ONE HUNDRED-SEVENTEENTH YEAR—No. 47

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 1988

24 Pages This Week

A NEW LONG TERM PARKING LOT for downtown workers and courthouse jurors is planned for this lot behind the Chelsea Fire Department building on W. Middle St. The land belongs to Chelsea Milling Co. A parking improvement program is slated to be the Downtown Development Authority's first project. Village council was scheduled to consider the plan last night at their regular meeting.

Industrial Park May Lose Prospective Tenant Over Lot Price, Taxes

A Chelsea resident who was considering moving his 18-employee heating and cooling firm from Ypsilanti to the industrial park here has apparently had second thoughts and is considering other sites.

Dan Henson, chief operating officer of Indoor Comfort, Inc., said last week that he has not talked to anyone from the village since village council told him about six weeks ago that they could not negotiate on lot prices in the park. He had planned to build a 5,000-square-foot facility.

"I'm looking at a couple of other places now," said Henson, a Chelsea resident.

"I don't hold any animosity toward anyone in the village (government). This is strictly a business decision."

Henson said the fact that the village was not willing to negotiate on the set lot price of $15,000 per acre and would not consider a tax abatement was an indication that he should look elsewhere.

Henson said that unlike the village council, who have talked about raising lot prices, he believes the prices are too high considering their location. He also said he was told that if a tax abatement was considered for his property then it would have to be considered for all the other park businesses, too.

"I asked if any of the other businesses ever asked for a tax abatement and they said 'no,' Henson said.

"That's fine, they can run their businesses their way and I'll run mine my way."

"I guess what I'm looking for is a business climate that wants business more than Chelsea does. I guess I thought it would be a lot easier that it ended up being. They pretty much told me, 'you do it our way or you won't do it.'"

Henson said another contributing factor in his change of heart is that he decided the industrial park is "on the wrong side of town," and should be closer to I-94.

"I have 10 or 12 trucks running all day long and if they hit the tracks at the wrong time of day with a train coming they could be delayed an extra half hour," Henson said.

Assistant village manager Lee Fahrner said he thought the village had been exceptionally accommodating to Henson. He said the village offered to draw up site plans and work with the architect and had agreed to let Henson rent out cold storage space on his lot. The architectural review committee had given a tentative approval for Henson's design.

In addition, Fahrner said, Henson was told that he would have to present a proposal for a tax abatement to the council and "that's all he was told."

"He has to make a request in writing to the council," Fahrner said.

"But a tax abatement for a project that size is questionable anyway. A different set of procedures has to be followed because the state doesn't want municipalities stealing businesses from each other."

Old Jiffy Market To Become Site of New Cabinet Business

STEVE PACKARD wants to open a cabinet and cabinet supply shop in the old Jiffy Market on Sibley Rd. He recently was a partner in a similar business in Ypsilanti. With him is his shop dog, Corian, named after the kitchen counter top material.

Scoliosis Screening Slated at Beach School

In conjunction with the Washtenaw County Health Department, the Beach Middle school administration and staff will be conducting a scoliosis screening program. This year the program has been expanded to include sixth graders along with eighth graders.

During the third week in March, science classes will be conducting units to explain the crippling deformities, and the physical education staff will attend a refresher session on screening methods.

Actual screening of students is scheduled Thursday, April 21, and will involve a very simple process not requiring x-ray. If a child is suspected of suffering from the affliction, parents will be notified and encouraged to consult a qualified physician for further investigation and treatment.

A Health Department report explains that screening in other states has exposed spinal variations in four percent of those tested and two percent requires active treatment or ongoing observation.

An Ypsilanti man is planning to use the old Jiffy Market on Sibley Rd. for a new cabinet and cabinet supply store.

Steve Packard, the nephew of Chelsea residents Mac and Euhalee Packard, is preparing to open "Galleyworks & Creations Inc." in the west end of the building. Packard was recently a partner in Arbor Cabinets & Millworks in Ypsilanti but sold out to his partners.

Packard is renting the building and has a few obstacles to clear before he can move in. The roof and electrical service to the building have to be upgraded and he has to get a special use approval from Sylvan township.

The bulk of Packard's business has been for Ann Arbor builders Richard Adams Russell and Argonne Construction Co. He not only builds custom cabinets but supplies manufactured cabinets to builders and homeowners.

The cabinets Packard builds are often unusual items that can't be supplied by major manufacturers.

"Most of the cabinets I build are European-style laminated cabinets," Packard says.

"I'm more concerned about quality rather than just making a cabinet and shipping it out. I can't compete with the high production companies in terms of cost but they can't compete with me in terms of quality."

In addition, Packard says he handles three major lines of cabinets. He'll work with customers to design kitchens from scratch and handle everything from the design to the installation.

Packard, who grew up in Ann Arbor, became interested in cabinet making after taking part in the homebuilding course at Huron High school. One of his teachers was Russell, the builder whom he now supplies. Packard says he'd like to hire a high school student in a similar program.

Improvements to Parking Downtown Is Proposed As First DDA Project

Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority was scheduled to propose at village council meeting last night a $71,550 parking improvement program that would create a minimum of 110 new parking spaces near the central business district.

The parking project would be the first specific project to be pursued by the DDA.

Most of the new spaces (66) would be constructed on land owned by Chelsea Milling Co. immediately behind the Chelsea Fire Department building on W. Middle St. Others would be constructed on both sides of the Chelsea Railroad Depot (30) and behind land recently purchased for the site of the new village hall (11).

Additional spaces would be gained by re-striping the Municipal Parking Lot.

In addition, DDA proposed a restructuring of parking fines and the placing of "two-hour limit" signs on many of the spaces.

Other aspects of the plan include landscaping and striping of existing lots and an improved sign program to show people where parking is available.

DDA plans to fund the project mostly from tax money generated by the two mill special assessment on the downtown development district, about $12,000 per year. DDA would borrow $44,000 at seven percent from the village and repay the loan from tax money over six years.

In addition, DDA would use $27,550 of the $28,000 in the village's parking fund.

"Discussions with Chelsea merchants, customers and residents as well as a review by the DDA of the immediate needs of the downtown all identify parking as the major concern," says the DDA's proposal.

"Both short-term and long-term parking shortages exist. This perceived and real shortage will become even more critical to the future economic viability of the downtown and its ability to continue to attract customers as the new shopping areas on the periphery are built—new shopping area which will be providing convenient, sufficient and free parking to its customers. In addition, the completion of the courthouse renovations will put even greater strains on downtown parking as jurors, attorneys and others will be competing for spaces currently used by those coming to the downtown to shop."

The new lot behind the fire hall would be used for long-term parking for downtown business employees and people on court business.

The only other long-term parking would be on the east side of the depot and on the north side of the village lot next to Heydlauff's.

Spaces in the municipal lot, on the west side of the depot, on the south side of the Heydlauff's lot and in the lot immediately west of Harper Pontiac would all become short-term spaces.

DDA proposed that parking fines for violations of the two-hour limit be raised from $1 to $3 if paid in the first week. Fines would jump to $8 thereafter.

To go along with the fines, enforcement would be increased from four to six hours per day.

The idea, the plan suggests, is not to raise more money in parking fines but to keep people from using short-term lots for long-term parking.

According to a summary of estimated costs submitted in the proposal, the new W. Middle St. lot would cost $45,650. Other costs include $15,150 for depot parking, $4,000 for municipal lot improvements, $250 for Heydlauff lot improvements, $5,000 for landscaping and $1,500 for signs.

In related news, the Michigan State Supreme Court has ruled that tax increment financing is a legal way to raise money for downtown improvements, according to DDA financial consultant Franz Mogdis. That means the DDA will be able to proceed with other aspects of its entire program.

Mogdis said unless the DDA acts quickly, any further downtown improvement programs would probably take place next year.

Chelsea Receives Technology Education Award for State

The Chelsea School District has received the 1988 Technology Education School District Program of the Year Award for Michigan. Superintendent Ray Van Meer announced the award at the school board meeting, Monday, April 18, telling the board members that the district will be recognized at the State convention of the Michigan Industrial Education Society (MIES) in Traverse City, May 5-7.

According to a MIES official, the Chelsea "staff is to be commended for the excellent Technology Education District Program which has been developed for Chelsea School District."

As the 1988 program of the year, Chelsea's program will represent the State of Michigan during the 1989 International Technology Education Association conference in Dallas, Tex., March 20-24, 1989.

The technology education curriculum has been developed by high school instructors Bruce Boughner and Jim Tallman, assisted by Curriculum Director Laurie Bissell and Principal John Williams. For the last three years, the technology department has also been assisted by a Staff Development Through School Improvement grant through Eastern Michigan University.

Chelsea's technology program was formerly known as the industrial arts program. The name was changed and the program totally revamped with the idea of giving students a broader based education.

The new curriculum deals with preparing students for a changing world, instead of teaching them specific skills which will soon be out of date. Focus is on problem solving and on creating an attitude of life-long learning.

Also at Monday's school board meeting, parent Becky Tuttle was presented with a recognition award by Beach Middle school principal Darcy Stielstra for her volunteer tutoring. Stielstra said of Tuttle, "She's a dream. We could use 100 more like her."

Tuttle volunteers with the middle school language arts program. She confers with students about their writing, types student's work for publication, tutors Essential Skills students in library work, works with the future problem solving group, and video tapes student skits.

The administration accepted a gift of a scoreboard which has been installed in the high school gym and was used at the last home game at the end of February. The cost, which was $5,525, came from donations from the Athletic Boosters, $2,500; Kiwanis, $2,500; American Legion Post No. 31, $250; Chelsea Rotary, $150; Memory of Mrs. Harry Henry by a Chelsea Rotarian, $100; VFW Post No. 4076, $25. Special thanks were given to Jim Knott for his efforts in seeking donations.

Boys Steal 29 Candy Bars

Two Chelsea boys may face shoplifting charges as a result of an incident at the Hop-In on Wednesday, April 13.

According to Chelsea police, the boys stole 29 candy bars by putting them in their pockets and walking out the door at about 8:30 a.m.

SANDY AND WALT ZEEB were honored with the 1988 Friendship Award last Saturday at the St. Louis Center Recognition Day. The Zeebs, owners of Chelsea Greenhouse, were honored because "the way they love us makes us feel we are the only ones. Walt and Sandy have said it with flowers and numerous other ways for many, many years." On the left is Fr. Joseph Rinaldo, administrator of the school. On the right is Fr. Enzo Addari, assistant director of the center.

Kelley Appeals Item Pricing Law Ruling

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley announced he has filed an appeal of a recent Ingham County Circuit Court opinion which declared the state's "item pricing" law unconstitutional.

Item pricing requires merchants to individually price or place unit prices on individual items except for certain enumerated items specifically exempted by statute—25 classes of items that retailers can choose to exempt and 25 classes of items featured or on sale.

Ingham County Circuit Judge James Giddings in late March ruled in a suit brought by Builders Square, a K-Mart Corp. subsidiary, charging that the law's title embraced more than one subject.

Kelley noted that in 1983, the Macomb County Circuit Court, in a case raising the same issues, upheld the constitutionality of the law.

The item pricing act's sections include the advertising requirements for rain checks of out-of-stock advertised items and the item pricing sections with penalties.

Kelley said as a result of the Giddings ruling, consumers are faced with two conflicting interpretations of the law and "without a definitive ruling from the Court of Appeals, it is possible some merchants will stop individually pricing merchandise which opened the door for abuse."

He noted consumer groups, retirees, housewives and labor organizations banded together in support of the law when it was before the legislature more than 10 years ago. He added the requirement of pricing each item is an important consumer protection measure "because even today's sophisticated scanning equipment is not infallible."

