THIS IS ALL THAT WAS LEFT of a brand new 3,800-square-foot home on S. Lima Center Rd. after fire destroyed it early last Friday morning. Robert and Arly

Spink of Chelsea were making preparations to move into the home.

THIS IS THE HOME of Arly and Robert Spink of Chelsea as it appeared days before it burned to the ground last Friday morning. The 3,800-square-foot home sat by itself in a woods off S. Lima Center Rd. The Spinks were within two weeks of moving in.

Friday Fire Destroys New Home on Lima Center Rd.

Firemen from Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester battled a fire that destroyed a new home on S. Lima Center Rd. early last Friday morning.

The glow of flames from the blaze, at 1457 S. Lima Center Rd., could be seen as far away as I-94 and Fletcher Rd., according to Chelsea Fire Chief Bud Hanked.

By the time firemen arrived, Hanked said, about all that was still standing was the garage.

The 3,800-square-foot home was to be the new residence of Robert and Arly Spink of East St. in Chelsea and was less than two weeks away from completion. Arly Spink said the home was valued at more than $300,000. She said they plan to start rebuilding as soon as possible.

Firemen were called to the secluded scene shortly after 5 a.m. but Spink estimated the home had been burning since at least 1 a.m.

"The only thing we know for sure," said Hanked, "is that the fire started in the south corner of the house. We may never know what caused the fire."

The home was on rolling hills in a heavily-wooded area. Several large trees around the home were singed from the heat but none burned to the ground. Spink said they may lose three or four trees.

Wind was not blowing that morning, which may have saved the entire woods from burning down, Spink said.

Bridges Threatens Legal Action If Village Refuses To Plow Snow

The developer of Bridgetown Condominiums threatened to file a class action law suit against the Village of Chelsea if the village refuses to provide snow plowing services to the new development.

Lloyd Bridges made the threat at the Tuesday, Jan. 19 meeting of the village council.

Bridges said that residents of his development should be provided the service because they will be village taxpayers.

"I'm asking for the taxpayers in Bridgetown to get the same services the residents of Washington St. get," Bridges told the council.

"I don't want to start a class action lawsuit. I want to be fair, that's all I'm asking of (the village)."

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite told Bridges that the village cannot provide the service because Bridgetown is a private development with private streets. He said that if the village provides the service, the village could be sued if there's an accident or some other problem because the streets would be considered public. He cited unpaved Gene Dr. on the western edge of the village as a similar situation.

In addition, assistant village manager Lee Fahrner said the Bridgetown site plans were approved with non-standard street dimensions and that Bridges understood the special conditions the streets entailed.

"From the very beginning you chose to develop a project with a private street standard," Fahrner said.

"We discussed all of this way back at our very first meeting."

Bridges told the council that the streets in his project are open for public right of way and therefore should be considered public streets.

"How can you call them private streets when they are open to the public?" Bridges asked.

The streets in the condo project will be 29 feet wide, four feet narrower than standards specified by the village for village streets. The streets had to be narrower in order for

List of Probable Candidates Grows

Two more village residents have picked up petitions to run in the March 14 village elections, but one of them won't say what he wants to run for.

Former village president Charlie Ritter has a petition but would not say on the record what office he plans to seek. Up for election are three village trustee seats, village president, treasurer and two McKune Memorial Library board seats.

Richard Rigg, 143 E. Middle St., has also picked up a petition to run for village trustee. However, he says he hasn't made up his mind whether to run or not. Rigg, a 10-year village resident, is an engineer at Chrysler Proving Grounds. In the mid 1970s he served as a village trustee in Manchester.

Most incumbents have also picked up petitions, including village president Jerry Satterthwaite, treasurer Katie Chapman, trustees Phil Boham, Joe Merkel and Gary Bentley, and library board member Anne Merkel. Trustee Richard Steele also plans to run for village president.

Again, no one has shown interest in running for village assessor.

Anyone interested in running for office has until 4 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 8 to return a petition to village clerk Allen Anderson. Petitions must have the signatures of a minimum of 50 registered village voters.

Village Discusses Landfill Licensing Problems With Grand Rapids Law Firm

By Brian Hamilton

Village of Chelsea has talked to a Grand Rapids law firm about representation in its fight with the Department of Natural Resources to obtain a landfill operating permit.

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite made the announcement during a discussion of the landfill situation at the Tuesday, Jan. 19 meeting of the village council. It was the first public discussion of the situation at a meeting of the council and further indication that the village intends to fight the DNR and not give in to demands.

The village has asked for a proposal from the law firm of Barnum, Riddering, Schmidt & Howlett, a firm that specializes in toxic waste issues. The DNR is holding up issuance of an operating license because it contends that tests of monitoring wells show the village landfill on Werkner Rd. has contaminated the groundwater. Both sides are awaiting the results of a second round of tests.

The Grand Rapids firm is also representing the village in another case involving the dumping of a small amount of PCB-contaminated oil at a toxic waste dump in Missouri recommended by the Environmental Protection Agency. The site has since been found to have seriously contaminated the surrounding environment.

The landfill became the topic of discussion after Dr. Lee Rome, who lives west of the landfill, expressed concern that his well water might be contaminated and asked about the status of the situation.

"I would hope that if something does show up (in tests) that it is viewed as writing on the wall," Rome said. "There are a lot of people who live around there and it does create a lot of anxiety."

Satterthwaite invited Rome to inspect the landfill.

"You won't see anything bubbling out of the ground, if that eases your fears any," Satterthwaite said.

"What's showing up in the monitoring wells is what you would get out of household refuse. We're pretty certain and pretty confident that with the general flow of the water that it's not a hazardous dumpsite. I seriously doubt if it would be a threat to the west and I seriously doubt if it would be a threat to anybody."

Satterthwaite said the village is in a "catch-all situation" because the village has complied with DNR rules since the landfill was dug but now the DNR "says that ain't so." The DNR wants the village to sign a consent decree saying the village will assume all responsibility for a clean-up.

"We're not going to put that burden on ourselves," Satterthwaite said.

"Because the state has to hold a lot of the responsibility. They're the ones that told us to buy the site in the first place, that it was the ideal site. They're the ones that led us down the path. If there is a problem, they're going to have to share it as far as I'm concerned."

Trustee Phil Boham said, "all this publicity did not surface as a result of a question about the quality of the groundwater or some contamination out there. It was more around the re-issuance of a license. The rhetoric that has gone back and forth, as far as I'm concerned, is bureaucratic B.S. to delay the process of getting a license."

Insurance Requirements For July 4th Fireworks Tripled by Village Council

Organizers of a Chelsea Fourth of July fireworks show are being required to furnish a $3 million liability insurance policy, three times the amount that was required in 1987.

On Tuesday, Jan. 19 Chelsea Village Council adopted a set of written guidelines governing the traditional event. The two-trustee committee of Richard Steele and Dennis Hall studied the question and presented the eight-point plan to council.

"$3 million is all I'm going to accept," said Hall, who studied the insurance question.

"That was the amount that was advised by the people I talked to, so that's what we need."

Hall said that Harold Allen, the organizer of the show, would probably have to contact a company like Lloyd's of London or another company that specializes in high risk insurance in order to obtain a policy. The village's insurance carrier will not cover fireworks shows. Hall would not guess how much the policy might cost.

"Sure we can buy a $3 million policy if we have enough money, but is it feasible to buy one?" Allen asked the council.

Even if Allen meets all the requirements, the show still may not be authorized by the village, according to Village President Jerry Satterthwaite.

"The biggest concern we have is not with the fireworks show, because the fireworks are being shot off professionally," Satterthwaite said.

"The biggest problem we have is with the crowds."

"Guys sit on top of buildings now to watch it. If the shopping mall's in full bore, you've got construction, machinery and everything else," Satterthwaite was referring to the impending construction of a shopping mall next to the fairgrounds, where the fireworks show takes place.

"Do the taxpayers of Chelsea derive any benefit out of it?" Satterthwaite asked.

"There's a lot of people, but how many of them are actually residents of Chelsea?"

A May 3 deadline was set for Allen to meet all of the village's requirements, including proof that an insurance party naming the village and village council as insured parties. A Dec. 31 deadline has been set for shows after this year.

Allen must also prove that he is a non-profit organization. Last year he said he was operating under the name Chelsea Community Fireworks, Inc. However, he told council last week that he did not file his incorporation papers because he discovered that he would have to pay taxes on money he

North School First Grader Hit By Car While Waiting for Bus

A North school first grade boy was hit by a car last Thursday morning, Jan. 21 on North Territorial Rd. as his mother and terrified school mates watched in horror.

According to Washtenaw County

Sheriff's Deputy Jon Seicluna, Billy Lucas, age 6, suffered a concussion and a broken leg, but no life-threatening injuries after being hit by a westbound car driven by an 18-year-old Ann Arbor woman. Lucas was listed in fair condition on Friday at University of Michigan Hospital.

The accident occurred at 8:05 a.m. as Lucas and at least three other children were preparing to cross the road to wait for their school bus, which was not in the immediate vicinity, Seicluna said. The boy apparently did not hear his mother's warning not to cross the road and darted out in front of the car, he said.

Seicluna said no charges were filed against the woman, who was apparently driving below the speed limit on the slippery roads.

Assistant school superintendent Fred Mills said school officials went to the boy's classroom shortly after the accident to inform the children.

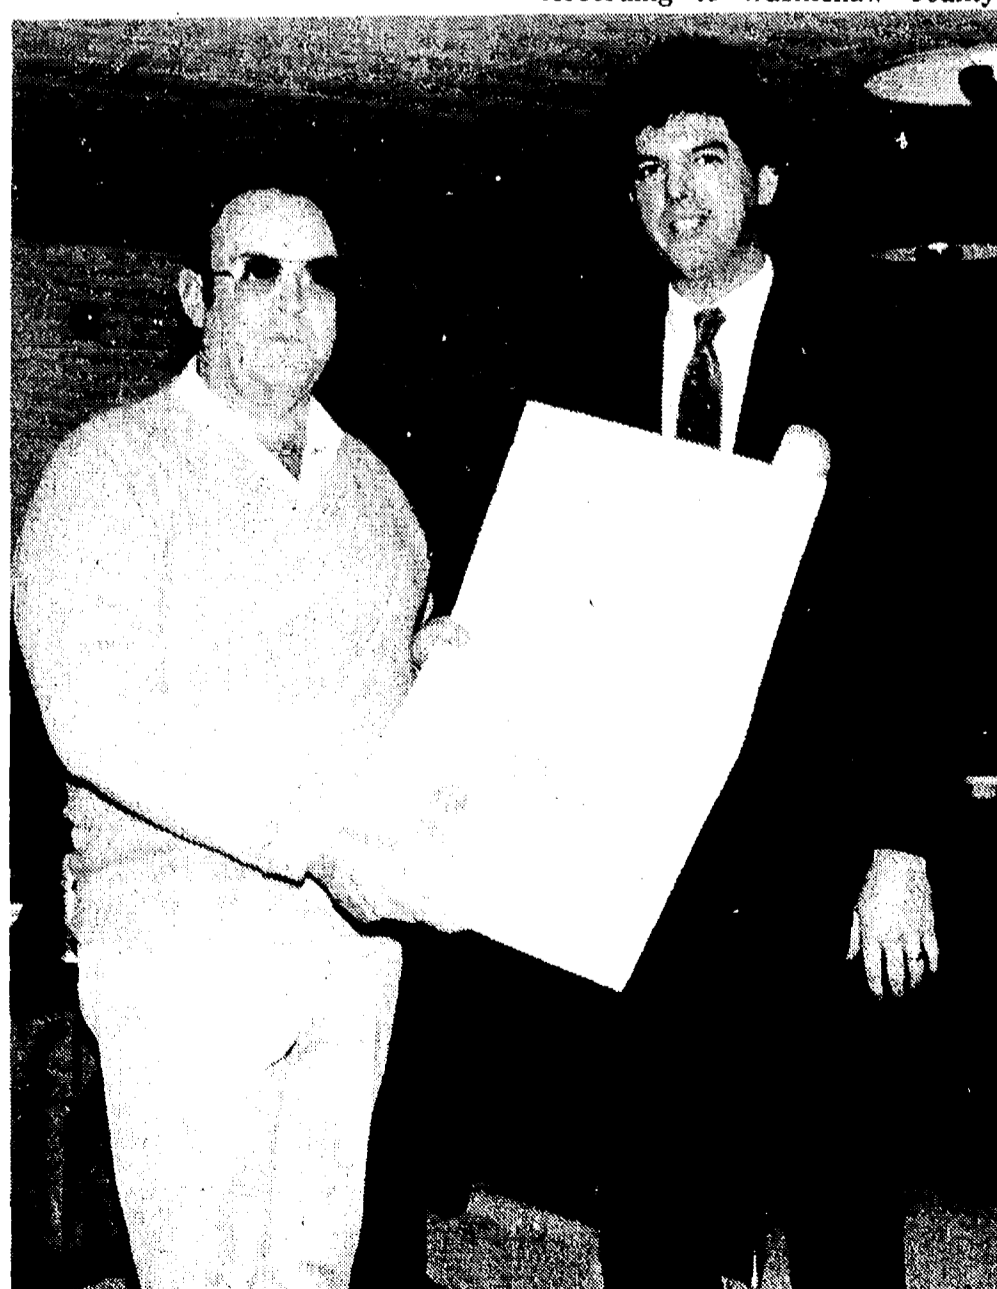

"We told them it was all right to cry and feel bad about it," Mills said.

