Re-Zoning Application Includes Plans for Motel, Shopping Center Complex

THIS BIG PARCEL OF LAND north of Brown Dr. and west of M-52 may become the site of a motel-shopping center complex if developer Rene Papo can persuade the village to re-zone the northern part of the land. Papo, of Ann Arbor, applied to have the zoning changed from C-3 to

C-4, which would allow the shopping portion of the development. Late last year the council voted not to allow the re-zoning of the southern portion of the land for a similar shopping center.

Developer Rene Papo has submitted preliminary site plans to the village for a complex that would include a 125,000-square-foot shopping center and a 120-bed motel on vacant land off M-52 near I-94.

Papo submitted the plans along with an application to re-zone a portion of the property to allow the shopping center to be built.

The land, located behind Broderick Shell, Schumm's Restaurant, Chelsea Big Boy and Taco Bell off M-52, is bordered on the south by Brown Dr., and on the west and north by the village limits. Just to the north of the proposed complex is Chelsea Lumber Co.

The entire parcel is zoned C-3, which allows highway access businesses such as motels, restaurants and car dealerships. Papo's application asks that approximately 60 percent of the northern portion be re-zoned C-4, which would allow the shopping center development.

The Village Planning Commission was scheduled to set a time for a public hearing on the request at Tuesday night's meeting. The likely time for the hearing would be the planning commission's next meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 10.

Late last year, the village council denied a request by Rogar Development Co. of Farmington Hills to re-zone the southern portion of the property to C-4 for a similar strip mall project, saying the re-zoning would conflict with the village's General Development Plan. However, Rogar's plans did not call for the construction of a motel. Arguments by village council against Rogar's plans included the fact that the parcel is one of the few village parcels zoned for a motel.

When asked how the village could turn down one request to re-zone a portion of the C-3 land and grant another, Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner declined an opinion, but said, "Mr. Papo apparently thinks this is a different kind of proposal altogether." Fahrner confirmed that Papo is aware of what happened to Rogar's request.

Papo, whose Arcus Corp. is headquartered in Ann Arbor, could not be reached for comment.

The application by Arcus Corp. was made on behalf of the landowners, who are listed as Chuck Broderick and CEP Profit Sharing Trust.

All along Papo has been talking about building a strip mall on land between Chelsea State Bank and the Chelsea Fairgrounds on M-52. By press time it could not be determined whether or not Papo has abandoned those original plans.

The preliminary plans, drawn up by Van Curler Associates of Ann Arbor, call for a two-story, 120-room motel to be built on the southwestern corner of the property, covering 64,900 square feet. The plans did not specify whether a motel chain was involved.

To the east of the motel would be located two restaurants, 7,400 and 4,200 square feet.

The shopping area would essentially follow the northern border of the land. Included would be an Ames Department Store covering 43,200 square feet in the northwest corner, 64,500 square feet of smaller commercial enterprises, an 8,000-square foot drug store on the northeast corner, and 9,000 additional unspecified square feet of retail space.

The main entrance would be located between Schumm's and Chelsea Big Boy. There would also be two smaller entrances off Brown Dr.

Fahrner said that the main entrance would probably require a traffic light. However, that decision would be made by the Michigan Department of Transportation since M-52 is a state route.

The plans also call for 1,050 parking spaces, nearly 200 more than are required.

A water-retention pond for storm runoff water would be located in the northwest corner behind the buildings.

The land cannot be re-zoned until at least March. After the planning commission's public hearing, the commission will make a recommendation to the village council, which the council does not have to abide by.

A second public hearing will be scheduled by the council, after which the decision will be made.

Courthouse Renovation Could Start in Spring

Bids could go out as early as April for the renovation of Chelsea's 14th District Courthouse, according to Washtenaw County Director of Facilities Management Tom Freeman.

The courthouse, on the northwest corner of S. Main and South Sts., is scheduled to be renovated into what Freeman calls a "Western County Subcenter." The renovation would also restore the original architecture of the building, exposing its dome and intricate woodwork and wood floors. The building was originally the home of the Chelsea State Bank in 1901.

After the renovation, the building will become more than a full service court. It will also be the home of the Chelsea substation of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, now located in the Chelsea School District's bus garage off Old US-12. The substation will be located in the basement of the courthouse.

In addition, there will be a multi-purpose meeting room upstairs where meetings and demonstrations can be held by various county groups, such as the Co-operative Extension Service and the Community Mental Health Program, Freeman said. The room will be able to seat 40-50 people.

The court will also be expanded to allow jury trials, which are now handled in Saline due to a lack of space in Chelsea.

Other improvements call for the installation of an elevator in the back of the building, which will allow complete handicap access to all three floors. The building is now inaccessible to the handicapped.

Mechanical systems, such as the heating system, will also be upgraded.

Poley/Mitchell, an Ann Arbor architectural firm, which has done similar projects at courthouses in Marquette and Iron counties, has been retained.

"We hope the design work is completed and evaluated within four to six weeks," Freeman said.

"Bids could go out in April and construction would commence as soon as possible."

Freeman said construction would take eight to 10 months.

It has not been determined how Chelsea's court services will be handled during the construction, Freeman said.

"There will be a court presence in Chelsea," Freeman said.

"The clerk's office could be moved to another building in Chelsea, or it could stay in the courthouse. Personally I would favor moving the clerk somewhere else so construction isn't slowed down."

"Trials would probably be moved to the 14th District courthouse in Saline, Freeman said.

Total cost of the project is estimated to be $465,000. A total of $165,000 has been pledged by Chelsea-area interests. Contributors have included the village, townships, area attorneys and companies.

Spearheading the drive for donations was the Historic Chelsea District Courthouse (HCDC) group, whose president is Chelsea attorney Peter Flintoft.

The Board of Advisors of HCDC include John B. Swainson, former state governor, Dudley Holmes, Jr., vice-president of Chelsea Milling Co., Paul Schaible, president of Chelsea State Bank, Harold A. Jones, past president of the Chelsea Area Historical Society, and Mark Heydlauff, chairman of the Chelsea Downtown Development Authority.

Freeman said that as far as he knows, Chelsea-area groups will not be asked to contribute more money should the project go over $465,000.

A camera was stolen from a boy's locker at Chelsea High school on Dec. 19, according to Chelsea police.

Police said the camera belonged to Jason T. Smith.

SERGEANT HARLEY RIDER ADVISES the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department is using a new Centrex phone system and telephone numbers for the various WCSD stations are changed. The situation brings both "good news and bad news" for the western Washtenaw county area.

Emergency Phone for Sheriff is 971-3991!

Oops! People residing in western Washtenaw county, please be notified that emergency messages intended for the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department should be relayed by calling "971-3991" from any location.

The emergency telephone line is part of the much-publicized nine-one-one (911) effort to more effectively channel requests requiring immediate attention by law enforcement agencies.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD) has recently installed a new Centrex telephone system, and guess what? The new system missed being included in the newest telephone directory!

Please jot the phone numbers on your new directory (or other prominent location near your telephone).

To contact the WCSD's Dexter station, phone 971-9042. If someone is in the Dexter office, it will be answered on the first couple of rings.

If the deputy on duty is in the patrol car or otherwise out of the office, the call will, after the third ring, automatically switch to the communications center at the Sheriff's Department main station (station one) located on Hogback Rd., and your message may be given to the deputy in Dexter via radio.

However, if you "only wish to speak directly" with a deputy in the Dexter office, phone 971-9068 and the line will go unanswered if no one is in the office. This line will "not" switch to the communications center.

To reach WCSD Scio Township-Station 7, phone 971-9153; this line does switch to the WCSD communications center after three rings.

For WCSD-Chelsea Station 3, telephone 971-9076, another line which has the automatic switching capability to transfer the caller to the communications center at the main station after three rings.

Manchester's WCSD Station may be contacted by dialing 971-9036; after the third ring, this line will transfer the caller to a communications officer at the Hogback Rd. center.

Remember, to place an emergency call, telephone 971-3991, the line which receives priority answering.

Community Fireworks Organization Forming To Produce July 4 Display

An organization called "Chelsea Community Fireworks," dedicated solely to producing the annual Fourth of July display, is being formed under the leadership of Harold Allen. They are holding an organizational meeting Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Woodland Room B of the Chelsea Community Hospital. Any men and women interested in helping with this yearly event are urged to attend, either as individuals or as representatives of groups.

Allen has signed a contract with the Fair Board to reserve the fairgrounds for the fireworks and is now working with a supplier, Colonial Fireworks of Ypsilanti, to decide on this year's order. He says he has been assured by village president Jerry Satterthwaite that he does not anticipate a problem waiving the village ordinance that prohibits fireworks.

The only problems left to be solved are insurance and funding. Allen has heard that the Kiwanis Club, who last year secured insurance, will no longer be able to do it. However, he has been talking with Colonial Fireworks who think they can work something out. As for funding, Allen hopes that the community will support this event as it has in the past. The fireworks organization will establish a Ways and Means committee to deal with the problem.

This is the third year Allen has worked on the fireworks display. Two years ago he worked with that year's sponsor, the American Legion, learning all he could because he knew that the next year the Jaycees, of which he was then president, were going to take over. Last year, Allen was the chair of the fireworks endeavor.

Allen believes that putting on the fireworks is a big job and too much for an organization to do in addition to other activities. He foresees the problems of insurance and funding as ones that are going to have to be dealt with every year. He also thinks that if the proposed new mall next to Polly's is built, parking will become a bigger problem that may even necessitate finding a new location for the fireworks.

Costs of the fireworks have risen every year. Two years ago they were about $2,000. Last year they ran to $3,400. Allen predicts they will cost a few thousand more this year. The main item of expenditure is the fireworks themselves. Additional costs are for insurance and to pay professional assistants.

Allen has several improvements he would like to see implemented. He feels in past years the middle part of the fireworks program has sagged and would like to see that part made more exciting. He would like to see the program extended from 20 minutes to half an hour. He would like to add some shells that have not been shot in Chelsea before. And he has several ideas to improve the safety of the event.

The new organization, when in place, should assure, in Allen's words, "that the fireworks go off smoothly each year."

BRIAN MERKEL thought he'd give the new snow shovel a tryout last Saturday morning after he and his daddy stepped outside Gambles store. "Now if I can only get him to do this at home," his father, Tim, said before taking the youngster home.

