ONE HUNDRED-EIGHTEENTH YEAR—No. 20

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1988

24 Pages This Week

ROAD WORK on M-52 continued through the center of town last week and this week as state workers milled asphalt down to the road's concrete base. The village looked like a ghost town as no parking was permitted on the streets and often no traffic was allowed through town. The project is supposed to be finished by Nov. 15.

A ROTATING METAL BRUSH is used to mill off old asphalt on Main St. as the state is preparing to put down a new blacktop surface from Chelsea Community Hospital on the south to Sibley Rd. on the north. The work has caused traffic back-ups in both directions. The village is scheduled to begin the same kind of work on both E. and W. Middle Sts. this week.

Lima Township Physician Says Proposed Subdivision Could Be Health Threat

A Lima township physician says plans for a 53-acre subdivision off Old US-12 are ill-conceived and the subdivision itself could pose a health threat for its inhabitants as well as its neighbors.

Dr. Carol Steffenson, who was asked to chair a task force to study the township's long range development plan, wants the township to take a close look at plans submitted by Harris Homes Development Corp. for a 20-home subdivision between Old US-12 and Trinkle Rd. east of Harper Dr. The township has already granted the developers a change in zoning. 20.2 acres have been zoned suburban residential (although developers agreed to put one home on two acres rather than one) and 32.8 acres have been designated rural residential, or one home on three acres.

Steffenson, a psychiatrist by trade and a medical doctor by training, has gathered a number of documents related to the subdivision, called Upland Hills. She says the new zoning does not conform to the township's long-range plans, as it swaps out some rural residential for suburban residential land.

But her primary concern is possible well-pollution caused by the type of land in the site and the fact that septic systems will be used.

According to the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission, "90 percent of the site is covered with a first priority wetland and a groundwater recharge area. Both are highly sensitive to pollution."

A groundwater recharge area has natural conduits to the main aquifer underground. That makes polluting the water much easier than in other areas.

"Health department regulations are based on coliform [intestinal] bacteria," Steffenson says.

"They say it takes 75 feet to clean out coliform bacteria. That's why they require 100 feet between a septic field and well. The problem is that viruses can travel hundreds of feet before they're cleaned out. And chemicals can travel even farther. If they get into the aquifer, they could pollute wells and no one would know it. No one would know if there were viruses in the morning orange juice. I've seen the site plan and I think it is socially irresponsible and unintelligent."

Steffenson says, for example, that someone sick with hepatitis gets rid of (Continued on page six)

Village Council Begins Condemnation Process For Sewer Line Easement

Village of Chelsea and Art and Ruth Dils will apparently slug it out in court over the value of an easement for a sanitary sewer line the village wants to construct.

On Tuesday, Oct. 4 village council voted unanimously, with the exception of two abstentions, to condemn the Dils' land for the purpose of taking a 30' easement for the sewer. The land is just south of the Dils' N. Main St. home. The suit will be filed in circuit court.

Two hearings will be held—one to determine the public necessity and another to determine the easement value, according to assistant village manager Lee Fahrner. If the court deems the easement is a public necessity, the village can begin construction immediately.

Council took the action because the two sides can't agree on a value for the easement. A village appraisal pegged the value at $2,500. The landowners want $10,000. They claim the land will be devalued by the sewer line by about $10,000. However, as of the council meeting, they had not submitted a written appraisal to the village showing that figure, according to village attorney Peter Flintoff.

"My advice to the council is to put aside the consideration of compensation," Flintoff told the council shortly before the vote.

"That will be determined by the court. (The Dilses) are entitled to full and just compensation. They just don't agree with the figure, and that's their right. The question before you is whether or not there's a public necessity at this time to take an easement for that purpose."

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said he doesn't think the village has any alternative.

"We have to do something," he said.

"People are going to have sewage in their basement if we try to force the sewage down that old main. It wasn't designed to handle it. We're having back-up problems now in peak periods."

According to Fahrner, the project will be considerably more expensive if the force main is re-routed. He said if the line is changed to go through a neighboring piece of property owned by the Lane family, a power pole would have to be moved at a cost of $10,000, and an additional 50' of casing would cost another $10,000. On top of that, the village would still need an easement across part of Dils' property. The project would be even more expensive if it is routed down Dewey St. and McKinley St., where road or sidewalk would have to be torn up and replaced.

"It just makes sense to take the least costly route," Fahrner said.

Fahrner said the current bid price for the project, which came in below engineering estimates, will be good until Dec. 1.

The sewer project is necessary because of growth in the southern end of the village, in particular Chelsea Shopping Center and Bridgetown Condominiums. In addition, other projects have been proposed for the area, including two housing projects off Gene Dr., and Village Mall, next to Polly's Market.

Chelsea School District has already granted an easement across the North Elementary school playground. North school is at the back of the Dils property.

The village also voted to pay $2,500 to Dave Reid for an easement on his McKinley St. property for the same sewer line.

Other easements necessary for the project run across land near Gene Dr. owned by Curt Farley and Art Machnik, and the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds.

According to Fahrner, an appraisal indicated the values of the Farley and Machnik properties would increase with a sewer line on them, so the value of an easement is $0.

The village has also agreed to work with the fair board to re-route a sanitary sewer line easement so it will run parallel to a new storm drain mandated by the county.

"They're concerned because there's kind of a no-mans-land between the easements," Fahrner said.

DDA Parking Plan Set As Village Council Votes To Give and Loan Money

Resolutions to establish and pay for a new parking plan in Chelsea were passed by Chelsea Village Council on Tuesday, Oct. 4.

Downtown Development Authority will receive $28,000 from the village's parking meter fund, and $47,000 from the electric fund to help pay for their proposed $75,000 parking project.

Money from the electrical fund would be paid back, with interest, in six years or less. Pay-back money would come from the DDA's two mill special assessment on downtown businesses and from its first tax increment financed bond issue.

In addition, the village agreed to pay the DDA additional installments of $28,000 from the parking meter fund, "as the need arises," according to the resolution. That money can only be used for the parking program.

The centerpiece of the new program is a new long-term lot that will be built behind the Chelsea Fire Department on W. Middle St. on land owned by Chelsea Milling Co. The lot is scheduled to hold about 60 spaces, primarily for employees of downtown businesses and people on courthouse business.

According to assistant village manager Lee Fahrner, it's doubtful a survey, design, and bids can be completed in time to have a paved lot this year. However, he said a temporary lot is a possibility.

"Just finding someone to survey the land is a problem," he said.

"All the surveyors are so busy."

In addition, blacktoppers generally stop in mid-November.

The resolution also established short-term parking in several areas, as well as fines for violations. The plan for short-term parking will not take effect until the new long-term lot is constructed.

In the Municipal Parking Lot, 25-short term spaces would be (Continued on page four)

Landfill Is Operating Despite No License

Village of Chelsea is operating its landfill without a license, and legally, according to village administration.

Department of Natural Resources refused to grant a fifth landfill license extension, and has also refused to grant a new license until a few details are ironed out, according to assistant village manager Lee Fahrner.

The fourth extension expired last Friday.

The village is waiting for the DNR to approve its pollution tracing system for the new landfill cell. The biggest missing piece of the puzzle, Fahrner said, is the result of a groundwater test. The new tracing system will apparently use bromides as one of the tracing chemicals. The water test is to confirm there are no naturally occurring bromides in the area that would give a groundwater test false results.

In the meantime, Fahrner said, the village attorney has advised that the landfill can be operated for 60 days while an administrative appeal is filed.

"I imagine I'll be working on this after I leave," Fahrner said. Fahrner's last day on the job is Friday, Oct. 21.

CHELSEA SENIOR CITIZENS gave the first portion of a $20,000 pledge toward the construction of the Faith in Action/Senior Citizen Center on Chelsea Community Hospital grounds. Presenting the $10,000 check is Armilla Reule, president of the Chelsea Senior Citizens organization.

Accepting the money on behalf of Faith in Action are the Rev. Jerrold Beaumont, president, left, and Doug Dault, chairman of the board and director of social work at Chelsea Community Hospital. In back are some of the senior citizens who stand to benefit from the new facility.

United Way Campaign Reports Steady Progress

The 1988 Chelsea United Way Campaign is progressing steadily to its goal of $77,000. "Chelsea residents, industries, businesses, professionals and organizations continue to respond in helping this important campaign meet its goal," said Pat Kubany, campaign chair.

As part of a continuing series during the 1988 campaign, various agencies are featured each week. This week's features are Faith in Action and the Visiting Nurse Association of Huron Valley.

Faith in Action . . .

Faith in Action, Inc., a non-profit, tax exempt community-based organization and a Chelsea United Way Agency is deeply committed to its founding ideal, that of returning the support given by the community back to the community by serving those among us who are in need.

It has grown from two volunteers to more than 50 volunteers and three part-time workers. All of this has been made possible solely because of the excellent support from all of the community both in terms of finance and volunteers.

Residents of Chelsea and the surrounding area have been able to receive food, clothing, financial assistance, transportation, referrals, advocacy, free health clinic and family support. In addition to the immediate serving of personal and family needs, there are several group programs available to people: Parent to Parent, Parents Anonymous, Teen/Parent, Youth/Senior, Senior Outreach and Carrier Alert.

The Carrier Alert program is a joint activity with the Chelsea Post Office and the Chelsea Rotary Club.

A new Faith in Action house is to be erected on the Chelsea Community Hospital campus in the near future and an invitation has been made to the Chelsea Senior Citizens to take up "residency" in the facility.

Blanchard Leads Final Pitch For Super Collider

Gov. James J. Blanchard, asserting Michigan's advantages over other states seeking the federal superconducting super collider project and minimizing the impact on wetlands, led a list of officials in a last public pitch for the $6 billion project.

