CHELSEA COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AUXILIARY had a booth set up at their own flea market last Saturday at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds. The third annual

CHELSEA ROTARY CLUB had one of the largest booths at the hospital auxiliary flea market last Saturday at the fairgrounds. The club sold all kinds of baskets, hats and other merchandise. In the booth, from left, were Min-ta vanReesema, Mark Cwiek, Sue Carter, Chris Harris and Dorothea Henry.

'Strings & Things' To Play Thursday's Concert in The Park

"Strings & Things" will be the featured act in Thursday evening's second installment of the Concert in the Park series in Pierce Park.

The four-member band from the Ann Arbor area describes itself as a rockabilly band but does not play hard rock. The band has been together for 15 years and frequently performs at Moose lodges in the Ypsilanti and Jackson area, American Legion posts, and the American Association of Retired Persons.

The band consists of Kenneth Brandenburg on guitar, Kevin Cook on keyboards, Avery Goble on bass, and Mark Joseph on drums. They are all singers as well. They are scheduled to play at the Heritage Festival in Ypsilanti on Aug. 28 and the New Boston Apple Festival in October, among other dates.

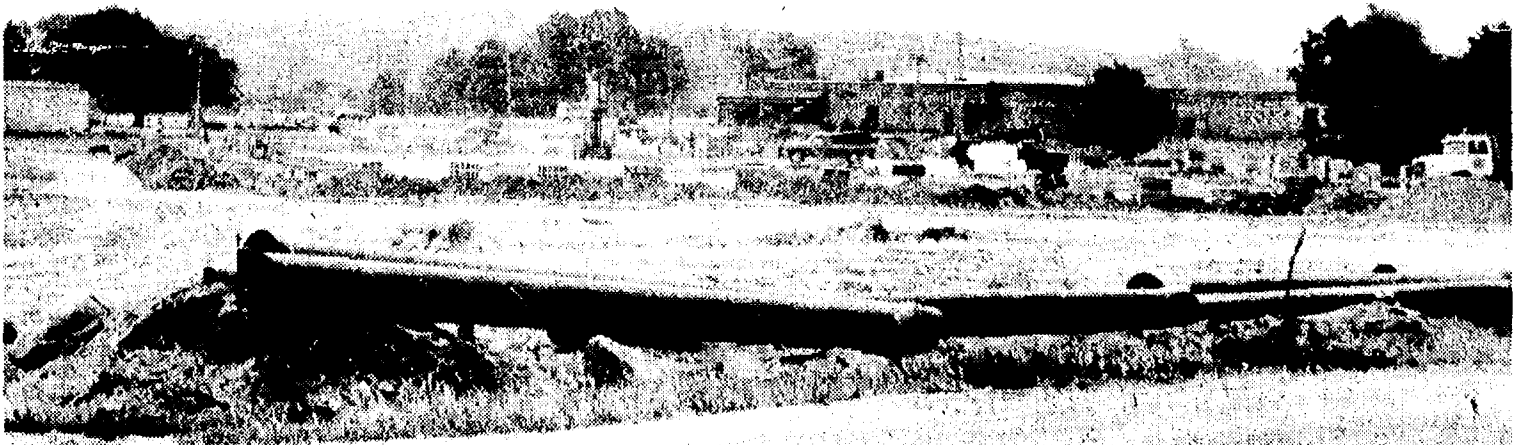

As an added attraction, the Chelsea Baton Corps will perform at the intermission. Based on the attendance at the June 29 concert by Footloose, early arrival is advised. The concert begins at 6 p.m. and ends at 8.

Dinner and beverages will be available from the Chelsea Kiwanis Club at their sausage wagon.

Concertgoers are urged to bring blankets, lawn chairs, and picnic dinners if they so desire.

The program is sponsored by the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Recreation Department.

A DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT for the Chelsea Shopping Center has been hammered out between the village and the developer, Ames Department Store, the anchor tenant, is scheduled to open in November. Some of the other tenants will include Chelsea Pharmacy and Cottage Inn Pizza.

Development Agreement Signed For Shopping Center Project

Chelsea Shopping Center developer Rene Papo and the Village of Chelsea have signed a Site Plan and Development Agreement for the village's first shopping center.

The 12-page document details exactly which portions of the project will be completed by the developer and the village, and who pays the bills.

Adjoining landowners may also be required to pay for some of the improvements to the property as they will benefit from them. For example, Wolverine Food & Spirits, Chaker Gas, Knights of Columbus, and Heller Electric will all benefit from the construction of storm lines. The Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner will have the ultimate say. The agreement covers a myriad of details, from landscaping, site clean-up, and the placement of temporary signs, to who will install which parts of the water, sewer, and electrical lines. In addition, the village retains the right to enforce all its ordinances (Continued on page four)

Village Officials Upset As DNR Won't Respond About Landfill Agreement

By Brian Hamilton

Village of Chelsea has asked for a third one-month extension of its landfill operating license in order to finalize an agreement with the Department of Natural Resources concerning the clean-up of the facility.

The village had anticipated signing the agreement at a special council meeting June 29. Negotiations didn't progress and the regular July 5 meeting passed without an agreement. The most recent license extension ran out July 7.

The delay has village officials upset because they say it has been caused entirely by the DNR, who won't respond to telephone calls from the village's Grand Rapids law firm. At the July 5 meeting council voted to have attorney Matt Zimmerman write letters to Gov. James Blanchard and other state officials outlining what has taken place during the negotiations since May of last year.

"It's horrible to think the DNR would treat anybody like this, especially a municipality in the state of Michigan," said assistant village manager Lee Fahrner.

"They haven't acted in a professional manner at all. I don't know what they're doing, whether it's some sort of ploy or they simply don't have the time to review the agreement."

Council authorized village president Jerry Satterthwaite to sign the agreement in its current form. However, any changes to the agreement would require another vote by council.

DNR has tied the issuance of a new landfill operating license to the signing of the agreement. The license ran out in May and the landfill has been operating on a series of one-month extensions.

However, the extensions will not allow the village to begin filling a new cell. There is about one month's worth of space in the current cell. Once that cell is filled the landfill will have to close completely unless a new license is granted.

The agreement, called a consent order, would force the village to conduct tests projected to cost a minimum of $75,000. It may also force the village to clean up the groundwater and any contaminated soil.

Lima Township Board Will Name Group To Study Proposed Subdivision

Lima township board has decided to form an ad hoc committee to study the feasibility of a subdivision planned between Trinkle Rd. and Old US-12 just east of Harper Dr. The action was taken at the board's regular meeting on Tuesday, July 5.

The matter has also been referred back to the township planning commission.

Harris Homes Development Co. of Livonia has applied to have a 53-acre parcel of farmland re-zoned to allow single family housing. The company wants to build homes that would start at about $165,000. The township's planning commission recommended that the petition be denied while the Washtenaw County Planning Commission recommended it be approved.

"There are still some unanswered questions, plus there was a lot of resident opposition to the project," said township supervisor Leila Bauer.

Two petitions have circulated in the township. Nearby residents were concerned about a rise in property taxes, an increase in traffic on Trinkle Rd., the impact on wildlife, and the potential change from a rural to a residential atmosphere.

Both planning commission chairman David Bacon and the county planning commission have said the proposed development fits into the township's long-range plan, called the 1995 Plan.

"We want to have the 1995 plan looked at," Bauer said.

"It was done in 1971 and we're not sure it's still reasonable or feasible."

The committee, composed of six or seven residents from all parts of the township, will also study the impact of the development on police service, the school district, and area traffic. In addition, hydrogeological studies will be performed to determine the impact on groundwater.

The matter is scheduled to come back to the township board on Oct. 3.

Anne Comeau Elected New Board President

Veteran Chelsea school board member Anne Comeau was voted president of the board at the regular board meeting last Tuesday, July 5. Comeau was vice-president last school year.

Other officers elected included Joe Redding, vice-president, Ron Satterthwaite, secretary, and Craig Wales, treasurer.

The meeting agenda was dominated by annual business. It was also the first official meeting for new superintendent Joseph Piasecki.

Regular meeting dates were set for the first and third Mondays of the month at 8 p.m.

Chelsea State Bank was designated the district's depository for 1988-89. The accounts include the general fund, 1986 debt retirement fund, 1965 debt retirement fund, 1974 debt retirement fund, cafeteria fund, Beach school fund, Mabel Fox loan fund, payroll account, student fund, pool fund, and community education refund account.

The Chelsea law firm of Keusch & Flintoff was chosen as one of the legal staffs to represent the district for the year. Others are Thrun, Maatsch & Nordberg and the Michigan Association of School Boards legal staff.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills was given authorization to participate in co-operative purchasing and to develop a fund investment program.

Beach Middle School Student Handbook was approved.

Sally Rendell was hired as a special education teacher at Beach Middle school at a salary of $25,778. She will replace Barb Foley.

Fair Parking, Parade May Be Changed

The 1988 Chelsea Community Fair will see some major changes this year as a result of construction in the area.

All of the construction is taking place outside the fairgrounds.

Chelsea Shopping Center, at the corner of Old US-12 and M-52, has taken the lot next to Chelsea State Bank which has been used for years for free fair parking. It was also the most convenient lot to use.

The fairgrounds has purchased land south of the main fairgrounds and that is anticipated to absorb much of the fair traffic.

The Fair Parade, annually one of the highlights of the event, and the Children's Parade, may have to be re-routed due to road work planned by the state for Main St.

The parade typically runs from downtown out Main St. to the fairgrounds. However, this year the parade may run down W. Middle St. to Wilkinson St.

The state plans to replace about 3,000 feet of curb from the Chelsea Medical Center driveway near Old US-12 all the way out to Sibley Rd., according to assistant manager Lee Fahrner. In addition, plans call for milling the asphalt and putting down a new cap, Fahrner said.

That work, Fahrner said, will probably begin in August and run to the middle of November.

"I don't know how they're intending on maintaining local traffic because I haven't seen their plans," Fahrner said.

"I suspect they would have to maintain traffic on M-52. Otherwise it would be a mess," Fahrner guessed that the state wouldn't try to repair the entire width of the road all at once.

SPIDERMAN appeared briefly on the frequently-painted rock at Schoolhouse Apartments last week. It was a departure from the artistic achievement normally shown at the rock as kids usually stick to paint.

A $220,000 federal grant, under the Small Cities Act, to help pay for early development of Chelsea's industrial park has been officially approved by the State Department of Commerce and announced by Gov. Blanchard.

There was a good turn-out for last Tuesday afternoon's Agriculture Day demonstrations at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, a feature of the Sesquicentennial celebration. It was hot, dry and dusty, and the weather was the major topic of talk among demonstrators and spectators alike, almost all of them farm folk. "We need rain, a lot of it, and we have to have it soon or we are going to suffer," summed up comments of a lot of worried people.