The Rev. Dr. Harvey G. Pearce, 89, retired Methodist minister and a descendant of a pioneer North Lake area family, died Saturday after a long illness. Dr. Pearce was born at Leoni, Aug. 24, 1873, a son of the Rev. Francis and Adella Glenn Pearce. He was married to Emma Buhl in 1899. The Pearces celebrated their golden wedding in 1949 at North Lake at the former Glenn family homestead site at the corner of North Territorial and Hanked Rd. which they had acquired. During his 41 years in the active ministry of the Methodist Church he served churches at Chelsea, Scofield, Carleton, Bay City, East Tawas, Morenci, Pontiac and Detroit.

Robert Daniels was installed as president of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea—the third member of his family to hold the office. Outgoing president A. S. Penhallegon handed the president's pin he has worn the past year to James Daniels. Daniels, in turn, handed it to Warren Daniels who pinned it to the lapel of the newest president. The president's pin is the same one worn by all other presidents of the club. It is believed to be one of only two pins in the state that have been handed down in this manner since the charter president first wore it.

Runkel Cites Education Improvements During 1986

An increase in state school aid funding, along with the establishment of a guaranteed college tuition program and teacher competency examinations, were hailed as major educational accomplishments in 1986 by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip E. Runkel.

Runkel also noted major initiatives launched this year by the State Board of Education.

In presenting a review of calendar year 1986 relative to education issues, Runkel said the 1986 State School Aid Bill was the third consecutive effort of the Governor and the Legislature to increase state funds for public education.

"This year's appropriation totaled $1,973 million—which is $130 million more than the previous year," he said. "Not only was the appropriation for per-pupil membership aid up by $90 million, this year's state aid act also included an increase of $40 million for categorical aid."

He also praised Blanchard's higher education financing bill, the Michigan Education Trust, a saving program for parents of future college students, and applauded the Legislature's establishment of teacher competency exams which are to be prepared by the State Board, and adoption of a certification system for school administrators.

"At the same time, the State Board of Education, for the third consecutive year since the establishment of a 'Blueprint for Action' in 1984, took further steps to increase the proficiency of the teaching profession and that will continue in the coming year," Runkel said.

The board this year gave final approval to a set of new teacher certification rule changes, okayed a set of recommendations aimed at solving Michigan's new teacher needs, tripled the number of teachers and the amount of money allocated to them in mini-grants, and scheduled a series of teacher forums for early 1987 to provide input from Michigan teachers on ways to improve education in the state.

"1986 also saw the establishment of more appropriate rules governing special education in the state as well as the approval of new administrative rules that will streamline state funding of school transportation," Runkel said.

The board also launched pilot testing of a proposed school accreditation system for elementary and junior high schools, he noted.

Runkel said student achievement during 1986 on the Michigan Education Assessment Tests hit an all-time high on five of the six tests.

And Michigan college-bound high school students again scored above the national average on both the American College Test (ACT) and the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

"Citizen ratings of the public schools in 1986, as reported in the sixth annual Michigan Education Poll, were the highest recorded in the six-year history of that annual barometer of public opinion about Michigan's public schools," Runkel concluded.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb took a long shot at gitting resolutions on the agender Saturday night at the country store. He said making em shows a feller has got ambition, even it don't last through January. Zeke said resoluting is like aiming, and when you quit aiming you quit going. Fer starters, Zeke said, he was going easy on hisself. He resoluted to laugh onct a day all through 1987 whuther he got tickled or not. His idee got a little rise out of the fellers.

Bug Hookum, fer one, said he was fer resolutions like he is fer exercise. They're both wonderful in theory, but they git pritty tiresome in practice. Bug said he was agreed with Zeke about setting a course, but a feller has got to be careful not to aim to high. He that wants his reach to exceed his grasp is out there grabbing hard as he can all the time, and he fergits to laugh at all, was Zeke's words.

Practical speaking, Clem Webster said, he likes to see the rankings of top stories that were and the viewing with alarm of what will be. Clem said he aius takes comfort this time of year from what must be an Associated Press tradition of reporting the state of heaven and hell. Last week he had saw where the trend is keeping on and the gap is gitting wider. Ever year, a higher percent of people believe in heaven than the year before, and a lower percent believe in hell. Right now, the AP says, we're up to 80 percent heaven and down to 65 percent hell. Without gitting bogged down in deeper meanings, Clem said, he sees this annual finding as word that fer all our problems more folks are walking through life on the sunny side of the street and worrying less about the shadows.

Ed Doolittle said that was some of the wooliest thinking he'd ever had the misfortune to listen to. We might jest as well say more folks believe in heaven hereafter because they figger they're gitting their hell here, was Ed's words. Fer sure, he went on, ever time he puts some thought to sorting out the country's and the world's problems he feels like he felt the time a waiter told him the water wasn't muddy, the glass was jest dirty. To put his response to Clem happy days interperatation another way, Ed said, Clem is to filosophy what wild onions is to a milk cow.

Farthermore, Ed went on, if you're looking on the sunny side chances are you're like that captain that said he'd jest begun to fight, you don't understand the situation. Fer sure that's true of what the politicians keep calling tax reform. Ever time we hear somepun new about it the news is bad, and with a Democrat Congress drooling over the President's problems and calling the Gram-Rudman Act a two-man grandstand farce the silver linings are hard to find, was Ed's words.

Actual, Bug said, he would not class hisself as a doomsayer, but it's hard to see Clem's way. Bug had saw where the Environment Protection Agency now has took off after wood stoves. It is going to set standards on how much wood smoke can go up a chimney like it does fer coal in smokestacks and gas in car tailpipes. All of which proves that nothing fails likes success in this country. No sooner do 12 million families cut their power bills an save oil by burning wood than the Government throws water on their fire. On top of that, the surgeon general reminds us we can't git out alive by saying secondhand cigaret smoke is killing us as fast as firsthand.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Suzuki Violin Group To Present Workshop Concert

Chelsea Suzuki Violin Group will be having its third annual Winter Violin Workshop on Saturday, Jan. 17 at the First Congregational church of Chelsea, 121 E. Middle St.

The group is composed of 11 area children ranging in age from five to 11, and the event will be led by guest teacher Mrs. Linda Etter of Ann Arbor.

The Suzuki method of musical instruction has as its goal to enrich the lives of young children and their parents through music. This is done by deepening their sensitivity and artistic appreciation and broadening their abilities with musical knowledge. Through this positive approach, a child's ability can be developed to its fullest potential.

The workshop Saturday will feature the children in a concert at which they will play selections by composers such as Bach, Schumann, and Beethoven. The concert is free and open to interested spectators.

Children involved in the workshop are Casey Brooks, Mariah Cherem, Alicia Couch, Kristin Gaunt, Steve Gaunt, Katie Henry, Sarah Henry, Sylvia Jorgensen, Jennifer Knight, Luke Schaefer, and John Steffenson. For more information about the Suzuki Method or Saturday's concert, contact Debbie Stanton at 996-0802 or 665-7841.

Holiday Visitors

This Christmas the entire family of Leroy and Ruth Bristle were able to be together for the first time since 1974. Daughter Elaine arrived from Dayton, O., with her husband Ronald Falcone and two children, Angelica and Jeremy. Second daughter Eileen came from Englewood, Colo., with her husband Chuck Rubino and sons Nickolas and Michael. The Bristle's son, Ernest, a student at Grand Valley State College in Allendale, was also home for the holidays. To complete the group, Mrs. Bristle's mother, Norma Schittenhelm of Grass Lake, came for Christmas Day.

Other friends and relatives who visited during the holiday season included Mrs. Bristle's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bauer; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Skittenhelm; daughter Eileen's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rubino of Madison Heights; and two friends of son Ernie, Kimberly Desnuagh of Plymouth and Tom Nemeth, of Houghton, formerly of Chelsea.

KINCER-SOLOMON: Bruce and Barbara A. Kincer of Grass Lake, formerly of Chelsea, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth A. Kincer to William D. Solomon, son of William E. and Nicki P. Solomon of Grass Lake. Elizabeth is a sophomore at Ferris State College pursuing a Medical Records Technical Degree. William is also a sophomore at Ferris pursuing a B.S. degree in Plastic Engineering.

There are as many as one-half million cases of pneumococcal pneumonia in the U.S. each year, and the Surgeon General has estimated that, on average, 54,000 people die from the disease annually. Pneumonia is a frequent complication of influenza.

RACOS-MAIER: Anastasea M. Racos and Craig A. Maier were married Dec. 20 at the home of Mrs. Joan N. Maier of Chelsea, mother of the bridegroom. The Rev. John Gardner presided at the ceremony uniting the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Racos, who had resided in Westland, with the son of Mrs. Maier and the late Walter F. Maier. The couple's witnesses were David C. Bulson of Chelsea, Peter B. Gosling of Ann Arbor and Michael R. Puckett of Ann Arbor. The following day a reception was held in Mrs. Maier's home. The couple plans a wedding trip to Toronto in the near future. They are residing in Ann Arbor.

★ Don't Shovel Your Way To A Heart Attack . . .

Shoveling snow from your porches and sidewalks may prevent a fall or a sprain, but remember the strain of doing so could cause a heart attack. For some, shoveling snow is risking one's health hazard to eliminate another.

There are five elements of shoveling that have detrimental effects on the cardiovascular systems:

1. Shoveling, an upper body exercise, causes higher heart rate and blood pressure because upper body work is less efficient than leg work.
2. Blood may pool in the lower extremities when activities are done in a standing position especially if legs are held motionless. The blood flow to the heart may be reduced while oxygen demands on the heart are high.
3. There is isometric exertion on the heart from simply holding a shovel full of snow or from straining to lift or push heavy snow.
4. Often while struggling to lift or push something heavy, in this case snow, we often tend to hold our breath. This induces sudden changes in heart rate and blood pressure.
5. Exposure to cold air causes blood vessels to constrict which will increase heart rate and blood pressure.

The effects of one or more of these factors can cause a heart attack. It's important to be aware of what can contribute to a heart attack, but knowing symptoms to watch for and how to respond is equally important.

