BRIDGETOWN CONDOMINIUMS are beginning to dominate the landscape behind St. Barnabas Episcopal church on Old US-12. This used to be a field with a few trees. Chelsea's first condominium project is being developed by Lloyd and Jerry Bridges. It will have 80 units when completed.

Heating-Cooling Firm Plans To Relocate in Chelsea Industrial Park

An Ypsilanti heating and cooling firm plans to move its operations to the Chelsea Industrial Park by this summer.

Indoor Comfort, Inc., chief operating officer Dan Henson, a Chelsea resident, said he plans to construct a 5,000-square-foot building on the lot immediately south of Roberts Body Shop.

The 37-year-old company has 18 employees in addition to Henson, four of whom are Chelsea residents. It specializes in the heating and cooling systems for both businesses and residences. Henson said "we do a lot of apartments and condos."

"I'd like to have a lot of work in Chelsea," Henson said.

"Let's face it, there's not a lot of new construction in Ypsilanti and new construction is what I like to do most. Everything seems to be creeping west of Ann Arbor with all the development of Jackson Rd. The move makes a lot of sense logistically."

Indoor Comfort is the subcontractor for Bridgetown Condominiums. The company has also been part of the renovation of Chelsea's 14th district courthouse.

Henson said another reason for moving is his current building is old and not laid out as he'd like it to be.

In addition, Henson says the business is understaffed and he'll need to hire more people.

The Chelsea facility will house business offices and a sheet metal fabrication plant.

In addition, village council tentatively agreed to let Henson build a cold storage warehouse, part of which he will rent to other businesses or individuals. The storage facility and the plant will be built on the same lot.

The next step is for Henson to have his building design approved by the Chelsea Industrial Park Architectural Control Committee consisting of Jim Finch, Charles Pressley, Richard Haugen and Frederick Belser.

Armed Robber Takes $368 from '76' Station

A knife-wielding robber made off with $368 in cash from the Union 76 station on S. Main St. on Saturday, Feb. 20.

According to Chelsea police, attendant Anita Marie Welch, 20, of 6379 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., was in the back of the store shortly after 10 p.m. when she heard the front door open. When she approached the front of the store she didn't see anyone and she placed a box of cigarettes by the cash register.

At that point, police said, Welch turned and saw a man in a gray ski mask who had a blue pillow case in his hand.

Police said the man told Welch to "put the money in the bag," and when she didn't move he repeated the command.

When she grabbed the pillow case she saw the knife in the man's hand, police said. The knife had a blade about 6" long, police said.

Welch put paper money from the register into the pillow case and the man left the store and walked north on Main St.

"For some reason she called Federal Screw Works first," said Chelsea Police Chief Leonard McDougall.

The man was described as about 20-years-old, 5' 6" tall, white, with slim build. He was wearing a gray trench coat and brown gloves.

Police are continuing their investigation.

Fate of Grass Lake Depot Still Unclear

A final decision on the fate of the Grass Lake historic depot has not yet been made. The Grass Lake village council has ordered that the depot be torn down by March 5, unless a buyer is willing to restore it. Owner of the property Jim Leonard has two offers which he is deciding between, while still open to alternative bids.

Only one of the bidders would save the station, but that person is only willing to buy the station, not the adjoining property. The second buyer would buy the whole parcel offered by Leonard including the deserted gas station and car wash, but would tear down the depot.

The depot, unique for a town its size because it is made with stone, not wood, was built in 1843. Leonard bought it to develop into a restaurant in 1976, but abandoned the project after the depot burned in 1979, leaving only the stone exterior. People in Grass Lake generally believe that the fire was the result of arson, but no one has been able to prove it.

Leonard said it has always been his intention that the depot be used for a public park and he has been waiting for an offer from the public sector to buy it, although he has had a private buyer interested in it for the last three or four years.

Before the previous owners, Bob and Bobby Mather, former publishers of the Grass Lakes News, would sell it to him, they checked with the village and township to see if either unit of government would purchase it, preferring that it belong to the public.

Grass Lake township clerk Marge Clark said that the township made an offer on the depot a year ago but was

Residents Near Landfill Told Not To Drink Water As Tests Detect Arsenic

By Brian Hamilton

The story of alleged contamination of groundwater by the village landfill is growing more complex by the week.

Residents of Wildflower Ridge say they have been advised by the Washtenaw County Health Department not to drink their well water because tests have found detectable levels of arsenic.

Steve Manville, toxic and hazardous waste specialist for the county, said tests performed on wells of five residences at the request of the Department of Natural Resources have shown levels of arsenic that approach or exceed the safe water standard set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The standard is 50 parts per billion. The home with the highest level tested at 56 parts per billion and another tested at 49. The other three were lower than 49.

However, in an interview last Thursday, Manville softened his advice.

"I don't want to leave the impression that they shouldn't drink their water," Manville said.

"From a health standpoint, I don't think the arsenic is at harmful levels. We went to the homes to take confirmation samples. We're trying to gather more information."

DNR requested the tests because Wildflower Ridge is adjacent to the village landfill, which has come under fire recently for alleged pollution of the groundwater. Wildflower Ridge is also in the direction of the flow of the groundwater.

Manville said, however, that it's likely the arsenic is showing up because the wells go down about 100 feet into a shale formation that is known to produce arsenic naturally.

"It's pretty well documented that arsenic is in water in various places in the state," Manville said.

"All the wells on Wildflower Ridge go into that shale formation. Well logs show there is a substantial clay layer in the area, about 30-60 feet. If the arsenic is coming from the landfill, it would have to go through that clay layer."

Tests for arsenic are apparently not routinely performed when wells are dug, according to the health department. Consequently, there is no way to determine whether the arsenic has always been present in the wells.

In addition, the most recent round of tests of landfill monitoring wells by both the DNR and village did not include tests for arsenic, according to assistant village manager Lee Fahrner. So no one knows whether landfill groundwater contains arsenic.

"I'm sure the DNR will ask us to test the monitoring wells for arsenic now," Fahrner said.

"Even if they didn't ask, I think we'd do it anyway."

Synthia Noble, engineer for the DNR, confirmed Friday that tests for arsenic will be conducted.

Fahrner said he has received several telephone calls from residents in the area, including one resident who accused him of poisoning his well and demanded immediate action.

"I don't blame them and I can understand their concerns," Fahrner said.

"If my water had those levels of arsenic, I don't think I'd want to drink it either. But right now we don't know what's causing the problem."

Two other factors have further complicated the contamination issue.

Manville confirmed that the county and the DNR plan to investigate a low-lying area near the landfill where illegal dumping allegedly took place over a number of years. The site is west of the landfill.

In addition, the DNR has received the results of its most recent round of tests of landfill monitoring wells and once again the tests don't come close to matching the results of tests commissioned by the village. The tests were performed on split samples of water from the wells.

DNR tests found CIS 1,2 dichloroethene at 350 parts per billion. Village tests didn't find the chemical present at all.

"Once again, I don't think we can come to any conclusions," Fahrner said.

"It makes you begin to wonder if you can trust any of the results."

The DNR says it will not issue the village a new landfill operating license until the village agrees to clean up any groundwater contamination caused by the landfill.

Noble said she hopes to set up an information night in Chelsea in March, when the public will have a chance to ask questions.

Meet Your Candidates

This is the second in a series of profiles of candidates for the 1988 Chelsea village elections. This week's stories focus on two candidates for village trustee, challenger Harold Allen and incumbent Gary Bentley. The Chelsea Standard does not endorse any candidate(s) for any village office.

Harold Allen . . .

Harold Allen, 250 Wilkinson St., is a lifetime resident of Chelsea. He's a graduate of the Chelsea High school class of 1973 and is self-employed working on various investment opportunities. He is a single parent, rearing his nine-year-old daughter Autumn. He served two years in the U.S. Army after high school graduation.

Allen has most recently been in the news as the organizer of the 1987 Chelsea fireworks display. He and village council had a couple of heated sessions late last spring and early summer, with each side blaming the other for delays. Allen says he lost nearly $4,000 on the show but doesn't know the exact figure because, "I know I'll never get it back so I don't want to know how much I lost."

Allen has been working on the 1988 show almost since the last one was over, and again is encountering opposition as council has tripled the amount of liability insurance required.

Allen has been accused of being a one-issue candidate with the fireworks as that issue.

"I expected that but that is not the case," Allen said.

"The fireworks problems only precipitated my running. One of the key things I see missing from the council is someone who genuinely wants to pursue issues that some residents care about. The council is either on or off, yes or no, and nobody is trying to adapt and compromise and resolve the issues."

Allen says the first thing he would pursue, if elected, is a survey of village residents concerning their attitudes about various issues.

"One of the biggest issues is communication between the village and the council," Allen says.

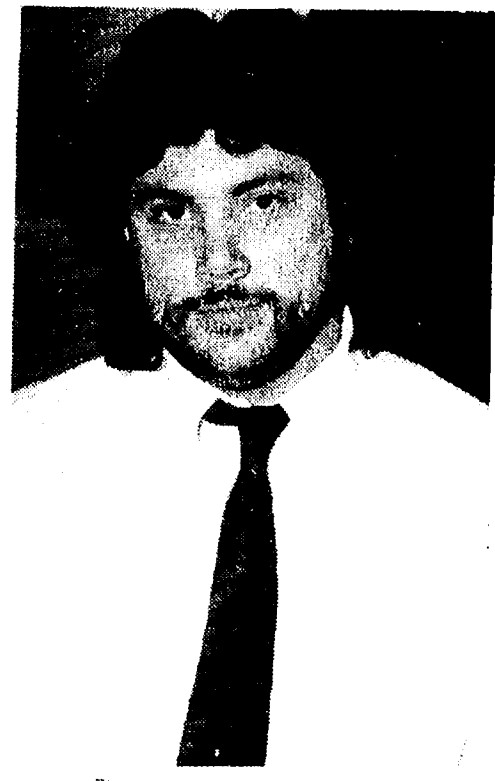

"I don't think council really knows how the majority of the village feels about the issues. They may talk to their friends and people they know but do they really know how most people feel? It's like trying to set a budget without knowing how much money you have."

The Jaycees conducted a survey while Allen was in one of his two terms as president of the previous incarnation of the Chelsea Jaycees, so he believes he knows how to go about it.

Allen believes that many people in Chelsea are apathetic about village government, but he says council's coldness to their needs has made them believe they are powerless to do anything for the village.

"If you get told enough times that you can't do something, pretty soon

HAROLD ALLEN

GARY BENTLEY

Gary Bentley . . .

Gary Bentley, 223 Harrison St., is seeking his second term on the village council.

Bentley has lived in the Chelsea area for 27 years, with 22 of those years in the village.

He moved here from Pikeville, Ky., to look for employment. For the last 19 years he has worked for Chelsea Milling Co. in the maintenance department.

Bentley said he had originally intended not to seek a second term but enough people approached him that he changed his mind.

With the exception of Richard Steele, Bentley probably votes against the council majority more than any other candidate. Bentley was one of two trustees to vote against the Downtown Development Authority's financing plan. His primary reason was that no one knew whether tax increment financing, the cornerstone of the plan, would be ruled legal or not.

"Another concern is I can't see taxing taxpayers' money and building parking lots up town," Bentley says.

"I think council could work with any group who wants to help but I don't see spending tax money."