A group of senior citizen farmers attended the Sesquicentennial Agriculture and Industry Day: Dorr and Ruth Whitaker, Paul Bollinger, Elmer Bristle, George Beeman, Don Beeman, Ken Marsh, Ernest Horning, Fred Schumm, Earl Doletzky, Lawrence Stein, Mrs. Bradbury, Frank Visel, Katherine Seitz, Paul Seitz, Edwin Horning, Amanda Horning, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eisman, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Heller, Floyd Balmer, Jack Bradbury, Joe Merkel, Max Kuhl, Art Kuhl, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ordway, Marie and Leonard Perrine, Roy Kalmbach, John Otto and Wilbur Grieb.

Recreation staff members directed 100 youngsters in a high-visibility project called "Main St., U.S.A." They painted bleachers, planted flowers, built a conservation wall and planned to move on to Main St. to clean up the downtown area. Staff members were Sue Morrison, Barbara Wenk, Sue Dirlam, Judy Parker, Becky Nichols, Jim Ticknor, Jim Tallman, Holly Porter, and director Tom Ballistrere.

Not much has changed to the exterior of United Methodist church of Waterloo over the years, but this Sunday, July 14, when the church bell rings out at 10:30 a.m. to call people to worship, the chimes will mark the 100 years that this building has served the community. The church was completed and dedicated Nov. 15, 1874, with Bishop Edwards of Maryland officiating and the Rev. B. Hamp as presiding elder.

Chelsea's Secretary of State field office has moved to a new, more spacious location at 102 S. Main St. Under the management of Robert Marsh, who has been the manager of the branch since it opened on a part-time basis in 1973, the office will conduct all Secretary of State transactions.

Legal Action Threatened for Lake Michigan Water Diversion
Governor James Blanchard, Attorney General Frank Kelley and Natural Resources Director David Hales have announced the state will take "appropriate" legal action to prevent any unauthorized diversion of Lake Michigan waters.

The announcement came after Illinois Governor James Thompson asked the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to begin diverting water from Lake Michigan on an emergency basis.

The Corps informed Great Lakes governors of the request and they were in the process of determining its legal authority to divert water from the lake. A spokesman said a decision is not imminent.

Kelley said a U. S. Supreme Court order completely bars the diversion proposal.

He said the judicial decrees and orders entered by the nation's highest court in a series of lawsuits, commonly referred to as "The Chicago Diversion Case," limits Illinois diversion of Lake Michigan water to 3,200 cubic feet per second.

He also cited a 1986 federal statute prohibiting diversion of waters from the Great Lakes outside the Great Lakes basin unless the diversion is approved by the governor of each of the Great Lakes states.

"If officials of the State of Illinois make any attempt to surreptitiously divert the waters of Lake Michigan, in direct defiance of the orders of the Supreme Court of the United States, I am ready to take appropriate legal action," Kelley said.

Hales said the state remains opposed to any diversion of Great Lakes waters. He added that no one has demonstrated any connection between the action proposed by Thompson and solving any of the problems resulting from the current drought.

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs also had opposed diversion, saying it would have widespread impact on the economy of the region and on the "delicate ecosystems of the Great Lakes Basin."

Youth Corps Applicants Double
Number of Available Jobs

Labor Director Elizabeth Howe has reported more than 29,600 unemployed youth have applied for 15,000 jobs with the 1988 Michigan Youth Corps.

In Detroit, 9,291 youths applied for 3,643 jobs. In the greater Flint area, applicants totaled 4,093 for 1,072 jobs. The central Upper Peninsula has five times as many applicants as jobs with 1,202 youths applying for 244 jobs. The Bay-Midland-Saginaw area reports 2,228 applicants for 782 jobs.

Howe announced the number of applicants and jobs available to make a pitch for increased funding for the 1989 program.

Current-year funding of $20 million will provide minimum wage jobs for 15,000 youths in the 18-21 age group. Last summer, $27.3 million was allocated for the program when 22,000 youths were employed. The governor has requested $25 million in fiscal 1988-89 for the 1989 Youth Corps program.

Spaulding Heads Conference
On Special Needs Children

The National Resource Center for Special Needs Adoption, a division of Spaulding for Children, will hold a special conference on July 14, at Kellogg Center, located on the campus of Michigan State University.

Held in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Mental Health Permanency Planning Program, the purpose of this conference is to aid in planning for children with special health needs to live with their families.

The number of children with some type of chronic illness has doubled in recent years. Over 10 million children in the United States receive some form of ongoing medical care and over two million have some type of severe impairment requiring technological support, exceptional care or nursing support in order to survive. In the past, these children were often placed in institutions or nursing homes. It has now been recognized that all children thrive and grow best in permanent family environments.

Accessing resources and services are a concern to families and to professionals. This conference is designed to be of practical assistance to hospital discharge planners, social workers, community mental health workers and public health nurses who work with these children and their families, assisting and supporting the child and family through special educational and social services or other special programming.

Spaulding for Children is a non-profit adoption agency that specializes in finding permanent homes for children who have been abused, neglected, are developmentally disabled, older children or siblings that cannot be separated.

The first legislation dealing with child labor was a Massachusetts Bay court order in 1640 calling for town magistrates to investigate the girls in all towns the spinning of the yarn," according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U. S. Labor Department publication.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle was on his high horse Saturday night, and he practical trotted into the country store. He said he had studied the situation up one side and down the other and he was full convinced that paying Americans that were put in camps during World War II is worse than not paying em. Ed told the fellers he knows what a precedent is and what it can do, and this is a bad one.

Looking back, Ed said, rounding up loyal Americans because they had Japanese ancestors and looked like the enemy was a bad idea. But when the Federal Government starts paying people done wrong by what turns out later to be bad Federal policy we will open a can of worms. If folks deprived economical, physical or otherwise by Government mistakes are entitled to payoffs, where will we start and where can we stop, Ed wanted to know.

Furthermore, Ed went on, back then putting those folks where they could be watched was seen by everybody except them as being in the national interest. There were rumors that the Japanese were going to invade the West Coast. And it was known that some Americans that had kin in Japan were hoarding food, clothes, fuel and other aid to give to invaders that already had landed and was bent on destroying this country.

Rounding up the loyal and the disloyal alike was unfair, Ed allowed, but we didn't have the computers and tracking systems that the Government and junk mailers use now to keep up with everybody. And when you think on not doing anything to protect America from within, Ed ask, what would that have done for the Federal Government's responsibility for the common defense in the face of what

Even Clem Webster saw where Ed was coming from. If you start making guilt payments on bad policy, Clem said, you'd have to start with the native Americans that were victims of Federal policy as simple as might makes right. Ever solution the USA has tried for the Indian problem has been at the expense of the Indian, Clem said, and some were hurt beyond any price the Government could pay.

But Democrat Clem couldn't resist gitting in one lick at Republican Ed. Give another 45 year, Clem said, how will deficits and other policy blunders of the Reagan years be seen. Will ever poor devil that loses his job and his house because of imports and cheap money be entitle to dip in the Federal treasury, if we still got one, Clem wanted to know.

General speaking, Bug Hookum said, the best policy can turn sour. Who would of thought, fer instant, that latex balloons now are hazards to animals. It's hard, Bug said, to see danger in the helium filled balls of color turned loose at ever school function and ever child's birthday party, but the verdict is in.

What goes up comes down, Bug said, and most of them balloons soon or late wind up in water that flows to the sea where they are swallowed by fish, turtles and whales. Scientists say they are choking creatures on land and sea as sure as do the can pull tops and plastic six pack rings, and we've got to come up with a degradable balloon or quit using the rubber ones.

Personal, I think Bug is right. Today's policy could be tomorrow's problem, and usual is.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

VFW Auxiliary OKs Funds To Help With Fireworks

The regular monthly meeting of Ladies Auxiliary to Post No. 4076, Veterans of Foreign Wars was held Monday, July 11 with 11 members present.

Americanism chairperson Eulahlee Packard reported it was very gratifying to see the many American flags displayed over the July 4th, three-day holiday.

The Auxiliary charter was draped in memory of Gladys Weatherwax, a charter member, who died recently.

A hospital party is planned to be held on Aug. 30 at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital.

Seventy-five dollars was allowed for local veterans' families and a donation was allowed towards the cost of the July 4 fireworks in thanks for the patriotism of the local fireworks chairman.

Virginia Boyer reminded the group, as safety chairman, to be on the alert for children since school is out, and children carelessly cross and play in the streets.

A caravan of Post and Auxiliary members will be going to Eaton Rapids on Sunday, July 17 to attend the sixth annual Michigan Day being held at the VFW National Home. The Post and Auxiliary will host a group of children next month from the VFW National Home on their return from attending a Tiger baseball game, the date to be announced later.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

Vaudeville Type Show Offered Area Seniors

Local celebrities in a vaudevillean-style show headline the sixth annual "Entertainment Spectacular" for seniors only on Saturday, July 16.

Sponsored by the MichCon Retirees Club in co-operation with Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., the afternoon of free entertainment for area senior citizens will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Michigan Theatre, 603 Liberty, Ann Arbor.

The company of entertainers in the "Entertainment Spectacular" will include the Ann Arbor-based Chenille Sisters. The singing trio has appeared on National Public Radio's "Prairie Home Companion" and recently performed before a sell-out crowd in the Power Center.

Sandor and Laszlo Slomovits, teamed as "Gemini," will perform part of their "Good Mischief" concert. The twin brothers will sing songs from around the world, accompanying themselves on a variety of instruments.

Serving as emcee will be comedian/clown/mime O. J. Anderson. He has performed internationally and taught body movement and mime throughout the United States and with the Ringling Brothers clowns.

Adding to the day's entertainment will be well-known area organist, John Lauter, playing the Michigan Theatre's Barton Organ.

The Olivia Street Stompers, an ensemble of local jazz enthusiasts, will round off the entertainment. The ensemble is under the direction of John D'Arms, Dean of the Rackham Graduate School, University of Michigan.

Additional support is being provided by the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority (AATA), the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the Michigan Theatre. Limited free transportation is being provided by AATA and the Michigan Theatre's concession stand will be open for free pop and popcorn for all seniors attending.

All area seniors are invited to the July 16 "Entertainment Spectacular" at no charge. Tickets, however, are required and available by calling the Michigan Theatre at (313) 668-8397 or by stopping at the theatre between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. Tickets also are available through many area senior citizens groups.

MichCon is a natural gas distribution company serving more than one million customers in 430 communities throughout Michigan.

Caution Urged in Construction Zones

It's a land protected by rubber cones, concrete barriers and plastic barricades, electronic message boards, flaggers and sometimes even police officers. It begins and ends with signs: ROAD WORK AHEAD and END CONSTRUCTION. But even with these tools, road and highway work zones are not safe places to work or travel around, said Washtenaw County Sheriff Ron Schebil.