Symptoms of heart attack include pressure or fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest which lasts two minutes or more; pain spreading to shoulders, neck or arms; dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath. Some heart attack victims will experience just one symptom, while others will have more. It is also important that symptoms not be dismissed as indigestion or nothing to worry about.

If you suspect you or someone in your presence is having a heart attack—stop all activity immediately and sit or lie down, call emergency medical service or, if it would be faster, have someone drive you or the victim to a hospital.

Charles Steinbach Reports Observations During Christmas Bird Count

Engaged busily in the Christmas Bird Count held this year on Saturday, Jan. 3, Charles Steinbach, who resides on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. and is a long-time active member of both the National Audubon Society and the Michigan Audubon Society, as well as the Washtenaw Audubon Society (WAS), headed the group which recorded the annual bird census and reporting work in Scio township between Maple and Steinbach Rds. and bounded on the north and south by the Huron River and Jackson Rd.

While chatting this week with reporter Donna Lambert, he talked of sighting 28 species during the Christmas Bird Count, including blue heron, Canada geese and 15 red-tail hawks.

"That's an unusual increase—a lot of hawks—usually we see perhaps one or two during the Christmas Bird Count," Steinbach advised.

He said he checked with Audubon bird-feeder watchers Bobette Davenport and Bill Stoffer to include their observations with the totals.

Observers working with Steinbach during the count activities this year were Don Brooks, George Sexton, Margaret Bradley and Lisa Welch.

"Five of the blue heron were sighted during the Christmas Bird Count in Washtenaw county, and 3,103 Canada geese," he advised.

A large number of Canada geese continues to nest near the Mill Pond in Dexter, and many local citizens other than the bird counters observe the daily flights of the honkers as they depart noisily or suddenly swoop in to land on the Mill Pond.

Other species and their numbers sighted by WAS members and helpers during the Christmas Bird Count were: 11 mute swans; 1,031 mallard ducks; 14 black ducks; one American coot; four golden-eyes; six sharp-shinned hawks; six Cooper's hawks and 76 red-tail hawks.

The list continued with 37 American Kestrels, 17 ring-necked pheasants, four herring gulls, three ring-billed gulls and 978 rock doves.

A good number of mourning doves, 1,143 of them, were observed, in addition to a long-eared owl, 12 screech owls and 20 great horned owls.

Eleven kingfishers were sighted in Saturday's count, 26 flickers, 16 red-bellied woodpeckers, one yellow-bellied

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Nobody in Chelsea would have much chance of changing Glazier to Glacier but it did happen in Ann Arbor, and veteran residents are having a tough time getting the switch undone.

Glazier Way derived its name from an English shipwright, Richard Glazier, who came to this part of Michigan Territory in 1830. The name of the road remained the same for well over a century until in 1948 someone at Detroit Edison made a boo-boo and designated a record so that street signs were ordered for Glacier Way.

Getting the name changed back has been an uphill struggle for the traditionalists. The Washtenaw Road Commission has been agreeable but the A2 city council is still dragging its heels.

Among residents seeking to restore the original name is Margaret Underwood who has lived for 50 years in the pioneer Glazier farmhouse at 3175 Glacier (sic) Way.

Out here in Chelsea we are spared such confusion. Glazier Rd., which hugs the eastern shore of Cavanaugh Lake, was named after a local family which gained fame for its stove works and state bank. The former bank building at Main and South Sts. was named by Frank Glazier in honor of his father, George. Built of fieldstone, the structure is now the 14th District Court and has been recognized as a historic site by the state. The Chelsea Standard is housed and published in the former Glazier Recreation Building which has also been recognized as an official site by the Michigan Historic Commission.

It is appropriate to be respectful of historic origins and perhaps the Glazier adherents will have their way. Should this come to pass, let the glacier buffs be of good cheer for there is much to console them.

Four times in the last million years this region has been covered with a mantle of ice, often as much as 5,000 to 10,000 feet thick. In each of these inundations the ice has been part of a glacier that originated in the Arctic, then crept southward to the foot of future Michigan. This process of glaciation began for the final time about 70,000 years ago and the last glacier started its retreat from Washtenaw county some 16,000 years ago.

11,500 YEARS AGO

Fig. 1 The last glacier moved south from the Arctic to establish Early Lake Erie, Detroit River and Lake St. Clair connected Erie with Lake Huron.

9,500 YEARS AGO

Fig. 2. After reaching the upper border of future Ohio the glacier retreated north to Ontario. Detroit River and Lake St. Clair had drained away.

5,000 YEARS AGO

Fig. 3. By 3000 B.C. Michigan's fourth glacier was long gone and the Detroit River again connected Lakes Erie and Huron. Ice was confined to the Arctic cap.

About 11,500 years ago the ice had receded, as shown in Fig. 1, leaving behind the beginnings of the Great Lakes. By then the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair had made their appearance. The land was clothed with forests and other vegetation. Animals, followed by human hunters, were moving up from the south.

In the next 2,000 years the ice cover receded well into Ontario (Fig. 2.) At this point in geological history the rough outlines of the Great Lakes were in place. It so happened, however, that changes in the Great Lakes drainage system caused the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair to run dry!

With the passage of yet another 4,500 years (Fig. 3.) the five Great Lakes, as we know them today, were nearly formed. This included the rebirth of the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair which were destined to become the world's busiest waterway.

Thanks are extended to Dr. Donald Eschman of the University of Michigan for the use of these glaciological drawings.

Each time a glacier advances and retreats over an area it changes the land because every glacier operates as an immensely powerful earth machine. Millions of tons of ice push irresistibly forward, flattening forests and turning them into primordial pulp. On its way the ice seizes great chunks of rock and uses them as grinding tools to cut and gouge the earth below. Jagged rocks are smoothed into round boulders. Stones are reduced to pebbles and gravel. As the glacier grinds forward it covers the old land with a new layer of ice, rocks, stones, soil and sand. In some places the glacial deposits are thousands of feet thick. In others a thin layer of new materials rests on ancient beds of salt, limestone and other minerals.

Certainly the fourth glacier left behind a treasure of fertile soil and useful minerals for today's inhabitants of Washtenaw county. And thus it is that every inch of this rolling land for one million years has been a Glacier Way.

TURTLE SHELLS AND BEAVER TALES was the title of a presentation to classes at North Elementary school by the Dahlem Environmental Educational Center, a satellite facility of Jackson Community College, on Monday. The presentation dealt with fact and fantasy of

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
I am very concerned about the future land use and zoning for the Village of Chelsea. As you may not know, I was born and raised in Chelsea and I continue to return to visit at least once a year. Presently I am the Director of the School of Urban & Regional Studies at the University of New Orleans and a professor in our Urban & Regional Planning Program. I also am a member of the New Orleans City Planning Commission. One area of my professional experience and interest is small towns. I have written papers and given talks about small towns.

It is from this background and experience that I offer you these comments.

1. Small towns, across the country are all undergoing change. Chelsea is no different.

2. Change often brings tension and conflict.

3. The need for various types of land use and zoning change over time. Thus, the land use plan and zoning maps need to be updated on a regular basis (preferably every five years).

4. Since Chelsea has a land use plan and zoning maps that have not been updated recently, the village council should place a moratorium on land use changes and zoning in areas deemed to be sensitive or crucial for future development. During the moratorium, the village should review the present zoning and future land use plan with an eye to making changes in the present plans.

5. As part of this update, special attention must be made to maintaining the viability of the downtown. The downtown is a unique part of the community and it must be protected at all costs. The negative influences of malls (I call them mauls) must be taken into consideration.

6. In order to update the village plan, I strongly suggest that the village hire a first rate urban planning firm that has significant positive experience with small towns. A number of firms should be interviewed.

7. As part of the planning process, a number of public hearings should be held, and a reliable survey of residents should be undertaken to ascertain community attitudes regarding future development alternatives.

8. If Chelsea is to maintain its small town village atmosphere, it must soon get on with urban planning coupled with strong zoning regulations and procedures. The threat to losing the small town character is real and I hope the community wakes up and meets the challenge head on. If it doesn't, Chelsea will become another bland small town.

In closing, I urge all concerned people to contact the council and village president so they can know of your concern. Good luck.

Fritz Wagner.

Chelsea Student Chosen In NMU Competition

Thomas Mull of Chelsea, a junior at Northern Michigan University, has been selected to participate in the American College Theatre Festival Irene Ryan Action Scholarship Competition. He was selected on the basis of his performance in "Father Mosley," the Northern Michigan University entry in the nationwide ACTF.

THOMAS MULL

Mull, the son of Betty K. Mull, 215 Park, worked with the Chelsea Area Players in such musicals as "Annie," "Pippin," and "My Fair Lady." He spent the summer at the Thunder Bay Theatre where he appeared in "Plaza Suite" and was featured in "The Mousetrap."

Mull's performances at Northern Michigan include Butterworth in "Dracula," Malvolio in "Twelfth Night" and Frederick Fellows in "Noises Off."

Mull will compete with 90 other actors from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana at the ACTF regionals at Ohio State University. The top prize is a $1,000 regional scholarship and an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C. to perform in "An Evening of Scenes" at the Kennedy Center during the national festival. This presentation is viewed by leading directors, producers and casting agents. Two of the student performers are awarded $2,500 scholarships to the institution of their choice.

Mull's presentation in Columbus will be a duet scene from "Inherit the Wind," a monologue from "6 RMS RIV VU," and a song, "Not A Day Goes By" from Stephen Sondheim's "Merrily We Roll Along."

Steinbaugh Sees 28 Species

A total of 17 horned larks were seen by vigilant watchers throughout the county, in addition to 259 bluejays, 728 crows and 554 chickadees.

As Steinbach stood in his yard just a week after the Christmas Bird Count, discussing the over-all results, five or six prim little chickadees arrived in one of his pine trees and finally flew down to retrieve some of the sunflower seeds he had placed on a nearby bird feeder.

On their first try, a red-tail hawk threatened, making a fast sweep overhead to send the chickadees scrambling suddenly toward the top of the pine tree where they waited quietly for a time before returning to the lower branches from which they hopped to the feeder to snatch a seed in their beak, then returned to perch in the tree's branches to crack the shell and partake of the tasty seed inside and discard the outer shell, which fell to the ground.

