ONE HUNDRED-SEVENTEENTH YEAR—No. 29

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1987

24 Pages This Week

DEMOLITION has begun on the former Sylvan Hotel as owners John and Anne Daniels will build an office-retail complex early next year. Village planning commission recently gave their final approval to site plans submitted for the project.

Planning Commission Gives Final Approval For Sylvan Hotel Plans

Chelsea Village Planning Commission gave final approval to site plans for the Sylvan Hotel submitted by John and Anne Daniels.

The approval came at a special meeting last Tuesday, Dec. 8. There were no other agenda items.

The former hotel is scheduled to be converted to a three-level retail and office complex with 12 total rental spaces available. Excavation on the north side of the building will create the main entrance. In addition, an elevator will be installed on the outside of the north wall, which will make it the only multi-floor building downtown to be accessible to the handicapped.

The plans were approved with several contingencies suggested by the village administration. Occupancy permits will not be granted until the contingencies are met.

The contingencies include:

- submission of a landscape plan and a detailed plan of the trash enclosure for review by the village.
- providing storm sewer details.
- providing a cross section drawing of a retaining wall on the west side of the building.

- constructing the grade on the ramp to the courtyard area so that it complies with Washtenaw county handicapped standards.

- constructing new curb and sidewalk to village standards.
- showing how the areaways on the west side of the building will be drained.

In addition, variances will have to be obtained from the village regarding side yard requirements on the north side of the building and the trash enclosure location.

Demolition has already begun and should be completed by mid-January,

Anne Daniels said last week. The "Sylvan Hotel" sign has been down for nearly two weeks and workers filled up one dumpster.

"New construction should begin Feb. 1 and the building should be completed by mid-summer," Anne Daniels said last week.

Daniels said they have a waiting list of potential tenants.

"We had calls the minute the story was in the paper that we had purchased it," Daniels said.

"We shouldn't have any problem leasing space."

Daniels said the excavation of the north side should uncover the alleys from the original Chelsea bowling alley.

Novice Debate Team Qualifies for State Meet

Chelsea novice debate team placed fourth among 71 teams last Saturday at a qualifying tournament for this week-end's state meet at Central Michigan University.

The team of Bill Coelius, Jason Overdorf, Mindy Ryan and Sheila Tillman finished with a 7-1 record to qualify for this week-end's event.

"This team as a whole is the strongest novice debate team we've had at Chelsea since we won the state title in 1972," said coach Bill Coelius.

"We've more than surpassed goals that I set at the beginning of the year but didn't tell anybody about."

On the way to the fourth place finish the Bulldogs knocked off Lansing-Waverly and Birmingham-Seaholm, two perennially tough class A schools. They also defeated University of Detroit High School, Ithaca, Frankmunth, Western Michigan Christian and Jackson County Western. Their only loss was to Birmingham-Marion, a girls school.

Chelsea was the highest placing class B school. Finishing ahead of the Bulldogs were Southfield-Lathrup, Birmingham Brother Rice and Muskegon Mona Shores.

Thirty-one teams will compete for the state title this week-end.

Another Chelsea team will take part in an open varsity tournament run at the same time as the state meet. That team will include Anna Flintoft, Marty Heller, Jenny Ghent and Danielle Delong.

The general question of debate is U.S. foreign policy in Latin America.

Adult Foster Care Home Subject of Public Hearing By Sylvan Twp. Planners

Sylvan Township Planning Commission is scheduled to hold a public hearing tonight at Sylvan Town Hall on an adult foster care home proposed for Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

Heritage Acres Chelsea is the tentative name of the home proposed by Dennis McNeely and Theresa Jokinen of Ann Arbor. McNeely and Jokinen are purchasing a 1,776 square foot house on 10 acres at 18000 Cavanaugh Lake Rd. for the business. Jokinen said they own two other adult foster care facilities, one of which they plan to close because it doesn't have enough residents. The other is in Ann Arbor at 5137 Pontiac Trail in Northfield township.

The owners are seeking a special use permit for the business. According to Sylvan Township Supervisor Don Schoenberg, the home is in an agricultural district. He said adult foster care homes are permitted in an agricultural district, as are golf courses, airports, churches and many other businesses, all of which require special use permits.

The owners are seeking the permit to allow seven to 12 residents. According to Jokinen, they plan to have eight residents.

A permit would not be necessary for six or fewer residents because the home would be considered a family dwelling, Schoenberg said.

"We're holding the public hearing more or less to let people know what's going on," Schoenberg said.

The planning commission's ruling will be final, Schoenberg said. The question will not go before the general township board.

Heritage Acres, according to Jokinen, will be for senior citizens who are not able to take care of themselves on a full-time basis but are too self-sufficient to need a nursing home.

"When we first went out there, we heard rumors that the home would be for troublesome adolescents or mentally retarded adults, but that's not the case," Jokinen said Friday.

"It'll be just for senior citizens.

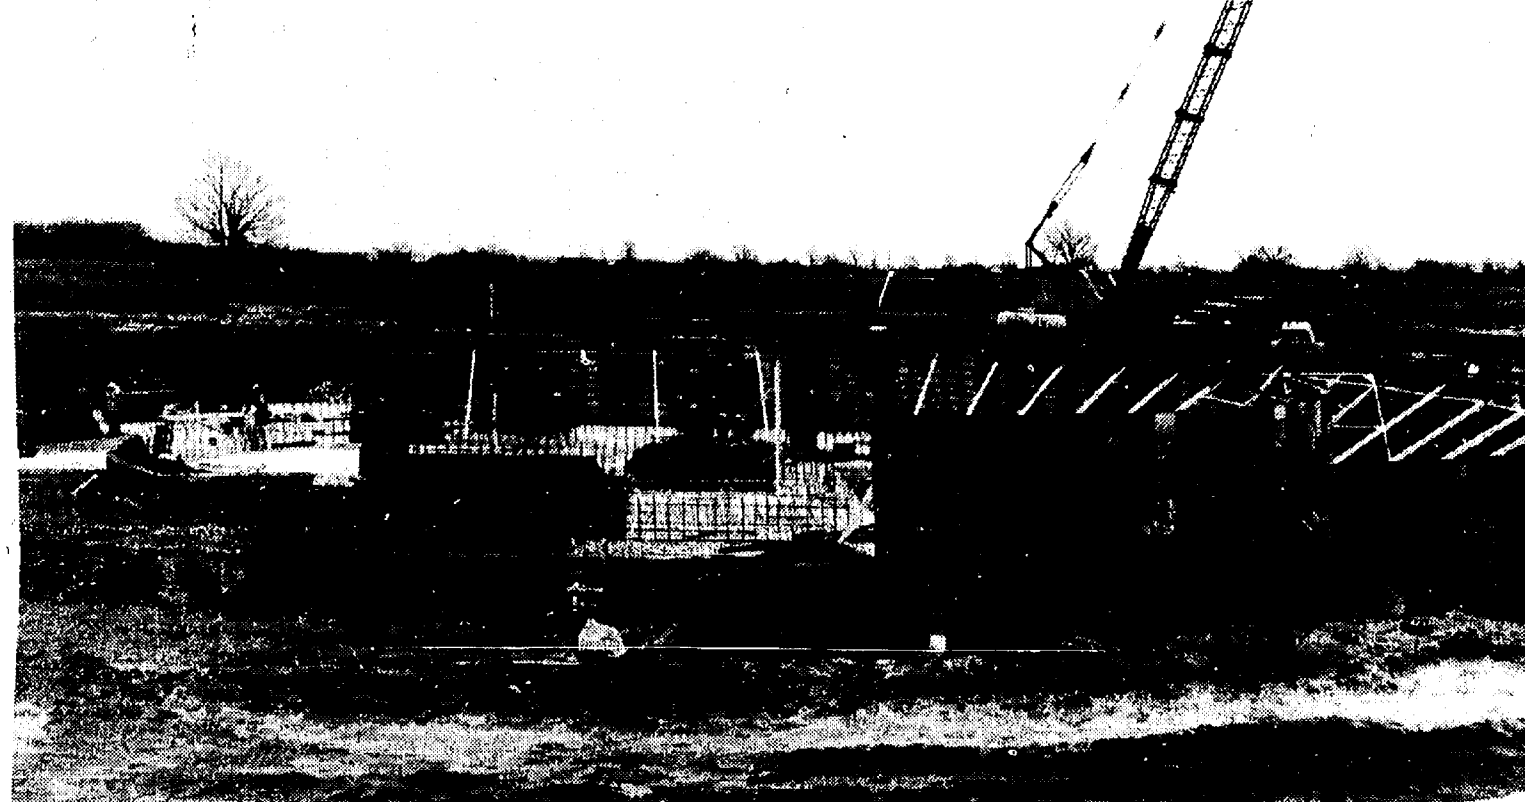

They'll have to be ambulatory, although they can use a walker. We aren't going to deal with incontinence or catheters or anyone who needs a lot of care. And we'll keep them close in age. If we have eight people and a couple leave, there will still be enough people for group activities. Nursing homes are depressing and we want to stay as far away from that as possible."

Jokinen said she plans to live in the home with her two children.

The house won't need a lot of work, Jokinen said, although a lot of nice paneling will have to be removed due to fire prevention regulations.

Jokinen said she wants Heritage Acres residents to become involved with the Chelsea Senior Citizens organization and she hopes to have a van to transport them to the village and back.

Jokinen said that both she and McNeely have been involved in adult foster care for six years.

WORK IS MOVING RIGHT ALONG on Chelsea's new wastewater treatment plant off McKinley Rd. Much of the excavation work has been finished and a large tank is being constructed. The $6 million project should be finished early in 1989.

Two Malls May Seek Approval At Same Planning Meeting

Two shopping malls proposed for Chelsea could both be on the village planning commission's January agenda for final site plan approval.

Both malls are subject to the results of a traffic impact study being conducted in the area by a Southfield firm hired by the village.

Mike Kennedy recently submitted plans for preliminary approval for a 50,000-square-foot mall to be built next to Polly's Market. However, at the suggestion of assistant village manager Lee Fahrner, Kennedy decided to provide additional information and seek final approval at the Jan. 26 meeting.

Rene Papo has already submitted his plans for preliminary approval, but the planning commission voted to wait for the results of a traffic impact study which could change the layout of entrances and exits to the development as well as the design of Old US-12 and Old Manchester Rds.

Papo's mall, which would total 92,330 square feet, would be located between Chelsea State Bank and the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds on Old US-12.

Both developers are waiting for Washtenaw county to solve a storm-water drainage problem in the area. However, the drain commissioner's office has been in disarray lately due to the resignation of both the drain commissioner and his assistant. Consequently, each developer is incorporating a retention pond on his project until a final solution can be devised.

Kennedy said last Friday that his mall will be anchored by a discount drug store and a small department store which he described as similar in size and content to a Ben Franklin store and is "all over Michigan."

Other tenants will probably include a florist, shoe store, dance studio, hair dresser and toy store, he said.

Clothing, Food Needed For Christmas Giving

Chelsea Social Services and Faith in Action will be putting together holiday gift boxes of new clothing, toys and food.

Anyone wishing to contribute new clothing, toys and even money and food, may bring their contributions to Our Savior Lutheran church Thursday, Dec. 17 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Jackie Riethmiller, office manager and Linda Ormsby, director of Chelsea Social Services, state that they are still in need of warm-type hats, gloves, scarves and mittens for children. The Rev. Jerrold Beaumont and the crew of Faith in Action will add contributions of food to the gift boxes if brought in the church Thursday morning.

The second annual Faith in Action Christmas dinner will be held Dec. 25, at St. Mary's School Hall between 2 and 4 p.m. The dinner is free to anyone. If you wish to attend, call Faith in Action before 4 p.m. Dec. 18.

LITTLE NICOLE STRADER had her first opportunity to see Santa Claus last Saturday when the Chelsea Merchants Association brought the old guy to town last Saturday afternoon at the VFW Hall. The four-month-old is the daughter of Jim and Beth Strader of Madison St. Santa will reappear again this Saturday, Dec. 19, his last appearance before Christmas.

FOUNDATION WORK should begin soon on the Bridgetown Condominium project off Old US-12 behind St. Barnabas Episcopal church. Recent weather has created some wet low spots in what has always been a marshy area. The developers are Lloyd Bridges, owner of Lloyd Bridges Traveland, and his son, Jerry.

Higher sewerage rates are planned for users of the Chelsea sewer system. A 10 percent hike would add about 50 cents a month to the bill of the average local home-owner. Village administrator Frederick Weber pointed out that Chelsea's sewerage service charges are lower than those levied in all other area jurisdictions, and in some instances are less than half the fees being assessed elsewhere.

Tighter security measures in force at Cassidy Lake Technical School paid off last week as three walkaways were recaptured less than an hour after they escaped. The trio were found missing at the 8 p.m. "head count" taken hourly at the prison. Assistant superintendent John Andrews said, "We alerted the staff and area law enforcement agencies to an emergency situation, and had the three men back in custody at 8:15."

