ONE HUNDRED-EIGHTEENTH YEAR—No. 14

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1988

24 Pages This Week

Jennifer McAfee Chosen 1988 Chelsea Fair Queen

Jennifer McAfee, a 16-year-old sponsored by the junior class of Chelsea High school, was crowned the 1988 Chelsea Community Fair Queen at last Friday night's program.

McAfee was crowned by 1987 queen Laurie Honbaum and will hold the title for a year.

McAfee appeared to be genuinely surprised when emcee Susan Buck read her name after pulling a slip of paper from a sealed envelope.

In addition, McAfee won the Talent Award for singing "Same Girl," as Steve Radant accompanied her on piano.

Senior class representative Christine Young was the runner-up. She played "Canon 'n' D" on piano. Jennifer Bennett, a Chelsea High senior sponsored by Terrific Tailors 4-H Club, won the Miss Congeniality Award.

Much of the judging had taken place prior to Friday's program. Each of the girls was interviewed privately by the judges. Also, each girl was judged on her talent in a private show for the judges at Chelsea High school.

However, each girl was required to answer a question during the show as a test of her poise.

McAfee was asked, "If you were stranded alone on a desert island, what three luxury items would you like to have with you?" She replied "my music box and tapes, and a good book to read."

She also said that "getting to know the other candidates," was her favorite part of the fair.

Young's question was, "what advice would you give to a friend who was having trouble getting along with her parents?" She replied, "I'd tell her to go slow and talk about it because communication is very important."

Some other questions for the candidates included, "Where should a teen go for good advice?" "If you could spend 24 hours with a person past or present, who would it be and why?" "If you could take a trip anywhere in the world, where would you go and why?"

Bennett sang and danced to "Puttin' On The Ritz."

Ann Weiner, sponsored by the high school Key Club, played "Andante Allegretto," on flute.

Amy Trinkle, sponsored by Rogers Corners Herdman 4-H Club, played "Somewhere Out There," on piano.

Katie Flynn, sponsored by the high school freshman class, gave a ballet presentation, "Paris Gaiety."

Sherry Dukes, sponsored by the high school sophomore class, performed a gymnastics routine.

The judges were Margot Foster of Saline, a kennel owner; Jane (Mann) Schrosbree of Whitmore Lake, a physical therapist and 1969 fair queen; and Mark Jessup, owner of a pet care center in Saline.

Also performing was last year's fair queen, Laurie Honbaum, who performed a baton routine to "Conga" by Miami Sound Machine.

Carol (Mayer) Flintoft, the 1983 fair queen, told the audience a little about what she has done in the last 25 years. She lives in Chelsea, is the wife of attorney Peter Flintoft, has four daughters, and is attending school in computer science.

Special Council Meeting Called To Sign Landfill Consent Order With DNR

A special meeting of the Chelsea Village Council has been called for tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 to allow the village to sign a landfill consent agreement with the Department of Natural Resources.

According to Village President Jerry Satterthwaite, language in the agreement has finally been worked out and the document should be ready to sign tonight.

The village and DNR have been arguing for months over the wording of the agreement. According to Satterthwaite, for the last several weeks the argument centered on one word, "right." He said the village attorneys wanted a clause that would allow it to pursue its rights under the law.

Village council held a similar special meeting in June but several details had yet to be hammered out and the agreement couldn't be signed.

A copy of the new agreement could not be obtained as of press time. However, it is thought to be essentially the same document council approved in July.

By signing the agreement, the village will obtain a new landfill operating license and can begin filling its new lined cell. The village's fourth license extension runs out Sept. 7. The next regular meeting of the council is Tuesday, Sept. 6.

However, the agreement can potentially be very expensive. Chelsea will be forced to spend an estimated $75,000 to study the extent of alleged groundwater and soil pollution at the landfill. It will also force the village to clean up any polluted groundwater or soil, cap the old, unlined portion of the landfill according to DNR specifications, monitor the groundwater for at least five years, and provide clean drinking water to homes whose wells are contaminated by the landfill. So far there is no conclusive proof that any well has been contaminated by the landfill.

The $75,000 figure was an estimate by the village's consulting engineers. No estimates are available as to the cost of the any clean-up.

In addition, it is not clear who will pay for what. The village has approached Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships, who have all dumped regularly in the landfill.

Fair on Record Pace Until Saturday Rains

The 1988 Chelsea Community Fair was on its way to a record-breaking year for attendance until the rains came Saturday and washed out many events Saturday night.

The 4-wheel-drive pull was cancelled. Al Townsend & The Ambassadors opened to a fairly good crowd in the covered arena but by the end of the set most of the people had gone home. The midway had to shut down early.

"I'm going to guess we had about 33,000 people," said fair board secretary Maryann Guenther.

"We were having a real good year until Saturday."

She said the fair needs to take in about $30,000 to break even.

The Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby again was one of the biggest draws as the arena bleachers were filled to capacity on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Ladies Day and the fair queen program helped swell Friday's attendance.

Guenther said that participation in the fair was about equal to last year in all categories. However, participation in agricultural exhibits was down about 1/2 percent, probably due to the severe drought this summer.

Prices for livestock at Thursday's Livestock Auction were up and down from 1987. Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home paid $7 for the grand champion lamb, up from $5.75 in 1987. Championship steer sold for $1.50 to Chelsea Community Hospital, down from $2 last year. Grand Champion hog sold for $3, down from $3.60 in 1987.

The moving of the main gate from Old-Manchester Rd. to the southern part of the grounds caused some confusion, Guenther reported, "but there are always glitches with something new." Tuesday's heavy rains caused the new road to the main gate to turn to deep mud.

"The road was made on a temporary basis because we didn't want to invest too much until we could see how it worked out," Guenther said.

"We'll obviously have to do some work on it before next year. We'll have fewer problems as the years go by."

Guenther said the board heard nothing but praise for Pugh Shows, who handled the midway rides and games for the first time.

"We'll be talking to them soon about a contract for next year," Guenther said.

"People said they were impressed by the cleanliness and friendliness of the people operating the rides."

Guenther said the community seemed to be pleased about having the queen contest moved to Friday.

"In previous years the queen was crowned on Saturday night and she was queen for an hour before it was over."

The fair parade seemed to draw one of its biggest crowds ever, especially in the area of the fairgrounds.

Many fair board members worked from 17-20 hours a day during fair week.

Parks Becoming Dumps For Appliances, Junk

The dumping of major appliances, automobile gasoline tanks and other trash is becoming a major problem in the Waterloo and Pinckney Recreation Areas.

"Sometimes I wonder if we should just have a sign at headquarters that says 'dump your appliances here,'" said Waterloo Recreation Area Park Manager Gordon Archer.

"It's discouraging, really. You get one area cleaned up and somebody just dumps more junk. You can't accept it, you just live with it."

Archer said the problem has worsened steadily since he became park manager in 1986. Typically, someone drives into a secluded spot in the area during the night and dumps off the unwanted material. Often, he said, a dumper is someone who was hired by another person to get rid of a mess. The dumper decides to save the cost of landfill fees and leaves the junk on state land instead.

However, Archer said the state is becoming more aggressive about investigating and prosecuting these cases. Fines can run up to $500.

"We have one case in litigation where somebody dumped 30 bags of household refuse," Archer said.

"Somebody came in and dumped a truckload of old gas tanks on Walsh Lake Rd. In an average week, we'll probably pick up half a dozen refrigerators and stoves and take them to Glick's, a scrap metal dealer in Jackson. We don't get much for them."

Archer said the gas tanks are the biggest problem because they have to be cut in half before a scrap dealer will accept them.

"They have to be cut in two because if they have any gasoline in them they'll explode like a piece of dynamite when they're put in a compactor," Archer said.

The situation is just as bad in the Pinckney Recreation Area. Officials report that an entire burned out mobile home was dumped in truckloads.

A crew from Cassidy Lake Technical School is used about two days a week for the clean-up in Waterloo, Archer said. However, he'd prefer to use the crew for improving (Continued on page seven)

MOST OUTSTANDING in the adult float division was this entry by Chelsea Kiwanis Club/Chelsea Key Club. The theme focused on the excellence of Special Olympics.

Seated under the rings is Key Club fair queen candidate Ann Weiner.

WINNER in the youth float division was this entry by the Chelsea High school senior class, featuring New York City and the hand of King Kong. Seated in the hand is queen candidate Christine Young, who finished runner-up in the fair queen program.

Ken Larson replaced Sam Vogel as assistant principal of Chelsea High school. Larson holds a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University with a major in math and history. He received his master's from EMU in educational leadership. Larson is currently the head golf coach and the junior varsity baseball coach.

As the crowds attending the Chelsea Community Fair expand, so do the facilities. Last year saw the addition of the Multi-Purpose Arena. This year will bring in additional bleachers and a horse rack.

Melinda McCalla's 214-pound grand champion market hog was purchased by Washtenaw Farmers Oil at the Livestock Auction during the 1984 Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show.

Andrew Policht of Stoffer Rd., showed off his hand-made snapping turtle traps to a reporter from The Standard. Policht, 62, learned many years ago how to make turtle traps and secrets of trapping turtles. Policht also demonstrated his turtle butchering technique, where he has learned how to dress one out in about 10 minutes.

Embezzlement Leads to Increased D. S. S. Financial Controls

Social Services Director C. Patrick Babcock outlined plans to correct procedures which may have permitted the alleged embezzlement of $628,000 in child care funds by department employee Terry Brenner.

Babcock, in a report to Governor James Blanchard, calls for a wide range of actions that will make certain that adequate separation of duties and other internal controls are put into operation.

The department has also conducted three internal investigations as a result of the embezzlement, called the largest in state history, which led to the arrest of Brenner and eight others.

While admitting that the report found some problems in the system, Babcock said there is no indication of other criminal activity than that uncovered.

"I'm confident these types of procedures virtually eliminate fraudulent payments," he said. "The steps called for . . . will immediately tighten our fiscal control."

The report details additional verification steps, authorization processes and auditing functions that have either already been implemented or will be put in place over the next few months, some of which came after the internal investigations.

Major points of the report include: —A payment threshold framework has been established to limit the expenditures an individual can authorize. The procedure, to begin Sept. 1, replaces the current system in which the bureau or office handled payments.

—Signatory authority for payments cannot be delegated.

—A chief financial officer is to be appointed to act as financial controller for the department.

—Requirements are being increased to ensure that accurate and appropriate documentation exists for all expenditures.

—Roles and responsibilities and lines of authority with regard to financial operations are being clarified.

—Top management will be required to submit quarterly progress reports regarding corrective actions taken.

Brenner, suspended from his job as director of placement services, is accused of using his position to channel money to non-existent day-care centers. He faces more than 30 charges of larceny by false pretenses and three counts of forgery in connection with the payment of DSS money to people across the state.