Chris Kindsvatter, president of the Michigan Merchants Council whose membership includes K-Mart, said the law is overburdensome. He said since the 1976 enactment of the law, companies have made major investments in computer equipment that will allow scanning and shelf marking of items rather than individually marking as many as 50,000 items in stores. He added the equipment has also become widely accepted by consumers.

Kindsvatter said the law was challenged in court because there wasn't any legislative solution in sight. He noted the merchants council, other retailer groups and individual stores have been trying to work with consumer groups and members of the Legislature to modify the act and "we have gotten nowhere."

Larry L. Meyer, president of the Michigan Retailers Association, said he was pleased with the unconstitutional ruling and his group is investigating whether it would be useful to file an amicus curiae brief in support of the ruling.

Meyer also labelled the act as burdensome and creating an additional cost to businesses by not recognizing new technology available in price scanning.

Meyer said the act is neither consumer protection nor business regulation.

"It is just an outdated law that time has passed by," He added the original idea behind the act was that computer scanning technology was not reliable, an idea no longer in the minds of consumers.

He said scanning equipment provides an efficiency and productivity in the retail sector and the item pricing act placed a burdensome regulation on retailers and thereby eliminating that efficiency and productivity.

Group Seeks State Withdrawal From Waste Compact

A group seeking Michigan's withdrawal from an interstate compact to build a common disposal facility for low-level radioactive wastes said it is concerned about the possibility of the Michigan site being opened up to virtually the entire country.

But David Hales, director of the Low Level Radioactive Waste Authority, said Michigan has veto power over including wastes from other states and said officials remain on record to withdraw unless the compact is amended to help ensure its economic viability.

Mary Sinclair, a leader of the Don't Waste Michigan Coalition, criticized an Authority directive to staff to investigate contractual arrangements to accept non-regional waste, saying "It is totally objectionable to solicit wastes from other states; that is clearly beyond the scope anybody thought about (when the Legislature approved the new siting laws last year)."

Coalition members said they are concerned the waste from other states will be sought in order to make the disposal facility more economically viable because too many sites are now planned, given the amount of waste expected to be generated.

Hales said economics is the "last reason" additional wastes would be accepted, but agreed the 17 sites under consideration nationwide is too many and some will probably have economic difficulties. He said Michigan officials want amendments in federal policy to reduce the number of sites, provide for shared liability between states in a compact, provide better financing, and set institutional stability.

Officials said the staff investigation was ordered to review requirements of additional wastes being included simply because the federal guidelines do permit that, if all states in the compact agree.

Sinclair said Michigan should control only the wastes generated in-state, and said the producers of the waste, principally nuclear power plants, should keep it on site in above-ground structures until a safe disposal facility can be planned.

The coalition said if the Legislature does not withdraw the state from the compact and its concerns remain uncorrected by 1989, it will launch a petition drive to withdraw.

Groups opposing locating a waste site in Nebraska already conducted a petition drive. The facility, expected to cost $300-$400 million, was required by federal law to be operational by Jan. 1, 1993, but state officials said that deadline will be missed by several months.

Hales said withdrawing in 1989 may be legitimate if the amendments he enumerated are not implemented. He said the authority is working now to develop draft language for a new compact.

The Labor Department's Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) was created in 1978 when a 1977 act transferred the Federal mine-safety program from the Department of the Interior to the Department of Labor. MSHA is headed by an assistant secretary of labor, who administers a broad regulatory program to reduce injuries and illnesses in mining.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle waved one of his clip-pings at the start of the session at the country store Saturday night, and he allowed he now is full convinced that news services and papers are brain-washed at best and blackmailed at worst by the Internal Revenue Service. How else, Ed wanted to know, can we account for the timing of a Associated Press piece out of Moscow last week.

The item told where Gorbachof and his gang have invented the progressive income tax that looks, smells and works just like ours, Ed said. The leader of the gang looked, walked and talked just like one of our politicians when he told workers in a ball bearing factory that the new tax would help them by nailing all the high rollers that "take advantage of shortages and engage in money grubbing." Ed said the AP translation was all he had, but he'd lay odds that in Russian the tax is billed as good for the little guy.

You don't even have to be a taxpayer to see where this news was coming from, Ed declared. It was using the old misery loves company line to make Americans feel better about rendering everything they can beg and borrow unto the IRS. What American taxpayer right about now won't read the piece and share the suffering of Russians working on the Kremlin edition of Form 1040, Ed ask. And who will share the grief when a Russian money grubber learns he can't write off his wife's extra fur hat and his three vodka lunch, Ed wanted to know.

Bug Hookum was full agreed with Ed. Bug had saw where the wireservices sent and the papers used a IRS report where the average taxpayer spends two hours and 40 minutes filling out the 1040, and that cranks out to 291 million hours fer everybody. The idea here has got to be, Bug said, that ever taxpayer that is more confused than ever after studying that form two hours and 40 minutes is ready to throw himself on the mercy of the court and be glad fer whatever the IRS lets him keep.

Furthermore, Bug went on, the AP recent reported that President

Reagan's $1.1 trillion budget would cost ever American $1,687. If that sound like a good deal you got to read deeper. That turns out to be just the personal income tax part of expected revenue. When you stir in all other taxes, Bug said, it works out to $3,947 fer each of us, and income still comes up $134 billion short of outgo. Politicians are scared to talk about it anywhere except in the post office where postage recent went up and service down, was Bug's words.

Final, Clem Webster moved in to put a stop to the tax conspiracy talk. he said he knows the IRS says we're guilty until proved innocent, and he agrees the IRS don't play by any of the other rules when it comes to getting the money. But the plain fact is, Clem said, the IRS don't know how to do its job, much less how to hook or crook the papers into helping make it easier. Clem had saw where the IRS has called the IRS toll-free advice line 14,000 times in the past two months, more than any other person or company, and probable more than the IRS left time fer taxpayers to call.

Personal, I'm with Clem. First, I think news people try to report news as it comes. Second, I know all the IRS needs is one rule. That one says what a taxpayer don't understand is his fault, and whatever is wrong is the taxpayer's fault, especial if it's the IRS's fault.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.In Doubt

President Lila Pawlowski conducted the business meeting at which the final plans for the Woman's Club's annual dinner were reviewed. The club will gather on May 10 at Schuler's in Jackson for a 6:30 p.m. cocktail hour, followed by dinner and program. The dinner committee is headed by Myra Colvin, assisted by Ruby Strieter and Jinny Johnson.

The next regular meeting will be the annual meeting on April 26 in the Library clubroom.

Marian Kern spoke briefly on the need for Red Cross blood drive volunteers in the Chelsea area.

Hospital Offers Education Program On Osteoporosis

Chelsea Community Hospital will sponsor a community education program on osteoporosis in observance of National Osteoporosis Prevention Week, May 8 through May 14.

The program entitled, "What You Should Know About Osteoporosis," will be presented on Wednesday, April 27, at 7 p.m. in Chelsea Community Hospital's Women's Health Center.

Barb Colmery, R.N., B.S.N., clinician for the Women's Health Center, will be the course instructor.

There will be a $5 charge and pre-registration is required by calling 475-3979.

This year's National Osteoporosis Prevention Week theme is "Build a Stronger Future."

Osteoporosis is a bone disease afflicting 24 million Americans; primarily post-menopausal women and the elderly. Osteoporosis is called the "silent disorder" because most people do not realize they have it until it is diagnosed by their physician or they suffer a fracture due to fragile bones.

There are some simple, preventive measures which may be taken to keep bones healthy. These should be started early and continue throughout life.

Child Study Club Hears Report on Dutch Walkathon

On April 12 members of the Chelsea Child Study Club met at the home of JoAnn Richardson.

After a brief business meeting, Reat Vandervoort a native of Holland who has resided in the U. S. for the past 30 years, told us about her and her family's experiences in the Holland Walkathon.

For three years she, with five of her sisters, two brothers and two sisters-in-law, have participated in this event.

Last year 35,000 people took part with 37 different nations being represented, including 918 Americans.

Reat plans to return again this July to Nymegor where the walk takes place and to take part with her family.

Co-hostess for the evening was Sue Sheffield.

Spring Dinner will be on May 10 and members are urged to get their dues to the treasurer by April 28.

Father-Son Banquet Held April 8 at First Congregational

On April 8 at 6:30 p.m. fathers, sons and friends from Chelsea and out of town gathered to attend a banquet held at First Congregational church to honor our fathers and sons.

The "younger set" adjourned to the movie theatre and enjoyed cartoons and games.

A poll was taken and the oldest father in attendance was Martin Steinbach, accompanied by his son, Ray Steinbach, both of the Chelsea area.

The youngest son attending was Max Hepburn, who was accompanied by his father, John Hepburn, and also his grandfather, Max, all of the Chelsea area.

The father who came the farthest was the Rev. Gerald Bowen from the Leslie area. He was accompanied by his son, Arnold, and grandsons, Jeffrey and Jared.

The son coming the farthest was Steve Baker of Toledo, O., son of Howard Baker.

Lioness Club Hears About County's Solid Waste Problems

Chelsea Lioness Club met at the Citizens Trust Bank on Monday, April 11.

Lion Sam Blake from the Ypsilanti Lions Club gave a short slide presentation on Welcome Home for the Blind, a home for visually impaired senior citizens in Grand Rapids. It is a Lions Club state supported project.

Tom McMurtrey, co-ordinator for Waste Treatment Centers in the county followed with a slide presentation on the solid waste problem and proposed solutions. Options that were recommended were recycling, composting, refuse derived fuel and incineration.

A recycling center will soon be opening in Chelsea to handle newspapers, glass, and tin cans. This is the first step to waste reduction.

Refreshments were served by Betty Severn, and Carol Strahler after a brief business meeting.

The next meeting will be the installation dinner on May 9 at the Chelsea Hospital.

"One berry, one kiss," wrote American author Washington Irving about mistletoe. But National Wildlife magazine reports that the custom of kissing under the mistletoe goes back much further than the 19th century. According to Norse mythology, the Goddess Frigg made the plant a symbol of love and promised to bestow a kiss on all who passed under it.

Scoliosis Screening

Early detection and treatment can prevent pain, breathing difficulties, short stature and obvious chest deformities resulting from progression of the problem. Correction is possible with body braces and through other methods. Allowed to progress without medical attention, however, correction often requires surgical procedures.

It is the hope of the Beach school staff that the screening program will prevent later problems from scoliosis or Kyphosis for all students participating.

Tootsie Roll Drive Surpasses Goal

The 1988 Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll Drive resulted in $4,377 to be used for mental retardation programs in Chelsea and around the state. At the onset of the drive, organizers Jerome Martell and Larry Kranich stated that their goal was to exceed last year's collection which was $4,152. They are pleased that due to the generosity of the community, the goal was easily reached, $275 more being collected.

On Friday, March 25, and Saturday, March 26, about 40 K. of C. members and auxiliary members collected money, giving donors Tootsie Rolls in exchange. Martell said that retirees were particularly helpful on Friday, when many of the younger members could not get off work to participate. On-the-street contributions increased this year by $175, while business contributions went up by $100. Thirty-five cases of Tootsie Rolls were given away.

Martell attributed two reasons for the drive's success: the sunny weather, which meant more people were out and about, and the help of St. Mary's CCD Youth Group. The teenagers paired with adults and were able to give more complete coverage in the downtown area.

This year's Tootsie Rolls drive was the 13th. Martell said, "People are getting to know us and are more generous." The drive is always held the week before Easter. Eighty percent of the money collected will stay in Chelsea or Stockbridge, going to St. Louis School for Boys, and to Chelsea and Stockbridge's special education programs. The other 20 percent goes to state programs.

Since Stockbridge does not have a K. of C. chapter, members of the Catholic church in Stockbridge join with the Chelsea K. of C. by collecting in Stockbridge. The money they collect goes to the Stockbridge special education program.

