THIS BLIND LAKE area home owned by Toni Buffmyer was nearly half-burned by the time Chelsea firefighters reached the scene at 1:33 Sunday morning. "The guys did a real nice job," said Chelsea fire chief Bud Harker, whose department arrived on the scene exactly 15 minutes after the call reached the station. "They were able to bring the fire under control with the water on the trucks. It's not often you drive that far and save that much." Cause of the fire was undetermined as of press time. Part of the home is still standing behind the burned-out portion in the photo. Harker estimated the loss at a minimum of $75,000.

Start of Recycling Project for Village Delayed Until Mid-May

Recycling in Chelsea is scheduled to begin about the middle of May, and perhaps a little sooner, according to Tom McMurtrie, Washtenaw county's recycling co-ordinator.

The county and village are working out minor problems in their contract, primarily on liability issues, McMurtrie said. In addition, since Polly's Market has been chosen as the site for the center, any liability matter could conceivably involve the county, village and a private property owner.

"It doesn't look like we're going to make our target of the first week in May," McMurtrie said.

"We should be ready by the middle of the month."

In addition to the contract snags, McMurtrie said there have been delays with the manufacturer of the 24-foot long bins.

"It's a busy time of the year for the company and we're having normal hold-ups in production," McMurtrie said.

Chelsea is part of the county-wide recycling project that is being funded primarily by a grant from the Clean Michigan Fund and landfill tipping fees. Chelsea is likely to be the first community to begin the effort full scale, McMurtrie said. Other communities who have joined the effort are Ypsilanti, Milan, Manchester, Northfield township, Dexter, Saline, Webster and Augusta townships, and the Ann Arbor landfill.

Once the contracts are in place, McMurtrie said he will begin to concentrate his efforts more on promotion and marketing of the program.

McMurtrie said that educating the general population is probably the biggest obstacle he will face. Not only does that mean making people aware of the importance of recycling but getting people to change their habits. People will have to sort their glass, steel cans and newspapers, take them all to the recycling center, and put them in the right bins.

"Getting people to know about the program is difficult and promotion in general is expensive," McMurtrie said.

"We'd like to get some posters up and perhaps send out notices with tax bills. We're working with Ruth Stielstra (enrichment triad teacher) about poster contests and we might have a logo contest."

Two problems recycling programs face are keeping the recycling site clean and making sure people understand how to place materials in the bins to avoid "contamination of materials."

"This will take a little more work because the site will be unattended," McMurtrie said.

"We felt it was more important to have a convenient site and have it open 24 hours a day. The costs of the program skyrocket if we have to pay someone to attend it. In addition, the hours would be severely restricted. The center in Ann Arbor is only open two days a week."

The program won't have much control over people who want to use the receptacles as trash cans. However, McMurtrie is banking on easy-to-understand signs at the site so people will know which materials to put in which bins. If workers have to re-sort materials, costs of the program grow. However, McMurtrie said he is confident that Chelsea, and other communities in the project, can avoid many of the problems that have faced other recycling projects.

"The type of people who recycle are already conscientious and shouldn't cause problems," McMurtrie said.

"Also, because Chelsea is a more rural area there should be fewer problems than in a city like Detroit where there are more irresponsible people."

Composting is also a part of the over-all solid waste program in the county, although the village has composted leaves and other organic matter for years.

Last year the village used land at the village industrial park as a mulching site.

However, assistant village manager Lee Fahrner suggested the site be moved to an area next to the village garage to avoid problems with marketing the park.

In a related matter, the village will apparently become the owner of a leaf vacuum, although the machine was purchased by the county for the county-wide composting program.

Fahrner said the village has been one of the few communities to show an interest in using the vacuum. In addition, the county discovered that insurance for the vacuum would be easier to deal with if the machine is owned by a municipality. Consequently, the county is willing to give the vacuum to the village if the village agrees to insure it.

The village is still working out the details with the county concerning the methods for loaning the vacuum to other municipalities in the project.

Livonia Company Plans Lima Twp. Subdivision Just East of Village

A Livonia company has filed a petition with Lima township to re-zone 53 acres of farmland in order to build a 28-home development between Trinkle Rd. and Old US-12 just east of the village.

Harris Homes Development Corp.'s petition will be the subject of a public hearing on Tuesday, April 19.

The company filed a petition showing a map with the township rezoning a development that would begin just west of Harper Dr. off Old US-12 and run north to Trinkle Rd. Part of the land, 32.79 acres, would be rezoned to rural residential (RR). That would allow a density of one home every three acres. The remaining 20.21 acres would be rezoned to residential (RS), allowing a density of one home per acre.

The main road into the development would run from Old US-12 through to Trinkle Rd. just west of the huge log home owned by Frank VanSchoick II.

The main road, tentatively, would curve through the development, and two cul de sacs would come off it.

The developers, Boyd Harris and George Riedel, have drawn in a large pond in the middle of the project. According to township planning commission chairman David Bacon, the developers could use cluster development, which would allow the homes to be built closer together than under normal zoning but would not allow greater density over-all than regular zoning allows.

"It looks like it could be a nice project if it's done properly," Bacon said.

Bacon said the project would be governed by both the township's zoning and subdivision ordinances. He said unless the public expresses opposition to the project at the hearing that the planning commission would likely vote on the petition immediately after the hearing.

Although the township board has the final say on the rezoning, the petition has to be considered by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission before the board can act.

It could not be determined by press time whether or not Harris Homes plans to build all the homes in the development.

On Monday, April 18, Dexter township will also consider a rezoning petition by Yankee Construction Co. to re-zone about 80 acres from recreation/conservation (RC) to rural residential on the north side of North Territorial Rd. near Madden Rd.

The land, currently owned by the Jack Quigley family, is also the likely site of another housing development. However, unlike the Harris Homes development, this one would be in the Dexter School District.

Two File Petitions For School Board

Incumbent Joe Redding and John Eisenbeiser have filed petitions to run for four-year terms on the Chelsea School Board. Two positions will be available in the elections this June.

Redding, 46 Chestnut St., is running for his second term.

Eisenbeiser, 7750 Werkner Rd., will be seeking his first term on the board. Board President Lloyd Grau will not seek re-election, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

Redding is a 16-year resident of Washtenaw county. Eisenbeiser has lived in Washtenaw for 47 years.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is Monday, April 11 at 4 p.m. Each petition must contain the signatures of at least 20 registered school district voters. A candidate must reside in the school district and cannot be an employee of the district unless he or she plans to resign after the election.

No other petitions have been picked up by potential candidates, Mills said.

Board Hears Concerns About Impact of Decision To Layoff CHS Teachers

Students and teachers told the Chelsea School Board Monday night how they will be affected by the layoffs of high school teachers Alice Leith and Rahm Rosentreter next year and asked the board to reconsider their decisions.

Pamela Holmes, a teacher in the junior high English department, and senior Kelly Stump detailed their concerns about the impact of Leith's lay-off.

Junior Heather Neibauer, who would be a second-year player on Rosentreter's second girls varsity basketball team next year, spoke on behalf of her coach and history teacher.

Neibauer also presented a petition, which she said contained the names of more than half the high school students, in support of keeping Rosentreter. Neibauer said before the board meeting that she had collected the names during spring break.

Holmes said that Leith's dismissal would have a serious impact on the high school's remedial reading program, as Leith has by far the most experience in that area. Principal John Williams agreed that "Alice, no doubt, has the most experience in that department." Holmes credited Leith with developing the remedial program over the last seven years.

Holmes also said Leith's lay-off would "have a ripple effect," on other classes in the department because teachers would be forced to learn how to teach remedial reading. That would, she said, take time away from preparation for other classes.

In addition, Holmes said the timing of the lay-off would make planned curriculum improvements for next year more difficult to implement.

"Instead of saying let's move ahead, let's do this better, we're saying, whoa, let's survive," Holmes said.

Curriculum Director Laurie Bissell agreed that initiating improvements would be difficult.

"It will be more difficult to implement changes if teachers are teaching new courses," Bissell said when asked her opinion by the board.

Holmes also said the lay-off would "destroy the integrity" of the remedial reading and writing programs for freshmen and sophomores as Leith, who has taught those courses, has provided a continuity in the courses. She said that splitting those courses up among three teachers would make transitions difficult.

Holmes suggested several ways that Leith might be kept on staff and most of them consisted of setting up new courses.

One way to provide a "writing resource person" at Beach Middle School, who would help Beach teachers implement changes in the writing curriculum.

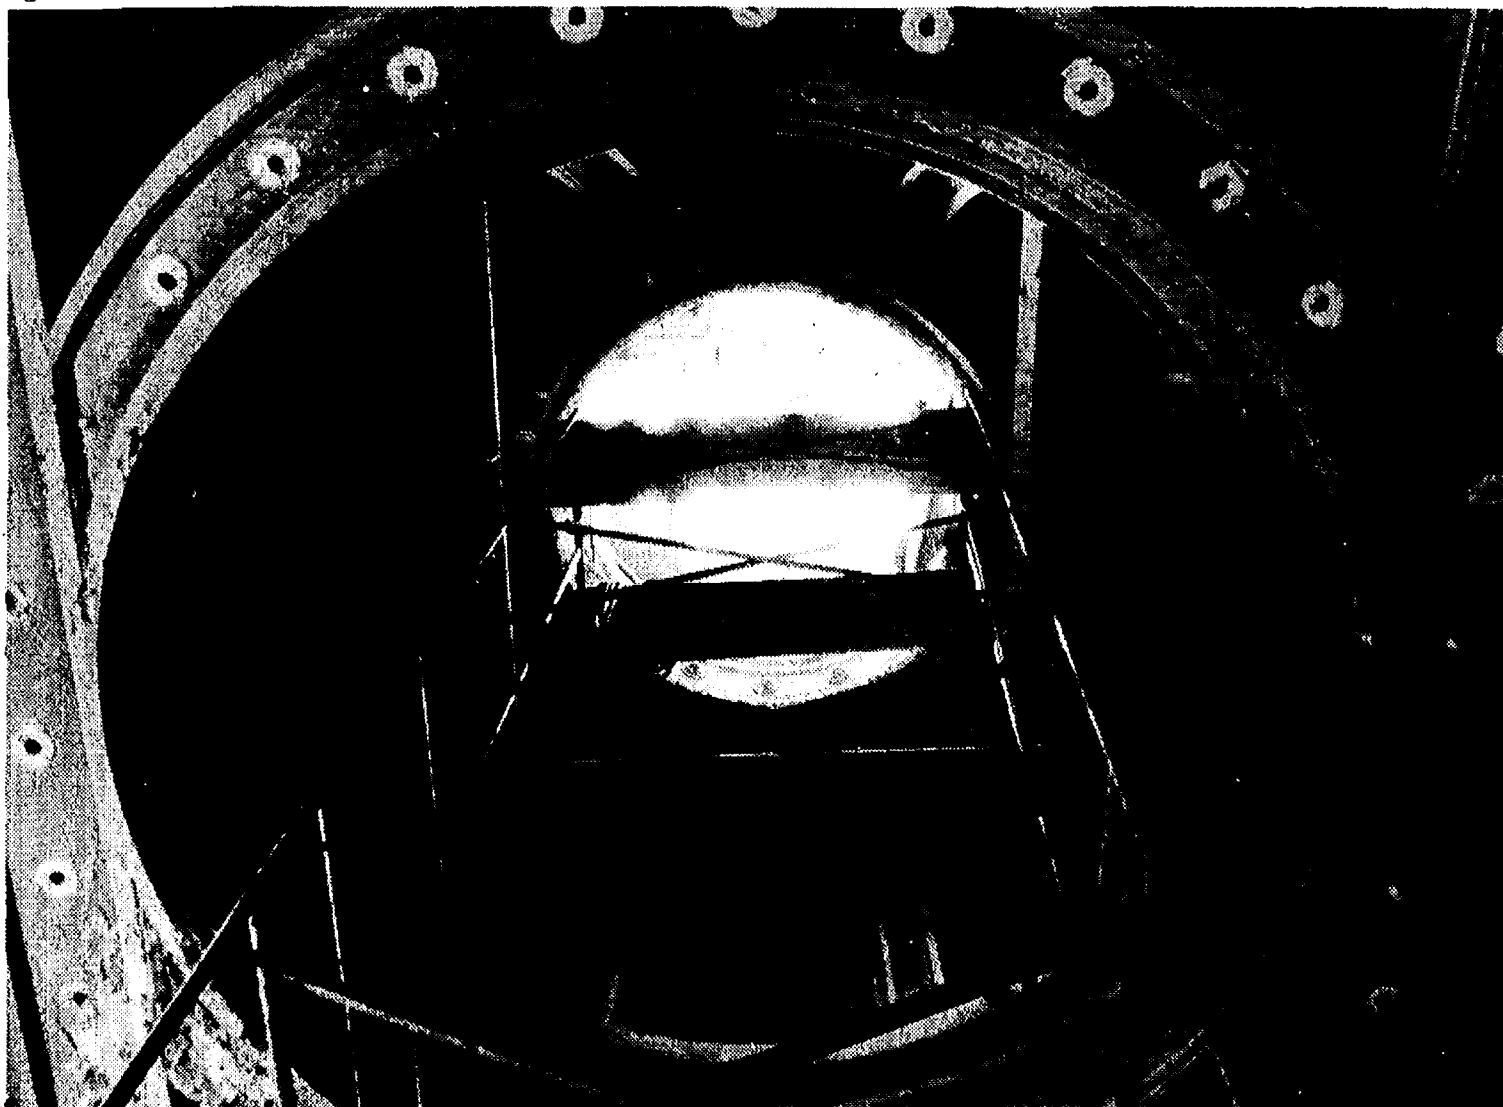

Another suggestion was to dedicate someone, at least part-time, to finding new ways to teach new courses. She said that happens now only if a teacher has spare time or happens to "run across something."

