ONE HUNDRED-EIGHTEENTH YEAR—No. 2

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1988

22 Pages This Week Plus Supplement

A TOTAL OF 49 YEARS SERVICE to the Chelsea School District is represented in the three school superintendents shown here at Ray Van Meer's retirement party Friday evening. Van Meer at left, has served the district 10 years, from 1978 through 1988. Charles Cameron served from 1952 through 1977 for 26 years. Albert Johnsen served from 1939 through 1952 for a total of 13 years.

Despite Big Increase In Property Values, Schools Face Lean Year

Chelsea School District faces another lean year in 1988-89 despite the fact that State Equalized Value of property within the district has risen more than 11 percent, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills. "We're facing a budget reduction of about $352,000," Mills said. "The cuts will go across the board. Our philosophy is to spread cuts across the entire budget." According to figures from Washtenaw County Equalization Director Raman Patel, SEV in the district rose from $176,148,014 in 1987 to $196,014,545 in 1988, one of the largest percentage rises in the county.

Industrial property, which is taxed at half normal rate, rose from $7.14 million to $7.28 million, according to Mills' figures. The district will take in about $7.73 million in property taxes in 1988-89, or about $543,712 more than it did in 1987-88, due to the rise in property value, Mills said. However, the Headlee Amendment requires the district to lower its millage by 1.144 mills to 37.37 mills. That means the district will take in $236,870 less than it would have without the Headlee Amendment. Another major factor is the scheduled five percent rise in the pay of union employees. That, plus the fact that some teachers will move into higher pay brackets and non-union employees will receive raises, will just about wipe out the $534,000 gain, Mills said. The increase in SEV also puts the district back in out-of-formula status, which means it will lose more than $200,000 in state aid, Mills said. The district's budget for 1987-88 was $8,892,139. The tentative budget for 1988-89 stands at $9.5 million, which will probably be chopped to about $9.2 million by the next school board meeting June 13.

Village Likely To Ask For Another Extension Of Landfill License

Village of Chelsea will probably ask for another one-month extension on its landfill operating license in order for the village to work out a consent agreement with the Department of Natural Resources concerning groundwater contamination clean-up. The first extension ran out yesterday. DNR contends that the Werkner Rd. landfill has contaminated the groundwater. DNR says it will not issue a new operating license until an agreement can be reached as to how the clean-up will be handled, if it is necessary. Several tests of monitoring wells at the landfill have had conflicting results. The village sent a counter-proposal to the DNR after it was asked to sign a consent decree earlier this year. Last Friday, the village's Grand Rapids attorney was scheduled to meet with the DNR concerning their response to the counter-proposal, more than two months after the counter-proposal was filed. Before the meeting on Friday, DNR Enforcement Director Deborah Mulcahey said the DNR is still not willing to help pay for any clean-up. "The DNR doesn't pay for people to clean up their problems," Mulcahey said.

"The village needs to look at potentially responsible parties. They know what the townships brought in. They know what companies in the area brought in." In addition, Mulcahey said, the village will have to agree to clean up the groundwater to "background," meaning that the water will have to be at least as clean as water flowing into the landfill. "Nothing (in the response) will be a surprise to them," Mulcahey said. Mulcahey said she doesn't "have a good handle" on how the landfill might be affecting public health and

Chelsea High School Seniors Honored at Class Night Program

Chelsea High school seniors were honored at the annual Senior Class Night last Wednesday, June 1 in the high school gym. More than 50 awards were presented, ranging from subject awards to scholarships. In addition, counselor Sue Carter, who had been on medical disability but returned to school part-time to work with the scholarships, was presented a dozen roses by assistant principal Ken Larson. Subject awards were presented to the following students: art, Kelly Stump; business, Jamie Hoffman; English, Karen Grau; foreign language, Alisha Dorow; home economics, Missy Brown; applied technologies, Curtis Satterthwaite; math, Jeff Waldyke; science, Patrick Gustine; social studies, Kasey Anderson; and speech, Ward Beauchamp. Members of the Southeastern Conference Academic All-League First Team include Karen Grau, Pat Gustine, Jeff Waldyke and Sharon Colombo. Kristina Steffenson is a member of the second team. Five students are nominated for the team from each SEC school. Ten make each the first and second teams, and the final 15 are honorable mention. Senior class officers this year were Kevan Flanigan, president; Chris Acree, vice-president; Howard Merkel, secretary; and Kristi Jachalke, treasurer.

CUM LAUDE AND SUMMA CUM LAUDE graduates of Chelsea High school were honored at a banquet earlier this month. Included in the group are John Cattell, Jordan Gray, Minta vanReesema, Robyn Hafner, Arlene Tai, Jennifer Rossi, Ada Tai, Joel Boyer, Alisha Dorow, David Kvarnberg, Kevan Flanigan, and Kristina Steffenson.

RAY & JOYCE VAN MEER were presented a beautiful engraved plaque from the Chelsea Board of Education recognizing their 10 years of faithful service to the district. The presentation was made by board president Lloyd Grau at a retirement party Friday at the Sheraton in Ann Arbor hosted by school employees, school board members and friends.

Chelsea Woman Finds Young Man Asleep in Car

An Elm St. woman found a strange man sleeping in her car on Sunday, May 29. The car was parked in her driveway. The woman called Chelsea police because "she wanted him out." According to police, the Dexter man, in his teens, said he had a falling out with his parents and he thought he was sleeping in his friend's mother's car in Dexter. Police said the man had no idea how he got to Chelsea. No charges were filed.

School Election Slated June 13

Chelsea School District voters will go to the polls Monday to elect two members to the board of education. Two seats are open. Incumbent Joe Redding is running again. John Eisenbeiser is the only other candidate. No millage issues are on the ballot. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Beach Middle school.

Police Search For Prisoner

Police are still searching for a walkaway from Cassidy Lake Technical School, who was discovered missing from the facility on Sunday, June 5 at 10:17 p.m. Paul Andrew Woolworth, 22, originally from Grand Rapids, was serving 3-15 years. He is described as white, 5' 11", 165 pounds, with brown eyes and brown hair, acne scars and a small beard.

CUM LAUDE STUDENTS at Chelsea High school were recently honored at a banquet. Each student was allowed to choose one teacher or staff member who had a significant influence during his or her high school career. From left are Gene LaFave, Bill Gourley, Marian Williams, Joann Thornton, Sandra Kutschinski, June Warren, Pete Warburton, Barb Pruess, Charlotte Danborn, Margaret Nance, Paul Terpstra, Mary Baker, Pat Clarke and former swim club coach Dave Johnson. Solid Waste Proposal Doubles Goal Of Reduced Waste Composting and reduction of the amount of solid waste that is generated would get greater attention in proposed revisions to a solid waste policy that was recently presented to the state Natural Resources Commission.

The policy, which also sets a more stringent goal on the amount of waste going to landfills by the year 2005, is to be the state's blueprint for use of solid waste funds that would be raised if the proposed environmental bond is approved by voters.

The proposal by Governor James J. Blanchard to revise policies adopted in 1983 sets a goal of no more than 10-20 percent of solid waste going to landfills by the year 2005 (current policy is 30 percent) compared to 80-85 percent now. That is only a marginal improvement from the amount of waste sent to landfills when the policy was adopted five years ago, officials said.

David Dempsey, the governor's environmental advisor, said no specific cost estimates have been determined to reach that goal, but added the $125-$150 million that would be designated for solid waste plans for the bond proposal would be sufficient.

Key changes in the policy include increased attention to reduced solid waste and more use of composting, as well as opposition to state subsidies of waste-to-energy projects.

"Waste-to-energy is often not a significant improvement," Dempsey said, noting environmental concerns regarding air pollution from the burning trash and disposal of toxic waste.

And he added, "It's expensive to build waste-to-energy plants while it is relatively cheap to operate recycling and composting programs."

Local communities and private companies would be free to pursue waste-to-energy projects on their own, but would not be eligible for state assistance under the policy.

The goals of the proposed revisions include 8-12 percent of waste going to composting and the same amount eliminated from the system by waste reduction (current goals for both are 5 percent).

Uses for other forms of waste would remain at about the same level: 20-30 percent for recycling, 35-45 percent for waste-to-energy projects; and 4-6 percent in reusable waste.

The state has made the most progress toward the meeting the waste-to-energy goals, expect to be halfway toward the 40 percent of waste handled by such facilities by the end of 1989, said Fred Clinton of the Department of Natural Resources' solid waste division.

Most of the progress will be represented in the Detroit incinerator project, which also has raised significant environmental concerns.

Little progress has been achieved in recycling, although that is getting more attention, or in waste reduction, Clinton said.

He added most of the progress in waste reduction would be with industries not producing as much waste, a change that may require some state education or technical assistance.

The bond money would, in most instances, be matched to local or private funds for the waste projects.

Domino's Farms Theatre Offers Summer Plays

By Russ Ogden
Free Lance Drama Critic
and EMU Professor

Ann Arbor, Washtenaw county residents—Suzanne Ogden, Diane Boggs, Thomas Cooch, and Kevin Wright—will warm the hearts of Michiganders this summer with musical and dramatic performances geographically spaced from Stevensville in western Michigan to Ann Arbor in the East, from Adrian to Battle Creek!

Fresh from an eight-month tour of Indiana/Florida in the tuneful revue "Razzle Dazzle," Suzanne Ogden stars as Louisa in the 28 year Off Broadway record setting musical, "The Fantastics"! Following the June 8-26 run of "The Fantastics," Suzanne will don the role of Chava, one of Tevye's daughters in the much acclaimed "Fiddler on the Roof." From complete innocence in "The Fantastics," Suzanne is a moral pain to Noah and the other inhabitants of his ark in the mirth provoking musical: "Two By Two!"

With performances at the Detroit Institute of Art this last week in the touring company of "Alice in Wonderland," Kevin Wright undertakes the role of the mute in "The Fantastics" at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor. As Dance Captain he will direct the choreography of "Two By Two" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

Critically acclaimed for his just completed performance at the New Vic Theatre in "Little Shop of Horrors," Tom Cooch plays Motel, the tailor, in Domino's Farms' "Fiddler on the Roof" starting July 13 and then continues as one of Noah's sons in "Two By Two." Cooch has appeared in innumerable productions with the Saline Players, the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre, and a musical revue in Flint.

