FOUR SENIOR CITIZENS CELEBRATING MARCH BIRTHDAYS. Thelma Eisenmann, Gertrude Polatzki, Virginia Peterson, and Margaret Gardner, blew out the candles on their cake, March 13 at the Chelsea Senior Center. One day a month the seniors celebrate the birthdays taking place that month. The cake was a gift from the Chelsea Lioness Club and was baked by Judy Radant. The group sang "Happy Birthday" to the piano accompaniment of Marian Rutledge. Each birthday celebrant was presented with a carnation, a gift from the Chelsea Greenhouse.

Bands Awarded Top Ratings at District Festival

"A brilliant performance." "It's a great piece! And brilliantly played." "Yes, I don't blame the audience for applauding—it was spontaneous and an unavoidable tribute to a great job! Congratulations!"

These are the comments of Elizabeth Green of the University of Michigan and adjudicator at the District 12 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Band Festival last Friday evening. Ms. Green made this statement in reference to the Chelsea Symphony Band's performance.

Both the Symphony Band and Freshmen Band earned Division

I-Superior Ratings at the festival.

This marks the 12th consecutive year the Symphony Band has earned a first division from all four adjudicators at the festival, beginning with Myles Mazur in 1975, followed by five consecutive top ratings with Steve Bergmann and this is the sixth for Bill Gourley at Chelsea.

Another judge commented, "An excellent presentation—Congratulations to a super group—a credit to your teacher, school and to yourselves."

The high school band's next performance will be April 21, prior to the Symphony Band's concert tour to Boston.

WISD Plans 25th Year Open House

Trustees of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District (WISD) Board of Education invite the public to a "25th Anniversary Open House" on Tuesday, March 24, from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

In honor of its silver anniversary of service to Washtenaw county schools and students, the public is invited to tour WISD's facilities and to meet its board and staff. Guided tours will be given between 4 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. starting at the Nick A. Ianni Educational Services Center at 1819 S. Wagner Rd. A reception and refreshments will follow in the High Point Cafeteria from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

WISD joins Michigan's 56 other intermediate school districts (ISDs) in celebrating their 25 years of helping schools help students. ISDs began in 1962 when they were created by the Michigan legislature. They were given two charges: to be a link between the State Department of Education and local school districts; and to serve local schools, their students and employees.

During the past 25 years WISD has provided many regional programs and services for its public and non-public schools, including special education programs, testing and evaluation services, data processing services, computer training, gifted and talented programs, instructional media center services including films and materials, media production services, bus driver training and teacher and parent inservice training.

WISD works together with the more than 4,400 employees in the school districts of Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake, Willow Run and Ypsilanti to educate Washtenaw county's 40,000 plus kindergarten through 12th grade students.

Celebration activities will continue on March 25 when WISD trustees honor several community members at a special recognition dinner. Statewide, ISD 25th anniversary celebration activities are planned throughout 1987.

NEW VILLAGE CLERK: Allen Anderson, 52, of 409 S. Main St., was scheduled to be sworn in last night as the new Chelsea Village Clerk. Anderson won election via a write-in campaign that netted him 14 votes.

New Village Clerk Old Hand at Politics

Allen Anderson, who moved to Chelsea last September from Kansas, was scheduled to be sworn in last night as the new Chelsea Village Clerk.

Anderson, 52, of 409 S. Main St., won the post with 14 write-in votes in last Monday's general village election. There were no official candidates on the ballot. Anderson was scheduled to begin his new duties last night, taking over for Evelyn Rosentreter. After serving three terms, Rosentreter decided not to run again.

Anderson, and his wife, Deborah Olson, moved to Chelsea last September in order for Olson to accept a position as a dietitian at Mott Children's and Women's Hospital at the University of Michigan Hospital. Anderson was a business teacher at Kansas City, Kan. Community College. He's now co-ordinator for the Center for Small Business Development in Jackson, which is affiliated with Jackson Community College.

Anderson is no stranger to small-town government. He served a two-year term as mayor of Lindsay, Kan., a town with a population of 3,500. He also served as school board chairman in Lindsay for 12 years.

Prior to working at the community college in Kansas, Anderson owned and operated Anderson Funeral Home, which he eventually sold.

"I've always been interested in politics," Anderson says.

He describes himself as a "conservative liberal."

Anderson and Olson have six children between them.

Supt. Van Meer's Contract Renewed

The contract of Superintendent Ray Van Meer was enthusiastically renewed at the Chelsea school board meeting March 16. The new contract will run for three years, from July 1, 1987 through June 30, 1990. Van Meer was hired as superintendent in July 1978.

The school board's personnel committee composed of Anne Comeau, Barb Cherem, Lloyd Grau, and board president Arthur Dils, recommended the renewal of the contract after studying evaluations that each school board member filled out. Van Meer received an over-all rating of 8.3, somewhere between the top rating of "very strong" and the next to the top one of "quite strong."

Says Dils, "We feel he is doing an excellent job."

In other actions, the board voted to borrow $1,600,000 in anticipation of operating tax collection for the year to end June 30, 1988, due and payable

Planning Commission Approves Zoning Change To Allow Condominiums

The proposed 44-unit Chelsea Pines condominium project jumped its first hurdle last week when the Village Planning Commission voted in favor of changing the zoning in the area to allow higher-density housing.

The land in question, 5.8 acres of undeveloped land at the end of Lincoln St., is now zoned RS-2 for single family housing. If the village council goes along with the planning commission's recommendation, the area will be zoned PUD-6, allowing medium density housing of six-units per acre in a planned unit development. That would allow approximately 11 continuous acres from Lincoln St. to Wilkinson St. to be developed with medium density housing.

In a related matter, the planning commission amended the General Development Plan for the area known as Neighborhood 7. That area is bounded on the north by Middle St., on the south by Old US-12, on the west by Wilkinson St., and on the east by the central business district and includes the land in question. Changing the General Development Plan was a necessary first step before the change in zoning can be approved. Neighborhood 7 contains 160 acres, 90 of which are developed, 10 which are owned by the Chelsea School District, 18 of which are in muck, and 42 which are undeveloped.

The amendment allows 32 of the 42 undeveloped acres to be developed in medium density housing.

"The medium density residential area should be developed under PUD zoning procedures, in order to assure compatibility of new residential development with existing residences and neighborhood character," the amendment says.

The petition for the change in zoning was submitted by Chelsea resident Norman Fahrner, brother of Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner, on behalf of his father, Arnold, who owns approximately half of the 5.8 acres, and Marvin Salyer, an adjoining property owner.

Norman Fahrner submitted a plan showing the layout of the condominium project and how it would be phased in in five stages, working from Wilkinson St. to Lincoln St., due to the nature of the sewer lines. Lincoln St. would be extended on through to Wilkinson St.

He also submitted drawings of the kinds of condominiums that would be built. They essentially look like modern single family homes.

Each two-unit building would have approximately 1,200 square feet. Each unit would cost approximately $80,100, according to Norman Fahrner's estimates.

The change in the General Development Plan also opens the way for another medium density housing development on undeveloped land at the end of Taylor St. The plan calls for the extension of Taylor St. to US-12 when the area is developed. That proposed extension has not sat well with Taylor St. residents, who don't like the idea of a lot of additional traffic on their dead-end street.

The plan also says that if Taylor St. cannot be extended but the land is developed, that another dead-end street should be constructed that would end near Taylor St., with a connection for emergency vehicles between them.

If the area is not developed, the plan calls for the construction of sidewalks through the undeveloped land to allow easier access to South Elementary school.

The plan also calls for developers to foot the cost of the street, sidewalk and storm drainage improvements.

Village council will probably consider Fahrner's rezoning application at an April meeting.

Other action taken by the planning commission included approval of a special land use permit and site plan for Palmer Ford to add 70 spaces to its new vehicle lot. The lot would run south through the land that currently contains an older home and west backing up to houses on Congdon St.

The site plan was approved with three conditions: that the curb cut for the existing home driveway be eliminated; that a new curb be installed; and that six-foot pine trees, rather than four-foot trees, be planted on the perimeter of the lot to help shield it from residential homes.

The commission also recommended that Lloyd Bridges' re-zoning request for land adjacent to St. Barnabas Episcopal church be approved by the council. Bridges plans to swap some land with the church in order to build Bridgetown Apartments, a condominium project, on land beside and in back of the church.

The commission recommended that council approve a re-zoning request by Robert Penskar for 31,000 square feet on W. Middle St. from RS-3 to RM-2. The commission said the request was consistent with the General Development Plan. The lot is one lot west of the Washtenaw County Road Commission yard. In order for any addition development to occur on the lot, according to planning consultant Carl Schmult, Jr., Penskar would have to receive a variance due to the size of the lot.

Finally, the commission recommended the council adopt the proposed ordinance regulating adult bookstores and entertainment businesses. The ordinance essentially will not allow the industry within the village limits.

Dexter Asks To Be in Proposed Chelsea-Ann Arbor Bus Service

The new Ann Arbor Transportation Authority bus route planned to link Chelsea with Ann Arbor will now include stops in Dexter. At the March 10 Dexter Village Council meeting, trustees voted to ask the AATA to add Dexter to the route.

Chris White, manager of AATA's service department, sees the addition of Dexter as advantageous to both communities, saying, "It has the potential to increase ridership without increasing costs."

Furthermore, White says Dexter's inclusion will not change the frequency of service since there are less miles covered by traversing the Ann Arbor-Dexter Rd. and the Dexter-Chelsea Rd. than by going down I-94. He concedes that the traveling time may be slightly longer, "maybe five minutes," but says the original route using I-94 included some slack time to make it more predictable.

Final decision on fares, routes, and schedules will be made by the AATA sometime this week. It is expected that fares will be $1.50 from Chelsea and $1 from Dexter with half-price reductions for seniors and students. Chelsea stops may include the hospital, Polly's, and the Chelsea depot. Dexter stops being discussed are Water Tower Park, Dexter High school and Memorial Park.

The first two years of service will be financed by a grant from the Michigan Department of Transportation under the New Small Business Services program. In the third year of operation, the grant will be reduced to 75% of cost. At that time, Chelsea and Dexter can evaluate the advantages of the service and make a decision on whether to continue. If they decide to stay with the route, they will have to negotiate with AATA on how much of the remaining cost each community pays.

White points out that AATA has purchase of service agreements with several other local governments; the city of Ypsilanti and the townships of Superior, Pittsfield, Ypsilanti, and Ann Arbor. To figure out the share of cost for Dexter and Chelsea they can use a similar formula. With Dexter and Chelsea sharing the cost, each should pay less.

AATA is willing to work with business representatives in Chelsea and Dexter to encourage ridership from Ann Arbor residents. White suggests that people from Ann Arbor may want to ride to the Chelsea Hospital or to festivals in Dexter. The Dexter Jaycees offer the idea, that with bus service in place, Dexter could be used for satellite parking during the Ann Arbor Art Fair.

Dexter village manager Carl Willoughby suggests that once the Industrial Park is in operation, it may provide additional riders since some of its employees will no doubt live in Chelsea or Ann Arbor.

People in both Dexter and Chelsea point out the advantages of having bus service for senior citizens, handicapped, and students. The new buses will be handicap accessible.

Dexter Village Council originally declined to take part in the service because a questionnaire sent out by the Dexter Planning Commission last summer showed in Willoughby's words, "no significant interest in bus service." Of the 640 questionnaires sent out, 230 were returned.

Chelsea State Bank Holds Annual Meeting March 10

Directors were re-elected, two new officers appointed and seven officers were re-appointed at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of Chelsea State Bank on Tuesday, March 10.

The two new officers appointed were Jane Schubert and David Schauble. Schubert was named head teller and assistant cashier. She has been employed at the bank since 1973.

Schauble, a graduate of Albion College with a bachelor's degree in business, was appointed assistant cashier and loan officer. Schauble was first employed by the bank in April 1985 after working at the University of Michigan Credit Union.

Elected directors were Paul E.

Mann, chairman, Paul G. Schauble, Jr., president; Robert L. Daniels, Lawrence C. Dietle, Dudley K. Holmes, Jr., John W. Merkel, George L. Palmer, and David H. Strieter.

Officers who were re-appointed by the board included Mann, Paul Schauble, Jr., Scott S. Tanner, vice-president and cashier, Rosemary Hummel, assistant vice-president, Gail Bauer, assistant vice-president and auditor, Frank S. Renton, assistant vice-president, Lois Emmert, assistant cashier and branch manager, and Jacqueline Schiller, assistant cashier.

The bank reported 11 percent growth in assets, which total approximately $92 million.

"1982 State Class B Softball Champion" signs were donated by Chelsea Kiwanis Club, and installed beneath the Chelsea Village Limit sign posts this month. Photographed in front of one softball sign were Tom Bust, Kiwanis president; 1983 team captains, Amy Hume and Celeste Powell; coach Charles Waller; and former coach, Bill Wescott.

More than 500 persons lined up on North St. to apply for jobs at Chelsea Milling Co. The firm was just updating its applicant file, which it does every six months; it had not advertised any openings.

Monte Carlo Night, an event staged by the American Legion Post 31, and Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, provided recreation for more than 300 people who attended on the night of March 5. Now the proceeds of the event are beginning to flow back to the social and civic needs of the community. Chelsea Home Meal Service received a check for $200 this week.

Chelsea High school thespians are scruffing up their edges rather than polishing their ways in preparation for the first curtain call of "Oliver" next week. The cast includes—Oliver, Todd Wurster; Mr. Brumble, Ron Gauss; Widow Corney, Judi Blaess; the Sowerberrys, Dale Heydlauff and Michelle McClear; Artful Dodger, Dave Clemans; Fagin, Jeff Daniels; Nancy, Pat Knickerbocker; hoodlum Bill Sikes, Ed Dreiman. Says Miss DiAnn L'Roy, director of the musical, "This year's cast has the most potential of any I have ever worked with. Jeff Daniels (Fagin) will give one of the best amateur performances I have ever seen on stage."

Tecumseh Indians drummed the Bulldogs out of District Tournament play, with a 57-51 win last Wednesday. In this last game, Rick Miller reached a pinnacle as high scorer with 14 points. He was followed by Jeff Schmidt and John Mann, each with 12. Tim Treado added eight.

