MEMBERS OF THE BAREIS FAMILY were among the many to show their appreciation to Helen Bareis (holding the plaque) for guiding the Chelsea High school varsity cheerleading squads the last 16 years. Helen will

Shopping Mall Axed As Zoning Change Denied By Village Council

Chelsea Village Council voted last Tuesday, April 21 not to allow a change in zoning that would have enabled Ann Arbor developer Rene Papo to construct a 100,000-square-foot shopping center near I-94.

The vote came after attempts to deal with the issue at two previous meetings were unsuccessful.

The motion to deny the zoning change was made by trustee Gary Bentley and seconded by Dennis Hall. Joe Merkel voted in favor of the motion, as did Village President Jerry Satterthwaite, in a symbolic gesture.

Phil Boham abstained in the voting and Richard Steele opposed the motion. Stephanie Kanten was not present.

Papo sought to have 11 acres behind Chelsea Big Boy off M-52 rezoned from C-3 to C-4. Land zoned C-3 is for highway access businesses such as fast food restaurants, gas stations and motels. C-4 zoning would allow commercial businesses that do not have on-site manufacturing.

The development's major tenant would have been Ames Department Store, an east coast chain.

Papo also told the council he had plans to build a motel just south of the center, after the center was completed.

"I'll say it again, I have nothing against a shopping mall," Satterthwaite said.

"I'm against the change because the village would have no say how the area is developed. They can show you whatever they want and then turn around and sell the land and do whatever they want to."

Bentley said he made the motion because the zoning change runs contrary to the village's General

Development Plan, the same reason the Village Planning Commission recommended that the council vote against it.

Again the issue was raised of incorporating a commercial Planned Unit Development provision in the village's zoning ordinance. PUD zoning would allow the village to have substantially more control over how a parcel of land is developed.

A PUD would require developers to present a specific site plan when requesting a zoning change. Developers would be forced to adhere to the plan, no matter who owned the land, unless the council approved a change.

Papo was not present at the council meeting and could not be reached for comment.

However, Papo's attorney, Dana Dever, said he doesn't know if Papo will want to pursue PUD zoning due to the amount of time it would take and the uncertainty involved.

"The PUD zoning doesn't exist in Chelsea and it would take a minimum of 90 days to a year to get it in place," Dever said.

"If it takes an extended length of time, it'll kill the project because (Ames) will go elsewhere. They wanted to begin building in the spring."

"We also don't know what would happen. The council might vote 4-3 against granting the PUD. We also don't know what the guidelines or restrictions would be. How can we tell Ames they'll approve it?"

"I think there is a lot of pressure on (Papo) to look in the township to build."

Papo owns a substantial amount of land on the opposite side of M-52 in Sylvan township.

Council OKs Amendment To Zoning Ordinance On Adult Entertainment

After a public hearing in which no one participated, Chelsea Village Council voted on Tuesday, April 21 to adopt an amendment to the zoning ordinance regulating "adult entertainment" which could conceivably prevent merchants from selling men's magazines and video stores from renting "X" rated movies.

The amendment, which was recommended for passage by the Village Planning Commission, will be enforced by Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook, not the Chelsea Police Department.

A clause in the amendment defines "adult bookstore" as "an establishment with a segment or section devoted to the sale or display of such material."

The definition of "adult motion picture theatre" is "an enclosed building used for presenting material distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on matter depicting, describing, or relating to 'specified sexual activities' or 'specified anatomical areas'... for observation by patrons therein."

Village Manager Fritz Weber said "it's quite possible the zoning board of appeals might have to interpret" a case involving a convenience mart selling men's magazines or a video store renting out adult movies.

Harook said last week she intends to ignore the ordinance unless someone complains.

"I didn't like this ordinance from the beginning," she said.

"I'm not looking forward to enforcing it, and I really don't know how to handle it. Are the places already selling these magazines grandfathered in? Legally, I don't know. I think maybe this is more for down the road rather than for what is already here."

The purpose of the amendment as described in section B is "it is recognized that there are some uses, which, because of their very nature, are recognized as having serious objectionable operational characteristics, particularly when located so as to have a deleterious effect upon the adjacent areas. Special regulation of these uses is necessary to insure that these adverse effects will not contribute to the blighting or downgrading of the surrounding neighborhood."

The amendment says the adult entertainment industry will not be allowed within 1,000 feet of any residential areas or land zoned for residential development, or within one mile of any church or public park. Considering the number of churches and parks, and the amount of residential land within the village, those requirements essentially regulate the industry completely out of the village.

Annual Spring Pick-Up Slated for Saturday

The annual Chelsea village spring rubbish pick-up is scheduled for Saturday, May 2.

Today village residents are allowed to begin piling their unwanted furniture, appliances and other trash on the curb lawns for Saturday pick-up.

Unlike recent years, the village crews will go down each village street only once. If you get the unwanted items out after trucks have gone by once, you'll have to find some other way to dispose of them. Collections will begin early Saturday morning.

The village asks that like items be placed in separate piles. For example, all metal, including appliances, should be in one pile and all wood and lumber materials in another.

Any item that cannot be handled by two men will not be taken.

The village will not pick up demolition materials such as concrete or asphalt.

Brush and small branches will only be collected if they are placed in plastic garbage bags.

For more information, refer to the village's advertisement on page two of this edition.

Bell Installing New Electronic Phone System

Work is on schedule for the installation of Michigan Bell's new electronic call processing equipment for the 475 exchange, according to Marcia Buhl, a spokeswoman for the company.

Renovations to the equipment building on W. Middle St. have been completed and the equipment is scheduled to be installed by July 25, Buhl said.

The new digital equipment will give the more than 5,000 Bell customers in the 475 exchange touch tone and custom calling capabilities.

In addition, businesses will be able to have more than 10 consecutively numbered lines, Buhl said, unlike the current system.

Hospital Benefit Auction Slated Saturday Night

Chelsea Community Hospital's benefit auction will be held Saturday, May 2 at 7 p.m. The Spring Celebration Benefit Auction Gala will be held to raise funds for the furnishing of the new Intensive Care/CT Scanner waiting room for patients and families. The waiting room is a long needed addition for Intensive Care/Cardiac Care patient's families and will serve the new mobile CT Scanner service to be offered by the hospital.

In addition, a variety of art and antiques will be offered. Donations by Benjamin Bower, Mary Sue Compton, Peter Severn and Nanette Kennedy of Jackson will be included.

Some of the many exciting items to be auctioned include one week vacation use of a 1987, 24-foot American Motor Home donated by Lloyd Bridges Traveland, Chelsea; two sets of tickets to a Tiger baseball game in Tom Monaghan's suite donated by Domino's Pizza; two Golfer's Getaway week-ends at the Grand Traverse Resort with golfing on the "Bear" included; and a three night Las Vegas Getaway for two, donated by Harris-McBurney, Co., Jackson and D & C Stores, Inc., Stockbridge; Michigan football tickets to sold out games, top of the line golf clubs, bowling equipment, tennis racquet and cross country skis will be auctioned. Radios, cassette players, a pocket television plus exercise equipment and a gym membership will be available.

Family memberships to the Hands-On and Henry Ford Museums are being offered as well as art, antiques and fine wines.

The auction is to be conducted by the firm of Braun and Helmer. "Lloyd Braun and Jerry Helmer conducted our first auction. They provide fun and entertainment along with excitement. Their talent and charisma will help to make this gala event a success," said Patti Harris, chairman of the Spring Celebration. Her co-chairs are Robert and Marge German. They are being assisted in ticket sales by last year's honorary chairs, Paul and Jean Mann. Bob Lyons has once again offered support and advice on the project and will MC the auction.

If you would like more information about the auction, call Chelsea Community Hospital at 475-1311, ext. 319 or 390.

Money Stolen From Patron Of Restaurant

An Ann Arbor woman had her purse containing $1,900 in cash stolen from a Chelsea restaurant, according to police reports.

Mary L. Weymouth of Ann Arbor was dining at Schumm's Restaurant last Friday evening when the theft occurred, police said.

Reported stolen, in addition to the cash, were traveler's checks totaling $1,760, credit cards, a pay check of $185, notebooks, keys and a bank savings book.

Police searched the area, including dumpsters, but found none of the missing items.

Wojciehowski, Marlene Rademacher, Veretta Whitaker, Jeanene Riemenschneider, Gloria Mitchell, Marsy Doan and Merle Davis. Not pictured are Ann Lee, Helen McDonald and Sue Starkey.

JAN TUPPER, Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary director of volunteers, center, is pictured with Jean Schneider, left, and Vera Briston, who have given the most hours of service to the auxiliary. Jean has given more than 4,000 hours and Vera has given more than 5,000. They were honored at the auxiliary's annual meeting last Saturday, April 25.

Kim Forner, CHS senior, won the Chelsea Sesquicentennial logo contest. Forner's design will be the official emblem for the village's 150th anniversary celebration to be held in 1984. Forner will pursue studies in commercial art this fall at Ferris State College.

Chelsea Village Council moved the controversial Palmer & Baldwin drain clean-out project off dead-end last Tuesday night by passing a motion to pay the village's share ($21,000) of the costs, provided there is "100 percent participation" by all government units and individuals involved—Chelsea School District ($18,000—voluntary), Lima Township ($7,000), County Road Commission and Conrail ($2,800 apiece).

CHS choral students were awarded five top 1 ratings at the vocal solo and ensemble state festival in Flint—a trio of Marge Lewis, Tanya Mattoff and Micky Bennett; the duet of Gayla Bauer and Carrie Parkins; the Contemories, an ensemble of 15 voices directed by Tamara Barbret, were also chosen to compete in state-wide finals at Albion College.

Chelsea Community Hospital opened observance of National Volunteer Week by releasing 165 helium-filled balloons, one for each of the persons who contributed to help the hospital staff. Volunteers were later honored at a tea and reception in the hospital dining room.

In a conference dual track meet, Craig Coltre finished with a time of :22.2 in 180-yard low hurdles. Bruce Guster took first place in the 440 with a time of :52.5, and leaped an amazing 21'2" in the long jump. Ishmael Picklesimer again won the shot put event with a 41'5½" heave. In the 880-yard run, Jeff Van Riper with a time of 2:14.2 was just behind Jeff Marshall with :2:11.5. Tim Lancaster was over 12'6" before he was stopped in the pole vault. Rick Sweeney overcame all competition in the high jump with a 5'10" accomplishment.

Gordon J. Beeman learned last week that although he was discharged from the army almost six months ago, the army had not forgotten his fine service. He was notified through the mail that he had been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for duty with the Army Armed Forces Courier Service. His duty assignment consisted of handling classified material which required a Top Secret security clearance. Gordon was called upon to travel extensively overseas and around the U. S.

Road Builders Say Gas Tax Needed for Roads and Bridges

In presenting a report indicating inadequate funding for the rehabilitation of main roads and repair and replacement of bridges, the Michigan Road Builders Association recently declared the only real possibility in generating the funding needed was to remove the cap on the per gallon motor fuel tax.

Lawrence Martin, executive director of the road builder group, said the transportation funding package, currently in the Senate Finance Committee, includes many needed reforms, but without a state-wide gas tax increase revenues would continue to fall as much as $275 million short each year of the recommended $565 million for rehabilitation of more than 25,000 miles of main roads and repair and replacement of over 3,200 deficient bridges.

Martin said with increases in several user fees proposed in the legislation and with a proposed diversion of some $96 million of auto-related sales taxes from the general fund to the transportation fund, "at most another $150 million could be generated for transportation purposes."

He said Michigan highways, roads and bridges are "always playing catch-up" because revenues always fall short when transportation needs are being addressed by the governor and the Legislature.

Martin said the only two real places to look to bridge the shortfall are the federal government and the fuel tax.

A report prepared by The Road Information Program (TRIP) of Washington, released by the Road Builders, concluded Michigan needs to spend $565 million a year for the next 10 years on the state's main roads and bridges.

State and local agencies, the report concluded, spent an estimated $291.3 million last year on all road and bridge improvements.

A survey of six Great Lakes states showed that travel per mile on Michigan's state highways is nearly 55 percent higher than the average on Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin roads.

At the same time, however, Michigan spent $4,176 per mile for state highway improvements, nearly $2,000 less than the six-state average according to the transportation research report.

The TRIP report further noted Michigan spends less per capita improving state roads—$31.05 compared to the regional average of $42.05; the average vehicle fuel usage has declined nearly 10 percent in the past five years; and other Great Lakes states use fees and taxes not imposed in Michigan, such as local option gas and sales taxes in Illinois and Ohio, an excise tax in Indiana and Minnesota and a weight-distance tax in Ohio.

TRIP is a non-profit organization researching, evaluating and distributing economic and technical data on transportation issues.