Both Ogden and Cooch were named outstanding actors in a musical with the Saline Players.

Putting her teaching of drama and musicals into action, Diane Boggs will perform the leading role of Desiree Armenfeldt in "A Little Night Music" at the Crosswell Opera House in Adrian. She then becomes "Doris" for eight weeks in the two character comedy "Same Time, Next Year" at Schuler's in Stevensville and Cromwell Turkey Farm in Battle Creek. Chelsea residents will remember Boggs' superb performance in "The Fifth of July" with the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre this last year and as Blanche in "A Streetcar Named Desire" with the Saline Players.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ever year about this time we see in the papers where folks final have quit working for their Governments and started working for themselves. Last year, Clem Webster said at the country store Saturday night, Mr. Average Worker had made enough by the middle of May to render unto all his taxing units. Clem took note that he ain't seen this year's switching time.

The reason probable is, Democrat Clem declared, that nobody knows. All the fog that rose from filling out this year's returns based on the new rules ain't cleared, so people that keep up with such things are having trouble finding Average Worker in the tax curve. With federal money to local Governments drying up, Clem went on, we're getting higher taxes for schools and other services at home without knowing what's happening to the money we send to Washington.

Republican Ed Doolittle fired back that if Democrats had their way we'd be lucky to keep three months wages after setting up with the tax collectors. Ed had saw where Democrat Senator Robert Byrd of West Virginia said he was quitting as majority leader to give more time to chairing the Appropriations Committee. This way, Byrd said, he could be more help to poor West Virginia. That his idea of helping his state is to pump in more Federal funds ought to give the rest of us ideas about what's causing the flood of red ink in Washington, was Ed's words.

Clem and Ed didn't git much rise out of the fellers with their usual ranting, except that Bug Hookum said he was strong fer folks taxing themselves local instead of sending dollars to Washington and getting dimes back. From everthing he reads, Bug went on, fer ever Federal program Congress comes up with we got people standing in line to steal it dry. If dentists ain't padding their Medicaid accounts, he said, contractors in big city feeding centers are cutting deals with packing houses to serve backbones at ribeye prices. Wrinkles clost to the U.S. Attorney General, like that $40,000 job fer his wife, is business as usual, was Bug's words.

Actual, Zeke Grubb allowed, now that Meese has hired a public relations outfit to clean up his image we see he couldn't of done anything out of line because he's been to busy fighting crime, especial drugs. Which, Zeke went on, begs the question of using the military agin incoming drugs. When we git floods, campus uprising and such natural events we call in the National Guard, he said, so why don't we let the military guard agin foreign as well as domestic dangers. Fer that matter, Zeke declared, the Coast Guard is military in spirit if not in letter.

Practical speaking, Ed said, Grenada got it right. Don't mention being a British territory, let the Americans chase out the bad guys and liberate you so they can go on one of their guilt trips and give you money till they feel better. How many states would like to be in Grenada's fix, Ed wondered.

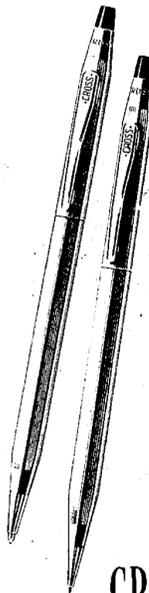

Personal, the best I see coming from the session is a reminder that it's hard to figger a country like ours. We can do anything we set our mind to. Fer instant, I see we have reinvented laziness. If work makes you sick, you got a disease called chronic fatigue syndrome.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Video Focus on Helping Parents Deal with Drug Abuse

Two new video programs with helpful information on alcohol and other drug abuse for parents may be borrowed at no charge from Brighton Hospital.

"Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" is aimed at parents of children who are struggling with pressure from their friends to use alcohol and other drugs. It suggests practical techniques for talking with children about substance abuse. The program, which has been broadcast by many public television stations, is especially helpful for parents whose children are clearly in the experimental stage of drug use and have not become chemically dependent.

"Choices and Consequences" demonstrates how parents, with the help of professionals, can use the process of intervention when their children have moved into the addiction stage of drug use. The program reveals how difficult it can be to pin down and deal with teen-agers' use of alcohol and other drugs.

Both videos may be borrowed at no charge by individuals and groups by contacting the hospital's Community Relations Department on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

Miss Washtenaw County Pageant Seeks Applicants

Applications are now being accepted for the 1988 Miss Washtenaw County Scholarship Pageant.

This year's pageant will be held Saturday, Oct. 15 at Washtenaw Community College. The winner of the pageant will receive a $600 scholarship and many other gifts and awards. She will also represent Washtenaw county in the Miss Michigan Pageant next June.

The pageant is open to any young woman living, working or attending school in Washtenaw county. She must be between the ages of 17 and 26 and never been married. Unlike many other pageants, contestants are not charged an entry fee, and they are not required to obtain their own sponsors.

Contestants are judged on personal interview, talent, evening gown and swimsuit, with talent counting 50% of her total score. Besides singing, dancing or playing an instrument, talent may consist of a dramatic reading, comedy dialogue, travelogue, baton twirling, mime, magic ventriloquism, or a combination of talents.

For further information, or an application, call (313) 971-7668, or write to: Miss Washtenaw County Scholarship Pageant, 2156-7 Glencoe Hills, Ann Arbor 48108. Entry deadline is Sept. 10.

A Homeowner's Dream: Scientists have developed a miracle strain of grass that could someday make lawn mowers obsolete. International Wildlife magazine reports that the new grass grows only two to eight inches a year. This new grass comes up in early spring and is greener than most other varieties. It also gives off substances that keep weeds from invading its territory.

Modern Mothers Study Club Holds Installation Dinner

Members of the Modern Mothers Study club concluded the year's activities with their annual installation dinner, Tuesday, May 24, at Kelly's One 07 restaurant in Saline.

Two new members were welcomed, Mindy Kinner and Kathy Trudell. Following the program an installation of officers for 1988-89 was held.

Newly installed officers are: Cheryl Vogel, president; Barbara Pruess, vice-president; Tami Detling, recording secretary; Lisa Gadbury, corresponding secretary; Pat Whitesall, treasurer; Liseli Bowers, program chairperson; Debbie Arend and Denise Long, finances chairpersons.

The club will meet again in September for the start of another year.

WCC Nursing Grads Score Big on Exam

Washtenaw Community College nursing graduates had the third highest over-all scores on February's Michigan Registered Nurse Licensure exam.

All 23 WCC nursing graduates passed the exam. In doing so, they compiled an average score of 2,272. That average was higher than any of the scores for the 10 baccalaureate degree programs participating and third among all institutions tested.

LOCAL ATTORNEY DIANA NEWMAN and her husband, international business consultant and composer Jason Eyster, hosted 75 guests in their orchard at a ceremony to solemnize the naming of their first child, Athena Elizabeth Eyster. While the guests stood, the couple carried their baby through the orchard and onto the stage to the strains of a trumpet fanfare written for the occasion by Mr. Eyster. The baby's mother wore a full-length pink gown and a pink rose in her hair. Mrs. Carroll Ordway then delivered the invocation. Jason and Diana then named the child holding her aloft, naming her Athena for the Greek goddess of Wisdom, and Elizabeth for Jason's mother and because Diana's ancestors in England had a custom of naming one child in each generation Elizabeth in recognition of Queen Elizabeth I, who had rewarded the family's loyalty with lands and a castle. Chelsea attorney Peter Flintoff then gave words of welcome to Athena on behalf of the community and two of the baby's godparents and great-grandmother, Mrs. H. E. Nelson of Toledo, O., spoke of their hopes for Athena and their responsibilities to her. In the photo above, are Athena Elizabeth Eyster, Mrs. Harold E. Nelson (great-grandmother), Diana Newman and Mrs. Wilbur Newman (grandmother).

Harook After Wolverine Owner for Alleged Lot Site Plan Violation

Village Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook says village trustee Joe Merkel has not complied with site plans for his Wolverine Food & Spirits in a timely fashion and she wants the village to do something about it.

Harook was scheduled to bring the matter to the village council's attention last night.

According to Harook, Merkel has failed to comply with a site plan that was approved by the village planning commission in 1986 for Merkel to expand his business' parking lot. In that site plan, Merkel was supposed to close one of two curb cuts on S. Main St. just north of the Cheker gas station on the west side of the road. According to Harook, a report issued by village planning consultant Carl Schmutz, Jr. indicated that the two curb cuts are a traffic hazard.

In December, Merkel asked, and later received a site plan extension until May 30. On May 11, Harook sent Merkel a registered letter reminding him of the deadline. As of May 30, Merkel had not complied. She sent him another letter dated June 3 saying the matter would be referred to the village attorney.

Merkel said in a Dec. 17 letter that by May 30 he would either close both existing curb cuts and replace them with one two-way curb cut, or simply close the north cut near Chelsea Associated Builders.

Harook addressed the planning commission about the problem at their regular May 24 meeting. The commission told her to take the matter up with council.

"I feel Joe is abusing his position," Harook said.

"I know Joe is busy but we as village officials should set a good example."

Girl Scout Leaders Plan Summer Encampment

Girl Scout leaders and several troop committee members representing Chelsea's 19 Girl Scout troops met with Chelsea's troop services director, Lee Tremper, at the Rod and Gun Club Wednesday, June 1 and shared in a pot-luck dinner. Important information was discussed concerning the annual Chelsea Girl Scout Encampment to be held June 24-25-26 at Huron Valley Girl Scout Camp Crawford near Ypsilanti.

This year the girls and their leaders will enjoy a week-end of activities which includes archery, crafts, nature activities, tie-dying tee-shirts, hikes, camping skills and cookouts.

Daisy Scouts will visit camp on Saturday, June 25 to get their first experience of a Girl Scout camp in action. The kindergarten girls will join in the activities of the day and will be dinner guests of older girls camping in various primitive sites. Their day will end after attending an evening campfire with songs and skits performed by the Brownie, Junior and Cadette scouts.