Bentley says he would support a special assessment on businesses downtown who would benefit from the improvements.

"That's the people who would gain most from it so that's who should pay."

The growth of Chelsea is of concern to Bentley.

"I really hate to see the village grow as fast as it is but I'm sure it's going to grow even faster," Bentley says.

"But I think the village has done about everything it could do to make sure it doesn't grow out of control. It wouldn't surprise me to see the population almost double in five or 10 years."

Bentley said he would like to see the village more actively market the industrial park ("we've had a white elephant out there for a long time") and follow through on its vote to hire a realtor.

"I'd like to see us get some high tech businesses, but I'm not complaining about what's out there."

Bentley said he's convinced the Washtenaw Development Council has not done the job Chelsea hired it to do and that's one reason occupancy of the park is moving slowly. However, he says he believes that recent discussions with the development council will get them moving in the right direction.

In another key issue, Bentley believes the village should be prepared to go to court with the Department of Natural Resources over the landfill if necessary.

Jack and Friedelle Winans took over as owners of Vogel's store on Feb. 15, 1974. The pair, pictured in The Standard surrounded on all sides by the boxes of merchandise that were almost a trademark of Helen Vogel's store, reported that it was "like Christmas" opening boxes of merchandise. "The very last thing we're going to do is modernize this place," said Jack Winans. The store seems to have changed little since the days when it was H. S. Holmes Mercantile Co., (established 1872) or, in later years, Vogel &amp; Wurster.

A permanent Secretary of State branch office has been authorized for Chelsea, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin announced. The office, located at 107 W. Middle St., will officially open as a five-day branch office on Feb. 25.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Department of Education Develops A.I.D.S. Curriculum
State education officials announced they will be mailing curriculum packets on AIDS, to help school districts comply with a 1987 law requiring basic information about the disease be taught in schools.

The materials, which were jointly developed by the state Departments of Education and Public Health, provide instruction on facts and myths about AIDS, how the disease is and is not transmitted and how it can be prevented.

At the 9th and 10th grade levels, students will be taught about different levels of HIV infection and how the AIDS virus attacks the nervous system, as well as risk reduction techniques.

At the 11th and 12th grade level, instruction is to include various links in the communicable disease chain, and behavior which students can practice which will reduce the risk of HIV infection.

Wanda Jubb, health educator for the Department of Education, said it will be up to local districts to determine at which of the two grades the instruction will be given.

Teachers who will be providing the instruction will receive in-service training, State Board of Education

President Barbara Roberts-Mason said.

The curriculum units contain teacher resources, student worksheets and handouts, transparencies and videos. The materials are being provided through a grant from the Federal Center for Disease Control.

Local boards of education will review the materials before instruction begins in their schools, and parents will have the option of removing their children from the program if they wish, Roberts-Mason said.

Information about AIDS education was collected during two surveys last year, said Ned Hubbell, director of the board's Project Outreach.

Both high school students and parents overwhelmingly supported AIDS education, including how AIDS is transmitted, the characteristics of the disease, and how it can be prevented including use of condoms.

Senate Committee Approves "Boot Camp" Bill

Legislation that would establish a "boot camp" for young criminal offenders has been approved by a Senate committee, with approval by the full Legislature expected to follow soon.

The bill would authorize the Department of Corrections to establish military-regimen camps for first-time criminal offenders between the ages of 17 and 25. To meet the program's goal as an alternative to prison, the criminals would have to be facing sentences of at least one year.

The nearly $1.6 million it would take to implement the program this year has already been budgeted, with an estimated $2.4 million needed for fiscal year 1988-89.

Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo), sponsor of the legislation, said he hopes the camps fulfill a goal of rehabilitating young criminals, something, he said, that is not done in the prison system.

"If it comes off as operational as it is on paper, it will be the best program in the United States. I contend the only thing we teach in prison is how to be a better criminal. I believe a person facing hard labor and discipline has a better chance of going straight in the community," he said.

Judges would have discretion to send the offenders, at their consent, to a 90-day stint at the camp, followed by probation.

No visitors would be allowed, and the camps would stress military discipline, work projects in conservation areas and education.

Television access would be limited to one hour of news each day. If offenders violate camp rules, they may be sent back to the judge for resentencing.

The camps will also provide offenders with drug and alcohol abuse counseling and teach them how to fill out job applications.

The first 150-bed camp will be Camp Sable near Freesoil. It is to be converted from a traditional work camp program already in existence, with those inmates transferred to other corrections facilities.

A second camp is to open near Manistique next year.

Fair Board Discusses Traffic Control

Chelsea Community Fair Board is grappling with the question of traffic control in light of the proposed shopping center project for land that was previously used for fair parking.

The topic was discussed at the board's regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 18.

No decisions have been made and the board may seek professional help. In other matters, the bleachers may be inspected and sealed, if necessary.

Also, the board discussed minor changes in timing for events for the 1988 fair.

The fair party was set for Sept. 17, with entertainment by the Alliance Band.

Officers present at the February meeting included president Bill Stoffer, vice-president Ed Whitaker, executive vice-president Lloyd Grau, secretary Maryann Guenther and treasurer Mark Staphis.

Directors present included Archie Bradbury, Duane Bycraft, Jerry Heydlauff, John Klink, Don Koenigter, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Ken McCalla, Harold Trinkle, and Walter Zeeb.

The treasurer's and secretary's reports were read and accepted and correspondence was discussed.

The meeting of the board members on Saturday, Feb. 13 was well attended.

The Carpenter by Frances Hook from Roman

The triumph of her career, now a magnificent bust

Mrs. Hook's inspired portrait of Christ has been rendered into a fully dimensional porcelain bust, hand painted to mirror the strokes of charcoal and pastels used in the original. It is a work that captures Christ's humanity as well as His divinity. Remarqued editions of the fine art print now command in excess of $1100. The bust's value may well increase after the subscription period closes on Easter of 1987.

Reserve your today at the issue price of $95. 10" high, including solid wood base. Sequentially numbered.

IF EXERCISE SEEMS TOO MUCH LIKE WORK,

MAYBE IT'S TIME YOU LAID DOWN ON THE JOB.

Ever notice that getting in shape sounds like a great idea until you actually get around to it? You may have discovered that results don't come overnight, but muscle strain and soreness often do.

INTRODUCING THE NO-SWEAT WORKOUT.

At Slender You® Figure Salons, we're going to reshape the way you feel about exercise. We have six different motorized tables that do the hard work for you. Each one is designed to exercise a specific part of your body—stomach, hips, legs and upper arms.

Rather than building muscle (which conventional workouts often do), the Slender You® concept helps to tone and firm your muscles, while breaking down unwanted "cellulite." And unlike traditional exercise, a Slender You® shape-up leaves you feeling refreshed and energized, not fatigued and out of breath.

YOUR FIRST SESSION IS ON US.

We're so positive you'll like what you find at Slender You®, we're offering a free first workout and figure analysis. You can see how you like it, and then decide whether to make another appointment. You're under no obligation.

NO CONTRACTS OR MEMBERSHIP FEES.

At Slender You®, you pay as you go. No expensive memberships, no advance payments, and no obligations. You can quit whenever you'd like. So try the Slender You® workout. You've got nothing to lose but inches and pounds. And that's where we can help.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Feb. 15, were Grau, Comeau, Satterthwaite, Cherem, Wales, Feeney, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Stielstra, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Grau.

Board approved the minutes of the regular meeting of Feb. 1.

Board approved the minutes of the executive session of the Feb. 1 meeting.

Board approved the minutes of the special meeting of Feb. 3.

Board approved the minutes of the special meeting of Feb. 6.

Board approved the minutes of the special meetings of Feb. 11.

Entered as official communications were (1) letters of resignation from Mary Alice Hafer (North school), Marilyn Lopez (South school); (2) a letter from Elizabeth Hammer regarding the curriculum director position; and (3) a letter from Will Connelly regarding the swim program.

Assistant Superintendent Mills reported that Chelsea Industries had donated a microfiche reader/printer for use in the high school media center.

The board reviewed a detailed plan of Serious Injury/Illness Procedures for the district. This will be an action item at the next meeting.

Board members and administrators presented progress reports on the four 1988-89 Board goals (curriculum, evaluation instruments, communications/internal relations, and district facilities).

Assistant superintendent Mills reported that the Annual School Election will be held June 13, 1988. The terms of president Lloyd Grau and secretary Joe Redding will expire June 30 of this year. April 11, 4 p.m., is the last day for filing petitions, and April 14, 4 p.m., is the last day to withdraw.

The board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Mary Alice Hafer, who has taught in the district since September, 1969.

The board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Marilyn Lopez, who has taught in the district since September, 1969.

The board approved the firm of Curtis, Bailey, Exelby, and Sposito to conduct the 1988 audit.

Board personnel committee chair Anne Comeau reported that the superintendent search is nearing completion, and that the new superintendent will be appointed at the March 7 board meeting.

The board convened in executive session (8:56 p.m.) to discuss a personnel matter, and subsequently reconvened in public session and adjourned the meeting at 9:25 p.m.

Scholarship Offered Seniors Interested In Family Practice

Michigan Academy of Family Physicians (MAFP) is sponsoring its seventh annual High School Scholarship Award Program. This $500 scholarship will be presented to a patient of an MAFP member who is currently a high school senior with a desire to become a family physician.

The award will be presented Saturday, July 23 at the meeting of the MAFP Congress of Delegates at the Grand Traverse Resort. Nominations must be mailed no later than Feb. 26.

Any high school seniors interested in a career in family practice who would like to apply for this scholarship should contact the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. Call Peg Campbell at 763-7003 for an application.

AUDREY SNYDER thanked Cub Scouts Barney Culver, Ben Culver, and Dave Mote for helping the seniors celebrate their birthdays. Snyder said, "This is unusual, we've never had Cub Scouts visit before. It's fun." As part of the entertainment Barney played the cello and Ben the violin.

Three Earn 4.0 at MSU

Three area students have received perfect 4.0 grade point averages for the fall semester at Michigan State University. They are Kelly M. Credille of Loch Alpine, a junior majoring in biological science; Allen C. Cole of Chelsea, a senior in the Lyman Briggs residential college which offers a liberal curriculum in science and mathematics; and Amy J. Roeske of Gregory, a senior majoring in communication.

What Lotto Winners Do With Their Millions

If suddenly you were to win millions in the Michigan Lottery, what do you do with all that money? You would receive your prize in 20 annual payments and if, for instance, you happened to hit a jackpot of $2 million, your first annual check, payable immediately, would be for $100,000, with 19 more payments to come!

People have some fantastic dreams while they're just hoping to win. A friend of mine is a private pilot with a small twin-engine plane. Just let him score big with Lotto and he intends to blow the first check or two on flying lessons at the controls of a Concorde. He hasn't revealed this scheme to his wife who buys Lotto tickets of her own, and secretly dreams of a stay in a hospital while a famous cosmetic surgeon removes 55 years of sagging muscles and wrinkles.

Since the Michigan State Lottery started in 1972 there have been 230 winners of $1 million or more. They, too, have had wild fantasies. But when the Lotto lightning actually struck—when all six numbers on the little Lotto ticket incredibly matched six identical numbers on the TV screen—did they go wild with joy? You bet. But did they call the Concorde hangar in Paris with an offer to buy flying lessons? Or book a series of operating room dates with the cosmetic surgeon?