It is sponsored by energy and insurance companies, motor vehicle manufacturers, equipment manufacturers, distributors and suppliers, businesses involved in highway engineering, construction and financing, labor unions and organizations concerned with transportation networks.

The results are in and the "eyes" have it! According to International Wildlife magazine, an experiment conducted by Japan's All-Nippon Airlines found that painting large eyes on the engines frightened birds away from the plane, reducing the number of "strikes." In the past year, the airline recorded only one bird strike per engine on the painted 747's while the unpainted 767s were struck 22 times per engine. The airline is preparing to paint eyes on all of their commercial jets. While this may startle the birds, it probably will save their lives.

AMY ZIEGLER, daughter of Ronald and Caren Ziegler of Jerusalem Rd., will be graduating from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering on May 2. During Lady Bird Johnson's first year in Washington, she often got the "chili blues." At about five o'clock in the afternoon of those first cold November days, she would long for a taste of true "Texas Red."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clippings Ed Doolittle interduced Saturday night during his testimony at the country store added to the mountain of evidence that gitting old ain't what it's cracked up to be. He started with a report on wimmen that trade at that bank in California that has the frozen sperm of some of the world's best and brightest men. Ed said all customers of the six-year-old bank have gone for young and handsome and have let old and smart go begging. It just goes to show, Ed told the fellers, that give a choice wimmen pick youth over age and looks over brains, jest like men.

Another item Ed had picked up in the papers was about how doctors know how to extend human life to 150 years or more, but they can't figure out why. Fer sure, Ed said, living longer is causing more problems for everybody, especial them that do. Unless we git the rest of society geared up to deal with old healthy people as well as old sick people, Ed allowed, we're going to keep the cart before the horse.

One sensible move that's come along recent, Ed said, is the increase in cremation. He had saw where members of the Cremation Association of North America reported at a recent convention that their business is growing because their service meets the needs of the country on the move. Figgering folks are going to die no matter how long they live, Ed said the crematers are right.

Fer instant, he said, look at your American family today. Grandma is in a nursing home, Pa and Ma are busted up and living three states apart, and the kids are grown and scattered to the winds. Who wants to look after the grave? So you put Grandpa in a peanut butter jar instead of six feet under, and you can take him with you or sprinkle him over the nearest ocean. No fuss, no muss.

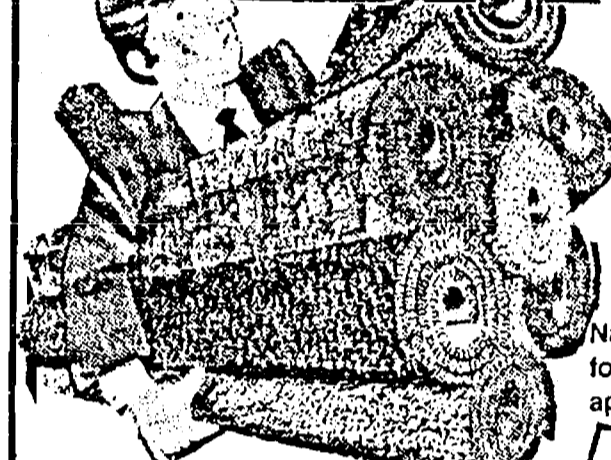

The fellers were not at all that impressed with Ed's news of the week. Clem Webster, fer one, said he couldn't see much that was new. Fer his money, Clem said, the sperm bank is a hairbrain scheme anyway. The feller that started it, Robert Graham, is a 80-year-old millionaire that had eight children the old fashion way before he decided his mission was to give the world a chance to preserve genius through future generations. The only thing he could say in favor, Clem allowed, was that Graham's way was a big improvement over Hitler's way, but crazy all the same.

As fer living longer, Bug Hookum said he was like all the fellers. He had been blessed with his three score and 10, but he was thankful fer all the bonus he could git. Bug said he allus had been more interested in how he lived than how long he lived, but he would take the quantity with the quality. Bug said he wanted to live till he died, and when his time come he'd still feel like the feller that had put on his headstone "I was expecting this, but not yet."

The fellers pritty much sided with Bug. Zeke Grubb wondered what ever become of that perfessor that used to climb Pike's Peak at least 12 times a year since 1919. This feller claimed that time don't have nothing to do with age, and that the only reason folks git old is they cut down on exercise. The more years we got behind us, he said, the more exercise we need to do to stay ahead of the game.

Personal, the mountain climbing perfessor reminds me that old age is wasted on the old. If a feller my age can't slow down he might as well be 35 and out there racing rats with all them between young and old.

Uncle Lew.GRAND OPENING

NOTICE TO
CHELSEA VILLAGE RESIDENTS
ANNUAL SPRING
RUBBISH CLEANUP
SATURDAY, MAY 2

The 1987 Annual Village Spring Residential Rubbish Cleanup will be held this year on Saturday, May 2, 1987.

Village residents may place their rubbish on their lawn extension the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday prior to the pickup date.

The purpose of this annual cleanup is to assist Village residents in disposing of their household rubbish that accumulates during the year, such as, items that are normally too large in size or too much in quantity to be disposed of through the regular weekly collection service provided by the Village. VILLAGE CREWS WILL NOT PICKUP DEMOLITION MATERIALS SUCH AS BUILDING OR PARTS OF BUILDINGS, CONCRETE OR ASPHALT DRIVEWAYS AND SIDEWALKS, AUTOS OR LARGE AUTO PARTS.

Village Crews will not pick up brush and branches during this Annual Cleanup unless it is placed in plastic bags. Village Crews will not double back to make pickups. Once a street is completed, the Village will not provide pickup service a second time. Residents placing rubbish at the street after the initial pickup will be asked to remove it at their own expense. We ask residents to have their rubbish at the curb prior to the start of the collection.

The Village asks that the following rules be followed:

- Place in separate piles:
- 1) All metals, including appliances
 - 2) All wood and lumber materials
 - 3) All other items not included above

Wood and lumber materials must be cut in lengths not exceeding four (4) feet and tied in bundles.

No liquids, acid, paint, gas, oil, chemicals, explosives or hazardous materials of any kind shall be included for collection.

Small items must be bundled or placed in plastic bags suitable to hold their weight.

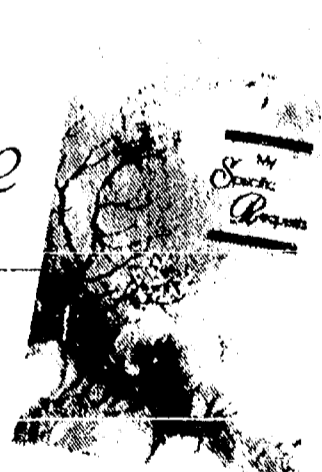

Any item that cannot be safely handled by two (2) men will not be taken.

We again remind you that brush and small branches will not be collected during this pickup unless placed in plastic bags. Village Crews will collect brush at a later date. If you have any questions regarding this pickup, you may call the village hall at 475-1771.

Mann-Shrosbree Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Mann of Chelsea have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane E. Mann, to William A. Shrosbree, son of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Shrosbree of Southfield.

The future bride graduated from Chelsea High school and Texas Woman's University in Denton, Tex. She is employed as a physical therapist at the University Hospitals in Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom-to-be graduated from Southfield High school and the University of Michigan. He is employed as a metallurgical engineer at Williams International in Walled Lake.

The wedding is planned for June 27.

Six New Members Initiated into Dexter Harmony Rebekah Lodge

On April 20, eight members of Chelsea Rebekah Lodge No. 130 attended the Dexter Harmony Lodge No. 460 for the purpose of initiating their candidate, Gertie O'Dell, into the lodge.

Dexter lodge members along with members from District No. 10, performed in the drill team and initiatory. Six new members from various lodges were duly initiated and became members. Special music was sung by Ed Beckstine to welcome all into the fraternal order.

One of Dexter's new members was Ruth Chriswell, mother of Virginia Geer of Dexter. Geer is the warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan.

Dexter's regular business meeting followed. After the entertainment, a light lunch was served to about 50 members and guests by the Harmony Lodge.

Girl Scouts Paint Game Markings on South School Lot

Six Chelsea Girl Scouts gave up part of their spring vacation to perform service to South school. The girls spent one morning painting hopscotch and ball games on the school playground blacktop. The enthusiastic painters from Troop 58 included Amy Cole and Courtney Thompson. Troop 144 was represented by Carrie Buss, Tracy Dufek, Jocelyn Dohner, and Nicole Fite.

When school resumed Monday, the scouts were thrilled to watch their classmates enjoying the results of their work.

Dexter Man Will Compete In Great Chili Cook-Off

Skip King of Dexter, who describes his chili as "absolutely divine," has been chosen as one of the 120 cooks to compete in the eighth annual Great Chili Cook-Off Week-end. This benefit for the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan will be held May 2 and 3 beginning at 11 a.m. each day, at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds and it features two fantastic days of family fun.

At the cook-off, each cook and a team of helpers, makes his or her own chili recipe. King started creating his recipe, "San Antonio Red," when he was in the Air Force, stationed in Texas. He explains that chili originated in Texas, not Mexico, and that authentic chili never includes beans.

King uses beef, pork, and Italian sausage, and a number of expensive spices in his recipe. He estimates that it cost him $65 to make the 10 quarts of chili required for the contest. Since it sells for 25 cents a cupful, he obviously does not make a profit, but he says this does not bother him, since it is all for a good cause.

Helping King cook his chili will be Bob Schultz, Milan Balha, and Paul Bauer. King is sponsored by Bauer's insurance company, Stadium Insurance in Ann Arbor.

After the teams have been given time to cook, a gong goes off and runners are sent around to pick up a quart of chili from each contestant. Fifteen judges evaluate the entries, washing their mouths with buttermilk between tastes.

King has competed in five cook-offs, four times in this one, and once in Belleville for the American Heart Association. In 1984, the first year he competed in the Saline contest, he came in ninth. Asked why he has not repeated this success, he said "It's a matter of luck if the judges' taste buds are aligned with your chili. My chili is the best there is. I should win every year." But, win or lose, King says he gets a great deal of fun out of the event.

King, an engineer at Ford, enjoys cooking, not just chili, but other ethnic food such as Greek, Arabic, and Chinese. A few years ago, he took a Chinese cooking class in Ann Arbor.

King will be one of 80 cooks competing in Saturday's sanctioned competition for airfare and the honor of attending the International Chili Society Cook-Off in California. In Sunday's "Renegade" Cook-Off, 40 cooks

First Concrete Highway Built in Wayne County

On April 20, 1908, the three-year-old Wayne County Road Commission began work on the nation's first mile of concrete highway. The commission built a road 17 feet, 8 inches wide on Woodward Ave., between Six Mile and Seven Mile Rds. at the cost of $13,354.

Today Michigan has about 11,400 miles of toll-free expressways, highways, country roads and streets.

Michigan's 1,586 miles of freeways, fed by 7,694 miles of trunkline highways, connect virtually every part of the state with every rural and urban location in the nation.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Some older homes in the Chelsea area are being sold for twelve to fifteen times as much as it cost to build them. A house which cost $5,000 to construct two generations ago will routinely change hands for $70,000. Some well-preserved centennial homes may be pricier still.

Existing houses of any vintage are in limited supply within a 20-mile radius of Ann Arbor. Employment is robust in research and high tech industries. Incomes are good and mortgage rates are attractive. Home buyers sometimes find themselves bidding against each other for particularly special properties.

A year ago there were 250 homes on the market in the Chelsea area and, as of this week, there are about 30. Interest is strong in anything livable and buyers are not reluctant to consider post Victorian homes where the bathtubs have Queen Anne Legs and lion claw feet. Adventurers in restoration tear up carpets to discover long-forgotten hardwood floors. Double doors between the front and back parlors are lovingly refinished and lubricated so they glide silently in and out of wall pockets. Overhead toilet tanks with pull chains are so cherished there are replicas on sale at home restoration markets.

Older domiciles worthy of such redemption are not too plentiful but there is a worthwhile selection of homes built since WWII as well as apartments and duplexes. For people who are not too wild about yard work and snow shovelling there is much interest in three condominium projects now under way in Chelsea.

One advantage to buying an existing home is that the family can see exactly what they are getting, and there is also the prospect of early possession. The advantage of building a home is that owners enjoy a wide choice of location and can have the home built from scratch to their own specifications.

A few people may live in one house most of their lives but realtors say the average occupancy is about five years. A great many of us, from force of habit, begin to shop vicariously for a different or better home just a few years after buying the "final" one. Other people, are caused to sell, move and buy because of changes in the family, employment transfers, entrepreneurial opportunities or upward standards of living. Whatever the reason, the day comes when the old place, with all its virtues, all of its drawbacks and years of memories, must be placed on the market.

