave the Huron League a three-way tie for first place.

"They will be the most diversified team we have seen all year," Welton said.

"They have two quarterbacks, one who's a little better at passing and the other who's a little better at running the option. We'll have to play well."

JUNIOR MORSELAU runs for daylight during Chelsea's thrilling 16-12 win over the Pirates to finish undefeated in the Southeastern Conference. Morris, and substitute quarterback Larry Nix, played a key role in the comeback win.

Regular Exercise Can Prolong Life

By Will Connolly

It has been proved again, most recently by physicians at the Harvard and Stanford medical schools, that men and women who exercise regularly outlive non-exercisers by 16, 15, even 25 years.

The same researchers, plus thousands of coaches and trainers, have tons of evidence that 20 to 45 minutes of earnest exercise three or four times a week can prolong human life well beyond the expectancy of 72 years for white men and 79 for white women.

There are more than 20 different kinds of exercises that lend themselves to a physical fitness regimen. These include indoor and outdoor activities, sports and a choice of workouts in private gyms. We only have room to touch on a few of them. Two aerobic favorites—walking and swimming—deserve special attention because they are suited to Chesians of all ages every month of the year.

Walking is convenient because it can be done anytime and anywhere in the area, alone or with companions, and without the risks that people face in urban high crime districts. Sidewalks and roadsides are free, and the daily route options are limitless.

Swimming for adults is one of the special benefits of the Chelsea School district with its Charles Cameron Natatorium. Admission is $2 for adults and free for those over 68. Designated lanes in the 25-yard pool are set aside for adult lap swimmers during "rec" swims from 8 to 9 Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, plus 2:30 to 4 p.m. Saturdays. Adult lap swimmers have the pool all to themselves from 9 to 10 Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. They also have exclusive use of the pool every school morning from 8 to 8:50.

Outdoor Report

From DNR District Office in Jackson

General . . .

Few leaves have fallen and the fall color is impressive. Oak trees are fully leaved in soft brown and rust colors. Grey dogwood shrubs are heavily laden with white-colored berries and the stagbom sumac are bright red.

Robins, thrushes, cardinals and other songbirds are migrating. They stop at the state game and recreation areas to feast on the fruit provided by past beckerow and edge plantings.

Pheasant season opened Oct. 29 and the reports are that the bird population is up. The number of hunters is up, also. Look for fields and habitat development complexes to hunt. As the leaves fall, grouse, woodcock and cottontails will be more easily found. As the corn harvest progresses, pheasants may be found in the low, thick standing areas in the early morning and late afternoon hours.

Sandhill cranes are beginning to gather at the Healee Sanctuary on the Waterloo Recreation Area. As many as 700 may be seen in late October, north of Seymour Rd. These beautiful birds may be viewed from a hilltop and from a drive-through area.

Hunting . . .

Deer permits have been mailed out and should have been received. Elk permits (about 90 this year) will be mailed out around Nov. 1.

Fur harvester licenses are needed this year to hunt and trap fox, coon, mink, bobcat, and to trap coyote, weasel, muskrat, beaver, otter, skunk, and opossum. (These are needed on your own land). Small game licenses (not needed on your own enclosed land were you live regularly) are needed for hunting rabbits, squirrels, pheasants, turkeys (with special permit) ruffed grouse, sharpshin grouse, woodcock, coyote, woodchuck, crow, porcupine, weasel, opossum, skunk, and waterfowl.

McClung Poster Designed For Botanical Gardens Sale

Ruby-throated hummingbirds and the Michigan lily are the focus of the 1986 Matthaei Botanical Gardens poster.

Entitled "Flower to Flower," the fundraising poster was published by the Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens and is scheduled for release to the public on Saturday, Nov. 1 at the Friends annual Fall Crafts Sale. Hours for the Fall Sale are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 1. A special preview sale for Friends members only will be held the previous evening, Friday, Oct. 31, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The poster's creator, renowned wildlife artist Catherine McClung of Dexter, will be available Friday evening and Saturday at the Fall Sale to meet visitors and personalize posters. The Fall Sale will be held in the Gardens Auditorium. Posters are $20. Friends members who purchase the poster at the pre-sale or regular sale can receive it for $16. The Friends invite all interested persons to join the Friends organization the night of the pre-sale.