Free Colorado Blue Spruces Available

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving 10 free Colorado Blue Spruce trees to everyone who becomes a Foundation member during April, 1988.

The free trees are part of the non-profit Foundation's effort to encourage tree planting for conservation and beautification throughout America.

"Colorado Blue Spruces were selected for this campaign because of their many uses in the home landscape," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said. "They lend beauty to their surroundings with their silver blue-green color and compact conical shape. They can be used as individual ornaments, an energy-saving windbreak, a privacy screen, or as living Christmas trees."

The 10 free Colorado Blue Spruces will be shipped postpaid in April or May with enclosed planting instructions. The six- to twelve-inch trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge. The Foundation will give the 10 free trees to each new member contributing $10 during April.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to Ten Blue Spruces, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by April 30.

DONALD A. COLE Director

"The Gods sell us all good things for hard work . . ."
—Epicharmus

Today, as it was with the ancients, hard work is the surest and safest method of acquiring the good things. Hard work and serious effort is not always the whole formula for our own measure of success; it also requires an efficient application of our particular talents and skills.

The ancients, however, had one small advantage in that there were perhaps far fewer good things in a material sense to spur them on to greater effort. Today, many people find themselves pushing harder in a frenzied effort to keep abreast of the so-called good things which are so tantalizing, so passionately coveted and so numerous.

Mock Trial Team Takes Second Place At State Event

Chelsea High school's Mock Trial Team took second place last Saturday in the State of Michigan Mock Trial Tournament held in Detroit. The Mock Trial Team is an organization at the high school comprised of students dedicated to learning more about trial procedure.

Interested students were divided into separate teams for the prosecution and the defense of a highly detailed "mock" murder case written by the State Mock Trial directors. After two months of careful study of the case, and help from local attorney Diana Newman, the team went to the Detroit City County Building to demonstrate their role-playing skills in the courtroom.

Thirty-nine schools sent teams to the tournament, and each team competed twice in the morning rounds. Chelsea's team went on to compete in the finals that afternoon. The team ended up with a second-place ribbon for competition and a 13th place overall in total points.

CHS senior Kristina Steffenson, who acted as the first attorney for Chelsea's defense team stated, "I had a good time, but I really underestimated how hard it was going to be. Giving an impromptu speech under pressure and still managing to make sense is not easy."

The first attorney for Chelsea's prosecution team, senior Jamie Hoffman, added that the tournament was "a real challenge . . . it was exciting and nerve-racking at the same time." Hoffman also said she feels mock trial benefits those students involved by "giving them a greater understanding of trial procedure. It is also good speaking experience, because you have to think on your feet." Hoffman said that more preparation time with a lawyer would help next year's team.

Other Chelsea students involved include: Pat Houle, second attorney for the prosecution; Brant Snyder, second attorney for the defense; Bill Huetteman and Teresa Rudnicki, witnesses for the prosecution; and Julie Dukes and Dan Pletcher, witnesses for the defense. James Bechtelheimer, a CHS government teacher, acted as advisor for the team.

"A lot of the teams were really good, too," said Steffenson.

"I think we did very well considering how tough the competition was."

Brick Smashes Car Window

A resident of the 500 block of Wilkison St. reported to Chelsea police that someone threw a brick and smashed a window in her 1986 car on Tuesday, April 12. The brick and shattered glass were in the front seat when police arrived at 7:40 a.m. at the woman's home. The window and window frame were both damaged.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
With regard to the picture of the Chelsea Village Council, circa 1929 or 1930, published in The Chelsea Standard on March 8, 1988, the identification of one person has what I believe is an erroneous statement with regard to John Schenk. He was not the owner of Schenk's Department Store but a clerk-employee and a brother of the owner. I never remember hearing the owner's name but he was always mentioned by initials which I cannot recall, however they could have been "S. P." The owner's son's name was Sydney who at one time lived in the house south of the big one on the southwest corner of Madison and Park.

With regard to the excellent picture of the Last Supper as painted by Fr. Germano Pegoraro in the March 2nd issue, there is some interesting conjecture with regard to actual arrangements of the furniture and the accoutrements of the 13 persons in the room. In my recent researching the term "Maundy Thursday" in the book by Peter Marshall, "The First Easter," the author describes the scene in this manner: "...Finally they took their places around the 'U' shaped table..." Paraphrasing, we can imagine those distraught disciples stretched out on their stomachs on the table couches, not the conventional chairs for modern sitting and covering their bare feet with their long robes for warmth. Leonardo DeVinci, in his great masterpiece, also used similar details in arrangement as are shown in Fr. Pegoraro's picture.

Vaillencourt, Hedding Earn Scouting District Awards of Merit

Phyllis Vaillencourt and Doug Hedding have been honored with the Manhacke District's Award of Merit, the highest award for service to the community and Scouting that the district can present. They were presented with their awards at a Recognition Dinner on Thursday, April 14.

Vaillencourt moved to Chelsea in 1971 with her husband Tom and two children, Joe and Barbara. She quickly immersed herself in community affairs as she had while living in Clarkston and in Manistee.

In 1972, the Vaillencourts signed on with the Boy Scout troop committee of which their son was a member. Joe's Eagle Scout award some years later strengthened and increased their involvement in the Scouting movement.

When her husband held a succession of positions in the troop, Vaillencourt acted as his secretary and co-worker. Eventually she assumed responsibilities of her own and they became established co-commissioners and co-chairs in the district. They personally served as unit commissioners to the numerous and changing number of Chelsea packs and troops over this eight to 10 year period.

As Tom Vaillencourt's job took him all over the county, and as he devoted evenings to advanced degrees, she handled the phone calls and attended the occasional meeting alone. But essentially they worked as a husband-wife team and were introduced together at Blue and Golds and Courts of Honor as our commissioners.

Long ago her husband organized Saturday advancement sessions at their home in the fall and spring. Knowing the 13th Scout Law pertains to food, she prepared at her own expense over a period of 10 years, tasty luncheons for the participants.

They utilized their aluminum Airstream motor home to provide transportation to troop events. Scouts vied for the opportunity to travel in its luxury. She accompanied it twice to the National Jamboree in Pennsylvania and stayed in it at the troop week-long family camp at Germfist in the Upper Peninsula.

The troop's major money maker was a never ending collection of paper. The Vaillencourts offered the use of a 50-foot chicken shed at the rear of their house for the storage of paper. Later, a 42-foot semi trailer was added. Vaillencourt manned the telephone, maintained the list of contributors, co-ordinated the scheduling of pickups, and kept the record of boy-hours worked.

When the contents of the two structures were transferred to huge trailers for transportation to a distant city, the facilities of her home were thrown open to the entire troop. With the help of some mothers, she prepared unit-provided food for the ravenous Scouts.

Vaillencourt served her stints at Newkirk Day Camp handling Indian lore and security.

In 1978, a Howell Assistant Scoutmaster envisioned and organized the first Cub Color Hike. When he left the area the following year, the event experienced hard times. For the next eight years the Vaillencourts co-chaired this extremely successful outing. She did the phoning, obtained the medical backup, arranged for the orange drink, prepared snacks for the staffers, and helped register.

The success of the Vaillencourts' efforts can be documented. The Color Hike has become the best attended activity in Munhacke District. Washtenong, recognizing a good thing and piggybacking on Munhacke's annual preparation, holds their Color Hike next week. The Potawatomi Trail committee has created new five mile patches to avoid repetition during a boy's Cubbing years. The Council Activities Committee lists in their annual report these Color Hikes as one of the major Scout participation events of the year.

Doug Hedding started his participation in Scouting in September of 1981 when he served a year as assistant Webelo leader of Pack 425 for his son, Paul. Again in 1984 he spent six months finishing another departed Webelo leader's term. He attended all pack and committee meetings and chaired the annual Christmas tree sale.

Hedding was working out of town when his wife joined the committee of Troop 425 in support of their eldest son. When the Scoutmaster resigned, she volunteered her husband. He kept the position four and two-thirds years and is still registered as an assistant.

Shortly after becoming Scoutmaster, he began his first stint as Webelo leader. Therein began the perfect collaboration between troop and pack. Under his direction, the troop put on four to five programs yearly at pack meetings. He conducted five elaborate Webelo cross-overs in picturesque settings.

His last year as Scoutmaster, 22 Webelos joined the troop. He continued the tradition of attending Camp Teetankah, located only 14 miles from the troop meeting room, serving twice as full-time and twice as part-time camp leader.

During his tenure the troop attended district and council events, twice visited Wright Patterson Air base, slept aboard the Aircraft Carrier Yorktown in South Carolina, white-water rafted in Pennsylvania, toured the Chicago museums while base camping at the Warren Dunes, and made five father and son canoe trips.

CHELSEA'S NEWEST EAGLE SCOUT, Chris Burkel, the Huron Valley Humane Society. On the left is Dave Burkel of Boy Scout Troop 425 became Chelsea's newest Eagle Scout. Bust, chairman of the Youth Services Committee of the Burkel, of troop 425, created a woodpecker and flicker Kiwanis Club. At right is Warren McArthur, scout co-recovery and rehabilitation cage, which was donated to ordinator.

C. Burkel Is Newest Eagle Scout

On Sunday, April 10, Christopher M. Burkel of Boy Scout Troop 425 became Chelsea's newest Eagle Scout.

Chris is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Burkel of 17986 Waterloo Rd.

Chris has had a very full and active career in scouting. He was a member of the Cub Scouts, and was a Webelo Scout where he earned his arrow of light award.

He became a Boy Scout in May of 1981 and climbed up the ladder of scouting to the highest rank a boy can earn in scouting, the Eagle Scout rank in April of 1988.

On his way to the rank of Eagle Scout, he earned a total of nine skill awards including camping, citizenship, communications, cooking, community living, family living, first aid, hiking and swimming.

He also earned a total of 21 merit badges for the rank of Eagle Scout, including 11 that are required. They were archery, camping, canoeing, citizenship in the community, citizenship in the nation, citizenship in the world, communications, cooking, electricity, emergency preparedness, environmental science, fingerprinting, firemanship, first aid, mammals, orienteering, personal management, pioneering, rowing, safety and sports.

He showed good leadership in the offices he held, assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, troop historian, and assistant senior patrol leader. He also served on the leadership corps.

Chris was very active in troop events. He took part in summer camps, camporees, Klondike Derbies, first aid meets, Scout-O-Rama, winter event, Potawatomi Trail winter hike, father and son canoe trips, and spring break trip to South Carolina.

He had many days and nights of camping, and has helped several younger boys advance in the ranks of scouting.

For his Eagle Scout project, Chris researched, designed, and constructed a cage to rehabilitate injured birds. He donated his cage to the Huron Valley Humane Society.

TROOP 425—

At our meeting on April 11, the opening was performed by Ian Dyer, Vincent Stahl and Holden Harris, we recited the pledge to our flag.

We went to patrol corners and collected dues. We also worked on our personal management merit badge.

We will be going to the spring hike on April 23. We are also going to build rockets next week.

Our closing was done by the three boys who did the opening. We recited the Scout Oath.

Vaillencourt, Hedding Honored

Three Eagles emerged from all this activity.

One day, as he started a 20 mile merit badge hike with the boys, his son injured his ankle. Undaunted, he repeated the same hike the next week with his recovered offspring.

Responding to pleas for assistance, his role in district activities grew at a progressive rate. He manned the ice rescue station at four Cub Scout Winter Events. He staffed the ice rescue and hot cocoa stations at Scout Winter Events. With Scouts from the troop, he ran such activities as cooking, orienteering, and knots at three Webelo overnights; parked cars at three Cub Color Hikes, and erected the rope bridge and obstacle course at Cub Day Camps.

