VANDALS ruined goalposts at both ends of the Chelsea High school football field last Friday night. According to assistant superintendent Fred Mills, it's not likely that one or two people could have caused the extensive damage.

Goalposts Torn Down, Windows Shot Out in Week-End of Vandalism

Vandalism in the village last week caused more than $4,000 in damage to the football goalposts at Chelsea High school and to windows in cars, a home and a business.

Friday night March 18, probably after a dance at the high school, the goalposts in both end zones were bent over and dismantled. The damage, as estimated by assistant superintendent Fred Mills, is $2,000.

"I don't think it was anything a couple of people could do," Mills said. "Ours are similar to the ones at the University of Michigan and I've watched fans try to take those down after a game and sometimes 15 or 20 people can't get them down. This was an act of pure vandalism. It wasn't just a couple of people out looking for a good time."

Mills said a goalpost at Dexter High school was also torn down in a similar manner about two weeks ago. He guessed that a group of people sat on the cross bars or used a rope to bring them down.

The goalposts will probably be replaced this summer, Mills said.

About 24 hours earlier someone went on a window-shooting spree in the village using a slingshot and possibly a BB gun or pellet gun, according to Chelsea police.

Six vehicles at Palmer Ford-Mercury Used Cars on M-52 sustained damage. The rear windows of a 1979 Dodge and a 1987 Dodge were shot out, the windshields of a 1987 Ranger pickup and 1983 Escort were damaged, and headlights of a 1979 Voyager and 1987 Pontiac were shot out.

Other property to be damaged included:

- the back window of a 1987 Oldsmobile at 316 East St.;

- the passenger side window of a 1988 Corsica at the Faust-Morrow Buick, Olds, Chevrolet lot on M-52;

- the windshield of a 1987 Ranger pickup in the Chelsea Milling Co. parking lot;

- the front living room window of a home at 671 W. Middle St.;

- a 16-inch square garage door window at Longworth Plating Co.

Chelsea police also reported that at least five car and truck hood and trunk ornaments were stolen over the week-end, most of them from vehicles at an apartment complex at 725 W. Middle St.

Police chief Lenard McDougall said the ornaments were probably being made into necklaces in a style made popular by The Beastie Boys rock band.

"Parents should question their children if they come home with any of these emblems," McDougall said. "They're worth $50 or $60 each."

McDougall said that in most of the cases the ornaments were cut off the vehicles.

Two Teachers Laid Off

Due to declining high school enrollment, two Chelsea teachers have been placed on lay-off status: Rahn Rosentreter and Alice Leith. The action was taken at the March 21 school board meeting.

Leith is an English teacher and has been with the Chelsea school system since 1980. Rosentreter, a social studies teacher, has been employed in Chelsea since 1984. Rosentreter is also the boys tennis coach and girls basketball coach.

Speaking of the lay-offs, assistant superintendent Fred Mills said, "We don't like to have that happen. It's not part of our plan."

The lay-offs were necessitated by next year's high school enrollment. Graduating seniors number 222, while the entering freshman class will only reach 152. Since the students have already registered for classes, the administration knows the teaching loads needed.

If there is an unpredicted surge in enrollment from more people moving into the district, Leith and Rosentreter will be re-hired. According to the state tenure act, laid-off teachers have the right of being offered the first jobs they are qualified for.

Up to now, Chelsea has been able to avoid lay-offs because enough teachers have retired or moved from the district each year. This year, however, although there have been three retirements, all have been from elementary school-level teachers.

While the high school enrollment is going down, superintendent Ray Van Meer reported that the elementary school enrollment is rising, due to many young families moving into the district.

In reports for information, Mills recommended that North school be annexed into the village and curriculum director Laurie Bissell presented the new business education curriculum.

North school would like to join the village so that they can receive cable television. They already receive village water and sewer.

John and Mary Alice Hafer were recognized by the school board for their landscaping work in the North school courtyards.

Council Appoints Harook Assessor

Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook was appointed village assessor in a unanimous vote of the village council last Tuesday, March 15.

Harook received one write-in vote for the position in the March 14 village elections.

However, the position, which has been unfilled since the resignation of Chip Winans a number of years ago, was not up for election this year and was not on the ballot. Consequently, Harook was not officially elected to the position.

The assessor earns a $400 annual salary.

It's unclear, however, exactly what the duties of the assessor are. The position is addressed by three lines in the village charter, which says "the assessor shall perform such duties in relation to assessing property and levying taxes in the village . . ." However, Sylvan and Lima townships assess village property and the Washtenaw county levies the taxes.

Assistant village manager Lee Fahrner said Harook would probably be responsible for maintaining the village tax rolls and creating tax rolls for special projects like the Downtown Development Authority's tax increment financing plan. In addition, she would provide legal property descriptions.

Cheerleader Tryouts Slated April 19

Chelsea High school cheerleading tryouts will be held at the high school April 19.

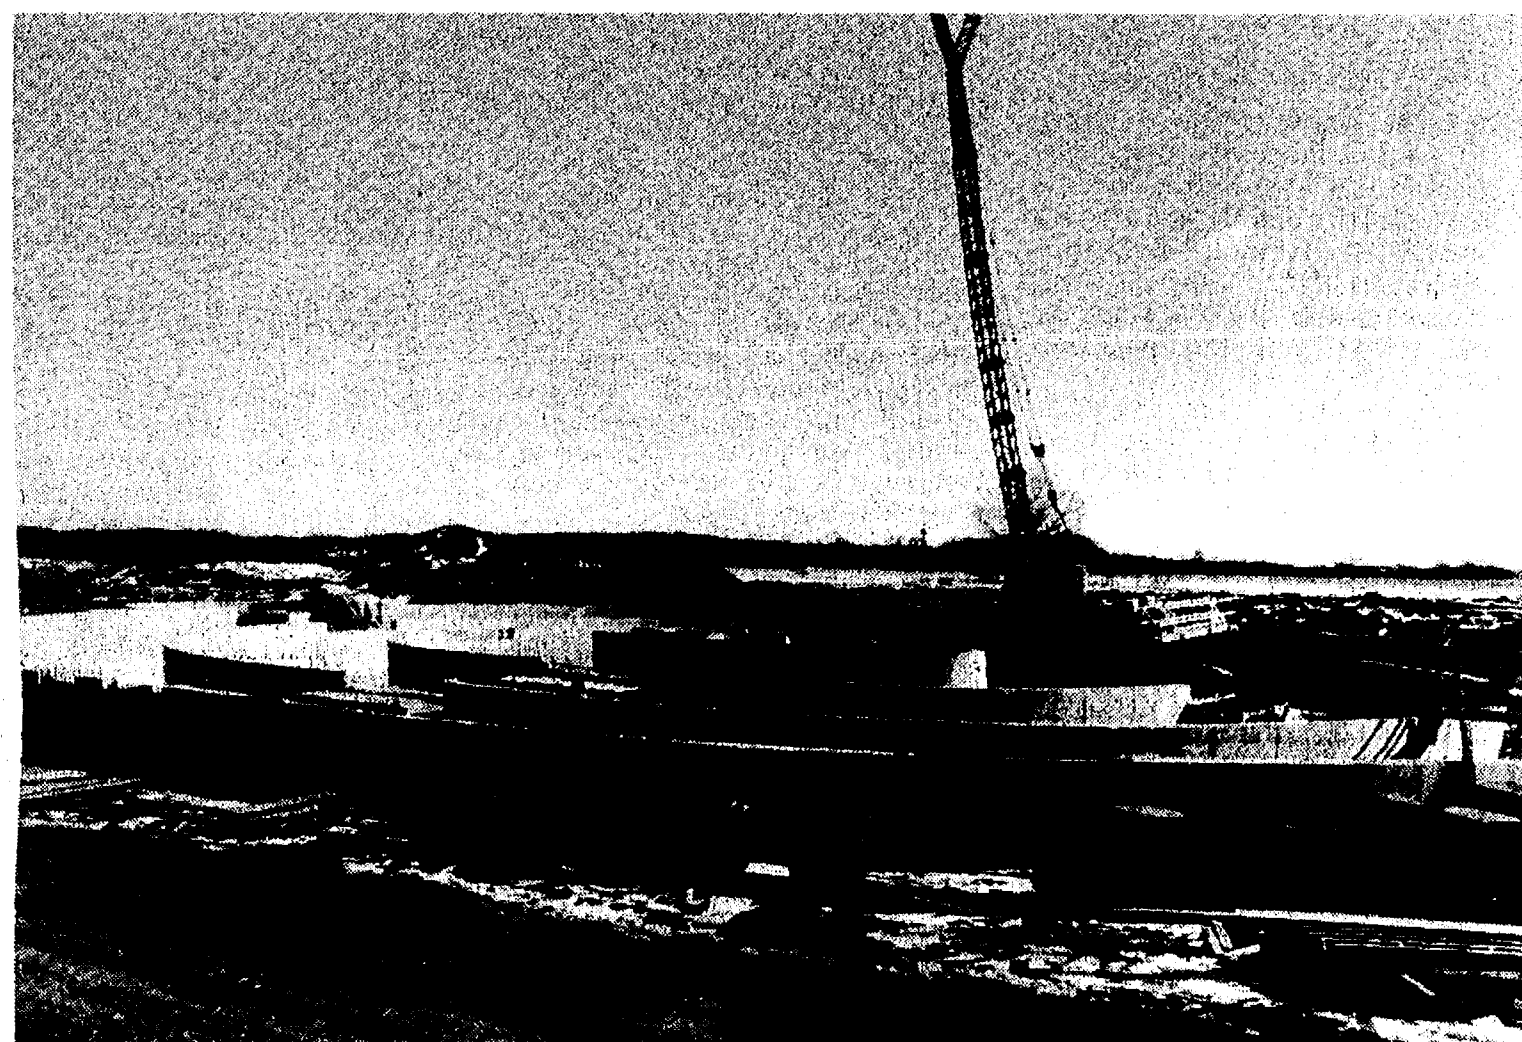

Girls in grades 8-11 are eligible for tryouts but attendance at a minimum of two practices is required in order to participate in tryouts.