"Did you know there's a move now to have the chickadee named the country's national bird?" queried Steinbach.

"No, I didn't, Charlie—but that's interesting," I told him.

He explained the movement sought to have the chickadee named America's national songbird.

A few minutes later, a smaller Cooper's head hawk floated lazily across the wooded area behind Steinbach's home and two mourning doves played a type of hop-tag along a stretch of overhead utility wire, as we watched.

Steinbach pointed to a junco as it flew toward the woods beside the Mill Pond.

"Juncos sighted in the county during the recent count numbered 216, while 143 titmice, 187 white-breasted nuthatches, five red-breasted nuthatches, nine brown creepers, two winter wrens and a Carolina wren were observed," he added.

Also included on the list of species seen Jan. 3 in Washtenaw county were: 45 robins, 231 cedar waxwings, 4,853 starlings, 1,131 house sparrows, 537 goldfinch, a hermit thrush, 46 golden-crowned kinglets, two ruby-crowned kinglets, 276 tree sparrows, three song sparrows, six white-throated sparrows and 19 swamp sparrows.

Three Chinese geese, nine graylag geese, six purple finches, a grackle, a cowbird, 98 pine siskin and 320 cardinals were seen.

Finally, two snow buntings, a merlin and 50 house finches were sighted.

The house finch population has evidenced a decided increase during recent years in Washtenaw county annual counts.

"I tossed several corn cobs and some sunflower seeds on the snow near the bird feeder in my yard, and threw more food on the snow near the red oak trees growing farther from the house," Steinbach said.

Lots of birds stop to feed in the vicinity of the Steinbach residence.

They seem to enjoy the proximity of the Mill Pond, the trees and Steinbach's friendly nature.

"The chickadees will eat from my granddaughter's hand," he admitted with pride.

Birds of many species enjoy sharing the scenic property on which the Steinbach home is situated.

Free Tax Guide Available for Farmers

A free publication, designed to explain how tax laws apply to farming, is available by writing or calling the Internal Revenue Service.

IRS Publication 225, Farmer's Tax Guide, is full of information covering such topics as farm income, farm business expenses, tax credits, dispositions of depreciable property and certain farm land, as well as soil and water conservation.

The guide can be a valuable resource at tax time as well as a handy reference all year. It contains a sample return with step-by-step directions on filling out not only Schedule F, Farm Income and Expenditures, but also several other forms and schedules dealing with tax situations common to most farmers.

The guide contains a calendar of important tax dates, tips on methods of recordkeeping and accounting, and other useful topics. The first page, Items of Interest, alerts readers to some of the more important changes in tax law which affect the farmer as a taxpayer.

The Farmer's Tax Guide was prepared by the IRS, with the assistance of the Extension Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Extension Service of the State Land Grant Universities, and the Regional Farm Management Extension Committees.

One-half of all pneumonia cases are caused by viruses. The rest are caused by bacteria. Pneumococcal pneumonia is the most common serious form of bacterial pneumonia and the one most likely to require hospitalization. The average stay is about 9.6 days at a cost of $2,000-$3,000. Three-fourths of pneumococcal pneumonia patients lost 10 working days.

Snow-Touring Popularity To Increase This Winter With Peninsula-Wide Trail

Snow-touring—or long distance snowmobile travel—should hit a new high in the Lower Peninsula this winter when a 200-mile trail is completed between Traverse City and Tawas City, reports AAA Michigan.

Most of the trail already is linked and travels through Lake City, Houghton Lake and West Branch. It will be the first Lower Peninsula trail network when the final 20-mile stretch near St. Helen is completed this winter.

The route should take six to eight hours to travel and has sufficient food, lodging and other facilities to accommodate all users.

An existing Upper Peninsula trail network links St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie and Wisconsin. It travels through woods and fields while skirting Lake Superior, with views of the big lake at several points.

Including the two trans-Michigan networks, there are 5,000 miles of groomed trails throughout the state. Registration fees from the 160,000 licensed snowmobiles—more than in any other state—will raise $700,000 for trail grooming. Trail work is done by state workers, local governments and private groups.

Those funds will be used to maintain the 163 sites listed in AAA Michigan's 1986-87 guide to public snowmobile trails. They range from one mile in Petoskey State Park to 200 miles through the Huron and Ottawa National Forests in the Upper Peninsula. The guide includes 63 state parks, one southern game area, 100 state forests and four national forests.

Tourist Assoc. Offers Winter Travel Guidelines

Two new guides, the Winter Travel Planner and the Holiday Brochure, will help Michigan travelers find all there is to do in Michigan this winter, announced John Savich, director of the Michigan Travel Bureau.

"This winter Michigan has more things to celebrate than ever before," explained Savich. "In addition to Michigan's winter wonderland and the glistening holiday season, Jan. 26 is Statehood Admission Day, the actual day of Michigan's 150th Birthday. We wanted to help Michigan invite its family back for a grand celebration by listing and describing winter and holiday attractions in these two guides."

Travelers will find plenty of ways to celebrate. Michigan offers more winter attractions than any other Midwestern state. For example, Michigan boasts the most ski areas in the Midwest, ranking second in the nation after New York. And as a state famous for "fall timber," miles and miles of forested cross country and snowmobile trails welcome all. Over 40 ski areas are listed in the Winter Travel Planner along with about 5,000 miles of groomed snowmobile trails and miles and endless miles of marked cross country trails.

Skiers and snowmobilers alike will have better facilities this year. Almost half of Michigan's world class resorts have invested millions in new facilities or renovations, including new lifts, slopes, luxury lodging and snowmaking equipment. A new 200-mile snowmobile trail linking Traverse City and Tawas City will be completed by winter. From the Upper Peninsula, with its average 200 inches of annual snowfall, to the Lower Peninsula, with its many, many ski resorts, snow lovers will find plenty of snow for winter activities.

But it's not all snow—in between the ski slopes and trails are thousands of friendly Michiganders known by travelers as some of the friendliest people in the world. You'll see when you try any of the week-end getaway ideas listed in both booklets. You may step into a cozy historical bed and breakfast home greeted by warm hosts who deck their halls with boughs of holly. Or you may choose a world class resort or a big city hotel and escape into an island oasis of fun.

With so many festivals and events scheduled this winter, your getaway may include unusual events such as ice golfing or a polar bear swim, jovial gatherings such as Christmas parades or grand celebrations such as a Sesquicentennial Ball. Whatever your choices, you'll find them all listed in the events and attractions sections in both guides.

Use the Holiday Brochure and you need not go far to find high quality foods for your holiday feast or for gift giving. Unique holiday recipes scattered throughout the Michigan Products section will have your family well stuffed and begging for more. Starting with Aldo's Spices in Michigamme to the Williams Cheese Co. in Linwood, 51 Michigan food retailers, listed alphabetically, provide scrumptious gifts available from their store or through mail order.

Michigan is America's Christmas tree land. You may choose and cut your own at some 49 tree farms scattered throughout Michigan. The holiday guide lists the name, address and directions, along with the types of trees available and price ranges.

The Holiday Brochure ends with a section on old fashioned Christmas happenings at Crossroads Village, Meadow Brook Hall, Greenfield Village, Kennedy Memorial Center and Battle Alley. Hurry and contact the Michigan Travel Bureau (1-800-5432/YES) for both the Winter Travel Planner and the Holiday Brochure before even old fashioned Christmases become too old.

Farm Maintenance Studies May Be Deductible

Expenses for education relevant to a farmer or rancher's current employment may be deductible, the Internal Revenue Service says.

To qualify, the expenses must meet at least one of two specific guidelines. Taking the course of study must be mandatory for continuance in one's current employment status—for example, a veterinarian required to take a course to retain his or her state license. If not, the course must be helpful in maintaining or improving skills which are required in one's present employment—for instance, a farmer or rancher taking a course in machinery or engine repair or welding for the purpose of maintaining farm or ranch equipment.

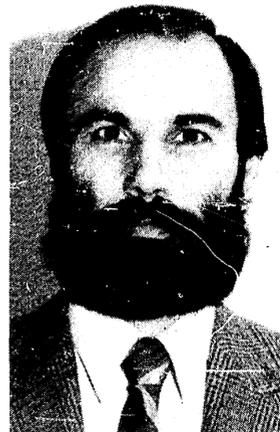

However, not all educational expenses are deductible. Expenses for education that prepares one for a new trade or business—such as a farmer studying law—may not be deducted, even if the education may be required or beneficial in the taxpayer's present employment. Similarly, the expense for study to help meet the minimum educational requirements for a current position is not an allowable deduction, for example, a full-time engineering student who has a part-time job in a minor engineering capacity.

Educational expenses included amounts spent on tuition, books, supplies, laboratory fees, similar items, and certain travel and transportation costs. Educational expenses other than travel and transportation are itemized deductions and should be listed on Schedule A (Form 1040) as miscellaneous deductions. Travel and transportation are deducted as adjustments to income using Form 2106.

Additional information on educational expenses appears in the free IRS Publication 508.

Farmers Can Expect Modest Turnaround in Farm Exports

The American agricultural industry can expect a modest turnaround in grain exports during 1987, but it will not make up for the 15 percent drop in exports during 1986.

"Part of the reason for the export drop in fiscal 1986 is that other countries put off buying American grain because they anticipated lower prices under the new farm bill," says Vernon Sorenson, Michigan State University agricultural economist. "These countries expected grain prices to drop, which they have. That in itself says there should be some recovery from the volume drop of exports in fiscal 1986."

The total volume of U.S. grain exports is expected to increase by as much as 10 percent in the 1986-87 fiscal year, compared with the 1985-86 fiscal year. But some of this increase will be offset by lower grain prices.

Wheat exports are expected to increase, while coarse grain exports will decline. The U.S. share of the soybean market may slip because of lower acreage and yields, and because of increased soybean exports by other countries.

Sorenson points out that global economic conditions are expected to improve at least moderately in 1987.

"The outlook is for a pickup in world economic growth and slow inflation rates. Both of these factors will support the increased use of agricultural products," Sorenson says. "Large crop surpluses and lower prices will also stimulate consumption."

The long-term outlook for U.S. agricultural exports reflects both positive and negative elements, Sorenson says.