"SHOULD I WORRY ABOUT OSTEOPOROSIS?"

Osteoporosis is a gradual loss of bone density, which primarily affects women after menopause. Women with severe osteoporosis have brittle bones that break easily. They often suffer from spinal column fractures, which make it impossible for them to stand up straight.

The Women's Health Center at Chelsea Community Hospital has an osteoporosis screening program, featuring a dual photon bone density scanner. We can help determine your chances of getting osteoporosis, and what you can do today to help prevent it.

Don't put it off. Call the Women's Health Center and make an appointment for an osteoporosis screening today. You'll have one less thing to worry about.

Senate Republicans Urge Use of Welfare Funds for Education

A Senate Republican proposal to penalize welfare families whose children drop out of school and to provide $5.3 million in education and work incentives was outlined recently as an alternative to Governor James Blanchard's proposal for a 3 percent increase in grants.

Sen. Dan DeGrow (R-Port Huron) said his proposal would offer an opportunity for persons to break out of the welfare cycle, while the $19 million proposed for a grant increase would only improve life marginally.

The program would require federal officials to waive welfare eligibility requirements, which do not permit applying a school dropout factor.

DeGrow and Senate Majority Leader John Engler (R-Mt. Pleasant) said they are optimistic a waiver would be granted because of Reagan administration policies to encourage welfare experiments at state levels, and the drive by the National Governors' Association for welfare reform which emphasizes job training.

"We feel this is a way out of the welfare system. It addresses fundametal reforms," Engler said. "I think this can be sold in the Legislature."

"It will take a major redirection in Michigan welfare policy to break the cycle of dependency created by years of neglect. This is an incentive to stay in school and have a future," DeGrow said.

He added statistics show a clear correlation between education levels and both poverty and unemployment rates.

Although the program would cost $5.3 million the first year, it would rise to an estimated annual cost of over $24 million in 1990-91, DeGrow said. The long-term payoff would be fewer people in the welfare cycle, he said.

DeGrow said Social Services Director C. Patrick Babcock did not reject the proposal, but wants the welfare grant increase in any case.

Rep. David Hollister (D-Lansing), chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Social Services, said he welcomes DeGrow's proposal, calling it "a contrast to what the Senate has done in the past. The approach offers some positive incentives." However, Hollister opposed killing the proposed 3 percent increase in benefits because the grants are inadequate and have not kept up with inflation.

Other professions are granted raises in keeping with inflation, and the amount of money given to the poor should follow the same guidelines, he said.

The plan's major elements include: —AFDC households would lose grant amounts for children ages 6-19 who do not have attendance records each semester of at least 80 percent, unless ill. DeGrow said the policy would give welfare parents an incentive to take a greater interest in the children's education, and set an early pattern of regular attendance.

—A voucher for two years' tuition at a community college (average in-district rates are about $700 a year) for low-income persons under 20 who complete high school without getting pregnant or fathering a child.

A $2,000 voucher for tuition at a four-year college would be provided to those who then complete the community college program. Persons in the program would continue to receive Medicaid coverage.

DeGrow said the incentives would give welfare children a reason not to become a parent and to attend college. The program would be inapplicable in 1987-88, but would cost $1.5 million in 1988-89 before leveling off at about $4.2 million in 1990-91.

—A $1,000 cash payment for AFDC persons under age 20 who complete high school, find employment in one year and remain working for two years. Medicaid benefits would continue to be provided. The estimated cost in 1987-88 is $1.2 million, leveling off at about $9 million in 1990-91.

—A bonus of up to $100 to Department of Social Services employees for each welfare recipient they help place in unsubsidized jobs. Annual costs are estimated at $750,000, beginning in 1989-90.

Baton Corps Competes in Open Meet at Carleton

Thirty-three members of the Chelsea Baton Corps travelled to Carleton for an open TU (Twirling Unlimited) baton contest on March 7.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle announced at the start of the session at the country store Saturday night that what his reading during the past week done most was remind him that the more things change the more they stay the same. Furthermore, Ed said, he was happy to report that some recent changes are for the better.

For instant, he said, he saw a piece on a men's fashion show in Atlanta that looked for the world like it was Life magazine showing the latest styles of American colleges in 1943. Everything that goes around must come around, Ed told the fellers, because that Atlanta show showed if we keep our clothes long enough they'll be back in style. Men can shake the mothballs out of their zoot suits and wear em without shame before God and everybody, Ed said. The models parading down the ramp in Atlanta were decked out in double pleated trousers floppy at the hips, tapered to tight at the ankles, and Ed said you know what's coming is skinny neckties, wide brim hats and key chains swooping to the knees.

Furthermore, Ed went on, modern designers even thought of young men that might want some of the old man's hand me downs. One hit of the show was a "jacket for the relaxed and rumpled look." Ed said this was a way of saying you can pull dad's wide lapel coat out of the trunk in the attic and wear it, wrinkles and all, in style. The next sound we hear, Ed said, will be the swish of polyester doubleknit on the ramp under the lights before the dictators of the fashion world.

Then, Ed went on, come word that the Navy has been told Oklahoma is the place fer planes that patrol the Atlantic and Pacific to keep radio contact with submarines. The Pentagon has spent millions building bases fer the planes in Hawaii and Maryland, but now it wants to spend 150 million more to move em 1,500 miles from the nearest ocean. One Navy officer said the idee makes sense if the Pentagon plans to base the submarines in Nebraska.

The Navy needs to see where change stays the same, Ed explained. The Oklahoma base will be in the district of Rep. Mickey Edwards that was a big help to the Reagan Administration in gitting that $100 million in humanity aid to the Nigeragan Contras. With Oklahoma's economy sagging, pumping in $50 million in return fer a $100 million favor makes all kind of political sense, Ed said. Besides, he went on, the military needs a reminder ever now and then of who's in charge of this country anyway.

The fellers general were agreed with Ed on both items. Bug Hookum said he's wearing a double breasted suit that's in style fer the fourth time in the past 20 year. And, said Bug, everybody knows you need to keep them high priced airplanes well away from high seas that can wash away a block of oceanfront houses with one swipe. The trouble is, the Navy is having a hard time taking the long view of the situation, was Bug's words.

As fer news from last week, Clem Webster said the most hopeful sign he saw was where a education spokesman in Arizona said schools got no business telling children what to believe. If a student thinks the world is flat, he said, it's not the teacher's place to try and prove otherwise. Clem said this is good news fer all students. What we need now is a kid that don't believe in fractions, Clem said, because doing away with them will make math a heap easier.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Woman's Club Hears History of Chelsea Depot

Fourteen members of the Woman's Club of Chelsea attended the March 10 meeting which was held in the Club Room at the Library.

Will Connolly, Chelsea Standard columnist was the guest speaker. Mr. Connolly gave a detailed account of the history of the Chelsea Depot starting with its beginning in 1880. The station remained in continuous service for passenger and freight trains until 1961 when after 101 years of uninterrupted service the depot was discontinued as a line station for Amtrak.

The citizens of Chelsea then decided they would like to preserve this historic landmark. The Chelsea Depot Association was then organized and thus began years of tedious and difficult negotiations with Amtrak to try to purchase the building. The transaction was finally completed in 1985 and became the property of The Chelsea Depot Association.

Mr. Connolly said he gathered much of his information about the depot's history from Rena Walworth who happens to be the last living charter member of the Woman's Club of Chelsea.

Hostesses for the evening were Carol Van Reesema and Carol DeFaut.

The club's next meeting will be on March 24 in the Crippen Building at the Methodist Home. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cameron will be guest speakers. Their topic is entitled "Backpacking with the Camerons." All guests are welcome.

He is currently employed by Talbots, a General Mills subsidiary in Boston, Mass. The wedding will take place on Aug. 8, at Chelsea First United Methodist church.

Tri-County College Day Slated April 9

The Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers (MAEH) is sponsoring a Tri-County College Day on Thursday, April 9. Homemakers of Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties are co-ordinating the educational conference to be held at the Immaculate Conception church, 420 North St., Milan, from 2:30 to 8 p.m. MAEH is an affiliate of the Co-operative Extension Service.

The conference keynotes the Michigan sesquicentennial and features lectures on Michigan topics: tourism, water, genealogy, government, Michigan Indians, food products and more.

The event is open to all without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap. Registration forms are available at Washtenaw County Co-Operative Extension Service, 973-9510. The cost of the program is $12 for classes and dinner or $5 for classes only.

Registration deadline is March 28.

For walrus, getting long in the tooth is something to be proud of. National Wildlife magazine reports that scientists believed that walrus used their yard-long canine teeth to haul themselves up onto the arctic ice. Now researchers think the tusks serve as ornaments to attract mates and intimidate rivals.

Modern Mothers Study Club Enjoys Mystery Trip

Members of the Modern Mothers Study Club were led on a mystery trip for the March 11 meeting of the group.

Members and their guests were driven to an unknown location for dinner and were pleased to discover Maude's as the destination. After enjoying delicious dinners of choice, members walked to the next spot on their mystery tour: The MainStreet Comedy Showcase. There the ladies were entertained by the musical madness of Malone and Nootcheez.

The next meeting is March 24, at the Chelsea High School Media Center for a session on relaxation techniques presented by Peg Skelton. Members are encouraged to bring guests.

ABWA Seeking Applicants for Scholarship Grants

The Education Committee of the Chelsea Chapter of American Business Women is accepting applications for financial assistance scholarships for the 1987-88 school term.

These assistance grants for tuition and books are provided to qualifying recipients by the chapter members to promote the educational, professional, cultural and social advancement of women, especially those women desiring to return to a career after an extended absence. Over the past 12 years, more than 50 local area recipients have benefited from these scholarships.

Monies for the Scholarship Fund are raised from the Chelsea Chapter's annual Spring Salad Luncheon and Fashion Show, to be presented this year on May 16, in Chelsea High School Cafeteria.

Any woman who is in need of financial assistance to advance her career objectives should contact an ABWA member for an application, or send her name and address to Mrs. Martha Powers, 9715 W. Ellsworth Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Please call 996-9187 for further information.

Expectant Parent Class Series Will Start April 1

Expectant Parent classes will be held at the Chelsea Pediatric Center beginning Wednesday, April 1.

Dr. Mary Westhoff and her staff will present information about the newborn and the family to parents in or beyond the sixth month of pregnancy.

Topics to be covered include: Preparing for the new baby; Breast and bottle; Immunizations; Car seats; Health and sick care; Signs and symptoms of illness; Infant care; Changes in the family; and Introduction to the practice of pediatrics.

Classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Chelsea Pediatric Center, 447 A. D. Mayer Dr. There is no charge for the classes and registration would be appreciated. To register or to ask questions, call 475-9175.

Prospective Mothers May Attend Program On Breastfeeding

"It's Never Too Early To Think About Breastfeeding," a program for prospective mothers and their families, will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 25, in the Education Center at Catherine McAuley Health Center, Ann Arbor.

The program is designed to help pregnant women and women who are thinking about becoming pregnant decide whether breastfeeding is right for them. It will examine the advantages and considerations of breastfeeding and how breastfeeding can fit into their lifestyles. Husbands, mothers, sisters, and other relatives and friends of the prospective mother are invited. There is a $10 fee per family.

The course is co-sponsored by Catherine McAuley Health Center's Department of Maternal Child Health and Office of Health Promotion. For more information, call 572-3843.

Chelsea Child Study Club Given Lesson In Calligraphy

Chelsea Child Study Club met Tuesday, March 10 at Nancy Grau's home to explore the ancient art of calligraphy. JoAnn Richardson and Neta Mills, both skillful in the use of calligraphy, gave a brief history and some interesting ideas for practical uses of calligraphy and then set everyone to work.

Co-hostesses were Cami Noah and JoAnn Richardson.

Two new members, Mary Louise Fischbach and Sue Sheffield, previously installed were welcomed into the group.

Election of 1987-88 officers will take place at the next meeting, March 24 at McKune Library.

There are more Michiganders camping in Florida's campgrounds each year than those from any other state except Florida itself. Ranking after Michigan as a state of origin are Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

FRIENDSHIP SQUEEZE of the entire cluster of Chelsea Girl Scouts ended the meeting in which the scouts celebrated their 75th anniversary. Each meeting is traditionally ended with the unity of sharing a wish.

SUE WILLIAMS, LEADER OF GIRL SCOUT TROOP NO. 719 composed of Beach Middle school 6th graders, was chosen to be a narrator at the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's celebration of the 75th anniversary of girl scouting, May 16 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor. Williams auditioned for, and won, the role of "scrap book lady," the person who shows Juliet Low, the founder of the Girl Scouts, a scrap book which tells the history of scouting. As she starts reciting from the scrap book, the scene will dissolve into re-enactments of the events.

Girl Scouts Mark 75th Anniversary

All 15 Chelsea Girl Scout troops celebrated the 75th anniversary of the Girl Scouts at Beach Middle school on March 12.

Special Promise Circles were held in which balloons were released with a special wish for the world. Also attached was the address of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. The scouts are looking forward to hearing from people who find the balloons.

After the balloon release the girls gathered at the flag pole to recite the Girl Scout Promise and to sing the National Anthem, led by Sue Williams. The girls then ate cake and drank a beverage donated by the Chelsea McDonald's Restaurant.

After refreshments the girls earned a "Program Rocker," a part of a special 75th Anniversary Patch. They hula hooped and danced to tunes from the 50's and 60's, with Bob Read acting as deejay.

The Girl Scout Promise was also posted by Troop No. 689 to compare the changes over the 75-year period.

As a special treat, quite a few members of Troop No. 777, the senior citizens troop, attended the festivities.

Hospital Children's Center Presenting Fashion Show

Chelsea Community Hospital Children's Center staff and children will be presenting "A Peek at Spring" fashion show in the hospital dining room on Saturday, March 28 at 1 p.m.

The Children's Center is a department of the hospital which provides quality child care for children of Chelsea Community Hospital employees and community families. Children from two weeks to 12 years of age are cared for at the center daily.

This fashion show of children's spring clothing is being held as a fundraiser for new toys and educational supplies to be used in the Infant Toddler, Preschool, and School-Age programs.