The practices will be held 6:30-8 p.m. on April 11, and 7-8 a.m. on April 13 and 15.

All participants in the tryouts will be required to stay until the last girl has performed and the judges have been polled.

Six squads have to be filled, including freshman, junior varsity and varsity football and basketball cheerleading squads.

For more information, contact varsity coach Maureen Bohl, junior varsity coach Mary Adams, or athletic director Larry Reed.

CHELSEA'S WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT is on schedule for completion later this year. However, the village recently turned down a request by the main contractor for an extension due to poor winter weather.

Village taxes will rise by more than five mills this year to pay for the plant.

Village To Join Business Climate Study

Chelsea Village Council voted to join a business retention study that will gauge the business climate in Chelsea, Dexter and Scio township.

The study will be conducted by Michigan Bell and will cost the village about $200 to join, assistant village manager Lee Fahrner told the council last Tuesday, March 15.

The study will look at problems businesses in the area might have and how they might be addressed. Personal interviews will be conducted at businesses and any significant problems will be reported to local government.

"The idea is if we can make conditions good for existing businesses they'll be good for new businesses coming in," said Fahrner, who recommended the village join the study.

Trustee Phil Boham called the move an initial step in the marketing of the village's industrial park.

Mary Kallewaard Sets Agenda As Manchester Village President

Mary Kallewaard, a 14-year resident of the Village of Manchester, was scheduled to be sworn in this week as the village's first woman president.

Kallewaard, owner of Written Image, a Manchester advertising agency, served two terms on the village council from 1982 to 1986. She has also been a member of the village's planning commission. She said she did not seek re-election in 1986 because she was in the process of moving her business from her home into town.

Kallewaard ran an uncontested race in the village's March 14 elections and received 121 votes.

"I think there are three things that made me run for president," Kallewaard said.

"First is the village's financial situation. I want to make sure we get it back under control. I also want to do whatever possible to encourage industrial development. The closing of AA Products had a big impact both psychologically and economically. We need more jobs in Manchester. Third is I'd like to set up some better ways of communicating with the village residents about what government is doing and get their ideas back into the decision-making process."

The village, according to reports, had a $42,152 deficit for the 1986-87 fiscal year.

Kallewaard's ideas for improving communication include establishing links with the surrounding townships, school board and service organizations. She also plans to keep regular hours for meeting with the public. Finally, she wants to publish digests and work more closely with The Manchester Enterprise, the local newspaper.

Others elected to the village council include incumbents Joseph Marshall, Wendell Reinhart and William Kwolek. Kwolek had 92 votes and Reinhart and Marshall each had 91.

Also re-elected were clerk Constance Schaeffer, treasurer Sue Ann Koebe and assessor Delber Ludwick, who all ran uncontested races.

Fire Protection Contracts Sent To Area Townships

Village of Chelsea has sent new fire protection contracts to Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima, Dexter, Sharon, Freedom and Waterloo townships but as of Friday none had been returned.

The new contracts would run for three years retroactive to March 1.

The contract calls for the establishment of a $90,000 equipment fund to pay for new fire trucks and other equipment. Each township's share of the fund will be based on its percentage of use of the department over the last 22 years. For example, if 10 percent of firefighter hours were spent in Sylvan township, then that township would pay $9,000 to the fund.

Fire chief Bud Hanked arranged several meetings for the townships to decide how the equipment fund would be funded. Initially, he told the village council, a couple of the townships wanted to base their shares on the most recent year's percentage of fire department use, which is the way all other fire department charges are determined. The percentage is determined by the number of firefighter hours used.

However, Lyndon supervisor John Francis told village council earlier this year that if his township were to have one particularly bad year that a high percentage of the $90,000 could take too much of his budget.

The village, in addition to paying for its share of fire department use, agrees to administer the fire department and train its employees.

Parts from Stolen Bikes Found By Girls

Parts from two stolen dirt bicycles were found in an abandoned garage behind Harper Pontiac last Wednesday, March 16, according to Chelsea police.

The bikes had been stripped of wheels and sprockets and the frames had been re-painted, police said.

Police said two young girls happened to find the bicycles by accident.

GIRL SCOUTS from Troop No. 676, Suzy Steel, Jill McKinnon, and Erin Baird, practice selling cookies to their leader, Jan Baird, shortly after they set up their booth at Polly's on March 11.

Stepped Up Tax Enforcement Yields $226 Million

Michigan's stepped up income tax enforcement and compliance program has produced $226.1 million since it began with an amnesty plan in 1986, Treasury officials reported.

The program has permanently expanded the tax base, producing several million in additional revenue, and new efforts include issuing $7.8 million in tax-due statements to individuals identified through matching state records of licensed occupations.

Treasurer Robert Bowman said the computer match of occupations, in part the result of a profile of a typical "tax cheat," will now be conducted annually, as will automatic reviews of individuals who filed returns in previous years who fail to file new tax returns.

The profile, drawn from a 10 percent sample of the 20,496 persons who paid taxes under the amnesty provisions, is of a single male management/executive (either self-employed or in sales), earning about $56,000 a year.

It is the first such analysis in the country and officials said Michigan is the only state to use its amnesty program to create a data base for better targeting future enforcement.

A computer match against IRS files and other state agencies resulted in $19.6 million in tax assessments against 125,230 persons in the first 13 months of operation of the Discovery Division.

The tax assessments against individuals holding occupational licenses resulted from computer matches of 100,252 persons in 15 fields.

Of the $7.8 million in tax assessments, over half, $4.5 million, was assessed against 508 builders who had failed to file returns, followed by $1.3 million against 82 certified public accountants.

Bowman said he was surprised by the relatively high portion (76.1 percent) of those taking part in the amnesty program who continued in the tax base by filing 1986 returns.

He said it indicates taxpayers believed the amnesty was a one-time chance to avoid penalties, which since have been increased to a maximum of 50 percent of the tax owed, plus interest.

While difficult to calculate with precision, he said better enforcement and higher voluntary compliance would add over $100 million annually to the state's revenue base.

The total amount produced to date includes $109.8 million from the amnesty program; another $88.1 million has been collected in voluntary payments above the base year in 1985, and $27.4 million has been paid under stricter audits, a report compiled by Revenue Commissioner Susan Work Martin said.

She said the programs have "generated tremendous revenues and increased compliance" with tax laws.

Blanchard Asks for Help in Stopping Canada from Illegal Trade

Governor Blanchard announced he is filing a formal complaint with the U.S. Trade representative against continued use of unfair and illegal trade practices by the Canadian federal government.

Blanchard said Canada's production-based "duty remission" program provides illegal production subsidies to vehicle manufacturers which purchase Canadian parts.

The program allows an automobile manufacturer in Canada to pay a reduced duty on vehicles the manufacturer imports into Canada. To qualify for the duty, the manufacturer must increase the use of Canadian-built parts in its assembly operations in Canada.

The program discriminates against Michigan-built parts because they do not qualify the manufacturer for a reduced duty, Blanchard said.

Also, it unfairly distorts new investment to the benefit of Canada by exerting strong economic pressure on parts suppliers from the U.S., Japan and other nations to locate in Canada, he said.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Democrat Clem Webster got the floor at the opening of the session at the country store Saturday night, and he used his time to come to the aid of his party. He said it is one thing for Republicans to break the rule with one another again building yourself up and tearing the other feller down, but now they have took to warning Democrats again Democrats.

Clem said he had saw by the papers where a national Republican effort is going on to "expose" young Albert Gore for the flaming liberal he is. The GOP line is that all Democrats are liberals eager to vote themselves the national treasurer ever chancet, but Gore out-liberals Ted Kennedy and he has the gall to run all over the South claiming conservative credentials.

On one hand, Clem said, this move can be seen as a way to ambush the Democrat the Republicans think would be hardest to beat in November. On the other, it could backfire into the old briarpatch play where making Republican enemies is the best way to make Democrat friends. Fer sure, Clem declared, the bull that's being Gored could be that put out by hard line Republicans that are making Gore look better to their moderate brethren than TV preachers that can turn storms around and make Cuban missiles disappear.