Nope.

Well, what did they do?

The Michigan Lottery Commission was equally curious so they conducted a survey in 1987 among the members of the MSL Millionaires Club. Of the 230 winners, 128 were able and willing to reply. With their very first lottery payment check, they decided to:

Buy a new car.....	57%
Pay bills.....	54%
Share some of their winnings with family.....	54%
Take a trip.....	34%
Buy a new home.....	31%
Donate to charity.....	29%
Get some new furniture.....	21%
Throw a party for friends.....	21%
Dress up with a new wardrobe.....	13%
Acquire a boat.....	5%
Buy a vacation home.....	5%

Of course, most new millionaires enjoyed a number of these choices. Most parties for friends probably cost less than $200 and helped avoid ringing of the doorbell for days on end. A trip or new furniture for the living room? Of course. A few thousand for other things out of the first $50,000? Why not?

Perhaps a few winners did go for some extravagant expenditures, but most of these millionaires were prudent from the start.

In a second question, the MSL survey asked winners about long range plans for their prize money. Nearly half mentioned investments. Forty-six percent made their first choice saving for retirement, some by means of annuities. Building a savings fund appealed to 38 percent and the same number of winners planned on trust funds for the children. Sixteen percent hoped to start a business but far fewer than that actually took the risk.

The survey of lottery winners conducted in 1986 showed that money wagered on the lottery came from funds usually set aside for discretionary spending—movies, sports or other entertainment. If the lottery ended they would still spend the money having some kind of fun.

Answers to other MSL questions in 1986 and 1987 provide additional insights, not only into the lives of winners, but into the habits and characteristics of all lottery players.

It has been pretty well established that the poor are not reducing the tax bills of the rich by buying lottery tickets. If the lottery had to depend on the poor there would be no lottery at all.

Nor is playing the lottery a sign of illiteracy.

Only 12 percent of lottery players have had less than a high school education. Twenty-one percent have had some college, 3 percent have had trade or technical training while 20 percent of all players have bachelor degrees or higher.

Eighty-five percent of players are white. More than two-thirds of lottery ticket buyers are employed, 17 percent are retired and 10 percent are homemakers. Only 3 percent are unemployed.

What are the odds against winning a sudden fortune at Lotto? They are obviously millions to one based on the enormous quantities of Lotto tickets purchased versus 230 winning tickets over a period of 15 years. Yet a horse player who would scorn betting on a long shot at 100 to 1 will have no qualms betting on Lotto. To such a bettor there is something delicious about holding this Saturday's Lotto ticket and sitting down in front of the tube for the Saturday night TV drawing. The odds may be 10 million to one, but there is that one miraculous chance that the holder's numbers will match the numbers on the screen.

People sometimes liken the Lotto odds to being struck by lightning. An encyclopedia 10 years old gave the number of Americans struck by lightning in 1977 at 2,000. Accidents from lightning are one of those random statistics of nature, and it wouldn't be at all unlikely in 1988 to have 2,400 people struck by lightning. With 240 million people now in our country, the odds on being struck by lightning this year would come out at 100,000 to 1.

Addiction to gambling is a serious disease with some people, but addiction to the lottery should be comparatively rare. It is true that not long ago a woman was accused of writing rubber checks to support her $1,000 a day habit of betting on the lottery. She is now in prison. Law enforcement officials who have studied the case are convinced that her real addiction was to check forging . . . with which she purchased motor homes, luxury automobiles and other costly items.

Compulsive gambling is a sickness that has wrecked homes and families, destroyed careers and led to suicides. It is a psychiatric disorder which will sometimes respond to professional treatment. I have always understood it as an irresistible urge for gambling action—the horses at the track; the turn of the cards; the roll of the dice; the spin of the roulette wheel. Lottery play simply can't satisfy this craving for tense, consecutive action.

Winners of previous lotteries are certainly habituated to playing, and continue in a ratio of 98 to 2. Following their big win, 42 percent have won additional prizes ranging from $2 to $5,000. At the time of becoming Lotto millionaires, 22 percent were already retired; 21 percent retired immediately and 13 percent planned to retire early. Almost 40 percent continued working and 3 percent opened businesses.

Since joining the MSL Millionaires Club, 77 percent feel that they have remained the same and 23 percent have changed a bit. None report changing a great deal.

The 1986 survey reported that 10 percent of all players were between the ages of 18 and 24. Most players (48%) were between 25 and 44; 13 percent between 45 and 54; 14 percent between 55 and 64, and 15 percent 65 and older.

Because lottery players are such a diverse group there is no such thing as a "typical" player. A composite would lead us to estimate that an average player of the lottery is:

- ★ 44 years old
- ★ As likely to be one sex or the other
- ★ Has at least a high school education
- ★ Is more likely to be married than single, widowed, divorced or separated
- ★ White
- ★ Employed
- ★ Has a household income of $26,044

Our thanks to Laurie Kipp Klecha, director of public relations, Bureau of State Lottery, for the survey results cited above. They present the state lottery as a socially harmless method of producing useful revenue through a form of popular entertainment.

In 1988 the Michigan State Lottery expects a revenue of $1.005 billion.

Gary Bentley

DNR has refused to issue a landfill operating license until the village agrees to clean up any contamination caused by the facility.

At the same time, if a new license is issued, Bentley would like to see the village maintain the status quo as to who can use the landfill.

"I'd hate to see us close the landfill to everyone but the village," Bentley said.

"I do think we should keep it closed to commercial haulers."

As far as the proposed village hall goes, Bentley believes the village should put the project off for a few years because, "the taxpayers have enough responsibility right now. However, we're going to need a council chambers that's accessible to the handicapped so we can't put it off for too long."

Bentley's wife, Charlotte, works for the Chelsea School District. His sons, Jon and Mark, are attending Eastern Michigan University. His daughter, Sarah, is a Chelsea High school senior.

Buyer Sought For Depot

turned down by Leonard. She refused to reveal the amount of the offer.

Clark said the township board refused to make an offer this year because they felt the price of $90,000 was too much to ask of taxpayers. She said, "It's an ungodly price. There's no way anyone could pay it and also restore it."

Leonard, the owner of Drake's Batter Mix, has moved his home to Marshall and is planning to move the business there soon. He said the move would affect eight of his employees, who live in the area.

If anyone is interested in buying the depot, they should contact Leonard as soon as possible at 517-522-8444. As Leonard himself says, "Once it's gone, it's gone."

World Day of Prayer Will Be Observed Friday, March 4

Tell Them You Read It in The Standard

World Day of Prayer begins its second century of celebration on Friday, March 4.

A prayer movement of global dimensions, World Day of Prayer is a world-wide expression of mutual prayer and Christian unity. It began 101 years ago in the USA as a day of prayer for mission. It has now expanded until today it is celebrated as a common day of prayer by thousands upon thousands of Christians in 170 countries and regions of the world.

The same theme and worship materials are used world-wide translated into hundreds of languages and dialects. In many countries, the event serves as a catalyst for women to come together to bring about changes in their lives.

The theme of this 101st World Day of Prayer is "Open Doors." Written by both Protestant and Roman Catholic women from Brazil, it reflects the background and concerns of South American women who are struggling both to achieve greater freedom and to elevate the quality of life for themselves and for all people.

Church Women United (CMU), since its founding in 1941, has been the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States and has assumed responsibility for the preparation and distribution of World Day of Prayer resources and materials.

CWU is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service.

Unified by a common faith in Christ, the women of Church Women United work for the elimination of poverty of women and children and issues of peace and justice.

World Day of Prayer offerings make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United, including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international self development and teaching projects for women, as well as community services and disaster relief at home and abroad.

In Chelsea, World Day of Prayer observances will be held at First United Methodist church, 128 Park St., in the church social hall beginning at 9:30 a.m. with the traditional "white breakfast" served by the ladies of First United Methodist. Special guest speaker will be the Rev. Sondra Willobee of North Lake United Methodist church who will speak on "Opening Doors Through Prayer."

All women in the Chelsea-Dexter Area are invited to join the group in celebration of World Day of Prayer, on Friday, March 4.

Botanical Gardens Plan Spring Nature Walk

For skeptics who need convincing that spring is really on its way, the U-M Matthaei Botanical Gardens is offering a nature walk March 6 at 2 p.m. This month's walk is entitled, "Early Signs of Spring." Participants of this docent led walk will look for clues that nature is preparing in many ways for the coming thaw.

Visitors will see the snow covered ground peppered with pieces of fallen bud scales from trees and shrubs. This is due to more water entering the roots from the warmer weather and swelling the buds which crack and flake off the protective coating.

If you think all plants under the snow are still dormant, you'll have to see the Wild Ginger whose leaves are pushing through the snow.

Discover the Skunk Cabbage which actually generates heat to melt snow away so it can expose itself to the sunlight, and attract flies for its pollination. Learn more about the Skunk Cabbage next month too.

Squirrels are scurrying around padding their nests to prepare for their new arrivals later this month.

Come prepared to discover nature developing before you own eyes. Also, beginning in April the docents will take you on four consecutive wildflower walks. Participants will follow the emergence of the flowers as they reach their full beauty. The schedule is:

April 10—"Hunt for the Skunk Cabbage."

April 17—"Identifying Blood Root and Hepatica."

April 24—"Look for Trillium and Spring Beauty."

May 1—"Search for Jack-in-the-Pulpit and Wild Geranium."

Docents will meet participants of these free 1½-hour nature walks on the front steps of the Conservatory.

Matthaei Botanical Gardens are located at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., northeast of Ann Arbor, just south of Plymouth Rd.

Portage Bay Highlands, Rivendell Project Concern Portage Lake Residents

Residents of the Portage Lake area are concerned about two development projects, "Portage Bay Highlands Three," formerly known as "Camelot," and the "Rivendell Project."

Portage Bay Highlands project aroused opposition because it entailed dredging and widening Camelot Canal and building 125 homes. Present lake residents are concerned that the project will adversely affect Mud Bay and Portage Lake, overpopulating the lake and causing harm to the wildlife and fish.

The latest event in a long series of protests and court actions was the ordering by Livingston Circuit Court Judge Stanley Latreille that a Finding of Fact be held with the DNR as one of the participants.

A hearing was held in Lansing on Jan. 25, 27, and 28 with testimony presented by DNR representatives, plaintiffs Harold Early, Doug Smith, and Dr. Wally Fusiller, and defendants Lawrence Baughn and Ronald Berry. A decision has not yet been handed down.

The Rivendell project entails providing lake and river access by constructing a road across wetlands to an inland boat basin to allow marina activity. In their petition, the developers, Leabu Associates of Pinckney, ask permission to excavate for a boat channel and put in fill for a road.

Both the Dexter Township Board of Trustees and the Portage and Base Lake Owners Association (PBLOA) have gone on public record as opposing the project. In identical resolutions, both state that the permit should be denied, summing up their opposition, "Whereas, that any further elimination of wetlands by filling, dredging to provide additional use of the Huron River System will negatively affect private and public enjoyment of all concerned."

Letters to the Editor

Gentlemen:

Complaint About Bonus Sparks Investigation, etc. as reported in the Feb. 10, '88 issue of The Standard reminds me of a story I read sometime ago about a Little Village that reported it had for some years been guilty of granting one of its lesser employees extra compensation by slipping a contaminated $10.00 bill into his pay envelope; not realizing this bill was a carrier of the "ME-TOO" Virus.