Babcock said an insurance claim for $620,000 has been filed. He said the Department of Management and Budget is processing the claim, but he hopes that within 8-12 weeks the alleged embezzlement will be recovered through a surety bond.

Although the alleged embezzlement was not noticed until an informant tipped Lansing police in June, Babcock said the fraud would have eventually been uncovered by the DSS through normal audit procedures.

The embezzlement apparently went on for eight months, beginning just after Brenner's department was audited.

Babcock said there were "five or six" individuals in DSS who should have questioned the payments, but he said it was not clear what their role was, a problem that he will attempt to solve through better checks and balances.

State's Infant Mortality Decreases in 1987

Michigan's infant mortality rate dropped to 10.9 per 1,000 live births from 11.4 in 1986, the Department of Public Health reported.

The rates for black infants remained far worse than for whites, although both did decrease: blacks to 21.9 percent from 23 percent and whites to 8.5 percent from 9 percent.

The over-all change represents 32 fewer infant deaths in 1987, when 1,533 babies died, compared to the year before even though there was an increase in live births to 2,505 to 140,130.

Michigan's 4.4 percent reduction in the mortality rate was better than the national average of 3.8 percent. But Raj Wiener, acting director of the department, said areas of the state are of greater concern than others.

For example, she said, improvement in Detroit was only marginal, with over-all infant mortality decreasing by 1 percent. The decrease for white babies was .8 percent while the black rate decreased by just .2 percent.

Among efforts being made at the state level to reduce the mortality level, Wiener said, are increased availability of prenatal care and an enrollment increase in the state's Women, Infants and Children supplemental food program.

The infant mortality rate is based on the number of babies who die in their first year of life per 1,000 live births.

The state will spend $30.5 billion in 1988-89 in state and federal funds through the Department of Social Services and DPH, up from $20.1 million this year. Most of the money is federal; $10.4 million is state general funds in 1988-89 and $8.4 million is general funds this year.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers got around to this matter of rewriting history Saturday night at the country store, and they got stuck on the subject. It was Bug Hookum that said folks pointing fingers at the Japanese and Russians are pots calling the kettle black.

Clem Webster had saw this piece where 41 members of the Japanese Diet, which is like our Congress, had endorsed the idea that Japan didn't start World War II. They say Pearl Harbor and the invasion of China were self defense because the white race was bent on turning all of Asia into a colony. Never mind how many white faces was in Nanking when it was raped in 1937, Clem said, them 41 lawmakers still will have an easy time showing school children how their country won the war. Who can believe a loser comes out smelling as good as Japan does, was Clem's question.

The same rewriting job is going on in Russia, Clem went on, where the history answers are the same, but the questions have changed. The new history is true because it says the old history was lies. Because so much truth is being found out all of a sudden, Clem said, the Government called off final history exams for the last school year until new true history can be wrote.

Practical speaking, declared Bug, we got pritty much the same double history standards. What we know about our Civil War, or our War fer Southern Independence depends on which book we read. Fer sure, Bug went on, we're never sure what battle is which because the Yankees give em one name and the Rebels another. This has been confusing fer generations of school children, Bug said, especial in the South, because most of the history writers and all the history book publishers are in the North.

Farthermore, Bug went on, putting a slant on education and religion is ever bit as old as education and religion. Right now, he said, the Baptist are sharp divided over the old question of whuther the Pharrow's daughter found little Moses in the bullrushes, or she said she found him there. The good Baptist are arguing over the same slant, whuther the Bible is the word of God or contains the word of God.

Now we got reserchers claiming that the Chosen People couldn't of wondered that peticular 40 year in that peticular wilderness because geography and Egypt's rulers of that time don't square with Exodus. If that ain't hard enough on truth, Bug said, we got astronomers and archalologists updating time and distance on a regular base. About ever time you pick up a paper somebody is discovering somepun still older and farther away that tosses everything we thought we knowed into a cocked hat, was Bug's words. In matters of history and science, if not religion, Bug said, truth has to be saw as what we know now.

Clem Webster stood foursquare with Bug. Clem had saw where the city council of Robin Hood's Nottingham, England has said flat out that Maid Marian and Friar Tuck are pure fiction, and that Little John was a hoodlum. So who's to say, Clem said, that the next truth we hear will be that Joan of Ark was made up to fire up a feminist movement. If we are told that Huck Finn and King Arthur weren't real, how safe can Santa Claus, the Easter Bunny and the Tooth Fairy be, was Bug's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

JOHNSON-SMITH: Richard Johnson of Lynwood, Wash., and Joan Maine of Marysville, Wash., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Wendy Marie Johnson, to Matthew David Smith, son of Norma and Richard Smith of Kirkland, Wash., formerly of Chelsea. The future bride is a graduate of Marysville High school, and is employed by Albertson's grocery store. Her fiancé graduated from Chelsea High school and attended Eastern Michigan University for two years. He is an assistant manager at Discount Tire. The couple plans an Oct. 15 wedding.

SMITH-BRADLEY: Wally and Ruth Smith have announced the engagement of their daughter, Krista Jean, to Jared Bradley, son of the Rev. Mearl and Joyce Bradley. The future bride is a 1988 graduate of Chelsea High school and a 1987 graduate of Chuck Banoff School of Floral Design. The future bridegroom is a 1985 graduate of Chelsea High school and is presently stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., as a paratrooper in the U. S. Army. The couple will be married Nov. 12, at the Chelsea Free Methodist church.

LESLIE SMYTH Completes Course in Truck Marketing

T. N. Hynes, manager of the Education and Training Department, at Ford Motor Co., announced last week that Mrs. Leslie Smyth, sales representative at Palmer Ford-Mercury, had just completed a course at the Ford Marketing Institute.

The course in light truck merchandising takes a very comprehensive look at the changing truck market. Also, research into meeting the modern day truck needs of commercial and personal use buyers. This is all enhanced by extensive mathematical problems dealing with payload and gross weights.

Biff Weaver, sales manager, congratulated Mrs. Smyth on accepting the challenge of undertaking a study of this magnitude.

Favorite color? Not satisfied with your tomato crop? The solution may be as simple as changing the color of mulch in the garden. According to National Wildlife magazine, researchers have found that vegetables respond favorably to particular wavelengths of reflected sunlight. Tomato plants grown over red mulch produced 20 percent more top quality tomatoes than those grown over black plastic. Potatoes and green peppers, on the other hand, show a distinct preference for white mulch.

SECOND PLACE WINNER in the adult float division was this entry by Chelsea's Kitchen Band. The band, composed of Chelsea senior citizens, entertained the parade crowd with a selection of music.

Cyclist Seriously Hurt in Crash With Car on M-52

Sergeant Harley Rider and his colleagues in the traffic division of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD) asked both motorists and motorcycle operators to use extreme caution as the days grow shorter, with later dawns and earlier dusks, in order to prevent accidents.

Within the county, at least two serious accidents were reported in the past few days.

Both mishaps remain under investigation by the WCSD.

A cyclist was seriously injured, and Battle Creek resident Dawn Johnson, 15, received minor injuries when an automobile in which she was traveling struck the cycle operated by James Michael Shook, 22, of Manchester, in a head-on crash reported at 12:35 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 28.

The collision occurred on M-52, just south of Pleasant Lake Rd., after a vehicle driven by Kristin Ann Vedder, 18, a Manchester resident, struck the cycle.

Miss Vedder told deputies she was headed north on M-52, observed a southbound truck, and thought she had time to make a left turn in front of the truck.

She didn't see, or know there was, a motorcycle in front of the southbound truck, until she heard the impact, she explained to deputies.

The motorcycle, southbound on M-52, couldn't avoid the impact with the automobile.

Shook was transported from the accident scene to University of Michigan Hospital by Survival Flight.

Another car-cycle collision was reported at 7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 28, on North Territorial Rd. near the Curtis Rd. intersection.

Deputies Jon Scicluna and Yates explained a vehicle with Chicago driver Timothy Paul Detherage, 25, was southbound on Curtis Rd., with Anthony John Miele, 38, of Brighton,

Prisoner Leaves Camp Waterloo

As of press time, police were still searching for a prisoner who had escaped from Camp Waterloo on Saturday, Aug. 27.

Douglas Ray Kurmas, 28, of Lansing, was reported missing from the prison at 11:17 p.m. He is described as white, 5'11", 180 pounds, with brown hair, blue eyes, a scar on his cheek, and tattoos on both arms.

Kurmas was serving 2-8 years for felonious assault and 2-4 years for resisting arrest.

Chelsea Depot Nearly Ready for Daily Public Enjoyment

Sometime soon, perhaps in September, the rescued and restored Chelsea Depot will open its doors to the public. Scheduled hours for visitors and events will depend on the recruitment of volunteers.

The Depot's Victorian architecture—so plentiful throughout the village, and so rare among rural train stations—closely resembles its appearance on opening day, 1880. It greets the eye, as it did then, with glistening windows, nine-foot doors, multi-gabled rooflines and gingerbread woodwork.

Green shades of paint, used to identify Michigan Central stations, have been authentically duplicated. Contractor Charles Shiver and his men melted the original layers of paint with blow torches and scraped the hot lava away until they were down to the bare wood. Then new coats of paint were applied.

All windows and transoms in the Depot have been replaced with double-pane insulating glass. Before the aged glass could be put in place, the new window frames had to be stripped and gouged for double-thick glass. Where restrooms were destined to be constructed, two windows were removed. Subsequently they were installed in place of two unneeded freight doors at the east end of the Depot.

The decorative, spear-like finial which adorns the peak of the trackside roof needed to be replicated, and this was done. A crew of carpenters, led by builder Bob Bauer, pitched in to repair roof timbers and other exterior woodwork.

A wrap-around brick walk on the east, west and south sides of the building has been re-engineered to accommodate wheel chair at the Jackson St. entrances.

Fresh New Interior

Interior wood trim has been skillfully rebuilt by Walt Haab with his lathe to preserve some of the old-fashioned decor. When it came to modern conveniences, however, there was no hesitation in the choice of contemporary lighting, heating, cooling and plumbing.

Two unisex restrooms, built to accommodate the handicapped, remain situated in the corridor between the two main rooms (See sketch above.) Conversion of the stationmaster's room into a business office has been accomplished. Old wood from the former telegraph desk has been used to build reminiscent ticket counters outside the room.

The office and adjoining Historical Museum have been redecorated and are ready to be occupied. All that remains for the station to become completely usable are painting of the Michigan Central Room and flooring.

Most readers will recall the concern felt in the community when Amtrak discontinued rail service to Chelsea in 1981, closing the doors of the Depot. As definite evidence of deterioration began to appear, more citizens became disturbed. Was the neglected Depot on the way to ruin?