A third suggestion was to have someone dedicated to the writing program in general.

Fourth, Holmes said, many juniors and seniors need "considerable help" with their writing but now they have nowhere to go. She said someone could become a "writing lab resource person," and provide more individualized help for those students.

Fifth, Holmes suggested giving writing teachers an extra planning period so they could devote more of their time to teaching writing by giving them more time to grade and comment on writing assignments.

RESTORING THE DOME to its original grandeur is one of the goals of the renovation of Chelsea's 14th district courthouse at the corner of Main and South Sts. The project has been underway for many months and many months of work remain before the building will become a full-service court, sheriff's substation, and county meeting place. The project is being funded by Washtenaw county, the village, and townships, as well as through private donations.

ASHLEY ROSENTERE was rarin' to go at last Saturday's Easter Egg Hunt at Chelsea High school. The youngest, dressed like a bunny, was one of a couple hundred children who took part in the annual event, this year co-sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees and McDonald's restaurant.

Governor Revises Loophole Package, Supports 2-Cent Sales Tax Hike

Governor James J. Blanchard, attempting to reach a compromise on school finance reform, revised and pared down his tax loophole package for quality programs and will support a 2-percentage point increase in the sales tax, aides said recently.

And solidifying an earlier position, the aides said a sales tax proposal, which would require voter approval, must be placed on the August ballot.

Treasurer Robert Bowman cautioned that the loophole package, which eliminates higher insurance taxes and includes a 4-cent per pack increase in the cigarette tax, "is not set in concrete. We're trying to raise options and choices. The only thing we're trying to argue forcefully is there must be statutory revenues. There seems to be sentiment that moves that way."

The governor had proposed several new/increased taxes in his State of the State Address as a first step toward education reform while saying he would only "consider" a sales tax proposal at that point.

Although now supporting the 2-cent level, to a tax of 6 percent, he is still insisting the Legislature approve those revenues first before putting a sales tax measure before voters, William Kandler, legislative liaison, said.

Blanchard had three weeks ago still refused to commit himself to a specific sales tax hike level, but Bowman said with Senate Republicans and the State Chamber of Commerce out front on a 2-cent hike, "it becomes a much less partisan issue."

House Democrats had already indicated their support for that level.

But Bowman added an August, rather than November, election on such a proposal "is where we've pitched our tent" saying the primary elections provide a less partisan atmosphere.

The Senate passed a proposed constitutional amendment, aimed for the November ballot, with a 2-percentage point sales tax increase and hiking the share of general fund money to schools but without raising any other taxes devoted to education programs.

Bowman called the Senate action a "crucial first step" but said it falls short.

The revised Blanchard administration plan would provide about $600 million in new revenue for schools when fully implemented after four years, plus $1 billion to cut property taxes.

The Senate-passed plan provided about $236 million in new revenues for school programs.

The loophole package at $187 million in new revenues when phased in in 1991-92 instead of the $250 million first proposed by the governor, includes:

- eliminating industrial tax abatements for school purposes
- taxing large lottery winnings
- taxing pay of active military personnel
- eliminating preferential treatment of utilities
- taxing lump sum distributions from certain corporations
- taxing smoke-less and other non-cigarette tobacco products

• increasing the cigarette tax another 4 cents.

The cigarette tax, just raised in December by 4 cents to 25 cents, would be increased 2 cents in 1988, 1 cent in 1989 and 1 cent in 1990.

Bowman said a proposed increase in taxes on Michigan-based insurance companies, hotly opposed by Senate Republicans, was eliminated because school finance "is too important an issue to break down on ideological concerns."

Also eliminated from the governor's initial package was a strict limit on eligibility for property tax credits for homeowners, a provision which yields far less revenue if property taxes are reduced through the sales tax hike.

Kandler said the education quality program was cut slightly "to make it less difficult to deal with."

The reduction primarily would affect proposed incentive grants, a program that would be funded at $99.5 million instead of $170 million, to schools following a full set of quality standards.

Left intact would be the $80 million preschool program (including $20 million from the general fund), $15 million dropout program, $6 million teacher in-service program, $5 million learning improvement program, and $1.5 million for performance standards.

Nothing Stolen In Break-In

Someone broke into a car in the 300 block of Grant St. on Saturday, March 27 but didn't steal anything. Police said contents of the car and glove box had been moved around.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb went to a McDonald's when he was in town one day last week, and he told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that he was surprised to be waited on by a man as old as he is. Zeke said he got to talking with the feller behind the counter, and he learned that he was a chemist that had put in 35 years with a big company after teaching school 15 years.

So what was the feller doing serving up Big Macs? He told Zeke his old lady died five years ago, his grandkids live to far away to see regular and he got bored stiff setting at home staring at the television. He saw in the paper where McDonald's needed help, that it don't discriminate on age or anything else, and there he was.

Since then, Zeke went on, he had saw an old woman bagging groceries. She was enjoying the kids working at the checkout counter, Zeke said, and she must of knowed half the wimmen coming through, because they was having a good old fashion hen party. With the growth of service jobs, Zeke said, it must be that the folks in the middle years are doing the main work, and the young and the old are filling in around the edges.

The fellers showed interest in Zeke's report. Bug Hookum said he recalled cases where teachers have lied about their age to keep teaching past retirement age. Now you see ever now and agin where somebody is suing on base of age discrimination to keep their jobs. The fact is, not everybody is cut out for retirement, Bug said, and we ought to be able to adjust for them that ain't.

A place to do some serious adjusting is Social Security, Bug went on. There's nothing fair about taking away benefits jest because a feller takes a part time job doing work that needs to be done, he declared, and it ain't right to look the other way when we bring in workers from other countries to do work our laws won't let us do. The only adjusting the Government wants to make as folks live longer is to make us pay longer before we can get paid, Bug allowed. Social Security was set up to move retired people out of the way so young folks could have work, but with all the Government workers double and triple dipping that idea has gone by the boards long since, was Bug's words.

Practical speaking, broke in Clem Webster, he was full agreed with Bug that a feller that puts 20 year in the Navy and 15 year with the post office has got it made over the feller that clerked 40 years in the hardware store. But this retirement game runs both ways, he said. Fer instant, a wrinkle going around now is fer high ups in a big company to buy the company, and then give big bonuses and stock options to themselves fer taking early retirement. If that ain't sweet enough, he went on, they hire themselves back on as $500 a day consultants to keep em in pocket change.

Actual, none of the fellers ever had any trouble with retirement because none ever went fast enough to slow down. But all of em was of one mind on the matter of giving everybody more leeway in doing what they want to when they want to without giving up benefits they've paid fer.

Personal, I figger we got about as many old folks that want to work and can't as we have young folks that can work but won't. What we ain't got and everybody wants is the worker with the future of the young and the experience of the old.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Five in EMU's Honor Program

Five-area students have been admitted to Eastern Michigan University's Honors Program which provides a challenging alternative curriculum for students with superior academic abilities. To qualify for admittance to the program, each student is evaluated on his or her grade point average, standardized test scores, personal essays, and letters of recommendation from teachers and counselors.

Local students in the program include two students from Chelsea: Christina Marie Guard of 559 Chandler St. and Crystal Lynn Porath of 20400 Waterloo Rd. Porath is majoring in early elementary education.

Dexter is represented by Richard Jack Whipple of 3365 Broad St., while Manchester has Heidi Lee Huber of 520 W. Main St.

From Pinckney is Mary Wylie Fahrner of 11664 Lombardy Ct., who is currently majoring in communication and theater arts.

Nutrition Expo 88 Slated April 6 At Health Center

Nutricare, the Catherine McAuley Health Center nutrition clinic, will sponsor a free "Nutrition Expo 88" Wednesday, April 6 from 6 to 10 p.m. in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Education Center Auditorium.

Highlights of the event to celebrate NutriCare's first year of operation include cooking demonstrations by chefs from Gratz, China Gate and The Lord Fox. There will also be mini-lectures by nutrition experts on cardiac nutrition, sports nutrition and healthy weight loss.

Visitors to the expo may sign up for a "supermarket survival" outing. On NutriCare's supermarket tours, people learn how to read food labels for nutritional information by traveling through the grocery store and analyzing healthful products and decoding misleading nutrition and ingredient information on labels. "Survival shoppers" also receive a comprehensive list of healthy brand name items, as well as recipes that use these products.

Nutritional refreshments will be served. For further information, call 572-3438.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Klink

Kimberly Guyor, Jeffrey Klink Wed at St. Mary's

Kimberly Lynette Guyor, daughter of George C. Guyor and Margaret A. Guyor, both of Ann Arbor, married Jeffrey John Klink, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Klink of Waterloo, on Saturday, June 13, 1987 at 3:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Catholic church in Chelsea. The Rev. Philip Dupuis officiated.

The bride wore a gown designed especially for her of white English embroidered net with seed pearls, flowing from a shirred bodice to sunburst sleeves. Her sweep train flowed from an ankle-length scalloped skirt. Miniature silk sweetheart roses and seed pearls of peach and white held a floor-length tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of peach and white long-stem roses.

Matron of honor was Lavonne I. Kruse of Chelsea, a friend of the bride. Jody L. Klink of Waterloo, sister of the bridegroom, and Lisa L. Headrick of Boulder, Colo., a friend of the bride, were bridesmaids.

They wore peach satin and lace scalloped street-length dresses with shirred bodices and short scalloped sleeves. They carried peach and white long-stemmed rose bouquets and wore sweetheart roses with seed pearls in their hair.

The bride's mother wore a cream street-length hand-crocheted dress with short bell sleeves and a tier-ruffled skirt. She wore a pink rose corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a cobalt blue street-length dress with long-cuffed sleeves, pleated skirt, and satin trim. She wore a yellow rose corsage.

Best man was John G. Preston of Chelsea, a friend of the bridegroom. Scott D. Guyor of Ann Arbor, brother of the bride, and N. Tod Borton of Chelsea, friend of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Kent Longworth and David Seyfried, friends of the bridegroom, both of Chelsea, ushered for the wedding.

They all wore white tuxedo jackets and black pants with peach ties and cummerbunds. They wore peach rose boutonnieres.

Chad E. Fortner of Waterloo, cousin of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer. He wore a black tuxedo and a white rose boutonniere.

The bridegroom, along with the father of the bride and the father of the bridegroom, wore a black tuxedo. The fathers wore black cummerbunds and black ties, while the bridegroom wore a white cummerbund and white tie. The bridegroom and fathers wore single white rose boutonnieres.

The wedding reception took place at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter, commencing with a sit-down dinner at 6 p.m. Each table had a basket of peach and white silk roses made up by the bride's grandmother Mimi.

A wedding cake was especially baked for the occasion by Debbie Klink, aunt of the bridegroom. The cake was adorned with peach and white fresh flowers.

