ONE HUNDRED-SEVENTEENTH YEAR—No. 52

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1988

24 Pages This Week

MIRACULOUSLY, NO ONE WAS HURT when this truck carrying hay slammed head-on into a tree on Old US-12 near St. Mary's Catholic church Saturday morning. The crash caused the gas tank to rupture, which set the whole wagon, owned by the Trinkle family, on fire.

Firemen battled the blaze for several hours but had the mess cleaned up later in the day. According to witnesses, the truck went off the road trying to avoid hitting a stopped car.

Council Boosts Millage For General Fund, Taxes To Rise by 4.68 Mills

Chelsea Village Council raised the base village tax millage by 16 percent after a public hearing at its regular meeting last Tuesday, May 17. The 1.68 mill rise, in combination with 3.92 mills of additional debt service for the wastewater treatment plant, means taxes will rise by 36 percent over-all this year.

No one commented during the brief hearing.

Council effectively raised the general fund millage by .82 mills. Due to truth in taxation laws, the village's base rate had to drop from 10.94 to 10.08 mills. However, because a portion of wastewater plant debt service has to be funded by the general fund, a rise of 1.68 mills was necessary.

Over-all, village taxes will rise by 4.68 mills to 17.62 mills this year.

During the first roll-call vote trustee Phil Boham cast a "no" vote in protest of the absence of trustees Richard Steele and Stephanie Kanten. Boham's dissenting vote forced another vote as five supporting votes were required for the motion to adopt the millage to pass.

Earlier in the evening, Boham's motion to support a two-mill assessment for the DDA failed although three of the five present members of the council voted for it.

"There's two people missing on the council," Boham said.

"I don't think the four people sitting here should be put in the position of passing an operating budget when one vote yes or no makes the difference. I have an ethical problem with what's going on and I think we all have a moral responsibility to be here when we have major issues on this agenda.

"Everybody has personal problems to deal with and I don't have any problem with that. But when we have a major operational financial issue then we ought to figure out a mechanism to get a full council there. We're talking about the growth and the future of the village."

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite replied, "The only thing that I can say about that in the defense of the five of us here is although this looks complicated and big, we've already approved as a body the budget. Now we've got to fund the damn thing. Remember one thing, too. We can't follow these people around and make them come to the meeting."

The vote could not be delayed or village government would have been forced to close, Satterthwaite said.

A breakdown of the millage is 11.76 for the general fund, .94 for debt service for 1959 and 1970 bonds, 3.92 for 1987 bonds for the wastewater plant, and 1 for McKune Memorial Library.

State Equalized Value of village property rose from $49,213,315 to $55,589,120 this year.

DDA Mulls Next Move After Village Council Rejects Tax Extension

In a surprise move last Tuesday, Chelsea Village Council turned down the Downtown Development Authority's request for a six-year extension of the two-mill special assessment on downtown property. The money would have funded a DDA parking program, the group's first project.

After an hour-long, standing-room-only public hearing in the council chambers, council vetoed a motion by trustee Phil Boham to extend the property tax. Although the vote was 3-2 in favor of the motion, a two-thirds vote of all elected council members is needed to pass a tax measure. Trustees Dennis Hall and Gary Bentley dissented. Trustees Richard Steele and Stephanie Kanten were absent.

DDA members and other merchants reacted angrily to the vote and one businessman said loudly, "I can't believe it."

Hall and Bentley said they based their opposition to the parking plan on the proposed funding, not on the various elements of the plan.

"I'd like to see another (funding) proposal," Hall said.

Hall said he is against imposing another tax on the nine residents who live within the downtown development district and could not be excluded from it.

"If there were some way to eliminate those residents I wouldn't have a problem with the plan at all," Hall said last Friday.

"We're kind of caught in the middle here. On one hand you feel for the merchants, but what about the people that live in the district?"

The two-mill assessment, which so far has been levied for one year and has been used primarily for DDA legal and consulting fees, would have been used to pay back a village loan for the $71,500 parking project. The loan would have paid for $44,000 of the project, with the remaining money coming from the village's parking fund.

The project would create, the DDA says, about 110 new parking spaces, with many of them reserved for long-term parking. Much of existing parking would be changed to short-term.

Although the measure was defeated, council members and DDA chairman Paul Frisinger were optimistic late last week that a satisfactory agreement could be reached.

"We've had some indications that council could bring it up for a vote again," Frisinger said.

"It seems as though maybe they're rethinking their position."

The length of the two-mill assessment could be shortened considerably if the DDA agrees to use tax increment financing (TIF) funds to pay for the parking program, Boham suggested during the meeting.

TIF has been ruled legal by the Michigan State Supreme Court and has been approved by council as the DDA's chief fund-raising mechanism. TIF will allow the DDA to capture the tax revenue that is generated by an increase in value of property within the downtown development district.

However, the DDA cannot collect TIF money until next year, which would delay the parking program if there is not another temporary source of money.

Hall said he would be likely to support a parking plan that uses TIF funds rather than a tax increase.

DDA argues that the parking program is needed now, before the two proposed shopping centers are constructed on the south end of the village. It argues that easy parking in the malls will begin to lure business away from the downtown. It also says another 40 or 50 cars will be in town to take up parking spaces once the renovations of the courthouse and the Sylvan Hotel building are complete.

Various comments were made about the parking program itself during the public hearing.

Village Clerk Allen Anderson, who is one of the residents in the downtown development district, said he had studied the parking situation over a two-week period at various times during the day and never found less than 28 available parking spots at meters. That, he said, led him to believe parking is convenient and there really is no parking problem.

Several people said the lack of available parking close to stores is largely caused by downtown employees using the spaces for themselves. DDA plans to build a new lot behind the fire hall on W. Middle St. for long-term parking for employees of downtown businesses and people on courthouse business.

Judy Moisan, a South St. resident, said that as many as 30 or 40 cars a day use her driveway as a turnaround and that by 6:30 a.m. there is no parking left in front of her home. She also said that occasionally she has to get someone to move a car so that she can get her car out of her driveway. Frisinger

Gun-Wielder in Park May Face Assault Charge

Charges are pending against a 29-year-old Chelsea man who allegedly pointed a semi-automatic weapon at a man in Pierce Park on Saturday, May 14.

According to Chelsea police, a Sylvan Rd. man, his roommate and a Lane St. man all witnessed the incident. One of the Sylvan Rd. men contacted police at approximately 12:46 p.m.

When police arrived at the park they could not locate the suspect, who allegedly confronted the man from his pick-up truck. Police conducted a pattern search of the area and discovered a truck matching the description on Wilkinson St.

Police discovered a Ruger 10/22 22-caliber semi-automatic weapon in the right side of the cab. Police said the gun was fully loaded with a 50-round magazine. Another 100 rounds were on the seat, police said.

According to police, the man said he and a friend had earlier been at Cavanaugh Lake park when they were confronted by two men, one of whom was the Sylvan Rd. man. The Sylvan Rd. man began to beat up the Wilkinson St. man's friend. The Wilkinson St. man said he feared for the safety of his friend and he subdued the attacker by hitting him on the head with a baseball bat.

The man told police he was carrying the gun because he feared for his life. The Sylvan Rd. man told police that the gun wielder told him Chelsea police said he could shoot him on sight.

AN OPEN HOUSE will be held this Saturday from 3-5 p.m. at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club for Mrs. Bert (Edith) White, who will be 100 years old on June 1. Her family moved to Chelsea in 1920 and 10 years later moved to her current home at 414 McKinley St. She is a member of the First United Methodist church and the Rebekah Lodge. Her family consists of six remaining children: Richard, of Farmington Hills, Mildred Titus, of Plymouth, Barbara Clark, of Leesburg, Fla., Audrey Patterson of Clare, Nancy Harris of Milwaukee, Wis., and Vera Briston, of Chelsea. Two sons, Clayton and Edward, are deceased. She also has many grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Recommends Enforcing Seat Belt Law, Banning Radar Detectors

Stricter enforcement of Michigan's safety belt law and a ban on the sale and use of radar detectors were two of the 48 priority recommendations made in the final report of the Governor's Conference on Traffic Safety, which was released recently by Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

Austin called the report "a life-saving agenda for the 1990's."

The 48 priority recommendations selected by the conference's Executive Council from a list of 260 recommendations deal with: restraint use and protective devices; impaired driving or walking; road improvement and traffic control; vehicle operator qualification; organization and planning; data resource management; and public education and marketing.

Although Austin said there was no "top" recommendation, he stressed the importance of seat belt usage. "The one issue that deserves considerable attention is to get more people to wear safety belts," he said.

Col. Ritchie T. Davis, director of the State Police, agreed. He has issued a directive to state troopers asking for enforcement of the current law, and said that more citations and verbal warnings will probably be issued to motorists not in compliance with the law.

Davis said increased usage of seat belts would have a major impact on traffic safety, and estimated 48 percent of the state's residents currently use seat belts.

"If we can get 70 percent of the people using them by 1990, we might have a greater traffic impact than anything else we could do," Davis said.

Austin said increased seat belt usage is necessary because Michigan drivers are still involved in too many traffic fatalities. "Although great progress has been made in the last 15 years, Michigan's annual highway death toll of 15,000 is unacceptable."

The report recommends that the Legislature ban the use, possession and sale of radar detectors, but Austin admitted the odds of it happening soon are very slim.

A bill (SB 786) that would ban radar detectors is currently buried in the Senate State Affairs, Tourism and Transportation Committee, and attempts to ban radar detectors last year when the speed limit was raised to 65 mph failed.

"I don't know if the climate is any better (than last year in the Legislature), but it is a measure we ought to pursue," Austin said.

The report also recommends that safety helmets and eye protection be required for off-road vehicles (ORVs) and snowmobiles, which was hailed by Department of Natural Resources Director Gordon E. Guyer.

"The off-road vehicle issue needs attention. I think it's got out of control and is still out of control," he said.

Guyer added an ethic needs to be developed on how ORVs should be used in regards to Michigan's environment, which he said are often misused. "We should get on with implementing a large part of this agenda as quickly as possible."

Department of Transportation Director James P. Pitz pointed to items dealing with truck safety and safety around construction zones as being critical.

He said in 1986 there were 7,000 accidents on construction sites involving motor vehicles, and, with 7,000 projects planned for this year, "I'm very concerned about safety on construction sites."

Pitz also said truck accidents have gone up 81 percent since 1982. "I'd like to see fines raised where it's a genuine deterrent to break the law," he said.