On the positive side, world economic growth is increasing by 2.5 to 3 percent per year. Economic growth is expected to remain at this level for several years. The stabilized world economic growth, combined with declining inflation, lower interest rates and a steady world population growth, will increase the demand for farm products in the future.

One of the negative aspects is that the total foreign debt owed by lesser developed countries has reached about $900 billion. These countries will use large portions of their foreign exchange income to service that debt, leaving less for food purchases.

Other negative factors include a decline of growth rate in per capita grain consumption from levels of the 1970s, and the improved agricultural industries of China and India. Sorenson points out that China and India were once importers of grain. They have expanded their agricultural output rapidly and have reached self-sufficiency. These countries even export some commodities.

"The recent change in American farm policy and the substantial decline in the value of the dollar relative to other major foreign currencies are changes in the right direction to help sustain U.S. agricultural exports," Sorenson says. He adds that other countries that entered the export industry in 1981-85 will continue growing crops to be shipped abroad, even in the face of substantial price declines.

"The impact of recent U.S. policy changes will be felt only relatively slowly, and to the extent that lower prices will reduce the rate of expansion of production in competing export countries," Sorenson says.

"Farm policies aimed at making major acreage reductions and substantial increases in the U.S. farm prices will have a strong negative impact," Sorenson says. "On the other hand, policies aimed at maintaining U.S. prices at world competitive levels will help support increased participation in the world markets."

Dexter Township OKs Computer Purchase

Dexter township board, at their Jan. 6 meeting, approved the acquisition of a computer system and authorized the soliciting of bids necessary to implement a pressurized sewage treatment system for the Portage Lake area.

The five-member board approved the purchase of a $12,000 computer system, which, when in place, will simplify and speed the township's record keeping. The computer will keep lists of registered voters, will keep track of assessment needs, hold the general ledger, and do the tax billing.

Trustee Doug Smith estimated that the computer will be in place within the next 30 days. After it is installed, there will be a training period, followed by a time of entering all the information. Once this is done, all that will be necessary is to keep up with the changes.

In a second action, the board agreed to solicit bids for a hydrological and feasibility study for the building of a pressurized sewage treatment plant for the Portage Lake area. The township has a three-year option on a 120-acre triangle of land at the corner of Stinchfield Woods and Dexter-Pinckney Rds., on which the plant could be built. But before this can happen, the state's Department of Natural Resources has to approve a waste water and discharge water permit for the site which they give only after scrutinizing a feasibility study.

Bids for the necessary hydrological and feasibility study must be received by the township before 5 p.m., Feb. 17. The engineering firm that receives the contract will study such things as the quality of the soil, protection barriers, and direction of ground water flow. This study is sent to the DNR who then determine if a sewage system can be built there, and, if so, how big its capacity can be and how many users it can serve. Doug Smith believes that the DNR will approve a plant at least large enough to serve Dexter township's portion of Portage Lake.

According to Smith, sewage treatment in the Portage Lake area has been an on-going problem. The majority of the residences are now using systems which would not meet current regulations. The township would loan the money to get the sewage treatment system started, but it would ultimately be paid for by an assessment of users.

Says Smith, "The problem is getting so bad, we have to do something. It's our responsibility to preserve public health and safety. We know the solution, now we have to act as fast as we can."

Nature Series Helps Winter Appreciation

Waterloo Natural History Association is sponsoring a series of programs to help people appreciate all that nature offers in the winter.

In their announcement they state, "Winter is a season of sparkling beauty, unfortunately overlooked by many people, and it is a thrilling season to explore."

The programs begin this week-end and continue through the month of March.

To start the season, three classes are offered Jan. 17 and 18: Ice Fishing Clinic, Stars in the Winter Sky, and Telltale Tracks.

The ice fishing clinic will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Portage Lake Campground. Instructor Cliff Markle will cover such topics as making inexpensive equipment, choosing a likely spot, baits, and safety. Those wishing to participate should meet at the campground's main parking lot and bring any equipment they own. There will also be extra equipment at the class.

Stargazer Jo Chadburn will be the instructor for "Stars in the Winter Sky" held Saturday evening at 7:30 by the ball diamond of the Portage Lake campground. Participants are asked to bring something to sit or lie on and something hot to drink.

Sunday afternoon at 1:30 wildlife biologist Christ Yonker will teach people to read tracks and find other clues to unravel the mysteries of animal activity. This class meets at the Waterloo Recreation Area Headquarters.

Organizers of these activities urge all participants to dress warmly, saying, "Cold toes and shivering bodies don't make for very enjoyable outings." They suggest wearing warm socks, waterproof boots, warm pants, sweaters, jackets, hats, and mittens or gloves and dressing in layers so a comfortable body temperature may be maintained by adding or subtracting a layer.

For information on how to get to any of the classes, call the Waterloo Recreation Area Headquarters at (313) 475-8307 during regular business hours.

Vehicle permits are required at all state recreation areas, including Waterloo.

A photographic tribute to Michigan's first 150 years is presented in the January-February 1987 issue of Michigan Natural Resources Magazine. The sixth Readers' Photo Issue "Echoes of the Past" honors the Michigan that was and is with an array of superb color photographs of historic and nature scenes. The magazine will be available on newsstands in mid-January.

The opening section provides a brief historical account of pioneer life in Michigan; the futuristic concepts of Michigan's first governor, Stevens T. Mason; the rich natural resources of the state; its contributions during the Civil War; and its population growth. The remainder of the issue features phrases from the past and more than 70 photographs taken by people who live in or have interest in Michigan.

"This Sesquicentennial issue of Michigan Natural Resources Magazine is a beautiful addition to the 150th birthday celebration and a tribute to Michigan's people and places," said Merri Jo Bales, executive director, Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission.

THE RUSTY OLD COMMUNICATIONS SHED for Conrail at the Main St. crossing was removed last week by the railroad. All the cables have also been removed. Unfortunately, according to Conrail, the aluminum shed closest to the road will not be moved.

CONRAIL WORKERS removed the old rusty shed at the Main St. crossing, one more step toward improving the appearance of the depot area in general. Eventually, all the telephone poles will also be taken down and replaced with underground cable. When that day will come is anybody's guess.

Good Michigan Farm Land Value Declines

The value of good Michigan farm land declined 13% since October of 1985, according to a survey of agricultural bankers. Michigan Farm Bureau agricultural economist Robert Craig blames the drop in value on this year's weather disasters.

"We believe the weather and crop production problems have caused farmer income to fall which, in turn, affects their ability to bid up farm land prices," he said. "Values have also been depressed by the glut of farm land on the market."

Craig does not predict any rapid turnaround in the state's farm land value.

"I would expect that during the next year we're going to see Michigan farm land values continue to trend lower," he said.

Dogs Whip Stockbridge With Aggressive Defense, Run Their Record to 5-2

A tenacious Chelsea defense, which effectively controlled the tempo of the game and caused numerous Stockbridge turnovers, gave the Bulldogs their fifth win of the season at Stockbridge last Friday night, 49-39.

In other action last week, two free throws by senior reserve guard Jon Lane in the closing seconds gave Chelsea a 59-56 win at Onsted on Tuesday night.

Friday night the pressing Chelsea defense forced the Panthers, a running style team, into 18 turnovers, many on bad passes. Chelsea never trailed in the contest. The Panthers pulled to within 36-35 early in the fourth quarter on a couple of quick steals, but scored only four points in the last five plus minutes of the game.

"A certain amount of it has to be that it was Stockbridge's first game back after the holiday break," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"You look at how we came back against Fowlerville last week and didn't play nearly as well as we were capable. They're a young team and the next couple of years they're going to be pretty decent."

Panther sluggishness aside, Rosentreter admitted his team played well defensively by slowing the tempo of the game and not allowing the Panthers to run.

"We don't press to force turnovers," Rosentreter said.

"We press to control the tempo. As far as controlling the tempo goes, I can't say enough about the way (point guard) Todd Starkey is playing. He doesn't score a lot of points, but he controls our team, especially in the final minutes. He's doing exactly what we want him to do."

The Bulldog defense was consistent, allowing 19 points in the first half and 20 in the second. It was the sixth time in seven games the Bulldogs have held their opponents to 50 or fewer points.

Again, however, the Bulldog offense sputtered, hitting 17 of 49 shots from the floor (34 percent) and 16 of 29 free throws. Chelsea missed seven from the line in the fourth quarter alone.

Chelsea was also out-rebounded, 35-26, and the Panthers managed to put seven of 11 offensive rebounds back in for baskets.

"We're usually a better rebounding team than that," Rosentreter said.

Forward Mark Bareis paced the Bulldogs with 17 points, including seven in the first quarter. Starkey and center Marty Poljan each had eight, Jeff Harvey, seven, and Greg Haist, five.

"Among the five starters, we did have good balance," Rosentreter said.

"Even though we didn't score a lot of points, all the starters contributed." * * *

At Onsted, Bareis scored a season-high 26 points and Harvey added a season-high 13 points in the Chelsea win.

"Bareis was phenomenal," Rosentreter said.

"He took 20 shots and made 11. For a while it seemed like every thing he threw up there went in."

Bareis, and Onsted center Mark Wagner, traded baskets throughout the first half. Wagner, who finished with 29 points, scored 13 of Onsted's 17 first quarter points, while Bareis had 10 of Chelsea's 17.

"We couldn't stop Wagner," Rosentreter said. "He's not so tall but he has a really nice touch. If we hadn't had Mark matching him basket for basket, it might have been a long night for us."

The Bulldogs had an eight-point lead at half-time but lost the lead with six minutes left in the fourth quarter.

However, by the last two minutes of the game, on clutch free throw shooting by Harvey and Lane, Chelsea regained the lead.

The Bulldogs nearly lost the game on a technical mistake in the last 20 seconds.

With a one-point lead, Lane was fouled and he stepped up to take the free throws. Meanwhile, Rosentreter had decided to put Poljan back in the game for defensive purposes, but he was going to replace Lane.

Lane made both free throws, the buzzer went off and Lane and Poljan traded places. However, Onsted had already inbounded the ball, and Chelsea was called for a technical foul.

Wagner missed the free throw. Onsted took possession and missed the next shot as well.

