ONE HUNDRED-SIXTEENTH YEAR—No. 50

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1987

24 Pages This Week Plus Supplement

THE CONTROL ROOM AT WCHS, Chelsea High school's internal radio station, was recently dedicated to the memory of Strat Radmacher, the former Chelsea student who was killed in an automobile accident last year. Radmacher had planned on a career in radio. The plaque is inscribed "So that others may realize his dreams." The Strat Radmacher Memorial Fund purchased a lot of new equipment for WCHS.

Methodist Choirs To Present Concert

Two of the choirs of the Chelsea United Methodist church will present a spring concert—"Everything Coming Up Roses" on Sunday evening, May 17, at 7 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

This will be the last public appearance of the Tintinnabulators, an English handbell choir, as nine of the 12 members will be graduating from high school in June.

The choir was formed six years ago under the direction of Donna Palmer, and has appeared at numerous community events. They will be "accompanied" on one number by Bob "Bones" Benedict and will combine with the basses of the Chancel Choir and Benedict in a novelty number, "Basses, Bells and Bones."

The Chancel Choir, under the capable direction of June Warren will present a selection of show tunes, spirituals and American folk songs. The choir will be accompanied by Fayola Ash.

Following the concert, desserts, coffee and punch will be served.

The concert-dessert is free although any donations will be gratefully accepted and used for the purchase of new chairs for the social center of the church.

The public is invited to attend.

Richard Cesarz Memorial Fund Has Been Started

A Deacon Richard Cesarz Memorial Fund has been established at Chelsea State Bank. The fund will be used for the future education of Richard's children, which is especially appropriate when we consider Richard's life-long interest in pursuing his own education.

Contributions may be made payable to, and mailed to:

Bus Ridership Picks Up During Route's First Week

According to Ann Arbor Transportation Authority officials it's still a little too early to tell whether the first week of the new Ann Arbor-Dexter-Chelsea bus route was a success, partly because of the 25 cent promotional fare.

However, after Monday, May 4, the first day of the route, ridership picked up substantially.

According to Ken Miller, planning services co-ordinator for AATA, 38 people rode the bus on Monday. That increased to 61 on Tuesday, 119 on Wednesday, then leveled off in the mid 90s on each Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There is no Sunday service. "This route is so new, we're not sure what good is," Miller said.

"We do know that having a bus out is the best advertisement." Ridership for the first week, excluding the first day, works out to an average of 92 passengers per day, or 6.5 passengers per hour.

The normal fare of $1.50 each way went into effect this week.

AATA hasn't been timid about promoting the route. There is a billboard on M-52 near Old US-12, advertisements have appeared in The Chelsea Standard and Dexter Leader, and brochures have been mailed to Chelsea and Dexter area residents.

The experimental bus service is being fully funded by the state, less fare receipts, for the first two years, and 75 percent funded in the third year.

CHS Vocal Music Dept. Plans Monday Concert

Chelsea High School Vocal Music Department Spring Concert "Beach Party" will be held Monday evening, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the George Prinzling Auditorium.

In particular, the graduating seniors take this opportunity to develop their special talents and share them with the community.

The concert is an annual event which features not only the regularly scheduled vocal groups such as the Concert Choir, the Contemporaries, and the Silhouettes, but also solos, duets, and other small groups which are formed just for this concert.

Soloists who have had leads in previous musicals will do solos of a different style. In this category are Sue Schmunk, Carol Palmer and Tana Hermosillo.

Other soloists include Kim Degener, Jennifer Bennett, Kelly Burke, Lori Jedele, Chris Basso, Val Stoker and Debi Koenn.

The theme is that of a giant beach party which goes on from the early morning until night with many different styles of songs being heard on a mammoth portable "boom box."

The community is invited to come and share in this fun song-filled evening.

PUD Zoning Approved For Chelsea Pines Condos

Chelsea Pines condominium project is a step closer to beginning construction after the Chelsea Village Council voted last Tuesday, May 5 to change zoning on land that would allow higher density housing in the area of the proposed project.

Council voted to change the zoning on 14 acres of land from the end of Lincoln St. west to Wilkinson St. to a Planned Unit Development (PUD) that would allow six buildings per acre.

The land, owned by Arnold Fahrner, Marvin Salyer and John Devall, was previously zoned for four units per acre.

The owners sought to have the density changed to make the project more economically feasible.

By establishing a PUD zoning, an area plan was also approved. Now the condominium project has to be developed no matter who owns the land, unless the village council votes otherwise.

The next step for the developers is to submit a detailed site plan to the Village Planning Commission, which will make sure the project conforms to all zoning and meets all other village requirements in regards to sidewalks, drainage and other considerations.

According to Assistant Manager Lee Fahrner, the developers are trying to have a site plan ready in time for the June 9 planning commission meeting.

Village Trustee Richard Steele, a Lincoln St. resident, cast the only no vote on the council. He previously stated that he was against the extension of Lincoln St. to Wilkinson St., which the plans call for, because it would create a major road.

The plan calls for 74, two-family building units to be built along Lincoln St. and several cul de sacs off Lincoln St. It will be developed in five phases, beginning at Wilkinson St. and moving east.

All development costs, including the Lincoln St. extension, will be borne by the developers.

Sewer Plant Costs Grow Due to Tax Problems

Chelsea's share of the new wastewater treatment plant could reach the $3.1 million mark, more than 50 percent higher than original estimates for the project.

Chelsea Village Council passed two separate resolutions dealing with the financing of the plant at their regular meeting Tuesday, May 5.

Both resolutions allowed the village to apply to the Michigan Financial Commission for permission to sell bonds for the project.

One resolution dealt with the financing of the original estimated $2 million cost, which voters approved in the March 1986 village elections.

The second resolution concerned $900,000 in construction costs that were underestimated by Finkbeiner, Pettis and Strout, the village's engineering firm on the project.

An additional $200,000 had to be tacked on to the cost due to tax levy problems, according to Gordon Adams, the village's financial adviser from First of Michigan Corp., who addressed the council about the project at the meeting.

The village is in a bind because bids for the project are not scheduled to come back until the end of June and bonds won't be sold until August.

However, Washtenaw county has to know by July 1 what the village's millage rate is going to be in order to send out tax bills.

Consequently, village residents will not be taxed for the new plant until 1988, so there will be no additional revenue to pay for accrued interest and principal on the bonds.

That means 11 months worth of interest and principal has to be included in the bond issue.

VFW Poppy Sale Friday and Saturday

Ladies Auxiliary of VFW Post No. 4076 is again taking part in the national Buddy Poppy Days this Friday and Saturday May 15 and 16.

The auxiliary will be selling poppies this Friday and Saturday on the village streets for the benefit of disabled American veterans who are in need of help.

Revenue for bond payments to finance the additional $1.1 million will have to come from the village's operating millage. Revenue for the original $2 million in bonds will be raised through an additional millage levy that is not tied to the village's operating millage.

However, the bookkeeping will not make much difference to village taxpayers, who will see their taxes rise by the same amount, now projected at approximately five mills, according to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner.

Adams told the council that if bids come in lower than anticipated that the village will simply sell fewer bonds.

Adams said interest on the bonds will probably come in at seven or eight percent.

Construction costs for the plant are projected at $6.4 million. A grant from the Environmental Protection Agency will cover 55 percent of the cost. The village's share is 45 percent.

School Board OKs New Band Program

The three main actions at the May 4 Chelsea School board meeting were acceptance of resignations from three retiring employees, change of dates and location for the June meetings, and passage of the reconstructed band program.

The three retiring employees are transportation supervisor Ralph Brier, cafeteria employee Lorena Wenk, and North school teacher Anne Stuermer. Brier has served the district 19 years, Wenk for 22 years, and Stuermer for 23. The board accepted their resignations with regret.

The board re-scheduled next month's meetings for the second and fourth Mondays instead of the first and third, so that the first one would coincide with the annual election June 8. On that date, the board will meet at Beach Middle school in the media center adjacent to the large group instructional room where the ballots will be tallied. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills, in his capacity as election administrator, will monitor the counting and give periodic reports to the board.

The board will return to the high school for the June 22 meeting. The 1987-88 board organizational meeting will be held July 6.

The board approved the reconstructed high school band program as recommended by the Central Curriculum Committee. Under the new plan, 9th graders will be admitted to the Symphony Band, eliminating the need for the Concert Band. A new group, the Wind Ensemble will be created for advanced students. This new plan will give students a choice of staying with the symphony band all four years if they do not have the time, desire, or level of development needed for participation in the Wind Ensemble.

Treva Winans, Kathleen Chapman, Shirley Dehn, and Cecil Bernath, representing the senior citizens, thanked the board for their ongoing support of senior citizens programs and presented them with a platter of fruit and cheese. The senior citizens center is located at North school.

Break-In Nets Thief $10-$11

A break-in at Hatch Stamping Co. sometime over the May 1 week-end netted a thief or thieves $10-$11 in cash, according to Chelsea police.

Someone apparently used two steel rods to pry open a garage door window to enter the building at 570 Cleveland St., police said.

The theft was reported on Monday, May 4 at 6:50 a.m. by Mike Hatch.

HONORARY LIFETIME MEMBERSHIP in the Chelsea Area Historical Society was awarded to Will Connelly, a charter member, at the May meeting of the society. A plaque, presented on behalf of the society by president Kathleen Chapman, cites Connelly's efforts on behalf of the Chelsea Sesquicentennial Celebration, his efforts in connection with the Chelsea Depot Association and numerous activities of the Historical Society including recognition of the depot as a Michigan State Historic Site.

Bridgetown Apartments Denied Variance

Bridgetown Apartments condominium project will probably be two units smaller than recently planned due to action taken by the Chelsea Village Council May 5.

Council voted 4-2 to deny a request for a zoning variance by developers Lloyd and Jerry Bridges to allow a shorter distance between four pairs of buildings on the interior portion of the project.

Bridges sought to have the distance changed from 45 to 30 feet.

David Donovan, who lives on the border of the property, told the council during a public hearing, "it seems like they're crowding it up."

Another area resident, Stephen Taylor, who said he is a fireman, said the proposed distance was dangerous.

Village Planning Commission recently approved the project's preliminary site plan, with a host of contingencies, including the obtaining of the variance.

The project is planned for land behind St. Barnabas Episcopal church.

M. W. McClure, former publisher of The Chelsea Standard and a leader since 1924 (Charter member of Chelsea Kiwanis Club) in village civic and business affairs, died May 8, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor at the age of 83.

He was one of nine local stockholders who organized Chelsea Products, Inc., in 1945. He served as secretary and director of the firm until it was sold to Dana Corp. in 1958.

McClure purchased the Standard from O. T. Hoover in 1920 and served as its editor and publisher until April 2, 1947, when he sold the paper to its present owners, Walter and Helen May Leonard.

On June 14, 1921, McClure married Hilda M. Riemenschneider, who survives him. She assisted him in publishing the newspaper and in managing the Chelsea office of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. McClure was a member of the First Congregational church of Chelsea.

Chelsea school district voters will make the decision on what to do about the district's $655,977 deficit for 1983-84—the school board voted to put a 2.9 mill increase for three years on the June 13 ballot.

Oak Grove Cemetery board has asked the village of Chelsea to share the cost of refurbishing the stone pillars at the Madison St. entrance to the cemetery. The village council, in turn, wants to do something about cleaning up the land adjacent to the cemetery drive which is swampy and presently inundated by recent heavy rains.

Ignoring the stiff competition as well as stiff winds and 40 degree temperatures, Chelsea trounced South Lyon, 70-53. The win over the lions, who had been undefeated in both conference and non-conference action, boosted the Bulldogs track-team to the first-place position, which they share with South Lyon and Saline.

This year's Beach School Carnival features long-time favorite booths such as the fish pond, spook house, fortune-teller, cake walk, basketball, and flower booth. New attractions will be a circus show, marionette show and a lollipop booth. After a hot dog dinner, a dozen large stuffed animals will be raffled off. The event is sponsored by the Student Council and the 8th grade French class.

Funds raised by Chelsea Child Study Club's "Holiday Homes" tour and spring fashion show were donated to Chelsea Area Recreation Council for tennis court construction. Child Study Club's finance committee of Mrs. Gene Miller, Mrs. Fred Mills, Mrs. Lynwood Noah, Mrs. Arden Musbach and Mrs. Robert Merkel signed over the $660 check presented by Mrs. Jack Cattell to the council.

During Tag Days, members of CHS National Honor Society collected a record-breaking $440 for the Chelsea Scholarship Fund. Pleasant weather was enjoyed by collectors Kate Vaas, Bill Schafer, Stephani Aldrich, Dave Klemmer and Steve Siebert.

Lynon township's "old cheese factory" located at the corner of M-52 and Boyce Rd. on a farm owned by Howard and Vievea Boyce, was burned down May 1 by road crews to make way for improvement at this corner where a long curve will replace the corner. The building was put up in 1899, an Alex Reid being the first operator of the cheese plant. Originally putting out about 400 pounds of cheese per day, the day's production had increased to 9,000 pounds per day by 1914. The last owner, Bob Edwards, closed the factory in about 1915.

Blanchard Expands Youth
Offender Camp Proposal

Governor James Blanchard recently outlined an $18.1 million state program designed to enable Detroit to arrest an estimated 1,000 suspected criminals.

The program, which would also require a county commitment of $9.7 million, involves an expansion of his proposed youth work/learn camp pilot project, additional space in treatment centers, and more beds in short-term intake facilities.

The governor outlined the proposal in a letter to Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, and comes in response to a continued wave of juvenile crimes in the city. Among the statistics are over 200 persons under age 18 shot by guns since the first of the year.

Aides to both the governor and the mayor said the youths targeted for arrest have committed both violent and non-violent crimes, but spaces do not exist for them to be locked up.

"I am prepared to go to the State Legislature immediately with a detailed emergency plan to provide the facilities to lock up convicted youthful offenders—both juveniles and young adults. This will allow the Wayne County prosecutor, Detroit police and others to move on the problem," Blanchard said.

The plan requires Wayne county to provide pre-trial detention, primarily at the 215-bed Wayne County Youth Home, with the state providing beds for those convicted of crimes, including removing convicted youth from the home within 72 hours after they are presented.

Another 300 cells in state prisons would be opened to house youth convicted of felonies in Detroit Recorder's and Wayne Circuit Courts.

It also includes construction, leasing and contracting 260 beds in three work/learn camps at yet to be disclosed rural sites, 124 treatment beds at private agencies and expanded Maxey Boys School facilities, and 115 short-term beds at three facilities as well as some allowed to be at home with electronic surveillance.

Social Services Director C. Patrick Babcock said the work camp plan—with two 100-bed camps and one 60-bed camp—is an expansion of the three 40-bed pilot camp projects outlined earlier this year by the governor.

He said the first should be ready to receive offenders, from any part of the state, by July 1, with an initial site decision expected in four weeks.

Officials said the camps are designed to house non-violent, first-time offenders, which should open up more secure space for other more serious young criminals.

The proposal requires $8 million in capital outlay over the current and upcoming fiscal years, and $4 million supplemental appropriation this year and $6.1 million in additional money next year to operate the program.

Blanchard said he would also work with the Legislature to pass other juvenile crime measures, such as extending to age 21 from 17 the limit when young criminals may be held under court jurisdiction, and providing for trial as an adult of juveniles charged with a second serious crime.

