Early Morning Blaze Destroys Major Plant At Abrasive Finishing

THIS IS WHAT WAS LEFT after a fire destroyed manufacturing and testing facilities at Abrasive Finishing on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. early last Thursday morning. No one was hurt in the blaze but the building, and its contents, were a total loss.

CHELSEA FIREMEN were still putting out small fires at Abrasive Finishing nearly 11 hours after the blaze broke out early last Thursday morning. Five different departments worked to put out the fire that reached an estimated 2,000 degrees in the middle.

TRYING TO CLEAR THE PATH for a forklift truck, workers used a torch to break apart some metal tubing, part of the debris left by the huge fire at Abrasive Finishing on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. last Thursday morning. No one was injured as the 23,800-square-foot, steel-frame building, housing the company's manufacturing and testing facilities, was completely destroyed.

An early morning fire swept through the testing and manufacturing facilities of Abrasive Finishing Co. last Wednesday, completely destroying one of the company's largest steel-frame buildings.

Firefighters from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Ann Arbor township and Pittsfield township were called to the Dexter-Chelsea Rd. plant at 1:37 after an employee in another building across the road saw flames shooting out the roof. The building is located on the south side of the road near Honegger's, Inc.

Firefighters from the Chelsea Fire Department were still on the scene at noon as some of the building was still smoldering.

The fire, according to company owner Bill Ackley, was apparently started by an air compressor which overheated and ignited plywood, which, in turn, ignited some nearby oil.

No one was injured in the fire. The building is normally unoccupied at that hour, Ackley said.

However, several Dexter firefighters were almost injured when an acetylene tank exploded as they attempted to enter the building, according to Chelsea Fire Chief Bud Hankerd. The firefighters were knocked backwards by the force of the explosion.

Hankerd said temperatures at the heart of the blaze approached 2,000 degrees.

Firefighters ran hose nearly three-quarters of a mile to nearby Mill Creek in order to have enough water to battle the fire.

The 23,800-square-foot building housed part of the company's manufacturing facilities, laboratories and maintenance facilities. In addition, most of the raw materials were stored there.

The company supplies ceramic abrasives to manufacturers who need to smooth down their metal products. They vary in size, shape and hardness.

"All of our testing facility was destroyed," Ackley said.

"The quality control area is gone. We also did some test work for customers, which we won't be able to do. Our batching system was destroyed and now we'll have to hand-weigh the batches, which will put us at about 25 percent capacity."

In addition, Ackley said some new equipment was lost, as well as four forklift trucks.

A nearby building of similar construction, which housed the packaging operation, was not damaged.

Ackley said last Friday there was no accurate damage estimate available and the figures were still being worked out by his insurance company.

"I plan on doing something with the building," Ackley said.

"I'd like to tear it all out and put another building in."

Ackley said he's telling customers that there will be a two-week delay in filling orders.

Tax Hike Voted Down As Two Trustees Absent

A proposal to hike the village's general fund millage by 2.43 mills to raise approximately $130,000 was voted down by the village council last Tuesday, May 19 at the group's regular meeting.

Council voted 4-1 in favor of raising the millage. However, in a confusing set of circumstances, it was not known until after the meeting whether or not the proposal had passed.

The confusion came because trustees Phil Boham and Stephanie Kanten were absent.

Last week after the meeting, Village Manager Fritz Weber said that on money-related matters, a two-thirds vote of the entire seven-member council (including Village President Jerry Satterthwaite) is needed to pass a resolution.

The vote came after a poorly-attended public hearing in which village resident Marvin Carlson was the only person to express an opinion on the matter. He said that while he was not opposed to the millage hike, he urged council to take a close look at the tax burden that will be imposed on residents over the next few years.

The tax hike is necessary, according to the village administration, because the village has lost its Federal Revenue Sharing funds. In addition, it needs additional revenue to maintain village services and fund the proposed budget of $1,097,000.

According to the village, the tax hike would raise revenues by 28 percent by increasing the general fund millage from 8.69 to 11.12 mills. By village charter the village can levy no more than 12.5 mills for its general fund.

Trustee Dennis Hall cast the only no vote.

However, village council called a special meeting for last night, Tuesday, May 26 to discuss a two-mill tax proposal by the Downtown Development Authority. In addition, Weber said, the budget was scheduled to be on the agenda. Weber said the general fund millage hike could be voted on again at that meeting when, presumably, a full council would be in attendance.

"We don't have any set procedures," Weber said.

"In my opinion, the council could vote on the millage again."

After the initial vote, council instructed Weber to chop the budget equally in every department in order to make up for the lack of additional revenue.

In another tax matter, village council delayed a vote on a proposal by the DDA to levy a two-mill tax on property within the downtown development district.

The vote was delayed until last night's special meeting because private residences within the district had not been notified that their taxes might be raised.

"When we discussed this before, we told them their taxes would not be raised," said trustee Richard Steele.

The special meeting was called because the village has to inform

New Wastewater Plant Could Serve 5,460

Chelsea's new waste water treatment plant will be able to serve up to 50 percent more people than the current plant is handling, according to a village study.

Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner told the village council last Tuesday, May 19 that the new plant could serve about 5,460 people before additional capacity would have to be built.

The current village population is 3,640.

The study uses the figure of 88 gallons of water per day, per person. That number represents both residential and industrial use on a per person basis.

Another 318 people can be served due to sewer grouting work the village completed in 1984. That work essentially involved sealing holes in joints in the sewer lines.

The village can make room for another 556 people by completing grouting work on more sewer line to save an additional 48,973 gallons of infiltration per day.

Infiltration is caused largely because sewer line lies below the main water table and water constantly runs through those broken joints. That infiltration is increased substantially when heavy rains raise the water table.

According to Fahrner, the new plant will have to handle approximately 370,000 gallons of infiltration per day.

Beating in Parking Lot Brings Charge of Aggravated Assault

A Chelsea man has been charged with aggravated assault after he broke a man's jaw in four places in the Tower Mart parking lot on N. Main St., according to Chelsea police.

Mathew Michael Murphy, 20, of Chelsea was charged in the incident after two witnesses saw him beat up William Russell McClung on Tuesday, May 19 at 8:58 p.m. in the convenience store lot.

According to witnesses, Murphy tried to pick a fight with McClung as McClung was talking on a pay telephone. When McClung began walking toward his vehicle, Murphy struck him four times with his fist.

One of the witnesses, a woman, attempted to help McClung into her vehicle when Murphy allegedly walked to the car and struck McClung again. The woman drove McClung to the emergency room at Chelsea Community Hospital.

Chelsea High school choir will present a spring concert May 26. The grand finale to the concert will be all vocal groups singing, "One Voice," by Barry Manilow. Several numbers will feature strings bass by Bill Merkel and drum accompaniment by Becky Finch. Small ensembles include a beauty shop quartet of Rhonda Bentley, Rachel Schnell, Debbie Garmen and Marie Bulick singing "Put Your Head on My Shoulder," and a sophomore trio of Gayla Bauer, Cathy Basso and Amy Wolter singing "Friends."

As Oak Grove cemetery board looked into refurbishing the stone gates at its entrance, ownership of land containing the gates was found to be in question. Chelsea Village president Jack Merkel, Donald Cole (adjacent property owner), Frederick Weber, and representatives of the cemetery board planned to work out an agreement which protects the interests of all concerned before renovation begins. Weber said the Glazier family erected the gates and a similar set at the end of W. Middle St. in front of the United Methodist Retirement Home.

Chelsea village council voted to renew negotiations with owner Stuart Small for purchase of 73 acres of land on the south side of Sibley Rd. for the proposed development of an industrial park. The village will offer Small $139,900 for the tract.

Mayor Exchange Day, highlight of Michigan Week in the village, brought 10 delegates to Chelsea from Sparta. Chelsea's tidy appearance and the Medical Center made the biggest impression on the visitors, but they were also delighted with their tour of the Jiffy Mix Plant, Methodist Home and a ride around the oval at Chrysler Proving Grounds. Their tour concluded with relaxation at Don Wood's home before meeting in Battle Creek for a Sparta-Chelsea dinner.

Sparta village president Henry Beverwyk and his colleagues were hosted by Chelsea Village Council members and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dmoch. At the same time Chelsea village president A. E. (Mac) Fuls and village administrator Fritz Weber and their wives were touring Sparta.

Chelsea's varsity nine experienced one brief shining hour when they captured the championship at Tecumseh's invitational tournament. They downed Saline and Tecumseh to take the trophy. The morning game, against Saline, was a tense 4-2 affair strung on the strong pitching arm of Perry Johnson and the timely fielding of Steve Schanze.

In the championship game, 8-7, some of the 10-inning action involved Jeff Daniels driving in three runs, John Mann scoring with an error on Mike Nadeau's hit, and Doug Reed touching home with the winning score after Craig Alter got hit by a wild pitch.

Chelsea's school marching band made an outstanding addition to Mayor Exchange Day's parade here, led by Chelsea's police car and fire trucks. Mt. Morris mayor James Calahan's party, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. William Slattery met in the Village Council room where Larry Chapman presented a replica of the "key to the village."

Task Force Urges Major Boost in Prenatal Care

A five-year plan to drop Michigan out of the ranks of states with excessively high infant mortality rates was outlined recently by a Department of Public Health task force.

The final report of the Infant Mortality Task Force said efforts should be concentrated in the 13 counties where a majority of the white infant deaths and nearly all the black infants deaths occur.

Governor James Blanchard's 1987-88 budget recommendations included $11.6 million to implement the recommendations of the task force for such things as earlier prenatal care, expanded programs for medically indigent women and those in the Medicaid program and an advertising campaign to promote awareness of prenatal care.

The House has approved the $5 million for the Department of Public Health, while the Senate cut the recommended $6.8 million for programs in the Department of Social Services.

The cost to fully implement the plan would be $80 million in the first year, the report estimated, with the bulk of that reflected in $28.2 million to expand the women, infant and children program, and $28.9 million for expanded prenatal care and labor and delivery services for low-income women.

The task force said poverty is a leading cause of high mortality rates, and said adequate prenatal medical care and nutrition, and family planning services will reduce the number of babies with low birthweights.

None of the recommendations require legislation, and Public Health

Director Gloria Smith has begun to move on some proposals, Denise Holmes, chief of the Bureau of Community Services, said.

The 86-member task force said the goal of its proposed programs is to meet the U.S. surgeon general's goal for mortality rates, or at least reduce rates to a level below the national average.

The Michigan rate in 1985 was 11.4 infant deaths within a year of birth per 1,000 births (10th highest in the country), with the rate for blacks over twice that for whites: 22.5 per 1,000 compared to 9.3. The surgeon general's goal is for a rate of 9 per 1,000 by 1990, with no subgroup having a higher rate than 12.