He joined the District Committee and accepted new responsibilities. He became the district's first Junior League Leader roundtable commissioner in October of 1987, conducting the meetings where district boy leaders receive information, exchange ideas, and develop skills. He put on Scout Leader Training session three. He ran the district's well-attended day-long Junior Leader Training at Camp Munhage in November. The next month held a Den Chief Training Conference in Chelsea.

Recognition of Hedding's valuable skills at O.A. functions led to membership on the Council Camp Maintenance Committee. He took the canoe trailer home and practically rebuilt it. He obtained the donation of Franklin Stoves and installed them in the dining hall at Munhage.

His greatest contribution was completely renovating the plumbing in the Campmaster's building. As a new shower and kitchen were installed, this involved breaking up portions of the cement slab, digging a latrine exterior hole to locate and remove the services, and restoring things back to normal. He organized and worked on a full day of hauling gravel into Camp Munhage.

The recognition dinner at which Vaillencourt and Hedding received their awards was organized by Hedding himself, with help from Troop 425 and his wife, Mary, as well as Paul Stahl.

Thanks to those dam builders . . . Czechoslovakia is importing industrious beavers from Norway to help conserve wetlands. Beaver dams create a natural irrigation system that protects marshlands from droughts and floods. They also encourage an abundance of fish, waterfowl and plant life. According to National Wildlife magazine, Czechoslovakia hopes the imported beavers will restore its beaver population, which was wiped out in the 1850's.

Mary E. Eassa Completes Air Force Specialty Course

Man Caught Driving Stolen Auto Here

A Florida man wanted for violation of probation was picked up by Chelsea police as he was driving a stolen car on April 7 at 1 a.m.

Chelsea police stopped a 1985 Oldsmobile driven by Scott Allen Bishop, 20, of Gulfport, Fla., as Bishop was having trouble keeping the vehicle from hitting the curb on northbound M-52.

A computer check showed the warrant for Bishop and the fact that the vehicle was stolen. According to reports, Bishop told police he had stolen the car from his roommate in St. Petersburg and was on his way to Chicago. He reported running into a pole in a restaurant parking lot in Tennessee and damaging the vehicle.

Local Chiropractors Contribute to National Public Service Effort

Dr. Jerald L. Flinn of Chelsea Chiropractic Center and Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman of Chelsea General Health Service have made a sizeable cash contribution to support a health information campaign to make more people more aware of the hazards of health negligence, it was announced today.

More than 5,000 doctors of chiropractic have banded together in a public service effort to bring attention to common illness and some of their frequent causes.

The health information is being carried in an advertising supplement which appeared in the April 1988 issue of Reader's Digest.

"Health authorities are concerned that a high percentage of people are overlooking their structural health. As a result many are suffering unnecessary pain and functional disorders," said the physicians.

The local chiropractors pointed out that chiropractic is a holistic method of health care that deals with treating the cause of the problem rather than just symptoms.

SECOND GRADERS at South school shared their latest scientific discoveries, paraded as their favorite story characters and took part in the circus during Celebration Week activities at the school last Friday. Each grade level chose a day during the week to share their celebration products with their school mates. FIFTH GRADERS at South school last Thursday planned a reunion of famous literary personalities as part of Celebration Week activities. The children shared their knowledge of the characters with their schoolmates, and donned authentic garb for the occasion. In addition, some students showed how to construct scientific three-dimensional objects as their part in Celebration Week. In the front row, from left, are Charlotte Ziegler, Ben O'Connor, Dan Watson, Dan Koenigter and Jessica Flintoft. In the back row, from left, are Kori White, Jon Clark, Jon Michael, Calvin Poe and Barb Sprinkle.

THIRD GRADERS at South school became expert historians on Chelsea last week as part of Celebration Week. Children learned all about the area and, naturally, the clocktower was a great subject of interest. The students shared their knowledge of Chelsea with their schoolmates last Tuesday. In the front row, from left, are Erin Dougherty, Brad Sullivan, Leif Mangelsen and Bekah Knight. In the back row, from left, are Erin Hack, Tim Stecker, Dusty White, Jeannette McDougall and Missy Warring.

Bulldogs Hot and Cold In Busy Week of Softball

After demolishing Jackson Lumen Christi in a doubleheader Tuesday, April 12 in sunny, warm weather, the Chelsea Bulldog softball team lost their first two games of the season to Ann Arbor Pioneer on Thursday, April 23 in bonechilling weather.

Chelsea knocked off Lumen Christi 7-0 and 30-0.

However, Pioneer edged the Dogs in two one-run games, 4-3 and 5-4.

According to Chelsea coach Pat Clarke, excellent defense was the key to the opening win against Lumen Christi. The Dogs played flawlessly in the field to back the one-hitter tossed by Peggy Hammerschmidt. Hammerschmidt also struck out 11 batters and walked one.

Most of the scoring came in the first two innings. A triple by Cela Murphy scored Leah Enderle and Kelly Stump in the first.

Singles by Kim Easton, Laura Unterbrink, and Enderle, and an error on a ball hit by Alisha Dorow scored three runs in the second.

Singles by Enderle and Hammerschmidt in the fifth and sixth innings produced single runs.

Enderle and Unterbrink each had three hits for the game, and Easton hit safely twice.

The second game was settled in five innings as the Bulldogs scored nine runs in the first, 11 in the second and 10 more over the next two innings. Lumen Christi committed seven errors.

Jenny Pichlik gave up two hits, struck out five and walked three in her first outing of the season.

Thirteen batters went to the plate in the first inning. Dorow, Stump, Hammerschmidt, and Enderle got the only hits of the inning. There were also five walks and a hit batsman.

The second inning featured a three-run homer by Murphy and a triple by Pichlik but otherwise it was much like the first inning. The first four batters walked and there were singles by Beth Kenney, Enderle, and Hammerschmidt.

Pichlik's double and Shannon Losey's single produced two runs in the third.

In the fourth, four errors, singles by Dorow, Unterbrink, Hammerschmidt, Christy Petty and Dorow, and a double by Enderle closed out the Chelsea scoring.

Enderle, Dorow and Hammerschmidt each had three hits, and Kenney and Pichlik had two each.

Hammerschmidt lost her first game of the year in the opener against Pioneer, 5-4, on a run-scoring triple in the bottom of the seventh inning.

"It was a well-played game,"

Clarke said. "Pioneer is a fine team deserving of being ranked in class A. They played flawlessly. We had too many walks, errors and miscues."

Pioneer scored five runs on just four hits but Chelsea helped out with three errors.

After falling behind 1-0 in the third inning, the Bulldogs scored two in the top of the fourth. Stump sacrificed Dorow to second and Murphy's double drove Dorow in. Hammerschmidt followed with an RBI single.

Chelsea held the lead until the bottom of the fifth inning when the Pioneers scored three runs.

The Bulldogs responded with two runs in the top of the sixth featuring a triple by Dorow.

Hammerschmidt was uncharacteristically wild as she walked five batters. However, she was charged with only three earned runs.

In the second game Pioneer scored all four runs in the bottom of the first inning off Jenni Smith.

A triple, single, double and single produced two runs. The final two runners scored on a throwing error.

The Dogs scored all three of their runs in the top of the sixth inning as Kenney walked, Enderle was hit by a pitch, Dorow singled home the first run and Stump singled home two runs.

In action Monday night, the Bulldogs split a double header with Brooklyn Columbia Central on the road.

Chelsea won the first game behind the four-hit pitching of Smith, 14-1. However, they lost the second game, 12-8, as Chelsea pitchers yielded 12 walks.

Smith won her second game of the season as the Bulldogs scored in every inning.

A single by Enderle, an error and two sacrifices scored two in the first. Basso's double knocked in a run in the second.

Easton's triple keyed a two-run third inning.

A passed ball scored a run in the fourth.

A homer by Murphy and triple by Easton highlighted a three-run fifth inning.

Four errors, singles by Murphy and Pichlik, and a double by Hammerschmidt scored five runs in the sixth.

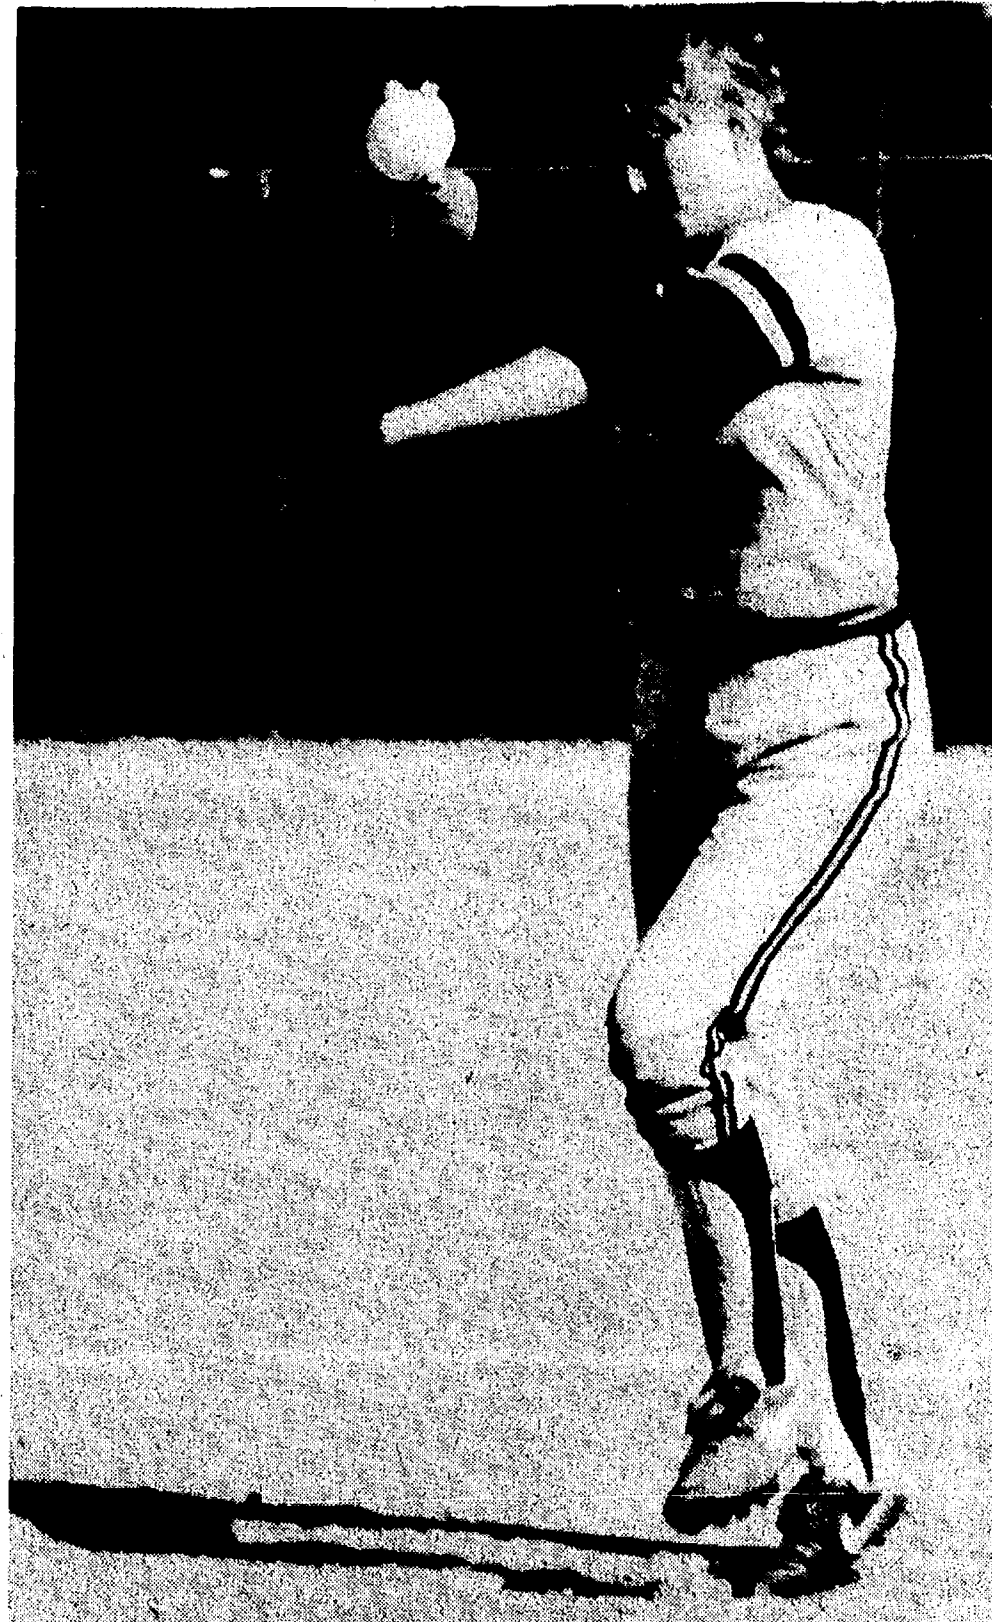

"We hit the ball well," was all Clarke had to say.