Dexter-Ann Arbor Bus Service

However, the Dexter Jaycees, feeling there really was a need and desire for bus service, formed a Dexter-Ann Arbor Transportation Link Committee to further study the matter. The committee consisted of Sherri King Amsdill, Nancy Koehnke, and Marty Jackson. The committee conducted their own survey of 30 community leaders and local business people. With 20 responding they discovered that transportation for the elderly was a priority with 65%.

The committee then wrote a 10-page position paper which they presented to the Dexter Village Council on March 10. After a discussion with Jaycee Amsdill and AATA's White, the village council voted unanimously to ask to be included in the service.

No one knows how many riders the buses will have when service starts, probably on May 4. White says, "it is difficult to gauge the potential ridership," an assessment with which both Willoughby and Dexter village trustee Bob Stacey agree. Says Stacey, "It may go over super big or it may be a bust, nobody can tell." To which Willoughby adds, "We can't forecast with accuracy, but it certainly has the potential to be valuable to the community."

GIRL SCOUTS FROM TROOP 777, composed of residents of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, enjoy an outing to join Chelsea's other 14 troops in celebrating the 75th birthday of girl scouting. On March 12, Girl Scouts all over the country joined in promise circles and renewed their pledge. Chelsea scouts met at Beach Middle school. After the recitation and the release of balloons with wishes for the world, they went inside for refreshments. Pictured from Troop No. 777, led by Sandy Schmunk, are Evelyn Veal, Mary Selwa, Florence Wheaton, and Lorene Jones. From Troop No. 98, led by Barb Voster, are Wendy Bell and Julie Koch.

Weber's Inn Earns AAA 4-Diamond

Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor has earned the American Automobile Association's four-diamond rating to rank it among the nation's best accommodations, according to AAA Michigan.

Twenty-six Michigan lodging establishments received the four-diamond rating.

"The four-diamond award is given to accommodations which significantly exceed AAA requirements for service and hospitality," said AAA Michigan Touring Manager James Drury. "Each of these establishments provides guests with superior facilities and the extra touches that elevate a good lodging to an excellent one."

AAA field representatives conduct rigorous inspections of accommodations before assigning a rating of one to five diamonds.

Only about 7 percent of the more than 18,000 accommodations ranked by AAA in the United States, Canada and Mexico receive the four-diamond rating. There are no five-diamond establishments in Michigan.

Diamond ratings appear next to establishment listings in the 1987 AAA Michigan/Wisconsin TourBook, which will be available at AAA Michigan offices state-wide in May.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Michigan's new, tougher drunk driving law is getting real results. The difference isn't discernible as you drive along the road. Nevertheless, the number of drunk drivers is actually diminishing every day.

For one thing, fewer people who imbibe are making the mistake of mixing their drinks with gasoline. And those who do are being taken off the road by more aggressive law enforcement and much tougher penalties. It used to be that only 22% of persons arrested for drunk driving in Michigan were convicted of that charge. In fact, 70% had the Drunk Driving charge reduced to "Driving While Impaired," a comparative slap on the wrist.

The new law which took effect March 30, 1983 provides for blood alcohol testing to determine a driver's degree of intoxication followed by a mandatory system of sentencing. There are three drinking and driving charges:

OWI: Operating a vehicle while the ability to do so is visibly impaired by liquor.

OUIL: Operating a vehicle while Under the Influence of intoxicating Liquor.

"PER SE": Operating a vehicle with a blood alcohol content of 0.10%, regardless of physical impairment.

A blood alcohol level (BAL) of .10% means one-tenth of one percent or one 1000th. OUIL designates a BAL of .10% or more. OWI means a BAL of .08% or .09%.

These warnings about the arrest process are published by authorities and safe driving educators.

"If you are stopped by a police officer for suspicion of driving while intoxicated, you may be asked to perform certain sobriety tests. You may also be asked to take a preliminary roadside breath test. (Refusal of this test is a civil infraction punishable by a fine of up to $100 plus costs.)

"If you are arrested you will be required to take an 'Implied Consent' blood alcohol test. This test is usually administered at a police facility. (If you refuse this test, your license will be suspended for a minimum of six months and six points added to your driving record.) If your BAL is .10% or above, you will probably spend several hours in jail. You may have to post bond and appear (usually the next morning) before a judge (or magistrate). If you do not post bond, you will be detained in jail overnight.

"If you are charged with OUIL, OWI or Per Se you will generally have a pretrial conference with the prosecutor.

"If you are convicted you will undergo a substance abuse screening and assessment. You may be required to participate in an alcohol education and/or treatment program. You will be required to pay any costs involved.

"Your license will be suspended for a minimum of 3 months for OWI, 6 months for OUIL or Per Se, and you will have to pay a $25 reinstatement fee when the suspension is completed.

"You will have a first alcohol offense on your record, resulting in greater penalties if you have a subsequent drunk driving conviction."

The combined penalties for driving under the influence are stiff. For OWI the first offense involves a fine of up to $300, plus court costs, plus attorney's fees. There can be a jail sentence for as long as 90 days. I have attended sentencing sessions in Judge Karl Fink's court and noted that the jail sentence for many first offenders is conditionally suspended. The offender's license is penalized 4 points and the license may be suspended for 90 days to one year. Some initial offenders may be permitted to use their cars in connection with employment or other designated needs.

For a second OWI offense, occurring within seven years of the first conviction, the fine can go up to $1,000, plus costs. The jail sentence may be up to one year. License suspension can last as long as 18 months.

OUIL and "Per Se" convictions draw the same penalties. The first offense will run from $100 to $500, plus costs, up to 90 days in jail, a penalty of 6 driver's points and suspension of driver's license for 6 months to two years. A second offense is more severe, and a third offender can be fined as much as $5,000, sentenced for as long as 5 years along with a minimum license revocation of 5 years.

These penalties are resulting in fewer arrests for drunk driving in Michigan. Penalties are even tougher in some other U.S. states and really rough in certain foreign places. In Malaya the drunk man is not only jailed; his wife goes in the hoosegow too. In South Africa the penalty is 10 years in jail. The Turks take the drunk driver 20 miles from home and compel him to walk back. The sentence in Norway calls for 21 days in prison and from one to ten years loss of driver's license. San Salvador decrees death by firing squad.

Drinkers who may have to drive should count their drinks and quit long before the danger level. Body weight is related to amounts of alcohol, and here is how things can get out of control:

Each drink equals 1 oz. of 86 proof spirits,
12 oz. regular beer or 4 oz. of table wine.

100 lb. person	BAL	180 lb. person	BAL
3 drinks in 1 hr. = .09		5 drinks in 1 hr. = .09
4 drinks in 2 hrs. = .10		7 drinks in 2 hrs. = .10
5 drinks in 4 hrs. = .10		8 drinks in 4 hrs. = .08

Michigan police are familiar with certain tell-tale signs of intoxication in the behavior of drivers. If a car is observed by police weaving down the road, the driver will be stopped. In 60 percent of these cases it will be found that the driver had a blood alcohol level of .10% or higher. Here are other findings:

Identifier:	% of drivers with BAL of .10% or more:
Driving across lanes.....	50%
Swerving.....	55%
Turning with wide radius.....	65%
Tires consistently on center line.....	45%
Straddling the center line or lane markers.....	65%
Headlights off at night.....	30%
Signalling inconsistent (Driver signals left but turns right).....	60%
Slow response to traffic signal.....	40%
Appears drunk (face too close to windshield, eyes wide).....	60%
Erratic acceleration (fast and slow).....	30%
Riding the brake.....	45%
Stopping inappropriately (on a crosswalk or for a green light).....	35%
Stopping in traffic lane.....	50%

There is a myth that young drinking drivers are no more susceptible to accidents than older drinking drivers. Actually, young drivers are generally inexperienced operators. As a rule, they are also inexperienced drinkers. The mixture of these two low levels of experience is a deadly combination. Young drinking drivers continue to be involved in a far greater share of fatal accidents than older drivers.

The final conclusion for people of all ages is to be very careful about mixing alcohol with any activity where safety is concerned. Ethyl alcohol is involved in 50 percent of fatal car accidents, 53 percent of all fire deaths, 45 percent of drownings and 22 percent of home accidents. With alcohol involved in 55 percent of all pedestrian accidents, walkers should count their drinks, too.

Fruit Tree Pruning Demonstration Slated

Have you been wrestling with a monster apple or other overgrown fruit tree? Well, reinforcements are on the way!

Washtenaw Co-operative Extension Service is sponsoring a demonstration "How To Wage War on Overgrown Fruit Trees."

On Saturday, March 21 from 2 to 4 p.m. specialists will demonstrate pruning overgrown apples and answer questions on other fruit. The session costs $1 per person and will be held on the west side of Ann Arbor near Zeeb and Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd., come rain or shine. For specific directions call 973-9510.

Co-operative Extension programs are open to all without regard to race, color, national origin or sex.

Why Do You Say "Hello" to People?

DONALD A. COLE
Director

Most of us say "hello" to others because it's a way to acknowledge their presence and their worth to us. It's just one of the many simple, common courtesies which mean so much.

During bereavement, the importance of courtesy, combined with genuine concern, is uppermost. That's one reason why so many area families rely on Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel in their hour of need.

JAMES WEBER

James Weber Now 'Qualified In Submarines'

James Weber, son of Joanne and Paul Weber of Ivey Rd., was recently designated as "Qualified in Submarines" by the U.S. Navy, which entitles him to wear the Silver Dolphin insignia on his uniform.

Weber was born in Chelsea and graduated from Chelsea High school in 1984, after which he joined the Navy. He is now stationed on the U.S. Tecumseh, a trident submarine.

In a letter from the commanding officer, G. L. Hopwolt, Weber's parents were told, "The awarding of the dolphins is one of the few public events of the Silent Service. In so many instances James isn't able to tell you exactly what he has been doing due to reasons of security." He continued, "James is a professional, working hard to make this ship the finest submarine in the fleet."

Severe Weather Seminar Slated

Chelsea Communications Club and UAW Local 1284 is hosting a National Weather Meeting on Tuesday, March 24 at 7 p.m. at the UAW Hall on M-52.

Dan Harsh, director of emergency management of Washtenaw county, and Robert Snider, meteorologist for the National Weather Service, will be on hand. They will discuss severe weather conditions, including tornadoes, and weather forecasting, and show a film and slides.

The presentation is especially designed to help people familiarize themselves with the signs and warnings of severe weather and precautions to take.

Questions may be addressed to Robert Schantz, director of the Chelsea Communications Club, or John Harook, financial secretary for UAW Local 1284.

More than 328,000 apprentices received training, and more than 94,000 new apprentices entered training, during fiscal year 1985, according to the Labor Department's Annual Report for Fiscal Year 1985. The apprenticeship program is administered by the department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training.

Tips Offered On Lowering Cholesterol

March is National Nutrition month, a great time to think about ways cholesterol can be reduced on our food choices.

Lowering total cholesterol involves adopting a diet low in fats and cholesterol. Since saturated fats (generally solid at room temperature) tend to raise blood levels of cholesterol, it is best to eat less of these fats. Saturated fat is found in meats, poultry skin, non-skim dairy products and processed foods made with coconut, palm and palm kernel oils, vegetable shortening and hydrogenated vegetable oils.

Whenever possible, substitute polyunsaturated liquid vegetable oils (corn, safflower, sunflower, soybean and sesame oils) for saturated fats. Polyunsaturated oils in your diet help lower cholesterol levels in the blood. Eating less cholesterol (no more than three egg yolks per week, avoiding organ meats) reduces the blood cholesterol level as well.

Increasing dietary fiber helps lower blood cholesterol. Beneficial fibers are found in oats (regular oats and oat bran, but not wheat bran) dried beans, carrots, and fruits containing pectin, such as apples and concord grapes. Losing weight will also reduce the cholesterol level.

Many of the methods used to lower total cholesterol also lower the beneficial high density lipoproteins (HDL's). An HDL raising exception is exercise. Adopting a program of regular aerobic exercise is wise. Mono-unsaturated oils such as olive oil in the diet may also raise HDL levels in the blood.

If you would like further information about this subject, contact Julie Say, registered dietitian, and Carol Bingel, registered dietitian at Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-1311, ext. 369 and 360.

Third Grade Classes Shown Process of Making Maple Syrup

Jeremy Montange, a third grader at North Elementary school, is learning about maple syrup production firsthand from his mother's uncle, Bob Houle. Jeremy's mother is Marie Houle.

Bob Houle has been collecting maple syrup since he was a boy. Growing up in Escanaba in the Upper Peninsula, he could not help learning since "everyone up there did that."

Bob showed Jeremy the step-by-step process, using a maple tree growing in his backyard at 315 Taylor Lane. As Jeremy explained it, "first you make a spigot by hollowing out a tree branch, then you drill a hole into the tree and put in the spigot. You pound two nails into the tree and then take them out to form holes for the sap to run through. You attach a can held with a wire over a hook to collect the sap. String should not be used because the sap will run up the string and then out on the ground."

Jeremy is using big coffee cans for collection. In the two weeks he has worked on the project, he has collected three or four gallons of sap. Jeremy plans to continue collecting sap until the tree buds. After budding, the sap turns bitter and also attracts bugs.

Jeremy will take the sap he has collected and boil it down into syrup. He plans to use the syrup "on pancakes and everything."

On March 11, Jeremy invited the two third grade classes at North to come to his great-uncle's backyard and see his work.

JEREMY MONTANGE (second from left) a third grader at North Elementary school, demonstrated how to tap a maple tree to collect sap for maple syrup to classmates from Peggy Moore's class, Scott Colvin, Erin Armstrong, Zac Boller, Hillary Smith, Brandon Miller and Bob Coon. Jeremy learned the process from his great-uncle Bob Houle who lives on Taylor Lane.

See how much faster you can pay off your home when you choose a Great Lakes Federal Biweekly Mortgage instead of a typical fixed-rate, 30-year mortgage.

Instead of conventional monthly payments, you'll make half-payments every other week. The smaller, more frequent payments and the one extra annual payment make a big difference in the cost and length of your loan.

Find out how you can pay off your home sooner and save $31,121 in interest. Ask your Realtor or call 1-800-DIAL-GLF for complete details about the Biweekly Mortgage.