Increasingly, traffic safety officials and contractors are concerned about the rise in construction accidents, which result in injury and often death. In 1986 the number of fatal accidents increased 59 percent from the year before around construction sites. In the more than 7,000 construction-related accidents, 23 people were killed and nearly 3,000 injured, the sheriff said.

He said a study conducted by the Michigan Department of Transportation found that construction zone speeds were increasing around the state.

"With increased tourism and vacation travelers on our roads and highways," Sheriff Schebil said, "drivers should be aware of the potential dangers that exist near construction sites, and not exceed the posted speed limit." The sheriff added that Department Road Patrol Officers will be making a special effort to enforce the speed limit in such areas.

Benefit Concert Will Aid Spaulding for Children

Metropolitan Detroit area Burger King restaurants and Power 96 WHYT-FM radio will present rap superstars RUN DMC who will perform in a special concert on Sunday, July 31, to benefit Spaulding for Children.

The superstar recording artists and rap innovators will champion the cause of special needs children in Michigan at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit. The concert is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Headlining the event is RUN DMC, with special

Careless Smokers Cause Road Fires

Small brush fires are breaking out with increasing frequency along roads and highways across the state, and officials believe careless motorists are the cause.

"Ground cover is tinder dry and we think most of these fires are caused by cigarettes being tossed out of car windows by motorists," said Maurice Witteveen, chief of maintenance for the Michigan Department of Transportation. "One careless gesture can cause severe damage to roadside vegetation."

"We ask all motorists to be especially careful in how they dispose of matches, cigarettes or any other lighted material," he said.

Usually, roadside ground cover is green and growing at this time of year, but lack of rainfall has turned it prematurely brown.

Gov. James J. Blanchard has banned all open burning throughout the Upper Peninsula, all the northern Lower Peninsula and in Muskegon and Ottawa counties in southern Michigan.

guests, D. J. Jazzy Jeff and the Fresh Prince, Public Enemy, and newest rap sensation E.P.M.D. Tickets are available at Joe Louis Arena box office and all Ticketmaster outlets.

Described as "the Beatles of hip-hop," RUN DMC strongly believes in "bringing people together," says Darryl "DMC" McDaniels. "That's what really counts," he says.

Their goal during this benefit performance is to bring people together on behalf of Spaulding for Children, a non-profit adoption agency that specializes in finding homes for children with special needs, including those who have been abused, neglected or are developmentally disabled. "The exposure that we (Spaulding) will gain from RUN DMC's support will be monumental in making the public more aware of the plight of special needs children worldwide," says Judith McKenzie, executive director of the Spaulding for Children agency.

Cub Scouts, Parents Enjoy Fishing Trip

Cub Scouts from South school's Pack 455 have stayed busy throughout the summer. On July 25 nine Cubs and their parents took part in their annual Bike-Hike and Fishing Derby. The boys, along with their moms or dads, met at South school and biked out to Four Mile Lake to fish the marl pits. Each boy seemed to have his own special technique and fishing trick. When the final fish was hauled in and measured awards were handed out in the following categories.

First Fish Caught: Zac Erensten.
Most Fish Caught: Ben Muha with 25 mixed panfish.

Biggest Fish: Jeff Dixon with a 6 1/2-inch small mouth bass and 23 panfish.

Smallest Fish: Blaise Lipiec with a 2 3/4 in. bluegill.

Most Unusual Catch: Kyle Christensen.

Catch of the Day: Victor Pitts, our most enthusiastic fisherman.

Of special note: Glenn, Daniel and Steve Wright caught enough fish as a team to make a meal and Kevin Long caught a fish on a grape skin. Boy Scouts Karsten Lipiec and Michael Long from Troop 476 were on hand to assist and teach the Cubs about fishing.

This week, Cub Scouts are attending Cub Day Camp at Camp Munhake which is located just north of Chelsea. Besides learning crafts, scouting skills and games, the boys also take part in physical challenges, B-B gun range and this year, waterfront activities. Each day there is a quiet time activity where a special guest comes to camp to teach the boys more about the world around us. Scouts who take part in three summer activities can earn the summertime award, a special pin to be worn upon the uniform.

NOTES

DONALD A. COLE Director

"To receive a present handsomely, and in a right spirit, even when you have none to give in return, is to give one in return . . ."

—Leigh Hunt

Receiving a present from a friend or associate, especially if the present is unexpected, is a severe test of our gentility. The only sensible course of action for the recipient is so simple that many of us, in such circumstances, unintentionally deprive the giver of his pleasure in giving the gift. We protest that "you shouldn't have done it", "it wasn't necessary" and so on, until the generous giver may very well regret his generosity.

When any person sees fit to give us a gift, a simple "thank you" is fully adequate. Such a response can be the gift you offer in return.

Ask your friends who have come to us for help, about our service.

Precautions On Sunny Summer Days

By Toni Wilson, R.N.

Skin cancer is caused by prolonged or intermittent over-exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays. Ninety percent of all skin cancers occur on exposed parts of the body. Even one serious childhood or adolescent sunburn doubles the chances of developing skin cancer sometime during your lifetime. Sunburns, as well as being painful, cause premature aging and increase the risk of skin cancer. Remember that snow, sand, water and concrete reflect and magnify the sun's damaging rays.

There are three common types of skin cancer. Basal cell carcinoma is the most common form and it is also the most easily treated. Both basal cell and squamous cell carcinoma have a 95% cure rate if detected and treated early. Malignant melanoma is quite serious and if left untreated, can spread throughout the body and be fatal.

One in seven Americans will develop skin cancer over their lifetime. Skin cancer may start as just a discoloration of the skin rather than a growth. Pay attention to any changes in the size, color or shape of any pre-existing moles or other growths. Be aware of any skin blemish that does not go away.

The following are recommendations:

1. If you are fair skinned and burn easily, you should avoid unnecessary sun exposure.
2. Wear protective clothing—a hat, long-sleeved shirt and slacks when directly in the sun. Even on hazy days, 70-80% of the sun's rays can penetrate and cause skin damage.
3. Minimize your exposure during the peak hours between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.
4. Avoid tanning salons and sunlamps as these ultraviolet rays are similar to the sun.
5. When you're in the sun, apply a sunscreen, preferably No. 15, liberally and frequently.
6. Protect children by keeping them out of direct sunlight and apply sunscreen beginning at six months of age.
7. Sun exposure damage accumulates over the course of a lifetime so teach children and teenagers about sun protection.
8. Check your own and your children's skin regularly for any changes in moles or freckles.

If you're in doubt about a skin blemish, see your doctor. Your best protection against skin cancer is to get treatment early. You are the key to reducing your risk of skin cancer. By taking simple precautions, you can enjoy the outdoors and protect your skin from sun damage as well.

Jeep Cup Rally Set at Chrysler Proving Grounds

The final event of five U. S. regional Jeep Cup rallies will start and end at Chrysler's proving grounds near Chelsea on Sunday, July 17.

The top three teams from the Great Lakes Region rally at Chelsea will earn an invitation to the Jeep Cup final for the North American 4x4 Rally Championship in Toronto, Aug. 27-28.

"The proving grounds provides an ideal off-road environment," said rally master Jim Mazzola of the United 4-Wheel-Drive Associations (U4WDA). "After all, it is the place where Chrysler tests its 4-wheel-drive vehicles and, I believe, they once tested tanks there."

Mazzola stresses, however, that the Jeep Cup is designed to appeal to novice off-roaders and pros alike.

"We want the Jeep Cup to remain an event that appeals to grass-roots off-roaders," said Mazzola, "so it doesn't require a highly modified vehicle or expensive rallying equipment to be competitive. In fact, the only equipment allowed is a stopwatch and a non-programmable calculator. You don't even need a Jeep—any 4x4 vehicle is eligible."

There are 10 Jeep Cup qualifying events in all, the other five in Canada, leading to the showdown event which pits the top 30 teams in North America. The start of the final is a Sports Day feature at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

All 30 of the teams will compete in identical 1989 Jeep Wranglers (known in Canada as Jeep YJs).

The defending Jeep Cup champion is Bob Martin of Sterling Heights, who last year teamed with Mark Fox of Dayton, O., to win the Jeep Cup final in Reno, Nev. The final alternates annually between the U. S. and Canada.

Martin and Fox failed to qualify in the Ohio Regional, June 18, at Hillsboro, O., finishing fourth, but they have indicated they will try again at Chelsea.

All competitors in the Great Lakes Regional will receive Jeep Cup caps and vehicle dash plaques and are eligible for valuable prizes awarded by Jeep Cup co-sponsors, such as Goodyear, Stroh's, Turbo Wash, Shell and Brahma pickup caps. The top three teams win wall plaques and special dash plaques are awarded to the top 10 finishers.

A classroom session to explain time-speed-distance rallying will be held Saturday, July 16 at 10 a.m. at Chrysler Proving Grounds. Tech inspection and registration are at 11 a.m. Saturday with the draw for starting order at 6 p.m.

A drivers' meeting and late registration is scheduled for 8 a.m. Sunday with the first vehicle scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

Entries for the Great Lakes Regional may be obtained from Jeep Eagle dealers in southeast Michigan or by contacting Jim Mazzola at (313) 781-9287.

STACEY ANTILA, a Chelsea High school student, was one of 220 high school girls selected to attend a two-week mechanical engineering workshop at Michigan Tech this summer. The workshop, a feature of Michigan Tech's annual Women in Engineering program, gives the girls an overview of five different fields of mechanical engineering. Lab projects and lectures are conducted by practicing engineers. Participants are chosen on a competitive basis and must have a strong background in math and science. Stacey is a member of the National Honor Society, Key Club, yearbook staff and the CHS band. She lives with David and Evelyn Good.

YOUR TOOTHBRUSH: HERPES CARRIER

Oral herpes sufferers may be spreading the disease to others via the toothbrush, according to researchers from the University of Oklahoma.

The herpes simplex virus can live up to 48 hours on a dry toothbrush and up to a week on a moist one, the researchers found! Herpes simplex causes fever blisters, cold sores, and mouth ulcers.

Don't share toothbrushes, even among family members, if you are a herpes carrier, the Academy of General Dentistry warns. The toothbrush can easily transfer the virus to the user's toothbrush and toothpaste and back again. On top of that, herpes outbreaks can last longer for carriers if they keep on using the same toothbrush. The reason is simple: as soon as the first fever blister breaks, often when brushing your teeth, the virus can spread to a new area of the mouth.

As soon as herpes sufferers notice the first blister, they should change their toothbrush. Researchers found that this timely toothbrush switch can shorten herpes outbreaks. The same theory applies for cold and flu viruses. The toothbrush may actually move viruses through families, researchers found.