Drunk Driver Hits Police Car

A Concord woman who was stopped by Chelsea police on M-52 as she was driving south in the northbound lane backed her car up into the patrol vehicle, causing minor damage.

The woman, Frieda Joanne Givens, 27, left the Village Mobil Station driving in the wrong lane in a 1979 pick-up truck when she was stopped by police, according to reports. After both vehicles were stopped, she backed into the patrol unit, police said.

Givens was cited for drunk driving, police said.

EDSON WHITAKER, left, was named Farmer of the Year by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea Monday night. Presenting a plaque to Whitaker is club president Warren Atkinson. Edson is part of a Chelsea-area farming family that goes back to the 1830s.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Taiwan's Billion-Dollar Shopping Spree in U. S.
Could Benefit Michigan Farmers
With foreign exchange reserves topping $75 billion, the Republic of China (Taiwan) will be dispatching special "Buy American" Procurement Missions to the United States this year to make sizeable purchases of American agricultural and industrial products, according to Warren Hoyt, executive director of the Michigan Press Association.

Hoyt, who has made several fact finding trips to Taiwan, Mainland China and Japan, returned from the R.O.C. last week where he and a small delegation of midwest journalists met with top government officials and political leaders in an effort to observe and report on the political, economic and social progress in Taiwan.

During an interview with the R.O.C.'s vice-minister of Economic Affairs, Wang Chien-shien, Hoyt learned that in their effort to improve the balance of trade between our two countries, Taiwan will be increasing its purchases this year from the United States, with a significant emphasis on agriculture. The R.O.C. is already the biggest buyers of American agricultural commodities and products. Currently the United States provides 100% of Taiwan's soybean imports, 99% of its corn, 80% of its cotton and 64% of its apples. Taiwan buys more American apples than any other foreign customer. In fact, the vice-chairman stated his country was the United States' largest purchaser of apples, citing the fact that they could buy them much cheaper from the U.S. than from their own farmers.

He said 14 procurement missions have been dispatched to the U.S. during the past decade, with spending totalling more than $10 billion in purchases.

Asked how Michigan could attract a bigger share of those "Buy American" dollars, the vice-minister said he would encourage our state to establish a trade office, noting that an increasing number of American states are setting up offices in Taiwan to assist R.O.C. businessmen in making U.S. investments.

So far, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, Missouri, Mississippi, Utah, Texas, Maryland, and Indiana have either established or intend to open offices in Taiwan for direct dealings.

Wang Chien-shien also pointed out that as an inducement, states which have a formal "sister-state" agreement with Taiwan are given free office space in their newly opened world trade center in Taipei.

In a subsequent meeting with American businessman James R. Klein, president of General Instrument of Taiwan, Ltd., headquartered in Taipei, the importance of one's "presence" was reiterated for anyone wanting to do business there. Klein, an American residing 17 years in Taiwan who is immediate past president of the Asian Chamber of Commerce, said he couldn't stress enough the importance of states establishing offices there and having a person selling in Taiwan, and stated: "states are filling a vacuum smaller companies can't afford in order to cover the territory." He also noted that states such as Michigan which have a trade office in Hong Kong, still need personal presence in Taiwan in order to market effectively there, and stated that "in states which have more than one person in their Hong Kong office, one of them should be assigned to Taipei, even if it costs $100,000 per year to do it, results would more than justify the move."

When asked his feelings about states having "sister-states" relationships with provinces in Mainland China and Taiwan, his response was "no problem! Many do and have had no negative results from either relationship."

According to Dr. Paul Kindinger, director of Michigan's Department of Agriculture, "we have met with the Counsel General from the R.O.C.'s Chicago office and extended an invitation to have buying missions visit Michigan and see what we have to offer." He said: "there are ongoing discussions within the administration on how to best develop a greater rapport with Taiwan," and that "there is a definite interest on both sides, because Taiwan has the money and the needs, while we have the products and the ability to meet their demands."

New Markets

The R.O.C. opened its market to American cigarettes, beer, and wine on Jan. 1 of this past year, and the R.O.C. also agreed to allow U.S. banks to join the United Debit Credit System in Taiwan. Licenses also have been issued to some U.S. insurance firms to offer several types of insurance on the island, services previously closed to foreign companies. Finally, virtually all major U.S. fast food companies are operating franchises all over the island.

Gearing Up for World Trade

From Hoyt's perspective, "Michigan could be more aggressive in soliciting Taiwan's business." He also feels the state would be wise to get in on the ground floor and establish a presence there, because he sees even a greater potential as the R.O.C. is fast becoming one of the world's leading trade centers, noting that when Hong Kong falls under the domain of Mainland China in 1997, there is a real possibility that much of their trade activity could be shifted to Taiwan. "It's strategically located on all the world's shipping lanes to Asia and boasts one of the largest and busiest ports in the world."

Traveling to the port city of Kaohsiung on the southwest tip of Taiwan, Hoyt said, "it's evident that the R.O.C. is gearing up for significantly more shipping activity in that part of the world." After having met with Kaohsiung port officials and touring the harbor facilities, Hoyt observed: "Kaohsiung is now one of the world's largest container transshipment centers in the far east and will soon become the leading bulk commodities shipment center in Asia," handling 100 million tons of freight annually." Hoyt goes on to say, it is expected to become one of the top international seaports in the world in terms of freight handled and physical size resulting from huge expansion projects now under way."

Did You Know?

The Republic of China on Taiwan, with a population of only 19 million, is the fourth largest trading partner of the United States? The R.O.C. has lowered tariffs by nearly 50 percent on over 850 items in 1987 already. There will be 1,700 other items named for tariff reductions by the end of the year.

The R.O.C. has revalued its currency (the New Taiwan dollar) about 30 percent against the U.S. dollar in the last two years alone. On an average the R.O.C. citizens spent U.S. $270 per capita on American goods in 1987, while Americans spent only U.S. $80 per capita on made-in-Taiwan goods. The R.O.C. purchased 10 U.S. jets in this past year, valued at U.S. $1.7 billion. Six of these were the new Boeing 747-400's.

It's been agreed American service industries can open their doors in the R.O.C. markets. Four U.S. insurance companies can open per year and U.S. banks can expand their services offered in Taiwan.

A McDonald's in Taiwan holds the world record for the highest revenue earned in one month. The U.S. car rental business is also making inroads in the R.O.C. Hertz-Rent-A-Car has begun operation in two major cities.

The R.O.C. has offered to make itself a free trade zone for the U.S., immediately removing existing trade barriers, if the U.S. will adopt an equal policy toward the R.O.C.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers were lamenting at the country store Saturday night about folks that run around yelling "charge" a month ago now are counting all the chickens coming home to roost. There is a heap of talk this time of year about paying bills, Ed Doolittle noted, which probable explains where North Carolina Sen. Terry Sanford was coming from the other day.

Ed had saw where Sanford had worked up a bill he says will make borrowing easier for farmers. Fer his money, Ed declared, that's the same as making booze handier fer drunks. What we need, Republican Ed said, is a farm program that opens up markets, not one that greases the skids into debt.

Practical speaking, the trouble most farmers are seeing now started with borrowing. As soon as they found out they could borrow all they wanted they forgot their raisings and went fer the big bundle. Fer sure, Ed said, farmers and everybody else needs credit now and agin, but farmers, of all people, know they borrow only what they need, not what they want. You put a $60,000 air conditioned, stereo equipped tractor bought with a Government loan in the field plowing corn you got to sell for a support price set by the Government, Ed said, and you're riding fer a hard fall.

Democrat Clem Webster said he would admit that some of our farmers made the mess they're in, but most of em are victims of Government policy that holds it's better economics to save the banks that lent the money the farmers can't pay back. Clem told Ed he can see the pure politics of keeping the rich rich, but fer the life of him he can't see how working folks can be lulled so easy into thinking if you're big enough you can't be allowed to fail and if you're little enough it don't matter.

Clem was of a mind that Sen. Sanford is trying to crank a little humanity into the politics of Government services. Fer sure, Clem declared, we ain't got a surplus of that, and you won't find a better place to start than on the small farm. Fer all our technology and computerized everything, Clem said, the farm still is our fountainhead and if the water is polluted there it don't clear up in the pipe.

The feller that runs the store looked up from his books and said count the small businessman as part of that fountainhead. He said his problem is that he allus winds up doing the bank's job. He lets people have stuff on credit, and when they start paying back they begin with the big ones and work down. He said he's like the uninsured creditor in the bankrupt ruling where insured creditors git all there is. His situation is worst because all his accounts are less than what it would cost to go to court over em, but when you add em up they're what he would of made if he had showed a profit last year.

Actual, Zeke Grubb said, little stores are hit hard because the big chain outfits don't give credit. They take credit cards where their pay is sure, and if they take a check it has to be backed up with everything from birth certificate to a first mortgage on the house.

They use to be somepun called revolving payment, Zeke said, where credit was good as long as payments were made. Now we got revolving credit where if one store starts pushing to hard for pay, the customer goes down the street, sets up a new line of credit and keeps on buying.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Endangered Species Lecture Offered at Botanical Gardens

Dr. Sylvia Taylor will be the guest lecturer Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the U-M Matthaei Botanical Gardens auditorium. Her lecture is titled, "Recovering Michigan's Endangered Species." It is free and open to the public.

An Endangered Species expert and district wildlife biologist for the Department of Natural Resources, Dr. Taylor did much for her research at the U-M Matthaei Botanical Gardens where she succeeded in growing the only known hybrids of the white and green ash. Several specimens are in the Ash Collection at the Botanical Gardens.

From 1978-1984 Dr. Taylor oversaw all of Michigan's DNR Endangered Species recovery efforts. She is very active and instrumental in preserving the small threatened population of the Kirtland's warbler, located in the lower northern region of Michigan. Through her continued effort to regenerate Jack Pine trees which are the warblers' nesting place, these birds are continuing to grow in number.

Currently, as district wildlife biologist for the DNR, Dr. Taylor has said, "the greatest threat to our endangered species is through ignorance." Her slide illustrated lecture will address the management and development of Michigan's Endangered Species Program.

Matthaei Botanical Gardens are located at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., one mile south of the Plymouth Rd. intersection.

Bridges Threatens Legal Action

Bridges to build the maximum number of units his zoning would allow.

The village did agree to several other requests by Bridges. Council agreed to provide free electricity for eight street lights and provide garbage pick-up at the same rates other village residents pay. In addition, they agreed to let Bridges supply one sewer tap-in point per building rather than one tap-in per condominium unit, which could save Bridges up to six tap-ins in some buildings.

Bridges and Fahrner also disagreed on the definition of "building" in the village ordinances in reference to the tap-ins. Fahrner interpreted it to mean a living unit rather than a building in the usual sense of the word. Bridges took a literal interpretation. Village ordinances specify one tap-in per building.

