WORK IS IN HIGH GEAR at the site of the former F&M Restaurant on Main St. next to Gambles. Gambles owner Sam Johanson bought the place last year. In the upstairs will be several small apartments. On the bottom floor will be several smaller businesses. The building sat empty and run down for several years.

THEY COULD BE FROM PAGES of a fashion magazine, but members of the Terrific Tailors 4-H Club are "one up" on most models. They created their own clothing ensembles with machine, needle, thread and notions, then went on stage to model the stylish garments. Dils Will Not Seek Re-Election

Chelsea School Board president Arthur Dils announced Monday, March 23, that he has decided not to run again.

In a prepared statement, he said, "I have decided not to seek re-election to the board of education for a third term. I'm currently involved in several other civic responsibilities and in my own business. They consume a lot of time."

"Also, my daughter Melanie graduates this year. She is the last of four children to graduate from Chelsea. Kathy (Kime), Gary, and Jeff preceded her." (Dils also has two older children who graduated from schools in Ohio.)

"We, the citizens of Chelsea, have a right to feel proud of our school district. We have a teaching staff second to none; an innovative and exemplary administrative staff, and a board of education that is aware of and responsive to the needs and desires of their truly special community."

"When I make this last statement, I think of housing the senior citizens center, the sheriff's substation, a pediatrician's office at Beach Middle school, the Employee Assistance Program (pays for confidential counseling for staff), the new substance abuse counselor (Chelsea is one of the first in the area to have such a program), Super Saturdays with hundreds of Chelsea children, successfully dealing with declining enrollment, See for Yourself tours, and dialogues with the superintendent and principals.

Mall Still on Hold As Council Fails To Vote On Proposed Re-Zoning

Rene Papo's dream to build a shopping center near I-94 inside the Chelsea Village Limits is still alive, although just barely.

Papo, a partner in the Arcus Corp. of Ann Arbor, had hoped to re-zone approximately 11 acres of a 25-acre parcel of land to build a 125,000-square-foot mall behind Schumm's Restaurant along M-52. The land is currently zoned for transient highway businesses such as gas stations and fast food restaurants.

After last Tuesday's village council meeting, Village President Jerry Satterthwaite thought the petition to re-zone the land from C-3 to C-4 was a dead issue. Trustee Richard Steele had made a motion to approve Papo's petition, but there was no support. Papo was informed that because there was no support, it was as good as voted down.

However, later last week village officials discovered that council does have to either vote for the petition or against it, Satterthwaite said. Otherwise, it will continue to come up as old business on the council's agenda.

The non-vote came after Papo's attorney, Dana Dever, and John Seldon, a representative of Ames Department Store, the major tenant in the proposed mall, each made a presentation to the council.

Dever said that it would be virtually impossible to develop the parcel while it is zoned C-3, saying there wouldn't be a market for a "25-acre motel in Ann Arbor, let alone Chelsea." He also said it is certain that a shopping center would be built somewhere in the area and the village would be better off to have the mall on its tax rolls in case the added competition proves to be a burden on the downtown merchants. He said the added tax money would be available to address their concerns.

Seldon presented basic information about the 325-store, Connecticut-based Ames chain. He did not present specific financial information concerning how the downtown merchants might be affected.

Planning commission secretary Warren McArthur, owner of Chelsea Cleaners, speaking from the audience, said that a 125,000-square-foot mall would be as big as the entire downtown shopping district. That assertion could not be confirmed.

The only trustee to ask a question about the project was Phil Boham, leading one spectator to say, "it looks like they've (the council) got their minds made up."

So, while Papo's petition to re-zone the property to allow commercial development is still up in the air, council is not expected to grant the change.

Council voted against a similar proposal late last year by the Rogar Development Co. of Farmington Hills. That company wanted to build a smaller center on land closer to I-94.

Satterthwaite told Papo, after he had assumed the petition was dead, that he could apply for planned unit development (PUD) zoning for the area, which would give the village more control over the look of the mall.

However, currently Chelsea does not have a PUD-commercial category in its zoning ordinance. Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner estimated it would probably take six months to add such a designation to the books. The village would have to decide how much control it would want to exercise, the General Development Plan would have to be amended, the planning commission would have to hold a public hearing, as would the council.

PUD zoning would allow the village to force developers to create a unified look to the mall, rather than allowing each store owner to create his own individualized storefront. He said the village might also be able to force a joint marketing agreement between the mall and the downtown merchants to promote Chelsea shopping rather than polarizing the mall and the downtown.

In addition, PUD zoning could force developers to provide marketing information and information on traffic flow before they are given approval to build.

"Those are pretty important considerations," Fahrner said.

Papo said late last week that he may seek to have the property designated PUD. However, he also said he is contemplating several other options, including building a smaller mall next to the Chelsea Fairgrounds on Old US-12, building the mall on township land that his partnership owns, and even building a truck stop on the current property, which would not require a change in zoning.

"The question is, what are we going to do with that land," Satterthwaite said.

"That's what council has to look at. I don't have any objections to it as long as the village has some control over it."

Village Votes To Join County Recycling Effort

Village of Chelsea will join a county-wide recycling and composting effort if the county succeeds in obtaining four separate state grants for the project.

Village council passed a resolution to participate after Washtenaw County Director of Public Works Jack Durbin made his pitch to the council last Tuesday, March 17.

Durbin plans to apply for the Clean Michigan Fund grants, totaling approximately $460,000, by the end of the month.

If the grants are approved, and Durbin says he is confident they will be, Chelsea will manage both a recycling center and a composting field initially on lots in the industrial park on Sibley Rd.

The grant will provide a five-compartment bin for the recycling, separating three kinds of glass, metal and paper. Also provided will be high-powered chipping equipment to mulch branches, leaves and other materials for the composting. The chipping equipment would be sent to each participating community on an as-needed basis.

Initially, Chelsea residents would be expected to take their recyclable materials to the center themselves, Durbin said. If there is enough participation in the project, eventually there would be periodic curbside pick-up.

The county would handle the pick-up of the recycling bin.

Durbin said recycling makes good economic sense.

"Chelsea should be able to extend the life of its landfill by 15 percent," Durbin said.

"And probably within the next five to eight years, this county is going to be burning its trash rather than putting it in landfills. Burning will probably cost $45 per ton. If we can recycle a third of the trash, we can save a lot of money."

Durbin acknowledged that the biggest obstacle to the success of the program is getting Chelsea residents to change their habits. Currently village residents put all their trash by the curb for twice-a-week pick-up.

"People in rural areas are conscious of their environment," Durbin said.

"They just need to get into the habit of sorting their materials."

Recycle Ann Arbor, a non-profit organization, takes care of distributing the glass, metal and paper after it is picked up.

The composting operation would provide a place for clippings, branches, leaves, wastewater treatment plant sludge, and any other organic materials to be deposited. The ground-up materials would be put into windrows, pyramids about 20 feet wide, 10 feet high, and 100 feet long, and would be allowed to reach 150-170 degrees. They would be turned twice in four months and have water added.

The program will provide a source of topsoil for anyone who needs it, Durbin said.

The village itself could be one of the biggest users when the village landfill is eventually closed. Topsoil has to be used to top it off.

Like the recycling plan, the composting program will save landfill space and eventual trash-burning costs, Durbin said.

Durbin said he envisions working with local service organizations to (Continued on page six)

Chelsea C. of C. Offers M-CARE to Membership

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce has announced the opportunity for all Chelsea Chamber members to join M-CARE, a health maintenance organization sponsored by the University of Michigan.

M-CARE HMO provides comprehensive medical coverage to eligible members of the Chamber who have at least one full-time employee. Services include hospitalization, emergency care, office visits and prescription coverage. Rates are due quarterly and represent a significant cost savings to small businesses.

Members of the M-CARE HMO can receive health services at several locations, including the Chelsea Family Practice Center. Two new facilities have opened in northeast Ann Arbor and Briarwood Mall.

Open enrollment begins April 1 and concludes April 24. Rate information and eligibility requirements are available by calling Ms. Gretchen Gorman at the M-CARE offices, 747-8700.

PRETTY FLOWERS FOR A LOVELY LADY: Elsie Heller is stepping down from her 4-H leadership role after more than 20 years service in the position. Elsie and Vicky Kern are leaders of Terrific Tailors 4-H Club, with a large and active membership. Local residents had to be wondering yesterday morning as they awoke on the official first day of spring, March 21, to four inches of snow on the ground with more on the way. It was by far the heaviest snowfall of the season, and was predicted to total six inches or more before it ended.

A moratorium effective in the village since 1969 was lifted on sewer hook-ups. It was eased slightly in 1978 to accommodate a few landlocked properties which were without sewer connections. Last week's council action took the lid off entirely. "Anyone can now apply for a sewer hook-up," village administrator Frederick Weber said.

Approximately 20 persons showed up for a public hearing on a $4.3 million proposal to upgrade Chelsea's wastewater treatment plant.