*NOTE: This example is based on a $50,000 loan with 20% down and an interest rate of 9.125% (9.47% APR). Different loan amounts and interest rates will result in significant, though different, savings. The Biweekly Mortgage is offered in conjunction with a Great Lakes Federal automatic payment checking account.

Boy Learns Lesson After Taking Candy

An eight-year-old Chelsea boy may have learned a valuable lesson last Sunday after he was caught stealing two candy bars from the Union 76 station on S. Main St.

The boy fled the store in the late afternoon but the cashier wasn't quick enough to stop him with the goods. She called the Chelsea Police and they tracked him down.

When confronted, the boy also admitted stealing a pack of gum earlier in the morning.

No charges were filed, but the boy and his father were forced to pay for the items, according to the police report.

Susan and Mark's Home is Helping Them Build Their Dream Kitchen.

The house Susan and Mark bought was perfect. Except for the kitchen. But now — with Citizens Homeowners Privilege — the house itself is paying for a complete kitchen renovation.

With Homeowners Privilege — a personal line of credit secured by their home — they simply write a check for the money they need. What could be more convenient? And because the amount is added to their mortgage, the interest they pay is, in many cases, tax deductible. That's smart.

If you're a homeowner, it's time you learned about Citizens Homeowners Privilege. The loan you can live with.

CAMPING

By: Krista Noyo, Second Grade

Me and my dad and mom went camping. When we were driving, a report came on the radio. A tornado warning came on. My mother said, "Oh, no, what will we do?" My father said, "We will go home and take cover."

When we turned around, it started to rain. It rained and rained and rained!

We got flooded. We could not see a thing. We got stuck in the mud. We stayed in the mud!

THE TREES

By: Charlene Tassinari, Second Grade

Trees are fun to climb and in the fall the leaves turn colors. When it is fall, it looks pretty. I think trees live almost all over the world.

When all the leaves fall off the trees and then you rake them up, you can make a pile of leaves and jump in them. That is fun! If you jump off a low tree, then it would be even better. That would be very much fun!

Trees are fun to swing on, even if I never did it in my life! I don't think I ever will, but I would like to do it. I think my brothers have swung on a tree before.

Trees are fun and pretty too. I like trees in the fall the most. In winter, I don't like the trees that much because they don't have any leaves on them. But in the winter, they are covered with snow. So, it looks a little pretty.

I like to climb trees. We live on a lake and at the park a tree has a rope on it. I swing on it into the water. It is fun! It was really fun! The trees that I climb at the park are fun and my brother thinks it's fun too. He jumped off the tree with the rope, into the water and my friend fell off a tree. I think, I don't remember, for sure.

Trees are brown and black. In the fall, the leaves are all colors and very, very pretty. They are all different colors like red, orange, green, yellow and colors like that. It is very pretty!

Some trees die of heart attacks because people make hearts and stuff on them. That is not very nice. They can get struck by lightning and then fall on someone's house. Then they will kill some of the people.

Things live in trees, like squirrels and animals like that. Trees can fall on you if you aren't careful. If there is a storm and there is a hole in the tree, it is dangerous to go in the tree. It might get struck by lightning and fall down on you. You must be very careful.

The End.

A FRUIT MOUSE

By: Melissa Williams, Third Grade

One day when I was walking around doing, oh not much, I remembered that my favorite TV show was starting in two minutes. But my mother reminded me that I had to dust and clean the dishes, and do the laundry, and empty the dishwasher after that. Then I could do anything I wanted to do, but my jobs were all done.

"Oh mom, do I have to?"

"Yes, you do have to do it now," my mother said.

"All right, but I am going to pick fruit first."

"O.K., but get good fruit for us to eat for a midnight snack. Get some pears, apples, oranges, grapes, bananas, and put them in a basket."

When I got done picking all of those things, I suddenly heard something in my basket. It was a noise. The basket wiggled. I saw leaves pop out and a tail, and a little pink nose popped out.

"Yikes!" I said in a shocking sort of voice. And the little fruit mouse and I parted the rest of the day.

THE WONDERFUL FERRARI

By: Chris Grossman, Third Grade

One day I was walking along dreaming of a red Ferrari and then all of a sudden there was a Ferrari. It was called HOT FERRARI!

First I looked at the seats which were a dark red. Then I looked at the panel. First I saw a button that said turbo booster, and there was another button that said air booster and there was the last button that said water booster. And on the steering wheel there was a handle that said turbo jets. And that made me want to drive, so I drove down Main St. and saw a kid. He was my friend. His name was Jason. I asked him to take a ride with me and he did. I wanted to go to N.Y. so I pushed the button that said turbo jets and light itself and I was in New York. They could not take another car and we were there. We were in trouble so I pushed the turbo jet handle and we were home.

THE ROCKS OF HOLLOW ROCK BEACH

By: Joshua Cowen, Third Grade

One summer morning a turtle family was getting ready for the day. "Did you know that the terrible tornado is back on the move?" asked Papa. "E-e-e-k!" cried the family. "We better go now."

Off they went to Hollow Rock Beach, then it happened. The tornado came! They were caught by rocks on the beach. Then they were all somehow attached to the below rock. Suddenly they fell! Umpl!

Then "Hey," said Mom "We have shells!" "Yah," said Papa, "Looks like we have our home to carry." "Yah!" they said.

And that is how turtles now have shells instead of bare backs.

ESCAPE

By: Christian Schutte, Fifth Grade

This story takes place when Indian tribes and villages were still around. I am Mary Jensen's next door neighbor. Most people call her Molly. I went over to Molly's house one day. At around lunch time the door burst open. A bunch of Indians ran into Molly's house. Her whole family tried to escape. But they couldn't escape. The Indians grabbed all of us. Molly, her family and I had a hard time keeping up with the Indians. It was dusk so the Indians stopped to rest. Over the night Molly and I got away. We hurried to my house. The next day we got ready to go. We were going to find the Indian village. The night before we told her little brother to leave a trail of clothing, food or something. We found a trail of clothing. After a while of watching in the weeds we found out the location of her family. When night fell we went to free her family. When we got into the cave we saw her family. Luckily the Indians didn't post a guard. I took out a knife from my backpack and cut the leather things that held her family together. Molly, her family and I got away when the Indians were asleep. When we got back to the house we all went to sleep for the next day. We were going to have a feast.

THE ALIEN

By: Cathy Kartula, Fourth Grade

Once upon a time a farmer planted a pumpkin patch, but an alien egg got in with the seeds. A few months later during the night they started to come up, but the alien came all the way up and started to mess up the town.

The next morning the farmer woke up. He went out to the pumpkin patch and saw that one pumpkin (the alien) was gone. He was sure it was gone because there was a hole in one spot where he planted what he thought was a seed.

Meanwhile, the alien was already going to the next town. People had zoo keepers, police, and firemen out to catch it. The farmer heard about the alien, but he didn't know that that was his pumpkin. He sold all his pumpkins and with the money, he had experts on the lookout. The experts finally caught him. The alien went in the next spaceship to go up and that took him home.

COOKIE CAPERS

By: Amy Cole, Fourth Grade

I get brownie points by washing the car. Biting my nails is a habit I need to chip away at. I'm slow as molasses when I have to make my bed and clean my room.

I could've run away gingerly the time that my sister yelled at me and my dog bit me and then licked me.

My dog adds spice to my life. I butter up my whole family.

I feel my oats when Mike plants oats in the field!

The End.

THE ROBBERS

By: Case McCalla, Fourth Grade

One day my friends and I were playing baseball. I hit a ball foul. We went to get the ball and looked but we couldn't find it. Nathan fell in a hole and we went after him. It led to a basement and we saw some robbers. We tried to sneak out of the basement, the robbers saw us and locked us up. I brought a knife so we opened the door and we made a plan. We jumped on the robber and tied them up. Then we got out and took them to the police. We got a reward. The reward money was about 2 million dollars. We all shared the money and bought a baseball field of our own.

TERRIFIC TOYS

By: Erin Oiberg, Fifth Grade

I was sitting at Tinker's Toy Store. It was 12:00 noon. Kenny was going to lunch. I was sitting there for sale at $10.55. I heard a knock at the door and there was a little girl and her mom looking at me, and I didn't want to leave Kenny. They looked at the sign that said "CLOSED" so they left.

It was 12:25 when Kenny came back. There was a huge line waiting. He unlocked the door at 12:31, and the people started to go for all the games and stuffed dogs, cats, bears, and bunnies, but nobody looked at me.

When there were about four or five people in the store the girl and her mom, that I saw earlier, walked into the store. The girl came over and said, "Mommy, this is what I want."

I was very sad to leave Kenny.

The End.

SOCCER

By: Eric Dougherty, Fifth Grade

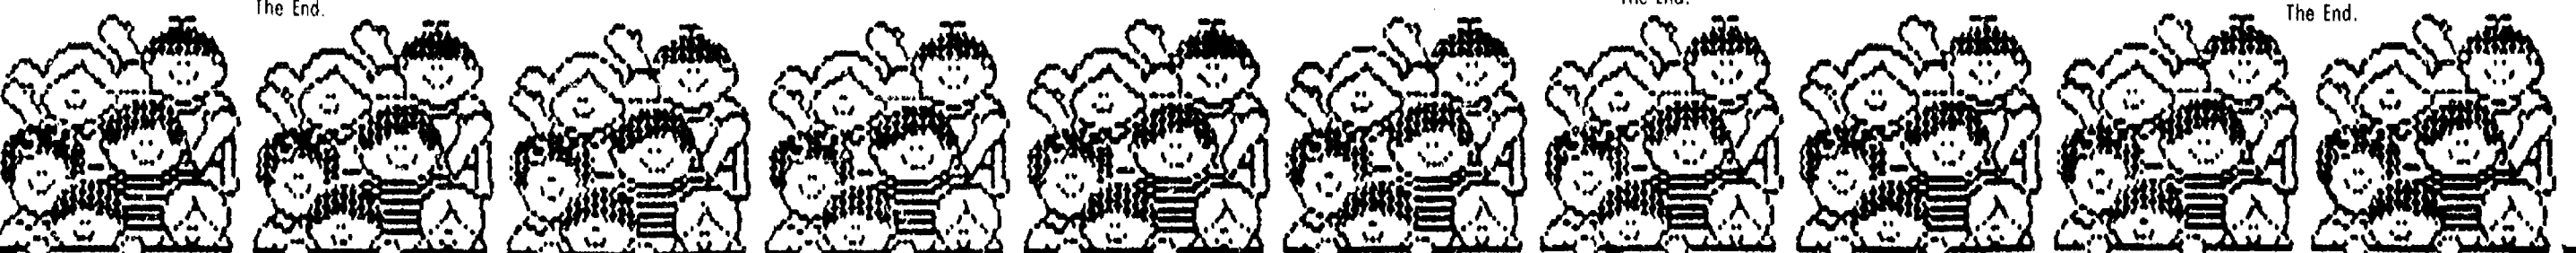

Soccer is coming so I better get ready, I don't want our team to be confetti.

Soccer is coming it's really fun. When we play in the real hot sun.

Soccer is coming. It's here right now. I kicked the ball and a guy said, "Wow."

Soccer is coming. It's really fun. And the other team made a score of none.

Fletcher Plans Move of Business This Spring

Ralph Fletcher says he plans to move his Fletcher's Friendly Service station in the next two or three months to another location in the Chelsea area.

The move would allow Eugene Belknap of Ann Arbor to set up his ninth Domino's Pizza franchise, perhaps by the end of the year.

Belknap bought the building, at 532 S. Main St., late last year from Paul Schneider of Traverse City. He gave Fletcher a verbal one-year lease on the property at an increased rent. The lease would run out in November, and Belknap said the agreement would be reviewed then.

Fletcher said last week he is working out the final details for a new site and should be out of the building well before November.

"I just want my regular customers to know I'm not abandoning them," Fletcher said.

Fletcher doesn't hide how he feels about the situation. He's worked at the current location since 1955 when the business was owned by someone else. He bought the station in 1969. He feels he's being unjustly run off the property.

"I thought about not paying my rent but realized the problem was as much the fault of my old landlord as Belknap's," Fletcher said.

"I just don't want to go into a long conversation with (Belknap)."

Belknap said last week that if Fletcher were to leave the station before November that "we'd take a real close look at the building." He said it would probably take about six months to complete the new Domino's store, counting the time to obtain all necessary permits and actually build the store.

"When we converted an old gas station in Ann Arbor, it took about six months," Belknap said.

"We'd have to take the old gas tanks out."

Domino's would be the fourth pizza parlor in town. The MainStreet Express, which opened two weeks ago, became the third.

Tom Hodgson Honored for Initiating Bluebird Project

Director Tom Hodgson of the Dahlem Environmental Education Center in Jackson, has been honored as the first member of Michigan's new Nest Box Network for his "trail-blazing" accomplishments in getting some 2,000 youngsters and landowners to help bring back bluebirds in the southern part of the state.

Presenting the Network's initial membership certificate to Hodgson at the Bluebird Festival and Wildlife Art Show was DNR Director Gordon E. Guyer.

He praised the Dahlem Center official by saying: "Your outstanding groundwork with concerned citizens in developing bluebird trails right here in Jackson county and neighboring areas serves as the model for our new program. The success of your project is proof positive that our statewide initiative through the Nest Box Network will speed recovery of the bluebird in Michigan."

Guyer noted that Hodgson put the "Bring Back the Bluebird" movement into motion three years ago when he spurred 600 local youths and adults into building and installing that same number of bluebird nest boxes in Jackson county. So much interest was kindled by this opening work that Hodgson was inspired to hold the first Bluebird Festival in 1985 as a focal point for rallying more public support.

Since 1984 when those first wooden nest boxes were set out in Jackson county, they have served as "homes" for 800 baby bluebirds. Their fledgling totals have improved about 50 percent in each of the last two nesting seasons.

In those two years, under the leadership of Hodgson, the Dahlem Center can also take credit for boosting bluebird production by another 900 birds or more in areas outside Jackson county. That figure collectively comes from field records kept and reported by people who purchased some 1,000 nest box kits at the Bluebird Festival or at the Center's gift shop. It also stems from private landowners whom the Center supplied with free nest box building plans and related management information in 1985 and 1986.

Hodgson and his family live in their rural home near Chelsea. He is a former naturalist with the Waterloo Nature Center.