A 28x28 foot pole barn will be built at the Chelsea sanitary landfill to house a new compactor and another vehicle. The $5,300 contract was awarded to local builders Robert Stofer and John Beeman.

Crystal Impola donated 25 dolls from her extensive collection to Chelsea Social Service for the annual Christmas gift distribution.

The old DUR station was demolished this past week to make way for a 10,000 square-foot expansion of the Federal Screw Works plant. Built around the turn of the century, the building was a substitution for the hustle and bustle of the old electric railway that ran between Detroit and Jackson, stopping at numerous villages and rural points along the way.

Federal Screw Works itself, apart from its association with the DUR station, has had quite a history in the Chelsea area, according to the 125th Anniversary edition of The Standard. Organized in 1913 by M. J. Dunkel, Conrad Lehman, and Pauline Griebach, the company and its 10 employees had their first business site at 208 Railroad St.

Next Monday, voters of the Chelsea School District will decide whether or not they will provide a requested $4.8 million to finance additions and remodeling of the district's four schools.

Chelsea High school and Junior High school choirs will present their annual Christmas Concert with something new, a Christmas pageant presented by the junior high choir. Singing solos will be Judy Salzer as the angel and Mitchell Picklesimer, Chuck Patrick and Richard Steinaway as the Three Kings. Evelyn Estes will read the Christmas Story.

Autographed copies of his three recently published books of poetry were presented this week by the author, the Rev. Lloyd F. Merrell, to McKune Memorial Library and to Chelsea High School Library. The Rev. Lloyd Frank Merrell, retired Methodist minister who, with his wife, now makes his home in one of the cottages at the Chelsea Methodist Home, has received extensive recognition for his most recent publications, "Tales of Tall Taylor," "Flowering Dust" and "Healing Symphony."

The Chelsea Theatre is to be reopened after closing in August of this year. George Keast and Harold Schmitgal, both of South Lyon, are the new owners and plan to open the theatre on a full-time basis with the first regular program scheduled for Christmas Day.

Task Force Recommends Voter Registration Network
A task force appointed by Secretary of State Richard Austin has recommended that a Voter Registration Information Network be established. Its purpose is to streamline the number of registration-related duties at the local level and strengthen the integrity of Michigan's voter registration system.

Under the plan, a computer network would be established at the county level enabling county clerks to provide cities, townships, villages and school districts with voter registration-related services.

The task force's plan would also streamline the process by providing local clerks with information on registered voters in their jurisdictions who have died or obtained a driver license in another state.

The task force is expected to forward its plan to the Legislature soon. The recommendations would cost the state some $2.7 million to implement, but one suggestion has been to use the state's gubernatorial campaign fund, which contains about $4.6 million left over from the last gubernatorial election.

Michigan Driver's Keep State In 55 M.P.H. Compliance

Even though 49.7 percent of vehicles on all highways and roads signed for 55 mph exceeded the speed limit over the last year, Michigan continues in compliance with the national speed limit law, State Transportation Director James P. Pitz, said recently.

Michigan has stood to lose $12.6 million annually in federal highway funds if more than half of all drivers exceeded the speed limit, but the 49.7 percent figure keeps the state just below the 50 percent ceiling, Pitz said.

Pitz said the compliance this year is due mainly to the increase in the volume of traffic on rural major highways, as a portion of total highway traffic. Motorists on those highways generally drive slower than those on freeways, he said.

"About 90 percent of motorists on rural interstate freeways drove over 55 mph, about the same as last year, and on urban interstates the proportion of speeders actually increased," Pitz said. "However, more drivers on lesser highways observed the speed limit."

The Michigan Department of Transportation monitors speeds year-round at 44 stations on all types of highways signed for 55 mph. This year, it checked about 954,000 vehicles state-wide in a 12-month period that ended Sept. 30.

Michigan's 720 miles of rural interstates will be excluded from the 1987-88 monitoring because the speed limit on those routes went up to 65 mph on Nov. 29, Pitz added.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It's allus said that everthing that goes around comes around, and Ed Doolittle come with more evidence during the session at the country store Saturday night. He had saw where ugly rights is back in the news. This come up 14 years ago, Ed said, when Congress passed the Rehabilitation Act to try to do away with employment discrimination.

What happened then, Ed told the fellers, is that civil rights in general and wimmen rights in particular got the headlines, and the "facial discriminated," as they were called so as not to hurt their feelings, got sidetracked. Ed said he was thumbing through a magazine in the doctor's waiting room last week when he come across word of the ugly rights revival.

A column writer says a young clerk to a U.S. District Court of Appeals judge has took it on himself to champion the homely handicapped. Never mind race, sex, creed and the rest, if you have reason to think your weak chin had anything to do with you not getting the job, he'll take your case. Ed said the piece didn't say if the lawyer was busy in his special field, but fer sure a claim of violating ugly rights would be fun to watch in court.

Fer instant, he said, start with jury selection. Will the homely handicapped's lawyer want a jury of his client's peers, or will he figger a panel of pritty people is more apt to feel sorry fer the poor ugly feller? Will the defendant side insist on 12 ugly, hard working people on grounds they will think if they got past the personnel manager the feller's that's suing could to.

Then, Ed went on, there's the expert witnesses both sides will bring in. With all the trouble pritty secretaries have been causing in high places lately, Ed said, it's bound to be easier to make a case fer ugly as a asset than to see a woman paying good money fer somebody to come to court and rate her a 10 on the ugly scale.

Actual, broke in Zeke Grubb, the hole idea ain't as crazy as it sounds. He had saw where musicians trying out fer jobs play behind screens so they can be judged by their music and not by their looks. But if bad teeth and flyaway ears are handicaps, Zeke ask, what about fat, short and bald? From what we've seen of racism and sexism, Zeke said, where are we going to find a stopping place fer looksism?

Practical speaking, Clem Webster allowed, ugly equality has as much chancet now as it had when the Rehabilitation Act was passed. Fer the revival to git going, the lawyers and the courts are going to need guidelines, and this means 400 pages of Government gobbledgeook. Congress will have to set up a agency like it done fer poverty, and folks will have to be hired and trained to measure ugly so they can declare a person official ugly and eligible fer legal assistance if he falls under the minimum looks level.

The way Congress is going, Clem said, don't look fer even a guidelines committee during the upcoming election year. After 500 witnesses and 300,000 documents, the best they could do on the Iran-Contra mess last month was another set of majority and minority reports that made us feel like the football game we've been watching a year is still tied. Going into the fall season, we got Reagan, Wright or wrong, and the best Congress can do is split down party lines on which is which, was Clem's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.Colibri Introduces Quantum, The World's First Flameless Lighter.

Two from Nursery School Staff Attend Conference

Jane Brooks and Kathy Gunderson from North Lake Co-op Nursery attended the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) annual conference held in Chicago.

NAEYC is the largest organization of its kind dealing with current issues and concerns surrounding the education of young children. There are more than 70,000 members nationwide. Approximately 24,000 attended the three-day conference.

Workshops and seminars were held in such areas as curriculum, planning, discipline and administration. Featured presenters included Ella Jenkins, Hap Palmer, Steve Millang and Greg Scelsa, renown children's musical performers, and David Elkine, author.

Jane Brooks is the teacher at North Lake and Kathy Gunderson is a member of the executive board.

Conference Held At Chelsea Family Practice Center

Dr. Sam Romano, psychologist and Marian Cohen, social worker, at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea hosted a statewide meeting at the Center on Nov. 19.

The program was attended by family practice behavioral science teachers from Michigan. This group, which was originally organized by Romano and Cohen, has been meeting over the past year to discuss areas of common interest.

The session in Chelsea focused on the development of a questionnaire to be distributed to all Michigan behavioral science teachers. Kathy Zappi, MPH, of Bon Secours Hospital, presented a strategy for effective video-tape review in teaching residents.

The meeting concluded with a group discussion of future agenda items and presentations for the next series of meetings.

Woman's Club Christmas Party Held at Hospital

The Woman's Club of Chelsea gathered at the Chelsea Community Hospital Dec. 9 for their annual Christmas dinner. Hostesses for the event were the members of the board, Lila Pawlowski, Myra Colvin, Betty Oesterle, Jinny Johnson and Lucile Finkbeiner. A punch hour was followed by a delicious dinner of London broil. Table decorations of greens, candles and pine cones made a lovely holiday setting.

Entertainment for the evening was an appearance by the Chelsea High School Contemporary musical group which was directed by June Warren. The 10 young ladies sang several selections among which were works of poetry by Robert Frost and Eleanor Wiley set to music. A lively rendition of Jingle Bells concluded the program.

President Lila Pawlowski extended a welcome to the group and announced that the next regular meeting will be a fun night at the Crippen Building. Guests are especially welcome.

A gift exchange was enjoyed by all those present.

Chelsea Child Study Club Enjoys Christmas Party

Chelsea Child Study Club enjoyed a delightful Christmas party at the home of Kathy Frisinger on Tuesday, Dec. 8. Co-hostesses for the evening were Bert Cobb, Nancy Grau and Kay Redding.

After a catered dinner of chicken breast and prime rib, hand-made gifts were exchanged and enjoyed.

The evenings ended with a surprise gift—a Hilton Head ornament made by Marj Daniels for each club member. Each member also received a small pine cone wreath ornament as a memento of the 1987 Christmas party.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 12 at the home of Neta Mills with guest speaker Judy Ward. Guests are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Cobb

Laura Logan, Richard Cobb Are Married in Arizona

Laura D. Logan, daughter of W. D. Logan of Globe, Ariz., married Richard B. Cobb, son of Cecil and Nelly Cobb of Chelsea, on Sunday, Oct. 11 at 1 p.m. at the Methodist church in Globe, Ariz. Pastor Warren officiated at the ceremony attended by 60 guests.

Pat Starr of San Carlos, Ariz., sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

The bride wore a white satin and lace gown with a narrow waist, a large hoop skirt, and train. On her head, she wore a pearl crown and she carried white and pink roses.

Matron of honor was Kimberly Ann Howard of Chelsea, a cousin of the bride. Bridesmaid was Sharon Arden of Mesa, Ariz., a friend of the bride and bridegroom. The attendants wore pink tea-length dresses covered entirely with lace, carried pink flowers, and wore white wristlets.

The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue chiffon dress adorned with a corsage of roses.

Flower girl was Amy McCalla of Chelsea. The ring bearer was Justin Logan of Page, Ariz.

Best man was George Thomas Hill of Chelsea, a friend of the bridegroom. Usher was Kenneth Cobb of Chelsea, brother of the bridegroom.

A small reception in the fellowship hall was given by the bridal couple immediately following the ceremony.

A second reception, hosted by the bridegroom's parents for about 125 guests, was held in Chelsea, Oct. 17 at the Chelsea Rod and Gun club.

The couple honeymooned for five days in San Diego, Calif. They are now residing at 119½ Wilkinson, Chelsea.

Graduation Party

An open house was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards, Dexter, honoring both Karen, graduating from Washtenaw Community College, and Joe graduating from Eastern Michigan.

Guests were present from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline, Brooklyn, Chelsea and Dexter.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Miles, Ann Arbor, and Joe is the son of Elsie Edwards of Lake City. All are former Chelsea residents.

The bride graduated from Kingman High school in Kingman, Ariz., and attended Mesa Community College in Mesa, Ariz., and Central Arizona College in Casa Grande, Ariz. She plans to attend the University of Michigan in January. At present, she works as a surveyor's helper for Wilson and Associates in Chelsea.

The bridegroom graduated from Chelsea High school and attended Washtenaw Community College. He is employed by Malloy Lithographing in Ann Arbor as a pressman's helper.

Modern Mothers Study Club Enjoys Christmas Party

Modern Mothers Child Study Club enjoyed a special old-fashioned Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 8 at the beautifully decorated home of Katrina Thiel. The evening began with a punch and hors d'oeuvres, followed by a program of Christmas carols.

Two new members, Diana Mathis and Lori Schmid, were welcomed to the club before all sat down to dinner.

After dinner the ladies had fun exchanging gifts. A special gift was given to the hostess by the Christmas committee, Jerri Cole, Anita McDonald, Debbie Peck, Katrina Thiel and Judi Wahl, who planned and prepared the evening.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 12 at the Beach Middle School Media Center. Guest speaker will be Mary Westhoff, M.D., pediatrician. Guests are welcome to attend. For more information call 475-2629.

Pinckney Man Surrenders After Threatening To Kill Family

A 21-year-old Pinckney man who barricaded himself inside his apartment for more than three hours Saturday and threatened to kill his wife, children and himself, surrendered without harming anyone, according to Pinckney police.

