Chelsea to Ann Arbor Bus Service Scheduled 2 To Start This Spring

Round-trip bus service from Ann Arbor to Chelsea is tentatively scheduled to begin Monday, May 4, according to Chris White, manager of services development of the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority.

Chelsea Village Manager Fritz Weber informed the village council of the tentative plans at the group's regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 17.

White said the bus will probably run from 6 a.m. to 8:10 p.m. Monday through Friday and 7:50 a.m. to 6:40 p.m. on Saturday. No Sunday service is planned.

The route from Ann Arbor would come to Chelsea via I-94. The bus would enter the interstate at Jackson Rd, near Westgate Mall in Ann Arbor. The bus would exit at M-52 and go into town.

One local stop would almost certainly be at Chelsea Community Hospital, White said. Others being considered are at Polly's Market and the Chelsea Depot opposite the clock tower. White said there may be other stops if time allows.

Chelsea Area Transportation Service would be used as a feeder bus for residents of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, White said.

The trip back to Ann Arbor would saying they were concerned about the follow the same route, ending at AATA's main station at Fourth and William Sts. in Ann Arbor. From there, transfers would be available for any other bus in the AATA system. A complete round-trip without getting off the bus would take about 90 minutes, White said. The trip from Chelsea to Ann Arbor would take 30-35 minutes, he said.

"We want a route where the bus will be consistently on time," White said. "There is a fair amount of variation depending on the time of day and the time of year." The tentative fare is $1.50 each way, White said. A local Chelsea fare would be 25 cents.

Senior citizens and handicapped passengers would ride for half price. The bus will be one of the smaller versions, seating less than 29 passengers, according to the terms of the state grant that is footing the bill for the start of the service, White said. The bus will be accessible for the handicapped, White said.

AATA had originally hoped to run the bus into Ann Arbor via Jackson Rd. from the Baker Rd. exit to take advantage of the increasing development in the area. However, White Chelsea who want to know when it will said. Scio township officials balked, begin."

long-term cost of the service.

"We think that would have been a very productive area," White said. AATA had also considered a route through Dexter but the community showed no interest. The service is being financed initially by a grant from the Michigan Department of Transporation under the New Small Bus Services program, funded by weight and gas taxes.

The service will be completely funded, less fares, by the grant for two years, and 75 percent funded in the third year. The remaining 25 percent in the third year is estimated to be $15,000-$30,000, depending on fare receipts. That would have to be picked up by the village, or the village in combination with outlying areas. Local sources would have to fund the service after the third year.

The program will be reviewed at least annually to determine if ridership warrants keeping the program, according to AATA.

"I've never seen as much interest in a new service as I have here," White said.

"I've gotten quite a number of calls from people in both Ann Arbor and

Theft of Flag On Palmer Lot Tried Again

Someone apparently tried to steal the large American flag on the south end of the village at the Palmer Ford used car lot.

Chelsea police reported that sometime between 9 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 20, and 9 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 21, someone cut the nylon rope on the flag pole. Police said the potential thieves were probably scared away before they could complete the job. The first flag on the lot was stolen last year and never recovered. This was the first theft attempt since the first flag was stolen.

Police are investigating.

Costumes Needed for 'Show Boat'

Do you have your old prom dress, or bridesmaid's dress that you knew you'd never wear again still hanging in your closet?

It may be just what the costume committee for the Chelsea High school's production of "Show Boat" is looking for!

The musical is set at the turn of the century, and the committee is looking for Victorian-style dresses, skirts and blouses.

The final scene jumps to the 1920's and they are also in need of some "flapper" dresses.

If you think you can be of assistance, please call Donna Palmer at 475-1305 as soon as possible.

All dresses will be drycleaned and returned at the conclusion of the show.

RICHARD STEELE

Meet Village Candidates

(This is the first of two parts about candidates for village council in the March 9 elections. This week's story focuses on incumbents Richard Steele and Herman Radloff. Next week will feature incumbent Stephanie Kanten and political newcomer Dennis Hall.) . . .

Four village residents have entered the race for three village trustee positions available in the election on Monday, March 9.

Incumbents Radloff, Steele, and Kanten face a challenge by newcomer Hall. It is the only contested race on the ballot.

Also on the ballot are two McKune Memorial Library Board seats held by Susan Walters and Ann Belser, and the village clerk and assessor positions. Current village clerk Evelyn Rosentreter has decided not to seek re-election. No one filed a petition for either village clerk or assessor.

Walters and Belser were the only residents to file petitions for the threeyear library board seats.

Steele, of 211 Lincoln St., and Radloff, 419 Madison St., are each seeking a third, two-year term on the bor.

Steele, supervisor of the Endoscopy Department at St. Joseph Mercy could not see a good reason not to change the zoning.

"We all want some sort of controlled growth in the village," Steele said. "And if we're going to grow, we've got to start somewhere-housing, shopping or some combination of both. I think there's a certain stability to the downtown business area, it's something that will always be there. I don't think a shopping center is going to cut into it that much."

Steele said he opposes the proposed Chelsea Pines condominium project for vacant land between Grant and Wilkinson Sts., partly because "it could almost make Lincoln St. a major street." He also opposes it because he doesn't think the land itself can adequately support medium density housing. The developer wants to build six units per acre rather than the four units per acres under current zoning. For Steele, the number one issue facing the village is the completion of the wastewater treatment plant along with improvements to the system itself.

"Some pipes are old and dangerously overloaded," he says.

Steele said he'd also like to see the question of a new village hall addressed in the next two years.

"Sooner or later we're going to need a building that's barrier free.'

Radloff moved to Chelsea nine years ago from Ann Arbor because Chelsea "was a unique little village." He works in Ann Arbor as sales manager of Killins Concrete Co.

Radloff's views about the development of Chelsea are different than Steele's. Radloff admits to being concerned about over-development and doesn't want to end up like Brighton or Saline.

"Do we need a shopping center by the freeway?" Radloff asks.

"Not if the downtown had more parking. I have a lot of feelings for the (Continued on page eight)

Dils cites as his main reason, the fact that his daughter is now a senior in high school, saying, "People who have children in the school system should have a chance to serve and its hard to beat an incumbent."

Dils has served two terms on the school board for a total of eight years. His ambivalence about making a definite decision stems from his love of the work. He says, "It's a great school board, a great administration, and a great school system."

The proof of this, he says, is in the support the community has given, especially in passing millages, when other communities have refused such requests.

One reason for this, in Dils' opinion, is "the excellent communication the school system has with the community." He cites as examples the Chelsea Challenge, the See for Yourself program, Superintendent Ray Van Meer's presentations to the community, and opening the school buildings (Continued on page four)

For example, he was the only trustee to vote in favor of changing the rezoning of land near I-94 to allow construction of a shopping mall by Rogar Development Co. of Farmington Hills. The re-zoning would have dug into some of the available land for a motel and other "freeway access businesses."

Low Science Scores Prompt Plan to Upgrade Instruction

Low scores in the first science assessment test has prompted the Department of Education to institute a four-point plan of increased assistance to local schools to improve curriculum and instruction, and a long-term strategy that includes creation of regional science improvement centers.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip Runkel said the scores indicate science needs to become a more serious priority.

The best performance was the 39.3 percent of fourth graders who had acceptable scores (at least 75 percent), dropping off to 27.3 percent of seventh graders and 22.4 percent of 10th 10-12; graders.

range were 39 percent of the fourth graders, 37 percent of the seventh graders and 34 percent of 10th graders.

test. He said they are comparable to the 38.5 percent score of fourth graders in 1973 on reading, the first year that test was offered.

The reading scores this year for fourth graders was 80.3 percent.

Runkel said the low scores parallel results of science tests in other states, and noted studies indicate students in the U.S. typically show lower levels of achievement than in other countries. "If, as a nation, we are going to be able to compete and succeed in the race among nations for scientific accomplishments, we must immediately put more emphasis on and do a better job of helping teachers improve students' knowledge and understanding of all the fields of science. The State Board of Education and the Department of Education are committed to that priority," Runkel said. The four-point plan, reflecting a need to upgrade the curriculum, includes:

-development and distribution of teaching materials aimed at improving instruction in grades K-9 and development of objectives for grades

-training a cadre of science Those scoring in the 50-75 percent teachers in the use of teaching materials, who would then work with districts in their geographical area through a series of 12 workshops;

-analyzing the test data and But Runkel said the low scores are disseminating an interpretive report also due in part to the newness of the to educators by late spring so teachers can examine the adequacy and relevance of their curriculum;

> -co-operative planning between department staff and local intermediate schools to assure a sequential and current science program exists throughout elementary and secondary schools.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It says here that farming is hazardous to the health of young people. Noise from all the machinery is causing hearing loss that can only git worst with age. It makes you wonder how far we've come in this country since we use to send city boys and girls to the farm fer their health. Git em away from all the noise and bad air, we said, and let em work and play and grow strong in the peace and quiet. Now, how are we going to keep em down on the farm if they can't hear?

The article said the finding on hearing loss come from a study of Wisconsin youngsters done by the Marshfield

Clinic and the National Farm Center.

I say if our children ain't safe on farms in Wisconsin this country has come to a sorry pass. The researchers didn't venture to say what we're going to do if the Federal Government picks up on this report and calls fer low-noise farming. Farmers are having enough trouble keeping their tractors

and combines off the auction block

now, if they have to switch to new silent running equipment designed to meet specs of EPA, USDA, OSHA and all the other protecting initials we're going to wind up solving the farm

I mentioned this hearing study during the session at the country store

Saturday night, and the fellers run with it. Ed Doolittle said hearing was fer starters. How many studies have showed that living is hazardous to our health, he wanted to know. Everthing we do is bad fer us, he said. Our food is to rich and we eat to much of it. We don't exercise, and while we're setting down gitting fat we worry to much. Our bodies are flabby and our nerves are ragged, Ed went on, and the harder we work to git ahead so we can set and git fat the higher our blood

General, Zeke Grubb said, it's good to do these studies because otherwise you'd have a heap of highly educated folks with nothing to do. Zeke recalled

a few years back Department of Commerce economy experts done a study on how state and federal tax money is spent. What they found, he said, was that more than 80 million Americans were gitting some kind of Guvernment support, and about that number had jobs outside Guvernment. But now, Zeke said, the balance must of swung to where more folks are living off taxes than are paying taxes.

surplus problem in one crop year.