The governor did not directly support a bill by Rep. Alma Stallworth (D-Detroit) to give schools emergency power to order searches of students and their property, but said he supports efforts to remove guns and knives from schools. "A crackdown on weapons in schools has been in order for some time," he said.

Young said he and other city officials would meet with Babcock to work out details, and would meet with other representatives of the criminal justice system "to assure those arrested are properly charged, those properly convicted are properly incarcerated, and in cases of those charged with serious crimes, they be kept immediately off the streets so as not to endanger the public."

Senate Majority Leader John Engler (R-MT, Pleasant) said through a spokeswoman that the pro-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle come so close to preaching in the opening round at the country store Saturday night that Zeke Grubb fell fast asleep. Ed took his text from clippings on Marine embassy guards and his sermon topic was how it's a wonder to him this country can spy at all.

Any time we start worrying about budget deficits and trade balances, Ed told the fellers, we can all cheer ourselves up with a reminder that of all the things we are bad at, spying is the worst. This country is cut out for international espionage the way the boys in a Sunday afternoon pickup game in the feed lot are ready for the big league.

The fact is, Ed said, Russians can learn more about us by subscribing to a few magazines and newspapers than all our CIA people can learn about them with all their undercover work. The average American can learn more about his Government accidental than the average Russian can find out about his on purpose. We are open and they are shut, Ed said, and that states our case in the spy game.

But the truth is, Ed went on, we're going to keep right on dancing with them what brings us. We can't change our stripes and we wouldn't if we could. We started with freedom of the person, he said, and we believe freedom has got us this far and it's going to take us as far as we go. We believe that Churchill was right when he said American democracy is the worst form of Government ever invented, except for all the others.

To our way of thinking, Ed said, freedom is worth the price we pay for it, and we know it comes high. We know criminals walk free because the same laws that protect us protect them. But we're working on that, and we believe that with freedom we all have the chance to change, to get even better. And we believe that without freedom, what's the use of trying.

Being Americans, Ed went on, we do not believe any of us will sell our country down the river, until some of us do. Even then we insist that our freedoms and laws protect them. The fact is, Ed declared, freedom to us is what hair was to Samson, and it makes us a easy target like it did him. But the same freedom that opened doors for the Walker spy ring and let the Marine guards play fast and loose has the healing power we need, was Ed's words.

The fellers were general moved by Ed's words, and it was Clem Webster that allowed he didn't want to bust anybody's bubble, but it looked to him like Ed missed his calling by not gitting in Amway early so he could of made some real money on his talent for wrapping free enterprise, free wheeling politics and patriotism in the same neat bundle. The way Clem called it, Ed was really saying it don't matter who knowed what when about all the high level arms and Contra hanky panky as long as everybody's heart is pure.

Practical speaking, Clem went on, the Russians do have the upper hand in cold war. Guilty even when proved innocent makes for pretty tight control, but Ed hit the nail square on the thumb with his idea that freedom excuses blunders by Government of the people.

Actual, I figger Ed and Clem are to hardheaded to see they were agreeing with Thomas Jefferson's warning about being on guard agin liberty yielding wherever Government gains.
Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Modern Mothers Elect Officers, Plan Honors Banquet

Members of the Modern Mothers Study Club met Tuesday, April 14 at Merkel's to learn more on home decorating and room design from the interior designers there. Afterward Colleen Weddon and Barb Pruess served refreshments at the home of Jean Cooper where a business meeting was conducted.

Tuesday, April 28 associate member Sheri Plank gave members a program on wheat weaving at the home of Katrina Thiel. Sheri told members how she first became involved in this craft, showed some of her creations and instructed all present on the technique. Each person took home a heart-shaped wheat weaving that she had made during the evening.

Afterward at the short business meeting, officers for the 1987-88 year were elected and invitations to the installation banquet to be held May 26 at Burrough's Farm restaurant were passed out to members. A new member, Liza Gadbury was welcomed into the club as refreshments were served by Liseli Bowers and June Wilson.

The next meeting of the group will be the Honors Banquet for the 1987 Chelsea High school cum laude graduates, their parents and selected teachers on May 19 at Chelsea High School cafeteria. This yearly event has been planned jointly by the Chelsea Schools and Modern Mothers. That evening members will set up and serve the dinner, and as well they will provide the dessert buffet.

Social Services Agency Offers Workshop on Serving Older Adults

An informative, fun workshop for those who know, work with, or care for older adults is being sponsored by Catholic Social Services to celebrate Older American Month.

By simulating the impairments of hearing, sight, smell, touch, dexterity, taste and balance that affect many older persons, participants will learn about the aging process; learn how impairments affect the lives of older adults; and, will build empathy through understanding the limitations of aging. The workshops are free and open to the public.

Have Your Fat Measured Free At Health Fair

Have you wondered how much fat there is in your body, how strong your leg muscles are, how good your vision is?

You can find out the answers to these and other personal health questions free at the third annual McAuley Spring Tune-Up Health Fair from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 16, at Reichert Health Building on the campus of Catherine McAuley Health Center, Ann Arbor.

The health fair features over 35 displays and activities on fitness and issues. Topics include sleep, sun sense, mother-baby care, nutrition, home fire safety, drunk driving prevention, home health services, therapeutic recreation, breast care, mental health, child car seats and seatbelts, volunteer opportunities and more.

Among the free health screenings being offered are glaucoma, vision, hearing, blood pressure and body composition analysis.

There will be prize drawings, balloons, high school cheerleaders, Toby the Magician, and the Ypsilanti Community Band. Special guest at the fair will be "Chicago Bears" quarterback Jim Harbaugh, formerly with the University of Michigan.

WAAM radio (1600 AM) will be broadcasting live from the fair from 8 a.m. to noon. Stop by and visit with Fat Bob Taylor and Lucy Ann Lance at their table under the canopy outside Reichert.

The fair is held in conjunction with an 8-kilometer run and one-mile walk both starting at 9 a.m. in front of Reichert. Late registration for the run and walk will be from 8 to 9 p.m. Friday, May 15, in Reichert. The registration fee is $8 for adults, $5 for children under 14 and seniors 60 and over.

There is no registration accepted the day of the event.

For more information, call 572-4033.

Maple Health Building Needs Volunteers

Alzheimer's Support Group Meets May 20

The monthly meeting of the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Family Support Group will meet at the University of Michigan Medical Center's Turner Geriatric Clinic, 1010 Wall St., Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, May 20 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Dr. Roberta White, clinical neuropsychologist and assistant professor at the University of Michigan will be featured speaker. She will discuss how neuropsychological testing may be used to determine the strengths and weaknesses of an individual's thinking process, memory and attention span. With the use of these tests, psychologists can also gauge the role of depression, anxiety, or other emotional disorders in the memory and behavioral problems of Alzheimer's Disease patients. This information can help group members better know how to treat their family members with Alzheimer's Disease.

Pinckney Girl Completes Course As Traffic Control Operator

Airman Deidre A. Pierzinski, daughter of Bruno P. and Eleanor A. Pierzinski of 4094 E. M-36, Pinckney, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force air traffic control operator course at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

Graduates of the 16-week course learned procedures to regulate air traffic and direct aircraft to radar-controlled landings and passed the Federal Aviation Administration Certification examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Patrick Murphy

Denise Robbins, Michael Murphy Speak Vows in Ypsilanti Church

Denise Maree Robbins, daughter of Robert and Marjorie Robbins of 1225 Gene Dr., was married to Michael Patrick Murphy, son of James Murphy of North Hollywood, Calif., and the late Laura Murphy, at the Ypsilanti Free Methodist church on March 7.

Pastor Karl Wolfe officiated at the 6:30 p.m. candlelight service. Vocalists were Marcie Wallis and Jeffrey Compton, friends of the bride.

The bride wore a white taffeta gown with a scoop neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves that continued as long sleeves with netting and appliques. The fitted bodice was adorned with Venise lace appliques and seed pearls. The full skirt was pulled up to appliques in several places and included a ruffle with a long train. She also wore a fresh floral wreath with a silk illusion fingertip veil edged with silk Venise lace and scattered appliques. She carried gardenias, stephanotis, and ivy.

The bridegroom wore a black tuxedo with tails, as did the ringbearers. The matron of honor was Darlene Straub of Chelsea, sister of the bride. She wore a bright pink floor-length gown styled similarly to the bride's gown. She carried a globed candle circled with roses and dyed daisy mums.

The bridesmaids were Tammy Lerner of Ann Arbor, wearing lavender; Marcie Wallis of Detroit, wearing blue; and Sandy McKaig of Boulder, Colo., wearing sea spray green. Their gowns were styled similarly to the bride's gown. They carried globed candles circled with dyed daisy mums. The bride's attendants all wore flowers and french braids in their hair.

Best man was Loren Lee of Chelmsford, Mass., friend of the bride and bridegroom.

The groomsmen were Andrew Lin of Palo Alto, Calif.; Bob Hickernell of Tucson, Ariz.; and Bill Ergenbrand of Balboa, Calif., all friends of the bridegroom.

Flower girls were Julie Bauer and Lisa Bauer of Williamston, cousins of the bride. Their dresses were styled similarly to the bride's dress in white trimmed with pink.

Ringbearers were Stephen and Peter Straub, nephews of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a soft orchid two-piece floor length gown with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a bright blue floor-length gown. They each wore a white orchid corsage.

A dinner-dance reception for 140 guests was held following the ceremony at the Michigan League Ballroom in Ann Arbor.

The couple honeymooned in the British Virgin Islands and returned home to Arlington, Mass. After June 1, the couple will reside in the San Francisco, Calif. area.

Health Screenings Offered May 21

Free health screening tests will be offered from 1 to 3 p.m. Thursday, May 21, in the first floor lobby of Reichert Health Building at Catherine McAuley Health Center, Ann Arbor.

Screenings will be available for blood pressure and hearing. Hearing aid checks also will be offered free.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

The Constitution of the United States is regarded by many thinkers as the most influential document for the human freedom in history. It is so compact it could be printed in its entirety on a single page of The Chelsea Standard. And yet, as an instrument for waging peace, it could change the world.

Historians tell us it is a miracle that America has any Constitution at all!

Exactly 200 years ago this February, Congress authorized a convention to be held in Philadelphia "for the sole purpose of revising the Articles of Confederation." The Articles, written in 1781, bound the embattled colonies together, not as a country but simply as a firm league of friendship. What was needed was a nation with a government that had the power to act for the country as a whole and to enforce its decisions. There were powers up and down the Atlantic coast who, on the eve of the convention, would be more than content with a hodgepodge of independent Balkan-American principalities.

Fifty-five delegates travelled to Philadelphia, then the capital and the largest city in the states with a population of 40,000. The start of the convention was delayed for 11 days until a quorum of delegates from seven of the 13 states was present. George Washington begged off as a delegate from Virginia, asking to be excused because of weariness from his long years of military service. But Madison and other concerned patriots, foreseeing failure without the man from Mount Vernon, prevailed upon him to come.

The convention agreed early on that their meeting would make sense only if they could draft a constitution—an act, as it turned out, that would prove more revolutionary than the war they had just won.

At the time, the nation had four million people. Of these, 650,000 were black and almost all were slaves. In 1787 the northern and southern states were already split on the slavery issue. There were other fissures between the delegations. The large, heavily populated states were eager for a constitution that would embed them in power over the smaller states. There were other interests in the trades and professions who were hungry for privilege. Several states, jealous of trade, had customs officials who taxed the goods of neighboring states. New York claimed ownership of Vermont which, in turn, had declared its own independence and sought alliance with Great Britain. Connecticut and Pennsylvania were feuding over a mountain valley and Patrick Henry of Virginia, who opposed the idea of a strong central government, refused to go to Philadelphia saying he "smelt a rat."

With a devil's brew of problems, the opening atmosphere of the convention was anything but sweetness and roses. Fortunately, historians agree, the room contained one of the most remarkable assemblies of men ever to meet anywhere. Among them were geniuses whose names are now enshrined in political history. They had powers of reasoning and persuasion to hold the convention together for four long, sweaty months. Time and again sacrificial compromises were achieved solely on what was best for all the people of the infant nation.

The Constitution which emerged from that convention was something that had never been seen before. It began by ordaining that the government of the nation would be ruled by the people. Far from crowning an all-powerful king with a satrapy of nobles, the Constitution divided the powers of government three-fold. Control would be shared between an elected legislative body, an elected chief executive and a jointly appointed judiciary.

Next, the convention established a national Congress in which the powers would be divided between a House of Representatives and a Senate. Populations of citizens would have direct representation in the House, and state interests would have strong presences in the Senate.

It is interesting to note that this great design was completed exactly 50 years before the admission to statehood of a place out west known as Michigan. (Three years earlier in the southern meadows of this state-to-be were the first sproutings of a hamlet which would become known as the Village of Chelsea.)

When the convention finished its business on Sept. 17, 1787, three influential delegates—George Mason, Elbridge Gerry and Edmund Randolph—went home mad, having refused to sign the Constitutional document. So, too, did the delegation from Rhode Island—hoping, perhaps, to become the Monaco of America.

The rest of the delegates adjourned to celebrate a toast in a tavern. They were dog tired. They knew that the job was not finished for they had yet to address the question of citizens rights. There was also the challenge of getting at least nine of the 13 states to agree to ratification. Despite defections among the delegates, plus countless doubts and misgivings, George Washington, 81-year-old Ben Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, James Madison and 35 others signed the document, knowing in their hearts that victory would not be denied.

What they had done was to conceive a new form of government—a national republic that would stand firmly on a tripod of power with each leg utterly dependent on the support of the other two. Never before had millions of people in a common society been presented with such an opportunity for self-government.

Never before had a constitutional document been so clearly and eloquently written. Five days between May 12 and May 17 were devoted to the writing by a committee on Style and Arrangement, led by Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania.

One by one the states had to consider the proposal which daringly began with the words, "We the People." In the debates which ensued there was a dazzling confusion of pros and cons. In all of the states, however, there were powerful strands of commonality. The white Americans were born of British ancestry. They shared the English tongue and centuries of Christian teachings. But now they were free Americans who never again wanted any part of royalty, nobility, Parliament or King's tax collectors. So, in spite of regional and class differences, 12 of the 13 states met in their capitols and voted aye to the United States of America. The first Congress convened on March 4, 1789.

Rhode Island, with little more than one percent of the country's population, was a holdout. Congress sent word to Providence that the tiny state (1,214 square miles compared to future Washtenaw county's 710) would be regarded as a foreign nation and customs duties would be imposed on its exports to other states. Rhode Island applied for statehood and was belatedly admitted to the Union May 29, 1790.

The great business of the new Congress was to pass the first 10 amendments to the Constitution—the immortal Bill of Rights. You know: Freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right to assemble, and the right to petition the Government. Plus the right to bear arms, and the sanctity of the home from military occupation. The forbidding of illegal search and seizure . . . well, you can recite the rest, but if you ever forget, the complete up-to-date Constitution is here in the McKune Memorial Library.

Every newspaper, radio and television newscast reminds us that the mighty shield of the Constitution defends the humble as well as the proud, the poor as well as the rich. And the same media bring us the shame and horror of nationals all over the world who die with no Bill of Rights.

One of the foresights of the Constitution is its provision for change. We had to fight a bloody civil war but we did abolish slavery. We blundered into Prohibition and corrected it with Repeal. Women's right to vote was confirmed by the 19th Amendment and in the 26th we admitted that if an 18-year-old has the right to die in battle for his or her country, that person is old enough to vote.