There seems to be a similarity of what happened in this Little Village and what seems to be taking place in Chelsea, as stated by Mr. Ritter's complaint to the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's Office.

After conducting an In-House investigation and with the full consent of all the Council members, they eradicated the ME-2 Virus, as it was often referred to, by dropping the Big Stick Approach to this problem and replacing it with the Carrot Approach with a germ-free $10.00 bill attached.

By so doing the worthy employee may still receive his Ten Buck stipend each year by appropriating an equal Virus free $10.00 bill if one of its more alert citizens should detect a new strain of ME-2 Virus which may be present in their Little Village.

Dear Editor,

This is in response to the letter from W. Parker.

First a bit of education, the Pit Bull, also known at one time in America as the Yankee Terrier, has a proper name, The Staffordshire Terrier. It was bred in England, more than a century ago by crossing a long-gone ancestor of the Bulldog and a terrier such as the Bull Terrier, or the White English Terrier, or the Fox Terrier. Pit Bulls had been raised to battle from birth, but not all of them are raised that way now, still too many are. They weigh 35-40 lbs. and stand 18 in. tall.

This is where the connection ends, with an ancient ancestor. The Bulldog is listed as a non-sporting dog and his lineage goes back six or seven centuries to the Mastiff group of bandogs. That dog was taller than the present day relative who stands 15 in. tall. The original Bulldog was used as a bull-baiter but this sport was outlawed in 1835. The owners of this dog loved them so started carefully breeding to eliminate the bad and accentuate the good qualities so that the Bulldog of today even with its ferocious face, is the kindest in the world with a disposition for trust and affection for all.

I certainly think after the above information, (taken from "The World Book of Dogs"), you must see a difference in these two breeds. If not then you must condemn all dogs who have the words "bull" or "terrier" in their names, for they have as much in common as these two do. We might as well condemn all uneducated people for one person's lack of knowledge. Go ask your veterinarian his opinion, I did.

I certainly feel strongly about our mascot, who has been around Chelsea for at least 50 years and has been faithful, strong and tough when we needed him. FOREVER BULLDOGS!
Mary Alber.

34 Years Ago . . .

church at Rogers Corners, was honored at a party held at his home. The occasion was in recognition for 28 years of work for his church and the Trinkles' 29th wedding anniversary.

George Gauthier and Gordon Van Riper were among the 145 all-A Michigan State College students at East Lansing.

To the Editor,

In response to the letter from W. Parker.

At first I was angry about his comments about Pit Bulls, but when I thought it over, I realized that most of the information read in the newspapers suggests that Pit Bulls are "vicious, insane animals."

Pit Bulls are a very intelligent and easily trained breed of dog. Because of their powerful jaws they cause more damage when they bite than a German Shepherd or Doberman.

An article in "Discover" magazine (January '88) says it best. "It's not just a dog problem, it's a people problem." Backyard breeding and "macho" owners are to blame more than the natural temperament of the Pit Bull. This view was also expressed by the head of the "Humane Society of the U. S." in a recent interview on the "Today Show."

I own a Pit Bull and love her dearly as do others that know her.

In regards to changing the school mascot—the English Bulldog does not have a poor reputation. The "bad press" on the American Pit Bull should not be allowed to "rub off" on his innocent English ancestor.

Bettie Hayden.

Tickets Now Available for 'Guys & Dolls'

Time is drawing close for the 1988 Chelsea High school musical production of "Guys and Dolls." More than 50 people have been working since January to put the show together.

The show will open March 3, and run March 4 and 5. All shows will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are available to purchase at the Chelsea Drug Store.

Director of the show is Doug Beaumont. This is Doug's fourth production as director. Doug also directed Chelsea's musical productions of "Cinderella," "Annie Get Your Gun," and "Showboat." Doug is excited to be back again this year and is looking forward to a super show.

June Warren is also returning as producer/vocal director. June thinks the music from "Guys and Dolls" is some of the best written by Frank Loesser.

Also doing a great share in directing are Bart Bauer, technical director/set designer; Elisa Bauer, choreographer; Wendy Wolfgang, assistant director; Jennifer Schweiger, student director; Jed Fritzmeier, musical director; and Linda Mullison, rehearsal pianist.

Playing lead roles this year are Jennifer Bennett, Sarah; David Barth, Sky; Kellie Kanten, Adelaide; Bill Coelius, Nathan; Dale Cole, Nicely; Marty Heller, Benny; Judy Bareis, Arvide; Tim Parkilla, Harry; Jason Overdorf, Brannigan; Howard Brooks, Big Jules; and Krista Smith as General Cartwright.

Chelsea Students Continue Good Performances on Tests

Chelsea School District students continue to perform better than state and national averages on standardized tests administered by the district, according to a report submitted to the school board by testing co-ordinator Sue Carter.

Carter reported on scores on the California Achievement Test, Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and Michigan Educational Assessment Test.

Carter's report indicated that high school juniors achieved at higher than 11th grade level on 12 of 13 parts of the California Achievement Test this year. On four sections of the test—reading, social studies, science and math—the students performed beyond 12th grade level. On the low side, spelling was the worst category as students are performing just under 11th grade level.

"One of the things that I feel is most impressive about the results is that our students are either near grade level or over-achieving on every major section of the test," Carter said in the report.

"This says a great deal for our student body, faculty, and general atmosphere for learning."

On a national percentile, 11th graders were ranked highest in social studies (67.8 percent) and lowest in spelling (45.6 percent), and language mechanics (49.5 percent). Other percentages included total reading (56.5), total language (52.3), total math (58.5), study skills (58.5), and science (60).

"We need to look carefully at our scores in each section and then look at our areas of strength and weakness as we continue to develop our curriculum," Carter said.

No national percentages were available for the PSAT, the practice college entrance exam, Carter said.

Ninety-one students took the test and scores ranged from the lowest score possible, 20, to the highest possible, 80.

Chelsea's mean verbal score was 42.6 for boys and 38.6 for girls. In math the mean scores were 50.4 for boys and 45.5 for girls.

Proportions reports for the MEAP show that more Chelsea fourth graders performed in the top achievement category in reading and science than the state average. However, fewer students were in the top category in math. That pattern was true for both North and South Elementary schools.

State-wide, 87.1 percent scored in the top level in math, 83 percent were in the top level in reading, and 41.6 percent were in the top level in science.

At North school, 80.8 percent were in the top level in math, 83.8 percent were in the top level in reading, and 58.6 percent were in the top level in science.

At South school, 83.3 percent were in the top level in math, 93.8 percent were in the top level in reading, and 54.2 percent were in the top level in science.

At the seventh and 10th grade levels, Chelsea had more students in the top level in reading, science and math than the state average.

Among Chelsea seventh graders, 79 percent were at the top in math, 93.2 percent at the top in reading, and 43.5 percent in the top in science. State averages were 71.8 percent in math, 83.7 percent in reading, and 27 percent in science.

Among Chelsea 10th graders, 73.6 scored at the top in math, 87.4 percent were in the top in reading and 36.8 percent were in the top in science. State averages were 68.5 percent in math, 81.4 percent in reading, and 29 percent in science.

In addition, Chelsea had fewer students score in the lowest category than the state average. That was true for all three grades in all three tests.

More students were in the lowest level in 10th grade science (5.7 percent) than in any other test at any other grade level. However, they compared to a figure of 14.3 percent state-wide.

However, in nearly half the tests, no Chelsea students scored in the lowest level, and in only two other tests, 10th grade math and seventh grade science, did Chelsea have more than one percent of its students in the lowest level. Those numbers were 1.7 percent for 10th grade math and 1.2 percent for seventh grade science.

Humane Society Launches Cat Adoption Program

Humane Society of Huron Valley, in co-operation with Edward Lowe Industries, Inc., launched the "Bring Love into Your Home... with a Cat," cat adoption program on Feb. 14. The program, which will continue through April 15, is designed to increase public awareness concerning the homeless cat problem in the Ann Arbor area.

"We have many homeless cats and kittens waiting for new, loving homes," states Linda Thomas, adoption co-ordinator. "Last year at this time 233 cats came into the shelter, and only 97 cats found new homes. That's why this campaign is so important," stresses Ms. Thomas.

For a limited time during the "Bring Love into your Home... with a Cat" program, cat adopters at the Humane Society of Huron Valley will receive a free cat adoption kit that includes: a disposable Kitty Litter Brand cat box; a coupon for a free 8-pound bag of Kitty Litter Brand with Healthguard cat box filler, manufactured by Low Industries; a "Certificate of Love" signed by Edward Lowe; a decal that proclaims "In this Home is Love;" and a helpful cat care guide.

For more information about this adoption program, contact the Humane Society of Huron Valley at 662-5585.

Two Vorus Sons Appearing in AACT's 'Inherit the Wind'

Julian and John Vorus, sons of Julie and Bill Vorus of North Lake, will appear in the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre's production of "Inherit the Wind."

Based on the famous "Scopes Monkey Trial," the play is set in a rural southern town in the 1920's. The trial was the setting for the great debate on the teaching of Darwin's theory of evolution and the fundamental Christian belief referred to in today's society as Creationism. The battle was for the minds of children.

The play has as much immediacy and relevance today as it did when the events occurred and when the play debuted 32 years ago.

The show will be presented at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre on Feb. 24-27 at 8 p.m., with a matinee at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 27.

This will be Julian's and John's second appearance on the Mendelssohn stage. They performed there in "The Secret Garden" this past spring.

District Champs! Dog Wrestlers Upset Dexter, Move on to Regional Team Meet

Chelsea Bulldogs won the district wrestling team title with a 33-30 upset of the Dexter Dreadnaughts in the finals last Wednesday in Tecumseh.

Dexter won the Southeastern Conference title and beat Chelsea in the regular-season dual meet.

"It was quite an accomplishment," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"It's just a super boost to beat Dexter because Dexter is such a fine team. I never thought we would do so well because we had terrible practices on Monday and Tuesday. But Wednesday it was mission accomplished."

Chelsea reached the finals by knocking off Tecumseh in the semifinals on the strength of five straight wins in the final five matches.

Chelsea, in the luck of the draw, was the visiting team in the match with Dexter. That allowed Kargel to juggle the line-up to his advantage because the home team is required to put its wrestler on the mat first.

As it turned out, both teams were missing their starting 105-pound wrestlers. Chelsea's Eric Hanna didn't make weight.

Dexter coach Mike Klapperich decided to take a forfeit at 98 pounds and move his 98 pound wrestler to 105 pounds. Kargel countered by also taking a forfeit at 98 pounds and moving Kelly Beard to 105 to take on Jud Williams, whom Beard pinned earlier this year. Beard duplicated the effort in 1:47 and Chelsea was up 6-0 after two matches.

If Chelsea had been the home team, it's likely each team would have taken a forfeit and the score would have been tied after two matches.

The strategy also worked in the upper weights. Kargel elected to forfeit 185 pounds to Andy Armbruster and move Tim VanSchoick up to 198 pounds to take on Shane Dalton. VanSchoick won the match, 8-4.

Results of the other matches follow.

112 pounds: Alan Hanna (C) lost a 19-4 decision to Matt Tucker.