However, Fahrner didn't press the issue when Bridges assured the council that the condominium association would pay to have sewer lines unclogged just as a private homeowner would pay for the same service. With up to seven sewer users on one tap-in, the village wouldn't know who to charge if the line becomes clogged.

In addition, Bridges said, the association would pay for street maintenance.

personally lost on the show. He said that he is planning to file his papers soon.

Allen must also reach an agreement with the Chelsea Community Fair Board before approaching the village.

Other general guidelines include: the village is not obligated to sponsor more than one show; the police chief can cancel the event at any time if there are too many complaints or there is a dangerous situation; the guidelines will be reviewed annually after each event; Allen must provide a report detailing how money was spent; and the insurance policy will have to meet the approval of the village's insurance carrier.

Council postponed a decision about helping to defray any insurance bill until after all the costs are known.

10 to 1 Gambling Odds
—Plus Fishing,
Euchre and Music

For anyone who enjoys games of chance, Monte Carlo night at the American Legion Winter Carnival is just about tops. The date is set for 8 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 6 and, for anyone used to Michigan lottery odds, the chances of winning at Monte Carlo are positively remarkable. You get $1 million worth of playing money for only five bucks—enough for most people to play all evening and—win or lose—still have enough left for the exciting prize auctions. These follow immediately after the games at the tables.

Monte Carlo is an annual event, sponsored by American Legion Post 31 and the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. The informal affair offers a Saturday night of dice and blackjack as well as a readily-learned card game—7-over-and-under. You have your choice of games, or you can move from table to table during the evening and play them all.

The gambling is licensed by the Michigan Lottery Commission but at Monte Carlo (moved from the French Riviera to Chelsea for this one gala night) there are no astronomical odds. Just something like 10 to 1. With tickets at $5 apiece, you could drive home with $5, $10 or $50 in prizes after a great evening of entertainment.

It all works like this: Your $5 ticket entitled you to $1,000,000 in playing money. You take this to the table of your choice where you and your companion can shoot craps or play cards like the Count and Countess of Monte Carlo. Foods, foaming brew and wine are available all evening.

What is so different at Chelsea's Monte Carlo is the social atmosphere. You are having a good time gambling with people you know or recognize from your own town or township. The snacks which are served throughout the evening have the good taste of Chelsea home cooking. In addition to fellow players, you share the same tables with volunteer dealers—store friends, lawyers, school officials, farmers, teachers, bankers, firemen or anyone else recruited by the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club.

Some Monte Carlo night guests aren't familiar with craps or blackjack, and others haven't played for a long time. Such players are coached (if they wish) by affable Legionnaire hosts. The war veterans circulate on both gaming floors, welcoming the chance to be of help. Because so much luck is involved in a cast of the dice or a turn of the cards, every player has a good chance of winning.

Winning what? Another million dollars in non-negotiable play money?

Say not so! Following the end of play at the tables, the thrills of the auctions begin. Fun money becomes the currency you use in bidding for valuable prizes donated by local business owners. Prize lists are still being determined for this year, but Monte Carlo auctions in the past have resulted in spirited bidding for dinner-for-two at distinguished Chelsea and Ann Arbor restaurants, sports equipment and sports apparel, jugs of wine and premium hams. Prizes this February may well include films and photos, hairdos, video cassettes, tools and gasoline.

THREE DAY SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

The American Legion Winter Carnival begins on Friday evening, Feb. 5 and runs through Sunday, Feb. 7 with these events:

EUCHRE TOURNAMENT—Begins at 7:30 Friday evening and is open to players at all levels of skill. The entry fee is $2 and the winners can look forward to attractive cash prizes.

FISHING DERBY—Saturday and Sunday angling through the ice of Cavanaugh Lake. Entry fee, good for both days, is $2. Beginners, including children, are invited to bring ice fishing gear and learn under the guidance of experts from the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. This is a skill that can last a lifetime. Prizes will be offered in the perch, panfish and pike categories.

FREE DANCING—From 2 to 5 Sunday afternoon at the Legion Home featuring the ever-popular Ruby, Kanten, Simms group.

Proceeds from the carnival are used by the Legion and the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club to support their organizations and sustain their involvement in charitable, educational and patriotic affairs. Programs of Post 31 include funds for Boys State, the Memorial Day parade, hospital equipment and sending boys and girls to the State Police Academy. The Rod and Gun Club also sends boys and girls to camps which stress conservation. The club also teaches hunting safety, provides educational materials on conservation and donates trees to churches and schools.

The Chelsea American Legion home is located on the west shore of Cavanaugh Lake at 1700 Ridge Rd.

Commander of American Legion Post 31 is Donald Doll. President of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club is Rick Monier. Both will be there to greet you.

Girl Scout Cookies On Sale Until Feb. 5

Chelsea Girl Scouts began taking orders for their annual Girl Scout cookie sale on Jan. 15. The sale will end on Friday, Feb. 5.

Cookies will be delivered to the troops March 7-11. People who did not order in advance, will be able to buy cookies at booths set up in various locations after the cookies arrive. The cookies sell for $2 a box.

This year the Scouts are offering seven varieties, all baked by ABC-Interbake: chocolate chip, thin mints, peanut butter pattie, caramel delites, shortbread, peanut butter sandwich, and lemon pastry creme.

From the very inception, the Girl Scout cookie sale has given the girls experience in goal setting, team work, human relations, and an insight into business—all while having fun.

While the Scouts are earning monies for their own troop, they are also earning money to help support the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Some of the money goes to the National Girl Scout program and some is used for special training programs for leaders and for extra activities and programs for all levels of Scouts. The HVGSC also owns three camps which are maintained by the cookie money.

This year's cookie sales theme, "Go for the Gold," ties in with the summer and winter olympics. On May 21, the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council is giving its Scouts the opportunity to participate in their own olympics, each cluster representing a different country.

The Chelsea cluster will represent the country of India. They are learning a dance, various poems and songs, and how to count to 10. They have been tasting Indian foods, and have learned a Hindu greeting "Namustay," a warm word of salutation used for hello and good-bye.

Any questions about the cookie sale should be addressed to the two cookie chairs: Judy Osinski, 475-7071, or Linda Dyer, 475-7001.

QUOTES

NOTES

DONALD A. COLE
Director

"One Thorn of experience is worth a whole wilderness of warning..."

—Lowell

Too seldom heeded is the oft-quoted phrase "experience is the best teacher." What a pity that the nature of man is such that sincere advice offered by those who have had experience, is not usually valued very highly.

Perhaps it is in recognition of this fact that Oriental peoples revered their elders who had had, and presumably profited from, actual experience. Those of us who have been through the uncertainties of life and have learned which paths to take, can only hope that those who follow us will learn to profit more from our experience than we did from those who went before us.

It's not a pleasant subject, but every adult should be fully informed about funeral services. We are available to answer any and all questions without obligation.

Fair Board Discusses New Parking Options

Gate locations and traffic were topics of discussion at the Jan. 21 meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board.

The board expects to lose the free parking it enjoyed for years just east of the fairgrounds as a new shopping center is being planned. The board will study the topic again on Feb. 13.

The board also discussed grading for new parking on recently purchased land just south of the fairgrounds.

Other topics of discussion included constructing a new building for displays rather than using a big tent.

President Bill Stoffer called the meeting to order. Other officers present were Lloyd Grau, executive vice-president, and Maryann Guenther, secretary.

Directors present were Jim Dault, Duane Bycraft, Harold Gross, Earl Heller, John Klink, Charles Koenn, Jeff Layher, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Ken McCalla, Tom Smith, Walt Zeeb and reporter John Wellnitz.

Those who attended the Fair Convention gave brief reports.

The board wished Harold Trinkle the best of luck as he is getting a new knee.

VFW Auxiliary Visits Scouts

Chelsea VFW Auxiliary was busy this month presenting American flags to two Scout troops. Jan. 12 found them at the South school music room where Girl Scout Troop No. 242 holds their weekly meetings. The 15 girls in the troop are led by Diane Johnson and Angie Smith.

On Jan. 19, the VFW Auxiliary returned to South school to the cafeteria, where Brownie Troop No. 84 holds their meetings. Leaders Sharon Radka and Karen Forshee and their 14 Brownies were given an American flag.

Each troop was told the proper way of holding, saluting, and respect toward the flag. Each was given a card with the Pledge of Allegiance on one side and the American Creed on the reverse side, plus an "Our Flag" pamphlet.

Americanism chair Eulahlee Packard, community service chair Gini Boyer, with Mac Packard from the Post, were representatives of the VFW unit. All Scouts and classrooms are presented with an American flag whenever it is reported that they are in need of one.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The article in the Jan. 20 edition of The Standard about the candidates for Superintendent was very informative. It was very complete in providing the public with times and places for interviews for these candidates.

Unfortunately, I also found it very distressing. Out of seven people qualifying for interviews, I could not find the names of any women.

I look to the school system to provide our children with positive role models for their future. We have done a wonderful job in Chelsea in providing the male children with leadership models, but what about the female half of the school population? So far, our actions have only provided them with the message that only men are qualified to administer within the school system. Have we missed the idea of affirmative action within the Chelsea School System?

Sandra Eisele.

To the Editor,

Have you noticed that empty bus going by day after day? The one that goes to Dexter and Ann Arbor and back?

What is the story? Why isn't it being used? Is the schedule wrong? Any statistics available on numbers of riders?

It seemed like such a good idea but now it looks very wasteful to see it running with no riders. Who's paying anyway?

Main Street Observer.

To the Editor,

I have read with interest letters concerning the best local athletes of Chelsea. I suggest that George Palmer's father's name, Leigh Palmer, be brought up.

When I was a lad in the 1920's my father, Wirt G. Ives, told me of how Leigh quarterbacked the Chelsea football team to great wins. That was the day of flying wedges and the pass could often be the taking of the quarterback by two halfbacks or the fullback and tossing him over the line to score a touchdown. Leigh liked my Dad who played center his freshman year. Dad dropped out of school. Leigh liked my Dad's pass from center because Dad passed it fast and hard.

I played center my senior year (1927-1928), not making much of a name for myself, but we had a wonderful combination that year—Arnold Fahner as quarterback and Fritz Steiner as right end. Our best play was to run the ball to the left side of the field and Fritz would lie down on the ground just back of the line of scrimmage far to the right. We would center the ball without a huddle and many times Fred had a clear path to the goal line.

One should not forget our good coach for many years, Harold Spaulding. I believe he played excellent football for Chelsea High though I may be wrong. His dad had the farm that burned out this last year on the Manchester Rd.

Another great athlete for Chelsea High was Claire Rowe—an all around athlete—good baseball pitcher and field man. I believe he graduated in 1918. He used to come to the high school playground and demonstrate his prowess to us kids through the years.

Don't forget that we oldsters were good athletes too!

Robert Burns Chosen Dexter Township Zoning Inspector

Robert Burns was chosen as the new Dexter township zoning inspector by the Dexter township board at their Jan. 19 meeting. He will begin his duties on March 1, replacing Merritt Honbaum, who has been zoning inspector for the last nine years.

Burns' qualifications for the job include many other township and county appointments which have familiarized him with the lay of the land and a career as a design engineer so that he will have no trouble reading blueprints.

Burns has been spending his summers in the township since 1954. In 1972 he retired from Burroughs Corp. and became a permanent resident of Dexter township.

Burns was born in Hudson and has lived in Ann Arbor and Plymouth. He has two children and three grandchildren and describes himself as "happily married."

Burns has been a township constable for 12 years. He has served both on the summer Portage Lake patrol, helping train the patrol officers, and on the marine patrol.

For four years he has been a member of the Washtenaw County Board of Public Works. He also serves on a case-by-case basis on Boards of Determination when so requested by the county drain commissioner.

If all this does not keep him busy enough, he also is employed as the Portage Lake dam operator.

Until recently, Burns served as the township blight inspector, a job which taught him every nook and cranny of the township.

He was blight inspector for two years. Asked why he preferred to be zoning inspector, he replied, "It will be something different and more challenging than blight inspector. Although I didn't make too many enemies as blight inspector, I prefer the zoning inspector job where people come to you and ask you to do something."

Burns will spend the next month being trained by Honbaum. He took home from the Jan. 19 meeting a copy of the township zoning ordinance so he can begin studying it.