Re-read your Constitution this 200th year of its creation. Let the thoughts soak in. And all over again you'll hear those bells pealing Let Freedom Ring!

SOUTH SCHOOL STUDENT COUNCIL sponsored a Chelsea Schools Family Appreciation Day to say "thank you" to all the people who have made South school a special place. Invited to the event were teachers, secretaries, principals, custodians, school board members, PTS board members and teacher aides. Students prepared and served most of the food. All South school staff received "You're So Special" balloons. Teacher sponsors were Bob Bullock, Suzanne DeVries and Laurel McDonald. Posing with a cake that says "It is reading, writing, arithmetic and YOU" are, in front, from left, council members, Beth Bell, Nicole White Raymond (president), and Chris Taylor. In the back row are Rebecca Flintoft (vice-president) and Dale Hansen (treasurer).

Believed to be unique in VFW annals in Michigan and possibly in the entire country, is the election and installation of Mrs. Mac. Packard and three of her brothers as top officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and Post No. 4076. Mrs. Packard was re-elected to serve her second term as president of the Auxiliary. Her brother, Laurance Boyer, is commander of the VFW Post; another brother, Fremont, is senior vice-commander; and a third brother, Duane, is junior vice-commander.

Gerald L. Herrick is now stationed at Camp Atterbury, Ind. with the 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division. He surprised his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Lounsbury, of Jerusalem Rd., by walking in just before lunch time Saturday to spend Mother's Day weekend with them.

Dorothy Speer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byford Speer, received an alternate scholarship at Michigan State College.

Remember ARMED FORCES DAY May 16th

The Flag is many things. It is a mark of identification of ships at sea and of armies in the field. It is a means of communication. When you see our Flag in front of a house, it says for all the world to read, "Here lives a family that is American in spirit as well as in name." The Flag is a mirror, reflecting to each person his own ideals and dreams. It is a history. Its thirteen strips and fifty stars embrace a record written greatly during these years since 1776. It is a mark of pride in a great word—the word "American." It is an aspiration of what small children want their lives to be. It is a memory at the end of life of all that life has been. It is a ribbon of honor for those who have served it well in peace and war. It is a warning not to detour from the long road that has brought our country and its people to a degree of prosperity and happiness never even approached under any other banner.

Former Chelseaite Earns Medical Degree at Arizona

Stephen P. Thomson, 34, is one of 89 students graduating from the University of Arizona College of Medicine class of 1987. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Thomson of Grosse Pointe Park, formerly of Chelsea.

The graduation ceremony is on Saturday, May 16, at 8 p.m., where the students will take the Declaration of Geneva, the medical oath, and receive their hoods. Convocation speaker is Dr. M. Therese Southgate, deputy editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Thomson, who received his undergraduate degree at Kalamazoo College in 1974, will be taking his residency in internal medicine at University of Arizona Medical Center and will continue his work in cancer research.

Thomson received the University of Arizona Foundation Award for top student in class; the Bernard Revisin Memorial Award for academic excellence, humane approach to patients and a supportive concern for fellow students; and the Excellence in Research Award.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Let me tell your readers about how my bad fortune turned to good fortune thanks to the kind Villagers of Chelsea.

I was on my way home, Belleville, from Muskegon, and driving fast because I was anxious to catch the Miss U.S.A. pageant at nine o'clock. Around Lansing the radiator starting acting up so that when I hit M-52 the car was ready to blow. A wrecker towed the car and dropped me off in the center of Chelsea Village to pass the hours it would take to repair. I was depressed about missing the pageant and kicked myself for not programming the VCR. Not only that, I was nervous about walking the streets of a strange village at night.

Now I know what a great village you have! Dinner was at a tavern of a name I can not remember now. What great food and service! The bartender gave me change so I could call my wife. Most of the other businesses were closed for the evening but I spent some time walking up and down the street looking in windows. Down one of the blocks some people on the porch said hi, how are you. They did not know me from Adam! But this is the way people are in Chelsea Village.

When I got to the gas station the mechanic said your car is already done! What a relief and not too expensive either. I hopped in the repaired car almost sad to leave! But I knew I could still make it home for the evening gown competition.

At home my wife was recording the first part of the pageant. I really did not miss too much. But somehow I could not keep my mind on the pageant. I was thinking about Chelsea village! Now whenever I am on I-96 I stop in even if it is only for a pop or chips at Pump and Pantry. Last week I read your newspaper for the first time. Maybe I will get a subscription. I did not enjoy the Miss U.S.A. as much as normal but I found a home away from home in Chelsea Village!

Robert R. Klink
Belleville.

Dear Editor,

I am writing this to voice my opinion. Others have, now I will.

First, I'm getting tired of reading in the paper of the Village Council always saying NO to a Shopping Mall and a Motel. Now we haven't really heard a good reason why either! They say it might hurt the downtown business. That's ridiculous! I lived up north for awhile and that town was smaller than Chelsea. They had a nice downtown section, but they put in a little mall just outside of town, just outside the limits, and it did not hurt that town one bit! And it won't hurt our downtown either.

This town needs a small shopping mall, we need stores here that if we need something, you don't have to run to Ann Arbor to get it. And that's just about what you have to do, 'cause some of these stores here, do not have certain things, or enough assortment. Chelsea is a beautiful town, people come to this area to vacation or in-between going places, and there's no place to stay, this town really needs a motel. Papa has the land, and we have land, and we can't do what we want with it. That fair! No way is it!

I think there's too many afraid of change, and whether you like it or not, open your eyes. I grew up in this town, and since it was a small friendly town, it has been changing and IT IS GROWING. And we need to fit the needs for a growing town.

I read an article in the paper a few weeks ago in favor of a mall. Are you ignoring what the people have to say too? If Papa can't do it here, he'll do it somewhere else, and I don't think that is very fair. After all to take our kids to see a show, we have to go to Ann Arbor or Jackson.

We have plenty of eating places out there, I think it would be great to have a shopping mall. And I'm not the only one who thinks so. You're allowing condos, will bring more people so why not a shopping mall. I say bring it to the people, a petition or something. We need a change and it would be a good change, without hurting downtown.

So give the people a good reason why not! I believe the ones unfair are the council, and some of you who just don't want change. Think about it. A mall won't change Chelsea, as long as it stays friendly.

A Long-Time
Citizen of Chelsea.

Dexter Township Has New Zoning Inspector

Dexter township has a new interim zoning inspector, Merritt Honbaum, who has agreed to fill in for John Tandy while he recovers from a heart attack.

Tandy suffered his heart attack Tuesday morning, May 5. He is now in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital awaiting surgery. He expects to be fully recovered and back on the job in two months.

This is the busiest time of year for the zoning supervisor in Dexter township since so many people make improvements on their cottages or start new building projects in the spring. Honbaum is well-qualified for the job, being a former township supervisor. Says the present Dexter township supervisor Jim Drolett, "Honbaum has graciously agreed to help." Things are so busy, Honbaum received two requests for permits his first day on the job.

Drolett predicts Honbaum will do most of his work out of his store, North Lake Sales and Service. Anyone who needs the services of the zoning inspector should contact Honbaum at 475-7537.

ANNE STUERMER, WHO IS RETIRING as a second grade teacher at North Elementary school, started Tuesday, May 5, with a limousine ride to work. She was picked up at Polly's and whisked to North school where the entire school was standing outside to greet her. Shown standing in front of the limo are, left to right, Stuermer's husband Harry, Anne Stuermer, and principal Bill Wescott.

Second Grade Teacher Gets Limo Ride to Work

Anne Stuermer, a second grade teacher at North Elementary school who is retiring after 23 years in the Chelsea school system, was honored on Tuesday, May 5, with a series of events including a limousine ride, concert, and luncheon.

She started the day being driven to school in a limousine rented by the Parent-Teacher Association. When she arrived at 9 a.m., the whole school was waiting outside to greet her. Standing in the road were her own second grade students holding a banner proclaiming, "We'll miss you."

Later that morning, Jed Fritzmeier conducted the high school orchestra in a concert dedicated to Stuermer. When Fritzmeier asked how many of the musicians had Mrs. Stuermer as a teacher, a number of them raised their hands.

Tuesday, May 5, was also School Family Recognition Day. At the luncheon for this event, Stuermer was again honored. Since past retirees were invited, Stuermer was re-united with many of her former colleagues. After a meal of croissants, soup, and salad, which Stuermer described as "delicious," she was presented with a cake. Bob Benedict, who is now principal at South elementary but had previously been Stuermer's principal, roasted her, making fun of her speed in talking and her Virginia accent. The whole event was video-taped by media specialist Barbara Locks, so Stuermer has a permanent record of it.

Stuermer began teaching in Chelsea in 1964, teaching at North in what was then referred to as the "first grade annex" since the buildings were not connected at that time. The next academic year, the schools being over-crowded, she taught a section of first grade at the Methodist church. She started the next year at the church, but moved to South when additional classrooms were completed.

Stuermer returned to North in 1967 and has stayed there ever since, teaching second grade in the classroom across from the office. Her first principal at North was Sylvester Wojicki, next she taught under Bob Benedict, and most recently under Bill Wescott. Since she re-married in 1974, many students in Chelsea remember her as "Mrs. Morgan."

Although the events of May 5 are enough for, in Stuermer's words, "nice memories," two more events are taking place. Next week the staff at North is honoring her with a pot-luck at her friend Berta Stein's house. And in June, all three of this year's school system retirees will be honored at a luncheon hosted by the school board.

Stuermer and her husband Harry, who retired from Hydraulic Systems in Jackson this January, plan to enjoy their joint retirements. They own two homes, one in Manchester and a three bedroom cottage on Big Wolf Lake in Napoleon. They will alternate residency depending on the season and also plan to visit their daughter in California.

Three School District Employees Retiring

Three long term school district employees are retiring this June, transportation supervisor Ralph Brier, cafeteria employee Lorena Wenks, and North school teacher Anne Stuermer. They average 21 years of service.

Lorena Wenks has been a cafeteria worker for 22 years, beginning the job in 1965 when the youngest of her five children started school. She works at all of the school system's cafeterias, filling in where ever she is needed and doing any of the jobs. In addition, she is responsible for counting the money, a job she is qualified for since she worked for two banks, the Ann Arbor Bank and a bank in Galveston, before she started her family.

Now that her children are all grown and her husband has retired, Wenks is looking forward to doing more traveling. She will probably also continue to do some substituting in the cafeteria.

Ralph Brier has worked in the Chelsea transportation department for 19 years, one year as a bus driver, and the rest as supervisor. He has been specially recognized for his cooperation with other districts in arranging joint transportation schedules. Brier plans to move north after retirement but still keep his North Lake residence.

Anne Stuermer has taught first and second grade in Chelsea for 23 years. She plans to enjoy retirement, alternating time between her cottage on Big Wolf Lake, her home in Manchester, and visits to her daughter in California.

SOUTH SCHOOL YOUNGSTERS sang a medley of songs for a big crowd of parents and friends at the school's annual art show last Thursday. Music teacher Ron Harris directed the group through the songs as many parents snapped photographs and videotaped their children in action.

High School Band Program Reorganized

The restructured high school band program was approved at the Chelsea school board meeting, Monday, May 4.

Under the new program, freshmen will be admitted to the Symphony Band, eliminating the need for the Concert Band, and a Wind Ensemble will be started for the more advanced student musicians.

For the last 10 years Chelsea has had two bands, a Concert Band for freshmen and a Symphony Band for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. According to band director William Gourley, having a band limited to freshmen posed the problem of having odd instrumentation due to the small size of the group. Having none or not enough of certain instruments limited the music literature possible to play, which in turn limited the group's technical growth.

With the freshmen joining the upper classmen in the Symphony Band, they will be able to enjoy a greater range of music and to grow technically. After a year or two in the Symphony Band, they will have the choice of trying out for the Wind Ensemble or staying in the Symphony Band.

Having the option of staying in the Symphony Band allows students who find they are not ready for advanced music to continue participating and enjoying music. At the same time, those who are ready for more of a challenge may join the Wind Ensemble and work on harder pieces of music without being slowed down by those not on their level.

The new system will start next fall. Gourley reports that he is now in the process of auditioning students for the Wind Ensemble. He says he has no pre-set instrumentation, but instead is taking as many as qualify. He predicts that about 50 student musicians will be admitted to the Wind Ensemble, while 60 to 80 will join the Symphony Band.

Gourley says he has been toying with the idea of this change for a long time. He points out that many schools the size of Chelsea, including Dundee where he used to teach, have similar systems. Gourley has taught in Chelsea for six years, but did not want to make too many changes when he arrived. When he decided the time was right and suggested these ideas to curriculum director Laurie Bissell, he says she was delighted, having been thinking on the same lines herself. They both think the new system is closer to the philosophy of what the school is trying to do.

The Chelsea bands get many invitations to play, but Gourley says he has not accepted very many engagements for next year, wanting to give the two new bands time to adjust to the new arrangement. He says, "We'll stay in a low key for the first year."

Area Students Earn Degree at Central Michigan

Nine area students have earned bachelor's degrees from Central Michigan University. They include Susan Marie Bareis of Chelsea, Jerry M. Gould of Dexter, Eric Duncan of Manchester, and Rhonda Moore of Grass Lake. Also from Grass Lake is Melissa Igoo who graduated cum laude.

Pinckney boasts four graduates, Lynne Schenden, William Black, Catherine Marzolf, and Darlene Nowak.

Commencement ceremonies were held May 9 with West Virginia University president Neil Bucklew as speaker.

MUCC Summer Youth Camp Marks 41st Year

Michigan youngsters who are tired of softball, arts and crafts, and the usual assortment of activities at summer camp may explore the environment, discover wild birds and animals, learn to fish, and bring home some valuable outdoor skills at Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) Summer Youth Conservation Camp, June 21 through Aug. 2 at the Mill Lake Outdoor Center near Chelsea in Washtenaw county.

Marking its 41st year of continuous operation, the MUCC Youth Summer Camp offers a series of one-week seminars for young people between the ages of 11 and 14. A separate advanced program also is available the week of July 26 for 14- to 16-year-olds who have previously attended the youth camp.

Conducted by a carefully selected and well trained staff, the camp offers activities and learning experiences to help the young people acquire a better understanding of wildlife and the environment, according to Kevin Frailey, MUCC Youth Camp director. "All of the youngsters are closely supervised by staff with campers scheduled in a class or outdoor education activity at all times," Frailey noted. "While each camper has his or her favorite class, every camper must attend all classes."

"MUCC has never operated a 'kickball' camp where youngsters go where they want, when they want. Most of the youngsters seem to enjoy the discipline," he said. The Conservation Youth Camp has drawn nearly 10,000 boys and girls from across the state since MUCC inaugurated the camp program in 1946. For many years, participation by girls was prohibited and then restricted to alternating weeks. The camp program was made coed in 1981.

Unlike many other summer camp opportunities available to young people, the MUCC Youth Camp offers youngsters a completely structured format that requires the individual camper to participate in a variety of activities and learning experiences from environmental awareness, Michigan wildlife, and ecology studies to canoeing, riflery, archery, fishing, and other outdoor activities. "Although the faces have changed over the years, the objectives of our youth conservation camp have remained the same," Frailey noted. "We teach youngsters about the outdoors and hope that the knowledge they gain will lead to respect and appreciation of nature."

Set in the 17,000-acre Waterloo Recreation Area, the MUCC Youth Camp encompasses a diverse natural environment. Hardwood forests, meadows, and a black spruce bog make the area an ideal outdoor classroom. "Studying the ecology of the area is a major emphasis of our program," Frailey acknowledged. "It helps build environmental awareness in the minds of these young people."

