ONE HUNDRED-SEVENTEENTH YEAR—No. 16

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1987

24 Pages This Week Plus Supplement

SYLVAN HOTEL has been purchased by John and Anne Daniels of Chelsea. They plan to put three one-bedroom apartments upstairs, and a mix of retail and office space on the main and basement floors. The building was destroyed by fire two years ago and has been in this condition ever since.

Sylvan Hotel Purchased For Apartment, Retail Site

The burned-out Sylvan Hotel will be turned into an apartment-office-retail complex by its new owners, John and Anne Daniels of Chelsea. John is an employee of Chelsea Lumber Co. and son of its owner, Bob Daniels.

The Daniels bought the building for an undisclosed price from George Merkel of Chelsea. The building has been sitting boarded up since a fire swept through the old dwelling for people down on their luck two years ago last month.

"We'll have to gut the inside of it and then we'll go from there," John said Monday afternoon.

"The outside shell is fine." The Daniels plan to put three 20' by 40' one-bedroom apartments upstairs, along with a 20' by 40' office space. They will require a special land-use permit from the Village of Chelsea, as was required for the apartments in the upstairs of the old F&M Restaurant building on the opposite end of the block.

The lower two floors, the main floor and the basement, will be a combination of office and retail space. The main floor has two, 20' by 80' areas.

Outside, the Daniels also plan extensive remodeling. The north side of the building, which now has a gravel drive-in area will become an entrance to the building with new landscaping, John said.

The front of the building will also get a facelift. Picture windows will be added and the old overhang torn down.

"We want to make it a real attractive building for Chelsea," John said.

Daycare Program In Danger of Folding

Chelsea School District's Before and After Day Care program is in trouble even before it has begun.

According to Community Education

John said the main and lower floor would definitely be made accessible to the handicapped.

The Daniels are working with their architect, Arthur Lindauer, on the final plans. Once all necessary permits are obtained, John said, the renovation will begin.

"We're real excited about it," John said.

"We got real serious about buying it about three weeks ago and George (Merkel) was very nice about it. We had no problems."

Director Jackie Rogers, only five children have been signed up for the program, which has a capacity of 20.

The program will be closed down unless an additional five to seven students can be enrolled.

"We've been told all along that what Chelsea needs is more day care possibilities but the community doesn't seem to be supporting this program," Rogers said.

"It could be good news, though. It could be that parents have arranged for home day care and if that's the case, that's terrific because we'd rather have kids in homes than in institutions. I hope this is good news."

Rogers said she still believes that the situation in Chelsea is most likely similar to the national trend in which a significant number of children are in need of before and after school day care.

"I don't think the location of the center (Chelsea Free Methodist church on Werkner Rd.) is an issue because most parents would drive 10 miles for good day care. We have an excellent person, Linda Parham, who's running the program, and we have tremendous support from the church. The recreation council has even donated equipment."

Rogers said that if any parents of elementary-aged children have ideas as to why the program is not taking hold, they are welcome to call her at 475-9830.

Chelsea Rotary Club Receives Charter

Chelsea has a new service club. The Chelsea Rotary club, which began organizing last spring, became a chartered club on Aug. 25. To become chartered, a club must recruit a minimum of 20 members.

The first president of the Chelsea Rotary will be Bob Thornton. Other officers include Dr. Fred Van Reesema, president-elect; Katie Chapman, secretary; Charlie Burgess, treasurer; and Fr. Joe Rinaldo, sergeant-at-arms. Board members are Mark Cwiek, Sue Carter, Mearl Bradley, Mark McKernan, and Ron Smeenge.

The Chelsea Rotary was initiated and is being sponsored by the Ann Arbor-North Rotary club. Last spring, members of the Ann Arbor club began talking to Chelsea residents, soliciting membership and inviting people to attend meetings held each Tuesday noon in the Woodland Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital. Now that the group is chartered, they plan to continue meeting in the same place.

Originally, the Ann Arbor Rotarians just recruited men, but in May the International Rotary changed their regulations to include women. Five women took advantage of this opportunity, which may give the Chelsea Rotary the distinction of being the first in the world to charter as co-ed. The group is awaiting verification from the International Rotary on this point.

The Chelsea Rotary plans to celebrate their new status with an inaugural ball on Oct. 31 at St. Louis Center. Representatives from other Rotary clubs, past governors of Rotary, and members of other Chelsea civic groups will all be invited.

The Rotary International is 80 years old and has clubs in 161 countries. In a letter congratulating Chelsea on their charter status, International Rotary president Charles Keller described the common cause of the club as working "for children without polio and food for all people, for life with dignity in a world at peace." He said the theme of the year is "Rotary brings hope."

Variety of Items Swell 'The Sheriff's Blotter'

John Mettler, 3871 W. Loch Alpine Dr., reported recently he took his eyes off the road to retrieve mail which had fallen to the floor of the vehicle he drove along Wagner Rd., 100 ft. from the Miller Rd. intersection.

He lost control of the vehicle, which traveled off the roadway into a roadside ditch and struck some small trees, according to a report filed with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD).

Jeffrey Aeron Doyle, 21, of Pinckney last week told deputies he was driving southbound on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. when he braked and a brick under the seat slid forward and became lodged behind the brake pedal, not allowing the vehicle to stop.

Doyle said the vehicle jumped the curb and its undercarriage was damaged.

Deputy Ed Toth took a report from Patrick Davis, employee at the Lima township Pump-N-Pantry, on S. Fletcher Rd. near Jackson Rd., Saturday, Sept. 5, charging the driver of a red 1987 Ford Ranger pumped gasoline worth $12.68, deceived the station's attendant and drove away without paying.

The culprit was described as a white male, probably having blond hair.

Deputy Dave Miley's report, filed with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department on Wednesday, Sept. 2, cited $75 estimated damage to a residence at 2639 Daleview in Scio township, following a burglary attempt.

Board of Commissioners Expected To Approve Money for Courthouse

Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners is expected to give the go-ahead for the Chelsea district courthouse renovation and restoration project at its regular meeting tonight.

Last Wednesday, Sept. 9 the board's Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved the expenditure of an additional $150,000 to meet the higher-than anticipated low bid of $615,000.

The county had originally budgeted $330,000 for the project, with the other public and private concerns contributing $135,000.

According to commissioner Ellis Pratt, the approval by the board on Wednesday, Sept. 16 should be a formality.

"We got delayed a little bit with our building program in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and that temporarily derailed the Chelsea court project," Pratt said.

"Now the project should start this year."

According to Pratt, money that was originally to be used for the purchase of the Salvation Army building in Ann Arbor will now be used for the courthouse project because the two sides couldn't agree on a price.

Tom Freeman, the county's director of facilities management, said his office would meet with the low bidder, Phoenix Construction Co., late this week to firm up a construction schedule. Freeman anticipated that construction could begin in 30 days, probably toward the end of October.

Freeman estimated a construction schedule of 8-10 months.

"If this were a new building on a new site, I could tell you pretty accurately when it would be completed," Freeman said.

"But because this is the restoration and renovation of an historic building, there is a wide spectrum of possibilities. They could open up a wall and find problems with a support beam, for example."

The first portion of the project, Freeman said, would be moving court personnel about a block into their temporary home, Sylvan Town Hall on W. Middle St.

Some work, such as the installing of temporary partitions, will have to be completed at the town hall. The county plans to build a bench for Judge Karl Fink to use. The bench will be left behind for the town hall to use as a meeting table.

"It's a way of giving the township a little something in return," Freeman said.

The initial portion of the renovation work will include removing materials such as panelized ceilings, and excavation work in the basement.

When completed, the courthouse will have facilities for jury trials (which now take place in Saline), improved office facilities for support personnel, handicap access, meeting rooms, and a Washtenaw County Sheriff's substation, complete with holding cell. The building's heating and cooling systems, and electrical work, will be replaced.

In addition, the building at Main and South Sts. will be completely restored. Old woodwork, marble and reliefs, as well as the building's dome, which have been covered over for years, will again be exposed.

The restoration work is being covered by money raised by the Chelsea Historic District Courthouse group. Area governments, including the Village of Chelsea and surrounding townships, have contributed, as well as area attorneys, businesses, foundations and individuals.

Public Hearing Set On Increment Financing For Downtown Projects

Chelsea Village Council has taken the first step toward setting up the major fundraising mechanism for improvements planned by the Downtown Development Authority.

Council voted unanimously last Tuesday, Sept. 2 to hold a public hearing on Tuesday, Oct. 20 on the question of establishing a tax increment financing authority on property in the downtown development district. The district includes all of the downtown business district and about 10 private homes.

If the financing authority becomes law, the DDA would receive the additional tax money that comes from rising property values within the district.

According to a DDA-commissioned study, money raised from increment financing would amount to $13,200 in 1988 and rise to $288,000 in 2003.

By contrast, the DDA's two mill levy will raise $8,500 the first year and $36,900 in 2002.

The public hearing will address not only the establishment of the financing district but how the DDA plans to spend the money.

"What we've tried to put together here is a plan which we feel meets the needs of the downtown in terms of improvements that will significantly enhance the economic viability of the area," said Franz Mogdis, the Ann Arbor financial consultant who was the architect of the financing plan.

"This would include parking, pedestrian amenities, lighting, and intersection improvements. We've included a provision for dollars for city hall as long as it's located in the DDA area. These funds could be used for assistance in financing that."

Mogdis told the council that once the financing district is established and the DDA plan approved, village council would still have to approve every expenditure the DDA makes. In addition, he said council is not obligated to spend money on any part of the plan. However, the plan includes virtually every project the DDA might want to consider so that a public hearing is not necessary every time the DDA wants to act.

Mogdis also said that the Chelsea School District, which stands to lose the most tax money to the plan, has shown support for the DDA's activities.

"Probably a lot of you know that in a lot of communities that is not true," Mogdis said of the support.

"The school board's response has been thus far that they understand the need and they feel that this is the way

Michigan Offers Two Site Possibilities for Super Collider

Michigan's offer of two slightly different geological sites, along with "millions of dollars" in incentives, could be a key factor in the U.S. Department of Energy's selection of a state in the mega million dollar sweepstakes for location of a Superconducting Super Collider (SSC), Governor Blanchard said in announcing the official submission of two proposals.

Michigan was one of 24 states submitting bids for the $4.5 billion project.

Blanchard said the two Michigan sites—an area near Dundee in Monroe and Lenawee counties and another near Stockbridge in Ingham and Jackson counties—satisfy "on their face" all the criteria set forth by the DOE while other competing states had to "stretch" to claim meeting all the criteria.

He noted such criteria included proximity to major research institutions, international airport, a cosmopolitan culture and ethnic diversity, a strong industrial infrastructure, a skilled workforce and a strong past record of success.

The SSC is a state-of-the-art high tech research machine made up of laboratories and a 53-mile-long particle accelerator tunnel. The so-called "cosmic microscope" with the force of 20 trillion electron volts, will allow scientists to collide subatomic particles at nearly the speed of light to discover the atomic forces at work for development of future products and medicines.

Economic benefits of the project include the immediate creation of some 11,000 construction jobs at the peak of the construction cycle and several thousand additional jobs in support services.

When completed, the SSC would have an annual operating budget of about $270 million and would provide 2,500 full-time jobs and another 3,000 jobs in support services.

A University of Michigan economic impact analysis estimates the SSC will generate about $2.2 billion in personal income and $111 million in state revenue during the construction period alone.

The U-M analysis also estimates the project would contribute about $8 billion to the state's economy during the first 10 years of operation.

Blanchard said his office and the Superconducting Super Collider Commission would be working closely with the state's congressional delegation within the next few months to make sure the selection process is completed on a fair basis and does not become subject to state lobbying efforts and politics.

The Department of Energy had already declared it would not review inducement letters offered by the states until after it had selected a site.

The sealed inducement system was instituted as a means of preventing states from "buying" the project with financial promises. Such previously announced inducements included a promise by Texas for two separate bond issues producing as much as $1 billion and Tennessee by "forgiving" a $2 billion electric bill the DOE owes the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Although Blanchard would not list specifics of the state's inducement package, he said the package was worth "millions of dollars" in standard incentives such as land acquisition and infrastructure support.

He added the state has promised "heaven and earth" to meet the construction schedule set forth by the DOE.

John Haneski, an economist for the Department of Commerce and project co-ordinator, estimated Michigan would have to pay approximately $28 million for 16,000 acres needed for the accelerator ring.