Sarah Noah is the first two-time Beach Middle school spelling bee champion. Her winning word was "placard." In order of placing after her were Kim Clutter, Jason Overdorf, Michelle Wireman, Ro'lyn Hafner, Angie DeFant, Dena Stevens, Loren Rosenberg, Alison Chasteen and Greg Boughton. Cristen Zerkel and Sam Eisenbeiser will be alternates for the league bee.

March 16-17—A howling blizzard dumped approximately 16 inches of snow on the Chelsea area. Road Commission employees, Jaycees and hordes of volunteers labored to provide food and shelter for more than 1,000 stranded travelers. Reports were that a traffic pile-up extended from Chelsea to Parma, a stint of about 40 miles.

This St. Patrick's Day was the day snowmobilers came into their own in Chelsea as they assisted travelers, and residents trapped in their homes. The Fairgrounds Service Center building slept 175 persons, and the high school bedded down 585 on wrestling mats in the gym. Many more were sheltered in churches.

History was made at the Chelsea branch of the Ann Arbor Federal Savings Friday afternoon, when a bank robber got away with $5,000. But, say Chelsea police, the suspect did not get far. As the result of the vigilance of two Chelsea citizens, FBI agents had a suspect in custody the very same evening. Robert Riemensneider gave police the license plate number of the orange Hornet seen at the scene of the crime. Donald E. Nissle, branch manager, provided a description of the robber to the FBI.

Reagan Budget Would Cost State $300 Million

Education and health care would be big losers among the $300 million state and local government would lose under President Reagan's proposed 1987-88 federal budget, Management and Budget Director Robert Naftaly reported recently.

Naftaly sent an 84-page analysis of the impact of the budget on the state to members of Michigan's congressional delegation.

"We support Congressional efforts to strike a reasonable balance between funding key programs and restraining federal deficits," Naftaly said in a memo to the delegation.

He said both the federal budget deficit and the national trade deficit must be reduced to continue economic progress in Michigan.

Among the proposed budget cuts that would be felt most in Michigan, Naftaly said are: $79.1 million in reduced financial assistance for college students, as the number receiving help would be cut by 24,000; $34 million in vocational education as federal support would be phased out; $7.3 million from support for handicapped education.

Another $80 million by terminating Urban Development Action Grants and cutting Community Development Block Grants; $9.8 million by terminating energy conservation "drastically impairing the state's ability to weatherize the homes of needy persons;" $18.9 million in reduced services for wastewater treatment construction; $7.4 million by eliminating the Work Incentive Program for AFDC applicants and recipients; and $21.6 million from child nutrition.

Other losses include $198 million for senior citizen's health care under Medicare and $19.5 million by policy changes under Medicaid.

Among the increases would be $51.9 million under the Job Training Partnership Act to help dislocated workers and young people find jobs and $12.1 million for increased compensatory education.

Engler Proposes Option To Workers' Compensation

Businesses could opt out of the workers' compensation system with an alternative benefit program for injured workers, and a 1985 Supreme Court ruling which legislative leaders said misinterpreted legislative intent would be partially reversed under a proposal announced by Senate Majority Leader John Engler (R-Mt. Pleasant).

He said broadening legislation (SB 67), which reflected business proposals to revise the disability definition and make other changes, to include his proposals, would result in "an irresistible package."

The Senate Human Resources and Senior Citizens Committee immediately adopted the changes with little discussion, but delayed final action on the bill.

Engler said it is important, however, for the Senate to act on the bill before it breaks for Easter in mid-April.

The action came as the Legislature and the Blanchard Administration work toward a May 15 deadline when the current definition of disability in the current law expires, as well as perhaps other significant sections of the act.

The House is deferring deliberations temporarily while a business/labor group headed by the Departments of Commerce and Labor tries to develop a consensus proposal.

Engler said his proposal to let businesses opt out of the workers' compensation system was developed by the Blanchard administration when it tried to recruit GM's Saturn project. It would break new ground and permit a new era of labor/management co-operation.

The current system was set up in 1912, while the state needs to look at better ways to compete in the 1980's, he said. While the optional system would have to contain the elements of the current workers' compensation system, it could contain different eligibility requirements and benefit levels.

"I don't know what alternatives might be devised," Engler said, adding that should be left to the ingenuity of private business. He said a primary benefit would be to speed up resolution of disputes, although changes last year permit arbitration of disputes to avoid the system's backlog.

The other changes in the Engler package include a prohibition on coordinating business-paid benefits as long as all benefits did not exceed 100 percent of take home pay prior to an injury and prohibit recouping prior overpayments to those injured between April 1982 and October 1985.

That is a partial reversal of the 1985 Supreme Court case that brought about 6,000 injured workers under new provisions to co-ordinate disability payments with other employer-paid benefit programs such as unemployment compensation and pension systems, although those workers were not covered by increased benefits approved in the same law.

House leaders have pushed for full reversal of the impact of the ruling, although Engler is alone among leaders in concluding the court ruled correctly.

The other element is a $20 million state appropriation for inflationary benefit increases to persons injured between Jan. 1, 1980 and Dec. 31, 1981.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Something there is that makes us understand we're just passing through. Whatever it is, it makes us more concerned about one cat caught in one tree than whether the kids in the low rent district across town got lunch money for school. Maybe since we know we can't handle the big problems we make a big deal out of the little ones we can do something about.

I got to thinking along these lines Saturday night after Zeke Grubb brought up garter snakes during the session at the country store. Zeke had saw where the San Francisco airport wants to expand on 116 acres of swamp that has the country's biggest collection of an endangered kind of garter snake. This is swamp and these are snakes, Zeke said, but nature lovers and other save the worlders are out to stop the project. Zeke said he had thought this situation up one side and down the other and he was of a mind that the save the worlders are right.

The world will get along just fine without a bigger airport or a bigger shopping mall or another golf course, Zeke said, but it can't do without its creatures great and small. For all our chasing after everything we can dream, he went on, we usual understand this in spite of ourselves. Zeke recalled a few years ago when people in high places decided saving the endangered snail darter fish in Tennessee ought to come before building still another dam. What man is permanent, Zeke allowed, but what he does is temporary.

The fellers mulled over Zeke's sermon until Bug Hookum took off his hat, gave the back of his head a scratch and said he reckoned that accounts for all he's been reading lately about the Japanese economy. As big as our deficit is, Bug said, and as much out of kilter as our trade balance is, we're looking for ways to help the folks that gave us Pearl Harbor and so many of our problems since. We are being told that exports is hurting Japan more than imports are hurting us, so natural, we're supposed to start thinking Uncle Sam to the rescue. Maybe it gits back to the snail darter and the garter snake. Bug went on, our problem is to big, so we'll work on smaller ones in hope we git some benefit. We feel so strong that we are tied to the rest of the world that we figger we got to help the world to help ourselves, was Bug's words.

It may be, Clem Webster said, that Governments really ain't fit fer nothing but to wage war and inflate currency, but he was agreed with Bug that in much of their dealings our Governments come closer than most to reflecting the character and will of the people they serve.

Clem said he was thinking particular of the Olympics coming up in Korea. If history means anything, it means America will try hard to play the games by the rules. We keep telling ourselves the Olympics is fer amateurs, that it's athlete agin athlete, not country agin country, that the competition is personal, not national. We keep Government out of the games and finance our part private. We know Russia and all the iron curtain countries are doing the opposite. Fer them it's a Government program with full-time paid athletes turning the games into a showplace of international politics.

Our Olympics rules boil down to a twin of our Government policies, Clem said, we keep giving everybody ever break in the book, we keep gitting busted in the nose fer our pains, and we wouldn't have it any other way.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

If the United States and Canada were to suffer a strategic nuclear attack by a well-organized foreign power, some of the early targets would be the Soo Locks, the Welland Canal and the seven St. Lawrence locks of the Seaway. All this would be part of an even larger destruction of highway bridges and interstate cloverleafs, train tracks, railroad bridges, switching yards and terminals.

Some analysts feel that of all transportation networks targeted in a missile attack the Seaway would be among the first to be restored to action.

Strategists reason that it simply isn't possible to bomb the five Great Lakes out of existence nor obliterate a waterway as great as the St. Lawrence. This, of course, would be equally true of the Mississippi, the Colorado and other major rivers in the U. S. and Canada.

Jacques Cartier arrived westward on St. Lawrence in 1535 and his ships were stopped by the Lachine Rapids near the site of what is now Montreal. Cartier and other voyagers descended the rapids with the help of Indians who guided canoes that looked frail but were amazingly strong. Shooting white water rapids, however, was definitely no way to transport cargoes. By 1780 canals with seven locks had been established to get around the rapids.

Farther to the west were the most awesome challenges of all—the falls and rapids of the Niagara River. These, too, were avoided by means of locks built into a 28-mile waterway near Welland, Ontario. The combined locks linked Lakes Ontario, Erie, Huron and Michigan into a continuous chain. Other locks had to be deepened in the St. Mary's River at the Soo to bring Lake Superior into the Seaway system.