Academic Games Team Repeats As State Champions

Beach Middle School's academic games team, coached by Dennis Petsch, once again has come back to Chelsea as State Champs, having won 13 trophies during the six day competition at Eastern Michigan University. Seventh and 8th graders competed March 5, 6, and 7, while the sixth graders took their turn March 8, 9, and 10.

The entrants from Beach were divided into three teams of five students each. They played "On Words," an English game, "Equations," a mathematics skill game, "Mr. President," a game on presidential facts, "World Card," a social studies game on current events, and "American Indian."

The 7th and 8th grade team, the "Chelsea Cube Killers," were crowned state champs in "Word Game" after five rounds of competition. Team members were Dirk Colbry, Jeremy Guenther, Richard Barnes, Jane Irwin, and Duane Panhallegon.

The "A-Flub Aliens," consisting of Scott Long, Heather Kendrick, Chris Taylor, Nick McCalla, and Tina Hassett, took fourth place out of 11 teams in their division in the same game.

The sixth grade team "Tournament Tacklers," consisting of Nick McCalla, Tina Hassett, Dan Zatkovich, Megan Stielstra, and Rich Aldrich, brought home a first-place trophy for their division in "On Words." They also placed eighth out of 35 teams in "Mr. President."

"The weather was great and the kids were even better," said Petsch.

This is Petsch's second year as coach for the Beach team. Petsch, a long-time Chelsea resident, teaches math in the Ypsilanti Public schools and is a member of the Chelsea auxiliary police.

FORENSICS STUDENTS at Chelsea High school placed in competition at Sterling Heights-Stevenson High school last week-end. 30 schools, mostly class A and B, took part in the event. As a team Chelsea finished in eighth place, as 45 students competed. Above, senior Elizabeth Maurer took fourth place in the sales competition with a presentation on Jiffy Mix and Dale Cole took a fifth place in extemporaneous speaking with a presentation on a variety of topics dealing with international policies. Not pictured is Ward Beauchamp, who finished third in prose/poetry with a reading from "Abu" by Harlan Ellison.

Prompt attention can save injured teeth!

Q: If an injury results in a tooth being knocked out is there any way to save it?

A: In many cases the answer is yes but prompt attention is the key to success. A tooth which has been "avulsed," or knocked out completely, needs to be replanted as soon as possible. Such injuries occur most commonly when playing contact sports but nearly any blow to the mouth for whatever reason may dislodge a tooth.

Studies have shown that time is the most critical factor in the success of a replanted tooth. If the tooth is allowed to stay out of the mouth longer than one hour then the prognosis is very poor indeed. If you, or someone you know, should have a permanent adult tooth knocked out the following steps should be taken:

1) Recover the tooth. If the tooth has gotten dirty then it should be gently rinsed under plain tap water or sterile saline. NEVER scrub the tooth or use soap or detergent since this will harm the delicate cells which are still alive and attached to the root surface of the tooth.

2) Gently tease the tooth back into the socket. This may be very uncomfortable and in the case of severe facial injury or a child who is very upset and uncooperative this may not be possible without anesthesia. The tooth should be held in the socket while the patient is being transported to the dental office.

3) If unable to replant the tooth into the socket the next best thing is to hold the tooth in the patient's mouth (be sure not to swallow it) while being transported to the dental office. If there is a danger of swallowing the tooth such as in a young child or someone who is medically impaired from the injury then the tooth should be placed in a glass of milk or water or held in a damp towel until dental care can be accomplished. It is very important not to let the tooth dehydrate.

Once a tooth is replanted it usually needs to be splinted in place for 7-10 days while the patient is placed on a soft diet. In most cases the nerve within the tooth will have become devital so a root canal procedure will need to be done later on to prevent infection. Also if the tooth had gotten dirty the patient may require a tetanus shot.

Titans KO Bulldogs in District Basketball Play

Chelsea Bulldogs, who drew the best basketball team in their district for first-round play, were defeated by the Jackson Lumen Christi Titans, 56-42 at Siena Heights College, in a game that was closer than the score would indicate.

Chelsea was just two points down with 3:39 to play after Chelsea forward Mark Bareis connected on a jump shot.

However, after Chelsea was called for traveling on their next possession, the Titans reeled off eight straight points, essentially putting the game out of reach.

Greg Halst hit a short jump shot in the lane to close the gap to eight points. But on the Titans' next possession, an intentional foul was called on the Dogs, giving the Titans two shots and possession. It turned into a four-point play.

In the fourth quarter, the Titans were as hot a shooting team as the Bulldogs have seen all year. They hit 9-11 from the field and 8-9 from the free throw line. For the night the Titans were 14-16 from the line.

Again, a lackluster first quarter was at least partially responsible for the Bulldogs' demise. Chelsea shooters were as cold as the gym itself, where most of the spectators wore their winter coats throughout the game. Chelsea was ahead 9-8 after the first period, scoring five of those points on free throws.

The second quarter was even worse as the Dogs didn't score until the 1:05 mark and picked up just four points in the entire quarter.

Yet, after the first half was over, Chelsea was down just 20-13.

"I don't know if we came out tight or what," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"Even though we were disappointed by our play at half-time, we knew we were capable of coming back. We were down 6-1 at the beginning of the game and we could have folded right there. But the kids showed their character again and came back."

Rosentreter characterized the game as "the most physical defense we've played against all year." He said the referees were content to let a lot of pushing and shoving go, far more than they were used to.

"Someone asked me why we didn't get physical right back," Rosentreter said.

"When you aren't used to playing that way, you can't just turn it on and off. At one stretch when we tried to get physical, it looked so obvious to the referees that we were called for fouls."

The Bulldogs had a difficult time running their offense in the first half as the aggressive Titan defense often had the Chelsea guards out beyond the top of the key.

"I don't know if we ran our offense even once in the first quarter," Rosentreter said.

Chelsea shot 32 percent from the field for the night, 17-52. They were 8-14 from the line, with three of those misses coming in the final seconds when the game was already lost.

Bareis, the Bulldogs' high scorer, was held to 14 points, six coming in the final quarter.

The Titans' 6'3" forward Mark Coleman, who was guarding Bareis most of the night, led all scorers with 22 points, mostly on jump shots.

However, other statistical categories favored the Bulldogs, leading Rosentreter to say "it was another one we let slip away."

Lumen Christi turned the ball over 16 times to the Bulldogs' 13. Chelsea had 13 steals to the Titans' seven, and Chelsea had a 36-30 rebound edge.

"It hurt the way it ended," Rosentreter said.

"If we were going to lose, I just wish for once we would have been beaten."

Chelsea's scoring for the final game of the season included Jeff Harvey with eight points, Halst and Jon Lane with five each, Matt Steinhauer and Todd Starkey with four each, and Marty Poljan with two.

"I'm really proud to have been associated with this team," Rosentreter said.

"They're a unique group of kids and I doubt if you'll see another group like them for quite a while. I'm proud of what they've accomplished."

Wrestlers Attend Two Freestyle Meets

Several Chelsea area youths took part in freestyle wrestling tournaments last Friday at Lansing Sexton High school and Saturday at Jackson County Western.

At Friday's meet, Rex Nye took a first place, Mike Taylor was second and Dean Sutherland finished third. Also participating were Craig McCalla, Reno Nye, Eric and Alan Hanna and Doug and Bill Dixon.

On Saturday, March 14, six Chelsea wrestlers placed either first or second or third. There were 425 wrestlers in the meet at Western.

Brent Young won a first place. Second place winners were Rourke Skelton, John Bobo, Kevin McCalla, and Vince Stahl. Michael Alber finished third.

Also participating were Kevin and Brian Bloomensaat, Danny Alber, Jeremy Feldkamp and Matt Powell.

Coach of the team is Howard McCalla. Not only does he escort the boys to the meets but he conducts two practices each week.

Women business owners are the fastest growing segment of small business nationally, growing at five times the rate of their male counterparts. Four out of every five new business start-ups are woman owned.

ON THE MOVE is senior Chelsea point guard Todd Starkey during first half action at Siena Heights College in the district tournament. Trying to take the charge is Jackson Lumen Christi's Mark Coleman, who finished as the game's leading scorer with 22 points.

Tankers End Season at State Meet

Chelsea High school swimmers closed out their season last week-end at the Class B State Meet at Eastern Michigan University by swimming personal best times.

Four state records were set at the meet.

"Our kids swam great in the preliminaries, but the pool was just so fast and the competition was so great," said Chelsea coach Mike Keeler.

Matt Doan dropped two seconds in the 200-yard individual medley to 2:07.4.

The 200 medley relay team of Doan, Darren Girard, Kevin Brock and Chris Birtles also dropped two-tenths of a second to 1:46.64.

Tyler Lewis finished 21st in diving and Doan swam the 100 freestyle in :51.6.

Four Bulldog Senior Cagers Earn Post-Season SEC Honors

Four Chelsea senior varsity basketball players were named to All-Southeastern Conference post season teams.

Forward Mark Bareis, the Bulldogs leading scorer and rebounder, was named to the first team by the conference coaches.

Point guard Todd Starkey was named to the second team, while forward Jeff Harvey and reserve guard Jon Lane made the Honorable Mention squad.

Bareis joins Saline's Grant Fanning, Lincoln's Sterling Chambers, Tecumseh's John Hartley and Milan's Ernest Walker on the first team.

Bareis averaged 19.3 points per game in the 12-game league season and 21.2 points over-all. He also averaged 6.8 rebounds in the league and 2.1 assists. His other league totals included 49 percent free throw shooting, 76 percent field goal shooting, and 232 total points.

Starkey guided the Chelsea offense and was an aggressive defender. In league play he averaged 6.3 assists, 2 turnovers and 81 percent from the free throw line.

Starkey joins second team members Andy Donahay of Lincoln, Bob Nemeth of Pinckney, Aaron Greenfield of Milan and Kyle Brunner of Saline.

Harvey was the Bulldogs' second leading scorer and rebounder, even though he played the last five games of the season with a broken bone in his foot. In league play he averaged 8.9 points, 5.3 rebounds, 45 percent from the floor and 77 percent from the line. He scored 107 points in the SEC.

Lane came on strong toward the end of the season. He averaged 5.1 points in league play, hitting 48 percent from the field. He had 61 points.

Other players named honorable mention were Jeff Bishop, Kyle Menard, Andy Walsh and David Schmidt of Dexter, Dan Hall and Scott Thomas of Lincoln, Pat Heath of Milan, Kirk Dunn and Jim Kennedy of Pinckney, Jeff Paquin and Brandon White of Saline, and Jeff McMunn of Tecumseh.

POST SEASON SEC HONORS went to, from left, point guard Todd Starkey, guard Jon Lane, and forwards Jeff Harvey and Mark Bareis. Bareis was named to the first team, Starkey made second team, and Harvey and Lane were honorable mention.

JEFF HARVEY DRIVES down the lane for two of his eight points in district tournament action against Jackson Lumen Christi. The Titans ended up winning the district after knocking off the Bulldogs in the first round.

Athletics Gates Receipts Way Up from Last Year

Gate receipts from Chelsea School District sports events were up more than $7,000 over last year, much of it due to the success of this winter's basketball program, according to a report by Athletic Director Larry Reed.

Total gate receipts for 1986-87 were $25,815, up from $18,900 in 1985-86. The entire basketball program drew $10,766, up more than $6,000 from last season. That was, in part, due to four more Friday varsity home games than last season, Reed said.

"About $2,000 or a little more was because we had a winning team," Reed said.

Gate receipts from other fall and winter sports were: football, $10,964 (varsity was $9,311); girls basketball, $1,167; girls swimming, $352; wrestling, $903; volleyball, $1,118; and boys swimming, $545.

"Next year we'll be running on an austerity budget," Reed said.

Natural History Assoc. Will Lead Sunday 'Search for Spring'

"Search for Spring" is the title of this week's offering by the Waterloo Natural History Association. Naturalist Dorothy Blanchard will lead a group on search for the first real signs that winter does not last forever such as birds returning from the south and wildflowers in bloom. Meet at the Nature Center parking lot, Sunday, March 22 at 1:30 p.m.

Aquatic Club Competes in Short Course Junior Olympics

Chelsea Aquatic Club spent this past week-end at Clarenceville High school in Livonia, where they competed in the 1987 Short Course Junior Olympics.

The Bulldogs had 18 swimmers in the meet ranging from 4th grade to 12th.

Coaches Dave Brinklow and Mike Keeler were very pleased with their swimmers' performances. "I was particularly proud of 11-year-old Melissa Thiel and 12-year-old Steven Brock," said Brinklow. "They have both trained hard this season and it was nice to see that all their work paid off."

Keeler noted fine performances turned in by senior Darren Girard. "Darren has set an excellent example for the Chelsea swimming program. He has worked very hard year after year and his swims today reflected all his efforts."

The meet began with 11th grader Charlie Hosner placing 13th in the 500-yd. freestyle with a time of 5:47.23. Then Brock hit the water with a time of 4:02.5 in the 50-yd. breaststroke to place 22nd. Thiel swam the 50-yd. breaststroke in :38.83 to place 17th.

Sixth grader Dana Freestyle's first event was the 200-yd. freestyle where his time of 2:33.87 was 38th. Then it was nine-year-old Carey Schiller's turn in the 100-yd. backstroke where she dropped over three seconds to place 18th at 1:31.99.

Brock's time of :37.10 in the 50-yd. backstroke placed 21st while Schmunk managed a 13th place finish in the same event at :35.84. Thiel placed eighth in the girls' event with a time of :35.30. She then swam the 200-yd. individual medley in 2:45.16 to place 14th.

Schmunk's last event was the 50-yd. freestyle where he placed 47th at :51.73.

Hosner started the next session for the older age groups with a :25.67 in the 50-yd. freestyle for 13th place. Then in the 13-14 age group, Brian Brock went 1:01.51 in the 100-yd. freestyle to place 35th while teammate Von Acker took sixth place with a time of :57.38.

Hosner's next swim was 2:05.03 in the 200-yd. freestyle which was 15th. Brock's second swim was an 11th-place finish in the 200-yd. backstroke, 2:38.06. Then he swam the 200-yd. IM in 2:32.77 for 25th place. Acker finished 34th in the 200-yd. IM at 2:34.76.