119 pounds: Craig McCalla (C) pinned Chris Laramie in 1:17.

126 pounds: Robert Kornexl (C) won by default.

132 pounds: Jim Hassett (C) lost 11-0 to Chad Corum.

138 pounds: Doug Wingrove (C) was pinned by state champ Jim Feldkamp in 1:08.

145 pounds: Dean Sutherland (C) lost 12-3 to Mike Coval.

155 pounds: Gary Dosey (C) beat Jason Sherrill 20-4.

167 pounds: Bill Dixon (C) pinned Chris Meloche in 3:36.

Heavyweight: Mike Taylor (C) lost to Warren Bates 10-6.

"Dean Sutherland's match was another big one for us," Kargel said.

"Coval's a tough wrestler and I thought Dean might get pinned. That saved us three points. Also, Mike Taylor did a heck of a job on Warren Bates."

***

In the semi-final match with Tecumseh, Chelsea fell behind early, losing five of the first eight matches.

98 pounds: Beard was pinned by Jeff Holderman in 1:20.

105 pounds: Chelsea lost by forfeit.

112 pounds: Alan Hanna pinned

Gaylin Wilkins in 5:20.

119 pounds: McCalla won an 8-5 decision over Kevin Sherman.

126 pounds: Kornexl lost to Kip O'Leary 5-3.

132 pounds: Hassett lost to Tim Simpson 10-3.

138 pounds: Wingrove pinned Chris Allen in 5:22.

145 pounds: Sutherland lost to Doug Hurst 2-1.

155 pounds: Dosey pinned Buddy Allen in 3:17.

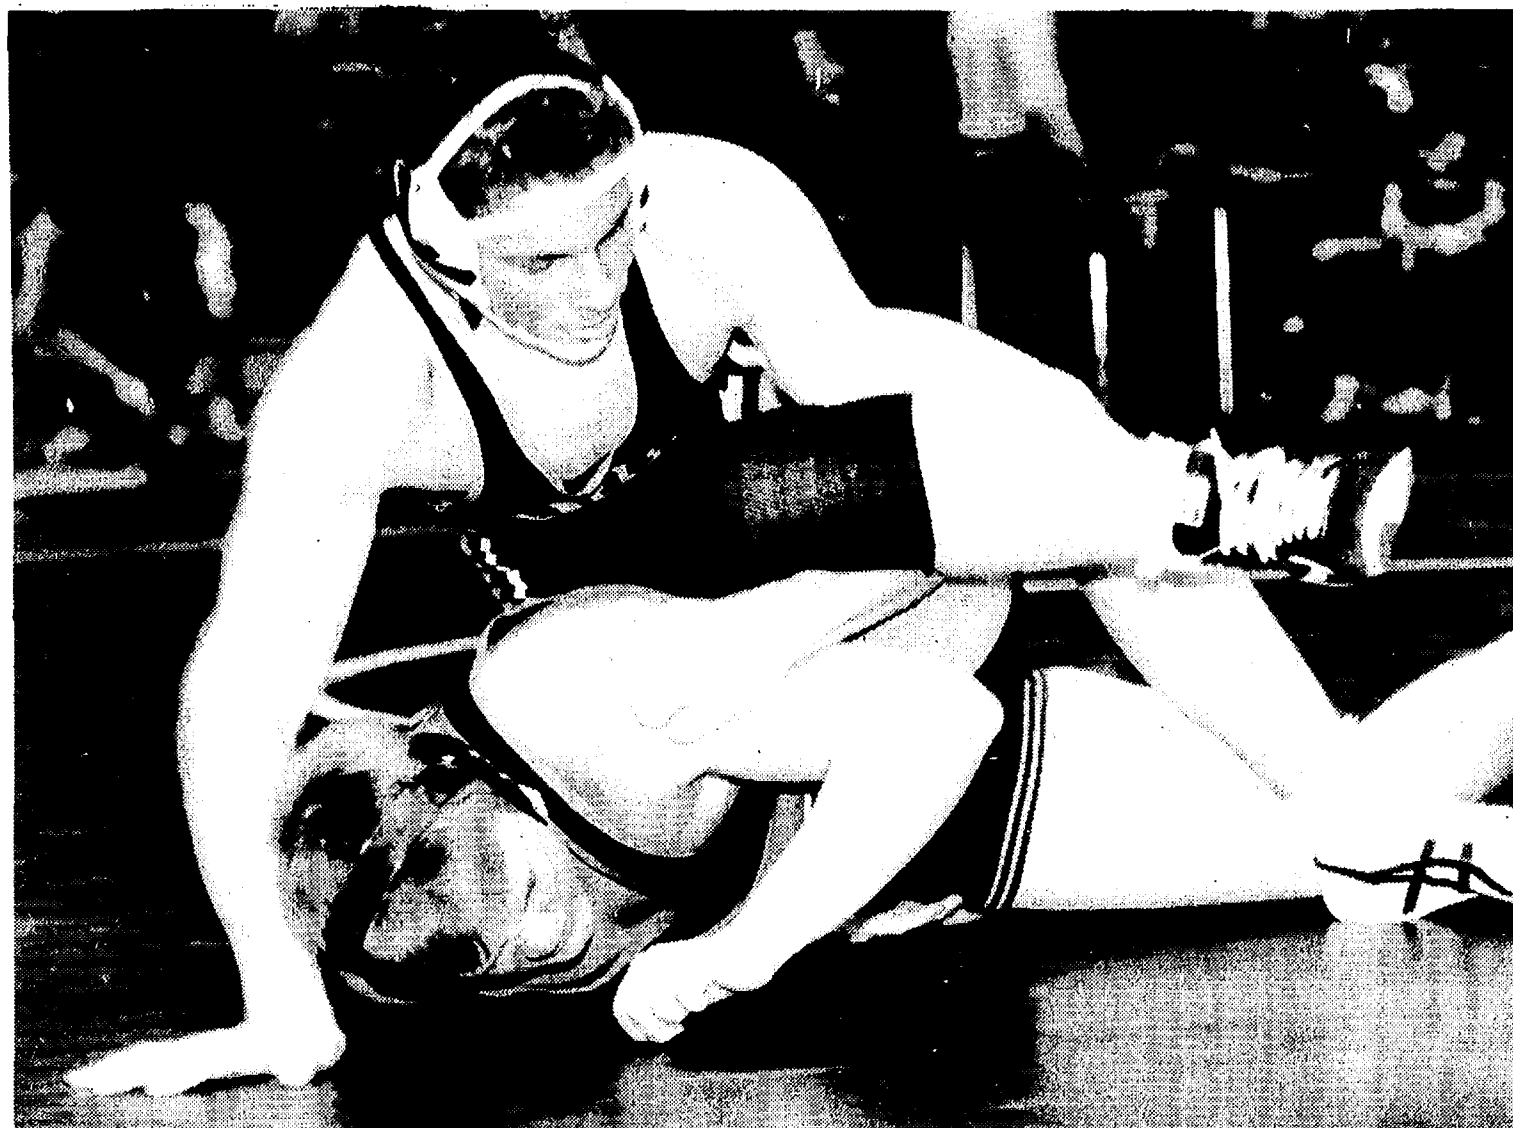

167 pounds: Dixon pinned Tom Schumacher in :28.

185 pounds: VanSchoick pinned Tracy Snead in 1:07.

198 pounds: Taylor pinned Jeff Dowling in :39.

Heavyweight: Todd Thurkow defeated Dale Beauvieu 7-1.

Chelsea moves on to the regional team tournament next Wednesday in Marshall at 6 p.m.

BULLDOG WRESTLER Tim VanSchoick won both his matches at the district tournament in helping the Bulldogs to a district title. VanSchoick knocked off Shane Dalton of Dexter, 8-4, and pinned Tracy Snead of Tecumseh in 1:07.

Dog Cagers Lose Cattell And Two More Contests

Chelsea's varsity basketball team has had its share of problems this year but none more serious than the loss of point guard and team captain John Cattell to injury last Tuesday.

The Bulldogs, who had already been beaten by Dexter and Tecumseh in the first half of the season with Cattell, also had a hard time in the second go-around without Cattell.

The Dreadnaughts topped Chelsea 71-59 last Tuesday in the Chelsea gym. Tecumseh, tied with Pinckney for the conference championship, whipped the Bulldogs on Saturday, 70-53.

Cattell injured cartilage and ligaments in his ankle during warm-ups before the Dexter game. He'll be out for the season.

Cattell is the team's second-leading scorer and is first in just about every other category including rebounds and assists.

"It seemed like the injury to John took the player's minds off the game," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"At half-time there was a lot of concern. If there can be a bright spot to such a thing, it allowed some other kids to play more. But I felt real bad for John because he's a senior and his Chelsea basketball career is over."

Chelsea took an early 15-11 lead over the Dreadnaughts as John Collins scored six points and Jeff Marshall scored five.

Dexter rallied for a 33-27 half-time lead and from then on the Bulldogs struggled to stay close.

Chelsea made a run in the fourth quarter and trimmed a 19-point deficit to nine points.

"The last couple of weeks we've been able to start off well but not sustain it," Raymond said.

"We're not the kind of team that can score a lot of points in a hurry. Once the lead gets to 18 or 19 it gets tough. If we can stay within 10 points or so we have a chance."

Chelsea had problems shooting the ball, hitting only 36 percent of their shots. However, they were 11-15 from the free throw line.

Marshall and Collins, with 11 and 10 points, respectively, were the only Bulldogs in double figures. Junior Morseau scored nine points, Chad Starkey eight, Larry Nix seven, Kevan Flanigan six, Tim Anderson four and Matt Monroe four.

Chelsea started out strong against the Indians as well, taking an 11-4 lead after the first four minutes as Flanigan scored eight points and Anderson three.

"I think we took them by surprise," Raymond said.

"We were beating them on the inside and that's the strong part of their game."

Chelsea finished the first quarter with a 20-19 lead. The second quarter proved to be the Bulldogs' undoing as they scored all 10 points from the foul line and were 0-6 from the floor. By halftime they were down 38-30.

"This was probably our best-played game since the Fowlerville game," Raymond said.

"We didn't let them score a lot of points in spurts and we held our own on the offensive boards even though they go 6-5, 6-4 and 6-3 on the inside. I was not upset at all with our play."

Tecumseh lengthened their lead to 54-40 at the end of the third quarter.

Field goal shooting was again a problem for the Dogs as they were 16-52 for 31 percent.

CO-CAPTAIN ROBERT KORNEXL, left, ran into two tough opponents at the individual regional meet last Saturday. The Bulldogs were close, but no one made it to the state meet.

Swim Team Wins Chelsea Invitational

Thursday, Feb. 18 the Chelsea Bulldog swim team won the Chelsea Invitational over four other teams.

The Bulldogs performed well, said coach Mike Keeler, as they scored 404 points. Novi was second with 374 points, Adrian was third with 292 points, Pinckney fourth with 61 points and Riverview fifth with 44 points.

"The guys performed extremely well and I was very impressed with their performance," Keeler said.

"Every kid on the team performed a lifetime best. We were totally ready, mentally and physically."

The meet started with the 200-yard medley relay. The Chelsea C team of Holden Harris, Howard Merkel, Scott Marsh, and Scott Sheffield finished seventh with a time of 1:57.53, with Harris, Merkel, and Marsh swimming personal bests.