Brownie Scouts in first and second grades will sleep one night in the lodge, either Friday or Saturday night. They will all share in the activities held on Saturday. They will cook their evening meal with a Junior or Cadette "Sister" Troop who is camping in one of such primitive sites as Rainbow Mountain, Falling Leaves, Sandy Hollow, Singing Tree, White Tail Run, Oakey Pokey or Moss Angeles.

Third grade Brownies will enjoy their first two night tenting experience alongside a Junior "Sister" troop learning camp skills and tent safety.

Junior Girl Scouts in the fourth through sixth grades as well as Cadette Scouts in the seventh and eighth grades will enhance their camping experiences by sharing their camp skills with the younger girls.

Weekly troop meetings have ended now that school is out but many girls will continue with scouting throughout the summer. The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council offers Resident Camp for individual girl sign-up as well as Core Camping where the whole troop goes together attending Camp Linden near Howell. Chelsea and Dexter girls will have the opportunity to attend Day Camp which will be located at the Doll Farm in Chelsea this year.

Junior Troop 58, led by Marsha Cole, is planning a trip to Mackinac Island in August while Cadette Troop 719 will be busy this summer earning money for a trip to Washington, D.C., in 1989.

Senior Girl Scout Beth Kimball was selected to attend a Wider Opportunity event called "Studio '88" in Evansville, Ind. Beth will be able to sharpen her music skills with instruction from a professional musician, attend the Institute for Fine and Performing Arts at Evansville, and participate in a closing performance.

Sonya Osinski, a Senior Girl Scout registered with Huron Valley Girl Scout Council special Hill 'N' Dale Troop will travel with 11 other girls to Manchester, England during July for an international experience with the English and Canadian Girl Guides. During the two weeks they will camp, stay with host families and travel in the London and Manchester area. The trip will culminate with four days in Paris, France.

We wish to take this opportunity to give a heart-felt thanks to our many troop sponsors, to Jim Branham for his archery expertise, and to Luke Schaible and his band for entertaining once again at our annual Father and Daughter Banquet and Square dance. We are 243 girls strong this year and our membership is greatly enhanced by all our "Friends of Girl Scouting."

GIRL SCOUTS

Brownie Troop 242

Boy, have we been busy! We had our investiture on Dec. 1, 1987. Our parents were invited and treated to cherry pie for refreshments, that we made ourselves. Then Mrs. Packard came to one of our meetings and gave us a lesson on taking care of a flag and how to do a flag ceremony. Then she presented us with our own flag. Many thanks to her and her helpers.

For a service project we went to the Methodist Home and sang Christmas carols for the residents and gave them ornaments that we made. After Christmas break we started working hard on badges. As a troop we earned five badges and the rest of us earned some on our own. We made yarn dolls to take to the Chelsea Hospital, to give to the young patients. Then Mrs. Spike took us on a tour. That was fun.

To end our year, we made Mother's Day presents, went on a 3 1/2 mile hike, visited a Daisy Troop, marched in the Memorial Day parade, and had a badge ceremony. We hope to get together this summer for a swim party at Sally Walters' house.

Thank you to all who have helped us make this first year such a success. Best wishes to Shannon O'Brien who will be moving this summer. Special thanks to our sponsor, Florence Lowry, grandmother of Louisa Hubbard.

Hospital Offers Free Booklets on Effects of Cocaine

Two new booklets on cocaine prepared by the National Institute on Drug Abuse may be obtained free of charge from Brighton Hospital, which specializes in substance abuse prevention and treatment.

"Cocaine/Crack: The Big Lie" provides helpful information about the effects of cocaine and crack, a form of cocaine that has been chemically altered so that it can be smoked. The booklet summarizes the physical, psychological, and behavioral effects of cocaine use and the special risks facing pregnant women who use the drug.

"When Cocaine Affects Someone You Love" is aimed at the family, friends, and co-workers of the person who is using cocaine and suggests places to turn for help. The pamphlet notes that it is easy to realize how cocaine can harm the user but is more difficult to see that the drug can also injure the user's family and friends, placing their homes, their emotional lives, their financial security, and their health and safety in jeopardy. Like alcohol abuse, cocaine abuse may affect the user's entire social network.

Also included is a partial list of other helpful publications currently available from Brighton Hospital.

To obtain free copies of these booklets, contact the Community Relations Department at 12851 E. Grand River, Brighton 48116. The phone number on weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. is (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

Mrs. O'Connor Makes Them Blush

In the Governor's State of the State message early this year, he could point to a number of notable achievements. The State continues to operate without a deficit. The credit rating of Michigan has gone from the worst in the nation to the best. And the Department of Corrections has succeeded in tripling the number of guards at state prisons.

Blanchard also boasted of "down-sizing" the workforce of the state—other than prison guards—by 3,000 employees since taking office in 1982. In this case, the achievement is clouded. No mention was made of 12,000 "ghost" workers carried on the books as "consultants." (The head count may be greater than the number cited because some are part-time workers. A formula is used such as: 40 hours of work is equivalent to one employee per week.) Consultants are people whose services are presumably temporary, intermittent or highly specialized. Eight thousand of these were carried over from the previous administration. Four thousand were added to the work force since 1982. These were newly hired during a time when long-time residents were leaving the state.

Our 52nd District representative in the House wanted to know, "Why do we need all these extra workers to serve a shrinking population?"

This is the kind of question that Representative Margaret O'Connor dares to ask of her colleagues when a lot of money is being spent and nothing is being said about it. Here it is 1988, she continues, and the number of consultants has been upped to 12,231. Why?

It's a good question. In one year—October 1986 to October 1987—consultants have been awarded 6,189 contracts at a cost to the taxpayers of $345 million.

At times, Margaret O'Connor is virtually in a minority of one as she stands on the floor of the House challenging the wanton spending of her colleagues. Her widely-publicized criticisms of pork barrel projects, some of which have been described here, have caused anguish among Lansing politicians for years, but never enough to make them refuse the money.

She has a modest office in the State Capitol, Room 220 1/2. Her travels around Lansing have inevitably caused her to notice other state offices and how they have overflowed the town. State offices have crowded into downtown commercial buildings and then into hives built or leased in the boondocks.

This phenomenon appeared to be another subject worthy of investigation, so O'Connor and her Girl Friday, Mariterese McGorin, began looking. With the assistance of Raymond Padgett in the Office of Management and Budget they found that the average amount of office space needed for one state employee is 1,500 inside square feet. The cost is $15,000 whether the space is owned or leased. For 4,000 extra employees or their equivalent in "ghosts," occupancy expenses amount to $60 million a year.

By now, the state has to rent as much space as it owns, plus an additional 3.6 million square feet for warehouses, liquor commission, sign shops, crime labs, libraries and so on.

What bothers Representative O'Connor, as it does many of us, is the constant pressure for more spending and more taxes. There is never a serious, sustained effort to investigate and root out the causes of waste in government. In Lansing, as in Washington, all departments and entitlements are treated as fixed overhead, subject to inviolable annual increases.

The reason why legislators blush with shame when Mrs. O'Connor confronts them with the need to cut spending is simple. They don't know how to stop spending and they hate to admit it. Legislators are just grown up versions of kids who haven't learned how to save: "When ya' run outa money, ya' ask for more."

Actually it is impossible for a legislator to comprehend the complexities of 20 different state departments unless they have expert guidance. These departments have technologies of their own, all sorts of constituencies demanding services, hundreds or thousands of employees requiring supervision and financial needs running into the millions.

The only people with knowledge of this sort are the directors of departments and their cohorts. They will tell a legislator anything he wants to know about the intricate workings of their departments except how to cut staff, expose inefficiency or point to wasteful duplication. Department directors are entrenched career bureaucrats who often rule over their empires from one administration to the next. Of the current 20 Michigan Department directors, 17 have had salary increases of 36.5 percent or more since 1982. Three have had their pay boosted by 62 percent. Frank Kelley and Richard Austin now earn $80,300 a year.

It is much, much easier for legislators, governors and even presidents to consent to a new tax than attempt an operation on a body of government. They don't even know which end of the scalpel is the cutting edge, and they don't want to find out. It is uncouth to talk about economy.

There is a way to cut cancerous, wasteful management in government. It is the key to survival of many of America's most successful corporations. They seek the services of professional management analysts. The working tools of these people are searching audits, time studies, productivity analyses, personnel evaluations and logic in organization. When a management review is under way, a bureaucrat can try all sorts of evasions and coverups but if there is squandering, overstaffing or gross inefficiency it will be found out. As Joe Louis put it to his opponents, "You can run but you can't hide."

Former Congressman David Stockman of Grand Rapids was a first class management analyst who found Washington a wonderland of waste. He was feared by the bureaucrats, resented by Congress and underappreciated by his President. After the "woodshed" incident, he resigned and went to Wall Street where his insights as an analyst are earning him a million dollars a year.

Currently the Legislature of Michigan is faced with yet another "crisis" in education. A previous crisis was solved by the State Lottery. This year the lottery will rake in $421 million and it is nowhere near enough. The newest need is estimated at $500 million. There is no evidence in newspaper reports that the lawmakers have any definite idea of what the money is for. It's just that the current education budget is only $497 million so let's try DOUBLING it.

Let's assume for the sake of argument that the extra $500 million really is needed and will be prudently spent. This is only 3 percent of the $15.5 billion budgeted for the State of Michigan in 1988. Just find an economy of 3 percent anywhere in all these billions and the $500 million problem will be solved.

But no. Obviously what's needed is another tax and the Legislature, cheered on by the Governor, is proposing to meet this newest need by increasing the Michigan sales tax from 4 percent to 6 percent. At present the sales tax is expected to raise $2.4 billion in 1988. A 6 percent tax therefore should produce $3.6 billion, leaving a juicy gain of $1.2 billion. (The governor and Legislature have been lusting for this added sales tax for years. It's like finding 2 cents on the sidewalk!)

Anyhow, it has been announced that this windfall from a 6 cent sales tax, if approved by the voters in November, will be divided as follows: $1.2 billion for property tax relief and $500 million for education. That adds up to $1.7 billion. It's unfortunate but the solons in Lansing haven't realized yet that the most you can hope to get by raising the sales tax 2 cents is $1.2 billion. Or are they working from a different set of figures than the ones they print for the public?