Its specific recommendations include:

—improving prenatal care by increasing the number of paraprofessionals who seek women in need of care, providing comprehensive care to women at high risk of bearing unhealthy babies, a state-wide ad campaign scheduled to begin next year to increase awareness of the need of prenatal care, providing more support services so low-income women are better able to obtain care, subsidies to health care providers serving low income families, and state money (the governor recommended $400,000 in 1987-88) for the women, infants and children program.

—improving family planning with increased funds for medical and education services for both men and women, and treatment and referral for social problems. The Department of Public Health is to also develop programs to reach teenagers at high risk of unplanned pregnancies.

—improving neonatal and post-

neonatal care with programs targeted to all infants at high risk of death, including psychosocial, nutrition, medical and nursing services.

—improving state systems to collect information on infant health, and conducting studies on minority attitudes concerning reproductive health, patterns of use of prenatal care and unlicensed pregnancy services, alternative approaches to prenatal care, availability of health care services in regions, and regional distribution of specialized pregnancy and newborn care services.

Stolen Auto Recovered In Jackson

A Chelsea woman has been charged with car theft after Jackson police recovered the vehicle two days later with the woman's purse on the front seat.

According to Chelsea police, Connie Sue Arnett, 21, of 138 E. Middle St., was charged with car theft after she took an automobile belonging to Mathew James Murphy from his residence at 128 E. Summit St. on Tuesday, May 19.

The car was taken sometime between 9:15 p.m. and 10:20 p.m., police said. The vehicle was recovered at 3:10 p.m. on May 21.

Arnett told police she was given permission to take the vehicle but Murphy denied her contention.

Q. I was fortunate enough to buy Mobil Corp. about a year ago at $28. It is now above $40 a share and I am wondering if you think it would be a good idea to sell it now.

A. The oil business has always been very volatile and the price of the stock is sure to be up and down, but my guess is that it is going to be more on the up side than the down side. I have two reasons for thinking that way. One is the oil industry itself. We are not finding as much new oil as we are using up and that means that over the long term the price pressure is going to be on the up side. It seems logical to me to expect that Mobil will operate in a more favorable position in the coming years as far as the price it receives for its product than it has in recent years.

As the industry situation improves, I believe Mobil, which already is a good quality organization, will continue to be more profitable as well as a company more slanted towards enhancing shareholder values.

In its releases Mobil has emphasized the quality it is trying to build into its products. Its super high detergent gasoline and oils and new high detergent diesel fuel enables the company to do an aggressive marketing job and enhance its position in the most profitable part of the market.

Another marketing advantage the company is aggressively pursuing is its retail debit-card system. It is already the country's largest, and has just added American Express and Discover card users to its system.

In the operating area, Mobil has made improvements to its Torrance, Calif. refinery to increase its premium product yields and still meet California's strict emissions regulations. Improvements in its Singapore refinery are giving greater earnings. The company also seems to be making improvements that would increase future values at the Montgomery Ward division.

At a recent price of $41, Mobil's $2.70 annual dividend yields 5.4%, which is not a bad yield in today's market. If 1986 earnings come out at $3.75 a share, the price/earnings ratio is 11. Earnings are estimated by Standard and Poor's to be down in 1987. If we have a very active stock market in the year, Mobil's price will probably go a little higher. Otherwise I would expect it to move around the 40 mark until new favorable developments take place.

Boys Caught In B & E at Chelsea High

Two teen-age boys were caught by a security guard at Chelsea High school after they entered the building illegally on Friday, May 15.

According to Chelsea police, Gregory J. Jalynski, 19, of 8710 Parkview, Gregory, and Scott E. Rowe, 18, of 1716 Ridge Rd., Chelsea, were caught in the girls locker room as they tried to run from the guard and hide in a shower stall at 1:26 a.m.

Police said they found lockers opened, clothes strewn on the floor and an empty fire extinguisher.

The boys apparently entered the school through a door that was ajar.

Paul Cousins was presented with a certificate of appreciation by the Huron River Watershed Council at their annual meeting, Tuesday, April 28. The plaque read, "This award is made by the members and staff of the Huron River Watershed Council for his service to the council over the past 11 years and his concern with protection and wise use of the Huron River. A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Once during Sunday School lessons on the Ten Commandments one of the kids asked the teacher, "What's adultery, Mrs. Brown?"

"It's like adding water to milk to make more," she replied, "and pretending it is pure." (A permissible use of adulteration as a substitute for the real word.)

Another ancient form of adulteration has been seigniorage, a right of kings in the issuing of coinage. In the beginning of a coin's existence, it was declared to have a certain value—an equivalency to existing coins of other denominations such as 100 centavos to a peso, or a measured amount of gold or silver. Into this stated value the king would blend a seigniorage for his own profit. Sometime after this marriage of royalty and currency there would be opportunities for adultery: in each instance simply reduce the amount of precious metal in the coin and substitute a base metal such as copper. Over the centuries this has been the classic practice of rulers or governments in the debasement of coinage.

By now the corruption of national currencies is so common and so gross that it hardly merits mention.

If you will place quarters on a postal scale, you'll find that six of them weigh close to an ounce. At that rate, your quarters are worth $1.50 per ounce. By the same postal scale, one ounce of dimes or half dollars are also worth $1.50 per ounce.

Right now the world price for pure silver is pegged around $12 per U.S. ounce. You know, of course, that the U.S. coins on your postal scale are not silver. They are silver plated copper. This plentiful red metal is currently selling for 50 cents per scrap pound.

So what we have are not true coins but tokens. The price stamped on each—10 cents, twenty-five cents, fifty cents—is simply a denominational label which has nothing to do with what the metal disk is worth.

In trade, the coins represent one tenth, one quarter or one half of what you can currently buy with a paper dollar.

The paper dollar has no intrinsic value. It cannot be exchanged for gold or silver at the Treasury. It is a printed IOU backed by the faith and credit of the U.S. government but not backed by assets such as government lands, federal buildings, warships, tanks, airplanes, or even the gold in Fort Knox.

Hence, what we are saying is that money—metal or paper—has no actual fixed value. A dollar is worth what you can buy for it here and now. An hour of your work is worth the number of dollars and coins an employer is willing to pay. A share of stock is worth what a trader on the NYSE will offer for it. The Mona Lisa is worth what the highest bidder will offer at an auction.

These are the changing market values of a free economy so that each day, week, month, season, year and decade brings new kinds of purchasing power and new rates of interest that lenders will accept and debtors will pay.

At any given time the best way to get the most for your money is to know the market for what you are buying. And this you learn by doing your homework. For example, a person who has never bought a copying machine will do well to talk to people who own copiers in a use comparable to what the shopper has in mind. A great place for homework is Consumer Reports, available in the library. Another is the Sears catalog where they often give you an education in the different prices and features of Good, Better and Best. You may wind up making your final purchase on Main St., in Chelsea but you will help the merchant help you if you have done your homework and know what to ask and what to look for.

Investors, fearing inflation, will sometimes make heavy investments in gold, diamonds, rare stamps or old masters. Gold is a commodity which is traded and reported daily from such markets as London, Zurich and New York. There are times when gold can have sensational increases in value. It always happens when paper money loses its purchasing power through inflation. There are also times of spectacular price drops for gold when speculators flood the market with "sell" orders. At all times there are no payments of dividends or interest paid to the owners of gold.

In 1980 a friend bought a book, "The Coming Currency Collapse." Following its advice he invested $30,000 in gold Maple Leafs and Krugger-rands. Within days of making the purchase there was a gold collapse which wiped out $6,000 of his capital. Converting his gold back into cash, he invested his remaining $24,000 in Michigan municipal bonds. By reinvesting his interest since 1980, his original $30,000 now has passed the $48,000 mark. If he had stayed with the gold he would have recovered his early losses and would now have $30,000 worth of non-interest bearing coins.

Speculating on works of art is especially risky unless the investor has expertise. I have enough experience in limited areas to acquire art for pleasure but not for profit. For example, in 1967 I attended Parke-Bernet's New York auction of Rembrandt etchings. I had admired and studied the outstanding Rembrandt collection in the Chicago Art Institute for years as a boy and young man. Also, on each visit to London I have headed for the Royal Museum to spend hours in the Rembrandt Room where van Rijn's self portraits, alternating with burin and brush, can lead you around four walls of the famous gallery. In the New York auction I selected two prints which I wanted for my collection. I knew them well and chose them because prints from those plates were already in so many major collections that bidding against me would not be too severe. It was my good fortune to win both prints for a combined cost of $1,950. Last year I had Sotheby's put them up for auction and they went under the hammer for an even $4,000, net. Over the period of my ownership they had doubled in value and the capital gain was taxable. The same money in financial investments would have troubled. But I had the pleasure of owning and enjoying these treasures for a long time. That was an affordable experience for a worker who has practically given up taking vacations.

Money is certainly an endless subject and in recent years it was a professional subject in my work as a publisher. This included the editing of customer publications for large national banks, and writing mostly on the subject of family money management. None of my billion dollar clients ever disagreed with me when I wrote that the finest investment a family can make is the purchase of their own home. The big banks did insist that I devote a fair share of space to consumer bank loans, especially automobiles. Then with the advent of the plastic credit cards began endless plugs for VISA and MasterCard spending. It was never said so in "Bank Notes," but the banks hungered for depositors who would run up account balances too big to be paid all at once. These would then have to be carried over, month after month, at 18% interest—the very antithesis of family saving which we had been wholesomely teaching for years.

My files have current statistics on how vast numbers of American families are spending themselves into trouble by buying things they don't need and charging them at stiff rates of interest. In the long run this is bad for the banks, and bad for the country as well as the victims.

Now something even worse is coming along. Some banks with eager young tigers as marketing officers want people to finance casual spending by invading the equity in their homes. The scheme is to do the lending and spending with second mortgage money! In the May 17 and 19 editions of the Ann Arbor News were large display ads about "First Union's Home Equity Loans." The advertiser is a large North Carolina Bank with an Ann Arbor phone number and office address. The ad copy says that with a First Union home equity loan you can borrow up to 85% of the appraised value of your home. Then a footnote in smaller type at the bottom of the ad says, "Less existing first mortgage."

What this means is that a family with a home currently appraised at $70,000 and with $20,000 to go on the old mortgage has an equity of $50,000. A loan of 85% of that equity would amount to $42,000—a terrific way to wipe out years of patient and faithful saving.

Equity in a fully paid home is sometimes the only substantial asset possessed by families as they move into retirement. What do you think of bankers who open the door and whisper to couples in their middle years, "Spend it now!"?

REBECCA HARMS was one of the many talented eighth graders at Beach Middle School who had her work on display at the school's spring art show last week. She used colored pencils and paint on her creation. She's the daughter of Belinda and Steve Harms.