Farthermore, Zeke went on, we got to relize that most of the stress in our lives is caused by Guvernment. We got so many agencies making rules til a feller could git a nervous breakdown trying to git permission up the line to build a carport on the side of his house.

Bug Hookum was agreed. We got people staying up nights figgering ways to involve more people in more reserch. Bug said the root of our problem is studies like the Department of Agriculture report that found onions ain't fit to eat. A week later two drunks died from drinking a mixture of varnish, paint thinner, lemons and onions, and the USDA issued a bulletin saying they must of got to much onion in the mixture. Speaking of reserch and life on the farm, I hope that feller in Maine is happy right about now. I recall last summer a USDA team done a survey on the quality of rural life up there. They ask this one feller how his life was going, and he allowed the only complaint he had was he couldn't use his sled two months out of the year. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

sities to focus on staff training, curriculum improvement, and development of new curricula.

The centers are also to offer or sponsor student enrichment activities, address special issues such as increasing enrollments and achievement of females, minorities and handicappers, sponsoring science-related activities in the community, and developing a material and equipment resource center.

Runkel also said he plans to seek help in improving science understanding from executives of companies such as Dow Chemical, Dow Corning, Upjohn and the Michigan Biotechnical Institute.

The best results in program area was in life science, where 81 percent of fourth graders, 69 percent of seventh graders and 52 percent of tenth graders had acceptable scores.

In other categories: 60 percent of fourth graders, 58 percent of seventh graders and 47 percent of tenth graders had acceptable scores in earth and space science; it was 58 percent, 46 percent and 47 percent in physical science; 72 percent, 64 percent and 64 percent in science process; and 69 percent, 53 percent and 57 percent in science, technology and society.

Boys did better than girls in all three grades: 42.2 percent with acceptable scores in the fourth grade, compared to 37 percent; 30 percent compared to 23.8 percent in the seventh grade; and 26.5 percent compared to 17.8 percent in the tenth grade.

Courtroom Drama Provides Fun for Enthusiastic Audience

Chelsea Area Players concluded jury roles for the next five years! All January 16th" to a total seli-out this past week-end at Beach school.

This courtroom murder trial was preceded by a candlelight social hour which included a gourmet dessert and coffee or tea.

The opening of the play involved the random selection of the jury from those in the audience who had submitted their names. Bob Riemen- March Birthday schneider was the foreman of the Friday night jury and cast the vote at the conclusion of the play that found Karen Andre (played by Rosemary Angel) not guilty. Judge Heath, (Marlene Langley) found no reason to thank the jury for a verdict that was contrary to the evidence presented! She had their names stricken from the their winter production, ""Night of jurors accepted their fate in good humor.

> Saturday's sell-out witnessed the same admonishment to the jury that delivered a guilty verdict. Ric Foytik played the part of District Attorney Flint and was happy to receive this one and only guilty verdict of the three shows.

Planned for Seniors

March birthdays of Chelsea Seniors will be celebrated Friday March 13 at the Senior Citizens Center. The hirthday party will begin with lunch served by the Nutrition Program at 11:45 a.m., followed by entertainment and refreshments.

A carnation will be presented to each birthday person, compliments of Chelsea Greenhouse. The birthday cake will be provided by the Chelsea Lioness Club.

Members of the Chelsea Senior Center with March birthdays having telephones in the Chelsea exchange will be called prior to the party. People outside the Chelsea exchange wishing to join the celebration should call or write.

Dave and Helen Kaercher of the Woodshed hosted the Afterglow party both Friday and Saturday, which also sold out to an enthusiastic group. A buffet of shrimp, chicken, fresh fruit chocolate fondue, sandwiches, and some of the biggest strawberries ever seen were enjoyed by all.

Both the Chelsea Area Players and the Woodshed will donate part of the proceeds from this community/ theatre event to the restoration of the historic Chelsea Courthouse which will begin this year.

CAP has produced the candlelight and dessert theatre for several years and it is now becoming an event for the community. They will produce "The Music Man" this coming summer.

MICHIGAN STAMPS

Any philatelist knows that the popularity of their hobby is growing at a tremendous rate-but there are many who have no idea what it is that a philatelist does.

Philately, more commonly known as stamp collecting, is on the rise, and it is estimated that there are over 90,000 philatelists in Michigan alone. In honor of the Michigan Sesquicentennial a stamp commemorat-ing the occasion will have a first day of issue in Lansing. In addition to this stamp, there have been many others honoring the state of Michigan, its people, places and products. The following is a list of stamps with Michigan themes:

1927—Air postage stamp issued to commemorate the Spirit of St. Louis, the airplane that Detroit-born Charles Lindbergh used to make the first solo transatlantic flight.

1929-Edison's Electric Light, issued to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the invention of the light bulb. Edison grew up in Port Huron.

1935-Statehood stamp, introduced two years ahead of Michigan's actual 100th birthday.

1937-Ordinance of 1787 stamp, marking the sesquicentennial of the ې د

1985-Michigan was the scene for the first day ceremonies of both Christmas stamps, The Madonna and The Poinsettia.

Additional Facts

Michigan was the first state in the Union to obtain a state centennial postage stamp with its first day cover on Nov. 1, 1935. The total number of First Day Cover cancellations in the Lansing Post Office was 176,962, breaking all records for any special postage stamp.

Our state's centennial stamp was available for popular usage one year and three months after the usual two to three week life span of special postage stamps, giving an idea of its uniqueness. The Michigan centennial commemorative stamp of 1935 is printed in light purple with the word-ing "1835 Michigan Centenary 1935" across the top in white. The subject of this 3¢ stamp is the State seal draped by the Michigan State banner and the Nation Emblem on each side.

from the CLOCK TOWER By Will Connelly

In 1769-a full 168 years before we were admitted to the Union-the first man other than an Indian paddled his cance into what is now known as Michigan. Starting from the Canadian Soo, he followed the shore of Lake Huron into Lake St. Clair and then to the waters of the Detroit River. This intrepid explorer was Adrienne Joliet. A year later 1770 priests, Rene de Galinee and Francois Dollier, paddled up the Detroit River from Lake Erie. Somewhete along the shore they came upon a strangely shaped rock) painted with a red face. The priests could see offerings of fur, food and tobacco at the base of the rock, and decided that it was an Indian idol which must be destroyed. Father Galinee broke it to pieces with an axe. The missionaries then loaded the fragments in their canoe and dumped them into the river. Having so done, they continued their religious journey.

In 1671, Father Jacques Marquette established the Jesuit mission at St. Ignace (Michigan) and in 1673 departed with Louis Joliet, brother of Adrienne, on their historic exploration of the Mississippi River.

Now please understand, I'm not trying to spoil the Sesquicentennial parties going on throughout Michigan this year. I'm just trying to make the point that a lot of devout and adventurous people were here before the place had a name or even a nationality. What attracted them were the Indians. Their souls needed saving by the priests and their furs needed buying by the trappers.

Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, a captain in the army of Louis XIV of France, persuaded the king to allow him to establish a fort on the strait between Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie. Such a post would defend French fur traders from English rivals who had the support of British military forces, In June of 1701, accompanied by his nine-year-old son, Cadillac set our from Montreal with 50 soldiers, 50 woodsmen and 100 Indians in earliers. They reached the Detroit River on July 24 where Cadillac established Fort Pontchartrain du Detroit.

The fort was named after Count Pontchattrain, Cadillac's sponsor in the royal court.

A few months later Cadillac's wife arrived in Detroit accompanied by their six-year-old son. Also with her was the wife of Alphonse Tonty, Cadillac's second officer in command. Mesdames Cadillac and Tonty were the first European women in Michigan and Cadillac's young sons were certainly the first non-Indian boys. The presence of the French women and children convinced friends and foes that the French were brithe Detroit River to stay.

Along the English speaking Atlantic seacoast, where Fort Pontchattrain was almost unknown, public attritudes were much different: Britain and France had been at war with each other, off and on, since 1689 and had been rivals for the North American fur trade since 1670. The French depended heavily on the loyalty of Indian allies, but the British usually controlled the seas and were frequently able to prevent supplies and military aid from reaching Canada. The French and Indian War with Britain began in 1754. Warriors from the Detroit River Indian villages fought on the side of the French. The fighting ended in 1760 with the British in tull control of Canada as well as the American colonies. Through it all, most of the habitants along the Detroit River remained unconcerned about European loyalties. Since 1701 they had always been governed from the fort at Detroit. In November 1760 the French garrison at the fort surrendered. Redcoats moved in and everyone took the oath of allegiance to King George II of England. It seemed hardly more than a change of flags and uniforms. The habitants continued to speak French, go to mass on Sundays and dance to the music of fiddles. In the 1770's Michigan settlers, far to the west of Massachusetts, knew little about the ride of Paul Revere, the Boston Tra Party of the dramatic events in the American colonies. Since 1760 the Detroit habitants had been British subjects. Although they knew that the capital of Canada was Montreal, the only authority their families had really known for two thirds of a century was the fort at Detroit where the commandant was their governor, defender, tax collector and fount of justice. In 1776 if the habitants heard anything at all about the Revolution it would be interpreted for them by the commander in Detroit as a fatile colonial rebellion. Troops from the Fort made war on American settlers as far south as Kentucky. Shawanee Indians appeared in Detroit in 1778 with a most illustrious prisoner-Daniel Boone. The British commandant offered the Indians a large amount of money for Boone but they refused. Instead, they took him to Chillicothe. Ohio, where they adopted him into their tribe. A short time later he escaped. General George Washington, in October 1781, aided by his French allies, trapped General Cornwallis at Yorktown and forced him to surrender. After six years, the fighting in the American Revolution was ended. The winning of the peace, however, required months of delicate diplomacy, and then years to bring it to fruition. In fact, it took 15 years after Yorktown to secure the British surrender of Fort Lernoult (formerly Pontchartrain) at Detroit as well as Fort Mackinac in the north. The pretext was that the U.S. had failed to fulfill certain obligations of the Treaty of Paris. The real reason was to extend as long as possible the trading privileges of fur merchants in Montreal and London. Finally in 1794, Britain agreed to a settlement negotiated by our emissary, John Jay. Two more years of delay were built into the deal. July 11, 1796 was finally agreed upon for the Americans to take over Fort Lernoult and on that day the British flag was hauled down. The American flag with 15 stars was raised over Michigan for the first time.