Lynda Longe of the Chelsea Area Historical Society made brave but futile efforts to negotiate some kind of a deal with Amtrak. The Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce stepped in to support her efforts, and in 1984 Amtrak finally came through with the offer of a lease. Unfortunately, it was a dog-in-the-manger lease, heavily involving the Village. The Council voted thanks-but-no-thanks, Amtrak.

The Chamber then appointed Dudley Holmes, Jr., and me to look into the situation more closely. After some digging, we found that Amtrak was receiving a $600 million annual subsidy from the federal government. Further study revealed that authority for giving these millions to Amtrak was vested in the House Appropriations Committee. Best of all, our own Congressman, Carl D. Pursell, was a well-entrenched member of the committee.

We explained the plight of our Depot to Carl and he, in turn, communicated with W. Graham Claytor, Jr., president of Amtrak. It wasn't too long before Mr. Clayton agreed to sell the station. An appraised value of $15,000 was established by Robert Thornton, Chelsea Realtor, and this sum was accepted by Amtrak.

On Dec. 11, 1985 in the Washington office of Congressman Pursell, the Depot and 0.84 acres of land was sold outright to the Chelsea Depot Association. The contract was signed by Tony DeAngelo, assistant vice-president of Amtrak. I signed as president of the Chelsea Depot Association.

The sum of $16,000 was raised in four days prior to the Washington meeting: $15,000 for the purchase, $1,000 for travel and other expenses. Contributors were: Chelsea Area Historical Society $5,000, Civic Foundation of Chelsea $5,000, Chamber of Commerce $2,500, Chelsea Milling Co. $2,500, and Chelsea Dana $1,000.

In the early days of 1986, the trustees had only ballpark estimates of their capital needs. Much hinged on the soundness of the building itself and that had yet to be determined.

With so many unknowns, the financial policy of the trustees was plain and simple. They would pay for each approved project after the money was in the bank. The first money-raising effort began in February, 1986. It centered around the sale of Depot Certificates in all denominations from $10 up. Lithographed in the opulent manner of bonds, and adorned with embossed gold seals, the certificates were offered for sale, and sold like hotcakes. Donors, large and small, welcomed the chance to save the Depot.

While the treasury was accumulating funds, the trustees hired a Chelsea architect, Arthur Lindauer, to inspect the old rail station and evaluate its condition.

With a large flashlight in hand he lowered himself into the dark crawl-space below the station—a region which had been shaken by a century of steam engines. There he made a careful inspection of the foundation and its timbers. His report began, "The Chelsea Depot as it stands today is solid and strong. The foundation is sound and the structure is a tribute to the architects and builders who designed and erected the station in 1880."

The findings of the architect created a bull market in Chelsea Depot certificates. Further impetus was given to the fund campaign when the state recognized the Chelsea Depot as a Michigan Historical Site. Soon after, it was officially listed in the National Archives of Historic Places.

Lindauer next worked with the trustees, planning a sequence of steps for the restoration and modernization of the building. This process, accompanied by continued fund-raising, lasted all through 1987. Most of the interior work and outside brickwork was accomplished in 1988. It was also decided to tear down certain partitions and chimneys to gain space.

How much did it all cost?

In round figures, expenditures—including purchases of the property—have amounted to $115,000, and the Chelsea Depot Association is without debt.

As cultural and civic programs develop, the Depot will have continuing needs for equipment. Audio visual projectors for education and entertainment. Microfilm viewers and microfiles. Recording equipment. Wide screen television and VCR's. A portable stage and stage lighting. Amplifiers, music stands and podiums. Plus the inevitable computer and copier along with chairs, tables, desks and files.

In order to keep the building open for museum visitors, meetings and other activities, the Depot will have to be staffed. Since the Depot has no income, the staff will have to consist of volunteers. Two days a week, the Chamber of Commerce will make part-time use of the office.