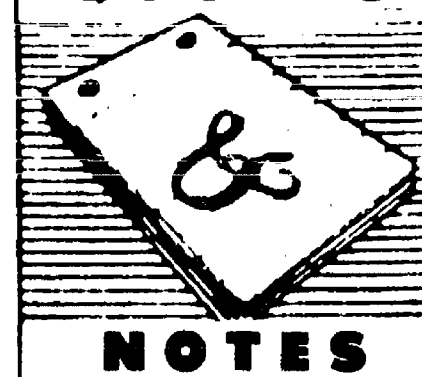

COLLEEN SCHARPHORN was one of three Beach Middle school students who created this treasure chest for the school's art show last Thursday. She and Jeremy Stephens and Krista Johnson used cardboard, plaster, house paint and tempera paint, a water-based paint, to create a chest of gold.

QUOTES

DONALD COLE
Director

"The Devil hath power to assume pleasing shape . . ."

—Wm. Shakespeare

A recent survey revealed that over half of all Americans are convinced there is a Devil. Those who do not believe in a Devil may have been looking for a particular kind of creature who looked the part.

The Devil's task is to deceive and destroy. He would fool very few if he looked to everyone as he really is. In "Hamlet," Shakespeare speculates that perhaps we wouldn't know the Devil if we saw him. As with anything else, it's best to consider character and not be too quick to judge by appearance.

With us, there are no "minor details." Everything we do can be important to those we serve, and therefore justifies our closest attention.

Special Meeting Called on Taxes

Washtenaw county by the end of this month what the village's tax rates will be so that tax bills can be sent out.

Council appeared to agree that residences (which number less than 10) within the downtown development district should be exempt from the two mill tax, which would raise approximately $18,000 annually for the DDA. However, there was no firm plan as to how those residences might be excluded without altering the downtown development district.

The DDA, with the council's approval, is authorized to levy up to two mills.

The ad valorem tax, if passed, will be used to carry out the daily activities of the DDA as they relate to developing and designing the needed improvements in the downtown area, according to the resolution council will consider.

In other news relating to taxes, the village council adopted a base operating millage rate of 8.69 mills for 1987-88. Also adopted were one mill for McKune Memorial Library, and one mill to pay off two bond issues.

Congratulations on your graduation

Palmer Ford-Mercury Sales Celebrates 75th Anniversary

Palmer Motor Sales, Inc., Chelsea, Michigan's oldest Ford dealership, celebrated its 75th anniversary on April 15. A week-long celebration and grand opening of the new sales and business complex was held from April 20 through April 25 during regular business hours.

On Tuesday evening, April 21, Phil Novell, general sales manager of the Detroit District, Ford Division Operating Committee, presented a 75-year plaque to George L. Palmer, president of the company and son of the founder, L. G. Palmer.

Present were representatives from Ford Motor Co., members of the Detroit District Sales, Parts and Service divisions of both Ford and Lincoln-Mercury, and members of the Outer Detroit Ford Dealer Advertising group.

Law Enforcement Agencies Seek To Help Crime Victims

Three major law enforcement agencies have combined efforts to improve treatment and enforce the rights of victims of crime in Livingston and surrounding counties.

Members of the Livingston County Sheriff's Department, Prosecuting Attorney's Office and Michigan Sheriffs' Association's Victim/Witness Assistance Network are joining forces to promote awareness of a new county-wide training program that sensitizes law enforcement officers to the plight of the victim of crime.

"Our goal is to attract the interest of not only law enforcement, but also service providers, civic organizations and religious groups so a broad effort to recognize the needs and rights of local crime victims is established," said Judy Nichols, MSA Victim/Witness program director, who became a victim when her son was murdered in 1983.

Livingston county sheriff Dennis DeBurton said that in the past, emphasis has been placed on protecting the rights of the criminal while the victim stood alone.

"We're here to change that," said DeBurton. "Crime victims have certain rights they are entitled to, according to Michigan law. This program emphasizes those rights and promotes a greater awareness as to why the crime victim is so important to the entire criminal justice system."

Nichols, DeBurton and Livingston county prosecuting attorney, Thomas Hallin, will host a four-hour overview on crime victimization Wednesday, May 27 at the Livingston County Intermediate School Building in Howell. All concerned citizens and members of law enforcement are invited to attend and can receive more information by contacting DeBurton at the L.C.S.D. at (517) 546-2440.

LOCAL DAIRY FARMERS Archie and Cindy Bradbury own one of 11 Michigan family farms that have had dairy cattle continuously for at least 150 years. They'll be honored on the lawn of the state capitol next Monday as part of National Dairy Week.

THE BRADBURY DAIRY FARM on Easton Rd. between Chelsea and Dexter will be one of 11 Michigan farms honored June 1 for having dairy cattle continuously for at least 150 years. The farm has been kept in the family for five generations since 1834 when it was originally established. In the back row, from left, are Cindy and Archie Bradbury, the current owners of the farm, and their son, Jason. In the front, from left, are their daughter, Ellen, and Archie's father and mother, Jay and Donna Bradbury. Jay and Donna owned the farm for 40 years.

Bradbury Dairy Farm To Be Honored for 150 Years of Milk

Chelsea-Dexter area farmers Archie and Cindy Bradbury will be honored June 1 as one of 11 Michigan family farms to have owned dairy cows for the last 150 years.

The Bradburys, who live at 9890 Easton Rd., will be recognized with a cast bronze plaque presented on the kick off of the national promotion of June Dairy Month.

The Bradburys are the fifth generation of farmers to own the current 160 acre farm. They bought the farm in 1980 from Archie's father, Jay, who had the farm for 40 years.

The farm was originally established in 1834 by Paul Drake Easton. Leander Easton and Leland Easton followed him. Jay's wife, Donna, is an Easton.

Archie's son Jason or daughter, Ellen, would like to be the sixth generation to own it.

The Bradburys have about 170 dairy cattle and 50 head of sheep. What few crops they raise go to the animals. Jason and Ellen attend Dexter schools. Cindy was born and reared in Chelsea. Archie is on the board of directors of the Chelsea Community Fair. The entire family is active in 4-H.

The Bradburys will be honored on the lawn of the state capitol building, beginning at 10 a.m. There is a host of events, which will end at 3 p.m. The actual plaque presentation will be at 1:30.

Home Meals Service Needs More Drivers

Home Meal Service of Chelsea, active since 1973, is again in need of drivers.

The present arrangement is for volunteers to drive every other week on a route that takes approximately one hour. For various reasons there are openings for both Tuesday routes, one Monday and one Friday route. When the need arises meals are also delivered on Sunday, and there is always a need for Sunday drivers.

Home Meals delivers a noon dinner meal to senior citizens or those homebound because of illness or handicap. These meals are prepared with individual preferences and diet requirements in mind. Presently there are two sources for meals. Those who can afford to pay the $2.25 per day receive meals prepared at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. Anyone who qualifies to receive federally subsidized meals has meals picked up from the North School Senior Citizens Center.

The program is blessed with several substitute drivers who come to the rescue when one of the regulars must be away, but there is always a need for additional volunteers who would help out at the last minute, or occasionally when needed.

If there are readers who would like to discuss the possibility of becoming involved in any way, call Ann Feeney at 475-1493, anytime. The program would benefit from additional community involvement.

WHILE HER DADDY WAS PLAYING BALL, little Molly Welton spent the better part of an inning or two trying to quench her thirst at the water pump at the Chelsea high field. The day was as hot as the Bulldogs, who toppled the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 7-3. Molly's dad, of course, is head coach Wayne Welton.

Michigan Bell Upgrading Equipment in Chelsea

A $1.5 million project to bring Chelsea area customers improved telephone service and new calling options beginning this summer has entered its second phase.

With $116,000 in phase-one central office renovations recently completed, Michigan Bell has begun installing state-of-the-art call-processing equipment in the facility at 127 W. Middle.

In phase three, memory modules that tell the processor how to handle calls will be put into place, telephone lines wired in and the digital equipment tested for reliability.

The company is currently upgrading the power plant that will drive the new processor and later will install a $100,000 independent power source that ensures telephone service during extended power outages.

"When the processor is turned up July 25, nearly 5,000 residence and business customers in the 475 exchange can have Touch Tone service and Custom Calling features," said Marcia Buhl, local corporate affairs manager for Michigan Bell. "The new digital equipment also means business customers in the 475 exchange will be able to order more consecutive lines."

In September, Buhl said, Michigan Bell also will offer customers in the 475 exchange "Dial 1 Plus" long distance service.

"Dial 1 Plus" will enable customers in the 475 exchange to use any long distance company available in their area by dialing '1' plus the area code and the telephone number," Buhl explained. "In the past, placing a call through any long distance company other than AT&T required dialing as many as 22 digits."

Customers will receive information in the mail describing the new services as they become available.

In addition to Touch Tone, Buhl said customers may order these Custom

Calling features:

—Call Forwarding, which automatically transfers an incoming call from one telephone to another;

—Call Waiting, which lets a customer using the phone know that there is a second call waiting to be answered;

—Speed Calling, which permits a customer to reach frequently called numbers by dialing special codes; and —Three-Way Calling, which enables a caller to add a third party to a conversation.

Michigan Bell will waive the normal $30.50 connection charge for customers in the 475 exchange who order any of the new service features before June 25, she said.

Fair Board Holds Meeting

Chelsea Community Fair Board held its regular meeting May 21 at the Fair Service Center.

Present were Bill Stoffer, president, Lloyd Grau, executive vice-president, Maryann Guenther, secretary, board members Archie Bradbury, Richard Bollinger, Earl Heller, Jerry Herrick, Jerry Heydlauff, Don Koenigter, Mark Lesser, Walt Zeeb, and John Wellnitz, reporter.

Ruth Stielstra, who runs the Enrichment Triad at North and South Elementary schools, formally invited the board to the Celebration Day, which is being held today, Wednesday, May 27 at the fairgrounds.

Kathy Frisinger reported that the Chelsea Hospital-University of Michigan Family Practice Center Fun Run will be held again this year during the fair and will be the same as last year.

Reports were read and accepted. Among the committee reports, Earl Heller reported on the upstairs bathrooms and ramps for the disabled. Richard Bollinger reported on the Pedal Power Tractor Pull.

Preparations are on schedule for this year's fair.

It was reported that several weeks ago someone bent the flag pole out of plumb and that during the last few weeks the pole has been pulled so far over that it can't be bent back properly.

Smokeless Tobacco Gains Popularity Despite Health Risks

Since the early 1970's, there has been an increase in the use of smokeless tobacco for the first time since the turn of the century. The sales of smokeless tobacco in the United States has increased about 11% each year since 1974 with an estimated 22 million users nationwide. Most alarming is the fact that many of the new users are male high school students and likely involved in athletics. This population has been the target of advertising by the tobacco industry using sports figures and other role models in an effort to imply that smokeless tobacco habits are safe and not harmful.