Gary and Lynn Klink, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, and their band played dance music from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Out of state guests included Robert Wislinski and family of South Carolina, an uncle of the bride; Donna Payne of California, an aunt of the bridegroom; B. J. and Joyce Phillips of Illinois, an uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; and Jackie Brown and Terrence Davis of Ohio, cousins of the bridegroom.

The bridal couple honeymooned on the beaches of Oahu, Hawaii before returning to live in Chelsea at their home on Sugar Loaf Lake.

Layoffs Discussed

Holmes said the English department believes the department would be greatly improved by the suggested changes.

"Instead of regressing, we hope you view this as an opportunity to progress," Holmes said.

Stump also expressed her concerns about the remedial reading program and said that Leith, "really cares about the students," and said Leith is interested in students beyond what they put into her class.

"My team and I feel the loss of Mr. Rosentreter will affect our team greatly," Neibauer said.

"He has made a big impact on girls basketball. He has started the Biddy Basketball program for younger girls to build a better program. We, as a team, along with Mr. Rosentreter, have worked with sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls to help them improve their skills. The parents of the younger girls feel it would be a tremendous setback to the program if Mr. Rosentreter would not continue. Is this fair to him or our team? We feel there is some other way you can overcome this problem."

Neibauer asked if there were any teachers at any of the schools who are not certified to teach what they are teaching. She also asked why a "temporary, 90-day re-certification," can't be given to both teachers to allow them to continue teaching. She also questioned how two teachers can be laid off while another teacher, Wayne

Welton, will become a full-time high school teacher next fall. He currently splits his time at North school and the high school.

The board did not comment directly on the suggested changes. Trustee Barb Cherem, however, said "we knew it was a tough decision," to layoff the teachers.

Each day Americans throw out 200,000 tons of edible food, toss away 150,000 tons of boxes, bags and wrappers and junk enough automobiles to form a line of traffic more than 50 miles long, according to National Wildlife magazine.

Dr. L. Wolin Presents to Family Practice Group

Leonard H. Wolin, M.D., urologist, presented two sessions of the topic "Office Urology" at the 25th annual Family Practice Spring Refresher and Board Examination Review. The Review was held on March 22 and 23 at the University of Michigan Medical School in Ann Arbor.

Wolin was among a number of his colleagues presenting to Family Practitioners preparing for board examinations to be held this summer. He presented an overview of the practices and techniques commonly used in a urological office practice.

Wolin has practices in Chelsea, Ann Arbor and Jackson. He has been on the medical staff at Chelsea Community Hospital for over 14 years and is also on staff at St. Joseph Mercy and Foote Memorial Hospital. He has a faculty appointment at the University of Michigan Medical School, has published numerous articles and presents regularly.

Familiar to many area families, Dr. Wolin welcomes the opportunity to speak to community organizations or interest groups on topics of interest in his field.

For more information or to arrange a presentation call his office at (313) 971-7950.

Boy Scouts

TROOP 425—

Boys from Chelsea's Boy Scout Troop 425 toured Mammoth Caves in Kentucky on March 26-29. Eleven boys took part in the trip. They were Kevin Hafner, Holden Harris, Kirk Hedding, Mark Kemner, Tim Maurer, Matt Montange, Duane Penhallegon, Lee Skyles, Adam Skyles, Steve Thomas and Karl Wikman. The three adults who took part were Mr. Hedding, assistant scoutmaster, Mr. Kemner, and Mr. Skyles.

The boys camped out in tents for three days, cooked their own meals, and worked on skill awards. They toured the caves on Sunday and Monday.

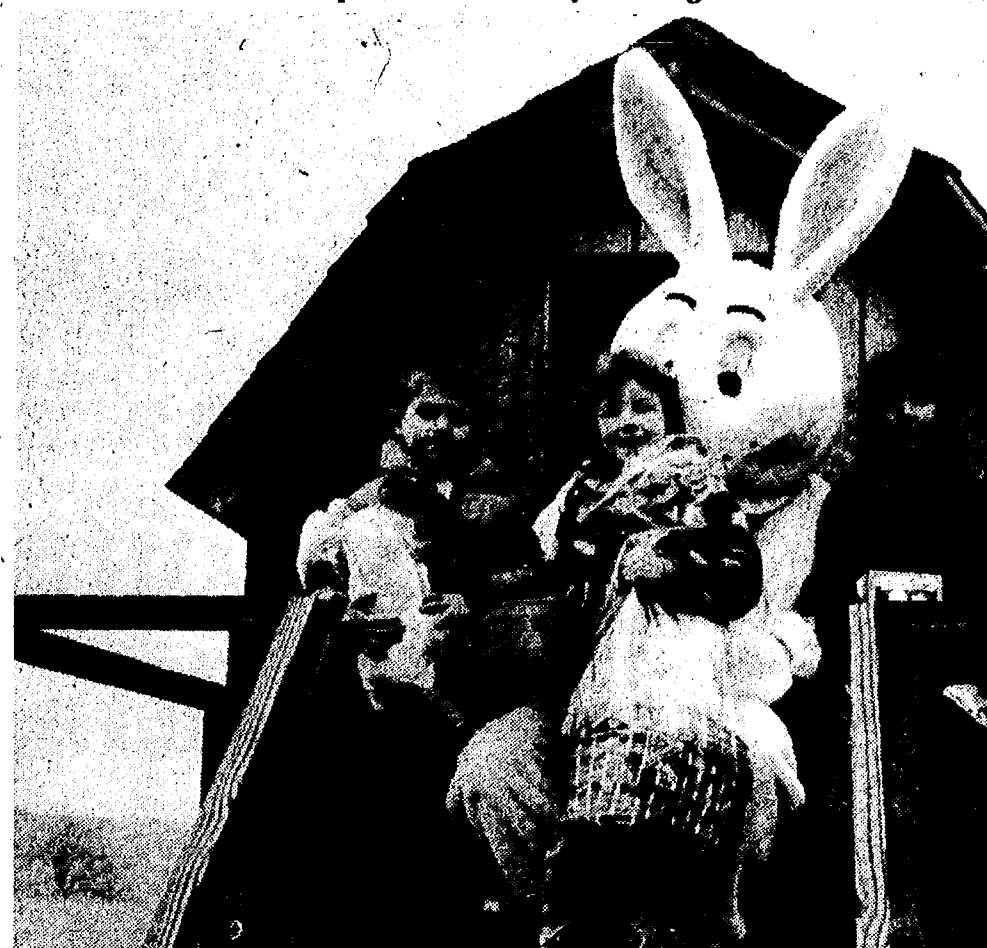

When the boys returned they said it was warm, no rain, the caves were great, and they all said they had a good time.

QUOTES

DONALD A. COLE Director

"It requires a strong constitution to withstand repeated attacks of prosperity..."

—J. L. Gasford

This is quite likely a tongue-in-cheek observation, but there is a kernel of truth involved. The largeness of a constant horn of plenty blunts the thrill of anticipation and dampens the drive for self-improvement, although, we suspect this is scarcely a worry worthy of consideration to most of us.

To be fair, we try to present both sides of every controversial question. We feel sure some would contend, after considering Gasford's observation, that it takes an even stronger constitution to withstand repeated, constant attacks of poverty. If it ever comes to a choice, we'll elect to fight off prosperity, Gasford notwithstanding.

We can be helpful in arranging a religious service for those who had no regular church affiliation.

Vandals Hit

Bridgetown Condos

Someone used glue to write obscenities on the walls and scratched three shower stalls in buildings under construction at Bridgetown Condominiums, Chelsea police said.

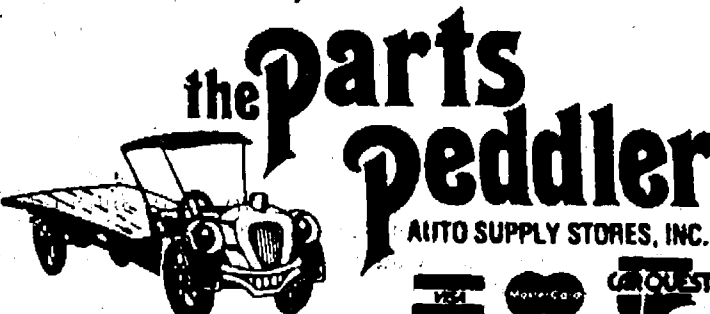

The incident was reported March 28.

In addition, glue was poured down vents of the building.

The shower stalls were valued at $250 each. No estimate was available for the rest of the damage.

Can Chiropractic Treatment Help You?

Chiropractic has been successful in many cases where other health-care methods have failed.

No healing art has all the answers to the many problems of disease and disability. However, chiropractic has been successful in many cases where medical treatment has failed. That's why the use of chiropractic is growing. Chiropractic is now the second largest health-care profession in the U.S.

Chiropractic is an approach to health which utilizes the body's inherent and natural recuperative processes. It is a healing science which places emphasis on maintaining the structural integrity of the body. It is a method of health care which is conservative and does not utilize potentially dangerous drugs or surgery.

If you or anyone in your family has a health problem, it's worthwhile to learn more about the benefits of chiropractic treatment. Chiropractic can be effective with many different types of health problems.

A blood panel chemistry will be offered which includes screening for protein, cholesterol, calcium, diabetes, gout, kidney disease, liver disease and anemia for $10. Those interested in blood panel chemistry should fast for four hours before the test.

Prostate and testicular examinations will be offered by Dr. Leonard Wolin. Pap smears will be available for $5.

Health screening counseling and summary will be provided by University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea physicians and Drs. Steve Yarows and Martin Giespen.

Project Health-O-Rama is a community service which encourages participants to recognize the need to assume responsibility for their own health. It is sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, Channel 7 WXYZ-TV, and United Health Organization. People with abnormal test results are referred to their health care provider to receive further evaluation.

Health screening is not meant to replace a physical examination by a health care provider. It is, however,

Spring Fun Run Slated Saturday

Call From Concerned Citizen Nabs Drunk Driver

A Chelsea-area man was arrested for drunk driving because a Polly's Market employee noticed two drunk men in the store and notified Chelsea police on Tuesday, March 29, that she was afraid they might try to drive.

Gary Michael Smolinski, 22, of 857 Lowery Rd., was arrested after his car went off the road near the former Weinberg Dairy on Old US-12. A breath test revealed an alcohol level of .17, police said.

According to police, an officer caught up with the car on Old US-12 as it was traveling 65 miles per hour in a 35 zone at 8:39 p.m. However, the car went off the road before the officer could force Smolinski to stop.

A passenger, another Lowery Rd. resident, was not arrested but had to make other transportation arrangements.

BILL STOFFER, president of the Chelsea Fair Board, presents Cindy and Archie Bradbury, co-chairs of Chelsea Community Hospital's Spring Benefit Auction, with one of two life-time passes to be auctioned off at the May 7 event. Laurie Honbaum, this year's Fair Queen, will make the presentation at the Auction. Also pictured is Marge German. She and her husband, Bob, are chairmen of the Auction.

Committees Working on May 7 Gala Hospital Benefit Auction

Chelsea Community Hospital will celebrate spring with a benefit auction. Lloyd Braun and Jerry Helmer of Braun & Helmer Auction Service will conduct this gala event on May 7 at the hospital.

The delightful duo of Braun and Helmer promises to make the evening memorable. Auction proceeds will go towards the purchase of furnishings for the Emergency Room Waiting Area for patients and their families. The Emergency Room is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, serving residents in the Chelsea Community Hospital service area.

Auction chairs are Bob and Marge German, co-chairs are Archie and Cindy Bradbury. Ticket chairs for the event are Paul and Jean Mann. Auction committee members include Phil Boham and Dennis Hall, gift co-chairs; Patti Harris, June Wilson, and Pauline Porath, regional gift chairs; Maudeleine Vallier is the art chair. Bob Lyons will, once again, emcee the gala event.

Many other volunteers are helping to make the event a success. Gift donations have come from business and industry throughout Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Grass Lake, Stockbridge, Ann Arbor, and Jackson. Area businesses have been very supportive of the event.

For more information, call 475-3914.

Larson Earns Departmental Honors at EMU

Randall Larson, a 1983 graduate of Chelsea High School, received departmental honors from Eastern Michigan University in early childhood education. Larson is the daughter of Arlene Larson and the late Darrell Larson.