Young Korean Boy Needing Heart Surgery Hosted By Bairds

Young-Ho Shin is one brave little boy.

The six-year-old from Seoul, South Korea, came to Michigan at the beginning of the month without knowing the first word of English to stay with a family he had never met in a completely unfamiliar culture in order to receive open heart surgery for a congenital heart defect.

Young-Ho's bravery and general good nature has been a blessing to the Robert and Dona Baird family of Chelsea. The Bairds hosted Young-Ho under the Heal The Children program, a young and expanding nonprofit national program designed to provide needed medical help for underprivileged children overseas. Young-Ho, like other children in the program, could not receive the required medical attention in his native country. The Spokane-based program provides everything for the child, from airfare, to a place to stay, to all medical treatment. It thrives on private contributions.

The Bairds are essentially Young-Ho's family away from home, and, legally, they take on that responsibility. They are providing everything they would give to their own children while he is here, until March 5. They receive no monetary compensation.

Young-Ho and the Bairds have managed to communicate fairly well despite the language barrier, often with a kind of improvised sign language. However, it didn't take much for Dona to understand how Young-Ho felt after his surgery.

"He cried for four hours after his

We Want You To Know About Casket Prices

DONALD A. COLE

Casket prices are determined by three factors: the durability of the wood or metal used in construction, the effectiveness of the sealing device and the appearance created by the craftsman who built it.

Among the metals, hardwoods and cloth-covered caskets manufactured today, a variety of models and colors is available to meet the needs of families from all walks of life.

For more detailed information on caskets, or any aspects of funeral service, call or visit Cole-Burghardt Chelsea Chapel at any time. There's never any obligation.

Once more the people in the fott and the village, as well as the settlers on the Michigan side of the river, experienced a change in nationality. Once again there was a new commandant, new uniforms, a new flag and a new oath of allegiance.

Some habitants preferred to remain British and moved across the river to Canada. A few others retained their British nationality but remained in Michigan. Most of the people of the region, including the families of Scotch, Dutch and German merchants who had tome since 1760, swote allegiance to the American flag and became Michigan's first American citizens.

It would be 41 more years before this part of the new nation would be recognized with statehood. We applied in 1832 but were opposed by Ohio, already a state, because they claimed a strip of land along their northern border that included the city of Toledo. There were years of polirical haggl-

Waterloo Natural History Assoc. Offers 3 Courses

Waterloo Natural History Association is offering three courses this week-end; "The Black Spruce Bog," "Night at Green Lake," and "Bird House Workshop.'

Designated a National Natural Landmark, the Black Spruce bog is one of the Waterloo Recreation Area's more unusual, and little known, areas. The best time to visit this area is in the winter, when the ground is frozen and the mosquitoes are gone.

To tour the bog, meet Saturday, Feb. 28 at 1 p.m. on Waterloo-Munith Rd. between Parks Rd. and Mt. Hope Rd. Most of the walk will be off-trail, so wear sturdy waterproof boots.

For a nocturnal walk offered on the same date, meet at the Green Lake Campground at 7 p.m. Hikers will explore the world of creatures that are most active during the night. The evening's walk will conclude with tales around a bonfire. Dress warmly and wear sturdy waterproof boots.

On Sunday, March 1 at 1 p.m. the bird house workshop at the Cedar Lake Outdoor Center will focus on building homes that birds can raise families in this spring. Bring a hammer.

A: Sealants are used to prevent decay in the biting surfaces of permanent back teeth. They are made of a material closely related to that used in cosmetic bonding of teeth.

Tooth decay can be classified into several types. Interproximal decay occurs between the teeth where they contact each other. Decay can also occur at the gumline or on the exposed root surface of a tooth. All these kinds of decay can be reduced by proper brushing, flossing, and diet. The most common area for ducay to occur, however, is in the deep grooves of the biting surface of the tooth-...this is termed occlusal decay.

Fluoride does a wonderful job of hardening tooth enamel and making it less susceptible to decay but occlusal decay is still fairly common because it is impossible for a toothbrush to clean all of the food and bacteria (plaque) from the deep grooves on the teeth. Sealants are designed to prevent occlusal decay by filling in these deep grooves and forming a smooth surface which is more easily cleaned. Not everyone needs sealants and not everyone will benefit from them. Your family dentist is best qualified to decide if your child would be a good candidate for this procedure.

Sealants are not too difficult to place and don't require any anesthesia or drilling but they do take some time to do properly. As with most dental restorations, most sealants will require repair or replacement as time goes by and they become worn. Unfortunately, most dental insurance plans do not provide coverage for the preventative placement of sealants. That situation will hopefully change in the future since sealants have proven to be a valuable and effective conponent of a total preventative dental care regimen.

Brochure Gives Facts for Teens on Alcohol, Drugs

Teen-agers and their parents can learn about alcohol and drug problems in "Play It Smart!," a free brochure available from Brighton Hospital.

Prepared by the National Institute on Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse, the booklet is being distributed by Brighton Hospital as part of that facility's efforts to educate the community about alcohol and drug problems.

"Although we currently treat only adults, we are frequently asked by parents, educators, and other concerned community members to help them develop programs to prevent chemical dependence problems among youth," said Ivan C. Harner, the hospital's president. "This booklet, will help teen-agers and adults better understand the effects of alcohol and drug use, and we are pleased to add it to the collection of materials that may be used by the community to prevent chemical dependence."

"Play It Smart" is the third publication Brighton Hospital has included along its prevention literature. The other two are "Think-You Don't Have to Drink," and a pocket-size drug information guide. The hospital also has several films and videotapes on alcohol and drug abuse that may be borrowed at no charge by schools, churches, and community organizations.

For a free copy of the publications and a list of films and tapes, send a self-adressed business size envelope Community Relations Departto: ment, Brighton Hospital, 12851 E. Grand River, Brighton 48116 or call the hospital at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

This can be a pretty tough crowd for anything less than great.

The University of Michigan expects the best.

And they expect the best in any endeavor, whether it's academics, athletics, or health care. Which means they expect the best of us, the new health maintenance organization from the University called M-CARE.

No problem. We've designed this new HMO with plenty of important features. For example, M-CARE is filled with flexibility. It's flexible for both you and your employer. Your basic M-CARE package covvisits, allergy testing, birth control services and skilled nursing care. And you can select your own personal physicians for each member of your family from the many participating M-CARE physicians in family practice, internal medicine, obstetrics/ gynecology, and pediatrics.

And M-CARE is convenient and complete. You have six community health centers throughout the area from which to choose. And its coverage insures access to

C. S. Mott Children's Hospital, sophisticated radiation therapy for cancer treatment, or Survival Flight's emergency air transport service, M-CARE offers it all.

So feel free to be tough on us: after all, we're the HMO from The University of Michigan. We're M-CARE.

mall-next to a major highway. I cannot understand why the commission repeatedly has denied the rezoning. What good would it do, having a gas/service station or fast food restaurant away from the main road. And Chelsea could only support so many motels. Rene Papo's plan would help Chelsea, by creating new jobs, and by bringing more money into the local economy.

sion's decision is that it would draw people away from the downtown business district. I believe that this is totally false! A mall would draw people from other villages, such as Manchester or Grass Lake, and area residents who would otherwise shop in Ann Arbor or Jackson. The people who go downtown to shop currently, would most likely remain shopping there, because of the beauty of the area, and of its people. The commission also stated that the western portion of the land is zoned for medium residential housing. Not many people would want to live near a noisy highway!

that the leaders of Chelsea are afraid to grow. I can't understand why though, because more people means that there is more money in the local economy, and this would be a plus for our town. And a mall would attract more people. Chelsea is an ideal place to live, for commuters to Ann Arbor. Jackson, and their surrounding areas. With the great school system, a mall could only help these people decide where to live. The only reason that I can think of for the commission being afraid to expand, is that it may hurt our "small town charm." What is a "small town charm?" I think that with proper planning, Chelsea can keep a certain atmosphere to it. I have experienced this with other cities and towns, with my, and my family's many traveling experiences. I believe that Chelsea will grow, and Papo's will make for a smoother and easier future for Chelsea.

To the Editor,

Chelsea Community Hospital will begin a series of programs called, "I Can Cope." This is an excellent program for people with cancer and their family and friends. I took advantage of the program last fall and received a lot of valuable information. The coleaders, Kris Hora and Mary Helen Davis, are very compassionate and helpful. The program is free and I highly recommend it.

Health Care Industry Undergoing Rapid Changes

Health care early in the next century—you'll like it.

The above statement is somewhat optimistic. You will probably not like all of the things that take place in the future of health care, but there are many items of good news for the consumer.

You have probably noticed the changes in the health care field recently. Doctors and hospitals advertise. Patients are viewed as "customers." Corporations, insurance companies, and physician groups negotiate health care packages with hospitals, clinics, laboratories, and others, based on quality and cost, not unlike a corporation buying large quantities of a commodity itern.