As you know, the legislators in Lansing depend heavily on pork barrel spending, and largess from the Political Action Committees, to get re-elected. But if they would turn to periodic reviews of state departments by professional management analysts—consultants that are really needed—there would be a dramatic rollback worth billions to the taxpayers.

The State of Michigan would become a showcase of economy for the nation.

It could lead to the White House for James Blanchard and political sainthood for Margaret O'Connor.

JULIE DUNVILLE

Julie Dunville Enters Miss Grand Prix Pageant

Julie Dunville of Dexter has been selected a semi-finalist in the seventh annual Miss Grand Prix Beauty Pageant, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 15, at the Premier Center in Sterling Heights.

Ms. Dunville, 17, who's hoping to become an actress, will compete for the crown against approximately 100 other young women from across the state.

Last year's winner, Alecia Rae of Muskegon, will crown her successor at approximately 10:15 p.m.

"The Miss Grand Prix Pageant allows our contestants to demonstrate poise and confidence in a very competitive environment," explained Annalisa Sokol, executive director of the event.

"Now in its seventh year, the pageant has proven beneficial to many contestants who are pursuing a career in modelling or as product spokespeople," she added.

The pageant is sponsored by Detroit-based Metro 25 Car Care Centers, the nation's leading co-operative of independent retail tire dealers and automotive service centers.

Dick Purtan, WCZY-FM radio personality, will host the pageant.

A panel of local celebrities will select the winner, based on poise and personal appearance during swim suit and evening gown competitions, while also considering a personal interview.

This year's winner will receive one year's use of the official Miss Grand Prix car, an Isuzu Impulse, courtesy of Leo Adler Nissan/Isuzu, a full-length mink coat from Silver Fox Furs, a trip for two to the Bahamas from L.W.S. Travel, Inc., a full modelling/acting scholarship, courtesy of John Casablancas Modeling & Career Center, a $1,500 14-karat gold Movado watch, courtesy of Edmund Ahee Jewelers, an all-expense-paid trip to the 1989 Grammy Awards ceremony, and a promotional modelling contract with Metro 25 Car Care Centers, including a publicity poster and promotional appearances throughout the year at various major events.

A special award will be presented to "Miss Photogenic," who will receive a test shooting in New York and an interview with the internationally renowned Elite Modelling Agency. Finalists will receive an audition to participate in the national auto show circuit from Affiliated Models.

Chelsea Man Seeks Information About Wrongful Excavation

A Chelsea man is trying to find out who ran a bulldozer over his vacant McKinley Rd. land, excavated dirt, and in the process very likely destroyed a drainfield that had been constructed for his future home.

Stephen Foster, 321 E. Middle St., owns 1.1 acres at 2690 McKinley Rd. On Tuesday, May 24, someone took a bulldozer, drove right across his drainfield, dug a 14' by 8' hole in the side of a hill, and refilled the hole with some other kind of dirt. Foster said a neighbor noticed that the flatbed truck which was used to haul the equipment, was red and had white lettering on the side. The bulldozer was also red.

"A neighbor saw it, but just assumed we were starting to build," Foster said.

"She said they were there from about 8 until 4:30".

Foster said he believes the whole incident was an accident and that someone simply mistook his property for someone else's.

FLAG DAY
June 14th

The Flag is many things. It is a mark of identification of ships at sea and of armies in the field. It is a means of communication. When you see our Flag in front of a house, it says for all the world to read, "Here lives a family that is American in spirit as well as in name." The Flag is a mirror, reflecting to each person his own ideals and dreams. It is a history. Its thirteen stripes and fifty stars embrace a record written greatly during these years since 1776. It is a mark of pride in a great word—the word "American." It is an aspiration of what small children want their lives to be. It is a memory at the end of life of all that life has been. It is a ribbon of honor for those who have served it well in peace and war. It is a warning not to detour from the long road that has brought our country and its people to a degree of prosperity and happiness never even approached under any other banner.

Hearing on Ski Course Slated June 16
Avid skiers will have the chance to make their pitch for the establishment of a formal ski course on Half Moon Lake in Dexter township.

The Department of Natural Resources will hold a public hearing on Thursday, June 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Dexter Township Hall.

The issue is whether or not to allow the placing of buoys in the northwest corner of the lake, primarily for the benefit of competitive skiers.

According to local conservation officer Craig Wales, there have been a number of complaints about skiing by fishermen.

"Considering the number of complaints, we thought we'd better have a hearing," Wales said.

Off-Road Vehicles Must Register, Obtain Permit

Michigan residents and out-of-state residents who drive an Off-Road Vehicle (ORV) over Michigan's 1,800 miles of ORV trails and routes are required to register and obtain an ORV permit from the state for their vehicle.

An ORV is described as a motor vehicle used in off-road recreational travel and includes such vehicles as four-wheel drive vehicles, dune buggies, three and four-wheel All-Terrain Vehicles (ATV), trail motorcycles and amphibious and air-cushioned vehicles.

Michigan residents must register at their local Secretary of State Office. The resident registration fee is $9 and is valid for three years.

Out-of-state residents driving ORVs in Michigan must register at a Department of Natural Resources (DNR) field office or request an application form from the DNR's Information Services Center, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing 48909. The annual permit sells for $6 and remains valid for the calendar year.

Proof of vehicle ownership (include proof of paid sales tax) must be supplied when purchasing an ORV permit. All ORVs in Michigan must be registered unless operated exclusively on lands owned or controlled by the vehicle owner, or operated solely in special events.

There are currently more than 210,000 ORVs registered in the state by Michigan residents, with more than 4,000 non-residents registering ORVs in Michigan last year, according to the DNR.

Michigan has 1,800 miles of ORV trails and routes, 1,000 are off-road motorcycle trails. They are funded through ORV registration fees and are managed by the DNR's Forest Management Division. The trails are located only on state forest lands in the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

An additional 1,240 acres are open to ORV use at the Motorsport Area in Roscommon county; with another 400 acres available at the Silver Lake State Park in Oceana county.

All other State Parks, State Recreation Areas and Wildlife Game Areas are off limits to ORVs.

For more information on ORV rules, trail guides and individual trail maps, contact the DNR's Information Services Center in Lansing at 517-373-1220.

Ann Arbor Man Faces Charges of Fleeing and Eluding

A 19-year-old Ann Arbor man faces charges of fleeing and eluding police in an incident on Sunday, May 29 that could have resulted in a serious accident.

According to Chelsea police, Bradley W. DeKoning of Ann Arbor was passing northbound cars on Main St. at a high rate of speed shortly after 11 p.m.

When police attempted to stop him, DeKoning turned onto E. Summit St., failed to stop at the East St. stop sign, turned right on East St., left on Washington St. and eventually skidded through the stop sign at Freer Rd. into a cluster of trees, where the car rolled on its side. DeKoning crawled out of the driver's side window and was not hurt, police said.

The U. S. Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration is responsible for the administration of grants under the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986. Funds awarded to non-profit organizations will be used to develop programs to fight workplace drug abuse.

Area Students Earn Degrees At Hillsdale

Three area students received diplomas from Hillsdale College during commencement exercises on Saturday, May 14.

Constance Bollinger and Dave Wojcicki of the Chelsea area and Damon Lee Mark of Dexter all earned bachelor's degrees.

Bollinger, daughter of Jean Bollinger, 6102 Ivey Rd., and the late Oscar Bollinger, was a history and sociology/social work major. She was a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and served as chaplain, federation representative and president. She was also Panhellenic Council president, served on the Federation Election Board and the Academic Honesty Board, was a member of the Psi Chi, a national psychology honor society, and was a writer for the college newspaper.

Wojcicki, the son of Marilyn Wojcicki, 716 Taylor St., and the late Sylvester Wojcicki, earned his degree in education with social studies and psychology minors. He was also a member of Psi Chi. In addition he was on the football team, served as vice-president of the H-Club, and was named to the dean's list for the spring semester with a perfect 4.0 average.

Mark, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Mark, of 11700 Seitz Dr., was a business administration/ marketing major with math and computer science minors.

A BEAUTIFUL NEW GOLF BAG was among the gifts Ray Van Meer received at a retirement party Friday evening. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills who acted as master of ceremonies is shown with Ray as he unwrapped the golf bag. Other gifts included a four-drawer file cabinet, luggage, fishing rod and reel, new golf putter, all from school employees and friends attending the party. Board of Education president Lloyd Grau presented an engraved plaque and the school district provided Ray and Joyce with a two-day, two-night week-end gift certificate at the Sylvan Resort near Gaylord.

Landfill Operating License Expires

that the village should be conducting hydrogeological studies.

As of Monday, assistant village manager Lee Fahrner said he did not know what was discussed at that meeting or what might be proposed to the village. However, he said the DNR might be forced to help pay for the clean-up, "whether they like it or not."

Fahrner said he is likely to recommend that the village ask for another extension on the license as the landfill is not filling up as quickly as expected because the flow of garbage has dwindled.

Mulcahey said she would be open to granting another extension.

"Now that we're at this stage, we should be on a roll," Mulcahey said.

Area Students On Honors List At Central Michigan

Several area students were named to the winter semester honors list at Central Michigan University.

Those on the list include senior Sherry D. Barkman, 3991 Notten Rd., Grass Lake; senior James V. Smith, 5135 Joy Rd., Dexter; seniors Tina A. Compton, 14800 Austin Rd., and Sarah Platt, 13960 Logan Rd., both of Manchester; sophomore Jason Levasseur, 4873 Gallagher, Whitmore Lake; and senior Jennifer Kruszewski, 9821 Lakeview, and junior Ruth A. Do you spend more time planning your vacation than your finances?

Few people would think of going on vacation without having planned first. Yet many people spend little or no time planning something even more important: their financial future.

If you're one of these people, maybe it's time you started giving more thought to what's ahead. You can start by talking to us—the investment specialists of Integrated Resources Equity Corp. We believe your financial future deserves careful planning—and we'll listen closely to your needs and goals before recommending appropriate investments for you.

So make sure any itinerary you plan includes a visit to us. After all, isn't your future worth as much preparation as your vacation?