The 400 conference participants, who met last November, included engineers, traffic safety specialists, law enforcement officials, members of the judiciary, researchers, educators, administrators, representatives of organizations and individuals interested in traffic safety.

Vandalism, Theft Hit Cars at CHS

Two incidents of larceny and vandalism in the Chelsea High school parking lot have been reported to Chelsea police in the past week.

On Monday, May 16, someone shattered the sun roof of an automobile.

On Friday, May 20, an 18-year-old woman reported that someone broke into her car and took $40 in cash from the glove box.

Police said the car was locked and that someone had used a pry instrument to gain entry through the back window.

Police also said an obscenity was written in dust on the car's hood.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle is quick to say that fingers lie and liars finger unless he's holding some of the statics he clips from some mighty odd places. Saturday night he came to bat in the top of the first and delivered some numbers on farmers and ranchers that he claimed was part of a big picture that showed this country is so full of minorities it can't come up with a majority.

Ed had saw where the USDA Economic Research Service found that 5,226,000 Americans lived on farms in 1986, a drop of 129,000 from the year before. That works out, Ed reported, to 2.2 percent of the nation's population, and only 8.3 percent of the rural population. Ed said that goes a long way toward showing why candidates for national offices will take the farm photo opportunities and make the right noises about how much the country needs farmers, and then run back to town and git on with making hay where the votes shine.

Fer sure, Ed said, farmers are a minority, and small as they are they won't vote alike in any two sections of the country. Farmers in Kansas see the need to sell another million metric tons of wheat to Russia at support prices, but git the Government out of tobacco price supports. North Carolina farmers are all fer tobacco support, but they want to know how the Government can outlaw trade with South Africa while selling wheat to Godless, ruthless communists.

Practical speaking, Ed said, the country is made up of minorities broke up in minorities, and politicians know this. In the long, long ago, before TV turned the 30-second commercial into all things for all people, Ed said a candidate could git away with winding up a speech by saying "them's my sentiments exactly, and if you don't like em I'll be happy to change em." Nowadays he's got to stand in the factory in his shirt-sleeves, hold his coat over his shoulder with one hand, shake a ordinary American's hand with the other hand and keep grinning like a mule eating briars.

That done, Ed went on, the candidate sniffs out the minority with the money and burrows right in. If he sets the money minority agin all the others he wins. If he don't, Ed said, he's gone with the wind of the next popularity contest. That's why, Ed went on, you won't hear a politician speak ill of a system that pays Chrysler's Iococa $18 million a year and divides $248 million in sales bonuses among 61 Ford high ups.

The fact is, Ed allowed, politics is more practical than reasonable. Political movers and shakers like their voters fragmented because they're easier to hear and ignore. That's why the Vitnam veterans, the Social Security Notch Babies, the farmers are listened to and little else, was Ed's words.

The fellers was sharp divided on Ed's stump speech. Clem Webster said Ed was exactly wrong on the role of minorities, and how politicians deal with em. If the small voices in this country are going to be heard, Clem said, they got to have a seat in the hall. Local governments that changed to at large voting are going back to wards, he said, because it's practical politics.

Personal, I think practical can be took to far. My old lady told me she was going to cure me of being grumpy at breakfast. Being the practical majority in our house, she did. She quit fixing me any.

said the parking program might include short-term parking signs on side streets to help alleviate those problems.

Dave Longworth, owner of Longworth Plating, objected to the suggestion that his employees should park in a proposed long-term lot on the east end of the railroad depot because he has been leasing space for parking on the west end of the depot for a number of years. Anton Nielsen, owner of Farmers Supply, said he has also been renting space next to the depot for 40 years.

DDA wants to create short-term parking spaces on the west side of the depot.

Definition Being Sought For Pig Sty

Expressing concern about pig sties, gounset huts of corrugated metal which are being built in Dexter township, the township board asked their attorney, Peter Flintoft, to work on a definition. Once a definition is agreed on, the township will be able to enforce the appropriate zoning ordinance.

Trustee Doug Smith described the pig sties as "beastly looking." He said they are bought in kits and can be added onto until they are 50 feet long.

The board denied permission to close portions of North Territorial, Dexter-Pinckney, and Stoffer Rds. for a triathlon to be held Sunday, June 5, in which participants will swim, run, and bike. They gave as a reason that the road closings would interfere with the normal Sunday morning activities, such as going to church, of Dexter township residents.

The board did approve permission for Harris Dr. to be extended. The extension will be 22-feet wide and of road commission quality.

Andrew Johnson was the only ex-President to be elected to the United States Senate.

Hearing on 'Fish for Fun' Regulation for Five Miles On Huron River, June 8

A public hearing to discuss limiting bass fishing to "no kill or fish for fun" on five miles of the Huron River between Dexter village and Delhi Rapids will be held Wednesday, June 8 at 7:30 in the Activities Building of the Hudson Mills Park on North Territorial Rd.

James Merna of the Michigan Institute of Fisheries Research will be there to answer questions and explain the research he has done in the last five years.

Merna explains that the special fishing regulation is being suggested "to increase the population of large bass, making bass fishing more fun."

Fisherman will still be allowed to fish in the restricted area, they will just be asked to throw any bass they catch back into the water. They will be allowed to keep any of the other fish they snare such as bullheads, rockbass, northern pike, croppies, and walleyes.

For the last five years Merna has been studying the fish population in the Huron River from a 10-mile stretch starting at Bell Rd. near Big Portage Lake to Delhi Rapids. He has also surveyed the fishermen to see how often they fish and what they harvest. He will be glad to answer general questions at the hearing on his research as well as giving specific information on the proposed regulation.

Merna works out of an office in Ann Arbor at the University of Michigan.

His institute is part of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Merna explains that special regulations such as the one to be discussed June 8 are becoming more popular across the United States. For instance, up north there are trout streams protected in this manner. He said the point is that "fisherman leave the fish for someone else to catch."

Recycling— A New Way of Life

With the beginning of in-house sorting of trash, old-fashioned manual labor will be reintroduced into our push-button homes. Despite our gentle upbringing, we householders must soon learn to "rough-sort" our trash into categories for recycling. There may, for example, be four divisions — (1) glass (subdivided into white, green and brown), (2) newspapers, (3) tin cans and (4) other. There may be fewer categories or more. The actual sort for your household will depend on where and how you live.

If you are using the village service, the sorting of your recyclable materials will be done at home, after which you take them to a disposal location in Polly's parking lot. There you place the various materials into bins which are labelled: glass, cans, paper and so on.

There is no fee for disposing of your recyclable trash. It will be taken from the collection bins without charge by the Ecology Center, a non-profit agency, and sold by them to commercial buyers.

The non-recyclable portion of your rubbish will be picked up at the curb during regular collections.

Village residents who are handicapped or are unable to take materials to the disposal station at Polly's, may have service provided by a private collection company. This firm will tell their patrons how they want the rubbish sorted and arrange for it to be picked up at the curb.

Private concerns will continue to make collections on routes in the townships and will introduce sorting requirements of their own. (Perhaps red, green, yellow and black bags or tags. Who knows?)

How about packing your stuff up and hauling it to the village landfill, as so many families have done for years? This service will be available but the life of our landfill is uncertain.

It is worth noting that more than half of the landfills in the United States will be exhausted by 1990. The rest will disappear arithmetically. New landfills will cost an arm and a leg, and face heavy public opposition in many communities.

As time goes by, patrons of municipal and private services will find their sorting requirements changing. Tin cans will probably have to be washed, and have tops and bottoms removed. The paper labels will have to be taken off, and the can flattened. All bottle caps will be removed and tossed into the tin can container.

Newspapers will have to have the white, glossy paper inserts extracted from the papers. Bundles of papers will have to be protected from rain and snow because wet papers foul up the shredders and cannot be recycled.

Eventually plastic containers may have to be washed and separated from the other trash. Paper containers with wax coatings will give way to recyclable materials.

There will be special rules and probably special disposal sites for motor oils, batteries, toxic household products, herbicides and pesticides.

More and more stress is going to be placed on composting of leaves, grass trimmings and other debris from lawns, trees and gardens. This is organic matter which decomposes. Allowed to disintegrate in a compost pile, it can turn into valuable natural fertilizer. At the present time 20 percent of all landfill material is such vegetable matter.

Logic suggests that each home owner should have a family compost pile. Possibly the village, with its investment in a vacuum machine, will continue for a while to sweep leaves and grass cuttings from the curb, but don't bet on it.

The commercial firms that collect trash from homes and businesses are doing their best to conform to the changed situation. Landfill use, now taking care of three-quarters of our solid waste, will hopefully be down to 10 percent by year 2000. One of the largest firms, with Greater Chelsea in their service area, is known as "Mister Rubbish." They tell me that their methods of operation are under review because of the general landfill situation and the need to be in compliance with as many as three levels of government. Right now they are in the final stages of planning for construction of a 300-ton-a-day recycling plant near their headquarters at Whitmore Lake.

What's In It for the Consumer?

Surveys show that there is growing public support for the waste recovery goals of our county. People agree that it is shameful to bury trash in the soil of our county and poison its groundwater. They have come to realize that it is equally offensive to destroy valuable fiber and mineral resources by fire in addition to polluting the air we breathe.

Recycling requires much less fuel to turn paper back into paper and glass into glass than it takes to make paper from a tree and glass from sand. Over 10,000 kilowatt hours of electricity are saved when a ton of paper is made from wastepaper instead of wood pulp. Similar savings result from the recycling of metals.

Every time we make or save something we grow a little richer.

Every time we waste or destroy anything useful we grow a little poorer.

This is the philosophy behind participation in our municipal and county waste recovery goals. We want to reduce the tonnage of waste we generate, and keep on reducing it year after year. At the same time, we aim to derive the maximum benefit from what we do throw on the rubbish piles. We are committed to a minimum amount of land for the burial of trash, and we want to hold the burning of rubbish down to ground zero.