In the second game, BCC scored four times in the bottom of the sixth inning to take the win. Pichlik started on the mound, and Hammerschmidt and Unterbrink pitched in relief.

Dorow and Murphy each had two hits. Easton, Murphy and Enderle all doubled.

"We walked 12 batters and hit two others to give this one away," Clarke said.

Chelsea is 10-4 on the season.

PEGGY HAMMERSCHMIDT prepares to launch a pitch during last Tuesday's home game with Jackson Lumen Christi. Hammerschmidt won the game, and two others on the week-end at the Belleville Invitational.

Bulldog Girls Track Team Beats Up Fowlerville, 81-47

Paced by sweeps in the shotput and discus, and wins in all four relays, the Chelsea Bulldog girls track team defeated Fowlerville 81-47 in their first dual meet of the season, Tuesday, April 12.

Leading the way in the throws was senior Dena Stevens, who won the discus with a career-best of 102'9" and was second in the shot at 27'7". Tiffany Moore was second in the discus and Marti Daggett third. Tammy Browning won the shot with a fine toss of 29'10"4" and Tiffany Browning added a third.

Thirteen runners contributed to the Bulldogs' relay wins. In the 3,200 Jennifer Rossi, Sarah Grau, Brenda Brede, and Kasey Anderson were challenged but won by 15 seconds with a good time of 10:29.9.

In spite of one poor exchange the 800 relay of Debi Koenn, Leisa Schiller, Danica Disbro and Tami Harris turned in a solid 1:55.6. Winning the 400 relay was a team of two freshmen, Christine Mignano and Jeannine Rossi, and two sophomores, Chris Sawicki and Anne Steffenson, with a :57.6.

Jennifer Rossi, Anderson, Cathy Broderick and Koenn took the 1,600 in 4:31.1. Seniors Anderson and Jennifer Rossi each added another first—Rossi with a 2:36 800 and Anderson with a 5:42.4 1,600.

Disbro also had a good day for the Bulldogs by finishing second in the 100 with a time of :12.9 and winning the 300 hurdles in :52.1. One of the pleasant surprises of the meet according to coach Bill Bainton, was the performances of sophomore hurdler Sheila Haab. She finished second in the 100 hurdles in :18.6 and second in the 300 hurdles in :55.0. Both times were career bests.

Other Bulldogs scoring were Leisa Schiller and Jeannine Rossi in the high jump. Schiller won a fewer misses although both made 4'6". Harris was third in the 100 and second in the 200. Stevens added a third in the long jump to her fine performances in the throws. Koenn and Schiller placed second and third in the 400 as did Sarah Grau and Wagner in the 3,200.

THE HANDOFF from Leisa Schiller to Danica Disbro went smoothly in the 800 relay against Fowlerville last week and so did the meet, which the Chelsea girls won handily.

Individual star of the meet for Fowlerville was all-region sprinter Angela Moore who won the 100 in :12.6, the long jump in 16'2" and the 200 in :27.4.

"This was a good meet for us, Bainton said.

"We were tested in some areas and we had a good chance for some of our younger runners to get some experience. We were pleased with our performances.

The Bulldogs' next meet is the Southeastern Conference opener at Saline Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

Dogs Top Manchester, Brighton in Baseball

A 16-hit attack and a solid performance on the mound by Larry Nix gave the Chelsea Bulldogs a 13-4 victory over Novi last Tuesday, April 12 in a busy week of baseball.

In other action last week, Chelsea split with the Brighton Bulldogs at home on Thursday. They took the opener, 12-5 but lost the nightcap, 10-1. At the Chelsea Invitational on Saturday, the Bulldogs beat Manchester 9-1, but lost to Fenton, 11-7, and Gabriel Richard, 6-1.

"We are 3-5 at this point but we have played a tough schedule," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"But I want us to play the good teams."

One of the highlights, and lowlights, of the week involved Rob Lyerla. The senior has emerged as one of the Bulldogs' top pitchers, as well as a tough second string catcher and left fielder. However, he injured his ankle in the Fenton game and will be out at least two weeks but probably longer.

"We're real excited about Rob's performance and I hope for his sake he can make it back," Welton said.

In the Novi game, Chelsea jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning on an RBI double by Bob Clouse and a three-run homer by Greg Boughton.

Novi had a chance for a big inning in the bottom half but catcher Junior Morseau picked off a Novi runner at third base with no outs and the bases loaded. Nix managed to get out of the inning.

"That was easily the key defensive play of the game," Welton said.

Chelsea held a 5-1 lead going into the sixth inning, when they scored five times. Nix and Morseau had RBI singles and Mark Larson had two RBIs with a bases-loaded single. A balk scored the final run.

Clouse's two-run single and Morseau's triple scored Chelsea's final three runs in the seventh.

Morseau went 4-5 to pace the Bulldog attack. Tim Anderson was 3-4 and Clouse, Boughton and Chris Acree were each 2-5.

Due to darkness the teams had a four-inning scrimmage instead of a second game. Lyerla gave up two unearned runs.

Morseau pitched all seven innings in the Bulldogs' 12-5 win over Brighton. He struck out three batters and walked none. All five runs were unearned.

"Morseau had a solid pitching performance to even his record at 1-1," Welton said.

Chelsea fell behind 3-0 in the second inning but came back in the bottom half of the inning for seven runs of their own. A bases-loaded triple by Clouse was the key hit of the inning, which also featured run-scoring singles by Boughton and Jeff Prentice. Three Chelsea errors accounted for the three Brighton runs.

Brighton edged a little closer in the third as two more Bulldog errors and two hits scored two runs.

Morseau's double scored one run in the fourth inning.

Chelsea erupted for four runs in the sixth, featuring a two-run double off the fence by Morseau and RBI singles by Nix and Boughton.

"We were sloppy defensively in the second and third innings but our bats came to the rescue," Welton said.

Boughton had three hits for the game and Clouse and Morseau had two hits each.

In the second game, a two run homer by Brighton's Joe Ulrich in the first keyed a five run inning.

Chelsea's lone run came in the second inning on a single by Bryant Beard.

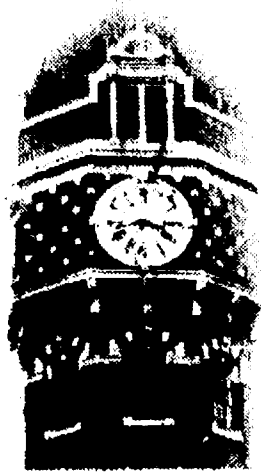

Welton substituted freely throughout the game. Brighton pitcher John McCraig limited Chelsea to just two hits.

Chelsea pitching issued nine walks.

Fenton knocked off Gabriel Richard in the championship game of the Chelsea Invitational last Saturday, 16-1.

In the first game of the day, Chelsea

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

A few reasonably noteworthy achievements for the early going in the spring sports season at Chelsea High school.

Let the record show that the girls golf team won their first match ever played. The girls whalloped Pinckney by 14 strokes. The team is so new that coach Loren Winn wasn't sure whether their 236 was a good score or not.

Top singles player Kirk Lawton keeps rolling right along and as of press time had yet to lose a set.

Junior Morseau is proving he is one of the area's top baseball players. Coach Wayne Welton probably wouldn't say it but I bet he'd like to have about nine more Morseau's on the team.

Morseau, a catcher, is throwing out base runners at all bases, is making the key hits, and is becoming a pretty good pitcher.

A coach once said of pitcher Rob Lyerla, "The way he throws, he doesn't have any business winning games, but he does win."

The development of Lyerla has been the biggest pleasant surprise for Welton this spring. Until he injured his ankle last week-end, Lyerla was one of the team's top pitchers, had emerged as a dependable catcher for Morseau, and was solid in the outfield.

Lyerla's off-season weight work was one big factor, as was his desire to be a better player.

It's a tough break to be injured as a senior, especially during the spring when the sports season is so short anyway.

During the Belleville Invitational Softball Tournament, Kim Easton hit a home run that apparently went over the scoreboard.

Coach Pat Clarke said he was told her achievement may have been a first. It's even more unusual when you consider that Easton is probably the smallest player on the team. Pound for pound, though, Easton gets more sock in her bat than anyone on the team.

I guess it's appropriate there's a bat with her name on it.

Clarke had a chance to coach against one of his former players when the Bulldogs played South Lyon and coach Amy Poljan at the tournament Saturday. He did not coach her in high school but did coach her in the summer leagues.

And it must have been a thrill for Laura Unterbrink to get a pair of hits against her sister's team. Unterbrink is quietly and quickly becoming one of the team's best hitters.

OTHER NOTES

I'd like to get Clarke and Welton together and let them argue it out as to which team has had the tougher schedule.

The softball team has played Pioneer, Webberville, Allen Park, and Belleville, all state-ranked teams in their various classifications.

The baseball team has played Pioneer, Fenton, Novi, Gabriel Richard, also good enough to be state-ranked.

Both coaches do love to play the tough teams as they believe it makes their teams better.

Wednesday was team photo day, which always manages to bring out the best in certain people.

Players, and even an occasional coach, like to interject a finger or fingers in places they don't belong. A couple of times we have had to use artistic magic to blot out an offending appendage.