At press time, the Livingston County Prosecutor's Office was still deciding whether to press charges against Jeffrey Doyle, 355 E. Main St.

Doyle surrendered after throwing a shotgun through a plate glass window. His wife and children were not in the building but were visiting relatives, according to Pinckney Police Chief Bill Smith.

The incident began when Doyle called police at about 11:45 a.m., and told police he was holding his family hostage in their home, Smith said.

The call prompted police to respond from Pinckney, Hamburg, Michigan State Police and Livingston County Sheriff's Department.

"We didn't know if they were in there or not and we couldn't take a chance," Smith said.

Doyle and his wife are separated, Smith said.

Doyle was taken to Ypsilanti Regional Psychiatric Hospital for evaluation.

Area streets were blocked off while negotiations were in progress.

The poinsettia plant, brought to this country from Mexico over 125 years ago by Dr. Joel Poinsett, is still called by many, "Flor de Noche Buena"—flower of the Holy Night.

Chapel Campaign Goal Nearly Reached

Chelsea Community Hospital's campaign to raise funds for the construction of the new chapel continues along its successful route. Just over $22,000 of the $30,000 goal has been raised. More than 600 gifts have been received contributing to this amount.

The campaign, which began on Sunday, Oct. 18, designated Hospital Chapel Sunday, has involved clergy and churches from the hospital's entire service area. In addition, individuals, businesses, industry and service organizations have been invited to participate in this campaign.

Of particular interest to a number of donors are memorial opportunities such as chairs, artwork, and amenities to furnish the chapel. Some memorial opportunities still exist. To date, 17 churches have contributed in a joint effort towards the purchase of an altar for the chapel.

Chelsea Community Hospital employees have been particularly responsive in contributing to the development of the chapel. The Rev. Kathy Batell, chaplain and campaign chair, stated that renovation and construction of the area for the new chapel is expected to begin around the first of the year. The campaign will continue until the goal is reached.

For more information about the hospital chapel or chapel campaign, contact the Rev. Batell at Chelsea Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Roy Herter

Leslie Gilbreath, Larry Herter Are Wed in Ann Arbor Church

Leslie Marie Gilbreath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Gondek of Chelsea and the late Edward Gilbreath, married Larry Roy Herter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Herter of Ann Arbor, on Nov. 28 at 5 p.m. at the Trinity Lutheran church in Ann Arbor.

Pastor Dennis Hacker officiated at the ceremony.

The bride's wedding dress was candlelight satin, with a lace and seed pearl bodice, long tapered sleeves and a full train. Her fingertip veil, designed by Gail Tomaka, sister of the bride, was ivory with a lace and seed pearl cap. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, white roses and stephanotis.

The maid of honor was Kathy Ventimiglia of Grosse Pointe. She wore a tea-length, royal blue satin gown with a midnight blue velvet bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Bridesmaid was Courtney Herter, daughter of the bridegroom, of Canton. Her gown was the same as that of the maid of honor. She carried the wedding rings on a heart-shaped satin and lace pillow with white roses and royal blue ribbons.

The bride's mother wore a pale pink chiffon dress with lace accents. Her wrist corsage was made of white roses, pink ribbon and seed pearls.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a light blue dress with a blue and silver bodice. On her wrist, she wore a corsage of white roses, seed pearls and blue ribbon.

Best man was Joseph Smith, a friend of the bridegroom, of Ann Arbor. Ushers were brother of the bride, Tom Gilbreath of Chelsea, and Ron Skelly of Dexter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter. Emma Neibauer and Betty Rose Ferris served the cake. Kim Berrien of New York was in charge of the guest book. The Whiz Kids provided dancing music.

After a two-week vacation to St. Thomas and St. John Islands, the couple will make their home in Ann Arbor.

The bride is a Michigan State University graduate and is manager of the McAuley Inn. The bridegroom has an associate's degree from Washtenaw Community College and attended Eastern Michigan University. He is employed by Sarns, Inc., of Ann Arbor.

Angela M. Teague Completes Army Communications Course

Airman Angela M. Teague, daughter of David A. Brand of 3363 Sylvan Rd., Manchester, and Sherry A. Brand of 2240 Brooklyn, Jackson, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force telecommunications systems control course at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

Graduates of the 26-week course learned how to monitor and analyze the performance of radio and wire telecommunications circuits. They also earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

She is a 1986 graduate of Chelsea High school.

A WHOLE NEW WAY OF HAVING A BABY

Thousands of mothers of newborn babies have some startling news to tell their own mothers about the birthing process. In hundreds of modern obstetrical hospitals the traditional shuttle from labor room to delivery room to recovery room to post-natal room is now a thing of the past. Gone are the forbidding white walls and functional furniture of the OB ward. Instead, as the woman approaches the event in which one life becomes two, she is surrounded by a cheerfully decorated room with flowered wallpaper and a home-like decor that is just naturally reassuring.

There she labors, with a nurse nearby or on instant call, until it is time. The doctor and aides arrive. With delivery imminent, hidden doors quietly slide open—unnoticed at the time by the patient—introducing the fetal-monitoring equipment and surgical lights. Other concealed spaces open to provide the delivery team with oxygen, anesthetic and resuscitation equipment. Center stage, the bed—so comfy, and brightened with a field of daisies—changes into a birthing facility capable of accommodating any position the patient may need to assume. After the birth, all evidence of a delivery room disappears. Baby is brought to mother and, in normal circumstances, never leaves the room until it is time to go home.

Cynthia Mitchell, writing in the Wall Street Journal, reports that many doctors and patients see tangible psychological benefits in single-room birthing. One specialist in the technique points out, "The bonding of baby to mom and other family members is critical in those first moments and days after birth." Fathers are encouraged to sleep on couches in the mother's quarters. Special training in this new life-entry concept is not only provided to the expectant mother; it is also imparted to sire, siblings and grandparents. In the end, what they contribute to the newborn child are lasting impressions described as human imprinting.

It should be noted that many hospitals at the present time are actually working under a two-room system: One for labor, delivery and recovery; then another for post-natal care. It is anticipated that in the near future switchovers to a one-room system will become standard.

One bonus of the new process is more personalized attention. Instead of a succession of different nurses through each of four stages, the same nursing team will be in attendance during the three shifts of day and night. They will be there, and be known by name, until departure of mother and child.

Single-room service is fast approaching the point where practically all deliveries can be accomplished in the room except Caesareans. The one-stop delivery system had its origins during the past decade with "birthing rooms" where labor, delivery and recovery were combined. In some hospitals there are shortcomings in OB services because they were intended for low-risk mothers and did not have anesthesia, monitoring and emergency facilities at hand. All that is now changed.

Surprisingly, the cost of single-room delivery is no greater than under the old system. After all, cheery wallpaper is no more costly than two coats of dead white paint. Stylish, home-like furniture is invariably less expensive than the institutional eyecores of yesteryear. Technical equipment hiding behind the walls of each single-room is definitely more costly than centralized equipment but there have been compensating economies. A psychological change, shortening the average length of stay, has been the recognition of mothers as sensitive human beings instead of admission/discharge numbers.

As of now, 500 of America's 3,600 obstetrical hospitals have abandoned the production-line delivery system in favor of single-room birthing. Within two years, half of all American OB hospitals will have made the switchover.

In a current issue of Changing Times, figures are presented on the cost of deliveries using figures from the Health Insurance Association of America. For a normal birth in the delivery room of an average metropolitan U. S. hospital it is $1,900 for the hospital and $900 for the doctor. This total of $2,800 is based on a three-day stay. Total cost for a non-metro hospital delivery averages $2,340.

For a Caesarean delivery, and a five-day stay, the average U. S. hospital charges $3,340 and the doctor earns $1,100. Costs are roughly the same in midwest hospitals.

Caesarean deliveries are on the increase and represent nearly one-quarter of the 3.7 million annual births in the U. S. Some doctors appear to favor the Caesarean method, perhaps because the risk of malpractice suits is less. Another opinion is that among white women the pelvic girdle is becoming smaller while babies' heads are becoming noticeably larger. If baby's head is too large for mother's pelvis, a Caesarean is the only way out.

It is interesting to note that in all parts of the country the medical costs for childbirth are invariably higher in the big cities than in those communities designated as "nonmetro."

Regardless of locale, a good piece of advice for any couple contemplating or facing the birth of a child is to inquire about costs early on. The same thing goes for insurance coverage and financing.

People sometimes ask, "Why doesn't Chelsea Community Hospital deliver our babies? How come our expectant mothers have to go to Ann Arbor or Jackson?"

An important part of any answer centers around the birth rate of the area's population. Babies arrive here annually at a rate of about 15 per 1,000 people. Our hospital service area—as delineated by the patients themselves—consists of western Washtenaw county, plus an adjoining slice of Jackson county plus Stockbridge to the north. Patients from the Dexter and Manchester school districts are part of the market. It adds up to a population 40,000 people. They can be expected to produce 600 babies a year, and Chelsea would be doing quite well to receive 400 of these new arrivals. This is just a bit better than one new baby a day.

Even if our hospital offered the attractions of single-room maternity service, and enticed a segment of the Ann Arbor market so that Chelsea was delivering 730 babies a year, that would be only two babies per day. Is that enough for an independent maternity center in western Washtenaw county? No. Not under prevailing rules. A license to operate, known as a Certificate of Need, would require 1,500 births a year, and probably arrangements with University Hospital or St. Joe's for high risk cases.

It might be possible to start in Chelsea with something less than a whole new obstetrical building or wing. It might be feasible to begin with a modest section of eight or ten suitably-equipped labor-delivery-recovery-post-natal rooms. There would be no major investment and the staff would always have months in which to book room reservations.

In the past 10 months, Chelsea Community Hospital has achieved a solid financial footing. This has been done while expanding services so that 530 staff members are now needed to run the establishment, compared with 305 a decade ago. These numbers are in addition to physicians. Perhaps no group of people in town is more anxious to initiate Chelsea obstetrical services than our medical entrepreneurs at 775 South Main. They must long for the day when "a babe in the woods" will mean born in Chelsea.

SANDY ZEEB, owner of the Chelsea Greenhouse, came to the Terrific Tailor's 4-H club meeting and spoke about terrariums. She helped the girls plant their own terrariums and told them how to care for the plants. The Terrific Tailors is led by Vickie Kern.

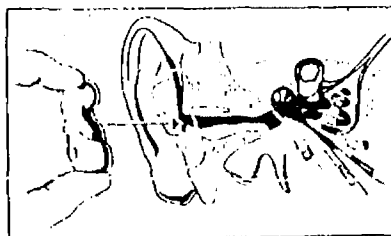

AFTER THE GIRLS in the Terrific Tailor's 4-H club finished making their terrariums, they paid Sandy Zeeb, owner of the Chelsea Greenhouse, who had provided the plants and showed the girls how to care for them. Zeeb returned their money, asking them to "give it to a charity of their choice." The money was included with the club's food donation to Faith In Action. Instead of a Christmas gift exchange, the girls had voted to donate food to an organization in the community.

★ Thanks to the Volunteers . . .

Chelsea School District is very fortunate to have the support of the community of Chelsea—the financial support that is so necessary, and the psychological and volunteer support that we see daily. As we pause at this time of the year to generally give thanks, it is in this spirit that I speak for all staff members in the Chelsea School District in extending our thanks for the many volunteers who give us so much.

Reviewing our elementary school programs, we see volunteers working with the Fun Fair, Night of Knights, ice cream socials, media centers, Enrichment TRIAD Program, math labs, newsletters, and providing musicians from nearby universities.

The Beach Middle School staff indicate how thankful they are for the many volunteers who participate in our 6th grade camp experience, field trips, tutoring students, and for the warm reception that we have already received in planning for our upcoming performing arts program.

At the high school, we have had volunteers who help with chaperoning dances, preparing newsletters, Music Boosters (Band, Orchestra, Choir), field trips, Athletic Boosters. In addition, parents and volunteers help with the post-prom party sponsored by SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving). Athletic Boosters, in particular, man the gates at the Fair and all athletic contests; they conduct state and regional cross-country and track meets, where as many as 200 people have volunteered. The Music Boosters help with newsletters and provide chaperones, and provide music camp scholarships for students.

The senior citizens program is built on a volunteer force. Likewise, we are thankful for the many volunteer directors and coaches who contribute to the recreation program through the Recreation Council.

Last year, in the United States, 52% of youth ages 14-17 were volunteers. Forty-eight percent of the adult population serve as volunteers. On the average, Americans volunteer 3.5 hours per week.

I have purposely avoided naming individuals, because the list would be exhaustive. I would also thank the people who volunteer their time to be involved in Dialogue with the Superintendent and the See for Yourself programs. It has been said that America is unique in the spirit of volunteerism, and we think one of the strengths of the Chelsea schools is that we are fortunate to have so many people give so much of their time and talents to making a better learning environment for our clients. We appreciate those efforts.