Natural, Republican Ed Doolittle demanded equal time. Ed said it is so, as Gary Hart showed us recent, that bedfellows make strange politics. It may be so, to, that all's fair in politics and war, if not love. But the plain fact is, the Democrats are having the devil's own time figuring out where they stand on whatever they stand fer, so instead of complaining they ought to be thankful fer help from any source.

Before talk turned to yell, Bug Hookum picked up on a item he said still was puzzling him. What, he ask, was Presidents Day back in the middle of February. He said it snuck up on him altogether, and the first he knowed of it was when the mail didn't run that Monday. If the idee is fer Lincoln and Washington to share the day ever year it ain't much of an honor for either one. If the holiday salutes all our Presidents it's the wrong move fer the wrong reasons, Bug said, because stirring Washingtons and Lincolns into the same pot with Fillmores, Hardings and Nixons is cooking up some mighty watery stew.

Fathermore, Bug said, he wasn't taking sides with Ed or Clem, but it looks to him like the Reagan Administration is out to prove crime can pay even if the Government runs it. Even if all the messes Meese has been stepping in can't be called crooked, he stops far short of being a role model of the country's highest law enforcement officer, was Bug's words. Meese had showed us over and over that he figgers the laws of God and man were made fer everybody else, and as long as Reagan is fer you it don't matter who stands agin you.

Zeke Grubb was full agreed with Bug. As fer where the law is leading us, Zeke said, he had saw where a bank robber in California is suing the bank because he got hurt from a booby trap in the money he took. Another recent item said a study shows that seven out of ever 10 young adults paroled from prison are arrested agin on serious charges within six years.

It seems to him, Zeke said, that them two items explain one another. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Village of Chelsea voted not to reimburse Clear Cable Co. for the cost of an easement to maintain their equipment on the village water tower.

The village has an easement on property owned by John and Gloria Mitchell so that it can maintain the water tower.

However, the Mitchells recently told the village in a letter that the village did not have the right to extend that easement to the cable television company. The village agreed.

At the March 15 council meeting, Village President Jerry Satterthwaite read a letter from the company asking for reimbursement of $100 per year as part of the cost of the easement. Cost of the easement, Satterthwaite said, was free cable service to the Mitchell's residence.

Council declined reimbursement on the grounds that it had never raised its fees for allowing the use of the water tower as a site for television equipment.

Council OKs*Equipment Purchase

At their March 15 meeting Chelsea Village Council approved an expenditure of $24,229.14 for equipment for the fire department.

The equipment will be used with the new fire truck the department is purchasing.

The equipment included hose, air tanks, wrenches, lights and a radio.

Village Motors was the low bidder to supply the village with a new police cruiser.

The village will pay $12,579.51 for the vehicle and retire one of the department's older cars.

There's nothing an Egyptian vulture would rather eat than an ostrich egg. But cracking open the hard shell requires a bit of work. According to Ranger Rick magazine, the vulture first picks up a stone with its beak. Then it hurls the stone at the egg. It may take two dozen direct hits, but the shell usually cracks, and the vulture gets its meal!

MANDY PAWLOSKI, age two, is painting at the easel at North Lake Co-op Nursery school. Watching is her mom, Kim. Mandy is part of the two-year-old program which meets once a week for an hour. ## Traveling Exhibition on Sphinx On Display at Schools

North and South school library media centers are hosting a traveling exhibition from the Detroit Institute of Arts through Friday, March 25. The exhibit includes a scale model of the Sphinx, and photopanel featuring the excavation of this ancient monument during the past 200 years.

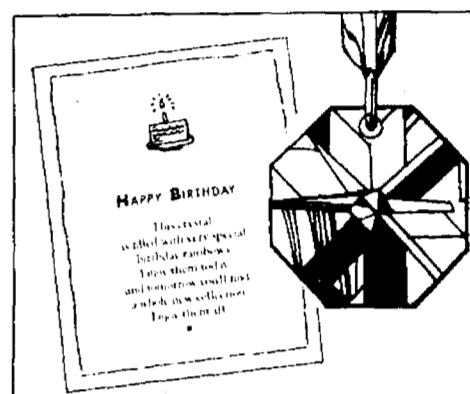

The Great Sphinx, the subject of the exhibition, at Giza has been the subject of controversy and speculation for almost 5,000 years. Archeologists, engineers and scholars have studied, excavated, and restored the Sphinx. Writers and artists have romanticized it. And, tourists have spent hours simply gazing at it. Still, speculation about the origin and meaning of the Sphinx remains.

The lion-bodied and human-headed statue was completed during the same time as the pyramids. It is a portrait of Cephren, a king in the 4th Dynasty (2700-2450 B.C.). The Sphinx also represents the sun god, Horus.

The actual Sphinx is 65 feet high and 190 feet long (about as tall as a six-story building and two-thirds the length of a football field). It was carved from natural limestone of the Giza plateau.

Exhibitions like the Sphinx are an effort by the Detroit Institute of Arts to present cultural events in communities throughout Michigan. These exhibitions are state-funded and presented at no cost to the host communities.

The exhibit is open to the public during school hours, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. It will be at North school on Wednesday, and at South school, Thursday and Friday.

Orchestras Receive High Festival Ratings

Chelsea High school symphony orchestra received division I ratings at the District 12 Orchestra Festival in Saline last Saturday, March 19.

According to orchestra director Jed Fritzemeier, the program was the most difficult the orchestra had ever played. Works performed included Handel's "Concerto Grosso in G," and "Music for the Royal Fireworks," as well as a ballet by Igor Stravinsky called "Fair from Petrouska."

The orchestra received four division I ratings for a final I rating.

Beach Middle school orchestra performed at the Junior High Orchestra Festival on Saturday, March 12 in Dearborn, and received a division II rating.

"This is a very talented group of young people and I am expecting great things from them in the future," Fritzemeier said of the middle school orchestra.

"They work hard and will be very good musicians."

April 8-9 the high school symphony orchestra and high school choir will tour Washington D.C. The groups will perform at the Capitol building and the Jefferson Memorial.

"For the maintenance of peace, nations should avoid the pin-pricks which forewarn of cannon-shots..."

This is sound, thoughtful advice today and very likely for centuries to come. Unfortunately, ours is a world and a time in history where smallish affronts can quickly assume disastrous proportions.

How to avoid these small but deadly pin-pricks is something the author didn't touch upon, for the very simple reason that he, himself, may have been an expert in administering the very pin-pricks he warned against.

The author? Napoleon.

We want to help you when you need us. We have the training and the experience to serve people of all faiths appropriately, with dignity and good taste.

FOUR TOP PLACERS in the Metric 500 at Chelsea High school were, from left, Randy Ferry (first), Curtis Satterthwaite (third), Ross Maier (second), and Randy Seitz (fourth). Satterthwaite's car had the best run of the day. The students designed and built the cars in their Exploring Technology class. A double elimination tournament decided the winners. The four can now move on to a state event in Traverse City.

MORE THAN 60 Chelsea High school students designed and built miniature basswood race cars in their Exploring Technology class. They went on to compete in the Metric 500 last week. The finals were held in the gym during the lunch hours Friday.

Substance Abuse Among Young People Will Be Discussed

Brighton Hospital's next Community Education Program on April 5 will focus on the problem of substance abuse among youth.

Topic for the free program is "Graduating Sober: Help for Teens." The program will begin at 7 p.m. in the hospital's chapel. Reservations are not required.

The program will begin with "How Can I Tell If I'm Hooked," a videocassette that helps young people recognize the signs of addiction and better understand how it may be treated. Afterwards Barbara Judge, one of the hospital's family therapists, will answer questions from the audience and discuss prevention strategies and treatment options that are available for young people.

Prevention specialists from the Livingston Council for Alcohol Services will be on hand to discuss the services that are available for young people through that agency. LCAS is affiliated with Brighton Hospital and provides substance abuse prevention and outpatient treatment at its offices in Howell.

Brighton Hospital is located at 12851 East Grand River, just east of Kensington Rd. For additional information, contact the Community Relations Department on weekdays between 8:30 and 4:30 p.m. at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

County Historical Society Program on Michigan Barns

Barns are a familiar part of the Michigan landscape but to a scholar from India they are magnificent structures, unique to the western world. If present trends continue, they may be a rare sight to all of us.

Professor Hemalata Dandekar of the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Urban Planning will present a slide show, "The Michigan Farm and Its Buildings," at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 20, at the Washtenaw County Historical Society meeting at Bentley Library, Ann Arbor.

She will show pictures of barns in Washtenaw county and elsewhere in Michigan, both typical and unusual. Her study, an on-going project, is partly funded by the Michigan Council for the Humanities.

Bentley Library is at 1150 Beal on the U-M North Campus not far from Veterans Hospital.

The Next Titanic Disaster

There is an uncomfortable parallel between the Titanic which met disaster in 1912 and the American ship of state which may meet the same fate by the Year 2000.