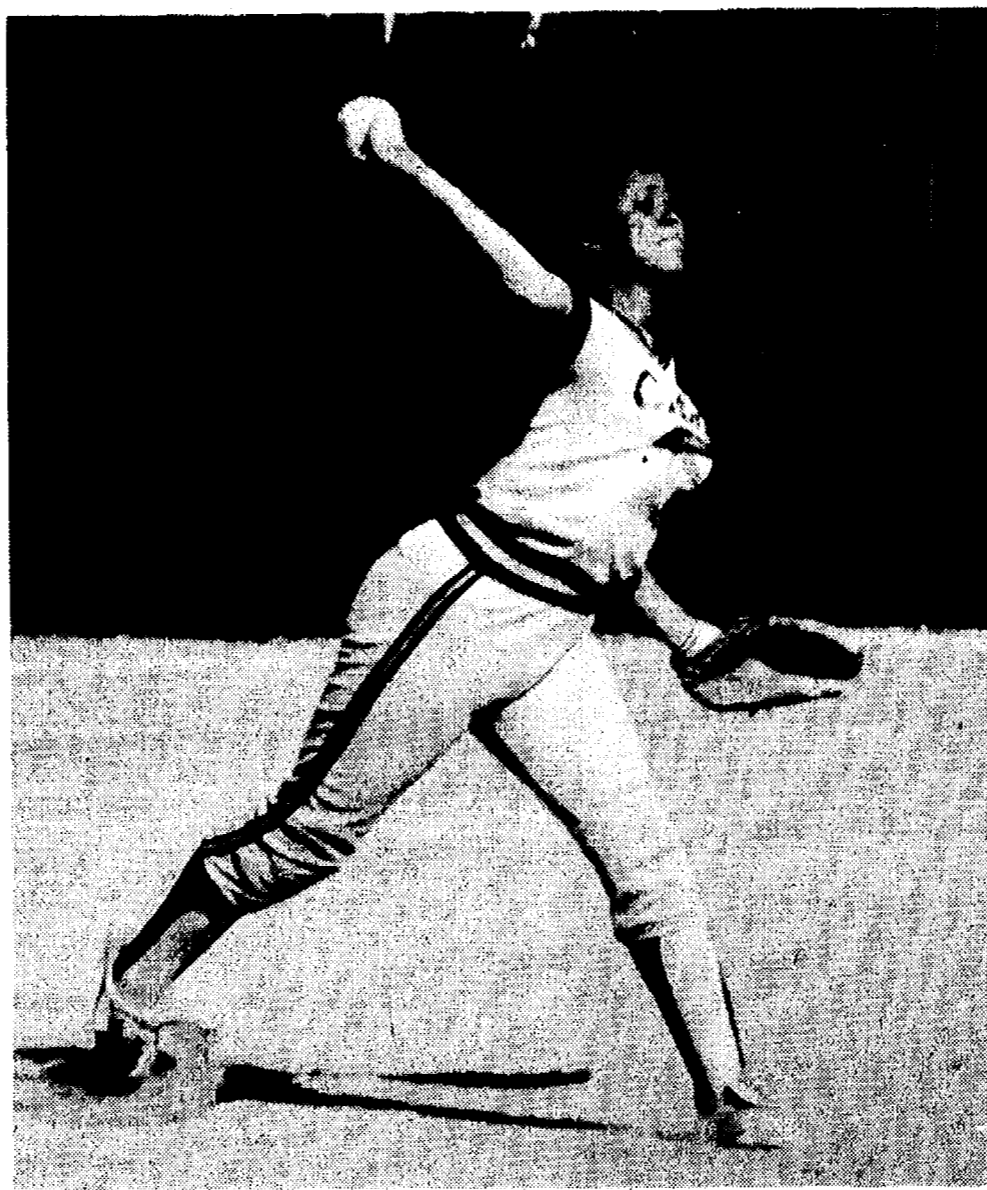

The varsity softball players preferred to spend their time trying to look mean. As I was taking individual shots of the seniors, a few of them decided they'd rather look like Charles Manson on a bad day, or maybe pro wrestlers on a good day.

Chris Basso tried. She put a scowl on her face and looked at the camera a little sideways. But her eyes were a dead giveaway. Her eyes are as mean as a kitten's.

Beth Kenney tried. She quit smiling, tilted her head a little sideways, but ended up looking more like she just struck out on a wide pitch.

Peggy Hammerschmidt tried, but couldn't quit smiling.

Looking mean apparently isn't their strength. But playing mean is, and that's what counts.

KELLY STUMP makes the play at third base as the Bulldogs routed Jackson Lumen Christi last Tuesday. The Bulldog defense has been tough in the early going.

Bulldog Netters Top Eaton Rapids, Central

Chelsea Bulldog tennis team won two of their first three matches of the season.

Chelsea knocked off both Eaton Rapids and Brooklyn Columbia Central on Tuesday, April 12 in a double-header played with eight-game pro sets.

The Bulldogs opened with a 6-1 win over BCC.

Kirk Lawton at number one singles shut out Mark Melling, 8-0.

Craig Maynard took an 8-2 victory over Ray Taylor at second singles.

Jason Richardson topped Kevin Waters at third singles, 8-2.

Adam Heeter stopped Steve Pier 8-0 at fourth singles.

Bob Pratt and Eric Worthing at first doubles lost the only match for Chelsea. They were defeated by Todd Pawson and Brian Richie.

Larry Moore and John Collins edged Brian Taylor and Chasie Baldwin, 9-7, at second doubles.

Shawn Capper and Chris Wilson beat Bill Kerr and Steve Rier at third doubles, 8-1.

Coach Rahn Rosentreter shuffled the line-up a little in the second match with Eaton Rapids as the Bulldogs were missing John Rigg and Jason Overdorf, who were both ill.

In singles action, Lawton topped Greg Hall, 8-2; Maynard defeated Matt Rosenburger, 8-3; Heeter topped Brandon Blakely, 8-5; and Capper lost to Mike Jones, 8-3.

In doubles, Pratt and Worthing defeated Jeff Gibbs and Ron Balser, 8-2; Moore and Collins whipped Ryan Sisea and Matt Lee, 8-2; and Richardson and Mike Mitchell stopped Gary Canfield and Chad Baker, 8-4.

On Friday, April 15 the Bulldogs lost to a strong Allen Park team, 5-2.

Lawton, at first singles, and the third doubles team of Richardson and Mitchell, notched the only wins for Chelsea.

Lawton whipped Steve Raymond, 6-2 and 6-0. Richardson and Mitchell won 7-5, 6-2.

Maynard, playing third singles, won the first set, 6-3, before losing the final two sets by the same score.

The Bulldogs lost every other match in two sets.

"Kirk Lawton and Jason Richardson are playing well and are probably the two brightest spots in the team," Rosentreter said.

"It will be nice to get Riggs and Overdorf healthy again."

Varsity Softball Team Wins Belleville Inv.

Chelsea Bulldogs won the Belleville Invitational Softball Tournament last Saturday by winning three of four games against class A teams.

Chelsea knocked off Belleville in the opener, 6-2, lost to Allen Park in the second game, 2-0, edged South Lyon in the third game, 3-1, and crushed Livonia Stevenson in the finale, 12-1.

"I was pretty pleased and the kids were happy," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We beat three pretty good teams and we probably would have beaten Allen Park later in the day."

Chelsea opened with Belleville in 38 degrees, then played a warm and fresh Allen Park team in the second game.

"We were cold and it was hard to hold on to the ball," Clarke said.

"I thought we played well considering the conditions."

In the opener against Belleville, Peggy Hammerschmidt struck out five, walked two and yielded three hits.

After falling behind in the first inning, Chelsea scored twice in the third and four times in the fourth.

Bunts by Alisha Dorow and Kelly Stump each produced runs in the second.

Kim Easton's two-run double in the fourth, along with singles by Hammerschmidt and Jenny Pichlik, highlighted the inning.

Hammerschmidt and Enderle each had two of Chelsea's seven hits.

In the second game against Allen Park, Chelsea had baserunners in each of the last three innings but couldn't get them home. A line drive, which had apparently scored two runs, went foul. A Bulldog tripped going into third base and was thrown out.

"When you play a good team like Allen Park, you need a break now and then," Clarke said.

Jenni Smith didn't deserve to lose the game as she held Allen Park to five hits, struck out eight batters and walked none.

Hammerschmidt and Laura Unterbrink each had two hits for Chelsea. Pichlik hit a double.

South Lyon, coached by former Chelsea pitching ace Amy Poljan, was the victim in the third game as Hammerschmidt tossed a two hitter.

Easton's home run over the fence in the second inning was one of the offensive highlights for Chelsea.

Unterbrink also had two hits.

"We played tight defense and didn't make mistakes," Clarke said.

The Bulldog offense finally got going in the fourth game against Livonia Stevenson as the first had 11 hits to back the three-hit pitching of Unterbrink.

Enderle had three hits for Chelsea and Basso and Dorow each hit safely twice.

Chelsea pulled ahead 6-1 after three innings. A five-run sixth inning put the game into mercy-rule territory.

Unterbrink gave up no earned runs and struck out three for her second victory of the season.

Gone with the wind: Over six billion tons of soil are wind-swept or rain-washed off U.S. farmland, forests, rangelands and streambanks each year. According to National Wildlife magazine, that's enough soil to fill a line of dump trucks stretching from the earth to the moon and three-quarters of the way back.

squared off against state-ranked Fenton and lost 11-7.
Fenton pounded out 15 hits against Greg Boughton, although Boughton only gave up four earned runs as his teammates committed seven errors.
The game was scoreless going into the fourth inning, when Fenton scored four runs with two outs. A solo homer started the damage.

Fenton scored four more times in the top of the fifth inning on a double, five walks and an error.

Tim Anderson's three-run homer accounted for three Chelsea runs in the sixth.

Chelsea completed their scoring in the seventh on singles by Morseau and Beard and a double by Larson.

Gabriel Richard stopped the Bulldogs in their second game, 6-1, in what Welton called a "guttery pitching performance," by Morseau, who was pitching on one day of rest.

Chelsea's lone run came in the first inning when Clouse singled, stole two bases, and came home on an errant pick-off attempt.

Acree, Boughton, Prentice and Beard each had two hits.

In the finale with Manchester, Chelsea scored five runs in the fifth to break open a game tied at one.

In the fifth, a double by Beard, walks to Matt Forner and Scott Gietzen, doubles by Kushmaul and Marshal, and a single by Nix scored the runs.

Three walks, three errors, and a bases-loaded single by Clouse scored the Bulldogs' final three runs in the seventh inning.

The Bulldog bats complemented a nine-strikeout, no-walk performance by Nix on the mound.

Chelsea finished last week with a 3-5 record.

JV Softball Team Wins Three

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity softball team whipped Jackson Lumen Christi in a double header last Tuesday, April 12 before splitting a double header with Pioneer High school on Thursday, April 14.

The opening game loss to Pioneer was the Bulldogs' first loss of the season.

Chelsea crunched Lumen Christi in the first game, 30-0, and took a 14-1 win in the nightcap.

Scharme Petty and Sara Musolf combined for the no-hitter in the four-inning mercy-rule game. It was Musolf's first mound appearance of the season.

Petty struck out seven, walked four, while Musolf struck out three and walked none.

"It was obviously a well-pitched game," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

"However, Lumen Christi had a young, inexperienced team."

Chelsea scored four runs in the first, six in the second, four in the third and 16 in the fourth. Heidi Boyer was 5-5, Petty went 5-6, Kelly Bellus was 3-3 and Musolf was 4-5 as Chelsea banged out 24 hits.

Four hits, including a triple by Petty, led to four runs in the first inning.

In the second, six hits, including a double by Heather Bro, and three walks led to six Chelsea runs.

In the third, the first four Bulldogs reached base and scored.

And in the fourth, Chelsea sent 22 batters to the plate for 16 runs.

Colleen Sharporn made her pitching debut in the second game, which turned into another mercy-rule win. Sharporn pitched all five innings, struck out seven batters and walked seven.

The Bulldogs backed her with 12 hits and no errors.

"Sharporn did a nice job and got out of danger in the first three innings," Sullins said.

"In the fifth inning she also got out of a bases-loaded situation with no outs with only one run being scored as she struck out two."

Offensively, Chelsea pecked away and held a 4-0 lead going into the fourth inning. In the fourth the Bulldogs scored eight times as they had nine consecutive base runners.

In the fifth, Musolf's triple scored the final two runs.

Carrie Flintoff, Dana Durst and Kelly Bellus each had two hits for Chelsea.

"We've been making the plays and putting the ball in play at key times," Sullins said. Only two Bulldogs struck out during the double-header.

In the opener with Pioneer, Chelsea scored six times in the bottom of the seventh inning but fell a run short in the 12-11 loss.

"The team showed a lot of character by constantly coming back and they almost got there," Sullins said.

Heidi Boyer pitched all seven innings, struck out four, walked eight but gave up only six earned runs.