Laurie Honbaum Repeats As Miss Majorette of Michigan

Laurie Honbaum defeated 11 contenders to take the title of intermediate "Miss Majorette of Michigan" for the second consecutive year. She will now compete for the "Miss Majorette of America" title in Notre Dame in July. The elite NETA state contest to find the best in solo, model, and strut was held in Rochester on May 28.

Laurie, 15, daughter of Merritt and Arlene Honbaum, is the reigning "Chelsea Fair Queen."

Named "Miss Photogenic of Michigan" was nine-year-old, Jodie Rainey. In a new event called the "Basic Skills Contest," geared toward beginners, two Chelsea Baton Corps twirlers came out on top. Danielle Clark took the title in the 10-12-year-old division while Malia Montange, six, won the hearts of the crowd and the judges in the tiny tot division.

Seventeen Corps members placed in either the preliminaries or the overall top three winners in each age group for "Miss Majorette." The Chelsea Baton Corps Advanced Dance Twirl team took first place in the team division. Team members are Chrissy Dunlap, Kori White, Kate Steele, and Laurie Honbaum.

Final results for both the open contest and the "Miss Majorette" are as follows:

Erica Bloomensaat, 6: BSC (basic skills contest) strut (5); solo (2); over-all (2).

Acres Enrolled In Farm Programs Down

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported that producers have enrolled 187.8 million acres in this year's acreage limitation programs. The department's preliminary sign-up report shows 83.4% of the nation's 225.2 million acres of total crop acreage bases as enrolled in the program, down 3% from last year. Land actually idled from production of grain and cotton under the programs totals 54.2 million acres, 5.7 million less than farmers idled last year.

SEVENTH GRADERS collected books for India as part of a Chelsea Rotary Club project. Club representative Mark Cwiek presented Beach Middle school two books on India in appreciation for the students' efforts. This row of students in Barbara Brown's class collected more books than any other row. Total for the school was more than 5,000 books. From left are Brooke Pitts, Tina Hassett, Wendy Bristle, Robyn Gillen and Shaunti Vadamudi. The bloc students have also been involved in a project to send tools to Africa, in which they collected more than 200 tools, and another project to raise money for literacy teachers in Liberia. A bake sale, using African products, raised $325 for the teachers.

SEVENTH GRADERS in Jim Hoelt's bloc class at Beach Middle school were involved in a book collection project for the Chelsea Rotary Club that netted 5,000 books, which are all being sent to India. This row collected the most books in the class. From left are Casey Schiller, Rick Alvarez, Shane Herbert, Adam Hieber and Heather McConeghy. For their effort, the school was presented two books on India, which will go to the library.

Doletzky Pitches, Hits Dexter Past Bulldogs In District Tournament

For the third year in a row the Chelsea Bulldogs were knocked out of the district softball tournament in the first round, this time by the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 2-1. Dexter went on to defeat Monroe Catholic Central in the title game, 6-4, and advances to the regional tournament this Saturday in Monroe.

Senior Dexter pitcher Maryann Doletzky was the difference as she tossed a four-hitter and drove in both Dexter runs with a two-run single in the top of the third inning.

"Maryann pitched a super game, and Dexter played the best game they've ever played," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"The stats were dead even for both teams, but we just didn't get any breaks."

The Bulldogs had runners at second or third in six of the seven innings, but couldn't pick up the key hit. Laura Unterbrink's fourth-inning single to right scored Kim Easton from second base on a close play at the plate.

"Even in some of those innings we put the ball where we wanted to but Dexter might have someone out of position who would make a perfect play," Clarke said.

"They made all the plays." Clarke said the lack of hitting from the one through four batters was one of the keys to the game.

"All our seniors were a little upset," Clarke said.

"It's just one of those things that happens."

Senior Chelsea pitcher Peggy Hammerschmidt threw a four-hitter in the losing effort. She also struck out five.

"They got their two hits in one inning and that was it," Clarke said.

"Peggy pitched well. Unfortunately, ly, their big hit scored two runs and our big hit scored one."

Hammerschmidt's record dropped to 16-5.

Chelsea finished the season at 30-9. Dexter continues at 25-9.

CHELSEA THIRD BASEMAN Kelly Stump was ready for any grounders that came her way Saturday in district action against Dexter. The Dreadnaughts, however, scored twice in the third inning to take a 2-1 victory.

PEGGY HAMMERSCHMIDT pitched a fine game Saturday against Dexter to close out her Bulldog career. The senior finished at 17-5.

Dog Track Girls Shine in Meet, Anderson Sets School Records

Chelsea Bulldog girls competed in seven events at the Citizen Patriot honor roll meet Tuesday, May 24, and turned in some fine performances, according to coach Bill Bainton.

Dena Stevens had a fifth place in the discus with a throw of 98'1".

Jennifer Rossi, returning from an injury that sidelined her for several weeks, ran a strong leg on the 3,200 relay, as the team of Sarah Grau, Rossi, Debi Koenn and Kasey Anderson finished sixth in 10:18.2.

Danica Disbro was eighth in a strong field in the 100, and combined with Jeanene Rossi, Leisa Schiller and Tami Harris to finish seventh in the 400 relay with a :52.7, :0.1 off of their season's best.

Disbro, Harris, Schiller, and Anne Steffenson ran an outstanding 800 relay, clocking a season's best 1:49.7 on their way to a third-place medal. Harris ran a strong lead off as she, Schiller, Koenn and Steffenson ran a season's best 4:16.6 to finish fourth in the 1,600 relay.

Anderson ran an excellent race in the 3,200, winning the event convincingly in a school record 11:38.1.

The Bulldogs competed in three events at the State Meet in Sturgis, Saturday, May 28. The 3,200 relay of Jennifer Rossi, Steffenson, Grau, and Anderson had an off day and finished back in the pack as seven of the eight placers bettered last year's winning time, and the top four bettered the state record of 9:39.1. Wyoming Park won the race in 9:33.02.

Anderson concluded an outstanding season and a fine running career at Chelsea High school with two good races. Anderson was tenth in the 1,600 with a good time of 5:22.3. In the 3,200, she worked her way around the pack in the final 800 to take the eighth-place medal and lowered her new school record to 11:37.9. Heather Slay of East Grand Rapids won both events with a 5:00.8 1,600 and a state record 10:49.6 in the 3,200.

Anderson has a long list of accomplishments on the track this season, Bainton said. She was unbeaten in the 1,600 and 3,200 runs in dual meets, setting school records at both distances; won the 800 at the Mason Invitational, was Southeastern Conference and regional champion in the 1,600 and 3,200 and won the Jackson Selby Honor Roll Classic in the 3,200. In her career, she has been on the state champion 3,200 relay, and placed in the state all four years.

3,200 METER RELAY TEAM competed in the state meet at Sturgis Saturday but ran into some stiff competition as nearly every team that placed broke last year's winning time. From left are Anne Steffenson, Sarah Grau, Jennifer Rossi and Kasey Anderson. Anderson also ran in the 1,600 and 3,200 individual events.

THREE CHELSEA COACHES were presented engraved clipboards by Harry Nustad (right) of Scholastic Coach magazine. The awards were given based on the number of wins they have as head coaches in one sport. The awards are presented in three levels—gold, silver and bronze—based on the number of wins. All three men are in the silver level. Pat Clarke, left, has 154 cross country wins; Gene LaFave, center, has 81 football wins; and Wayne Welton, second from right, has 165 baseball wins. The awards are officially called Franklin Silver Select Circle Coaches Awards.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

For the third time in a row, Chelsea's softball team lost in the first round of the district tournament by one run.

Two years ago Pinckney won 1-0 in 16 innings. Last year Monroe Catholic Central shut out Chelsea 1-0. This year the score was 2-1, Dexter.

Until Saturday, Chelsea hadn't lost to the Dreadnaughts in modern times. Losing to an arch-rival in such a critical game had to hurt as much as being eliminated from the state title. And it really loused up my plans for touring Lansing.

The Bulldogs played well in the field. Peggy Hammerschmidt threw another fine game.

But it was the same old story at the plate. The offense took a vacation. Chelsea batters looked overmatched by Dexter pitcher Maryann Dolezky, who had a day she'll remember forever. Dolezky, who's about as laid back as Bill Laimbeer when it comes to competitive sports, had herself and her pitching well under control. She fired the ball harder than I've ever seen her pitch. After she caught the final pop-up, she knelt and pounded her glove to the ground, then leaped in the air, as though to say, "We finally did it."

Dolezky had some exceptional fielding behind her as well, particularly in the infield, and that may have been the real key to the game. I've seen Dexter start to unravel on defense, which at times has gotten Dolezky flustered, and she starts to throw wildly. Then the whole process snowballs.

After the game, Chelsea coach Pat Clarke congratulated them and said, "just don't waste this."

It would have been easy for the Dreadnaughts to be emotionally drained for the championship. But they showed a lot of character by coming back and beating Monroe Catholic Central, a team that had lost one game during the season.

Even if you're not a Dreadnaught fan, you had to feel good for Dolezky and the other Dexter seniors. What a thrill to upset your arch-rivals after four years of futility.

But it was tough to see the seven Bulldog seniors have to swallow such a big loss, on the day before graduation no less.

The Bulldogs seem to have one of those Bo-and-Bill Michigan Wolverine kind of jinxes—the kind where, for the most part, they win easily during the regular season but have a tough time in the first round. My prediction is that some year soon they're going to get past that first round. And when they do, they'll be tough to stop on their way to Lansing.

Chelsea should have a pretty good team again next year, anchored by power pitcher Jenni Smith and power hitter Kim Easton.

Athletic Director Larry Reed has two more positions to fill. Karen Tobin and Cheryl Vogel have decided not to coach volleyball again. With Jim Ticknor and Tallman giving up football, Reed has his work cut out for him this summer in his search for the right coaching staff.

On the bright side, however, it looks like Rahn Rosentreter has changed his mind and will coach girls basketball again next fall, even if he isn't on the teaching staff.

As Rahn put it, "I don't coach for the administration or the school board, I coach for the kids. I guess I just had to realize that."

With Rahn off staff, there could be some problems if someone on staff wants the job.