The need for a Great Lakes St. Lawrence waterway had been formally discussed between the United States and Canada since 1905. As noted before, a system of shallow canals and cramped locks had been in place since the 19th century but the hope was for a deep water channel connected by locks that could accommodate ocean-size vessels. The neighbor nations finally agreed on a plan that would provide for a channel 27 feet deep from one end of the Seaway to the other. Seven large locks would replace 22 smaller ones and the Lachine Rapids would be submerged in a man-made lake.

The concept also involved immense hydroelectric power projects to be operated by the state of New York and the province of Ontario.

After years of delay in Congress, work finally began in 1955 and culminated in 1959 with grand opening ceremonies presided over by Queen Elizabeth and President Eisenhower. The final cost of the project was $1.1 billion. Canada invested 71 percent of the Seaway cost and collects the same percentage of ship tolls.

One of the moving spirits in getting the Seaway bill through Congress was representative George Dondero of Michigan (Oakland county) who was often called "Father of the Seaway." Now we have another notable Michigan legislator, Congressman Carl Pursell, who has long been a champion of Seaway development. Earlier this month he was named co-chairman of the Conference of Great Lakes Congressmen.

The original idea of converting Great Lakes harbors into ocean ports was to bring added prosperity from world trade. The prospect looked rosy for awhile but in recent years competition and changes in world trade have resulted in setbacks. The Seaway is carrying only half the tonnage it can accommodate.

Bad luck has also been a villain, striking two years in a row. In 1984 a lift bridge at Valleyfield, Quebec jammed. It caused an 18-day shutdown, and cost shippers $40 million in lost business. Then in October, 1985 a concrete pipe in the wall of Welland Lock 7 ruptured, shoving a 150 foot slab of the lock wall against the hull of a Liberian freighter. With 35 ships trapped in the canal, and others thrown badly off schedule, the 2,342 mile system was disrupted for weeks. The stoppage cost each idled freighter from $5,000 to $20,000 a day.

Fear of further losses has caused some shippers to seek alternative routes. A great deal of American grain destined for foreign markets is shipped on barges down the Mississippi to Gulf ports. With loss of confidence in the Seaway, other types of cargoes might follow.

Some major shippers blame the Seaway troubles on poor maintenance and lax management. The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of Canada is responsible for administrative control of 18 of the 20 locks in the system, and until 1984 had established a 25-year record of trouble-free operation.

It has been suggested that maintenance of the Seaway should be turned over to the Americans, and operation be shared by the two countries. This doesn't make sense. If there is anything better than having a transportation enterprise run by a government it is having it run by two.

The Seaway plan is still viable but if we want good performance and more customers, the nations should turn the Seaway over to free enterprise. First, sell the stock to U. S. and Canadian investors. Then turn operations over to managers and crews who are rewarded with bonuses that have been earned.

When the modernized Seaway was opened 28 years ago it was lauded as one of the wonders of the world. Somehow, it never made such an impression in this local area and I think there is a reason. Here in western Washtenaw county we are only one hour by highway from Port Detroit with direct sea connections to such destinations as Hong Kong, Buenos Aires, Madagascar, London, Leningrad and Sydney. Unfortunately, industries in this part of Michigan never have full shiploads for foreign customers. The few freight vessels that do carry multiple shipments of general cargo have freight rates 250 percent of those charged for bulk cargoes. Private enterprise in the motor freight world finds that LTL (less than truckload) shipments are a gold mine. Smart marketers on the Seaway would no doubt do the same.

A FOOTNOTE. From time to time science writers turn their thoughts to the possible melting of the Greenland and Antarctic ice caps caused by a warming of the earth's atmosphere. The scenario calls for an increase of several degrees in the world's average air temperature resulting in a permanent rise of, say, 50 feet in ocean levels. As a result all but the upper floors of skyscrapers would be underwater in Boston, New York, Baltimore, Miami, Houston, L.A., San Francisco and Seattle. Plus all coastal trade cities abroad.

Inland cities above the new sea level would be high and dry but the only North American seaports equipped to do business would be the cities of the Seaway.

The possibility of ice caps melting from natural causes seems remote. Dangers from man-made causes appear more realistic. One global peril is the "greenhouse effect"—a heating of the atmosphere caused by the burning of fossil fuels. Melting of the ice caps could begin in the 21st century.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA received a Division I (superior) rating at the Orchestra Festival last Saturday, March 23 at Ida High school. All four judges graded the orchestra superior and one of them commented, "your orchestra, fine conductor and school system should be proud of your achievement." The orchestra performed Haydn Symphony No. 88, Rachmaninof's Vocalise and a selection from "Firebird Suite," by Stravinsky. "We worked hard for this and I was never so proud of being part of any performance as I was Saturday," said Director Jed Fritzeimer.

CONCERT CHOIR of Chelsea High school received a I (superior) rating at the District Festival in Monroe on Thursday, March 19. It was the first time in at least 10 years that the choir received a I rating. "The rating is particularly satisfying to me because this group is a self-selected group and has been working hard to achieve a high standard of performance," said Choir Director June Warren. The choir performed "Tenebrae Factae Sunt" by Victoria, and "The Fiddler" by Brahms. They were also required to sight read several

Red Cross Earthquake Victims Aided

Ecuadorian Red Cross workers are providing first aid and manpower assistance to evacuees from the March 5-6 earthquakes in six camps. Current estimates are that the earthquakes in Ecuador have affected 101,000 individuals, left 200-300 dead, 2,000 to 4,000 missing.

The league of Red Cross and Red Crescent societies has launched an appeal for $590,000 in funds to purchase locally badly needed supplies, including tents, blankets, kerosene stoves and lamps, kitchen utensils, overalls for volunteers, first aid kits, rescue equipment, shovels, picks, wheelbarrows, hammers, saws and other reconstruction equipment. The Red Cross is emphasizing cash contributions as the most effective to ensure that exact needs are met and to help stabilize and support the local economies that have been hurt by the earthquake. The American Red Cross has sent an immediate cash grant to the league for its disaster relief efforts in Ecuador.

Individuals wishing to help the victims of the earthquake in Ecuador may do so most directly by sending their check earmarked "Ecuador Earthquake" to the American Red Cross, Washtenaw County Chapter, 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor 48108.

Grass Lake—Dr. W. L. Foust, family physician for most of Grass Lake, has accepted a position as industrial physician for the E. I. DuPont Nemours Co. in Augusta, Ga. Dr. Foust has tried unsuccessfully for several months to secure someone to take over his Grass Lake practice.

Among the increasing signs of spring in this vicinity was Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whitney's observance of trumpeter swans at Pierce Lake south of town. Mrs. Whitney says she has read that they are becoming very rare and are protected under state and national laws.

More than 80 percent of all travel in 1960 was by car while in 1983 that figure slipped to 74 percent. Total miles traveled, however, zoomed from 719 billion to over 1.7 trillion miles, according to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

AN ELEPHANT ACT was put on by Den 3 at Pack 455's "Greatest Show in Scouting," last Thursday night at South school for an audience of parents and friends.

'Greatest Show in Scouting' Performed by Cub Pack 455

"The Greatest Show in Scouting," a performance by Cub Scout Pack 455, was held Thursday night, March 19 at South Elementary school.

It was a spectacular show of thrills and spills for an audience of parents and friends.

Den 1 put on a clown baseball game in which a "good catch" was a dead fish and the pitcher's mound was a candy bar. The skit ended when a participating audience member was bombarded with confetti popcorn.

Weblo's Den 2 put on a tumbling act, complete with a human pyramid.

Den 3's skit consisted of elephants, bears and one brave trainer. The trained animals went through a ring of fire as the trainer showed his skill. He later had them gracefully dancing.

Den 4 set up a side show before the main event, featuring a bearded lady, Siamese twins, cyclops and a weight lifter. The boys were also quick-change artists and in the center ring performed awe-inspiring tight-rope tricks as the Zucchini Brothers.

Den 5's "Cross-Eyed Pete," the sharpest sharpshooter this side of Main St., had the audience in stitches as he missed his target five times out of six and hit audience members instead.

Den 6 played the Keystone Kops. In their usual planned confusion they ran over pedestrians and chased the clowns from the big top.

Den 7 performed a lion act in which the ferocious beasts attacked their trainer and "ate the whole thing."

Den 8 presented "Louise and her Dancing Dogs." Louise demonstrated their skills by having them jump through hoops, play dead, and dance.

Admission to the circus was a non-perishable food item. The gate collected more than 140 cans and boxes of food, ranging from Jiffy Mix to canned hams, which were presented to Faith-In-Action.

Dils Decides Not To Run

"The board, staff, and teachers are approachable. We listen when the public comes to us and we respond."

"It has been personally rewarding for me to meet and work with competent and dedicated people. The school district is in good hands."

Asked if he would endorse a replacement, Dils said he was going to "wait and see what happens."

Looking back on the eight years he has served, Dils said he believed one of the most important accomplishments of the board was strengthening their credibility with the community. He said, "We were able to give information to voters, to tell them the choices in clear terms, and then have them make intelligent decisions."