At the 40th Honors Convocation held at Pease Auditorium on March 26, Larson received a certificate and bronze medallion. Upon graduation, her diploma will say, "Graduated with honors in early childhood education."

To earn this distinction, Larson completed 12 credit-hours of honors classwork in education and wrote a thesis entitled "Social and Emotional Developmental Traits of Four- and Five-Year Olds: The Beginnings of Social Interactions."

Larson hopes to find employment next fall in an early elementary setting.

OSTEOPOROSIS CAN AFFECT THE MOUTH

Osteoporosis, sometimes known as brittle bone disease, has received a lot of attention these days. Most people picture old women with hunched backs and curved spines when they think of osteoporosis, but the damage doesn't stop there. Osteoporosis can cause bone loss in the jaw too, resulting in loose teeth and dentures, according to the Academy of General Dentistry. A study involving more than 200 women between the ages of 60 and 69 found that women suffering from osteoporosis were nearly three times as likely to need dentures as those who had no bone loss problem.

The study also found that of the women who had osteoporosis and had a complete set of natural teeth at age 50, 44% needed dentures by age 60! Only 15% of the women who did not have osteoporosis needed dentures.

Osteoporosis is most often found in older white women. As many as one in three white women have the condition by age 60. Recent research links the condition to a deficiency of calcium. Many seniors have trouble digesting dairy products or are on low-cholesterol diets which can limit the intake of calcium. Unfortunately, osteoporosis can be caused by a variety of conditions, so simply increasing calcium intake may not solve the problem. This condition requires careful supervision by a physician.

FLUFFY

By: Matthew Richard, Kindergarten

My pet cat's name is Fluffy. She is black and white. She comes up to my bedroom and sleeps with me at night. She lays on my blankets down by my feet. She likes to play tag with me. She runs after me and then I run after her. She feels furry.

THE OLD MAN IN THE HOUSE

By: Jesse Hallman, Kindergarten
Dictated to: Adam

There was an old man who lived in a log cabin. One day he set out to pick some berries. Then he got to a forest, he walked into the forest. He walked for a long time. Then he found a house. He went in. He found out it was his!

THE CATS OF THE FAMILY

By: April Marzec, Kindergarten

I have two baby kittens. Their names are Puff and Mr. Rogers. They climb the curtains. My mom doesn't like that very well. They play with three balls. First they put them with their paws and then run after them. They take lots of naps. Almost every night they sleep on me. When they're happy they purr. That makes me feel that they'll stay in our home for a hundred years.

THE APE AND THE CAKE

By: Matthew Milazzo, First Grade

There was an ape who lived in a tree. He had made a cake. He did not know what to do with it. Then the door bell rang. It was his friend, Dog. Dog said, "Let's eat that cake." "Oh," said Ape. "Let's do that."

OUR VACATION

By: Kathryn Harper

One day when I was five, I went with my grandma and my papa up to Mackinaw Island. And then from there we went to my cousin's house in Florida. It took two days to get there. We spent two or three days there. When I was at my cousin's house, I looked over the fence into the water and saw a lizard.

MY DOG SNOOPY

By: Megan Smith, Second Grade

I have a stuffed doll. His name is Super Soft Snoopy. I love my Snoopy. He is very, very soft. His color is red. And one day he came alive. He talked to me. At first I was scared. But he liked me. Then I was not scared any more. I gave him a cookie. And he ate it. But then I put the magic collar on. My mom was coming. I put the magic collar on and he turned back into a doll. When mom was gone, I took it off. He came real again. The next day, I woke up. He was sleeping on my bed. He followed me to school. I put him outside. He rode on the bus with me. When I got home, I played with him. When it was dinner time, I put the magic collar on him. He was a doll again. When it was bed time, Mom kissed me and closed my door. I took off the magic collar and he was alive again. I petted him and set him on my bed and he was asleep.

BIG MOUSE, LITTLE MOUSE

By: Heather McKenzie, Second Grade

"I'm glad we found such a good house," said Little Mouse. "Now we need to go out and look for food," said Big Mouse. "Look out!" said Little Mouse. "I see a dog close by. We will not be safe with that dog in our house." "Follow me," said Big Mouse. "But we must not make a sound." "We will get him out of our house!" said Big Mouse. "When I wave to you, you scream in his ear." "Boo!" said Little Mouse. The loud noise woke the dog. "Ouch!" said the dog. The dog ran to get Big Mouse, as the dog ran back to the house. Big Mouse got up to the window and he went into the dog house. "I am so proud of you," said Big Mouse. "Now we will be safe in our house." "Look out!" said Little Mouse. I don't know if it is real. It isn't a real cat. Every mouse can like this cat."

SANTA'S VACATION

By: Jackie Setta, Third Grade

Santa put his boots on. He hitched up Comet, Prancer, Donner, Vixen, Rudolf and the rest. In his sleigh he put luggage, a surfboard, folding chairs, ghetto blaster and sunglasses. Santa was going to Florida! When Santa stepped out of his sleigh, he said, "Look out sunshine, here I come!" Santa hopped on his surfboard and surfed. When he got tired he sat on the beach and listened to music. After a week in Florida, Santa remembered something. "Next week is Christmas!" he screamed. "How will I get to every stop on my route if I don't go back now?" Then Santa came up with a brilliant idea! He would stay there until the 24th across the date line. His plans had worked! It was Christmas Day on our side of the date line. Just then Santa was crossing the 45th parallel on his way home. Santa was in Michigan. He had finally reached the North Pole. Santa was drinking egg nog and eating Christmas cookies. It was good to be home!

THE SPACE EXPLORERS ON SATURN

By: Carrie Buss, Fourth Grade

One day the space explorers were in the clubhouse and they decided to build a rocket. They went to the garage to get some wood, then they went to the junkyard and were lucky to find an old steering wheel. So they went to work, hammering nails, screwing screws, and sawing wood. Then they put it together. When they finished, it looked like a real space shuttle. They got in to try it out. The leader, Yolanda, put his foot on the pedal and it worked. Up they went. It went all the way up to Saturn.

Then they got out of the space shuttle to explore. It was the most beautiful planet they had ever been on. It had rings of red, blue, gold, and even purple. They decided to find out if there was any life on Saturn. They found out soon enough. Out of a cave marched aliens that were about six feet tall and three feet wide and had the biggest ears. Their ears were about ten feet wide and five feet tall. They were marching toward them like an American army with lozars, revolvers, and knives. But the Space Explorers were prepared and had a big gun. They were not used to fighting without any place to hide, but they fought and finally beat the aliens.

Then they went into a cave to spend the night. Luckily, they had brought some marshmallows, chocolate, and the other food. So they roasted the marshmallows. Then they went to sleep. When they woke up all the food including the marshmallows was gone. They went out to find their food. It was nowhere to be seen. They looked all over the planet but then remembered one place, the aliens' cave. So they went back to the cave where they had battled with the aliens. Yolanda looked around the corner of the cave and there was all their food. So the space explorers went all the way into the cave to get their food. But just then one of the aliens woke up and saw them. He woke up his leader and the rest of the aliens. The leader ordered the other aliens to capture the space explorers. Finally, the aliens captured the space explorers and put them in steel cages. So they sat in their cages and thought and thought. Then Yolanda came up with a great idea. "We have forgotten about our digging tools," he said. So they got out their tools and started digging, hoping to get out. Sure enough they got out, but they still had a problem—how to get their food. So they came up with a plan. They decided to come back the next night and get their food. Meanwhile, they would have to live on a few berries they had seen.

Then they went back to where they had been staying. Well, that night they went to sleep early so they could get their food. Right at midnight, Yolanda and his friends woke up and went to the aliens' cave. They snuck in quietly, took their food and left.

When they got back to the cave, they had a midnight snack and went to bed. In the morning, they woke up, had some breakfast and looked to find anything they hadn't seen, but they didn't see anything suspicious. They decided to find their way back to earth because their food supply was low, so they got in the rocket and took off.

EXTINCT

By: Rosanna Gray-Lion, Fifth Grade

Extinct means gone, Extinct is forever, Extinct is begone, Extinct should be never, Still it happens, And me it saddens, To have our world destroyed, Any many unemployed, We are its guests, Not its kings, Let's fly on golden wings And help our wildlife flourish Not help destroy it.

THE OLD MAN OF THANKSGIVING

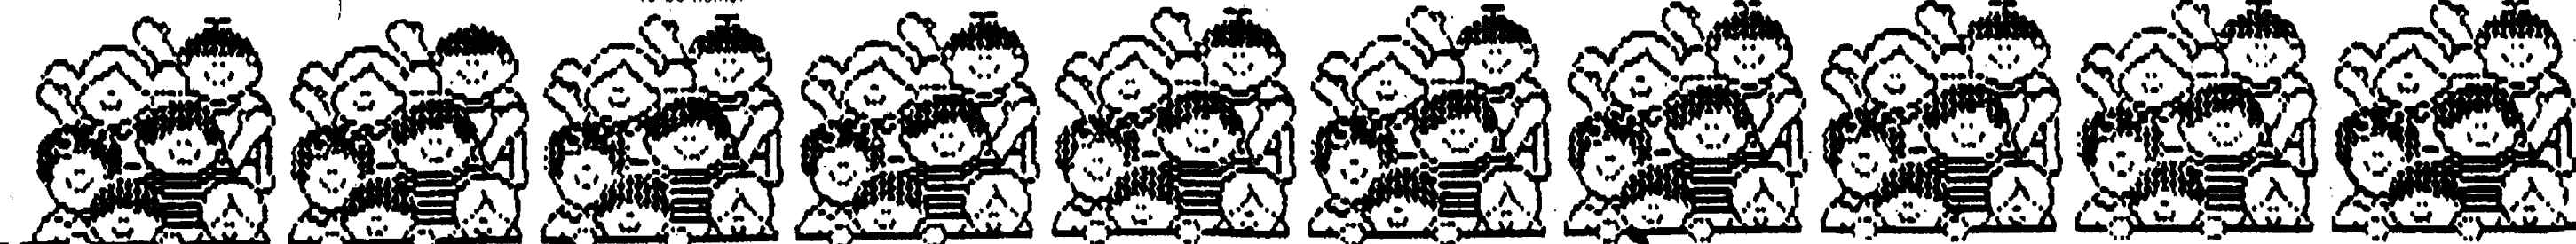

By: Kari White, Fifth Grade

Time was out, everybody looked at the clock. It was exactly three o'clock. They handed their test in, and ran out the door. Sandy and Linda walked because they didn't like to run. As they were walking by an old creepy house, Linda saw a pretty cat, but she read the sign and it said, "No Trespassing." But she wanted to pet the cat, so she walked a little farther and saw a hole. Linda crawled through the hole to pet the cat. All of a sudden, while she was petting the cat, a hand touched her shoulder and scared her. She turned around and saw an old man. The man said, "What are you doing on my property?" Linda said, "Well, I was just petting the cat." He took her in the house. Linda pushed him out of the way and ran out the door. The next day, Linda came back and said, "Would you like to have Thanksgiving with us?" The old man replied, "Well, I haven't had a good meal in ages, sure—that sounds good." So they had a great Thanksgiving dinner, and Linda said to herself, he is not a bad man after all.

LOBSTERS

By: Drew Kyte, Fifth Grade

I was playing in the field behind my house, when all of a sudden I heard a steady beating of drums and then yells of British men. I stood there confused. I froze. There was a big red blur. I ran inside my house and told my mom that there were men in the field, fighting. She looked out the window but there was nothing there. She said, "You lie too much, Jonathan. Go to your room and stay there." I thought, "Excellent; the encyclopedia is in my room. I can find out who those men are." I looked up Revolutionary War: There were pictures of the men who looked just like the men who were fighting in the back yard. I found another book about the Red Coats. I ripped out the page, put it in my pocket and went downstairs. I asked Mom if I could go outside and she answered, "Yes, and come in, in about an hour." When I went outside, there was nothing there. I climbed a tree, but it was dark and I could not see anything. Suddenly, I saw little flickers of light. I jumped from the tree. There were lanterns with lighted candles all over. Men were scrambling every which way, jumping around and loading muskets. Then a drummer boy walked by. He did not see me. I ripped a button off his cuff and turned on the flashlight on it. There was a little engraving on it. It said, "JOE." I ran back inside the house and took out a book on the Revolutionary War. There was a picture of the same boy, Joe, the drummer boy. I told my mom I was going back outside. She said, "Only one hour." I got a little too close. A man picked me up and set me on my feet. I tried to get away, but the same man just kept on grabbing me back. Finally, I got away. I ran inside and never set foot in the back yard again. To this day, if you sleep in the room Jonathan slept in, if the wind is right, you will hear battle cries of the Lobsters!

