ONE HUNDRED-SIXTEENTH YEAR—No. 46

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1987

24 Pages This Week Plus Supplement

PALMER FORD-MERCURY has done its business on this site on Main St. in Chelsea for 75 years, ever since L.G. Palmer started the business in 1912. This new showroom was added last year. The show lot is scheduled to expand south later this year.

Oldest Ford Dealership Marks 75th Anniversary

George Palmer isn't the kind of guy to put on a cowboy hat, grab a sledge hammer, stand in front of an Escort with a price painted on the windshield and say on TV, "yes sircce, we're smashin' car prices just for you!"

Palmer, the easy-going, conservative owner of Chelsea's only Ford-Mercury dealership, keeps his business in low profile, which has helped it become the state's oldest Ford dealership. Today, April 15, is the official 75th birthday of one of Chelsea's oldest continuous family-owned businesses.

"There are a lot of flamboyant people in this business but that's not our style," Palmer says.

"We simply try to provide good service to our customers."

Palmer Ford-Mercury was not one of the first dealerships in the state, having opened in 1912 after Ford Motor Co. was several years old. But it has managed to withstand two world wars, the Great Depression and a couple of nasty recessions, which put earlier dealerships out of business. And, it has remained in the same location all that time, although it has slowly expanded as adjacent property became available. At one time there was a satellite dealership in Grass Lake, but that was sold.

It has also had just two owners in those 75 years—Palmer, and before him, his father, Leigh (L.G.) Palmer. Dr. G. W. Palmer, George's uncle, was a local medical doctor.

L.G., who would have been 105 years old on April 10, was a University of Michigan graduate in civil engineering. Among his early claims to fame, he did the preliminary engineering on the initial paving of Main St.

George says he's not sure why his father decided to drop engineering and enter the automobile industry except that it was a good business opportunity.

In the early days, the dealership specialized not only in Ford cars, like the Model T, Model A and Model B, but tractors as well, and a substantial portion of the business was built on the tractors. There was the Fordson tractor, popular in the 1920s, and its successor, the Ford Ferguson tractor of the 1930s.

In 1939 the dealership began to sell the Mercury line. However, Mercury was later spun off into another division and L.G. lost the right to sell the

P.O. Deadline For Tax Forms Is Midnight

Late income tax filers take note. Chelsea Postmaster Larry Williams plans to collect the final mail today, Wednesday, April 15, at midnight exactly.

In previous years the office has collected the mail at 6:15 a.m. on April 16 and postmarked the returns April 15. That will happen no more, he said.

"The post office frowns on it," Williams said.

Williams said that in past years as many as 200 returns have been in the mail box in front of the post office on the 16th.

"A lot of people knew about it and just dropped them off on the way to work," Williams said.

vehicle in 1946. It was only two years ago that the dealership began selling Mercury again.

Ford also established a tractor division and the dealership lost that business as well.

However, since George took over the business in 1955, he has resisted any pressure to diversify the business and sell other lines of cars, as many other dealerships have done.

And it doesn't seem to have hurt him any. Back in 1955 there were about 10 employees, now there are 32, including his wife, Donna, daughter, Carol, and son-in-law Biff Weber, the sales manager. Biff is married to the Palmers' other daughter, Susie.

Palmer Ford-Mercury sells about 500 Fords and 100 Mercurys annually, not counting the used car sales.

The dealership has also grown physically since it had the first gasoline pumps in Chelsea and sold about 100 cars per year. George's A. D. Mayer Dr. home was moved from the site, and two other houses were torn down over the years to make room for the service department and expand the show lot. The show lot is scheduled to expand south again this year, onto the old Tobin property. Then the entire lot will be able to hold 150 new vehicles.

The used car lot on the south end of town, where the biggest flag in western Washtenaw county flies, opened for business in 1971.

"The growth has been a real gradual thing," George says.

"On an everyday basis you don't realize it."

Area Churches Plan Special Services for Easter, Holy Week

Churches in Chelsea and Dexter will be busy for the rest of the week as they celebrate Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday.

Both communities have planned community services for Good Friday. Easter Sunday will be celebrated in a variety of ways including sunrise services (one on Peach Mountain), an Easter egg hunt, and Easter breakfasts.

St. Paul United Church of Christ will celebrate Maundy Thursday, April 16, with Holy Communion and a Service of Tenebrae at 7:30 p.m. The Tenebrae Service involves reading scripture passages reflecting the last hours of Jesus' life leading up to the crucifixion. "Tenebrae" means "darkness." During the service candles are gradually extinguished to symbolize the gathering darkness of death and the fleeing of the disciples.

Other churches with Maundy Thursday services include North Lake United Methodist church, United Methodist church of Dexter, St. Andrew's United Church of Christ, Faith Evangelical Lutheran church, Our Savior Lutheran church, St. Barnabas Episcopal church, First Congregational church of Chelsea, First United Methodist church of Chelsea, and St. Thomas Lutheran church. All the services are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. except the one at St. Thomas which will be held at 8 p.m. and First United Methodist of Chelsea which will be at 7 p.m.

St. James Episcopal has been holding services every night of Holy Week. Their Thursday service will be at 8 p.m. St. Joseph Catholic church will offer, on Thursday, the Mass of the Lord's Supper Adoration which will last from 7:30 p.m. until midnight.

The Chelsea Ministerial Association has planned a community Good Friday service to which people of all denominations are invited. It will be held at the Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7665 Werkner Rd., Friday, April 17 from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

The Rev. Bruce Rhodes of the Chelsea Free Methodist church will deliver the homily. There will be a dramatic reading from the Bible, from St. John's account of events of Good Friday. The Rev. and Mrs. Ron Smeenge of Covenant church and the Tintinnabulators of the Methodist church of Chelsea, under the direction of Donna Palmer, members of the Chelsea Christian Men's Fellowship. Offerings received at this service will be to benefit the ministry at Cassidy Lake, especially for the purchase of hymnals.

Dexter's Ministerial Association has also organized a Good Friday community service. It will be held at the United Methodist church of Dexter with the Rev. John Gardner of Webster United Church of Christ preaching. The service begins at 1 p.m. and lasts about an hour.

A few area churches are offering their own Good Friday afternoon services including St. Barnabas which will have a service from noon until 3 p.m., Zion with a 1:30 worship, St. Thomas with a 1:30 worship, and St. Joseph with a Way of the Cross service at 12 noon and 2:30 so that people may attend it before or after the community service.

That evening several churches are offering Good Friday liturgies at 7:30 including St. James, St. Joseph, Our Savior, and Faith Evangelical. At 7 p.m. the Chelsea Free Methodist church will show a film, "The Crucifixion."

St. Paul has organized an all-night Good Friday prayer vigil to which the entire community is invited. It begins at 6 p.m. and will conclude at 6 a.m. Saturday morning. The sanctuary will be lit with candle-light, and the quietness will enhance the atmosphere of prayer and meditation. Members of the church will be in church the entire evening and coffee will be available.

Saturday, April 18, St. Joseph will have the blessing of the food baskets at 1 p.m. and a solemn Easter liturgy at 8:30 a.m.; St. James will have a service of Lighting the Pascal candle, the Great Vigil of Easter, and the Renewal of Baptismal vows at 7 p.m.; and St. Barnabas will have an Easter vigil at 7:30 p.m.

Many area churches start their Easter Sunday celebrations with sunrise services. The earliest one is scheduled for 6:30 a.m. when the early risers of the Methodist church of Dexter will convene on Peach Mountain. Churches waiting until 7 a.m. for their sunrise services include St. Thomas, Zion, St. Andrew's, Chelsea Methodist, Our Savior, and Faith Evangelical. North Lake and Chelsea Free Methodist begin their sunrise services at 7:30 a.m. Chelsea Free Methodist will show a film "Resurrection and Ascension." Services offered after 7:30 a.m. are no longer called "sunrise services."

Churches offering the first Easter service of the day at 8 a.m. include the

DDA Gets in High Gear, Shows Plans to Council, Retains Financial Firm

Work could begin this summer on the first phase of the Downtown Development Authority's revitalization plan for Chelsea's downtown business district.

The first phase, according to DDA Chairman Ron Biedron, would involve re-working the intersection of Middle St. and Main St. Trees would be planted on each of the four corners, sidewalks would be rebuilt, and benches, new pedestrian lighting and an information kiosk installed. Curb cuts would also be made for handicap access.

Estimated cost is $80,000-$100,000, depending on "the frills," according to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner, who has done much of the preliminary engineering work.

The frills, Fahrner said, could include a brick sidewalk as opposed to concrete.

In addition, pedestrian "walk" signals, as well as new traffic lights would be installed. Fahrner said the cost of the pedestrian signals would be fully covered by a federal grant. The cost to the village for the traffic signals would be about $1,000, with about $19,000 being picked up by the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Village council passed a resolution last Tuesday, April 7 in support of the signal work at the intersection.

In addition, on Monday, April 6, the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce gave the DDA $1,600 to hire Chase-Mogdis, Inc. of Ann Arbor to work out a financial plan for the entire project.

"We've been spinning our wheels for a couple of years over the financing," Biedron said.

Franz Mogdis, a partner in the financial consulting firm and former president of Ann Arbor Tomorrow, made a presentation at the April 7 council meeting concerning the various financial concerns for the over-all project. His company has worked on similar financing strategies for Ann Arbor and Milan, he said.

Mogdis mentioned tax increment financing, setting up a special assessment district, corporate gifts and other ways of raising money.

Mogdis said tax increment financing, which would provide the DDA money from tax revenue on the increase of value of land within a specified district, would probably raise more money than any other method. Raising $300,000-$500,000 over three years would not be too much to expect, Mogdis said.

The problem with tax increment financing, Mogdis said, is that other taxing authorities within the district, such as the Chelsea School District, would lose out. Money that the school district would ordinarily get from the increased value of land within the tax increment financing district would go to the DDA.

Washtenaw Community College would be another money loser.

DDA, with village council's

Feeney Appointed To DDA by Council

Ann Feeney has been appointed to Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority to fill out a term created by the resignation of Dayspring Gifts owner Laurie Smith.

Chelsea Village Council approved the appointment at its regular meeting April 7.

State law has specific requirements as to the make up of the DDA. Insurance Agent Jerry Ashby, because he is a property owner downtown, will technically take over Smith's position on the DDA. Feeney, who is not a downtown property owner, will move into Ashby's spot.

Feeney, of 666 Washington St., is also the only official candidate for a seat on the Chelsea Board of Education.

authorization, also has the power to levy up to two mills in taxes over a specified district. That method would raise approximately $10,000 per year, Fahrner told the council.

"Most municipalities generally use a whole variety of sources and don't rely on one single method of producing revenue," Mogdis told the council.

Biedron said Chase-Mogdis is scheduled to have its work completed by June 1. Then a complete package of financing alternatives would be presented to the village council.

Fahrner said work would take 6-8 weeks, assuming there are no surprises once the corners are torn up. He said work would be completed one corner at a time.

At the last council meeting, two sets of architectural plans for the project drawn up by Johnson, Johnson & Roy, an Ann Arbor firm, were presented. The only significant difference between the two plans involved the number of trees on each corner. One plan called for four trees on each corner. The other plan showed four trees on two corners and two trees on two corners.

Depending on which version of the plan is adopted, the downtown will lose either seven or nine metered parking spaces to allow a widening of the corners, the plans show. The lack of available downtown parking has been considered by some, including trustee Joe Merkel, to be one of the biggest problems downtown.