Pioneer took a 3-0 lead in the first on three Chelsea errors. However, the Bulldogs tied the game in the bottom of the inning as the first six batters reached base.

Chelsea again tied the game at five in the bottom of the third inning on a double by Boyer and single by Sharporn.

Chelsea Girls Golf Team Wins Its Opening Match

Chelsea Bulldog golf team split its first two matches of the season. They beat Pinckney on Tuesday, April 12 at Lakelands Golf Course, 236-250, but lost to Saline on Thursday, April 14, 252-249.

In the victory over Pinckney, Laura Walton was Chelsea's low scorer with a 54. Meredith Johnson followed with a 56, Sharon Colombo shot a 57 and Jennifer Ghent came in at 69. Also playing for Chelsea were Barb Scriven and Traci Langbehn.

"Being a brand new team I really didn't know what to expect," said Chelsea coach Loren Winn.

"I understand that a 236 is a very good score."

The Saline match was played in cold and snowy weather at Inverness Golf Course.

Walton again led the Bulldogs with a 52. Meredith shot a 57, Scriven scored a 69 and Langbehn shot a 73.

"Saline is a very experienced team," Winn said.

JV Baseball Team Splits Two With Novi

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity baseball team split a double-header with Novi last Tuesday, April 12, losing the first game 5-2 and winning the second game, 5-3.

In the first game, Kyle Plank took the loss as Novi scored three runs in the sixth inning to break the game open.

"Kyle pitched well and we played pretty well defensively but we can't get the hits with runners in scoring position," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

Plank struck out eight, gave up seven hits and walked five batters.

Chelsea scored single runs in the second and seventh innings.

Mike Connell doubled in the second and scored two wild pitches later.

In the seventh, Jude Quilter tripled and Plank hit an RBI double.

Steve Emmert and Shawn Castleberry singled for the only other Chelsea hits.

Game two ended after 4.5 innings. Castleberry picked up the victory on the mound, giving up only six hits.

After falling behind 3-1, Chelsea scored four times in the third inning. Garth Girard singled and stole second, Doug Wingrove singled and stole second and Phil Eassa singled in both runs. Eassa then stole second and third and scored on Jim Hadley's single. After Hadley stole second, Rob Stofor's single drove him home.

In the first inning, Plank's double scored Connell, who had singled.

Chelsea had 10 hits for the game. Girard had two hits, Emmert doubled. Eassa had a team leading two RBIs.

Chelsea won the first game of a scheduled double header against South Lyon last Thursday, April 14, 11-6, in unseasonably cold weather.

The second game was called after 3.5 innings.

After falling behind 5-1, Chelsea scored 10 runs in the last three innings to give Wingrove his second victory of the season.

"South Lyon is an extremely aggressive team on offense and they hit the ball very hard," Ticknor said.

"The key for us was to make the plays we could and not make errors on the routine plays. Offensively we took advantage of their errors and had a strong finish."

Wingrove's two-out single scored Quilter in the first inning to give the Bulldogs a short-lived 1-0 lead. South Lyon scored four times in the bottom of the inning.

Chelsea's offense came to life in the fifth inning as Connell hit a two-run triple.

The Dogs scored six times in the sixth inning, featuring hits by Emmert, Hadley, Connell, Wingrove, three walks and a wild pitch. Emmert, Hadley, Murrell and Wingrove each had an RBI.

Connell's two out double in the seventh scored the final Bulldog run. The first run of the inning scored on two errors and a wild pitch.

Connell had the big day for the Dogs, collecting three hits and three RBIs. He also made several fine running catches in centerfield, Ticknor said.

Twelve Young Wrestlers Make Cut-Off for State Competition

Twelve wrestlers from the Chelsea Recreation Wrestling Club qualified to participate in the state freestyle meet next Friday and Saturday at Grand Rapids Junior College.

The 12 were among 15 Chelsea wrestlers to compete in the regional meet last Saturday, April 16 at Portage Central High school.

State qualifiers in the 9-10 age group included Jordan Dyer (first place), Brent Young (third), and Jeremy Feldkamp and Cameron Farmer (fourth).

Qualifiers in the 11-12 age group included Tim Nutt (first), John Bobo (second), and Bryndon Skelton (fourth).

Qualifiers in the 13-14 age group included Kevin McCalla (second), Colby Skelton (fourth), and Ian Dyer (fifth).

Rourke Skelton, Tim Wescott and George Rosario wrestled well but fell short of qualifying.

Wrestling in the 8-and-under group, for which there is no state level of competition, were Matt Hand (second) and Kevin Bloomensaat (fourth).

NOTICE TO VILLAGE RESIDENTS

Spring and summer lawn rakings, grass clippings, shrubbery trimmings and other debris should not be loosely placed in the streets or public right-of-ways. Village residents who wish to dispose of these items must place them in plastic bags and set them at the curb for the regular Tuesday and Friday garbage and refuse collection. The total limit is three (3) bags per household for each collection date.

As in the past, Village Public Works crews will continue to pickup and dispose of tree trimmings. However, we do request that tree trimmings be cut in lengths not exceeding eight (8) feet and placed neatly near the curb.

Please keep in mind that the pickup is for tree trimmings ONLY not entire trees.

THE SCHNEIDER TRIO, a local group made up of Rob, Robin and Melanie Schneider, will present a sacred concert at Immanuel Bible church, on Saturday, April 23, at 7 p.m. Singing as a group for two years, their ministry of vocal music is a unique blend with Rob's instrumental music and verbal sharing. They have been very well received at area churches and throughout Michigan. Everyone is welcome. The church is located at 145 E. Summit, Chelsea.

CUB SCOUTS from Pack No. 435 are leading a can and bottle drive on Saturday, April 30 from 12 noon until 3 p.m. as a service to the community and to raise funds for general cub activities, particularly the summer day camp program. The boys will canvass the village door-to-door asking for bottle and can donations. Chelsea Lumber Co. has donated the use of a truck for sorting and collecting the bottles. Polly's Market will provide a space in the parking lot for the collection and will handle the return of the bottles. Advance drop-off sites are Scott Boughtons at 1325 N. Freer and Barney Culver at 13910 Trinkle Rd. Chair of the event is Lynn Culver. She may be reached at 475-7098 for further information or advanced pick-up. Shown in the picture are Cub Scouts from Den No. 9, making advanced pick-ups, left to right, Andy Bennett, Ryan Lafferty, David Mote, and Karl Tremper. Ben Culver is in back.

Absentee Ballots Available For Beef Checkoff Vote

Beef cattle, dairy and veal producers have until April 29 to obtain absentee ballots for the Beef Promotion and Research Act—the beef checkoff.

Any person who has produced and sold one or more head of cattle during the past year is eligible to vote. Voters are being asked to approve a $1 assessment for every head of livestock sold.

The bulk of the assessment would be used for consumer education, promotion and advertising, university research, producer education and market research.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from Steve Rust, Department of Animal Science, MSU, East Lansing 48824. Rust, an MSU extension beef specialist, has been designated the state referendum co-ordinator.

Producers who vote by absentee ballot have until May 3 (before the close of the business day) to get their ballots to the MSU Co-operative Extension Service office in the county where they reside. The ballots may be mailed or delivered in person.

The absentee ballot vote and the May 10 in-person vote are being coordinated by the county extension office, as required by the act. In-person voting will be conducted during business hours May 10 at all county extension offices.

The ballots will be counted by the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Additional information about the voting procedure may be obtained from Rust by calling him at 517/355-8408.

Information about the creation and purpose of the referendum may be obtained by contacting Pat Scott (517/373-3101) at the Michigan Beef Industry Commission. The address is 815 Coolidge Rd., Suite 307, Lansing 48912.

1988 CONFIRMATION CLASS members of St. Paul United Church of Christ, Chelsea, were received into membership on Palm Sunday, April 24, at the Service of Confirmation. They have completed two years of study, which included a summer trip to St. Louis, Mo., in 1987, several retreats, and visits to places of interest such as the Saline Evangelical Home. Between now and the end of May, they will continue to visit a number of other institutions which serve in special ways to meet the needs of people. Teachers have been Mrs. Erma O'Connor and Pastor Koch. Members of the class are, first row, left to right, Grace Hardin, Laurie Boyer, Jane Irwin, and Michael Terpstra; second row, Katherine Flynn, Pastor Koch, and Susan Thompson.

Youth Rally Slated At Free Methodist

Sunday, April 24 is the date, 6 p.m. is the time, for the next Youth Rally to be held at the Chelsea Free Methodist church. This will be the third in a series of services geared especially for the teens of our area. Large gatherings have previously heard a new life testimony by Pastor Mearl Bradley and a musical-ministry presentation by recording artist Oren Tricke.

The upcoming rally will feature Herb Wilson, executive director of Huron Valley Youth for Christ, as guest speaker. Pastor Wilson has been with Y.F.C. for the past two and one-half years following 12 years as a missionary in south and central America and in India. He has also served as both senior and youth pastors in churches. He and his wife and four children are currently residing in Pinckney.

Barbara Jason will be the featured soloist for the rally. Barbara is one of the 20 volunteer staff members of Y.F.C. and has been involved for two years in the Huron Valley Chapter. Other special music will be provided by Bobby Pratt, a senior at Chelsea High school.

All teens and youth directors are welcome to the rally. For more information call Lisa Stebleton, 428-4824.

NOTICE TO CHELSEA VILLAGE RESIDENTS ANNUAL SPRING RUBBISH CLEANUP SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1988

The 1988 Annual Village Spring Residential Rubbish Cleanup will be held this year on Saturday, May 7, 1988.

Village residents may place their rubbish on their lawn extension the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday prior to the pickup date.

The purpose of this annual cleanup is to assist Village residents in disposing of their household rubbish that accumulates during the year, such as, items that are normally too large in size or too much in quantity to be disposed of through the regular weekly collection service provided by the Village. VILLAGE CREWS WILL NOT PICKUP DEMOLITION MATERIALS SUCH AS BUILDING OR PARTS OF BUILDINGS, CONCRETE OR ASPHALT DRIVEWAYS AND SIDEWALKS, AUTOS OR LARGE AUTO PARTS.

Village Crews will not pick up brush and branches during this Annual Cleanup unless it is placed in plastic bags. Village Crews will not double back to make pickups. Once a street is completed, the Village will not provide pickup service a second time. Residents placing rubbish at the street after the initial pickup will be asked to remove it at their own expense. We ask residents to have their rubbish at the curb prior to the start of the collection.

The Village asks that the following rules be followed:

Place in separate piles:

- 1) All metals, including appliances
- 2) All wood and lumber materials
- 3) All other items not included above

Wood and lumber materials must be cut in lengths not exceeding four (4) feet and tied in bundles.

No liquids, acid, paint, gas, oil, chemicals, explosives or hazardous materials of any kind shall be included for collection.

Small items must be bundled or placed in plastic bags suitable to hold their weight.

Any item that cannot be safely handled by two (2) men will not be taken.

We again remind you that brush and small branches will not be collected during this pickup unless placed in plastic bags. Village Crews will collect brush at a later date. If you have any questions regarding this pickup, you may call the village hall at 475-1771.

Church Women Plan Rummage Sale April 29

The annual fund-raiser for Chelsea Church Women United will be a Rummage Sale on Friday, April 29, at the Longworth Building, Main St., Chelsea.

Chelsea Church Women have been in the forefront in extending a helping hand to change conditions that foster injustice in our society. In March a contribution was made to help promote the National Church Women United Program: "Assignment—The Poverty of Women and Children."

This imperative, to address the pauperization and marginalization of women and children (especially the poor), is a five-year commitment from May, 1987 to May, 1991. Some of the goals are to involve participants of the movement in a process of reflection-action-reflection; updating the action plans according to the expenses of CWU's constituency and the need of women and children in poverty; and to organize a national event in 1988 focusing on the commitment of CWU, organizations and denominations to work against the pauperization of women.