With its 16 watertight compartments, the newly-built Titanic was considered unsinkable—the safest ship afloat. No one could conceive that an iceberg was capable of destroying five bulkheads in a single collision, but it could and it did. On her maiden voyage, Liverpool to New York, travelling 95 miles south of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, she slammed full-speed into a mountainous iceberg, sinking in less than three hours. Of 2,200 passengers and crew, 1,513 were lost in the dark, icy waters.

The tragedy didn't have to happen. And the same can be said for 250 million passengers aboard the S. S. America as it steams into the Twenty First Century. In 1912 there was no International Ice Patrol to warn ocean liners of icebergs and their positions. No one had dared to caution the captain, eager for a crossing record, against the recklessness of racing at maximum speed through those dangerous waters. Nor was there a law requiring a lifeboat space for every passenger. The Titanic had space for only one in every four.

Now, 76 years later, if we may continue the analogy, the S. S. America is heading at full-speed into a financial disaster that could cost thousands of lives . . . in suicides alone. Unless we back off, it is almost certain that the sheer weight of our national debt will open a massive hole in the bottom of the hull.

Too, with hardly a whisper of protest from the citizens of our country, we have complacently watched the President and Congress spend more money in seven years than our forefathers spent in the 193 years since the birth of the Constitution.

During this same seven years we have passed from the proud position of the world's largest creditor to that of the world's biggest debtor. Our balance of trade is in the same sad state. Sales of U. S. good to world markets is lagging far behind foreign sales to us. Billions of American wealth are hemorrhaging into Asia and Europe.

The ultimate scenario will be some form of national bankruptcy (dressed up to seem like it isn't) with printing presses debauching our currency and inflation reaching far into the double digits. This is always what happens when people or nations start living beyond their means. First the money runs out, then the credit dries up.

The Constitution expressly gives Congress the power:

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States.
2. To borrow money on the credit of the United States."

By law, Congress holds the manipulation of the Constitution in one hand and the key to the treasury in the other. On the basis of today's behavior on Capitol Hill, the financial destruction of America by its own Congress is inevitable unless we, the people exercise our sovereign powers of restraint.

Today, and virtually without exception, the principal business of individual members of the House and Senate has nothing to do with the state of the nation. The abiding concern is personal re-election. The pay doesn't matter; most legislators could earn far more elsewhere. What counts is the power and the glory. For most lawmakers, every day begins with a compulsive effort to find governmental money that grateful constituents will repay with votes at the polls.

A House member will fight for every federal dollar within reach to secure jobs for the people back home. He will introduce bills calling for governmental help in the building of roads, bridges, harbors, parks, post offices, hospitals, federal buildings and federal work centers. He will dig deeply for grants to local governments, schools, airports and water systems in his district.

A Senator will wheel and deal for treasury funds that will bring payrolls, construction, governmental purchasing, grants, revenue sharing, courts, education and research to his state.

Most transactions between solons on Capitol Hill consist of privately-negotiated agreements. Much of it is mutual back-scratching: You vote for my bill; I'll vote for yours. A considerable amount of Congressional business is quietly completed in committee before it ever reaches the floor. Indeed, many decisions of committees are decided before the committees even meet.

All too often, personal interest outweighs the national interest. Why would a legislator from Michigan vote for a subsidy to tobacco growers when the surgeon general of the United States has declared that the weed is a leading cause of deaths from lung cancer and heart disease? Why? Because the legislator from Virginia will vote millions for pork barrel bills in Michigan.

In such a cynical atmosphere, the 535 members of Congress vote to spend money on anything and everything that will inspire constituent loyalty. But why do we sensible, prudent citizens tolerate such behavior? Because we want these parks and airports and military installations and post offices. Our politicians are behaving the way we demand them to behave.

The national establishment, like any family, has fixed expenses which must come first. There is the cost of defense and other federal departments. In addition there are the entitlements of citizens. Here was the list for 1984:

Social security beneficiaries	36,400,000
Medicare patients	29,700,000
School lunch children	23,000,000
Medicaid patients	22,600,000
Food stamp recipients	21,500,000
Aided families with children	10,905,000
Unemployed recipients	4,600,000
Veterans or survivors	4,400,000
Occupants of subsidized housing	3,900,000
Aged, blind or disabled	3,400,000
Civil service retirees	1,500,000
Military retirees	1,500,000
Railroad retirement beneficiaries	976,000
Disabled coal miners	413,000

These beneficiaries add up to 160 million people. Some, of course, receive two or more checks. Even when we make allowance for such duplications, it is evident that more than half of all Americans benefit from one entitlement or another.

How did so many people become beneficiaries of so many programs? Congress established them in successive bids for re-election. As the members faced more re-election campaigns, Congress increased the amount and kinds of entitlement benefits. The legislators saw it as their duty and the beneficiaries regarded all those pale blue treasury checks as a sort of refund from the taxes they were paying.

Once an entitlement has been established it becomes a sacred cow. The cows can be milked, and the herd can be made ever larger, but none of these sacred cows can be butchered.

The legislators search zealously for pork barrel funds but the cost of the federal departments, plus all the entitlements, is just too much. What's left over is simply too little for the care of constituents. Higher taxes are, of course, an abhorrent solution and the only alternative is deficit spending.

Somehow the idea of saving never occurs seriously to anyone.

Shall we dust off the old post-civil war banner, "Throw the rascals out!" I think not. On average, we would have a hard time replacing these 535 experienced legislators with newcomers possessing even half the qualifications.

Our present legislators are equal to the task, but we must persuade or compel them to adopt new standards and new ethics when it comes to spending the nation's money. Impossible as it may seem, there is a way of getting Congress to vote in favor of it. That's the subject of our next inquiry.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends,
March 16
We have received a number of calls from our friends and neighbors in Chelsea regarding our family's safety in light of the current political turmoil in Panama. We appreciate everyone's concern and felt that a letter to The Standard might calm some of the anxiety.

As you have heard from the news reports, the political situation here is very tense. The majority of the violent disturbances take place in Panama City, on the Pacific side of the country. We live on Fort Espinar, which is located near Colon on the Atlantic side. Americans are not the target of either faction in the conflicts. We are presently under a Personnel Limitation Movement. Bravo. This means that we are to avoid disturbances and any area where problems might arise. This is not a great problem since we live and work on the same facility. As long as we use caution and good sense, there is no danger.

We are hopeful that the situation will soon be resolved. The U.S. actions have had a devastating effect on the economy. Local people have no money and are becoming desperate. I have spoken with many Panamanians, and not one is supportive of General Noriega. Their problem is trying to combat guns with rocks. The funds are no longer available to pay the troops and it is felt that the General will soon lose their support.

Again, we are in no danger. We are still able to travel in most areas with no problems. Last week, we had the opportunity to work as line handlers on a yacht transiting the canal. It was a beautiful and interesting voyage. We are all healthy, busy, and enjoying what has turned out to be more of an "adventure" than any of us had anticipated.

We miss our friends in Chelsea and thank you for your concern.

Sincerely yours
The Bullocks

Owners of Planned Domino's May Submit Plans Soon

Owners of a Domino's Pizza store planned for Chelsea hope to submit site plans to the village by late April.

The store will be located at the former site of Ralph Fletcher's Friendly Service at S. Main and Lincoln Sts.

Owner Eugene Belknap, who owns several stores in Ann Arbor, said he plans to remodel the existing building rather than tear it down and build a new store.

About two weeks ago the old underground gasoline storage tanks were removed from the former gas station.

"There are only a few companies who are licensed to remove those tanks, so we had to operate on their schedule," Belknap said.

"We haven't set a definite time for construction yet."

The U.S. Department of Labor reported that in 1987, coal miners worked a total of more than 309.8 million hours, compared to 330.6 million in 1986.

IRS Offers Phone Help On Sundays

"Early in the year we tested opening our toll free telephone lines on Sundays," said IRS District Director John Hummel. "The test worked well. We found that taxpayers were more likely to be working on their tax returns on the week-ends, and that they appreciated the opportunity to be able to call us on Saturday or Sunday," Hummel said.

"For that reason, and to meet the increasing telephone call demand we are experiencing, we are pleased to announce that we have re-established Sunday hours for toll free telephone assistance," said Hummel.

"We are open on Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., in addition to our expanded hours during the rest of the week, through the end of the filing season on April 15," he said.

Hummel said the toll free telephone lines are open on Mondays from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Tuesday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Saturdays 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The toll free number for the IRS is 1-800-424-1040.

County Ag Banquet Set Thursday at CHS

The 1988 annual Washtenaw County Agriculture Banquet, sponsored by the Washtenaw Dairy-Livestock Council and the Co-operative Extension Service will be held Thursday, March 24, at Chelsea High school.

The night's activities will start with a swiss steak/ham dinner served at 7 p.m. in the high school gym. After a very short business meeting the group will move to the auditorium.

"The Contemporaries," a choral group from Chelsea High school, will kick off the evening entertainment with several musical selections.

Featured speaker will be Pat Leinbach, a farm wife from Vermillion, O. You may well remember that Pat was the featured speaker at the 1982 Agricultural Banquet and was so well received that she was invited back this year. In addition to being a potter with her husband in a potato, vegetable and grain operation, Mrs. Leinbach writes a newspaper column called "Country Wife" which appears in a number of farm publications around the nation. She is also author of three books: "A Thread of Blue Denim," "All My Meadows," and her latest, "Harvest of Bittersweet."