Chelsea Fire Department Chief Bud Hanker questioned whether the plans would still allow fire trucks to turn south on Main St. from W. Middle St. Fahrner assured him they would and later said the village would make sure in a test before any work is done.

The village voted last year to spend $5,000 on the JJ&R plans. In addition, Fahrner's engineering time was donated by the village to the project. Fahrner estimated he has spent 80 hours.

 An industrial park is in the works for the Chelsea area. The revelation came as a surprise to those in attendance at last Tuesday night's village council meeting. The matter had not been discussed publicly before. The idea for a local industrial park originated with the Sylvan township board of trustees, village administrator Frederick A. Weber said. The township has committed itself to pay its $2,250 share for the feasibility study.

The Rev. Marvin H. McCullum, pastor of First United Methodist church of Chelsea for the past seven years, has accepted a position as senior pastor of St. Paul United Methodist church in Monroe.

Tregetts Tool & Engineering Co. will move out of Chelsea to a new location in Jackson county, senior owner George Dygert has informed The Standard. Dygert also revealed that Ryerson-Haynes Co. of Jackson, of which he is general manager, had been considering moving some of its operations to Chelsea but has given up the idea now that Tregetts has been denied the rezoning it needed to remain in the village.

Coalition Issues Safety Belt Use Challenge
 A coalition of 11 public and private agencies will next month begin a program designed to increase use of vehicle safety belts to 70 percent from about 47 percent, representatives of the group announced recently.

And, two state leaders who are strong advocates of the mandatory belt law said they are considering a proposal to make failure to use the belt a primary offense.

The community safety belt challenge will be conducted beginning April 20, with participating communities to report their results to the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use by Oct. 31. Robert Cullen, director of the challenge and traffic safety manager for the American Automobile Association said.

Throughout the summer and fall, communities will conduct pre-program surveys and educational activities, and awards will be given in five population categories for most effective programs.

The mandatory seat belt law was enacted in 1985, he said, usage was at about 20 percent.

In the first six months after the law went into effect, usage was up to between 48.4 percent and 61 percent. In the first year of the law, an estimated 7,300 injuries and 98 deaths were prevented and Cullen said with 70 per-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Zeke Grubb brings a paperback dictionary to the session at the country store Saturday night, and he set with it open on his knee. He could get it in a worded way. He said he and his preacher had a mild falling out at Midwest prayer meeting over religious secular humans. Zeke said he was full convinced they are real as ghosts, but the preacher said they are real as Baptists. Zeke said he quoted the dictionary and the preacher quipped everything in the Bible.

What was on the argument, Zeke said, was the Louisiana judge that said schools can't use textbooks that uphold a religion called secular humanism. The best he could figger it, Zeke said, the judge gave this ruling based on his finding that since the books don't deal enough with regular religion they are upholding another religion that don't believe in religion.

What we got, Zeke told his preacher, is folks coming up with a bogeyman and a judge ruling it's real.

Actual, Zeke said, secular humans can't be religious if words have meaning. Secular, according to Webster's dictionary he could find, means without religion. Not having religion ain't a religion, Zeke said, but people that want real religion taught and practiced in the public school are rushing this case, so they set up the straw man and the judge fell for it.

But Zeke read from his notes where his preacher told him secular humans didn't have to wait for conservative Christians to make em real, they've been around since they declared their "Humanist Manifesto" in 1933. He went on to say that the U. S. Supreme Court pointed out in 1961 that not all religions call for belief in God, and it mentioned secular humanism as one of em. The preacher told Zeke that tolerance was a virtue he could use some of, and that he ought not to think of everything in terms of us agin them.

Zeke said he and his preacher have a ways to go to get together on this. It is mighty curious to him, Zeke said, why a secular court that makes everybody swear to God to tell the truth would say God ain't necessarily so in a country where a secular Government swears it puts its trust in Him.

The feller heard Zeke out, and it was Bug Hookum that said from what he could understand secular humanism is a religion like atheism and golf. But Bug said you can just as easy think of secular humanism as a disease like diabetes and high blood pressure because a heap of folks got it and don't know it.

Practical speaking, declared Clem Webster, the only difference he could see between secular humans and golfing humans is that the secular human can deduct the expense of pursuing his happiness and he don't catch near as much flak from Sunday church groups. With secular humans gitting all the attention, Clem declared, he wondered how long it will be before we hear about a new religion, Golfers United Agin Religious Discrimination, and we see where GUARD has put in for tax exempt status.

Personal, I see the National Coalition of IRS Whistleblowers wants Congress to git the IRS off our backs. If this religion don't make converts all over the country this time of year, we better go back to old time religion. I saw a tax return recent that even I could figger out. It said how much did you make last year, No. 1, and No. 2, send it in.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Sewer Tap-In, Connection Fees Set by Village

Chelsea Village Council approved new sanitary sewer tap-in and connection fees at their regular meeting Tuesday, April 7.

Tap-in fees have been set at $100 per tap-in. Revenues will go to cover the administration and field inspection costs.

Council also established a minimum connection fee of $400, which would be used to defray the "project costs of construction or maintenance of public sewers."

The $400 is the cost for a single-family residence and is considered to be "one unit" in the formulas for considering connection costs.

Connection costs can vary widely. For instance, an automatic car wash would be charged 10 units or $4,000. A hospital would be charged one unit plus .75 units per bed. A beauty shop would be charged one unit plus .15 units per booth.

Two Charged in Bottle Theft

A Chelsea man and another minor have been charged with larceny after they allegedly stole $13.70 in bottles and cans from the back of a pick-up truck.

According to Chelsea police, Alan M. Fromm, 18, of 420 North St., and his roommate, a 15-year-old boy, were seen by three witnesses as they took the containers from a truck owned by Michael Walz, of Munith, at approximately 6:40 p.m. on Friday, March 27. The truck was parked in the Chelsea Milling Co. parking lot.

Witnesses said the suspects were seen walking toward Tower Mart.

Volunteer Helpers Needed By Housing Bureau for Seniors
 The Housing Bureau for Seniors is seeking persons interested in volunteer positions as a part of their team. Their goal is to assist senior citizens and their families with difficult housing decisions. These volunteer positions offer an opportunity to work with older adults as a peer counselor and the opportunity to help in other ways which match your skills.

Interested? Special training for new housing counselors will be offered in late April. Informational interviews may be arranged for the week beginning April 20.

For more information about these volunteer opportunities, please call the Housing Bureau office, 763-0970 and ask to speak to Carolyn.

Altar Society Plan Church Cleaning Bee

St. Mary's Altar Society met April 6 in the rectory basement to see Father Dupuis' slide show of his recent trip to Epoc Center and Disney World. Eighteen members were present.

Members were reminded of the cleaning bee on Saturday, April 18 at 8:30 a.m. to ready the church for Easter. Several members reported that they had attended the Council of Catholic Women's Spring Day at Lumen Christi in Jackson on April 1.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held Monday, May 4. The June meeting of the Altar Society will feature all types of needlecraft. Members are encouraged to bring and display their wares.

Professional Secretaries Week Being Observed
 A seminar on "Working Together To Create A Winning Team" will be presented from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, at the Holiday Inn-West Bank, Ann Arbor, during Secretaries Week.

Speaker will be Joyce Weiss, consultant and owner of "Choices Unlimited", West Bloomfield. States Joyce Weiss, "Without understanding and satisfying peoples' hierarchical needs, modern business cannot expect personnel to perform up to potential."

Ted Weber Honored On 100th Birthday

The 100th birthday of Theodore Weber was celebrated March 29 at the Gilbert Residence in Ypsilanti, where he now lives. Weber was born on April 1, 1887, in Sylvan township, on a farm just outside Chelsea.

Present at his birthday party were all his living relatives including his sister, Bertilla Forner, and his brother, Sylvester Weber. Both still live in Chelsea. A second sister, Mother M. Genevieve O.P., came from Florida for the party. She is the former Mother General of the Adrian Dominican Congregation.

The farm that Weber grew up on is now in the Chrysler Proving Grounds. He and his seven brothers and sisters all attended the Little Red School house, which in more recent years was situated on the Chelsea fairgrounds.

Weber graduated from Chelsea High school. As a young man he worked in the grocery department of Holmes and Walker Dry Goods store, now Vogel's Department Store and Foster's Men's Wear. He also worked four years as a night clerk at the old downtown station, now a gas station.

Weber was Detroit Edison district manager in Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor for 39 years. His wife Laura, who he married in 1917, was a registered nurse and a pioneer in the rubber visiting nurse program in Washtenaw county. She died in 1943.

Volunteer Helpers Needed By Housing Bureau for Seniors
 The Housing Bureau for Seniors is seeking persons interested in volunteer positions as a part of their team. Their goal is to assist senior citizens and their families with difficult housing decisions. These volunteer positions offer an opportunity to work with older adults as a peer counselor and the opportunity to help in other ways which match your skills.

Interested? Special training for new housing counselors will be offered in late April. Informational interviews may be arranged for the week beginning April 20.

For more information about these volunteer opportunities, please call the Housing Bureau office, 763-0970 and ask to speak to Carolyn.

Altar Society Plan Church Cleaning Bee

St. Mary's Altar Society met April 6 in the rectory basement to see Father Dupuis' slide show of his recent trip to Epoc Center and Disney World. Eighteen members were present.

Members were reminded of the cleaning bee on Saturday, April 18 at 8:30 a.m. to ready the church for Easter. Several members reported that they had attended the Council of Catholic Women's Spring Day at Lumen Christi in Jackson on April 1.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held Monday, May 4. The June meeting of the Altar Society will feature all types of needlecraft. Members are encouraged to bring and display their wares.

Professional Secretaries Week Being Observed
 A seminar on "Working Together To Create A Winning Team" will be presented from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, at the Holiday Inn-West Bank, Ann Arbor, during Secretaries Week.

Speaker will be Joyce Weiss, consultant and owner of "Choices Unlimited", West Bloomfield. States Joyce Weiss, "Without understanding and satisfying peoples' hierarchical needs, modern business cannot expect personnel to perform up to potential."

Faith in Action Benefit Dinner Slated May 9

The fourth annual Faith in Action benefit dinner will be held Saturday, May 9 at 7 p.m. at the Chelsea Community Hospital. Guest speaker will be Jim Wortley, talking on "Communication within the family."

Faith in Action is a non-profit agency which gives food, clothing, furniture, and medical aid to local people in need. Says board member Kathleen Chapman, "People don't realize we have destitute people right here in our own back yard."

Faith in Action was formed five years ago. Churches hold food drives and many area residents contribute furniture and clothes as well as money. Volunteers run the office, two at a time working half-day shifts. After being in operation a year, the group decided they needed to organize a fund-raiser to supplement their treasury and thus set up the annual dinner. Last year the speaker was a priest from Detroit who told about and showed slides of the city's soup kitchens.

Organizers of this year's benefit dinner are Kathleen Chapman (chair), Anne Williams, Kathy Thompson (Faith in Action's staff person), Nancy Kauffman, and the Rev. Jerry Beaumont. The menu includes prime rib, tossed salad, baked potato, green beans, and strawberry parfait. Door prizes will be awarded.

According to Kathleen Chapman, past dinners "have proved quite successful with attendance close to 100." Tickets, which are $25 per person or $50 a couple, are available from any board member or at the Faith in Action headquarters located on the hospital grounds. For more information call 475-3305.

Reinhart is in Chelsea

The Charles Reinhart Company is Washtenaw County's largest real estate firm because we work very hard to serve all of its individual communities.