This credibility has been an important factor in securing millage increases. The board, in Dils' opinion, has not cried wolf but only asked for money when it was necessary. He said having the school assessable to the community with such programs as community ed, the senior center, See for Yourself, and Super Saturday, gives people a vested interest in the schools.

Dils feels this credibility was built by a succession of board presidents providing leadership such as Bob Daniels, Martin Tobin, Jim Stirling, Ann Feeney, and Dale Schumann.

Commenting on Dils' departure, superintendent Ray Van Meer said, "Art has done an outstanding job as president. He has, by the nature of his enthusiasm and dedication, contributed a lot. We're sorry to see him go but understand his reasons."

Van Meer continued, "Art is one of a long line of good presidents and good board members. No one more than the superintendent appreciates this. We've been blessed with good people, people who wish to do a good job for the students and staff."

Asked if he was worried about who might replace Dils, Van Meer replied in the negative, saying, "The community has elected good board members every year since I became superintendent."

Assistant superintendent of school Fred Mills reports that no petitions for school board have yet been submitted. However, candidates have until April 6 to file.

Introducing an HMO that gives you access to some of the most impressive medical technologies known to man.

Behold the frontiers of diagnostic understanding, the latest weapons against disease and trauma, the medical technologies available to you through M-CARE, the new HMO from The University of Michigan.

To get a closer look at these medical marvels, look inside the medical bag of an M-CARE primary care physician. It contains: a stethoscope, pen light, reflex hammer, blood-pressure cuff, a device for looking in ears called an otoscope, another for looking into eyes called an ophthalmoscope, a handful of tongue depressors, latex gloves, a couple of handbooks on prescription drugs, and a tape measure.

Okay, so maybe this equipment isn't so sophisticated. Maybe you've seen it all before. The truth be known, the contents of the typical medical bag haven't changed much over the last two generations. The stethoscope, for example, is more than 150 years old. But these things perform impressive feats indeed in the hands of a highly-trained and experienced physician, the kind of primary care physicians in internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, pediatrics, and family practice that come with M-CARE.

Of course, you won't find the most important tool an M-CARE physician possesses in a medical bag. That's an ability to listen to you. Through simple conversation and a well-directed physical examination, a good doctor can get a very good picture of your health, confirm the need for specific tests, refer your care and treatment to a specialist, or give you the simple assurance that everything's going to be okay.

Even with the world-renowned U of M Medical Center at our disposal, a personal relationship with a highly knowledgeable, compassionate and caring primary care physician is, perhaps, still the most impressive medical technology M-CARE can offer.

Ask your employer to include M-CARE among your health care options.

For more information, please call (313) 747-8700.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

This goes out to the person who obviously has a handicap of blindness. My mother, who is not visibly handicapped but is internally handicapped, drives my car (she does not own one) and has a handicap certificate which is displayed in the lower left corner of the dash. While she was parked at Polly's (in a handicap spot) someone left a business card with this note on the back: "where do the handicap park you dummy."

I feel that this was a very cruel thing to do! Not every handicap person has a handicap license plate to view from behind. If this person would have opened their eyes they would have seen the certificate through the windshield. If someone does park in the handicap and they don't belong there, then just let them take the consequences but, if someone does belong there and they get a note like this one, I hope the "note writer" takes the consequences upon their conscience for the rest of their life.

Linda Satterthwaite.

Dear Editor:

At the Methodist Retirement Home some time around the first of March the resident doves arrived on the third floor ledge of the East building to again take over the resident nest.

Not a very good housekeeper, she just settled in without any apparent refurbishing. One would think she might add a few sticks from year to year, but no, she leaves the housekeeping to the snow and the rain and the vacuuming she leaves to the wind.

She is very much in plain sight at present since the leaves on the vine that straggles along the ledge have not come out yet. Her mate hovers around briefly each day and there are three eggs.

Checking as I write this, she faces the East this morning and I watch to see if she moves her head to be sure she is alive. We are checking daily and expect fledglings soon. Some one living in a room above the ledge complains as usual about the constant chirping. All is well.

Dear Mr. Editor,

I am in the Triad Enrichment Program at South school. I am in third grade.

My special project this year is Cat Population Control. My major question is, "How can the cat population be controlled so that so many unwanted cats do not have to be killed." While doing my research I have found that no Michigan Agency is responsible for cat population control. And there is a problem with cat overpopulation in Washtenaw county. Four to five cases of cat related rabies are reported each year.

Along with the Humane Society, I recommend that cats be licensed like dogs. This would help because cats would receive their shots and there wouldn't be as many strays. Also if cats were licensed they could be returned to their owners. Only 83 cats were returned to their owners last year by the Washtenaw Humane Society, while 2,712 were destroyed. And many more ignored as strays.

One cat in four short years could produce 20,736 offspring. If more people were aware of this they would have their cats neutered. And if cats were licensed there would be tighter control and more owner responsibility.

On May 14 at South school there will be a Celebration Program for all Triad Special Projects. At my booth I will have a petition for anyone interested in helping establish a feline licensing program. Everybody is invited to stop by between the hours of 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. to sign my petition and see the filmstrip I made about this problem.

My goal is to make everybody more aware of the ever increasing overpopulation of cats and to do something about it now.

Noelle Niedermeier.

Dear Editor,

I would like to respond to a letter from Mr. Gordon F. Begley that was published in the March 11th edition of The Chelsea Standard. As I am 18 years old and also a member of this year's graduating class, I am greatly offended by Mr. Begley's statements concerning the morals of my generation. In addition to being offended, I wish to set the record straight for Mr. Begley.

In his letter to the Editor, Mr. Begley stated, "Most kids today, all they think about is getting rich, buying a Ferrari, taking drugs, or whatever." Before making such a statement, Mr. Begley should have done some research about the concerns of today's kids, particularly those in Chelsea. If he had, he would have discovered that concerning drugs, only a small percentage use or have ever sampled drugs.

In addition, if Mr. Begley had really wanted to know the concerns of my generation, he would have seen that education is certainly one of them. This year alone, the Charles S. Cameron branch of the National Honor Society had 74 members, the largest number of members in almost a decade. This increase in membership is not because of lowered standards. The National Honor Society still demands that each member demonstrate (and continue to demonstrate) scholarship, service, character, and leadership. Rather, the increase in membership is due to the fact that there are more excellent students than ever before. When I say student, I do not mean a student who merely maintains a high grade point average. In my and in the NHS definition, a true student is one who possesses the qualities required by the NHS.

As for the hopes and aspirations of my generation, it is true that most teenagers fantasize about owning a dream car (not necessarily a Ferrari). But having such a fantasy does not mean that all we are concerned with is money. Returning to the National Honor Society, if money were our only concern, there would be no tutoring program at Chelsea High school. NHS tutors receive no money for our efforts. Our only reward is the knowledge that we may have helped a struggling student to understand an algebra problem or finally be able to correct a dangling participle or split infinitive.

Granted, there are a lot of tragedies occurring with the youth of today. Drugs and sex are more prevalent than ever before. But aside from the fact, the good that comes from my generation should be acknowledged. Perhaps in the future Mr. Begley will research his concerns so that he can formulate an INFORMED opinion.

Man Struck by Car Driven By Chelsea-Area Teenager

A car driven by an 18-year-old Chelsea-area boy struck a Federal Screw Works employee as he was crossing S. Main St. in front of the plant last Wednesday afternoon.

According to police, Leon Brown, 26, of Manchester, was crossing the street when the car, containing the boy and a young female passenger, turned left off Van Buren St. and struck Brown.

According to witnesses, Brown jumped when he saw he was going to be struck, and he landed on the hood of the car. Brown reportedly refused help and walked away from the accident.

However, the next morning Brown began to feel bad and checked into Chelsea Community Hospital, police said.

Brown was released from Chelsea hospital on Monday, according to hospital officials.

Police would not identify the driver, as charges may be filed in the incident.

The National Education Association, founded in 1857, identifies itself as the largest professional organization in the nation. Its membership stands at about 1.8 million.

Four Facts That Every Taxpayer Should Know About IRAs.

IRAs remain an excellent investment, even with the new tax law. For example, consider these important facts as April 15 approaches:

1 1986 IRAs Are Still Fully Deductible.
Until April 15, 1987, any working person, under age 70½, can contribute to an IRA... and deduct the full amount from their income for tax purposes. The maximum allowed is $2,000 for working individuals, and $250 for a non-working spouse.

2 Most Individuals Will Be Eligible for Full or Partial 1987 IRA Deductions.
If you are NOT covered by a retirement plan at work your IRA will still be fully deductible in the 1987 tax year. And even if you ARE covered by such a plan, you may still be able to deduct all or part of your IRA — depending on your earnings.

So, as you can see, you have every reason for making Citizens Trust your IRA headquarters... now and in the future. Why not stop in today?

Any withdrawals made prior to age 59½ — except in the case of death or disability — are subject to tax penalties by the IRS. Time deposits may carry interest penalties in the case of early withdrawal.