Senior Citizen Birthdays To Be Celebrated on Friday

Chelsea senior citizens will celebrate April birthdays on Friday, April 8. Special entertainment will be the high school forensics team presenting a program of readings including drama and comedy. The party will start with lunch being served at 11:45 by the Nutrition Program, with entertainment and refreshments following. A carnation, compliments of the Chelsea Greenhouse, will be given to each birthday person. The birthday cake will be provided by the Chelsea Lions.

Scouts Learn Flag Burning Procedure

Chelsea Brownie Troop No. 301 had a busy day Monday. In the afternoon they toured the Chelsea post office and in the evening they participated in a flag burning ceremony. The troop is led by Lois Kapp and is composed of third graders from North school.

For the flag burning ceremony they joined with a junior Girl Scout troop led by Roberta Broughton. Broughton's troop is also from North School and is composed of fourth, fifth, and sixth graders.

Eulalee Packard of the VFW Auxiliary led the flag burning ceremony, explaining the reasons and the procedure. According to Kapp, although the scouts were veterans of many flag ceremonies, they did not know that when a flag is worn out, it is not just thrown away.

The flag burning ceremony took place at Broughton's house on Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

The next big event for the scouts is volunteer week, April 18-22. The local troops plan to do something to honor their leaders.

Under the influence: Once a male tree cricket attracts a female, he entices her to stay with the insect equivalent of "buying her a drink." According to International Wildlife magazine, the male cricket lifts his wings, exposing on his back a small depression filled with a thick, scented fluid. The female mounts on his back and feeds on this nectar. While she's drinking, they mate.

Celebration Week April 11-14 At North and South Schools

Celebration Week, scheduled for April 11-15, will take place at both North and South elementary schools. According to Triad director Ruth Stielstra, the purpose is to "celebrate all the learning that takes place."

Celebration Week will be an opportunity for students to share the celebration products that have been created in their classrooms with real audiences. Celebration products are a grade level or individual teacher/class choice in any subject area. The real audiences will be the other students.

Each grade level has chosen one day during the week as their day to share. Teachers have advertised their students' celebration products on a lobby bulletin board and invited other classrooms to sign-up to become the real audience.

On the first day of Celebration Week at North school, second graders will use their storytelling skills as they share original poems and shape books and become leisure-time experts as they present favorite hobbies and collections.

On Tuesday, third graders will transform the music room into the setting for the story "The Indian and the Cupboard" by Lynne Reed Bands. They will present their dioramas, original hand-puppets of story characters, and a video re-enactment of the story with third-graders wearing original large-body puppet costumes.

On Wednesday, fourth graders will display their creative kites, flying high in the cafeteria; original, illustrated, contemporary versions of Mother Goose nursery rhymes printed in calligraphy; and autobiographies with self-portraits.

On Thursday, first graders will perform songs and choral readings and display their original young authors' books.

Friday rounds out the week at North school with fifth graders displaying their original pop-out books and planning a reunion of famous American historical figures.

Meanwhile, at South elementary, fifth graders will start the week by bringing a circus to the school.

On Tuesday, third graders will travel from classroom to classroom as Chelsea's very own historians.

On Wednesday, fourth graders will become tour guides as they present China and their homeland, Michigan. They will also conduct workshops in the DASM (Division, Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication) mathematics program and participate as members of a lecture circuit, explaining the human body.

On Thursday, fifth graders have planned a reunion of famous literary personalities and are presenting workshops showing how to construct scientific three-dimensional objects.

Friday rounds out the week at South school with second graders sharing their latest scientific discoveries, parading as favorite story characters from children's literature, and concluding with the event that started celebration week, the circus.

Children at both schools will receive a Celebration Week certificate congratulating them on their celebration product.

Chelsea Historical Society To Hear History of Barns

Professor Hemalata Dandekar of the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Urban Planning will present a slide show, "The Michigan Farm and Its Buildings," at the Chelsea Area Historical Society April meeting, Monday, April 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Crippen House.

She will show pictures of barns in Washtenaw county and elsewhere in Michigan, both typical and unusual.

Anyone in the Chelsea-Dexter-Manchester area who has constructed a Michigan barn is especially welcome at the meeting to share their knowledge.

Please call 475-7047, or 475-8968 for further information.

Bulldogs!

Girls Track Team May Contend for SEC Title

Chelsea Bulldog girls track team has been hard at work the past month preparing for the 1988 season, said coach Bill Bainton.

"Graduation and the transfer of four top line performers, including one all-stater, make this year's team a rather young one," Bainton said.

"Among the 30 team members are 12 new faces and 13 letter winners. In spite of the numbers, there are still some outstanding performers headed by senior distance runners Kasey Anderson and Jennifer Rossi."

Anderson and Rossi were all-staters last spring. Anderson's best races are 800 meters and up and Rossi's are the 800 and 400. They recently combined with two other top returnees, Tami Harris and Danica Disbro, to win the sprint medley in a 30-team field at an indoor invitational at Siena Heights College.

Harris, a senior, and Disbro, a junior, are among the best sprinters in the Southeastern Conference. Both have been all-SEC performers in sprints and relays. Disbro could also be one of the area's top 300-meter hurdlers this year.

Junior Sarah Schaeffer high-jumped a career best of 4-10 at Siena Heights. She also runs the hurdles and is the team's most experienced 100-meter hurdler.

Senior Dena Stevens has been a steady performer in the discus throughout her career and could come into her own in the throw this year, Bainton said. She is backed by four sophomores who may make the throwing events one of the Bulldogs' strengths.

Tammy Browning, "a pleasant surprise" in the shot put last year, is back and has been joined by her twin sister Tiffany.

Tiffany Moore was a letterwinner in the shot and discus last season and Marti Daggett has worked hard in the off-season and could be a factor in the discus.

Debi Koenn, another veteran junior, is having her best early-season ever, Bainton said, and will play an important role in the 400, 800 and relays.

Top sophomores are distance runner Sarah Grau, who is coming off a good cross country season, hurdler Sheila Haab, and 400-meter runner Cathy Broderick.

Anne Steffenson, outstanding in the 400 at the end of last season, is slowly recovering from leg injuries suffered in cross country. Also hoping to have good seasons after being bothered by injuries most of the last spring are junior Jennifer Harms and sophomore Stefanie Wagner, both distance runners.

Sophomores Julie Tobias and Sarah

Erskine in the distances and Chris Sawicki, Anna Royce and junior Amy Carley in the sprints, will be counted on for needed depth.

Kathy Issel, one of the top freshmen from the cross country team along with Kathy Nagel, Brenda Brede and Stacey Gallagher will add to the distance strength. Freshman sprinter Christine Mignano has run well in early workouts as has Jennine Rossi, who could contribute in relays and the high jump. Leisa Schiller has shown some speed and will probably run in the sprints or middle distances and high jump. Another freshman sprinter in Cindy Noble.

The Bulldogs appear to have quality performers in almost every area, Bainton said. The key to their success, and one of the big questions for the season, is depth. If they can avoid injury and some of the younger runners have good seasons, Chelsea could be a contender in the SEC race.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP could make the difference in seniors Dena Stevens, Tami Harris, Jennifer Rossi, and the Bulldog track team's success this fall. From left are Kasey Anderson.

Cheng, Eisenbeiser Lead Bulldog Track Team in '88

Chelsea Bulldog boys track coach Ted Wilson described his team as being "about three people short of being a real decent team."

Those three people include two sprinters and John Cattell. Cattell was injured at the end of basketball season and may not be able to run at all this spring. He was a probable state meet qualifier in the distance events.

In addition, Tyler Lewis, a top performer in the field events last year, has decided not to participate in track this year.

So Wilson has some holes to fill. "We should do reasonably well in some events," Wilson said.

"We'll be moving people around and trying them out in different spots. We're fairly inexperienced but we have outstanding seniors and their leadership is great. We'll go as far as our senior leadership can take us."

A top performer on the team should be distance and middle distance runner Paul Hedding, who is probably the prime Chelsea candidate to qualify for the state meet. He's run a 4:44 metric mile, a 2:04 for 800 meters and :56.8 on a leg of the 1,600 meter relay.

"He'll do nothing but get better as the season goes along," Wilson said.

Wilson said he may also run Hedding in the 3,200 meter run but that he is leery of having Hedding run in too many events.

Chris Cheng and Sam Eisenbeiser are the co-captains.

Cheng will be in any event from "the half mile on down," Wilson said.

"Boy, I wish I had him for another year because he is just now starting to develop," Wilson said.

"In a couple of years I think he could run for a small college. He's one of our better sprinters."

Eisenbeiser is also one of the team's best sprinters and like Cheng could find himself in any of a number of events. In addition, he is the team's top long jumper.

Senior Dave Freitas, and sophomores Scott Reynolds and Matt Herter will also be in on the sprinting events.

Senior Dave Kvarnberg is probably the leading candidate to take over for Cattell in the distance events. Senior Brady Murphy is also another distance runner. Wilson said both boys have looked good in the early going.

Sophomores Holden Harris, Jeff Latimer and Erich Hammer are all likely 800 meter runners. Harris has run 2:12 and Latimer 2:17, but Hammer is just beginning, "but I love his work ethic," Wilson said.

Brian Zangara, another sophomore, fits into the 400-800 meter events.

Tom Bennett, a senior, is the Bulldogs' top hurdler. Senior Dan Pletcher, Wilson said, has shown promise in the hurdles and could be one of the most improved Bulldogs by the middle of the season. Senior David Steele is also one of the top three hurdlers.

Senior Chris Burkel will be one of the 400 meter runners, whether on a straight run or a relay team. He's cut nearly 10 seconds off his time from last year, Wilson said.

In the field events, sophomore Lucky Beeman is probably the best Bulldog in the shotput and discus. However, seniors Joel Boyer and Jim Williams, two of the strongest players on last fall's football team, will also compete.