For over 16 years, Reinhart has been listing and selling homes in the Chelsea area. Our ability to cover the entire county is what makes us so successful. Right now, we have many buyers, presently living in the city, who are interested in the lifestyle and better housing value Chelsea has to offer. For our home sellers, this is good news. It means a quicker sale and a higher sale price.

If you're considering selling or buying a home, let the Charles Reinhart Company put its 74-member team to work for you. The following agents live in the Chelsea area and are especially knowledgeable about the community.

Contact one of them today for complete information on our full range of real estate services.

Prospective Mothers Offered Program On Breastfeeding

"It's Never Too Early To Think About Breastfeeding," a program for prospective mothers and their families, will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 22, in the Education Center at Catherine McAuley Health Center, Ann Arbor.

The program is designed to help pregnant women and women who are thinking about becoming pregnant decide whether breastfeeding is right for them. It will examine the advantages and considerations of breastfeeding and how breastfeeding can fit into their lifestyle. Husbands, mothers, sisters and other relatives and friends of the prospective mother are invited.

There is a $10 fee per family. The course is co-sponsored by Catherine McAuley Health Center's Department of Maternal Child Health and Office of Health Promotion. For more information, call 372-3842.

Holy Week Services

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

We don't have ghettos out here in western Washtenaw county but we do have poor people. About one out of six families had incomes of $27 a day and that sad statistic from a local reference book is about 10 years old. Even in 1987, earnings are less than $40 a day for hundreds of local families.

In urban centers the evidence of poverty is highly visible but out here, where the affluent and indigent rub elbows on Main St. wearing baseball caps, blue jeans and sneakers, the differences are less easy to discern. I have taken pictures of people (always with their faces away from camera) receiving surplus food supplied by the USDA and I recognize some of these men and women as longtime members of the community. With few exceptions, the ones I know have spent their lives in useful occupations and raised families with a good share of kids on the honor roll.

The question that bothers us about these neighbors is: What happened to their independence?

The answer is a majority of cases was mistakes—the kind we can all avoid if we just learn to duck in time.

Quite a few men and women who experience poverty today are those who mistakenly believed that Social Security would meet all of their needs in old age. The truth is Social Security was never intended, nor promised, to provide total support. Also, there is no way that Congress can ever appropriate enough money to provide total support for all the annuitants in the nation.

In 1984, the average monthly Social Security check was $470. Three out of 10 persons also received average pensions of $360 for a "grand" total of $830. Currently the poverty level for a single person over 65 is $398 per month, and $607 for an elderly couple.

Barring wild inflation, a couple without private pensions who want to scrape by in retirement should have $150,000 in some mixture of investments. This money should be invested and the capital should never be invaded because of increasing life expectancies which could cause them to outlive their savings. The $150,000 will yield about $9,000 a year on a 6% return. It's easy to save this kind of money in a tax sheltered IRA or Keogh plan . . . if the saver starts early enough.

Back in the '60s and '70s many employed men and women elected to take early retirement. Later they discovered that they had made a compound error. By shortening their work careers they lengthened their years of retirement without an earned income. Equally hurtful, they reduced the amounts of their pensions. Nowadays workers are beginning to urge employers to retain them for years beyond 65.

Older workers have seen their future security diminished in other ways. Many, quite understandably, did not anticipate the extreme increases which have occurred in the cost of health care for older citizens. Yet another shock has been the soaring cost of housing, which increased in Chelsea by 187% between 1970 and 1980.

Of all assets in retirement one of the finest is a home that is fully paid for. There are no mortgage payments, just taxes, operation, upkeep and insurance. Down the road, if a couple or a surviving partner must move into a nursing home, the paid-for house is blessed capital.

Here in the Chelsea region not all poverty is confined to older people. The working population, as noted by Linda Ormsby, director of Chelsea Social Service, is centered in two general economic groups—school dropouts earning $3.75 to $5 an hour, and educated persons making between $10 and $20 an hour. The dropouts are barely escaping the poverty level in their younger years, and this is likely to continue through life, ending in the direst of public assistance.

THE PROSPERITY CLUB

Chelsea has plenty of effective social and civic organizations but it could stand one more. Its purpose would be for men and women to share their experience with each other to ensure lifelong personal or family prosperity. To have some sort of a name, let's call this organization the Chelsea Prosperity Club. And perhaps, since it will be a mutual aid society, it could be like Alcoholics Anonymous with low profile leadership and no dues, just modest voluntary donations. The restored and re-opened Depot would be a good meeting place.

In addition to mutual help, the Club would also reach out and offer prosperity assistance to two groups of people: 1. Men and women in mid-life who want to be safe and comfortable in their sunset years. 2. People of all ages, but especially youngsters, who face lifetime economic handicaps because of undereducation.

For the mid-life group, seminars would be held several times a year and be conducted for people who are close to their 40th birthdays. At this age, they would have a full 25 years to construct a custom-tailored plan for family or personal retirement. At age 40 their finances may be in a mess, or they may seem good when they are actually headed for disaster. It won't matter because, from this point on, their fortunes as Prosperity Club members will be headed for enlightenment. They have plenty of time to climb out of debt, pay off the mortgage and get started on capital accumulation. Part of life after 40 will be better discipline of impulsive spending.

After seminar lectures, small group meetings or one-on-one sessions could be held with Club advisors on specific problems of debt management, savings, investments, legal affairs and mid-life career planning.

The second major outreach of the Club would be to identify and help children who show signs of intending to quit school. Their teachers know the signals but lack the time, opportunity or authority to complete the rescue. Parents are frequently desperate and unable to cope. It is the Club that will have to develop its own expertise, agenda and teams of volunteers. They will learn (as members of Alcoholics have done in rescuing drinkers) that personal or team counseling helps. A former Bulldog football great who has gone on to build a successful business, makes a very convincing counselor. So does a girls' softball champ who is now a wife, mother and career woman.

The threat of quitting school is very nearly as tragic as the threat of suicide. Each threat is a cry for help which is of deep concern to the community. Failure and poverty among the young can lead to deep depression, addiction, crime and lives of shame.

The presence of the Prosperity Club would be a positive mechanism not duplicated by the society of this region. Socialists and Communists are always eager for the rich to divide their wealth among the poor. Here in free enterprise Chelsea we can share the counsel of the successful with the poor. As our self-reliant Indian forebears did before us, the Prosperity Club members won't offer the hungry person a free fish. They'll show him or her how to catch fish and have a nourishing harvest for life.

The same volunteer men and women who rescue the young from dropping out can also use their skills to revitalize the dropouts of yesterday. Many of these former dropouts will prove fully capable of academic learning and the mastery of upper tech skills.

Perhaps the rest of the United States may go into the 21st century with one fifth of its citizens living at the poverty level, but Chelsea should not tolerate as much as a tenth of its families to be poor. Admittedly, we have some people in our area who are destitute because of alcoholism, addiction to narcotics or who are victims of physical or mental limitations. Fortunately we have other means than the Club to help those who are so afflicted.

But for young to middle-aged people in our midst who are poor by mistake we have a job to do. Chelsea can take the initiative and show the world that poverty in a good community is not necessary when you date to care.

Melanie Lee Completes Study In Costa Rica

Melanie Lee spent three months living in a rural village in Costa Rica, and working with development programs that teach rural women how to start their own businesses. That experience contributed to Lee's senior individualized project at Kalamazoo College, which she presented on April 8.

Lee, a Spanish major from Chelsea, presented a paper entitled "Supplying and Capital to Rural Costa Rican Women: Understanding Their Constraints on Participation." Her paper includes a critique of the development programs, and a study of the difficulties experienced by rural women participating in the programs.

As a sophomore, Lee worked with Central American refugees in El Paso, Tex. She spent a portion of her junior year studying in Madrid, Spain. Melanie Lee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee of 14239 Hay Rake Hollow, Chelsea.

High School Music Program Set April 21

An all-high school music program will be presented Tuesday, April 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the George Prizma Auditorium. Participants will include the Chelsea High School Orchestra, the Concert Band, the Symphony Band, the choir, and two vocal groups, the Silhouettes and the Contemporaries.

According to band director Bill Gourley, this year's program will feature humorous music. The band will play a piece by P. D. Q. Bach entitled "Grand Serenade for an Awful Lot of Winds and Percussions," while the orchestra will play "Concerto Gross." Other light selections include the theme music from one of John Wayne's last movies, "The Cowboy," and portions of the "Barber of Seville" as heard on Bugs Bunny.

This concert will be the kick-off for the Symphony Band's tour of Boston which will occur April 21-26. The concert is free, although donations will be accepted, and the public is welcome.

4-H CLUBS

ROGERS CORNERS HERDSMEN

On March 30, Rogers Corners Herdsmen had their first 4-H meeting of the year. We had the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledge. Then the members introduced themselves. Election of officers was held. The results were as follows: president, Martin Heller; vice-president, Melinda McCalla; secretary, Kevin Kern; treasurer, Judy Barels.

Old business: We chose to sponsor the championship trophy at the 4-H fair.

New Business: We set the dues at 50¢ per person.

Melinda McCalla announced there would be a dance at the Chelsea Fairgrounds Saturday night.

Rogers Corners agreed to put on the buyers' dinner after the auction at the 4-H fair.

The next meeting is at Melinda McCalla's on April 28. Any new members are welcome to come.

At the end of we filled out enrollment sheets and played name and project Bingo. The Kerns provided refreshments.

Tax Allowance Sought for Farm Health Insurance

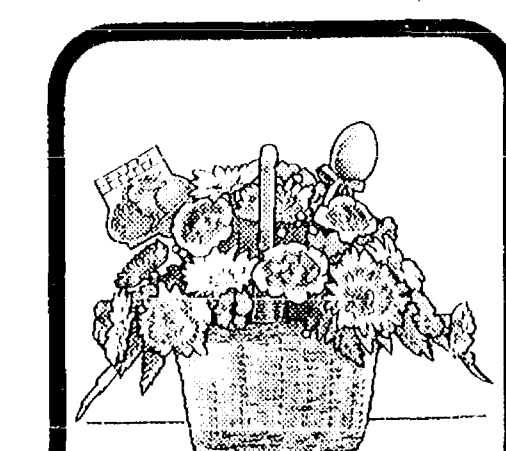

Michigan Congressman Bob Carr has introduced a bill to allow farmers and other self-employed people to deduct 100% of the cost of their health insurance premiums as a business expense on their federal tax returns. According to Michigan Farm Bureau's director of public affairs, Al Almy, the proposal has the "vigorous support" of the organization's members.

"The legislation would be a major step forward in bringing tax equity to the self-employed," Almy said. "Currently, self-employed individuals can only claim a 25% deduction on the cost of their health insurance premiums and then only if they provide health insurance to all of their employees. Congressman Carr's proposal would bring the tax equity which the self-employed, including farmers, so rightfully deserve."

"Most employers furnish health insurance for their employees," Carr said. "The company writes off the coverage as a business expense and the employee receives the fringe benefit tax-free. Farmers and other self-employed people must use their after-tax dollars to purchase health insurance. With the rising cost of such insurance, I believe this situation is unfair."

Almy believes that Carr's proposed legislation has a good chance of receiving serious consideration by Congress. The bill, H. R. 1892, has been referred to the House Ways and Means Committee.