She has entertained audiences in 45 states and three Canadian provinces with her lively program of "old wives tales." The Wall Street Journal, in a front page feature, referred to her as the Erma Bombeck of the Farm Belt. She subsequently appeared on the Good Morning America Show with Erma. She has also been a guest on the Today Show, Larry King Live and PPS-TV's Market to Market.

Topping off the evening will be the drawing of prizes donated by the supporting agri-businesses of Washtenaw county.

Tickets may be obtained from the following council members: Bill Nixon, Stan Post, Charles Koenn, Jim Bristle, Harold Trinkle, Dave Wolfgang, Bob Heller, Larry Hopkins, Willard Blumenauer, Loren Heller, Reuben Lesser, Mark Blumenauer, Nick Heller, Richard Cort, Dennis Trinkle and John Brooks.

CARING FOR YOUR DENTURES

If you are among the 23 million Americans who have no natural teeth and are about to receive your first set of dentures, here are some tips from the Michigan Dental Association that can help you make your transition into becoming a denture wearer a smooth one.

First, remember that denture treatment is not a one-time transaction with your dentist. When you first get your dentures, you will receive complete instructions on caring for the oral tissues, placing and removing the dentures, wearing them during sleep and cleaning them.

But your mouth is a living organism; as such, it changes. Dentures that fit well when you first get them may later need to be adjusted or repaired as the shape of your jaws and gums changes. Only your dentist has the training to assure your dentures are in good condition. As a denture wearer, you will need ongoing professional care, including semi-annual checkups with your dentist.

To keep your mouth healthy and your breath fresh, clean mouth and dentures daily. Gently brush your gums and tongue and the roof of your mouth with a soft toothbrush or piece of damp gauze.

Plaque, a sticky bacterial film constantly forming in your mouth, also forms on dentures. For this reason, dentures should be thoroughly cleaned everyday. Daily cleaning also helps to keep them from becoming permanently stained.

To clean your dentures, use a special cleanser and a brush. Many denture-cleaning powders and pastes are on the market. Before brushing your dentures, place a towel in the bottom of the sink to prevent them from breaking if dropped. Rinse the dentures in running water to remove any loose debris. Next, apply the cleansing agent to a moistened brush. Brush thoroughly, but don't scrub so hard that you bend or break them. Be careful in cleaning the inside surfaces to avoid altering the shape.

If plaque has hardened into calculus (tartar), soak the dentures in a solution of one tablespoon of white vinegar to eight ounces of water, or in one of the commercial denture cleansers.

Unless your dentist advises you not to, it is usually best to remove your dentures at night to allow the mouth tissues to rest. But dentures must be kept moist, so store them in cool water or a denture cleansing solution to prevent warping.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Bulldog Softball Squad Features Pitching Depth And Plenty of Experience

If high school softball is dominated by pitching as most coaches say, then the Chelsea Bulldogs should have no trouble defending their Southeastern Conference title this spring—even with the loss of all-state hurler Pam Brown.

New varsity coach Pat Clarke has, in his words, "four pitchers who could start on any softball team in the state," in addition to two more girls he wouldn't hesitate to start in a pinch.

Senior Peggy Hammerschmidt and junior Jenni Smith, two power pitchers, figure to get most of the starting work. However, senior Jenny Pichlik (currently injured) and junior Laura Unterbrink can also get the job done and will be valuable in tournaments where a team could play as many as six or eight games.

"Hammerschmidt and Smith are starting to take off," Clarke said.

"They are not the same pitchers they were last year or even last summer because they are so much better. This could be interesting and it's a nice situation to be in."

Hammerschmidt, who shut out Saline in the SEC title game last year, is Clarke's number one.

Lisa Unterbrink and Christy Petty round out the six-pitcher squad.

Not only does Clarke have pitching, he has a starting squad made up almost entirely of seniors.

Around the infield, Clarke is likely to start seniors at catcher (Chris Basso), second base (Leah Enderle), shortstop (Alisha Dorow) and third base (Kelly Stump). In the outfield are seniors Ceia Murphy in center-field and Beth Kenney in right.

That leaves starting spots for two juniors, probably Laura Unterbrink or Smith at first base and Kim Easton or Shannon Losey in left field.

"Anytime you can think about starting seven or eight seniors you know you have a good situation," Clarke said.

"This is a good team. How good is the question."

Dorow, Enderle and Basso were infield starters last year. Dorow and Enderle are "exceptional fielders" Clarke said and should provide good defense up the middle. Enderle, in particular, is likely to get a lot of chances simply because Chelsea's power pitchers may not let the batters get around on the ball.

Gone are all-stater Trisha Matloff at first base and Karen Weber at third base.

Both girls will be difficult to replace but Clarke doesn't seem worried.

"The reason Stump didn't start last year is not because she wasn't any good, it's because Weber was an exceptional player," Clarke said.

"We have good speed and good arms in the outfield. We don't have much building to do, just some polishing."

With recent Bulldog teams, hitting has been the big question mark. Even that doesn't seem to be the case this year, although Clarke says "we'll probably bunt as much, if not more, than we have."

When the Bulldogs do swing away, Pichlik, Murphy, Easton, Stump, Enderle or Dorow will probably be at the plate.

Clarke's first varsity team probably won't look much different than the teams former coach Charlie Waller put together during his eight years. The girls will bunt and bunt some more, take advantage of opponents' mistakes and generally rely on pitching and defense.

Rounding out the 17-girl squad are Heather Neibauer (shortstop), Tonya Pugsley (second base), and Kelly Dale (outfield).

Chelsea will undoubtedly be the team to beat in the SEC.

Pinckney, one of the league's top teams over the last few years, graduated almost their entire team.

Dexter should have a good season due to the pitching of Mary Ann Doletsky, who Clarke calls "one of the best pitchers in the area, period."

Tecumseh, Clarke says, has the best catcher in the area in Chris Kennedy. The Indians also have a good starting pitcher and three or four players to complement her.

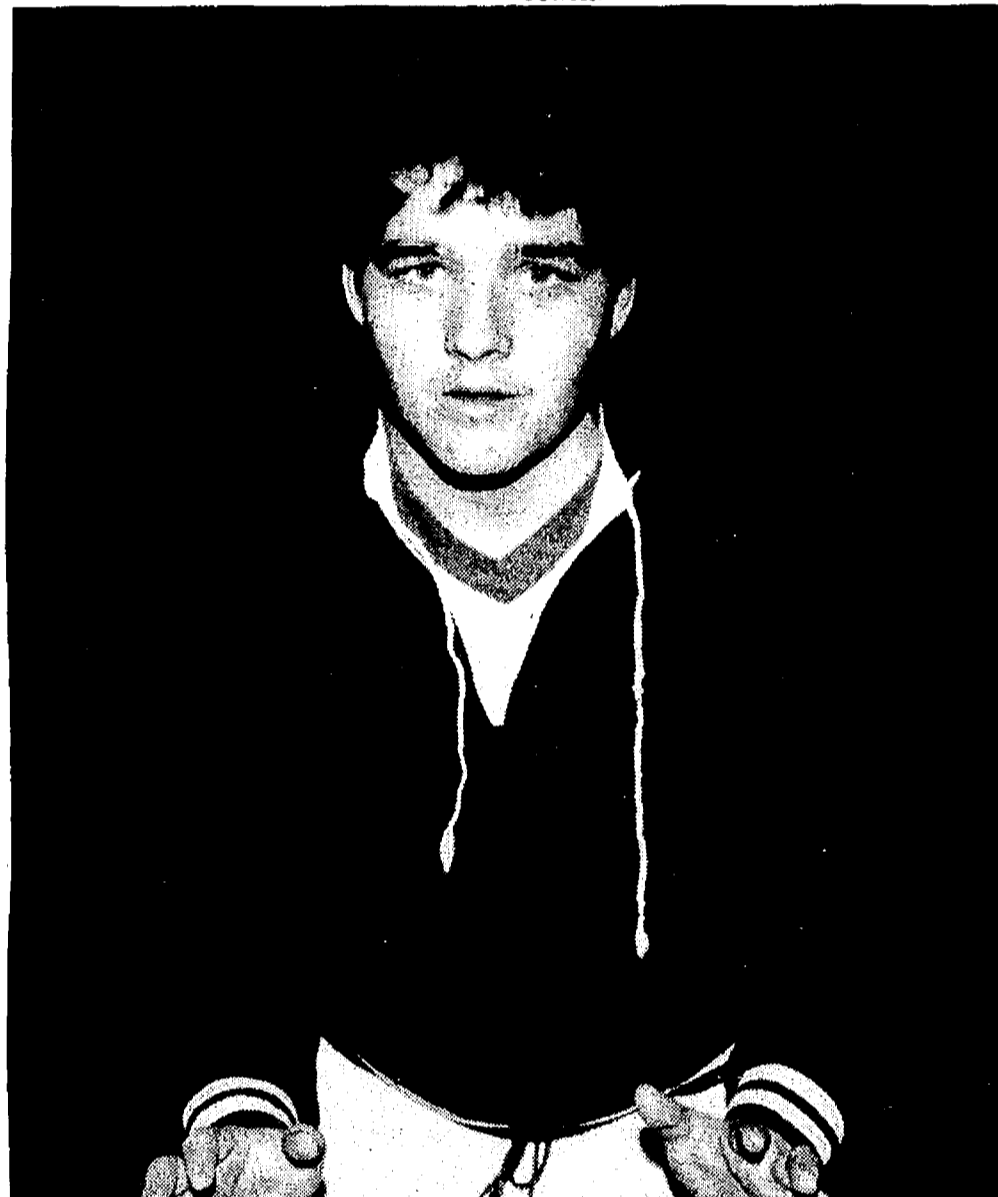

Saline, Clarke says, will be a "step down," but always has good athletes.