Perhaps you have noticed that instead of choosing your own health care providers, your family doctor does it for you and he or she tells you where you will get treatment and tests. You are told by the managers of your insurance program where to do your purchasing, or perhaps you go out and shop on your own for the best deal. Maybe you respond to an ad in the paper.

Without spending more time on the many changes of recent years, let us look ahead. The purchasing of health care for us by larger organizations such as insurors is going to occur on a bigger scale. Government and private insurors will be buying tens of thousands of patient days in big care providers. One of those may be called Fed-Care and Medicare may be phased out. Fed-Care would purchase on behalf of many of our citizens, such as social security recipients, DOD dependents, and VA beneficiaries.

There may well be multi-national organizations buying health care for people, perhaps even for whole nations. These insurance companies, if that is a good name for them, will decide where your health care is purchased, what you pay for it, and what quality level you receive.

One good sign from the future indicates that price will not be the driving force, as all providers compete and lower their costs. The driving force will be quality, just like it will be in the purchase of automobiles, television sets, or whatever it is you produce at work. The future belongs to those who do it well, as long as they do not charge too much for their product. Hospitals as we know them now will go in many new directions. Some will get smaller, some will diversify, some will affiliate with others, some will drop out of many of the things they do now, and take up new product areas. Treatment you have traditionally received as an in-patient has been rapidly shifting to the out-patient arrangement. You go in during the morning hours, have your surgery or package deals negotiated with health care providers. One of those may be called Fed-Care and Medicare may be

New software will make a major impact on your life. "Expert Systems" are systems designed to capture knowledge from people and put it into computer programs that respond to interrogation from less skilled individuals than those who supplied the data. Experiments in many industries are encouraging, even though those persons who claim the expertise today cannot easily accept that they can be replaced by a mega-file of information. Health care provides many opportunities for expert systems doing diagnostic routines, and making clinical decisions.

Another big influence will be the vigorous elders of the future who are going to be biologically more vigorous and more committed to a full life. One in nine Americans is over 65 years of age now. By the year 2010 it will be one in five, and they will be a different sort of elder person. The makers of products will respond to this wonderful market, and design homes, automobiles, furniture, and other things to the bodies and attitudes of those elders. This better life for the elderly will be one of the products of improved medical services.

As the number of people from other parts of the world increases in our population, Eastern philosophies dealing with health care through the mind will increasingly show their influence in our Western medical cultures. Not everything is learned in the laboratory. Civilizations with an ancient base have learned many wonderful things by the process of longer practice and elimination of that which does not work. We will merge what they have learned with that which we have learned through our sciences.

What does this mean to you? As a population, you and I will live better, live longer, and have less personal individual control of the source, cost, and quality of our health care. The implications of all of this are that we will have to plan our personal finances differently (for a longer life), we will want to restructure educational systems (there could be a large demand for a second round of education for retired persons), we will probably work more years before retiring, we will have prime years available to serve as volunteers to help our churches, schools, and communities, there will be an increase of activity in the hobby areas providing business opportunities, and the list goes on and on.

Whether or not one or both parents smoke strongly influences teen-age smoking habits: The chances of a teen smoking are the strongest when both parents smoke, weaker when only one parent smokes and weakest if neither parent smokes.

posal was contrary to the General Development Plan.

"My feeling is, if you're going to have a master plan you ought to live by it," Radloff says.

Radloff acknowledges, however, that it is just a matter of time before there is a mall in the Chelsea area, either within the village limits or in one of the townships. "There are a lot of young people who want to live in town but have to move out because there is no housing. We need them here."

Radloff says he would also like to see additional housing built for senior citizens.

Career Program Begins

Jacqueline Parks Andrews, director of ECUS, the Educators' Collaborative for Unemployment Services, has announced the start of the Career Awareness Program in 17 schools within Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Aimed at qualified ninth and tenth grade youth, the program is designed to help participants prepare for future employment through vocational assessment, an individually structured learning plan, and the development of personal and career decisionmaking skills.

Those schools providing the Career Awareness Program include Clague, Forsythe, Scarlett, Slauson, and Tappan Intermediate Schools; Pioneer, Huron, and Community High Schools; and the Roberto Clemente Center, all in Ann Arbor.

In addition, the program has begun at the Regional Career and Technical Center which includes Lincoln, Willow Run and Ypsilanti High schools; the South and West Vocational Consortium, serving the Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline school districts; the Whitmore Lake school district; and Brighton, Fowlerville, Harland, Howell, and Pinckney in the Livingston Intermediate school district.

"These kids tend to have few, positive job or career-related role models," says Andrews, who explains that the Career Awareness Program is intended to be a preventive rather than a remedial approach to developing good work habits in our youth. In all, 170 students will receive the benefits of this program, resulting from a funding budget of nearly $107,000. Andrews also notes that the federally-funded program is unique in that its services are being coordinated by ECUS across both counties.

Another benefit of the program comes from its structure, which Andrews describes as consistent, allowing participants to remain in the program from ninth through tenth grade, including the summers which follow each school year. At that point, the participants will be ready for the next level of training.

Dogs Win Share of SEC Despite Loss to Dexter

Chelsea Bulldogs, suffering through one of their worst offensive performances of the season at Dexter last Friday, still managed to gain a share of the Southeastern Conference crown, as the second-place Saline Hornets were beaten by Lincoln as well.

The Bulldogs lost to the Dreadnaughts, 41-37. If Chelsea manages to beat either Tecumseh this Friday at home or Pinckney away the following Friday, they win the championship outright.

However, there is also the possibility of a three-way tie. Tecumseh upset Milan on Friday, moving the Indians into a tie with Saline in the loss column. The Hornets have played one more league game.

"Going from last place to first place in one season is a big jump and we have a right to be proud of what we've accomplished," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"At the same time, we have a good chance to win the title outright and we don't want to share it with Saline or Tecumseh. We don't want to settle for a tie."

Rosentreter said the Bulldogs simply "put too much pressure on themselves," against the Dreadnaughts.

"Our loss really didn't have that much to do with Dexter," Rosentreter said.

"Sure, they played better than the first time we saw them, but if any of our starters had had even an average night, we would have won the game."

Statistics tell the story. Forward Mark Bareis, averaging more than 20 points, scored just 10.

Chelsea scored 12 points in the second and third quarters combined, hitting 5-26 field goal attempts. The

Ron Bogdanski, P. Taylor Win District Mat Titles

Ron Bogdanski and Pat Taylor were champions of their weight classes at the district wrestling meet last Saturday and will go on to represent Chelsea at the regional meet this Saturday in Tecumseh. Bogdanski, at 126 pounds, and Taylor, at 105 pounds, each had to wrestle and win four matches to become a champion. No other Chelsea wrestler qualified for the regionals as most were eliminated in their first match. Each wrestler had to win at least his first two matches. Taylor, a freshman, had to beat two boys who had beaten him earlier in the season. "Pat must have had his superman outfit on," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel. "If he wrestles like that this week he'll have a good chance at state. He came out of the woodwork. He has never wrestled that well." In his first match, Taylor pinned Mark McIntosch of Jackson Lumen Christi in :44. Taylor beat Dalton Holt of Brooklyn Columbia Central in his second match, 10-2. Holt had pinned him earlier in the season. In his third match, Taylor wrestled Dexter's Todd Benson, the top seed in the tournament. Taylor took a 16-9 decision. Finally, Taylor won by default due to an injury in the middle of the match over David Heilman of Charlotte. Taylor was leading by eight points when the match was called. Bogdanski, Bulldog co-captain, won each of his first two matches, 14-0. He faced Ian Stewart of Fowlerville in the opener and Todd Crim of Perry in the second match. Bogdanski pinned his final two opponents. Norm Jacobs of Jackson Northwest was the first victim, in 3:42, and Chad Watts of Albion went down in 2:33. Watts beat Bogdanski at the Jackson County Western Invitational and had a 25-3 record going into the district meet. Bogdanski has a 30-8-1 record for the season. "Ron and Pat both beat kids who had beaten them earlier and that showed me something," Kargel said. "They went out to win, not just to wrestle. They were not intimidated by Dogs were 15-55 from the field for the game.

Jon Lane's play was the only reason the game was even close. The senior reserve guard led the team with 12 points, mostly on jump shots. He had six of Chelsea's eight third quarter points.

"Jeff (Dils, assistant coach) and L thought we'd be able to score 50 points easy and Dexter wouldn't even be close," Rosentreter said.

"We were right that Dexter wasn't close to 50 points. We just couldn't believe we scored only 15 points in the first half. The only quarter where we began to show signs of our capabilities was in the fourth quarter. Even with our poor play we had our chances to win the game. We didn't have the concentration to win."

The teams played to an 11-11 tie in the first quarter before the Dreadnaughts started to pull away in the seccond. Dexter hit the first 10 points of the period. At the 3:06 mark, Greg Haist hit two foul shots. Bareis drilled a jump shot with 2:17 left.

Dexter increased their lead to seven points at the end of the third period before Chelsea started coming back.

Marty Poljan's foul shot with 2:58 left cut Dexter's lead to 34-33. However, Dexter junior forward Dan Brown, who led Dexter with 12 points, hit a jump shot, then both ends of a one-and-one, stretching the lead back to five.

A Haist interception of a pass at half-court with :23 to go and a fourpoint Dexter lead ended in a charging foul.

"The kids were frustrated and I think some people on the team were point each by Todd Starkey, Haist and Poljan.

In other action last Tuesday, Feb. 17, Chelsea played one of its best games of the season in nipping class A Howell at the Chelsea gym, 65-63.

Bareis' season-high 32 points paced the Dogs, who scored more points in two quarters against the Highlanders than they did the entire game against Dexter. Chelsea's point total for the second and third periods was 40.