The last couple of years I have reported on the exploits of my softball team, The Nickel Boys, one of the worst teams you'll ever see anywhere. This year, though, we are The Nickel People, as we have changed to co-rec.

The Nickel People have about the same relative abilities as The Nickel Boys. However, we may have hit an all-time low Monday night. One of our new guys walked out past third base and into the outfield and asked the guy next to him, "Is this left field or right field?" It's probably needless to say, we lost the game.

We did have a good chance to win, but not by conventional means. The other team cheated, or at least broke batting rules, and admitted to doing so. Our manager decided to play the game under protest, which is uncharacteristic because we generally don't care much. The other team had been bragging a lot and was generally annoying. However, the manager of the other team, which is in first place, called us what amounted to "a bunch of weenies," except he used a different word for "weenie" and our manager decided it wasn't worth it after they decided to challenge our roster.

Fishing Fun At 74 State Events

A "full cast" of fishing tournaments starring Great Lakes salmon, walleye, tributary trout and inland pike and bass offers anglers a chance to land cash, merchandise and fun this summer.

AAA Michigan's 1988 June-September Fishing Events Guide lists 74 events which should lure the expert as well as the first-time angler.

Those who want to try fishing for free can enter any of several derbies during Michigan's Free Fishing Week-end June 11-12, which also offers free use of Department of Natural Resources public boat launching sites. Although some events post entry fees, residents and non-residents can fish without purchasing a license or trout/salmon stamp.

Young anglers can try their luck during the Free Fishing Week-end at Whitehall's White Lake Children's Fishing Contest, the Saginaw River Contest for Kids or Gladwin's Fishing Derby for Children.

The Lake Charlevoix Trout Tournament, the Carp Carnival near Michigan Center, the March of Dimes

Fishing Tournament near Clarkston and the Bass Blastoff in West Bloomfield will draw hundreds during the Free Week-end.

Landlubbers too can enjoy fishing events as many offer alternative activities. Ludington's Gold Coast Tournament July 15-16 presents softball and shuffleboard games, an arts and crafts fair, a suntan contest and entertainment tent. Iron River's Bass Festival July 8-10 offers family fun, including a parade, queen contest, games and picnic.

Many contests have become annual events and some draw hundreds of entrants. Alpena's 14th annual Brown Trout Festival—one of the oldest tournaments on the Great Lakes—is expected to draw more than 600 participants July 16-24.

While several contests award winners with merchandise, most anglers will cast for cash ranging from $50 to $3,000. Winners at the Great Lakes Bowfishing Championship June 4-5 in Saginaw Bay will take home $50 to $700 while winners at Muskegon's Aug. 27-28 Walleye Tournament will reel in $32,000.

Anglers ready to experience some of the state's best walleye fishing can enter Southeastern Michigan's Lake Erie Walleye Derby. The June 18-July 4 tournament offers a $2,500 top cash prize.

Since derby dates may change or events may be canceled, anglers should call local chambers of commerce or call the numbers listed on the AAA Michigan Fishing Events Guide before going.

Free Fishing Week-End Offered by State

Timely fishing information may be picked up during Michigan's third annual Free Fishing Week-end, June 11-12, at two special information stations organized by the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and Transportation (DOT).

The Free Fishing Information Stations will be located at the DOT's New Buffalo Welcome Center in Berrien county and the Clare Welcome Center in Clare county. DNR fisheries biologists and DOT personnel will staff the stations and provide fishing materials from noon to 10 p.m. on Friday, June 10 and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, June 11.

The New Buffalo Center lies on the eastbound side of I-94 at the Michigan/Indiana line, the Clare Center lies north of Clare on US-27, with both north- and southbound access. Banners and signs will be posted along the highway and at the centers to direct the public to the stations.

Nearly 10,000 people passed through the two welcome centers last year during the June week-end, according to DOT officials.

DNR Director David F. Hales will be at the Clare Welcome Center on Friday, June 10 between 6 and 8 p.m. "We appreciate the opportunity to work with the Department of Transportation in this endeavor and I look forward to personally meeting and talking with travelers there this week-end," said Director Hales.

For additional fishing information, call the DNR's 24-hour fishing hotline at (517) 373-0908; the line offers weekly updated fishing conditions and fishing hotspots throughout the state. For more information on Michigan's Free Fishing Week-end, contact the DNR's Fisheries Division at (517) 373-1280.

ALISHA DOROW prepares to make the throw the first after scooping up a grounder at short-stop. The Bulldogs played well in the field but had problems at the plate and lost to Dexter, 2-1.

BETH KENNEY slides safely into third as the ball pops away from the Dexter third baseman. Chelsea had runners at second or third in six of seven innings but could only score one run.

Lake Erie Fisherman Finds Balloon Launched from Chelsea

Catherine Baibak, a first grader at North school in Beverly Peebles' class, was one of many children in her grade to release a helium balloon with a message attached to it last month. However, she had no idea who might find it.

The balloon apparently landed in Lake Erie and was picked up by a fisherman. Debbie Stewart, of Toledo, sent Catherine a letter.

"My husband (John) found your balloon and note while fishing in Lake Erie, just out from the Maumee and Ottawa Rivers. He had his line out and it got tangled around it.

Inverness Holds Two Ball Tourney

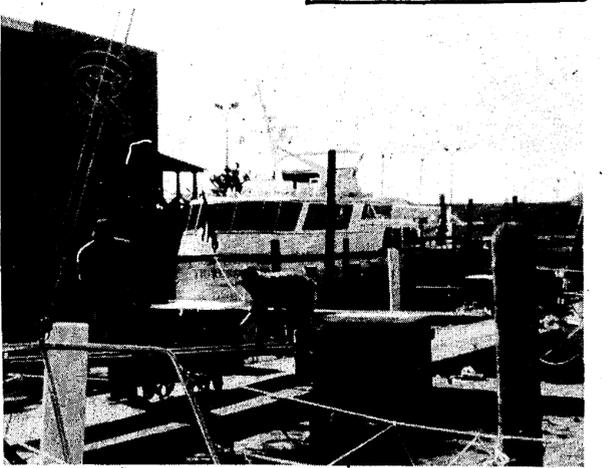

Inverness Golf Course held a Two Ball Tournament last Sunday, June 4. Seventy members and their guests attended.

Low putts award went to Lee and Jerry Pickard, with 13 putts each.

Ralph Parker had the longest drive for men on hole nine. Jeanette Schneberger had the longest drive for women on hole four.

Art Schlude was the closest to the pin among men on hole five. Sally Doyle was the closest to the pin on hole seven.

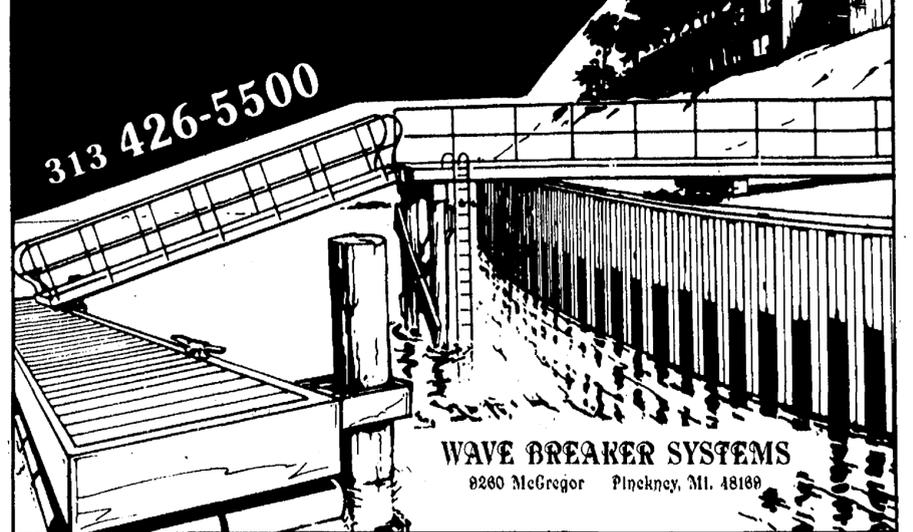

"We knew where this letter came from automatically because we travel up there every year for a family reunion. You see, my husband's cousin is your Chief of Police Lenard McDougall. So we know the distance it went."

ROOSTERTAIL GETS NEW SEAWALL: Tom Schoenith recently hired Wave Breaker Systems of Pinckney to do extensive seawall construction to the Roostertail's 30-year-old original seawall. The Roostertail is a host facility for the Spirit of Detroit Unlimited Hydroplane Championship on the Detroit River. Detroit Tiger owner Tom Monaghan's 64-foot yacht "Tigress II" is behind the two transport men.

Outdoor Report

From DNR District Office in Jackson

May 31

Fisheries . . .
The Fisheries Division has scheduled a public meeting to discuss proposed regulation changes pertaining to smallmouth bass fishing on the Huron River. This meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 8 at the Administration Building of the Hudson Mills Metropark off North Territorial Rd., near Dexter.

Jim Merna, of our research section has been studying the smallmouth bass population of the Huron River from Big Portage Lake to Delhi Mills for several years. He has consistently seen many small bass and only relatively very few legal sized smallmouth bass in this portion of the Huron River. This size structure of the smallmouth bass population may be caused by heavy angling pressure and harvest of smallmouth bass on the stream. To test this theory the current proposal would restrict fishing for smallmouth bass to catch and release only (no kill) in the Huron River from Dexter to Delhi Rapids.

We want to determine if this regulation will create a better size distribution of smallmouth bass in the stream (more large fish).

Before this proposed change in fishing regulations can be implemented, we need to know the thoughts of the anglers that use the Huron River in this area. Determining this public feedback is the purpose of the June 8 meeting.

Lloyd Eddy, and Risa Buberniak and Nikki Brown, who worked on a poster together. In the back are Heather Kendrick, who is holding Carrie Vargo's poster as well as her own, Michelle Craig and Melissa Smith.

A POSTER CONTEST for Chelsea's recycling program was held and winners from the Chelsea High school are above. The posters will be displayed all over town as a reminder to residents to use the recycling facility once it opens. The program may begin this month. From left are Jeff Garan and Anna Muncer, who worked on a poster together, Ed Cox, who worked with Eric Weber, and Kasey Anderson, who came up with the winning logo. The poster contest was part of a publicity program designed by South school fifth grader Jessica Flintoft.