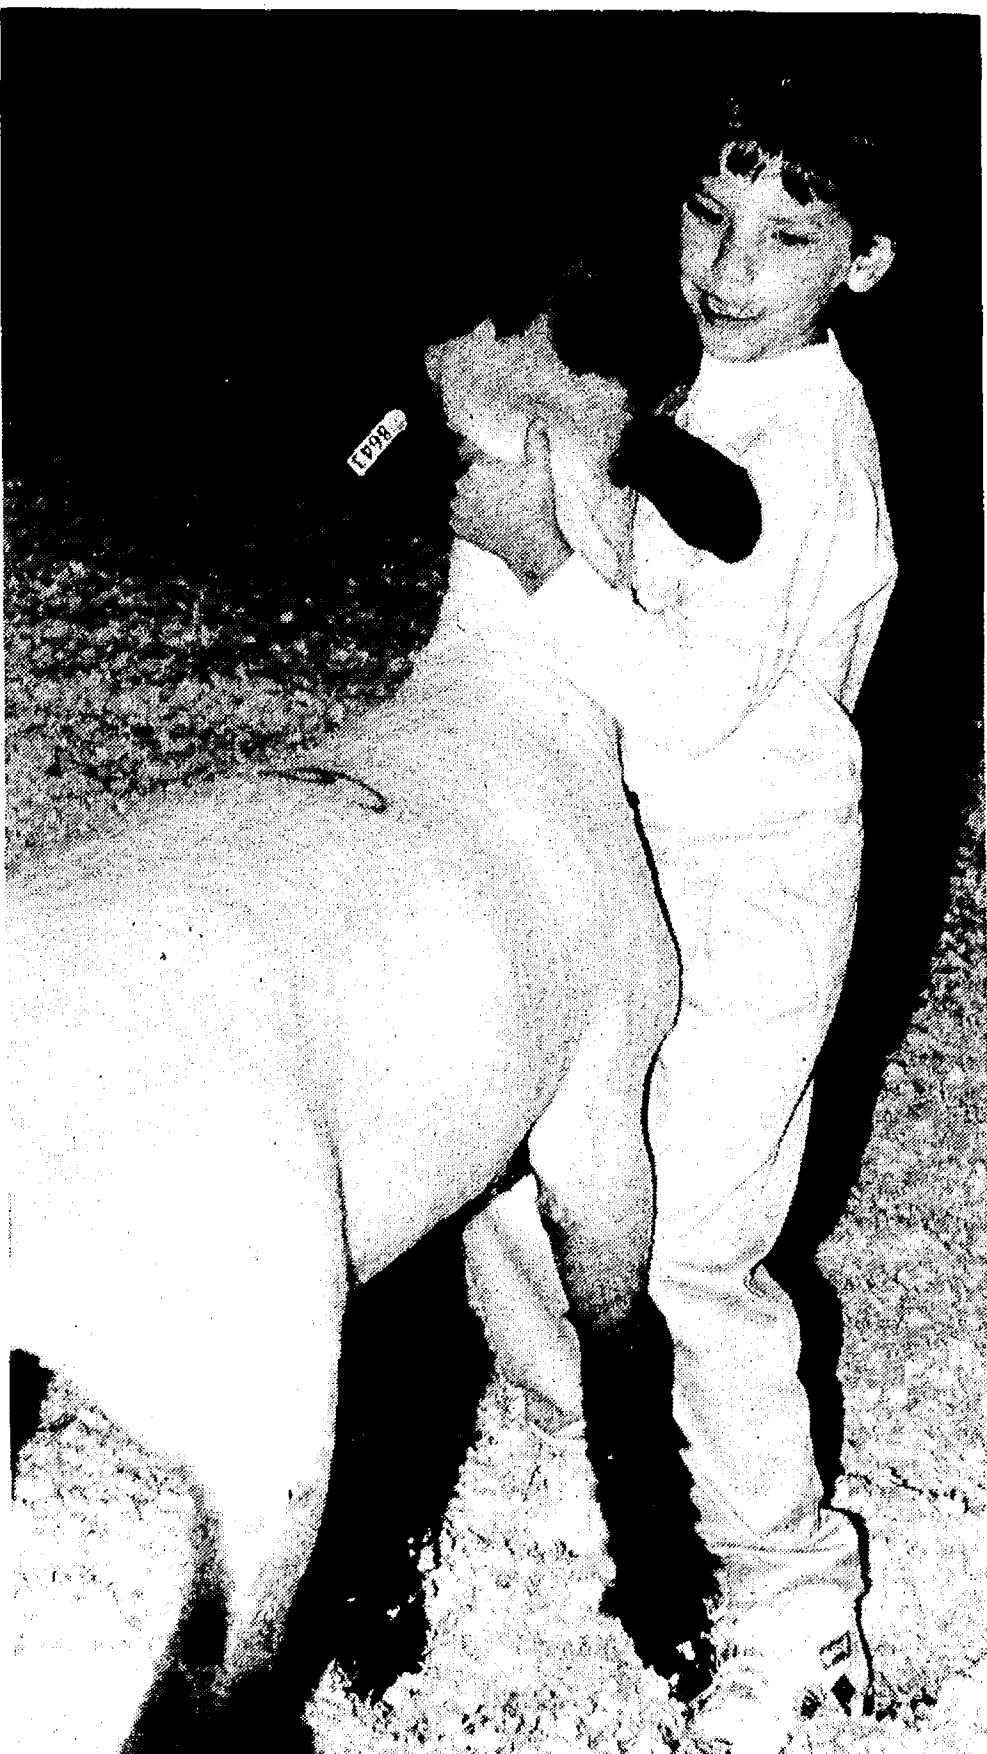

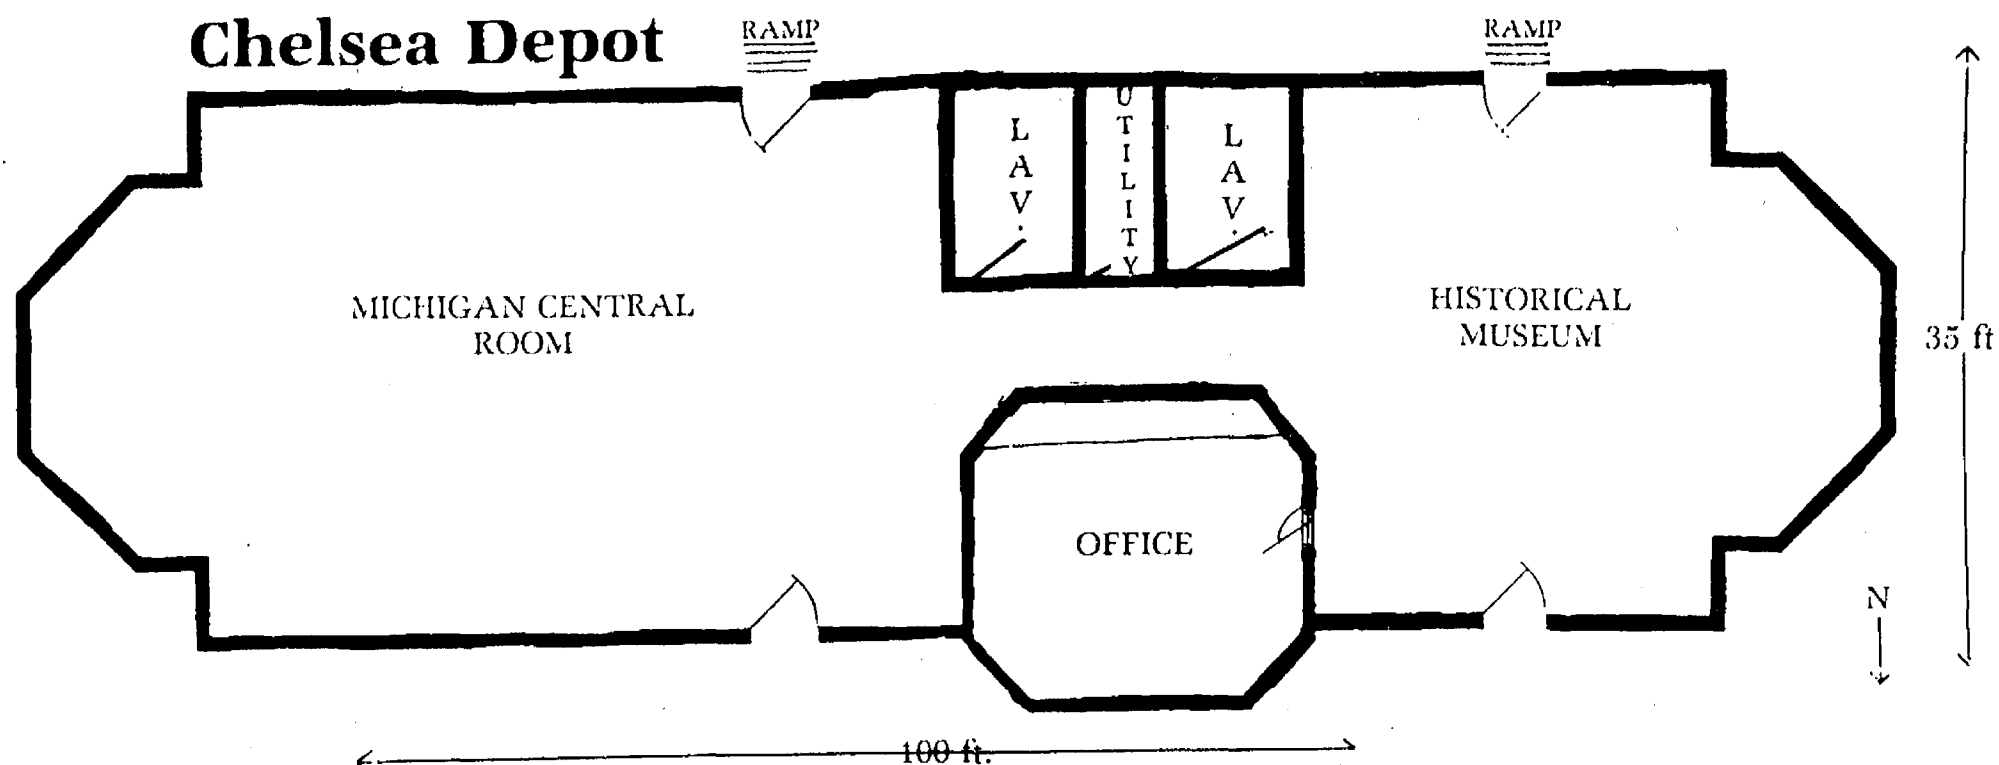

In addition to those who negotiated with Amtrak, there were certain special and dedicated people who brought the Depot project to completion. When you look at that historic place by the railroad tracks, remember Gloria Mitchell, treasurer, Marjorie Hepburn, secretary, and Scott Tanner, vice-president. Remember trustees Gen. Dwight E. Beach, Lynda Longe (now Collins), Mark Heydlauff, Lee Fahrner and Veretta Whitaker.

Also remember our volunteer legal counsel, Peter Flintoft of Keusch & Flintoft, Chelsea's Village Attorney.

Tanner, Beach, Heydlauff and Connelly have since retired from the board. Lee Fahrner took over as chairman in the spring of 1987 and trustee vacancies have been ably filled by Lyle Chriswell, Elmer Kiel, Clara Smith, Greg Raye and Walter Berjeski. Kathy Clark has also become a trustee and taken the post of secretary.

Chelsea Depot Association is offering to the residents of this area an opportunity to identify with their roots in Chelsea.

In early 1989 the Depot Assoc. will landscape and build new brick sidewalks around the historic Chelsea Depot.

The Depot was purchased in 1985 and partially restored with donations from community organizations and individual residents, to house a historical museum, Chamber of Commerce headquarters, and large public meeting room.

A limited number of Depot bricks are now available for engraving. You may have your name inscribed on a brick to be permanently placed at the Depot grounds for $50.00. What a thoughtful gift for a parent or grandparent, child or grandchild—and this is a nice gift for anyone you wish to remember.

"We tire of the pleasures we take, but never of those we give..."

—J. Petit-Senn

It's possible that many of us might find ourselves a bit jaded with a steady diet of pleasure. When pleasure becomes commonplace and expected, the keen point of anticipation is noticeably dulled.

However, the giving of pleasure to others imparts a warm inner glow which wears well. And it is just possible that over a period of time many of us might discover that it is indeed more blessed to give than to receive.

Whenever our help is requested, we provide it to the best of our ability and with the prompt dependability that a family has every right to expect. You may call on us with full confidence in our understanding of your need.

There once was a gal named Sal
She was the greatest pal.
You knew in a minute
That she'd be right in it if fun was the name of the game!
Each year our Sal looks the same.
How does she stay young?
We'll all hold our tongue
If only we could look just as good at Forty as Sal.
We would market that gal as the secret of youth—and that is the truth!

the wildlife habitat or even routine maintenance.

The situation is likely to worsen before it improves. The village's type III landfill for demolition material is just about full. In addition, once the village receives its new landfill license, the Department of Natural Resources wants the type III fill closed for good within 30 days. That means demolition material would have to be hauled to Jackson or Ann Arbor, unless the village wants to use its new cell for regular household trash the material. However, that would shorten the life of the cell.

The charge for dumping a half-ton pick-up full of demolition in Ann Arbor is about $62.50 for non-residents. The charge in Chelsea is about $20, about the same as in Jackson.

"It's going to be a sad state of affairs if we close off to demolition material," said village landfill operator Cecil Clouse.

"Not only is it a good source of revenue for us, but all that material has to go somewhere."

The first state legislation prohibiting discrimination in employment on the basis of race, creed or color was the Inves-Quinn Act in New York in 1945. The first federal fair employment legislation was the Civil Rights Act of 1964, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

PATCHWORK QUILT by Laura Bloomensaat of year's Chelsea Community Fair. It was a tough decision Chelsea was the Grand Champion of all exhibits at this for the judges as there were many excellent displays.

THE McCALLA FAMILY had a pretty good year in the livestock exhibit as Eric, Case, and Nick came away with numerous ribbons in the hog competition. Thirty hogs were auctioned off on Thursday, which means 20 percent belonged to the McCallas.

Chelsea Recycling Program Could Start Within a Month

Washtenaw county's recycling consultant is hopeful Chelsea's recycling center will be established within the next 30 days.

The county-wide recycling program has been beset by delays ever since the program was announced last year. One big problem was that county public works director Jack Durbin resigned just as the program was getting into gear. In addition, there were a couple of short-term successors to Durbin.

According to consultant Tom McMurtrie, the county is waiting for Polly's Market to sign a lease agreement. The recycling bins will be located in the store's parking lot.

In addition, the village and county have not yet signed an agreement, but McMurtrie said, "we're making progress."

"Once all the agreements are signed, things should fall into place quickly," McMurtrie said.

The recycling bins have been constructed and can be delivered quickly, McMurtrie said.

The county has also signed an agreement with the Ecology Center of Ann Arbor to service the containers.

The county has received an extension until the end of the year to use the state grant money which is paying for a big chunk of the project, McMurtrie said. Those funds could have been lost in September.

Antique Engine Show Slated at Domino's Farms

The fifth annual Jim Monaghan Antique Engine Show will be held at Domino's Farms Friday through Monday, Sept. 2-5, offers over 100 exhibits of steam and gas engines for land and water, entertainment, train rides, blacksmith demonstrations and much more.

Show chairperson, Jim Monaghan, will display his STR Telegraph, a 23-foot steam launch on a pond created especially for the show. A second floating display will be the 45-foot long steam launch, The Old English "D", owned by Jim's brother Tom Monaghan, president and owner of Domino's Pizza, Inc. Land exhibits will include large steam tractor engines used for farming in the early 1900's, a full-size steam locomotive, classic cars, steam calliopes and a steam powered sawmill.

Other events include a working blacksmith and old-fashioned baling, thrashing and flour grinding demonstrations. The nostalgic sound of music from a steam powered calliope will fill the air while the Brodbeck's sawmill from Ottawa Lake will reduce huge logs to building size lumber.

Twenty top horse pulling teams (heavy and light) from around the country will compete for cash prizes in the horse pulling contest on Saturday afternoon beginning at 2 p.m.

Cars from the Domino's Pizza, Inc., classic car collection will also be on display. Show goers will ride a miniature train, shop through the flea market, take a hay ride or just eat pizza and enjoy the musical entertainment provided by the Irish band "Pat's People" and the blue grass country music band "New Old Stock."

Visitors to Domino's Farms may also tour through Domino's Classic Car Museum open Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday until 9 p.m. and Sunday from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for senior citizens and $2 for children.

The National Center for the Study of Frank Lloyd Wright is also open for tours weekdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday until 9 p.m. and weekends 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for senior citizens and children are admitted free of charge.

Domino's Farms Petting Farm is also open for tours Wednesday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and for tours and hay rides on Saturdays and Sundays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The farm is open Monday, Sept. 5 (Labor Day) from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. Petting Farm tours and hay rides are free of charge.

The Engine Show will open on Friday, Sept. 2 from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m. and although not all the exhibits will be up and running at that time, the public is welcome to come and watch the set-up. The show officially begins on Saturday, Sept. 3. Hours will be Saturday and Sunday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Monday (Labor Day) 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission to the show is $3 for adults, $1 for senior citizens and children under 12, no admission will be charged on Friday.

All of the Antique Engine Show activities will be located at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor. Take US-23, exit 41 (Plymouth Rd.), east to Earhart Rd., and north to the farm, follow signs to the Antique Engine Show site.