3 Everyone Will Continue to Benefit From Tax-Deferred Earnings.
Regardless of whether you can deduct the total amount of your IRA or not, you'll still be able to defer the interest you earn until your withdrawal. And that can represent a significant tax savings.

4 Citizens Trust Offers High Interest Rates and a Special IRA Bonus.
At Citizens Trust, you'll find that our interest rates are extremely competitive. Plus, we'll add $25 to your account when you deposit $2,000 or more (by transfer or rollover) to an IRA with a maturity of 36 months or longer by April 15, 1987.

STRESS MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP: Chelsea Community Hospital will offer a one-day workshop that takes a comprehensive look at stress and what you can do about it. Participants will learn to develop practical skills in relaxation, time-management, communication and positive thought processes. The one-day workshop came out of feedback from participants in the short stress management workshop for a more indepth training and informational program. The workshop will be taught by three highly qualified registered nurses, left to right above, Diane Wide, R.N., Maggie Szymke, R.N., and Barb Colmery, R.N. The workshop will take place on Saturday, April 4. It will be held at Chelsea Community Hospital. Registration is at 8:30 a.m. Workshop 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. There is a fee and registration is required. Interested individuals may call (313) 475-1311, ext. 401 for more information or to register.

Free Methodist Youth Sponsoring Free Car Wash

Chelsea Free Methodist Youth are sponsoring a free car wash. That's right, a free car wash.

On Saturday, March 28 the senior high group of the Chelsea Free Methodist church will be giving a free car wash to the community from 12 noon til 2 p.m. The location will be Richardson's Automotive NAPA store, 405 North Main St. The church will be sponsoring the entire group for a certain amount for every car they can wash within the two-hour period. The money will be used to underwrite their spring break trip for 12 to 14 teens this year.

This year's trip is a T.U.D. (totally unknown destination). The teens will be taking three separate puppet shows, crafts and recreational activities to three different Free Methodist churches out of state. They will be ministering to elementary age school children and performing five different services during their eight-day trip.

Faith-in Action Offers Help With Fuel Assistance Forms

Chelsea's Faith-in-Action will help elderly residents on a fixed income fill out applications for the Targeted Fuel Assistance Program through Monday, April 27.

The fuel program gives Washtenaw county residents assistance in paying one month's heating (gas, oil, or electricity) bills.

Those interested in participating need to bring the following:

1. Proof of income: W-2 form, letter from Social Security or DSS stating income.

2. Total heating costs for 1986.

3. One monthly bill. This needs to be a full bill, including the part that is usually sent in with each payment. Faith-in-Action will make a copy.

Those who believe they qualify may go to the Faith-in-Action office on Monday between 9 a.m. and noon or call the office at 475-3305 to set up an appointment.

I asked Jesus, "Lord, how much do you love me?"

Jesus replied: "This much." Then He spread His arms on the cross, and died for me.

Crowns: A way to save broken down teeth

Q: My dentist recently suggested that some of my teeth would need to have crowns done on them in the near future. Crowns are very expensive—why won't a silver filling do the job?

A: Crowns (or "caps" as some people call them) are the treatment of choice to restore and protect teeth which have become so broken down that a silver amalgam or composite filling would be impossible or ill-advised. Amalgam (silver) fillings depend on mechanical retention within the tooth to hold them in place. The dentist provides small undercut areas for retention of the filling when he or she drills out the cavity. Sometimes when there is not as much tooth structure as he would like your dentist may use special pins which are like tiny little screws to help hold a filling in place.

A crown, on the other hand, does not usually depend on retention within the tooth but rather strengthens the tooth by encompassing it and helping to hold it together. Part of the cost of a crown lies in the materials and labor needed to make it. Some crowns are made of gold or another precious metal, some crowns are made of porcelain-like materials, and other crowns are made of a combination of porcelain and metal. Crowns also take much more of your dentist's time to prepare and fit than other dental restorations, usually two appointments. At the first appointment your dentist will shape the tooth so that there will be room for the crown to fit over it. He will then make an impression or mold of the prepared tooth from which a model is made. This model is an exact duplicate and is used to make a crown which will fit precisely on your natural tooth. It may take a few weeks for the permanent crown to be made in the laboratory so in the mean-time your dentist will fit you with a temporary crown to wear until the permanent one is ready. At a separate appointment your dentist will remove the temporary crown and replace it with a permanent one.

Other indications for crowns include teeth which have had root canals (to prevent fracture), malformed or poorly positioned teeth (for better esthetics and function), or for teeth which are being used to anchor a fixed bridge or a removable partial denture.

Although crowns are more expensive than other types of dental restorations you are getting true value for your money when you consider that they are designed to withstand years and years of tough daily use. When was the last time you bought an automobile that had a reasonable chance of lasting 20 years or more?

Dexter Township Working on Problems Around Portage Lake

The main action at the March 24 Dexter township board meeting was to transfer money in the general reserve into a revolving fund. This was done at the recommendation of the Michigan Township Association. The money will eventually be used to pay for the Portage Lake sewage feasibility study.

Residents from Hidden Lake spoke at the meeting to ask the township to consider improving their approach to the Dexter-Pinckney Rd. which is very steep. Trustees are considering improving the road using the limestone method.

Another problem discussed at the meeting is the crowded condition of McGregor Rd. during the fishing season due to overflow parking from three boat launches, a DNR one and two private ones. The clogged road results in a traffic hazard for passing motorists. In the past, sheriff's deputies have told motorists to move, but they usually return as soon as the law officers drive away. As a solution, "No Standing" signs are going to be posted so that offenders may be ticketed.

Dexter township officials are continuing work on determining what engineering firm to award the Portage Lake feasibility study contract. They are now in the process of visiting sewage systems in the area that have been installed by bidding companies.

Monday, March 16, they spent from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. visiting McNamee, Porter, and Seeley systems including ones at Whitmore Lake, Burroughs Farms, and

Hartland. On Friday, March 20, they visited Progressive Engineering's sites including Tyrone Lake and Runyon Lake. Trustees Doug Smith, Earl Doletzky, and township supervisor

James Drolett went on the Monday trip. On Friday, they were joined by township treasurer Julie Knight. Several members of the wastewater task force also accompanied them.

Hospital Offers Health-O-Rama

Project Health-O-Rama will be offered at Chelsea Community Hospital again this year. It will be held Saturday, April 11, at the hospital, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A variety of free health screenings will be available to adults age 18 and over.

A number of health professionals from the hospital service area will be assisting in the free screenings.

Screenings will include: height/weight, vision, blood pressure, hearing, and pulmonary function testing. In addition, glaucoma screening will be offered by Dr. Cheryl Huey; oral/dental screening will be offered by Drs. Stormmen, Swan, Currie, Adiska, Biedron, Elliott and Fox; skin cancer testing will be offered by Dr.

Charles Ellis, and health screening counseling and summary will be offered by U. of M. Family Practice Center physicians and Drs. Yarows and Gleespen.

There will also be colo/rectal screening kits available for $3; women's health education and blood work to screen for protein, cholesterol, calcium, diabetes, gout, kidney disease, liver disease and anemia available for $8.

These health services are valued at over $140.

Project Health-O-Rama is a community service which encourages participants to recognize the need to assume responsibility for their own health by: 1) Enlisting supposedly well adults to assess their health status; 2) Referring people with abnormal test results to their health education information which identifies possible health risks and stresses positive health practices.

Health screening is not meant to replace a physical examination by a health care provider. It is, however, good medicine to use a screening test so that if a condition is developing, there may be a chance to detect and treat it early.

No advance registration is required. Take advantage of this special event and avoid the waiting lines anticipated at Chelsea Community Hospital's Health-O-Rama on April 11. For more information call 475-1311, ext. 401.

Chelsea Village Ordinance No. 102

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CHELSEA VILLAGE SEWER DRAINS DISPOSAL ORDINANCE AND PROVIDE FOR THE COLLECTION OF A CONNECTION FEE AND A TAP-IN FEE.

The Village of Chelsea Ordains:

Chelsea Village Ordinance No. 81, Effective June 6, 1977, is hereby amended as follows:

Section 1. Article I, DEFINITIONS, of said ordinance is amended by the addition thereto of the following provisions:

'Connection fee' shall be the fee that is charged to pay for the accelerated use and depreciation of the public sewers caused by the increased flow generated by new building sewer connections. These fees may include future anticipated costs and shall be established to pay for accelerated use and depreciation. The fees shall be deposited into a fund as determined by the Council and may be used from time to time to defray the project costs of construction or maintenance of the public sewers. The connection fee shall be determined by a Council resolution from time to time. The fee shall be just and reasonable and based on an engineering study.

'Tap-in Fee' shall be the fee that is charged to pay the administrative and field inspection costs incurred in the actual building sewer connection to a public sewer. The fee will be charged for each building sewer connection to a public sewer. The fee shall be determined by Council resolution from time to time.