Earlier this year, Mr. McClung met with past director of the Gardens, Professor William S. Benninghoff and collections botanist, Annie Hanson, to discuss the design for the poster. The subject, hummingbirds and the Michigan lily, are favorites of the artist and of naturalists, as the hummingbirds are pollinators of the lily in the wild. Just as hummingbirds have become highly modified for feeding on tubular flowers, so the flowers have also evolved to attract and provide nourishment for the hummingbirds. These birds, in turn, serve as pollen vectors, carrying pollen from one flower to the next, as the birds search for nectar.

Ms. McClung made plans to do

"FLOWER TO FLOWER," a fund-raising poster, designed by Catherine McClung of Dexter, will be offered by Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens at their annual fall sale. The poster artist's creator will be present at the sale Saturday, Nov. 1 to meet visitors and personalize posters.

the artwork for the poster in the month of July, a time when she had, in the past, observed the Michigan lily blooming in the woods surrounding her home near Dexter. She made a visit to the Gardens in July when several Michigan lilies were in bloom in the Gardens Woodland Wildflower Garden to make photographic studies of the flowers. As she worked, a female ruby-throated hummingbird visited the flowers she was photographing. This serendipitous moment added extra magic to the creation of a very beautiful piece of art.

Congress Fails To OK Revisions In Pesticide Law

Before adjournment last week-end, Congress failed to approve a sweeping revision of FIFRA, the nation's pesticide law. Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau, said the organization was disappointed that the House and Senate could not agree on a final measure.

"The FIFRA amendments were very important to the future use of pesticides by farmers," Almy said. "We were especially disappointed by the failure to approve the amendment that would have assured that farmers would not be held liable for damages when pesticides are used in accordance with label directions."

Almy said that FIFRA revisions will be one of the first measures that Congress takes up when it comes back to work in January.

Schools Will Celebrate Halloween

Students at South and North Elementary schools will celebrate Halloween, Friday, Oct. 31 with parades in their respective neighborhoods to show off their costumes, followed by parties in the individual classrooms.

The parade at South school will start at 2 p.m. and circle around the block nearest the school, passing Pierce, Grant, Lincoln, and Taylor Sts. The children at North school will march behind the school, in the Lanewood subdivision, starting at 1:45 p.m.

Beach Middle school is beginning its Halloween celebration a week earlier, on Oct. 24, with a "tricks to eat" party for the 6th graders and a dance party for the 7th and 8th graders.

A disc jockey will provide music for the dance which will last from 2:30 to 4 p.m. The school cafeteria, cleared for dancing, will be decorated in a style appropriate for Halloween. Besides dancing, students will have the option of using the gym or the pool.

The sixth grade party will also start at 2:30 but will end at 3:10 so the students can catch their buses home. The swimming pool, library, and computer rooms will be open during the party.

The high school has no formal plans for Halloween.

Effects of Alcohol Use Discussion Set For Nov. 3 Meet

How alcohol affects the human body is the topic of Brighton Hospital's next Community Education Program on Nov. 3.

The free program begins at 7 p.m. in the chapel with a film on the disease of chemical dependency. Following the film a member of the hospital's counseling services staff will answer questions from the audience and explain how alcoholism and other types of drug abuse can be treated.

According to Ivan C. Harner, the hospital's president, the Community Education Program was developed to help those who are concerned about the drinking habits of a family member or friend. The series is also very helpful for parents and others in the community who are involved in substance abuse prevention programs, notes Harner.

The Community Education Program is held on the first Thursday evening of each month and is open to the public. Reservations are not required.

Brighton Hospital is located on E. Grand River, just off Exit 151 of the I-96 freeway.