And, the governor said all evidence indicates Michigan and Texas are the top two competitors among the seven finalist states for the project.

The occasion was a Department of Energy public hearing in Stockbridge on a draft environmental impact statement that, among other things, said 2,800 acres of wetlands would be included in the 16,000-acre site there.

After the hearing, Blanchard told reporters "If you look at the proposals and the critiques, it is obvious Texas and Michigan are finalists. I am optimistic that if the decision is made on its merits, we will prevail. But you never know what kind of political tradeoffs will be made."

He said the influence of Vice President George Bush, the Republican presidential candidate, and U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, who are both Texans, could help that state win the project, but added Michigan could muster support to block funding if the choice is "politically rigged."

The governor told the members of the DOE Site Task Force Michigan offers "enormous education and quality of life benefits" and told the Stockbridge High School gymnasium audience the project offers "clean jobs, and quality jobs for the future."

Blanchard said the environmental concerns in Michigan "are relatively minor and can be managed."

He and Natural Resources Director

David Hales said the project will directly affect only 891.9 acres of wetlands among those within the project boundaries, and they noted Michigan is the only state with federal authority to regulate its wetlands.

That impact is higher than stated last month by John Haneski, executive director of the Michigan SSC Commission, who said 620 acres would be affected and just 260 of those would be permanently disturbed.

Hales said there would be a "minimal conflict between the SSC and wetlands" and Natural Resources Director Thomas Anderson, a co-author of the state wetlands protection act, said the state would mitigate any damage that would be required.

The governor also said opposition to the 53-mile circumference facility, utilizing supercooled magnets for basic physics research, is to be expected, but said support in Michigan is greater than in the other states.

Protesters objecting to the wetlands destruction, the taking of family farms, possible radiation leaks and other changes in the Stockbridge area, carried placards and distributed materials to persons arriving at the hearing.

The DOE is to make its preliminary choice of a site after the November election, a final environmental impact statement is to be made on that site in December and President Reagan is to make the site decision in January.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I've had my three score and 10 and then some, and I'm old in everybody's book but mine. I've been thinking more lately of a doctor out our way that was old when I was a boy. He'd come by our place now and again and we'd pass a few words. Once I said I knew he'd been tending our sick more than 40 years, and I ask what was some of the changes during all that time.

The old feller thought on that, and final he said the big thing he'd noticed was that there weren't any old people around any more. I learned that old is an attitude as much as a fact of life, and I never thought of the doctor as old again. Some folks are as old as they want to feel, some are as old as they want to think, and the difference is up to us, is the way I see it.

I thought on these things Saturday night at the country store when the fellers got to Elvis Presley on the agenda. It was Bug Hookum that said he has thought the situation up one side and down the other, and he ain't been able to git a handle on the talk about Elvis walking around supermarkets and standing in hotel windows all over the country. You wonder who gains from these sightings, and who gets hurt by em, Bug said, and then you realize ordinary people are apt to see what they want to see and ignore what they can't accept. Just last month in Lubbock, Texas, Bug noted, 10,000 people went to a outdoor church service expecting a miracle and many of em saw Jesus and the Virgin Mary in the clouds. Who is to say they didn't see what they said they saw, Bug said.

Actual, Zeke Grubb said, he was more interested in Elvis on the stamp than Elvis gitting a haircut. He had saw where Elvis fans want the Postal Service to issue a Elvis stamp, but they can't agree on what kind of picture to use. Some want to mail him as the young slim king, and some want the fat middle age king. And other folks say he ought not to be on a stamp at all, since he was on drugs at the end and set a bad example for young people.

Whatever they go with, Zeke said, the issue calls to mind the image we have of famous people. For instant, nobody thinks of Benjamin Franklin as young and nobody thinks of Charles Linberg as old. Like the people that see Elvis or want to see his picture on a stamp, we all choose to see things the way we want them to be, was Zeke's words.

As fer dealing with what time does to us, Zeke said he allus liked the story of the dog chasing a deer. The dog run until the deer crossed a fox trail. The dog was gitting tired, so he figgered he'd have a better chance with the slower fox. By the time he followed the fox across a rabbit's scent the dog was pritty well pooped, so he switched and went after the easier rabbit. When the hunter final got to his barking dog he found a treed and trembling mouse.

We might have to lower our reach, Zeke said, but we don't have to lower our aim. We can admit the mouse is more our speed and still be convinced we can run with the deer.

Personal, I'm with Zeke, and I think the work we do helps keep our aim up. I saw a magazine piece recent where the newest malady to beset us is somepun called job captivity. That's when we get depressed because we convince ourselves we've waited to long to git out of a rut we had thought was a groove all these years.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Visiting Nurse Assoc. of Huron Valley . . .

Members of the Chelsea community experiencing health problems, may want or need to recuperate within the security and restfulness of their own home. Agencies such as the Visiting Nurse Association of Huron Valley, who specialize in providing health care services to persons within their own homes, enable these individuals to avoid hospitalization or return home from the hospital earlier.

Private health insurance, Medicare, or Medicaid may be available for the reimbursement of these home health services. Unfortunately, some people do not qualify for this reimbursement or have health insurance that does not cover the provision of health care in the home. Funds provided to the Visiting Nurse Association of Huron Valley by the Chelsea United Way allow these individuals to receive the home health care necessary for their recovery.

Through the generosity of Chelsea community members who contribute to United Way, the home care needs of fellow community members are being met by the Visiting Nurse Association of Huron Valley.

Woman's Club Hears of Camping Trip to Alaska

Sixteen members of the Chelsea Woman's Club met on Sept. 27 at the McKune Library.

Speaker for the evening was Millie Smith. She told of her travels through Alaska this past summer. She traveled with her daughter and son, camping all the way for about two months.

Hostesses for the evening were Joyce Vogel and Edith Hoffman.

Garden Club Plans Two More Meetings For Fall Season

Chelsea Garden Club will have two more meetings this season, on the third Wednesdays of October and November, before taking a break until next April.

In April, there will also be evening meetings (once a month) for those who are not able to attend the morning meetings.

At Oct. 19 meeting, members will make sun-catchers of press-dried flowers, baby's breath wreaths and pine cone wreaths.

At the Nov. 16 meeting, members will make different evergreen Christmas decorations.

At the September meeting, a peony plant was dug up and divided. It was stressed that each division should have three to five eyes (buds) and be planted no deeper than two inches below the soil or they may never bloom.

Doris Hammel, founder of the Garden Club, writes, "Starting the Garden Club this year took much more of my time than I realized but it was well worth it. I enjoyed meeting other gardeners and seeing their enthusiasm for gardening. The Webster Garden club attended one of our meetings and that was also enjoyable. Our meetings are very informal and our motto is: 'Learn and share what you know and grow.' I've harvested over 30 different varieties of flower seeds from my garden this summer and most will be available to anyone at the next meeting."

Hammel reports that currently the club has about 20 members. Each meeting has had one or two new members attending.

Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Carol Ransom of Stockbridge, sister-in-law of the bride; and Mrs. Kim Bulson of Chelsea, friend of the bride. They wore light pink, tea-length, strapless satin brocade dresses and carried arm bouquets of white mums and daisies.

Best man was Phil Lewis of Lansing, friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Mark Wright, the bridegroom's brother-in-law; and Bryan Clark, cousin of the bridegroom. They wore gray pin stripe tuxedos.

A reception was held for 200 guests at the Knights of Columbus in Dexter. Pattie and Roxanne Messner, sister and niece of the bride, cut the cake. The band was "Hy-Time" from Plymouth.

Special guests were: Anna Ward of Lincoln, the bridegroom's grandmother; Mrs. Roline Ransom of Holt, and Mrs. Dorothy Sheet Withenger of Charlotte, the bride's grandmothers.

The couple honeymooned for two weeks in the western states and in the Canadian Rocky Mountains before returning to their home in Gregory.

Rescuing the Populations of the Rain Forests

Jungle forests of the world, laden with treasures, are disappearing and unless their exploitation is stopped, they will all be gone in 50 years or less. With them will follow the extinction of millions of biological species—a vast inheritance of animals, birds, fish, amphibians, plants, herbs and precious microorganisms. Close to half of all species in existence live under the canopy of the rain forests, bringing us a warehouse of foods and pharmaceuticals along with rubber, bananas, coffee, nuts and the source of chocolate, cacao.

Our supply of bark from the cinchona tree is imperiled and this is the source of quinine used in the treatment of malaria. Also threatened is an Amazonian vine which is the source of curare. Once used by natives to poison the tips of arrows, curare is now employed as a muscle relaxant in surgery. The rain forests have long yielded contraceptives made from Mexican jungle yams, and a cure for Hodgkins disease has been obtained from the rosy periwinkle of Madagascar. For centuries native doctors of Indonesia, Africa and the tropical Americas have used herbs and other plants, as well as tree barks, shrubs, insects, molds and animal parts for medicinal purposes. The therapeutic value of many such jungle products has been medically recognized for centuries.

Peter Raven, director of the Missouri Botanical Garden, in an address before the 1987 meeting of the American Society for the Advancement of Science declared, "We're killing our world." His subject was, "The Global Ecosystem in Crisis," and he was there with an urgent message. Dr. Raven estimates there are about three million species of flora and fauna on earth, 500,000 of which have been recognized. Almost half of these species are destined to die as the rain forests give way to the axe and the chainsaw. With their extinction will go some of mankind's best hopes for the discovery of existing, but as yet unidentified, cures for major diseases, including cancer. The American Cancer Institute has determined that among 3,000 plants with anti-cancer properties 70 percent come from the jungles.

One cannot overlook the additional hope of cures for AIDS, Parkinson's disease and Alzheimer's disease. They may be almost within our grasp, and then be trashed in the forthcoming ecological apocalypse.