Section 2. Article IV of said ordinance is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following provisions are substituted in its place and stead:

"ARTICLE IV — BUILDING SEWERS AND CONNECTIONS"

Section 401. No person shall uncover, make any connections with or opening into, use, alter or disturb any public sewer or appurtenance thereof or increase the number of dwelling units, or change the character or use of the occupancy of any building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose without first obtaining a written permit from the Administrator, except duly authorized employees or agents of the Village.

Section 402. Applications for building sewer permits shall be made on a form furnished by the Administrator. The application shall be supplemented by such plans, specifications, or other information as required by resolution of the Council. The fee shall be collected as follows:

a. A tap-in fee shall be paid to the Village together with the application.

b. The owner of any house, building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose who shall obtain a permit to connect any building sewer to a public sewer, or to increase the number of building units or change the character or use of the occupancy of said house, building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose shall, before obtaining a Zoning Compliance Permit pursuant to Section 6.5 of Ordinance No. 79 (Zoning Ordinance), pay to the Village a connection fee as shall be determined from time to time by the Council.

c. All fees collected, pursuant to this ordinance, shall be deposited into funds as shall be determined by resolution of the Council from time to time and may be used from time to time to defray the project costs of construction, administration, and maintenance of public sanitary sewers.

Section 403. All costs and expense incident to the installation and connection of the building sewer shall be borne by the owner. The owner shall indemnify the Village from any loss or damage that may directly or indirectly be occasioned by the installation of the building sewer.

Section 404. A separate and independent building sewer shall be provided for every building; except where one building stands at the rear of another on an interior lot and no private sewer is available or can be constructed to the rear building through an adjoining alley, court, yard or driveway, the building sewer from the front building may be extended to the rear building and the whole considered as one building sewer; and with the further exception that two adjacent buildings may use a common building sewer within the limits of the public right-of-way. In the latter case, a separate permit shall be required for each building.

Section 405. Old building sewers may be used in connection with new buildings only when they are found by the Administrator to meet all requirements of this Ordinance.

Section 406. All materials used shall be new and of first quality. The building sewer shall be constructed of one of the following alternative materials: a) vitrified pipe, ASTM C700, with precast plastic or rubber gasket joints complying with ASTM C425; b) ABS plastic truss (composite) or solid wall pipe, ASTM D2685, with minimum wall thickness of 0.29 inches for solid wall pipe and with joints of the chemically welded type using a solid ABS coupling on the exterior of the joint; c) PVC plastic pipes, ASTM D3033 or ASTM D3034 (SDR-35) with elastomeric gasket joints of the integral bell type; d) asbestos-cement pipe, C428, with couplings of the sleeve type with pure rubber gaskets; or e) cast-iron soil pipe, ASTM A74, with joints complying with applicable plumbing code requirements.

Section 407. Any sewer contractor, before laying pipe or making the connection to any wye, tee, riser or crossover, shall uncover said appurtenances to ascertain the condition. No sewer pipe shall be laid before the representative of the Administrator is on the site. The sewer contractor shall determine the slope of the building sewer from the elevations of the existing public sewer connection and the connection at the building, with the minimum slope being in accordance with Section 408. Should there not be enough fall available to provide the minimum slope, the Administrator shall be advised immediately. Sewer pipe laying shall start at the connection to the public sewer. The sewer contractor shall install a tee at the point of connection to the public sewer and shall provide adequate facilities to plug this tee and water test the completed building sewer with an equivalent of ten (10) feet of water head, in the presence of the Administrator, or his authorized agent. Upon satisfactory completion of this test and approval by the Administrator, or his authorized agent, the sewer contractor shall connect the sewer to the building drain. The sewer contractor shall install a joint adaptor, if necessary, to connect the building drain to the building sewer. Upon completion of the connection, the sewer contractor shall install the necessary riser pipe above the tee at the public sewer connection to an elevation two inches above proposed finished grade and shall install a plug, complying with the joint specifications of Section 406. In lieu of a water test on the building sewer, the Administrator may permit or require a low pressure air test.

Section 408. The size and slope of the building sewer shall be subject to the approval of the Administrator, but in no event shall the diameter be less than four inches. The slope of such 4-inch pipe shall be not less than 1/4 inch per foot. The slope of 6-inch pipe building sewers shall be not less than 1/8-inch per foot. Common services for more than one building and services for commercial or industrial uses shall not be less than six inches in diameter.

Section 409. Whenever possible, the building sewer shall be brought to the building at an elevation below the basement floor. The building sewer shall be laid parallel to and within three feet of any bearing wall, which might thereby be weakened. The depth shall be sufficient to afford protection from frost. The building sewer shall be laid at uniform grade and in straight alignment insofar as possible. Changes in direction shall be made only with properly curved pipe and fittings. Any public or private utility service structure or line shall be maintained at a minimum of five feet horizontal clearance between said building sewer and said utility, except for water lines which shall be maintained at a minimum of 10 feet horizontal clearance, unless that part of the building sewer that is located within 10 feet of a water line shall be constructed of cast iron soil pipe. No other utilities will be permitted in the same trench as the building sewer.

Section 410. In all buildings in which any building drain is too low to permit gravity flow to the public sewer, wastewater carried by such drain shall be lifted by approved artificial means and discharged to the building sewer.

Section 411. All excavations required for the installation of a building sewer shall be open trench work unless otherwise permitted or required by the Administrator. Pipe laying and backfill shall be performed in accordance with ASTM Specification C 12, except that no backfill shall be placed until the work has been inspected.

Section 412. All joints and connections shall be made gastight and watertight.

Section 413. The connection of the building sewer into the public sewer shall be made at a riser, tee or wye, if such outlet is available at a suitable location. Where no properly located riser, tee or wye is available in the public sewer, a neat hole shall be cut into the public sewer, at the owner's expense, to receive the building sewer, with entry in the downstream direction at an angle of about 45° and at the location specified by the Administrator. The connection of the building sewer to the public sewer shall, in general, be above and near the spring line of the sewer, but never in the top of the public sewer. A 45° ell may be used to make such connection, with the spigot end cut so as not to extend past the inner surface of the public sewer. A smooth, neat joint shall be made, and the connection made secure and watertight by approved waterproof joint material before encasing in concrete. Concrete encasement shall not be considered waterproof. Special fittings may be used for the connection only when approved by the Administrator. Any damage to the public sewer pipe during installation of the connection shall require replacement of the entire length of sewer pipe damaged, at the owner's expense.

Section 414. Holders of building sewer permits shall notify the Administrator 48 hours before an inspection and connection to the public sewer is to be made. All notification of this kind shall include the permit number and the location. The connection shall be made under the supervision of the Administrator, or his representative. The Administrator, or any person authorized by him, must be permitted at all times to inspect all work, materials and fixtures.

Section 415. All excavations for building sewer installation shall be adequately guarded with barricades and lights so as to protect the public from hazard. Streets, sidewalks, driveways, sewers, utilities and other public or private property disturbed in the course of the work shall be restored in a manner satisfactory to the Administrator. No sewer contractor shall open any pavement on any public or private property without first receiving written permission from the Administrator or proper authorities. At least 48 hours notice shall be given for this permission. Where the trench method is used through paved or unpaved streets, roads, driveways, alleys, etc., it will be necessary to use granular material, preferably sand or limestone screenings, for backfill. It shall be placed in layers of not more than six inches and tamped with a mechanical tamp or puddled in layers at the direction of the Administrator. After the backfill is thoroughly compacted, it will be necessary to replace the pavement with the same type of materials as was removed, and in no case shall substitute paving materials be used without first securing the approval of the proper authority. All surplus excavation must be removed from the site to a location satisfactory to the Administrator, leaving the berms and pavement in substantially the same condition as before construction started. All of the above mentioned work and material shall be performed in accordance with the standard specifications of the Michigan Department of Highways. At all locations where the building sewer passes under another sewer, drainage pipe, water main or other utility, the line passed under must be supported by 4"x4" wood timbers brick or concrete masonry and extra precaution will be required in backfilling and tamping the trench in order to avoid any danger of a break, settlement or crack in the line passed under.

Section 416. A building sewer permit shall be required for all repair work performed by a sewer contractor, except cases where excavation is not necessary. In the case of stoppages, it shall be the responsibility of the owner or sewer contractor to uncover the wye, tee or riser, to determine the location of the stoppage. If the stoppage is found to be either in the public sewer or in the public crossover, the sewer contractor shall notify the Administrator immediately, whose responsibility it shall be to repair same. The cost of the permit will then be returned to the sewer contractor. If the stoppage is located anywhere else in the line, it shall be the responsibility of the owner to repair same at his own cost and expense.

Section 417. If any sewer contractor or owner shall neglect or refuse to comply with the rules and regulation herein set forth, within 24 hours after receiving written notice from the Administrator, the Village will proceed with the work and the cost involved will be charged to the owner. In cases where it is necessary for the Village to proceed with the work, no further permits will be granted to the sewer contractor or owner until they have satisfactorily complied with the order of the Administrator or completely reimbursed the Village for any cost involved. The owner and sewer contractor shall be required, for a period of one year after the completion of the work, to make all necessary repairs.