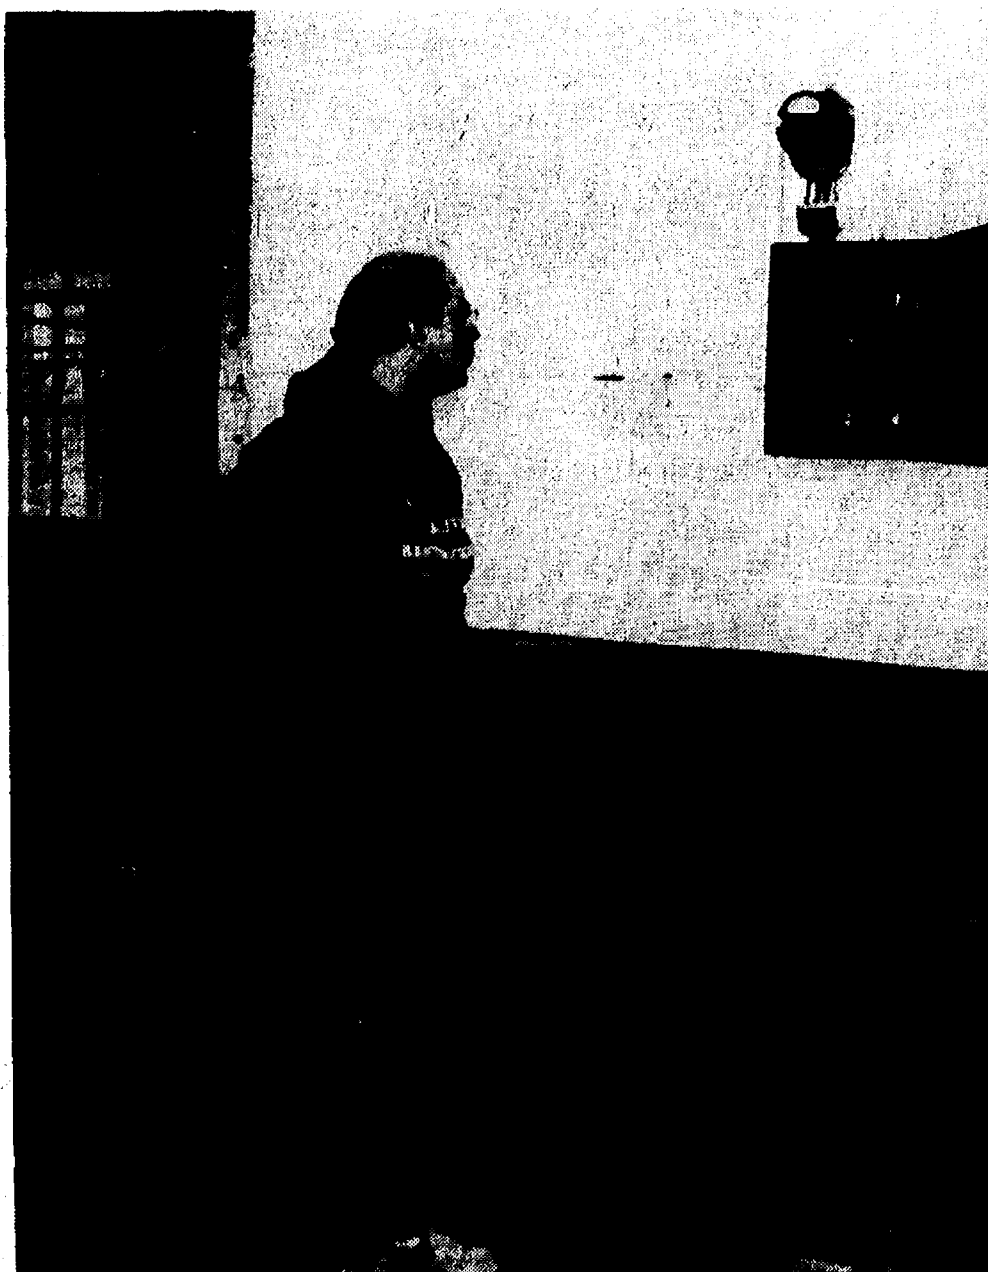

In the process we are going to do a great deal of learning and mind-changing. What do we intend to do with trash that can't be recycled, composted or turned into energy? How can we reduce the amount of "convenience packaging" which becomes so inconvenient after the product has been used or consumed?

Opinion surveys have shown that we are willing to avoid the use of non-biodegradable materials. We can refuse to patronize fast food outlets that use such substances, and we can leave indestructible packaging on the shelves when shopping. We can also insist that schools, hospitals and other institutions, as well as business and industry, use recyclable containers.

Amidst all this, yet another question has arisen. "Local waste management facilities should be open to anyone who is willing to pay the fees, regardless of whether the waste was brought in from other areas. Do you agree?" Sixty-eight percent said NO.

Upon reading this I couldn't help remembering the sign which some ways once put up on Ohio's I-75 just before motorists crossed into Michigan. "Keep Ohio clean," it said. "Dump your trash in Michigan."

Shortly after (or was it before?) a similar sign appeared on southbound I-75 saying, "Keep Michigan clean. Dump your trash in Ohio."

CHARLES SHIVER, restoration specialist, studies old railroad switch box in the office of the former station agent at the Chelsea depot. This room will be converted into a central office for the Chamber of Commerce and other civic enterprises.

MARY KATHRYN WEBER was the winner of a 20" television set in a giveaway by Chelsea Office Supply. Her name was chosen at random in a drawing. This isn't the first prize the Chelsea resident has won. She once took home a brand new car from a contest in Brighton. Ironically, Mary's family once owned Weber's Meat Market, which was located at the site of the office supply company.

The finest tribute we can pay
Unto our hero dead to-day,
Is not a rose wreath, white and red,
In memory of the blood they shed;
It is to stand beside each mound,
Each couch of consecrated ground,
And pledge ourselves as warriors true
Unto the work they died to do.

Into God's valleys where they lie
At rest, beneath the open sky,
Triumphant now o'er every foe,
As living tributes let us go.
No wreath of rose or immortelles
Or spoken word or tolling bells.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,

With all the businesses and industry opening up on Jackson Rd., creating jobs for Chelsea residents, would it not be more sensible to have the Chelsea-Ann Arbor bus route on Jackson Rd.

I have a 19-year-old who is jobless because he has no transportation to Jackson Rd. There are numerous ads in the paper, daily, offering employment to young adults on this road and if they don't own an automobile are out of luck.

I wrote a letter to AATA suggesting that the bus be re-routed and received a very nice reply, explaining that the route was originally designed to use Jackson Rd., but the Scio township officials objected. Could they not be persuaded to change their minds?

My family surely is not alone with this problem! Let's all write to Scio township!

Desperately,
Chelsea Mom.

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regards to the July 4 (5?) fireworks.

Has the mud bog become Chelsea's symbol for Independence Day rather than the traditional fireworks?

It's absurd to have the fireworks put off until July 5. Why can't the mud bog be held on Sunday, July 3 instead?

I am also upset that Jerry Satterthwaite is not being more helpful in seeing that Chelsea keeps its fireworks display. I think he's letting a personal vendetta stand in the way.

I have small children and I want them to grow up seeing fireworks on July 4 (not 5!) without having to take them to overcrowded Ann Arbor or to Gregory where it is dangerous!!

I think we should all pitch in a little more this year to keep our fireworks display a tradition.

To the Editor:

I am a student at South school and I chose baseball to study in Triad. My assignment was to find answers to these two major questions, "Why do pro baseball players and fans take baseball so seriously?" and "Why do recreational players and fans take baseball so seriously?" I interviewed Brian Hamilton, Ira Parker, Mr. Wescott and Fred Holdsworth. They each gave me some really smart opinions to think about. I sent out a questionnaire to all my classmates and their parents! I sent them to some pro players but I didn't get any back.

After I added up all the answers and opinions salaries was the biggest answer for pro players.

I think they should get paid big bucks if they are really good. They deserve to make alot of money because they worked so hard to get to the major leagues!

Some people are jealous of pro-players because they wish they could earn that much money and have fun doing it. I think that pro players still love the game and have just as much fun playing now as they did years ago.

The other popular opinion is because they did dream of playing professionally and they finally made it. Pro ball is a job and like any other job you should do your best and take it seriously.

The most popular opinion to why recreational players take baseball so seriously is because they dream of playing professionally one day, and being natural competitors. Some people are born with the need to win all the time. That is okay if they aren't poor sports when they do lose.

Baseball is a popular sport because it is an easy game to understand and play. It is fun for all ages.

But, if you don't have fun when you play baseball, I suggest that you do not play at all.

Ryan Ludwig.

Dear Editor,

I'm writing this in regard to the letter written by Mr. Gregg and Lisa Lucot, which was published in your May 11, issue of The Chelsea Standard.

In the article they wrote "hot headed Italian parents" and "just because they are Italians doesn't mean they are better than others, although maybe they are equal to the size of two or three people."

All the people in this country are made up of people who are of a different heritage; the only true Americans are the Indians.

Since they are "All Americans" I would like to know what Indian tribe she came from.

Family Practice Staff Present Finding on Study of Depression

University of Michigan Family Practice Center staff presented the results of their research on depression at a national annual meeting of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine in Baltimore, Md. on April 26.

Tom Schwenk, M.D., chairman of the department and Jim Coyne, Ph.D., psychologist, described their research on ways depressed patients seek care from family physicians; how patients describe their depression and associate life stresses with physical illness; and the ways that physicians treat depressed patients.

MIKE AND KIM FOUTY are planning a June 2 grand opening for their store "Casual Sports," on N. Main St. at the former site of Barbara's Needlearts. With them are their children Scott and Lauren. Scott is modeling one of the many t-shirts that will be available. As of last week the dressing rooms were still being constructed.

Foutys Plan To Open New Sportswear Store

Chelsea residents Mike and Kim Fouty are opening a new sportswear business called "Casual Sports" in the previous home of Barbara's Needlearts on N. Main St. The grand opening is scheduled for Thursday, June 2.

Mike is a 1976 graduate of Chelsea High school. He and Kim, and their children Scott and Lauren, are McKinley St. residents.

The store will specialize in sportswear and will carry various lines of shorts, shirts, sweats, and Converse shoes. There will also be miscellaneous pieces of sports equipment, such as mouthpieces. Golf shoes, clubs, and other lines of athletic shoes will be available on a special order basis.

"We're going to carry a big line of Michigan gear at competitive prices," Mike said.

"We'll also have some Michigan State and Notre Dame clothes, and stuff from the local pro teams like the Tigers and Red Wings. And we'll have Mike said he plans to work through the schools and give team discounts. Until last week Mike worked at Chelsea Milling Co. where he was a mixer. He has also worked at Inverness Golf Course in sports clothes sales, which, he said, whetted his appetite for this kind of business.

"I enjoy working for myself," Mike says.