The Chelsea B team of Terry Draper, David Oesterle, Lloyd Brown, and Wally Schmid finished a strong fourth with a time of 1:48.79. The entire relay had personal best split times.

"A 1:48 for a B relay is extremely good, considering that the state qualifying time is a 1:47.3," Keeler said.

The Chelsea A team of Brett Paddock, Matt Doan, Kevin Brock, and Tyler Lewis swam their season-best time at 1:45.32. That time ranks in the top six in the state. Chelsea had career best swims out of Paddock, Doan, and Lewis.

The 200-yard freestyle also had every Chelsea competitor swimming their lifetime best. Leading the Chelsea attack was senior Charlie Hosner with a 5.5 second time drop to a fourth-place finish of 1:56.23. Sophomore Garth Girard improved his time to a 1:58.18, which was good for fifth place. And in sixth place was junior Chris Birtles with a three-second time drop to a 1:58.36.

"For Charlie and Chris that was the first time they have been under two minutes," Keeler said.

Garth also swam a very good race to improve his time. Freshman Greg Garen finished with a three-second drop at 2:04.79 and freshman Joe Huettelman swam a career-best time of 2:05.87.

The 200-yard individual medley saw senior Kevin Brock almost make the state cut with a three-second improvement to a 2:11.63. He was followed closely by sophomore Paddock with a time of 2:15.49 a lifetime best and good for fifth place. In seventh place was sophomore David Oesterle who swam a 2:18.46. Also swimming well was freshman Brian Brock who dropped four seconds to a 2:20.05. In ninth place was senior tri-captain Merkel with a 2:22.69.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Do we have the best darn rasslers this side of Ann Arbor or what? Why, they went out and won themselves a district championship last week by knocking off the Purple People Eaters from Dexter.

And wouldn't Mark Spitz be proud of that big bad Bulldog swim team Mike Keeler puts in the water every week? They whipped the entire field in the Chelsea Invitational.

And what about those spikers. I can tell you, without question, they can jam that leather ball back over the net better than anyone.

And let's not forget that Bulldog basketball team. They've got to be the best cage team west of Freer Rd. and east of East.

The preceding were for all those parents who have complained in the last few weeks that I never say enough nice things about their teams, both in this column and on the sports pages in general.

Actually, I'm not being fair to volleyball parents. I haven't heard one complaint from them all year. I guess it must be a more laid back crowd. Or perhaps parents of girl athletes don't take it all quite so personally.

In one paragraph, here is what has happened over the last few weeks.

Swimming parents have complained that wrestling gets too much coverage and, of course, swimming doesn't get enough. Wrestling parents have complained that wrestling doesn't get enough coverage and basketball should go to the back under the foreclosure ads. A basketball parent has complained that basketball has gotten too much negative coverage and certainly something nicer can be said about their 3-win season. And all those parents have complained in a roundabout way that their children should be on the front page. And volleyball parents, bless you, haven't said a thing but instead have been content to watch their girls play.

Funny, but no one has complained about too much bowling coverage.

Parents of athletes seem to complain most toward the end of the season. Probably because the season has advanced to the point that there's something to complain about.

I wonder whether coaches have noticed the same phenomenon.

What follows is the gist of what I have explained to many of these parents over the last few weeks.

I could spend my entire life going to Chelsea sporting events if I wanted to. As much as I like Chelsea schools, and as much as I enjoy attending school games, I don't have the time to attend even a tiny fraction of the events. Besides, I'm too busy showing my son how to throw a split-finger pacifier. (As they say, when it's going good it just falls right off the table.)

That means I pretty much watch the teams I want to watch, when I want to watch them, or when I have the time to watch them.

And, I tend to write a lot more in this column about teams I watch. I wouldn't feel comfortable making observations about, for instance, the volleyball team, a team I've seen play for all of 15 minutes.

Not only have I not seen much volleyball, I've seen about 0:00 of swimming this year, which is only a little less than I saw last year.

I haven't seen much wrestling this year either, although I love the sport.

And I haven't even considered going to a middle school sports event.

I do, however, attend as many varsity basketball games as I can. I like basketball, I've attempted to play it all my life. And it's a challenge to photograph it well. I've seen enough of the team this year that I feel at least a little qualified to comment editorially.

Outside of basketball, I have to depend heavily on coaches either to submit stories or tell me what has happened. If they don't give me much information, there's not much of a story.

I've had a lot of help with wrestling from Bill Hanna, who's becoming a pretty good wrestling photographer.

We are willing TO CONSIDER using photos of VARSITY SPORTS submitted by parents. We DO NOT GUARANTEE that we will use any photo. If we find a RELIABLE parent who also happens to be a GOOD PHOTOGRAPHER, we will also consider processing black and white film. This combination of dependability and ability is rare, however. Bill Hanna is the kind of guy who would photograph virtually every wrestling meet simply for his own satisfaction.

Generally speaking, quality 35 mm equipment will be needed to shoot the kind of photo we will consider using. Instant cameras don't cut it.

Photo help would be especially helpful in the fall and winter. Spring is a different story because all events are in the afternoon and I can shoot all the photos I need.

Bulldogs Win Chelsea Invitational

"Our IM'ers swam very well, with all five swimming lifetime bests," Keeler said.

The 50-freestyle saw the next Chelsea state qualifier as freshman Von Acker set a new freshman record with a time of :23.12. The old record was :23.50 which was held by former Bulldog great David Nicola.

"Von really showed something in that race as he dropped seven tenths which is quite a drop in the 50," Keeler said.

Also in the 50-yard freestyle was Lewis with a fourth-place finish of :24.17.

Wally Schmid finished eighth with a time of :24.33. Draper finished with a season-best time of :25.18, which was good for tenth.

Also swimming exhibition was Lloyd Brown, who swam a personal best of :24.45, Scott Sheffield with a time of :26.71, Joe Beaduin :26.89, and Robert Northrop with a :29.83.

The one-meter diving featured Lewis with an 11-dive score of 392.30, good for first place. Finishing seventh was sophomore Jamie Basso with a score of 207.40. Junior Mark Luick scored 204.05.

The 100-yard butterfly had Kevin Brock swimming a personal best time of :58.88, good for second place. Brown finished sixth with a solid time of 1:04.71.

The 100-yard freestyle had the Chelsea Bulldogs finishing second and third with Matt Doan finishing in the runner-up position with a time of :51.13 and Acker breaking another freshman record, this one held by Jeff Nemeth, with a fine time of :51.51. Wally Schmid dropped his time to finish fifth with a time of :53.13. Also swimming a season best time of :54.01 was Chris Birtles, who finished eighth. Also swimming exhibition was Joe Beaduin who timed 1:00.46 and Sheffield with a season best of 1:00.49.

The endurance event, the 500-yard freestyle, had the biggest drops by the Bulldogs. The highest finish was Girard with a five-second drop to a third-place finish with a fine time of 5:18.18. Hosner, swimming in an outside lane, dropped 19 seconds to place fourth right behind Girard with a time of 5:20.91. Huetteman dropped 10 seconds to a 5:37.20. Marsh finished seventh with a time of 5:42.45 and Garen finished with a time of 5:45.42. Northrop also finished with a time of 6:36.11.

In the 100-yard backstroke, Chelsea had a near miss as Brett Paddock swam to a 1:01.20, only five tenths off the state qualifying time, good for third place. Also swimming well were Brian Brock with a 2.5 second drop to a 1:06.67, good for sixth place, and Harris with a seventh-place swim of 1:07.3. Newcomer Robert Totten finished in 10th place at 1:10.36.

In the 100-yard breaststroke, Chelsea had a state qualifying swim out of David Oesterle, who dropped 2.5 seconds to make the cut at a 1:05.29. he finished first at the meet.

"David dropped a lot of time to make the cut and I'm very proud of him," Keeler said.

The other Chelsea breaststrokers swam very well as junior Draper finished sixth with a career best time of 1:10.41. Also, Hollo swam a career-best by three seconds in finishing seventh with a time of 1:10.52. Merkel was right behind Draper and Hollo with a lifetime best time of 1:11.03.

Swimming an amazing exhibition swim was sophomore James Alford as he dropped five seconds off his season-best time to record a 1:10.83.

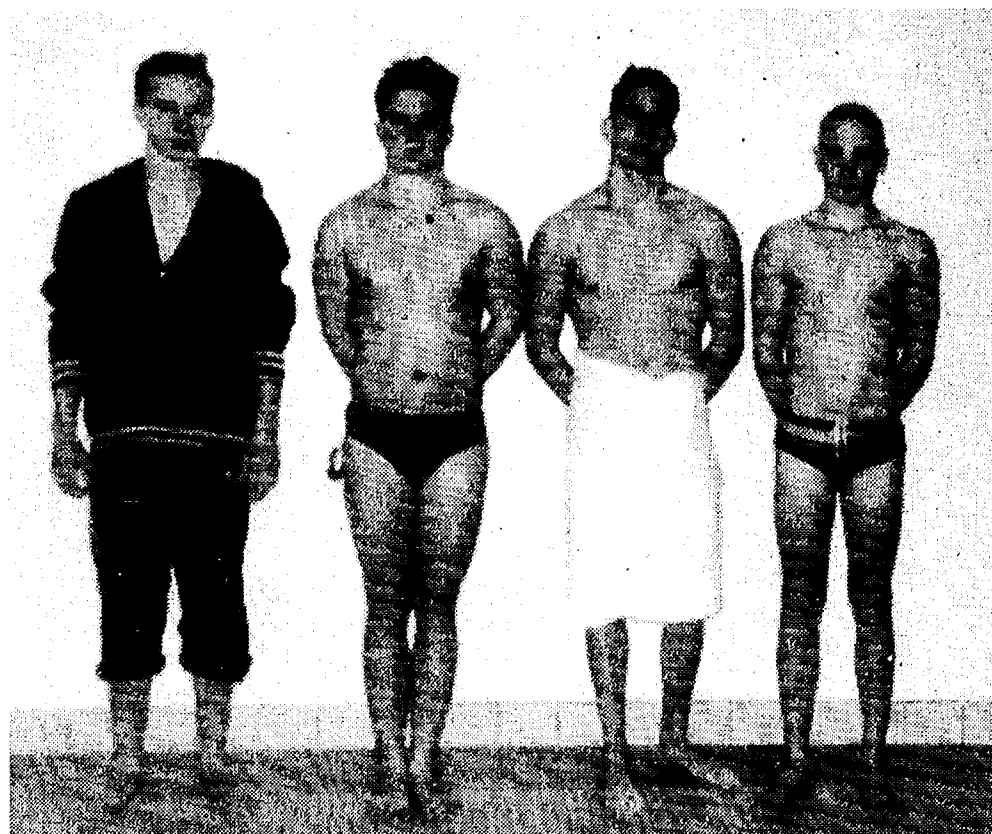

"James was the fifth guy in and just swam incredibly well," Keeler said.

The final event, 400-yard freestyle relay, saw the Chelsea teams swim well. The Chelsea A team of Acker, Hosner, Birtles, and Doan qualified for the state meet in 3:26.37.

Acker, swimming the leadoff leg, made the state qualifying time in the 100-yard free with a lead-off split of :50.74.