"It was one of our better games for all our starters," Rosentreter said. "Everyone contributed. It's very strange to play so well one game and so poorly three days later."

Howell, leaders of the Kensington four, and Steinhauer and Lane, two each.

The Highlanders were 26-56 from the field and had three players in double figures, led by Jon O'Hanisain's 14 points.

Tecumseh Indians feature one of the best shooting guards around in John Hartley. He is to the Indians what Bareis is to the Bulldogs. Rosentreter said that Tecumseh will feature a three-guard offense. "They are going to be fired up, with a chance to tie for the league on the line," Rosentreter said.

"Our last two league games are not going to be easy."

As of Friday, Chelsea's over-all record was 13-4.

Four Tankers Qualify For State Competition

Chelsea varsity swim team finished Schmid, and Tyler Lewis swam to a the regular season Thursday, Feb. 19, with the Chelsea Invitational. The team came away with 57 lifetime bests out of 65 total swims.

Chelsea finished third in the five team meet, won by Ann Arbor Pioneer.

In the opening 200 yard medley relay race the Chelsea "D" team of Holden Harris, Mike Hollo, James Alford, and David Barth swam four personal bests to place 11th with a time of 2:04.05. The "B" team of Terry Draper, David Oesterle, Wally sixth place finish, as the first three swimmers had pesonal-best times. Total time was 1:54.05.

To cap off the medley relays the "A" team of Darren Girard, Matt Doan, Kevin Brock, and Chris Birtles swam to a first-place finish and a state qualifying time of 1:46.88. To make the state qualifying time was especially gratifying because of the fact that the team had already dropped four seconds at the Jackson meet the previous Tuesday, said coach Mike Keeler.

"We prepared to swim fast at the Jackson meet to try and get a state time and we dropped quite a bit, so we felt that with the added help of the faster competition at our invitational we would drop under the time we needed to get to go to state," Keeler said.

The 200 freestyle produced more big time drops as Charlie Hosner dropped 2.6 seconds to place seventh with a time of 2:03.56. Freshman Nat Cooper

FRESHMAN PAT TAYLOR, top, won the 105-pound weight class at last Saturday's district tournament with four straight victories. Coach Kerry Kargel said "he must have had his Superman suit on." He'll go on to represent Chelsea at the regional tournament in Tecumseh this week-end,

Sprague Wins 35 lb. Throw At CCC Meet

Chelsea's Todd Sprague, a senior at Western Michigan University, won the 35-pound weight throw at the Central Collegiate Conference Indoor Championships at Eastern Michigan University on Saturday, Feb. 14.

Sprague set a personal record in the meet with an effort of 55' 51/2". His previous best was 54' 10".

The meet featured seven teams from each of the Big 10 and the Mid-American Conferences and is considered one of the most competitive in the midwest.

Frosh Cagers Split 2 Games

For the second week in a row, the Chelsea Bulldog freshman basketball team split two games, losing to Adrian, 62-44 on Monday, Feb. 16, and whipping Dexter, 78-51 on Thursday, Feb. 19.

The previous week, Chelsea defeated Milan, 63-53 on Monday, Feb. 9, but lost to Lincoln, 50-30, on Thursday, Feb. 12.

"The final Adrian score was not indicative of the closeness of the game," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

Chelsea led at the half, 24-22, and at the end of three quarters, 40-38. The Dogs came apart in the fourth quarter.

"Our shot selection was terrible, our passing was terrible and our defense was terrible," Quilter said of the fourth quarter.

'We completely stopped doing everything that got us a lead after three quarters against a class A school that is 13-3 on the season. They didn't make any drastic changes or do anything different so much as we stopped believing in ourselves and executing."

Chad Starkey led the Bulldogs with 20 points.

Thursday's game against Dexter, coached by Dave Scriven, had the highest point total by any Chelsea basketball team this season. It was also the widest margin of victory by the freshmen.

Leading the offense were Kyle Plank and Brian Burg, with 18 points each, and Starkey, with 17.

"I was really pleased to see Kyle and Brian have games like they did," Quilter said.

"Kyle's had a couple of games where he lacked confidence and Brian's had a couple of rough games, too. Starkey looks like he is starting to play up to his capability."

Quilter also noted the improved play of Sinisa Janicevic and Mark Chasteen.

"The success we've had so far can be attributed to good team play, both offensively and defensively," Quilter said.

"When we play good team ball we play well. When we get into individual play we have problems."

Cager of the Week

CAGER OF THE WEEK is 6' senior forward Matt Bohlender, son of John and Darla Bohlender, 43 Chestnut Dr. His brothers and sisters include Mike, Tracy and Kristin. Coming off the bench this season, Matt has provided an aggressive spark at times when the Bulldogs need it the most. Matt has played organized basketball for six years, making the varsity squad last season. Matt also plays football and baseball. For two years he was first team All-Southeastern Conference as a defensive back. Last season he was second-team All-Region as a linebacker. He also won the "Best Back" Bulldog team award. Matt attends St. Mary's Catholic church. In the summers he likes to play golf and tennis. He plans to study engineering/business at Michigan State University next fall.

Wrestlers

(Continued from page ten) any of their opponents. I was real pleased to have two champions come out of the meet. Last year we had three wrestlers go to the regionals but none of them was a champion."

Chelsea co-captain Leo Durham came within a match of reaching the regionals but lost in his second match, 9-8.

"Leo lost because of poor reffing, pure and simple," Kargel said.

"The guy cautioned Leo for stalling and Leo was definitely not stalling." As a team, Chelsea finished seventh of 18 teams. The Dexter Dreadnaughts qualified six wrestlers for the regional tournament and had three champions. "Our conference represented itself very well," Kargel said.

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK is senior co-captain Leo Durham, who competes at 198 pounds, but has also wrestled at heavyweight. Leo's season recently ended at the district tournament, where he finished with his best record ever, 30-7. It was quite an achievement for Leo, who first took vp wrestling as a sophomore. Leo, who lives at 13212 Old US-12 with John and Maggie Roberts, was a first team All-Southeastern Conference defensive tackle on the football team last fall and made the All-Region second team. After working this summer, Leo plans to attend Grand Rapids Junior College to study electronics and play football.

I've heard a lot of grousing and grumbling about the officiating at the Chelsea-Dexter basketball game last Friday night. That's something I count on when a league leader loses to a decidedly inferior team. I pay about as much attention to it as I do to Ronald Reagan railing about the Commies knocking at our back door.

There may have been a couple of questionable calls late in the game. But the fact, Jack, is the Bulldogs played a horrible game, maybe even worse than the opening league loss to Saline last December. And that was beyond bad, past pathetic, all the way to rotten

I'm sure the Dreadnaughts think they played a magnificent game, holding Chelsea to less than 40 points and Mark Bareis to just 10. Mark, who's been averaging close to 26 points a game recently, was taking the shots he normally makes. He simply had a bad night. It wasn't due to Dexter's defensive harrassment. What makes the Dexter game so unusual is seven Chelsea guys had a bad night all at the same time. Guard Jon Lane was probably the lone exception, not counting the guys who sat on the bench all night long.

I kind of look at it like one of those aberrations the financial phenoms call a "correction" in the stock market. I figure Bareis' and the Bulldogs' stock has been soaring so high lately that it was bound to tumble briefly. And I look for it to rise higher than where it was before it fell.

This Friday's home game against Tecumseh is shaping up to be one of the best of the year. Believe it or not, the Indians have a chance to tie for the Southeastern Conference title if they win the rest of the way and Chelsea loses.

The last thing Rahn Rosentreter wants is for his team to be forced to win at Pinckney on the last week of the season to take the league title outright. He'd much prefer to do it this Friday in front of the rowdy home fans. His teams haven't had the best of luck up north.

With a chance to win the league, you can bet the Indians will be (take your pick) 1. ready to pull an ambush, 2. not offering any peace pipes, 3. poised to take some scalps, 4. wanting to burn Chelsea at the stake, 5. hoping to send Chelsea to the happy hunting grounds.

Tecumseh must have improved as much as any team in the league. Because about the only thing I can remember about them from the first time the teams met is the Tecumseh coach, during a timeout, calling his players a "bunch of sissies and old ladies." I was shocked he didn't call them "squaws and papooses."

incidentally, I have a problem with the Tecumseh mascot. I can understand Bulldogs, Pirates, Hornets, even Dreadnaughts. But these Indians, it's a different story. Isn't Tecumseh calling itself the "Indians," similar to saying Martin Luther King High school (in a caucasian suburb, of course) calling itself the "Negroes," or maybe the "Colored People." Doesn't it seem just a little bit demeaning?

Indians sounds like it was made up 40 or 50 years ago by some hack sportswriter so he could use all those wonderful phrases I used a few paragraphs back.

As far as Friday's game goes, the Native Americans have one of the best guards around in John Hartley. He'll likely score as many points as Bareis, many on 18-foot jump shots. As I recall, he practically staged a one-man rally for the NAs in the first game. Todd Starkey will get to play him one-on-one.

If Bareis and Hartley play to a draw, the game will be decided by the supporting casts. And that's where the rebounding of Jeff Harvey and the point play of Starkey should make the difference. Marty Poljan, one of those guys who has improved week after week with little recognition, should be able to handle their big guy inside. If Greg Haist starts hitting his jumper, as he did against Milan, the NAs could be in big trouble.

JV Spikers Top Northwest

Chelsea JV volleyball team upended Jackson Northwest on Monday, Feb. 13 in two straight games, 15-3 and 15-8.

In other action on Thursday, Feb. 19, the girls dropped two games to Dexter, 6-15 and 5-15.

In the JNW match, Meredith Hall served for seven points and Kelly Scott served for four points in the first game. In the second game, Allison Brown served for six points, Stacey Norris served for five points and Lisa McGlinnen served for four.

Sarah Schaeffer, Jennifer Lewis, Jill Nowatzke and Tonya Grammatico each had one kill for the night.