Smokeless tobacco can produce significant effects on the soft and hard tissues of the mouth, including bad breath, discolored teeth and fillings, excessive wear of the teeth, decreased ability to taste and smell, gum recession and advanced periodontal disease. The National Cancer Institute regards the use of smokeless tobacco as a "dangerous practice that may increase a person's risk of getting cancer of the mouth, pharynx, back of the throat, and the esophagus." The U.S. Surgeon General, the World Health Organization, and the Centers for Disease Control have all recently concluded that snuff in North America causes cancer in humans.

Smokeless tobacco comes in many forms. Snuff is powdered tobacco that is often flavored or sweetened which can cause the additional harmful effect of tooth decay. Smokeless tobacco may come in a loose-leaf form or with the leaves folded together into a "twist" or pressed into a cake to form a "plug." Between 6 and 12 million adolescents in this country have tried smokeless tobacco and the ratio seems to be highest in rural areas.

Obviously, one should think twice before placing a "pinch" of such a harmful substance between his "cheek and gums!"

Grand Slam in Fifth Gives Bulldogs Victory

Larry Nix's fifth-inning grand slam propelled the Chelsea Bulldog baseball team to a 7-3 victory over the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday in Chelsea.

The win puts the Bulldogs in the semi-finals of the district baseball tournament at Hartland this Saturday.

"Larry really nailed it, there was nothing cheap about it," Chelsea coach Wayne Welton said about Nix's blast to dead centerfield. Nix's fourth homer of the season came off Kyle Menard, who beat the Bulldogs earlier in the season.

The homer came with Chelsea in the lead, 3-1, behind the pitching of junior Greg Boughton.

Greg Haist had reached on a bunt down the third base line. A sacrifice moved him to second. A misplayed grounder hit by Jon Lane put runners at first and second. Jeff Stacey was then hit by a pitch to load the bases. After Menard struck out a Chelsea batter, it looked like the senior might get out of the jam.

"I really had my doubts when we didn't score with bases loaded and one out," Welton said.

It came as a kind of atonement for Nix, who was thrown out trying to steal third base earlier in the game.

Boughton pitched the first four innings and senior captain Todd Starkey finished up. Starkey yielded a two-run homer to Kip Read in the top of the seventh.

"I knew we would be all right if Greg could get to the fourth or fifth inning and we could give the ball to Todd," Welton said. Starkey had pitched earlier in the week and was not completely rested.

Chelsea took a 2-0 lead in the third inning as Starkey's ground rule double scored Bobby Clouse, who had singled, and Lane's base hit scored Clouse.

The win marked the 50th Chelsea victory in the last two years, as they stretched their record to 25-12. Last year they finished 25-10.

"We're awfully proud of that record," Welton said.

"There aren't too many teams who can say that, and we haven't played many weaklings."

Welton admitted being concerned about his team's hitting going into the Dexter game because the Bulldogs hadn't hit well all week.

In Tuesday's pre-district qualifying game with Fowlerville, Chelsea managed just four hits but the one-hit pitching of Starkey was enough to take a 3-2 win.

Starkey had a 3-0 lead and a no-hitter going into the seventh inning before a walk, an error and a bloop single scored two runs for Fowlerville.

"Todd was just outstanding," Welton said.

"He probably should have had a no-hitter."

Chelsea had three of their four hits in the first inning, including a lead-off home run by Junior Morseau, and singles by Clouse and Haist.

In other action last Thursday, Chelsea lost both ends of a double header to Brighton, 2-0, and 5-3.

Morseau pitched the first game, giving up only a two-run homer in the third inning and only five hits for the game.

Chelsea's offense had problems as the Bulldogs had just four hits.

"They had a lefty pitcher who really gave us fits," Welton said.

"He changed speeds really well."

Chelsea's only hits were by Morseau, Mark Bareis, Starkey and Nix.

Haist pitched the second game and gave up just seven hits.

"Greg pitched well and probably deserved a better fate," Welton said.

Chelsea jumped out to a 2-0 first inning lead on singles by Clouse, Starkey and Haist.

However, a two-run homer in the bottom of the inning tied the game.

Shoddy fielding by the Bulldogs in the second inning gave Brighton two more runs.

"I figure Greg had to get seven outs in the second inning," Welton said.

Chelsea's final run came in the third inning on doubles by Starkey and Boughton.

IT'S DANCING TIME as the Bulldogs celebrate after Chelsea advances to this Saturday's district semi-finals at a grand slam home run by Larry Nix in the fifth inning of Hartland. the game against the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday.

Bulldogs Bury Saline In Pre-District Softball

Charlie Waller and the Chelsea Bulldog softball team reached the semi-finals of district play this Saturday in Monroe with an 8-2 victory over the Saline Hornets in Saline last Friday afternoon in pre-district play.

It was the second victory in a week over Stacey Knepper and the Hornets, as the Bulldogs beat Saline in the finals of the Southeastern Conference tournament last Saturday, 5-0.

Again, Chelsea featured relatively good hitting as they picked up eight hits on the day, several in crucial situations.

"For us eight hits is pretty good," Waller said.

After falling behind 1-0 in the first inning, Chelsea came back for three runs in the top of the second with Karen Weber's single to right the big blow. Jenny Pichlik, Kelly Stump, and Angie DeFant also had big hits in the inning.

Chelsea scored one run in the third when Mattoff singled, was moved to second on Ceia Murphy's grounder, stole third, and scored on Pichlik's sacrifice fly.

Kim Ferry's pinch hit single to right with the bases loaded drove in three runs in the sixth inning to put the game on ice.

Senior pitcher Pam Brown picked up the win, yielding both runs on wild pitches.

"Pam pretty much dominated the game," Waller said.

"She was in charge all the way."

Brown struck out five, gave up five hits and walked two in winning her 17th game.

Weber and Stump each had two hits in the game.

Chelsea reached the pre-district game with Saline by knocking off a stubborn Dexter Dreadnaught team on Tuesday in extra innings, 6-3.

Dexter's Mary Ann Doletzky and Brown dueled to a 3-3 tie after seven innings before the Bulldogs rallied in the top of the 10th inning.

In the 10th, Trisha Mattoff and Mur-

CEIA MURPHY scores the second run in the 10th inning, helping the Bulldogs to a 6-3 victory over the Dexter Dreadnaughts in the pre-district qualifying game last Tuesday. Murphy had two hits for the game.

Bulldog Boys Improve Times

Chelsea Bulldog boys track team finished in a last place tie with the Milan Big Reds in the Southeastern Conference after placing last in the SEC meet on Wednesday, May 20. Lincoln Railsplitters were the runaway winners of the meet with 138 points, over second place Saline with 59.

Chelsea finished with 18 points. Chelsea discus thrower Doug Webb finished second for the Bulldogs, the highest place finish on the team. He had a personal best of 139'5", his best by nearly 10 feet.

Junior John Cattell placed third in the 3200 meter run with a time of 10:11.8, his best time this year by nearly 10 seconds.

Sophomore Paul Hedding also turned in a personal best time in the 1600 meter run in 4:35, good for fourth place.

The 3200 relay team of Casey Murphy, Cattell, Lee Riemenschneider and Hedding took a fourth place in 8:21.9, a personal best time by nearly five seconds.

Brady Murphy didn't place but had the whole Chelsea spectator section cheering for him as he finished the 1600 meter in 5:00.4. His goal for the season had been to break five minutes. It was Murphy's best time by five seconds.

Freshman Holden Harris also knocked five seconds off his best time in the 800 meter run with a 2:12. He also did not place.

Finally, the 1600 meter relay team of Chris Cheng, Dave Freitas, Casey Murphy and Riemenschneider turned in their best time of 3:37.4.

"You always want to end by doing well in the league meet," said Chelsea coach Ted Wilson.

"We finished on a high note and that bodes well for next year."

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

It's on to the district tournaments this week-end for both the Chelsea High softball and baseball teams. Sounds like fun. I only wish the games were a little closer to home.

The softball will be played in Monroe, baseball in Hartland. I've never been to either town. Maybe I'm underprivileged, or just lucky.

As this is written, I don't know who Chelsea's opponent is in either game. That probably doesn't matter much. I'm not familiar with many of the teams outside the SEC anyway.

Anyone who cares about either team (athletes' parents in particular) is probably wondering just how far they'll go in state playoff action.

From here on out it's one loss and see you in Gatlinburg or Venice in March. In six games, state champions will be crowned in each sport.

For what it's worth, it's interesting that baseball coach Wayne Welton and softball coach Charlie Waller have virtually the same strengths and weaknesses on their respective teams.

Each team is deep, deep, deep in pitching.

Each team has shown it is capable of a defensive blunder at any moment.

Each team has to scratch for runs. Neither is likely Thumper a team to death.

When senior Todd Starkey, or for that matter, Greg Boughton, is pitching, the Bulldogs always seem to have a chance to win any baseball game. They are as good a pair of pitchers as you'll find in this area.

It's an added advantage, and somewhat of a rarity, that both are left-handed. Opponents that haven't seen many lefties could have problems. A team that feeds on lefties could pose problems.

Junior Randy Ferry has also been a solid relief pitcher. There are several other capable guys on the bench.

Pitching shouldn't be a problem.

Senior Pam Brown can be as dominating a pitcher as Starkey. Waller says if she doesn't get too psyched up, she can overwhelm a team. She is certainly one of the best class B pitchers in the state.

Peggy Hammerschmidt, like Boughton, is an outstanding number two pitcher, as she showed in the SEC championship game against Saline when she threw a shutout. If she can keep the butterflies at bay, the Bulldogs will always have a chance.

Jenny Pichlik and Jenni Smith will be in the bull pen in case they are needed.

From here on out, neither team will need more than a couple of starters and someone in relief. The teams will play two games each week-end, giving plenty of time for rest.

Defense. In a one-loss-and-you're-out format, one defensive lapse could make the difference. From here on out, each team will have tough opponents. Neither Bulldog team can afford to give away outs or runs.

However, the key for each team is likely to be hitting.

Welton's boys, like Waller's girls, don't have a lot of power. There shouldn't be many three-run homers. But when the momentum is right, they can single and steal, and double a team to death. Both teams are good at taking advantage of mistakes and finding ways to win.

A certain amount of luck is involved in advancing in these tournaments. A bad hop, a call by an ump who's out of position, an injury to a key player, as well as a hundred other things, can all make a difference. One team I covered some years back lost a game because their bus broke down and they arrived exactly one minute before game time. Sometimes the best team doesn't come out on top.

Good luck to all those athletes this week-end.

This is always a bittersweet time of year for a handful of people at high schools everywhere.

Many parents will see their children in competition for the last time in their high school careers.

Seniors will move on to fulfill other ambitions in other places.

For parents who have closely followed their child's athletic career, seeing that final out can be almost like seeing a death in the family. There'll be no more trips to the ball park, no more gnawing the knuckles, no more screaming 'til the voice gives out. A big part of their lives will be gone, forever.