Mall Plans

"The minute we get our approvals, we're going to start to dig," Kennedy said.

"Hopefully it'll take about three to six months to complete it."

The mall's main entrance will share a driveway with Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan. However, Kennedy said, it will probably be widened to double its size.

Kennedy said most of the stores would be locally owned.

Kennedy is designing the storefronts himself. He said the style would keep in character with the village. He plans to include small street lamps and give the mall an old fashioned character.

Kennedy said he has not decided on a name for the mall.

Papo's mall will be anchored by an Ames department store, which will take up 56,140 square feet. The Ames chain is prevalent on the east coast.

Gregory Area Youth Completes Marine Infantry Training

Marine Pfc. James T. Breslin, son of James P. and Sharon A. Breslin of 14991 Ibbetson Dr., Gregory, has completed the School of Infantry at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

During the six-week course Breslin received classroom instruction and participated in field exercises involving infantry tactics; the construction and camouflage of fighting positions; and the use of mines, demolitions, and intra-company communications equipment.

A 1987 graduate of Stockbridge High school, he joined the Marine Corps in June 1987.

Estelman's 25th Novel Published

Bantam Books, Inc., has announced the publication in hardcover of "Bloody Season," Dexter area writer Loren D. Estelman's 25th book.

"Bloody Season" is a dramatic retelling of the incidents surrounding the legendary gunfight at the O.K. Corral between lawman Wyatt Earp, his brothers, and Doc Holliday, and outlaws Ike Clanton, Frank McLaury, and their brothers in Tombstone, Ariz. in 1881.

It is the first novel to attempt to tell the truth behind the most famous showdown in the history of the American West, and to analyze the characters of such well-known frontier figures as Wyatt Earp, Doc Holliday, the Clantons and McLaury, and Johnny Ringo, as well as those of women such as Josephine, Wyatt's wife, and Big-Nose Kate, Doc Holliday's prostitute companion, both of whom played crucial roles in the affair.

Estelman's research included trips to Tombstone and extensive studies of contemporary newspaper accounts, memoirs of eyewitnesses, and the transcript of the inquest into the deaths at the O.K. Corral.

"Bloody Season" has begun to appear in bookstores throughout Washtenaw county.

Senior Center Party, Dec. 18

The Senior Center's Christmas party will be held on Friday, Dec. 18 at 6 p.m. at the Chelsea High school cafeteria. According to Senior Center co-ordinator Treva Winans, "We always make the Christmas party as festive as we know how." The event includes a turkey dinner with all the trimmings and extras like punch, fresh flower centerpieces, and Christmas entertainment.

The meal will be prepared by the high school's food service staff under the direction of Fran Ferry with turkeys donated by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

After dinner, Jack Biddle, director of the Chelsea Community Choir, will lead the group in singing Christmas carols. Marilyn Chasteen will accompany the group on the piano.

Seniors need not bring table service, but they do need to make reservations as soon as possible. Cost of the dinner is $3.75. Since December birthdays will also be celebrated that evening, birthday people may deduct $1.25 from the cost of the dinner, since birthday people are always guests of the senior center.

Christmas Dinner Set By Faith in Action

A non-denominational Christmas Dinner will be served from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Mary's school on Congdon St., on Friday, Dec. 25.

Sponsored by Faith in Action, this dinner is open to anyone in the Chelsea Community who would like to come and enjoy a holiday meal with other members of the community. There will be no charge for this meal. Purpose of the dinner is to provide fellowship, sing carols and enjoy the day.

Volunteers will be working in two-hour shifts that day in order to give everyone a chance to be home for most of the day. Entire families are planning to volunteer. It is the hope that the volunteers will get as much from the experience as they are giving. A few volunteers are still needed. Those interested may call Nadine Shaneyfelt at 475-8193.

If you are interested in attending, please call Faith in Action before Dec. 18 for reservations. The office is open Mondays through Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the phone number to call is 475-3305.

Dinner will include ham, scalloped potatoes, salad, Jell-O mold, rolls, dessert and coffee, tea, or milk.

This is a community Christmas Dinner and any Chelsea School district resident who would like to attend is welcome.

BOBBY PRATT, a Chelsea High school senior, talked to children in Cynthia Mortensen's fifth grade class at North school last Friday about what it means to be a parentless child in Latin America. Pratt, who has spent a lot of time working with service organizations in Latin America, also helped the children translate their Christmas letters into Spanish. The letters, along with two packages, will be sent to two orphans in Latin America. The children, clockwise from bottom right, include Jessica Myer, Megan MacDonald, Lynne Kalmbach, Pippa Creffield, Heidi Stapula, Kate Steele, Lori Ritter, Keri Kentala, Heather Gunnis and Cindy Tripp.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Saturday, Dec. 5, there was a wrestling invitational meet at Chelsea High school. 155 athletes were competing from area high schools. Chelsea was hosting the event.

During the course of the day several young men sustained injuries. There were no trainers from Chelsea in attendance, yet these schools were invited by us to our school. Parents and coaches were left to do their best. I was sitting in the stands listening to the comments. People couldn't believe a trainer wasn't available. I couldn't believe it either. How could I explain, just because these boys don't punt, pass or kick, they aren't a top priority with the athletic department. I was totally embarrassed. I think it's time we even things out. These young men are dedicated to their sport and their school. Let's support all our athletes equally—boys and girls.

Providing trainers for multi-school events is only common sense. When you have that many athletes competing, injuries are bound to occur. Let's be prepared. If the school's trainer isn't available, how about the Huron Valley Ambulance Service or our own EMT's from the Chelsea Fire Department?

Chelsea's athletes have given us many awards and exciting moments to remember. Let's do our best for them.

Bonnie Basso.

P.S.—Congratulations to the wrestling team for finishing in third place Saturday. Terrific job!

Advent Celebration Includes Four Methodist Congregations

Four Methodist ministers were present at the gathering, in addition to Melanie Lee, ministerial intern who planned the event, but it was the Rev. John E. Harnish who thought he might have to call on a higher power to re-enact the miracle of the "loaves and fishes," Sunday evening, Dec. 13, at Wylie Cafeteria in Dexter.

"A huge success, beyond anticipation of the people who planned it," Mary Ann Steptoe described the event as she paused a minute to catch her breath during the first few minutes of the event.

Between setting up three extra tables, greeting the dozens of eager participants, and trying to determine whether the food would indeed stretch to feed the crowd which arrived, Mary Ann, and others in the hosting Dexter United Methodist church (DUMC) group, had no real cause for worry.

If the food was stretched a bit thin, the fellowship and sharing of Christmas spirit more than covered the situation.

The idea for the Advent Celebration resulted from a desire by Melanie Lee, ministerial intern at the Dexter United Methodist church, to use her background as a Spanish major at Kalamazoo College in conjunction with her church service.

Melanie explained she read about a similar gathering in a magazine article, and researching possible Methodist Hispanic churches in the area, located the Rev. Saul Trinidad and his people in Detroit.

The Detroit pastor was invited to meet with Methodist ministers in the Chelsea-Dexter area.

Attending the meeting, in addition to the Rev. Trinidad, Melanie Lee and the Rev. Harnish, were the Rev. Sandra Willobee, pastor of the North Lake Methodist church and the Rev. Dr. Jerry Parker, pastor of the First United Methodist church, Chelsea.

"The advent mission project grew from that first meeting in September," Ms. Lee said.

People arrived, Sunday evening, with babes in arms and cherub-faced toddlers, as well as the next older age group, active boys and girls who helped as members of the program, and others who enjoyed every facet of the event.

Senior citizens, young families, teen-agers and the young adult population all joined to celebrate the occasion.

Ron Woodard opened the evening's program with a welcoming message.

The Rev. Saul Trinidad, pastor of Methodista Unida El Buen Pastor, responded with a song, "Da La Mano," and a prayer.

Dinner was served buffet style. Women of El Buen Pastor prepared the food.

Included among the food dishes were rice, re-fried beans, several chicken dishes, and tamales, as well as cookies and a fruit salad.

The Rev. Harnish chuckled as he reminded the diners, "The corn shells in which the tamales are wrapped were not really meant to be eaten."

Though it seemed a long time from the buffet serving line to the tables, everyone displayed good-natured tolerance and spent the wait chatting with those standing near them in the line.

Two pinatas for the children followed the meal, one for youngsters in second grade and younger, another for the older group.

Chelsea Students Score Well on Assessment Tests

Chelsea School District students again exceeded the state's goals in math and reading on the Michigan Educational Assessment Program tests given to fourth, seventh and 10th grade students this fall.

District Testing Co-ordinator Sue Carter concluded that "over-all, Chelsea did well on the 1987-88 test," in a recent report to the school board.

The tests are given annually to test basic skills in math, reading and science. Results are used to measure each individual student's progress as well as to map district trends in education and see where improvements may be needed. Variations by a few percentage points from year-to-year are not considered important by themselves. However, declines several years in a row would be cause for concern.

Chelsea students again did not meet the state's goal in science skills. Last year was the first year they were tested.

Carter noted that although Chelsea did not meet the goal, most of the surrounding school districts didn't either. She said Chelsea students frequently scored higher than students in other districts.

"It is important for our science departments to meet at all building levels to evaluate the test," Carter said in her report.

"If it is appropriate for our students to know this material at these grade levels then we must determine what changes need to be made in the curriculum and at what grade levels these changes are most appropriate. This work has already begun."

The state's goal in each subject area is for 75 percent of the students to score in the highest of four levels.

Chelsea students scoring ranged (not counting science) from a low of 73.6 percent in 10th grade math (the only category under 75 percent) to a high of 93.8 percent in fourth grade reading at South school.

In addition, in math and reading at every school more than 90 percent of the students scored in the top two levels.

In science the numbers are dramatically different.

Scores were highest in fourth grade and lowest in 10th grade.

At North and South schools, 58.6 and 54.2 percent, respectively, scored in the top level. The number was 43.5 percent in the seventh grade and 36.8 percent in the 10th grade.

The numbers followed the same pattern for students falling into the bottom two levels. At North and South schools the numbers were 11.1 and 9.3 percent, respectively. They climb to 19.2 in seventh grade and 27 percent in 10th grade.

What follow are numbers from each school taken from Carter's report:

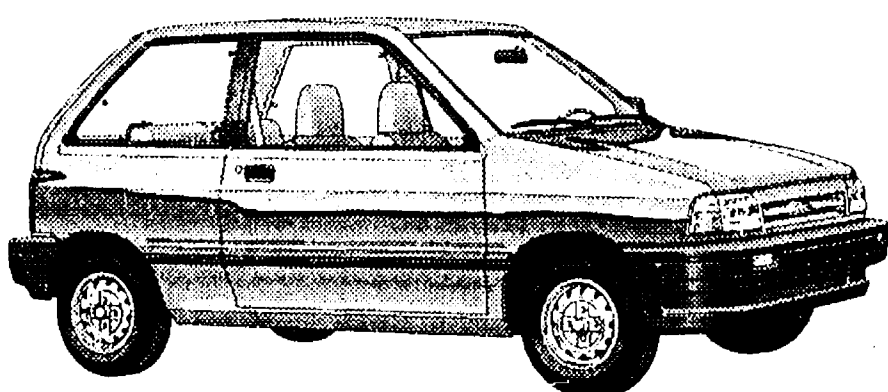

North: Numbers of students in the top level were down in all three areas from a year ago. Math was down 8.9 percent to 80.8 percent, reading down 4.7 percent to 83.8 percent, and science down 11.1 percent to 58.6 percent.

North school is listed as a "low needs" school in math and reading, and a "moderate needs" school in science.

South: Numbers of students in the top level were down in math and Bulldogs!

Dogs Routed by Haslett, Lose League Opener To Hornets at Home

Despite losing Friday's contest to Saline at home, 77-56, the Bulldogs came ever so close to pulling an upset in their first Southeastern Conference game of the season.

The Bulldogs, down 36-28 at half-time, gave up three quick lay-ups at the beginning of the second half to trail by 14 points.

However, Chelsea came storming back, outscoring the Hornets 14-2 over the next 4:30 to trail by two points. But that's as close as they came. Shortly thereafter the Hornets put together their own 13-2 run and the Bulldogs were down by 15 mid-way through the fourth quarter.

"If we could have gotten the lead, the whole complexion of the game would have changed," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"A team can only come back so many times. That first minute of the second half really killed us."

Chelsea fought back from a 10-point deficit in the first half only to have the Hornets convert two turnovers into easy baskets.

"Their zone defense gave us fits in the first half but we made some adjustments that worked well," Raymond said.

"However, we made some mistakes a varsity team should not make. We gave up several quick baskets because we weren't back on defense. And we allowed Kyle Brunner to score 25 points, many of them driving down the middle, which with our defense is a real no-no. We needed better help on the inside on defense and we didn't get it."