About half of the acreage would be reserved for the main campus and the cluster of labs 15 miles away on the opposite side of the ring. The federal government will require only subterranean rights to the remaining acreage around the upper and lower arcs. The areas within the ring and around the arcs will largely retain their present uses, including agricultural, during construction and subsequent operation.

Property owners who would be displaced by the project, estimated at about 200, will receive more than fair market value for their land with up to $15,000 in relocation expenses, Haneski added.

In addition, the relatively flat and rolling terrain, the proposal declared, is ideal for "shallow" tunneling which would make expansion or modifications economic and expeditious.

Besides California and Texas, other competitive states vying against Michigan for the project include Illinois, Ohio and North Carolina.

The federal energy department is expected to reduce the number of states still in the running to five or six by the end of the current calendar year. The DOE is expected to name a preferred site by July, 1988 with a final selection expected in January, 1989. Construction would begin soon thereafter and the project completed five years later.

Hunting Dogs Stolen from Home

Two valuable hunting dogs were stolen from the Ishmael Picklesimer residence in Chelsea during the night of Sept. 11-12.

Two English Red Ticks were taken from a fence pen behind a garage, police said. One dog, a six-year-old female, was valued at $1,000. The other, a 14-month-old male, was valued at $200.

The dogs were discovered missing on the morning of Sept. 12. Police said the gate to the pen was closed.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster remarked Saturday night at the country store that he allus figured ever newspaper gits tired of explaining that it don't make the news, it just reports it. Now comes word that the San Francisco Chronicle makes news. Clem told the fellers that the paper recent run a review of a show that never showed, and from what he saw from the Associated Press the reviewer fell back on a excuse, that, allus works for a feller Californian that use to do make believe baseball play-by-play on the radio.

The reporter says he can't remember how he could of seen some dancers dance when in fact they didn't dance. Since it was to late to give the reviewer a Breathalyzer test, the newspaper put him in the hospital. Could of been to dry him out, Clem said, or maybe they wanted to have a growth nipped off his nose.

The fellers felt sorry for the newspaper that Bug Hookum said was as much a victim as its readers. It's good for a paper to admit a mistake, like that Washington paper did some years back after a reporter won a prize for a story she made up about a child dope addict. Bug says he still believes a heap more of what he reads than of what he's told, but when a newspaper loses trust it loses everything. Furthermore, he went on, trust can be more than the paper can handle because it is put out by people that have to make judgments of news and other people.

Speaking of trust and making news, Bug recalled the story of the woman that called a big city paper and ask if there was going to be a eclips of the sun. She was told there was, and that the paper had reported it. She ask if it would hurt her eyes to look direct at the eclips. The paper said yes, and that it had run warnings about that. The woman got mad and demanded to know if the eclips was dangerous how come the newspaper was having it. Bug said he figgers newspapers are like to messengers the Romans use to kill and the goats the Hebrews use to pile all their troubles on and chase out in the desert.

As fer trust and blame, Ed Doolittle got in word that the public feels pritty much the same about papers and politicians. He had saw a recent poll where Americans figger there's the caught and the uncaught in public office. They will trust a official more that admits mistakes than one that don't. The figger he's dumb but honest if he tells em, but he's crooked and to smart fer em if he don't.

General speaking, folks take their papers fer granted. Ed had saw a piece by a woman editor telling some of things her paper is ask to do. Fer instant, one feller wrote to say his grandma died in 1964 after living in the county 60 year. The grandchildren were putting a scrapbook together about grandma. She had been in the news because she was a leader in her church and she had been chairman of Homemakers Council 10 year. So would the paper please send them a clipping of ever time her name appeared in the paper?

The editor said another feller come to the paper to complain after a ad he wanted to run upside down come out right side up. She would of made him madder if she had said upside down ads is agin paper policy, so she explained that since his ad was to appear upside down she decided to run everything else in the paper upside down that week.

"Never rise to speak until you have something to say, and when you have said it, cease . . ."

—Witherspoon

We all know at least one person who habitually "keeps" his mouth running while his mind is in neutral. He commands little respect and even when he has something important to say, few will listen. He cries "wolf" each time he speaks and so no one pays much attention to what he says.

There is nothing to be gained from speaking just to hear yourself talk. Wait until you can really contribute to the discussion. Then, express your ideas and stop. People will respect both you and your opinions.

Be sure your wishes will be followed by making pre-need arrangements now. All details will be handled exactly as you specify.

located next to the home's main entry door was damaged.

Larceny of trailer tires was reported to WCSO deputies, Sunday, Sept. 6, by Ted R. Copeland, 6855 Jackson Ave., who explained 14.5-inch tires were removed from a trailer parked at the location.

Bradley Louis Shrock, 22, told deputies he swerved when a deer suddenly appeared in front of the vehicle he drove, eastbound on North Territorial Rd., one-quarter mile west of Donovan Rd., about 2 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 6.

In an "attempted B & E" report taken by Deputy D. E. Hemming, Matthew Bertelsen said unknown suspect(s) had pried two basement windows on his home at 8006 Kurtland, near Weber Dr.

He explained he had checked the windows just one day before he discovered the pry marks.

On Sunday, Sept. 6, Patrick Davis explained a customer pumped gasoline totaling $4.80 and drove away in a Chevrolet Citation without making payment at the Pump-N-Pantry Shell Station.

Gary Lee Farmer, 300 Cleveland, Chelsea, owner of a Lima township business located at Fletcher Rd. near Trinkle Rd., reported $965 stolen during a recent burglary.

Also reported missing were 10 cases of assorted soda pop, valued at $109, a radio-controlled car with estimated $159 value, two "Sound Design" telephones valued at $60, a Panasonic telephone with $149 value listed, telephone answering machine valued at $250, a $74 calculator and $5 in pennies.

Thieves apparently forced a lock to gain entry to the business.

to do something really positive for downtown Chelsea. I think we're in the situation where the one element that usually becomes antagonistic in the process feels this is a good way to do something beneficial for the community."

According to school district assistant superintendent Fred Mills, the district would lose about .08 mills in revenue. The amount would increase yearly as assessed values rise.

"The development the money will produce will more than return the money to us," Mills said.

NEW GARAGE MANAGER MIKE RANSOM and Rich Karasek, at right, vice-president and general manager of the Wolverine 76 Auto-Truck Plaza, stand beside the 1976 Cadillac Eldorado convertible which was the prize awarded in the final drawing on Saturday, Sept. 5, the evening which culminated activities during "Truckers Appreciation Week." Lucky winner of the automobile was a trucker from Fort Wayne, Ind. A host of other prizes were won by truckers, regular patrons at Wolverine 76 Auto-Truck Plaza. Dexter Knights of Columbus prepared and served 1,100 chicken dinners for the occasion, and dozens of manufacturers and business suppliers contributed prizes for the drawings.

Asbestos Inspection Set For All School Buildings

Asbestos inspections will be held in all Chelsea schools within the month. At the last school board meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 8, the school board voted to hire Asbestos Management Inc. of New Boston to inspect all district buildings for friable (loose and able to fly around) asbestos.

The schools were last inspected in 1983, but new EPA guidelines, effective Oct. 17, make new inspections mandatory. The school district will pay an amount not to exceed $7,500.

The school board also voted to replace heating pipes in five rooms of South school this fall. Although it will cause some classroom disruption, the work is necessary because of leaks.

In other spending items, the board voted to pay substitute secretaries $5.75 per hour and playground supervisors $5.50 per hour. They also agreed to contribute $75 to the Michigan Association of County Treasurers toward their efforts to return the revolving delinquent tax fund to its tax-free status.

The board obtained some additional funding by voting to certify that grades 9-12 curriculum and K-3 class size meet criteria as set forth by the State Department of Education.

It was reported at the meeting that the bus stop on North Territorial near Island Lake Rd. has been moved. At the request of Mr. and Mrs. Begole and Mr. and Mrs. Niesen, a representative from the state police and from the county road commission inspected the site and recommended moving it to the west so that oncoming traffic would have more time to see school buses.

Two letters were read at the meeting; one from Dexter superintendent of schools, John Hansen, thanking Chris Dillon for speaking to their board on the substance abuse program, and one from a superintendent in Iowa announcing that Chelsea teacher Alice Steinbach has been elected to office in a national science association.

Chelsea math teacher Vince Brumfiel announced in a memorandum that the advanced calculus class, which was offered for the first time last year, was a success. Thirteen students enrolled in the class and all did well on the placement test.

Kathy Haywood, who was responsible for lining up people to man the gates and do crowd control during all the home athletic events last year, was honored at the meeting.

The four building principals, in their school opening comments, agreed that school began this year with no apparent conflict with fair activities. According to assistant superintendent Fred Mills, there were problems several years ago when the fair last opened before school started, but that this year all co-operated so that the problems were not repeated. Said Mills, "We tried to make sure that all the kids involved in the fair were allowed to participate."

Three members of the school board, Ann Feeney, Ann Comeau, and Barb Cherem, will make a presentation on evaluating superintendents at the Michigan Association of School Boards fall conference to be held in Detroit, Oct. 6-9.

Superintendent Ray Van Meer reported that he has had some informal discussions with Washtenaw Community College president Gunder Myran about ways of making college education more affordable to Chelsea citizens, possibly by opening a Chelsea center of WCC. The talks were motivated by a column by Will Connelly about the high cost of college. It is an intriguing idea, but all involved quickly add that it's just in the idea stage.

Ever wonder what the difference is between Roquefort cheese, Bleu cheese and Blue cheese? Roquefort is a blue-veined cheese named for the village of Roquefort in southeastern France. A French regulation specifically limits the use of the word Roquefort to cheese made in the Roquefort area from sheep's milk. Other French cheese of the blue-veined type is called Blue cheese, B-I-u. In the United States blue-veined cheese made from cow's or goat's milk is also known as Blue, spelled B-I-u-e.

Social Services Dept. Needs Foster Homes

Can you make time in your life for a child who needs you? Washtenaw County Department of Social Services needs foster homes to provide care for children who have been removed from the home of their natural family because of abuse or neglect.

"We need black and white homes for children of all ages. Because we work with so many children who are also sexually abused, we especially need families who are willing to learn to work with older children. We also have a shortage of black families willing to do long term care or to adopt children of all ages," Social Services staff members say.

Interested? A foster parent/adoption training program is starting Wednesday, Sept. 16, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Department of Social Services, 2350 W. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor.

Please call Pat Ruby at 994-1694 to register or for more information.

BACON ACRES, a hog hotel in Sharon township, has been the subject of controversy among area residents who say the smell at times is unbearable. They are also worried about groundwater contamination from urine and manure.

Sharon Township Residents Upset About Hog Hotel Pollution

A hog farm in Sharon township that has area residents upset about both the smell and groundwater pollution was the subject of a crowded township meeting last Wednesday, Sept. 9.

The farm, known as "Bacon Acres," allegedly processes about 12,000 animals per year at three facilities on Lehman and Sharon Hollow Rds. and produces thousands of gallons of waste. Stench from the hog urine and manure, as well as occasional burning pork, can be smelled more than a mile away, depending on which way the wind is blowing, according to area residents. Some residents find the odor so appalling they can't go outdoors.

The owner is Steven Rose.

"I don't know how he stands to live there," said one area resident, who wondered why Rose isn't driven from his own home by the odor.

Groundwater contamination is a chief concern of the residents. They believe the waste will eventually pollute their wells.

"Once the groundwater is polluted, nothing can be done," said the resident.

Rose, according to reports, has refused to comply with requests by the Department of Natural Resources to apply for a groundwater discharge permit. To obtain the permit, waste containment facilities would have to be built, the waste would have to be applied to his fields in a safe way, and some way would have to be found to stop or lessen the odor.

And, unless the DNR can dig a monitoring well on the property, groundwater contamination will be difficult to document.

According to reports, Rose has agreed to stop the aerial spraying of the waste on his land, which should help cut down on the smell.

Residents claim that due to its sheer size, Bacon Acres should be treated as an industry rather than a farm.

According to one area resident, smell was a slight problem with the farm even before Rose bought and rapidly expanded it.

Most of the complainers are area homeowners rather than farmers.

More than 100 area residents signed a petition that was sent to Gov. James Blanchard requesting governmental intervention to ensure their drinking water isn't contaminated.

According to Daniel O'Neill of the DNR Groundwater Quality Division, there is little that can be done about the operation and it may take an expensive lawsuit to settle the issue.