RICHARD RAYNOR of Ann Arbor is a full-time house mover and above he stands on his latest project. He moved this home from the corner of E. Middle and East St. to a lot adjacent to the railroad tracks on Madison St. The vacant lot will be used for additional parking for the Cole-

Burghardt Funeral Chapel. Raynor said it generally costs from $8,000 to $12,000 to move a house, depending on a variety of factors. The house will rest on pylons while a foundation is constructed to match the house. Then the house will be lowered into place.

GM Liberal Arts Award Goes to Carol Gerstler

Carol Gerstler of Grass Lake, a sophomore at Marygrove College in Detroit, is one of the national winners of the first General Motors Liberal Arts Excellence Awards, recognizing 10 of the nation's top liberal arts students. The announcement was made by the Foundation for Independent Higher Education, administrator of this new national award valued at $100,000.

As a winner, Carol will receive a $5,000 scholarship ($2,500 per year for two years) and her college will receive an unrestricted grant of $5,000 ($2,500 per year).

"General Motors congratulates Carol Gerstler as one of the 10 recipients of the first General Motors Liberal Arts Excellence Awards," said GM Chairman Roger B. Smith.

"Through this awards program, GM hopes to encourage more liberal arts students like Carol to pursue a career in business and industry. Managing in an increasingly complex and competitive business environment today calls for many of the unique skills a liberal arts graduate can provide."

This is the first time General Motors has established an award for liberal arts students who are planning to pursue careers in business and industry.

The national competition for the awards was open to second-semester sophomores enrolled full time in a liberal arts undergraduate program. Students at the 600 colleges and universities affiliated with the Foundation for Independent Higher Education were eligible to compete. To be considered, a student had to possess a 3.5 cumulative grade point average on a 4.0 scale and demonstrate outstanding leadership abilities in extra-curricular and community activities.

Gerstler, a language and international trade major, is on the dean's list and has been a National Honor Society member from 1983-1985. She is vice-president of the Marygrove Business Association and a student government representative. Recipient of numerous awards, she received the Presidential Academic Fitness Award in 1985 and the Marygrove Scholar Award in 1986. She also received a Modern Language Excellence Scholarship in 1987.

Currently a part-time administrative assistant for the Marygrove Business Department she is also a part-time waitress.

With an accounting minor Gerstler plans to gain auditing experience and to eventually pass the CPA exam. Her long-term career interest includes employment with a financial services firm with an international focus.

Michigan Quarantined For Bee Parasite

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recently quarantined Michigan and 10 other states to prevent the spread of a deadly new bee parasite called the varroa mite. According to Bob Craig, manager of Michigan Farm Bureau's Commodity Activities and Research Department, the quarantine means bees can't be moved across state lines without being certified "mite free" by state or county bee inspectors.

"A big problem is that there is no approved pesticide for the varroa mite, so beekeepers can only watch as the mite spreads from colony to colony and increases in number," Craig said. "Fortunately, it takes nearly four years for the varroa mite population in a hive to get big enough to be deadly."

Craig said the Environmental Protection Agency may approve the use of the pesticide Apistan for general use in controlling the infestations later this fall.

Michigan farmers could be affected by the quarantine since they depend on honey bees to pollinate their crops, especially critical in the production of blueberries and apples.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

Visiting in Chelsea Sunday, my sister and I went to water the geraniums that had been planted on our parents' and grandparents' graves in the high old section of the cemetery and were amazed and disgusted to find that they had been pulled up or cut off and scattered all around.

My sister has been carrying gallons of water to them all summer every day. The blossoms weren't dried so apparently it was done on Saturday.

Evidently there is not much respect for the living or the deceased.

Japanese Beef/Citrus Agreement Applauded

U.S. farmers and Japanese consumers are the real winners in an agreement reached this week between the United States and Japan, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. Under the accord, Japan's import quotas on beef and citrus will be phased out over three years. In addition, Japan agreed to liberalize its complicated distribution system for beef which has long been a source of difficulty for U.S. exporters.

"Getting rid of the quantitative restrictions and liberalizing the distribution system as the key elements in the agreement," Almy said. "Choice beef is currently selling for between $36 and $43 per pound in Japanese supermarkets. Even with the added duties, U.S. beef would sell at an estimated $8 per pound, still highly competitive."

"Now that we have obtained Japan's commitment to open up the market on a global basis, it's up to the United States to take advantage of the opportunity. We have an advantage going in, since U.S. products enjoy a favorable status among Japanese consumers," he said.

The quota phase-out will begin immediately. Beef imports will increase by 60,000 metric tons in each of the next three years, with complete elimination after the third year. The 1987 beef import quota was 214,000 tons. Some experts say sales of U.S. beef to Japan could double.

How Can You Tell A Tough Tractor?

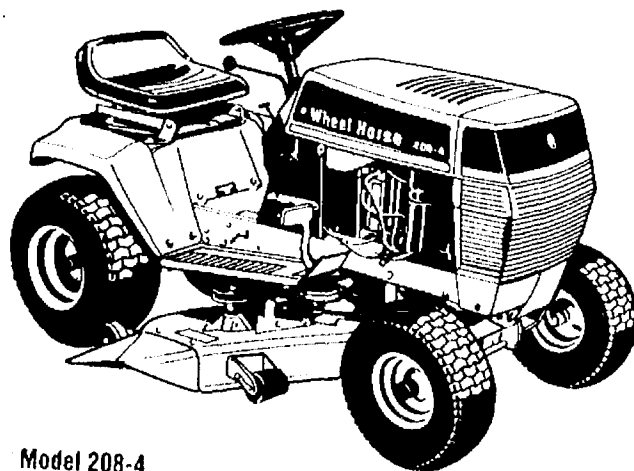

LOOK BETWEEN THE WHEELS.

The front axle is the key to a smooth ride and long life. That's why every Wheel Horse tractor, right down to our smallest lawn tractor, has a cast-iron front axle. It absorbs the bumps on any terrain, yet keeps its shape.

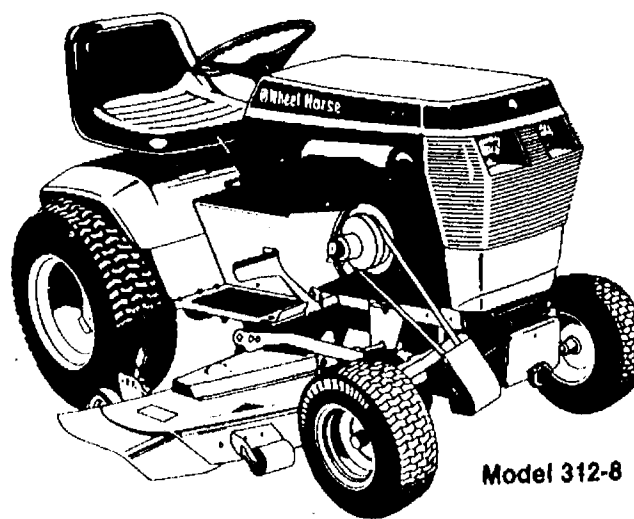

On many small tractors, you'll find the front axle is stamped out of steel, often as part of the frame. When you consider the amount of weight it supports and the ground it works on, you'll understand the importance of the Wheel Horse front axle. It's a difference you'll measure in years.

Purple Heart People Invited to Picnic

The John Terhune chapter 459 of the Military Order of the Purple Heart of Washtenaw county plans a picnic at the American Legion grounds of Dexter Post 557, Thursday, July 14, starting at 5 p.m.

Iver Schmidt explained chapter 459 will furnish meat and drink for the picnic, and those attending are asked to bring a dish to pass.

It will be a social gathering of the members, and they would like to invite any person in this area with a purple heart to attend this fellowship meeting.

It's a prestigious group of people, and they're asked to bring their wife, husband or friend for the occasion.

Realizing this is very short notice, chapter 459 asks that you notify them, if possible, if you're coming to the picnic.

"We need to know how many steaks to buy," Schmidt said.

Chapter 459 is using the monies it made at the recent state-wide MOPH convention.

"We'd like to see a great turnout and have a good time with new friends," the members said.

Remember, the picnic will be Thursday, July 14 (tomorrow) at the pavilion on the grounds of American Legion Dexter Post 557, beginning at 5 p.m.

Please phone 426-4055, 665-5728 or 231-3218 to let us know you're coming.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I read recently that there are more than 600 companies listed on the New York and American Stock Exchanges offering dividend reinvestment plans. Can you give me a brief explanation of how they work?

A. Many corporations permit shareholders the option of not receiving cash dividends but having those dividends purchase more shares. The plan is usually administered by a bank, brokerage firm or the company itself.

The first step is to buy some shares and have them registered in your name. As a shareholder, you will receive a plan folder and a form which you must sign to authorize the reinvestment of dividends. After you have returned the form, you can sit back and wait until the dividend is paid. Shortly after that time you will receive a statement showing the number of shares purchased for you. That is repeated every quarter or whenever the dividend is paid.

Most plans also allow additional cash investments, either monthly or quarterly. You can write a check for whatever amount you wish to invest and that will be added to the dividend to purchase more shares. The amounts you can invest varies, but typically the minimum is $25 and the maximum is $1,000 monthly. Of course, you don't have to invest every month although sticking to a plan of regular investing usually brings the best results.

The certificate for the shares is not sent to you until you request it, so the bookkeeping is kept to a minimum. In most of the plans, there are no broker's commissions or administrative charges. The company pays them for you. Even when there is a commission, it is usually quite small.

The dividend reinvestment plans have really been excellent programs for investors who wish to build portfolios over a period of years. It costs little to get started and the compounding effect of reinvesting the dividends helps build values quickly.

Several booklets are available listing companies offering such plans and the information may also be found in the dividend section of the Standard & Poor's reports. I'm sending you a list of the 42 companies who offer their plans through the National Association of Investors.