Chelsea's shooting improved temporarily as the Bulldogs hit 22 field goals on 42 percent shooting, and made 15 of 20 shots from the line.

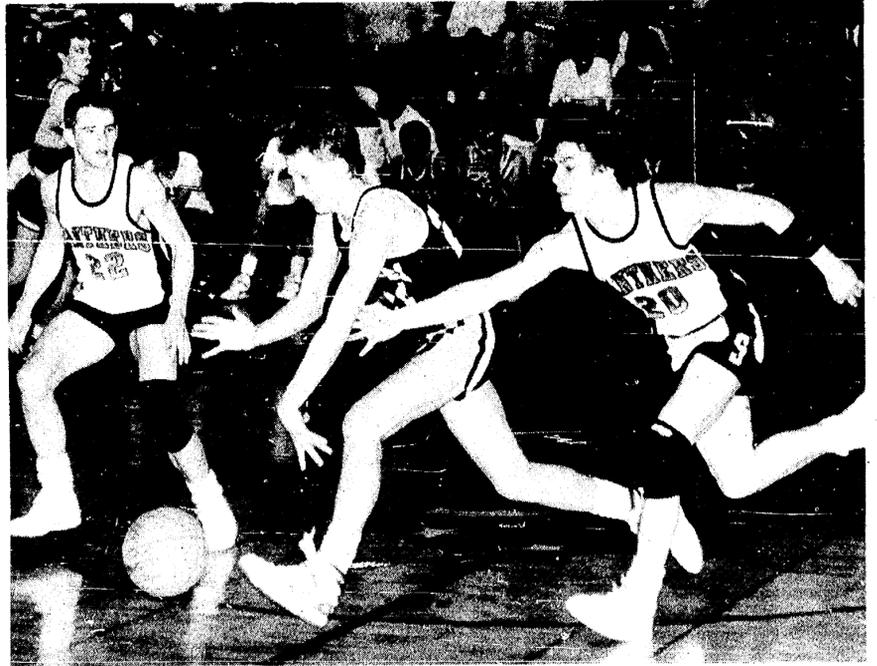

"Our biggest mistake is that we had 17 turnovers, 10 in the first half," Rosentreter said.

"We could have had an 18 point lead at half-time."

Other Chelsea scorers included Starkey with seven, Lane with five, and Poljan and Haist with four each.

"We're looking forward to playing Dexter Friday night," Rosentreter said.

"It's a big plus that our first league game after break is at home."

DRIBBLING DEFTLY between two Stockbridge abilities, guided the Dogs to their fifth win last Friday, defenders is Chelsea point guard Todd Starkey, 49-39, on the basis of his ball-handling and team-leading.

Volleyball Squad Tops Lincoln in SEC Opener

Chelsea's varsity volleyball team got off to a quick start in Southeastern Conference action with a three-game victory over the Lincoln Railsplitters, 12-15, 15-11, and 15-9 on Thursday, Jan. 8.

"It was important to get off to a good, positive start," said Chelsea coach Karen Tobin.

It was a back and forth match from beginning to end, Tobin said. Chelsea served at 90 percent efficiency, the highest serving percentage of the season.

"We don't have the big hitter and the height like most of our opponents and we make some of that up with teamwork and emotion," Tobin said.

"In the past we would not have won this match as we did not seem to be able to win the close games. Now I believe we can and the team believes they can. That is a big step forward."

A turning point in the match was when senior Heidi Hosner had a kill in the second game that enabled Chelsea to stop a Lincoln rally.

"That hit seemed to fire up the team," Tobin said.

Also in that second game, Trisha Mattoff served nine of the 15 points.

Kathryn Morgan was the team's leading hitter, going 12-14 with three aces.

In other action, on Monday, Jan. 5 Chelsea topped Jackson County Western, 15-6, in the first game, before losing the second and third games by identical 10-15 scores.

"We played very well as a team and set up the offense well," Tobin said.

"We had 42 spikes in the match. Western had a good defense and just when we thought we might have a point, the ball would come back over the net. I think we let down a few times in the march and it cost us a few points. Our back row also misjudged the lines a couple of times, which gave Western their 12th and 13th points in the final game. We were not able to recover from those mental mistakes."

Morgan was again the leading hitter, with 13 of 19.

Mary Lazarz was the leading setter, with 32 of 34 sets.

"Our offense was really set up by the strong back row play of Pam Brown and Chris Basso," Tobin said.

Varsity Swimmers Sink Adrian, Fall to Waverly

Last week was busy for the Chelsea swim team as they swam two class A teams in the space of five days.

Although the score was close in both meets the Bulldogs split the two meets, beating Adrian 89 to 83 last Tuesday and falling to the Lansing Waverly Warriors, 92-80, on Saturday.

"Each meet was very close as we won the Adrian meet by a touch-out in the last relay, and lost the Waverly meet by the total of a few seconds," said coach Mike Keeler.

The results of the Adrian meet are as follows:

200 medley relay: Chelsea A 1:54.90 (Terry Draper, David Oesterle, Kevin Brock, Wally Schmid); Chelsea B 2:00.15 (Brett Paddock, Tyler Lewis, Howard Merkel, Nat Cooper); Chelsea C, 2:09.66 (Holden Harris, Scott Marsh, Mike Hollo, Scott Sheffield).

Bulldogs Rally To Tie With Lincoln Wrestlers

Chelsea's last three varsity wrestlers all recorded pins to salvage a 32-32 tie with the Lincoln Railsplitters last Thursday in Willis in a Southeastern Conference meet.

Bulldog coach Kerry Kargel said his team should have won the match, but he gambled a little with the line-up and it may have cost a victory. One starting wrestler was sick. And, Kargel said, the holiday layoff may have left some of his wrestlers a step or two slow.

"We looked a little flat," Kargel said.

"There was no spirit and we weren't very fired up. I'll take care of that," Kargel said that a couple of his wrestlers had outstanding matches, including freshman Doug Wingrove, who pinned a senior.

Results of the match follow.

98 pounds: Rex Nye (C) pinned Mike Cornette in :53.

107 pounds: Alan Hanna (C) lost a 6-2 decision to Curt O'Clair.

114 pounds: Pat Taylor (C) lost a 14-11 decision to Billy Johnson.

121 pounds: Doug Wingrove (C) pinned Mike Cole in 2:37.

128 pounds: Ron Bogdanski (C) tied Scott Sakall, 14-14.

134 pounds: Paul Boyers (C) was pinned by Dave Johnson in 1:05.

140 pounds: Paul Hedding (C) was pinned by Job Tobey in 3:16.

147 pounds: Gary Dosey (C) lost an 11-5 decision to Chris Warren.

157 pounds: Jerry Reinhardt (C) was pinned by Mark Newman in 1:27.

167 pounds: Bill Dixon (C) lost a 9-5 decision to Mike Sherman.

187 pounds: Tim Van Schoick (C) pinned Shawn Stevens in 1:05.

200 pounds: Leo Durham (C) pinned Tony Edmonds in 3:03.

Heavyweight: Mike Taylor (C) pinned Allan Shulke in :58.

Chelsea is 1-1-1 in Southeastern Conference action, and 5-3-1 over-all.

In other action last week, Chelsea wrestlers placed 10th over-all in the highly competitive Jackson County Western Invitational last Saturday, a 16-team event featuring many outstanding teams, according to Kargel.

Chelsea freshmen Pat Taylor, 105 pounds, and Tim VanSchoick, 185 pounds, turned in excellent performances, Kargel said.

Taylor finished third in his class after winning a 6-4 decision in the consolation round over a Brooklyn Columbia Central wrestler who had pinned him earlier in the year.

"That shows real improvement," Kargel said.

In his other matches, Taylor was 2-1.

VanSchoick took sixth place. Among his opponents was a Mason wrestler who was third in the state last year. VanSchoick, who lost the match, 17-5, "did a real nice job," Kargel said. He also pinned Clark Green of Tecumseh.

Chelsea co-captains Bogdanski and Durham placed fourth and third, respectively, at 126 and 198 pounds.

Bogdanski, wrestling in perhaps the toughest weight class in the meet, lost in the consolation round to Chad Watts of Albion, 13-2. He was 2-2 on the day.

Durham, on his way to third place, lost a 10-2 decision to George Bairactaris of Saline, who won the weight class.

"I think Leo may take him by the end of the year," Kargel said.

SURROUNDED by a bunch of Panthers, Chelsea forward Mark Bareis gets a pass off to a teammate to get out of trouble. Bareis led the Bulldogs last Friday with 17 points, as the Bulldogs won their fifth game.

IT WAS A TOUGH SHOT, but Mark Bareis slipped the ball back over his head with his left hand and put it in. Unfortunately, Bareis was called for an offensive foul and the goal was erased. The action was last Friday night at Stockbridge, where the Bulldogs won, 49-39.

Bullpup Cagers Knock Off Pinckney Twice in One Week

Beach Middle school's eighth grade Bullpup basketball team knocked off Pinckney twice last week to push their record to 6-2.

On Tuesday in Pinckney, coach Jim Tallman's squad took a 33-31, come-from-behind victory, and on Thursday at home took a 35-29 win.

In Tuesday's game, Pinckney scored 16 points in the second quarter to put the hosts out in front at half-time, 21-12, before the Pups could make a comeback.

"We really fought back with a good offensive and defensive effort in the third quarter," Tallman said. Chelsea out-scored Pinckney 14-2 in the third period.

"That showed a lot of character, but we've been doing that kind of thing all year."

Tallman credited the inside games of Kerry Plank and Tucker Steele with playing a large part in the win.

"They take the ball inside real well," Tallman said.

Steele led the team with 10 points, followed by Jude Quilter's nine. Plank scored eight points, and Jeremy Stephens, Matt Steinaway and Alex Hammerschmidt each had two points.

In Thursday's game, Chelsea jumped out to an 11-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never seriously threatened thereafter.

"We had a lot of balance in this game," Tallman said.

"The kids who came off the bench contributed a lot. This was one of the few times we've seen a zone defense all year and the kids responded well to it."

Tallman characterized the game as "a little shoddy," after the first quarter.

Plank's nine points led the team. Other scorers included Quilter, with seven, Vince Dunn and Steele with four each, Hammerschmidt with three, and Brian Bell, Jerret Kern, Matt Carlson and Chris Haugen with two each.