In the Dexter game, "we just never put our game together," said Chelsea coach Cheryl Vogel.

"It was not just one or two people who had a bad night, but the entire team was out of synch."

Acker Is State Champ At Middle School Meet

made an excellent showing at the Middle School Swimming and Diving State Championships last Saturday, Feb. 21 at Hill High School in Lansing. The meet included 20 teams from all over the state.

Leading the way for Chelsea was eighth grader Von Acker, whose times of :25.01 in the 50-yard freestyle and :27.34 in the 50 butterfly made him a double state champion. Acker also swam the butterfly leg of the fifth place medley relay team.

"I was very proud of Von and everyone else we had swimming today," said Chelsea coach Dave Brinklow.

"After swimming so well last week. I thought we might have trouble repeating those performances, but in most cases we improved. Eighth grader Joe Huetteman and seventh Beach Middle school swim team grader Erika Boughton did especially well."

> The results of the meet are as follows:

200 medley relay: Sara Nicola, Greg Garen, Acker, Brian Brock, fifth place, 2:06.47.

200 freestyle: Huetteman, seventh. 2:16.72; Greg Garen, 10th, 2:21.24.

100 individual medley: Brock, sixth, 1:08.79; Boughton, 11th, 1:16.34; Nicola, 12th, 1:16.49.

50 freestyle: Acker, 1st, :25.01. 50 butterfly: Acker, 1st, :27.34; Boughton, 7th, :32.91; Nicola, ninth, :33.88; Jennifer McEachern, 12th, :34.69.

100 freestyle: Huetteman, ninth, 1:01:68.

100 backstroke: Brock, 5th, 1:12.16. 100 breaststroke: Garen, 10th, 1:22.07.

I look for Chelsea to win, probably by less than eight points. How about 54-48.

Congratulations are in order for a few Chelsea athletes.

Freshman Pat Taylor get the Lion in Winter award for winning the district wrestling meet at 105 pounds. If you could only have heard the way coach Kerry Kargel talked about his performance. He couldn't have been prouder if Pat was his own son. Pat was unseeded and had to whip Dexter's Todd Benson, the number one seed. It was an outstanding performance.

Senior Ron Bogdanski also deserves a round of applause for winning the district at 126 pounds, although it doesn't really come as any great surprise. Ron's been wrestling well for the last two years. Now that he'll be competing against the big boys at the regionals, he'll have a chance to show just how good he is.

Also, congratulations to the 200-yard medley relay team of Matt Doan, Kevin Brock, Darren Girard and Chris Birtles for earning a berth in the state swim meet with their performance at the Chelsea Invitational last Thursday.

Finally, kudos to Von Acker of Beach Middle school, who became a middle school state champion in two different swimming events.

There's no Rowdy Report this week because I did not go to the Howell game due to another work commitment.

Remember, we need to pack the gym this Friday or Coach Rahn may be recalled by the Big Guy in the Sky. That would be too bad, especially now that people are starting to realize that Rahn really does know how to coach. Let's keep the bearded one here on earth!

JV Cagers Top Dexter With 4th Quarter Spurt

Chelsea JV basketball team scored 18 points in the fourth quarter to time, as Chelsea committed the bulk knock off the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday on the road, 49-44.

In other action last week, Chelsea lost to a good class A Howell team, 50-47, at home on Tuesday, Feb. 17.

Dexter held a 32-31 lead after three quarters before Jeff Marshall hit a baseline jump shot to put Chelsea ahead for good early in the fourth period.

"Jeff and Junior Morseau played good fourth quarters for us," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

"When the heat's on, they seem to play their best." Marshall had five points and Morseau eight points in the final period.

Chelsca had one of their best nights from the free throw line, hitting 13-17 tries, including 6-9 in the fourth quarter.

It was an unusual offensive game for Chelsea in another respect-only the starters scored. Morseau led the team with 18 points, John Collins had 11, Marshall, nine, Larry Nix, seven, and Tim Anderson, four.

While pleased with the victory, Dils was not overly impressed by his team's play, citing too many turnovers (22), and too many early bad shots.

"We didn't use our game plan to our advantage," Dils said.

"Our bad early shots took us away from our game.'

Chelsea out-muscled Dexter on the boards with a 27-26 rebound advantage.

Marty Walsh led Dexter with 13 points.

In the Howell contest, Chelsea stayed close throughout the game. "It was a pretty good game," Dils said.

'We made a lot of mistakes but a lot of that was due to their good defense. And they hit their shots down the stretch. That made the difference."

> FRANK GROHS CHEVROLET 7130 DEXTER RD. DEXTER

The Highlanders led 22-21 at halfof their 22 turnovers early in the contest.

A poor shooting third quarter, in which the Bulldogs made just 2-10 shots, helped Howell stretch their lead to 32-29 at the end of the period.

Despite the poor third quarter, Chelsea shot 45 percent on the night. "It wasn't a good 45 percent, though," Dils said.

"We didn't get that many shots." Chelsea hit 13-21 free throws and out-rebounded the Highlanders, 23-20. Morseau again led the team with 18 points. No other Bulldogs were in double figures.

Marshall picked up three fouls early in the second quarter and sat out much of the game. He, David White and Phil Thomson each had two points. Rounding out the scoring were Anderson, nine points, Collins, eight, and Nix, six.

and Scott Marsh swam to a 2:09.04 and 2:08.55, respectively, which were 9.4 and 7.6 second drops from their personal bests. Also, freshman Rob Northrup and Todd Redding swam to personal hests at 2:32.31 and 2:22.69, respectively. Sophomore Mike Hollo dropped 6.3 seconds to finish with a time of 2:14.26 and 14th place.

The first heat of the 200 individual medley showed the results of a lot of hard work as freshman Jim Alford registered an eight-second drop to a career best of 2:33.32. He was followed closely by Harris at a career best time of 2:34.75.

In the second heat, Harris and freshman David Oesterle continued to swim well as they dropped to 2:23.27 and 2:25.61, respectively, their career bests, good for 11th and 14th in the meet.

The third heat winner was Brock, as he smoothly swam to a 2:14.19, good for fourth place. He was followed closely by the freshman tandem of Brett Paddock and Garth Girard with Brett's 2:20.89 good for eighth place and Garth's 2:23.39 good for 12th.

In the final heat of the IM sophomore Terry Draper, swimming from an outside lane, swam to a career best of 2:16.73, placing him sixth over-all in the race.

In the 50 freestyle, Chelsea continued to swim in fine fashion as freshman Jason Sheffield recorded a personal best of :34.46. Other swimmers who swam well were Schmid, seventh place, at :25.09, David Walker, at :25.89, 11th place, and Scott Sheffield, :26.67, and Dan Luck :30.35, a personal-best by a second.

Chelsea diver junior Tyler Lewis won easily with a total of 386 points. Sophomore Mark Luick qualified for the regional meet in two weeks at Plainwell, with a fourth place finish and career best score of 246.45 points. "I was very proud of the way our divers performed, especially Mark as this will be his first time at the regional meet," Keeler said.

In the 100 butterfly, Chelsea's lone entry in the event was Brock as he swam to a silver medal with a personal-best of 1:00.42.

"Kevin was already tapered for this event on Tuesday and came back Garth Girard, Walker, and Hosner. Thursday and still dropped his time by almost a half second." Keeler said.

In the 100 freestyle, the Chelsea team gained another state meet entry with an exciting swim by junior captain Matt Doan, who dropped his time by 7 tenths of a second, going under the state standard at :50.87.

The Chelsea Standard, Wednesday, February 25, 1987

"I was very pleased with Matt's swim as he had put in a lot of work this year and it's just now showing," Keeler said.

Also swimming well was sophomore Chris Birtles as he dropped two seconds to record a :53.37, good for fifth place.

Schmid led the freshman group with an eighth-place finish at :54.73, Nat Cooper was 13th with an excellent drop of four seconds to :57.25, and Jason Sheffield dropped two seconds to record a career-best of 1:19.93. Sophomore Scott Sheffield recorded an excellent swim with a :58.76 clocking.

"I was really excited to see Scott do well as he has had a tough year with sickness and he still came through with a very good swim, dropping his best by two seconds and placing 16th in the meet," Keeler said. David Walker swam a :58.03 and Dan Luck a 1:09.28.

In the 500 freestyle, Garth Girard dropped 11 seconds to a 5:33.01 which placed fifth. Hosner dropped 16 seconds to place seventh at 5:42.02. Marsh came back from mid-season sickness to drop 13 seconds for a personal best of 5:56.85. Redding dropped 10 seconds to a 6:37.33 and Northrup dropped to a 6:39.34.

The 100 backstroke saw Paddock drop 2.5 seconds to place sixth with a time of 1:03.23. Draper also swam a good backstroke with a two-second drop to a seventh place, 1:04.04.

In the last individual event, the 100 breastroke, Chelsea swimmers were led by Oesterle's sixth place finish with a career best of 1:09.45. Other Chelsea swimmers included junior Howard Merkel at 1:11.42, Barth at 1:12.65, Hollo, at 13th place with a 1:13.29, and Harris, 16th place 1:15.34.

In the final event, the 400 freestyle relay, the Chelsea "C" team of Northrup, Redding, Luck, and Jason Sheffield recorded a 4:43.36, good for 13th place. Also recording a 3:49.74 was the Chelsea "B" squad of Cooper, In the final heat of the evening,

Chelsea's "A" tear, desnite a tremendous anchor leg by Matt Doan came up a half second short in their quest for a state qualifying time with a time of 3:29.54.

"We were really aiming to make the state cut in that event, so we were disappointed to miss by so little, but I am proud with how much that relay has improved over the season and with only one senior on the squad it looks good for next year," Keeler said.

The 1987 Chelsea state team that will compete at the state meet March 13 and 14 at Eastern Michigan University will consist of the 200 medley relay team of Darren Girard, Doan, Brock, and Eirtles. Doan will also compete in the 100 freestyle and possibly the 100-yard breastroke.