Burns plans to work out of his home. Since he is retired, he is willing to work flexible hours to be worked out on a case-by-case basis.

At the township meeting, it was agreed that he would file all the original papers at the township office, but keep duplicates at home so that he can look things up.

Burns does not plan to make any big changes in the methods that Honbaum followed. He expects that once the Portage Lake sewer is put in, that his job will get much busier.

More Than 1 Million Veterans in Michigan

The Veterans Administration reported today that an estimated 1,031,300 veterans live in Michigan. Counties with the largest numbers of veterans were Wayne, with 243,110; Oakland, 124,470; Macomb, 83,300; and Kent, 53,710.

This and other information appear in a county-by-county breakdown of estimated veteran population throughout the nation as of March 31, according to Gordon W. Clowney, director of the VA Regional Office in Detroit.

Five other counties in the state showed more than 20,000 veterans. These were Genesee, 49,410; Washtenaw, 27,020; Ingham, 26,790; Kalamazoo, 25,100; and Saginaw, 22,470.

The VA official said that, nationally, more than 27.4 million servicemen and women were in civil life. An estimated 308,100 Michigan veterans had been in service during the Vietnam-era (Aug. 5, 1964 to May 7, 1975). Of these, 7,800 also served during the Korean conflict, he said. World War II veterans made up the largest group of veterans in the state, with an estimated 335,000. Of the 170,700 Korean conflict veterans in the state, 16,900 also served in World War II.

An estimated 117,600 Michigan veterans saw military service only between the Korean conflict and the Vietnam-era (Feb. 1, 1955 to Aug. 4, 1964). Approximately 5,100 World War

I veterans live in the state. There are no known Spanish-American War veterans living in Michigan. Nationally, three Spanish-American War veterans were living as of June 6.

Veterans with questions about their VA benefits were urged to contact the VA Regional Office in Detroit or veterans' service organization representatives. The VA's toll-free telephone numbers for different areas of the state may be obtained from the telephone directory.

Ann Arbor Man Faces Charge Of Disturbance

An 18-year-old Ann Arbor man who would not allow a fast food employee to leave the restaurant faces charges of causing a disturbance at a business, Chelsea police said.

According to Chelsea police, Paul E. Kennedy, of 3147 Scenic Dr., would not allow the employee, Felicia Farley, to leave Taco Bell Restaurant on Saturday, Jan. 16 beginning shortly after 5 p.m. Police said Kennedy sat on the hood of Farley's automobile and would not get off despite 45 minutes of coaxing from an acquaintance of Farley's. Kennedy also refused the requests of Chelsea police, which resulted in Kennedy's arrest.

Ice Fishing Derby Featured In Legion Winter Carnival

A two-day ice fishing derby is scheduled for Feb. 6 and 7 on Cavanaugh Lake as part of the American Legion Winter Carnival.

Fishermen and girls of all ages are invited and beginners will receive free instruction from two expert members of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club—Kimball Bear and Rick Pickell.

A $2 entry fee covers both days and prizes will be offered in the pike, perch and panfish categories. There will also be prizes in the same categories for boys and girls under 12.

Ice fishing is a sport that calls for special equipment because ordinary rods and reels are not suitable for freezing weather. One or more tip-ups may be used. These are fishing devices supported several inches above the ice and triggered so that a flag pops up when a fish begins to sample the bait.

There are also short, lightweight ice fishing poles which may be held by hand. The bait can be jigged from time to time so the motion attracts fish. A small bobber assists in the vigil.

Tiny fishhooks, sometimes colored, are made especially for this sport.

To cut circular holes in the ice, augers or spuds are needed, and such equipment will be available for the Cavanaugh Lake derby participants. Because ice keeps refreezing over the hole, it is convenient to have an ice skimmer. This is a small ladle with drain holes in the cup. First the skin of ice is broken; then the chips are ladled out of the way.

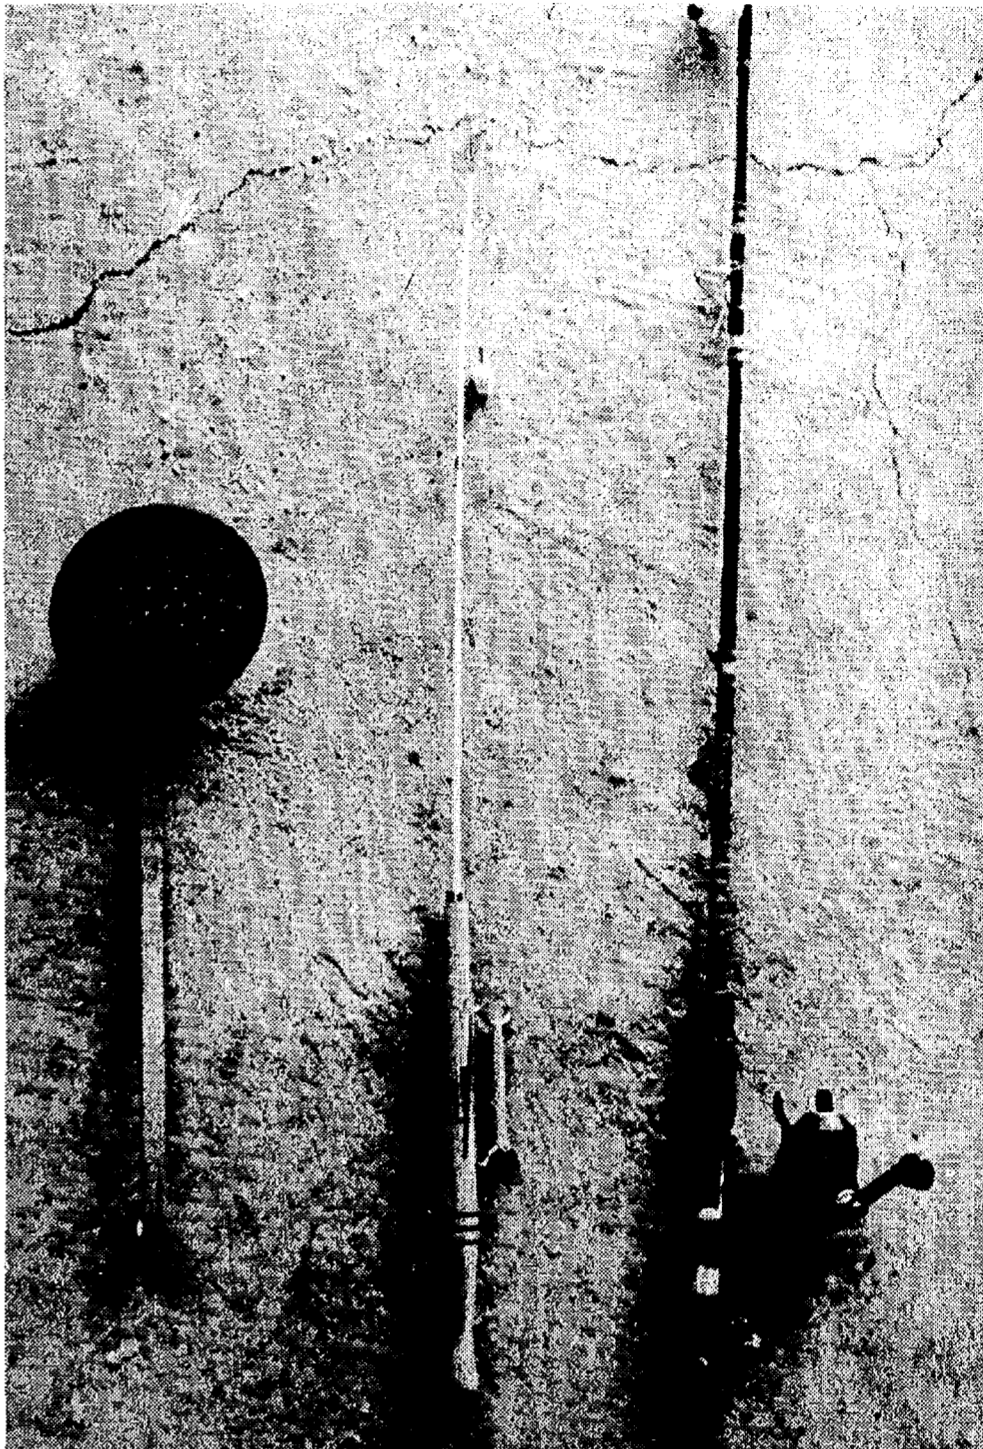

Artificial lures are available, but both the fish and their seekers prefer fresh bait such as mousies and wax-worms. These are usually available at the Cavanaugh Lake Store as well as the Sugarloaf Lake Store on Waterloo Rd. For the larger fish, such as pike, most fishers choose minnows, shiners or chubs.

A good selection of ice fishing equipment is available at Gambles and Chelsea Pro Hardware.

When ice fishing on Cavanaugh Lake, it's a good idea to take a box or stool to sit on, and a sled if you are going far out on the ice. Other than that, all you need is warm clothes and patience.

Smith, Platt On Honors List

Two local students have been named to the Central Michigan University's honors list. They are sophomore James V. Smith of Dexter and senior Sarah Platt of Manchester. Honor students are chosen from the top 10 percent of their class.

ICE FISHING EQUIPMENT includes an ice skimmer, left, and the diminutive ice fishing pole, center, which is 3½ feet long and weighs 2½ ounces. For comparison, light spincasting rod on right is 5½ feet long and weighs 10 ounces, including reel.

SHARP TEETH OF A SPUD chew a 5½-inch diameter hole in the ice for fishermen who take part in the Legion fish derby Saturday and Sunday, at Cavanaugh Lake.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Pirates Look Tough as Bulldogs Pounded Again

By Brian Hamilton

Chelsea Bulldogs ended the first half of the Southeastern Conference basketball season with an 84-65 loss to the Pinckney Pirates on the road last Friday night.

The defeat dropped the Bulldogs to 1-5 in the league and 2-9 over-all heading into this Friday's game in Saline.

In other action last week, Chelsea was also whalloped by Stockbridge at home, 69-49, in a non-conference game.

Pinckney used a full-court press from the outset to force Chelsea into numerous turnovers and take a 20-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. From then on the game was never really close, although the Bulldogs had a chance to close the gap to six points with just over two minutes to go in the third quarter.

"Pinckney has good athletes and they pressure the ball," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"And we still can't break the press consistently."

Down 43-22 early in the second half, the Bulldogs used a trapping press of their own to force Pinckney into mistakes. They outscored the Pirates 18-5 over the next five minutes and cut the deficit to 48-40. During the stretch, Larry Nix hit four field goals and Chad Starkey made three.

But after a Pinckney timeout, the Pirates scored the next eight points and essentially deflated the Bulldogs' hopes.

"If we can come back, play even for a while, and come back again we'd be all right," Raymond said.

"But when we start to catch our breath, the other team usually adds to the lead."

The officials added to Chelsea's misery in the middle of the fourth quarter by calling four technical fouls in less than 20 seconds on Nix (1) and Raymond (3).

An official followed Nix back to the bench and chastised him for his conduct, and Raymond responded by protesting the official's behavior, earning three technical fouls and ejection from the game.

Pinckney shot 10 straight free throws and turned what amounted to an eight-point play.

When the smoke had cleared, Chelsea was down 81-53.

"I can't use the officiating as an excuse for losing," Raymond said.

"We didn't get hurt any worse than Pinckney did."

Pinckney had an exceptional performance from senior guard T.W. Wylie, who scored 23 points, 16 in the fourth quarter. Junior forward Kyle Bonesteel had 16 points and center Bob Nemeth scored 15.

Chelsea turned the ball over 34 times, 10 more than their opponents.