Chelsea B team of Brian Brock, Huetteman, Garen, and Girard swam to a fifth-place finish with a 3:49.36.

Chelsea C team of Harris, Beaduin, Northrop, and Hollo swam to a time of 4:05.19.

Cagers Drop Two Games

Starkey and Flanigan paced the Bulldog attack with 12 points each. Marshall scored 10, Morseau had six, Anderson five, and Nix and Collins four each.

"Junior played an exceptional game," Raymond said.

"He played solid defense and led the team in assists."

Chelsea heads into Friday's Southeastern Conference finale with a 1-10 league record and 3-16 over-all mark.

Friday's opponent, the Pinckney Pirates, is in the race for the conference title.

Wrestlers Bow Out At Regional Meet

Two Chelsea Bulldog varsity wrestlers came within a point or two of reaching the individual state meet at last Saturday's regional meet.

Bill Dixon, at 167 pounds, lost a 2-1 decision. Eric Hanna, at 105 pounds, lost a 9-8 decision to the state's top-rated boy in the weight class from Melvindale.

"The boys wrestled as well as could be expected," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"All year long we've had thirds and fourths in regular tournaments. In this tournament our kids faced wrestlers who were first and second in different areas. I was kind of hoping we might sneak one guy out, but it just didn't work out. They got a lot of good experience."

Kargel said that Alan Hanna was also within a couple of points of placing in the top four, which would have qualified him for the state meet.

Chelsea's other two competitors, Robert Kornexl and Craig McCalla, "ran into buzz saws right away," Kargel said, due to their seedings.

"It's possible that next year we could get seven or eight boys out of regionals to the state meet," Kargel said.

"We should have a pretty good team."

Chelsea Girls Qualify for State Meet

Three Chelsea girls participated on a 3,200-meter relay team that qualified for the state MITKA track meet on March 16.

The team of Jennifer Rossi, Sarah Grau, and Debi Koenn of Chelsea, and Julie Dorr of Grass Lake, took third place at last Saturday's indoor MITKA meet at Eastern Michigan University.

The team had a time of 10:45, good for third place.

Bulldog Wrestlers Demolish Opponents

Beach Middle school wrestlers had their best week of the season last week in whipping Jackson Northwest 79-12 and Manchester 78-18.

The Bulldogs ended the season 8-2 over-all and were co-champions of the Southeastern Conference with Saline with a 5-1 record.

Winners against Northwest were Kevin Rose (80 pounds), Vince Stahl (85), Terry Reynolds (90), Kevin McCalla (95), Ian Dyer (100), Jason Szosak (105), Phillippe Castillo (115), Jeff Holzhausen (125), Adam Taylor (130), Jeff Stump (137), Neil Klink (145), Steve Martin (155), and Jeff Gaken (167).

Winners against Manchester were Stahl, Reynolds, McCalla, Dyer, Szosak, Castillo, Holzhausen, Taylor, Stump, Klink, Martin, Terpstra, Gaken, and Mike Terpstra (heavyweight).

Cribbage Tourney Starts March 1

The 1988 Chelsea Cribbage Tournament will begin on Tuesday, March 1 at the VFW Hall, 105 N. Main St.

Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. and play will start at 8:45.

The tournament is open and prizes will consist of trophies only.

Players will meet for three consecutive Tuesdays, playing 10 games against 10 opponents for a total of 30 games. The top eight players will face off on March 22 to determine the top four places.

Bulldog Freshmen Cagers Drop Games to Adrian, Dexter

Chelsea Bulldog freshmen cagers lost road games to Adrian and Dexter last week.

The Dogs were no match for Adrian on Monday, Feb. 15, as they lost 62-39. Chelsea played a tougher game against Dexter, however, and dropped the game by one point, 56-57.

In the Adrian game, the Maples out-scored Chelsea 36-15 in the first half. The teams played virtually even basketball from then on.

"Adrian is a good ball club and they played well against us," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"Hopefully we learned something from our second half performance that will help us."

Quilter said the Bulldogs had trouble running their offense in the first half, partially due to Adrian's good defense.

Tucker Steele and Jude Quilter were the only Bulldogs in double figures, with 13 and 10 points, respectively.

Rounding out the scoring were Vince Dunn with five points, Alex Hammerschmidt with four points, Brian Bell, Matt Steinaway and Jeremy Mackinder with two points each, and Garrett Kern with two points.

Chelsea played a good game in the losing effort to Dexter, Quilter said.

"We lost, but in no way am I disappointed with the team's effort," Quilter said.

"This is by far our best game in a long time. As a team we did all the things that are necessary to be successful."

Chelsea cut their turnovers to 21, about 10 or 15 less than they've been averaging. The Dogs shot 40 percent from the field, compared to Dexter's 49 percent.

Quilter praised the play of Steele, who was guarded by two or three players most of the game but managed to pass the ball to the open player. Steele finished with 14 points and four rebounds.

Jude Quilter scored 30 points on 67 percent shooting from the field. He also had a team-high 13 rebounds.

"Jeremy Mackinder also played well in his first start of the year as he played good defense and grabbed five big rebounds. Vince Dunn ran the team well and hustled to score eight points."

Coach Quilter had two technical fouls called on him with 2:41 remaining as he questioned a scoring decision by the official.

"The kids played over all the obstacles thrown at them and I give them a lot of credit."

Chris Haugen scored four points and had six rebounds, and Alex Hammerschmidt scored one point.

Burg and Kyle Plank scored 12 points each, Kerry Plank scored 10 points, Wilson scored five and Murrell, four.

Chelsea heads into Friday's game with a tough Pinckney team with a 9-2 mark in the Southeastern Conference and an 11-6 record over-all.

Correction

In last week's story "Meet Your Candidates," we mentioned that Charles Ritter had complained to the assistant prosecuting attorney about a $10 bonus that was paid to an auxiliary Chelsea police officer, which sparked an investigation by Michigan State Police.

However, Ritter said last week that he did not complain about any particular bonus but rather the procedure that was followed by the village when it gave Christmas bonuses to non-union employees.

Is your IRA a sleeping giant?

You've been putting money into your IRA for a few years now—but maybe you haven't realized that it's grown into an amount worthy of serious investing.

If your IRA is asleep at the bank, or just not earning the kind of returns it could be, talk to us—the investment specialists of Integrated Resources Equity Corp. We'll show you a variety of financial investments for your IRA fund that can turn a sleeping giant into a hard-working one.

So call us today. After all, isn't it time you woke up that sleeping IRA?

Regular Session.

February 2, 1988

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Satterthwaite. Present: President Satterthwaite, Clerk Anderson and Assistant Village Manager Fahrner.

Absent: Village Manager Weber.
Trustees Present: Boham, Steele, Merkel, Kanten, Hall and Bentley.
Others Present: Fred Harris, Paul H. Newhouse, Linda S. Newhouse, Cecil Clouse, Gretchen Waters, Chief Lenard McDougall, Fire Chief Paul Hankerd, John Francis, Brian Hamilton, Harold Allen, S. C. Kims, D. Bulson, Treasurer Chapman and Zoning Inspector Harook.

Motion by Bentley, supported by Kanten, to approve the minutes of the regular session of January 19, 1988 as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Fire Chief Paul Hankerd stated that review of the fire truck bids was awaiting verification of the low bidder's specifications. The bid review should be ready for the next regular Council meeting scheduled for February 16, 1988. Council took no action at this time.

Police Chief McDougall requested approval from the Council to accept bids on a new police patrol car.

RESOLUTION RE:

TRANSFER OF FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING FUNDS

WHEREAS, the Chelsea Village Council, on March 3, 1987, adopted a Federal Revenue Sharing Budget allocating all remaining Federal Revenue Sharing funds from Entitlement Period No. 17 for Park and Recreation activities in the General Fund; and

WHEREAS, certain Park and Recreation expenditures were made in the General Fund during this fiscal year that exceed the amount allocated in the Federal Revenue Sharing Budget adopted on March 3, 1987; now

BE IT RESOLVED, that pursuant to the above mentioned Federal Revenue Sharing Fund Budget, the sum of $6,269.08 be transferred from the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund (249-690-965) to the General Fund (101-000-676), said sum being the remaining Federal Revenue Sharing funds from Entitlement Period No. 17; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund account be closed and any and all monies that may be appropriated, under the Federal Revenue Sharing Acts, are herein authorized to be deposited into the General Fund of the Village of Chelsea.

Motion by Steele, supported by Hall, to adopt the above resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

RESOLUTION RE:

TRANSFER OF FUNDS

RESOLVED, that the sum of $27,000.00 be transferred from the Electric Department Fund (582-538-970) to the Parking Meter Fund (231-000-694), said sum being the sale price of Lots 11, 12, 48 and 49, Block No. 5, Original Plat of the Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw County, Michigan (134 W. Middle Street), a capital asset of the Parking Meter Fund that was sold at public auction during this fiscal year, the proceeds of which were used as partial payment for property purchased by the Electric Department located at 145 Park Street.

Motion by Bentley, supported by Kanten, to adopt the above resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

RESOLUTION RE:

TRANSFER OF FUNDS

RESOLVED, that the sum of $35,000.00 be transferred from the Electric Department Fund (582-538-970) to the Capital Improvement Fund (401-000-671), said sum being a loan to the Capital Improvement Fund and shall be repaid to the Electric Fund upon receipt of connection fees and tap-in fees.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Boham, to adopt the above resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Motion by Boham, supported by Kanten, to adopt a resolution to amend the Budgets of the Capital Improvement Fund, the Downtown Development Fund and the Local Street Fund (Said Resolution attached to these minutes as Appendix C). Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Motion by Bentley, supported by Steele, to adopt the budget for the Sewage Disposal Improvements Bonds—87 Series—Project Fund and to adopt the budget for the G. O. Bond—87 Series Unlimited Debt Retirement Fund and also to adopt the budget for the Sewage Disposal Improvements 87 Series—Limited—Debt Retirement Fund. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Budgets adopted. (Budgets attached to these minutes as Appendix D.)

President Satterthwaite reported that a complaint was directed to the County Attorney's Office by a citizen to the effect that Christmas Bonus monies paid to non-union employees was a misuse of funds. President Satterthwaite stated that he and Mr. Fahrner, along with Office Supervisor Barbara Fredette had spent considerable time researching this funding. A state trooper came to the village office and requested and was given information about the bonus funding. After discussion with the investigator, it is believed he left satisfied with the information provided. It is noted that the complaint may have come from Mr. Charles Ritter, former Village President. President Satterthwaite stated that the same bonus system was in effect at the time Mr. Ritter was Village President and that the formula has not changed since that time. President Satterthwaite expressed his frustration concerning the waste of the Village's time as well as the State Investigator's time.

Motion by Boham, supported by Kanten, to appoint Robert Berg to the Chelsea Recreation Council to fill the unexpired term of Ron Schuyler. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Motion by Bentley, supported by Kanten, to authorize payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. (Bills attached to these minutes as Appendix E.)

Motion by Boham, supported by Merkel, to adjourn. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Allen L. Anderson,

Village Clerk, Village of Chelsea.