Lincoln and Milan are unknowns.

The Bulldogs open play April 9 at Webberville. Their schedule includes a number of competitive non-conference games, including one against South Lyon, where former Chelsea star Amy Poljan is the head coach.

SENIORS DOMINATE the Chelsea Bulldog varsity softball team this spring. The group will anchor what could be one of the best Chelsea softball teams in recent years. MIKE TAYLOR will wrestle this summer in Japan with a US Michigan team. He pinned the state champ at 198 pounds to qualify.

M. Taylor Qualifies To Wrestle in Japan

Chelsea High school junior Mike Taylor qualified to compete in a Japanese Cultural Exchange Wrestling Tournament this summer in Japan with an all-Michigan team.

Taylor qualified by pinning Don Whipp of Eaton Rapids in a freestyle tournament at DeWitt High school last Friday evening. Whipp, the high school class B champion at 198 pounds, was pinned in :55.

Taylor lost his second match, to Colin Newberry of East Lansing. However, because he wasn't pinned, he out-pointed Newberry for the championship.

Alonzo Taylor, Mike's father, said that the family would find a way to cover the more than $2,000 it will cost to send his son to Japan for 14 days.

Pat Taylor and Craig McCalla of Chelsea High school also participated in the tournament but did not qualify for the exchange.

Pat Taylor took second place at 132 pounds and McCalla placed third at the same weight.

Bulldogs Gary Dosey and Dean Sutherland also wrestled but did not place.

Bullpups End With 8-2 Mark

Beach Middle school's 8th grade volleyball team finished the season with an 8-2 record after recording wins over Saline and Pinckney in the final week of play.

Chelsea topped the Pirates 11-8, 11-9 and 6-11 in a home game Tuesday, March 8. Only three games were played due to the one-hour time limit.

Holly Koscielniak served for nine points, Tara Roehm four points, Jenny Teare and Jenny Petty, three points each and Amanda Nimke and Amy Mitchell, two points each.

"Many of the points were earned after a long rally requiring good concentration and court coverage," said coach Ann Schaffner.

"All the girls played well, particularly Angela Pace, Christine Burg, Amanda Petty, Christy Petty and Amy Mitchell."

On March 15 the Bullpups knocked off Saline in three games, 11-4, 11-3, and 11-5 in a home match.

"Once again each team member made a contribution to the victory," Schaffner said.

Leading servers were Jessica Rodenkirch with seven points, Hadley, five points, Kenney, four points, Liz Taylor, Teare and Koscielniak, three points each, and Petty, two points.

The only team to beat Pups in the final week was Tecumseh. The Indians won both games with Chelsea this season.

The Pups lost at home Thursday,

March 10 in five games, 8-11, 11-6, 10-12, 11-1 and 1-11.

"It was a challenge to play such a fine team and while we wanted the win I was not disappointed in our effort," Schaffner said.

Leading servers were Nimke with 11 points, Teare and Hadley with seven points each, Petty with five points, Roehm with four points and Mitchell with two points.

"The team worked hard and should feel good about what they accomplished," Schaffner said.

"There is good potential for the high school volleyball program in this class."

WINDSHIELD FLUIDS

Ever wonder why your windshield washer fluid isn't up to par? Hot weather can rob the fluid of its alcohol-cleaning component which means the container can be full but the windshield is getting smeared, not cleaned. Tip from the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Associations: Periodically, run the wiper fluid till the bottle is dry, then refill with fresh solvent so you'll be ready for grimy days' driving.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Rahn Rosentreter, head coach of girls basketball and boys tennis, was informed last week that he is being laid off after this school year.

PITCHING IS THE KEY in softball and the Bulldogs are fortunate to have enough pitching for several teams. Two key performers will be Jenni Smith, left, and Peggy Hammerschmidt, both of whom are capable of striking out just about anyone. Preseason practices continued in the gym last week as footling outside was treacherous.

Outdoor Report

From DNR
District Office in Jackson

March 14

Fisheries . . .

Reminder: Walleye and pike seasons close on March 15 in area waters and reopen on the last Saturday in April (30th). Trout season also opens on April 30. Check the current fishing guide for specific regulations relative to trout streams and designated trout lakes.

New fishing licenses are required by April 1.

For the most part, ice has all but left most Jackson area inland lakes and fishermen should be tuning up their gear for the open water fishery. Some of the most productive perch and crappie fishing of the year takes place soon after ice-out. Perch can be found in relatively shallow water over weed beds and are often caught in large numbers by anglers using minnows, wigglers or tear drop hooks baited with wax worms.

Soon after ice out, crappies move into shallow bays, which are the first to warm in early spring, and often times provide a fantastic fishery for anglers willing to brave cooler outdoor temperatures. Bays with dark, mucky bottoms are the first to warm and anglers should explore these areas first on lakes with good crappie populations. By casting small jigs or spinner-type baits near weed beds or brush, crappies can be easily located. Once found, a slower presentation is sometimes needed and jigs or small minnows suspended from a slip bobber are an effective strategy. Fishermen are advised to dress warmly and to take along plenty of food and hot beverages.

Finally, anglers should not overlook sucker fishing opportunities which are available on larger streams and rivers that traditionally have good sucker runs. These fish are fun to catch and can be fine eating when smoked, baked or fried.

HCMA Film Wins Award

"Gateways," a 20-minute film in color illustrating the parks and facilities of the 13 Metroparks serving the citizens of the counties of Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Wayne, has earned a "Teddy Award" in the National Outdoor-Travel Film Festival Awards competition sponsored by the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association. "Gateways" was named 1987-88 Best Outdoor Recreation Film.

John K. Sterling, Jr., information officer of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, received the award recently at a MOWA meeting held in Rogers City.

The award, which contains a figure of Theodore Roosevelt, is named "Teddy" in honor of this president's great devotion to conservation. "Gateways" was one of 14 films honored out of 40 submitted nationwide in this contest.

"Gateways" was produced for HCMA by Moon-Kochis Productions, Inc., of southeastern Michigan. Ben Moon, producer, and HCMA, also won a "Teddy Award" in 1972-73 for its film entitled "No Reservations Needed," also about the Metropark system.

Film presentations, with speakers, are available to civic and community organizations by contacting HCMA, phone 1-800-24-PARKS (toll-free).

Portage-Baseline Lake Levels Will Be Raised

The lake level at Portage Lake will be raised approximately one foot starting April 6, according to C. Dolores Sigal, Washtenaw county drain commissioner.

Sigal said that each winter the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake. In the spring homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area are cautioned to prepare for the raising of the lake level which coincides with the opening of the boat launch facilities.

Kevin E. Sullivan, deputy drain commissioner, will answer inquiries and may be reached at (313) 994-2525.

Patients May Nominate Nurses for Recognition

Nine registered nurses who exemplify the best of their profession will be honored as "Nurses Who Made a Difference" in a nation-wide contest sponsored by the American Hospital Association (AHA) and the American Organization of Nurse Executives (AONE).

Patients who nominate the winning nurses will receive two free airline tickets for travel anywhere in the continental United States. Certain restrictions will apply to travel arrangements.

"The contest will recognize the special role that nurses play in patient care, will highlight the nursing profession, and will enhance hospitals' image as providers of high-quality care," according to Connie R. Curran, R.N., AHA's vice-president for patient care services.

"Every day, registered nurses give service to patients and the community, that goes beyond what is expected of them," said Maggie Szymke, associate director of nursing, Chelsea Community Hospital. "Too often, these exceptional contributions go unnoticed. This contest gives patients an opportunity to express their appreciation to nurses who made a difference in their lives."

Patients who have received exceptional nursing care during the past year and members of patients' families are eligible to enter the contest. They are asked to write a short description of the exceptional nursing care received, including specific examples of how the nurses' work demonstrated compassion, leadership, or creativity. A panel of AHA and AONE members drawn from a number of disciplines will judge the entries on the quality of the nurse's contribution, not on how well the entries are written.

Nurses eligible for nomination may work in hospitals, home health nursing, community nursing, nursing homes, physician's offices, or other settings. Nurses must be nominated by patients or patient's families; no entries from co-workers, employers, or relatives will be considered.