The question of whether a family should turn the selling over to a realtor or do it themselves depends on who they are, how much time can be devoted to selling and how long they can wait to close the sale. A recent article in a national magazine offered tips on how homeowners could sell their own homes. The article quickly made it evident that home sellers do not save the realty agent's commission; they earn it. A common problem comes with the pricing. There can be painful lack of action when a property is overpriced; and there can be dismay over underpricing when a house is snapped up the minute it hits the market.

In preparing to write this column I talked to two local realtors with whom I have had close contacts. One is Paul Frisinger who sold us our house and 20 acres on McKinley Rd. in 1970. The other is Bob Thornton who heads a firm of 30 people with staff offices in Chelsea, Dexter and Ann Arbor. In 1984 he was president of the prestigious Michigan Association of Realtors.

Both of these house and land sellers are pleased with the strong market for homes in this area but challenged by shortages in some types of offerings. Building lots in the village are scarce but plentiful in the townships. One surprising discovery in these interviews concerned the difficulties that can be experienced these days in bringing a deal to fruition after the buyer and seller have reached agreement. For one thing, mortgage rates have become so complex they are bewildering. So, too, are other complications with volatile changes in financing as well as unexpected problems with legal matters, deed transfers and recording. Such hangups can sometimes delay the actual closing for weeks.

Over the years I have bought and sold real properties for business as well as family needs and have developed a special respect for the people engaged in that kind of marketing. They must have to have considerable professional knowledge to qualify for their licenses, and continuing education is also required by the state. What I admire most, perhaps, is the tact, the intelligence and the insight with which they manage the kaleidoscopic challenges of their trade.

It is really something to be able to keep your aplomb in closing a $100,000 deal while three kids go screaming around your feet, or trying to reply to a question about the WISD equalized valuation tax while your prospect tests the bathroom shower spray. Or coping with a couple of house hunters who refuse to even look at your offering because the people in the house across the street are confessed Republicans.

As the world becomes more and more densely populated so that there is less and less real estate left to sell, the conditioners of the profession, zoning laws, property taxes, rights of possession, insulation, and recording of deeds. They know the cost of licensing a spyed and the reason why the health department insists on five copies of everything. They also know the proper prayers for the soil percolation test and whether it is legal to raise dairy goats in Lyndon township.

Some years ago I owned a frame house on Main Street in Ann Arbor which we had converted into an office building. There was an identical house next door owned by Mr. Z, a naturalized American and war veteran. The house was occupied by an itinerant stream of renters. The time came when I decided to move the business into the country. Simultaneously I was struck with the idea of buying the house next door and selling the pair as a site for an office building. What made the scheme double intriguing was the presence of a church parking lot next door that was empty six days a week. The church was willing to rent the parking spaces and I found a syndicate of investors who could hardly wait for the office building concept to come true.

My problem, as it turned out, was getting Mr. Z to sell. He wanted twice what the building was worth, which didn't bother me a bit since the combined property, as a building site, was worth vastly more than the separate parcels. A real estate broker friend warned me not to buy the property next door unless Mr. Z was represented by an attorney. Why? Because Z was a war veteran who had once been a V. A. psychiatric patient. Only the participation of an attorney on behalf of the seller at the time of sale would make it evident that Z was competent to transfer real property.

Mr. Z refused to have anything to do with an attorney because they charged too much. After months of brooding I finally woke up to the simplicity of it all. I went to him and said, "Get an attorney and we'll add the amount of your legal bill to your sales price."

He looked at me and said in his native accent, "Eet's a deal."

If I hadn't had that realtor's advice I could still be waking up in the night wondering if his heirs might someday sue mine.

SAM MAYNARD, a sixth grader at Beach Middle School, had his design chosen for this year's official sixth grade camp t-shirt. The shirt, which has a sesquicentennial theme, says "The Mitten Isn't Quitting at 150." The slogan was created by Cory Geller, who has since moved away. The annual camp begins next week at Mill Lake.

Home Security Tips Offered By Experts

Advice on home and fire safety and inexpensive security protection will be offered by experts Monday through Saturday (April 27-May 2) at Meijer, Inc., 3825 Carpenter Rd., Ypsilanti.

The consumer-oriented program is sponsored by Meijer's, AAA Michigan and the Pittsfield Township Police and Fire departments.

"Burglary costs homeowners $3 billion annually and we want to educate them on how to further secure their homes with minimal effort at a low cost," stated Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Safety and Traffic manager.

The program will be presented from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day.

A large, eight-panel display prepared by AAA illustrates home security measures as well as causes of fires, how to use a fire extinguisher, precautions when installing a wood stove and how to plan home exit drills.

Security and fire prevention hardware, such as dead-bolt locks, various types of doors and windows and smoke detectors, will be available for inspection.

Bar Assoc. Offers May 1 'No Bills Day'

Free legal advice will be available to Washtenaw county residents on "No Bills Day, May 1."

As a public service in conjunction with Law Day U. S. A., members of the Washtenaw County Bar Association will give 30-minute consultations to anyone who phones for an appointment.

According to Kevin J. Kraushaar, "No legal documents will be drawn up during the 30-minute consultations, nor will time permit solving of specific legal problems. However," he added, "many people have questions about their legal problems that we can address during the sessions."

"No Bills Day" was conceived by the State Bar of Michigan in 1974. Most of the state's local bar associations participate in the program. "No Bills Day" has won the Award of Merit of the American Bar Association.

To make an appointment for a free consultation, call 996-3229 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from April 20, to April 29.

Law Day U. S. A. was made a national holiday during the Eisenhower Administration, to remind citizens of their legal rights and obligations under the American system of Justice.

"Never forget what a man says to you when he is angry . . ."
—Henry Ward Beecher

Hot words, uttered in anger, can be pretty ugly. They are often intended to hurt and usually manage to do just that. We have all suffered the experience of being "told off" and it is never pleasant.

There is no point in nursing a grudge . . . in refusing to forget a grievance. But, Beecher says, never forget what was said because it may well be the deepest feelings that were expressed. Now you know just how that angry person feels about you. An even more important lesson: Be careful what you say when you are angry!

If specifying the details of your own funeral, well in advance of need, would give you peace of mind, let us help you make the arrangements you want.

Township To Sponsor Boating Safety Classes

Township Supervisor James L. Drolett has announced that Dexter township, in conjunction with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, will offer "Pleasure Boating Classes" to be held at the Dexter Township Hall at 6880 Dexter-Pinckney Rd. The class requires six hours of instruction and will be held on Saturday, June 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Bring a bag lunch and something to write with.

According to Drolett, the pleasure boating classes are open to all area residents without charge; textbooks, notebooks and related materials will be provided.

Dexter township and the surrounding area has many lakes that are used heavily during the summer months and the safety of all may depend on the knowledge gained from these classes which young and old alike are encouraged to attend.

Persons successfully completing the course will receive a Boating Safety Certificate. This certificate also permits persons between the ages of 12 and 16 to operate a power boat (6 h.p. or greater) without adult supervision.

Program instructions include:

- Michigan watercraft laws and regulations;
- Familiarization with rules for the road and navigational aids;
- Principals of safe small boat handling and seamanship;
- First aid pertaining to water sports;
- Accident prevention, rescue and assistance.

Drolett advises any area residents interested in attending the course to contact the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Marine Safety Division, by calling 971-7551 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday to reserve space in the program.

The 34-YEAR OLD MAGNOLIA tree at 650 Flanders bloomed spectacularly this year. The tree is in the yard of Claude and Kathleen Arnett, who moved to their house when the tree was a year old. They have taken pictures of the tree every year, recording its growth as well as its blooms. The blooms are doubly appreciated this year by the Arnetts, because last year when it was almost ready to bloom, a late freeze turned the buds brown. Another breath-takingly beautiful magnolia is in front of the Tobin house, which was recently purchased by Palmer Ford. That tree, according to Karen Tobin, great-niece of the original owner, is close to 100 years old. Palmer Ford plans to tear down the house, but are going to save the magnolia tree as well as most of the other trees on the property.

Calendar of Events Lists Hundreds of Activities

Would you like to choose from 50 different events on Saturday night? It's easy to do with the new Spring/Summer Calendar of Events just issued by the Travel and Tourist Association.

For example, on May 9, you may select from exactly 50 different events. Most week-ends offer a similar selection. For a variety of tastes, the calendar offers a wide variety of events.

On May 9, for instance, you can take in a symphony performance or an opera, enjoy the Azalea Festival on Grosse Ile, take part in a fishing tournament in Lexington or Sarnia or attend a dog show at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

The Tigers face Oakland at Tiger Stadium, David Brenner entertains at the Premier Center, there's Big Band Music at the Yack Arena in Wyandotte and a Spring Discovery Walk at the Independence Oaks County Park near Clarkston. You can shop at a city-wide garage sale at the Eddie Edgar Arena in Livonia, attend an arts and crafts show at the Farmington Community Center or take in the harness races in Jackson.

Sid Baker, president of the Travel & Tourist Association, points out that this year's six-month calendar has nearly 1,200 listings. It is the largest and most comprehensive ever issued by the Association. "We feel that it is important to let tourists, as well as our own residents, find out what there is to see and do in our region," he said. "For this reason, we make a special effort to produce the most comprehensive calendar possible."

To receive a copy of the free calendar, send a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to Summer Garden, P.O. Box 1590, Troy 48069.

Flint Offers Tourist Attractions

On April 16, 1913, the town of Flint had a problem with flies. The Flint Journal, writing that "the angel of death mounts the back of every fly," offered to pay residents of the area 25 cents for each 1,000 dead flies brought to its office in a campaign to "fight for a flyless Flint." Flint went on to become one of the world's industrial leaders.

Today, Flint's industrial giants, such as the AC Spark Plug plant and the Buick-Oldsmobile-Cadillac Body Assembly plant, are popular tourist attractions. Tours provide visitors with a glimpse of the automobile assembly process.

Located on the same street, the Institute of Arts and the A.P. Sloan Museum offer an afternoon of arts, science, and history. For dining and shopping, the two festival market places, Water Street Pavilion and Windmill Place provide international restaurants and unique boutiques.

In the warmer months, nearby Crossroads Village and Huckleberry Railroad take visitors back to the 1800s-1880s. Daily demonstrations by costumed artisans feature blacksmithing, cider pressing, tinsmithing, yarn spinning, and wood carving.

For more information on Flint's attractions, contact the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432-YES, or for the hearing impaired, TDD 1-800-722-8191 (MI only).

School Board Acts On Teacher Tenure Recommendations

The main order of business at the school board meeting, held Monday, April 20, was the approval of the principals' recommendations of status for their teachers, and the superintendent's recommendation of contracts for the administrators working under him.

Items to go on the school board ballot, June 8, were approved. They include listing Ann Feeney as a candidate for a four-year term on the Board of Education, a 20.5 renewal operating millage for five years; a 1.0 maintenance millage renewal for four years; Heedlee Amendment language to authorize the school district to levy its authorized millage; and a 1.5 increase in special education sponsored by the Intermediate School District. The school board voted to go on record in support of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District's request for a special education millage.

May 5 was designated as "School Family Recognition" day to show appreciation to school employees "for the many efforts that go into making the Chelsea School District an outstanding school system."

The board approved Superintendent Ray Van Meer's recommendation of contracts for the following administrators: Frederick A. Mills, Henry DeYoung, Laurie Bissell, Jacquelyn C. Rogers, John Williams, Ken Larson, Darcy Stielstra, Bob Benedict, Bill Wescott, and Larry Reed.

The following recommendations by the school principals were approved.

Be Kind to Animals Poster, Essay Contest Underway

In celebration of Be Kind to Animals Week, May 3-9, the Humane Society of Huron Valley is sponsoring a poster and essay contest for students in grades K-12th grades. The contest will carry the themes, "Through the Eyes of the Animals," for the essay entries, and "Nature's Neighbors," for the poster entries.

Winners of the contest will have their posters displayed at Arborland Mall in Ann Arbor for the month of June, and at the Ypsilanti Farmers Market for the month of July.

There are five divisions in both categories. Entries must be the personal and original work of the student. Illustrations may be paintings, drawings, or mixed media, at least 12"x18," but not larger than 22"x28." No chalk, pencil, or charcoal please. Essays must be legibly written, printed, or typed.

Entries will become the property of HSHV and must be mailed or brought to the shelter no later than 5 p.m. May 11.

Name, address, phone, school name, grade, and teacher's name must accompany each entry.

Entries will be judged by Humane Society staff. Ribbons will be awarded for first through fourth prize in each division.

For additional information please contact the Education Department at 662-5545.

Consumers Council Offers Tips on Used Car Purchase

The Michigan Consumers Council has published a new brochure entitled "Buying a Used Car."