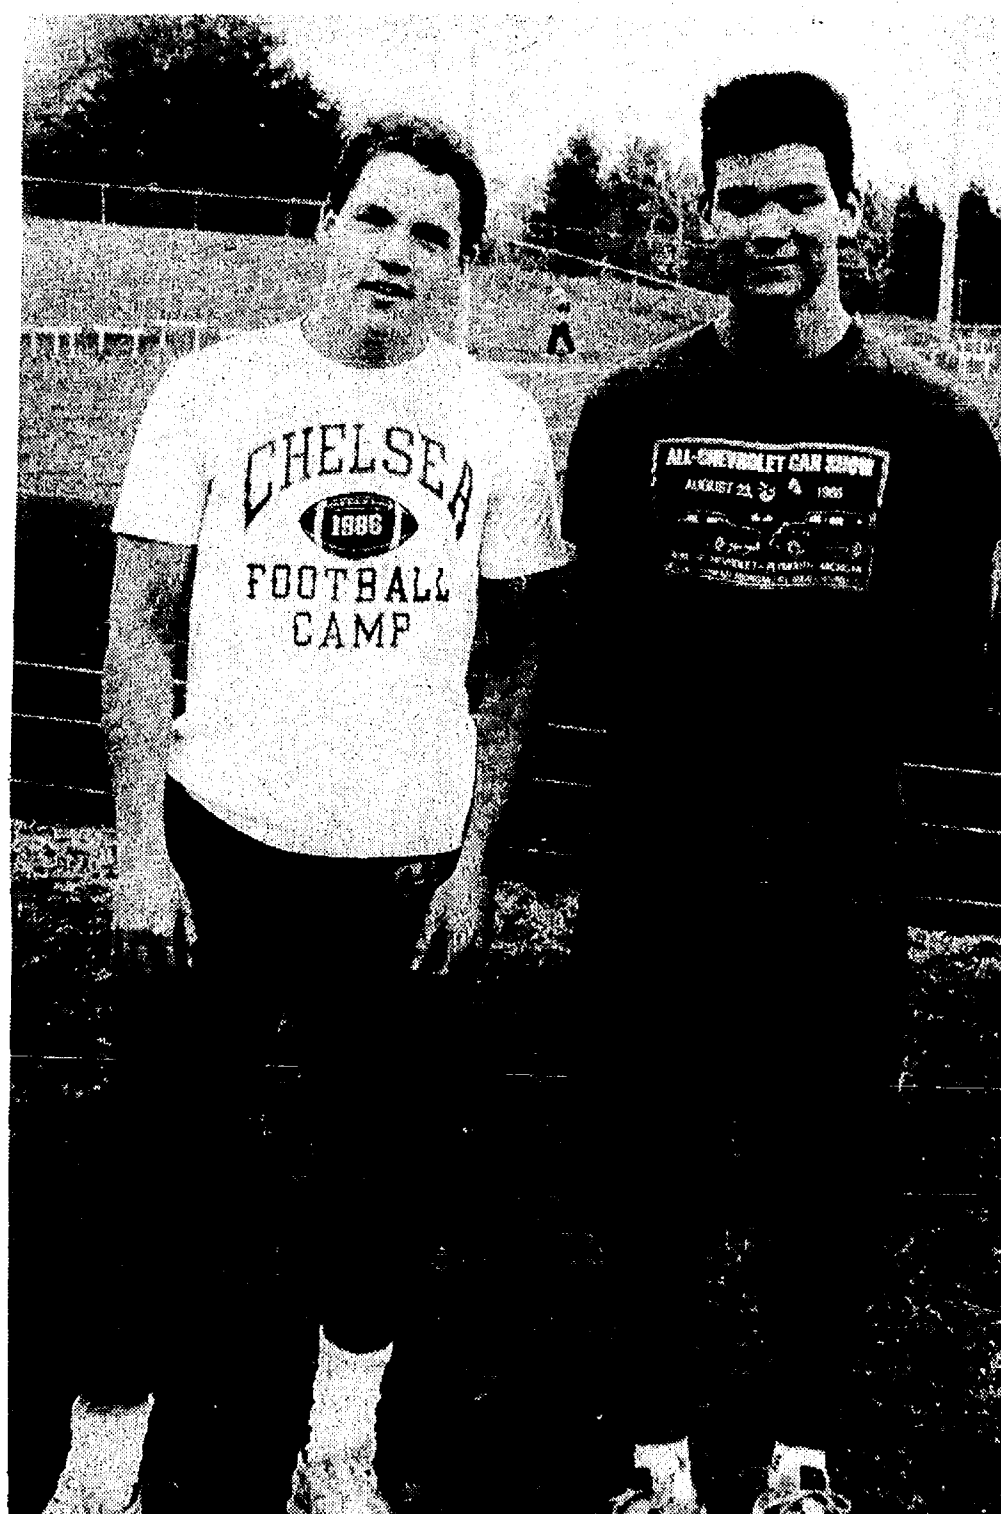

Junior Matt Riemenschneider, Harris and freshman T. J. Hackworth will be Chelsea's entries in the pole vault.

Joining Eisenbeiser in the long jump will be freshman Brett Salamin. Freshman Jim Hassett is one of the Bulldogs' leading candidates in the high jump. He's also likely to run the events between 200 and 800 meters.

Lincoln Rallsplitters are once again the team to beat, Wilson said.

"They could run split squads and take first and third in the league meet," Wilson said.

Adult and Youth Ball Sign-ups Are in April

Sign-ups for summer softball and baseball leagues sponsored by the Chelsea Recreation Department will take place this month.

Women's softball organizational meeting will be held on Monday, April 11 at 7 p.m. in the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Men's softball meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 13 at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. The league will have 16 teams and each team will play 22 games. In addition, there will be an all-star game and league tournament. Team fee is $529.

Interested players, coaches and/or team sponsors are encouraged to attend the meetings. Teams that played last year will be given the first opportunity to sign up. Additional teams will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Youth softball and baseball sign-up day is Saturday, April 16 from 9:30 a.m. to noon in the high school cafeteria.

However, registration will be accepted through April 29 at the recreation department office at the high school. Registration after April 29 will be considered only if space is available. In addition, there will be a late fee of $5.

Youth leagues will begin the week of June 13.

Children in kindergarten and first grade are eligible for t-ball. Boys in second and third grade play Farm League ball. Boys in fourth and fifth grade play Little League. Sixth and seventh grade boys play Pony League. Eighth and ninth grade boys play Babe Ruth.

Girls in second, third and fourth grades play Midget League softball. Girls in fifth through eighth grade play Junior Miss softball.

Fees for youth ball range from $12 to $35 per child depending on the league and township of the child's residence.

The U.S. Department of Labor's Office of Labor-Management Standards received 161 complaints of alleged union election violations during the 1986 fiscal year, according to the Labor Department's annual report.

Mile Bog Walk At Waterloo

A bog walk, sponsored by the Waterloo Natural History Association, is scheduled for this Saturday, April 9 at 1:30 p.m. The walk will be led by a pair of naturalists who will show the legacy left by the glaciers on a 1.5 mile walk through the floating bog. Participants will observe goldthread and insectivorous plants as they stand on the floating mat of sphagnum moss.

The program is free and all are invited. The walk will begin at the Nature Center parking lot reached by taking I-94 to exit 157, going north on Pierce Rd. to Bush Rd, making a left on Bush, and continuing for about 1/4 mile. The entrance is on the left.

A GUILLOTINE was created by sophomore Erich Hammer as a project for his World History class at Chelsea High school. After reading the book "A Tale of Two Cities," Erich used a shop in the family basement to create the wooden model as an object that signified the time era. All students in Charlie Waller's class worked on similar projects after reading an historical novel from any time period.

WORLD HISTORY students at Chelsea High school recently completed an unusual project for their class. Each student read an historical novel and then built a model of one object from the book that signified the time era. Senior Kasey Anderson constructed this detailed plaster model of the city of Jerusalem at the time of Jesus Christ after reading the book "Barabbas." The projects are on display at the high school media center.

Business Curriculum Revised To Meet Needs of Wider Group

The Chelsea school system's business education offerings are the latest addition to the list of curriculums which have gone through the process of review and revision. A committee consisting of business teachers Marian Williams, Thomas Morrison, both from the high school, Karen LaRue from Beach, and curriculum director Laurie Bissell has completed the first two years of the process and has had their results approved by the school board.

The basic emphasis of the changes are that they meet the needs of three overlapping groups: students who plan to work in an office after graduation, general college-bound students, and students who plan to major in business or related fields.

For instance, a course like shorthand has obvious uses for the student who will seek employment as a secretary right after high school. However, the new curriculum will emphasize that the skill may also be used in other ways, such as in journalism, in court reporting, or by students taking notes in college classes.

Besides reviewing the courses to make sure each was meeting the needs of all three groups, the curriculum review committee faced the challenge of continuing to offer advanced classes such as business law, business management, and accounting in the face of declining enrollment and a smaller staff. They reached the decision that the best way to do this was to lighten the load by dropping advanced shorthand, and offering beginning shorthand and office procedures on an every-other year basis. These classes were chosen because they had dropped in enrollment.

Explaining the changes, Williams said, "We chose to include in our program diversified course selections that would be feasible given the financial and physical limitations of a school district our size."

The business curriculum committee started meeting two years ago. The first year they discussed departmental philosophy and gathered information on needs that the curriculum should meet and on methods of implementation. Their information came from other secondary schools, from area businesses, from colleges about entrance requirements for business majors, from former students, and from studying recommended curriculums.

This year the committee decided on a total overview and goals. They then worked on figuring out how to implement their goals in specific ways, such as which textbooks to use and what equipment and supplies to buy.

Next year will be the implementation year. Williams, Morrison, and LaRue, using the new materials, will work at integrating the new objectives.

Speaking of the final report, Williams said, "Our committee is satisfied that the proposal and course contents presented herein will continue to serve our community in the years ahead."

Host Families Sought For Exchange Students

Chelsea and Dexter families are being sought to host foreign exchange students for the upcoming academic year. AYUSA International (Academic Year in U.S.A.), through its local community counselors, is bringing several international students to the area beginning in August to participate in a high school student exchange program. A non-profit educational organization dedicated to international youth study, AYUSA sponsors qualified teenagers from Japan, Europe, Scandinavia and Mexico.

Among the students who hope to spend the coming year in the Chelsea-Dexter area are Ana Gallardo, 17, a Spanish girl who wants to become a lawyer; Jan Lars, 17, from Denmark who aspires to be an aircraft mechanic; and Sami Kishida, 16, a Japanese boy who enjoys sports and pets.

Participating students are between the ages of 15 and 18 and are selected for their English language ability, academic skills, maturity, and most importantly, for their desire to develop as world citizens.

AYUSA students are covered by insurance and have their own spending money. Host families are asked to provide room and board and are eligible for a federal income tax deduction while hosting the student.

For a family interested in other cultures and languages, hosting can be a most valuable experience. The relationship developed with the student can be a valuable one for a very long time—perhaps a lifetime!

If you are interested in hosting Ana, Jan, Susumu or another terrific teenager, please contact Barbara Vosters, 475-8471 evenings.

CHS Class of '68 Making Plans for 20th-Year Reunion

Chelsea High school class of 1968 will be celebrating its 20th-year reunion on July 16, at the Sheraton University Inn in Ann Arbor. An evening of reminiscing, prizes and dancing is being planned. The following day, Sunday, April 17 a family potluck picnic is also scheduled.

The reunion committee has been unable to locate the following classmates: Richard and Robert Aiken, Anetta Arnett, Curtis and John Dickson, Linda Farmakis, Jan Hibbs, Susie Knott, James Schneider, Richard Steinway, Arlene Wengren, James Williams, Louie Deloy, Rocky Mayne and Don Rich.

If you are able to help them contact these people, please call Mary Weir Alber at 475-7385.

The committee encourages all classmates in the area to attend future planning meetings. They will be held on the last Thursday of April, May and June at 7:30 p.m. at the Wolverine. Further information is available by calling Sandy Elsele or Kathy Trudell.

SCC Videotape Produced By Consumers

"Stockbridge—On Target," a potentially award-winning videotape that outlines the reasons why the federal government's Superconducting Super Collider should be located in Michigan, is available for viewing by library patrons in Ingham and Jackson counties.

Vincent D. Edwards, community services director for Consumers Power Company's Jackson/Adrian District, said copies of the videotape have been contributed to the library systems in the two counties. Consumers Power produced the tape for the State of Michigan to be used as part of the state's presentation to the U.S. Department of Energy in support of Michigan's bid to have the SSC located here.

The SSC is a proton accelerator that will allow physicists to explore matter smaller than an atom. Its core will be a 53-mile-underground racetrack-shaped tunnel, centered in the Village of Stockbridge and extending through parts of Ingham and Jackson counties.

Michigan is one of seven states competing to be selected as the site for the $4.4 billion SSC project. A recommendation on which state should host the project will be made in November or December and a final decision is expected in early 1989.

The 13-minute videotape lists the ingredients that favor siting the project in Michigan, including geology, industrial and technological resources, adequate water and energy supplies, excellent transportation systems and cultural and recreational resources. One of its highlights is an emotional-wrangling finale outlining some of Michigan's life-style.

Edwards notes that the videotape has received high praise for its content from federal and state officials and for its technical creativity from television engineers and TV critics.

Edwards said that anyone with borrowing privileges at the Jackson or Ingham County library systems may borrow a copy of the videotape for viewing on home videocassette players.

I've often said in this column that one of the highlights of bird feeding is spotting a bird at the feeder that you hadn't seen there before.

This winter I've seen a new bird at my feeder, and it may be coming to yours soon, too, if it's not already a regular visitor.

It's the house finch. It's not a large bird—about the size of a sparrow or just a bit bigger—but the male is easy to recognize. (The female is just a small, brown bird that you're likely to overlook as just another sparrow.) The head, upper breast and rump of the male are bright red—almost a cardinal red—and there are hints of red on the back.

You may see a house finch at your feeder and, unless you look closely, think you're seeing a purple finch or a redpoll. The purple finch, however, is a purplish raspberry red. And the redpoll is smaller—about the size of a goldfinch—and it has a bright red spot only on the forehead. The red on its breast and rump is faint.

The purple finch is native to Michigan; the house finch is a newcomer. It originated on the West Coast and was transported to the East Coast. In the New York-Philadelphia-Baltimore-Washington, D. C., area, the house finch has become either the most abundant bird at feeders or a close second. When I visited relatives in Baltimore for the holidays, I observed birds at three feeders and enjoyed watching hordes of house finches cleaning out the sunflower seed feeders. The bird's appearance in Michigan indicates that it's spreading from the East to the Midwest.