Chelsea was also beaten 39-31 on the boards, which Raymond called another key to the contest. The Bulldogs' inside game was no match for the taller, quicker Hornets. The four biggest Bulldogs scored just eight points and grabbed eight rebounds.

Saline's senior forwards Rob Hughes and Jeff Davis combined for 25 points. Hughes scored six points during the Hornets' fourth quarter surge.

Free throw shooting was another sore spot for Chelsea as they made 14 of 32 tries for 44 percent for the game and only 8 of 24 in the first half for 33 percent.

Senior captain John Cattell led the Bulldogs in scoring with 14 points. Sophomore Chad Starkey was the only other Bulldog in double figures, scoring 10 points. Rounding out the scoring were Junior Morseau and John Collins with six each, Larry Nix and Phil Thomson with four each, Kevan Flanagan and Greg Boughton with two each and Matt Monroe with one.

In other action last week, Chelsea played one of the top class B teams in the state when they traveled to Haslett on Tuesday, Dec. 8 and lost 103-68. The game wasn't even that close.

The Bulldogs were down 40-8 by the end of the first quarter and 74-34 by half-time.

The Dogs got a taste of their own medicine as they were victimized by a high pressure defense that produced nearly 20 turnovers in the first half.

Haslett played their second team the entire second half and only picked up their press at half court.

"We had a real difficult time getting

GREG BOUGHTON jumps high over Saline's Craig Quick for a first-half lay-up. Chelsea lost their home opener to the team picked by many to win the Southeastern Conference.

JV Cagers Rally For Win Over Saline

With a 22-point outburst in the fourth quarter the Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity basketball team won their first game of the year last Friday by knocking off the Saline Hornets at home, 50-45.

"We turned up the intensity a notch in the fourth quarter which seemed to shake Saline up," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

"Our guards did a great job handling their pressure. For a while there, though, I wasn't sure we would get the win."

Chelsea trailed 32-28 at the end of the third quarter as both teams had trouble scoring. Play was sloppy toward the end of the game as each team turned the ball over several times.

However, the Bulldogs made 5 of 9 shots from the floor and 12 of 17 from the line in the final period. Kerry Plank was 6 of 7 from the line in the quarter.

"Kerry had an excellent game for us and he really came through when we needed a basket," Dils said. Plank led the team with 17 points, while brother Kyle scored 15.

Rounding out the scoring for Chelsea were Brian Burg, six points, Chad Raymond, four, Brandon Murrell, three, and Chris Wilson and Butch Michaud, two each.

Chelsea also held a 35-25 rebounding edge.

The Bulldogs had problems with Haslett on Tuesday, Dec. 8 on the road, suffering a 72-51 loss.

"Over-all we played well against Haslett," Dils said. "Haslett is a very good team."

Chelsea was behind from the outset. The Dogs trailed 19-10 at the end of the first quarter although it was a two-point game until the last couple of minutes. Haslett held a 40-25 half-time lead, which proved to be too much for the Bulldogs to overcome.

Chelsea cut the lead to seven at the beginning of the fourth quarter before foul trouble disqualified a couple of Bulldogs.

Dils praised the inside play of Kyle Plank and Burg, who scored 19 and 13 points, respectively, in leading the team. Raymond scored five, Michaud, four, Murrell and Kyle Plank, three each, and Mark Chasteen and Wilson, two each.

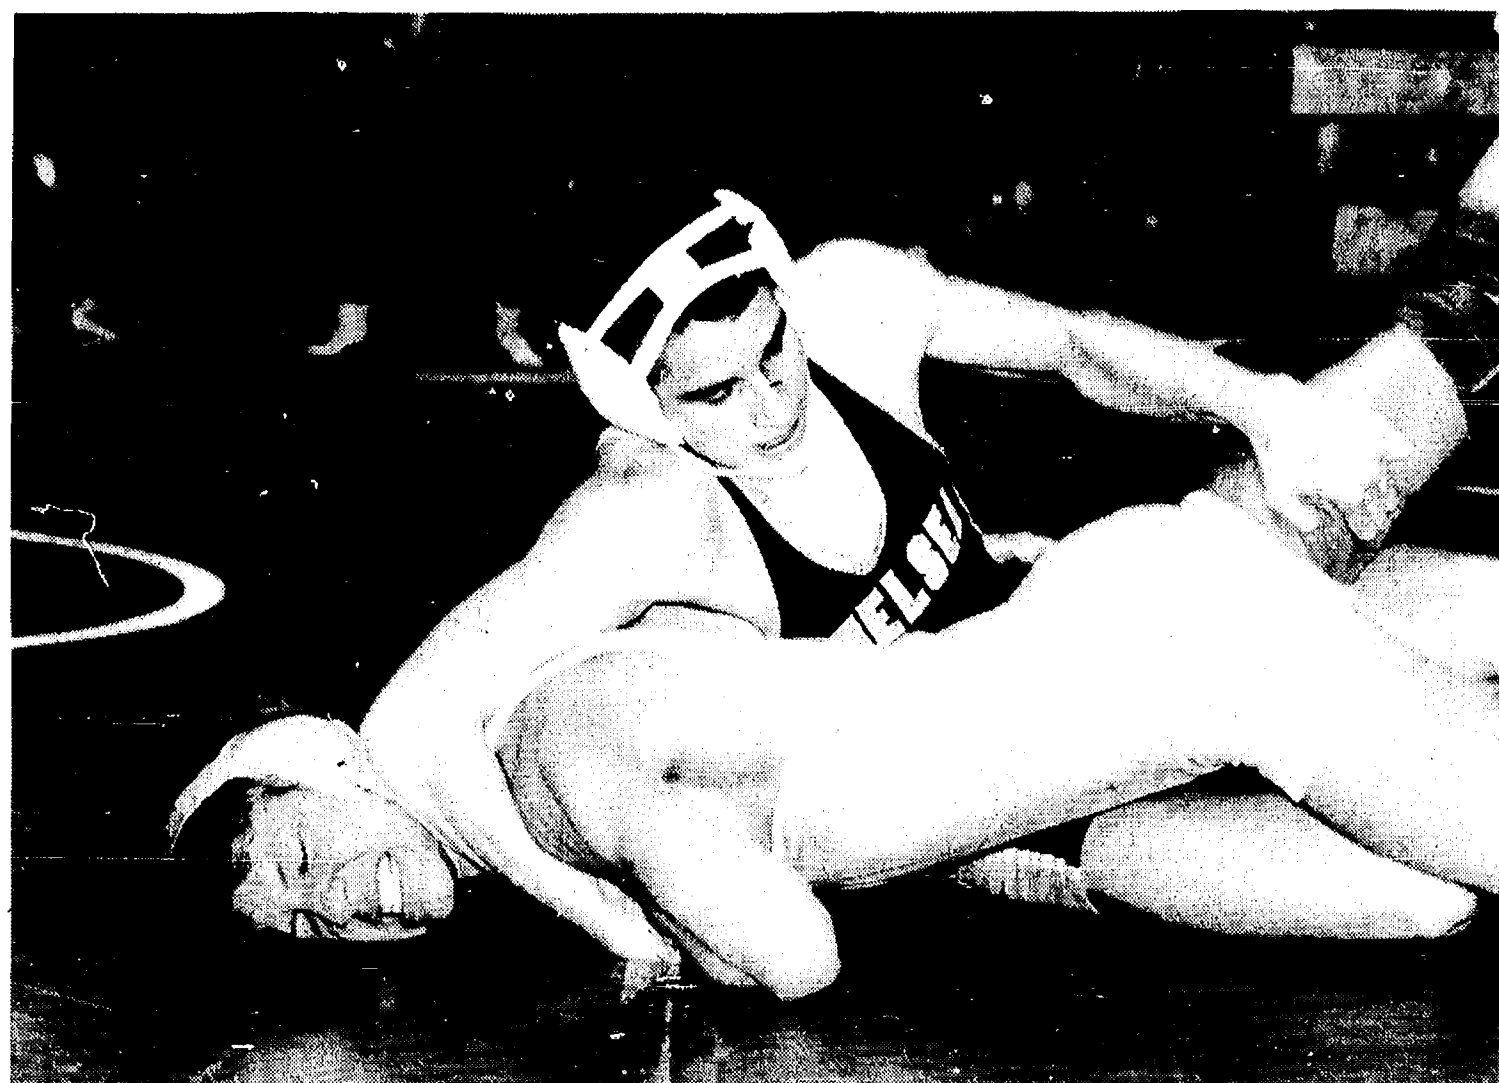

"Mark played an excellent game off the bench and I think it was Chad's best game of the season so far," Dils said.

"Chad was the key to breaking the press."

The Bulldogs had a 1-2 record after last week's play.

"This team keeps improving and I hope it continues," Dils said.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) establishes minimum wages, overtime pay, recordkeeping and child labor standards which affect some 63 million employees in private firms, 7.7 million employees of state and local government, and 2.3 million federal government employees, according to a fact sheet of the U. S. Department of Labor.

RENO NYE pinned his opponent from Onsted last Saturday in a five-team meet at Tecumseh. Coach Kerry Kargel moved Nye up a weight class and said, "I wish I had done it earlier. It makes our line-up stronger."

Chelsea Wrestlers Lose Close Match to Saline, Are Tough at Tecumseh

Chelsea Bulldog wrestlers came within one match of winning their dual match at Saline last Thursday as they dropped a 35-31 decision. It was their first match in the Southeastern Conference season.

"Oh, I hate losing those close ones," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"Especially to Saline because it's always hard to convince the kids they can place in the league. And they can this year."

After losing six of the first eight matches, Chelsea showed their strength in the upper weights and lost just one more match.

Chelsea was hampered partly by the absence of Rex Nye, who had pinned every opponent this year at 98 pounds. Nye could not make weight.

Results of the match follow.

98 pounds: Pat Pinson was pinned in 1:33.

105 pounds: Eric Hanna pinned his opponent in :23.

112 pounds: Pat Taylor pinned his opponent in 1:23.

119 pounds: Craig McCalla was pinned in 1:30.

126 pounds: Co-captain Robert Kornelx lost a 13-7 decision.

132 pounds: Paul Boyers was pinned in 1:43.

138 pounds: Doug Wingrove lost a 4-2 decision.

145 pounds: Dean Sutherland lost an 18-6 decision.

155 pounds: Co-captain Gary Dosey won a 17-7 decision.

167 pounds: Bill Dixon won an 8-1 decision.

185 pounds: Tim VanSchoick pinned his opponent in 5:10.

198 pounds: Todd Thurkow was pinned in 1:15.

Heavyweight: Mike Taylor pinned his opponent in 1:10.

Chelsea whipped Onsted, Crosswell-Lexington, Tecumseh and Monroe Jefferson in a five-way meet at Tecumseh last Saturday, Dec. 12.

Chelsea topped Onsted 63-7, Crosswell-Lexington 63-10, Tecumseh 42-25 and Monroe Jefferson 34-28.

"I was real proud of our team Saturday," Kargel said.

"It was obvious that we're in pretty good condition and some of the teams had problems in their late matches. Monroe Jefferson is a tough team but we matched up with them nicely."

"And I saw some really nice things out there. Tim VanSchoick and Mike Taylor both pinned opponents they lost to last year."

Four Bulldogs went undefeated for the day—Hanna, Pat Taylor, VanSchoick and Mike Taylor.

Individual results follow.

98 pounds: Kelly Beard pinned his Onsted opponent in :12, and was pinned in each of his three other matches.

105 pounds: Hanna pinned his opponents from Onsted, Tecumseh and Monroe-Jefferson, and tied 2-2 with Crosswell-Lexington.

112 pounds: Pat Taylor pinned all four opponents.

119 pounds: McCalla lost three decisions, 14-8, 10-9, and 6-4, and won a 5-2 decision over Monroe-Jefferson.

126 pounds: Reno Nye pinned his opponents from Onsted and Crosswell-Lexington and lost two decisions, 16-5 and 9-4.

132 pounds: Kornelx pinned his opponents from Onsted and Crosswell-Lexington in :32 and :31, won a 21-4 technical fall, and lost a 3-1 decision to Tecumseh.

138 pounds: Wingrove pinned his opponents from Onsted and Crosswell-Lexington and lost 7-6 and 12-1 decisions.

145 pounds: Sutherland pinned his opponent from Crosswell-Lexington, was pinned by Tecumseh and lost decisions of 4-2 and 16-5.

155 pounds: Dosey pinned his opponents from Crosswell-Lexington, won an 11-10 decision over Monroe-Jefferson and lost a 14-3 decision to Onsted.

167 pounds: Dixon pinned three opponents and lost a 6-4 decision to Monroe-Jefferson.

185 pounds: VanSchoick won his match over Onsted by forfeit and pinned his other three opponents.

198 pounds: Thurkow pinned his opponents from Onsted and Crosswell-Lexington, and was pinned by Tecumseh and Monroe-Jefferson.