The new publication covers such important purchasing considerations as warranties and service contracts and actual mileage. A list of appropriate enforcement agencies that deal with purchasing problems is also included. All information is presented in a simple, straightforward manner for the first-time used car buyer as well as the experienced purchaser.

The brochure advises consumers to shop around for the best deal and to read all paperwork before they sign. Problems such as odometer tampering, verbal promises, and buying at a fair price are also covered.

A major feature of "Buying a Used Car" is the Used Car Checklist. The checklist provides a handy listing of interior and exterior features for inspection as well as what to look for under the hood and during a test drive. The Consumers Council strongly advises that the checklist be completed with the assistance of a qualified independent mechanic.

Copies of "Buying a Used Car" are available free of charge by writing or calling the Michigan Consumers Council, 106 W. Allegan St., 414 Hollister Building, Lansing 48933; telephone (517) 373-0947.

The Michigan Consumers Council is a state legislative agency providing consumer information, referral and counseling services on a variety of consumer topics. The agency also acts as a consumer advocate on matters before the Michigan legislature.

Area Students Earn Advanced Degrees At Eastern Michigan

Among the students receiving advanced degrees at Eastern Michigan University's commencement, Dec. 20, were three Chelsea residents, and one each from Dexter, Grass Lake, Manchester, and Pinckney.

From Chelsea, Janice Martin received a certificate of advanced studies in curriculum and instruction; Sandra Dunn, a master of arts; and Sarah White, a master of business administration.

Debra Leonard of Dexter received a masters of science; James Cox of Grass Lake, a master of art; Michael Lantis of Manchester, a master of science; and Julie Karkick of Pinckney, a master of art.

information desk near the main entrance. Applications may be obtained between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. The completed applications should be returned as indicated on the form with the deadline being Saturday, May 30.

After initial screening, personal interviews will be conducted for the candidates deemed most highly qualified. The awarding of the scholarship will be based on academic achievement and sincere interest to further education in a health-oriented field.

Chelsea Community Hospital has given over $8,500 in scholarships since 1979.

Monies come from projects such as the Home Tour, the Arbor Nook Gift Shop, cookbook sales, a fashion show, raffles, bazaars, and flea markets.

Members of the scholarship committee are Ann Lee, Jeanene Riemenschneider, Madeleine Vallier, and Gloria Mitchell.

FACTS ABOUT BAD BREATH

Q: I have chronic bad breath and nothing I do seems to help. What causes bad breath anyway?

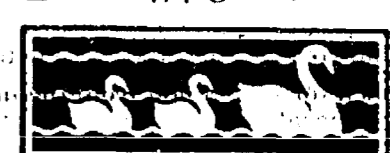

A: The same bacteria that causes decay and gum disease also cause bad breath! As most of us know, one of the best ways to avoid bad breath is to brush and floss regularly and thoroughly. Still, just about everybody suffers an occasional period of bad breath. Sometimes it's just a temporary condition—caused by smoking or eating strong smelling foods like onions or garlic. (Some foods even get into your bloodstream and persist for a day or two after you've consumed the food.)

Each of us has a slightly different make-up of bacterial colonies in our mouth and these can produce varying degrees of "halitosis" or bad breath. Certain dental appliances and extensive crown and bridge work can increase plaque retention and bad breath. Another common problem is "morning mouth"—the stale odor and sour taste that build up overnight because of decreased salivation while we're asleep. Head colds and sinus infections can also cause stale-smelling breath, as can certain medications and periodontal disease. And, for those of us who diet often, "hunger" breath can be caused by stomach acids that affect the breath when no food is consumed for a longer than normal time period.

Most of these problems can be solved by good oral hygiene but chronic bad breath could be a sign of a systemic disorder such as diabetes. Certain toothpastes and mouthrinses are better than others at reducing plaque (bacteria) levels and your dentist may recommend one of these.

THESE ARE THE GOOD OLD DAYS

When Palmer Motor Sales first opened their doors for business on April 15, 1912, the price of a new Ford car was $690. However, the average income was only $519 a year. Compare that with today's average income of $29,000 and a new car at $9,000 to $15,000 and you'll see that these are the good old days when it comes to automotive value. We've seen them all, the Model A, the Model T, the V8, the Mustang and the Thunderbird. We even have a bit of nostalgia for the Edsel. Today's Fords and Mercurys are the "better buys", not only in terms of percentage of your yearly salary needed to purchase one . . . but in terms of engineering advancements. Today's cars are better driving, more fuel efficient, and last longer with less maintenance. Come celebrate the good new days with us.

Boy Scout Explorers Plan Mock Disaster

On Saturday May 9, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. the Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts of America will conduct their second annual "Mock Disaster" at the Pittsfield Township Hall, corner of State St. and Ellsworth Rd., Ann Arbor.

The disaster will be modeled after Washtenaw County's Disaster Drill. This disaster will be designed specifically for the Explorers to learn procedures and techniques needed in a mass casualty situation.

The exact number and type of injuries will be kept a secret until the day of the drill.

The nature of the disaster is to be some type of airplane crash which will include 30-50 victims who will be moulaged, triaged, treated, and transported by ambulance to a "Mock Hospital."

All of the rescue and treatment of said victims will be done by Explorers with critiquing done by volunteer professionals from all areas involved which will include ambulance, fire, police, etc.

Exploring is a career oriented program designed to match young people, ages 14-20, to organizations and adults who are experts in their chosen field. They are able to gain actual experience which will be necessary to go on into their career. Explorer posts involved in the mock disaster cover a wide range of careers. The public is welcome to observe the explorers in action as they test their skills under disaster like conditions.

Explorer posts from organizations planning to participate include Ann Arbor Police, Washtenaw County Sheriff, Saline police dept., Chelsea fire dept., Ypsi. National Guard, Northfield township police dept., Bechtel Power Corp., D.J. Flying Service, Mercy Monroe Hospital, Livingston County Red Cross, Livingston County Airport, Sand Lake fire dept., Flatrock Police, Putnam township fire dept., Highland township fire dept., Lakewood Machine Products, National Guard of Adrian, S. Rockwood fire dept., Palmyra fire dept., and Tecumseh police dept.

Hosting the event will be Huron Valley Ambulance, Post 395 and Ypsilanti Township Fire Dept., Post 225.

There will also be demonstration landings by Survival Flight of the University of Michigan, Med Flight of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and Detroit Medical Center Sky Team.

Tootsie Roll Drive Hits Record $4,150

Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll Drive, conducted April 10-12, brought in a total in excess of $4,150 locally, an all-time high for the Chelsea K. of C. in the 12-year history of the drive, according to co-chairmen Larry Kranick and Jerry Martell. This total is up a whopping 43% over 1986 totals collected!

Dexter Township Is Considering 'Host' Ordinance

The main topic of discussion at the Dexter township board meeting, held April 21, was whether the township should enact a "host" or "open-house party" law similar to those passed in Saline, Dexter, and Chelsea. According to trustee Doug Smith, the group is favorably inclined to pass such legislation, but does not want to do so if it will not stand up in court. Said Smith, "If it's valid, we want to do it. It has done a great deal of good in Saline."

The group, knowing that Scio township supervisor Richard DeLong has asked for an opinion from the attorney general's office, decided to put off action until they heard the result. They hope the question can be settled before graduation parties start in June.

If the ordinance is declared legal, the township's next action will be to seek counsel from their attorney, Peter Flintoft, on the exact wording that should be used.

of Chelsea and Stockbridge, who of course make this all happen. It is a real pleasure to conduct campaigns of this type yearly," states Larry Kranick. "The people really open their hearts" (and more importantly, their wallets,) to help the needy of our communities."

As in past years, 80% of all monies collected is distributed for mental retardation programs in our community. The other 20 percent is forwarded to the K. of C. state headquarters for distribution to programs state-wide.

This year's funds will support the Chelsea special education program, Stockbridge special olympics, and a donation will be made to St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys, just west of Chelsea.

The K. of C. extend a very special thank you to all individuals for their contributions.

Three Beach School Students Win in Americanism Contest

Three students from Beach Middle school in Chelsea have been named local winners in the 18th annual America & Me Essay Contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

The three students, who earned the first-, second- and third-place awards for their school, are Kate Dilworth, first; Kerry Plank, second; and Laurie Honbaum, third. All three received award certificates for their achievement. As the school's first-place winner, Kate Dilworth's name will also be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

Beach Middle school's participation in the America & Me Essay Contest was sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group agent Dave Rowe of Chelsea.

Kate's first-place essay now advances to the state level competition, from which the top 10 essays in Michigan will be selected. The top 10 state-wide winners, who will be announced in early May, will receive plaques and U. S. savings bonds ranging in value from $300 to $1,000. In addition, the top 10 essayists will be honored at a banquet in Lansing and at a meeting with Michigan's top governmental leaders in late May.

A team of finalist judges that includes Gov. James Blanchard and Lt. Gov. Martha Griffiths will determine the top state-wide winners.

Several thousand eight grade students from more than 500 Michigan schools participated in the 1986-87 America & Me Essay Contest, which was conducted with the help of Farm Bureau Insurance agents across the state. The topic of the 1986-87 contest was "How I Can Contribute to America's Future."

Started in 1968 and open to all Michigan eighth grade students, the contest encourages Michigan youngsters to explore their roles in America's future. As sponsor of the contest, Farm Bureau Insurance Group has earned 11 national awards from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

The first federal bureau to attempt to ease labor-related racial tensions caused by blacks leaving the South was the Division of Negro Economics, in the Department of Labor in 1918, according to Labor Firsts in America, a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Hornets Prove Tough As Dogs Drop a Pair In Conference Baseball

Chelsea Bulldog varsity baseball team got off to a slow start in Southeastern Conference play with a double header loss to the Saline Hornets at home last Saturday, 2-1 and 8-4.

Senior pitcher Todd Starkey was saddled with the loss in the opener despite an exceptional outing in which he struck out nine, walked four and gave up seven hits in nine innings.

"Todd was just outstanding," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"This was almost a replay of last year's championship game. It was a well-played game by both teams."

Chelsea scored their lone run off Brandon White in the first inning without the benefit of a hit as a walk, error and sacrifice by Mark Bareis produced the score.

The Hornets tied the game in the fourth on a single, steal, fielder's choice and a sacrifice.

A single, fielder's choice, steal and a single gave Saline what proved to be the winning run in the top of the ninth.

"What made the difference was our inability to sacrifice bunt," Welton said.

"In the fourth inning it cost us a run, in the seventh it cost us a chance to score."

Chelsea had just five hits for the game, two by Junior Morseau.

Morseau was the starting pitcher in the second game, going 6 1/3 innings before Randy Ferry got the last two outs. Morseau gave up all eight runs but only four of them were earned.

The Bulldogs were plagued by seven errors in the second contest.

"There were a couple of tough plays but they were all plays we should make," Welton said.

"We were real sloppy the last two innings."

Saline jumped out to a 5-0 lead, helped by Gregg Swanson's three-run homer.

"Aside from his (home run pitch), Junior pitched well," Welton said.

Chelsea had 10 hits for the game, including a home run and three singles by Starkey, two hits by Morseau, and a double by Larry Nix.

"We had a couple of guys with good days but we need four, five or six guys hitting the ball well," Welton said.

"It was a tough way to begin the league season."

In other action last week, the Bulldogs swept River Rouge, 9-5 and 6-1, and split with Pioneer, winning the first, 9-6, and losing the second, 7-3.

Junior Greg Boughton picked up the win in the opener with River Rouge, giving up three hits and striking out eight.

Ferry pitched two scoreless relief innings to close the game.

Chelsea had to rally from a 5-1 deficit as "we started off kind of lethargically," Welton said.

Chelsea took a 6-5 lead in the fifth inning as they scored four runs in the inning, led by a two-run double by Greg Haist, single by Bareis, triple by Matt Bohlender, and a single by Brian Coy. Morseau had two doubles and two RBIs late in the game.

Haist started the second game, giving up two hits, a walk and three strikeouts before Morseau relieved him in the fifth.

Chelsea picked up seven hits to go along with six walks.

Nix rapped a two-run double in Chelsea's five-run second inning. Others picking up hits were Bareis and Tim Anderson with doubles and Chris Acree and Starkey with singles.

Jeff Harvey pitched a solid six innings and Ferry picked up his fourth save in the opening win against Pioneer on Thursday, April 23.

The game wasn't as close as the score would indicate as Pioneer picked up their runs in the fifth and sixth innings, already down by a bundle.

Bareis, Starkey and Ferry each had two hits, including a triple by Starkey and double by Bareis. Clouse also smacked a double.

Bohlender, Coy and Bareis each had two RBIs.

The Dogs squandered a three-run lead in the second game before bowing 7-3.

"It was a game we could have won," Welton said.