Section 418. In any case where the wastewater discharged may have an environmental impact, as defined under existing federal, state or local law, on the Village or surrounding communities, the following shall be filed with the application for a permit as required by Section 402:

a) A written statement indicating the nature of the business, the source and amount of water to be used, the amount of water to be discharged, along with its present or expected bacterial, physical, chemical, radio-active or other pertinent characteristics of quality.

b) A plan and/or map of the building, works or complex, with each natural outlet, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, watercourse or ground waters noted and the waste stream identified.

c) An agreement to sample, test and file reports with the Village and appropriate regulatory agencies relative to characteristics of wastes on a schedule, at locations and according to methods approved by the Village.

d) An agreement to place industrial waste treatment facilities, process facilities, pretreatment facilities, waste stream control and potential industrial waste problems under the specific supervision and control of a person or persons who have been certified by an appropriate state agency as properly qualified to supervise such facilities, when required by said state agency.

e) An agreement to provide reports on raw materials entering the process or support systems, intermediate materials, final products and waste by-products, as those factors may affect waste control.

f) An agreement to maintain records and file reports on the final disposal of specific liquids, solids, sludges, oils, radioactive materials, solvents or other wastes.

g) An agreement that, if any industrial process is to be altered so as to add or delete a process waste or potential waste, written notification shall be given to the Village in advance and approval of the Village and any necessary regulatory agency obtained.

Section 419. No sewer connection will be permitted unless there is capacity available in all downstream sewers, lift stations, force mains and the wastewater treatment plant, including capacity for treatment of BOD and suspended solids.

Section 3. All the provisions of said ordinance not inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

Section 4. This amendment shall be effective thirty (30) days from adoption publication.

Visitors will be able to tour the entire church facility, including the meetinghouse, the Church School House, renovated rest rooms and office areas, and the new kitchen and Fellowship Hall.

The Open House is the second event designated by the Webster church to help celebrate the completion of the project. Gilbert Whitney and Mrs. Mary Wheeler, members of the church's Celebration Committee, have been planning and co-ordinating this event.

Webster Church is located at 5484 Webster Church Rd., one mile south of North Territorial Rd., in Webster township. Friends, neighbors, the curious, and the inquisitive are invited to visit. Light refreshments will be served.

There are more than 13,000 campgrounds nationally, 8,500 of which are private (having one or more campsites each).

THE ROTARY CLUB OF CHELSEA meets every Tuesday noon in Woodland Room B of the Chelsea Community Hospital. At the last meeting, held March 17, Howdy Holmes spoke to the assembled rotarians and their guests.

HOWDY HOLMES, INDY RACE DRIVER, was the featured speaker at the Rotary Club meeting, March 17. Holmes told about racing and gave some of the background on how he became involved. He also showed a

Two Area Residents Named to Equine Advisory Committee

Two area residents, James Alder of Chelsea and Diane Horning of Manchester, have been appointed to an equine advisory committee to help strengthen the state's equine industry. The committee is composed of ten members appointed by Michigan Farm Bureau president Jack Laurie.

According to Robert Craig, manager of the Farm Bureau's commodity activities and research department, "The committee will study current state racing regulations, the challenges facing state equine breed associations, taxation issues and many other issues that affect the growth and development of Michigan's equine industry."

Howdy Holmes Addresses Rotary Club

Howdy Holmes, Indy race driver, was the featured speaker at the Chelsea Rotary club meeting on March 17. He claimed his height was one of the reasons for his success. "Race car owners like short drivers because it doesn't take as long for a signal to come from the brain to the foot."

Holmes explained how he has been in love with race cars for many years beginning while he was a student at Eastern Michigan University. He raced on Michigan tracks under a program designed by Sterling Moss and then opened his own shop in Stockbridge and began building and racing cars.

Holmes told how race teams often spend 120 hours per week at their profession. This commitment to racing and hard and long hours is not always the first image the public gets of the race crew.

The business approach to racing is matched by technical studies and a body building regime that includes nutritional balances that are needed to offset the rigors of the ride. At one time, Holmes said, he was losing up to five pounds per hour due to excessive perspiration. He now keeps his body well toned through exercise and diet.

Holmes also showed a brief video film produced by Channel Four showing a bit of the glamour and demands of pushing million dollar cars beyond 200 miles per hour around a two-mile track. Rotarians and guests kept him around for a while with questions and conversation.

Chelsea Rotary club is a new civic club that operates as a provisional club of district 638. Guests are invited to the noon meeting each Tuesday at the Chelsea Community Hospital. Meals are purchased in the cafeteria. Participants then proceed downstairs to Woodland Room B for the meeting.

Bulldog Diamond Hopes Hinge on Pitching Staff

Although faced with the prospect of trying to replace all-star Chuck Downer and heavy hitters Mark Mull and Kevin Maynard, the 1987 Chelsea Bulldog baseball team could over-all be just as strong offensively as last year's Southeastern Conference runners-up.

That's the word from the always-optimistic Chelsea head coach Wayne Welton.

However, the key to the five-week season will once again lie with his pitching staff, anchored by senior captain and lefthander Todd Starkey. If there is a stopper on the staff, ala Dan Bellus last season, Starkey is probably it.

"If the pitching staff can throw strikes, we should be right in it," Welton said.

"But we don't have a lot of innings of experience."

Welton has nine boys who should all see some mound time this spring. The Bulldogs play at least 34 games in five weeks in what is essentially an all double-header schedule, making depth in the pitching staff crucial.

Starkey played summer ball in a league last summer that was filled with college players and, according to Welton, "got a rude awakening."

"That experience has made Todd more confident," Welton said.

"Todd has all the abilities and he could have a fine year."

In addition to Starkey are seniors Jeff Harvey, Greg Haist, Mark Bareis and Matt Bohlender.

Haist, another lefty, had "an excellent summer" in 1986, Welton said.

Harvey, at times, pitched as well as anyone in the league last season.

Juniors Randy Ferry and Greg Boughton, the latter another lefthander, are also being counted upon, as are sophomores Junior Morseau and Larry Nix.

Welton said Morseau might be used as a late-inning stopper because "he has good command of a couple of pitches and he throws strikes."

Defensively, Welton believes his team can be very good, depending on his play at catcher and shortstop.

Morseau and Bohlender will share the catching duties.

However, it's wide open at shortstop, where Nix, Bareis and Bobby Clouse could all get some time.

"I hope Nix takes the ball and runs with it," Welton said.

"He's a good learner, has a good arm and is quick, but I don't want to rush him. That's my big concern."

Bareis and Clouse are both steady fielders and accurate throwers, although both lack Nix's range.

"Nix doesn't have to hit his weight to play, and he doesn't weigh very much."

Bareis is the top first baseman, with Greg Haist, Boughton and Ferry as back-ups.

The second base spot also has several contenders, including Bohlender, Clouse, junior Chris Acree and senior Brian Coy.

Third base is solid, with Harvey and Ferry splitting time depending on who's pitching.

Chelsea has a "plethora of outfielders," Welton says.

Starkey will play centerfield when he isn't pitching. When he is on the mound, senior Jon Lane will run the outfield.

"Jon came on strong at the end of last season," Welton says.

Lane and Haist are both likely to see time in right field, depending on who the designated hitter is.

"Haist looks like a guy we can use as a swing player," Welton said.

"He's a good left-handed hitter. He'll be in the line-up somewhere."

Welton says the league is wide open this season, although Saline might have a slight edge. The Hornets are returning everyone but their pitchers from last year's SEC championship team.

Welton says Pinckney might have the best pitching, Dexter has a good, solid club and Tecumseh is returning their top two pitchers.

"Just about every year at the league meeting you look around and say to yourself that such-and-such team doesn't have a chance," Welton says.

"It's not that way this year. It looks like everyone has a chance."

The Bulldogs have a tough non-league schedule as well. They'll see Novi, who have one of the state's top pitchers, Fenton, class B runner-up, Ypsilanti High school, class A champions, Ann Arbor Pioneer (at least three times) and Brighton, a 20-game winner last year.

"Having a real challenge outside of the league should make us stronger in the league," Welton says.

Chelsea will also be playing in the Ann Arbor News Tournament and, for the first time, will co-host a Chelsea-Manchester Invitational.

The regular season begins Tuesday, April 14, and the first seven dates are at home.

The team will take its regular spring trip to Venice, Fla., over spring break.

CATCHER JUNIOR MORSEAU works on his run-down skills during a recent morning baseball practice at Chelsea High school. Morseau, a sophomore, will see a lot of time as both a pitcher and catcher this season.

Swim Club Competes in Age-Group State Meet

In age-group competition this last week-end the Chelsea Swim Club competed in the age-group state meet held at Oakland Community College Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

In this meet were swimmers from all over the state competing in their respective age-groups.

This was a very tough meet with many national quality kids in the pool. Chelsea swimmers participated to get some valuable experience and to get a look at other swimmers of their own age.

"I really think it was a real eye opener for some of the guys that went, but I think the experience of qualifying and swimming in the meet is invaluable," stated coach Mike Keeler.