Pinckney Area Man Completes Navy Satellites Course

Pvt. David J. Swarouth, son of John L. and Marian J. Swarouth of 9019 Cedar Lake Rd., Pinckney, has completed the tactical satellite/microwave systems operator course at the U.S. Army Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

The course provided enlisted personnel with a working knowledge of the proper installation and operation of tactical microwave and multiplex equipment.

He is a 1986 graduate of Pinckney High school.

KASEY ANDERSON'S LOGO design for Chelsea's recycling program was judged the best in a district-wide contest of students. Kasey is a senior at Chelsea High school. The program was scheduled to begin this week but legal problems may delay the start.

Family Practice Staff Member Attends National Conference

Kent J. Sheets, Ph.D., assistant professor and director of educational development for the University of Michigan Department of Family Practice, represented the department at the 21st annual spring conference of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM) in Baltimore in April 1988.

Dr. Sheets is a member of a national committee which met during this time. He also co-chaired the STFM Task Force on Predoctoral Education, with Dona L. Harris, Ph.D., from the University of Utah.

A second year medical student from the University of Michigan, Mary K. Doherty, also presented a paper, "The Teritary Care Medical Center as a Training Ground for Family Physicians," based on research she conducted with Dr. Sheets. Dr. Sheets also led a one-hour round-table discussion, "Teaching Skills for Family Practice Residents," at the meeting.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE — Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need to you, I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg you to whom God hath given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause it to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and three Glorias for nine consecutive days. Publication must be promised. St. Jude, pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. (This novena has never been known to fail.) R.M.M. -2

Card of Thanks 19

THANK YOU
I would like to thank all my friends who came to the Chelsea Hospital and to my home, for the flowers and cards, and North Sharon Bible church for their prayers. Many thanks to Dr.
Wilhelm and Dr. Peggs for all they did for me. Thanks also to my family who stayed with me during long hours of surgery and the nurses who were so nice to me. Thank the dear Lord who was with me at that time. God bless you all.
Julius Reule.

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere appreciation to my friends and family for the many cards, flowers, phone calls, gifts, visits and prayers during my recent stay in the Chelsea Community Hospital. A special "thanks" to Father Howell and Sister Eileen of St. Joseph parish and Father Dupuis and members of St. Mary's parish. Also my gratitude and "thanks" to Drs.
Wilhelm, Long, Chodoroff and Waldyke and all the nurses and staff at Chelsea Community Hospital for your special efforts on behalf of my recovery and rehabilitation. Thanks again.
Catarina (Kay) Howard.

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEW BOOK LIST

THE ICARUS AGENDA by Robert Ludlum. In the dusty Arab city of Masqat, a band of fanatical terrorists has seized the American embassy and promised a bloody massacre if its impossible demands are not met.

A masterly episode in the eternal struggle between good and evil, freedom and manipulation, played out in a tight, electrifying story that ranges from the Arabian desert to the inner sanctums of Washington power. Packed with shocks, twists and revelations, this is Ludlum's most powerfully told thriller yet.

THE PALACE by Paul Erdman. A fascinating look at the shady, heady world where Wall Street and the casinos of Las Vegas and Atlantic City collide. A provocative mix of financial wizardry and incomparable imagination. The PALACE takes us from money-laundering schemes in the Cayman Islands to behind-the-scenes gambling operations, weaving a compelling tale of the high-rolling, fast-living connections between the casinos and the worlds of both legitimate finance and organized crime.

INHERITANCE by Judith Michael. From the cobblestone streets of Boston's Beacon Hill to the fashionable enclaves of the European jet set; from the loneliness of the outsider looking in to the triumph of worldly success and the embrace of a loving family, INHERITANCE delivers a legacy of riches—with heart and love and superb storytelling.

BETH REDDING became a specialist on raccoons for her Enrichment Triad project this year. She presented her knowledge to parents and friends at North school's "Chelsea's Children Celebrate Live" program May 24.

BASEBALL became Zach Boller's area of expertise this school year. The North school fourth grader studied the sport as his project for the Enrichment Triad Program and presented his knowledge at the school's celebration May 24.

HORSES were the favorite topic of North school third grader Hilarie Szczygiel this year and she became an expert on the animals for her Enrichment Triad project. She and many other children created interest centers and shared their knowledge with family and friends at a year-end celebration at the school May 24.

ALICIA VOGEL decided to study otters this year as her project in North school's Enrichment Triad program. The third grader learned all about the animal's habits and presented her knowledge at the school's "Chelsea's Children Celebrate Live" program May 24. Each child gave a one-minute talk about their subject and later answered questions at their hand-made interest centers.

AARON SPORER studied sailing for his Enrichment Triad project this year. The third grader gave a one-minute "commercial" about sailing before answering questions at his interest center on May 24. The event was the year-end celebration for the program.

Keep Those Small Hands Poison-Free

By Linda Warren, R.N.
U-M Family Practice Center

Parents never deliberately shop for poisons, but the fact is that they buy several when they go to the grocery store or hardware. They use them to clean the house, do the laundry, paint a room or fuel the lawnmower. Most of the time they are not aware of the potential danger of these household products because they do not read the labels, and their children can't.

The natural curiosity of children to explore, investigate and sample the thousands of products and drugs that are available and frequently present in a home can lead to life-threatening situations. Few practicing physicians escape the anxiety of treating an accidental or deliberate poisoning of a child or an adult.

The injuries or deaths are preventable, however. It is estimated that three out of four children's poisonings could be prevented by putting all drugs and household products out of sight and out of reach. All medicines should be kept in a closed medicine cabinet or high closet shelf, since children under five are the most frequently involved. No cleaning or polishing materials should be placed on lower cupboard shelves.

Also, paint thinners, insecticides, and weed killers should be kept in their original containers and stored on high shelves in the garage or workshop. The drug and chemical industries are using effective safety containers and closures for drugs and poisonous household agents. Some children may be able to circumvent these precautionary measures, but for each child who might be able to remove a child-resistant cap or safety device, there will be many who would not be able to do so.

Parents need to read the directions on the labels carefully. First aid treatment for ingestion of the product is required by law to be on the label. Also look for the single word "Poison," "Danger," "Warning," or "Caution" which tells the chemical's degree of toxicity.

Medicine should be given to children in a serious fashion. The giving should not be made into a game and should never be referred to as candy. Parents, especially those taking vitamins or medications regularly, should take their pills in privacy or at least not in the presence of small children. Children are great imitators. Remember to clean out old medicines regularly and flush them down the drain.

While prevention is best, it is true that poisoning can happen in any home. It is a natural impulse to act at once, but the wrong treatment is often more dangerous than none. Call the Poison Control Center at 1-800-462-6642 for advice. When you contact them have the following information ready:

1. The age and approximate weight of the person.
 2. Name and amount of the product.
 3. Symptoms and time the poisoning happened.
 4. Location of the person.
- Syrup of Ipecac may be needed to induce vomiting. It is available at local pharmacies and should be kept with other medicines for use in an emergency situation if advised.
- Put the number of the Poison Control Center near your telephone. Remember, it could save your child's life.

MARY SCHILLER, who's retiring after 19 years of service to the Chelsea School District, 16 in the cafeteria at Beach Middle school, was given a farewell party last week. Part of the tribute included a poem, written by principal Darcy Stielstra, that was a take-off on a poem called "Really Rosie" by Marie Sendak. His version was called

"Chicken Soup With Rice," because the kitchen staff often prepares homemade soup for the staff from ingredients brought by the staff. "She's the main ramrod in the Beach kitchen," Stielstra said. "She has been delightful to work with."

Michigan Doctors Insurance Highest in Area

Michigan physicians must pay three to five times as much for medical liability insurance as their colleagues across the Indiana state line, according to a study released today by the Michigan State Medical Society (MSMS).

Medical liability insurance rates in Michigan are higher than in any surrounding Great Lakes state, the study further showed.

Neurosurgeons in the Detroit area pay in excess of $80,000 each year for a $200,000 policy, the study found, while many outstate obstetricians/gynecologists have stopped delivering babies because their insurance costs cannot be covered by the number of deliveries performed.

For $100,000 coverage, an obstetrician in a Michigan metropolitan area pays $51,952. In Indianapolis, Ind., that same obstetrician would pay $14,408 for $100,000 coverage; in Columbus, O., $18,570; and in Chicago, Ill., $34,255. In Milwaukee, Wis., an obstetrician pays $31,746 for a $300,000 policy. A lower policy amount is not available there.

Most Michigan obstetricians carry a minimum of $200,000 coverage, which costs about $68,274 in a metropolitan area.

Based on a 40-hour week, an obstetrician must earn $34 an hour just to pay for insurance. Obstetricians' insurance rates have increased 406 percent in the past four years.

"It's no wonder that obstetricians graduating from our medical schools and completing residency programs are leaving Michigan," said MSMS president Fred W. Bryant, M.D. "If they can simply cross the Indiana border and pay a third of what they would pay in Michigan for medical liability insurance."

"Our medical school graduates are a priceless resource," Dr. Bryant said. "We need to do something to keep our energetic and enthusiastic young physicians in Michigan."

Ever-increasing numbers of lawsuits, increasing amounts of jury awards and resulting high insurance rates will continue to drive obstetricians from Michigan, according to MSMS manager of medical economics, Thomas White, who conducted the study.

Farm Bureau Protests Tax for Medicare Hike

Farm Bureau is protesting a proposal in Congress to raise the cap on social security taxes to fund a $5 billion annual increase in medicare spending.

"We object to the bill because of the financing arrangements it contains," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "Removing the cap on income subject to the 1.45% medicare payroll tax paid by employers and employees constitutes a new tax—one that will fall hard on many farmers and other self-employed individuals as well as all employers and employees."

The social security tax rate for farmers and other self-employed individuals currently stands at 13.02% on incomes up to $45,000. After 1989, the self-employed rate will go up further to 15.3% on a cap that will be above the $45,000 level.