Campers are also given the opportunity to participate in special night time courses to earn a hunter safety or boater safety card. In addition, every camper may participate in a water safety training program to earn an American Red Cross Basic Water Safety card.

"At the MUCC Youth Camp we still teach kids the strength that lies in unity," Frailey explained. "For 40 years our campers have worked with a crew or 10 or 20 others to experience an atmosphere of teamwork. These groups, with names like Badgers or Hawks, work and play together and at the end of the week they pit their group effort in competition against other groups. We hope they carry that spirit of unity and teamwork home with them."

Cost of a one week seminar at the MUCC Youth Camp is $100. The advanced course, open to young people 14-16 with previous camp experience, is $120.

MUCC is the largest non-profit state federation of sportsmen's and conservation organizations in America. It is dedicated to furthering the cause of the environment and conservation and the promoting of programs designed to educate citizens in natural resource conservation, environmental protection and enhancement.

Pinckney Area Girl Completes Marine Clerk Training Course

Marine Lance Cpl. Arlene Whitehead, daughter of Morris S. Whitehead of 7300 Chambers Rd., Pinckney, recently completed the Administrative Clerk course.

During the eight-week course at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C., Whitehead was provided with the basic skills and knowledge required to perform as an administrative clerk.

She received instruction on typing and preparation of naval correspondence, and was introduced to the basic office function performed by all Marine Corps administrative sections.

SALES POLICY

Every CARQUEST special is a bona fide offer. This is a syndicated publication prepared for distribution by over 2,300 independently owned and operated retail store members. Any item can be ordered by a member store from a regional distribution center.

This sale catalog must be prepared several months in advance of the actual distribution period. Occasionally an advertised item may not be available because of sales above anticipated demand or because of circumstances beyond our control. If an advertised item is out of stock, we will issue a "Raincheck" entitling you to the sale price. "Rainchecks" do not apply to items stated as being in limited quantity. We reserve the right to substitute items of equal or better value in the event that our stocks of advertised specials become depleted. We also reserve the right to limit quantities. Prices may vary from market to market. Errors in prices, descriptions and/or illustrations of the advertised items are not the responsibility of CARQUEST Corporation.

K. Steffenson Chosen For Operation Bentley

Chelsea High school junior Kristina Steffenson has been selected to attend the 24th session of Operation Bentley at Albion College May 17-23.

Operation Bentley is a program for college-bound high school juniors who are interested in government. One hundred juniors from across the state are chosen to participate in the seven-day program of intensive study of government.

The program will examine the political process through simulation, guest lectures from current public officials, classroom instruction and a full-day visit to the state capitol.

Kristina's selection was based on her academic record, involvement in high school and community activities, and the recommendation of U.S. history teacher Jim Winter.

Students chosen for the program receive a full scholarship covering tuition, room and board, and basic instructional materials.

The program is funded by the Alvin M. Bentley Foundation of Owosso. Kristina is the daughter of Mr. Daniel and Dr. Carol Steffenson.

All-American Buckle Up Week Slated

The national All-American Buckle Up is scheduled for May 18-25 to coincide with the Memorial Day Week-end. This week-end kicks-off the beginning of the summer travel vacation period when many people are on the roads and when many are involved in accidents.

While some accidents cannot be avoided, protection from fatalities and serious injuries is possible when people develop the safety belt habit. It is estimated that more than 8,000 lives could be saved and over 300,000 injuries avoided each year if 70 percent of the population wore their "life savers," their safety belts.

A number of Washtenaw county auto dealers and pre-schools recently distributed reminders of this life saving habit. They include John Colone Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge in Pinckney; John Lee Oldsmobile, Varsity Ford, Naylor Chrysler-Plymouth and Howard Cooper Honda of Ann Arbor; Palmer Ford-Mercury in Chelsea; Toyota Ann Arbor and Gene Butman Ford of Ypsilanti. The pre-schools include Bethshalom, First United Methodist, St. Luke's in Ann Arbor and Head Start in Ypsilanti.

These organizations join the Washtenaw County Health Department, which will be observing safety belt use in parking lots, in saying "Buckle Up America—Start a Habit for Life!" This event is sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

For more information about how your organization may celebrate All-American Buckle Up call Beverly Chethik or DeBorah Borden at 973-1488.

From cable anchor to cable anchor, the Mackinac Bridge, which began construction on May 8, 1954, is the longest suspension bridge of its type in the world. Completed three years later, the American Institute of Architects designated it as one of the seven man-made wonders of the world.

Chelsea Nun Celebrating 60 Years as Dominican Sister

In a white farm house in Greenfield (now Detroit), Sister Leonardine (Clara) Juergens, daughter of the late Joseph and Rosa Horger Juergens, was born on Nov. 22, 1908. Sister is the sixth oldest of 13 children, nine boys and four girls, nine of whom are still living.

With the exception of her senior year, Sister was educated at St. Alphonsus school in Dearborn. She completed her senior year at St. Mary High school in Chelsea.

After graduating from high school, Sister Leonardine entered the Adrian Dominican Convent in June, 1927.

Her teaching career began very early at St. Lawrence grade school in Chicago, Ill. Subsequent assignments included St. Rita's in Chicago, St. Joseph High school in Adrian and St. Theresa High school in Detroit. She enjoyed teaching freshmen through senior classes in these schools.

In the summer of August, 1945 Sister Leonardine received her master's degree in Latin but taught mathematics as well.

St. Theresa's were memorable years for her as she made many friends there, especially the Sisters with whom she was assigned.

Other assignments included St. Augustine's and St. Agatha's in Detroit, and St. Stephen in Saginaw.

It may be noted that because of her nine brothers she seemed to prefer teaching boys.

For several summers Sister offered her services in domestic duties in Ann Arbor to assist the Adrian Dominican Sisters who were attending classes at the University of Michigan. But, her summer duties also included religious vacation schools.

On April 13, 1976 Sister Leonardine suffered a serious illness due to an aneurysm. This necessitated surgery on April 16 from which she suffered greatly. After she recovered sufficiently Sister became involved in handicraft work, but Sister had to forego this pleasure, mainly because of poor eyesight.

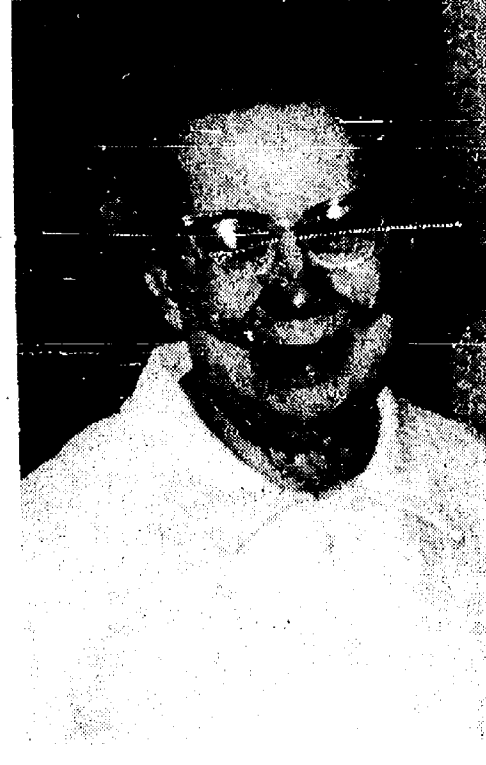

For several years Sister Leonardine assisted in the Data Processing office at the Generakate in Adrian. She greatly enjoyed this labor until she was forced to retire because of illness.

At the present time Sister lives in Maria Health Care Center in Adrian and despite her illness, she has maintained a delightful sense of humor.

On May 16, 1987 Sister Leonardine will celebrate her Diamond Jubilee with her family.

Sister will also participate with her 39 Jubilee Sisters during the week of June 22 which will terminate with a special Mass and dinner.

Rosentreter Steps Aside As Boys Basketball Coach

After guiding the Chelsea Bulldog boys basketball team to one of its most successful seasons of the 1980s, head coach Rahn Rosentreter has decided to try his hand at girls basketball instead.

Last week Rosentreter resigned his boys position and was named head coach of the girls program, taking over for Jim Winter, who recently resigned.

In three years as the boys head coach, Rosentreter had a 32-31 record, including a 14-7 mark last season, good for a share of the Southeastern Conference crown with Saline.

Athletic Director Larry Reed has not yet found a replacement for Rosentreter. However, the man Rosentreter replaced, Robin Raymond, has expressed interest in the job, Reed confirmed. Raymond is a private businessman and Chelsea village resident. His son, Chad, is in the basketball program.

"Personally, I need a little change, maybe a little different perspective," Rosentreter said.

"It was a good opportunity that the girls job opened up when it did. I enjoy basketball and I still want to coach."

Rosentreter said the hectic summer schedule was one of the main reasons he decided to "take a break" as he put it.

Chelsea boys played more than 30 games last summer, all on the road. They traveled nearly 3,000 miles. Rosentreter was also in the unusual position of having to do most of the work by himself since the other Chelsea basketball coaches are not employed by the school district and don't have the summer free.

"If the state came along and said summer basketball is illegal then I think the coaching would be a lot more enjoyable," Rosentreter said.

"But you have to play in the summer in order to be competitive. I love coaching basketball from November through March, even though it's a very long season. I enjoy the people I work with. I know I'm going to miss the Friday nights. I'm going to miss some of the rivalries and there are some coaches I enjoy coaching against."

Rosentreter, who coached girls basketball at Burr Oak before coming to Chelsea, said he is looking forward to working with the girls program because "Chelsea has a lot of exceptional athletes." He said he wants to work on developing more interest at the junior high level. He also plans to set up a scaled down summer program for the girls.

"I'll drag the girls into the gym if I have to," he joked.

Rosentreter is stepping into much the same kind of situation he did when taking over the boys program. Chelsea girls have not had much success over the last two years, finishing with losing records both seasons.

Rosentreter said he still wants to continue to build the boys tennis program. There had been some talk that his teaching assignment might be changed, but that apparently will not be the case, he said.

EDIE HAROOK turns on the jets for one of her three first place finishes in the home track meet with Tecumseh last week. It's Edie's first year running the hurdles. She also had victories in the long jump and 400 relay.

Camping is one of America's favorite sporting activities, rated behind only swimming and fishing.

Tennis Team Drops Three

Chelsea varsity tennis team lost three matches during the last week to Saline, Williamston and Riverview.

Saline showed why they are one of the top ranked teams in class B by shutting out the Bulldogs, 7-0, in a match dominated by the Hornets.

The only Bulldog teams to even win a game were Larry Moore and Mike Popovich at first doubles and Eric Frisinger and John Collins at third doubles. Each of those teams won a game in their first sets.

Chelsea had a little better luck against Williamston on Wednesday, losing 5-2.

Mike Pratt and Eric Worthing at second doubles won 7-6, 7-5.

Collins and Adam Heeter won in three sets at third doubles, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4. Finally, in Monday's match against Riverview, Chelsea lost 6-1.

First singles Kirk Lawton won a three-hour match, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

Due to an injury to freshman John Rigg, several players were juggled in the lineup.

Sprague Places In Hammer, Shot

Chelsea's Todd Sprague, a senior at Western Michigan University, placed in two events on Saturday, May 2 at the Jim Thorpe Invitational track meet in University Park, Pa.

Sprague placed second in the hammer throw at 187'6" and fourth in the shot put at 46'9½". His hammer effort was his best throw this season.

Mound Girls Top Dexter To Maintain Tie in SEC

The Bulldog varsity softball team remained in the thick of the race for the Southeastern Conference title last week by sweeping a double header at Dexter on Thursday, 7-0 and 10-1.

In other action last week, Chelsea won double headers from Fenton and Fowlerville, but finished 2-3 in last week-end's Dondero Tournament.

In the Dexter games, Chelsea got excellent pitching from Pam Brown and Peggy Hammerschmidt as they knocked the Dreadnaughts out of a first-place tie.

In the opener, Brown tossed a one-hitter, struck out seven batters and showed excellent control in walking just one.

"We pretty much just nickel and dimed them to death," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

Dexter starter Maryann Doletsky surrendered three runs before a line drive off her foot took her out of the game.

Kim Easton was the only Bulldog with two hits.

In the second game, Hammerschmidt struck out 11 for the victory.

"We didn't have a big outburst," Waller said.

Chris Basso rapped a home run, and Leah Enderle and Easton each doubled.

Chelsea won the non-conference Fenton games 10-1 and 12-11, as Brown started the first game, pitched in relief in the second, and was credited with both wins.

Hammerschmidt started the second game and was relieved by Jenny Pichlik, before Brown took over.

The big story of the day was the hitting of Trisha Mattoff. The senior had seven hits, including four singles, two doubles and a pair of homers, good for 10 RBIs.

"She's always been one of our best hitters but usually she's a singles hitter," Waller said.

"But she was just whacking the ball. There wasn't a cheap hit among them."

The Bulldogs knocked off 16-4 Fowlerville, 9-1 and 7-4.

In the opener, Chelsea jumped out to an early lead and was never threatened as Brown dominated on the mound with an 11 strikeout performance.

In the second game, Pichlik, after severe first inning trouble, settled down to pitch a good game, Waller said.

Chelsea trailed the entire game, but

Neibauer Helps Build Sturdy Concrete Canoe

Michael H. Neibauer of Chelsea helped Ohio Northern University place second in the Rigid Regatta, the second annual concrete canoe race held recently on a lake in Cincinnati. Neibauer, a senior civil engineering major, helped build the entry for the school. Ohio Northern competed against 15 other colleges and universities.

Beginning last summer, students poured fly ash, cement and water to create a canoe that would move through the water with little friction. Each canoe was judged on originality of design, construction quality and use of material and graphics.

Neibauer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Neibauer, of 11131 Boyce Rd.

SOMETIMES ALL THAT'S NEEDED is a little sign language, as coach Charlie Waller tries to tell ace pitcher Pam Brown why her pitches are sailing a little high during the opening game with Dexter.

Baseball Pitchers Shine In Split With 'Naughts

Chelsea pitchers Todd Starkey and Greg Boughton sparked in a double header with Dexter last week but Chelsea could only manage a split with the Dreadnaughts, with a 2-1 loss in the opener and a 6-1 victory in the nightcap.

In other action last week-end, Chelsea stopped South Lyon in the consolation finals of the Ann Arbor News tournament, 13-10, which was won by class A Ypsilanti in a showdown against Dexter.

In the opener with the Dreadnaughts, Starkey pitched an "outstanding game," said coach Wayne Welton, giving up just three hits and striking out 14.

The Bulldogs took a 1-0 lead in the second inning on an RBI double by Larry Nix, but that was just about the extent of the Chelsea offense against Dreadnaught Kyle Menard.

In the fifth, Dexter started off with a couple of bloop singles. Two walks then scored the tying run.

Kip Read's home run in the sixth inning proved to be the winning margin. Boughton, who struck out seven, ran his record to 5-0 in the five inning second game as Chelsea was in control from the start, taking a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Jeff Harvey's triple and Nix's homer in the fourth inning highlighted a three-run outburst for the Dogs.

Greg Haist, Mark Bareis and Nix each had two hits for Chelsea.

Chelsea was one run away from reaching the finals of the Ann Arbor News Tournament, as they whipped Pinckney, 11-5, but lost to Ypsilanti, 3-2.