Kim is a registered nurse at Chelsea Community Hospital and has no plans to leave her job there. However, she does plan to help with the business as time allows.

THE FUTURE OF DENTISTRY — LASERS?

Imagine a laser that can locate tooth decay at its earliest stage and with one zap vaporize the decayed area. Another zap seals the depression with a synthetic powdered enamel, which is almost impervious to further decay.

Such an instrument may be tomorrow's cavity prevention tool, reports the American Dental Association.

The instrument is an excimer laser, which has a shorter wavelength than CO2 lasers. It produces less heat buildup inside the tooth, says a Tufts University dentist who is experimenting with it. Other laser uses foreseen by the Tufts researcher include sterilizing dental instruments, using lasers at acupuncture points as an anesthetic, transferring dental records and patient histories, as well as transferring plaster molds to three-dimensional laser images on discs the size of silver dollars.

Other dental researchers have had success using the CO2 laser for varied surgical procedures. Laser radiation results in a sharply demarcated wound which is devoid of any hemorrhage. Because of its extreme precision, the CO2 laser may be a useful instrument in routine periodontal treatment.

Currently only a handful of dentists in this country are using lasers routinely for general dentistry but as technology advances don't be surprised to see this piece of equipment in your own dentist's office in the future!

Second Area Opening At Independence Lake Park in August

Work on Phase II of the development of Independence Lake Park, the newest park in the Washtenaw County Parks system, should be completed this August. Independence Lake Park is located on Jennings Rd., one mile north of North Territorial Rd.

Independence Lake Park consists of 300 acres, about 75 of which are developed to offer swimming and picnicking. The Phase II development will open up 45 more acres for recreation.

The Phase II area will have a second swimming beach, a pavilion, playgrounds for volleyball and baseball, a small-boat launch for 10 boats, and a handicapped-accessible fishing pier.

According to Fred Barkley, director of the Washtenaw County Parks Commission, Phase II was initiated because "the demand for waterbased recreation exceeds the supply." He said cars line up at the park that offer water activities.

Independence Lake Park is now open week-ends. After Memorial Day it will be open every day. Admission is $2.50 per day or $15 a year for county residents and $4 a day or $25 a year for non-residents.

Cost of upkeep on Jennings Rd. is shared equally by Webster township, Washtenaw County Road Commission, and the Parks Commission. Work necessary this year is progressing and is almost done, including limestoning, cleaning of ditches, and widening.

Independence Lake Park is one of 10 parks owned and administered by the county: six large parks and four roadside parks. Among the other major parks in western Washtenaw are Park

Lyndon, located on North Territorial east of M-52, which offers extensive hiking trails and picnic area, and Osborne Mills Nature Preserve along the Huron River on Delhi Rd.

Nearby roadside parks include Cavanaugh Lake Park on Cavanaugh Lake and Park Sharon on M-52.

Other major county parks include the County Farm Park in Ann Arbor (once the County Poor Farm), Rolling Hills in Ypsilanti township, and Parker Mill between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

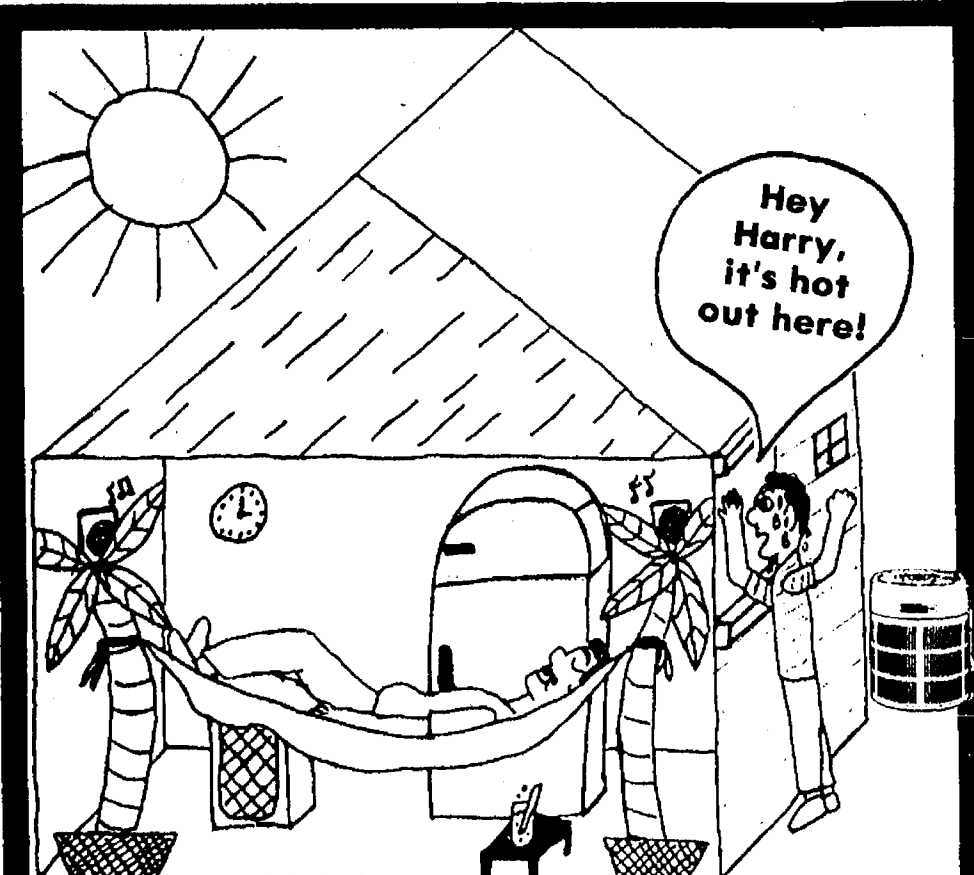

Other roadside parks include Park Northfield on Pontiac trail near Dixboro and Superior Park on Prospect and Cherry Hill.

All of these parks have been developed since 1973 when the county parks commission was established. Barkley, who lives west of Cavanaugh Lake, has been the director since 1985.

Along with voting for president this fall, county residents will be asked to decide on an increased millage for park improvement. The County Board of Commissioners voted to ask for a one-quarter mill for the next 10 years. If approved, three improvements are planned: building a new water-based park, increasing the water use at Rolling Hills with a wave pool and a water slide, and building a new recreation center at the County Farm Park to contain a gym, pool, offices, recreation areas, and meeting rooms.

Interior Work Starts on Restoration of Chelsea Depot

Major restoration of the interior of the Chelsea Depot has begun. There had been a year's wait while the Chelsea Depot Association raised money from local and state sources. Now, with sufficient funds in the bank, a $48,818 contract has been awarded to the Shiver Construction Co., and craftsmen have been on the job since early Monday morning.

Work actually began two weeks ago when a crew on loan from Chelsea Milling Co., armed with the firm's steam cleaning equipment, washed 108 years of soot and dust from the railroad station walls. It was an essential step before painting and saved the Depot association thousands of dollars.

When the restoration work has been completed this summer, the building will be functional and habitable. Successful bidder on the contract was Shiver Restoration Co., headed by Charles Shiver.

The Depot will be insulated and equipped with heating and air conditioning. There will be two modern lavatories, both usable by handicapped, and a maintenance closet with plumbing. The entire depot, inside and out, will have power and light. There is a substantial amount of carpentry to be done, including two ramp entrances to the Jackson St. side of the building.

Construction is scheduled for completion by July 22. The building can then be occupied and used for a variety of civic, social, educational and cultural events. The historical museum, furnished and staffed by the Chelsea Area Historical Society, will be open to the public during scheduled hours. The former stationmaster's office will be occupied during scheduled hours by a staff representative of the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce. It will also become the communications center for a number of local civic organizations.

In the future, as additional funds become available, the Depot planners will consider new flooring, and perhaps some carpeting, as well as a new ceiling. The large east area of the station, to be known as the Michigan Central Room, will be used for civic, educational, recreational and cultural events. The room will eventually need a sound system, stage lighting and recording equipment.

In 1986 Shiver craftsmen restored the exterior of the 1880 Chelsea Depot to its original condition, beginning with the bare wood. Other Shiver restoration projects have included the Chelsea Pharmacy building, which also dates back to the 1880's, Sharon United Methodist church (1883), Waterloo Township Hall (1837), and the Deery House in Tecumseh (1830).

Bulldogs!

Dogs Win 10th Straight Softball Championship With Tourney Victory

Chelsea Bulldogs rallied for seven runs with two outs in the bottom of the sixth inning to take a 13-7 victory over the Tecumseh Indians in the championship game of the Southeastern Conference Softball Tournament last Saturday at Dana Field.

With the victory the Bulldogs won their 10th straight league championship.

"It was quite a rally," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"But the seniors played well all day. Kim Easton, Jenny Pichlik and Alisha Dorow were outstanding in the title game."

In that sixth inning, Leah Enderle flied out, Dorow singled and Kelly Stump bunted out. Then came the onslaught. Peggy Hammerschmidt walked, Pichlik doubled home one run, Easton singled home two more, Chris Basso singled in a run, Shannon Losey singled, Jenni Smith singled in a run, Enderle walked and Dorow hit a two-run single.

Hammerschmidt picked up victories in both games to run her record to 15-4. In the championship game she relieved Smith in the fifth inning. Together they gave up just five hits.

Chelsea appeared to have a fairly comfortable 5-3 lead going into the fifth, when the Indians struck for four runs.

In the second inning, sacrifices by Losey and Smith each scored a run, giving Chelsea a 2-0 lead.

Each team scored three times in the third. In Chelsea's half, Dorow hit a bunt single, Kelly Stump walked, Hammerschmidt sacrificed, to set up Pichlik's two-run triple. Easton's single scored Pichlik.

With Tecumseh leading 7-5 in the fifth, Pichlik hit her second triple. Again, Easton's single brought her home.

Chelsea banged out 17 hits for the game, one of their highest totals of the year. They also had just one error.

In the opener against the Saline Hornets, Hammerschmidt gave up four hits as Chelsea took a closer-than-expected 4-3 decision.

"We played a fine defensive game but we didn't hit a slow pitcher very well," Clarke said.

Saline freshman pitcher Amber Seleska limited Chelsea to just four hits as the Bulldogs hit a lot of pop-ups and fly balls. Easton, who hit a double, had Chelsea's only extra-base hit.

The Bulldogs did all their scoring in the first two innings as they took advantage of numerous Saline mistakes.