It's even harder not knowing if the end will be this week, next week, or the following.

Parents can be a little edgy, a little anxious, wanting to get on with it but not wanting to see it all end. Throw in a little pride in their child's accomplishments, wanting to see their child reach the top, and it's a wonder some parents keep their sanity.

On the other hand, it can all translate to a lot of additional pressure on the young athletes, pressure they surely don't need.

Let's concentrate on having a good time the rest of the way.

year's Chelsea foursome.

"We had four very solid legs, paced by Jennifer's outstanding 2:22.6 leadoff," said coach Bill Bainton.

Sarah Schaeffer ran extremely well in the 100 hurdles to place fifth in a strong field with her season's best time: 17.5. Tami Harris and Danica Disbro placed third and sixth in the 100, respectively, and Harris added a fifth in the 200.

Harris and Disbro combined with Anne Steffenson and Stephanie Harms to run a season's best 1:48.9 in the 800 relay, good for fourth in a conference that was very good in that event this season. The 400 relay of Robyn Krichbaum, Edie Harook, Disbro and Harris survived a poor handoff to place fifth in :53.1.

"We've been pleased with the consistency of this relay all season," said Bainton.

"They've run well and been consistent scorers."

The distance runners accounted for 23 points for the Bulldogs. Anderson was third in the 1600 with a 5:34.4 and came back strong to finish second in the 3200 with a good 12:17.4.

Suzanne Cooper added a sixth in the 1600. Chelsea made a good showing in the 800, taking first, third, and fifth places. Rossi led the way with a fast 2:24.8. Helen Cooper came in with her season's best 2:30.6 and Wilson was fifth with a 2:32.6. Melanie Flanagan concluded her senior season with her best time in the 3200, 13:14.1, but narrowly missed sixth place.

"Melanie has really worked hard this season. I'm sure she would have liked to have placed higher, but she has added a lot to our team in her four years," said Bainton.

"She's been a good captain this year."

Sixty-Seven Participate In Golf Scramble

A tie in the four-man golf scramble held at Inverness Country Club on Sunday, May 17, resulted in a play-off to determine the winners. Sixty-seven men participated including 18 guests.

The winning team consisted of Mike Fouty, D. Ratliff, D. Esch, and Al Conklin. The team which originally tied and then lost in the run-off was made up of Mike Lazaich, Bill Baker, Dick Fouty, Kurt Eisenbeiser, and E. Luzance. Members of the third place team were Al Orlow, Fred Mills, C. Fillinger, Dud Holmes, and Steve Heydlauff.

Chelsea had a 4:10.5 in the 1600 relay from Chris Neuman, Rossi, Suzanne Cooper and Steffenson but ended up losing a third-place finish by being disqualified.

"The third exchange was about as tight as the finish of the 100-yard dash," explained Bainton.

"Four teams got there at the same time so something had to happen. Unfortunately for us it was not good as we got called for interfering in the traffic at the handoff."

The disqualification had no bearing on the final result of the meet, however, as positions were already locked up by that race.

Dogs Advance To District Playoffs

phy singled. A fielder's choice, a double by Stump, and error and a sacrifice scored three runs.

Only a two-run throwing error on the part of the Bulldogs in the sixth inning allowed the Dreadnaughts to reach overtime.

Chelsea fell behind 1-0 after two innings but came back for three runs in the fourth on hits by Mattoff, Murphy, Stump and Weber, along with a wild pitch.

In other action last week, the Bulldogs knocked off Ypsilanti High school twice on Thursday, 3-2 and 11-0. In the first game, Peggy Hammerschmidt pitched the whole game, including two extra innings, for the victory.

In the bottom of the ninth, Chris Basso walked, Hammerschmidt reached on an error and Leah Enderle bunted to load the bases. Basso scored on a passed ball for the game-winner.

Chelsea scored one in the first inning on an RBI single by Murphy and another in the third on a wild pitch.

Pichlik pitched a one-hitter in the five-inning second game. She helped her own cause with three hits and two RBIs.

The Dogs scored three times in each the first, second and fourth innings, and twice in the third with a 10-hit attack.

Stump was 2-3 with a double and three RBIs, and Murphy and Kim Easton each had two RBIs.

"If we show some consistency with the bat, we could have a good district tournament," Waller said.

"But occasionally we don't hit a lick. If we hit one of those empty spaces it's real hard for us to score." The Bulldogs are 33-9 on the season.

JV Softball Team Ends Year Unbeaten

Chelsea Bulldog JV softball team closed out the season with two shutouts of class A Ypsilanti High school in Ypsilanti last Thursday, May 21 to finish the season at 20-0.

In the opener, Laura Unterbrink pitched a one-hitter, striking out 11 and walking one to finish at 10-0.

Chelsea pounded out nine hits, including a two-run double by Jeannie Heim in the first inning which helped the Dogs to an early 3-0 lead.

Lisa Unterbrink also had a pair of hits.

The second game wasn't nearly as close as the Bulldogs scored in all five innings for a 31-0 route.

Jenni Smith won her ninth straight game as she tossed a three hitter, striking out eight batters.

Smith and Heather Neibauer each went 3-3 with run-scoring triples to lead the Bulldogs. Jenny Anderson and Christy Petty each had two hits.

Catcher Shannon Losey sparkled on defense, throwing out two Ypsi runners.

"I'm extremely pleased and proud of this group of young ladies," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"They have played hard and well all year. Every one of them has improved. Chelsea should be proud to have young people of this caliber representing them on the softball diamond. It was truly an enjoyable experience to be associated with such a fine team."

Bulldog JV Baseball Team Ends Season With 11-15 Mark

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity baseball team finished their season with an 11-15 record after winning three games and losing two last week.

Chelsea opened the week with a double header win over Fowlerville, 15-4 and 6-2.

In the opener, Craig Maynard got the win as Chelsea had scored eight runs by the end of the second inning.

Big hitters in the game for Chelsea were Jeff Marshall and Bryant Beard, each with three hits, Jeff Prentice with two hits and three RBIs, and Dwayne Elkins with two hits and two RBIs.

Jerry Reinhardt picked up the win in the second game, as Chelsea scored four times in the third inning and two times in the fourth.

Jeff Larson was 3-3 with three RBIs, and Prentice and David Adams each had two hits.

Chelsea played Brighton on Thursday and completed only one game because the opener lasted three hours, with Chelsea losing 13-12.

"It was one of the wildest games all year," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

The game seesawed the whole way, with Brighton scoring in the seventh inning to win the game.

Strong and Prentice each had three hits, and Lyeria had two hits. Strong and Larson hit doubles and Lyeria had four RBIs, including a three-run homer.

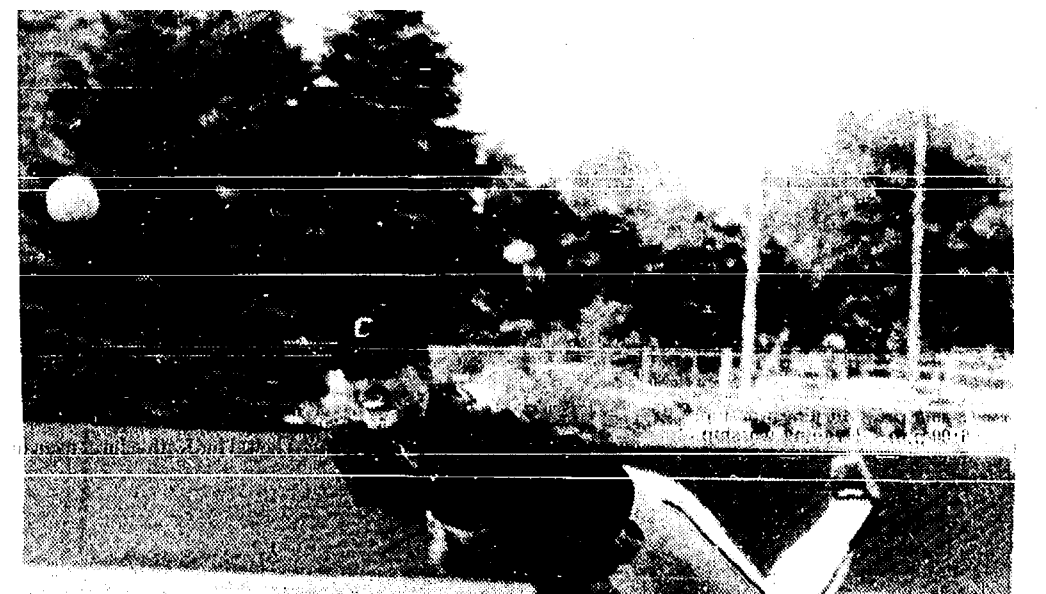

Chelsea finished the week with a split with the Pinckney Pirates on Friday, winning the first, 6-2, and losing the second 13-2.

In the opener, Maynard pitched the whole game and helped his own cause with a pair of hits. Adams also had two hits and the game's only RBI.

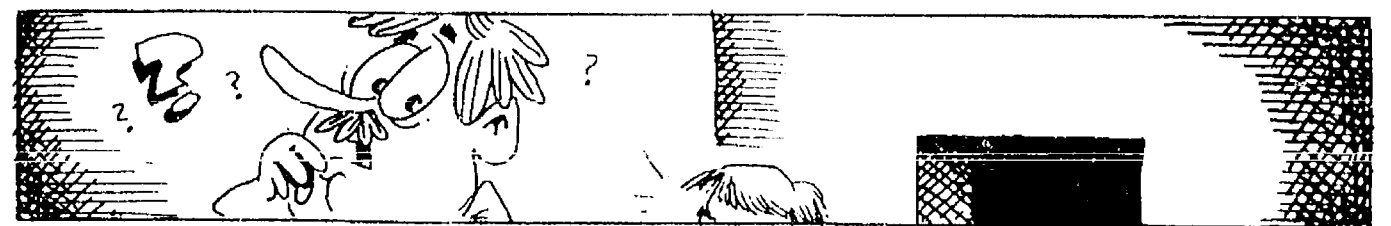

Chelsea bats were silent in the second game as four Bulldogs each had one hit. In the meantime, the Pirates scored in every inning.

"There's still a lot of room for improvement with this team," Ticknor said.

"But we also made great strides and finally started to hit the ball. Two weeks ago the team batting average was .230. We ended at .280."

BULLDOG TODD STARKEY has had an exceptional year on the mound and his work has been acknowledged by various scouts. A scout from Eastern Michigan University was on hand with a radar gun for last Friday's game against Dexter when Starkey pitched in relief, preserving a win for another lefty, Greg Boughton. Starkey will be the man of the hour in this Saturday's district semi-final game at Hartland.

Lake Weed Management Seminar Slated June 3

Too many aquatic weeds is the most common problem facing lake property owners in Washtenaw county. The problem seems even worse this year because of the mild winter and warm, dry spring.