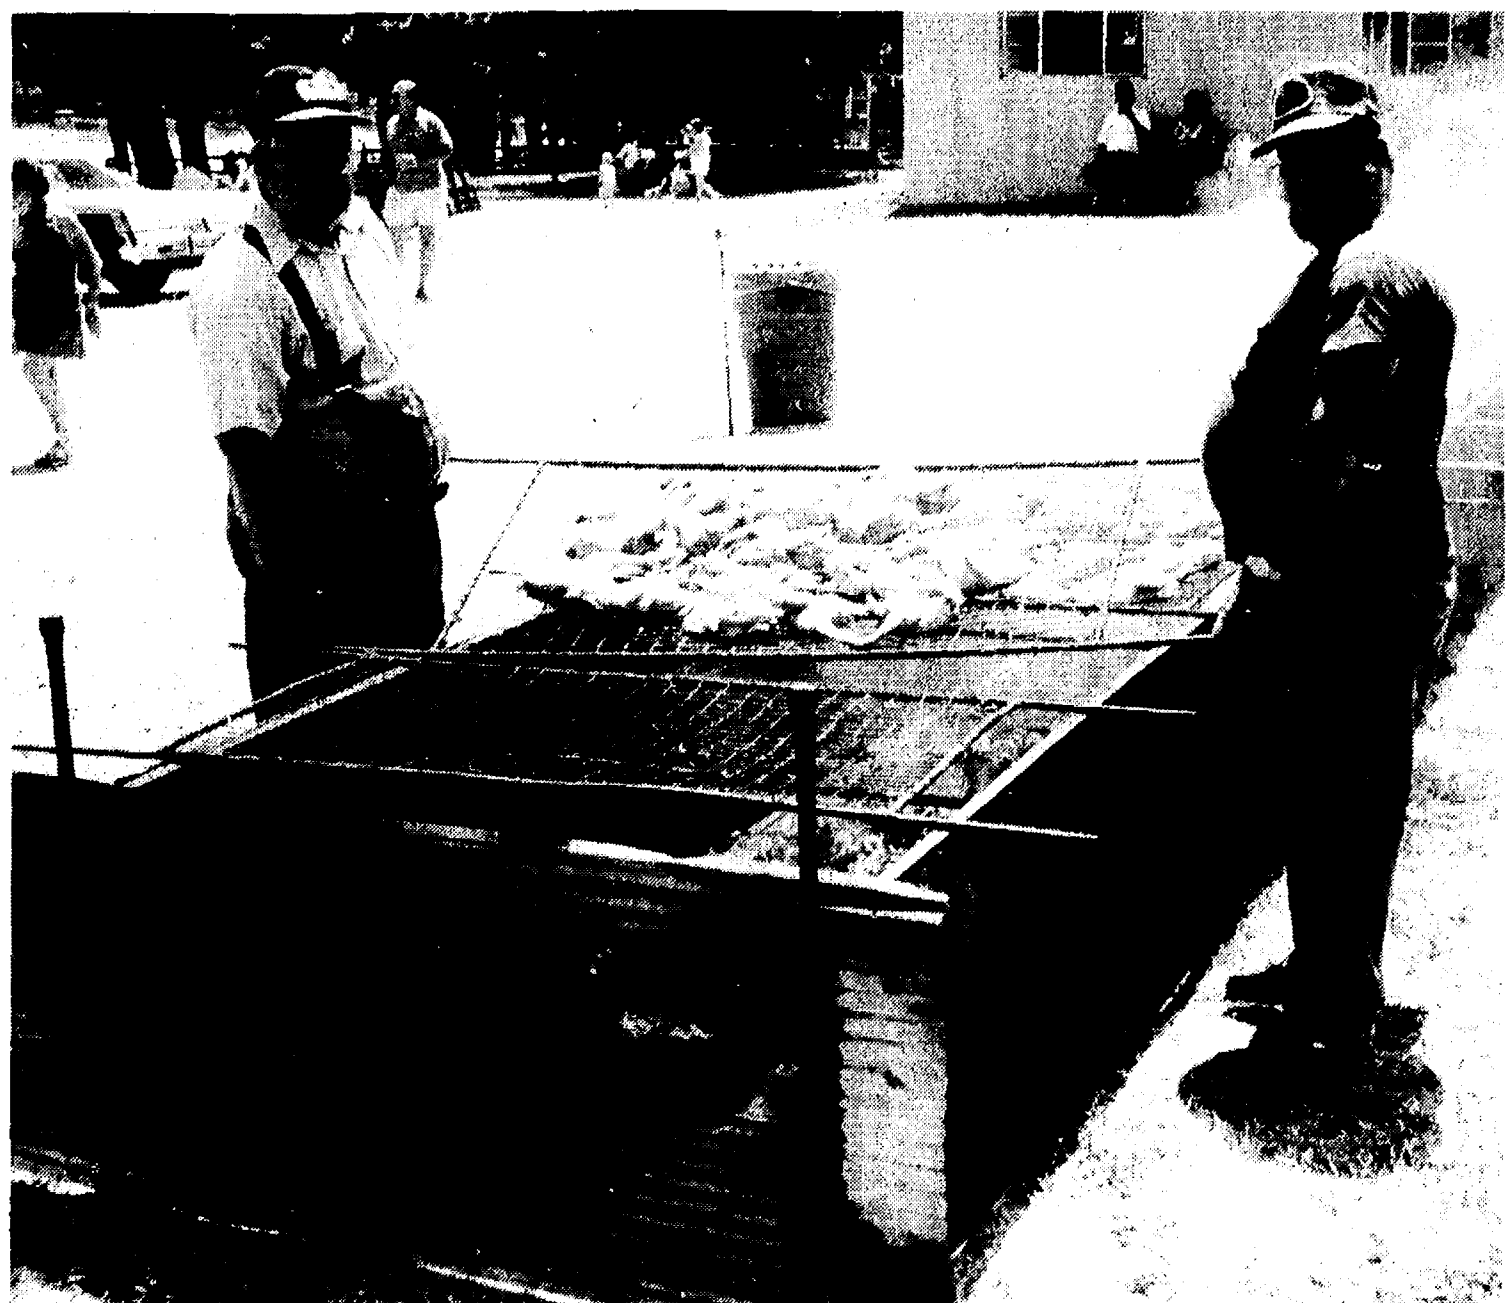

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments, but will answer them only through this column.

Merchants Win One of Three in State Tourney

Chelsea Merchants softball team finished the week by posting two wins over the Chelsea I team. Jenny Pichlik picked up the win in the first game and Kim Kurzyneic from Tecumseh took the win in the nightcap in a tight 4-1 game.

The two wins put the Merchants record at 5-1 in the 18-and-under Fastpitch League and gave them firm grip on second place.

At the half-way point of the league season the Merchants are 14-12 with two tournaments left to play.

This week-end the Chelsea Merchants traveled to Grand Rapids (Wyoming), to play in the State ASA Softball Tournament for a chance to advance to the Great Lakes Regional and the National Tournament. The Merchants played in Division I (for recruited teams hoping to advance).

The merchants opened against Klose Construction of Niles and took a 6-4 win behind the outstanding pitching of Jenny Pichlik and Kim Kurzyneic. Chris Kennedy and Kelly Stump led the Merchants at the plate, while Sarah Corwin of Manchester scored the winning run, in the second inning. Kelly Bellus and Colleen Scharphorn played well defensively for the Merchants.

In the second game the Merchants drew Kerns Great Lake Glass for a rematch. Kerns had defeated the Merchants in the bottom of the seventh inning by one run in the Computware Tournament. Chelsea jumped out in front, leading first 1-0 and then 3-2 until the seventh when Kerns scored to tie the game and force it into extra innings. The Merchants loaded the bases in their half of the eighth inning but failed to score. Kerns scored quickly in the bottom of the eighth to take a second heart-breaker from the local team.

This loss set up a re-match with the Boone & Darr team from the Ann Arbor league. Chelsea jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning with Kelly Stump on the mound. Peggy Hammerschmidt and Jenny Pichlik had the big hits in the first inning. Boone and Darr jumped on the Merchants in the third inning, scoring five runs with two outs.

However, the Merchants came back in the fifth inning as Beth Kenney and Alisha Dorow each singled to begin a three-run rally. Hammerschmidt, Pichlik, and Stump all singled in runs to give the Merchants a 6-5 lead.

But Boone & Darr came back in the bottom of the sixth inning, with five runs to eventually win, 11-6.

Leah Enderle played well defensively and led off the first inning with a double, while Chris Kennedy had a triple in the seventh inning. Carrie Flintoft also played her first game for the Merchants.

Chelsea Merchants Sponsoring All-Star Girls Softball Team

The organization of a Chelsea girls all-star softball team called Chelsea Merchants was formulated for the first time this spring.

Managers Nancy Pichlik and Joanne Waller thought there was a need for a travelling team due to the fact that Chelsea's graduating seniors have never been eligible to play on the high school summer team.

Chelsea had eight graduating softball seniors this spring, many of whom hope to receive softball athletic college scholarships. The highly competitive summer programs are the scouting arenas for college scouts and coaches.

The "Chelsea Merchants" are being funded by various Chelsea merchants who each graciously agreed to sponsor one player.

Those merchants are Chelsea State Bank Chelsea Lumber Co., Chelsea Lines, Chelsea Industries, Inc., Kue Video, 3-D Sales & Service; Village Motor Sales, Inc., Chelsea Community Hospital, Dr. Reznick, David McLaughlin, attorney, Keusch & Flintoft, PC, attorneys, Village Professional Center, Chelsea Pharmacy, Inc., Freeman Machine, Palmer Ford-Mercury, and House of Sofas.

Other Chelsea businesses who helped the program with a financial contribution include Michigan Union

Ladies Day Events Held At Inverness

Ladies Day was held Thursday, July 7 at Inverness Golf Course and featured a specs tournament.

Dorothy Hale took first place, Alice Ledwidge was second and Mary Nadeau and Arlene Howe tied for third.

Jay Brier, Jo Jedele, Dot Foster, Alice Ledwidge, Anna Shirilla, June Warren and Lillian Conklin all had chip-ins.

On Thursday, June 30 a low gross tournament was held.

Yolaine Carignan and Marj Daniels tied at 48 in the 1-18 handicap category. Mary Nadeau and Lillian Conklin tied at 52 in the 19-25 handicap group. Glenna Bittle had a 62 in the 26-and-over category.

Ruth Cook, Lenore Mattoff, and Ann Nuttle all had chip-ins.

Bookstore, Faist-Morrow Buick-Olds-Chevrolet, Lane Animal Hospital, Dancer's, Kusterer's Grocery, Gemini Family Hair Care, and Dana Corp.

Charles Waller, Art Cobb and Russ Pichlik make up the coaching staff.

Chelsea Merchants play a 12-game league schedule during the week as participants in the Ann Arbor Division "A", 15-18 Girl's Fastpitch Recreation League. They also travel and play on six consecutive week-ends in various tournaments held both in Michigan and out-of-state. On a given week-end the team will usually play from four to eight games.

The coaches and team are looking forward to a good competitive summer. They invite anyone who is interested to come attend the games and share in their successes.

July 29-31—Tourney to be scheduled.

Summer Baseball Team Plays Well in Winning One of Three Chelsea's Summer Baseball team played their best baseball of the summer this past week. Even though they won only one of three games, they played hard and exciting baseball.

They started out the week with a 9-3 victory over Gabriel Richard then lost two games later in the week, 13-8 to Fox Marathon and 6-5 to Cliff Keen.

Chelsea started the week off on a positive note as they turned in their best effort of the season and came up with a 9-3 victory over Gabriel Richard. Chelsea scored four runs in the opening inning as Jeff Prentice and Jeff Marshall each had two-run singles. Richard scored two of their own in their half, making the score 4-2 Chelsea after one. Then, the teams settled down and the next three innings were scoreless.