How Can You Tell A Tough Tractor?

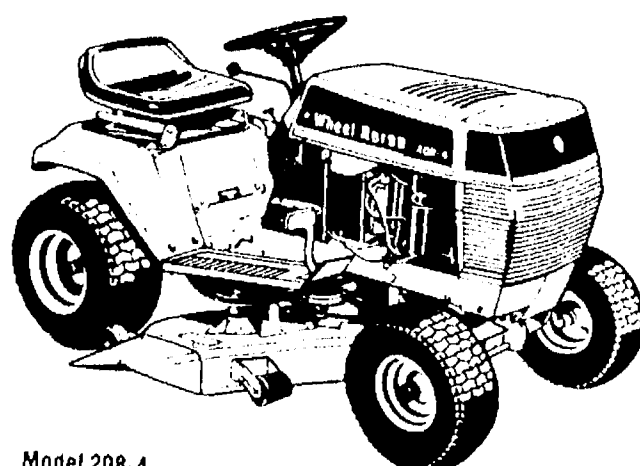

LOOK BETWEEN THE WHEELS.

The front axle is the key to a smooth ride and long life. That's why every Wheel Horse tractor, right down to our smallest lawn tractor, has a cast-iron front axle. It absorbs the bumps on any terrain, yet keeps its shape.

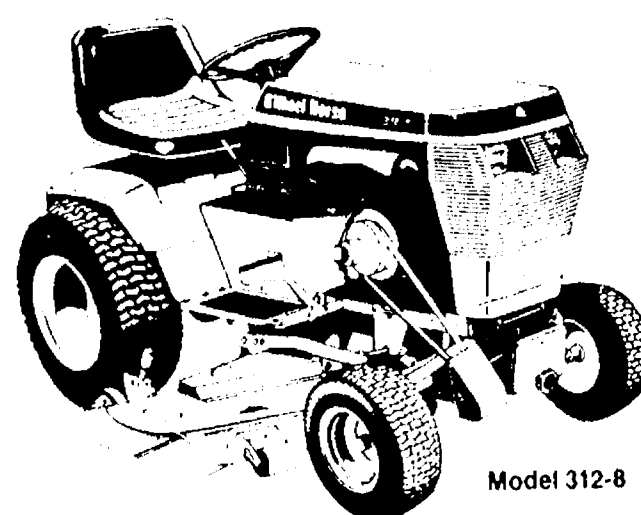

On many small tractors, you'll find the front axle is stamped out of steel, often as part of the frame. When you consider the amount of weight it supports and the ground it works on, you'll understand the importance of the Wheel Horse front axle. It's a difference you'll measure in years.

LIMITED TIME OFFER!

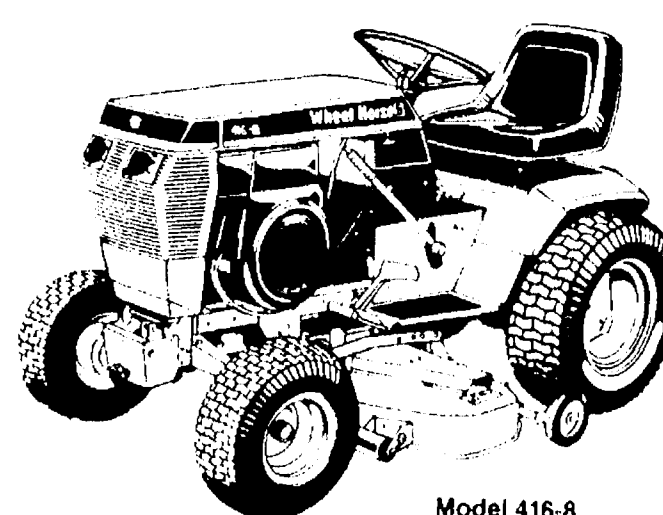

You'd expect to pay more for this kind of engineering. Especially when it results in better performance and longer tractor life. But right now, your Wheel Horse dealer is making a special offer.

Lima Housing Project Eyes Spring Start

Developers are probably six to nine months away from starting a 20-home project in rural Lima township.

Harris Homes Development Corp. of Livonia recently had 53 acres of land just east of Harper Dr. re-zoned by the township.

Now the developers need a series of approvals by the township and Washtenaw county before any digging will begin.

The tentative preliminary plat has been submitted to the township for review. However, the plans were lacking some technical details, according to planning commission chairman David Bacon. Consequently, the township could not act on the plans, even if they had had a quorum at their August meeting.

"The developers answered our questions all right but the answers weren't in black and white on the prints," Bacon said.

According to ordinance, plans have to be submitted to the county's Subdivision Advisory Committee and school superintendent Joseph Piasecki for comments. In addition, the township has to write a letter to the county road commission seeking permission for a cul de sac which is longer than township standards.

"There are checks and balances and a lot of people have to put their stamp of approval and that's fine with us," said George Riedel, one of the partners in the construction firm.

"We are new developers, as Lima township is new to development."

Because the development has been scaled back from 28 to 20 homes, prices will probably be a little higher than initially planned. Homes, Riedel said, would probably start around $175,000.

The company will construct all the homes in the development although they will be custom homes for individual clients, Riedel said. Individual lots will not be sold.

Putnam Twp. Now Has New Fire Inspector

Putnam township's new fire chief, Don LaBelle, will also serve as fire inspector, the board ruled at its Aug. 17 meeting.

The township previously had no fire chief but must have one now due to state law, said board supervisor Bruce E. Chapman.

"State law says that we must know what chemicals are being used in the township's three manufacturing plants in case of fire, so he'll be inspecting them," Chapman said. The additional title will not bring LaBelle, who has been fire chief for about a month, any additional salary.

The township took a couple of other actions to spruce up the fire department. They voted to solicit bids to purchase a new rescue vehicle and a back-up tanker. They also approved replacing the cracked concrete in front of the fire hall. Bids for the work have been received and will be voted on the next time the board meets, Sept. 21.

In other business, the township: —Voted to file a lawsuit against the property owner of 3651 W. M-36 for negligence in removing a trailer whose extended permit expired on Aug. 18.

—Gave the nod for the township's treasurer to attend the Township Treasurer Association Seminar in Bellaire, Sept. 19-21.

JENNIFER McAFEE HAD A SMILE worthy of a fair queen during the Children's Parade last Tuesday, the opening event of the fair. She was one of seven candidates.

KRISTI SMITH was named the Junior Champion Homemaker for the 1988 Chelsea fair. She had the highest point total after entering a number of homemaking categories.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Dog Gridders Open Friday Against Mason

Coach Gene LaFave and the Bulldog varsity football team open their season at Mason on Friday at 8 p.m.

Mason, co-champions of their league last season, should provide a good test for Chelsea, perhaps even more of a test than LaFave would like so early.

"Mason is a very physical team," said assistant coach Wayne Welton.

"We saw a lot of 6-1, 6-2 guys about 190 pounds."

Mason features a full house and power I offense, which should test one of the Bulldogs' strengths, the defensive line.

"We feel like Mason and Saline, our first two opponents, will be the most physical teams we play all year," Welton said.

Although the Bulldogs are a team dominated by seniors, many of the players lack any real experience at their positions simply because they have been moved around or because they didn't play much last year.

For example, Eric Frisinger has been switched from linebacker to offensive center.

Luman Strong has been shifted from running back to the offensive line.

Mike Taylor has been moved from linebacker to defensive tackle.

Jason Overdorf, primarily a running back last season, will be a key on defense at middle linebacker.

Junior Morseau, primarily a runner last year, will start in the defensive secondary.

David Zerkel, who didn't play last year, will double up at tight end and defensive end.

Chris Keck, the best offensive lineman in the pre-season, is also the only lineman with game experience. Everyone else either played another position last year or sat on the bench.

LaFave will also be counting on the experience of quarterback Larry Nix, the durability and dependability of Morseau at running back, and the speed of sophomore Jude Quilter and junior Andy Dehning to break the big plays. Nix will have plenty of passing targets, but LaFave is likely to keep the offense fairly simple in the early going because of the inexperience on the line. Sophomore Kerry Plank and senior Jeff Marshall will start as the wide outs, Welton said.

Defense is the Bulldogs' strong suit, according to LaFave, as he has both speed and strength on the line in Zerkel, Taylor, and Tim VanSchoick, and quickness and maturity at linebacker in Overdorf, and seniors Jeff Prentice and David White. The secondary, which could be a question mark, may not have to be as good as usual if defensive line can cause problems for opposing quarterbacks. Likely starters in the backfield will be Morseau, Quilter, and Marshall.

Welton said some of the Bulldogs are banged up but probably no one will be forced to sit out the opener with an injury or illness.

Local Softball Team Takes 5th in Nationals

Colonial Lanes class C fastpitch softball team, featuring former Chelsea High school players Pam Brown and Donna Popovich, finished fifth in a national tournament in Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 18-21.

The team finished with a 3-2 record although their opening game loss to a Tucson team, "All Brokers," immediately put them in the losers bracket.

In the opener, Brown pitched a four-hitter, allowed only one earned run but lost the game 5-2 as Colonial had several infield errors. Brown and Popovich each had a hit in the game.

In the second game, Colonial played "D.B.'s Rogues," of Lincoln, Neb. and took a come-from-behind 4-3 win in the seventh inning.

A suicide squeeze in the third game gave Colonial a 3-2 win in the bottom of the seventh inning. Brown was the winning pitcher as she threw a one-hitter with eight strikeouts and no earned runs. Popovich had a key hit in the seventh.

After a 5-0 win in the fourth game over the "Renegades" of Phoenix, Ariz., Colonial suffered a 3-2 loss to the "Sure Shots" of Burbank, Calif. Brown tossed a six hitter and allowed one earned run. Popovich contributed with a hit. The Sure Shots placed second over-all.

Brown gave up two earned runs in the tournament and Popovich had three hits.

The fifth place trophy was so big it had to be taken apart to get it on the plane home.

CHARAMAR FARM were the champions of division I in the Chelsea Recreation Men's Softball League. The team was sponsored by Margaret Spensley of Charamar Farms in Manchester. Jerry Kuhl managed the team and team members came from Chelsea, Manchester, Saline, Tecumseh, and Ann Arbor. The team will take part in national class D tournament this week-end. In the front row, from left, are Richard Schaible, Jerry Kuhl, Al Lader, and Bucky Naebeck. In the second row, from left, are Gordon Boucher, Mark Issel, Sam Coombs, Curt Fielder, and Bob Smith. In the back row, from left, are Mike Smith, Howard McCalla, Mike Engelhart, and Dan Schaible. Not pictured is Gary Drake.

Golf Team Opens Season At Tourneys

Chelsea Bulldog varsity golf team played in invitational tournaments on Aug. 19 at Jackson County Western and Aug. 22 at Tecumseh.