To help lake and pond residents, the Co-operative Extension Service is sponsoring a Lake Weed Management Seminar on Wednesday, June 3 from 7 to 10 p.m. at Post 47 Hunt and Fish Club across from Silver Lake, on Dexter-Townhall Rd., 1 1/2 miles north of North Territorial Rd.

The program is designed for people who live on lakes that are larger than 10 acres and who are actively involved in making weed management decisions for their lake.

Speakers from Michigan State University, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and surrounding counties will give presentations on identifying weeds, "hot" issues in weed control and understanding toxic chemicals.

"Proper weed control," says Roberta Lawrence, Washtenaw county extension horticultural agent, "is one of the most critical and confusing topics facing lake property owners. With this program we hope to update residents with the best information available."

Cost of the program is $5 per family. For more information or to register, contact the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service office at 973-9510 or the Livingston County Co-operative Extension Service office at (517) 546-3950. Registrations must be received by May 29. Enrollment is limited, so register early.

Ishpeming Iron Ore Sued For Libel By Teddy Roosevelt

The personal habits of presidents and would-be presidents have always made news. Ex-president Theodore Roosevelt brought some big names with him to Marquette as character witnesses in May of 1913 when he sued editor George Newett of the Ishpeming Iron Ore for libel.

The State Bar of Michigan and the Marquette County Bar Association erected a bronze "Michigan Legal Milestone" marker in the historic Marquette County Courthouse to commemorate the trial.

Newett, in an editorial, had voiced the opinion widely-held in the region that Teddy was a very heavy drinker. The editorial said in part: "Roosevelt lies and curses in a most disgusting way. He gets drunk, too, and not that infrequently, and all his intimates know about it."

The case attracted international attention. Reporters came from every corner of North America to cover the trial.

Roosevelt sued for $10,000 in damages. Newett eventually offered a retraction and an apology, which Roosevelt accepted. He was awarded a total of six cents damages, which he wryly referred to as "the price of a good newspaper."

Missouri Governor Herbert S. Hadley, the celebrated U.S. naturalist Gifford Pinchot and former Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield were among those testifying during the trial that they had never seen Roosevelt drunk.

Some wine, perhaps a mint julep or two—but never drunk.

The Legal Milestone erected inside the courthouse was dedicated by State Bar of Michigan president Julia Darlow, who said it was fitting in this Sesquicentennial year to recognize famous trials which have played an important role in the history of the justice system in Michigan.

Five more Legal Milestones are planned, she said.

Birds have been known to use some rather unusual building materials for their nests. According to National Wildlife magazine, a pair of canyon wrens in Fresno, Calif., built a two-and-a-half pound nest entirely of paper clips and other office supplies. And Florida bald eagles have used everything from Chlorox bottles and light bulbs to magazines and tennis balls.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Father's Day is approaching. What will the people of Chelsea do to honor their fathers? After all, everyone has had a father at one time or another, even if you do not currently know him or he is dead.

As a father myself, I know all about the awesome burdens of fatherhood, from changing soiled diapers all the way up to bailing the children out of jail. Fatherhood is not easy, no picnic, no matter what Bill Cosby or other self-styled "experts" say. What do they know? They have servants to do all the work for them.

I know you will probably get a letter from Millie Warner concerning the joys and wonders of Father's Day. From her past letters I know she will have remarkable insights that would never even occur to me or another "common" person. But, Millie, as witty and wise as you are, you have never been a father and therefore cannot bring a father's unique perspective to the matter.

The matter I am speaking of is, what are the people of Chelsea going to do to honor their fathers on Father's Day? Buy him a card or a new sweater? Take him to Big Boy? This will not erase the pain. Fathers everywhere are suffering, ignored by their children, dumped on by their wives. Today there is no respect for fathers, and the media and our school system are squarely to blame.

If I sound bitter, maybe I have a right to be, maybe not. Anyway you cannot make up for 364 days of disrespect with one day of cards and new sweaters.

I say, take the cards and new sweaters back to the mall. Instead give Dad the RESPECT you yourself would expect. Why do we have to wait for Father's Day to be decent to our fathers? On TV it is easy. It is not real, just TV.

Remember, the Lord said to Moses, "Honor Thy Father."

During fiscal year 1985, the office advised approximately 202,000 individuals of their reemployment rights at time of separation from active duty, responded to approximately 30,000 inquiries, and opened and processed about 1,850 reemployment rights cases, according to the U. S. Labor Department.

NORTH SCHOOL FIFTH GRADERS from Cindy Mortenson's class, as their part in Celebration Day, are presenting their favorite scenes from author Karen Sommer's books, "The New Kid," "Spinner and Me," and "Motormouth Marcie, Spinner, and Me." Shown in their costumes are, first row, Adrienne Balze, Sara Stalaski, Laurie Ford, and Sheila Grant. Second row, Dennis Katkowski, Mark Carlson, Michelle Knisely, Scott Peterson, and Ted Rafferty. Third row, Pat Steele, Erica Street, Chris Gibson, David Brock, and Colby Skelton.

Citizens Trust Joins Ohio Based Firm

George H. Cress, president and chief executive officer of Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc., has announced that an agreement has been signed to affiliate with Trustcorp, Inc., a $4.5 billion financial services corporation headquartered in Toledo, O.

The agreement calls for an exchange of one share of Citizens Trust stock for two and one-half shares of Trustcorp, Inc., stock. It is anticipated that this transaction, having a market value of approximately $50 million, will be completed during the fourth quarter of 1987, subject to approvals from Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc., shareholders and bank regulatory agencies.

Trustcorp, Inc., is listed on the NASDAQ Exchange and sells at approximately $31 per share. Trustcorp, Inc.'s 1987 indicated dividend is $1.28. Based on the closing price of Trustcorp, Inc., on May 6, 1987, Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc., would be valued on a basis equivalent to approximately $78 per share compared to the $42-$44 listing on the local market recent over the counter market.

Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc. will serve as the anchor for Trustcorp of Michigan, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Trustcorp, Inc. The officers and directors of Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc., will become the officers and directors of Trustcorp of Michigan, Inc. George H. Cress will become chairman, president and chief executive officer of Trustcorp of Michigan, Inc., and will also serve on the board of directors of the parent company, Trustcorp, Inc.

Trustcorp, Inc., completed its first Michigan acquisition, Commercial Bankshares Corporation in Adrian, on March 31, 1987. That organization, which includes the Commercial Savings Bank in Adrian and the Jipson-Carter State Bank in Blissfield, will be included in the organization of Trustcorp of Michigan, Inc.

George W. Haigh, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Trustcorp, Inc., stated that "the Ann Arbor addition is an extremely important strategic Michigan location for Trustcorp's tri-state strategy that includes Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. We are pleased to have the leadership and the great reputation of Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc., be a part of our organization."

"We at Citizens Trust are delighted to enter into this affiliation with such a respected financial organization. We believe this transaction will result in many benefits for our customers, our staff and our shareholders," Cress stated.

"The Trustcorp philosophy of service to community parallels very closely our own history of banking, which of course we will continue in the future," he added.

Peace Broadcasting from Costa Rica Headed By Chelseaite R. Schneider

World Peace University in Portland, Ore., and the University for Peace in Costa Rica have signed an international co-operative agreement to co-own and co-operate a short wave radio station. The agreement is a monumental step for the United Nations Organization created by the United Nations General Assembly in 1980 and the private non-profit World Peace University which is less than three years old.

Chelsea native son Dr. F. Richard Schneider is the son of Evelyn Bernice Schneider of Munith and the late Lewis Schneider. Brother Lloyd and sister Diane are life-long residents of Chelsea.

Dr. Schneider is the chancellor of the World Peace University and the co-chair of the international organization that operates Radio for Peace. He and his twin brother, Dr. D. Douglas Schneider, founded the World Peace University along with their families. Last year he travelled 80,000 miles around the globe to complete arrangements for this singular project including the Soviet Union, Japan, and Central America.

The transmitter, amplifier and other station equipment are on the way to Costa Rica. It was built and assembled in Oregon, then dismantled and packed for shipment. The World Peace University staff, which includes Dr. Schneider's son-in-law, James Latham, as chief engineer and station manager, are already in Ciudad Colon, Costa Rica, making preparations for putting the station on the air. The station has been given two hours of satellite time per day to broadcast interviews and other live programs from anywhere in the western hemisphere to central Africa. The World Peace University is responsible for the actual broadcasting and station development.

Murray Silberman at the University for Peace in Ciudad Colon, Costa Rica, explained the signing of the agreement "because of the expertise of the World Peace University and its uniquely qualified staff in amateur and short wave radio. The World Peace University has a broad perspective on world issues and a unique educational program which we can relate to in a co-operative and supportive way."

Dr. Schneider explained that the short wave station is an opportunity to reach the entire world with programs on peace, ecology, food sufficiency and social justice. He stated that programming will be done at the KFIR radio studios in Sweet Home, Ore., as well as on-site in Costa Rica and at sites he has designated around the globe. He serves as general manager of Radio for Peace.

Short wave was selected because of its broadcast ability which knows no political or geographical boundaries and which can be heard in parts of the world where there are limited or no AM or FM radio facilities.

Radio for Peace International will begin broadcasting in June and when fully operational will broadcast 24 hours a day. All broadcasting will be in English and Spanish with other official United Nations languages to be added as the station is developed. The station will be listener sponsored. Program syndication to other radio stations will help support the endeavor.

Several international figures have signed on to do program series including Dr. Michael Cohen of the Audubon Society Expedition Institute, Barbara Marx Hubbard, Dr. Vasant Merchant, Robert Muller, Dennis Weaver and others. The programs will include interviews, talk shows, music and dramatic programs as well as news and news analysis.

A statement released by Dr. Schneider states "Radio for Peace International is a significant development in the telecommunications field and in world-wide information dissemination. The capacity to bridge the world with a positive message of the possible is an unparalleled opportunity in an age of fear and pessimism. It is to be a serious effort at world-wide citizen diplomacy."

SECOND GRADERS FROM HELEN PROHASKA'S South school class are dressing as their favorite literary characters to attend the Celebration Assembly today. Church Women Observe 25th Ann.

On Saturday, May 2, Chelsea women attended the annual May Fellowship Day at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners. The women of Zion Lutheran provided refreshment for the gathering which started at 10 a.m.

Theme for the day's celebration was: "For Such a Time as This... Blessings of the Past, Promises of the Future." This year marked the 25th anniversary of the Chelsea Unit of Church Women United. The program was planned by Kathleen Chapman and Arlene Schroen.

Past presidents honored in memoriam were Louise Donaldson, 1962-65, first Chelsea Unit president, and Caralee Hoffmeyer, 1972-75. Past presidents in attendance were Jean Storey, 1968-69, Joy Stacey, 1978-79, 1981, Kathleen Chapman, 1982-83, and Arlene Schroen, 1984-87.