In related news, Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley is suing operators of the state's largest hog hotel in Parma township in Jackson county for similar problems.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

My family and I have arrived safely in Panama and are getting settled in our new home. We are anxiously awaiting the arrival of our furniture and automobile.

When I arrived I discovered that I had been transferred to the Atlantic side of the isthmus. I am teaching 4th grade at Gulick Elementary school. The school is very well equipped and air conditioned.

We have been provided with a very nice house overlooking Gatun Lake. The fishing is fantastic! We are living on the base, a short distance from Colon. We are far from the political turmoil of Panama City.

The country is absolutely beautiful but many of the people are extremely poor.

There are banana, papaya, avocado and mango trees growing in our yard. Plants that Pam nurtured in Michigan are growing wild in abundance.

We have seen monkeys, sloths, parrots, anteaters and even a tarantula near the house. Robert stays busy catching various lizards which are numerous. Ants are relentless and quite a nuisance.

There are many playmates for the children and they have all started school eagerly. The school system is very good and spares no expense on education.

We miss our friends and neighbors in Chelsea even though Panama is very exciting to us now.

The reason I'm writing is to change the address for delivery of The Standard. Our new address is: The Bullocks, P.S.C. Box 176, A.P.O. Miami 34008.

Bob Bullock.

Dear Editor,

I am so glad your newspaper did not leap into the Flight Number 255 hoopla. Some of it was so tasteless, body parts found in the debris and so forth. There is so much good news to report (new trucks, the fair queen and so forth) why would you want to dwell on the tragedy? People around here already have so much personal tragedy to dwell on, why would you want to dwell on more. I am glad your newspaper dwells on the mud bogs and cheerleaders.

Ed Perry.

To the Editor,

To all Chelsea Lords of Land.

You seem to be confused about the word landlord. It's landlords not landLORDS. You're not God but when it comes to rent money you literally believe you're God.

Where do you come off charging $400 to $900 a month for an apartment or home. Making payments is one thing—but making a killing is another.

Chelsea has some beautiful homes, granted—but, they're not that beautiful. I can't believe the rent around Chelsea. By the way, this is Chelsea not New York Park Ave. Really now. Some places are really ragged but the rent is higher than the clouds. Who do you people think you are. You rent to anybody for big money. You can't make big money in Chelsea.

When I think of Chelsea I think of a nice quiet town but when I hear of rent being $350 to $500 per month for a one-bedroom, I think it's not that quiet. Lower the rent so decent people can afford it. Try it!

A worried renter.

Robert Phillips

P.S. I do have a first born male child but not for rent.

Dear Mr. Editor,

Brian Hamilton is a good writer but he would be better if he wrote longer paragraphs. If he wrote longer paragraphs, he would have more room to explain his motives about the Chelsea cheerleaders. The cheerleaders would get off his back and he would stay out of trouble. Come on Brian, we know you can do it, write longer paragraphs!

Your Fans,

Dion Perry

Merit Scholarship Semi-Finalists Named

The names of the National Merit Scholarship Semifinalists, which were released this morning, included students from four area high schools, Chelsea High, Dexter High, Manchester High, and Pinckney Community High.

The two winners from Chelsea are Jordan K. Gray and Robyn E. Hafner. Gray plans to major in engineering and become an aeronautical engineer, while Hafner plans to become an architect.

The two semifinalists from Dexter are William F. Brockman and Robin D. Strong. Strong is hoping to pursue studies and a career in radio, TV, and film, while Brockman is still deciding on a future career.

From Manchester, the winners are Jacquelyn B. Miller and Alice H. Swanberg. Miller plans to study liberal arts and Swanberg to study biology and become a scientist.

Pinckney's winner is Sean R. Collier, who plans to study fine and applied arts.

More than one million students in all 50 states took the qualifying test for National Merit scholarships. From this group, 15,000 were chosen as semifinalists. About 6,000 Merit scholarships, worth about $23 million, will be awarded in 1988.

DOUG KERR, lead vocalist with the Ambassadors, sang solo numbers for the band's concert, Sunday, Sept. 13 at Pierce Park. Kerr has been with the band for seven years and is characterized by leader Al Townsend as "one of the best in the business," an opinion shared by a member of the audience who said, "I'll take a dozen of him."

United Way Funds Benefit Local Groups

Thanks to support of area contributors, Chelsea United Way is able to continue efforts to improve the quality of life in this community. Chelsea United Way is unique in that it is solely operated by volunteers and is therefore highly cost efficient in the percentage of funds that is actually received by the participating agencies.

In conjunction with the 1987 campaign, which begins Oct. 1, various agencies who are recipients of Chelsea United Way allocated funds, will be featured each week. The two featured agencies this week are the Chelsea Area Transportation System, Inc. (CATS) and Chelsea Social Services.

CATS Bus . . .

Chelsea Area Transportation System, Inc. (CATS), is a private, non-profit organization formed in 1976 to provide transportation services for the elderly and handicapped of the Chelsea area. The fare for a ride on the "CATS Bus" is 25¢, the same as in 1976. In its 11 years of service to the community, the "CATS Bus" has carried more than 80,000 riders a total of more than 157,500 miles. Marvin Schiller has been the regular driver since the bus started.

CATS is truly a community organization—co-operatively formed, funded, and operated by local government and community service organizations. The directors and officers are volunteers representing the Village, Sylvan and Lima townships, the United Way, Kiwanis, Lions, Lioness, the Senior Citizens Center, the Community Hospital, and the Methodist Retirement Home. Federal state and county government programs provide about one-half of operating revenues, local government and service organizations about 40 percent, and passenger fares about 10 percent.

The familiar red "CATS Bus," still in use at the beginning of this year, has over 147,000 miles, and is scheduled to be replaced with a new, larger bus. Because of increasing maintenance problems, the Michigan Department of Transportation loaned CATS the blue bus until the replacement bus is delivered later this year.

Chelsea Social Services . . .

Chelsea Social Service is the only human service agency which responds to the needs of residents of the Chelsea school district on a 24-hour basis. Both the director and the assistant to the director are listed in The Chelsea Standard and willing to take calls at their home at any time. They prefer to meet with clients at the CSS office in the Municipal Building on Thursday between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

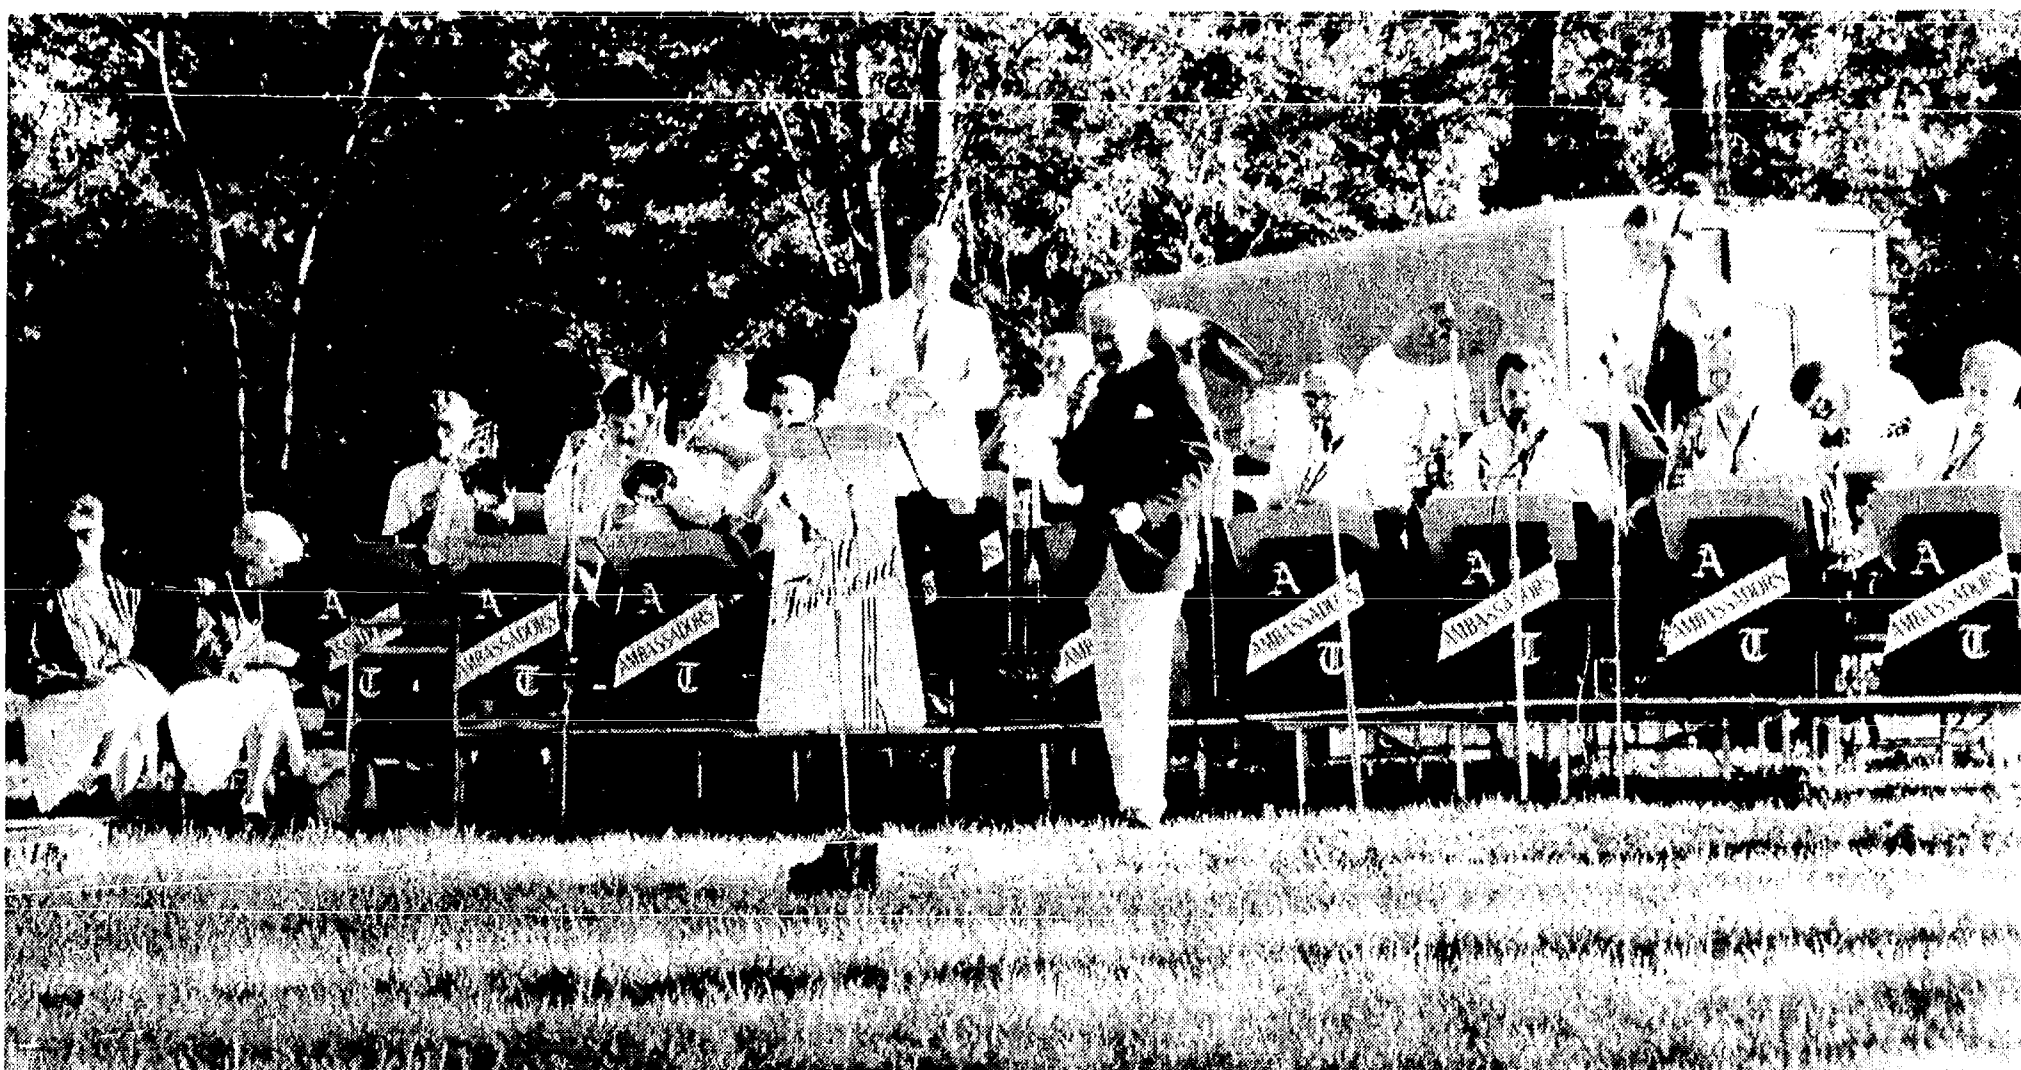

Services which CSS provide include emergency financial aid for food, utilities, medical and other necessities. These are provided either from donated items, surplus goods from the U.S. government or by vouchers at local stores. Referral and short term counseling as well as costs for critical transportation are also provided.