Nix was the starting pitcher and did a "good job, but he got a little tired," Welton said.

JEFF HARVEY pitched a solid six innings as the Bulldogs upended Pioneer High school, 9-6, in the first half of a double header last Thursday.

Trackmen Take Last Place At Mason Meet

Chelsea High school boys track team finished dead last among eight teams in the Mason Invitational last Saturday, April 25.

The host, Mason, was the winner of the meet with 125 points, followed by Okemos with 110, St. Johns and Holt with 75 each, Jackson County Western, 52, Jackson Northwest, 42, Pinckney, 37, and Chelsea, eight.

"I'm not sure what happened," said Chelsea coach Ted Wilson.

"We certainly didn't run very well and a couple of our guys were out."

Doug Webb, who almost certainly would have won the discus, didn't make the meet.

Sprinter Curtis Heard pulled a muscle in preliminary heats and sat out the rest of the meet.

John Cattell placed sixth in the two mile at 10:26.6 for his best time of the season.

Lucky Beeman had his season's best in the discus at 110' 6", also good for sixth place.

Tyler Lewis had his personal best in the long jump at 19' 1 3/4", although it was only good for eighth place.

Pole vaulter Mike Westhoven still appears to be out of synch, Wilson said.

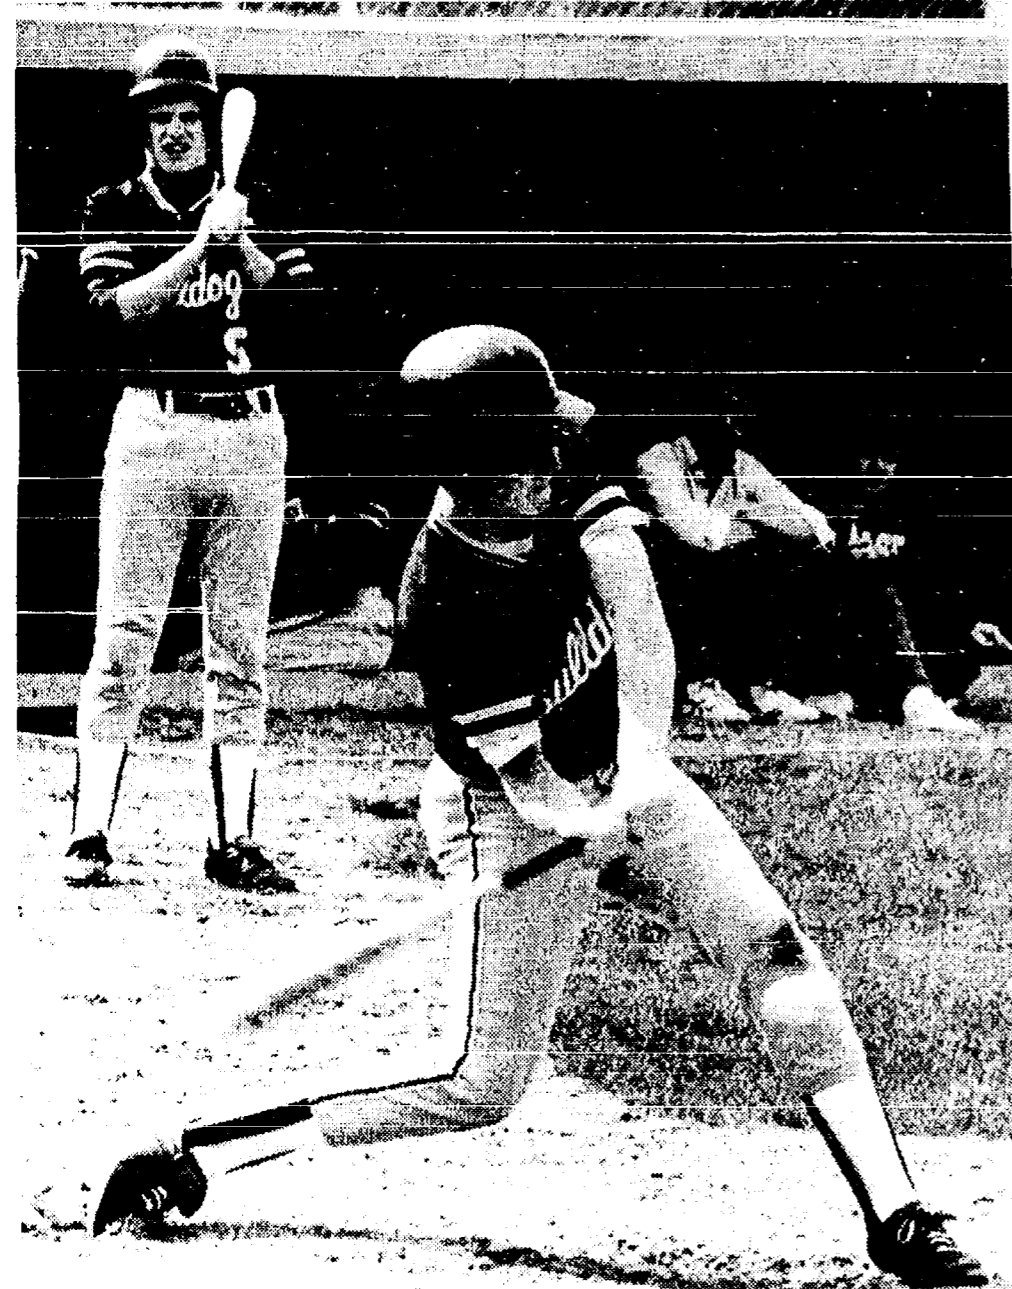

Casey Murphy had his best time in the two-mile relay at 2:06.9 for a half-mile leg.

Chelsea failed to make the finals in any of the dashes or the hurdles.

"It was also a bit of an experimental meet," Wilson said.

"We had some boys running new events and we ran some of the younger kids. But we knew we probably could have done is fourth place."

The Bulldogs take on Lincoln in a dual meet this week.

TAKING A SWING AT A LOW PITCH is Chelsea captain Todd Starkey. The action took place last Thursday at home against Pioneer High school. On Saturday Starkey became the first Bulldog to hit one over the new outfield fence.

Dogs Split With Saline In SEC Softball Opener

Perhaps the two best softball pitchers in the Southeastern Conference squared off last Saturday when Chelsea's Pam Brown and Saline's Stacey Knepper faced each other in the opening SEC game for both teams.

Brown struck out 12 as the Bulldogs won, 3-1.

In the second game, Chelsea's hitters never got unwound and the Dogs lost a 4-1 decision to Knepper.

In the first game, Chelsea scored all three runs in the first inning. Karen Weber led off with a single and Kim Easton tripled, knocking in the first run.

Trisha Mattoff, Ceia Murphy and Leah Enderle all followed with singles to score the final runs of the inning.

Saline scored their only run in the sixth inning.

"It was Pam's best game so far," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

"She's showing steady improvement."

Enderle was the only Bulldog with two hits.

Peggy Hammerschmidt started on the mound in the second game in her first big game.

"She was up a little too much," Waller said of his junior hurler.

Hammerschmidt walked the first three batters she faced, and Waller put Jenni Smith in the game in relief. The first Saline batter promptly scored as the Dogs had problems fielding a short pop fly.

However, Smith kept her composure and struck out two of the next three batters, with a pop up sandwiched between the Ks.

"Smith pitched well all day,"

Nature Program Set at Hudson Mills

Several natural events will be held at the Huron-Clinton Metroparks during the period of May 2-3.

"Pond Alive," a hands-on exploration of a spring pond, will be held at the Outdoor Activity Center of Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter on Sunday, May 3 at 1:30 p.m. Persons should dress appropriate to the weather and the program.

This program is "free" and advance registration is required.

For information/registration, contact the Nature Centers, phone 1-800-24-PARKS (toll-free). A vehicle entry permit is required.

Pledge for Fitness Raises Bucks for Dogs

"Pledge for Fitness," the recent fundraising effort for the Chelsea School District Athletic Department, raised $5,636 for the various sports programs.

Students secured pledges for running, swimming, bicycling and jumping rope several weeks ago. Money raised went directly to each student's sport or sports.

The baseball program raised about three quarters of the money, collecting $3,299. And it's probably no surprise that the top five money raisers were from the baseball program. Jeff Stacey earned $216, Jon Lane, $204, Todd Starkey, $200, Mark Bareis, $164, and Rob Lyerla, $158.

The rest of the money raised was distributed as follows: cheerleading, $114; girls basketball, $255; golf, $225; girls swimming, $29; girls cross country, $28; boys cross country, $9, boys swimming, $65; volleyball, $92; wrestling, $183; boys track, $102; girls track, $185; and softball.

The total raised by high school students was $4,698. Beach students raised $937.

The totals are minus three percent that was spent for 55 medals and five plaques.

It may never rain cats and dogs, but it did rain fish in England in 1859. According to Ranger Rick magazine, strong winds of a storm can sometimes suck up all sorts of small things from the ground or even the water. Then miles away, these things fall from the sky. In 1922, spiders rained on Hungary, and in 1982, two frogs dropped out of the sky in Dubuque, Ia.

JV Diamond Team Wins Three Games

Chelsea junior varsity baseball team had a record of 3-3 last week, winning their first three games and losing their final three.

The JVs got off to a good start against River Rouge, shutting out the hosts, 11-0 and 8-0, on Wednesday, April 22.

Craig Maynard tossed a no-hitter in the five-inning opener, and only a single error cost him a perfect game. He struck out eight.

However, a couple of big defensive plays saved the no hitter, according to Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

Chelsea had a 5-0 lead after two innings, and added four more runs in the fourth inning and two in the fifth.

The Bulldog had nine hits, including a 3-4 performance by Luman Strong and a three-hit day by Jeff Prentice. Mark Larson added two hits, and Jeff Marshall, Mike Kushmaul and Bryant Beard each singled.

Rob Lyerla and Jeff Patterson combined for the shutout in the second game, aided by good Bulldog defense.

Larson's two-run triple highlighted a four-run first inning by the Dogs. Larson had two hits and three RBIs and Lyerla was 2-2 with three RBIs.

Chelsea played "our best game of the year," in the opener with Pioneer on Thursday, April 23, according to Ticknor. Chelsea won the game, 10-2, behind the pitching of Jerry Rinehardt, who made his first pitching start ever. Rinehardt struck out eight, walked two and yielded five hits in going the distance.

"Pioneer had one of the best pitchers we've seen all year," Ticknor said.

The Dogs got off to a quick start with a three-run first inning on hits by Strong, Dwayne Elkins and Prentice and a sacrifice by Bryant Beard.

They lengthened the lead to 6-2 before scoring four runs in the seventh inning.

Chelsea picked up 12 hits as Prentice was 3-4, Elkins, 2-5, and Maynard, 2-3 with a double. Matt Forner had two RBIs with a triple.

The second game was called due to darkness after 4 1/2 innings with Pioneer in the lead, 4-2.

Walks and wild pitches hurt the Dogs as Chelsea gave up the go ahead run in the fourth inning.

Chelsea had just five hits, one each

Girls Track Team Places Fourth at Mason Invitational

Chelsea girls track team made a solid showing, scoring 79 points to finish fourth in the eight-team Mason Kiwanis Invitational Friday, April 24. Mason won with 112 points, St. Johns was second with 99, followed closely by Jackson County Western with 93 1/2.

Mason built a big early lead by winning all four field events, piling up 50 points. Chelsea was a distant second with 26, taking a second place and three third places.

Pacing the Bulldogs was Cris Zerkel who was second in the discus and third in the shot with her season's best put, 33'8 1/2". Dena Stevens added a third in the discus and Edie Harook a third in the long jump with a 15'4", her season's best.

Sarah Schaeffer high jumped 4'9", her career best, but finished just out of the scoring in that event.

Considering the cold, windy night, Chelsea did well in the running events, said coach Bill Bainton. Chelsea scored in all but one event and won medals in five.

The two-mile relay of Jennifer Rossi, Sallie Wilson, Debbie Koenn and Kasey Anderson finished second, as did Anderson in the 880 with a 2:32.3.

Tami Harris added a second in the 220 with a :27.5. The 440 relay of Chris Neuman, Danica Disbro, Harook and Harris continued to run well, finishing third in :53.5. Also third was the 16

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

At first I thought it was a misprint.

Then I thought back to last year and realized the numbers were right.

Athletic Director Larry Reed gave me a list of how much money each sport raised in the recent "Pledge for Fitness" fundraiser.

Baseball was so far ahead of the rest of the crowd that it seemed like Wayne Welton must have gotten one of his well-to-do actor friends to make a hefty donation.

Baseball accounted for 70 percent of the money raised by high school students. The boys ran, swam, biked and jump-roped (well, maybe none of them actually jumped rope) their way to $3,299 in pledges. The program can spend the money any way it wants, short of hiring dancing girls for the awards banquet.