Arlene Schroen gave the welcome, followed by Bible Verse reading by Evelyn Schneider. Jean Storey, Joy Stacey and Kathleen Chapman recalled events from the past that Chelsea Church Women United had accomplished in the community since its beginning. Jean Storey remarked on the dynamic personality of Louise Donaldson, who started the local unit when she moved here from Dearborn. Shirley Smith read the Valiant Woman Award that was posthumously awarded to Caralee Hoffmeyer in 1984. Louise Donaldson was also named a Valiant Woman of Church Women United.

Joanne Fredal and Arlene Schroen remarked on achievements during the recent past in Chelsea such as starting the Refugee Sponsorship Committee to help resettle refugees in this country. Through sales at the annual Chelsea Sidewalk Days and a Salad Luncheon held at St. Paul United Church of Christ a check totaling $680.47 was presented to Gene Goodman, of Lansing Refugee Services for the Emergency Fund in November, 1986. In March, 1987 Church Women United of Chelsea participated in the Michigan Women's BRIDGE Project by hosting a delegation of three foreign women who visited various facilities and institutions in Chelsea of special interest to women.

The BRIDGE Project, (Building Relationships for Interdependence through Global Education) is sponsored by the Ecumenical Campus Center in Ann Arbor and Church Women United.

Chelsea Church Women United also purchased a treadle sewing machine for $300, that was sent to a Third World Nation sewing center. These centers offer intensive courses in tailoring, dressmaking, and the sewing of items for export. The sewing centers help provide needed income to families and have taught both men and women a marketable skill. The money was raised at the rummage sale last June.

The program ended with a Heritage Walk prepared by Arlene Schroen, that included posters listing events through the decades since the Chelsea Unit was founded and scrapbooks and photographs. Songs during the program were accompanied by the Rev. John Morris, on the piano.

Before recessing for the summer

Chelsea Church Women United will hold a rummage sale at the Longworth Building on Main St. setting up on Thursday, June 4 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Sale will start Thursday at 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. Sale will continue Friday, June 5, beginning at 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Donations will be greatly appreciated. Please bring items on Thursday or call Arlene at 475-1036 or Joanne at 428-8010 for pickup.

Village Asks County To Provide Solution For Drain Problem

Mike Kennedy is a step closer to breaking ground for his new shopping mall next to Polly's Market on M-52 due to the action of the Chelsea Village Council last week at the group's regular meeting.

Council voted to petition the Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner to establish a drainage district near Polly's Market that would handle the mall's potential storm water runoff.

The storm water problem has been a thorny issue for Kennedy, manager of Polly's Market, in recent months. The main culvert under M-52 that was designed to handle the runoff from the current retention pond near Polly's was filled in, apparently when Chelsea Lanes was built in the 1960s. The bowling alley sits right where the water formerly drained.

The village is requiring Kennedy to show that his plans adequately deal with potential storm water problems.

If the commission decides to establish the drainage district, all those property owners who benefit from a new drain would be assessed for part of the cost.

The village is asking that the drain run east from Polly's Market into Pierce Lake, across land owned partially by Rene Papo. Papo recently had his own plans for a mall derailed by the council when they decided not to change the zoning on a particular piece of land.

Part of the reason the village wants the drain to run east is to handle runoff problems at Pierce Park. In that regard, the village would have to pay for part of the cost of the sewer.

Kennedy plans a mall of approximately 43,000 square feet.

American Red Cross Washtenaw County Chapter was on the scene providing coffee, water and snacks for the firefighters at the Abrasive Finishing factory fire in the early morning of May 21.

Though the factory is located in the Chelsea Fire district, this was a "mutual aid call" responded to by five local fire departments. Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor Township, Pittsfield Village and Manchester Fire Departments all assisted in fighting the fire.

According to Dexter Fire Chief Fred Schmid the call came in about 1:30 a.m. and was under control by 7 a.m., though at 10:30 a.m. the Chelsea Fire Department was still on the scene. "We had to lay hose 4,000 feet to get to water," said Chief Schmid, so the combined fire departments' hoses were needed to reach that distance.