F.D.A. Approves Anti-Plaque Mouth Rinse

Q: Is there any mouthwash on the market that will reduce plaque buildup?
A: There has been a recent trend in media advertising promoting products that reduce plaque through chemical rather than mechanical (brushing) means. Most of these products are not new and contain no new ingredients. One of the products that is new and has been marketed directly through dentists rather than the mass media is the Viadent line of products. Viadent products which include a mouth rinse and both fluoridated and non-fluoridated toothpastes contain sanguinaria, a compound which has proven effective in reducing plaque that can cause bad breath and gum disease. Viadent products do not require prescription but you can expect to pay more for it than other toothpastes and mouth-rinses.

Another new product called Peridex has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration as a proven plaque inhibitor. Peridex contains the active ingredient chlorhexidine gluconate, a synthetic germicide discovered in the early 1950s in England. Dr. H. Lee, now Director of the National Institute of Dental Research in Bethesda Maryland, first published research in 1970 that showed the germicide to have value as a plaque inhibitor. It has a broad spectrum of activity against yeasts, bacteria, and some viruses and is also used in some types of surgical scrub solutions.

Unfortunately there are some minor side effects of Peridex. Thirty-five percent of the people using the mouthwash report alterations in taste perception and fifty percent of the controlled studies actually showed an increase in stain and the formation of tartar (calculus) on the teeth above the gum tissue. Also, although Peridex has proven effective against gingivitis, its routine use without proper diagnosis could mask deeper, progressive periodontitis.

The Proctor & Gamble literature refers to Peridex as a rinse that will help control a patient's gingivitis between office visits and is an adjunct to brushing and flossing. Peridex is presently available by prescription only.

Introducing an HMO that gives you access to some of the most impressive medical technologies known to man.

Behold the frontiers of diagnostic understanding, the latest weapons against disease and trauma, the medical technologies available to you through M-CARE, the new HMO from The University of Michigan.

To get a closer look at these medical marvels, look inside the medical bag of an M-CARE primary care physician. It contains: a stethoscope, pen light, reflex hammer, blood-pressure cuff, a device for looking in ears called an otoscope, another for looking into eyes called an ophthalmoscope, a handful of tongue depressors, latex gloves, a couple of handbooks on prescription drugs, and a tape measure.

Okay, so maybe this equipment isn't so sophisticated. Maybe you've seen it all before. The truth be known, the contents of the typical medical bag haven't changed much over the last two generations. The stethoscope, for example, is more than 150 years old. But these things perform impressive feats indeed in the hands of a highly-trained and experienced physician, the kind of primary care physicians in internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, pediatrics, and family practice that come with M-CARE.

Of course, you won't find the most important tool an M-CARE physician possesses in a medical bag. That's an ability to listen to you. Through simple conversation and a well-directed physical examination, a good doctor can get a very good picture of your health, confirm the need for specific tests, refer your care and treatment to a specialist, or give you the simple assurance that everything's going to be okay.

Even with the world-renowned U of M Medical Center at our disposal, a personal relationship with a highly knowledgeable, compassionate and caring primary care physician is, perhaps, still the most impressive medical technology M-CARE can offer.

Ask your employer to include M-CARE among your health care options. For more information, please call (313) 747-8700.

Brian Gunderson OK'd As Rec. Council Member

In Chelsea Board of Education actions Monday evening approval was given Brian Gunderson as a Recreation Council candidate to fill the remaining two years of the three-year term vacated by the resignation of Karen Tobin, and the acceptance of computers and televisions donated to North school by the Parent Teacher Association.

As an information item, curriculum director Laurie Bissell explained the restructuring of the band program which is recommended by the curriculum review committee. At present, there are two bands, the Concert Band made up of 9th graders and the Symphony Band composed of 10th, 11th, and 12th graders. Under the recommended change, the Concert Band will be eliminated. Instead 9th grade musicians will join the Symphony band, while upper class students may audition to join a new group, the Wind Ensemble, which will work on an expanded repertoire. Action on this item will occur at the next board meeting, April 20.

An Easter Meditation

In the glorious Easter Story
A troubled world can find
Blessed reassurance
And enduring peace of mind—
For though we grow discouraged
In this world we're living in,
There is comfort just in knowing
That God triumphed over sin,
For our Saviour's Resurrection
Was God's way of telling men
That in Christ we are eternal
And in Him we live again—
And to know life's unending
And God's love is endless, too,
Makes our daily tasks and burdens
So much easier to do,
And our earthly trials and problems
Are but guideposts on the way
To the love and life eternal
That God promised Easter Day.

... [Jesus Christ] hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel.

'Gypsy Scam' Operations Reported Again Recently

"Beware the gypsy scam artists, now that spring approaches, bringing more pleasant weather," warns Detective Robert Randolph of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Randolph explained residents of both the Chelsea and Dexter areas should be advised at least one pair of gypsy scam artists have already begun infiltrating the community this year.

Methods they have used, and one suspect's description, match those reported to authorities during the summer of 1986 by some of the victimized, or nearly victimized, people residing in western Washtenaw county.

Reported missing to date are bank passbooks and $300 in cash.

This year's activities reported last week include one incident in the Manchester area and another in the city of Ann Arbor.

In both cases, the vehicle transporting the two men was identified as a "black van."

One of the men was described as a white male with muscular build, approximately six feet tall, collar-length dark hair, in his 30's and kind of skinny.

During the late afternoon of Friday, April 3, on Sharon Hollow Rd. near Manchester, a lady citizen-victim was approached by two male subjects who told her they were there two years ago and she needed work on her roof vents and on her roof—adding she still needed the work done.

In the incident reported to the Ann Arbor Police Dept., two older women were told by a man, fitting the description given above, after he came to the door of their residence, that he was from the water department to check for acid in the water.

He threatened to shut off the water.

Once inside the house, he kept the two ladies busy emptying cabinets, boiling water, etc., and an older man who arrived with the first suspect "went to the truck for pipe," returning inside the house with his partner.

One of the men was observed taking something from the china cabinet in the residence.

Campaign Starts To Raise Depot Renovation Funds

The Chelsea Depot trustees are determined to have the station open to the public early this summer. A campaign will begin in the next 10 days to raise money to steam clean the building, make immediate interior repairs, install sanitary plumbing, insulation, heating and ventilation. With this start, the depot will quickly be usable for public meetings, special events and the first services of the Chelsea Historical Museum.

"Such a beginning will cost about $25,000 and we feel confident the community will pitch in to raise it," said Lee Fahrner, Depot board chairman. "What's more, raising this sum will be an achievement of double significance. In addition to enabling us to open and use the Depot, success of the spring campaign will strengthen our ability to raise $75,000 or more from charitable foundations here in Michigan."

"We had donations of $50,000 from the community which enabled us to buy the Depot from Amtrak and do a fine job of restoring its 1880 exterior. After we raise $25,000 this spring, we will have gathered a grand total of $75,000. This is a notable achievement for a rural community. Having done this much for ourselves, charitable institutions are more likely to respond when we go to them for help."

A total of $100,000 is needed to carry the Depot restoration to completion and equip the building for educational, cultural and civic services. Funds are needed as follows: Steam washing the interior, $2,500. Painting walls and ceilings, $6,400. Lavatories, $4,500. Interior woodwork, $15,000. Lighting, electric receptacles and fixtures, $8,000. Insulation, $5,500. Heating and cooling, $9,000. Carpentry for fire exit doors, $4,500. Refinishing hardwood floors, $10,500. Professional fees, $5,000. Tables, folding chairs, desk, files, window blinds, $9,000. Microfilm equipment and cabinets, $6,500. Motion picture and slide projection equipment, sound system, $1,500. Museum artifacts, photos, genealogical files, pictures, display cases, $10,500. from treasury.) Totals are expected to be close to the target but line items are likely to vary.

The plan to raise $25,000 locally during April and May is as follows:

$10,000 from donations of $100 from each of the 100 families and individuals who have contributed that much or more in 1986,

$10,000 or more from major firms and organizations which enabled the community to buy the station from Amtrak and launch the restoration of the exterior, and $5,000 or more from families and individuals living in the Chelsea School District.

A campaign mailing will be sent on or about April 24 but phone calls and other efforts will begin sooner. Actual construction work will begin early in May.

Four Straight Wins Open Varsity Softball Season

After a productive spring training trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., coach Charlie Waller's softball team returned last week and won their first four games of the season in a four-team tournament at Webberville Saturday.

Webberville was the victim in the first and fourth games, falling 4-1 in the opener, and 3-0 in the finale.

The Dogs dropped Fowlerville in the second game, 4-1, then beat an error-prone Lansing Waverly squad, 12-8.

The Bulldogs played without several of their regulars, who were off taking college entrance exams.

"I guess our hitting was a little better than I expected, even though it didn't show up in the statistics," Waller said.

"We saw three good pitchers and we hit them better than I thought. But we still have a long way to go."

In the opener, senior Pam Brown got her first start on the mound. She gave up two hits, struck out 10, walked one, and yielded one unearned run.

"She showed pretty good form on a chilly day," Waller said.

Chelsea picked up two unearned runs in the first inning when Kim Ferry singled to score Kim Easton and Trisha Mattoff.

A Chelsea throwing error in the sixth inning cut the Bulldog lead to 2-1.

However, four solid singles in the seventh inning by Kelly Dale, Easton, Mattoff and Brown, along with a sacrifice by Karen Weber, produced two runs.

Sophomore Jenny Smith started the second game on the mound and gave up just one hit through four innings. Brown finished the game.

Chelsea scored two unearned runs in the third inning for the early lead after Mattoff and Brown reached on bunting errors.

After Fowlerville cut the lead to 2-1 in the third inning, Chelsea came back with three big runs in the fifth inning.

After Heather Neibauer reached on an error, two sacrifices and a fielder's choice brought her home. Weber and Mattoff singled to score the final runs.

Peggy Hammerschmidt was the winning pitcher in the 12-8 victory over Lansing Waverly.

Through 5 1/3 innings, Hammerschmidt had a no hitter going and a 10-1 lead.

However, the rains came and Ham-merschmidt had control problems with the wet ball. Brown, who pitched in relief, also couldn't find the plate. When it was all over, Lansing had scored seven runs on two hits.

Lansing had defensive problems throughout the game as Chelsea scored 12 runs on four hits. Lansing's previous opponent, Webberville, won 8-5 without a hit.

Weber had two hits and Chris Basso doubled, the two offensive highlights of the contest.

Jenny Pichlik and Kelly Stump combined for the shutout over Webberville in the finale.

Stump got the win as she relieved in the fourth inning with a scoreless tie.

Chelsea finally scored two runs in the sixth when Laura Torres singled and was sacrificed to second. Leah Enderle singled Torres home and later scored on an error.

The final run was scored in the seventh when Alisha Dorow singled, Basso and Torres sacrificed, and Easton rapped a run-scoring single.

"Easton, Ferry, Weber and Mattoff all had good days for us," Waller said.

"In the game she caught, Easton threw out three runners at second base."

LISA UNTERBRINK, above, and her sister, Laura, pitched the Chelsea Bulldog JV softball team to their first two wins of the season last Saturday against Webberville at home.

Tennis Team Drops Opener

Chelsea High school varsity tennis team was beaten by Allen Park Cabrini in the Bulldogs' first match of the season Monday afternoon, 5-2.

According to Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter, the teams were about equal in talent but Cabrini had the advantage of having played several matches this season.

Freshman John Rigg dropped his first singles match to Andy Kramer, 5-7, 4-6.

Senior John Stevens was the only singles winner at number two, taking a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Tom Connolly.

At third singles, sophomore Jason Richardson was defeated by Doug Wolf, 1-6, 6-7.