Sesqui Celebration Honors Michigan's Oldest Railroad

Michigan's first railroad will be honored at 2 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 2, in Blissfield. Exactly to the day, 100 years ago, the Erie & Kalamazoo (E & K) Railroad began service between Toledo (then Port Lawrence) and Adrian. The railroad was the first in the U.S. west of Schenectady, N.Y.

Since Michigan is also observing its 150th anniversary, the occasion has been designated a Michigan Sesquicentennial event," said Merri Jo Bales, executive director Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission.

Activities honoring the railroad's sesquicentennial will take place at the railroad crossing on Blissfield's N. Main St. Blissfield was chosen as site of the event because original trackage still exists there.

Events include: The dedication of an official state historical marker; a reception/buffet at the Hathaway House where Michigan Department of Transportation will present a historic set of linen maps of the Erie and Kalamazoo line to the State Archives; a display of railroad artifacts and memorabilia by the Southern Michigan Railroad Society; a locomotive and a railroad coach also will be on display.

Originally, the E & K Railroad was to connect the Maumee River to the headwaters of the Kalamazoo River which flows to Lake Michigan. The economic panic of 1837, the Michigan-Ohio boundary dispute, and Michigan's government ownership of railroads venture resulted in the E & K line ending at Adrian—a distance of 36 miles from Toledo.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I attended the Chelsea High school football game on Oct. 17. I had been told it was the Homecoming game, but when I got there and it was the beginning of the second quarter I decided that I had been misinformed. There were no convertibles lined up on the ball ready to drive down on to the football field with the Homecoming Queen candidates sitting next to their escorts, smiling with anticipation while butterflies fly around in their stomachs.

Right before half-time I decided to wait in line at the senior stand for some hot chocolate. After a while I heard someone announcing his welcome to everyone at the 1986 Chelsea Homecoming game. Naturally I ran back to my seat to watch the festivities, the hot chocolate could wait. I scanned the field and the track area, but I still did not see any shiny convertibles circling the field. Much to my surprise I noticed a group of people WALKING on to the track from around the bleachers! I then turned to my friend to express to her how I could not believe how much things have changed from when we were in school only six years ago. When I looked back to watch the Homecoming Queen candidates, they were already gone! That was it, it was over in just a couple of brief moments.

When I was a Homecoming Queen candidate in 1978, half-time was fully dedicated to the Homecoming Queen ceremony. We rode down to the field in convertibles, circled the field, got out of the cars, assisted by our escorts, and we walked on to a stage where we were announced by our escort. It was the climax to a week referred to as "Fep Week," which is when a bunch of fun-filled activities took place; the three-legged race, apple bob, powder-puff, blind and gold day, hot dog, obstacle course run, class spirit competition, etc. and the Homecoming half-time was the highlight of the entire week. As a Homecoming Queen candidate, it wasn't so much winning necessarily, but the thrill and the honor. Now that great half-time festivity has dwindled down to walking on to the field for a couple of moments and it's over.

Come on Chelsea, what's happened to your old-fashioned, fun-loving spirit?

Maureen J. Crawford
Class of 1986.

Dear Editor:

I just got home from a long evening of dinner and football with the student/athletes and coaching staff who make up the Chelsea High school junior varsity football team and cheerleading squad.

In my eight years of working at Chelsea schools, this football season has been one of my most rewarding experiences. I would like these students to know I am so pleased to have known and worked with them and I think the community of Chelsea should be aware of this fine group of athletes and coaches too.

The cheerleaders have been un-failing in their support of the team and the team has expressed their appreciation to them many times. Each squad has gained respect for the other over the season.

The coaches are very professional, but are at the same time really liked and respected by the athletes. This is sometimes a hard position to attain.

The group deserves to be called the SEC champions that they are (South Eastern Conference). The community of Chelsea can be very proud of them.

Maureen K. Bohl
Junior Varsity
Cheerleading Advisor

P.S.—I would also like to mention that the students really appreciated the loyal fans and parents who supported them. You've all been great!