Of equal concern will be the extinction of globally important food species. There is the danger that some plants which we eat as part of our standard diet may die out from pests, disease or changes in the weather.

Harvard biologist E. O. Wilson, quoted in the Washington Spectator, offers a ray of hope. "People have utilized about 7,000 kinds of plants for food; predominant among them are wheat, rye, maize and about a dozen other highly domesticated species. Yet there are at least 75,000 edible plants in existence, and many of these are superior to the crop plants in widest use."

"Other plants are potential sources of new pharmaceuticals, fibers and petroleum substitutes. Among the insects are a number that are potentially superior as crop pollinators, control agents for weeds, and parasites and predators of insect pests."

Logging in the Jungles

Tropical forests of the earth still cover about 2.3 million square miles, a land area equal to the 48 contiguous United States. Originally the rain forests were twice that size; but unless things change, they will be gone by 2050. This is the inevitable result when human beings consume natural vegetation as though it were a renewable resource.

Industrial countries, led by lumbering firms in the United States, remove trees from 20,000 square miles of tropical forest each year. Ten trees are cut for every one that is planted in the South American river basins. In Africa 29 trees are cut for every one that is replaced.

"The clearing of tropical forests for cattle pasture is another reason for the decline of such areas," Dr. Raven notes. "The growing imports of beef by the United States from southern Mexico and Central America during the past 25 years has been the major factor in the loss of about half of the tropical forests there—all for the sake of keeping the price of a hamburger in the U.S. a nickel less than it would have been."

Another factor, he adds, is the relentless search for firewood by 1.5 billion people, almost one-third of all the people on earth. They are cutting and burning the wood faster than it can be regrown. What will they do when the kindling runs out? If Marie Antoinette were with us today she might say, "Let them burn oil."

International trade interests and the World Resources Institute are taking action and there may be hope for reforestation. Nevertheless, (1) clear cutting of the tropical trees, (2) conversion of cleared fields into grazing lands and (3) the great demands for firewood are leading to the annual destruction of forests equal to the area of Kansas.

Tropical families by the millions are being driven from the lush forests to barren patches of marginal soil. Still greater numbers of families, however, possess less than an acre of land or none at all. Virtually everyone in these regions is ignorant of modern methods of agriculture and forestry.

Despite the scarcity of food, these populations breed indiscriminately. Among some tribes, boys rape nubile girls as a sport. Magazine pictures of village scenes in these so-called developing countries often show pregnant women carrying infants in their arms while siblings sit nearby in the dust. Dr. Raven states that there are about one million more mouths to feed in sub-Saharan Africa every three weeks—a guaranteed prescription for increased human tragedy.

He goes on to say that as recently as 1950 about 45 percent of the world's people lived in the tropics. Today 55 percent of the earth's five billion inhabitants exist in the tropical sun. In a few years the population of developing countries will have doubled. At the same time in countries like the U.S., Canada, Europe and Australia there will be only one inhabitant for every five in the tropics.

Each day 100,000 men, women and children in the Third World die of starvation. That is 36 million a year. Yet, their proliferation is so great there is a net increase of 80 million people a year.

What Has to Be Done

Rescuing the people, the flora and fauna of the Third World is the most challenging job in the history of our planet. Regrettably, America is not the most eager to share in it. Recently the United States contributed $40 per capita for assistance to undeveloped countries compared to $132 given by the Norwegians, $69 by the French and $47 by the Australians.

We will get the message, along with many other nations, and in the United Nations we have a world mechanism capable of centralizing the effort.

Aside from the obvious need for wholesale economic assistance, the Third World's great shortfall is education. Programs should be established at primary and secondary levels, and with unusually early emphasis on agriculture in the rural schools. It is my belief that the teachers should be of the same ethnic origins as the people being taught. But even before natives start learning to read, they should begin with lessons in health, sanitation and acceptable methods of birth control. Distribution of the Pill should be made free to all women who will accept it.

Programs of education should be established at primary and secondary levels with early emphasis on agricultural learning in the rural schools.

Jungle logging should be brought to an immediate halt until a 100 percent reforestation program is instituted. All such efforts should be based on scientific biological guidelines.

Wherever possible, land grant programs should be instituted for farm families.

That's for a start. Please feel free to add, subtract or improve. Let's just agree on one thing: The only hope for a politically stable world is one that guarantees equal freedom and opportunity for all.

Swiss Alphorn Featured in Methodist Church Concert

Members of the Ash family will be making their North American premiere, 12-foot-long Swiss alphorn in tow.

First United Methodist church organist Loyola Ash, her son Jeffrey Ash, Jr., and his wife, Deborah Rebeck Ash, will perform in a concert from 2:15-3:15 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 16, at the Chelsea First United Methodist church. Admission is free.

Jeffrey Ash, Sr., picked up the alphorn at a cost of several thousand dollars for his son while on sabbatical at a school of dentistry in Switzerland four years ago. (Both Ash Sr. and Ash Jr. teach dentistry at the University of Michigan.)

The horn was made in the Bernese Overland mountain studio of the country's most renowned alphorn maker. It took about 18 months to make from start to finish because of the lengthy wood-curing process involved. The horn was cushioned with special wrapping and shipped in a wooden box from Switzerland, Fayola Ash recalled.

It will be Ash's first public performance in Chelsea on the horn which makes a "very soothing, low sound that fills the room," said Rebeck Ash. Ash played the long horn in a concert at Eastern Michigan University last November to a crowd which found it a "novelty," she added.

Rebeck Ash will be accompanying the alphorn on the flute. Both Ash and Rebeck Ash perform in the Plymouth Symphony.

The alphorn is much like the french horn, except that it has no valves. Ash has been playing the french horn since he was a child. Changes in pitch are made on the alphorn by changing the shape of one's lips. That's no problem for Ash, Rebeck Ash said, since he's been known to play a garden hose.

Ash reported that the instrument weighs 10 pounds, after quickly stepping on a scale with the hefty horn.

The horn rests on the floor while Ash plays it. Because it's so long, a rather large room is required to practice in.

Alphorns originate from the mountains of Switzerland. The horns were originally made in one piece from the curved trunk of a tree growing from the side of a mountain. A tree growing out from a mountain first extends straight, then curves up straight.

Ash's alphorn is made out of wood wrapped with bamboo strips. The bell is painted with a delicate design of the Swiss Alps.

The Ash family, which has been playing together for 17 years, will be premiering a piece from Switzerland entitled, "Four Miniatures for Flute, Alphorn and Organ: I. Andante, II. Allegro giocoso, III. Andante con moto, IV. Chorale" by Philip Gibbs. Rebeck Ash said she believes that the piece, which Ash Sr. got directly from a composer he met in Switzerland, has not been played outside the country of chocolate and cheese before.

Other pieces the trio will present are: "Recitative and Prayer for Alphorn and Organ" by Etienne Isoz; "Toccata from Suite for Organ, Op. 5" by Maurice Durufle; "Miracles for Flute and Organ: I. The Miracle at Cana, IV. The Miracle in the Country of the Gerasenis, V. The Miracle at the Roadside" by Daniel Pinkham. They will also play "Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor for Organ" by J. S. Bach; "Concert Variations on the Austrian Hymn" by John K. Paine; and "Four Miniatures for Flute, Alphorn and Organ: I. Andante, II. Allegro Giocoso, III. Adante Con Moto, IV. Chorale."

Small treasures: Microscopic diamonds older than the sun and the planets have been found imbedded in three different kinds of meteorites. Chemically unaltered since before the solar system was formed four and a half billion years ago, International Wildlife magazine reports that the diamonds may be the oldest particles discovered. They are so small that trillions of them could fit on the head of a pin.

QUOTES

"The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish a government presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the established government..."

—George Washington

Every "right" has a corresponding "duty." In Washington's time, the right of the people to establish and control their own government was an idea that excited everyone.

Washington warned that there was a corresponding duty for each person to obey, even if the government was not exactly as he personally might have desired. Demonstrators who "demand" unreasonable concessions fail to understand this first principle of democracy.

Physician Concerned About Plans

the virus through defecation, and the virus could easily end up in the drainfield. In turn, the virus stands a much better chance of reaching the aquifer in a groundwater recharge area. The same is true of chemicals. There's no way of knowing what kinds of chemicals a neighbor may have dumped down the toilet.

Despite Steffenson's concerns, the county planning commission concluded on June 3 that "after review of the (Harris Homes) site plan it is clear that the design of the future development takes into account the existing wetlands." The county also said the development "closely follows" the township's 1995 long range plans.

In order to build 20 homes in the area (scaled back from an original 28), developers had to take advantage of all the high ground they could use. Consequently, they plan to use cluster development. That will allow them to build homes on smaller parcels of land as long as density of the over-all parcel is the same as regular zoning would allow.

According to the township zoning ordinance, cluster development is up to the discretion of the township board.

For example, in a rural residential zoning there can be 10 homes in 30 acres. However, developers could opt to build 10 homes one acre apart as long as they leave the other 20 acres open for public use.

In Steffenson's view, cluster development increases the threat of pollution because homes will be located closer together than they otherwise would. In fact, site plans show one home on .6 acres, and another on .9 acres. In the suburban residential portion, lot sizes range from 1.1 to 2 acres. In the rural residential portion, lots range from .6 to 3.5 acres, and all but two of the lots are less than two acres.

"We know what we're doing, and we're going to do it according to the rules," developer George Riedel said Monday.

"We had 26 test pits dug with the sanitation engineer there and they were all approved. The health department is very strict about these things."

Riedel also said that the cluster development provision of the ordinance is accomplishing what it was designed to do—allow developers to keep the natural beauty of the land.

"Each site is unique and a lot of thought has gone into our plans," Riedel said.

"We are not going to disturb the wetlands. This is going to be one of the nicest subdivisions in Washtenaw county."