I don't really know how the baseball program manages to get such participation in the fundraisers. I do know it's not an unusual situation. They raised far and away the most money in last year's candy sale.

The head guy, Wayne Welton, must deserve a lot of the credit for motivating his players. Wayne would probably say the kids deserve all the credit since they did all the work.

The event's top four money raisers, Jeff Stacey, Jon Lane, Todd Starkey, and Mark Bareis, are all on the varsity baseball team. The fifth leading money-raiser, Rob Lyerla, plays JV baseball.

No matter how it all happened, the boys should take a lot of pride in their achievement.

As a school district taxpayer, I certainly do. I'm grateful the boys are finding ways to improve their situation without using tax money to do it.

Some of this year's pledge money has already been committed. On Good Friday many of the players, parents and coaches spent the afternoon and early evening with drills, hammers, saws, nails, bolts, a post-hole digger nuts and bolts to construct a chipboard fence in the outfield.

The fence adds a touch of class to what was already a fine facility. Now the southwest corner actually looks like a ball park, rather than a diamond at the edge of some athletic fields. The field will be especially handsome once the fence is painted.

And now the boys can really hit one out rather than hope the ball rolls to the softball field.

It was appropriate that last Saturday senior captain Todd Starkey became the first Dog to clear the fence.

The new dimensions of the field are 310 down the lines, 335 in the alleys, and 350 in dead center, a good-sized high school park.

Although the fence may not look too portable, it will be dismantled and stored at the end of the baseball season.

What a thrill it must be to hear the dink of aluminum on cowhide and see a ball you've hit actually fly over a fence, with the outfielder looking up, leaning back as far as he can go. (Perhaps the only problem with this fence is if the outfielder leans back too far he might wind up on his head on the other side.)

If I had hit that home run last Saturday, it sure would have been tempting to take a nice, slow home run trot around the bases and wave to the adoring fans.

I have the feeling, though, it would have been my last. There are no hot dogs of any type in Welton's park—just hard workers. The fence is a tribute to their efforts.

JV Softball Team Picks Up Two SEC Victories Over Saline

Saline Hornets were swatted decisively by the Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity softball team last Thursday, April 23, as Chelsea swept a double header, 14-2, and 29-7.

Laura Unterbrink pitched the opener, giving up four hits and three walks. She struck out five.

Chelsea struck for five runs in the first inning and two more in the second before the Hornets could get on the board.

Shannon Losey had two hits, including a two-run double, to lead the five-hit Chelsea offense.

In the second game, the Bulldogs hit the ball considerably better, rapping 18 hits.

Losey continued her good work, going 5-5. Lisa Unterbrink, who pitched in relief of Christy Petty, had three hits, including a triple.

Other big hitters included Kelly Dale, Jeannie Heim and Laura Unterbrink, with two hits each. Heather Neibauer hit a two-run homer and Holly Baltzell had a two-run double.

Petty struck out eight to pick up the victory.

It was a close game for two innings, as Chelsea held a 5-4 lead. However, the Dogs struck for 10 in the third inning, four in the fourth and 10 more in the fifth before the mercy rule ended the game.

The JVs have a 7-0 record.

Hawker Has Tough Week On Mound

Chelsea's Kelly Hawker had a tougher than usual time last week pitching for Wayne State University as she posted a 1-3 record for the softball team.

Hawker, who is 8-8 over-all, gave up just five earned runs and struck out 22 batters in 34 2/3 innings. She tossed a two-hitter against Saginaw Valley State, a game she lost. Her only win came against Hillsdale.

Hawker leads the Tartars in earned run average at .93 and strikeouts with 73.

WE, THE CHELSEA ATHLETIC BOOSTERS WOULD LIKE TO THANK ALL OF THOSE LISTED BELOW FOR THEIR KIND HELP AND SUPPORT DURING THIS PAST YEAR. OUR TEAMS BENEFITED GREATLY FROM YOUR AID.

Beach 7th Grader Earns 'Most Improved' Hockey Award

Steve Martin, a 7th grade student at Beach Middle school, was awarded the Ricky Stegath Award for the Most Improved Player from the Ann Arbor Amateur Hockey Association. He received the award at the Championship Hockey Game for the Peeewe Division on March 22, at Veterans Ice Arena.

Steve joined the Ann Arbor Amateur Hockey Association in November 1986 and at the time couldn't skate. He worked extremely hard and with the help of his coach, Mark Perry, and his team, O'Neal Construction, and power skating classes at Veterans Ice Arena he was able to help his team reach the championship game with four goals during the regular season. They placed second in that championship game and each team member received a trophy. He has developed many new skills, and has learned the value of working with others to attain a desired goal for himself and his team. He has taken his new commitment to hockey one step further as he will be attending the Michigan State Summer Hockey Program in Lansing for two weeks. He hopes some day to be able to play collegiate hockey at the University of Michigan or Michigan State University.

Most butterflies have short memories. According to International Wildlife magazine, a scientist at the University of Colorado found that butterflies feed repeatedly from the same flower species because it takes too long to learn their way around the new ones. If they venture to a new flower, then return to the old one, they must relearn the path to the nectar.

PATRICK TAYLOR, left, took second place at the state freestyle wrestling championships at Grand Rapids Junior College last Saturday. Patrick, son of Patrick and Shirley Taylor, wrestles for the Dexter Wrestling Club but attends Chelsea High school. He finished first at the regional tournament two weeks ago.

Walt Prater Memorial Golf Outing Slated

The second annual Walt Prater Memorial Golf Outing will be held Saturday, May 16, at Hankerd Hills Golf Course, Pleasant Lake. It will be an 18-hole, 4-man scramble, shot-gun start, beginning at 8 a.m. A steak dinner will follow at 1 p.m.

The fee for this event is $30 per man. Interested persons may sign up either at Murphy's Barber Shop, 103 S. Main St., or with Fred Mills in the Administration Building at Chelsea High school, by May 9. Checks should be made payable to Walt Prater Memorial Fund.

Trustees of the Walt Prater Memorial Fund will be awarding a $200 scholarship to a graduating senior from Chelsea High school and from Stockbridge High school in memory of Walt Prater.

Additional information concerning this event may be obtained by contacting Clifford Bellers, 4240 Brogan Rd., Stockbridge 49285.

Todd Sprague Wins Hammer Throw

Senior Todd Sprague of Chelsea was first in the hammer throw competition for Western Michigan University's men's track team last Saturday, April 4 as it defeated Mid-American Conference champion Eastern Michigan, 88%-74% and Central Michigan 109-52 in Kalamazoo.

Sprague had an effort of 180' 7" in the hammer and was also third in the shot put, 49'-6 1/2". Both throws were 1987 personal best performances.

Red Cross Open House To Recognize Volunteers

Golf Scramble Event Held at Inverness

The men's golf scramble at the Inverness Country Club was held on Sunday, April 26, starting at 9 a.m. This year 58 men participated, all being either members of the country club or guests of members.

The scramble consists of teams of four, a captain with a low handicap and three others with greater handicaps. They all make each shot, with the longest being the one the next shot is taken from.

The winning team scored 62 for 18 holes. The members were Ted Curley, Les Short, Mary Baker, and S. Curley. The second place team scored 63. Their members were Tom Roth, Dick Westcott, Fred Mills, and Dave Otto. The third place team scored 64. Their members were Ron Roth, Phil McGibney, G. Cadenos, and Dave Murphy.

Ordinance No. 79-RR

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 79, THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA, REGULATING THE PLACEMENT, LOCATION AND RELATIONSHIP OF ADULT MOTION PICTURE THEATERS, ADULT BOOKSTORES, SEXUALLY EXPLICIT NUDE ENTERTAINMENT AND TO AMEND SUPPLEMENTAL REGULATIONS.

The Village of Chelsea Ordains:

SECTION 1. An amendment to supplemental regulations of the Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance by adding thereto the following Section 5.28 and provisions:

A. DEFINITIONS.

1. For the purpose of this section, "specified sexual activities" is defined as:

- a. Human genitals in a state of sexual stimulation or arousal;
- b. Acts of human masturbation, sexual intercourse, or sodomy;
- c. Fondling or other erotic touching of human genitals, pubic region, buttock or female breast.

2. For the purpose of this section, "specified anatomical areas" defined as:

- a. Less than completely and opaquely covered; (a) human genitals, pubic region, (b) buttock and (c) female breast below a point immediately above the top of the areola; and,
 - b. Human male genitals in a discernible turgid state, even if completely and opaquely covered.
3. As used in the section, "sexually explicit nude entertainment" is defined as: the offering for observation by patrons or members of the public, whether or not a fee, compensation or other goods and services are sold or offered in conjunction therewith, of entertainment which is distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on acts depicting, suggesting, describing, displaying or relating to "specified sexual activities" or "specified anatomical areas."

4. As used in this section, "adult bookstore," is defined as: an establishment having as a substantial or significant portion of its stock and trade, books, magazines or other periodicals which are distinguished or characterized by their emphasis on matter depicting, describing or relating to "specified sexual activities" or "specified anatomical areas" as the same are defined herein, or an establishment with a segment or section devoted to the sale or display of such material.

5. For the purpose of this section, "adult motion picture theater" is defined as: an enclosed building used for presenting material distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on matter depicting, describing or relating to "specified sexual activities" or "specified anatomical areas" as the same is defined herein, for observation by patrons thereof.

6. For the purpose of this section, "used" is defined as: a continuing course of conduct of exhibiting "specified sexual activities" and/or "specified anatomical areas" in a manner which appeals to a prurient interest.

other honors including being co-president of her dorm, Buell Hall; representative on the National Student Speech and Hearing Association; and membership in Kappa Delta Rho, an honor society of the College of Education. She has been on the dean's list since the Winter term of 1985.

Mary Beth's mother, Mary Lou, has recently been named EMU's Outstanding Student in Business Education. She was presented with the honor when she attended the Michigan Business Education Association's annual state convention, April 4 at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids. She is also a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society, Pi Omega Pi, and Kappa Delta Phi. She has been on the dean's list the entire time she has been in college.

Both O'Quinns feel that they owe much of their success to the moral support that was always given, and still is, by Lacey O'Quinn, Mary Lou's husband and Mary Beth's father.

High Speed Chase

A Grass Lake man who was involved in a high speed chase with Chelsea police last Saturday morning crashed his car in Hamburg township about an hour after he eluded the Chelsea officer on North Territorial Rd.

According to Chelsea police, Michael Joseph Hurst, 20, of Grass Lake, led Officer David Detling on a chase north on M-52 at speeds up to 110 miles per hour after Detling attempted to stop the vehicle due to a broken lens on one of the rear lights.

Police said Hurst tried to turn onto Roepke Rd. at high speed and the car spun out. He then maneuvered onto North Territorial Rd., turning in front of Detling's cruiser, forcing Detling to take "evasive action" to avoid an accident. Detling quit his pursuit at North Territorial and Island Lake Rds.

However, an hour later Hamburg Township Police reported a similar incident, in which a car went off the road, through some trees and into a creek. Detling was asked to go to the scene to see if it was the same vehicle. The driver, who was not hurt in the accident, was identified as Hurst, who was wanted on drug charges and contempt of court charges, police said.

B. PURPOSE.

In the development and execution of this ordinance, it is recognized that there are some uses which, because of their very nature, are recognized as having serious objectionable, operational characteristics, particularly when located so as to have a deleterious effect upon the adjacent areas. Special regulation of these uses is necessary to insure that these adverse effects will not contribute to the blighting or downgrading of the surrounding neighborhood. These special regulations are itemized in this section. The primary control or regulation is for the purpose of preventing the location of these uses within specified distances from residentially zoned land, single or multiple family dwellings, a church or other religious institution, or a public park or land zoned for such use.

C. RESTRICTIONS AND PROHIBITIONS.

1. No person shall use, establish, build, operate, or allow to be operated an adult bookstore, an adult motion picture theater, or sexually explicit nude entertainment in any building or on any lands:

- a. Within 1,000 feet from any residentially zoned lands, or single or multiple family dwelling; or
- b. Within one mile from any church or other religious institution or any public park or land zoned for such use.

2. An adult bookstore or an adult motion picture theater is only permitted within I-1 industrial zone, and shall be located within such zone subject to the restrictions of this section relating to distance separations as set forth in Section C.1 above.

3. No person shall use or allow to be used, any land or building within the Village of Chelsea for sexually explicit nude entertainment, if any portion of such land or building is occupied, used, owned or leased by a licensee or permittee under any license or permit issued by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

4. Sexually explicit nude entertainment is only permitted in an I-1 industrial zone, and shall be located within such zone subject to the restrictions of this section relating to distance separations as set forth in Section C.1 above.