One-page descriptions of the nurse's exceptional contribution including the nurse's name, the name and address of the nurse's employer, and the entrant's name, address, and phone number should be submitted to the Nurses Make a Difference Recognition Contest, AHA Division of Nursing, 840 N. Lake Shore Dr., Chicago, Ill. 60611. Entries postmarked after National Nurses Day, May 7, will not be considered. Authors of the winning essays will be notified in May.

Area Students Impressed With Tour of Fermilab

Education and Fermilab go hand-in-hand, about 75 mid-Michigan residents discovered when they visited the high-energy physics research laboratory near Batavia, Ill., March 15.

The Illinois facility, which houses a four-mile-long accelerator ring, is similar to the proposed Superconducting Super Collider (SSC). Michigan's proposed site for the $4.4 billion SSC, which will include a 53-mile oval-shaped accelerator, is near Stockbridge.

"A lot of times in a science class, especially chemistry and physics, students don't have a lot to relate to," said Dan Genter, a Dansville High school science teacher, whose students were among those visiting Fermilab. "We talked about the basic parts of the atom in class. All of a sudden they can say, 'Hey, these things do exist.' It gives the kids better insight into what science is, and that the Fermilab is science at its best—unlimited research."

Fermilab sponsors several programs for public schools in Illinois, including a Summer Institute for Science Teachers and Saturday science workshops for students.

Dr. Robert Ball, research scientist at the University of Michigan, one of the trip's tour guides, said there will be many similarities between Fermilab and the SSC—including educational opportunities and an 'open-door' policy.

"Fermilab is open to anyone who wants to go in," Ball said. "An individual can learn a lot by watching the exhibits and playing with the various knobs and dials. I am sure the SSC would have similar opportunities."

The SSC, an underground "cosmic microscope" would allow scientists to collide subatomic particles at nearly the speed of light, enabling them to probe the nature of matter and energy.

The Super Collider would be much larger than Fermilab, but because fixed-target physics experiments will not be conducted at the SSC, Ball said there will be a significantly less amount of radioactive waste produced than at Fermilab.

Effects 20-year-old Fermilab has on Illinois' environment are minimal, the research facility's safety director, Dr. Larry Coulson, told members of the group. He reported that:

—No radioactivity from Fermilab has been detected in water well samples.

—No radioactivity from Fermilab has been found in animals in the area.

—No radioactivity from Fermilab operations has been found in nearby lakes or streams.

—Land is farmed next to the accelerator ring.

"I hope they found that a lab like Fermilab, or like the SSC will be, is not a threatening place, that it's something that's a desirable thing to have in your community," Ball said. "We're trying to understand the forces that make the universe tick."

Ball said it is important to increase everyone's awareness about science, which has waned in recent years.

"To have a lab like Fermilab or the SSC in your area breeds a familiarity with what's going on and helps to make it less mysterious," he said. "We need more people going into science and engineering in this country."

High school students who visited Fermilab said they were impressed with the magnitude of the facility.

"After seeing Fermilab, I can really think about it and realize, this could be in my hometown," said Kristy Ashmore, a senior at Stockbridge High school. "It would be really good to have in our town."

Another student said traveling to Fermilab confirmed his belief that a facility like the SSC would be safe.

"The trip was fantastic," said Shannon Winger, a junior at Dansville High school. "I found it very educational—like what's really involved with a Super Collider, and how little risk is involved. At first I thought there was a high risk to it, because I was thinking of atomic reactions and radioactivity. But when it comes down to it, there's really not much risk involved at all."

"I've been hearing about superconducting and super colliding on the news and in class, but this really clears things up," Winger said. "I'm all for it. I believe it would be very good for the school systems in the area."

Poison Control Tips Offered By Pharmacists

Washtenaw county pharmacists have been active in promoting poison prevention this year. The Washtenaw County Pharmacists Society teamed up with Detroit Pistons basketball player Chuck Nevitt and the University of Michigan Poison Control Center to stress the theme of keeping poisons out of the reach of children. A billboard expressing this important safety tip is currently being displayed in downtown Ann Arbor at 213 W. Liberty. Several pharmacists in the society have also been giving presentations in area schools.

You may think, "it could never happen to my child." That's what the parents of almost 700,000 children nationwide probably thought before it happened to them in 1986. Why these alarming statistics?

Unfortunately, many household products that make cleaning so much easier, medications that improve our quality of life, and even the plants we use to decorate our home, can all be potential poisons in the hands of a child.

Children, especially those under the age of five, have a tendency to place everything into their mouths. And adults frequently fail to use proper caution when handling potentially toxic materials. It is proper caution though that is the key to preventing poisonings.

Everyone, not just parents of young children, should take steps to poison-proof their home. Every room should be evaluated for potential toxins including the kitchen (especially under the sink), bedroom, laundry room, bathroom, garage, basement, outdoor storage areas, and don't forget mom's purse. Potential poisons should be stored up high out of the sight and reach of children and locked up whenever possible.

But what should be done in the event a poisoning does occur? This information is best provided by the specialists at your local poison control center. In the Washtenaw county area contact: UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN POISON CONTROL CENTER at 764-7687.

In poisoning, sometimes it is necessary to get the victim to vomit the poisonous substance. Syrup of Ipecac is used for this purpose. Syrup of Ipecac should only be used when instructed to do so by the poison control center or other proper authority. Syrup of Ipecac is available at all pharmacies. Your local pharmacist can instruct you on the proper use of this product.

Over 90% of all poisonings occur at home. Make your home a safer place for children to grow in. Poison-proof your home today. Additional information and printed literature on poison prevention is available at pharmacies throughout the Washtenaw county area. The University of Michigan Poison Control Center may also be contacted directly.

DRAFT LEAD PUBLIC NOTICE

Sampling by the Michigan Department of Public Health has confirmed the presence of lead in drinking water from certain piping systems where the water has remained stagnant for a period of time. Levels in excess of the current drinking water standard (50 parts per billion) have been detected. Laboratory testing has shown that the principal sources of lead are lead piping and lead based solders and fluxes used to join copper piping. Based on these results and those from other studies, the Michigan Department of Labor, Bureau of Construction Codes and the Michigan Department of Public Health have supported legislation which prohibits the use of lead based solders and fluxes in potable water piping systems. The plumbing industry and homeowners who may construct potable drinking water piping systems must no longer use lead based solders and fluxes for joining copper piping. Other solder materials or joining methods are available and must be used. Lead piping has not been allowed for new installations for about the last ten years. Building copper piping water systems constructed to date likely contain lead based solder and flux.

Water is the universal solvent and even relatively stable water when stagnant for a period of even a few hours in contact with lead solder and flux can result in significant concentration of lead in the water. The health department is recommending that those piping systems in which the water has remained stagnant overnight or for longer periods be flushed for several minutes prior to using the water for drinking or cooking purposes. This typically has been found to satisfactorily reduce the level of lead and other metals that may concentrate in the water within the building's piping system.

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

"Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

"EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

"Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

- if your home or water system has lead pipes, or
- if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
- if the home is less than five years old, or
- if you have soft or acidic water, or
- if water sits in the pipes for several hours."

Besides lead in water from certain piping systems, there are other exposure pathways to lead including:

- air—from industrial discharges, automobile exhaust
- food—from airborne deposition of lead on crops and lead solder seams in some food containers
- nonfood items—lead based paint, dirt, solder, or any object containing lead

It should be noted that the major source of lead exposure and lead poisoning in the United States is due to children consuming lead based paint chips.

People who may have concerns about the concentration of lead from their building or household piping are advised to contact a reputable private laboratory for a water analysis. Others who may have specific concerns relative to any possible health effects are urged to contact their physician.

For more information about this matter, please contact your water department at 475-1771.

North Lake Church Sets Date for 112th Annual Egg Supper

North Lake United Methodist church will be holding its 112th annual Egg Supper on Friday, March 25, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

As the old North Lake church moves into its 152nd year, it continues a custom started in the early days and held each Easter season for the last 112 years. Back in 1876 the first supper was held at a church member's house. It was held at various members' homes for many years after that. In recent years, the event has been held at the church fellowship hall and the public has been invited.

The Rev. Sondra Willabee invites everyone to stop by for a delicious meal and a visit to the historic church.

Video Helps Young People Understand Drug Addiction

"How can I tell if I'm hooked?" is a question more and more young people are asking themselves. It's also the title of a new video program that may be borrowed at no cost from Brighton Hospital, which specializes in preventing and treating alcohol and other drug abuse.

According to national surveys, one of every four students is affected personally by addiction. They are either chemically dependent themselves or have a friend, parent, or sibling who is abusing alcohol or other drugs.

"How Can I Tell If I'm Hooked" is a two-part filmstrip on videocassette that helps young people recognize the signs of addiction and better understand how it may be treated. A helpful guide for parents and teachers is included.

This program and 20 other videos and films on substance abuse are available for loan as a free community service of Brighton Hospital.

For additional information and to schedule their use, contact the Community Relations Department on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

Raffle Registration Fees Increasing

The registration fee for small raffles licensed by the Bureau of State Lottery's Charitable Gaming Division will go up from $5 to $15, effective with all applications submitted after March 31. Small raffles are those in which the total market value of prizes offered does not exceed $500 for a single drawing date.