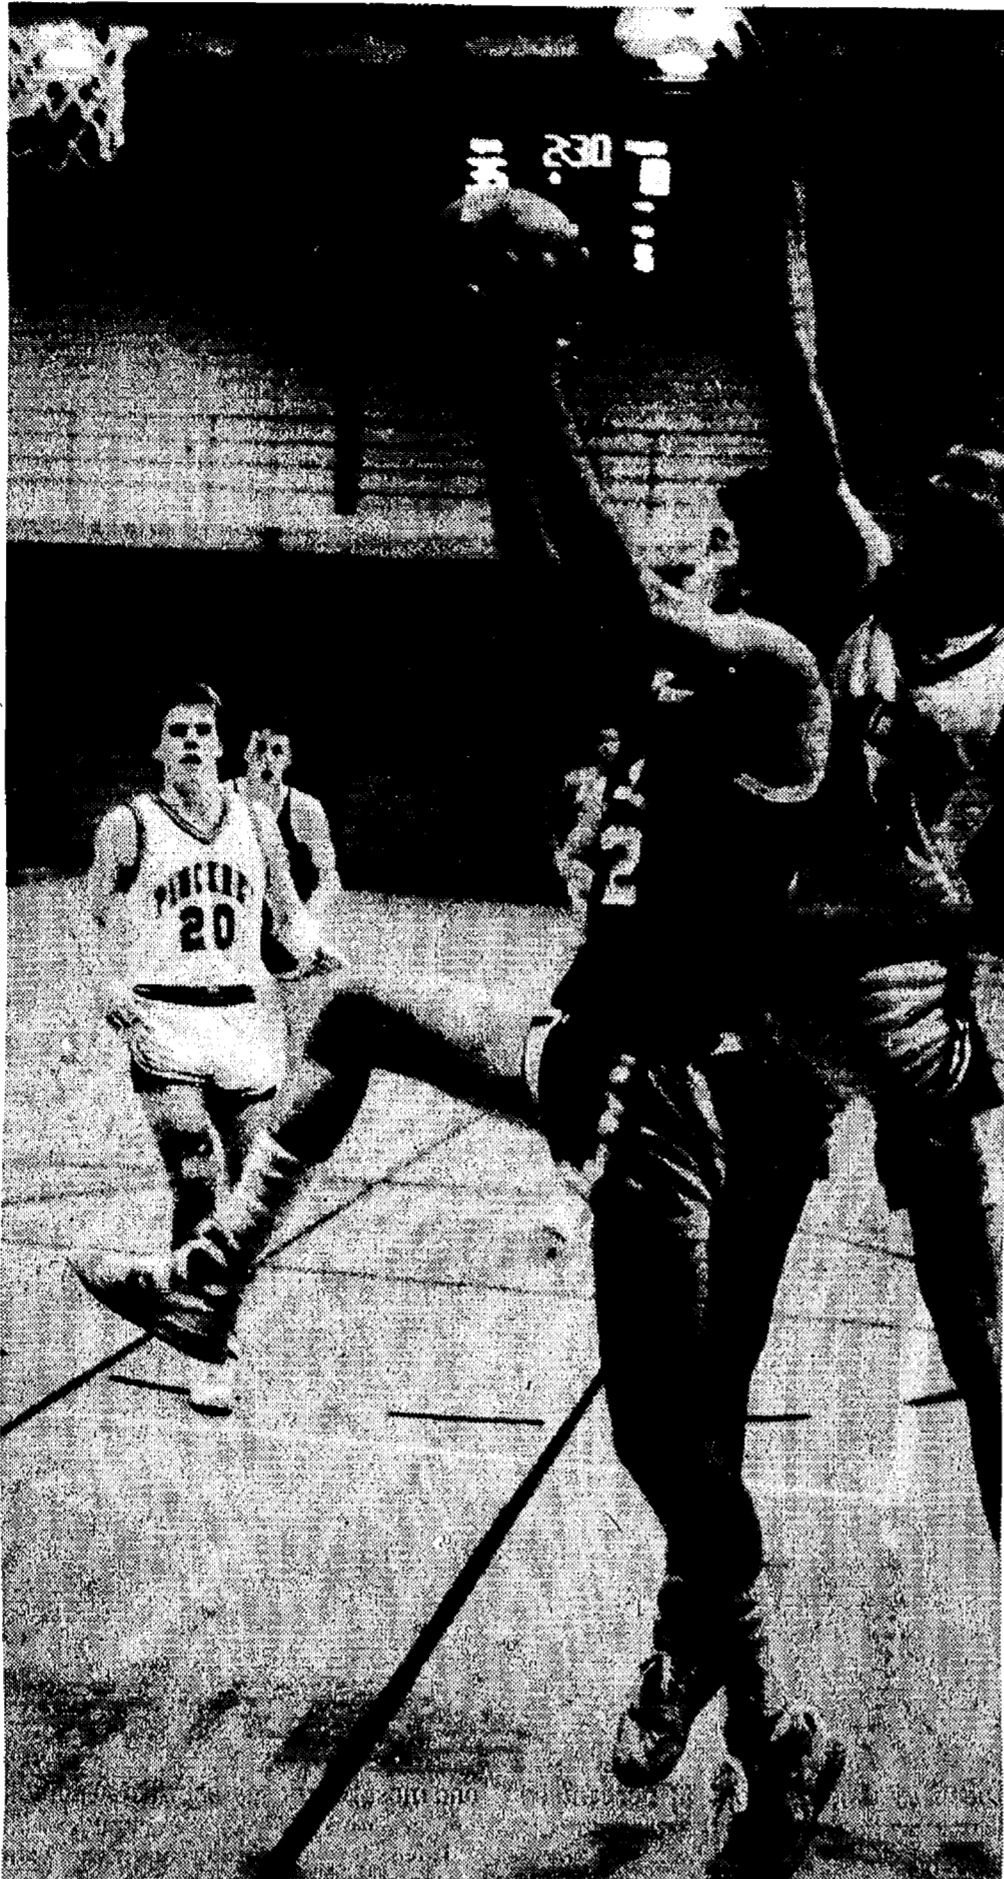

The Dogs were also beaten in most other statistical categories. Pinckney shot better than 50 percent from the field (28-53) while Chelsea was closer to 40 percent (22-51). The Pirates held a 44-35 rebound edge. They also went to the foul line 14 more times than Chelsea.

Nix led Chelsea scorers with 13 points and "played exceptionally well on offense and defense," Raymond said.

John Cattell scored 11, Starkey 10, Junior Morseau seven, Matt Monroe six, Greg Boughton, Tim Anderson, Kevin Flanigan and Phil Thomson four each, and Jeff Marshall two.

Chelsea shook their first-quarter problems against Stockbridge by taking a 15-12 lead. However, the Dogs scored just three points in the second quarter on 1-12 shooting from the field.

JVs Whip Stockbridge, Are Routed By Pirates

Chelsea Bulldog JV cagers played perhaps their worst and best games of the season in a space of three days last week as they beat Stockbridge, 59-53, on Tuesday, Jan. 19 but lost to Pinckney, 74-40, on Friday, Jan. 22.

"We played our best four quarters all year against Stockbridge," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

"We played a consistent, solid game with not a lot of mistakes and we shot the ball well."

Chelsea held a slim lead throughout most of the game, lengthening the lead to 12 points with a minute to go.

The Bulldogs' consistency showed up on the scoreboard as they scored 12, 12, 20 and 15 points.

"Stockbridge had a couple of lapses and we were able to take advantage of them," Dils said.

Kyle and Kerry Plank paced the Bulldogs with 19 and 18 points, respectively. Brian Burg scored 11, Chad Raymond had six, Chris Wilson scored four and Butch Michaud had one.

Dils praised the play of both Planks.

"When Stockbridge went to a zone,

Kyle did a good job getting the ball to the open guys. Kerry played a good over-all game which was good to see because he's struggled a little lately. Chad Raymond had one of his best games, both on offense and defense, and Chris Wilson played well."

Chelsea shot 42 percent from the field and out-rebounded the Panthers 33-28.

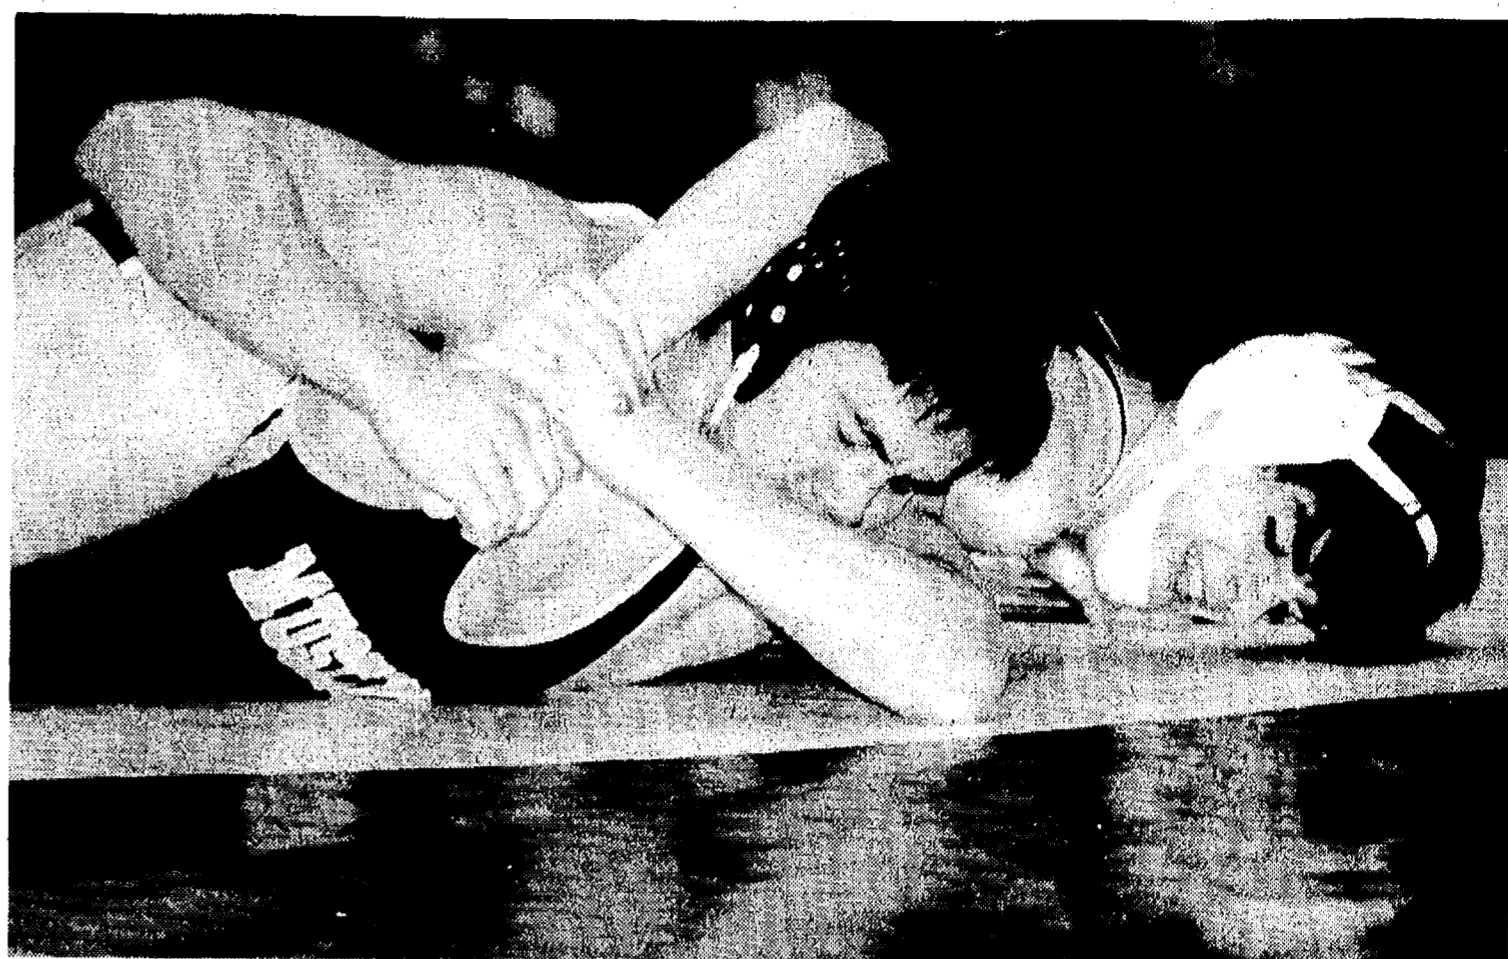

It was downhill from the very beginning at Pinckney, where Chelsea fell behind 36-8 at the end of the first quarter and was never in the game.