Lima township zoning ordinances have specific requirements for the open land, which must be dedicated to public use.

According to the ordinance, "such land areas shall not include as a part of the minimum acreage, bodies of water, swamps, or areas of excessive grade which make the land unusable for recreation."

Much of the Upland Hills open area is "first priority wetlands area," according to county maps. Riedel says his plans offer enough dry open area to satisfy zoning requirements.

Harris Homes has asked the Department of Natural Resources to determine what areas of the site are wetlands. That could cause further modifications to the site plans.

Steffenson has heard all the arguments about safety and is not convinced.

"I've heard the township is worried the developers will sue them if they don't allow the project," Steffenson says.

"However, in the long run they could end up in a worse situation because they could be responsible for allowing a development that polluted wells."

Fred Barkley, a Chelsea area resident and former professional planner, has been retained by the township to determine whether the subdivision complies with the township zoning ordinance, which he wrote in the 1970s, and subdivision regulations.

And planning commission chairman David Bacon says the issue will be discussed at the next commission meeting Tuesday, Oct. 18. He didn't know whether or not any action would be taken.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Super Conducting Super Collider—
Boon or Boondoggle?

There are only three ways that I know of to gain money—one is to produce a product or a useful service; two—work for a producer or provider of a useful service; or three—theft.

Does the United States Government produce a product or a useful service? Obviously no! Then the United States Government must resort to theft.

Is a project founded upon continuing theft what the United States Constitution provides for? Of course not! No matter how loosely you interpret the Constitution, can the United States Government confiscate the land by law? No! So... sneak open the back door and have the State of Michigan organize the land grab and then the State turn it over to the United States Government. Very sneaky!

The Land Patent for all the homesteads in Michigan, a United States Treaty between the sovereign citizen and the United States Government, states that the U.S. has quit claimed this land to the citizen, heirs and assigns forever! These patents (treaties), as all treaties, were signed by the president of the United States.

The inventory report on Jurisdictional Status of Federal Areas Within the States by the General Services Administration does not list a jurisdiction of the United States Legislature over land proposed for this boondoggle!

When the learned physicist can explain how a lowly chicken converts manganese to calcium with less than one and one-half volt, or how your chemical-electrical system transmutates elements to meet the needs of your body, then maybe, just maybe, I might say go ahead—providing you men of science and politicians reach down deep in your pockets and spend your own wealth to satisfy your own strange curiosity.

One half of the purpose of this boondoggle has already been accomplished. That is the borrowing and spending of money on expensive promotions to convince the citizens of Michigan and six other states that the people of the other 43 states are just as eager to commit theft upon their citizens to satisfy the misled curiosity of a few. The SSC is definitely a hole in the ground that the government will pour unfathomable quantities of (borrowed) money into.

To the Editor:

In reference to your headline article on zoning violations in Hamburg township (Oct. 5, 1988), we find it difficult to believe that Supervisor Vosnick was present, much less seated on the board during these meetings. The building behind the Zukey Lake Tavern was built on property that has always been zoned commercial. We never requested a zoning change for this property. How soon Mr. Vosnick forgets that it was he who supported the motion to approve our building as a "Commercial Storage Facility," which is a use of right under the applicable zoning.

Mr. Vosnick goes on to accuse us of putting in a road on this property. The road he refers to is the base created by the Grand Trunk Railroad prior to 1900, which extends not only through Hamburg township, but throughout the state as well. We did request a permit to grade the driveway on our property, but were issued a "waiver of necessity" for a permit by the county, because this activity didn't require a permit. This waiver was read to the board when Mrs. Grendze brought up this accusation at the Planning Commission meeting.

Isn't it ironic that Mr. Vosnick, being one of the board members who voted to approve the site plan for the storage facility, so radically changed his opinion shortly after a sign supporting Harry Bater (his party's successful opponent for township supervisor) was attached to the above-mentioned structure?

Mr. Vosnick says that we will be opening a "Health-O-Rama" in one section of our building. Mr. Vosnick should be aware that the Health-O-Rama is a yearly health screening project funded by the United Way. It has been conducted at Holy Spirit Parish for three years and Mrs. Plante, a registered nurse, has worked at this function. The addition of a "Health-O-Rama" is not only news to us, but would probably be a great surprise to the United Way!

When we suggested that Mary Plante would like to conduct aerobics classes in a portion of this facility, we were referred to the Zoning Board of Appeals, which unanimously agreed that it was a permitted use within the current zoning.

Mrs. Grendze questioned, "why dig a well and put in carpeting to finish a storage building?" We neither dug a well nor installed carpeting, as she had claimed, although these items are allowable and will be done as soon as possible.

Mr. Clore's statement that the "Grand Trunk Railroad property is state property which adjacent owners should have had the option to buy" is not only ambiguous, but totally ridiculous. The railroad property was never owned by the state, so how could they possibly turn it over to the homeowners. We learned of this property being for sale through an article in the Livingston County Press which dealt with what would happen to Grand Trunk Railroad property throughout the state. We inquired about the property and were told the purchaser must buy all the properties for sale in Hamburg township, not individual parcels.

Mrs. Grendze says, "I can't prove it, but the number of seats went from 75 to 95." She can't prove it because if she were to call the health department, she would be informed that the seating capacity has always been 90.

Ron Clore, a neighbor who lives several houses down from Zukey Lake Tavern, made the statement that "The dust, noise and drunks coming in there, makes for a bad environment." Comments such as these may seem trivial in nature but can be devastating in consequence, and we pray that our good reputation will overcome the harm done by these statements.

In conclusion, we are not surprised that Mr. Vosnick failed to receive his own Republican party's nomination in the recent primary, and that his views on these matters do not coincide with his fellow board members' views.

As for Mr. Clore and Mrs. Grendze, we would like to suggest they reconsider their litigation against a Planning Commission that works very hard to plan the future of our growing community, and save their money for defense of their slanderous remarks about the Planning Commission and the owners of Zukey Lake Tavern.

Rick Glazer
Chuck Plante.

To the Editor,

In the past few editions of The Standard there have been reminders to parents about school immunizations.

These articles are very misleading because immunizations are not mandatory for a child to enter school. Any parent who declines to have their child subjected to vaccines on religious or personal belief may obtain a waiver from the county health department.

There is growing evidence that immunizations may be doing more harm than good and it is up to each parent to inform themselves with information from both sides of this growing controversy before they make a decision that affects the health and well being of their children for years to come.

Pharmacist Week Features Schools Poster Contest

The role of the pharmacist in today's health care is rapidly expanding. New medications, prescription insurance, storage of medications, and side effects of drugs are just some of the concerns on the mind of today's consumer.

This year's Michigan Pharmacist Week, Oct. 16-22, provides the ideal opportunity for consumers to start taking advantage of the services and information that can be provided by their area pharmacist. Michigan Pharmacist Week is a time for the consumer to ask their pharmacist for advice and recommendations on personal health care.

The consumer is not alone in caring for health care needs. The pharmacist is considered to be the most honest and ethical professional according to a recent SRI Gallup poll. The pharmacist is a trained professional fully capable of answering your questions about your health care needs on medication.

Consumers should feel free to confide in their pharmacist for information and instruction on intelligent medication-taking behavior. Through information provided by your local pharmacist, you can become more knowledgeable about your prescription and over-the-counter medications; including cautions you should be aware of; drug interaction; storage and labeling information; and the importance of keeping to your prescription schedule.

Visit your local pharmacist during Michigan Pharmacist Week and find out why pharmacists are your best source for your good health. During Michigan Pharmacist Week, Chelsea Community Hospital is sponsoring a poster contest for fifth graders at North and South schools.

CEREMONIAL MASKS and other items were brought to South and North schools last week and this week for a talk given by Celeste Niedermeier. She is the first in a series of speakers sponsored by the Enrichment Triad Program in the schools. After the talk, students tried on many of the 50 masks in her collection and performed an Indian rain dance. Shortly thereafter, of course, it rained, at least at North school. From left are students Alicia Couch, Danny Sewerd, and Mindy Haas.

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEW BOOK LIST

SPIRIT LOST by Nancy Thayer. Nancy Thayer has found in Nantucket the perfect setting for the ultimate ghost story. A long-time resident of the island, she imbues her novel with the history and tradition, and the ghosts, that make it such a special place. Willy and John, an overachieving young couple, decide to forsake the hectic world of big city advertising for the tranquillity of island life.

AN EYE FOR AN EYE by Gerald Seymour. The British ambassador to the Soviet Union is assassinated while on a state visit to Yalta. Also murdered is Jane Canning, ostensibly the personal assistant to the British military attaché in Moscow, more probably a member of Secret Intelligence. The only person who can positively identify the killer is Peter Holt, a young diplomat who was also Jane Canning's fiancé. A covert operation is mounted and the suspense mounts.

TIMOTHY'S GAME by Lawrence Sanders. Wall Street's premiere detective is back matching wits with a whole new cast of deadly sinners. The dark side of New York's financial district is where the top guns and the lowlifes are often interchangeable. And nobody knows it better than Timothy Cone, he's the stock-market cop who can spot a scam from clear across town.

KOKO by Peter Straub. One of the great masters of the horror genre, here writes his first thriller—and in so doing sets a new standard for suspense. Years after the end of the Vietnam War, four veterans, members of the same platoon, meet at the unveiling of the memorial in Washington. They are now drawn together by their awareness of a series of grisly murders being committed throughout Asia. The killer's signature—a regimental playing card with the name KOKO scrawled across it—carries an awesome significance for the four men.

LOVE IN THE TIME OF CHOLERA by Gabriel Marquez. "It was inevitable..." So begins this story set in a country on the Caribbean coast of South America—a story that ranges from the late 19th century to the early decades of our own, tracing the lives of three people and their entwined fates. Gabriel Garcia Marquez won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1982.