In announcing the fee hike, Lottery Commissioner Michael J. Carr noted that this is the first increase in registration fees since the state legalized raffles conducted by qualified non-profit organizations in 1981.

"This action was taken following a study to determine the actual cost to the bureau of processing registrations," Carr said. "The new fee is needed to recover our costs."

The $15 fee applies to applicants for one to three small raffle drawing dates on a single application. Applications containing more than three drawing dates will be assessed the same fee as in the past—$5 per date.

The fee hike does not apply to applications for raffles in which the total prize value exceeds $500 on a single date. Those fees remain the same—$50.

Because of the high volume of applications, qualified organizations are urged to submit their raffle application at least six weeks prior to the date on which they plan to print tickets, advertise the event, or the date of the actual event—whichever is earlier. All raffle tickets must include the organization's Michigan registration number. Printing, purchasing or selling tickets for an unregistered raffle is a violation of state law.

The Bingo Act (Public Act 382 of 1972, as amended) authorizes the bureau to register raffles conducted by qualified non-profit organizations in Michigan.

Inquiries should be directed to the bureau's Charitable Gaming Division in Lansing, (517) 887-8850.

Geological Survey Finds Stockbridge SSC Site 'Ideal'

A new geological survey undertaken to resolve any doubts about the substrata integrity of the tunnel path for the Superconducting Super Collider has yielded good news, officials said this week.

"We are elated," said John F. Haneski, executive director of the Michigan Superconducting Super Collider Commission.

"We are now confident that Michigan's Stockbridge site is the absolute best in the nation for the SSC," he said.

He made the comments following a debriefing by federal officials who had conducted a week-long examination of the site area. The examination findings and other new data regarding the 16,000-acre site will be included in the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) that could be the major determinant in selecting a site for the huge scientific research machine.

The Stockbridge site in Ingham and Jackson counties is one of seven still in contention for the $4.5 billion SSC project. The winner is to be identified late this year.

Haneski said the initial geological survey of the Stockbridge site, conducted early last year, had indicated the possibility of permeable, subterranean depressions on the bed rock surface in the path of the collider's 53-mile-long accelerator tunnel.

The new survey, completed by the Michigan commission's engineering team last week, focused on two areas where the composition of the substrata was not totally revealed in the initial scoping.

"As a result, there was no certainty that the substrata, almost entirely bedrock, did not harbor a hidden flaw, such as a 'buried valley,' that might undermine its load bearing capacity," Haneski said.

"Now, however, we are assured that the underground path of the collider is both dry and stable and will be ideal for the tunneling," he said.

Jim Heinzman, a geologist with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, said the two areas were given a thorough seismic and core-sample examination to determine if the tunnel constructed at an elevation of 800 feet above sea level would intersect glacial sediments. That depth is about 130 feet below the surface where the tunnel would pass.

In one area, just southwest of the village of Stockbridge, the substrata tested perfectly, with no sign of any glacial sediments or sections that might threaten its integrity. He said the deep-bore soundings in the other area, on the collider's northwest arc, just southeast of Mason, showed evidence of fractured rock and mixed overburden at some levels below the surface but above the tunnel path.

Heinzman said the fractures have long-since been filled by secondary mineralization of calcite and silicate deposits.

He said the federal officials were impressed by the quality of the site area geology and hydrology.

"We took them to a gypsum mine in Grand Rapids which is part of the same geological outcropping (as in Stockbridge)," he said. "The mine—whose face is about the same depth as the proposed SSC tunnel—was dry as a bone," he said.

"Their comments following the inspection showed they were very much impressed by what they saw," he said. They said the bedrock would be ideal for tunneling.

A draft of the EIS is expected to be published in August.

THESE BOYS in Dave Barkman's Webelos den showed a lot of ingenuity in depicting the launch of an astronaut during a skit last Friday at South school. The astronaut, complete with a crash helmet, stood on a skateboard while other scouts launched him across the room using a big elastic band. The occasion was a meeting of pack 455 in which the theme was Year 2030. Each den presented a skit of life in the future.

AN ALIEN BAND performed at South school last Friday during Cub Scout pack 455's regular meeting. Steve Wright's cubs decided this is what life would be like in the year 2030 as the boys created their outfits and instruments for the skit. Each den put together a skit depicting life in 2030. Nearly all the acts involved space travel or space aliens.

Rally Planned for Establishment Of National Vietnam Holiday

An Ann Arbor Vietnam War veteran is organizing a rally in support of the establishment of a national Vietnam Memorial Holiday.

The rally, Thursday, April 7 at noon at the University of Michigan Diag, is being called "a rally to introduce the May 7 holiday celebration," by Col. Charles Tackett, the event's organizer.

"The establishment of a holiday is the only way we can have a respectable end for the Vietnam conflict," Tackett said.

"We're organizing this so that others will have the courage and fortitude to say 'no' to fighting in a police action or conflict as opposed to a war. We'd like to bring everybody together for one day."

Tackett said he is lobbying to have the holiday on May 7 because that is the day President Gerald Ford "signed the papers to bring the troops home."

Tackett said his effort is being supported by the United Steel Workers, United Auto Workers, United Mine Workers, as well as the student bodies of several universities, including Michigan.

Tackett served in special army intelligence from 1967-70.

PHYLLIS LEBEL, left, representing Citizen's Trust, hands a check to Jerry Martell, co-chair of the Chelsea Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll drive, while Paula Clark, representing Big Boy, hands a check to Larry Kranick, the other co-chair. The Tootsie Rolls drive is scheduled for March 25, 26, and 27.

13th Annual Tootsie Roll Drive March 25, 26, 27

The 13th annual Tootsie Roll Drive will be held this year on March 25, 26, and 27. Sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, the purpose of the drive is to raise money for the education of mentally retarded children and adults.

Starting Friday, March 25, members of the Chelsea Knights of Columbus and the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary will be seen on the streets of Chelsea holding cans to collect money and wearing aprons filled with Tootsie Rolls to give to donors. All of the money collected on the three days of the drive will go directly to help retarded citizens. Twenty percent will go to the supreme council to be used on a state-wide basis, while the rest will stay in the area going to the St. Louis School for Boys, Chelsea Special Education, and the Special Olympics in Stockbridge.

Last year a record $4,200 was collected. Tootsie Roll drive chairs Jerry Martell and Larry Kranick are hoping to exceed that amount this year. A number of area businesses have already responded to an advanced solicitation including Big Boy, Citizen's Trust, Dana Corp., 3-D Sales, Chelsea Lumber, Jiffy Mix, and Chelsea State Bank.

A state-wide effort will be in progress at the same time money is being collected in Chelsea. Village president Jerry Satterthwaite is assisting the local effort by urging "all to join in supporting this worthy cause." Satterthwaite issued a proclamation designating March 25, 26, 27 "Knights of Columbus Help Mentally Retarded Days" in Chelsea.

Go ask Alex: A gray parrot named Alex has been taught to name objects, identify shapes and perceive quantities up to six. According to National Wildlife magazine, tests show that Alex doesn't just mimic. More than 80 percent of the time the parrot correctly describes the object and color, even if he has never seen that object before.

MCRC Sets March 29 For Annual Meeting

The 1988 Mill Creek Research Council's annual meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m., March 29 at the Lima Town Hall on Jackson Rd., Lima Center.

All 12 persons elected to the MCRC's board at last year's annual meeting have agreed to being nominated again to serve during this coming year. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor.

Current board members are: Charlie Arnold, Dave Bacon, Bill Chandler, Barbara Eby, Wally Fusilier, Janet McCalla, Betty Messman, Jerry Myers, Charlie Powers, Margaret Sias, Janet Tarolli, and Linda White.

Annual dues are $10 for continuing members and $12 for new members. Dues are payable to the treasurer, Bill Chandler, 765 Howard, Chelsea.

MCRC board members Bacon and Fusilier, continue to attend most monthly Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority board of commissioners meetings which are now held at HCMA's new headquarters at Kens-

Fair Board Discusses New Gate Locations

Insurance requirements and a new roadway into the fairgrounds were the main topics of discussion at the March 17 meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board.

A representative of the Burnham and Flower Insurance Co. was on hand to answer questions.

Board members will meet on a Saturday to measure and decide the gate location for this year's fair. They'll also make decisions concerning the grading of dirt for the entrance.

Other business included a discussion of wood sealer for the new bleacher seats.

Officers present were president Bill Stoffer, executive vice-president Lloyd Grau, secretary Maryann Guenther and treasurer Mark Staphish. Directors present were Duane Bycraft, Harold Gross, Earl Heller, Don Koenig, Jeff Layher, Ken McCalla, Harold Trinkle and Walt Zeeb.

Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL students have set a goal of 2,300 hours of reading for the month as part of their celebration of "March is Reading Month." If the children reach the goal, then principal Bob Benedict will "go to the roof" and read, and perhaps play the bones, during a lunch hour. Three of the avid readers are, from left, Tamara Kearney, Chris Glowicki and Melanie O'Connor. They are standing by the school's reading thermometer, located in the cafeteria.