In the first inning, Enderle walked, Dorow was safe on a fielder's choice, Stump was safe on an error, which scored two runs when another error compounded Saline's problems.

Easton walked to lead off the second inning. Basso flied out, Beth Kenney walked, Smith singled home a run, Enderle walked, and the final run scored on a passed ball.

Hammerschmidt struck out six and walked one.

Chelsea heads into this Friday's pre-district game against Lincoln with a 29-8 record.

The pre-district contest will be held at Chelsea High school beginning at 4 p.m. If the Bulldogs win, they'll play the winner of the Pinckney-Dexter contest the following week.

BETH KENNEY made a nice grab of a pop-up in foul territory in the opening Southeastern Conference game against Saline last Saturday. The Bulldogs went on to win the game and their 10th straight league title.

JV Softball Team Ends Successful Season

Three straight victories last week concluded a good season for the Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity softball team.

"It was a good way to wrap up a fine season," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

"I hope the team learned something about life, themselves and softball."

The Bulldogs finished with a 21-5-1 record and an 11-1 mark in the Southeastern Conference.

Chelsea 20, Tecumseh 4

Chelsea 19, Tecumseh 9

In the first game Chelsea scored seven times in the first inning and were never seriously threatened.

Scharme Petty pitched all five innings, struck out 10 batters and gave up four hits.

Chelsea's seven-run first inning was highlighted by four walks, a single and double by Becca Burkel and a triple by Lisa Park.

Carrie Flintoft's single in the second inning knocked in Petty, who had doubled.

The Dogs scored five more times in the third on key doubles by Park and Flintoft, and a single by Burkel.

Seven runs in the fourth finished the scoring. Singles by Heather Bro and Kelly Bellus, and a triple by Amy Thomson were the big hits.

Burkel and Park each had three hits and Bro and Flintoft each had two.

In the second game, Colleen Scharphorn picked up the win on the mound as she threw an eight-hitter and struck out six.

After falling behind 5-0 in the top of the first, Chelsea scored 11 times in the bottom of the inning.

"We got off to a shaky start but settled down and played quite well," Sullins said.

Three walks, three hits and a hit batsman accounted for the Tecumseh run in the first.

Scharphorn's homer and doubles by Cory Tremper and Sheri Stephens did most of the first-inning damage. Kristin Bohlender and Bro also singled.

Singles by Bohlender and Bro helped Chelsea to score twice in the second inning.

Two walks and two wild pitches gave Chelsea two runs in the third.

Several walks, and a single by Bohlender gave Chelsea three more runs in the fourth.

Finally, singles by Tremper, Heidi Boyer and Bohlender scored the final run in the fifth.

Chelsea 8, Ypsilanti 3

Heidi Boyer pitched a three-hitter for Chelsea.

Chelsea opened with a four-run first inning on singles by Burkel, Bro, Scharphorn, Boyer and Thomson.

From then on the Ypsilanti pitching toughened up.

Scharphorn scored after her third-inning triple for Chelsea's fifth run.

An error gave the Bulldogs another run in the fourth.

Singles by Allison Stafford, and Boyer, as well as three stolen bases and two wild pitches gave Chelsea two more in the sixth.

Scharphorn and Boyer each had two hits for the game.

"Despite the light rain both teams played quite well defensively," Sullins said.

"Lisa Park was involved in two excellent relays to get runners at the plate and a double play to end the game."

Extra Inning Defeat Ends SEC Title Dream For Dog Baseball Team

A 4-3 loss in nine innings to the Milan Big Reds in the opening game of the Southeastern Conference Tournament last Saturday ended the Chelsea Bulldogs' bid for a league championship.

"It was just a heartbreaking loss," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"A couple of questionable things happened but the bottom line is we didn't do what we needed to to win the game. It meant a possible league championship."

Milan scored the winning run in the top of the ninth on a single, a stolen base and another single.

In the bottom of the inning, Bob Clouse rapped a one-out double but was stranded at second.

Chelsea spent most of the game coming from behind. Two errors and

Amy Wolfgang Receives Alma Coaches' Award

Amy Wolfgang of Chelsea was honored as recipient of the Coaches' Award of the Alma College women's track team for the 1988 season. She also earned a position on the All-Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) Team.

At the MIAA Field Day in Grand Rapids she was the 400-meter intermediate hurdle champion with a time of 1:06.79, and she finished fifth in the 1,500-meter run at 4:54.3. Alma's women shared the 1988 championships the previous three seasons.

A sophomore at Alma, Wolfgang is a graduate of Chelsea High School where her track coach was Bill Bainton. Her parents are David and Barbara Wolfgang of 7340 S. Fletcher Rd., Chelsea.

a two-run single in the first inning gave Milan the early lead.

The Bulldogs tied it in the bottom of the third on singles by Tim Anderson and Chris Acree, and a two-run single by Junior Morseau.

In the fifth inning, Milan had a runner at third base. Pitcher Morseau was called for a balk, which gave the Big Reds the lead again.

The Dogs again tied the game in the bottom of the seventh as Acree walked, went to third on a two-out single by Morseau, and scored on an error at third base.

"Morseau pitched brilliantly and led the team at the plate," Welton said.

"He didn't deserve to lose the game."

Morseau tossed a four-hitter, struck out nine and didn't walk a batter. He gave up one earned run in going the distance.

Chelsea had nine hits, including two each by Morseau, Greg Boughton and Tim Anderson.

In the second game against Pinckney, Chelsea spent much of the game trying to overcome the demoralizing defeat in the opener. Pinckney took a 5-1 victory despite a solid four innings of relief pitching by Rob Lyerla.

Chelsea fell behind 4-0 going into the bottom of the third. In the second inning, four consecutive walks and a two-out bloop single scored three runs. A walk, a single and an error produced another run for the Pirates in the third.

The Bulldogs' lone run came in the bottom of the third as Clouse tripled and later scored on a bases-loaded walk.

T.W. Wylie's solo-home run in the sixth inning ended the scoring for Pinckney.

Each team scratched out five hits for the game. Clouse was 2-4 with a triple.

Chelsea finished third over-all in the conference and fourth in the tournament.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Chelsea's varsity softball team has made it an even 10 in a row. Pat Clarke's team squeaked by Saline and Tecumseh here Saturday to win the Southeastern Conference tournament, which is rapidly becoming the "Get Chelsea or Bust Tournament." That gave the Bulldogs their 10th straight SEC title. Earlier Chelsea finished the regular SEC season at 12-0.

Even when you consider that a couple of those titles have been shared (although very grudgingly), it's still a remarkable record. I'd like to know of any team at any school in any sport in Michigan that has come close to that level of consistently excellent play.

And it's even more remarkable because, as we all know, the Chelsea pitching staff has been learning the wrong techniques all these years.

Every year it has to get increasingly difficult to continue the streak. For many teams in the league, beating Chelsea would make their season. You can bet the coach would make a big deal of it at the team banquet, the same way boys track coach Ted Wilson would brag about it if his team beat Lincoln.

Chelsea got the kind of clutch play Saturday that could keep their season alive for a few more weeks.

Late in the championship game the Dogs trailed by a run with two outs only to score seven times in the bottom of the sixth with several key hits. That had to make Clarke, the eternal optimist, a little less pessimistic. The young women haven't had to rally late very often. Normally they count on their defense and mechanically-unsound pitching to hold a lead. If the Bulldogs get hot with their bats (how about Jenny Pichlik's two triples in the championship!) they could indeed go a long way in the postseason.

Personally, I'm ready for Lansing, or is it East Lansing?

The postseason begins Friday with a pre-district game against Lincoln at home. Although I'm sure Clarke will warn our local heroines against the dangers of taking Lincoln for granted, it would be a true shock—even more shocking than the recent discovery that Elvis is alive and well and off drugs in Kalamazoo—if Chelsea falls to the Railsplitters. The Bulldogs scored about 50 runs in two games against them earlier this year.

My heart goes out to the varsity baseball team, who saw an SEC championship disappear in a 4-3 loss to Milan in nine innings.

The Bulldogs could certainly have won the game. Junior Morseau pitched one of his best games of the season. They got one bad call but basically were their own worst enemy. Errors, and the inability to get the key hit caused the demise.

This was written before last night's pre-district game at Pinckney. Their season could be over.

No matter what happened, I know head coach Wayne Welton is proud of his team. Not many coaches would have picked Chelsea to finish the regular SEC season at the top of the pack. The Dogs won six or seven one-run games in a row, which says they are a determined group. I guess the string couldn't last.

If you had to pick the most significant, unusual or amazing Chelsea sports accomplishment of this school year, what would it be?

Right up there on my list would be the performance of eighth grader Jon Royce in the high jump. The youngster leaped 5'9", which is only three inches away from the state meet cut-off point for high school athletes.

Bulldogs Qualify 5 Girls For State Track Meet

Chelsea Bulldog girls' track team ran to a third-place finish in Friday's regional at Lincoln, with 47½ points to 62½ for second-place Dexter and 43 for fourth-place Saline. Redford Bishop Borgess ran away with the 16-team meet with 116 points.

Bulldogs qualified for the state meet in three events. Kasey Anderson led the way by taking the 1,600-meter run in a school record time of 5:19.5, eight seconds ahead of second-place Wendy Hower of Milan. Anderson also took the 3,200 in 11:54.8, again over Hower, this time by seven seconds.

The 3,200 relay team qualified by virtue of a 9:58.2 time, well under the 10:04 qualifying standard as they finished third. Team members were Anderson, Sarah Grau, Debi Koenn and Anne Steffenson. Anderson led off with an excellent 800 leg of 2:24.8.

The Bulldogs had many other fine performances. Dena Stevens was fifth in the discus with a 101'7". Jeanene Rossi was one of six jumpers to clear opening height on the first jump and ended up in a three-way tie for fourth in the high jump. Danica Disbro was fifth in the 100 and Tami Harris sixth in the 200. Disbro, Harris, Leisa Schiller and Steffenson ran their season's best in the 800 relay at 1:50.0 to finish third. The 400 relay of Disbro, Harris, Rossi, and Steffenson took third in a very close race at :52.6, and the 1,600 relay of Harris, Disbro, Steffenson, and Koenn, although running in the slow heat, ran a season's best of 4:17 and finished fifth over-all.

It marks the fifth consecutive year, every year since the event was added in 1984, that the Bulldogs have qualified a 3,200 relay for the state meet.