"Pinckney was looking forward to playing us and they were really pumped up," Dils said.

"And we came out flat. Their press killed us. We worked on it and knew exactly what they would do, but it still killed us. We had a heck of a time just getting the ball in bounds. They were a lot quicker than us and that caused a lot of problems."

The Bulldogs didn't do themselves any favors at the foul line, where they were 2-14 in the first half and 5-25 for

Bulldog Wrestlers Feel Strength of Dreadnaughts

Once again the Dexter Dreadnaught wrestling team showed it's the team to beat in the Southeastern Conference by whipping the Chelsea Bulldogs, 43-23 in the Chelsea gym last Thursday, Jan. 21.

Dexter won nine of 13 matches, including the last three in a row.

"We started out slow at the lower weights and I had to gamble at the upper weights," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"Also, as home team, you have to put your wrestler on the mat first. At a couple of weights that allowed them to make substitutions to counteract our strength."

Dexter is a team dominated by seniors and state qualifiers. Chelsea had only two seniors in the line-up.

Results of the meet follow.

98 pounds: Kelly Beard (C) was pinned by Buster Bell in 4:53.

105 pounds: Eric Hanna (C) pinned Jud Williams in 2:26.

112 pounds: Alan Hanna (C) lost to Todd Benson, 15-1.

119 pounds: Reno Nye (C) was pinned by Matt Tucker in 3:21. Tucker was third in the state last year.

126 pounds: Craig McCalla (C) pinned his cousin Jeff McCalla in 3:52.

132 pounds: Robert Kornel (C) pinned Steve Trammel in 2:29.

138 pounds: Doug Wingrove (C) was pinned by Jim Feldkamp, last year's state champion, in 2:29.

145 pounds: Dean Sutherland (C) lost a 15-9 decision to Chuck Reisinger.

155 pounds: Gary Dosey (C) lost a 5-1 decision to Mike Coval.

167 pounds: Bill Dixon (C) pinned Chris Meloche in 5:23.

185 pounds: Tim VanSchoick (C) lost to Andy Armbruster, 8-5. It was the closest of three matches the two have had this year. Armbruster has won all three.

198 pounds: Todd Thurkow (C) was pinned by Shane Dalton in 3:48.

Heavyweight: Mike Taylor (C) was pinned by Warren Bates in 3:48.

"It's not like our kids were being pinned by just average wrestlers," Kargel said.

Chelsea is 7-3 over-all in dual meets and 2-2 in the SEC.

Chelsea wrestlers took fourth place in the 16-team Athens Invitational last Saturday as nine Bulldogs placed.

"I was really pleased," Kargel said.

"It's the first time I've had nine kids place in a tournament."

Eric Hanna, at 105, and VanSchoick at 185, had the highest finishes for Chelsea, taking third.

Hanna pinned Alex Green of Martin in 2:44 and Andre Lamgston of Albion in 4:51 but lost a 16-4 decision to Eric Montgomery of Edwardsburg.

VanSchoick pinned Troy Barlow of Pennfield in 1:53 and Charlie Elliot of Lawton in 3:55 but lost to Chris Jones of Lakeview, 7-3.

Wingrove, at 138, placed fourth but may have wrestled the best of any Bulldog, Kargel said.

Wingrove knocked off the number one seed, Ben Zabik of Lawton, 5-4 in his first match. He also beat Chris Dargitz of Portage Central, 6-0.

Wingrove came close to beating Mike Pierce of Montgomery, who finished fourth in the state last year, losing 7-4. Finally, he lost to Carl Allen of Michigan Center, 10-9.

Taylor, at heavyweight, also took a fourth. He had quick pins over Dave Buell of Lawton in :25 and Tom Feivick of Edwardsburg in :54. Taylor was pinned by Mike Thier of Pennfield in :48 and lost a 7-5 decision to Anson Hibbard of Athens.

Five Bulldogs placed fifth, including Alan Hanna at 112, Nye at 119, Kornel at 132, Sutherland at 145 and Thurkow at 198.

Hanna pinned Mark Scheiber of Portage Central in :55 and Anthony Hale of Albion in 2:30, and won a 17-3 decision over Scott Decink of Lakeview. However, he lost to the eventual tournament winner, Gary Kells of Jackson Northwest, 6-2.

Nye pinned Byron Perkins of Albion in 2:43 and Mike Billon of Comstock in 4:50. He also won a 6-2 decision over Troy Osdander of Athens, but lost a decision by the same score to top seed ATHLETES OF THE WEEK are Chelsea High school seniors Phil Thomson and Jenny Pichlik. Phil is a first-year forward-center on Robin Raymond's varsity basketball team and provides rebounding strength off the bench. "Phil runs and jumps well for a forward-center," Raymond says. Phil has also been active on the school's forensics team, which last year placed 13th in the state. He's also been heard on WCHS, Chelsea High school's radio station. In his free time, Phil enjoys playing and watching sports of all kinds. Next year Phil would like to attend either Northern Michigan University or Western Michigan. He's the son of Dr. and Mrs. Philip Thomson, Sr., 840 N. Main St. Jenny is an outside hitter for the varsity volleyball team and is playing her first year of volleyball since the seventh grade. "Jenny is a good athlete and is learning quickly," says coach Karen Tobin. "Her tennis experience has made her serving and hitting very strong. She's very coachable and works hard." Jenny was also on the varsity tennis team last fall and should be a key figure on the varsity softball team this spring. In her spare time Jenny enjoys downhill skiing, swimming, tennis, movies and University of Michigan sporting events. She plans to attend college in the fall. Jenny is the daughter of Russell and Nancy Pichlik, 140 Owens Ct.

Chelsea Spikers Win Clinton Invitational

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I knew I was in for an unusual night of basketball when I arrived at the Pinckney gym last Friday and the Chelsea JV's were down by 40 points early in the third quarter.

The score was something like 58-18 and I asked a Pinckney fan behind me if maybe a couple of bulbs were burned out on the scoreboard and the score should have read 58-48.

"Nope," he said. "It was 39 points at half-time."

Chelsea has a pretty good team by JV standards, so the score came as somewhat of a shock. It was a little like seeing the Pistons down by 40 to the Lakers—except the big difference is a 40 point lead in the pros is nothing unless there's less than three minutes to go.

Chelsea and Pinckney even seemed to match up pretty well in terms of height and speed.

But it was pretty obvious that the Pirates had the better team, although probably not 40 points better.

Chelsea varsity coach Robin Raymond said it was the best JV team he's seen since he's lived here, which is pretty high praise. He said that not only are the kids basketball players, but they are top notch athletes in general.

What this means is that Pinckney is the up-and-coming power in the Southeastern Conference. In fact, the Pirates stand a good chance of winning the league this year with just five seniors on the team. They have seven juniors and two sophomores.

Next year it could be so long Saline and Lincoln, not to mention Chelsea and the rest of the league. Pinckney, long the doormat of the SEC in just about every sport, has arrived, at least in basketball.

As I said earlier, before going off on a tangent on the typesetter, it was a pretty unusual night of basketball, although the varsity Bulldogs lost in their usual fashion. They fell way behind, thanks to one horrible quarter, came most of the way back, but fell short.

Raymond was tossed from the game after receiving three technical fouls in a space of six or seven seconds. Actually, it was his fourth "T" because Larry Nix was also hit with one. The rule has been changed this year so that every time a player is penalized, the coach is too. A coach is automatically ejected after three.

So the official lost his cool and assessed more fouls than needed to get Raymond off the court. In the process, Raymond may have set a state record for this season.

The upshot was that the Pirates shot 10 straight free throws, making eight of them, and took the ball out of bounds. But Chelsea was virtually out of the game by then anyway, so the points didn't really matter.

I was sitting in the stands on the opposite side of the court and couldn't hear what Raymond said that got the official so upset. Raymond was standing there with his hands on his waist, hovering over the sowed-off, gray-haired official, his head bobbing back and forth with each word. It was like watching an argument between a baseball manager and an umpire on television. If there had been dirt, Raymond probably would have kicked some on the referee's feet. If he had a hat, he probably would have thrown in onto the ground. It would have been fun to watch in slow-motion, instant replay and try to lip read.

It looked like the official was thinking, "you may be big Mr. Raymond, but I've got the power. Bam, Bam, Boom, so long sucker!"

According to Raymond, the whole thing started a few plays earlier after Nix was hit in a sensitive part of his anatomy after sinking the first free throw of a one-and-one. It hurt enough that he had to be taken out of the game before taking his second shot. The official said it was incidental contact, and Raymond argued that it couldn't be since it was a dead ball.

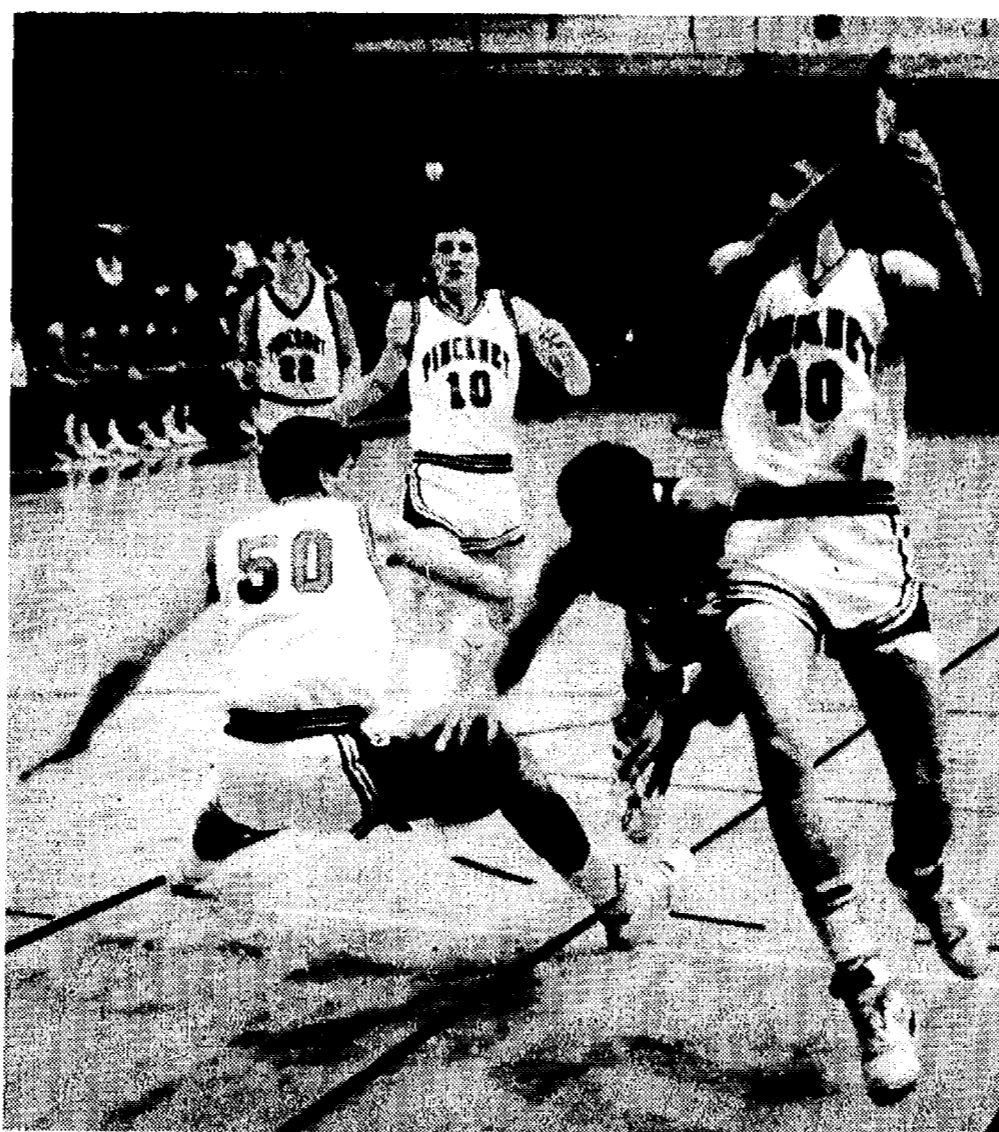

Later, Nix picked up his fifth foul and the official followed him back to the bench and began shaking his finger and complaining about Nix's conduct. Raymond went to Nix's defense and the technicals followed.