Heavyweight: Mike Taylor won his match by default over Crosswell-Lexington and pinned his other three opponents.

In a dual meet last Tuesday, Dec. 8 against Jackson County Western, the Bulldogs got caught in a cradle and went down 49-18.

"They have the cradle move down to a science," Kargel said.

"Eleven of our 13 wrestlers got caught in it. We talked about it, but they're too good at it."

The only three Chelsea victories of the evening went to Pat Taylor, McCalla and Kornelx, who all pinned their opponents.

Six Chelsea wrestlers were pinned.

The Bulldogs headed into this week's action with a 5-2 record.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Seconds before last Friday night's home game with Saline, Chelsea athletic director Larry Reed grabbed the microphone and made an announcement—anyone caught throwing junk onto the court will be forced to eat canned cat food in the fishbowl on Monday during A lunch hour.

The threat, of course, was made to the Chelsea student section. Most people more than 18 years old won't resort to such behavior, unless they're attending a Yankees baseball game.

If you recall, last year after the Bulldogs' first basket of the season, a year's supply of toilet paper hit the court. I'm sure the horrifying memories of that night are still vivid in Reed's mind.

Larry's threat was about 99 percent effective. Only one roll was tossed out, which landed near the "C" at half court.

Larry and Wayne Welton scanned the crowd and everyone looked around as though to say, "who, me?" I don't know if the perpetrator was caught or not.

Although I can't condone dangerous actions which might seriously hurt a referee or player, I know it would take one big fink, or someone seeking a large reward, to turn a classmate in to the AD.

What is notable about the whole incident is that the student section has been moved to lower ground. It used to be located upstairs above the parents' section, which must have made a lot of people awfully nervous.

Now the students are facing the parents on the opposite side of the gym, where the visitors used to sit. They're right down by the floor and in full view of everyone. It's kind of like being in a cage with no bars.

And now even limp-armed throwers can probably hit the court with the accuracy of a shortstop.

The change, depending on how you view it, has either increased the difficulty of getting away with such antics or has simply increased the challenge.

When I was in high school, I know how we would have taken it. And I know some of us would have been eating cat food for lunch.

Nevertheless, I like the crowd re-arrangement. The yelling and screaming seems a lot louder. The students can see the action more clearly, which should give them many more plays and calls to complain about. They can heckle the opposing players (tastefully, please), which is always a part of Friday nights at the gym. And they can make the cheerleaders' job much easier. This year the young ladies don't have to scream across 40 feet of old codgers to get to the students. Parents aren't much good at leaning and scooby-doing, anyway.

Student crowd behavior, especially at high school basketball games, has an etiquette all its own. But it seems to come down to this—when the going gets tough, the crowd gets questionable. In other words, an "A" word and a "B" word often find their way into cheers. This is often embarrassing to parents, teachers and administrators who have forgotten that next to plutonium, hormones are the most powerful substances on earth.

I have had three parents and teachers tell me they weren't happy about what they heard Friday night. I personally did not hear anything too objectionable, but I wasn't paying much attention either.

My guess is that the students really weren't any more vulgar than in years past. They're just so much closer and you can see what they're doing.

Hopes were high for the varsity cagers after they whipped Brooklyn Columbia Central in their opener.

Hopes should still be high after last week's play, although maybe a little more realistic.

The Bulldogs were trounced on Tuesday by Haslett, and beaten soundly by Saline on Friday.

Haslett could end up the class B state champs. Saline will probably win the Southeastern Conference.

Although it's probably demoralizing to lose twice in a row by more than 20 points, it's not always bad to get your tail kicked early in the season.

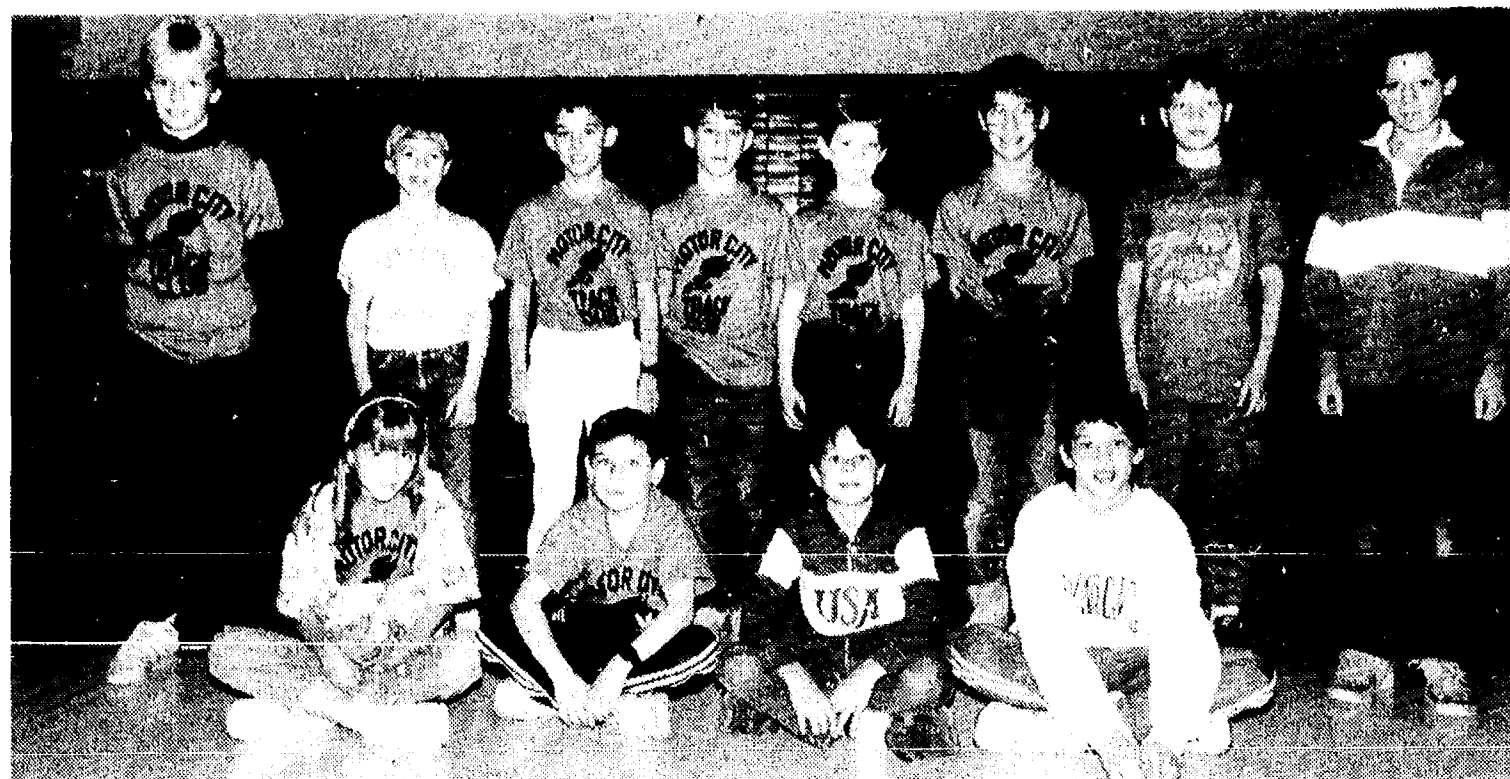

The Bulldogs have probably played their toughest games of the season, all while still getting used to each other in a new system under coach Robin Raymond. Last week the Bulldogs should have learned a lesson about what good high school basketball looks like and how much room there is for improvement on their part.

As I understand it, Haslett plays much the same style the Bulldogs are learning, only a lot better because they have played it so much longer. Raymond said Haslett's success is more a tribute to the program rather than the athleticism of the players. He wants to build the same kind of program here.

Chelsea will probably pull off a few upsets this year and may even win more games than they lose. However, the success of this season will probably show up next year, and the year after. There are some fine athletes among the underclassmen and Chelsea could well have the class team of the league in a couple of years.

In the meantime, the Bulldogs will be a lot of fun to watch. And who knows whom they might knock off in the process.

Which road in Chelsea has produced the best local athletes? My vote would go to Freer Rd. A few of the names that come to mind are Unterbrink (Amy, Beth, Lisa and Laura), Starkey (Todd and Chad), Frisinger (Eric and Scott), Plank (Kyle and Kerry), and Boughton (Greg). I'm sure I've missed others.

TWELVE CHELSEA RUNNERS from South Elementary school qualified to run at a regional cross country meet at Dayton, O. recently by The Athletic Congress. From there, the children seated on the floor qualified for a national meet in Raleigh, N.C. In front, from left, are Melissa Hand, Matt Tuttle, Nick Kramer and Jon

Chelsea Tankers Win Thriller Over Ypsilanti

Chelsea Bulldog boys swim team had a busy opening week as they had three meets in six days.

The home opener was Tuesday, Dec. 8 against Ypsilanti, a team that they had not beaten in two years. The meet was a very close and exciting affair as the score seesawed back and forth throughout the meet.

Who was going to win was in doubt throughout and it came down to the last relay as Chelsea had to finish first and second to pull out the victory.

"I knew that the only way we would win was to 1-2 last relay so we split our fastest people equally between the two relays and hoped for the best," said coach Mike Keeler. The two Chelsea relays and the Ypsilanti relay raced side by side up and down the pool with no relay pulling ahead. Finally, the two anchor swimmers, senior captain Matt Doan on one relay, and freshman Von Acker on the other relay both touched out the Ypsi relay to win the meet 87-85.

The line score of the meet is as follows.

200-yard medley relay: 2. Chelsea A (Brett Paddock, David Oesterle, Kevin Brock, Chris Birtles), 1:50.34; 3. Chelsea B (Terry Draper, Howard Merkel, Lloyd Brown, Wally Schmidt), 1:53.20; 5. Chelsea C (Holden Harris, Mike Hollo, Scott Marsh, Scott Schetfield) 2:05.16.

200-yard freestyle: 3. Matt Doan, 1:59.37; 4. Charlie Hosner, 2:03.82; 5. Garth Girard, 2:04.99.

200-yard individual medley: 2. Brock, 2:16.72; 4. Paddock, 2:21.70; 5. Draper, 2:31.71.

50-yard freestyle: 2. Acker, :24.29; 3. Tyler Lewis, :24.73; 5. Schmidt, :25.33.

Diving: 1. Lewis, 174.60; 4. Mark Luick, 130.30.

100-yard butterfly: 2. Brock, 1:00.32; 3. Acker, 1:01.88; 4. Brown, 1:04.69.

100-yard freestyle: 1. Doan, :53.49; 4. Schmidt, :55.59; Birtles, :55.78.

500-yard freestyle: 2. Girard, 5:34.14; 3. Hosner, 5:52.75; 6. Marsh, 6:03.94.

100-yard backstroke: 2. Paddock, 1:04.38; 4. Brian Brock (no time recorded); 5. Harris (no time recorded).

100-yard breaststroke: 2. Oesterle, 1:09.78; 4. Merkel, 1:13.41; 5. Hollo, 1:17.33.

400-yard freestyle relay: 1. Chelsea A (Marsh, Girard, Lewis, Doan), 3:45.09; 2. Chelsea B (Brown, Hosner, Birtles, Von Acker), 3:45.50; 5. Chelsea C (Joe Beaudin, Greg Garen, Joe Huettnerman, Rob Northrop).

Local Bowlers Win Holiday Surprise Tourney

Chelsea area merchants sponsored the 4th annual Surprise Tournament at Chelsea Lanes on Dec. 12-13.

It was a scotch doubles format, meaning women roll the first ball of the first and third games and men shoot the spares. It's the reverse order on the second and fourth games.

The best three out of four games determines the final score.

This year's winners, Al Roskowski and Pam GreenLeaf, had a handicap score of 710. They won a one-day trip to Atlantic City for two, and $100 cash.

Ray Wurster and Jeannie Hafner took second place with a score of 673.

The top eight places split a tournament prize fund of $405.

Gift certificates were supplied by Vogel's & Foster's, Country Rose Gift and Bath Shop, Winans Jewelry, Dayspring Gifts, Chelsea Office Supply, Chelsea Lanes, Inc., and Accent on Travel.

At the turn of the century, candles were replaced by electric lights as a safety measure and the tradition of a glittering decorated tree became the custom. With the introduction of string lights, many people considered it unlucky to use an odd number of lights on the tree.

Frosh Cagers Whip Lincoln, Drop Opener to Western

Chelsea Bulldog freshman basketball team started the 1987-88 season with a 38-37 loss to the Jackson County Western Panthers on Monday, Dec. 7. First game jitters showed up in a very cold 27 percent shooting night from the field for the young Bulldogs. Leading scorer was Jude Quilter with 13 points, helped out by Matt Steinaway, off the bench, who tossed in eight points. Tucker Steele had six points, Vince Dunn and Jeremy Stephens four each, and Chris Haugen completed the scoring with two points.