And at fourth singles, senior Mike Popovich lost to Kelton Kaye, 2-6, 4-6.

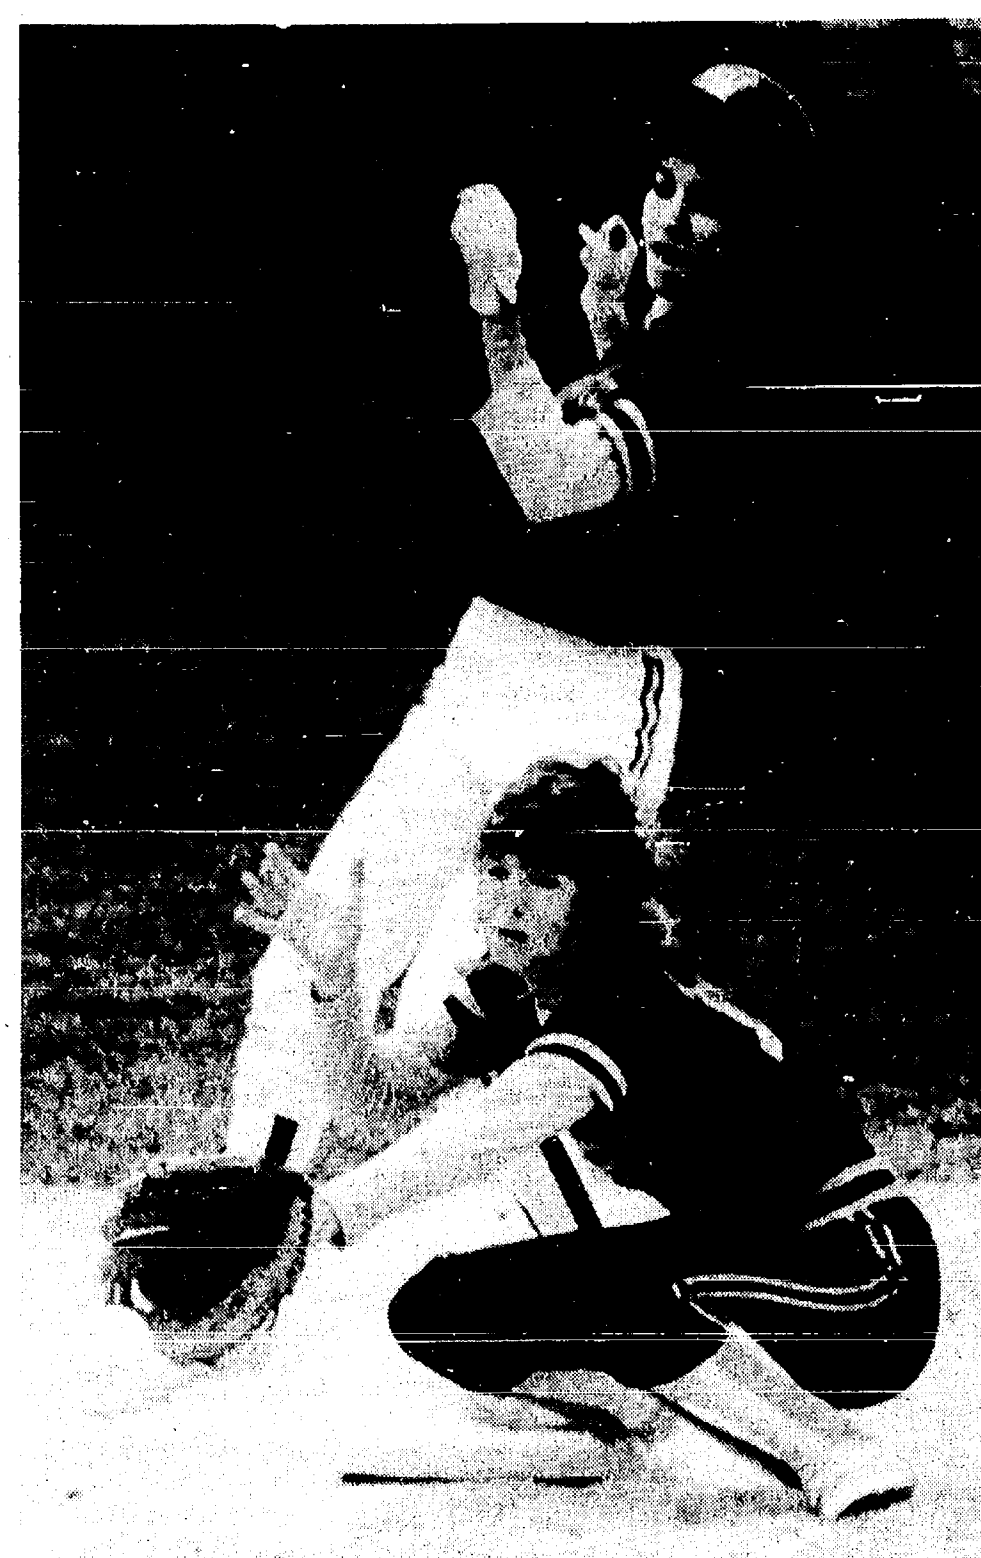

In doubles, Chelsea's top team of juniors Larry Moore and Bob Pratt dropped a 1-6, 3-6 decision to Sean Newell and Brian Hill.

The second doubles team of sophomores Jason Overdorf and Eric Worthing won in three sets, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1 over Brian Townsend and Brian Dally.

The third doubles team of sophomores Adam Heeter and Eric Frisinger lost in three sets, 1-6, 7-5, 1-6 to Greg Gretka and Brad Hock.

CHRISTIE PETTY crouches low to field a throw from the catcher during first game JV action against Webberville Saturday. Chelsea won both games.

Dogs Stop Webberville As Unterbrinks Shine

Lisa and Laura Unterbrink picked up the first two wins of the season for coach Pat Clarke's junior varsity softball team last Saturday, April 11 at home against Webberville.

Lisa tossed a three-hitter in a 10-3 victory in the opener and her sister didn't allow a base hit in the 6-2 second game.

In the opener, played on a windy day with occasional rain, Lisa Unterbrink struck out 11 batters and walked one on her way to her first JV win.

The Bulldogs scored three runs in the first inning and stretched their lead to 5-1 after three innings.

Freshman Heidi Boyer had two of Chelsea's six hits, including a two-run double in the first inning. It was the Dogs' only extra base hit.

Jenny Ghent was the defensive star of the game at second base, Clarke said.

In the second game, freshman Scharme Petty rapped a two-run triple in the fourth inning to key a five-run outburst for the Bulldogs.

Laura Unterbrink struck out 11 and walked four as the Bulldogs played outstanding defense behind her.

"Our two pitchers were outstanding," Clarke said.

"Webberville was a fine JV team with two good pitchers. We still have a long way to go, but this was a nice way to start. Jeannie Heim did a fine job catching both games."

Petty had the only multiple-hit game for Chelsea, which picked up six for the game.

Several of the JV regulars played for the varsity as several of the regular varsity players were taking college entrance exams.

Chile peppers aren't peppers, although you couldn't tell your tongue that. Technically they are fruits, members of the genus Capsicum. The distinguishing characteristic of peppers comes from the presence of capscium, a clear highly pungent substance; the more of this stuff, the hotter the pepper.

Free Fishing Week-End Highlights DNR Week

A week-end of free fishing, boating and camping will kick off a number of scheduled events planned by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for Sesquicentennial Natural Resources Week, June 7-14, as proclaimed by Governor James J. Blanchard.

"These scheduled events will afford a special opportunity for Michigan residents and our outstate visitors to not only enjoy the State's many natural recreational resources," said DNR Director Gordon E. Guyer, "but also, to recognize and appreciate those same resources that have made Michigan one of the major travel destinations in the United States."

Michigan's free fishing week-end, June 6-7, will headline the list of events by allowing residents and non-residents to fish without a fishing license. The week-end was approved by the Natural Resources Commission, who additionally approved an annual Michigan free fishing week-end over the next five years, to coincide with the National Fishing Week, held annually, the first full week of June.

Other events scheduled during the week include:

—Free overnight lodging at all of the 150 State Forest Campgrounds on June 6 and June 7.

—Free vehicle entry into all 87 State Park and Recreation Areas on June 7. Open houses at each park and recreation area will also take place.

—Free mooring, launching and parking at the 11 State-owned harbors and 26 State public access sites on June 7.

—Open houses at all 84 DNR Regional, District and Field Offices and six State-operated fish hatcheries on selected days from June 8-12.

—A "living legends" awards ceremony honoring conservation leaders, past and present, communities and industries on June 12.

—A State-wide rivers canoe flotilla, tentatively planned for June 13, held in conjunction with Michigan Rivers Month held in June.

—A reunion of the depression era Civilian Conservation Corps at North Higgins Lake State Park from June 4-7.

SCOTT J. STRUDGEON

Scott Strudgeon Promoted With Metro Park System

Scott J. Strudgeon has been promoted to the position of park maintenance supervisor at Kensington Metropark near Milford/Brighton.

He previously was general park maintenance foreman at Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropark in Washtenaw county, Huron Meadows in Livingston county, and Indian Springs and Marshbank Metroparks in Oakland county.

Strudgeon started at Hudson Mills Metropark in 1974 and became maintenance foreman at the park in 1983. He received the "HCMA Outstanding Employee of the Year" award in 1983.

He graduated from Pinckney High school, Pinckney, and attended Washtenaw Community College and North West Michigan College in Traverse City.

Strudgeon succeeds George Prieskorn, who held the park maintenance position at Kensington park since 1982 and resigned to enter private business.

Strudgeon is chairman of the Dexter Village Park Commission. He and his wife, Cynthia, and their two children reside in Dexter.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

It looks like high school basketball is all set to have the three-point shot in effect next season.

Does that thrill you?

At the beginning of the most recent college basketball season, when the rule was first implemented, I thought the new rule was a bad idea.

I still don't like it much. But I have to admit, it added a new dimension to college basketball. Providence never would have gone so far in the NCAA tournament without the rule. Many teams who found themselves behind in the closing seconds were able to pull out victories, victories that would have been nearly impossible the year before.

A three-point rule could be one of the best, and one of the worst, things to happen to high school basketball.

You only have to look as far as next year's Chelsea High school basketball team to see why it could be a good idea.

Unless somebody named Kareem Abdul Olajuwon moves here, the Bulldogs will live and die by the jump shot. If you thought the Dogs were a little on the short side this year, wait 'til next season. Greg Boughton and Tim Anderson have a little height, but they aren't what you'd call dominating players on the inside.

If Chelsea can hit 35 percent (wishful thinking?) from three-point range, they'll have a lot better chance against teams like Milan, Pinckney and Lincoln, who will all have some height.

Chelsea isn't the only small high school in this predicament, which is the reason I'm a lot more in favor of a three-point rule for high school.

High school coaches, obviously, have to work with the talent available in the school district. And in districts like Chelsea, where the gene pool leans toward white and Germanic, true centers are hard to come by. This isn't likely to change, especially since Rahn Rosentreter can't go out and recruit.

So, the three-point rule could be more of an equalizing factor in high school.

If I were Junior Morseau, Larry Nix, Matt Monroe, John Cattell, or one of the Plank boys, I'd shoot a couple hundred jump shots every day from now on.

The bad side to this rule is in the officiating. Trying to judge a three-point shot with two officials will be difficult at best. The angles of view will be awkward. There will be a lot of mistakes. There are already so many things for officials to watch. Some excitable coaches will pick up a lot of technical fouls.