The Bulldogs finished 12th out of 24 teams at the Jackson tournament with a score of 334. Top Chelsea scorers were Matt Forner, 83, Chad Starkey, and Mark Larson, 83, Steve Emmert, 97, and Brandon Murrell, 100.

At Tecumseh Chelsea was sixth in a field of 14. Top scorers were Starkey, 81, Larson, 85, Forner, 98, Emmert, 101, and Doug Wingrove, 104.

The golf team still has openings. Anyone interested should contact Loren Winn at Chelsea High school.

Ladies Day Results Announced

Low net each flight was the game of the day for ladies at Inverness Golf Course on Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Winner of the first flight was Rose McGibney. Second flight winner was Dot Hume. Third flight winner was Dorothy Mielke.

Varsity Girl Cagers Should Compete for League Title in '88

With plenty of height, good speed, and aggressive inside play, the Chelsea Bulldog varsity girls basketball team is poised to make a run at the Southeastern Conference title this season.

Coach Rahn Rosentreter is optimistic his team can compete with Dexter and Tecumseh, who he said should provide the best competition in the league. Chelsea has no 25-point scorers but should be a solid team from top to bottom.

The Bulldogs' leading scorer in 1987, Heather Neibauer, is back, as are inside players Allison Brown and Jenni Smith. Neibauer and Smith are the team captains. Guard Kelly Scott, who has been shooting three-point jumpers with accuracy in practice, also returns. Those four are certain starters.

"I have really been impressed with Jenni's leadership and this is the year she should start to realize what her abilities are and come into her own," Rosentreter said.

"And Heather is Heather. She wants to win and is very competitive."

Brown, a third-year junior, will also be a key.

"Allison is a lot more confident," Rosentreter said of the team's leading rebounder from a year ago.

"She has to be the big person in the middle on both ends of the floor."

Last year team defense and dominant rebounding kept the Bulldogs in most games. They finished 13-10 and 6-6 in the league. Rosentreter also used his patented slow-down style of play on offense. And the Bulldogs didn't score many points.

This year, however, Rosentreter said the Bulldogs will push the ball up court more often.

"We're going to try to do a little running," Rosentreter said.

"Our big girls run well and Heather runs well, but when you get into a transition game you can lose control of what you're trying to accomplish. It takes discipline to see what's there and what isn't. I think we have the maturity to do that."

Rosentreter said he's also confident of his team's ability to shoot the short jumper, which hasn't always been the case.

The 1988 Bulldogs will also play more man-to-man defense because Smith and Brown have shown they can read offenses and adapt quickly.

Either senior Laura Unterbrink or sophomore Carrie Flintoff will likely be the fifth starter. Other members of the team include seniors Lisa Unterbrink, Shannon Losey, and Juniors Scharme Petty and Tiffany Moore. Petty and Losey are likely to fill in for Brown and Smith when they need a breather.

Chelsea opens the season tomorrow at Adrian.

The first legislation prohibiting the employment of women in coal mines was in Illinois in 1879, according to the U. S. Labor Department.

Run to Fair Results in Good Times

Chelsea Recreation Council in cooperation with the University of Michigan Family Practice Center, sponsored their sixth annual Fun Run to the Fair on Saturday, Aug. 27. There were 100 or so registered participants and many supportive parents and a small cheering section.

There were three events, a one mile run/walk, a three mile run/walk and a five mile run. The course originates at the Family Practice Center and terminates on the fairgrounds. Many of the medical and support personnel from the center act as traffic directors, direction givers, refreshment distributors and many compete as runners or walkers.

Kate Jones and Kathy Frisinger from the Family Practice Center, took over this year for seasoned Peg Campbell who had to be away during the final preparations. Keith Bloomensaat, Brian Gunderson of the Recreation Council with the help of Ted and Marge Wilson were responsible for planning and marking the route and for the operation of the timing and recording equipment at the finish line.

Both the Recreation Council and the Family Practice Center personnel feel this is a worthwhile effort to focus attention on the benefits of exercise in maintaining a healthy life style. There is a great deal of effort expended in the project that attracts people from as far as Livonia, Brighton, Plymouth as well as competitors from nearby Ann Arbor.

As is evident from the results listed below, there were some very able runners competing in this race. It is difficult to plan a route that does not include a lot of turns, and even under those conditions the results were impressive. Those runners who are not competitive from a time standpoint, were happy to have completed the course in respectable time and to be out on a perfect 60 degree running morning.

CHELSEA POLICE CHIEF LENARD McDOUGALL took his turn in the dunk tank last Friday evening at the fair. McDougall spent a lot of time in the water as his appearance seemed to attract the sharpshooters of Chelsea.

Fall Pool Hours Set

Fall schedule for the Cameron Pool has been set by the Community Education Department. Open swims will be held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8-9 p.m. and Saturday from 2:30-4 p.m. Adult only swims are Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8-8:50 a.m. and 9-10 p.m. 50-and-over swims will be Saturday from 1-2 p.m. Cost is $1 per person and $3 per family. An adult must attend for family rates. 50-and-over swims are free.

Brian Gunderson Aces No. 5 Hole on Inverness Course

Brian Gunderson scored a hole-in-one at the Inverness Country Club golf course in Gregory. Gunderson used a seven-iron to ace the ball across 155 yards into the number five hole. Witnesses were Gunderson's brother, Dave, sister-in-law, Pat and son, Gavin. The lucky golfer was awarded a certificate, wallet and golf bag tag by the shop as the fourth person to score a hole-in-one on the Inverness course this season.

Swim Fans Can Meet New Coaches

The community is invited to meet David Jolly, the new varsity swimming coach, and Jennifer Jelinek, the new pool manager and Chelsea Aquatic Club coach, next Thursday, Sept. 1 at Beach Middle school. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the large group instruction room.

President Asked Tough Questions By Ladies Day Audience at Fair

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite was on the spot last Friday as women in the Chelsea Community Fair Ladies Day audience fired questions at him about a variety of topics. Satterthwaite was a guest during "The June Wilson Show," a mock talk show.

"I was wondering if anyone would ask any questions, but I guess I didn't need to worry about that," Satterthwaite said after the program.

More than a dozen questions were asked in the 10 minutes allotted for the segment. Satterthwaite stood on stage with a microphone.

Women in the audience asked questions as Wilson carried a microphone around in the style of television talk show host Phil Donahue.

Satterthwaite revealed for the first time that it appears the village and Department of Natural Resources have finally produced a landfill consent agreement that both sides will sign. Once the agreement is signed, the village will obtain a new landfill operating license.

"It should be signed next week," Satterthwaite said when asked when the village and DNR would "stop wrestling over legalities."

"We were down to one word in the agreement and I think that one word has been resolved."

Other questions from the program, and Satterthwaite's answers, follow.

"Why does it take three years to have a sidewalk repaired?"

"We take that on a priority basis. It is based on the money available. We're trying."

"When will we finally have a recycling center?"

"Hopefully this fall. The county was supposed to have that in place in March."

"What are the future plans for parking downtown?"

"We're finalizing an agreement with Chelsea Milling for a lot behind the fire station. There'll be some additional parking in the main lot where the two houses are that we bought for the village hall."

"How come there is no handicap parking downtown?"

"The Downtown Development Authority parking program will address that. One of the hard parts is where do you put them in relation to the downtown. We're not under any mandate, but it's something we have to work on."

"Why don't we get rid of the parking meters?"

"Our's are an institution. Where else can you go where it only costs a dime?"

"Is it possible to have an area set aside for skateboarders?"

"I don't know. It hasn't been addressed."

"I live by the landfill and the county told me to stop drinking my water. How does a Mom living out in the country define what clean water is?"

"That's a problem we've had all along. If you take three water samples to three different labs you'll get three different results. The drinking water is something the agreement deals with."

"What is the possibility of having traffic lights at the two hospital drives?"

"Slim to none. M-52 is a state highway and we have little control over it."

"Has the village ever considered a youth center for young children?"

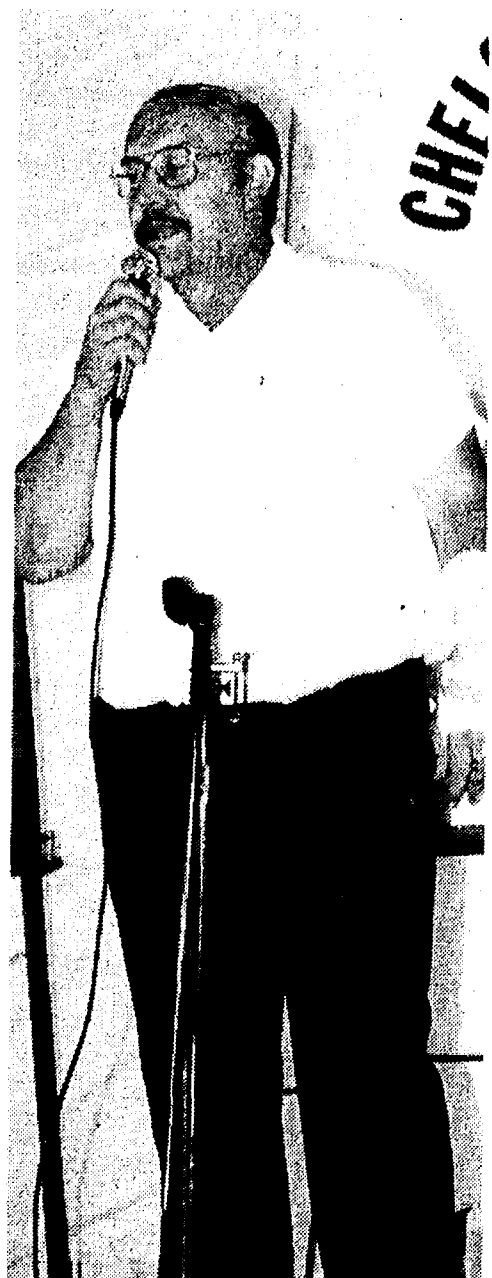

"It's something Chelsea has needed for years. But I don't feel it's a government function. That should be a project for a civic organization."

"What about pedestrian crossing lights downtown?"

"It's been proposed and it's supposed to have been done by the state. I hope when they work on M-52 after the fair's over that they put them in."

"There are speeders going 45 miles per hour down the side streets where children play. What can be done?"

"Contact the police department."

VILLAGE PRESIDENT Jerry Satterthwaite answered questions like a pro during Ladies Day activities at the fair. Women fired questions about a variety of topics concerning village residents.

PSYCHIC Sarah Norvich answered questions about the future at Ladies Day. Women mostly asked personal questions about the lives of their loved ones. Norvich left quickly after her portion of the program was through.