In the fifth inning Chelsea once again produced a four-run inning as Kyle Plank had the big hit of the inning. Richard scored one in the bottom of the fifth but Chelsea got that back in the sixth, making the final score 9-3 for a Bulldog victory.

Chelsea banged out seven hits in the contest from seven different players and they were all singles. Kyle Plank, Doug Wingrove, Jeff Prentice, Brandon Murrell, Jeff Marshall, Kevin Ball and Jude Quilter. Chelsea also took advantage of seven walks and five Richard errors to record their second victory of the summer. Doug Wingrove went to the hill for Chelsea and won his second consecutive game.

"He was in control the whole game. It was a very good effort by Doug," said coach Akel Marshall. "After the first inning, he allowed three base runners the rest of the game. In fact in five of the last six innings Richard was set down 1-2-3. Wingrove struck out 10 during the contest (five in a row at one point) while walking two and giving up two hits. Chelsea's defense played well also. Although two errors were committed, the defense made several very good plays.

"This game made everyone feel good as we finally played baseball the way it should be played," Marshall added.

On Thursday, July 7 the Bulldogs took on Fox's Marathon. Once again they got it going early as they scored two in the opening inning and after three they held a 5-2 lead. But in the fourth some wildness on the mound and a few defensive lapses enabled Fox's to knot the score at five. Then, in the fifth Fox's took a 9-5 lead as they pushed four runs across the plate.

Chelsea didn't give up and in the sixth they bounced back with three runs, highlighted by a two-run homer by Matt Forner to come within one, 9-8. But once again Chelsea allowed Fox to score four to make the score 13-8.

Chelsea could get nothing going in the seventh and went down to defeat, 13-8. Rob Clem started for Chelsea and just couldn't overcome some weak defensive help and was relieved by Matt Forner who finished up.

Chelsea hit the ball well as they connected on 10 hits. Matt Forner had three (single, double and homer), Mike Kushmaul (two singles), and singles for David Adams, Jeff Prentice, Lance Satterthwaite, Tom Mesnard, and Jude Quilter. "We started out well—good hitting, base-inning but we just didn't keep it going," coach Marshall stated.

Then on Saturday, July 9 the weekend team took on a powerful Cliff Keen team from Ann Arbor. Their team consists of some very talented players from the area. But as Chelsea did all week, they played a tough brand of baseball.

In the opening inning, Chelsea jumped out to a 2-0 lead as Doug Wingrove and Kyle Plank doubled back-to-back. Cliff Keen got one back in the second. Then in the fourth, the Bulldogs scored two more on only one hit as they were aided by a walk and three errors.

Cliff Keen tied the score at four in the fourth as they pushed three across as Chelsea had a bad inning out in the field.

Once again, Chelsea didn't quit, as in the fifth Jude Quilter led off with a walk then stole second and third. Then he scored on an error to give Chelsea the lead once again, 5-4.

The lead held up until the bottom of the sixth when Cliff Keen scored two runs on only one hit. Chelsea helped out with an error and a walk to take a 6-5 lead to the seventh. The Bulldogs went out 1-2-3 in the seventh and suffered a 6-5 loss.

"We played a tough team and led until the sixth. We're not going to hang our heads. We played a good game. A couple of mistakes hurt us but we're getting better," Marshall added.

Chelsea collected four hits in the game—the two doubles from Kyle Plank and Doug Wingrove and the singles from the bats of Mark Larson and Jeff Marshall.

Marshall took the mound for Chelsea and turned in a good pitching effort. He only allowed six hits while walking three until the sixth when Doug Wingrove came on to put the fire out.

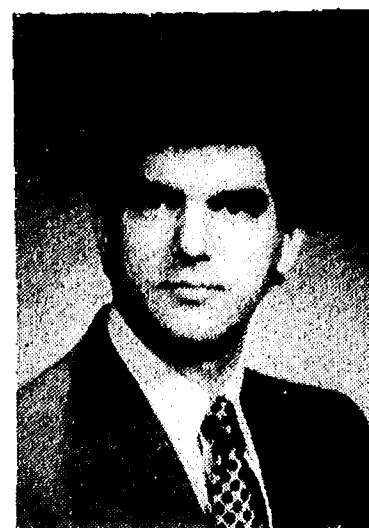

Chelsea now has a 2-5 record during the week and a 1-4 record on the weekend. Their next game is Saturday, July 16. They play a double-header at Huron High school. The second game is against Wendy's of Ann Arbor which features Chelsea players Bob Clouse, Greg Boughton and Junior Morseau.

Everybody's Science

★ Blueberries, A Better Bet Yet . . .

By Sean Adams

Is it possible to improve on all-time favorites like blueberry cobbler and blueberry pie?

Scientists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture think they've discovered a way—by improving the fruit that goes into these classic American desserts. And not only will blueberries be better, we'll be having them earlier in the year.

That's because new highbush varieties are now available at nurseries. These newly developed bushes will produce blueberries in a few years that will ripen earlier and taste sweeter.

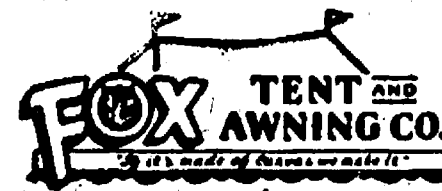

"These new blueberries are a far cry from the smaller native wild berries that the Indians ate fresh from the plant or Union Soldiers forked from cans during the Civil War," said Dr. Arlen D. Draper, who specializes in breeding blueberries for USDA's Agricultural Research Service. "Not only will the berries be larger, they'll stay fresher and be more resistant to disease than their wild cousins of a century ago."

Of the five new highbush berries, two are well-suited to the colder northern climate: Toro, which grows best in Michigan, New Jersey and North Carolina, and Duke, which is well-suited to Michigan, the mid-Atlantic states and the Pacific Northwest. Cooper, Gulfcoast and Georgiagem are a new cash crop for the South, where early-bearing highbush blueberries can command premium early-season prices.

Scientists have also been studying a disease that can cut into blueberry yields. Mummy-berry disease is a freeload fungus that robs fruit of sugar, leaving berries tasteless, woody and dried out. This clever fungus would not be able to get around were it not for a bit of trickery. It alters the appearance, smell and taste of the blueberry leaves to mimic flower blossoms. Result? An unwary bee mistakes infected leaves for flowers, where she expects to find a supply of sweet nectar. Landing on the leaf, she only gets fungus spores all over her tongue and legs. Flying off to the next plant, the hapless bee serves as a living taxicab for the fungus.

Fortunately for blueberry growers, scientists have found the disease can often be controlled with urea, although persistent infections may require a fungicide. (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture)

Forts from Three Centuries Help Relive Michigan's Past

In Michigan, you can relive the past under the same blue skies that witnessed the original events: military forts from three centuries, mining operations, lumber camps, sailing vessels, and lumber barons' mansions dot the state from the northernmost shore of Lake Superior to the banks of the Detroit River.

Aside from Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, such locally or privately maintained historic parks and facilities as Crossroads Village near Flint, Charlton Park near Hastings, the auto barons' mansions in Greater Detroit, the Hackley House in Muskegon, the S. S. Valley Camp (a Great Lakes freighter museum in Sault Ste. Marie), some of Michigan's most notable historic sites are maintained by the History Division of the Department of State and the Department of Natural Resources.

Starting at the very top of the state, the history explorer will find Fort Wilkins. It was built in 1844 at the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula, which juts out into Lake Superior. Many of its wooden buildings still stand as they were constructed 144 years ago. Little surprise: the fort was hardly ever used.

Built as a show of U. S. government force to keep law and order in Michigan's booming Copper Country, it was occupied for only two uneventful years after it was built, and for three years in the late 1880s to house Civil War veterans. It housed 110 people at its peak but today attracts 7,800 visitors during its five-month season.

The Departments of State and Natural Resources co-operate in extensive preservation, restoration, and archaeological excavation at the site.

Part of the park complex are the restored 122-year-old Lake Superior Lighthouse at Copper Harbor and restorations of the area's first commercial copper mines.

About this same time, Michigan's Upper Peninsula also was the leading producer of iron ore in the United States. The Department of State has opened an Iron Industry Museum on the scenic Carp River near Marquette in the central Upper Peninsula, where Michigan's first iron prospectors settled. Artifacts on display range from ancient hard hats to a locomotive that was used between 1868 and 1893 to haul iron ore out from underneath what is today the museum site.

From mining to smelting: one of Michigan's most intriguing historic sites is the "ghost town" known as Fayette Township. Described recently by one metropolitan daily newspaper as one of Michigan's 10 best-kept secrets.

Fayette is a village of brick and stone built in 1867 around the Jackson Iron Company blast furnace—its sole industry. Twenty-four years and 229,000 tons of pig iron later, the village of 500 shut down and vanished.

Fifteen weather-beaten, partially furnished 19th-century buildings still stand, however, surrounded by quiet forests and limestone cliffs on Big Bay De Noc, about an hour east of Escanaba. The refurbished 1885-era foyer of the Fayette Hotel opens to the public for the first time this year.

Like Michigan's history itself, the trail now leads south and east to the strategic Straits of Mackinac. Here, the time-traveler will find no fewer than five major historic sites. On the north side of the five-mile-wide straits that divided Michigan from about 7500 B.C. to precisely A.D. 1957 (when what was then the world's longest suspension bridge was opened), the Father Marquette National Memorial and Museum pays tribute to the French Jesuit priest who explored the area, mastered local Indian languages, ministered to their needs, and formed and mapped the Mississippi River. (He founded near-by Sault Ste. Marie in 1668, the oldest town between the Alleghenies and the Rockies.)

Across the straits, you will find the wooden palisades of Fort Michilimackinac, built by the French in 1715 and later abandoned by their conquerors, the British, during the American Revolutionary War. One of America's most authentic reconstructions, it is the site of the longest (some 30 years and still going) archaeological dig in America.

The British moved the fort to the more defensible Mackinac Island during the war. And there, in the well-preserved Fort Mackinac, stands today the only Michigan building to survive from the Revolutionary War.

Just down the coast from Fort Michilimackinac, the armed sloop "Welcome" rides at anchor. A reconstructed 18th-century Great Lakes warship, manned by costumed sailors and part of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission's straits complex, the tall ship points the way to one of Michigan's newest old sites—Old Mill Creek.

Old Mill Creek is a 1780s sawmill site, discovered in 1972, which is being carefully excavated and restored in a 550-acre park overlooking the Straits of Mackinac.

Moving down the state (down the Interstate, to be precise) one finds Hartwick Pines State Park—a 9,600-acre park which contains one of Michigan's (and the nation's) last stands of virgin white pine and Norway pine. It is also site of the History Division's Hartwick Pines Lumbering Museum.

Three log buildings constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s house 19th-century logging equipment; many rooms are decorated as they would have been in a lumber town in the mid-1800s. Lecture hikes are conducted each day in the summer, and festivals are held in June, July, and August. The park is just off I-75, seven miles northeast of Grayling.