Vorus Family Finds Debris From Russian Ship in Florida

While visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Neal, at their beach house at Melbourne Beach, Fla., Julie and Bill Vorus and their sons, Julian and John, found debris apparently from an, as yet undetermined, ship sinking. The largest piece appeared to be the lid of a mortar crate. Green on the outside, inside it had Russian writing and slots for mortars. They found about 15 smaller pieces, including an ammunition box and two wooden signs stamped with the Spanish words, "Patria o Muerte" (fatherland or death).

The family also found, but did not pick up, kitchen debris such as onions, apples, and half-empty wine bottles.

The local sheriff came out to the Neal residence and cataloged the Vorus find before taking it to an Air Force base. The Vorus family kept one of the Spanish signs.

Asked why these remains had both Spanish and Russian writing on them, Julie Vorus said, "The most logical explanation, although not confirmed by the authorities, is that it is debris from a Russian ship bringing military supplies to Cuba."

The Vorus' discovery was part of a large collection of debris which began washing ashore along the southern half of the eastern Florida coast the week-end of Oct. 18-19. The Vorus family made their find on Oct. 26, the day before they returned home to North Lake.

Other reported findings were of similar nature. Words found on debris included "allene Cuba" and "CCCP" (the Soviet Union abbreviation). In southern Florida some of the crates washed ashore still contained ammunition including fuses which were described by an Air Force spokesman as "detonation devices most commonly used for Soviet 122-mm rockets."

"So far, there is no evidence to link the debris with any specific event. Two theories, neither one confirmed by the FBI, are that the debris came from a Bahamian freighter that sank Oct. 3 off Lake Worth inlet or from a Soviet nuclear submarine which sank off the Bermuda coast Oct. 4.

SHIPWRECK TREASURE: John and Julian Vorus held up one of the signs they found at Melbourne Beach, Fla., in the debris washed up from an as yet unidentified shipwreck. Military equipment and words in both Spanish and Russian were found in the debris leading to speculation that it came from a Russian ship taking supplies to Cuba. John and Julian's sign reads "Patria O Muerte" which is Spanish for "Fatherland or Death."

A HUNDREDS YEARS AGO this was probably a pretty common scene at the Chelsea depot as people were dropped off to take a train ride into Detroit. However, this scene took place just last week as Paul and Beverly Ballinger were given a ride for their 30th wedding anniversary. The baggy, which used to belong to Paul, was bought by Kathy Kestala, right front, and sent to an Amish craftsman for restoration work. Kathy, and front-seat passenger Pat Koch, plan to rent the horse and buggy out for special occasions such as weddings.

Flag Corps Rated First at EMU Event

Chelsea High School Marching Band and Flag Corps participated in Eastern Michigan University's Band Night, Saturday, Oct. 18.

The band was the guest of EMU as were 23 other bands from throughout Michigan.

The bands rehearsed in the afternoon under the direction of Dr. Max Plank, director of bands, and Whitney Prince, assistant director of bands.

During the afternoon rehearsal, 15 flag corps competed in the third annual flag corps competition held during Band Night. The Chelsea Flag Corps was awarded first place in the competition.

This was the second time Chelsea has finished first. The last time was two years ago when the band had attempted EMU's first year.

Flag captain Dawn Spade was responsible for choreographing and teaching the routine to the flag corps.

Phil Jones, English teacher and yearbook and newspaper advisor at Chelsea High school, voluntarily assists the flag corps as an instructor.

When asked who instructs the flags by admirers at EMU,

Jones' response was "the girls do it themselves." According to band director Bill Gourley, however, Jones is an invaluable part of the flags and band. "His constant work with the corps has developed one of the most respected corps in the state. The flags enhance the band's over-all performance," according to Gourley.

As always, the band received high praise from spectator and other bands. Their poise and high standards were evident on and off the field. Many admirers commented to chaperons and band members that they obviously are an outstanding band.

The day's activities also included dinner hosted by EMU for all the bands. A fine performance of the EMU Marching Band at pre-game especially for the high school bands and a high scoring EMU win over Ohio University.