The Dogs faced Pinckney with the wind blowing out last Saturday morning and the pitchers paid for it, as five home runs were hit in the game.

Chelsea trailed much of the game. But the Dogs scored seven times in the sixth inning, featuring home runs by Starkey and Harvey, and doubles by Bobby Clouse and Nix.

Junior Morseau was the starting and winning pitcher, and Randy Ferry picked up a save, his sixth.

Harvey, Clouse and Jon Lane each had two hits.

The game with Ypsilanti was one of the best of the tournament as Harvey lost a 3-2 decision.

"Jeff was just fantastic," Welton said.

"He's lost three games this year and they were probably the three best games he's pitched."

Chelsea faced Eastern Michigan University-bound Todd Hendricks, who tossed a three hitter.

Harvey pitched a four hitter himself.

Ypsilanti grabbed the early lead as Hendricks hit a two-run homer in the first inning.

Nix tied the game in the fifth inning with a two-run shot of his own.

The game stayed tied until the seventh. Harvey walked two batters and Starkey, who pitched in relief, gave up a base hit.

Ferry got the start in the consolation final with South Lyon and went two innings before breaking his nose on a pick-off play as a runner at second base collided with him.

Nix and Haist finished out the game and everyone on the team played.

Chelsea had nine hits to go along with 13 walks from South Lyon pitchers.

Jeff Stacey had a bases loaded double and Boughton knocked in three with two hits.

"We're 18-8 (as of Monday) and if someone at the beginning of the season had told me we'd have that record I probably wouldn't have believed it," Welton said.

"Our pitching has been good but I've been a little disappointed with our hitting."

In other SEC action Monday, Chelsea swept a doubleheader from

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

"I guess my only regret is that we practiced on Friday the 13th." Rahn Rosentreter, who resigned last week as boys head basketball coach and took the girls head coach job, was talking about the improbable 1986-87 championship season.

"Friday the 13th (February) is when Jeff Harvey broke his foot in practice. Even though we won that night, our season wasn't quite the same from then on." The Bulldogs, who at that point were in command of the SEC, lost most of their remaining games and finished in a tie with the hated Saline Hornets.

Despite having to watch an undisputed SEC title slip through his hands like Huron River silt, Rosentreter admits it will be difficult to match the sheer joy of coaching last season.

In the preseason, the Bulldogs were picked to be bitten, bullied and beaten by virtually every other team in the league. Chelsea played so poorly in their first league game with Saline that euthanasia might have seemed like a viable option.

But the eight seniors responded to the challenge and at one point amassed a 13-3 record.

"I told these guys when they were sophomores that if they played together they could beat anybody," Rosentreter said.

"By the third or fourth game last year they were playing intelligent team basketball and it was fun to watch. It was a privilege to have been associated with that team. That kind of team might come along once in a career."

On the surface it might appear that Rosentreter is bailing out before the fiery crash of '87-'88. There are only four returning lettermen for next year and they had a combined total of about 15 minutes of playing time last season. The JVs have a lot of quickness and tenacity, but there's not much height.

Personally, I don't think that has much, if anything, to do with his decision. Considering how much success the girls program has had in recent years, it almost looks like a case of jumping from next year's frying pan to next year's fire.

It takes enormous dedication to be a successful varsity basketball coach, and I think that dedication was wearing the old boy a little thin.

The four-month basketball season is the longest of the year, with two games most weeks.

The Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday vacations are always tied up.

Rosentreter scheduled a summer season of more than 30 games all on the road because "we knew we could win at home, the road games were the challenge." He drove more than 3,000 miles for the betterment of his team during what is usually a long, deserved break for most teachers.

Then there's the stuff that all coaches put up with—disgruntled parents who want to know why their child isn't playing more (who can be a genuine pain in the rear), fighting for gym time, administrative problems.

Add all that up and it's a wonder good coaches don't burn out at a higher rate.

On one hand I feel sorry for the juniors who played for Rosentreter last season. Now that they're used to one distinctive style of coaching, they'll have to adjust to someone else's.

I also feel sorry for some of the younger boys who won't have the chance to learn from a very good coach who is thoroughly prepared for every opponent and is an excellent strategist during the game.

I also feel a little sorry for myself because Rosentreter has always been a pleasure for me to deal with.

However, Chelsea girl basketball players should be ecstatic. They'll continue to learn solid, fundamental basketball, especially defensive basketball, from a coach who is genuinely excited about teaching them.

"It's going to be a new experience," Rosentreter said.

"I'm not sure if there will be more or less coaching involved than with the boys, and it will be interesting to see the difference. Chelsea is fortunate to have a lot of good girl athletes."

MY one big regret is that I spent all my winter allowance money on the fancy, new Rosenmeter (the Seismic II model, no less), and all that time and effort recalibrating it, for one season of service.

JV Softball Team Bombs Dexter Twice

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity softball team blasted Southeastern Conference rival Dexter last Thursday, 12-1 and 21-0 on the Chelsea home diamond.

In other action last week, the JVs edged Jackson Northwest, 4-3 and 13-8 in non-conference action.

In the opener against the Dreadnaughts, Laura Unterbrink ran her record to 7-0, tossing a two-hit, eight strikeout, no-walk game.

Christy Petty led the Bulldog offense with three of Chelsea's eight hits, good for three RBIs.

"We bunted the ball extremely well and ran the bases aggressively," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"The Dexter pitcher threw well against us and is one of the best we've seen."

In the second game, Chelsea jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first inning.

Pitcher Jenni Smith was never threatened as she yielded just one hit, a high hopper single, struck out 13 and walked just two. Smith also has an unblemished 7-0 record.

Smith and Heather Neibauer each had two hits in the 10-hit Bulldog attack.

It was a classic pitcher's duel in the opener against Northwest as each team managed just three hits.

Laura Unterbrink had another outstanding day as she struck out 12 batters and drove in an insurance run in the fifth inning with the Bulldogs up 3-2.

"We played a fine defensive game and did the things necessary to beat a good team," Clarke said.

Shannon Losey tripled in the third inning and Jenny Ghent had an unassisted double play in the fourth inning, two of the highlights of the game.

In the second game, the Bulldogs staked pitcher Smith to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. However, the Dogs lost the lead in the top of the third as Northwest scored four times. Chelsea tied the game in the bottom of the inning before scoring four times in each the fourth and fifth innings.

Smith struggled early but came back strong, finishing with a seven-strikeout, three-walk, nine-hit performance.

"We won this game because of our bunting and fine base running," Clarke said.

"Northwest was the best hitting team we have seen all season."

Neibauer had three hits, including a double, to drive in four runs. Holly Baltzell drove in two runs with a pair of hits.

In action Monday against Tecumseh, Chelsea routed the Indians, 14-1 and 20-0, behind the solid pitching of Unterbrink and Smith.

In the opener, Unterbrink went the distance for her eighth win of the year, tossing a one hitter and striking out 13.

Lisa Unterbrink's two-run triple in the fifth inning highlighted a three-run inning. Kelly Dale smacked a two-run homer in the seventh and Charity Petty also hit a triple.

Bulldogs with two or more hits included Jenny Ghent, Smith, Heather Neibauer and Lisa Unterbrink.

In the second game, Smith also won her eighth game of the season, allowing only a bunt single to the first batter. She struck out 10, including the last six in a row.

Chelsea had seven runs in each the first and fifth innings.

Neibauer had three hits including a second inning homer, and Smith hit a grand slam in the fifth.

Chelsea has a 17-0 record, including a 10-0 mark in the Southeastern Conference. They host Pinckney Thursday in their final league doubleheader.

TAKING THE BATON from Rob McDowell is Casey Murphy during the 800 meter relay against Tecumseh. The Indians easily won the meet.

JV Diamond Boys Split Pair of Double Headers

Chelsea junior varsity baseball team split a pair of double headers last week with Jackson Northwest and Southeastern Conference rival Dexter.

The 13-4 Dreadnaughts tossed a three-hitter in the opener last Thursday to whip the Bulldogs, 4-1. In the second game Chelsea rallied from a 5-2 deficit to take a 6-5 victory.

In the first game, Chelsea picked up their lone run in the fourth inning when Jerry Reinhardt singled home Bryant Beard, who had tripled. The score tied the game.

The Dreadnaughts scored one run in the fifth and two in the seventh.

Chelsea's only other hit was by Mike Kushmaul.

Rob Lyerla gave up just five hits and struck out eight and walked five.

Chelsea's rally in the second game came with a lot of help from the Dreadnaughts.

Brett Hanson walked and Chad Starkey reached on a dropped pitch on a third strike. A couple of wild pitches and a double by Larson produced three runs. Larson stole third base and the throw went into left field, enabling Larson to score.

Larson doubled twice in the game and scored three runs.

Chelsea won the first game with Jackson Northwest last Tuesday, 5-3, before losing a mercy-rule game in the nightcap, 14-2.

Trailing 1-0, Chelsea scored four runs in the fourth inning on hits by Beard, Larson, Jeff Prentice and Reinhardt, combined with a wild pitch and an error.

Reinhardt pitched a five-hitter, striking out two and walking three. Larson was 2-2 with a double as Chelsea had six hits for the game.

In the second game, Chelsea fell behind 7-0 after two innings and 10-2 after four innings.

The Bulldogs had four hits for the game, including triples by Lamen Strong and Jeff Patterson.

Patterson pitched the whole game as coach Jim Ticknor said he was more concerned about giving Patterson time on the mound than he was about winning the game.

In action Monday at Tecumseh, the JVs lost two one-sided games to the Indians, 12-2 and 10-3, falling victim to their own fielding mistakes.

According to Ticknor, the only bright spot in the first game was the hitting of Beard, who was 3-3 at the plate.

Strong had the only other base hit for Chelsea, a two-run single in the second inning.

In the second game, Beard's hitting was again the highlight as he went 3-4.

Chad Starkey added a double and Jeff Prentice had a hit and an RBI.

Chelsea has an 8-13 record and a 3-5-1 mark in the SEC.

Boys Track Team Nips Milan at Home

Chelsea boys track team edged the Milan Big Reds at home last Saturday afternoon, 70-67, thanks to a win in the 1600 relay, the final event of the meet.

In other action last week, the Bulldogs were whipped by both the Dexter Dreadnaughts and Tecumseh Indians.

Chelsea came back strong in the running events against Milan after falling behind in the field events.

Rob McDowell easily won the shot put at 40' 4," and Lucky Beeman, who was second in the shot, took first place in the discus at 112' 5."

Tyler Lewis won the pole vault at 9'6" and finished in third place in each the long jump and high jump.

Chelsea picked up its first running points in the 3200 relay, where the team took an easy 9:20.02 win, nearly 40 seconds better than Milan.

The Bulldogs swept the 110 hurdles, as Jeff Andress led all runners in :18.4. Marcus Pletcher was second and Tom Bennett, third.

Curtis Heard placed second in the 100 meter dash at :11.63.

Paul Hedding and John Cattell were 1-3 in the 1600. Hedding took a seven second win in 4:41.08, 10 seconds ahead of Cattell.

Chelsea's 400 meter relay team took a half second victory in :46.4.

Lee Riemenschneider's time of :54.1 was good for second place in the 400 meter run.

Hedding took his second victory of the day in the 800 meter run in 2:12.06.

Pletcher was runner-up in the 300 hurdles in :43.72.

McDowell finished third in the 200 dash in :24.55.

Cattell and Brady Murphy finished second and third in the 3200 run in 10:36.38 and 11:27.11, respectively.

In the Tecumseh meet last Thursday, Chelsea won just four events in the 91-46 loss.

Hedding had victories in each the 1600 and 3200. His 1600 time was 4:45.01, just ahead of Cattell at 4:50.35. Hedding again edged Cattell in the 3200, with times of 10:18 and 10:23, respectively.

Riemenschneider's time of :53.56 won the 400 meter run, for the only other victory in the running events.

Lewis won the high jump in 5' 4." "Tecumseh is an awesome team," said Chelsea coach Ted Wilson.

"They'll be fighting it out with Lincoln at the league meet."

Chelsea dropped last week's meet at Dexter, 88 2/3-48 1/3.

"The kids are still up even though they've lost a lot of meets," Wilson said.

"Even though it doesn't show in the scores, the kids are getting better every meet."

Bulldog Girls Win Three Meets, Tied for Second in Conference

It was quite a week for the girls varsity track team as they won three meets and moved from last place to a three-way tie for second in the Southwestern Conference.

The Bulldogs opened the week with an enthusiastic, exciting win over Dexter, 70-58 in a meet featuring fine performances from both teams on Tuesday, May 5.

Chelsea was behind after the field events despite wins from Kris Zerkel in the shot and discus, second from Dena Stevens in the shot, and a third from Stevens in the discus.

Chelsea ran extremely well, winning nine of the 12 running events.

One of the keys was the performance of the Bulldog relay teams, winning three of the four with outstanding times.

The 3200 of Jennifer Rossi, Helen Cooper, Debi Koenn, Kasey Anderson had a 10:03.2; the 400 of Chris Neuman, Danica Disbro, Edie Harook and Tami Harris won with a season's best :52.7; the 1600 of Rossi, Anne Steffenson, Neuman and Disbro also won in a season's best 4:13.7.

The 800 relay ran an outstanding time of 1:49.1 but still couldn't catch Dexter's 1:46.7. On that team for Chelsea were Disbro, Steffenson, Harris, and Stephanie Harms.

Individually, Harris won both the 100 and 200 sprints with :13.0 and :27.2, respectively.

"Tami is looking like the second best in the league now, behind April Chenaault of Lincoln," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

Sarah Schaeffer ran well, winning the 100 hurdles and finishing second to Disbro in the 300 hurdles. Disbro clocked a fast :49.8 in the event.

Rossi won the 800 and Anderson ran a good race to take the 3200 over Mary Burke of Dexter with a 12:18.8 after Burke had defeated her in the 1600.

The meet was a pivotal one for the Bulldogs in terms of won-loss and performances, coming after two league losses to Lincoln and Saline.

"We felt we had to have this one to have any chance for one of the top spots in the conference," Bainton said.

"Coach Bert Kruse and I stressed how important it was to be ready physically and mentally. The girls were, and it showed."

Thursday the Bulldog girls dominated Tecumseh, winning 14 of 16 events, and placing twice in all but one individual event on the way to a 100% to 27% win.

Harook and Disbro led the way with three wins each. Harook, a senior who moved into the hurdles this season to help fill voids left by injury and graduation, won the 100 hurdles and added victories in the long jump and 400 relay. Disbro had impressive wins in the 100 and 200 dashes and also ran on the 400 relay.

In the field, the discus was again a stand-out event as Stevens threw a fine 99'1" for second behind Zerkel's 106'8".

The Bulldogs came back in a rare Saturday dual meet and again used their strength in the running events to down Milan, 79-44.

Anderson had a fine day to lead the Bulldogs, winning the 1600 in 5:35.5, the 3200 in 12:20.1 and anchoring the winning 3200 relay with a 2:26.6 leg. Zerkel, had two wins: the discus in 100'11" and the shot in 33'10".

Two freshmen also had outstanding days for Chelsea. Tammy Browning set a freshman record in the shot put and became the Bulldogs' fourth best thrower ever with a throw of 32'10 3/4". Steffenson ran on the winning teams in the 800 and 1600 relays and won the 400 with a fast 1:02.6.

The wins lifted Chelsea's SEC record to 3-2 and, together with Dexter's victory over Saline Thursday, tied Dexter, Saline and Chelsea for second behind Lincoln.