CHELSEA DENTIST Dr. David Swan spoke to four North school classes on Monday, Feb. 22, explaining nutrition and oral hygiene. As part of National Children's Dental Health Month, the Washtenaw District Dental Society sent out notes to area schools telling them that a dentist could come to their building to instruct the children on dental matters. Marie Crouch of North school was one of the teachers who responded to the invitation. Shown watching Dr. Swan demonstrate tooth brushing are pupils in Crouch's fifth grade class: Kim Fischer, Krissy Pugsley, Brian AtLee, Aaron Babyz, Jim Beryman, Nikki Brown, Risa Buberniak, Kristie DeBard, Jamie Diesing, Jason Dunahoo, Jesse Hammett, Garry Klink, Jessica Knight, Drew Kye, Craig Leonard, Christine Lou-skey, Jim Maynard, Case McCalla, Amy Petty, Nancy Pidd, Emily Pratt, Mark Seitz, Adam Skyles, Jayma Spears, Stephen Straub, Jamie Wade, and Nathan Young.

Gold vs. Porcelain Crowns—Which is Better?

Q: My dentist recently told me that several of my teeth need to have crowns. Which is better—gold or porcelain.

A: There is no standard answer to that question since each particular situation is unique. Both types of crowns are excellent long term restorations and each has its own advantages and disadvantages.

The ideal restoration would be one that looks and functions exactly like a natural tooth. Porcelain crowns are esthetically pleasing since they look very much like a natural tooth. Porcelain crowns are very popular in this age of cosmetic dentistry but they are not the perfect restoration for all cases. Porcelain crowns may be made of a pure ceramic material (called a "jacket" crown) or they may contain a metal substructure onto which a porcelain facing has been chemically fused. Porcelain crowns are the restoration of choice in anterior (front) teeth and some back teeth that show when a person smiles. If the biting surfaces of back teeth are covered with porcelain, however, this may result in excessive wear to the opposing tooth which bites against the porcelain crown. This is because porcelain is harder and more abrasive than enamel. To avoid this problem, crowns on back teeth that require porcelain for esthetic reasons may have just a porcelain facing that looks natural during speaking and smiling, yet the biting surface is made of metal. Porcelain crowns generally require more of the tooth structure to be removed to make room for the extra thickness of the porcelain in the crown. If the margin or edge of the porcelain crown is placed next to or just under the gumline it may result in increased plaque build-up and irritation of the gum tissues. Color matching is sometimes very difficult with porcelain and light refracts differently off porcelain than it does off natural tooth enamel. A porcelain crown may look natural in sunlight, but fluorescent light may appear to make it a different shade.

Gold crowns avoid many of the problems associated with porcelain crowns. They can be more conservative requiring less removal of tooth structure and they are much kinder to the opposing teeth. Highly polished gold will wear at approximately the same rate as natural tooth enamel. There is no danger of chipping a gold crown as can occasionally happen with a porcelain restoration. The biggest disadvantage to a gold crown is the shiny color.

I recommend to my patients that the biting surfaces of their crowns be kept in metal and that porcelain only be used where esthetics require it although I leave the final decision up to them after explaining the pros and cons of each.

Amnesty Applications Behind Schedule

The program designed to help stem the tide of illegal immigration into the U. S. has a long way to go if it is to reach its goal of granting residency status to as many as two million illegal aliens by this May.

So far, about 1.2 million immigrants have applied for legalization under the amnesty program. A fifth of those applying have done so under special agricultural worker (SAW) provisions of the law, which are less demanding in time spent in the country but stipulate that the applicant must have worked at specified agricultural employment.

School Board Election Scheduled June 13

The 1988 school board election has been scheduled for Monday, June 13 to fill two expiring terms, those of Joe Redding and Lloyd Grau.

Asked if he was planning to run again, Redding replied, "I probably will. I've gotten used to showing up on Monday." Redding has already served five years. In 1983 he was appointed to finish the vacant term of Dan Snyder. In 1984, he ran for a four-year term which he is just finishing.

Grau said he was "undecided," explaining that he was tied up with finding a new superintendent at the moment. Grau, who has been on the school board eight years, is finishing his second term.

Anyone wishing to run for school board should pick up a petition at the superintendent's office in the high school. Twenty signatures from registered voters in the school district are required to get on the ballot. The last day to turn in the petitions is April 11 at 4 p.m. April 14 at 4 p.m. is the last day to withdraw.

Women business owners are the fastest growing segment of small business nationally, growing at five times the rate of other small businesses. Three out of every five new business start-ups in the nation are woman owned. In Michigan, four out of every five are started by women.

'See How They Run' Called Hilarious

Reviewed by Russ Ogden
Free Lance Critic
& Professor at EMU

Outside Beach Middle school, Mother Nature had propitiated a work of art transforming Chelsea into a whitened, make believe landscape.

Inside Beach Middle school, a courteous young man—Scott Graflund—ushered us into a panorama of warmth generated by the friendliness of the hosts; by Becky Boeve and Ruth Kenny playing Broadway piano melodies; and by the soft flutter of candlelight glowing from the dining tables.

White tablecloths on long tables, dissected by lengthwise blackrunners emblazoned with white footprints, emphasized the theme of the play, and provided an attractive setting for the Candlelight/Dessert Theatre.

From long decorated serving tables at the rear of the auditorium, tasty pastries emanated along with coffee, tea, and milk. Unique was a black tea napkin imprinted with "See How They Run"—The Chelsea Area Players.

"See How They Run," authored by Philip King, birthed on May 11, 1949, at the Actor's Theatre in Plainfield, N. J. This British farce never appeared on or off Broadway but has been most popular in the amateur circuit for the past 39 years.

Nine characters prance comedically through this three-act vehicle which defies even the most somber of us to not laugh during the evening's stage festivities.

The living quarters of the Reverend Lionel Toop (Todd Wurster) and Mrs. Penelope Toop (Julie Vorus) and their unconventional maid, Ida (Judy Tobias), are located in the Vicarage Hall in a small hamlet in Merton-Cum-Middlewick. The Rev. Toop's wife, Penelope, hailed from the stage prior to their marriage. The town snoop, Miss Skillion (Margot Keonn), intends to keep her pastor and his wife on the straight and narrow behavior-wise and is influential merely because of her donations to the local parsonage.

In a slow moving first act, the Rev. Toop is confronted by Miss Skillion with accusations about his wife's behavior and with the appearance of Mrs. Toop the verbal fur flies between the two women. Eventually the Rev. Toop leaves to attend a meeting.

Penelope's old friend who is in service, Corporal Clive Winton (Dan Reed), arrives unexpectedly and the two of them for old times sake do a scene from Coward's Private Lives. The scene ends with the two of them on the floor, prone position together, and unannounced, the gossip arrives, naturally misinterpreting their questionable actions! Their plea of innocence involves demonstrating why they are where they are! But they accidentally strike the gossip "knocking her out cold."

Later that night The Bishop of Lax (Roger Boenschultz) arrives TODAY but was expected TOMORROW. An escaped Russian soldier (Art Finger) also arrives by the back window/doors and convinces the Rev. Toop at the end of a pistol to give up his clothing to disguise himself thus preventing identification.

In this second act, the Reverend is seen running around in plaid boxer undershorts chasing many people in and out of the house; the town gossip tasting the cooking wine once too many times and joining the inebriates; the accidental arrival of another clergyman, the Rev. Arthur Humphrey (John Gardner), caught in the middle of hilarity and misunderstandings and uncomfortably drawn into the fracas; the maid interlaces with all of the other apparently maniacal people leading to the laughter emanating from the theatre Friday night.

Finally, the police arrive in the form of Sergeant Towers (Paul Morrison) who joins into the confused melee. He eventually solves all misunderstandings by identifying correctly the multiparsons appearing during the evening's comedic rampage.

The Chelsea Area Players (on stage) are commended for the expending of an enormous amount of human energy, especially in Acts II and III. Favorites, a job well done . . . yes.

For total performance and remaining in character constantly throughout his time on stage: John P. Gardner as the rather innocent visiting Reverend arriving toward the end of the farce.

Todd Wurster's comedic talents and his ability to physically time his actions and reactions with his fellow Thespians would challenge a professional actor. His appearance sans uniform with undershorts and shirt is funny in and of itself, but his many physical gyrations added to his well done role.

Dan Reed as Clive—the theatre friend of Penelope's—also is brilliant for his timing and reaction to his fellow players. Although at times he hammed it up a wee bit too much, the play itself is not that strong either. But an extremely good job in a role in which he brought humor in cases where it was not!

Other members of the cast helped to certainly make the evening an enjoyable one although the British/English accent went in and out of various dialects at various times during the acts.

Did the audience of friends, relatives, and Chelsea Area members

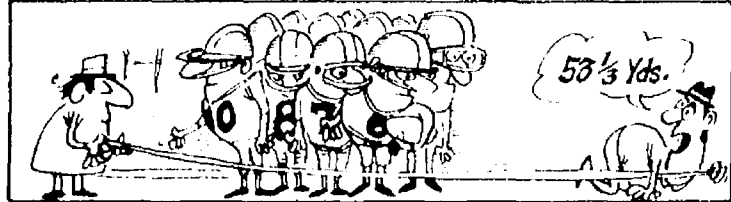

Friday night enjoy the total evening? If laughter is a measure, then "See How They Run" was an hysterical success.

P.S.—Have the Chelsea Area Players gone completely batty? A July performance of the still running on Broadway hit—"42nd Street." Can't wait to see this one!

HOWDY HOLMES, world-famous race car driver, was guest speaker at Monday evening's Kiwanis Club meeting. After showing a short video on his background in racing Indy type cars, he narrated many of the interesting facets of his profession and of the cars he drives. He was introduced by past president Ron Walter, right.

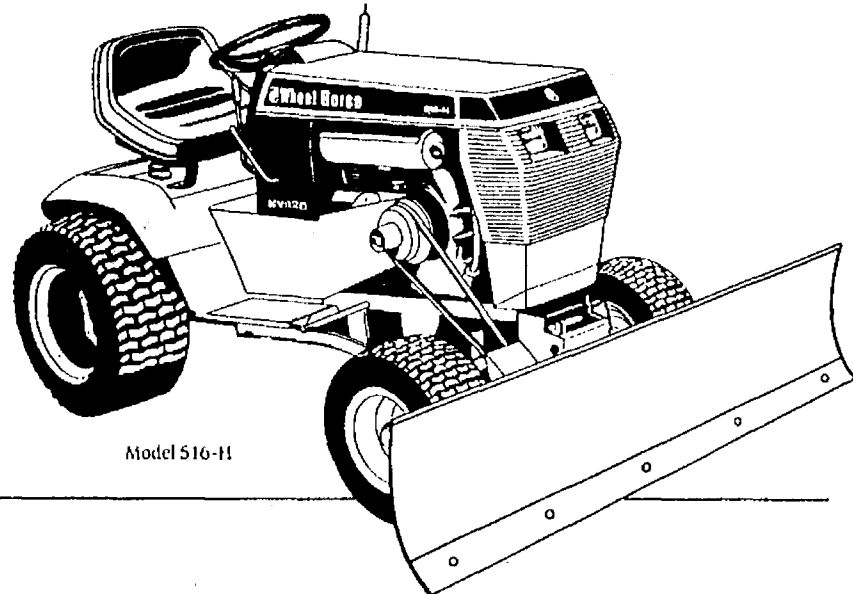

Most sports fans know the length of a football field (120 yards including end zones) but few know its width...which is 53 and one third yards.