BLACKSMITH Tim Armentrout demonstrated his craft for the third year at the annual Pioneer Days at Waterloo Farm Museum last Sunday. Tim makes his home in Manchester.

A CORN PLANTER COLLECTION owned by Ralph C. Mayer of Pinckney, right, was one of the unusual items on display at the Waterloo Farm Museum last Sunday for Pioneer Days. The annual event is held to benefit the Waterloo Historical Society. The planters are shoved into the ground, where a kernel or two of corn are deposited. It was a lot of work, but that's the way pioneers planted corn.

MAKING MOLASSES COOKIES the way great-great-grandmother used to do was the specialty of Pat Aeschliman of Gregory. Pat baked the cookies in a brick bake oven. A wood fire heated the oven to over 500 degrees during the night. The masonry retained the heat and let Pat bake the cookies without a fire.

Dexter Guns Down Dogs With Strong 4th Quarter

By Brian Hamilton

For the first two series of the game it looked as though the Chelsea Bulldogs would ruin Dexter's homecoming once again. However, a combination of Chelsea turnovers and a balanced Dexter running game gave the Dreadnaughts a 19-7 victory.

Chelsea stopped the Dreadnaughts on the opening series in four plays, then marched 88 yards for a touchdown.

"On the first offensive set we were knocking them off the ball, but after that we just didn't execute very well," said assistant coach Wayne Welton.

"We played pretty well up front, and we thought our running backs played well, but we didn't make some good decisions."

On the first Bulldog drive, sophomore running back Jude Quilter and senior flanker David White provided most of the offense. Quilter had runs of 13 and 24 yards, and White had catches of six and 14 yards. Quilter (19 carries, 108 yards) ran left for the touchdown from three yards out at the 4:56 mark of the first quarter.

Dexter responded quickly, however, after taking the kick-off at their 32. Andy Walsh ran for 25 yards and 30 yards before taking the ball in from five yards with 2:33 to play in the quarter. Walsh finished with 100 yards on 18 carries.

Chelsea had an excellent opportunity late in the first half. After Eric Frisinger recovered a fumble at the Dexter 48, Chelsea took the ball to the Dexter six, highlighted by a 28-yard pass play to Quilter. On the next play, Dreadnaught Marty Walsh picked off a Larry Nix pass intended for Quilter at the goal line. It was the first of two Walsh interceptions and three for the team.

The teams traded turnovers for most of the third quarter. Late in the quarter, Dexter fumbled at the Chelsea 15, and two plays later the Bulldogs fumbled. Marty Walsh scrambled to the 17, then fullback Adam Speiss, who finished with 67 yards on 12 rushes, scored the first of two touchdowns on a run off right tackle.

Chelsea took the kick-off to their 33, but three plays later found themselves back at their 10.

The ensuing punt was returned by Andy Walsh to the Bulldog 24. Six plays later Speiss scored again, this time from three yards.

The drive featured what might have been the play of the game. An apparent touchdown was nullified by a hold, and the Dreadnaughts had the ball third and goal at their 13. Marty Walsh looked for a receiver and was trapped in the backfield. He ran to his left and near the sideline kind of pushed the ball downfield with a pass that traveled about as high in the air as it did downfield. A Dreadnaught receiver grabbed the floater and was tackled at the three. Speiss scored on the next play.

"Dexter's a solid team," Welton said.

"When you have an athlete like Marty Walsh playing quarterback, and a guy like Andy Walsh at running back, it can cause trouble. We worried like crazy about the outside game and managed to stop that all right. They really hurt us inside."

Marty Walsh finished with 42 yards on nine carries. For Chelsea, Nix suffered through a tough night. In addition to three interceptions, he had at least one pass dropped and rushed 11 times for -13 yards.

Another interception near the goal line on an overthrown pass intended for Kerry Plank ended the Bulldogs' hopes.

Defensive back Junior Morseau led the Dogs in tackles with seven solos and two assists. Linebacker Jason Overdorf had seven solos and one assist.

Chelsea heads into Friday's home game with the Tecumseh Indians with a 1-3 Southeastern Conference record, the same as the Indians. The winner is guaranteed not to finish last all alone, as Lincoln is struggling at 0-4.

Tecumseh has another big, bruising, physical team, with a front offensive line that starts off at 200 pounds. In addition, they have a 6-2, 200 pound fullback.

"Their fullback will probably carry the ball 25 times," Welton said.

"Where they've had problems is on defense."

CHELSEA'S JUDE QUILTER is a little out of position and the pass is completed to Dexter Jeremy Avery late in the game last Friday. The Dreadnaughts beat the Bulldogs for the first time in several years.

Boy Runners Finish Second at Mason Inv.

Chelsea boys cross country team finished second in the Mason Invitational on Thursday, Oct. 6 and seventh in the Ypsilanti Invitational on Saturday, Oct. 8.

In the Mason meet, senior Paul Hedding took third over-all in 16:37 to lead Chelsea runners.

"The boys ran almost as well as they could," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Their second place finish was fantastic. Four boys out of seven ran lifetime bests. Sophomore Jim Hassett and junior Erich Hammer each cut over 30 seconds off his previous best time."

The Bulldogs had 97 points, second to Olivet at 58. Nine teams took part.

Chelsea runners behind Hedding were Holden Harris, 14th, 17:38; Brian Zangara, 16th, 17:41; Jeff Latimer, 28th, 18:20; Hammer, 36th, 18:30; Hassett, 39th, 18:39; Kelly Beard, 48th, 19:14.

In the Ypsilanti meet, Hedding again led Chelsea runners as he took 13th place in 17:20. There were 14 teams.

JASON, MEET JASON! Chelsea's Jason Overdorf had the unenviable task of trying to avoid Dexter's Jason Stidham, all 6'6" and 270 pounds of him. Stidham, a Dexter tackle, was a key at opening up the Dexter inside running attack. Also trying to avoid the Dexter offensive tackle is Chelsea's Jeff Marshall.

Bulldog Cagers Whip Dexter, But Take Loss in Tecumseh

Chelsea Bulldog varsity basketball team was hot and cold last week as it demolished the Dexter Dreadnaughts on Tuesday but lost to the Tecumseh Indians on Thursday.

The Bulldogs dominated the Dreadnaughts from the opening tip to take a 51-26 victory at home.

"We played well as a team," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter, whose team jumped out to a 22-7 half-time lead.

"They played man-to-man and put their best player on Heather Neibauer. When they did that, we reversed the ball to Jenni Smith and she was able to score."

Chelsea was able to get inside early and often, and had a couple of early steals which were converted to baskets.

Neibauer and Smith scored 17 and 14 points, respectively, to lead the team. Allison Brown scored nine, Kelley Scott had five, Shannon Losey scored four, and Scharme Petty sank a field goal.

Chelsea had 7 blocked shots and 11 steals as the Bulldog defense dominated.

It was a different story on Thursday in Tecumseh as the Indians won 47-39 in a game that wasn't that close, according to Rosentreter.

The Bulldogs scored just three points in the first quarter. Five points was as close as they came the rest of the night.

"The girls were not ready for the game," Rosentreter said.

"Tecumseh put a lot of pressure on us and we did not respond well. It was the biggest game of the year to that point for them and they knew they had to win. They came right at us and we simply didn't execute."

Only four Bulldogs scored all night as Smith scored 16, Brown and Neibauer scored 10 each, and Scott scored three.

"We missed too many easy shots and we got no help from the bench," Rosentreter added.

The loss knocked the Bulldogs out of first place in the Southeastern Conference. The Pinckney Pirates took over the top spot.

Chelsea was 6-2 over-all and 3-1 in the league after last week's play.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK are Chelsea High school seniors Shannon Losey and Mark Larson. Shannon is a second-year forward for the varsity basketball team and has provided depth off the bench. Her sister, Shawn, is on the junior varsity team. Shannon hopes the Bulldogs can advance far in the play-offs this year. Outside of school, Shannon is active in her church youth group. Next year she plans to attend college. She is the daughter of Hal and Terry Losey, 11835 Trinkle Rd. Mark is a three-year member of the varsity golf team and is consistently one of the team's low scorers. He'd like to be named to the all-Southeastern Conference team. In the spring, Mark plays for the Bulldog baseball team. Next year he'd like to attend business school. He is the son of Ken and Brenda Larson, and brother of Jeff, 20, and Scott 13. The family lives on Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

Girl Harriers Run Strong In Pair of Invitational Meets

Chelsea girls cross country team placed second in the Mason Invitational held Thursday, Oct. 6 and third in the Ypsilanti Invitational held Saturday, Oct. 8.

"The girls are improving and could make it back to the state meet with a few breaks at the end of the month," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Junior Sarah Grau led Chelsea in the Mason meet, with a life-time best of 20:21, good for fourth place.

Other personal records were set by Christine Mignano and Angie Nagel.

Other Chelsea results included Vicki Bullock, 9th, 20:59; Mignano, 12th, 21:16; Debi Koenn, 17th, 21:37; Leisa Schiller, 21st, 22:27; Carmen Smith, 22nd, 22:30; Nagel, 23rd, 22:38. Fowlerville won the meet with 57 points. Chelsea was second with 53.

At Ypsilanti, Koenn, Grau, and Bullock ran finished seconds apart to place 18th, 19th and 22nd, respectively.

Edsel Ford, with 32 points, and Plymouth Canton, with 36 points, finished well ahead of Chelsea, with 115 points.

"The girls ran a fine race," Clarke said.

"There were a lot of class A schools in the race."

Chelsea results were Koenn, 18th, 21:32; Grau, 19th, 21:35; Bullock, 22nd, 21:40; Mignano, 25th, 22:07; Smith, 31st, 22:32; Schiller, 41st, 23:11; and Becca Burkel, 56th, 25:05.