THE CROWD THOROUGHLY ENJOYED the last Concert in the Park of the season as Al Townsend and the Ambassadors entertained them with big band music with original arrangements done by Townsend. The concert was last Sunday, Sept. 13, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Shown standing are Townsend and featured vocalist Doug Kerr. In the back are the rest of the instrumentalists as well as members of the Diplomats, the quartet which accompanies the band.

Townsend & The Ambassadors Present Tremendous Concert

The Concert in the Park series ended with a bang, Sunday, Sept. 13, with Al Townsend and the Ambassadors playing big band music. The concert received rave reviews from all who heard it. Even though darkness began to descend before the concert was over, no one in the audience thought of leaving.

The Ambassadors is the only band in this area of the United States which plays the whole spectrum of big band music including complete ensemble sections and complete vocal offerings, both soloist and quartet. Their music consists, not of stock arrangements, but of newly arranged material done by their leader, Al Townsend.

Townsend has lived in this area in the summer since 1961 when he bought a cottage at North Lake. When he retired as a school administrator in 1980, he moved here permanently.

As well as arranging the music and leading the band, Townsend serves as the lead trombonist. He learned his instrument as a boy in Petoskey, starting lessons when he was about 11.

Townsend said, "I grew up loving big bands and practicing." His early idols included Larry Clinton, Tommy Dorsey ("my idol as a trombonist"), Glenn Miller ("the greatest"), and Les Brown.

Townsend's talent must have been evident early, since, when he was 16, his high school band leader recommended him for a position in the Bill Sawyer band which played in Ann Arbor.

When Townsend joined the Sawyer band, university students were in the habit of dancing every week-end. Townsend performed as the boy-soloist at the Michigan Union every Friday and Saturday, and then would play at a Flint hotel on Sunday. The Sawyer band also played on the radio and toured coast-to-coast.

Townsend next served a two year stint in the Army in Tyler, Tex., using his time in the service to organize dance bands.

After his Army service, Townsend returned to Ann Arbor, this time as a music student. Instead of joining a band, he organized his own group and played at the Michigan League two nights a week.

DAVE CASWELL PLAYED a solo rendition of Bunny Berigan's theme song, "I Can't Get Started With You," at the Ambassador's concert, Sunday night at Pierce Park. Also shown is band lead Al Townsend, and, from left to right, Skip Horner, tenor sax; Lorin Kennedy, alto sax; Paul De Vee, alto sax; Bob Chance, baritone sax and business manager of the band; and John Littlejohn, tenor sax.

Before finishing his studies, Townsend took a two-year break to play the lead trombone in Gene Krupa's band, touring all over the United States.

Returning to the U-M, Townsend finished both a bachelor's and a master's in music and played as a soloist in the U-M Symphony Band under the direction of the legendary William D. Revelli.

After graduation, Townsend worked as band director in three different school districts, Standish, Garfield Heights, O., and Ypsilanti. While employed in Ypsilanti, he was promoted from educator to administrator and served as principal for six or seven elementary schools and junior highs. He admits he had more fun as a band director.

During his years with the school systems, Townsend continued playing music whenever he could. While employed in Ohio he did a lot of TV and radio work in Cleveland. When he moved back to Michigan, he played at the Town Club in Ann Arbor, in a five member band that he organized.

When he retired in 1980, Townsend decided to go back to his first love and to devote all his time to developing and organizing a big band to be known as "The Ambassadors." He named the singing group that accompanies the band, "The Diplomats." There are 20 members in the band, 15 instrumentalists including Townsend, four members in the singing group, and a featured vocalist.

The Diplomats include Townsend's own daughter, Lynne Stewart, and three members of the Scannell family, Bob and Nola and their son Jeff. Bob is a retired pattern-maker. Nola is a veteran singer, having been a featured vocalist in big bands. Jeff, as well as singing, plays the guitar.

The featured vocalist is Doug Kerr, who has been with the band seven years. Townsend describes him as "one of the best in the business," while people at Sunday's concert reported that he compared favorably with Robert Goulet.

The instrumentalists are all local musicians; some are professional musicians. The others are described by Townsend as "professional but don't make their living playing." They represent the gamut of professions including doctors, dentists, and architects.

In the latter category is the band's business manager, Bob Chance, who is a professor of architecture at U-M. Chance pulls all the logistics together, leaving Townsend free to do the music arranging. Chance does all sorts of things such as finding personnel, painting stands, booking engagements, and setting up and taking down the equipment.

Other notable members of the group include Paul De Vee, alto sax player who teaches in Chelsea; lead trumpet Dave Caswell ("one of the best in the world" according to Townsend), and Skip Horner, solo tenor sax who lives at Patterson Lake.

Townsend's arrangements for his band go beyond re-plays of big band hits, to music from the 1940's to the 1980's done in big band style. Some samples are "Killing Me Softly," "Just the Way You Are," "Love Boat," and "New York, New York."

Saline Intercepts Dogs On Way to SEC Victory

Last Friday night at Saline, Chelsea quarterback Larry Nix had to suffer through one of those games that every good young passer seems to encounter at sometime during his career.

The junior completed six of 12 passes for 105 yards but threw five interceptions in a 27-13 loss in the Bulldogs' opening Southeastern Conference game.

On a couple of occasions, Nix was victimized by receivers who ran the wrong route and cut when they should have kept motoring.

Nix also showed his inexperience, according to coach Gene LaFave, when he didn't either eat the ball or throw it away in several situations.

One interception, on the first play of the second quarter, went for a 49-yard touchdown.

However, despite five turnovers, the Bulldogs showed a solid offense, moving the ball for 266 yards, including 118 yards on 25 carries for junior Junior Morseau.

"Our offensive line, all the way across, played very well," LaFave said.

"And Junior ran the ball well. Take away the turnovers and we could have gained 400 yards."

LaFave said the offensive game plan was to use a lot of misdirection because the Saline defense swarms at the ball and is often vulnerable to the fake. He said the plan, and the execution of it, were excellent.

"Moving the ball against them was so easy Friday," LaFave said.

"However, we played as bad defensively as we played well offensively."

Chelsea's inside defensive line was dominated by the Hornets, which allowed Saline's junior running back Brian Bozo to score on runs of 82 and 79 yards. Bozo finished with 231 yards on 13 carries and the Hornets as a team picked up 369 yards rushing.

Chelsea's defensive backfield was making most of the tackles as strong safety Chris Acree had 13 and cornerback Jeff Marshall had 10.

The Hornets' other running back, Jeff Poore, ran for a 32-yard touchdown early in the third quarter that gave Saline a 20-7 lead.

That play appeared to take the momentum away from the Bulldogs, who scored just before half-time to cut the Hornets' lead to 12-7.

"They came out in the second half and got the big call," LaFave said, referring to a pass interference play that gave the Hornets the ball at the Chelsea 32.

"The score completely changed the complexion of the game. We went into half-time thinking we were going to win the game."

Bozo's first touchdown gave the Hornets the lead with 8:17 left in the first half.

A clipping penalty effectively halted the Bulldogs next possession.

The Chelsea defense made perhaps its best stand of the evening in stopping the Hornets at the Chelsea 27.

On Chelsea's next play, Hornet Glenn Ellis made the Hornets' first interception and scored.

The Bulldogs' only score of the first half was set up by a 41-yard pass down the left sideline to Matt Monroe (five catches, 76 yards), who stumbled and fell at the three. Two plays later Morseau scored the Bulldogs' first touchdown of the season. He also kicked the extra point.

Chelsea was held scoreless until the 2:04 mark of the fourth quarter when Lumen Strong plunged in from one yard to cap a 45-yard drive.

Chelsea travels to Milan Friday to take on the Big Reds, who shut out Pinckney last Friday, 12-0.

According to LaFave, Milan will not be as physical a team as Saline, but will have more speed, especially on defense.

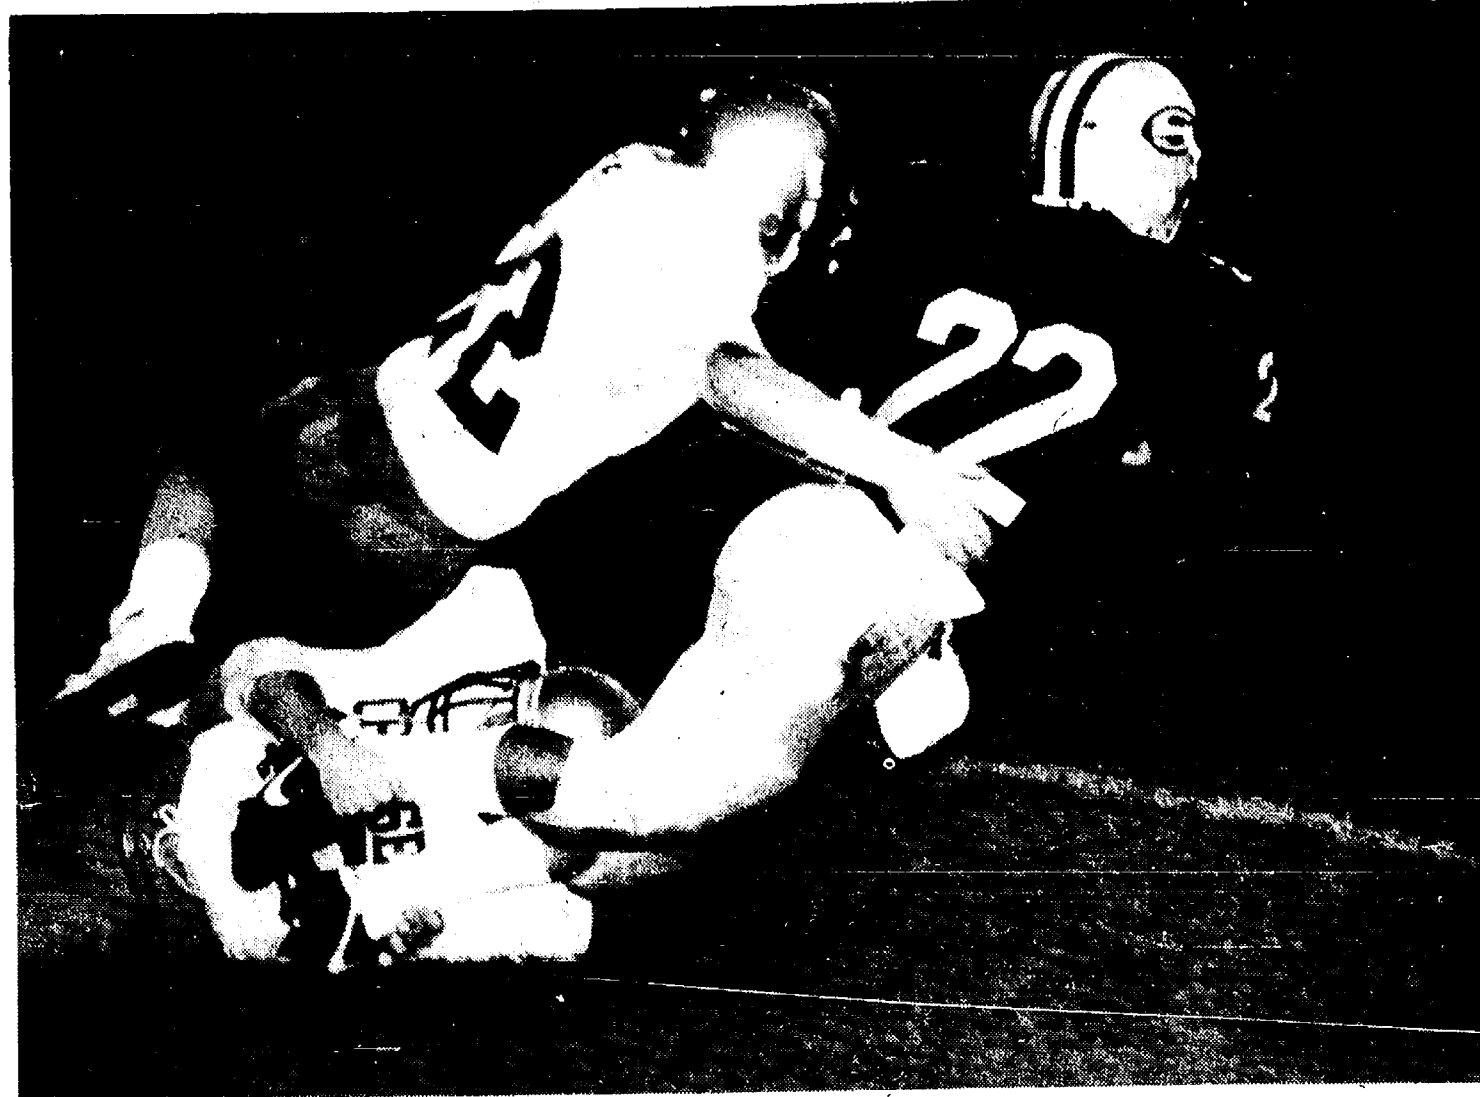

"Milan has the best quarterback we'll see all year in Pat Heath," LaFave said.