In the 400-yd. IM, Hosner placed seventh with a time of 5:20.20.

When it was time for the younger age groups to take to the pool again, Steven Brock swam to a 46th place finish in the 50-yd. freestyle for a personal best time of :37.94. Then he went 1:31.02 in the 100-yd.

breaststroke for 32nd place; and 1:23.56 in the 100-yd. backstroke for 23rd.

Thiel started again with one-second drop in the 50-yd. butterfly, :33.35, 12th place then 10th in the 100-yd. breaststroke, 1:24.67. She finished the meet with yet another personal best time of 1:17.95 in the 100-yd. backstroke for 12th place.

Carey Schiller's only other event was the 50-yd. backstroke which she did in :41.12 and placed 24th.

Acker started the next session for the older age group with a fifth-place finish in the 200-yd. butterfly, 2:36.68. He was 38th in the 100-yd. breaststroke, 1:26.81, and 20th in the 200-yd. freestyle, 2:09.87.

Freshman Brett Paddock went 1:09.31 in the 100-yd. butterfly, to place 23rd; 2:19.69 in the 200-yd. backstroke, third place; and 2:21.59 in the 200-yd. IM for ninth.

Hosner placed 13th in the 100-yd. butterfly, 1:05.58; 18th in the 100-yd. freestyle, :56.28; and 28th in the 200-yd. IM, 2:26.81.

Sophomore Brett Draper swam the 100-yd. butterfly in 1:05.30 for 11th place. Then he made a very impressive showing in the 200-yd. breaststroke where he placed third in 2:34.46. Terry finished with an eighth-place finish in the 200-yd. IM, 2:21.15.

Chris Birtles, another sophomore, surprised everybody (including himself!) by dropping seven seconds in the 100-yd. butterfly to place second with a time of 1:01.47. After winning his heat he said "I saw the time on the clock and looked around to see who the winner was, but I was the only one finished. Birtles placed fourth in the 100-yd. freestyle, :53.58 and 13th in the 200-yd. IM, 2:22.57.

Freshman Garth Girard placed 20th in the 100-yd. butterfly, 1:07.26; 26th in the 100-yd. freestyle, :58.65; and 28th in the 200-yd. IM, 2:27.56.

Volleyball Players Earn League Honors

Four Chelsea High school volleyball players have received post-season honors by Southeastern Conference coaches.

Senior Mary Lazarz was voted to the all-league first team. Senior Heidi Hosner was named to the second team and seniors Kathryn Morgan and Angie DeFant earned Honorable Mention honors.

Lazarz was the team's leading setter and scorer, with 65 points. She was also the team's Most Valuable Player, with 94 assists, 153 sets, 102 of 115 in serving and 111 of 127 in passing.

"She was the team leader on the floor," said coach Karen Tobin.

"She kept our offense moving and was very consistent and steady."

Hosner was an outside and middle hitter and "an all-around player who hit the ball hard consistently," Tobin said.

Hosner was good on 84 of 90 spikes, had 29 kills, 23 blocks and was good on 290 of 339 passes.

Morgan was a front row player and outside hitter.

"Kathryn didn't have a lot of kills because of power, but she found a lot of holes," Tobin said.

Morgan was good on 91 of 110 spikes and 87 of 100 passes. In addition, she had 19 kills and 10 blocks.

DeFant, a middle hitter and blocker and "all-around player" scored 32 points for the season. She was good on 205 of 240 passes and 50 of 68 spikes. She had 12 kills and 30 blocks.

Other first-team members were Pam Meingsner of Milan, Lisa McGraw of Dexter, Kelly Hartley of Tecumseh and Laura Crossley of Saline.

Other second-team members included Kellie Fuhrman of Saline, Karen Courte of Pinckney, Jana Loechl of Lincoln and Jessie Raymond and Angie Schultz of Tecumseh.

Rounding out the honorable mention list were Jodi Liechty and Becky Gainsley of Saline, Melinda McCalla and Maryann Doletzky of Dexter, Janice Turner and Lisha Cook of Milan, Heather Price and Debbie Walters of Lincoln, and Renee Chouinard of Pinckney.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I was sorry to see the varsity basketball season end last Tuesday, but now I can look forward to softball and baseball without feeling guilty about it.

What a game it was with Jackson Lumen Christi. There was so much pushing, kneeling and general abuse under the boards that did not get called by the officials. Initially the punishment took its toll on the Bulldogs. They scored just 13 points in the first half.

It was perhaps the strangest game they played all year.

Chelsea was most definitely not overmatched in the game. The Titans didn't win the game as much as the Bulldogs lost it.

I have to agree with coach Rahn Rosentreter when he said he wished his team would have gotten its collective butt kicked rather than losing the way they did. That way the season could have ended cleanly. The players could have said, "Oh well, we were overmatched." A lot of them will probably look back and wish they had another shot at the Titans.

It was also cold as a meat locker in the Siena Heights gym. I'm not sure if that had any effect on the players but it sure did play havoc with the spectators, including your friendly Standard photographer.

By the time it was all over, I was never so glad to leave a gym.

But I'll remember this basketball season for a long time to come.

The Detroit Lions may have been the center of attraction Sunday in the Chelsea gym, but Jeff Dils, Chelsea's junior varsity basketball coach, put on one of the best shows.

Dils is a phenomenal shooter. I understand he holds a number of Bulldog scoring records and it was certainly apparent why. He was sinking shots from all over the court.

Speaking of Dils, the rookie coach deserves a lot of praise for the way he handled the junior varsity team this season.

Last December he had a team that looked as though it might not win a game.

By the end of the season, the Bulldogs were capable of beating anyone. They were aggressive and played good defense. But more importantly, they played fundamental TEAM basketball, which is not always the easiest thing in the world to teach. No one could have been happier than Rosentreter about the way they progressed. Nearly all of them will be on his varsity team next season.

More good news. Jeff says he plans to stay around a while.

The NCAA basketball tournament has had its share of fun moments and there are still two weeks to go.

Austin Peay (pronounced "pee") supporters must have the best sense of humor. Cheerleaders were shouting "Let's go Peay" and there were signs that read, "The fly is open, let's go Peay." Austin Peayed all over Illinois in the first round, knocking the Illini out of the tournament.

Speaking of pee, I was also amused by Michigan coach Bill Frieder, who apparently adamantly supports the NCAA's newly-implemented drug testing policy for the tournament.

When asked about the constitutionality of such testing, Frieder was quoted as saying, "I don't give a damn about constitutional rights when I'm coaching my team."

It's a good thing this man isn't running something more significant than a college basketball team.

Random drug testing (drug testing without cause) is a rotten idea for a lot of reasons in addition to concerns of invasion of privacy.

Here's just one gripe. I'm convinced these tests have been implemented more for their public relations value than for any real concern for an athlete's well-being. The NCAA wants to let the public know that it doesn't condone cocaine or marijuana use by players. The NCAA also wants to give the impression it is DOING SOMETHING to prevent drug abuse.

But that's all it is. It's just an impression.

The testing policy may temporarily stop some athletes from using some drugs like cocaine and marijuana. But what about drugs—yes drugs—like alcohol and tobacco? Legal drugs that coaches and administrators use while inventing these silly testing rules.

My father was a cigarette addict and died of lung cancer after a three-pack-a-day habit that began in high school.

Another member of my family was an alcohol addict and we buried him less than a month ago after his liver gave out.

A recent article in Science magazine estimated that as many as 40 percent of all hospital patients are simply suffering from symptoms of alcoholism.

Tobacco contributes enormously to high health care costs. The American Cancer Society estimates that as many as 350,000 people die every year due to smoking-related illnesses.

Cocaine and marijuana don't cause a fraction of the health problems alcohol and tobacco create.

The problem is that alcohol and cigarettes, while every bit as addicting and lethal as cocaine, are legal. Cocaine is illegal. And, it's glamorous and trendy to speak out against illegal drug use, because "it's ruining our country." The prime examples are Len Bias, who died, and, most recently, Gary McClain, who reportedly used cocaine during the Final Four several years ago.

The NCAA certainly doesn't want to appear that it condones the ruination of our country, now does it?

If the NCAA was truly concerned about its athletes and truly convinced that testing was the way to prevent abuse, it would test every athlete for every drug imaginable, including alcohol and tobacco. How about twice-a-day breathalyzer tests in athletic dormitories, for example?

The NCAA knows that full-scale testing is impractical, costly, and probably illegal. So it goes after the "druggies" because it gets the big headlines and makes it look like a caring organization. After the Len Bias incident, it was practically forced to do something.

Having an athlete pee into a bottle is all window dressing. It fails to address many of the real drug abuse problems in this society, problems that will only be solved by education.

GOING UP for a well-earned two points is senior forward Mark Bareis. Bareis and the rest of the Dogs had a tough time against a physical Jackson Lumen Christi, who went on to win the district. Bareis finished with 22 points.

'Pledge for Fitness' Slated as Fundraiser

After seven or eight years of selling candy to raise money, the Chelsea High school athletic department has decided to change its philosophy this year, and perhaps forever.

This year the department is sponsoring a "Pledge for Fitness" Saturday, March 21. Students are seeking pledges of money for their participation in biking, swimming, jumping rope or running. For example, someone might pledge five cents for every minute an athlete runs, or five cents for every lap a swimmer completes. Each athlete will be allowed to run for 100 minutes, swim 100 laps, bike 100 laps around beach school, or jump rope for 100 minutes.

An athletic trainer will be on hand to deal with any injuries or health problems that might arise.

"We felt that selling candy was inconsistent with trying to promote physical fitness," said Athletic Director Larry Reed.

Reed said that last year the school sold nearly $10,000 worth of candy, which netted the department about $5,000. This year the department hopes to raise at least $5,000, he said. He said he's optimistic that it's a reasonable goal because, unlike the candy sales, there will be very little overhead.

All students taking part in the event will be athletes. The money they raise will be given to the sport(s) he or she participates in. For instance, if a boy runs cross country and is on the wrestling team, the money he raises will be divided equally between those two programs.

Students have one week before the event to solicit pledges, and a week afterward to collect them.

"We hope this will become an annual event," Reed said.

Unemployment rates declined in 1986 in 32 states and the District of Columbia. The 1986 annual average unemployment rate, at 7.0 percent for the nation as a whole, also was lower than the 1985 rate of 7.2 percent, the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor reports.

day, taking two first places and one third place. Kevin won the 100-yd. butterfly, 1:01.11 and the 200-yd. breaststroke, 2:33.18. He was third in the 200-yd. IM, 2:17.89.

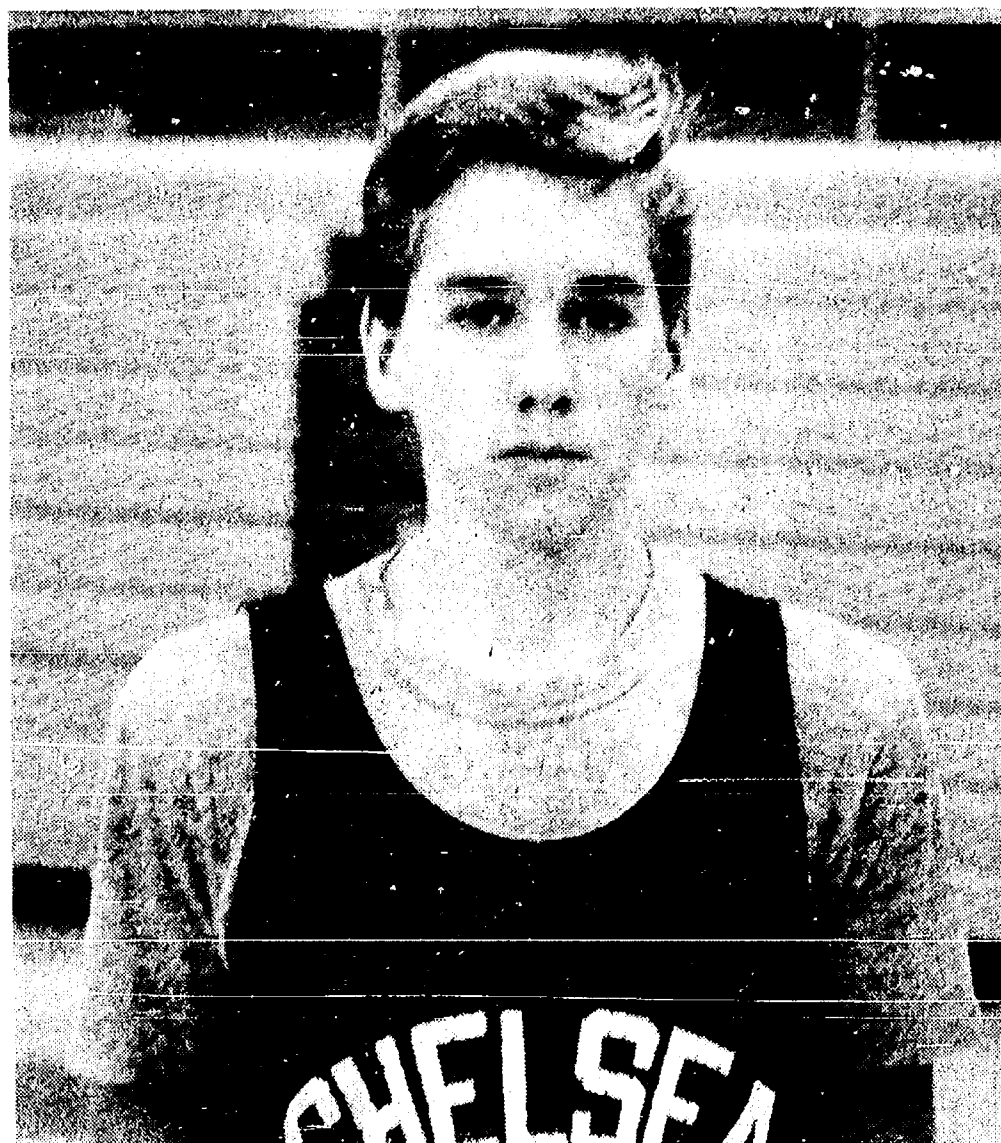

Another junior, Howard Merkel, was seventh in the 200-yd. breaststroke, 2:39.44; 29th in the 100-yd. freestyle, 1:00.30, and 34th in the 200-yd. IM, 2:33.11.