If nothing else, I hope athletic directors everywhere have the three-point lines painted black so they clash with the white toes of most basketball shoes. It'll make the close calls a lot easier to see.

The Chelsea High school spring sports season gets into full swing this week, assuming the weather co-operates.

And when it's all over, don't be surprised to see three or four more Southeastern Conference championship trophies in the cases by the fishbowl.

The varsity softball team won four straight Saturday with some of their best girls off taking the ACTs.

Coach Charlie Walker is blessed with both strength and humor on his coaching staff. His team always plays good defense and is sound fundamentally. The Dogs could make a run at the state championship again this year.

I've talked to a couple of the Bulldog baseball players and they are charged up. They are serious about winning the baseball championship to complete the football, basketball, baseball triad. That extra motivation could make the difference.

This year's baseball team may not have the stars it had last year, but it has many solid athletes and a good attitude. This could be their year.

Bill Bainton's girls track team could dominate the league as it did last year. There are so many good distance and middle distance runners back, many of whom were on the runner-up state cross country team last fall. They know how to compete and how to come through in the clutch.

I don't really have a good feel for the boys track team. But if new coach Ted Wilson's enthusiasm is contagious, the boys could also find themselves on top of the SEC.

There are some exceptional performers on the team, none better than pole vaulter Mike Westhoven, who broke 13 feet last year in his first season.

Oh, yes, Chelsea does have a tennis team, although the league doesn't recognize a champion. If it did, however, Chelsea would have been last year's runner-up. They should do at least that well this year, since Saline and Pinckney are the only other schools with teams.

FRESHMAN JOHN RIGG played his first match ever for the Bulldogs on Monday in the season opener against Allen Park Cabrini. Chelsea lost the match, 2-5.

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Dudderar

Thanks at least in part to that familiar saying about a young man's fancy, we often think of spring as a time of courtship.

For many of the wildlife residents of Michigan, however, courtship is going on now.

The resident waterfowl, for instance, are beginning their courtship rituals now. People who have a Sunday afternoon habit of feeding the MSU ducks along the Red Cedar River are finding that the ducks suddenly have other priorities. Ducks that would gobble up stale bread and popcorn in January aren't as interested in food in February. Well fed all winter, they have the energy reserves for courting, and right now, that's more important to them than food, especially on a sunny day.

In urban areas, this is the time of year to observe several squirrels chasing through the trees and along the telephone wires and wrestling and tumbling on the ground. The squirrels' frolic in the snow is more serious than it looks, for this is both courtship and mating time. The young squirrels will be born in late March or early April, when food is becoming readily available for the mothers nursing young.

At the bird feeder, you may see signs that Michigan's resident birds are beginning their pairing and courtship. Cardinals, for instance, will more consistently show up in pairs, and you may see the males feeding the females as part of the courtship routine. They'll mate later so that young hatch in late spring or early summer.

Great horned owls are engaged in courtship and mating now. Eggs laid now will hatch about the time the snow has melted and food is becoming more readily available to adult owls with hungry young to feed.

People who live in rural areas may be seeing foxes doing what looks like a ritual dance. This is part of their courtship and mating display. Fox kits will be born in June.

This is the time when people start seeing male and female raccoons together for a brief time, wrestling and tumbling about on the ground. They, too, are involved in courtship and mating. Their young will then be born in April.

Rabbits are also courting and mating now. The male rabbit runs circles around the female, often jumping over her. She doesn't stand still while this is going on, so your snow-covered yard may have so many rabbit tracks that you might think a whole herd of rabbits had gone through. Chances are it was just one active pair, however.

Later in February and in early March is the true groundhog's day in Michigan, the time when hibernating groundhogs come out of their burrows. Often the males come out first and begin roaming the countryside in search of females whose dens they will share for a period of courtship and mating.

Depending on when the ground thaws, it's also a time when that old, familiar pest, the mole, is smitten. The male mole wanders widely in search of females, often putting on an impressive exhibit of mole tunneling ability.

Some animals are not courting now, of course. For deer, the time of courtship is the fall. For bears, which are still hibernating, courtship and mating occurred in the summer and young are being born now.

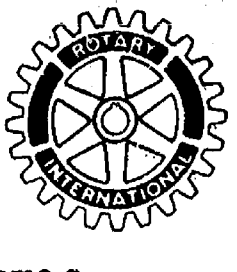

For many of our more common animals, however, the mid-February holiday for sweethearts is very appropriate. Even the migratory songbirds that we'll see engaged in courtship and mating rituals in April and May are starting their courtship now in the South. What you'll see then is the end of what you see starting now in our resident birds as you observe nature from your backdoor.

St. Paul UCC Church Has Full Schedule of Easter Services

St. Paul United Church of Christ will celebrate Maundy Thursday with Holy Communion and a Service of Tenebrae at 7:30 p.m. Members of the 1987 Confirmation Class will partake of the sacrament for the first time, and following the service will have their class picture taken. Their parents will participate in the Tenebrae Service, reading scripture passages reflecting the last hours of Jesus' life leading up to the crucifixion. "Tenebrae" means "darkness," with candles gradually being extinguished symbolizing the gathering darkness of death and the fleeing of the disciples. The Chancel Choir will sing.

A Good Friday Prayer Vigil will begin at 6 p.m. and conclude at 6 a.m. Saturday morning. The sanctuary will be lit with candle-light, and the quietness will enhance the atmosphere of prayer and meditation. Members of the church will be in church during the entire evening, and coffee will be available. The community is invited. The Prayer Vigil is sponsored by the Spiritual Life Department. Meditation guides will be available.

Easter Sunday services will begin at 8 a.m. with worship being led by the Senior High Fellowship. They have written an original service, with various musical instruments being used, including the harp, trumpet, and flutes. A chancel drama depicting the first Easter will include many youth. A Service of Communion will also be observed. An Easter Breakfast will be served from 9 to 9:45 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall, served by the young people, to which the congregation and community is invited. The church school program will be held from 9:30 to 10:15 a.m., and the later service will begin at 10:30 a.m., with Holy Communion. The Chapel, Youth and Chancel Choirs will sing at the later service.

GIVE THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE.

Easter Season At St. Barnabas

The message of the Easter Season is one of sacrifice, love and salvation for all.

- Sacrifice for us by God who cares so deeply that He gave His Son to bear our sins even to the death of the cross.
- Love so deep that Christ willingly died that we might live.
- Salvation for us in our sins being forgiven and in the promise of life eternal in the Risen Lord.

It is a very special Season. Accept God's great gifts for you, gifts unearned yet freely given.

COME AND WORSHIP THIS SEASON. COME AND GREET THE LORD OF YOUR LIFE. COME HOME TO CHURCH.

Easter Egg Hunts Mark Holiday for Kids

Saturday, April 18 will be a big one for local children as two Easter Egg hunts will be held before noon.

For the second year, Atkinson Chiropractic Clinic on Clarks Lake Rd. will be sponsoring a hunt for children up to their early teens beginning at 9 a.m.

At 11 a.m., another hunt, formerly sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees, will be held at the Chelsea High school athletic fields.

At the Atkinson hunt, more than 450 colored eggs will be awarded for children to hunt down, with special prizes awarded to children who find special eggs.

There will be three age categories and three separate hunts—one for youngsters, one for "teens" and another for young teens.

No registration is necessary, just show up.

In addition, there will be an appearance by the Easter Bunny.

The hunt at Chelsea High is being made possible, in part, by Chelsea Woodshed Eatery, which is donating 160 dozen eggs.

The hunt, for years sponsored by Chelsea Jaycees, had no official sponsor at press time. The Jaycees were forced by the state organization to disband due to low membership.

However, former members decided they wanted to organize the event anyway and are putting the event together in quick fashion. One or more additional organizations may help put on the event, according to former Jaycee Tim Merkel.

Dyeing of the eggs is scheduled to begin at 6:30 Friday at the First United Methodist church.

There will be four age categories and prizes will be awarded for finding the right eggs. In years past the Easter Bunny has also found the way to the festivities.

"We're going crazy with all the work," Merkel said.

"Now let's hope it doesn't rain."

Both hunts are scheduled to happen, rain or shine.

Several small Kentucky towns will soon have a "low-tech, low-cost" way to meet water quality standard for sewage effluents, reports "International Wildlife magazine. How? ... By an artificial wetland. The man-made wetland, which is being designed by the National Wildlife Federation and the Tennessee Valley Authority, will filter sewage effluents—and at the same time increase wildlife habitat.

Jerry Straub, Chairman — 475-7648

THE CHELSEA MINISTERIAL FELLOWSHIP decided at their March meeting to give all the proceeds from the community Good Friday service to the Cassidy Lake ministry to use for supplies, mainly hymn books. Shown are Alton Koenigter, John Morris, Jerry Parker, Joe Rinaldo, Mearl Bradley, Erwin Koch, Franklin Giebel, Thode Thodeson, John Gibbon, and Chuck Clemons. Ron Smeenge took the picture.

Ministerial Assoc. Allocates Funds for Cassidy Lake Hymnals

Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship, an association of Chelsea pastors, has been involved in chapel services at the Cassidy Lake Technical school facility for many years. When the Rev. Thode Thodeson retired as pastor of the Chelsea Christian Fellowship, CMF asked him if he would work at Cassidy Lake. For the last several years, he has volunteered his time, both as a minister and in coordinating other people's contributions. He is assisted in his endeavors by his wife, Dorothy, who serves as pianist and memory work instructor.

The volunteer ministry, under the Rev. Thodeson's direction, has grown to the extent that the chapel is in use six days a week. Volunteers are made up primarily of dedicated lay people, although a number of other ministers also participate.

Sunday night services are led by the Rev. and Mrs. Thode Thodeson and by the Rev. Tom and Dorothy Skoog of Adrian. Attendance varies from 20-60. Inmates often lead the singing and take part in prayers. They help meet the needs of new inmates by supplying Bibles and other helpful literature from the chapel office.

Monday nights, a songfest and share-and-tell service is lead by Ivan Magge and Donald McCash, both retirees from Adrian. Attendance is from 16-25.

Tuesday evenings Robert Guinan directs Catholic services from 6 to 7 p.m. From 7 to 9 p.m., the same evening, Richard Bunnie of Manchester and Jerry Jahnke from Chelsea, conduct Bible studies. Attendance varies from 16-30.

Wednesday afternoon Pastor Thodeson offers counseling sessions from 3 to 4:45 p.m. Every Wednesday night, except for the first in the month, Metro Prison Ministries from Westland presents a worship service. Once a month, they show a film. Attendance has gone to more than 100 at times.

Thursday nights Bible stories are offered to those who have greater spiritual desires. The Rev. Thodeson and the Rev. Skoog take turns teaching the classes every other month. Attendance averages 15.

Saturday night the inmates have their own service of singing, special numbers, and Bible verse studies. Attendance is growing, now averaging 10 to 12.

Bibles, New Testaments, and books by converts are provided at no charge to the inmates. Various publications such as devotionals, weekly and monthly pamphlets, and magazines are also available.

Special events occur at the chapel from time to time. Greta Russell, a faculty teacher, arranges for her church choir from Ypsilanti to present an evening program several times a year. It is always well attended with the chapel almost full.

Special films are shown at the chapel, the cost carried by churches or friends. For instance, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Beaupre of Ypsilanti show a film every second Sunday evening.

The Church in the City, an inner city church group from Detroit, comes every other month, on a Sunday.