"They'll throw the ball extremely well. Heath's also going to cause problems because he is a good athlete. They'll have tremendous diversity. They'll go inside and outside, run draws and sweeps, you name it. It'll be a very tough game for us. We'd like to play someone not so good for a confidence builder, but that's the way it goes."

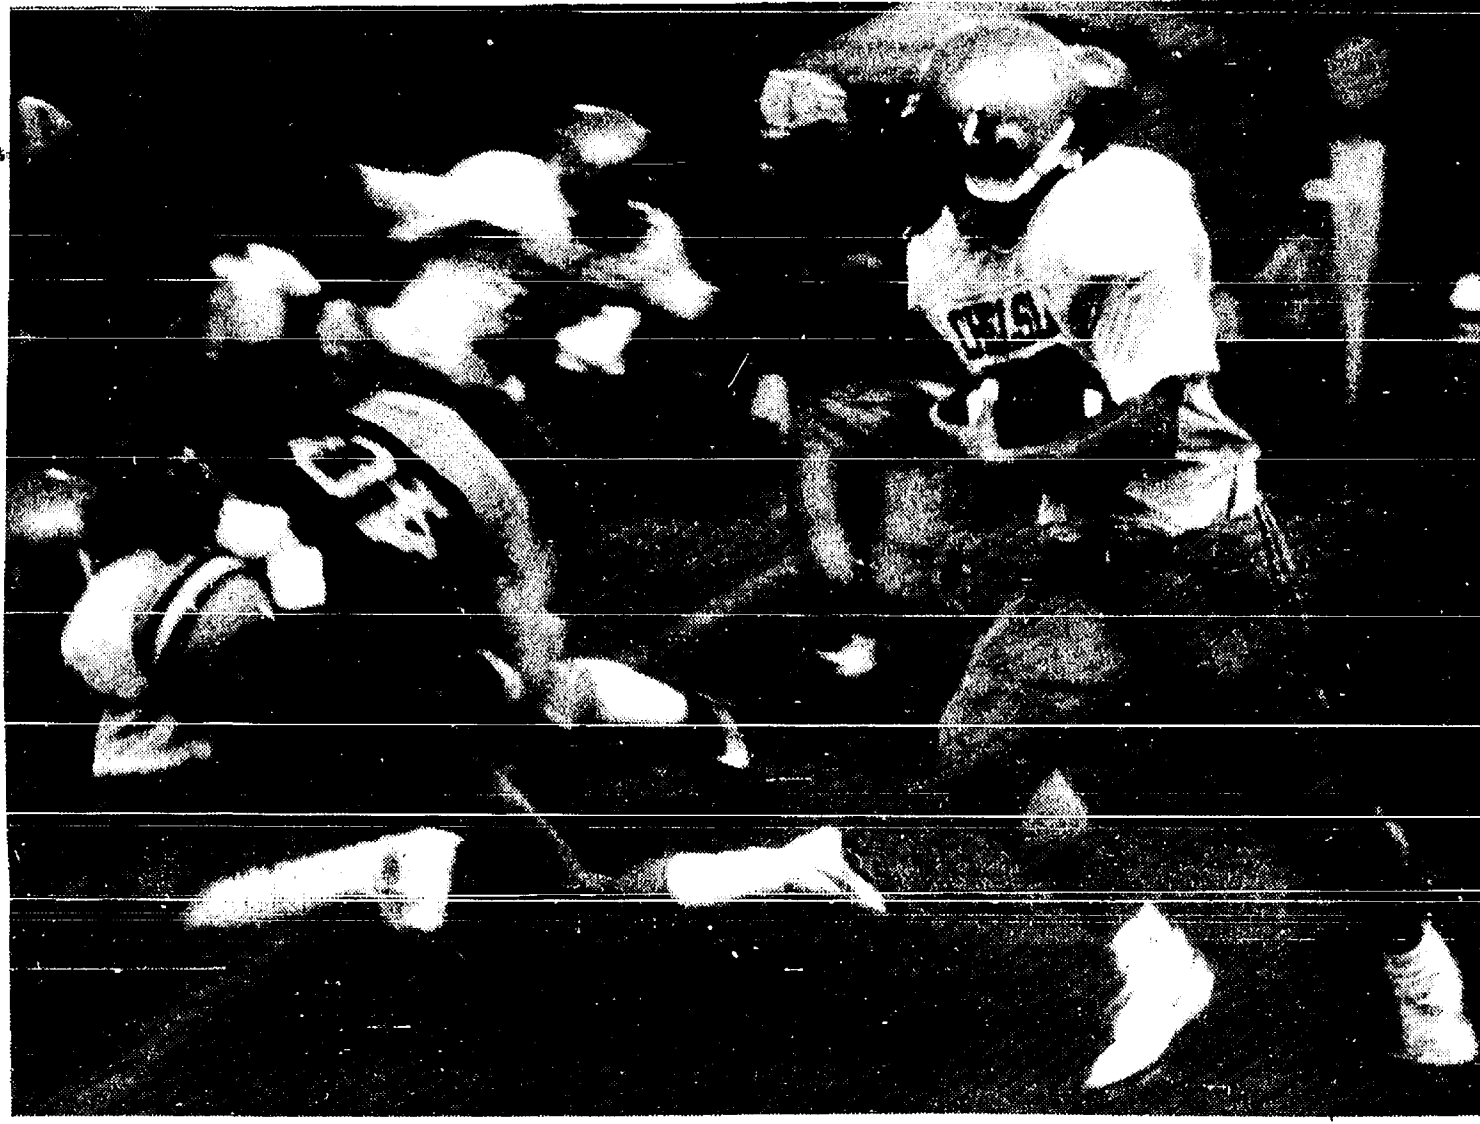

LaFave said one of this week's challenges will be to get the Bulldogs' confidence back after last week's poor results at Saline.

"I don't know that game will affect us until we play this week," LaFave said.

"These kids haven't been through that before."

SALINE'S BRIAN BOZO runs for a good gainer yards as the Saline line had little problem with the Bulldogs before being pulled down from behind by Chris Acree, top, Bulldogs, and an unidentified Chelsea defender. Bozo gained 231.

JUNIOR MORSEAU had a good night for the Bulldogs against Saline last Thursday, gaining 118 yards on 25 carries. Take away five interceptions and the Chelsea offense had a good night offensively. Morseau will be counted on heavily this Friday at Milan.

Bulldog Cagers Are Victors In Second Game of Season

Chelsea Bulldog varsity basketball team picked up its first victory of the season last week by knocking off Fowlerville on the road, 44-39.

Chelsea had one of its best shooting nights in the last several years, shooting 54 percent (18-33) from the floor and 66 percent (8-12) from the line. In addition, the Dogs cut down on their turnovers, and had a 34-15 rebound advantage.

"We improved a lot over the first game," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"If we continue to improve, we'll be real competitive. We had a good shooting night, but we can't expect that kind of performance every game. And 33 shots isn't a lot of shots to take."

Rosentreter called the Bulldogs' rebounding the key to the game, as Hammerschmidt had six of her 10 points off offensive rebounds, and Allison Brown put back two rebounds for four of her eight points. Chelsea had more offensive rebounds than Fowlerville had on defense.

"When we were able to get the ball inside, we could score," Rosentreter said.

Led by captains Leah Enderle and Hammerschmidt, the Bulldogs rallied from a four-point deficit early in the fourth quarter. Enderle, a guard, who had a perfect 6-6 night at the foul line, hit four free throws down the stretch. A field goal off a rebound by Hammerschmidt in the pivot late in the game gave the Bulldogs the lead for good.

"Peggy's shot was probably the key basket of the game," Rosentreter said.

The game was tied after three quarters at 30 and Rosentreter was forced to call a time out at the 7:12 mark of the fourth quarter due to a couple of Bulldog mistakes.

"From then on we played a lot better," Rosentreter said.

"We were able to keep control of the basketball."

Rosentreter said the one negative of the game was too many bad passes by the Bulldogs, who threw the ball away nine times.

However, over-all he called the game a good team effort and especially praised the play of his team captains.

Enderle led the team with 16 points, six in the last quarter. Brown and Heather Neibauer had eight points each and Jeannie Heim scored two points on two free throws.

In other action Monday night, Chelsea outscored Jackson Northwest 20-10 in the final quarter to take a 52-41 win.

Neibauer, before fouling out with five minutes remaining, dominated play for Chelsea, hitting five field goals and 11 of 16 free throws for 21 points.

Brown scored all 10 of her points in the second half, including four on offensive rebounds in the fourth quarter. Enderle hit six of seven free throws in the final period.

Again, the Bulldogs had a high shooting percentage but didn't take many shots, hitting 16 of 25 attempts.

"Twenty-five shots isn't a lot of shots and we're in trouble if we don't shoot a high percentage," Rosentreter said.

Chelsea had a big rebounding advantage, 34-15, which may have been the telling statistic.

"Allison and Heather both played real well," Rosentreter said.

"So far it seems to be someone different every game."

Other scorers for Chelsea included Enderle, with eight, Hammerschmidt with seven, and Jeannie Heim, Jenni Smith and Kim Easton with two each.

Chelsea had a 2-1 record on the season after Monday's play.

Lightning Stops JV Game

Chelsea junior varsity football game with the Saline Hornets last Thursday at Niehaus Field was called off at half-time due to lightning.

Saline held a 14-0 advantage, having scored on two short runs.

"It was a good decision to call the game," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

In JV action on Thursday, Sept. 3, Chelsea was whipped by the Brooklyn Columbia Central Eagles, 39-8, in their opening game of the season.

The Bulldogs were down 20-0 at half-time, as the Eagles scored on passes of 33 and 39 yards, and a short run.

"We made a few adjustments at half-time and played a lot better," Welton said.

Chelsea's lone score came on a run by Mark Chasteen, set up by a 35-yard pass from Kyle Plank to Tim Park-kila.

"They were physically superior to us and we have some kids who have never played before," Welton said.

Welton praised the play of defensive tackle Todd Hamel and outside linebacker Chris Underhill. In addition, he said, Plank threw the ball well and showed a lot of poise.