Chelsea was scheduled to finish the dual meet season Tuesday at Pinckney.

The Dogs travel to Durand for the regional on Saturday with preliminaries starting at 10 a.m.

The SEC meet will be held at Saline on Wednesday, May 20.

Dexter-Ann Arbor Run Slated May 23

Ann Arbor Track Club is hosting the 14th annual Dexter-Ann Arbor Run Saturday, May 23, at 8 a.m. 4,000 runners are expected to take part in the runs over three distances. The longest, the half-marathon (13.1 miles) starts in Dexter and follows the Huron River until reaching downtown Ann Arbor. The next is the popular 10K (6.2 miles) starting halfway on the course at Delhi Park and also finishing downtown. New this year is the two mile fun run starting and finishing downtown also on Main St.

New this year in addition to the many pottery awards for the divisional top runners is $1,800 in prize money for the top open and master runners in the half-marathon with first prize for male and female runner at $250.

Entry for the half-marathon and 10K is $10 and the fun run is $4 until May 15 and at in-person registration at the Ann Arbor Inn on May 16. Entries postmarked after the 15th and at late registration at the Ann Arbor Inn on May 22 will be $12 and $6, respectively. Entry forms may be obtained at many area running stores or by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to Dexter-Ann Arbor Run, 312 Wilton, Ann Arbor 48103.

Beach Boys Top E. Jackson

Beach Middle school boys track team got its first victory last Monday night, defeating East Jackson, 75-52.

T. J. Haworth started the field events with a first place in the pole vault at 8'9". Brett Salamin was first in the long jump at 15'6". Then it was a Chelsea sweep in the high jump with Kerry Plank, first at 5'2". Jim Hassett, second, 4'10" and Haworth, third, 4'8".

Alex Hammerschmidt and Kelly Beard finished first and second, respectively, in the two-mile run with times of 12:14.31 and 12:15.55.

Scorers in the 55-meter hurdles were Robert Jaques, second, :10.34, and Jeremy Guenther, :10.37.

Chelsea won the 800-meter relay with the team of Adam Taylor, Von Acker, Salamin, and Plank.

Jim Hassett won the 800-meter run in 2:30.75.

In the mile run, Jason Allen took second place in 5:57.43, and Joe Manns was third in 6:03.50.

Jim Robinson was second in the 100-meter dash in :13.48 and Nathan Correll was third, :14.48.

Tim Hubbell ran a personal best time of 1:03.40 in the 400-meter run for first place. Plank took the 100-meter hurdle event in :15.56 and Jim Steele was third in :16.88.

Haworth placed second in the 70-meter dash :10.03, followed by Joe Manns, third, at :10.09.

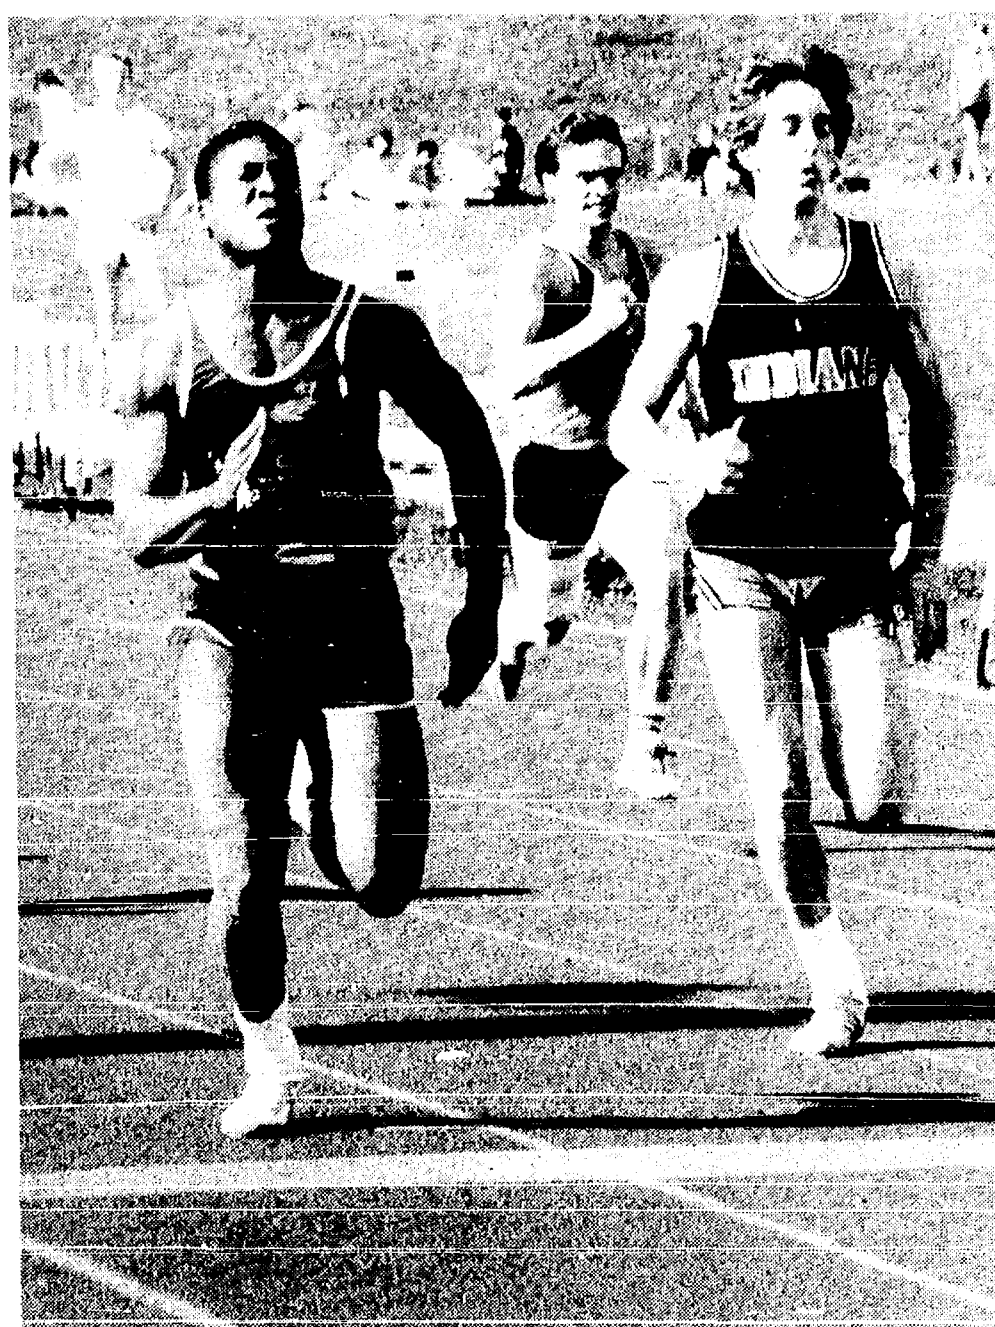

In the 200-meter dash, Salamin won with a time of :27.47 and Taylor was third, :29.52.

Chelsea won the mile relay with the team of Hassett, Robinson, Acker and Hubbell. The 400-meter relay team of Adam Tillman, Jaques, Steven Pieske and Richard Mason placed second.

Other participants in the meet were Matt Capper, Todd Osborn, Brian Adress, Ben Manning, Sean Daigle, Karl Danforth, John Royce, Dan Petty, John Weinberg, Vince Dunn, Kirk Hedding, Nathan Farnsworth, Bryce Hansen.

The boys team also finished 10th at the Tecumseh Relays last Friday. Scoring relays were Plank, and Hassett, third in the high jump relay; Hackworth and Steele, fourth in the pole vault relay.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) establishes minimum wage overtime pay, recordkeeping and child labor standards which affect some 63 million employees in private firms. 7.7 million employees of state and local governments, and 2.3 million federal government employees. The Act is enforced by the U.S. Department of Labor.

CURTIS HEARD, left, ran to a second place finish in the 100 meter dash against Tecumseh last week with a time of :11.36, less than a tenth of a second out of first.

Beach Girls Win Tecumseh Relays, Whip E. Jackson

Beach Middle school girls track team returned Friday night from the 11-team Tecumseh Relays with the first-place trophy and medals or ribbons for each of the entrants as every relay placed.

"The girls performed extremely well in a very competitive meet," said Chelsea coach Ann Schaffner.

"We had a good evening. This is a sprinter's relay and our depth was the key."

Leading the way with first-place finishes were the 400-meter relay team of Cindy Noble, Jane Pacheco, Amy Weir and Jeanne Rossi in :57.5, and the distance relay of Christine Burg (800), Deanna Richardson (400), Kathy Granger (400) and Kathy Isell who anchored with an excellent and gutsy 6:06 for 1600 meters, dropping 22 seconds from her previous best effort.

Placing second was the high jump team of Jeanne Rossi and Erika Boughton with each girl clearing 4'6", and the shuttle hurdle relay team of Jenny Bobo, Leah Hadley, Jessica Rodenkirch, and Colleen Scharphorn in 1:08.6.

Third-place finishes were earned by the shot put team of Jane Pacheco and Colleen Scharphorn with a fine personal-best put of 32'8"; and the 800-meter relay of Michelle Hollo, Mercedes Hammer, Melanie Bendrey, and Leah Hadley in 2:05.6.

The distance medley relay team of Nicci Underhill (400), Angela Pace (200), Colleen Scharphorn (200), and Charity Allen (400) placed fourth.

The long jump team of Richardson, and Kathy Granger; and the sprint medley team of Pace (100), Allen (100), Burg (200) and Richardson (400m) received fifth place points.

At the Chelsea track, Monday, May 4, the Beach track team was able to sweep several events and win all three relays as they dominated a much smaller East Jackson girls team, 103-20.

"There were some significant time drops from our distance runners which is a tribute to their good practice efforts," said Schaffner.

The following girls represented Chelsea well: Shot put: 2nd, Scharphorn; 3rd, Jane Pacheco; also competing were Carrie Flintoft, Isell, Burg, Amy Mitchell and Tara Jagodowski.

High jump: 1st, Rossi, 4'6"; 2nd Boughton; 3rd, Hollo; also competing were Underhill and Danielle Taylor.

Long jump: 1st, Richardson, 13'2 1/2"; 2nd, Granger; also competing were Pace, Hammer and Hadley.

3200 run: 1st, Stacey Gallagher, 14:29; 2nd, Martina Street; 3rd, Carrie Flintoft.

55 hurdles: 2nd, Hadley; also com-seventh inning heroics sealed the win.

The Bulldogs were their own worst enemy at the Dondero Tournament of Champions, as poor base running accounted directly for one loss and nearly caused them to lose another.

Brown faced Fenton in the opener and won the game, 8-7, in eight innings.

Chelsea left the bases loaded three times, but two runs in the top of the eighth inning proved to be enough to win.

Easton's four hits, including a pair of doubles, paced the Chelsea attack. Mattoff, Pichlik, Angie DeFant and Laura Torres also had two hits each.

The Bulldogs were the victim of a one-hitter in the second game with Regina, losing 3-0. Enderle had the only hit.

Hammerschmidt "pitched a good game," Waller said, yielding just one earned run in the first inning. Both second-inning runs were unearned.

Chelsea faced a left-hander for the first time this season.

The Dogs came back for a win over Clarkston in the third game, 13-6, as Hammerschmidt picked up the win in relief.

Trailing 5-2, Chelsea scored seven times in the third inning, as Pichlik tripled twice in the inning. The Bulldogs commanded from then on.

Chelsea was shut out in the fourth game against East Detroit, 2-0, as Ceia Murphy had the only Bulldog hit.

The Bulldogs never threatened and never got a runner as far as second base.

Brown yielded an unearned run in the first inning and an earned run in the sixth.

"They're a big class A school with a bunch of super athletes," Waller said. In the final game, Chelsea lost again to Regina, this time 4-2.

Trailing 4-0, the Dogs rallied for two in the seventh but could have scored several more.

"We paid a high price for very poor base running," Waller said.

"We left the bases loaded. With a hit we would have been back in it. They even had to change pitchers. But we made some mistakes."

Gregory Area Youth Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Joseph J. Higgs, son of Joseph J. Higgs of 3727 San Juan, Gregory, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command Great Lakes, Ill.

During Higgs' eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Higgs' studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

MORTGAGE SALE—Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by JOYCE R. VALLATO, formerly known as JOYCE R. FLEMING of Ypsilanti, Michigan, Mortgagee, to Michigan National Bank, formerly known as Michigan National Bank of Detroit, a national banking association, Mortgagee, dated the 22nd day of November, 1985, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on the 8th day of December, 1985, in Liber 2021 of Washtenaw County Records, on page 900, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Seventeen Thousand Seven Hundred
Sixty-One and 7/100 ($17,761.70) Dollars;

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Thursday, the 11th day of June, 1987, at 10 o'clock a.m., Local Time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the westerly entrance to the County Building in the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon at twelve per cent (12.0%) per annum and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises. Which said premises are described as follows:

All of that certain parcel or parcel of land situate in the Township of Ypsilanti in the County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at intersection of center of Michigan Avenue and West line of Firwood

VILLAGE OF CHELSEA
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

The Village Council of the Village of Chelsea will hold a public hearing at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on Tuesday, May 19, 1987 in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building, 104 East Middle Street, on the proposed 1987 Village Tax Levy.

The Village has not increased its operating tax rate for village general purpose for the past two (2) years, but in fact has decreased this operating tax rate from 9.20 mills ($9.20 per $1,000. SEV) to 8.84 mills ($8.84 per $1,000. SEV). Because of an increase in the State Equalized Value of existing property in the village, state law (Act 5 of 1982) provides that the base tax rate for 1987 village operations be reduced to 8.69 mills ($8.69 per $1,000. SEV).

The Village has been notified that they will no longer receive Federal Revenue Sharing Funds. For this and other reasons, in order to fund the village's proposed 1987/88 Budget and to maintain essential village services, the village finds it necessary to restore a portion of its levy reduction. Although the village has complete authority, under its charter and state law, to establish the number of mills to be levied within its fully authorized millage rate, the village proposes to levy an additional rate of only 2.43 mills ($2.43 per $1,000. SEV) above the 1987 base operating millage rate. This will provide an estimated twenty-eight percent (28%) increase in village general operating property tax revenues. Individual property taxes may increase greater than or less than the estimated average.

Public comments, oral or written, are welcome at the hearing on the proposed additional millage rate.

St. Jude Bike-A-Thon Chaired By Pastor

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that the Rev. Fr. Jerry Beaumont has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Chelsea.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides total medical care to over 4,200 patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle-cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-a-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime." Jaime is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today, her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite well. Jaime is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

Open House, Dinner To Honor Departing Pastor

An open house honoring Pastor and Mrs. John R. Morris and family will be held on Sunday, May 24, starting at 2 p.m. with an informal dinner. (Note change of time from previously published.) The public is invited to join the congregation at the dinner. No reservations are needed.

Pastor Morris will deliver his last service at Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, at 10:15 a.m. on May 24. The public is invited to attend this service also.

Pastor Morris has accepted a call to St. Matthews Lutheran church at Herron, which is about 10 miles west of Alpena.

Come and join the congregation in wishing the Pastor Morris family God's blessings in their new venture.

True chili cooks know that chili recipes are really like the melodies heard at a jazz performance. One starts with the basic structure (the chili pepper) and improvises by adding a variety of ingredients. The final blend is unique and like jazz, each rendition is like no other.