Freshman Jim Alford placed 40th in the 200-yd. freestyle, 2:21.00; 47th in the 50-yd. freestyle, :28.48.

Scott Marsh, also a freshman, was 34th in the 200-yd. freestyle, 2:15.86; 32nd in the 50-yd. freestyle, :27.34; and 14th in the 400-yd. IM.

David Oesterle represented the freshmen with an eight-second drop in the 200-yd. freestyle. His time of 2:07.79 placed 14th. He was 26th in the 50-yd. freestyle, :27.19; and ninth in the 400-yd. IM, 5:21.44.

Senior Darren Girard received the only Chelsea "AA" time with his second-place finish in the 200-yd. backstroke, 2:17.41. He also took second place in the 100-yd. freestyle, :53.50; and first in the 200-yd. IM, 2:14.83.

CAGER OF THE WEEK is junior guard John Cattell, 358 Washington St., son of Lynda Cattell. John, one of the quickest players on the Bulldog varsity, has played organized basketball for five years. He's the odds-on favorite to start at point guard next season, which will be his second year playing for coach Rahn Rosentreter. Next year John will also be captain of the cross country team. He's a two-time all-league and all-region runner and was MVP last year. He was also an all-league runner for the track team. John, an all-A honor student for the second semester, is a member of St. Paul United Church of Christ.

CHS Parent-Teachers Group Plans Meeting

"Parent Teachers Together", a new parent-teachers organization at Chelsea High school, is planning to hold a meeting on Wednesday, March 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room of the administration building.

The meeting will feature a presentation by Substance Abuse Counselor Christine Dillon entitled, "What Warning Signs To Look for in Your Children for Drug Abuse and/or Depression and Other Dangerous Tendencies."

Dillon's presentation will follow a brief business meeting.

The purpose of PTT is to give parents an opportunity to become more knowledgeable about school operations and to provide support and involvement for the continuing benefit of the school and students. It is similar to the PTA and is designed to be a booster group for general school programs, not specific interest areas. The group is actively seeking volunteers for various school programs, including help in monitoring the computer lab in the mornings from 8:30 to 8:50.

For more information, contact Principal John Williams at 475-9131.

Friends Family Honor Grohnert On 60th Year As An Attorney

Gerald D. Grohnert, senior partner of the Grohnert and Grohnert law firm of Dexter was honored for his 60th year of membership in the Michigan State Bar.
Saturday afternoon, March 14 at the Dexter American Legion Home, friends and relatives of Grohnert came to celebrate his 60th anniversary.
Grohnert was admitted to the bar on
St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 1927.
Born Aug. 14, 1902 in Chicago, following the death of his mother, he came to Chelsea in 1903 and then moved to Detroit to live with his aunt, Etta Dealy.
He received his law degree from the University in Detroit in 1926 and began practicing in the Detroit area following admittance to the State Bar in 1927. In Detroit he was in the Legal Division of Union Title Guaranty Co.,
a subsidiary of Union Trust.
Some years later Grohnert returned to Chelsea and set up a law office at 7124 Bush Rd., across the road from his home at 7125 Bush Rd.
After practicing from his home for 10 years he moved his law firm to Dexter where he is the senior partner in the law firm of Grohnert & Grohnert, Attorneys. Gerald D. and son Francis (Frank) are partners.
Married to Rita Duncan Grohnert since 1955, the Grohnerts are the parents of Mrs. Paul (Bridgette)
Powers of Ypsilanti and their son,
Francis (Frank).

Beach Middle School Students Prepare for Spelling Bee

Can you spell "appendicitis?"

These are a few of the words the Beach Middle school students have been learning to spell in preparation for the Southeastern Conference spelling bee to be held March 28 at Wylie Middle School, Dexter.

The spelling bee is a yearly event sponsored by the Southeastern Conference of the Middle School Principals' Association.

The district spelling bee has been preceded by a three-week building spell-down in which Beach students studied the words and then held spelling bees at each grade level. When the top 10 in each grade has been determined, a school-wide spelling bee was held to find the top 10 in the school.

Beach principal Darcy Stielstra

notes that "the top 10 are not just eighth graders but are spread between all three grades."

The all-school top 10 are Jane Irwin, Ben Havens, Ben Manning, Heidi Wisner, Heather Kendrick, Jennifer McEachern, Matt Postiff, Julie Weiss, Becky Pryor, and Jake Rindle. On March 28 they will compete against Milan, Dexter, Saline, Pinckney, Tecumseh, and Lincoln.

At the district spelling bee, competitors will be called in random order for the first round. Those still in the next round will keep the same order. Participants may ask to have a word re-pronounced or used in a sentence. The final authority is Webster's Third New International Dictionary.

According to Stielstra, the principal's association plays down the competitive aspect of the event saying ★ Burning Treated Or Painted Wood . . .

The heating season is upon us and because of this, I'd like to warn you against burning painted or treated wood in open fires, woodburning stoves, fireplaces or residential boilers. The reason is that toxic chemicals are produced when these woods are burned and then carried by the fumes and ashes. If inhaled, these toxic substances can cause serious poisoning.

Depending on the preservative used in the treatment of wood, burning releases toxic fumes in the smoke and toxic metals in the ashes. Burning of wood painted with lead based paint will release high levels of lead, both in the fumes and ashes. Compounds commonly used in the treatment of wood are pentachlorophenol, salts of chromium, copper and arsenic.

Another hazard you should be aware of is storing wood inside your home if the wood supplied is soiled with bird droppings. There is a risk of histoplasmosis spores, which is a type of fungus infecting the lungs.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor,

I am writing in response to a letter stating that high school seniors do not think about anything but $ signs and fancy cars. I happen to be a very active person in my school, church, and community, and I do not find Gordon F. Begley's letter helpful in any way. Granted, I can speak only for my group of friends, but your slamming remarks, Mr. Begley, did not settle well at our lunch table.

I plan to attend college and major in an area that I have felt very strongly about for a long time. Why is that harmful or bad? I do not understand what is wrong with dreams dealing with money or cars. After all, you really cannot accomplish much in this society if you have no goals.

I would like to know what your goals were when you graduated from high school, Mr. Begley, and what you do to serve "your" country. Please deny that you NEVER talked about money or fast cars.

In other words, you are grouping high school seniors as worthless leaders who do not care about anything but drugs and doing what it takes to "get rich fast." I happen to be in Chelsea's Elective Government class, and we talk about the concerns and fears we have about the United States.

Finally, I would like to explain our graduation speakers. Two people are elected by the student body to represent the graduating class. This means that the valedictorian of our class is not automatically speaking on June 7. Maybe you should have researched our school instead of your theory of dentists and insurance salesmen. Before you write another letter, Mr. Begley, stating that the youth in Chelsea are a disgrace, I suggest you pick up The Chelsea Standard and notice the articles concerning the outstanding students who attend CHS and realize that the seniors who think about drugs and getting rich are obviously a minority in the Chelsea community.

Charna L. Street
Chelsea High School Senior

Mr. Editor:

This is in response to the letter by Gordon Begley printed in The Standard last week. Mr. Begley implied that all 18 and 19 year olds are only interested in drugs and Ferraris. This is absurd!! I am a high school senior who has never touched drugs and I have absolutely no interest in driving an expensive car.

I believe if Mr. Begley polled the senior class at Chelsea High school he would find this true of most students. Granted there are always those who are seeking to be rich but these are few.

I plan on being an elementary school teacher upon finishing college. Surely you realize that teachers are not paid a handsome salary. Beginning teachers barely make enough to live on. But because of my love for children and my desire to help educate them. I am willing to put off owning a house for a few years, buying a "sports" car (if that is what I am "supposed" to do) and I never plan on being rich. But I believe my job will make me as rich as I need to be.

I believe Mr. Begley has a very shallow understanding of people and teen-agers in particular. I truly resent being called a drug addict and accused of running around with dollar signs in my eyes.

If the speaker of our class uses any of Mr. Begley's letter during our graduation I will be genuinely tempted to walk out.

(By the way Mr. Begley, what kind of car(s) do you drive?)

Jennifer Boughton
A High School Senior
(and proud of it!)

Dear Editor:

After reading Mr. Begley's letter in last week's paper, I felt compelled to put in my opinion of this year's graduating class.

Mr. Begley seems to have a problem with today's governing bodies and society as a whole, but especially with highly paid professionals. These people have been out of high school for some time, were raised in a different world of beliefs and an entirely different generation than today's high school seniors—just as I was—and probably Mr. Begley too.

I happen to know a lot of this year's seniors and I don't believe they should even be included in Mr. Begley's definition of money hungry, drug taking, sports car drivers. Frankly, I hope the class valedictorian ignores his letter. There may be a few that fit the category, but it takes all kinds of people to make the world go around.

The vast majority of this year's seniors are friendly, outgoing and caring young people. I have witnessed their spirit, generosity, support and interest in others. The encouragement and student support of this season's basketball team and the players' expressions of appreciation is just one small example.

A lot of things have changed since I grew up and will continue to change with each generation. I hope I have contributed everything I could to making my graduating senior a loving, giving and caring person who will pass these traits on to her children and so on. All of the seniors I know are these kind of people, it's a pleasure for me to be around them and support them in reaching their goals.

I have faith in these young people to take their place in our world and use their visions, determination and talents to change the things we don't like and help to make our country a better place for us all.

Mrs. M. A. Wilson.

Dear Editor,

I have been attending Chelsea High school basketball games for the past 15 or so years. I can even remember the first game I attended, a former high school instructor of mine, Wayne Welton played, as well as my cousin, Chick Lane, who were both seniors, juniors Jeff Daniels and Jeff Schmidt played too. However, the stars of the game were Ron Sweeny and his dad. His dad you might ask, yes his dad, Ron as I can remember was a great player, but his dad was the loudest fan I have ever heard. Mr. Sweeny would match each Chelsea basket with a rousing Fred Flintstone "yab ba dab ba du." Yes, over the years we have had some great fans here, but this year the fans were probably the greatest I have ever seen. Each game, home or away, including Tuesday night's district loss, a great number of students would try and cheer the Basketball Bulldogs on to victory and in most cases it worked. After last year's disappointing last place finish, the Bulldogs tied for first place in the SEC. This accomplishment wouldn't have been possible without the great coaching, the team's hard work and most importantly the student body and the fans' relentless backing.

Thanks again for a great year,
David L. Lane.

Dear Editor,

This is the first letter to the editor that I have ever written. However, I felt that I must reply to the caustic letter written by a Mr. Begley regarding Chelsea High school's class of 1987.

My fourth child will be graduating in this class and I feel that they are not typical of the students that he alluded to. These graduating seniors are a fine example of outstanding young men and women, and I am very proud of their academic as well as athletic accomplishments.

I am sure that my son is a typical representative of this class just as my other three children have been of their classes. My eldest, a daughter, graduated from Chelsea High in 1979 and Bowling Green State University and is currently an instructor at Otawa Hills Elementary School in Toledo, O., teaching Learning Disabilities. My second, graduated from Eastern Michigan University and is a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army. My third is currently enrolled at Eastern Michigan University hoping to become a sports journalist. So, I beg to differ with you Mr. Begley, because I am sure John F. Kennedy would be proud of my Caroline and Jon too. Their primary interests, and those of the class of 1987, certainly have not been, or are not in sports cars, drugs or the almighty dollar.

Donna Noah Lane
A 1981 Chelsea High School Graduate

Dear Sirs:

As president and valedictorian of this year's senior class at Chelsea High school, I have been asked to write a letter regarding last week's Letter to the Editor written by a Mr. Gordon F. Begley. I am glad to oblige. We resent Mr. Begley's statement that "most kids today, all they think about is getting rich, buying a Ferrari, taking drugs, or whatever." We are very much offended and want to set the record straight. Mr. Begley has absolutely no foundation whatsoever to make such a statement as this that couldn't be further from the truth. To put it bluntly Mr. Begley, you are way out of bounds. Allow me to tell you how it really is.

You stated that John F. Kennedy was a great president. There is no doubt about that. His immortal words "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country" will be passed on for generations to come. We seniors at Chelsea High school fully intend to serve our country, and to do our part. Does this mean we must serve in the Peace Corps, in the military, or on Indian reservations? Certainly not. Granted, these are positive ways to do so, but there are thousands of others as well. We realize the importance of education beyond high school, and for the most part we want to pursue this course. Are you aware that in order to gain admission to the Peace Corps, one must have a college education or a genuine skill—point proven.

Just what do you mean we should dedicate ourselves to a career in fast food in order to lead a rewarding life? A fast food worker making minimum wage earns approximately $6,700 per year. In today's world that is hardly enough to support one single person.

If we all did this we couldn't afford to have any families because we'd be unable to support them. Is this your idea of fulfilling the American dream? Many of us have worked in this capacity, including myself, but we certainly, don't plan on doing so for the rest of our lives. The whole of the American dream is based largely upon realizing our potential for advancement in society. This is the 1980's. We're the new generation—the movers and the shakers. We have specific dreams, and we are motivated.

You seem to think that all we think about is making money. Well we beg to differ. I for one would rather be happy with a strong faith, a loving family, and solid friendships as opposed to strictly being rich with much more money than I could ever need. I'll be honest. I do dream of making a lot of money someday, but that isn't all I dream about, and it certainly isn't the most important. I'm sure my classmates would echo this statement. We all think about how great lots of money would be. Haven't you Mr. Begley? You are correct in saying that "you don't need a lot of money to have a rewarding life." But do you realize that it is fully possible to have money and be very happy at the same time. What is wrong with having the best of both worlds if at all possible?

As far as your assumption that all we want to do is take drugs, I ask who do you think you are?! I have never taken drugs, and I guarantee that by far the majority of us have not and will not. In fact, I have never even seen drugs on our campus. Do you know how rare this is? The next time you or anyone else makes such a totally unfounded statement such as this, you had better make sure you have a whole lot of direct proof to back it up.