Coach Dave Quilter said he was pleased with some of the things he saw despite the disappointing loss.

"We are a much better shooting team than we showed in this game," said Quilter.

"The fact that we got down by seven points in the fourth quarter and went to our man-to-man full court press and were able to get back the lead showed some character on the team."

"We scored 16 points in the first half and then came back and scored 16 points in the fourth quarter. We overcame our nervousness and didn't quit and that's very important for the future."

The Bulldogs bounced back to defeat Ypsilanti-Lincoln 49-33 in a Southeastern Conference contest Thursday, Dec. 10 in the Chelsea gym.

The freshmen started the game with full-court man-to-man pressure and for the second game in a row held their opponents to less than 40 points.

The offense was led by Steele's 22 points and Quilter's 15. Steinaway scored six, Dunn, four, and Haugen, two.

Once again the full-court man-to-man defense was used successfully by the Bulldogs, Quilter said.

Assistant Coach Dave Scriven praised the defensive play of all 11 players.

Seventh Grade Cagers Top Dexter, 24-21

Beach Middle school's 7th grade Bulldogs knocked off Dexter in a tightly-fought game, 24-21, on Tuesday, Dec. 8 before losing to Pinckney, 42-19, on Thursday, Dec. 10.

In the Dexter game, the lead changed hands several times and the game was tied at 15 after three quarters.

However, the outstanding defensive play of Chris Dunham on the outside, and Ed Waller and Jeremy Beauchamp on the inside produced the victory, according to coach Charlie Waller.

In addition, Dunham hit Erik Brown and Waller with key passes to spark the offense.

"Dexter is very good and very aggressive," Waller said.

Waller and Brown led the Pups in scoring with nine and eight points, respectively. Also scoring were Dunham, with four points, and Ken Slane with three.

Pinckney was "bigger, stronger and just as quick," Waller said.

Chelsea fell behind 15-5 at the end of the first quarter and couldn't recover. In addition, Pinckney outscored the Pups 16-2 in the third quarter to put the game well out of reach.

"Everyone played good defense the whole game—Tucker Steele did a good job denying their big man the ball and Vince Dunn and Jude Quilter really put pressure on their guards," Scriven said.

Chelsea also shot a very respectable 41% from the field, noted Scriven.

"Better defense, better team play and better shooting were witnessed by the good turnout for the game" said Scriven.

The freshmen host Dexter at 7 p.m. on Jan. 4 for their next game.

the ball over half court," Raymond said.

"When we did break the press it seemed like they would steal the ball from behind. They're a good team. They don't let up."

Even with all the turnovers, Chelsea scored enough points to win many games. They also shot 45 percent from the floor and 62 percent at the line.

On the other hand, Haslett had a hard time missing any shots. They were 15 of 19 from the field in the first quarter and 10 of 13 from the line.

"I'm sure they're in the top five teams in the state," Raymond said.

Raymond called the play of Thomson off the bench as the bright spot in an otherwise long and dreary night.

Boughton led Chelsea scorers with 12 points, Cattell and Thomson scored 10 each, Starkey, Morseau, Collins and Monroe scored six each, Marshall and Tim Anderson scored four each, and Flanagan and Nix had two each.

Chelsea was scheduled to play Milan last night. Lincoln is the next opponent this Friday on the road. After last week the Bulldogs were 1-2 for the season.

"At this point of the season, I'd have to say we're farther along than I thought we'd be," Raymond said.

"Our offense is coming along and our defense is decent. We're not very experienced and everybody is learning."

Card of Thanks 18

THANK YOU

The Volunteer Steering Committee of the Chelsea Methodist Home would like to sincerely thank the many volunteers, residents, members of staff and the Chelsea community for supporting their Country Kitchen Bake Sale. The wonderful sum of $1083.70 was raised towards the New Van Fund. Our sincere thanks to you all.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank friends, neighbors and relatives for gifts and cards and to the Women of Zion for the food and to Rev. Alton Koenigter and the Rev. Mark Wirauch for their comforting words; to Dr. Charles Krause and Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home for their friendly services.

The family of Alfred W. Schiller.

awarded the team from Community Mental Health.

Poly Hockey Tourney Conducted at Dexter

Dexter High hosted a Poly Hockey Tournament, Friday, Dec. 11, for teams throughout Washtenaw county. Neta Sage reported this week.

Classes from Bates Elementary and Dexter High, from Beach Middle school and Chelsea High, from High Point, Lincoln Jr. and Sr. High schools, from Ann Arbor's Mack School and Pioneer High, as well as from Community Mental Health, brought teams to compete in the tourney.

The tournament was supported by volunteers from the Dexter High hockey team who served as referees, more volunteers from the National Honor Society to help with the scoring, and members of the Dexter High Symphonic Band, which played the national anthem.

"Poly hockey" is a term for floor hockey played with a plastic puck, with special rules for playing in a gym.

Trophies were awarded in three divisions: "A, B, and Junior."

Students from Dexter High teamed with Chelsea High young people to field teams in both the A and B divisions.

Bates Elementary teamed with Beach Middle school, Chelsea, to play two teams in the Junior division.

Participating from Dexter High were students Shawn Finley, Beckie Haynes, Deana Knieper, Lillie Lamson, Michael Place, Darren Powell, Christine Szegda and Mark Turnbloom.

Chelsea High poly hockey players included Keith Valliencourt, Steve Viery, Kevin Viery, James Eldridge, Dan Polens and David Mytyk.

Students from Bates Elementary who participated in the tourney were Joy Gonyo, Danny Hunt and Charles Wiedman.

From Beach Middle school, Scott Allan, Renee Laraway, Tracey Keezer, Ned Turner, Andy Lazorisichak, Marcy Fisher, Tom Folts, Rusty Schneider, Chris Hafner, Chip Parker, Tony O'Connor, Jeff Pearsall, Laura Place, Barry Barber, Mike Policht and John Darden entered the tournament.

Volunteering to help score, students from the National Honor Society at Dexter High were Karen Knapp, Robin Strong, Jenny Teichow, Molly Stephenson.

Referees were Jenni Gilbert, Travis Gilbert, Alan Bell, David Milligan and Jim Smith, all members of the Dexter High hockey team.

In Division A, Dexter/Chelsea team one took first place, while the Mack School team placed second, Lincoln team one was third placer and fourth place was Division B winners included: Pioneer team, first; Dexter/Chelsea team two, second place; Lincoln team two, third place, and High Point's team, fourth.

Junior Division winners, as listed by Neta Sage, were Bates/Beach team two, first place, and team one from Bates/Beach, the runners-up.

science and up in reading from a year ago.

Math was down 7.7 percent to 83.8 percent, reading was up 2.8 percent to 93.8 percent, and science was down 4.9 percent to 54.2 percent.

Like North school, South school is listed as having low needs in math and reading and moderate needs in science.

Beach Middle school: Numbers of students in the top level were down in math, and up in reading and science.

Math score was down less than one percent, from 79.5 to 79 percent. Reading increased 5.2 percent to 93.2 percent and science increased 7.2 percent to 43.5 percent.

Beach is listed as a low needs school in math and reading and high needs school in science.

Chelsea High school: Numbers of students in the top level were up in reading and science and down in math.

Science increased from 36.3 percent to 36.8 percent. Reading increased from 86.8 percent to 87.4 percent. Math decreased from 77.4 percent to 73.6 percent.

Like Beach school, the high school was listed as having low needs in math and reading and high needs in science.

Advent Celebration

Methodist church gave puppet shows, "Boy Meets Girl," and "Christmas Story."

They were joined by the Junior Crooners to stage a third puppet-song presentation, "Free To Be You and Me," before the Junior Crooners finished the entertainment portion of the program, singing "Yo Soy El Templo Del Señor."

Kathryn Bradbury, who chairs the Sunday school mission group for the Dexter United Methodist church, explained the youngsters had collected a large box of Sunday school supplies, including scissors, colored pencils, pens, paper and crayons, to send for the girls and boys of El Buen Pastor.

Toys and clothing gifts were also given the guest church, and Carolyn Pryor and Donna Swersky, who chair the committees for church and society and for missions, respectively, told those attending the Advent Celebration the Dexter church was covering the evening's expenses, but a basket would be passed for a collection to be turned over to the Rev. Trinidad and his congregation.

The entire group joined in singing traditional Christmas carols before the Rev. Harnish gave the benediction, climaxing the evening's program.

SANTA'S WORKSHOP was busy last week at North school as children had a chance to shop for their parents. PTN sponsored the workshop and children had the chance to select from a wide variety of inexpensive gifts. From left are Jessica Erskine, Kathy Kattula, Kevin Hafner, Dan Martell, Scott Grafton, and Andy Thomson.

SANTA'S WORKSHOP was held last week at North school by the PTN organization. The idea was to provide merchandise for the children to buy for their parents and help them wrap it. Four of the mother volunteers included, from left, Jill Smith, Debbie Holfka, Nancy Reigle and Francie Wheeler.

Officers to be installed include George Wilson, worshipful master; Robert Rose, senior warden; Michael Szabo, junior warden; Robert Geer, treasurer; Charles Steinbach, secretary; James Boyd, senior deacon; Guy Miller, junior deacon; Elgin Wilson, chaplain; Owen Bigelow, tiler; Gilbert Campbell, marshal; Anthony Bell and Ralph Fairchild, stewards.

Refreshments will be served following the installation.

Christmas Wrapping

Roses and holly intertwined can be called upon to wrap the un-wrappable. It's difficult to wrap a Christmas vacation, a youngster's gift of a picture painted especially for Mom, a booklet of home-made coupons that can be redeemed for "doing dishes" or "cleaning out the garage" or even that new car that is in the drive on Christmas eve. But, by adding a note, or the car keys to a few roses and fresh decorative holly in a vase under the tree, you can tell the recipient just where and what their special gift is all about. And, you can rest assured that your unique gift giving style, and your gift will be long remembered.

BOY SCOUTS

TROOP 425—

On Monday, Nov. 30 at our troop meeting we played slaughter ball. We had Mr. Prinzing come to our meeting and talk about citizenship. We planned our menu for our upcoming camp-out. We also collected dues.

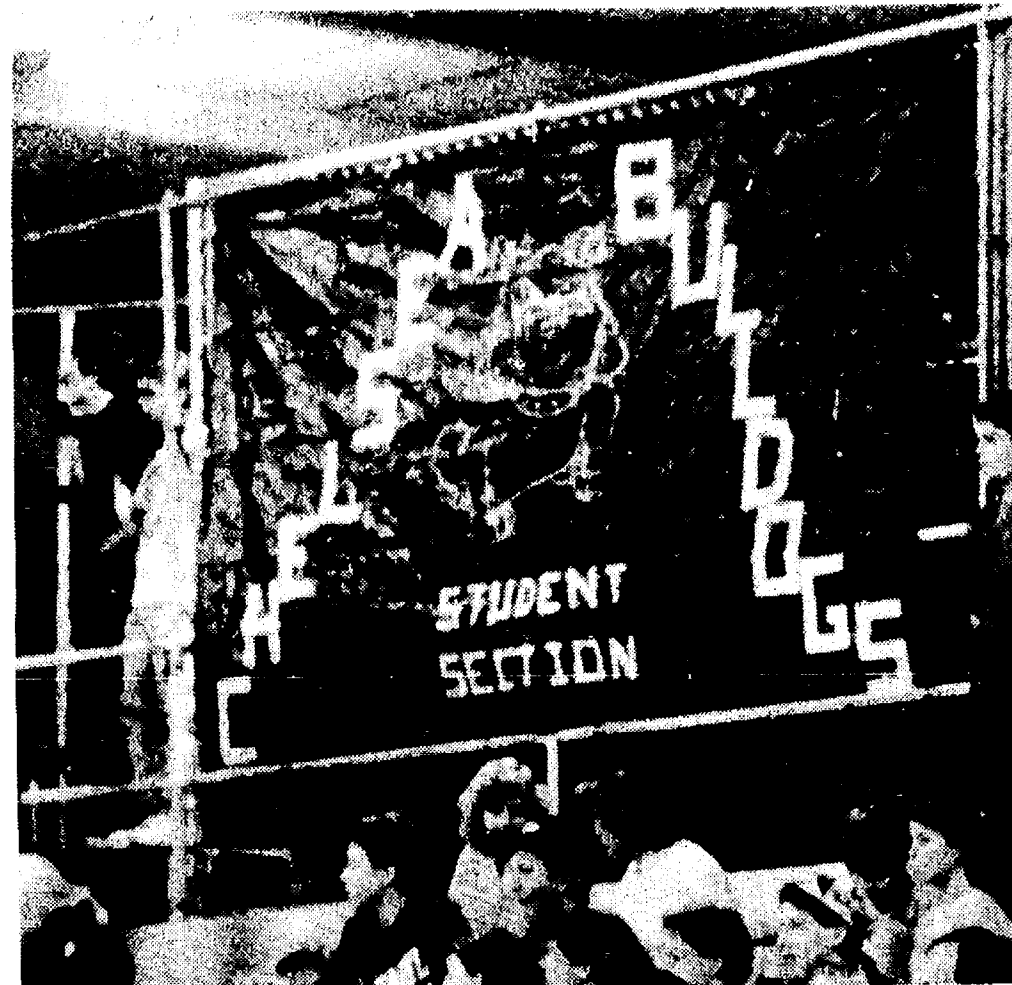

If you would like to join our troop we meet every Monday night from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the third floor above the Chelsea Police station.