Skin Cancer Screening Offered Free

The Michigan Dermatological Society, in co-operation with the American Cancer Society, will conduct free skin cancer screening examinations at Michigan locations Wednesday, May 27.

In Washtenaw county, a screening program is scheduled at Arborland Mall, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information about other free examination sites, after May 13, between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., call the Skin Cancer Hotline at 1-800-ACS-2345.

"Skin cancer is the most common cancer in America," said Howard Dubin, M.D., president of the Michigan Dermatological Society and clinical professor in the Department of Dermatology at the University of Michigan. "Fortunately, skin cancer can be treated successfully if detected early. The free screening programs can aid in the early detection of the disease."

Participants in the program will be given a painless, visual examination of exposed skin areas by local dermatologists—medical doctors specializing in prevention, diagnosis and treatment of skin problems, including cancer. Free brochures will also be available, which discuss sunburn, wrinkles, premature aging of the skin, and skin cancer—which strikes over 500,000 American each year.

"We want to help people deal in a positive way with these problems," Dubin said.

Skin Cancer Detection Day is part of National Older American Melanoma Skin Cancer Detection & Prevention Month, which runs from May 1-May 31. All people, regardless of age, are encouraged to participate.

In search of copper, Douglas Houghton reached the Upper Peninsula on May 23, 1840. Hundreds of miners from all over the world flocked to what is known as Copper Harbor today, in search of wealth. Incidentally, the largest known natural copper deposit was discovered in the U.P. and is on display at the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C.

Farm Bureau Supports Speed Limit Hike

Michigan lawmakers are currently considering legislation which would raise the speed limit from 55 to 65 miles per hour on rural interstate highways. The speed limit increase limit would improve the efficiency of moving perishable farm products to market, according to Michigan Farm Bureau's senior legislative counsel Robert Smith. Farmer delegates to the organization's annual meeting last December adopted policy supporting an increase in the speed limit, he said.

"Since Michigan is such a diversified agricultural state, timely transport of perishable products, such as fruits and vegetables, is critical," Smith said.

Evangelist To Appear At Chelsea Assembly Of God Church

Sunday morning through Wednesday evening, May 17-20, Evangelists Phil and Lillie Lindvall will be in Chelsea for a dynamic series of meetings; the "Conference on Revival."

Coming from Porterville, Calif., Evangelist Lindvall has conducted Prayer Revival conferences in over three hundred churches in almost every state of our country.

He has been the featured speaker at a number of camp meetings and minister's institutes both overseas and in this land. Hundreds have received the Holy Spirit through the Lindvalls' ministry.

Young people and children especially are deeply affected by this unique ministry in the Conference on Revival. They become personally involved with the work of the Holy Spirit.

Services begin at 10:30 a.m. Sunday morning, 6 p.m. Sunday evening, and 7 p.m. nightly at the First Assembly of God, 14900 Old US-12 (across the street from Polly's). All are invited to attend. A toddler/infant nursery will be provided during each service.

Free Dog Care Clinic Offered By Humane Society

Attention all dog owners! Spring is here and it's time to shower some attention on your dog. Have you considered a health check for Spot? Or maybe you need to learn how to housebreak your new puppy. Come to the Dog Training and Care Clinic sponsored by the Humane Society of Huron Valley to find out the answers to these questions and more.

Instructors from the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club will be on hand to give valuable tips on topics such as health care, feeding, grooming, housebreaking, obedience training, and dog breed characteristics. There will also be demonstrations by the instructors followed by a question and answer period.

The clinic will be held Monday, May 18 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the HSHV Community Education Building, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor. It is free to the public but please, leave your pets at home. Relevant pet care literature will also be available at no cost.

For demonstrations and/or more information phone the Education Department at 662-5545.

Victoria Buku Honored By Church on Mother's Day

Victoria Labadie Buku was presented with a plaque and bouquet on Mother's Day from the congregation of the First Assembly of God. She was honored as "a good and loving mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother."

She was born in Canada on Sept. 27, 1900 of a French speaking family. Soon after World War I, she met and married an American, Ruben Edick, with whom she moved to Detroit.

During the Great Depression, the Edicks moved to Chelsea where she worked for many years in the Chelsea Restaurant, now the Chelsea Woodshed. She worked first for Mr. Kolb, then Shirley Moore.

In 1946 Ruben Edick died of a heart attack. In 1953, she married Jack Buku, but he also died of a heart attack, six years later.

Mrs. Buku was brought up Catholic, but in 1977 started attending the Chelsea First Assembly of God.

Mrs. Buku has four children, 16 grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren.

Q: Do you know the symptoms of vertebral subluxation A: Very often none!

Vertebral subluxation (spinal misalignment) is a hidden illness, yet one of the easiest to detect and to treat.

What is the danger of vertebral subluxation?

Research has proven that the slightest pressure on a spinal nerve root as it emerges from the spine can reduce the function of that nerve in a matter of minutes. It has also been determined that by exerting the same degree of pressure that chiropractors find in the average patient's spine, some of the tiny nerve fibers within the nerve root rupture, producing poisons which spread to the surrounding tissues. When absorbed, these poisons will, in time, produce abnormal nervous system function and progressive spinal degeneration. While headaches or other body aches, may be symptoms, many people have no danger signals.

What can be done about vertebral subluxation?

Vertebral subluxations can be scientifically located through various simple tests that can all be performed at a modern doctor of chiropractic's office. Once the precise location is determined, the chiropractor makes a skillful spinal adjustment to move the misaligned vertebrae back to its normal position. Removing interference to the body's normal nerve control, restores the body balance.

Your chiropractor is the only professional specializing in the detection and elimination of vertebral subluxations. Don't wait for health-threatening conditions to develop. Make an appointment for a spinal examination today.

Manchester High School Accredited

Principal Rod Morrison announced today that Manchester High school has received accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The school was admitted to membership on April 14, 1987, at the Association's annual meeting, held in Chicago, Ill. Manchester High school was one of 12 schools in this state which this year became NCA members for the first time.

"Accreditation by the NCA means that the school has met the standards set for membership," said Principal Morrison. "These standards signify that the school has the resources, personnel, and leadership necessary for effective education."

Accreditation must be renewed each year. In commenting upon this, Superintendent Ron Niedzwiecki noted that: "Continuation within the NCA requires a joint effort by the community and the staff to make certain that the potentiality for quality education remains unimpaired. The advantage of NCA membership is that it assures the public at large that the school has met those standards which good schools in the NCA region consider to be imperative for effective education to take place."

The NCA state director, Dr. Connie Jo Craft, extended congratulations to the school, noting that Manchester High School has now joined the growing league of schools whose purpose is the continuing quest for higher levels of quality education.

The North Central Association, the nation's largest regional accrediting association, is a league of 6,000 schools and 900 colleges and universities in 19 states. The Association works with schools to improve the quality of education through accreditation and evaluation.

THE CHANGING OF THE GUARD: The new and old owners of the Dexter Depot Party Store stand in front of the store on Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd. Left is Dave Rechinger, who developed the store from an abandoned building. On the right are Winona and Duane Landwehr, the Chelsea couple who bought the store. Rechinger stayed on several weeks after selling the store so that he could teach the Landwehrs the ropes and also introduce them to the regular customers.

Duane Landwehrs Purchase Dexter Depot Party Store

Dexter Depot Party Store, located on Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd. next to the Cottage Inn, has changed hands. Dave Rechinger, who started the store three years ago, has sold it to a couple from Chelsea, Winona and Duane Landwehr.

The Landwehrs are long time Chelsea residents, Winona being born in Chelsea and Duane settling in Chelsea as a young man when he finished his army service. Duane retired three years ago as a test supervisor at the Chrysler Proving Grounds. Until the purchase of the Dexter store, Winona worked at Vogel's and Foster's as a bookkeeper and salesperson.

Dave Rechinger, along with his then partner, Gordon Thornber, opened the Dexter Party Store three years ago in an abandoned building which had originally been the Dexter Produce Store. They transformed the space to make it suitable for a party store and built a walk-in cooler.

Thornber left the store last May to go into the construction business.

After three years, Rechinger decided he had built the business as big as it could grow. Wanting something bigger and also closer to home, (he had been commuting 70 miles a day, round trip, from Wayne), he decided to sell, but not until he found the right buyers. He said, "I looked hard and long for the right people. In three years I met a lot of nice people. I wanted to sell to someone who would take good care of the customers."

Customers at the Dexter Party Store are mainly people in the neighborhood, although people vacationing in the lake areas also stop by. The store's inventory includes the usual party store fare—ice cream, candy, magazines, newspapers, milk, bread, groceries, and beverages. Since the store is open until midnight every day of the week, it does not seem like a retirement job, but says

Duane "retirement is only a word. All it means is that I don't work at the Proving Grounds anymore."

Asked what he thought of Dexter, Duane Landwehr said, "It seems like a nice town to me. It will take a while to get acquainted. We hope to continue the good service."

Chelsea Players Schedule 'Music Man' Auditions

Auditions for Chelsea Area Players' summer production of Meredith Wilson's "Music Man" have been rescheduled for May 19, 20, 21, and 22 at Chelsea High school. On May 19 there will be a general meeting for all interested persons where the tryouts will be discussed and information will be available.

Tryouts will take place on the evenings of May 20 and 21 and call backs for specific parts will take place on Friday, May 22.

Tryouts will take place in the auditorium for all dates except for Thursday, May 21, when they will be in the high school cafeteria. Times will be 7 p.m. each night and 7:30 for the general meeting.

There are plans for a large cast this year with many singing and/or dancing roles available. There are parts available for all ages from children ages 7 to 8 through adult. In addition there are numerous jobs available backstage in set construction, stage crew, publicity and more. There will be five performances of "Music Man" this summer on July 17, 18, 19 and July 24, 25 all at Chelsea High school auditorium.

This year's director is requesting that those trying out for parts prepare with music from the show. Scripts are available by calling 475-8713. Everyone will be requested to sing and a short dance will be taught at auditions. Persons trying out for the following parts are requested to learn the selected songs:

Harold Hill—prepare the first two-thirds of "Trouble" and one verse of "Till There Was You."

Marion—prepare "My White Knight" and the talking duet with Mrs. Paroo.

Winthrop—prepare "Gary Indiana,"

Marcellus—prepare "Shipoopi,"

Amaryllis—prepare final part of "Goodnight My Someone."

Mrs. Paroo—prepare the talking duet with Marion.

There are other featured dancing and singing parts available where potential performers should have music preferably from "Music Man" memorized for tryouts. Other parts include the traveling salesman on the train, the schoolboard members who perform in a barbershop quartet, the town ladies, several teen-agers in high school, younger school-age children, and other town members. There are parts for all ages and abilities and anyone interested in being a part of an enjoyable and entertaining musical is encouraged to tryout.

For more information call 475-8713 or 761-4386.

Natural cheese should be kept refrigerated and should be eaten within a few days to a week of purchase. In view of the lack of added preservatives, mold may form on the cheese. This mold is not harmful and may be scraped off. Remove cheese from the refrigerator about two hours before eating to receive the best flavor and texture effects.

Test Drinking Water for Fluoride

Q: If you live in the country and use well water for drinking how can you tell if your children need supplemental fluoride?

A: Have your drinking water tested by the county or state health department. In Michigan the health department will supply containers and forms for water testing to any individual and will perform the test free of charge. Your family dentist or physician may be able to provide the materials to you for a partial chemical analysis of water and he or she can interpret the results and prescribe supplemental fluoride for your children if needed.

Since the first fluoridation of a public water supply in 1945 was performed at Grand Rapids, Michigan, most public water supplies in America have been fluoridated. Still there are about 11 million people in this country who don't receive the remarkable decay preventing action this mineral produces because they have inadequate amounts of fluoride in their diet. This includes nursing infants since breast milk contains little or no fluoride.

The F.D.A. recently increased the allowable amount of fluoride in drinking water from one part per million to 2 parts per million to help reduce the cost of removing fluoride from the water in areas where there is a naturally occurring high fluoride concentration. If too much fluoride is ingested while teeth are developing it can produce fluorosis—an unsightly brown mottling of the tooth enamel.

If your drinking water contains less than 0.7 milligrams per liter (or parts per million) of fluoride your children under the age of 12 may require fluoride supplement. This may be in the form of prescription drops or vitamins or simply using a fluoride rinse depending on the concentration needed and the age of the child. Interestingly, I recently submitted water samples from our home in Chelsea for analysis and found that prior to going through the water softener the fluoride concentration was 0.5 milligrams/liter, but after the water softener it had increased to 0.8 milligrams/liter. The analysis also showed that the sodium concentration increased from zero to 233 milligrams/liter by going through the water softener and this may be a concern for individuals on a low sodium diet.

Soil, Water Stewardship Week Calls for Conservation

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District is encouraging local churches, organizations and individuals to join the nation-wide observance of Soil and Water Stewardship Week, May 24-31. The theme "Help, Hope and Healing" was devised to draw attention to the need for help, hope and healing to bind the economic and resource wounds on America's farms and ranches.

William Fishbeck, chairman of the Washtenaw County SCD, said the survival and welfare of farmers and the land they till must be a matter of deep concern to all people. "While the grain bins are now full and there is no shortage of fiber and building materials, we all need to be reminded of the serious loss that could result from damage to our basic natural resources—soil, water, and air," said Fishbeck.

Since 1955 the National Association of Conservation Districts has sponsored Soil and Water Stewardship Week, in co-operation with nearly 3,000 conservation districts, as one way to emphasize the importance of good stewardship of basic soil and water resources.

A limited supply of materials especially designed to carry the 1987 theme of "Help, Hope and Healing" are being distributed by the Washtenaw County SCD and may be obtained by contacting the district office at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor. Telephone: (313) 761-6721.

New Commercial Driver Law Affects Farmers

In one of the many efforts to keep drunk drivers off the road, a new law will take effect on July 1 that will allow commercial drivers holding multiple driver's licenses to hold only one. The new law will affect some farm drivers, according to George Berg, assistant director of national affairs for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"Farmers are considered commercial drivers regardless of whether they are involved in intrastate or interstate commerce," Berg said. "If a farmer holds more than one commercial license and the vehicle being driven weighs over 26,000 pounds they will be expected to turn in all but one of the commercial licenses."

Berg said that multiple license holders are being asked not to simply throw the extra licenses away, but to send them by registered mail to the state where they were issued.

In 1869, the first national black labor organization was formed, the Colored National Labor Union, according to "Labor First in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

PIONEER TOYS were made by some children at Beach Middle school's sixth grade camp last week and Brooke Pitts shows off her creation. Wind the strings up and pull the disc in the middle spins, forming a kind of kaleidoscope on each painted side.

JESSICA FLINTOFT kneels next to one of the 23 stations of the nature trail she created at South school called "Take A Hike! A Discovery Nature Walk." It was part of a project for the Enrichment Triad program.

South School Student Creates Nature Walk For Entire Community

Students in the Enrichment Triad programs at North and South Elementary schools are spending this week showing family and friends all they've learned about special topics of interest to them.

For many of the children the projects have taken all year to complete and reflect a lot of work and creativity.

In that regard, Jessica Flintoft's project is not much different from many others.

However, what makes Jessica's project unusual is that anyone can see her work any time, day or night, without bothering her or her family. It's a project that will keep on giving to the community long after she's left Chelsea for college.

Jessica, with a lot of help from a lot of people, created a nature trail on the grounds of South Elementary school called "Take A Hike! A Discovery Nature Walk."