On Friday the club swam in the 800-yd. freestyle relay with each swimmer swimming 200 yards.

In the 13 to 14 age group the team of Wally Schmid, Von Acker, Brian Brock, and Scott Marsh finished 13th with a time of 9:02.51.

In the 15-16 age-group the team of David Oesterle, Brett Paddock, Garth Girard, and Chris Birtles swam to a 14th place finish with a time of 8:24.08, with Paddock and Girard swimming to personal best times.

In the oldest age group, the 17- to 18-year-olds, the team of Charlie Hosner, Kevin Brock, Darren Girard and Matt Doan finished in the top 12

Bareis Is Bulldog MVP, Poljan Named Most Improved

In what was probably no surprise to anyone, senior forward Mark Bareis was named the Chelsea Bulldogs Most Valuable Player for the 1986-87 season at Tuesday night's annual basketball banquet.

Also honored by coach Rahn Rosentreter was senior center Marty Poljan, named Most Improved.

Bareis was named to the All-Southeastern Conference first team and made the All-County first team.

Bareis scored 887 points for his career, including 117 his sophomore year, 326 his junior year, and 424 this season. For the season Bareis hit an even 50 percent of his field goals and 72 percent of his free throws. He scored more than 30 points twice, and averaged 21.2. He also averaged 7.2 rebounds a game, leading the team in that category as well, and was second in assists with 2.2 per game.

TAKING BATTING PRACTICE is senior third baseman and pitcher Jeff Harvey. The team has been practicing before school beginning at 5 a.m. They'll be heading to Florida over spring break.

Dogs in 2nd Over-all in SEC

Heading into the spring sports season, Chelsea is in second place over-all for all sports in the Southeastern Conference standings.

Saline Hornets lead the pack with 51 points, featuring outright championships in volleyball, girls basketball and boys cross country, and championship ties with Chelsea in basketball and Dexter in wrestling.

Chelsea, with 41 points, has an outright championship in football and a championship tie in boys basketball. Girls cross country was the only second place for the first two seasons.

Dexter and Lincoln are tied for third place with 32.5 points each, Tecumseh and Milan are tied for fifth with 31, and Pinckney is solidly in last with 25.5.

Boys and girls track, baseball and softball from the spring season will figure into the final totals. Although tennis is a sport at Chelsea, it is not a league sport because most league schools do not have teams.

Cribbage Tourney Into Final Week Of Competition

North School Girl Plans Spooky Project

Some school projects are difficult. Others are time consuming. And some are just downright scary.

Genevieve Humenay, a third grader in North Elementary school's Triad Program is, in her own words, "really interested in ghosts!" Chelsea's ghosts, more precisely.

Genevieve made us aware of her project in a Letter to the Editor.

And she wants your help. She wants to prove that ghosts are more than products of the imagination for her Triad program project. She wants to hear from anyone in the Chelsea area who has "seen or heard of a ghost in this area or knows of a place that is truly haunted."

"No one else ever picked this (topic)," Genevieve says.

"I like horror movies and stuff like that. So does my dad."

Genevieve said she'd actually like to see a ghost in person, or in spirit, as the case may be. Even though she admits to being a fairly brave little girl, she plans to involve her father, Edward, in the project.

She's not so sure about her mother, Estelle, though.

"No way! She'd shiver her socks off!" Genevieve says.

Genevieve has read several books about ghosts and haunted houses. She's even tried to contact a man who supposedly has a machine to make contact with ghosts, but he has apparently vanished into thin air.

"I want to go and get proof," she says.

Genevieve said she's not too sure exactly what she'd do if she actually saw a ghost.

GENEVIEVE HUMENAY wants to study Chelsea's ghosts for a school project.

"I'd probably just stare at him and see what he'd do first," she says. "Who knows!"

Anyone in the area with first hand experience with ghosts can write to Genevieve at 113 McKinley St., Chelsea.

FRESH FRY MACHINE: This deep fry machine, the first of its kind in Washtenaw county, is in operation at Chelsea Lanes. Frozen fries, nuggets, cheese sticks, sausage, zucchini, apple pies and other delights are deep fried and returned through the chute in front. Vicki Wurster, Chelsea Lanes manager, demonstrates.

(superior) rating and the third judge gave them a II, for an over-all I rating. They also received a I in sight reading. "We are proud of the high quality of our music program and the support we receive from the community," Mayer said.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, March 16, were Dils, Grau, Redding, Comeau, Satterthwaite, Cherem, Wales, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Westcott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, athletic director Reed, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dils.

The board approved the minutes of the March 2 meeting.

Entered as official communications were: (1) Notice of Annual School Officers Association Meeting, Monday, April 27, 6:30 p.m., Willow Run High school; (2) Intermediate Board of Education Meeting, March 23, at 7:30 p.m., to review special education millage proposal; (3) Letter from Dan and Chris Keane, who recently moved from Chelsea. Their letter was very complimentary toward the educational experience their children received while in Chelsea; (4) Notice of WISD celebration of 25 years' service, Tuesday, March 24, 4:30-6:30 p.m.; (5) Letter from the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association, announcing that Richard Dussseau will be inducted into the Football Coaches' Hall of Fame on Saturday, April 11, at Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor. Dussseau is a former football coach at Chelsea High school, and coached the first wrestling team in Chelsea.

Substance Abuse Counselor Chris Dillon presented the board with an update on the substance abuse program currently in effect at the high school. Chris discussed the decision-making class, indicating that she has started the sixth class. She is also starting up a "concerned persons" group for the students whose family members or friends are involved in substance abuse. The program appears to be serving the needs of the students very well.

Athletic director Larry Reed presented to the board an analysis of the participation and cost of the various sports at the middle and high school levels. His report covered both boys and girls sports, and analyzed the participation and cost per athlete of each sport.

Board Finance Committee chairman Lloyd Grau indicated that the committee had reviewed the budget, and he feels that the budget can be brought into balance with no need for increased millage. However, the renewal millage will have to be approved.

The board adopted a resolution to borrow $1,600,000 in anticipation of operating tax collection for the year to end June 30, 1988, due and payable Dec. 1, 1987, to pay for operating expenses for the 1987-88 school year.

Said notes are to be dated June 1, 1987, and payable April 1, 1988. The Chelsea School District will advertise in The Michigan Investor and The Chelsea Standard, and the Board authorizes assistant superintendent Frederick A. Mills to file the necessary forms and the board to sign the application forms.

The board changed the dates of the regularly scheduled meetings to April 13 and April 20. This change was effected so that the Chelsea Board of Education may attend a County School Officers Association meeting.

The board approved a resolution calling for the Annual School Election to be held Monday, June 8.

The board convened in executive session to discuss the composite evaluation of the superintendent. Upon returning to public session, President Dils reviewed the procedure used by all seven board members to evaluate the superintendent. He indicated that Mr. Van Meer's evaluation, on a rating scale, was very high in all categories, which included attainment of priorities as established by the board, relationship and communication with the Board of Education, community relations, administrative organization and decision making, and over-all effectiveness as a superintendent. President Dils congratulated superintendent Van Meer for his excellent performance.

The board approved a three-year contract for superintendent Van Meer, effective July 1, 1987, through June 30, 1990.

The board approved a statement of purpose for each of the Board of Education committees. Those committees are Personnel, Finance, Curriculum, and Communications/Public Relations. This new format will be reviewed by the Board of Education members each year as they are appointed to the committees.

The meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m.

Norma's Beauty Shop Closes After 52 Years

On March 21, after 52 years in business, Norma's Beauty Shop, located at 105½ W. Middle St., closed. The beauty shop was owned by Norma Schiller, a life-long resident of Chelsea.

In 1935, Miss Schiller graduated with honors from Alexander's School of Cosmetology, Ann Arbor. After her graduation, Miss Schiller opened her first shop in Detroit. She chose this location because she thought she would be too nervous to work on people she knew.

In 1937, she moved her beauty parlor to Chelsea. This shop was located in the back of Jack's Barber Shop. Two years later she moved her shop into the store next to Jack's Barber Shop where she stayed until her retirement at age 76.

Dance for Heart Benefit Scheduled Saturday

Leading Washtenaw county fitness experts and the American Heart Association join forces Saturday, March 28, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the University of Michigan's Coliseum for the area's first Dance for Heart benefit. The four-hour dance exercise extravaganza features two one-hour aerobic workouts.

The event is co-sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital to raise funds for the American Heart Association's programs of cardiovascular research and education.

Local dance studios, recreation facilities, and health and exercise clubs participate in Dance for Heart as part of a nation-wide effort to fight heart disease and stroke. Participants collect donations from friends and relatives for the fund-raising event. Each dancer can win prizes based on the amount of money collected.

Dance for Heart demonstrates dance-exercise as a benefit to cardiovascular health and the AHA.

According to local Dance for Heart coordinator, Sue Reid, "Dance-exercise is a popular exercise activity because it emphasizes both fun and fitness. Through Dance for Heart, we have the opportunity to help in the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases, as well as show that dance-exercise is fun, easy, and heart healthy!"