GRIDDERS OF THE WEEK, from left, are seniors Sam Eisenbeiser, Chris Acree and Matt Monroe. Sam is the son of John and Bonnie Eisenbeiser, 7750 Werkner Rd. and the brother of Jim, 19 and Lucy, 14. He plays center for the Bulldogs, and is a two-year starter at the position. In addition to football, Sam is also on the track team in the spring and enjoys weightlifting. The National Honor Society vice-president plans to attend college next fall. He was a winner of the American Legion Award. Acree, the Bulldog strong safety and split end, is the team captain this season. He was honorable mention all-region last season. He's the son of Michael and Lynne Acree, 10771 Scio Church Rd., and brother of Anne, 19. He's a two-year varsity starter and, like Sam, is a member of the National Honor Society. In addition, he is the senior class vice-president. Chris is a baseball player in the spring and says he also enjoys playing volleyball, weightlifting and watching movies. He says he'll probably attend the University of Michigan or Michigan State next fall. Matt is in his first year on the varsity squad as a wide receiver and cornerback. He had several fine catches last week against Saline. In his spare time, Matt also stays interested in other sports, participating and watching as often as he can. He played for the SEC championship Chelsea basketball team last winter. Restoring cars is another of Matt's hobbies. Attending college is also in Matt's plans for next year. Matt is the son of David and Tess Monroe, 13744 Rustic Dr., and the brother of Dianne, 13.

JV Basketball Drops Game to Fowlerville

Chelsea Bulldogs lost their second junior varsity basketball game last week to Fowlerville, 40-32.

The game was tied at 14 near the end of the first half, but the Bulldogs found themselves trailing at half-time 22-14.

From then on it was tough for Chelsea to close the gap, according to coach Paul Terpstra.

"Most of the freshmen played much more aggressively than in the first game," Terpstra said.

"We also cut down on our mistakes and raised our shooting percentages." The Bulldogs cut their turnovers down to 16 from 26 the week before. They also raised their free throw shooting 20 points to 47 percent, hitting 14 of 30 shots. Field goal percentage was also up slightly, from 14 to 16 percent.

Chelsea was outrebounded 37-35.

Christy Petty led Chelsea scorers with eight points and a team-high 10 rebounds. Kristin Bohlender and Carrie Flintoft each had five points, Tiffany Moore and Kate Dilworth had four each, and Scharme Petty and Jeanene Rossi had three each.

Moore and Dilworth tied for second in rebounds with seven each. Bohlender and Moore each had three steals.

"Christy Petty played a lot better her second game, and Tiffany Moore did a reasonably good job for her first game of the season," Terpstra said.

In other action Monday night, the JV Bulldogs won their first game of the year, 30-27 over Jackson North-west.

"We were in control most of the way but we just didn't put the game away," Terpstra said.

"Both teams seemed to come out a little sluggish.

Flintoft and Scharme Petty each had 11 points to lead Bulldog scorers.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I have been told more than one time that football is "God" in this community. Not, "is like God," or "similar to God."

The comment is not meant to show how heathen-like many people who attend more football games than church services have become, even though it could.

After all, many people do attend and watch more football games in an average year than go to church or commit to any spiritual undertaking.

But that's not the point of the column.

Even though football fields, and maybe to a greater extent, televisions, have become shrines to football. Even though football games, like church services, have their predictable rituals.

The people who have uttered the comment at the opening of this column have meant to suggest the importance of football to this community in comparison to other sports.

For example, if football is God, golf could be a mongey dog—loveable, but most people don't want to get too close. Think of what JV golf must be.

There is no question that football is number one. Game attendance dwarfs all other sports. More than 100 boys play football at the varsity, JV, freshman and junior high levels each year. The athletic department depends on football for revenue. Without football there probably wouldn't be a marching band and at least one squad of cheerleaders. Pep rallies also originated with football.

Because of the exalted status of football, more offerings are made to the program, although not necessarily directly from the school district. The boys have ritual steak dinners before each game, for instance. They have a preseason beef-eating contest. (What is the significance of all this preoccupation with bloody meat?)

The players are held in higher regard than athletes of other sports. This is probably true at every high school in every state except Indiana, Kentucky and North Carolina, where basketball is God. There are isolated schools on the east coast where lacrosse is God. In Europe, and much of the rest of the world, soccer is God. But they call it football, too, so I guess in the end they aren't that much different from us.

I am not aware of any place where baseball, track, tennis, swimming, softball, cross country, field hockey, volleyball or wrestling are God, except maybe Iowa and Dexter for the latter.

(However, if you think football is popular here, you should see it in the south, where some schools sell reserved-seating season tickets and don't have enough room for all the media requests. They also have spring practice.)

How did football become God? Does it really deserve to be God? Should it be something else instead?

Being a sports agnostic, I don't personally think football is God. I am neutral on the subject. That's a personal choice guaranteed by one of the amendments to our constitution. Besides, if football were God, that would make Gene LaFave like the Pope. From what I can tell, he is not Pope-like.

So what do you think? Fill in the blank. Football is in this community. If you want, send it to me and I'll include it in a future column.

MOST OUTSTANDING FLAG award was earned by Chelsea High school senior Dawn Spade for her work at the Fred J. Miller Clinic June 28-July 2. The clinic featured instructors who were members of the Blackhawks, an international championship flag team. Dawn, three-year captain of the Bulldog Color Guard also earned a first place trophy for her performance of a new routine she learned at the camp. She was competing against 60 other girls. The most outstanding award was based not only on her performance, but for outstanding characteristics, leadership, dedication, spirit and co-operation. "I brought back a lot of new ideas that will add to the Chelsea Color Guard," Dawn says. "We have a lot of talent this year." The color guard will be defending its championship at an Eastern Michigan University competition Oct. 3. Cathy Hoffman and Anna Flintoff are also flag captains.

Dogs Nipped by Saline In Freshman Grid Game

Chelsea freshman Bulldogs dropped their second game of the year, 30-26, to the Saline Hornets at home last Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Chelsea held the lead until midway through the fourth quarter when the Hornets pulled ahead on a long pass play to their tight end.

Despite falling behind, Chelsea had a chance to pull the game out at the end but a rare call, failure to have a mouth guard in place, penalized the Dogs 15 yards and thwarted their final drive. Instead of having the ball at their own 40, it was moved back to the 25.

"It was one of those things," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"The quarterback was yelling out the signals and the mouthguard slipped out. In that kind of situation, you'd think the officials would have given a warning first. I think we could have gotten something going and scored."

The Bulldogs were scoring almost at will behind the running of Jude Quilter, who scored three touchdowns, all on sweeps. Tucker Steele scored the other Chelsea touchdown on a 71-yard kickoff return in the second quarter.

"Our offense is coming around, but our defense really needs some work," Tallman said.

"It's mostly inexperience. They also didn't have much success last year and it just takes a while for the kids to start believing in themselves."

Chelsea jumped out to a 20-6 lead as Quilter scored on runs of 20 and 16 yards, and Steele had his kickoff return. A 45-yard punt return by Steele also set up Quilter's second score.

Quilter scored his third touchdown in the third quarter as his 12-yard run capped a 72-yard drive.

Tallman cited the play of tackle Clark Pfitzenmaier, guard Randy Seitz, tight end Chris Haugen and the blocking of running back Rick Westcott for the good offensive showing.

"I'm impressed by the talent and capabilities of this group," Tallman said.

"It's simply a matter of learning how to win."

Girls Cross Country Wins Bath Invitational

Senior Kasey Anderson led the Chelsea girls cross country team to a relatively easy victory in the 17-team Bath Invitational last Saturday. It was Chelsea's first meet of the season.

Anderson took first place in the race in 19:56 as Chelsea, with 99 points, whipped Fowlerville, the second-place team by 19 points.

"Kasey ran a very nice race, taking the lead in the last mile and never looking back," said coach Pat Clarke.

"Sophomore Sarah Grau and freshman Kathy Issel also looked very good in running their first varsity races."

The meet featured five state-ranked class C teams.

Chelsea's other all-state performer from last year, Jennifer Rossi, finished 17th in 21:35.

Chelsea's other top runners were Grau, 24th, 22:00; Issel, 27th, 22:03; Alisha Dorow, 30th, 22:10; Kim Roberts, 37th, 22:39; and Kim Allen, 56th, 23:48.

In the JV portion of the meet, Chelsea took the top five spots in shutting out all five other teams.

Becca Burkel won the race in 23:21. Behind her were Wendy Humm, 2nd, 23:43; Anna Muncer, 3rd, 23:53; Stephanie Wagner, 4th, 24:02; Ann Brosnan, 5th, 24:08; Angie Nagel, 7th, 24:37; Brenda Brede, 9th, 25:49; Charity Strong, 21st, 28:08; and Leisa Schiller, 33rd, 31:00.

Bulldog Tennis Team Drops Opener, Wins Three Straight

Girls' tennis team got off to a slow start last week. They lost their season opener with Brooklyn Columbia Central by one point, 3-4, Wednesday.

Since then they have won three straight, over Pinckney, 5-2, over Allen Park Cabrini, 7-0, and over Hartland, 6-1.

"We have an excellent junior-senior team this year if we can play as a team and put things together," said coach Terry Curtis.

"We lost some valuable players last year and it has left a few holes." We have never been team players and I am afraid that it may cost us if we can't learn to work as a team rather than as individuals.

"The Columbia Central match has lost because individual emotions got in the way. In the Pinckney match the kids pulled together as we had two players out and we knew we had to make up for them."

Angie Miller won at first singles, Angel Lawton at second singles, Kelly Stump at third and Ada Tai at 4th.

Arlene Tai and Minta Van Reesema won at first doubles.

Alison Thornton and Jennifer Robinson lost a tough three setter at second doubles and neophytes Lissa Hamrick and Leslie Manning filled in at third doubles but lacked the experience that three and four year players have.

Both singles and doubles had a fairly easy time with Allen Park Cabrini. Hartland gave Chelsea a tussle on Monday night. All matches were fairly close but the Bulldogs prevailed, winning 6-1.

Angie Miller suffered the only Bulldog loss, to Donna Andrade, in a long two hour, three-set match, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.

Jenny Pichlik won over Kelly Masuch 6-2, 6-3. Angel Lawton downed Moira Gaul 6-3, 6-4, and Ada Tai defeated Michelle Gigla 6-4, 6-3.

In doubles play Kelly Stump and Ada Tai tied their opponents Shana Hubbs and Karianne Wiger at 6-6 and then went on to win the tiebreaker 7-3 for the first set. They then settled down to business and won 6-0 in the second.

Minta Van Reesema and Alison Thornton downed Melissa Potts and Deena Carpenter handily, 6-1, 6-3. Laura Comeau and Jennifer Robinson had an excellent match and won over Cassie Cabaj and Michelle Evenson 6-2, 7-5, a close but exciting match.

Chelsea plays its next match Thursday at Monroe Jefferson at 4:00 p.m.

Boys Cross Country Team 2nd at Bath

Chelsea boys cross country team had a strong showing at the 21-team Bath Invitational last Saturday, finishing second place behind Williamston.

Williamston, with 103 points, nipped the Bulldogs by a mere seven points, as Chelsea's John Cattell and Paul Hedding finished fourth and sixth, respectively, in Chelsea's first meet of the season.

"The boys ran well for their first race," said coach Pat Clarke.

"We will improve as the season goes on."

Cattell, a senior, ran 17:09, followed by Cattell at 17:16.

Other top Chelsea finishers were Dave Kvarnberg, 26th, 17:53; Brady Murphy, 35th, 18:06; Mike Lavigne, 38th, 18:18; Brian Zangara, 44th, 18:26; and Matt Riemenschneider, 63rd, 18:47.

The downside to the race was that Murphy, a co-captain, twisted his knee and will be out of action for a while.

JV boys also took second among 15 teams as the Bulldogs again had two runners finish in the top 10.

Dave Freitas was 4th in 19:09 and Alex Hamurschmidt was 9th in 19:38.

Other top Chelsea finishers were Jeff Latimer, 16th, 20:00; Erich Hammer, 18th, 20:07; Chris Cheng, 19th, 20:13; Jim Hassett, 24th, 20:14; Joe Williams, 36th, 21:07; Chris Burkel, 52nd, 21:53; Kelly Beard, 55th, 22:04; Dave Steele, 57th, 22:05; Ward Beauchamp, 71st, 22:55; and Brian Andress, 96th, 25:37.

DAVE MERKEL BAGGED THIS TROPHY Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep, Wednesday, Sept. 2, in Bridger National Forest in Wyoming. On the right is Merkel's guide Justin Wright. Merkel, a student at Washtenaw Community College and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Merkel of Dexter-Chelsea Rd., drew his non-resident permit against heavy odds (about 1/4000 chance) on the first year he applied. He learned of the opportunity through his membership in the Foundation for North American Wild Sheep. Merkel has been hunting deer since he came of legal age at 14, and has been hunting small game previous to that. He shot the sheep at 11,500 feet above sea level, perched on a steep ravine, with a 270 Savage rifle using 150 grain bullet. Merkel plans to mount the head from the chest up and hang it in his family's trophy room.