The walk has 23 stations around the playgrounds and features professional-quality explanatory signs about the many trees, shrubs and vines on the grounds. You'll find information about everything from shagbark hickory trees to wild cherry trees. It's a mixture of native and imported species. The signs are similar to those in the Waterloo Recreation Area.

Jessica had help with a lot of things she was unable to do herself.

Chelsea Lumber supplied materials to construct the signs; Typographic Insights contributed typesetting for the signs; Civic Foundation of Chelsea paid some of the bills; the Washtenaw Consortium welded the signs together.

Carol Strahler and Annalisa Gray-Lion acted as Jessica's coaches for the project as wildlife is their area of expertise.

But Jessica designed and wrote the words for each sign with a bare minimum of adult intrusion. She wanted to keep the language simple enough for her classmates to understand. She also made the decisions about which trees and plants to write about. She drew the pictures and devised a map of the grounds.

Jessica even interviewed professor Edward Voss, a botanist at the University of Michigan and asked him questions like "how did some plants get their names?"

But most of all, Jessica provided the impetus. Without her to say "this is what I want to do," the project wouldn't have gotten off the ground.

And next year Jessica will be considered a resident expert on the plants and trees at South school and will be able to lead expeditions on the grounds.

In that way the project has come full circle. She's learned about her project in a variety of ways from a variety of sources. Now she's equipped to pass on the information to her classmates.

The community is urged to walk the grounds at South school.

Bike-A-Thon Postponed Until May 17

The Ecology Center Bike-A-Thon has been postponed to Sunday, May 17, because of the rainy weather. The original date for the Bike-A-Thon was Sunday, May 3. "We'll have sunny skies on May 17," predicts Tara Ward, events co-ordinator.

Riders may ride on Sunday, May 17, leaving from the Ecology Center. Alternatively, Bike-A-Thon riders may ride Saturday, May 9 or 16 with the Ann Arbor Bike Touring Society, leaving at 8:30 a.m. from the Amtrak Station on Depot St. in Ann Arbor. Riders may also ride "on their honor" if they call the Ecology Center.

The Bike-A-Thon is the Ecology Center's largest fund-raiser. There will be food and entertainment on Sunday, May 17, and the extra two weeks should allow riders to collect even more pledges. The schedule on May 17 will be the same as that planned for May 3. 100-mile riders will start their ride at 8 a.m., 53-mile riders will start their ride at 9 a.m., and 28- and 14-mile riders may begin to register at 10 a.m. and may start their ride between 11 and 1. The entertainment and raffle will take place between 1 and 3 on Sunday, May 17.

For more information, call the Ecology Center at 761-3186.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, April 20, were Dils, Grau, Redding, Comeau, Satterthwaite, Cherem, Wales, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, special education director DeYoung, athletic director Reed, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dils.

Board approved the minutes of the April 13 meeting.

Board approved the minutes of the executive session of April 13.

Entered as official communications were letters from Susan Walters, 151 E. Summit St., Tom Hodgson, 16030 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Karen Ruhl, 249 Park St., Mary Anne Mangelsen, 17467 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Cindy Mortensen, 1306 Henry St., Ann Arbor, and Dr. John M. O'Brien, 2987 S. Fletcher Rd., indicating their appreciation of the quality of the instructional program at South school.

President Dils presented a certificate of appreciation to high school teacher Rahn Rosentreter, selected as Area Coach of the Year by the Ann Arbor News.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed the Board of Education calendar for April, May and June.

Superintendent Van Meer asked the board to deny the request by the CEA for one day release time for eight teachers to work on the teacher evaluation committee. He based his recommendation on lack of progress during the past four months on the part of the committee, and no time lines for project completion.

The board was apprised of a request from Neil Fahrner, Washtenaw Engineering, for cleaning of the drainage ditch on the west boundary of the South school property. The board gave tentative approval to look at the acceptable plans.

The board was apprised of the selection of Sally Proctor, North school secretary, by the interview committee for the position of transportation supervisor.

The board convened in executive session to review administrators' contracts for the 1987-88 school year.

The board approved a resolution in support of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District's request for special education millage.

The board adopted a resolution prepared by the firm of Thrin, Maatsch and Nordberg for the annual School Election of June 8, 1987, with the following items on the ballot: 20.5 renewal operating millage for five years; 1.0 maintenance millage renewal for four years; and a Headlee Amendment language to authorize the school district to levy its authorized millage; 1.5 increase in special education sponsored by the Intermediate School District; the name of Ann E. Feeney as candidate for a four-year term on the Board of Education.

The board approved contracts for the following administrators: Frederick A. Mills, Henry DeYoung, Laurie Bissell, Jaclynn C. Rogers, John Williams, Ken Larson, Darcy Stielstra, Bob Benedict, Bill Wescott, Larry Reed.

The board designated May 5 as School Family Recognition Day in appreciation to all of its employees for the many efforts that go into making the Chelsea School District an outstanding school system.

The board granted continuing tenure for 1987-88 to North school teachers who had previously obtained tenure status.

The board granted tenure for the 1987-88 school year to North school teachers David Brinkow and Barbara Emmorey, both of whom completed their second year of probation.

The board granted continuing tenure for 1987-88 to South school teachers who had previously obtained tenure status.

The board granted tenure for 1987-88 to South school teachers Sharon Hodgson, Barbara Doolittle, Timothy Hinkle, and Sally Peiter.

The board approved second-year probationary status for the 1987-88 school year for South school teachers Laura Holdsworth and Gail Wireman.

The board granted continuing tenure for 1987-88 to Beach Middle school teachers who had previously obtained tenure status.

The board approved second-year probationary status for 1987-88 for Beach Middle School teachers Barbara Foley and Tami Gillingham.

The board granted tenure for 1987-88 to Beach Middle school teachers Michael Keeler and Jed Fritzemeier.

The board granted continuing tenure for 1987-88 to high school teachers who had previously obtained tenure status.

The board granted tenure to high school teacher Hazel Hermosillo for the 1987-88 school year.

The board approved lay-off status for the 1987-88 school year, effective June 11, 1987, for Loren Winn, high school industrial arts teacher.

The board adjourned the meeting at 10:29 p.m. and subsequently convened in a public work session to discuss a county common calendar, board committees, and school starting/dismissal times.

The public work session adjourned at 10:59 p.m.

Dial-A-Garden Topics Listed

The following is a schedule of Dial-A-Garden, the system of pre-recorded daily gardening tips sponsored by the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service.

The system is in operation 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

Interested persons are invited to call 971-1122 at their convenience and receive timely, up-to-date gardening information.

Topics for the next week are as follows:

Wednesday, May 13—"Broadleaf Weed Control."
Thursday, May 14—"Growing Tomatoes."
Friday, May 15—"Integrated Pest Management Techniques."
Monday, May 18—"Preventing Insects on Vegetables."
Tuesday, May 19—"Putting Houseplants Out for the Summer."

Wednesday, May 20—"Buying Transplants."

The first state legislation prohibiting discrimination in employment on the basis of race, creed or color was the Ives-Quinn Act in New York in 1945, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

ELIZABETH McLAUGHLIN, a fifth grader at South school, was more than happy to show off her ceramic bear during the school's annual art show last Thursday evening. Hundreds of art projects were on display throughout the school.

Man Caught Eating Nuts in Store

A Manchester man is being charged with larceny after he allegedly opened a can of peanuts in a grocery store and ate part of the contents.
According to Chelsea police, Mark S. Dresch, 26, was caught by a security officer at Polly's Market shortly after 1 a.m.
Police said the man appeared to be intoxicated.

Agnes R. Hummel

600 McKinley St.
Chelsea
Agnes R. Hummel, 600 McKinley St., age 93, died Wednesday morning May 6 at the Falm Haven Care Center in Jackson.
She was born May 10, 1893 in Jackson, the daughter of George and Maggie (Murray) Brady. She was married to John R. Hummel on Sept. 14, 1920 and he preceded her in death in 1970.
Mrs. Hummel had been a resident of Chelsea since 1920 and was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and Altar Society. In addition she had been a member of the American Legion Auxiliary of Chelsea.
Surviving are two daughters, Virginia M. McClear and Rosemary Hummel, both of Chelsea; one son, John J. Hummel of Cumberland, R. I.; five grandchildren, Mary Lu McClear, Michelle McClear, Matthew McClear, Donna Hummel, and Heidi Hummel; and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by infant daughter Phyllis and two sisters and two brothers.
Mass of the Resurrection was held Saturday, May 9 at 11 a.m. from St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Gerald Odbert officiating. The Rosary was recited Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. from the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home. Burial was in Mount Olivet Cemetery in Chelsea.
Expressions of sympathy may be made to St. Mary's church building fund.
Arrangements were by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Girl Scouts Plan 75th Birthday Celebration

Members of Chelsea's 14 active Girl Scout troops, along with their leaders, will attend the Girl Scout's 75th birthday celebration at the University of Michigan's Crisler arena, Saturday, May 16. Presented by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, the event will feature a theatrical re-enactment of notable events in the history of Girl Scouting, a dramatic presentation of nearly 100 area flags, and exhibits depicting the tradition of Girl Scouting, both past and present.

LOUISE GRAVES wants to use her Wilkinson St. home as Chelsea's first bed and breakfast establishment. She has plenty of space and plenty of parking.

Chelsea Woman Plans 'Bed and Breakfast'

A Chelsea woman wants to open the village's first bed and breakfast establishment in her home on Wilkinson St.
Louise Graves, a registered nurse in the emergency room at Chelsea Community Hospital, discussed the idea with the village council at the group's regular meeting April 21.
Council appeared receptive to the idea. However, the catch is that the village's zoning ordinance has no provision for a bed and breakfast business.
The village plans to have the Village Planning Commission look into the matter.
Graves said she could have a maximum of four rooms in her home devoted to the business, two upstairs with individual bathrooms, and two downstairs with a shared bath. Her home has a long driveway with plenty of parking. She said she doesn't know what she would charge, but room prices wouldn't be very expensive.
"This would be for local people," Graves said.
"There are a lot of big families in Chelsea who might need a place for someone to stay for weddings or funerals. I'd also talk to the hospital and local businesses who might have people in from out of town who would need a place to stay. It would be by reservation only. I don't want to have people driving up at 3 a.m."
Due to health laws, Graves would not be able to prepare breakfasts. For example, she'd have to serve pastries prepared by a bakery and pre-packaged individual servings of juice or milk.
Graves, who works three days a week at the hospital, said she has always wanted to start a business. She said she looked at the Sylvan Hotel but thought there would be too much work involved. She also considered starting some other kind of business in a storefront on Main St. but found rents too high.
"I'm real excited about doing this," Graves said.
"Some day I'd like to have an inn. But it makes sense to go slow and start at home first."

"My son wanted to work so badly... and I just wanted to make sure he did well in school. KFC satisfied us both."

When I was his age, it was the same story: if I could keep up the grades, work close to home, and not over-extend myself, my parents would let me take the job. I wish KFC had been around when I was a kid.

My son joined the KFC food service team earlier this year, and his grades have remained good. His manager makes sure of it...if grades suffer, his schedule is lightened up. Of course, my son would hate to hear me say this, but he's also learning work skills he'll use the rest of his life.

He's opened his own checking account, and he's announced that next semester, he's paying his own car insurance. You know what I've learned? That the three "R's" should also include "responsibility." Send your kids to KFC.

ENJOYING A YEAR OF STUDIES, and in all but Clara's case, an extra year, are six foreign students attending Chelsea High school and living with local families. They are, from left to right, Oliver Judd from Germany, Rafael Castillo from Mexico, Annette Keller from Germany, Henriette Munck from Denmark, Maria Saarinen from Finland, and Clara Garcovich from Italy.

Six Foreign Students Enjoy Chelsea

Six foreign students, all from big metropolitan areas, are enjoying a year of high school in the quiet town of Chelsea.

The students are Clara Garcovich of Rome, Maria Saarinen of Helsinki, Henriette Munck of Copenhagen, Annette Keller of Munich, Oliver Judd of Hamburg, and Rafael Castillo of Monterey, Mexico.

All of them are finding Chelsea high school very different from their schools at home. They find they have more assignments, but that the work is easier, that there are more restrictions, but also more extra-curricular activities and more school spirit.

Although English is obviously a second language for the group, none of them experienced any difficulty doing the Chelsea school work, even in the first few months. They explained that they had studied English for years, most of them starting to study it in grade school.

They said Chelsea offered a wider range of classes than they were used to but on a more rigid schedule. High schools in Europe and Mexico sound more like colleges, with classes offered at various times, so some school days are shorter than others, but Saturday classes are sometimes necessary. Said Oliver, "Here every day is the same. I don't know when the week is over."

They are also finding that there is more supervision of teen-agers here than there is in their home countries. They find the idea of needing passes to go anywhere "funny" and say that they never heard of the idea of being "grounded by one's parents for doing such things as coming home five minutes late" until they arrived here.

Our sports program is something new for the European students. While they have gym classes there, if they want to play competitive sports, they have to join private sports clubs. In Mexico, according to Rafael, they do have competitive sports like here, and also a very active intramural program.

All of the exchange students enjoy sports. Rafael is on the Chelsea track team. In Mexico he plays soccer and baseball. Annette plays badminton and tennis in Germany. Henriette is on the Chelsea track team. In Denmark she is active in gymnastics. Maria plays tennis, both in Chelsea and in Finland. Clara plays tennis and golf in Italy. Both Clara and Maria enjoy downhill skiing in Europe.

The foreign students agreed that Chelsea has more student productions than they are used to. They said, at most, a dramatic club might give one play a year, but having regular productions, especially musicals, was something new to them. The dances and school spirit were also new.

Even though there is more going on at the school, the students said they go out less at night here than they did at home. Chelsea does not have the public transportation such as trams or subways that they are used to, so getting around is more difficult, and also the school day ends late enough that by the time they get their work done, there is little time to go out. Asked what they do in Europe in their spare time they said they went out to eat, or to the movies, or to cafes. In the summer they like going to the beach.

Asked about differences in dress, they all agreed that Chelsea students dress up more than European and Mexican students. They expressed surprise that students disregard the weather, wearing mini-skirts in winter, and one student said, "I never saw so many heels until I came here."

All of them agreed enthusiastically that the experience of spending a year in the United States was a valuable one, both in terms of what they learn about America and the self-growth they experience.

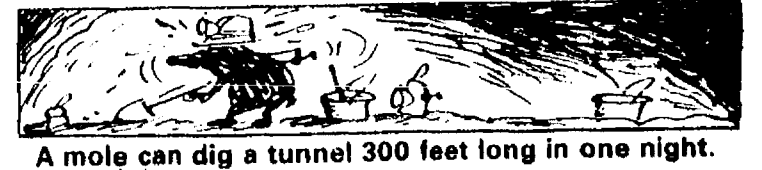

The said studying in Chelsea they learned much more than they could have found out by just going on a vacation in the United States about the language and customs of this country. They said previous to their stays, they mainly knew about the United States from television and movies, but that they now know that not all Americans are "rich and famous."

All of the students agreed their year here has made them more independent, more mature, and given them more self-confidence. They appreciate all the friends they have made here and also have become very close to each other, all of them planning to visit each other when they return to Europe.

The host families for this year's exchange program are Jan and Dave Manning, Barb and Larry Vosters, Carol and Fred Van Reesema, Ann and Dick Lee, Alice and Bob Rawson, and Kathy Kentala.