SECTION II. Severability.—In the event that a Court of competent jurisdiction shall hold that any provision of the within amended ordinance is unenforceable by reason of any constitutional infirmity or other reason which renders said section invalid, such unenforceable or invalid provision shall be considered separated from the remaining provisions of the ordinance, and the remaining provisions shall be enforced according to their terms.

SECTION III.—The within amendment shall be effective twenty (20) days after its adoption and publication.

Dated: April 21, 1987.

Jerry J. Satterthwaite,
Village President.

Allen L. Anderson,
Village Clerk.

Scoliosis Screening Project Completed at Beach Middle School

In conjunction with the Washtenaw County Health Department, the Beach Middle School administration and staff conducted a scoliosis (curvature of the spine) and kyphosis screening program. This year the program was expanded to include 6th graders along with 8th graders.

During the third week in March science classes conducted units to explain the crippling deformities, and the physical education staff attended a refresher session on screening methods.

Actual screening of students was Tuesday, April 21, and involved a very simple process not requiring x-ray. If a child is suspected of suffering from the affliction, parents will be notified and encouraged to consult a qualified physician for further investigation and treatment.

A Health Department report explains that screening in other states has exposed spinal variations in four percent of those tested and two percent required active treatment or on-going observation.

Early detection and treatment can prevent pain, breathing difficulties, short stature and obvious chest deformities resulting from progression of the problem. Correction is possible with body braces and through other methods. Allowed to progress without medical attention, however, correction often requires surgical procedures.

It is the hope of the Beach school staff that the screening program will prevent later problems from scoliosis or kyphosis for all students participating.

Seniors Preparing For Alaska Trip

Chelsea Senior Citizens are making final preparations for their Alaskan trip which will start May 26. Traveling aboard the Noordam, a Holland-American cruise line ship, they will sail along the Upper Passage, stopping at Ketchikan, Juneau, and Sitka.

The trip will start at the Chelsea school bus garage, where 123 seniors, plus senior citizens center director Treva Winans and her husband, Dave, will board a bus to take them to Detroit Metropolitan airport. They will fly to Seattle, and then be bused to Vancouver, where they will board the cruise ship.

At each of the cruise stops, there will be choices of optional excursions including rubber raft trips and sea flights. At Juneau, those who wish may take a 12-hour trip to Skagway, enjoying the beautiful scenery on the way and then touring the town, which has been reconstructed by the National Park Service to look like it did during the gold rush years.

Winans describes the trip as a "family party." Everyone going has Chelsea connections, but not all are Chelsea seniors. Also included are some people who have moved to Florida, and some participants' cousins who live in Arkansas.

At the end of the Alaskan cruise, most of the seniors will return home, following the outcoming route, only in reverse. They will reach Chelsea, Tuesday, June 2.

A group of 26 will stay away an extra week, taking the opportunity to visit Vancouver and Banff. While in Vancouver they will visit Vancouver Island, sightseeing in Victoria and enjoying the Bratschart Gardens. In Banff they will view Lake Louise, Columbia ice fields, and the mountain lakes. They will return by train, arriving in Sudbury, and then travel by bus back to Chelsea, arriving Wednesday, June 10.

The seniors have been preparing for this trip all spring. Bill Prevost, who took the same Alaskan cruise last year, showed them his slides and also a video that he bought while there. A lot of discussion has been occurring over what to pack. Since the weather is wet and rainy, and at this time of year, unpredictable in temperature, Winans is advising them to bring clothes that may be worn in layers or separately.

Janice Martin Initiated Into EMU Honor Society

Janice Martin, of Chelsea was initiated into Chapter 154 of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi at Eastern Michigan University. Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society held their annual Initiation Banquet Wednesday, April 8 at the Hoyt Conference Center on the EMU campus.

Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society was founded in 1897 at the University of Maine and is dedicated to the recognition and encouragement of superior scholarship. Their motto being "Let the love of learning rule mankind." There are currently 240 chapters in the United States and abroad.

The Honor Society reviews nominations from all departments of the University and chooses only those students from each department who are in the upper 10% or less of their class, and who have shown by their work to be outstanding in their field of study. These students are nominated by the faculty of their respective departments. These nominations are then reviewed by the nominations committee and voted upon.

Martin recently graduated from Eastern Michigan University with her third degree in education. She has a Bachelors Degree in Education with a major in Social Sciences, and a Fine Arts minor; a Masters Degree in Education K-8 with an Early Childhood Endorsement; and a Post Masters Degree in Curriculum and Instruction with a Reading Endorsement K-12th Grade. She maintained a 3.85 average.

Martin's other recognitions have included being honored by the New York City Banks with their Young Leadership Award, the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts for her voice accomplishments, and by the Chelsea Fair's Homemaker of the Year Award for two years. She and her husband, Tom, have three children, Steve, 13, Matt, 9, and Sarah 6. They have been residents of Chelsea since 1978.

Jason M. Gehringer Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Jason M. Gehringer, son of Michael E. and Jacqueline K. Gehringer of 10877 North Territorial Rd., Dexter, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Gehringer's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Gehringer's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Frankenmuth Boasts German Heritage

Until 1905, everyone in Frankenmuth was of German birth or descent except one Welshman and one Indian, and most of the Thumb Region was settled by Germans. The original 15 who first settled there were missionaries who wanted to bring Christianity to the native American Indians. Today, Frankenmuth, meaning "courage of the Franks," is "Little Bavaria."

Throughout the town, shops and civic building exteriors reflect the German heritage—as does a 50-foot Glockenspiel imported from Germany. Famous chicken dinners satisfy hearty appetites at Zehnder's and the Bavarian Inn. And German sausage galore! You can find them at Willi's Sausage Haus and Kern's Sausages.

Each summer, the Bavarian Festival features parades, polka bands, singing and dancing, arts and crafts, and lots and lots of bratwurst and beer. To continue the celebration, from mid to late August, all are invited to attend the annual foot-stomping Summer Music Festival (Polka Fest) sponsored by local musicians.

For more information on festival times and location, contact the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432-YES, or for the hearing impaired, TDD 1-800-722-8191 (MI only).

New Schedule For Assembly Of God Church

Effective immediately, First Assembly of God, 14900 Old US-12, in Chelsea is announcing a time change for their Sunday morning worship services. The change is designed for a stronger emphasis upon the family and upon the need for prayer.

The new Sunday schedule begins with fellowship time for all, from 9:30 to 10 a.m. Prayer is the main focus for all from 10 to 10:20, a special time for children ages 10 and under is also featured. The main worship service begins at 10:30 a.m.

First Assembly of God will focus the morning service around a strong emphasis on Praise and Worship. The use of overhead projection of words to choruses and the singing of specials will highlight the meaningful worship experience.

Pastor Farnsworth also says there will always be time to pray for the needs of the people. A special invitation is extended to all to come and share in this special time. Children's Church will also be there for the children.

Sunday evening services will still be at 6 p.m. Wednesday's Family Night will be at 7 p.m.

School Family Recognition Day Slated

The Chelsea Board of Education has designated Tuesday, May 5 as School Family Recognition Day. The Board of Education recognizes the essential role of teachers, administrators and school support staff in our system of free universal and public education. The staff has devoted themselves to helping young people succeed. The Chelsea Board of Education wishes to express thanks and appreciation for a job well done.

The Board of Education passed a resolution to that effect at its April 20 board meeting. Many activities will be happening in the schools to accentuate the appreciation of employee contributions. The Chelsea Education Association will be providing donuts for the bus drivers and maintenance department.

Administrators, parent groups, and Student Council will also be fostering appreciation activities ranging from general thank-you's to breakfast or brunch.

Henry Ford Estate Open to Visitors

On April 7, 1947, Henry Ford, the legendary automobile industry pioneer, died at his Dearborn mansion at the age of 83. Today visitors may tour the Henry Ford Estate and enjoy glimpses of his home.

The tour includes the $244,000 powerhouse which Ford built as a hobby. Its two 55-kilowatt generators served as a main source of power for the house. Ironically, a flood disabled the powerplant on the night of his death, and Ford—who was born before the invention of the electric light—passed away by candlelight.

The home also includes a bowling alley and what used to be a swimming pool, which Ford had built to keep his only son Edsel home. Much to Ford's dismay, Edsel married 10 months after the recreational facilities were completed and left home to live with his wife in Grosse Pointe Shores.

For more information on this and other auto barons' homes in Michigan, contact the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432-YES, or for the hearing impaired, TDD 1-800-722-8191 (MI only).

CHIROPRACTIC The Winning Edge!!!

We are all in need of chiropractic care from the time we first participate in sports as children up to and including adulthood and professional athletes. Competitive and recreational athletic activities can, even without trauma or direct injury, put a tremendous amount of stress on the spinal column and spinal nerves. Discomfort and loss of coordination may be the result.

Even in the most well-prepared and conditioned professional athletes, any spinal injury can cause immediate and long-term detrimental effects. However, whether it's a child or a professional who suffers a spinal injury, if it goes uncorrected, it will affect their performance and ability. In the long run, it makes more sense to be sure there are no spinal problems going undetected or uncorrected. Athletes from virtually every walk of life keep chiropractic as a much needed ally to peak physical fitness. Simple spinal adjustments can mean the difference between competition at your very best and a painful reminder of what might have been. Call our office for a spinal analysis to see if chiropractic can give you the winning edge.

Church Women Plan May Fellowship Day

All Chelsea area women are invited to participate in the May Fellowship Day Celebration on Saturday, May 2, at 10 a.m. The women of Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, will be hostesses for the group.

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the Chelsea Unit of Church Women United. They will be honoring past presidents and highlighting the accomplishments of the past so as to point the way for the future.

Church Women United brings women of different faiths together to strengthen their sense of community and to bring about an increased understanding of local concerns.

May Fellowship Day began as a "Dedication Day" in May 1933 when the National Council of Church Women brought their dream of unity into full expression in each local community. It took its present name in 1945, becoming the third ecumenical celebration to be sponsored each year by Church Women United. Others are World Community, the first Friday in November, and World Day of Prayer, the first Friday in March.

You, who have participated in Church Women United are urged to come and share your experiences. You, who are not familiar with the organization, are challenged to make a commitment to get to know the group and participate in the future of the Chelsea Unit of Church Women United.

Refreshments and child care will be provided. The program will be concluded by noon.

Sesqui Wagon On Display at State Capitol

The official Sesquicentennial wagon pulled by two 2,000 pound giant Belgians will be unveiled at the state Capitol 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 29.

The official Sesquicentennial wagon will lead 100 wagons and 500 participants June 14 to June 27 on a 13-day, 11-city tour in honor of the Sesquicentennial.

The wagon is an authentic replica of a prairie schooner which brought early settlers to the midwest. It was fashioned after plans found in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. and was part of the wagon train which travelled to Valley Forge to help celebrate the nation's bicentennial year in 1976. A gift to Michigan from the state of Pennsylvania, the wagon is usually only on display at the Department of State's Cambridge Junction Museum.

Participating in the unveiling will be Merri Jo Bales, executive director of the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission, wagonmaster Kolleen Evans of Leslie, and teamster Irving Hawkes of Litchfield. Also participating are Phil and Penny Darling, Rives Junction, who are refurbishing the wagon. The Darlings will be in authentic period costumes.

Executive director Bales will present the teamster with a special Sesquicentennial plaque to be carried on the wagon. The unveiling, like the wagon train excursion itself, will be held rain or shine. The wagon will be on display at the east entrance to the Capitol between the Austin Blair statue and the front steps.

We're Coming
To You.

You are closer to a college education than you think. Washtenaw Community College offers many of its courses at the high schools in Chelsea and Dexter. All classes start at 6 p.m. and are available in Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday combinations.

You can study topics like introductory algebra, business math or triangle trigonometry. Best of all, you can register and attend class without coming to our main campus in Ann Arbor.