In other action last week, it was a battle of Pinckney's depth against Chelsea's quality Tuesday, and quality came out on top as the Bulldogs beat the Pirates 71-57 in the final southeastern Conference dual track meet.

Although Chelsea won three of the four relays, only in three other events did more than one Bulldog score.

The Bulldog throwers had a great day as they swept the shot put. Stevens won in 31'9¼", with Tammy Browning second and Tiffany Browning third. Stevens also took the discus, upping her career best to 104'2", with Marti Daggett second and Tiffany Moore third.

Rossi was second in the high jump at 4'11" and Leisa Schiller added a third in the long jump, enabling Chelsea to take a 22-14 advantage in the field events.

The Bulldogs took the 3,200 relay in 10:15.5 with a team of Steffenson, Anderson, Grau and Koenn.

Disbro won the 100 with an excellent :12.8 and Anderson added a first in the 1,600. Pinckney took second and third in each of those events, swept the 100 hurdles, and won the 800 relay to tie the score at 32.

Chelsea won the 400 relay with a team of Disbro, Rossi, Schiller and Harris. Steffenson finished second in the 400 giving Chelsea a 45-42 lead, and from there on the Bulldogs took off, winning the final five events.

Grau won the 800 with her season's best of 2:30.6, with Debi Koenn third. It was the only running event of the day in which the Bulldogs had two placers.

Disbro took the 300 hurdles, then Harris got a fine start and outran Pinckney's three best sprinters to win the 200 in :27.4.

Anderson then put the meet away by winning the 3,200 in 12:18.

The Bulldogs then topped it off by winning the 1,600 relay as a team of Grau, Harris, Koenn and Steffenson ran a season's best of 4:21.0.

The victory gave Chelsea a 3-3 SEC record and ties them for third with Milan going into today's SEC meet at Lincoln.

Kelly Hawker Makes All-America Squad

Wayne State University's Kelly Hawker was named an NCAA Division II Second Team All-American for 1988.

The selection was made by a vote of the National Softball Coaches Association.

Hawker, a junior righthander, was also named to the NCAA-II All-Central Region First Team.

Hawker was the Tartars' leading pitcher this season as she compiled a 17-7 over-all record and 0.36 earned run average over 154 innings. She also had two saves and allowed only eight earned runs.

Hawker also had 120 strikeouts, marking the second time she cracked the 100 mark.

Hawker is a former pitcher for Chelsea High school.

JV Bulldogs Finish Season at 13-15

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity baseball team closed out its season with a double-header win at Fowlerville on Tuesday, May 17, and a double-header loss to Brighton the next day.

Chelsea's final record was 13-15.

"This was a season filled with many positives and a great deal of individual growth and development," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

Chelsea 6, Fowlerville 1
Chelsea 11, Fowlerville 10

Chelsea pitcher Rob Stofer gave up the only run in the seventh inning as the Bulldogs cruised to the win. He gave up three hits and struck out seven.

"Rob Stofer pitched a beautiful game," Ticknor said.

"We played well and finally got key hits."

Chelsea scored four runs in the fifth and two in the sixth.

In the fifth, Jude Quilter was hit by a pitch, then stole two bases before Kyle Plank's single drove him in. Kerry Plank followed with a single, Doug Wingrove drove in two runs with a single and Jim Hadley doubled.

In the sixth, a walk, single by Todd Ferry, an error and wild pitch scored two.

In the second game, Chelsea scored four times in the bottom of the sixth inning to take the victory.

Some sloppy Fowlerville play, along with a two-run double by Wingrove scored the final runs.

After taking a 5-1 lead after two innings, the Bulldogs gave up seven runs in the top of the third.

"We were able to battle our way back," Ticknor said.

"And Craig Ferry pitched well in relief."

Wingrove had three of Chelsea's eight hits. Hadley and Lance Satterthwaite each had two hits.

Brighton 3, Chelsea 0
Brighton 8, Chelsea 0

Brandon Murrell had Chelsea's only two hits of the game.

"Jeff Marshall pitched well enough to win but we just didn't get the hits," Ticknor said.

Marshall pitched a four-hitter and struck out 10.

In the second game, the Bulldogs could only manage two hits again as Murrell and Rob Clem reached safely.

Wingrove pitched most of the game and struck out eight. Clem struck out one in relief. Together they gave up nine hits.

Hedding and Hosner Qualify for State

Chelsea junior Paul Hedding qualified for the state track meet at Sturgis on Saturday, Jan. 4 with a convincing victory in the 3,200-meter run at the regional meet last Friday, May 20.

Hedding knocked 20 seconds off his best time and finished in 9:40.9, well ahead of the pack.

"Paul ran a near perfect race," said Chelsea coach Ted Wilson.

"He stayed off the pace but well in contact for the first mile as the leaders came through in 4:38. He then moved up slowly and took the lead with 1 1/2 laps to go and won going away. His last 400 was 61 seconds."

Charlie Hosner, who finished in a second-place tie in the high jump at 6', also qualified for the state meet.

"Charlie had a great performance," Wilson said.

"Oh, Christmas Tree . . ." Thousands of years ago people in Egypt, Rome and England decorated trees to celebrate the beginning of winter. But, according to Ranger Rick magazine, it was not until 400 years ago that people in Germany decorated the first trees to celebrate Christmas. Then, on Christmas day in 1747, some German settlers in Bethlehem, Pa., decorated trees for their children. These were probably the first Christmas trees in America.

KELLY STUMP takes a rip at the ball during last Saturday's SEC tournament action against Saline. It was another good day for Bulldogs who didn't hit well against the Hornets but managed a victory anyway. In the championship game with Tecumseh, Chelsea exploded for 17 hits.

Bulldog Boy Tracksters Drop Close Meet to Pinckney Pirates

Chelsea Bulldog boys track team was beaten by Pinckney, 73-61, last Tuesday, May 17, primarily due to a lack of depth, according to coach Ted Wilson.

Chelsea was shut out in the 110 hurdles, 300 hurdles and the pole vault.

Harris and Cheng to run 8:28.5.

Cheng set a personal record in the 400 with a time of :53.6.

Reynolds won the 200 dash in :24, also a personal record. Matt Herter was second in :24.9, his career-best time.

Harris was third in the 800 in 2:11.1. Murphy was third in the 1,600 in 4:51.2.

In the relay events, Chelsea's 800 team of Sam Eisenbeiser, Jim Williams, Joel Boyer and Dan Pletcher was third in 1:47.7.

The 1,600 team of Murphy, Reynolds, Dave Freitas and Cheng was first at 3:38.6.

In the field events, Charlie Hosner won the high jump at 6' and Tyler

Lewis was third at 5' 9".

Lucky Beeman was a double winner, taking the discus in 130' 3 1/2" and the shot put. Pletcher was second in the discus at 109' 1 3/4".

Lewis was second in the long jump at 18' 10 1/2".

Beach Boys Lose Final Two Meets

At Tecumseh he broke his own high jump record with a jump of 5'9", ran the 800-meter run for the first time ever, winning in 2:17.5, and ran the anchor leg of the mile relay where he joined Adam Taylor, Jim Robinson and Mike Reese for first place 4:00.6.

Other scoring at Saline included Mike Terpstra winning the shot put at 38'7". Jim Steele and Robert Jaques were second and third in pole vault.

For the running events, Jason Allen was third in the 3200-meter run, Jaques and Jeremy Guenther were second and third in 55-meter hurdles; Jim Robinson was third in 800-meter run; Dirk Colbry was third in 100-meter dash; Reese was third in 400-meter dash; Allen Schuh was third in 70-meter dash; and Andy Hackbarth and John Weinberg were second and third in 200-meter dash.

Contract Awarded for Hudson Mills Golf Course

The Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has awarded a contract in the amount of $899,821.77 to the Jack B. Anglin Co., of Novi, for the construction of an 18-hole golf course at Hudson Mills Metropark, a 1,624-acre site near Dexter.

This was announced by Robert W. Marans, of Ann Arbor, who represents Washtenaw county on the seven-member HCMA Board. The contract was awarded Thursday, May 19.

Commissioner Marans stated that this is the first step toward the development of land on the west side of the Huron River which will eventually include a combination walk and bike path along the river.

Marans also stated that he is enthusiastic about the golf course project and feels it will be a major addition to the facilities already in use at Hudson Mills. Present facilities include picnicking, swings, slides, shorefishing, canoe campsite, nature trail, bike-hike trail and activity center with food service, tennis, basketball and shuffleboard courts, and bike rentals.

The present contract includes construction of a complete 18-hole golf course, including sand bunkers, an irrigation pond, grading for greens, tees and fairways, turf development, rough areas, installation of an irrigation system complete with pump house and other related construction. Completion date of the project is July 29, 1989.

The golf course will be located on the west side of the Huron River, south of the main portion of the park, with the entrance road to be located along Dexter-Pinckney Rd., south of North Territorial Rd.

(The main park entrance is along North Territorial Rd., between Huron River Dr. and Dexter-Pinckney Rd., near the bridge over the Huron River.)

Members of the HCMA Board of Commissioners include these county representatives: Wayne, William E. Kreger; Macomb, Thomas S. Welsh; Oakland, James Clarkson; Livingston, James Young, and Washtenaw, Robert W. Marans; and two governor appointees; Harry E. Lester, of Rockwood, and Mrs. Jeanette S. Weiss, of Detroit.

Staff Officers include: William P. Sherman, director; David L. Wahl, controller; and Frank J. Sudek, secretary.

Gary Bartsch is park superintendent at Hudson Mills Metropark.

TEL-MED Offers Tape On Teen-Age Alcoholism

An estimated 3.5 million U. S. teens are alcoholic.

Teen-age alcoholics, like adult alcoholics, have a daily preoccupation with alcohol that generally leads to poor school performance, deteriorating family relations and, possibly, brushes with the law.

TEL-MED, a public service offering free taped health information over the phone, has a new tape dealing with this topic: No. 948, "Teen-age Alcoholism." This tape offers information on why teen-agers begin to drink alcohol, the effects of alcoholism on the teen and his or her family, how to recognize a teen alcoholic and how to get help.

To listen to this or any of the 296 TEL-MED tapes, call 668-1551 from the Ann Arbor/western Washtenaw county area, 434-6120 from the Ypsilanti/western Wayne county area or 548-2832 from Livingston county.

Hours of operation are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturdays, noon to 8 p.m. The call and the information are toll free.