According to Ray Adams of the Kalamazoo Nature Center, who is putting together an atlas of birds that breed in Michigan, the house finch is breeding around many metropolitan areas in southern Michigan. It's particularly abundant in the Grand Rapids area. If you see it at your feeder, it's probably not just passing through but working at becoming a permanent part of your neighborhood wildlife. I'm seeing only two or three at a time, but if it continues to develop as it has in the East, it will become extremely abundant.

Michigan winters may hold it back somewhat. The areas in the East where it has become so common generally enjoy a milder winter climate.

Book, Handtool Drive Started By Rotary Club

Chelsea Chapter of Rotary International is sponsoring a community-wide Book and Handtool Collection Drive, to take place May 2-7. The effort is part of a national program of Rotary International to help those who are less fortunate overseas.

The purpose of the drive is two-fold: First, to collect used and new books for distribution to needy individuals in India. These books may be about any subject, with special appreciation being extended for "How-To" books and books written in the English language.

Second, to collect used handtools for distribution in Nigeria. These tools may be of any nature as long as they are hand-operated, and do not require the use of electricity.

Book and handtool donations may be dropped off at Faith in Action House. Faith in Action House is located on the Chelsea Community Hospital grounds, across from the Emergency Room and Outpatient Surgery entrances. Faith in Action is open from 9-4 Monday-Friday. On Saturday, May 7, Faith in Action will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

especially for this collection drive. Students in the elementary and middle schools have been invited to donate books through a student drive. Students donating in this fashion have been encouraged to insert a short note in their donated books, in the hope of developing a "pen-pal" relationship with a child or children in India.

For more information on the Rotary Book and Handtool Collection Drive, please contact Mark Cwiek (475-3913), Susan Carter (475-1570), or Michael Rose (475-8155).

MATTHEW ROBINSON isn't quite sure about all this Easter egg business but his father, John, gives him a quick lesson about Easter eggs and baskets. The occasion was the Chelsea Jaycees/McDonald's Easter Egg Hunt held last Saturday at Chelsea High school. Matthew took part in the hunt for children 2 and under.

Chiropractors Offer Free Health Booklet

An eight-page health information booklet which gives tips on better health and performance is being made available free by Dr. Flinn of Chelsea Chiropractic Center and Dr. Koffman of Chelsea General Health Center.

The booklet appeared as an advertising supplement in the April 1988 issue of Reader's Digest.

"We have ordered reprints of this booklet because it is something that every man, woman and child should read," Dr. Flinn said.

The booklet describes chiropractic and discusses the chiropractic method of treatment that does not depend on the use of drugs or surgery.

"People should treat their bodies with respect. They need to be more aware of natural health methods and all the alternatives. While no healing art has all the answers to the many problems of diseases and disability, chiropractic has been successful in many cases where medical treatment has failed," Dr. Koffman concluded.

The Reader's Digest reprint is available by calling Dr. Flinn at 475-2932 or writing 138 Orchard St., Chelsea 48118 or by calling Dr. Koffman at 475-2088 or writing 138 E. Middle St., Chelsea 48118.

Two New Hotels Will Be Built

Capital Funding Hotel Group (CFHG) has announced plans to build a 110-room Days Inn and a 160-room Ramada in Ann Arbor. The hotels are among the first to be developed, managed, and principally owned by the Chicago based company.

"Ann Arbor has a strong industrial market, close highway connections and metropolitan airport, plus a major university, which are the primary qualifications we've been searching for," said Mike Shriver, vice-president of operations.

Although the hotels aren't expected to open until late 1988 or early 1989, pre-opening offices have been set up in the Waterworks Building on State St. One of CFHG's main goals is to fully integrate within Ann Arbor's corporate, educational and travel industries, as well as charitable organizations.

"Getting involved with local organizations prior to opening is giving us the opportunity to become a vibrant part of this growing community," Shriver said.

Capital Funding Hotel Group is a hotel development, consulting, and management firm and is currently researching future hotel sites in Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois.

Sylvan Township Discusses Budget

Sylvan township officials and citizens discussed the budget at their annual meeting held on Saturday, April 2. The meeting, which was attended by 10 people, lasted one hour. It was described by township supervisor Don Schoenberg as "a nice meeting."

This year's budget is $358,101 and includes allocations for road repairs, fire service, salaries, and for starting a computer system.

The main road repair planned this year is the hard surfacing of Musbach Rd. from Cavanaugh Lake to Lowery Rd. In addition, some minor work, such as berming and putting down new gravel, will be done on smaller township roads.

Fire costs increased this year in Sylvan, as they did in other townships, due to the Chelsea Fire Department's purchase of a new fire truck.

Raises for the township supervisor, treasurer, and clerk were approved at the meeting. All three salaries will increase from $12,000 a year to $13,000. The trustees' salaries will remain at $60 a meeting.

In addition, the assessor's salary was increased from $12,600 to $14,600. The reason for this is a larger workload including the necessity of overseeing a re-checking of the assessor's cards and a tax appeal from BookCrafters which will be time consuming.

Other money allocations included $4,000 for the 14th-district court (Sylvan has pledged $12,000 over a three year period) and $7,015 to the Chelsea Recreation Council.

The money set aside for a computer system may not be used this year, but will be available if needed. Schoenberg explained that the township is definitely planning to computerize their voter registration and tax assessment lists, but he is not sure when.

Scio has already switched to a computer system and Dexter township followed suit last year. Schoenberg says the county is encouraging townships to switch and may even require it in the future.

Although switching takes an initial investment of time, typing in all the names, once in place it should save many hours of manpower. Schoenberg recommends that the township buy a simple personal computer system which could be learned by all involved. He says many companies are manufacturing the software for voter registration and assessment programs and that an IBM-compatible program could be tied in with the county.

Beginning with the summer 1986, the U.S. Department of Labor encouraged operators of summer youth programs to implement a remedial education and vocational exploration program for participants to address the problem of illiteracy that affects high-risk youth.

TO FULLY APPRECIATE A BCS TILLER, YOU HAVE TO CONSIDER THE ALTERNATIVE.

Compared to our leading competitor, the BCS 725 tiller is lighter weight, more powerful and has a five speed, all precision gear transmission with two speed reverse. There are no V-belts, pulleys or friction discs to stretch, break or wear. And, with its full line of attachments, the BCS 725 is far more versatile.

What's more, BCS offers you seven different tiller systems to choose from. With the proper attachments, you can convert any BCS tiller to a sickle bar, rotary mower, or snow thrower in just three minutes.

There are lots of other outstanding features about the BCS tiller that you'll appreciate including 100% full bearing construction. And, if you'll send us the coupon, we'll tell you all about them, as well as the name of your nearest BCS dealer. But there's one thing we can tell you right now: All things considered, BCS is the toughest tiller on earth.

A FIVE-POUND BLOCK OF CHOCOLATE was won by Chelsea-area resident Sandy Marcum, right, with a ticket sold to her by her workmate, Karol Gerstler, left. Gerstler sold Marcum two tickets for a raffle sponsored by her business club at Marygrove College in Detroit, where she is a student. Marcum signed her boyfriend's name, Duke Brown, to the other ticket, which also happened to win the top prize, a dinner for two at Joe Muer's Restaurant in Detroit. About 500 tickets were sold and four prizes awarded. The couple appears to have dinner and dessert covered. Gerstler and Marcum are waitresses at Chelsea Big Boy. Brown works at Chelsea Milling Co.

A CAN AND BOTTLE DRIVE will be held Saturday, April 30 as a fund-raiser for Chelsea Cub Scout pack 435. Scouts will knock on doors and ask for donations of returnable bottles and cans from noon to 3 p.m. Boys will be assigned to particular sections of town. Money raised will be used for community service and for general cub activities. Anyone interested in making contributions in advance may take bottles to the Boughton residence, 1325 N. Freer Rd., or the Culver residence, 13910 Trinkle Rd. Lynn Culver, the chairman of the event, may be reached at 475-7098 for further information or advance pick-up. Cubs, from left, are Scott Boughton, Barney Culver and Jay Schick.

Sixth Grade Camp To Be Held May 2-6

"Michigan Water Wonderland" has been chosen as the focal point of the annual sixth grade camp program May 2-6 at Mill Lake Camp.

The idea is to study and promote water ecology.

In keeping with the main focus, the sixth graders selected the theme, "We Love (using a heart symbol for love) H2O," as the winning entry in a theme contest. Becky Hubert came up with the idea.

Doug Martell's logo was the winner in the contest for the annual t-shirt design. The t-shirts will show the back of an old car with an oversized license plate containing the theme.

A meeting of all parents involved in the camp program will be held at Beach Middle school on Thursday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting should be over by 9.

Students in Helen St. Louis' three block classes will go to camp from Monday, May 2 through Wednesday, May 4 at 3 p.m. Tammy Gillingham's block classes will be at camp from Wednesday until Friday afternoon.

Teachers will send home camp permission slips on Friday, April 15. They should be returned by Monday, April 18 along with a check for $30.

GH747

Leafy. Fine stemmed. Protein-rich. All were high priorities in our alfalfa development program. But our tougher standards also demanded consistent performance. Now, we've introduced a new variety that measures up.

New GH747 has one of the highest total ratings given today. It carries a high resistance rating to Bacterial Wilt, Anthracnose, Phytophthora Root Rot and Pea Aphid. It also has resistance to Fusarium Wilt and Stem Nematode and has moderate resistance to Verticillium Wilt. All that plus winter-hardiness and good forage quality.

'Minutes Count' Advice Could Save Your Life

To emphasize the importance of seeking medical attention immediately when a heart attack is suspected, Chelsea Community Hospital and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital have developed a public awareness campaign called Minutes Count. The campaign was developed by Steven A. Yarows, M.D., an internist at Chelsea Community Hospital, and Frank Smith, M.D., a cardiologist on staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"Two-thirds of the people who die of heart attacks die at home without ever seeking medical care," Dr. Yarows states. "Many people don't realize that a heart attack means heart damage," he adds.

"Today, the damage can be minimized or arrested with special medication that dissolves blood clots. The sooner the blood-thinning medication is given, the more effective it is in controlling heart damage," states Dr. Smith. "Studies have shown that if the medication is given within the first three hours of heart attack, damage is arrested in three out of four patients. However, after six hours, the medication usually has no effect."

The Minutes Count campaign hopes to increase awareness of the common warning signs of heart attacks. These warning signs include:

—A tightness in the chest caused by decreased blood flow to the heart.

—A feeling of nausea, sweatiness or weakness that may come and go over a period of several weeks.

—Shortness of breath or a feeling of tightness or achiness in the left arm or left side of the chest.

Dr. Smith advises that both men and women over age 35 should take these preventive measures: 1) know their cholesterol level; 2) understand how family history may increase their risk, and 3) practice healthy lifestyle habits such as exercising and not smoking.

"Anyone who lives with someone at risk for a heart attack should definitely know CPR—cardiopulmonary resuscitation," Dr. Yarows advises. "But the message of the Minutes Count campaign is simple: Don't wait! Seek medical help immediately, either at your physician's office or from your hospital's emergency room."

Dr. Yarows says that some of the myths associated with heart attacks may explain why people wait to seek medical care. Among the common misconceptions are these:

Myth No. 1: The more pain, the more severe the damage.

Fact: The amount of pain has little to do with the severity of a heart attack. In fact, people have died from a heart attack, Yarows says, and never felt a thing.

Myth No. 2: The most common sign of a heart attack is severe chest pain.

Fact: Despite what you see on television, heart attack victims do not fall to the ground grimacing with pain. Heart attack victims most often describe the sensation as an "ache or tightness, as if there was a weight or a rope around my chest."

"The sensation can go down either arm but usually affects the left side and can radiate up to the jaw," Dr. Yarows points out. The victim may also look pale and feel sweaty. Some even say they feel uneasy as if from some impending doom.

Myth No. 3: If your EKG is normal, you run very little risk of having a heart attack.

Fact: An electrocardiogram, or EKG, gives a picture of the heart at rest. Only a stress test can measure the performance of the heart under the type of exertion that can trigger a heart attack.