It was also an unusually-officiated game in that the short ref called almost everything and his partner was more like a running spectator.

Nix, to his credit, played an excellent game. He led the team in scoring for the first time this season and played sound defense. He scored eight quick points in the third quarter in helping the Bulldogs close a 20-point gap to eight.

This week there's only one varsity game, this Friday in Saline. "From the frying pan to the fire," as Raymond said.

Saline, as we saw earlier, is a fine team. And Saline is not a fun place for visiting teams to play. It would make the Bulldogs' year to pull off an upset. And it would help to have a big Chelsea crowd make the trip.

IT WAS A TOUGH NIGHT for Chelsea's Larry Nix, who takes a tumble here while driving for a lay-up between Pinckney's Steve Black, right, and Bob Nemeth. Nix led the team in scoring with 13 points and fouled out of the game.

Steele's 29 Points Lead Freshman Cagers to Victory

Twenty-nine points and 21 rebounds by Tucker Steele propelled the Chelsea Bulldog freshman basketball team to a 60-55 victory over the Saline Hornets in the Chelsea gym last Monday, Jan. 18.

"Tucker played his best game so far this year, with an excellent job on the defensive boards," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

The Bulldogs led for much of the contest, although the Hornets took a one-point lead late in the fourth quarter.

"We didn't fold when Saline went ahead and that was a key to the game," Quilter said.

Chelsea led 23-17 after the first quarter but scored just 17 points over the next two quarters, including six in the third period. The game was tied at 40 at the end of three quarters.

However, a 20-point effort in the fourth quarter gave the Dogs the win.

"I talked with (head coach) Robin Raymond and he gave me a suggestion to help us out of our slow first quarter starts," Quilter said.

"The team certainly responded with 23 points."

Quilter said the Bulldogs' ability to break the Hornets' full-court trapping press, as well as Chelsea's pressure defense at the end of the game, were key factors in the game. Chelsea also held a 49-38 rebounding edge.

Jude Quilter also had a big scoring night with 20 points despite foul problems.

Rounding out the scoring were Vince Dunn with four points, Jeremy Stephens, Matt Steinway and Garrett Kern with two points each, and Chris Haugen with one point. Steinway's points came on two crucial free throws at the end of the game.

"We got good weakside rebounding from Vince Dunn," Quilter said. Dunn finished with seven rebounds, second on the team.

The freshmen improved their Southeastern Conference record to 3-1 and their over-all record to 3-3.

In other action last week, Jackson County Western whipped the Bulldogs 67-41 on Thursday, Jan. 21.

After rolling to a 16-13 first-quarter lead, Chelsea scored just 12 points over the next two periods and found themselves trailing 44-28 going into the fourth quarter. Western switched from a zone defense to a man-to-man and the Bulldogs couldn't adjust effectively, coach Quilter said.

Eighth Grade Cagers Lose Two Games

Beach Middle school's eighth grade cagers were defeated last week by both Pinckney and Tecumseh at home.

Pinckney knocked off coach Jim Tallman's crew, 34-27, on Tuesday, Jan. 19 as the Bullpups self-destructed in the second and third quarters, scoring a total of three points.

"We always seem to stall out in one or two quarters each game," Tallman said.

"If we could put it all together for four straight quarters we could beat almost any team."

John Royce paced the Pups with 14 points. Ben Hurst, still recovering from a sprained ankle, scored seven points. Jake Rindle scored four and Adam Tillman had two points.

The Pups lost in overtime to Tecumseh, 38-36, on Thursday, Jan. 21.

"Despite the loss I was real pleased with the team's effort," Tallman said. "Both our offense and defense showed improvement over recent performances."

Tecumseh is one of the best eighth grade teams in the conference and had a 9-1 record entering the contest.

Forwards Hurst and Rindle had good games offensively for Chelsea, Tallman said. Rindle had 13 points and Hurst 10.

Other scorers included Royce and Tillman with four each, Dan Stahl with three and John Weinberg with two.

Chelsea dropped to 3-7 over-all.

and Jamie Collinsworth. On the Wetzels were Jackie Crawford (captain), Lindsay Johnson, Meagan Robinson, Jenny Holzhausen, Michelle Trevino, Michelle Mast, Nicole Vermeylen, Amy Bowling and Beth Bell.

The Allstars took fourth place. They were Leslie Burg (captain), Amy Scibor, Tracy Haas, Gretchen Erskine, Melinda Burchett, Erika Street and Jessica Burby.

The top 10 scorers of the league were Myra Smith, Liz Wright, Gretchen Stahl, Jessica Burby, Adrienne Baize, Sarah Henry, Jackie Crawford, Amy Bowling, Kyle Klink and Jamie Collinsworth.

Ann Schaffner directed the programs with help from her husband, Jon, and Berna Street.

Seventh Grade Cagers Top Indians, 27-22

Beach Middle school's seventh grade cagers beat Tecumseh 27-22 last Thursday, Jan. 21, after losing to Pinckney on Tuesday, Jan. 19, 50-25.

The Bullpups outscored Tecumseh 6-1 in the second quarter and 9-6 in the fourth quarter to take the win.

"Erik Brown was five for six from the foul line in the fourth quarter and that was a key," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

"And Mark Eder played great defense at the beginning of the fourth quarter."

Waller also cited the defense and rebounding of Brent Hansen and Jeremy Beauchamp.

Ed Waller was the leading scorer for Chelsea, scoring eight points on four field goals. Brown finished with seven points, Beauchamp and Ken Slane scored four each, and Chris Dunham and Nick McCalla scored two each.

Pinckney outscored Chelsea 15-2 in the first quarter and cruised to an easy win.

"We played a great second quarter," said Waller after each team scored 10 points in the period.

Pinckney used a substantial height advantage to hold a big rebounding edge and score many easy baskets.

"Erik Brown had an outstanding game and led the team with 11 points while playing point guard," Waller said.

"He also played good pressure man-to-man defense the full length of the court."

Waller said Beauchamp rebounded well.

Other scorers for Chelsea included Waller, Slane and Beauchamp with four points each, and Steve Grau with two points.

Junior Spikers Reach Semis Of Ypsilanti JV Invitational

Chelsea junior varsity volleyball team lost in the semifinals of the Ypsilanti JV Invitational last Saturday, Jan. 23 to Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Edsel Ford, who didn't lose a game all day, won 2-15 and 3-15.

On their way to the semis, Chelsea lost two games to the Pinckney Pirates, 0-15 and 6-15. They split with Greenhills, winning 15-4 and losing 8-15.

Ypsilanti was the Bulldogs' third opponent and the teams split. Chelsea lost the opener 15-17 but won the second game 15-5.

To qualify for the semifinals, Chelsea had to knock off Belleville in two games, which they did, 15-9 and 15-6.

"Playing particularly well for the day were Kate Dilworth, Jill Nowatzke, Lisa Park, Scharme Petty and Barb Scriven," said coach Cheryl Vogel.

Park, Carol Hanke, Heidi Boyer, Joanne Marsh and Jane Pacheco each served 75 percent or better.

In other action last week, the JVs lost to Saline 1-15 and 5-15 on Monday, Jan. 18.

"Over-all we served and passed inconsistently while Saline ran a couple of nice strings of serves in both games," Vogel said.

Inconsistent serving was also the story in an 8-15, 1-15 loss at Dexter on our offense going."

Leading scorers were Walton with six points and Hall and Ryan with four points each.

Chelsea also lost to the Saline Hornets in two games on Monday, Jan. 18, 10-15, 1-15.

"In that match we played probably our best game of the year in the first game but a couple of mental errors at a crucial time caused us to lose," Tobin said.

"In the second game we couldn't do anything and I think the team used all their emotion in the first game and couldn't get it back."

Basso had five points to lead the scoring, Murphy scored three, Schaeffer two and Walton one.

Today, we can help the whole family.

Back in 1895, in a purely voluntary gesture, Dr. D.D. Palmer helped restore a janitor's hearing. By manually re-aligning a vertebrae in the janitor's cervical spine (neck), he relieved the stress on the nerve system, and subsequently, the man could hear again more normally. ## Portage Lake Test Suggested By Huron River Watershed Council

A plan to test the pollution in Portage Lake developed by the Huron River Watershed Council has met defeat, at least temporarily. Bruce Monson, executive director of the Huron River Watershed Council, garnered some, but not all of the support necessary to submit a grant application. Monson was proposing to get $30,000 for the project from the EPA, but to qualify he had to match the money locally. Washtenaw county had promised $13,000 in monies and in-kind services. But Livingston county promised money only if the two townships on the lake also agreed. Hamburg township had readily agreed to $1,000, but Putnam township would not even make a motion to allot the money at the Jan. 20 meeting that Monson attended.

The night before, Jan. 19, Monson attended the Dexter township board meeting. The trustees showed interest but did not vote to give $1,000, saying they needed time to think about it. According to trustee Doug Smith, "The board went along with the idea but could not give an on-the-spot approval."

Some of the Dexter township trustees questioned the need for spending money that would identify problems but not solve them. Others, specifically the ones living on the lake, were hesitant to look too self-interested by voting to spend the township's money on just one part of the township.

In answer to the charge of just being another study, Monson explained that the suggested project would go beyond identifying problems to giving specific solutions complete with cost information. He planned to use the information gathered by the testing to develop a management program which could guide all future actions taken to limit pollution on the lake. He called it "a master plan for protection for the lake" to which all the units of government connected with Portage Lake could refer.

The Huron River Watershed Council is funded by 20 local units of government, including Washtenaw and Livingston counties, Dexter village, and Dexter, Webster, and Scio townships. One of their main goals is to encourage intergovernmental co-operation in regard to the waterways. Monson envisioned the resulting Portage Lake study as a model to be used by other lakes. He started with Portage because it is such a popular fishing lake.

Monson was also interested in a Portage Lake study so that the effect of the proposed sewage treatment system could be monitored by having base line information before it was put in. Monson believes it is possible that the sewage treatment plant may not alter the pollution level appreciably since much of the nutrients come from agricultural run-offs.

Monson said that although the grant was due Feb. 1, he could have waited until the Feb. 2 meeting of the Dexter township board for their answer. But he is afraid Putnam township's refusal to even consider the matter has made success, at least for 1988, impossible.

However, Monson will continue to search for other sources of funding.

Another idea is to do a similar project on a smaller lake in Hamburg township.

FARMERS were the honored guests of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea Monday night at Chelsea High school. A professionally-produced slide show on the history of agriculture was presented among the activities. Some of those who attended were, from left, farmer Bill Stoffer and Jerry Halm of the Co-Op Extension Service at MSU, Kiwanis president Warren Atkinson, and farmers Charles Trinkle and Robert Heller.

Missionary to Taiwan Will Speak At Chelsea Free Methodist Church

The Rev. Wilma Kasten, Free Methodist missionary to Taiwan since 1964, will speak at the Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7665 Werkner Rd., Chelsea, on Sunday, Jan. 31, at 11 a.m. Miss Kasten is both a teacher and a minister. She assists churches in the Taiwan Conference through preaching, holding home meetings and giving teacher training classes to Sunday School workers. As a member of the faculty of Holy Light Theological College in Kaohsiung, she teaches both resident students and those registered under the Theological Education by Extension (TEE) program. At one time Miss Kasten served as dean of women at the college.

Miss Kasten makes her home in a Taiwanese community where she strives to reach out to her neighbors, most of whom are bound by idolatry. In the summer of 1981, she traveled with the Paiwan Mountain Tribe Singers from Taiwan during their visit to the United States and served as interpreter.

Wilma Kasten is an ordained elder and has, through the years, worked with the Taiwan Conference in pastoral ministries and as a supervisor of the mountain tribe churches. Before going to Taiwan, she taught for 11 years at Oakdale Christian High school in Kentucky. For three years she worked as hostess at the Peniel Mission Headquarters in Sacramento, Calif.

She attended Spring Arbor College in Michigan and was graduated with a B.A. degree from Greenville College in Illinois. She is a graduate as well of Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute.