Frosh Gridders Beat Pinckney

Chelsea freshman football team won a close game over Pinckney, 14-8, at home last Tuesday, Oct. 4.

"The defense played hard when it had to and stopped them three times when they could have scored," said Chelsea coach Tom Hardin.

Hardin said the offensive line played one of its best games of the season. He especially liked the play of tackle Matt Gaken, guard Mike Eder, and tight end Jeff Moore. Ben Hurst and Adam Taylor combined for 75 yards passing.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

If the Chelsea High school football season were to end now, it would probably be remembered for three things: the heartstopping opening night win against Mason; the emergence of sophomore Jude Quilter as an excellent running back; and the team's primary offensive threat; and the loss to Dexter.

About the worst thing that can happen to a Chelsea football fan, other than smashing up the family car on the way to a game, is for the Bulldogs to lose to Dexter. It's like biting into a mouldy tomato—no matter what you do afterward, it takes a while for the taste to go away.

Until Friday's 19-7 thumping, the Dreadnaughts had beaten the Dogs one time in the last 10 years. Chelsea fans simply expect to win that game, the same way Wolverine fans expect Michigan to beat Wisconsin.

You can bet Dexter fans will gloat about the win most of the school year, just as Bulldog fans would do if Chelsea had won. You can bet the subject will come up during basketball games and everywhere else there's a decent crowd.

The worst part, though, is Chelsea had every opportunity to win the game. There were two interceptions at the goal line. Marty Walsh completed one of the most amazing desperation passes I've ever seen in high school football to keep a Dexter drive alive deep in Chelsea territory. Big plays were called back on penalties. And Dexter's super running back Andy Walsh didn't run hog wild.

That, for the most part, has been the story of the Chelsea football season from the beginning. The Bulldogs have been their own worst enemy, partially due to inexperience. They've simply made too many mistakes, mistakes good teams don't make or can play around. They haven't played a team yet they weren't capable of beating.

So Chelsea has a so-so 3-3 record, 1-3 in the Southeastern Conference, with Tecumseh, Pinckney and Crestwood left on the schedule. Tecumseh, one of the league's big disappointments, comes to town this Friday. They were whalloped last Friday by Milan. Does that sound familiar?

Chelsea would certainly like to close with three victories and a 6-3 record. That would be a good season in just about any coach's book. It would also give the Dogs a break-even season in the league.

But the mistakes have to stop now. Chelsea is in a dead heat with Tecumseh. Lincoln is in the cellar at 0-4. If Chelsea loses Friday, and Lincoln somehow manages to win a game, the Dogs could end up in last place. Chelsea is not a last-place team.

When Andy Walsh graduates this year, the league will lose perhaps its best all-around athlete. I have never met the senior, but I understand he's a fine young man as well.

He's a smooth, fluid runner who's an absolute menace if he gets a little daylight. He showed that a couple of times Friday, although he didn't have any of those extra-spectacular runs that are normal for him.

Chelsea has a guy, though, who's likely to be as good or better by his senior year—sophomore Jude Quilter.

Quilter, who had his first varsity runs at the end of last season, has proved to be the Bulldogs' best offensive weapon. He is absolutely reckless with his 150-pound body, and is not afraid to give or take a good pop on either offense or defense. In fact, the way he springs up after the end of a play is practically begging an opponent to give him their best shots.

Dexter people on the sidelines were remarking at what an excellent receiver the young Bulldog is, too.

Quilter has moves you rarely see in senior runners, let alone underclassmen. If he gains a little more strength, fine tunes his game, and gets a little blocking, watch out SEC.

CHRIS ACREE, a 1987 Chelsea High school graduate, is scheduled to be inducted into the school's Football Hall of Fame in half-time ceremonies this Friday night. He was the only player to be selected on 75 percent of the ballots of last year's coaches. The selection is based on leadership, athletic ability, and character. Acree was an all-Southeastern Conference selection for two years as a defensive back and was last year's captain. He was the school's leading tackler last season and doubled as a receiver on offense. Acree, a former National Honor Society student, is a Hillsdale College student and a member of the football team.

DAVID WHITE makes a leaping grab of a Larry Nix pass during last Friday night's game at Dexter. With the exception of the first drive, Chelsea's offense couldn't make the big play when it had to and the Bulldogs lost 19-7.

Dog Golfers Win SEC League Meet

Chelsea High school juniors Chad Starkey and Steve Emmert were medalist in two important golf matches recently.

On Monday in the regional meet at Marshall, Starkey shot a 77 to lead all golfers. Despite Starkey's performance, however, the Bulldogs did not qualify for the state meet. Matt Forner shot an 87 and Mark Larson shot an 89.

In the Southeastern Conference meet last Friday in Adrian, Emmert shot a 79 to lead all golfers. The

Bulldog Tankers Rip Ypsilanti

Chelsea Bulldog swimmers routed Ypsilanti last week, 120-47.

"It was a golden opportunity for a win and we took advantage of it," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"We really needed to get back on a winning note. The girls have been working exceptionally hard but it is extremely difficult to train like champions when you are not winning meets. One thing that has kept the girls' spirits up has been their constant improvement time-wise each meet."

Jennie Anderson, Christine Young, Erika Boughton and Kelly Cross opened the meet with a win in the medley relay in 2:08.01. The B team of Sara Nicola, Michelle Hollo, Jennifer Koch, and Jill Nowatzke also improved its time.

The next Chelsea win was in the 200 individual medley as Boughton led the field in 2:36.33, a career-best time.

"I'm pleased with Erika's performance, but there is much room for improvement," Jolly said.

Nicola took second in the event to help the Bulldog point total.

In the 50 freestyle, Kelly Cross shattered her freshman record and qualified for the state meet in :26.36.

"Kelly told me earlier in the day that she was going to qualify for the state meet in the evening, but I thought it was too lofty a goal, especially considering how tired she was after the morning practice," Jolly said.

"But the desire was there, I could see it in her eyes."

Lisa Taylor and Jennifer McEachern also swan season best times of :30.13 and :29.49, respectively.

"I was very pleased to see Jennifer get some arm speed generated," Jolly said.

"She and Lisa figure to be very important to the success of the sprint program."

In diving, Debbie Webb, Heather Bro, and Danica Disbro combined to take the top three spots. Kim Ritter also participated as an exhibition diver.

"I am very proud of our divers as they are training without a real diving coach," Jolly said.

"I have a lot of respect for how they have put up with such a predicament."

Maria Kattula, Tricia Colbry, and Shana Vosters finished 1-2-3 in the 500 freestyle.

"Tricia and Shana had nice swims and at the rate they are improving should be under six minutes by the Chelsea Invitational," Jolly said.

Cross and Anderson finished 1-2 in the 100 backstroke. Anderson dropped two seconds off her time to 1:12.67.

In the last individual event of the day, Hollo and Jennifer Payne both improved greatly, Jolly said.

Hollo's time of 1:18.54 was more than 1.5 seconds faster than her previous best.

In the 400 freestyle relay, Kristine Smith showed "vast improvement" with her 1:09.34. McEachern clocked a 1:03.89, and Anderson swam 1:05.22.

Netters Edge Central, Take 2nd at Saline

Chelsea tennis team edged Brooklyn Columbia Central 4-3 in a match played last Wednesday, Oct. 5 and Friday, Oct. 7.

It was a big turnaround for the Bulldogs, who were shut out by BCC in the first match of the season.

First singles Angel Lawton won 7-6, 6-2. It took a 7-5 victory in a 12-point tiebreaker in the first set.

Nicole Ponty won 6-4, 6-4; Amy Mitchell lost 2-6, 1-6; Lissa Hamrick split sets, 6-2, 1-6 before the match was called due to darkness. The teams picked up Friday where they left off and Hamrick won the third set, 6-3.

In doubles play, Laura Comeau and Jennifer Robinson lost in three sets, 4-6, 6-1, 6-7; Jane Pacheco and Leslie Manning also lost in three sets, 6-4, 2-6, 4-6; Sarah Musolf and Sarah Gegenheimer split sets on Wednesday and finished on Friday, but lost the match 6-4, 6-7, 0-6.

In other action last week, Chelsea took second place in the Saline Invitational last Saturday. Howell and Crestwood were the other participants.

Pacheco and Manning at second doubles had the only first place finish, knocking off Crestwood, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, then Saline in the finals, 6-2, 6-4. They earned first place pins and the team brought home a trophy.

JV Gridders Lose to Dexter

Chelsea junior varsity gridders lost to Dexter last Thursday, 28-8.

"The big plays hurt us again," said Chelsea coach Mike Bohlender.

"They ran back the second half kick-off for a touchdown."

Rick Westcott scored the only Bulldog touchdown.

Bohlender praised the play of Garrett Kern, who was playing out of position, and Andy Darwin and Adam Sullman.

PAT MONAGHAN shot this 11-point buck from 20 yards on the first day of bow season Oct. 1. Pat was hunting with his son, Eddie, and friend Duane Bollinger and Dave Vogel on private land north of town. This deer is number 43 for Pat, but it is the largest he's ever taken.

Zukey Lake Tavern Owners Deny Charges Made By Neighbors

Zukey tavern co-owners said that complaints of two Hamburg township residents, Charleen Grenzy and Ron Clore, about traffic noise created by the tavern, are unwarranted. Grenzy and Clore both live on Girard Dr., where the tavern is located.

The residents, opposed to any commercial expansion on the property, argued against the township planning commission's approval of a site plan for an aerobics studio in a separate building behind the tavern.

The tavern in no way disrupts the surrounding residential neighborhood, said co-owner Robert Plante.