On April 16 the Chelsea Christian Fellowship will present the Easter cantata, "Behold the Lamb" by Dan Krueger.

At their March meeting, CMF set aside funding for new hymn books for the chapel. The money will come from the offering received from the community friends attending the Good Friday service to be held at the Free Methodist church on Werkner Rd.

The administration at CLTS appreciates this volunteer interest. They are scheduling on April 30, volunteer recognition evening complete with a prison dinner, certificates, and tour. On May 19 they have invited CMF to meet there for their regular fellowship and to see the improvements being made.

Good Friday Service Set at Free Methodist

Chelsea Ministerial Association has determined that this year's community Good Friday Service will be held at the Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7665 Werkner Rd., Friday, April 17 from 1 until 2:30 p.m. Many of the area clergy will be participating.

The Rev. Bruce Rhodes of the Chelsea Free Methodist church will deliver the homily. There will be a dramatic reading from the Bible, from St. John's account of events of Good Friday. The Rev. and Mrs. Ron Smeenge of Covenant church will provide special music. Also contributing music for the service will be the Tintinnabulators of the First United Methodist church of Chelsea, under the direction of Mrs. Donna Palmer. The ushers will be members of the Chelsea Christian Men's Fellowship.

Offerings received at the service will go to benefit the ministry at Cassidy Lake, especially for the purchase of song books.

While chili isn't by any means the only product of chile peppers, it is certainly the most popular. Chiles are also used in: cocktail and hot sauces, salad dressing, processed meats, burritos, huevos rancheros, guacamole, and even martinis.

Farmers Watching Prime Rate Increase

The recent quarter percent increase in the prime rate by several banks should not have a major effect on agricultural loans, according to Michigan Farm Bureau agricultural economist Robert Craig.

"I don't think this increase will have a significant impact on the short term or long term interest rates that farmers will be paying because it's too small of an adjustment," Craig said.

If the prime rate continued to increase, Craig said, the interest rates on farm loans could be affected.

Chelsea Police Make 287 Radio Runs in March

Chelsea police made 287 radio runs in March, up two from February, according to Chief Lenard McDougall's monthly report to the village council.

The biggest share of radio runs came from 29 ordinance violations and 29 vehicle inspections. There were also 15 runs for suspicious persons, 10 for suspicious vehicles and 10 for civil disturbances, and 10 related to dogs.

There were also 10 felony criminal complaints, ranging from breaking and entering to escapes from area minimum security prisons. There were 19 misdemeanor criminal complaints, ranging from seven larcenies to one complaint of assault and battery.

There were eight juvenile-related complaints, from three for malicious mischief to one for possession of drugs.

There were 20 other traffic runs. Police made 11 misdemeanor arrests, counting two at the end of February, five warrant arrests and one felony arrest.

The department also reported revenues of $3,245.15 for March, including $1,016.49 from parking meters, $592.33 in parking fines, $960.33 in district court fines and costs, and $676 in other parking violations, including violation of the 2 a.m. to 5 a.m. regulation.

FLORENCE HUBBARD, at age 95 the oldest member of Girl Scout Troop 777, wore a 1912 Girl Scout uniform to the Western Washtenaw Area Alumnae Tea held April 9 at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. The uniform belonged to troop leader Connie Amick's mother.

MARGARET HANKES OF MANCHESTER reminisced at the Western Washtenaw Area Girl Scout Alumnae Tea about being in the first Girl Scout troop in Manchester in 1922. She was accompanied by Nancy Althouse, shown standing, also of Manchester.

Girl Scout Troop 777 Hosts Reunion Tea

Girl Scout Troop 777, which consists of residents of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, sponsored the Western Washtenaw Area Girl Scout Alumnae Reunion Tea on Thursday, April 9. Anyone from the Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, or Saline areas who had participated in Girl Scouting during its 75-year history were invited.

Several members of the host troop were clad in historic uniforms. Florence Hubbard, who at 95 is the troop's oldest member, wore a 1912 uniform which had belonged to leader Connie Amick's mother. Mary Selwa wore a 1912 uniform which belonged to Amick's aunt. Rose Hartley, who was serving the punch, wore a 1929 uniform which Amick's aunt wore when she was a leader.

Amick explained that she was able to get the uniforms because she comes from New England where people are "pack rats." She said she had more old uniforms, but not all of them fit anyone.

Margaret Hanks of Manchester told about being in the first Manchester Girl Scout troop. She said that in 1922, when she was nine or ten, she and some friends, having read about girl scouting in the Detroit Sunday paper, convinced a woman they knew, Louise Goodyear, to form a troop. Goodyear went on to become a Girl Scout professional, working in Detroit, Jackson, and Buffalo, N.Y. When Goodyear celebrated her 40th year in scouting, members of her first troop sent her 40 red roses, which she said was the best gift she received.

When Hanks moved to Jackson as a young adult, Goodyear was working there and convinced her to be a leader. Hanks remembered the camp uniforms of that time as "not comfortable" and "too hot." She described them as knickers which went below the knees and middle blouses.

People attending the tea reminisced about the badges in the old days, agreeing they were more practical than those offered today. Some examples were badges in ironing, washing, bedmaking, and cooking. They remembered learning French seams and how to make beds with hospital corners.

Also attending the tea was Paul Brasseau, a Girl Scout volunteer from Belleville who is co-ordinating the 75th birthday celebrations for four counties, Washtenaw, Wayne, Livingston, and Monroe. Brasseau started as a Daisy leader and then became a troop service director before taking on this new responsibility.

The sponsoring group set up a table of historic scouting memorabilia including old handbooks, one dating from 1917 with a copyright by Girl Scout founder Juliet Low; old caps and sashes; and scrapbooks recording Troop 777's 10 years of existence.

The next big event in the celebration of the 75th birthday is a gathering of all the Huron Valley Girl Scouts at Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor. Guests will include 400 Girl Guides from Canada.

Area Students Earn Honors From U. of M.

Twenty-three area students were honored at the University of Michigan's annual Honors Convocation held March 29. Two Chelsea residents, Susan Jane Overdorf and Paula Caroline Columbo, received William J. Branstetter Prizes, a book of their choice and a bookmark, for being in the top five percent of their class.

Kurt William Eisenbeiser of Chelsea and Timothy Paul Darr of Dexter were named Angell Scholars for maintaining an all-A record for two or more consecutive terms as undergraduates.

The rest were given Class Honors in recognition of undergraduate academic records equal to at least half A's and half B's for two or more consecutive terms.

Recipients from Chelsea included Kevin Michael Columbo, Sharon Sybil Glassford, Patrick David Killelea, Daniel Richard Klemer, Cindy Lynn Kvarnberg, and Kimberly Kay Smith.

Dexter recipients included Kevin Michael Clark, Kimberly Lynn Clark, Daniel Edward Haworth, Julie Michell Siebert, Heidi May Van Blaricum, and Sarah Anne Lochner.

Class honors also went to Elvin Neal Vorus of Gregory; Elizabeth Jean Boyd and James Dennis Wilde of Manchester; and Kyriacos Nicou Argatides, Lisa Marie Brendena, Kristen E. Hill, and Bradley Scott Vetal, all of Pinckney.

War Souvenir Japanese Swords Sought in USA

U. S. occupational forces picked up swords by the scabbard load following World War II. A few of them may have been heroically won on the battlefields. But most were the spoils of war and acquired from museums, shrines, temples and from the private household (families) following a declaration of peace.

To the veteran of the Pacific Theatre of Operation they were the ultimate in war souvenirs, more highly valued than the German luger or the Italian beretta from another arena.

Many of these swords have been forgotten over the period of 40 years. You may have tucked one away in a damp corner of a cellar, in a dark crevice of an attic, or in a shelf of some seldom used closet. To the owners of these swords they could be worth a lot of money.

Hiroshi Sato, a Japanese sword expert from Japan, and a member of the Society for Preservation of Japanese Swords, will be traveling throughout the Michigan area from April 20-30, anxious to acquire that chief weapon of Japan's infamous warrior. "There are an estimated 600,000 Samurai Swords in the U. S. A.," Sato says, "I am looking for those that we consider National Treasures. The Society (privately endowed) would like to return them to their rightful places of honor."

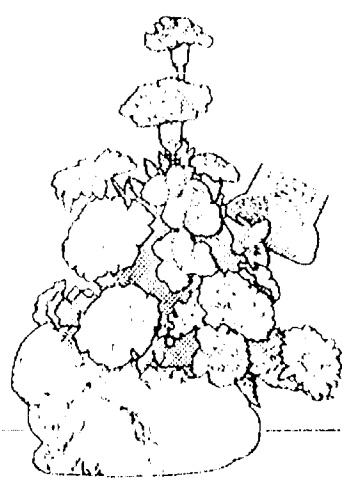

For those of you who have a Samurai sword and would like to contact Hiroshi Sato, you are invited to use this toll free number, (1-800-443-1351) or you may write to: The Japanese Sword Registry, P.O. Box 12 Chicago Ridge, Ill. 60415.

Chili Cook-Off Slated May 2-3

The eighth annual Great Chili Cook-Off will be Saturday, May 2, and Sunday, May 3, at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds, near Saline. This benefit for the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan features two fantastic days of family fun.

The admission charge is $4 for adults and $1 for children. The fairgrounds are south of Ann Arbor. Take I-94 to Exit 175, then follow the signs.

A VARIANCE WAS GRANTED to Wolverine Food & Spirits owner Joe Merkel for this large but moveable cooler that he has extended from the back of his restaurant on Old US-12. The variance, which allowed him to deviate from the side yard set back requirement of 10 feet, was granted at the regular village council meeting last Tuesday, April 7, after the cooler was installed. Painters Merkel hired to decorate the main building also painted the bricks and windows on the cooler. Merkel is a trustee on the village council.

Papo Awaits Answer As Council Tables Issue of Re-Zoning

Developer Rene Papo will have to wait until the Chelsea Village Council's next regular meeting Tuesday, April 21 to find out whether he'll be able to build his 125,000-square-foot mall near I-94.

Papo, a partner in Arcus Corp. of Ann Arbor, has asked to have approximately 11 acres re-zoned from C-3 to C-4 to allow him to build the mall. The land is located behind Chelsea Big Boy off M-52. It is currently zoned for highway access businesses such as motels, restaurants and automobile dealerships. The new zoning would allow a larger commercial development.

At the March 17 village council meeting, trustee Richard Steele made a motion to allow the change but his motion had no support. Village President Jerry Satterthwaite thought that

Penalties for Farmers Who Violate New Immigration Laws

Few farmers realize the scope of the new immigration law, according to Howard Kelly, Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel. Kelly said that any farmer who hires a worker, regardless of whether the person is assumed to be a naturalized citizen, must verify that the person is eligible for employment.

"There will be penalties for farmers who break the rules," Kelly said. "However, there is going to be an 18-month grace period before the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) enforces any sanctions against agricultural employers."

"In addition, Farm Bureau was successful in getting a clause in the law that says that search warrants, for the first time, will be required before immigration agents are allowed to enter private farm property," he said. Final immigration law regulations will be issued on June 1.

NOTICE TO CHELSEA VILLAGE RESIDENTS ANNUAL SPRING RUBBISH CLEANUP SATURDAY, MAY 2

The 1987 Annual Village Spring Residential Rubbish Cleanup will be held this year on Saturday, May 2, 1987.

Village residents may place their rubbish on their lawn extension the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday prior to the pickup date.