FAITH LUTHERAN CHURCH CONDUCTED Vacation Bible School, Aug. 3-7, averaging slightly less than 40 students and more than a dozen adult teachers and helpers each day. Participants are shown in the photo with Mark Porinsky, pastor of the church, which is located on North Territorial Rd., one-quarter mile west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd. Fall Sunday School program resumed at 9 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 13, and continues each Sunday morning. "It's open to children and adults of the community," explained Pastor Porinsky.

New Fee Policy Slated At McKune

A new policy of user fees will be instituted by the Board of Trustees at the McKune Memorial Library starting Jan. 1, 1988.

All patrons who live outside the library's service area will be asked to pay $10 per person or $20 per family for a membership card.

The library is supported by village taxes and also receives financial support from the following townships: Dexter, Lyndon, Lima, Sharon, Freedom and Waterloo. The Village of Chelsea and these townships constitute the service area of the library.

Under the new fee policy, library cards for both residents and non-resident patrons will be renewable annually. All non-resident cards will expire by October 1988. New library users are required to bring with them, on their first visit, proof of residency (driver's license, voter's registration, tax receipt, rent receipt or utility bill).

Parents are asked to explain the changes to their children so that they will be prepared with proper identification to apply for a library card.

Patron use of the library has increased steadily over the past few years. The library offers many services in addition to book loans: interloans from other libraries, large print books, a summer reading program for children, reference material, historical memorabilia, story hour for pre-schoolers, video rental and copier use.

The Library Board of Trustees is planning extensive renovations in order to make the library more functional and comfortable for patron usage.

With the continued support of the patrons the Board of Trustees hopes to increase and expand the services that the McKune Memorial Library now offers.

Michigan is a leader in foodservice education with 34 high schools, 12 community colleges, 13 universities, and 19 vocational schools.

ABWA Members Prepare for American Business Women's Day

On Sept. 22, more than 50 million working women and, in particular, 110,000 American Business Association (ABWA) members will celebrate American Business Women's Day.

The day marks the 38th anniversary of the founding of the American Business Women's Association. It's a time for ABWA members to celebrate their role in women's educational and professional advancement, and their own successes as well.

American Business Women's Day provides excellent opportunities to recognize and applaud the achievements of all working women and to heighten community awareness of the Chelsea Charter Chapter's efforts to enhance women's opportunities in the work force.

The American Business Women's Association is a national association of working women founded in 1949. Objective of the Association is to promote the professional, educational, cultural and social advancement of business women. The National Headquarters is located in Kansas City, Mo. Each year a National Convention is held in the fall. This year's convention will be held in Los Angeles, Calif. There are also Spring Conferences held each year.

ABWA offers financial assistance to women seeking educational advancement. Scholarship programs have been available to men for years; however, very few funds support the educational advancement of women. Recent statistics reflect that the number of women in the job market is growing annually by nearly a million. Women are an essential element in today's economic scene.

Since the beginning in 1949, ABWA chapters have sponsored scholarships for women needing additional education in order to attain higher positions in business.

Today's business world challenges women to achieve as never before. With more options and choices available to them, women are realizing their potential as a vital force in the work place. As women move ahead, the American Business Women's Association will continue to help women develop the skills and abilities they need to make the potential a reality.

Chelsea Charter Chapter meets monthly, the fourth Tuesday of the month, at Chelsea Community Hospital. Any gainfully employed woman who is interested is invited to attend the meetings. For more information please contact one of the following officers: Shirley Schneider, president (475-2972); Carol Model, vice-president (475-3542); Cindy Bear, recording secretary (475-2041); Robin Meloche, corresponding secretary (426-2908); or Judy Moisan, treasurer (475-9359).

Greek Festival Outgrows Facilities, Goes to Ethnic Dinner

Reverting to the original beginnings of "YASSOO," the annual Greek Festival, Saint Nicholas Greek Orthodox church in Ann Arbor will sponsor an "Ethnic Dinner" and Bake Sale on Friday, Sept. 25, from 5 to 8 p.m. in the Church Fellowship Hall at 414 N. Main St.

Spokesman for the church explained that "YASSOO has not been held during the past two years. The festival grew so large we had to evaluate the logistics of how to handle it without losing its original flavor. Over the years, the crowds grew too large for the original location under the block-long tent next to the church, and the move to Veteran's Arena lost its 'Greek' spirit and friendly atmosphere."

"We have decided to go back to our original beginnings and hold a series of ethnic dinners in our church fellowship hall, along with a bake sale of home-made Greek pastries," they continued.

This is how "YASSOO" evolved—from an overwhelmingly successful bake-sale to an extremely popular and uncontrollable Greek festival; featuring Greek-style dinners, bake-sale, Greek artifacts, bouzouki band and dancing and entertainment featuring folk dancers, held under a colorful block-long tent on the church grounds.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Sept. 2, were Grau, Redding, Satterthwaite, Wales, Feeney, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, special education director DeYoung, athletic director Reed, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Lloyd Grau.

The board approved the minutes of the Aug. 17 meeting.

The board approved the minutes of the executive session of Aug. 17.

The board presented a certificate of appreciation to Kathy Haywood. During the 1986-87 school year, Kathy arranged for the manning of gates and handling crowd control at all home athletic events.

Principal Robert Benedict introduced to the board members fifth grade teacher Jan Stevens, who will be replacing Bob Bullock.

Superintendent Van Meer indicated that the Legislature had adopted language which provides financial incentives for districts which meet certain requirements relating to high school curriculum and early elementary class size. The Chelsea School District meets or exceeds all of the criteria; therefore is eligible for additional funding of $30 per student in the high school and $14 per student in grades K-3. These funds have been projected in the 1987-88 budget.

Superintendent apprised the board that members Feeney, Comeau and Cherem will be giving a presentation at the MASH Fall Conference in Detroit on Oct. 7. The topic will be Superintendent/Board Relationships, from policy to evaluation. Trustees Redding and Satterthwaite will also be in attendance.

Curriculum director Laurie Bissell reviewed with the board the recently written segment on Chelsea's history, authored by Sally Peiter, which will be incorporated into the third grade social studies curriculum. Sally Peiter and Sharon Hodgson, who worked with Laurie Bissell in constructing the unit, were present at the meeting. Sally discussed the writing format and Sharon discussed a planned information-gathering trip to Oak Grove Cemetery.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed with the board the progress made in discussing more affordable education for students. A co-operative venture has been aligned with Washtenaw Community College. Gunder Myran, president of the college, and superintendent Van Meer have outlined the possibilities of: (1) establishing a Chelsea School District-Washtenaw Community College Center; (2) establishing a WCC regional office serving Chelsea, Manchester, Saline and Dexter; (3) the piloting of a technical program involving high school juniors and seniors who might wish to complete a four-year technical program by continuing at WCC to complete an Associate Degree in a technical/occupational area.

The board approved the 1987-88 salary scale of $5.75 per hour for substitute secretaries, and $5.50 per hour for playground supervisors for the 1987-88 school year.

The board approved a resolution certifying 9-12 curriculum and K-3 class size; the resolution will be forwarded to the State Department of Education.

The board approved a contract with Asbestos Management, Inc., New Boston, to conduct an employee education program, and an asbestos survey of the district's four schools, the cost of which shall not exceed $7,500. This project will satisfy the new EPA Hazardous Emergency Response Act, the regulations of which are to become effective Oct. 17, 1987. The district previously (1983) had the buildings checked for asbestos, and in 1985 hired consultants to review the EPA standards. This latest action is necessary because of the change in EPA regulations.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills discussed the pollution liability insurance for the bus garage, where two gasoline tanks are buried. He also discussed contracting with MJK Architects of Lansing, and Boone and Darr, Inc., plumbing firm, to solve the problem of a leak in the radiant heating system in five classrooms at South school.

The board convened in executive session at 9:56 p.m. to discuss a contractual letter of understanding, returned to public session at 10:10 p.m., and adjourned the meeting at that time.

Steering Committee Planning Portage Lake Sewage System

At the last Dexter township board of trustees meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 1, Doug Smith and Jim Drolett agreed to serve on a steering committee to oversee the new sewage system being planned for the Portage and Base lake area.

Residents have been working hard to establish the new sewage system, feeling it was necessary for the well-being of the community. But recent questions over whether a new sewer system would allow land heretofore unsuitable for development to be built on has led some to question, in Smith's words, "whether we're trading one kind of pollution for another."

The new sewage system was planned to clean up the ground water and to bring the lake area up to current health department standards.

What the planners of the sewage system would like to do is connect the sewage lines to already existing homes on all sides of Portage Lake, and on Base Lake to connect with Waltons Point and Baseview Dr. areas. But some are saying that they have a legal obligation to allow access to the sewer to any future builder on any land that the lines go by. Land not at present developed, such as swamp land or farming land, would, with sewer access, be more desirable for building projects.

Jack Durbin, director of the Washtenaw county department of public works, says as far as he knows, that it is illegal to limit access. He points out that county regulations state that if a sewer line goes within 200 feet of the property line, that the property owner may hook into it. While understanding the desire of the people already living in the lakes area to limit growth, he said "if there is no reason the land cannot be developed, it would be depriving people of their rights to tell them they can't."

The question of access has been presented to the state attorney general's office for an opinion.

Smith says he would not object to a lot here or there being developed, but he does not want to see development grow "by leaps and bounds." He points to other lakes such as Whitmore Lake or Walled Lake, which after putting in a sewage system, grew out of control with apartments and condominiums everywhere. Says Smith of Walled Lake, "If all the residents went swimming on the same day, they could hold hands and fill the lake."

In Smith's opinion, "increased density is contradictory to everything Dexter township stands for." He points out that the Dexter township zoning ordinance states that its purpose is to preserve the amenities of life and to keep the area in its natural and rural state. Adding more fuel to the argument, he reports that the results of the first questionnaire that went out to lake residents about the new sewage system showed that their first concern was cost, followed closely by a question of whether the sewer would lead to increased development.

Smith, who in addition to serving as a Dexter township trustee, is secretary of the Portage and Base Lake Property Owners Association, says the PBLOA will keep lake residents apprised of the situation. If agreeing to the new sewage system means accepting more growth, Smith is sure that many of his neighbors will withdraw support.

In addition to the question of access, there still remains the job of establishing co-operation with all the units of government in the area to be served. The project was initiated by Dexter township, which is at present doing a feasibility study, but obviously Portage Lake will only be really free of pollution, if all sides of the lake, regardless of what township they are in, are served.

Of the 222,200 gallons of water a day which engineers estimate the new sewage system will use, Dexter township's share is only 84,000 gallons. The rest of the water will be used by Webster, Putnam, and Hamburg townships, but they need to do their own feasibility studies.

The steering committee, of which Smith and Drolett are members, will be composed of people from each of the townships served. The committee will oversee the financial planning and engineering, and work closely with the Washtenaw county department of public works.

It has not yet been determined how much capacity the planned sewage system will be allowed to have. This will be determined by the DNR after all the feasibility studies have been completed.

Benefit Auction-Dance To Help With Funeral Expenses

The local chapter of the Fraternal Order of Eagles is holding an auction and dance, Sept. 19, to raise money to cover the funeral costs for Todd Northrup, son of Eagles members Peg and Jerry Northrup. The event is open to the public.

Todd Andrew Northrup died Aug. 30 at age 19 as a result of a head-on collision on Hogback Rd. in Ann Arbor. He was born Aug. 28, 1968, graduated from Huron High in 1986, and worked for Astro Building Supplies. Because he was so young, his parents did not have a life insurance policy on him.

The money-raising event will be held at the Eagles Club House, 7530 Jackson Rd., Saturday evening from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Auctioneer Dick Walters has volunteered his services to auction-off merchandise during the dance breaks. Dance music will be provided, also for free, by "The Remnants," a band that plays 50's and 60's music.

The items to be auctioned are being donated by Dexter merchants and by individuals. Contributions include an AM-FM audio cassette from Dexter Video, a hair dryer from Hackney Ace Hardware, flowers from the local flower shops, six free games from Dexter Bowling Alley, five free tanning visits and a free haircut from Village Hair Design, a wheel alignment and four tire balances from A-B's Body and Frame Shop, beer from local distributors, something from the Dexter Pharmacy, a piece of furniture from Weber furniture, and a $20 gift certificate from Sportsman's Bar.