A traffic survey done in 1987 showed that the number of vehicles using Girard Ave. has actually decreased in recent years. The average number of vehicles on the street per day was 511, using both Kress Ave. and M-36 to gain access to Girard Dr. According to a one-day survey done in 1982, 615 cars traversed the street.

The reason that the number of vehicles has declined is that more people come to the tavern in groups or families, Plante said. "Business is up."

Traffic to and from the aerobics studio will not affect Girard Dr., Plante said. The traffic will be using a road the co-owners are making on railroad right of way land that they purchased. It will hook up almost directly onto M-36, bypassing Girard Dr.

Furthermore, the Livingston county sheriff's department issued a letter in 1987 to the co-owners saying the tavern was virtually "trouble free."

"I've lived in Hamburg township all my life and I've seen the place go from the fairly rough and tumble shot and beer bar with shuffleboards and pool tables to the family place it is today," said developer Don Moon.

The tavern co-owners applied for having the waterfront residential zoning changed to neighborhood services, a type of commercial zoning, last February and were turned down by the planning commission.

"We had people who favored the expansion sign a petition and we got over 600 signatures, 500 from Hamburg. That's more than voted in the election," Plante said.

Right now, the co-owners cannot expand on the tavern because the lot is considered non-conforming use. They had hoped to add a 12-foot wet and dry storage area, upgrade the bathrooms and put in six more tables.

The bathrooms in the tavern do not meet current health standards. They were designed about 40 years ago.

The co-owners received a letter from the health department notifying them of the bathroom's shortcomings a year ago. But their hands are tied from making any improvements because of the prohibition on expansion.

"I think it is an injustice and an embarrassment not to be able to put 1980's bathrooms in there," Plante said.

Attention all Chrysler employees:

Find out what a difference my plan makes!

A Difference In Coverage. My old plan used to only cover me when I was sick. But Care Choices HMO covers me when I'm well, as well as when I'm not. That means most of the costs of routine medical care are covered, like doctor's office visits, physicals, immunizations and lab tests. They also cover pre-natal and well-baby care. And of course, hospitalization is covered, even more completely than with my old plan.

A Difference In Paperwork. I used to have to fill out a lot of claim forms with my old health plan. But Care Choices even covers the paperwork!

A Difference In Cost. Unexpected doctor bills used to sneak up on me. But with Care Choices, after a small co-pay, there are no doctor bills. Care Choices HMO even covers emergencies when I'm out of town. So, surprise out-of-pocket costs can't put the bite on me.

A Difference In The Way I Feel. It's no wonder I'm so confident. Some of the best doctors and hospitals in the area are part of Care Choices HMO, over 400 private practice physicians in all. And some of the most respected hospitals are included, like Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Saline Community Hospital and McPherson Hospital. Together they work in partnership with Care Choices to keep the costs down and the quality of care up. Find out what a difference my plan can make for you. Ask your employer about Care Choices Health Plans today. Or for more information, call 800-852-9780 or 313-489-6200.

What a difference my plan makes!

Participating Hospitals in Washtenaw, Western Wayne and Livingston Counties: Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Saline Community Hospital and McPherson Hospital. is sponsored by Mercy Health Services.

JV Cagers Lose First

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity basketball team suffered their first loss of the season last Tuesday in a home game with Dexter, 40-35.

However, coach Paul Terpstra's girls rebounded on Thursday for a 42-26 win over Tecumseh on the road. In the loss to Dexter, Chelsea fell behind 14-5 in the first quarter, but outplayed the Dreadnaughts the rest of the way.

"We had our chances at the end of the game," Terpstra said.

"We missed a lay-up, missed a rebound, and didn't execute."

Chelsea was out-rebounded for the game, 41-32, and shot only 24 percent from the field, one of the worst outings of the year.

"Dexter played pretty good defense against us," Terpstra said.

Colleen Scharphorn led the Bulldogs with 17 points. Mercedes Hammer scored seven, Kate Dilworth had six points, Christine Burg had four and Shawn Losey scored one.

In the Tecumseh game, Chelsea was down 15-14 at half-time, but rallied with a strong second half.

"We put on a lot of man-to-man pressure and converted a lot of easy baskets," Terpstra said.

Chelsea shot 38 percent from the field and held a 45-33 rebound advantage.

Hammer paced the Dogs with 15 points and nine rebounds in one of her best performances of the season. Scharphorn scored 14 points, Kristin Bohlender had seven, Burg scored four and Losey had two.

Chelsea had a 7-1 record after last week's play and a 3-1 record in the Southeastern Conference.

Greenhouse Effect May Change State's Agriculture

According to scientists meeting this week in Chicago for a conference on the impact of climate change on the Great Lakes region, farmers should get ready for a warmer and drier climate. Michigan Farm Bureau economist Bob Craig, who participated in the conference, said this "complicated phenomenon" could change the state's agricultural industry.

Depending on the growing season, which we think will be longer as this greenhouse effect takes greater impact, we could see a number of different crops that we grow very well in the lower peninsula, particularly corn, soybeans, and wheat, being raised in the upper peninsula and in Ontario where they're not that dominate now, particularly soybeans," Craig said. "The other thing that's widely expected is that there will be an increase in irrigation of all different types of crops, whether they're field crops or horticultural crops."

The greenhouse effect could be beneficial to Michigan's fruit and vegetable industry, Craig said.

"We see the industry continuing but, again, there may be some changes in location. We could also see an even more important fruit and vegetable industry in Michigan with the potential of increased production in the state," he said. "It's going to be very important that farmers seriously look at irrigation because we're going to see more fluctuations in the environment."

Approved payment of bills as presented.

Meet the Candidates Sunday in Dexter

Lana Pollack and a representative from the office of Carl Pursell will be attending the "Meet the Candidates" afternoon being sponsored by Dexter residents Marti Davis and Susanne Carey from 1-3 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 16, at the Dexter High school multipurpose room.

Pursell will not be able to attend because congress is still in session. "Congress is still fighting out the drug bill," Davis said.

Davis encourages area families to come out and question Pollack and Pursell's representative.

"It's the chance for people of western Washtenaw to sound off. Tell them what you're opinions are," Davis said.

Refreshments of home-made cranberry nut and pumpkin bread with cider will be served.

Pollack is a Democratic state senator running against Republican Carl Pursell in the race for U. S. Congress from the 2nd District.

The state is divided into 18 congressional districts, determined by population. (There are roughly 514,500 people in each district.)

The 2nd Congressional District is made up of parts of Washtenaw, Jackson, Wayne, Branch and Lenawee counties as well as Hillsdale county.

The district is 93 percent white, with 73 percent families, including 40 percent with children.

About 28 percent of district residents are in professional and related fields, 27 percent in manufacturing, over 18 percent in wholesale and retail and three percent are farmers.

Area Residents Promoted With Trustcorp Bank

Three local residents received appointments in the branch system at Trustcorp Bank, Ann Arbor, announced George H. Cress, chairman, president and chief executive officer.

They are: Barbara Regnier, personal loan officer and manager of the bank's new East Stadium Blvd. office; Lori Fitzgerald, manager of the Lodi office; Jeffrey W. Jones, assistant manager at East Stadium Blvd.

Regnier joined the Ann Arbor branch of Trustcorp Bank in 1974. Following a period as customer service representative, she was assigned to overseeing installment lending in the Personal Banking Dept. at the main office. More recently, she was manager at the Chelsea office.

Following high school in the Chicago area, Regnier attended Loyola University. She completed the National Installment Credit school conducted by the American Banker's Association. In Chelsea, Regnier was a member of the Rotary Club.

Fitzgerald became manager of the Lodi office where she was assistant manager for the past two years. She was employed at the Ann Arbor branch of Trustcorp Bank in 1980 and has held several positions in the branch system and Operations Dept. Recently, Fitzgerald was named "Assistant Manager of the Year" at the bank's annual awards banquet. She is a graduate of Dexter high school and attended Eastern Michigan University.

Jones, a graduate of Pinckney High school, has attended Hope College and Washtenaw Community College. He came to the bank in 1984 and was assigned to the Saline office. He then moved to the main office where he served as head teller.

Quick Thinking Boy Eludes Pursuer

Chelsea police believe a man in his 30s may have tried to pick up a Chelsea boy as the boy was riding his bike home from work.

The boy told police that on Monday, Oct. 3 shortly after 11 p.m. he was riding his bike home from work when he was approached by the man, who was driving a pick-up truck. When the boy didn't recognize the man, he rode his bike as fast as he could down a path. The man followed him along the path and across a ditch.

When the boy came to a neighbor's home, he got off his bike, "and acted like I lived there." At that point the pursuer turned away and left the scene.

The boy said the man was driving a vehicle that appeared to be a dark colored El Camino.

The Cranstons' work in the Philippines has centered principally in Butuan City, Mindanao, where they've worked in training pastors and directing church growth efforts. Dr. Cranston has served as director and teacher in the Light and Life Bible College and chairman of the mission. During this past term, he and his wife headed up the establishing of the Light and Life Graduate School of Theology, a school to upgrade the training of experienced pastors.

At present, the pastor of the Chelsea Free Methodist church, the Rev. Mearl Bradley and his wife Joyce, are serving in teaching capacities at the Light and Life Bible College in Butuan City. Members of the congregation in Chelsea are especially excited to have Dr. Cranston sharing with them, as he will be bringing news of the Bradleys. Pastor and Mrs. Bradley are due back in Chelsea on Nov. 8.

Ask the President

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite

Q. I see we have a nice, new sign in our industrial park. When are we going to get some new tenants to fill the slots on the sign. There are only three businesses there now. What is the village doing to market the park? Has a broker been hired yet? That was discussed over a year ago. The park seems like a lost child. With all the housing going in here, it seems like a good time to provide more good-paying jobs. Why are companies going to Saline and Dexter, but not Chelsea?