After last week's action the Pups had four games to go.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

When a high school basketball coach has a team that is not overly blessed with raw, take-it-to-the-rim talent, he only has so many choices if his team is going to win more games than it loses.

He can send money to Pat Robertson and hope for one of his hurricane diverting miracle prayers.

He can try to bring in a ringer in the off season.

Or he can simply make do.

Since Chelsea High school coach Rahn Rosentreter probably doesn't have that much extra cash, and is most definitely not a cheater, he has decided on the latter alternative this season.

And somehow his team, a group of four juniors and eight seniors with no height and not much collective ability to shoot the ball, is winning a lot of games. So far they're 5-2 against a fair number of better-than-average teams.

What's even more amazing is they've won three of those games on the road under all sorts of strange conditions. Fights, game-delaying injuries, you name it. They're 2-1 at home.

And, had the Bulldogs been just a little better than horrible at Saline they probably would have won that game, too. They weren't exactly over-matched by Fowlerville, either.

For Chelsea, the name of the game has been DEFENSE, as in "Defense Wins," the team motto. Rosentreter has a shirt with the slogan emblazoned on the front. The boisterous student section has even acknowledged it.

Chelsea's form of defense, though, looks more like an organized process of trying to drag the opponent's offense down to their level, or preferably lower. It's as though Rosentreter has said, "If we can just get them to play offense as poorly as we know we'll play it, we'll have a chance to win."

At the end of the year, nearly every opposing coach will probably look back and say the Chelsea game was the worst his team played all year.

Chelsea's tempo-control defense has yielded more than 50 points only once, last week against Onsted. And, to me, one of the most surprising parts of the defensive game is the Bulldogs are rarely in serious foul trouble. I can't recall anyone fouling out all season, although a couple of times a boy has picked up three in the first half and had to sit down.

When you play good defense and don't give up a lot of foul shots, a coach can't ask for much more.

It's a good thing, too, because Chelsea doesn't often score more than 50 points. A good shooting night is 35 percent. Occasionally they shoot less than 50 percent from the free throw line.

If the Bulldog offense ever gets hot, Chelsea could blow some unsuspecting team off the court. On the other hand, if the defense fails, Chelsea may lose by 50.

It could be real interesting the rest of the way in the Southeastern Conference, which begins Friday at home against the Dexter Dreadnaughts.

Chelsea played a solid, aggressive defensive basketball game at Stockbridge last Friday. However, part of the credit for the win should go to the Chelsea cheering section.

There were quite a few fans from Bulldogland, most of them sitting down near the cheerleaders in one corner of the gym. They were whooping and hollering all night and at times it seemed like I was at a Chelsea home game. That's how loud the fans were. I'm sure the enthusiasm didn't go unnoticed by the players late in the game.

It really became apparent just how many fans made the trip as I was driving home in the snow storm. There was a line of cars as far as I could see behind me or in front. And they were all driving about 25 miles per hour. We could have had one heck of a pile-up, one worthy of the Los Angeles freeway at rush hour. (Did anyone else see the poor guy about half way home who was trying to make a left hand turn across that line of cars? "Honest, Mom, I could have made it home by curfew but I waited 20 minutes trying to make a turn.")

Fan support can make a big difference this season. Todd Starkey, Mark Bareis, et al love to hear those screaming fans. I hope we have a huge crowd this Friday.

For the rest of the season, I'm going to track fan participation at home games I attend with a weekly Rowdy Report, simply measured on a scale from 1-10. Points will be lost for offensive behavior. There will be bonus points for cleverness. Throwing anything rates a zero.

Cager of the Week

CAGER OF THE WEEK is senior 6' guard Jon Lane, a dependable player off coach Rahn Rosentreter's bench. Jon, of 636 N. Main St., is the son of Wilfred and Donna Lane, and brother of Carrie and Chan. This is Jon's second year on the varsity squad. He's played organized basketball in one form or another for 12 years. Last year's Most Improved Player, Jon also plays baseball and golf at Chelsea High school. For the past two years he was Most Valuable Player on the golf team and was this year's captain. Last spring he started in right field for Head Baseball Coach Wayne Welton in the second half of the season, and is looking forward to another successful spring. Jon's been accepted to Michigan State University, Bowling Green, and Wittenberg University. He says he'd like to play college golf or baseball.

JV Netters Start Off Winners, Defeat JCW, Railsplitters

Chelsea junior varsity volleyball team opened their 1987 season Monday, Jan. 5 with a close win over Jackson County Western, 15-10, 7-15, 15-11.

In other action last week, Chelsea also knocked off Lincoln, 15-1 and 15-2 on Thursday.

In the JCW event, Chelsea came from behind to win the first game as Jennifer Lewis, Vanessa May and Meredith Hall each served four points.

In the second game, Chelsea suffered from poor serving, according to coach Cheryl Vogel. They also were unable to put the ball away.

"In the third game the serving improved as Kelly Scott served seven points and Vanessa May four points," Vogel said.

"Lisa Park, Kelly Scott, Meredith Hall and Jenny Anderson all set well and Scharme Petty, Jennifer Lewis, Vanessa May, Sarah Schaeffer, Heather Neibauer, Holly Baltzell and Mindy Ryan all hit well."

In the Lincoln match, Baltzell served eight points in the first game and Neibauer served five points. Stacy Norris served seven points in the second game and Lisa McGlennen served four.

Other members of this year's team include Heidi Boyer, Allison Brown, Michelle Graflund, Carol Hanke, Jill Nowatzke, Barb Scriven, and Tonya Grammatico. Catherine, Box and Deborah Evison are the managers.

The initiation of daily smoking is highest in junior high school, among children 12 to 14 years old. Of those pack-a-day smokers in their senior year of high school, close to one half (49 percent) began smoking by ninth grade (age 14).

Varsity Tankers Sink Adrian

Lansing Waverly team.
The Warriors brought a small but fast squad. Their quality was shown as the Lansing team won 10 out of 11 events but the Bulldogs stayed close throughout the meet because of their over-all depth.

"We tried to hand close in each event and then pull out a few surprises at the end but they were just a little too strong."

The results are as follows:
200 medley relay: Chelsea A, 1:54.3 (Doan, Oesterle, Brock Schmid); Chelsea B, 1:15.9 (Draper Merkel, Lewis, Cooper); Chelsea C, 2:03.3 (Paddock, Hollo, Marsh, S. Sheffield).

JV Cagers Nip Onsted, Lose Big to Panthers

The junior varsity Bulldog cagers won a close game at Onsted last Tuesday night, 52-47, before being blown out at Stockbridge on Friday, 70-44.

The Onsted game was close all the way and Chelsea was behind for most of the game.

However, the Dogs took control toward the middle of the fourth quarter, and Jeff Marshall and Junior Morseau each hit two key free throws down the stretch to seal the win.

"We really buckled down near the end," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

"We were patient on offense and got good shots and our rebounding picked up. It was a good game."

Chelsea shot 50 percent from the field in the final period, hitting 5-10 shots, and 40 percent for the game, one of their best nights of the season.

The Dogs held a big advantage on the boards, 32-23, as Tim Anderson picked off nine.

"Onsted was shorter than us, but they were real quick, a good team and played smart basketball," Dils said.

Morseau led the Chelsea scoring with 15 points, Anderson and John Collins each had eight, Marshall and Larry Nix each had six, and Phil Thomson had seven. "Phil had a very good effort off the bench," Dils said.

Dils also praised the play of Nix, who guided the team effectively as point guard, much as Todd Starkey does on the varsity team.

Everyone affiliated with the Chelsea high basketball program would probably just as soon forget about the whipping by Stockbridge.

"What it probably came down to is Stockbridge played their best game of the year and we played our worst," Dils said.

"For us it was a combination of things. We didn't have any concentration all night and in the second half it kind of snowballed."

Stockbridge won the game largely at the free throw line where they made 32 of 48 tries. Chelsea committed 34 fouls and four players were disqualified.

The Panthers made just two more field goals than the Bulldogs, 19-17.

"There might have been a couple of bad calls, but for the most part they were legit," Dils said.

"We were out of position all night long."

Stockbridge had a 28-20 half-time lead before outscoring Chelsea 20-9 in the third quarter.

The hosts murdered Chelsea on the boards, 36-24, with 17 offensive rebounds.

"Every now and then you're going to get a game like this," Dils said.

"There were some positives. We worked hard and were patient on offense."

Morseau again was high scorer with 12 points. Following him were Anderson, 11, Collins, six, Nix, four, Marshall, Thomson and Bryant Beard, three each, and David White, two.

The JV team has a 3-4 record going into Friday's home game with Dexter.

Freshman Cagers Impressive In Wins Over Dexter, Clinton

Chelsea's freshman basketball team won two games last week, defeating Dexter, 43-35, and Clinton, 40-31.

In the Dexter game, Chelsea used a full court press in the third quarter to out-score the Dreadnaughts 16-1. By the end of the third quarter the score was 34-15.

"We played very good basketball the first quarter and excellent team basketball in the third quarter," said coach Dave Quilter.

"Our first unit played well and it was the type of game where everyone got a lot of playing time."

Chad Starkey led Chelsea scorers with 14 points, Sinisa Janicevic, six, Chad Raymond, eight, Mark Chasteen and Brandon Murrell, four each, and Brian Burg, Butch Michaud, and Kyle Plank each scored two. Brian Zangara scored one.

In Thursday's game with a much taller Clinton team, the game was tied at 18 at half-time. A defensive adjustment at half-time, changing from a press to a zone defense, held Clinton to 13 second-half points while the Bulldogs scored 22.

Starkey again led the team in scoring with 14 points and Raymond added 11. Butch Michaud scored five, Plank and Murrell, four each, and Janicevic and Chasteen each had two.

Chelsea out-rebounded both Dexter and Clinton, holding a 37-35 advantage over Dexter and a 36-23 edge over Clinton. Starkey and Raymond each had eight rebounds in the Clinton game.

"We accomplished a number of short-term goals and began to play much better team basketball," Quilter said.

"Our shooting and defense improved and we are showing some signs of being able to adjust as the game dictates. If we continue to improve and not be satisfied with what we've already accomplished, this will be an interesting season."