RESTORING PLASTER RELIEFS at Chelsea's 14th district courthouse is the job of Chelsea-area resident Jerry Milliken, who works for Doman Ceiling and Partition in Ann Arbor. The cast and cornice work takes a lot of skill and no sanding is involved, so workers get the plaster spread correctly before it dries. The restoration and renovation project is scheduled to be completed later this year.

47 Senior Citizens Visiting Washington, D.C.

Forty-seven Chelsea senior citizens are traveling to Washington, D.C. next week. They will leave Monday, April 11, and return Thursday, April 14. While there they will participate in a packed itinerary which could tire much younger people.

The group, led by Madeline Stoker, will leave from the public school bus garage Monday morning at 6:30 a.m. They will make the trip in one day, arriving at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. about 8:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, the first full day in Washington, they will take a guided tour to the Library of Congress, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Vietnam Memorial, Arlington Cemetery, the Capitol, and the White House.

The next day, Wednesday, they will visit the Smithsonian Museum, Ford Theater, Peterson House, Washington Cathedral, Embassy Row, and Georgetown. If there is time, they will also visit the Botanical Gardens. That evening they will eat dinner at the Market Inn.

On Thursday the seniors will depart, arriving back in Chelsea about 8 p.m.

Purple Heart Chapter To Meet

The Military Order of the Purple Heart, Washtenaw County Chapter 459, will be meeting at the Saline American Legion Post No. 322 on Thursday, April 14 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

M.O.P.H. is extending an invitation to any recipient of the Purple Heart in this area to come to this meeting. The M.O.P.H. is a congressional chartered Veterans organization exclusively for combat wounded veterans.

On Aug. 7, 1782, General George Washington, commander and chief of the United States Army, created this award, the figure of a heart in purple recognizing a reward for military merit of outstanding service. This was the first military decoration ever given in the United States.

After the revolution the award was lost until 1932 when it was revived by President Herbert Hoover and by order of General Douglas MacArthur then chief of staff. It was the year of the Washington Bicentennial and a portrait of Washington was put on the Purple Heart, and was awarded to combat wounded veterans. In the same year, 1932, a group of combat wounded veterans met in Ansonia, Conn., and formed the first chapter. Today there are 19 million veterans who have received a purple heart.

Tornado Skips Through County Sunday Damaging Trees, Buildings

Washtenaw county was hit with its first tornado of the 1988 season as Weather Safety Week began, Sunday, April 3.

Dan Harsh, director of the county's Office of Emergency Management explained late Sunday at least four sites had been confirmed as "touchdowns" as the tornado ripped through the county.

Harsh listed the City of Saline, 5277 Fox Ridge in Lodi township, 3710 Pleasant Lake Rd., also Lodi township, and 3151 Waters Rd. as the four locations touched by the early spring tornado, with varying amounts of damage reported, including the toppling of giant trees, power lines downed and damage to barns, garages and homes reported.

A total of 20-25 homes were affected by the tornado's strong winds, listed at 70 mph in some areas.

Lefty Schantz of the Chelsea Communications Club was at his post as a "severe weather spotter" and kept in touch with Chelsea Fire and Police Departments, keeping both up to date on weather conditions.

In Chelsea, no sirens were sounded, although both fire rescue workers and law enforcement officers were alerted due to the severe weather conditions.

Chelsea and Dexter had several key people helping to take reports of the storm's progress, and of wind and property damage which filtered to the emergency management headquarters in the basement of WCSD's station one on Hogback Rd.

In addition to Harsh himself, a Dexter-Chelsea Rd. resident, Harsh's assistant, Denise Wirtz of Chelsea, Dexter resident Jay Blethen, state coordinator for the Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Services (RACES), and Ann Arbor's Adam Paul Banner, a volunteer with expertise in hazardous materials, stood by the Office of Emergency Management to provide added assistance throughout Sunday's severe weather situation in wind and property damage as they filtered in from emergency units and the county's many alert citizens.

In and near Saline, a tornado which had swirled a path through Lenawee county and reported as a touch-down at Tecumseh, cut a path through small wooded areas and clipped shingles from several areas of the roof on a home at the Fox Ridge Rd. location.

The home also showed shattered panes in a leaded-glass window, an oversize metal garage door showed the results of the sudden wind blast and an array of window panes was sucked out, intact, from one side of the same garage.

The window-pane array was lifted 30 feet or so and deposited by the wind on the lawn near a wooden deck.

From the wooden deck, a heavy picnic table was carried off, and chunks of the siding from the garage were strewn about the yard and in branches of a nearby wooded area.

One of four roof vents atop the residence appeared collapsed by the winds.

Along nearby Pleasant Lake Rd., several large trees were uprooted by the tornado and an electric power line severed in front of the Lodi Township Hall.

Saline firefighters stood vigil until Detroit Edison crews could assess and repair the damage at the site.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department deputies blocked the portion of Pleasant Lake Rd. between Zeeb and Ann Arbor-Saline Rds. for several hours as a protective measure.

A home on Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., just south of the Pleasant Lake Rd. intersection, was circled by the tornado winds which toppled two great trees on the front lawn and another giant tree in the back yard, and broke out a window located on the front of the home.

Awnings of two neighbors' homes on the opposite of the road were tangled or destroyed by Sunday's winds, a pole barn was the target of the twister and a couple of garages were reported lifted from their foundations by the storm.

Residents in the county are reminded to take advantage of the printed material available on "severe weather" suggestions.

Contact Dan Harsh or Denise Wirtz at the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management, 971-8400, to obtain copies of the printed materials.

GARAGE LOCATED ON Fox Ridge Rd. near the Lodi Township Hall was hit by Sunday's severe storm, the first of its kind reported in Washtenaw county in 1988. Winds ripped shingles from the roof of both the garage and adjoining house, pulled siding loose and scattered it on the yard and in nearby woods, lifted a heavy picnic table from the deck, visible at the right of the photo and sucked a window-glass array from the hole evident in the garage wall, to deposit it with no shattered glass near the deck stairs.

JUST ONE OF THE GIANT TREES downed by Sunday's storm along the north side of Pleasant Lake Rd., directly across from the Lodi Township Hall. Power lines were cut and buildings damaged in the wake of the tornado, first of the 1988 season.

Community Choir Concert Set Tuesday

The Chelsea Community Choir will present its Spring Concert next Tuesday, April 12, at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High School Auditorium. There is no charge for admission.

This is the fourth year that Jack Bittle has directed the Community Choir. Bittle has his B.A. and M.A. in music from the University of Michigan, and has directed high school bands and church choirs for many years. He is currently the executive director of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals.

The choir program, which will last approximately one hour, includes Broadway musical selections, ballads and spirituals. All very easy listening.

In addition to Betty Rasmussen, who is the piano accompanist, Dale Cole will accompany on drums and Sherry Plank will be featured on flute. During the middle of the concert, entertainment will be provided by a local jazz quartet.

The 35 performing members will be honored by the Chelsea Community Education Department at a reception in the cafeteria following the concert. The audience is invited.

Chelsea Flower and Garden Club Forming

Chelsea will soon have its own garden club. Doris Hammel of 509 Wellington, acting on a quote she found in a garden book, "the next best thing to gardening is other gardeners," decided to organize a flower and garden club to share what she knows with others.

Hammel has been gardening for 25 years. When she and her husband James moved into their house on Wellington St., the only thing growing was a willow tree which they subsequently chopped down, fearing the roots would harm their basement.

Hammel taught herself how to garden, mostly by trial and error. She has taken a few classes at the high school and in Stockbridge on such things as plant propagation and flower arranging.

In recent years Hammel has had more time to devote to gardening, since her four children are mostly grown. When her children were younger she was active in the mother of twins club and the mother's study club. She also worked for a short time at the Chelsea Greenhouse.

For the last three years Hammel has landscaped the Tower Mart and received many compliments for her efforts. She pulled out all the weeds and planted a bright display of marigolds and petunias along the walk. Nearer the building, she planted shrubs, timed so that different ones are in bloom at different times.

In her own garden, Hammel grows almost every kind of plant: annuals, perennials, herbs, everlastings, succulents, houseplants, and shrubs. Hammel says by using seeds and trading with friends it is possible to have a large variety without spending too much money.

She also knows how to dry and preserve flowers and to make decorative objects with them such as wreaths, door swags, wall pictures, cards, centerpieces, dried flowers, and floral arrangements.

Hammel has helped a lot of people with their gardens, including her sister and her cousins. She has noticed in her years of gardening that a lot of people try gardening but give it up because they do not know what to do or where to go for information. It is her hope that the garden club can fill that need.

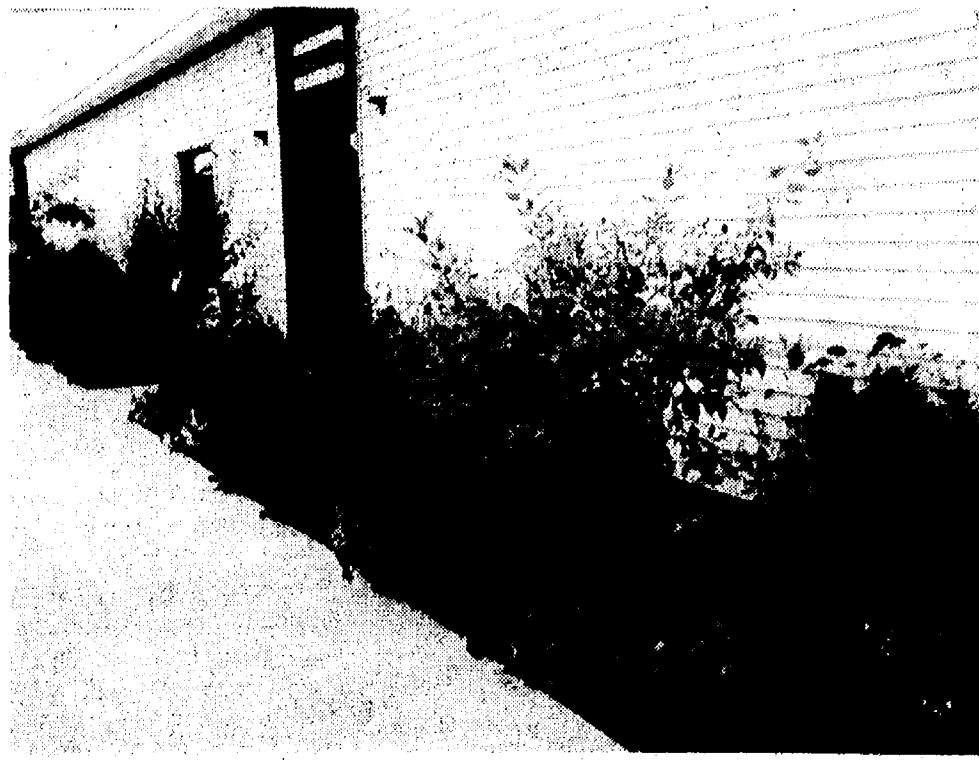

Hammel envisions the garden club meeting regularly, weekly if so desired, at her house. That way she can show potential gardeners what to do each week by demonstrating such things as planting and pruning with examples from her garden.

Hammel says she is open to ideas on what else the garden club should do, that the members can decide. She does think that there should be no dues and that the club should not be federated because then there would be too many rules to follow.

Hammel plans to hold the first meeting on April 18. At that time she will tell the group what can be planted immediately, such as snow peas, morning glories, and snow on the mountain. Hammel even has some extra seeds she is willing to share with members.

Hammel's enthusiasm for gardening is contagious. She says, "I love it. It's a great hobby." For more information about the club, call Hammel at 475-7107.

DORIS HAMMEL'S landscaping in front of Keynote Music received many compliments all summer. By the walk, Hammel planted a selection of bright annuals such as marigolds and petunias. People marveled at how thick the marigolds grew, an effect which Hammel explains is obtained by regularly pinching back the plant. In back of the annuals, Hammel planted shrubs, timed so that they would bloom at different times. They included forsythia, pink spirea, dogwood, and evergreens.

IN ADDITION TO GROWING FLOWERS, Hammel is skilled in using plants for decorative objects to keep homes pretty during the winter. Shown is a wreath, left, and a door swag. Toward the end of the summer, Hammel plans to show members of the newly formed garden club how to make items such as these. She may also show them how to dry flowers, how to arrange them, and to make centerpieces, wall hangings, cards, and corsages.