Fall Tree Seedling Sale Announced

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District has announced the District's annual Fall Tree Seedling Sale.

Purpose of the tree sale is to offer landowners seedlings for conservation uses which include reforestation, soil erosion control, wildlife habitat, windbreaks, and aesthetic purposes.

Six species will be available: Austrian Pine, White Pine, Blue Spruce, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, and Douglas Fir. Also, available will be tree planting bars, a sturdy tool for planting seedlings. Orders with payment in full will be accepted until Friday, Sept. 30. Trees may be picked-up on Wednesday, Oct. 5 and Thursday, Oct. 6, at the Soil Conservation District Office, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

For more information and to obtain order forms, contact the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, 1/2 mile west of Zeeb Rd., telephone (313) 761-6721.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I have a problem balancing my income to my growing expenses. I have been retired five years and I thought I had a good income when I retired, but my expenses keep creeping up and I can see how, in three or four more years I'm going to have to curtail my way of living if I don't increase my income. I have a pension from my employer and I have Social Security. I have a $50,000 Annuity and I have $400,000 in one year CD's. One of my problems is that the earnings rate on my CD's has come down. I've recently been getting 6 3/4%. Would you have any suggestions for me? I am concerned about safety.

A. Your current emphasis seems to have been strongly on safety and there is nothing wrong with that. One thing you might do is keep just $100,000 of your CD's in one year certificates and put the balance in longer term certificates. This would raise your rate of return. The only problem with such an investment, however, is there would be no continuing increase in earnings, and when they have to be renewed, there is no telling whether the interest rate would be higher or lower.

Another thing you could do is put quite a bit of that money in good quality long term corporate bonds. That would increase your rate of return and would probably extend the time period for the higher rate of return you would obtain.

If you can live with a little less safety, I would suggest you start to move about $200,000 into some good grade utilities with a good return and prospects of both an increasing dividend and some appreciation. I am sending you a copy of Better Investing which has a stock selection each month called "High Yield and Progress" which is especially chosen for retirees. The idea is to provide a stock which not only pays a good current dividend, but which also seems to have prospects of that dividend being increased regularly and the price of the stock also advancing.

The stock this month seems like one that should meet your need. It is Indiana Energy, Inc. It distributes gas in northern Indiana to individuals, commercial and industrial customers and also transports gas for others through its pipeline facilities. The stock recently sold for $30 1/4. It pays $2.14 annually for a yield of 7%. Some analysts estimate it will earn $3.40 in 1988 compared with $2.58 last year.

The Value Line service estimates that in five years the company will have increased earnings to $4 a share and its price might increase to between 35 and 45.

There is more risk in that company than in your CD's but the chance for an increase in income at a rate equal to or greater than inflation is good. Spreading a portion of your money over five or six companies with the same investment characteristics just might solve your problem.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments but will answer them only through this column. Readers who send in questions on a general investment subject or on a corporation with broad investor interest and whose questions are used, will receive a complimentary one-year's subscription to the investment magazine Better Investing.

CHELSEA PARADE MARSHAL for 1988 was Martin Steinbach, a long-time contributor of time and energy to the Chelsea Community Fair. With him is his wife. Cooler temperatures made it a pleasant day for everyone in the parade.

HONORARY CO-CHAIRS of the 1988 Chelsea United Way Campaign are Jack and Mary Ann Merkel of Chelsea. The co-chairs made a handsome couple as they rode in this convertible donated by Chrysler Proving Grounds.

GRAND CHAMPION PEN of lambs was raised by Aaron VanNatter, center, and purchased by Harold Trinkle, right. VanNatter had grand champs in both categories this year.

JOHN BOULLION, BIDDING FOR BOULLION SALES, paid $2.50 per pound for the Grand Champion Goat sold by Thomas McMurray of Chelsea at the 4-H Livestock Auction during the Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show, "Stairway to the Future," held at the Saline Farm Council Grounds, July 26-28. Keith Weidmayer and Jill Sherrill, selected 1988 king and queen, are pictured with Boullion.

CARL SCHNEIDER, son of Stephen and Jan, sold his Reserve Champion hog to Honegger's, Inc. at last Thursday's Livestock Auction. Right is fair queen candidate Jennifer Bennett. Center is Honegger's manager Jerry Heydlauff.

AARON VANNATTER had this year's Grand Champion Individual lamb at the Chelsea Community Fair. Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, represented by Gloria Mitchell, center, purchased the animal at $7.25 per pound.

THE ACTION WAS FAST AND FURIOUS as children searched for pennies and nickels in a pile of wood shavings during Kids Day events last Tuesday at the fair. It was one of the many events designed especially for children.

THEY'RE OFF in one of several heats of sack races during Kids Day last Tuesday at the fair. The races were made even more interesting than usual due to the mud created by heavy rain earlier in the day. Fortunately, the weather cleared up just in time for the Children's Parade and the Kids Day events.

Choosing Your Fitness Program

During the Fall months, everyone wants to stay in shape after being active all summer long. People flock to fitness clubs searching for qualified programs that work.

"Even though joining an organized fitness program is an excellent way to get professional supervision," according to Peg Skelton, a health and fitness consultant "many things need to be considered before a person starts any type of exercise program."

One of the most important things is the staff at the facility which you plan to join. Do the instructors seem genuinely concerned with your needs and progress? Are the members friendly and sociable? Can you see yourself spending at least two, three, possibly four hours in this facility?

Skelton, advises consumers to find a location which will allow you to pay by the session or by the month, this seems to keep a facility interested in their members' progress, and safeguards your hard-earned money. Most importantly choose a fitness program for its value not just its price tag. Make fitness part of your daily lifestyle.

It's your life, make it the best you can!

Hospital Offers Course Dealing With Aging Parents

Are you concerned about understanding and coping with your aging parents? Chelsea Community Hospital is offering a six-session course to help deal with concerns faced by adults with aging parents. This course is entitled "As Parents Grow Older." Discussion topics include: Understanding Psychological Aspects of Aging, Coping with Chronic Diseases, Communicating with Parents, Making Decisions about Living Arrangements, Using Community Resources, and Dealing with Feelings about Aging and Aging Relatives.

This course will be held at Chelsea Community Hospital Social Work Group Room, 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday evenings beginning Sept. 14 and continuing through Oct. 19.

Blight Inspector, Stidham—9 new, 12 closed.

Zoning Board of Appeals, Drolett—Aug. 16. Robertson hearing denied.

Health Dept., Smith—4 Dexter Township cases. Next meeting Aug. 26, 1988.

Moved by Doletzky, supported by Smith, to pay the bills as submitted. Carried.

Moved by Eisenbeiser, supported by Knight to approve the private road application for Huron Creek Drive, 2,250 feet long. The extension above 1,000 feet is approved with the following conditions:

- 1) A bituminous surface.
- 2) A maintenance agreement recorded.
- 3) No additional property provided access by road.
- 4) The road is clearly marked private.
- 5) Completion of the cul-de-sac on Alice Hill Dr. Carried.

Moved by Eisenbeiser, supported by Knight, to approve the final plat of North Lake Downs Subdivision. Lots 1-19. Carried.

Moved by Eisenbeiser, supported by Smith, to accept the letter of credit for the paving of South Hayrake Hollow and Green Court and allow the issuance of zoning permits. The road to be completed and accepted by the Road Commission by July 1, 1989. Permits to be issued upon the receipt of a maintenance agreement. Carried.

Moved by Doletzky, supported by Knight, to give tentative approval of the preliminary plat of North Lake Downs, II, Lots 20-39. Carried.

Moved by Smith, supported by Knight, to approve a resolution requesting denial of a permit to disturb wetlands as requested in application No. 88-13-296W. Carried.

Whereas, No Site Plan has been presented by Mr. Dombrowski, 10122 Stinchfield Woods Road, concerning future plans for construction, road improvements, lagoon, etc., related to permit application 88-13-296W (1979 PA 203) Goemaere-Anderson Wetland Protection Act:

Whereas, that any further elimination of wetlands by filling, dredging to provide additional use of the Huron River System will negatively affect private and public enjoyment of all concerned;

Therefore Be It Resolved that Dexter Township Requests a denial of Permit Application 88-13-296W dated June 14, 1988.

Moved by Doletzky, supported by Knight, to adopt a resolution supporting Ann Arbor's Grant Proposal to the Michigan Resources Recovery Implementation Program. Carried.

Moved by Eisenbeiser, supported by Knight, to adjourn the meeting. Carried.

Meeting adjourned.
Respectfully submitted,
William Eisenbeiser
Dexter Township Clerk.

Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship Elects Leadership for '88

Last spring, elections were held by the Chelsea Area Ministerial Fellowship. The new chairperson will be the Rev. Jerry Parker who will be taking over leadership from the Rev. Ron Smeenge. Vice-chair will continue to be the Rev. Chuck Clemons. Also continuing will be the treasurer, the Rev. Kathy Batell. Newly elected as the group's secretary will be the Rev. Mark Weirauch.

Monthly breakfast meetings are held, usually at the area churches, but also at Cassidy Lake, the Chelsea schools and the Community Hospital. With a good sense of unity and co-operation, the group promotes activities, and sponsors joint worship events for all interested persons.

New this year in October will be a CROP walk to raise funds for World Hunger. A portion of what is raised will come back to our own community.

Policy on Letters to the Editor

The Chelsea Standard welcomes letters to the editor on subjects of interest to our readers. Letters must be legible and space limitations may dictate when and if a letter will be published; short letters are most likely to be chosen for publication. The use of any material is at the discretion of the editor. The editor reserves the right to edit or refuse letters to meet space requirements, clarity or to avoid obscenity, libel or invasion of privacy. All letters must bear the handwritten signature of the writer and include the address and phone number(s) for verification purposes (these, will not be printed). The writer's name will be withheld only for extraordinary reasons. Letters published do not necessarily reflect the editorial policies or beliefs of this newspaper.

North School Likely To Be Annexed By Village

Chelsea School District has asked to have North Elementary school annexed by the village.

The issue was tabled at the Aug. 16 village council meeting.

However, Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said the request would probably be approved in return for a sewer easement across the property.

A previous request to have the school annexed failed.

"I don't think there will be any problem," Satterthwaite said.

According to assistant superintendent Fred Mills, the school district wants the village police protection as well as the ability to use the village's cable television service for educational material. Technically, the school is policed by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, although village police do respond to calls. There is also no cable television available in Lyndon township.

The school receives its electricity and water from the village, and sewage is treated at the village wastewater plant.