The contrast could not be greater between the rugged logging camp and the next History Division museum: the historic Mann House in the village of Concord near Jackson. Here, even the overgrown landscaping style of the 1880s—including large perennial flower beds, a formal herb garden, and antique roses—is being restored. The home is filled with furnishings, toys, and clothing of the 1840-1873 period and maintained in the lived-in condition of the owners who deeded it to the state.

We end as we began—in a fort that never knew an enemy attack. Fort Wayne was built in Detroit in the 1840s and served as a military installation until fairly recently. A fine example of military architecture of its day, the fort now houses an extensive military collection and is the site of military-oriented historical festivals. Its newest attraction is the Tuskegee Airmen Museum, commemorating the Black pilots who served in the U. S. Air Force in World War II. One of the young pilots in the segregated unit was Coleman A. Young—now mayor of Detroit.

More information on Fort Wilkins, the iron industry museum, Fayette, Father Marquette Museum, Hartwick Pines, or the Mann House, is available from the Department of State Historical Museum at (517) 373-3559.

Beware Potential Fire Hazards, Firemen Answer 38 Calls in July

Chelsea Fire Department listed 38 runs since July 1, according to Chief Bud Harker.

"If people think the rain we had was sufficient to reverse the potential fire hazard, it wasn't! They need to continue being 'very careful,' since everything is still so dry. It's still dangerous, as far as fire hazard is concerned," explained the chief.

The department responded to an automatic alarm at Chelsea Milling Co. at 9:46 a.m. Monday, July 11, where the problem was determined to be a malfunction in the alarm system—no fire.

A medical emergency took firemen to the 13000-block of North Territorial Rd. at 7:27 p.m. Sunday, July 10, where a patient reported suffering cardiac arrest was transported to Chelsea Community Hospital by HVA.

Survival Flight was summoned to transport a male patient to University of Michigan Hospital from Interstate-94, near Kalmbach Rd., about 2 p.m. Sunday, July 10.

The man was first thought to be the victim of a shooting, but it was later discovered he had been hit with a crow bar, but continued driving westward along the highway until, as a result of blood loss, he lost consciousness.

Firefighters were called to investigate a possible fire in Lima township at 2:28 a.m. July 10, on state land near I-94 and Fletcher Rd.

In Sylvan township, smoke was reported at 6:21 a.m. coming from a burn barrel along M-52, south of I-94, and firemen responded to check the report.

A possible grass fire was reported in Lima township at 2:18 p.m. July 4, but no fire was found.

A 4:03 p.m. report alerted firemen to a grass fire along I-94, west of M-52, in Sylvan township.

The July 4 report of a personal injury accident at 4:10 p.m. involving two vehicles sent firefighters to assist at the scene, I-94 near Notten Rd.

Firefighters responded to a medical emergency at 4:24 p.m. July 4 in the 100-block of E. Middle St.

A report at 5:18 p.m. July 4 off Old US-12 near the Bridgetown Condos turned out to be a dust cloud mistaken for smoke by the observer.

Firemen extinguished a grass fire which they estimated burned one-fourth acre, reported at 11:02 p.m. July 4 on Kalmbach Rd., north of Interstate-94.

The department assisted during a medical emergency reported at 2:04 a.m. July 5 at BookCrafters.

A grass fire which burned one-fourth acre brought Chelsea firefighters to North Territorial and Hadley Rds. in Lyndon township, at 11:58 p.m. July 5.

Dexter Fire Rescue answered two calls for assistance on July 6, one reported at 1:43 a.m. in the 800-block of Lima Center Rd., the other reported at 2:40 a.m. in the 1400-block of Sugar Loaf Lake Rd. in Lyndon township.

On Sager Rd., west of Waltrous, flames consumed one-half acre of grass on July 6.

The fire was reported at 9:48 a.m. A medical emergency took the Chelsea Fire Rescue unit to the 700-block of W. Middle St. at 11:29 a.m. July 7.

Hay and grass were burned, in addition to assorted farm equipment being damaged in a fire reported at 1:34 p.m. Friday, July 8, in the 8000-block of Clear Lake Rd. in Waterloo township.

Two hay wagons, a cattle trailer, and tires on a disc were reported damaged.

The fire originated on the ground near a conveyor and tractor at the Walz farm, but exact cause of the fire's start could not be identified.

What turned out to be an unfounded report of a grass fire was relayed to Chelsea firefighters by the Ann Arbor Fire Department at 5:42 p.m. Friday, July 8, identifying the location as exit 162 on Interstate-94.

At 6:47 p.m. July 8, firemen put out a blaze in which five acres of grass on Consumers Power property were burned was reported on Joslin Lake Rd. in Lyndon township.

A personal injury accident reported at 9:50 a.m. July 9 brought Chelsea Fire Rescue workers to assist at the scene, North Territorial and Madden Rds. in Dexter township.

A medical emergency at the UAW Hall on M-52, at 8:28 p.m. July 9, summoned firemen to assist at the location.

Nancy Montange Elected to Office in Feingold Assoc.

Nancy Montange of the Michigan chapter of the Feingold Association of the United States, has just returned from the organization's four-day conference, held June 22-25 in Santa Cruz, Calif. Delegates attended from throughout the United States and from Canada.

Nancy was elected second vice-president of the Feingold Association of the United States. She also serves as the Michigan Chapter co-ordinator.

The Feingold Association is a non-profit volunteer support group helping children with learning and/or behavior problems, and chemically-sensitive children and adults.

★ Lactose Intolerance

For some of us, the prospect of a tall frosty glass of milk on a hot August afternoon evokes a sense of pleasure and memories of summertime in childhood.

For others, those who suffer from lactose intolerance, the same glass of milk represents an open invitation to cramps, gas and diarrhea.

Lactose intolerance affects about 15% of white Americans of northern European descent, 60% of Mexican Americans, 70% of Black Americans and 95% of Asian Americans.

The condition develops when the body is unable to manufacture sufficient quantities of lactase, an enzyme which reduces lactose to its component sugars during passage through the small intestine. An absence of lactase allows undigested lactose to enter the colon where it may produce intestinal distress.

In most cases, symptoms of lactose intolerance appear between infancy and late adolescence. Unfortunately, the problem often worsens with age.

But lactose intolerance doesn't generally indicate that you should avoid eating or drinking dairy products entirely. More often than not, those affected simply cannot tolerate great quantities. Chances are, even though you may not be able to consume a quart of milk at a sitting, a cup of milk may not bother you at all.

Experts suggest some sensible ways of coping with lactose intolerance.

First, limit your intake; drink smaller quantities of milk and remember that whole milk is easier to digest than skim milk. Chocolate milk, because of its sugar content, is tolerated even more easily.

Secondly, try eating yogurt. The cultures in yogurt contain lactase. Frozen yogurt, while easier to digest than plain milk, lacks the cultures found in fresh yogurt and is less easily tolerated.

Third, eat hard cheeses. Swiss and cheddar, among other varieties, contain little lactose. Cottage cheese and ice cream are also digested more easily than milk.

Finally, consider taking enzyme replacements. Lactaid and Lactrase are two common brands currently available through pharmacies. Tablets may be swallowed before eating dairy products, or drops may be added to milk several hours before drinking. In either case, the enzyme replacements may make milk and dairy products much more tolerable.

If you know or suspect that you are affected by lactose intolerance, ask your physician about the best ways to cope with this minor but uncomfortable condition.

Both flies and frogs have been known to catch athlete's foot.

DAVID BARTH, as Billy Lawler, works on a dance step from "42nd Street" with Ann Stevenson, who plays Lorraine Fleming. The play will be presented by the Chelsea Area Players at 8 p.m. on July 15-16 and again on July 22-23. A matinee is scheduled July 17 at 2 p.m.

Card of Thanks 19

THANK YOU

We have experienced God's Love so many times during our mother's illness and since her death, in the acts of kindness and love shown us by many people. How can we ever convey to the friends, relatives and caregivers the deep feeling of gratitude we feel for their expressions of love?

To all of you who cared, who called, sent cards or food, visited, prayed, gave us hugs or simply said, "I'm here. What can I do?"

Thank You!

To the professional people who provided loving and gentle care for Mom's physical needs and who supported us and taught us how to care for her too: Drs. Virginia Johnson and Evelyn Eccles, Carol Hoffman, Wilma Picklesimer and especially Rosie Young. Thank You!

To the members of our family who drew close and put aside your plans so that she would have a loved one near at all times to care for her. Thank You!

To Pastor Mark Weirauch, Don Cole and OES Olive Lodge No. 108 for your kind and sensitive services when it came time to say "Good-bye." Thank You!

We ask God to bless each and everyone of you.

The Family of Gladys Weatherwax.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all my relatives and friends, for the many cards, prayers, fruit and flowers. The time spent in the St. Joseph Hospital was much brighter for your acts of kindness. Thanks to my family for being such a big help to Evelyn.

Luther Hale.

Memoriam 20

BILL O'DELL

In loving memory of Bill O'Dell. Your time on earth was not in vain. You left love in the hearts of those who remain. Rest in the knowledge that God is love, May He hold you in the palm of His hand above. We love and miss your presence here, and hold your memory close and dear. Three years ago and we miss you still because of your love, we always will. Forever,

Wife: Maud.

HELEN FRENCH

In memory of Helen French, who passed away two years ago on July 7.

There is a special place in life
That I was meant to fill,
A sunny spot where flowers grow
Upon a windy hill.

There's always a tomorrow.
And the best is yet to be,
And somewhere in this world I know
There is a place for me!

But don't smoke just to be like your friends. Or to be different from your friends. Or to be anything at all. Because with everything we know about cigarettes today, there's only one thing you'll be if you start smoking now. And that's sorry.

Sorry you can't get up in the morning without coughing your lungs out. Sorry you can't climb a single flight of stairs without getting winded. Sorry that every time you light one up, your risk of heart disease goes up. If you're already a smoker, take some time to stop and think it all the way through. Right now, it's your decision. Super Collider Commission Puzzled By Township Action

Vevay township's sudden withdrawal of support for the Superconducting Super Collider project was the result of a "communications problem" that needs to be corrected quickly, according to officials of the SSC Commission.

John F. Haneski, the commission's executive director, said he has requested a meeting with the township board to resolve the problem. "We value the board's support for this important project and hope that (the meeting) will be a step toward regaining it," Haneski said in a letter to Supervisor Jeff Oesterle.

The board passed the resolution 5-0 at its meeting July 5. The resolution complained that there had not been adequate answers to some questions regarding the effects of the project on the residents and local governments. As a result, "The Vevay Township Board of trustees cannot currently support placing the SSC at the Stockbridge site," the resolution concluded.

Haneski said he was surprised by the board's action inasmuch as none of the officials had advised him that the information exchanges over the past months had been lacking in any regard.