TEL-MED is sponsored by Beyer Memorial Hospital, Brighton Hospital, Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Child and Family Service of Washtenaw, Eastern Michigan University Health Service, Livingston County United Way, M-CARE, McAuley Health Plan, McPherson Community Health Center, Saline Community Hospital, University of Michigan Hospitals, University of Michigan University Health Service, Veterans Administration Medical Center, Washtenaw County Medical Society and Washtenaw United Way.

Police Effort To Push for Seat Belt Use

In support of the All American Buckle-Up Week, a nation-wide campaign to encourage seat belt use, the Washtenaw County Criminal Justice Association is supporting a county-wide occupant restraint enforcement effort.

According to the 1987 Michigan Governor's Conference of Traffic Safety, "The single-most effective means of saving lives and reducing injuries resulting from traffic crashes is restraint use. Virtually every study conducted on safety belts indicates that their use saves lives and reduces serious injuries."

In 1987 seat belts are credited with saving 1,300 lives nation-wide. Since the enactment of the seat belt law July 1, 1985, Washtenaw county is at an all-time high with 72% of all front seat passengers buckling up. While Washtenaw county compliance rate is above average, over 85% of those who died in passenger car crashes were not wearing seat belts.

The Criminal Justice Association and the Buckle Up Steering Committee of Washtenaw county are initiating a unified enforcement effort to encourage "ALL" motorists to buckle up every time they get into a car. During All American Buckle-Up Week, May 22-28, officers from all law enforcement agencies in Washtenaw county will make a special effort to issue violations to all unbelted or improperly belted motorists. Numerous officers will be assigned to traffic enforcement with a directive to pay particular attention to seat belt violators for the 24-hour period of Thursday, May 26.

The Washtenaw County Criminal Justice Association hopes that this week long reminder will encourage more motorists to comply with Michigan's seat belt laws.

Remember, BUCKLE UP. It is a law we can live with.

Legion District Meeting Slated In Onsted

Next meeting of the Second District of the American Legion will be at Onsted Legion Post 350. The meeting will be held on Sunday, June 12 and will begin at 1 p.m. Information on veteran's benefits and the Legion program will be a featured part of the meeting.

At 2 p.m. there will be a general membership meeting of the Second District with reports on all programs.

The Michigan Second District consists of 32 American Legion posts in Washtenaw, Jackson, Monroe and Lenawee counties. District committeeman is Dallas Turley of Pinckney.

The new commander, Roy Russell of the Onsted Post, will be sworn in at that time.

The Second District under the guidance of Turley has led the American Legion Department of Michigan in membership for most of this membership year of 1987-88. The district has two of the leading candidates for the highest Legion office in the State of Michigan. They are Thomas P. Cadmus from the Glen H. Daykin Post No. 156 in Britton and Mary Jane Choate from the Wilbur-Bartlett Post 315 of Brooklyn.

The Second District has had a great record in the past but it has really accomplished a great thing this past year. The main object of all Legionnaires is to help the veteran to promote Americanism, to give youth of the nation a better understanding of the government and the constitution so they can continue to run our great country for the people and by the people.

MARY BESSO tutors Kara VanWald, a ninth-grade student at Chelsea High school, in math at the Teaching Learning Center. Looking over their shoulder is John Groesser, director of TLC.

TLC Offers Tutoring for All Ages in A Variety of Subjects

The Learning Center (TLC) of the Chelsea School District offers the latest, up-to-date methods of tutoring for anyone who needs academic assistance. Says director John Groesser, "We like to be available to the community to serve whatever need there is. We like to be as flexible as possible."

TLC offers tutoring for all ages (their youngest client is at present in third grade, but they have gone as low as first grade), and in all subjects. They started by offering reading help, then expanded to math, and now offer a variety of subjects.

Groesser explains that younger children usually come for help in reading and math skills, while the older students have more specific subject needs. The center will try to find an appropriate tutor for any subject. For instance, if someone needs help in a foreign language, Groesser will try to find an appropriately-trained tutor in whatever language is needed.

Groesser urges anyone with a need for tutoring to call the center (475-8830) to see if something can be worked out. Besides helping remedial students, the center has also in the past provided service for talented students who desired enrichment activities and for special ed and emotionally impaired students.

The tutors are all certified teachers with expertise in the area they are teaching. Some are moonlighting teachers such as Groesser himself who is an English teacher at Chelsea High school. Others are substitutes or trained teachers who do not want a full-time job. When hiring, besides demanding the appropriate certification, Groesser looks for people with a positive attitude toward children.

Groesser says in his 300 hours of tutoring he has found that "seldom is anyone the same. Every child has a different combination of needs." Since the tutoring is all on a one-to-one basis, individual programs can be designed.

Groesser emphasizes that the tutoring is not to make-up for any lack in the Chelsea school system, but to supplement what is going on. He has clients from all around the area such as Dexter, Stockbridge, Grass Lake, and Manchester. Many schools in the area offer peer tutoring, but the only other organized adult tutoring is in Ann Arbor.

TLC is now in its fourth year. Groesser came up with the idea for the center after finishing his M.A. in reading at Eastern Michigan University. He said, "I saw the need for special help locally based."

Working with Jackie Rogers, director of Community Education who agreed on the need, Groesser convinced the school system to sponsor the center, supplying the room, furniture, and materials. They assigned Groesser room 113, conveniently located to the parking lot for easy entrance and exit.

As another service to the community, TLC has sponsored workshops and talks by nationally famous experts such as reading expert Dr. Linda Klennert. Dr. Ilene Car of EMU gave a workshop for parents on how to help at home and Groesser has led workshops for middle and high school students on study skills.

Groesser says of his philosophy of running the center, "Along with remedial work, we also want to take preventive measures." Warning to the subject, Groesser says, "What goes on in the home has the greatest influence on how children do in reading. They need a supportive atmosphere where they are encouraged to read to get information and where they see their parents read."

Groesser's approach to reading is to take a wholistic approach. He says, "Reading is an interactive process. Reading should be a positive experience where students relate what they are reading to what they already know."

This philosophy, which is also the policy of the state department of education, leads Groesser to avoid heavy emphasis on workbooks which teach discrete skills, instead having students work directly with the book, the actual materials.

During the school year TLC usually has about 12 clients who come in after school. During the summer their enrollment rises dramatically to somewhere between 20 and 50 people who come in weekdays once or twice a week.

The week of June 13, TLC will close for a week of spring cleaning, opening June 20 for the summer. Cost for clients is $13.50 an hour, which pays the tutor's salaries and for updated materials. Enrollment is through the Community Education Department.

Some People Appreciate Us and Some People Don't

Most people buy nursery stock wherever they happen to see it—in the discount store, grocery, or at a "nursery" that trucks plants in and sells them. We grow most of our plants right here. It takes time and knowledge, and patience and hard work, but the difference is visible. If you love beautiful, healthy, unusual plants, come see us.

St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, of my heart and humbly beg you to whom God hath given such great

Amen. (This novena has never been

Memoriam 20*VERL FOUTY

In loving memory of Verl Fouty who passed away 16 years ago today, May 30. A smiling face, a tender touch, companion and father too. You made the troubles seem so few. Although your smile has gone forever, and your hand we cannot touch, we'll never lose the memories of the one we loved so much. Sadly missed by wife, children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Police Capture Two Escapists

Chelsea police captured two escapists from Cassidy Lake Technical School on Monday in two separate incidents at the same phone booth at Old US-12 and M-52.

Lester Roland Thrush, 22, and Scott Eugene Simmons, 21, were reported missing from the minimum security prison at 9:24 p.m. Sunday.

Officers David Dettling and Richard Foster were on patrol at 12:32 a.m. when they saw the men at the phone booth. They caught Simmons but Thrush fled the scene on foot into the Bridgetown Condominium project.

At 6:57 a.m. Dettling and officer Scott Sumner, who were off duty, saw Thrush trying to make a telephone call from the same booth.

Simmons was serving 3-10 years for three counts of breaking and entering and 1-2 years for auto theft.

Thrush was serving 1-3 years for attempted larceny and 2-5 years for car theft.

DRAFT LEAD PUBLIC NOTICE

Sampling by the Michigan Department of Public Health has confirmed the presence of lead in drinking water from certain piping systems where the water has remained stagnant for a period of time. Levels in excess of the current drinking water standard (50 parts per billion) have been detected. Laboratory testing has shown that the principal sources of lead are lead piping and lead based solders and fluxes used to join copper piping. Based on these results and those from other studies, the Michigan Department of Labor, Bureau of Construction Codes and the Michigan Department of Public Health have supported legislation which prohibits the use of lead based solders and fluxes in potable water piping systems. The plumbing industry and homeowners who may construct potable drinking water piping systems must no longer use lead based solders and fluxes for joining copper piping. Other solder materials or joining methods are available and must be used. Lead piping has not been allowed for new installations for about the last ten years. Building copper piping water systems constructed to date likely contain lead based solder and flux.

Water is the universal solvent and even relatively stable water when stagnant for a period of even a few hours in contact with lead solder and flux can result in a significant concentration of lead in the water. The health department is recommending that those piping systems in which the water has remained stagnant overnight or for longer periods be flushed for several minutes prior to using the water for drinking or cooking purposes. This typically has been found to satisfactorily reduce the level of lead and other metals that may concentrate in the water within the building's piping system.

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

"Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

"EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

"Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

- if your home or water system has lead pipes, or
- if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
  - if the home is less than five years old, or
  - if you have soft or acidic water, or
  - if water sits in the pipes for several hours."

Besides lead in water from certain piping systems, there are other exposure pathways to lead including:
air—from industrial discharges, automobile exhaust food—from airborne deposition of lead on crops and lead solder seams in some food containers nonfood items—lead based paint, dirt, solder, or any object containing lead.

It should be noted that the major source of lead exposure and lead poisoning in the United States is due to children consuming lead based paint chips.

People who may have concerns about the concentration of lead from their building or household piping are advised to contact a reputable private laboratory for water analysis. Others who may have specific concerns relative to any possible health effects are urged to contact their physician.

For more information about this matter, please contact your water department at 475-1771.

Waterloo Nature Center To Reopen

The Waterloo Nature Center, which has been closed since 1981 due to lack of funds, will re-open at the end of the summer, newly refurbished and with a new name, "The Gerald E. Eddy Geology Center."

A naturalist, Alan Wernette, has been hired as director of the center and park interpreter. He began work on May 2. Besides running the program at the center, he is in charge of trail maintenance.