Cub Scouts

PACK 455—

Den 1 has been working toward their Webelos badge along with two special activities for January. In order to make use of the snow, a sledding party with Den 9 was planned.

And of course January is Pinewood Derby month. The race cars were prepared with the utmost care and painted to look their best in hopes that each would be the fastest.

The top popcorn salesmen for Den 1 were Greg Rickerd and Karsten Lipiec.

Den 9 enjoyed sledding and racing too. They went to Matthew Kennedy's house for a movie.

We have been preparing for the Blue and Gold Banquet and looking forward to our next field trip when our assistant leader, Debbie Kennedy, takes the Cubs for a tour of the Elias Brothers Big Boy Restaurant.

Nathan Smith was the top popcorn sales Cub for Den 9.

By: Jennifer O'Donnell, A.M. Kindergarten

I love my dog. My dog's name is Artly, and I have a hamster too. There's one dog that comes down, but it isn't mine, it's my nextdoor neighbor's—Jennifer. My dog wakes up and eats breakfast. I saw four turkeys in my backyard.

PATCHES

By: Krissy Tripp, Second Grade

I have a horse named Patches. My grandpa keeps her in the barn. I feed Patches. She likes to run outside. One day I put Patches in the barn to sleep. The next day I went to feed her. She wasn't there. The lights were out. I was scared. I went to tell Grandpa, but someone was watching me.

I found Patches. She was scared. Grandpa said to put her back in the barn. I did and went back to the house.

When I went back to check on Patches, she was not there. I was sad. I ran back to Grandpa. We ran to the barn. Grandpa said the ghost that lived next door did it.

I went to the ghost's house. "Give me my pony!" I said. "He's in there," the ghost said.

I ran to get Patches. I hugged her. We ran back to Grandpa's. I put Patches in the barn. I stayed with her. I fed her some food and gave her water. I brushed her hair and put it in braids.

The next morning I saw the ghost again. I said, "You can stay here." Grandpa said he could stay, too. Grandpa named the ghost "George."

"I'm going to Skeleton Point."

"On Halloween night?"

"Yes." When he was there, he sat down to think. "I think I'll go on the bone-coaster. So he went to wait in line. Soon he got on it. He went up, down, and upside-down?"

"Why is it called bone-coaster?"

"Because it makes your bones rattle!"

"It does?"

"Yep! Help!"

THE FLAMINGO

By: Erin Montgomery, Third Grade

Once I was climbing my tree and I finally got to the top of it. I saw something you couldn't see from the ground. The sky looked like a rainbow. It was very pretty. It was getting dark. I climbed down. It was pitch dark, so I spent the night in my tree. When I woke up the next morning, there were animals all around the tree. My house wasn't there. There was just a big dirt spot where it used to be.

I decided to look around. I came upon a shimmering golden lake. I looked on the other side of the lake and I saw a beautiful bird. I wished I could touch it but I couldn't get across the lake. But I didn't give up. I just had to touch that bird. So I decided to try to swim across the lake. I finally got to the other side and the bird didn't fly or run away. It just stood there. So I decided to touch it. I got to touch it. Right away, I knew what kind of bird it was. It was a flamingo and almost everybody knows that I love flamingos.

After that the flamingo and I were friends. I went back to the tree with my flamingo. I spent the night in my tree again but this time with my flamingo. When I woke up in the next morning, I was back home with my flamingo.

"Slow down, I'll drive you," said Father mouse. Little mouse got in the car and went to school.

After school the little mouse asked a friend over and played and said to her friend, "I hope that doesn't happen again."

TIME CAPSULE—FOURTH GRADE—1987

By: Sara Walters, Fourth Grade

To Whom it may concern,

I'm in Mrs. Nance's fourth grade class, room 19 (it is the very last room in the big hall). So far the year is off to a good start. After recesses and gym we get to have a drink from cups we bring from home. At the beginning of the year something went wrong with the pipes and the water was black and no one would drink the water.

When your work is done, you finish work, read or draw but you can not talk.

Whenever it rains at recess, we have inside recess. We can read, draw or play games.

At outside recess a lot of kids play soccer (I do sometimes) some kids play on the new equipment.

On the first day of gym we ran a mile and we had a cross-country race and a mile race.

In one corner of the room there are some boxes and bags that everyone calls untidy. I don't think it's real untidy, but some people do.

We line up by rows and we turn in papers by rows.

I hope you appreciate this. We spent a lot of time and work on these time capsules.

THE DAY MY AUNT PEGGY AND I DISAPPEARED

By: Jessica Myer, Fifth Grade

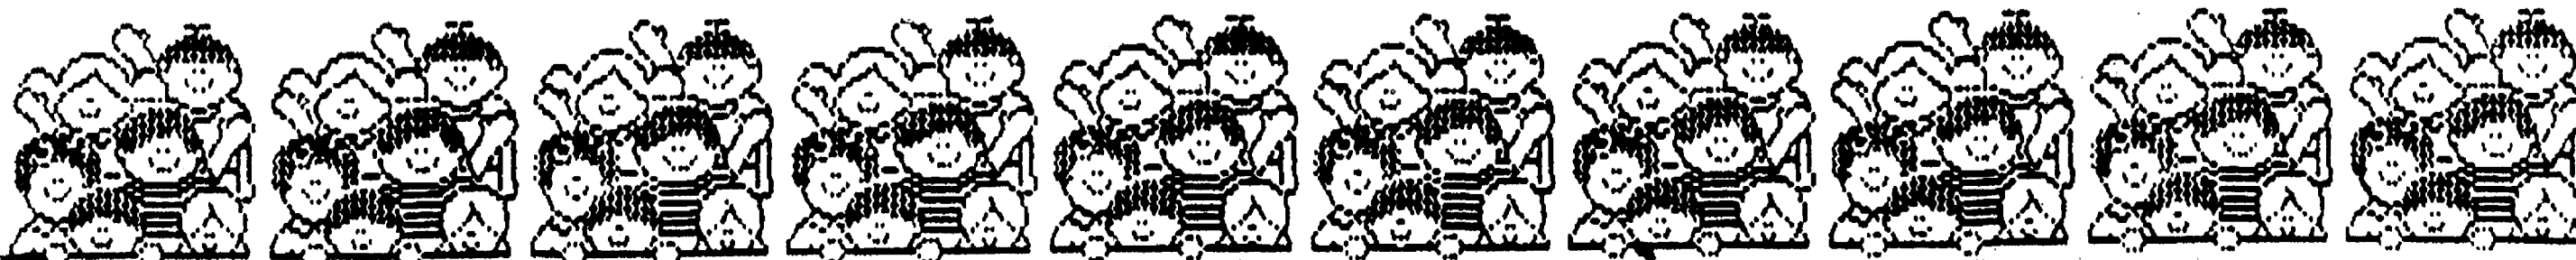

Once my Aunt Peggy and I went driving around and the car stalled. Then it made a soft noise and would not start. We were stranded out in nowhere and the only thing close was a deserted building. We walked up and I saw a key.

My Aunt Peggy went to pick up the key and it went to a lock in the door. There were cobwebs all over. We saw a keyhole in the wall.

I took the key and put it in and the wall opened. It was all red in the room. There were skeletons in the room.

There was another door. I put the key in it and it opened. There was a graveyard. We saw a keyhole in there. I put the key in the keyhole and it opened. There was a safe! It opened.

There was a guy with a mask. He stuck us in a huge safe and made us slaves forever.

WHAT'S NEW IN COSMETIC DENTISTRY?

Techniques and materials for cosmetic dentistry are developing almost faster than dentists can keep up. Since the advent of light-cured bonding techniques a few years ago the field has continued to advance by leaps and bounds.

Bonding techniques now allow dentists to alter the shape and color of teeth, fill in spaces between teeth, and repair fractured teeth with a conservative, strong, and esthetic restoration. The procedures are painless and often require little or no drilling. The same technology of "bonding" has been applied to other types of restorations as well. Clear orthodontic brackets are now bonded to teeth instead of using unsightly metal bands. Tiny pieces of microfilm can be bonded to a back tooth to provide positive identification of a person at a later date.

Techniques for bonding metal to tooth enamel allows us to replace missing teeth with "bonded" bridges that don't require crowns to be done on the adjacent teeth. The deep grooves on the biting surfaces of back teeth can now be sealed off with a bonding material to prevent cavities. It is also possible to use bonding to attach porcelain veneers directly to tooth enamel to change their shape and color.

Bonded restorations for back teeth are developing in leaps and bounds also. In some cases (small fillings) composite material can be used instead of silver amalgam to fill a cavity in a back tooth. Not only is the filling virtually invisible but some studies show that the tooth is actually stronger with the restoration than it was before the restoration! The problem with bonded composite fillings on back teeth is that they are much more difficult to do than silver fillings and they don't last as long. Recently, though, it has become possible to bond porcelain or composite inlays into back teeth and the prospects for a durable, posterior, esthetic restoration have never looked better.

Ask your dentist about these exciting possibilities the next time you need a filling. One of them may be just right for you!

Chelsea Couple Survives Spectacular I-94 Accident

A Chelsea couple was lucky "to get out alive" after their car was hit from behind by a semi truck on I-94, flipped over and jumped a cement barrier on Wednesday, Jan. 6.

Julius and Lina Reule, 418 Wilkinson St., were taking two of Julius' cousins to Detroit Metro Airport when the accident occurred about 9:30 a.m. just east of the US-23 interchange, Lina reported.

Their car was hit from behind when the driver of the truck fell asleep, police said.

Lina was driving the car and Julius was in the front passenger seat. In the back were Julius' cousins, Liane Rexer, and her daughter, Heidi, from Heidelberg, West Germany. All four were wearing seat belts.

The impact of the truck forced the car into hard-packed snow and launched it over the concrete barrier dividing east and westbound traffic. The car traveled more than 100 feet on its roof before coming to rest in a westbound exit ramp.

"The good Lord must have been with us," Lina said.

"The police told us they didn't know how anyone got out alive. I didn't even know about the truck until the cops told us what hit us."

Lina suffered head injuries and bruises and was under the observation of her doctor. Julius was not hurt. Both were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after the accident but were released.

Liane Rexer was confined to a bed for several days, but her daughter was not hurt. They flew to Denver last week to visit relatives as part of an itinerary that will also take them to Mexico City.

Lima Township Planning Commission granted a special use permit that will allow two Taylor developers to build an 18-hole golf course in rural Lima township.

The complex, consisting of a 148-acre course and two 10-acre building sites, will be built at the southeast corner of Dancer and Jerusalem Rds. on land previously owned by Clarence Reddeman and Jim Alder, according to planning commission chairman David Bacon.

The developers are Robert Luhouse and Howard Smith of Taylor. Bacon said it is their first attempt at building a golf course. He said the course is expected to be in operation by the summer of 1989, with construction beginning this summer.

"The board did not feel there were valid grounds to deny the project," Bacon said.

"The most valid problem is it will attract residential development because people like to live near golf courses. More people will be looking for 10-acre building sites."

Ten acres is required to build a home in an agriculturally zoned area, Bacon said. Anything more dense would require a zoning change, "and we don't have any intention of doing that," Bacon said.

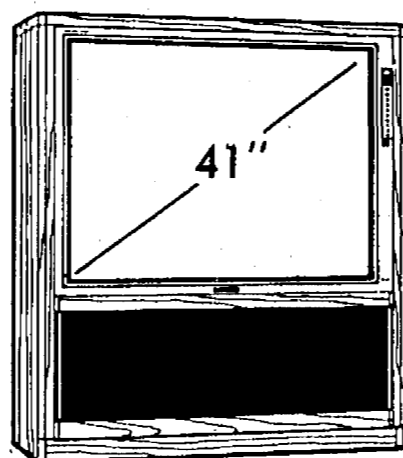

The developers will be required to pay for two additional road gradings and salt brine applications to Dancer Rd. from Jackson Rd. during the summer months, Bacon said, at an approximate cost of $1,500 per year. The two extra gradings will double the current number.

The developers are also responsible for fencing to prevent livestock damage.

Clubhouse bar and restaurant hours will be limited, with the "last call" at 11 p.m., Bacon said.

Bacon said the development is projected to increase traffic by 200 cars per day down Dancer Rd.