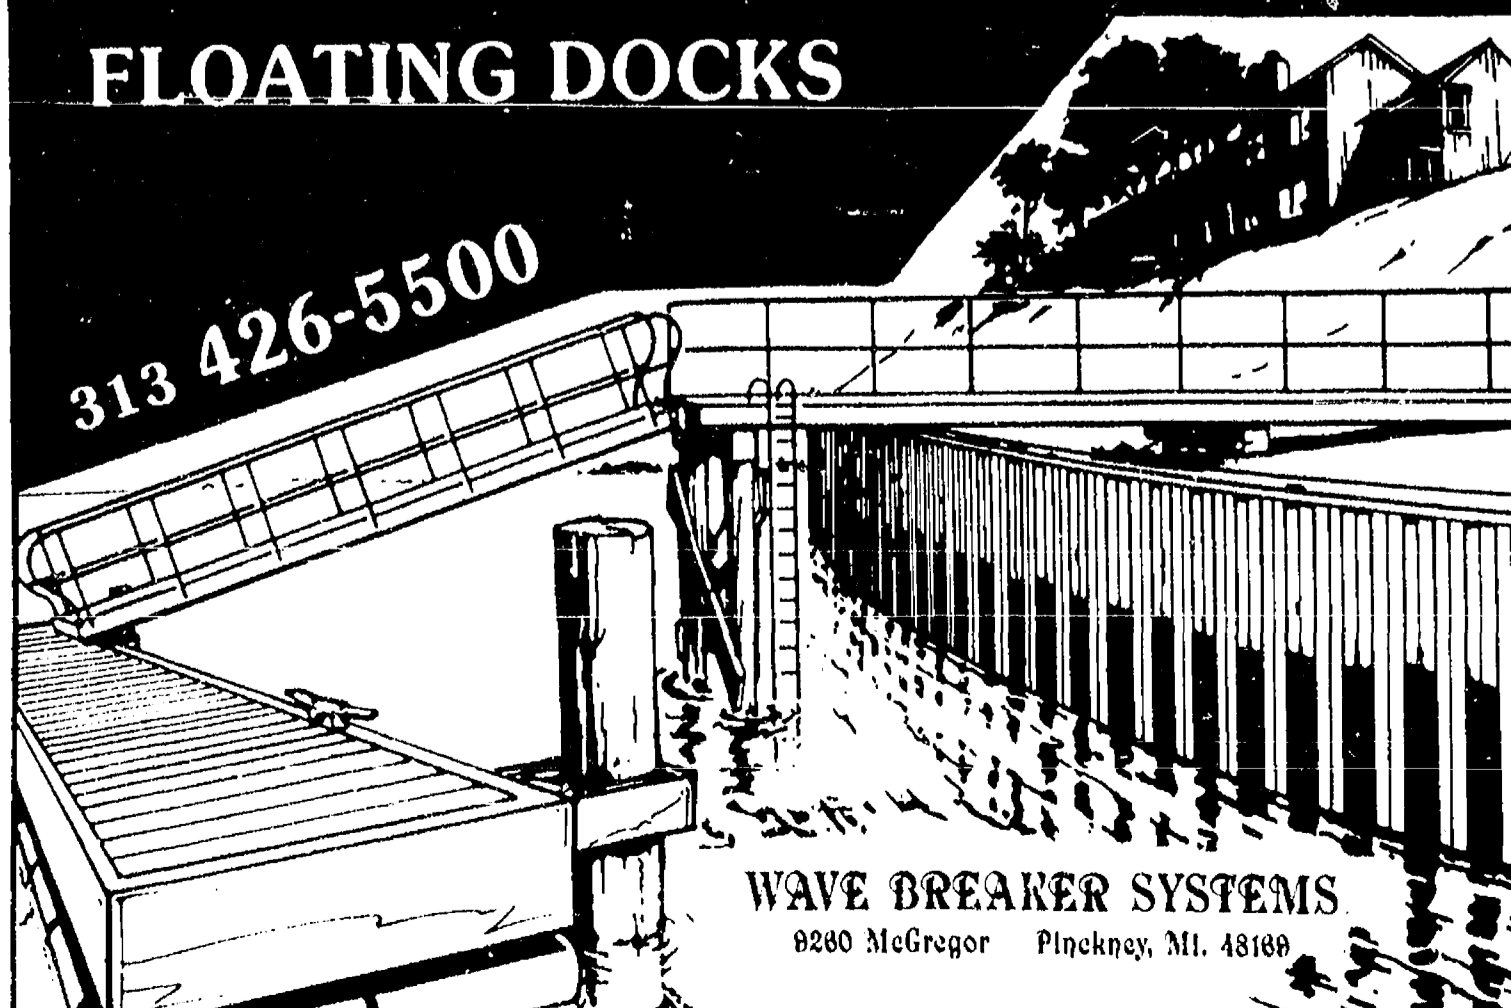

Registration at both Chelsea and Dexter high schools happens Wednesday, May 6 from 6-8 p.m. If May 6 doesn't work out, you can still register at the Ann Arbor campus from April 27 through May 8. Call 973-3650 for daily registration hours.

Zion Pastor Leaving Chelsea for Similar Rural Church in Herron

The Rev. John R. Morris, pastor of Zion Lutheran church for the last 20 years, is leaving May 24. On June 21, he will be installed as the pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church in Herron, a small rural community eight miles from Alpena.

Asked why he was leaving, the Rev. Morris replied, "The holy spirit has worked through this letter of call. The Lord has led me to accept the call at St. Matthew's."

The Rev. Morris came to Zion in 1967, the year that the church was celebrating its 100th anniversary with six months of special services. When he arrived, the congregation was still meeting in the church which was built in 1867, the same year that the congregation was founded.

Five years later, in 1972, the congregation voted to build a new church. They broke ground July 22, 1973 and finished the new church a year later.

This year, the congregation entirely paid off the debt incurred with the building, which amounted to about $500,000, including interest. They celebrated with a symbolic burning of the mortgage at a family pot-luck.

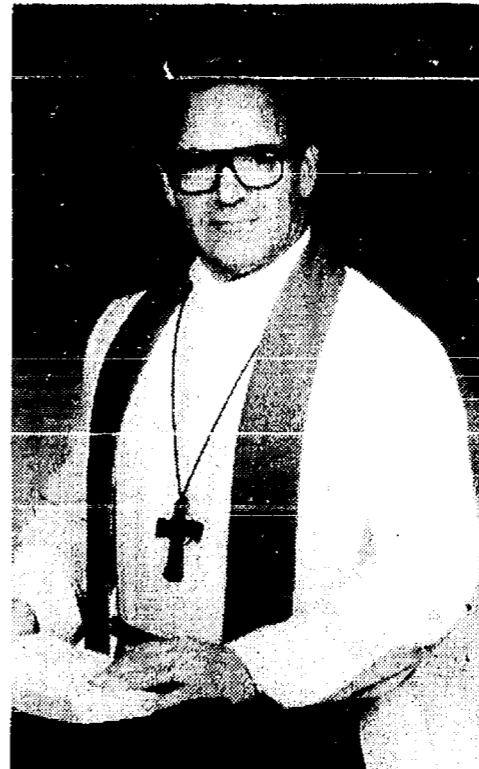

The old church, which is across the road from the new church, at the corner of Fletcher and Waters Rd., is on the Michigan Register of Historic Buildings. Although without heat or water, it is occasionally used for such events as youth services, organ recitals, and ice cream socials.

The Zion call was the Rev. Morris' second assignment. He was born in Terre Haute, Ind. and educated at Capital University and the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary, both in Columbus, O.

His first parish was a two-point assignment, meaning that he served two congregations at the same time, Grace Lutheran in Elmore, O. and St. Mark's in Graytown, O.

While attending Capital University,

A tremendous number of medicinal values have been attributed to chiles. People believed chile peppers relieved gas, eased childbirth, removed warts and pimples, healed stings, and prevented cavities. In fact, chiles are a good source of vitamins A and C and it is thought that regular chili consumption might be helpful in regulating cholesterol levels in the blood. True chili lovers need no scientific validations; they know that true chili induces a sense of spiritual and physical well-being that transcends analysis.

THE REV. JOHN R. MORRIS

the Rev. Morris met and married his wife Karol. They have three children, one of whom, Kathleen, is attending her parent's alma mater. Son David has graduated from the University of Michigan and daughter Deborah is attending Michigan State University. All three attended Chelsea schools from kindergarten to graduation.

Karol Morris has been employed for the last three and a half years as the head receptionist at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. She has served as choir director at Zion and has also led the Joymakers, the junior choir. Both husband and wife have been members of the Chelsea Community choir.

Other community activities of the Rev. Morris include 18 years as a member of Kiwanis and seven years as the announcer for the Chelsea High school band.

The Rev. Morris' new church is larger, having 468 members to Zion's 368. But in many respects it should be a similar assignment. Both are historic (St. Mark's is 105 years old, which makes it slightly younger), both serve rural communities, and both were started by German immigrants.

In the month between his assignments, the Rev. Morris plans to pack and unpack and maybe relax a little.

Zion will probably be served by supply pastors for a while, since the tradition in the Lutheran Church is to not look for a new pastor until the former has left. The congregation, under the direction of the bishop, will do a self study to assess its needs and in the process call a new pastor.

The Rev. Morris leaves with a warm feeling, both for his parish and for the Chelsea community. He says, "We are grateful to the fine Chelsea community which has supported us and shared life with us in this cozy, comfortable setting." However, he says he is looking forward "to a fresh start, to looking at the ministry through new eyes in a new setting."

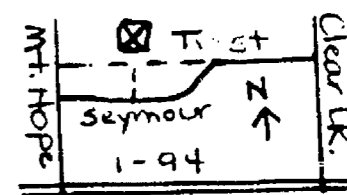

On the morning of May 24, the Rev. Morris will preach his last sermon at Zion. At 4 p.m. the congregation invites people in the community to an informal dinner to wish the Rev. Morris well at Herron. All are invited and reservations are not necessary.

CHARTER MEMBERS of the Chelsea Lions Club were recognized last Friday as the group celebrated its 10th anniversary with a dinner at Chelsea Community last Friday, April 24. The awards honor members who have done the best job of recruiting new members. Dave brought in six new members and Doug recruited two. Congratulating the men is President Al Cordell.

Safety Town Classes Again Being Offered

Safety Town is again being offered this summer to all children who will be attending kindergarten in the fall of 1987.

It is a program designed specifically for four-year-olds. The program teaches children basic areas of safety such as pedestrian safety, school bus safety, police and fire safety, home safety, and personal safety (don't go with or talk to strangers). It also emphasizes teaching each child his own name, address and phone number.

Safety Town consists of eight half-day classes, the last of which is graduation day. It is run in conjunction with the Chelsea Police Department and the classes are taught by certified teachers. This program has received national recognition for its effectiveness and has been successfully implemented in Ann Arbor and Plymouth, among others.

You may register your child for this program at the Community Education Office at the high school. There is a $15 charge to help offset costs.

Two sessions of the classes are offered on June 15, 16, 17, 18, 22, 23, 24, 25.

The first session will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on the above dates. The second session will be from 12:30 to 3 p.m. on the same dates.

If you have any questions about this program, contact Marsha Hansen at 475-9718 or the Community Education Office at 475-9830.

Making homes for wildlife—at home or work—is becoming very popular, according to International Wildlife magazine. For the first time, a homeowners association and a group of factory workers have won certification from the National Wildlife Federation's Backyard Wildlife Habitat Program. The Homeowners Association of Sugar Creek in Waco, Tex., has made a home for broad-winged hawks, armadillos and 25 species of butterflies. Near Buffalo, N.Y., 12 employees of the National Starch and Chemical Co. plant converted a four-acre tract into a model wildlife habitat.

Today's Investor

By Thomas F. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I am from Europe and was taught to save at an early age. Could you please give me some advice on investing for my future? I am 42 years old and have a $50,000 CD which will mature on April 4, 1987. Interest rates are so low now and I would like this to be a future investment. I have some stocks, own my house, don't know too much about real estate investing.

A. You are to be congratulated on the fine job you have done in building your wealth.

At your age you have many years to build before retirement. You also seem to have an above average ability to save. Consequently, I'd suggest that when your CD comes due you put about $35,000 back in a new CD. Take a five-year one to get a good rate.

The $15,000 you have left, I'd suggest you put in the following stocks: McDonald's, Citicorp, Abbott Labs, Kuhlman Corp. and Precision Castparts. Put $3,000 into each one.

Those five stocks will give you some experience with five different types of stocks and with five different businesses. After five years of experience with those stocks you'll have a good idea the next time your CD comes due if you'd like to put more of it into stocks.

McDonald's is a huge restaurant business that has been very well managed. It has an excellent record of growth and has about the best record of earnings on invested capital in the business. It is a little high priced, but the growth will soon take care of that. Citicorp, like many of the major banks, has an exposure to third world loans, but that just helps to make it a better buy. Abbott Labs is a very solid large-sized growth company that you probably will do well with for years. Kuhlman is a smaller company that has a cyclical business subject to the ups and downs of the business cycle, but its growth from one cycle to the next has been excellent. Precision Castparts is a small company that is the leader in its industry and is growing very rapidly.

You will be getting a free copy of Better Investing and you'll find a list of companies there that may be bought on an installment plan. I'd suggest you pick out three and invest $50 a month in them. Put $50 in one stock the first month, in the second stock the second month and in the third stock the third month. Keep repeating that process. When you get a hundred shares, start with another company.

That will keep you building and demonstrate how quickly you can accumulate a good portfolio with regular investing.