The next big meet is the Plainwell Regional meet on March 10. The top 15 places advance to the state meet. Chelsea has two qualifiers, Lewis, and Luick.

Hawks' Best Time Wins Backstroke

Chelsea's Kirk Hawks, a junior at Albion College, took first place in a swim meet against Adrian College in the 200-backstroke with his best time ever.

Albion took first place in every event for a 104-64 victory.

Holmes Places 4th in Butterfly

Chelsea's Amanda Holmes, a freshman at Northern Michigan University, placed fourth in the 100 butterfly in a meet with Oakland University.

The Wildcats won the meet, 163-76.

National FFA Week Being Observed

More than 430,000 FF'A members will promote FFA, high school agriculture and the food and fiber industry during National FFA Week, Feb. 21-28.

FFA members in 8,000 chapters across the U.S., the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will organize events and activities to create awareness of and support for high school agriculture and the FFA.

FFA activities and programs will be promoted by FFA members and through public service announcements on the local, state and national levels. This year's theme is "FFA-Leaders for the New Fields of Agriculture," with emphasis on "Excellence Made in the FFA."

High school agriculture classes stress hands-on practice in many diverse areas of agriculture, and FFA activities provide leadership development, communications training and award incentives for these young people.

dent from Creston, Ia., said FFA Week is the chance for members and communities to recognize the achievements and activities available through FFA and high school agriculture.

"We're proud of this commitment to young people and agriculture. As FFA members, and students in agriculture classes, we are receiving the business, science and leadership skills we need to prepare for the diverse and challenging careers in agriculture," Eblen said.

Each year FFA Week is held during the week of George Washington's birthday to recognize his leadership and commitment to American agriculture. The National FFA Center is located on part of the old Washington estate near Alexandria, Va.

★ New Plants for 1987 . .

It's that time of the year again when gardeners look forward to sitting down with some of the catalogues that have begun to arrive with all sorts of interesting plant temptations. Hybridizers have been busy developing a host of new plants to tempt gardeners, including a carefree shrub rose that won an All America Rose Selections award; a lotus that holds its flowers well above the foliage: several Rhododendron cultivars; and a new zinnia cultivar that is resistant to powdery mildew.

The following is just a small sam-pling of the many exciting new plants that garden centers and nurseries will be offering this season. Look for the catalogues filling your mailbox for more on this season's new plants.

Rosa "Sequoia Gold"—A miniature rose suitable for growing in pots or in the garden, this rose bears fragrant, deep-yellow flowers that retain their bright color from bud to open bloom. Plants bloom abundantly and bear shiny, dark green foliage. It was awarded the American Rose Society's Award of Excellence at the Society's 1986 national conference. Available from Sequoia Nursery, Visalia, Calif. 93277.

Pumpkin "Munchkin"-This novelty produces miniature pumpkins 4-6 inches in width and 3-4 inches in height. Available from Harris Seeds,

Chelsea Student in NMU Production

Tom Mull of Chelsea, a junior at Northern Michigan University, has been cast in the Forest Roberts Theatre production of "The Actor's Nightmare."

This production deals with the plight of George Spelvin (played by Mull) who is suddenly pushed on stage to replace an ailing actor.

Apparently no one is sure just what play is being performed, and what follows in an interesting mixture of different plays from "Private Lives" to "Hamlet." Chaos reigns as George loses all touch with his fellow actors until the final intrusion of a very deadly bit of reality.

Mull is majoring in theatre and minoring in English. He is the son of Betty K. Mull of 215 Park, Chelsea.

Moreton Farm, Rochester, N.Y. 14624.

Nelumbo "Charles Thomas"-This striking new lotus holds its lovely fuchsia-pink blossoms well above its attractive large leaves. May be grown in full-size pond or a small patio tub garden. Available from Lilypons Water Gardens, Lilypons, Md. 21717. Zinnia "Rose Pinwheel"—A zinnia cultivar that is the first to be resistant to powdery mildew, the "Rose Pinwheel" bears single, 21/2-3 inch flowers. Plants grow 18-24 inches tall. Available from W. Atlee Burpee Co.,

Warminster, Pa. 18974.

More information on these new plants, on other new plants for 1987, and sources from which they may be purchased will be available in the February issue of the American Horticulturist, a publication of the American Horticultural Society. For a copy of this issue of the magazine, please send $1 with your name and address to: New Plants for 1987, AHS, P.O. Box 0105, Mount Vernon, Va. 22121.

Information Meeting Slated for Cancer Patients, Families

Chelsea Community Hospital is presenting an eight-week informational group for cancer patients, their families and supporters, starting on Wednesday, March 4 at 7 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital.

The program will continue on Wednesdays, March 11, 18, and 25, April 1, 8, 15 and 22.

The course is designed to move people from "What can I do?" to "Here's what I can do." The course content includes: learning about your disease, coping with daily health problems, expressing your feelings about having cancer, and learning about helpful resources. There will be a guest speaker at each session.

For more information or to register, please call the hospital at 475-1311, ext. 262. Class is limited to 15 people.

DOGGING IT: Sled dog racing is an increasingly popular winter sport in Michigan, harking back to the days when teams of dogs transported mail to northern settlements. Dogs pre-dated horses as a transportation mode for early day Indians. Teams average 18 miles an hour in races, can go up to 40 mph on a packed trail.

TRANSPORTATION IN MICHIGAN HISTORY Sled Dogs Carried Supplies, Mail in Early-Day Michigan

By A. Cecil Houghton

Up to ice-covered Grand River in the winter of 1837 came a team of harnessed dogs pulling a sled which contained an unusual cargo. They were hauling a printing press from Grand Haven into the Grand Rapids area for the newly established "Grand River Times," Kent county's first newspaper.

The first issue was published on April 18, less than three months after Michigan became the 26th state to enter the Union.

But for those sturdy dogs, the task of moving a heavy piece of equipment would have been much more difficult in a period when overland travel was slow and often hazardous.

The role of oxen and horses in Michigan's early transportation history is well known, but dogs also made a significant contribution.

Archaeologists conclude that Indians have been in Michigan since 11,000 B.C. and that the dog was their first domesticated animal. Through the successive trades with other tribes to the southwest, they eventually obtained horses, which were McLean used five dogs to carry the mail, groceries, passengers, medicine and tools.

Photos, prints and drawings, as well as written records, document the use of dog trains for carrying mail, supplies and information between remote outposts.

A photo taken at the Straits of Mackinac in 1880 shows a team of three dogs pulling a sleigh, providing regular communication across the frozen waterway that separates the two peninsulas. Another photo shows a Rev. W. Poyseor traveling via dog sled to the congregations in his district-the lumber camps of the Upper Peninsula.

Today, dog teams are used for sport instead of for work. Racing dogs include Siberian huskies, Alaskan malamutes, Alaskan Indian dogs and Samoyeds. They can travel up to 35 or 40 miles an hour on a well-packed trail, but average 18 or 19 mph, partly depending on the terrain and snow depth.

The first documented sled dog race in Michigan was a children's competition in Ishpeming in 1910, with each child running one dog. That was only three years after the first race held in Alaska, a state that is now the locale of the famed 1,049-mile Iditarod race. The sport of sled dog racing began to catch on in Michigan in 1959 and spread to other states. Eight competitions are scheduled through March 1, 1987, in locations, ranging from Battle. Creek in the south to Newberry in the Upper Peninsula. In Michigan's Sesquicentennial year, they will highlight the contribution of dog transportation through much of its history as a state.

SPECIAL LAND USE PERMIT and

SITE PLAN REVIEW

In accordance with Section 5.5D and Section 5.7B-le of Ordinance 79 (Zoning Ordinance) a Public Hearing will be held for consideration of a Special Land Use Permit and Site Plan Review for a proposed Vehicle Display Lot for Palmer Ford, located at 222 S. Main Street, Chelsea, Michigan.

The Special Land Use Permit and Site Plan will be considered originally brought to America by the Spanish conquistadors in the 1500s.

Indian tribes reckoned their history from the time they acquired the horse-which they called "the big dog"-and referred to what went before as "the dog days." Dogs were used for moving camp, hauling the Indians' personal belongings on their backs, pulling loaded travois in the summer and toboggan-type sleds in the winter.

Historical records confirm that the early pioneers in Michigan adopted many Indian ways, including the use of dogs for transportation. In territorial days and the early years of statehood, the mail was carried, on a regular route, all the way from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie, via dog teams.

A Presbyterian missionary at the Soo in 1831 noted how the winter mails moved: "Two men on snowshoes drove dogs hitched to a toboggan, which carried a tent, blankets, food and a bag of mail. They went to the Straits, crossed the ice, and then went all the way down to Saginaw and Detroit. In a month or two, they would come back with news from the 'outside'."

It is recorded that when a U.S. Post Office was established in Alpena, the first mail arrived on Jan. 17, 1858, drawn on a train pulled by three dogs following the shore of Thunder Bay on Lake Huron.

"The mail came regularly once a week in winter," the historian wrote, "while the only chance for mail in the summer was in case someone 'went below'."

Records also indicate that the first white people in the western Upper Peninsula received their mail via dog team from Green Bay, Wis. Even as late as the 1930s, there was a dog team mail route in the eastern Upper Peninsula from the Whitefish Point post office to the Vermillion Coast Guard station. Truman "Doc"

The next time you make jokes about pigs, remember, they have been around 36 million years, and according to Ranger Rick magazine, they are very useful animals. Not only can their meat be eaten and made into bacon but pigskin is used for footballs, saddles, jackets and to treat people with severe burns. Chemials produced from pigs are used to treat humans who suffer from diabetes, and pig heart valves are used to replace human heart valves.