Some of the causes for the problem of poverty include circumstances beyond the control of local people such as natural disasters, lack of education and lack of resources that causes low standard of living, exploitation, and inadequate structures. Responses to these problems that Church Women United work to attain will go beyond charity to reform, liberation, and transformation of this world to make it habitable for humans.

Chelsea Unit of Church Women United asks the community for its support to raise funds to achieve the Imperative's goals by participation in the Rummage Sale, Friday, April 29, at the Longworth Bldg., from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Contributions would also be greatly appreciated. Please call Joanne Fredal, at 428-8010 or drop off items at the Longworth Building Thursday afternoon.

Auto Wanders From Parking Lot

A Chelsea Milling Co. employee may have been the victim of a prank by a fellow employee in an incident last Friday, April 15.

Chelsea police found the man's car in the middle of the road at Hayes and Middle Sts. with the lights on and keys in the ignition at 12:48 a.m. The car had been parked in the Chelsea Milling parking lot with the keys still in it.

"So now farmers are paying a 15¢ a gallon tax that they will get back from and will then file for a refund next year. Plainly put, on April 1, farmers began making interest free loans to the federal government to finance the federal deficit," Almy said.

Farmers Now Paying Diesel Fuel Tax

Farmers are now paying a 15¢ per gallon excise tax on diesel fuel they purchase for on-farm use. Collection of the tax began April 1 despite strong congressional support for exempting farmers and other off-road diesel fuel users from paying the tax and then filing for a refund.

"More than 250 House members and more than half of the Senate supported legislation repealing the unjust tax," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "The support was there, but they failed to act quickly enough to beat the April 1 deadline."

In a last-ditch effort to delay the tax, American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner met with Treasury Secretary James Baker on March 31, but Baker said his hands were tied. According to the secretary, Congress mandated the change in the diesel fuel tax collection procedure in the budget reconciliation bill and altering the collection would violate the law.

Farm tax collections from the tax are estimated at over $400 million annually. Almy said that farmers with refunds over $1,000 due them could claim quarterly, but smaller amounts are subject to annual refunds.

In addition to farm operators, others affected include barge operators, commercial fishermen, lumber and oil operations.

Dial-A-Garden Topics Listed

Church Women Plan Rummage Sale April 29

The annual fund-raiser for Chelsea Church Women United will be a Rummage Sale on Friday, April 29, at the Longworth Building, Main St., Chelsea.

Chelsea Church Women have been in the forefront in extending a helping hand to change conditions that foster injustice in our society. In March a contribution was made to help promote the National Church Women United Program: "Assignment—The Poverty of Women and Children."

This Imperative, to address the pauperization and marginalization of women and children (especially the poor), is a five-year commitment from May, 1987 to May, 1991. Some of the goals are to involve participants of the movement in a process of reflection-action-reflection; updating the action plans according to the expenses of CWU's constituency and the need of women and children in poverty; and to organize a national event in 1988 focusing on the commitment of CWU, organizations and denominations to work against the pauperization of women.

Some of the causes for the problem of poverty include circumstances beyond the control of local people such as natural disasters, lack of education and lack of resources that causes low standard of living, exploitation, and inadequate structures. Responses to these problems that Church Women United work to attain will go beyond charity to reform, liberation, and transformation of this world to make it habitable for humans.

Chelsea Unit of Church Women United asks the community for its support to raise funds to achieve the Imperative's goals by participation in the Rummage Sale, Friday, April 29, at the Longworth Bldg., from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Contributions would also be greatly appreciated. Please call Joanne Fredal, at 428-8010 or drop off items at the Longworth Building Thursday afternoon.

Farmers Now Paying Diesel Fuel Tax

Farmers are now paying a 15¢ per gallon excise tax on diesel fuel they purchase for on-farm use. Collection of the tax began April 1 despite strong congressional support for exempting farmers and other off-road diesel fuel users from paying the tax and then filing for a refund.

"More than 250 House members and more than half of the Senate supported legislation repealing the unjust tax," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "The support was there, but they failed to act quickly enough to beat the April 1 deadline."

In a last-ditch effort to delay the tax, American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner met with Treasury Secretary James Baker on March 31, but Baker said his hands were tied. According to the secretary, Congress mandated the change in the diesel fuel tax collection procedure in the budget reconciliation bill and altering the collection would violate the law.

"So now farmers are paying a 15¢ a gallon tax that they are exempt from and will then file for a refund next year. Plainly put, on April 1, farmers began making interest free loans to the federal government to finance the federal deficit," Almy said.

Farm tax collections from the tax are estimated at over $400 million annually. Almy said that farmers with refunds over $1,000 due them could claim quarterly, but smaller amounts are subject to annual refunds.

In addition to farm operators, others affected include barge operators, commercial fishermen, lumber and oil operations.

Smith, Post 29 American Legion in the second District which covers 33 posts in four counties: Washtenaw, Lenawee, Jackson and Monroe.

The Second District has a candidate for Department of Michigan Commander in Thomas P. Cadmus from the Glen H. Daykins Post 155 of Britton. The Second District also has a candidate for Auxiliary President from Brooklyn, the Wilber Baslett Post Unit 315 in Mary Jane Choates.

Programs that the American Legion finances and promotes are: Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation, Children and Youth, Americanism, Boys State, Oratorical Contest, American Legion Baseball, Legislative programs, Scouting and Student Troopers.

One of the principal programs of National Commander Jake Comer is a drive to raise $1 million to support the child welfare foundation. It is to be financed by contributions from members of the American Legion, Legion Auxiliary and Sons of the American Legion.

These programs are sponsored and conducted by the 5,500 members of the 33 posts of the Second District.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training (BAT) is charged with ensuring the welfare of apprentices, establishing and registering programs, and promoting labor and management co-operation.

LEAH LAMB, Jennie Prentice, and Nathan Redmond have been named local winners of the 19th annual America & Me essay contest. The three wrote on "What the Future of America Holds for Me." Redmond's essay will be entered in the state level competition, from which the top 10 essays in Michigan will be selected.

Chelsea Aquatic Club Presents Reorganization Plan

Monday evening 30 adults gathered in a large classroom at Beach School and sat in silence for 20 minutes with their heads bowed. In the front of the room, Mike Cross rolled up his shirt-sleeves as he paced quietly back and forth while his co-chairman, Ron Montange, sat at a long table in passive contemplation.

The assembly was a special meeting of the Chelsea Aquatic Club to pass on a major proposal to the Chelsea School District. It was contained in a 26-page book filled with statements, charts and graphs. The silent crowd was there to inspect the proposal and see if it truly represented their views on how the CAC and the School District should work together. If accepted, the plan would establish a program at the school natatorium that might serve for years to come.

The proposal covered inter-scholastic team competition, the swim club, community education-recreation-instruction, and school curricula. Also under consideration are scuba lessons, water safety classes, lifesaving (Red Cross), pool rentals, instructional programs for other communities and physical therapy.

A plan of organization was presented on a flow chart and a major proposal provided for the hiring of a staff pool director. Proposed job descriptions for all pool personnel were outlined. The charges made by other pools in the county—the Ann Arbor "Y, Ypsilanti and Milan—were compared with those made by Chelsea. This was followed by listing of sources of revenue, and projected expenses, based on a tentative annual total of $60,650.

The members' period of silent study was followed by a group discussion covering key positions in the proposal.

At the end of the meeting, there was unanimous approval and congratulations to Mike Cross for his work in putting the finished presentation together. Now it has been presented to administrators of the school district, with information copies to the School Board.

DAVE REID, 90, and his miniature schnauzer, Buttons Wee Mac.

Dave Reid Observes 90th

Friday Dave Reid celebrated his 90th birthday in the home which he built with his own hands at 714 McKinley Rd. He was employed at the Chelsea Spring plant for 27 years, beginning as a mechanic in 1936 and retiring in 1964 as superintendent of the night shift.

Reid has the distinction of serving in both World Wars. He joined the Scottish regiment of the British Army in 1915 where he was wounded and decorated.

He came from his native Scotland to the United States in 1923 and became an American citizen. At age 44 he enlisted in the U. S. Army and served in support activities with the 12th Armored Division at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Dave's horse, Trigger, was a familiar sight to visitors and passers-by on McKinley Rd. The horse died in 1974 at age 33. Reid's constant companion now is his miniature schnauzer whose name, Buttons Wee Mac, is proclaimed on the front plate of his master's car.

In addition to visiting relatives in Canada, Dave has made a number of trips to Scotland. During the week of his 90th birthday he was visited by numerous neighbors and friends from Chelsea as well as other towns in Michigan and Ontario.

JV Team Wins Three

Pioneer scored eight runs over the next four innings.

Bro, Scharphorn and Boyer each had two hits.

A four-run fifth inning by Chelsea gave the Bulldogs a 10-9 victory in a game shortened by cold and darkness.

Scharphorn singled home two runs and later scored on a passed ball for the game-winning run.

Petty pitched a one-hitter, struck out 10 batters and walked nine. Chelsea also had six errors.

"The errors caused a lot of frustration but again the team gathered themselves and did what was needed to succeed in the fifth inning," Sullins said.

"These two games gave us a lot of pressurized moments and if we learn from them it was a good day."

Scharphorn had two of Chelsea's five hits, including a home run.

Chelsea High School National Honor Society is asking for help from the community in preparation for the blood drive to be held Tuesday, May 3.

The spring blood drive, an annual event, will be held on May 3 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Chelsea High school.

Chelsea Nun Celebrates Golden Jubilee As Nun

Sister Mary Lambert Juergens, daughter of the late Joseph Juergens and Rosa Horger Juergens, was born Oct. 31, 1916, the second youngest child of 13 brothers and sisters. Sister Lambert is celebrating her Golden Jubilee on April 24, at St. Lucy's in St. Clair Shores. One sister, the late Sister Leonardine celebrated her Diamond Jubilee just before she died on Jan. 19, 1988 and will be missed.

Sister Lambert was born in Dearborn and spent her early years there. Her parents moved to Chelsea where Sister continued her education and from where she entered the Adrian Dominican Convent on Feb. 4, 1938. She assured her parents that if Sister Leonardine stayed, she could, too.

With the exception of one year in Illinois, she taught in Michigan schools for 35 years. Illness forced her to retire from teaching but she remains active with various services in St. Lucy Parish in St. Clair Shores, where she now resides.

On April 24, Sister Lambert will celebrate her Golden Jubilee with relatives and friends. She will renew her vows during the Noon Mass, and will receive all her guests in the Parish Hall where a dinner will be served.

During the week of June 26, Sister Lambert will also participate with her 26 Jubilee Sisters in a special time of joyous activities provided for them by the community in Adrian.

Surviving brothers and sisters include Joseph, Jr. of Seattle, Wash.; Anthony (Tony) of Brevard, N.C.; Leo, Alfred and Leonard of Chelsea; and Julia Honeck of Luther.

Deceased members of the family include Lambert and John of Detroit; Raymond and Alda of Chelsea; Sister Leonardine of Adrian; and Albert of Battle Creek.

Motel Still Being Planned For Chelsea

The marketing survey for Chelsea's first motel was scheduled to be completed today, according to developer Bill Weber.

Weber said his Arbogate Chelsea motel will have at least 50 units instead of 40 on four acres behind Broderick Shell station on M-52 near I-94. He has yet to submit a site plan to the village but said he will shortly.

Weber said that he and his partner, Jim Nye, will act as their own general contractors and hire local trades people when possible.

The units will come pre-assembled from Columbus, O., and be placed on a slab at the site.

"The motel's a sure thing," Weber said.

"I'll know more in a few weeks."