"Under this new proposal, however, there will be no income cap on the medicare portion of the tax computation," Almy said. "We don't deny that health care costs have gone up, especially for the elderly, but this is an extremely expensive program with excessive costs built in."

The House of Representatives is scheduled to consider the measure in June.

Vacation Bible School Slated June 13-17 at Zion Lutheran Church

"Jesus Loves Me" is the theme of Vacation Bible School at Zion Lutheran church in Chelsea. The community is invited to attend the classes for three-year-olds through the sixth grade on June 13-17. Vacation Bible School is in session from 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. each day. The church is located at 3050 S. Fletcher Rd. Students will participate in Bible stories, art activities, music, service projects, recreation, and worship, all centered on five themes: Jesus Loves All People, Jesus Cares for Us in Sad Times, Jesus Brings Us Joy, Jesus Helps People in Need, Jesus' Love is Forever. A special feature of the program is the Sheperd's Love Center. It offers many opportunities for learning and fellowship. An all-school celebration will be held Thursday evening, June 16 at 7 p.m. for the entire family. On Friday, June 17 school will end with a picnic for the family at 11 a.m. Jesus Loves Me is a unique and important learning opportunity for children. It aims to provide a learner-centered, full-filled, and happy occasion for all who participate. Registration for Vacation Bible School is now in progress. You may register or obtain additional information by visiting the church office Tuesday, Wednesday or Friday between the hours of 9 and 12, or by calling the office at 475-8064, or Jan Roberts at 475-3615.

New State Transportation Map Is Now Available

The Michigan Department of Transportation's new Official Transportation Map of Michigan has made its debut.

The map highlights Michigan's unique location at the heart of the Great Lakes and focuses on its three national lakes "treasures"—Isle Royale National Park and Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore on Lake Superior and Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore on Lake Michigan.

Gov. James J. Blanchard, in his "welcome" message on the cover, refers to Michigan as "the crown jewel of mid-America."

The map is the most up-to-date available and may be obtained from the Transportation Department at no charge. Some two million will be published for free distribution over the next year, including several hundred thousand by the Michigan Travel Bureau. It is the state's most popular piece of travel literature and is widely used by Michigan's travel industry.

About 400 changes were made in the 1987 map to bring the 1988-89 edition up to date. Additions this year include the recently signed circle routes of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan and the general locations of Michigan's elk and moose herds.

A photo of the Blue Water Bridge at the foot of Lake Huron marks the 50th anniversary this year of the bridge which links Port Huron with Sarnia, Ont.

The map guides travelers along the 9,500-mile state highway system, on primary country roads and the major thoroughfares of the state's metropolitan areas.

It also shows locations of airports having lighted runways at least 3,000 feet in length, intercity bus terminals, both commercial and recreational harbors on the Great Lakes, ferry routes, freeway rest areas and roadside parks on the state highway system. Locations of rail passenger lines and stations and rail freight lines are included.
Hospitals offering 24-hour emergency service and MDOT's 11 highway welcome centers, located mostly at border points, also are shown.

There is information on Michigan historical markers, highway distances from city to city, locations and phone numbers for state police posts and district offices of MDOT and fares charged on such facilities as the Mackinac Bridge. The map identifies all state parks and lists their types of accommodations and provides an index to Michigan cities and villages. Various state symbols such as the state bird (robin) and tree (white pine) are shown.

The new map may be obtained, free of charge, at numerous locations, including all MDOT district offices and welcome centers. Other distribution points include state police posts, district offices of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, local chambers of commerce, municipal government offices and regional tourist associations.

The Department of Transportation will mail maps to individuals upon request. Requests should be made on a post card (not in a sealed envelope) providing the name, address and zip code of the requester. Post cards should be mailed to: MAPS, Michigan Department of Transportation, P.O. Box 30050, Lansing, MI 48909.

Marjorie L. Nusca

Sterling Heights (Formerly of Chelsea)
Marjorie L. Nusca, 63, of Sterling Heights, died Friday, May 27, 1988 at her home following an extended illness.

She was born Nov. 13, 1924 in Denver, Colo., the daughter of Max Donald and Mae (Newkirk) Carpenter. On Jan. 28, 1952 she married Raymond L. Nusca in Ann Arbor, and he survives.

Other survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Craig (Colleen Rae) Racenet, of Danville, Vt.; a granddaughter, Naomi Allyson; a brother, Max Carpenter, of Land O' Lakes, Fla.; and several aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Nusca had been a volunteer for the Ann Arbor American Red Cross, was active as a leader in the Girl Scouts, had participated in the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Program in Lima township, and had volunteered in the Chelsea Community Chest Drive. She had been employed as an accountant/office manager at Pittsfield Products Co. and later with Coca-Cola Bottling Co. She was a Chelsea-area resident until November, 1977, when she moved to Satellite Beach, Fla.

While residing in Florida, she devoted her time to her artistic skill in oil painting. After moving to Sterling Heights in 1981 she was invited to exhibit in the International Salon Des Naton in Paris in 1985.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, June 18 in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church in Ann Arbor, with the Rev. Russell L. Smith officiating. Her body has been donated to the University of Michigan Medical School.

Memorial contributions may be made to the McAuley Cancer Care Fund, Catherine McAuley Health Center, Advancement Dept., P.O. Box 992, Ann Arbor 48106.

The program to fight workplace drug abuse is being conducted with funds appropriated under the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, in which Congress directed the Labor Department to have studies made of both the incidence of drug abuse in the workplace and efforts to assist workers through such means as counseling and rehabilitation.

Fusilier To Challenge Bauer In Lima Supervisor Election

Lima Township Supervisor Leila Bauer faces a challenge for her position from Wallace Fusilier in the 1988 November election.

The candidates, as did all other candidates for township offices statewide, filed their nominating petitions by May 31.

Bauer has been supervisor for two terms, eight years.

The Lima supervisor's race will be one of the few seats in the Dexter, Freedom, Lima, Lyndon, Scio, Sharon, Sylvan and Webster township area in which more than one person is running.

However, in Freedom township, incumbent supervisor Eugene Mann faces a challenge from Robert C. Little.

Also in Freedom, trustee Dale E. Weidmayer will be challenged by William Uphaus and Ronald Davis.

School District, CAC Reach Agreement

The general membership of the Chelsea Aquatic Club met Thursday evening to hear the response of the school administration to proposals for a combined school/community swim program, beginning in the fall of 1988.

Mike Cross, Alan Fischer and Ron Montagne represented the CAC in discussions of the proposal with superintendent Ray Van Meer, assistant superintendent Fred Mills and Beach school principal Darcy Stielstra. There was general agreement between the schools and club on proposals regarding interscholastic team competition, the swim club, community education, recreation, the swim club, community education, recreation and instruction as well as school curricula. There was also rapport with respect to scuba lessons, water safety classes, lifesaving (Red Cross), pool rentals, physical therapy, and instructional program for other communities.

Unanimous approval was voted by the membership to join with school administrators in the search for a person who would qualify as pool manager and CAC coach. Compensation for this position is to be shared by the school district and the Chelsea Aquatic Club.

Also receiving unanimous approval by the aquatic club was a standing decision by the school administration to eliminate the title of pool director.

Lyndon constable Kathryn Sprawka faces a challenge from Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department Detective Paul Wade, and three people are seeking the two Lyndon trustee positions.

L. Duane Noah, Brenda Russell and Barbara J. Roderick are all in the race. Roderick is the incumbent candidate. George Beeman will not seek re-election.

In Scio township, all the incumbents are seeking re-election except trustee Robert Foster.

In Sharon township, Roger Kappler is challenging incumbents Willard Blumenauer and Donald Irwin for trustee.

In Sylvan township, incumbent Reuben Lesser, Jr., faces a challenge from Gerald Dresselhouse and Earl Heller. James Carruthers is not running again.

All Webster township incumbents seek re-election, unchallenged.

Candidates for the township positions are listed, with (I) signifying incumbents.
Dexter township: supervisor, James Drolett (I); clerk, William Eisenbeiser (I); treasurer, Julie Knight (I); trustees, H. Douglas Smith (I), Earl Doletzky (I); constable, Robert Burns (I).

Freedom township: supervisor, Eugene Mann (I), Robert C. Little; clerk, Julie Schaible; treasurer, Walter Hieber; trustee, Dale Weidmayer (I), William Uphaus and Ronald Davis; constable, Loren Blumenauer and Stephen Carson.

Lima township: supervisor, Leila Bauer (I) and Wallace Fusilier; clerk, Arlene Bareis (I); treasurer, Betty Messman (I); trustees, Robert Heller (I) and Charles Trinkle (I); constable, Glen Wiseman (I).

Lyndon township: supervisor, John Francis (I); clerk, Linda Wade (I); treasurer, Janis Knieper (I); trustees, L. Duane Noah, Brenda Russell and Barbara J. Roderick (I).

Scio township: supervisor, Richard A. DeLong (I); clerk, Gay F. Konshuh (I); treasurer, Donna E. Palmer (I); trustees, Robert A. Bliss (I), Kenneth C. Collica (I), Terrance P. Conlin (I), E. Spaulding Clark, Kathi Boyle, Janet Gerson, Charles D. Ream and Robert S. Tickle.

Sharon township: supervisor, John Savage (I); clerk, Duane Hasel-schwerdt (I); treasurer, Shirley Neigebauer (I); trustee, Willard Blumenauer (I), Donald Irwin (I), and Roger Kappler.

Sylvan township: supervisor, Don Schoenberg (I); treasurer, Fred Pearsall (I); clerk, Mary Harris (I); trustees, Reuben Lesser, Jr. (I), Gerald Dresselhouse and Earl Heller.

Webster township: supervisor, Donald W. Zeeb (I); clerk, Wana M. Baldus (I); treasurer, Janis Keogh (I); trustees, Paul Kleinschmidt (I) and Hugh T. Mosher (I); constables, DeWight C. DeRoo (I) and Carl Koch (I).

BARBARA BROWN, a 7th grade bloc teacher at Beach Middle school, was one of two recipients of the Exemplary Employee Award for 1987-88. Teachers and employees are nominated by their peers or supervisor and the final selection is made by the administration. Lloyd Grau, president of the school board, made the presentation last Wednesday, May 25,