He noted that the SSC technical information team met with the board June 6 and fielded a long list of questions regarding the project and its implications. "In any case, if something is broken—whatever it is—we are determined to fix it," he said.

"The overwhelming community support we have received so far is a large advantage in our campaign to win the SSC siting competition," Haneski said. "That is an advantage we cannot afford to surrender."

Nearly every governmental unit in the two-county SSC district has voted a resolution of support for the $4.5 billion high-energy research project. Similar supportive resolutions have been offered by nearly 100 other civic and governmental organizations. The Vevay board had voted its support in August.

Oesterle, who had sponsored the resolution, told the Lansing State Journal that township officials feel that design protection against any contamination of groundwater had not been explained adequately. He said there also are questions about the purchase of property for the collider's 53-mile accelerator tunnel (which will underlie part of Vevay).

Oesterle also expressed concerns regarding a proposal to establish an advisory organization to co-ordinate the growth of the site area in the wake of the collider project. That proposal describes a Collider Co-ordinating District comprising the counties, cities, townships and intermediate school districts expected to be directly impacted by the initial development and growth.

"The district organization was conceived as a means to enable the participating members to co-ordinate their efforts to maximize the beneficial impacts of the project and to ameliorate any negative impacts," said Haneski. "The idea was to help manage the good times in a co-operative manner."

According to the proposal, participation in the district organization would be entirely voluntary and no unit of government would be obliged to accept any recommendation that might be made. "Michigan law and tradition favor—indeed dictate—that local governments control local zoning and use," Haneski said. "The proposed co-ordinating panel would have absolutely no political authority. It would merely provide a forum for the study, discussion, identification and definition of district-wide problems and opportunities associated with the Super Collider project."

Drafts of an outline for establishment of the co-ordinating district are being distributed in the site district for the purpose of discussion. Copies also will be available at the SSC Information Office in the Stockbridge Village Hall. Copies also may be obtained by calling Community Representative Mike Grover at 851-7174.

TEMPERATURES LAST WEEK were often in the upper 90s and even cracked triple digits on a couple of occasions, aggravating drought conditions experienced by farmers all summer long. The heat even caused Thursday's recreation ball games to be cancelled.

IT WASN'T SO LONG AGO that snow was on the ground in Chelsea. Maybe that thought will make the long, hot summer not seem so bad. At any rate, The Standard publishes this photo as a public service in the hope that readers can at least remember what it was like to feel a little chilly.

SOME OF THE CAST from "42nd Street," this year's musical production by the Chelsea Area Players sing a number from the play. The musical features singing and is billed as a "tap dancing delight." The play opens tomorrow at Chelsea High school. It is being directed by Ruth Kenny, long-time CAP actress, producer and musical director. From left are Joe Diederich, Sue Filpiak, David Barth, David Moore and Diane Waggoner.

Attorney Recommends Ordinance Governing Private Developments

The village may not be able to enforce some of its ordinances in future private developments unless it adopts an ordinance giving police the power to do it, according to a letter to the village from attorney Peter Flintoft.

Flintoft wrote a letter to the village council that "prosecutions under the Motor Vehicle Code for violations in a condominium's private road system have been dismissed because the roads are not 'normally open to the public'."

He went on to write that "unless the master deed and site agreement clearly grant the village the power to enter the private roads and enforce its ordinance, these ordinances may not be enforced in the same way or to the same extent as on a public street."

Flintoft recommended that an ordinance be passed requiring that all projects with multiple occupants, such as condominiums, apartments and shopping centers be required to comply with certain conditions. The ordinance would do the following:

- Grant the village the power to enter private roads for the delivery of essential services such as fire and police protection and garbage pick-up.

- Require dedicated easements for utilities be granted to the municipality.

- Require a maintenance agreement or its equivalent that would hold the project responsible, via special assessment, for any road or utility repairs that should have been taken care of by the development but were handled by the village.

- Ensure that all private roads within the projects conform to set standards.

- Declare that the private roadways are open to the public with respect to enforcement of traffic laws.

- Amend the Uniform Traffic Code to prohibit specific vehicles from entering a condominium development.

- Include all the provisions in a site plan agreement and in the master deed recorded in the Register of Deeds office.

- Ensure the village is paid for any actions taken by the village under its ordinance provisions.

Flintoft recommended the above provisions be included in agreements with Bridgetown Condominiums and Chelsea Shopping Center.

St. Paul Plans Outdoor Worship Service Sunday

St. Paul United Church of Christ, 14600 Old US-12, will hold an outdoor worship service on Sunday, July 17, at 9:30 a.m. It will be held on their church grounds with pine trees as a backdrop for the altar.

The theme of the worship service is, "The Trees of God," comparing a tree to God's people in growth, strength, nourishment, and ability to give. Featured will be Kristina Steffen-sen singing, "Trees." The Rev. Erwin Koch will be speaking on, "The Trees of God."

This service is the first one planned by the Worship Committee, which was recently appointed.

Following the service a brunch will be served in the social hall. Please bring fruit dish or coffee cake to share.

Truck Proposal Gives Limited Ag Exemption

A bill currently under consideration by the Michigan House that would require trucks to cover their loads contains a limited exemption for agriculture, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson.

"It does not apply to a person operating a vehicle to transport seasonal agricultural commodities at the time of harvest, so it is very restrictive in that context," Nelson said. "For example, if you're hauling corn from the field to storage in November, you're O.K. On the other hand, if you're transporting corn from a storage to another storage in December, then there is no exemption from the covered load provision."

Nelson said legislative action on the measure will probably not be completed until fall.

MEMBERS OF THE CLERGY PARTICIPATE in the first of a series of 6:30 p.m. Outdoor Sunday Evening Vespers conducted for the "entire community" at Dexter's Camp Newkirk, July 10, when the congregation from El Buen Pastor United Methodist church travelled from Detroit to join congregations from the North Lake United Methodist, Chelsea United Methodist and Dexter United Methodist churches. From left, the clergy include the Rev. Jerry Parker, Melanie Lee, ministerial intern, the Rev. John E. Harnish, the Rev. Sandra Willobee and the Rev. Saul Trinidad. Future vesper services are planned on the same site, each Sunday during July. Camp Newkirk is located one-fourth mile west of Mast Rd. on Huron River Dr., just outside Dexter village. Those who plan to attend are asked to bring lawn chairs.

The chicken is able to run as fast as nine miles per hour.

Faith Lutheran Holds Vacation Bible School

Faith Lutheran church will be holding its annual Vacation Bible School, beginning Monday, July 18, and continuing through Friday, July 22, 9-11:45 a.m.

Pastor Mark Porinsky explained, "We will have Bible lessons, singing, art projects and refreshments. Children, ages 4-13, in addition to mature three-year-olds, are welcome—especially those who do not have a church of their own."

Faith Lutheran is located at 9575 North Territorial Rd., one-fourth mile west of Dexter-Pinkney Rd.

There is no registration fee for the Vacation Bible School.

Questions may be addressed to Pastor Mark Porinsky at 426-8442 or 426-4302.

Chelsea Fun Daze Has Something for You

Fun lovers and bargain hunters alike should make plans now to reserve Friday and Saturday, July 29-30 for a full load of both.

Chelsea Fun Daze, planned for July 29-30 this year will offer fun and entertainment for everyone, in addition to the Chelsea Merchants Bazaar.

There will be magic shows and clowns. Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will be on hand with their Crime Lab. Lions Club will staff their sightmobile which will offer free vision screenings.

Artists and craftspeople from a wide area will be demonstrating and selling their wares.

Chelsea Community Hospital will be offering cholesterol screening and blood pressure tests.

Friday the newly renovated District Court Building will be holding a public open house so everyone will have an opportunity to view the beautiful new interior finishing.

Saturday will find a great antique car parade making its way through downtown at 11:30 a.m.

Chelsea Senior Citizens famous Kitchen Band will appear in concert Saturday morning.

Uncle Carl's Dulcimer Band will be appearing as will another musical group, "Folks Like Us."

For antique lovers there will also be a display of antique clothing.

Of course, the famous Kiwanis Knockwurst trailer will be on hand with their goodies to satisfy your appetites.

These are just some of the highlights which promise two fun-filled days for all.

Chamber of Commerce Develops Service Files

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce receives many calls from persons outside the area who wish to rent cottages at local lakes. The callers hope the Chamber has a listing of properties available on a weekly or monthly basis. Unfortunately the Chamber has no such list. Ann Feeney, community projects director, has expressed a willingness to develop such a collection if the property owners would co-operate.

The Chamber office is now located in the Village Council chambers, but will soon move to the depot, when the renovation is completed in late August. When the depot location opens up, the number of Chamber visitors will increase dramatically as will opportunities to provide community information to visitors and newcomers.

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, like all local chambers, exists to promote area businesses and provide services for community members and visitors. The Chelsea Chamber receives requests for information about rental housing, landfill hours, the name of a piano tuner, motel accommodations, bed & breakfast arrangements, school information, medical facilities, job opportunities and, of course, all about the Fair. The Chamber is the logical place to have a central clearing house for this varied information, an exchange for those who have it to those who need it.

The Chamber answering machine is always on to receive messages. Ann will return all calls (475-1145) and if callers would prefer, she may be reached at home (475-1493). Call with cottage or house rentals, babysitting services, lawn care services, local events information or anything that the Chamber can assist in promoting as a service to area residents and visitors.

Kendra Neibauer Elected to Student Office at ONU

Kendra D. Neibauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Neibauer, 11131 Boyce Rd., Chelsea, has recently been elected vice-president of the Ohio Northern University student chapter of the Society of Women Engineers for the 1988-89 academic year. The student society provides a base for contact with working engineers in all disciplines of engineering.

Neibauer is a junior majoring in electrical engineering and is active in the student chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, the student chapters of the National and Ohio Societies of Professional Engineers, and Society of Women Engineers.

Ohio Northern University is a co-educational, United Methodist-related institution founded 117 years ago.

Enrollment Urged for Fall Kindergarteners

The Chelsea school district kindergarten enrollment is lower this year than in the past two or three years.

Chelsea will have seven sections of kindergarten, in addition to a "young fives" section.

The school personnel are presently making up the kindergarten classes, and need to know if there are other kindergarten children who have not yet been registered.

The number of children could have an effect on the kindergarten class size, and the number of kindergarten sections scheduled.

If anyone has children who have not yet been enrolled in school, particularly kindergarteners, please call 475-3715, South school, or 475-9131 at the high school.

For kindergarten children to begin this fall, they must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1988.

In 1933 the first federal legislation to set a minimum age for child labor was passed, setting an age limit of 16 for general work and 18 for hazardous jobs. The law was declared unconstitutional in 1935, but similar minimum age requirements were reinstated with the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication by the U. S. Labor Department.