Kevin Hafner, patrol scribe.

BOY SCOUTS FROM DEN 6, PACK 435 delivered canned goods and toys to Faith in Action on Wednesday, Dec. 9, to be given to a poor family. The boys were told to bring foods they enjoyed eating. In addition, the troop used their dues money to buy coloring books, crayons and toys. Shown in the picture are, front row, left to right, Bobby Armstrong, Jessie Roberts, Aaron Batzdorfer; second row, Eric Bertke, Ryan Kelemen, Nathaniel Cooper; third row, Don Reilly, Howard Bentley, and Joel Yates. Standing in back are co-leaders Lisa Bertke and Cindy Batzdorfer. The boys are all second graders at North School.

Does your child have SCOLIOSIS?

Chiropractors, as pioneers of spinal research, recommend that the best time to detect scoliosis is when the child is in the most vulnerable years (4-10 years old). Scoliosis, which is the lateral or side to side curvature of the spine, can eventually cripple a person. Unfortunately, without early detection, it can remain unnoticed until it has progressed to crippling proportions. Have your child checked for scoliosis by a doctor of chiropractic. The curvature can often be corrected or reduced through regular chiropractic adjustments. Don't let your children suffer needlessly.

DOLORES FREYSINGER was caught by our photographer as she was wearing an unusual Christmas gift on her jacket. The gift, from her husband, Walter, is a Santa Christmas stocking with a nose that lights up. The stocking is stuffed with two crisp $100 bills.

The original St. Nicholas was a 4th century Turkish bishop. According to legend, he dropped a bag of gold coins down a chimney into a stocking a poor girl had hung up by the fireplace to dry.

State Farm Bureau Continues Fight Against Premium Tax

Michigan Farm Bureau is continuing its fight against a proposal, now in conference committee, that would put a 2% tax on insurance premiums. According to Farm Bureau legislative counsel Howard Kelly, the tax would be particularly detrimental to Michigan's agricultural industry.

"It is a tax that is tantamount to a sales tax because it will have to be passed along to farmers," Kelly said. "Our domestic companies write 95% of the farmowners' business in Michigan. Foreign insurance companies leave the state when a particular line of business becomes unprofitable and we need to have an industry here that will write that business, one that is committed to the people they serve."

Kelly said Farm Bureau is encouraging its members to let their legislators know how the premium tax would impact them and the state's agricultural industry.

The swim team finished their busy week by competing in the EMU Relays at Eastern Michigan University Saturday, Dec. 12.

The team swam well at this all-relay meet as they placed third with 91 points behind state-ranked Milan (137) and class A Monroe (126).

Finishing second was the 200-yard medley relay of Paddock, Oesterle, Brown, and Schmid.

The 400-yard individual medley team of Draper, Paddock, Brock and Doan finished third.

The 200-yard freestyle relay team of Lewis, Acker, Schmid, and Doan finished fifth.

The 200-yard butterfly relay team of Brown, Draper, Acker, and Brock also finished third.

The 200-yard backstroke team of Birtles, Hosner, Draper and Paddock finished fourth.

Finally, the 200-yard breaststroke relay of Merkel, Brock, Oesterle and Doan finished third.

"I was very pleased with our performance as we were sixth last year," Keeler said. "We have shown a lot of improvement since last year."

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEW BOOK LIST

THE VELVET JUNGLE by Julie Ellis. The Velvet Jungle is centered on New York City's Seventh Avenue, the fashion capital of America. In her most romantic and richly plotted novel to date, a master storyteller traces the rise of Vanessa Conrad from poverty and overwhelming personal loss to wealth and fame in the world of international fashion and final fulfillment as a woman.

WEAVE-WORLD by Clive Barker. Here is storytelling on a grand scale—the stuff of which a classic is made. Weave-World begins with a rug, into which a world has been woven. It is the world of the Seerkind, a people more ancient than man, who possess raptures—the power to make magic. In the unspeakable horror known as the Scourge, and, threatened with annihilation, they worked their strongest raptures to weave themselves and their culture into a rug for safekeeping. Since then, the rug has been guarded by human caretakers. The last of the caretakers has just died. In the course of the novel the rug is unwoven, and we travel deep into the glorious raptures of the Weave-World before we witness the final, cataclysmic struggle for its possession.

THE BONFIRE OF THE VANITIES by Tom Wolfe. A big, panoramic story of the metropolis—the kind of fiction strangely absent from our literature in the second half of this century—that reinforces Tom Wolfe's reputation as the foremost chronicler of the way we live in America. Wolfe's gallery ranges from Wall Street, where people in their thirties feel like small fry if they're not yet making a million per, to the real streets, where the aim is lower but the itch is just as virulent.

LULLABY AND GOODNIGHT by Vincent Bugliosi. A beautiful, haunted woman in a glittering and corrupt era takes center stage in this sizzling novel based on a true sex scandal that rocked New York City in the Roaring Twenties. With this riveting human drama, Vincent Bugliosi evokes a legendary era and its glamorous and decadent underworld of speakeasies and bootleg gin, mobsters and flappers—a time and way of life that never ceases to fascinate.

THUMBS UP by Mollie Dickenson. Thumbs Up is the story of Jim Brady's odyssey from an idyllic boyhood in smalltown Centralia, Ill., to the White House, where he became the principal spokesman for the Reagan administration—only to be critically wounded during John Hinckley's failed assassination attempt.

THE WALL by Sal Lopes. Dedicated on Veteran's Day in 1982, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, or the Wall, as it is commonly known, is the nation's newest shrine, a mecca for the record number of Americans who flock there to commune with the dead, and the living, and who leave with a new understanding of the physical and emotional sacrifice of the Vietnam veteran.

Waller praised the play of Brown at guard, as well as the passing of Scott Larson. He said Steve Grau had a very good over-all performance.

Grau and Brown led the Pups in scoring with four points each. Waller scored three, and Brian Horn, Nick McCalla, Slane and Beauchamp each scored two.

The Pups had a 3-1 record after last week's play.

1. Register at either high school Wednesday, December 16, from 6-8 p.m.
2. Register at WCC's main campus in Ann Arbor. On-campus registration happens December 14-22 and January 4-5. Call 973-3650 for daily registration hours.

You should keep in mind that a minimum of 12 students is required for each class. The decision to continue the class will be made on the first night of class. Also, please remember that we cannot accept credit cards and you'll be required to pay the full tuition at the time you register.

College on T.V.

We also offer Telecourses — credit classes in topics like economics, business, psychology and computers. You watch special programs on television — at your convenience — and meet periodically on campus with your instructor. Call the Telecourse Hotline at 973-3671 for more information.

DEATHS

Dwight C. Harr

Grass Lake
Dwight Charles Harr of Grass Lake, age 84, died Thursday, Dec. 10 at his home.

He was born Sept. 24, 1903, the son of Samuel Harr and Pauline Rothman. He was a life-long resident of Waterloo township.

Mr. Harr was a sheep farmer. He was an original member of the Waterloo Band, playing the saxophone.

He is survived by two sisters, Gertrude Harr and Electa Harr, both at home. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Victor and Clayton.

Funeral services were held Dec. 12 at 1 p.m. at the Caskey Funeral Home with the Rev. Larry Nichols officiating. Burial was at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Waterloo.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Individualized Home Nursing Care.

Funeral arrangements were by the Caskey Funeral Home, Stockbridge.

Marian F. Wint

805 W. Middle St.
Chelsea

Marian F. Wint, age 90, died Thursday, Dec. 10 at Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home.

She was born July 13, 1897 in Palmyra, the daughter of William Lewis and Eliza (French) Graves. She had resided in Adrian and Ann Arbor before she married Raymond Wint on Aug. 18, 1924 in Ann Arbor. He preceded her in death in August of 1975.

She attended the West Side Methodist church in Ann Arbor.

She is survived by her daughter and son-in-law, the Rev. James and Charlotte Simmons of Clinton; four granddaughters, Mary Hughes and Judy Trenton of Milford, Pamela Simmons of Strongsville, O., and Candace Chenoweth of Phoenix, Ariz.; one grandson, Bruce Tefteau of California; and 10 great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by seven sisters, two brothers, and her daughter, Beverly Sycora.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Dec. 12 at 1 p.m. at the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel with the Rev. James Simmons officiating. Burial was in Palmyra Cemetery in Palmyra.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

Arrangements were handled by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

WE'RE REALLY COOKN' NOW

JIM FINCH, long-time Chelsea resident and former village trustee, shared his recipe for Tunnel of Fudge Cake with Chelsea Standard staff. His sample cake didn't last long at our offices. "I'm off this time of year, so I do all the baking," says the Chrysler Proving Grounds employee.

Jim Finch's Tunnel of Fudge Cake

This cake is sure to be a crowd pleaser for your holiday dessert. It's also a must for chocoholics.

INGREDIENTS:

1½ C butter
6 eggs
1½ C sugar
2½ C flour
1 package (1 layer) fudge frosting
1 package instant chocolate pudding

Cream butter, then add eggs one at a time, beating well after each one. Gradually add sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. By hand, fold in flour, frosting and pudding mix. Bake at 325 degrees in a greased tube pan for 60-65 minutes. Cool two hours before removing from the pan.

Gregory Woman's Mother Found Dead in Ann Arbor Park

A Gregory woman's 62-year-old mother was found dead in Veteran's Park in Ann Arbor Saturday morning Dec. 12 after she apparently wandered from her home the previous night.

The woman, Verna Gauthier, mother of Linda Morseau of Gregory, died of exposure, according to Ann Arbor police. Her body was found about 10 a.m. in the parking lot, located near her Dexter Ave. home. She was wearing a coat and dress. Shower thongs were found nearby. Police said she had been dead about two hours.

Happy Holidays!

In 1985, 19.9 million persons registered with the state employment services, 8.3 million received job-related services, and 3.8 million were either placed in jobs or obtained jobs after receiving some services, according to the 1986 annual report of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Chelsea Police Nab Escapists From Cassidy Lake Prison

Chelsea police captured two escapists from Cassidy Lake Technical School early Wednesday morning Dec. 9.

Sgt. Frank Kornexl was on patrol traveling north on Main St. shortly before 2 a.m. when he saw Henry C. Lewis, 19, and Joseph L. Jones, 20, near Richardson's Automotive store on N. Main St.

Both men ran, one west and one north. Kornexl drove to Lewis, who was running north, stopped him and asked for identification. Lewis again fled on foot and Kornexl gave chase through Chelsea Milling trailers before finally capturing him in the back yard of a Buchanan St. home.

Jones was later found hiding under a Jiffy Mix truck trailer.

Christmas is your traditions. Those traditions which your family observes. Some old. Some new. Making old and new Christmas traditions blend to reflect you, your style, your love, your family and friends. Even the warmth you share with a stranger is what makes Christmas memories that last forever.

CANDACE AND BRANDON HALL gave Santa an earful last Saturday afternoon as the youngsters gave a detailed account of what they'd like for Christmas. Santa has hugged an awful lot of children the last couple of week-ends as his visits have been sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association. He'll be at the VFW Hall again this Saturday from 1-3 p.m.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS in Chelsea held their Christmas party last Sunday, Dec. 13 at the K. of C. Hall. Young Bradley Hinderer, 15 months, didn't have a very long Christmas list, but Santa was happy to talk to him just the same. At left is Santa's helper Robin Phelps. Bradley's mom, Sally, watches Santa pat her son's turn.

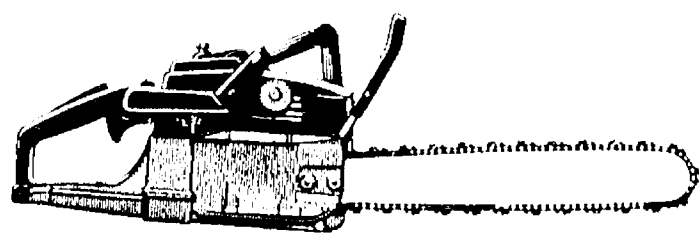

CHAD STARKEY shoots for two of his 10 points against the Saline Hornets last Friday. The Hornets won the contest, 77-56 in Chelsea.