A Chelsea Citizen

A. Our park has things to offer that the other parks have, even more. We have everything Saline has and their park is way off the beaten path. Our site work costs less. It's easy to get to. The lot price is right. But the truth is, I don't know what it will take. We've shown it more than a dozen times. We were real close to getting DAPCO, which went to Dexter's park, and we were close to getting Associated Spring, which went to Saline. Dexter and Saline are served by Detroit Edison, and the village has its own electrical utility. I've always felt like we bump heads with Edison when they find out one of their clients might be leaving their service area and they do everything they can to convince them to stay. We have not hired a broker. That's one of the things that didn't get done when village manager Fritz Weber got sick. But hiring a broker is one of our alternatives. The council needs to have a work session to see how we want to handle it, especially since we're facing a partial change in the village administration with Lee Fahrner leaving. I'd like to see somebody handle it so if a company has a question, there's always someone available to answer it.

Anyone with a question of local relevance for village president Jerry Satterthwaite may send it to The Chelsea Standard, 300 N. Main St., Chelsea 48118, c/o Ask The President.

Hamburg Developer Defends His Project

Developer Don Moon said if people are against the developments he is doing in Hamburg township, he does not know "what they could be in favor of."

Moon made the remarks recently in response to a township resident who voiced opposition to Moon's Whispering Pines development.

Hamburg township is a better place today because of the Arrowhead condominium development he did a few years back, he said.

"The Pinckney school district is improved because of the people who came out there (to live in Arrowhead.) They are more concerned and want good education for their children."

"The one I'm doing now is even better."

"What Mr. Moon has done for the township he has done out of concern for the township," said Zukey Lake Tavern co-owner Chuck Plante.

"If you give people free beer, they'll complain about the hangover."

About Whispering Pines, the condominium development that was opposed by a group of residents who live near the 385-acre site, Plante said, "People should get down on their knees and say thank you God, it's not a factory."

People had been using the site as a hunting ground and a place to dump their junk, Moon said. "I'm supposed to maintain my land for these people. It was up for sale, if they had the money, they could have bought it."

Moon said that because he is a "concerned developer" he put in a 72-lot development, Crystal Beach, with homes in the $75,000 to $85,000 range.

"Those are as low as you can make them without being low cost housing," he said.

A Hamburg township resident who lives near the development, had complained that the roads in the development are stubby, dead ends with no fire truck turn-arounds. Moon said that the roads, developed according to the 1924 site plan, will be paved with asphalt, even though he is not required to do so. Turn arrounds will also be added, he said. He did not say when either of these improvements would be made.

Co-Op Nursery Observes Cookie Monster Birthday

If you like Cookie Monster from Sesame Street and you love cookies, then Chelsea Children's Co-operative (formerly North Lake Co-op) was the place to be Monday, Sept. 26 and Tuesday, Sept. 27.

To celebrate Cookie Monster's birthday, some children decorated large round cookies at the easel with brightly colored paints. Others made Cookie Monster puppets from blue fur, white pom-poms, and wiggly eyes glued on popsicle sticks. Everyone enjoyed listening to Sesame Street records. The children's favorite song was "C is for Cookie" performed by none other than Cookie Monster (with a little help on the chorus from CCC's own little "cookie monsters").

During free choice time, children could decide to sharpen their shape recognition skills by matching shaped flannel cookies on a monster flannel board with pictures from a book entitled "Cookie Monster's Book of Cookie Shapes." They could also practice conceptual and critical thinking, reasoning skills, and manual dexterity by putting together a Cookie Monster puzzle at one of the fine motor tables. Teachers Jane Brooks and Sue Gillikin read "If You Give a Mouse a Cookie" by Laura Joffe Numeroff and "Happy Birthday Cookie Monster" by Felice Haus at story time.

As an extra special treat at snack time, children enjoyed home-made cookies that they had prepared earlier in the day. In addition to being lots of fun, cooking experiences reinforce important science and math skills.

The very busy sessions concluded with an exciting non-competitive outdoor game, similar to Musical Chairs, called "Sit On A Cookie."

CCC's students can "bearly" wait until "Teddy Bear Day" next week at school. The fun promises to be almost "unbearable."

Cub Scouts

Den 2, Pack 455—

The eight Cub Scouts in Den 2 of Chelsea Pack 455 are off to a great start for the 1988-89 scouting year. In September, we went on a hike at Portage Lake State Park, made storage pouches for our certification cards, and posters to decorate our den meeting area.

We have three new boys in our Den this year: Adam Winans and Sooner Dils transferred in from another den, and Jamie Murphy just joined as a new Scout this September. The five boys starting their second year in Den 2 are: Nathan Clark, Jeff Dixon, Wayne Newman, John Pobjewski and Adam Wint.

In October, we are looking forward to decorating Halloween pumpkins from Ruhl's and a field trip to the police station.

Den 10, Pack 455—

This year members of Bear Den 10 are Rodney Carter, Ben Muha, Chris Hatch, Desmond Heard Hamilton, Scot Kiel, and Kyle Christensen. The boys are all third graders at South school. We also have a den chief, Boy Scout Lloyd Eddy.

So far the boys have been very busy. During den meetings they have learned knot tying and they each built a wooden tool box. They also raked leaves as a good turn for the community. Their next project will be doing fingerprinting and plaster casting of a footprint.

Finally, the boys will be working hard this fall and winter to earn their Bear badges.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 3 were Comeau, Redding, Satterthwaite, Wales, Cherem, Feeney, Eisenbeiser, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, community education director Rogers, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Anne Comeau.

A public hearing preceded the regular Board meeting to discuss the Chelsea School District's proposed application to the State of Michigan for an extension (until May 9, 1989) of the deadline for submitting Asbestos Management Plans for the district's buildings. Representatives of Asbestos Management, Incorporated were present to answer questions pertinent to the application.

Board approved the minutes of the Sept. 12 meeting.

In response to questions raised at a previous board meeting, superintendent Piasecki provided the board with a comparison of lunch prices in surrounding school districts. The board recently approved the increase in the price of school lunches, at which time assistant superintendent Mills reported a deficit for the 1987-88 school year. Superintendent Piasecki apprised the board that this year's increase was necessary to avoid a similar deficit at the end of the current school year.

Present at the meeting was high school teacher Jim Tallman, who presented the board with information and a slide show pertaining to the Outdoor Club's forthcoming caving trip to Kentucky. This will be an action item at the next board meeting.

The matters of board representation on the Central Curriculum Committee and tentative meeting dates were discussed. For the months of October through April, board members agreed to attend the meetings as follows: October (10-11), Anne Comeau; November (10-11), Ron Satterthwaite; December (8-9), Craig Wales; January (26-27), Ann Feeney; February (9-10), Barbara Cherem; March (9-10), John Eisenbeiser; April (13-14), Anne Comeau. Board members will secure substitutes if their schedules prevent their attendance.

Board members discussed their recent self-evaluation. Consensus was that a short workshop session should be held following the Oct. 17 board meeting to focus on areas which may be strengthened.

Assistant superintendent Mills briefed the board on the Washtenaw County Community Right to Know Ordinance which requires identification of hazardous materials. Necessary paperwork relative to the gathering and inventorying of such materials has been submitted to the County Health Department and to the Chelsea Fire Department.

The board formally accepted a gift of a resistance work-out bench from the Chelsea Aquatic Club. The value of the gift is $1,145.

The board approved the Model for School Improvement, which had been reviewed and discussed at a previous meeting. It will be implemented for the areas of professional development, morale, and facilities—areas which were identified under the board goals for 1988-89.

The board approved an agreement with the Chelsea Area Players regarding construction of a 40'x80' storage building on district property to be shared equally by the CAP and the Chelsea School District. It is expected that the cost to the district will be under $5,000. The site of the building will be determined by a committee of which assistant superintendent Mills is a member.

The board approved a resolution pertaining to curriculum and class size which will be forwarded to the Michigan Department of Education. In-formula school districts approving such a resolution qualify for incentive payments. Although the district is out-of-formula, the board believes it is a good practice to meet the incentive requirements.

The board approved the filing of an application (to the State of Michigan) for extension of the deadline (to May, 1989) for submission of Asbestos Management Plans. Due to changing regulations and the quantity of paperwork involved, the firm hired by the district to handle the asbestos inspection and testing has not been able to complete the plans to meet the October deadline.

The board formally approved and accepted the 1987-88 audit recently completed by the district's auditors.

The board approved indemnification language submitted to protect the superintendent and assistant superintendent from potential future liability claims.

Community education director Rogers apprised the board that Chelsea has been selected by Washtenaw Community College as a western regional center for the college. The Chelsea School District has provided support for WCC's extension programs for the past 15 years.

Curriculum director Laurie Bissell reported that Chelsea's elementary teachers will be attending training sessions for the Michigan Model for Comprehensive School Health program. The program was designed with input from seven state agencies.

Superintendent Piasecki reported that board president Anne Comeau will receive an Award of Merit at the MASH Annual Fall Conference in Grand Rapids on Oct. 7, in recognition of her training, service and experience.

Unofficial Fourth-Friday student enrollment figures were reported by the Superintendent as follows: High school, 689; Beach school, 520; North school, 539; South school, 544; total, 2,292.

Meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Flu Shot Clinics Slated For Seniors

The clinic is sponsored by the University of Michigan Family Practice Center. Nurses from the Family Practice Center will assist at the clinic.

Anyone who is allergic to chicken eggs should not participate in the program. Those who do qualify for the program should "check with their physician to determine the advisability of receiving the immunizations.

But Ranger Rick magazine reports that scientists have injected spitting cobra venom into some mice that had cancer. The venom destroyed the cancer cells without killing the mice. Researchers hope that one day cobra venom may help cure some kinds of human cancer.