Donations from individuals include a home-made afghan, cakes, under-cover wear, home-canned goods, a latch-hooked rug, and woven baskets. Eagles members are also donating refreshments of snack food. Soft pretzels will be sold as well as drinks from the open bar.

The funeral for Todd Northrup was held Wednesday, Sept. 2 at the Nie Funeral Home in Ann Arbor. Burial was at Arborcrest Cemetery, also in Ann Arbor. Survivors, in addition to his parents, include his brother, Michael, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Graham of Milan.

Senior Housing Project Receives Board Approval

The Senior Advisory Board, at their Sept. 10 meeting, voted to give financial support to the effort to start community-based, non-profit senior housing in Chelsea.

Kathy Thompson, who recently resigned as staff person for Faith In Action in order to return to school, has agreed to work on the housing effort, possibly in conjunction with a college project. According to Senior center director Treva Winans, the seniors do not have a lot of money, but they should at least be able to pay Thompson's expenses such as postage and telephone bills.

The Senior Advisory Board is led by Dorothy Lentz as president. Vice-president is Armilla Wolf Reule and secretary is Eunice White. Their commitment of financial aid gives concrete proof of their support for the idea of senior housing. Said Winans, "They stand the most to gain, if progress can be made."

To garner further support, Winans, along with Community Education Director Jackie Rogers, met with the Faith in Action board to inform them of their efforts to build affordable housing for seniors and ask if they would be willing, at some future date, to assume a major role in the project. Although no specific commitment was requested, Winans reported that she found the group "interested and supportive."

Correction

In last week's edition, it was mentioned that Scott Otto won both features heats of the Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby using the same car. While the same car, in fact, was used both nights, the winning driver Wednesday night was Tony Wisniewski. Otto won Tuesday's heat.

UNLIKE LAST YEAR, it was perfect weather for the Children's Parade, the traditional opening event of the Chelsea Community Fair. A mob of kids decorated themselves and their bikes and rode to the fairgrounds.

MAKING ITS USUAL APPEARANCE at the Chelsea Fair Parade was the Chelsea Baton Corp. One of its senior members, Laurie Honbaum, was named the 1987 Fair Queen later that evening.

Cottage cheese was first called "cottage" because farmers in Europe made the cheese in their country kitchens, using the milk that remained after the cream had been skimmed from it to make butter. In the U. S., cottage cheese is also known as pot cheese, Dutch cheese, Smearcase, New York or country-style cheese, California, Frisco, popcorn or flake cheese. In 1986, creamed cottage cheese production stood at 705 million pounds.

Fall Festival Returns Saturday, Sept. 19, Dexter Legion Site

Betty Gregory, president of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 557 in Dexter, announced this week the auxiliary will be sponsoring its fifth annual Fall Festival, Saturday, Sept. 19, at the Legion home and grounds.

Featuring more than 40 different artists and craft people, the show will include outdoor booths as well as stations set up in the basement and under the pavilion roof.

There are a few spaces available at the Fall Festival for prospective arts and crafts people. Those interested in applying for a booth, please contact Betty Gregory, 426-8809, as soon as possible.

Hand-crafted dolls, paintings, ceramics and custom woodworking items will be available to patrons of the Fall Festival.

Many of the artisans are returning from appearances at last year's show, but there are also a number of newcomers requesting booths at the 1987 Fall Festival.

The show will open at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. with a variety of interesting people and craft items.

Ruby Brown heads plans for the prize drawing.

Winners of three prizes, for which tickets are available until shortly before 4 p.m. on festival day, will be determined on the festival grounds.

First prize will be a color television. A hand-crocheted afghan, donated by Florence Barnum, is the second prize, and third prize is $50 cash.

Dorothy Bates has agreed to head the committee preparing refreshments this year, with help from several auxiliary members.

Mary Ellis is 1987 Bake Sale chairman, and she has already solicited promises for lots of favorite-recipe baked goods from members of the auxiliary to assure a plentiful supply of goodies.

From Manchester, Lois Heckamon makes a repeat appearance at the Fall Festival with items from B & L Ceramics.

Vivian Lindemann of Island Lake Rd., another Fall Festival veteran, will have straw flowers, magnets and precious pound puppies at her booth.

Madeline Kwek arrives with arts and crafts from Clinton, and Jane Wyrick brings ceramics from Tecumseh. Both are first-time craft people at the Dexter show.

Two more newcomers this fall will be Patty Burkhead, who comes with her ceramics from Fenton, and Washtenaw county's Dorothy Sheperd, with baskets and stencilled items.

Country pigs from Pat's Krafts will be found at the booth set up by another returning artist, Patricia Underhill of Pinckney.

Making a first appearance at the show with their lapidary work are Pinckney residents, Robert and Peg Bramlet.

Jennifer Diabal came last year from Britton with woodburning items.

A $1,000 SCHOLARSHIP was recently awarded to 1987 Chelsea High school graduate Jeff Stacey by the Trigon Foundation for Educational Assistance. Stacey will attend the University of Michigan this fall. The foundation, a christian fraternity on the campus, gave the award based on Stacey's "level of community awareness exhibited by personal involvement in volunteer services or organizations." Stacey, who has been accepted to the U of M Honors Program, ultimately plans to attend law school. At CHS he was valedictorian and was active in the student council and National Honor Society. He also played football and baseball. Stacey, who has also received a University of Michigan Regents-Alumni Scholarship, among others, says he has achieved his goal of earning enough scholarship money to pay for his entire freshman year.

KATE FAHRNER, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fahrner of Chelsea, enjoys a little ice cream and music at the 10th anniversary celebration of the Chelsea Community Hospital Child Center last Thursday, Sept. 10. The Gaslighters, a band of area musicians, performed for the children. In addition, there were five drawings for a day of free child care. The center cares for children two weeks to 12-years-old, 75 percent of whom are children of hospital employees.

Women in Service Clubs Ruling Has Little Effect On Local Organizations

A new ruling allowing Lions clubs to admit women will not affect the Chelsea chapter, in the opinion of one of its most active members, Dave Prohaska. Says Prohaska, "I don't foresee any change. The general consensus is that people prefer to keep it as it with both Lions and Lionesses."

Two years ago the Ann Arbor Lions had their charter revoked because they admitted a woman. The resulting court case was settled out of court last week. Prohaska suggests that the out of court settlement was a formality to clear the docket, since last July, at the international Lions convention held in Taiwan, the word "male" was deleted from the club's requirements.

But in Prohaska's opinion, this change in wording was motivated by a desire to avoid law suits rather than a desire to encourage women members. What the new ruling really does is leave the issue up to each local club. Since entry is by sponsorship, women still cannot be admitted unless one of the men already in the club is willing to back them.

Lioness president Judy Armstrong, when asked how the new ruling would affect the Lionesses, said "The general opinion is that we don't want to become Lions." The reason for this is not that they do not want to work with men, but that they prefer to be more involved with local projects, while the Lions have more of an international emphasis. Asked if men could join the Lionesses, Armstrong replied, "Hey, that's fine with us. We don't do anything that's particularly female. We don't sit around sewing."

The Lionesses work on the Special Olympics, and do special projects at Spaulding for Children, the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, and the Senior Center (including providing a birthday cake each month). This summer they sponsored the circus. Next month they will set up the Haunted House.

Prohaska suggested that one of the reasons that Chelsea Lionesses would not want to join the Lions is that, since they are mainly housewives, they are not seeking the business contacts which motivate women in other communities to seek entry into the Lions. Armstrong disagrees with this assessment saying that the majority of the Lionesses are working women.

The issue of whether to admit women is being dealt with by all the service clubs. The Jaycees were the first U. S. service club to admit women and the Chelsea club did have a mixed membership.

The national Kiwanis changed their by-laws this summer to allow women, but to date, no women have joined the Chelsea Kiwanis.

Last May, the Supreme Court ruled that it was unconstitutional for the Rotary Club to bar women from membership. Asked if the Chelsea Rotary, which has just been chartered, had women members, board member Ron Smeenge replied, "My yes, there are several women." He continued, "In fact, the Chelsea group is probably the first in the world to charter with women." Of the 20 charter members, five are women.

Faith in Action House Has New Director

The Board of Directors of Faith in Action announced following their regular monthly Board meeting that the Rev. Dr. Jerrold F. Beaumont would assume the position of director of the day-to-day activities of FIA House.

A founder of Faith in Action and chairman of the board since its founding, he brings a wealth of knowledge of its operations, programs and its potential for the future.

Dr. Beaumont is a long-time resident of Chelsea and is well known throughout the area as a counselor and advocate for people in need. In addition to a basic discipline of mechanical engineering and over 25 years experience in business and industry, he attended Whitaker School of Theology and Sacred Heart Seminary being ordained an Episcopal deacon in 1973 and priest in 1975. Since then he has received a master of theology, a doctor of divinity and is a licensed social worker.

He said that among his goals are, "A strengthening of Faith in Action in all of its current programs by seeking wider public knowledge of FIA and the recruitment of Volunteers to permit the starting of new programs as needs are identified."

Faith in Action, a non-profit community organization and a Chelsea United Way Agency, is deeply committed to the idea of returning the support given by the community back to the community by providing help to those among us who are in need.

Faith in Action House is located on the Chelsea Community Hospital Campus directly across from the Out-patient Surgery Center. It is open from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Museum To Host 'Old Unadilla'

A program geared to early Unadilla history, co-hosted by Vivian May and Claire Barnum, will be presented on Sept. 20, from 1 to 4 p.m. at Waterloo Farm Museum.

Vivian May, president of Waterloo Area Historical Society, resides in a house recognized by the State Historical Society by an 1856 historical marker. Members of the May family have lived in the house for 123 years.

Claire Barnum, whose family lived in Unadilla for four generations, was born in 1900, of English descendants.

the white man came to Unadilla and historian by many area residents.

May and Barnum will include old photos, books manuscripts, and keepsake memorabilia in their presentation. The materials will give Museum visitors a chance to look backward at Unadilla before Michigan achieved statehood.

President May relates that, "Before the whiteman came to Unadilla and Lyndon townships, the land was occupied by the Chippewa Indian Tribes, with Pontiac's nephew Okemos as chief. The village of Unadilla was plotted in 1837; however, it wasn't recorded until 1840. Most of the settlers of Unadilla came from New York State, with a sprinkling from Connecticut, Vermont, and Massachusetts. Many towns around Unadilla were named after those in eastern states. Unadilla, 'the land of peace, plenty and prosperity,' was named after a small hamlet in New York, as was Milan, Saline, Stockbridge, Pinckney, Leslie, Manchester, Plainfield, and Chelsea," May continues.

"Veva Kalmbach, who taught school in Unadilla from 1937-1942, left behind a touching poetic-history of Unadilla," May concludes. Veva Kalmbach wrote the following:

Let's talk of Unadilla
Which means a land of peace,
Plenty and prosperity,
May this town never cease.

Milan used to be our name,
But this name could not stay
Washtenaw has a Milan too,
Which would send letters astray.

We must thank dear old New York
For the name of this small town,
And Williamsville, for discarding it
So we could it encrown.

Pioneers we had by scores
Who harnessed Old Fish Creek
They fed it water, logs and wheat,
And carded wool there at its peak.

Saloons there were, hotels and schools,
Churches, stores and smithy shops,
Wheelwrights, coopers, and soldiers too
But never, never, any cops!

Today it is a ghost town
One church, no school, one store
No smithy, hotel, or hat shop,
Just autos going by the score!

We all have happy memories,
And we'll ne'er let them depart,
But hug them tight as years go by,
And treasure them in our heart.

Waterloo Farm Museum is located within the Waterloo Recreation Area, at 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd.
25th annual Pioneer Day is slated for Sunday, Oct. 11.

Legal Status of Cassidy Lake Is Subject of Sept. 23 Meeting

A group of citizens concerned about the legal status of Cassidy Lake Technical School will meet at McKune Memorial Library on Wednesday, Sept. 23 from 7-9 p.m.

State Rep. Margaret O'Connor recently received a letter from Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley saying "it appears that the use of the Cassidy Lake property for prison purposes is lawful and proper."

Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners recently sent a letter to Gov. James Blanchard asking that the state take action on evidence that shows the prison was established illegally on land given to the state for recreation and conservation purposes.

The purpose of the meeting will be to plan action to force the state to deal with the issue. Interested citizens are welcome to attend.