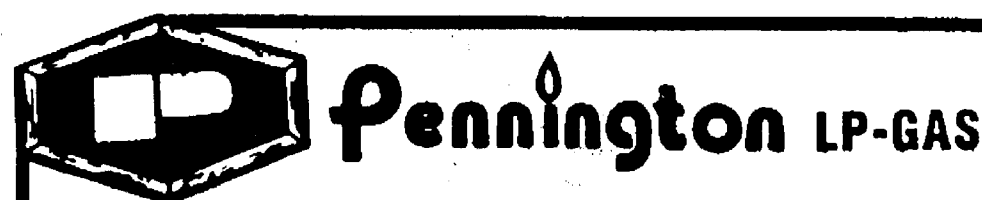

Once the village approves the request, the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners will make a ruling.

Car Robbed While Owner Attends Fair

A Hayes St. resident reported that someone stole a battery, exhaust manifold, and a set of spark plugs from his car while it was parked on Gene Dr. on Tuesday, Aug. 23.

The resident returned to his car after attending the fair and couldn't get it started. He noticed that the manifold and spark plugs, which were inside the car, had been taken.

A battery had been removed from under the hood as well.

Writing New Farm Bill, Environmental Issues Are Challenges

Now is the time to begin thinking about the shape of the 1990 farm bill, American Farm Bureau Washington lobbyist Mary Kay Thatcher told farmers attending the Michigan Farm Bureau's state-wide policy development conference held this week in Lansing. Thatcher listed the new farm bill as one of the major issues facing agriculture in the year ahead.

"A lot of people are feeling like writing the 1985 farm bill is just over, but hearings will start next year on concepts to be included in a new bill," Thatcher said. "There's even some possibility that by late 1989, Congress may be writing the 1990 farm bill a year early."

Thatcher said she does not believe that Congress will try to tackle a farm bill rewrite during 1988, an election year. Farm Bureau believes a new farm bill should not be written until the severity of the drought is over, she said.

Conservation and environmental issues also top the list of challenges farmers must address in 1989, Thatcher said, and warned that powerful, well organized and well financed special interest groups will be lobbying for legislation that could have a negative impact on agriculture.

KATIE STEELE led the Chelsea Baton Corps in Saturday's Chelsea fair parade. The young lady showed her skill with two batons.

Ombudsman Named For SSC Commission

Michelyn E. Pasteur has been named by Michigan Commerce director Doug Ross as the ombudsman for the state Superconducting Super Collider (SSC) Commission.

Pasteur will remain in her present position as director of the Bureau of Local Development Services at the Commerce Department while assuming the additional responsibility as a trouble-shooter for the property owners and residents of the 16,000-acre area to be affected by the SSC project if it is built in Michigan.

Michigan is one of seven states still competing for the site of the massive, high-energy particle accelerator that the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) wants to build as the largest and most powerful basic physics research tool of its kind in the world. The DOE is expected to announce in late November its preferred site.

The 53-mile SSC accelerator tunnel will pass under more than 900 parcels of privately owned land in southern Ingham and northern Jackson counties in south-central Michigan. Under criteria set forth by the DOE, the winning state must turn over title to this property to the federal government beginning in early 1990. About half the land needed for the project will be "fee simple estate" where surface as well as underground rights are needed for the tunnel and for campus buildings, access roads and experimental halls. The remainder will involve the purchase of "stratified fee" rights where a subterranean slice is needed for the tunnel to pass under homes and farms which can remain where they stand today.

Ross' appointment of Pasteur fulfilled a requirement included in recent state legislation (Section 21, Act 274 of 1988) authorizing the SSC Commission to begin acquiring options to purchase property for the project if Michigan wins the competition for the accelerator.

John Haneski, executive director of the Michigan SSC Commission, said he was delighted with the selection of Pasteur.

"I have had a long and excellent working relationship with Ms. Pasteur on a number of economic development projects undertaken by the Commerce Department in recent years," Haneski said. "I am looking forward to working with her during the complicated property acquisition process. Mrs. Pasteur will be an excellent arbitrator in the event that anyone whose land may be affected by this project has questions or concerns about the acquisition activities," Haneski said.

Pasteur earned a bachelor's degree in economics and a master's of labor and industrial relations from Michigan State University. She is former executive director of the Grand Rapids Area Employment and Training Council (GRAETC), chief planning officer for the city of Grand Rapids, Human Resources representative for the state Executive Office, and Lansing Community College social science instructor. Her areas of expertise include government/business relations, labor relations and negotiations.

MichCon Offers Special Programs for Seniors

Senior citizen status merits special privileges at Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. More than 4,000 senior customers in the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti service area are enrolled in MichCon programs to get the most out of their natural gas service.

"More customers will turn 65 this year. We would like those seniors, as well as other customers who are eligible and not enrolled in the senior programs, to contact MichCon," said James Brewer, MichCon vice-president, customer and account services.

Senior customers, who are 65 or older and heads of households, receive a 50 percent discount on labor charges for gas appliance repair, performed by MichCon. Seniors are exempt from two percent late bill payment charges and protected against gas shutoff during the winter months, should they fall behind in bill payments.

MichCon customers, 65 or older who fall within low-income guidelines, also may be eligible for a special rate. This rate offers a savings of $48 annually on gas bills.

To apply for "senior status," customers may stop at the MichCon business office, 4641 Washtenaw, in Pittsfield township and complete an application form. They will need to show proof of age, such as a driver's license, birth certificate or state ID card.

Customers also may apply for "senior status" through the mail. Call the MichCon customer service number listed on the gas bill and request an application form to be mailed. Upon receipt of the form, provide the information requested along with proof of age and mail to MichCon, Customer Correspondence, Box 140, Detroit, 48269-0140.

In addition to proof of age, a customer applying for the special senior citizen's rate must show proof of income.

The first state legislation requiring factory safeguards was in 1877 in Massachusetts, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Forages for Sale Listed By County Extension Offices

Farmers who have hay, straw or silage for sale may find a ready market through their county Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service office.

Using an electronic network that links all county extension offices with the MSU campus, "Haymarket" lists sellers of forage by location and phone number.

The "Haymarket" listing carries information about the kind of hay.

RON SCHUYLER

KIM CARPENTER

MATT VILLEMURE

AWARD WINNING SERVICE DEPARTMENT - 222 S. MAIN ST., CHELSEA

Because we offer the free Lifetime Service Guarantee on car repairs, make our jobs in service a little tougher. I have to make sure car repairs are done right the first time. Because if they're not, it's our problem, not yours.

Here's how the Lifetime Service Guarantee works. If you pay for any covered repair and it has to be done again, we fix it free. That's free parts and free labor. For as long as you own your Ford, Lincoln, Mercury, or Ford light truck.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee covers thousands of parts and repairs. And it doesn't matter how old your vehicle is, how many miles are on it, or even where you bought it. Add all this up and you've got the best car repair guarantee in America.

Ask us to see a copy of the Lifetime Service Guarantee. Then give us a chance to turn our guarantee into a lifetime reality.

As part of Ford Motor Company's commitment to your total satisfaction, we stand behind our repair work in writing with a free Lifetime Service Guarantee. And it's available only from participating Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers. No other car companies' dealers, foreign or domestic, offer this kind of security—nobody. Ask us to see a copy of the Lifetime Service Guarantee.

Child Day Care Center Opening in Stockbridge

As a result of two years of community effort, village of Stockbridge will have a 52-child capacity day care center this fall in the basement of the United Methodist Church on Elizabeth St. The village has not previously had a day care center on this scale, said village spokesperson Margaret Wild. Plans are also in the works for expanding the village library.

So far, 20 pre-school age and 14 "latch-key" or school-age children have enrolled. Space is still available.

Members of the church's "children center" board, Rhoda McVay, Don House and Eva Lou Miller, joined forces to enroll the children, retille the basement floor, clean the carpeting, paint, install a new refrigerator in the formerly dormant kitchen, and ensure that the center met fire and health codes, said Mary Antonelli, who was hired to be the center's director.

Antonelli, a resident of Okemos, is a certified elementary teacher and has major in child development. Pre-school-age children will follow a "kindergarten readiness" curriculum, "learning skills through play" by rotating through about five different divided activity areas. They will also participate in group activities.

Diversions such as art, movies, field trips and parties will occupy the latch-key children. Books, video and board games will also be available.

Janet Raymond, who has an associate's degree in art from Northern Michigan University, will assist Antonelli full time. Laurinda Jones, an MSU elementary student, and Bev Showerman, who has taken child development classes, will work as part-time aids. Sue Beauregard, of Gregory, has been hired to cook part time.

Antonelli graduated in 1986 and worked for two years as an education co-ordinator at a migrant head start office that facilitated 11 state area day care centers.

Plans are also budding to expand the 1,500-square-foot (a little larger than a one-bedroom apartment) village library, according to head librarian Marsi McClear. A grant of $4,000 was just received by the library from Community Chest. "We've gotten a shot in the arm already," McClear said.

During the first week of September, a group called the Friends of the Library, formed to organize fund raising, will meet to develop a long-term plan. The group was told no funds were available when they applied to the township board about a month ago.

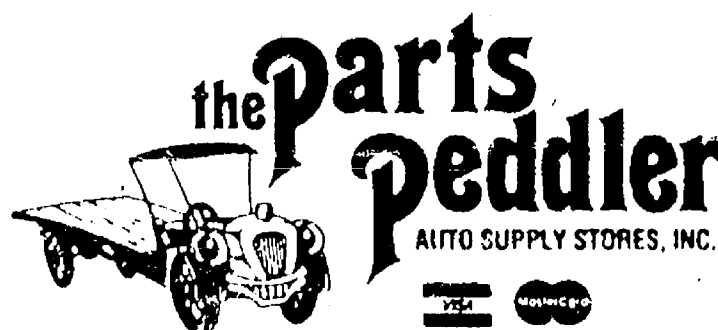

"They said to see what the community interest is and that we might try to pass a millage election in two or three years," McClear said. "But with the way millage is passing around here, that's not too likely."

McClear said that she realized more room was needed at the library when she first hired in two years ago.

Tri Kids Youth Triathlon Benefits Arthritis Foundation

Parents trying to encourage daily exercise and good nutrition brought their children to Fuller Pool in Ann Arbor on Aug. 28 to participate in the first Ann Arbor Tri Kids youth triathlon. The event began at 8 a.m. for youth between the ages of 7 and 14.

Juniors (7-10) ran 1 km (.621 mile), biked 2 km and swam 100 meters. Seniors (11-14) doubled those distances and competed in a separate race beginning at 9 a.m. All participants received finisher awards, t-shirts and feasted on Domino's Pizza.

Tri Kids is organized as a promotion for the Arthritis Foundation and is produced in co-operation with the Ann Arbor Department of Parks and Recreation. If you have any questions call Karen McKeachie at 662-4226 or Colleen O'Neill at 475-8191.

Dexter kids who participated in the event are Stacy Keppler and her brother Tim Keppler, Corey Smith 10, and brother Kyle Smith 7, and David Messner 9.