The DNR decided to re-open the center as a tribute to one of their former directors, Gerald E. Eddy. Since the building has been vacant for six years, both exterior and interior work is needed. For instance, a leaky roof needs repair outside, while inside the area with water damage needs re-painting.

The DNR is paying for the repair work, but the cost of exhibits after the center is open will be privately funded. Possible exhibitors include non-profit nature groups, universities, and businesses connected with geology such as gravel pit companies and limestone and gypsum suppliers. Wernette also plans to set up slide shows.

Wernette stresses that his work at the center will not replace, but rather supplement, the excellent work already done by the Waterloo Natural History Association. He has already contacted some of the members and hopes "to work hand in hand with them."

While waiting for the center to open, Wernette is keeping busy familiarizing himself with the trails, figuring out what needs to be done and in what order.

One of his first priorities will be the geology trail which has become quite overgrown in the 10 years since it was constructed, narrowing from the original six-foot width to, at present, being about one-and-a-half-feet wide. Some of the special rocks that were brought in to show geological effects are now way off the trail and many of the signs are lost or obscured.

Wernette says the general trail also needs ongoing maintenance to make it less confusing. Signs get turned around or vandalized, leaving hikers with no clue as to how to proceed.

Prior to assuming this job, Wernette was the park naturalist with the Eaton County Parks and Recreation Department. His previous experience includes work in both state and county parks. He has a parks and recreation resources degree from Michigan State University.

Wernette lives in Eaton Rapids with his wife and child. Since they recently bought a house which they are fixing up, he plans to stay there, commuting each day. He says the drive only takes 45 minutes.

When the work on the Gerald E. Eddy Nature Center is completed, there will be a grand opening to which the public will be invited. Until then, Wernette encourages people who are hiking in the area to stop by and see the work and ask any questions they may have.

ALAN WERNETTE, shown right, the new director and park interpreter of the Gerald E. Eddy Geology Center in Waterloo, posed with Waterloo Park Manager Gordon Archer. Wernette is overseeing the repair of the geology center, formerly the nature center, while learning the park trails and designing a plan to refurbish them.

PBLOA To Meet with Ecology Center on Pesticide Problem

On June 15, representatives of the Portage and Base Lake Property Owners Association (PBLOA) plan to meet with the Ann Arbor Ecology Center's task force on pesticides and herbicides to see if they can join forces to fight the continued problem of chemicals used for lakeside lawns on the Huron River chain going into the water.

Doug Smith, secretary of the PBLOA, told the Ecology Center, in a letter dated May 13, "The Portage, Base and Whitewood Lakes Homeowners Association has opposed the use of Chem-Lawn and other chemical applicators in the proximity of the lakes, lagoons and canals along the Huron River Chain. We have not been overly successful because some people put lawn perfection before their own and others' health and safety."

These chemicals are often used in the first week in June so that all the by-products—decayed weeds, algae blooms, threats to swimming and eating of fish—occur just when school is out and families are arriving for the summer.

Smith is particularly concerned that the DNR approves the use of these chemicals, counteracting two efforts being planned to clean up the lakes: a sewage treatment facility and a study of the lakes by the Huron River Watershed Council.

Smith said of the DNR, "On one hand the DNR is supposed to preserve and protect and on the other they issue wholesale permits to kill waterweeds."

Others expected at the June 15 meeting, besides members of the Ecology Center and PBLOA, will be Bruce Monson of the Huron River Watershed Council, and Wally Fusilier, an expert in the field.

Lily pad serenade: Puerto Rico's coqui frog is less than two inches long but has a call that can reach 108 decibels. That's louder than a low-flying jet or subway train. According to National Wildlife magazine, the small brown frog is the most abundant native vertebrate in Puerto Rico—not to mention the loudest. Its song is the island's unofficial national anthem. The frog's likeness beams from countless billboards, posters and T-shirts. Tourists can even take home recordings of the coqui's call.

Area Man Charged With Assault, Battery

A 'Chelsea-area' man faces assault and battery charges in connection with an incident on Monday, May 9.

According to Chelsea police reports, Dennis Lee Parisho, 19, 14400 Island Lake Rd., slapped a woman in the face during an argument at 525 N. Main St. Police said Parisho later threatened to run the woman off the road and kill an investigating police officer. Police said Parisho also spit in the woman's face.

Big bird: The first fossil of what scientists believe to be the biggest seabird ever discovered has been unearthed on the Atlantic coast. According to National Wildlife magazine, the fossil was encased in a 30-million-year-old block of stone excavated in Charleston, S.C. Early speculation is that this enormous bird is a distant relative of today's pelican. Scientists believe the bird weighed 90 pounds with a wingspan of almost 18 feet.

Lima Planners Deny Petition To Change Zoning of Land

Lima Township Planning Commission voted last Tuesday to recommend against changing the zoning of 53 acres of farmland for residential use.

The commission voted 3-2 against a re-zoning petition filed by Harris Homes Development Co. The company wants to build a 28-home subdivision between Old US-12 and Trinkle Rd. just east of Harper Dr.

The township board will rule on the petition after the Washtenaw County Planning Commission makes a recommendation. The township board makes the final decision.

"The main objection was that if we approve this one, several other people are going to apply for a subdivision and they'll sue us if we don't give it to them," said planning commission chairman David Bacon.

Bacon, however, said he did not agree with the majority because the township's long-range plans show the area in question as a spot for residential development.

"We can't stop all development," Bacon said. "The courts won't allow it. Our desire is to introduce development we know is coming where it will be least harmful to the agricultural character of the township."

Bacon said the township's long range plans specify areas close to Chelsea and Dexter as the prime areas for residential development because they would cause the least amount of conflict with agriculture.

He also said that other parcels where development has been discussed are not in areas projected for residential development in the township's plan.

"We would have good reason to deny them if they are not forecast for development in the long-range plan," Bacon said.

"We risk a little credibility if we deny everything."

Two petitions against the project were presented to the commissioners.

At least one of the petitions, as well as some of the residents who attended the meeting, opposed the concept of cluster development that Harris Homes is considering using if it gets the land re-zoned. They contend it will spoil the rural nature of the area near Harper Dr.

Cluster development would allow some houses to be built closer together than regular residential zoning allows as long as the development as a whole maintains the regular housing density.

"Nothing is etched in stone," said George Riedel, one of three partners in the Livonia company.

"If the zoning change is approved the development would qualify for cluster development. But we are not at the preliminary plat stage yet. It's just something we're considering."

The most recent sketches of the proposed development show houses no closer to Harper Dr. than about 800 feet, Riedel said.

Riedel said Harris Homes will not sell lots to individuals or other builders in order to control the look and style of the project. He said homes would range from $165,000 to $225,000 or more, depending on what each client wants.

Riedel said the company would like to start construction in September or October if everything runs smoothly.

Activity directors Sandy Schmunk, Mardy Hamilton and Mary Lou Rigg are looking for young people (grades 6-12) with energy, enthusiasm and love to give to those who live at the Home. This is a unique opportunity to serve others, gain some training in working with people, and make new friends.

This year's volunteer program will run from June 13-Aug. 19. Coordinator will be James Lawrence, a sophomore at Hope College in Holland. Training sessions for volunteers will be held the week of June 13. Additional sessions may be held later in the summer if new volunteers wish to join the "team." Specific days and times for the training will be sent to those who contact the home.

Youth volunteer hours this year will be Monday-Friday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. Volunteers are asked to commit to at least two of these 10 time periods each week—with time off for family trips, vacations, and camp.

Volunteers will help take Home residents for walks or wheelchair rides; assist with activities such as croquet, baseball, bowling, ball toss, and board games; visit with residents; and help people get to programs or appointments in the building.

Some People Appreciate Us and Some People Don't

Most people buy nursery stock wherever they happen to see it—in the discount store, grocery, or at a "nursery" that trucks plants in and sells them. We grow most of our plants right here. It takes time and knowledge and patience and hard work, but the difference is visible. If you love beautiful, healthy, unusual plants, come see us.

Chelsea Girl Scouts Enjoy 'Go for the Gold' Games

Girl Scouts in the Chelsea Cluster participated, with more than 3,000 Scouts from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, in the "Go for the Gold" Girl Scout Games on Saturday, May 21 at Ryneerson Stadium in Ypsilanti.

These games were the culmination of a year-long program designed to encourage and help Girl Scouts understand physical fitness, learn about the Olympic traditions, and promote international awareness. Each cluster picked a country to explore and to compare with their own. The Chelsea cluster chose India.

During the year Chelsea Girl Scouts learned Indian songs and poems, learned to count, tasted Indian food, and made Indian flags. They used this knowledge to represent India in the opening ceremonies at the Girl Scout Games.

A percentage of the proceeds will provide for the Palmer Medical Scholarship. Since 1974, the Chelsea Painters have given more than $6,500 to this scholarship fund.

The Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary will assist with refreshments and there will be entertainment by Betsy Beckerman on both days.

This event will be held rain or shine and is open to the public.

The day was divided between competitive and non-competitive activities. The girls had their choice of which events in both categories to participate in.

For half the day, girls could participate in individual and team events such as the dash, tricycle race, leapfrog, softball and frisbee throwing, sack race, wheelbarrow race, and crazy obstacle course.

The other half of the day they spent with their own troop and other troops in New Games events. New Games are non-competitive and active.

In addition to earning many ribbons, the Chelsea Girl Scouts had the fun of interacting and making new friends with girls and troops from all over the Council. The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council serves western Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, and northern Monroe counties.

Young People May Attend 4-H Livestock Expo

Washtenaw county young people who enjoy learning about beef cattle, hogs and sheep should plan to attend the 4-H Livestock Expo July 12-13 at Michigan State University.

The Livestock Expo is a wonderful opportunity for young people to learn while they compete. They get to know others with similar interests and may explore a variety of learning experiences.

Expo events are planned for youths 9 to 19 years old. They include individual and team fitting and showmanship contests, livestock judging, meat identification and judging, and live animal evaluation competitions for each species.

There will also be communications contests—public speaking, demonstration, photography and poster decoration—as well as the livestock quiz bowl.

Just for fun the event will also include an ice cream social and the Ag Olympics, feature three-legged races and other events.

Contests will be held in the Livestock Judging Pavilion and Anthony, Snyder-Phillips and Wells Halls. Winners will receive ribbons, cash awards or award trips for their entries.

Registration deadline for the Livestock Expo is June 17.

For more information about the 4-H Livestock Expo, contact John Evert at the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service, 4-H Office, 971-0079.