The purpose of this annual cleanup is to assist Village residents in disposing of their household rubbish that accumulates during the year, such as, items that are normally too large in size or too much in quantity to be disposed of through the regular weekly collection service provided by the Village. VILLAGE CREWS WILL NOT PICKUP DEMOLITION MATERIALS SUCH AS BUILDING OR PARTS OF BUILDINGS, CONCRETE OR ASPHALT DRIVEWAYS AND SIDEWALKS, AUTOS OR LARGE AUTO PARTS.

Village Crews will not pick up brush and branches during this Annual Cleanup unless it is placed in plastic bags. Village Crews will not double back to make pickups. Once a street is completed, the Village will not provide pickup service a second time. Residents placing rubbish at the street after the initial pickup will be asked to remove it at their own expense. We ask residents to have their rubbish at the curb prior to the start of the collection.

The Village asks that the following rules be followed:

Place in separate piles:

- 1) All metals, including appliances
- 2) All wood and lumber materials
- 3) All other items not included above

Wood and lumber materials must be cut in lengths not exceeding four (4) feet and tied in bundles.

No liquids, acid, paint, gas, oil, chemicals, explosives or hazardous materials of any kind shall be included for collection.

Small items must be bundled or placed in plastic bags suitable to hold their weight.

Any item that cannot be safely handled by two (2) men will not be taken.

We again remind you that brush and small branches will not be collected during this pickup unless placed in plastic bags. Village Crews will collect brush at a later date. If you have any questions regarding this pickup, you may call the village hall at 475-1771.

Loretta T. Robu

3526 Windwheel Point
Plackney

Loretta T. Robu, age 30, died April 6 at her home.

She was born March 24, 1957 in Detroit, the daughter of Norman P. Guild and Leona P. O'Connor. Jan. 5, 1980 she married Theodore G. Robu in Ann Arbor.

She was employed as a secretary at the Chelsea Community Hospital and was a member of the American Business Women's Association, Toastmasters International, and the American Cancer Society where she taught "I can cope" classes.

She is survived by her husband, Ted; her mother, Leona Guild of Brighton; two sisters, Mary Anne Stankow of Howell and Kathleen Guild of Brighton; five brothers, Norman Guild of Goetzville, Tim Guild of Dallas Tex., Kevin Guild of California, Charles Guild of Cape Coral, Fla., and Frank Guild of Brighton. She was preceded in death by her father, Norman Guild, in 1982.

The rosary was recited Tuesday, April 7 at the Hermann Funeral Home in Brighton. Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 8 at 10:30 a.m. at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Brighton with the Rev. Fr. Patrick O'Connor, uncle of the deceased, officiating. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery in Brighton.

Memorials may be given to the American Cancer Society or the Lori Robu Scholarship Fund sponsored by the Chelsea Community Hospital. Make checks payable to Human Resource Center in care of Cindy Harrison, Chelsea Hospital.

Funeral arrangements were handled by the Hermann Funeral Home in Brighton.

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) is a measure of the average change in prices over time in a fixed market basket of goods and services. The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes CPI's for two population groups—one for all urban consumers, which covers about 80 percent of the total population, and another for urban wage earners and clerical workers, which covers 32 percent of the total population.

Harold A. Hannewald

14886 S. M-92
Stockbridge

Harold August Hannewald, age 65, died Wednesday morning, April 8 at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

He was born at his home in Stockbridge Aug. 22, 1921, the son of Reuben and Hannah L. (Heydlauff) Hannewald. He married Louise M. Stanfield Lehman on Sept. 3, 1947. She preceded him in death in December of 1982.

Mr. Hannewald graduated from Stockbridge High school in 1939. His occupation was farming. He belonged to St. Jacob Evangelical Lutheran church.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Dennis (Nancy) Hart of Brighton; three sons, Garth and Rey, both of Stockbridge, and Larry Lehman of Mitchell, Ind.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 11 at 2:30 p.m. at St. Jacob Evangelical Lutheran church with the Rev. Andrew S. Bloom officiating. He was buried in the parish cemetery.

Arrangements were handled by Caskey Funeral Home of Stockbridge.

Relationship Takes Back Seat To Village Parking Ordinance

A Chelsea woman who is having problems dealing with a village parking ordinance was told last week that getting married may prove to be her only solution.

Chelsea resident Mary Haas complained to village council last Tuesday about the village's ordinance banning on-street parking between 2-5 a.m.

Haas, who said she lives with her mother on Taylor St., said her fiancé, who lives out of town, is a frequent week-end visitor. However, their driveway is not large enough to accommodate his automobile, so he is forced to park in the street.

Haas talked to police chief Lenard McDougall about the problem, and he gave special permission for one of the vehicles to be parked in the street.

"About the 15th time she asked, I felt she was abusing the privilege," McDougall said. He denied her subsequent requests and the car was ticketed.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

Weeks of April 15-24

Wednesday, April 15—Submarine sandwich, potato chips, carrot and celery sticks, molded fruit salad, milk.

Thursday, April 16—Fruit punch, tacos with sauce—lettuce—tomato—cheese, buttered corn, fresh fruit, cookie, milk.

Friday, April 17—Good Friday. Chelsea: half day of school, no lunch. Manchester: no school.

Monday, April 20—Cheeseburger on bun, hash brown patty, dill pickles, fruit cocktail, milk.

Tuesday, April 21—Boneless rib-b-q, scalloped potatoes, buttered sliced carrots, bagelette and butter, peanut butter treats, milk.

Wednesday, April 22—Chicken noodle soup with crackers, ham and cheese in a pita pocket, vegetable sticks, pineapple tidbits, milk.

Thursday, April 23—Burrito with chili, french fries, buttered corn, granola bar, milk.

Friday, April 24—Cheese and sausage pizza, tossed salad with dressing, fresh fruit, chocolate pudding, milk.

When one of the village trustees asked Haas how McDougall suggested she handle the problem, she said "he said maybe we should elope."

McDougall also told her she could petition the council to have the ordinance rescinded or seek special permission from the council to park the car on the street.

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said the ordinance allows police to check unfamiliar vehicles parked in the area at night. It also makes snow removal easier.

Satterthwaite said that if council gave special permission for one person, it might open the floodgates.

"I understand that," Haas said. "But it's causing other people problems, too. I understand it's revenue of approximately $4,000 a year for the village. If that many people are having problems with it, isn't there some kind of workable solution? I just think this is something that should be looked into."

Trustees Richard Steele and Phil Boham agreed to look into it and study the problem.

However, Haas and the council agreed that she'll probably be married before the ordinance is changed.

Next Generation of Telescopes Will Be AstroFest Topic

"Telescopes: The Next Generation" will be the subject of the 170th AstroFest film and lecture presentation at the University of Michigan. The free public event is set for 7:30 p.m. April 17 in Auditorium 3, Modern Languages Building.

The program will begin with "The Universe from Palomar," a film about the construction of the largest telescope in the Western Hemisphere, the 200-inch reflecting telescope at Mount Palomar, Calif.

AstroFest director Jim Loudon also will speak about the revolutionary telescopes now under construction. He says the Hubble Space Telescope, which will be sent above the atmosphere to observe and transmit data to scientists on Earth, is "quite simply the finest scientific instrument ever built."

The Hubble Space Telescope "will revolutionize astronomy like nothing since Galileo's first telescope in 1609," Loudon says, "assuming we can ever get it launched."

AstroFest is sponsored by the U-M's Exhibit Museum and Department of Aerospace Engineering.

Boy Fails To Pay for Gas

Chelsea police reported that a boy 16 to 20 years old drove away from the Hop-In on S. Main St. without paying for $10 of gasoline on Monday, April 6.

Police said the boy was driving an older, four-door, mid-size rusty car when the gas was stolen at 7:25 p.m. He was described as having dark hair and wearing a tan jacket.

CHS Forensics Team Qualifies 11 Entries for State Tournament

Chelsea High school's forensics team will be one of the favorites to capture the state tournament May 2 at the University of Michigan as 11 of 16 entries got through the Southeast Michigan Regional Tournament last week-end at Southfield-Lathrup High school. The team finished with two regional champions.

The Bulldogs won a state title in 1982. Last year, with six entries in the state tournament, Chelsea placed sixth.

For the first time in the history of the school, according to coach Bill Coelius, Chelsea will have more than one entry in a particular category. In fact, Chelsea qualified two entries in four separate categories—Drama 9-10, Sales, Storytelling and Humor.

The top four placers in each category qualified for the state tournament.

Two Bulldogs finished first in their categories. Ward Beauchamp was top in Prose with "Abbu" by Harlan Ellison. Elizabeth Maurer's presentation on "Jiffy Mix" was the easy winner in Sales.

Finishing in second place were Nancy Nye, in Drama 9-10, with "Burning Bed"; Phil Thomson, in Humor, with "Wanda Hickey's Night of Golden Memories"; and Michelle Kuhl and Rob Rason, in Duo, with "Echoes."

Third place finishes went to Tucker Lee, in Storytelling, with "The Twits"; and Jeff Mason, in Humor, with "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Taking fourth places were Karen Grau, in Sales, with "Kelly, Inc."; Jennifer Schweiger, Kim Degener and Erin Haywood, in Multiple, with "Moms"; Bill Coelius, in Drama 9-10, with "Little Alice"; and Mindy Ryan, in Storytelling, with "Bedtime for Francis."

The National Council for the Social Studies provides leadership and service to the field of social studies education. Its 23,000 members include K-12 social studies teachers, methods professors and related social studies professionals.

In addition, Eric Frisinger qualified to be an alternate in Sales with his presentation on "Guenther Studios."

street in front of the house.

Anyone with more information on this pair or other "gypsy scammers" or who may have observed the license number of the black van, please contact Detective Robert Randolph at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. (phone 971-8400) or Detective Gray at the Ann Arbor Police Dept., 994-2662.

Roofing repair talk and discussion about the work of the water department or needing water for the radiator of their vehicle seem to be "conversation openers" for the shifty twosome.

Grass Fires Keep Fire Dept. Busy Last Week

Warmer weather brought another onslaught of grass fires last week, with two each on Tuesday and Thursday, and four on Friday.

On Tuesday there were fires at Half Moon Lake and on McKinley Rd. outside the village.

On Thursday a fire started along I-94, one mile east of Fletcher Rd., and on Lowery Rd.

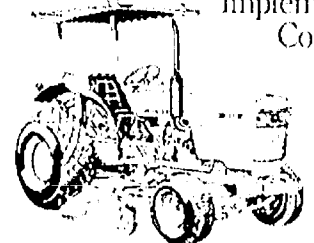

Friday's fires were at Bush and Sibley Rds., Forest Ct., and Old US-12, where two broke out.

MARY HUTTING, left, of Gregory, won the grand prize of a four-day, three-night cruise aboard the Dolphin Cruise Ship given by Dayspring Gifts of Chelsea. The store's recent wall-to-wall sale involved a contest whereby customers could accumulate points toward prizes by either buying merchandise or sending their friends. The contest ended Saturday at 2 p.m. With Hutting is store manager Carolyn Chase. Other prize winners included: 2nd, Judy Merkel, 13" color television and stand; 3rd, Sandy Kulenkamp, $150 Easter basket; 4th, Diane Kuhl, collectible bride doll; 5th, Cheryl Wonder, golf umbrella; 6th, Gwenn Timm, bone china April rose plate; 7th, Maryann Guenther, Swiss music box; 8th, Pat Whitesall, wine glass set; 9th, Joyce Harris, inlaid shell necklace; 10th, Margaret Hintzen, jute handbag.