Church Women Will Host Delegation of Foreign Visitors

On March 6 Church Women United of Chelsea as participants in the Michigan Women's BRIDGE Project will be hosting a delegation of three foreign women who will be visiting various facilities and institutions in Chelsea of special interest to women. The BRIDGE Project, Building Relationships for Interdependence through Global Education, sponsored by the Ecumenical Campus Center in Ann Arbor and Church Women United, was developed in order to keep alive some of the communication

Missions Convention Slated

"Missions: A Personal Commitment," is the theme for the missions convention to be held Feb. 27 at 7 p.m., Feb. 28 at 6:30 p.m., and Sunday, March 1 at Chelsea Christian Fellowship. The church is located at 337 Wilkinson St.

On Friday, Feb. 27 at 7 p.m. missionaries Richard and Darlene Need will be the special speakers. The Needs have four children, Dan, 20; Deb, 19; Doug, 13; and Dwayne, 12. They have been with Wycliffe Bible Translators since 1966. In 1968 they traveled to Porto Velho, Brazil. It was in Porto Velho that Dick Need worked as an electronics technician. Darlene has also assisted on the field as librarian and bookkeeper. They are now at the Wycliffe Center in Waxhaw, N.C.

Saturday, Feb. 28 at 6:30 p.m., a film on the life of John Wycliffe will be shown.

Also speaking at the missions convention will be Shirley Chapman. Shirley Chapman is originally from England, and through she has worked in the jungles of Brazil for 25 years translating the Paumari Indian language into a written language and then into the Bible, she still has the beauty of the English accent. She worked closely with the Needs and served as midwife for the birth of the the International Decade for Women. The delegation will have the opportunity to visit many of Chelsea's institutions such as the Methodist Home, North school, Spaulding for Children, St. Louis school, Faith in Action, and the Women's Clinic at Chelsea Hospital.

In return, Chelsea women will have and concerns that were raised during an opportunity to meet and exchange ideas and views with the foreign women at an afternoon tea hosted by Modern Mothers at St. Paul United Church of Christ on Saturday, March 7 at 2 p.m. The women will also be attending CWU's World Day of Prayer pot-luck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, March 6 at the First Congregational church.

Immanuel Bible Starting Spiritual Adventure Program

Some of your neighbors will be Christ," and will conclude on Easter opening their homes to a special guest next month-and they'd like you to join them in their efforts at extended hospitality. For 50 days beginning March 1, a group from the Immanuel Bible church will be participating in a special Spiritual Adventure sponsored by the national radio broadcast, "The Chapel of the Air." This group will pledge to follow five basic disciplines of the Christian faith for 50 days-and the special guest they will be welcoming into their homes is Jesus Christ. This adventure is dedicated to helping participants experience rapid spiritual growth through a time of Bible study, prayer and Christian outreach. This year's study is called, "50 Days To Open My Home to Sunday, April 19. In the Gospel of John, Christ promised to live with those who follow and obey Him. This year's theme will help participants recognize that presence of Christ in their homes. Each participant will receive a 40-page Adventure Journal, containing scripture readings, weekly assignments and a place to record daily progress. In addition to the group at Immanuel Bible church, 145 E. Summit St., over 1,000 other congregations from across the country will be joining in this effort beginning March 1. Last year more than 150,000 adults and almost 40,000 children participated in this program.

Word 'Sesquicentennial' Mispronounced By Most

Can you say ses-qui-cen-ten-ni-al? More than 70 Michigan residents were asked that question during the filming of a 30-second public service announcement that is now airing on television stations across the state.

"Fortunately, you don't have to say it to celebrate it," said Kelly Rossman, Departmental Outreach Advisor for Governor Blanchard.

Not one person said it right during the one day filming at a supermarket, shopping mall and auto repair garage, she said. Rossman, who is currently on assignment with the Office of the Michigan Sesquicentennial, originated the idea for the spot, which was produced by Sue Marx Films, Inc., Detroit.

The public service spot highlights about a dozen Michiganians from all walks of life attempting to pronounce the six syllable word-sesquicentennial.

Rossman said it was easier for many of those featured in the spot to say the word in their native language.

"Sesquicentennial is such an easy word to mispronounce that everyone had fun saying it wrong and we took advantage of that to create a truly memorable ad."

"The message we want everyone to remember, as we celebrate Michigan's 150th birthday, it that you really don't have to say it to celebrate it," said Rossman.

Incentive Added for Conservation Reserve

Corn producers who enroll acres in the USDA's 10-year conservation reserve this February will be eligible for a $2 per bushel bonus for 1987 on the farm's program payment yield times the number of acres assigned to the conservation reserve. Signup will be from Feb. 9 to Feb. 21 and payment of the bonus can be made immediately in generic certificates.

A USDA goal when the conservation reserve was established under the 1985 Food Security Act was an initial enrollment of 5 million acres and additional signup of 10 million acres per year for each remaining year of the program.

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Feb. 16, were Dils, Grau, Redding, Comeau, Satterthwaite, Cherem, Wales, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Wescott, Benedict, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, special education director DeYoung, athletic director Reed, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dils.

The board presented certificates of appreciation to Kathy Buss and Linda Dufek, volunteer tutors at South Elementary school. A third tutor, Mary Grifka, was unable to be present; she will also receive a certificate of appreciation.

Present at the meeting was Henry Shore, a consultant who was employed by the district to inventory hazardous materials in connection with Michigan's Right-to-Know Law. He presented an overview on the procedures used to be in compliance with the law, and the Written Hazards Communication Program.

Secretary Anne Comeau presented a legislative update, indicating that Representative Perry Bullard had discussed the Governor's State of the State message, and that the high school drop-out rate is alarming and will receive attention across the state. Senator Pollack had indicated that the educational community must keep the legislature informed of the needs of education. Anne also discussed the recent County School Officers' meeting and the presentation of the REMC Center and the Ti-In educational television programming now being used at Whitmore Lake.

Marcia Quilter, representing the Chelsea Education Association, updated the board on the teacher evaluation instrument. She indicated that the Professional Development Committee is building a resource file and three CEA members had attended a workshop pertaining to professional development for evaluation. Marcia indicated that the next meeting will be held in mid-March.

Carroll C. Ordway 785 N. Dancer Rd. Dexter

Carroll Ordway, age 79, died Mon-day, Feb. 23, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

He was born May 30, 1907, in Sharon township, the son of Hanson V. and Mabel Cooke Ordway.

He moved to Ann Arbor in 1922. On July 24, 1929, he married Elsa Goetz, and had lived on their farm on Dancer Rd. since 1935.

Mr. Ordway was an active member of Zion Lutheran church.

He was a 4-H Club leader, and was the leader of the first 4-H Horse Club in Washtenaw county.

He had been employed by the University of Michigan Food Services for a number of years.

Survivors include his wife, Elsa; a daughter, Louise Holman of Ypsilanti; a son and daughter-in-law, Louis and Mary Carol Ordway of Ann Arbor; two sisters, Lena Saley of Dexter and Mrs. Earl (Lois) Fohl of Lansing; several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 25, at Zion Lutheran church, Chelsea, with the Rev. Fred Harms and the Rev. Charles Akre officiating.

Burial will follow in Bethlehem Cemetery, Ann Arbor.

Memorials may be made to the Zion Lutheran church General Memorial Fund. Arrangements were made by the Muehlig Chapel, Ann Arbor.

Another aspect of management at Edwards Brothers singled out by the printing industry judges is the company's leadership development program, which includes cross-training of managers, cross-functional action committees, in-house training seminars, and tuition support for employees who take outside training courses. The management team responsible for the nationally-acclaimed success story includes president Martin H. Edwards: executive vice-president Walter F. Hamilton, Jr.; vicepresident-finance Martin B. Stadtmiller; and personnel manager Joan Schneider. On March 1, John Pugsley, a well-known industry figure, will join the firm as vice-president, marketing and sales. Edwards Brothers' production facilities include highly sophisticated typesetting systems, specially modified for scientific and math text; automated, computer-controlled page assembly; and a wide complement of sheet- and web-fed presses. The company is particularly well-known, too, for its versatile bindery, offering every type of binding from paperbacks to hardcover books with slipcases and special boxes.

World Day of Prayer To Be March 6

World Day of Prayer is a worldwide movement of Christian women of many traditions who come together to observe a common day of prayer each year, and who, in many countries, have a continuing relationship of prayer and service. It is a movement initiated and carried out by women in more than 170 countries and regions.

It is a movement symbolized by an annual day of celebration-the first Friday in March—to which all people are welcome.

It is a movement which brings together women of various races, cultures and traditions in closer fellowship, understanding and action throughout the year.

Through World Day of Prayer, women are encouraged:

-To become aware of the whole world and no longer live in isolation; -To be enriched by the faith experience of Christians of other churches and countries; -To take up the burdens of other people and pray with and for them:

-To become aware of their talents and use them in the service of society.

Through World Day of Prayer, women affirm:

-That prayer and action are inseparable;

MAYTAG

Was

-That both have an imponderable influence on the world.

Since 1967, an International Committee of representatives of National Committees for World Day of Prayer, has carried responsibility for the movement. It is this International Committee which has provided the Worship Service for this Day of Celebration. The service is a special one this year, designed to help local groups celebrate the 100th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer.

Offerings made on World Day of Prayer make possible the mission of Church Women United through programs for spiritural and personal enrichment, development of ecumenical community, Celebration Days, Intercontinental Grants for Mission, and other programs related to Ecumenical Action, such as the UN Office, Global Relations and the activities of the Washington Office.

Intercontinental Grants provide funds for self-development projects, teaching projects for women, community services and disaster relief at home and abroad.

World Day of Prayer will be celebrated on Friday, March 6, at the First Congregational church of Chelsea, 121 E. Middle St., starting with a 12:30 p.m. pot-luck luncheon. Please bring a dish to pass. Special guests will be several women of various cultures. Everyone is welcome. Child care will be provided.