In the future Mr. Begley (if that is your real name) I suggest you keep such wholly fanciful opinions to yourself. The Class of '87 is a group of mature, intelligent, and motivated young people. I am proud to say that I am a member of this outstanding group. And if when I address our class as valedictorian, I most certainly won't use any of your letter in my speech. In fact, I just may use your letter as an example of how we will not be affected by those around us who don't believe we are the capable group that we are.

Jeff Stacey.

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to Gordon F. Begley's letter to the editor (March 11). Mr. Begley's letter states that not many of the 1987 Senior Class in Chelsea will remember John F. Kennedy's immortal words: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." He says that not many will join the Peace Corps, military, or help on Indian reservations. This is not the only way to serve our country. At this time in life for high school seniors, the best way for us to serve our country is to continue our education by going to college or a vocational school. As a senior at Chelsea High school, this is what I plan to do. Beside, the Peace Corps prefers you to be a college graduate, and to know a skill.

Mr. Begley also states that: "Most kids today, all they think about is getting rich, buying a Ferrari, taking drugs, or whatever." I am very disappointed and insulted that he, and I'm sure other adults, think this, because it is totally false. I know that there are some "bad eggs" who only think about just getting rich, but there are not a whole lot of them. I have many friends that plan to serve people by becoming lawyers, doctors, nurses, etc. who are not even thinking about being rich, or Ferraris or drugs. Some of my friends and myself plan to go into the communications/broadcasting fields. This business truly serves the people with news and entertainment daily.

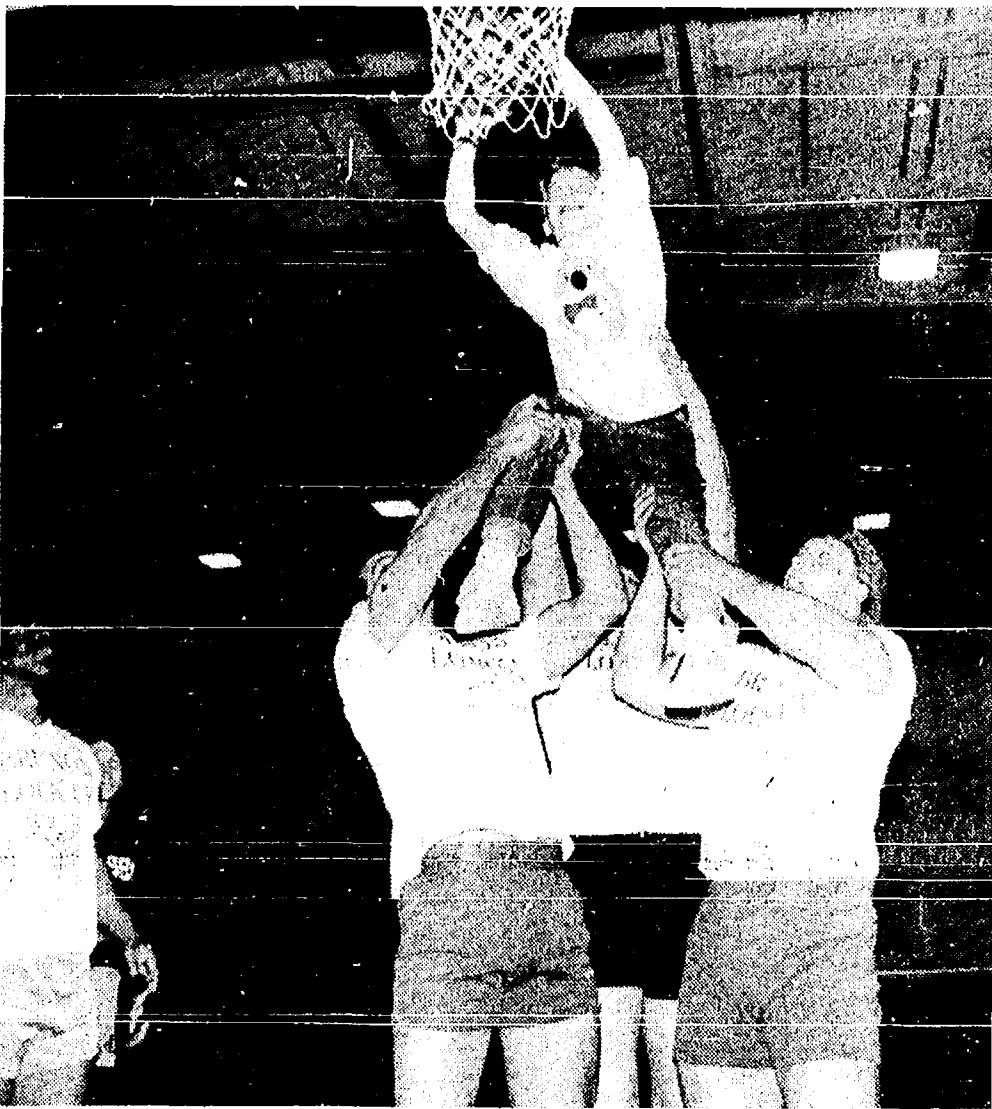

I must agree with Mr. Begley in saying "You do not need a lot of money to have a rewarding life." He backs this by giving examples of workers at McDonald's and other fast food franchises, who only earn somewhere around minimum wage. Enjoying your work is one thing, surviving is another.

All I can say is that there are many "young adults" who don't think about just money, and that Mr. Begley is sadly wrong about today's youth. I strongly encourage anybody that agreed with Gordon F. Begley's letter, to visit the high school and see for yourself how good the school and the students are. And remember: "A

McClung Is Featured Artist at Art Festival

Catherine McClung, of Dexter, has been selected as Featured Artist for the 1987 Michigan Wildlife Art Festival, to be held April 2-5 at the Southfield Civic Center. McClung's painting "Morning Splendor," has been reproduced as the 1987 Festival print and available in a limited edition of 450, only through the festival.

McClung's distinctive technique in the pioneering use of acrylic watercolor has won her international recognition. The self-taught artist who "got serious 11 years ago and painted everyday" spends much of her time researching wildlife near her home in the woods. McClung's intense interest in wildlife has made her aware of how much we have done to destroy the habitats for birds and animals. "Wildlife is a precious resource and it is becoming a luxury to see," explains Catherine, "my artistic ability is used to create an awareness of wildlife."

In 1982, 1983 and 1985 McClung's work was selected for the most prestigious of all exhibits—the Leigh Yawkey Woodson Museum's "Birds in Art Exhibition." In 1986 Ohio Ducks Unlimited selected McClung as Artist of the Year and recently the Chicago International Art Show awarded her "Best of Show." In the last year she has exhibited in South Carolina, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and New York.

McClung is currently working on new paintings that will premier at the 1987 Michigan Wildlife Art Festival.

NANCY MASON, Chelsea Community Hospital assistant director of pharmacy and Kathy Cobb, pharmacy technician, are among the pharmacists and technicians who are distributing poison prevention literature and syrup of Ipecac at Chelsea Community Hospital this week.

Poison Prevention Week Observed

Chelsea Community Hospital pharmacists and pharmacy technicians are presenting the public with information on Poison Prevention Week this week outside the main dining room of the hospital during the lunch hour. Tips on poison prevention and free bottles of Ipecac (used on the advice of a physician, Emergency Department or Poison Control Center) will be given away. They are also available to answer any questions on poison prevention.

This year's theme for Poison Prevention Week, which runs from March 15-21, is "Children Act Fast..."

So Do Poisons." Many accidents happen when adults are using a product but are distracted by the telephone or doorbell. Children act fast and adults must make sure that household chemicals and drugs are stored away from children at all times.

Though you may no longer have small children at home, accidents have happened when young children visit an adult's home. Likewise, little ones have been poisoned when visiting a grandparent or friend's home after finding vials left in purses or on bedside tables. The American Association of Poison Control Centers found that 23% of the oral prescription drugs ingested by children under five belong to someone who did not live with the child. Over-all, 17% of the drugs ingested belonged to a grandparent or great-grandparent.

During the years of 1972-1984 there has been a reduction of 70% in deaths associated with all household chemicals and a reduction of 85% for deaths due to aspirin products. One of the major factors was the Poison Prevention Packaging Act and its requirements for child-resistant packaging.

For more information on the prevention of accidental poisoning in children as well as adults, stop by the Poison Prevention booth during the lunch hour this week. Chelsea Community Hospital pharmacists and pharmacy technicians will be happy to answer your questions and provide you with poison prevention literature. Questions about Poison Prevention Week activities can be answered by calling Lorraine Perkins, director of pharmacy, at 475-1131, ext. 479.

'Life in the Pines' Study Offered Sunday

A program called "Life in the Pines" will be offered at Park Lyndon South on Sunday, March 22 at 10 a.m. Coniferous trees, often called evergreens, have a unique ecology all their own. Learn the varieties and what plants and animals depend on these specialized trees. The class is free, but pets are not allowed.

BASKET WEAVER THERESA OHNO will be one of the 50 craftspeople demonstrating their wares at the Dexter Pioneer Craft Fair, Saturday, March 21 at Dexter High school. This will be Ohno's last appearance at the fair since she is moving to the west coast this spring. She has participated in the fair for the last nine years.

Dexter Pioneer Craft Fair Features 50 Demonstrators

Over the past 13 years the popularity of the Dexter Pioneer Craft Fair has grown by leaps and bounds. People attend from all over the state to observe and learn from the many talented people who take part in the fair.

Now it is time for the 14th annual affair with more than 50 demonstrators willing to spend their day demonstrating the particular craft they enjoy.

Sponsored by the Dexter Historical Society the fair will take place Saturday, March 21 at Dexter High school, 2615 Baker Rd. The fair will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission will be adults, $1.50; grades K-12, 50¢.

Twelve new craftspeople will be demonstrating this year. There will be pencil drawing, cloth rabbit dolls, china painting, pottery making, egg tempera painting, and cobalt blue pottery. There will be copper enameling, basketry, tiffany method stained glass, quilting, and toy goats.

This will be the last year Theresa Ohno will be participating in the fair. Ohno will be moving to the west coast this spring. She will leave behind memories of the nine years she has demonstrated at the fair, a host of friends, and a group of avid basket makers with whom she has shared her talents. One of her very beautiful baskets is on display at the Village Insurance Co., in Dexter. Some lucky person will take this basket home.

Annelissa Gray-Lion will be demonstrating her basket making this year. Gray-Lion has been making baskets for the past seven years. She has taught classes at various shops throughout the area and this year will be exhibiting in the Ann Arbor Art Fair.

Jeanne Zychowicz of the Toledo area will be on hand to demonstrate the art of egg tempera painting. Zychowicz has gained recognition as a watercolorist and most recently as a master of the egg tempera method of painting. Her work in both media has been acclaimed locally, nationally, and internationally. A trip to the dictionary showed that tempera is defined as using egg yolk as a medium instead of oil for painting. This will be an exciting place to stop.

When 4-H members complained that toy goats for sale were nothing like the beautiful animals they raised, a period of trial and error produced a pattern for a loveable toy goat. Each goat made by Williams & Weber of the Howell area is "tattooed" with an individual identification number. If you have ever wanted a goat without the work involved in caring for a live one, here's your opportunity to acquire one that will not run away, eat tin cans nor the clothes from the clothes line.

Quilting is always a fun craft to witness. Quilting has moved from the mundane to a very real art form. Quilt shows with monetary prizes are becoming more popular every day. April and Posegay will be at the fair with their traditional style of quilting. A newcomer this year will be Julie Hacala of Ann Arbor. Be sure to stop by and chat with those who are gathered in the "quilting corner."

Ole Carlson will have his beautiful knitted lace; Eva Jensen her bobbin lace along with Mary McPeak. Brigham and Jordan with their stencilling; the Rev. Fothergill with scherenschnitte; and the Hickses with pinecone art are just a few of the other persons who will be sharing their talents with the public.

This year the luncheon will be under the direction of Wana Baldus and the other ladies of the Heritage Guild. A baked goods table will be present as will a table with items from the Dexter Museum gift shop.

Three drawing prizes will go home with some lucky recipients.

Cooper Coming Saturday With Newfoundland Film

On Saturday evening, March 21, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea will present its final program of the year in its Travel and Adventure Film Series at 8 p.m. in Chelsea High School's George Prinzing Auditorium.

Discover the proud heritage and natural splendor of Canada's Maritime Provinces; Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and north to Labrador.

Explore the city of Halifax with its splendid harbor. Experience the start of the "Parade of Sail" from Halifax harbor to Liverpool, England. Follow the Cabot Trail from Nova Scotia's northeast coast through breathtaking coves and coastal glories.

Visit the quaint village of Grand Pré, see its church and the lovely countryside of Longfellow's immortal poem "Evangeline." Enjoy sport fishing for trout and Atlantic salmon plus journey out to sea for cod and haddock. Fishing is the mainstay of the Provincial economy.

In Newfoundland, travel to St. Johns, one of North America's oldest and most historic cities. Stroll up Signal Hill where Marconi received the first wireless message. Visit Water Street pubs whose past patrons include such giants of history as Champlain, Lord Nelson and Captain Bligh.

Wander through delightful fishing villages along the remote and wildly scenic north coast of Newfoundland.

Labrador is inhabited mainly by the Inuit (Eskimo). In this gorgeous, open land, follow the annual migration of the caribou. Labrador is a wonder of natural beauty and wildlife.

Enjoy a part of Canada rich in history, scenery and human interest with a knowledgeable guide, Dennis Cooper.

Dennis Cooper has spent his entire life in the State of Montana. Almost before he could walk, he retreated from the city to the lumber camps of his father, the late Senator George R. Cooper. Dennis loved the woods and mountains and his father almost had to drag him off to college where he studied engineering. It looked for awhile like Dennis would abandon his "woods" career for one in engineering, but he yielded to the call of the "great outdoors" and returned to the mountains of Western Montana, where he and his brother, Don Cooper, ran a logging and sawmill operation for several years.

Always interested in photography, Dennis finally decided to photograph his trees rather than saw them. He traded his chain saw for a camera and his logs for film, and together with his brother Don, entered the fascinating world of Travel and Adventure Film-making. Their films, covering adventures and misadventures from the Arctic to the Tropics, have been received with gratifying enthusiasm by audiences throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Dennis' quiet humor and factual presentation have earned him great popularity wherever he has appeared.

Single ticket sales will be available at the door after season ticket holders have been served.