The Bulldogs have a 3-2 record.

NEW BEGINNINGS, a four-week introductory series on grief, will be conducted by the Rev. Robert Weikart of Dexter, left, and Dr. James Peggs of the Chelsea Family Practice Center, beginning Tuesday, Jan. 20 from 7-9 p.m. The series will be held in the family practice center classroom.

New Series on Grief Slated

One of the most difficult experiences in life is to have a loved one die. We grieve over the death of the loved one and frequently experience feelings we have not felt before. Tears come often and sadness seems to rule our life.

Six years ago at the Chelsea Family Practice Center a grief support group, New Beginnings, was organized. Group members share what has been helpful to them in dealing with their grief. Healing comes as a result of talking about our memories and experiencing the emotions of our loss with others who understand. Although people frequently cry, their tears express their love and sadness for the person who died. In time the tears subside and people can move on to a new level of living.

Beginning Tuesday, Jan. 20, from 7-9 p.m., the Chelsea Family Practice Center will present a four-week introductory series on grief (New Beginnings). This series will focus on the stages of grief, physical manifestations, wholistic health and values, memories and the commonly asked question—"Why did this happen to me?" These will be given by the Rev. Robert Weikart of Dexter and Dr. James Peggs, and will be held in the Chelsea Family Practice Center classroom.

There is no charge but reservations are requested by calling (313) 475-1321, ext. 430.

Diane Parisho is the national secretary of New Beginnings.

Why the Wolverine State?

Michigan is celebrating its Sesquicentennial this year, and for the past 150 years or longer, it has been known as "The Wolverine State."

There are several theories about how Michigan became the Wolverine State.

One of the most popular dates back more than 150 years ago when Michigan was embroiled in a border dispute with Ohio that eventually led to the "Toledo War." One historian says the people of Ohio depicted Michigianians as "bloodthirsty villains of the deepest dye." They referred to their northern neighbors as "wolverines because they be like that vicious, smelly, ugly, northwoods animal."

Then there's the theory dating to the times when the northern fur trappers brought wolverine pelts from Canada, Wisconsin and Minnesota to the trading posts in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Because there were so many wolverine pelts on the store shelves the owners began to be called "Wolverines."

Another explanation traces the origin to the 1830's and the "Ten Eyck's Tavern" near Ypsilanti. "Old Coon" Ten Eyck would entertain guests by telling them they had just eaten wolf steak. "Once a lady responded, "Then I suppose I am a Wolverine?" "That you are," Ten Eyck answered . . . and the nickname stuck.

Davy Crockett, in his 1845 Almanac, colorfully wrote of a chance meeting with a Michigianian, saying, "The chaps from the Wolverine state are the all-greediest, ugliest and sourest characters on all Uncle Sam's 26 farms, they are, in nature, like the wolfish namesakes, always so eternal hungry that they bite the air, and hang their underlips, and show the harrow teeth of their mouths as if they'd jump right into you and swatter you hull, without salt. "Mr. Wolverine," says I, "you stare at me with reglar cannibal grin, but darn me, if you mustn't fight before you can bite; my name's Crockett and I'm an airshquake."

Although there are several explanations of how Michigan acquired the

"Wolverine" nickname, the actual origin is probably untraceable, but it is strongly felt it was first intended as an insult that has since been turned around by Michigianians to mean something positive . . . a strong, fearless, fighter.

Chelsea Boys Find Handgun That Had Been Stolen Last Year

Two Chelsea boys found a handgun that had been stolen early last year from a Chelsea residence as they were playing near their homes.

The unloaded handgun was found in the crack of a broken tree, according to Chelsea police, by Brent Hansen, 402 Dale St., and Rodney Bergey, 81 Burton St. on Friday, Jan. 2. The gun had been stolen from the Leon Lewis residence on Gene St. on March 26 of last year.

The National Cancer Institute recommends that you eat foods which provide 25 to 35 grams of fiber a day. For more information on diet, nutrition and cancer prevention, call the Cancer Information Service of Michigan, toll-free, 1-800-4-CANCER.

The gun, which was returned to Lewis, was a .38 caliber revolver. A mother of one of the boys called police after they brought the gun home.

A PUBLIC NOTICE

FOR TOO MANY YEARS, THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND ITS "CONSTITUENT" STATE ASSOCIATIONS, BEING POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS, HAVE TAKEN IT UPON THEMSELVES TO PUT THEIR STAMP OF "APPROVAL" OR "DISAPPROVAL" ON ANYTHING AND EVERYTHING RELATIVE TO HEALTH CARE.

AND TOO OFTEN, THE VAST MAJORITY OF THE PUBLIC HAS ACCEPTED THEIR PRONOUNCEMENTS AS AN INDISPUTABLE TRUTH.

IT IS NO SECRET THAT ONE OF THE TOOLS THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND ITS "CONSTITUENT" STATE ASSOCIATIONS HAVE USED TO RIDICULE AND RESTRICT CHIROPRACTIC HAS BEEN THEIR CONSTANT STATEMENT THAT A DOCTOR OF CHIROPRACTIC'S EDUCATION QUANTITY AND QUALITY WAS INFERIOR.

BY THEIR OWN ADMISSION THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION HAS LOST ITS CREDIBILITY TO TAKE A POSITION ON ANYTHING OUTSIDE THE MEDICAL FIELD. ON NOVEMBER 17, 1986, THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION ENTERED INTO A COURT SETTLEMENT TO ELIMINATE A LAW SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST THE AMA AND THE IOWA MEDICAL SOCIETY FOR RESTRAINT OF TRADE BY OVER 120 IOWA DOCTORS OF CHIROPRACTIC.

AS PART OF THAT SETTLEMENT THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION FREELY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THEY NEITHER HAVE NOR HAD ANY KNOWLEDGE OF THE CONTENT NOR THE QUALITY OF COURSES TAUGHT IN CHIROPRACTIC COLLEGE.

IF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION WILL PROMOTE A POSITION ON SOMETHING AS IMPORTANT AS THE COMPETENCY OF EDUCATION OF ANOTHER HEALTH CARE PROFESSION WITHOUT FACTS AND THEN MAINTAIN THAT POSITION FOR YEARS -- HOW CAN ANY OTHER OPINION THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION HAS EVER PRESENTED "IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST" BE VIEWED AS ANYTHING OTHER THAN A POLITICAL, SELF-SERVING STATEMENT FOR THE BENEFIT OF ITS MEMBERS AT THE EXPENSE OF THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

The characteristics of natural cheese varieties differ according to the type of culture, manufacturing procedure and curing parameters. Frostbitten Convention of 1836 Reenacted As Sesquicentennial Feature

"It will be a cold day in Hell, Michigan before we accept those terms." That's basically what Michigan delegates told the U. S. Government on Sept. 30, 1836 after being offered the Western Upper Peninsula as compensation for giving up the "Toledo Strip" to Ohio.

But on a cold day in Ann Arbor (Dec. 15, 1836) Michigan delegates held the "Frostbitten Convention" and accepted the controversial terms. As a result, the Toledo War ended without a casualty and Michigan was granted statehood on Jan. 26, 1837.

The "Frostbitten Convention" was highlighted on Monday, Dec. 15, 1986 at 2:30 p.m. in Ford Library on the north campus of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Organizing the program was the Washtenaw County Sesquicentennial Committee and the University of Michigan's Celebration '87.

the Frostbitten Convention and was a five-term Detroit mayor. John R. Street of Detroit was named for the Frostbitten president.

Two Michigan Sesquicentennial Commissioners participated in the program. Peter Fletcher of Ypsilanti was the master of ceremonies and former Governor John B. Swainson did the profile of the 1836 convention delegates. It was expected 12 descendants of the delegates would be in attendance.

Robert Warner, Dean of the Library School, University of Michigan, gave a historical account leading up to the 1836 convention. A resolution reluctantly accepting the Federal Government's terms was read and the delegation of 18 counties represented at the Frostbitten Convention was polled. The instrumental ensemble "Oriana" from Ann Arbor played period music of 1836.

Flora Burt, of Chelsea, called the convention to order. Burt is the great-granddaughter of John R. Williams who served as president of

Talking With Young Children About Death

As adults we are familiar with the frequent questions of our children, those back-to-back "whys" of a child. Perhaps the toughest "why" to which we will ever have to respond is why someone has died. We have acquired a unique family oriented brochure entitled, "Talking With Young Children About Death." It was produced under the direction of noted children's expert, Fred Rogers of Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood. This acclaimed brochure is now part of our community resource collection. North School Third Graders Perform for Senior Citizens

Every Wednesday morning, third graders from Mrs. Quilter's class at North School perform for the people in the Senior Nutrition Program.

The project was the idea of 9-year-old Jeannine Moulleseaux, who came home from her first day of school and told her mother, Rochelle Moulleseaux, that she wanted to do something for the seniors. Rochelle contacted the principal, teacher, and seniors, and found them all receptive to the idea of the third graders doing a regular program.

The next step was for Jeannine to put up a list in the classroom asking for volunteers. Nineteen out of the class of 26 were interested in performing. The others want to help in other ways such as making scenery.

The usual procedure is that after art class on Wednesday morning, two third graders visit the Senior Citizens Center at the school. Jeannine introduces them after which they perform in some way—reading material they have composed such as poems, short stories, journal entries, playing instruments, reading poems appropriate for the season, or telling jokes. One student did a ventriloquist act. At Christmas the class put on a play, "Christmas Around the World," for the seniors. They plan to do another one on Feb. 11.

The children perform using a microphone. Rochelle Moulleseaux believes it is "a very good experience for the kids; teaches them to stand on their feet."

Arlene Larson, supervisor of the Senior Nutrition Center, commends it as a very innovative program, saying, "The seniors love it. They always remark on the poise of the young people. They have as much poise at 9 as the seniors have at 70 and everything they do, they do so well."

'Business After Hours' Program Arranged by C. of C.

As a result of the tremendous success the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce will host another "Business After Hours" program held on Feb. 3, from 5-7 p.m. at the Chelsea Hospital, Woodlands Room.

This meeting offers refreshments and a chance to meet, mix and mingle with other chamber members and prospective members, to exchange ideas and make new business contacts.