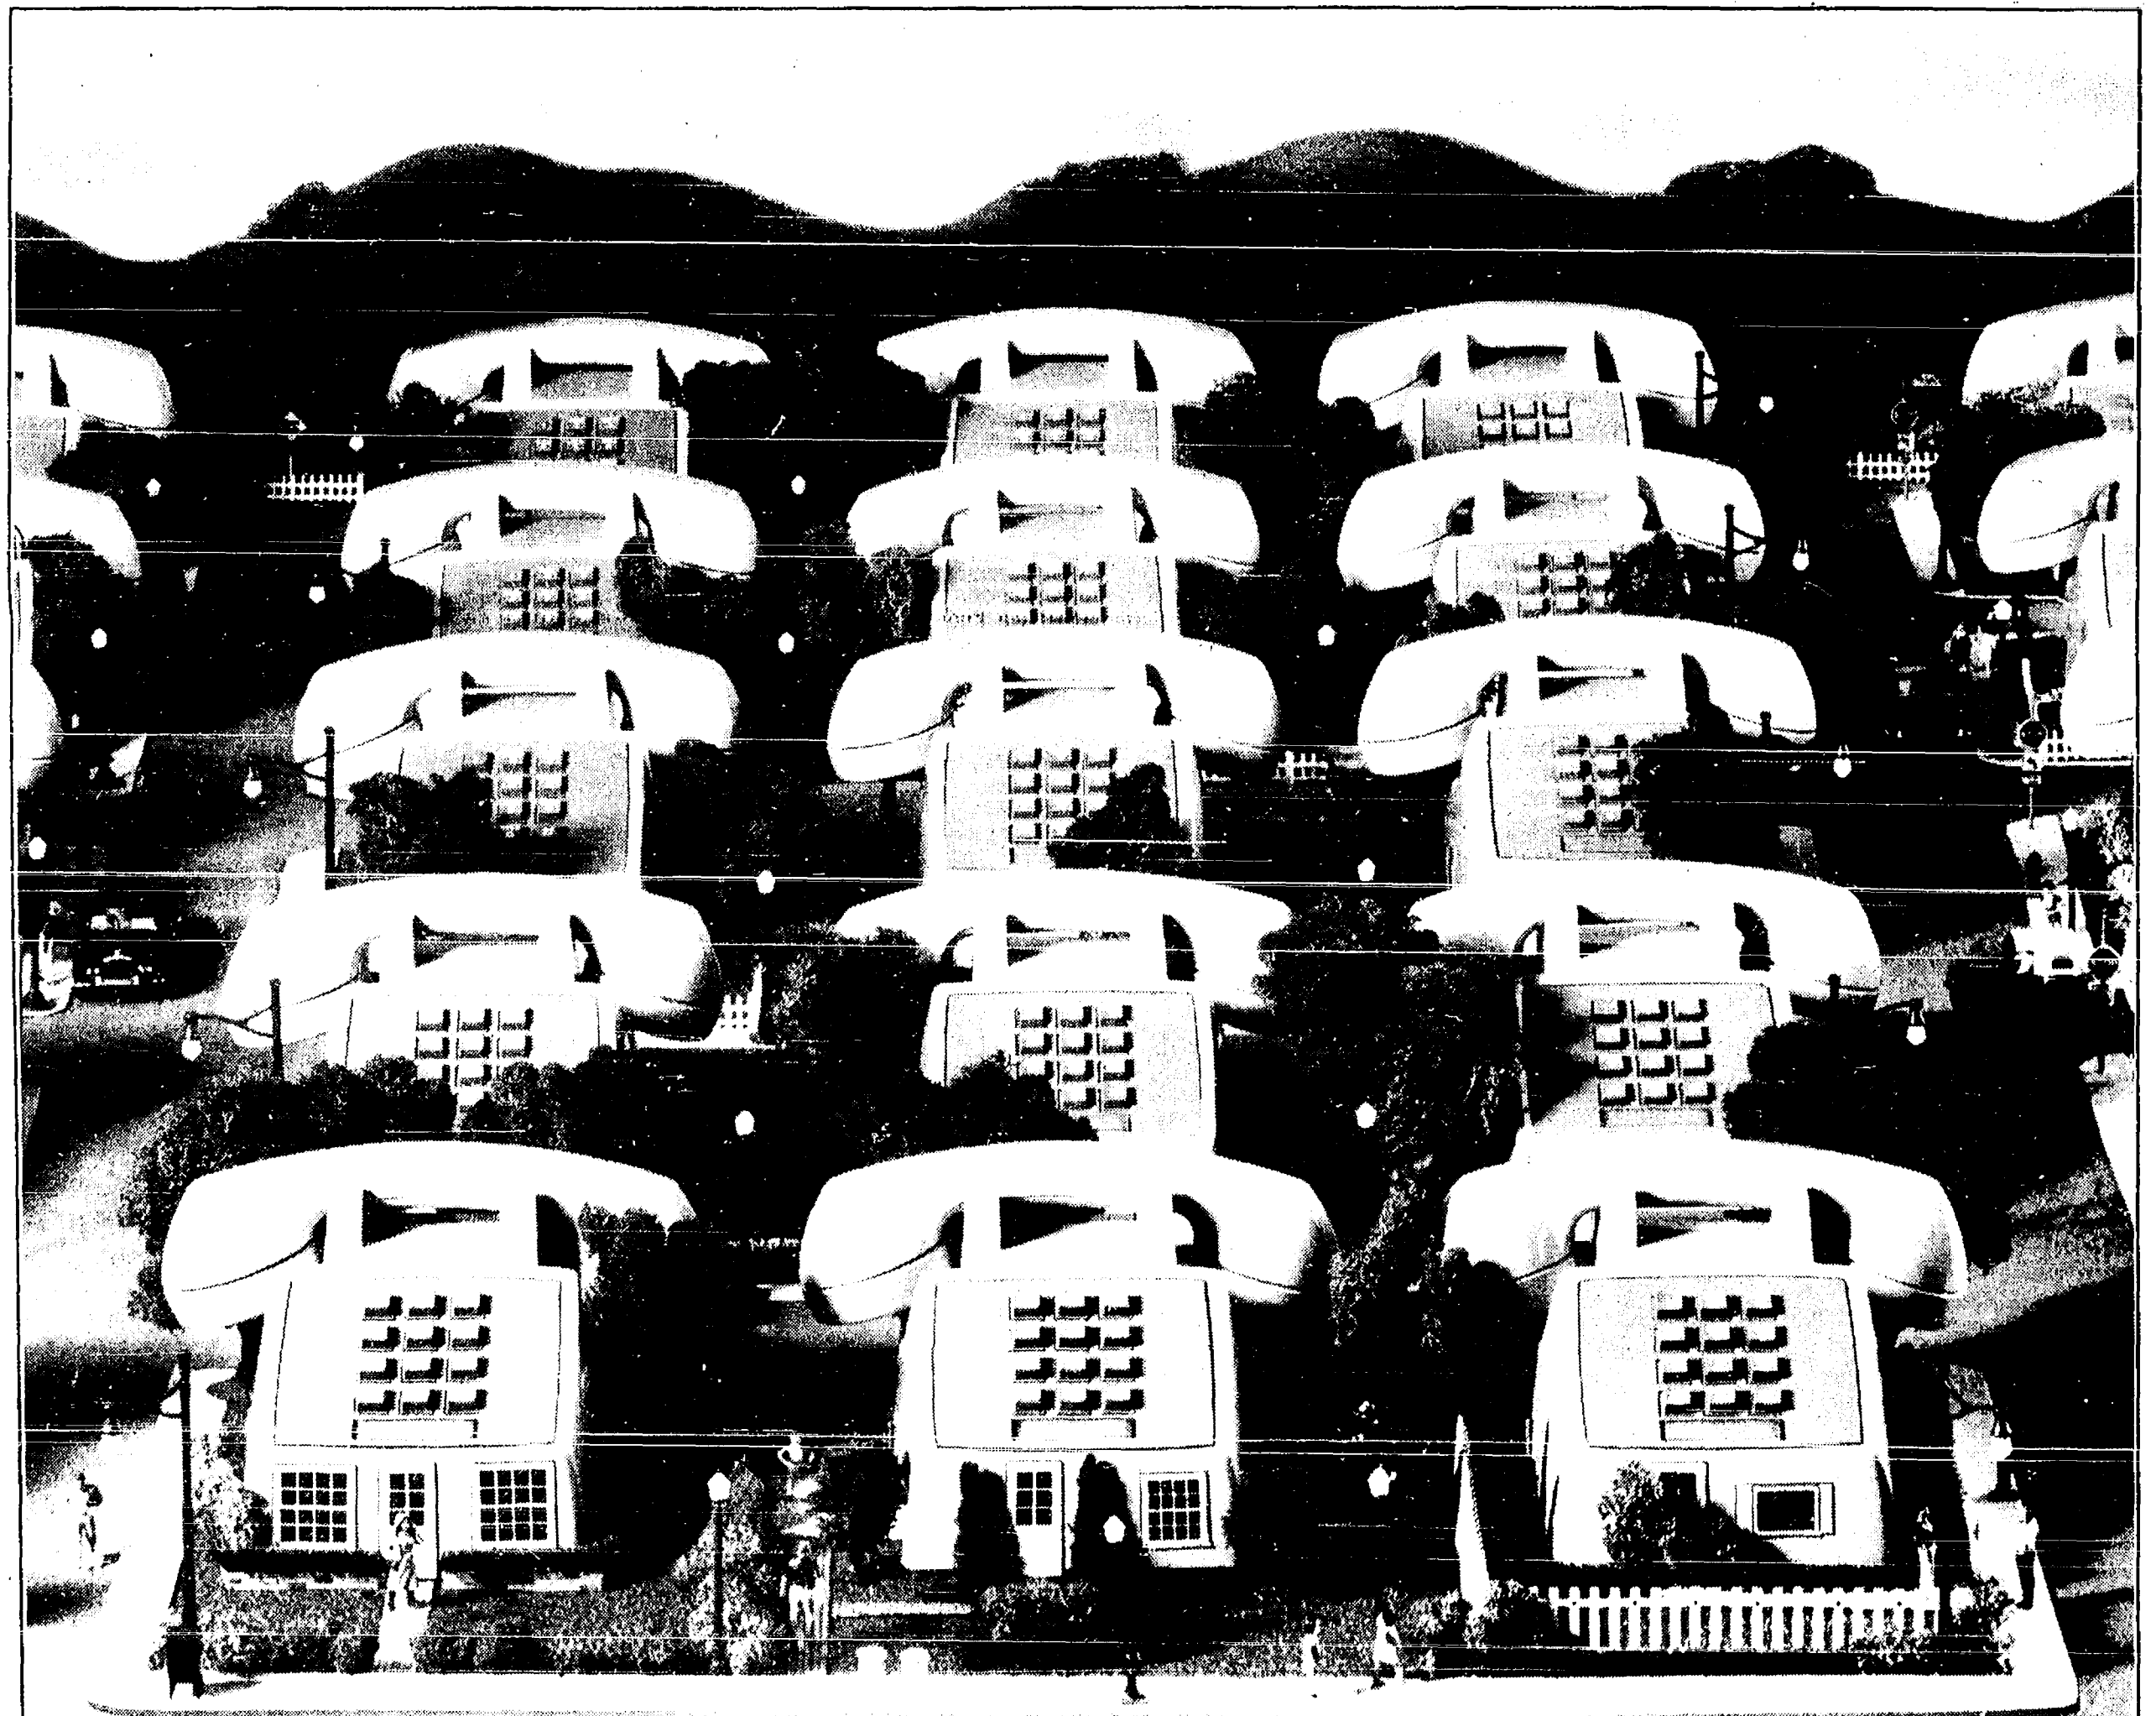

Red Cross Community Emergency Services casework manager, Daniel Tipple and volunteer Denise Clark responded to the fire at 2 a.m. "All of the fire departments were very appreciative of us being there," said Tipple. "We're always glad to get refreshments," confirmed Chief Schmid. The Red Cross posted an RV at a central location for most of the firefighters and also ran refreshments to the outer posts with the Chapter's 4-wheel drive vehicle.

The Washtenaw County Chapter responds to fires at the request of local fire departments. The federally mandated responsibility of the Red Cross is to assist with the emergency needs of victims of any disaster including fires. Even when there are no victims involved in a fire, however, as was the case of the May 21 factory fire, the Washtenaw County Chapter will provide refreshments (and depending on the weather) a warm place to take a break for the firefighters.

Fire departments which do not call the Red Cross as a matter of course for victimless fires or single family home fires have been asked to be conscious of the needs of the families involved and let fire victims know that Red Cross assistance is available

Civic Foundation Grant Will Fund Historical Society Study of Chelsea Stonework

The first Civic Foundation of Chelsea grant of 1987 has been given to the Chelsea Area Historical Society for the documentation of the Stonework of the Village of Chelsea.

The purpose of the project is to conduct a study of the unusual styles and numerous examples of stonemasonry in the Chelsea area. Special emphasis will be given to Clarence (Cub) Vogel's (1906-1982) prolific and individual expression of the ancient craft.

Because the applicants for this grant are not tax-exempt under the IRS code, the Historical Society agreed to accept the $600 award to fund necessary material expenses of gathering the information. In turn it will oversee the six-month project and all materials collected will become the possession of the Historical Society.

Thomas Ziezul, Chelsea resident, award winning poet, and working writer, is joining his efforts and interest with those of Julie Woods, Chelsea resident, working artist and photographer, and former Artist in Residence at Notre Dame University. Along with the technical assistance of master stonemason, David Menefee, a restoration technician at Firestone Farm, Greenfield Village, they plan to research as many examples of area stonework as time will allow. Through interviews and other means they will verify the craftsman, original construction date and homeowner and any other pertinent information about these homes, buildings and landmarks.

Mrs. Vogel said that the stonemasonry of her husband did not end with his death. Their grandson, Greg Ringe, by observing his grandfather as a child and by working to duplicate some of the techniques and designs used by Cub Vogel, has succeeded in carrying on the tradition as a tribute to the talent and artistry of his grandfather.

The Civic Foundation and Historical Society members are pleased at the prospect that this artistic tradition may be recorded in the form of a book or pamphlet that could be added to those already distributed by the Chamber of Commerce celebrating what is special about Chelsea and the area.

Memorial Day Address

By Will Connelly
Honored Veterans and Neighbors:

During these past days our flag has been flying at half staff in tribute to the 37 seamen who died in the catastrophe of the Persian Gulf. Today, in this chosen hour, we remember them and their loved ones in our prayers. These men—three of whom were sons of Michigan—did not perish in an American war. They lost their lives on a mission of peace. I think I speak for all of us in saying that the people of this nation will not be satisfied until we know why our men died . . . so that such a tragedy will not happen again.

Memorial Day is dedicated to the memory of those gallant men and women who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of their country. This is also an appropriate time of remembrance for those who went to war, fulfilled their duty and survived.

During this month of May, 1987 we have marked the passing of two Chelsea war veterans. We remember Paul R. Frayer who served in the Army during World War Two. He was a past commander of Chelsea VFW Post 4076 and a member of the Dexter post of the American Legion. We also mourn the passing of Harold Jones, a veteran of the First World War and a member of Chelsea American Legion Post 31. He was a distinguished attorney, historian and leader in public affairs.

As we look back over the lives of all the fine men and women who have worn the uniform of their country, we realize there are no such things as prototypes of American war veterans. They represent all kinds of men and women from all walks of life.

One who often comes to mind here, in this wooded cemetery, was a man whose first name was Joyce. He was a writer and was married to Aline, another writer. On July 30, 1918 this American sergeant was killed in the Second Battle of the Marne, the historic turning point for the Allies in the war against Germany. Joyce Kilmer is recalled by many for his heroism, but he is remembered by millions for his beautiful, and oh so brief, poem, "Trees."

I think that I shall never see
A poem as lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the Earth's sweet flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

will feature 85 of the talented craftspeople and artisans from across 11 states who have been featured in many national magazines. These are the same artists who have made the Country Peddler Shows a success across the nation for the past five years.

These individuals specialize in crafting folk art in the time honored tradition of days gone by. Many still use the same techniques practiced by their ancestors of a century ago. Each one decorates their showcase in country designs loved by all. Spirits will be lifted by the music of Wes Linenkugel, dulcimer player and Grand Champion of Maumee, O., and the nourishment will be provided by the Adrian Rotary Club in a cafeteria style atmosphere.

Show hours are from 1 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, May 30, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, May 31. Presale tickets will be available from the Adrian Rotary Club, Downtown merchants of Adrian and American Memories, Inc. Admission per day is $3 for adults and $1.50 for children 10 and under. With your purchase of a presale ticket you will save 50¢ per ticket.

For further information contact either Carla Anderson of American Memories, Inc. at (616) 423-8367, or Ken Glaser of the Adrian Rotary Club at (517) 265-8080.

Livestock Clinic Slated for 4-H Club

Area 4-H members are invited to attend a livestock fitting and showing clinic at the Washtenaw County Farm Council Grounds on Tuesday, June 16. Purpose of the clinic is to teach basic management practices and help beginners learn to fit their animals for the show ring. It's also a good way for experienced members to brush up on their fitting and showing skills before the fair season begins. Individual sessions will be held for beef cattle, swine, sheep, dairy cattle, goats, horses, poultry, and rabbits and caviars. Instruction will be given by Co-operative Extension Service specialists and resource persons.
